From and after the date of such notification, the city or district shall be considered, for the purpose of levying and collecting assessments under this act, as though it were the private owner of record of fee title to all land which is within the city or district and within the exterior boundaries of the agency. The alternative taxing procedure shall remain in effect as to the city or district until notification of its discontinuance is given by the city or district in the same manner set out for adoption of the alternative taxing procedure.

CHAPTER 420

An act to add Section 989 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation of personal property.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 989 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

989. Unredeemed pledged goods in the possession of a pawnbroker, but not owned by him to hold and dispose of as his property, shall not be assessed to him.

CHAPTER 421

An act to amend Section 71140.3 of the Government Code, relating to courts.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71140.3 of the Government Code is amended to read:

71140.3. Notwithstanding any provisions of Section 71140 to the contrary, in the Counties of Santa Clara, San Diego, and Orange a person is eligible to be elected or appointed to the office of judge of a municipal court of a judicial district if he is a resident eligible to vote in the county in which the judicial district is situated for a period of at least 54 days prior to the date of his election or appointment.

CHAPTER 422

An act to establish procedures for the assessment of open-space lands, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the assessment procedures specified under Section 423 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be effective with respect to land subject to taxation for the 1968–1969 fiscal year, if such land is subject to an instrument meeting the requirements of Section 422 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and such instrument is signed and recorded on or before June 15, 1968.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Some counties and cities have inadvertently failed to file the instruments reflecting the true status of property as being eligible for the assessment authorized by the Constitution for open-space lands, and in some cases negotiations to sign such instruments were not completed by the lien date in 1968. As a result, some individuals now are confronted with obligations which, if met, will substantially impair their ability to function effectively. This act will remedy the situation by, in effect, removing the procedural bar to the proper valuation of such property for tax purposes. In so doing, the public policy of the state as expressed in the Constitution will be entirely fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to amend Section 37380 of the Government Code, relating to city property.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 37380 of the Government Code is amended to read:

37380. A city may lease property owned or held or controlled by it, or any of its departments for not to exceed 55 years.

CHAPTER 424

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of the County Water Authority Act (Chapter 545 of the Statutes of 1943) is amended to read:

Sec. 5. Any authority incorporated as herein provided shall have power:

(1) To have perpetual succession.

(2) To sue and be sued in all actions and proceedings and in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

(3) To adopt a corporate seal and alter it at pleasure.

(4) To take by grant, purchase, bequest, devise or lease, and to hold, enjoy, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of, any and all real and personal property of any kind within or without the authority and within and without the state necessary or convenient to the full exercise of its powers; also to acquire, construct or operate, control and use any and all works, facilities and means necessary or convenient to the exercise of its powers, both within and without the authority, and within and without the state, and to do and perform any and all things necessary or convenient to the full exercise of the powers herein granted.

(5) To have and exercise the power of eminent domain and, in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to the exercise of the powers herein granted. In any proceeding relative to the exercise of such power of eminent domain, the authority shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation.

(6) To construct and maintain works and establish and maintain facilities across or along any public street or highway and in, upon or over any vacant public lands which are now, or may become the property of the State of California; provided, however, that the authority shall promptly restore any such street or highway to its former state of usefulness as nearly as may be, and shall not use the same in such manner as to completely or unnecessarily impair the usefulness thereof. The grant of the right to use such vacant state lands shall be effective upon the filing by such authority with the Division of State Lands of the Department of Finance, of an application showing the boundaries, extent and locations of the lands, rights-of-way, or easements desired for such purposes. If the land, rights-of-way or easement for which application shall be made is for the construction of any aqueduct, ditch, pipeline, conduit, tunnel or other works for the conveyance of water, or for roads, or for poles, or towers and wires for the conveyance of electrical energy or for telephonic or telegraphic communication, no compensation shall be charged the authority therefor, unless, in the opinion of the Chief of such Division of State Lands the construction of such works will render the remainder of the legal subdivision through which such works are to be constructed valueless or unsalable, in which event the authority shall pay for the lands to be taken and for such portion of any legal subdivision which, in the opinion of said Chief of the Division of State Lands, are rendered valueless or unsalable. If the lands for which application is made are for purposes other than the construction of roads or for works for the conveyance of water, or electricity or telephonic or telegaphic communication, such authority shall pay to the state for such lands at the reasonable rate determined by the Division of State Lands. Upon filing such application, accompanied by map or plat showing the location or proposed location of such works and/or facilities, the fee title to so much of such state lands as shall be found by the Chief of the Division of State Lands of the Department of Finance to be necessary or convenient to enable such authority to construct or maintain its works and/or to establish or maintain its facilities, shall be conveyed to such authority by patent executed by the Governor of the State of California, attested by the Secretary of State with the Great Seal of said state affixed, and countersigned by the registrar of state lands; if an easement or right-of-way only over such lands be sought by such authority, such easement or right-of-way shall be evidenced by permit or grant executed by such Chief of the Division of State Lands. The Chief of the Division of State Lands may reserve in such patents, grants or permits, easements and rights-of-way across any lands therein described for the construction of streets, roads and highways. Before any such patent, grant or permit shall be executed any compensation due to the state under the provisions hereof, must be paid. In the event that the duties or titles of any of the officers herein mentioned shall be changed by lawful authority, the functions herein required to be performed shall be performed by the appropriate officer or officers of the State of California. No fee shall be exacted from such authority for any patent, permit or grant so issued or for any service rendered hereunder. In the use of streets or highways the authority shall be subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the governmental agency in charge thereof, concerning excavations and the refilling of excavations, the relaying of pavements and the protection of the public during periods of construction; provided, that the authority shall not be required to pay any license or permit fees, or file any bonds. The authority may be required to pay reasonable inspection fees.

(7) To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidence of such indebtedness; provided, however, that no authority incorporated hereunder shall incur indebtedness which, in the aggregate, shall exceed fifteen (15) percent of the taxable property of the authority as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county in which the authority is located.

(8) To levy and collect taxes for the purpose of carrying on the operations and paying the obligations of the authority; provided, however, that such taxes levied under this section exclusive of any tax levied to meet the bonded indebtedness of such authority and the interest thereon and exclusive of any tax levied to meet any obligation to the United States of America or to any board, department or agency thereof, shall not exceed five cents ($0.05) on each such one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation.

(9) To enter into contracts, employ and retain personal services and employ laborers; to create, establish and maintain such offices and positions as shall be necessary and convenient for the transaction of the business of the authority, and to elect, appoint and employ such officers, attorneys, agents and employees therefor as shall be found by the board of directors to be necessary and convenient for the transaction of the business of the authority.

(10) To join with one or more other public corporations for the purpose of carrying out any of its powers, and for that purpose to contract with such other public corporation or corporations for the purpose of financing such acquisitions, constructions and operations. Such contracts may provide for contributions to be made by each party thereto and for the division and apportionment of the expenses of such acquisitions and operations, and the division and apportionment of the benefits, the services and products therefrom. Such contracts may contain such other and further covenants and agreements as may be necessary and convenient to accomplish the purposes hereof. The term "public corporation" as used in this subdivision shall be deemed to mean and include the United States or any public agency thereof or this or any other state or any political district, subdivision or public agency thereof.

(11) To acquire water and water rights within or without the state, but not within the county in which the authority is organized and/or located; to develop, store and transport such water; to provide, sell and deliver water at wholesale for municipal, domestic and other beneficial uses and purposes; provided, each public agency, the area of which shall be a part of any authority incorporated hereunder, shall have a preferential right to purchase from the authority for distribution by such public agency, or any public utility therein empowered by said public agency for the purpose, for domestic, municipal and other beneficial uses within such public agency, a portion of the water served by the authority which shall, from time to time, bear the same ratio to all of the water supply of the authority as the total accumulation of amounts paid by such public agency to the authority on tax assessments and otherwise, towards the capital cost of the authority's works as defined from time to time by order of the board of directors shall bear to the total payments received by the authority on account of tax assessments and otherwise, towards such capital cost as defined from time to time by order of the board of directors; also to provide, sell and deliver surplus water of the authority not needed or required for beneficial purposes by the public agencies, the corporate area of which is included in such authority, but giving preference to uses within the authority; provided, that the supplying of such surplus water shall, in every case, be subject to the paramount right of the authority to discontinue the same, in whole or in part, and to take and hold, or to provide, sell and deliver, such water for domestic, municipal or other beneficial uses within the authority upon one year's written notice to the purchaser or user of such surplus water, such notice to be given by the board of directors of the authority whenever it shall be determined and declared by resolution adopted by said board of directors by a two-thirds vote thereof that such water is needed or required by any public agency, the corporate area of which is included within said authority, for domestic, municipal or other beneficial uses therein; to fix the rates therefor, and to acquire, construct, operate and maintain any and all works, facilities, improvements and property necessary or convenient therefor.

(12) To cooperate and contract with United States under the Federal Reclamation Act of June 17, 1902, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, or any other act of Congress heretofore or hereafter enacted authorizing or permitting such cooperation, for the purposes of construction of works, necessary or proper for carrying out the purposes of said authority, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of constructed works, or for a water supply, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States; also to borrow or procure money from the United States, or any agency thereof for the purpose of financing any of the operations of the authority.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of the County Water Authority Act (Chapter 545 of the Statutes of 1943) is amended to read:

Sec. 6. All powers, privileges and duties vested in or imposed upon any authority incorporated hereunder shall be exercised and performed by and through a board of directors; provided, however, that the exercise of any and all executive, administrative and ministerial powers may be by said board of directors delegated and redelegated to any of the offices created hereby or by the board of directors acting hereunder.

The board of directors herein referred to shall consist of at least one representative from each public agency, the area of which shall lie within the authority. Such representatives shall be designated and appointed by the chief executive officers of said public agencies, respectively, with the consent and approval of the legislative bodies of the said public agencies, respectively.

Members of the board of directors shall hold office for a term of six years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified; provided, that the terms of the members of the first board shall be determined by lot so that the terms of not less than one-half of the members shall be for three years and the terms of the remainder shall be six years; provided further, that every member shall be subject to recall by the voters of the public agency from which such member is appointed, in accordance with the recall provisions of the freeholders' charter or other law applicable to such public agency; and provided further, that any member may be recalled by the majority vote of the governing body of the public agency from which such member is appointed.

As a member of the board of directors, each representative shall be entitled to vote on all questions, orders, resolutions and ordinances coming before the board, and shall be entitled to cast one vote for each five million dollars ($5,000,000), or major fractional part thereof, of assessed valuation of property taxable for authority purposes in the public agency represented by him as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county and evidenced by the certificate of the county auditor; provided, that each representative shall have at least one vote and no public agency shall have votes exceeding in number the total number of votes of all the other public agencies whose corporate areas are included in such authority. In lieu of one representative, any public agency may at its option designate and appoint several representatives not exceeding one additional representative for each one hundred fifteen million dollars ($115,000,000) of assessed valuation, but such representatives shall cast the vote to which such public agency would otherwise be entitled as a unit and as a majority of such representatives present shall determine. The affirmative votes of members representing more than fifty (50) percent of the total number of votes of all the members shall be necessary, and, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be sufficient to carry any order, resolution or ordinance coming before the board of directors; provided, however, any meeting may be adjourned or recessed from day to day or from time to time, by vote of the director or directors present, irrespective of the number of directors present or the number of votes represented at such meeting. For the purposes of this section, the term "major fractional part" shall be deemed to mean a fractional part larger than one-half.

Members of the first board of directors so constituted shall convene at the call of the clerk of the board of supervisors in the meeting room of the board of supervisors at the county seat of said county, and immediately upon convening, such board of directors shall elect from its membership a chairman, a vice chairman, and a secretary, who shall serve for a period of two years, or until their respective successors shall be elected and qualified.

Sec. 9. (a) Immediately after equalization and not later than the 15th day of August of each year, it shall be the duty of the auditor of the county wherein such authority shall lie, to prepare and deliver to the controller of the authority a certificate showing the assessed valuation of all property within the authority, and also such assessed valuation segregated according to public agencies, the areas of which lie within the authority.

(b) On or before the 20th day of August the board of directors of the authority shall by resolution determine the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year beginning the first day of July next preceding and shall fix the rate of taxation of the authority, designating the number of cents upon each one hundred dollars ($100) assessed valuation of taxable property and shall levy a tax accordingly:

(1) Sufficient, when taken with other revenues available for the purpose, to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on all outstanding bonded indebtedness of said authority; and sufficient, when taken with other revenues available for the purpose, to meet the payment of the principal and interest on any refunding bonds, or any bonds the issuance of which may have been authorized by the electors and which bonds have not been sold but which, in the judgment of the board of directors, will be sold prior to the time when money will be available from the next subsequent tax levy, and in case such bonds are not so issued and sold or such tax for any other reason is not required for said purpose, the tax so levied shall be applied to the payment of interest and/or principal on any refunding bonds, or on any bonds authorized by the electors, then outstanding or subsequently issued and/or sold; and

(2) For all other authority purposes.

(c) The board of directors shall also cause to be computed and shall declare in said resolution the amount of money to be derived from the area of the authority lying within each separate public agency by virtue of the tax levy. In such resolution the board shall also fix and determine the times and proportional amounts of installments in which any public agency may elect to make payment in lieu of taxes as hereinafter provided. The board shall immediately cause certified copies of such resolution to be transmitted to the presiding officer of the governing body of each such public agency.

(d) On or before the 15th day of December of each year the governing body of each such public agency may elect to pay out of its funds available for that purpose all or any portion of the amount of tax which would otherwise be levied upon property within such public agency. Such election shall be made by order upon motion, which order shall recite that such payment shall be made in cash concurrently with the certification of such order to the controller of the authority, or that such payment shall be made in installments and the times wherein such installments shall be payable and the amounts thereof, which amounts shall be in accordance with the requirements of the board of directors of the authority as approved by resolution In the event that any public agency shall elect to pay in cash, or by deferred installments, money or any part thereof which would otherwise be levied upon property within the public agency, it shall immediately certify to the controller of the authority a copy of such order and a statement showing its financial condition, the funds from which such payments shall be made and the sources of revenue to be used therefor; provided, however, that in the event any public agency shall elect to pay in cash all or any portion of the amount of tax which would otherwise be levied upon property within such public agency to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on the outstanding bonded indebtedness of said authority, such amount so elected to be paid shall be deposited with the treasurer of said authority on or before the 27th day of August next following such election; and provided, also, that unless such payment is so made in the case of interest and sinking fund requirements, and unless such election, as to all other taxes, shall provide for payments in accordance with the resolution of the board of directors as hereinbefore provided for, then such election shall be ineffective for any purpose.

(e) Before the first day of September the controller of the authority shall cause to be prepared and transmitted to the auditor of the county in which the authority shall lie, a statement showing the tax rate to be applied to assessed property in each public agency, which rate shall be the rate fixed by resolution of the board of directors modified to the extent necessary to produce from each public agency only the amount of money apportioned thereto in said resolution, less any amount paid or undertaken to be paid by such public agency, or credited thereto as herein provided, but if any fraction of a cent occur, it must be taken as a full cent ($0.01) on each one hundred dollars ($100).

(f) Upon receipt by the auditor of the county in which such authority shall lie, of a certified copy of the controller's statement showing the tax rate to be applied to assessed property in each public agency, and showing the public agencies, the assessed property in which is exempt therefrom, if any, it shall be the duty of the county officers to collect taxes for the benefit of the authority at the rate specified as herein provided. The taxes so levied shall be computed and collected at the same time and in the same manner required by law for the assessment, computation and collection of taxes for county purposes, and the property subject to such tax shall be subject to the same penalties for delinquency, and the same provisions of law relating to the sale of property for nonpayment of county taxes and redemption thereof shall apply to the tax herein authorized. When so collected, such taxes shall be paid over to the treasurer of the authority, subject to the deduction herein authorized.

In consideration of services rendered hereunder, any county shall annually be entitled to deduct and retain for its own use and benefit an amount not exceeding 1 percent on the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) collected hereunder, and one-fourth of 1 percent of any amount in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) collected hereunder. The board of supervisors of each such county may provide such extra help as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of duties hereunder.

(g) Whenever any real property situated in any authority organized hereunder and upon which a tax shall have been levied, as herein provided, shall be sold for taxes and shall be redeemed, the money paid for such redemption, except advertising costs, shall be apportioned and paid in part to such authority in the proportion which the tax due to such authority shall bear to the total tax for which such property shall have been sold. All taxes levied together with penalties, interests and costs under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the property upon which levied, and the enforcement of the collection of such tax shall be had in the same manner and by the same means as is or shall be provided by law for the enforcement of liens for county taxes, and all of the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of such taxes are hereby made a part of this act so far as applicable.

(h) Public agencies, the areas of which are included within any county water authority incorporated hereunder, are hereby authorized to pay to any such authority, out of funds derived from the sale of water or other funds not appropriated to some other use, such amounts as may be determined upon by the governing bodies thereof, respectively. Such payments may be made in avoidance of taxes as herein provided, or otherwise, and are hereby declared to be for a public purpose and shall not be deemed gratuitous or in the nature of gifts, but shall be deemed payments for water or services in connection with the distribution of water. Any public agency making any such payment to any authority incorporated hereunder, whether in avoidance of taxes or otherwise, shall receive credit therefor and the amount of the payment so made by any public agency shall be deducted from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying therein as herein provided. In the event that payment so made by any public agency shall exceed the amount of taxes which would otherwise have been levied against property within such public agency, the amount of such excess without interest shall be carried over and applied in reduction of taxes levied, or which would otherwise have been levied during the ensuing year or years.

Any public agency, including a county, which shall have incurred expenses in negotiating contracts or in the investigation of or preliminary work upon any works or projects or in making payments on account of any such contracts, works or projects, taken over by the authority, may receive, and the authority so taking over any such contracts, works or projects may make to such public agency, reimbursement for all such sums so expended, or to be expended, for expenses incurred in such negotiations for, investigation of, preliminary work upon, or payments made on account of the contracts, works or projects so taken over by the authority, to the extent that the board of directors of the authority shall find that such expenditures have benefited such authority, it being the intention of this provision to permit the authority to purchase, and the public agency to sell, assign and transfer such contracts, works or projects taken over by such authority. The sum so to be paid by such authority to such public agency shall be such amount as may be mutually agreed upon.

As an alternative to the purchase and sale of any contracts, works or projects taken over by the authority, as hereinabove provided, any public agency which shall have incurred expenses in negotiating contracts or in the investigation of or preliminary work upon any such works or projects or in making payments on account of any such contracts, works or projects taken over by the authority, may certify the amount thereof, without interest, to the board of directors of said authority at any time within four (4) years from the date of the incorporation of such authority, or the incurring of such expenses, if such authority be already incorporated, and if allowed by the board of directors, such amount shall be credited to the public agency which incurred the same, and such expenditures shall be considered as a payment of money made as herein provided for which deduction shall be made from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying within such public agency.

Any public agency which shall incur expenses in preliminary work in preparing for the incorporation of or in the incorporation of any authority hereunder likewise may certify the amount thereof, without interest, to the board of directors of said authority at any time within four (4) years from the date of the incorporation of such authority, and if allowed by the board of directors, such amount shall be credited to the public agency incurring the same, and shall be considered as a payment of money made as herein provided, for which deduction shall be made from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying within such public agency.

No such payments of money made in lieu of taxes or otherwise, or such credit allowed by such board of directors, as hereinabove provided, shall apply to reduce the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against the property within such public agencies respectively, to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on outstanding bonded indebtedness of such authority.

Such certification and allowance shall be made on or before the first Monday in July, and the amount of money to be raised by taxation shall be computed with reference to the credit to be allowed as herein provided, but such credit may, in the discretion of the board of directors, be considered in connection with the amount of money to be raised by the next tax levy, or may be spread over subsequent years, not to exceed five.

(i) If any public agency shall fail to comply with the terms of the order relating to payments to be made to the authority in lieu of taxation, or if any public agency annexed to the authority shall fail to comply with the terms and conditions fixed by the board of directors and upon which such annexation occurred, the amount of the delinquency, plus a penalty of 8 percent shall be added to the taxes to be collected during the ensuing fiscal year, from the property within such delinquent public agency, and thereafter for a period of two (2) years no order or ordinance shall be sufficient to exempt the property in said public agency from taxation hereunder unless it be accompanied by payment in cash of the amount which would otherwise be collected from owners of property within the public agency, together with all moneys due but unpaid under any previous order, or annexation provision.

(j) All provisions herein, or in any ordinance adopted pursuant hereto, relating to the respective times when the various acts pertaining to the levy of taxes are to be performed, are directory only, and failure to perform any such act or acts within the time so specified shall not impair the legal authority herein conferred to perform all subsequent acts relating to the levy of such taxes. In the event that any of the provisions of law respecting the time and manner of assessing property for purposes of taxation, of equalizing such assessments, of certifying such assessed valuations to the taxing authorities, of making the tax levies, of certifying such tax levies to the proper authorities for extension upon the tax rolls, and for enforcement and collection of such taxes or of performing any other act regarding the assessment, levy or collection of taxes be amended, changed, repealed or newly enacted, and as a result thereof, it should appear to the board of directors of the authority that the time schedule provided herein respecting the levy of authority taxes be no longer consistent with such modified tax procedure, then said board of directors by ordinance may prescribe a new schedule setting forth the times when the various acts herein required to be done in levying authority taxes shall be performed. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall relieve the board of directors of its duty to provide adequate funds, by annual tax levies if necessary, to meet the interest and principal requirements of the bonded debts as they fall due.

