[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 7 (commencing with Section 1820) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 7. State Aid for Probation Services

1820. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to increase the protection afforded the citizens of this state, to permit a more even administration of justice, to rehabilitate offenders, and to reduce the necessity for commitment of persons to state correctional institutions by strengthening and improving the supervision of persons placed on probation by the juvenile and superior courts of this state.

1821. From any state moneys made available to it for such purpose, the State of California, through the Department of Youth Authority, shall, in accordance with this article, share in the cost of supervising probationers who could otherwise be committed to the custody of the Director of the Youth Authority or, pursuant to criminal commitment, to the custody of the Director of Corrections, and who are in "special supervision programs."

1822. The Department of the Youth Authority shall adopt and prescribe, subject to approval by the State Board of Corrections, minimum standards for the operation of "special supervision programs." A "special supervision program" is one embodying a degree of supervision substantially above the usual or the use of new techniques in addition to, or instead of, routine supervision techniques, and which meets the standards prescribed pursuant to this section. Such standards shall be sufficiently flexible to foster the development of new and improved supervision practices.

1823. The Director of the Youth Authority shall seek advice from appropriate county officials in developing standards and procedures for the operation of "special supervision programs."

1824. A county shall make application for subventions toward the cost of special supervision programs to the Department of the Youth Authority in the manner and form prescribed by the department. Any such application must include a plan or plans for providing special supervision and a method for certifying that moneys received are spent only for these special supervision programs.

1825. (a) No county shall be entitled to receive any state funds provided by this article until its application is approved and unless and until the minimum standards prescribed by the Department of the Youth Authority are complied with and then only on such terms as are set forth hereafter in this section.

(b) A commitment rate for each county and for the state as a whole shall be calculated by the Department of Youth Authority by computing the ratio of new commitments to state and county population, expressed in a rate per hundred thousand population, for each of the calendar years 1959 through 1963. The average of these rates for a county for the five-year period or the average of the last two years of the period, whichever is higher, shall be the base rate for that county The number of commitments shall be the total of the new commitments to the custody of the Director of the Youth Authority and the new criminal commitments to the custody of the Director of Corrections, as certified by the respective departments The county and state population shall be that certified by the Department of Finance to the Controller as of July 1 of each year. Persons returned to the county and placed on probation under the provisions of Sections 1168 and 1203.03 of the Penal Code or by the Department of the Youth Authority under appropriate provisions of this code shall not be counted as having been committed for purposes of determining commitment rates under this subdivision or subdivision (c).

(c) An annual commitment rate shall be calculated at the end of each fiscal year for each participating county and for the state as a whole in a like manner to that described in subdivision (b) using the population figure of the July 1 included in the year.

(d) The maximum amount that may be paid to a county pursuant to this article is determined by obtaining the dollar amount in the table in this subdivision for such county's base commitment rate and its percentage decrease in rate of commitment and multiplying that dollar amount by the "commitment reduction number." The "commitment reduction number" is obtained by subtracting (1) the product of the most recent annual commitment rate and population of the county for the same year from (2) the product of the base commitment rate and population of the county for the same year employed in (1). The Director of the Youth Authority, with approval of the Director of Finance may annually adjust the dollar amounts in the ensuing table to reflect changes in cost to the state of maintaining persons committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections and the Director of the Youth Authority, and if such adjustments are made, the adjusted amounts shall be employed in making the computation prescribed by this subdivision.

(e) The state will reimburse the county upon presentation of a valid claim based on actual performance in reducing the commitment rate from its base rate. Whenever a claim made by a county, pursuant to this article, covering a prior fiscal year, is found to be in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without the necessity of applying the adjustment to the allocation for the prior year.

(f) In the event a participating county earns less than one-half of the sum paid in the previous year because of extremely unusual circumstances claimed by the county and verified by the Director of the Youth Authority with the approval of the Director of Finance, the Director of the Youth Authority may pay to the county a sum equal to the prior year's payment, provided, however, that in subsequent years the county will be paid only the amount earned.

(g) Funds obtained under this article shall not be used to support existing programs or develop or expand new programs in juvenile homes, ranches, or camps established under Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of this code.

(h) Counties where the actual number of commitments in the base period as established by subdivision (b) is less than 30 may elect either to comply with the procedure set out above or, as an alternative, to receive from the state 90 percent of the salary of one full-time additional probation officer or, in the event there are fewer than 20 persons placed on probation annually otherwise eligible for commitment to state institutions, the county would be entitled to 90 percent of the salary of a half-time officer. In the event a county chooses the alternative proposal, it will be eligible for reimbursement only so long as the officer devotes all of his time in the performance of probation services to supervision of persons eligible for state commitment and (1) if its base rate is below the state average, it does not on an annual basis exceed the base state rate, or (2) if its base rate is above the state average, it does not in the year exceed by 5 percent its own base rate.

1827. This article shall remain in effect until the 91st day after the final adjournment of the 1969 Regular Session of the Legislature.

SEC. 2. Section 13271 of said code is amended to read:

13271. The governing board of any school district, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Education, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Part 7 of Division 2 of the Labor Code may enter into an agreement with the proper authorities of any foreign country, or of any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or other district within the state, for the exchange and employment of regularly credentialed employees and employees of public schools of any foreign country, state, territory, or possession, or other district within this state. Any certificated person so employed as provided in this section shall be known as an "exchange certificated employee." No exchange shall be made without the consent of the employee to be exchanged.

Due consideration shall be given to the general qualifications and professional status of the exchange employee as compared to the general qualifications and professional status of the employee for whom exchanged. However, it shall not be a requirement that an exchange certificated employee be a teacher of the same subject or grade, or both, as the employee for whom exchanged. If the service authorized is other than teaching, it shall not be a requirement that the service be at the same grade level or that the service be exactly the same as the employee for whom exchanged.

No person may be employed as an exchange employee by a school district in the state unless he holds the necessary valid credential or credentials issued by the State Board of Education authorizing him to serve in a position requiring certification qualifications in the school district proposing to employ him for a period not to exceed one year, except that, by unanimous consent of the governing board, and of the certificated employees concerned, this period may be extended to two years. The State Board of Education may establish minimum standards for the credentials for exchange certificated employees.

No certificate of authority shall be granted to a foreign or alien applicant that has not actively transacted for three years the classes of insurance for which it seeks to be admitted; provided, the foregoing shall not apply to any subsidiary of a seasoned, reputable insurer that has held a certificate of authority in this state for at least three years.

SEC. 3. Section 717 is added to said code, to read:

717. Before granting a certificate of authority or amended certificate of authority to any applicant, the commissioner shall consider the qualifications of said applicant in respect to the following subjects: (a) capital and surplus; (b) lawfulness and quality of investments; (c) financial stability; (d) reinsurance arrangements; (e) competency, character, and integrity of management; (f) ownership and control of issued and outstanding shares in the case of a capital stock insurer; (g) whether claims under policies are promptly and fairly adjusted and are promptly and fully paid in accordance with law and the terms of policies; (h) fairness and honesty of methods of doing business; (i) method by which said applicant was promoted if any of its promoters remain as stockholders or in management; and (j) hazard to policyholders or creditors.

Upon consideration of all relevant qualifications the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to such applicant, unless the commissioner shall have made a finding, or findings, that the applicant is materially deficient in respect to one or more of the items as outlined in (a) through (j), above.

SEC. 4. Section 718 is added to said code, to read:

718. If upon due investigation the commissioner shall find that any applicant for a certificate of authority, or amended certificate of authority, will not conduct its business in con-

721. As used in Sections 704.5, 716, 717 and 718, the term "applicant" includes the attorney-in-fact of a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange. Wherever reference therein is made to an officer, director, or management of the applicant, such reference is deemed to include the officers, directors, and management of the attorney-in-fact of a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, and the members of the board of governors or other governing committee of the reciprocal itself.

If there is no newspaper published in the county seat or in the judicial district, then publication may be made by posting notice in three public places in the county seat or in the judicial district, as the case may be, where no such newspaper is published. If the district is divided into two or more high school or unified districts, or if any territory is included within the boundaries of such junior college district by annexation thereto or by change of boundaries thereof, which territory is not included within the high school or unified district, such junior college district shall be governed by a board of five members who shall be elected in the same manner, for the same terms, and at the same time as are members of the governing boards of other districts. Within 15 days after the effective date of the annexation or change of boundaries for the purpose of electing members of the governing board, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the junior college district shall call an election. This section shall not affect the status of any unified district formed and maintaining a junior college on or before July 1, 1961, and shall not be deemed to require the formation of a junior college district for the maintenance of any junior college now operated by a unified district.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 25410, the governing board having jurisdiction over the junior college district at the time unification of the component district or districts takes place shall constitute the governing board of the junior college district.

A junior college district remaining a separate district pursuant to this section shall not be deemed a newly created district within the meaning of Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 54900), Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code

An act to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 7340) to Part 3 of Division 5 of the Labor Code, relating to aerial passenger tramways.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 7340) is added to Part 3 of Division 5, of the Labor Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. AERIAL PASSENGER TRAMWAYS

7340. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Aerial passenger tramway" includes any method or device used primarily for the purpose of transporting persons by means of cables or ropes suspended between two or more points or structures.

(b) "Permit" means a permit issued by the division to operate an aerial passenger tramway in any place of employment.

7341. No aerial passenger tramway shall be operated in any place of employment in this state unless a permit for the operation thereof is issued by the division, and unless such permit remains in effect and is kept posted conspicuously in the main operating terminal of the tramway.

7342. The operation of an aerial passenger tramway by any person owning or having the custody, management, or operation thereof without a permit is a misdemeanor, and each day of operation without a permit is a separate offense. No prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of a permit has been requested and remains unacted upon.

7343. Whenever an aerial passenger tramway in any place of employment is being operated without the permit herein required, and is in such condition that its use is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, the division, or any person affected thereby, may apply to the superior court of the county in which the aerial passenger tramway is located for an injunction restraining the operation thereof until such condition is corrected. Proof by certification of the division that a permit has not been issued, together with the affidavit of any safety engineer of the division that the operation of the aerial passenger tramway is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, is sufficient ground, in the discretion of the court, for the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order. No bond shall be required from the division in such proceeding.

7344. The division shall cause all aerial passenger tramways to be inspected at least once each year. If an aerial passenger tramway is found upon inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit for operation for not longer than one year shall be issued by the division.

7345. If inspection shows an aerial passenger tramway to be in an unsafe condition, the division may issue a preliminary order requiring repairs or alterations to be made to the aerial passenger tramway which are necessary to render it safe, and may order the operation or use thereof discontinued until the repairs or alterations are made or the unsafe conditions are removed.

7346. Unless the preliminary order is complied with, a hearing before the division shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator, or other person in charge of the aerial passenger tramway may appear and show cause why he should not comply with the order.

7347. If it thereafter appears to the division that the aerial passenger tramway is unsafe and that the requirements contained in the preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make such aerial passenger tramway safe, the division may order or confirm the withholding of the permit and may make such requirements as it deems proper for its repair or alteration or for the correction of such unsafe condition. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the division or reviewed by the courts in the manner specified for safety orders by Part 1 of this division and not otherwise.

7348. If the operation of an aerial passenger tramway during the making of repairs or alterations is not immediately dangerous to the safety of employees, the division may issue a temporary permit for the operation thereof for not to exceed 30 days during the making of repairs or alterations.

7349. The inspection herein provided for shall be made by a division safety engineer.

7350. The division may fix and collect such fees for the inspection of aerial passenger tramways as it deems necessary, but the charge for each inspection shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50) for the first inspection of each new aerial passenger tramway installation and twenty-five dollars ($25) for the reinspection of existing equipment and subsequent inspections of new equipment. No charge shall be made in any one year for more than one inspection except where safety orders have not been complied with and subsequent inspections are necessary. Then an additional fee not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25) may, in the discretion of the division, be charged for not more than one subsequent inspection annually.

7351. Fees shall be paid before issuance of a permit to operate an aerial passenger tramway, except that the division, at its own discretion, may issue a temporary operating permit not to exceed 30 days, pending receipt of payment of fees.

7352. All fees collected by the division under this chapter shall be paid into the General Fund of the State Treasury.

7354. The division shall not issue an operating permit to operate an aerial passenger tramway until it receives certification in writing by an engineer qualified under the Civil and Professional Engineers Act (Chapter 7, commencing with Section 6700, of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code) that the erection work on such tramway has been completed in accordance with the design and erection plans for such tramway.

7355. Nothing in the foregoing sections of this chapter shall limit the authority of the division to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

17103. The governing board of a school district shall employ persons for food service positions as a part of the classi-

The governing board may, at any time, order reimbursement from the cafeteria fund or the cafeteria account to the general fund of the district for payments under this section in such amounts as it prescribes but not to exceed food service employee salary, wage and benefit costs then incurred or anticipated.

Any reimbursements in excess of the amount actually required shall be refunded to the cafeteria fund or the cafeteria account not later than the close of the current fiscal year.

The reimbursements from the cafeteria fund or the cafeteria account shall be considered expenses of the cafeteria fund or the cafeteria account, as the case may be, and only those payments made from the general fund which are not reimbursed from the cafeteria fund or the cafeteria account shall be considered expenses of the general fund.

Accounting for such transactions shall be as prescribed in Section 17199 of this code.

Such title or rights as the department deems necessary for the proper operation and maintenance of the water conservation, flood control or power features of any water project shall not be included in any exchange consummated under this section.

Any such exchange involving real property acquired by the department solely for recreation shall be concurred in by the Department of Parks and Recreation. Any such exchange involving property acquired by the department solely for fish and wildlife purposes shall be concurred in by the Department of Fish and Game. Any such exchange involving property acquired solely for fish, wildlife and recreational purposes shall be concurred in by the Department of Fish and Game and the Department of Parks and Recreation. Real property of the United States not necessary for a project of the department shall be acquired by the department by exchange under this section only if another agency of state government has agreed to acquire such real property from the department for the actual cost to the department of the real property which is to be given in exchange therefor; provided, that any amount appropriated to the department to reimburse it for prior expenditures for acquisition of such land shall be deducted from the actual cost.

An act to amend Section 232 of the Civil Code, relating to child custody.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 232 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

232. An action may be brought for the purpose of having any person under the age of 21 years declared free from the custody and control of either or both of his parents when such person comes within any of the following descriptions:

(a) Who has been left by both of his parents or his sole parent in the care and custody of another without any provision for his support, or without communication from such parent or parents, for the period of six months with the intent on the part of such parent or parents to abandon such person. Such failure to provide, or such failure to communicate for the period of six months, shall be presumptive evidence of the intent to abandon. Such person shall be deemed and called a person abandoned by the parent or parents abandoning him. If in the opinion of the court the evidence indicates that such parent or parents have made only token efforts to support or communicate with the child, the court may declare the child abandoned by such parent or parents.

The fact that a child is in a foster care home, licensed under subdivision (a) of Section 1620 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, shall not prevent a licensed adoption agency which is planning adoption placement for the child, from instituting, under this subdivision, an action to declare such child free from the custody and control of his parents. When the requesting agency is a licensed county adoption agency, the county counsel and if there is no county counsel, the district attorney shall institute such action.

(b) Who has been cruelly treated or neglected by either or both of his parents, if such person has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and such parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such cruel treatment or neglect, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of a petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such cruel or neglectful parent or parents.

(c) Whose parent or parents are habitually intemperate, or morally depraved, if such person has been a dependent child of the juvenile court, and the parent or parents deprived of his custody because of such intemperance, or moral depravity, for the period of one year continuously immediately prior to the filing of the petition praying that he be declared free from the custody and control of such habitually intemperate or morally depraved parent or parents.

(d) Whose parent or parents are deprived of their civil rights due to the conviction of a felony, if the felony of which such parent or parents were convicted is of such nature as to prove the unfitness of such parent or parents to have the future custody and control of the child, or if any term of sentence of such parent or parents is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for a period of years.

(e) Whose parent or parents have, in a divorce action, been found to have committed adultery and been divorced on that ground, if the court finds that the future welfare of the child will be promoted by an order depriving such parent or parents of the control and custody of the child.

(f) Whose parent or parents have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be mentally deficient or mentally ill, if the State Director of Mental Hygiene and the superintendent of the state hospital of which, if any, such parent or parents are inmates or patients certify that such parent or parents so declared to be mentally deficient or mentally ill will not be capable of supporting or controlling the child in a proper manner.

A licensed adoption agency may institute under this section, an action to declare a child, as described in this section, free from the custody and control of his parents. When the requesting agency is a licensed county adoption agency, the county counsel, or if there is no county counsel, the district attorney shall in a proper case institute such action.

(1) The total amount of the bond issue, bonded indebtedness or other indebtedness involved.

(2) The percentage of registered electors of the district who voted at the election.

(3) The results of the election, with the percentage of votes cast for and against the proposition involved.

1262.5. (a) Whenever the department learns that a trade dispute is in progress, the department shall conduct a preliminary investigation and shall establish a class or classes of claimants based upon the ultimate facts of general and common application as to the eligibility of the members of such class or classes and shall make a preliminary determination as to whether or not any class or classes of employees involved in the dispute may be, or are, ineligible pursuant to Section 1262 from receiving benefits during the dispute.

(b) If in the opinion of the department 100 or more persons involved are likely to be finally individually determined to be not ineligible under Section 1262, the department shall transmit a notice of its preliminary determination to each employer and labor organization involved in the dispute.

(c) The department shall promptly publish its preliminary determination in two newspapers of general circulation in the geographical areas wherein the dispute is occurring.

(d) An employer involved in the trade dispute or a union whose members have been determined to be ineligible by the preliminary determination may within 10 days after such publication file an appeal. Except as provided in this section, the proceedings on the appeal shall be conducted in the same manner as those conducted under Article 3 (commencing with Section 1326) of Chapter 5 of this part with respect to benefit claims.

(e) A hearing on an appeal filed by an employer or a union concerning a preliminary determination shall be held not later than 25 days after publication of the preliminary determination. Notice of the hearing shall be published in two newspapers of general circulation in the geographical area involved not later than five days prior to the hearing.

(f) The only issues which may be raised at a hearing held on an appeal shall be whether or not the department has correctly (i) established the class or classes of employees, and (ii) determined that the specified class or classes are not ineligible under Section 1262.

(g) The referee may affirm, modify or reverse the preliminary determination of the department. He shall issue his decision within 10 days, if practicable, after the conclusion of the hearing.

(h) The first paragraph of Section 1335(b) shall not apply to proceedings pursuant to this section. At such time as the determination under this section has become final, the payment of benefits, if any are payable, shall not thereafter be withheld solely because the same issue or issues which had become final in a determination hereunder are raised in an appeal involving an individual claimant.

(i) Nothing contained herein shall preclude an employer or a claimant from contesting the determination of the eligibility of an individual for benefits or his inclusion within one of the classes determined not to be disqualified or otherwise limit appeal rights specified in this part.

6348. A board may expend surplus funds in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) under its control, not necessary for use to maintain the law library, to acquire or lease real property and erect thereon a library building to house the law library. In the alternative, a board of law library trustees may appropriate from such surplus funds in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), so much as in the discretion of said board may be necessary to obtain adequate quarters for the law library in any building hereafter erected by the board of supervisors of the county in which the law library is maintained. The moneys so appropriated shall not be more than the proportion of the total cost of such building which the space allotted to the law library bears to the total usable space in the building. The moneys so appropriated may be transferred to the board of supervisors of the county for use in erecting the building, or may be paid directly on contracts for the erection thereof made by the board of supervisors.

SEC. 2. Section 6348.1 of said code is amended to read:

An act to amend Sections 13551, 13554, 15301, and 15402 of, and to add Sections 13560, 15301.5 and 15310, and to add Article 5 (commencing with Section 13691) to Chapter 4, Part 8, Division 2 of, and to repeal Sections 13552 and 15303 and Article 5 (commencing with Section 13691) of Chapter 4 of Part 8 of Division 2 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to inheritance and gift taxation.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965 Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

13551. Upon the death of a spouse:

(a) None of the community property transferred to a spouse is subject to this part, except as provided in Section 13694.

(b) All of the decedent's half interest in the community property passing to anyone other than the surviving spouse is subject to this part.

SEC. 2. Section 13552 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 13554 of said code is amended to read:

13554. Where community property is transferred within the provisions of Chapter 4 of this part other than by will or the laws of succession from one spouse to the other, the property transferred is not subject to this part except as provided in Section 13694.

SEC. 4. Section 13560 is added to said code, to read:

13560. If one spouse makes a gift of an interest in separate property to the other and the interest so given, together with an equal interest retained by the donor, becomes their community property, such equal interests shall be treated as held by them as their separate property, and not as community property, for purposes of this part.

SEC. 5. Article 5 (commencing with Section 13691) of Chapter 4 of Part 8 of Division 2 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Article 5 (commencing with Section 13691) is added to Chapter 4 of Part 8 of Division 2 of said code, to read:

Article 5. Powers of Appointment

13691. "Charitable beneficiary," as used in this article, means a transferee of property which is within the exemption specified in Article 3 (commencing with Section 13841) of Chapter 5 of this part.

13692. "General power of appointment" means a power which is exercisable in favor of the decedent, his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate, provided that the following shall not be deemed to be general powers of appointment:

(a) A power to consume, invade, or appropriate property for the benefit of the decedent which is limited by an ascertainable standard relating to the health, education, support, or maintenance of the decedent.

(b) A power not exercisable by the decedent except in conjunction with the creator of the power.

(c) A power not exercisable by the decedent except in conjunction with a person having a substantial interest in the property subject to the power, which is adverse to exercise of the power in favor of the decedent. For the purposes of this subsection a person who, after the death of the decedent, may be possessed of a power of appointment (with respect to the property subject to the decedent's power) which he may exercise in his own favor shall be deemed as having an interest in the property and such interest shall be deemed adverse to such exercise of the decedent's power.

If the power is exercisable by the decedent only in conjunction with another person and if after the application of subdivisions (b) and (c) the power is a general power of appointment and is exercisable in favor of such other person, such power shall be deemed a general power of appointment only in respect of a fractional part of the property subject to such power, such part to be determined by dividing the value of such property by the number of such persons (including the decedent) in favor of whom such power is exercisable.

For purposes of subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section, a power shall be deemed to be exercisable in favor of a person if it is exercisable in favor of such person, his estate, his creditors or the creditors of his estate.

13693. "Limited power of appointment" means a power which does not qualify under the preceding section as a general power of appointment.

13696. If at the time of his death a decedent has a general power of appointment with respect to property, the exercise of the power is subject to this part as a transfer of the property from the decedent to the person to whom the property is appointed and the decedent's failure to exercise the power is subject to this part as a transfer of the property from the decedent to the person to whom the property passes by virtue of the nonexercise of the power. For purposes of this section, the power of appointment shall be considered to exist on the date of the decedent's death even though the exercise of the power is subject to a precedent giving a notice or even though the exercise of the power takes effect only on the expiration of a stated period after its exercise, whether or not on or before the date of the decedent's death notice has been given or the power has been exercised.

13697. The exercise or release by the decedent during his lifetime of a power with respect to property which, but for such exercise or release would be subject to tax by virtue of the preceding section, is a transfer subject to this part if the exercise or release is of such a nature that if it were a transfer of property owned by the decedent such transfer would be subject to this part under Article 3 of Chapter 4 of this part. A disclaimer or renunciation of such a power of appointment shall not be deemed a release of such power.

The lapse of a power of appointment during the life of the individual possessing the power shall be considered a release of such power. The preceding sentence shall apply with respect to the lapse of powers during any calendar year only to the extent that the property, which could have been appointed by exercise of such lapsed powers, exceeded in value, at the time of such lapse, the greater of the following amounts:

(a) Five thousand dollars ($5,000), or

(b) Five percent of the aggregate value, at the time of such lapse, of the assets out of which, or the proceeds of which, at the exercise of the lapsed powers could have been satisfied.

13698. If at the date of the donor's death a power of appointment is irrevocably limited, in whole or in part, to be exercised in favor of a charitable beneficiary, to the extent that it is so limited the gift of the power is not a transfer subject to this part from the donor to the donee.

13699. In the case of a gift of a limited power of appointment, if the donee irrevocably exercises, or obligates himself to exercise, the power, in whole or in part, in favor of a charitable beneficiary before any tax on the gift has been finally determined, to the extent that the power is so exercised, or obliged to be exercised, the gift of the power shall be deemed a transfer to the charitable beneficiary.

13700. If a gift of a limited power of appointment is taxed under this part as a transfer from the donor to the donee, and thereafter the donee irrevocably exercises, or obligates himself to exercise, the power, in whole or in part, in favor of a charitable beneficiary, the court which originally fixed the tax, on satisfactory proof to it, pursuant to an application after notice to the Controller made within six months after execution of the document exercising the power, or obliging the donee to exercise the power, in favor of the charitable beneficiary, shall modify its original order fixing the tax by a new order based upon a computation wherein the charitable beneficiary shall be deemed to be the transferee to the extent the power is exercised or is obligated to be exercised in its favor.

13701. If a gift of a limited power of appointment is taxed under this part as a transfer from the donor to the donee, and thereafter, as the result of a nonexercise of the power, in whole or in part, the whole or any part of the property subject to the power passes to a charitable beneficiary, the court which originally fixed the tax, on satisfactory proof to it, pursuant to an application after notice to the Controller made within six months after the passage of the property to the charitable beneficiary, shall modify its original order fixing the tax by a new order based upon a computation wherein the charitable beneficiary shall be deemed to be the transferee to the extent the power is exercised or is obligated to be exercised in its favor.

SEC. 7. Section 15105.5 is added to said code, to read:

15105.5. The exercise or release of a general power of appointment shall, for the purposes of this part be deemed a transfer of the property subject to the power by the individual possessing the power.

The lapse of a power of appointment during the life of the individual possessing the power shall be considered a release of such power. The rule of the preceding sentence shall apply with respect to the lapse of powers during any calendar year only to the extent that the property which could have been appointed by exercise of such lapsed powers exceeds in value the greater of the following amounts:

(a) Five thousand dollars ($5,000), or

(b) Five percent of the aggregate value of the assets out of which, or the proceeds of which the exercise of the lapsed power could be satisfied.

A disclaimer or a renunciation of such power shall not be deemed a release of the power.

For purposes of this section, the term "general power of appointment" means a power which is exercisable in favor of the individual possessing the power (hereafter in this section referred to as the "possessor"), his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate, provided that the following shall not be deemed to be general powers of appointment:

(a) A power to consume, invade, or appropriate property for the benefit of the possessor which is limited by an ascertainable standard relating to the health, education, support, or maintenance of the possessor.

(b) A power not exercisable by the possessor except in conjunction with the creator of the power.

(c) A power not exercisable by the possessor except in conjunction with a person having a substantial interest in the property subject to the power, which is adverse to exercise of the power in favor of the possessor. For the purposes of this subsection a person who, after the death of the possessor, may be possessed of a power of appointment (with respect to the property subject to the possessor's power) which he may exercise in his own favor shall be deemed as having an interest in the property and such interest shall be deemed adverse to such exercise of the possessor's power.

If the power is exercisable by the possessor only in conjunction with another person and if after the application of subdivisions (b) and (c) the power is a general power of appointment and is exercisable in favor of such other person, such power shall be deemed a general power of appointment only in respect of a fractional part of the property subject to such power, such part to be determined by dividing the value of such property by the number of such persons (including the possessor) in favor of whom such power is exercisable.

For purposes of subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section a power shall be deemed to be exercisable in favor of a person if it is exercisable in favor of such person, his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate.

SEC. 8. Section 15301 of said code is amended to read:

15301. In the case of a transfer to either spouse by the other of community property, none of the property transferred is subject to this part.

SEC. 9. Section 15301.5 is added to said code, to read:

15301.5. In the case of a transfer to either spouse by the other of quasi-community property, one-half of the property transferred is subject to this part.

SEC. 10. Section 15303 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 15310 is added to said code, to read:

15310. If one spouse makes a gift of an interest in separate property to the other and the interest so given, together with an equal interest retained by the donor, becomes their community property, such equal interests shall be treated as held by them as their separate property, and not as community property, for purposes of this part.

SEC. 12. Section 15402 of said code is amended to read:

15402. The exemption allowed by this article shall not apply to a future interest in property; provided, that no part of a gift to an individual who has not attained the age of 21 years on the date of such transfer shall be considered a gift of a future interest in property for the purposes of this section if the property and the income therefrom may be expended by, or for the benefit of, the donee before his attaining the age of 21 years, and will to the extent not so expended pass to the donee on his attaining the age of 21 years, and in the event the donee dies before attaining the age of 21 years, be payable to the estate of the donee or as he may appoint under an unlimited power of appointment.

CHAPTER 1071

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

13716. The commission may classify as apprentice positions certain positions where the principal requirement is that of learning to perform efficiently, by study and practice, specific duties concerning which a definite plan of systematic instruction and special supervision has been approved by the California Apprenticeship Council for the designated trade.

The apprenticeship training plan adopted by the governing board of the school district must be approved by the California Apprenticeship Council.

No assignment to any position classified as an apprentice position shall be allowed to continue beyond the predetermined apprenticeship period approved by the California Apprenticeship Council for the designated trade, except that the school district's joint apprenticeship committee may approve retention of an employee as an apprentice up to six months beyond the predetermined apprentice period.

Selection of eligibles shall be made in accordance with their position on employment lists established by competitive or qualifying examinations.

The provisions of Section 13592 of this code shall be applicable to apprentice positions, provided that relative age may be considered as a factor in the ranking of candidates for apprentice positions.

Credit for prior training in a regularly indentured apprenticeship program shall be given to qualified candidates.

In all cases of apprenticeship probationary periods, the standards of duration and qualifications shall be fixed by the commission insofar as they do not exceed the maximum standards set up by the California Apprenticeship Council. Termination for cause may be prescribed for any apprentice who fails to attain the predetermined standards of apprenticeship or for causes as prescribed by the rules of the commission.

The commission shall recommend to the governing board a graduated scale of compensation rates for the various levels of apprentices, taking into consideration the percentage relationship to the districts' journeyman wage of the trade as provided in the statement of policies of the California Apprenticeship Council.

The commission may determine that promotional examinations shall be held for entrance into various levels of apprentice positions and entrance into journeyman positions in a skilled trade.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12.2 of the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1275, Statutes 1949), is amended to read:

Sec. 12.2. The board of supervisors, by resolution thereof adopted from time to time, may establish special drainage areas within the district without reference to the boundaries of other zones or special drainage areas, setting forth in such resolutions descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and entitling each of such areas by an area designation or number, and institute drainage plans for the specific benefit of such areas.

Before acquiring authority to proceed with the establishment of any special drainage area, the exterior boundaries of which will include any land lying within the exterior boundary of any chartered or incorporated city within the district, the board shall first obtain the concurrence of such city by a resolution or ordinance adopted by a majority of the members of the city council of such city.

A special drainage area may include all lands contributing to the drainage requirements of an area, excluding such lands as are already developed or those adequately served by existing local drainage facilities serving the area at the time of the adoption of a plan for additional drainage facilities.

Whenever drainage facilities, conforming to the instituted drainage plan, are required in the development of any land within a special drainage area and where, in the opinion of the board, it is necessary that other facilities be constructed which can be, or will be, used for the benefit of other property in the drainage area, and such drainage facilities are dedicated to the public, the board may contract with the developer and agree to reimburse, and may reimburse him, for all or any portion of such drainage facilities. Such contract shall provide that the board may collect a reasonable charge from any person, corporation or agency using such facilities for the benefit of other property in the special drainage area.

Fees may be collected pursuant to this section for payment of all or any portion of any such drainage facility costs if the costs, whether actual or estimated, are based upon findings by the board, that development of property within the planned special drainage area will require construction of the facilities described in the drainage plan, and that fees are fairly apportioned within the local drainage area on the basis of benefits conferred on property within the area. The fee as to any property within the special drainage area may be charged as a condition precedent to the development of such property, and no building permit therefor shall be issued until payment thereof, and said fee shall not exceed the pro rata share of the amount of the total actual or estimated costs of all such drainage facilities within the special drainage area which would be assessable on such property if such costs were apportioned on a uniform fee schedule, excluding, however, such property within the area as, in the opinion of the board, is incapable of development.

The fees collected by the district, pursuant to this section, shall be paid into a special drainage facilities fund. A separate fund shall be established for each special drainage area. Any money placed in such fund shall be expended solely for land acquisition, construction, engineering, repair, maintenance and operation or reimbursement for the same, in whole or in part, of local drainage facilities within the planned special drainage area from which the fees comprising the fund were collected.

The term "developer," as used herein, shall include a subdivider, industrial developer, or any person, corporation, district, public or private agency, or group that may participate in the special drainage facilities constructed pursuant to this section.

Any drainage facilities constructed in any special drainage area may be installed by the developer at his sole cost and expense in accordance with plans and specifications prepared or approved by the district, by the district with its own funds, or by the district with funds supplied by the developer, and the cost thereof may be collected and repaid, in whole or in part, in the manner provided for in this section.

The institute shall be conducted and maintained for diagnosis and treatment and for teaching and research in the field of neuropsychiatry and mental retardation to the end that critical shortages of trained personnel will be relieved and with the expectation that through research more rapid and economical treatment and preventive methods concerning mental disorders and retardation will be developed. The University of California shall utilize the facilities of the institute for teaching, research, and training in the field of neuropsychiatry and mental retardation. The Department of Mental Hygiene shall utilize the facilities of the institute for the care of patients and for such research and training as it may undertake in the field of neuropsychiatry and mental retardation. Admissions may be either on a voluntary basis after approval by the medical superintendent, or on transfer from another institution under the jurisdiction of the department after approval by the Director of Mental Hygiene, and no person shall be committed either directly to the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute or to the Department of Mental Hygiene for placement therein. All admissions shall be for temporary observation, research, diagnosis and treatment purposes as determined by the medical superintendent; in the cases of transfer from another institution, the patients so transferred may be returned, upon the completion of the study, diagnosis or treatment, to an institution of the type from which they came.

(d) In the event a hearing is requested by the employee, the proceeding shall be conducted and a decision made in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code and the governing board shall have all the power granted to an agency in the said Chapter 5, except that the respondent shall file his notice of defense, if any, within five days after service upon him of the accusation and he shall be notified of such five-day period for filing in the accusation. (e) The governing board's determination not to reemploy a probationary employee for the ensuing school year shall be for cause only. The decision made after the hearing shall be effective on May 15 of the year in which the proceeding is commenced.

(f) If a governing board notifies a probationary employee that his services will not be required for the ensuing year, the board shall, within 10 days after delivery to it of the employee's written request, provide him with a statement of its reasons for not reemploying him for the ensuing school year.

A certification to the State Department of Education by the State Department of Rehabilitation that the individual meets all the requirements and fulfills all the qualifications of that department for the position for which he is being considered shall serve as evidence that the individual meets the academic, professional and experience requirements for a standard designated services credential with a specialization in pupil personnel services as a rehabilitation counselor or mobility instructor for the blind, in accordance with requirements adopted by the State Board of Education, which the individual must obtain in order to render services in the public schools.

Sec. 5.5. The authority shall determine the time, form and manner of the issuance of revenue bonds.

The authority shall give public notice, in such manner as it may determine, inviting sealed bids upon any bonds which it proposes to issue. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be sold to the bidder whose bid will result in the lowest net interest cost on account of such bonds, but the authority must reject any and all bids for the bonds which shall be below the par value thereof plus the interest which shall have accrued thereon from the date thereof (or, if any past due coupon or coupons have been detached from said bonds prior to the delivery thereof, then from the due date of the latest coupon so detached) to the date of the purchaser's payments for said bonds. The net interest cost under each bid shall be determined by ascertaining the total amount of interest which the state would be required to pay under that bid, from the date of sale to the respective maturity dates of the bonds then offered for sale, at the coupon rate of rates specified in such bid, less the total amount of the premium, if any, offered by such bid. The bid under which the amount so ascertained is the least shall be deemed to be the bid resulting in the lowest net interest cost. If no bids are received or if the board determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, it may reject all bids received, if any, and readvertise. It shall not sell any of the bonds at private sale.

SEC. 4. Section 5.38 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 5.38. All bonds issued under this act shall be investigated and certified by the California Districts Securities Commission under the Districts Securities Commission Law, Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 20000) of Division 10 of the Water Code, as such law reads or is hereafter amended to read. If the commission determines that the bonds are adequately secured and the revenues of the authority applicable to the payment thereof are or will be sufficient to pay the principal and interest of the bonds, and if the commission certifies to that effect, the bonds shall be eligible as legal investments for both public and private funds in the same manner as is provided in the Districts Securities Commission Law.

SEC. 5. This act is intended to implement the recommendations of the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government as set forth in Volume 6, Number 22 of the Assembly Interim Committee Reports to the 1965 Legislature.

SECTION 1. Section 6481 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

6481. When a shellfish bed is established pursuant to this code, only nonnative cultivated shellfish in the bed belong to the person establishing the bed, and that person is entitled to the exclusive use and occupation of the land on which the bed is located, for the purpose of maintaining the bed. The provisions of this section apply only for the term of the license provided in Section 6480.

SEC. 2. Section 6482 of said code is amended to read:

6482. Beds of native oysters (Ostrea lurida) on state tidelands, in all bays, lagoons, and estuaries in this state, together with such other areas of state tidelands as the department may set aside for the cultivation of oyster seed, are oyster reserves, and shall be, remain, and continue the property of the state, and be administered for the best interests of the state by the department. Use of such state water bottoms shall conform to the minimal use of such bottoms, which is the minimum amount of shellfish to be planted per unit of area as established by commission regulation.

No unallotted state water bottoms shall be allotted unless the commission determines that such allotment is in the public interest.

SEC. 6. Section 6490 of said code is amended to read:

6490. Any citizen of California desiring to acquire the exclusive privilege of cultivating shellfish on unallotted state water bottoms shall make application to the commission for that purpose, designating the particular area desired. The application shall be accompanied by a map of the area desired, showing sufficient adjacent geography for ready placement, and the acreage of the area.

Each application for an allotment of state water bottoms shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars ($50).

The applicant shall assume responsibility for any infringement on privately owned water bottoms, or water bottoms owned by, or under the jurisdiction of, any city or county.

SEC. 7. Section 6491 of said code is amended to read:

6491. The commission, after consulting its records of filings, shall, if the area requested is found to be unallotted and the application conforms with this article, and upon a finding that an allotment would be in the public interest, allot the area to the applicant, to be held by him for the term of the allotment or until such time as it is abandoned.

Ninety days before any water bottoms are allotted, the commission shall cause legal notices of the application to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county where the water bottoms or any part thereof are located, describing the area to be allotted, the name of the applicant and the type of operation to be conducted. Publication shall be made in accordance with Sections 6060 and 6066 of the Government Code.

SEC. 8. Section 6492 of said code is amended to read:

Until such time as the lands are reallotted by the commission, the department may operate and maintain the area in the best interest of the state.

SEC. 9. Section 6493 of said code is amended to read:

6493. An allotted area shall be considered for abandonment by the commission when, for a period of two years, it has not been improved at the applicable planting rate established by commission regulations. The transfer of such an allotment shall not affect the effective date of two-year period.

SEC. 10. Section 6498 of said code is amended to read:

6498. The granting of an allotment shall in no way affect public access for hunting and fishing to the state lands contained in the allotted area, except that access to the area for the purposes of hunting or fishing shall be only by boat floating on the surface of the water covering the area and operated in such a manner as to cause no damage to the area or the shellfish therein.

SEC. 11. Section 6500 of said code is amended to read:

6500. An allotted area shall be plainly marked by a stake at each corner, if rectangular; or, if irregular in shape, at the intersection of two lines of different directions. The tops of the stakes shall be painted white and shall show at least four feet above high water. In some conspicuous place in the area a sign shall be displayed which shall be above high water and shall be not less than six feet in length and one foot in width, on which shall be painted in black letters upon a white background the words "oyster beds" or "mussel beds" or such words as may be applicable, under which shall appear the name of the person to whom the area has been allotted and the allotment number. Failure to post and maintain boundary stakes and signs as required by this chapter shall be cause for consideration of forfeiture of allotment, license, and permits unless the allottee can show the commission reasonable cause why the allotment should not be abandoned.

Nothing in this article authorizes any impediment or obstruction to the navigation of any channels.

SEC. 12. Section 6503 of said code is amended to read:

6503. In addition to the fees provided for in this article, an allottee shall pay an annual rental fee of one dollar ($1) per each acre or part thereof for all state water bottoms allotted to him, to be paid according to the following schedule: for the first year, ten percent (10%) of the annual rental; for the second year, twenty percent (20%) of said rental; for the third year, thirty percent (30%) of said rental; and for each year thereafter one hundred percent (100%) of said rental. The rental year is the period from July 1st of any year to June 30th of the following year or any fraction thereof.

For the purposes of this section, any allotment transferred from one person to another shall be considered as an existing allotment, not as a new allotment, and the rental shall be paid by the allottee of record on the due date.

SEC. 13. Section 6504 of said code is amended to read:

6504. An annual rental fee shall be paid to the department within 30 days after the beginning of the rental period. If it is not paid within 60 days after the close of the month in which it is due, a 10 percent penalty shall be paid. The commission shall declare the allotment abandoned unless the allottee can show reasonable cause for failure to pay such rental fees within 90 days of the beginning of the rental period.

SEC. 14. Section 6506 of said code is amended to read:

6506. In addition to the fees provided for in this article, every person operating under an allotment shall pay a privilege tax of one cent ($0.01) per packed gallon or fraction thereof of shucked shellfish harvested by him from his allotment. If the shellfish are marketed in the shell, the tax shall be based on the equivalent yield of shucked shellfish meat.

In determining the yield of Pacific oysters it shall be deemed that one hundred (100) oysters will yield one packed gallon of shucked oyster meat.

SEC. 15. Section 6507 of said code is amended to read:

6507. The privilege tax imposed by Section 6506 shall be paid monthly to the department within 30 days after the close of each month. If not paid within 60 days after the close of the month in which it is due, a ten percent (10%) penalty shall be paid.

The commission shall revoke a license and declare the allotment abandoned unless the allottee presents to the commission reasonable cause for failure to pay such privilege tax within 90 days after the close of the month in which it is due.

Blanks for the purpose of making privilege tax returns shall be supplied by the department.

SEC. 16 Section 6508 of said code is amended to read:

6508. Any licensee operating under a license granted under Section 6480 shall make such commercial fishing reports as may be required of persons engaged in commercial fishing activities under Article 6 (commencing with Section 8010), Chapter 1, Part 3, of Division 6.

Any person operating in accord with Section 6480 shall supply information as requested by the department. The department shall provide forms for recording information pertaining to shellfish culture operations conducted under provisions of this code. No such zone established primarily for flood control purposes shall include more than one natural drainage basin.

The board may, and upon the receipt of a petition signed by the owners of property representing at least ten percent (10%) of the assessed valuation of the real property within a proposed zone shall, institute proceedings for the establishment of any zone within the district pursuant to this act whenever in the judgment of the board it is deemed desirable that such zone be established hereunder. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with the establishment of any such zone the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to establish such zone setting forth (a) that the public interest and necessity require that a zone be so established, (b) a general description of the area of the proposed zone, (c) a general description of the improvement deemed desirable, and (d) a general estimate of the cost of the contemplated improvements in the event that the zone is established. The zone may be described by reference to a map on file in the office of the county clerk and it shall not be necessary to set forth a metes and bounds description thereof A general description of the proposed improvements in the event that the zone is established shall be sufficient and it shall not be necessary to prepare detailed plans and specifications of the work to be done. The estimate of cost may include an estimate of all expenses to be incurred in connection with the establishment of the proposed zone, including all incidental expenses of financing the proposed work, but neither the cost of physical construction nor the incidental expense need be itemized.

If any proposed zone includes all or part of the territory of any city the board shall file a certified copy of its resolution of intention with the governing body of such city in order that the governing body of that city may be notified of the proposed zone. If the governing body of such city fails to protest the proposed zone by filing a certified copy of its resolution of protest with the board within sixty (60) days after the receipt by such city of the certified copy of the resolution of intention of the board, the board shall thereupon have exclusive jurisdiction to proceed with and to conduct all hearings on the establishment of the proposed zone, to permit or cause all necessary changes to be made in the boundaries of the proposed zone, and to conduct all proceedings on the establishment of the proposed zone. If the governing body of such city protests in the manner herein provided the board shall have jurisdiction to proceed but the territory of such city may be excluded within the proposed zone only if 10 percent of the voters of said territory protest in writing to the board the establishment of said zone. Said protest by voters of a city must be filed with the board within 120 days of the receipt by the city of the certified copy of the resolution of intention. Upon receipt of such voters' protest the board shall call an election in the territory in question to be held in the manner hereinafter provided for an election in an entire zone insofar as may be applicable; and if a majority of the voters vote against the inclusion of the territory it shall be excluded from the proposed zone. However, the board may proceed with the establishment of the proposed zone or any part thereof without the inclusion of any territory of such city within the proposed zone by modifying its resolution of intention so as to exclude the territory of such city from any such zone. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit the right of the board to abandon the establishment of any proposed zone at any time. Upon acquiring jurisdiction to proceed the board shall by resolution fix a time and place for public hearing of said resolution of intention, or as modified, and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing, the last publication of which notice must be at least seven (7) days before said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation, circulated in such zone, if there be such a newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper, then by posting notice for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing in five public places designated by the board, in such zone. Said notice of hearing shall also contain a text of the resolution of intention of the board to establish the proposed zone. Notice of said hearing shall also be given in writing to the city council of each city wholly or partially included within such proposed zone, by letter addressed to the city clerk of such city or cities.

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearings may be continued, the board shall consider all written protests or objections to the establishment of the proposed zone. Each such objection or protest shall include the description and assessed valuation of the real property owned by the protestant. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may proceed with the establishment of the proposed zone, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing a written protest against the establishment of the proposed zone signed by the holders of title to real property or assessable rights therein, or evidence of title thereto, representing ten percent (10%) or more of the assessed valuation of the real property within such proposed zone be filed with the board, or the territory of any city representing fifty percent (50%) or more of the total assessed value of the real property within the proposed zone is included within the proposed zone and such city has protested within the time and in the manner provided above, or both, in which event, the board shall either abandon further proceedings relating to the establishment of the proposed zone or shall submit the question of whether or not the proposed zone shall be established to the voters within the proposed zone at either a regular election or a special election called for the purpose. If a majority of the votes cast at said election are cast in favor of the establishment of the proposed zone, the board shall establish the zone by resolution, setting forth in said resolution the description of the zone by metes and bounds and entitling the zone by a zone number. Said zone shall be deemed established from and after the date of the resolution of the board establishing the same. However, before taxes or assessments as hereinabove provided for may be levied therein, compliance must be had with the provisions of Government Code Sections 54900 to 54904, inclusive. If a majority of the votes cast at said election are against the establishment of the proposed zone the board shall abandon the establishment of the zone and no further proceedings to establish a zone of the same or substantially the same area shall be instituted by the board for a period of six months from the date of said election. The provisions of this section to the contrary notwithstanding, no territory of any city with a population of more than 40,000 inhabitants, based upon the 1950 federal census, shall be included within any zone established or to be established as herein provided without the request, by resolution, of a majority of the governing body of said city to such inclusion.

In all matters in this section referred to, the last equalized assessment roll of the County of San Mateo next preceding the filing of the protest shall be prima facie evidence as to the ownership of real property, the names and number of the persons who are the holders of title or evidence of title, or assessable rights therein, and as to the assessed valuation of real property within the proposed zone.

Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may sign the protest provided for in this act on behalf of the estate represented by them If the property is assessed in the name of such representatives, that fact shall establish the right of such representatives to sign the protest, if assessed in the name of the decedent, minor or incompetent person, certified copies of the letters or such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the board must be produced.

Where real property appears to be owned in common or jointly by a partnership, or where letters of representatives of decedents, minors or guardians are joint, only one of the owners or representatives or partners need sign the protest for all joint owners or representatives or partners; provided, the party claiming the right to protest for all produces the written consent of his coowners or representatives or partners so to do, duly acknowledged by the consenting coowners or representatives or partners in the manner that deeds of real property are required to be acknowledged to entitle such deeds to be recorded in the recorder's office of the county.

Where real property is assessed in the name of a trustee or trustees, such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to be the person entitled to sign the protest, and if assessed in the name of more than one trustee the right to sign the protest shall be determined in like manner as above provided with respect to coowners

The protest of any public or quasi-public corporation, private corporation or unincorporated association, may be signed by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other managing body thereof, which authorization shall be in writing; and a proxy executed by an officer or officers thereof, attested by its seal and duly acknowledged, shall constitute sufficient evidence of such authority, and shall be filed with the board.

The owner of any real property or interest therein, appearing upon the assessment roll, which has been assessed in the wrong name or to unknown owners, or which has passed from the owner appearing as such on the last equalized assessment roll, since the same was made, shall be entitled to sign the protest represented thereby, either by the production of a proxy from such former owner, or by furnishing evidence of his ownership by a conveyance duly acknowledged showing the title to be vested in the person claiming the right to sign the protest, accompanied by a certificate of a competent searcher of titles, certifying that a search of the official records of the county, since the date of the conveyance, discloses no conveyance or transfer out from the grantee or transferee named in the conveyance.

Where the real property has been contracted to be sold, the vendee shall be entitled to sign the protest, unless such real property is assessed in the name of the vendor, in which event the vendor shall be entitled to do so.

The board shall likewise be entitled to inquire and take evidence for the purpose of identifying any person claiming the right to sign the protest as being the person shown on the assessment roll or otherwise as entitled thereto And, unless satisfactory evidence is furnished, the right to sign said protest may be denied.

Any other provision of this section to the contrary notwithstanding, after the establishment of any zone in the manner herein provided, the board may, by resolution, at any time amend the boundaries by withdrawing property from said zone, or may divide said zone into two or more zones, by setting forth in such resolution descriptions of the amended or divided zones by metes and bounds and entitling each of such zones by a zone number.

Property so excluded from any zone shall continue to be subject to the obligation and payment of any bonds or other indebtedness incurred in the zone prior to such exclusion.

After the establishment of any zone in the manner herein provided territory within said district whether incorporated or unincorporated and whether contiguous to said zone or not may be annexed to said zone if in the opinion of the board the additional territory will be benefited by annexation to said zone. For the purpose of annexing territory within the district to a zone the board shall proceed in the same manner as for the establishment of a zone, except that wherever it is required to set forth the area, the improvements, or the cost of improvements for the zone, there shall instead be set forth the area, improvements, or cost of improvements for the territory proposed to be annexed to said zone, and wherever protests are called for or authorized or an election is to be held, the provisions relating thereto shall refer only to the territory proposed to be annexed.

SEC. 3. Section 10.1 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 10.1. The board shall, by resolution, at the time of the establishment of a zone pursuant to Section 10 of this act, order the formation of any subzone within such a zone where, in the opinion of the board the contemplated improvements authorized by this act and the operation and maintenance thereof will be of special benefit to any such subzone, and are not of equal benefit to the entire zone within which any such subzone is proposed to be established. Notice of the intention to form any such subzone or subzones within a zone shall be given in the same manner as the notice of hearing on the formation of a zone pursuant to Section 10 of this act. Any such subzone may be formed within the zone without regard to the boundaries of any natural drainage basin and the board may form as many subzones within a zone as may, in the opinion of the board, be necessary. At the time of the formation of any such subzone the board shall determine, after engineering studies for such purpose, the percentage (%) of benefit from the improvements proposed to be made within the zone and from the operation and maintenance thereof, to inure to the property in any such subzone. In the event that any bonded indebtedness is thereafter incurred within a zone established pursuant to Section 10 of this act which contains one or more such subzones, the property within each such subzone shall be taxed to pay that percentage (%) of the principal and interest of such bonded indebtedness determined to be the percentage (%) of benefit to the property within such subzone, by the board in the manner above mentioned In the event that any tax or assessment for improvements, operation, maintenance or any other purpose is thereafter levied within a zone established pursuant to Section 10 of this act which contains one or more such subzones, the property within each such subzone shall be taxed or assessed to pay that percentage of the improvement costs, and of the operation, maintenance or other cost thereof, determined to be the percentage of benefit to the property within such subzone by reason of such improvements.

The board may, after the establishment of any zone pursuant to Section 10 of this act, establish any such subzone after such notice and public hearing as the board may deem necessary in connection therewith and may fix the percentage of benefit therefor in the same manner and for the same purpose as for a subzone established at the time of the establishment of the zone, provided, however, that no such subzone established within a zone after a bonded indebtedness has been approved by the voters within such zone shall be effective for the purpose of determining the percentage of principal and interest on any such bonded indebtedness to be borne by such subzone except with respect to a bonded indebtedness approved by the voters after the formation of such subzone. In the event that one or more subzones have been established within a zone pursuant to this section, any proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness within a zone, or for increasing the maximum tax rate within the zone or subzone, shall indicate the fact that such subzone or subzones have been established in such manner as the board may deem appropriate.

The procedure for the levy and collection of taxes within each such subzone for the purpose herein provided in this section shall be the same as the procedure for the levy and collection of taxes within a zone established pursuant to Section 10 of this act.

(b) That portion of the lien in excess of two hundred dollars ($200), for any work or services rendered or performed at the request of any person other than the holder of the legal title, is invalid, unless prior to commencing any such work or service the person claiming the lien gives actual notice in writing either by personal service or by registered letter addressed to the legal owner named in the registration certificate, and the consent of the holder of the legal title is obtained before any such work or services are performed. If any portion of a lien includes charges for the care, storage or safekeeping of, or for the rental of trailer parking space for, a vehicle for a period in excess of 60 days, the portion of the lien which accrued after the expiration of such period is invalid unless the provisions 22701. The abandonment of any vehicle in a manner as provided in Section 22700 shall constitute a prima facie presumption that the last registered owner of record, not having complied with the provisions of Section 5900, is responsible for such abandonment and is thereby liable for the cost of removal and disposition of the vehicle.

SEC. 9. Section 22702 of said code is amended to read:

(1) Notice of intent to junk or dismantle the vehicle has been mailed to the registered and legal owners at the address of record with the department, or

(2) The owner has signed a release under penalty of perjury disclaiming any future interest, which release shall be included with the certificate.

In the event the owner has not signed a release and has not, within 15 days after official notification, reclaimed the vehicle such action shall constitute a waiver of interest.

(c) Upon completion and forwarding of the certificate, execute and deliver a bill of sale free of any lien for fees and penalties due and payable to the department together with a copy of the certificate to either the lienholder who shall endorse the bill of sale to a licensed automobile dismantler, or to the licensed automobile dismantler, or to the public agency for disposal, whichever has the vehicle in possession.

The president of the trustees and the secretary or any other officers selected by the board shall hold office at the pleasure of the board. Four members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum and the decision of the majority present shall bind the district except as may be otherwise in this act provided.

The board shall have the power to adopt the proper rules or regulations to govern their procedure, and for the preservation and disbursement of its funds, time, place and manner of holding meetings, but a regular meeting day fixed by the board for a definite time and place each month must be provided to be held, and no notice of regular meetings need be given, and the president or a majority of the members of the board shall have the right to call special meetings upon giving notice to the other trustees of the time and place thereof, not less than 24 hours in advance of holding the meeting. Meetings may be held at any time or place when all the trustees are present and consent thereto, or at any time and place fixed by written consent or call signed by all the trustees. Any vacancy occurring in the office of trustee shall be filled by a person selected by the remaining trustees. Such person shall hold office until the next annual election and until his successor is elected and qualifies. If the term of the former trustee, who is so succeeded by a person selected by the remaining trustees, extended beyond such next annual election, then the successor elected at such election shall be elected to fill out the unexpired term of such former trustee.

SEC. 2. Section 10 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 10. The board of trustees of the district, in addition to all other powers and duties prescribed by this act, shall have the following powers and duties:

1. To keep a record of all its proceedings and minutes of its meetings, which meetings shall be public, and all records of the district shall be open to the public for inspection during reasonable business hours.

2. To manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts, employ and appoint such agents, officers and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties, and to discharge all employees. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary irrigation, protection, reclamation or other works or improvements, and the line of canals or conduits, and their incidental branches and laterals; also for the location of levees, dikes or other structures which may be deemed proper.

3. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, by purchase, lease or condemnation, or other lawful means, all lands and waters or water rights and other property necessary for construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvements of any and all irrigation plants or systems under its control, or to be acquired or controlled by the district, or for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair or improvement of any and all levees, protection works, drainage or reclamation work under its control or to be acquired and controlled by the district, whether any such properties be in this or other states and also where necessary or convenient in carrying out the purposes of this act, to acquire and hold the stock of other corporations, domestic or foreign, owning waters, canals, water works, franchises, concessions or rights, levees or drainage works. Said board may enter into and do all acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreements with the United States or any state, county or district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, leasing, ownership, disposition, use, management, maintenance, repair or operation of any levees, works or other property of any kind which might lawfully be acquired or owned by the district, and may acquire the right to store water in any reservoir or to carry water through any canal, ditch or conduit not owned or controlled by the district, and may grant to any owner or lessee, the right to the use of any water, the right to store such water in any reservoir of the district, or to carry such water through any canal, ditch or conduit of the district. And may likewise enter upon any acts necessary or proper for the performance of any agreements with the United States or any state, county, or district, corporation, firm or individual or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, maintenance or repair of any levees or other protection works or drainage or other reclamation works.

4. To construct dams, reservoirs and works for the collection of water for the district, and to do any and every lawful act necessary to be done that sufficient water may be furnished to each landowner or inhabitant in the district for irrigation and domestic purposes, and may contract to supply water to any mutual water company within the district which is or may be organized to furnish water to certain specified lands within the district; provided, the lands so supplied by any such mutual water company are within this district, and may contract for supplying such lands with water through such mutual water companies.

The board is authorized and empowered to take conveyances, leases, contracts or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of this district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law or in equity, necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, and to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act or acquired in pursuance thereof, and may appear and defend in person or by attorneys in the name of such irrigation district.

5. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately, by operation of law, vest in the district, and shall be held by the district in trust for, and is hereby dedicated and set apart to, the uses and purposes set forth in this act. And said board is hereby authorized and directed to hold, use, manage, keep and possess, said property as herein provided. The board may determine by resolution duly entered upon its minutes, that any property, real or personal, held by such irrigation district, is no longer necessary to be held for the uses and purposes thereof, and may thereafter sell such property, and a conveyance of any property held by this district, executed by the president and secretary thereof, in accordance with the resolution of the board of trustees of such district, when sold for a valuable consideration, shall convey a good title to the property so conveyed.

6. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to establish suitable bylaws, rules and regulations for the distribution and use of water among the owners of lands, which must be printed in convenient form for the use of the district. Said board may fix and collect rates of tolls and charges, for the purposes, and in the manner in this act provided.

Said board may provide, by uniform rules and regulations, that water shall not be furnished to persons against whom, or for use upon land on which, there are delinquent water tolls or charges or delinquent district taxes.

7. When the board of trustees deems it advisable for the best interests of the district and the convenience of the electors thereof, it may at any time, but not less than 60 days before an election is to be held in the district, divide the district into divisions or precincts for election purposes, but such divisions shall be made as nearly equal in area or population as may be practicable. The boundaries of the divisions and precincts or any subsequent changes therein must be shown on the minutes of the board. Should the district be divided into divisions or precincts by the board of trustees for the purpose of holding elections thereafter, any property owner owning property in one or more precincts or divisions, must cast the ballots represented by his respective parcels in each precinct where such parcels are situate respectively, and if any such parcel lies partly in one precinct and partly in another, he may cast the ballots represented thereby in either, but before doing so he must notify the election board in the other precinct of his intention to do so, in order that the election board may note the ballots represented by said land as having been voted.

8. After the first election of trustees held in pursuance of the provisions of this act, all subsequent regular elections shall be called annually at the times fixed for the holding of the annual election, and the trustees shall cause notice of such election to be given for the period and in the manner hereinbefore prescribed in reference to the first election, and the trustees shall perform all the duties in respect to giving notice of the election, establishing election boards, providing the ballots and assessment roll records necessary for conducting the election, designating voting places, causing the returns to be canvassed, and the results declared, which have been imposed upon the supervisors in respect to the first election.

Likewise, the board of trustees shall perform all the acts necessary for calling and conducting special elections provided for in this act.

In all elections for trustees the persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be deemed elected for the office to be filled; provided, that if among the persons receiving the highest number of votes there shall be so many persons who are not resident in said district that the aggregate number of trustees whose terms have not expired who are not resident in said district added to such number of nonresident persons voted for shall exceed three, then the nonresident or nonresidents having the lowest number of votes shall be deemed not elected and the person or persons receiving the next highest number of votes who are resident in said district shall be deemed elected, so that not less than a majority of the trustees shall be residents of the district. If an election is not held as herein provided, then upon the filing of a petition with the secretary of the board of trustees, signed by property owners owning real property assessed upon the last preceding equalized assessment roll at not less than the aggregate of five thousand dollars ($5,000), requesting that a special election be called for the election of officers, the trustees of such district shall thereupon call a special election for the election of such officers, such election to be held within not less than 40 days after the filing of such petition.

Each member of the board of trustees shall qualify by executing an official bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) on or before noon of the 20th day following his election, which bond shall thereafter be approved by a judge of the Superior Court of Riverside County, and be recorded in the office of the county recorder thereof, and filed with the secretary of the board. All official bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of the county officers, and premium thereof may be paid by the district.

9. Said board of trustees shall have the power at any time that, in its judgment, as declared by order entered in its minutes, the expenditure of money is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the district and the accomplishment of the purposes of this act, and there is no money in the fund of said district to make such necessary expenditures or the money in said funds is insufficient to make such necessary expenditure, to borrow for any period of time, not exceeding one year, such sum, not exceeding two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) as may be necessary to make such expenditure, and may evidence such indebtedness by the note or notes of said district, executed by its president and secretary, and bearing interest at not more than 7 percent per annum.

10. Where said board expressly finds that provision for recreational use of district property or facilities will not interfere with the primary purpose of the district to supply water for irrigation and domestic purposes, the board is also empowered to allow the use of district property or facilities for recreational purposes, whether by lease, license or otherwise, subject to such conditions as the board may provide, and to provide recreational facilities within the district and to fix and collect charges for the use of such facilities.

11. The board of trustees shall also have power generally to perform all other such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purpose of this act.

SEC. 3. Section 14 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 14. Extension and Improvement of Existing Levees, Drainage Canals and Water Systems. The district, through its board of trustees, is further authorized and empowered, and it shall be the duty of the trustees, as soon as may be practicable and as rapidly as funds may be available for that purpose, to proceed with the strengthening and extension of existing levees or other works for the protection of the valley against overflow and inundation from the Colorado River; and likewise, the further extension and development of the water system to be taken over by the district, and the strengthening and improvement of its canals, laterals, headworks and distribution system generally; and also for the further construction of drainage canals and ditches and other works necessary for the drainage of the swamp and overflowed lands; also for the further protection of the inhabitants of the district and the improvement of health or other conditions in the valley to take such steps as may be necessary or proper for the elimination of mosquitoes or other insect pests; provided, however, that no new construction work shall be contracted, nor shall any replacement or repair work be contracted, where the cost thereof will exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) without first causing a description of the work to be performed, with specifications and plans to be prepared and at least 10 days' notice given of an intention to contract for the work, and inviting sealed bids. Such notice must be given by publishing notice at least once during the week preceding the time for submitting bids, in a newspaper published within the district, or if none is published therein, then within the County of Riverside, State of California, as the board of trustees may direct. The work must be let to the lowest and best responsible bidder, but the trustees shall have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that in the event the properties or inhabitants within the district, or the levees, water system or reclamation works, or any part thereof, shall be threatened with destruction or serious damage by reason of rapid or unusual rise of water in the Colorado River, or from any other cause, and in the judgment of the board of trustees, necessity exists for immediate and prompt action, all materials may be purchased, all labor contracted or otherwise procured, and all other indebtedness may be incurred which, in the judgment of the board of trustees, may be necessary to meet the emergency, without the necessity of competitive bidding or notice, and all indebtedness thus contracted shall be a legal obligation against the district; but provided, however, that the determination of the board of trustees that an emergency does exist must be entered in the minutes of the board; provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring the board of trustees to carry on any of its construction, maintenance, repair or other work through contracting or letting the same, but it shall be optional with the district, through its board of trustees, to contract all or any part of such work through competitive bidding as above provided, or the district may, through its board of trustees, employ the necessary labor and furnish the necessary materials to carry on any and all work authorized by this act, under the supervision of the board of trustees, and full power is vested in the board of trustees for that purpose; but provided, however, that if the trustees undertake to carry on such construction, replacement, repair or other work through its own supervision, and it becomes necessary to purchase materials or supplies in lots of a greater value than five thousand dollars ($5,000), competitive bidding must be invited by like notice as hereinbefore provided with respect to the letting of contracts, and the property must be purchased from the lowest responsible bidder, but the board, however, shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

SEC. 4. Section 21 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 21. Form of Bonds, Interest, Life of Bonds. Subject to the provisions of this act the trustees of the district shall prescribe the form of bonds issued by the district, and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto. Each issue of bonds of the district shall be numbered consecutively as authorized, and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively. The board of trustees shall fix the date of said bonds and may divide said issue into two or more divisions, and shall fix the dates of the bonds for each respective division. Each bond shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board of trustees of the district who may be in office at the date of said bond, or at any time thereafter prior to the delivery of said bond to the purchaser thereof from the district, and the seal of the district shall be impressed on each bond. The interest coupons shall also bear the signature of the secretary of the board of trustees or a facsimile of such signature. The board of trustees shall fix the denomination of said bonds, which shall not be less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000). Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the board of trustees, but the rate shall not exceed 6 percent per annum. The interest shall be payable on the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July of each year. The board of trustees shall also designate the place or places at which bonds or any of them and the interest thereon shall be payable. Each issue or each designation of each issue of said bonds shall be payable in currency of the United States in 20 series as follows, to wit: At the expiration of 21 years from the date of any issue or any division of any issue of said bonds, 2 per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of 22 years from said date, 2 per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of 23 years from said date, 3 per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of 24 years from said date, 3 per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of 25 years from said date, 4 per

Each bond shall be made payable at a given time for its full face value and not for a percentage thereof.

SEC. 5. Section 28g of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 28g. In case the board of trustees of the district shall find that any property has been assessed in any year more than once, or has been assessed by reason of a clerical error for more than its full cash value, or the assessment computed on an excessive acreage, or that any property assessed was not in the district when so assessed, the board may authorize the collector to cancel or modify any such assessment as may be proper, and, in case of any such change in any assessment, the secretary shall credit the collector with the amount of said assessment, if it is canceled, or the amount by which it is reduced, if it is modified.

Any taxes, penalties or costs thereon, or portions thereof, provided for by this act, heretofore or hereafter paid more than once, or heretofore or hereafter erroneously or illegally collected, may, by order of the board of trustees, be refunded by the treasurer.

No order for the refund of taxes, penalties or costs under this section shall be made except on a verified claim therefor, verified by the person who has paid said taxes, penalties or costs, or by his guardian, or, in case of his death, by his executor or administrator, which said claim must be filed within one year after the making of the payment sought to be refunded.

SEC. 6. Section 28h of said act is amended to read:

Sec 28h. On or before the first Monday in October of each year the secretary must deliver the assessment roll to the collector of the district, who shall within 10 days thereafter publish a notice in a newspaper published in said district, or if there be none, in the County of Riverside, that said taxes will be due and payable on the third Monday in October next thereafter, and that the first installment thereof, including all personal property taxes and one-half of the taxes on lands, and improvements and all water tolls and charges ordered by the board of trustees to be payable and collectible therewith, will become delinquent at six o'clock p.m. on the first Monday in December next thereafter, and that unless paid prior thereto, 5 percent will be added to the amount thereof, and that the second installment of said taxes, being the second one-half of taxes on lands and improvements, and all water tolls and charges ordered by the board of trustees to be payable and collectible therewith, will become delinquent at six o'clock p.m. on the last Monday in April, and that unless paid prior thereto, 5 percent will be added to the amount thereof, and also the time and place at which the payment of said taxes may be made Said notice shall be published once a week for two weeks. The collector must attend at the time and place specified in the notice to receive taxes, which must be paid in United States currency. The collector must mark the date of payment of said taxes on the assessment roll opposite the name of the person paying and give a receipt to such person, specifying the amount of the tax and the amount paid, with the description of the property assessed. After said first installment of taxes has become delinquent, the collector must collect thereon, for the use of the district, an addition of 5 percent thereof, and, after the second installment of said taxes has become delinquent, the collector must collect thereon, for the use of the district, an addition of 5 percent.

SEC. 7. Section 28k of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 28k. The collector must collect, in addition to the taxes shown due on the delinquent list, with the percentages hereinbefore specified added, five dollars ($5) on each lot, piece or tract of land separately assessed. The collector may postpone the time of sale, but he must give notice thereof at the time and place fixed for the sale in the publication. He may so postpone the time of sale from day to day, but not for a period of more than three weeks; provided, that if the sale be stayed by legal proceedings, the time of the continuance of such proceedings shall not be part of the time limited for making such sale.

SEC. 8. Section 28½o of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 28½o. In all cases where a lot, piece or parcel of land contained in any assessment has been sold or may hereafter be sold to the district for delinquent assessments and the time for redemption has not expired, a partial redemption may be made by the owner or any person in interest separately from the whole assessment of any such lot, piece or parcel of land as follows:

If such lot, piece or parcel of land has a separate valuation shown on the assessment roll, the collector shall estimate the amount due according to the valuation shown on the assessment roll, and the redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in Sections 28n and 28o, as amended, of this act. If such lot, piece or parcel of land or such fractional part of such lot, piece or parcel of land does not have a separate valuation shown on the assessment roll, the collector shall submit the description of the lot, piece or parcel of land, or the fractional part thereof, upon which redemption is requested, to the assessor, who must place a valuation thereon. The collector shall then send a notice by registered mail to the person to whom the land was assessed, to his last known address, giving him notice of the proposed division, and if no protest against said division be filed with the collector within 10 days from the date of the mailing of such notice, the collector shall then estimate the amount of such assessments, penalties, costs and interest due on such lot, piece or parcel of land according to such relative or proportionate value, and such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in Sections 28n and 28o, as amended, of this act; provided, that where written protest to said division is filed by any assessment payer within said 10 days, the collector shall withhold such redemption and refer the matter to the board of trustees of the district for decision The board of trustees shall set a time for hearing said protest, and cause a notice of the date of said hearing to be mailed by the secretary to the person or persons who have filed written protest, and to the person desiring to make such redemption, at least 10 days prior to the date of such hearing, and at the termination of said hearing may confirm the act of the assessor or modify or set aside the same, and its decision in the premises shall be final. In the event of such reference to the board of trustees and of their dividing the assessment, the collector shall conform to the action of the board.

Such partial redemption must be made in United States currency or in whole or in part, in warrants of the district, drawn by the auditor of said County of Riverside prior to the first day of July, 1931, as to taxes levied prior to the year 1930.

Warrants so received shall be canceled, and wherever necessary partial payment thereon shall be endorsed thereon.

SEC. 9. Section 28t of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 28t. When lands have been sold or shall hereafter be sold to the district, by reason of nonpayment of taxes, no owner or claimant of such lands, nor any other person, shall remove or destroy any building, fixture, or other improvement on such lands, or cut or remove any timber or wood, or cause to be done any other act which shall tend permanently to impair the value of the lands or the value of the improvements thereon; provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply when such lands have been redeemed from sale or such lands have been sold and disposed of by the district. Violation of any of the provisions of this paragraph of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor.

From and after the date of the recording of the deed to the district, as provided herein, the district shall be entitled to receive and collect all rents, issues and profits arising in any manner from the property so conveyed. The board of trustees may demand from the former owner of said property, or any person having any interest therein, or any person in possession, actual or constructive, of said property, or of any part thereof, an accounting for said rents, issues and profits, and may, at any time after the recording of said deed to the district, as aforesaid, demand and receive possession of the property so conveyed, and such possession shall be surrendered to any person designated by the board, authority for such designation being hereby granted. SEC. 10. Section 29a of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 29a. Whenever any warrant of the district, payable on demand, is presented to the district treasurer for payment when funds are not available for the payment thereof, it shall thereafter draw interest at a rate to be determined by resolution of the board of trustees, not, however, to exceed

7 per centum per annum until public notice is given that such funds are available. Upon the presentation of any such warrants for payment, the district treasurer shall endorse thereon the words "funds not available for payment," with the date of presentation, and shall specify the interest that such warrants shall thereafter bear, and shall sign his name thereto. He shall keep a record showing the number and amount of each such warrant, the date of its issuance, the person in whose favor it was issued, and the date of its presentation for payment. Whenever there is sufficient money in the treasury to pay all such outstanding warrants, or whenever the board of trustees shall order that all such warrants presented for payment prior to a certain date be paid and there is sufficient money available for such payment, the district treasurer shall give notice in some newspaper published in the district, or, if there be none, in the County of Riverside, stating that he is prepared to pay all warrants of the district for the payment of which funds were not available upon their original presentation, or all such warrants which were presented for payment prior to the date fixed by the board of trustees, as the case may be, and no further description of the warrants entitled to payment shall be made in such notice. Upon the presentation of any warrant entitled to payment under the terms of such notice, the district treasurer shall pay it, together with interest thereon at the rate specified by the board of trustees from the date of its original presentation for payment to the date of the publication of said notice, and all warrants for the payment of which funds are declared in said notice to be available shall cease to draw interest at the time of the first publication of said notice. The boundaries of this district may be changed by exclusion of lands therefrom by following substantially the procedure prescribed in the act of the Legislature of the State of California known as the Irrigation District Law (Division 11 (commencing with Section 20500) of the Water Code), and which provisions on that subject are embodied in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 26700), Part 11, Division 11 of the Water Code, and all of the provisions of said law with respect to the exclusion of land as the same have been amended and existed on January 1, 1923, are hereby adopted as a part of this act, except that the powers, rights and duties conferred upon the board of directors of irrigation districts formed under said law, are hereby conferred upon the board of trustees of this district; and provided, further, that it shall not be necessary to make any division or redivision of the lands within the district on account of any such exclusion, as provided in Sections 81 and 82 of said act, nor shall the exclusion of lands in any manner affect the tenure of office or manner of election of trustees of this district; and provided, further, that the exclusion of lands from this district shall not in any manner operate to release the lands so excluded from any obligation to pay, or lien thereon, of any valid outstanding bonds or other indebtedness of said district at the time of the filing of the petition for the exclusion of such land, but on the contrary the same shall be held subject to such lien and answerable and chargeable for and with the payment and discharge of all such outstanding obligations at the time of the filing of the petition for the exclusion of such land as fully as though said petition for the exclusion of the same was never filed, or order for the exclusion never made; and for the purpose of discharging said outstanding indebtedness the land so excluded shall be deemed and considered as part of the district the same as though the same had never been excluded and all provisions which may have been resorted to to compel the payment by said lands of their pro rata or proportion of said outstanding obligations may, notwithstanding said exclusion, be resorted to to compel and force the payment on the part of said lands of their quota and proportion of such outstanding obligations for which they are liable; but the property so excluded shall not be held answerable or chargeable for any obligations of any nature or kind whatever incurred after the filing with the board of trustees of the district of the petition for the exclusion of the same from the district.

On the first Monday in July the department shall deliver to the State Controller the record of assessments and charges for the Petroleum and Gas Fund, certified to by the director, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "I, _____, Director of Conservation, do hereby certify that between the 1st Monday in March and the 1st Monday in July, 19___, I made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the Petroleum and Gas Fund as required by the provisions of Chapter 1 of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for the Petroleum and Gas Fund; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association, or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard or otherwise." Failure to subscribe the certificate to the record of assessments and charges for the Petroleum and Gas Fund, or any certificate, shall not affect the validity of any assessment or charge.

SEC. 9.4. Division 4 (commencing with Section 4000) of said code is repealed.

SEC. 9.6. Division 4 (commencing with Section 4001) is added to said code, to read:

DIVISION 4. FORESTS, FORESTRY AND RANGE AND FORAGE LANDS

PART 1. DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

4001. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this division.

4002. "Board" means the State Board of Forestry.

4003. "Department" means the Department of Conservation.

4004. "Director" means the Director of Conservation.

4005. "Division" means the Division of Forestry of the Department of Conservation.

4006. "State Forester" means the Chief of the Division of Forestry.

CHAPTER 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Penalties

4021. Except as otherwise provided, the willful or negligent commission of any of the acts prohibited or the omission of any of the acts required by this division is a misdemeanor.

Article 2. Purchase of Land

4031. The division may, with the approval of the Department of General Services, purchase land for lookout sites and for other administrative purposes.

PART 2. PROTECTION OF FOREST, RANGE AND FORAGE LANDS

CHAPTER 1. PREVENTION AND CONTROL OF FOREST FIRES

Article 1. Definitions

4101. "Person" includes any agency of the state, county, city, district, or other local public agency, and any individual, firm, association, partnership, business trust, corporation, or company.

4102. "State responsibility areas" means areas of the state in which the financial responsibility of preventing and suppressing fires has been determined by the board pursuant to Section 4125, to be primarily the responsibility of the state.

4103 "Forest fire" means a fire burning uncontrolled on lands covered wholly or in part by timber, brush, grass, grain, or other flammable vegetation.

Article 2. General Provisions

4111. The board shall make and enforce such regulations as are necessary and proper for the organization, maintenance, government, and direction of the fire protective system for the prevention and suppression of forest fires which is provided for in this article.

4112. The State Forester, under the direction of the director, shall divide the state into a suitable and convenient number of administrative districts and shall appoint a supervising forest officer for each district.

4113. The supervising forest officers shall, under the direction of the State Forester, have charge of the firefighting system and men in such districts and are charged with the duty of preventing and extinguishing forest fires and with the performance of such other duties as may be required by the State Forester.

4114. The State Forester, in accordance with a plan approved by the board, shall do all of the following:

(a) Provide fire prevention and firefighting implements and apparatus.

(b) Organize fire crews and patrols.

(c) Establish observation stations and other necessary structures.

(d) Employ men to effect the plan.

(e) Construct and maintain telephone lines and provide such other means of communication as are necessary to prevent and extinguish forest fires.

4115. In providing communications and necessary power lines in connection with the prevention and extinguishment of forest fires the State Forester, with the approval of the Department of General Services, may enter into contracts with the owners of similar facilities for use of their facilities, such as pole lines. Provision may be made for indemnification and holding harmless of the owners of such facilities which are so used by reason of such use. Insurance may be purchased by the Department of General Services, upon request of the State Forester, to protect the state against loss or expense arising out of any such contract.

4116. Any claim for damages arising against the state under Section 4114 or 4115 shall be presented to the State Board of Control in accordance with Part 3 (commencing with Section 900) and Part 4 (commencing with Section 940) of Division 3.6 of Title 1 of the Government Code and if not covered by insurance shall be payable only out of funds appropriated by the Legislature for such purpose. If the state has elected to acquire liability insurance the State Board of Control may automatically deny any such claim.

4117. Any county, city, or district may adopt ordinances, rules, or regulations to provide fire prevention restrictions or regulations that are necessary to meet local conditions of weather, vegetation, or other fire hazards. Such ordinances, rules, or regulations may be more restrictive than state statutes in order to meet local fire hazard conditions.

4118. The burning of growing, dead, or downed vegetation is for a public purpose if the State Forester has determined that the burning of such vegetation is necessary for the prevention or suppression of forest fires.

4119. The State Forester, or his duly authorized agent, shall enforce the state fire laws. He may inspect all properties, except dwellings, subject to the state forest fire laws, for the purpose of ascertaining compliance with such laws.

4120. Any uncontrolled fire burning on any lands covered wholly or in part by timber, brush, grass, grain, or any other flammable material, without proper precaution being taken to prevent its spread, notwithstanding the origin of such fire, is a public nuisance by reason of its menace to life and property. The division or other fire protection agencies may summarily abate the nuisance by controlling and extinguishing the fire.

