SEC. 2. Section 5665 of said code is amended to read:

Suspended certificate: Expiration, renewal, etc.

5665. A suspended certificate is subject to expiration and shall be renewed as provided in this article, but such renewal does not entitle the holder of the certificate, while it remains suspended and until it is reinstated, to engage in the activity to which the certificate relates, or in any other activity or conduct in violation of the order or judgment by which it was suspended.

Revoked certificate

A revoked certificate is subject to expiration as provided in this chapter, but it may not be renewed. If it is reinstated after its expiration, the holder of the certificate, as a condition precedent to its reinstatement, shall pay a reinstatement fee in an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which it is reinstated, plus the delinquency fee, if any, accrued at the time of its revocation.

SEC. 3. Section 5680 of said code is amended to read:

Expiration date

5680. Certificates issued under this chapter expire at 12 p.m. on January 31 of each even-numbered year, if not renewed. To renew an unexpired certificate, the certificate holder shall, on or before January 31 of each even-numbered year, apply for renewal on a form prescribed by the board, and pay the renewal fee prescribed by this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 5680.1 is added to said code, to read:

Renewal of certificate

5680.1. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a certificate which has expired may be renewed at any time within five years after its expiration on filing of application for renewal on a form prescribed by the board, and payment of the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date. If the certificate is renewed more than 30 days after its expiration, the certificate holder, as a condition precedent to renewal, shall also pay the delinquency fee prescribed by this chapter. Renewal under this section shall be effective on the date on which the application is filed, on the date on which the renewal fee is paid, or on the date on which the delinquency fee, if any, is paid, whichever last occurs. If so renewed, the certificate shall continue in effect through the date provided in Section 5680 which next occurs after the effective date of the renewal, when it shall expire if it is not again renewed.

Certificate not renewed

A certificate which was not renewed at the time and in the manner provided under the law in effect before October 1, 1961, shall, for the purposes of this article, be considered to have expired on the date that the renewal fee became delinquent.

SEC. 5. Section 5680.2 is added to said code, to read:

Application for new certificate

5680.2. A certificate which is not renewed within five years after its expiration may not be renewed, restored, reissued, or reinstated thereafter, but the holder of the certificate may apply for and obtain a new certificate if:

(a) He is of good moral character,

(b) No fact, circumstance, or condition exists which, if the certificate were issued, would justify its revocation or suspension,

(c) He pays all of the fees which would be required of him if he were then applying for the certificate for the first time, and

(d) He takes and passes the examination which would be required of him if he were then applying for the certificate for the first time, or otherwise establishes to the satisfaction of the board that he is qualified to practice landscape architecture.

The board may, by regulation, authorize the waiver or refund of all or any part of the examination fee in those cases in which a certificate is issued without an examination under this section.

Fees

5681. The amount of fees prescribed by this chapter is that fixed by the following schedule:

The board may, by appropriate regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of the initial certificate fee where the certificate is issued less than 45 days before the date on which it will expire.

The county auditor shall determine and certify the amounts distributable to the board of supervisors, which shall thereupon order the making of the distribution.

Any money distributed pursuant to this section to any county, revenue district or other taxing agency shall be deposited to the credit of the same fund as any taxes or assessments on any taxable similar real property similarly situated.

SECTION 1. Section 12915 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12915. No person shall be initially employed by a school district in a certificated or classified position unless the person has submitted to an examination within the past two years to determine that he is free of active tuberculosis, by a physician and surgeon licensed under Chapter 5 (commencing at Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code. This examination shall consist of an X-ray of the lungs, or an approved intradermal tuberculin test, which, if positive, shall be followed by an X-ray of the lungs.

The X-ray film may be taken by a competent and qualified X-ray technician if the X-ray film is subsequently interpreted by a physician and surgeon licensed under Chapter 5 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code.

Thereafter all employees shall be required to undergo the foregoing examination at least once in each two years, or oftener if the governing board so determines by rule.

After such examination, each employee shall cause to be on file with the district superintendent of schools a certificate from the examining physician and surgeon showing the employee was examined and found free from active tuberculosis. The county board of education may require, by rule, that all such certificates be filed in the office of the county superintendent of schools or shall require such files be maintained in the office of the county superintendent of schools if a majority of the governing boards of the districts within such county so petition the county board of education, except that in either case a district or districts with a common board having an average daily attendance of 60,000 or more may elect to maintain the files for its employees in that district. "Certificate" as used herein means a certificate signed by the examining physician and surgeon or a notice from a public health agency or unit of the Tuberculosis Association which indicates freedom from active tuberculosis. The latter, regardless of form, will constitute evidence of compliance with this section. Nothing in this section shall prevent the governing board from establishing a rule requiring a more extensive physical examination than required by this section but such rule shall provide for reimbursement on the same basis as hereinafter required.

This examination is a condition of initial employment and the expense incident thereto shall be borne by the applicant unless otherwise provided by rules of the governing board. However, the board may, if an applicant is accepted for employment, reimburse such person in a like manner hereinafter prescribed for employees.

The governing board of each district shall reimburse the employee for the cost, if any, of this examination. The board may provide for the examination required by this section or may establish a reasonable fee for such examination that is reimbursable to employees of the district complying with the provisions of this section.

At the discretion of the governing board this section shall not apply to those employees not requiring certification qualifications who are employed for any period of time less than a school year whose functions do not require frequent or prolonged contact with pupils.

The governing board may, however, require such examination and may as a contract condition require the examination of persons employed for construction or repair work if the board believes the presence of such persons in and around school premises would constitute a health hazard to pupils.

If the governing board of a school district determines by resolution, after hearing, that the health of pupils in the district would not be jeopardized thereby, the provisions of this section shall not apply to any employee of the district who files an affidavit stating that he adheres to the faith or teachings of any well-recognized religious sect, denomination, or organization and in accordance with its creed, tenets, or principles depends for healing upon prayer in the practice of religion and that to the best of his knowledge and belief he is free from active tuberculosis. If at any time there should be probable cause to believe that such affiant is afflicted with active tuberculosis, he may be excluded from service until the governing board of the employing district is satisfied that he is not so afflicted.

SECTION 1. Article 6 (commencing with Section 210) is added to Chapter 1, Division 1, of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

Article 6. Freeway Locations

Legislative purpose

210. It is the purpose of this article to outline the policies of the Legislature for the guidance of the commission and the department in determining and adopting the locations for state highways as freeways, as authorized elsewhere in this code. To the end of achieving co-ordinated planning, there should be a complete exchange of pertinent information through conferences between representatives of the department and the governing bodies of appropriate local agencies, their technical staffs, and planning personnel from the commencement of studies leading to the adoption of the freeway location to the time of construction. Recommendations of all such local agencies and the effects of the proposed freeway location upon their activities and present and future development should be considered by the department and the commission. In addition, when sufficient information has been accumulated to permit intelligent discussion, adequately publicized public meetings should be held so as to assure to all interested individuals, officials and civic or other groups an opportunity to become acquainted with the studies being made and to express their views with respect thereto. Recommendations of the State Highway Engineer to the commission as to such freeway locations should be publicized and an opportunity offered to local governing bodies to request public hearings by the commission itself before the commission takes final action, in which event the commission should hold such hearings.

Commission: Factors to consider

211. In reaching its conclusions as to freeway locations, the commission should consider from the standpoint of the overall public interest, all information and recommendations developed in the conferences, meetings and the hearings and any information furnished to it by any local agency pursuant to the provisions of Section 75 5. Each local agency should present its official master plan or such other plans dealing with highway and transportation facilities as have been developed by the local agency and have the official approval of its legislative body to the department at or prior to the time of the meetings held by it, and in the absence of further presentations at such meetings, the department and the commission should assume that the plan or plans represent the desires and recommendations of such local agency.

Procedural resolution

212. The commission shall adopt, by resolution, a procedure outlining in detail the steps to be taken by the department and the commission to meet the policies set forth in this article. The commission shall from time to time revise such procedure whenever it finds such a revision desirable to implement the legislative policies set forth herein.

Same. Publication

213 Within 10 days after the effective date of this article, the commission shall cause to be filed and published in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapters 4 and 5 (commencing with Sections 11370 and 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code), copies of the procedural resolution in effect on the effective date of this article. The resolution covering such procedure adopted by the commission on February 26, 1958, and filed with the Legislature in January, 1959, pursuant to the terms of Resolutions Chapter 250, Statutes of 1957, shall be so filed unless revised by the commission prior to the effective date of this article. All revisions made subsequent to the time of filing of the first resolution shall be filed and published in the same manner. In addition to such filing and publication, the department and the commission shall furnish copies of such procedural resolutions to any person or organization requesting the same.

Same In annual report to Governor and Legislature

214 In the annual report to the Governor and the Legislature on the activities of the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, there shall be included a copy of the procedural resolution of the commission adopted pursuant to this article, indicating any changes made during the preceding year. There shall also be included in the annual report a summary of all public meetings held by the department and of all hearings held by the commission and full information as to the adoptions of locations as freeways during the year covered by the report.

215. Failure of the department or the commission to comply with the requirements of this article shall not invalidate any action of the commission as to the adoption of a routing for any state highway, nor shall such failure be admissible evidence in any litigation for the acquisition of rights-of-way or involving the allocation of funds or the construction of the highway. Effect of failure to comply

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1300.17 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1300.17. (a) For the purpose of providing funds to defray the necessary expenses incurred by the director in the formulation, issuance, administration and enforcement of each marketing order issued hereunder, each such marketing order shall provide for the levying and collection of assessments in sufficient amounts to defray such expenses. Each marketing order shall indicate the maximum rate of any such assessment which may be collected and the proportion, if any, payable by each producer and handler directly regulated or affected by such marketing order. The advisory board appointed by the director to assist the director in administering each marketing order shall recommend to the director, from time to time, budgets to cover necessary expenses and the assessment rate necessary to provide sufficient funds. If the director finds that each such budget and assessment rate are proper and equitable and will provide sufficient moneys to defray the necessary expenses he may approve such budget and rate of assessment and order that each producer and handler so assessed shall pay to the director, at such times and in such installments as the director may prescribe, an assessment based upon the units in which such agricultural commodity is marketed, or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable, but in amounts which in the case of producers will not exceed two and one-half percent (2½%) of the gross dollar volume of sales, of the commodity affected, by all such producers, regulated by such marketing order or in amounts which in the case of processors, distributors or other handlers will not exceed two and one-half percent (2½%) of the gross dollar volume of purchases of the commodity affected by the marketing order from producers or of the gross dollar volume of sales of the commodity affected by the marketing order and handled by all such processors, distributors or other handlers regulated by such marketing order during the marketing season or seasons during which such marketing order is effective.

The director may require each and every producer, processor, distributor or handler directly regulated by any marketing order to deposit with him in advance, an amount based upon the estimated number of units to be marketed by such producer or handled by such processor, distributor or handler, or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable, such bases to be applicable during the marketing season or seasons during which such marketing order is effective. At any time after the funds credited to the administrative account of the marketing order are sufficient to so warrant, or at the close of the marketing season, the sums so deposited shall be adjusted to the amount which is chargeable against such producer, processor, distributor or handler upon the basis of the actual number of units marketed by such producer or handled by such processor, distributor or handler, or upon the same uniform basis under which such funds were assessed by the director, during such marketing season.

(b) Each marketing order which authorizes carrying out advertising and sales promotion plans shall provide for the levying and collection of assessments in sufficient amounts to defray the expenses of such activities. Each such marketing order shall indicate the maximum rate of any such assessment and the proportion, if any, payable by each producer and handler directly regulated or affected by such marketing order. The advisory board appointed by the director to assist the director in administering each marketing order shall recommend to the director, from time to time, budgets to cover such expenses and the assessment rate necessary to provide sufficient funds. If the director finds that each such budget and assessment rate are proper and equitable and will provide sufficient moneys to defray such expenses he may approve such budget and approve and levy such assessment. Any assessments so established shall be based upon the units in which such agricultural commodity is marketed or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be proper and equitable. Any assessment rates established hereunder shall be in amounts not to exceed four percent (4%) of the gross dollar volume of sales by all producers or by all processors, distributors or other handlers of such agricultural commodity regulated by such marketing order during the marketing season or seasons during which such marketing order is effective.

For the purpose of providing funds to cover the costs of such advertising or sales promotion plans incurred prior to the receipt of sufficient funds from assessments as provided herein, the director may require each person so assessed to deposit with him in advance an amount not exceeding twenty-five percent (25%) of such assessment, based upon the estimated number of units of such commodity to be marketed or handled by such person, or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable, during such marketing season. At any time after the funds credited to the advertising or sales promotion account of the marketing order are sufficient to so warrant, or at the close of the marketing season, the sum so deposited by such person shall be adjusted to the amount which is properly chargeable against such person pursuant to the assessment authorized herein.

(c) In lieu of the assessments to defray the costs of formulation, issuance, administration and enforcement and advertising or sales promotion provided for in paragraphs (a) and (b) hereof, if the marketing order contains provisions for advertising or sales promotion as authorized in this chapter, the director may approve and fix one assessment not exceeding six and one-half percent (6½%) of the gross dollar volume of sales of such commodity by all producers, or by all processors, distributors or other handlers of such agricultural commodity regulated by such marketing order during the marketing season or seasons during which such marketing order is effective. The method and manner of assessment and collection thereof, and the limitations and restrictions applicable thereupon, shall conform in all respects with the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof, except as to the maximum amount of such assessment. In such case the advisory board shall recommend and the director may approve the proportions of such assessments which may be expended to defray the costs of formulation, issuance, administration and enforcement of the marketing order and of such advertising or sales promotion program; provided, that, the proportion of such assessments which may be allocated in such manner to defray the cost of such administrative activities for such marketing order shall in no case exceed the maximum amount authorized in paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) In the event any advisory board of any marketing order has reason to believe that the administration of a marketing order will be facilitated or the attainment of the purposes and objectives of the marketing order will be promoted thereby, the advisory board is authorized to borrow money with or without interest to carry out any provision of any marketing order authorized by this chapter, and may hypothecate anticipated assessment collections applicable to such respective provisions.

In lieu of requiring advance deposits or in order generally to provide funds for defraying administrative or advertising and sales promotion expenses until such time as sufficient moneys are collected for such purpose from the payment of assessments established pursuant to Section 1300.17 of this chapter, the director is authorized to receive and disburse for such expense purposes contributions made by producers, processors, distributors or other handlers. Neither the board nor the director shall be held responsible for the repayment of such contributions; provided, however, that whenever collections from the payment of established assessments credited to the respective marketing order accounts are sufficient to so warrant, the board shall recommend and the director shall authorize the repayment of contributions or authorize the application of such contributions to the assessment obligations of persons who made such contributions.

(e) For the convenience of making collections of any producer assessments established pursuant to this section, the director may collect such assessments from the handlers of the commodity being regulated. Handlers paying such assessments for and on behalf of any producers are authorized to deduct such producer assessments from any moneys owed by such handlers to such producers. Any marketing order may provide that handler shall deduct producer assessments from any moneys owed by such handlers to such producers.

The director shall prescribe rules and regulations with respect to the assessment and collection of funds pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(f) Any moneys collected by the director pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in a bank or banks, or other depository, approved by the Director of Finance, allocated to each marketing order under which they are collected, and, except as provided in subdivision (i) of this section, disbursed by the director only for the necessary expenses incurred by the advisory board and approved by the director with respect to each marketing order. Funds so collected shall be deposited and disbursed in conformity with appropriate rules and regulations prescribed by the director. The expenditure of such funds shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 16003 of the Government Code. All such expenditures by the director shall be audited at least every two years by the Department of Finance and a copy of such audit shall be delivered within 30 days after the completion thereof to the Governor, the Director of Agriculture and the Controller. Any moneys in the State Treasury to the credit of the "State Marketing Act Trust Fund" shall be withdrawn and deposited in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

Any moneys remaining in such fund, allocable to any particular agricultural commodity affected by a marketing order, at the discretion of the director, may either be refunded at the close of each fiscal period used by the advisory board for budgetary purposes, or upon recommendation of the advisory board and with the approval of the director, all or a portion of such moneys may be carried over into the next succeeding fiscal period whenever the director finds that such moneys are required to defray subsequent expenses under the marketing order. Any refund made pursuant to this paragraph shall be on a pro rata basis made to persons from whom or on whose behalf the assessments being refunded were collected; provided, that upon termination by the director of any marketing order, any balances remaining and not required by the director to defray the expenses of such marketing order, shall be returned by the director upon a pro rata basis, to all persons from whom or on whose behalf such assessments were collected; provided further, however, that if the director finds that the amounts so returnable are so small as to make impractical the computation and remitting of such pro rata refund to such persons, the director may use the moneys in such fund to defray the expenses incurred by him in the formulation, issuance, administration or enforcement of any subsequent marketing order for such commodity. Thereafter, if there are any such moneys remaining which have not been used by the director as hereinabove provided, same shall be withdrawn from the approved depository and paid into the State Treasury as unclaimed trust moneys.

(g) Moneys deposited by the director pursuant to this section, which the director determines are available for investment, may be invested or reinvested by the State Treasurer in any of the securities described in Article 1 (commencing at Section 16430), Chapter 3, Part 2, Division 4, Title 2 of the Government Code, or placed in a bank as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing at Section 16500), Part 2, Division 4, Title 2 of the Government Code, and handled in the same manner as money in the State Treasury. Any increment received from such investment or reinvestment or deposit shall be remitted to the director for allocation, upon a proper and equitable basis, to each of the marketing orders concerned, and deposited and disbursed as provided in subdivision (f) of this section. The State Treasurer may deduct from such remittance an amount equal to the reasonable costs incurred in carrying out the provisions of this subdivision or may bill the director for such costs and the director shall pay such costs from moneys collected pursuant to this chapter.

(h) Any checks or warrants drawn against the funds of any marketing order remaining unclaimed or uncashed for a period of six months from date of issuance shall be canceled and the money retained for disbursement to the original payee or claimant upon satisfactory identification for a period of one year from the time the checks or warrants are canceled. The money so retained, if not claimed within the period of one year, shall be credited to the then currently operating marketing order for the commodity under which the funds so retained were collected. If there is no marketing order then in effective operation for the commodity, the funds shall be credited to the unexpended balance, if any, of the last previous marketing order for the commodity. In the event there is no marketing order then in current operation, or no balance exists from any previous marketing order to which the funds may be credited, the funds so retained shall be deposited in the State Treasury as unclaimed trust moneys.

(i) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 28, each marketing order or agreement shall be charged amounts computed by the director as required to reasonably provide for services to be rendered to such marketing orders by the department. Such amounts shall be subject to approval by the advisory board concerned, shall be included in each budget recommended to and approved by the director pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section, and shall be withdrawn as required by the director and paid into the Department of Agriculture Fund in the State Treasury and expended only for the necessary expenses incurred by the director in the administration of this chapter.

CHAPTER 1391

An act to add Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 5500) to Division 6 of the Agricultural Code, relating to the California Table Grape Commission, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961 Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 5500) is added to Division 6 of the Agricultural Code, to read:

CHAPTER 21. THE CALIFORNIA TABLE GRAPE COMMISSION

Article 1. Declarations and Purposes

5500. (a) Grapes produced in California for fresh human consumption comprise one of the major agricultural crops of California, and the production and marketing of such grapes affects the economy, welfare, standard of living and health of a large number of citizens residing in this State. Declaration

(b) Increased plantings of vineyards and improved cultural practices for the production of California grapes for fresh human consumption have increased and will continue to increase the production thereof and unless the fresh human consumption of California grapes is increased by the expansion of existing markets and the development of new markets, the interests of the fresh grape industry of California, and the public interest of the people of this State, will be adversely affected.

(c) The preparation for market and marketing of fresh grapes for human consumption in excess of reasonable and normal market demands therefor, disorderly marketing of such grapes, improper preparation for market, the lack of uniform grading and classification of such grapes, and the lack of minimum standards of quality of such grapes, unfair methods of competition in marketing thereof, and the inability of individual producers to maintain or expand present markets or to develop new or larger markets for such grapes results in an unreasonable and unnecessary economic waste of the agricultural wealth of this State.

(d) Such conditions and the accompanying waste jeopardize the future continued production of adequate supplies of fresh grapes for human consumption for the people of this and other states, and prevent producers from obtaining a fair return for their labor, their farms and their production. As a consequence, the purchasing power of such producers has been in the past, and may continue to be in the future unless such conditions are remedied, low in relation to that of other people engaged in other gainful occupations within the State, and they are thereby prevented from maintaining a proper standard of living and from contributing their fair share to the support of the necessary governmental and education functions, thus tending to increase unfairly the tax burden of other citizens of the State.

(e) These conditions vitally concern the health, peace, safety and general welfare of the people of this State. It is therefore necessary and expedient in the public interest to protect and enhance the reputation of California fresh grapes for human consumption in intrastate, interstate and foreign markets, and to otherwise act so as to eliminate unreasonable and unnecessary economic waste of the agricultural wealth of this State.

(f) The promotion of the sale of fresh grapes for human consumption by means of advertising, dissemination of information on the manner and means of production, and the care and effort required in the production of such grapes, the methods and care required in preparing and transporting such grapes to market, and the handling of the same in consuming markets, research respecting the health, food and dietetic value of California fresh grapes and the production, handling, transportation and marketing thereof, the dissemination of information respecting the results of such research, instruction of the wholesale and retail trade with respect to handling thereof, and the education and instruction of the general public with reference to the various varieties of California fresh grapes for human consumption, the time to use and consume each variety and the uses to which each variety should be put, the dietetic and health value thereof, and the regulation of quality of such grapes to be introduced into market, all serve to increase the consumption thereof and to expand existing markets and create new markets for fresh grapes, and prevent agricultural waste, and is therefore in the interests of the welfare, public economy and health of the people of this State.

(g) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State to aid producers of California fresh grapes in preventing economic waste in the marketing of their commodity, to develop more efficient and equitable methods in such marketing, and to aid such producers in restoring and maintaining their purchasing power at a more adequate, equitable and reasonable level.

(h) The production and marketing of grapes produced in California for fresh human consumption is declared to be affected with a public interest; the provisions of this chapter are enacted in the exercise of the police power of this State for the purpose of protecting the health, peace, safety and general welfare of the people of this State.

Purposes

5501. The purposes of this chapter are:

(a) To enable producers of this State of fresh grapes for human consumption more effectively to correlate the marketing of their agricultural commodities with market demands therefor.

(b) To establish orderly marketing of such grapes.

(c) To provide for uniform grading and proper preparation of such grapes for market and to maintain quality standards therefor.

(d) To provide methods and means for the maintenance and expansion of present markets or for the development of new or larger markets for such grapes grown within this State, and the prevention, modification, or elimination of trade barriers which obstruct the free flow of such grapes to market.

(e) To eliminate or reduce economic waste in the marketing of grapes produced in California for fresh human consumption.

(f) To restore and maintain adequate purchasing power for the producers of this State of grapes for fresh human consumption.

Each producer who has grown fresh grapes in a district in the year preceding any election shall be entitled to two votes in such district, one for each of two nominees. In the first election after the effective date of this chapter, each producer entitled to vote in a district shall be entitled to six votes in such district, one for each of the six nominees, and the six nominees receiving the greatest number of votes shall be nominated for appointment as the members for such district for the initial terms hereunder. In the event of a tie vote which shall result in failure to nominate two persons for each commission membership available, there shall be another election held only between those nominees, the tie vote for whom resulted in such failure to so nominate the required number of nominees.

Proxy vote

5558. A nonprofit co-operative marketing association may vote by proxy for any member, if so authorized in writing. Such proxy shall be revocable at will.

List of producers

5559. Immediately after the effective date of this chapter, the State Director of Agriculture shall establish a list of producers in each district. Such list of producers may be established from lists of such persons whose names and addresses appear on file in the Department of Agriculture. In establishing such lists of producers, the director may issue a notice to shippers, requiring them to file with the director a certified report showing the name and mail address of the shipper, and the correct names and mail addresses of producers whose producing operations are located within each district from whom the shipper received fresh grapes during the next preceding season. Notice to such shippers shall be published by the director for a period of not less than five days in a newspaper of general circulation published in each district, and shall be mailed to all shippers of record with the department. The lists of producers shall be filed by shippers within 10 days from the last date of publication of the notice.

Omission from list

The commission or the director in preparing a list of producers to be used under this chapter, may omit from such list any person who makes only casual sales or sales as a result of activities other than a commercial farm business venture. Any person so omitted from such list shall not be subjected to the provisions, including the payment of any assessments, of this chapter and shall not be qualified as a producer under this chapter.

Any person omitted from a list pursuant to this section may be included on any subsequent list if found qualified as a producer at the time of preparing such list.

Checking, etc., lists

5560. In addition, the director may obtain lists of producers whenever and in such manner as he may deem necessary or advisable, for the purpose of checking, comparing or correcting such lists. Such producer lists shall, subject to any proper corrections, be final and conclusive in making determinations relative to the number and qualifications of producers entitled to vote for nominees, in a referendum, or those persons qualified as producers for any other purpose.

Inclusion on list

5561. Any producer producing fresh grapes, whose name does not appear upon the director's list of producers affected, may have his name established thereon by filing with the director a signed statement, advising that he produced such fresh grapes in the next preceding season, and giving the quantity produced in each district and the quantity delivered to shippers or introduced into trade.

Nominations for commissioners

5562. Upon establishment of such lists of producers, the Director of Agriculture shall call meetings of producers in each district, for the purpose of nominating persons to be appointed to the office of commissioner. At each such district meeting for the nomination of members, the director or a representative authorized by him shall preside, and receive nominations, and at the conclusion of each such meeting shall announce the names of the persons nominated at the meetings and the time, the manner and instructions for voting by mail. Thereafter, within 10 days after each such meeting, the director shall mail to all producers ballots for the election of nominees for members in the respective districts, with instructions for voting by mail. Nonreceipt of notice

5564. Nonreceipt of notice of a meeting for the nomination of commissioners or of ballots shall not invalidate any such meeting, nomination or election.

5565. Subsequent to the first election after the effective date of this chapter, the commission shall compile and maintain a list of qualified producers and shall, at least 30 days prior to the date set for any meeting for nomination to office of commissioner, certify such list to the director, and such list shall constitute the list of producers qualified to vote in any such election.

Meetings

5566. Subsequent to the first election after the effective date of this chapter, meetings shall be called by the director for the purpose of nominating candidates to the office of commissioner not more than 90 nor less than 60 days prior to the expiration of the term of office of such commissioner, and thereafter persons shall be nominated for such office and appointed as hereinbefore set forth.

5567. In the event the office of a commissioner becomes vacant due to failure to qualify, resignation, disqualification, death or for any other reason, such position shall be filled by a special election for nomination, conducted in the manner herein provided for general elections and appointment by the director. Vacancies occurring within six months prior to a regular district election may remain vacant until the next regular election. Commission members nominated at special elections shall serve the unexpired term of the office to which they are appointed.

Such members shall be natural persons, each of whom shall be citizens and residents of this State, over the age of 25 years, each of whom, as an individual, partner or employee of a shipper or shippers, is and has been actively engaged in shipping fresh grapes in this State for a period of at least five years.

Article 4. Minimum Standards

U S No 1 Grade

5580. The U.S. No. 1 Grade is hereby declared to be the normal minimum standard of quality for each variety of California fresh grapes, except that maturity requirements with respect to sugar content may comply with State of California minimum standardization requirements if such minimum requirements are lower than U.S. No. 1 Grade requirements and shall comply with State of California minimum standardization requirements with respect to sugar content if such requirements are higher than U.S. No 1 Grade requirements. Such normal minimum standard of quality may be reviewed and emergency adjustment thereof made lowering or raising such minimum standard for any variety or varieties in any district or districts as hereinafter set forth.

Review of normal minimum standard

5581. Upon the request of any one or more producers in any district or districts alleging that an emergency exists as to a variety or varieties of grapes in such district or districts, the commission may determine that such normal minimum standard shall be subject to review. Upon such determination, the commission shall, within 10 days thereafter, hold a hearing at some central point within the district or districts allegedly affected by such emergency.

Hearing

5581.1. If, upon the request of a producer made in accordance with Section 5581, any two commissioners from the district of such a producer and the chairman of the commission or other person designated by the commission, shall certify to the commission that an immediate hearing is necessary to prevent irreparable damage to producers of such variety or varieties in such district, and the commission has not in such marketing season theretofore held an immediate hearing in accordance with this Section 5581.1, the commission shall hold such a hearing within three days thereafter to review such normal minimum standard.

Findings

5582. If, upon such hearing, it shall be made to appear:

(a) That by reason of weather conditions, insect infestation, unusual vine or bunch development or other unusual condition, substantial amounts of grapes or a variety thereof in such district or districts will not meet the normal minimum standard in one or more respects; and

(b) That such failure to meet the normal minimum standard is of a minor nature and is not of such substantial nature as to, and does not, affect the basic quality and marketability of such grapes; and

(c) That a lowering in such normal minimum standard by waiver of such defect or defects above described will not damage the California fresh grape industry, nor be contrary to the policy or policies of this chapter; and

(d) That agricultural waste is occurring or about to occur; and

(e) That a waiver of such normal minimum standard as to such variety or varieties in such district or districts will prevent such waste; and

(f) That such a reduction in normal minimum standard may be made without permitting unreasonable profits to any person, and that such grapes so affected cannot be marketed at a reasonable profit otherwise than by such reduction, it shall make written findings to that effect, and the normal minimum standard shall be lowered accordingly; provided, that such standard shall not be lowered below any minimum shipping standard provided by any state or federal law or regulations.

If the commission shall find against the existence of any of the facts required to be present under this section, it shall not lower the normal minimum standard.

Hearing
Higher minimum standard

5583. Upon written request of 10 percent in number of the qualified producer voters in any district producing a specific variety of fresh grapes, the commission shall, within five days thereafter, hold a hearing at some central point within the district to determine if a referendum shall be conducted to establish a higher minimum standard for such variety in such district.

Findings

5584. If upon such hearing, it shall be made to appear:

(a) That the economic stability of the agricultural industry concerned is being, or is about to be, imperiled by prevailing market conditions; and

(b) That agricultural waste is occurring or is about to occur; and

(c) That a higher standard for such variety in such district will advance the public welfare without injustice to any producer, and that the proposed higher standard may be instituted without permitting unreasonable profits to the producers and will prevent threatened economic waste; it shall make written findings to that effect and shall, within five days thereafter, conduct a referendum among the producers in such district of such variety or varieties to determine if the higher standard requested by such petition, or any standard between such higher standard and such normal minimum standard, shall be placed in effect. Such referendum shall be conducted by written ballot under rules and regulations established by the commission and each such producer of such variety in such district shall be entitled to one vote. Upon determination by the commission that a majority of such producers voting, approve such higher standard for such variety in such district the commission shall so certify to the director and such higher standard shall thereupon become effective.

Change in standard: Duration

5585. Any adjustment lowering or raising the minimum standard in accordance with Sections 5581, 5582, 5583 and 5584 shall remain in effect for the current marketing season only.

Hearing to review normal minimum standard

Notice of a hearing to review the normal minimum standard shall be given, under rules and regulations to be established by the commission, by radio, telegram, mail, newspaper advertisement or other medium of communication, or any combination thereof, and for such period of time as will in the discretion of the commission convey reasonable notice of such hearing to the largest number of growers and shippers in such district and to the commissioners. Nonreceipt by any person of notice of such a hearing to be held shall not invalidate such hearing or the findings or any decision of the commission.

Minimum standard: Shipment from storage

5585.5. The commission may establish by regulation a minimum standard for grapes which shall be met at the time of shipment from storage. Storage, as used in this section, means the holding of grapes for more than 48 hours between the time of packing and the time of shipment.

Such minimum standard for grapes at the time of shipment from storage may not be more restrictive than the normal minimum standard and shall be established by the commission only if it finds:

(a) By reason of weather conditions, insect infestation, unusual vine or bunch development, or other unusual condition, there is occurring, or it is likely that there will occur, abnormal breakdown of stored grapes.

(b) That the economic stability of the agricultural industry is imperiled or is about to be imperiled by such conditions.

(c) That the imposition of such standards is necessary for the protection of consumers and will advance the public welfare without injustice to producers and without permitting unreasonable profits to producers.

Shipment of below-standard grapes prohibited

5586. No grapes shall be shipped which do not meet the minimum standard adjusted as herein provided at either time of packing, if so marked, or thereafter at any time prior to shipment. Grapes packed in consumer packages as such packages are authorized in this code and so marked, shall meet the same minimum standard as adjusted, except for size of bunches.

Inspection certificates

5587. The commission shall arrange for the issuance of, or may adopt, such inspection certificates or other evidence of compliance as the commission deems necessary or proper to insure compliance with, and enforcement of, this act or any rule or regulation adopted pursuant hereto.

The commission may obtain the services of a recognized inspection agency or may employ its own inspectors to provide inspection service as may be required; or the commission may enter into arrangements with the State Bureau of Fruit and Vegetable Standardization, county agricultural commissioners, or other state or federal agencies for the purpose of performing such inspection service and co-ordinating the inspection and certification of fresh grapes prepared for market or marketed.

There is hereby levied and imposed upon all fresh grapes shipped during the marketing season, commencing May 1, 1962, and ending April 30, 1963, and in each marketing season thereafter, an assessment as fixed by the commission at that amount determined by the commission as reasonably necessary to pay all obligations incurred or to be incurred in accordance with this chapter and as reasonably necessary to carry out the objects and purposes of this chapter; provided, that during the first marketing season such assessment shall not exceed 1.0345 mills per pound (10.345¢ per 100 pounds) net weight when shipped, whether in bulk or loose in boxes or any other container or packed in any style package, and in subsequent marketing seasons such assessment shall not exceed 1.7241 mills per pound (17.241¢ per 100 pounds), computed on net weight when shipped, whether in bulk or loose in boxes or in any other container or packed in any style package.

Every shipper is authorized to collect such assessments from a producer, and shall deduct the assessment from any moneys owed to any such producer Every shipper shall be primarily and personally liable for the payment of any such assessment, and failure of the shipper to collect the same from any producer shall not exempt any shipper from such primary liability. Any shipper who fails to file a return or pay any assessment within the time required shall thereby forfeit to the commission a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of such assessment determined to be due, but if the commission is satisfied that the delay was excusable, may remit all or any part of such penalty Such penalty shall be paid to the commission and shall be available for expenditure in the same manner as an assessment.

If the license is renewed more than 30 days after its expiration, the licensee, as a condition precedent to renewal, shall also pay the delinquency fee prescribed by this chapter. Renewal under this section shall be effective on the date on which the application is filed, on the date on which the renewal fee is paid, or on the date on which the delinquency fee, if any, is paid, whichever last occurs. If so renewed, the license shall continue in effect through the expiration date provided in Section 4900 which next occurs after the effective date of the renewal, when it shall expire if it is not again renewed.

The provisions of this article, as amended by the Legislature at its 1961 Regular Session govern the renewal after September 30, 1961, and the fees payable therefor, of all licenses issued under this chapter, regardless of when issued. A license which, under the law in effect before October 1, 1961, became suspended because of the failure of its holder to pay the renewal fee shall be considered to have expired on the date that it became suspended.

Suspended license

4901.1. A license which was suspended before October 1, 1961, for a reason other than the failure of its holder to renew it, and a license suspended after September 30, 1961, for any reason which under the law in effect after that date, constitutes a basis for suspension, is subject to expiration, and shall be renewed as provided in this chapter, but such renewal does not entitle the licensee, while the license remains suspended and until it is reinstated, to engage in the licensed activity, or in any other activity in violation of the order or judgment by which it was suspended.

SEC. 8. Section 4901.2 is added to said code, to read:

Revoked license

4901.2. A revoked license is subject to expiration as provided in this article, but it may not be renewed. If it is reinstated after its expiration, the licensee, as a condition precedent to reinstatement, shall pay a reinstatement fee in an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which it is reinstated plus the delinquency fee, if any, accrued at the time of its revocation.

SEC. 9. Section 4902 of said code is amended to read:

Failure to renew. New license

4902. A person who fails to renew his license within five years after its expiration may not renew it, and it shall not be restored, reissued, or reinstated thereafter, but such person may apply for and obtain a new license if:

(a) He is of good moral character,

(b) No fact, circumstance, or condition exists which, if the license were issued, would justify its revocation or suspension,

(c) He takes and passes the examination, if any, which would be required of him if he were then applying for a license for the first time, or otherwise establishes to the satisfaction of the board that, with due regard for the public interest, he is qualified to practice veterinary medicine, and

(d) He pays all of the fees that would be required of him if he were then applying for the license for the first time.

The board may, by regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of all or any part of the examination fee in those cases in which a license is issued without an examination pursuant to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 10. Section 4905 of said code is amended to read:

Fees

4905. The following fees shall be collected by the board and the same shall be credited to the Board of Examiners in Veterinary Medicine Contingent Fund:

(a) The fee for filing an application for examination is twenty dollars ($20).

(b) The initial license fee is as follows:

(1) For licenses issued before September 1, 1963, five dollars ($5),

(2) For licenses issued after August 31, 1963, an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued, except that, if the license is issued less than one year before the date on which it will expire, then the fee is an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued. The board may, by appropriate regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of the initial license fee where the license is issued less than 45 days before the date on which it will expire.