(k) For the purpose of assessing and collecting, under the provisions of Section 9(a) of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California, the taxes levied by any authority incorporated hereunder, the rate for taxes levied for the preceding tax year, as such phrase is employed in said section of the Constitution, shall be the rate fixed for such preceding tax year by the board of directors of such authority pursuant to Section 9, subdivision (b) of this act. In the event that any public agency, pursuant to the provisions of Section 9, subdivision (d) of this act, shall elect to pay the whole or any portion of the amount of taxes to be derived from the area of the authority within such public agency, as such amount shall have been fixed by resolution of the board of directors, a refund shall be made by the authority to each taxpayer thereof who shall have theretofore paid any tax collected under the provisions of said section of the Constitution, in the proportion that such public agency shall have so elected to pay the amount so to be derived. The board of directors shall adopt regulations providing for the presentation and audit and payment of claims for such refunds. No claim for such refund shall be granted unless such claim shall have been filed within one year from the date when the right to such refund shall have accrued.

An act to amend Section 32550 of the Water Code, relating to county water districts.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 32550 of the Water Code is amended to read:

32550. Territory within a district may be annexed to an improvement district whether or not contiguous thereto, provided that such territory is not a part of an improvement district constituted for a similar purpose.

CHAPTER 426

An act to amend Sections 1815, 2052, 2053, 2054, and 2055 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the county assessment roll, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1815 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

1815. To enable the board to perform its duties under this article and Sections 9 and 14 of Article XIII of the State Constitution, the board shall make a survey, not less often than triennially, in each county to determine the total full cash value of all locally assessable tangible property as of the lien date for the roll which is current when the survey is commenced. As a basis for this determination, the board shall ascertain the full cash value of a sample of locally assessable tangible property sufficient in size and dispersion to insure an adequate representation therein of the several classes of property throughout the county. The board shall for such purposes have access by its duly authorized representatives to all records, public or otherwise, of any county assessor.

SEC. 2. Section 2052 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

2052. The local roll as delivered to the auditor pursuant to Section 1753 or 617, including any changes made by the county board during the month of July, together with the board roll as transmitted to the auditor pursuant to Section 756 or the confirmed or changed estimate transmitted pursuant to Section 759, shall become the last equalized roll on the first Tuesday after the third Monday in August, and such rolls together shall continue to be the last equalized roll, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, (a) for the purpose of computing any debt limit for the issuance of bonds of any public entity that is based on a percentage of assessed valuation as shown on the last equalized assessment roll and (b) for all other purposes, until the assessment roll for the following year becomes the last equalized roll in accordance with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 2053 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

2053. If the board makes any change in the local roll pursuant to Sections 1822 and 1822.5, the local roll as so changed, together with the board roll as transmitted to the auditor pursuant to Section 756 or the confirmed or changed estimate transmitted pursuant to Section 759, shall become the last equalized roll on the date the auditor receives notice of the action of the board, except for the purpose of computing any debt limit referred to in Section 2052.

SEC. 4. Section 2054 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

2054. If the board makes any change in the local roll pursuant to Section 1823, the local roll as so changed, together with the board roll as transmitted to the auditor pursuant to Section 756 or the confirmed or changed estimate transmitted pursuant to Section 759, shall become the last equalized roll on the date the preliminary statement becomes final, or on the date the auditor receives notification of the final determination, as the case may be.

SEC. 5. Section 2055 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

2055. If the county board of equalization, or an assessment appeals board, as the case may be, makes any changes in the local roll pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1601) or Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 1750) of Part 3 of Division 1, the local roll as so changed, and including any other changes in the local roll made pursuant to law, together with the board roll as transmitted to the auditor pursuant to Section 756 or the confirmed or changed estimate transmitted pursuant to Section 759, shall become the last equalized roll on the third day after the final adjournment of the county board of equalization or all assessment appeals boards of the county as the case may be, except for the purpose of computing any debt limit referred to in Section 2052.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The technical and clarifying changes made by this act are necessary because subsequent to the time when the sections herein amended were first enacted, other portions of the Revenue and Taxation Code were amended so as to make the references in the sections herein amended inaccurate, confusing and ambiguous. Hence, the foregoing amendments are urgently needed, prior to the time when the county assessment rolls for 1968–1969 will be filed, to insure accurate calculation by certain local agencies of limitations on bonded indebtedness in order to enable such local agencies to borrow money urgently needed for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety.

An act to amend Sections 12820, 12821, and 12823 of, to add an article heading immediately preceding Section 12820 of, and to add Article 2 (commencing with Section 12830) to Chapter 9 of Division 9 of, to add Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 12851) to Division 9 of, the Education Code, and to amend Sections 8573 and 8574 of the Education Code, as proposed by Senate Bill No. 1, relating to testing of public school pupils.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An article heading is added immediately preceding Section 12820 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 1. General Provisions

SEC. 2. Section 12820 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12820. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Achievement test" means any standardized test which measures or attempts to measure the level of performance which a pupil has attained in one or more courses of study.

(b) "Physical performance test" means any test which measures or attempts to measure the physical fitness of a pupil.

(c) "Intelligence test" means any standardized test which measures or attempts to measure the scholastic aptitude of a pupil.

(d) "Testing program" means the systematic achievement, physical fitness, and intelligence testing of any or all pupils in grade 6 or 8, whichever is the last grade in the particular elementary school within the school district, and grade 12 in any or all schools within a school district.

(e) "Basic skills courses" means those subjects which involve, among other skills, memorization and mastery of specific functions, including, but not limited to, reading, spelling, basic mathematics, and grammar.

(f) "Content courses" means those subjects which require the integration of factual matter, logical analysis, the solution by the student of posed problems, and the ability to communicate ideas, including, but not limited to, literature, history, advanced mathematics, and science.

SEC. 3. Section 12821 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12821. The State Board of Education shall require a minimum testing program in basic skills courses in all school districts and shall adopt rules and regulations governing the frequency and methods of administration of the testing programs.

The State Board of Education shall annually designate or redesignate the achievement, the physical performance test, and the intelligence test, which shall be used during the ensuing school year in grade 6 or 8, whichever is the last grade in the particular elementary school within the school district, and grade 12 of this testing program except as provided in Section 12824.

It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that the State Board of Education shall assess the level of student competence and achievement in the various content and basic skill courses commonly taught in the public schools. The Legislature finds and declares that a finding of adequate pupil competence and achievement is essential if public expenditures on education are to be justified.

SEC. 3.5. Section 12823 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12823. The governing board of a school district shall provide the State Department of Education with the results of any testing program conducted in the school district upon forms which the Superintendent of Public Instruction may prescribe. The districtwide results of the testing program, but not the score or relative position of individual pupils, shall be reported to the governing board of the district at least once a year at a regularly scheduled meeting.

SEC. 4. Article 2 (commencing with Section 12830) is added to Chapter 9 of Division 9 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 2. Content Course Testing

12830. The State Board of Education shall adopt minimum academic standards for pupils in grades 6, 8, and 12, to include minimum level of student competence, and shall adopt achievement tests pursuant to this chapter which adequately evaluate the minimum level of student competence required by the board.

12830.5. The governing board of each school district maintaining grade 6 or 8, whichever is the last grade in the particular elementary school within the school district, and grade 12 shall annually administer the achievement test designed by the State Board of Education at each of such appropriate grade levels.

12831. The governing board of each school district shall annually report to the Department of Education, pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education, the scores of the achievement tests administered pursuant to this chapter.

12832. The State Board of Education may accept federal or other funds for the purpose of financing studies under this article. Such studies shall be conducted by the board on an ad hoc basis, and the board may utilize the expert services of any persons or groups of persons in public or private employment.

12833. From time to time, as the State Board of Education may determine, the board shall conduct studies of the effectiveness of the various content courses commonly offered by the public schools of this state. Such studies shall include details of the specific objectives of the courses and the level of achievement attained by students enrolled in such courses and, for this purpose, the board may use the results of any test administered under the provisions of this chapter.

12834. So far as practicable, the State Board of Education shall endeavor to assess the relative achievement of California students with students in comparable states, including, but not limited to, those states in the northeast quadrant of the United States.

12835. Upon the completion of a study by the board, the board shall report its findings, and recommendations, if any, to the Governor and the Legislature not later than January 1 of the year succeeding completion of the study.

12836. In making reports to the Legislature, the board shall maintain the anonymity of all individual students involved, as well as the participating school districts. The board may make analyses involving other factors, including, but not limited to, general categories of pedagogies in use, type of district organization, geographic area, socioeconomic data, size of school district, or other analytical items which may prove useful.

12837. The governing board of any school district shall cooperate fully with the State Board of Education in making its schools available for studies; provided, that the State Board of Education shall provide all necessary materials and consultant services free of charge to the district.

12838. No provision of this chapter or Article 3 (commencing with Section 8571) of Chapter 3 of Division 7 of this code shall be construed to mean, or represented to require, that graduation from a high school or promotion to another grade level is in any way dependent upon successful performance on any test administered as a part of the statewide testing program.

SEC. 5. Section 8573 of the Education Code, as proposed by Senate Bill No. 1, is amended to read:

8573. No pupil shall receive a diploma of graduation from grade 12 who has not completed the course of study and met the standards of proficiency prescribed by the governing board. Standards of proficiency in basic skills shall be such as will enable individual achievement and ability to be ascertained and evaluated. Requirements for graduation shall include:

(a) English.
(b) American history.
(c) American government.
(d) Mathematics.
(e) Science.
(f) Physical education, unless the pupil has been exempted pursuant to the provisions of this code.
(g) Such other courses as may be prescribed.

SEC. 6. Section 8574 of the Education Code, as proposed by Senate Bill No. 1, is amended to read:

8574. The governing board of any school district maintaining a high school shall adopt minimum academic standards for graduation from the high schools within its school district. Such minimum academic standards shall include separate courses of study including, but not limited to, a course of study designed to prepare prospective students for admission to state colleges and the state university and for vocational training. Such standards shall be made available to the public. Such minimum academic standards shall be equal to or exceed the minimum academic standards prescribed by the State Board of Education pursuant to Section 8575 of this code.

SEC. 7. Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 12851) is added to Division 9 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 10. TESTING EVALUATION AND ANALYSIS

12851. This chapter may be cited as the California School Assessment Act of 1968.

12852. The State Department of Education shall prepare and submit an annual report to the State Board of Education and to each school district in the state containing an analysis, on a district-by-district basis, of the results of every testing program conducted through a statewide program or on a statewide basis, which is to include, but is not limited to, an analysis of the following operational factors having a substantive relationship to or bearing on such results:

(a) Maximum and minimum salary range of teachers.

(b) Average class size in grades 1 to 3, inclusive.

(c) Pupil-teacher ratio in grades 4 to 8, inclusive.

(d) Number of nonteaching certificated personnel per 100 full-time teachers.

(e) Total rate of school district tax.

(f) Assessed valuation per average daily attendance.

(g) Percentage of minority enrollment.

(h) Index of family poverty, derived from dividing funds received under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-10) by the average daily attendance in the district.

(i) Average scholastic ability.

(j) Average transitory factor as derived from dividing the average daily attendance of the school by the total annual enrollment of the school.

12853. The State Board of Education shall make recommendations to the Legislature as the board deems appropriate concerning appropriate or necessary legislation with respect to the results of the testing program and the evaluation and analysis thereof required by this chapter.

SEC. 8. The expenses incurred by the Department of Education and the State Board of Education in administering the provisions of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 12851) of Division 9 of the Education Code in the 1968–1969 fiscal year shall be financed by the allocation of such amounts as are necessary therefor from the increased federal funds which are to be provided under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (Public Law 89-10) for the fiscal year 1968–1969 and which are authorized to be expended for purposes including those specified in Chapter 10.

CHAPTER 428

An act to modify the method for computing the maximum capacity of school district bonded indebtedness, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding Section 21703 of the Education Code, for purposes of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 21701) of Division 16 of the Education Code, the total amount of bonds issued shall not exceed 10 percent of the taxable property of a unified school district to which this act is applicable, which is not maintaining a junior college as shown by the last equalized assessment of the county or counties in which the district is located, without modification pursuant to Section 17262 of the Education Code.

This act shall apply only to a district if it meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The factor computed for the territory of the district pursuant to Section 17261 of the Education Code for the 1967–1968 fiscal year was 0.94.

(2) The district is not participating in the state school building aid program.

(3) The district has an average daily attendance of less than 25,000, and the governing board by resolution specifies that this act shall be applicable to the district.

SEC. 1.5. This act shall be operative until July 1, 1970, after which it shall have no force or effect.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Certain unified school districts which are in immediate need of capital outlay funds are unable to issue bonds under present provisions of law which restrict the issuance of bonds beyond a maximum amount. This act will permit such school districts to issue additional bonds beyond the present statutory maximum amount. In order that such school districts may obtain capital outlay funds as soon as possible to meet the educational needs of their students, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

An act to amend Section 5096.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5096.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

5096.7. If taxes have been paid on property acquired by negotiated purchase by any public entity designated in subdivision 2(a) of Section 4986 after the commencement of the fiscal year for which the taxes are a lien on the property, the portion of such taxes which are allocable to that part of the fiscal year which begins on the date of the acquisition of the property and made uncollectible if unpaid by virtue of Section 4986, shall be deemed erroneously collected and shall be refunded to such person who has paid the tax, where such person was not otherwise reimbursed for such portion of the taxes by the public entity which acquired the property.

Refunds under this section shall be applicable to taxes paid on either the secured or unsecured rolls.

The facts constituting such necessity are:

Presently all property in the community of Port Chicago in Contra Costa County is being acquired by the U.S. Navy by condemnation or by negotiated purchase or sale. Those persons who have paid their taxes for the current fiscal year and whose properties have been acquired by negotiated purchase or sale will, by virtue of this act, be able to obtain a refund of that portion of the paid taxes covering the period from the date of acquisition to the end of the current fiscal year. Without this amendment, such persons who have paid taxes will suffer an unjustifiable loss.

CHAPTER 430

An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the State of California and for several public purposes in accordance with the provisions of Section 12 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 29, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State June 29, 1968.]

I object to the following appropriations in Senate Bill No. 240:

Item 52—For support of Commission on California State Government Organization and Economy. I reduce this item in the amount of $35,000 from $87,472 to $52,472.

It was proposed to spend this sum for contract services to study those recommendations of the Governor's Cost Control Task Force that should be submitted to the Legislature However, the Legislature has ample resources, through its normal committee structure, to review these proposals

Item 59 1—For support of Department of Agriculture. I reduce this item in the amount of $40,000 from $51,290 to $11,290 by eliminating schedule (a)

This reduction lowers the state appropriation to the level necessary to provide new market reports on a matching basis with federal funds

Item 93—For support of University of California I reduce this item in the amount of $5,399,919 from $12,882,293 to $7,482,344.

I am approving an increase of seven new full-time faculty posts over my original budget, which provided for workload increases while moving toward the ratio established by the university.

I reduced the proposed relocation expense and administrative services for the California College of Medicine as a nonessential requirement for this year.

I approve the augmentation of 17.5 faculty positions as added assistance to the California College of Medicine in meeting accreditation standards. I do not believe the related augmentation items have been adequately justified on a priority basis, however, the university has the flexibility to adjust its appropriations in keeping with changing priorities.

I have eliminated the augmentation for the purchase of equipment at the teaching hospitals because I believe the university should meet this cost by adjusting the charges to those patients who benefit from the services provided in the hospitals and who have the ability to pay.

I have also eliminated an unessential augmentation for plant maintenance.

I have eliminated the augmentation labeled "for merit increases." I believe the university can finance these merit increases by use of the salary savings we included in the budget in keeping with guidelines that were applied across the board to all agencies of state government.

Item 94—For support of University of California. I reduce this item in the amount of $614,593 from $269,604,365 to $268,989,772.

I have reduced this item in keeping with the most recent enrollment projections by the university for the summer quarter at the Berkeley campus.

Item 94.3—For support of University of California. I eliminate this item.

I have eliminated this item because all of the financing for the Educational Opportunity Awards Program will be fully available from student registration fees approved by the Regents in April of 1968. This action of the Regents parallels my publicly expressed position that those students who are receiving the benefits of a university education in a public institution have a basic responsibility to share in the cost of providing that educational opportunity.

Furthermore, the restrictive language added to this item by the Legislature would start a dangerous, and possibly unconstitutional practice of attempting to influence decisions of the Regents by offering financial inducements to the university in return for regental action desired by some Members of the Legislature.

Item 100—For support of Trustees of the California State Colleges and the California State Colleges. I reduce this item in the amount of $952,103 from $15,305,151 to $14,353,048.

I am eliminating the $60,000 augmentation for the proposed research project at Fresno State College.

This augmentation was to support the type of proposal which can be accomplished within budgeted funds and by using authorized faculty. However, should the project require additional support, and it it is one of high priority, there exists sufficient flexibility within the State College System to transfer the necessary resources to accomplish the stated objectives.

I am eliminating the proposed $144,718 augmentation for support of computer-assisted instruction and instructional television at California State College at Los Angeles.

Budget augmentation for computer-assisted instruction, coupled with instructional television is premature at this time, because no realistic program for economic utilization and the evaluation of benefits has been prepared by the State College System.

I am eliminating the $396,241 augmentation for planning funds for year-round operations at four colleges.

The Coordinating Council for Higher Education has been directed by the Legislature to conduct a study of the economic feasibility of year-round operations. Approval of additional planning funds at four state college campuses has been withheld pending completion of the study.

I reduce the augmentation from $192,693 to $25,170 for support of the Relations With Schools program.

The amount is sufficient to initiate this new program, at the Chancellor's Office level, and to provide planning and implementation on a trial basis.

I reduce from $205,801 to $109,180 the augmentation for support of out-of-state travel for faculty.

This item will provide an approximate 60 percent increase in the available funds for out-of-state travel. Approval of this augmentation provides for a justifiable increase in the ability of the State Colleges System to retain and attract new faculty members.

This action also enables me to eliminate the $87,000 augmentation for support of interview expense for recruitment of faculty.

Item 108.5—For support of Department of Employment. I eliminate this item.

The restrictive language in this section provides that funds may be expended only to maintain the program level existing during May, June, July, August, and September, 1966. As there has been no decrease in the statewide program level since that arbitrarily chosen base period, the augmentation funds are not required, nor would they accomplish their stated purpose of aiding summer employment The department has redirected its funds and efforts to secure greater youth employment in the most disadvantaged areas of the state, and we have a successful summer job program already under way.

Item 140—For support of Service Center Program I reduce this item in the amount of $125,000 from $4,358,566 to $4,233,566 by reducing the schedule (a) General Fund, from $4,039,496 to $3,914,496.

A delay in occupancy of the permanent facilities for two centers has resulted in a reduction of $125,000 in the funds required for payment of rent I support the establishment of the new Fresno Service Center added by the Legislature This reduction for rent does not affect the new center

Item 140 5—For support of Service Center Program I eliminate this item

The services which were to be funded from this item will be provided by the transfer of presently authorized and vacant positions from other service centers No reduction in level of service will occur as a result of the elimination of this item

Item 204 1—For support of Department of Conservation, for state's share of the expenses of the Pleasanton Plant-Materials Center. I eliminate this item

This is a federal facility, currently operating without state support I believe the facility performs a worthwhile service which should continue to be supported without State General Fund assistance

Item 258 5—For university salary increases for faculty positions I reduce this item in the amount of $505,300 from $5,558,090 to $5,052,790.

I am supporting this item, and all salary appropriations, at the level set forth in my original budget, which provided a 5 percent salary increase for university personnel

Item 259 5—For California State Colleges' salary increases for instructional positions I reduce this item in the amount of $3,385,127 from $13,540,510 to $10,155,383

I am supporting this item, and all salary appropriations, at the level set forth in my original budget, which provided a 7 5 percent salary increase for state college personnel.

Item 286—For support of Assistance to Public Libraries, Division of Libraries, Department of Education I reduce this item in the amount of $400,000 from $1,600,000 to $1,200,000

The level of expenditure which I am approving increases the existing level of service by 50 percent, and represents a program level that is $200,000 above the maximum heretofore provided by the state.

Item 301 1—For grants to soil conservation districts, Division of Soil Conservation, Department of Conservation. I eliminate this item.

This appropriation appears to fund projects that are local in nature, and difficult to justify in terms of statewide benefits

We have recommended to the Legislature that the program be handled at the local level or by a state loan program

Item 310—For capital outlay, Department of General Services I reduce this item in the amount of $300,000 from $1,198,375 to $898,375 by eliminating paragraph (cx) Working drawings for office building—San Jose.