The term "uncontrolled fire," as used in this section, means any fire which is not burning within the confines of cleared firebreaks or which is burning with such velocity that it could not be readily extinguished with the ordinary tools commonly available to private property.

Article 3. Responsibility for Fire Protection

4125. The board shall classify all lands within the state, without regard to any classification of lands made by or for any federal agency or purpose, for the purpose of determining areas in which the financial responsibility of preventing and suppressing fires is primarily the responsibility of the state. The prevention and suppression of fires in all areas which are not so classified is primarily the responsibility of local or federal agencies, as the case may be.

4126. The board shall include within state responsibility areas all of the following lands:

(a) Lands covered wholly or in part by forests or by trees producing or capable of producing forest products.

(b) Lands covered wholly or in part by timber, brush, undergrowth, or grass, whether of commercial value or not, which protect the soil from excessive erosion, retard runoff of water or accelerate water percolation, if such lands are sources of water which is available for irrigation or for domestic or industrial use.

(c) Lands in areas which are principally used or useful for range or forage purposes, which are contiguous to the lands described in subdivisions (a) and (b).

4127. The board shall not include within state responsibility areas any of the following lands:

(a) Lands owned or controlled by the federal government or any agency of the federal government.

(b) Lands within the exterior boundaries of any city.

(c) Any other lands within the state which do not come within any of the classes which are described in Section 4126.

4128. In establishing boundaries of state responsibility areas, the board may, for purposes of administrative convenience, designate roads, pipelines, streams, or other recognizable landmarks as arbitrary boundaries.

4129. The board of supervisors of any county may provide by ordinance that such county elects to assume responsibility for the prevention and suppression of all fires on all land in such county, including lands within state responsibility areas, but not including lands owned or controlled by the federal government or any agency of the federal government or lands within the exterior boundaries of any city. After the effective date of the contract referred to in Section 4133, such county shall have and exercise for the duration of the contract all the duty, power, authority, and responsibility for the prevention and suppression of all fires on all land in such county for which the county is authorized by this section to elect to assume responsibility.

4130. The board shall classify all lands within state responsibility areas into types of land based on cover, beneficial use of water from watersheds, probable damage from erosion, and fire risks and hazards, and shall determine the intensity of protection to be given to each such type of land. A plan for adequate statewide fire protection of state responsibility areas shall be prepared by the board in which all land of each type shall be assigned the same intensity of protection, and the estimated cost of such intensity of protection shall be determined.

4131. In the preparation of budgets for fire protection, the total funds available or estimated to be available shall be allocated to the areas to be protected in conformance to such fire protection plan. If the funds available are less than the estimated adequate cost of such plan the board shall determine whether the intensities of fire protection shall be reduced or withdrawn, maintaining uniform consideration for all lands in each type.

4132. In those counties assuming responsibility pursuant to Section 4129 for fire protection and suppression in the lands thus classified within the respective counties, there shall be budgeted sums to be allocated to those counties at least equal to the direct cost of fire protection which is determined pursuant to Section 4130 and which shall include the salaries and wages of suppression crews and lookouts and maintenance of firefighting facilities.

4133. The State Forester shall, with the approval of the Department of General Services, annually enter into a contract with any county which enacts an ordinance as provided in Section 4129.

4134. Any such contract shall provide for payment to such county, as compensation for the assumption of the duty, power, authority and responsibility for fire protection and suppression as provided in Section 4129 of such sum as may be specifically allocated in the appropriation made by the Legislature for that purpose or, if no specific appropriation is made for it, the sum allocated for expenditure in such county pursuant to Sections 4131 and 4132.

4135. Sections 4129 to 4135, inclusive, do not deprive the department of the power and duty to require that the money paid by the department under the contract to a county shall be expended by the county for fire prevention and suppression in that area the protection of which is assumed by the county pursuant to Section 4129.

Article 4. Cooperative Agreements

4141. The State Forester may, for the prevention and suppression of forest fires, enter into cooperative agreements, with the approval of the Department of Finance, with any person, firm, association or corporation that owns or controls any forest, brush, grass, or grain lands, under such terms as he deems advisable, and may renew, revise, or terminate such agreements.

The State Forester also may, for the purpose of maintaining a fire patrol system for the prevention and suppression of forest fires in any timber, brush, grass or other flammable vegetation or material, enter into cooperative agreements with the federal government, under such terms as he deems advisable, and may renew, revise, or terminate such agreements.

The expenses incurred under such agreements shall be paid from appropriations or funds available for forest fire protection.

4142. The State Forester may, with the approval of the Department of General Services, enter into a cooperative agreement upon such terms and under such conditions as he deems wise, for the purpose of preventing and suppressing forest fires or other fires in any lands within any county, city, or district which makes an appropriation for such purpose.

Article 5. Firewardens and Firefighting Personnel

4151. The State Forester shall appoint, in such number and localities as he deems wise, public-spirited citizens to act as voluntary firewardens, who may receive payment for their services from the counties or from private sources. They shall promptly report all fires and take immediate and active steps toward their extinguishment, report any violation of forest fire laws, assist in apprehending and convicting offenders, and perform such other duties as the State Forester may direct. Any United States Forest Service employee within this state, if he accepts the duties and responsibilities of a firewarden, may be appointed a voluntary firewarden, and shall have all the powers given to firewardens by this article.

Such firewardens do not have authority to obligate the state for the payment of any money, unless specifically so authorized by the State Forester.

4152. If a fire patrol for the prevention and suppression of forest fires is maintained by owners of land or by any organization, the State Forester may designate each patrolman as a voluntary firewarden and, for the protection of lands patrolled by him or adjacent to such lands, may give him all the rights and powers of a voluntary firewarden. Voluntary firewardens shall be paid by such owners or organizations or as provided for by Section 4151 Such firewardens do not have authority to obligate the state for the payment of any money, unless specifically so authorized by the State Forester.

4153. The State Forester or his duly authorized agent may summon any able-bodied male to assist in suppressing any forest fire and may authorize any officer of the state, who is charged with the prevention and suppression of fire or the enforcement of the state fire laws, to summon any able-bodied man to assist in suppressing any forest fire within their respective jurisdictions. An able-bodied male who is engaged in the harvest of perishable agricultural crops shall not, however, be summoned to assist in suppressing any forest fire until all other available manpower has been exhausted within the respective jurisdiction of the officer issuing such summons. No member in good standing of any regularly organized fire department shall be summoned if he is available and subject to call for duty with a firefighting unit.

4154. Any person who fails to obey a summons which is authorized by Section 4153 is guilty of a violation of this article.

4155. Every person who in obedience to such summons assists in extinguishing any forest fire shall be compensated for services actually rendered at a uniform wage rate as those determined by the federal agency establishing such rates for the Federal Forest Service and approved by the director.

4156. The State Forester, such employees or classes of employees of the division who may be designated by the State Forester, and voluntary firewardens designated by the State Forester, have the powers of peace officers to enforce all state and county fire laws, other than laws the enforcement of which is primarily the responsibility of the State Fire Marshal. Such officers, employees and voluntary firewardens shall have the powers of peace officers upon request pursuant to Section 1509.7 of the Military and Veterans Code, and are not liable to civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of their duties.

Any such peace officer may enforce federal fire laws to the extent that he is authorized to do so.

4157. Whenever the State Forester or any of the employees or voluntary firewardens who are designated as peace officers pursuant to Section 4156 arrests any person for a violation of this article or for a violation of any law relating to forest or fire protection which is not a felony, he may forthwith release the arrested person from his custody in the manner and under the conditions that are set forth in Section 4158.

4158. Unless an immediate appearance before a magistrate is demanded by such person, the arresting officer, upon production of satisfactory evidence of identity, may take the name and address of the person arrested and, if he believes such promise will be kept, may allow the person to sign a written promise to appear at a time and before a magistrate specified in it. The arresting officer shall deliver a copy of the promise to the person that makes it, and shall release him from custody. The magistrate specified in the promise shall be the magistrate of the court that has jurisdiction of the particular offense for which the arrest was made. The time specified shall not be more than 30 days after the date of the arrest.

Any person who willfully violates his promise to appear is guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested. A promise to appear may be complied with by an appearance by counsel.

Article 6. Violations

4165. Every person is guilty of a misdemeanor who, at a forest fire, does any of the following:

(a) Disobeys the lawful orders of any public officer or fireman.

(b) Offers any resistance to, or interference with, the lawful efforts of any fireman or company of firemen to extinguish the fire.

(c) Engages in any disorderly conduct which is calculated to prevent the fire from being extinguished.

(d) Forbids, prevents, or dissuades others from assisting to extinguish the fire.

(e) Rides, drives, or propels any vehicle or conveyance upon, over, or across any firehose or chemical hose which is used by, or in charge of, any public officer or fireman, or injures or damages in any manner any such hose or apparatus of any kind which is in use by, or in charge of, any public officer or fireman.

4166 Every person who violates this article is guilty of a misdemeanor, which is punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500). If the defendant refuses, on conviction, to pay the fine, he shall be confined in the county jail of the county in which conviction is had for a period not to exceed one day for every five dollars ($5) of the fine imposed, or may be subject to both such fine and imprisonment.

Article 7. Public Nuisances

4171. Any condition endangering public safety by creating a fire hazard and which exists upon any property which is included within any state responsibility area is a public nuisance.

4172. Whenever the State Forester determines that such a public nuisance exists, he shall notify the owner of the property to abate the public nuisance. If the owner is unknown, a copy of the notice shall be posted upon the property.

4173. The board shall establish standards, based upon its determination of conditions which create an unreasonable hazard to life or property from fire, for what constitutes a hazardous condition in those instances not covered by state law. Such standards shall be established for each of the division's administrative districts after public hearing for which ample publicity is given.

4174. The notice shall be in writing and shall do all of the following:

(a) Describe the public nuisance.

(b) Specify the time within which the property owner is required to abate the public nuisance.

(c) State that, unless the public nuisance is abated within the time specified in the notice, the State Forester may abate the public nuisance and the costs of the abatement will be assessed against the property.

(d) State that the property owner may, within 15 days after the receipt or posting of the notice, request a hearing before the State Forester upon whether or not a public nuisance actually exists.

4175. If a property owner requests a hearing, the State Forester shall fix a time and a place for the hearing and notify the property owner. At the time and place of the hearing, the property owner may appear and be heard upon the question of whether or not a public nuisance actually exists upon property which he owns. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11180), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code.

4176. If the State Forester determines, at the conclusion of the hearing, that a public nuisance actually exists upon property owned by the property owner, he shall order the property owner to abate the public nuisance within a specified time.

4177. If the public nuisance is not abated within the time specified in the notice to the property owner pursuant to Section 4172 or, if a hearing is not requested by the property owner, within the time specified in the order made by the State Forester pursuant to Section 4176, the State Forester may abate the public nuisance.

4178. Any costs which are incurred by the State Forester in abating any public nuisance pursuant to this article are a lien upon the property upon which the public nuisance existed when notice of the lien is filed and recorded as provided in Section 4179.

4179. Notice of the lien shall be recorded by the State Forester in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situated within one year after the first item of expenditures by the State Forester or within 90 days after the completion of the work, whichever first occurs. Upon recordation of the notice of lien, the lien shall have the same force, effect, and priority as a judgement lien.

4180. An action to foreclose the lien shall be commenced by the Attorney General in the name of the people of the State of California within six months after the lien is filed and recorded.

4181. When the property is sold, enough of the proceeds to satisfy the lien and the costs of the foreclosure shall be paid to the state. The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the property, if known, or if he is not known, shall be paid into the court in which the lien was foreclosed for the use of the owner when he is ascertained.

Article 8. Clarke-McNary Act

4185. The State of California hereby accepts the provisions of the Clarke-McNary Act (Ch. 348, 43 Stat. 653), as amended, passed by the Congress of the United States, and entitled "An act to provide for the protection of forest lands, for the reforestation of denuded areas, for the extension of national forests, and for other purposes, in order to promote the continuous production of timber on lands chiefly suitable therefor," and will observe and comply with the requirements of that act of Congress.

The division is the agent of this state for the purposes of the Clarke-McNary Act. The department shall have full power to cooperate with all the authorities of the United States which have powers and duties under the act to do and perform all things necessary to secure to this state the benefits of the act.

4186. All money which is received by this state pursuant to the Clarke-McNary Act shall be paid into the General Fund.

4187. A county which enacts an ordinance, as provided in Section 4129, is entitled to any allocation of moneys received by the state pursuant to the Clarke-McNary Act. Such reimbursement may be provided for by any statute of this state.

CHAPTER 2. HAZARDOUS FIRE AREAS

4251. As used in this chapter:

"Hazardous fire area" means any area which is designated as a hazardous fire area by the board or the State Forester pursuant to Section 4252 or 4253.

4252. Upon the written petition of the owners or authorized agents of more than 50 percent of the land, including public land, within the exterior boundaries of any area of not less than 10,000 acres in size, upon which a fire hazard exists due to the presence of flammable material or cover, the board may designate such area as a hazardous fire area, and shall declare the period of time during which the area shall be so designated.

4253. Whenever the State Forester determines that a fire hazard exists in any other area due to the presence of flammable material or cover, he may by regulation designate such area to be a hazardous fire area. The regulation shall declare the period of time during which the area shall be so designated.

4254. Notice of the designation of each hazardous fire area shall be given by the posting of notices at intervals of not greater than one mile along the exterior boundaries of such area or along roads and trails passing through such area.

4255. Except as provided in this section, a person shall not smoke or build a campfire or bonfire within a hazardous fire area. The board may establish campgrounds or campsites within such areas, where smoking and the building of campfires may be allowed. No such campground or campsite shall, however, be established without the consent of the owner, or his authorized agent, of the land upon which it is located. No regulation under this article shall prohibit or curtail the complete possession and use of any area by the owner of the area and his authorized agents.

4256. Whenever it is necessary in the interest of public peace or safety, the director, with the consent of the owner of any lands designated as a hazardous fire area, may declare such lands closed to entry by any person. Any public highway traversing such a hazardous fire area, shall, however, be excluded from the order of closure, and the closure to entry does not prohibit or curtail the entry or use of the lands by the owner of the lands or his agent, nor the entry by any federal, state or county officer upon the closed area in the performance of his official duties. All state and county law enforcement officers shall enforce the order of closure.

4257. Any order which is issued pursuant to Section 4256 shall be published twice in at least one newspaper of general circulation in any county that is affected by the order. The publication shall be separated by a period of not less than one week and not more than two weeks. The order shall also be posted in such public places in each county as the director may direct, and along roads and trails which pass through the areas declared to be closed to camping or entry.

CHAPTER 3. MOUNTAINOUS, FOREST-, BRUSH- AND GRASS-COVERED LANDS

4291. Any person that owns, leases, controls, operates, or maintains any building or structure in, upon, or adjoining any mountainous area or forest-covered lands, brush-covered lands, or grass-covered lands, or any land which is covered with flammable material, shall at all times do all of the following:

(a) Maintain around and adjacent to such building or structure a firebreak made by removing and clearing away, for a distance of not less than 30 feet on each side thereof or to the property line, whichever is nearer, all flammable vegetation or other combustible growth. This subdivision does not apply to single specimens of trees, ornamental shrubbery, or similar plants which are used as ground cover, if they do not form a means of rapidly transmitting fire from the native growth to any building or structure.

(b) Maintain around and adjacent to any such building or structure additional fire protection or firebreak made by removing all brush, flammable vegetation, or combustible growth which is located from 30 feet to 100 feet from such building or structure or to the property line, whichever is nearer, as may be required by the State Forester if he finds that, because of extra hazardous conditions, a firebreak of only 30 feet around such building or structure is not sufficient to provide reasonable fire safety. Grass and other vegetation located more than 30 feet from such building or structure and less than 18 inches in height above the ground may be maintained where necessary to stabilize the soil and prevent erosion.

(c) Remove that portion of any tree which extends within 10 feet of the outlet of any chimney or stovepipe.

(d) Maintain any tree adjacent to or overhanging any building free of dead or dying wood.

(e) Maintain the roof of any structure free of leaves, needles, or other dead vegetative growth.

(f) Provide and maintain at all times a screen over the outlet of every chimney or stovepipe that is attached to any fireplace, stove, or other device that burns any solid or liquid fuel. The screen shall be constructed of nonflammable material with openings of not more than one-half inch in size.

4292. Except as otherwise provided in Section 4296, any person that owns, controls, operates, or maintains any electrical transmission or distribution line upon any mountainous land, or forest-covered land, brush-covered land, or grass-covered land shall, during such times and in such areas as are determined to be necessary by the State Forester or the agency which has primary responsibility for fire protection of such areas, maintain around and adjacent to any pole or tower which supports a switch, fuse, transformer, lightning arrester, line junction, or dead end or corner pole, a firebreak which consists of a clearing of not less than 10 feet in each direction from the outer circumference of such pole or tower. This section does not, however, apply to any line which is used exclusively as telephone, telegraph, telephone or telegraph messenger call, fire or alarm line, or other line which is classed as a communication circuit by the Public Utilities Commission. The State Forester or the agency which has primary fire protection responsibility for the protection of such areas may permit exceptions from the requirements of this section which are based upon the specific circumstances involved.

4293. Except as otherwise provided in Sections 4294 to 4296, inclusive, any person that owns, controls, operates, or maintains any electrical transmission or distribution line upon any mountainous land, or in forest-covered land, brush-covered land, or grass-covered land shall, during such times and in such areas as are determined to be necessary by the State Forester or the agency which has primary responsibility for the fire protection of such areas, maintain a clearance of the respective distances which are specified in this section in all directions between all vegetation and all conductors which are carrying electric current:

(a) For any line which is operating at 2,400 or more volts, but less than 72,000 volts, four feet.

(b) For any line which is operating at 72,000 or more volts, but less than 110,000 volts, six feet.

(c) For any line which is operating at 110,000 or more volts, 10 feet.

In every case, such distance shall be sufficiently great to furnish the required clearance at any position of the wire, or conductor when the adjacent air temperature is 120 degrees Fahrenheit, or less. Dead trees, old decadent or rotten trees, trees weakened by decay or disease and trees or portions thereof that are leaning toward the line which may contact the line from the side or may fall on the line shall be felled, cut, or trimmed so as to remove such hazard. The State Forester or the agency which has primary responsibility for the fire protection of such areas may permit exceptions from the requirements of this section which are based upon the specific circumstances involved.

4294. A clearing to obtain line clearance is not required if self-supporting aerial cable is used. Forked trees, leaning trees, and any other growth which may fall across the line and break it shall, however, be removed.

4295. A person is not required by Section 4292 or 4293 to maintain any clearing on any land if such person does not have the legal right to maintain such clearing, nor do such sections require any person to enter upon or to damage property which is owned by any other person without the consent of the owner of the property.

4296. Sections 4292 and 4293 do not apply if the transmission or distribution line voltage is 750 volts or less.

4297. Upon the showing of the State Forester that the unrestricted use of any grass-covered land, grain-covered land, brush-covered land, or forest-covered land is, in the judgment of the State Forester, a menace to life or property due to conditions tending to cause or allow the rapid spread of fires which may occur on such lands or because of the inaccessible character of such lands, the Governor through the director, may, by a proclamation, which declares such condition and designates the area to which, and the period during which the proclamation shall apply, require that such area be closed to hunting and fishing and to entry by any person except a person that is within one of the following classes:

(a) Owners and lessees of land in the area.

(b) Bona fide residents in the area.

(c) Persons engaged in some bona fide business, trade, occupation, or calling in the area and persons employed by them in connection with such business, trade, occupation, or calling.

(d) Authorized agents or employees of a public utility entering such area for the purpose of operating or maintaining public utility works or equipment within the area.

(e) Members of any organized firefighting force.

(f) Any federal, state or local officer in the performance of his duties.

(g) Persons traveling on public roads or highways through the area.

4298. The proclamation by the Governor shall be released to the wire news services in the state, and shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in each county which contains any lands covered by the proclamation. Notice of closure shall also be posted on trails or roads entering the area covered by the proclamation. The closure shall be effective upon issuance of the proclamation by the Governor. Each notice shall clearly set forth the area to be subject to closure and the effective date of such closure. The closure shall remain in full force and effect until the Governor shall by order terminate it. The notice of such termination shall follow the same procedure by which such closure was effected. The order of termination shall be effected upon issuance.

4299. Any person who violates Section 4297 or 4298 is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days nor more than 90 days or both such fine and imprisonment. All state and county law enforcement officers shall enforce orders of closure.

CHAPTER 4. RESTRICTED AREAS

4331. Except at the places or during the period of time designated by regulations adopted pursuant to the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, a person shall not smoke or build a campfire upon any national forest land unless he has a written permit to do so issued by an authorized agent of the Secretary of Agriculture and possesses the firefighting tools which are required by such permit.

4332. Whenever it is necessary in the interests of public peace or safety, the director, with the consent of the Governor, may order closed to camping, hunting, trapping, or the use of firearms, any area in any state park or state forest. The director shall post and enforce such closure order in such area.

4333. Any order which is issued pursuant to Section 4332 shall be published twice in at least one newspaper of general circulation in any county that is affected by the order. The publication shall be separated by a period of not less than one week and not more than two weeks. The order shall also be posted in such public places in each county as the director may direct, and along roads and trails which pass through such areas declared to be closed to camping or entry.

CHAPTER 5. RUBBISH DUMPS

4371. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Permit" means a special permit to maintain, use or operate a rubbish dump which is issued by the State Forester pursuant to this chapter.

(b) "Rubbish dump" means any accumulation for the purpose of disposal of any rubbish, rags, paper, boxes, crates, excelsior, petroleum products or the residue thereof, fallen timber, slash, limb wood, branches, brush, grass, leaves, litter, or other combustible or flammable materials. It does not include slash from timber operations or the temporary piling of flammable materials which have accumulated from clearing while the construction or operation is in progress in conjunction with public works, utility, or other industrial projects where such accumulation is located wholly within the exterior limits of such projects.

4372. A person shall not maintain, use, or operate any rubbish dump outside of the exterior boundaries of any city unless he has a permit to do so issued by the State Forester and the rubbish dump is maintained, used, or operated in strict accordance with the terms and conditions prescribed in the permit.

4373. The State Forester may include in the terms of the permit provisions for the prevention of uncontrolled fire. These terms may include, but are not limited to, the requirements set forth in Section 4374. The responsibility for obtaining the permit for rubbish dumps is that of the owner or operator or jointly. The permit which is issued by the State Forester pursuant to this chapter does not relieve the owner or operator from the duty of securing any other type of permit which is required by law or any rule or regulation.

4374. A rubbish dump shall not be maintained or operated, without providing a clearance of flammables for a minimum distance of 150 feet from the periphery of the accumulation of the rubbish dump If any structure or building is located within 150 feet of the periphery of the accumulation, the area within a minimum of 100 feet of the periphery of the structure or building shall also be maintained clear of all flammables.

4375. Any rubbish dump which is maintained or operated in violation of this chapter is a public nuisance.

Chapter 6. Prohibited Activities

Article 1. Definitions and General Provisions

4411. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

4412. "Incinerator" means any device constructed of nonflammable materials for the purpose of burning therein trash, debris, and other flammable materials, excluding those devices regulated by Section 4438 of this code.

4413. "Zone A" includes any county and any portion of any county which is south of the Mount Diablo baseline, except the Counties and the portions of the Counties of Alameda, Calaveras, Contra Costa, Marin, Mariposa, Mono, San Francisco, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, and Tuolumne which are south of such line.

4414. "Zone B" includes any county and portion of any county which is not included in Zone A.

4415. This chapter does not apply to the setting of fire on lands within any municipal corporation 4416. This chapter does not authorize any county fire-warden, fireman, or county officer to obligate the state for the payment of any money.

4417. A reward of one hundred dollars ($100) shall be paid out of any state funds which are made available to the State Forester for such purpose to any person, other than a law enforcement officer, agent, or employee, whose information leads to the arrest and conviction of any person who willfully and maliciously sets fire to any property which is included within any state responsibility area.

Article 2. Prohibited Activities

4421. A person shall not set fire or cause fire to be set to any forest, brush, or other flammable material which is on any land that is not his own, or under his legal control, without the permission of the owner, lessee, or agent of the owner or lessee of the land.

4422. A person shall not do any of the following:

(a) Willfully or knowingly allow fire to burn uncontrolled on land which he owns or controls, or to escape to the lands of any person other than that of the owner.

(b) Allow any fire kindled or attended by him to escape from his control or to spread to the land of any person other than from the land from which the fire originated.

4423. A person shall not burn any brush, stumps, logs, fallen timber, fallows, slash, grass-covered land, brush-covered land, forest-covered land, or other flammable material, in any state responsibility area, area receiving fire protection by the State Forester by contract, or upon federal lands administered by the United States Department of Agriculture or Department of the Interior, unless he has a written permit from the State Forester or his duly authorized representative or the authorized federal officer on federal lands administered by the United States Departments of Agriculture or Interior and in strict accordance with the terms of the permit:

(a) At any time in Zone A.

(b) At any time in Zone B between April 1st and December 1st of any year, or at any other time in Zone B during any year when the director has declared, by proclamation, that unusual fire hazard conditions exist in the area.

4424 A person shall not blast with dynamite, powder, or other explosives, or blasting agents of any kind in grass-covered land, brush-covered land, fallows, or forest-covered land in any state responsibility area, area receiving fire protection by the State Forester by contract, or upon federal lands administered by the United States Department of Agriculture or Department of the Interior, unless he has a written permit from the State Forester or his duly authorized representative or the authorized federal officer on federal lands administered by the United States Department of Agriculture or Department of the Interior and in strict accordance with the terms of the permit:

(a) At any time in Zone A.

(b) At any time in Zone B between April 1st and December 1st of any year, or at any other time in Zone B during any year when the director has declared, by proclamation, that unusual fire hazard conditions exist in the area.

This section does not apply to blasting performed in connection with the construction of a highway or public utility facility, or a utility facility owned and operated by a public agency, if such blasting is performed wholly within the limits of the right-of-way of such highway or such public utility facility, or such utility facility owned and operated by a public agency, and the detonation is performed solely by electrical means.

4425. Any violation of the terms of a burning permit which is issued pursuant to Section 4423 or 4424 is prima facie evidence of noncompliance with the terms of the permit and renders the permit null and void.

4426. A person shall not set a backfire, or cause a backfire to be set, except under the direct supervision or permission of a state or federal forest officer, unless it can be established that the setting of such backfire was necessary for the purpose of saving life or valuable property.

4427. During any time of the year when burning permits are required in an area pursuant to this article, a person, copartnership, firm, corporation, or company shall not use or operate any motor, engine, boiler, stationary equipment, welding equipment, cutting torches, tarpots, or grinding devices from which a spark, fire, or flame may originate, which is located on or near any forest-covered land, brush-covered land, or grass-covered land, without doing both of the following:

(a) First clearing away all flammable material, including snags, from the area around such operation for a distance of 10 feet.

(b) Maintaining one shovel and one backpack pump ready for use at the immediate area during the operation.

This section does not apply to portable powersaws.

4428. During any time of the year when burning permits are required in an area pursuant to this article, a person, copartnership, firm, corporation, or company, shall not use or operate in such area any engine, machine, motor, or motive power equipment in any industrial operation located on or near any forest-covered land, or brush-covered land, without providing and maintaining at all times, for firefighting purposes only, suitable and serviceable firefighting tools in the amounts, manner, and location prescribed in this section.

Tools shall be provided in a sealed box at each log landing at which logs are being currently collected or loaded. On slash disposal, construction or land-clearing projects, a sealed box of tools shall be located at a point accessible to the crew in event of fire. The sealed box shall contain seven shovels, three axes, one complete set of falling tools, two scraping tools, and one backpack pump filled with water. If, however, less than five men are employed on or near the specified operation, the toolbox shall contain a minimum of four serviceable fire tools consisting of shovels, scraping tools, and one ax.

Each logging truck and tractor shall, in addition, be equipped with one shovel and each pickup, automobile, and rail speeder used in the operation shall be equipped with one shovel and one ax.

4429. During any time of the year when burning permits are required in an area pursuant to this article, at any camp maintained in such area for the residence of employees, or at any local headquarters in such area of any industrial, agricultural, or other operations on or near any forest-covered land or brush-covered land, there shall be provided and maintained at all times, in a specific location, for firefighting purposes only, a sufficient supply of servicable tools to equip 50 percent of the able-bodied, male personnel, resident of such camp, or working out of such headquarters, for fighting fires. Among these tools shall be included shovels, axes, saws, backpack pumps, and scraping tools. With such tools there shall also be one serviceable headlight adaptable for attachment to at least one-half of the tractor-bulldozers used on the operation, and a sufficient number of canteens and flashlights to equip a third of the able-bodied male personnel

4430. During any time of the year when burning permits are required in an area pursuant to this article, a person, copartnership, firm, corporation or company, shall not use or operate in such area any steam-operated engine, machine equipment, mill or industrial plant, located on or near forest-covered land or brush-covered land, without providing one adequate force pump or water under pressure equivalent to a pump, and not less than 200 feet of hose not less than one inch in diameter for each steam-operated engine or equipment. The pump or water pressure required in this section shall be capable of applying a minimum of 40 pounds pressure at the nozzle on 200 feet of hose, such nozzle to be one-fourth inch or larger in diameter. If two steam-operated engines or steam equipment are customarily operated within 100 feet of each other, only one engine or piece of equipment need be equipped with pump and hose.

This section does not apply to any internal combustion engine or to any steam or other locomotive which is being used in the business of a common carrier by railroad.

4431. During any time of the year when burning permits are required in an area pursuant to this article, a person, copartnership, firm, corporation, or company, shall not use or operate in such area any gasoline-powered saw on or near any forest-covered land or brush-covered land, unless such saw is operated at least 50 feet from any flammable material, without providing and maintaining at locations of use or operation of the equipment, for firefighting purposes, one serviceable fire extinguisher or one serviceable shovel.

4432. A person shall not leave a campfire, kindled or attended by him, burning or unextinguished unless one of the following requirements is satisfied:

(a) He leaves some person in attendance.

(b) The fire is enclosed within a stove, oven, drum, or other nonflammable container, in such manner that the fire cannot escape from the container.

(c) The fire is within a permanent dwelling regularly and permanently inhabited by human beings at that time.

No person shall allow a campfire, kindled or attended by him, to spread after it is built.

4433. A person shall not light, maintain, or use a campfire upon any brush-covered land, grass-covered land, or forest-covered land which is the property of another person unless he first obtains a written permit from the owner, lessee, or agent of the owner or lessee of the property.

If, however, campsites and special areas have been established by the property owner and posted as areas for camping, a permit is not necessary

A written campfire permit duly issued by or under the authority of the United States Forest Service is necessary for use on land under the jurisdiction and control of the United States Forest Service.

4434. The escape of any campfire from the control of any person who is maintaining the campfire is prima facie evidence that such person was negligent in maintaining the campfire

4435. If any fire originates from the operation or use of any engine, machine, barbecue, incinerator, railroad rolling stock, chimney, or any other device which may kindle a fire, the occurrence of the fire is prima facie evidence of negligence in the maintenance, operation, or use of such engine, machine, barbecue, incinerator, railroad rolling stock, chimney, or other device. If such fire escapes from the place where it originated and it can be determined which person's negligence caused such fire, such person is guilty of a misdemeanor.

4436. A person shall not refuse or fail to render assistance in combating a forest, brush, or grass fire at the summons of the State Forester, or his authorized agent who is charged with the prevention or suppression of fire or the enforcement of the state fire laws, or any county firewarden, fireman, or county officer who is charged with the duty of preventing or combating forest, brush, or grass fires, or any officer of a county fire protection district, unless prevented from so doing by sickness or physical disability 4437. Outside the exterior boundaries of cities every processor of forest products shall exercise due diligence in the disposal of flammable material incident to such processing, so that the material does not cause the inception or spread of uncontrolled fire.

Every person, copartnership, firm, corporation or company that operates a sawmill or plant engaged in the processing or converting of forest products into lumber, shook, ties, poles, posts, veneer, shakes, shingles, planed, or milled products, shall dispose of flammable material incident to such operation. If such flammable material is not to be used as fuel, or as a byproduct of the operation, it shall be disposed of by burning. Such disposal of waste flammable material shall be made by means of fire in any of the ways which are prescribed in Sections 4438, 4439, or 4440.

4438. Waste flammable material may be disposed of by means of fire in an enclosed device effective in preventing the spread of sparks or fire, situated in an area cleared of grass, grain, brush, slash, litter and snags for a distance of 100 feet surrounding the device.

4439. Waste flammable material may be disposed of by means of fire in an area which is cleared of grass, grain, brush, slash, litter, snags and forest cover for a distance of 400 feet from the periphery of said fire and for any greater distance necessary to provide 100 feet of such cleared area around any lumber pile or structure which may be situated within 400 feet of the fire. Living trees beyond 100 feet from the periphery of the fire may, however, be left standing within the area if all limbs within 10 feet of the ground are removed. The disposal by fire in the cleared area is the responsibility of the operator or landowner, or of the operator and landowner jointly, and shall be in conformance with Section 4423 and all other provisions of law.

4440. Waste flammable material may be accumulated in a pile which shall be disposed of by fire at a date not later than the following April 1st after the beginning of the accumulation of such waste material and at a time when weather and the condition of surrounding vegetation are favorable to preventing the spread of fire if at all times for the duration of the accumulation, the area surrounding such piles is cleared and kept clear of all flammable vegetation and debris, including trees, snags, brush, grass, slash, and litter in accordance with one of the following:

(a) Clearing to a distance of 150 feet from the periphery of the piles of waste material and all structures and lumber piles which are situated within 50 feet of waste material piles.

(b) By a similar clearing surrounding the waste material piles and structures and lumber piles for a distance of 100 feet.

There shall also, however, be kept and maintained at all times a firebreak 10 feet or more in width cleared of all flammable material and constructed in a continuous line surrounding the accumulation at a distance of not less than 50 feet nor more than 300 feet from the periphery of the clearing surrounding the accumulation, and all snags and dead trees between the firebreak and the periphery of the clearing shall be felled The disposal by fire is a responsibility of the operator or landowner or jointly and shall be made in conformance with Section 4423 of this code and all other provisions of law

4441. Any accumulation of waste material in violation of the provisions of Sections 4437 to 4440, inclusive is a public nuisance. Every person, copartnership, firm, corporation, or company that permits or allows such public nuisance to exist upon property owned, occupied, or leased by him, or it, after reasonable notice in writing has been served upon him, or it, from the State Forester or the district attorney to remove, discontinue, or abate such nuisance, is guilty of a misdemeanor. The existence of such nuisance for each and every day after the date specified in such notice for removal, discontinuance, or abatement is a separate and distinct offense.

4442. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person shall not use or operate any internal combustion engine which is operated on hydrocarbon fuels on any forest-covered land, brush-covered land, or grass-covered lands without providing, and maintaining in effective working order, a spark arrester attached to the exhaust system. For the purposes of this section, a spark arrester is a device constructed of nonflammable materials specifically for the purpose of removing and retaining carbon and other flammable particles over 0.0232 of an inch in size from the exhaust flow of an internal combustion engine that is operated by hydrocarbon fuels. Motor trucks, truck tractors, buses and passenger vehicles, except motorcycles, are not subject to the provisions of this section if the exhaust system is equipped with a muffler as defined in the Vehicle Code.

Spark arresters affixed to the exhaust system of engines or vehicles, as described in this section, shall not be placed or mounted in such a manner as to allow flames or heat from the exhaust system to ignite any flammable material.

4443. All mobile equipment, including trucks, tractors, bulldozers and other mobile equipment engaged in lumbering, logging, and other industrial operations in any forest-covered land, brush-covered land, or grass-covered land, except mobile equipment used in the business of a common carrier or railroad, shall also be equipped with and carry at all times a serviceable shovel for use in the prevention and suppression of fire.

4444. A person shall not possess any bullet or ammunition of any kind which contains thermite, magnesium, or aluminum components, such ammunition being commonly known as tracer or incendiary ammunition, within any forest-covered area, brush-covered area, grass-covered area or grain-covered area unless he has obtained a written permit from the State Forester or his authorized agent.

4445. A person shall not fire or cause to be fired from any rifle or other device capable of discharging ammunition, any bullet, projectile, or other ammunition which contains the components of thermite, magnesium, or aluminum, or any other component capable of causing a fire and commonly known as tracer or incendiary ammunition within any forest-covered area, brush-covered area, grass-covered area or grain-covered area.

4446. A person shall not burn any flammable material in any incinerator upon any property unless both of the following requirements are complied with:

(a) The area within 10 feet of the periphery of the incinerator is maintained free and clear of all flammable material and vegetation.

(b) A screen constructed of a nonflammable material, with no greater than a ¼-inch mesh, is installed in the chimney and any other opening of the incinerator to prevent the escape of sparks and burning particles of material from the incinerator.

CHAPTER 7. BURNING OF LANDS

Article 1. Division of Forestry Burning Contracts

4475. The State Forester, with the approval of the Director of Conservation and the Director of Finance, may enter into a contract with the owner or any other person who has legal control of any property which is included within any state responsibility area, excluding those areas for which the State Forester has contracted forest fire protection to counties or the United States Forest Service, for the burning of any brush, vegetation, or structure which is situated upon such property for the purpose of preventing or suppressing forest fires.

4476. Any contract which is entered into by the State Forester pursuant to this article shall do all of the following:

(a) Absolve the state and its employees of liability for damages or costs which occur as a result of the burning of the brush, vegetation, or structure.

(b) Vest in the State Forester the final determination of the time and necessity of the burning of the brush, vegetation, or structure.

(c) Provide that the decision by the State Forester regarding the necessity of the burning of the brush, vegetation, or structure is to be based upon the benefits to be derived by such burning in preventing or suppressing forest fires and the risks and possible damage involved in conducting such burning.

(d) Require that only personnel of the division or personnel in its employ shall be used in conducting the burning of the brush, vegetation, or structure.

(e) Provide that prior to the burning the State Forester will submit an estimate of costs to the person contracting with the state. The person contracting with the state shall, prior to the burning, place on deposit with the State Forester an amount equal to the estimate of costs. Upon completion of the contract, the State Forester will determine the actual costs incurred by the state in performance of the contract and should this amount be less than that on deposit, return the balance to the person. Should the amount of actual costs be more than that amount on deposit, the State Forester shall submit an itemized statement showing the balance due and from which the person contracting with the state shall within 90 days make payment.

(f) Provide that the person contracting with the State Forester shall purchase a third party liability policy of insurance in an amount determined by the State Forester. A certificate of insurance covering this policy shall be attached to and become a part of the contract.

4477. If the amount of moneys due the state are not paid as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 4476, such amount shall become a lien upon the property.

(a) Notice of the lien shall be recorded by the State Forester in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situated within one year.

(b) An action to foreclose the lien shall be commenced by the Attorney General in the name of the people of the State of California within six months after the lien is filed and recorded.

(c) When the property is sold, enough of the proceeds to satisfy the lien and the costs of the foreclosure shall be paid to the state and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the property.

4478. Upon receipt of final payment of moneys due in performance of the contracts provided for in this article the State Forester shall deposit such moneys in the General Fund.

Article 2. Burning of Brush-covered Lands

4491. The cooperation by the state, as provided in this article, with persons desiring to use controlled burning as a means of converting brush-covered lands into forage lands, which has as its objective fire prevention and protection, watershed protection and conservation, or range and forage improvement, is declared to be for a public purpose.

This article shall be administered by the department acting through the division.

In furtherance of the provisions of this article, the division shall provide advisory service to applicants for controlled burning permits as to precautions to be taken by the applicant to prevent damage to the property of others by reason of such burning, and shall provide standby fire protection, to such extent as personnel, fire crews, and firefighting equipment are available.

4492. Any person, firm, or corporation, or any group or combination of persons, firms, corporations or groups, that owns or controls brush-covered land within a state responsibility area may apply to the division for permission to burn the brush from such lands. The application shall be on a form prescribed by the division and shall contain a description of the lands and such other pertinent information as the division may require.

4493. Upon receipt of an application the division shall inspect such land in company with the applicant to determine whether a permit shall be granted and shall suggest such precautions to be taken by the applicant as may be considered reasonable to prevent damage to the property of others by reason of such burning. The suggested precautions shall, if deemed necessary, include the advance preparation of firebreaks and the firefighting equipment and personnel desirable to conduct the controlled burning.

4494. Upon the conclusion of the examination provided for in Section 4493 the division may issue to the applicant a brush-burning permit which shall specify the suggested precautions to be exercised prior to and during the burning. The issuance of a permit by the division does not relieve the holder of the permit from the duty of exercising due diligence to avoid damage to property of others in conducting the burning of brush as authorized by the permit.

CHAPTER 8. FOREST PRACTICE ACT

(a) Declare the existence of a public interest in the forest resources and timberlands of this state.

(b) Declare the necessity of good forest practices in the harvesting of forest resources to conserve and maintain the productivity of the timberlands in the interests of the economic welfare of the state and the continuance of the forest industry.

(e) Specify the manner in which forest practice rules and plans shall be administered.

(f) Provide for the functioning of the district forest practice committees in an advisory capacity to the board.

4542. The public interest is affected by the management of forests, timberlands, watersheds and soil resources of the state, and it is the policy of this state to encourage, promote and require such development, use, and management of forests and timberlands as will maintain the continuous production of forest products, to the end that adequate supplies of forest products are assured for the needs of the people and industries. It is the policy of this state to encourage and assist private ownership in the management and economic development of privately owned timberlands.

Article 3. Forest Districts

4551. The privately owned commercial forest areas of the state are divided into four regional groups known as forest districts. Each district comprises all privately owned timberland and all privately owned cutover lands, lying within the boundaries of the district, as defined by this article.

4552. The Redwood Forest District comprises the area situated between the Pacific Ocean and the eastern edge of the natural occurrence of redwood timber in the Counties of Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Napa, Sonoma, Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, and Monterey. The board may by rule declare the eastern edge of the natural occurrence of redwood timber and so fix the eastern boundary of the district.

4553. The North Sierra Pine Forest District comprises the area bounded on the north by the State of Oregon, on the east by the State of Nevada, on the south by a line drawn from the confluence of the Sacramento River and Feather River, thence northerly along the Feather River to the confluence of the Feather River and the Bear River, thence easterly along the Bear River to the boundary of the County of Nevada, thence easterly along the south boundary of the County of Nevada to the State of Nevada, and on the west by a line beginning at the confluence of the Sacramento River and the Feather River, thence northerly along the Sacramento River to its confluence with Wagon Creek, thence northerly along Wagon Creek to the range line between Range 4 West and 5 West, Mt. Diablo base and meridian, thence north along that range line to the township line between Township 41 North and 42 North, Mt. Diablo base and meridian, thence west along that township line to the Shasta River, thence northerly along the Shasta River to its confluence with the Klamath River, thence northerly along the Klamath River to its confluence with Cottonwood Creek, thence northerly along the main Cottonwood Creek to the State of Oregon.

4554. The South Sierra Pine Forest District comprises the area bounded on the north by the south boundary of the North Sierra Pine Forest District, on the east by the State of Nevada and the State of Arizona, on the south by the southern boundary of the State of California, and on the west by a line beginning at the confluence of the Sacramento River and the Feather River, thence southerly and westerly along the Sacramento River to San Francisco Bay and the eastern boundary of the Redwood Forest District, thence southerly along said boundary to the boundary between the County of Monterey and the County of San Luis Obispo, thence west along that county boundary to the Pacific Ocean, thence southerly along the shore of the Pacific Ocean to the southern boundary of the State of California.

Article 4. Administration

4561. The State Forester, acting in accordance with the policies adopted by the board and under the supervision and direction of the director, shall administer this chapter. He may exercise all powers necessary to accomplish its purposes and intent, including entering and inspecting lands which are subject to this chapter.

4562. For the purpose of assisting in administering this chapter, a district forest practice committee, consisting of five members, shall be established for each district

4563. Four of the members of the committee shall be appointed by, and hold office at, the pleasure of the Governor. Of these four members, two shall be private timber owner-operators in the district, one shall be a private timber owner owning 1,000 acres or more of commercial timber in the district and who does not conduct any logging or milling operations, and one shall be a farmer-timber owner owning not less than 160 acres nor more than 1,000 acres of commercial timber in the district.

4564. The fifth member of the committee shall be a member of the board or an employee of the division designated by the board to represent it. He shall be the secretary of the committee and shall meet with and take part in all deliberations of the committee, but shall not have the power of a vote except in the case of a tie.

After notice of hearing published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the district and after hearing by the committee, the committee shall submit the rules to the private timber owners within the district for approval. If the rules are approved by two-thirds of the private timber ownership voting in the district, the percentage to be measured by the acreage of timber and cutover land privately owned in the district, they shall be submitted to the board 4573. For the purpose of balloting on the approval or disapproval of the rules, the private timber owners within the district shall be deemed to be the owners of record appearing on the current assessment roll of the county in which the timberlands are situated. The proposed rules and ballots shall be sent by registered or certified mail to the owners of record to the address of record upon the assessment rolls. All ballots upon the proposed rules shall be returned to the State Forester within 60 days from the date of mailing to the owners. The State Forester shall complete the counting of the ballots within 70 days after the date of mailing. All timber acreage not voted on the ballots received within the specified time shall be excluded from the total timberland acreage of the district in determining the percentage of the approval or disapproval of the rules. Where the ownership of timberlands is of record as being owned by more than one person, company, or corporation, the percentage of acreage in such multiple ownership shall be apportioned in such percentages as the percentage appears upon the assessment rolls of the counties in the district. If the multiple ownership is divided into separate ownership of land and timber or land and timber rights, the owners of record of the land and timber shall be deemed to hold the right of vote of one-half of the total land acreage involved for land ownership and one-half of the total land acreage involved for timber ownership.

4574. The committee may receive and approve forest management plans submitted by timber owners or timber operators with approval of the timber owner as a more efficient substitute for the rules of the district.

4575. The committee may receive and approve alternate plans submitted by timber owners or timber operators with approval of the timber owner as an alternate to any requirement of the rules of the district, if the alternate plan, in the opinion of the committee, will accomplish greater silvicultural or protectional management of the lands than is provided for by the district rules.

4576. If, in the opinion of the board, the forest practice rules, forest management plans, and alternate plans are within the purposes and intent of this chapter, they shall be approved by the board. No rule, forest management plan, or alternate plan made pursuant to this chapter shall, however, relieve any person from compliance with other existing statutes relating to water pollution, obstruction of streams, erection of dams, fish ladders, or fish screens.

If any rules are disapproved by the board, they shall be returned to the committee with recommendations for amendments.

If the board finds that a forest management plan or an alternate plan submitted for approval is inadequate, it shall return the plan to the committee and the timber owner or timber operator who submitted it, for concurrence in suggested amendments which will fulfill the purposes and intent of this chapter.

Resubmission of rules or plans in amended form may be made after repetition of the entire original procedure.

4577. Forest practice rules, forest management plans, and alternate plans, approved by the board, have the force of law within the district in which the rules originated. Except as otherwise provided in this section, timber operators in the district shall comply with the rules. Where a forest management plan is in effect, the timber operator is subject only to compliance with the forest practices which are a part of the forest management plan. Where an alternate plan is in effect, the timber operator is subject to compliance with the rules as modified by the alternate plan.

Where satisfactory proof is given that the timberlands being cut, or to be cut, are to be devoted, in a bona fide manner, to other than a timber growing use, owners and persons operating thereon may cut and remove any and all trees regardless of diameter but shall otherwise comply with the forest practice rules.

4578. Upon receipt by the board of a petition signed by 50 percent of the private timber and cutover land ownership in an established district, which requests amendments to the rules of the district, or upon determination of the State Forester that the rules of any district should be amended, the board shall order the committee of the district in which the proposed amendments will apply to review the petition or the request of the State Forester and to conduct public hearings in connection with the petition. If the committee concludes, after the public hearings, that the rules should be amended to meet any of the demands of the petition, or of the request of the State Forester, the committee shall submit its findings to the board for its approval or rejection.

4579. Before such action by the board, the full text of the proposed amendments shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county of the respective district twice at intervals of not less than one week and not more than 30 days. The board may thereafter, at a regular meeting, declare the amendments in effect, and the amendments shall remain in effect unless a petition by not less than 25 timber owners in the applicable district is filed with the board within 30 days following such declaration by the board. If such a petition is filed with the board, the amendments shall be submitted to the timber owners in the applicable district for approval pursuant to the procedure provided in Section 4572 without additional publication.

4580. Rules, plans, and amendments, once approved, are prima facie presumed valid, are special provisions for, and exclusively regulate timber operations. Rules, plans, and amendments previously approved and now in effect are hereby validated, confirmed, and continued in effect until amended, modified, or repealed in the manner provided in this chapter.

The board may revoke or repeal rules and amendments to rules with the consent of the forest practice committee of the applicable district. The board may revoke forest management plans or alternate plans with the consent of the forest practice committee of the district and the timber owner or timber operator whose operations and practices are being conducted under such plans. Upon certification by the State Forester that such timber owner or operator cannot be found, the board, with the consent of the applicable forest practice committee, may revoke such plans.

4581. The director shall require the State Forester to make periodic inspections of timber operations to determine and require compliance with the rules and forest management plans and alternate plans.

Upon notification by the timber owner that operations have been completed upon any area, the State Forester may cause a final inspection to be made. He shall, after the completion of any final inspection, give notice to the timber owner whether or not violations of forest practice rules, applicable alternate plans, or forest management plans, exist upon the area.

Article 6. Permits

4585. Every timber owner shall notify the State Forester of proposed timber operations on his holdings prior to the date of commencement of the timber operations in accordance with regulations of the board adopted pursuant to Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code.

Every notice shall include all of the following:

(a) The location of the proposed timber operations given by a legal subdivision description or in such a manner as to enable the State Forester to locate the timber operations on the ground.

(b) The approximate area of the timber operations.

(c) The dates within which the timber operations are to take place.

If the timber operations are to be conducted by a person other than the timber owner, the notice shall so state and contain the name and address of the person with whom the timber owner has contracted to conduct the timber operations. Violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

4586. A person shall not engage in timber operations unless he has a permit to engage in timber operations issued pursuant to this article. An original permit shall be issued by the State Forester on proper written application to him on forms which he has approved and upon payment of the license fee prescribed by Section 4601. The application for an original permit shall contain the name and address of the applicant, name and address of applicant's principal officer on whom notice may be served if a corporation or a partnership, and authorization from the applicant permitting the State Forester or his agent to enter and inspect such operations. The State Forester may require an applicant not resident in this state to designate a resident agent for service of notices and papers.

4587. Upon receipt of an application, the State Forester shall issue an original permit to the applicant. The State Forester may, however, deny a permit for any of the following reasons:

(a) If the applicant is not the real person in interest.

(b) Material misrepresentation or false statement in the application.

(c) Conviction within one year of the application of unlawfully operating without a permit.

(d) The failure or refusal of the applicant to comply with the forest practice rules, an applicable forest management plan, or an applicable alternate plan within three years prior to the date of the application.

4588. Within 30 days after receipt of notice of denial sent by the State Forester by registered or certified mail to the applicant's last address of record, the applicant may file with the State Forester a request for statement of issues. Such request shall not be deemed an answer to the statement of issues, a request for a hearing, or a notice of defense. Unless the State Forester files a statement of issues regarding the denial of the application with the director within 30 days after the timely filing of such request, the permit shall be granted.

4589. When a statement of issues has been so filed, the director may order denial pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. Reapplication may be made after 60 days from the date of denial.

4590. Every permit to engage in timber operations shall be renewed annually during the month of January. Application for renewal shall be made to the State Forester on forms which he has approved and shall be accompanied by the renewal fee prescribed by Section 4602. The renewal application shall contain such other information as in an original application.

The State Forester may refuse to renew any permit for any reason that he is authorized by Section 4587 to deny an original permit. In addition, the State Forester may refuse to renew any permit until any violations by the operator of the forest practice rules, applicable forest management plan, or applicable alternate plan as exist on the date of the renewal application, of which the timber operator has been notified by the State Forester and given reasonable opportunity to correct, are corrected on such reasonable terms and conditions as the State Forester may require, including but not limited to, the planting of a reasonable number of seedlings and young growth trees to restock cutover lands. The applicant shall, upon such refusal, have the same rights as are granted by Sections 4588 and 4589 to an applicant for an original permit which has been denied by the State Forester.

4591. The original and annual permit shall be for the period from February 1 through January 31, of the year following or for the remaining portion of such period.

4592. Every timber operator shall, prior to the commencement of any timber operations in this state, give notice of the timber operations to the State Forester in accordance with regulations of the board adopted pursuant to Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. The notice shall include all of the following:

(a) The location of the timber operations given by legal subdivision description or in such a manner as to enable the State Forester to locate the operations on the ground

(b) The approximate area of said timber operations.

(c) The proposed date of commencement and the approximate date of completion of the operations.

4593. A permit is subject to future legislation. It is not transferable. The permit or copy of it shall be available for inspection at all times in the area in which timber operations are being conducted.

4594. The holder of a permit shall notify the State Forester at his Sacramento office in writing within 15 days of any change of address.

Article 7. Suspension or Revocation of Permits

4595. A permit may be suspended or revoked by the director pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code for any of the following reasons:

(a) Failure or refusal to comply with the forest practice rules.

(b) Failure or refusal to comply with an applicable forest management plan.

(c) Failure or refusal to comply with an applicable alternate plan.

(d) Material misrepresentation or false statement in the application.

(e) Material misrepresentation or false statement in any required notice.

(f) Where the applicant is not the real person in interest.

(g) Refusal to allow inspection by the State Forester.

(h) Violation of Section 4592.

4596. Any permit issued pursuant to this chapter to a person who held a permit to engage in timber operations under this code prior to February 1, 1964, may, within one year, be suspended or revoked not only for acts or omissions occurring after February 1, 1964, which constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of a permit, but also for acts or omissions occurring within three years prior to the effective date of this act which would have been grounds for suspension or revocation of the previously issued permit.

4597. The director may not suspend or revoke for acts or omissions committed more than three years prior to filing, except where there has been material misrepresentation or false statement in an application or where the applicant is not the real person in interest.

4598. A proceeding to suspend or revoke for failure or refusal to comply with forest practice rules, with a forest management plan, or with an alternate plan may not be commenced unless prior to filing the permittee has been given notice in writing by registered or certified mail to his last address of record, which states in what respects the permittee has not complied, and unless the permittee has been given a reasonable time to comply.

4599. An order of suspension or revocation is final when made. On petition of respondent once within one year after date of suspension or revocation and on showing of change of the conditions which led to the suspension or revocation, the director may remit all, or any part of, the unexecuted portion of the penalty.

Article 8. Fees

4601. The license fee for an original timber operator's permit is fifteen dollars ($15).

4602. The renewal fee for a permit to engage in timber operations is ten dollars ($10).

4603. A penalty fee in the amount of five dollars ($5) shall be added to the annual renewal fee in all cases where the fee for renewal of a permit is not paid on or before February 1.

Article 9. Violations

4605. Any person who engages in timber operations or conspires with another to engage in timber operations without a valid permit to do so from the State Forester is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Article 10. Injunctions and Corrective Action

4611. As used in this article, "rules" means any provision of the forest practice rules, applicable forest management plan, or applicable alternate plan unless the context otherwise requires.

4613. If upon a hearing to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued, or upon a hearing of any motion for a preliminary injunction, or if the court should find in any such action that any such defendant is violating, or has violated any rules, then the court may not only order the discontinuance of any timber operations in which such violation has occurred or is occurring, but may also enjoin any further timber operations by the defendant in this state until the violations complained of have been corrected or until satisfactory provisions have been approved by the court for the violations to be corrected at a specified date. Any defendant in such proceedings may enter into a written agreement with the director assuring that he will (a) resume operations in compliance with the rules and (b) correct the violations on such reasonable terms and conditions, including, but not limited to, the planting of a reasonable number of seedlings or young growth trees to restock cutover land, as the director may require to achieve maximum possible compliance with the rules under all of the circumstances. Upon approval by the court, any temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction or permanent injunction may include or be amended to include an order that any defendant entering into such an agreement comply with the terms of such agreement as a condition for engaging in any timber operations enjoined by such temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction or permanent injunction. The court may require a cash deposit or bond payable to the director in such amount as the court deems proper to insure correction of any such violation of the rules in accordance with such agreement or any other provisions required by the court. The court may make any other orders reasonable and necessary to carry out the intent of this article.

4614. This article does not require as a condition for the bringing of any proceedings pursuant to this article or the granting of an order in any such proceedings that the notice referred to in Section 4598 first be given to the timber operator.

4615. The State Forester may take appropriate steps as are necessary and incur expenses to correct any violation of the forest practice rules, applicable forest management plan, or applicable alternate plan, including but not limited to the planting of a reasonable number of seedlings and young growth trees to restock cutover land. The expenses so incurred shall not exceed an average of forty dollars ($40) for each acre in violation.

4616. Prior to taking corrective action, the State Forester shall serve a written notice upon the timber operator and the timber owner by certified or registered mail to the last address of record of each. If the timber owner is unknown, then service of the notice may be made upon the owner by posting a copy of the notice upon the property where the violations exist. The notice shall include a statement of the corrective action to be taken, a date not less than 30 days from the date of service or posting of the notice by which such corrective action is to be taken, and a statement that if such corrective action is not taken on or before the date specified the State Forester may take corrective action and charge the timber operator or the timber owner for the costs thereof pursuant to Section 4618. The notice shall also include a statement that if the timber operator or timber owner disagrees for any reason with the proposed corrective action or with the charging of the owner or operator with the costs thereof, he may within 10 days from the service or posting of the notice request of the State Forester a public hearing before the board.

4617. If the corrective action is not taken by the timber operator or the timber owner on or before the date specified in the notice served pursuant to Section 4616, the State Forester may take or contract for the taking of such corrective action and recover the expenses of the corrective action as provided in Section 4618. If a request is made for a public hearing within 10 days from the service or posting of the notice or if the service of the notice is made upon the timber owner by posting a copy thereof on the property, the State Forester shall not take any corrective action without further order by the board. Where the timber owner or the timber operator makes such a request for public hearing, the board, after at least 15 days written notice, shall hold a public hearing to hear the objections of the owner or operator, or both, to the proposed action. The board may, but need not, conduct the hearing in accordance with the applicable provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board may make an order specifying the action to be taken by the timber owner or the timber operator to correct the violation, setting the time limits for such action, and authorizing the State Forester to take such action if the timber owner or timber operator does not do so within the specified time.

4618. The expenses incurred by the State Forester in taking any corrective action pursuant to Sections 4615 to 4617, inclusive, shall constitute a debt of the timber owner and the timber operator and if not paid by the timber operator within 10 days after written demand therefor may be recovered by the State Forester in a civil action against the timber owner or the timber operator or against both jointly. No action shall lie to recover expenses of correcting any violation occurring more than three years prior to commencement of the corrective action and no action to recover expenses shall be commenced later than two years following the incurring of the expenses.

Neither the State Forester nor any person authorized by him to enter upon any lands for the purpose of administering Sections 4615 to 4617, inclusive, nor any timber operator or timber owner is liable to civil action for trespass for acts necessary to carry out the provisions of such sections.

CHAPTER 9. STATE FOREST

Article 1. Purposes and Policies

4631. It is hereby declared to be in the interest of the welfare of the people of this state and their industries and other activities involving the use of wood, lumber, poles, piling, and other forest products, that desirable cutover forest lands, including those having young and old timber growth, be made fully productive and that the holding and reforestation of such lands is a necessary measure predicated on waning supplies of original old growth timber. It is further declared to be the policy of the state to acquire by purchase, exchange, lease, or grant all of the following:

(a) Such cutover lands, the reforestation of which is not assured under private ownership, to reforest such lands during periods of unemployment and at other times.

(b) Liquidating forest lands primarily suitable for timber production which may be acquired under precutting agreements.

(c) Demonstration forests of 2,000 acres or less adapted to furnish local needs of investigation, demonstration, and education in those timber counties where the ownership pattern is such that management of small areas is an important problem.

(d) One area, not to exceed approximately 40,000 acres, in each of the following forest districts. Coast Range Pine and Fir District, North Sierra Pine District and the South Sierra Pine District, for the purpose of demonstration of economical forest management. These areas shall not include virgin timber except that which is incidental to areas previously harvested.

Article 2. Definitions

4635. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

4636. "Continuous production" means such management as will approach a balance between depletion and growth.

4637. "Forest land" means lands primarily suited to growing timber and other forest products.

4638. "Forest products" includes sawlogs, pilings, poles, split products, pulpwood, bolts, bark and other products.

4639. "Management" means the handling of forest crop and forest soil to produce the largest quantity and highest quality of forest products and the protection of the forest crop and forest soil.

4640. "Protection" means protection of forest trees against damage by fire, insects, disease, and trespass.

4641. "Purchase area" means an area of forest land within which forest lands of sufficient acreage may be available and can be consolidated to make state forest units.

4642. "Reforestation" includes reforestation by natural means from seed and artificially by seeding or planting.

4643. "State forest" means forest land owned or to be owned by the state.

Article 3. State Forests

4645. The State Forester, under the supervision of the director and in accordance with plans approved by the board, may engage in the management, protection, and reforestation of state forests.

4646. The State Forester, acting in accordance with policies adopted by the board and under the supervision and direction of the director, shall administer this chapter. He may exercise all powers necessary to accomplish its purposes and intent.

4647. The State Forester shall prepare a map setting forth the boundaries of purchase areas, and he shall prepare data relating to the forest conditions within these areas. In the preparation of the map and data he shall be guided by, but not limited to, a report prepared and submitted to the Legislature by the California Forestry Study Committee provided for in Chapter 1086, Statutes of 1943. The State Forester shall make the necessary surveys, examinations, appraisals, inventories, and title searches and obtain other pertinent data and information bearing on tracts of forest land offered for sale for state forest purposes.

4648. Acquisition of forest land pursuant to this chapter shall be made only upon the approval of the State Forester. Approval by the State Forester shall be based on satisfactory evidence presented to him by the board as to the suitability and desirability of lands under consideration for purchase for state forest purposes. This suitability and desirability shall be predicated on, but not limited to, the following factors:

(a) That the lands are suited primarily to timber growing.

(b) That the lands represent growing capacities not below the average for the timber region.

(c) That they are favorably situated for multiple use and economical administration, management and utilization.

The State Forester shall not approve the acquisition of any lands pursuant to this chapter unless he receives a resolution recommending such action adopted by the board of supervisors of the county in which such lands are situated following a public hearing held by the board of supervisors on the proposed acquisition. Notice of the hearing shall be published at least two weeks prior to the hearing in one or more legal newspapers of the county. The holding of a hearing shall be optional to the board of supervisors for areas of 2,000 acres or less. The director, upon approval of a purchase by the State Forester may negotiate for and consummate the purchase of the lands.

4649. Whenever it is deemed advisable and advantageous, the board may enter into an agreement with the Department of Corrections, or the Youth Authority for employment of inmates of these institutions in work on state forests.

4650. The State Forester, with the approval of the Director of Conservation and the Director of General Services, may make sales of forest products from state forests up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) in value without advertising for bids. Any sale of forest products in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) shall be upon competitive bids. Advertising for bids shall be the same as is generally in use for the sale of state property.

4651. The management of state forests and the cutting and sale of timber and other forest products from state forests shall conform to regulations prepared by the State Forester and approved by the board. These regulations shall be in conformity with forest management practices designed to promote continuous forest production with due regard to the preservation of soil, watershed, scenic, wildlife and recreational values. The sale of timber and other forest products is limited to raw materials only.

4652. Receipts from the sales of forest products shall be deposited monthly with the State Treasurer. The Controller shall keep a record of accounts of such receipts separately.

4653. State-owned lands classified by the State Forester and approved by the board as not suited to the growing of forest products, or necessary to the management of the forest, shall be sold according to state laws.

4654. There shall be paid to each county in which lands acquired for state forest purposes are situated, out of funds hereafter made available for such purpose, an amount equivalent to taxes levied by the county on similar land similarly situated in the county in the same manner as provided in the Revenue and Taxation Code for secured property tax payments as long as the state continues to own the land. Determination of what constitutes similar land similarly situated shall be made by a committee consisting of the county assessor of the county in which the land is located, a representative of the State Board of Equalization and a representative of the State Forester.

The money received by any county pursuant to this section may be expended by it for any proper state purpose not prohibited by the State Constitution.

4655. Tax-deeded lands classified as forest lands, pursuant to Chapter 4.3 (commencing with Section 3534), Part 6, Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, may be acquired for the state forest purposes through the usual procedure governing the sale of tax-deeded lands.

4656. This chapter does not interfere with the reasonable use of state forests for hunting, fishing, recreation and camping, except as otherwise provided by law.

The use of state forest lands for grazing and mining purposes shall be permitted pursuant to regulations established by the board. The use and development of water facilities for irrigation and power shall be permitted as provided by law.

4657. Insofar as the provisions of this chapter may be in conflict with any other provision of this division, the provision of this chapter shall control.

4658. The Mountain Home Tract Forest in Tulare County shall be developed and maintained, pursuant to this chapter, as a multiple-use forest, primarily for public hunting, fishing, and recreation In future acquisitions and exchanges of land, as provided by law, the acreage in state ownership shall not be reduced below 4,000 acres

CHAPTER 10. PROTECTION OF FOREST AND LANDS

Article 1. Cooperative Agreements

4671. The State Forester may, under the supervision of the director, and in accordance with the policy of the board, engage in and demonstrate methods of developing, using, and protecting the forest and wild land resources of the state. To accomplish such purpose, he may, with the approval of the Department of Finance, enter into agreements with any agency of government, including the federal government, and with any person, firm, or corporation and may make expenditures for such purpose.

4672. The State Forester may, under the supervision of the director and in accordance with the policy of the board, engage in surveys of soil, vegetation, and forest products on the forest, range, and watershed lands of the state. He may, with the approval of the Department of Finance, enter into agreements with any agency of government, including the University of California and the federal government, and with any person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of engaging in cooperative soil, vegetation, and forest surveys and may make expenditures for such purposes.

4673. The State Forester, with the approval of the Director of General Services, may enter into an agreement with federal agency for the purpose of investigating the effect of forest cover in the conservation of water and the prevention of erosion on watershed areas.

4674. The State Forester may, with the approval of the Department of General Services, enter into a cooperative agreement, upon such terms and under such conditions as he deems wise, for any of the following purposes, with any county, city, or district which makes an appropriation for any such purpose:

(a) The protection and forest management of any lands over which the county, city, or district has jurisdiction.

(b) The reforestation or afforestation on lands within the county, city, or district.

4675. It is in the public interest and to the benefit of the state that forest and vegetative cover be maintained and preserved on forest and watershed lands to conserve water and soil and to prevent destructive floods.

The State Forester, with the approval of the Director of Conservation and the Director of General Services, may do any of the following:

(a) Enter into contracts with any state or federal public agency, municipal corporation, or any person, firm or corporation to establish and preserve forest and vegetative cover on forest and watershed lands.

(b) Conduct surveys and studies, formulate plans and perform all acts incidental to the establishment and maintenance of forest and vegetative cover on forest and watershed lands, including any work necessary to accomplish such purposes.

4676. The State Forester and his agents may enter upon, perform required work upon, and inspect lands for the purposes set forth in Section 4675.

In approving contracts and in the exercise of the emergency powers provided by Section 4675, the director shall be guided by, but not be limited to, the following principles:

(a) That the natural vegetative cover has been denuded to the extent that precipitation may create floods and serious soil depletion and erosion.

(b) That the denuded area is of a size, and the topography and soil characteristics of such a nature, that soil loss and floods will have a significant effect upon watershed values and the public welfare.

(c) That vegetative cover will not be restored by natural means in time to effectively prevent undue erosion and flood runoff, or that the natural succession of vegetation may be detrimental to the public welfare.

4677. Whenever it is shown that impaired, burned, and denuded watershed lands may pose an imminent threat of disaster to the public health, safety and welfare from flood and erosion, the director may order the execution of surveys, work and contracts to fulfill the purposes of Section 4675, and may request the assistance of other state, local and federal government agencies therefor.

The director or his delegated representatives may enter upon, perform required work upon and inspect lands for the purposes specified in this section.

Article 2. State Nurseries

4681. State nurseries shall be maintained under the management of the State Forester for the growing of stock for all of the following purposes:

(a) Reforestation of public and private lands.

(b) The planting of trees along public streets and highways.

(c) The beautifying of parks and schoolgrounds.

4682. The State Forester shall construct and maintain such buildings, improvements, and equipment, and shall employ and fix the compensation of such employees as may be necessary to carry out this article.

4683. The State Forester may purchase nursery stock and seed, and may distribute stock or seed for public planting or reforestation of public lands, and for the purpose of soil erosion control, watershed protection, farm windbreaks, or the production of forest products and farm woodlot products on private lands.

4684. Trees, plants, nursery stock, and seeds which are sold pursuant to this article shall be sold at prices that are established by the State Forester and approved by the board.

4685. The Governor, on behalf of the state, may receive all conveyances or donations of real or personal property necessary to vest in the state the title to any site for a state nursery and to any equipment and supplies that are donated for a state nursery.

Article 3. Reforestation Studies and Plans

4691. It is hereby declared to be in the interest of the welfare of the people of this state that the need for wood, lumber, poles, piling, wood pulp and other forest products, augmented by the growth of population, requires all forest lands to be kept in a fully productive condition. It is further declared that there are within the state more than two million acres of burned and cutover lands not now contributing adequately to the growth of forest crops nor to the economy of the state. It is further declared to be in the interest of the people of California that the state determine feasible means and methods for reforesting nonproducing forest lands to the end that all forest lands will be eventually brought up to their maximum growth capacity.

4692. The State Forester may make surveys and prepare maps setting forth the areas of nonrestocking forest lands.

4693. The State Forester may undertake experiments and studies, on lands owned by the state or made available by private owners through cooperative agreements pertinent to determining costs and feasible methods of reforestation by planting, seeding, release of natural seedlings from competing brush, or other procedure deemed promising of the desired results, and involving also brush removal and control, soil preparation and control of rodents or other destructive organisms.

4694. Experimentation and studies shall be conducted with the advice and cooperation of the University of California School of Forestry. The State Forester may set up an advisory committee on reforestation methods and procedures. All meetings of the committee shall be open and public, and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meetings of the committee. All records of the committee shall be open to inspection by the public during regular office hours.

4695. The State Forester may collect the additional seed required, increase the capacity of state nurseries, purchase the necessary equipment and employ the necessary personnel to effectuate the purposes of this article.

Article 4. Gifts of Land and Contributions

4701. The director, upon the recommendation of the board, may accept on behalf of the state gifts of land suitable for forestry purposes or suitable for the purposes of reforestation or afforestation, and may receive contributions from any source for the purchase, or the care and maintenance, of such land. The recommendation of the board shall be made by resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting.

4702. The acceptance of the land or contributions shall be subject to such conditions or restrictions as the board deems advisable. Any conditions or restrictions required by the board shall be clearly set forth in the resolution of the board which recommends acceptance of the land or contributions and in the instruments of conveyance.

4703. Before accepting conveyance of the land, the director shall have the title examined. He shall not accept title unless a good and merchantable title free and clear of all taxes, liens or other financial encumbrances is shown to be vested in the grantor or donor. The title shall be passed upon and approved by the Attorney General.

Article 5. Forest Insect and Plant Disease Control

4712. As used in this article:

(a) "Owner" includes any individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

(b) "Timberland" means any land which has enough timber, standing or down, to constitute, in the judgment of the board, an insect or pine beetle infestation breeding ground or plant disease hazard of a nature to constitute a menace, injurious and dangerous to timber or forest growth.

4713. Pine beetles and other insect pests or plant diseases which are harmful, detrimental and injurious to timber and forest growth are a public nuisance.

4714. Every owner of timber or timberlands shall control or eradicate such insect pests or plant diseases on lands owned by him or under his control. If he does not do so the work may be performed as provided in this article.

4715. The State Forester, with the approval of the Department of Finance and in accordance with policy established by the board, may enter into agreements with any owner and with any agency of government, including the federal goverment, for the purpose of controlling or eradicating forest insects or plant diseases damaging or threatening destruction to timber or forest growth, and he may make expenditures for that purpose.

4716. Whenever the State Forester determines that there exists an area which is infested or infected with insect pests or plant diseases injurious to timber or forest growth and that the infestation or infection is of such a character as to be a menace to the timber or timberlands of adjacent owners, the State Forester, with the approval of the board, may declare the existence of a zone of infestation or infection, and describe and fix its boundaries.

Thereafter, the State Forester or his agents may go upon state and private lands within the zone of infestation or infection and shall cause the infestation or infection to be eradicated or controlled in a manner which is approved by the board.

4717. The State Forester may make the necessary surveys and appraisals to obtain pertinent data and information on insect infestations and disease infections. He may make expenditures for that purpose.

4718. Whenever the State Forester determines that insect or disease control work within the designated zone of infestation or infection is no longer necessary or feasible he shall, with the approval of the board, dissolve the zone.

Article 6. Preservation of Big Trees

4721. It is the policy of the state to preserve as far as possible the species Sequoia gigantea in the interest of conservation, both of soil and of the species itself, and for the benefit of present and future generations.

4722. Upon the finding of the Department of Parks and Recreation or State Forester, or both, that any Sequoia gigantea grove is suitably situated and is of a size and character which justifies its preservation by and for the public, it is the policy of the state to acquire the grove for preservation and conservation purposes.

4723. Pursuant to Sections 4721 and 4722, the Department of Parks and Recreation, or the State Forester, on favorable recommendation of the board, may acquire any forested lands on which are found growing trees of the species Sequoia gigantea when, in the opinion of the commission or the board, the acquisition of such forested lands is necessary to the preservation of the Sequoia trees and to the public welfare.

4724. Whenever sufficient moneys are paid into the State Beach and Park Fund from the moneys impounded pursuant to Chapter 7 of the Statutes of 1951, and are appropriated by the Legislature therefor, the Department of Parks and Recreation, or the State Forester, upon the favorable recommendation of the board, shall proceed, as provided in this article, to acquire and preserve groves of Sequoia gigantea trees in accordance with the general principles set forth in the report made to the Legislature pursuant to Resolutions Chapter 129 of the Statutes of 1951.

A copy of each deed conveying lands to the state, pursuant to this article, shall be delivered to the State Lands Commission.

4725. Nothing in this article shall be construed as establishing a policy to acquire any such Sequoia gigantea groves for preservation and conservation out of any money appropriated for acquisition of land for park purposes by Chapter 1422, Statutes of 1945.

4726. Any person who willfully cuts down, strips of its bark, or destroys by fire, any tree "over 16 feet in diameter," in the groves of big trees situated in the Counties of Fresno, Tulare, or Kern, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is punishable by fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300), or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than 25 days nor more than 150 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

4727. Upon the arrest and conviction of any person for violation of Section 4726, the party informing is entitled to one-half of the fines collected.

Article 7. Protection and Development Corporations

4731. Corporations may be formed under the general corporation laws of this state for the protection and development of forest and other renewable natural resources, except as the provisions of such laws are modified or extended by the provisions of this article.

4732. All shares of stock issued by the corporation shall have a par value, and, in addition to other requirements prescribed by law, the articles of incorporation shall set forth all of the following:

(a) That one of the purposes for which the corporation is formed is the protection and development of forest and other renewable natural resources.

(b) The par value of all shares of capital stock of the corporation.

(c) All projects for the protection and development of forests or other renewable natural resources undertaken by the corporation shall, at all times, be subject to the supervision and regulation of the state through the board or other appropriate state authority and subject to the provisions of this article.

4733. No shareholder of any corporation formed pursuant to this article shall receive or accept from the corporation in repayment of his investment in its shares any sum in excess of the par value of the shares together with current dividends of not to exceed 7 percent per annum of the par value and any cumulative dividends to which the shareholder may be entitled.

4734. Any corporation formed pursuant to this article may, if so authorized by the Commissioner of Corporations, borrow money from or sell, pledge, or discount its securities to any corporation or agency established under the authority of the federal government.

4735. Any corporation operating in or upon forests or forest lands of this state which borrows money from any corporation or agency established under the authority of the federal government for the purpose of conducting lumber operations shall thereupon automatically become subject to this article.

4736. No operation of a corporation operating pursuant to this article, involving the cutting of timber or other work upon forest lands shall be commenced without the approval of the board. For the purpose of regulating the conduct of such corporations the board shall establish reasonable regulations regarding adequate fire protection, protection of timber against infestation of forest insects, protection against tree disease epidemics, and provision for natural or artificial reforestation of the areas cut over. The board may make such other reasonable regulations regarding the operation of such corporations as in its opinion is necessary for the proper preservation or protection of the forests and forest lands.

4737. The board shall make regular examination of the properties of such corporations during the operating season at intervals of not more than two months apart. Following such examination a report shall be submitted to the public agency from which loans have been made to the corporation. The cost of such examination shall be charged to and paid by the corporation whose property is examined. If in the opinion of the board the plan of forest management is not being adhered to, the board shall notify the lumber operators and the lender of this fact.

4738. The operation of any corporation formed pursuant to this article shall, in addition to the requirements of this article, be subject to any stipulations or provisions contained in any contract which may be entered into between the corporation and the corporation or agency established under the authority of the federal government which may have loaned or advanced funds for the operations of the corporation.

CHAPTER 11. RANGE AND FORAGE LANDS

Article 1. Land Clearance and Revegetation

4771. The purposes of this article are:

(a) To promote the public security by eliminating fire hazards and to reduce the risk of uncontrolled fires which result in great annual financial losses to the people of the state, to increase range forage, to return wastelands to production, and to reduce the danger of incendiarism.

(b) To provide means and facilities to determine the effects of controlled clearing and revegetation and burning of brush-covered lands which are primarily valuable for range or forage purposes as a part of the legislative policy of providing for and carrying on a continued study of range improvement.

4772. The division shall engage in a program of experimental controlled land clearance and revegetation with respect to lands which are used or useful principally for range or forage purposes and which lie within state responsibility areas. This program shall also include such research as may be necessary before and after clearance of the lands to determine the value of the methods used in relation to the purposes of this article.

4773. The division shall determine the effects of the clearance and the value of the methods used, with reference to fire protection and prevention, watershed protection and conservation, the prevention of soil erosion, and the increased economic value of the cleared lands insofar as they are made available for range and forage purposes.

4774. The division shall, from time to time, prepare reports setting forth data as to the experiments conducted and its findings and conclusions, and shall submit the reports to the Legislature upon the convening of each regular session.

4775. All state agencies and other official organizations, and all persons connected with them, shall give the division full information and reasonable assistance in any matters of research requiring recourse to them, or to data within their knowledge or control, with reference to the purposes of this article.

4776. This article does not affect the expenditure of funds appropriated for the support of the division for related purposes in performance of its ordinary functions of fire protection.

Article 2. Land Protection and Improvement

4781. The people of the state have a direct interest in the protection and improvement of public and private lands which are principally used or useful for range or forage purposes for domestic livestock and wildlife. This article is enacted in furtherance of that interest to provide not only for controlled land clearance and revegetation of such lands but also having as its objective fire prevention and protection, watershed protection and conservation, and the prevention of soil erosion.

4782. This article shall be administered by the department acting through the division.

4783. The division may enter into contracts or cooperative agreements with any person, firm, public or private corporation, district, or municipal corporation, or other political subdivision of the state, or any group or combination of them, that owns or controls brush-covered land within any state responsibility area for the purpose of engaging in controlled land clearance and revegetation, including the burning of brush from such lands, or portions of such lands, under the supervision of the division or by the division.

4784. In furtherance of such contracts and agreements, and also independently of them, the division shall engage in experimental land clearance and revegetation of such lands in the interests of protection and improvement of range and forage lands and shall also engage in such research in connection with it as will enable it to determine the value of such methods in relation to the several purposes and interests of the people of the state as set forth in this article.