Except as otherwise provided in this part, in determining seniority scores, one point shall be allowed for each complete month of full-time state service in the class of layoff or demotion and in classes that, at the time notice of layoff is given, have the same or a higher maximum salary. One-half point shall be allowed for each complete month of full-time state service in all other classes. Board rules shall establish: (a) the extent to which seniority credits may be granted for less than full-time service; (b) the seniority credit to be granted for service in a class that has been abolished, combined, divided, or otherwise altered under the authority of Section 18802; (c) the basis for determining the sequence of layoff whenever the class and subdivision of layoff includes employees whose service is less than full time; and (d) such other matters as are necessary or advisable to the operation of the provisions of this chapter. Layoffs

For professional, scientific, administrative, management, and executive classes the board shall prescribe standards and methods by rule whereby employee efficiency shall be combined with seniority in determining the order of layoff and the order of names on re-employment lists. Such standards and methods may vary for different classes, and shall take into consideration the needs of state service and practice in private industry and other public employment.

SEC. 4. Section 19533.1 of said code is amended to read:

Separations by reason of reinstatement of employee

19533.1. Separations that are necessary by reason of reinstatement of an employee or employees after recognized military service as provided for in Section 19390 shall be made by layoff. In making such separations, the regular method of determining the order of layoff shall be used unless this would result in the layoff of an employee who has been reinstated in the class and subdivision of layoff under the provisions of Section 19390, and in the retention of an employee who was appointed in the class and subdivision of layoff during the time such a reinstated employee was on military leave. Under such circumstances, seniority shall not be counted as provided in Section 19533. Instead, service in the subdivision of layoff that qualifies under Section 19533 for credit at the rate of one point a month is the only state service that shall be counted.

Whenever such a layoff results in the demotion to a lower class of an employee who has been reinstated after recognized military service as provided in Section 19390, the resulting layoff, if any, in the lower class shall be made as though that reinstated employee had been in that lower class at the time he went on military leave.

Any layoff occurring within one year after reinstatement of an employee after recognized military service shall be presumed to have been necessary by reason of reinstatement of an employee or employees under Section 19390.

SEC. 5. Section 19534 of said code is amended to read:

Preference for veterans

19534. Employees in the class under consideration, up to the number of positions to be abolished or discontinued, shall be laid off in the order as determined under the provisions of this part. As between two or more such employees who have the same score veterans shall have preference in retention. Other ties shall be resolved according to board rule which shall take into consideration other matters of record before names are drawn by lot.

Repeal

SEC. 6. Section 19539 of said code is repealed.

If the court finds the petition and consent in order, it may order the extension, and transmit a copy of the order to the Director of Corrections.

Urgency

SEC. 24. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is presently a considerable amount of confusion as a result of the lack of provision for changeover and reorganization of boards of districts which are reorganized as, or come under the law regarding recreation and park districts, and a lack of provision for termination of existing terms so that much of the action of boards not yet reorganized or even reorganized but having no statutory method which to follow, is clouded.

As a result of these clouds, potential bond issues for development and even tax rate levies might be in jeopardy. This act would provide a procedure by which the membership of the board of directors of a district reorganized or coming under the laws regarding recreation and park districts would be determined. It is, therefore imperative that this act take effect immediately.

An act to add Section 14215.5 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to local fire districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14215.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

14215.5. A resolution by the district board annexing territory to a district where no protest is made against such change, or a resolution calling an election to decide whether a proposed annexation shall occur where the requisite number of petitioners have protested the annexation, shall not become effective unless and until the resolution is submitted to, and approved by the board of supervisors, which shall approve the resolution if it determines that the best interests of the people of the district and the county as a whole will be served by the annexation. Resolution: When effective

SEC. 2. Section 14215.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by this act, is applicable to all proceedings for the annexation of territory to local fire districts pending on the effective date of this act. Law applicable

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: Urgency

It has come to the attention of the Legislature that there are, at present, annexation proceedings under way for the annexation of large areas of noncontiguous territory to various local fire districts in which, although all present legal requirements are being complied with, the residents of the areas proposed to be annexed to the district are not being given adequate notice of the proceedings or an adequate opportunity to protest the annexation of their property to such districts.

The Legislature has also determined that the people of the county in which a local fire district is located have an interest in whether or not territory should be annexed to the district which is not adequately protected by the provisions of the present law. The Legislature has, therefore, determined that for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety it is imperative that no territory be annexed to any local fire district unless and until the board of supervisors of the county in which the district is located determines that the best interests of the people of the district and the county as a whole will be served by the annexation. It is, therefore, imperative that the act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Section 10103 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10103 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

10103. The provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 5115) of Part 3 of Division 7 of this code providing for the construction of work and the levy of an assessment by a city within a county or by a county within a city, are incorporated in this division as if fully set out herein. Upon obtaining the consent required in that chapter, a city may construct improvements and levy an assessment in a county or in another city, a county may construct improvements and levy an assessment within a city, and a public corporation may construct improvements and levy an assessment outside of its boundaries either within a city or within a county. If no assessment is to be levied outside the boundaries of the city, county, or public corporation conducting the assessment proceedings, the proposed resolution of intention need not be submitted or approved and the consent required shall be obtained prior to the ordering of the improvement.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It is necessary that the provision for exercise of extraterritorial jurisdiction be more clearly stated in the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913. Clarity of the law is essential to the conduct of bonding proceedings in order to obtain merchantable legal opinions supporting the legality of bonds and to avoid wasteful interpretative litigation. Many areas are in urgent need of improvements which can be most economically constructed and financed under said act as single projects, regardless of territorial boundaries, during the spring and summer of 1961, before the advent of winter rains. It is, therefore, imperative that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1433

An act to add Section 15137 to the Government Code, relating to the state teletype system.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15137 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15137. The Attorney General shall lease facilities and equipment to connect the state teletype system with the police department of the City of Lompoc if the city assumes the cost of connecting to the system and the annual cost of operating such extension.

CHAPTER 1434

An act to add Section 1956.5 to the Government Code, relating to insurance against the liability of local public agencies.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1956.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

1956.5. A county, city, district, or any other public agency or public corporation may insure itself against any liability, other than a liability which may be insured against pursuant to Division 4 of the Labor Code, either by self insurance or in any insurer authorized to transact such insurance in the State. The premium for such insurance is a proper charge against such county, city, district or other public agency or public corporation.

Divisions

SEC. 3. The board of directors shall, at its first meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, divide the agency into five divisions, which shall be as nearly as practicable equal in area.

Directors

Such divisions shall be numbered first, second, third, fourth and fifth. One director shall be elected for each division by the voters thereof at the next general agency election following the organization of the agency, and two directors at large shall be elected at such election by the voters of the agency as a whole. Each director elected or appointed for a division shall be an elector in that division, and each director at large shall be an elector or the owner of real property in the agency. Each director elected or appointed for a division is herein called a "divisional director," and each of the two directors elected or appointed for the agency at large is herein called a "director at large." The two offices of directors at large shall respectively be known as "director at large No. 1" and "director at large No. 2."

Relocation of boundaries

SEC. 4. Whenever a sufficient change in the area of the agency occurs which makes it desirable in the opinion of the board of directors of the agency to relocate the boundaries of any division or divisions, the board of directors shall, by resolution, relocate the boundary lines of the division or divisions so as to equalize as nearly as may be practicable the area in the respective divisions. At the time of or after each annexation of territory to the agency the board of directors shall designate by resolution the division of which such annexed territory shall be a part. No change in division lines shall be made within four (4) months next preceding the election of any divisional director nor shall such change in division lines work a forfeiture of the office of any director. Whenever such change is made in the division lines, each divisional director then in office, until his office becomes vacant by expiration of his term, or otherwise, shall continue to be the director for the division bearing the number of his division as formerly located, even though such divisional director is not a resident or owner of real property within the relocated division.

Board of directors

SEC. 5. The board of directors of the agency organized under this act shall consist of seven members. The Board of Supervisors of Riverside County shall appoint the first board of directors, each of whom shall be a resident or owner of real property within the agency, and shall hold office until his successor is elected. Following the creation of the five divisions of the agency by the first board of directors, and at the first agency election thereafter, all successors of the first board shall be elected or chosen at the time and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Terms of office

(a) Each director elected or appointed at the first general agency election shall hold office for the term of four (4) years from and after the date of his taking office as herein provided, and until the election and qualification of his successor; except that the five divisional directors elected or appointed at the first general agency election shall classify themselves by lot, so that two of them shall hold office until the qualification of and taking office by their successors elected at an election held the next succeeding even-numbered year, and so that three shall hold office until the qualification of and taking office by their successors at an election held in the second successive even-numbered year, and except that the two directors at large elected or appointed at such first general agency election shall classify themselves by lot so that one shall hold office until the qualification of and taking office by his successor elected at an election held the next succeeding even-numbered year, and the other shall hold office until the qualification of and taking office by his successor elected at an election held in the second successive even-numbered year.

Elections consolidated with direct primary election

(b) The elections of directors shall be held at the time of the direct primary election and shall be consolidated therewith. Each candidate for director who at such election receives votes on a majority of all the ballots cast for candidates for the office for which he seeks nomination shall be elected to such office. If at such primary election, as to any such office, none of the candidates receives such majority, the two candidates who receive the highest number of votes cast on all the ballots cast for candidates for such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing agency election, which latter election shall be held at the same time as the next succeeding general election and shall be consolidated therewith. Candidates shall declare their candidacy and shall be nominated, election returns shall be canvassed, the election shall be held and conducted, the results shall be declared, and the certificates of election shall be issued, in the same manner as the declaration of candidacy, nomination, election, canvassing of returns, declaration of results, and issuance of certificates of election for county officers are made, declared, held, and conducted, and issued, so far as consistent with the provisions of this act and except as otherwise herein expressly provided. Directors elected hereunder, except the first board of directors, shall take office at the same time provided by the Government Code for county officers. Said election held at the same time of the direct primary election and consolidated therewith shall be known as the general San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency election and each other election which may be held by authority of this act or the Elections Code or other law applicable thereto shall be known as a special San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency election.

Appointment as director

SEC. 6. If, on the 65th day prior to the day fixed for the agency general election, only one person has been nominated for each office or member of the board of directors to be filed at that election, or if no person has been nominated for any one or more of said offices, said board of directors shall by resolution entered in their minutes order that an election shall not be held, and shall immediately request that the board of supervisors of the county in which the agency or a greater portion thereof is situated, at a regular or special meeting held prior to the day of election, appoint, and the board of supervisors shall thereupon appoint, to the office or offices the person or persons who have been nominated, or if no person or persons have been nominated, any qualified person or persons. The person appointed shall qualify and take office and serve exactly as if elected at an agency general election.

In such case the publication provided for in Article 6 (commencing at Sec. 2699), Chapter 2, Division 5 of the Elections Code shall, instead of calling an election, state that no election is to be held but that the board of supervisors will either appoint those nominated for the positions of directors or appoint a qualified person or persons to the office or offices for which no one has been nominated, as the circumstances may warrant.

Persons eligible to vote

SEC. 7. No person shall vote at any agency election held under the provisions of this act who is not a voter within the meaning of the Elections Code, residing in the agency, and in the case of divisional directors in the division of the agency in which he casts his vote. The ballots thus provided shall be furnished by the precinct officers only to those voters within their respective precincts who shall appear on the register as duly registered voters, within the agency, and in precincts which lie partly within such agency and partly without the precinct board shall be supplied with two kinds of ballots by said county clerk or registrar of voters, one of which shall contain the matters hereinabove set forth for the use of voters of the agency, and the other of which shall be without such heading containing the names of candidates for the office of members of the board of directors, and which shall be furnished to those voters who are not voters of the agency and who are voters of the precinct.

If any agency election is consolidated with any state or county election, then the voting precincts, polling places, and election officers for the agency election shall be the same as those established for such state or county election.

SEC. 10. Every incumbent of an elective office, whether elected by popular vote for a full term, or chosen by the board of directors to fill a vacancy, is subject to recall by the voters of the agency organized under the provisions of this act in accordance with the recall provisions of the Elections Code of the State with reference to cities.

9. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to supply the agency or any portion thereof with water, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise, and may condemn any existing waterworks or system, or any portion thereof, or any waters or water rights owned by any person, firm or private corporation, provided that the use to which such property is to be devoted by the agency must be pleaded and proven by the agency to be a more necessary public use than that to which it is then appropriated, as a condition to the exercise of such right of eminent domain. In proceedings relative to the exercise of such right, the agency shall have all of the rights, powers and privileges of a city; provided, the agency in exercising such power, shall in addition to the damage for the taking, injury, or destruction of

18. To acquire, control, distribute, store, spread, sink, treat, purify, reclaim, recapture, and salvage any water, including sewage and storm waters, for the beneficial use or uses and protection of the agency or its inhabitants or the owners of rights to water therein; provided, however, that all waters of the Whitewater River system are excluded from the provisions hereof, except such waters of said system as may be lawfully acquired by the San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency.

19. Such contracts may provide for contributions to be made by each party thereto and for the division and apportionment of the expenses of such acquisitions and operations, and the division and apportionment of the benefits, the services and products therefrom, and may provide for any agency to effect such acquisitions and to carry on such operations, and shall provide in the powers and methods of procedure for such agency the method by which such agency may contract. Such contracts with other public agencies or private corporations or persons may contain such other and further covenants and agreements as may be necessary or convenient to accomplish the purposes thereof. Particularly, but not exclusively, the agency may contract with the State of California for delivery of water under the State Water Plan. Any such contract with the United States of America or any department or agency thereof, or with any private corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, by which the agency, or an improvement district thereof, incurs an indebtedness or liability exceeding in any year the income and revenue for such year shall not be executed without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the agency, or an improvement district thereof, voting at a special election to be held for that purpose, such election to be called and held, so far as practicable, in the same manner as bond elections for the agency. The exact form of such contract need not be available at the time of the special election, but the (1) purpose of the contract; (2) maximum amount of the indebtedness created thereby; (3) maximum term of repayment, and (4) maximum interest rate on such indebtedness shall be known and included in the proposition or measure submitted to the qualified electors of the agency, or an improvement district thereof, at such special election.

20. 22. To issue bonds under Section 28 of this act for the purpose of providing money required to be paid by this agency to the State of California or any agency thereof under any contract which shall be made with it, or as all or part of the terms and conditions under which the corporate area of the agency may be annexed to and become a part of any metropolitan water district organized under the Metropolitan Water District Act. The amount of said bonds may include expenses of all proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds.

23. To issue revenue bonds for any purpose for which such bonds could be issued under the provisions of the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 or any other law which by its terms is applicable to agencies formed under this act.

24. To use the Improvement Act of 1911 for the construction of any facilities authorized to be constructed under the provisions of this act. The powers and duties conferred by the Improvement Act of 1911 on the various boards, officers and agents of cities shall be exercised by the respective boards, officers and agents of the agency. Such energy may be marketed only at wholesale to any public agency or private entity, or both, or the federal or state government.

Same

Powers of board of directors

(1) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular meetings shall be held, and shall provide for the calling and holding of special meetings.

(2) To fix the location of the principal place of business of the agency and the location of all offices and departments maintained hereunder.

(7) All contracts for any improvement or unit of work, when the cost according to the estimate of the engineer will exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders as provided in this section. The board shall first determine whether the contract shall be let as a single unit for the whole of the work, or divided into severable convenient parts. The board shall advertise for bids by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation or by two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the agency, inviting sealed proposals for the construction or performance of the improvement or work. The call for bids shall state whether the work shall be performed in one unit or divided into parts. The work may be let under a single contract or several contracts, as stated in such call. The board shall require the successful bidders to file with the board good and sufficient bonds to be approved by the board conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of their claims for labor and material. The bonds shall comply with Chapter 3 (commencing at Section 4200) of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code. The board may reject any and all bids. In the event all proposals are rejected or no proposals are received, or the estimated cost of the work does not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or the work consists of channel protection, maintenance work, or emergency work when necessary in order to protect life and property from impending flood damage, the board may have the work done by force account without advertising for bids. The agency may purchase in the open market without advertising for bids, materials and supplies for use in any work, either under contract or by force account; provided, however, that materials and supplies for use in any new construction work or improvement, except work referred to in the preceding sentence, may not be purchased if the cost thereof exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), without advertising for bids and awarding the contract therefor to the lowest responsible bidder.

(8) To fix the rates at which water should be sold, and to establish different rates for different classes or conditions of service; provided, that rates shall be uniform for like classes or conditions of service throughout the agency, but any special water rate fixed in accordance with terms and conditions of annexation fixed by the board under the provisions of Section 36 or 37 hereof, shall be deemed to be a rate for a different class or condition of service.

Finding of emergency, etc

A finding by the board of directors upon the existence, threat, or duration of an emergency or shortage of water or upon the matter of necessity or any other matter or condition referred to in subdivisions 13 or 14 of Section 15 of this act, shall be made by resolution or ordinance, and shall be prima facie evidence of the fact or matter so found, and such fact or matter shall be presumed to continue unchanged unless and until a contrary finding shall have been made by the board by resolution or ordinance. Such finding shall be received in evidence in any civil or criminal proceeding in which it may be offered, and shall be proof and evidence of the fact or matter found until rebutted or overcome by other sufficient evidence received in such proceeding. Copy of any resolution or ordinance setting forth such finding shall, when certified by the secretary of the agency, be evidence that the finding was made by the agency as shown by the resolution or ordinance and certification.

Publication

SEC. 18. From and after the publication or posting of any ordinance as provided in subdivision 14 of Section 15 of this act, it is hereby declared to be and it shall be a misdemeanor for any person, firm or corporation to use or apply water received from the agency contrary to or in violation of such restriction or prohibition, until such ordinance shall have been repealed or such emergency or threatened emergency shall have ceased, and upon conviction thereof such person, firm or corporation shall be punished by being imprisoned in the county jail for not more than 30 days or by fine of not more than three hundred dollars ($300), or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Actions

SEC. 19. The agency may at any time after execution of any contract authorized by paragraph 19 of Section 15 bring an action in the superior court in the county where the greater part of the land of the agency is situated to determine the validity of the contract. The action is in rem. Jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending and designated by the court in which the action is pending. Jurisdiction is complete 10 days after the completion of the publication of summons. Before the expiration of the 30 days after jurisdiction is acquired any person interested may appear and contest the validity of the contract. If no action has been brought by the agency pursuant to this section the agency taxpayer may at any time within 30 days after the execution of such contract, or within 30 days after the effective date of this act, whichever is later, bring an action in such superior court to determine the validity of the contract. The agency shall be the defendant. If more than one action is pending at the same time concerning similar contests provided for by this section, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The rules of pleading and practice not inconsistent with the provisions of this section are applicable to all actions provided for by this section. In an action provided for by this section, the court shall disregard any irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties. The action shall be speedily tried. The judgment shall declare the contract either valid or invalid. The motion for a new trial of any action provided by this section shall be heard and determined within 10 days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs of any hearing or contest may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party. Any party may appeal at any time within 30 days after the entry of the judgment. The appeal shall be heard and determined within three months from the taking of the appeal. No contest of any thing or matter herein provided shall be made other than in the time and manner herein specified.

Same

SEC. 19.5. An action to determine the validity of any contract authorized by paragraph 19 of Section 15 may be brought pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. This section shall become operative only if Assembly Bill No. 1412 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1961 Regular Session, in which case it shall supersede Section 19 of this act.

Prohibited interests

SEC. 20. Except as herein provided, no director of the agency shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, and no officer or employee of any agency shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract made by such officer or employee pursuant to discretionary authority vested in him, or in the benefits to be derived therefrom. For any violation of this section, such director or other officer or employee of the agency shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Neither this section nor any other law shall, however, be deemed to invalidate any contract or instrument, nor to establish or define any misdemeanor or other crime, merely because such director or other officer or employee shall have any interest in such contract or instrument, or shall derive any benefit therefrom, if such director before authorization of such contract by the board shall have disclosed his interest therein to the board in writing, and,

Penalty

(a) If such director or other officer or employee shall own or control, directly or indirectly, not more than 5 per centum of the outstanding stock or securities of the contracting corporation; or

Bond

The general manager, secretary and treasurer, and all other employees or assistants of said agency who may be required so to do by the board of directors, shall give such bonds to the agency conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties as the board of directors from time to time may provide. The premiums on such bonds shall be paid by the agency.

Power of board of directors

SEC. 22. The board of directors shall have power to construct works along and across any stream of water, watercourse, street, avenue, highway, canal, ditch or flume, or across any railway which the route of said works may intersect or cross; provided, such works are constructed in such manner as to afford security for life and property, and said board of directors shall restore the crossings and intersections to their former state as near as may be, or in a manner not to have impaired unnecessarily their usefulness. Every company whose right-of-way shall be intersected or crossed by said works shall unite with said board of directors in forming said intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor. The right-of-way is hereby given, dedicated and set apart to locate, construct and maintain such works along and across any street or public highway and over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this State, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to cities within the State. Any use, under this section, of a public highway now or hereafter constituted a state highway shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of the Streets and Highway Code.

Claims for money or damages

SEC. 23. All claims for money or damages against this agency are governed by Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 700) of Division 3.5 of Title 1 of the Government Code, except as provided therein, or by other statutes or regulations expressly applicable thereto.

Liability of officers, etc.

SEC. 24. No director or other officer, agent, or employee of the agency shall be liable for any act or omission of any officer, agent or employee appointed or employed by him unless he had actual notice that the person appointed or employed was inefficient or incompetent to perform the service for which such person was appointed or employed or unless he retains the inefficient or incompetent person after notice of the inefficiency or incompetency.

The agency may employ counsel to defend any litigation brought against any director or other officer, agent, or employee thereof, on account of his official action, and the fees and expenses involved therein shall be a lawful charge against the agency.

If any director or other officer, agent, or employee of the agency is held liable for any act or omission in his official capacity, and any judgment is rendered thereon, the agency, except in case of his actual fraud or actual malice, shall pay the judgment without obligation for repayment by such director or other officer, agent or employee.

Rates

SEC. 25. The board of directors, so far as practicable, shall fix such rate or rates for water in the agency and in each improvement district therein as will result in revenues which will pay the operating expenses of the agency, and the improvement district, provide for repairs and depreciation of works, provide a reasonable surplus for improvements, extensions, and enlargements, pay the interest on any bonded debt, and provide a sinking or other fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as it may become due. Said rates for water in each improvement district may vary from the rates of the agency and from other improvement districts therein.

Tax levy

SEC. 26. If the revenues of the agency, or any improvement district therein, will be inadequate for any cause to pay the operating expenses of the agency, provide for repairs and depreciation of works owned or operated by it, and to meet all obligations of the agency, including principal of or interest on any bonded debt of the agency, or any improvement district thereof, as it becomes due, then the board of directors of this agency must provide for the levy and collection of a tax sufficient to raise the amount of money determined by such board of directors to be necessary for the purpose of paying such charges and expenses, as well as providing the funds required under Section 25 of this act, subject to the limitations in this section stated. Moneys necessary for the purpose of paying principal or interest of any bonded debt of the agency or for paying any sum which the agency shall be obligated to pay to the State of California or any agency thereof are herein called "excepted moneys." There shall be no limit on the tax which the agency may impose to pay "excepted moneys"; but the rate of tax which may be levied by the board of directors of the agency upon the agency as a whole and/or any improvement district thereof for purposes other than the payment of "excepted moneys" shall not exceed forty cents ($0.40) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value, unless such excess rate shall have been first approved by a majority vote at an election within the agency, or if the excess tax rate be within an improvement district or districts, then within such improvement district or districts.

SEC. 27. The board of directors shall determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the agency, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the board of supervisors is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board of directors shall certify to the board of supervisors the rate or rates so fixed and shall furnish to the board of supervisors a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of an interest on any bonded debt of the agency or of an improvement district thereof as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the agency. The board of directors shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, such board of supervisors shall levy, in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such board of supervisors, at the rate or rates so fixed and determined by the board of directors, a tax upon the property within the agency, or improvement district thereof benefited by the bonded debt, as the case may be, and it is made the duty of the officer or body having authority to levy taxes within each county to levy the tax so required. Taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonded debts shall be levied on the property within the agency, or improvement district thereof, benefited by the bonded debt, as determined by the board of directors in the resolution declaring the necessity to incur the debt. Taxes for other purposes of the agency shall be levied on all property in the district or portion thereof subject to the particular tax. And it shall be the duty of all county officers charged with the duty of collecting taxes to collect such tax in time, form, and manner as county taxes are collected, and when collected to pay the same to the agency. Taxes for the payment of a bonded debt and the interest thereon shall be a lien on all the property benefited thereby as stated in the resolution of the board of directors declaring the necessity to incur the debt. All taxes for other purposes of the agency shall be a lien on all the property in the agency subject to the respective tax. Agency taxes, whether for payment of a bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon or for other purposes, shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Bonded indebtedness

SEC. 28. Whenever the board of directors deems it necessary for the agency to incur a bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction, completion, or repair of any or all improvements, works or property mentioned in this act, the board shall, by resolution, so declare and call an election to be held in said agency for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of said agency. Said resolution shall state: (a) the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, which may include expenses of all proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds; (b) the amount of debt to be incurred; (c) the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed 40 years; (d) the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed 5 percent per annum, payable semiannually, except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of said year; (e) the measure to be submitted to the voters; (f) the date upon which an election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred; and (g) the designation of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and two clerks in each precinct. The board of directors shall provide for holding such special election on the day so fixed and in accordance with the provisions of the Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of the holding of such election shall be given by publishing pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code the resolution calling the election, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the proposed election, in at least one newspaper published in such agency, then such resolution shall be posted in three public places in such agency not less than two weeks prior to the date of the proposed election. No other notice of such election need be given. The board of directors of the agency by resolution may initiate proceedings for the annexation of uninhabited territory to such agency. Such resolution shall declare that proceedings have been initiated by the board of directors under the provisions of this section, shall state the reason for proposing such annexation, shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, shall contain the terms and conditions of annexation, if any, prescribed by the board as hereinafter authorized, shall state that any owner of property within such territory may file with the secretary of the agency, at any time prior to the hour set for the hearing thereof, written protest to the annexation of such territory, or the annexation of such territory upon such terms and conditions, as the case may be, and shall fix the time and place of the meeting of the board at which the board will hear such protests.

Said hearing shall be commenced not less than 20 nor more than 40 days after the passage of the resolution of the board of directors The secretary of the agency shall cause the text of the resolution to be published once each week for at least two weeks, the last publication to be made not less than one week nor more than four weeks before the time so fixed for the hearing, in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in the agency, and at least 30 days before such hearing shall mail notice thereof to the owners of land in the territory proposed to be annexed according to the records of the county assessor of the county in which such territory is situated, addressed to such owners at the addresses shown upon the records of such county assessor.

After the date of issuance by the Secretary of State of his certificate reciting the passage of the ordinance approving the annexation and the addition of the uninhabited territory to the agency, the sufficiency of the petition or resolution shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

At any time prior to the hour set for the hearing of protests, any owner of property within the territory proposed to be annexed may file with the secretary of the agency written protest against the annexation, or against the annexation upon the terms and conditions specified in the resolution as the case may be. The protest shall state the name of the owner of the property affected, and the description and area of such property in general terms At the hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time, the board of directors shall hear and pass upon all protests so filed. If such protests are so filed by the owners of one-half of the value of the territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county, further proceedings shall not be taken. If such protest is not made, the ordinance approving such annexation shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the territory so an-nexed and the terms and conditions of annexation, if any, prescribed by the board as hereinafter authorized. If the board of directors disapproves the annexation, or the annexation subject to such terms and conditions, as the case may be, a new proceeding to annex any of the same territory shall not be initiated under this section for a period of 12 months from the effective date of the ordinance.

The board of directors may approve the annexation of such territory upon terms and conditions fixed by the board in the manner hereinafter provided. Such terms and conditions may provide, among other things, for the levy by such agency of special taxes upon taxable property within such annexed area or areas in addition to the taxes elsewhere in this act authorized to be levied by such agency, and in case such terms and conditions shall provide for the levy of such special taxes, the board of directors, in fixing such terms and conditions, shall specify the aggregate amount to be so raised and the number of years prescribed for raising such aggregate sum and that substantially equal annual levies will be made for the purpose of raising such sum over the period so prescribed. Such terms and conditions also may provide, among other things, that a special water rate may be fixed from time to time by the board of directors for the area or areas proposed to be annexed. Such terms and conditions also may further provide that the taxable property in the annexed area be subject to taxation to the extent set forth in such terms and conditions for the purpose of the payment of bonds and other obligations of such agency at the time authorized or outstanding. The board shall propose such terms and conditions either in the resolution adopted subsequent to the filing of a petition for annexation or in the resolution initiating the proceedings, as the case may be, or in a resolution adopted by the board at the hearing. Terms and conditions proposed in a prior resolution may be amended and the amended terms and conditions proposed in a resolution adopted by the board at the hearing. If such terms and conditions or amended terms and conditions, are proposed by the board in a resolution adopted at the hearing, the board shall adjourn the hearing for not less than 20 nor more than 40 days, to a time and place to be fixed in such resolution, and said resolution shall state that any owner of property within such territory may file with the secretary of the agency, at any time prior to the hour set for the adjourned hearing, written protest to the annexation of such territory upon such terms and conditions. The secretary of the agency shall cause the text of the resolution to be published for the time and in the manner required for publication of the resolution giving notice of the original hearing. If prior to the hour set for the adjourned hearing, written protests, in the form hereinabove prescribed, to the annexation of such territory subject to such terms and conditions, are filed with the secretary of the agency by the owners of one-half of the value of said territory as shown by the last equalized assessment role of the county, further proceedings shall not be taken. If such protest is not made the board of directors shall by ordinance approve or disapprove the annexation. If approved, such annexation shall be subject to the terms and conditions, or amended terms and conditions, so proposed by resolution of the board, which terms and conditions shall be set forth in the ordinance.

When an ordinance approving annexation of uninhabited territory becomes effective, the president and secretary of the board of directors shall file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of the ordinance. Upon receipt of the certified copy of the ordinance, the Secretary of State shall, within 10 days issue his certificate reciting the passage of said ordinance and the addition of said area or areas to said agency. A copy of said certificate shall be transmitted to, and filed with, the county clerk of the county in which such agency is situated. From and after the date of such certificate, the area or areas named therein shall be deemed added to, and shall form a part of said agency, and the taxable property therein shall be subject to taxation thereafter for the purposes of said agency, and the board of directors of such agency shall be empowered to do all things necessary to enforce and make effective the terms and conditions of annexation fixed as hereinabove authorized.

Notwithstanding the eligibility of any territory for annexation to the agency pursuant to the provisions of this section, the procedure herein prescribed shall not be deemed exclusive and such territory may be annexed to such agency as a separate parcel, or as part of a larger parcel, of territory annexed under the provisions of Section 36 of this act.

Exclusion of territory from the agency

SEC. 38. Territory included within the agency may be excluded from such agency. Such territory may consist of one or more parcels, which need not be contiguous one with the other.

Proceedings for the exclusion of territory from the agency may be initiated by petition. Such petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be filed with the secretary of the agency, signed by voters residing within the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded equal in number to at least ten (10) per centum of the number of such voters voting for all candidates for the office of Governor of this State at the last general election prior to the filing of such petition; provided, that where one or more cities, or parts thereof, are included in the areas so proposed to be excluded, such petition must be signed by at least ten (10) per centum of the voters of each such city, or part thereof, so voting at such election. Such petition shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded, shall state the reason for proposing such exclusion and shall contain a prayer that such area be excluded from the agency.

Within ten (10) days of the date of the filing of such petition the secretary of the agency shall examine the same and ascertain whether or not such petition is signed by the requisite number of voters; and if requested by the secretary of the agency, the board of directors shall authorize him to employ persons especially for that purpose, in addition to the persons regularly employed in his office, and shall provide for their compensation. When the secretary of the agency has completed his examination of the petition, he shall attach to the same his certificate, properly dated, showing the result of such examination; and if from such examination he shall find that said petition is signed by the requisite number of voters, or is not so signed, he shall certify that the same is sufficient or insufficient, as the case may be.

If, by the certificate of the secretary of the agency, the petition is found to be insufficient, he shall also certify to the number of voters required to make such petition sufficient, and it may be amended by filing a supplemental petition or petitions within ten (10) days of the date of such certificate. The secretary of the agency shall, within ten (10) days after the filing of such supplemental petition or petitions, make like examination of the same and certify to the result of such examination as hereinbefore provided.

If any supplemental petition be filed, all the signatures appended to the petition or to the supplemental petition or petitions shall be considered in determining the number of voters signing the petition.

If his certificate shall show any such petition, or such petition as amended, to be insufficient, it shall be filed by him with the board of directors of the agency and kept as a public record, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. But if, by the certificate of the secretary, such petition, or petition as amended is shown to be sufficient, the secretary shall present the same to the board of directors without delay.

The text of such petition shall be published once each week for at least two weeks, the last publication to be made not less than one week nor more than four weeks, before the time at which the same is to be presented to the board of directors of the agency in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in such agency, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published. No more than five of the names attached to said petition need appear in such publication of said petition and notice, but the number of signers shall be stated.

After an election for the exclusion of such area from the agency the sufficiency of such petition in any respect shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

The board of directors of the agency, by resolution, may initiate proceedings for the exclusion of territory from such agency. Such resolution shall describe the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded, shall state the reason for proposing such exclusion, shall require all persons interested in the proposed exclusion to appear before the board and be heard as to why said area should not be so excluded, shall fix the time of the meeting of the board at which persons so interested will be heard, and shall direct the secretary of the agency to give notice thereof. The secretary whereupon shall cause the text of said resolution and a notice of the time and place of said hearing to be published once each week for at least two weeks, the last publication to be made not less than one week nor more than four weeks, before the time so fixed for the hearing, in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in the agency.

After an election for the exclusion of such area from the agency the sufficiency of such resolution shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

If the proceedings for exclusion have been initiated by petition, such petition may be granted by ordinance of the board of directors of such agency. If such proceedings have been initiated by resolution, the board of directors shall hear all persons interested in the proposed exclusion who appear at the hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time, and after the conclusion of the hearing, the board may determine by ordinance that such area should be excluded from the agency. If such petition is granted or if such determination is made, the proposition of such exclusion shall be submitted to the vote of the voters within the area proposed to be excluded, at an election called by the board of directors and held, as herein provided, within 70 days after the effective date of such ordinance. Notice of such election shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the agency once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication to be not more than four weeks nor less than one week, prior to the date fixed for such election. Such notice shall describe the boundaries of the area so proposed to be excluded and shall designate such area by some appropriate name, or other words of identification, by which such area may be referred to and indicated upon the ballot to be used at any election at which the question of such exclusion is submitted, as in this act provided. The measure so submitted at such election shall be stated on the ballot substantially as follows:

"Shall _____ (giving the name or other designation of the area proposed to be excluded, as stated in the notice of the election) be excluded from the San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency?"

At the right of such proposition there shall be printed the words "Yes" and "No" with voting squares. The board of directors shall canvass the votes cast at such election and if such proposition is approved by a majority of the voters voting thereon at such election, the president and secretary of the board of directors shall certify that fact to the Secretary of State. Upon receipt of such last-mentioned certificate, the Secretary of State shall, within 10 days, issue his certificate reciting the passage of said ordinance and the exclusion of said area from said agency. A copy of said certificate shall be transmitted to, and filed with, the county clerk of the county or counties in which the agency is situated. From and after the date of such certificate, the area named therein shall be deemed excluded from, and shall no longer form a part of, said agency, but the taxable property within such excluded area shall continue taxable by the agency for the purpose of paying the bonded or other indebtedness of the agency outstanding or contracted for at the time of such exclusion and until such bonded or other indebtedness shall have been satisfied, to the same extent that such property would be taxable for such purpose if such exclusion had not occurred.

Exclusion of uninhabited territory

SEC. 39. Uninhabited territory included within the agency may be excluded from such agency pursuant to the provisions of this section. For the purposes hereof, territory shall be deemed uninhabited if less than 12 voters reside therein at the time of the filing of the petition for exclusion or the initiation of proceedings by resolution of the board. Where any part of the corporate area of any city is included in the territory proposed to be excluded from the agency, the whole of the corporate area of such city, or a part thereof, then included within such agency shall be included in the territory so proposed to be excluded from such agency. Such uninhabited territory may consist of one or more parcels, which need not be contiguous one with the other.

Proceedings for the exclusion of uninhabited territory from the agency may be initiated by petition. Such petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be filed with the secretary of the agency, signed by the owners of not less than one-fourth of the land in such territory by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the county or counties in which such territory is situated. A guardian, executor, administrator, or any person holding property in a trust capacity under appointment of court, may sign any petition or protest provided for in this section, when authorized by the proper court, which authorization may be made without notice. The last equalized assessment roll of said county is prima facie evidence of the ownership of the land or lands lying within such territory proposed to be excluded. Such petition shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded, shall state the reason for proposing such exclusion, and shall contain a prayer that such area be excluded from the agency pursuant to the provisions of this section.

The secretary shall present such petition to the board of directors of the agency at its next meeting, and said board, without delay, shall pass a resolution giving notice of the proposed exclusion. Said resolution shall state that said petition has been filed, shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be excluded, shall state that any owner of property within such territory may file with the secretary of the agency, at any time prior to the hour set for the hearing thereof, written protest to the exclusion of such territory, and shall fix the time and place of the meeting of the board at which the board will hear such protests.