A recently completed survey by the Department of General Services indicated a lack of economic justification for the construction of a state building in San Jose at this time. As a result an expenditure for working drawings cannot be justified.

Item 312 1—For capital outlay, Department of General Services, schedule (a) Site Clearance—Van Nuys I reduce this item in the amount of $50,000 from $75,000 to $25,000.

Revised estimates indicate that the remaining amount I have left in the budget should be sufficient to accomplish this necessary project

Item 358—For capital outlay, Department of Parks and Recreation I reduce this item in the amount of $118,800 from $5,361,645 to $5,242,845 by eliminating paragraphs (jx) San Juan Bautista State Historic Park—restoration of Plaza Hotel; and (l) Benicia State Park, for preliminary plans and working drawings

(jx) The restoration of this state historical monument will continue to be financed in fiscal year 1968–69 from existing appropriations

(l) I consider design funds for additional facilities at this site premature until existing accommodations are more fully utilized.

Item 378 6—For capital outlay, Department of Parks and Recreation. I eliminate this item

This item would have appropriated $448,000 to be expended for work at the Santa Barbara Royal Presidio in 1969–70. I consider it to be a bad budget practice to attempt to establish a priority for fiscal year 1969–70 prior to the time when we will start our regular budget review for all recreation projects that may be scheduled during that period.

With these reductions and deletions, I approve Senate Bill No. 240.

RONALD REAGAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Budget Act of 1968."

SEC. 2. All such appropriations, unless otherwise herein provided, shall be paid out of the General Fund in the State Treasury.

Whenever by constitutional or statutory provision the revenues or receipts of any institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee, or other agency, or any moneys in any special fund created by law therefor, are to be used for salaries, support or any proper purpose, expenditures shall be made therefrom for any such purposes to the extent only of the amount herein appropriated, unless otherwise stated herein, or authorized pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code.

Appropriations for purposes not otherwise provided for herein which have been heretofore made by any existing constitutional or statutory provision shall continue to be governed thereby.

GENERAL SECTIONS

SEC. 4.5. Subject to the provisions of this act, any appropriation for expenditure under this act during the 1968–69 fiscal year, may, with the approval of the Department of Finance, be encumbered prior to July 1, 1968, by incurring obligations to be paid after June 30, 1968.

SEC. 5. Because it is necessary to insure the availability of adequate equipment for physical facilities constructed for the operation of custodial, mental health, educational, administrative, military, and other agencies of the state government; because uncertainties as to completion dates make precise advance planning of equipment purchases impossible; and since delivery of some kinds of equipment cannot be made for six months or longer from the date of ordering; state agencies are therefore authorized to incur obligations, to be met during the 1969–70 fiscal year, for the purchase of equipment related to capital outlay projects for which the Legislature has appropriated construction funds; provided, that no obligation shall be incurred under the provisions of this section without the approval of the Department of Finance and the State Public Works Board. Purchase orders issued and contracts entered into under the provisions of this section shall not exceed a total of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) in estimated cost.

SEC. 6. Any project, except minor projects, included in any appropriation made herein for capital outlay shall be subject to the provisions of Section 15790 of the Government Code.

SEC. 7. Any acquisition of land or other real property included in any appropriation made herein for capital outlay except appropriations from the California Water Fund or the State Highway Fund or appropriations to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for allocation to the community college districts shall be subject to the provisions of the Property Acquisition Law.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or control the Regents of the University of California in the expenditure of funds appropriated for acquisition of land or other real property for the use, development or enlargement of the University of California.

All property acquisitions, notwithstanding other exemptions of this section, shall be reported to the State Public Works Board.

SEC. 8. No money appropriated herein in any item for capital outlay may be expended by any state agency except amounts for acquisition of land or other real property, amount needed for equipment, amounts appropriated specifically for preliminary surveys, studies and planning and minor projects until the State Public Works Board and the Department of Finance have approved preliminary plans for the project to be financed from such time of appropriation for capital outlay; provided further, no major project for which appropriation is made hereunder regarding which the Director of Finance or his authorized representative requests review of working plans shall be put out to bid until the working plans therefor have been approved by the Department of Finance; provided further, that no money appropriated herein may be spent for working drawings for any project as to which there has been made substantial change or changes from the preliminary plans as approved by the State Public Works Board and the Department of Finance unless there has first been obtained the approval of the Department of Finance to make such change or changes; provided further, that no money appropriated herein may be spent for equipment until prior approval for purchase of such equipment shall have been given by the Department of Finance.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or control the Department of Public Works in the expenditure of State Highway Fund money appropriated for capital outlay purposes.

The Department of Public Works shall report to the State Public Works Board the expenditures for capital outlay, except minor projects, from appropriations contained in this act.

SEC. 8.5. In making appropriations to state agencies which are eligible for federal assistance programs for capital outlay purposes it is the intent and understanding of the Legislature that applications made by such agencies for federal funds under any such programs shall be for the maximum amount allowable under federal law.

SEC. 9. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the portion of each sum of money heretofore appropriated or allocated, hereby appropriated or hereafter allocated to the Regents of the University of California for capital outlay which remains after the purpose for which each said sum was appropriated or allocated has been accomplished, and which have been or hereafter are withdrawn from the State Treasury by the Regents of the University of California pursuant to the provisions of Section 23201 of the Education Code, together with increments, by way of interest or otherwise, on any such appropriation or allocations, shall be used and expended by the Regents of the University of California in executing and furthering the building and improvement program of the University of California; provided, that no such sums shall be allocated by the Regents of the University of California to projects for the purpose of augmenting those projects without prior approval of the State Public Works Board of the requested augmentations. Such sums shall be available for expenditure in payment of any encumbrances heretofore or hereafter incurred without regard to fiscal years; provided, however, that any unencumbered balances existing as of the date on which each such appropriation or allocation otherwise would lapse, shall then revert.

SEC. 9.5. If the Department of Finance finds and determines that the University of California has expended or encumbered funds not specifically reviewed in this act by the Legislature for acquisition of real property, it shall reduce, by an identical amount, a capital outlay item or items herein appropriated to the university.

A report shall be submitted to the State Public Works Board of any allocations made by the Regents of the University of California pursuant to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 10. GENERAL SECTIONS

SEC. 18.9. The sum of $72,446,091 of the $90,000,000 reserved by Section 153 of Chapter 963, Statutes of 1967, is appropriated together with other funds available therefor, for the purposes of capital outlay under items contained within Section 2.2 of this act, including, but not limited to, Item 321 of this act.

SEC. 18.10. The unappropriated balance of the $90,000,000 in revenues made available by Section 153, Chapter 963, Statutes of 1967, for capital outlay purposes, as of June 30, 1969, is appropriated for all General Fund purposes and shall be transferred to the General Fund on June 30, 1969.

SEC. 19. On or before September 30, 1968, the State Controller shall transfer to the General Fund any amount of surplus and working capital advances in the Service Revolving Fund for the Office of State Printing which totals in excess of $6,472,197 as of June 30, 1968.

No machinery or equipment shall be purchased by or for the Office of State Printing except as provided for in this act and for emergency replacements which shall be reported to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee quarterly.

No augmentation shall be made to the capital of the Service Revolving Fund for the benefit of the Office of State Printing during the 1968–69 fiscal year except as specifically provided for in this act.

Any proposed capital addition to the Service Revolving Fund for the benefit of the Office of State Printing for the 1969–70 fiscal year shall be included in the proposed budget for that fiscal year as an appropriation out of the General Fund.

SEC. 19.1. The unencumbered balance of the Department of Employment Contingent Fund, which at any time during the 1968–69 fiscal year exceeds $1,000,000, is hereby appropriated for transfer to the General Fund; such transfer to be made from time to time by the State Controller.

SEC. 19.6. Since the State Scholarship Commission must announce in the spring of 1969, those individuals to whom state scholarship awards and graduate fellowship awards will be granted for the following fall semester of 1969 and, since the Budget Act of 1969 may not be enacted in adequate time, the State Scholarship Commission is authorized to incur scholarship obligations and graduate fellowship obligations for the maximum number of awards authorized by Sections 31204 and 31240 of the Education Code in an amount not to exceed $11,000,000 during the 1968–69 fiscal year for awards to be in effect during the 1969–70 fiscal year.

The intent of this authorization is to prevent the occurrence of there being insufficient funds available to support state scholarships and graduate fellowships, the recipients of which have already been notified of their award. It is necessary that the State Scholarship Commission announce awards in the spring of each year, often prior to the time the Budget Bill containing the appropriation for this purpose is enacted, in order that students receiving the scholarship awards may have sufficient time to plan for entering or returning to school the following fall.

SEC. 20. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to pay the salary of any authorized state position, which position was vacant and had been vacant or continuously unfilled during the period between October 1, 1967, and July 1, 1968, except with the specific approval of the Department of Finance, subsequent to July 1, 1968.

The Department of Finance, not later than 30 days prior to the convening of the 1969 Regular Session of the Legislature, shall furnish the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a report of all positions as of July 1, 1968, which were vacant or continuously unfilled during the period between October 1, 1967, and July 1, 1968, and a report of all authorizations to fill vacant positions and all positions abolished pursuant to this section.

SEC. 20.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, expenditures under Item 12, of this act or under any appropriation in augmentation of such item for other than salaries and wages, shall be approved in such manner as the Joint Committee on Legislative Organization directs and shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 13320 of, and Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 14780) of Part 5.5 of Division 3 of Title 2 of, the Government Code and Sections 6, 8, and 25 of this act.

SEC. 21. Since it is imperative for the university and the state colleges to recruit adequate and competent faculty necessary to maintain the current academic standards and to meet the immediately foreseeable needs occasioned by the rapid growth of enrollment during the years just ahead, and since, by the nature of their duties, faculty members must as a rule be employed on an academic year basis therefore, the University of California and the California State Colleges are authorized to incur salary obligations in an amount not to exceed $1,500,000 for the university and a total of $1,500,000 for the state colleges by appointment of academic staff members during the 1968–69 fiscal year for services beginning in the 1969–70 academic year.

The intent of this authorization is to assist California's institutions of higher education in their continuing effort to recruit the best qualified faculty members possible by authorizing them to make firm employment offers in advance of specific legislative position authorization.

SEC. 21.2. Since newly appointed faculty members of the California State Colleges who are recruited from other states ordinarily move to the state college to which they were appointed during the fiscal year following the acceptance of such appointment, the California State Colleges are authorized to incur obligations to pay the travel and moving expenses of such newly appointed faculty members in an aggregate amount not to exceed $100,000, by appointments and authorizations during the 1968–69 and 1969–70 fiscal years, to pay such travel and moving expenses during the 1969–70 fiscal year.

SEC. 21.3. Since it is imperative for the Department of the California Highway Patrol to purchase special service automobiles in order to adequately patrol the highways of this state and since such automobiles can be purchased more effectively and economically on an annual basis with relation to the model year, which so-called year bridges two fiscal years, the Department of the California Highway Patrol is authorized to incur automotive equipment purchase obligations in an amount not to exceed $1,500,000 during the 1968–69 fiscal year for delivery beginning in the 1969–70 fiscal year, and the sum of $1,500,000 is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Fund to the Department of the California Highway Patrol. None of the moneys appropriated by this act or for an expenditure which is supplemented from money appropriated by this act shall be used to purchase furnishings for any house or apartment of three or more rooms other than a dormitory which is rented to a state employee except for a superintendent of an institution, warden of a prison, or physicians. This provision shall not apply to the purchase of refrigerators, heaters, air-conditioning equipment, stoves, linoleum, or equipment normally furnished in construction of the house as may be determined by the State Board of Control. Any such funds that are appropriated by this act for this purpose shall be held intact and be reverted to the fund from which they were appropriated. It is the intent of the Legislature that no money shall be appropriated henceforth for the purpose of house furnishings Such furnishings are not to be provided by the state nor shall any money be paid from this appropriation for their replacement, repair or otherwise except in connection with the disposal of the same.

SEC. 26. Whenever herein an appropriation is made for support it shall include salaries and all other proper expenses, including repairs and equipment, incurred in connection with the institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee, or other agency, for which such appropriation is made.

Whenever herein an appropriation is made for capital outlay, it shall include acquisition of land or other real property, major construction, improvements, equipment, designs, working plans, specifications, repairs and equipment necessary in connection with a construction or improvement project.

Whenever herein any item of appropriation contains provision for acquisition of land or other real property, it shall include all necessary expenses in connection with the acquisition of such property.

Whenever herein an appropriation is made in accordance with a schedule set forth after such appropriation, the expenditures from such item for each category or project included in the schedule shall be limited to the amount specified for such category or project, except as otherwise provided in this act. Each such schedule is a restriction or limitation upon the expenditure of the respective appropriation made by this act, does not itself appropriate any money, and is not itself an item of appropriation.

As used in this act in reference to such schedules "category" or "project" means a class of expenditures such as, but not limited to:

(a) "Personal services" which shall include all expenditures for payment of officers and employees of the state; including salaries and wages, workmen's compensation, insurance premiums for workmen's compensation coverage, the state's contributions to the Employees' Retirement Fund, the Teachers' Retirement Fund, the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Revolving Fund, the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund, and the state's cost of a basic health benefits plan; but do not include compensation of independent contractors rendering personal services to the state under contract, or payments into a private fund as authorized by Section 18853.5 of the Government Code;

All necessary professional fees and administrative service costs are included in the preparation of such drawings.

(e) "Minor projects" include construction, improvements, repairs and equipment projects not specifically set forth in the schedule

For the purpose of further interpreting the meaning of the words, terms and phrases used in such schedules, reference is hereby made to those documents entitled, "State of California Support and Local Assistant Budget for the Fiscal Year July 1, 1968, to June 30, 1969," and "State of California Capital Outlay Budget for the Fiscal Year July 1, 1968, to June 30, 1969," submitted by the Governor to the Legislature at the 1968 Regular Session, the uniform accounting system prescribed by the Department of General Services under the provisions of Section 13290 of the Government Code, and the appropriate portions thereof. As of the effective date of this act, the state's contributions as provided by Sections 22828 and 22829 of the Government

Code for any month shall be charged to the same appropriations used for payment of salaries and wages from which the employee premium contributions for such month are deducted.

The appropriations made by Sections 20751, 20752, 20782, 20783, 22828, and 22829 of the Government Code, by Sections 14209 and 14210 of the Education Code, shall continue to be available for expenditure, and shall be charged for any expenditure which is not chargeable to an appropriation for support or other expenses as provided in this section.

The State Controller may transfer to the State Payroll Revolving Fund the contributions required by Sections 20751, 20752, 20782, 20783, 22828, and 22829 of the Government Code, and upon certification by the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System in accordance with Sections 20754 and 20784 of the Government Code, may transfer from the State Payroll Revolving Fund to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund and the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Revolving Fund the amounts of contributions so certified.

SEC. 27. The Director of Finance may, pursuant to a request by the officer, department, division, bureau, board, commission, or other agency to whom an appropriation is made herein, authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for a category or project designated in any schedule set forth for such appropriation by transfer from any of the other designated categories or projects within the same schedule. The Director of Finance shall furnish the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a report on all authorizations given pursuant to this section during the preceding quarter.

SEC. 28. The Director of Finance may authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for any category in the schedule set forth for any appropriation in this act or any additional category in the amount of any funds which he estimates will be received by an officer, department, division, bureau, or other agency during the 1968–69 fiscal year from any other state agency, from any agency of local government or the federal government, from any appropriation made by the Legislature or from any other source which he determines has not been taken into consideration in said schedule, or is in excess of the amount so taken into consideration, except that the director may authorize expenditures for a new program not identified in the budget as such or for purposes which in his judgment constitute an increase in the level of services above that authorized by the Budget Act or other existing law not sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefor to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of said committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

The Director of Finance may also reduce any category whenever he determines that funds to be received will be less than the amount taken into consideration in the schedule.

SEC. 28.5. Approvals by the Department of Finance to the creation of deficiencies pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code and approvals to expend at rates which, in the opinion of the Director of Finance, will require a deficiency appropriation shall be made in writing and filed with the Joint Legislative Budget Committee within 10 days after approval stating the reasons for and amount of such authorization.

SEC. 29. Premiums for official bonds may be paid out of appropriations contained in this act, notwithstanding the period covered by such bonds.

SEC. 30. Whenever an expenditure is authorized from the Emergency Fund, from price increase funds, from the salary increase funds, or from a special fund pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code, in addition to an appropriation made by this act, such authorized expenditures may, for accounting purposes, be deemed to be an augmentation and increase of the appropriation made by this act.

SEC. 31. The appropriations under this act, unless otherwise provided, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13320 of the Government Code requiring expenditures to be made in accordance with the allotments and other provisions of fiscal year budgets approved by the Department of Finance.

The fiscal year budget shall authorize in such manner as the Department of Finance shall prescribe all established positions whose continuance for the year is approved and all new positions. No new positions or change in grade or class of an existing position shall be established unless authorized by the Department of Finance on the basis of work program and organization.

Each fiscal year budget shall provide for a salary savings reserve to which shall be transferred on a document initiated by the agency and submitted to the Department of Finance the unencumbered balance remaining in each allotment for salaries and wages at the close of each quarter or other period of time covered by the allotment. The unencumbered balance remaining in each budget allotment for salaries and wages shall be computed by deducting from the amount of the allotment the expenditures and accrued obligations for salaries and wages chargeable to such allotment for the period covered thereby. The amount in the salary savings reserve shall not be available for expenditure except upon transfer to allotments for salaries and wages approved by the Department of Finance. Such transfer shall be approved only after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance that the allotment to be augmented is insufficient to meet necessary expenditures for salaries and wages.

No money in any salary savings reserve may be expended to pay increases in salary ranges established after July 1, 1967, unless the Department of Finance certifies to the State Personnel Board, or other salary-fixing authority, prior to the adoption of such increased salary range that funds will be made available to pay the increased salaries resulting therefrom. Provided, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to salaries fixed by the State Personnel Board based on prevailing rates pursuant to Government Code Section 18853.

A certification on a payroll claim that expenditures therein are in accordance with current budgetary provisions as approved by the Department of Finance shall be sufficient evidence to the State Controller that such expenditures comply with the provisions of this section.

Each agency, department, board, commission, and institution, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, shall certify to the Director of Finance that its expenditures have been made for the purposes stated in the budget, as implemented by the Budget Act, except as the purposes stated have been revised, in accordance with law, by the Department of Finance subsequent to the enactment of the Budget Act.

SEC. 31.5. All appropriations under this act for the support of the state colleges and the Trustees of the California State Colleges shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13320 of the Government Code and Section 31 of this act, with the following exceptions:

(a) The Trustees of the California State Colleges may approve any transfer of funds within the major budgetary functions of general administration, instruction, library, student services, plant operation, student pay—work-study, year-round operation, educational television, reimbursed activities, chancellor's office, international program and reimbursements, as provided in fiscal year budgets of the state colleges and the Trustees of the California State Colleges approved by the Department of Finance. The Trustees of the California State Colleges may approve any transfer of funds between the chancellor's office and any state college, or between any state college and any other state college. The Trustees of the California State Colleges may authorize the augmentation of the amount available for a category designated in any schedule set forth for such appropriation by transfer from any of the other designated categories within the same schedule within the major budgetary functions and shall furnish the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a report of such authorizations given during the preceding quarter;

(b) The trustees may approve the substitution of one item of equipment for another within such aforementioned budgetary functions and the use of savings in equipment allotments;

(c) The trustees may approve travel, both within and outside the state, and the payment of allowances and expenses related to travel, moving and the relocation of employees in accordance with the allowances established by the State Board of Control and within funds appropriated by this act for this purpose;

(d) The trustees may, within funds appropriated by this act, establish new positions both full-time and blanket on a provisional basis, make changes in grade or class of an existing position on the basis of work program and organization, provided such new positions and changes in grade or class shall be shown as administrative adjustments in the subsequent budgetary submissions and shall be subject to review during the legislative budget process.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as exempting the state colleges and the trustees of the state colleges from the provisions of Section 31 pertaining to salary savings reserve.

SEC. 32. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, are expressly forbidden to make any expenditures in excess of such appropriations, except the consent of the Department of Finance be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by the director of said department, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by the State Controller nor paid out of any state appropriation. Any member of any such department, board, commission or institution, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the consent of the Department of Finance and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

The Department of Finance shall submit copies of certificates approved by it under this section to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee quarterly, and shall indicate in the case of each certificate the code section or section of this act under which the department gave its consent to exceed the particular appropriation.

SEC. 32.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any appropriation of state funds made in the Welfare and Institutions Code for the public assistance programs, expenditures of state funds for those programs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969, shall not exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of four hundred fifty million six hundred thirty-five thousand two hundred dollars ($450,635,200).

The Department of Social Welfare, subject to the limit placed on aggregate expenditures by this section, may transfer funds between categorical aid programs.