4785. The division shall from time to time prepare reports setting forth data as to the experiments so conducted and its findings and conclusions with reference thereto and submit these reports to the board for its guidance and assistance in determining the policy to be followed by the board with reference to range and forage lands. The board shall make these reports available to the Legislature.

4786. In making such experiments and in conducting or supervising land clearance pursuant to the agreements or contracts contemplated by this article, the division shall have available such fire crews and firefighting equipment as it deems reasonably necessary to prevent the spread of any fire from the area proposed to be cleared, if such equipment and fire crews are not needed for the control of wildfire.

4787. The division, with the approval of the board, may make such regulations as are necessary to effectuate the purposes of this article.

4788. The division may accept contributions of money from any private source to carry out the powers and duties imposed upon it by this article.

PART 3. LUMBER, LOGS AND TIMBER

CHAPTER 1. FLOATING LUMBER

4851. As used in this article, "lumber" means all timber, whether in logs, boards, planks, or beams, and whether in rafts or otherwise. It does not include the sort of wood commonly called driftwood.

4852. Whenever any lumber drifts upon any island in any of the waters of this state, or upon the bank of any such waters, the owner of the lumber may remove it on payment or tendering to the owner or occupant of the land the amount of the damages which the owner or occupant of the land has sustained by reason of the drifting of the lumber upon such land, and which may accrue in its removal.

4853. If the owner of the lumber does not, within three months from the time it was so drifted, take the lumber away, the owner or occupant of the land shall deliver a bill of his charges, together with the lumber, to the sheriff of the county. The sheriff shall dispose of the lumber in the manner required by Articles 1 (commencing with Section 510) and 2 (commencing with Section 530) of Chapter 3, Division 3 of the Harbors and Navigation Code with regard to wrecked perishable property.

4854. When sold, the proceeds of the lumber shall be applied first to the payment of the charges of sale and in liquidation of the expenses and damages awarded to the claimant. The residue shall be paid to the county treasurer, to be by him paid over to the former owner of the lumber, or his representatives, or assigns, on the production of proof of his former ownership satisfactory to the judge of the superior court of the county, and on his order therefor, made within one year after its receipt.

4855. The rejection by the judge of any claimant's right to such proceeds is conclusive, unless within six months thereafter he commences action to obtain such proceeds. If no claim is made or sustained to the proceeds, the county treasurer shall place the proceeds in the county unapportioned elementary school fund.

CHAPTER 2. MARKING LOGS AND TIMBER

4875. In all cases where two or more persons, firms, or corporations are engaged in or intend to engage in putting or placing logs or timber into any navigable water in this state for the purpose of rafting or floating such logs or timber to any place within this state for manufacture or sale and where such logs are to be rafted or floated a distance of one mile or more, such person, firm or corporation may have some mark of his or its selection and authenticated as provided in this chapter impressed in a conspicuous place on the end or surface of each such log or piece of timber.

4876. Before any such mark is used, such person, firm, or corporation shall cause a diagram and written description of the mark, certified and signed by the owner or owners of it, to be recorded in the office of the county clerk of each county through which the logs or timber will be floated for manufacture or sale, and shall also give notice in writing of such mark to each log-running or booming company doing business on any waters on which the logs or timbers are to be floated. The diagram and written description shall be different from any diagram or description already recorded in the clerk's office, claimed by any other person. For recording and indexing the diagram and certificate the county clerk shall collect a fee of twenty-five cents ($0.25).

4877. Any log or timber which has any such recorded mark impressed on it shall be presumed to belong to the person, firm, or corporation in whose name the mark has been recorded 4878. Every person, firm, or corporation that neglects to have his or its mark or marks recorded, as provided by Section 4875, is debarred from all benefits arising from the recordings of the mark or marks, and the vendee or assignee of any such logs or timber is subject to the same regulations and restrictions.

4879. It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, except boom companies which may be required or compelled to catch and hold logs or timber, to take up or have in their possession, or to sell, dispose of, or convert or appropriate to their own use, without the written consent of the owner or his agent, any marked log, timber, pole, pile, tie, shingle bolt, boom stick, or lumber of value, not the property of such person, firm or corporation, found on the bank or banks of, or adrift, or strayed in, any harbor, river, lake, bay, slough, bayou, creek, pond, stream, ditch or other waters situated wholly or partly within the boundaries of this state, if the person or company claiming such mark has had a description and diagram of it recorded in any of the counties of this state through which such property was to be floated for manufacture or sale. Knowledge of the ownership of all such logs, timber, or lumber for the purpose of this chapter shall be conclusively presumed upon proof that the logs, timber or lumber were marked and that the description and diagram had been theretofore recorded. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300), or by imprisonment for not more than one year.

PART 4. CONSERVATION AND TRAINING PROGRAM

CHAPTER 1. CALIFORNIA CONSERVATION CAMP PROGRAM

4951. In enacting this chapter, it is the purpose of the Legislature to declare the existence of a California Conservation Camp program to provide for the training and use of the inmates and wards assigned to conservation camps in the furtherance of public conservation.

It is the policy of this state to require the inmates and wards assigned to such camps to perform public conservation projects including, but not limited to, forest fire prevention and control, forest and watershed management, recreation, fish and game management, soil conservation and forest and watershed revegetation.

In order to effect the maximum possible conservation and development of natural resources for the benefit of the people of this state, whenever reasonably possible, conservation projects of a multiple purpose nature shall be undertaken by the California Conservation Camps. The various agencies concerned with conservation projects shall consult and advise with each other to promote these multiple-purpose conservation projects and in order to achieve this goal may enter into such contracts as may be necessary.

4952. As used in this chapter "California Conservation Camps" or "camps" means any camps now or hereafter established, as provided by law, for the purpose of receiving prisoners committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections and wards committed to the Director of the Youth Authority, and in which the work projects performed by the inmates or wards are supervised by employees of the division.

4953. The State Forester shall utilize such inmates and wards assigned to conservation camps in performing fire prevention, fire control and other work of the division. At such times as he deems proper and on such terms as he deems wise he may enter into contracts or cooperative agreements with any public agency, state or federal, for the performance of other conservation projects which are appropriate for such public agencies under policies which shall be established by the Correctional Industries Commission. The charge for such service shall be determined by the director.

4954. In determining the charge, he shall consider the sum by which the average per capita cost of maintaining an inmate or ward at the conservation camps exceeds the average per capita cost of such maintenance at institutions under the jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections or the Director of Youth Authority, plus maintenance and operations of normal transportation equipment, small handtools and crew supervision. The total charge per day paid by such contracting agency as costs of the supervised labor crew shall not, however, exceed a sum determined by multiplying the total number of inmates or wards assigned on the project by 78 percent of the average daily per capita cost, as computed annually, of maintaining an inmate in all institutions under the jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections.

4955. The average daily per capita cost shall be computed annually on September 1st on the basis of the actual costs for the prior fiscal year. All such contracts are subject to the approval of the Director of Conservation and the Director of General Services.

4956. The conditions of work to be performed under such contracts or agreements shall be consistent with the requirements, as determined by the Director of Corrections and the Director of the Youth Authority, for maintaining control of inmates or wards committed to their respective custody.

4957. Conservation camp inmates and wards may be utilized in the rescue of lost or injured persons, and the saving of life and protection of property. The State Forester may cooperate with local agencies of government to accomplish this purpose.

CHAPTER 2. YOUTH CONSERVATION AND TRAINING PROGRAM

Article 1. General Provisions and Definitions

4971. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

4972. "Conservation and training board" means the Board of Directors for the California Youth Conservation and Training Program.

4973. "Trainee" means a youth conservation trainee in the program which is prescribed by this chapter.

4974. It is the intention of the Legislature in adopting the program provided by this chapter on a demonstration or pilot basis, to afford young men an opportunity to participate in work and activities which will permit them to develop the trades and attitudes necessary to become productive members of society, and while in the course of such work and training, to benefit the natural resources of the state. Work projects developed under this chapter shall be confined to natural resource conservation projects which serve a useful public purpose and do not result in the displacement of regular workers.

Article 2. Board of Directors

4975. There is in the department a board of directors for the California Youth Conservation and Training Program composed of the director, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Director of Employment, the Director of Industrial Relations, and the Director of the Youth Authority. The Director of Conservation shall be chairman.

4976. The conservation and training board shall meet at least four times a year. The function of this board is to establish general policies governing a youth conservation and training program, which program shall involve the following essential elements:

(a) Procedures for the admission and discharge of young men qualifying for this program pursuant to the standards specified in this chapter. In such procedures for discharge, to include referral of such participants who have completed their tenure in the program, through the offices and facilities of the Department of Employment to educational, training, or work in the competitive labor market; and in so doing, utilizing to the maximum extent possible any assistance which may be available under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962.

(b) Determination of the vocational instruction to be afforded and of the general conservation activities to be accomplished consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(c) Allocation of the time of the participants to vocational training, conservation work, recreation, study, free time, visitation and such other activities to establish a well-ordered, pleasant and productive environment.

(d) Procedures for permitting such participants to engage in emergency fire suppression, disaster relief, rescue services and civil defense activities.

(e) Procedures for the handling of grievances and appeals, and of death or disability claims by or on behalf of any supervisorial personnel or participant

(f) Procedures for the contracting by various agencies of government for the utilization of the participants.

(g) Such other procedures, standards, policies or considerations as are necessary to achieve the stated objective of this program.

Article 3. Administration

4981. The program is established in the division. Subject to policies established by the conservation and training board, the State Forester is responsible for the administration of the program and shall provide facilities and a work program for the purpose of training trainees in conservation and forest practices, and in such skills for which vocational training is available in the conduct of this program. The State Forester shall also provide the necessary personnel to instruct, supervise and train trainees in these activities. The State Forester shall prepare and submit to the director reports of the activities of the program for such board, executive or legislative action as may be necessary.

To aid in accomplishing the purposes of the program all state departments and agencies shall afford full cooperation to the conservation and training board in its administration of this chapter.

4982. To qualify as a trainee a young man shall meet each of the following conditions:

(a) Have attained the age of 16 years, but not the age of 22 years, and have secured any permission required by law by virtue of age.

(b) Have volunteered for the program through the Director of Employment as hereafter provided.

(c) Have never been convicted of a felony.

(d) Have passed such physical and mental aptitude test as required.

(e) Have thereafter been recommended for participation in the program by the Director of Employment.

4983. The Director of Employment, through the public employment service maintained within the Department of Employment, shall conduct such tests and make such determinations required in Section 4982 and shall establish, under direction of the conservation and training board, and in cooperation with the state agencies represented by members of that board, lists of such qualified young men currently available for assignment to the program for a continuous period of six months.

Any young man whose name appears on any such list as available for assignment may apply to the State Forester for participation in the program as a trainee, and may thereupon be accepted by the State Forester for such participation.

The total period for which a trainee may participate in the program shall be one year.

4984. The conservation work to be afforded trainees under the demonstration program shall involve principally the improvement and protection of the forest and watershed lands in the state, through the construction and maintenance of firebreaks, fire control roads, truck trails, and related forms of fire suppression facilities. It shall also involve work in fire suppression, timberstand improvement, reforestation, park development, fish and game habitat improvement, control of forest pests and diseases, and improvement of riding and hiking trails.

4985. The State Forester may enter into agreements with any agency of the federal government for the financial support of the program and shall conform the administration of the program in such a manner as may be necessary to qualify for such support under existing or subsequent federal legislation having the same or similar purpose or establishing the same or a similar program or for the purpose of aiding or supporting a state program as established by this chapter.

Article 4. Trainees

4991. The county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, of any county in which any camp or other facility maintained by the State Forester at which trainees reside is wholly or partially located may furnish education for the trainees in the camp at the request of the State Forester.

4992. The school attendance of trainees shall be credited to the county school service fund of the county superintendent of schools providing the education for the trainees State School Fund apportionments on account of such attendance shall be made to the fund in the amount, per unit of average daily attendance, equal to the foundation program computed per unit of average daily attendance for the high school district in which the camp or facility is situated.

4993. A trainee shall be deemed to be a resident of the high school district in which he lived at the time of his admission to the program and the excess cost for a school year of educating such trainee shall be paid by the high school district of which he is a resident to the county superintendent who is providing education for the trainees. The excess cost shall be determined by dividing the total current expense of education during such school year (for the maintenance of a high school level school or classes for trainees), by the total number of units of average daily attendance in such school or classes during such school year, less state and federal apportionments on account of such average daily attendance.

4994. Average daily attendance of trainees shall be computed, for purposes of this chapter, by dividing the number of days such trainee attended the schools or classes by the number of days that the schools or classes were taught, except that with respect to a trainee attending such schools or classes for more than 175 days in a school year, the average daily attendance shall be computed by using the divisor of 175.

For purposes of computing average daily attendance 180 minutes of class attendance shall be deemed to constitute a schoolday, and no more than 15 hours of class time per week shall be considered.

4995. Not later than July 15th of each year, the superintendent of schools of the county providing education for trainees shall forward his claim for the excess expense reimbursement to the high school district of residence of each trainee during the preceding school year, and the governing board of such high school district shall upon receipt thereof pay such claims.

The governing board of the high school district to which the claim is presented may include in its budget the amount necessary to pay the claim, and, if the amount is included in the budget, the board of supervisors shall levy a school district tax to raise the amount. The school district tax shall be in addition to any other school district tax authorized by law to be levied.

4996. A trainee shall:

(a) Receive sixty dollars ($60) per month, of which forty dollars ($40) per month will be retained until termination of his assignment to the program. Twenty percent of the youth trainees may receive added compensation up to an additional ten dollars ($10) per month for assigned leadership responsibilities. Subject to the approval of the Director of Finance, the amount of the stipends paid trainees may be adjusted as necessary to qualify for any federal grant that may become available for the purposes of the youth conservation trainee program.

(b) Be provided room, board, and work clothing, and medical attention including emergency dental care.

(c) Be provided with a one thousand dollar ($1,000) life insurance policy for an assignee in case of an industrial death where no dependents can be shown.

(d) Have available to him schooling in basic learning skills.

4997. A trainee in the program is not entitled to sick leave, vacation, retirement or other benefits accorded state employees, but is entitled to the benefits under Division 4 (commencing with Section 3201) and Division 4.5 (commencing with Section 6100) of the Labor Code as though he were an employee of the state during membership in the program.

In case of emergency fire conditions or disaster, trainees may be required to work extra hours as well as on weekends and holidays.

CHAPTER 1151

An act to add Title 7.1 (commencing with Section 1268) to Part 3 of, and to repeal Section 1845.5 of, the Code of Civil Procedure, to amend the heading of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Division 7 of, and to add Article 2 (commencing with Section 810) to Chapter 1 of Division 7 of, the Evidence Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 333 of the 1965 Regular Session, and to repeal Section 1247c of the Code of Civil Procedure as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 333 of the 1965 Regular Session, relating to evidence.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 7.1 (commencing with Section 1268) is added to Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

TITLE 7.1. EVIDENCE IN EMINENT DOMAIN AND INVERSE CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS

1268. This title is intended to provide special rules of evidence applicable only to eminent domain and inverse condemnation proceedings.

1268.2. As used in this title, "value of property" means the amount of "just compensation" to be ascertained under Section 14 of Article I of the State Constitution and the amount of value, damage, and benefits to be ascertained under subdivisions 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Section 1248.

1268.4. This title is not intended to alter or change the existing substantive law, whether statutory or decisional, interpreting "just compensation" as used in Section 14 of Article I of the State Constitution or the terms "value," "damage," or "benefits" as used in Section 1248.

1270. (a) The value of property may be shown only by the opinions of:

(1) Witnesses qualified to express such opinions; and

(2) The owner of the property or property interest being valued.

(b) Nothing in this section prohibits a view of the property being valued or the admission of any other admissible evidence (including but not limited to evidence as to the nature and condition of the property and, in an eminent domain proceeding, the character of the improvement proposed to be constructed by the plaintiff) for the limited purpose of enabling the court, jury, or referee to understand and weigh the testimony given under subdivision (a); and such evidence, except evidence of the character of the improvement proposed to be constructed by the plaintiff in an eminent domain proceeding, is subject to impeachment and rebuttal.

1270.2. A witness testifying in the form of an opinion may state on direct examination the reasons for his opinion and the matter (including, in the case of an expert, his special knowledge, skill, experience, training, and education) upon which it is based, unless he is precluded by statutory or decisional law from using such reasons or matter as a basis for his opinion. The court in its discretion may require that a witness before testifying in the form of an opinion be first examined concerning the matter upon which his opinion is based.

1270.4. The opinion of a witness as to the value of property is limited to such an opinion as is based on matter perceived by or personally known to the witness or made known to him at or before the hearing, whether or not admissible, that is of a type that reasonably may be relied upon by an expert in forming an opinion as to the value of property and which a willing purchaser and a willing seller, dealing with each other in the open market and with a full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available, would take into consideration in determining the price at which to purchase and sell the property or property interest being valued, including but not limited to the matters listed in Sections 1271 to 1272.2, unless a witness is precluded by statutory or decisional law from using such matter as a basis for his opinion.

1271. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the price and other terms and circumstances of any sale or contract to sell and purchase which included the property or property interest being valued or any part thereof if the sale or contract was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation, except that where the sale or contract to sell and purchase includes only the property or property interest being taken or a part thereof such sale or contract to sell and purchase may not be taken into account if it occurs after the filing of the lis pendens.

1271.2. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the price and other terms and circumstances of any sale or contract to sell and purchase comparable property if the sale or contract was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation. In order to be considered comparable, the sale or contract must have been made sufficiently near in time to the date of valuation, and the property sold must be located sufficiently near the property being valued, and must be sufficiently alike in respect to character, size, situation, usability, and improvements, to make it clear that the property sold and the property being valued are comparable in value and that the price realized for the property sold may fairly be considered as shedding light on the value of the property being valued.

1271.4. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the rent reserved and other terms and circumstances of any lease which included the property or property interest being valued or any part thereof which was in effect within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation. A witness may take into account a lease providing for a rental fixed by a percentage or other measurable portion of gross sales or gross income from a business conducted on the leased property only for the purpose of arriving at his opinion as to the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued as provided in Section 1271.8 or determining the value of a leasehold interest.

1271.6. For the purpose of determining the capitalized value of the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued as provided in Section 1271.8 or determining the value of a leasehold interest, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the rent reserved and other terms and circumstances of any lease of comparable property if the lease was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation.

1271.8. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the capitalized value of the reasonable net rental value attributable to the land and existing improvements thereon (as distinguished from the capitalized value of the income or profits attributable to the business conducted thereon).

1272. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the value of the property or property interest being valued as indicated by the value of the land together with the cost of replacing or reproducing the existing improvements thereon, if the improvements enhance the value of the property or property interest for its highest and best use, less whatever depreciation or obsolescence the improvements have suffered.

1272.2. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the nature of the improvements on properties in the general vicinity of the property or property interest being valued and the character of the existing uses being made of such properties.

1272.4. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 1270.4 to 1272.2, the following matter is inadmissible as evidence and is not a proper basis for an opinion as to the value of property:

(a) The price or other terms and circumstances of an acquisition of property or a property interest if the acquisition was for a public use for which the property could have been taken by eminent domain.

(b) The price at which an offer or option to purchase or lease the property or property interest being valued or any other property was made, or the price at which such property or interest was optioned, offered, or listed for sale or lease, except that an option, offer, or listing may be introduced by a party as an admission of another party to the proceeding; but nothing in this subdivision permits an admission to be used as direct evidence upon any matter that may be shown only by opinion evidence under Section 1270.

(c) The value of any property or property interest as assessed for taxation purposes, but nothing in this subdivision prohibits the consideration of actual or estimated taxes for the purpose of determining the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued.

(d) An opinion as to the value of any property or property interest other than that being valued.

(e) The influence upon the value of the property or property interest being valued of any noncompensable items of value, damage, or injury.

(f) The capitalized value of the income or rental from any property or property interest other than that being valued.

SEC. 2. Section 1845.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is repealed.

SEC. 3. The heading of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Division 7 of the Evidence Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 333 is amended to read:

Article 3. Opinion Testimony on Particular Subjects

SEC. 4. Article 2 (commencing with Section 810) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 7 of the Evidence Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 333, to read:

Article 2. Value, Damages, and Benefits in Eminent Domain and Inverse Condemnation Cases

810. This article is intended to provide special rules of evidence applicable only to eminent domain and inverse condemnation proceedings.

811. As used in this article, "value of property" means the amount of "just compensation" to be ascertained under Section 14 of Article I of the State Constitution and the amount of value, damage, and benefits to be ascertained under subdivisions 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Section 1248 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

812. This article is not intended to alter or change the existing substantive law, whether statutory or decisional, interpreting "just compensation" as used in Section 14 of Article I of the State Constitution or the terms "value," "damage," or "benefits" as used in Section 1248 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

813. (a) The value of property may be shown only by the opinions of:

(1) Witnesses qualified to express such opinions; and

(2) The owner of the property or property interest being valued.

(b) Nothing in this section prohibits a view of the property being valued or the admission of any other admissible evidence (including but not limited to evidence as to the nature and condition of the property and, in an eminent domain proceeding, the character of the improvement proposed to be constructed by the plaintiff) for the limited purpose of enabling the court, jury, or referee to understand and weigh the testimony given under subdivision (a); and such evidence, except evidence of the character of the improvement proposed to be constructed by the plaintiff in an eminent domain proceeding, is subject to impeachment and rebuttal.

814. The opinion of a witness as to the value of property is limited to such an opinion as is based on matter perceived by or personally known to the witness or made known to him at or before the hearing, whether or not admissible, that is of a type that reasonably may be relied upon by an expert in forming an opinion as to the value of property and which a willing purchaser and a willing seller, dealing with each other in the open market and with a full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available, would take into consideration in determining the price at which to purchase and sell the property or property interest being valued, including but not limited to the matters listed in Sections 815 to 821, unless a witness is precluded by law from using such matter as a basis for his opinion.

815. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the price and other terms and circumstances of any sale or contract to sell and purchase which included the property or property interest being valued or any part thereof if the sale or contract was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation, except that where the sale or contract to sell and purchase includes only the property or property interest being taken or a part thereof such sale or contract to sell and purchase may not be taken into account if it occurs after the filing of the lis pendens.

816. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the price and other terms and circumstances of any sale or contract to sell and purchase comparable property if the sale or contract was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation. In order to be considered comparable, the sale or contract must have been made sufficiently near in time to the date of valuation, and the property sold must be located sufficiently near the property being valued, and must be sufficiently alike in respect to character, size, situation, usability, and improvements, to make it clear that the property sold and the property being valued are comparable in value and that the price realized for the property sold may fairly be considered as shedding light on the value of the property being valued.

817. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the rent reserved and other terms and circumstances of any lease which included the property or property interest being valued or any part thereof which was in effect within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation. A witness may take into account a lease providing for a rental fixed by a percentage or other measurable portion of gross sales or gross income from a business conducted on the leased property only for the purpose of arriving at his opinion as to the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued as provided in Section 819 or determining the value of a leasehold interest.

818. For the purpose of determining the capitalized value of the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued as provided in Section 819 or determining the value of a leasehold interest, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the rent reserved and other terms and circumstances of any lease of comparable property if the lease was freely made in good faith within a reasonable time before or after the date of valuation.

819 When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the capitalized value of the reasonable net rental value attributable to the land and existing improvements thereon (as distinguished from the capitalized value of the income or profits attributable to the business conducted thereon).

820. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the value of the property or property interest being valued as indicated by the value of the land together with the cost of replacing or reproducing the existing improvements thereon, if the improvements enhance the value of the property or property interest for its highest and best use, less whatever depreciation or obsolescence the improvements have suffered.

821. When relevant to the determination of the value of property, a witness may take into account as a basis for his opinion the nature of the improvements on properties in the general vicinity of the property or property interest being valued and the character of the existing uses being made of such properties.

822. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 814 to 821, the following matter is inadmissible as evidence and is not a proper basis for an opinion as to the value of property:

(a) The price or other terms and circumstances of an acquisition of property or a property interest if the acquisition was for a public use for which the property could have been taken by eminent domain.

(b) The price at which an offer or option to purchase or lease the property or property interest being valued or any other property was made, or the price at which such property or interest was optioned, offered, or listed for sale or lease, except that an option, offer, or listing may be introduced by a party as an admission of another party to the proceeding; but nothing in this subdivision permits an admission to be used as direct evidence upon any matter that may be shown only by opinion evidence under Section 813.

(c) The value of any property or property interest as assessed for taxation purposes, but nothing in this subdivision prohibits the consideration of actual or estimated taxes for the purpose of determining the reasonable net rental value attributable to the property or property interest being valued.

(d) An opinion as to the value of any property or property interest other than that being valued

(e) The influence upon the value of the property or property interest being valued of any noncompensable items of value, damage, or injury.

8323.2. This chapter shall not operate to rescind or repeal any other law of this state providing for the issuance of revenue bonds or the creation of any other authority for any other purpose.

Article 2. Policy

8325. It is hereby declared to be the general policy of the State of California to foster and develop domestic and international trade for the benefit of the entire state and, particularly, trade in the natural, processed, and manufactured products of the state. Such a policy requires the establishment of a world trade center in the City and County of San Francisco.

8325.1. It is the policy of the state to stimulate the maximum use of the harbor in San Francisco Bay, and to aid in accomplishing this purpose through the establishment of a world trade center, preferably adjacent to or near the waterfront. It is universally recognized that San Francisco's harbor is one of the great natural harbors of the world. It is an outlet for California, for the West, and for the whole United States of America. It has from the time of the admission of the state to the union, afforded particular service as a domestic trade and export center for the natural, processed and manufactured products of the San Francisco Bay area and for the entire hinterland of northern California, and as an import center to fill the requirements of the same area.

8325.2. In addition, countries in North and South America and in Europe and Africa, nations across the Pacific having a population many times that of the United States desire to do business with the United States, and the United States with them; and they desire California products and California desires their products. The full beneficial use of San Francisco harbor to this end is not possible unless facilities for international trade are concentrated and made available to persons and organizations vitally concerned therein, so that they may be in close contact with one another on premises devoted to the fostering of the world exchange of goods, commerce, services and cultural contributions.

8325.3. It is essential that a special authority be created to raise the necessary funds to acquire land and property, and to construct and complete buildings and improvements for the housing and convenience of a world trade center in San Francisco, and to operate and maintain such center, or to contract for the building, operation and maintenance thereof, in whole or in part, as in this chapter provided, and thereby to make available to the people of the State of California the international facilities of this world trade center.

8325.4. The construction of the buildings and essential improvements of the world trade center will assist in the orderly process of rehabilitation, and will greatly contribute to the stabilization of employment and afford opportunities for employment to returned veterans, and be a proper addition or supplement to the state and local public works programs.

8325.5. The Legislature hereby declares that the acquisition, construction and completion of the buildings and facilities of a world trade center in the City and County of San Francisco is essential, due to the special and peculiar conditions relating to the industrial-transportation complex, concentrated in and around the City and County of San Francisco, making this metropolitan area a principal outlet in this state for domestic and international trade. The carrying out of the objects and purposes of this chapter and the facts and circumstances relative to the construction, development and operation of the world trade center require the creation of a special authority, and this chapter is intended to accomplish that purpose.

Article 3. Co-ordinating Council

8330. The activities of the authority shall be coordinated with the activities of other world trade center authorities in this state by the California World Trade Authorities Coordinating Council which is created by Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 2.50) of the California World Trade Authority Act (Chapter 1508 of the Statutes of 1947), with the objective of promoting the economic interests of this state regarding imports and exports relating to the European Common Market and any other areas of the world as provided in such Chapter 2.5.

Article 4. San Francisco World Trade Center Authority

8335 The San Francisco World Trade Center Authority is continued in existence.

8335.1. The authority is a state agency and public corporation of the state

8335.2. Except as may be otherwise herein or subsequently provided, the territory under the authority shall be limited to an area consisting of one or more parcels, and not exceeding 30 acres in the aggregate, located in the City and County of San Francisco. The authority, in its sole discretion and at such time or times as it may deem advisable, may select the parcel or parcels which will constitute the site of the San Francisco World Trade Center, but in selecting such site shall be guided by all of the following considerations:

(a) The site shall be sufficiently close to San Francisco Harbor so that, in the opinion of the authority, the San Francisco World Trade Center will be able to carry out the purposes of this chapter in facilitating international trade.

(b) The site shall be favorably located with respect to the buildings and structures to be erected thereon, so that, in the opinion of the authority, the revenues to be produced from such improvements will be sufficient to discharge all of the obligations of the authority. The area to be selected by the authority may include territory, in whole or in part, now under the jurisdiction or control of the San Francisco Port Authority

The area so selected shall be known as the San Francisco World Trade Center.

8335.3 The authority may also do all of the following:

(a) Acquire property by gift or purchase outside the area of the San Francisco World Trade Center, and the jurisdiction, powers and activities of the authority thereupon shall be extended to cover and apply to the property so acquired.

(b) Maintain offices outside of such area, whether or not located within this state.

(c) Lease or use such property or facilities of the San Francisco Port Authority as may be agreed upon by contract between the authority and the San Francisco Port Authority.

(d) Own, control, and dispose of property, other than real property, wherever it may be situated.

(e) Hold meetings, perform legal acts, and do all things, inside or outside such area, which the authority may deem necessary or advisable to carry out the objects and purposes of this chapter.

8335.4 The territorial limits of the authority shall not be diminished so long as any bonds issued by it under this chapter are outstanding or unpaid.

8336. The authority is composed of 11 members, including the Director of Public Works, the Director of Finance, the President of the San Francisco Port Authority, and eight persons appointed by the Governor from the areas of California having the greatest concern in the world trade center and representing, insofar as practicable, the industries and areas benefited by the activities of the San Francisco World Trade Center. Persons appointed shall have outstanding qualifications resulting from training, experience, and attainments in production and trade. If the office of the Director of Public Works, the office of the Director of Finance, the office of the President of the San Francisco Port Authority, or any of them, hereafter be discontinued or abolished by law, then the Governor shall appoint any person or officer of the State of California to fill any vacancy resulting from the abolition or discontinuance of such office.

8336.2. The members appointed by the Governor shall each serve for four-year terms commencing with the respective dates of their appointment.

8336.3. Each such member of the authority appointed by the Governor in office on the effective date of this section and the successor of each such person, shall hold office for the term for which he was appointed and until his successor has been appointed and qualified. Any member appointed by the Governor on account of death, resignation or disability of any other member appointed by the Governor shall serve for the unexpired term of such member.

Article 5. Administration

8340. Members of the authority are entitled to their actual necessary expenses incurred while on business of the authority, payable exclusively out of the funds of the authority available therefor.

8340.1. The members of the authority may designate the chairman as member manager of the authority and such member manager shall receive for his services and promotional purposes such sum or sums as may from time to time be authorized by the authority and approved by the Department of Finance. There shall not be more than a total of 10 percent of the money transferred to the World Trade Center Authority by the 1949 Legislature available for such purposes

8340.2. The authority shall select a chairman from its membership and may appoint or employ such administrative, professional, technical, and clerical assistants, and such legal counsel, as may be deemed necessary or advisable, and shall provide for their compensation out of the funds of the authority available for that purpose. The authority may employ a fiscal agent or adviser and may retain the services of such agents as may be deemed advisable to assist in the sale and distribution of the authority's bonds or the underwriting thereof.

8340.3. A majority of the members of the authority constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and may act for the authority.

8340.4. The authority may act at any regular meeting or special meeting called pursuant to such rules and regulations as the authority may adopt, and may act without a meeting by an instrument in writing signed by all members of the authority. The authority may adopt such rules and regulations as it deems advisable with respect to the conduct of its own affairs.

8340.5. The authority shall maintain an office in the City and County of San Francisco. It may maintain such branch offices in or outside of the state as it may deem advisable.

8340.6. The authority may adopt a seal to be impressed upon its instruments, and may provide for the impression of such seal or lithograph or printed facsimile thereof. Any executed instrument bearing the seal of the authority or lithograph or printed facsimile thereof shall be prima facie evidence of its execution by the authority and that its execution was duly, regularly and legally authorized by the authority.

8340.7. All meetings of the authority shall be open and public, and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meetings of the authority.

8345.2. The authority may acquire by grant, purchase, condemnation, gift, devise, or lease, and may hold, use, sell, lease or dispose of any real and personal property (including franchises, rights, privileges, easements, or other property or interests therein) necessary for the full exercise, or convenient, or useful, for the carrying on of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(a) Offices for world trade departments of the San Francisco, State of California, United States and other chambers of commerce, foreign trade associations, departments of federal, state and local government connected with foreign trade and services, branch post office, communications and press services, steamship, rail, bus, and airway lines, and other transportation services, international banking and insurance, foreign exchange and trade departments of banks, foreign consular officials and representatives, customhouse brokers, freight forwarders, representatives of exporters, importers and manufacturers interested in international trade, and tourist and traveling offices.

An international house, restaurant, and any other buildings or structures to house activities necessary for or incidental to the purposes of the world trade center.

8345.5. The authority may fix rents, fees or other charges for the use of any property, buildings or facilities, or any part thereof, acquired, constructed and operated by the authority, and may alter, change, or modify the property at its pleasure, subject to any contractual obligation which may be entered into by the authority with respect to the fixing of any such rents, fees, or charges under Section 8345.7 or otherwise.

8345.6. The authority may enter into covenants to maintain minimum rents, fees or charges sufficient to service the outstanding obligations of the authority, if any. It may also enter into covenants to increase rents, fees or charges from time to time as may be necessary pursuant to any such contract or agreement with the holders of any obligations of the authority.

8345.7. The authority may do any of the following:

(a) Enter into a contract or contracts with any state or federal department, public body, firm, person or corporation, by or through whom the world trade center, or any of its buildings and facilities, may be acquired, constructed and completed.

(b) Enter into a lease with any nonprofit corporation which will provide or assure sufficient financial resources and competent personnel, for the management and operation of all or any part of the property, buildings and facilities acquired, constructed and completed under the provisions of this chapter. Such lease may require a sufficient overall rental from the corporation to serve the outstanding obligations of the authority and may be for such period or periods as may be agreed upon. Such lease may permit the nonprofit corporation to sublease property, buildings and facilities, or any part thereof, or to contract for concessions, on such rentals, charges or fees (payable to the corporation), and upon such other terms and conditions as the nonprofit corporation lessee shall deem advisable, provided, that the authority may, at any time it deems necessary to assure payment of a sufficient overall rental to enable it to discharge its obligations, require the corporation to increase its subrentals, charges and fees.

(c) Enter into a contract with any nonprofit corporation which will provide or assure sufficient financial resources and competent personnel, in which the corporation agrees to operate the world trade center, or any of its buildings and facilities on behalf of the authority. Such agreement may permit the corporation to lease, in its own name or in the name of the authority, the buildings and facilities of the authority or any part thereof; to fix and collect rentals, fees, and charges from such property, buildings and facilities, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as it may deem advisable, consistent with the policy of the authority; and to retain or be reimbursed for such amounts as may be necessary to cover costs of operation and maintenance paid or payable by the corporation.

8345 8 The authority may maintain, protect, and repair the property, buildings and facilities acquired, constructed or completed by it under the provisions of this chapter, or may enter into contracts covering such maintenance, protection, and repair including provision therefor by the lessee referred to in Section 8345.7.

8345.9 The authority may condemn and take, in fee or otherwise, as it may determine, in the name of the authority, any real estate, personal property, franchises, rights, privileges or easements, whether publicly or privately owned and whether or not already devoted to a public use or purpose, deemed necessary for the establishment and operation of the world trade center and its facilities; provided, that with respect to real estate, the territory subject to condemnation shall be limited to 30 acres as specified in Section 8335.2.

The procedure for eminent domain shall be as set forth in the Constitution of the state and the laws thereof (as modified herein) relating to eminent domain proceedings. In eminent domain proceedings to acquire property for any of the purposes of this chapter, any real property, personal property, franchises, rights, easements or other property or privileges appurtenant thereto appropriated or dedicated to a public use or purpose by any person, firm, private, public or municipal corporation, county, city and county, city, district, or the state or any political subdivision of the state, may be condemned and taken, and the acquisition and use thereof as herein provided for the same public use or purpose to which such property has been so appropriated or designated, or for any other public use or purpose shall be deemed a superior and permanent right and necessity, and a more necessary use and purpose than the public use or purpose to which such property has already been appropriated or dedicated.

In eminent domain proceedings to acquire for any of the purposes of this chapter property which is appropriated or dedicated to the use of a state highway, or any part thereof, it shall appear, and the trial court shall find prior to the entry of any order for immediate possession or final order of condemnation, that the use for a purpose of this chapter is a superior and permanent right and necessity, and a more necessary public use and purpose than the use of the property as a state highway.

8346. Whenever the authority determines to exercise the right of eminent domain it shall first adopt a resolution, declaring that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction, or completion of any particular real estate, personal property, franchises, rights, privileges or easements. Such resolution shall be conclusive evidence of all of the following:

(a) The public necessity of such acquisition, construction, or completion.

(b) That such property, franchises, rights, privileges, or easements are, and that acquisition of the fee or other interest therein is, necessary therefor.

(c) That such proposed acquisition, construction or completion is planned or located in a manner which will be most compatible for the greatest public good and the least private injury.

It shall not be necessary in any eminent domain proceedings under this chapter to plead or prove any acts or proceedings preliminary or prior to the adoption of the resolution of public interest and necessity describing the property sought to be taken and directing such eminent domain proceedings.

8346.1. The authority shall have, and is hereby granted, all rights-of-way deemed by the authority necessary or advisable upon which to construct, locate, and maintain the buildings, roadways or other facilities which may be acquired, constructed or completed under this chapter through, over, under, on or across any property of this state, including all highways (other than state highways) now or hereafter owned, opened, or dedicated to or for public use and howsoever acquired, and through, over, under, on or across streets, lanes, alleys and roads now or hereafter opened or dedicated to or for public use, and howsoever acquired, which may be within the territory under the jurisdiction of the authority as provided in Section 8335.2. This grant shall not, however, apply to property of the state subject to the jurisdiction of the California Toll Bridge Authority. If the use by the authority of any existing public highway necessitates changes therein or expenditures thereon, the cost thereof shall be borne by the authority. The authority is entitled to the benefit of any reservation or grant, in all cases, where any right has been reserved or granted to the state or any agency or political subdivision thereof, to construct or maintain roads, highways, or other crossings over any public or private lands.

8346.2. The authority may construct and lay out such thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, sewers, utilities, paths, gardens, and facilities as may be required for the operation of the world trade center. The authority, however, may acquire its properties, whether by condemnation or otherwise, subject to the continuance of such street, utility, easements or other rights as it may deem advisable.

Whenever, either before or after the construction or reconstruction of streets, sidewalks or other like facilities, upon any property or interest in property acquired pursuant to this chapter, it shall appear desirable to dedicate the property to the public use for such purpose, the authority may transfer the property to the City and County of San Francisco, subject to such lawful reservations as it may deem advisable.

8346.3. If any or all of the 30 acres to be designated by the authority for use for the purposes of this chapter is private or other property not owned by the state, but under the possession, control or jurisdiction of the San Francisco Port Authority, or subject to the acquisition by the San Francisco Port Authority, then such property shall be subject to acquisition by the San Francisco World Trade Center Authority by purchase, gift, eminent domain or otherwise, in the same manner as though such property were not subject to acquisition or condemnation by the San Francisco Port Authority; and the right or interest therein necessary or useful for the purposes of the authority is hereby declared to be a right and necessity superior to and more permanent than that which now authorizes acquisition by such commission. If requested by the authority, however, the San Francisco Port Authority shall join the authority in any act or proceeding for the purpose of acquiring or condemning such property for use of the authority.

8346.4. The authority may contract with any department or agency of the United States or of the state upon such terms and conditions as the authority finds is for the authority's best interests.

8346 5. The authority may make contracts, leases and agreements with any person, nonprofit or public corporation, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it.

8346.6. The authority may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests or properties after the purposes for which they were acquired have been fully satisfied. It may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of, at any time, any surplus materials or other property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out this chapter.

8346.7. The authority may directly, or through agreement with any nonprofit managing corporation, or otherwise, provide for the advertisement of the facilities of a world trade center and for the promotion of the use thereof, and the development of the projects constructed, in whole or in part, by the authority.

8346.8. The authority may adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to enable it to exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed upon it by this chapter.

Article 7. Revenue Bonds

8350. The authority may issue revenue bonds for the acquisition, construction, and completion of any works, properties, or structures in such total amount as shall be found by the authority to be necessary to carry out the objects and purposes of this chapter.

8350.1. A single or any number of improvements may be designated as a "project," for all or part of the purposes of this article and the purpose, nature and extent thereof shall be described in general terms prior to the issuance of any bonds.

8350.2. The validity of the authorization and issuance of any revenue bonds by the authority shall not be dependent on nor affected in any way by any of the following:

(a) Proceedings taken by the authority for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any improvement or any part thereof.

(b) Any contracts made by the authority in connection with the acquisition, construction, or completion of any improvement.

(c) The failure to complete any improvements for which bonds are authorized to be issued.

8350.3. The authority may issue revenue bonds in its name. These bonds shall constitute obligations of the authority only, and neither the payment of the principal or interest of any such bond shall constitute a debt, liability, or obligation of the State of California. All bonds issued by the authority shall contain a recital on their face that neither the payment of the principal or any part thereof nor any interest thereon constitutes a debt, liability, or obligation of the state.

8350.4. The authority shall determine the time, form and manner of the issuance of revenue bonds.

8350.5. The authority may enter into indentures providing for the aggregate principal amount, date or dates, maturities, interest rate, denominations, form, registration, transfer, and interchange of such bonds and coupons appertaining thereto, and the terms and conditions upon which such bonds and coupons shall be executed, issued, secured, sold, paid, redeemed, funded, and refunded. Reference on the face of the bonds to such indenture by its date of adoption, or the apparent date on the face thereof, shall be sufficient to incorporate all of the provisions thereof and of this chapter into the body of the bonds and their appurtenant coupons. Each taker and subsequent holder of the bonds or coupons, whether the coupons are attached to or detached from the bonds, shall have recourse to all of the provisions of the indenture and of this chapter, and be bound thereby.

8350.6. An indenture pursuant to which bonds are issued may include such covenants and agreements on the part of the authority as the authority deems necessary or advisable for the better security of the bonds issued thereunder.

8350.7. An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to pay or cause to be paid punctually the principal of all such bonds and the interest thereon on the date or dates, at the place or places, and in the manner mentioned in such bonds and in the coupons appertaining thereto in accordance with such indenture.

8350.8 An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to continuously operate, or cause to be operated, any specified improvements acquired, constructed, or completed by the authority in an efficient and economical manner.

8350.9 An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to make, or cause to be made, all needful and necessary repairs, renewals and replacements to any improvements and to keep them at all times in good repair, working order and condition.

8351. An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to preserve and protect the security of the bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to warrant and defend such rights.

8351.1. An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged all lawful claims for labor, materials and supplies or other charges which, if unpaid, might become a lien or charge upon the revenues, or any part thereof, of any improvements acquired, constructed or completed from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds, or upon any physical properties, or which might impair the security of the bonds.

8351.2. An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder which limits, restricts or prohibits any right, power or privilege of the authority to mortgage or otherwise encumber, sell, or dispose of any improvements the revenues from which may be related to the security.

8351 3. An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the authority to fix, prescribe and collect rentals, fees and other charges in connection with the services and facilities furnished from the improvements acquired, constructed or purchased by the authority at least sufficient (together with any reserve funds) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they become due and payable, together with all expenses of operation, maintenance and repair of the improvements, and with such additional sums for any sinking fund, reserve fund or other special funds as may be provided for the further security of such bonds or as a depreciation charge or other charge in connection with such improvement; provided, however, that in the event of a lease or contract between the authority and a nonprofit corporation for the operation of any project or projects as provided in Section 8345.7, the right of control reserved to the authority to fix subrentals, charges, and fees under the conditions therein specified may be deemed sufficient to satisfy the requirements of such a clause in the indenture.

8351 4 An indenture may include a clause that, except as permitted by such indenture, no project acquired, constructed or completed from the proceeds of revenue bonds issued by the authority shall be used without charge therefor or be furnished free of charge to any person, including the state or any political subdivision thereof, or any public corporation or individual, other than employees of the authority, or of the state or other public body, or nonprofit corporation actually engaged in rendering service to the authority in connection with the project.

8351.5 An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the net or gross revenues pledged to the payment of such bonds and the interest thereon to be held in trust or in any reserve or other fund created for the further protection of the bonds, and to apply such revenues or cause them to be applied only as provided in the indenture.

8351.6. An indenture may include a clause limiting the power of the authority to apply the proceeds of the sale of any issue of bonds for the acquiring, constructing or completing of any improvements or any part thereof, or to more than one of such improvements

8351.7. An indenture may include a clause limiting the power of the authority to issue additional bonds for the purpose of acquiring, constructing or completing any improvement or any part thereof.

8351 8. An indenture may include a clause providing that additional bonds may be issued thereunder for the acquisition, construction and completion of extensions and betterments of, or additions to any project and for the acquisition, construction and completion of any new project or projects, and if the indenture so provides, it shall further prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such additional bonds and coupons thereon may be issued, paid and redeemed.

8351.9. An indenture may include a clause requiring, specifying or limiting the kind, amount and character of insurance to be maintained by the authority on any improvement, or any part thereof, and the use and disposition of the proceeds of any such insurance thereafter collected.

8352. An indenture may include a clause providing the events of default and the terms and conditions upon which any or all of the bonds of the authority then or thereafter issued may become or be declared due and payable prior to maturity, and the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

8352.1. An indenture may include a clause designating the rights, limitations, powers and duties arising upon breach by the authority of any of the covenants, conditions, or obligations contained in any indenture.

8352.2. An indenture may include a clause prescribing a procedure by which the terms and conditions of the indenture may be subsequently amended or modified with the consent of the authority and the vote or written assent of the holders of a specified principal amount of the bonds issued and outstanding. Such clause may provide for meetings of bondholders and for the manner in which the consent of the bondholders may be given. The clause shall specifically state the effect of such amendment or modification upon the rights of the holders of all of the bonds and interest coupons appertaining thereto, whether attached thereto or detached therefrom.

8352.3. With respect to any clause providing for the modification or amendment of an indenture, the authority may agree that bonds held by the authority, by any department, political subdivision or agency of the state, or by any public corporation, municipality, district, or political subdivision of the state shall not be counted as outstanding bonds, or be entitled to vote or assent, but shall, nevertheless, be subject to any such modification or amendment.

8352.4. The indenture may include a clause providing for such other acts and matters as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to secure the bonds or to make the bonds more marketable. Pursuant thereto the indenture may include a clause which limits the amounts of its expenditures of various types which may be paid out of revenues from improvements acquired, constructed or completed under the provisions of this chapter.

8352.5. The authority may designate a bank or trust company, qualified to do business in this state, as a trustee for the authority and the holders of bonds issued hereunder, and may authorize the trustee to act on behalf of the holders of the bonds, or any stated percentage thereof, and to exercise and prosecute on behalf of the holders of the bonds such rights and remedies as may be available to the holders.

8352.6. The authority shall fix and determine the conditions upon which any trustee shall receive, hold or disburse any or all revenues collected for or on account of the authority.

The authority shall prescribe the duties and powers of such trustee with respect to the issuance, authentication, sale, and delivery of the bonds and the payment of the principal and interest thereof, the redemption of the bonds, the registration and discharge from registration of the bonds, and the management of any sinking fund or other funds provided as security for the bonds.

8352.7. The authority may issue bonds in series or may divide any issue into one or more divisions and fix different maturities and dates of such bonds, different rates of interest, and prescribe different terms and conditions for the bonds of the several series or divisions. It is not necessary that all bonds of the same authorized issue be of the same kind or character, have the same security, or be of the same interest rate, but the terms thereof shall in each case be provided for by the authority, at or prior to the issue thereof. The authority may provide for successive issues or may provide for one maximum issue.

8352.8. Bonds may be issued as coupon bonds or as registered bonds. The authority may provide for the interchange of coupon bonds for registered bonds and registered bonds for coupon bonds, and may provide that the bonds shall be registered as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest, or otherwise as the authority may determine.

8352.9. Bonds shall bear interest at a rate of not to exceed 6 percent per annum, with interest payable at such time as may be determined by the authority. Prior to the issuance of bonds the authority may fix limitations or restrictions on the payment of interest.

8353. Bonds may be callable upon such terms and conditions, and upon such notice as the authority may determine, and upon the payment of the premiums, if any, fixed by the authority in the proceedings for the issuance of the bonds. No bond is subject to call or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date unless the right to exercise such call is expressly stated on the face of the bond.

8353.1. The authority may provide for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds at any place within or without the state and in specified coin or currency of the United States.

8353.2. The authority may provide for the execution and authentication of bonds and coupons by the manual, lithographed, or printed facsimile signature of officers of the authority designated thereby, and by additional authentication by a trustee or fiscal agent appointed by the authority. If any of the officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear upon the bonds or coupons cease to be officers before the delivery of the bonds or coupons, their signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and of the same force and effect as if the officers had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds and coupons.

8353.3. Bonds shall bear dates prescribed by the authority. Bonds may be serial bonds or sinking fund bonds with such maturities as the authority may determine. No bond by its terms shall mature in more than 50 years from its own date and in the event any authorized issue is divided into two or more series or divisions, the maximum maturity date herein authorized shall be calculated from the date on the face of each bond separately, irrespective of the fact that different dates may be prescribed for the bonds of each separate series or division of any authorized issue.

8353.4. The authority may fix terms and conditions for the sale or other disposition of any authorized issue of bonds at either public or private sale, with or without advertising for bids, as the authority may deem advisable. The authority may sell bonds at less than their par or face value but no bond may be sold at a price below the par or face value thereof which would result in a sale price yielding to the purchaser an average of more than 6 percent per annum, payable semiannually, according to standard tables of bond values.

8353.5. The authority may provide for the security for bonds. The authority may also provide for the payment of bonds out of any appropriations or other funds contributed to the authority by the state, the United States, or by any department or agency of either thereof, or by any other source. However, nothing in this chapter shall obligate the state to make any appropriation for that purpose.

8353.6. Interest on bonds may be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds during the actual construction of any project for the acquisition, construction or completion of which the bonds have been issued, and for a period of not to exceed two years thereafter as provided for in the indenture.

8353.7. The authority may provide in the proceedings for the issuance of bonds that the bonds and interest thereon shall constitute such lien upon the net or gross revenues of any project or projects acquired, constructed, or completed by the authority as may be provided for in the indenture.

An indenture may provide regarding the extent or character of the lien and charge on revenues for the payment of the bonds and interest thereon, and also regarding the extent to which sinking funds and any other provisions for servicing the bond and interest obligations, may be subject to such lien or constitute such a charge.

8353.8. Pending the actual issuance or delivery of revenue bonds, the authority may issue temporary or interim bonds, certificates, or receipts of any denominations whatsoever, and with or without coupons, to be exchanged for definitive bonds when ready for delivery.

8353.9. All bonds and the interest or income therefrom shall be exempt from all taxation in this state other than gift, inheritance, and estate taxes.

8354. The authority may provide for the issuance, sale, or exchange of refunding bonds for the purpose of redeeming or retiring any revenue bonds issued by the authority. All provisions of this chapter applicable to the issuance of revenue bonds are applicable to the funding or refunding bonds and to the issuance, sale or exchange thereof.

8354.1. Funding or refunding bonds may be issued in a principal amount sufficient to provide funds for the payment of all bonds to be funded or refunded thereby, and in addition for the payment of all expenses incident to the calling, retiring or paying of such outstanding bonds, and the issuance of such funding or refunding bonds. These expenses may include the difference in amount between the par value of the funding or refunding bonds and any amount less than par for which the funding or refunding bonds shall be sold, any amount necessary to be made available for the payment of interest upon such funding or refunding bonds from the date of sale thereof to the date of payment of the bonds to be funded or refunded or to the date upon which the bonds to be funded or refunded will be paid pursuant to the call thereof or agreement with the holders thereof, and the premium, if any, necessary to be paid in order to call or retire the outstanding bonds and the interest accruing thereon to the date of the call or retirement.

8354.2. All bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be negotiable instruments, except when registered in the name of a registered owner.

8354.3. Prior to the issuance of any of its bonds, the authority, pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may commence an action in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the City and County of San Francisco to determine the right to issue the bonds and their validity.

Article 8. Acquisition, Construction, and Completion of Project

8360. Whenever in the judgment of the authority it is advisable that any project be acquired, constructed, or completed, in whole or in part, it shall cause a report thereon to be made by such officer of the authority as it may designate, which shall include all of the following:

(a) An estimate of the probable cost of the acquisition, construction and completion, including all engineering, legal, administrative, and incidental expenses, during construction.

(b) An estimate of the probable sources of income and the amount thereof, including an estimate of the amount required to be raised for such project by the issuance of revenue bonds and a statement of the probable amount of money, property, materials or labor to be contributed from other sources in aid of such acquisition, construction, or completion.

(c) An estimate of the cost of maintenance and future operation upon completion, including the cost of all repairs, administrative and overhead charges.

The report shall be made after consultation with such interested nonprofit corporation as may, under agreement with the authority, become the lessee or manager of the project and charged with the operation thereof after its completion. The expense of the preparation of such report shall be paid by the authority out of any funds available, including the proceeds of revenue bonds thereafter issued.

8360.1. If the report is approved by the authority, the authority may adopt a resolution declaring that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction or completion of the project, authorizing such acquisition, construction, or completion, and may thereupon authorize the issuance of revenue bonds for the purpose of obtaining funds in an amount estimated by the authority to be sufficient for such purpose.

8360.2. The authority shall have full charge of the acquisition, construction, and completion of all projects authorized by it and may proceed with such work forthwith in the manner authorized by this article. The authority, through its own personnel and experts, may design the improvements to be built under the authority of this act or any portions thereof, either by its own employees or by or through contract with any state agency, public corporation, firm, or person, and prepare or cause to be prepared plans, specifications, strain sheets and working details for all work to be done under this chapter.

8360.3. The authority may acquire all the real property necessary for any project on such terms and conditions as it deems advisable.

8360.4. Except as otherwise provided in Section 8361, all construction work and all repair work on existing structures, the cost of which repair work exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), shall be done by contract let as provided in this article. Any contract not let as provided in this article is void.

8360.5. The authority shall cause an advertisement for bids for the performance of the work to be published for at least 10 consecutive times in a daily newspaper, or for at least 2 consecutive times in a weekly newspaper, of general circulation published in the county.

8360.6. All bidders shall be afforded an opportunity to examine the plans, specifications, strain sheets and working details.

8360.7. The authority shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and the person to whom the contract is awarded shall perform the work in accordance with the plans, specifications, strain sheets and working details unless the contract is modified by a vote of two-thirds of the authority.

8360.8. The person to whom the contract is awarded shall execute a bond to be approved by the authority for the faithful performance of the contract.

8360.9. Whenever the authority enters into a contract for any work or repairs, the contract shall not be altered or changed in any manner except by order adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the authority, and the consent of the contractor.

If any change or alteration of the contract is ordered, it shall be specified in writing and the cost agreed upon between the authority and the contractor.

If the cost of the work is reduced by reason of any modification of the contract, compensation shall be made to the authority therefor.

8361. When any part of the work is to be done or performed by any public body or public corporation or by the United States jointly or in conjunction with the authority, the portion of the cost thereof to be borne by the authority may be turned over to the United States or to any other public body or public corporation to be expended by it in the acquisition, construction or completion of the project. Construction contracts entered into by the authority or by any public body or public corporation for its benefit shall not be subject to the provisions of the State Contract Act (Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 14250), Part 5, Division 3, Title 2, of this code) unless the authority so elects. If the authority so elects, the provisions of the State Contract Act shall then be applicable to constructions contracts (for construction and repair work), and the provisions of Sections 8360.4 to 8360.9, inclusive, of this article, shall be inapplicable thereto. The provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 4200), Division 5 of Title 1 of this code are hereby expressly made applicable to any project under this chapter.

8361.1. Title to all property acquired by the authority shall be in the name of the authority. Subject to agreement with the nonprofit corporation under the terms of this chapter, title to the revenues and income from such property shall be in the name of the authority and, subject to any such agreement, title to any moneys, revenues, sinking funds, reserve funds, and other funds of the authority, and the income thereof, pledged to the payment of the principal and interest on any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the trusts created in favor of the bondholders. The management, operation and control of all improvements acquired, constructed or completed by the authority shall be vested in the authority subject to such contracts as it may execute with any nonprofit corporation as in this chapter provided.

8361.2. So long as any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter are outstanding and unpaid, the operation, maintenance, control, repair, reconstruction, alteration and improvements of any project acquired, constructed, or completed under the provisions of this chapter shall be vested in the authority, subject, however, to the provisions of any contract between the authority and a nonprofit corporation entered into under the provisions of this chapter. After all the outstanding bonds of the authority shall have been paid, the authority, subject to the provisions of any contract between the authority and a nonprofit corporation as in this act provided, and subject to the provisions of Section 8380.3, shall expend all revenues and the income thereof and all sums realized under the provisions of Section 8346.6 hereof in the operation, maintenance, control, repair, reconstruction, alteration and improvement of any project acquired, constructed or completed under the provisions of this chapter, and the construction, maintenance and improvement of additional properties and facilities within all areas under jurisdiction of a world trade center as defined in Sections 8335.2 and 8335.3.

8361.3. The authority may use for the payment of the acquisition and construction or completion of any project any funds made available to the authority to be expended for the accomplishing of the purposes set forth in this chapter, and the proceeds of revenue bonds issued and sold by the authority.

8361.4. The authority may insure against any accident to or destruction of any project or any part thereof. Any money collected on such insurance, if and as may be agreed upon by the authority in the indenture covering the issuance of the bonds, shall be used for the purpose of repairing or rebuilding the project damaged, injured or destroyed, or for the retirement of any revenue bonds issued in connection therewith which may be outstanding unredeemed.

8361.5. The authority may insure against loss of revenues from any cause whatsoever. Any money collected on such insurance, if and as may be agreed upon by the authority in the indenture covering the issuance of the bonds, shall be used solely for the payment of bonds and the interest thereon.

8361.6. The authority may insure against public liability or property damage. It may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of any revenue bonds for the carrying of such or any other insurance, in such amount and of such character as may be specified, and for the payment of the premiums thereon.

Article 9. Rates, Fees, and Charges

8365. Subject to such contractual provisions as may be entered into with a nonprofit managing or lessee corporation, the authority shall fix the rentals, fees, and other charges for all services and facilities furnished from the improvements acquired, constructed, or completed pursuant to this chapter, for the use thereof by any persons utilizing such improvements.

8365.1. Subject to such contractual obligations as may be entered into by the authority and the holders of the revenue bonds issued under this chapter, the authority may change rentals, fees, and charges, from time to time, as conditions warrant.

8365.2. All rentals, fees, and charges shall be at all times fixed to yield, together with any reserve fund set up for such purpose, not less than an annual revenue equal to annual administrative, operating, maintenance, repair, and insurance costs and all redemption payments and interest charges on the revenue bonds at any time issued and outstanding pursuant to this chapter, as the same become due, and such additional sums for any sinking fund, reserve fund or other special fund as may be provided for the further security of such bonds or as a depreciation charge or other charge in connection with the improvements acquired, constructed or purchased by the authority under this chapter.

8365.3. The bond redemption and interest payments, and any sinking fund, reserve fund or other special fund therefor or established in connection with such improvements, shall constitute a first, direct and exclusive charge and lien on all such rentals, fees, and charges, and other revenues and interest thereon (subject to payment of administrative, operating, maintenance, repair, and insurance costs if not otherwise provided) received from the use and operation of the improvement, project or projects (or combination of projects, as may be provided in the bond indenture) for the acquisition, construction or completion of which such revenue bonds were issued, or received from the use or operation of other projects or improvements or facilities whose revenues the authority may agree to subject to such a charge and lien, and all such rentals, fees and charges and other revenues, together with interest thereon and subject to payment of such costs, shall constitute a trust fund for the security and payment of such bonds and shall not be used or pledged for any other purpose so long as such bonds, or any of them, are outstanding and unpaid. If, however, a contract has been entered into between the authority and a lessee nonprofit corporation, as authorized by this chapter, the authority may determine to fix only the total minimum net amount which it will require to be paid to it each year, and authorize the corporation to fix subrental fees and charges, subject to such control over the fixing thereof as is reserved to the authority pursuant to Section 8345.7.

8365.4. The authority may provide that the rentals, fees and charges established are minimum rentals, fees and charges and subject to increase in accordance only with the terms of the indenture under which the revenue bonds are issued. The manager or lessee nonprofit corporation, in fixing subrentals, fees and charges, as authorized by agreement with the authority, shall fix such amounts at a sufficient level to enable it to fulfill its contractual obligations to the authority and at the same time to pay such part of its administrative, operating, maintenance, and other expenses required by agreement as are not provided from other sources.

This article does not prevent the use of a reserve or special fund for the purpose for which it is established.

8365.5. No lease to any nonprofit corporation for the purpose of providing for the management of any project or projects shall be for more than 50 years.

8365.6. Every contract entered into by the authority for the use of any project or part thereof acquired, constructed, or completed from the proceeds of the sale of revenue bonds shall incorporate by reference the provisions of any indenture pursuant to which the bonds have been issued. Every such contract or lease, or subcontract or sublease, shall also refer to the provisions of this chapter with respect to the obligation of the authority to fix, or require the fixing, of rentals, fees and charges to meet the payments provided for in this chapter and in the proceedings for the issuance of revenue bonds, and all payments required to be made to the authority or to the manager lessee of the authority under such contract shall be subject to increase if and when the authority is required to increase rentals, fees, or other charges to meet its obligations hereunder and under any indenture providing for the issuance of bonds.

Article 10. Reimbursement Rights of Bondholders

8370. In each city, county, district, or political subdivision in which property of the authority is situated, the assessor shall assess, and the board of equalization shall equalize the assessment of, the property of the authority in the manner provided in Division 1 (commencing with Section 101) of the Revenue and Taxation Code or other law or ordinance which would be applicable if the property were not exempt from taxation. The assessor shall compute and certify to the authority an amount equal to the tax or assessment or both which would be payable if the property were not exempt from taxation less the tax or assessment or both levied on any possessory interest in said property. The authority shall pay such amount into the general fund of the city, county, district, or political subdivision. Such part of any amount so paid to a county, city, district, or political subdivision which represents the tax or assessment which would accrue to another public agency for which such county, city, district, or political subdivision collects taxes or assessments shall be paid by the latter into the general fund of the public agency. All amounts received pursuant to this section shall be expended for state purposes.

Article 11. Other Rights of Bondholders

8375. The holder of any bond issued pursuant to this chapter may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require and compel the performance of any of the duties imposed upon the authority or upon any state department, official, or employee, or assumed by any thereof, their officers, agents or employees, in connection with the acquisition, construction, operation, maintenance, repair, reconstruction, and insurance of any project, or the collection, deposit, investment, application, and disbursement of rents, fees, charges, and all other revenues derived from the operation and use of any project, or in connection with the deposit, investment and disbursement of the proceeds received from the sale of bonds under this chapter. The enumeration of such rights and remedies does not, however, exclude the exercise or prosecution of any other rights or remedies available to the holders of bonds issued pursuant to this chapter.

8375.1. While any revenue bonds issued by the authority remain outstanding, the powers, duties and existence of the authority, shall not be diminished or impaired in any manner that will adversely affect the interests and rights of the holders of the bonds.

Article 12. Contributions and Cooperation

8380. The authority may accept contributions or appropriations from the United States, the state, or any department or agency of either thereof, or from any public body or corporation, or from any private firm, person, or corporation.

8380.1. The authority may enter into any contract, arrangement, or agreement with any other public agency and may cooperate with any other public agency for the development of the world trade center or the performance of work or services in connection therewith.

8380.2. Any public or private nonprofit corporation of this state may cooperate and enter into contracts, joint, or otherwise, with the authority for the acquisition, construction, completion, maintenance, operation and repair, in whole or in part, of any project for the construction or improvement of the facilities of the world trade center.

8380.3. The City and County of San Francisco, or any other public corporation or private nonprofit corporation, may upon the request of an authority advance or contribute money, land, rights-of-way, labor, materials and other property toward the expense of building, acquiring and maintaining the buildings and facilities of the world trade center referred to in this chapter, and for preliminary surveys and preparation of plans and estimates of cost therefor and other preliminary expenses. Appropriations for such purposes may be made from any funds available. The City and County of San Francisco and any other public corporation may also issue general obligation bonds for any of such purposes, and all proceedings for the authorization, issue and sale of bonds shall be had under the law governing the issue and sale of bonds for public improvements by the city and county or particular public corporation. Money or property so advanced or contributed may be immediately transferred or delivered to the authority to be used for the purpose for which such advance or contribution was made. Repayment of part or all thereof may be made subordinate to any obligations issued by the authority for the acquisition, construction, or completion of any such property, buildings and facilities, or projects therefor.

8380.4. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, and notwithstanding that all bonds issued pursuant to this chapter for the acquisition or construction of any property, buildings and facilities, or projects therefor, have been fully redeemed and paid, the authority may continue to collect revenues for the use of such property, buildings and facilities, or projects therefor, for the purpose of reimbursing the state for any expenditures which may have been made by it under appropriations or otherwise in connection with the property, buildings and facilities, or projects therefor, and which theretofore have not been repaid, and for the purpose of repayment to any public corporation (including the City and County of San Francisco) or private nonprofit corporation, of any amount remaining unpaid which the authority shall have agreed to repay for land, money, rights-of-way, labor, and materials or other property advanced or contributed for the acquisition, construction or completion of any such property, buildings and facilities, or projects therefor.

8380.5. 8380.6. The authority may cooperate and contract with the United States under the War Mobilization and Reconversion Act of 1944, approved October 3, 1944, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, or any other act of Congress heretofore and hereafter enacted authorizing or permitting such cooperation.

8380.7. The authority may contract loans and borrow money through the sale of bonds authorized in this chapter, or of the same character as those herein authorized, from the United States or any of its departments, agencies, or instrumentalities, upon such conditions and terms as may be agreed to, and such bonds shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Article 13. Funds

8385. The proceeds from the sale of all bonds authorized under the provisions of this chapter shall be paid to the State Treasurer as custodian of a special trust fund, which fund is created by Section 8385.1, to be held for the account of the authority.

8385.1. There is hereby created in the State Treasury a construction fund for each project for which bonds are issued, to be known under the name designated therefor by the authority. Such construction fund shall at all times be kept separate and apart from all other funds and shall be held by the State Treasurer as a special fund for the account of the authority. The moneys in the construction fund shall be held subject to the right of the authority to recover them, on claims presented by it, whereupon the moneys shall be paid out and disbursed solely for the acquisition and construction of projects pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, including surveys, preparation of plans and specifications, and for the payment of all other costs and expenses prior to and during construction, including the acquisition of necessary rights-of-way, easements, lands and other property of every kind and description and appurtenances thereto, and the payment of all expenses, engineering, legal and administrative costs, as provided by the authority in the proceedings for the issuance of such bonds. The State Controller shall keep an accurate account of all money deposited in and withdrawn from the construction fund.

8385.2. Moneys in the construction fund shall be deposited as time or demand deposits in such depositary or depositaries as may be authorized by law to receive deposits of state funds.

8385 3. If any surplus shall exist in any construction fund after the payment in full of all costs of acquisition, construction and completion of the project for which the revenue bonds were issued, the surplus may be paid out and disbursed for any of the purposes of the authority in addition to those for which it may be paid out and disbursed pursuant to Section 8385.1, but subject to any agreement which may be made by the authority, in any indenture for the issuance of the revenue bonds with respect to the application of such surplus.

8385.4. The authority may provide for the payment of interest becoming due and payable on the revenue bonds prior to and during the period of actual construction of the project for which the bonds are issued, and for the period specified in the indenture for the issuance of the bonds, which period shall not exceed two years, after the completion of construction, and the payment of all costs and expenses of administration, operation, maintenance, repairs, and insurance during the same period shall be made out of the construction fund as the need therefor shall arise, and any moneys in the construction fund are hereby made available for such purposes.

8385.5. Moneys in a construction fund held by the State Treasurer and not required to meet acquisition or construction costs or expenses payable from the construction fund, or interest on the bonds, may be invested in bonds and other obligations eligible for investment of surplus state moneys; subject to such limitations as may be provided in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. Any income or interest thereon shall be added to and become a part of the construction fund for the benefit of the authority.

8385.6. All revenues, when received by the authority from the operation of a project (or from the lessee thereof) acquired or constructed or completed by the authority, shall be paid over by the authority to the State Treasurer as custodian thereof or to any fiscal agent or depositary thereof.

8385.7. The revenues paid over by the authority to the State Treasurer shall be held by the State Treasurer in a special fund or funds as may be required by proceedings for the issuance of bonds or by any applicable bond indenture and applied exclusively for the account of the authority. Such special fund or funds shall be known under the name designated therefor by the authority. The moneys in the revenue fund or funds shall be deposited by the State Treasurer in time or demand deposits in such depositary or depositaries as may be authorized by law to receive deposit of state funds, to the credit of the appropriate revenue fund, or may be invested in such bonds or obligations as are by law legal investments for state moneys, subject to such limitations and restrictions as may be provided in the applicable indenture under which bonds of the authority have been issued and are outstanding. Any income or interest received upon such deposits or investments shall be added to the appropriate revenue fund and inure to the benefit of the authority. The moneys in the revenue fund or funds held by the State Treasurer shall be held and disbursed for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds issued by the authority when such principal and interest become due, and for the creation of any reserve fund or other special fund and also for the payment of all costs and expenses to the authority not otherwise provided for the administration, operation, maintenance, repair, and insurance costs of the project or projects and other costs and expenses of the authority, all to the extent provided by the applicable proceedings for the issuance of bonds or the applicable indenture. The State Controller shall keep an accurate account of all money deposited in and withdrawn from the revenue funds.

8385.8. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds and any revenues of the authority shall be kept separate and distinct from all funds in the State Treasury and no moneys in the construction fund or the revenue fund may be loaned or in any way used other than pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

8385.9. The administrative expense of the authority may be paid from any moneys made available for the purpose and may, as needed, be paid from construction and revenue funds upon such allocation as the authority shall determine, subject only to provisions in applicable proceedings for the issuance of bonds or in an applicable bond indenture.

8386. The Treasurer shall cooperate with the authority in utilizing a trustee or fiscal agent selected by the authority whenever possible and in accordance with law, in connection with the deposit of funds and other fiscal matters subject to his control.

8386.1. As in the case of other articles of this chapter, the provisions of this article shall be deemed to apply to the bonds and funds of the San Francisco World Trade Center.

8386.2. All moneys received pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the San Francisco World Trade Center Fund in the State Treasury, which fund is created as a special fund in the State Treasury. All other funds created or authorized by this chapter shall be a part of such fund.

All moneys at any time in such San Francisco World Trade Center Fund are hereby appropriated for the purposes of this chapter; and are allocated for expenditure in accordance with the limitations imposed by this chapter by the respective authorities in the same proportion as the money received in connection with each such authority and the activities thereof, including the issuance of bonds thereby, bears to all moneys received under this chapter.

An act to add Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) to the Government Code, relating to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and making an appropriation.

[Approved by Governor July 12, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) is added to the Government Code, to read:

TITLE 7.2. SAN FRANCISCO BAY CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

CHAPTER 1. FINDINGS AND DECLARATIONS OF POLICY

66600. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the public interest in the San Francisco Bay is in its beneficial use for a variety of purposes; that the public has an interest in the bay as the most valuable single natural resource of an entire region, a resource that gives special character to the bay area; that the bay is a single body of water that can be used for many purposes, from conservation to planned development; and that the bay operates as a delicate physical mechanism in which changes that affect one part of the bay may also affect all other parts. It is therefore declared to be in the public interest to create a politically-responsible, democratic process by which the San Francisco Bay and its shoreline can be analyzed, planned, and regulated as a unit.

66601. The Legislature further finds and declares that the present uncoordinated, haphazard manner in which the San Francisco Bay is being filled threatens the bay itself and is therefore inimical to the welfare of both present and future residents of the area surrounding the bay; that while some individual fill projects may be necessary and desirable for the needs of the entire bay region, and while some cities and counties may have prepared detailed master plans for their own bay lands, the fact remains that no governmental mechanism exists for evaluating individual projects as to their effect on the entire bay; and that further piecemeal filling of the bay may place serious restrictions on navigation in the bay, may destroy the irreplaceable feeding and breeding grounds of fish and wildlife in the bay, may adversely affect the quality of bay waters and even the quality of air in the bay area, and would therefore be harmful to the needs of the present and future population of the bay region.

66603. The Legislature further finds and declares that in order to protect the public interest in San Francisco Bay, a new regional approach is necessary, to be carried out by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission created by this act and comprised of representatives of the federal government, the state government, cities and counties in the San Francisco Bay area, and the general public; that this approach, treating the entire bay as a unit, should begin with a detailed study of all the characteristics of the bay, including the quality, quantity, and movement of bay waters, the ecological balance of the bay, and the economic interests in the bay, including the needs of the bay area population for industry and for employment; that the study should include the requirements of industries that would not pollute the bay nor interfere with its use for recreation or other purposes, but would need sites near deepwater channels or would need large supplies of water for their manufacturing processes; that the study should examine all present and proposed uses of the bay and its shoreline, and should give consideration to the master plans of cities and counties around the bay; and that the study should lead to the preparation of a comprehensive and enforceable plan for the conservation of the water of the bay and the development of its shoreline.

66604. The Legislature further finds and declares that in order, during the period in which the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission is formulating the comprehensive conservation and development plan referred to in Section 66603, to protect the present shoreline and body of the San Francisco Bay to the maximum extent possible, it is essential that the commission be empowered, during such period, to issue or deny permits, after public hearings, for any proposed project that involves placing fill in the bay or extracting submerged materials from the bay.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITION OF SAN FRANCISCO BAY

66610. For the purposes of this title, the San Francisco Bay includes the shoals outside the Golden Gate and the water areas from the south end of the bay to the Golden Gate and to the Sacramento River line (Simmons Point-Stake Point in Suisun Bay) and, specifically, the marshlands (land lying between mean high tide and five feet above mean sea level); tidelands (land lying between mean high tide and mean low tide); and submerged lands (land lying below mean low tide), but excluding from the marshlands, tidelands and submerged lands those lands which are not subject to tidal action.

The definition of San Francisco Bay which is made by this section is merely for the purpose of prescribing the authority of the commission which is created by this title. This definition shall not be construed to affect title to any land or to prescribe the boundaries of the San Francisco Bay for any purpose except the authority of the commission created by this title.

66631. In making its study, the commission shall cooperate to the fullest extent possible with the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission and the Association of Bay Area Governments; and in preparing its comprehensive plan, the commission shall, to the fullest extent possible, coordinate its planning for the bay with planning for the land area surrounding the bay by local agencies, which shall retain the responsibility for land use planning. In order to avoid duplication of work, the commission shall make maximum use of data and information available from the planning programs of the State Office of Planning, the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, the Association of Bay Area Governments, the cities and counties in the San Francisco Bay area, and other public and private planning agencies.

66632. The commission shall give full consideration to the report of the city council or board of supervisors.

(d) The commission shall take action upon the application for the permit, either denying or granting the permit, within 60 days after it receives the report; or, if the city council or the board of supervisors did not file a report with the commission within the 90-day period, within 60 days after the expiration of such 90-day period; or if an application for a permit was made directly to the commission, within 60 days after it receives the application. The permit shall be automatically granted if the commission shall fail to take specific action either denying or granting the permit within the time period specified in this section. A permit may be granted for a project if the project is either (1) necessary to the health, safety or welfare of the public in the entire bay area, or (2) of such a nature that it will not adversely affect the comprehensive plan being prepared. Thirteen affirmative votes of members of the commission are required to grant a permit. Neither of the federal representatives who are members of the commission may vote on whether or not a permit shall be granted.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Article 15 (commencing with Section 6450) of Chapter 6 of Division 6 of the Education Code is amended and renumbered to become the heading of new Chapter 6.5 of Division 6 of said code (which Chapter 6.5 shall commence with Section 6450, and to be comprised of the various sections of the Education Code added and amended herein) to read:

CHAPTER 6.5. SPECIAL COMPENSATORY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS FOR DISADVANTAGED CHILDREN

SEC. 1.5. A new article heading is added immediately preceding Section 6450, to read:

Article 1. General Provisions

SEC. 2 Section 6450 of said code is amended to read:

6450. This chapter may be cited as the McAteer Act.

SEC 3. Section 6451 of said code is amended to read:

6451. The Legislature finds and declares that because of home, community, environmental and other conditions which give rise to language, cultural and economic disadvantages, the latent talents of many minors in the elementary and secondary schools in the state remain undiscovered and are not adequately developed by the general educational programs afforded by the public school system and private schools or school systems. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature to encourage the establishment and development, by local officers and agencies of the public school system, of programs directed to identifying those pupils affected by language, cultural, and economic disadvantages who are potentially capable of completing the regular courses of instruction leading to graduation from the public elementary and secondary schools, and by special services, techniques, and activities to stimulating their interest in intellectual and educational attainment.

It is further recognized that to combat effectively the evils of such disadvantage a comprehensive, communitywide and statewide cooperative effort will be required together with a marshaling of all public and private resources and aids which may be useful in the endeavor. Securing cooperation, unity of action, and the concentration and effective direction of available outside resources and aids, public and private, should be an essential element of the programs for compensatory education, at both the state and local levels.

The Legislature finds that such special undertakings are essential to the conservation and development of the cultural, economic and intellectual resources of the state and nation. The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to carry out these intents and purposes.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to sanction, perpetuate or promote the racial or ethnic segregation of pupils in the public schools.

SEC. 4 Section 6452 of said code is amended to read.

6452. For purposes of this chapter, a "disadvantaged minor" is a minor who is potentially academically able but scholastically underachieving, and must compensate for inability to profit from the normal educational program. He is a minor who:

(a) Is 3 years of age or more, but under 18 years of age and has not graduated from high school.

(b) Is potentially capable of successfully completing a regular educational program leading to graduation from the elementary or secondary school in which he is enrolled or required to be enrolled.

(c) Is, because of home and community environment, subject to such language, cultural, economic, and like disadvantages as will make improbable his completion of the regular program leading to graduation without special efforts on the part of school authorities, over, above, and, in addition to those involved in providing the regular educational programs, directed to the positive stimulation of his potential.

SEC. 5. A new Section 6453 is added to said code, to read:

6453. A "program of compensatory education" is an undertaking by any school district maintaining any of grades kindergarten through 12, in the form prescribed by Article 2 of this chapter, which is over, above, and in addition to the regular educational programs of the district, having the purpose of providing positive stimulation of the intellectual abilities of disadvantaged minors, and which embodies a positive plan for the identification of such minors. Participation in a program of compensatory education under this chapter shall not preclude an individual's participation in any other potentially beneficial program which may be offered in the public school system or otherwise.

SEC. 6. A new Section 6454 is added to said code, to read:

6454. Each county superintendent of schools is authorized, upon request, to provide consultative and coordination services for the school districts under his jurisdiction which have established programs of compensatory education under this chapter. Such activity shall be financed through the county school service fund, and shall be subject to budget review pursuant to Section 18351.

SEC. 7. A new Section 6455 is added to said code, to read:

6455. (a) The State Board of Education may establish programs of the following types:

(1) Establishment of new curricula or modification of existing curricula in connection with the education and training of prospective teachers, to incorporate instruction in methods and techniques developed by competent authorities designed to enable teachers effectively to teach disadvantaged children.

(2) Research and consultative work projects undertaken to assist state and local public school agencies in carrying out their responsibilities under this chapter.

(3) Independently, or in cooperation with any public or private agency or organization, engaging in research and development undertakings directed to overcoming disadvantage, together with related activities involving evaluation, demonstration and dissemination of findings having to do with programs of compensatory education.