The board of directors of the agency by resolution may initiate proceedings for the exclusion of uninhabited territory from such agency. Such resolution shall declare that proceedings have been initiated by the board of directors under the provisions of this section, shall state the reason for proposing such exclusion, shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be excluded, shall state that any owner of property within such territory may file with the secretary of the agency, at any time prior to the hour set for the hearing thereof, written protest to the exclusion of such territory, and shall fix the time and place of the meeting of the board at which the board will hear such protests.

Said hearings shall be commenced not less than 20 nor more than 40 days after the passage of the resolution of the board of directors. The secretary of the agency shall cause the text of the resolution to be published once each week for at least two weeks, the last publication to be made not less than one week nor more than four weeks before the time so fixed for the hearing, in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers published in the agency.

After the date of issuance by the Secretary of State of his certificate reciting the passage of the ordinance approving the exclusion and the exclusion of the uninhabited territory from the agency, the sufficiency of the petition or resolution shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned

At any time prior to the hour set for the hearing of protests, any owner of property within the territory proposed to be excluded may file with the secretary of the agency written protest against the exclusion. The protest shall state the name of the owner of the property affected, and the description and area of such property in general terms. At the hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time, the board of directors shall hear and pass upon all protests so filed. If such protests are so filed by the owners of one-half of the value of the territory proposed to be excluded as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county or counties, further proceedings shall not be taken. If such protest is not made, the board of directors shall approve or disapprove the exclusion by ordinance. Any ordinance approving such exclusion shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the territory so excluded. If the board of directors disapproves the exclusion, a new proceeding to exclude any of the same territory shall not be initiated under this section for a period of 12 months from the effective date of the ordinance.

When an ordinance approving exclusion of uninhabited territory becomes effective, the president and secretary of the board of directors shall file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of the ordinance. Upon receipt of the certified copy of the ordinance, the Secretary of State shall, within 10 days, issue his certificate reciting the passage of said ordinance and the exclusion of said area or areas from said agency. A copy of said certificate shall be transmitted to, and filed with, the county clerks of the counties in which the agency is situated. From and after the date of such certificate, the area or areas named therein shall be deemed excluded from, and shall no longer form a part of, said agency, but the taxable property within such excluded area or areas shall continue taxable by such agency for the purpose of paying the bonded or other indebtedness of the agency outstanding or contracted for at the time of such exclusion and until such bonded or other indebtedness shall have been satisfied, to the same extent that such property would be taxable for such purpose if such exclusion had not occurred.

Notwithstanding the eligibility of any territory for exclusion from the agency pursuant to the provisions of this section, the procedure herein prescribed shall not be deemed exclusive and such territory may be excluded from such agency as a separate parcel, or as part of a larger parcel, of territory excluded under the provisions of Section 38 of this act.

Direct legislation

SEC. 40. Ordinances may be passed by the voters of the agency organized under the provisions of this act in accordance with the methods provided by the Elections Code for direct legislation in cities.

Veto of ordinances

SEC. 41. Ordinances may be disapproved and thereby vetoed by the voters of this agency by proceeding in accordance with the methods provided by the Elections Code for protesting against legislation in cities.

Disorganization

SEC. 42. The San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency organized under the terms of this act may be disorganized or disincorporated in the following manner:

A petition shall be filed with the county clerk of the principal county in which such agency is located, signed by at least 25 percent of the voters of the area included in the agency who voted at the last gubernatorial election, praying for the disorganization and disincorporation of such agency and briefly stating the reasons therefor. Upon the filing of such petition the county clerk shall examine the same within 10 days and ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of voters. When the said county clerk has completed his examination of the petition he shall attach to the same his certificate properly dated, showing the result of such examination, and if from such examination he shall find that said petition is signed by the requisite number of voters residing within the boundaries of the agency, or is not so signed, he shall certify that the same is sufficient or insufficient, as the case may be. If the same is found to be insufficient by him, supplemental petitions may be filed at the time and in the manner and for the same purpose as supplemental petitions to the original petition for the incorporation of the agency. After an election for the disincorporation of the agency hereunder the sufficiency of such petition in any respect shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned.

If by the certificate of the county clerk such petition, or such petition as amended or supplemented, is shown to be sufficient, the county clerk shall present the same to the board of supervisors without delay. When such petition is presented by the county clerk as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said agency for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be disincorporated and dissolved; provided, however, that in the event the said agency shall have issued bonds, the board of supervisors shall not consider said petition or take any action hereunder until evidence shall be furnished showing said bonds to have been fully satisfied. Said notice of election shall be published in a newspaper published in said agency and determined by said board most likely to give notice to those interested in said hearing, at least once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication to be not more than four weeks nor less than one week prior to the date fixed for the election; said notice shall state that the question of disincorporating said corporation shall be submitted to the voters of said agency at the time appointed for such election, and voters shall be invited thereby to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the cross as provided by law after the words "For Disincorporation" or "Against Disincorporation." The board of supervisors shall cause a copy of said notice to be mailed by the clerk of said board to each of the directors of said agency, within five days after the date of the first publication thereof, and no election shall be had until proof of such mailing is furnished by affidavit of the clerk of said board. Such election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as the election on the organization of said agency, as nearly as practicable. Within seven days after the date of said election, the board of supervisors shall proceed to canvass the vote cast thereat; if it be found by the canvass of said votes that less than a majority of the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall declare the petition for disincorporation is denied. In case it shall appear from said canvass that a majority of all the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered upon the records of their proceedings an order that the petition for such disincorporation be granted, and declaring that the San Gorgonio Pass Water Agency be disincorporated; said order to take effect at the time hereinafter provided. Said board of supervisors shall in case said agency is so disincorporated, forthwith cause its clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, to make and transmit to the Secretary of State a certified copy of the notice of election hereinbefore provided for, and a statement of the number of voters voting for said disincorporation and the number of voters voting against said disincorporation. Twenty days from and after the holding of the election, in case a majority of said votes were cast in favor of said disincorporation, said agency shall be forever disincorporated.

Same

SEC. 43. Upon disincorporation of the agency in the manner hereinbefore provided for, the board of supervisors of the principal county shall forthwith, after ascertaining by said canvass that the disincorporation has been carried, determine the amount of the indebtedness of said agency, the amount of money in the treasury thereof and all indebtedness due or coming due the said agency, and the directors of said agency shall furnish the said board of supervisors with a statement showing said amount of indebtedness, the same amount of money in the treasury and all indebtedness due or coming due said agency, and said agency shall before the expiration of 30 days turn over to the treasury of said county all moneys of said agency in his possession, and said county treasurer shall place said money in a special fund to be drawn upon as hereinafter provided for. Upon the disincorporation of said agency every public officer of said agency shall immediately turn over to the board of supervisors of the principal county in which said agency is situated, all public property of every nature and description in their possession, and including all public records and data of every nature and description. Nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve said agency, or the territory included within it, from any liability or any debt contracted by said agency prior to its disincorporation. All warrants for said indebtedness shall be drawn on order of said board of supervisors of the county, on the fund hereinabove provided for in the county treasury of the principal county. All moneys paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the special fund hereinbefore provided for. If at any time after the disincorporation of said agency it shall be found that there is not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the fund hereinbefore provided, with which to pay any indebtedness of said agency, said board of supervisors shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to levy upon, and there shall be collected from, the property within the territory formerly included within said agency subject to taxation for the indebtedness, a tax or taxes sufficient in amount to pay the said indebtedness as the same shall become due; such tax or taxes, assessments and collections shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that other taxes of the county are levied and collected, and they shall be an additional tax within said territory for the payment of said debts. If after payment of all debts of said agency there shall remain any surplus in the hands of said county treasurer to the credit of the fund hereinbefore mentioned, the board of supervisors shall appropriate said surplus and declare a dividend pro rata to the taxpayers of said agency duly paid, and said taxpayers shall have the right to have the amount of such pro rata dividends refunded to them on demand, and the said board of supervisors shall refund such pro rata to said taxpayers and each thereof. The board of supervisors of the principal county in which said agency has been disincorporated, shall have the power and it shall be the duty of said board, if the board of directors of such agency shall fail or refuse to return to said board the statement of said amounts as hereinbefore in this act provided, to ascertain the indebtedness, other than the bonded indebtedness, of said agency at the time of its disincorporation, the amount of money in its treasury and the amount due it at the said time; said board of supervisors shall make provision for the collection of the amounts due to said agency for the closing up of its affairs, and any act or acts necessary for said purposes not otherwise herein provided for, shall upon the order of said board of supervisors directing the same, be as fully done and performed and with as full effect as if the same had been performed by the proper officers of said agency before disincorporation, and said county shall succeed to and possess all the right of said agency in and to said indebtedness, and shall have the power to sue for or otherwise collect any such debts in the name of said county, and all costs and expenses of ascertaining the facts hereinbefore mentioned, and all other costs and expenses incurred by the board of supervisors in the execution of the orders and duties of said board of supervisors provided for in this act, shall be paid out of the special fund in this act provided for.

It is the intention that the agency shall not be disincorporated until all bonded indebtedness shall have been fully paid, and by the word "indebtedness" as used herein is meant all indebtedness other than said bonded indebtedness unless the latter is expressly used.

Informality

SEC. 44. No informality in any proceeding or informality in the conduct of any election, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any citizen, shall be held to invalidate the annexation of territory to, or exclusion of territory from, or the disincorporation of, the agency. Any action or proceeding, wherein the validity of such annexation or exclusion or disincorporation is denied or questioned, shall be commenced within three months from the date of the certificate of annexation or of exclusion issued by the Secretary of State, or from the date of the order of the board of supervisors declaring the disincorporation, as the case may be; otherwise, said annexation or exclusion or disincorporation, and all proceedings in respect thereto, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

Due consideration shall be given to the general qualifications and professional status of the exchange employee as compared to the general qualifications and professional status of the employee for whom exchanged. However, it shall not be a requirement that each exchange employee be a teacher of the same subject or grade, or both, as the employee for whom exchanged.

No person may be employed as an exchange employee by a school district in the State unless he holds the necessary valid credential or credentials issued by the State Board of Education authorizing him to serve as a teacher or administrator in the school district proposing to employ him for a period not to exceed one year, except that, by unanimous consent of the governing board, and of the certificated employees concerned, this period may be extended to two years. Such resolution may be adopted at any time prior to the awarding of any contract for making the improvement but no such resolution which would otherwise be effective after the award of such contract and prior to its date of termination as contemplated in Section 18171.1 shall be adopted without the prior receipt by the city council of the written consent of the contractor. Notice of the adoption of the resolution shall be posted and published, protests may be filed, and the hearing shall be held as provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 18070) of this division. If there is a protest to such abandonment made by the owners of more than one-half the area of the land subject to assessment in such area to be abandoned, the city council shall forthwith cease such abandonment proceedings unless that body, by a four-fifths affirmative vote of all its members finds that the public interest and convenience require such abandonment.

An act to provide relief from filing deadlines to certain local agencies, and for that purpose to add Section 54908 to the Government Code, relating to the filing of statements and maps and plats for special assessment and tax purposes, and to add Section 24.1 to Chapter 47 of the Statutes of 1944 (Second Extraordinary Session), relating to applications for an extension of time for local agencies to begin to use certain sites, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 54908 is added to the Government Code, to read:

Filing of statement and map: Certain water districts

54908. Notwithstanding Sections 54902 and 54903, any water district organized in 1960 pursuant to the "County Water District Law" (Division 12 (commencing with Section 30000) of the Water Code) may file the statement and map or plat required by Section 54900 on or before May 1, 1961.

SEC. 2. Section 24.1 is added to Chapter 47 of the Statutes of 1944 (Second Extraordinary Session), to read:

Application for extension of time: Certain local agencies

Sec. 24.1. Any local agency, with a population of less than 10,000, which failed to file a timely application for an extension of the time in which it could begin to use a site for which the State has advanced pursuant to this act not more than one thousand nine hundred dollars ($1,900), may file an application for an extension of time on or before November 1, 1961. The board may grant an extension to any such applicant as to which the time for beginning to use a site expired between January 1, 1961, and April 1, 1961.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: Urgency

A question has arisen as to the validity of any tax or special assessment that may be levied for the 1961-1962 fiscal year in a water district that was formed in 1960 pursuant to the "County Water District Law." Those directly concerned have been reasonably unaware that as a result of organization, a statement and map or plat was required to be filed with the county assessor and the State Board of Equalization as a condition to levying taxes for district purposes for the fiscal year 1961-1962.

Unless such failure to file the statement and map or plat is corrected in accordance with this act, the newly formed water district will be without power to levy taxes or special assessments in the area affected and services in such area will be jeopardized or seriously curtailed.

A question has also arisen as to the power of the State Allocation Board to grant an extension of time to certain local agencies which have been advanced funds for the acquisition of sites where the local agencies have not filed a timely application for an extension. In order that these local agencies do not lose the opportunity of completing necessary public works, and in order to accomplish all of the purposes of Chapter 47 of the Statutes of 1944 (Second Extraordinary Session), it is necessary that the relief provided by Section 2 of this act take effect immediately.

An act relating to the responsibilities and duties of the Department of Justice.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature declares that it shall be the responsibility of the Department of Justice to maintain a continuing investigation on a statewide basis of investment frauds and business crimes and to assist district attorneys of the various counties in the prosecution thereof.

CHAPTER 1443

An act to add Section 13539 to the Government Code, relating to the State Printing Office, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13539 is added to the Government Code, to read:

13539. Whenever the State Printing Office is not equipped to fill an order for printing or other work, the State Printer shall so notify the state agency or agencies submitting the order and the state agency or agencies shall then make purchases of such printing or other work directly through the Purchasing Division of the department.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Requiring purchases of printing or other work which the State Printing Office is not equipped to provide to be made directly through the Purchasing Division of the Department of Finance instead of by the State Printing Office will result in substantial economic savings to the State. In order that the maximum savings shall accrue to the State, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 1070, 3774, and 4112 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to highway and city carriers.

All fines collected shall be deposited at least once each month in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Fund.

25211.13. Every elector residing within the area designated in the resolution adopted pursuant to Section 25211.10, but no others, may vote on the proposition to authorize the bonds. If the area does not include the entire county service area, a separate ballot shall be prepared for the vote upon such proposition and only the voters entitled thereto shall be given such ballots.

Whenever the board of supervisors declares by resolution that it deems it desirable that any bonds issued or to be issued by the area should be certified by the California Districts Securities Commission as provided in this section, the board shall file a certified copy of the resolution with said commission and the bonds described in said resolution shall then be subject to investigation and certification by the California Districts Securities Commission Law. If in the opinion of the commission the bonds are adequately secured and the revenues and other funds applicable to the payment of the bonds are, or upon the acquisition, construction or improvement of the enterprise for which such bonds were or are to be issued, will be, sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds the commission shall certify that such bonds are legal investments for all trust funds, for the funds of all insurance companies, the state school funds, and any

(a) No hearing need be held upon the question whether the bond issue will benefit the entire area or only a portion of it;

(b) A vote of a majority of the voters voting upon the measure is sufficient to authorize the issue of refunding bonds.

Refunding bonds

25211.23. The refunding bonds may, if the holders of the bonds of an original issue and the board so agree, be exchanged for original bonds.

Same

CHAPTER 1456

An act to amend Section 6657 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the use of funds of patients confined in state hospitals.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1961.] In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6657 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

6657. There is at each institution under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mental Hygiene a fund known as the patients' personal deposit fund. Any funds coming into the possession of the superintendent, belonging to any inmate in that institution, shall be deposited in the name of that patient in the patients' personal deposit fund, except that if a guardian of the estate is appointed for the patient then he shall have the right to demand and receive such funds. Whenever the sum belonging to any one patient, deposited in the patients' personal deposit fund, exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), the excess may be applied to the payment of the care, support, maintenance and medical attention of the patient. After the death of the patient any sum remaining in his personal deposit account in excess of burial costs may be applied for payment of care, support, maintenance and medical attention. Any of the funds belonging to a patient deposited in the patients' personal deposit fund may be used for the purchase of personal incidentals for the patient or may be applied in an amount not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) to the payment of his burial expenses.

CHAPTER 1457

An act to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 6939.4) to Chapter 4 of Part 6 of Division 8 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to river port districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 (commencing with Section 6939.4) is added to Chapter 4, Part 6, Division 8 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

Article 4. Additional Sacramento-Yolo Port District Bonds

Additional bonded debt

6939.4. Pursuant to this article, the Sacramento-Yolo Port District may also create an additional bonded debt, in addition to all other indebtedness authorized by the provisions of this chapter, up to but not in excess of 1 percent of the assessed value of all taxable real and personal property within the district.

Same: Purpose

6939.5. This bonded indebtedness may be created solely for the purpose of providing funds for the acquisition, construction, improvement, or extension of revenue-producing harbor improvements of a self-liquidating character.

Authorization

6939.6. Any bonds issued pursuant to this article shall be authorized by ordinance passed by two-thirds of all of the members of the board. The ordinance shall not become effective until approved by a two-thirds vote of the county supervisors who represent any portion of the territory which is included within the district. Except as provided in this section, an election need not be held within the district and it is unnecessary to secure the approval of the electors within the district for the issuance of bonds for the purposes and within the limitations of this article.

The ordinance shall become effective 30 days from the date of its passage, unless a petition protesting the ordinance is presented to the board pursuant to Section 1652 of the Elections Code prior to the effective date of the ordinance. If such a petition is timely filed, proceedings for the adoption of the ordinance shall be conducted pursuant to Sections 1652 and 1653 of the Elections Code, and, as used in such sections, "board of supervisors" means the board of port commissioners, and "county" means the Sacramento-Yolo Port District.

Series Maturity

6939.7. The bonds of any issue may be issued in one or more series. The bonds of such series shall be payable within 30 years from their date and shall mature serially at such times as may be fixed by the board, but the earliest maturity of the principal of the bonds of any series shall be fixed at a date not more than 10 years from the date of issue of such series.

Denominations

6939.8. The bonds may be issued in such denominations as the board determines, except that no bond shall be of a denomination less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

The bonds shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds, with interest at the rate specified in the bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of 6 percent per annum of the face amount, payable annually or semiannually.

The board may provide for redemption of any bonds before maturity at prices and upon terms and conditions determined by it. A bond shall not be subject to call or redemption prior to maturity unless it contains a recital on its face to that effect.

Signatures

6939.9. If any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on the bonds or coupons ceases to be an officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, his signature or countersignature is nevertheless as valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office.

Bonds may be issued and sold by the board for not less than their par value and accrued interest to date of delivery, at such times and under such conditions as may be designated by the board.

The proceeds shall be placed in the treasury of the district to the credit of the proper improvement fund and applied exclusively to the objects and purposes mentioned in the ordinance. Said purposes may include bond interest during construction and for a period not to exceed one year after completion of construction, and creation of a reserve fund to secure payment of bond interest and principal.

Form

6939.10. The form of the bonds shall be prescribed by the board and they shall be signed by the officer or officers that the board designates. The coupons appertaining to the bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the facsimile signature of the officer or officers that the board has designated.

Revenue

6939.11. The income and revenue derived or to be realized from the harbor improvement acquired, constructed, improved or extended from the proceeds of the bonds shall be deposited in a special fund and kept separate and apart from all other revenues of the district. It shall be applied, firstly, to the creation of an interest fund, herein designated as "interest fund," for the payment of the annual interest due or to become due upon the bonds during the next ensuing fiscal year and before the time for the fixing of the next general tax levy in the counties in which the district is located.

"Interest fund"

"Sinking fund"

6939.12. The special fund shall be applied, secondly, to the creation of a sinking fund, herein designated as "sinking fund," to provide for the payment of the principal of the bonds at or before their maturity date or dates.

Additional revenues

"Operation fund"

6939.13. Any additional revenues over and above the amounts required to be deposited in the interest fund and the sinking fund, may be deposited in an operation fund, herein designated as "operation fund," to be applied to the costs of operation and maintenance, including reasonable repairs, depreciation and capital improvements of the particular revenue-producing harbor improvement acquired, constructed, improved or extended by the issuance and sale of the bonds.

Surplus revenues

6939.14. Surplus revenues in the operation fund may be deposited either in the interest fund or any reserve fund created to secure any bonds or in the sinking fund, but money allocated to the interest fund or the sinking fund shall not be transferred to any other fund or used for any other purpose than the payment of the bonds and the interest thereon so long as the bonds are outstanding.

Allocation of revenues

6939.15. The board, in and by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, shall hypothecate and allocate all of the revenues to be realized from the revenue-producing harbor improvement to be acquired or constructed, improved or extended from the proceeds of the bonds to the payment of both principal and interest.

The allocation and hypothecation is irrevocable until all bonds and the accrued interest thereon are paid.

The allocation and hypothecation shall be made in each case for the exclusive benefit of the bonds to be issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving or extending the particular revenue-producing harbor improvement, and as additional security for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds.

But the allocation and hypothecation do not constitute the exclusive source of payment. The bonds constitute general obligations of the district and both principal and interest may be paid from any money or sources of revenue of any kind, including taxes, on hand and available for that purpose.

Insufficient revenues

6939.16. Whenever the revenues of the district are, or in the opinion of the board will be insufficient to provide for the payment in full of the principal or interest on the bonds, the board may, and if the revenues in the interest fund are insufficient to meet the next ensuing fiscal year's interest on the bonds issued and then outstanding or if the moneys in the sinking fund are insufficient to pay or provide for the payment of any bonds maturing during the next ensuing fiscal year, or if any reserve fund has been drawn upon and not replenished it shall cause a tax to be levied and collected, upon all of the taxable property in the district, sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on the bonds during the next ensuing fiscal year and before the time for fixing the next general tax levy in the county in which the district is located or to replenish such reserve fund.

The tax shall be levied and collected annually in the manner provided by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6940) of this part, and shall be in addition to all other taxes authorized to be levied and collected. When collected, the tax shall not be used for any purpose other than the payment of the bonds and the accruing interest thereon or the replenishment of such reserve fund.

Legislative finding

6939.17. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that because of the unique, complex problems existing with respect to the Sacramento-Yolo Port District, as a large inland port district, it is necessary that special legislation be enacted to authorize additional, limited financing provisions for said port district, and that a general law cannot be made applicable.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act would provide additional limited financing provisions for the Sacramento-Yolo Port District in order to enable the district to finance the acquisition or construction of urgently needed revenue-producing harbor improvements. In order that such financing may be commenced at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1300.15 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1300.15. (a) (1) Any marketing order issued pursuant to this chapter shall provide for the establishment of an advisory board to assist the director in the administration of any marketing order. The members of the board shall be appointed by the director and may hold office at the pleasure of the director. If the marketing order affects directly only producers of a particular commodity the members of the board shall be producers. If the marketing order affects directly only handlers of a particular commodity the members of the board shall be handlers.

If the marketing order affects directly both producers and handlers of a particular commodity, such board shall be composed of both producers and handlers. The number of producers or handlers upon any such board shall be of such number of producers or handlers as the director finds is necessary to assist properly in the administration of such order. Upon the recommendation of the board, the director may appoint one person who is neither a producer nor a handler to represent the Department of Agriculture or the public generally.

(2) No member of any such board shall receive a salary but each shall be entitled to his actual expenses incurred while engaged in performing his duties herein authorized. The director may authorize such board: to enter into contracts or agreements, to employ necessary personnel including attorneys engaged in the private practice of the law, fix their compensation and terms of employment; and to incur such expenses, to be paid by the director from moneys collected as herein provided, as the director may deem necessary and proper to enable such board properly to perform such of its duties as are authorized herein. The duties of any such board shall be administrative only and may include only the following:

a. Subject to the approval of the director to administer such marketing order.

b. To recommend to the director administrative rules and regulations relating to the marketing order.

c. To receive and report to the director complaints of violations of the marketing order.

d. To recommend to the director amendments to the marketing order.

e. To assist the director in the assessment of members of the industry and in the collection of funds to cover expenses incurred by the director in the administration of the marketing order.

f. To assist the director in the collection of such necessary information and data as the director may deem necessary to the proper administration of this chapter.

(3) In addition to the advisory board there may be established one or more special committees or subcommittees to assist the advisory board in carrying out its duties and functions. Upon approval of the director each advisory board may establish committees or subcommittees to carry out assigned duties and functions and designate the members or alternate members of the board to serve upon such committees. If the marketing order so authorizes or upon the recommendation of the board, the director may authorize the establishment of special committees or subcommittees of persons who are not members or alternate members of the board to perform specific duties and functions; provided, that the members and alternate members of any such special committee or subcommittee shall be appointed by the director.

Any action of any committee, special committee or subcommittee of the board shall be subject to final approval by the board. Members and alternate members of any committee, special committee or subcommittee whether by appointment or approval of the director shall be entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses incurred while acting in their authorized capacities.

(b) Subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations set forth herein any marketing order issued by the director pursuant to this chapter may contain any or all of the following provisions for regulating or providing methods for regulating producer marketing or the handling or any of the operations of processing or distributing by handlers of any agricultural commodity within this State, but no others:

(1) Provisions for determining the existence and extent of the surplus of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, and providing for the control and disposition of such surplus, and for equalizing the burden of such surplus elimination or control among the producers, processors, distributors or other handlers affected. Notwithstanding any other appropriate means of equalizing the burden of surplus control and the elimination thereof as provided in this chapter, provision may be made for the creation of a stabilization fund to be used for purchasing or otherwise acquiring any portion of the surplus of any agricultural commodity either in fresh or processed form, except when processed in hermetically sealed containers, and for the diversion of such surplus quantity of such commodity so acquired into noncompetitive or byproducts uses or for disposing of such surplus in noncommercial channels Moneys for such stabilization fund shall be provided by means of the establishment of an assessment rate for such purpose levied upon producers or handlers or upon both producers and handlers. Such assessment rate shall be based upon the units in which such agricultural commodity is handled or marketed or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable. For convenience of collection, the director may collect any producer assessments from handlers of such commodity. Handlers paying such assessments for and on behalf of any producers are authorized to deduct such producer assessments from any moneys owed by such handlers to such producers.

(2) Provisions for limiting the total quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which may be marketed by producers or processed, distributed or otherwise handled within this State during any specified period or periods, by any and all persons engaged in such producer marketing, processing, distributing or handling; provided, that any such limitation shall be applied under a uniform rule applicable to all such persons so regulated. The total quantity of any such commodity so regulated and permitted to be marketed by producers, processed, distributed or otherwise handled, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is reasonably necessary to supply the market demands of consumers of such commodity.

(3) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may purchase or acquire from, or handle on behalf of, any and all producers thereof, within this State during any specified period or periods under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated based upon the amounts produced or sold by such producers in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or upon the current season's production or sales of such producers, or both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof, so purchased or handled within this State shall be apportioned equitably among the producers thereof

(4) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may process, distribute or handle within this State under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated, based upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof of the current season's crop which each such handler has available for such processing, distribution or handling, or upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof so processed, distributed or handled by each such handler in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or based upon both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or any grade, size or quality thereof, processed, distributed or handled within this State during any specified period or periods shall be equitably apportioned among all such handlers thereof.

(5) Provisions regulating the period, or periods, during which any agricultural commodity, or any grade, size or quality of such commodity, may be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed within this State by any and all persons engaged in such processing, distributing or marketing within this State; provided, that the total quantity of such commodity so regulated and permitted to be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed during such period or periods, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is necessary to reasonably supply the needs of consumers of such commodity.

(6) Provisions for the establishment of surplus, stabilization, or byproduct pools for any agricultural commodity or of any grade, size, quality or condition thereof, and providing for the sale of the commodity in any such pool and for the equitable distribution among the persons participating therein of the net returns derived from the sale of such commodity. Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of any such pool or pools the advisory board shall have power to receive such commodity from each producer or handler and to handle the same according to the grade, size, quality or condition thereof and to account to each producer or handler participating therein upon a pro rata basis for the net proceeds derived from the sale thereof.

The contents of any surplus pool shall not be marketed by the board in any form which would compete directly with that portion of the commodity which is marketed in regular channels of trade. However, any portion of any surplus pool may be transferred by the board upon any gratuitous basis to charitable organizations and other similar agencies under proper safeguards to insure that none of such commodity shall compete directly with the unrestricted portion of such commodity. The board may dispose of the contents of a stabilization pool in the regular marketing channels in such manner and at such times as the board deems advisable, consistent with the maintenance of stabilized marketing conditions for such commodity. The board may dispose of the contents of any byproduct pool only for byproducts or for other similar purposes under proper safeguards to prevent such portion of the commodity so disposed of from directly competing with that part of the commodity which is marketed in the usual form or in the regular channels of trade.

Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of a surplus, stabilization, or byproduct pool, the board shall have authority to arrange for and operate any necessary facilities for the storing, financing, grading, packing, servicing, processing, preparing for market, selling, and disposing of the contents of any pools provided for in this section; provided, however, the board shall not have authority to engage in commercial warehousing.

The board shall have power to pledge all of the commodity in any such pools with banks or other lending agencies for the purpose of obtaining loans thereon. The board shall have title, for the purpose of financing and handling, to all of the commodity in any such pools.

Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of any type of pool authorized in this section, the board shall have authority to create, by a uniform assessment upon producers, or upon some other uniform and equitable basis, maintain, and disburse an equalization fund to be used for the removal of any inequalities between producers or handlers participating in any pool resulting from errors in estimating production or surplus or for indemnifying producers whose production, in whole or in part, is diverted in green form or otherwise from normal marketing outlets or diverted to byproducts, relief, or other noncompetitive purposes pursuant to the provisions of the marketing order.

(7) Provisions establishing or providing for establishing with respect to any agricultural commodity either as delivered by producers to handlers or processors, or as handled, processed, or otherwise prepared for market, or as marketed by producers, handlers or processors: (A) grading standards of quality, condition, size, maturity or pack, which standards may include minimum standards provided the standards so established shall not be established below any minimum standards prescribed by law for such commodity; and (B) uniform inspection and grading of such commodity in accordance with the standards so established.

(8) Provisions for the establishment of plans for advertising and sales promotion to maintain present markets or to create new or larger markets for agricultural commodities grown in the State of California, or for the prevention, modification or removal of trade barriers which obstruct the free flow of agricultural commodities to market. The director is hereby authorized to prepare, issue, administer and enforce plans for promoting the sale of any agricultural commodity.

Provided, that any such plan shall be directed toward increasing the sale of agricultural commodities without reference to any private brand or trade name used by any handler with respect to the agricultural commodity regulated by the marketing order except the use of wine when other than private brands or private trade names are unavailable.

Provided further, that no advertising or sales promotion program shall be issued by the director which shall make use of false or unwarranted claims in behalf of any such product, or disparage the quality, value, sale or use of any other agricultural commodity.

(9) Provisions relating to the prohibition of unfair trade practices. In addition to the unfair trade practices, now prohibited by law, applicable to the processing, distribution or handling of agricultural commodities within this State, the director is hereby authorized to include in any marketing order issued hereunder provisions designed to correct any trade practice affecting the processing, distributing or handling of any agricultural commodity within this State which the director finds, after a hearing thereupon in which all interested persons are given an opportunity to be heard, is unfair and detrimental to the effectuation of the declared purposes of this chapter.

(10) Provisions for the application for, review, certification and equitable payment of, production adjustment benefits to growers from funds collected for such purpose on a uniform basis from all commercial growers of any agricultural commodity in the State, for which production adjustment payments are made. Such funds may be supplemented by funds, if any, received from federal, state or other agencies for such purpose.

No program of production adjustment adopted hereunder shall authorize payments for the removal of acreages of trees or vines of the species, variety or varieties specified in the program which have, during the three years immediately preceding the date of application, produced an annual yield per acre in excess of the comparably computed average yield from bearing trees or vines of the same species, variety or varieties for the State as a whole, such yields and averages to be determined by the director from statistical data compiled by state or federal agencies or such other data as the director deems to be representative and reliable.

(11) Provisions for carrying on research studies in the production, processing or distribution of any agricultural commodity and for the expenditure of moneys for such purposes. In any research in production or processing carried on hereunder, the Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of California and the advisory board provided for in Section 1300.15 hereof shall co-operate in selecting the research project or projects to be carried on from time to time. Insofar as practicable such projects shall be carried out by said college of agriculture, but if the dean of said college and the advisory board determine that the college has no facilities for a particular project or that some other research agency has better facilities therefor, the project may be carried out by other research agencies selected by the dean and the advisory board.

(12) Provisions establishing or providing authority for establishing, for any agricultural commodity, either as such commodity is produced or is delivered by producers to handlers, or as handled or otherwise prepared for market, or as marketed by producers or handlers, an educational program designed to acquaint producers, handlers or other interested persons with quality improvement, including sanitation practices, procedures or methods as applied to such commodity.

(13) Provisions establishing or providing authority for establishing, and for regulating the permissive use of an official board brand, trade name, or label, or other distinctive designation of grade, quality or condition, other than grade or quality designations in effect pursuant to state or federal grade standards, for any agricultural commodity, other than wine, either as such commodity is produced or is delivered by producers to handlers, or as handled or otherwise prepared for market, or marketed by producers or handlers. As provided in subdivision (k) of Section 1300.19 of this chapter, the permissive use of any such official board brand, trade name, or label or other distinctive designation of quality shall be limited to producers and handlers of the commodity who are participating in the marketing agreement or order, and who are in compliance with the provisions thereof and with any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder. Any official brand or trade name established pursuant to this paragraph shall not be construed as a private brand or trade name with respect to paragraph (8) of subdivision (b) of this section.

(c) In addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the processing or preparation for marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity processed within this State, and in addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the distribution of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity within this State and subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations of Section 1300.14 of this chapter, the director may also issue marketing orders regulating the handling, processing, preparation for marketing or marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity produced in this State for which marketing regulatory powers are not being exercised by the federal government under the provisions of the Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, being Public Law No. 137, 75th Congress, Chapter 296, First Session, 7 U.S C.A. 674, 50 Statute 249.

An act to amend Section 7 of the Metropolitan Water District Act (Chapter 429, Statutes of 1927), relating to validating proceedings.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of the Metropolitan Water District Act (Chapter 429, Statutes of 1927) is amended to read:

Sec. 7. (a) Whenever the board of directors of any metropolitan water district incorporated under this act shall, by ordinance adopted by a vote of a majority of the aggregate number of votes of all the members of the board of directors, determine that the interests of said district and the public interest or necessity demand the acquisition, construction or completion of any public improvement or works, or the incurring of any preliminary expenses, necessary or convenient to carry out the objects or purposes of said district the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district, said board of directors may order the submission of the proposition of incurring bonded indebtedness, for the purposes set forth in the said ordinance, to the qualified voters of such district, at an election held for that purpose. Any election held for the purpose of submitting any proposition or propositions of incurring such bonded indebtedness may be held separately, or may be consolidated or held concurrently with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified electors of the district are entitled to vote. The declaration of public interest or necessity herein required and the provision for the holding of such election may be included within one and the same ordinance, which ordinance, in addition to such declaration of public interest or necessity, shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the public works or improvements, or the estimated amount of preliminary expenses, as the case may be, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, which rate shall not exceed six (6) percent per annum payable semiannually. Such ordinance shall also fix the date upon which such election shall be held and the manner of holding the same and the method of voting for or against incurring the proposed indebtedness. Such ordinance shall also fix the compensation to be paid the officers of the election and shall designate the precincts and polling places and shall appoint the officers of such election, which officers shall consist of one inspector, one judge and two clerks in each precinct. The description of precincts may be made by reference to any order or orders of the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which the district or any part thereof is situated, or by reference to any previous order or ordinance of the legislative body of the municipality, or by detailed description of such precincts. Precincts established by the boards of supervisors of the various counties, to a number not exceeding six (6) may be consolidated for special elections held hereunder. In the event any bond election shall be called to be held concurrently with any other election or shall be consolidated therewith, the ordinance calling the election hereunder need not designate precincts or polling places or the names of officers of election, but shall contain reference to the act or order calling such other election and fixing the precincts and polling places and appointing election officers therefor.

(b) The ordinance provided for in subdivision (a) of this section shall be published once, at least ten (10) days before the date of the election therein called, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district, and no other or further notice of such election or publication of the names of election officers or of the precincts or polling places need be given or made.

(c) The respective election boards shall conduct the election in their respective precincts in the manner prescribed by law for the holding of general elections, and shall make their returns to the secretary of the district. At any regular or special meeting of the board of directors held not earlier than five (5) days following the date of such election, the returns thereof shall be canvassed and the results thereof declared. In the event that any election held hereunder shall be consolidated with any primary or general election and the proposition to incur indebtedness shall be printed upon a ballot containing other propositions, the returns of the election held hereunder shall be made with the returns of the primary or general election to the board of supervisors or other bodies whose duty it shall be to canvass the returns thereof, and the results of the election held hereunder shall be canvassed at the time and in the manner provided by law for the canvass of the returns of such primary or general election. It shall be the duty of such canvassing body or bodies to promptly certify and transmit to the board of directors of the district a statement of the result of the vote upon the proposition submitted hereunder. Upon receipt of such certificates, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to tabulate and declare the results of the election held hereunder.

(d) In the event that it shall appear from said returns that a majority of the electors voting on any proposition submitted hereunder at such election voted in favor of such proposition, the district shall thereupon be authorized to issue and sell bonds of the district in the amount and for the purpose or purposes and object or objects provided for such proposition in such ordinance, and at a rate of interest, not exceeding the rate recited in said ordinance.