The Department of Social Welfare shall administer the public assistance programs so that the counties will bear no more than the amount of welfare costs that they would be obligated to bear under the applicable provisions of the Welfare and Institutions Code, without the expenditure limitations set forth herein, and so that the amount authorized to be expended under this section shall fully cover the state's share of aid payments and for services under such programs for the 1968–69 fiscal year.

The limitations on amounts imposed by this section shall apply to any amounts which are determined by the Director of Finance to be necessary to meet increases in cost arising out of approvals made by the Department of Finance pursuant to the provisions contained in Item 141.

Provided further, that the Director of Finance is authorized to approve expenditures in those amounts made necessary by changes in either caseload or payments, or both, unrelated to any change in rule or regulation adopted during the current fiscal year which are in excess of Budget Bill estimates for 1968–69. Not later than the fifth legislative day following the submission of the Governor's Budget in the 1969 Regular Session of the Legislature, the Director of Finance shall report to the Legislature the amount, if any, by which the then current estimate of expenditures for public assistance programs in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969, will exceed the limitation on aggregate expenditure in this section. If such report is not required following submission of the Governor's Budget but the Director of Finance determines during the third quarter that the estimate of expenditures will exceed the authorized expenditure in this section, he shall so report to the Legislature prior to the end of the third quarter. At such time as a report is made, the amount of the limitation shall be increased by the amount of such excess unless and until otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 32.8. As of June 30, 1968, the unencumbered balance of the revenues provided by Chapter 1326, Statutes of 1965, and appropriated by Section 32.7 of the Budget Act of 1967, shall be transferred to the unappropriated balance of the General Fund.

SEC. 33. If any item of appropriation in this act is vetoed, eliminated or reduced by the Governor under Section 10 of Article IV of the Constitution while approving portions of this act, such veto, elimination or reduction shall not affect the other portions of this act and these other portions of this act, so approved, shall have the same effect in law as if any vetoed or eliminated items of appropriation had not been present in this act and as if any reduced item of appropriation had not been reduced.

SEC. 34. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 35. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of Section 8 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

SEC. 36. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There exists an extreme shortage of physical facilities for the operation of the custodial, mental treatment, educational, administrative, military and other agencies of the state government, the present facilities being entirely inadequate due to great increases in population and added governmental responsibilities. The capital outlay appropriations in this budget are all in continuation of an existing program to remedy the aforesaid shortage of facilities and to promote and sustain the economy of the state. If they are not available for expenditure on July 1, 1968, the existing program will be delayed. The expeditious correction of such condition and the efficient operation of the state's business requires the immediate availability of the new capital outlay appropriation and the uninterrupted availability of reappropriated capital outlay items contained in this measure. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

SECTION 1. Section 730.04 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

730.04. (a) An income beneficiary is entitled to income from the date specified in the trust instrument, or, if none is specified, from the date an asset becomes subject to the trust. In the case of an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will, it becomes subject to the trust as of the date of the death of the testator even though there is an intervening period of administration of the testator's estate.

(b) Upon an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will,

(1) Receipts due but not paid at the date of death of the testator are principal;

(2) Receipts in the form of periodic payments not due at the date of the death of the testator (other than rents, annuities, interest on bank savings accounts, interest on savings and loan association accounts and corporate distributions to stockholders) shall be treated as accruing from day to day. That portion of the receipt accruing before the date of death is principal, and the balance is income.

(c) In all other cases, any receipt from an income-producing asset is income even though the receipt was earned or accrued in whole or in part before the date when the asset became subject to the trust.

(d) Whenever an income beneficiary's right to income shall cease by death, or in any other manner, all payments theretofore actually paid to the income beneficiary or in the hands of the trustee for payment to the income beneficiary shall belong to the income beneficiary or to his personal representative; all income actually received by the trustee after such termination shall be paid to the person next entitled to income by the terms of the trust. This subdivision shall not apply to income received by a trustee under subdivision (c) of Section 730.05.

(e) Corporate distributions to stockholders shall be treated as due on the day fixed by the corporation for determination of stockholders of record entitled to distribution or, if no date is fixed, on the date of declaration of the distribution by the corporation.

SEC. 2. Section 730.05 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

(b) Income received by a trustee under subdivision (a) shall be treated as income of the trust.

(c) When an income beneficiary's right to income, including interest payable under Section 162 of the Probate Code, shall cease by death, or in any other manner, during the period of probate administration, income attributable to the period prior to the termination of such right, when subsequently received by the trustee, shall be equitably prorated between the beneficiary or his personal representative and the person next entitled to income by the terms of the trust instrument.

SEC. 3. Section 730.08 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

730 08. (a) If a trustee uses any part of the principal in the continuance of a business of which the settlor was a sole proprietor or a partner, the net profits of the business, computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for a comparable business and subject to the provisions of subdivision (c), are income. If a loss results in any fiscal or calendar year, the loss falls on principal and shall not be carried into any other fiscal or calendar year for purposes of calculating net income.

(b) Generally accepted accounting principles shall be used to determine income from an agricultural or farming operation, including the raising of animals or the operation of a nursery, subject to the provisions of subdivision (c).

(c) Subdivisions (a) and (b) are subject to the provisions of Section 730.14 and for this purpose any property of such business or agricultural or farming operation shall be deemed to be "property held in such trust" within the meaning of Section 730.14.

SEC. 4. Section 730.13 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

730.13. (a) The following charges shall be made against income:

(1) Ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the administration, management, or preservation of the trust property, including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal, water rates, premiums on insurance taken upon the interests of the income beneficiary, remainderman, or trustee, interest paid by the trustee, and ordinary repairs;

(2) The trustee in his absolute discretion may make a reasonable allowance for depreciation on property subject to depreciation under generally accepted accounting principles, but no allowance shall be made for depreciation of that portion of any real property used by a beneficiary as a residence;

(3) One-half of court costs, attorney's fees, and other fees on periodic judicial accounting, unless the court directs otherwise;

(4) Court costs, attorney's fees, and other fees on other accountings or judicial proceedings if the matter primarily concerns the income interest, unless the court directs otherwise;

(5) One-half of the trustee's regular compensation, whether based on a percentage of principal or income, unless the court directs otherwise;

(6) All expenses reasonably incurred for current management of principal and application of income;

(7) Any tax levied upon receipts defined as income under this act or the trust instrument and payable by the trustee.

(b) If charges against income are of unusual amount, the trustee may by means of reserves or other reasonable means charge them over a reasonable period of time and withhold from distribution sufficient sums to regularize distributions.

(c) The following charges shall be made against principal:

(1) Trustee's compensation not chargeable to income under subdivisions (a)(4) and (a)(5), special compensation of trustees, expenses reasonably incurred in connection with principal, court costs and attorney's fees primarily concerning matters of principal, and trustee's compensation computed on principal as an acceptance, distribution, or termination fee;

(2) Charges not provided for in subdivision (a), including the cost of investing and reinvesting principal, the payments on principal of an indebtedness (including a mortgage amortized by periodic payments of principal), expenses for preparation of property for rental or sale, and, unless the court directs otherwise, expenses incurred in maintaining or defending any action to construe the trust or protect it or the property to assure the title of any trust property;

(3) Extraordinary repairs or expenses incurred in making a capital improvement to principal, including special assessments, but a trustee may establish an allowance for depreciation out of income to the extent permitted by subdivision (a)(2) and by Section 730.08.

(4) Any tax levied upon profit, gain, or other receipts allocated to principal notwithstanding denomination of the tax as an income tax by the taxing authority;

(5) If an estate or inheritance tax is levied in respect of a trust in which both an income beneficiary and a remainderman have an interest, any amount apportioned to the trust, including penalties, even though the income beneficiary also has rights in the principal.

(d) Regularly recurring charges payable from income shall be apportioned to the same extent and in the same manner that income is apportioned under Section 730.04.

SEC. 5. This act shall be operative July 1, 1968.

SEC. 6. This is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article VI of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

At the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, Chapter 1508 of the 1967 Statutes was enacted to add new Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 730) of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Civil Code, to be known and cited as the Revised Principal and Income Act, operative July 1, 1968.

The Revised Principal and Income Act on and after its operative date will provide a comprehensive statute applicable in terms to both existing and future trusts. The amendments to such act proposed by this act will clarify and improve provisions of such Revised Principal and Income Act, as adopted in 1967, and also will change the rule of Estate of Feldman, 145 Cal. App. 2d. 19. To avoid a gap in the statutory law and in the interest of uniformity, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

SEC. 2. Section 580a of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

580a. Whenever a money judgment is sought for the balance due upon an obligation for the payment of which a deed of trust or mortgage with power of sale upon real property or any interest therein was given as security, following the exercise of the power of sale in such deed of trust or mortgage, the plaintiff shall set forth in his complaint the entire amount of the indebtedness which was secured by said deed of trust or mortgage at the time of sale, the amount for which such real property or interest therein was sold and the fair market value thereof at the date of sale and the date of such sale. Upon the application of either party made at least 10 days before the time of trial the court shall, and upon its own motion the court at any time may, appoint one of the inheritance tax appraisers provided for by law to appraise the property or the interest therein sold as of the time of sale. Such appraiser shall file his appraisal with the clerk and the same shall be admissible in evidence. Such appraiser shall take and subscribe an oath to be attached to the appraisal that he has truly, honestly and impartially appraised the property to the best of his knowledge and ability. Any appraiser so appointed may be called and examined as a witness by any party or by the court itself. The court must fix the compensation of such appraiser in an amount as determined by the court to be reasonable, but such fees shall not exceed similar fees for similar services in the community where such services are rendered, which may be taxed and allowed in like manner as other costs. Before rendering any judgment the court shall find the fair market value of the real property, or interest therein sold, at the time of sale. The court may render judgment for not more than the amount by which the entire amount of the indebtedness due at the time of sale exceeded the fair market value of the real property or interest therein sold at the time of sale with interest thereon from the date of the sale; provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of said judgment, exclusive of interest after the date of sale, exceed the difference between the amount for which the property was sold and the entire amount of the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust or mortgage. Any such action must be brought within three months of the time of sale under such deed of trust or mortgage. No judgment shall be rendered in any such action until the real property or interest therein has first been sold pursuant to the terms of such deed of trust or mortgage, unless such real property or interest therein has become valueless.

SEC. 3. Section 726 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

726. There can be but one form of action for the recovery of any debt, or the enforcement of any right secured by mortgage upon real property, which action must be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. In such action the court may, by its judgment, direct the sale of the encumbered property (or so much thereof as may be necessary), and the application of the proceeds of the sale to the payment of the costs of court, and the expenses of the sale, and the amount due plaintiff, including, where the mortgage provides for the payment of attorney's fees, such sum for such fees as the court shall find reasonable, not exceeding the amount named in the mortgage.

The court may, by its judgment, or at any time after judgment, appoint a commissioner to sell the encumbered property. It must require of him an undertaking in an amount fixed by the court, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge, to the effect that the commissioner will faithfully perform the duties of his office according to law. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties he must file such undertaking, so approved, together with his oath that he will faithfully perform the duties of his office.

The decree for the foreclosure of a mortgage or deed of trust secured by real property or any interest therein shall declare the amount of the indebtedness or right so secured and, unless judgment for any deficiency there may be between the sale price and the amount due with costs is waived by the judgment creditor or a deficiency judgment is prohibited by Section 580b, shall determine the personal liability of any defendant for the payment of the debt secured by such mortgage or deed of trust and shall name such defendants against whom a deficiency judgment may be ordered following the proceedings hereinafter prescribed. In the event of such waiver, or if the prohibition of Section 580b is applicable the decree shall so declare and there shall be no judgment for a deficiency. In the event that a deficiency is not waived or prohibited and it is decreed that any defendant is personally liable for such debt, then upon application of the plaintiff filed at any time within three months of the date of the foreclosure sale and after a hearing thereon at which the court shall take evidence and at which hearing either party may present evidence as to the fair value of the property or the interest therein sold as of the date of sale, the court shall render a money judgment against such defendant or defendants for the amount by which the amount of the indebtedness with interest and costs of sale and of action exceeds the fair value of the property or interest therein sold as of the date of sale; provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of said judgment, exclusive of interest from the date of sale and of costs exceed the difference between the amount for which the property was sold and the entire amount of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage or deed of trust. Notice of such hearing must be served upon all defendants who have appeared in the action and against whom a deficiency judgment is sought, or upon their attorneys of record, at least 15 days before the date set for such hearing.

Upon application of any party made at least 10 days before the date set for such hearing the court shall, and upon its own motion the court at any time may, appoint one of the inheritance tax appraisers provided for by law to appraise the property or the interest therein sold as of the time of sale. Such appraiser shall file his appraisal with the clerk and the same shall be admissible in evidence. Such appraiser shall take and subscribe an oath to be attached to the appraisal that he has truly, honestly and impartially appraised the property to the best of his knowledge and ability Any appraiser so appointed may be called and examined as a witness by any party or by the court itself. The court must fix the compensation, in an amount as determined by the court to be reasonable, but such fees shall not exceed similar fees for similar services in the community where such services are rendered, which may be taxed and allowed in like manner as other costs.

No person holding a conveyance from or under the mortgagor of the property mortgaged, or having a lien thereon, which conveyance or lien does not appear of record in the proper office at the time of the commencement of the action need be made a party to such action, and the judgment therein rendered, and the proceedings therein had, are as conclusive against the party holding such unrecorded conveyance or lien as if he had been a party to the action.

If the court appoint a commissioner for the sale of the property, he must sell it in the manner provided by law for the sale of like property by the sheriff upon execution; and the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 681), Title 9, Part 2, of this code are hereby made applicable to sale made by such commissioner, and the powers therein given and the duties therein imposed on sheriffs are extended to such commissioner.

In all cases heretofore, now or hereafter pending in the courts of this state, in the event of the death, absence from the state, other disability or disqualification of the commissioner appointed to sell encumbered property under the foregoing provisions of this section, the court may, upon the happening of either the death, absence from the state, other disability or disqualification of the commissioner, appoint an elisor to perform the duties of such commissioner which are then to be performed in such action. The elisor so appointed shall give the undertaking, and take the oath hereinbefore provided to be given and taken by a commissioner, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, and shall thereafter perform all duties left unperformed by the commissioner whom he is appointed to succeed, with like effect as if such duties had been performed by the commissioner.

If the land mortgaged consists of a single parcel, or two or more contiguous parcels, situated in two or more counties, the court may, in its judgment, direct the whole thereof to be sold in one of such counties by the sheriff, commissioner or elisor, as the case may be, and upon such proceedings, and with like effect, as if the whole of the property were situated in that county.

SEC. 4. Section 1266.2 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1266.2. In any action or proceeding for the purpose of condemning property where the court may appoint appraisers, referees, commissioners, or other persons for the purpose of determining the value of such property and fixing the compensation thereof, and may fix their fees or compensation, the court may set such fees or compensation in an amount as determined by the court to be reasonable, but such fees shall not exceed similar fees for similar services in the community where such services are rendered.

SECTION 1. Section 146 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

146. In case of the dissolution of the marriage by decree of a court of competent jurisdiction or in the case of judgment or decree for separate maintenance of the husband or the wife without dissolution of the marriage, the court shall make an order for disposition of the community property and the quasi-community property and for the assignment of the homestead as follows:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (c), if the decree is rendered on the ground of adultery, incurable insanity or extreme cruelty, the community property and quasi-community property shall be assigned to the respective parties in such proportions as the court, from all the facts of the case, and the conditions of the parties, may deem just.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (c), if the decree be rendered on any other ground than that of adultery, incurable insanity or extreme cruelty, the community property and quasi-community property shall be equally divided between the parties.

(c) Without regard to the ground on which the decree is rendered or to which party is granted the divorce or separate maintenance, community property personal injury damages shall be assigned to the party who suffered the injuries unless the court, after taking into account the economic condition and needs of each party, the time that has elapsed since the recovery of the damages, and all other facts of the case, determines that the interests of justice require another disposition, in which case the community property personal injury damages shall be assigned to the respective parties in such proportions as the court determines to be just under the facts of the case, but in no event shall more than one-half of the community property personal injury damages be assigned to the spouse of the party who suffered the injuries. As used in this subdivision, "community property personal injury damages" means all money or other property received by a married person as community property in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for his or her personal injuries or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages, unless such money or other property has been commingled with other community property.

(d) If a homestead has been selected from the community property or the quasi-community property, it may be assigned to the party to whom the divorce or decree of separate maintenance is granted, or, in cases where a divorce or decree of separate maintenance is granted upon the ground of incurable insanity, to the party against whom the divorce or decree of separate maintenance is granted. The assignment may be either absolutely or for a limited period, subject, in the latter case, to the future disposition of the court, or it may, in the discretion of the court, be divided, or be sold and the proceeds divided.

(e) If a homestead has been selected from the separate property of either, in cases in which the decree is rendered upon any ground other than incurable insanity, it shall be assigned to the former owner of such property, subject to the power of the court to assign it for a limited period to the party to whom the divorce or decree of separate maintenance is granted, and in cases where the decree is rendered upon the ground of incurable insanity, it shall be assigned to the former owner of such property, subject to the power of the court to assign it to the party against whom the divorce or decree of separate maintenance is granted for a term of years not to exceed the life of such party.

This section shall not limit the power of the court to make temporary assignment of the homestead at any stage of the proceedings.

Whenever necessary to carry out the purpose of this section, the court may order a partition or sale of the property and a division or other disposition of the proceeds.

164.6. If a married person is injured by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of a person other than his spouse, the fact that the negligent or wrongful act or omission of the spouse of the injured person was a concurring cause of the injury is not a defense in any action brought by the injured person to recover damages for such injury except in cases where such concurring negligent or wrongful act or omission would be a defense if the marriage did not exist.

SEC. 4. Section 164.7 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

164.7. (a) Where an injury to a married person is caused in whole or in part by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of his spouse, the community property may not be used to discharge the liability of the tortfeasor spouse to the injured spouse or his liability to make contribution to any joint tortfeasor until the separate property of the tortfeasor spouse, not exempt from execution, is exhausted.

(b) This section does not prevent the use of community property to discharge a liability referred to in subdivision (a) if the injured spouse gives written consent thereto after the occurrence of the injury.

(c) This section does not affect the right to indemnity provided by any insurance or other contract to discharge the tortfeasor spouse's liability, whether or not the consideration given for such contract consisted of community property.

SEC. 5. Section 169.3 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

169.3. (a) All money or other property received by a married person in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for his personal injuries or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages is the separate property of the injured person if such money or other property is received:

(1) After the rendition of a judgment or decree of separate maintenance;

(2) After the rendition of an interlocutory judgment of divorce and while the injured person and his spouse are living separate and apart;

(3) While the wife, if she is the injured person, is living separate from her husband; or

(4) After the wife has abandoned her husband, if he is the injured person, and before she has offered to return, unless her abandoning him was justified by his misconduct.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if the spouse of the injured person has paid expenses by reason of his spouse's personal injuries from his separate property or from the community property subject to his management and control, he is entitled to reimbursement of his separate property or the community property subject to his management and control for such expenses from the separate property received by his spouse under subdivision (a).

SEC. 6. Section 171a of the Civil Code is amended to read:

171a. (a) A married person is not liable for any injury or damage caused by the other spouse except in cases where he would be liable therefor if the marriage did not exist.

(b) The liability of a married person for death or injury to person or property may be satisfied only from the separate property of such married person and the community property of which he has the management and control.

SEC. 7. This act does not confer or impair any right or defense arising out of any death or injury to person or property occurring prior to the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 458

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 168 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

168. The earnings and community property personal injury damages of the wife are not liable for the debts of the husband; but, except as otherwise provided by law, such earnings and damages shall be liable for the payment of debts, heretofore or hereafter contracted by the husband or wife for the necessities of life furnished to them or either of them while they are living together. As used in this section, "community property personal injury damages" has the meaning given that term by subdivision (c) of Section 146.

SEC. 2. Section 171c of the Civil Code is amended to read:

171c. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 161a and 172 of this code, the wife has the management and control of the community personal property earned by her, and the community personal property received by her in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for personal injuries suffered by her or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages, until it is commingled with community property subject to the management and control of the husband, except that the husband may use such community property received as damages or in settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages to pay for expenses incurred by reason of the wife's personal injuries and to reimburse his separate property or the community property subject to his management and control for expenses paid by reason of the wife's personal injuries.

The wife may not make a gift of the community property under her management and control, or dispose of the same without a valuable consideration, without the written consent of the husband. The wife may not make a testamentary disposition of such community property except as otherwise permitted by law.

This section shall not be construed as making such earnings or damages or property received in settlement or compromise of such damages the separate property of the wife, nor as changing the respective interests of the husband and wife in such community property, as defined in Section 161a of this code.

SEC. 3. This act shall become effective only if Senate Bill No. 19 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1968 Regular Session, and in such case this act shall take effect at the same time that Senate Bill No. 19 takes effect.

Second, To the United States for claims based on income or withholding taxes; and thereafter for claims based on any tax other than taxes specified in Section 24049;

If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the job site with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or materials he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the cost of the work of improvement is in excess of two hundred dollars ($200), the failure of any contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

(j) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep such information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to such construction lender the notice required by this section.