(b) It is the intent and aim of the Legislature that the University of California and the California State Colleges participate to the extent practicable with local public school agencies and the State Board of Education in their endeavors under this chapter. It is recommended that greater attention be devoted in the training of teachers to their preparation in the techniques and skills required to cope with the problems of disadvantaged children at the preschool as well as the elementary and secondary level. The university and the state colleges are urged to participate at the local level in the programs being administered by the local public school authorities and agencies, and to provide all technical and personnel services practicable.

SEC. 8. Article 2 (comprising new Sections 6456 to 6460, inclusive, and Section 6453 as amended and renumbered) is added to the said new Chapter 6.5 of Division 6 of said code, to read:

Article 2. Programs for Compensatory Education

6456. The purpose of this article is to establish criteria to guide local school districts in making applications for federal funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 as accepted in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 570) of Division 2, or any state funds provided specially for the purposes of this chapter.

These criteria shall apply to the extent that they do not conflict with the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 or administrative regulations promulgated under that act.

6457. Each application of a local school district for federal funds or state funds shall include a comprehensive compensatory education plan which shall demonstrate that the district has fully utilized all other sources of funds, and the assistance of all volunteer aid offered by individuals and public and private organizations providing assistance for similar educational endeavors, and has effectively coordinated the same. This plan should emphasize a preventive program aimed at the child between the ages of three years and eight years, and have an ultimate goal of teaching the child to read, awakening the child's interest in learning, giving the child a sense of success in school achievement, preventing the child's alienation from the school, and preventing his possible early departure from school. It shall also include remedial programs for older children. Expenditures should be directed to schools with large concentrations of educationally disadvantaged children. If the situation involves disadvantaged children who speak English as a second language, any programs should include early English language instruction, and the use of teachers, teachers' aides or volunteers who are proficient in the child's primary language, and in-service training for teachers in that language.

6458. For purposes of applications for federal funds a plan should be comprehensive in scope, and may include any or all of the program components set out below.

The State Board of Education shall act, upon recommendation of the Advisory Compensatory Education Commission, to establish a priority listing of the following program elements which shall be used in the approval of school district plans to determine those elements which shall be emphasized on a statewide basis:

(a) Reduction of ratios of pupils to teachers, directed specifically to enabling more individual attention to be given to disadvantaged pupils.

(b) Special efforts in the area of reading instruction, including the employment of additional teachers, special reading teachers, teacher aides, and volunteer aides. If Senate Bill No. 205 of the 1965 General Session of the Legislature is enacted into law, special reading programs authorized pursuant to this subdivision shall be conducted pursuant to standards established under that act; with the provision that, subject to applicable federal law and regulation, available federal funds shall be employed in lieu of the appropriate state financial support provided by that act.

(c) Preschool programs provided through the use of either school facilities, other public or private facilities, or any combination thereof, for children three years of age or older, involving intensive parent participation, established pursuant to standards prescribed by the State Board of Education.

If Assembly Bill No 1331 of the 1965 General Session of the Legislature is enacted into law, preschool programs authorized pursuant to this subdivision shall be conducted pursuant to the educational standards established by the State Board of Education pursuant to that act; with the provision that federal funds which may be available under P.L. 543 of the 87th Congress shall be used to finance those programs which may be eligible for such support.

(d) In-service professional study involving instruction and orientation of school district personnel to enable them to more effectively deal with disadvantaged students.

(e) School-home cooperation, including home visitation, parent education and participation, parent-teacher conferences utilizing, wherever necessary, bilingual interpreters.

(f) Cultural enrichment including the use of field trips, special speakers, motion pictures, records, library programs, concerts and other means which serve to broaden the educational and cultural experience of the students.

(g) After-school tutoring programs utilizing the services of qualified college and university students and volunteers from the community.

(h) Remedial and corrective programs directed to enhancing the pupils' interest and competence in the English language, including extended remedial reading programs, special speech and oral programs, and the teaching of English as a second language, as, for example, where Spanish-speaking children are involved.

(i) Evaluation, testing, and consultation, involving the formulation of evaluation standards which are as rigorous as feasible under the circumstances; the yearly administration of comprehensive achievement tests to all compensatory education students; and the development and use of data based on group controls which will provide evidence of contrast, and the assembly and classification of data for use at the statewide level. A school district plan of compensatory education under this chapter shall, in order to receive approval, contain this program element.

6459. In addition, the district may propose other programs, subject to the approval of the Director of Compensatory Education, to include the following elements:

(a) Employment of competent school-community coordinators, to secure effective coordination of the efforts of pupils, parents, schools, and the community.

(b) Curriculum revision and the development and use of new instructional equipment and facilities to reorient the education program to meet the particular needs of the disadvantaged pupils, with special attention to be given to the teaching of the English language.

(c) Effective use of auxiliary personnel, the services of whom may be made available not only by the public school system, but by other public and private agencies and organizations, including ethnic organizations.

6460. A school district may establish nursery schools and may admit thereto children who are at least three years of age. Nursery schools shall be maintained pursuant to standards set by the State Board of Education which standards shall provide for the qualifications of the teachers to be employed in the schools.

SEC. 8.5. Section 6453 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

6461. The governing board of each school district maintaining a program of compensatory education shall, at the times and in the form and manner prescribed by the Director of Compensatory Education but not less than once in each school year, submit information evaluating the program in all respects including but not limited to the following standards:

(a) The existence of residential areas within the school district likely to produce substantial numbers of disadvantaged children, which areas may properly be characterized as slum or depressed urban areas, areas of retarded socioeconomic development, remote rural areas, areas including impoverished homes, areas with concentrations of non-English-speaking populations (such as Spanish-speaking populations), Indian reservations, areas with concentrations of recent in-migrant families, areas with concentrations of migrant farm families, areas with concentrations of low income racial and nationality minority populations.

(b) The general adequacy of the program in terms of the degree to which talent, knowledge, information, and all available outside resources and aids (including the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, P.L. 452, 88th Congress) have been mobilized, precision in the definition of the objectives and the particular types of services, activities, and identification methods to be utilized, the projected term of the undertaking with reference to time required to accomplish objectives, and the measures provided to enable periodic evaluations of accomplishments.

(c) The operational promise of the program in terms of the adequacy of the district's facilities and resources to carry it out, the background and competency of program supervisors and personnel and any special training previously afforded them, and the degree to which the program is likely to enhance the skill and competency of supervisors and personnel in achieving the objectives of the program or other such programs.

(d) The economic efficiency of the program in terms of specific district expenditures actually being made over and above those incurred in carrying out the regular educational program, the justification of expenditures by procedures to be followed, the existence of a direct relationship between proposed expenditures and anticipated results, and the adequacy of financing to accomplish stated objectives.

(e) The extent to which the program will serve to facilitate the development of data and information which will serve to increase the general effectiveness of programs for education of educationally disadvantaged minors.

(f) The results of the comprehensive pupil achievement tests administered by the district to all students enrolled in compensatory education programs pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 6458, together with test scores of appropriate control groups of students, developed in accordance with that subdivision.

Upon application an extension of the approval of the tentative map, not to exceed one year, may be granted by the governing body or advisory agency.

The governing body may require dedications or an offer of dedication by separate instrument for street opening or widening or easements. If dedications or offers of dedications are required, such dedications shall be completed prior to filing of the parcel map. Fees and lot design requirements shall be computed and imposed with respect to such maps on the basis of parcels or lots of the surface of the land shown thereon as included in the project. Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit the power of the governing body to regulate the design or location of buildings in such a project by or pursuant to local ordinances.

SEC. 9. Section 11540.1 of said code is amended to read:

11540.1. Nothing in this chapter prevents the governing body of any municipality or county from regulating the division of land which is not a subdivision, provided that such regulations are not more restrictive than the requirements for a subdivision. The validity of any conveyance, as defined in Section 1215 of the Civil Code, made contrary to the provisions of any ordinance prescribing the area or dimensions of lots or parcels, or prohibiting the reduction in area or the separation in ownership of land, or requiring the filing of a map of any land to be divided, shall not be affected, except that any such ordinance may provide that any deed of conveyance, sale or contract to sell made contrary to the provisions of such ordinance is voidable to the extent and in the same manner provided in Section 11540.

The governing body may authorize the advisory agency to report its action direct to the subdivider. If the governing body does not so authorize the advisory agency, the advisory agency shall make its report to the governing body, which body shall act upon the report within 10 days or at its next succeeding regular meeting after receipt of the report.

Any reports or recommendations on the map or maps of any subdivision submitted to the advisory agency or governing body shall be submitted in writing to the subdivider prior to final action on the map or maps by the advisory agency or governing body. Such required submission in writing shall be deemed complied with when such reports or recommendations are placed in the mail directed to the subdivider at his designated address and bearing the proper postage.

(b) If the subdivider is dissatisfied with any action of the advisory agency with respect to the tentative map, or the kinds, nature and extent of the improvements recommended by the advisory agency to be required, he may, within 15 days after such action, appeal to the governing body, unless an appeal board has been designated in which event such appeal must be to the appeal board, for a public hearing thereon. The governing body or appeal board as the case may be shall hear the appeal, upon notice to the subdivider and the advisory agency, unless the subdivider consents to a continuance, within 15 days or at its next succeeding regular meeting. At the time fixed for the hearing the governing body or appeal board shall proceed to hear the testimony of the subdivider or any witnesses in his behalf and the testimony of the representatives of the advisory agency or any witnesses in its behalf. It may also hear the testimony of other competent persons respecting the character of the neighborhood in which the subdivision is to be located, the kinds, nature and extent of improvements, the quality or kinds of development to which the area is best adapted and any other phase of the matter with respect to which it may desire to inquire into.

Upon conclusion of the hearing the governing body or appeal board shall within seven days declare its findings based upon the testimony and documents produced before it. It may sustain, modify, reject or overrule any recommendations or rulings of the advisory agency and may make such findings as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or local ordinance adopted pursuant to this chapter.

If the subdivider or advisory agency is dissatisfied with any action of the appeal board with respect to the tentative map, or the kinds, nature and extent of the improvements required by the appeal board, either may, within 15 days after such action, appeal to the governing body. The governing body shall hear the appeal within 15 days or at its next succeeding regular meeting, unless the subdivider consents to a continuance, and shall give notice of such hearing to the subdivider, the appeal board and the advisory agency. The governing body shall hear the argument of the subdivider, the appeal board and the advisory agency or of their representatives based upon the testimony and the documents before the appeal board, and may receive documents from or hear the testimony of any competent person respecting the character of the neighborhood in which the subdivision is to be located, the kinds, nature and extent of improvements, the quality of kinds of development to which the area is best adapted and any other phase of the matter with respect to which it may desire to inquire into. Upon conclusion of the hearing the governing body shall, within seven days, declare its findings based upon the testimony and documents produced before it or before the appeal board. It may sustain, modify, reject or overrule any recommendations or rulings of the appeal board and may make such findings as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or local ordinance adopted pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 11. Section 11554 of said code is amended to read:

11554. Within a period of 18 months, as prescribed by ordinance, after approval or conditional approval of the tentative map or maps, the subdivider may cause the subdivision, or any part thereof, to be surveyed and a final map to be prepared in accordance with the tentative map as approved. Upon application of the subdivider an extension of not exceeding one year may be granted by the governing body or by an advisory agency that is authorized to report its action directly to the subdivider. In the event the advisory agency denies a subdivider's application for extension, the subdivider may appeal to the governing body.

SEC. 12. Section 11555 of said code is amended to read:

11555. Any failure to record a final map within the period prescribed by ordinance from the approval or conditional approval of the tentative map or any extension thereof granted by the governing body, shall terminate all proceedings. Before a final map may thereafter be recorded, a new tentative map shall be submitted.

11576. (a) The parcel map shall be prepared by a registered civil engineer or licensed land surveyor. It shall show ties to the centerline of streets or property lines bounding the property for the purpose of showing street widening, conformity with proposed building setback lines, and other information required by the governing body for the orderly administration of their zoning and building regulations.

(b) In any case where the division of land creates four or less parcels, the parcel map may be compiled from record data available when sufficient survey information exists on filed maps and when the location of any boundary of the parcel map, either by monuments or possessory lines, is certain. The parcel map shall be submitted to the county surveyor or city engineer for his examination prior to filing.

(c) In any case where the division of the land creates five or more parcels, as authorized in Section 11535, subdivisions (c)(1), (c)(2), or (c)(3), the parcel map shall be based upon a field survey of the land made in conformance with the Land Surveyors' Act. In any case the parcel map may be based upon a field survey made in conformance with the Land Surveyors' Act. 11577. The parcel map shall conform to all of the following provisions:

If ink is used on polyester base film, the ink surface shall be coated with a suitable substance to assure permanent legibility.

(b) The size of each sheet shall be 18 x 26 inches. A marginal line shall be drawn completely around each sheet, leaving an entirely blank margin of one inch. The scale of the map shall be large enough to show all details clearly and enough sheets shall be used to accomplish this end. The particular number of the sheet and the total number of sheets comprising the map shall be stated on each of the sheets, and its relation to each adjoining sheet shall be clearly shown.

(c) Each parcel shall be numbered or otherwise designated.

(d) The exterior boundary of the land included within the parcel map shall be indicated by colored border. The map shall show the definite location of the original parcel or parcels, and particularly its relation to surrounding surveys.

The time limit for the approval of such map may be extended by mutual consent of the subdivider and the governing body. If no action is taken within such time limit or within the time to which it has been extended by such mutual consent, the map, if it conforms to all the requirements above set forth, shall be deemed to be approved, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the governing body thereupon to certify the approval.

The governing body shall at that time also accept, accept subject to improvement, or reject any or all offers of dedication and, unless the streets and easements have been improved and accepted, shall, as a condition precedent to the acceptance of any streets or easements, provide for the improvement of such streets or easements in accordance with standards established by such governing body by local ordinance applicable at the time of approval of the tentative map by requiring the subdivider (a) to enter into an agreement with the city or county upon mutually agreeable terms to thereafter improve said streets and easements at the subdivider's expense, or (b) to enter into a contract with the city or county upon mutually agreeable terms to thereafter initiate and consummate proceedings under an appropriate special assessment act for the financing and installation of all the improvements required by local ordinance.

The standards may be adopted by reference, without posting or publishing them, if they have been printed in book or pamphlet form and three copies thereof have been filed for use and examination by the public in the office of the clerk of the local agency prior to the adoption.

An act to amend Section 13851 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to inheritance tax.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13851 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

13851. Intangible personal property is exempt from the tax imposed by this part if the decedent at the time of his death was a resident of a territory or another state of the United States. Such property is also exempt if the decedent at the time of his death was a resident of a foreign state or country which then imposed a legacy, succession, or death tax in respect to intangible personal property of its own residents, but either:

(a) Did not impose a legacy, succession, or death tax of any character in respect to intangible personal property of residents of this state; or

(b) Had in its laws a reciprocal provision under which intangible personal property of a nonresident was exempt from legacy, succession, or death taxes of every character if the territory or state of the United States or foreign state or country in which the nonresident resided allowed a similar exemption in respect to intangible personal property of residents of the foreign state or country of residence of the decedent.

CHAPTER 1182

An act to amend Section 11251 of the Education Code, relating to average daily attendance of a school district.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11251 of the Education Code is amended to read:

11251. (a) In computing the average daily attendance of a school district, there shall be included only the attendance of pupils while engaged in educational activities required of such pupils and under the immediate supervision and control of an employee of the district who possessed a valid certification document, registered as required by law, authorizing him to render service in the capacity and during the period in which he served.

(b) The State Department of Education shall, in cooperation with the Department of Finance and the Legislative Analyst, conduct a study to devise a suitable method for determining the number of units of average daily attendance for a fiscal year, of pupils in grades kindergarten through 12 enrolled in elementary districts, high school districts, and unified districts. Such method shall be based upon the mean average of active enrollment figures on appropriate dates throughout the school year, multiplied by a proven percentage ratio of enrollment to average daily attendance.

If the method devised will yield approximately the same total number of average daily attendance as is now obtained by existing methods specified in this code and such method has been approved by the State Board of Education, it shall be recommended to the Legislature to be used for all computations of average daily attendance in the regular day classes of the elementary and high schools.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature in amending Section 11251 of the Education Code to relieve, to the fullest possible extent, classroom teachers of noneducational tasks and to reduce administrative costs in accounting and reporting attendance within the limitations imposed for the necessity of providing an accurate attendance accounting system for statistical and fiscal purposes and for insuring proper controls for the derivation of, and allocations from, the State School Fund.

An act to repeal Section 20804.51 as added by Chapter 1834 of the Statutes of 1961, to amend Sections 20025, 20031, 20580, 20609, 20750.42, 20801.5, 20894.1, 21252.10, 21252.5, 21330, 21330.5 and 21338, to amend and renumber Sections 20205, 20205.1, 20206 and 20209 of, and to add Sections 20612 and 21252.45 to the Government Code, relating to the State Employees' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20804.51 of the Government Code as added by Chapter 1834 of the Statutes of 1961 to repeal Section 20950.6, is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 20025 of said code is amended to read:

20025. For a local member who is an employee of a contracting agency which has amended or shall amend its contract with the board to subject itself to the provisions of this section, and for a retired person who was an employee of a contracting agency which has elected or shall elect to subject itself to the provisions of both this section and Section 21251.3 or Section 21251.35 of this code, and for no other member, there shall be excluded from the compensation used in any computation, to determine the portion of any benefit based on current service rendered to the contracting agency prior to the effective date of such amendment, any compensation in excess of four hundred sixteen dollars and sixty-six cents ($416.66) per month, unless such member shall elect, at any time prior to retirement, by written notice filed in the office of the board, to pay into the retirement fund, by lump sum payments or at times, in amounts, and in a manner fixed by the board, and thereafter pays into the retirement fund, (1) such additional amount as he would have contributed as a part of his normal contributions as an employee of such contracting agency, assuming the entire compensation earned by him was subject to normal contributions; and (2) an amount equal to the additional interest which would have been credited to his account under such assumption; and (3) in the case of any member electing to make payment in other than a lump sum, interest on the balance of the amount payable into the retirement fund, pursuant to such election, at the rate of interest currently being used from time to time under this system. At the time of filing the notice of election, as herein provided, any such member may elect to apply toward the additional amount payable by him pursuant to such election, any additional accumulated contributions with which he is entitled to be credited.

The entire compensation of a member shall be included in any computation to be made under this part to determine the portion of any benefit based on current service rendered on and after the effective date of such amendment to the contract. If a member makes the election and payment as provided in this section, his entire compensation shall be included in any computation to be made under this part for the entire period of his current service rendered as an employee of such contracting agency and with which he is entitled to be credited at retirement.

A local member's entire compensation shall be included in any computation to be made under this part for the period of his current service with which he is entitled to be credited and which was rendered as an employee of a contracting agency whose contract by express provision on its effective date made the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

This section shall not apply to any state member; nor shall it apply to any contracting agency nor to its employees unless and until the agency elects to be subject to the provisions of this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, except that an election among the employees is not required, or unless an express provision included in the contract on its effective date, made the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 20031 of said code is amended to read:

20031. "Accumulated contributions" means accumulated normal contributions plus any accumulated additional contributions standing to the credit of a member's account; provided, however, that "accumulated contributions" as used in any provision of this part specifying a minimum amount of such contributions as a condition of the exercise of any right or entitlement to any benefit shall mean only accumulated normal contributions.

SEC. 4. Section 20580 of said code is amended to read:

20580. Every county superintendent of schools shall enter into a contract with the board for the inclusion in this system of (a) all of the employees of the office of county superintendent whose compensation is paid from the county school service fund other than employees electing pursuant to Section 873.1 of the Education Code to continue in membership in a county system; and (b) all of the employees of school districts existing on July 1, 1949, or thereafter formed, within his jurisdiction, other than school districts which are contracting agencies or which maintain a district, joint district, or other local retirement system, in respect to service rendered in a status in which they are not eligible for membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System. The effective date of each such contract shall be not later than July 1, 1949. For the purposes of this part such school district employees shall be considered to be employees of the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the school district by which they are employed and service to the district shall be considered as service to the county superintendent of schools.

SEC. 5. Section 20609 of said code is amended to read:

20609. The normal rate of contribution for a member who is credited with service in any membership category in which his current service pension will be calculated under either Section 21252.1, 21252.10, 21252 2, 21252.3, 21252.4, or 21252.6, and who reenters state service in the same or another such category shall be based on the age upon which his normal rate of contribution for the preceding period of such credited service was based, increased by the number of years of any intervening absence from such category, and shall be such as will provide on the average a service retirement annuity at normal retirement age for the category entered or the later completion of 20 years' service equal to one-fourth of final compensation less one-half of the prior service pension and less the total percentage of final compensation which his contributions for such credited service were calculated to provide. In no event shall the normal rate of contribution provided under this section be such as will provide on the average a service retirement annuity in excess of $1\frac{1}{4}$ percent of final compensation for each year of current service.

If, upon any such reentry into state service, the member's current service pension for service thereafter will be calculated under Section 21252.5, the normal rate of contribution thereafter shall be such as will provide on the average a service retirement annuity at age 60 equal to five-eighths of 1 percent of his final compensation for each year of current service which would be applicable toward the benefit formula set forth in Section 21252 5. The amendment to this section at the 1965 General Session shall apply only to the rate of a member who reenters state service on or after October 1, 1965.

SEC. 6. Section 20804.5 of said code is amended to read:

20804.5. Any member shall receive current service credit for time which was spent by him in employment of the state or a contracting agency (a) while not a member of this system but after persons employed in his status were eligible for membership in this system, or (b) while excluded from membership because serving on a part-time basis or because of his failure to exercise his right of election of membership under either Section 20360 or 20361 of this code, or (c) while excluded from membership in an employment in which persons since have become eligible for membership and which is not creditable to him under other provisions of this part, if, at any time prior to retirement, he elects to pay, and pays, into the retirement fund, by lump sum payment or by installments over a period not to exceed 60 months subject to minimum payments fixed by the board, normal contributions for such time computed by applying the rate of contribution applicable to him at the time he first became a member of this system after the period to be credited as service to the compensation earnable by him at that time, together with interest on such contributions or on the unpaid balance if such contributions are paid by installments, from October 1, 1953, or from the date on which he first became a member of this system after the period to be credited as service, whichever is later, until paid.

SEC. 7. Section 20894.1 of said code is amended to read:

20894.1. Any employee of a contracting agency who is or was absent on military service on the effective date of the contract and who would become or would have become a member if he were not so absent becomes or became a member on said effective date, with the same status and rights of membership as if he were not or had not been so absent on said effective date. Any such employee and any other employee of a contracting agency who was absent on military service prior to said effective date shall receive credit as prior service for time during which he was absent on military service prior to said effective date provided such employee is entitled to receive prior service credit pursuant to Section 20834 or 20834.1 of this part and he returned to employment of the contracting agency within six months of the termination of his active service with the armed forces under conditions other than dishonorable or within six months after any period of rehabilitation afforded by the United States government other than a period of rehabilitation for purely educational purposes.

SEC. 8. Section 21252.10 of said code is amended to read:

21252.10. The current service pension for law enforcement members is a pension derived from the contributions of the employer which, when added to the service retirement annuity that is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the member, shall equal the same percentage of his final compensation, regardless of his age at retirement, for each year of law enforcement service, as the contributions of the member and the employer are calculated to provide upon retirement for service at age 55, or upon completion of 20 years of service at an age higher than 55, or upon retirement with less than 20 years service at age 55, for each year of law enforcement service after January 1, 1932.

The percentage shall be reduced by one-third, as applied to that part of the member's final compensation which does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400) per month for service after the effective date of coverage of a member under the federal system; provided, however, that the retirement allowance of any member who was a law enforcement member on October 1, 1965, and who is subject to such reduced percentage, shall not be less than the actuarial equivalent of the retirement allowance he would have received under this section prior to its amendment at the 1965 Regular Session of the Legislature.

SEC. 9. Section 21252.5 of said code is amended to read:

21252.5. The combined current and prior service pensions for a local safety member who is an employee of a contracting agency which is subject to the provisions of this section, is an annual pension which when added to the service retirement annuity that is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the member shall equal the sum of the following:

(a) A temporary annuity based on age at retirement and length of service computed according to the following formula:

(1) 0.50 times the product of his age at retirement and his years of credited prior and current service not in excess of 20 years, plus

(2) 0.40 times the product of his age at retirement and his years of credited prior and current service in excess of 20 years.

(b) The percentage of final compensation set forth opposite his age at retirement in the following table multiplied by the number of years of credited current and prior service as a safety member in the employ of all contracting agencies subject to this section at the time of his retirement:

If retirement occurs at age:	The percent for each year of credited service is:
60	1.250
60¼	1.275
60½	1.300
60¾	1.325
61	1.350
61¼	1.375
61½	1.400
61¾	1.425
62	1.450
62¼	1.475
62½	1.500
62¾	1.525
63	1.550
63¼	1.575
63½	1.600
63¾	1.625
64	1.650
64¼	1.675
64½	1.700
64¾	1.725
65	1.750

If the member retires before attaining age 60, the prior and current service pension under this section shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pensions, as deferred to age 60, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

The temporary annuity under subdivision (a) of this section shall not be subject to the optional settlements under Article 4 of this chapter and shall be payable monthly until the retired member attains or would have attained age 65. Should his death occur prior to age 65, the commuted value of any remaining installments shall be paid to his designated beneficiary in the manner provided in Section 21332.5 for payment of death benefits under optional settlement one.

The agency's liability for prior service shall be in the same proportion to the total reserves required as the years of credited prior service bear to the total years of credited service. The agency's liability for current service shall consist of the remainder of the total reserves required after deducting the liability for prior service and the accumulated normal contributions of the member.

This section shall apply only to a contracting agency which elected prior to October 1, 1965, by express provision of its contract or amendment thereto to be subject hereto.

SEC. 10. Section 21330 of said code is amended to read:

21330. In lieu of the retirement allowance for his life alone, a member or retired member may elect, or revoke or change a previous election prior to the approval of the previous election, to have the actuarial equivalent of his retirement allowance as of the date of retirement applied to a lesser retirement allowance, in accordance with one of the optional settlements specified in this article. Said election or revocation or change thereof, with respect to patrol, local safety or law enforcement members, shall apply to all of the retirement allowance, if, at the effective date of retirement for service or for industrial disability, said member has no wife, children or dependent parents who would qualify for continuance of the allowance after the death of said member; or, if at retirement said member has a wife, children or dependent parents who would so qualify, then said election, or revocation, or change thereof shall apply only to the portion of the allowance which would not be continued after the member's death, regardless of dependents.

SEC. 11. Section 21330.5 of said code is amended to read:

21330.5. The lesser retirement allowance under an optional settlement elected at retirement for law enforcement members whose retirement is effective prior to October 1, 1965, and who are entitled to receive benefits under the federal system, shall be actuarially equivalent to that part of the retirement allowance which is subject to option pursuant to Section 21330 that would have been payable at retirement had no optional settlement been elected after taking into consideration the reduction in said allowance provided for in Section 21252 10. Upon the election of an optional settlement by a member who has not attained the federal retirement age the board shall estimate the federal benefit upon the basis of information then available to it. If the death of such a member should occur before he has attained the federal retirement age payments under the optional settlement elected shall be as estimated. If such a member attains the federal retirement age, the board shall then recalculate the lesser retirement allowance payable under the optional settlement upon the basis of the age of the member and the beneficiary on the effective date of retirement, actuarial tables then in use and the federal benefit.

SEC. 12. Section 21338 of said code is amended to read:

21338. A member retiring for service who is credited with state service, the compensation for which was subject to contribution pursuant to Section 218 of the Social Security Act, and who is fully insured under old age, survivors, and disability insurance may elect to have the actuarial equivalent of his unmodified service retirement allowance paid in two parts:

(a) A temporary annuity which shall not exceed the primary social security benefit which it is anticipated the member will be entitled to receive at age 62 or 65, whichever shall be designated by the member, plus

(b) A life income consisting of his service retirement annuity plus such pension as may be provided by the actuarial value of his current and prior service pensions remaining after providing the temporary annuity in (a).

The temporary annuity under (a) shall not be subject to further optional settlement under this article and shall be payable monthly until the retired member attains or would attain the age designated by the member under subdivision (a). Should his death occur prior to such age, the commuted value of any remaining installments shall be paid to his designated beneficiary in the manner provided in Section 21332.5 for payment of death benefits under optional settlement one.

This section shall not apply to an allowance based on service with respect to which a member is subject to Section 21252.5.

SEC. 13. Section 20205 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

20205.1. Except as investment is otherwise authorized by law, investments of the retirement fund are subject to the terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions imposed by the laws of the state upon savings banks in the making of investments.

SEC. 14. Section 20205.1 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

20205.7. The board may invest the funds of the retirement fund in bonds issued pursuant to the Improvement Bond Act of 1915; provided, that an ad valorem tax on all property taxable by the public agency which authorized the issuance of such bonds, at a rate not exceeding ten cents ($0.10) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value, computed as of the date of such investment, would produce an amount equal to at least 100 percent of the principal and interest payable in any year thereafter on the issue of bonds in which such investment is made.

SEC. 15. Section 20206 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

20205. The board may itself make any investment authorized by law or sell any security, obligation, or real property in which moneys in the fund are invested, by affirmative vote of at least four members of the board and with approval of the Director of Finance, or by such an affirmative vote and with approval of the Director of Finance may from time to time adopt a list of acceptable securities for purchase, and specify either (a) the sum to be invested or (b) the cash reserve to be retained in the fund and not invested, and specify the conditions under which securities or other investments may be sold. While such a list is in effect, securities may be purchased from such list up to the amount so specified for investment by an officer or employee of the board designated by it for such purpose, and sales of securities may be consummated by such officer or employee under the conditions prescribed. Purchases of securities from the list, and sales shall be reported to the board at its next regular meeting.

SEC. 16. Section 20209 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

20205.5. The board may invest the money in the retirement fund in real property or improvements thereon or to be constructed thereon when such real property or improvements are acquired or to be made by or for sale or lease to the state or a public agency. The board may acquire such real property under the provisions of the Property Acquisition Law. Title to real property acquired by or on behalf of the board pursuant to this section or under the Property Acquisition Law shall be vested in the board. The Director of Finance on behalf of the state may hire or lease as lessee real property or improvements acquired hereunder for lease to the state. Such lease may contain an option or options to purchase said property, or a provision that title to said property shall vest in the state at the expiration of said term, and the Director of Finance is authorized to acquire such property. The board also may invest such money in any valid special obligations of the state or a public agency or an agency of either issued to finance a public building and secured solely by such building or revenues, rentals or receipts received from operation of such building. This section shall not be construed as authorization to acquire any real property or improvements thereon or to issue any obligation to finance such acquisition on behalf of the state unless such acquisition is authorized by a separate act or appropriation enacted by the Legislature.

SEC. 17. Section 20612 is added to said code, to read:

20612. The normal rate of contribution otherwise established pursuant to this article shall be reduced, for a member subject to this section, by one-third as applied to compensation, not exceeding four hundred dollars ($400) for services rendered in any month after the date of execution of the modification of the federal-state agreement including such services in the federal system, or the effective date of the contract or amendment to the contract subjecting the contracting agency and its employees to this section, whichever is later. This section shall apply to local safety members who are employees of a contracting agency which is subject to Section 21252.45 of this part. This section shall apply to law enforcement members whose services have been included in the federal system with respect to compensation for services rendered on and after October 1, 1965.

SEC. 18. Section 21252.45 is added to said code, to read:

21252.45. The percentage of final compensation, for purposes of calculating the current service pension under Section 21252.4 based on service in any period after the effective date of coverage of a member under the federal system shall be reduced by one-third as applied to that part of the member's final compensation which does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400) per month.

This section shall not apply to any contracting agency nor to the employees of any contracting agency unless and until the agency elects to be subject to the provisions of this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, or in the case of contracts made after the date this section takes effect, by express provision in such contract making the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

This section and Section 21252.4 shall supersede Section 21252.5 with respect to all service to a contracting agency electing to be subject hereto; provided, however, that members in employment of such contracting agency on the effective date of the contract amendment subjecting the agency and its employees to this Section 21252.45 may elect, in accordance with board rules, to continue subject to Section 21252.5, and the contracting agency shall be subject to Section 21252.5 rather than this section with respect to members who so elect.

SEC. 19. Section 20750.42 of said code is amended to read:

20750.42. The state's contribution to the retirement fund in respect to law enforcement members is a sum equal to 33.544 percent of the compensation paid law enforcement members.

CHAPTER 1194

An act to add Article 10 (commencing with Section 5788) to Chapter 4, Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, relating to the creation of zones for recreation and park districts.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 10 (commencing with Section 5788) is added to Chapter 4, Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

Article 10. Zones

5788. Zones may be established within a district or in connection with the annexation of territory to a district.

5788.1. Zones may be established for the purpose of providing or maintaining facilities and programs such as parks and recreation facilities which are within the powers of the district to provide or maintain, but which are in addition to facilities and programs provided or maintained for the benefit of the district as a whole. The establishment of a zone as a special assessment district will permit the additional cost of such facilities and programs to the extent that they are not of district-wide benefit to be charged to the taxpayers of the zone for whose benefit the additional facilities and programs are provided or maintained.

5788.2. Zone formation proceedings are commenced by the presentation to the governing body of a petition signed by owners representing at least 25 percent of the total assessed valuation of real property within the proposed zone as shown by the last equalized assessment roll, or by not less than 25 percent of the registered voters within the proposed zone

5788.3. The petition shall contain a statement of the reasons justifying the formation of a zone and a map showing the boundaries of the proposed zone, a general description of the facilities and programs desired, and an estimate of the costs of providing and maintaining such facilities and programs

5788.4. If the zone is proposed to be formed in connection with annexation proceedings, zone formation and annexation proceedings may proceed concurrently. If the territory is not annexed to the district, however, the zone shall not be formed.

5788.5. Upon receipt of a petition for formation of a zone, the governing body of the district shall fix a time and place for hearing the matter of formation of a zone, and shall publish a notice of the hearing pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code. The governing body shall also cause notice of the hearing to be mailed at least 15 days prior to the date specified therein for the hearing to all of the owners of land within the proposed zone as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the county.

5788.6. The notice shall be headed "Notice of the Proposed Formation of a Zone in the _____ Recreation and Park District in _____ County". The notice shall contain a statement of the time and place fixed by the governing body for a hearing on the matter. The notice shall state that unless more than 1 percent of the total number of voters living within the territory to be included in the zone have at or prior to the hearing filed written objections to the zone, the question of formation of the zone shall not be submitted to the voters at an election, and the formation shall be effective upon the date of the adoption of the resolution.

5788.7. At the time and place fixed for the hearing of the matter of formation of a zone, or at any time to which the hearing may be continued, the governing body shall hear any person objecting to the formation of the zone or any portion thereof. If more than 50 percent of the total number of voters living within the territory to be included or the owners of more than 50 percent of the assessed value of land therein have at or prior to the hearing filed written objections to the formation, the governing body shall terminate the proceedings. If written objections are filed by 50 percent or less of such voters or owners, the governing body may proceed in accordance with the following provisions of this article.

5788.8. If the governing body determines to form the zone it shall so declare by resolution. The formation shall be effective upon the date of the adoption of the resolution unless more than 1 percent of the total number of voters living within the territory to be included have at or prior to the hearing filed written objections to the formation. If written objection to the proposed formation is made by the number of voters specified in this section, the resolution of formation shall not be effective until it is approved by a majority of the voters of the territory to be included in the proposed zone.

5788.10. The maximum tax levied by the district upon property within a zone shall not exceed a rate of ten cents ($0.10) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation in addition to the tax allowed pursuant to Section 5784.5.

5788.11. If an election is held for the formation of a zone, the proposition may be placed on the ballot as to whether or not a tax ceiling should be established for the zone, and if so, the amount of such ceiling over and above any ceiling established for the entire district. If no ceiling has been established for the entire district, the amount of the ceiling shall be over and above the general tax rate for the entire district as established from year to year. Any such ceiling shall not exceed the maximum tax which may be levied upon property within a zone. No ceiling shall be established below the general tax rate for the entire district as established from year to year. Any ceiling established for a zone shall be a fixed increment above the rate for the entire district and shall automatically change in accordance with the rate for the entire district.

5788.12. Upon the establishment of the zone, the governing board may fix and collect special zone taxes for use solely within the zone, and do all things necessary within its powers to carry out the purposes of the zone.

5788.13. The provisions in this chapter for the form, issuance, and sale of bonds, the levying and collecting of taxes for the payment thereof, and of other matters relating to bonds of the district shall govern in the case of bonds authorized for the zone, except that all taxes for payment of interest and principal on the bonds shall be levied solely upon the taxable property within the zone. The zone shall not incur a bonded indebtedness exceeding 10 percent of the assessed value of all the taxable property in the zone. Any bonded indebtedness of the entire district shall be included in computing the 10 percent limitation. For the purpose of including the bonded indebtedness of the entire district, it shall be assumed that the assessed valuation is uniform throughout the entire district.

An act to add Section 4794.2 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to bond elections in county sanitation districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4794.2 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

4794.2. Notwithstanding Section 4794, the district board may call another election to be held within six months after the election which failed, if the acquisition of the property and the doing of the work set forth in the engineer's report are recommended in writing by the health officer of the county in which the district is situated as necessary as an urgency health measure to avert an emergency threat to the public health and safety, the fact of such recommendation and a finding that such threat to the public health and safety exists is stated in the resolution calling the election, and such resolution is adopted by a four-fifths vote of the district board.

This section shall remain in effect until June 30, 1966.

This section shall be applicable only to districts located within the County of Napa.

The Legislature finds and declares that special problems of sanitation exist in the County of Napa in that the extremely rapid growth in population and the rapid opening of large tracts of land to residential development have caused serious difficulties involving the disposal of sewage. Furthermore, the Regional Water Pollution Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, has issued a cease and desist order against the continued "dry weather" discharge of untreated sewage from the facilities of one or more sanitation districts in the county and, due to the failure of certain bond elections by a small number of votes, such districts have been unable to acquire property and construct needed sanitation facilities.

These problems are not, however, common to all areas of the state in which county sanitation districts are located. It is, therefore, hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable and that the enactment of this section as a special law is necessary to effectuate the solution of problems which threaten the health of the residents of Napa County.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: The Regional Water Pollution Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, has issued a cease and desist order against the continued "dry weather" discharge of untreated sewage from the facilities of one or more sanitation districts in the County of Napa and, due to the failure of certain bond elections by a small number of votes, such districts have been unable to acquire property and construct needed sanitation facilities.

To meet this critical problem, it is imperative that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1199

An act to add Section 4786.6 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to county sanitation districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4786.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

4786.6. Notwithstanding Section 4786, if prior to the adoption of the resolution calling the election, the acquisition of the property and the doing of the work set forth in the engineer's report are recommended in writing by the health officer of the county in which the district is situated as necessary as an urgency health measure to avert an emergency threat to the public health and safety, the fact of such recommendation and a finding that such a threat to the public health and safety exists is stated in such resolution, and such resolution is adopted by a four-fifths vote of the board of directors of the district, then bonds of the district for the amount stated in such resolution may be issued and sold if 60 percent of the votes cast at the election are in favor of incurring the bonded indebtedness as proposed.

This section shall remain in effect until June 30, 1966.

This section shall be applicable only to districts located within the County of Napa.

The Legislature finds and declares that special problems of sanitation exist in the County of Napa in that the extremely rapid growth in population and the rapid opening of large tracts of land to residential development have caused serious difficulties involving the disposal of sewage. Furthermore, the Regional Water Pollution Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, has issued a cease and desist order against the continued "dry weather" discharge of untreated sewage from the facilities of one or more sanitation districts in the county and, due to the failure of certain bond elections by a small number of votes, such districts have been unable to acquire property and construct needed sanitation facilities.

These problems are not, however, common to all areas of the state in which county sanitation districts are located. It is, therefore, hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable and that the enactment of this section as a special law is necessary to effectuate the solution of problems which threaten the health of the residents of Napa County.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: The Regional Water Pollution Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, has issued a cease and desist order against the continued "dry weather" discharge of untreated sewage from the facilities of one or more sanitation districts in the County of Napa and, due to the failure of certain bond elections by a small number of votes, such districts have been unable to acquire property and construct needed sanitation facilities.

To meet this critical problem, it is imperative that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1200

An act to amend Section 4107 of the Corporations Code, relating to merger and consolidation.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4107 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

4107. The agreement shall be approved by the vote or written consent of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued and outstanding shares of each class, regardless of limitations or restrictions on the voting power thereof, of each corporation, entitled to vote at a meeting duly called upon notice of the time, place, and purpose thereof, duly given to each shareholder at least 20 days prior to the date of the meeting, except that notice of the time, place and purpose of any such meeting may be waived as provided in Section 2209. Unless the notice be waived, there shall be mailed with the notice of the meeting a statement of the general terms of the proposed agreement. Different series of the same class of shares shall not constitute different classes of shares for the purpose of voting by classes. Any holder of shares entitled to vote at the meeting may vote part of the shares to approve the agreement of merger or consolidation and refrain from voting the remaining shares in favor of the agreement, but if he fails to specify the number of shares he is voting to approve the agreement, it will be conclusively presumed that his approving vote is with respect to all shares which he is entitled to vote.

The articles of incorporation may require the vote of the holders of any greater percentage or fraction of the outstanding shares of any one or more classes for the approval of any merger or consolidation than would otherwise be required under this article, but in no case may the articles prohibit any merger or consolidation authorized by this chapter.

Where an application for approval of the plans and specifications for a dam is pending before the department on September 17, 1965, such application shall be deemed to also constitute an application for approval of the plans and specifications of the reservoir which will contain the water impounded by the dam.

6466. Upon conviction of a defendant of any crime in a municipal or justice court, if it appears to the judge that the defendant may be addicted or by reason of repeated use of narcotics may be in imminent danger of becoming addicted to narcotics, such judge shall adjourn the proceedings or suspend the imposition of the sentence and certify the defendant to the superior court.

The superior court shall then conduct proceedings to ascertain if such defendant is addicted to narcotics or is in imminent danger of becoming addicted thereto. Proceedings shall be conducted in substantial compliance with Sections 5353, 5053, 5054, and 5055 of this code.

If a petition is ordered filed, proceedings shall be conducted in substantial compliance with Sections 5353, 5053, 5054, and 5055 of this code.

If, after a hearing and examination, the judge shall find that the person charged is a narcotic addict, or by reason of repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to narcotics, he shall make an order committing such person to the custody of the Director of Corrections for confinement in the facility until such time as he is discharged pursuant to Article 5 of this chapter, except as this chapter permits earlier discharge. In any case to which Section 3052 applies, the judge may request the district attorney to investigate the facts relevant to the advisability of commitment pursuant to this section. In unusual cases, wherein the interest of justice would best be served, the judge may, with the concurrence of the district attorney and defendant, order commitment notwithstanding Section 3052. If, upon the hearing, the judge shall find that the defendant is not a narcotic addict and is not in imminent danger of becoming addicted to narcotics, he shall so certify and return the defendant to the department of the superior court which directed the filing of the petition for such further proceedings on the criminal charges as the judge of such department deems warranted.

3053 If at any time after 60 days following receipt of a person at the facility, the Director of Corrections concludes that the person, because of excessive criminality or for other relevant reason, is not a fit subject for confinement or treatment in such narcotic detention, treatment and rehabilitation facility, he shall return the person to the court in which the case originated for such further proceedings on the criminal charges as that court may deem warranted.

3054. A person committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections pursuant to this article is not required to register pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 11850) of Chapter 7, Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

In any case in which a person is so ordered to be confined, it shall be the duty of the person in charge of the institution to provide the person ordered confined with medical aid as necessary to ease any symptoms of withdrawal from the use of narcotics. Such medical aid shall not be administered by a peace officer who is not licensed as a physician and surgeon.

3103. At least one day before the time of the examination as fixed by the court order, a copy of the petition and order for examination shall be personally delivered to the person.

3104. The report of the examination by the physician shall be delivered to the court, and if the report is to the effect that the person is not addicted nor in imminent danger of addiction, it shall order the petition dismissed. If the report is to the effect that the person is addicted or in imminent danger of addiction, the court shall set a time and place of hearing and cause notice thereof to be served on the person.

3105. The court may issue subpoenas for attendance of witnesses at the hearing and the person sought to be committed shall have the right to have subpoenas issued for such purpose. At the hearing the person shall have the right to be represented by counsel, to present witnesses on his behalf, and to cross-examine witnesses. If he is unable financially to employ counsel, the court shall, if requested, appoint counsel for him.

3106. At the hearing the court shall determine whether the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or in imminent danger of addiction. If that issue is determined in the negative, the petition shall be denied. If the issue is determined in the affirmative, the court shall order the person committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections until such time as he is discharged in accordance with Article 5 of this chapter, except as provided in Section 3109.

3107. Hearing may be waived by consent of the person sought to be committed, expressed in open court.

3108. If the person so committed or any friend in his behalf is dissatisfied with the order of the court, he may demand a hearing by judge or jury in substantial compliance with the provisions of Section 5125 of this code.

3109. If at any time after 60 days following receipt at the facility of a person committed pursuant to this article, the Director of Corrections concludes that such person is not, because of excessive criminality or for other relevant reason, a fit subject for confinement or treatment in a facility of the Department of Corrections, he may order such person discharged.

3110. A person committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections pursuant to this article is not required to register pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 11850) of Chapter 7, Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

Article 4. Release in Outpatient Status

3150. (a) There is in the Youth and Adult Corrections Agency a Narcotic Addict Evaluation Authority, hereafter referred to in this article as the "authority." The authority shall be composed of four members, each of whom shall be appointed by the Governor, for a term of four years and until the appointment and qualification of his successor. Members shall be eligible for reappointment. The chairman of the authority shall be designated by the Governor from time to time. The terms of the members first appointed to the authority shall expire as follows: one on January 15, 1965, one on January 15, 1966, one on January 15, 1967, and one on January 15, 1968 Their successors shall hold office for terms of four years, each term to commence on the expiration date of the term of the predecessor. The Governor shall fill every vacancy for the balance of the unexpired term. Insofar as practicable, persons appointed to the authority shall have a broad background in law, sociology, law enforcement, medicine, or education, and shall have a deep interest in the rehabilitation of narcotic addicts.

(b) Each member of the authority shall devote such time to the duties of his office as required for performance of his duties and shall be entitled to a per diem of fifty dollars ($50) per day for attendance upon business of the authority. In addition, each member shall be allowed actual expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties, including travel expenses.

(c) The authority shall maintain its headquarters at the California Rehabilitation Center and shall be provided with necessary office space, equipment and services from funds appropriated to the California Rehabilitation Center.

(d) The authority shall meet at the center or its branches at such times as may be necessary for a full and complete study of the cases of all patients who are certified by the Director of Corrections to the authority as having recovered from addiction or imminent danger of addiction to such an extent that release in an outpatient status is warranted. Other times and places of meetings may also be fixed by the authority. The authority may meet and transact business in panels. Each authority panel shall consist of at least two members of the authority. Two members of the authority shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. No action shall be valid unless concurred in by a majority of the members present.

3151 After an initial period of observation and treatment of six months, and subject to the rules and policies established by the Director of Corrections, whenever a person committed under Article 2 or Article 3 of this chapter has recovered from his addiction or imminent danger of addiction to such an extent that, in the opinion of the Director of Corrections, release in an outpatient status is warranted, the director shall certify such fact to the authority. If the director has not so certified within the preceding 12 months, in the anniversary month of the commitment of any person committed under this chapter his case shall automatically be referred to the authority for consideration of the advisability of release in outpatient status. Upon any such certification by the director or such automatic certification, the authority may release such person in an outpatient status subject to all rules and regulations adopted by the authority, and subject to all conditions imposed by the authority, whether of general applicability or restricted to the particular person released in outpatient status, and subject to being retaken and returned to inpatient status as prescribed in such rules, regulations, or conditions. The supervision of such persons while in an outpatient status shall be administered by the Department of Corrections. Such persons are not subject to the provisions of Penal Code Section 2600.

A single member of the authority may by written or oral order suspend the release in outpatient status of such a person and cause him to be retaken, until the next meeting of the authority.

3152. The rules for persons in outpatient status shall include but not be limited to close supervision of the person after release from the facility, periodic and surprise testing for narcotic use, counseling and return to inpatient status at the California Rehabilitation Center or its branches at the discretion of the authority, if from the reports of agents of the Department of Corrections or other information including reports of law enforcement officers as to the conduct of the person, the authority concludes that it is for the best interests of the person and society that this be done.

3153. The Director of Corrections is authorized to establish one or more halfway houses in large metropolitan areas as pilot projects in order to determine the effectiveness of such control on the addict's rehabilitation, particularly upon his release from the narcotic detention and treatment facility. Rules and regulations governing the operation of such halfway houses shall be established by the Director of Corrections and shall provide for control of the earnings of persons assigned to such halfway houses during their residence there, from which shall be deducted such charges for maintenance as the Director of Corrections may prescribe.

Article 5. Discharge of Narcotic Addicts

3200. If at any time the Director of Corrections is of the opinion that a person committed pursuant to Article 3 of this chapter while in outpatient status has abstained from the use of narcotics for at least three consecutive years and has otherwise complied with the conditions of his release, he shall recommend to the Narcotic Addict Evaluation Authority that such person be discharged from the program. If the authority concurs in the opinion of the director, it shall discharge such person from the program.

If at any time the director is of the opinion that a person committed pursuant to Article 2 of this chapter while in outpatient status has abstained from the use of narcotics for at least three consecutive years and has otherwise complied with the conditions of his release, he shall so advise the Narcotic Addict Evaluation Authority, and if the authority concurs in the opinion of the director it may file with the superior court of the county in which the person was committed a certificate alleging such facts and recommending to the court the discharge of the person from the program. The authority shall serve a copy of such certificate upon the district attorney of the county. Upon the filing of such certificate, the court shall discharge the person from the program and may dismiss the criminal charges of which such person was convicted. Where such person was certified to the superior court from a municipal or justice court, the person shall be returned to such court, which may dismiss the original charges. In any case where the criminal charges are not dismissed and the person is sentenced thereon, time served while under commitment pursuant to Article 2 of this chapter shall be credited on such sentence. Such dismissal shall have the same force and effect as a dismissal under Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code, except the conviction is a prior conviction for purposes of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

3201. If a person committed pursuant to this chapter has not been discharged from the program prior to expiration of seven years, the Director of Corrections shall, on the expiration of such period, return him to the court from which he was committed, which court shall discharge him from the program and order him returned to the court in which criminal proceedings were adjourned, or the imposition of sentence suspended, prior to his commitment or certification to the superior court; or, if he was committed pursuant to Article 3, shall discharge him. If however, it appears to the director that such person gives promise that, if his time on the program were extended, he could complete three consecutive years of abstinence from narcotics, the director shall return him to the court from which he was committed, with the recommendation that an extension not to exceed three years be ordered. The court may order such extension. If it declines to do so, it shall, if the person was committed pursuant to Article 3, discharge him, or, if he was committed pursuant to Article 2, return the person to the court in which criminal proceedings were adjourned, or the imposition of sentence suspended, prior to his commitment or certification to the superior court.

If an extension of the commitment is ordered pursuant to the preceding provisions of this section, the person must be returned to the court and discharged from the program on or before the expiration of 10 years from the date of the original commitment.

Any other provision of this chapter notwithstanding, in any case in which a person was committed pursuant to Article 3 as a result of such person's having requested the district attorney to file a petition for his commitment, such person must be discharged no later than two years and six months after his commitment.

No person committed pursuant to Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 6399) of Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, before the effective date of the 1963 amendments thereto shall be subject to the program for any longer period than the term of his commitment under the law as it read at the time he was committed.

Nothing in this chapter shall preclude a person who has been discharged from the program from being recommitted under the program, irrespective of the periods of time of any previous commitments.

CHAPTER 2. CALIFORNIA REHABILITATION CENTER

3300. There is hereby established an institution, and branches thereof, under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections, to be known as the California Rehabilitation Center. Branches may be established in existing institutions of the Department of Corrections or of the Department of the Youth Authority, and in halfway houses, as described in Section 3153. The branches in the Department of the Youth Authority shall be established on order of the Administrator of the Youth and Adult Corrections Agency and shall be subject to the administrative direction of the Director of the Youth Authority.

3301. The principal purpose of the California Rehabilitation Center shall be the receiving, control, confinement, employment, education, treatment and rehabilitation of persons under the custody of the Department of Corrections or any agency thereof who are addicted to the use of narcotics or are in imminent danger of becoming so addicted.

3302. The Director of Corrections shall acquire, or construct, and equip, in accordance with law, suitable buildings, structures and facilities for the California Rehabilitation Center.

3303. The Director of Corrections shall make rules and regulations for the government of the California Rehabilitation Center and the management of its affairs.

3304. A superintendent shall be appointed for the California Rehabilitation Center pursuant to Section 6050 of the Penal Code, and the Director of Corrections shall appoint, subject to civil service, such other officers and employees as may be necessary.

3305. The supervision, management and control of the California Rehabilitation Center and the responsibility for the care, custody, training, discipline, employment and treatment of the persons confined therein are vested in the Director of Corrections. The provisions of Part 3 of the Penal Code apply to said institution as a prison under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections and to the persons confined therein insofar as such provisions may be applicable.

Such person shall be permitted to remain in his home or other place of domicile pending the examination, except as hereafter provided.

CHAPTER 1228

An act to add Section 6500.5 and Section 6511 to, and to amend Section 6502 of the Penal Code, and to add Sections 3100.6 and 3111 to, and to amend Section 3102 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to narcotics addiction.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6500.5 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

6500.5. Any peace officer or health officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use may take the person, for his best interest and protection, to the county hospital or other suitable medical institution designated by the board of supervisors of the county.

Upon written application of the peace officer or health officer, the physician or superintendent in charge of the designated hospital or institution may admit the person believed to be addicted to the use of narcotics or in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use. The application shall state the circumstances under which the person's condition was called to the officer's attention, shall state the date, time and place of taking the person into custody and shall state the facts upon which the officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use. The application shall be signed by the officer, and a copy of the application shall be presented to the person prior to his admittance to the hospital or institution.

Within 24 hours of admittance, a physician shall conduct an examination to determine whether the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use and may provide the person with medical aid as necessary to ease any symptoms of withdrawal from the use of narcotics.

If, after examination, the physician does not believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall immediately report his belief to the physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution, who shall discharge the person immediately.

If, after examination, the physician believes that further examination is necessary to determine whether the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of addiction to their use, he shall prepare an affidavit which states that he has examined the person and has such belief. The physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution thereupon shall have the power to detain the person for not more than an additional 48 hours for further examination.

If, after such further examination, the physician does not believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall immediately report his belief to the physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution, who shall discharge the person immediately.

If, after such examination, or further examination, the physician believes that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall prepare an affidavit which states that he has examined the person and has such belief, and which states the time and date of admission to the hospital or institution and the time and date of the examination and, if appropriate, the further examination. The physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution thereupon shall report such belief to the district attorney, who may petition the superior court for a commitment of the person to the Director of Corrections for confinement in the narcotic detention and rehabilitation facility.

Unless the petition of the district attorney, accompanied by the affidavit of the examining physician, is filed in the superior court within 72 hours after admittance to the hospital or institution, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and judicial holidays, the physician or superintendent in charge shall discharge the person immediately.

Upon the filing of a proper petition pursuant to this section accompanied by the affidavit of the examining physician, the court need not order the person sought to be committed to be examined by any other physician or physicians.

No evidence of violations of Sections 11500, 11530 and 11721 of the Health and Safety Code found during the examination authorized by this section shall be admissible in any criminal proceeding against the person.

SEC. 3. Section 6511 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

6511. In the performance of acts and duties required by this article, any peace officer, health officer, physician, superintendent of an institution or district attorney shall have the same immunity from liability as is provided for public officers in Sections 820.2 and 821.6 of the Government Code.

SEC. 4. Section 3100.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

3100.6. Any peace officer or health officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use may take the person, for his best interest and protection, to the county hospital or other suitable medical institution designated by the board of supervisors of the county.

Upon written application of the peace officer or health officer, the physician or superintendent in charge of the designated hospital or institution may admit the person believed to be addicted to the use of narcotics or in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use. The application shall state the circumstances under which the person's condition was called to the officer's attention, shall state the date, time and place of taking the person into custody and shall state the facts upon which the officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use. The application shall be signed by the officer, and a copy of the application shall be presented to the person prior to his admittance to the hospital or institution.

Within 24 hours of admittance, a physician shall conduct an examination to determine whether the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use and may provide the person with medical aid as necessary to ease any symptoms of withdrawal from the use of narcotics.

If, after examination, the physician does not believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall immediately report his belief to the physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution, who shall discharge the person immediately.

If, after examination, the physician believes that further examination is necessary to determine whether the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of addiction to their use, he shall prepare an affidavit which states that he has examined the person and has such belief. The physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution thereupon shall have the power to detain the person for not more than an additional 48 hours for further examination.

If, after such further examination, the physician does not believe that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall immediately report his belief to the physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution, who shall discharge the person immediately.

If, after such examination, or further examination, the physician believes that the person is addicted to the use of narcotics or by reason of the repeated use of narcotics is in imminent danger of becoming addicted to their use, he shall prepare an affidavit which states that he has examined the person and has such belief, and which states the time and date of admission to the hospital or institution and the time and date of the examination and, if appropriate, the further examination. The physician or superintendent in charge of the hospital or institution thereupon shall report such belief to the district attorney, who may petition the superior court for a commitment of the person to the Director of Corrections for confinement in the narcotic detention and rehabilitation facility.

Unless the petition of the district attorney, accompanied by the affidavit of the examining physician, is filed in the superior court within 72 hours after admittance to the hospital or institution, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and judicial holidays, the physician or superintendent in charge shall discharge the person immediately.

In any case in which a person is so ordered to be confined, it shall be the duty of the person in charge of the institution to provide the person ordered confined with medical aid as necessary to ease any symptoms of withdrawal from the use of narcotics. CHAPTER 1233

An act to add Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 7770) to Division 7 of the Education Code, relating to reading instruction in the public schools, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 7770) is added to Division 7 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.5. SPECIAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL READING INSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Article 1. General Provisions

7770. This act may be cited as the Miller-Unruh Basic Reading Act of 1965.

7771. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that the elementary school reading instruction program provided for by this chapter shall be directed to the prevention of reading disabilities, and the correction of reading disabilities at the earliest possible time in the educational career of the pupil. The instruction program shall be provided in grades one, two, and three in the elementary schools.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that the reading program in the public schools be of high quality, and that the program be designed to permit early development of reading skills, and the early correction of reading disabilities. The Legislature recognizes that early development of reading ability enhances the opportunity of each pupil for success in school and for success in a career upon leaving school. The Legislature further recognizes that to achieve its intent and purpose it will be necessary to provide means to employ teachers trained in the teaching of reading, to provide incentives to encourage such training, and to stimulate the establishment and maintenance of school libraries. To carry out its intent and purpose, the Legislature has enacted this chapter to provide salary payments for specialist teachers in reading, scholarships to encourage the development of skills in the teaching of reading, and salary payments for the employment of professional librarians in school districts It is also the intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this chapter shall be administered to provide funds and services first to those school districts and to the schools in such districts where the need for reading instruction is greatest and the financial ability of the district to provide it is least. This program is voluntary and any school district may participate or may decline to participate. If a district participates, it shall participate fully with respect to those schools in the district in which the program is established.

7772. The State Board of Education shall have the power to adopt and promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to the effective administration of this chapter, including but not necessarily limited to those specifically required to be adopted by particular provisions of this chapter.

7773. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Specialist teacher" shall mean a person holding a certificate of specialist teacher in reading, issued by the Department of Education, and employed by a school district for the duties listed in Section 7796.

(b) "Average daily attendance" shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, mean average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year.

7774. The governing board of any school district is hereby authorized to accept the provisions of any act of Congress under which federal funds are available for purposes of this chapter, and may participate in any program provided thereunder in order to accept and expend such federal funds pursuant to such act of Congress and this chapter. Participation may include the expenditure by the school district of whatever funds may be required by the federal government as a condition to such participation.

Article 2. Nomination and Designation of Specialist Teacher in Reading

7780. The governing board of any school district maintaining grades one, two, and three in elementary schools may, in writing, nominate to the Department of Education qualified certificated employees of the district for the position of specialist teacher. The nominations shall be based upon the observed performance of the teacher in instructing elementary school pupils to read, and the written nominations to the department shall so attest.

Any certificated employee of a school district who has not been so nominated may, in writing, petition the Department of Education to be appointed a specialist teacher. Thereupon, the department shall appoint a panel of three persons, selected on the basis of criteria established by rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, who shall observe the performance of the employee in the classroom, and either nominate the employee for the position of specialist teacher or deny such nomination.

7781. Each certificated employee nominated for the position of specialist teacher shall be notified of the time and place at which a written examination will be held to determine whether such employee is qualified for appointment as a specialist teacher.

7782. The State Board of Education shall designate a written examination to be administered by the Department of Education to each person nominated for the position of specialist teacher. The examination shall be one designed to test the knowledge of the nominee concerning the various approaches and techniques which have been determined by competent authority to be most effective in imparting reading instruction to young school pupils, and concerning the appropriate selection of various techniques to meet the requirements of different pupils. Such an examination shall be administered on a statewide basis at least once in each school year. For such purposes the State Board of Education may select an examination prepared by any competent public or private person, organization, or agency.

7783. Certificated school district employees nominated pursuant to Section 7780, who are determined by the department to have passed the examination prescribed by Section 7782, shall forthwith be granted certificates entitling them to accept employment as specialist teachers in reading.

Article 3. Testing and Program Evaluation

7785. Commencing with the school years 1965–66, the State Board of Education shall require that uniform tests to determine achievement of basic reading fundamentals and skills shall be administered to all pupils who are completing the first and second grades. The State Board of Education shall adopt rules and regulations governing the time, place and methods for administration of the testing program.

Uniform tests for each grade shall be recommended by the Department of Education and shall be submitted to the State Board of Education for approval and adoption no later than January 31, 1966. Any test so adopted shall be in national use and nationwide norms shall have been developed for such test. The tests which have been approved and adopted by the board shall be printed or purchased, and distributed to the various school districts in the state by the Department of Education.

Pupils who have been determined to be mentally retarded or educationally handicapped, as defined in this code, shall be exempted from the testing requirement imposed by this chapter.

The testing program imposed by this chapter shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein set forth, and no test scores or results shall be employed to rank school districts according to their test results in any publication, other than a publication which may be made necessary in order to effectively administer this chapter.

The tests administered pursuant to this article shall be employed to determine each school district's quota of specialist reading teachers, as required by Article 3 (commencing with Section 7790) of this chapter.

7786. Commencing with the school year 1966–67, and in each year thereafter, a standardized reading achievement test, which shall be adopted by the State Board of Education and distributed to the various school districts, shall be administered separately to all third grade pupils who have participated in a remedial reading program conducted pursuant to this chapter, and to any other pupils whose reading skills, because they have moved to this state from another state, or for any other reason, have not been tested pursuant to Section 7785.

From a study of the results of these tests in districts which conduct a basic reading program pursuant to this chapter, and the test results in districts which do not conduct such a program, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall evaluate the basic reading program provided by this chapter, and he shall report his findings annually to the State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education shall report its findings regarding the implementation of, and experience under, the basic reading program provided by this chapter, together with any recommendations for any adjustments in the program, to the Legislature at each general session.

Article 4. Employment of Specialist Teachers

7790. Beginning with the fiscal year 1966–67, each school district maintaining grades one, two, and three at the elementary level shall compute a basic quota of certificated employees to be appointed specialist teachers, of one such employee for each 125 units of average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three and any additional fraction thereof; provided that:

(a) With respect to districts maintaining more than one school, each of which has an average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three of less than 50, the quota shall be one such employee for each 100 units of the average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three in those schools.

(b) With respect to all school districts in a county with an average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three of less than 50, the quota shall be one specialist teacher for each 100 units of average daily attendance in grades one, two and three in those districts.

7791. For any school district in which thirty percent (30%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores established on a statewide basis for the reading section of the most recent reading achievement test given pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 7785) of this chapter, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 7790 shall be increased by one specialist teacher for each 300 units of average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three, and fractional part thereof, maintained by the district.

For any school district in which forty percent (40%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores established on a statewide basis for the reading section of the most recent statewide achievement test given pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 12820) of Division 9, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 7790 shall be increased as ordered by the Department of Education following an investigation of the circumstances of the district.

7792. Each school district maintaining grades one, two, and three may employ specialist teachers in number not to exceed one hundred ten percent (110%) of the basic quota established for the district pursuant to Sections 7790 and 7791.

7793. Persons serving in the employ of school districts as specialist teachers under this chapter shall be considered as classroom teachers for purposes of all laws dealing with permanent status of certificated employees in the employment of school districts.

Such a specialist teacher employed by a school district may elect to serve for a period of not to exceed two consecutive school years in the employ of other school districts as a specialist teacher, in which case the district of the teacher's regular employment shall afford him a leave of absence for such period, and the teacher shall retain all personnel rights accumulated by him in the employ of such district of regular employment. Such employment with another district shall be pursuant to a written contract for a term of one school year, which contract may be renewed for an additional school year.

A person appointed to the position of specialist teacher and actually employed in such position by the governing board of a school district under this chapter shall not engage in supplementary nonschool employment during the regular academic year established in the district.

7794. A specialist teacher employed by a school district with an average daily attendance in grades one, two, and three of less than 50, shall serve under the direction of the county superintendent of schools.

7795. The governing board of a school district employing specialist teachers may employ qualified teachers who shall serve under the direction of the specialist teachers in instructing pupils in reading.

7796. Specialist teachers employed by a school district shall be relieved of all regular teaching and administrative responsibilities and shall devote their full time in performance of the following responsibilities, which shall be directed to training pupils to attain reading ability essential to success in studies to be undertaken beyond the grade three level:

(a) Supplementing the reading instruction otherwise provided in regular classes for all pupils in grade one.

(b) Providing instruction to small groups of pupils, and to individual pupils, in grades two and three who have been determined to have reading disabilities.

(c) Administering reading tests to be given pupils in grades one, two, and three under Article 3 (commencing with Section 7785) of this chapter. For such purposes, the specialist teachers shall examine the tests given and grade and analyze the results with respect to each pupil.

7797. The annual salary of a specialist teacher, employed as such by a school district for a school year, shall be increased by two hundred fifty dollars ($250) over that otherwise payable to him under his regular contract of employment with the district in which he is regularly employed.

Such sum shall be paid by the school district in a lump sum payment to the specialist reading teacher, no later than June 30 of each fiscal year, and the warrant on which the payment is made shall clearly identify the purpose for which the payment is being made with words to the effect of: "Special Stipend for State Basic Reading Program" appearing on the face of the warrant. Partial lump-sum payments for specialist reading teachers employed for a portion of the school year shall be paid no later than 30 days after the specialist teacher leaves the employ of the district.

Article 5. Allowances for Specialist Teachers in Reading

7805. Beginning with the 1966–1967 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, a school district which maintains grades

1, 2 and 3, may apply for an allowance for the employment of specialist teachers. Application shall be made in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction on forms that he shall furnish.

7805.5. Pursuant to its authority under Section 7772, the State Board of Education shall adopt, by rules and regulations, minimum standards of course content for basic reading programs authorized by this chapter, and criteria to be used by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in approving district applications for funds pursuant to Section 7805. No allowance for a special reading program shall be made to a school district unless the Superintendent of Public Instruction approves the district application and certifies that the minimum standards and criteria of the State Board of Education are met by the district.

The superintendent shall not disapprove any application on the basis of the methodology of providing basic reading instruction pursuant to this chapter which the school district has selected.

7806. Allowances under this article shall be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from funds appropriated therefor by the Legislature. The allowances shall be made as early as practicable in the fiscal year and upon order of the Superintendent of Public Instruction the State Controller shall draw his warrants upon the money appropriated, in favor of the eligible districts in the amounts ordered.

7807. Allowances under this article shall be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with a system of priorities that he shall by rule and regulation adopt, designed to carry out the intent and purpose of the Legislature stated in Section 7771. As a basis for such system of priorities, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon receipt of all applications for a fiscal year, shall determine and use (1) the relative financial ability of each applicant district as measured by the assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in the district, and (2) the relative need of the district for specialist teachers in reading as measured by the percentage of pupils in grades 1 through 8, inclusive, tested in the statewide testing program during the preceding year in the district, or in the school where the specialist teacher will be employed, that scored below the 25th percentile. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may use additional factors as a basis for a system of priorities as long as such factors are not in conflict with the intent and purpose of the Legislature.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make no allowances in any year in excess of the amount appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

7808. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each district eligible to receive an allowance under this article an amount equal to the total of salaries to be paid specialist teachers employed by the district, including the extra stipend provided pursuant to Section 7797 and the amounts computed as salary allotment for professional school librarians pursuant to Section 7825, diminished by the product of the ratio which the assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year in kindergarten and grades 1 through 8 inclusive, in the district bears to the assessed valuation per unit of such average daily attendance in the state and one-half of the total of salaries to be paid specialist teachers employed in the district. The attendance of pupils in grades 7 and 8 of a junior high school shall be used in computing the assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in grades kindergarten through 8 of a district.

Article 6. Scholarship Grants for Teachers of Reading

7815. Any regularly credentialed teacher in grades 1, 2 or 3 may, pursuant to this article apply for a scholarship grant for teachers of reading. Each scholarship grant shall be in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

7816. Scholarship grants shall be made by the State Board of Education upon recommendation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education. The scholarship grants may be used to meet expenses of the grantee attending any regular session or summer session conducted by an institution accredited for teacher training purposes by the State Board of Education and enrolling for credit in courses designed to improve the teaching of reading that have been approved by the State Board of Education.

7817. The number of scholarship grants awarded by the State Board of Education in the 1966–67 fiscal year shall not exceed the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during that year to school districts pursuant to Section 7808. In the 1967–68 fiscal year, the number of scholarship grants awarded shall not exceed one-half of the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during that year. In the 1968–69 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the number of scholarship grants awarded shall not exceed one-fourth of the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during each of such respective fiscal years.

7818. Scholarship grants awarded shall be paid from the amounts appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

Article 7. Salary Allotment for Professional School Librarians

7825. A salary allotment for professional school librarian shall be computed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction whenever he determines with respect to any school in a district that:

1. One or more specialist teachers are employed full time in such school, and

2. A librarian holding a credential authorizing service as a librarian pursuant to Section 13289 and 13290 is employed full time in the school.

The salary allotment for the professional school librarian shall be five hundred dollars ($500) multiplied by the number of specialist teachers in reading employed full time in the school.

SEC. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Education, for the 1965–1966 fiscal year, the sum of eighty-five thousand dollars ($85,000) for the purposes of Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 7771) of Division 7 of the Education Code.

CHAPTER 1234

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

With this reduction, I approve the bill.

/s/ Edmund G. Brown
EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Article 6.5 (commencing with Section 6060) of Chapter 6, Division 6 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Article 6.5. Special Programs or Classes in English for Elementary School Pupils

SEC. 2. Section 6060 of said code is amended to read:

6060. The Legislature hereby finds, recognizes, and declares that an extraordinary situation exists with reference to language handicaps of many pupils in attendance at public elementary schools. In some of the public schools, inordinately high percentages of the pupils are unable to speak the English language, wholly aside from considerations of their inability to read and write the same. Superimposed upon the responsibility of conduct of the regular program in those schools, consequently, is the necessity of providing preliminary and concurrent work in mastering the rudiments of the English language for large numbers of pupils. Providing the specially trained personnel, and the supplies and equipment necessary for those purposes is found to entail an added financial burden upon the districts maintaining those schools which cannot, without undue hardship, be met through the established state and local system for support of the public schools.

The Legislature intends, by the provisions of this article, to establish a program under the general direction of the State Board of Education, and insofar as the state's direct financial participation is concerned, under the administration of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which shall serve to afford some financial relief to the school districts.

SEC. 3. Section 6061 of said code is amended to read:

6061. The governing board of any elementary school district may, with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, pursuant to this article and the implementing rules and regulations of the State Board of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, establish and maintain special programs or classes for which state financial assistance under this article may be provided, in speaking, reading and writing the English language for foreign-born minors and native-born minors. Programs may be maintained only by the governing board of a district in an elementary school in which one in every four pupils in that school of the district is unable, at the time of enrollment for the second year in a California school, not counting kindergarten, to speak, understand, read or write the English language well enough to carry on the normal class activities of the grade in which he is enrolled.

SEC. 4. Section 6063 of said code is amended to read:

6063. (d) Maintain a registry and individual case records.

(e) Systematic followup of the mentally retarded and reactivation of cases as indicated.

(f) Assist, where necessary, in state hospital placement of the mentally retarded.

(g) Call public attention to unmet needs in community care and services, defining and interpreting standards of community care and services as used by the regional center, and stimulating the community to develop such services as needed.

(h) Maintain a staff according to standards set by the State Department of Public Health.

415.5. Upon referral by a physician, or other qualified professional person authorized by the regional center, any person suspected of mental retardation shall be eligible for initial intake and for diagnostic and counseling services in the regional centers.

The State Department of Public Health may receive and expend all funds made available to the department by the federal government, the state, its political subdivisions, and other sources, and, within the limitation of the funds made available, shall act as an agent for the transmittal of such funds for services through the regional centers. The department may use any funds received under Article 2 (commencing with Section 249) of this chapter for the purposes of this article The State Department of Public Health may contract with the Department of Rehabilitation to provide vocational diagnostic and rehabilitative services in regional centers.

416. The parents or guardian of a mentally retarded person may designate the Director of Public Health as guardian of the mentally retarded person on the death of the parents or guardian, if the state has assumed responsibility for providing care to the retarded person, through the regional center. Such guardianship shall be for the purpose of carrying out the recommendations of the regional center and to provide the retarded person with the assurance of continuity of care 416.1. This article does not authorize the care, treatment or supervision or any control over any mentally retarded person without the written consent of his parent or guardian.

416.2. The agency operating a regional center may enter into agreements with parents, guardians, persons responsible for the care of the mentally retarded, or estates of mentally retarded persons, to use such amounts as they may be able to pay toward the cost of services for such mentally retarded persons. In no event, however, shall there be any charge for diagnosis or counseling.

38000. The State of California accepts a responsibility for its mentally retarded citizens and an obligation to them which it must discharge. Affecting hundreds of thousands of children and adults directly, and having an important impact on the lives of their families, neighbors, and whole communities, mental retardation presents social, medical, economic, and legal problems of extreme importance.

The complexities of mental retardation require the services of many state departments as well as the community. Frequently there are gaps beyond the present duties and powers of departments in the development of state and community services.

Services should be planned and provided as a part of a continuum. A pattern of facilities and eligibility should be established which is so complete as to meet the needs of each retarded person, regardless of age or degree of handicap, and at each stage of his life's development.

Article 2. Establishment of Board

38050. In order to insure the continuity of services, develop a creative interdepartmental and community approach, and coordinate all efforts of federal, state, local, and voluntary agencies, there is in the Health and Welfare Agency the Mental

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965 Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1645) is added to Part 3 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. PRESCHOOL EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

1645. The Legislature finds and declares that preschool programs with a strong educational component are of great value to all children in preparing them for success in school, and constitute an essential component of public social services as defined in Section 100.5. The Legislature further finds that such programs are often not available to many children who, because of the low income of their families, are deprived of this valuable educational experience. Therefore it is the intention of the Legislature in enacting this chapter to provide equal educational opportunity to children of low income or disadvantaged families through appropriate arrangements for preschool programs of an educational value to be developed in accordance with a contractual agreement between the State Department of Social Welfare and the State Department of Education. The Legislature believes that the introduction of young children to an atmosphere of learning will improve their performance and increase their motivation and productivity when they enter school. In order to achieve this end all programs established under this chapter shall be centered upon a defined preschool educational program developed, conducted and administered with the maximum feasible participation of the families served by the program.

1646. The State Department of Social Welfare shall enter into a contract with the State Department of Education to provide for a statewide system of preschool programs of an educational value, to be established by any eligible local public or private nonprofit agency which submits an application therefor.

The Department of Social Welfare shall, in cooperation and consultation with the Department of Education, determine the areas of the state in which the approval and establishment of such preschool educational programs is most likely to fulfill the intent of this chapter.

Any application to operate and maintain a preschool educational program pursuant to this chapter may include a provision for the use of facilities owned and maintained by an eligible local nonprofit private agency, when such facilities may be necessary for the provision of a preschool educational program in the area to be served. Children between the ages of three and five years, or until enrolled in the public schools, shall be eligible to participate in these preschool programs, provided that such instruction is deemed to be in the best interests of the child. Special priority shall be given to children from families of low income. Special priority shall also be given to children from families in which English is not the language primarily used in the home in order that they may develop that degree of English facility necessary to profit from school instruction.

All local preschool educational programs operated pursuant to any contract herein authorized shall be available to any child otherwise eligible pursuant to the procedures established by this chapter and by the contract regardless of race, religion or ethnic background; and no such local preschool program shall be used, in whole or in part, for religious worship or instruction. No funds herein provided may be used for the general support of any private or sectarian school system.

1646.1. The contract entered into pursuant to Section 1646 shall provide for a fee to be paid by the parent or other person having charge or custody of any child, or to be reimbursed from state and federal funds, on account of the child. The Department of Education shall, pursuant to the contract, establish a system of fees which may be charged to parents who have the financial ability to pay all, or part of, the cost of the child's preschool educational program.

The Department of Social Welfare shall, pursuant to the contract, pay to the Department of Education a per capita reimbursement for each child certified as eligible for this program and participating in a preschool program established under this chapter. The per capita reimbursement shall not exceed the costs incurred in providing the service, less any parental fees, divided by the total number of children participating in the program.

As used in this section, "costs" include administrative costs which may be incurred by the Department of Education, the Department of Social Welfare, and other local public agencies, necessary for the development and implementation of the public social service herein described and for the designation of those children eligible for participation.

Maximum standards for such costs, per child, shall be established by the Department of Social Welfare, in consultation and cooperation with the Department of Education and with the advice of the advisory committee established pursuant to Section 1647.2 of this code, and such maximum cost standards shall be applied beginning with the 1966–67 fiscal year and each year thereafter.

1647. The State Department of Social Welfare shall receive and administer state and federal funds for this program. Priority in the establishment of programs shall be given to eligible public and nonprofit private agencies in communities with the greatest relative need for such programs.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, the Department of Social Welfare shall not provide any per capita reimbursements pursuant to Section 1646.1 on account of any local preschool educational program established pursuant to this chapter which does not meet the minimum educational standards established by the State Board of Education and set forth in the contract entered into with the Department of Education.

The State Department of Social Welfare shall have only such functions, duties and responsibilities with respect to the educational program carried on in preschool centers as is required by law and federal regulations.

1647.1. The Department of Social Welfare and the Department of Education shall cooperate fully with the State Board of Health to assure health services for all children enrolled in a program under this chapter.

1647.2. The Governor shall appoint an advisory committee composed of one representative from the State Board of Health, one representative from the State Board of Education, one representative from the State Board of Social Welfare, the directors of the Department of Education, Department of Social Welfare, and Department of Public Health, and three persons representing professional or civic groups or public or nonprofit private agencies, organizations or groups concerned with preschool educational programs, which shall provide for a continuing evaluation of the effectiveness of such programs and shall report thereon at each general session of the Legislature.

1648. The State Board of Education shall prescribe minimum educational standards which all local programs formed under this chapter shall meet, and it shall be the responsibility of the Department of Education to see that such standards are complied with in all programs established. Such minimum educational standards shall be set forth in the contract entered into pursuant to Section 1646 of this code.

(a) The minimum program of preschool education shall be two hours per day, five days per week, exclusive of time allowed for nap and meals. The rate of qualified adult supervisors to children shall not be less than 1 to 15.