(e) All bonds of such district, issued under the provisions of this act, shall be payable substantially in the following manner: A part to be determined by the board of directors which shall not be less than one-fiftieth ($\frac{1}{50}$) part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place or places to be fixed by said board of directors, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date; provided, that, in case such bonds are issued in installments at different times, each installment shall be payable substantially in the following manner: A part to be determined by the board of directors which shall not be less than one-fiftieth ($\frac{1}{50}$) part of the whole amount of such installment, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place or places to be fixed by said board of directors, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date; provided, however, that said board may, in its discretion, determine and fix the date for the earliest maturity of the principal of the whole amount of such bonded indebtedness, or of each installment of such bonds, as the case may be, not more than 15 years from the date of the first issue of such bonds, or of the respective installment of such bonds, as the case may be; in this event, the whole amount of such bonded indebtedness, or of the respective installment of such bonds, as the case may be, must be made payable in substantially equal annual parts in not to exceed fifty (50) years from the date of the first issue of such bonds, when the bonds are issued in one block, or from the date of the respective installment of such bonds, when the bonds are issued in installments. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds and with interest at the rate specified therein, which rate shall not be in excess of six percent (6%) per annum, and shall be payable semiannually. Such bonds shall be signed by the chairman of said board of directors, or by such other officer as said board of directors shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and such bonds shall also be signed by the controller, or assistant controller, and countersigned by the secretary of said board of directors. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, and signed by said controller, or assistant controller. All such signatures and countersignatures excepting that of the controller, or assistant controller, on said bonds, may be printed, lithographed or engraved.

(f) In case any of such officers, whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons, shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of such bonds.

(g) Such bonds shall not be sold at a price less than the par value thereof, together with accrued interest to the date of delivery, nor until notice calling for bids therefor shall have been published in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county wherein the principal place of business of said district shall be located. Said notice, calling for bids, shall state the time for the receipt of such bids, which shall not be less than ten (10) days after the first publication thereof. Such notice may offer the bonds at a fixed interest rate or with the interest rate undetermined, in which event the bids shall contain a statement of the lowest rate of interest at which the bidder will take the bonds and pay par value or more therefor, together with accrued interest. Bids for such bonds shall be opened publicly and the results thereof publicly announced. Such bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder. Temporary, or interim, bonds or certificates, of any denomination whatsoever, to be signed by the controller, or assistant controller, may be issued until the definitive bonds are executed and available for delivery.

(h) Such bonds may be issued and sold by said board of directors as they shall determine, and the proceeds thereof, excepting premium and accrued interest, shall be placed in the treasury of said district to the credit of the proper improvement fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance; provided, that the interest on said bonds accruing during the construction period and for one year thereafter shall be deemed to be a construction cost within the meaning of the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance, and such interest may be paid from said proceeds of the sales of such bonds. Premium and accrued interest shall be placed in the fund to be applied to the payment of interest on, and the retirement of, the bonds so sold. For the purposes of this section, the construction period shall be deemed to end when the works, the construction of which shall have been authorized from the proceeds of any such bond issue, shall have been placed in operation to such extent as to result in the sale and delivery in the district, of water transported and provided by means of such works.

(i) An action to determine the validity of bonds and the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity may be brought pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(j) The board of directors, so far as practicable, shall fix such rate or rates for water as will result in revenue which will pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and maintenance, and provide for the payment of the interest and principal of the bonded debt. If, however, from any cause, the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the interest or principal of any bonded debt as the same becomes due, the board of directors shall, at the time of fixing the tax levy and in the manner for such tax levy provided, levy and collect annually until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the district set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, or such part thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district, and also sufficient to pay such part of the principal of such bonds as shall become due before the time when money will be available from the next general tax levy, or such portion thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually sufficient when added to revenues of the district available for that purpose to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also to constitute, together with the revenues of the district available for such purpose, a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of such bonds on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected and shall be used for no purpose other than the payment of such bonds and accruing interest.

(k) Coupon bonds issued hereunder, at the request of the holder, may be registered as to principal and interest in the holder's name on the books of the treasurer of the district, and the coupons surrendered and the principal and interest made payable only to the registered holder of the bond. For that purpose the treasurer of the district shall detach and cancel the coupons, and shall endorse a statement on the bonds that the coupon sheet issued therewith has been surrendered by the holder, and the coupons canceled by such treasurer, and that the principal and the semiannual interest are thereafter to be paid to the registered holder, or order, by draft, check or warrant drawn payable at a place of payment specified in the bond, after which no transfer shall be valid unless made on such treasurer's books by the registered holder, or by his attorney duly authorized, and similarly noted on the bond. After such registration, the principal and interest of such bond shall be payable only to the registered owner. Bonds registered under this paragraph may, with the consent of the district and the holders of the bonds, be reconverted into coupon bonds at the expense of the holder thereof, and again reconverted into registered bonds from time to time, as the board of directors of the district and the holders of the bonds may determine. In converting coupon bonds into registered bonds, coupon bonds may be exchanged for registered bonds of one hundred dollars ($100) each, or multiples thereof, but not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) each, in which event new registered bonds shall be issued at the expense of the holder. Coupon bonds may be exchanged for other coupon bonds of one hundred dollars ($100) each, or multiples thereof, but not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) each, in which event new coupon bonds shall be issued at the expense of the holder.

For each conversion or reconversion of a coupon or registered bond, the treasurer of the district shall be entitled to charge and collect such fee as the board of directors of the district may prescribe from time to time.

(l) All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any metropolitan water district shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and for all sinking funds under the control of the State Treasurer, and whenever any moneys or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in, or loaned upon the security of, bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts in the State of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in, or loaned upon the security of, the bonds of such metropolitan water district; and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts, by any law now or hereafter enacted, may be used as security for the faithful performance or execution of any court or private trust or of any other act, bonds of such metropolitan water district may be so used.

CHAPTER 1505

An act to amend Section 7 of the County Water Authority Act (Chapter 545, Statutes of 1943), relating to validating proceedings.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of the County Water Authority Act (Chapter 545, Statutes of 1943) is amended to read:

Sec. 7. (a) Whenever the board of directors of any authority incorporated under this act shall, by ordinance adopted by a vote of a majority of the aggregate number of votes of all the members of the board of directors, determine that the interests of said authority and the public interest or necessity demand the acquisition, construction or completion of any public improvement or works, necessary or convenient to carry out the objects or purposes of said authority the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the authority, said board of directors may order the submission of the proposition of incurring bonded indebtedness, for the purposes set forth in the said ordinance, to the qualified voters of such district, at an election held for that purpose. Any election held for the purpose of submitting any proposition or propositions of incurring such bonded indebtedness may be held separately, or may be consolidated or held concurrently with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified electors of the authority are entitled to vote. The declaration of public interest or necessity herein required and the provision for the holding of such election may be included within one and the same ordinance, which ordinance, in addition to such declaration of public interest or necessity, shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the public works or improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, which rate shall not exceed six (6) percent per annum, payable semiannually. Such ordinance shall also fix the date upon which such election shall be held and the manner of holding the same and the method of voting for or against incurring the proposed indebtedness. Such ordinance shall also fix the compensation to be paid the officers of the election and shall designate the precincts and polling places and shall appoint the officers of such election, which officers shall consist of one inspector, one judge and two clerks in each precinct. The description of precincts may be made by reference to any order or orders of the board of supervisors of the county in which the authority is situated, or by reference to any previous order or ordinance of the legislative body of any public agency, or by detailed description of such precincts. Precincts established by the board of supervisors of the county, to a number not exceeding six (6) may be consolidated for special elections held hereunder. In the event any bond election shall be called to be held concurrently with any other election or shall be consolidated therewith, the ordinance calling the election hereunder need not designate precincts or polling places or the names of officers of election, but shall contain reference to the act or order calling such other election and fixing the precincts and polling places and appointing election officers therefor.

(b) The ordinance provided for in subdivision (a) of this section shall be published once, at least ten (10) days before the date of the election therein called, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the authority, and no other or further notice of such election or publication of the names of election officers or of the precincts or polling places need be given or made.

(c) The respective election boards shall conduct the election in their respective precincts in the manner prescribed by law for the holding of general elections, and shall make their returns to the secretary of the authority. At any regular or special meeting of the board of directors held not earlier than five (5) days following the date of such election, the returns

thereof shall be canvassed and the results thereof declared. In the event that any election held hereunder shall be consolidated with any primary or general election and the proposition to incur indebtedness shall be printed upon a ballot containing other propositions, the returns of the election held hereunder shall be made with the returns of the primary or general election to the board of supervisors or other bodies whose duty it shall be to canvass the returns thereof, and the results of the election held hereunder shall be canvassed at the time and in the manner provided by law for the canvass of the returns of such primary or general election. It shall be the duty of such canvassing body to promptly certify and transmit to the board of directors of the authority a statement of the result of the vote upon the proposition submitted hereunder. Upon receipt of such certificates, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to tabulate and declare the results of the election held hereunder.

(d) In the event that it shall appear from said returns that a two-thirds majority of the electors voting on any proposition submitted hereunder at such election voted in favor of such proposition, the authority shall thereupon be authorized to issue and sell bonds of the authority in the amount and for the purpose or purposes and object or objects provided for in such proposition in such ordinance, and at a rate of interest, not exceeding the rate recited in said ordinance.

(e) The board of directors shall prescribe the form of the bonds issued by the authority and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto. Such bonds shall mature serially at times and in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors; provided, that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than 10 years from the date thereof and be completed in not more than 50 years from said date. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds and with interest at the rate specified therein, which rate shall not be in excess of six percent (6%) per annum, and shall be payable semiannually.

The board of directors may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of said bonds on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding 5 percent upon the principal amount of said bonds in which event a statement to that effect shall be set forth in the ordinance calling the election and the call price fixed by the board of directors shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the authority or if there be no such newspaper printed and published within the authority then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the county in which the said authority is situated, the first publication of which shall be at least 30 days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease.

Such bonds shall be signed by the chairman of said board of directors, or by such other officers as said board of directors shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and such bonds shall also be signed by the controller, or assistant controller, and countersigned by the secretary of said board of directors. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, and signed by said controller, or assistant controller by his lithographed or engraved signature. All such signatures and countersignatures excepting that of the controller, or assistant controller, on said bonds, may be printed, lithographed or engraved.

(f) In case any of such officers, whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons, shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of such bonds.

(g) Such bonds shall not be sold at a price less than the par value thereof, together with accrued interest to the date of delivery, nor until notice calling for bids therefor shall have been published in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county wherein the principal place of business of said authority shall be located. Said notice, calling for bids, shall state the time for the receipt of such bids, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days after the first publication thereof. Such notice may offer the bonds at a fixed interest rate or with the interest rate undetermined, in which event the bids shall contain a statement of the lowest rate of interest at which the bidder will take the bonds and pay par value or more therefor, together with accrued interest. Bids for such bonds shall be opened publicly and the results thereof publicly announced. Such bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder. "Highest bidder," as used in this subsection, shall mean the one which gives the authority the lowest net cost. Temporary, or interim, bonds or certificates, of any denomination whatsoever, to be signed by the controller or assistant controller, may be issued until the definitive bonds are executed and available for delivery.

(h) Such bonds may be issued and sold by said board of directors as they shall determine, and the proceeds thereof, excepting premium and accrued interest, shall be placed in the treasury of said authority to the credit of the proper improvement fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance; provided, that the interest on said bonds accruing during the construction period and for one year thereafter shall be deemed to be a construction cost within the meaning of the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance, and such interest may be paid from said proceeds of the sales of such bonds. Premium and accrued interest shall be placed in the fund to be applied to the payment of interest on, and the retirement of, the bonds so sold. For the purposes of this section, the construction period shall be deemed to end when the works, the construction of which shall have been authorized from the proceeds of any such bond issue, shall have been placed in operation to such extent as to result in the sale and delivery in the authority, of water transported and provided by means of such works.

(i) An action to determine the validity of bonds and the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity may be brought pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(j) The board of directors, so far as practicable, shall fix such rate or rates for water as will result in revenue which will pay the operating expenses of the authority, provide for repairs and maintenance, and provide for the payment of the interest and principal of the bonded debt. If, however, from any cause, the revenues of the authority shall be inadequate to pay the interest or principal of any bonded debt as the same becomes due, the board of directors shall, at the time of fixing the tax levy and in the manner for such tax levy provided, levy and collect annually until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the authority set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, or such part thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the authority, and also sufficient to pay such part of the principal of such bonds as shall become due before the time when money will be available from the next general tax levy, or such portion thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the authority; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually sufficient when added to revenues of the authority available for that purpose to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also to constitute, together with the revenues of the authority available for such purpose, a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of such bonds on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for authority purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other authority taxes are collected and shall be used for no purpose other than the payment of such bonds and accruing interest.

(k) Coupon bonds issued hereunder, at the request of the holder, may be registered as to principal and interest in the holder's name on the books of the treasurer of the district, and the coupons surrendered and the principal and interest made payable only to the registered holder of the bond. Legislative findings

SEC. 2. It is hereby found and determined:

(a) Because of geographical factors, the city can better administer for public use the subject lands for park, playground, marine, recreational and beach purposes than the State.

(b) The city is willing to accept such administration and control from the State upon the following conditions, which the State finds are necessary, reasonable and proper:

(1) The State shall convey to the city all its right, title and interest in and to the surface of the subject lands, and in and to all portions of the surface of said lands down to and including two hundred (200) feet below such surface. The State expressly reserves all rights it now has, if any, to use the surface of the subject lands and all portions of the subsurface of said lands down to and including 200 feet below such surface, for the development and production of oil, gas, other hydrocarbons and minerals from beneath those specific parcels of the subject lands involved in the aforementioned People's case, and for their recovery, removal, transportation, storage and sale.

(2) Such conveyance shall be consistent with and in furtherance of, and shall not affect, amend, replace nor modify those certain trust purposes and conditions as set forth in Chapter 102, Statutes of 1925, and Chapter 158, Statutes of 1935, whereby portions of the subject lands were originally conveyed to the City of Long Beach in trust.

(3) Such conveyance shall in no wise in any degree nor to any extent whatsoever affect, modify nor remove from judicial consideration the issues in the People's case. It is the intention of the Legislature that the People's case shall be completely unaffected by this statute, and that the court shall consider such case as though this statute never had been passed.

(4) That within 10 years from the effective date of this act said lands shall be substantially improved by said city and if the Division of Beaches and Parks of the Department of Natural Resources determines that the city has failed to improve said lands as herein required, all right, title, and interest of said city in and to all lands granted by this act shall cease and said lands shall revert and rest in the State.

(5) The conveyance of that portion of the grant lying in Alamitos Bay between the extensions of 55th and 69th Places is made upon the express condition that the property conveyed hereby shall be used for a public park, or beach used by all the public for recreational purposes, and for no other purposes whatsoever, and should said property or any portion thereof be used for any other purpose, then, in that event, such portion of the property hereby conveyed shall immediately revert unto the grantor herein, its successors or assigns.

It is further provided that the property herein conveyed in Alamitos Bay between the extensions of 55th and 69th Places shall not be occupied by any seawall which will destroy the beach unless necessary for the preservation of public property, public health and safety, but, subject to such hereinabove stated exceptions, shall be used exclusively for a walk-in type of beach for use by all the public and the city shall maintain the same at its highest potential as a beach recreational area.

It is further understood that it is the intention of the City of Long Beach to move the Alamitos Bay Yacht Club from its present location to the easterly portion of the subject lands and it is understood that when such relocation is accomplished then the area now used by said yacht club will thereafter be used as a public beach for the use of all the public and will not again be occupied by any private yacht club or similar restrictive use.

Grant to City of Long Beach

SEC. 3. There is hereby granted to the City of Long Beach, a municipal corporation, in trust, all the right, title and interest of the State of California in and to the surface, and those portions of the subsurface, down to and including two hundred (200) feet below the surface of the subject lands, for the purposes, and subject to the conditions specified in Section 2.

SECTION 1. Section 1243.4 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

Immediate possession for certain uses

1243.4. In any proceeding in eminent domain brought by the State, or a county, or a municipal corporation, or metropolitan water district, municipal utility district, municipal water district, drainage, irrigation, levee, reclamation or water conservation district, or similar public corporation, the plaintiff may take immediate possession and use of any right-of-way, or lands to be used for reservoir purposes, required for a public use whether the fee thereof or an easement therefor be sought, in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. Section 1243.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Security deposit

1243.5. (a) In any proceeding in eminent domain, if the plaintiff is authorized by law to take immediate possession of the property sought to be condemned, the plaintiff may, at any time after the issuance of summons and prior to the entry of judgment, apply ex parte to the court for an order determining the amount to be deposited as security for the payment of the just compensation which will be made for the taking of the property and any damage incident thereto. Such security shall be in the amount the court determines to be the probable just compensation which will be made for the taking of the property and any damage incident thereto. After depositing the security, the plaintiff may, at any time prior to the entry of judgment, apply ex parte to the court for an order authorizing it to take immediate possession of and to use the property sought to be condemned.

(b) If the court determines that the plaintiff is entitled to take the property by eminent domain and to take immediate possession thereof, and if the court determines that the plaintiff has deposited the security, the court shall by order authorize the plaintiff to take immediate possession of and to use the property sought to be condemned. The order authorizing immediate possession shall:

Order

(1) Describe the property and the estate or interest therein sought to be condemned, which description may be made by reference to the complaint.

(2) State the purposes of the condemnation.

(3) State the amount of the deposit.

(4) State the date after which the plaintiff is authorized to take possession of the property which date, unless the plaintiff requests a later date, shall be the earliest date on which the plaintiff would be entitled to take possession of the property if service were made under subdivision (c) of this section on the day the order is made.

(c) At least 20 days prior to the time possession is taken, the plaintiff shall serve a copy of the order on the record owner or owners of the property and on the occupants, if any. Service of the order shall be made by personal service unless the person on whom service is to be made has previously appeared in the proceeding or has previously been served with a copy of the summons and complaint in the manner prescribed by law, in which case service of the order may be made by mail upon such person and his attorney of record, if any. If a person upon whom a copy of the order authorizing immediate possession is required to be personally served under this section resides out of the State, or has departed from the State or cannot after due diligence be found within the State, the plaintiff may in lieu of such personal service send a copy of the order by registered or certified mail addressed to such person at his last known address. If a copy of the order is sent by registered or certified mail in lieu of personal service, the plaintiff shall file an affidavit in the proceeding setting forth the facts showing the reason personal service could not have been made. The court may, for good cause shown by affidavit, authorize the plaintiff to take possession of the property without serving a copy of the order of immediate possession upon a record owner not occupying the property. A single service upon or mailing to those at the same address shall be sufficient. The court may, for good cause shown by affidavit, shorten the time specified in this subdivision to a period of not less than three days.

"Record owner or owners of the property"

As used in this subdivision, "record owner or owners of the property" means both the person or persons in whose name the legal title to the fee appears by deeds or other instruments duly recorded in the recorder's office of the county in which the property is located and the person or persons, if any, in possession of the property under a written and duly recorded lease or agreement of purchase.

(d) At any time after the court has made an order authorizing immediate possession, the court may, upon motion of any party to the eminent domain proceeding, order an increase or a decrease in the security that the plaintiff is required to deposit pursuant to this section if the court determines that the security which should be deposited for the taking of the property and any damage incident thereto is different from the amount of the security theretofore deposited. Prior to judgment, such security may not be reduced to an amount less than that already withdrawn pursuant to Section 1243 7.

(e) The amount required to be deposited by the plaintiff and the amount of such deposit withdrawn by the defendant may not be given in evidence or referred to in the trial of the issue of compensation

(f) The plaintiff shall not be held to have abandoned or waived the right to appeal from the judgment by taking possession of the property pursuant to this section.

SEC. 3. Section 1254.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is renumbered and amended to read:

Depository

1243.6. When money is required to be deposited as provided by Section 1243.5, the court shall order the money to be deposited in the State Treasury, unless the plaintiff requests the court to order deposit in the county treasury, in which case the court shall order deposit in the county treasury. If money is deposited in the State Treasury pursuant to this section it shall be held, invested, deposited, and disbursed in the manner specified in Section 1254, and interest earned or other increment derived from its investment shall be apportioned and disbursed in the manner specified in that section.

SEC. 4. Section 1254.7 of the Code of Civil Procedure is renumbered and amended to read:

Withdrawal of money

1243.7. (a) At any time after money has been deposited as provided in Section 1243.5, the party whose property or interest in property is being taken may apply to the court, in the manner hereinafter provided, for the withdrawal of all or any portion of the amount deposited for his property or property interest. Upon such application, the court shall order that portion of the amount applied for, which the applicant is entitled to withdraw under the provisions of this section, to be paid to such applicant from the money deposited in connection with such property or property interest.

(b) If the total amount sought to be withdrawn prior to judgment exceeds the amount of the original deposit, each applicant, before any of such excess is withdrawn, shall file an undertaking executed by two or more sufficient sureties approved by the court to the effect that they are bound to the plaintiff in double the amount of such excess for the return of any amount withdrawn by the applicant that exceeds the amount to which the applicant is entitled as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding, together with legal interest from the date of its withdrawal.

If there is more than one applicant and the total amount sought to be withdrawn exceeds the amount of the original deposit, the applicants, in lieu of filing separate undertakings, may jointly file an undertaking executed by two or more sufficient sureties approved by the court to the effect that they are bound to the plaintiff in double the amount of such excess for the return of any amount withdrawn by the applicants that exceeds the amount to which the applicants are entitled as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding together with legal interest from the date of its withdrawal.

If the undertaking required by this subdivision is executed by an admitted surety insurer, the undertaking is sufficient in amount if the surety is bound only to the extent that the amount sought to be withdrawn exceeds the amount originally deposited.

The plaintiff may consent to an undertaking that is less than the amount required under this subdivision.

If the undertaking is executed by an admitted surety insurer, the applicant filing the undertaking is entitled to recover the premium paid for the undertaking, but not to exceed 2 percent of the face value of the undertaking, as a part of the recoverable costs in the eminent domain proceeding.

(c) The application shall be made by affidavit wherein the applicant shall set forth his interest in the property and request withdrawal of a stated amount. The applicant shall serve a copy of the application on the plaintiff and no withdrawal shall be made until at least 20 days after such service of the application, or until the time for all objections has expired, whichever is later.

(d) Within the 20-day period, the plaintiff may object to such withdrawal by filing an objection thereto in court on the ground that an undertaking should be filed or that the amount of, or the sureties upon, such an undertaking are insufficient.

(e) Within the 20-day period, the plaintiff may object to such withdrawal by filing an objection thereto in court on the grounds that other persons are known or believed to have interests in the property. In this event the plaintiff shall attempt to personally serve on such other persons a notice to such persons that they may appear within 10 days after such service and object to such withdrawal, and that failure to appear will result in the waiver of any right to such amount withdrawn or further rights against the plaintiff to the extent of the sum withdrawn. The plaintiff shall state in such objection the names and last known addresses of other persons known or believed to have an interest in the property, whether or not it has been able to serve them with such notice and the date of such service. If the plaintiff in its objection reports to the court that it is unable to personally serve persons known or believed to have interests in the property within the 20-day period, said money shall not be withdrawn until the applicant causes such personal service to be made.

(f) If the persons so served appear and object to the withdrawal, or if the plaintiff so requests, the court shall thereupon hold a hearing after notice thereof to all parties and shall determine the amounts to be withdrawn, if any, and by whom. If the court determines that a party is entitled to withdraw any portion of a deposit which another person claims, the court may require such party, before withdrawing such portion, to file an undertaking executed by two or more sufficient sureties approved by the court to the effect that they are bound to the adverse claimant in such amount as is fixed by the court, but not to exceed double the portion claimed by the adverse claimant, for the payment to the person entitled thereto of any amount withdrawn that exceeds the amount to which such party is entitled as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding, together with legal interest from the date of its withdrawal. No persons so served shall have any claim against the plaintiff for compensation for the value of the property taken or severance damages thereto, or otherwise, to the extent of the amount withdrawn by all parties; provided, the plaintiff shall remain liable for said compensation to persons having an interest of record who are not so served.

(g) If withdrawn, the receipt of any such money shall constitute a waiver by operation of law of all defenses in favor of the person receiving such payment except his claim for greater compensation. Any amount so paid to any party shall be credited upon the judgment in the eminent domain proceeding.

(h) Any amount withdrawn by any party in excess of the amount to which he is entitled as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding shall be paid to the party entitled thereto together with legal interest thereon from the date of its withdrawal, and the court in which the eminent domain proceeding is pending shall enter judgment therefor against the defendant. If the defendant does not pay the judgment within 30 days after the judgment is entered, the court may, on motion, enter judgment against the sureties for such amount together with the interest that may be due thereon.

SEC. 5. Section 1249 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Right to damages

1249. For the purpose of assessing compensation and damages the right thereto shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the issuance of summons and its actual value at that date shall be the measure of compensation for all property to be actually taken, and the basis of damages to property not actually taken but injuriously affected, in all cases where such damages are allowed as provided in Section 1248; provided, that in any case in which the issue is not tried within one year after the date of the commencement of the action, unless the delay is caused by the defendant, the compensation and damages shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the trial. No improvements put upon the property subsequent to the date of the service of summons shall be included in the assessment of compensation or damages.

SEC. 6. Section 1249.1 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

(a) The time the title to the property is taken by the plaintiff.

(b) The time the possession of the property is taken by the plaintiff.

(c) The time the defendant moves from the property in compliance with an order of possession.

SEC. 7. Section 1253 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1253. When payments have been made and the bond given, if the plaintiff elects to give one, as required by Sections 1251 and 1252, the court shall make a final order of condemnation, which shall describe the property condemned, the estate or interest acquired therein and the purposes of such condemnation. A certified copy of the order shall thereupon be filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is located. The title to the property described in the final order of condemnation vests in the plaintiff for the purposes described therein upon the date that a certified copy of the final order of condemnation is filed in the office of the recorder of the county. Final order

SEC. 8. Section 1254 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1254. (a) In any case in which the plaintiff is not in possession of the property sought to be condemned, the plaintiff may, at any time after trial and judgment entered or pending an appeal from the judgment and after payment into court for the defendant of the full amount of the judgment and such further sum as may be required by the court as a fund to pay any further damages and costs that may be recovered in the proceeding, apply ex parte for an order authorizing it to take possession of and to use the property sought to be condemned. Possession

(b) If in the judgment the court determined that the plaintiff is entitled to acquire the property by eminent domain and if the court determines that the plaintiff has made the required payment into court, the court shall by order authorize the plaintiff to take possession of and use the property during the pendency of and until the final conclusion of the litigation, and shall, if necessary, stay all actions and proceedings against the plaintiff on account thereof. The order shall state the date after which the plaintiff is authorized to take possession of the property which date, unless the plaintiff requests a later date, shall be 10 days after the date of the order.

(c) At least 10 days prior to the time possession is taken, the plaintiff shall serve upon the defendants and their attorneys, either personally or by mail, a copy of the order of the court authorizing it to take possession of the property. A single service upon or mailing to those at the same address is sufficient.

(d) At any time after the court has made an order authorizing the plaintiff to take possession pursuant to this section, the court may, upon motion of any party to the eminent domain proceeding, order an increase or a decrease in the amount that the plaintiff is required to pay into court as a further sum pursuant to this section.

(e) The plaintiff shall not be held to have abandoned or waived the right to appeal from the judgment by paying into court the amount of the judgment and such further sum as may be required by the court and taking possession of the property pursuant to this section.

(f) The defendant, who is entitled to the money paid into court for him upon any judgment, shall be entitled to demand and receive the full amount of the judgment at any time thereafter upon obtaining an order therefor from the court. The court, or a judge thereof, upon application by such defendant, shall order and direct that the money so paid into court for him be delivered to him upon his filing a satisfaction of the judgment, or upon his filing a receipt therefor, and an abandonment of all defenses to the action or proceeding, except as to the amount of damages that he may be entitled to in the event that a new trial is granted. A payment to a defendant, as aforesaid, shall be held to be an abandonment by such defendant of all defenses interposed by him, excepting his claim for greater compensation.

(g) Any amount withdrawn by any party in excess of the amount to which he is entitled as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding shall be paid without interest to the party entitled thereto, and the court in which the eminent domain proceeding is pending shall enter judgment therefor against such party.

(h) The payment of the money into court, as hereinbefore provided for, shall not discharge the plaintiff from liability to keep the said fund full and without diminution; but such money shall be and remain, as to all accidents, defalcations, or other contingencies (as between the parties to the proceeding), at the risk of the plaintiff, and shall so remain until the amount of the compensation or damages is finally settled by judicial determination, and until the court awards the money, or such part thereof as shall be determined upon, to the defendant, and until he is authorized or required by rule of court to take it. If, for any reason, the money shall at any time be lost, or otherwise abstracted or withdrawn, through no fault of the defendant, the court shall require the plaintiff to make and keep the sum good at all times until the litigation is finally brought to an end, and until paid over or made payable to the defendant by order of court, as above provided. The court shall order the money to be deposited in the State Treasury, unless the plaintiff requests the court to order deposit in the county treasury, in which case the court shall order deposit in the county treasury. If the court orders deposit in the State Treasury, it shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to receive all such moneys, duly receipt for, and to safely keep the same in the Condemnation Deposits Fund, which fund is hereby created in the State Treasury and for such duty he shall be liable to the plaintiff upon his official bond. Money in the Condemnation Deposits Fund may be invested and reinvested in any securities described in Section 16430, Government Code, or deposited in banks as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16500) of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2, Government Code. The Pooled Money Investment Board shall designate at least once a month the amount of money available in the fund for investment in securities or deposit in bank accounts, and the type of investment or deposit and shall so arrange the investment or deposit program that funds will be available for the immediate payment of any court order or decree. Immediately after such designation the Treasurer shall invest or make deposits in bank accounts in accordance with the designations.

(i) For the purposes of this section, a written determination signed by a majority of the members of the Pooled Money Investment Board shall be deemed to be the determination of the board. Members may authorize deputies to act for them for the purpose of making determinations under this section.

(j) Interest earned and other increment derived from investments or deposits made pursuant to this section, after deposit of money in the State Treasury, shall be deposited in the Condemnation Deposits Fund. After first deducting therefrom expenses incurred by the Treasurer in taking and making delivery of bonds or other securities under this section, the State Controller shall apportion as of June 30th and December 31st of each year the remainder of such interest earned or increment derived and deposited in the fund during the six calendar months ending with such dates. There shall be apportioned and paid to each plaintiff having a deposit in the fund during the six-month period for which an apportionment is made, an amount directly proportionate to the total deposits in the fund and the length of time such deposits remained therein. The State Treasurer shall pay out the money deposited by a plaintiff in such manner and at such times as the court or a judge thereof may, by order or decree, direct.

(k) In all cases where a new trial has been granted upon the application of the defendant, and he has failed upon such trial to obtain greater compensation than was allowed him upon the first trial, the costs of such new trial shall be taxed against him.

SEC. 9. Section 1255a of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Abandonment of proceeding

1255a. (a) The plaintiff may abandon the proceeding at any time after the filing of the complaint and before the expiration of 30 days after final judgment, by serving on defendants and filing in court a written notice of such abandonment; and failure to comply with Section 1251 of this code shall constitute an implied abandonment of the proceeding.

(b) The court may, upon motion made within 30 days after such abandonment, set aside the abandonment if it determines that the position of the moving party has been substantially changed to his detriment in justifiable reliance upon the proceeding and such party cannot be restored to substantially the same position as if the proceeding had not been commenced.

(c) Upon the denial of a motion to set aside such abandonment or, if no such motion is filed, upon the expiration of the time for filing such a motion, on motion of any party, a judgment shall be entered dismissing the proceeding and awarding the defendants their costs and disbursements, which shall include all necessary expenses incurred in preparing for trial and during trial and reasonable attorney fees These costs and disbursements, including expenses and attorney fees, may be claimed in and by a cost bill, to be prepared, served, filed and taxed as in civil actions; provided, however, that upon judgment of dismissal on motion of plaintiff, defendants, and each of them, may file a cost bill within 30 days after notice of entry of such judgment; that said costs and disbursements shall not include expenses incurred in preparing for trial where the action is dismissed 40 days or more prior to the time set for the pretrial conference in the action or, if no pretrial conference is set, the time set for the trial of the action.

(d) If, after the plaintiff takes possession of or the defendant moves from the property sought to be condemned in compliance with an order of possession, the plaintiff abandons the proceeding as to such property or a portion thereof or it is determined that the plaintiff does not have authority to take such property or a portion thereof by eminent domain, the court shall order the plaintiff to deliver possession of such property or such portion thereof to the parties entitled to the possession thereof and shall make such provision as shall be just for the payment of damages arising out of the plaintiff's taking and use of the property and damages for any loss or impairment of value suffered by the land and improvements after the time the plaintiff took possession of or the defendant moved from the property sought to be condemned in compliance with an order of possession, whichever is the earlier.

SEC. 10. Section 1255b of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Legal interest

1255b (a) The compensation and damages awarded in an eminent domain proceeding shall draw legal interest from the earliest of the following dates:

(1) The date of the entry of judgment.

(2) The date that the possession of the property sought to be condemned is taken or the damage thereto occurs.

(3) The date after which the plaintiff may take possession of the property as stated in an order authorizing the plaintiff to take possession.

(b) If after the date that interest begins to accrue the defendant continues in actual possession of or receives rents, issues and profits from the property, the value of such possession and of such rents, issues and profits shall be offset against the interest that accrues during the period the defendant continues in actual possession or receives such rents, issues or profits.

(c) The compensation and damages awarded in an eminent domain proceeding shall cease to draw interest on the earliest of the following dates:

(1) As to any amount deposited pursuant to Section 1243.5, the date that such amount is withdrawn by the person entitled thereto.

(2) As to any amount paid into court pursuant to Section 1254, the date of such payment.

(3) As to any amount paid to the person entitled thereto, the date of such payment.

(4) If the full amount the defendant is then entitled to receive as finally determined in the eminent domain proceeding together with the full amount of the interest then due thereon is paid into court for the defendant after entry of judgment, the date of such payment.

SEC. 11. All sections of this act other than Section 6 apply to all actions or proceedings in eminent domain pending in the courts at the time this act takes effect in which no order authorizing the plaintiff to take possession of the property sought to be condemned prior to the final order of condemnation has been made prior to the effective date of this act. Section 6 of this act does not apply to any action or proceeding pending in the courts on such effective date. Application

CHAPTER 2. JUVENILE COURT LAW

Article 1. General Provisions

500. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Juvenile Court Law." Short title

Construction

501. The provisions of this chapter, insofar as they are substantially the same as existing statutory provisions relating to the same subject matter, shall be construed as restatements and continuations thereof, and not as new enactments.

Purpose of chapter

502. The purpose of this chapter is to secure for each minor under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court such care and guidance, preferably in his own home, as will serve the spiritual, emotional, mental, and physical welfare of the minor and the best interests of the State; to preserve and strengthen the minor's family ties whenever possible, removing him from the custody of his parents only when his welfare or safety and protection of the public cannot be adequately safeguarded without removal; and, when the minor is removed from his own family, to secure for him custody, care, and discipline as nearly as possible equivalent to that which should have been given by his parents. This chapter shall be liberally construed to carry out these purposes.

Noncriminal proceedings

503 An order adjudging a minor to be a ward of the juvenile court shall not be deemed a conviction of a crime for any purpose, nor shall a proceeding in the juvenile court be deemed a criminal proceeding.

Information relating to arrest of minors under 18 years

504. The Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation shall not knowingly transmit to any person or agency any information relating to an arrest or taking into custody of a minor under the age of 18 years at the time of such arrest or taking into custody unless such information also includes the disposition resulting therefrom.

"Disposition"

"Disposition," as used herein, includes a release of such minor from custody without the filing of an accusatory pleading or the filing of a petition under the provisions of this chapter, a determination of the issue of wardship by the juvenile court, or a determination by the juvenile court that such minor is not a fit subject to be dealt with under the provisions of this chapter.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation from transmitting fingerprints or photographs of a minor under the age of 18 years to a law enforcement agency for the purpose of obtaining identification of the minor or from requesting from such agency the history of the minor.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation from transmitting any information relating to an arrest or taking into custody of a minor under the age of 18 years received by said bureau prior to the effective date of this section

Religious placement

505. All commitments to institutions or for placement in family homes under this chapter shall be, so far as practicable, either to institutions or for placement in family homes of the same religious belief as that of the person so committed or of his parents or to institutions affording opportunity for instruction in such religious belief.

Separation of certain persons

506. No person taken into custody solely upon the ground that he is a person described in Section 600 or adjudged to be such and made a dependent child of the juvenile court pursuant to this chapter solely upon that ground shall, in any detention or commitment under this chapter, be brought into direct contact or personal association with any person taken into custody on the ground that he is a person described by Section 601 or Section 602, or who has been made a ward of the juvenile court on either such ground.

Separate, segregated facilities for such persons alleged to be within the description of Section 600, or persons adjudged to be such and made dependent children of the court pursuant to this chapter solely upon that ground shall be provided by the board of supervisors. Such separate, segregated facilities may be provided in the juvenile hall or elsewhere.