SEC. 2. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section with respect to architectural services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the cost of the work of improvement is in excess of two hundred dollars ($200), the failure of any contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

(j) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep such information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to such construction lender the notice required by this section.

SEC. 3. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnishes labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or materials he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

(j) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep such information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to such construction lender the notice required by this section.

54.1. Blind persons, visually handicapped persons, and other physically disabled persons shall be entitled to full and equal access, as other members of the general public, to accommodations, advantages, facilities, and privileges of all common carriers, airplanes, motor vehicles, railroad trains, motorbuses, streetcars, boats or any other public conveyances or modes of transportation, hotels, lodging places, places of public accommodation, amusement or resort, and other places to which the general public is invited, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law, or state or federal regulation, and applicable alike to all persons.

(e) It is the policy of this state to encourage and enable blind persons, visually handicapped persons, and other physically disabled persons to participate fully in the social and economic life of the state and to engage in remunerative employment.

54.6. As used in this part, "blind," "totally blind," "visually handicapped," and "partially blind" mean having central visual acuity not to exceed 20/200 in the better eye, with corrected lenses, as measured by the Snellen test, or visual acuity greater than 20/200, but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle not greater than 20 degrees.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19262 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19262. If the value of the assets of an estate at the death of the decedent exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), and if assets having a total value of five thousand dollars ($5,000) are distributable to one or more nonresident beneficiaries, the final account of the fiduciary shall not be allowed by the probate court unless the fiduciary obtains from the Franchise Tax Board and files with the court a certificate to the effect that all taxes imposed by this part upon the estate or decedent which have become payable have been paid, and that all taxes which may become due are secured by bond, deposit or otherwise.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In many cases small estates must incur the time and expense of obtaining certificates described in this act even though there is no tax liability for the estate. This measure would speed up the time needed in closing these estates and prevent their incurring the expense of obtaining the certificates.

CHAPTER 467

An act to amend Section 20860.5 of the Government Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

Payment shall be by lump sum at the time of election or in installments beginning immediately upon such election and subject to board rule.

CHAPTER 468

An act to amend Section 3 of Chapter 380 of the Statutes of 1959, relating to local health districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3 of Chapter 380 of the Statutes of 1959 is amended to read:

Sec. 3. Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 880) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

Notwithstanding such repeal, the organization, existence, or powers of any district created by, or organized pursuant to, the provisions of such Chapter 6 shall remain unaffected by such repeal, and any such district shall continue to exist and may exercise any of the powers conferred upon it by that chapter. No district shall be created or organized pursuant to that chapter after October 1, 1959.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 880) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code as the provisions of that chapter existed at the time of their repeal, the district board of any district created by, or organized pursuant to, such provisions, which has continued to exist thereunder shall consist of nine members.

One member shall be appointed from each city in the district, by the governing body of the city, and the remaining members shall be appointed by the board of supervisors from the unincorporated territory in the district at large.

The first additional members appointed to a district board under this section shall classify themselves by lot so that the terms of office of one-half of such members shall expire at the same time as the terms of office of incumbent members which first expire following the date of such appointments, and the terms of office of the other one-half shall expire at the same time as the terms of office of the other incumbent members. The terms of office of their successors shall be the same as for other members appointed to the district board.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 880) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, as the provisions of that chapter existed at the time of their repeal, annexation of territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to a district, and dissolution of a district, shall be undertaken pursuant to the provisions of the District Reorganization Act of 1965 (Division 1 (commencing with Section 56000) of Title 6 of the Government Code).

Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 880) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, as the provisions of that chapter existed at the time of their repeal, the tax for a district shall in no case exceed the rate of twenty-five cents ($0.25) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of all taxable property within the district.

If the district board presents a budget that necessitates a tax rate in excess of fifteen cents ($0.15) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation, the budget shall not be effective unless and until it is approved by the county board of supervisors.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 880) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, as the provisions of that chapter existed at the time of their repeal, an air pollution control district may contract with a local health district in the same county in which the air pollution control district is functioning and exercising its powers, and such a local health district may contract with such an air pollution control district, for the enforcement by the local health district of the orders, rules, and regulations of the air pollution control district, and the providing by the local health district of services to the air pollution control district.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is a critical need for funds to allow local health districts to continue providing the essential services needed to safeguard the health and safety of the citizens of this state. There is also an urgent need to improve the enforcement of the orders, rules, and regulations of air pollution control districts, and the providing of services to such districts, by local health districts in order to protect and preserve the quality of the air of this state. In order that this act, which would increase the maximum rate of the taxes which a local health district may levy and specifically authorize contracts between air pollution control districts and local health districts for the enforcement of the orders, rules, and regulations of, and the providing of services to, the air pollution control district by the local health district, may become effective without delay and before the commencement of the 1968–1969 fiscal year on July 1, 1968, it is imperative that this act take effect immediately.

With the approval of the county superintendent of schools, any school district having a physically handicapped minor, mentally retarded minor, severely mentally retarded minor, or multiply handicapped minor for whom special education facilities and services as prescribed by Section 6870 are not available or cannot be reasonably provided, and for whom the State of California has no appropriate special education facilities and services, shall, and any school district having an educationally handicapped minor for whom special education facilities and services as prescribed by Section 6870 are not available or cannot be reasonably provided, and for whom the State of California has no appropriate special education facilities and services, may, in lieu of establishing and maintaining the needed special education facilities and services at an unreasonable cost to the district, pay to the parent or guardian of such minor toward the tuition for such minor, enrolled in a public or private nonsectarian school, institution, or agency within or outside of California offering the special education facilities and services made necessary by the minor's disabilities, an amount not to exceed the sum per unit of average daily attendance of the regular state apportionment to the district for the fiscal year in question, the maximum amount allowable per unit of average daily attendance under Article 11 (commencing with Section 18101) of Chapter 3 of Division 14 and the amount per unit of average daily attendance provided from revenue derived from district taxation for the current expense of education of a normal child in the schools of the district. For purposes of computing the amount per unit of average daily attendance provided from revenue derived from district taxation, there shall be excluded amounts produced by rates levied for special or restricted purposes, such as the rates levied pursuant to Sections 1822.2, 1825, 16633, 16635, 16645.9, 19443, 19619, 20801 to 20802.8, inclusive, 20806, and 20807, and there shall be included amounts produced by rates levied for general districtwide current support purposes, including the rates levied pursuant to Sections 20808 and 20808.5. As used in this article "tuition" includes the cost to the parent or guardian of transporting a minor enrolled in a public or private nonsectarian school, institution, or agency under this section to and from school.

The provisions of this section shall be applicable as well to situations where the special educational facilities and services are available but are an unreasonable distance away from the home of the minor. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall adopt rules and regulations to implement the determination of the unreasonableness of such cost and distance, and any other rules and regulations deemed necessary by him for the effective administration of this chapter. The county superintendent of schools shall make a finding as to the unreasonableness of such cost or distance for the school districts within his jurisdistion and shall report such findings to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who, if he approves such findings, shall authorize payments pursuant to this section and Sections 6872 and 6873.

Priority in providing special education facilities and services shall be given to public school, or state-operated, programs. State and school district support for an exceptional child's education at a private nonsectarian school, institution, or agency shall be approved pursuant to this chapter only if no publicly operated programs are available to the minor within a reasonable distance from his residence, or if such programs do not meet the specialized needs of the minor, as determined under the procedures established by this chapter. Priority in approving private nonsectarian schools, institutions, or agencies shall be given to the nearest such school, institution, or agency from where the parent or guardian of the exceptional child resides and which provides training and education as defined in Section 6870.

In instances where public funds are paid to the parent or guardian of a minor pursuant to this section, toward the tuition of such minor enrolled in a private nonsectarian school, institution, or agency, the school, institution, or agency enrolling such minor shall at the end of each school year submit a written progress report on each such minor on forms provided by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and shall forward such forms to the county superintendent of schools of the county authorizing placement. Such reports shall be used by the county superintendents of schools to determine continued eligibility for placement and reimbursement under this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 6871.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6871.5. The parent or guardian of a minor who has been denied admission and who qualifies for tuition payment pursuant to Section 6871 shall make written application to the school district for the tuition payment prescribed in Section 6871. Within 30 days after receipt of the application, the school district shall in writing grant or deny the application, with reasons stated in case of a denial. If the application is denied, the parent or guardian may appeal to the county superintendent of schools, who shall review the decision of the school district and shall within 30 days after receipt of the appeal, either affirm or reverse the school district's decision. If the county superintendent of schools reverses the school district's decision, a report and claim shall be made by the school district in which the minor resides, pursuant to Sections 6872 and 6873. Thereupon the county superintendent of schools may place and contract for the placing of the exceptional child in another school district within or without the county or county offering special educational services. The superintendent may then transfer to the district or county wherein the child is placed the amount of state aid the placing district receives for that child pursuant to Section 6873. If the county superintendent of schools affirms the school district's decision, the parent or guardian may, within 10 days following receipt of the county superintendent of schools' decision, further appeal to the Department of Education for reconsideration. Within 30 days following receipt of the appeal, the department shall, in writing either affirm or reverse the decision of the county superintendent of schools, and in the case of an affirmation, shall append a statement of reasons. If the department affirms the decision of a county superintendent of schools that decision shall be final. If the department reverses the decision of a county superintendent of schools not to grant the application, a report and claim shall be made by the school district in which the minor resides, pursuant to Sections 6872 and 6873.

SEC. 5. Section 6872 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6872. A school district having any minor receiving the benefits of special education facilities and services under the provisions of Section 6871 shall report the attendance of such minor and submit any claim the district may have for the regular and special purpose apportionment to be used in payment to the parent or guardian of such minor toward any tuition arising out of such attendance through the county superintendent of schools to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The aforementioned report and claim shall be submitted at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The county superintendent of schools shall verify the attendance reported and claim submitted in the manner prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 6. Section 6873 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6873. Upon verification of the attendance reported and the claim submitted, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion to the school district submitting the report and the claim of the parent or guardian of such minor for the tuition in question an amount sufficient to satisfy the claim but not in excess of the sum per unit of average daily attendance of the regular state apportionment to the district for the fiscal year in question and the maximum amount allowable per unit of average daily attendance under Article 11 (commencing with Section 18101) of Chapter 3 of Division 14. In the case of a multiply handicapped minor the amount apportioned shall not exceed the claim or sum resulting from including the largest amount allowable for a special class under Article 11 (commencing with Section 18101) of Chapter 3 of Division 14. The apportionments shall be made from the funds reserved under the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 17303.5 for each fiscal year immediately following the fiscal year in which the attendance occurs.

SEC. 7. Section 6874 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6874. No claim shall be satisfied by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the education of an exceptional child under this chapter, or under Section 6922, 25601.1, or 25851.1 unless the school, institution, or agency which the child will attend meets minimum educational standards established by the State Board of Education pursuant to Section 6874.5.

SEC. 8. Section 6874.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6874.5. Except as otherwise provided in Section 6874.6, the State Board of Education shall adopt, by rules and regulations, minimum educational standards which shall be met by any school, institution, or agency enrolling an exceptional child under the provisions of this chapter, or under Section 25601.1 or 25851.1. Such minimum standards shall relate solely to the educational program to be offered by the school, institution, or agency.

SEC. 9. Section 6874.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6874.6. A claim concerning the attendance of an exceptional child at any school, institution, or agency in which there are insufficient numbers of properly credentialed teachers but which otherwise offers an acceptable educational program shall not be disallowed pursuant to Section 6874, if:

(a) The Department of Education has determined that there is in the area served by the school, institution, or agency a shortage of properly credentialed teachers, and

(b) The Department of Education determines that the needs of the exceptional children to be served by the school, institution, or agency will be more adequately served through an education at the school, institution, or agency than they would be if the children remain in their existing educational environments.

At such time that the Department of Education determines that there is in the area served by the school, institution, or agency a sufficient number of properly credentialed and employable teachers, the department shall require that properly credentialed teachers be employed by the school, institution, or agency before a claim may be satisfied for the education of an exceptional child at the school, institution, or agency.

This section shall apply only to an school, institution, or agency, enrolling an exceptional child under this chapter, which is situated in this state.

SEC. 10. Section 6920 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6920. Every mentally retarded, physically handicapped, or multiply handicapped minor, as defined in Section 6870, is entitled to training or an education free of charge in the public schools of this state.

SEC. 11. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, beginning with the 1972 Regular Session of the Legislature, and at each regular session thereafter, report to the Legislature concerning the operation of this act, and shall include in such report any recommendations which he may deem necessary.

SEC. 12. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1970.

CHAPTER 476

An act to add Sections 23059 and 23758.2 to the Education Code, relating to residency determination, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23059 is added to the Education Code, to read:

23059. Any female who is a California resident shall not lose such residence status for the purposes of admission fees and rates of tuition of the University of California by virtue of her marriage to a nonresident who is a member of the armed forces of the United States and who is required to serve outside of this state.

SEC. 2. Section 23758.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

23758.2. Any female who is a California resident shall not lose such residence status for the purposes of any state college fee or rate of tuition by virtue of her marriage to a nonresident who is a member of the armed forces of the United States and who is required to serve outside of this state.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the Trustees of the California State Colleges and the Regents of the University of California may make residency determinations for female student enrollments for the 1968–1969 school year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 477

An act to amend Section 908.1 of the Penal Code, relating to grand juries, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 908.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

908.1. When, after the grand jury consisting of the required number of persons has been impaneled pursuant to law, the membership is reduced for any reason, such vacancies within an existing grand jury may be filled, so as to maintain the full membership at the required number of persons, by the clerk of the superior court, in the presence of the court, drawing out sufficient names to fill the vacancies from the grand jury box, pursuant to law, or from a special venire as provided in Section 226 of the Code of Civil Procedure. No person selected as a grand juror to fill a vacancy pursuant to this section shall vote as a grand juror on any matter upon which evidence has been taken by the grand jury prior to the time of his selection.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Vacancies in grand juries often occur at early stages of their sessions for various reasons for which no provision is made in the law to fill the vacancy. Under such circumstances, it is difficult for the grand juries at such reduced membership to obtain indictments and to carry on their investigative duties. Such reduction in membership without provision for filling vacancies seriously curtails the administration of justice. This statute provides a procedure for filling such vacancies. In order that such vacancies may be filled without delay, it is imperative that it take effect immediately.

An act to amend Section 1161 of the Civil Code, relating to gifts to minors.

A custodian may designate his successor by executing and dating an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor. The instrument of designation may, but need not, contain the resignation of the custodian. If the custodian does not so designate his successor before he dies or becomes legally incapacitated, and the minor has attained the age of 14 years, the minor may designate a successor custodian by executing an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor. A successor custodian has all the rights, powers, duties and immunities of a custodian designated in a manner prescribed by this article.

(b) The designation of a successor custodian as provided in subdivision (a) takes effect as to each item of the custodial property when the custodian resigns, dies, or becomes legally incapacitated, and the custodian or his legal representative:

(1) Causes the item, if it is a security in registered form or a life insurance policy or annuity contract, to be registered, with the issuing insurance company in the case of a life insurance policy or annuity contract, in the name of the successor custodian followed, in substance, by the words: "As custodian for _____ under the California Uniform Gift to Minors Act"; and

(2) Delivers or causes to be delivered to the successor custodian any other item of the custodial property, together with the instrument of designation of the successor custodian or a true copy thereof and any additional instruments required for the transfer thereof.

(c) A custodian who executes an instrument of designation of his successor containing the custodian's resignation as provided in subdivision (a) shall promptly do all things within his power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in the instrument. The legal representative of a custodian who dies or becomes legally incapacitated promptly shall do all things within his power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in an instrument of designation executed as provided in subdivision (a) by the custodian or, if none, by the minor if he has no guardian and has attained the age of 14 years, or in the possession and control of the guardian of the minor if he has a guardian. If the custodian has executed as provided in subdivision (a) more than one instrument of designation, his legal representative shall treat the instrument dated on an earlier date as having been revoked by the instrument dated on a later date.

(d) If the person designated as custodian or as successor custodian by the custodian as provided in subdivision (a) is not eligible, dies or becomes legally incapacitated before the minor attains the age of 21 years, and if the minor has a guardian, the guardian of the minor shall be successor custodian. If the minor has no guardian, and if no successor custodian who is eligible and has not died or become legally incapacitated has been designated as provided in subsection (a), a donor, his legal representative, the legal representative of the custodian, or an adult member of the minor's family, may petition the court for the designation of a successor custodian.

(e) A donor, the legal representative of a donor, an adult member of the minor's family, a guardian of the minor or the minor, if he has attained the age of 14 years, may petition the court that, for cause shown or for the best interests of the minor, the custodian be removed and a successor custodian be designated or, in the alternative, that the custodian be required to give bond for the performance of his duties.

(f) Upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, the court shall grant an order, directed to the persons and returnable on such notice as the court may require, to show cause why the relief prayed for in the petition should not be granted and, in due course, grant such relief as the court finds to be in the best interests of the minor.

An act to amend Section 1478 of the Penal Code, relating to writs of habeas corpus.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

SECTION 1. Section 1478 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1478. If the writ is directed to the sheriff or other ministerial officer of the court out of which it issues, it must be delivered by the clerk to such officer without delay, as other writs are delivered for service. If it is directed to any other person, it must be delivered to the sheriff or a marshal, and be by him served upon such person by delivering the copy to him without delay, and make his return on the original to the court of issuance. If the person to whom the writ is directed cannot be found, or refuses admittance to the officer or person serving or delivering such writ, it may be served or delivered by leaving it at the residence of the person to whom it is directed, or by affixing it to some conspicuous place on the outside either of his dwelling house or of the place where the party is confined or under restraint.

CHAPTER 480

An act to validate certain acts of taxing agencies and revenue districts and of their officers, relating to property taxation.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. As used in this act "taxing agency" includes the state, county, and city. "Taxing agency" also includes every district that assesses property for taxation purposes and levies taxes or assessments on the property so assessed.

SEC. 2. As used in this act "revenue district" includes every city and district for which the county officers assess property and collect taxes or assessments.

SEC. 3. Every act and proceeding heretofore taken by any taxing agency or revenue district or the officers thereof relative to preparing, transmitting, computing, determining or fixing the budget or the tax rate or rates of any taxing agency or revenue district, or to the assessment or equalization of property or to the levy of taxes thereon or to tax sales or certificates of tax sales, tax deeds or other conveyances, are hereby confirmed, validated and declared legally effective.

SEC. 4. (a) This act is limited to the correction of defects, irregularities and ministerial errors which the Legislature originally could have omitted from the statutory requirements of law under which the acts hereby confirmed, validated and declared legally effective were taken.

(b) This act is limited to the validation of acts and proceedings to the extent to which the same can be effectuated under the State and Federal Constitutions.

(c) This act shall not operate to confirm, validate, or legalize any act, proceeding or other matter the legality of which is being contested or inquired into in any legal proceeding, now pending and undetermined or which may be pending and undetermined during the period of 30 days from and after the effective date of this act, and shall not operate to confirm, validate, or legalize any act, proceeding or other matter which has heretofore been determined in any legal proceeding to be illegal, void or ineffective.

SEC. 5. If any provisions of this act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the remainder of the act and the application of its provisions to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

An act to amend Section 620 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 620 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

620. If the assessor does not send a notice pursuant to Section 619 to an assessee whose property was not on the prior year's secured roll, or to an assessee of real property on the local secured roll whose property's full cash value has increased, then such assessee may pay taxes under protest. If payments are made in installments, the protest need not be repeated with the second installment. Protests shall be made by filing with the tax collector, together with the payment of the taxes or their first installment, a petition for assessment reduction on the form prescribed by the county board, which form the collector is to forward to the clerk of the county board with the notation that taxes were paid under protest pursuant to this section. The county board may, after receipt of the petition for assessment reduction from the tax collector, hold a public hearing at the next regular board meeting, notice of time and place of which shall be sent to the person paying the tax under protest at the address stated in the protest or if no such address is stated, then to the address of the assessee according to the last equalized assessment roll. If the taxes are so paid and the assessee has not previously applied for a reduction of the assessment, the county board at its next annual meeting as an equalization board shall thereupon equalize such assessment in the manner prescribed by Article 1 (commencing with Section 1601), Chapter 1, Part 3 of this division.

The tax rate fixed for property on the roll on which the property so equalized appears at the time of its original assessment shall be applied to the amount of the equalized assessment, determined in accordance with the preceding paragraph. In the event that the resulting figure is less than the tax theretofore computed, the taxpayer shall be liable for tax only for the lesser amount, and the difference shall be canceled. If the taxpayer has already paid the tax previously computed, such difference shall be refunded to him pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 5096) of Part 9 of this division, as an erroneously collected tax.