(b) The board shall adopt application forms for the use of eligible public and nonprofit private agencies that desire to establish preschool educational programs. Such completed application forms shall be approved by the Department of Education before any center may receive state financial support.

(c) The board shall provide for the issuance of permits to qualified persons which shall be a prerequisite to their employment in such programs. Such permits shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of Sections 16625 to 16629, inclusive of the Education Code. The employees of school districts or county superintendents of schools in preschool educational programs shall have the same rights and privileges as are granted to employees of the same agencies in children's centers.

(d) The board shall prescribe such fiscal controls and fund accounting procedures as may be necessary to assure proper accounting for funds received and disbursed in the operation of preschool educational programs by school districts and county superintendents.

1649. The Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Director of Social Welfare shall jointly report to the Legislature on the results of the preschool education programs at the 1967 General Session and each general session thereafter, and shall make recommendations for adjustments in the program.

SEC. 2. Section 16641 is added to the Education Code, to read:

16641. The State Board of Education shall prescribe minimum educational standards for all preschool educational programs formed under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1645) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and it shall be the responsibility of the Department of Education to see that such standards are complied with in all programs established

SEC. 3 Section 16641 5 is added to said code, to read:

16641.5. The State Board of Education shall adopt application forms for the use of eligible public and nonprofit private agencies that desire to establish preschool educational programs pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1645) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. Completed application forms shall be approved by the Department of Education before any center may receive state financial support.

SEC. 4. Section 16642 is added to said code, to read

16642. The Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Director of Social Welfare shall jointly report to the Legislature on the results of the preschool education program formed under the provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1645) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, at the 1967 General Session and each general session thereafter, and shall make recommendations for adjustments in the program.

SEC. 5 Section 16643 is added to said code, to read:

16643. The governing board of any school district, or the county superintendent of schools with the approval of the county board of education, may establish and maintain preschool educational programs for all children residing within the district or a county superintendent of schools between the ages of three and five, or until enrolled in the public schools if less than five years of age. If a preschool educational program authorized by Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1645) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code has been established in the district, a preschool educational program established under this section may be operated in conjunction with that program, provided that the minimum educational standards prescribed pursuant to Section 16641 are met.

The governing board of a school district operating and maintaining a preschool educational program pursuant to this section may include in its budget any amount which it deems necessary for the operation of the program.

SEC. 6 Section 16644 is added to said code, to read:

16644. The governing board of a school district or a county superintendent of schools operating and maintaining a preschool educational program may permit the use of and furnish maintenance for buildings, grounds and equipment, and the use of existing administrative personnel, for the purposes of the program. No other funds derived from district taxes or derived from the moneys apportioned to the district by the state for the support of the schools thereof, other than moneys especially appropriated for the support of preschool educational programs may be expended for or in connection with a preschool educational program, except that this restriction shall not apply to transportation of preschool pupils as allowed in Section 16801, as that section is proposed to be amended by Assembly Bill 1101 of the 1965 General Session of the Legislature.

The governing board operating a preschool educational program shall include in its budget the amounts deemed necessary for the operation of the program. Any funds received for the operation of a preschool educational program after the date the budget of the agency was adopted may be expended without readvertising or holding a hearing on the agency's budget.

An act to add Chapter 15 (commencing with Section 7475) to Division 6 of the Education Code, relating to the public school system, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 15 (commencing with Section 7475) is added to Division 6 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 15. YEAR-AROUND HIGH SCHOOL OPERATION

Article 1. General Provisions

7475. This act shall be known as the Year-around High School Experiment Act of 1965.

7476. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature in enacting this chapter of the code to authorize the establishment of a two-year experimental program in the year-around operation of a high school maintained by a selected unified school district. This two-year experimental program, though limited in scope, has an essential statewide general purpose in that it shall serve to provide the Legislature and the various state and local governmental agencies involved in administration of the public school system with information and experience concerning the problems involved in providing for year-around operation of public schools throughout the state, and the feasibility thereof. It will also provide valuable information concerning the public response which may be accorded such programs, and the efficacy thereof in accelerating the completion of the secondary course of instruction by the pupils.

The Legislature is especially concerned and aware of the mounting costs of acquisition and construction of school sites and facilities, and is, therefore, desirous of determining whether those fiscal burdens may be reduced by increased utilization of existing plants and facilities.

Article 2. Establishment and Maintenance of the Experimental Program

7480. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may authorize a two-year experiment in the year-around operation of grades 9 through 12, inclusive, of one public high school. The experiment shall commence on September 1, 1965, and terminate on August 31, 1967. The school designated shall be one with a current average daily attendance of no less than 800 in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, to be maintained throughout the period of the experiment.

7481. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, in cooperation with the governing board of the authorized district, shall schedule four quarters to which the operation of the designated high school shall be keyed during each of the two years during which the experiment in year-around operation is conducted. The quarters shall be scheduled in a manner which will permit regular day schools to be maintained during three quarters covering, generally, the autumn, winter, and spring months, for no fewer than 175 days. Such quarters shall be known as regular quarters, and the laws governing compulsory attendance of pupils shall be applicable thereto.

In addition, there shall be scheduled a fourth quarter to extend, generally, through the summer months, to be known as the summer quarter, during which regular schools and classes shall be maintained. Attendance upon the summer quarter shall be voluntary on the part of the pupils; and employment in the summer quarter, of persons in positions requiring certification qualifications and of persons in the classified service of the district, shall be voluntary on the part of such persons, and shall be pursuant to terms and conditions agreed upon between the school district governing board and such persons.

7482. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may prescribe all modifications of curriculum requirements which may be necessary to adapt courses of study to the quarter system in the designated high school.

Article 3. Finance

7485. The authorized school district shall be eligible for additional support from the State School Fund on account of the average daily attendance in regular schools and classes in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, in the summer quarter in each of the two years of the experimental program. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prescribe an appropriate procedure under which allowances are to be computed and apportionments are to be made to the district for any one or more of the purposes specified in Sections 17303 and 17303.5 of this code for the average daily attendance in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, in the regular day schools in the summer quarter. The computation of the allowances shall, in connection with such purpose, be based upon a rate upon which such allowance was computed for the purpose for the autumn, winter and spring quarters.

Article 4. Objectives and Results

7490. On or before September 1, 1965, there shall be submitted to the State Department of Education and to the Senate and Assembly interim investigating committees charged with the responsibility of studying the subject of the public school system, a comprehensive report and plan prepared under the direction of the governing board of the authorized school district outlining in detail the objectives and the expected results to be realized from the experimental program to be established under this chapter. The report and plan shall cover the matters following:

(a) Objectives in scholastic achievement.

(b) Objectives in vocational preparation.

(c) Objectives in connection with plant utilization and budgetary economies to be realized.

(d) The complete curriculum to be provided and the variations in length of courses of study and related changes to be made in adjusting to the quarter system.

(e) Any and all other matters deemed to be of special importance either in connection with conducting the experimental program in the authorized school district, or in connection with future statewide conduct of such programs, or both.

7491. The authorized school district, with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall conduct a testing program in grades 9 through 12 in the authorized school district, which testing program shall be especially comprehensive and directed particularly to ascertaining whether variations in achievement levels are produced as between pupils of the district attending the summer quarter and those who do not. The comprehensive testing program shall be such as will permit an accurate assessment to be made of the following factors:

(a) The scholastic effectiveness of the experiment generally.

(b) The practicability of, and the effects resulting from, variations in course of study length adopted for purposes of the experiment.

(c) The policies of the district with respect to evaluation of the achievement and scholarship of pupils and the granting of diplomas and certificates on the basis thereof.

(d) The teaching methods employed at the high school in all courses of instruction affected by the experiment.

7492. On or before the fifth legislative day of the 1968 Regular Session, the authorized school district through the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit to the Legislature a comprehensive report on all phases of the experimental program provided for by this chapter, and shall include therein his recommendations concerning whether the establishment of the year-around system of public school operations throughout the state is feasible.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the extensive preparations which will be required to place the experimental program provided for by this bill into operation in September, 1965, can be undertaken as early as possible prior thereto, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1254

An act to amend Section 264 of, and to add Section 264.2 to, the Agricultural Code, relating to bovine brucellosis.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 264 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

264. Where necessary to prevent the spread within this state of bovine brucellosis, the director may provide for the slaughter of animals. When an animal in a brucellosis control area is slaughtered under the provisions of this article, or under regulations of the director made pursuant to this article, the owner shall receive:

(a) The proceeds of the sale of the salvage of the animal.

(b) From the state, one-third of the difference between the appraised value and the proceeds of the sale of the salvage, but in no instance to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75) for any grade animal or one hundred dollars ($100) for any purebred animal. The value of the animal shall be determined by appraisement by a representative of the department or a representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, and by the owner or his agent. In case of failure to agree on the valuation, the animal shall be appraised by the chief appraiser of the department or his representative. In either event, the value determined shall be final. Within 30 days after the appraisal of the animal, it shall be slaughtered under the supervision of the director.

(c) From the United States, any sum authorized to be paid to him from any appropriation made by the United States to assist in the eradication of brucellosis

SEC. 2. Section 264.2 is added to said code, to read:

264.2. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other section of this article, whenever the director determines that bovine brucellosis cannot be eradicated or effectively controlled in a particular herd by the usual recognized methods, and if the director determines that slaughter of the remaining exposed nonreacting animals in the herd is the best and most practical method of attaining such eradication or control, the director may, after entering into a voluntary agreement with the owner to carry out the purposes and conditions of this article, proceed with branding in the same manner as provided in Section 263.2, and require the slaughter of such animals and the disinfection of the premises involved. No such procedure shall be undertaken unless and until funds are available to indemnify the owner. Such indemnity shall be the difference between the appraised value as determined by appraisement by a representative of the department, or a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, and by the owner or his agent, and the proceeds of the sale of the salvage, but shall in no instance exceed two hundred dollars ($200) for any grade animal, or three hundred dollars ($300) for any purebred animal less any sum authorized to be paid to him for indemnity purposes from any appropriation made by the United States to assist in the eradication of brucellosis in cattle in California. In case of failure to agree on the valuation, the animal shall be appraised by the chief appraiser of the department or his representative. In either event, the value determined shall be final. Indemnity provided by this section shall not be paid in any of the following cases.

(a) For any bovine animal reacting to the brucellosis test or showing active brucellosis prior to or at slaughter. In this case, the indemnity rate provided in Section 264 shall apply.

(b) For any bovine animal, unless all exposed cattle, swine, goats, sheep, and horses on the premises are slaughtered.

(c) For any bovine animal, until the premises where said animal has been kept have been cleaned and disinfected by the owner in a manner approved by an agent of the State or Federal Departments of Agriculture

(d) For any steer or grade bull.

(e) For any animal owned by the United States, State of California, or any county, city, town or township, in the state.

(f) When the owner is in violation of any provision of this article or any regulation made by the department relating thereto.

(g) For any animal which has not been slaughtered within 30 days after such animal has been appraised.

(h) For any bovine animal originating in another state or country that has not been in California for at least 90 days.

This section shall remain in effect until October 1, 1969.

CHAPTER 1255

An act to amend Sections 21365.5, 21382, and 21383 of the Government Code, relating to the State Employees' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor July 14, 1965 Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21365.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21365.5. Upon the death of a member who has attained the minimum age for voluntary service retirement applicable to him in his last employment preceding death, and who is credited with five or more years of state service and in circumstances in which the basic death benefit is payable other than solely that of membership in a county retirement system, or a retirement system maintained by the university, a monthly allowance equal to one-half of and derived from the same source as the unmodified retirement allowance which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be payable:

(a) To the surviving wife of a male member as long as she lives or until her remarriage; or

(b) To a dependent surviving husband of a female member as long as he lives or until remarriage.

(c) To the children under age 18 collectively if there is no surviving spouse or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries before all children of the deceased member attain age 18, until every child dies or attains age 18; provided, that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18.

Where a member does not have a surviving spouse nor any children under the age of 18 years at the time of death, no allowance shall be payable under this section.

No allowance shall be payable under this section if a special death benefit or a benefit under Section 21337 is payable.

The allowance provided by this section shall be paid in lieu of the basic death benefit but a person or, such person's guardian, qualifying for the allowance may elect before the first payment on account of it to receive such basic death benefit in lieu of the allowance.

Any person who is receiving the allowance under this section on October 1, 1959, shall have the right to elect, not later than ninety (90) days after the date upon which notice of such right is mailed to him by this system, to receive in lieu of further payments of the allowance, a sum equal to the excess of the basic death benefit which was otherwise payable on account of the member's death over the sum of the monthly payments made prior to such election.

If the total of the payments made hereunder is less than the basic death benefit which was otherwise payable on account of the member's death, the amount of the basic death benefit less any payments made pursuant to this section shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(a) If the person last entitled to the allowance is the remarried spouse of such member, to such spouse;

(b) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to the allowance.

The board shall compute the amount by which benefits paid pursuant to this section exceed the benefits which would otherwise be payable and shall charge any such excess against the contributions of the state so that there shall be no increase in contributions of members by reason of benefits paid pursuant to this section. As used in this section, "a surviving wife" means a wife that was married to the member for at least one year prior to his death, a "dependent surviving husband" means a dependent husband that was married to the member for at least one year prior to the member's death, and "child" includes a posthumously born child of the member.

This section shall not apply to any contracting agency nor to the employees of any contracting agency unless and until the agency elects to be subject to the provisions of this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, except that an election among the employees is not required, or, in the case of contracts made after the time this section takes effect, by express provision in such contract making the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 21382 of said code is amended to read:

21382. If the death benefit provided by Section 21361 is payable on account of a member's death which occurs under other circumstances than those described in subdivision (e) of Section 21360, or if an allowance under Section 21365.5 is payable, (a) the surviving wife or surviving dependent husband of the member, who has the care of unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the member who are under 18 years of age, or are incapacitated because of disability which began before and has continued without interruption after attainment of such age, or if there is no such spouse, then (b) the guardian of surviving unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the member who are under 18 years of age or so incapacitated, if any, or (c) the surviving wife or surviving dependent husband of the member, who does not qualify under (a) of this subdivision, if any, or if no such children under (b) or such spouse under (c), then (d) each surviving parent of the member, shall be paid regardless of the benefit provided by Section 21361, and of the beneficiary designated by the member under that section, or regardless of the allowance provided under Section 21365.5, the following applicable survivor allowance, under the conditions stated and from contributions of the state:

(1) A widow, or a widower receiving at least one-half of his support from the member at the time of the member's death, and with respect to both widow and widower, who was married to such member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death, and has the care of unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the deceased member under 18 years of age or so incapacitated, shall be paid one hundred eighty dollars ($180) if there is one such child, or two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per month if there are two or more such children. If there also are such children who are not in the care of the surviving spouse, the portion of the allowance payable under this paragraph, assuming that these children were in the care of the surviving spouse, which is in excess of ninety dollars ($90) per month, shall be divided equally among all such children and payments made to the spouse and other children, as the case may be.

(2) If there is no such surviving spouse, or if such surviving spouse dies or remarries, and if there are unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the deceased member under 18 years of age, or if there are such children not in the care of such spouse, such children shall be paid an allowance as follows:

(a) If there is only one such child, such child shall be paid ninety dollars ($90) per month;

(b) If there are two such children, such children shall be paid one hundred eighty dollars ($180) per month divided equally between them; and

(c) If there are three or more such children, such children shall be paid two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per month divided equally among them.

(3) A widow who has attained or attains the age of 62 years, or a widower who has attained or attains the age of 65 years, and was receiving at least one-half of his support from the deceased member at the time of the member's death, and, with respect to both widow and widower, who was married to such member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death, and has not remarried subsequent to the member's death, shall be paid ninety dollars ($90) per month. No allowance shall be paid under this subdivision, while the surviving spouse is receiving an allowance under subdivision (1) of this section, or while an allowance is being paid under subdivision (2)(c) of this section. The allowance paid under this subdivision shall be seventy dollars ($70) per month while an allowance is being paid under subdivision (2)(b) of this section.

(4) If there is no surviving spouse, or surviving children who qualify for a survivor allowance, or if such surviving spouse dies or remarries, or if such children reach age 18 or die or marry prior thereto, each of the member's dependent mother and father who has attained or attains the age of 62 or 65 years respectively, and who received at least one-half of his support from the member at the time of the member's death, shall be paid ninety dollars ($90) per month.

SEC. 3. Section 21383 of said code is amended to read:

21383. When the survivor is entitled to receive a monthly allowance as a special death benefit provided by Article 5 (commencing with Section 21360) of this chapter and at the same time is entitled to receive a survivor allowance, the survivor allowance payable in any month shall be reduced by the amount of such other allowance or benefit.

CHAPTER 1258

An act to amend Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to mechanics' liens.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien subsequently filed, cause to be given not later than 15 days prior to the filing of a claim of lien a written notice as prescribed by this section, to the owner or reputed owner and to the original contractor. The notice shall contain a general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, the name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials, and the name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials. If an invoice for such materials contains this information, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice. The notice may be sent at any time after any labor, services, equipment or materials are furnished, but in no event later than fifteen (15) days prior to the expiration of the time within which to file a claim of lien.

(b) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(c) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If no building permit has been issued or if the building permit does not contain the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served under this section, then service of such notice may be by certified or registered mail addressed to the job site with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(d) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor need give only one such notice to the owner and to the original contractor with respect to all materials, service, labor, or materials he furnishes for a work of improvement, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

CHAPTER 1260

An act to amend Section 170 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to disqualification of judges.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 170 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

170. No justice or judge shall sit or act as such in any action or proceeding:

1. To which he is a party; or in which he is interested other than as a holder or owner of any capital stock of a corporation, or of any bond, note or other security issued by a corporation;

2. In which he is interested as a holder or owner of any capital stock of a corporation, or of any bond, note or other security issued by a corporation;

3. When he is related to either party, or to an officer of a corporation, which is a party, or to an attorney, counsel, or agent of either party, by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree computed according to the rules of law, or when he is indebted, through money borrowed as a loan, to either party, or to an attorney, counsel or partner of either party, or when he is so indebted to an officer of a corporation or unincorporated association which is a party; provided, however, that if the parties appearing in the action and not then in default, or the petitioner in any probate proceeding, or the executor, or administrator of the estate, or the guardian of the minor or incompetent person, or the commissioner, or the referee, or the attorney for any of the above named, or the party or his attorney in all other or special proceedings, shall sign and file in the action or matter, a stipulation in writing waiving the disqualification mentioned in this subdivision or in subdivisions 2 or 4 hereof, the judge or court may proceed with the trial or hearing and the performance of all other duties connected therewith with the same legal effect as if no such disqualification existed;

4. When, in the action or proceeding, or in any previous action or proceeding involving any of the same issues, he has been attorney or counsel for any party; or when he has given advice to any party upon any matter involved in the action or proceeding; or when he has been retained or employed as attorney or counsel for any party within two years prior to the commencement of the action or proceeding;

5. When it is made to appear probable that, by reason of bias or prejudice of such justice or judge a fair and impartial trial cannot be had before him.

Whenever a judge or justice shall have knowledge of any fact or facts, which, under the provisions of this section, disqualify him to sit or act as such in any action or proceeding pending before him, it shall be his duty to declare the same in open court and cause a memorandum thereof to be entered in the minutes or docket. It shall thereupon be the duty of the clerk, or the judge if there be no clerk, to transmit forthwith a copy of such memorandum to each party, or his attorney, who shall have appeared in such action or proceeding, except such party or parties as shall be present in person or by attorney when the declaration shall be made

In justice courts when, before the trial, either party makes and files an affidavit that he believes that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial before the judge before which the action is pending, by reason of the interest, prejudice or bias of the judge, the court may order the transfer of the action, and the provisions of Section 398 of this code shall apply to such transfer.

Whenever a judge of a court of record who shall be disqualified under the provisions of this section, to sit or act as such in any action or proceeding pending before him, neglects or fails to declare his disqualification in the manner hereinbefore provided, any party to such action or proceeding who has appeared therein may present to the court and file with the clerk a written statement objecting to the hearing of such matter or the trial of any issue of fact or law in such action or proceeding before such judge, and setting forth the fact or facts constituting the ground of the disqualification of such judge.

Within five days after the presentation and filing of any such statement, the judge alleged therein to be disqualified may file with the clerk his consent in writing that the action or proceeding be tried before another judge, or may file with the clerk his written answer admitting or denying any or all of the allegations contained in such statement and setting forth any additional fact or facts material or relevant to the question of his disqualifications. The clerk shall forthwith transmit a copy of the judge's consent or answer to each party or his attorney who shall have appeared in such action or proceeding. Every such statement and every such answer shall be verified by oath in the manner prescribed by Section 446 of this code for the verification of pleadings. The statement of a party objecting to the judge on the ground of his disqualification, shall be presented at the earliest practicable opportunity, after his appearance and discovery of the facts constituting the ground of the judge's disqualification, and in any event before the commencement of the hearing of any issue of fact in the action or proceeding before such judge.

No judge of a court of record, who shall deny his disqualification, shall hear or pass upon the question of his own disqualification; but in every such case, the question of the judge's disqualification shall be heard and determined by some other judge agreed upon by the parties who shall have appeared in the action or proceeding, or, in the event of their failing to agree, by a judge assigned to act by the Chairman of the Judicial Council, and, if the parties fail to agree upon a judge to determine the question of the disqualification, within five days after the expiration of the time allowed herein for the judge to answer, it shall be the duty of the clerk then to notify the Chairman of the Judicial Council of that fact; and it shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Judicial Council forthwith, upon receipt of notice from the clerk, to assign some other judge, not disqualified, to hear and determine the question.

If such judge admits his disqualification, or files his written consent that the action or proceeding be tried before another judge, or fails to file his answer within the five days herein allowed, or if it shall be determined after hearing that he is disqualified, the action or proceeding shall be heard and determined by another judge or justice not disqualified, who shall be agreed upon by the parties, or, in the event of their failing to agree, assigned by the Chairman of the Judicial Council; provided, however, that when there are two or more judges of the same court, one of whom is disqualified, the action or proceeding may be transferred to a judge who is not disqualified.

A judge who is disqualified may, notwithstanding his disqualification, request another judge, who has been agreed upon by the parties, to sit and act in his place.

6. In an action or proceeding brought in any court by or against the Reclamation Board of the State of California, or any irrigation, reclamation, levee, swampland or drainage district, or trustee, officer or employee thereof, affecting or relating to any real property, or an easement or right-of-way, levee, embankment, canal, or any work provided for or approved by the Reclamation Board of the State of California, a judge of the superior court of the county, or a judge of the municipal court or justice court of the judicial district, in which such real property, or any part thereof, or such easement or right-of-way, levee, embankment, canal or work, or any part thereof is situated shall be disqualified to sit or act, and such action shall be heard and tried by some other judge assigned to sit therein by the Chairman of the Judicial Council, unless the parties to the action shall sign and file in the action or proceeding a stipulation in writing, waiving the disqualification in this subdivision of this section provided, in which case such judge may proceed with the trial or hearing with the same legal effect as if no such legal disqualification existed. If, however, the parties to the action shall sign and file a stipulation, agreeing upon some other judge to sit or act in place of the judge disqualified under the provisions of this subdivision, the judge agreed upon shall be called by the judge so disqualified to hear and try such action or proceeding; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the judge of the superior court of such county, or of the municipal court of such judicial district, from issuing a temporary injunction or restraining order, which shall, if granted, remain in force until vacated or modified by the judge designated as herein provided.

7. When, as a judge of a court of record, by reason of permanent or temporary physical impairment, he is unable to properly perceive the evidence or properly conduct the proceedings.

8. The projects transmitted shall be considered for inclusion in the Governor's Budget for the fiscal year starting on the succeeding July 1.

Article 4. Appropriation and Allocation

20040. The Legislature shall consider the requests for state assistance for junior college projects as contained in the Governor's Budget, and shall determine the extent to which state assistance shall be provided.

20041. In the event that state funds appropriated are insufficient to meet the total of requests for assistance for all projects contained in the Governor's Budget, as modified by the Legislature, the amount of state assistance requested in each project shall be reduced proportionately.

20042. The funds appropriated for a project shall remain available for allocation until the district is qualified to receive an allocation of funds, but not longer than 36 months after the effective date of the appropriation.

20043. Each project for which an appropriation is made shall be financed with both local and state funds. The ratio of state funds to local property tax funds for each project shall be computed under Section 20022 or 20023, whichever is applicable, except that the state's share shall not exceed the accumulated district entitlement. When a project is to be funded from allocations subject to entitlements accumulated over more than one year, the ratio of state to local funds shall be the same as the average of the ratios computed under Sections 20022 and 20023 for each year.

20044. Funds allocated for a project of a district shall be paid to the district, in accordance with a schedule of payments provided by the Department of Education, upon certification of the department to the controller when the department has determined that:

(a) All required approvals of the project have been granted.

(b) The district contribution requirements pursuant to Section 20043 have been met.

(c) The governing board of the district, in respect to district entitlement subject to Section 20022 has, subsequent to the certification of the vote on the State Construction Program Bond Act of 1964, committed expenditures through the granting of a contract or the authorization of an agreement which requires the payment of funds.

(d) The governing board of the district has, in respect to district entitlement subject to Section 20023 subsequent to the effective date of this chapter and subsequent to the approval of the project application, committed the expenditures through the granting of a contract or the authorization of an agreement which requires the payment of funds.

20045. In the event an existing junior college district is included in a newly formed junior college district, any unused funds allocated to the existing district shall be transferred to the newly formed district on the date the newly formed district is effective for all purposes. Whenever the governing board of the existing district and the governing board of the newly formed district agree, such allocated funds may be transferred prior to the date the newly formed district is effective for all purposes.

20046. Upon completion of an approved project, the applicant junior college district shall report to the Department of Education on forms provided by the department the actual expenditures made under the project. The department shall review each report to determine if the provisions of Section 20043 have been met and shall adjust the state funds allocated when necessary.

SEC. 2. The sum of sixty-three thousand dollars ($63,000) from the General Fund is hereby appropriated to the Department of Education for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2.5. The sum of twenty-four thousand six hundred forty dollars ($24,640) from the General Fund is hereby appropriated to the Department of Finance for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

One of the requirements for a junior college district to receive funds under this act is that the governing board of the district must commit itself to the expenditure of funds for the project through the granting of a contract or the authorization of an agreement which requires the payment of funds. Some district governing boards may wish to take this action after the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, 1965. It is therefore necessary that the bill become effective immediately in order to allow all projects begun during the next fiscal year to qualify under the bill.

An act to amend Section 71180.3 of the Government Code, relating to justice courts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71180.3 of the Government Code is amended to read:

71180.3. Any vacancy in the office of judge of a justice court shall, at the option of board of supervisors of the county in which the justice court is situated, be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors, or by election at a special election called by the board of supervisors which shall be conducted in the same manner as any other special election conducted by the county, but no vacancy shall be deemed to exist in any such office before the time fixed in Section 71080 for the selection of the judges of such court and the time fixed by law for their qualification. Any person so appointed or elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualifies.

A successor to such appointee shall be elected at the next general state election after the first day of January next succeeding the occurrence of the vacancy, unless the vacancy occurs in a year in which a general state election is held at which a person is elected, in the same manner as he would have been elected had the vacancy not occurred, to fill the office for the ensuing full six-year term and such person actually qualifies and takes office at the commencement of the term for which he was elected. The elected successor shall hold office for the duration of the unexpired term of the person originally creating the vacancy, unless the election at which the successor is elected is the election at which, had the vacancy not occurred, a person would have been elected to the office of judge for a full six-year term, in which case the elected successor shall hold for the full six-year term and until his successor is elected and qualifies.

If the office to which any person so appointed was not previously occupied, he shall hold office until his successor is elected at the general state election next succeeding the occurrence of the vacancy and qualifies. No successor to such appointee shall be elected at any election held within 10 months of the date of the occurrence of the vacancy.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is at present no means whereby the voters may express their choice to fill any vacancy which may arise in the office of justice court judge. There are presently such vacancies in this state and the fundamental right of the people to select their public officers will be denied to voters of the judicial districts affected unless this act goes into immediate effect.

2631. Every person, or the agent or officer thereof, constructing, operating or maintaining a labor camp shall carry out the provisions of this chapter. At every labor camp a responsible person shall be appointed to maintain the labor camp in compliance with the use, maintenance and occupancy provisions of this chapter.

Article 4. Rules and Regulations

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The provisions of this bill will facilitate the availability of adequate farm housing, and it is therefore necessary that the provisions of the bill take immediate effect.

The remaining members of the committee shall be in the majority and represent the public as consumers of hospital services. The chairman, with concurrence of the committee, may appoint subcommittees of the committee and may appoint not to exceed five consultants for particular areas of committee responsibilities.

The members of the Hospitals and Related Health Facilities and Services Planning Committee and consultants to the committee, while serving on the business of the committee, shall receive no compensation, but shall be entitled to receive actual and necessary travel and sustenance expenses while so serving.

SEC. 3. Section 431.7 of said code is amended to read:

431.7. The Hospitals and Related Health Facilities and Services Planning Committee shall, upon the request of a local, regional or state governmental agency or a local, regional, or state voluntary hospital group, aid such groups in developing regional hospital and related health facilities plans. SEC. 4. Section 431.8 is added to said code, to read:

431.8. If the Hospitals and Related Health Facilities and Services Planning Committee, after public hearing, finds that the determinations of a voluntary hospital and related health facilities planning group are subject to review by an independent panel consisting of bona fide representatives of the general public as consumers of health care services established and functioning under effective procedures which assure the availability of objective and impartial review of such determinations, then so long as such review arrangement is found to remain in effect, the determinations of the voluntary hospital and related health facilities planning group shall not be subject to review as provided in this section.

No governmental unit, or agency, or instrumentality of a governmental unit at the state, county, municipal or district level shall consider or treat as evidence any determination or recommendation of any such planning group in any proceeding affecting a proposed project or facility unless the sponsor of such proposed project or facility has had an opportunity, within not less than 30 days after written notice of such determination or recommendation, to institute an appeal hereunder, and if such an appeal is taken, until it has been concluded, at which time any such determination or recommendation may be considered only to the extent that it is affirmed, provided that this paragraph shall not apply to any proceeding unless the sponsor has taken all steps available to obtain a postponement of such governmental action during the pendency of such appeal and further provided that this section shall not apply to any sponsor that is a governmental unit or agency.

SEC. 6. Section 1 of Chapter 1754 of the Statutes of 1961 is amended to read:

Section 1. This act establishes a basis for regional planning to guide communities in developing hospitals of desirable size, location and community service purpose. Through coordinated development of hospitals and related health facilities and services, the people of California can obtain more effective service and can save hundreds of millions of dollars in capital investment during the next decade.

Regional planning for hospitals and related health facilities and services is complex and involves sensitive relationships between professional groups, institutions and government.

The purpose of this act is to encourage regional plans for hospitals and related health facilities and services where this planning is needed most urgently and where there is substantial local interest and support. The legislative intent is to provide appropriations to cover statewide planning coordination, including responsibilities for the provision of statistical data and related information on hospitals and related health facilities and services, which can be reviewed by the Legislature in 1969.

SEC. 7. Section 6 of Chapter 1754 of the Statutes of 1961 is amended to read:

Any surplus of the funds segregated for construction of the rapid transit tube, as provided herein, shall upon completion of said tube and provision for payment of all costs thereof, subject to the limitation provided in Section 30775, be available for expenditure for the additional highway crossings across San Francisco Bay. Other than the improvement of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and the improvement of the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge, the commencement of the construction of the rapid transit tube shall precede the commencement of the construction of any additional crossing of San Francisco Bay, financed in whole or in part by the tolls or revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Revenue bonds to finance the rapid transit tube shall be issued upon such terms that the construction of highway crossings across San Francisco Bay shall not be deferred pending completion of the rapid transit tube.

Varying rates of parking fees may be established for different localities or for different parking facilities. In determining rates of parking fees the trustees shall consider the rates charged in the same locality by other public agencies and by private employers for employee parking, and the rates charged to students by other universities and colleges.

Revenues received by the trustees from any of the hereinabove motor vehicle parking facilities, as well as from all parking facilities existing on the effective date of this section, shall be transmitted to the State Treasurer and shall be deposited by that officer in the State Treasury to the credit of the State College Parking Revenue Fund, which fund is hereby created. All such revenues are hereby appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, to the trustees for the acquisition, construction, operation and maintenance of motor vehicle parking facilities on real property acquired hereunder or on real property otherwise under the jurisdiction of the trustees. Moneys in the State College Parking Revenue Fund may be invested by the State Treasurer, upon approval of the trustees, in those eligible securities listed in Section 16430 of the Government Code. All interest or other earnings received pursuant to such investments shall be collected by the State Treasurer, and shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State College Parking Revenue Fund.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 1788, Statutes of 1963, is amended to read:

Section 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:

(a) A program by the state for the development of a state scenic highway system is a vital part of the all encompassing effort which the state must make to protect and enhance California's beauty, amenity, and quality of life.

(b) The development of a master plan for scenic highways by the state, together with the cooperative efforts of local governmental agencies, will not only add to the pleasure of the residents of this state, but will also play an important role in encouraging the growth of the recreation and tourist industries upon which the economy of many areas of this state depend.

(c) The tremendous population increase and growth of California will necessitate the development of existing state highways in scenic areas and the construction of new state highways through scenic areas which should be constructed or developed giving the utmost attention to scenic values.

(d) The plan for scenic highways prepared by the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Scenic Highways, pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4 of the 1962 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature, provides the basis for a master plan which will serve as a guide for the development of a state scenic highway system.

(e) In order that the program for the development of a state scenic highway system may be effectuated it is necessary that an Advisory Committee on a Master Plan for Scenic Highways should be created, minimum standards for official scenic highways be established, and the highways which are to be developed as official state scenic highways be designated by the Legislature.

(f) The designation by the Legislature of any particular highway as a part of the state scenic highway system does not mean that the highway is now necessarily a scenic highway, but only that the Legislature has determined that such highway can be developed by the state, with the cooperation of local governmental agencies as an official state scenic highway.

An act to amend Sections 1263 and 1300.1 of the Agricultural Code, relating to marketing of agricultural products.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1263 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1263. No person shall act as a commission merchant, dealer, broker, cash buyer, or agent without having obtained a license as provided in this chapter. Every person, before acting as a commission merchant, dealer, broker, cash buyer, or agent, as herein defined, shall file an application with the director for a license to transact the business of commission merchant, dealer, broker, cash buyer, or agent, and such application shall be accompanied by the license fee herein provided for each specified class of business. Separate applications shall be filed for each class of business.

The application shall in each case state the class or classes of farm products applicant proposes to handle, the full name of the person applying for such license, and if the applicant be a firm, exchange, association or corporation, the full name of each member of the firm, or the names of the officers of the exchange, association or corporation shall be given in the application. Such application shall further state the principal business address of the applicant in the State of California and elsewhere and the name or names of the person or persons authorized to receive and accept service of summons and legal notices of all kinds for the applicant. The director shall require the applicant to make a showing of character, responsibility and good faith in seeking to carry on the business stated in the application, and may make investigations, hold hearings, and make determinations respecting such matters.

Should the applicant be a corporation or partnership, it shall likewise satisfy the director of the character, responsibility, and good faith of any or all persons connected with it in a responsible or managing position, such as manager, superintendent, officer, or director of a corporation, or manager, superintendent, or member of a partnership Failure of any such person to satisfy the director of his character, responsibility, or good faith may be considered by the director as adverse to a showing of such qualifications by such corporation or partnership, and shall be good and sufficient grounds for the denial of an application for license or of the renewal thereof.

Previous conviction of a felony, previous bankruptcy, voluntary or involuntary, or previous violation of this chapter shall be considered by the director as adverse to a showing of such character, responsibility, or good faith on the part of any applicant, or on the part of any manager, superintendent, director, or officer of an applicant corporation, or on the part of any superintendent, manager, or member of an applicant partnership. The same considerations are applicable to an individual applicant who has previously been in a responsible or managing position with a corporation or partnership which has suffered revocation or suspension of license by reason of violation of this chapter or by reason of violation of Chapter 9, Division 6, of the Agricultural Code.

Any person adjudged a bankrupt, or any person against whose bondsman or bondsmen a claim or claims have been collected by the director in accordance with the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 9 (commencing at Section 1299.18) of Division 6 of this code, and who has not made full settlement with all producer-creditors, shall not be licensed by the director during the period of three (3) years from the date of such adjudication or collection.

In addition to the general requirements applicable to all classes of applications as in this section set forth, the following requirements shall apply to the class of applications noted:

(a) Commission Merchants. Each application shall include a complete schedule of commissions, together with itemized listing of all charges for all services, and such designated commissions and charges shall not be changed or varied for the license period except by written contract between the parties or by written notice to the director. If changed by a written contract, such charges shall be clearly set forth in detail in said written contract. Any services rendered for which charges are made, if not listed in the schedule on the application, shall be rendered on a strictly cost basis.

(b) Agents. Each application shall include such information as the director may consider proper or necessary, and shall include the name and address of applicant, and the name and address of the commission merchant, dealer, broker, or cash buyer represented or sought to be represented by said agent, and the written endorsement or nomination of such commission merchant, dealer, broker, or cash buyer.

The director shall thereupon issue to such applicant a license entitling the applicant to conduct the business described in the application at the place named in the application for a year from the date thereof or until the same shall have been suspended or revoked for cause; provided, however, that licenses of agents shall expire upon the date of expiration of the license of the principal for whom the agent acts The director may also issue to each agent a card or cards, which shall bear the signature of said agent, separate cards being required for each principal. Any agent shall show said card or cards upon the request of any interested person. Any agent who displays a void or expired license card is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable as provided in Section 1273 of this chapter.

Fraud or misrepresentation in making any application shall ipso facto work a revocation of any license granted thereunder. All indicia of the possession of a license shall be at all times the property of the State of California and each licensee shall be entitled to the possession thereof only for the duration of said license.

For filing the application herein described, each applicant must pay a fee as follows:

(a) Commission Merchants. Eighty dollars ($80) for each year; provided, that a person licensed as a slaughterer under the provisions of Article 13 (commencing at Section 359) of Chapter 2 of Division 3 of this code shall be entitled to be licensed as a commission merchant without payment of further fees.

(b) Dealers. Eighty dollars ($80) for each year.

(c) Brokers. Eighty dollars ($80) for each year.

(d) Cash Buyers. Eighty dollars ($80) for each year

(e) Agents. Ten dollars ($10) for each license period of the principal.

Should any commission merchant, dealer, broker, or cash buyer fail, refuse, or neglect to apply for the renewal of a preexisting license on or before the date of the expiration thereof, a penalty of ten dollars ($10) shall apply to and be added to the original fee of eighty dollars ($80), and shall be paid by the applicant before the renewal license may be issued.

Any person who has applied for and obtained a license within the classification of commission merchant, or dealer, or broker, or cash buyer, in the manner and upon payment of the fee herein set forth, may apply for and secure a license in any or all of the remaining such classifications upon payment of a further fee in the amount of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each additional classification for which application is made, and upon further complying with those parts of this chapter regulating the licensing of the other particular classification involved.

Any person who has applied for and obtained a license within the classification of a commission merchant, dealer, broker, or cash buyer, in the manner and upon the payment of the fee herein set forth may apply for and secure a license as processor, under the provisions of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 1299 18), Division 6, by filing an application accompanied by a fee in the amount of thirty-five dollars ($35) and by further complying with those parts of Chapter 9, Division 6, regulating the licensing of processors. This license shall be known as a "conjunctive processor's license"

All licenses held by any licensee under the provisions of this section shall automatically expire on the expiration date of the original license for which the license fee of eighty dollars ($80) was paid.

SEC. 2. Section 1300.1 of said code is amended to read:

1300.1. No person shall act as a processor or agent without having first obtained a license as provided in this chapter. Every person, before acting as a processor, shall file an application with the director for a license to so act, and such application shall be accompanied by an application fee of ninety dollars ($90).

Such applicant shall further satisfy the director of his or its character, responsibility and good faith in seeking to carry on the business stated in the application.

Should the applicant be a corporation or partnership, it shall likewise satisfy the director of the character, responsibility and good faith of any or all persons connected with it in a responsible or managing position, such as manager, superintendent, officer or director of a corporation, or manager, superintendent, or member of a partnership. Failure of any such person to satisfy the director of his character, responsibility, or good faith may be considered by the director as adverse to a showing of such qualifications by such corporation or partnership, and shall be good and sufficient grounds for the denial of an application for license or of the renewal thereof.

Previous conviction of a felony, previous bankruptcy, voluntary or involuntary, or previous violation of this chapter may be considered by the director as adverse to a showing of such character, responsibility, or good faith on the part of any applicant, or on the part of any manager, superintendent, director or officer of an applicant corporation, or on the part of any superintendent, manager, or member of an applicant partnership. The same considerations are applicable to an individual applicant who has previously been in a responsible or managing position with a corporation or partnership which has suffered revocation or suspension of license by reason of violation of this chapter or by reason of violation of Chapter 6, Division 6, of the Agricultural Code.

Every person before acting as an agent, shall file an application with the director for a license to so act, and such application shall be accompanied by an application fee of ten dollars ($10).

Processor: Each application shall state:

(a) The full name of the applicant;

(b) If the applicant be a firm, exchange, association or corporation the full name of each member of the firm, or the names of the officers of the exchange, association or corporation;

(c) The principal business address of the applicant in the State of California;

(d) The name or names of the person or persons authorized to receive and accept service of summons for the applicant.

Upon the filing of such application and the payment of such fee the director shall issue to such applicant a license entitling the applicant to conduct the business of processor within the State of California for a year from the date thereof, or until the same shall have been revoked in the manner and upon the grounds hereinafter specified.

Should any processor fail, refuse or neglect to apply for the renewal of a pre-existing license on or before the date of expiration thereof, a penalty of ten dollars ($10) shall apply to and be added to the original fee of ninety dollars ($90), and shall be paid by the applicant before the renewal license may be issued.

Agent: Each application shall include such information as the director may consider proper or necessary, and shall include the name and address of the applicant, the name and address of the processor represented or sought to be represented by said agent, and the written endorsement or nomination of such processor.

Upon the filing of the application and fee as herein provided, the director shall issue to the applicant a license entitling the applicant to conduct the business described in the application. The license of an agent shall expire upon the date of expiration of the license of the processor for whom the agent acts, or until revoked in the manner and upon the grounds hereinafter specified, whichever first occurs. The director may issue to each agent a separate license card for each processor represented by the agent. Any agent who displays a void or expired license card is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Any person licensed as processor under the provisions of this chapter may secure a dealer's, commission merchant's, broker's, or cash buyer's license, under the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 1261), Division 6, by filing an application for the desired license or licenses accompanied by an application fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) each for each license for which application is made and upon further complying with those parts of Chapter 6, Division 6, regulating the licensing of the particular classification or classifications involved. The license shall be known as a conjunctive dealer's, commission merchant's, broker's, or cash buyer's license, as the case may be. A processor, in order to prevent loss or economic waste, may resell or redeliver raw products purchased and received from the producer thereof to another processor for the purpose of processing and such act shall not be deemed to be an act requiring licensing under the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 1261), Division 6, provided, however, any processor acting in this manner, or the surety on his bond, as required by Section 1300 1a, shall be liable for the full value of the raw product so handled.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1300.3 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

1300.3. The Out-of-state Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other states legally joining therein in the law substantially as follows:

(a) Whenever the duly constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a sending state shall determine that confinement of a probationer or reconfinement of a parolee is necessary or desirable, said officials may direct that the confinement or reconfinement be in an appropriate institution for delinquent juveniles within the territory of the receiving state, such receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

(b) Escapees and absconders who would otherwise be returned pursuant to Article V of the compact may be confined or reconfined in the receiving state pursuant to this amendment. In any such case the information and allegations required to be made and furnished in a requisition pursuant to such article shall be made and furnished, but in place of the demand pursuant to Article V, the sending state shall request confinement or reconfinement in the receiving state. Whenever applicable, detention orders as provided in Article V may be employed pursuant to this paragraph preliminary to disposition of the escapee or absconder.

(c) The confinement or reconfinement of a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder pursuant to this amendment shall require the concurrence of the appropriate judicial or administrative authorities of the receiving state.

(d) As used in this amendment: (1) "sending state" means sending state as that term is used in Article VII of the compact or the state from which a delinquent juvenile has escaped or absconded within the meaning of Article V of the compact; (2) "receiving state" means any state, other than the sending state, in which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be found, provided that said state is a party to this amendment.

(e) Every state which adopts this amendment shall designate at least one of its institutions for delinquent juveniles as a "compact institution" and shall confine persons therein as provided in paragraph (a) hereof unless the sending and receiving state in question shall make specific contractual arrangements to the contrary. All states party to this amendment shall have access to "compact institutions" at all reasonable hours for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and for the purpose of visiting such of said state's delinquents as may be confined in the institution.

(f) Persons confined in "compact institutions" pursuant to the terms of this compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed from said "compact institution" for transfer to an appropriate institution within the sending state, for return to probation or parole, for discharge, or for any purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state.

(g) All persons who may be confined in a "compact institution" pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner. The fact of confinement or reconfinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any person so confined or reconfined of any rights which said person would have had if confined or reconfined in an appropriate institution of the sending state; nor shall any agreement to submit to confinement or reconfinement pursuant to the terms of this amendment be construed as a waiver of any rights which the delinquent would have had if he had been confined or reconfined in any appropriate institution of the sending state except that the hearing or hearings, if any, to which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be entitled (prior to confinement or reconfinement) by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate judicial or administrative officers of the receiving state. In this event, said judicial and administrative officers shall act as agents of the sending state after consultation with appropriate officers of the sending state.

(h) Any receiving state incurring costs or other expenses under this amendment shall be reimbursed in the amount of such costs or other expenses by the sending state unless the states concerned shall specifically otherwise agree. Any two or more states party to this amendment may enter into supplementary agreements determining a different allocation of costs as among themselves.

(i) This amendment shall take initial effect when entered into by any two or more states party to the compact and shall be effective as to those states which have specifically enacted this amendment. Rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the terms of this amendment may be promulgated by the appropriate officers of those states which have enacted this amendment.

1300 5. In addition to any institution in which the authorities of this state may otherwise confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile, such authorities may, pursuant to the Out-of-state Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, confine or order the con-

In an instance where it would be impractical because of the transportation distances existing to bring a sufficient number of physically handicapped minors within the meaning of Section 6801 or 6802 together in one place to form a school or special class, the county superintendent of schools, upon the annual approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, may defer compliance with the provisions of this section for the year in question.

Any elementary or unified school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools of the district and any unified or high school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, may establish and maintain programs for the physically handicapped who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802.

The county superintendent of schools required to provide for the education of physically handicapped minors residing in the county who come within the provisions of Sections 6801 or 6802 may, with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, enter into agreements with an elementary, unified, or high school district for the latter to provide for the education of such physically handicapped minors.

SEC. 2. Section 8955.2 is added to said code, to read:

8955.2. The county superintendent of schools shall, with the approval of the county board of education, certify to the county auditor and the county board of supervisors, on or before July 15th of each year, the amount of money required to be raised by a county tax for the education of physically handicapped minors who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802 and for the rental of property and the purchase of equipment by the county superintendent of schools for the schools or classes for such minors.

The tax shall be at a rate sufficient to provide amounts allocated on a per-pupil basis by the county superintendent of schools for the rental of property, purchase of equipment, and capital outlay, plus an amount computed under one of the subdivisions following, whichever may be applicable:

(a) In the case of an elementary school district or unified school district, where pupils from within the district are attending the schools and classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive, an amount determined by: (1) multiplying sixty cents ($0.60) by each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the district; (2) dividing the product so derived by the average daily attendance of pupils within the district included in the foundation program computed for the district for pupils in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive; and (3) multiplying the quotient so derived by each unit of average daily attendance of pupils attending the special schools and classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools.

(b) In the case of a high school district or unified school district, where pupils from within the district are attending the schools and classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, an amount determined by: (1) multiplying fifty cents ($0.50) by each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the district; (2) dividing the product so derived by the average daily attendance of pupils within the district included in the foundation program computed for the district for pupils in grades 9 through 12, inclusive; and (3) multiplying the quotient so derived by each unit of average daily attendance of pupils attending the special schools and classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools

The board of supervisors shall, at the time of levying other county taxes, levy a tax in each school district for whom the county superintendent of schools maintains schools or classes pursuant to Sections 8901 to 8903, inclusive, for the education of physically handicapped minors who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802 upon the taxable property in such district sufficient to produce such amounts. The amount received from this tax shall be deposited in the county school service fund.

The tax required to be levied and collected under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deemed a minimum tax, and may be exceeded upon agreement between the governing board of the school district involved and the county superintendent of schools. The tax shall be levied and collected on a current basis during the fiscal year on the basis of estimates of average daily attendance levels, assessed valuation levels, and the other factors involved. Excess amounts collected in any year may be applied to reduction of the tax in succeeding fiscal years, and the amount to be raised by the tax in any fiscal year may be increased by the amount of deficiency in the tax collected in prior fiscal years.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall adopt such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to the implementation of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 8955 3 is added to said code, to read:

8955.3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reduce the allowances to county school service funds to be made in a fiscal year under Sections 18355 and 18358 by the amounts computed under subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 8955.2 for the fiscal year.

SEC. 5. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature by this act to provide for the reimbursement to the county school service fund of each county an amount equal to the transportation costs of pupils coming within the provisions of Section 6903 who are in attendance at summer sessions at such schools or classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools.

CHAPTER 1351

An act providing for a study of a comprehensive master plan for control of water pollution in the San Francisco Bay and Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta areas, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 22, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. As used in this act, the term San Francisco Bay-delta area includes San Francisco, San Pablo, and Suisun Bays, and their watersheds, the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, and all channels lying therein.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby declares that the people of the State of California have a primary interest in the correction and prevention of irreparable damage to or unreasonable impairment of the uses of the waters of the San Francisco Bay-delta area caused by drainage and waste water discharges, and by other activities that may contribute to the contamination and pollution of such waters.

SEC. 3. To protect the quality of the San Francisco Bay-delta area waters for the present and future beneficial uses thereof, the State Water Quality Control Board, in cooperation with the San Francisco Bay, Central Coastal, North Coastal, and Central Valley Regional Water Pollution Control Boards, and the Departments of Public Health, Fish and Game, and Water Resources, is authorized and directed to make a comprehensive study of the effects of waste and drainage water discharges into the waters of the San Francisco Bay-delta area and to develop the basic features of a comprehensive plan for the control of water pollution, including a system for the collection, reclamation, treatment, and disposal of waste and drainage water discharges in and to the waters of the San Francisco Bay-delta area in the most effective and economic manner. In development of such comprehensive plan the board shall study any adjacent coastal waters which might be affected by any plans under investigation as well as those drainage areas which, although physically outside the San Francisco Bay-delta area, are found to be so near proposed facilities as to logically warrant inclusion in the comprehensive system. The board shall also study any discharges of drainage and waste waters originating outside the San Francisco Bay-delta area which may adversely affect the quality of the waters of the area and shall provide for the mitigation of such adverse effects insofar as possible.

In conducting the investigation and study, the State Water Quality Control Board shall consider, among other matters, and without limitation as to the generality thereof, the physical and economic effects of existing and proposed water development projects of federal, state and local agencies, and of authorized and prospective drainage projects of whatever nature upon the waters of the San Francisco Bay-delta area, the feasibility of reclaiming drainage waters from such projects, the future population growth and economic development in the area and in areas tributary thereto, the effects of existing and proposed projects for the filling and reclamation of waterfront lands upon the waste assimilative capacity of the waters of the San Francisco Bay-delta area, the possibilities of reclamation and reuse of waste waters and drainage water from such projects, and the feasibility of flow augmentation through managed releases from upstream reservoirs as an aid to quality maintenance.

The intention of the Legislature is that the State Water Quality Control Board shall conduct the study so as to determine the need for and the feasibility of a comprehensive multiple purpose waste collection and disposal system serving the entire San Francisco Bay-delta area, as well as other measures for maintenance of the quality of the waters of such area at proper levels for the beneficial uses to be made thereof, including, but not necessarily limited to, municipal, industrial and agricultural water supplies, fish and wildlife, recreation and navigation. It is the further intention of the Legislature that the comprehensive plan for control of water pollution shall be consistent with any master land use and development plans prepared for the San Francisco Bay-delta area by the proposed San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

SEC. 4. The State Water Quality Control Board may contract with such state, federal or local public agencies or private agencies or entities, as it deems necessary for the rendition and affording of such management and technical services, facilities, studies, and reports as will best assist it to carry out the purposes of this act.

SEC. 5. The State Water Quality Control Board, in conducting the San Francisco Bay-delta area study, is directed to call on the advice, counsel, and guidance, and participation of appropriate local, state, and federal agencies. The board shall, to the fullest practicable extent, cooperate and coordinate its work with all agencies undertaking planning and technical investigations pertinent to this study. The board is further directed to encourage agencies of local government to undertake studies of local waste disposal problems which can be integrated into the master plan. For the purpose of assisting the board in the establishment and execution of the San Francisco Bay-delta area study provided for in Section 3, there is hereby established a steering committee which is composed of the following members or their designated alternates:

(a) The Chairman of the State Water Quality Control Board, who shall serve as chairman.

The Chairman of the Senate Factfinding Committee on Water Resources and the Chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Water shall meet with the committee and participate in its activities to the extent that such participation is not incompatible with their respective positions as Members of the Legislature.

For the purposes of this act the Members of the Legislature shall be considered a joint committee of the two houses of the Legislature and constitute an investigating committee on the subject of this act; and, as such, shall have the powers and duties imposed on such a committee by the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly and, in accordance with those rules, shall be allowed, out of the Contingent Funds of the Senate and the Assembly, their expenses incurred for mileage and other purposes in the exercise or performance of such powers or duties.

32100.1. A petition for election of directors by zones may be signed and filed with the board of directors by registered voters residing within a local hospital district, equal in number to at least 15 percent of the number of votes cast in that district for the office of Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected. Upon receipt of this petition the board of directors shall, by resolution, divide the local hospital district into five zones and number the zones consecutively from 1 to 5. In establishing these zones the board of directors shall provide for representation in accordance with population and geographic factors of the entire area of the local hospital district. The board of directors shall fix the time and place for a hearing on the proposed establishment of zones At this hearing any elector of the district may present his views and plans in relation to the proposed zoning, but the board of directors shall not be bound thereby and their decision, in the resolution adopted, shall be final.

At the expiration of the terms of office of the members of the board of directors then in office, and thereafter, such members of the board of directors shall be elected by zones. If, at the expiration of said terms of office, three members of the board of directors are to be elected, those three members shall be elected from the zones designated by odd numbers; if two members are to be elected, those two members shall be elected from zones designated by even numbers.

One member of the board of directors shall be elected by the electors of each of the zones. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of member of the board of directors unless he shall have resided in the zone from which he is elected for 90 days next preceding the date of the election.

The formation of a local hospital district may provide for the election of members of the board of directors by zones as above provided for by substantially including in the petition for formation the provisions hereinabove required to be included in such measure, in which event it shall not be necessary to hold the election above provided for, and the members of the board of directors shall be elected from the zones as described in said petition, except that the first board of directors shall be appointed, upon the formation of the district, by the board of supervisors of the county in which the land or a greater part of the land in the district is situated. One member shall be appointed from each zone.

The terms of the members of the first board of directors appointed under the provisions of this section shall be determined as follows:

CHAPTER 1373

An act to amend Sections 4514, 4544, 4545 and 4548 of, to add Section 4549 to, and to repeal Section 4543 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to the psychiatric technician certification law, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4514 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4514. Prior to January 1, 1968, any person meeting the requirements of subdivision (a), (b), and (e) of Section 4511, and, as determined by the board, possessing the equivalent of the education and training requirements of that section, shall, on application, be issued a certificate.

SEC. 2. Section 4543 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 4544 of said code is amended to read:

4544. Certificates issued under this chapter before February 16, 1962, expire on February 15, 1962, if not renewed. Certificates renewed on or after February 15, 1962, and before January 1, 1964, and certificates issued after February 15, 1962, and before January 1, 1964, expire on December 31, 1963, if not renewed. Certificates renewed on or after December 31, 1963, and before January 1, 1966, and certificates issued after December 31, 1963, and before January 1, 1966, expire on December 31, 1965, if not renewed. Thereafter, all certificates expire on December 31 of each year, if not renewed.

To renew an unexpired certificate, the holder thereof shall, on or before each of the dates on which it would otherwise expire, apply for renewal on a form prescribed by the board, and pay the renewal fee prescribed by this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 4545 of said code is amended to read:

4545. Except as provided in Section 4545.2, a certificate which has expired may be renewed at any time within five years after its expiration on filing application for renewal on a form prescribed by the board, and payment of the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date. Commencing September 1, 1965, if the certificate is renewed more than 30 days after its expiration, the certificate holder, as a condition precedent to renewal, shall also pay the delinquency fee prescribed by this chapter. Renewal under this section shall be effective on the date on which the application is filed, on the date on which the renewal fee is paid, or on the date on which the delinquency fee, if any, is paid, whichever last occurs. If so renewed, the certificate shall continue in effect through the date provided in Section 4544 which next occurs after the effective date of the renewal, when it shall expire if it is not again renewed.

A certificate which was forfeited for failure to renew under the law in effect before October 1, 1961, shall, for the purposes of this article, be considered to have expired on the date that it became forfeited.

SEC. 5. Section 4548 of said code is amended to read:

4548. The amounts of the fees payable pursuant to this chapter shall be fixed by the board according to the following schedule:

(a) The application fee at no more than ten dollars ($10) nor less than five dollars ($5).

(b) The renewal fee at no more than ten dollars ($10) nor less than two dollars ($2), except that commencing with the renewal fee for 1967 at not more than fifteen dollars ($15) nor less than two dollars ($2).

(c) The delinquency fee at five dollars ($5).

SEC. 6 Section 4549 is added to said code, to read:

4549. This chapter shall become inoperative on January 1, 1968, if the revenue derived from this chapter is insufficient to pay for the expenses incurred in the operation of this chapter.

SEC. 7. Any revenues derived from increases in fees or assessments provided by this act shall not be available for expenditure until appropriated.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The psychiatric technician law was enacted to provide preservice preparation for psychiatric technicians and for their certification by law as meeting a minimum desirable preparation in assisting in patient care and treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded. It continues to be needed.

Because of fiscal considerations, the Psychiatric Technician Law was not fully activated in 1964. Because of this, numbers of psychiatric technicians did not renew their certificates. In addition to the potential increase in renewal fees in 1967, provided by the act, it is most important that prior certificate holders renew their certificates as soon as possible during 1965 It is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The board may, by appropriate regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of the initial license fee where the license is issued less than 45 days before the date on which it will expire.

An act to amend and renumber Section 8107 of, to add Section 8107 to, and to amend Sections 2326, 2401, 2503, 6107, 6111, 7209, 8102, 8202, 8301, 8302, 8303, 8304, 8313, 8401, 9102, 9312, 9402, 9406 and 10102 of, the Commercial Code, relating to commercial transactions.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2326 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

2326. (1) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is

(a) A "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

(b) A "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(2) Except as provided in subdivision (3), goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subdivision are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum." However, this subdivision is not applicable if the person making delivery

(b) Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or

(c) Complies with the filing provisions of the division on secured transactions (Division 9).

(4) Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this division (Section 2201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this division on parol or extrinsic evidence (Section 2202).

SEC. 2. Section 2401 of said code is amended to read:

2401. Each provision of this division with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this division and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

(1) Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (Section 2501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this code. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the division on secured transactions (Division 9), title to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

(2) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading

(a) If the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

(b) If the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.

(3) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,

(a) If the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or

(b) If the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

(4) A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance revests title to the goods in the seller. Such revesting occurs by operation of law and is not a "sale."

SEC. 3. Section 2503 of said code is amended to read:

2503. (1) Tender of delivery requires that the seller put and hold conforming goods at the buyer's disposition and give the buyer any notification reasonably necessary to enable him to take delivery. The manner, time and place for tender are determined by the agreement and this division, and in particular

(a) Tender must be at a reasonable hour, and if it is of goods they must be kept available for the period reasonably necessary to enable the buyer to take possession; but

(b) Unless otherwise agreed the buyer must furnish facilities reasonably suited to the receipt of the goods.

(2) Where the case is within the next section respecting shipment tender requires that the seller comply with its provisions.

(3) Where the seller is required to deliver at a particular destination tender requires that he comply with subdivision (1) and also in any appropriate case tender documents as described in subdivisions (4) and (5) of this section.

(4) Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved

(a) Tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

(b) Tender to the buyer of a nonnegotiable document of title or of a written direction to the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, and receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the nonnegotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

(5) Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents

(a) He must tender all such documents in correct form, except as provided in this division with respect to bills of lading in a set (subdivision (2) of Section 2323); and

(b) Tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying the documents constitutes nonacceptance or rejection.

SEC. 4. Section 6107 of said code is amended to read:

6107. (1) The notice to creditors (Section 6105) shall state:

(a) That a bulk transfer is about to be made; and

(b) The names and business addresses of the transferor and, except in the case of a sale at auction, the transferee, and all other business names and addresses used by the transferor within three years last past so far as known to the transferee; and

(c) The location and general description of the property to be transferred; and

(d) The place, and the date on or after which, the bulk transfer is to be consummated.

(2) The notice shall be

(a) Recorded in the office of the county recorder in the county or counties in which the property to be transferred is located at least 10 days before the bulk transfer is to be consummated or the sale by auction is to be commenced; and

(b) Published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the judicial district in which the property is located, if there is one, and if there is none, then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county embracing such judicial district, at least five days before the bulk transfer is to be consummated or the sale by auction is to be commenced.

SEC. 5. Section 6111 of said code is amended to read:

6111. No action under this division shall be brought nor levy made more than one year after the date on which the transferee took possession of the goods unless the transfer has been concealed or, in the case of a security interest which constitutes a bulk transfer under this division, after the date on which said security interest is perfected under Division 9. If the transfer has been concealed, an action may be brought or levy made within one year after its discovery by the creditor bringing such action or making such levy or after it should have been discovered by such creditor in the exercise of reasonable diligence, whichever first occurs.

SEC. 5.5. Section 7209 of said code is amended to read:

7209. (1) A warehouseman has a lien against the bailor on the goods deposited or on the proceeds thereof in his possession for charges for storage, processing incidental to storage, or transportation, including demurrage and terminal charges, insurance, labor, or charges present or future in relation to the goods, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. If the person on whose account the goods are held is liable for like charges or expenses in relation to other goods whenever deposited, the warehouseman also has a lien against him for such charges and expenses whether or not the other goods have been delivered by the warehouseman. But against a person to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt is duly negotiated a warehouseman's lien is limited to charges specified on the receipt or if no charges are so specified then to a reasonable charge for storage of the goods covered by the receipt subsequent to the date of the receipt.

(2) The warehouseman may also reserve a security interest against the bailor for charges other than those specified in subdivision (1), such as for money advanced and interest, but if a receipt is issued for the goods such a security interest is not valid as against third persons without notice unless the maximum amount thereof is conspicuously specified (Section 1201) on the receipt. Such a security interest is governed by the division on secured transactions (Division 9).

(3) (a) A warehouseman's lien for charges and expenses under subdivision (1) or a security interest under subdivision (2) is also effective against any person who so entrusted the bailor with possession of the goods that a pledge of them by him to a good faith purchaser for value would have been valid but is not effective against a person as to whom the document confers no right in the goods covered by it under Section 7503.

(b) A warehouseman's lien on household goods for charges and expenses in relation to the goods under subdivision (1) is also effective against all persons if the depositor was the legal possessor of the goods at the time of deposit. "Household goods" means furniture, furnishings and personal effects used by the depositor in a dwelling.

(4) A warehouseman loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

SEC. 6. Section 8102 of said code is amended to read:

8102. (1) In this division unless the context otherwise requires

(a) A "security" is an instrument which

(i) Is issued in bearer or registered form; and

(ii) Is of a type commonly dealt in upon securities exchanges or markets or commonly recognized in any area in which it is issued or dealt in as a medium for investment; and

(iii) Is either one of a class or series or by its terms is divisible into a class or series of instruments; and

(iv) Evidences a share, participation or other interest in property or in an enterprise or evidences an obligation of the issuer.

(b) A writing which is a security is governed by this division and not by Uniform Commercial Code—Commercial Paper even though it also meets the requirements of that division This division does not apply to money.

(c) A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to the security or to the rights it evidences and when its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of an issuer or the security so states.

(d) A security is in "bearer form" when it runs to bearer according to its terms and not by reason of any indorsement.

(2) A "subsequent purchaser" is a person who takes other than by original issue.

(3) A "clearing corporation" is a corporation all of the capital stock of which is held by or for a national securities exchange or association registered under a statute of the United States such as the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

(4) A "custodian bank" is any bank or trust company which is supervised and examined by state or federal authority having supervision over banks and which is acting as custodian for a clearing corporation.

(5) Other definitions applying to this division or to specified chapters thereof and the sections in which they appear are:

"Adverse claim." Section 8301.

"Bona fide purchaser." Section 8302.

"Broker." Section 8303.

"Guarantee of the signature." Section 8402.

"Intermediary bank." Section 4105.

"Issuer." Section 8201.

"Overissue." Section 8104.

(6) In addition Division 1 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this division.

SEC. 7. Section 8107 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

8108. Nothing in this division shall be construed to modify any of the provisions of the Corporate Securities Law the Insurance Code, the Financial Code, or the Public Utilities Code.

SEC. 8. Section 8107 is added to said code, to read:

8107. (1) Unless otherwise agreed, a person obligated to deliver securities may deliver a like number of units of any securities which by nature or usage of trade are the equivalent of the securities he is obligated to deliver.

(2) Where, pursuant to a contract to sell or a sale, a security has been delivered or tendered to the purchaser, and the purchaser wrongfully fails to pay for the security according to the terms of the contract or the sale, the seller may as an alternative to any other remedy recover the agreed price of the security. This subsection does not affect the remedy of a seller if the security has not been delivered or tendered.

SEC. 9. Section 8202 of said code is amended to read:

8202. (1) Even against a purchaser for value and without notice, the terms of a security include those stated on the security and those made part of the security by reference to another instrument, indenture or document or to a constitution, statute, ordinance, rule, regulation, order or the like to the extent that the terms so referred to do not conflict with the stated terms Such a reference does not of itself charge a purchaser for value with notice of a defect going to the validity of the security even though the security expressly states that a person accepting it admits such notice.

(2) (a) A security other than one issued by a government or governmental agency or unit even though issued with a defect going to its validity is valid in the hands of a purchaser for value and without notice of the particular defect unless the defect involves a violation of constitutional provisions in which case the security is valid in the hands of a subsequent purchaser for value and without notice of the defect;

(b) The rule of paragraph (a) applies to an issuer which is a government or governmental agency or unit only if either there has been substantial compliance with the legal requirements governing the issue or the issuer has received a substantial consideration for the issue as a whole or for the particular security and a stated purpose of the issue is one for which the issuer has power to borrow money or issue the security.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in the case of certain unauthorized signatures on issue (Section 8205), lack of genuineness of a security is a complete defense even against a purchaser for value and without notice.

(4) All other defenses of the issuer including nondelivery and conditional delivery of the security are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken without notice of the particular defense.

SEC. 10. Section 8301 of said code is amended to read:

8301. (1) Upon delivery of a security the purchaser acquires the rights in the security which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey except that a purchaser who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the security or who as a prior holder had notice of an adverse claim cannot improve his position by taking from a later bona fide purchaser. "Adverse claim" includes a claim that a transfer was or would be wrongful or that a particular adverse person is the owner of or has an interest in the security.

(2) A bona fide purchaser in addition to acquiring the rights of a purchaser also acquires the security free of any adverse claim.

(3) A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased.

SEC. 11. Section 8302 of said code is amended to read:

8302. A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of any adverse claim who takes delivery of a security in bearer form or of one in registered form issued to him or indorsed to him or in blank.

SEC. 12. Section 8303 of said code is amended to read:

8303. "Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities, who in the transaction concerned acts for, or buys a security from or sells a security to a customer. Nothing in this division determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which such person is subject.

SEC. 13. Section 8304 of said code is amended to read:

8304. (1) A purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer but excluding an intermediary bank) of a security is charged with notice of adverse claims if

(a) The security whether in bearer or registered form has been indorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some other purpose not involving transfer; or

(b) The security is in bearer form and has on it an unambiguous statement that it is the property of a person other than the transferor. The mere writing of a name on a security is not such a statement.

(2) The fact that the purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer) has notice that the security is held for a third person or is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute notice of adverse claims. If, however, the purchaser (excluding an intermediary bank) has knowledge that the proceeds are being used or that the transaction is wrongfully for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or otherwise in breach of duty, the purchaser is charged with notice of adverse claims.

SEC. 14. Section 8313 of said code is amended to read:

8313. (1) Delivery to a purchaser occurs when

(a) He or a person designated by him acquires possession of a security; or

(b) His broker acquires possession of a security specially indorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser; or

(c) His broker sends him confirmation of the purchase and also by book entry or otherwise identifies a specific security in the broker's possession as belonging to the purchaser; or

(d) With respect to an identified security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person when that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser; or

(e) Appropriate entries on the books of a clearing corporation are made under Section 8320.

(2) The purchaser is the owner of a security held for him by his broker, but is not the holder except as specified in paragraphs (b), (c) and (e) of subdivision (1) of this section. Where a security is part of a fungible bulk, the purchaser is the owner of a proportionate property interest in the fungible bulk.

(3) Notice of an adverse claim to the broker or to the purchaser after the broker takes delivery as a holder without notice of any adverse claim is not notice of the adverse claim to either the broker or the purchaser.

SEC. 15. Section 8401 of said code is amended to read:

8401. (1) Where a security in registered form is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer, the issuer is under a duty to register the transfer as requested if

(a) The security is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons (Section 8308); and

(b) Reasonable assurance is given that those indorsements are genuine and effective (Section 8402); and

(c) The issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (Section 8403); and

(d) Any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes has been complied with.

(2) Where an issuer is under a duty to register a transfer of a security the issuer is liable to the person presenting it for registration or his principal for loss resulting from any unreasonable delay in registration or from failure or refusal to register the transfer, but in any such case the plaintiff must allege and prove that the transfer requested was in fact rightful or that he was a bona fide purchaser.

SEC. 16. Section 9102 of said code is amended to read:

9102. (1) Except as otherwise provided in Section 9103 on multiple state transactions and in Section 9104 on excluded transactions, this division applies so far as concerns any personal property and fixtures within the jurisdiction of this state

(a) To any transaction (regardless of its form) which is intended to create a security interest in personal property including goods, documents, instruments, general intangibles, chattel paper, accounts or contract rights; and also

(b) To any sale of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper; and also

(c) To any transaction (regardless of its form) which is intended to create a security interest in goods which are or later become "fixtures" under the law of this state, but as against third parties having or acquiring an interest in or a lien on the real property, the rights and duties of the parties to the secured transaction are governed by the law of this state relating to real property and fixtures.

(2) This division applies to security interests created by contract including pledge, assignment, chattel mortgage, chattel trust, trust deed, inventory lien, equipment trust, conditional sale, trust receipt, other lien or title retention contract and lease or consignment intended as security. This division does not apply to statutory liens except as provided in Section 9310.

(3) The application of this division to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this division does not apply.

(4) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this division, no nonpossessory security interest, other than a purchase money security interest, may be given or taken in or to the inventory of a retail merchant held for sale, except in or to inventory consisting of durable goods having a unit retail value of at least five hundred dollars ($500) or motor vehicles, house trailers, trailers, semitrailers, farm and construction machinery and repair parts thereof, or aircraft.

SEC. 17. Section 9312 of said code is amended to read:

9312. (1) The rules of priority stated in the following sections shall govern where applicable: Section 4208 with respect to the security interest of collecting banks in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds; Section 9301 on certain priorities; Section 9304 on goods covered by documents; Section 9306 on proceeds and repossessions; Section 9307 on buyers of goods; Section 9308 on possessory against nonpossessory interests in chattel paper or nonnegotiable instruments; Section 9309 on security interests in negotiable instruments, documents or securities; Section 9310 on priorities between perfected security interests and liens by operation of law; Section 9314 on security interests in accessions as against interest in goods; Section 9315 on conflicting security interests where goods lose their identity or become part of a product; and Section 9316 on contractual subordination.

(3) A purchase money security interest in inventory collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if

(a) The purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral; and

(b) Any secured party whose security interest is known to the holder of the purchase money security interest or who, prior to the date of the filing made by the holder of the purchase money security interest, had filed a financing statement covering the same items or type of inventory, has received notification of the purchase money security interest before the debtor receives possession of the collateral covered by the purchase money security interest; and

(c) Such notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by item or type.

(4) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 10 days thereafter.

(5) In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in subdivisions (3) and (4) of this section), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined as follows:

(a) In the order of filing if both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under Section 9204(1) and whether it attached before or after filing;

(b) In the order of perfection unless both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under Section 9204(1) and, in the case of a filed security interest, whether it attached before or after filing; and

(c) In the order of attachment under Section 9204(1) so long as neither is perfected.

(6) For the purpose of the priority rules of the immediately preceding subdivision, a continuously perfected security interest shall be treated at all times as if perfected by filing if it was originally so perfected and it shall be treated at all times as if perfected otherwise than by filing if it was originally perfected otherwise than by filing.

SEC. 18. Section 9402 of said code is amended to read:

9402. (1) A financing statement is sufficient if it is signed by the debtor and by the secured party, gives the name and mailing address of the secured party, the name and mailing address of the debtor and contains a statement indicating the types of collateral or describing the items of collateral. The financing statement shall also set forth: if the debtor is an individual, the address of his residence and the address of his chief place of business, if any; if the debtor is an organization, the address of its chief place of business; if the debtor is doing business under a trade name or style, such trade name or style. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or before a security interest otherwise attaches. When the financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut, the statement must also contain a description of the real property concerned. A copy of the security agreement is sufficient as a financing statement if it contains the above information and is signed by both parties.

(2) A financing statement which otherwise complies with subdivision (1) is sufficient although it is signed only by the secured party when it is filed to perfect a security interest in

(a) Collateral already subject to a security interest in another jurisdiction when it is brought into this state. Such financing statement must state that the collateral was brought into this state under such circumstances;

(b) Proceeds under Section 9306, if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected. Such a financing statement must describe the original collateral.

(3) A form substantially as follows is sufficient to comply with subdivision (1):

FINANCING STATEMENT

Name of debtor_____
Mailing address of debtor_____
Name of secured party_____
Mailing address of secured party_____
Address of debtor's residence (if an individual)_____and address of his chief place of business (if any)_____
Address of chief place of business of debtor (if an organization) _____
The debtor is doing business under the following trade name or style _____

(1) This financing statement covers the following types (or items) of property: (description of the collateral)

(2) (If collateral is crops or timber) The above described crops or timber are growing or are to be grown on or are standing on: (description of real property)

(3) (If proceeds or products of collateral are claimed) (Proceeds) (Products) of the collateral are also covered

Date: _____ 19___

Signature of debtor
Signature of secured party

(If the transaction consists of a sale of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper, the term seller or assignor may be substituted for debtor and the term buyer or assignee may be substituted for secured party.)

(4) The term "financing statement" as used in this code means the original financing statement and any amendments signed by the debtor and the secured party or a financing statement signed only by the secured party under Section 9402(2) and any amendments thereto, but if any amendment adds collateral, it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment.

(5) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this section is effective even though it contains minor errors which are not seriously misleading.

SEC. 19. Section 9406 of said code is amended to read:

9406. (1) If a secured party assigns or transfers his security interest in any collateral as to which a financing statement has been filed, a statement of such assignment may be filed. Such statement shall be signed by the secured party, describe the collateral as to which the security interest has been assigned, give the name and mailing address of the assignee or transferee, the name and address of the debtor and the file number of the original financing statement.

(2) The filing officer shall mark each such statement of assignment or transfer with the date and time of filing and shall index the same under the name of the debtor and under the file number of the original financing statement.

(3) A statement of assignment may be filed at the time of the filing of the financing statement, in which event the filing officer shall first file the financing statement and index the assignment under the name of the debtor and under the file number given the financing statement. An assignment endorsed on the financing statement before it is filed with the filing officer need not be indexed by him.

(4) The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data (subdivision (1) of Section 9407) for a separate statement of assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the Secretary of State shall be two dollars ($2) or, if such a statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, three dollars ($3).

(5) Whenever a continuation statement, an amendment to a financing statement, a termination statement, a statement of release or a statement of assignment signed by one other than the secured party of record is presented for filing it must be accompanied by a statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record covering the collateral to which such continuation statement, amendment, termination statement, release, or assignment applies.

(6) Wherever in this code reference is made to the secured party of record it means the secured party named in the original financing statement or, if a statement of assignment has been filed, or an assignee has been named in the financing statement before it is filed, the assignee or transferee of the security interest in the collateral affected. Any continuation statement, amendment to a financing statement, termination statement, statement of release or statement of assignment signed by one other than the secured party of record as to the collateral affected thereby shall be ineffective for any purpose except as between the parties thereto.

SEC. 20. Section 10102 of said code is amended to read:

10102. Transactions validly entered into before the effective date specified in Section 10101 and the rights, duties and interests flowing from them remain valid thereafter and may be terminated, completed, consummated or enforced as required or permitted by any statute or other law amended or repealed by this act as though such repeal or amendment had not occurred; provided, however, that the perfection of a security interest (other than a security interest (i) in a motor vehicle or boat required to be registered under the Vehicle Code or the Harbors and Navigation Code unless such vehicle or boat is inventory or (ii) in personal property, including fixtures, which constitutes a portion of the properties included in an agreement which is a mortgage or deed of trust of both real and personal property made to secure the payment of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness authorized or permitted to be issued by the Commissioner of Corporations, or made by a public utility as defined in the Public Utilities Code), as defined in this code (Section 1201), and however denominated in any law repealed by this act,

(a) Which was perfected when this act takes effect by a filing or recording under a law repealed by this act and requiring a further filing or recording to continue its perfection, continues until and will lapse on the date provided by the law so repealed for such further filing or recording;

(b) Which was perfected when this act takes effect by a filing or recording under a law repealed by this act and requiring no further filing or recording to continue its perfection, continues until and will lapse 12 months after the date this act takes effect;

(c) Which was perfected when this act takes effect without any filing or recording, but with respect to which a financing statement is required to be filed in order for it to be perfected under this code, continues until and will lapse 12 months after this act takes effect;

unless. in each case, a continuation statement is filed by the secured party within 12 months before the perfection of the security interest would otherwise lapse. Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original security agreement, however denominated, state the office where and the date when last filed or refiled, or recorded or re-recorded, and the filing number or recordation data and further state that the original security agreement is still effective. Section 9401(1) determines the proper place to file such a continuation statement. Except as herein specified the provisions of Section 9403(3) apply to such a continuation statement.

CHAPTER 1380

An act to amend Sections 104.2, 459, 3045.1, 3084.5, 3447 of, and to add Sections 3081 and 3473.5 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code and to amend Sections 11004, 11012, 12557, 12658, and 13051 of Division 9 of, and to add Sections 11062 and 13057 to Division 9 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 1682 of the 1965 Regular Session, relating to aid to the blind.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 104.2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

104.2. The provisions of this code relative to public social services for which state grant-in-aid are made to the counties shall be administered fairly to the end that all persons who are eligible and apply for such public social services shall receive the assistance to which they are entitled promptly, with due consideration for the needs of applicants and the safeguarding of public funds.

(a) Any applicant for, or recipient or payee of, such public social services shall be informed as to the provisions of eligibility and his responsibility for reporting facts material to a correct determination of eligibility and grant

(b) Any applicant for, or recipient or payee of, such public social services shall be responsible for reporting accurately and completely within his competence those facts required of him pursuant to subdivision (a) and to report promptly any changes in those facts.