Detention

507. No court, judge, referee, or peace officer shall knowingly detain in any jail or lockup any person under the age of 18 years, unless a judge of the juvenile court shall determine that there are no other proper and adequate facilities for the care and detention of such person, or unless such person has been transferred by the juvenile court to another court for proceedings not under the juvenile court law and has been charged with or convicted of a felony. If any person under the age of 18 years is transferred by the juvenile court to another court and is charged with or convicted of a felony as herein provided and is not released pending hearing, such person may be committed to the care and custody of a sheriff, constable, or other peace officer who shall keep such person in the juvenile hall or in such other suitable place as such latter court may direct, provided that no such person shall be detained in or committed to any hospital except for medical or other remedial care and treatment or observation.

Separation from adult prisoners

508. When any person under 18 years of age is detained in or sentenced to any institution in which adults are confined, it shall be unlawful to permit such person to come or remain in contact with such adults.

Inspection of jails

509. The judge of the juvenile court of a county, or, if there is more than one such judge, the presiding judge of the juvenile court shall, at least annually, inspect any jail or lockup which, in the preceding calendar year was used for confinement for more than 24 hours of any minor under the age of 18 years. The judge shall note in the minutes of the court whether the jail or lockup is a suitable place for confinement of minors under the age of 18 years.

The Youth Authority shall likewise conduct an annual inspection of each jail or lockup situated in this State which, during the preceding calendar year, was used for confinement for more than 24 hours of any minor under the age of 18 years.

If either the judge of the juvenile court or the Youth Authority, after inspection of a jail or lockup, finds that it is not a suitable place for confinement of minors under the age of 18 years, the juvenile court or the Youth Authority shall give notice of its finding to all persons having authority to confine such minors pursuant to this chapter and commencing 60 days thereafter such jail or lockup shall not be used for confinement of such minors until such time as the judge or Youth Authority, as the case may be, finds, after reinspection of the jail or lockup, that the conditions which rendered the facility unsuitable have been remedied, and such facility is a suitable place for confinement of such minors.

The custodian of each jail and lockup shall make such reports as may be required by the Youth Authority or the juvenile court to effectuate the purposes of this section.

Commitment to state prison

510. No person under the age of 16 years shall be committed to a state prison or be transferred thereto from any other institution.

Fee for filing petitions

511. There shall be no fee for filing a petition under this chapter nor shall any fees be charged by any public officer for his services in filing or serving papers or for the performance of any duty enjoined upon him by this chapter, except where the sheriff transports a person to a state institution. If the judge of the juvenile court orders that a ward or dependent child go to a state institution without being accompanied by an officer or that a ward or dependent child be taken to an institution by the probation officer of the county or parole officer of the institution or by some other suitable person, all expenses necessarily incurred therefor shall be allowed and paid in the same manner and from the same funds as such expenses would be allowed and paid were such transportation effected by the sheriff.

Contempt of court

512. Any willful disobedience or interference with any lawful order of the juvenile court or of a judge or referee thereof constitutes a contempt of court.

Failure to appear

513. In each instance in which a provision of this chapter authorizes the execution by any person of a written promise to appear or to have any other person appear before the probation officer or before the juvenile court, any willful failure of such promissor to perform as promised constitutes a misdemeanor and is punishable as such if at the time of the execution of such written promise the promissor is given a copy of such written promise upon which it is clearly written that failure to appear or to have any other person appear as promised is punishable as a misdemeanor.

"Probation officer"

514. As used in this chapter, unless otherwise specifically provided, the term "probation officer" shall mean the juvenile probation officer or the person who is both the juvenile probation officer and the adult probation officer, and the term "department of probation" shall mean the department of juvenile probation or the department wherein the services of juvenile and adult probation are both performed.

Persons fleeing the state

515. This chapter shall not apply to any person who violates any law of this State defining a crime and is at the time of such violation under the age of 18 years if such person thereafter flees from this State. Any such person may be proceeded against in the manner otherwise provided by law for proceeding against persons accused of crime. Upon the return of such person to this State by extradition or otherwise, proceedings shall be commenced in the manner provided for in this chapter.

Toys

516. The board of supervisors may by ordinance provide that any bicycles or toys, or both, in the possession of the sheriff of any such county which have been unclaimed for a period of at least six months may, instead of being sold at public auction to the highest bidder pursuant to the provisions of Section 1873 of the Civil Code, be turned over to the probation officer of such county for use by him in any program of activities designed to prevent juvenile delinquency.

Article 2. Commissions and Committees

Juvenile justice commission

525. In each county there shall be a juvenile justice commission consisting of not less than seven citizens. Each person serving as a member of a probation committee immediately prior to the effective date of this section shall be a member of the juvenile justice commission and shall continue to serve as such until such time as his term of appointment as a member of the probation committee would have expired under any prior provision of law. Upon a vacancy occurring in the membership of the commission and upon the expiration of the term of office of any member, a successor shall be appointed by the judge of the juvenile court or, in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, by the presiding judge of the juvenile court for a term of four years. When a vacancy occurs for any reason other than the expiration of a term of office, the appointee to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Regional juvenile justice commission

526. In lieu of county juvenile justice commissions, the boards of supervisors of two or more adjacent counties may agree to establish a regional juvenile justice commission consisting of not less than eight citizens, and having a sufficient number of members so that their appointment may be equally apportioned between the participating counties The judge of the juvenile court or, in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, the presiding judge of the juvenile court of each of the participating counties shall appoint an equal number of members to the regional justice commission and they shall hold office for a term of four years. Of those first appointed, however, if the number appointed be an even number, half shall serve for a term of two years and half shall serve for a term of four years and if the number of members first appointed be an odd number, the greater number nearest half shall serve for a term of two years and the remainder shall serve for a term of four years. The respective terms of the members first appointed shall be determined by lot as soon as possible after their appointment. Upon a vacancy occurring in the membership of the commission and upon the expiration of the term of office of any member, a successor shall be appointed by the judge of the juvenile court or, in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, by the presiding judge of the juvenile court of the county which originally appointed such vacating or retiring member. When a vacancy occurs for any reason other than the expiration of a term of office, the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Notice of appointment

527. The clerk of the court of the appointing judge shall immediately notify each person appointed a member of a county or regional juvenile justice commission and thereupon such person shall appear before the appointing judge and qualify by taking an oath faithfully to perform the duties of a member of the juvenile justice commission. The qualification of each member shall be entered in the juvenile court record.

Chairman

528. A juvenile justice commission shall elect a chairman and vice chairman annually.

Commission inquiries

529. It shall be the duty of a juvenile justice commission to inquire into the administration of the juvenile court law in the county or region in which the commission serves. For this purpose the commission shall have access to all publicly administered institutions authorized or whose use is authorized by this chapter situated in the county or region, shall inspect such institutions no less frequently than once a year, and may hold hearings. A judge of the juvenile court shall have the power to issue subpoenas requiring attendance and testimony of witnesses and production of papers at hearings of the commission.

Inspection of jails

A juvenile justice commission shall annually inspect any jail or lockup within the county which in the preceding calendar year was used for confinement of more than 24 hours of any minor under the age of 18 years. It shall report the results of such inspection together with its recommendations based thereon, in writing, to the juvenile court and to the Youth Authority.

Recommendations

530. A juvenile justice commission may recommend to any person charged with the administration of any of the provisions of this chapter such changes as it has concluded, after investigation, will be beneficial. A commission may publicize its recommendations.

Reimbursement of expenses

531. Members of a juvenile justice commission shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. Such reimbursement shall be made by the county of appointment or, in the case of a regional justice commission, the duty of reimbursement shall be divided among the participating counties in the manner prescribed by agreement of the boards of supervisors.

Additional agencies

535. The board of supervisors may by ordinance provide for the establishment, support, and maintenance of one or more agencies or departments to co-operate with and assist in co-ordinating on a countywide basis the work of those community agencies engaged in activities designed to prevent juvenile and adult delinquency; and such agencies or departments may co-operate with any such public or community committees, agencies, or councils at their invitation.

Public councils or committees

536 The juvenile court and the probation department of any county may establish, or assist in the establishment of, any public council or committee having as its object the prevention of juvenile delinquency and may co-operate with, or participate in, the work of any such councils or committees for the purpose of preventing or decreasing juvenile delinquency, including the improving of recreational, health, and other conditions in the community affecting juvenile welfare.

Article 2.5. Probation Committee

Probation committee

540. In counties having a population in excess of 2,000,000 in lieu of a county juvenile justice commission, there shall be a probation committee consisting of not less than seven members who shall be appointed by the same authority as that authorized to appoint the probation officer in such county.

541. The members of a probation committee appointed and holding office under prior provisions of law on the effective date of this article, shall continue in office and shall be members of the probation committee created hereby for the same term as that for which they were appointed.

Terms of office

542. The members of the probation committee shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualify. Of those first appointed, however, one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years, and two for four years; and the respective terms of the members first appointed shall be determined by lot as soon as possible after their appointment. When a vacancy occurs in a probation committee by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, his successor shall be appointed to hold office for the term of four years. When a vacancy occurs for any other reason the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Function

543. The probation committee shall function in an advisory capacity to the probation officer.

Article 3. The Juvenile Court

550. Each superior court shall exercise the jurisdiction conferred by this chapter, and while sitting in the exercise of such jurisdiction, shall be known and referred to as the juvenile court.

551. In counties having more than one judge of the superior court, the presiding judge of such court or the senior judge if there is no presiding judge shall annually, in the month of January, designate one or more judges of the superior court to hear all cases under this chapter during the ensuing year, and he shall, from time to time, designate such additional judges as may be necessary for the prompt disposition of the judicial business before the juvenile court.

In all counties where more than one judge is designated as a judge of the juvenile court, the presiding judge of the superior court shall also designate one such judge as presiding judge of the juvenile court.

Referees

553. The judge of the juvenile court, or in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, the presiding judge of the juvenile court or the senior judge if there is no presiding judge, may appoint one or more referees to serve on a full-time or part-time basis. A referee shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing judge, and unless the appointing judge makes his order terminating the appointment of a referee, such referee shall continue to serve as such until the appointment of his successor. Except as otherwise provided by law, the amount and rate of compensation to be paid referees shall be fixed by the board of supervisors. Every referee first appointed on or after the effective date of this section must have been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of this State for at least five years or have had at least five years experience in probation work at the supervising level or have had a combination of such experience in law, probation work, or any of them aggregating five years

Same Cases

554 A referee shall hear such cases as are assigned to him by the presiding judge of the juvenile court, with the same powers as a judge of the juvenile court. A referee shall promptly furnish to the presiding judge of the juvenile court and shall serve upon the minor's parent or guardian a written copy of his findings and order and shall also furnish to the parent or guardian, with the findings and order, a written explanation of the right of the parent or guardian to seek review of the order by the juvenile court. Effect of order of referee

555 No order of a referee removing a minor from his home shall become effective until expressly approved by a judge of the juvenile court.

Same

556. Except as provided in Section 557, all orders of a referee other than those specified in Section 555 shall become immediately effective, subject also to the right of review as hereinafter provided, and shall continue in full force and effect until vacated or modified upon rehearing by order of the judge of the juvenile court.

Approval of referee orders

557 The judge of the juvenile court, or in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, the presiding judge of the juvenile court may establish requirements that any or all orders of referees shall be expressly approved by a judge of the juvenile court before becoming effective.

Service of order and findings of referee

558. At any time prior to the expiration of 10 days after service of a written copy of the order and findings of a referee, a minor or his parent or guardian may apply to the juvenile court for a rehearing. Such application may be directed to all or to any specified part of the order or findings. If all of the proceedings before the referee have been taken down by an official reporter, the judge of the juvenile court may, after reading the transcript of such proceedings, grant or deny such application. If proceedings before the referee have not been taken down by an official reporter, such application shall be granted as of right.

559. A judge of the juvenile court may, on his own motion, order a rehearing of any matter heard before a referee.

A hearing officer shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing judge, and unless the appointing judge makes his order terminating the appointment of a hearing officer, such hearing officer shall continue to serve as such until the appointment of his successor. The board of supervisors shall determine whether any compensation shall be paid to hearing officers, not otherwise employed by a public agency or holding another public office, and shall establish the amounts and rates thereof An appointment of a probation officer, assistant probation officer, or deputy probation officer as a traffic hearing officer may be made only with the consent of the probation officer.

Same Disposal of cases

562. Subject to the orders of the juvenile court, a traffic hearing officer may hear and dispose of any and all cases wherein a minor under the age of 18 years at the date of the alleged offense is charged with any violation of the Vehicle Code not declared to be a felony, or a violation of an ordinance of a city or county relating to traffic offenses.

Conduct of hearing

563. With the consent of the minor, a hearing before a traffic hearing officer or a hearing before a referee or a judge of the juvenile court wherein such minor is charged with such traffic offense may be conducted upon an exact legible copy of a written notice given pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 40500) of Chapter 2 of Division 17 or Section 41103 of the Vehicle Code, in lieu of a petition as provided in Article 7 of this chapter.

Disposition of traffic cases

564. Upon a hearing conducted in accordance with Section 563, upon an admission by the minor of the commission of a traffic violation charged, or upon a finding that the minor did in fact commit such traffic violation, the judge, referee, or traffic hearing officer may

565. A traffic hearing officer shall promptly furnish a written report of his findings and orders to the clerk of the juvenile court. The clerk of the juvenile court shall promptly transmit an abstract of such findings and orders to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Effect of orders

566. Subject to the provisions of Section 567, all orders of a traffic hearing officer shall be immediately effective

Rehearings

567. Upon motion of the minor or his parent or guardian for good cause, or upon his own motion, a judge of the juvenile court may, set aside or modify any order of a traffic hearing officer, or may order or himself conduct a rehearing.

Transfer of case

568. At any time prior to the final disposition of a hearing pursuant to Section 563, the judge, referee, or traffic officer may, on motion of the minor, his parent, or guardian, or on its own motion, transfer the case to the county of the minor's residence for further proceedings pursuant to Sections 564, 565, 566, and 567.

Annual regional conferences

569. At the direction and under the supervision of the Judicial Council, judges of the juvenile courts and juvenile court referees shall meet, at least annually, in statewide or regional conferences, to discuss problems arising in the course of administration of this chapter, for the purpose of improving the administration of justice in the juvenile courts. Actual and necessary expenses incurred by a judge or referee in attending any such conference shall be a charge upon the county.

Rules of practice and procedure

570. The Judicial Council shall establish rules governing practice and procedure in the juvenile court not inconsistent with law.

Article 4. Probation Officers

575. There shall be in each county the offices of probation officer, assistant probation officer, and deputy probation officer. A probation officer shall be appointed in every county.

Probation officers in any county shall be nominated by the juvenile justice commission or regional juvenile justice commission of such county in such manner as the judge of the juvenile court in that county shall direct, and shall then be appointed by such judge.

The probation officer may appoint as many deputies or assistant probation officers as he desires; but such deputies or assistant probation officers shall not have authority to act until their appointments have been approved by a majority vote of the members of the juvenile justice commission, and by the judge of the juvenile court. The term of office of each such deputy or assistant probation officer shall expire with the term of the probation officer who appointed him, but the probation officer, with the written approval of the majority of the members of the juvenile justice commission and of the judge of the juvenile court, may, in his discretion, revoke and terminate any such appointment at any time.

Probation officers may at any time be removed by the judge of the juvenile court for good cause shown; and the judge of the juvenile court may in his discretion at any time remove any such probation officer with the written approval of a majority of the members of the juvenile justice commission.

Effect of county charter

576. In counties having charters which provide a method of appointment and tenure of office for probation officers, assistant probation officers, deputy probation officers, and the superintendent, matron, and other employees of the juvenile hall, such charter provisions shall control as to such matters, and in counties which have established or hereafter establish merit or civil service systems governing the methods of, appointment and the tenure of office, of probation officers, assistant probation officers, deputy probation officers, and of the superintendents, matrons and other employees of the juvenile hall the provisions of such merit or civil service systems shall control as to such matters; but in all other counties, such matters shall be controlled exclusively by the provisions of this code.

Employment of experts

577. The probation officer may, within budgetary limitations established by the board of supervisors, employ such psychiatrists, psychologists, and other clinical experts as are required to assist in determining appropriate treatment of minors within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court and in the implementation of such treatment.

Bond

578. Each probation officer and each assistant and deputy probation officer receiving an official salary shall furnish a bond in the sum of not more than two thousand dollars ($2,000) and approved by the judge of the juvenile court, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office If such bonds, or any of them, are furnished by a surety company licensed to transact business in the State, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury. In the event the probation officer, assistants and deputies are included as covered employees in a master bond pursuant to Sections 1481 and 1481.1 of the Government Code, the individual bonds prescribed above shall not be required.

Books and accounts

579. For the purpose of handling the reimbursement and other payments provided for in this chapter, the probation officer or other county officer designated by the board of supervisors of the county shall keep suitable books and accounts and shall give and keep suitable receipts and vouchers. The auditor of the county shall audit such books and accounts annually on a fiscal year basis ending June 30 of each year and shall make a report thereon to the judge of the court and to the supervisors of the county prior to the 31st day of the next succeeding month of January.

Receipt and disbursement of money

580. In addition to the powers and duties of the probation officer elsewhere prescribed in this chapter, he is authorized to receive money, give his receipt therefor, immediately deposit such money in the county treasury, and direct the disbursement thereof in the same manner that county trust money is disbursed, in any of the following instances:

(a) Money payable to spouse or child in an action for divorce, separate maintenance, or similar action, together with court costs and attorney's fees, upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) Money payable to or on behalf of a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court or a person concerning whom a petition has been filed in the juvenile court.

(c) Money payable to, by, or on behalf of probationers under the supervision of the probation officer.

(e) Gifts of money made to the county to assist in the prevention or correction of delinquency or crime when the donor requests the probation officer to disburse such funds for such purposes and the board of supervisors accepts the gift upon such conditions.

(f) Other similar cases.

In addition to the foregoing, the probation officer is authorized to receive money payable to the county when ordered so to do by a court of competent jurisdiction. Such money shall be immediately deposited in the county treasury.

Presence in court

581. The probation officer shall be present in court to represent the interests of each person who is the subject of a petition to declare such person to be a ward or dependent child upon all hearings or rehearings of his case, and shall furnish to the court such information and assistance as the court may require If so ordered, he shall take charge of such person before and after any hearing or rehearing.

It shall be the duty of the probation officer to prepare for every hearing on the disposition of a case as provided by Section 702 a social study of the minor, containing such matters as may be relevant to a proper disposition of the case.

Such social study shall include a recommendation for the disposition of the case.

Investigations for court

582. The probation officer shall upon order of any court in any matter involving the custody, status, or welfare of a minor or minors, make an investigation of appropriate facts and circumstances and prepare and file with the court written reports and written recommendations in reference to such matters. The court is authorized to receive and consider the reports and recommendations of the probation officer in determining any such matter.

Investigation of private institutions

583. At any time the judge of the juvenile court may, and upon the request of the county board of supervisors shall, require the probation officer to examine into and report to the court upon the qualifications and management of any society, association, or corporation, other than a state institution, which applies for or receives custody of any ward or dependent child of the juvenile court. No probation officer, however, shall, under authority of this section, enter any institution without its consent. If such consent is refused, commitments to that institution shall not be made.

Powers

584. Every probation officer, assistant probation officer, and deputy probation officer shall have the powers of a peace officer.

585 All probation officers shall make such special and periodic reports to the Youth Authority as the authority may require and upon forms furnished by the authority.

Reports to Bureau of Criminal Statistics

586. All probation officers shall make such periodic reports to the Bureau of Criminal Statistics as the bureau may require and upon forms furnished by the bureau.

Present officers

587. Any person lawfully appointed to serve as a probation officer or assistant or deputy probation officer prior to the effective date of this section shall continue in his office or employment as if appointed in the manner prescribed by this article.

(b) Who is destitute, or who is not provided with the necessities of life, or who is not provided with a home or suitable place of abode, or whose home is an unfit place for him by reason of neglect, cruelty, or depravity of either of his parents, or of his guardian or other person in whose custody or care he is

601. Any person under the age of 21 years who persistently or habitually refuses to obey the reasonable and proper orders or directions of his parents, guardian, custodian or school authorities, or who is beyond the control of such person, or any person who is a habitual truant from school within the meaning of any law of this State, or who from any cause is in danger of leading an idle, dissolute, lewd, or immoral life, is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court which may adjudge such person to be a ward of the court.

Same

602. Any person under the age of 21 years who violates any law of this State or of the United States or any ordinance of any city or county of this State defining crime or who, after having been found by the juvenile court to be a person described by Section 601, fails to obey any lawful order of the juvenile court, is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, which may adjudge such person to be a ward of the court.

Criminal proceedings Prior submission to juvenile court

603. No court shall have jurisdiction to conduct a preliminary examination or to try the case of any person upon an accusatory pleading charging such person with the commission of a public offense or crime when such person was under the age of 18 years at the time of the alleged commission thereof unless the matter has first been submitted to the juvenile court by petition as provided in Article 7 (commencing with Section 650), and said juvenile court has made an order directing that such person be prosecuted under the general law.

Same Suspension of proceedings

604. (a) Whenever a case is before any court upon an accusatory pleading and it is suggested or appears to the judge before whom such person is brought that the person charged was, at the date the offense is alleged to have been committed, under the age of 18 years, such judge shall immediately suspend all proceedings against such person on such charge; he shall examine into the age of such person, and if, from such examination, it appears to his satisfaction that such person was at the date the offense is alleged to have been committed under the age of 18 years, he shall forthwith certify to the juvenile court of his county:

(3) That proceedings have been suspended against such person on such charge by reason of his age, with the date of such suspension.

To such certification, the judge shall attach a copy of the accusatory pleading.

(b) Whenever a case is pending in any court upon an accusatory pleading and it appears to the satisfaction of the judge that the person charged is under the age of 21 years, the judge may certify the case to the juvenile court of his county in the manner prescribed by subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) When a court certifies a case to the juvenile court pursuant to subdivision (a) or subdivision (b), it shall be deemed that jeopardy has not attached by reason of the proceedings prior to certification, but the court may not resume proceedings in the case, nor may a new proceeding under the general law be commenced in any court with respect to the same matter unless the juvenile court has found that the minor is not a fit subject for consideration under the Juvenile Court Law and has ordered that proceedings under the general law resume or be commenced.

(d) The certification and accusatory pleading shall be promptly transmitted to the clerk of the juvenile court. Upon receipt thereof, the clerk of the juvenile court shall immediately notify the probation officer who shall file a petition in accordance with the requirements of Section 656, except that such petition need not be verified.

Statute of limitations suspended

605. Whenever a petition is filed in a juvenile court alleging that a minor is a person within the description of Section 602, and while the case is before the juvenile court, the statute of limitations applicable under the general law to the offense alleged to bring the minor within such description is suspended.

Criminal prosecution

606. When a petition has been filed in a juvenile court, the minor who is the subject of the petition shall not thereafter be subject to criminal prosecution based on the facts giving rise to the petition unless the juvenile court finds that the minor is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under this chapter and orders that criminal proceedings be resumed or instituted against him.

Retention of jurisdiction

607. The court may retain jurisdiction over any person who is found to be a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court until such ward or dependent child attains the age of 21 years; but if a ward has attained the age of 19 years or more at the time of adjudication of wardship, the court may retain jurisdiction for two years from and after the date of such adjudication.

Article 6. Temporary Custody and Detention

Temporary custody: Without warrant

625. A peace officer may, without a warrant, take into temporary custody a minor:

(a) Who is under the age of 18 years when such officer has reasonable cause for believing that such minor is a person described in Sections 600, 601, or 602, or

(b) Who is a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court or concerning whom an order has been made under Section 636 or 702, when such officer has reasonable cause for believing that person has violated an order of the juvenile court or has escaped from any commitment ordered by the juvenile court, or

(c) Who is under the age of 21 years and who is found in any street or public place suffering from any sickness or injury which requires care, medical treatment, hospitalization, or other remedial care.

Same Subsequent procedure

626. An officer who takes a minor into temporary custody under the provisions of Section 625 shall thereafter proceed as follows:

(a) He may release such minor; or

(b) He may prepare in duplicate a written notice to appear before the probation officer of the county in which such minor was taken into custody at a time and place specified in the notice. The notice shall also contain a concise statement of the reasons such minor was taken into custody. He shall deliver one copy of the notice to such minor or to a parent, guardian, or responsible relative of such minor and may require such minor or his parent, guardian, or relative, or both, to sign a written promise that either or both will appear at the time and place designated in the notice. Upon the execution of the promise to appear, he shall immediately release such minor. He shall, as soon as practicable, file one copy of the notice with the probation officer; or

(c) He may take such minor without unnecessary delay before the probation officer of the county in which such person was taken into custody and deliver the custody of such minor to the probation officer.

In determining which disposition of the minor he will make, the officer shall prefer the alternative which least restricts the minor's freedom of movement, provided such alternative is compatible with the best interests of the minor and the community.

Notice to parents, etc

627. When an officer takes a minor before a probation officer at a juvenile hall or to any other place of confinement pursuant to this article, he shall take immediate steps to notify the minor's parent, guardian, or a responsible relative that such minor is in custody and the place where he is being held.

Immediate investigation

628. Upon delivery to the probation officer of a minor who has been taken into temporary custody under the provisions of this article, the probation officer shall immediately investigate the circumstances of the minor and the facts surrounding his being taken into custody and shall immediately release such minor to the custody of his parent, guardian, or responsible relative unless it appears that further detention of such minor is a matter of immediate and urgent necessity for the protection of such minor or the person or property of another, or unless it appears that such minor is likely to flee the jurisdiction of the court, or unless it appears that such minor has violated an order of the juvenile court.

Written promise to appear

629. As a condition for the release of such minor, the probation officer may require such minor or his parent, guardian, or relative, or both, to sign a written promise that either or both of them will appear before the probation officer at the juvenile hall or other suitable place designated by the probation officer at a specified time.

Detention hearing

630. If the probation officer determines that the minor shall be retained in custody, he shall immediately file a petition pursuant to Section 656 with the clerk of the juvenile court who shall set the matter for hearing on the detention hearing calendar. The probation officer shall thereupon notify a parent or guardian of the minor of the time and place of such hearing. Such notice may be given orally.

Release

631. Whenever a minor under the age of 18 years is taken into custody by a peace officer or probation officer, such minor shall be released within 48 hours after having been taken into custody, excluding nonjudicial days, unless within said period of time a petition to declare him a ward or dependent child has been filed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or a criminal complaint against him has been filed in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Detention hearing

632. Unless sooner released, a minor taken into custody under the provisions of this article shall be brought before a judge of the juvenile court for a hearing (which shall be referred to as a "detention hearing") to determine whether the minor shall be further detained, as soon as possible but in any event before the expiration of the next judicial day after a petition to declare such minor a ward or dependent child has been filed. If the minor is not brought before a judge of the juvenile court within the period prescribed by this section, he shall be released from custody.

Same
Notice of rights

633. Upon his appearance before the court at the detention hearing, such minor and his parent or guardian, if present, shall first be informed of the reasons why the minor was taken into custody, the nature of the juvenile court proceedings, and the right of such minor and his parent or guardian to be represented at every stage of the proceedings by counsel.

Appointment of counsel

634. When it appears to the court that the minor or his parent or guardian desires counsel but is indigent and cannot for that reason employ counsel, the court may appoint counsel. In such a case the court must appoint counsel for the minor if he is charged with misconduct which would constitute a felony if committed by an adult. In any case in which it appears to the court that there is such a conflict of interest between a parent or guardian and child that one attorney could not properly represent both, the court may appoint counsel, in addition to counsel already employed by a parent or guardian or appointed by the court to represent the minor or a parent or guardian.

Examination and release of minor by court

635. The court will examine such minor, his parent, guardian, or other person having relevant knowledge, hear such relevant evidence as the minor, his parent or guardian or their counsel desires to present, and, unless it appears that such minor has violated an order of the juvenile court or has escaped from the commitment of the juvenile court or that it is a matter of immediate and urgent necessity for the protection of such minor or the person or property of another that he be detained or that such minor is likely to flee the jurisdiction of the court, the court shall make its order releasing such minor from custody.

Detention of minor

636. If it appears upon the hearing that such minor has violated an order of the juvenile court or has escaped from a commitment of the juvenile court or that it is a matter of immediate and urgent necessity for the protection of such minor or the person or property of another that he be detained or that such minor is likely to flee the jurisdiction of the court, the court may make its order that such minor be detained in the juvenile hall or other suitable place designated by the juvenile court for a period not to exceed 15 judicial days and shall enter said order together with its findings of fact in support thereof in the records of the court.

Rehearing

637. When a hearing is held under the provisions of this article and no parent or guardian of such minor is present and no parent or guardian has had actual notice of the hearing, a parent or guardian of such minor may file his affidavit setting forth such facts with the clerk of the juvenile court and the clerk shall immediately set the matter for rehearing at a time within 24 hours, excluding Sundays and nonjudicial days from the filing of the affidavit. Upon the rehearing, the court shall proceed in the same manner as upon the original hearing.

Continuance

638 Upon motion of the minor or a parent or guardian of such minor, the court shall continue any hearing or rehearing held under the provisions of this article for one day, excluding Sundays and nonjudicial days.

Reappearance

639. Upon any hearing or rehearing under the provisions of this article, the court may order such minor or any parent or guardian of such minor who is present in court to again appear before the court or the probation officer at a time and place specified in said order.

Medical, etc., care of detained persons

640. Whenever any person is detained under the provisions of this article and is in need of medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care, the probation officer may, upon the recommendation of the attending physician, authorize the performance of such medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care. Nothing contained herein shall limit the rights of the parent or guardian of such person to furnish such medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care. Except in cases of extreme emergency or in cases where the probation officer cannot, with reasonable diligence, locate the parent or guardian, the probation officer shall notify the parent or guardian of the person of the care found to be needed before such care is provided, and if the parent or guardian objects, such care shall be given only upon order of the court.

Detention in another county

641. Whenever any minor is taken into temporary custody under the provisions of this article in any county other than the county in which the minor is alleged to be within or to come within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, which county is referred to herein as the requesting county, the officer who has taken the minor into temporary custody may notify the law enforcement agency in the requesting county of the fact that the minor is in custody. When a law enforcement officer, of such requesting county files a petition pursuant to Section 656 with the clerk of the juvenile court of his respective county and secures a warrant therefrom, he shall forward said warrant, or a telegraphic copy thereof to the officer who has the minor in temporary custody as soon as possible within 48 hours, excluding Sundays and nonjudicial days, from the time said juvenile was taken into temporary custody. Thereafter an officer from said requesting county shall take custody of the minor within five days, in the county in which the minor is in temporary custody, and shall take the minor before the juvenile court judge who issued the warrant, or before some other juvenile court of the same county without unnecessary delay. If the minor is not brought before a judge of the juvenile court within the period prescribed by this section, he must be released from custody.

Article 7. Commencement of Proceedings

Commencement of proceedings

650. A proceeding in the juvenile court to declare a minor a ward or a dependent child of the court is commenced by the filing with the court, by the probation officer, of a petition, in conformity with the requirements of this article.

Venue

651. Either the juvenile court in the county in which a minor resides or in the county where the minor is found or in the county in which the acts take place or the circumstances exist which are alleged to bring such minor within the provisions of Sections 600, 601 or 602, is the proper court to commence proceedings under this chapter.

Investigations by probation officer

652. Whenever the probation officer has cause to believe that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a person within the provisions of Sections 600, 601 or 602, the probation officer shall immediately make such investigation as he deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court should be commenced.

Application to commence proceedings

653. Whenever any person applies to the probation officer to commence proceedings in the juvenile court, such application shall be in the form of an affidavit alleging that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a minor within the provisions of Sections 600, 601 or 602, or that a minor committed an offense described in Section 602 within the county, and setting forth facts in support thereof. The probation officer shall immediately make such investigation as he deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court should be commenced. If the probation officer does not take action under Section 654 and does not file a petition in the juvenile court within three weeks after such application, he shall endorse upon the affidavit of applicant his decision not to proceed further and his reasons therefor and shall immediately notify the applicant of the action taken or the decision rendered by him under this section. The probation officer shall retain the affidavit and his indorsement thereon for a period of 30 days after such notice to applicant.

Supervision of minor with consent of parent

654. In any case in which a probation officer, after investigation of an application for petition or other investigation he is authorized to make, concludes that a minor is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or will probably soon be within such jurisdiction, he may, in lieu of filing a petition, and with consent of the minor's parent or guardian, undertake a program of supervision of the minor, for not to exceed six months, and attempt thereby to adjust the situation which brings the minor within the jurisdiction of the court or creates the probability that he will soon be within such jurisdiction. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the probation officer from filing a petition at any time within said six-month period.

Failure to commence proceedings Petition to court

655. When any person has applied to the probation officer, pursuant to Section 653, to commence juvenile court proceedings and the probation officer fails to file a petition and fails to take action under Section 654 within three weeks after such application, such person may, within one month after making such application, apply to the juvenile court to review the decision of the probation officer, and the court may either affirm the decision of the probation officer or order him to commence juvenile court proceedings.

Contents of petition

656. A petition to commence proceedings in the juvenile court to declare a minor a ward or a dependent child of the court shall be verified and must contain:

(a) The name of the court to which the same is addressed.

(b) The title of the proceeding.

(c) The code section or sections and subdivision or subdivisions under which the proceedings are instituted.

(d) The name, age, and address, if any, of the minor upon whose behalf the petition is brought.

(e) The name or names and residence address, if known to petitioner, of all parents and guardians of such minor. If there is no parent or guardian residing within the State, or if his place of residence is not known to petitioner, the petition must also contain the name and residence address, if known, of any adult relative residing within the county, or, if there be none, the adult relative residing nearest to the location of the court.

(f) A concise statement of facts, separately stated, to support the conclusion that the minor upon whose behalf the petition is being brought is a person within the definition of each of the sections and subdivisions under which the proceedings are being instituted.

(g) The fact that the minor upon whose behalf the petition is brought is detained in custody or is not detained in custody and, if he is detained in custody, the date on which such detention was ordered by the court.

Setting for hearing

657. Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the juvenile court shall set the same for hearing within 30 days, except that in the case of a minor detained in custody at the time of the filing of the petition, the petition must be set for hearing within 15 judicial days from the date of the order of the court directing such detention.

Notice of filing of petition

658 Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the juvenile court shall issue a notice, to which shall be attached a copy of the petition, and he shall cause the same to be served upon each of the persons described in subsection (e) of Section 656 whose residence addresses are set forth in said petition and thereafter before the hearing upon all such persons whose residence addresses become known to the clerk.

659. The notice must contain:

Contents of notice

(a) The name and address of the person to whom the notice is directed.

(b) The date, time, and place of the hearing on the petition.

(c) The name of the minor upon whose behalf the petition has been brought.

(d) Each section and subdivision under which the proceeding has been instituted.

(e) A statement that the minor, or his parent or guardian, is entitled to have his attorney present at the hearing on the petition, and that, if the parent or guardian is indigent and cannot afford an attorney, and the minor or his parent or guardian desires to be represented by an attorney, such parent or guardian shall promptly notify the clerk of the juvenile court.

Service of notice

660. If a person upon whom a notice and copy of the petition is required to be served is known to reside in the county, the clerk of the juvenile court shall cause the notice and copy of the petition to be personally served on such person as soon as possible after filing of the petition and at least 24 hours before the time set for the hearing on the petition. If such person is known to reside outside of the county, the clerk of the juvenile court shall mail the notice and copy of the petition, by certified mail, to such person, as soon as possible after filing of the petition and at least five days before the time set for the hearing on the petition. Personal service of the notice and copy of the petition outside of the county at least five days before the time set for the hearing on the petition is equivalent to service by certified mail. Service may be waived by any person by a voluntary appearance entered in the minutes of the court or by a written waiver of service filed with the clerk of the court at or prior to the hearing.

Citations directing appearance

661. In addition to the notice provided in Sections 658 and 659, the juvenile court may issue its citation directing any parent or guardian of the person concerning whom a petition has been filed to appear at the time and place set for any hearing under the provisions of this chapter, including a hearing under the provisions of Section 563, and directing any person having custody or control of the minor concerning whom the petition has been filed to bring such minor with him. Personal service of such citation shall be made at least 24 hours before the time stated therein for such appearance.

Warrant

662. In case such citation cannot be served, or the person served fails to obey it, or in any case in which it appears to the court that the citation will probably be ineffective, a warrant of arrest may issue on the order of the court either against the parent, or guardian, or the person having the custody of the minor, or with whom the minor is

Warrant for arrest of minor

663. Whenever a petition has been filed in the juvenile court alleging that a minor comes within the provisions of Section 601 or 602 of this code and praying for a hearing thereon, or whenever any subsequent petition has been filed praying for a hearing in the matter of said minor and it appears to the court that the conduct and behavior of the said minor may endanger the health, person, welfare, or property of himself or others, or that the circumstances of his home environment may endanger the health, person, welfare or property of said minor, a warrant of arrest may be issued immediately for the minor.

Subpoenas

664. Upon request of the probation officer, the minor or the minor's parent, guardian, or custodian, the court or the clerk of the court shall issue, and, on the court's own motion, it may issue subpoenas requiring attendance and testimony of witnesses and production of papers at any hearing under the provisions of this chapter.