If any taxes are paid under protest pursuant to this section, the taxing agency to which the taxes are paid may, in accordance with Section 26906.1 of the Government Code, impound such taxes until the final disposition of the claim or action respecting the protest. No such impounding is required.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It is essential for the 1967 assessment year that assessees be given an opportunity to request equalization when the assessed value of their property is increased by reason of an increase in the property's full cash value. This act will provide that opportunity to such assessees even though they have not been given notice of the increase pursuant to Section 619 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1091 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1091. (a) An officer shall not be deemed to be interested in a contract entered into by a body or board of which he is a member within the meaning of this article if he has only a remote interest in the contract and if the fact of such interest is disclosed to the body or board of which he is a member and noted in its official records, and thereafter the body or board authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract in good faith by a vote of its membership sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of the officer or member with the remote interest.

(b) As used in this article "remote interest" means:

(1) That of a nonsalaried officer of a nonprofit corporation;

(2) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if such contracting party has 10 or more other employees and if the officer was an employee or agent of said contracting party for at least three years prior to his initially accepting his office.

For the purposes of this subsection, time of employment with the contracting party by the officer shall be counted in computing the three-year period specified in this subsection even though such contracting party has been converted from one form of business organization to a different form of business organization within three years of the initial taking of office by such officer. Time of employment in such case shall be counted only if, after the transfer or change in organization, the real or ultimate ownership of the contracting party is the same or substantially similar to that which existed before such transfer or change in organization. For the purposes of this subsection, stockholders, bondholders, partners, or other persons holding an interest in the contracting party are regarded as having the "real or ultimate ownership" of such contracting party.

(3) That of a parent in the earnings of his minor child for personal services;

(4) That of a landlord or tenant of the contracting party;

(5) That of an attorney of the contracting party; or

(6) That of a member of a nonprofit corporation formed under the Agricultural Code or a nonprofit corporation formed under the Corporations Code for the sole purpose of engaging in the merchandising of agricultural products or the supplying of water.

(7) That of a supplier of goods or services when such goods or services had been supplied to the contracting party by the officer for at least five years prior to his election or appointment to office.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to any officer interested in a contract who influences or attempts to influence another member of the body or board of which he is a member to enter into the contract.

(d) The willful failure of an officer to disclose the fact of his interest in a contract pursuant to this section shall be punishable as provided in Section 1097. Such violation shall not void the contract however, unless the contracting party had knowledge of the fact of the remote interest of the officer at the time the contract was executed.

SEC. 1.5. Section 1091 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1091. (a) An officer shall not be deemed to be interested in a contract entered into by a body or board of which he is a member within the meaning of this article if he has only a remote interest in the contract and if the fact of such interest is disclosed to the body or board of which he is a member and noted in its official records, and thereafter the body or board authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract in good faith by a vote of its membership sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of the officer or member with the remote interest.

(b) As used in this article "remote interest" means:

(1) That of a nonsalaried officer of a nonprofit corporation;

(2) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if such contracting party has 10 or more other employees and if the officer was an employee or agent of said contracting party for at least three years prior to his initially accepting his office.

For the purposes of this subsection, time of employment with the contracting party by the officer shall be counted in computing the three-year period specified in this subsection even though such contracting party has been converted from one form of business organization to a different form of business organization within three years of the initial taking of office by such officer. Time of employment in such case shall be counted only if, after the transfer or change in organization, the real or ultimate ownership of the contracting party is the same or substantially similar to that which existed before such transfer or change in organization. For the purposes of this subsection, stockholders, bondholders, partners, or other persons holding an interest in the contracting party are regarded as having the "real or ultimate ownership" of such contracting party.

(3) That of a parent in the earnings of his minor child for personal services;

(4) That of a landlord or tenant of the contracting party;

(5) That of an attorney of the contracting party; or

(6) That of a member of a nonprofit corporation formed under the Agricultural Code or a nonprofit corporation formed under the Corporations Code for the sole purpose of engaging in the merchandising of agricultural products or the supplying of water.

(7) That of a supplier of goods or services when such goods or services had been supplied to the contracting party by the officer for at least five years prior to his election or appointment to office.

(8) That of a person subject to the provisions of Section 1090 in any contract or agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of the California Land Conservation Act of 1965.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to any officer interested in a contract who influences or attempts to influence another member of the body or board of which he is a member to enter into the contract.

(d) The willful failure of an officer to disclose the fact of his interest in a contract pursuant to this section shall be punishable as provided in Section 1097. Such violation shall not void the contract however, unless the contracting party had knowledge of the fact of the remote interest of the officer at the time the contract was executed.

SEC. 2. Section 30584.1 is added to the Water Code, to read:

30584.1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 30584, a district may enter into contracts with nonprofit water suppliers which are located either wholly or partially within the boundaries of a district even though directors or officers of the district are also members or officers of the nonprofit water supplier.

SEC. 3 Section 1.5 of this act shall become operative only if the Assembly Bill 1717 is enacted by the Legislature at its

1968 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as Assembly Bill No. 1717 takes effect; at which time Section 1 of this act is repealed

CHAPTER 529

An act to amend Sections 7450, 7451, 7451.1, 7451.5, 7453, 7454, 7455, 7456, 11061, and 11411 of, and to add Sections 7451.3 and 11411.1 to, the Education Code, relating to regional occupational programs.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7450 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7450. In enacting this article, it is the intent of the Legislature to provide qualified students with the opportunity to attend a technical school or enroll in a vocational or technical training program, regardless of the geographical location of their residence in a county or region. The Legislature hereby declares that a regional occupational center will serve the state and national interests in providing vocational and technical education to prepare students for an increasingly technological society in which generalized training and skills are insufficient to prepare high school students and graduates, and out-of-school youth and adults for the many employment opportunities which require special or technical training and skills. The Legislature also declares that regional occupational centers will enable a broader curriculum in technical subjects to be offered, and will avoid unnecessary duplication of courses and expensive training equipment, and will provide a flexibility in operation which will facilitate rapid program adjustments and meeting changing training needs as they arise.

It is recognized by the Legislature that vocational programs may achieve great flexibility of planning, scope and operation by the conduct of such programs in a variety of physical facilities at various training locations.

SEC. 1.5. Section 7451 of the Education Code is amended. to read:

7451. The county superintendent of schools of each county may establish and maintain, or with one or more counties may establish and maintain, at least one regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, in the county to provide education and training in vocational courses. The governing boards of any school districts maintaining high schools in the county may, with the consent of the county superintendent of schools, cooperate in the establishment and maintenance of a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, except that if such a school district also maintains five hundred (500) or more schools its governing board may establish and maintain one or more regional occupational centers, or regional occupational programs, without such restrictions. The establishment and maintenance of a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, by two or more school districts may be undertaken pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 6500) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code. If a school district or school districts establish and maintain such a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, pursuant to this chapter, the county superintendent of schools may, but is not required to, establish and maintain a separate regional occupational center or centers, or regional occupational program or programs.

SEC. 2. Section 7451.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7451.1. A regional occupational center or regional occupational program shall:

(a) Provide individual counseling and guidance in vocational matters.

(b) Provide a curriculum which includes skill training in occupational fields having current and future needs for such training.

(c) Provide an opportunity for students to acquire entry level vocational skills which may lead to a combination work-study schedule.

(d) Provide for the upgrading of the vocational skills of students and for retraining where necessary

(e) Maintain a pupil-teacher ratio which will enable students to achieve optimum benefits from the instructional program.

SEC. 2.5. Section 7451.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

7451.3. "Regional occupational program," as used in this chapter, means a vocational or technical training program which meets the criteria and standards of instructional programs in regional occupational centers and which is conducted in a variety of physical facilities which are not necessarily situated in one single plant or site.

SEC. 3. Section 7451.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7451.5. A regional occupational center or regional occupational program may:

SEC. 5. Section 7454 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7454. The county superintendent of schools or governing board of a school district or districts, as the case may be, maintaining a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, may accept and expend grants from the federal government or from other public or private sources for the purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 6. Section 7455 of the Education Code is amended to read:

7455. Any pupil eligible to attend a high school or adult school in the county, and who resides in a school district which by itself or in cooperation with other school districts, has not established a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, is eligible to attend a regional occupational center or regional occupational program maintained by the county superintendent of schools. Any school district which in cooperation with other school districts maintains a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, or any such cooperating school districts may admit to such center, or program, any pupil, otherwise eligible, who resides in the district or in any of the cooperating districts. A pupil may be admitted on a full-time or part-time basis, as determined by the county superintendent of schools or governing board of the school district or districts maintaining the center, or program, as the case may be. 7456. The county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, and the governing board of each school district which maintains a regional occupational center or regional occupational program pursuant to this chapter, shall certify to the county auditor and to the county board of supervisors, on or before July 15 of each year, the amount of money required to be raised by a tax for the education of pupils attending the regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, maintained by the county superintendent of schools or by a school district, as the case may be, and for the purposes set forth in Section 7453.

The amount shall be determined by subtracting from the total cost of education of such pupils in the regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, including transportation, to the county superintendent of schools or school district, as the case may be, (1) the total of any balances remaining to be expended for this purpose and (2) the total amount to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the county school service fund or to the school district, as the case may be, for the education of such pupils and by adding to the result the amount required for the purposes set forth in Section 7453. At the time of levying county taxes, the board of supervisors shall levy a district tax for each regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, maintained in the county by the governing board of a school district pursuant to this chapter upon the taxable property of the school district sufficient to produce the amount required by this section; and the board of supervisors may levy a county tax for each regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, maintained in the county by the county superintendent of schools pursuant to this chapter sufficient to produce the amount required by this section, upon the following taxable property within the county:

(a) In a county in which the governing board of a school district is not maintaining a regional occupational center or regional occupational program pursuant to this chapter, upon all the taxable property within the county.

(b) In a county in which the governing boards of one or more school districts are maintaining a regional occupational center or regional occupational program pursuant to this chapter, upon the taxable property within that portion of the territory of the county which is not included in territory of such school districts.

The amount received from this tax shall be deposited in the county school service fund, or, if the regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, for which such tax was levied is maintained by a school district, in the county treasury to the credit of the general fund of that school district. The maximum rate of the countywide or district tax levied for the purposes of this section, except for the purposes set forth in Section 7453, shall not exceed ten cents ($0.10) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation within the county or district, as the case may be, and the maximum rate of the countywide or district tax levied under this section for the purposes set forth in Section 7453 shall not exceed five cents ($0.05) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation in the county or district, as the case may be.

As used in this section, school district includes each of those school districts which are cooperating in the maintenance of a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools pursuant to Section 7451.

tained by a county superintendent of schools or if the center, or program, is maintained by a school district, to the district maintaining the center or program.

Attendance in regional occupational centers, or regional occupational programs, operated under subdivision (a) of Section 7451.5 shall be considered pupil's attendance under this section, but attendance in regional occupational centers, or regional occupational programs, under subdivision (b) of Section 7451.5 shall not be so considered.

CHAPTER 538

An act to amend Section 1463 of the Penal Code and to amend Section 42201 of the Vehicle Code, relating to disposition of fines.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1463 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1463. Except as otherwise specifically provided by law:

(1) All fines and forfeitures including Vehicle Code fines and forfeitures collected upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail, together with moneys deposited as bail, in any municipal court or justice court, shall, as soon as practicable after the receipt thereof, be deposited with the county treasurer of the county in which such court is situated. The moneys so deposited shall be distributed as follows:

(a) Once a month there shall be transferred into the proper funds of the county an amount equal to the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon the conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail following arrests made by officers or other persons employed by the state or by the county in which such court is situated, exclusive of fines or forfeitures or forfeitures of bail collected from any person arrested by a state officer and charged with the commission of a misdemeanor under the Vehicle Code within the limits of a city within the county.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, once a month there shall be transferred into the traffic safety fund of each city in the county an amount equal to 50 percent of all fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon the conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail from any person arrested by a state officer and charged with the commission of a misdemeanor under the Vehicle Code within that city, and an amount equal to the remaining 50 percent shall be transferred to the special road fund of the county; provided, however, that the board of supervisors of the county may, by resolution, provide that not more than 50 percent of the amount to be transferred to the special road fund of the county, be transferred into the general fund of the county.

Once a month there shall be transferred into the general fund of the county an amount equal to that percentage of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon the conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail from any person arrested by a state officer and charged with the commission of a misdemeanor under the Vehicle Code on state highways constructed as freeways whereon city police officers enforced the provisions of the Vehicle Code on April 1. 1965, within the limits of a city within the county which is set forth in the schedule appearing in subparagraph (c) of this paragraph (1). If this paragraph is applicable within a city, it shall apply uniformly throughout the city to all freeways regardless of the date of freeway construction or completion.

(c) Once a month there shall be transferred into the general fund of the county an amount equal to that percentage of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail following arrests made by officers or other persons employed by each city in the county which is set forth in the following schedule:

In any county for which a county percentage is set forth in the above schedule and which contains a city which is not listed or which is hereafter created, there shall be transferred to the county general fund the county percentage. In any county for which no county percentage is set forth, and in which a city is hereafter created, there shall be transferred to the county general fund 15 percent.

A county and a city therein may, by mutual agreement, adjust the percentages herein.

(d) Once a month there shall be transferred to each city in the county an amount equal to the total sum remaining after the transfers provided for in subparagraphs (b) and (c) above have been made of the fines and forfeitures collected during the preceding month upon conviction or upon the forfeiture of bail following arrests made by officers or other persons employed by such city or arrests made by state officers for misdemeanor violations of the Vehicle Code.

(2) Any money deposited with such court or with the clerk thereof which, by order of the court or for any other reason, should be returned in whole or in part to any person, or which is by law payable to the state or to any other public agency, shall be paid to such person or to the state or to such other public agency by warrant of the county auditor, which shall be drawn upon the requisition of the clerk of such court.

All money deposited as bail which has not been claimed within one year after the final disposition of the case in which such money was deposited, or within one year after an order made by the court for the return or delivery of such money to any person, shall be apportioned between the city and the county and paid or transferred in the manner hereinabove provided for the apportionment and payment of fines and forfeitures. This paragraph shall control over any conflicting provisions of law.

SEC. 2. Section 42201 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

42201. Of the total amount of fines and forfeitures received by a county under subsection (a) of subdivision (1) of Section 1463 of the Penal Code, that proportion which is represented by fines and forfeitures collected from any person charged with a misdemeanor under this code following arrest by any officer employed by the state or by the county shall be paid into the treasury of the county and deposited in the road fund of the county; provided, however, that the board of supervisors of the county may, by resolution, provide that not more than 50 percent thereof be transferred into the general fund of the county.

The board of supervisors of a county may enter into a contract with the Department of the California Highway Patrol for the purpose of providing adequate protection for school pupils who are required to cross heavily traveled streets, highways, and roadways in the unincorporated areas of the county, and may reimburse the state for salaries and wages of crossing guards furnished by the Department of the California Highway Patrol pursuant to such contract, including any necessary retirement and general administrative costs and expenses in connection therewith, and may pay the costs thereof from amounts deposited in the road fund pursuant to this section.

If approved by the State Board of Control, the excess amount collected or paid shall be credited by the board on any amounts then due and payable from the person from whom the excess amount was collected or by whom it was paid under this part, and the balance shall be refunded to the person, or his successors, administrators, or executors.

In the case, however, of a determination by the board that an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) was not required to be paid under this part, the board, without obtaining approval of the State Board of Control, may credit such amount on any amounts then due and payable under this part from the person by whom the amount was paid and shall refund the balance to the person or his successors, administrators or executors.

SEC. 3. Section 1 of this act shall not be operative and shall have no force and effect after July 1, 1970

CHAPTER 543

An act to amend Section 30462 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to appropriations from the Cigarette Tax Fund, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30462 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

30462. All money deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund under this part is hereby appropriated, subject to the provisions of any budget bill heretofore or hereafter enacted and Section 11006 of the Government Code, and shall, upon order of the State Controller, be drawn therefrom and allocated for the following purposes:

(a) To pay the refunds authorized by this part.

(b) To the Controller an amount not to exceed one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) in each fiscal year.

(c) To the counties and cities of this state an amount equal to thirty percent (30%) of the money in the fund which is derived from taxes imposed on and after October 1, 1967, such money to be allocated by the Controller on or before December 15, 1967, and on the 15th day of each month thereafter to each city and county in this state in the following manner:

(1) The money to be allocated pursuant to this subdivision shall first be divided into two separate accounts, one for the cities and counties and counties of this state and one for the cities of this state. In order to determine the amount of money in each account, the Controller shall first determine the amount due each county, city and county and city in this state in the proportion that sales tax revenues transmitted pursuant to Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200) of this division to each such city, city and county and in the unincorporated territory of a county bear to the total of such revenue in the state. The amount due each county and city and county shall be allocated in accordance with this formula and the amount due each city shall be allocated pursuant to paragraph (2) or paragraph (3) of this subdivision.

(2) Upon the application of any city for an allocation pursuant to this paragraph, the Controller shall determine the amount of revenue derived from the city's selective local tax on, or with respect to, the sale, distribution, use, consumption, or holding of cigarettes or any other tobacco product during the 1966–67 fiscal year, or which would have been derived from such tax if the rate in effect on August 1, 1967, had been in effect throughout such fiscal year. This amount shall be adjusted, beginning on July 1, 1969, by the percentage by which the cigarette tax revenues have increased or decreased. For the 1969–1970 fiscal year the percentage shall be derived by comparing the revenues deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the period January 1 through June 30, 1969, with those deposited during the period January 1 through June 30, 1968. For the 1970–1971 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the percentage shall be derived by comparing revenues deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the preceding fiscal year with those deposited during the entire 1968–1969 fiscal year. The amount computed after applying the percentage factor shall then be reduced by deducting the cost to the city of administering and collecting any such tax for the 1966–1967 fiscal year. If such amount, when divided by 12, is more than the amount which would be disbursed to the city at the time of the next allocation pursuant to paragraph (3) of this subdivision, an amount equal to the amount which such city would have netted from its own tax shall be allocated to such city each month pursuant to this paragraph from the account established for cities in paragraph (1), and no allocation shall be made to such city pursuant to paragraph (3) until such time as the city rescinds its right to receive an allocation under this paragraph. A city which has rescinded such right may not, thereafter, file another application for an allocation pursuant to this paragraph. No city shall be eligible for a subvention pursuant to this paragraph unless, on August 1, 1967, it in fact imposed a selective local tax on, or with respect to, the sale, distribution, use, consumption or holding of cigarettes or any other tobacco product

(3) (A) After making any allocations required by paragraph (2) of this subdivision, 50 percent of the revenue remaining in the account for the cities of this state shall be allocated to the remaining cities in the proportion that sales tax revenues transmitted pursuant to Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200) of this division to each remaining city bears to the total of such revenue transmitted to all remaining cities.

(B) Fifty percent thereof shall be paid to the cities receiving an allocation under this paragraph in the proportion that the population of each such city bears to the total population of all cities in this state receiving an allocation under this paragraph, as determined by the Controller. For the purpose of this subdivision the population of each city is that determined by the Controller in the manner specified in Section 11005 of this code.

(d) The balance remaining in the fund shall be transferred to the General Fund of this state.

The allocation provided for in subdivision (c) shall not be made to any county, or city which, after October 1, 1967, imposes a selective local tax on, or with respect to, the sale, distribution, use, consumption, or holding of cigarettes or any other tobacco product.

SEC. 2. Section 151 of Chapter 963 of the Statutes of 1967 shall apply to the provisions of this act, and the reference in said section to subdivision (e) of Section 30462 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be deemed to refer to subdivision (e) of Section 30462 of said code.

SEC. 3. The provisions of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1968.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act provides for a formula for allocating cigarette tax revenue to cities in a different manner than the existing formula and, in order for this new formula to apply throughout the 1968–69 fiscal year, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

An act to add Section 35015 to the Government Code, relating to annexations by cities.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35015 is added to the Government Code, to read:

35015. In any annexation pursuant to this chapter, the territory proposed to be annexed may be annexed by the legislative body of the city without notice and hearing and without an election, if all of the owners of the land within such territory consent in writing to such annexation and if the local agency formation commission gives its approval and authorization pursuant to Section 54797.1.