(c) Any person who makes full and complete disclosure of those facts as explained to him pursuant to subdivision (a) is entitled to rely upon the award of aid as being accurate, and that the warrant he receives correctly reflects the award made, except that the county paying the aid shall be allowed a period of two months following the month of payment within which to adjust any errors or changes in amount of grant resulting from changes in income or need which occur too late to be reflected in the grant for the current month. Whenever possible, adjustments of overpayments shall be prorated evenly over the two-months adjustment period.

(d) If any overpayment which results because of the failure to report facts in accordance with subdivision (b) is not adjusted within a period of two months following the month of the discovery of the overpayment, the person receiving the aid shall make restitution and all actions necessary to secure restitution may be brought against him.

If the recipient or family is currently eligible in accordance with law and the regulations of the department, collection of overpayments shall not be made through discontinuance or reduction of aid beyond the grant adjustment period permitted by subsection (c) except where the recipient or family at the time of determination of the overpayment possessed liquid assets sufficient to meet needs of himself or his family, according to department standard, during the period of reduction or discontinuance thereof.

(e) If it is found that a recipient or a family was possessed of property in excess of the amount permitted by law, and it cannot be established that the recipient or family received such aid in bad faith, without honestly believing eligibility was properly established, the amount collectible shall be limited to an amount equal to the market value of the excess property or the amount of aid granted during the period the excess property was held, whichever is the lesser.

(f) When an underpayment or denial of aid occurs because of an administrative error or inadvertence on the part of a county and as a result the applicant or recipient does not receive the amount to which he is entitled, the county shall pay aid equal to the full amount of the underpayment which occurred during the period of four years immediately preceding the date the error or inadvertence is discovered.

SEC. 2. Section 459 of said code is amended to read:

459. To encourage the spouse of an applicant to retain or seek employment in order to be self-supporting, taxpaying, and to avoid becoming a recipient of public aid, the net earnings of the spouse, up to the amount of two hundred dollars ($200) per month, after deduction for the expenses incurred in connection with such earnings, shall not be considered community property in computing how much of such earnings should be allocated to the applicant as income to him. Where the spouse is engaged in seasonal employment, the estimated annual earnings of the spouse shall be prorated on a monthly basis. This section shall not be interpreted so as to repeal Section 3084.5.

SEC. 3. Section 3045.1 of said code is amended to read:

3045.1 Notwithstanding any other provisions of this code, persons receiving or applying for aid under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 3400) of this part but eligible under this chapter and the provisions of Section 3084.6 may instead be granted aid under this chapter without the necessity of filing a new application and be restored to aid under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 3400) at the end of 12 months or such other period as may be authorized by federal law or regulations.

An otherwise eligible applicant for aid under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 3400) of this part may continue to be granted aid under this chapter up to a period of 12

Article 9. Preneed Funeral Arrangements

7735. No licensed funeral director under the laws of the State of California, his agents or employees, shall enter into or solicit any preneed arrangement, contract or plan, hereinafter referred to as "contract", requiring the payment to said licensee of money or the delivery to him of securities to pay for the final disposition of a dead human body or for funeral services or for the furnishing of personal property or funeral merchandise, wherein the use or delivery of said services, property or merchandise is not immediately required, unless said contract requires that all money paid directly or indirectly and all securities delivered under such agreement or under any agreement collateral thereto, shall be held in trust for the purpose for which it was paid or delivered until the contract is fulfilled according to its terms; provided, however, that any payment made or securities deposited pursuant to this article shall be released upon the death of the person for whose benefit such trust was established as provided in Section 7737. The income from the corpus may be utilized to pay for the following: The expense of administering the trust, a trustee's fee of not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), any sales expense incurred, and to establish a reserve of not to exceed 10 percent of the corpus as a revocation fee in the event of cancellation on the part of the beneficiary.

None of the trust corpus or trustees' fee shall be used for payment of any commission nor shall any of the trust corpus be used for other expenses of trust administration.

7736. For the purposes of this article the term "trustee" shall mean not less than three persons, one of whom may be an employee of the funeral director or any banking institution or trust company legally authorized and empowered by the State of California to act as trustee in the handling of trust funds; the word "trustor" shall mean any person who pays the money or deposits the securities used for such preneed arrangements; the term "beneficiary" shall be the person for whom such fund was established; the words "corpus of the trust" shall include all moneys paid and securities delivered pursuant to the provisions of the article other than the amount paid as a trustees' fee.

All securities purchased by the trustor for deposit in trust as soon as paid for, and all money received from the trustor for deposit in trust shall be placed in trust with a trustee within 30 days of their receipt by the funeral director pursuant to a trust agreement executed by the funeral director, the trustor and trustee which shall provide that the trustee shall hold the money or securities in trust for the purposes for which deposited and that the trustee, upon the signature of two of said trustees, shall deliver the corpus of the trust to the funeral director upon the filing of a certified copy of the death certificate or other satisfactory evidence of the death of the beneficiary, together with satisfactory evidence that the funeral director has furnished the merchandise and services provided for in the said contract; provided, however, that said trust agreement shall further provide that at any time before the funeral director has furnished the merchandise and services provided for in said contract the trustor or the beneficiary or the legally appointed representative of either may in writing demand and receive the return of the corpus of the trust, other than the trustees' fee, together with any income accrued in the trust, less the revocation fee provided for in Section 7735. The delivery of the corpus of the trust and the accumulated income to the funeral director, trustor or beneficiary pursuant to the terms of this article and the trust agreement herein referred to, shall relieve the trustee of any further liabilities with regard to such funds or income therefrom.

7738. Nothing in this article shall prevent a licensed funeral director who is also a licensed cemetery authority from depositing any money or securities received in connection with preneed funeral arrangements in a special endowment care fund as provided in Article 4 (commencing with Section 8775), Chapter 5, Part 3, Division 8 of the Health and Safety Code and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto by the State Cemetery Board, provided that none of the trust corpus shall be used for payment of any commission or other expenses of trust administration.

7739. Any person willfully violating the provisions of this article or any of them shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and if a funeral director licensee, he shall also be subject to disciplinary action as provided in Article 6 of this chapter.

7740. The State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers is authorized to enforce of its own initiative the provisions of this article and may adopt such rules and regulations as in its opinion may be necessary to perform such duties and to safeguard the trust funds subject to this chapter.

7741. Nothing in this article shall apply to cemetery property; cemetery commodities; cemetery service; or merchandise that is delivered as soon as paid for.

7742. Nothing in this article shall apply to any arrangement, contract or plan for the issuance of securities now or hereafter authorized under a permit of the Commissioner of Corporations of this state.

Article 3.3. Handicapped Persons Pilot Project

310. The State Department of Public Health shall initiate and carry out a pilot project in two areas of the state for the purpose of determining the extent of the needs of severely handicapped persons of normal mentality for residential care and to determine how best to meet these needs.

310.1. In conducting the pilot project, the state department shall provide necessary medical and social evaluations and coordinated residential care, treatment and training services, which will encourage and assist handicapped individuals to achieve their maximum potential for independence and personal development.

The services may include, but shall not be limited to, medical and social evaluations, homemaker services, attendant care in the home, foster home care, and residential care in appropriate facilities. Institutional care shall, however, be limited to care of persons so severely handicapped that other care or services would be inappropriate.

310.2. The state department shall make the services available to a handicapped person or his family if the services are needed to alleviate a substantial impairment to the normal functioning of the individual or the family unit.

310.3. The services shall be purchased from private physicians, allied health personnel, public and private residential care facilities, and from local governmental and voluntary agencies in accordance with policies and standards established by the state department. New residential facilities for the care of handicapped individuals shall not be constructed with any of the state funds which are made available to the state department for the pilot project.

310.4. The state department shall determine from the pilot project the extent of the need for the various services, the costs of providing the necessary services, and the benefits which would be derived from providing the services to handicapped persons.

310 6. The state department shall establish such policies and standards for the pilot project as it determines are necessary to carry out the purposes of the pilot project and it shall exercise administrative supervision of the services which are provided as a part of the project.

310.7. The state department shall provide medical and administrative direction to the project staff. The project director and other project personnel shall cooperate with personnel of local health departments and other appropriate agencies, both public and voluntary.

310.8. Existing community services, facilities, resources, and funds shall be utilized whenever possible in carrying out the pilot project in order to conserve the state funds which are made available for the project. The resources of the handicapped individual or his family, such as income and savings, health insurance, disability benefits, workmen's compensation, or other assistance, shall be fully utilized before state funds which are made available for the project are used.

310.9. The pattern of the physically handicapped children services programs shall be used by the state department as a guide in establishing standards, medical and financial eligibility, and in the authorization and purchase of necessary services and supplies.

311. The state department shall establish such eligibility criteria for the services which are provided by the pilot project as it determines are necessary to carry out the purposes of the project. It shall work with the Department of Social Welfare, the Department of Rehabilitation, the Department of Education, and other appropriate governmental and private agencies and organizations to develop individual programs of care, rehabilitation and education, and to plan for the future care of each individual for whom services are rendered as a part of the field project in accordance with such person's needs and potential.

311.1. The pilot project shall terminate June 30, 1969. The state department shall submit a preliminary report on the findings of the pilot project to the Legislature by January 31, 1967, and a final report and its recommendations to the Legislature on or before the 30th calendar day after the commencement of the 1969 Regular Session of the Legislature.

The sum appropriated by this section shall, however, be reduced by the amount of any appropriation which the federal government may make to the state for the pilot project authorized under such article

(1) The amount of fluid milk to be purchased for any period;

(2) The minimum quantity of such milk to be paid for as class 1, if any is to be purchased for class 1 purposes. Such quantity shall be stated in pounds of milk or pounds of milk fat or gallons of milk; provided, that if the price to be paid for such class 1 milk is established separately for the milk fat and skim milk contained in such milk, such quantity to be paid for as class 1 shall be stated in pounds of milk or pounds of milk fat or gallons of milk or both in pounds of milk fat and pounds of skim milk separately, but in any marketing area where an equalization pool is a part of a stabilization and marketing plan, such contract need not specify the quantity of milk to be paid for as class 1.

Effective January 1, 1966, such minimum quantity of milk to be paid for as class 1 shall be not less than 55 percent of the total quantity provided in the contract to be purchased at a milk products plant, and not less than 45 percent of the total quantity of milk fat, or the total quantity of skim milk components, but not necessarily both, provided in the contract to be purchased at a country plant, as defined by the director in stabilization and marketing plans; and with subsequent increases in such minimum percentages respectively to 60 percent and 50 percent, effective July 1, 1966; 65 percent and 55 percent, effective January 1, 1967; and 70 percent and 60 percent, effective July 1, 1967;

The provisions of this subdivision do not apply to the purchase of fluid milk which is necessary to meet an unanticipated increase in demand or an unanticipated shortage in the supply of a distributor; provided, that the quantity of fluid milk so purchased from any one producer or association of producers shall not exceed 1,000 gallons in any one month; and, provided further, that a complete record of all such purchases shall be kept by the distributor and the price paid for such milk by the distributor shall not be less than the price established in the applicable stabilization and marketing plan for the usage to which such milk is applied.

SEC. 2. Section 4292 of said code is amended to read:

4292. (a) Each such plan may contain provisions whereby any distributor who purchases fluid milk under contract from any producer or association of producers may pool such milk for producer payment purposes in accordance with such contracts, irrespective of whether such milk is actually and physically received at the same milk products plant or diverted, in accordance with such plan.

(b) Such provisions may provide that fluid milk, or fluid cream, or both, that is received from producers by milk products plants under the same ownership, may be pooled for purposes of payment to producers. Such provisions may further provide that in the event a distributor pools fluid milk, fluid cream, or both, as provided in this subdivision, such distributor shall allocate, among all producers participating in the class 1 usage, transportation savings applicable to fluid milk, fluid cream, or both, not actually transported between the plant

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Part 5.1 (commencing with Section 5100) is added to Division 2 of the Water Code, to read:

PART 5.1. STATEMENTS OF WATER DIVERSIONS AND USE

5100. As used in this part:

(a) "Person" means all persons whether natural or artificial, including the United States of America, State of California, and all political subdivisions, districts, municipalities and public agencies.

(b) "Diversion" means taking water by gravity or pumping from a surface stream or subterranean stream flowing through a known and definite channel, or other body of surface water, into a canal, pipeline or other conduit, and includes impoundment of water in a reservoir.

5101. Each person who, after December 31, 1965, diverts water and does not have on file with the board an application, permit or license to appropriate such water, or whose diversion is not regulated by a watermaster appointed by the department, shall file with the board, prior to July 1 of the succeeding year, a statement of his diversion and use.

5102. The statement may be filed either by the person who is diverting water or, on his behalf, by an agency which he designates and which supervises or controls the diversion and maintains a record of the water diverted. A separate statement shall be filed for each point of diversion.

5103. Each statement shall be typewritten or legibly written in ink on a form provided by the board and shall include:

(a) The name and address of the person who diverted water and of the person filing the statement.

(b) The name of the stream or other source from which water was diverted, and the name of the next major stream or other body of water to which the source is tributary.

(c) The place of diversion. If a public land survey has been made, location of diversion works shall be described to the nearest 40-acre subdivision. If not, it shall be described by reference to nearest local landmarks or other recorded surveys

(d) The capacity of the diversion works and of the storage reservoir, if any, and the months in which water was used during the preceding calendar year. Those who maintain water-measuring devices and keep monthly records of water diversions shall state the quantity of water diverted by months during the preceding calendar year. Others shall state the acreage of each crop irrigated, the average number of people served with water, the average number of stock watered, and the nature and extent of any other use during the preceding calendar year, or such other equivalent information tending to indicate the quantity of water used as may be prescribed by the board.

(e) The purpose of use.

(f) A general description of the area in which the water was used. If the water was used on an area within the 1/16 section containing the point of diversion, a statement to that effect will suffice; otherwise a description or sketch of the general area of use shall be given.

(g) The year in which the diversion was commenced as near as is known.

5105. Upon failure of any person to file a statement required by this part, the board may, at the expense of such person, investigate and determine in writing the facts required by either Sections 5103 or 5104, provided the board first gives such person written notice of its intention to investigate and determine the facts and 60 days in which to file the statement without penalty.

5106. Neither the statements nor the determination of facts by the board pursuant to Section 5105 shall establish or constitute evidence of a right to divert or use water or constitute a claim of right to divert or use water; provided however, that in any proceeding before the board to determine whether an application for a permit to appropriate water should be approved, any such statement or determination shall be evidence of the facts stated therein.

5107. The making of any willful misstatement pursuant to this part is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

5108. Statements filed pursuant to this part shall be for informational purposes only, and neither the failure to file a statement nor any error in the information filed shall have any legal consequences whatsoever other than those specified in this part.

CHAPTER 1431

An act to repeal and add Article 10 (commencing with Section 427) of Chapter 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to alcoholism, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 10 (commencing with Section 427) of Chapter 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Article 10 (commencing with Section 427) is added to Chapter 2 of Division 1 of said code, to read:

Article 10. Alcoholism

427. Alcoholism and problems associated with misuse of alcoholic beverages impair the life and health of a large segment of the population of California and impose great burdens of cost and indirect expense on the people and industry of the state and on local and the state governments. The purpose of this article is to assign responsibility and grant authority for planning, establishment and conduct of state efforts directed toward lessening the extent and gravity of alcoholism and misuse of alcoholic beverages in California.

427.1. There shall be a division established within the State Department of Public Health which shall be known as the Division of Alcoholism. The division shall be responsible for the development and maintenance of a statewide comprehensive plan for the conduct of programs for prevention, treatment and control of alcoholism; for providing assistance and guidance in the development and conduct of programs for prevention, treatment, and control of other social problems associated with the use of alcoholic beverages; for assisting and guiding the cities and counties of the state in the development of integrated, comprehensive local programs for prevention, treatment, and control of alcoholism; for encouraging and promoting effective use of facilities, resources, and funds in the planning and conduct of programs and activities for prevention, treatment, and control of alcoholism; and for reporting periodically to the Governor and the Legislature on the status of alcoholism and related matters in the state and on the progress of efforts to prevent and control alcoholism.

In the discharge of this responsibility, the department through its Division of Alcoholism shall cooperate with and utilize to the maximum possible extent the resources and services of federal, state, and local agencies, including those within the Health and Welfare Agency.

The Division of Alcoholism is the successor to the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Division. Whenever a reference is made in any statute or contract to the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Division it shall be construed as the Division of Alcoholism.

427.2. The State Department of Public Health through its Division of Alcoholism shall plan, promote, and assist in the support of alcoholism prevention, treatment, and control programs; shall conduct, sponsor, and support investigations and studies, including evaluation, of all phases of alcoholism; shall assist in the development of educational and training programs; and shall carry on programs to assist the public, and technical and professional groups, in becoming fully informed about alcoholism.

The department shall promote, develop, and financially assist, where necessary, alcoholism programs administered by local health departments within a comprehensive local plan, including, but not limited to, the following services as defined by regulations adopted by the State Board of Public Health:

(a) Services for Individuals.

(1) Casefinding (including court screening).

(2) Diagnosis-evaluation-referral.

(3) Medical and counselling, both acute and continuing.

(4) Psychiatric.

(5) Vocational rehabilitation and employment.

(b) Services for the Community.

(1) Continuing measurement of local problem and resources.

(2) Development and coordination of local program.

(3) Public information and education.

(4) Consultation and guidance to other local agencies and groups.

(5) Evaluation.

The department shall promote, develop, and financially assist such other services as may be required by the State Board of Public Health.

Local health departments conducting such programs shall maintain records and submit periodic reports as required by the State Department of Public Health.

427.3. Local programs for control and prevention of alcoholism, conducted under authority of this article, or to carry out the purposes of this article, shall be administered under such standards and regulations which the State Board of Public Health determines are reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of this article and consistent with the provisions of Section 427.2.

427.4. To be eligible for state reimbursement, a local health department shall develop and submit to the State Department of Public Health an initial plan for a communitywide program which provides comprehensive, integrated services for the prevention, treatment and control of alcoholism and alcohol problems. The plan shall specify those services for which state reimbursement is requested, and provide a budget of proposed expenditures. A local health department plan may provide for direct operation of the required services, or furnishing of these services by other appropriate agencies, groups and individuals, or a combination of both.

The State Department of Public Health shall review the plan for conformance to provisions of this article and for compliance with standards adopted by the State Board of Public Health under Section 427.3, and upon approval shall fix the amount, within available funds, subject to state reimbursement, except that programs subsidized during fiscal year 1964–65 shall, upon approval of a plan for required services, be permitted to receive state reimbursement under previously existing contractual arrangements, and shall not be required to meet State Board of Public Health standards until July 1, 1966.

Continuing support of local health department programs will be based on annual submission and approval of an updated community plan, and on evaluation by the State Department of Public Health of local health department performance of state-reimbursed services.

Reimbursement for any fiscal year shall be limited to the amount fixed by the State Department of Public Health when the local health department plan is approved, unless additional expenditure is authorized after submission and approval of a supplementary plan.

No expenditures shall be reimbursed which are not included in the approved plan, or which fail to comply with standards adopted by the State Board of Public Health under Section 427.3. The financial assistance provided by the state under Section 427 4 shall not be less than 75 percent of the total cost of such programs, and in no event shall the cost to a county pursuant to this article during fiscal year 1965–66 be required to exceed the cost to the county during fiscal year 1964–65 for any similar program of alcoholism prevention, treatment, control, and rehabilitation.

427.5. The department may, through reimbursement contract, interagency agreement or otherwise, make available funds to other governmental agencies and to voluntary, nonprofit organizations, or individuals, to carry out the provisions of this article. Such contracts shall be drawn only after submission and approval of an application which fulfills requirements established by the State Department of Public Health.

427.6. In order that maximum utilization be made of federal and other funds made available to the Department of Rehabilitation, the State Department of Public Health may contract with the Department of Rehabilitation to provide vocational rehabilitation services for clients eligible for these services and may make available for this purpose state funds appropriated for administration of this article. Services provided by the Department of Rehabilitation may include individual rehabilitation services as defined in the statutes governing the Department of Rehabilitation, which will assist in the client's rehabilitation.

427.7. Local health departments, or local agencies or organizations, may make charges to patients or clients served, such revenue to be used to defray the expenses of the program. In the event such revenue exceeds the local expenditures for the program, such excess collections shall be reimbursed to the state.

427.8. A Coordinating Council on Alcohol Problems, consisting of directors of state departments or other state agencies, shall be appointed by the Governor. The Director of Public Health shall serve as the chairman. The council shall review, assess, and promote optimal use of local, state and federal resources applicable to alcohol problems. The council shall annually report its findings and recommendations to the Governor.

427.9. The Director of Public Health may appoint annually an advisory committee consisting of not more than 15 members to advise him and the department in the performance of the duties imposed by this article, and shall serve as the chairman. The committee shall be solely advisory in character and shall not be delegated any administrative authority or responsibility. Committee members shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties.

427.10. In addition to any other authority prescribed by this article, the board of supervisors of any county may establish and staff a county department to prescribe and conduct or supervise a program for the rehabilitation of alcoholics confined in any county jail, industrial farm, road camp, or in any other county institution, and to further prescribe, conduct, or supervise programs of continuing such rehabilitation on a voluntary basis after the discharge from custody of any inmate of any such county institution, except, that if funds under this article participate, such programs shall meet the standards established under the authority of Section 427.3 of this article. No program under the provisions of this section shall be activated in any county jail, or other institutions maintained or operated under the jurisdiction of the sheriff, without the advice and consent of the sheriff.

427.11. This article shall remain in effect until March 1, 1967, and shall have no force or effect after that date. The Department of Public Health shall, by not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, report to the Legislature as to its recommendations of ways and means of developing a permanent program of alcoholism prevention, treatment, control, and rehabilitation.

SEC. 3. There is hereby appropriated the sum of one million three hundred thirty-eight thousand two hundred thirty-one dollars ($1,338,231) from the General Fund in the State Treasury for the support during the 1965–1966 fiscal year of the Division of Alcoholism in the Department of Public Health in administering the provisions of Article 10 (commencing with Section 427) of Chapter 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code; provided that to the extent an appropriation for such purpose is made in the Budget Act of 1965, an equivalent amount of the appropriation made by this section shall lapse and revert to the General Fund.

The description of the proposed boundaries shall be by reference to a map of the assessment district showing the lots, pieces or parcels of land proposed to be assessed and which shall indicate by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed assessment district and such map shall govern for all details as to the extent of such district. Such map shall also contain the name of the city and a distinctive designation, in words or by number, of the district shown thereon.

The map shall be legibly drawn, printed or reproduced by a process that provides a permanent record. Each sheet of paper or other material used for such map shall be eighteen (18) by twenty-six (26) inches in size, shall have clearly shown therein the particular number of the sheet, the total number of sheets comprising the map, and its relation to each adjoining sheet, and shall have encompassing its border a line that leaves a blank margin one inch in width.

which all or any part of such proposed assessment district is located.

SEC. 3. Section 3112 of said code is amended to read:

The county recorder shall endorse on the copy of the map of the assessment district the time and date of the filing and shall fasten the same securely in a book of maps of assessment districts which he shall keep in his office. The county recorder shall index such maps by name of the city conducting the proceedings and by the distinctive designation of the district as shown on each such map.

SEC. 4. Section 3112.5 is added to said code, to read:

3112.5. The county clerk of any county in whose office maps of proposed assessment districts are filed shall transmit the maps to the county recorder, who shall receive the maps with the same effect and manner as maps filed with him pursuant to Section 3112.

SEC. 5. Section 3113 of said code is amended to read:

3113. The legislative body shall not order a modification in the boundaries of an assessment district shown on a previously filed map of the assessment district unless it shall describe such proposed modification by reference to a revised map of the assessment district and the clerk of the legislative body shall have filed such revised map with the county recorder at least 10 days prior to the adoption of any such order.

SEC. 6. Section 3117 of said code is amended to read:

3117. If any proceedings are abandoned by the legislative body, the clerk of the legislative body, forthwith upon such abandonment, shall file a certified copy of the resolution of abandonment with the county recorder of each county in which all or any part of the assessment district is located. The certificate of the clerk of the legislative body attached to such resolution shall include a reference to the date of the resolution of abandonment, the date of the original resolution of intention, and the date the map of the assessment district pertaining thereto was filed with the county recorder. The county recorder shall index such resolution in the book containing the index of the maps of assessment districts.

If school district funds are expended for the lease or purchase of additional cafeteria equipment for a central food processing plant, or for the lease, purchase, installation, or housing of vending machines, the governing board may at any time within five years after such expenditure reimburse school district funds from cafeteria funds.

The governing board of a school district may by resolution make the cost of maintenance of the physical plant used in connection with cafeterias, the cost of replacement of equipment and the cost of telephone charges, water, electricity, gas, coal, wood, fuel oil, and garbage disposal a charge against the funds of the school district.

(1) Special day class (elementary and secondary)	$910
(2) Learning disability groups (elementary and secondary)	910
(3) Home and hospital instruction	910

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compute for each applicant school district and county superintendent of schools the total current expense incurred by the district and the county superintendent of schools, during the preceding year, in providing in such year a program of specialized consultation to teachers, counselors and supervisors for educationally handicapped minors who come within the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 6751 but not to exceed the total amount computed for the district or county superintendent of schools in accordance with this section. The total amount computed shall not exceed an amount equal to the product of the average daily attendance of pupils enrolled in such programs in subdivision (a) of this section and twenty dollars ($20).

SEC. 2. Section 18456.2 is added to said code, to read:

18456.2. If the total amount allowed from the State School Fund to all districts and county school service funds under Sections 18221 and 18222, on account of average daily attendance during the fiscal year is more than the total amount provided by law for such purposes, the total amount allowed each such district and each such county school service fund from the State School Fund pursuant to said sections shall be reduced by reducing the maximum reimbursement figures in those sections successively by increments of 1 percent until the deficit is removed.

Any remaining balances otherwise transferable under subdivision (b) of Section 17301 shall remain in the General Fund, but shall be considered, to the extent applicable, pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 17301 in determining the total amount available to meet deficits in computed apportionments for the purposes set forth in Sections 17303 and 17303.5 in subsequent fiscal years.

CHAPTER 1442

An act to amend Section 170.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to challenge of judges for prejudice.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 170.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

170.6 (1) No judge of any superior, municipal or justice court of the State of California shall try any civil or criminal action or special proceeding of any kind or character nor hear any matter therein which involves a contested issue of law or fact when it shall be established as hereinafter provided that such judge is prejudiced against any party or attorney or the interest of any party or attorney appearing in such action or proceeding.

(2) Any party to or any attorney appearing in any such action or proceeding may establish such prejudice by an oral or written motion without notice supported by affidavit or an oral statement under oath that the judge before whom such action or proceeding is pending or to whom it is assigned is prejudiced against any such party or attorney or the interest of such party or attorney so that such party or attorney cannot or believes that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial or hearing before such judge. Where the judge assigned to or who is scheduled to try the cause or hear the matter is known at least 10 days before the date set for trial or hearing, the motion shall be made at least five days before that date. If directed to the trial of a cause where there is a master calendar, the motion shall be made to the judge supervising the master calendar not later than the time the cause is assigned for trial. In no event shall any judge entertain such motion if it be made after the drawing of the name of the first juror, or if there be no jury, after the making of an opening statement by counsel for plaintiff, or if there be no such statement, then after swearing in the first witness or the giving of any evidence or after trial of the cause has otherwise commenced. If the motion is directed to a hearing (other than the trial of a cause), the motion must be made not later than the commencement of the hearing. In the case of trials or hearings not herein specifically provided for, the procedure herein specified shall be followed as nearly as may be. The fact that a judge has presided at or acted in connection with a pretrial conference or other hearing, proceeding or motion prior to trial and not involving a determination of contested fact issues relating to the merits shall not preclude the later making of the motion provided for herein at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided.

(3) If such motion is duly presented and such affidavit is duly filed or such oral statement under oath is duly made, thereupon and without any further act or proof, the judge supervising the master calendar, if any, shall assign some other judge to try the cause or hear the matter. In other cases, the trial of the cause or the hearing of the matter shall be assigned, or transferred to another judge of the court in which the trial or matter is pending or, if there is no other judge of the court in which the trial or matter is pending, the chairman of the judicial council shall assign some other judge to try such cause or hear such matter as promptly as possible. Under no circumstances shall a party or attorney be permitted to make more than one such motion in any one action or special proceeding pursuant to this section; and in actions or special proceedings where there may be more than one plaintiff or similar party or more than one defendant or similar party appearing in the action or special proceeding, only one motion for each side may be made in any one action or special proceeding.

(4) Unless required for the convenience of the court or unless good cause is shown, a continuance of the trial or hearing shall not be granted by reason of the making of a motion under this section. If a continuance is granted, the cause or matter shall be continued from day to day or for other limited periods upon the trial or other calendar and shall be reassigned or transferred for trial or hearing as promptly as possible.

(5) Any affidavit filed pursuant to this section shall be in substantially the following form:

(Here set forth court and cause)

(6) Any oral statement under oath made pursuant to this section shall include substantially the same contents as the affidavit above.

(7) Nothing in this section shall affect or limit the provisions of Section 170 and Title 4, Part 2, of this code and this section shall be construed as cumulative thereto.

(8) If any provision of this section or the application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this section are declared to be severable.

CHAPTER 1443

An act to add Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 51200) to Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to agricultural land conservation.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 51200) is added to Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 7. AGRICULTURAL LAND

Article 1. General Provisions

51200. This chapter shall be known as the California Land Conservation Act of 1965.

51201. As used in this chapter, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

(a) "Agricultural commodity" means any and all plant and animal products produced in this state for commercial purposes.

(b) "Agricultural use" means use of land for the purpose of producing an agricultural commodity for commercial purposes.

(c) "Prime agricultural land" means (1) all land which qualifies for rating as class I or as class II in the Soil Conservation Service Land Use capability classifications, or (2) land which has returned from the production of unprocessed agricultural plant products an annual gross value of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre for three of the previous five years.

(d) "Agricultural preserve" means an area devoted to agricultural and compatible uses as designated by a city or county, and established in the same manner as a general plan referred to in Section 65460 of the Government Code. Such preserves, when established, shall be for the purpose of subsequently placing restrictions upon the use of land within them, or supplementing existing restrictions, pursuant to the purposes of this chapter. Such preserve may contain land other than prime agricultural land, but the use of any land not under contract within the preserve shall subsequently be restricted in such a way as to not be incompatible with the agricultural use of the prime agricultural land the use of which is limited by contract in accordance with this chapter. Such preserve may also be established even if it contains no prime agricultural land, provided that the land within the preserve is subsequently restricted to agricultural and compatible uses by agreement as provided in Section 51255, or by any other suitable means.

(e) Except as otherwise defined by this act, "compatible use" shall be determined by the city or county administering the agricultural preserve according to uniform rules. "Compatible use" shall include the erection, construction, alteration, or maintenance of gas, electric, water, or communication utility facilities, unless the governing board makes a finding after notice and hearing that any or all such facilities are not a compatible use. No land occupied by gas, electric, water, or communication utility facilities shall be excluded from a preserve by reason of such use.

(f) "Uniform rules" means rules that are adopted by a city or county administering an agricultural preserve and which shall be uniform throughout that preserve.

Article 2. Declaration

51220. The Legislature finds:

(a) That the preservation of a maximum amount of the limited supply of prime agricultural land is necessary to the conservation of the state's economic resources, and is necessary not only to the maintenance of the agricultural economy of the state, but also for the assurance of adequate, healthful and nutritious food for future residents of this state and nation.

(b) That the discouragement of premature and unnecessary conversion of prime agricultural land to urban uses is a matter of public interest and will be of benefit to urban dwellers themselves in that it will discourage discontiguous urban development patterns which unnecessarily increase the costs of community services to community residents.

(c) That in a rapidly urbanizing society agricultural lands have a definite public value as open space, and the preservation in agricultural production of such lands, the use of which may be limited under the provisions of this chapter, constitutes an important physical, social, esthetic and economic asset to existing or pending urban or metropolitan developments.

(d) For these reasons, this chapter is necessary for the promotion of the general welfare and the protection of the public interest in prime agricultural land.

51221. The Legislature further declares that the expenditure of public funds under the provisions of this chapter is in the public interest and is necessary to the accomplishment of the purposes herein set forth.

51222. The limitation of the use of prime agricultural land pursuant to contract under this chapter is a determination by the contracting parties, and by the state, that the highest and best use of such land during the life of the contract is for agricultural uses, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

51223. The limitation of the use of any agricultural land pursuant to agreements under this chapter is declared to be in the public interest insofar as any such agreements tend to maintain the agricultural economy of the state, prevent premature and unnecessary conversion of land from agricultural uses, assist in the preservation of prime agricultural lands, or are otherwise consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

Article 3. Contracts

51240. Any city or county may by contract, and through the expenditure of public funds, limit the use of prime agricultural land for the purpose of preserving such land pursuant and subject to the conditions set forth in the contract and in this chapter.

51241. If such a contract is made with any landowner, the city or county shall offer such a contract under similar terms to every other owner of prime agricultural land within the agricultural preserve in question.

51242. No city or county may contract with respect to any land pursuant to this chapter unless the land:

(a) Is devoted to agricultural use.

(b) Is located within an area designated by a city or county as an agricultural preserve containing not less than 100 acres.

(c) Is classified as prime agricultural land.

51243. Every such contract shall:

(a) Provide for the exclusion of uses other than agricultural, and other than those related to or compatible with agricultural use, for the duration of the contract.

(b) Be transferred from the contracting city or county to any succeeding city or county acquiring jurisdiction over the land under contract, and from the contracting owner to any succeeding owner. On the annexation by a city of any land under contract with a county, the city shall succeed to all rights, duties, and powers of the county under such contract.

51244. The term of each contract shall be 10 years. The contract shall be automatically renewed at the end of each year for an additional 10-year period, unless notice of nonrenewal is given as provided in Section 51245.

Notice of renewal and the new termination date shall be recorded with the county recorder and from and after the time of such recording shall constitute such notice to all persons as is afforded by the recording laws of this state.

51245. If either the landowner or the city or county desires in any year not to renew the contract, that party shall serve written notice of nonrenewal of the contract upon the other party in advance of the annual renewal date of the contract. Unless such written notice is served by the landowner at least 90 days prior to the renewal date or by the city or county at least 60 days prior to the renewal date, the contract shall be considered renewed for 10 years as provided in Section 51244.

51246. If the landowner serves notice of his intent in any year not to renew the contract, the existing contract shall remain in effect for the balance of the period remaining since the original execution or the last renewal of the contract, as the case may be.

51247. If the landowner does not serve notice of intent not to renew the contract and the city or county does not renew it by the annual renewal date, the existing contract shall remain in effect for the balance of the period remaining since the original execution or the last renewal of the contract, as the case may be.

51248. If at any time during the existence of a contract which has not been renewed, the contracting city or county serves notice upon the landowner of its desire to renew the contract, the landowner may renew the contract within 90 days from the date of such notice. The renewal shall extend the contract for a period of 10 years from and after the date of the renewal. Notice of such renewal and the new termination date shall be recorded with the county recorder and such recordation shall have the same effect as provided in Section 51244.

51249. The landowner shall furnish the city or county with such information as the city or county shall require in order to enable it to determine the eligibility of the land involved and the payments which the landowner should receive under the contract.

51250. Whenever a city or county enters into a contract with a landowner pursuant to this chapter, it shall record with the county recorder and file with the Director of Agriculture a copy of the contract, which shall describe the land subject thereto, together with a reference to the map showing the location of the agricultural preserve in which the property lies, and the latter must approve such contract before it becomes effective and operative, but from and after the time of such recordation such contract shall impart such notice thereof to all persons as is afforded by the recording laws of this state.

51251. Whenever an agricultural preserve is established, and so long as it shall be in effect, a map of such agricultural preserve and the ordinance or resolution under which the preserve was established, together with any other ordinance or resolution directly affecting land use within the preserve, shall also be filed and kept current by the city or county with the county recorder and the Director of Agriculture.

51252. The state may bring any action in court necessary to enforce any contract including, but not limited to, an action to enforce the contract by an action for specific performance or injunction relief.

51253. The city council of any city or the board of supervisors of any county entering into a contract may appoint an advisory board the majority of whose members shall be landowners within an agricultural preserve. The members of the advisory board shall serve at the pleasure of the city council or board of supervisors and shall be paid their expenses. They shall advise the city council or board of supervisors on the administration of the agricultural preserves in the city or county and on any matters relating to contracts entered into pursuant to this chapter.

Article 3.5. Agreements

51255. Notwithstanding Section 51242, any city or county may, by agreement, but without payment to the landowner of public funds, limit the use of any land within an agricultural preserve to agricultural or compatible uses. The city or county, upon entering into any such agreement, shall file a copy of the agreement with the Director of Agriculture and shall record the original or a copy thereof, which shall describe the land subject thereto, with the county recorder. From and after the time of such recordation such agreement shall impart such notice thereof to all persons as is afforded by the recording laws of this state.

51256. Any city or county which offers any such agreement to any owner of land in agricultural use within a preserve shall offer agreements on similar terms to any other such owner within the preserve upon his request. Each agreement as to land within a preserve may be made mutually dependent upon any other agreement as to land within that preserve. The length, terms, conditions, and restrictions of such agreements shall be determined by negotiation between the city or county and the landowner. It shall be the policy of the city or county to secure agreements under which there is no reasonable prob ability of the removal or modification of the limitation or restriction within the near future. However, the provisions of this section shall not be construed to require that all agreements entered into upon lands within a preserve be identical, so long as such differences as exist are related to differences in the location and circumstances of the owners of land in agricultural or compatible uses, or pursuant to uniform rules adopted by the city or county.

Article 4. Compensation

51260. The state shall, through the Department of Agriculture, make an annual payment to each city or county which has land under contract pursuant to this chapter as of July 1 of each year, in an amount equal to one dollar ($1) for each acre of land under such a contract. Such payments may be used by the city or county for its costs of administration in carrying out the purposes of this chapter and to make or assist in making any additional payments to the owners of parcels of land under contract.

For the purposes of this article, the city or county shall annually submit to the Director of Agriculture a map showing each agricultural preserve in the city or county and a description of each parcel of land in the preserve that is under contract, the date of each contract, and the amount of payments which will be due under each contract pursuant to this article for the ensuing year.

51261. Payments to any landowner by a city or county pursuant to a contract entered into under this chapter shall be an annual payment of five cents ($0.05) for each one dollar ($1) of the assessed value of the land under contract.

The landowner, however, may waive the obligation of a city or county to make any such payments. Such waiver shall be expressed in the original contract or any subsequent renewals thereof, and shall be in effect for the original or renewal term of the contract. A county or city may require such a waiver by a landowner up to the amount of the assessed valuation of the property at the time of initially entering into the contract, as a condition on entering into the contract. All waivers so required must be pursuant to a uniform rule applicable to all contracts.

51262. The payment scale for the remaining period of an unrenewed contract shall be that percentage of the amount that the landowner would otherwise have been entitled to pursuant to Section 51261 if the contract had been renewed, as shown by the following:

Year	If owner does not renew	If city or county does not renew
2	90%	100%
4	70%	100%

51263. If the land under contract should, during the term of the contract, no longer qualify as prime agricultural land, or not be devoted to an agricultural use, payments under the contract to the landowner shall be suspended and shall not be resumed until the land again should so qualify and be so devoted during the term of the contract.

Article 5. Cancellation

51280 It is hereby declared that the purpose of this article is to provide relief from the provisions of contracts entered into pursuant to this chapter only when the continued dedication of land under such contracts to agricultural use is neither necessary nor desirable for the purposes of this chapter.

51281. A contract may be canceled on the mutual agreement of all parties to the contract, and the state, as provided in this article.

51282. The cancellation of any contract shall not be effective until approved by the Director of Agriculture, upon the recommendation of the State Board of Agriculture. The director shall act only on the request of the parties to the contract as represented by the receipt of the acknowledged cancellation agreement of the landowner and a resolution of the governing body of the city or county.

The State Board of Agriculture may recommend and the Director of Agriculture may approve the cancellation of a contract only if they find:

(a) The cancellation is not inconsistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(b) The cancellation is in the public interest.

The existence of an opportunity for another use of the land involved shall not be sufficient reason for the cancellation of a contract. A potential alternative use of the land may be considered only if there is no proximate, noncontracted land suitable for the use to which it is proposed the contracted land be put.

The uneconomic character of an existing agricultural use shall likewise not be sufficient reason for cancellation of the contract. The uneconomic character of the existing use may be considered only if there is no other reasonable or comparable agricultural use to which the land may be put 51283. (a) Upon the cancellation of any contract, and as soon thereafter as the land to which it relates is reassessed by the assessor, the landowner shall pay to the city or county an amount equal to 50 percent of the new assessed valuation of the property.

(b) If the State Board of Agriculture recommends that it is in the public interest to do so, and the Director of Agriculture so finds, the director may waive any such payment or any portion thereof, or may make such payment or a portion thereof contingent upon the future use made of the land and its economic return to the landowner for a period of time not to exceed the unexpired period of the contract, had it not been canceled, provided:

(1) The cancellation is caused by an involuntary transfer or change in the use which may be made of the land and the land is not immediately suitable, nor will be immediately used, for a purpose which produces a greater economic return to the owner; and

(2) The city or county has recommended to the State Board of Agriculture that no such payment be required, or that the deferment of such payment or portion thereof be allowed, and the board has determined it is in the best interests of the program to conserve agricultural land use that such payment be either deferred or not required.

51284. No contract may be canceled until after the city or county has given notice of, and has held, a public hearing on the matter. Notice of the hearing shall be mailed to each and every owner of property under contract within the agricultural preserve in which the contracted property is located and shall be published pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code.

51285. No contract may be canceled if at the hearing, or prior thereto, the owners of 51 percent of the contracted acreage in the agricultural preserve protest such cancellation to the city or county conducting the hearing.

51286. Notice of cancellation of any contract, executed by the city or county and the Director of Agriculture, shall be recorded with the county recorder. It shall thereafter be conclusively presumed in favor of any bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer that there has been compliance with all the provisions of this article to cancel such contract.

Article 6. Eminent Domain or Other Acquisition

51290. (a) It is the policy of the state to avoid, whenever practicable, the location of any state or local public improvements and any improvements of public utilities, and the acquisition of land therefor, in agricultural preserves.

(b) It is further the policy of the state that whenever it is necessary to locate such improvement within an agricultural preserve, such improvement shall, whenever practicable, be located upon land other than land under a contract pursuant to this chapter.

(c) It is further the policy of the state that any agency or entity proposing to locate such an improvement shall, in considering the relative costs of parcels of land and development of improvements, give consideration to the value to the public, as indicated in Article 2 (commencing with Section 51220), of land (and particularly prime agricultural land) within an agricultural preserve.

51291. (a) As used in this section, Section 51292, and Section 51295 "public agency" means the state, or any department or agency thereof, and any county, city, school district, or other local public district, agency, or entity; and "person" means any person authorized by Section 1001 of the Civil Code to acquire property by eminent domain.

(b) Whenever it appears that land within an agricultural preserve may be required by a public agency or person for a public use, the public agency or person shall advise the Director of Agriculture and the local governing body responsible for the administration of the preserve of the intention to consider the location of a public improvement within the preserve.

Within 30 days thereafter the Director of Agriculture and the local governing body shall forward to the public agency or person concerned their comments with respect to the effect of the location of the public improvement on the land within the agricultural preserve and such comments shall be considered by the public agency or person. Failure of any public agency or person to comply with the requirements of this section shall not invalidate any action by such agency or person to locate a public improvement within an agricultural preserve. However, such failure by any person or any public agency other than a state agency shall be admissible in evidence in any litigation for the acquisition of such land or involving the allocation of funds or the construction of the public improvement.

51292. (a) No public agency or person shall locate a public improvement within an agricultural preserve based primarily on a consideration of the lower cost of acquiring land in an agricultural preserve.

(b) No public agency or person shall acquire prime agricultural land covered under a contract pursuant to this chapter for any public improvement if there is other land within or outside the preserve on which it is reasonably feasible to locate the public improvement.

51293. Section 51292 shall not apply to:

(a) The location or construction of improvements, where the Director of Agriculture or the local governing body administering the agricultural preserve (other than the local governing body proposing to locate the improvement, except as to locations involving only the acquisition of easements within its own boundaries) approves or agrees to the location thereof. In addition, the approval by the Public Utilities Commission of the location of a public utility improvement shall exempt such improvement from the provisions of Section 51292.

(b) The location or construction of the following types of improvements, which are hereby determined to be compatible with or to enhance land within an agricultural preserve:

(1) Flood control works, including channel rectification and alteration.

(2) Public works required for fish and wildlife enhancement and preservation.

(3) Improvements for the primary benefit of the lands within the preserve.

(c) Improvements for which the site or route has been specified by the Legislature in such a manner as to make it impossible to avoid the acquisition of land under contract.

(d) All state highways on routes as described in Sections 301 to 622, inclusive, of the Streets and Highways Code, as said sections read on October 1, 1965.

(e) All facilities which are part of the State Water Facilities as described in subdivision (d) of Section 12934 of the Water Code, except facilities under paragraph (6) of said subdivision (d).

(f) Land upon which condemnation proceedings have been commenced prior to October 1, 1965.

51294. Section 51292 shall be enforceable only by mandamus proceedings by the local governing body administering the agricultural preserve or the Director of Agriculture. However, as applied to condemnors whose determination of necessity is not conclusive by statute, evidence as to the compliance of the condemnor with Section 51292 shall be admissible in any action otherwise authorized to be brought by the landowner or by way of defense in an action against him.

51295. When any permissible action in eminent domain for the condemnation of the fee title of any land under contract is filed or when such land is acquired in lieu of eminent domain for a public improvement by a public agency or person, such contract is null and void as to the land actually being condemned or acquired as of the date the action is filed and thereafter the contract shall not be binding on any party to it.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 448.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

448.5. The Legislature recognizes that certain property and rights owned by a recipient are of negligible value in enabling the recipient to meet his present needs, and cannot be classified as available resources of the recipient. The Legislature also recognizes that the present value of such property and rights is at most nominal when considered for the purpose of computing the net worth of the individual. It is the purpose of this section to designate such property and rights, and to place a value thereon.

For the purposes of evaluating the personal property of a recipient, the following items, in the aggregate, whether acquired prior to or after the effective date of this section, shall be deemed to have a monetary value of thirty-five dollars ($35) if the amount paid for the same does not exceed six hundred fifty dollars ($650), or fifty dollars ($50) if the amount paid for the same does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000):

(a) Money placed in trust for funeral, cremation, or interment expenses

(b) Life or burial insurance purchased for funeral, cremation, or interment expense.

For the purposes of evaluating the personal property of a recipient, interment plots as defined in Section 7022 of the Health and Safety Code shall be deemed to have no value.

The provisions of this section shall be operative only to the extent permitted by federal law

SEC. 2. Section 11158 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as proposed by Assembly Bill 1682 of the 1965 Regular Session is amended to read:

11158. The Legislature recognizes that certain property and rights owned by a recipient, including a recipient of aid to families with dependent children, are of negligible value in enabling the recipient to meet his present needs, and cannot be classified as available resources of the recipient. The Legislature also recognizes that the present value of such property and rights is at most nominal when considered for the purpose of computing the net worth of the individual. It is the purpose of this section to designate such property and rights, and to place a value thereon.

For the purposes of evaluating the personal property of a recipient, the following items, in the aggregate, shall be deemed to have a monetary value of thirty-five dollars ($35) if the amount paid for the same does not exceed six hundred fifty dollars ($650), or fifty dollars ($50) if the amount paid for the same does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000):

(a) Money placed in trust for funeral, cremation, or interment expenses.

(b) Life or burial insurance purchased for funeral, cremation, or interment expense.

For the purposes of evaluating the personal property of a recipient, interment plots as defined in Section 7022 of the Health and Safety Code shall be deemed to have no value.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if the revision of the Welfare and Institutions Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 1682 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1965 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as Assembly Bill No. 1682 takes effect; at which time Section 448.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as amended by Section 1 of this act is repealed.

(b) Renewal of any driver's license shall be made for a term which shall expire on the fourth birthday of the applicant following the expiration of the license renewed except that such renewal of a license shall expire on the third birthday of the applicant following the expiration of the license renewed if within the past two years the applicant has:

Sec. 15. (a) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work of improvement for the benefit of any member unit, as determined in any agreement between the agency and the member unit, or for the benefit of any improvement district, it may determine and declare by resolution the amount of bonds necessary to be issued in each such member unit or improvement district affected for such work of improvement. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution duly certified by the clerk to be filed for record in the office of the Recorder of Kern County if the improvement is for the benefit of an improvement district and with the governing board of such member unit if the improvement is for the benefit of any member unit.

(b) After such resolution has been filed, the board shall call a special bond election in each said member unit or improvement district to submit to the qualified electors of each such member unit or improvement district the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount and for the purposes stated in the resolution.

(c) The special bond election shall be called by ordinance and the board shall submit to the qualified electors of each member unit or improvement district, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in the member unit or member units or improvement district in the amount and for the purposes stated in the resolution and shall recite therein the purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, except that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such purposes, and refer to the copy of the resolution on file with the office of the Recorder of Kern County or with the governing body of the member unit. The ordinance may state that no bonds authorized at the election will be sold until contracts have been executed with member units within the area to be benefited by the improvement which will provide for payments by such member units to the agency sufficient to pay the principal and interest on any such bonds issued. If such a provision is included in the ordinance, no bonds authorized at the election shall be issued until such contracts have been executed. The ordinance shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on the indebtedness and shall fix the date on which the special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on the indebtedness shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. For the purposes of the election, the board shall establish special bond election precincts within the boundaries of each member unit or improvement district and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general elections in the agency, not to exceed six general precincts for each such special bond election precinct. In addition, the ordinance shall designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each special bond election precinct.

The special bond election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the state except as otherwise provided in this act.

The board shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the map to be posted in a prominent place in the office of the agency and the office of the governing body of the member unit affected, if such bonds are for an improvement for the benefit of any member unit, for public inspection at least thirty (30) days before the date of the election.

Said ordinance calling for the special bond election shall be published prior to the date set for such election in a newspaper of general circulation, circulated in the improvement district or member unit or member units affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of the ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before the election, and if there be no such newspaper, then the ordinance shall be posted in five public places designated by the board in the improvement district and in each said affected member unit for at least thirty (30) days before the date of the election. No other notice of election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of the special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. If at such election three-fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds for such improvement district or member unit for the amount stated in the proceedings shall be issued and sold as provided in this act.

SEC. 19. Section 15.1 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 15.1. The board shall prescribe by resolution the form of the bonds which shall include a designation of the improvement district or member units affected, and the form of the interest coupons attached to the bonds. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually, at the discretion of the board, at a day and at a place designated in the bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness is paid.

The board may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series, and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different times from those of any other series. The maturity of each series shall comply with this section. The board may fix a date, not more than five years from the date of issuance, for the earliest maturity of each issue or series of bonds. The final maturity date shall not exceed forty (40) years from the time of incurring the indebtedness evidenced by each issue or series.

The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board may determine, and shall be payable on the days and at the place fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of five per centum (5%) per annum, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairman of the board, and countersigned by the secretary of said agency and the seal of said agency shall be affixed thereto by the secretary of the board. Either or both such signatures may be printed, engraved or lithographed. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the said secretary by his printed, engraved, or lithographed signature. In case any such officer whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such bonds and coupons, and signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 20. Section 15.8 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 15.8. The board may issue and sell the bonds of such improvement district or member units at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the agency to the credit of the respective improvement district or member units thereof, for the uses and purposes of the improvement district or member unit or member units voting said bonds; and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of the agency, and said respective improvement district or member unit funds shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance calling such special bond election.

SEC. 21. Section 15.9 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 15.9. Any bonds issued pursuant to Section 15 of this act, and the interest thereon, shall be paid from revenue received from member units pursuant to any contracts which may be required with such member units by the ordinance passed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 15, and from revenue derived from any taxes levied pursuant to Section 14.1 to raise the amount of delinquencies, if any, of such member units on such contracts, to the extent that such revenues are available. To the extent that such revenues are or are estimated by the board to be insufficient to pay such bonds and interest, or if no such contracts with member units are required by said ordinance, then any bonds issued pursuant to Section 15 of this act, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual tax or assessment levied upon all taxable property, exclusive of mineral rights, within each improvement district or member unit for which such bonds were issued. No member unit nor the property therein nor other lands within the agency shall be liable for the share of bonded indebtedness of any other member unit or improvement district for which bonds are issued under this act, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation or assessments in any of the several member units or improvement districts be used in payment of principal and interest or otherwise of the share of the bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other improvement district or member unit.

SEC. 22. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. If the board by resolution determines that a bonded indebtedness to pay for the acquisition or construction of any works for any purposes of the agency or for refunding any outstanding bonds should be incurred, and can be repaid and liquidated as to both principal and interest from revenues designated by the board, the agency is authorized and shall have the power to define such works as an "enterprise" and to issue revenue bonds all in the manner and as provided in the Revenue Bond Law of 1941, Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 54300) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code and for such purpose the agency shall be considered a "local agency" as defined by Section 54307 of said code.

The board may issue revenue bonds under the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 on behalf of any portion of the agency created as an improvement district pursuant to this act and any election for the issuance of such revenue bonds shall be limited to the area of such improvement district.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2400 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

The commissioner shall administer Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10850) of Division 4, Article 3 (commencing with Section 17300) of Chapter 1 of Division 9, Division 10 (commencing with Section 20000), Division 11 (commencing with Section 21000), except Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 22950), Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), Division 13 (commencing with Section 29000), Division 14 (commencing with Section 31600), Division 14.8 (commencing with Section 34500), Division 15 (commencing with Section 35000), and Division 16 (commencing with Section 36000) except Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 36100) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 36300).

The commissioner shall enforce all laws regulating the operation of vehicles and the use of the highways.

The commissioner shall have full responsibility and primary jurisdiction for the administration and enforcement of such provisions and laws, and for the investigation of traffic accidents, on all state highways constructed as freeways within incorporated areas of the state, provided, however, that city police officers while engaged primarily in general law enforcement duties may incidentally enforce state and local traffic laws and ordinances on state freeways. In any city having either a population in excess of 2,000,000 or an area of more than 300 square miles city police officers shall have full responsibility and primary jurisdiction for the administration and enforcement of such laws and ordinances, unless the city council of any such city shall by resolution request administration and enforcement of such laws by the commissioner.

The moneys so deposited shall be distributed as follows:

(a) Once a month there shall be transferred into the proper funds of the county an amount equal to the fines and for-

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, once a month there shall be transferred into the traffic safety fund of each city in the county an amount equal to 50 percent of all fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon the conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail from any person arrested by a state officer and charged with the commission of a misdemeanor under the Vehicle Code within that city, and an amount equal to the remaining 50 percent shall be transferred to the special road fund of the county.

Once a month there shall be transferred into the general fund of the county an amount equal to that percentage of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon the conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail from any person arrested by a state officer and charged with the commission of a misdemeanor under the Vehicle Code on a state highway constructed as a freeway whereon city police officers enforced the provisions of the Vehicle Code on or before April 1, 1965, within the limits of a city within the county which is set forth in the schedule appearing in subparagraph (c) of this paragraph (1).

(c) Once a month there shall be transferred into the general fund of the county an amount equal to that percentage of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail following arrests made by officers or other persons employed by each city in the county which is set forth in the following schedule:

In any county for which no county percentage is set forth, and in which a city is hereafter created, there shall be transferred to the county general fund 15 percent.

(d) Once a month there shall be transferred to each city in the county an amount equal to the total sum remaining after the transfers provided for in subparagraphs (b) and (c) above have been made of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail following arrests made by officers or other per-

172.6. The provisions of Section 172 of this code shall not apply to the sale, gift, or exposing or offering for sale of alcoholic beverages by a licensee under the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act within the premises occupied by any bona fide club which is situated within 2,000 feet of San Quentin Prison in Marin County, provided the club meets all the following requirements:

(a) The club shall have been organized and have existed in the County of Marin for not less than 25 years continuously.

(b) The club shall have a bona fide membership of not less than 1,000 persons.

(c) The premises occupied by the club are owned by the club or by club members.

CHAPTER 1453

An act to amend Section 17577 of, and to add Section 17580.5 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to personal income taxes.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17577 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17577. (a) Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, a person who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as income therefrom in any taxable year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the gross profit, realized or to be realized when payment is completed, bears to the total contract price.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the total contract price of all sales of personal property on the installment plan includes the amount of carrying charges or interest which is determined with respect to the sales and is added on the books of account of the seller to the established cash selling price of the property. This subdivision shall not apply with respect to sales of personal property under a revolving credit type plan or with respect to sales or other dispositions of property the income from which is, under Section 17578, returned on the basis and in the manner prescribed in subdivision (a).

(c) The amendments in this section shall apply with respect to sales made in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1963.

SEC. 2. Section 17580.5 is added to the code, to read:

17580.5. (a) If the carrying charges or interest with respect to sales of personal property, the income from which is returned under subdivision (a) of Section 17577, is not included in the total contract price, payments received with respect to such sales shall be treated as applying first against the carrying charges or interest. This section shall not apply with respect to sales or other dispositions of property the income from which is, under Section 17578, returned on the basis and in the manner prescribed in subdivision (a) of Section 17577.

(b) This section shall apply with respect to sales made during taxable years beginning after December 31, 1963.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965 Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 105 5 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

105.5. Upon the request of a public agency, as defined by Section 6500 of the Government Code, the department may enter into an agreement with such agency for the construction and maintenance by or on behalf of such agency of facilities for pedestrian, bicycle and other nonmotorized traffic along but outside of the freeway right-of-way where no other suitable facility for such traffic exists and where the department has determined that such facility will not constitute a safety hazard or interfere with the normal flow of traffic. The total cost of construction and maintenance of such facility, the cost of installing and maintaining necessary fences and traffic control devices, and the cost of administering this program by the department shall be borne by the public agency that initiated the request for such facilities. In no event shall the cost of this program be expended from funds that would otherwise be available for state highway construction or maintenance. The right of eminent domain shall not be exercised to acquire property, or any interest in property, for the facilities contemplated pursuant to this section.

SECTION 1. Section 6732.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6732.1. Any person who has been engaged in the practice of engineering exempt from the provisions of the chapter and who submits proof satisfactory to the board that he has engaged in the activities of a "consulting engineer" in private practice for a period of five years prior to the effective date of the amendments made to this section at the 1965 Regular Session shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 6732 as it restricts the use of the title "consulting engineer" if he files application with the board before June 30, 1966, and pays the application fee prescribed by this chapter for registration as a professional engineer, for permission to use that title. Such application shall disclose, under oath, information on the practice and use of the title by the applicant in a recognized engineering activity which has an established curriculum in one or more engineering schools or colleges approved by the board.

The board shall grant an acknowledgment of the filing for the purposes of this section if it finds that the applicant qualified for the exemption provided in this section, and such exemption shall apply so long as the applicant remains in practice and advises the board of any change of address within 30 days of such change. The board may adopt such rules under provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act as are necessary to implement this section.

A person who has been granted permission to use the title "consulting engineer" pursuant to legislation enacted in 1963 shall not be required to apply again pursuant to the amendments to this section enacted at the 1965 Regular Session.

The provisions of Articles 5 (commencing with Section 6775), 6 (commencing with Section 6785), and 7 (commencing with Section 6795) of this chapter shall apply to all persons who are granted permission to use the title "consulting engineer" pursuant to legislation enacted in 1963 and the amendments to this section enacted at the 1965 Regular Session.

SEC. 2. Any revenues derived from the fees or assessments provided by this act shall not be available for expenditure until appropriated.

surface water used or useful in said district, and to commence, maintain and defend actions and proceedings to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger or damage the inhabitants, lands, or use of water in, or flowing into, the district; provided, however, that said district shall not have power to intervene or take part in, or to pay the costs or expenses of, actions or controversies between the owners of lands or water rights which do not affect the interests of the district.

6. To control the flood and storm waters of said district and the flood and storm waters of streams that have their sources outside of said district, but which streams and the floodwaters thereof, flow into said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes of said district by spreading, storing, retaining and causing to percolate into the soil within or without said district, or to save or conserve in any manner all or any of such waters and protect from damage from such flood or storm waters the watercourses, watersheds, public highways, life and property in said district, and the watercourses outside of the district of streams flowing into the district.

7. To enter upon any land, to make surveys and locate the necessary works of improvement and the lines for channels, conduits, canals, pipelines, roadways and other rights-of-way; to acquire by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, gift, devise, or other legal means all lands and water and water rights and other property necessary or convenient for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvement of said works, including works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for storage of necessary water, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said end, and for said purposes and uses, to acquire and to hold in the name of the state, the capital stock of any mutual water company or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning water or water rights, canals, waterworks, franchises, concessions, or rights, when the ownership of such stock is necessary to secure a water supply required by the district or any part thereof, upon the condition that when holding such stock, the district shall be entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges, and shall be subject to all the obligations and liabilities conferred or imposed by law upon other holders of such stock in the same company; to cooperate with, act in conjunction with, enter into and to do any acts necessary for the proper performance of any agreement with the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments, or agencies, or with the government of the United States, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments, or agencies, or with any state, city and county, city, county, district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them, for the ownership, joint acquisition, leasing, disposition, use, management, construc-

8. To carry on technical and other necessary investigations, make measurements, collect data, make analyses, studies, and inspections pertaining to water supply, water rights, control of flood and storm waters, and use of water both within and without said district relating to watercourses or streams flowing in or into said district, and in all cases where land may be required for public use by said district, the district, or its agents in charge of such use, shall have the right of access to all properties within the district and elsewhere relating to watercourses and streams flowing in or into said district and may survey and locate the same; but such must be located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury. The district, or its agents in charge of such public use may enter upon such lands and make examinations, surveys, and maps thereof.

9. To prescribe, revise and collect fees and charges for facilities furnished or to be furnished to any new building, improvement or structure by the use of any flood control or storm drainage system constructed or to be constructed in a zone of the district, and whenever a drainage or flood control problem is referred to the district by the County of Santa Clara, or any incorporated city therein, to require the installation of drainage or flood control improvements necessary and/or convenient for needs of the zone, including but not limited to, residential, subdivision, commercial and industrial drainage and flood control needs, said county and cities being hereby authorized to refer all drainage and flood control problems, arising under the Subdivision Map Act or otherwise, to the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District for solution. Revenues derived under this section shall be used for the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, maintenance and operation of the flood control or storm drainage facilities of the said zone, to reduce the principal or interest of any bonded indebtedness thereof, or to replace funds expended on behalf of said zone derived from the fund created under authority of Section 13, subdivision 1.

14. To pay to any city, public agency or district a portion of the cost of water imported by such city, public agency or district into, for use within, and of benefit to the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District.

15. To establish designated floodways in accordance with the provisions of the Cobey-Alquist Flood Plain Management Act (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 8400), Part 2, Division 5 of the Water Code).

SEC. 2. Section 26.1 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26.1. As used in connection with the ground water charge, the following words shall mean:

"Person," "owner" or "operator" means public agencies, federal, state, and local, private corporations, firms, partnerships, individuals or groups of individuals, whether legally organized or not; "owner" or "operator" also means the person to whom a water-producing facility is assessed by the county assessor, or, if not separately assessed, the person who owns the land upon which a water-producing facility is located.

"Ground water" means all water beneath the earth's surface, but does not include water which is produced with oil in the production of oil and gas, or in a bona fide mining operation, or during construction operations, or from gravity or artesian springs.

"Production" or "producing" means the act of extracting ground water by pumping or otherwise.

"Water-producing facility" means any device or method, mechanical or otherwise, for the production of water from the ground water supplies within the district or a zone thereof.

"Accumulated overdraft" means the amount of ground water necessary to be replaced in the ground water basins or zones of the district to prevent the movement of saline water into the fresh ground water body, or to prevent ground water quality degradation from other sources, or to prevent subsidence of the land.

"Average annual overdraft" means the amount of ground water equal to the average annual decrease in the amount of ground water in storage that occurs during a long-term base hydrologic period under the particular set of physical conditions presently affecting the supply, use, and disposal of water in the ground water basins and the zones.

"Annual water supply surplus or deficiency" means the amount by which the summation of the items of water supply exceeds or is smaller than the summation of the items of water disposal under actual conditions in the area and during the year under consideration.

"Water year" means July 1st of one calendar year to June 30th of the following calendar year.

"Agricultural water" means water first used on lands in the production of plant crops or livestock for market.

SEC. 3. Section 26.5 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26.5. The district engineer shall annually prepare an investigation and report upon ground water conditions of the ground water basins or the zones of the district. The investigation and report shall include, among other information which the district may desire, information for the consideration of the board in its determination of the annual water supply surplus or deficiency, the accumulated overdraft, the production of ground water, and the configuration of the ground water table at the end of the preceding water year for the ground water basins or zones of the district, an estimate of the annual water supply surplus or deficiency and ground water production for the current water year and ensuing water year for the ground water basins or zones of the district; and the amount of water the district is obligated to purchase during the ensuing water year.

SEC. 4. Section 26.6 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26 6. On the second Tuesday in March of each year the engineering investigation and report shall be delivered to the clerk of the district board in writing. Said clerk shall publish, pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code, a notice of the receipt of such report and of the public hearing to be held on the second Tuesday of April in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district, at least 10 days prior to the date at which the public hearing regarding said engineering investigation and report shall be held. Said notice, among other information which the district may provide therein, shall contain an invitation to all operators of water-producing facilities within the district to call at the offices of the district to examine said engineering investigation and report.

There shall be held by the board on the second Tuesday of April of each year, in the chambers of the board, a public hearing at which time any operator of a water-producing facility within the district, or any person interested in the condition of the ground water supplies or the surface water supplies of the district, may in person, or by representative, appear and submit evidence concerning the ground water conditions and the surface water supplies of the district. Appearances also may be made supporting or protesting said written engineering investigation and report. The board shall, before the levy of the ground water charge, find and determine for each ground water basin or zone of the district the annual water supply surplus or deficiency for the preceding water year; the estimated annual water supply surplus or deficiency for the current water year and ensuing water year; the accumulated overdraft as of the end of the preceding water year; the amount of ground water extracted in the preceding water year; the estimated amount of ground water to be extracted during the current water year and ensuing water year; the configuration of the ground water table at the end of the preceding water year and changes from the previous year; and the amount of water the district is obligated by contract to purchase in the ensuing water year.

Said findings and determinations by the board shall be conclusive and binding upon all persons and parties.

SEC. 5. Section 26.8 of said act is amended to read:

Sec 26.8. The district, after the levying of the ground water charge, shall give notice thereof to each owner or operator of each water-producing facility in the zone or zones as disclosed by the records of said district, which notice shall state the rate for each class of water of the ground water charge for each acre-foot of water to be produced during the ensuing water year. Said notice may be sent by postal card or by other first-class mail and with postage prepaid by the district.

SEC. 6. Section 26.9 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26 9. After the establishment of a zone in which a ground water charge may be levied, each owner or operator of a water-producing facility within said zone, until such time as said water-producing facility has been permanently abandoned, shall file with the district, on or before the 31st day of January and on or before the 31st day of July in each year, a statement setting forth the total production in acre-feet of water for the preceding six-months period (excluding the month in which the statement is due), a general description or number locating each water-producing facility, the method or basis of the computation of such water production, and the amount of the ground water charge based on such computation. If no water has been produced from said water-producing facility during the preceding six-months period, said statement shall be filed as provided for herein, setting forth that no water has been produced during said period. Said statement shall be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. The ground water charge is payable to the district on or before the last date upon which the water production statements shall be filed, and is computed by multiplying the production in acre-feet of water for each classification as disclosed in the statement by the ground water charge for each classification of water. At such time as any said water-producing facility has been permanently abandoned, the operator thereof shall give written notice of such abandonment to the district. If any operator of a water-producing facility shall fail to pay the ground water charge when due, the district shall charge interest at the rate of one percent (1%) each month on the delinquent amount of the ground water charge.

Should any owner or operator of a water-producing facility fail to register each water-producing facility, or fail to file the water production statements as required by this act, the district shall, in addition to charging interest as provided herein, assess a penalty charge against such owner or operator in an amount of ten percent (10%) of the amount found by said district to be due, except in those cases where payment in the proper amount has been made within the time required by this act and the failure to register the water-producing facility or to file the water production statement within the time required by this act resulted, in the opinion of the board, from excusable and justifiable circumstances, in which case the board may reduce the penalty to an amount of not less than one percent (1%) of said amount found to be due.

When a water-measuring device is permanently attached to a water-producing facility, the record of production as disclosed by such water-measuring device shall be presumed to be accurate and shall be used as the basis for computing the water production of said water-producing facility in completing the water production statement, unless it can be shown that the water-measuring device is not measuring accurately.

When a water-measuring device is not permanently attached to a water-producing facility, the board may establish a method or methods to be used in computing the amount of water produced from such water-producing facilities.

Such methods may be based upon any, or all, or a combination of some of the following criteria: the minimum charge sufficient to cover administrative costs of collection, size of water-producing facility discharge opening, area served by the water-producing facility, number of persons served by the water-producing facility, use of land served by the water-producing facility, crops grown on land served by the water-producing facility, or any other criteria which may be used to determine with reasonable accuracy the amount of water produced from such water-producing facility.

SEC. 7. Section 26.13 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26.13. If the district has probable cause to believe that the production of water from any water-producing facility is in excess of that disclosed by the sworn statements covering such water-producing facility, or if no statements are filed covering any water-producing facility, the district may cause an investigation and report to be made concerning the production of water from each such water-producing facility. The district may fix the amount of water production from any such water-producing facility at an amount not to exceed the maximum production capacity of such water-producing facility; provided, however, where a water-measuring device is permanently attached thereto, the record of production, as disclosed by such water-measuring device, shall be presumed to be accurate.

After such determination has been made by the district, a written notice thereof shall be mailed to the person operating such water-producing facility at his address as shown by the district's records. Any such determination made by the district shall be conclusive on all persons having an interest in such water-producing facility, and the ground water charge, interest and penalties thereon, shall be paid forthwith, unless such person files with the board within 10 days after the mailing of such notice, a written protest setting forth the ground or grounds for protesting the amount of production so fixed. Upon the filing of such protest, the board thereafter shall hold a hearing at which time the total amount of the water production and the ground water charge thereon shall be determined, which shall be conclusive if based upon substantial evidence. A notice of such hearing shall be mailed to the protestant at least 10 days before the date fixed for the hearing. Notice of the determination by the board shall be mailed to each protestant, who shall have 20 days from the date of mailing to pay the ground water charge, interest or penalties provided by the provisions of this act.

Notice as required in this section shall be given by deposit thereof in any postal facility regularly maintained by the government of the United States in a sealed envelope with postage paid, addressed to the person on whom it is served at his name and address as disclosed by the records of the district. The service is complete at the time of deposit.

SEC. 8. Section 26.16 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 26.16. Any person who injures, alters, removes, resets, adjusts, manipulates, obstructs or in any manner interferes or tampers with or procures or causes or directs any person to injure, alter, remove, reset, adjust, manipulate, obstruct or in any manner interfere or tamper with any water-measuring device affixed to any water-producing facility as required by this act, so as to cause said water-measuring device to improperly or inaccurately measure and record said water production, or any person who willfully does not file with the district a water production statement as prescribed and within the time required by this act, or any person who willfully removes or breaks a seal attached to an abandoned water-producing facility, or any person who with intent to evade any provision or requirement of this act files with the district any false or fraudulent water production statement is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 9. Section 26.17 is added to said act, to read:

Sec 26.17. In implementing the enforcement of the provisions of this act relating to ground water charges, the district shall have the power, in addition to the powers enumerated elsewhere in this act:

1. To install and maintain water-measuring devices, and other devices which will aid in determining accurate water production, on water-producing facilities not owned by the district.

2. To affix seals to water-producing facilities which the owner or operator thereof has declared to be abandoned, or are in fact permanently abandoned.

3. To enter on to any land for the purposes enumerated in this section and for the purpose of making investigations relating to water production.

SEC. 10. Section 1 of this act shall become operative only if the Cobey-Alquist Flood Plain Management Act (Ch. 4 (commencing with Section 8400), Part 2, Division 5 of the Water Code) as proposed by Senate Bill No. 777 and Assembly Bill No. 968 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1965 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as such act becomes effective.

SEC. 11 This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The financial stability of the district to which this act relates will be substantially impaired unless the amendments proposed by this act are in effect prior to July 1 when the time for collection of ground water charges begins.

CHAPTER 1467

An act to amend Section 5501 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the commitment of mentally disordered sex offenders

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5501 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5501. (a) When a person is convicted of any criminal offense, whether or not a sex offense, the trial judge, on his own motion, or on motion of the prosecuting attorney, or on application by affidavit by or on behalf of the defendant, if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that there is probable cause for believing such a person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter, may adjourn the proceeding or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and may certify the person for hearing and examination by the superior court of the county to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter. Conviction upon a charge of violation of Section 290 of the Penal Code by failure to register as required thereby is conviction of a criminal offense within the meaning of this subdivision.

(b) When a person is convicted of a sex offense involving a child under 14 years of age and it is a misdemeanor, and the person has been previously convicted of a sex offense in this or any other state, the court shall adjourn the proceeding or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and shall certify the person for hearing and examination by the superior court of the county to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter.

(c) When a person is convicted of a sex offense involving a child under 14 years of age and it is a felony, the court shall adjourn the proceeding or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and shall certify the person for hearing and examination by the superior court of the county to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter.

(d) When a person over the age of 16 years has been found by the juvenile court to be a person described by Section 601 or 602 of this code and adjudged to be a ward of the court, the juvenile court judge on his own motion, or on motion of the probation officer, or on application by affidavit by or on behalf of the ward, if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that there is probable cause for believing such person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter, may adjourn the proceeding and may certify the person for hearing and examination by the superior court of the county to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter.

When an affidavit is filed under (a) or (d) it shall be substantially in the form specified for the affidavit of mental illness in Section 5049 of this code except that the title and body of the affidavit shall refer to such person as "an alleged mentally disordered sex offender" and shall state fully the facts upon which the allegation that the person is a mentally disordered sex offender is based. If the person is then before the court or is in custody, the court may order that the person be detained in a place of safety until the issue and service of a warrant of apprehension as provided by this chapter.

When the court certifies the person for hearing and examination by the superior court of the county to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender, the court shall transmit to the superior court its certification to that effect, accompanied by a statement of the court's reasons for finding that there is probable cause for believing such person is a mentally disordered sex offender within the meaning of this chapter in cases certified under (a) or (d), or a statement of the facts making such certification mandatory under (b) or (c).

The judge or justice presiding in such court, whenever it is deemed necessary or advisable, may issue and deliver to some peace officer for service, a warrant directing that the person be apprehended and taken before a judge of the superior court for a hearing and examination to determine whether the person is a mentally disordered sex offender. The officer shall thereupon apprehend and detain the person until a hearing and examination can be had. At the time of the apprehension a copy of the affidavit if one was filed, the certification, accompanied by the court's statement, and the warrant shall be personally delivered to the person and copies thereof shall also be delivered to the superior court to which the person was certified and to the district attorney of the county.

The warrant of apprehension shall be substantially in the form provided by Section 5050.1 of this code for the apprehension of a person alleged to be mentally ill.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14011 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14011. The director may sell or lease excess right-of-way parcels to municipalities or other local agencies for public purposes, and may accept as all or part of the consideration for such sale or lease any substantial benefits the state will derive from the municipality or other local agency's undertaking maintenance or landscaping costs which would otherwise be the obligation of the state.

CHAPTER 1469

The director may also authorize temporary removal or temporary release of any inmate under custody for the purpose of furnishing to the inmate medical treatment not available at the prison or institution or for purposes preparatory to a scheduled parole. Removal or release for purposes preparatory to a scheduled parole shall not be effected earlier than 90 days before the parole release date. When an inmate is temporarily removed or temporarily released for a purpose preparatory to parole, the director may require the inmate to reimburse the state, in whole or part, for expenses incurred by the state in connection therewith.

CHAPTER 1470

An act to add Section 13197.8 to the Education Code, relating to the public schools.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13197.8 is added to the Education Code, to read:

13197.8. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 13197.5, the State Board of Education may issue a special designated subjects teaching credential in a modern foreign language (the language to be designated) to any person who demonstrates a foreign language fluency and who desires to teach that foreign language in the public schools.

The special credential shall be limited to persons teaching a modern foreign language in the elementary grades to and including grade 8 in any school district. The special credential shall authorize the teaching in the public schools of the modern foreign language designated on the credential. The special credential shall be issued for two-year periods and may be renewed for two-year periods by the State Board of Education upon the request of the special credential holder and with the recommendation of the school district. A special credential shall not be renewed more than twice.

The State Department of Education shall prescribe appropriate rules and regulations for application for the special credential, except that in no case shall the applicant be required to meet other than the following academic requirements:

(a) Competence in aural understanding, speaking, reading, and writing the foreign language named in the credential, demonstrated by passing an examination or examinations as the State Board of Education shall provide; or, alternatively, upon the certification of the department chairman of any approved college or university offering graduate courses for credit in that foreign language that such person demonstrates such competency; or, alternatively, the successful completion in an approved institution of coursework in the speaking, reading, and writing of the language in an amount of not less than 30 semester hours; and

(b) A baccalaureate or higher degree from an institution approved by the State Board of Education, here or abroad; and

(c) Reasonable competence in, and understanding of, the English language.

It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to facilitate the purposes of Section 7604(c)(2) of the Education Code, (which requires instruction in a foreign language or languages in grades 6, 7 and 8) by enabling and authorizing school districts to obtain the services of qualified, capable individuals, fluent in a modern foreign language, who desire to teach that language; but who cannot otherwise be employed without fulfilling certain teacher credential requirements. It is the further intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this act be liberally construed to the end that maximum employment of qualified applicants for the special credential authorized by this act may be encouraged, consistent with sound educational standards.

SECTION 1. Section 13199 is added to the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1474

An act to amend Sections 22810 and 22840 of the Government Code, relating to medical and hospital care for state officers and employees under the Meyers-Geddes Act.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22810 of the Government Code is amended to read:

22810. Any employee or annuitant may, in the manner, and under such eligibility rules as the board may by regulation prescribe, enroll in an approved health benefits plan, either as an individual or for self and family. The regulations may provide for the exclusion of employees on the basis of the nature and type of their employment or conditions pertaining thereto, such as, but not limited to, short-term appointments, seasonal or intermittent employment, and employment of a like nature, but no employee or group of employees shall be excluded solely on the basis of the hazardous nature of the employment. Any such enrollment shall authorize the deduction of the contributions required under this part from the employee's or annuitant's salary or retirement allowance.

Any annuitant who, at the time he became an annuitant was enrolled in a health benefits plan, may continue his enrollment as provided by regulations of the board, without discrimination as to premium rates or benefit coverage.

The board shall, by rule and regulation, make such provision as it deems necessary to eliminate or minimize the impact of adverse selection which would affect any plans approved or contracted for, because of enrollment of annuitants.

Enrollments in a health benefits plan under this part may not be effective prior to January 1, 1962. If any employee or annuitant is participating in an approved plan immediately prior to his enrollment under this part, and if he chooses to enroll in the same plan, his enrollment for purposes of the state's contribution shall not interrupt continuous coverage under the plan.

SEC. 2. Section 22840 of said code is amended to read:

22840. For all plans which the state has approved or entered into a contract there shall be maintained in the State Treasury a State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund to which shall be credited, from time to time as determined by the board, amounts determined by the board and contributed under Section 22826 to provide an adequate contingency reserve. The income derived from any dividends, rate adjustments, or other refunds by a plan shall be credited to the fund.

The board may invest funds in the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund in accordance with the provisions of law governing its investment of the retirement fund.