Article 8. Hearings

Special or separate session of court

675. All cases under the provisions of this chapter shall be heard at a special or separate session of the court, and no other matter shall be heard at such session. No person on trial, awaiting trial, or under accusation of crime, other than a parent, guardian, or relative of the minor, shall be permitted to be present at any such session, except as a witness

Private hearings

676. Unless requested by the minor concerning whom the petition has been filed and any parent or guardian present, the public shall not be admitted to a juvenile court hearing. The judge or referee may nevertheless admit such persons as he deems to have a direct and legitimate interest in the particular case or the work of the court.

Transcript of testimony, etc.

677. At any juvenile court hearing conducted by a juvenile court judge, an official court reporter shall, and at any such hearing conducted by a juvenile court referee, the official reporter, as directed by the court, may take down in shorthand all the testimony and all of the statements and remarks of the judge and all persons appearing at the hearing; and, if directed by the judge, or requested by the person on whose behalf the petition was brought, or by his parent or legal guardian, or the attorneys of such persons, he must, within such reasonable time after the hearing of the petition as the court may designate, write out the same or such specific portions thereof as may be requested in plain and legible longhand or by typewriter or other printing machine and certify to the same as being correctly reported and transcribed, and when directed by the court, file the same with the clerk of the court. Unless otherwise directed by the judge, the costs of writing out and transcribing all or any portion of the reporter's shorthand notes shall be paid in advance at the rates fixed for transcriptions in a civil action by the person requesting the same.

Variance and amendment

678. The provisions of Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 469) of Title 6 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to variance and amendment of pleadings in civil actions shall apply to petitions and proceedings under this chapter, to the same extent and with the same effect as if proceedings under this chapter were civil actions.

Those entitled to be present

679. A minor who is the subject of a juvenile court hearing and any person entitled to notice of the hearing under the provisions of Section 658, is entitled to be present at such hearing. Any such minor and any such person has the right to be represented at such hearing by counsel of his own choice.

Control of proceedings

680. The judge of the juvenile court shall control all proceedings during the hearings with a view to the expeditious and effective ascertainment of the jurisdictional facts and the ascertainment of all information relative to the present condition and future welfare of the person upon whose behalf the petition is brought. Except where there is a contested issue of fact or law, the proceedings shall be conducted in an informal nonadversary atmosphere with a view to obtaining the maximum co-operation of the minor upon whose behalf the petition is brought and all persons interested in his welfare with such provisions as the court may make for the disposition and care of such minor.

Hearing: Procedure

700. At the beginning of the hearing on a petition filed pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 650), the judge or clerk shall first read the petition to those present and upon request of the minor upon whose behalf the petition has been brought or upon the request of any parent, relative or guardian, the judge shall explain any term of allegation contained therein and the nature of the hearing, its procedures, and possible consequences. The judge shall ascertain whether the minor or his parent or guardian has been informed of the right of the minor to be represented by counsel, and if not, the judge shall advise the minor and the parent or guardian, if present, of the right to have counsel present. If the parent or guardian is indigent and desires to have the minor represented by counsel, the court may appoint counsel to represent the minor, and in such case the court must appoint counsel if the minor is charged with misconduct which would constitute a felony if committed by an adult. The court may continue the hearing for not to exceed seven days, as necessary to make an appointment of counsel, or to enable counsel to acquaint himself with the case, or to determine whether the parent or guardian is indigent and unable to afford counsel at his own expense.

Evidence of jurisdiction

701. At the hearing, the court shall first consider only the question whether the minor is a person described by Sections 600, 601, or 602, and for this purpose, any matter or information relevant and material to the circumstances or acts which are alleged to bring him within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court is admissible and may be received in evidence; however, a preponderance of evidence, legally admissible in the trial of criminal cases, must be adduced to support a finding that the minor is a person described by Section 602, and a preponderance of evidence, legally admissible in the trial of civil cases must be adduced to support a finding that the minor is a person described by Sections 600 or 601. When it appears that the minor has made an extrajudicial admission or confession and denies the same at the hearing, the court may continue the hearing for not to exceed seven days to enable the probation officer to subpoena witnesses to attend the hearing to prove the allegations of the petition. If the minor is not represented by counsel at the hearing, it shall be deemed that objections that could have been made to the evidence were made.

Continuance

Finding of jurisdiction

702. After hearing such evidence, the court shall make a finding, noted in the minutes of the court, whether or not the minor is a person described by Sections 600, 601, or 602. If it finds that the minor is not such a person, it shall order that the petition be dismissed and the minor be discharged from any detention or restriction theretofore ordered. If the court finds that the minor is such a person, it shall make and enter its finding and judgment accordingly and shall then proceed to hear evidence on the question of the proper disposition to be made of the minor. Prior to doing so, it may continue the hearing, if necessary, to receive the social study of the probation officer or to receive other evidence on its own motion or the motion of a parent or guardian for not to exceed 10 judicial days if the minor is detained during such continuance, provided, however, such hearing shall not be continued for more than five judicial days if the minor has been detained for more than 10 judicial days prior to the hearing set pursuant to Section 657, or, if the minor is not detained, it may continue the hearing to a date not later than 30 days after the date of filing of the petition The court may, for good cause shown continue the hearing for an additional 15 days, if the minor is not detained. The court may make such order for detention of the minor or his release from detention, during the period of the continuance, as is appropriate.

Continuance

Mental health of minor Observation by Department of Mental Health

703 If the court, after finding that the minor is a person described by Sections 600, 601, or 602, is in doubt concerning the state of mental health or the mental condition of the person, the court may continue the hearing and commit the person to the Department of Mental Hygiene for placement in a state hospital or state home for the mentally deficient for an indeterminate period of not more than 90 days, for observation of the mental health or the mental condition of the person and recommendations concerning his future care, supervision, and treatment. If the Department of Mental Hygiene has designated a particular state institution to receive minors so committed for observation, all commitments shall be made to the department for placement in the institution so designated. The superintendent of the institution to which the minor is so committed shall receive him, unless the institution is already full or the funds available for its support are exhausted, or if, in the opinion of the superintendent, the person is not a suitable subject for admission. Before such person is conveyed to the institution, it shall be ascertained from the superintendent thereof if the person may be accepted as herein set forth.

For each minor person so committed for observation, the county from which he is committed shall pay the State at the rate of forty dollars ($40) per month for the time the person so committed remains in the state institution for observation. Such expense shall be considered expense of support and maintenance within the meaning of Article 16, (commencing with Section 900) and the county shall be entitled to reimbursement therefor from the earnings, property, or estate of the minor, or from his parents, guardian, or other person liable for his support and maintenance, in accordance with the provisions of that article. Each county auditor shall include in his state settlement report rendered to the Controller in the months of January and June and the amount due under the provisions of this section, and the county treasurer, at the time of settlement with the State in such months, shall pay to the State Treasurer, upon the order of the Controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of such commitments.

The medical superintendent or other person in charge of the state hospital or state home for the mentally deficient in which a minor person is placed for observation pursuant to this section shall, as soon as possible and within 90 days, examine the person to determine the state of his mental health or his mental condition, and submit to the juvenile court a report on the state of his mental health or mental condition which shall include a diagnosis of the nature of his mental illness or disability, if any, and recommendations concerning his future care, supervision, and treatment.

If the medical superintendent or other person in charge of the state institution in which the minor has been placed for observation reports to the court that the minor is not affected with any mental illness, disorder, or other mental disability for which he might be committed to the Department of Mental Hygiene for placement in any state institution under Division 6 (commencing with Section 5000) of this code, such superintendent or other person in charge of the state institution shall return the minor to the juvenile court within seven days after the date of the report and the court shall proceed with the case in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

When the juvenile court directs the filing in any other court of a petition for the commitment of a minor to the Department of Mental Hygiene for placement in any state institution, the juvenile court shall transmit to the court in which the petition is filed a copy of the report of the medical superintendent or other person in charge of the state institution in which the minor was placed for observation. The court in which the petition for commitment is filed may accept the report of the medical superintendent or other person in charge of the state institution in lieu of the appointment, certificate, and testimony of medical examiners or other expert witnesses appointed by the court, if the laws applicable to such commitment proceedings provide for the appointment by court of medical examiners or other expert witnesses or may consider the report as evidence in addition to the certificates and testimony of medical examiners or other expert witnesses.

The jurisdiction of the juvenile court over the minor shall be suspended during such time as the minor is subject to the jurisdiction of the court in which the petition for commitment is filed or under commitment ordered by that court.

Treatment by the Youth Authority

704. (a) If the court, after determining that a minor is a person described by Sections 600, 601, or 602, concludes that a disposition of the case in the best interest of the minor requires such observation and diagnosis as can be made at a diagnostic and treatment center of the Youth Authority, it may continue the hearing and order that such minor be placed temporarily in such a center for a period not to exceed 90 days, with the further provision in such order that the Director of the Youth Authority report to the court its diagnosis and recommendations concerning the minor within the 90-day period.

(b) The Director of Youth Authority shall, within the 90 days, cause the minor to be observed and examined and shall forward to the court his diagnosis and recommendation concerning such minor's future care, supervision, and treatment.

(c) The Youth Authority shall accept such person if there is in effect a contract made pursuant to Section 1752.1 and if it believes that the person can be materially benefited by such diagnostic and treatment services, and if the Director of the Youth Authority certifies that staff and institutions are available. No such person shall be transported to any facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority until the director has notified the referring court of the place to which said person is to be transported and the time at which he can be received.

(d) The probation officer of the county in which an order is made placing a minor in a diagnostic and treatment center pursuant to this section, or any other peace officer designated by the court, shall execute the order placing such minor in the center or returning him therefrom to the court. The expense of such probation officer or other peace officer incurred in executing such order is a charge upon the county in which the court is situated.

Observation in psychopathic ward

705. Whenever the court, during the hearing on the petition, is of the opinion that the minor is mentally ill or if the court is in doubt concerning the mental health of any such person, the court may order that such person be held temporarily in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital for observation and recommendation concerning the future care, supervision, and treatment of such person.

Evidence as to proper disposition of minor

706. After finding that a minor is a person described in Sections 600, 601, or 602, the court shall hear evidence on the question of the proper disposition to be made of the minor. The court shall receive in evidence the social study of the minor made by the probation officer and such other relevant and material evidence as may be offered, and in any judgment and order of disposition, shall state the social study made by the probation officer has been read and considered by the court.

Felonies under the general law

707. At any time during a hearing upon a petition alleging that a minor is a person described in Section 602, when substantial evidence has been adduced to support a finding that the offense alleged is punishable as a felony under the general law, and that the minor was 16 years of age or older at the time of the alleged commission of such offense, and that the minor would not be amenable to the care, treatment and training program available through the facilities of the juvenile court, the court may make a finding noted in the minutes of the court that the minor is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under this chapter, and the court shall direct the district attorney to prosecute the person under general law and thereafter dismiss the petition or, if a prosecution has been commenced in another court but has been suspended while juvenile court proceedings are held, shall dismiss the petition and issue its order directing that the other court proceedings resume.

A denial by the person on whose behalf the petition is brought of any or all of the facts or conclusions set forth therein or of any inference to be drawn therefrom is not, of itself, sufficient to support a finding that such person is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the provisions of the juvenile court law.

Article 9. Judgments and Orders

Judgment

725. After receiving and considering the evidence on the proper disposition of the case, the court may enter judgment as follows:

(a) If the court has found that the minor is a person described by Sections 601 or 602, it may, without adjudging such minor a ward of the court, place, the minor on probation for a period not to exceed six months.

(b) If the court has found that the minor is a person described by Sections 601 or 602, it may order and adjudge the minor to be a ward of the court.

(c) If the court has found that the minor is a person described by Section 600, it may order and adjudge the minor to be a dependent child of the court.

Limitation of control over minor

726. In all cases wherein a minor is adjudged a ward or dependent child of the court, the court may limit the control to be exercised over such ward or dependent child by any parent or guardian and shall by its order clearly and specifically set forth all such limitations, but no ward or dependent child shall be taken from the physical custody of a parent or guardian unless upon the hearing the court finds one of the following facts:

Requirement of physical custody

(a) That the parent or guardian is incapable of providing or has failed or neglected to provide proper maintenance, training, and education for the minor.

(b) That the minor has been tried on probation in such custody and has failed to reform.

(c) That the welfare of the minor requires that his custody be taken from his parent or guardian.

Orders for care, supervision, etc.

727. When a minor is adjudged a dependent child of the court, on the ground that he is a person described by Section 600, the court may make any and all reasonable orders for the care, supervision, custody, conduct, maintenance, and support of such minor, including medical treatment, subject to further order of the court.

The court may order the care, custody, control and conduct of such minor to be under the supervision of the probation officer or may commit such minor to the care, custody and control of:

(a) Some reputable person of good moral character who consents to such commitment.

(b) Some association, society, or corporation embracing within its objects the purpose of caring for such minors, with the consent of such association, society, or corporation.

(c) The probation officer, to be boarded out or placed in some suitable family home, subject to the requirements of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1620) of Part 3 of Division 2; provided, however, that pending action by the State Department of Social Welfare, the placement of a minor in a home certified as meeting minimum standards for boarding homes by the probation officer shall be legal for all purposes.

(d) Any other public agency organized to provide care for needy or neglected children.

Periodic reports by probation officers, etc.

728. The court may require the probation officer or any other agency to render such periodic reports concerning minors committed to its care, custody, and control under the provisions of paragraphs (c) or (d) of Section 727 as the court may deem necessary or desirable, and the court may require that the probation officer, or may, with the consent of such other public agency, provide that any other public agency organized to provide care for needy or neglected children, shall perform such visitation and make such periodic reports to the courts concerning minors committed under such provisions as the court may deem necessary or desirable.

Periodic review of orders

729. Every order adjudging a minor a dependent child of the juvenile court pursuant to Section 600 shall be reviewed at least annually and every such order continuing such status and all orders made in the proceeding shall terminate one year after the order adjudging the minor to be a dependent child or continuing such status, unless prior to such time the court shall have conducted a hearing and ordered a continuation of such status for an additional year.

A proceeding for continuance of such status shall be commenced by the filing of a supplemental petition by the probation officer in the same matter. Copies of the petition and notice of the hearing shall be served upon the same persons and in the same manner as in an original proceeding.

Treatment or commitment

730. When a minor is adjudged a ward of the court on the ground that he is a person described by Section 601, the court may order any of the types of treatment referred to in Section 727, and as an additional alternative, may commit the minor to a county juvenile home, ranch, camp, or forestry camp.

When such ward is placed under the supervision of the probation officer or committed to his care, custody and control, the court may make any and all reasonable orders for the conduct of such ward including the requirement that he go to work and earn money for the support of his dependents or to effect reparation and in either case that he keep an account of his earnings and report the same to the probation officer and apply such earnings as directed by the court. The court may impose and require any and all reasonable conditions that it may determine fitting and proper to the end that justice may be done and the reformation and rehabilitation of the ward enhanced.

Such ward may be committed to the Youth Authority only upon a proceeding for the modification of an order of the court conducted pursuant to the provisions of Section 777.

Same

731. When a minor is adjudged a ward of the court on the ground that he is a person described by Section 602, the court may order any of the types of treatment referred to in Sections 727 and 730, and as an additional alternative, may commit the minor to the Youth Authority.

Ascertainment of available space

732. Before a minor is conveyed to any state or county institution pursuant to this article, it shall be ascertained from the superintendent thereof that such person can be received.

Commitment to Youth Authority: Limitation

733. No ward of the juvenile court who is under the age of eight years, and no such ward who is suffering from any contagious, infectious, or other disease which would probably endanger the lives or health of the other inmates of any state school shall be committed to the Youth Authority.

Same

734. No ward of the juvenile court shall be committed to the Youth Authority unless the judge of the court is fully satisfied that the mental and physical condition and qualifications of the ward are such as to render it probable that he will be benefited by the reformatory educational discipline or other treatment provided by the Youth Authority.

Summary of facts

735. Accompanying the commitment papers, the court shall send to the Director of the Youth Authority a summary of all the facts in the possession of the court, covering the history of the ward committed and a statement of the mental and physical condition of the ward.

Acceptance by Youth Authority

736 (a) The Youth Authority shall accept a person committed to it pursuant to this article if it believes that the person can be materially benefited by its reformatory and educational discipline, and if it has adequate facilities to provide such care. No such person shall be transported to any facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority until the director thereof has notified the committing court of the place to which said person is to be transported and the time at which he can be received.

(b) The Youth Authority shall also accept a person committed to it pursuant to this article, provided that the Director of the Youth Authority certifies that staff and institutions are available (a) if he is a borderline psychiatric or borderline mentally deficient case, (b) if he is a sex deviate unless he is of a type whose presence in the community, under parole supervision, would present a menace to the public welfare, or (c) if he suffers from a primary behavior disorder. No such person shall be transported to any facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority until the director thereof has notified the committing court of the place to which such person is to be transported and the time at which he can be received. To implement the administration of this paragraph, the Director of the Youth Authority and the Director of Mental Hygiene shall, at least annually, confer and establish policy with respect to the types of cases which should be the responsibility of each department.

Detention

737. Whenever a person has been adjudged a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court and has been committed or otherwise disposed of as provided in this chapter for the care of wards or dependent children of the juvenile court, the court may order that said ward or dependent child be detained in the detention home, or in the case of a ward of the age of 18 years or more, in the county jail or otherwise as to the court seems fit until the execution of the order of commitment or of other disposition.

Nonresident minors

738. In a case where the residence of a minor placed on probation under the provisions of Section 725 or of a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court is out of the State and in another state or foreign country, or in a case where such minor is a resident of this State but his parents, relatives, guardian, or person charged with his custody is in another state, the court may order such minor sent to his parents, relatives, or guardian, or to the person charged with his custody, or, if the minor is a resident of a foreign country, to an official of a juvenile court of such foreign country or an agency of such country authorized to accept the minor, and in such case may order transportation and accommodation furnished, with or without an attendant, as the court deems necessary. If the court deems an attendant necessary, the court may order the probation officer or other suitable person to serve as such attendant. The probation officer shall authorize the necessary expenses of such minor and of the attendant and claims therefor shall be audited, allowed and paid in the same manner as other county claims.

Medical, etc., care

739. Whenever it appears to the juvenile court that any person concerning whom a petition has been filed in said court alleging that said person comes within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court is in need of medical, surgical, or dental care, and that there is no parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis capable or willing to authorize remedial care or treatment for such person, the court, upon the written recommendation of a qualified physician and after due notice to the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis, if any, may make an order authorizing the performance of the necessary medical, surgical, or dental care for said person and authorizing the release of information concerning such care to probation officers, parole officers, and any other qualified individuals or agencies caring for or acting in the interest and welfare of said person under order, commitment, or approval of the court. Nothing in this section, however, shall be construed as limiting the right of a parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis in providing any medical or other remedial treatment recognized or permitted under the laws of this State.

Same

740. Whenever a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court is placed by order of the court within the care and custody or under the supervision of the probation office of the county in which the ward or dependent child resides and it appears to the court that there is no parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis capable or willing to authorize remedial care or treatment for the ward or dependent child, the court may, after due notice to the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis, if any, order that the probation officer may authorize such medical, surgical, or dental care for the ward or dependent child, by licensed practitioners, as may from time to time appear necessary. Nothing heretofore stated in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of a parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis who has not been deprived of custody and control by order of the court in providing any medical or other remedial treatment recognized or permitted under the laws of this State. If the written report of a duly licensed physician indicates that immediate emergency medical or surgical care is required, the juvenile court may make an order authorizing the necessary medical or surgical care without notice to the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis.

Services of experts

741. The juvenile court may, in any case before it in which a petition has been filed as provided in Article 7 (commencing with Section 650), order that the probation officer obtain the services of such psychiatrists, psychologists, or other clinical experts as may be required to assist in determining the appropriate treatment of the minor and as may be required in the conduct or implementation of such treatment. Payment for such services shall be a charge against the county.

Article 10. Transfer of Cases Between Counties

Transfer of cases

750. Whenever a petition is filed in the juvenile court of a county other than the residence of the person named in the petition, or whenever, subsequent to the filing of a petition in the juvenile court of the county where such person resides, the residence of such person is changed to another county, the entire case may be transferred to the juvenile court of the county wherein such person then resides at any time after the court has made a finding of the facts upon which it has exercised its jurisdiction over such person, and the juvenile court of the county wherein such person then resides shall take jurisdiction of the case upon the filing with it of such finding of the facts and an order transferring the case.

Expenses

751. The expense of the transfer and all expenses in connection with the transfer and for the support and maintenance of such person shall be paid from the county treasury of the court ordering the transfer until the acceptance of the transfer by the juvenile court of the transferee county.

The judge shall inquire into the financial condition of such person and of the parent, parents, guardian, or other person charged with his support and maintenance, and if he finds such person, parent, parents, guardian, or other person able, in whole or in part, to pay the expense of such transfer, he shall make a further order requiring such person, parent, parents, guardian, or other person to repay to the county such part, or all, of such expense of transfer as, in the opinion of the court, is proper. Such repayment shall be made to the probation officer who shall keep suitable accounts of such expenses and repayments and shall deposit all such collections in the county treasury.

Contents of transfer order

752. Whenever a case is transferred as provided in Section 750, the order of transfer shall recite (a) each and all of the findings, orders, or modification of orders that have been made in the case, and (b) that the person transferred resides in the county to which the matter has been transferred. A certified copy of the original petition in the matter shall be attached to the order of transfer. Such transfer shall be accompanied by a summary of all the facts in the possession of the court or juvenile probation officer covering the history of the person.

Precedence of actions

753. Whenever an order of transfer from another county is filed with the clerk of any juvenile court, the clerk shall place the transfer order on the calendar of the court, and it shall have precedence over all actions and civil proceedings not specifically given precedence by other provisions of law and shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible moment following the filing of the order.

Parties to proceeding Right to appeal

754. In any action under the provisions of this article in which the residence of a minor person is determined, both the county in which the court is situated and any other county which, as a result of the determination of residence, might be determined to be the county of residence of the minor person, shall be considered to be parties in the action and shall have the right to appeal any order by which residence of the minor person is determined.

Residence of person on probation

755. Any person placed on probation by the juvenile court or adjudged to be a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court may be permitted by order of the court to reside in a county other than the county of his legal residence, and the court shall retain jurisdiction over such person.

Whenever a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court is permitted to reside in a county other than the county of his legal residence, he may be placed under the supervision of the probation officer of the county of actual residence, with the consent of such probation officer. The ward or dependent child shall comply with the instructions of such probation officer and upon failure to do so shall be returned to the county of his legal residence for further hearing and order of the court.

Article 11. Modification of Juvenile Court Judgments and Orders

775. Any order made by the court in the case of any person subject to its jurisdiction may at any time be changed, modified, or set aside, as the judge deems meet and proper, subject to such procedural requirements as are imposed by this article.

Notice of modification, etc

776. No order changing, modifying, or setting aside a previous order of the juvenile court shall be made either in chambers, or otherwise, unless prior notice of the application therefor has been given by the judge or the clerk of the court to the probation officer and to the minor's counsel of record, or, if there is no counsel of record, to the minor and his parent or guardian.

Hearing on supplemental petition

777. An order changing or modifying a previous order by removing a minor from the physical custody of a parent, guardian, relative or friend and directing placement in a foster home, or commitment to a private institution or commitment to a county institution, or an order changing or modifying a previous order by directing commitment to the Youth Authority shall be made only after noticed hearing upon a supplemental petition.

(a) The supplemental petition shall be filed by the probation officer in the original matter and shall contain a concise statement of facts sufficient to support the conclusion that the previous disposition has not been effective in the rehabilitation of the minor.

(b) Upon the filing of such supplemental petition, the clerk of the juvenile court shall immediately set the same for hearing within 30 days, and the probation officer shall cause notice thereof to be served upon the persons and in the manner prescribed by Sections 658 and 660.

Petition for modification

778. Any parent or other person having an interest in a child who is a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court or the child himself through a properly appointed guardian may, upon grounds of change of circumstance or new evidence, petition the court in the same action in which the child was found to be a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court for a hearing to change, modify, or set aside any order of court previously made or to terminate the jurisdiction of the court. The petition shall be verified and, if made by a person other than the child, shall state the petitioner's relationship to or interest in the child and shall set forth in concise language any change of circumstance or new evidence which are alleged to require such change of order or termination of jurisdiction.

If it appears that the best interests of the child may be promoted by the proposed change of order or termination of jurisdiction, the court shall order that a hearing be held and shall prescribe how and to whom notice of said hearing shall be given.

Notice to Youth Authority

779. The court committing a ward to the Youth Authority may thereafter change, modify, or set aside the order of commitment. Ten days' notice of the hearing of the application therefor shall be served by United States mail upon the Director of the Youth Authority. In changing, modifying, or setting aside such order of commitment, the court shall give due consideration to the effect thereof upon the discipline and parole system of the Youth Authority or of the correctional school in which the ward may have been placed by the Youth Authority. Except as in this section provided, nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to interfere with the system of parole and discharge now or hereafter established by law, or by rule of the Youth Authority, for the parole and discharge of wards of the juvenile court committed to the Youth Authority, or with the management of any school, institution, or facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority. Except as in this section provided, nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to interfere with the system of transfer between institutions and facilities under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority.

However, before any inmate of a correctional school may be transferred to a state hospital, he shall first be returned to a court of competent jurisdiction and, after hearing, may be committed to a state hospital for the insane in accordance with law

Return of person by Youth Authority

780. If any person who has been committed to the Youth Authority appears to be an improper person to be received by or retained in any institution or facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority or to be so incorrigible or so incapable of reformation under the discipline of any institution or facility under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority as to render his retention detrimental to the interests of the Youth Authority, the Youth Authority may return such person to the committing court. However, the return of any person to the committing court does not relieve the Youth Authority of any of its duties or responsibilities under the original commitment, and such commitment continues in full force and effect until it is vacated, modified, or set aside by order of the court.

When any such person is so returned to the committing court, his transportation shall be made, and the compensation therefor paid, as provided for the execution of an order of commitment.

781. In any case in which a person has been adjudged a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court, such person, or the county probation officer, may, five years or more after the jurisdiction of the juvenile court has terminated as to such person, petition the court for expungement of the records, including records of arrest, relating to such person's case in the custody of the juvenile court and probation officer and such other agencies, including law enforcement agencies, and public officials, as petitioner alleges, in his petition, to have custody of such records. The court shall notify the district attorney of the county and the county probation officer, if he is not the petitioner of the petition, and such district attorney or probation officer or any of their deputies or any other person having relevant evidence may testify at the hearing on the petition. If, after hearing, the court finds that since such termination of jurisdiction he has not been convicted of a felony or of any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude and that rehabilitation has been attained to the satisfaction of the court, it shall order expunged all records, papers, and exhibits in such person's case in the custody of the juvenile court, including the juvenile court record, minute book entries, and entries on dockets, and other records relating to the case in the custody of such other agencies and officials as are named in the order. Thereafter the proceedings in such case shall be deemed never to have occurred. The court shall send a copy of the order to each agency and official named therein, and each such agency and official shall expunge records in its custody as directed by the order.

Article 12. Appeals

Appeal

800. A judgment or decree of a juvenile court assuming jurisdiction and declaring any person to be a person described in Section 600, 601, or 602, or on denying a motion made pursuant to Section 567, may be appealed from in the same manner as any final judgment, and any subsequent order may be appealed from as from an order after judgment; but no such order or judgment shall be stayed by such appeal, unless suitable provision is made for the maintenance, care, and custody of such person pending the appeal, and unless such provision is approved by an order of the juvenile court. Such appeal shall have precedence over all other cases in the court to which the appeal is taken.

Article 13. Records

Record

825. The order and findings of the superior court in each case under the provisions of this chapter shall be entered in a suitable book or other form of written record which shall be kept for that purpose and known as the "juvenile court record."

Destruction of records

826. After five years from the date on which the jurisdiction of the juvenile court over a minor is terminated, the judge or clerk of the juvenile court, or the probation officer, may destroy all records, papers, and exhibits in the proceedings concerning the minor. For the purposes of this section, "destroy" means destroy or dispose of for the purpose of destruction.

The juvenile court record, any minute book entries, dockets, and judgment dockets shall not be destroyed and shall constitute for all purposes the record in lieu of the records, papers, and exhibits destroyed.

Secrecy of reports

827. A petition filed in any juvenile court proceeding and any reports of the probation officer filed in any such case may be inspected only by court personnel, the minor who is the subject of the proceeding, his parents or guardian, and the attorneys for such parties, and such other persons as may be designated by the judge of the juvenile court.

Article 14. Juvenile Halls

Juvenile halls

850. The board of supervisors in every county shall provide and maintain, at the expense of the county, in a location approved by the judge of the juvenile court or in counties having more than one judge of the juvenile court, by the presiding judge of the juvenile court, a suitable house or place for the detention of wards and dependent children of the juvenile court and of persons alleged to come within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. Such house or place shall be known as the "juvenile hall" of the county. Wherever, in any provision of law, reference is made to detention homes for juveniles, such reference shall be deemed and construed to refer to the juvenile halls provided for in this article.

Connection with jail

851. The juvenile hall shall not be in, or connected with, any jail or prison, and shall not be deemed to be nor be treated as a penal institution. It shall be conducted in all respects as nearly like a home as possible.

Management and control

852. The juvenile hall shall be under the management and control of the probation officer.

Superintendent and employees

853. The board of supervisors shall provide for a suitable superintendent to have charge of the juvenile hall, and for such other employees as may be needed for its efficient management, and shall provide for payment, out of the general fund of the county, of suitable salaries for such superintendent and other employees.

854. The superintendent and other employees of the juvenile hall shall be appointed by the probation officer, pursuant to a civil service or merit system, and may be removed, for cause, pursuant to such system. Same Civil service

855. The probation officer shall keep a classified list of expenses for the operation of the juvenile hall and shall file a duplicate copy with the county board of supervisors. Expenses

856. The board of supervisors may provide for the establishment and maintenance of an elementary public school and of a secondary public school in connection with the juvenile hall for the education of the children in the juvenile hall. The board, by ordinance, may provide for the establishment and maintenance of school facilities in the juvenile hall, and such schools shall be maintained by the respective governing boards of the elementary school district and of the high school district in which the juvenile hall is situated. School system in connection with juvenile halls

857. The board of supervisors may, by ordinance, provide that schools established and maintained pursuant to Section 856 shall be maintained by the county superintendent of schools in which case the county board of education shall have the same powers and duties with respect to such schools as the governing board of a school district would have were said schools maintained by the school district under the provisions of this article. The board of supervisors shall have the power to review and approve any budget proposing expenditures for the operation of such schools and may revise it to the extent deemed necessary. Same

858. Such schools shall be conducted in the same manner and under the same conditions, as nearly as possible, as are other elementary and secondary schools of the school districts, except that they shall not be closed on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of any week during the calendar year, except on school holidays, the day or days in which the teachers' institute is in session, and the week in which Christmas Day occurs. Each school board, however, may close its school when it deems such closing necessary. Same

859. Whenever such schools have been established in accordance with the provisions of Section 856, the board of supervisors shall provide suitable grounds, buildings, furnishings, supplies and equipment for the school, and shall lease the same on or before July 1 at a nominal rental to the school districts in which such juvenile hall is situated. The board shall make an agreement with the governing bodies of such school districts to transfer from the general fund of the county to the current expense fund of each district one thousand six hundred dollars ($1,600) for each teacher employed in such juvenile hall school for the first school year. The transfer of funds shall be made on or before the first Monday in January. Same: Rental Teachers

860. The governing bodies of the school district shall provide all supplies for their respective schools and shall furnish such teachers as are needed to conduct accredited schools. The Supplies and teachers

Transfers to general fund of school districts

861. The board of supervisors of the county shall agree with the governing board of each of the respective districts in which the juvenile hall is located to transfer from the general fund of the county to the general fund of such districts such sums in excess of the amount of money received from the State by each district as are necessary to maintain its school in the juvenile hall.

Joint juvenile halls

870. Two or more counties may, pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 6500) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, establish and operate a joint juvenile hall. A joint juvenile hall shall be under the management and control of the probation officers of the participating counties, acting jointly, or of one of such probation officers, as provided by the agreement among the counties, and shall be in the charge of a superintendent selected pursuant to a civil service or merit system. A joint juvenile hall shall be operated in the manner prescribed by this chapter for juvenile halls.

A county participating in the maintenance of a joint juvenile hall pursuant to this section need not maintain a separate juvenile hall.

Article 15. Juvenile Homes, Ranches and Camps

Juvenile homes, ranches or camps

880. In order to provide appropriate facilities for the housing of wards of the juvenile court in the counties of their residence or in adjacent counties so that such wards may be kept under direct supervision of said court, and in order to more advantageously apply the salutary effect of home and family environment upon them, and also in order to secure a better classification and segregation of such wards according to their capacities, interests, and responsiveness to control and responsibility, and to give better opportunity for reform and encouragement of self-discipline in such wards, juvenile homes, ranches, or camps may be established, as provided in this article.

Same

881. The board of supervisors of any county may, by ordinance, establish juvenile homes, ranches, camps, or forestry camps, within or without the county, to which persons made wards of the court on the ground of fitting the description in Section 601 or Section 602 may be committed. As far as possible, the provisions of this chapter relating to commitments to the probation officer shall apply to commitments to such juvenile homes, except that where any ward proves to be unfit to remain in any such home, in the opinion of the superintendent or director thereof, said superintendent or director shall make recommendation to the probation department for consideration for other commitment. Complete operation and authority for the administration shall be vested in the county.

Same Superintendent and employees

882. Such juvenile homes, ranches, camps or forestry camps shall be in charge of a superintendent or director and may be established in conjunction with the probation department, or in any manner determined by the county board of supervisors. Such superintendent or director and other persons employed at such homes or camps shall be appointed by the probation officer, subject to confirmation by the board of supervisors, of the county establishing such homes or camps.

Required labor

883. The wards committed to such homes, ranches, camps, or forestry camps may be required to labor on the buildings and grounds thereof, on the making of forest roads for fire prevention or firefighting, on forestation or reforestation of public lands, or on the making of firetrails or firebreaks, or in fire suppression, or to perform any other work or engage in any studies or activities on or off of the grounds of such homes, ranches, camps, or forestry camps prescribed by the probation department, subject to such approval as the county board of supervisors by ordinance requires. Whenever any boy committed to such camp is engaged in fire prevention work or the suppression of existing fires, he shall be subject to workmen's compensation benefits to the same extent as a county employee, and the board of supervisors shall provide and cover any such boy committed to such camp while performing such service, with accident, death and compensation insurance as is otherwise regularly provided for employees of the county.

Same: Wages

884. The board of supervisors may provide for the payment of wages and pay such wages from the treasury of such county to the wards for the work they do, the sums earned to be paid in reparation, or to the parents or dependents of the ward, or to the ward himself, in such manner and in such proportions as the court directs.

Minimum standards

885 The Youth Authority shall adopt and prescribe the minimum standards of, construction, operation, programs of education, and training and qualifications of personnel for such juvenile homes or camps. No county establishing or conducting such juvenile homes or camps shall be entitled to receive any state funds provided for in this article unless and until the minimum standards and qualifications referred to in this section are complied with by such county. Type and standards of construction shall be approved by the county architect's office, county department of public works, or such county department having jurisdiction over public construction.

Maximum number per camp

886. No juvenile home or camp established pursuant to the provisions of this article shall receive or contain more than 100 children at any one time.

State assistance

887. Where any such juvenile home or camp is established or is to be established, and where the minimum standards and qualifications provided for in Section 885 have been complied with by the county, the State of California, through the Youth Authority, out of any money herein appropriated, shall reimburse the county to the amount of one-half the cost of maintaining each child in such home or camp, but in no event shall such county receive more than ninety-five dollars ($95) per month per child.

Whenever a claim made by a county pursuant to this section covering a prior fiscal year is found to have been in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without necessity of applying the adjustment to the appropriation for the prior fiscal year.

Children from other counties

888. Any county establishing such juvenile home, ranch, or camp under the provisions of this article may, by mutual agreement, accept children committed to such home, ranch, or camp by the juvenile court of another county in the State and the State shall reimburse the county maintaining the home, ranch, or camp to the amount of one-half of the administrative cost of maintaining each child so committed. Payments received for the care of children from another county by a county operating a facility shall not be considered as a subvention to the county operating the facility for the purposes of determining the amount of state reimbursement. Two or more counties may, by mutual agreement, establish such juvenile homes or camps, and the rights granted and duties imposed by this article shall devolve upon such counties acting jointly. The provisions of this article shall not apply to any juvenile hall.

Schools

889. The board of supervisors may, by ordinance, direct the county superintendent of schools to establish and maintain public schools in any juvenile home or camp established in the county under this article of such grade or grades as may be, in the judgment of the county superintendent of schools, necessary. The board of supervisors shall provide suitable buildings and equipment for such schools.

Such school or schools when established shall be maintained, subject to and in accordance with all laws relating to schools maintained by a county superintendent of schools, in a juvenile hall under Article 14 (commencing with Section 850).

Same

890. The board of supervisors, in lieu of proceeding under Section 889, may provide for the establishment of an elementary public school and of a secondary public school in connection with a juvenile home, ranch or camp, for the education of children in the juvenile home, ranch or camp. The board, by ordinance, may provide for the establishment and maintenance of school facilities in the juvenile home, ranch, or camp, and such schools shall be maintained by the respective governing boards of the elementary school district and of the high school district in which the juvenile home, ranch, or camp is located.

Such school when established shall be maintained, subject to and in accordance with all laws relating to schools maintained by a school district, in a juvenile hall under Article 14 (commencing with Section 850).