There presently exists a shortage in the Insurance Fund with which to defray the necessary expenses to be incurred in the orderly processing of applications for licenses, preparation of qualifying examinations, review of statutory penal bonds, and giving notice of legal actions, special proceedings, and other legal processes. Such processing and servicing are necessary to continue, permit, and encourage competition, to create insurance facilities to serve the increasing population, and to protect the insuring public by affording immediate resort to legal processes and statutory safeguards. In order to defray the costs incurred in the administration of the sections enumerated hereinabove, it is necessary that each applicant or licensee underwrite an equitable share of such expenses by the payment of the fees to be prescribed. The expeditious processing of such applications, examinations, approval of bonds, and service of process, and the efficient operation of the Department of Insurance with respect thereto requires the immediate availability of additional moneys and the uninterrupted availability of funds to provide for such functions. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There presently exists a shortage in the Insurance Fund of moneys with which to defray the necessary expenses to be incurred in the orderly processing of notices of appointment of life agents, insurance agents and travel insurance agents. Such processing is necessary to continue, permit and encourage competition, to create insurance facilities to serve the increasing population and to protect the insuring public by affording ways and means for the transaction and servicing of insurance. In order to defray the costs incurred in the administration of the process of handling appointments, it is necessary that each insurer underwrite an equitable share of such expenses by the payment of the fee prescribed. The expeditious processing of such appointments and the efficient operation of the Department of Insurance with respect thereto requires the immediate availability of additional moneys and the uninterrupted availability of funds to provide for such functions. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

An act to amend Section 227 of the Civil Code, relating to the parent-child relationship in adoptions.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 227 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

227. The person or persons desiring to adopt a child, and the child proposed to be adopted, must appear before the court; provided, that if said adoptive parent is then commissioned or enlisted in the military service, or auxiliary thereof, of the United States, or of any of its allies, or in the American Red Cross, so that it is impossible or impracticable, because of such person's absence from the State of California, or otherwise, for said person to make such appearance in person, and said circumstances are established by satisfactory evidence, said appearance may be made for such person by his or her counsel, commissioned and empowered in writing so to do and which said power of attorney may be incorporated in the petition for adoption. The court must examine all persons appearing before it pursuant to this section. The examination of each such person shall be conducted separately but within the physical presence of each such other person or persons unless the court, in its discretion, shall order otherwise. The party or parties adopting shall execute or acknowledge an agreement in writing that the child shall be treated in all respects as the lawful child of the party or parties. If satisfied that the interest of the child will be promoted by the adoption, the court may thereupon make and enter a decree of adoption of the child by the adopting parent or parents, and the child and the adopting parents shall thereupon and thereafter sustain toward each other the legal relationship of parent and child and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation. In a case where the adopting parent is permitted to appear by counsel, the agreement may be executed and acknowledged by such counsel for such absent party, or may be executed by such absent party before a notary public, or any other person authorized to take acknowledgements including the persons authorized by Sections 1183 and 1183.5 of this code; provided, that in any case where said adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel hereunder, or otherwise, the court may, in its discretion, cause such examination of said adoptive parent, other interested party, or witness to be made upon deposition, as it deems necessary, said deposition to be taken upon commission, as prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the expense thereof to be borne by the petitioner. The petition, relinquishment, agreement, order, and any power of attorney and deposition must be filed in the office of the county clerk and shall not be open to inspection by any other than the parties to the action and their attorneys and the State Department of Social Welfare except upon the written authority of the judge of the superior court.

The provisions of this section permitting an adoptive parent, who is commissioned or enlisted in the military service, or auxiliary thereof, of the United States, or of any of its allies, or in the American Red Cross, to make an appearance through his or her counsel, commissioned and empowered in writing to do so, are equally applicable to the spouse of such adoptive parent who resides with such adoptive parent outside of this state.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11525.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

11525.2. Whether by request of a county board of education or otherwise, a city or county may adopt an ordinance requiring any subdivider who within three years, or less, as prescribed by the ordinance, develops or completes the development of one or more subdivisions, comprised of a single parcel or contiguous parcels having more than 400 dwelling units within a single school district, which maintains an elementary school, to dedicate to the school district, within which such subdivisions are to be located, such land as the local governing body shall deem to be necessary for the purpose of constructing thereon schools necessary to assure the residents of the subdivision adequate elementary school service. Such ordinance shall not be applicable to a subdivider who has owned the land being subdivided for more than 10 years prior to the filing of the tentative maps in accordance with Article 4 (commencing with Section 11550) of this chapter. The requirement of dedication shall automatically terminate unless the school district offers to enter into a binding commitment with the subdivider to accept the dedication within 30 days after the requirement is imposed by the city or county. The required dedication may be made at any time prior to the construction of the 401st dwelling unit. The school district shall, in the event that it accepts the dedication, repay to the subdivider or his successors the original cost to the subdivider of the dedicated land, plus a sum equal to the total of the following amounts:

3. A statement that the subdivider dedicating the property has an option to repurchase the property if it is not used by the school district as a school site within 10 years after dedication.

4. Proof of the acceptance of the dedication by the school district and the date of the acceptance. The certificate shall be recorded not more than 10 days after the date of acceptance of the dedication. The subdivider shall have the right to compel the school district to record such certificate, but until such certificate is recorded, any rights acquired by any third party dealing in good faith with the school district shall not be impaired or otherwise affected by the option right of the subdivider.

"Dwelling unit" as used in this section means a place of residence and may be located in either a single or multiple dwelling unit building.

If any subdivider is aggrieved by, or fails to agree to the reasonableness of any requirement imposed pursuant to this section, he may bring a special proceeding in the superior court pursuant to Section 11525.

Service under a national recognized fellowship or foundation approved by the State Board of Education, for a period of not more than one year, for research, teaching or lecturing shall not be deemed a break in continuity of service, and the period of such absence shall be included in computing the six consecutive years of service required by this section.

An act to add Section 17302 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utility districts.

(d) There exist within said basin developed and developable lands which are within the boundaries of a city but which are not within the boundaries of any public utility district or other entity providing or undertaking to provide the treatment and transportation facilities specified in Section 2 of this act. After January 1, 1970, such lands will become nonusable unless public utility districts in said basin are given the power to annex such lands.

SEC. 2. Section 17302 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

17302. Any district in the Lake Tahoe Basin which is able to provide to incorporated territory contiguous to such district a sewer system and treatment facilities sufficient to handle and treat any resultant sewage and provide transportation facilities sufficient to transport any resultant sewage effluent outside the Lake Tahoe Basin may annex such territory in the manner provided in the District Reorganization Act of 1965 unless the city of which such territory is a part provides or has undertaken to provide such sewer system, treatment and transportation facilities.

CHAPTER 557

An act to amend Sections 2c, 2d, and 3 of the Los Angeles County Flood Control Act (Chapter 755 of the Statutes of 1915), relating to the Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1968.]

Sec. 2c. The Civil Service Commission of the County of Los Angeles shall be ex officio the civil service commission of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District and said commission shall perform all of the duties herein prescribed without additional compensation. When the appointing power establishes to the satisfaction of the board that the necessary qualifications for the vacant position include fluency in a language in addition to English only the names of persons possessing such fluency shall be certified.

An act to add Section 50026 to the Government Code and to amend Section 224 of the Labor Code, relating to local taxes on the earnings of employees.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50026 is added to the Government Code, to read:

50026. The legislative body of any local agency, chartered or general law, which is otherwise authorized by law or charter to impose any tax on the privilege of earning a livelihood by an employee or any other tax, fee or charge on or measured by the earnings, or any part thereof, of any employee, shall not impose any such tax, fee or charge on the earnings of any employee, when such employee is not a resident of the taxing jurisdiction, unless exactly the same tax, fee or charge at the same rate, with the same credits and deductions, is imposed on the earnings of all residents of the taxing jurisdiction who are employed therein.

This section shall not be construed as authorizing any tax prohibited by Section 17041.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or any other provision of law, nor shall it be construed so as to prohibit the levy or collection of any otherwise authorized tax upon a business measured by or according to gross receipts.

SEC. 2. Section 224 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

224. The provisions of Sections 221, 222 and 223 shall in no way make it unlawful for an employer to withhold or divert any portion of an employee's wages when the employer is required or empowered so to do by state or federal law or when a deduction is expressly authorized in writing by the employee to cover insurance premiums, hospital or medical dues, or other deductions not amounting to a rebate or deduction from the standard wage arrived at by collective bargaining or pursuant to wage agreement or statute, or when a deduction to cover health and welfare or pension plan contributions is expressly authorized by a collective bargaining or wage agreement.

Nothing in this section or any other provision of law shall be construed as authorizing an employer to withhold or divert any portion of an employee's wages to pay any tax, fee or charge prohibited by Section 50026 of the Government Code, whether or not the employee authorizes such withholding or diversion.

SEC. 3. The Legislature finds and declares that the right of citizens of California to move freely about the state in search of employment is a matter of statewide interest and concern. Any unneccessary barriers which impede the mobility of citizens of this state or limit their choice of employment are contrary to state policy. An occupation tax on employees measured by income which was not borne equally by residents and nonresidents of a taxing jurisdiction would be such a barrier.

The Legislature is also fully aware of the tendency in recent times of business and industry to locate on the fringes of larger cities or in suburban communities, rather than in the downtown areas of our metropolitan centers. The deterioration of our core cities has made it necessary to initiate massive programs for urban renewal. Although these programs are funded in large part by federal subventions, it would be naive not to recognize that taxpayers throughout the entire State of California make a substantial contribution to the federal funds subvented. The Legislature believes it would be shortsighted in the extreme for any metropolitan area to accelerate the tendency of business and industry to locate in the suburbs for the short-term benefits to be realized from any discriminatory tax.

Any assessment made pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 501) of this chapter or made pursuant to this article shall not create or impose a lien or charge on such real property for such assessment or any penalty or interest if (1) such real property has been transferred or conveyed to a bona fide purchaser for value prior to the date of such assessment and the showing thereof on the secured roll with the date of entry specified thereon, or (2) such real property is subject to a lien of a bona fide encumbrance for value created and attaching prior to the date of such assessment and the showing thereof on the secured roll with the date of entry specified thereon. Such written certification may be recorded with the county recorder of any county.

An act to add Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 10090) to Part 1 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 10090) is added to Part 1 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read:

CHAPTER 9. BASIC PROPERTY INSURANCE INSPECTION AND PLACEMENT PLAN

10090. The purposes of this chapter are to do all of the following:

(a) To assure stability in the property insurance market for residential property located in the State of California.

(b) To assure the availability of basic property insurance as defined by this chapter.

(c) To encourage maximum use, in obtaining basic property insurance, of the normal insurance market provided by admitted insurers.

(d) To provide for the equitable distribution among admitted insurers of the responsibility for insuring qualified property for which basic property insurance cannot be obtained through the normal insurance market by the establishment of a FAIR Plan (fair access to insurance requirements), an industry placement facility and a joint reinsurance association.

10091. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the following definitions shall govern the construction of this chapter:

(a) "Association" means a joint reinsurance association consisting of all insurers licensed to write and engaged in writing in this state on a direct basis, basic property insurance or any component thereof in homeowners or other dwelling multiperil policies.

(b) "Commissioner" means the Insurance Commissioner of this state.

(c) "Basic property insurance" means insurance against direct loss to real or tangible personal property at a fixed location used as a dwelling, from perils insured under the standard fire policy and extended coverage endorsement and vandalism and malicious mischief and such other insurance coverages as may be added with respect to such property by the industry placement facility with the approval of the commissioner or by the commissioner, but shall not include insurance on automobile, farm, commercial, and manufacturing risks.

(d) "Inspection bureau" means the fire insurance rating organization designated by the industry placement facility with the approval of the commissioner to make inspections to determine the condition of the properties for which basic property insurance is sought and to perform such other duties as may be authorized by the industry placement facility.

(e) "Industry placement facility," or "facility," means the organization formed by insurers licensed to write and engaged in writing basic property insurance within this state to assist dwelling owners and occupants in securing basic property insurance and to formulate and administer a program for the equitable apportionment among such insurers of such basic property insurance.

(f) "Premiums written" means gross direct premiums charged with respect to dwelling property in this state on all policies of basic property insurance and the basic property insurance premium components of homeowner and other dwelling multiperil policies, less return premiums, dividends paid or credited to policyholders, or the unused or unabsorbed portions of premium deposits.

10092. This chapter shall not apply to county mutual fire insurers nor to fraternal fire insurers.

10093. (a) Any person having an insurable interest in real or tangible personal property at a fixed location used as a dwelling who, after diligent effort, has been unable to obtain basic property insurance through normal channels from an admitted insurer, shall be entitled upon application to the facility to an inspection of the property by representatives of the inspection bureau.

(b) The manner and scope of the inspection and the form of the inspection report shall be prescribed by the facility with the approval of the commissioner. The inspection shall include, but need not be limited to, pertinent structural and occupancy features as well as the general condition of the building and surrounding structures. A representative photograph of the property may be taken as part of the inspection.

(c) Promptly after the request for inspection is received, an inspection shall be made and an inspection report filed with the company or companies designated by the facility. A copy of the completed inspection report shall be sent to the facility and to the applicant upon request.

10094. Within 30 days after the effective date of this chapter, with the approval of the commissioner, all insurers licensed to write and engaged in writing in this state, on a direct basis, basic property insurance or any component thereof in homeowners or other dwelling multiperil policies, shall establish an industry placement facility to formulate and administer a program for the equitable apportionment among such insurers of basic property insurance which may be afforded persons having an interest in real or tangible personal property at a fixed location used as a dwelling who, after diligent effort, are unable to procure such insurance through normal channels from an admitted insurer. Each such insurer, as a condition of its authority to transact such kinds of insurance in this state, shall participate in such industry placement facility program in accordance with rules to be established by a governing committee consisting of five insurers elected annually in the manner to be provided in the program. The governing committee may establish separate classifications of written premiums for the purpose of equitable distribution but shall not include premiums from automobile, farm, commercial, or manufacturing risks. The program may also provide, with the approval of the commissioner, for assessment of all members in amounts sufficient to operate the facility, and may establish maximum limits of liability to be placed through the program, reasonable underwriting standards for determining insurability of a risk, and commission to be paid to the licensed producer designated by the applicant.

10095. (a) Within 30 days following the effective date of this chapter, the association shall submit to the commissioner, for his review, a proposed plan of operation, consistent with the provisions of this chapter, creating an association consisting of all insurers licensed to write and engaged in writing in this state, on a direct basis, basic property insurance or any component thereof in homeowners or other dwelling multiperil policies. Every such insurer shall be a member of the association and shall remain a member as a condition of its authority to transact such kinds of insurance in this state.

(b) The proposed plan shall authorize the association to assume and cede reinsurance on risks written by insurers in conformity with the program.

(c) Under the plan, each insurer shall participate in the writings, expenses, profits and losses of the association in the proportion that its premiums written during the second preceding calendar year bear to the aggregate premiums written by all insurers in the program, excluding that portion of the premiums written attributable to the operation of the association.

(d) The plan shall provide for administration by a governing committee under rules to be adopted by it with the approval of the commissioner. Voting on administrative questions of the association and facility shall be weighted in accordance with each insurer's premiums written during the second preceding calendar year as disclosed in the reports filed by the insurer with the commissioner.

(e) The plan shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner and shall go into effect upon the tentative approval of the commissioner. The commissioner may, at any time, withdraw his tentative approval or he may, at any time after he has given his final approval revoke such approval if he feels it is necessary to carry out the purposes of the chapter. The withdrawal or revocation of such approval shall not affect the validity of any policies executed prior to the date of such withdrawal. If the commissioner disapproves or withdraws or revokes his approval to all or any part of the plan of operation, the association shall within 30 days, submit for review an appropriately revised plan or part thereof, and, if the association fails to do so, or if the revised plan so filed is unacceptable, the commissioner shall promulgate such a plan of operation or part thereof as he may deem necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

(f) The association may, on its own initiative or at the request of the commissioner, amend the plan of operation, subject to approval by the commissioner, who shall have supervision of the inspection bureau, the facility and the association. The commissioner or any person designated by him, shall have the power of visitation of and examination into the operation and free access to all the books, records, files, papers, and documents that relate to operation of the facility and association, and may summon, qualify and examine as witnesses all persons having knowledge of such operations including officers, agents or employees thereof.

10096. (1) Any applicant or affected insurer shall have the right of appeal from any act or decision of either the facility or the association to the governing committee. A decision of the committee may be appealed to the commissioner within 30 days after such decision Upon such appeal the commissioner may make any order to implement the purposes of the chapter and the plan.

(2) All orders or decisions of the commissioner made pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to judicial review.

10097. There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against the insurers, the inspection bureau, the facility, the association, the governing committee, their agents or employees, or the commissioner or his authorized representatives, with respect to any inspections required to be undertaken by this chapter or for any acts or omissions in connection therewith, or for any statements made in any reports and communications concerning the insurability of the property, or in the findings required by the provisions of this chapter, or at the hearings conducted in connection therewith. The reports and communications of the inspection bureau, the facility, the association, and the records of the governing committee shall not be considered public documents.

10098. Acceptance of risks assigned under this chapter and performance of any act required by this chapter is a condition of the right to continue to hold a certificate of authority to transact insurance business in this state. All insurers, on and after the effective date of this chapter, by continuing to hold a certificate of authority to transact insurance business shall be deemed to have consented to the responsibilities imposed by this chapter.

10099. In addition to any powers conferred upon him by this or any other law, the commissioner is authorized to do all things necessary to enable the State of California and any insurer participating in any program approved by the commissioner to fully participate in any federal program of reinsurance which may be hereafter enacted for purposes similar to the purposes of this chapter.

10100. The commissioner may require such reports from insurers concerning risks insured under any program approved pursuant to this chapter as he shall deem necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter.

10100.1. The facility, subject to the approval of the Insurance Commissioner, may provide for the equitable distribution of risks provided for in this chapter by means of assignment to individual members of such facility or by a pool or association of insurers participating in such facility.

10101. This chapter shall cease to be of any force or effect on July 1, 1970, unless extended by statute; provided that obligations incurred by the joint underwriting association, established pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and policies issued by its members shall not be impaired by the expiration of this chapter, and such association shall be continued for the purpose of performing such outstanding obligations.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: There is a serious threat of the mass cancellation of fire and extended coverage insurance in urban and brush fire areas. Immediate legislation is necessary to insure the availability of insurance for these areas and any delay in the effective date of this legislation would cause valuable property to be uninsured with resulting risk of financial loss and hardship to many citizens of the state. It is, therefore, imperative that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 62707, 62708, 62716, and 62717 of the Agricultural Code, relating to milk equalization pools and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 16, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 62707 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

62707. The formulation committee shall make recommendations to the director for inclusion in the pooling plan, and the director shall include in the pooling plan, the following:

(a) The establishment of one or more pools throughout the state.

(b) The base period to be used in determining the production and class 1 usage bases of each producer directly affected by the pooling plan. Such base period shall, at the producers option, be his fluid milk production and usage in the pool area during the calendar year 1967 on an average daily basis or his production and usage in the pool area during the last six months of 1966 on an average daily basis.

As to a producer south and east of San Gorgonio Pass, his production base may at his option, be four times his production in the months of December, 1966, and January and February, 1967.

If a producer, during any such base period, had a valid contract with a distributor, or as a member of a cooperative association had an allocation, which provided that the distributor or cooperative association was required to accept a larger amount of fluid milk from such producer than the producer actually produced during such period, on proof satisfactory to the director of such contract or allocation, the producer may, at his option, have the amount specified in the contract or allocation established as his production base.

(c) The establishment of a class 1 usage for each producer, which shall be the amount of his production of fluid milk accounted for as class 1, and any fluid milk sold for use as class 1 to a United States military installation but which was not accounted for as class 1.

(d) The allocation to each producer within any pool of a pool quota, which, initially, shall be 110 percent of that producer's class 1 usage, as determined in subdivision (c) of this section.

(e) The determination of new class 1 usage and the allocation of pool quota based thereon in a manner consistent with effectuating the purposes of this chapter.

All producers who have not reached the equalization point shall share in such allocation of pool quota on the basis of a formula which shall give substantial weight to each producer's production base, but which at the same time shall allocate a larger percentage to hardship cases and low class 1 usage producers.

Such allocations shall be made on the basis of each individual producer, with each cooperative association considered as a single producer. The cooperative associations of producers shall reassign any new quota to their own members subject to the provisions of Section 62710.

No allocation shall be made to any producer for any new pool quota in excess of the equalization point as expressed in subdivision (c) of Section 62712.

Annually, within not more than two months after August 31 of each year, the pool quota shall be adjusted to reflect any such additional pool quota. It is intended that such increase shall generally reflect the increased class 1 usage which developed during the preceding year, adjusted for the director's estimate of class 1 requirements for the succeeding year, allocated in the manner specified in the pool plan. There shall be no downward adjustment of pool quota below the quota initially established pursuant to this chapter.

(f) The establishment of production bases and pool quotas for new fluid milk producers who wish to enter the pooling plan after the effective date of the plan. The recommendations of the committee shall be reasonably equitable to both such new producers and to participating producers and consistent with effectuating the purposes of this chapter.

(g) The transfer of production bases and pool quotas from one fluid milk producer to another under conditions so designed as to prevent abuses in such transfers and to avoid the development of excessive values for such bases and quotas.

(h) Any and all other matters necessary and desirable to effectuate the provisions of this chapter.

The recommendations of the formulation committee and the pooling plan may provide exceptions from the plan's general application for individual cases of hardship.

SEC. 2. Section 62708 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

62708. "Producer-distributor" for purposes of this chapter is any person that is both a producer and a distributor of fluid milk or fluid cream. For the purposes of this chapter a producer-distributor is a producer in any transaction which involves the delivery of bulk fluid milk or bulk fluid cream which was produced by him to a distributor, or any nonprofit cooperative association of producers and is a distributor in any transaction which involves the purchase by him of fluid milk or fluid cream, the pasteurization or packaging of fluid milk or fluid cream, or the sale or delivery of packaged fluid milk or packaged fluid cream to any person.