The State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund may be utilized to defray increases in future rates, to reduce the contributions of employees and annuitants and the state, or to increase the benefits provided by any plan to the extent that amounts in the account are derived from that plan, as determined from time to time by the board. Said fund is appropriated for such purposes to the extent of all amounts credited to it other than the state's contribution for administrative expenses, and for administrative expense to the extent of the state's contribution for such purpose.

The total amount to be credited to the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund for all purposes other than administrative expense for any one fiscal year shall not exceed 3 percent of the total of all contributions of the state and employees and annuitants during any fiscal year.

The total credited to the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund at any time, for all purposes other than administrative expense, shall be limited, in the manner and to the extent the board may find to be most practical, to a maximum of 10 percent of the total of the contributions of the state and employees and annuitants in any fiscal year. The board may undertake such action as will insure that the maximum amount prescribed for the fund is approximately maintained.

Board rules adopted pursuant to Section 22810 to minimize the impact of adverse selection because of enrollment of annuitants may provide for deposit in and disbursement to carriers from the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund of such portion of the contributions otherwise payable directly to the carriers by the Controller under Section 22841 as may be required for such purpose. The fund is appropriated for such purpose in addition to the other purposes specified in this section. Such deposits shall not be included in applying the limitations, prescribed in this section, on total amounts which may be deposited in or credited to the fund.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on October 1, 1965.

CHAPTER 1475

An act to add Chapter 3.6 (commencing with Section 31240) to Division 22 of the Education Code, relating to fellowships for graduate study.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3.6 (commencing with Section 31240) is added to Division 22 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.6. FELLOWSHIPS FOR GRADUATE STUDY

31240. There is hereby created a state competitive graduate fellowship program with fellowships to be provided by the state and used by award winners for graduate study in colleges and universities located in California and accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. As used in this section "graduate study" shall mean that phase of education coming after the completion of the baccalaureate degree and leading toward a recognized graduate degree.

31241. The general purposes of the fellowship program are to afford opportunity for graduate study to unusually able persons giving promise in the scholarly world and to produce a greater supply of competent teachers. The primary emphasis of the fellowship program shall be to produce a larger number of college and university teachers for all subject fields, but particularly for those subject fields experiencing a critical shortage of teachers. The awards shall be tenable for graduate work in the sciences, social sciences, humanities, the arts, mathematics, engineering, business, education, and any other related discipline determined by the administering body of the graduate fellowship program to be experiencing a shortage of teachers. The relative shortage of qualified college and university teachers in a particular field shall be considered by the commission in granting awards.

31242. The program for granting fellowships for graduate study shall be conducted under the general supervision of the State Scholarship Commission, with the aid and advice of a committee of nine members appointed by the commission and composed of college and university teachers and graduate deans from the colleges and universities in California accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The State Scholarship Commission shall prescribe the forms for all applications and certificates required in connection with the fellowship program. The State Scholarship Commission shall, from time to time, adopt such rules and regulations as it may determine not in conflict with this chapter as may be necessary, or appropriate, for effecting the provisions of this chapter.

31243. Awards shall be for one academic year of graduate study, plus one summer term if necessary to the student's program except that the graduate fellowship may be renewed under extraordinary circumstances as determined by the State Scholarship Commission. Awards of graduate fellowships shall be made upon a competitive basis. The State Scholarship Commission may take into account such factors as the following:

(a) Grades at the undergraduate level in the subject field in which the student wishes to do graduate work.

(b) Grades in the total undergraduate program.

(c) Aptitude for graduate work in the subject field, insofar as it is measurable.

(d) General aptitude for graduate study, insofar as it is measurable.

(e) Financial need of the student as an individual, independent in his own right.

31244. The graduate study fellowships shall be awarded:

(a) Without regard to race, religion, creed or sex.

(b) Only to students who indicate by declaration their intent to teach in higher education in California.

(c) For not more than one academic year, plus one summer term if necessary, except as provided in Section 31243.

31245. No person shall be granted a fellowship unless:

(a) He is a resident of California.

(b) He has received, or will have received, a baccalaureate degree prior to time of enrollment in a graduate school.

31246. Candidates for the awards shall apply for the awards to the State Scholarship Commission and comply with all of the rules and regulations adopted by the State Scholarship Commission for the award, regulation and administration of the state graduate fellowship program pursuant to this chapter.

31247. There shall be graduate fellowships for the academic year 1966–1967, and each academic year thereafter, equal in number to 1 percent of the total number of baccalaureate degrees awarded during the next preceding academic year by colleges and universities located in California and accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The amount of each award shall be calculated according to the following stipulations based upon the applicant's financial need, independent in his own right, not to exceed full cost of tuition and regular fees for one year at the institution which the student attends.

31248. Awards shall be made for full-time graduate study, as defined by the institution which the student attends. Fellowship holders may receive an additional maximum income of one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) per academic year through teaching assistantships and other fellowships. Any income received through teaching assistantships or other fellowships in excess of one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800) will be deducted from the basic stipend as determined by the State Scholarship Commission.

31249. The candidates for the award must apply for the awards to the State Scholarship Commission and comply with all the rules and regulations adopted by the State Scholarship Commission for the award regulation and the administration of the state graduate fellowship program pursuant to this chapter.

31250. The award may be in a lump sum or in periodic payments as determined by the commission.

31251. The Legislature hereby declares that it regards the furtherance of a greater supply of competent teachers in higher education to be a public purpose of great importance, and further declares the establishment of graduate fellowships pursuant to this chapter to be desirable and a necessary method of increasing the number of faculty who will teach in higher education in California. The Legislature declares that it is to the benefit of the state to assist in the development of the talents of able students in graduate education.

CHAPTER 1476

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1120 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1120. When a trust created by a will continues after distribution, the superior court shall not lose jurisdiction of the estate by final distribution, but shall retain jurisdiction for the purpose of determining to whom the property shall pass and be delivered upon final or partial termination of the trust, to the extent that such determination is not concluded by the decree of distribution, of settling the accounts and passing upon the acts of the trustee, of authorizing the trustee to accept additions to the trust from sources other than the estate of the decedent, and for the other purposes hereinafter set forth. Any trustee appointed by will, or appointed to execute a trust created by will, may, from time to time pending the execution of his trust, or at the termination thereof, render for settlement his accounts and report his acts as such trustee, before the superior court in which the will was probated. For that purpose, the trustee, or, in the case of his death, his legal representatives, shall present to the court his verified account and report, setting forth his accounts in detail, reporting his acts as trustee, and showing the condition of the trust estate.

The court may hear any such petition and instruct or authorize the trustee by order rendered before or after any distribution to him. When the trustee files any such petition before any distribution of the estate to him, he shall, in addition to any other notice required, cause notice of the hearing to be mailed to the personal representative and shall further cause notice of the hearing to be mailed to all persons, including heirs, legatees and devisees, at their last known address, to whom the court may order such notice given, and shall, upon filing the petition and before giving notice thereof, secure from the court an order designating the persons in addition to the personal representative and the beneficiaries to whom the court requires that notice be given, or an order that notice to the personal representative and the beneficiaries is the only notice that shall be required.

When it appears from the allegations of the petition that the trustee seeks instructions to exercise a power not conferred upon him the petition shall set forth the particulars of and the necessity for the action sought to be taken.

The clerk shall set the hearing upon the account and report or petition for settlement or instructions and give notice thereof for the period and in the manner required by Section 1200 of this code. The trustee shall cause notice of the hearing to be mailed to the beneficiaries, including all persons in being who shall or may participate in the corpus or income of the trust, at their last known addresses, as provided in said Section 1200, whether they have requested special notice or given notice of appearance or not. In addition to the above notice, when the petition relates to the exercise of a power not conferred, a copy of the petition shall be attached to and mailed with copies of the notice which are mailed and the court or judge shall, at least 10 days before such return day, appoint a suitable person who shall appear and act as guardian ad litem of any person or persons of a designated class, who are not ascertained, or who are not in being, and who may become beneficiaries or may so participate in the trust. If this area is acquired by the director, it shall be known as the "Frank W. Reynolds Memorial Grove." The Department of Public Works shall acquire that portion of the area necessary or desirable for the proposed U.S. 101 highway.

The acquisition of such area needed for park purposes shall be accomplished pursuant to the Property Acquisition Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 15850), Division 3, Title 2, Government Code) from funds appropriated for state park land acquisition by Item 338(a) of the Budget Act of 1965.

CHAPTER 1483

An act to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3700), Division 3, Public Resources Code, relating to geothermal energy and associated resources.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3700) is added to Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. GEOTHERMAL ENERGY AND ASSOCIATED RESOURCES

3700. It is hereby found and determined that the people of the State of California have a direct and primary interest in the development of geothermal energy, and that the State of California, through the authority vested in the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, should exercise its power and jurisdiction to require that wells for the discovery and production of geothermal energy be drilled, operated, maintained and abandoned in such manner as to safeguard life, health, property, and the public welfare, and to encourage maximum economic recovery.

3701. For the purposes of this chapter, "geothermal energy" shall mean the natural heat of the earth and the energy, in whatever form, below the surface of the earth present in, resulting from, or created by, or which may be extracted from, such natural heat.

3702. "Geothermal area" means the same general surface area which is underlaid, or reasonably appears to be underlaid, by geothermal energy.

3703. "Well" means any well for the discovery of geothermal energy or any well on lands producing geothermal energy or reasonably presumed to contain geothermal energy.

3704. "Department", in reference to the government of this state, means the Department of Conservation.

3705. "Division", in reference to the government of this state, means the Division of Oil and Gas in the Department of Conservation.

3706. "Director" means the Director of Conservation.

3707. "Supervisor" means the State Oil and Gas Supervisor.

3708. "Person" includes any individual, firm, association, corporation, or any other group or combination acting as a unit.

3709. "Operator" means any person drilling, maintaining, operating, pumping, or in control of any well.

3710. "Owner" includes "operator" when any well is operated or has been operated or is about to be operated by any person other than the owner.

3711. "Operator" includes "owner" when any well is or has been or is about to be operated by or under the direction of the owner.

3712. This chapter shall be liberally construed to meet its purposes, and the director and the supervisor shall have all powers which may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

3713. "Board" means the Geothermal Energy Board.

3714. The State Oil and Gas Supervisor shall so supervise the drilling, operation, maintenance and abandonment of geothermal energy wells as to encourage the greatest ultimate economic recovery of geothermal energy, and to prevent damage to, and waste from, the underground geothermal deposits, and to prevent damage to underground and surface waters suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes by reason of the drilling, operation, maintenance, and abandonment of geothermal energy wells.

3715. The supervisor shall also supervise the drilling, operation, maintenance, and abandonment of wells so as to permit the owners or operators of such wells to utilize all methods and practices known to the industry for the purpose of increasing the ultimate recovery of geothermal energy and which, in the opinion of the supervisor, are suitable for such purpose in each proposed case. In order to further the elimination of waste by increasing the recovery of geothermal energy it is hereby declared as a policy of this state that the grant in geothermal energy lease or contract to a lessee or operator of the right or power, in substance, to explore for and remove all geothermal energy from any lands in the State of California, in the absence of an express provision to the contrary contained in such lease or contract, is deemed to allow the lessee or contractor or his successors or assigns, to do what a prudent operator using reasonable diligence would do, having in mind the best interests of the lessor, lessee and the state, in producing and removing geothermal energy; provided, however, nothing contained in this section imposes a legal duty upon such lessee or contractor, his successors or assigns, to conduct such operations.

3716. The district deputy in each district shall collect all information regarding the wells in the district necessary for the proper supervision of such wells. He shall prepare maps and other accessories necessary to determine the underground conditions in a geothermal area and the location and extent of strata bearing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes or surface water suitable for such purposes. This work shall be done with the view to advising the operators as to the best means of protecting the geothermal energy deposits and the water-bearing strata and surface water, and with a view to aiding the supervisor in ordering tests or repair work at wells. All such data shall be kept on file in the office of the district deputy of the respective district, and copies thereof shall be forwarded to the Director of Water Resources, the State Geologist, and the appropriate regional water pollution control board located in the area involved, subject to the provisions of Section 3752.

3717. The supervisor shall notify the Department of Fish and Game, the Department of Water Resources and the regional water pollution control board in the area affected of the location, operation, maintenance, and abandonment of all wells.

3718. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as superseding any of the provisions of Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code or Division 6 (commencing with Section 5650) of the Fish and Game Code.

3719. The supervisor may publish any publications, reports, maps, statistical data or other printed matter relating to geothermal energy, for which there may be public demand. If these publications, reports, maps, statistical data or other printed matter are sold, they shall be sold at cost, and the proceeds shall be deposited in the petroleum and gas fund to the credit of the geothermal energy account.

3720. For the purposes of this chapter, the state is divided into six districts as provided for in Section 3150 of this code.

3721. Every owner or operator of any well shall designate an agent, giving his post office address, who resides in this state, upon whom may be served all orders, notices, and processes of the supervisor, a board, or any court of law. Every person so appointing an agent shall, within five days after the termination of any such agency, notify the supervisor, in writing, of such termination, and unless operations are discontinued, shall appoint a new agent.

3722. The owner or operator of any well shall notify the supervisor or the district deputy, in writing, in such form as the supervisor or the district deputy may direct, of the sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance, or exchange by the owner or operator of such well, and the land, owned or leased, upon which the well is located, within five days after such sale assignment, transfer, conveyance, or exchange. The notice shall contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the person to whom such well was sold, assigned, transferred, conveyed, or exchanged.

(b) The name and location of the well.

(c) The date of the sale, assignment, transfer, conveyance or exchange.

(d) The date when possession was relinquished by the owner or operator.

(e) A description of the land upon which the well is situated.

3723. Every person who acquires the ownership or operation of any well, whether by purchase, transfer, assignment, conveyance, exchange, or otherwise, shall, within five days after acquiring the well and the land, owned or leased, upon which it is located, notify the supervisor or the district deputy, in writing, of his ownership or operation. The notice shall contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the person from whom the well was acquired.

(b) The name and location of the well.

(c) The date of acquisition.

(d) The date when possession was acquired.

(e) A description of the land upon which the well is situated.

3724. The owner or operator of any well, before commencing the original drilling of a well or the redrilling of an abandoned well, shall file with the supervisor or the district deputy a written notice of intention to commence drilling, accompanied by the fee prescribed by this section. The notice shall contain the following:

(a) The location and elevation of the floor of the proposed derrick.

(b) The number or other designation by which the well shall be known. Such number or designation shall be subject to the approval of the supervisor.

(c) The owner's or operator's estimate of the depths between which production will be attempted.

(d) Such other pertinent data as the supervisor may require on the printed forms to be supplied by the Division of Oil and Gas, or on forms acceptable to the supervisor.

After the completion of any well the provisions of this section, other than the requirement of the payment of the fee, shall also apply, as far as may be, to the deepening or redrilling of the well, or any operation involving the plugging of the well, or any operations permanently altering in any manner the casing of the well. The number or designation by which any well heretofore drilled has been known, and the number or designation specified for any well in a notice filed as required by this section, shall not be changed without first obtaining a written consent of the supervisor.

The fee required to be filed for the drilling of a new well or the redrilling of an abandoned well, shall be at least two hundred dollars ($200) but not more than five hundred dollars ($500), as determined by the board based on the record of the cost of supervising the geothermal energy operations. Until such time as sufficient cost data is available, the board is authorized to set the fee at the maximum rate.

All moneys received under this chapter shall be deposited in the Petroleum and Gas Fund to the credit of an account to be known as the Geothermal Energy Account which is hereby appropriated for the purposes of this chapter.

3725 Every person who engages in the drilling, redrilling, or deepening of any well shall file with the supervisor an indemnity bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each well drilled, redrilled, or deepened. The bond shall be filed with the supervisor at the time of the filing of the notice of intention to drill, redrill, or deepen provided for in Section 3724. The bond shall be executed by such person, as principal, and by an authorized surety company, as surety, conditioned that the principal named in the bond shall faithfully comply with all the provisions of this chapter, in drilling, redrilling, or deepening any well or wells covered by the bond, and shall secure the state against all losses, charges, and expenses incurred by it to obtain such compliance by the principal named in the bond.

The condition of the bond shall be stated in substantially the following language:

"If said _____, the above bounden principal, shall well and truly comply with all the provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3700) of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code and shall obey all lawful orders of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, or his district deputy or deputies, if not appealed as provided in that chapter, or upon affirmance thereof by the Geothermal Energy Board, if appealed thereto, and shall pay all charges, costs, and expenses incurred by the supervisor or his district deputy or deputies in respect of such well or wells or the property or properties of said principal, or assessed against such well or wells or the property or properties of such principal, in pursuance of the provisions of said chapter, then this obligation shall be void; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect."

3726. Any person who engages in the drilling, redrilling, or deepening of one or more wells at any time, may file with the supervisor one bond for twenty-five thousand dollars

($25,000) to cover all his operations in drilling, redrilling, or deepening of any of his wells in this state in lieu of a five thousand dollar ($5,000) bond for each well being drilled, redrilled, or deepened by him. The bond shall be executed by such person, as principal, and by an authorized surety company, as surety, and shall be in substantially the same language and upon the same conditions as provided in Section 3725, except as to the difference in the amount.

3727. Any five thousand dollar ($5,000) bond issued in compliance with this chapter may, with the consent of the supervisor, be terminated and canceled and the surety be relieved of all obligations thereunder. The supervisor shall not consent to the termination and cancellation of any bond until the well or wells for which it has been issued have been properly completed or abandoned or another valid bond substituted therefor.

3728. Any twenty-five thousand dollar ($25.000) bond issued in compliance with this chapter may, with the consent of the supervisor, be terminated and canceled and the surety be relieved of all obligations thereunder when all wells covered by such bond have been properly completed or abandoned. Should the person who has filed a twenty-five thousand dollar ($25,000) bond properly complete or abandon a portion of his wells covered by the bond, the bond may, with the consent of the supervisor, be terminated and canceled and the surety be relieved of all obligations thereunder upon the filing by such person of a five thousand dollar ($5,000) bond for each well which he is still engaged in drilling, redrilling, or deepening. Liability as to individual wells that have been drilled and abandoned or completed under a twenty-five thousand dollar ($25,000) bond may also be terminated with the consent of the supervisor.

3729. A well is properly completed, for the purposes of Sections 3727 and 3728, when it has been completed to production of geothermal energy, and the person engaged in drilling, redrilling, or deepening it has shown to the satisfaction of the supervisor that both the manner of drilling, redrilling, or deepening the well and the manner of producing therefrom are satisfactory. A well is properly abandoned when drilling, redrilling, or deepening has ceased before completion to production of geothermal energy, and the person drilling, redrilling, or deepening it has shown to the satisfaction of the supervisor that all proper steps have been taken to protect underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or farm or domestic purposes from the infiltration or addition of any detrimental substance, and to prevent the escape of all fluids to the surface.

3730. The owner or operator of any well shall keep, or cause to be kept, a careful and accurate log, core record, and history of the drilling of the well.

3731. The log shall show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of the well, the amount, size and weight of casing used, and particularly the location and depth of water-bearing strata, together with the character of water encountered from time to time, so far as ascertained.

3732. The core record shall show the depth, character, and fluid content of cores obtained, so far as determined.

3733. The history shall show the location and amount of sidetracked casings, tools, or other material, the depth and quantity of cement in cement plugs, the shots of dynamite or other explosives, the results of production and other tests during drilling operations, and completion data.

3734. The log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator and, together with the tour reports of the owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor or the district deputy, except in the case of a prospect well.

3735. Upon the completion of any well or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months if it has been designated by the supervisor as a prospect well, or for a period of 30 days if it has not been so designated, copies of the log, core record, electric log if made, and history, in duplicate and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed with the district deputy within 10 days after such completion, or within 10 days after the expiration of said 6-month or 30-day period. Like copies shall be filed upon the recompletion of any well. Upon a showing of hardship, additional time within which to comply with the provisions of this section may be granted by the supervisor.

3736. The owner or operator of any well, or his local agent, shall file with the supervisor a copy of the log, history, and core record, or any portion thereof, at any time after the commencement of the work of drilling any well, except a prospect well, upon written request of the supervisor, or the district deputy. The request shall be signed by the supervisor, or the district deputy, and served either personally, or by mailing a copy of the request, by registered mail, to the last known post office address of the owner or operator, or his agent.

3737. Except as otherwise provided in Section 3729, a well is completed, for the purposes of this chapter, 30 days after it has commenced to produce geothermal energy unless drilling operations are resumed before the end of the 30-day period.

3738. The supervisor upon application of an owner or operator shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells, and reports shall not be required from such prospect wells until six months after suspension of drilling operations.

3739. Any person engaged in operating any wells wherein high pressures are known to exist, and any person drilling for geothermal energy in any district where the pressures are unknown shall equip the well with casings of sufficient strength, and with such other safety devices as may be necessary, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and shall use every reasonable effort and endeavor effectually to prevent blowouts, explosions, and fires.

3740. The owner or operator of any well on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain geothermal energy shall properly case it with watertight and adequate casing, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor or the district deputy. The owner or operator shall also use every reasonable effort and endeavor to shut out detrimental substances from strata containing water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes and from surface water suitable for such purposes, and to prevent the infiltration of detrimental substances into such strata and into such surface water.

3741 The supervisor shall require such tests or remedial work as in his judgment are necessary to protect geothermal energy deposits from damage, or to prevent the infiltration of detrimental substances into underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners and the public.

3742. There is hereby created in the Department of Conservation a Geothermal Energy Board, hereinafter referred to as the board. The board shall consist of the Director of Conservation, who shall act as chairman of the board; the State Geologist; and the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, who shall act as secretary to the board. The duties of the board shall be limited solely to the matters set forth in this chapter.

3743. Whenever the supervisor or a district deputy makes or gives any written direction concerning the drilling, testing, or other operations in any well drilled, in process of drilling, or being abandoned, and the operator, owner, or representative of either, serves written notice, either personally or by mail, addressed to the supervisor, or to the district deputy at his office in the district, requesting that a definite order be made upon such subject, the supervisor or the district deputy shall, within five days after receipt of the notice, deliver a final written order on the subject matter in such manner and form that an appeal therefrom may be taken at once to the board as provided in this chapter.

3744. Within 30 days after service of an order, pursuant to Section 3743, or if there has been an appeal from the order to the board, within 30 days after service of the decision of the board, or if a review has been taken of the order of the board, within 10 days after affirmance of the order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue it until completion. If the work has not been commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint necessary agents who shall enter the premises and perform the work. An accurate account of the expenditures shall be kept, and the amounts shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund upon the warrant of the State Controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done and such lien shall have the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien.

3745. The owner of any well producing geothermal energy shall file with the supervisor, on or before the 10th day of each month, for the last preceding calendar month, a statement of production utilized in such form as the supervisor may designate.

3746. Before abandoning any well in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor or the district deputy, and under his direction, the owner or operator shall use every reasonable effort and endeavor to protect any underground or surface water suitable for irrigation or domestic purposes from the infiltration or addition of any detrimental substances.

3747. Before any work is commenced to abandon any well, the owner or operator shall give written notice to the supervisor or the district deputy of his intention to abandon the well and the date upon which the work of abandonment will begin.

The notice shall be given at least five days before the proposed abandonment, and it shall show the condition of the well and the proposed method of abandonment.

The owner or operator shall furnish the supervisor or the district deputy any additional information that he may request regarding the condition of the well and the proposed method of abandonment, at any time between the filing of the notice of intention to abandon the well and the completion of abandonment.

3748. The supervisor, or the district deputy, shall before the proposed date of commencing work to abandon such well, furnish to the owner or operator either:

(a) A written report of approval of the proposal.

(b) A written report stating what work or tests will be necessary before approval of abandonment will be given.

(c) A written request stating what information will be necessary for the owner or operator to furnish the supervisor or the district deputy before approval to commence work to abandon or before approval of abandonment will be given.

3749. If the supervisor or the district deputy fails to give the owner or operator a written report or request within the specified time, such failure shall be considered as an approval of the proposal to abandon the well, and the proposal shall, for the purposes and intents of this chapter, be deemed a written report of the supervisor or the district deputy.

3750. Within five days after the completion of abandonment of any well, the owner or operator of the well shall make, in such form as the supervisor or the district deputy may direct, a written report, in duplicate, of all work done in connection with the abandonment. The supervisor or the district deputy shall, within 10 days after the receipt of a written report of completion, furnish the owner or operator with a written final approval of abandonment, or a written disapproval of abandonment, setting forth the conditions upon which the disapproval is based.

Failure to abandon in accordance with the approved method of abandonment, or failure to notify the supervisor or the district deputy to witness any test provided to be witnessed by the supervisor, the district deputy or his inspector, in the approved proposal, or failure to furnish the supervisor or the district deputy, at his request, with any information regarding the condition of the well, shall constitute sufficient grounds for disapproval of the abandonment.

3751. No person, whether as principal, agent, servant, employee, or otherwise, shall remove the casing or any portion thereof, from any well without first giving written notice to the supervisor or the district deputy of his intention to remove the casing from such well. The notice shall be given at least five days before the proposed removal.

The supervisor or the district deputy shall, before the proposed date of removal, furnish the person with a written report of approval of his proposal, or a written report stating what work shall be done before such approval will be given.

If the supervisor or the district deputy fails to give the person a written report within the specified time, such failure shall be considered an approval of the proposal to remove the casing, and such proposal shall, for the purposes and intents of this chapter, be deemed a written report of the supervisor or the district deputy.

Within five days after the completion of the removal, the person shall make, in such form as the supervisor or district deputy may direct, a written report, in duplicate, of all work done in connection with such removal.

3752. The records of any operator, when filed with the district deputy, as provided in this chapter, shall be open to inspection only to those authorized in writing by such operators, to the state officers, and to the Geothermal Energy Board.

Such records shall in no case other than those expressly provided in this chapter, be available as evidence in court proceedings. No officer or employee or member of the board shall be allowed to give testimony as to the contents of such records except as are provided in this chapter for the review of a decision of the supervisor or the Geothermal Energy Board, or in any proceeding initiated for the enforcement of an order of the supervisor, or for the enforcement of a lien created by this chapter, or in criminal proceedings arising out of such records or the statements upon which they are based.

A copy of any document, order, requisition, or decision made, executed, or issued by the supervisor or the district deputy, when certified by the supervisor or the district deputy to be a true copy of the original, shall be received in evidence in any proceeding herein provided, in like manner and with the same effect as the original.

The records of any operator who is defunct or no longer in business in California and which relate to an abandoned or deserted well shall be open to inspection or for copying by anyone after the supervisor determines that the conditions specified are met.

The records of any operator filed for a completed or producing well that has been transferred by sale, lease, or otherwise shall be available to the new owner or lessee for his inspection or copying and shall also be available for inspection or copying by others upon the written authorization of such new owner or lessee.

3753. Upon receipt by the supervisor or by a district deputy of a written complaint, alleging a condition in violation of this chapter, specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by the complainant; or upon a written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by a member of the Geothermal Energy Board, the supervisor shall make an investigation of the well or wells and make a written report and order, stating the work required to repair the damage complained of, or stating that no work is required.

A copy of the order shall be delivered to the complainant, or if more than one, to each complainant, and, if the supervisor orders the damage repaired a copy of the order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators, or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done.

The order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair the condition. Service shall be made by mailing copies to such persons at the post office address given.

3754. Any owner or operator, or employee thereof, who refuses to permit the supervisor or the district deputy, or his inspector, to inspect a well, or who willfully hinders or delays the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, and every person, whether as principal, agent, servant, employee, or otherwise, who violates, fails, neglects, or refuses to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter, or who fails or neglects or refuses to furnish any report or record which may be required pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, or who willfully renders a false or fraudulent report, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment for not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each such offense.

3755. The supervisor or his deputy may order the abandonment of any well that has been deserted whether or not any damage is occurring or threatened by reason of said well. Suspension of drilling operations and removal of drilling machinery is prima facie evidence of desertion after the elapse of six months unless a request for an extension of time for a period not to exceed an additional six months is theretofore filed. At any time the supervisor may for good cause shown extend this period.

3756. Whenever the Geothermal Energy Board finds that it is in the interest of the protection of geothermal energy from unreasonable waste, the lessors, lessees, operators or other persons owning or controlling royalty or other interests in the separate properties of the same producing or prospective geothermal area, may, with the approval of the board, enter into agreements for the purpose of bringing about the cooperative development and operation of all or a part or parts of the area, or for the purpose of bringing about the development or operation of all or a part or parts of such area as a unit, or for the purpose of fixing the time, location, and manner of drilling and operating of wells for the production of geothermal energy. Any such agreement shall bind the successors and assigns of the parties thereto in land affected thereby and shall be enforceable in an action for specific performance. No such agreement when approved by the board hereunder shall be held to violate any of the statutes of this state prohibiting monopolies or acts, arrangements, agreements, contracts, combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade or commerce.

3757. Any well hereafter drilled for the discovery and production of geothermal energy, which is located within 100 feet of an outer boundary of the parcel of land on which the well is situated, or within 100 feet of a public road or street or highway dedicated prior to the commencement of drilling of the well, is a public nuisance.

3759. For the purpose of this chapter, an alley which intersects or lies within any block or other subdivision unit is not a public street or road.

3760. Each day in which the drilling of any well is carried on, or on which it is permitted to produce geothermal energy in violation of this chapter is a separate nuisance.

3761. The provisions regarding the location of geothermal energy wells do not apply to any wells producing geothermal energy on the effective date of this act.

3762. The lessor, lessee, or any operator or any well owner, or the owner of any rig, derrick, or other operating structure, or his local agent, shall within five days from the date of the service of any order from the supervisor or a district deputy, either comply with the order or file with the supervisor or the district deputy a written statement that the order is not acceptable, and that appeal from the order is taken to the Geothermal Energy Board under the provisions of this chapter.

Any such appeal shall operate as a stay of any order issued under or pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

3763. Immediately upon filing of a notice of appeal, the supervisor, as secretary of the board, shall call a meeting of the board to hear and pass upon the appeal.

The hearing upon the appeal before the board shall be de novo and at such place as the board may designate.

3764. Within 10 days from the taking of the appeal, 5 days' notice in writing shall be given to the appellant of the time and place of the hearing. For good cause, the board may postpone the hearing, on the application of the appellant or the supervisor, or the district deputy, for not exceeding 5 days.

3765. The board, after hearing, shall affirm, set aside, or modify the order from which the appeal is taken, as determined by a majority of the whole board.

Within 10 days after hearing the evidence, the board shall make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from. The decision of the board shall forthwith be filed with the supervisor and upon such filing shall be final. In case the order is affirmed or modified, the board shall retain jurisdiction until such time as the work ordered to be done by the order is finally completed.

The written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision is made by the board within 30 days after the date of notice of hearing as provided in Section 3764, the order of the supervisor shall be effective upon the supervisor's notifying the owner or his agent that the board has failed to make a decision and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in this chapter 3766. The decision of the board, or in the event the board fails to make a decision within 30 days after notice of hearing, then the order of the supervisor, may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the well, or wells, affected by the order is situated, if taken within 10 days after the service of the decision upon the owner, operator, or agent of the owner or operator, as provided in Section 3765; or if the board fails to make a decision, then within 10 days after the supervisor notifies the owner, operator or agent of the owner or operator of such fact, or within 10 days after decision by the board upon a petition by the supervisor. The writ shall be made returnable not later than 10 days after its issuance and it shall direct the board to certify their record in the cause to the court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause it is continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than 30 days.

3767. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court, but the cause shall be heard upon the record of the board. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not:

(a) The board or supervisor acted without or in excess of jurisdiction.

(b) The order, decision, or award was procured by fraud.

(c) The order, decision, rule, or regulation is unreasonable.

(d) The order, decision, regulation, or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

3768. If a review is not taken within 10 days, or if taken, in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as are other liens on real property, and shall first be enforced against the owner of the well, against the operator, and against the personal property and fixtures used in the construction or operation thereof, and then, if there is any deficiency, against the land upon which the work is done. Upon the request of the supervisor, the State Controller shall bring an action for the enforcement of the lien in the manner provided in this chapter.

3769. In any proceeding before the board and in any proceeding instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this chapter, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly located, drilled, operated, maintained, or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the county in which the proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend the proceeding or investigation. Upon the application of the supervisor or the chairman of the board, the judge of the superior court shall issue a subpoena directing the witness to attend the proceeding or investigation, and such person shall be required to produce, when directed, all records, surveys, documents, books or accounts in his custody or under his control; except that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, unless he resides within the same county or within 100 miles of the place of attendance.

The supervisor or the chairman of the board may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which the proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of records, surveys, documents, books or accounts at such places as the judge may designate within the limits prescribed in this section.

3770. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the Geothermal Energy Account of the Petroleum and Gas Fund.

3771. In case of the failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor or chairman of the board, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than 10 days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers, or documents as demanded in the order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor. Each day's further failure, refusal, or neglect is a separate and distinct offense.

The district attorney of the county in which the proceeding, hearing, or investigation is to be held, shall prosecute any person guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until the person appears or attends or produces such books, papers, or documents, or complies with the subpoena or order of the supervisor or chairman of the board.

3772. The charges levied under this chapter are a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to persons charged. The lien may be enforced and the charges collected by an action by the State Controller.

A warrant may be issued by the State Controller or his duly authorized representative for the collection of any charges, interest and penalty and for the enforcement of any lien directed to the sheriff or constable, and shall have the same effect as a writ of execution. It may and shall be levied and sale made pursuant to it in the same manner and with the same effect as a levy upon and sale of real property pursuant to a writ of execution.

Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the owner of said land may redeem from any execution sale within a period of three years upon payment of interest, penalties and charges as provided in the case of other sales of real property under execution.

The sheriff or constable shall receive, upon the completion of his services pursuant to a warrant, and the Controller is authorized to pay to him the same fees and commissions and expenses in connection with services pursuant to said warrant as are provided by law for similar services pursuant to a writ of execution; provided, that fees for publication in a newspaper shall be subject to approval by the Controller rather than by the court; said fees, commissions and expenses shall be an obligation of the person or persons liable for the payment of said charges and may be collected from such person or persons by virtue of the warrant or in any other manner provided in this chapter for the collection of such charges.

In the event that the lien of the charges, penalties or interest attaches to real property from which geothermal energy is extracted and more than one parcel of property is included within the lien, the Controller may release by certificate as hereinabove provided from the lien of said charges, interest, penalties and costs, upon payment by the owner of any parcel or parcels of property of his proportionate share of the charges.

The Controller may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to the lien from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens if he determines that the charges are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer or that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of such charges. A certificate by the Controller to the effect that any property has been released from the lien herein provided for or that such lien has been subordinated to other liens shall be conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate.

It is expressly provided that the remedies provided herein of the state shall be cumulative and that no action by the Controller shall be construed to be an election on the part of the state, or of any of its officers, to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this chapter.

3773. The Controller shall, on or before the 90th day following the delinquency of any charge, bring an action in the name of the people of the state, in the county in which the property involved in the order is situated, to collect any delinquent charges, together with any penalties or costs, which have not been paid.

3774. The Attorney General, as provided in Section 3102 of the Public Resources Code, shall commence and prosecute any such action to final judgment.

3775. In such actions the record of charges for the Petroleum and Gas Fund, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable, duly certified by the Controller, showing unpaid charges against any person, is prima facie evidence of the charges, the delinquency, the amount of charges, penalties, and costs due and unpaid, that the person is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of charges and penalties therein appearing unpaid, and that all forms of law in relation to the charges have been complied with.

The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings.

3776. Payment of the penalties and charges, or the amount of the judgment recovered in the action, shall be made to the State Treasurer, and shall be returned and credited to the Petroleum and Gas Fund.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding any provisions of such chapter, no funds shall be available for expenditure pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 3700) of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, as enacted by Section 1 of this act, unless and until specifically appropriated therefor by the Legislature.

Article 1. Proposal of Formation

29660. One or more special service districts for any of the purposes in which the district is authorized to engage may be created within the boundaries of the district. Such special service districts may consist of one or more cities, with or without unincorporated territory, or unincorporated territory alone. Cities or unincorporated territory included within a special service district may be in the same or separate counties and need not be contiguous. No city shall be divided in the formation of such special service district, but a city may be in more than one special service district formed under this chapter.

29661. Proceedings for the creation of a special service district may be initiated by resolution of the legislative body or bodies of the city or cities proposed to be included in such special service district and if unincorporated territory is proposed to be included in such special service district by resolution of the board or boards of supervisors of the county or counties in which such unincorporated territory is situated, or if only unincorporated territory is proposed to be included in such special service district, by resolution of the board or boards of supervisors of the county or counties in which such unincorporated territory is situated. Such resolution or resolutions shall declare that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special service district, shall describe its boundaries and shall request the formation of such special service district. When the entire area of a public agency is to be included in the special service district, it may be described by name. Certified copies of the resolution or resolutions shall be filed with the secretary of the district.

29662. As an alternative to the initiation of proceedings for the formation of a special service district by resolution or resolutions, a petition may be filed with the secretary of the district signed by voters equal in number to at least 25 percent of the registered voters registered within the proposed special service district as determined from the affidavits of registration. The boundaries of the proposed special service district shall be described in the petition; provided, that when the entire area of a public agency is to be included in the special service district, it may be described by name.

29663. The petition shall declare that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special service district within the area of the district described in the petition. The petition may include one or more separate documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name signed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

29664. The secretary of the district shall compare the signatures in the petition with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk, and he shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

29665. The following provisions of the Government Code shall not apply to this chapter or any proceeding taken thereunder:

(a) Chapter 6.6 (commencing with Section 54775), Part 1, Division 2 of Title 5, relating to local agency formation commissions.

(b) The District Investigation Law of 1933 (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 58500), Division 1 of Title 6).

(d) Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 58900), Division 1 of Title 6, relating to notice of formation or change in boundaries of districts.

29666. Nothing contained herein shall allow the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, or any special service district formed hereunder, to exercise any jurisdiction, taxing, or otherwise, over any territory heretofore withdrawn from the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 29650) of the Public Utilities Code, or never annexed thereto pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 29500) of the Public Utilities Code.

29671. The notice of hearing shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district. The board, in its discretion, may give such additional notice as it deems desirable.

29672. The time fixed for the hearing shall be not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days from the date of the publication of the notice.

29673. At or before the hearing, any person interested may file with the secretary of the district written objections to the creation of the special service district or to the inclusion of his property therein. Upon the hearing the board shall hear and determine all protests and objections. The hearing may be continued from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order to be entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of the continued hearing.

29674. If no protests are filed or if the protests filed are overruled and denied by the board, the board shall by resolution approve the creation of the special service district and shall by resolution call an election as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 29680).

Article 3. Election

29680. At the time of the approval of the creation of a special service district, the board shall call an election in the territory proposed to be included in the special service district for the purpose of submitting to the voters in such territory the question of whether the special service district shall be created and established.

29681. Such election shall be held within 60 days after the board's approval of the creation of the special service district.

29682. The ballot for the election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following:

Shall the "San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, Special Service District No. _____ (here insert number)" be created and established?	YES
	NO

29683. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he is a registered voter residing within the territory proposed to be included in the special service district. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and may be consolidated.

29684. The costs of the election required by this article shall be borne by the district.

29685. The question of the creation of a special service district shall be canvassed separately for each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election is held, and the board shall order and declare the special service district created in each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special service district voted in favor of the proposition, and excluding each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special service district voted against the proposition. A certified copy of the resolution declaring the special service district created shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and upon such filing the special service district shall be established.

Article 4. Taxing Subdivision

29690. A special service district has no separate corporate existence, but shall be deemed to be a taxing subdivision of the district, and within each special service district the board may levy and collect or cause to be collected taxes for any lawful purpose in accordance with Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 29120) and Section 29183.

Article 5. Bond Election

29700. At any time after the approval by the board of the creation of a special service district, as provided in Section 29674, the board may provide for the submission of a proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to be incurred by the district on behalf of the special service district to pay the costs of acquiring, constructing or completing the whole or any portion of any transit facilities, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of the district within the boundaries of a special service district created pursuant to this chapter.

29701. The proposition for incurring a bonded indebtedness under Section 29700 may be submitted to the voters at the same election as the proposition to create the special service district held pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 29680), or at an election subsequent to the creation of the special service district.

29703. Only those registered voters residing within the boundaries of the special service district shall be entitled to vote on the proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness. The favorable vote of three-fifths of all the voters voting on the proposition to authorize the issuance of bonds at the election held pursuant to Section 29701 within the special service district as finally established is required to authorize the issuance of the bonds.

29704. Only the property in the special service district shall be taxable for the payment of the principal and interest on special service district bonds. Until the bonds are paid, taxes shall be levied in substantial compliance with Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 29120) and Section 29183.

29705. Any proceedings denying the validity of the creation of any special service district, or of any bonds authorized by the voters thereof, pursuant to this part, shall be brought within three months after the date upon which the applicable proposition is approved by the voters.

Article 6. Annexation

29710. Any territory within the boundaries of the district not included within the boundaries of the special service district to which it is proposed to be annexed, may be annexed thereto in the manner provided in this article; provided that no city shall be divided in the annexation of territory to a special service district.

29711. The board shall by resolution determine that the annexation of the territory will facilitate the acquisition or operation of transit facilities for the special service district, describe the territory, declare its intention to annex the territory to the special service district, set forth the terms and conditions upon which the territory shall be annexed, fix the time and place for hearing on the question of the annexation and provide for notice of the hearing.

29712. Any public agency or portion thereof included as part of the territory proposed to be annexed to a special service district pursuant to this article may, by resolution of its legislative body, or a petition of its voters filed with the secretary of the district prior to the hearing on annexation, require the submission of an annexation proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof. However, no election shall be held if the board, pursuant to Section 29719, excludes from the territory to be annexed the public agency, or portion thereof, proposed to be annexed in accordance with its resolution or petition.

29713. The petition for election provided for in Section 29712 shall be signed by voters within any public agency, or portion thereof, included within the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed equal in number to at least 10 percent of the registered voters residing within such public agency, or portion thereof. The petition may include one or more documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it certifying that each name affixed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

29714. The secretary of the district shall compare the signatures with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk, and shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

29715. The terms and conditions for the annexation of territory to a special service district may provide, among other matters, for the payment of taxes within the territory to be annexed, in addition to the taxes otherwise provided for in this part, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere, within the special service district, the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the territory proposed to be annexed.

29716. Notice fixing the time and place for hearing on the question of the annexation of territory to a special service district shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district. The board, in its discretion, may give such additional notice as it deems desirable.

29717. The time of hearing shall be not less than 20 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice.

29719. The hearing may be continued from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of the continued hearing. In the event that no protests are filed, or the protests filed are overruled and denied, and no election is to be held, the board shall, by resolution, declare the territory, or a portion thereof, annexed to the special service district.

29719.5. If the board finds that protest has been made, prior to the board's final determination for annexation, by the owners of real property within the area to be annexed the assessed value of which, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll, constitutes more than one-half of the total assessed value of the real property within the area to be annexed, the proceeding shall terminate. The board shall order the proceedings terminated when such protests are received.

29720. From and after the date of filing of the resolution with the secretary of the district, the annexation of the territory, or portion thereof, to the special service district is complete.

29721. If an election is required to be held, pursuant to the provisions of Section 29712, the board shall call such election within 60 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district; provided that if a general election is to be held within the petitioning public agency within 120 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, the board may consolidate the election required by this article with the general election.

29722. The ballot for the election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following:

Shall territory in _____ (giving name of public agency or portion thereof) be annexed to San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, Special Service District No. _____ (here insert number)?	YES
	NO

29723. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he is a voter of the public agency, or portion thereof, requesting the election. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and may be consolidated.

29724. The costs of the election required by this article shall be borne by the district.

29725. The question of the annexation of territory to a special service district shall be canvassed separately for each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election is held, and the board shall order and declare the territory annexed to the special service district in each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election is held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of annexation of territory to the special service district voted in favor of the proposition, and excluding each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of the annexation of territory to the special service district voted against the proposition.

29726. Upon the completion of the annexation of any territory, in accordance with law, to any city included in a special service district, the city clerk shall file with the secretary of the district a certified copy of the ordinance, resolution or other document completing said annexation containing a description of the property so annexed. Unless the district within 90 days after such filing shall file with the city clerk the district's written objections to the annexation to the special service district of said territory, such territory shall, upon the termination of such period, be deemed incorporated into and annexed to the special service district, and thereafter is subject to taxation along with the entire territory of the special service district in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property thereof for special service district purposes, and for the payment of any indebtedness theretofore or thereafter incurred by the special service district.

29727. If the district shall file its objections, in the manner provided in Section 29726, to the annexation to a special service district of territory annexed to a city included in a special service district, the territory shall not be annexed to the special service district, except in the manner heretofore provided in this Article 6 (commencing with Section 29710). The district may withdraw such objections by filing with the city clerk a certified copy of a resolution of the board stating that such objections are withdrawn. Thereupon such territory shall be deemed incorporated into and annexed to the special service district, as provided in Section 29726.

Article 7. Dissolution

29740. A special service district may be dissolved by resolution of the board if any proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness fails to carry, and if the special service district is then subject to no other indebtedness or liability pursuant to this part and has been organized for not less than two years. Dissolution of a special service district shall not prevent subsequent proceedings for the creation of a special service district including the same or any part of the area of the special service district dissolved.

83501. The full amount of the authorized bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for the bonds of each series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed 40 years from the date of the series.

83502. The board shall, by resolution, prescribe the form of the bonds and of the coupons attached thereto and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal shall become due and payable. 83531. The proceeds from the sale of bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the authority, placed to the credit of a special improvement fund, and expended only for the purpose for which the indebtedness was created. When such purpose has been accomplished, any moneys remaining in the special improvement fund may be transferred to the fund to be used for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds.

83532. Any moneys remaining in the special improvement fund from the sale of bonds of the authority after the purpose for which the indebtedness was created has been accomplished may also be used for any other sanitation authority purpose. CHAPTER 1. TAXES GENERALLY

83800. An authority may cause taxes to be levied, in the manner provided in this part, for the purpose of paying any obligation of the authority including its formation expenses and any warrants issued therefor.

83801. If the revenues of the authority or any improvement district therein or in the judgment of the board, will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal or interests on any bonded debt of the authority or any improvement district therein as it becomes due, the principal of or interest of any note or other evidence of indebtedness of the authority, as it becomes due, the operating expenses of the authority, provide for repairs and depreciation of works, and provide a reasonable surplus for improvements, extensions, and enlargements, the board shall cause a tax to be levied as provided in this part, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest that will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available.

83802. The auditor of each affected county shall immediately after equalization and not later than the 15th day of August of each year, prepare and deliver to the secretary of an authority, or such other officer thereof as may be designated by the board, showing the assessed valuation of all property within the authority lying within the county.

(a) An estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded debts of the authority or of an improvement district therein that will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available.

(b) An estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the authority.

83804. The board shall direct that, at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes the board of supervisors shall levy, in addition to any other tax it levies, a tax upon the property within the authority, or improvement district therein benefited by the bonded debt, sufficient to raise the amount so certified.

83805. Taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonded debt shall be levied on all taxable property within the authority, or improvement district therein, that is benefited by the bonded debts, as determined by the board in the resolution declaring the necessity to incur the debt. Taxes for all other purposes of the authority shall be levied on all taxable property in the authority.

83902. The board shall proportion the total estimate provided for in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 83000) of this part among the affected counties. For this purpose the board shall ascertain the assessment practice of each affected county and apply the practice so ascertained to the equalized assessment roll submitted to the authority as required by Section 83802 above so as to arrive at an equalized roll among the affected counties. The total estimate shall then be divided by the board in proportion to the value (as determined in accordance with the preceding sentence) of the taxable property of the authority in each affected county. The amount of the estimate applicable to each affected county shall thereupon be added to the other matters required to be in the certificate required by Section 83803 above and the board of supervisors and county officers shall proceed to levy and collect the appropriate tax to raise the amount of the total estimate so found to be attributable to their particular county and in all respects, proceed as to this amount as required by Chapter 1 of this part.

83903. Whenever an improvement district within an authority is located in two or more counties, the method and procedure for the apportionment of authority taxes between counties shall apply to such improvement district.

the close of the hearing and shall declare that the subject territory shall not be annexed to the authority by virtue of annexation procedures therefore initiated. If a 50 percent or more written protest is not received, the governing body may adopt its resolution in ordering the annexation of the territory to the authority subject to the terms and conditions fixed by the board. 84447. If the board finds and determines that either the area proposed to be annexed to the improvement district will not be benefited thereby or that the improvement district to which the area is proposed to be annexed will not be benefited thereby and will be injured thereby, the board shall by resolution disapprove such annexation.

84448. From and after the date of the adoption of the resolution approving the annexation, the area described therein is added to and forms a part of the improvement district.

84449. The taxable property in the annexed area shall be subject to taxation after the annexation thereof for the purposes of the improvement district, including the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds and other obligations of the improvement district authorized and outstanding at the time of the annexation as if the annexed property had always been a part of the improvement district.

84450. The board may do all things necessary to enforce and make effective the terms and conditions of annexation fixed by it.

84451. Any action or proceeding in which the validity of an annexation to an improvement district pursuant to this article is contested, questioned, or denied shall be commenced within three months after date of the resolution of the board approving the annexation of the territory to an improvement district; otherwise, the annexation shall be held valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

CHAPTER 2. DISSOLUTION OF IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS

84500. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 84511, whenever the board deems it necessary for any improvement district formed pursuant to this division to be dissolved, it shall by resolution declare its intention to dissolve the improvement district.

As used in this chapter, "improvement district" includes an uninhabited improvement district formed pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 83300) of Part 7 of this division.

84501. The resolution of intention shall state:

(a) The reason why the improvement district should be dissolved.

(b) If the improvement district was formed pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 83100) or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 83300) of Part 6 of this division, that no bonds have been issued for the improvement district or are outstanding.

(c) That a map showing the exterior boundaries of the improvement district, with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, is on file with the secretary and is available for inspection by any person or persons interested.

(d) The time and place for a hearing by the board on the question of the dissolution of the improvement district.

(e) That at such time and place any person interested, including all persons owning property in the authority or in the improvement district will be heard.

84502. Notice of the hearing shall be given by publishing a copy of the resolution, pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code, prior to the time fixed for the hearing in a newspaper circulated in the authority, if there is a newspaper circulated in the authority. Such notice shall also be given by posting a copy of the resolution in three public places within the improvement district for at least two weeks before the time fixed for the hearing.

84503. At the time and place fixed in the resolution of intention, or at any time or place to which the hearing is adjourned, the board shall proceed with the hearing. At the hearing any person interested, including all persons owning property in the authority, or in the improvement district, may appear and present any matters material to the proposed dissolution.

84504. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board shall by ordinance determine whether it is necessary to dissolve the improvement district. If so, the ordinance shall state that the exterior boundaries of the improvement district are set forth on a map on file with the secretary and shall declare the improvement district dissolved. The determinations made in the ordinance shall be final and conclusive.

84505. When the ordinance declaring an improvement district dissolved becomes effective, the dissolution of such improvement district is complete.

84506. The taxable property within the boundaries of the dissolved improvement district shall continue to be taxed for any indebtedness of the authority contracted for such dissolved improvement district until the indebtedness has been satisfied, to the same extent that such property would be taxable for such purpose if the dissolution had not occurred.

84507. Any action or proceeding in which the validity of the dissolution of an improvement district, or of any of the proceedings in relation thereto, is contested, questioned, or denied shall be commenced within three months from the effective date of the ordinance dissolving the improvement district; otherwise, the dissolution of the improvement district and all proceedings in relation thereto, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

84508. After a bond election has been held in an improvement district formed pursuant to and less than two-thirds of the votes cast in such election were in favor of the measure the board may within one year of the date of such election call and hold another election as provided in Part 6 (commencing with Section 83000) of this division for the purpose of resubmitting the measure to the electors of said improvement district. If the measure is not so resubmitted said improvement district, on the anniversary date of the election, is dissolved without further action by the board. If said measure is resubmitted and fails to receive more than two-thirds of the votes cast in such election in favor of said measure said improvement district is dissolved following the canvass of the election returns.

PART 10. DISSOLUTION

84700. The authority may be dissolved at any time upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the authority at an election called by the board upon the question of dissolution.

84701. The election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as authority elections.

84702. Upon the dissolution of the authority, the property of the authority lying within a city shall vest in the city and the property of the authority lying within the unincorporated area of a county shall vest in the board of supervisors of that county.

84703. If the authority has any outstanding bonded indebtedness at the time of the election for dissolution, the vote to dissolve the authority shall dissolve it for all purposes except for the levying and collection of taxes for the payment of the indebtedness, the payment of the expenses of assessing, levying, and collecting the taxes, and the expenses of maintaining the property of the authority in good order and repair.

84704. Until the bonded indebtedness and the interest is fully paid the legislative authority of the city when the property of the authority lies wholly within the city, and in all other cases the board of supervisors of the principal county is ex officio the board of directors of the authority. The board or legislative authority shall levy the taxes and perform such other acts as are necessary to raise money for the payment of the indebtedness and the interest, and for the purpose of maintaining the property of the authority in good order and repair. The board or legislative authority shall fulfill and compel fulfillment of all contracts made by the authority and shall maintain and protect all rights acquired by the authority.

50581. "Open space maintenance district" or "district" means any district created pursuant to the provisions of this chapter to pay the assessments for the maintenance work to be done hereunder.

50582. The purpose of this chapter is to provide a means whereby any local agency may form maintenance districts within which property may be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of improving and maintaining open spaces which the local agency has acquired pursuant to Sections 6950 to 6954, inclusive, and to maintain such open spaces in a way that will reduce the danger of fire which exists when open areas covered with vegetation remain in their natural state.

50583. In addition to matters specified elsewhere in this chapter, the acts authorized under this chapter include the following:

(a) The formation of districts pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The planning, maintaining, improving, protecting, limiting the future use of or otherwise conserving open spaces and areas within the local agency and the reduction of the hazards of fire, erosion, and flooding in such areas by:

Proceedings for the formation of an open space maintenance district may be initiated by petition signed by the owners of assessable land in the proposed district, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county, owning lands of an assessed value of not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the total assessed value of all assessable land in the district, as shown by the last equalized county assessment roll. The petition shall contain a general description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, a general description of the open spaces to be maintained, a general description of the maintenance to be done on the open spaces, and a statement that the petition is filed pursuant to this chapter. The petition shall be filed with the clerk, who shall check or cause it to be checked. If it is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers, the clerk shall make his certificate to that effect and shall present the petition and certificate to the legislative body.

50591. Before the legislative body adopts an ordinance of intention to form the district, the superintendent of streets or other officer, board or commission of the local agency designated by the legislative body shall make and file with the clerk a preliminary report which shall contain the following information:

(a) A general description of the open areas proposed to be maintained, all of which must lie wholly within the boundaries of the district;

(b) A general description of the proposed maintenance;

(c) An estimate of the annual costs and expenses of maintenance of the open areas which benefit property within the proposed district;

(d) A diagram or map showing:

(i) The boundaries of the district proposed to be assessed and the public streets, alleys, ways or other public places situated therein;

(ii) Each parcel of land benefited by the maintenance, giving each a separate number or designation upon the diagram. The said diagram, as approved by the legislative body, shall govern for all details as to the lands determined to be benefited by the maintenance and to thereafter be assessed.

The preliminary report, prior to its filing with the clerk, shall be referred to the planning commission, if any, for its recommendation upon the formation of such district. The recommendation of the planning commission shall be transmitted to the clerk along with the preliminary report.

50592. After the filing of the report, the clerk shall present it to the legislative body for consideration. The legislative body may approve, amend, alter, modify or correct the report or may direct changes to be made therein. When the report has been approved by the legislative body, it may fix a time and place for hearing objections to the proposed formation of the district or to the report and may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to form the district. The report shall thereafter be open to inspection in the office of the clerk until the public hearing.

50593. If the legislative body determines that the public interest and convenience require the formation of a district, it may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to form a district pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The ordinance of intention, in addition to making the foregoing determination, shall also contain:

(a) A general description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, as specified in Section 50594.

(e) The day, hour and place for the hearing by the legislative body of protests and objections to the formation of the proposed district or to the proposed maintenance, and a statement that any owner of property liable to be assessed for the maintenance may make written protest against the proposed maintenance or against the formation of the proposed district or both by filing a written protest with the clerk at any time not later than the hour so fixed for the hearing. The time for the hearing shall not be less than 15 or more than 60 days from the date of the adoption by the legislative body of the ordinance.

50594. The proposed assessment district may be described in the ordinance of intention by stating the exterior boundaries thereof or by referring to the diagram provided for in the Preliminary report required therefor. The description of the maintenance shall be sufficient if the ordinance states in general terms the classes or kinds of maintenance contemplated, contains a general description of the property upon which the maintenance is to be done or the name by which such property is commonly known, and refers to plans and reports on file, if any, or such of them as may be suitable or proper for a description of the proposed maintenance. Portions of the improvement or of the territory comprising the assessment district need not be contiguous.

50595. Any lot or parcel of land in any public use belonging to the state or to any county, city, district, or other public corporation in use in the performance of a public function and lying within the district is not subject to assessment unless the consent of the governing body of the entity owning such public property to assessment is filed with the legislative body. If consent is filed, the land is subject to assessment in the same manner as other land within the district.

50596. The legislative body in its discretion may, in the ordinance of intention or at any subsequent time, order that a portion of the costs and expenses of the maintenance shall be paid out of the treasury of the local agency from such fund as the legislative body may designate and the amount of such payment shall be so specified.

50597. The ordinance of intention shall be published as provided in Section 6061 and at least 15 days before the date set for hearing protests or objections.

50598. 50599. The legislative body shall cause to be conspicuously posted along public streets, if any, within the proposed district, at not more than 300 feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, copies of the ordinance of intention. Said notices shall be headed "Notice of Formation of Open Space Maintenance District" in letters of at least one inch (1″) in height. The notices shall be posted at least 15 days prior to the hearing.

50600. Certificates or affidavits shall be filed with the clerk setting forth the time and manner of compliance with the requirements of Section 50597, 50598, and 50599.

50601. At any time prior to the time set for hearing protests in relation to the proposed formation of the district, any owner of property liable to be assessed for the maintenance may make and file with the clerk a written protest stating his objection thereto. The protest shall contain a description of the property in which the protestant is interested, sufficient to identify the property, and shall be delivered to the clerk. No other protest shall be considered. The clerk shall endorse on every such protest the date of its receipt by him and shall at the time appointed for the hearing present all protests to the legislative body. Any protest may be withdrawn by the person making it, in writing, at any time prior to the conclusion of the hearing or any adjournment thereof.

50602. At the hearing all objections and protests shall be heard and considered. If at the hearing it appears that owners of more than one-half of the area of the land included within the proposed district and subject to assessment have made objection in writing to the doing of the things proposed to be done as an entirety, and protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the number of protests to less than a majority in area of the taxable land in the district, the legislative body, by a resolution entered upon its minutes, shall so find. Thereafter the legislative body shall not proceed further under the ordinance of intention, and the proceeding is terminated. If the proceeding is terminated by such a majority protest, no subsequent proceeding under this ordinance for the formation of the same, or substantially the same, district shall be commenced within six months thereafter, except upon a petition signed by the owners of a majority in area of the taxable land in the district. If the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property included within the district and subject to assessment have not made written objections or protests to the things proposed to be done as an entirety, the legislative body may so find orally or otherwise and may proceed with the hearing.

The hearing may be continued from time to time by order entered on the minutes.

50603. At the hearing the legislative body may order changes in the proposed maintenance or the proposed boundaries of the district by the elimination of any portion thereof which will not in its opinion be benefited by the work proposed to be done.

If the legislative body proposes a change in the boundaries to include additional land in the district, the legislative body shall adopt a resolution briefly describing the change proposed to be made and giving notice of the time and place when and where any interested person may object to such change. The clerk shall mail a copy of a notice of intention to do so to each person described in Section 50598 included in the area proposed to be added, within the time and in the manner set forth in Section 50598. The notice shall describe the proposed change and specify the time for hearing objections. The notice shall also be published in the time and manner provided for in Section 50597.

50604. If the boundaries are changed, objections or protests made by owners of land excluded by the change shall not be counted in computing a majority protest, but written objections or protests to the things proposed to be done as an entirety made by owners of the remaining assessable land in the district, including assessable land added by a change, and filed with the clerk not later than the time set for hearing objections to the proposed change, shall be included in computing a majority protest.

50605. Except in the case of a majority protest, the legislative body may sustain or deny any or all objections or protests and its determination is final. The determination shall be entered upon the minutes. If the protests are denied or if no protests are filed, the legislative body shall immediately acquire jurisdiction to form the district and to order the maintenance, as proposed or as changed, to be done and to proceed further in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. In the event there is a majority protest against a change of boundaries to include additional land, as provided for in Section 50603, no such change shall be ordered by the legislative body.

50606. If the legislative body decides to proceed, it shall by ordinance fix and establish the boundaries of the district, declare that the district is formed pursuant to this chapter, describe the open areas to be maintained by the district, order the maintenance, as proposed or as changed, to be performed and provide that the cost and expense of doing the maintenance shall be paid by annual assessments upon the land within the district. The ordinance forming the district shall be final and conclusive on all persons in all particulars.

50607. Any objections or protests not made at the time and in the manner provided for by this chapter are deemed waived voluntarily. The validity of proceedings taken under this chapter shall not be attacked subsequent to the hearing upon any ground not stated in an objection or protest filed pursuant to this chapter. Any landowner or person interested in any land within the district is estopped to attack the proceedings upon any ground not stated in a protest filed by him pursuant to this chapter. The validity of the formation of a district formed pursuant to this chapter shall not be contested in any action or proceeding unless the action or proceeding is commenced within 30 days after the time the district is formed. Any appeal from a final judgment in such an action or proceeding must be perfected within 30 days after the entry of the judgment. Any defect, error, or informality in the petition, the clerk's certificate, the publication, posting, or mailing of notices, or failure of the landowner or person interested in the land to receive notice shall not invalidate any proceeding pursuant to this chapter.

Article 3. Administrative Provisions

50610. The legislative body shall have complete charge, supervision and control of all open areas maintained pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The legislative body may appoint an advisory board composed of five property owners within a district, which advisory board may make recommendations to the legislative body with respect to the maintenance and operation of the open areas. Members of the board shall serve without compensation and shall hold office for a term of three years from the date of their appointment.

50611. The legislative body may enter into such annual contracts as may be required for performance of the maintenance or may cause any part or parts thereof to be performed or furnished by the local agency and may employ the necessary labor and provide, by purchase order when necessary, the required materials and equipment and shall cause the maintenance to be performed or furnished.

The costs and expenses of all maintenance to be done or furnished by the local agency shall be paid for from the funds of the district or out of any fund which may be provided or advanced by the legislative body for expenditure for such purposes. The payments so advanced may be reimbursed from the district funds when moneys are available therein.

50612. The legislative body may levy an annual ad valorem special assessment not to exceed twenty-five cents ($0.25) per one hundred dollars ($100) assessed valuation of taxable land and improvements within the maintenance district to pay the costs of maintenance and operation of the open areas or such portion of said costs as the legislative body determines shall be borne by the maintenance district. The legislative body may determine that all or a portion of the costs may be borne by the local agency. The annual assessments shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner and with the same interest and penalties as general taxes for the local agency are collected.

50613. The proceeds of the annual special assessments shall be paid to the treasurer of the local agency, who shall place the proceeds in a special fund to the credit of the district and payment shall be made out of the special fund only for the purposes provided for in this chapter for the district. To expedite any maintenance work, the legislative body may at any time transfer into the special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed as a loan to the special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this chapter.

If a district is organized in any year too late for the levy of a special assessment in that year or in the next ensuing year, the legislative body is hereby authorized to transfer funds out of the general fund of the local agency to the special fund of the district to be used for the payment of the expenses of the district until such time as special assessment receipts are available therefor. The legislative body shall include in the levy of the special assessment for the district for the first fiscal year in which the assessment may be levied or in ensuing years, a sum sufficient to repay the local agency the amount so transferred to the district for the portion or portions of the preceding fiscal year or years for which no levy of assessment was made for that purpose. The amount so transferred shall be repaid into the general fund of the local agency from the district fund out of the first available receipts from the assessment levied or as determined by the legislative body.

50614. If for any reason there shall be a deficiency in the funds derived from the annual assessments levied for the district, the legislative body may meet the deficiency by an appropriation out of the general fund or may advance such sums, to be repaid out of the proceeds of the annual assessment for the next or ensuing years, as deemed appropriate by the legislative body.

50615. Any unexpended balance remaining in the special fund for the district after the payment of the costs and expenses of the maintenance for which the assessment was levied shall be credited to the fund to be raised for the next ensuing period of maintenance for the district. Whenever the legislative body does not order or reorder maintenance as authorized in this chapter, any such unexpended balance may be retained in the fund to be used, until exhausted, to defray the costs and expenses of maintaining and caring for the open spaces benefiting the district for which the annual assessment had been levied.

Article 4. Annexations, Additions and Withdrawals

50620. The boundaries of any district may be altered, and contiguous or noncontiguous territory may be annexed thereto. The legislative body may by resolution fix a time and place for hearing upon the question of annexation of such territory to an existing district. The resolution shall describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed. The legislative body may by resolution determine that each parcel of territory annexed or to be annexed to a district should pay its proportionate share of the cost of any improvements constructed prior to such annexation. No such parcel may be annexed until the full amount of its contribution has been determined and paid. All such amounts paid to the local agency shall be placed in the special fund of the district and may be used for the purposes for which the proceeds from the annual assessments may be used. The date set for the hearing on the proposed annexation shall be at least three weeks from and after the date of the adoption of the resolution setting the hearing.

50621. The legislative body shall direct the clerk to give notice of the time, place and purpose of the hearing, by mailing written notice to each property owner within the boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed whose name and address appears on the last equalized assessment roll. The clerk shall file, upon the completion of the mailing, an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with this section. The notice shall be mailed at least 10 days prior to the date set for hearing.

50622. The legislative body shall also direct the clerk to publish a notice as provided in Section 6061 and at least 15 days before the date set for hearing. The notice shall state the time and place of the hearing and shall contain a description of the territory proposed to be annexed, or, in lieu of such description, the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed may be shown by means of a diagram. An affidavit of publication shall be filed with the clerk.

50623. At the time fixed for the hearing or to which it may be continued, the legislative body shall hear and pass upon the proposal and any objections which may be filed to the inclusion of any property within the proposed annexation. The legislative body, by ordinance, may determine that the territory or any part thereof will be benefited by annexation to the district and may order that the boundaries of the district be altered to include the benefited territory.

If at the hearing it appears that owners of more than one-half of the real property within the area proposed to be annexed and subject to assessment have made objection in writing to the annexation, and protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the number of protests to less than a majority, the legislative body, by resolution entered upon its minutes, shall so find. Thereafter the legislative body shall not proceed further, and the proceeding is terminated.

50624. If, after the formation of a district, the addition of properties to be maintained as open areas by such existing district is proposed, the legislative body shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention that the cost of maintaining the additional open areas shall be borne by the existing district. It shall fix a time and place for a hearing on the resolution, at which hearing any and all persons having any objections to the things proposed to be done may appear and be heard. The resolution shall contain the statement of the estimated annual cost of maintaining the additional open areas.

50625. Notice of the hearing on the resolution shall be mailed at least 10 days prior to the hearing to each person to whom land within the existing district is assessed as shown on the last equalized assessment roll at his address as shown upon the roll. At the hearing, the legislative body shall hear and pass upon any and all protests to the maintaining of the additional open areas by the existing district and the legislative body's decision shall be final and conclusive. At the conclusion of the hearing, the legislative body may, by resolution, order that the expenses of maintaining the additional open areas shall be a charge upon the existing district.

50626. Any portion of any district which will not be benefited by remaining within the district may be withdrawn therefrom. The legislative body may by resolution fix a time for a hearing on the question of the withdrawal of any portion of a district which will not be benefited by remaining within the district. The time for the hearing shall be not less than 10 or more than 30 days after the date of the adoption of the resolution. The legislative body shall, at least 10 days prior to the time so fixed, cause a notice of such hearing to be published as provided in Section 6061. Copies of the notice shall also be posted at least 10 days prior to the date fixed for hearing in at least three conspicuous places within that portion of the district sought to be withdrawn and in at least three conspicuous places within the remaining portion of the district.

50627. Any person interested may appear at the hearing and object to the withdrawal of the portion from the district or may object to the continuance of the remaining territory as a district. The legislative body shall consider and pass upon all objections and if it finds that the portion of the district sought to be withdrawn will not be benefited by remaining within the district and that the remaining territory not sought to be withdrawn will be benefited by continuing as a maintenance district, then it shall by ordinance order the withdrawal and the continuance of the remaining territory as a district.

50628. This chapter shall be liberally construed in order to effectuate its purposes. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person, property, or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.

SEC. 55. Section 3212.6 of said code is amended to read:

3212.6. In the case of a member of a police department of a city or county, or a member of the sheriff's office of a county, when any such member is employed upon a regular, full-time salary, whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service, excepting those whose principal duties are clerical or otherwise do not clearly fall within the scope of active law enforcement service such as stenographers, telephone operators, and other officeworkers, the term "injury" includes tuberculosis which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service of such department or office. The compensation which is awarded for such tuberculosis shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such tuberculosis so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it.

SEC. 56. Section 3212.7 of said code is amended to read:

3212.7. In the case of an employee having peace officer status, as defined by Section 817 of the Penal Code, in either the Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement or in the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, when any such individual is employed under civil service upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury," as used in this division, includes heart trouble or hernia or pneumonia or tuberculosis which develops or manifests itself during the period while such individual is in the service of the Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement or the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation. The compensation which is awarded for any such injury shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such heart trouble, hernia, pneumonia, or tuberculosis so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it.

Such heart trouble, hernia, pneumonia, or tuberculosis developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

SEC. 57. Section 3600.5 of said code is amended to read:

3600.5. (a) If an employee who has been hired or is regularly employed in the state receives personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of such employment outside of this state, he, or his dependents, in the case of his death, shall be entitled to compensation according to the law of this state.

(b) Any employee who has been hired outside of this state and his employer shall be exempted from the provisions of this division while such employee is temporarily within this state doing work for his employer if such employer has furnished workmen's compensation insurance coverage under the workmen's compensation insurance or similar laws of a state other than California, so as to cover such employee's employment while in this state; provided, the extraterritorial provisions of this division are recognized in such other state and provided employers and employees who are covered in this state are likewise exempted from the application of the workmen's compensation insurance or similar laws of such other state. The benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Act or similar laws of such other state, or other remedies under such act or such laws, shall be the exclusive remedy against such employer for any injury, whether resulting in death or not, received by such employee while working for such employer in this state.

A certificate from the duly authorized officer of the appeals board or similar department of another state certifying that the employer of such other state is insured therein and has provided extraterritorial coverage insuring his employees while working within this state shall be prima facie evidence that such employer carries such workmen's compensation insurance.

SEC. 58. Section 3704 of said code is amended to read:

3704 The appeals board, in the event that the surety on such bond becomes liable for payment thereunder or resort must be had to the deposited securities or the interest thereon, or both, may direct the order, manner, and amounts of payment due the beneficiaries Payment by the surety pursuant to the order of the appeals board or when ratified by the appeals board constitutes a full release of the surety's liability under the bond to the extent of such payment, and entitles the surety to full reimbursement by the principal or his estate, including necessary attorney fees and other costs and expenses, without prior claim or proceedings on the part of the injured employee or other beneficiaries.

SEC 59. Section 3706 of said code is amended to read:

3706. If any employer fails to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the appeals board, and, in addition, may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, as if this division did not apply.

SEC. 60. Section 3709 of said code is amended to read:

3709. If, as a result of such action for damages, a judgment is obtained against the employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this division, the compensation awarded by the appeals board, if paid, or security is given for its payment and is approved by the court, shall be credited upon such judgment.

Such judgment shall include a reasonable attorney's fee fixed by the court.

SEC. 61. Section 3710.2 of said code is amended to read:

3710.2. Failure to secure the payment of compensation under this article is a misdemeanor. Failure to secure the payment of compensation within 10 days after service of the notice provided in Section 3710.1 makes mandatory on the tribunal before whom the charge of violation of this article is tried the imposition of a sentence of imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days and a fine of not less than three hundred dollars ($300). Proof of continued violation of this section for 30 days makes mandatory on the tribunal before whom the charge of violation of this section is tried the imposition of a fine of not less than three hundred dollars ($300). An award of the appeals board finding willful uninsurance is prima facie evidence of the employer's failure to secure the payment of compensation under this article. In any prosecution brought under the provisions of Sections 3710 to 3710.2 the statute of limitations shall not commence to run until the discovery by the director or his designated agents of the failure to secure the payment of compensation or the 10th day after service of the notice provided in Section 3710.1, whichever is later.

SEC. 62. Section 3712 of said code is amended to read:

3712. The securing of the payment of compensation in a way provided in this division is essential to the functioning of the expressly declared social public policy of this state in the matter of worker's compensation; and the conduct or operation of any business or undertaking without full compensation security, in continuing violation of such social policy, is hereby declared to be a nuisance which may be abated upon suit brought in the name of the Director of Industrial Relations before the superior court of any county in which all or some part of such business is being thus unlawfully conducted or operated. In no such proceeding may any filing fee be charged to the plaintiff; nor may any charge or cost be imposed for any act or service required of or done by any state or county officer or employee in connection with such proceeding. No bond shall be required as a prerequisite to the granting of a restraining order If the court or the judge before whom the order to show cause in such proceeding shall be made returnable, shall find that the defendant is conducting or operating a business or undertaking without the full compensation security required, he shall forthwith, and without continuance, issue an order restraining the future or further conduct and operation of said business or undertaking so long as such violation of social public policy shall continue. Such action may be prosecuted by the Attorney General of California, the district attorney of the county in which suit is brought, the city attorney of any city in which such a business or undertaking is being operated or conducted without full compensation security, or any attorney possessing civil service status who is an employee of the Department of Industrial Relations who may be designated by the director for such purpose. No finding made in the course of any such action shall be binding on the appeals board in any subsequent proceeding before it for benefits under this division.

SEC. 63. Section 3715 of said code is amended to read:

3715. If an employee is granted an award by the appeals board wherein the employer is found through evidence presented at an open hearing to be willfully uninsured, and the employee is not represented by an attorney, the employee may request the director or his designated agents to assist in the collection of his award. No state or county agency, officer, or employee shall charge the department for any services rendered the employee in connection with such request, but a fee for services rendered, together with the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) shall be added to the award made by the appeals board. When the award is collected, the fee for services rendered shall be paid to the proper agency, officer, or employee and the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) shall be paid into the General Fund in the State Treasury.

SEC. 64. Section 3755 of said code is amended to read:

3755. If the employer is insured against liability for compensation, and if after the suffering of any injury the insurer causes to be served upon any compensation claimant a notice that it has assumed and agreed to pay any compensation to the claimant for which the employer is liable, such employer shall be relieved from liability for compensation to such claimant upon the filing of a copy of such notice with the appeals board. The insurer shall, without further notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding theretofore or thereafter instituted by such claimant to recover such compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom.

Such proceedings shall not abate on account of such substitution but shall be continued against such insurer.

SEC. 65. Section 3756 of said code is amended to read:

3756. If at the time of the suffering of a compensable injury, the employer is insured against liability for the full amount of compensation payable, he may cause to be served upon the compensation claimant and upon the insurer a notice that the insurer has agreed to pay any compensation for which the employer is liable. The employer may also file a copy of such notice with the appeals board.

SEC. 66. Section 3757 of said code is amended to read:

3757. If it thereafter appears to the satisfaction of the appeals board that the insurer has assumed the liability for compensation, the employer shall thereupon be relieved from liability for compensation to the claimant. The insurer shall, after notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding instituted by the claimant to recover compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom.

SEC. 67. Section 3759 of said code is amended to read:

3759. The appeals board may enter its order relieving the employer from liability where it appears from the pleadings, stipulations, or proof that an insurer joined as party to the proceeding is liable for the full compensation for which the employer in such proceeding is liable.

SEC. 68. Section 3760 of said code is amended to read:

3760. Every employer who is insured against any liability imposed by this division shall file with the insurance carrier a complete report of every injury to each employee arising out of or in the course of his employment. Every such report shall be filed within five days after the injury has been reported to the employer. If not so filed, the carrier may petition the appeals board for an order, or the appeals board may of its own motion issue an order, directing the employer to submit a report of the injury within five days after service of the order. Failure of the employer to comply with the appeals board's order may be punished by the Division of Industrial Accidents, including the administrative director and the appeals board as a contempt.

SEC. 69. Section 3860 of said code is amended to read:

3860. (a) No release or settlement under this chapter, with or without suit, is valid or binding as to any party thereto without notice to both the employer and the employee, with opportunity to the employer to recover the amount of compensation he has paid or become obligated to pay and any special damages to which he may be entitled under Section 3852, and opportunity to the employee to recover all damages he has suffered and with provision for determination of expenses and attorney's fees as herein provided.

(b) The entire amount of such settlement, with or without suit, is subject to the employer's full claim for reimbursement for compensation he has paid or become obligated to pay and any special damages to which he may be entitled under Section 3852, together with expenses and attorney fees, if any, subject to the limitations in this section set forth.

(c) Where settlement is effected, with or without suit, solely through the efforts of the employee's attorney, then prior to the reimbursement of the employer, as provided in subdivision (b) hereof, there shall be deducted from the amount of the settlement the reasonable expenses incurred in effecting such settlement, including costs of suit, if any, together with a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid to the employee's attorney, for his services in securing and effecting settlement for the benefit of both the employer and the employee.

(d) Where settlement is effected, with or without suit, solely through the efforts of the employer's attorney, then, prior to the reimbursement of the employer as provided in subdivision (b) hereof, there shall be deducted from the amount of the settlement the reasonable expenses incurred in effecting such settlement, including costs of suit, if any, together with a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid to the employer's attorney, for his services in securing and effecting settlement for the benefit of both the employer and the employee.

(e) Where both the employer and the employee are represented by the same agreed attorney or by separate attorneys in effecting a settlement, with or without suit, prior to reimbursement of the employer, as provided in subdivision (b) hereof, there shall be deducted from the amount of the settlement the reasonable expenses incurred by both the employer and the employee or on behalf of either, including costs of suit, if any, together with reasonable attorneys' fees to be paid to the respective attorneys for the employer and the employee, based upon the respective services rendered in securing and effecting settlement for the benefit of the party represented. In the event both parties are represented by the same attorney, by agreement, the attorney's fee shall be based on the services rendered for the benefit of both.

(f) The amount of expenses and attorneys' fees referred to in this section shall, on settlement of suit, or on any settlement requiring court approval, be set by the court. In all other cases these amounts shall be set by the appeals board. Where the employer and the employee are represented by separate attorneys they may propose to the court or the appeals board, for consideration and determination, the amount and division of such expenses and fees.

SEC 70. Section 3861 of said code is amended to read:

3861. The appeals board is empowered to and shall allow, as a credit to the employer to be applied against his liability for compensation, such amount of any recovery by the employee for his injury, either by settlement or after judgment, as has not theretofore been applied to the payment of expenses or attorneys' fees, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3856, 3858, and 3860 of this code, or has not been applied to reimburse the employer.

SEC. 72. Section 3952 of said code is amended to read:

3952. Every such hospital shall, from time to time upon demand, but not less frequently than once a year make to the administrative director reports of receipts, disbursements, and services rendered to or for employees. If in the judgment of the administrative director the services or equipment of any hospital are inadequate to meet the reasonable requirements of medical treatment contemplated in Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of this division, the administrative director may, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, find such facilities inadequate. Thereafter, injured employees of such employer may procure treatment elsewhere, and the reasonable cost thereof shall be a charge against such employer under Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of this division.

SEC. 73. Section 3953 of said code is amended to read:

3953. In any proceeding for compensation any such finding of inadequacy is conclusive evidence of the fact of such inadequacy during the period covered by the finding. Such finding of inadequacy may be amended, modified, or rescinded by the appeals board at any time upon good cause appearing therefor.