Construction cost sharing

891. (a) From any state moneys made available to it for that purpose, the Youth Authority shall share in the cost pursuant to this article of the construction of juvenile homes, juvenile ranch camps, or forestry camps established after July 1, 1957, and for construction at existing juvenile homes, ranches, camps, or forestry camps, by counties which apply therefor.

"Construction" (b) "Construction," as used in this section, includes construction of new buildings and acquisition of existing buildings and initial equipment of any such buildings. It does not include architects' fees or the cost of land acquisition.

Maximum state assistance (c) The amount of state assistance which shall be provided to any county shall not exceed 50 percent of the project cost approved by the Youth Authority, and, in no event shall it exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000) per bed unit of the new juvenile home, juvenile ranch, camp, or forestry camp or per bed unit added to an existing juvenile home, juvenile ranch camp, or forestry camp, as the case may be. The construction project shall be deemed to have as many bed units as the number of persons it is designed to accommodate, not exceeding 100-bed units for any one project.

(d) Application for state assistance for construction funds under this article shall be made to the Youth Authority in the manner and form prescribed by the Youth Authority. The Youth Authority shall prescribe the time and manner of payment of state assistance, if granted.

Article 16. Support of Wards and Dependent Children

County payments for support 900. If it is necessary that provision be made for the expense of support and maintenance of a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court or of a minor person concerning whom a petition has been filed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, the order providing for the care and custody of such ward, dependent child or other minor person shall direct that the whole expense of support and maintenance of such ward, dependent child or other minor person, up to the amount of twenty dollars ($20) per month be paid from the county treasury and may direct that an amount up to any maximum amount per month established by the board of supervisors of the county be so paid. The board of supervisors of each county is hereby authorized to establish, either generally or for individual wards or dependent children or according to classes or groups of wards or dependent children, a maximum amount which the court may order the county to pay for such support and maintenance. All orders made pursuant to the provisions of this section shall state the amounts to be so paid from the county treasury, and such amounts shall constitute legal charges against the county.

Limitation Actual cost of maintenance 901. No order for payment shall be made in a sum in excess of the actual cost of supporting and maintaining the ward, dependent child or other minor person.

Additional amounts over county maximum 902. If it is found that the maximum amount established by the board of supervisors of the county is insufficient to pay the whole expense of support and maintenance of a ward, dependent child or other minor person, the court may order and direct that such additional amount as is necessary shall be paid out of the earnings, property, or estate of such ward, dependent child or other minor person, or by the parents or guardian of such ward, dependent child or other minor person, or by any other person liable for his support and maintenance, to the probation officer who shall in turn pay it to the person, association, or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining such ward, dependent child or other minor person.

Liability of parents

903. The father, mother, spouse, or other person liable for the support of a minor person, the estates of such persons, and the estate of such minor person, shall be liable for the cost of his care, support, and maintenance in any county institution in which he is placed, detained, or committed pursuant to the order of the juvenile court, or for the cost to the county in which the juvenile court making the order is located, of his care, support, and maintenance in any other place in which he is placed, detained, or committed pursuant to the order of the juvenile court. The liability of such persons (in this article called relatives) and estates shall be a joint and several liability.

Determination of cost

904 The monthly or daily cost for care, support, and maintenance of minor persons placed or detained in or committed to a county institution by order of a juvenile court shall be determined by the county auditor of the county in which the institution is located.

Reduction of liability

905. Except as otherwise ordered by the juvenile court, the probation officer or other county officer designated by the board of supervisors of the county may reduce, cancel, or remit the amount to be paid by the estate or the relatives, as the case may be, liable for the care, support, and maintenance of a minor person placed or detained in or committed to any county institution or other place pursuant to an order of the juvenile court of that county on satisfactory proof that the estate or relative, as the case may be, is unable to pay the cost of such care, support, and maintenance.

If the representative of the estate or the relative liable for the care, support, and maintenance of the minor claims that the minor's estate or relative is financially unable to pay the amounts established under this article for the care, support, and maintenance of the minor, he may make such claim in writing to the probation officer of the county in which the juvenile court making the order of placement, detention, or commitment is located. The probation officer shall, upon receipt of such a claim, make an investigation to determine whether the minor's estate or responsible relative is financially able to pay the said amounts established under this article, or any part thereof, and report the results of his investigation to the juvenile court. On receipt of the probation officer's report, the juvenile court shall hear and determine the claim, and may order that the representative of the estate or the relative pay all of the said amounts established under this article or any part thereof which the juvenile court finds that the estate or relative is financially able to pay.

Collection of costs

906. The probation officer or other county officer designated by the board of supervisors of the county shall collect all costs and charges mentioned in Section 903 or established by order of the juvenile court and may take such action in the name of the county as is necessary to effect their collection within or without the State.

Money, property, of minor

907. The probation officer or other county officer designated by the board of supervisors of the county shall, following entry of an order by the juvenile court in that county that a minor person be placed, or detained in, or committed to a county institution or other place, make investigation to determine the moneys, the property, or interest in property, if any, the minor person has, and whether he has a duly appointed and acting guardian to protect his property interests. The probation officer or other county officer shall also make an investigation to determine whether the minor person has any relative or relatives responsible under the provisions of Section 903 for the payment of the cost of care, support, and maintenance of such minor person, and shall ascertain the financial condition of such relative or relatives to determine whether in each case such relative or relatives are in fact financially able to pay such charges.

Execution

908. Where the juvenile court has ordered payment of money to be made for the cost of care, support or maintenance in any county institution or as reimbursement to the county for the expense of support and maintenance of any ward, dependent child or other minor person as provided in this article or as additional payment for the expense of support and maintenance of such ward, dependent child or other minor person to the person, association, or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining such ward, dependent child or other minor person, either from the earnings, property, or estate of such ward, dependent child or other minor person, or by his parents or guardian, or by any other person liable for his support, upon affidavit of the probation officer that any payment is due and has not been made, execution may issue for such payment upon the order and at the discretion of the court.

Discharge from accountability of probation officer

909. In any case in which the probation officer is charged with the duty of collecting amounts payable to the county under this article, upon the verified application of the probation officer, the board of supervisors may make an order discharging the probation officer from further accountability for the collection of any such amount in any case as to which the board determines that the amount is too small to justify the cost of collection or that the collection of such amount is improbable for any reason. Such order is authorization for the probation officer to close his books in regard to such item, but such discharge of accountability of the probation officer does not constitute a release of any person from liability for payment of any such amount which is due and owing to the county. The board may request a written opinion from the district attorney or county counsel as to whether any particular amount owed to the county is too small to justify the cost of collection or whether collection of any particular item is improbable.

910. In any case where a county has expended money for the support and maintenance of any ward, dependent child or other minor person, or has furnished support and maintenance, and the court has not made an order of reimbursement to the county, in whole or in part, as provided in this article, or the court has made and subsequently revoked such an order if the ward, dependent child or other minor person or parent, guardian, or other person liable for the support of the ward, dependent child or other minor person acquires property, money, or estate subsequent to the date the juvenile court assumed jurisdiction over the ward, dependent child or minor person or subsequent to the date of the order of reimbursement was revoked, the county shall have a claim against the ward, dependent child or other minor person or parent, guardian, or other person liable for the support of the ward, dependent child or other minor person to the amount of a reasonable charge for money so expended, or other expense of support and maintenance. Such claim shall be enforced by action of the district attorney on request of the board of supervisors

Term of effectiveness of order

911. No order for payment from the county treasury of the expense of support and maintenance of a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court shall be effective for more than 12 months, and no order for payment from the county treasury of the expense of support and maintenance of a minor person concerning whom a verified petition has been filed in accordance with the provision of this chapter, other than a ward or dependent child of the court, shall be effective for more than one month. Upon all hearings of the case of any ward or dependent child of the juvenile court, the case shall be continued on the calendar, but in no instance to exceed 12 months.

When any ward of the juvenile court is, with the consent of the juvenile court of the county committing him and the officer in charge of the state school to which he was committed or in which he is confined, placed in a boarding home, foster home, or work home, but continues to be under the supervision of such state school, the county may reimburse the boarding home, foster home, or work home in an amount adequate for the maintenance of the ward, but not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25) per month

Payment for Youth Authority commitment

912. For each person hitherto committed to the Youth Authority, the county from which he is committed shall pay the State at the rate of twenty-five dollars ($25) per month for the time such person so committed remains in such state school or in any camp or farm colony, custodial institution, or other institution under the direct supervision of the Youth Authority to which such person may be transferred, in the California vocational institution, or in any boarding home, foster home, or other private or public institution in which he is placed by the Youth Authority, on parole or otherwise, and cared for and supported at the expense of the Youth Authority.

Each county auditor shall include in his state settlement report rendered to the Controller in the months of January and June the amount due under this section, and the county treasurer, at the time of settlement with the State in such months, shall pay to the State Treasurer, upon the order of the Controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of such commitments.

Payment to private custodian

913. When any person has been adjudged to be a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court, and the court has made an order committing such person to the care of any association, society, or corporation, embracing within its objects the purpose of caring for or obtaining homes for such persons, the county in which such person has been committed may contract with such custodian, for the supervision, investigation, and rehabilitation of such person by such custodian, and may, pursuant to such contract, pay to it an amount determined by mutual agreement, not to exceed the cost to such custodian of such service.

"Expense for support and maintenance"

914. As used in this article, "expense for support and maintenance" includes the reasonable value of any medical services furnished to the ward or dependent child at the county hospital or at any other county institution, or at any private hospital or by any private physician with the approval of the juvenile court of the county concerned, and the reasonable value of the support of the ward or dependent child at any juvenile hall established pursuant to the provisions of Article 14 (commencing with Section 850) of this chapter or the reasonable value of the ward's support at any forestry camp, juvenile home, ranch, or camp established within or without the county pursuant to the provisions of Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of this chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 272 is added to the Penal Code, to read.

Violations Penalties

272. Every person who commits any act or omits the performance of any duty, which act or omission causes or tends to cause or encourage any person under the age of 21 years to come within the provisions of Sections 600, 601, or 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or which act or omission contributes thereto, or any person who, by any act or omission, or by threats, commands, or persuasion, induces or endeavors to induce any person under the age of 21 years or any ward or dependent child of the juvenile court to fail or refuse to conform to a lawful order of the juvenile court, or to do or to perform any act or to follow any course of conduct or to so live as would cause or manifestly tend to cause any such person to become or to remain a person within the provisions of Sections 600, 601, or 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment in a county jail, or may be released on probation for a period not exceeding five years. The district attorney shall prosecute all violations charged under this section.

SEC. 4. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 232) is added to Title 2 of Part 3 of Division 1 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. FREEDOM FROM PARENTAL CUSTODY AND CONTROL

Freedom from control and custody of parents

232. An action may be brought for the purpose of having any person under the age of 21 years declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents when such person comes within any of the following descriptions:

(a) Who has been left by either or both of his parents in the care and custody of another without any provision for his support, or without communication from either or both of his parents, for the period of one year with the intent on the part of such parent or parents to abandon such person. Such failure to provide, or such failure to communicate for the period of one year, shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. Such person shall be deemed and called a person abandoned by the parent or parents abandoning him. If in the opinion of the court the evidence indicates that either or both parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child, the court may declare the child abandoned by such parent or parents.

When any person under the age of 21 years has been left by either or both of his parents in the care and custody of another without any provision for his support, or without communication from either or both of his parents for the period of six months, the petition provided for in Section 233 may be filed with respect to such person. The jurisdiction of the court extends to such person as fully as if such conditions had existed for a period of one year but no order or judgment freeing such person from the custody and control of either or both of his parents shall be made until such conditions of nonsupport or noncommunication shall have existed for a period of at least one year.

(b) Who has been cruelly treated or neglected by either or both of his parents, if such person has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and such parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such cruel treatment or neglect, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of a petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such cruel or neglectful parent or parents.

(c) Whose parent or parents are habitually intemperate, or morally depraved, if such person has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such intemperance, or moral depravity, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of the petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such habitually intemperate or morally depraved parent or parents.

(d) Whose parent or parents are deprived of their civil rights due to the conviction of a felony, if the felony of which such parent or parents were convicted is of such nature as to prove the unfitness of such parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child, or if any term of sentence of such parent or parents is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for a period of years.

(e) Whose parent or parents have, in a divorce action, been found to have committed adultery and been divorced on that ground, if the court finds that the future welfare of the child will be promoted by an order depriving such parent or parents of the control and custody of the child.

(f) Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be feebleminded or insane, if the State Director of Mental Hygiene and the superintendent of the state hospital of which, if any, such parent or parents are inmates or patients certify that such parent or parents so declared to be feebleminded or insane will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

Petition by interested person

233. Any interested person may petition the superior court of the county in which a minor person described in Section 232 resides or in which such minor person is found or in which any of the acts constituting abandonment, neglect, cruelty or habitual intemperance occurred, for an order or judgment declaring such minor person free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents Upon the filing of such petition, the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the juvenile probation officer who shall immediately investigate the circumstances of said minor person and the circumstances which are alleged to bring said minor person within any of the provisions of Section 232. The juvenile probation officer shall render to the court a written report of his investigation with a recommendation to the court of the proper disposition to be made in the action in the best interests of said minor person. The court shall receive such report in evidence and shall read and consider the contents thereof in rendering its judgment.

Setting for hearing, service, etc

234. Upon the filing of such petition, the clerk of the court shall set the same for hearing at a time within 90 days, and a citation shall issue requiring any person having the custody or control of such minor person or the person with whom such minor person is, to appear with such minor person at a time and place stated in the citation. Service of such citation shall be made at least 10 days before the time stated therein for such appearance.

Service and appearance of parents

235. (a) The father or mother of such minor person, if residing within the State, and if his or her place of residence is known to the petitioner, or, if there is no parent so residing, or if the place of residence of such father or mother is not known to the petitioner, then some relative of such minor person, if there is any residing within the State, and if his residence and relationship to such person are known to the petitioner, shall be notified of the proceedings by service of a citation requiring such person or persons to appear at the time and place stated in such citation. In all cases where one parent has relinquished his child for the purpose of adoption, or has signed a consent for adoption as provided in Sections 224m and 226, no notice as herein provided need be given to the parent who has signed such relinquishment or consent. Service of such citations shall be made at least 10 days before the time stated therein for such appearance.

(b) If the father or mother of such minor person or any person alleged to be or claiming to be the father or mother resides outside the State, or if his or her place of residence is not known to the petitioner, the petitioner or his agent or attorney shall make and file an affidavit, and shall state therein the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother who resides outside the State and his or her place of residence, if known to the petitioner, and the name of the father or mother or alleged father or mother residing in or out of the State whose place of residence is unknown to the petitioner Thereupon the court shall make an order that the service be made by the publication of a citation requiring such father or mother or alleged father or mother to appear at the time and place stated therein, and that said citation be published in a newspaper to be named and designated as most likely to give notice to the father or mother or alleged father or mother to be served once a week for four successive weeks. In case of publication where the residence of a nonresident or absent parent or alleged parent is known, the court shall also direct a copy of the citation to be forthwith served upon such parent or alleged parent by mail by deposit in the post office properly addressed and with the postage thereon fully prepaid, directed to such parent or alleged parent at his or her place of residence. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the citation out of the State is equivalent to publication and deposit in the post office. Service is complete upon the making of such personal service or at the expiration of the time prescribed by the order for publication, whichever event shall first occur.

If one or both of the parents of such minor person be unknown or if the name of either or both of his parents be uncertain, then said fact shall be set forth in said affidavit and the court shall order the citation to be directed to either the father or the mother, or both, of said minor person, naming and otherwise describing said minor person, and to all persons claiming to be the father or mother of said minor person.

236. If any person personally served with a citation within the State as provided in this chapter fails without reasonable cause to appear and abide by the order of the court, or to bring such minor person before the court if so required in the citation, such failure constitutes a contempt of court. Failure to appear

237. In any proceeding to declare a minor person free from the custody and control of his parents, the court may appoint some suitable party to act in behalf of such minor person and may order such further notice of the proceedings to be given as the court deems proper. Guardian ad litem

238. Any order and judgment of the court declaring a minor person free from the custody and control of any parent or parents under the provisions of this chapter shall be conclusive and binding upon such minor person, upon such parent or parents and upon all other persons who have been served with citation by publication or otherwise as provided in this chapter. After making such order and judgment, the court shall have no power to set aside, change, or modify it, but nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right to appeal from such order and judgment. Effect of order

Such advisory agencies shall be composed of representative citizens, serving without pay.

The secretary of the board of directors, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the elections shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

If from such returns it appears that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the formation of such improvement district, the formation of such improvement district shall be complete.

Any action or proceeding wherein the validity of the formation of the improvement district or of any of the proceedings in relation thereto is contested, questioned or denied, shall be commenced within three months from the effective date of the resolution forming such district, or if an election is held, within three months from the date of such election, otherwise the formation of the improvement district and all proceedings in relation thereto, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

Such petition may consist of any number of separate instruments and must be filed with the secretary of the agency. Such petition shall be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000) which shall be deposited in the treasury of the agency to be used for the purpose of defraying the costs of the election and other procedural expenses. The funds so deposited shall be used solely for such purpose, and any funds, remaining after the completion of the proceedings shall be refunded to the person whose name appears on the petition or first instrument of the petition filed with the agency. Such petition shall set forth and describe the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded, shall state the reason for proposing such exclusion and shall contain a prayer that such area be excluded from the agency.

show any such petition to be insufficient, it shall be filed by him with the board of directors of the agency and kept as a public record, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. But if, by the certificate of the secretary, such petition is shown to be sufficient, the secretary shall present the same to the board of directors.

If any supplemental petition be filed, all the signatures appended to the petition or to the supplemental petition or petitions shall be considered in determining the number of voters signing the petition.

If his certificate shall show any such petition, or such petition as amended, to be insufficient, it shall be filed by him with the board of directors of the agency and kept as a public record, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. But if, by the certificate of the secretary, such petition, or petition as amended is shown to be sufficient, the secretary shall present the same to the board of directors without delay.

Hearing on resolution

If the proceedings for exclusion have been initiated by petition, such petition may be granted by ordinance of the board of directors of such agency. If such proceedings have been initiated by resolution, the board of directors shall hear all persons interested in the proposed exclusion who appear at the hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time, and after the conclusion of the hearing, the board may determine by ordinance that such area should be excluded from the agency. If such petition is granted or if such determination is made, the proposition of such exclusion shall be submitted to the vote of the voters of the agency at an election called by the board of directors and held, as herein provided, within 70 days after the effective date of such ordinance. Notice of such election shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the agency once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication to be not more than four weeks nor less than one week, prior to the date fixed for such election. Such notice shall describe the boundaries of the area so proposed to be excluded and shall designate such area by some appropriate name, or other words of identification, by which such area may be referred to and indicated upon the ballot to be used at any election at which the question of such exclusion is submitted, as in this act provided. The contract may provide for reasonable collection costs and fees in the event of delinquency.

(d) Any provision in any conditional sale contract for the sale of a motor vehicle to the contrary notwithstanding, the buyer shall have the privilege of paying at any time in full the indebtedness evidenced by the contract. Whenever an indebtedness is liquidated prior to maturity by prepayment or refinancing, or upon surrender or repossession and resale of the motor vehicle, the holder shall thereupon refund to the buyer the unearned portion of the finance charge. The refund may be made in cash or credited to the amount due on the obligation of the buyer. The amount of the refund shall represent at least as great a proportion of the finance charge, after first deducting therefrom twenty-five dollars ($25), as the sum of the periodic time balances payable more than 15 days after the date of prepayment (or other event entitling the buyer to the refund) bears to the sum of all of the periodic time balances under the schedule of installments in the contract. The provisions of this subdivision shall not impair the right of the seller or his assignee to receive delinquency charges on delinquent installments and reasonable costs and fees as provided in subdivision (c) of this section. Where the amount of such refund is less than one dollar ($1), no refund need be made.

Accidental errors

2983 If the seller, except as the result of an accidental or bona fide error in computation, violates any provision of subdivisions (a) or (c) of Section 2982, the conditional sale contract shall not be enforceable, except by a bona fide purchaser, assignee or pledgee for value or until after the violation is corrected as provided in Section 2984, and if the violation is not corrected the buyer may recover from the seller the total amount paid, pursuant to the terms of the contract, by the buyer to the seller or his assignee. The amount recoverable for property traded in as all or part of the down payment shall be equal to the agreed cash value of such property as the value appears on the conditional sale contract.

Violations Recovery

2983.1. If the seller or holder of a conditional sale contract, except as the result of an accidental or bona fide error of computation, violates any provision of subdivision (d) of Section 2982, the buyer may recover from such person three times the amount of any finance charge paid to that person.

If a holder acquires a conditional sale contract without actual knowledge of the violation by the seller of subdivisions (a) or (c) of Section 2982, the contract shall be valid and enforceable by such holder except (unless the violation is corrected as provided in Section 2984) the buyer is excused from payment of the unpaid finance charge.

If a holder acquires a conditional sale contract with knowledge of such violation of subdivisions (a) or (c) of Section 2982, the conditional sale contract shall not be enforceable except by a bona fide purchaser, assignee or pledgee for value or unless the violation is corrected as provided in Section 2984, and if the violation is not corrected the buyer may recover from the person to whom payment was made the amounts specified in Section 2983.

When a conditional sale contract is not enforceable under Sections 2983 or 2983.1, the buyer may elect to retain the motor vehicle and continue the contract in force or may, with reasonable diligence, elect to rescind the contract and return the motor vehicle. The value of the motor vehicle so returned shall be credited as restitution by the buyer without any decrease which results from the passage of time in the cash price of the motor vehicle as such price appears on the conditional sale contract.

2983.2. Any provision in any conditional sale contract for the sale of a motor vehicle to the contrary notwithstanding, at least five days' written notice of intent to sell a repossessed motor vehicle must be given to all persons liable on the contract. The notice shall be given in person or shall be sent by mail directed to the address of the persons shown on the contract, unless such persons have notified the holder in writing of a different address. The notice shall set forth that there is a right to redeem the motor vehicle and the total amount required as of the date of the notice to redeem; may inform such persons of their privilege of reinstatement of the contract, if the holder extends such privilege; shall give notice of the holder's intent to resell the motor vehicle at the expiration of five days from the date of giving or mailing the notice, or if given by mail and either the place of deposit in the mail or the place of address is outside of this State, the period of notice shall be 10 days instead of five days; shall disclose the place at which the motor vehicle will be returned to the buyer upon redemption or reinstatement; and shall designate the name and address of the person to whom payment shall be made. During the period provided under said notice, the person or persons liable on the contract may pay in full the indebtedness evidenced by the contract. Such persons shall be liable for any deficiency after sale of the repossessed motor vehicle only if notice has been given pursuant to this section.

Acceleration

2983.3. In the absence of default by the buyer in the performance of any of his obligations under the contract, the holder may not accelerate the maturity of any part or all of the amount owing thereunder or repossess the motor vehicle.

Attorney's fees and costs

2983.4. Reasonable attorney's fees and costs shall be awarded to the prevailing party in any action on a conditional sale contract subject to the provisions of this chapter regardless of whether the action is instituted by the seller, holder or buyer. Where the defendant alleges in his answer that he tendered to the plaintiff the full amount to which he was entitled, and thereupon deposits in court, for the plaintiff, the amount so tendered, and the allegation is found to be true, then the defendant is deemed to be a prevailing party within the meaning of this section.

Assignment by buyer

2983.5. No right of action or defense arising out of a conditional sale contract which the buyer has against the seller, and which would be cut off by assignment, shall be cut off by assignment to any third party whether or not he acquires the contract in good faith and for value unless the assignee gives notice of the assignment to the buyer as provided in this section and within 15 days of the mailing of notice receives no written notice of the facts giving rise to the claim or defense of the buyer. A notice of assignment shall be in writing addressed to the buyer at the address shown on the contract and shall identify the contract and inform the buyer that he must, within 15 days of the date of mailing of the notice, notify the assignee in writing of any facts giving rise to a claim or defense which he may have. The notice of assignment shall state the name of the seller and buyer, a description of the motor vehicle, the contract balance and the number and amount of the installments.

Correction of failures to comply

2984. Any failure to comply with any provision of this chapter (commencing with Section 2981) may be corrected by the holder, provided, however, that a willful violation may not be corrected unless it is a violation appearing on the face of the contract and is corrected within 30 days of the execution of the contract or within 20 days of its sale, assignment or pledge, whichever is later, provided that the 20-day period shall commence with the initial sale, assignment or pledge of the contract, and provided that any other violation appearing on the face of the contract may be corrected only within such time periods. A correction which will increase the amount of the contract balance or the amount of any installment as such amounts appear on the conditional sale contract shall not be effective unless the buyer concurs in writing to the correction. If notified in writing by the buyer of such a failure to comply with any provision of this chapter, the correction shall be made within 10 days of notice. Where any provision of a conditional sale contract fails to comply with any provision of this chapter, the correction shall be made by mailing or delivering a corrected copy of the contract to the buyer. Any amount improperly collected by the holder from the buyer shall be credited against the indebtedness evidenced by the contract. A violation corrected as provided in this section shall not be the basis of any recovery by the buyer or affect the enforceability of the contract by the holder and shall not be deemed to be a substantive change in the agreement of the parties.

Statement concerning insurance

2984.1. Every conditional sale contract shall contain a statement in at least eight-point bold type if the contract is printed, which statement shall satisfy the requirements of Section 5604 of the Vehicle Code, as follows:

"UNLESS A CHARGE IS INCLUDED IN THIS AGREEMENT FOR PUBLIC LIABILITY OR PROPERTY DAMAGE INSURANCE, PAYMENT FOR SUCH COVERAGE IS NOT PROVIDED BY THIS AGREEMENT."

Title or lien under agreement

2984.2. No agreement in connection with a conditional sale of a motor vehicle for the inclusion of title to or a lien upon any personal or real property, other than the motor vehicle which is the subject matter of the conditional sale, or accessories therefor or special and auxiliary equipment used in connection therewith, or in substitution, in whole or in part, for any therefor, as security for payment of the contract balance, shall be enforceable.

Acknowledgment of delivery

2984.3. Any acknowledgment by the buyer of delivery of a copy of a conditional sale contract shall be printed or written in a size equal to at least 10-point bold type and, if contained in the contract, shall appear directly above the space reserved for the buyer's signature. The buyer's written acknowledgment, conforming to the requirements of this section, of delivery of a completely filled-in copy of the contract, shall be a rebuttable presumption of delivery in any action or proceeding by or against a third party without knowledge to the contrary when he acquired his interest in the contract. If either a copy of the contract or a notice containing Items 1 to 8 of subdivision (a) of Section 2982 of this code is furnished the buyer, and the buyer fails to notify the holder of the contract in writing within 30 days that he was not furnished a copy of the contract as required by this chapter, it shall be conclusively presumed in favor of such a third party that a copy was furnished as required by this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 11713 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11713. It shall be unlawful and a violation of this code for the holder of any license issued under this article: Misleading advertising, etc

(h) To include as an added cost to the selling price of a vehicle, an amount for licensing or transfer of title of the vehicle, which amount is not due to the State unless such amount has in fact been paid by the dealer prior to such sale.

(i) To employ any person as a salesman who has not been licensed pursuant to Article 2 (commencing at Section 11800) of this chapter, and whose license is not displayed on the premises of the dealer as provided in Section 11804.

(j) To deliver, following sale of a new unregistered vehicle for operation on California highways, if such vehicle does not meet all of the equipment requirements of Division 12 of this code.

(k) To use or permit the use of the special plates assigned to him for any purpose other than permitted by Section 11715.

(l) To advertise or otherwise represent, or knowingly to allow to be advertised or represented on his behalf or at his place of business, that no down payment is required in connection with the sale of a vehicle when a down payment is in fact required and the buyer is advised or induced to finance such down payment by a loan in addition to any other loan financing the remainder of the purchase price of the vehicle.

SEC. 2. Section 3.6 of said act is amended to read:

In case of a dispute over wages, salaries, hours or working conditions, which is not resolved by negotiations in good faith between the authority and the labor organization, upon the agreement of both, the authority and the labor organization may submit said dispute to the decision of the majority of an arbitration board, and the decision of the majority of such arbitration board shall be final. The arbitration board shall be composed of two representatives of the authority, and two representatives of the labor organization, and they shall endeavor to agree upon the selection of the fifth member. If they are unable to agree, the names of five persons experienced in labor arbitration shall be obtained from the Supervisor of Conciliation of the Division of Conciliation, Department of Industrial Relations. The labor organization and the authority shall, alternately, strike a name from the list so supplied, and the name remaining after the labor organization and the authority have stricken four names, shall be designated as the arbitrator. The labor organization and the authority shall determine by lot who shall first strike from the list. The decision of a majority of the arbitration board shall be final and binding upon the parties thereto. The expenses of arbitration shall be borne equally by the parties. Each party shall bear his own costs.

No contract or agreement shall be made with any labor organization, association, group, or individual, or be assumed under the provisions of this section, where such organization, association, group, or individual denies membership to or in any manner discriminates against any employee on the grounds of race, creed, color or sex; provided, that such organization

The State Conciliation Service shall promptly hold a public hearing after due notice to all interested parties and shall thereupon determine the unit or units appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining. In making such determination and in establishing rules and regulations governing petitions, the conduct of hearings and elections, the State Conciliation Service shall be guided by the relevant federal law and administrative practice developed under the Labor Management Relations Act, 1947, as presently amended.

The State Conciliation Service shall provide for an election to determine the question of representation and shall certify the results to the parties. Any certification of a labor organization to represent or act for the employees in any collective bargaining unit shall not be subject to challenge on the grounds that a new substantial question of representation within such collective bargaining unit exists until the lapse of one year from the date of certification of the expiration of any collective bargaining agreement, whichever is later; provided, that no collective bargaining agreement shall be construed to be a bar to representation proceedings for a period of more than two years.

(d) Whenever the authority acquires existing facilities from a publicly or privately owned public utility, either in proceedings by eminent domain or otherwise, the authority shall assume and observe all existing labor contracts. To the extent necessary for operation of facilities, all of the employees of such acquired public utility whose duties pertain to the facilities acquired shall be appointed to comparable positions in the authority without examination, subject to all the rights and benefits of this act, and these employees shall be given sick leave, seniority, vacation and pension credits in accordance with the records and labor agreements of the acquired public utility. No employees of any acquired public utility shall suffer any worsening of his wages, seniority, pension, vacation or other benefits by reason of the acquisition.

The authority may extend the benefits of this section to officers or supervisory employees of the acquired utility.

Acquisitions limitation

(e) The authority shall not acquire any existing system or part thereof whether by purchase, lease, condemnation, or otherwise, nor shall the authority dispose of or lease any transit system or part thereof, nor merge, consolidate or co-ordinate any transit system or part thereof, nor substitute any type of equipment on any system or part thereof for the then existing equipment, or reduce or limit the lines or service of any existing system or of its system unless it shall first have made adequate provision for any employees who are or may be displaced, or whose wages, hours, place, or conditions of employment are or may be adversely affected. The terms and conditions of such provisions shall be a proper subject of collective bargaining with the labor organizations that represent such employees. In the event that at the time the authority acquires a system or part thereof, and former or furloughed employees of such system are at that time entitled to protection under a collective bargaining agreement or an order of the Public Utilities Commission or other public agency, the authority shall provide for the continuation of such protection for the period of the agreement or order

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of the Government Code, employees of the authority may authorize and, upon such authorization, the authority may make deductions from wages and salaries of such employees:

Notwithstanding the provisions of the Government Code or other laws or statutes, the authority shall make deductions from wages and salaries of its employees upon receipt of authorization therefor for the payment of union dues, fees or assessments, for the payment of contributions pursuant to any health and welfare plan or pension plan or for any other purpose for which deductions may be authorized by employees of any private employer, where such deductions are pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement with a duly designated or certified labor organization.

SEC. 3. Section 4.6 of said act is amended to read:

Eminent domain

Sec. 4.6. The authority may exercise the right of eminent domain for the condemnation of real or personal property or any right or interest therein for its use within the metropolitan area, including the power to acquire real property in fee simple or any lesser estate or interest for rights-of-way or other uses of the authority. No publicly owned property shall be taken, or condemnation proceedings instituted therefor, without the consent of the public agency or public corporation owning or controlling such publicly owned property, nor shall any privately owned public utility be taken or condemned without consent of such utility. Sections 1401 to 1421, inclusive, of the Public Utilities Code shall not apply to any such condemnation of property of a privately owned public utility with the consent of such public utility at a price agreed to between the authority and such public utility, and the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California shall have no jurisdiction with respect thereto The consent of the Department of Finance shall not be required in carrying out the provisions of this section. The State, any political subdivision thereof, or any other public body may grant to the authority rights or easements in, upon, over under or across the property of such public agency for purposes of constructing and maintaining mass rapid transit facilities Such grant may be made without cost to the authority and it shall be conclusively presumed that any such grant is for the furtherance of the public purposes of the granting agency.

SEC. 4 Section 4.8 of said act is amended to read:

Acquisition of existing systems

Sec. 4.8 Whenever the authority acquires any existing system or portion thereof (whether motorbuses, trolley coaches, streetcars or other types of mass transit) it may continue to maintain and operate such system or portion thereof in, upon and across any and all streets, highways, freeways and other public places upon which such system or portion, as the case may be, was operated at the time the same was acquired by the authority. The authority shall not construct (excluding, however, any repair or reconstruction of the structures of any existing system acquired by the authority) any subways, elevated railways, overhead suspended transit, or any other structures constituting a method of mass rapid transit in, upon, over, under or across any street or highway until it shall have complied in all respects with the requirements of Sections 6 1 and 6 2 of this act. The authority shall not construct (excluding, however, any repair or reconstruction of the structure of any existing system acquired by the authority) any subways, elevated railways, overhead suspended transit, or any other structures constituting a method of mass rapid transit in, upon, over, under or across any public streets, highways, freeways and other public places without the consent of the city, county or State having jurisdiction over such street, highway, freeway or other public place; provided, however, that the authority may construct such a system in a subway along a route determined in accordance with Sections 6.1 and 6.2 of this act, where neither such subway, nor the construction thereof, interferes with or diminishes the existing surface or "subsurface uses" of any public street or highway; provided, further, however, that if such subway, or the construction thereof, interferes with or diminishes the existing surface or "subsurface use" of any public street or highway, then to the extent that there is such interference or diminution the consent of the public agency having jurisdiction over the respective public street or highway shall first be obtained. The authority may operate motorbus lines, and motorbuses upon any public streets, highways, ways or freeways, and, subject to the requirements of the two last preceding sentences with respect to new structures, may operate any other method of mass rapid transit in, upon, over, under or across public streets, highways, freeways and other public places. It shall be presumed that use of the streets, highways, freeways and other public places by the authority for any of the purposes permitted herein constitutes no greater burden on adjoining properties than the uses existing as of the effective date of this provision. In the event facilities (including, but not limited to, streets, highways, pipelines, sewers, water mains, storm drains, poles, communications wires, and electric transmission wires) of another public corporation, the State, or of a private owner must necessarily be relocated, replaced, or altered in order for the authority to construct its system for mass rapid transit, or in the event the construction by the authority of its system makes necessary the relocation, replacement, or alteration of any such facilities of another public corporation, the State, or of a private owner in order to maintain the functioning of such facilities at their previous level of service, such facilities shall be relocated, replaced or altered with reasonable promptness by the respective public corporation, State, or private owner and the authority shall reimburse such public corporation, State, or private owner for the actual cost necessarily incurred in such relocation, replacement, or alteration.

SEC. 5. Section 4.13 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 4.13. The authority may make contracts, leases and agreements with any department or agency of the United States of America or of the State of California or with any person or public corporation and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. The authority may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Contracts may be let by an officer or employee of the authority in such manner as may be authorized from time to time by the authority. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations upon the exercise of the powers stated in this section and such limitations shall apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to such indenture are outstanding and unpaid. Contracts, etc

SEC. 6. Section 4.21 of said act is amended to read:

Co-ordination with existing systems

Sec. 4.21. One of the purposes of this act is to co-ordinate any operations of the authority with the operations of any then existing system, and no other section of this act shall relieve the authority from the limitations, obligations and requirements of this section. If the authority proposes, and shall then be ready, able and willing, to establish, construct, complete, acquire, operate, extend or reroute (all of the foregoing being hereinafter referred to by the word "establish" in all forms thereof), directly or indirectly, either itself or by lease or contract with any other person or persons or otherwise, any mass rapid transit service or system in such manner or form as will or may, either then or at any time in the future, divert, lessen or compete for the patronage or revenues of the existing system of a publicly or privately owned public utility (excluding any subsequent extension or rerouting of the latter) situated entirely within the metropolitan area, or seventy-five percent (75%) of whose revenue vehicle miles for the preceding calendar year are operated within the metropolitan area, then the authority shall give to each such public utility prior written notice of the proposed establishment of such service or system in sufficient detail to fully apprise such public utility of the form, nature and extent thereof and (subject to the restrictions of this section) of the time within which the authority intends to establish such service.

Until 120 days after receipt of such notice by each such public utility, the authority shall not establish any such proposed service or system. At any time after receipt of such notice, or if the authority without giving such notice establishes any such proposed service or system in violation of this section then at any time after establishment of such service or system, and in either event until the expiration of 120 days after the receipt of such a notice, each such public utility shall have the option, in its sole discretion to be exercised by written notice to the authority, (i) to require the authority to purchase that portion of the existing system of such public utility (as designated in such written notice) the patronage or revenue from which will or may be diverted, lessened, or competed for by the establishment of the proposed service or system by the authority, or (ii) to require the authority to purchase all of the existing system of such public utility.

If such public utility elects the relief described under clause (i) or (ii) above, then unless within ninety (90) days after receiving written notice of such election the authority gives such public utility notice in writing that it has abandoned any intention to establish the proposed service or system of which it gave notice and has abandoned any such service or system which it established without giving such notice in violation of this section, the authority shall be obligated to such public utility for the relief so elected and the authority shall not establish the proposed service or system until it has completed the purchase of all or part of the existing system of such public utility in accordance with such election. The purchase price to be paid for such existing system (intending thereby only a portion of the existing system when the election has been to sell only such portion) shall be the reproduction cost new (including going concern value) of such existing system at the date of the giving of the notice of election, less depreciation (including wear and tear and obsolescence, if any) to date of transfer or to the 180th day after the giving of the notice of election whichever date occurs earlier; but in no event less than the average annual gross revenue for the preceding three calendar years of such existing system. In the event that such public utility has elected relief under clause (i) above, it shall be entitled as a part of such price to severance damages for the loss of value of the unsold portion of the existing system of such public utility; and in the event such public utility has elected relief under clause (ii) above, the authority shall assume all payments becoming due after the date of purchase on all contracts and obligations of such public utility which payments if made by such a public utility would be includible as expenses of operation subsequent to the date of transfer to the authority under the system of accounting prescribed by the Public Utilities Commission or which payments are pursuant to contracts for delivery of assets by third persons or for the making or completion of additions or improvements subsequent to said date of transfer. In the event that the authority purchases such existing system from such public utility pursuant to an election by the latter under either clause (i) or (ii) above, the authority shall indemnify and save and hold such public utility harmless from all payments included in the preceding sentence and from any franchise or contract liabilities to any public corporation which mature or accrue after such purchase and which were incurred in connection with such existing system so purchased and the portions of the mass rapid transit service formerly served with such existing system. The authority may at any time enter into an agreement with each such public utility as to the amount of such price.

Unless the authority and such public utility have agreed upon the amount of the price required to be paid hereunder, or unless they have agreed that the amount of such price shall be established by arbitration and upon the method of naming arbitrators and the method of conducting such arbitration, the amount of such price may be fixed and judgment entered thereon in a suit brought either by the public utility or by the authority in the superior court of the State of California in and for the county in which is located that portion of the existing system to be acquired by the authority from such public utility which is largest in value.

Any public utility whose patronage or revenues are diverted, lessened or competed for by any act of the authority which is in violation of this section shall be entitled to injunctive relief against the authority to stop such violation.

The maintenance and operation, but not the extension or rerouting, of any existing system acquired by the authority from a publicly or privately owned public utility shall not be deemed to be the establishment of a mass rapid transit service or system within the meaning of this section.

Section 851 of the Public Utilities Code shall not apply to any contract for sale or sale of an existing system or portion thereof or other action taken pursuant to this section, and the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California shall have no jurisdiction with respect thereto.

Notwithstanding any provision of this act, to the contrary, the authority shall not, either directly or indirectly either itself or by lease or by contract with any person or persons or otherwise, establish any mass rapid transit service or system in such manner or form as will or may, either then or at any time in the future, divert, lessen or compete for the patronage or revenues of any publicly owned system unless and until it has complied with the following procedure and received the consent of the public corporation concerned, in the following manner:

The authority shall submit to the legislative body in charge of the publicly owned system a written detailed statement covering the proposed plan affecting the publicly owned system. Thereafter, the public corporation concerned shall hold a public hearing before the legislative body thereof on the proposal submitted, and such legislative body shall take such action as in its judgment will be in the public interest. If the proposal calls for the sale of the entire system or any portion thereof, the legislative body shall submit such proposal to a vote of the electors of the public corporation owning such transportation system. If such question is submitted to the electors and they decline to consent, the authority shall not proceed and shall not locate any new route into the area served by the publicly owned system. The renewal fee shall be paid for any such licensee so designating others to act for him.

Any license shall remain in full force and effect for 30 days after the entrance of the licensee into the armed forces, but he shall prior to the expiration of such 30-day period provide the registrar with the name or names of the persons so designated to conduct his business. The registrar may qualify such persons in any manner he may adopt. Persons so designated shall possess the good character required of an applicant for license.

7071.5. If application for a license is made by any person whose license has been suspended or revoked as a result of disciplinary action for violation of Sections 7108 or 7120, or is made by any copartnership, association or corporation whose license has been suspended or revoked as a result of disciplinary action for violation of Sections 7108, 7116 or 7120, or by any person who may have been associated with such copartnership, association or corporation, the board may require as a condition precedent to the issuance of a license to such applicant, or removal of suspension, that such applicant file or have on file with the registrar a bond issued by an admitted surety insurer in a sum to be fixed by the board based upon the magnitude of the operations of the applicant, but which sum shall not be less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), running to the State of California and conditioned upon his compliance with all the provisions of this chapter, or in lieu thereof that such applicant or licensee post with the registrar a cash deposit in an amount based upon the magnitude of the operations of the applicant but of a sum of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

The claim of any employee of the contractor for wages shall be a preferred claim against any bond or cash deposit required by rule of the board.

The determination of the validity and priority of any such claim for wages shall be based upon a finding of fact made by the registrar in accordance with the provisions of Article 7, Section 7090 to 7120 of the chapter.

The partial payment of such claims shall not be considered as full payment and the claimants may file for the completion of payment of any unpaid balance as otherwise provided, and the registrar may continue suspension or revocation of any license involved until such time as such claim or claims are satisfied in full. If the board shall by rule require the filing of such bond or the posting of such cash deposit by such applicant, the failure of such applicant to file the said required bond or post the said required deposit shall constitute grounds for denying him a license or the renewal of his license, and the failure of such applicant or contractor to file the required bond or post the required deposit, shall constitute grounds for denying or revoking his license.

Such bond or cash deposit shall remain in force and with the registrar for one year and for such additional time as there may be unsatisfied claims outstanding against the same.

7106.5. The expiration or suspension of a license by operation of law or by order or decision of the registrar or a court of law, or the voluntary surrender of a license by a licensee shall not deprive the registrar of jurisdiction to proceed with any investigation of or action or disciplinary proceeding against such license, or to render a decision suspending or revoking such license.

The provisions of this chapter shall not prevent the local authorities of any city, city and county or county by ordinance, within the exercise of the police power of such city, city and county or county, from imposing local regulations with respect to traffic in loose vehicle parts and vehicle accessories.

SEC. 7. Section 11520 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

The county or city and county of which any such minor is a resident shall at the close of each school year also pay to the district educating such minor the excess expenditures of educating such minor during the school year. The excess expenditures shall be determined by dividing the total excess expenditures of the school district during such school year on account of educating such minors less all special purpose apportionments from the State or allocations from the federal government on account of the excess costs of educating such minors by the total number of units of average daily attendance of such minors in such school or classes during such school year.

The estimates shall be secured from bona fide dealers or craftsmen engaged in the business or in handling the goods specified.

Estimates shall be submitted in writing and shall be filed with the clerk or secretary of the board, or with such other officer or employee as the board may designate.

If any of the estimates of cost is less than four thousand dollars ($4,000), the board may let a contract for the work, materials, or supplies, to the lowest responsible bidder without publishing the notice calling for bids

An act to add Section 19579.1 to, and to amend Section 19590 of, the Education Code, relating to state school building aid.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19579.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

Apportionments for sites, temporary and portable buildings, etc.

19579.1. In addition to any powers granted the board under this chapter, the board shall have authority to make apportionments to school districts for the purchase of sites and construction or purchase of temporary and portable buildings thereon, or for such construction alone, and for the cost of site preparation, including necessary utility costs, in connection with their utilization. The board may establish standards in conjunction with the Department of Education pertaining to said sites and facilities as a condition of making such apportionments.

Direct expenditures by board

In addition, the board may expend moneys from the State School Building Aid Fund directly for the construction, acquisition, storage, maintenance and repair of such buildings, and administrative costs relating thereto. In such event the board may lease, sell or transfer under a lease-purchase agreement such buildings to eligible school districts or to county superintendents of schools. Any such agreements with school districts may provide for the payment by the State of site preparation costs, including necessary utility costs, sufficient to permit the utilization of such facilities. Any buildings leased for placement on the school property or under a purchase or a lease-purchase agreement shall be deemed the construction or alteration of a school building as those terms are defined in Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive. The consideration payable by either school districts or county superintendents for such facilities shall, as nearly as practicable, reflect an amount which would render to the State a fair return, as determined by the board, on its investment in said facilities and expenditures connected with their utilization, in the light of the benefits conferred by the agreement pertaining thereto.

Contracts

The county superintendent of schools may contract with eligible school districts respecting and transfer to them by lease, lease-purchase or sale, facilities acquired by him from the board, provided that such agreements are not inconsistent with the rights of the State under any agreement between such superintendent and the board respecting such property. Repayments to the State as due shall be made by the county superintendent from the funds received from the affected school districts, and, if necessary to make the same when due, from the county school service fund, upon which he is authorized to draw requisitions for this purpose. Such fund shall be reimbursed for such withdrawals from any payments made by the affected districts to the county superintendent not required when made for the discharge of any obligations of the county superintendent hereunder to the State.

No transfer of any property acquired directly by the board to any school district by lease or otherwise shall be made either by the board or county superintendents without the approval of the Department of Education solely as to (1) the property to be transferred, including incidental construction, if any, connected therewith, (2) whether the same shall be by lease or sale, and (3) if less than a sale, the term of such lease, including any contingent or indefinite term.

The board, affected school districts, and county superintendents of schools are authorized to do any and all things necessary to carry out the purposes of this section. Payments required of any affected school districts under any agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall be made promptly when due. Whenever the board deems it economically desirable in the State's interest to do so, it may dispose of any facilities directly acquired by it to any public or private parties in such manner and under such terms as it deems best, providing that such disposition is not inconsistent with any agreements previously entered into under this section.

"Eligible school districts"

The term "eligible school districts" as used in this section, shall be deemed to refer to those districts which at the time an agreement contemplated hereunder is entered into would upon proper application have been eligible to receive an apportionment under this chapter, provided that solely for the purpose of determining such eligibility the board, or the county superintendent of schools in agreements with districts hereunder, may waive construction area restrictions pertaining to apportionments under this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 19590 of said code is amended to read:

19590. No apportionment to a school district shall become final unless: (a) the total amount of outstanding bonds of the district exceeds ninety-five percent (95%) of the maximum amount of bonds which the district could have had outstanding under any law on the date the conditional apportionment is made, or (b) if the total amount of the bonds of the district outstanding and unpaid is less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount of the bonds permitted to be issued by the district, the amount of district bonds outstanding is within twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of the total bond limit permitted, as of the date on which the conditional apportionment is made At the time the board makes a conditional apportionment pursuant to Section 19571, it shall determine what portion of the total amount of bonds which a district is permitted to issue and sell by law shall be issued and sold by such district, the proceeds of which shall be applied toward the cost of the project for which the apportionment is sought; provided, that in the event the school district has previously received apportionments, such proceeds shall first be applied toward the reduction, in chronological order beginning with the earliest, of any apportionments previously made to the district, before being applied toward the cost of the project for which an apportionment is sought, provided further that no such proceeds shall be applied toward the reduction of any apportionment for a site made pursuant to Section 19577 prior to the combination of such site apportionment with a construction apportionment pursuant to subsection (d) of Section 19577. The portion so determined by the board shall be not less than the minimum amount required for such apportionment to become final under this section. Any apportionment made by the board pursuant to Section 19571 shall be conditioned upon the approval and sale of such bonds by the district. The amount of any apportionment for a construction project made as a consequence of applying district bond proceeds toward the reduction of prior apportionments pursuant to this section instead of applying the district bond proceeds toward the cost of such construction project, shall be excluded in determining the amount chargeable against the apportionments authorized by the electorate of the district to be accepted, expended and repaid. It is hereby declared that this provision, added by the amendment to this section enacted at the 1958 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature, is not intended as a change in the law, but rather as a declaration of existing law.

Any provision of this code to the contrary notwithstanding, whenever the electors of a district, subsequent to any requirement by the board for the sale of bonds in connection with an apportionment, authorize the issuance of bonds for any purpose for which an apportionment could lawfully be made, such authorization shall, in addition to the purposes specified, be deemed to constitute the consent of the electors to apply the proceeds of the bonds so required to be sold by the board toward the reduction of any apportionment previously made to such district. Any bond funds used to reduce any apportionment pursuant to this section shall be transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund and shall be available for reapportionment by the board. The portion so determined by the board shall be not less than the minimum amount required for such apportionment to become final under this section. Any apportionment made by the board pursuant to Section 19571 shall be conditioned upon the approval and sale of such bonds by the district.

No apportionment to a school district under this chapter shall become final, nor any agreement authorized by Section 19579.1 be entered into unless at an election called by the governing board of the district, two-thirds of the qualified electors of the district voting thereat have authorized the governing board to accept, expend and repay as provided in this chapter an apportionment under the provisions thereof or, with respect to said agreement, to obligate the district in an amount equal to or in excess of the maximum amount which the district could be obligated by said agreement, or by any act of its governing board or for which it is responsible, contemplated or permitted thereby. Said election shall be called, held and conducted in the same manner as are elections to authorize the issuance of school district bonds, except that the ballot shall contain substantially the following words:

"Shall the governing board of the district be authorized (1) to accept and expend an apportionment from the State of California under and subject to the provisions of Chapter 10 of Division 14 of the Education Code, which amount is subject to repayment as provided by said chapter, or (2) to enter into an agreement or agreements with the State pursuant to Section 19579.1 of the Education Code, which will at the time of such agreement or agreements (or at the time of any subsequent act of the governing board, or for which it is responsible, contemplated or permitted thereby) commit the district to a total expenditure in connection with all such agreements of not more than _____ dollars, or both. Yes _____ No _____."

(b) The Legislature declares that the purpose of this title is to safeguard the public against fraud, deceit, imposition and financial hardship, and to foster and encourage competition, fair dealing, and prosperity in the field of health and dance studio services by prohibiting or restricting false or misleading advertising, onerous contract terms, harmful financial practices, and other unfair, dishonest, deceptive, destructive, unscrupulous, fraudulent and discriminatory practices by which the public has been injured in connection with contracts for health and dance studio services.

1812.81. As used in this title, "contract for health or dance studio services" means a contract for instruction, training or assistance in physical culture, bodybuilding, exercising, reducing, figure development, dancing, or any other such physical skill, or for the use by an individual patron of the facilities of a dance studio, ballroom, health studio, gymnasium or other facility used for any of the above purposes, or for membership in any group, club, association or organization formed for any of the above purposes; but does not include contracts for professional services rendered or furnished by a person licensed under the provisions of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code or contracts for instruction at schools operating pursuant to the provisions of the Education Code.

A notice of assignment shall be in writing addressed to the buyer at the address shown on the contract and shall identify the contract and inform the buyer that he must, within 30 days of the date of mailing of the notice, notify the assignee in writing of any facts giving rise to a claim or defense which he may have. The notice of assignment shall state the name of the seller and buyer, a description of the services, the contract balance and the number and amount of the installments.

Termination upon death or disability

1812.89. Waiver of this title

1812.93. Any waiver of the buyer of the provisions of this title shall be deemed contrary to public policy and shall be void and unenforceable.

Recoveries for violation

1812.94. (a) Any buyer injured by a violation of this title may bring an action for the recovery of damages. Judgment may be entered for three times the amount at which the actual damages are assessed plus reasonable attorney fees.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of this article, any failure to comply with any provision of this title may be corrected within 30 days after the execution of the contract by the buyer, and, if so corrected, neither the seller nor the holder shall be subject to any penalty under this title, provided that any correction which increases any monthly payment, the number of payments, or the total amount due, must be concurred in, in writing, by the buyer. SEC. 8. Section 11716.07 is added to said code, to read:

In so doing he shall be subject to the jurisdiction, awards and processes of the Industrial Accident Commission with respect to each such claim in the same manner as would an insurer except that he shall only pay to such person the proportion of any award determined as provided in this article. If the workmen's compensation claim to be paid is not one required by law to be presented to the Industrial Accident Commission nor one which the claimant has brought before the Industrial Accident Commission the commissioner shall prior to the payment thereof certify to the claimant the amount he will pay thereon.

(2) Furnish the commissioner with such funds as he shall estimate are necessary to make such payments as they become due; or

(3) Pay to the commissioner an amount equal to the entire liability assumed by it.

The failure of the surety to make such funds available as permitted herein shall permit all parties to take such action against it as is permitted by this article for its failure to pay an award of such commission. However, payment by the surety to the commissioner in accordance with subparagraphs (2) and (3) above shall to the extent thereof discharge the surety from further obligation under its bond.

If the general assets available in this State are not sufficient to pay such expenses or have been exhausted, the commissioner may petition the Industrial Accident Commission for an allowance sufficient to pay such expenses from the proceeds of the bond or of the deposit. Such commission shall grant such petition if it is satisfied that such general assets are not so available. Such allowance shall be taken into consideration in determining the aggregate estimated liability for claims pursuant to Section 11716.03 but only for such amounts as will permit the commissioner to proceed to discharge such obligations.

If all such awards including any interest allowed pursuant to Section 11716.7 have been fully paid, the balance of such deposits shall be transferred to the commissioner as liquidator or conservator and included in the general assets of such insurer.

In providing for the transfer of the securities the agreement may provide for their direct transfer to the deposit account of the reinsurers, or, if the securities deposited are in such denominations or units as to make the equitable transfer to more than one reinsurer impossible, it may provide either for a formula under which such transfers may be made and differences in value reconciled by payments or credits among the reinsurers or for the sale of such securities by the commissioner and the reinvestment of the proceeds in other securities in amounts which can be so equitably transferred. Reimbursement provision

(b) If the obligations of one or more reinsurers are secured by a bond rather than by a deposit the agreement shall provide that any transfer shall be to a separate deposit to be maintained by such insurer in which event such separate deposit shall only be held as security for the obligations reinsured and assumed under the contract and not as security for such obligations on other workmen's compensation insurance transacted in this State. The amount which shall remain in such separate deposit shall be determined as set forth in (a).

(c) The agreement shall provide that if it appears that the market value of the securities on deposit will exceed the obligations assumed by the reinsurers the commissioner may withhold the transfer of a portion of the deposit and may after a two-year period enter into a final settlement with the reinsurers with respect thereto at which time any excess in such deposit shall be transferred to the general assets of the insurer in liquidation or conservation.

11716.62. Reimbursement of the reinsuring and assuming insurers from the bond provided by this article shall be made by each insurer presenting to the surety proof of payments made to claimants pursuant to such reinsuring and assuming agreement. Thereupon the surety shall reimburse the reinsurer and be released from its obligations to the extent of such reimbursement. SEC. 22. Section 11716.7 is added to said code, to read:

Interest on prorated payment increases

11716.7. If the commissioner prorates payments pursuant to Section 11716.06 and thereafter increases such prorated amounts pursuant to said section or to Section 11716.3 all increased payments to previously paid claimants shall include an allowance of interest on the increase of four percent (4%) for each full year which has elapsed between the increase. In commuting awards to lump sum payments pursuant to Section 10716.3 the Industrial Accident Commission shall assume an earning factor of four percent (4%) per annum.

Provided, however, that the licensee shall be responsible for any violations of this division caused or permitted by the lessee on the licensed premises.

An act to amend Sections 12880, 12883, 12884 and 12891 of, to repeal Sections 12881, 12881.5, 12882 and 12889 of, and to add Section 12883.5 to, the Water Code, relating to state financial assistance for local water projects.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1961.] In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. Section 12880 of the Water Code is amended to read:

12880. In furtherance of the development, control and conservation of the water resources of the State and the State Water Resources Development System it is the policy of the State to provide financial assistance to public agencies for the construction of water projects to meet local requirements in which there is a statewide interest by making grants or loans, or both, and by participating in the construction and operation of water projects, and also to provide financial assistance to public agencies for the preparation of certain feasibility State policy reports on such water projects by making loans, in accordance with this chapter.

"Project" (a) As used in this chapter, "project" means any construction or improvement by a public agency for the diversion, storage, or distribution of water primarily for domestic, municipal, agricultural, industrial, flood control or power production purposes. "Public agency" means any city, county, district or other political subdivision of the State. "Feasibility report" means such report on the feasibility of a public agency's proposed project as the department may require the public agency to file with the department in support of an application by the public agency under this chapter for a loan for the construction of the proposed project.

"Public agency"

"Feasibility report"

Approval of proposed project (b) The proposed project may be approved for assistance only if it is determined that the project substantially conforms to The California Water Plan, is engineeringly feasible, economically justified, and, if a loan is proposed, that there is reasonable assurance, commensurate with the need for the proposed project, that the public agency can repay it. A loan for the preparation of a proposed feasibility report on a proposed project may be approved only if it is determined that there is reasonable assurance that the public agency can repay the loan and only if the agency receives a favorable written reply from the department on a written request for a preliminary determination of eligibility for a loan for the construction of the proposed project filed with the department by the agency under the regulations of the department promulgated pursuant to this chapter.

Grants in furtherance of project (c) Grants in furtherance of a project may be made for the following purposes:

(1) For the part of the construction cost of the proposed project properly allocated to the enhancement of fish and wildlife incidental to the primary functions of the project.

(2) For the part of the construction cost of the dam and reservoir of the proposed project properly allocated to recreational functions of statewide interest that are incidental to the primary functions of the project Such construction costs may include expenditures for lands located above the high waterline of reservoirs which are necessary or desirable for public recreation in connection with the reservoir.

Loans for projects (d) Loans may be made only for projects primarily for domestic, municipal, agricultural, or industrial purposes. Such loans may be made for all or any part of the construction cost of any such project but in no event shall any such loan be in an amount which is greater than the portion of the construction cost of the project which the department finds to be beyond the reasonable ability of the public agency to finance from other sources. Such loans shall be repayable over a period not to exceed 50 years. A period of development of not exceeding 10 years may be allowed within such maximum 50-year repayment period, during which no payments on the principal of such loans shall be required, when in the department's judgment such development period is justified under the circumstances.

Loans for report preparation

(e) Loans may be made for all or any part of the cost of the preparation of proposed feasibility reports on proposed projects, but in no event shall any such loan be in an amount which is greater than the portion of the cost of the preparation of the proposed feasibility report which the department finds to be beyond the reasonable ability of the public agency to finance from other sources. Such loans shall be repayable over a period not to exceed 10 years.

State participation

(f) If in order to accomplish the objectives of this chapter it is necessary to construct a project that is beyond the requirements of the public agency constructing the project, the State may participate in planning, designing, constructing, operating and maintaining the project, and in financing those costs of the project in excess of the costs necessary to meet the requirements of the public agency, on terms agreed upon with the agency, to the end that the project shall accomplish the maximum water development objectives at a minimum total expenditure.

Applications for loans and grants

(g) Applications for loans or grants or financial participation by the State under this chapter shall be made to the department in such form and with such supporting material as may be prescribed by the department. A report on each application shall be prepared by the department and filed with the Legislature. In such reports the department shall make findings as to the nature and extent of the statewide interest in the project, the public necessity for the project, the urgency of the need, and the engineering feasibility, economic justification, and financial feasibility of the project; provided, that in the case of reports on applications for loans for the preparation of proposed feasibility reports, in lieu of the above findings, the department shall make findings with respect to the public necessity for and urgency of need of the proposed project and the ability of the applicant to repay the requested loan for the preparation of the proposed feasibility report.

Additional powers of authorized public agencies

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, every public agency empowered by law to construct and operate a project, as defined in subdivision (a) of this section, is hereby granted, in addition to and not in derogation or limitation of the powers conferred upon the public agency by any other law, the power:

(1) To borrow money from and repay the same with interest to the State in accordance with this chapter on behalf of the entire public agency or of any portion or portions thereof for which the law applicable to the agency authorizes an indebtedness or liability to be incurred, including any improvement district, distribution district, or zone within the public agency, notwithstanding any debt limitation or other provision in the law applicable to such agency which might otherwise preclude or limit such borrowing.

(2) To enter into a contract with the department, on behalf of the entire public agency, or of any portion or portions thereof referred to in paragraph (1) of this subdivision (h), for a loan or grant under this chapter or for participation by the State in a local project under subdivision (f) of this section and to use the loan or grant contracted for as an additional or alternative means of financing the project proposed by the public agency.

(3) To comply with the provisions of any contract entered into with the department under this chapter, including any provision which obligates the public agency, or any specified portion or portions thereof, to meet all commitments, financial or otherwise, undertaken by the public agency in such contract notwithstanding any individual default by its constituents or others in the payment to the public agency of taxes, assessments, tolls, or other charges levied by the public agency.

(4) To include recreation and enhancement of fish and wildlife, or either of them, as functions incidental to the primary functions of a project which the public agency is empowered by law to construct and operate, and to construct and operate the project for such incidental recreation and enhancement of fish and wildlife functions, or either of them, in accordance with the provisions of a grant contract entered into with the department, including provisions for public use of the project facilities for fishing and other recreational activities.

(5) To construct and operate such onshore recreational facilities, fish and wildlife enhancement facilities or other facilities as the department or the Legislature may require in connection with a grant to the public agency under this chapter, and to construct and operate such facilities in accordance with the provisions of a grant contract entered into with the department, including provisions for public use of such facilities for fishing and other recreational activities.

(6) To annually levy or cause to be levied upon all property in the public agency, or in any portion or portions thereof, subject to taxation or assessment by the public agency an ad valorem tax or assessment, based upon the assessed valuation of such property, necessary and sufficient to meet all commitments, financial or otherwise, of the public agency that are set forth in any contract which the agency enters into with the department under this chapter, in addition to any other taxes or assessments which the public agency is authorized to levy or cause to be levied on such property and notwithstanding any provision in the law applicable to such agency which might otherwise preclude or limit such taxing or assessing. Where the law applicable to such public agency does not set forth a procedure for levying and collecting taxes or assessments on an ad valorem basis, such public agency shall utilize the procedure for levying and collecting taxes for the payment of principal and interest on general obligation bonds of municipal water districts, set forth in the Municipal Water District Act of 1911 (Chapter 671, Statutes of 1911), as it may now or hereafter be amended, for the purpose of levying and collecting taxes or assessments necessary and sufficient to meet commitments in a contract entered into under this chapter.

(7) To make charges for the furnishing of services from the project for which the public agency receives financial assistance under this chapter and to pledge and use any or all revenues received from the collection of such charges for the purpose of meeting the commitments, financial or otherwise, of the public agency that are set forth in any contract which the public agency enters into with the department under this chapter.

(8) To perform all acts and do all things that are necessary or convenient to carry out the above powers.

Election

(i) Before a public agency may enter into a contract with the department for a construction loan or a grant under this chapter, the public agency shall hold an election on the proposition of whether or not the public agency shall enter into the proposed contract and more than 50 percent of the votes cast at such election must be in favor of such proposition; provided, that if a higher percentage of favorable votes is required for the issuance of any bonds by the public agency or is required by the Constitution before the public agency may incur an indebtedness, such higher percentage shall apply in lieu of the percentage set forth in this subdivision. Such election shall be held in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) The procedure for holding an election on the incurring of bonded indebtedness by such public agency shall be utilized for an election on the proposed contract as nearly as the same may be applicable. Where the law applicable to such agency does not contain such bond election procedure, the procedure set forth in the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 (Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 54300) Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code), as it may now or hereafter be amended, shall be utilized as nearly as the same may be applicable.

(2) No particular form of ballot is required.

(3) The notice of the election shall include a statement of the time and place of the election, the purpose of the election, the general purpose of the contract, and the maximum amount of money to be borrowed from the State under the contract.

(4) The ballots for the election shall contain a brief statement of the general purpose of the contract substantially as stated in the notice of the election, shall state the maximum amount of money to be borrowed from the State under the contract, and shall contain the words "Execution of contract—Yes" and "Execution of contract—No."

(5) The election shall be held in the entire public agency except where the public agency proposes to contract with the department on behalf of a specified portion, or of specified portions, of the public agency, in which case the election shall be held in such portion or portions of the public agency only.

Validation action

(j) Every public agency that has obtained authority through an election held pursuant to subdivision (i) of this section to enter into a contract with the department under this chapter is hereby granted the power to bring an action in the superior court of the county in which the office of such agency is situated to determine the validity of the contract and the authority of the public agency to enter into the contract. The action shall be had as in the case of the judicial determination of the validity of the public agency's bonds, as nearly as the same may be applicable, and with like effect. Where the law applicable to such agency does not set forth a procedure for the judicial determination of the validity of the public agency's bonds, the action shall be had as in the case of the judicial determination of the general obligation bonds of irrigation districts under the Irrigation District Law (Division 11 (commencing with Section 20500) of this code, as it may now or hereafter be amended, as nearly as the same may be applicable, and with like effect.

Where there is more than one qualified signer with respect to a parcel, the signature of any one qualified signer shall be sufficient to include the entire assessed value of the parcel. The petition shall identify the property owned by signer opposite the signer's name by setting forth the street address of the property or the legal description as shown on the most recent tax bill, or other information sufficient to identify the property.

An act to amend Sections 3, 3.2, 6.1, 11, and 18.5 of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617, Statutes of 1951), relating to the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3 of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617, Statutes of 1951) is amended to read:

Zones

Sec. 3. The board of supervisors of the district created by this act, by resolution thereof adopted from time to time, may establish zones within said district without reference to the boundaries of other zones, setting forth in such resolutions descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and entitling each of such zones by a zone number, and institute zone projects for the specific benefit of such zones. Such zones shall, as far as practicable, include complete watersheds.

Such zones may be established in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act, independently of the institution of any project relating to such zone.

Alternately, such zones may be formed concurrently with and as a part of the proceeding for the installation of a project relating to such zones in the manner prescribed in Section 11 of this act.

If prior to taking final action to form any zone, the exterior boundaries of which will include any lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any chartered or incorporated city within the district, the board of supervisors receives the resolution or ordinance adopted by a majority of the members of the governing body of such city requesting exclusion of such city territory from the zone, the board shall exclude such territory.

After a watershed zone has been formed and a project or projects adopted therefor, a subzone or subzones may be formed for areas less than the watershed, and a project or projects adopted therefor. Subzones and projects therefor shall be formed in the manner provided in this section and Section 11 of this act. A subzone or zones and projects therefor may be formed and approved concurrently with the formation of the watershed zone. Any subzone so formed shall be entitled with a watershed zone number and a letter of the alphabet.

SEC. 2. Section 3.2 of said act is amended to read:

Boundaries of complete watersheds, etc

Sec. 3.2. In determining the boundaries of complete watersheds and subzones within such watersheds, the board may consider and include lands immediately adjacent and contiguous to the watershed which will be benefited by being made a part of such watershed zone or subzone.

In establishing boundary lines for watershed zones and subzones, the board and the county boundary commission may, in the interests of convenience and the certainty of the boundaries, adopt boundary lines established by the county assessor for the purpose of making assessments on real property; provided, however, that if a parcel of land under a single ownership of record consists of more than 10 acres, there shall be a division of such parcel for the purpose of having the boundary of the watershed zone or subzone lie as closely as is practicable to the actual watershed line. Lands excluded from a zone by action of the governing body of a city shall not be construed as a material deviation from including all lands within a watershed.

SEC. 3. Section 6 1 of said act is amended to read:

Commission

Sec. 6.1. The board shall appoint a commission consisting of seven (7) members who shall be residents of the County of Contra Costa. The board may delegate any or all of its powers to the commission. The board may by resolution provide for compensation for services and payment of the actual necessary expenses incurred by said members in the performance of official duties under this act, payable from the funds of the district. Members of the commission shall serve four (4) year terms and may be replaced or reappointed by the board at the completion of their term. Terms shall be staggered so that not less than one nor more than two commissioners are to be regularly appointed in any one year Upon approval of this amendment the board shall determine which members of the present commission shall serve initial terms of one, two, three, and four years. Each member of the board of supervisors shall appoint one member of the commission. Two members shall be appointed by the vote of the board of supervisors.

When the board of supervisors has delegated any or all of its powers to the commission, the terms "board" and "board of supervisors" mean the commission. The commission may, by resolution, certified to by the chairman of the commission, take action with reference to any and all matters which have been delegated to it by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Contra Costa.

SEC. 4. Section 11 of said act is amended to read:

Projects, joint projects, etc

Same Resolution

Sec. 11. The board may institute projects for single zones and joint projects for two or more zones, for the financing, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work or improvement of common benefit to such zone or participating zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of same to be borne by the particular zone and in the case of participating zones the proportionate cost to be borne by each of the participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution and which shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project. Notice of such hearing shall be given for a period of not less than twenty (20) days. If there is a newspaper of general circulation published or circulated in the territory proposed to be formed into a zone, notice shall be given by publication pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code. If there is no newspaper published or circulated in the territory, then such publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation which the board determines most likely to give notice to residents of the territory. Publication shall be complete at least seven (7) days before said hearing. If the exterior boundaries of such a proposed zone will include lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any chartered or incorporated city within the district, the board of supervisors shall submit to the governing body of such cities, a copy of the resolution specifying its intention to form such a zone and undertake such project. Such resolution shall be forwarded to any affected city at least 20 days before the date set for the public hearing.

Notice of hearing

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued; the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing a written protest against the proposed project signed by a majority in number of the holders of title to real property, or assessable rights therein, or evidence of title thereto, representing one-half or more of the assessed valuation of the real property within such zone or within any of the participating zones for which said project was initiated, be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to such project must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

Hearing

In all matters in this section referred to, the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Contra Costa next preceding the filing of the protest shall be prima facie evidence as to the ownership of real property, the names and number of the persons who are the holders of title or evidence of title, or assessable rights therein, and as to the assessed valuation of real property within the zone or within any of the participating zones for which the project was initiated.

Property ownership, etc

Executors, administrators, special administrators, and guardians may sign the protest provided for in this act on behalf of the estate represented by them. If the property is assessed in the name of such representatives, that fact shall establish the right of such representatives to sign the protest; if assessed in the name of the decedent, minor or incompetent person, certified copies of the letters or such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the board must be produced.

Where real property appears to be owned in common or jointly or by a partnership, or where letters of representatives of decedents, minors or guardians are joint, only one of the owners or representatives or partners may sign the protest for all joint owners or representatives or partners; provided, the party claiming the right to protest for all produces the written consent of his co-owners or representatives or partners so to do, duly acknowledged by the consenting co-owners or representatives or partners in the manner that deeds of real property are required to be acknowledged to entitle such deeds to be recorded in the recorder's office of the county.

Where real property is assessed in the name of a trustee or trustees, such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to be the person entitled to sign the protest, and if assessed in the name of more than one trustee the right to sign the protest shall be determined in like manner as above provided with respect to co-owners.

The protest of any public or quasi-public corporation, private corporation or unincorporated association, may be signed by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other managing body thereof, which authorization shall be in writing; and a proxy executed by an officer or officers thereof, attested by its seal and duly acknowledged, shall constitute sufficient evidence of such authority, and shall be filed with the board.

The owner of any real property or interest therein, appearing upon the assessment roll, which has been assessed in the wrong name or to unknown owners, or which has passed from the owner appearing as such on the last equalized assessment roll, since the same was made, shall be entitled to sign the protest represented thereby, either by the production of a proxy from such former owner, or by furnishing evidence of his ownership by a conveyance duly acknowledged showing the title to be vested in the person claiming the right to sign the protest, accompanied by a certificate of a competent searcher of titles, certifying that a search of the official records of the county, since the date of the conveyance, discloses no conveyance or transfer out from the grantee or transferee named in the conveyance.

Where the real property has been contracted to be sold, the vendee shall be entitled to sign the protest, unless such real property is assessed in the name of the vendor, in which event the vendor shall be entitled to so do.

The board shall likewise be entitled to inquire and take evidence for the purpose of identifying any person claiming the right to sign the protest as being the person shown on the assessment roll or otherwise as entitled thereto. And, unless satisfactory evidence is furnished, the right to sign said protest may be denied.

SEC. 5 Section 18.5 of said act is amended to read:

Maximum tax rate

Sec. 18 5. The total amount of taxes and assessments levied on property within any zone shall not exceed twenty cents

($0.20) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation, exclusive of the amounts necessary for interest and redemption of any bonds voted within such zone; except a special tax may be levied in a subzone, zone or participating zone as provided in Section 12.3 of this act to meet contractual obligations with another governmental body, if, at an election held in such subzone, zone or participating zone, in the same manner as a bond election, the proposed imposition of special tax is approved by a majority of the votes cast on such proposition.

After the adoption of a resolution or making of an order pursuant to this section, the board of supervisors is the governing body of the district and the terms of any trustees appointed pursuant to Section 8950 shall terminate immediately, irrespective of the provisions of Section 8952.

A classified employee, employed five days a week, who is employed for less than a full fiscal year is entitled to that proportion of 12 days leave of absence for illness or injury as the number of months he is employed bears to 12 and the proportionate amount, consistent with this formula, of such addi-

When such persons are employed for less than a full fiscal year of service this and the preceding paragraph shall determine that proportion of leave of absence for illness or injury to which they are entitled.