SEC. 74. Section 4050 of said code is amended to read:

4050. Whenever the right to compensation under this division exists in favor of an employee, he shall, upon the written request of his employer, submit at reasonable intervals to examination by a practicing physician, provided and paid for by the employer, and shall likewise submit to examination at reasonable intervals by any physician selected by the administrative director or appeals board or referee thereof.

SEC. 75. Section 4054 of said code is amended to read:

4056. No compensation is payable in case of the death or disability of an employee when his death is caused, or when and so far as his disability is caused, continued, or aggravated, by an unreasonable refusal to submit to medical treatment, or to any surgical treatment, if the risk of the treatment is, in the opinion of the appeals board, based upon expert medical or surgical advice, inconsiderable in view of the seriousness of the injury.

SEC. 77. Section 4151 of said code is amended to read:

4151. Election on the part of the employer shall be made in one of the following ways:

(a) By insuring against liability for compensation, in which case he is deemed, as to all persons employed by him and covered by insurance, to have so elected during the period such insurance remains in force.

(b) By filing with the administrative director a statement to the effect that he accepts the compensation provisions of this division.

SEC. 78. Section 4152 of said code is amended to read:

4152. The statement, when filed, shall operate, within the meaning of Chapter 3 of Part 1 of this division, to subject him to the compensation provisions thereof for the term of one year from the date of filing. 4365. If the injury sustained by a disaster service worker causes permanent disability, the percentage of disability to total disability shall be determined as for the occupation of a laborer of like age by applying the schedule for the determination of the percentages of permanent disabilities prepared and adopted by the administrative director. The amount of the weekly payment for permanent disability shall be the same as the weekly benefit which would be paid for temporary total disability pursuant to the provisions of Section 4363.

SEC. 80. Section 4551 of said code is amended to read:

(c) Where the injury is caused by the failure of the employer to comply with any provision of law, or any safety order of the Division of Industrial Safety, with reference to the safety of places of employment.

(d) Where the injured employee is under 16 years of age at the time of injury.

SEC. 81. Section 4552 of said code is amended to read:

(b) The administrative director may prepare, adopt, and from time to time amend, a schedule for the determination of the percentage of permanent disabilities in accordance with this section. The governing body of any city, county or city and county, in addition to anyone else properly entitled, including the State Employees' Retirement System, may request the appeals board to determine in any case, and the appeals board shall determine, whether or not the disability referred to in Section 4850 arose out of and in the course of duty. The appeals board shall, also, in any disputed case, determine when such disability exists.

SEC. 102. Section 4902 of said code is amended to read:

4902. No compensation, whether awarded or voluntarily paid, shall be paid to any attorney at law or in fact or other agent, but shall be paid directly to the claimant entitled thereto unless otherwise ordered by the appeals board. No payment made to an attorney at law or in fact or other agent in violation of this section shall be credited to the employer.

SEC. 103. Section 4903 of said code is amended to read:

4903. The appeals board may determine, and allow as liens against any sum to be paid as compensation, any amount determined as hereinafter set forth in subdivisions (a) through (g) of this section. If more than one such lien be allowed, the appeals board may determine the priorities, if any, between the liens allowed. The liens which may be allowed hereunder are as follows:

(a) A reasonable attorney's fee for legal services pertaining to any claim for compensation either before the appeals board or before any of the appellate courts, and the reasonable disbursements in connection therewith.

(b) The reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the injured employee, as provided by Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of this division.

(c) The reasonable value of the living expenses of an injured employee or of his dependents, subsequent to the injury.

(d) The reasonable burial expenses of the deceased employee, not to exceed the amount provided for by Section 4701.

(e) The reasonable living expenses of the wife or minor children of the injured employee, or both, subsequent to the date of the injury, where such employee has deserted or is neglecting his family. Such expenses shall be allowed in such proportion as the appeals board deems proper, under application of the wife or guardian of the minor children.

(f) The amount of unemployment compensation disability benefits which have been paid under or pursuant to the Unemployment Insurance Code in those cases where, pending a determination under Division 4 of this code, there was uncertainty whether such benefits were payable under the Unemployment Insurance Code or payable hereunder; provided, however, that any lien under this subdivision shall be allowed and paid as provided in Section 4904.

(g) The amount of unemployment compensation benefits paid erroneously to the injured employee for a period for which he was unable to work and for which he received temporary total disability payments under this division.

SEC. 104. Section 4904 of said code is amended to read:

4904. If notice is given in writing to the insurer, or to the employer if uninsured, setting forth the nature and extent of any claim that is allowable as a lien, the claim is a lien against any amount thereafter payable as compensation, subject to the determination of the amount and approval of the lien by the appeals board. In determining the amount of lien to be allowed for unemployment compensation disability benefits under subdivision (f) of Section 4903 the appeals board shall allow such lien in the amount of benefits which it finds were paid for the same day or days of disability for which an award of compensation for temporary disability indemnity is made. In the case of agreements for the compromise and release of a disputed claim for compensation, the applicant and defendant may propose to the appeals board, as part of the compromise and release agreement, an amount out of the settlement to be paid to any lien claimant claiming under subdivision (f) of Section 4903. The determination of the appeals board, subject to petition for reconsideration and to the right of judicial review, as to the amount of lien allowed under subdivision (f) of Section 4903, whether in connection with an award of compensation or the approval of a compromise and release agreement, shall be binding on the lien claimant, the applicant, and the defendant, insofar as the right to benefits paid under the Unemployment Insurance Code for which the lien was claimed. The appeals board may order the amount of any lien claim, as determined and allowed by it, to be paid directly to the person entitled, either in a lump sum or in installments.

SEC. 105. Section 4905 of said code is amended to read:

4905. Where it appears in any proceeding pending before the appeals board that a lien should be allowed if it had been duly requested by the party entitled thereto, the appeals board may, without any request for such lien having been made, order the payment of the claim to be made directly to the person entitled, in the same manner and with the same effect as though the lien had been regularly requested, and the award to such person shall constitute a lien against unpaid compensation due at the time of service of the award.

SEC. 106. Section 4906 of said code is amended to read:

4906. No charge, claim, or agreement for the legal services or disbursements mentioned in subdivision (a) of Section 4903, or for the expense mentioned in subdivision (b) of Section 4903, is enforceable, valid, or binding in excess of a reasonable amount. The appeals board may determine what constitutes such reasonable amount.

SEC. 107. Section 4907 of said code is amended to read:

4907 The privilege of any person, including attorneys admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the state to appear in any proceeding as a representative of any party before the appeals board, or any of its referees, may, after a hearing, be removed, denied, or suspended by the appeals board for a violation of this chapter or for other good cause.

SEC. 108. Section 4909 of said code is amended to read:

4909. Any payment, allowance, or benefit received by the injured employee during the period of his incapacity, or by his dependents in the event of his death, which by the terms of this division was not then due and payable or when there is any dispute or question concerning the right to compensation, shall not, in the absence of any agreement, be an admission of liability for compensation on the part of the employer, but any such payment, allowance, or benefit may be taken into account by the appeals board in fixing the amount of the compensation to be paid. The acceptance of any such payment, allowance, or benefit shall not operate as a waiver of any right or claim which the employee or his dependents has against the employer.

SEC. 109. Section 5001 of said code is amended to read:

5001. Compensation is the measure of the responsibility which the employer has assumed for injuries or deaths which occur to employees in his employment when subject to this division. No release of liability or compromise agreement is valid unless it is approved by the appeals board or referee.

SEC. 110. Section 5002 of said code is amended to read:

5002. A copy of the release or compromise agreement signed by both parties shall forthwith be filed with the appeals board. Upon filing with and approval by the appeals board, it may, without notice, of its own motion or on the application of either party, enter its award based upon the release or compromise agreement.

SEC. 111. Section 5100 of said code is amended to read:

5100. At the time of making its award, or at any time thereafter, the appeals board, on its own motion either upon notice, or upon application of either party with due notice to the other, may commute the compensation payable under this division to a lump sum and order it to be paid forthwith or at some future time if any of the following conditions appear:

(a) That such commutation is necessary for the protection of the person entitled thereto, or for the best interest of either party.

(b) That commutation will avoid inequity and will not cause undue expense or hardship to either party.

(c) That the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the greater part of his assets or is about to do so.

(d) That the employer is not a resident of this state.

SEC. 112. Section 5100.5 of said code is amended to read:

5100.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5100, the appeals board shall not commute the compensation payable under this division to a lump sum when such compensation is payable under Section 4751 of the Labor Code.

SEC. 113. Section 5100.6 is added to said code, to read:

5100.6. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5100, the appeals board shall not permit the commutation or settlement of compensation of indemnity payments or other benefits to which the employee is entitled under rehabilitation.

SEC. 114. Section 5101 of said code is amended to read:

5101. The amount of the lump sum shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the injury causes temporary disability, the appeals board shall estimate the probable duration thereof and the probable amount of the temporary disability payments therefor, in accordance with Chapter 2 of Part 2 of this division, and shall fix the lump sum at the amount so determined.

(b) If the injury causes permanent disability or death, the appeals board shall fix the total amount of the permanent disability payment or death benefit payable therefor in accordance with Chapter 2 of Part 2 of this division, and shall estimate the present value thereof, assuming interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum and disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death in all cases except where the percentage of permanent disability is such as to entitle the beneficiary to a life pension, and then taking into consideration the probability of the beneficiary's death only in estimating the present value of such life pension.

SEC. 115. Section 5102 of said code is amended to read:

5102. The appeals board may order the lump sum paid directly to the injured employee or his dependents, or deposited with any savings bank or trust company authorized to transact business in this state, which agrees to accept the same as a deposit bearing interest; or the appeals board may order the lump sum deposited with the State Compensation Insurance Fund. Any lump sum so deposited, together with all interest derived therefrom, shall thereafter be held in trust for the injured employee, or in the event of his death, for his dependents. In the event of the employee's death, his dependents shall have no further recourse against the employer under this chapter.

SEC. 116. Section 5103 of said code is amended to read:

5103. Payments from the lump sum so deposited shall be made by the trustee only in the amounts and at the time fixed by order of the appeals board and until the lump sum and interest thereon are exhausted.

SEC. 117. Section 5105 of said code is amended to read:

5105. Upon the payment of a lump sum, the employer shall present to the appeals board a proper receipt evidencing the same, executed either by the injured employee or his dependents, or by the trustee. The appeals board shall thereupon issue its certificate in proper form evidencing such payment. Such certificate, upon filing with the clerk of the superior court in which any judgment upon an award has been entered, operates as a satisfaction of the award and fully discharges the employer from any further liability on account thereof.

SEC. 118. Section 5106 of said code is amended to read:

5106. The appeals board may, where the employer is uninsured and the installments of compensation awarded are to be paid for a considerable time in the future, determine the present worth of the future payments, discounted at the rate of 3 percent per annum, and order the present worth paid into the State Compensation Insurance Fund, which fund shall thereafter pay to the beneficiaries of the award the future payments as they become due.

SEC. 119. Section 5300 of said code is amended to read:

5300. All the following proceedings shall be instituted before the appeals board and not elsewhere, except as otherwise provided in Division 4.

(a) For the recovery of compensation, or concerning any right or liability arising out of or incidental thereto.

(b) For the enforcement against the employer or an insurer of any liability for compensation imposed upon him by this division in favor of the injured employee, his dependents, or any third person.

(c) For the determination of any question as to the distribution of compensation among dependents or other persons.

(d) For the determination of any question as to who are dependents of any deceased employee, or what persons are entitled to any benefit under the compensation provisions of this division.

(e) For obtaining any order which by Division 4 the appeals board is authorized to make.

(f) For the determination of any other matter, jurisdiction over which is vested by Division 4 in the Division of Industrial Accidents, including the administrative director and the appeals board.

SEC. 120. Section 5301 of said code is amended to read:

5301. The appeals board is vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to try and determine finally all the matters specified in Section 5300 subject only to the review by the courts as specified in this division.

SEC. 121. Section 5302 of said code is amended to read:

5302. All orders, rules, findings, decisions, and awards of the appeals board shall be prima facie lawful and conclusively presumed to be reasonable and lawful, until and unless they are modified or set aside by the appeals board or upon a review by the courts within the time and in the manner specified in this division.

SEC. 122. Section 5303 of said code is amended to read:

5303. There is but one cause of action for each injury coming within the provisions of this division. All claims brought for medical expense, disability payments, death benefits, burial expense, liens, or any other matter arising out of such injury may, in the discretion of the appeals board, be joined in the same proceeding at any time.

SEC 123. Section 5304 of said code is amended to read:

5304. The appeals board has jurisdiction over any controversy relating to or arising out of Sections 4600 to 4605 inclusive, unless an express agreement fixing the amounts to be paid for medical, surgical or hospital treatment as such treatment is described in those sections has been made between the persons or institutions rendering such treatment and the employer or insurer.

SEC. 124. Section 5305 of said code is amended to read:

5305. The Division of Industrial Accidents, including the administrative director and the appeals board has jurisdiction over all controversies arising out of injuries suffered without the territorial limits of this state in those cases where the injured employee is a resident of this state at the time of the injury and the contract of hire was made in this state. Any such employee or his dependents shall be entitled to the compensation or death benefits provided by this division.

SEC. 125. Section 5306 of said code is amended to read:

5306. The death of an employer subsequent to the sustaining of an injury by an employee shall not impair the right of the employee to proceed before the appeals board against the estate of the employer, and the failure of the employee or his dependents to cause the claim to be presented to the executor or administrator of the estate shall not in any way bar or suspend such right.

SEC. 126. Section 5307 of said code is amended to read:

5307. The appeals board may by an order signed by four members:

(a) Adopt reasonable and proper rules of practice and procedure.

(b) Regulate and provide the manner in which, and by whom, minors and incompetent persons are to appear and be represented before it.

(c) Regulate and prescribe the kind and character of notices, where not specifically prescribed by Division 4, and the service thereof.

(d) Regulate and prescribe the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence.

No rule or regulation of the appeals board pursuant to this section shall be adopted, amended, or rescinded without public hearing at which an opportunity is afforded for interested persons to be heard or to present statements with respect to the proposed rule or regulation, or amendment or rescission thereof. Notice of the rule or regulation proposed to be adopted, amended, or rescinded, of the time and place of the public hearing, and of any action thereon by the appeals board must be given to such business and labor organizations and firms or individuals who have requested notice thereof. Any written request hereafter filed with the appeals board seeking a change in its rules or regulations shall be deemed to be denied if not set by the appeals board for public hearing to be held within six months of the date on which such request is received by the appeals board.

SEC 127. Section 5307.1 of said code is amended to read:

5307.1. The administrative director may, after public hearings, adopt an official minimum medical fee schedule.

SEC. 128. Section 5307.3 is added to said code, to read:

5307.3. The administrative director may adopt, amend or repeal such regulations as are reasonably necessary to enforce the provisions of this division, except where such power is specifically reserved to the appeals board

No rule or regulation of the administrative director pursuant to this section shall be adopted, amended, or rescinded without public hearing at which an opportunity is afforded for interested persons to be heard or to present statements with respect to the proposed rule or regulation, or amendment or rescission thereof. Notice of the rule or regulation proposed to be adopted, amended, or rescinded, of the time and place of the public hearing, and of any action thereon by the administrative director must be given to such business and labor organizations and firms or individuals who have requested notice thereof. Any written request hereafter filed with the administrative director seeking a change in its rules or regulations shall be deemed to be denied if not set by the administrative director for public hearing to be held within six months of the date on which such request is received by the administrative director.

SEC. 129. Section 5307.5 of said code is amended to read:

5307 5. The appeals board or a referee may:

(a) Appoint a trustee or guardian ad litem to appear for and represent any minor or incompetent upon the terms and conditions which it deems proper. Such guardian or trustee shall, if required by the appeals board, give a bond in the form and of the character required by law from a guardian appointed by a superior court and in the amount which the appeals board determines. The bond shall be approved by the appeals board, and such guardian or trustee shall not be discharged from liability until he files an account with the appeals board or with the superior court and such account is approved. The trustee or guardian shall receive the compensation for his services fixed and allowed by the appeals board or by the superior court.

(b) Provide for the joinder in the same proceeding of all persons interested therein, whether as employer, insurer, employee, dependent, creditor, or otherwise.

SEC. 130. Section 5308 of said code is amended to read:

5308. The appeals board has jurisdiction to determine controversies arising out of insurance policies issued to self-employing persons, conferring benefits identical with those prescribed by this division.

The appeals board may try and determine matters referred to it by the parties under the provisions of Part 3, Title 10, of the Code of Civil Procedure, with respect to controversies arising out of insurance issued to self-employing persons under the provisions of this division. Such controversies may be submitted to it by the signed agreement of the parties, or by the application of one party and the submission of the other to its jurisdiction, with or without an express request for arbitration.

The State Compensation Insurance Fund, when the consent of the other party is obtained, shall submit to the appeals board all controversies susceptible of being arbitrated under this section.

In acting as arbitrator under this section, the appeals board has all the powers which it may lawfully exercise in compensation cases, and its findings and award upon such arbitration have the same conclusiveness and are subject to the same mode of reopening, review, and enforcement as in compensation cases. No fee or cost shall be charged by the appeals board for arbitrating the issues presented under this section.

SEC. 131. Section 5309 of said code is amended to read:

5309. The appeals board may, in accordance with rules of practice and procedure which it shall adopt and upon the agreement of the parties, on the application of either, or of its own motion, and with or without notice, direct and order a referee:

(a) To try the issues in any proceeding before it, whether of fact or of law, and make and file a finding, order, decision, or award based thereon.

(b) To hold hearings and ascertain facts necessary to enable the appeals board to determine any proceeding or to make any order, decision, or award that the appeals board is authorized to make under Divisions 4 or 5, or necessary for the information of the appeals board.

SEC. 132. Section 5310 of said code is amended to read:

5310. The appeals board may appoint one or more referees in any proceeding, as it may deem necessary or advisable, and may refer, remove to itself, or transfer to a referee the proceedings on any claim. The administrative director may appoint general referees. Any referee appointed by the administrative director has the powers, jurisdiction, and authority granted by law, by the order of appointment, and by the rules of the appeals board.

SEC 133. Section 5311 of said code is amended to read:

5311. Any party to the proceeding may object to the reference of the proceeding to a particular referee upon any one or more of the grounds specified in Section 641 of the Code of Civil Procedure and such objection shall be heard and disposed of by the appeals board. Affidavits may be read and witnesses examined as to such objections.

SEC. 134. Section 5313 of said code is amended to read:

5313. The appeals board or a referee shall, within 30 days after the case is submitted, make and file findings upon all facts involved in the controversy and an award, order, or decision stating the determination as to the rights of the parties. Together with the findings, decision, order or award there shall be served upon all the parties to the proceedings a summary of the evidence received and relied upon and the reasons or grounds upon which the determination was made.

SEC. 135. Section 5315 of said code is amended to read:

5315. Within sixty (60) days after the filing of the findings, decision, order or award, the appeals board may confirm, adopt, modify or set aside the findings, order, decision, or award of a referee and may, with or without further proceedings, and with or without notice, enter its order, findings, decision, or award based upon the record in the case.

SEC. 136. Section 5316 of said code is amended to read:

5316. Any notice, order, or decision required by this division to be served upon any person either before, during, or after the institution of any proceeding before the appeals board, may be served in the manner provided by Chapter 5, Title 14 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, unless otherwise directed by the appeals board. In the latter event the document shall be served in accordance with the order or direction of the appeals board. The appeals board may, in the cases mentioned in the Code of Civil Procedure, order service to be made by publication of notice of time and place of hearing. Where service is ordered to be made by publication the date of the hearing may be fixed at more than 30 days from the date of filing the application.

SEC. 137. Section 5404 of said code is amended to read:

5404. Unless compensation is paid within the time limited in this chapter for the institution of proceedings for its collection, the right to institute such proceedings is barred. The timely filing of an application with the appeals board by any party in interest for any part of the compensation defined by Section 3207 renders this chapter inoperative as to all further claims by such party against the defendants therein named for compensation arising from that injury, and the right to present such further claims is governed by Sections 5803 to 5805, inclusive

SEC. 138. Section 5408 of said code is amended to read:

5408. If an injured employee or, in the case of his death, any of his dependents, is under 21 years of age or incompetent at any time when any right or privilege accrues to such employee or dependent under this division, a general guardian, appointed by the court, or a guardian ad litem or trustee appointed by the appeals board may, on behalf of the employee or dependent, claim and exercise any right or privilege with the same force and effect as if no disability existed.

No limitation of time provided by this division shall run against any person under 21 years of age or any incompetent unless and until a guardian or trustee is appointed. The appeals board may determine the fact of the minority or incompetency of any injured employee and may appoint a trustee to receive and disburse compensation payments for the benefit of such minor or incompetent and his family.

SEC. 139. Section 5410 of said code is amended to read:

5410. Nothing in this chapter shall bar the right of any injured employee to institute proceedings for the collection of compensation within five years after the date of the injury upon the ground that the original injury has caused new and further disability. The jurisdiction of the appeals board in such cases shall be a continuing jurisdiction at all times within such period. This section does not extend the limitation provided in Section 5407.

SEC. 140. Section 5500 of said code is amended to read

5500. No pleadings other than the application and answer shall be required. Both shall be in writing and shall conform to forms prescribed by the appeals board in its rules of practice and procedure, simply but clearly and completely delineating all relevant matters of agreement and all issues of disagreement within the jurisdiction of the appeals board, and providing for the furnishing of such additional information as the appeals board may properly determine necessary to expedite its hearing and determination of the claim

SEC. 141. Section 5500.5 of said code is amended to read:

5500.5. Where a claim for compensation benefits is made on account of an occupational disease which may have arisen out of more than one employment, the application shall state the names and addresses of all employers, the places of employment, and the approximate periods of employment where the employee was exposed to the hazards of the occupational disease. If the application is not so prepared or omits necessary and proper employers, any interested party, at or prior to the first hearing, may request the appeals board to join as defendant any necessary or proper party. If such request is made prior to the first hearing on the application, the appeals board shall forthwith join the employer as a party defendant and cause a copy of the application together with a notice of the time and place of hearing to be served upon such omitted employer; provided, such notice can be given within the time specified in this division. If such notice cannot be timely given or if the motion for joinder is made at the time of the first hearing, then the appeals board or referee before whom the hearing is held, if it is found that the omitted employer named is a necessary or proper party, may order a joinder of such party and continue the hearing so that proper notice may be given to the party or parties so joined. Only one continuance shall be allowed for the purpose of joining additional parties. Subsequent to the first hearing the appeals board shall join as a party defendant any additional employer when it appears that such employer is a proper party, but the liability of such employer shall not be determined until supplemental proceedings are instituted.

In any case involving a claim of occupational disease contracted as a result of more than one employment, the employee making the claim, or his dependents, may elect to proceed against any one or more of the employers named in the application. Where such an election is made, the employee must successfully prove his claim against any one of the employers named, and any award which the appeals board shall issue awarding compensation benefits shall be a joint and several award as against any two or more employers who may be held liable for compensation benefits. If, during the pendency of any claim wherein the employee or his dependents has made an election to proceed against one or more employers, it should appear that there is another proper party not yet joined, such additional party shall be joined as a defendant by the appeals board on the motion of any party in interest, but the liability of such employer shall not be determined until supplemental proceedings are instituted. Any employer joined as a defendant subsequent to the first hearing or subsequent to the election provided herein shall not be entitled to participate in any of the proceedings prior to the appeal board's final decision, nor to any continuance or further proceedings, but may be permitted to ascertain from the employee or his dependents such information as will enable the employer to determine the time, place, and duration of the alleged employment. On supplemental proceedings, however, the right of the employer to full and complete examination or cross-examination shall not be restricted.

At any time within one year after the appeals board has made an award for compensation benefits in connection with an occupational disease, any employer held liable under such award may institute proceedings before the appeals board for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or right of contribution. Such a proceeding shall not diminish, restrict, or alter in any way the recovery previously allowed the employee or his dependents, but shall be limited to a determination of the respective contribution rights, interests or liabilities of all the employers joined in the proceeding, either initially or supplementally; provided, however, if the appeals board finds on supplemental proceedings for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution that an employer previously held liable in fact has no liability, it may dismiss such employer and amend its original award in such manner as may be required.

In any proceeding before the appeals board for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution where any employee incurred a disability or death resulting from silicosis in underground metal mining operations, the determination of the respective rights and interests of all of the employers joined in the proceedings either initially or supplementally shall be as follows:

(a) All employers whose underground metal mining operations resulted in a silicotic exposure during the period of the employee's employment in such operations shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of compensation and of medical, surgical, legal and hospital expense which may be awarded to the employee or his estate or dependents as the result of disability or death resulting from or aggravated by such exposure.

(b) In making its determination in the supplemental proceeding for the purpose of determining an apportionment of liability or of a right of contribution of percentage liabilities of the various employers engaged in underground metal mining operations the appeals board shall consider as a rebuttal presumption that employment in underground work in any mine for a continuous period of more than three calendar months will result in a silicotic exposure for the employee so employed during the period of employment if the underground metal mine was driven or sunk in rock having a composition which will result in dissemination of silica or silicotic dust particles when drilled, blasted or transported.

Any employer shall be entitled to rebut such presumption by showing to the satisfaction of the appeals board, or its referee, that the mining methods used by the employer in the employee's place of employment did not result during his employment in the creation of silica dust in sufficient amount or concentration to constitute a silicotic hazard. Dust counts, competently made, at such intervals and in such locations as meet the requirements of the Division of Industrial Safety for safe working conditions may be received as evidence of the amount and concentration of silica dust in the workings where such counts have been made at the time when they were made. The appeals board may from time to time, as its experience may indicate proper, promulgate orders as to the frequency with which such dust counts shall be taken in different types of workings in order to justify their acceptance as evidence of the existence or nonexistence of a silicotic hazard in the property where they have been taken.

The amendments to this section adopted at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature shall operate retroactively, and shall apply retrospectively to any cases pending before the appeals board or courts. From and after the date this section becomes effective no payment shall be made out of the fund used for payment of the additional compensation provided for in Section 4751 of this code, or out of any other state funds, in satisfaction of any liability heretofore incurred or hereafter incurred, except awards which have become final without regard to the continuing jurisdiction of the appeals board on said effective date, and the state and its funds shall be without liability therefor. This paragraph shall not in any way effect a reduction in any benefit conferred or which may be conferred upon any injured employee or his dependents.

SEC. 142. Section 5501 of said code is amended to read:

5501. The application may be filed with the appeals board by any party in interest, his attorney, or other representative authorized in writing. Upon the filing of the application, a time and place shall thereupon be fixed by the appeals board for a hearing.

SEC. 143. Section 5505 of said code is amended to read:

5505. If any defendant desires to disclaim any interest in the subject matter of the claim in controversy, or considers that the application is in any respect inaccurate or incomplete, or desires to bring any fact, paper, or document to the attention of the appeals board as a defense to the claim or otherwise, he may, within 10 days after the service of the application upon him, file with or mail to the appeals board his answer in such form as the appeals board may prescribe, setting forth the particulars in which the application is inaccurate or incomplete, and the facts upon which he intends to rely. A copy of the answer shall be forthwith served upon all adverse parties. Evidence upon matters not pleaded by answer shall be allowed only upon the terms and conditions imposed by the appeals board or referee holding the hearing.

SEC. 144. Section 5506 of said code is amended to read:

5506. If the defendant fails to appear or answer, no default shall be taken against him, but the appeals board shall proceed to the hearing of the matter upon the terms and conditions which it deems proper. A defendant failing to appear or answer, or subsequently contending that no service was made upon him, or claiming to be aggrieved in any other manner by want of notice of the pendency of the proceedings, may apply to the appeals board for relief substantially in accordance with the provisions of Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The appeals board may afford such relief. No right to relief, including the claim that the findings and award of the appeals board or judgment entered thereon are void upon their face, shall accrue to such defendant in any court unless prior application is made to the appeals board in accordance with this section. In no event shall any petition to any court be allowed except as prescribed in Sections 5950 and 5951.

SEC. 145. Section 5507 of said code is amended to read:

5507. If an application shows upon its face that the applicant is not entitled to compensation, the appeals board may, after opportunity to the applicant to be heard orally or to submit his claim or argument in writing dismiss the application without any hearing thereon. Such dismissal may be upon the motion of the appeals board or upon motion of the adverse party. The pendency of such motion or notice of intended dismissal shall not, unless otherwise ordered by the appeals board, delay the hearing on the application upon its merits

SEC. 146. Section 5600 of said code is amended to read:

5600. The appeals board may, upon the filing of an application by or on behalf of an injured employee, his dependents, or any other party in interest, direct the county clerk of any county to issue writs of attachment authorizing the sheriff to attach the property of the defendant as security for the payment of any compensation which may be awarded in any case:

(a) Mentioned in Section 412 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or

(b) Where the employee has failed to secure the payment of compensation as required by Article 1 of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of this division.

Such attachment shall be in an amount fixed by the appeals board, not exceeding the greatest probable award against the defendant in such matter.

SEC. 147. Section 5601 of said code is amended to read:

5601. The provisions of Part 2, Title 7, Chapter 4, of the Code of Civil Procedure, as far as applicable, shall govern the proceedings upon attachment, the appeals board being substituted therein for the superior court.

SEC. 148. Section 5602 of said code is amended to read:

5602. No writ of attachment shall be issued except upon the order of the appeals board. Such order shall not be made where it appears from the application or affidavit in support thereof that the employer was, at the time of the injury to the employee, insured against liability imposed by this division by any insurer. If, at any time after the levying of an attachment, it appears that such employer was so insured, and the requisites for dismissing the employer from the proceeding and substituting the insurer as defendant under any method prescribed by this division are established, the appeals board shall forthwith discharge the attachment.

SEC. 149. Section 5700 of said code is amended to read:

5700. The hearing on the application may be adjourned from time to time and from place to place in the discretion of the appeals board or a referee holding the hearing. Any such hearing adjourned by a referee shall be continued to be heard by and shall be concluded and the decision made by the referee who previously heard it. Either party may be present at any hearing, in person, by attorney, or by any other agent, and may present testimony pertinent under the pleadings.

SEC. 150. Section 5701 of said code is amended to read:

5701. The appeals board may, with or without notice to either party, cause testimony to be taken, or inspection of the premises where the injury occurred to be made, or the time-books and payroll of the employer to be examined by any member thereof or referee appointed by the appeals board. The appeals board may also from time to time direct any employee claiming compensation to be examined by a regular physician. The testimony so taken and the results of any such inspection or examination shall be reported to the appeals board for its consideration.

SEC. 151. Section 5702 of said code is amended to read:

5702. The parties to a controversy may stipulate the facts relative thereto in writing and file such stipulation with the appeals board. The appeals board may thereupon make its findings and award based upon such stipulation, or may set the matter down for hearing and take further testimony or make the further investigation necessary to enable it to determine the matter in controversy.

SEC. 152. Section 5703 of said code is amended to read:

5703. The appeals board may receive as evidence either at or subsequent to a hearing, and use as proof of any fact in dispute, the following matters, in addition to sworn testimony presented in open hearing:

(a) Reports of attending or examining physicians.

(b) Reports of special investigators appointed by the appeals board or a referee to investigate and report upon any scientific or medical question.

(c) Reports of employers, containing copies of timesheets, book accounts, reports, and other records properly authenticated.

(d) Properly authenticated copies of hospital records of the case of the injured employee.

(e) All publications of the Division of Industrial Accidents.

(f) All official publications of state and United States governments.

(g) Excerpts from expert testimony received by the appeals board upon similar issues of scientific fact in other cases and the prior decisions of the appeals board upon such issues.

SEC. 153. Section 5703.5 of said code is amended to read:

5703.5. The appeals board may at any time after an application is filed and prior to the expiration of its jurisdiction, upon the agreement of a party to pay the cost, direct the injured employee to be examined by a doctor selected by the appeals board or agreed upon by the parties to report upon any medical question pertinent to any matter then at issue before the appeals board.

SEC. 154. Section 5706 of said code is amended to read:

5706. Where it is represented to the appeals board, either before or after the filing of an application, that an employee has died as a result of injuries sustained in the course of his employment, the appeals board may require an autopsy. The report of the physician performing the autopsy may be received in evidence in any proceedings theretofore or thereafter brought. If at the time the autopsy is requested, the body of the employee is in the custody of the coroner, the coroner shall, upon the request of the appeals board or of any party interested, afford reasonable opportunity for the attendance of any physicians named by the appeals board at any autopsy ordered by him. If the coroner does not require, or has already performed the autopsy, he shall permit an autopsy or reexamination to be performed by physicians named by the appeals board. No fee shall be charged by the coroner for any service, arrangement, or permission given by him.

SEC. 155. Section 5707 of said code is amended to read:

5707. If the body of a deceased employee is not in the custody of the coroner, the appeals board may authorize the performance of such autopsy and, if necessary, the exhumation of the body therefor. If the dependents, or a majority thereof, of any such deceased employee, having the custody of the body refuse to allow the autopsy, it shall not be performed. In such case, upon the hearing of any application for compensation it is a disputable presumption that the injury or death was not due to causes entitling the claimants to benefits under this division.

SEC. 156. Section 5708 of said code is amended to read:

5708. All hearings and investigations before the appeals board or a referee are governed by this division and by the rules of practice and procedures adopted by the appeals board. In the conduct thereof they shall not be bound by the common law or statutory rules of evidence and procedure, but may make inquiry in the manner, through oral testimony and records, which is best calculated to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties and carry out justly the spirit and provisions of this division. All oral testimony, objections, and rulings shall be taken down in shorthand by a competent phonographic reporter.

SEC. 157. Section 5710 of said code is amended to read:

5710. The appeals board, a referee, or any party to the action or proceeding, may, in any investigation or hearing before the appeals board, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state. To that end the attendance of witnesses and the production of records may be required. Depositions may be taken outside the state before any officer authorized to administer oaths. The appeals board or a referee in any proceeding before the appeals board may cause evidence to be taken in other jurisdictions before the agency authorized to hear workmen's compensation matters in such other jurisdictions.

SEC. 158. Section 5800 of said code is amended to read:

5800. All awards of the appeals board either for the payment of compensation or for the payment of death benefits, shall carry interest at the same rate as judgments in civil actions on all due and unpaid payments from the date of the making and filing of said award. Such interest shall run from the date of making and filing of an award, as to amounts which by the terms of the award are payable forthwith. As to amounts which under the terms of the award subsequently become due in installments or otherwise, such interest shall run from the date when each such amount becomes due and payable.

SEC. 159. Section 5801 of said code is amended to read:

5801. The appeals board in its award may fix and determine the total amount of compensation to be paid and specify the manner of payment, or may fix and determine the weekly disability payment to be made and order payment thereof during the continuance of disability.

In the event the injured employee or the dependent of a deceased employee prevails in any petition by the employer for a writ of review from an award of the appeals board and the reviewing court finds that there is no reasonable basis for the petition, it shall remand the cause to the appeals board for the purpose of making a supplemental award awarding to the injured employee or his attorney, or the dependent of a deceased employee or his attorney a reasonable attorney's fee for services rendered in connection with the petition for writ of review. Any such fee shall be in addition to the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable and shall be paid as part of the award by the party liable to pay such award.

SEC. 160. Section 5802 of said code is amended to read:

5802. If, in any proceeding under this division, it is proved that an injury has been suffered for which the employer would be liable to pay compensation if disability had resulted therefrom, but it is not proved that any disability has resulted, the appeals board may, instead of dismissing the application, award a nominal disability indemnity, if it appears that disability is likely to result at a future time.

SEC. 161. Section 5803 of said code is amended to read:

5803. The appeals board has continuing jurisdiction over all its orders, decisions, and awards made and entered under the provisions of this division. At any time, upon notice and after an opportunity to be heard is given to the parties in interest, the appeals board may rescind, alter, or amend any such order, decision, or award, good cause appearing therefor.

Such power includes the right to review, grant or regrant, diminish, increase or terminate, within the limits prescribed by this division, any compensation awarded, upon the grounds that the disability of the person in whose favor such award was made has either recurred, increased, diminished, or terminated.

SEC. 162. Section 5804 of said code is amended to read:

5804. No award of compensation shall be rescinded, altered, or amended after five years from the date of the injury except upon a petition by a party in interest filed within such five years and any counterpetition seeking other relief filed by the adverse party within 30 days of the original petition raising issues in addition to those raised by such original petition. Provided, however, that after an award has been made finding that there was employment and the time to petition for a rehearing or reconsideration or review has expired or such petition if made has been determined, the appeals board upon a petition to reopen shall not have the power to find that there was no employment.

SEC. 163. Section 5806 of said code is amended to read:

5806. Any party affected thereby may file a certified copy of the findings and order, decision, or award of the appeals board with the clerk of the superior court of any county. Judgment shall be entered immediately by the clerk in conformity therewith.

SEC. 164. Section 5807 of said code is amended to read:

5807. The certified copy of the findings and order, decision, or award of the appeals board and a copy of the judgment constitute the judgment-roll. The pleadings, all orders of the appeals board, its original findings and order, decision, or award, and all other papers and documents filed in the cause shall remain on file in the office of the appeals board.

SEC. 165 Section 5808 of said code is amended to read:

5808. The appeals board or a member thereof may stay the execution of any judgment entered upon an order, decision, or award of the appeals board, upon good cause appearing therefor and may impose the terms and conditions of the stay of execution A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the clerk entering judgment Where it is desirable to stay the enforcement of an order, decision, or award and a certified copy thereof and of the findings has not been issued, the appeals board or a member thereof may order the certified copy to be withheld with the same force and under the same conditions as it might issue a stay of execution if the certified copy had been issued and judgment entered thereon.

SEC. 166. Section 5809 of said code is amended to read:

5809. When a judgment is satisfied in fact, otherwise than upon an execution, the appeals board may, upon motion of either party or of its own motion, order the entry of satisfaction of the judgment. The clerk shall enter satisfaction of judgment only upon the filing of a certified copy of such order.

SEC. 167. Section 5810 of said code is amended to read:

5810. The orders, findings, decisions, or awards of the appeals board made and entered under this division may be reviewed by the courts specified in Sections 5950 to 5956 within the time and in the manner therein specified and not otherwise.

SEC. 168. Section 5811 of said code is amended to read:

5811. No fees shall be charged by the clerk of any court for the performance of any official service required by this division, except for the docketing of awards as judgments and for certified copies of transcripts thereof. In all proceedings under this division before the appeals board, costs as between the parties may be allowed by the appeals board.

SEC. 169. Section 5814 of said code is amended to read:

5814. When payment of compensation has been unreasonably delayed or refused, either prior to or subsequent to the issuance of an award, the full amount of the order, decision or award shall be increased by 10 percent. The question of delay and the reasonableness of the cause therefor shall be determined by the appeals board in accordance with the facts. Such delay or refusal shall constitute good cause under Section 5803 to rescind, alter or amend the order, decision or award for the purpose of making the increase provided for herein.

SEC. 170. Section 5815 of said code is amended to read:

5815. Every order, decision or award, other than an order merely appointing a trustee or guardian, shall contain a determination of all issues presented for determination by the appeals board prior thereto and not theretofore determined. Any issue not so determined will be deemed decided adversely as to the party in whose interest such issue was raised.

SEC. 171 Section 5900 of said code is amended to read:

5900. (a) Any person aggrieved directly or indirectly by any final order, decision, or award made and filed by the appeals board or a referee under any provision contained in this division, may petition the appeals board for reconsideration in respect to any matters determined or covered by the final order, decision, or award, and specified in the petition for reconsideration. Such petition shall be made only within the time and in the manner specified in this chapter.

(b) At any time within 60 days after the filing of an order, decision, or award made by a referee and the accompanying report, the appeals board may, on its own motion, grant reconsideration.

SEC. 172. Section 5901 of said code is amended to read:

5901. No cause of action arising out of any final order, decision or award made and filed by the appeals board or a referee shall accrue in any court to any person until and unless the appeals board on its own motion sets aside such final order, decision, or award and removes such proceeding to itself or such person files a petition for reconsideration, and such reconsideration is granted or denied. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the enforcement of any such final order, decision, or award, in the manner provided in this division.

SEC. 173. Section 5902 of said code is amended to read:

5902. The petition for reconsideration shall set forth specifically and in full detail the grounds upon which the petitioner considers the final order, decision or award made and filed by the appeals board or a referee to be unjust or unlawful, and every issue to be considered by the appeals board. The petition shall be verified upon oath in the manner required for verified pleadings in courts of record and shall contain a general statement of any evidence or other matters upon which the applicant relies in support thereof.

SEC. 174. Section 5903 of said code is amended to read:

5903. At any time within 20 days after the service of any final order, decision, or award made and filed by the appeals board or a referee granting or denying compensation, or arising out of or incidental thereto, any person aggrieved thereby may petition for reconsideration upon one or more of the following grounds and no other:

(b) That the order, decision, or award was procured by fraud.

(c) That the evidence does not justify the findings of fact.

(d) That the petitioner has discovered new evidence material to him, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing.

(e) That the findings of fact do not support the order, decision, or award.

Nothing contained in this section shall limit the grant of continuing jurisdiction contained in Sections 5803 to 5805 inclusive.

SEC. 175. Section 5905 of said code is amended to read:

5905. A copy of the petition for reconsideration shall be served forthwith upon all adverse parties by the person petitioning for reconsideration. Any adverse party may file an answer thereto within 10 days thereafter. Such answer shall likewise be verified. The appeals board may require the petition for reconsideration to be served on other persons designated by it.

SEC. 176. Section 5906 of said code is amended to read:

5906. Upon the filing of a petition for reconsideration, or having granted reconsideration upon its own motion, the appeals board may, with or without further proceedings and with or without notice affirm, rescind, alter, or amend the order, decision, or award made and filed by the appeals board or referee on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in the case, or may grant reconsideration and direct the taking of additional evidence. Notice of the time and place of any hearing on reconsideration shall be given to the petitioner and adverse parties and to such other persons as the appeals board orders.

SEC. 177. Section 5907 of said code is amended to read:

5907. If at the time of granting reconsideration, it appears to the satisfaction of the appeals board that no sufficient reason exists for taking further testimony, the appeals board may affirm, rescind, alter or amend the order, decision, or award made and filed by the appeals board or referee and may, without further proceedings, without notice, and without setting a time and place for further hearing, enter its findings, order, decision, or award based upon the record in the case.

SEC. 178. Section 5908 of said code is amended to read:

5908. After the taking of additional evidence and a consideration of all of the facts the appeals board may affirm, rescind, alter, or amend the original order, decision, or award. An order, decision, or award made following reconsideration which affirms, rescinds, alters, or amends the original order, decision, or award shall be made by the appeals board but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order, decision, or award, unless so ordered by the appeals board.

SEC. 179. Section 5908.5 of said code is amended to read:

5908.5. Any decision of the appeals board granting or denying a petition for reconsideration or affirming, rescinding, altering, or amending the original findings, order, decision, or award following reconsideration shall be made by the appeals board and not by a referee and shall be in writing, signed by a majority of the appeals board members assigned thereto, and shall state the evidence relied upon and specify in detail the reasons for the decision.

SEC. 180. Section 5909 of said code is amended to read:

5909. A petition for reconsideration is deemed to have been denied by the appeals board unless it is acted upon within 30 days from the date of filing. The appeals board may, upon good cause being shown therefor, extend the time within which it may act upon such petition for not exceeding 30 days.

SEC. 181. Section 5910 of said code is amended to read:

5910. The filing of a petition for reconsideration shall suspend for a period of 10 days the order, decision, or award affected, insofar as it applies to the parties to the petition, unless otherwise ordered by the appeals board. The appeals board upon the terms and conditions which it by order directs, may stay, suspend, or postpone the order, decision, or award during the pendency of the reconsideration.

SEC. 182. Section 5911 of said code is amended to read:

5911 Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent the appeals board, on petition of an aggrieved party or on its own motion, from granting reconsideration of an original order, decision, or award made and filed by the appeals board within the same time specified for reconsideration of an original order, decision, or award.

SEC. 183. Section 5950 of said code is amended to read:

The application for writ of review must be made within 30 days after a petition for reconsideration is denied, or, if a petition is granted or reconsideration is had on the appeal board's own motion, within 30 days after the filing of the order, decision, or award following reconsideration.

SEC. 184. Section 5951 of said code is amended to read:

5951. The writ of review shall be made returnable at a time and place then or thereafter specified by court order and shall direct the appeals board to certify its record in the case to the court within the time therein specified. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the appeals board, as certified to by it.

SEC 185. Section 5952 of said code is amended to read:

5952 The review by the court shall not be extended further than to determine, based upon the entire record which shall be certified by the appeals board, whether:

(a) The appeals board acted without or in excess of its powers.

(b) The order, decision, or award was procured by fraud.

(c) The order, decision, or award was unreasonable.

(d) The order, decision, or award was not supported by substantial evidence.

(e) If findings of fact are made, such findings of fact support the order, decision, or award under review.

Nothing in this section shall permit the court to hold a trial de novo, to take evidence, or to exercise its independent judgment on the evidence.

SEC. 186. Section 5953 of said code is amended to read:

5953. The findings and conclusions of the appeals board on questions of fact are conclusive and final and are not subject to review. Such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the appeals board. The appeals board and each party to the action or proceeding before the appeals board shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing, the court shall enter judgment either affirming or annulling the order, decision, or award, or the court may remand the case for further proceedings before the appeals board.

SEC. 187. Section 5954 of said code is amended to read:

5954. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable, apply to proceedings in the courts under the provisions of this article. A copy of every pleading filed pursuant to the terms of this article shall be served on the appeals board and upon every party who entered an appearance in the action before the appeals board and whose interest therein is adverse to the party filing such pleading.

SEC. 188. Section 5955 of said code is amended to read:

5955. No court of this state, except the Supreme Court and the district courts of appeal to the extent herein specified, has jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct, or annul any order, rule, decision, or award of the appeals board, or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin, or interfere with the appeals board in the performance of its duties but a writ of mandate shall lie from the Supreme Court or the district courts of appeal in all proper cases.

SEC. 189. Section 5956 of said code is amended to read:

5956. SEC. 191. Section 6001 of said code is amended to read:

6001. The undertaking shall provide that:

(a) The petitioner and sureties are bound in double the amount named in such order, decision, or award.

(b) If the order, decision, or award appealed from, or any part thereof, is affirmed, or the proceeding upon review is dismissed, the petitioner will pay the amount directed to be paid by the order, decision, or award or the part of such amount as to which the order, decision, or award is affirmed, and all damages and costs which are awarded against the petitioner.

(c) If the petitioner does not make such payment within 30 days after the filing with the appeals board of the remittitur from the reviewing court, judgment in favor of the adverse party may be entered on motion of the adverse party, and the undertaking shall apply to any judgment entered thereon. Such judgment may be entered in any superior court in which a certified copy of the order, decision, or award is filed, against the sureties for such amount, together with interest that is due thereon, and the damages and costs which are awarded against the petitioner. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except insofar as they are inconsistent with this division, are applicable to the undertaking.

22. To issue bonds under Section 28 of this act for the purpose of providing money required to be paid by this agency as all or part of the terms and conditions under which the corporate area of the Desert Water Agency may be annexed to and become a part of any metropolitan water district organized under the Metropolitan Water District Act. The amount of said bonds may include expenses of all proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds.

(b) At such time as the Attorney General concludes that he can furnish service to one location in any county in compliance with the requirements of Section 15161, he shall so certify and shall send notice of such certification to each agency in the county connected with the state system. Thirty days after the sending of such notice, service to any connection point in the county other than the one location selected pursuant to Section 15161 shall no longer be at state expense.

15151. The maintenance of law and order is, and always has been, a primary function of government and is so recognized in both Federal and State Constitutions. It is the purpose of this chapter to establish a law enforcement telecommunications system for the State of California.

15152. The Department of Justice shall maintain a statewide telecommunications system of communication for the use of law enforcement agencies.

Before requesting vendor proposals to implement the system, the committee shall prepare detailed technical system specifications defining all communications—handling parameters and making explicit in sufficient depth the goals of the system.

15155. The committee shall consist of representation of the following organizations:

(1) Two representatives from the Peace Officers' Association of the State of California.

15159. All meetings of the committee and all hearings held by the committee shall be open to the public.

15160. The Attorney General shall, upon the advice of the committee, adopt and publish for distribution to the system subscribers and other interested parties the operating policies, practices and procedures, and conditions of qualification for membership.

15161 The Department of Justice shall provide a basic telecommunications communications network consisting of no more than two relay or switching centers in the state and cir-

These functional specifications summarize the needs of the peace officers for present purposes, but do not constitute technical specifications addressed to prospective suppliers of equipment and procedures.

15162. The system may connect and exchange traffic with compatible systems of adjacent states and otherwise participate in interstate operations.

15163. The system shall provide service to any law enforcement agency qualified by the committee which, at its own expense, desires connection through the county terminal.

15164. The system shall be maintained at all times with equipment and facilities adequate to the needs of law enforcement. The committee shall recommend to the Attorney General any improvements of the system to meet the future requirements of the subscribers and to take advantage of advancements made in the science of telecommunications communications. The system shall be designed to accommodate present and future data processing equipment.

15165. Any subscriber to the system shall file with the Attorney General an agreement to conform to the operating policies, practices and procedures approved by the committee under penalty of suspension of service or other appropriate discipline by the committee.

15166. The Director of General Services shall fix the charge to be paid by any state department, officer, board or commission to the Department of Justice.

An act to add Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 885) to Division 1 of the Streets and Highways Code, and Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 23340) to Division 11 of the Vehicle Code, relating to parkways.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1965 Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 885) is added to Division 1 of the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

CHAPTER 8. PARKWAYS

Article 1. General Provisions

885. The Legislature of the State of California hereby finds and declares that it is desirable to develop a parkway program in this state which will make available controlled speed access through highly scenic areas and areas containing uniquely outstanding natural resource and historic values for the recreational travel enjoyment of the motoring public. It is further declared that it is desirable for the state to cooperate with the federal government for the development of national parkways and to encourage the development of such parkways.

885.1. This chapter may be cited as the California Parkway Act.

885.2. Unless the particular provision or the context otherwise requires, the general provisions set forth in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

885.3. "Parkway" means an elongated park, which includes a road designed for pleasure travel, together with appropriate roadside complementary facilities, which embraces features of scenic, recreational or historic interest. In respect to a parkway, the owners of lands abutting it have no right or easement of access to or from their abutting lands or such owners have only a limited or restricted right of such access. Commercial vehicles are not permitted upon or within such parkway unless specifically so authorized by the department pursuant to Section 23341 of the Vehicle Code.

885.4. "Roadside complementary facilities" include, but are not limited to, scenic turnouts, roadside rests, parking areas, picnicking and camping facilities, and trails for pedestrians, equestrians and bicycles.

885.5. If any portion of this chapter is held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of any other portion of this chapter.

Article 2. The State Parkway System

886. The Department of Parks and Recreation shall report to the Legislature, upon the advice of the Advisory Committee on a Master Plan for Scenic Highways, its recommendations concerning potential parkway routes that might be established by the Legislature as part of the state parkway system.

886.1. In determining the location of potential parkways, such department should be guided generally by the following criteria, all of which need not be applicable in every instance:

(a) The scenic, natural resource, historic, or cultural character of the corridor through which the roadway passes should be of a quality high enough to merit state or national recognition, or should be of significant interest to be a destination, in and of itself, for recreation purposes.

(b) The road should provide a variety of visual experiences, such as changes in terrain, type of landscape, or land use activity.

(c) The parkway should provide access to, or links between, existing or proposed parks, other public recreation areas, or points of scenic, cultural, or scientific interest; whenever feasible, it should provide opportunities for the development of roadside complementary facilities at intervals, adjacent to the roadway.

(d) The route should complement the most desirable scenic, historic, natural resource and recreational features of the area. The most direct route is not a controlling consideration.

(e) It should be capable of being developed so as to incorporate all or some of the following design criteria:

(1) Lower design speeds should be adopted for parkways than for conventional highways. The geometric design should foster graceful groundfitting horizontal and vertical alignment, appropriate curves and striking vistas and should accommodate the anticipated volume of traffic without hazard to the road users.

(2) Strict control of access from adjoining property to the parkway roadway should be imposed. The Department of Public Works is authorized to lay out and construct local service roads within or along any parkway so as to provide access to adjoining property.

(3) Intersections at grade within the parkway should be kept to a minimum. Whenever feasible, grade separation structures shall be used to eliminate public and private road crossings of the parkway roadway.

886.2. The report required by Section 886 shall contain the following information concerning each proposed parkway route: Its approximate location, the estimated total area of the proposed parkway, the estimated length of the roadway within the proposed parkway, a general description of the roadside complementary facilities, and a separate estimate of the following: the cost of constructing the parkway, including right-of-way costs, engineering costs, landscaping costs, and the costs of constructing the complementary facilities; the cost of maintaining the roadway, the cost of maintaining the corridor, and the cost of maintaining the roadside complementary facilities.

886.3. As part of its procedures for preparing such report, such department shall conduct public hearings at such times and places as to afford interested parties an opportunity to express their views concerning the matter.

Article 3 Parkway Construction

887. After the Legislature has established a state parkway route, the Department of Parks and Recreation shall design, construct and maintain such parkway pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, except that the Department of Public Works shall design and construct the roadway. The Department of Public Works shall employ architects and landscape architects in addition to engineers in decisions involving the location and design of roads and interchanges, to insure that such design be in harmony with the landscape.

887.1. The design for such a roadway shall be submitted to the Department of Parks and Recreation and to the Advisory Committee on a Master Plan for Scenic Highways, and upon their joint approval such a roadway shall be constructed by the Department of Public Works in accordance with the approved design.

887.2. The Department of Parks and Recreation may, when funds are specifically appropriated therefor by the Legislature, acquire by purchase, gift, grant, bequests, demise, lease, condemnation or otherwise, the fee or any lesser interest or right in real property, including but not limited to access rights and scenic easements, for the purpose of establishing such parkway.

887.3. The Department of Parks and Recreation may, when funds are specifically appropriated therefor by the Legislature, also acquire the fee to any property for the purpose of conveying or leasing said property to its original owner or another person under such covenants or other contractual arrangements so as to conserve the scenic character and value of the property in accordance with the purposes of this chapter.

887.4. The provisions of Sections 100 2 and 100 25 relating to agreements for the closing of city streets and county highways shall also apply in connection with the establishment of a parkway.

887.5. The cost of parkway construction shall be expended from funds other than those available for state highway construction. The Department of Parks and Recreation may also accept grants on behalf of the state and may accept financial or other assistance for, or in aid of, the state parkway system.

Article 4. Parkway Maintenance

888. The Department of Parks and Recreation shall maintain all parkway property within the state parkway system from funds other than those available for state highway purposes.

888 1. The Department of Parks and Recreation may contract with other governmental agencies or private organizations or individuals for the maintenance of all or any portion of a parkway.

888 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to throw or deposit any substance in a parkway other than in a receptacle provided for that purpose. It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit in the receptacles provided for refuse in a parkway any refuse or waste from homes, farms, or commercial establishments, or other material which does not arise out of the use of the parkway by a member of the traveling public The violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor punishable as provided in Section 42002 of the Vehicle Code, and all of the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 40 300) of Division 17 of the Vehicle Code shall apply to an offense committed under this section the same as if such offense were made an offense by the Vehicle Code.

888.3. The Department of Parks and Recreation may enact rules and regulations governing the time and manner of use of each parkway and all state laws and such rules and regulations of the department shall be administered and enforced within the parkway by all employees of the state authorized by the department to do so and by all peace officers.

888 4. In the administration of parkways, the Department of Parks and Recreation may grant permits and easements pursuant to the provisions of Section 5012 of the Government Code and issue revocable licenses or permits for rights-of-way across and upon parkway lands, or for the use of parkway lands by the owner or lessees of adjacent lands, for such purposes and under such nondiscriminatory terms, regulations and conditions as it may determine to be consistent with the use of such lands for parkway purposes.

Article 5. Cooperation With the United States

889. This article is intended to enable the state to participate in any U.S. parkway program.

889.1. Except as provided in Section 889.2, the Department of Parks and Recreation shall take such state action as may be required to participate in any U.S. parkway program.

889.2. A member shall not, however, receive credit as state service for any portion of such local service constituting prior service unless he has elected to make, and has made, contributions pursuant to Section 20815 for all of his local service with the noncontracting agency constituting current service. No election shall be effective for any purpose unless accompanied by a lump-sum payment of the contributions and interest due, or by an authorization for immediate institution of payroll deductions for installment payment thereof.

CHAPTER 1628

An act to amend Section 6580 of, and to add Sections 6580.1 and 6580.2 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to general elections in sanitary districts.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6580 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

6580. Except as hereafter provided, all elections of officers, after the formation of the district shall be held on the second Tuesday in September.

SEC. 2. Section 6580.1 is added to said code, to read:

6580.1. The election of directors may be consolidated with the direct primary election if the board of directors passes a resolution to that effect and states in the resolution those offices of director to be filled at the first consolidated election. The offices which may be filled at the first consolidated election in those districts formed in odd-numbered years are those offices which would have expired the next succeeding year after the first consolidated election, and for districts formed in even-numbered years may be those offices which would have expired in the next succeeding even-numbered year after the first consolidated election. In the event this consolidation procedure is used then all other offices of director in both districts formed in odd- and even-numbered years shall expire and be filled at the next succeeding consolidated election.

If the election of directors is consolidated, each candidate for director who at such election receives votes on a majority of all the ballots cast for candidates for the office for which he seeks nomination shall be elected to such office. If at such primary election, as to any such office, none of the candidates receives such majority, the two candidates who receive the highest number of votes cast on all the ballots cast for candidates for such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing district election, which latter election shall be held at the same time as the next succeeding general election and shall be consolidated therewith. For such consolidated elections candidates shall declare their candidacy and shall be nominated, election returns shall be canvassed, the election shall be held and conducted, the results shall be declared, and the certificates of election shall be issued, in the same manner as the declaration of candidacy, nomination, election, canvassing of returns, declaration of results, and issuance of certificates of election for county officers are made, declared, held, and conducted, and issued, so far as consistent with the provisions of this section. Directors elected under the procedure provided in this section, except the first board of directors, shall take office at the same time provided by the Government Code for county officers. Elections held under this section at the time of the direct primary election and consolidated therewith shall be known as the general district election and each other election in a district holding elections under this section which may be held by authority of this law or the Elections Code or other law applicable thereto shall be known as a special district election.

The provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 23300) of Division 12 of Part 2 of the Elections Code shall apply to every consolidation under this section.

SEC. 3. Section 6580.2 is added to said code, to read:

6580.2. If the election of directors is consolidated with the direct primary election, in lieu of changing the terms of the offices of director as provided in Section 6580.1, the board of directors may appoint a director to fill any office of director the term of which expires prior to the date of the consolidated primary election at which the director is to be elected. The director so appointed shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified Directors elected at such a consolidated election shall take office at the same time provided by the Government Code for county officers and shall hold office for four years.

This section does not affect the provisions of Section 6580.1 relating to the election of directors when a candidate does not receive a majority of all the ballots cast for candidates of the office at the consolidated primary election except that an appointed director shall remain in office until his successor is elected and qualified, nor to the conducting or canvassing of returns of such a consolidated election.

An act to amend Sections 18669.1, 18925, 18945 and 18946 of, to amend and renumber the heading of Article 3 (commencing with Section 18940) of Chapter 7 of Division 7 of, and to add Section 18945.1 to, and Article 3 (commencing with Section 18930) to Chapter 7 of Division 7 of, the Financial Code, relating to insurance premium financing.

SEC. 2. Section 18925 of said code is amended to read:

18925. The insurer within a reasonable time after the effective date of cancellation shall return whatever gross unearned premiums or accrued dividends are payable under the insurance contract to the company, which financed the insurance contract, for the benefit of the insured. Whenever the return premium is in excess of the amount due to the company, such an excess shall be remitted promptly to the insured or to his order.

SEC. 3. The heading of Article 3 (commencing with Section 18940) of Chapter 7 of Division 7 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Article 4. General Provisions

SEC. 4. Article 3 (commencing with Section 18930) is added to Chapter 7 of Division 7 of said code, to read:

Article 3. Limitation on Finance Charges

18930. A premium finance agency shall not, except as otherwise provided by law, impose, take, receive, reserve or charge a finance charge which in the aggregate is greater than that which is permitted by this article.

18931. A premium finance agency may, in a premium finance agreement, contract for, charge, receive, and collect a finance charge which shall not exceed in the aggregate:

(a) One and one-quarter percent ($1\frac{1}{4}\%$) per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance of any loan up to, including, but not in excess of, seven hundred dollars ($700).

(b) Five-sixths of one percent ($\frac{5}{6}$ of 1%) per month on any remainder of such unpaid principal balance in excess of seven hundred dollars ($700).

18932. If the finance charge computed under Section 18931 is less than twelve dollars ($12), a minimum finance charge of twelve dollars ($12) may be imposed, except that:

(a) When the principal balance is not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) and is to be repaid in less than four (4) months the maximum charge shall be four dollars ($4).

(b) When the principal balance is not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) and is to be repaid in four monthly installments, the maximum finance charge shall be six dollars ($6).

(c) When the principal balance is not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) and is to be repaid in five or more monthly installments the maximum finance charge shall be eight ($8) dollars.

18932.1 The finance charge shall be computed from the effective date of the insurance coverage, provided that the company shall pay the premium due the insurer, either:

(a) Within 30 days from the effective date of the insurance coverage; or

(b) Within 30 days after the receipt by the company of a proper premium finance agreement; or

(c) Within 15 days after the company has mailed to the insured, notice of a revised finance agreement pursuant to Section 18921; whichever is later.

If the conditions of subdivision (a), (b), or (c) are not met the finance charge shall be computed from the date the proceeds of the loan are forwarded to the insurer. In the event the company receives a proper premium finance agreement later than 60 days from the effective date of the policy financed, a proportioned adjustment of the finance charge shall be made after such 60-day period.

18933. Notwithstanding the provisions of any premium finance agreement to the contrary, any insured may pay the obligation in full at any time before maturity of the final installment. If he does so, he shall receive a refund credit thereon computed in accordance with Section 18667, except where the amount of the refund credit for anticipation of payment is less than one dollar ($1) no refund need be made, and except that where the earned finance charge amounts to less than the minimum finance charge permitted by Section 18932, the company may retain as an earned finance charge a sum equal to the minimum permitted by Section 18932 or the maximum prescribed by Section 18932, whichever is applicable.

18934 In the event of a default of more than five days in the payment of any scheduled installment under the terms of a premium finance agreement, the company may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding an amount equal to the portion of the finance charge applicable to the final installment period. Said charge may not be collected more than once for the same default and may be collected at the time of such default or at any time thereafter. If such default charge is deducted from any payment received after default occurs, and such deduction results in the default of a subsequent installment, no charge may be made for the resulting default.

SEC. 5. Section 18945 of said code is amended to read:

18945. Any downpayment which is made and which is received by the company from the insured, or from the insurance producer on behalf of the insured, shall be held by the company in trust for and in transit to the insurer, and shall be paid to the insurer, together with the balance of the premium payable pursuant to the terms of the premium finance agreement within 30 days from the effective date of the policy, or within 30 days after the receipt of a proper premium finance agreement by the company, or within 15 days after the company has mailed to the insured notice of a revised finance agreement pursuant to Section 18921, whichever is later. In the event that the premium is paid to the insurance agent or broker of record, such agent or broker of record shall not be deemed the agent of the company by reason of such payment.

SEC. 6. Section 18945.1 is added to said code, read:

18945.1. The down payments received by the company under the provisions of Section 18945, may be held by the company in trust in a separate bank account or depository, or in lieu thereof, the company may maintain a time deposit with a bank, savings and loan association, or comparable institution, or obtain a certificate or certificates of deposit from a bank, in an amount at least equal to the average amount of such downpayments being held at any given time by the company as ascertained by the commissioner, and which are payable to the insurer pursuant to the terms of the premium finance agreement. Such deposits or certificates shall be held in trust for the benefit of the insureds, as their relative interests in such downpayments may exist at any given time, and in the event of the insolvency of a company, such funds on deposit under the provisions of this section or as represented by a certificate or certificates of deposit shall be first applied to remitting the amount of the downpayment to the insureds on all premium finance agreements upon which the company has not then forwarded in full the downpayments collected from and then being held for insureds, and, if insufficient to pay all such amounts in full, then such funds shall be applied for such purposes pro rata.

SEC. 7. Section 18946 of said code is amended to read:

18946. Any corporation organized as an industrial loan company other than a premium finance agency shall conduct any insurance premium financing business under the authority of this chapter and it shall be subject to all of the provisions of this chapter in respect to such business, as if it were organized hereunder except that no cumulative capitalization requirement shall be imposed, nor shall the provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 18930) be applicable to such corporation.

SEC. 8. The Legislature finds that with sharp increases in the premiums for automobile and disaster insurance policies, many families are experiencing difficulty in paying insurance premiums in lump sums. Thus, the public policy of encouraging Californians to carry insurance covering the operation of automobiles and loss due to disaster may suffer diminution. It is therefore necessary to provide some means under regulation by the state of extending credit to these families to assist them in securing that insurance coverage which public policy encourages. The Legislature recognizes that in some cases families desiring insurance may not be able to secure an extension of credit from normal conventional credit channels in the state and, therefore, that it is desirable to establish under regulation by the state, a separate means of extending credit on insurance policies and to make specific provisions which will enable private industry to provide this needed service, and that these are the reasons for the enactment of the insurance premium financing law and the changes in that law provided by this act.

The acquisition of private property by the State of California for public purposes is being felt by an increasing number of citizens who are required to relocate their residences, farms and businesses. These persons incur moving expenses which are not presently compensated for under California law. The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1962 provides for federal participation in the payment of moving expenses only where such payment is authorized by state law. The expeditious payment of moving expenses and the efficient operation of the right-of-way acquisition program by the State of California requires the immediate authorization to pay moving expenses to those eligible persons displaced by highway, park, water and other state construction projects. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 36 5 is added to the Water Conservation Act of 1931 (Chapter 1020, Statutes of 1931), to read:

36.5. Any special improvement district formed pursuant to Section 36 4 shall be under the supervision, direction and control of the board of directors of the water conservation district, unless proceedings are taken under this section for the election of a board of trustees for such special improvement district, in which event such special improvement district shall be under the supervision, direction and control of such board of trustees. Such directors or trustees, as the case may be, shall have the same power, authority and jurisdiction over and with reference to the special improvement district that the board of directors possesses over and with reference to the water conservation district and improvements made within and chargeable to the entire conservation district, provided that any obligation created in behalf of a special improvement district shall be a charge against only the properties situated within such special improvement district. All provisions of this act, insofar as they are applicable, including all provisions relating to bonds and assessments, shall apply to and govern special improvement districts formed under said Section 36.4.

A petition signed by holders of title or evidence of title of land representing at least fifteen percent (15%) of the assessed valuation of taxable land in the special improvement district may be presented to the board of directors requesting that the special improvement district be governed by a board of trustees to be elected by qualified electors in the special improvement district in lieu of the board of directors. The last equalized county assessment roll of the county in which the greater portion of the lands within the special improvement district are situated shall be prima facie evidence of ownership for purposes of this section, and a finding by the board of directors as to the sufficiency of the signatures based on certification by the secretary of the district shall be conclusive.

Upon receiving the petition and determining its adequacy, the board of directors shall set it for hearing and give notice of the time and place of the hearing by causing notices to be posted in three public places in the special improvement district at least 10 days before the date of hearing. The board shall also cause a copy of the notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the greater portion of the district is situated, and circulated in the special improvement district, once a week for at least two weeks prior to the date set for hearing, with the first publication at least 10 days prior to such date.

At the time fixed for the hearing, the board of directors shall hear all persons appearing for and against the matter, and at the conclusion of the hearing the board shall determine whether or not it is for the best interests of the district and of the special improvement district that the latter be governed by a board of trustees.

In the event the board determines in favor of the petition, it shall forthwith call a special election within the boundaries of the special improvement district for the purpose of electing a board of trustees to act as the governing body of the special improvement district.

The resolution calling such election shall include an order dividing the special improvement district into four consecutively numbered divisions. One trustee shall be elected from each division by vote of the electors of the division, and one trustee shall be elected at large by vote of the electors of the entire special improvement district.

The special election shall be held and conducted, candidates nominated, the results declared and the returns canvassed in the same manner as the regular biennial election of officers of the water conservation district, insofar as applicable.

The four persons receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes for trustee in each division, plus the one person receiving the highest number of votes for trustee at large, shall be declared to be duly elected to such offices.

The trustees so elected shall immediately enter upon their duties as such upon qualifying, and shall hold office, respectively, until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall meet, classify themselves, and organize as a board, elect a president and secretary, fix the amounts of bonds in the same manner as the first directors of a district under Section 11.

Each trustee shall receive an amount to be fixed by the board of trustees for each day's actual attendance at the meetings of the trustees and actual and necessary expenses incurred while engaged in official business under an order of the board of trustees. No trustee shall, however, receive more than twenty-five dollars ($25) for each meeting attended, nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25) in any calendar month for attendance of meetings. The secretary may but need not be one of the trustees or may be the secretary of the district or any other person.

The salary of the secretary and the amount of the bond to be given for the faithful performance of his duties shall be fixed by the board of trustees.

The board of trustees shall meet regularly at least once each month at a time and place to be fixed by resolution of the trustees.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, all provisions of this act relating to biennial elections, vacancies, oaths, bonds, terms of office, appointments of sole nominees without elections, meetings and changes in boundaries of divisions which are applicable to the board of directors of the district are applicable to the board of trustees of the special improvement district, except that any vacancies on the board of trustees shall be filled by appointment of the board of directors of the district. Each trustee must be a registered voter and a holder of title, or evidence of title, of land in the special improvement district, and of the division which he represents.

The board of trustees of any special improvement district, the lands within which are obligated to repay a loan or loans from the United States under any loan repayment contract made between the district and the United States pursuant to Section 20 5, shall be charged with the responsibility of performing or causing the performance of all obligations of the district and of the special improvement district under such contract. If, in the opinion of the board of directors, the board of trustees fails to adequately maintain and operate the waterworks facilities of the special improvement district constructed pursuant to such contract, or otherwise fails to perform or cause the performance of the obligations under such contract, the board of directors shall give the board of trustees written notice specifying the respect in which the board of trustees has failed, and in the event the board of trustees fails to cure such default within a reasonable time fixed in the notice following the giving of such notice, the board of directors may, upon giving at least thirty (30) days' written notice to the board of trustees, take over the care, operation and maintenance of such waterworks and thereafter care for and operate and maintain the same and perform or cause the performance of such obligations.

If there are a greater number of candidates for an office or for a party nomination for an office than the number whose names can be placed on one ballot page, the ballot shall be clearly marked to indicate that the list of candidates for such office is continued on the following page or pages, and if the names of candidates for such office are not required to be rotated, they shall be rotated by groups of candidates in such manner that the name of each candidate shall appear on each page of the ballot in approximately the same number of precincts as the names of all other candidates, provided on the ballot or on a separate write-in ballot that such rotation shall not apply to candidates who are entitled by law to have their names placed on the ballot ahead of the names of other candidates for the same office or nomination for office. CHAPTER 9. ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY PROGRAMS

Article 1. General Provisions

4201. It is the intent of this chapter to apply to all enrollees in economic opportunity programs, including, but not limited to, work training or work study authorized by or financed in whole or in part through provisions of Public Law 88-452 (Economic Opportunity Act of 1964).

4202. "Economic Opportunity Program" means any program adopted pursuant to Public Law 88-452, including, but not limited to, work training and work study.

4203. "Enrollee" means any person enrolled in an economic opportunity program.

4204 "Sponsoring agency" means any agency, entity, or institution, public or private, receiving grants or financial assistance, either directly or as a subcontractor, pursuant to Public Law 88-452.

4205. "Participating agency" means any agency, entity or institution, public or private, taking part in an economic opportunity program, other than a sponsoring agency.

4206. Except as provided in this chapter, an enrollee within a given economic opportunity program shall have no right to receive compensation from sponsoring or participating agencies, entities, and institutions, public or private.

4207. Compensation shall be furnished an enrollee for injury or to dependents if injury causes death, suffered within or without the state occurring in the course of his duties for a sponsoring agency within an economic opportunity program if the following conditions occur:

(a) Where, at the time of injury, the enrollee is performing services and is acting within the scope of his duties as a recipient of aid within an economic opportunity program.

(b) Where injury is proximately caused by his service as an enrollee within an economic opportunity program either with or without negligence.

(c) Where injury is not caused by the intoxication of the injured enrollee.

(d) Where the injury is not intentionally self-inflicted.

4208. Where the conditions of compensation exist, the right to recover such compensation pursuant to the provisions of this chapter is the exclusive remedy for injury or death of an enrollee against the sponsoring agency, or the participating agency.

4209. Insofar as not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, all of the provisions of this division shall pertain to enrollees and their dependents and the furnishing of compensation benefits thereto.

Article 2. Benefits

4211. Where liability for compensation exists, such compensation shall be provided as limited by this chapter.

4212. If an enrollee suffers injury or death in the performance of his duties under an economic opportunity program, then, irrespective of his remuneration from this or other employment, his average weekly earnings for the purpose of determining temporary and permanent disability indemnity shall be determined in accordance with Section 4453, provided that for the purpose of this chapter only, there shall be no statutory minimum average weekly earnings for temporary disability indemnity. If the injury sustained by an enrollee causes death, death benefits shall be determined in accordance with Sections 4701 and 4702 of this code.

4213. If the injury sustained by an enrollee causes permanent disability, the percentage of disability to total disability shall be determined for the occupation of a laborer of like age by applying the schedule for the determination of the percentage of permanent disabilities prepared and adopted by the Industrial Accident Commission.

4214. In addition to death benefit in the event of fatal injury, the reasonable expenses of the enrollee's burial shall be paid not to exceed six hundred dollars ($600).

Article 3. Adjustment of Claims

4226. Should the United States government or any agent thereof, pursuant to federal statute, rule or regulations furnish benefits to enrollees or dependents of enrollees under an economic opportunity program, then the amount of indemnity which an enrollee or his dependents are entitled to receive under this chapter shall be reduced by the amount of monetary benefits the enrollee or his dependents have and will receive from the above source as a result of injury.

4227. If the United States government or any agent thereof furnishes medical treatment to an injured enrollee, the enrollee will have no right to receive the same or similar treatment under this chapter.

4228. If the furnishing of medical treatment by the United States government or its agent takes the form of reimbursement of the enrollee, he shall have no right to receive the same or similar treatment under this chapter.

4229. If the furnishing of compensation benefits to an enrollee or his dependents under this chapter prevents such enrollee or his dependents from receiving benefits under the provisions of federal statute, rule or regulations, then the enrollee or his dependents shall have no right and shall not receive compensation benefits under this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 11656.9 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11656.9. To encourage and facilitate the participation of agencies, entities or institutions, public or private, in economic opportunity programs authorized under Public Law 88-452, insurers may insure the workman's compensation liability to enrollees of sponsoring agencies pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 4201) of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Labor Code under a master policy, subject to the approval of the Insurance Commissioner.

CHAPTER 1686

An act to add Section 31725.5 to the Government Code, relating to county employees retirement.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31725 5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

31725.5. If the board finds, on medical advice, that a member in county employment, although incapacitated for the performance of his duties, is capable of performing other duties in the service of the county, the member shall not be entitled to a disability retirement allowance if any competent authority in accordance with any applicable civil service or merit system procedures offers and he accepts a transfer, reassignment, or other change to a position with duties within his capacity to perform with his disability. If this new position returns to the member compensation less than that of the position from which he was disabled, the board, in lieu of a disability retirement allowance, shall pay him the difference in such compensation until the compensation of the new position equals or exceeds the compensation of the former position at the time the member left such position, but such amount shall not exceed the amount to which he would otherwise be entitled as a disability retirement allowance. Such payments in lieu of disability retirement allowance shall be considered as a charge against county advance reserve for current service.

If a new position cannot be arranged at the time of eligibility for disability retirement allowance, such disability retirement allowance to which the member is entitled under this article shall be paid until such time as a new position is available and accepted.

If a disability retirement allowance is paid and the member later accepts such a new position, the period while on disability retirement shall not be considered as breaking the continuity of service and his rate of contributions shall be based on the same age as it was at the date of disability. The member's accumulated contributions shall be the same as at the date his disability retirement began less the amount charged to his accumulated normal contributions.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a member to accept reassignment or transfer in lieu of a disability retirement allowance.

The provisions of this section become effective in any county only when the board of supervisors adopts an ordinance providing for their implementation by the board of retirement which may include application to persons retired for disability before such effective date.

CHAPTER 1687

An act to amend Section 763 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to actions for partition.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1965. Filed with Secretary of State July 23, 1965.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 763 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

763. If it appears by the evidence, whether alleged in the complaint or not, that the property or any part of it is so situated that partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners, or where property is subject to a life estate and the remainder is a contingent remainder, the court may and in the latter case must order the sale thereof; otherwise, upon the requisite proofs being made it must order a partition according to the respective rights of the parties as ascertained by the court, and appoint three referees therefor, and must designate the portion to remain undivided for the owners whose interests remain unknown, or are not ascertained; or the court may with the consent of the parties appoint one referee instead of three, and he, when appointed, has all the powers and may perform all the duties required of three referees; and the court must appoint as referee any person or persons to whose appointment all the parties have consented, provided that in the case of an incompetent or minor party the duly appointed guardian or conservator or guardian ad litem of said defendant may so consent, and provided further that no person shall be appointed as referee who is a clerk of the court or deputy clerk, or partner or employee of the judge, or person related to the judge or to his wife within the third degree, or who is married to a relative of the judge within the third degree, or who owns any interest or estate in the property.

Where the property or an interest therein is subject to an express trust the court, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section respecting property subject to a life estate and contingent remainder, may but shall not be required to order a sale thereof, and in the event of either a partition or sale, the property or proceeds of sale allotted to the trustee of such express trust shall be held by him upon the trust therein stated, and no further action by the court pursuant to Section 781 of this code shall be required

When the site of an incorporated city or town is included within the exterior boundaries of the property to be partitioned, the court must direct the referees to survey and appraise the entire property to be partitioned by actual lots and subdivisions then existing in the actual possession of the several tenants in common, exclusive of the value of improvements thereon, first setting apart necessary portions of the property for ways, roads and streets, as in Section 764 provided, and to report such survey and separate appraisement on each lot and subdivision to the court.

The court may confirm, change, modify, or set aside the report in whole or in part, and, if necessary, appoint new referees.

When, after the final confirmation of the report of such survey and appraisement, it appears by evidence to the satisfaction of the court that an equitable partition of the whole property is impracticable, and a sale of the site of such city or town, or any portion thereof, will be for the best interests of the owners of the whole property, it must order a sale thereof; provided, that within 60 days thereafter any tenant in common or tenants in common, having improvements erected on any town or city lot or subdivision included in such order of sale, shall have the prior right to purchase the same at such appraised valuation, and may pay into court the amount so appraised as the value thereof, and upon such payment the title shall vest in such purchaser or purchasers, and the court shall cause to be executed by such referees a deed for such lot or subdivision in fee and in severalty to such purchaser or purchasers; such further proceeding shall then be had as to the remainder of the property, and the money so paid to the court, as by this chapter provided.

If, during the pendency of the action, any of the parties die, or become insane, or otherwise incompetent, the proceedings shall not for that cause be delayed or suspended, but the attorney who has appeared for such party may continue to represent such interest; and in case any such party has not appeared by an attorney, the court must appoint an attorney to represent the interest which was held by such party, until his heirs or legal representatives, or successors in interest, shall have appeared in the action; and an attorney so appointed must be allowed by the court a reasonable compensation for his services, which may be taxed as costs against the share or interest represented by such attorney, and may be adjudged a lien thereon in the discretion of the court