A producer-distributor, including partnerships or corporations with common ownership, where the ownership of the producing entity is substantially proportionate to the ownership of the distributing entity, shall have the option, at the time of the adoption of the initial pooling plan under this chapter, to have a production base and pool quota established as a part of the pooling plan provided for in this chapter, or to elect to operate entirely outside of the pool for producer payment purposes. This option is available only in such cases where the producer-distributor on January 1, 1968, exercised complete and exclusive control over the operation and management of a plant at which he processes milk received from his own milk production facilities, except for purchases in bulk or packaged fluid milk, fluid skim milk or fluid cream which do not exceed an annual average of 50 gallons per day or 5 percent of his total fluid milk sales, whichever is greater, and only in such case as the producer-distributor had retail sales for its own account of not less than 66⅔ percent of its total class 1 sales.

Any producer-distributor, as herein defined, electing to become a part of the pool shall have the right to deduct his entire pool quota from his own class 1 sales before being required to account to the pool, irrespective of the fact that the average class 1 usage in the pool for that month may be less than 100 percent of the pool quota in that pool.

Any producer-distributor electing to be excluded from the pool may at any later time be admitted to the pool, but with only the production base and pool quota to which he would have originally been entitled or his existing production and class 1 usage at the time of such admittance, whichever is less.

SEC. 2.5. Section 62716 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

62716. Following the required hearing, the director shall submit the pooling plan to producers concerned for their approval or disapproval in a statewide referendum.

The approval or disapproval of individual producers voting in this referendum shall be kept confidential.

Each producer shall have one vote and such vote shall be individually cast so that there will be no block voting. The director shall prepare a ballot. The ballot form shall be substantially as follows:

Ballot

Shall the proposed pooling plan be made effective?
Yes _____ No _____

In addition, the ballot shall include a statement of the voter's total production during the calendar month next preceding the month of the commencement of the referendum period, where and to whom such production was sold or otherwise disposed, and the producer's name and address.

The director may reveal the names of producers whose votes have been received to both proponents and opponents of the plan.

The referendum shall be set for a period of 60 days. The director may at his own discretion or upon a proper showing, extend the referendum for a period not to exceed 30 days.

SEC. 3. Section 62717 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

62717. If the director finds that producers on a statewide basis have assented in writing to the proposed pooling plan submitted to them for assent, the director shall place the proposed pool plan into effect. The director shall find that producers have assented to the plan if he finds on a statewide basis that:

(a) Not less than 51 percent of the total number of eligible producers in the state shall have voted in the referendum; and

(b) Sixty-five percent or more of the total number of eligible producers who voted in the referendum who produced 51 percent or more of the total amount of fluid milk produced in the state during the calendar month next preceding the month of the commencement of the referendum period by all producers who voted in referendum approve the plan; or

(c) Fifty-one percent or more of the total number of eligible producers who voted in the referendum who produced 65 percent or more of the total amount of fluid milk produced in the state during the calendar month next preceding the month of the commencement of the referendum period by all producers who voted in the referendum, approve the plan.

If the plan is not approved, the director may resubmit the plan, or submit a new plan, at any time after six months from the date the director announces the pool plan was not approved.

The director may amend the plan, after notice and public hearing has been given in the same manner as is provided in Article 13 (commencing with Section 62181) of Chapter 2 of this part for stabilization and marketing plans, if he finds that the amendment is necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter. After the hearing, the director upon his own motion may make nonsubstantive amendments to the plan. The director may make substantive amendments to the plan only if producers assent to the proposed amendments at a referendum conducted in the same manner and in the same number as provided for the referendum approving the pooling plan.

The director may terminate the plan on a statewide basis after notice and public hearing has been given in the same manner as is provided in Article 13 (commencing with Section 62181) of Chapter 2 of this part for stabilization and marketing plans, if he finds that the plan is no longer in conformity with the standards described in, or will not tend to effectuate the purposes of, this chapter. Such hearing may be held upon the motion of the director, and shall be held upon receipt of a petition signed by producers representing not less than 25 percent of the total number of all producers and not less than 25 percent of the total production of all producers.

The director shall submit the termination of the plan on a statewide basis in a referendum conducted in the same manner as provided for initial approval of such plan if, after notice and public hearing has been given in the same manner as is provided in Article 13 (commencing with Section 62181) of Chapter 2 of this part for stabilization and marketing plans, he finds that a substantial question exists as to whether or not producers desire the plan to continue and shall submit the plan for termination upon receipt of a petition requesting termination signed by producers representing not less than 25 percent of the total number of all producers and not less than 25 percent of the total production of all producers. The plan shall be terminated if termination is favored by the same percentage of producers producing the same amount of fluid milk as required to initiate the plan.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order for changes made by this act to be included in the initial pooling plan adopted by producers, this act must take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 611

An act to add Section 96151.1 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to the Santa Barbara Metropolitan Transit District, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 16, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 16, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 96151.1 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

96151.1. The district may incur indebtedness by the issuance of negotiable promissory notes in an amount not to exceed four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) pursuant to this section without an election for any purpose for which the district is authorized to expend funds. The notes may be registerable, exchangeable, renewable, refundable or callable prior to maturity and shall be in such form and executed in such manner as the board may prescribe. The notes shall mature not later than five years from their date, shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 6 percent per annum, payable as provided therein, and shall be general obligations of the district payable, unless paid from other available funds of the district, in the same manner as bonds of the district.

The provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 29000) of Division 3, Title 3, Government Code, shall not be applicable to the incurring of indebtedness nor to the expenditure of any moneys borrowed under this section. Funds obtained by the district under this section may be expended immediately and without compliance with the County Budget Law.

The district shall publish an advertisement for bids on the promissory notes in a newspaper of general circulation within the district one week prior to the date of sale; provided, however, that if no bids are received or if the bids received are unsatisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, the board may either readvertise or sell the notes at a private sale.

This section shall remain in effect until March 15, 1970, but the termination of the effectiveness of this section shall not affect the validity of any loan, indebtedness, or obligation incurred, or any agreement entered into, pursuant to this section, prior to March 15, 1970.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The Santa Barbara Metropolitan Transit District is located along the south coast of Santa Barbara County; its boundaries encompass an area of fast-growing population. A professional survey conducted in 1966 indicates that over one-third of the population within the district is dependent on public transportation. Presently, a measure of transit service is provided by a private company under contract with the district. The equipment in use is both insufficient as to amount and dangerously deteriorated in quality. The private company does not have a state permit and operates the transit routes solely on the basis of the district's authority.

A federal grant has just been approved which will enable the district to obtain new equipment and related capital improvements on a matching fund basis. The district is unable to obtain the necessary matching funds from its tax revenues which are too limited for this purpose, and it is essential that financing be provided immediately so that the district may acquire its new equipment without delay and thus prevent the cessation of public transportation service. Cessation of public transportation service would constitute a threat to the public peace, health or safety along the southern portion of Santa Barbara County. In order that the district may undertake the immediate financing of the urgently needed equipment and transit facilities, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

Payment shall be made on the basis of verified claims filed with the commission by the street or railroad corporation responsible for maintenance of automatic grade-crossing protection. The specific amount of the total allocation shall be determined by the California Highway Commission and shall constitute the amount necessary for such maintenance. In arriving at such amount, the California Highway Commission shall consult with representatives of the Public Utilities Commission. Any amounts not expended by the Public Utilities Commission in any one fiscal year may be credited to subsequent annual allocations.

Funds appropriated for the purposes specified herein shall be available for allocation and expenditure without regard to fiscal years.

SEC. 2. Section 1232 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

1232. At the time the commission makes each allocation under this chapter, it shall so certify to the State Controller. The commission shall present claims for reimbursement of the state's share of the cost of construction of projects under any allocations to the State Controller for payment. The State Controller shall make such audit as he deems necessary, before or after disbursement, for the purpose of determining that the money allocated has been expended for the purposes and under the conditions authorized under this chapter; except that prior or subsequent review and approval by the city, county, or city and county in which the grade-crossing protection is maintained of such allocations shall not be required as a condition of disbursement.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35014 of the Government Code is amended to read:

35014. No tidelands or submerged lands which are owned by the state or by its grantees in trust shall be annexed to a city except that portion of such tidelands or submerged lands encompassed within the seaward or waterward extensions of the existing land boundaries of the city, or of the proposed land boundaries of the territory being annexed as part of the same proceedings, extended from the point where the land boundaries intersect the shoreline at such an angle to the shoreline and following such a course or courses as may be approved by the State Lands Commission.

If any such tidelands or submerged lands shall be included within the boundaries of any territory proposed to be annexed to a city, a description of such boundaries, together with a map showing such boundaries, shall be filed with the State Lands Commission. Such filing shall be made prior to filing or taking any action under Chapter 6.6 (commencing with Section 54773), Part 1, Division 2, Title 5. Within 45 days after the filing of the boundary description and map with the State Lands Commission, said commission shall make a determination of the proper offshore or submerged lands boundaries. Said determination shall be final and conclusive. Failure to report within said time shall be deemed approval of the proposed offshore or submerged lands boundaries.

The costs incurred by the State Lands Commission in connection with making such determination shall be paid by the city.

The State Lands Commission shall report its determination to the city, to such other person or persons, if any, as shall have filed said boundary description and map, and to the executive officer of the local agency formation commission. During the pendency

The probation officer shall notify the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis of the person, if any, of the care found to be needed before such care is provided, and if the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis objects, such care shall be given only upon order of the court in the exercise of its discretion.

(b) Whenever it appears to the juvenile court that any person concerning whom a petition has been filed with the court is in need of medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care, and that there is no parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis capable of authorizing or willing to authorize such remedial care or treatment for such person, the court, upon the written recommendation of a qualified physician and after due notice to the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis, if any, may make an order authorizing the performance of the necessary medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care for such person.

(c) Whenever a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court is placed by order of the court within the care and custody or under the supervision of the probation officer of the county in which the ward or dependent child resides and it appears to the court that there is no parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis capable of authorizing or willing to authorize medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care or treatment for the ward or dependent child, the court may, after due notice to the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis, if any, order that the probation officer may authorize such medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial care for the ward or dependent child, by licensed practitioners, as may from time to time appear necessary.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of a parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis, who has not been deprived of the custody or control of the minor by order of the court, in providing any medical, surgical, dental, or other remedial treatment recognized or permitted under the laws of this state.

An act to add Sections 20527.5 and 21561 to the Water Code, relating to irrigation districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 17, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20527.5 is added to the Water Code, to read:

20527.5. Notwithstanding Section 20527, or any other provision of law to the contrary, in the Jackson Valley Irrigation District every owner of real property within the district, but no others, may vote at elections for directors or otherwise. Such owners need not be residents of the district in order to qualify as voters. The last equalized assessment book of the district is conclusive evidence of ownership of the real property so owned, except that in the event that an assessment for a district shall not have been made and levied for the year in which the election is held or an equalized assessment book prepared, the last equalized county assessment roll shall be used in lieu of the assessment book of the district. Where land is owned in joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or any other multiple ownership, the owners of such land shall designate in writing which one of the owners shall be deemed the owner of such land for purposes of qualifying as a voter.

The legal representative of a corporation or estate owning real property may vote on behalf of such corporation or estate. As used in this section, legal representative means an official of a corporation owning real property, and means a guardian, executor, or administrator of the estate of the holder of title to real property who:

(a) Is appointed under the laws of this state.

(b) Is entitled to the possession of the estate's real property.

(c) Is authorized by the appointing court to exercise the particular right, privilege, or immunity which he seeks to exercise.

Before a legal representative votes at a district election he shall present to the precinct board a certified copy of his authority which shall be kept and filed with the returns of the election.

SEC. 2. Section 21561 is added to the Water Code, to read:

21561. Notwithstanding Sections 21550 and 21551, or any other provision of law to the contrary, directors of the Jackson Valley Irrigation District shall be nominated and elected at large.

Notwithstanding Section 21265, or any other provision of law to the contrary, vacancies in the offices of directors of the Jackson Valley Irrigation District shall not be filled by appointment, but shall be filled by election. If the unexpired term of the office for which the vacancy exists is greater than six months, the board shall call a special district election on an at-large basis for the purpose of filling such vacancy.

This section shall not effect any change in the term of office of any incumbent on the effective date of this section, but the nomination and election to fill the office after expiration of the term of an incumbent shall be on an at-large basis.

SEC. 3. The provisions of this act are necessary because a substantial portion of the real property in the Jackson Valley Irrigation District is owned by persons not residents of the district; many of the residents of the district are not owners of real property within the district; and the owners and not the resident nonowners are primarily concerned with the affairs and support of the district. This problem is not common to all districts formed under the Irrigation District Law. It is therefore hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable and that the enactment of this section as a special law is necessary for the solution of problems existing in the Jackson Valley Irrigation District.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It is essential that improvements in water and other services furnished to the area by the Jackson Valley Irrigation District be brought about in the most expeditious manner and at the earliest possible time, and therefore this act must be in effect immediately.

(i) An individual (other than an individual who at any time during the taxable year was the spouse, determined without regard to Section 17060, of the taxpayer) who, for the taxable year of the taxpayer, has as his principal place of abode the home of the taxpayer and is a member of the taxpayer's household; or

(j) An individual who—

(1) Is a descendant of a brother or sister of the father or mother of the taxpayer,

(2) For the taxable year of the taxpayer receives institutional care required by reason of a physical or mental disability, and

17059.5. (a) If—

(1) A child (as defined in Section 17054(c)(4)) receives over half of his support during the calendar year from his parents who are divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or who are separated under a written separation agreement, and

(2) Such child is in the custody of one or both of his parents for more than one-half of the calendar year, such child shall be treated, for purposes of Section 17056, as receiving over half of his support during the calendar year from the parent having custody for a greater portion of the calendar year unless he is treated, under the provisions of subdivision (b), as having received over half of his support for such year from the parent not having custody.

(b) The child of parents described in subdivision (a) shall be treated as having received over half of his support during the calendar year from the parent not having custody if—

(1) (A) The decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, or a written agreement between the parents applicable to the taxable year beginning in such calendar year, provides that the parent not having custody shall be entitled to any credit allowable under Section 17054 for such child, and

(B) Such parent not having custody provides at least six hundred dollars ($600) for the support of such child during the calendar year, or

(2) (A) The parent not having custody provides one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) or more for the support of such child (or if there is more than one such child, one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) or more for all of such children) for the calendar year, and

(B) The parent having custody of such child does not clearly establish that he provided more for the support of such child during the calendar year than the parent not having custody.

For the purposes of this subdivision, amounts expended for the support of a child or children shall be treated as received from the parent not having custody to the extent that such parent provided amounts for such support.

(c) If a taxpayer claims that subdivision (b)(2) applies with respect to a child for a calendar year and the other parent claims that subdivision (b)(2)(A) is not satisfied or claims to have provided more for the support of such child during such calendar year than the taxpayer, each parent shall be entitled to receive, under regulations to be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, an itemized statement of the expenditures upon which the other parent's claim of support is based.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply in any case where over half of the support of the child is treated as having been received from a taxpayer under the provisions of Section 17058.

(e) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 17746 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17746. Amounts allowable, under Section 13988 or 13988.1 of this code, as a deduction in determining the net amount subject to inheritance tax shall not be allowed as a deduction in computing the taxable income of the estate, or of any other person, unless there is filed, within the time and in the manner and form prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, a statement that the amounts have not been allowed as deductions under Section 13988 or 13988.1 and a waiver of the right to have such amounts allowed at any time as deductions under Section 13988 or 13988.1. This section shall not apply with respect to deductions allowed under Article 7 (relating to income in respect of decedents).

SEC. 4. The provisions of this act effecting changes in the computation of taxes shall be applied to taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1968. The other provisions will be applied on and after the effective date of this act.

SEC. 5. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

An act to amend Sections 214 and 254.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property tax exemptions.

[Approved by Governor July 17, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 17, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 214 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

214. Property used exclusively for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes owned and operated by community chests, funds, foundations or corporations organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes is exempt from taxation if:

(1) The owner is not organized or operated for profit; provided, that in the case of hospitals, such organization shall not be deemed to be organized or operated for profit, if during the immediate preceding fiscal year the excess of operating revenues, exclusive of gifts, endowments and grants-in-aid, over operating expenses shall not have exceeded a sum equivalent to 10 percent of such operating expenses. As used herein, operating expenses shall include depreciation based on cost of replacement and amortization of, and interest on, indebtedness;

(2) No part of the net earnings of the owner inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual;

(3) The property is used for the actual operation of the exempt activity, and does not exceed an amount of property reasonably necessary to the accomplishment of the exempt purpose;

(4) The property is not used or operated by the owner or by any other person so as to benefit any officer, trustee, director, shareholder, member, employee, contributor, or bondholder of the owner or operator, or any other person, through the distribution of profits, payment of excessive charges or compensations or the more advantageous pursuit of their business or profession;

(5) The property is not used by the owner or members thereof for fraternal or lodge purposes, or for social club purposes except where such use is clearly incidental to a primary religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purpose;

(6) The property is irrevocably dedicated to religious, charitable, scientific, or hospital purposes and upon the liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner will not inure to the benefit of any private person except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific, or charitable purposes;

(7) The property, if used exclusively for scientific purposes, is used by a foundation or institution which, in addition to complying with the foregoing requirements for the exemption of charitable organizations in general, has been chartered by the Congress of the United States (except that this requirement shall not apply when the scientific purposes are medical research), and whose objects are the encouragement or conduct of scientific investigation, research and discovery for the benefit of the community at large.

The exemption provided for herein shall be known as the "welfare exemption." This exemption shall be in addition to any other exemption now provided by law. This section shall not be construed to enlarge the college exemption. Property used exclusively for school purposes of less than collegiate grade and owned and operated by religious, hospital or charitable funds, foundations or corporations, which property and funds, foundations or corporations meet all of the requirements of this section, shall be deemed to be within the exemption provided for in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and this section.

Property used exclusively for nursery school purposes and owned and operated by religious, hospital or charitable funds, foundations or corporations, which property and funds, foundations or corporations meet all the requirements of this section, shall be deemed to be within the exemption provided for in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and this section.

Property used exclusively for a noncommercial educational FM broadcast station or an educational television station and owned and operated by religious, hospital, scientific or charitable funds, foundations or corporations meeting all of the requirements of this section, shall be deemed to be within the exemption provided for in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and this section.

Property used exclusively for housing and related facilities for elderly or handicapped families and financed by the federal government pursuant to Section 202 of Public Law 86-372 (12 U.S.C. 1701q), as amended, and owned and operated by religious, hospital, scientific or charitable funds, foundations or corporations meeting all of the requirements of this section shall be deemed to be within the exemption provided for in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and this section.

SEC. 2. Section 254.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

254.5. Affidavits for the welfare exemption shall be filed in duplicate on or before March 15 of each year with the assessor concerned and shall be accompanied by duplicate certified copies of the financial statements of the owner and operator. Copies of the affidavits and financial statements shall be forwarded not later than April 1 by the assessor with his recommendations for approval or denial to the board which shall review all such affidavits and statements and may institute an independent audit or verification of the operations of the owner and operator to ascertain whether both the owner and operator meet the requirements of Sections 214 and 215 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. In this connection the board shall consider, among other matters, whether:

(a) The services and expenses of the owner or operator (including salaries) are excessive, based upon like services and salaries in comparable public institutions;

(b) The operations of the owner or operator, either directly of indirectly, materially enhance the private gain of any individual or individuals;

(c) Any capital investment of the owner or operator for expansion of physical plant is justified by the contemplated return thereon, and required to serve the interests of the community.

(d) The property on which exemption is claimed is used for the actual operation of an exempt activity and does not exceed an amount of property reasonably necessary to the accomplishment of the exempt purpose.

The board shall make a finding as to the eligibility of each applicant and the applicant's property and shall forward its finding to the assessor concerned not later than June 1. The assessor may deny the claim of an applicant the board finds eligible but may not grant the claim of an applicant the board finds ineligible.

SEC. 3. Any tax or penalty or interest thereon for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967 or 1968 on property financed pursuant to Section 1701q of Title 12 of the United States Code and as to which the welfare exemption was available for such fiscal year shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been levied or charged erroneously, and, if paid, a refund thereof shall be made pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been erroneously collected.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that there has been some misconception concerning the scope of the welfare exemption from property taxation among tax officials. The overwhelming majority of assessors and the State Board of Equalization have ruled that property financed by the federal government pursuant to Section 1701q of Title 12 of the United States Code, which is owned and operated by nonprofit corporations to provide housing and related facilities for elderly or handicapped families, comes within the welfare exemption from property taxation. However, some assessors have not so determined, and this has caused inequality in that this property is assessed in some parts of the state and not in others.

If obligated to pay taxes on this property, the purpose for which these nonprofit corporations have been established—to provide low-cost rentals to elderly and handicapped families—will be defeated, as the amount of tax added to the rent payments will make such rental units too expensive for the families which need them most. This act will remedy the situation by, in effect, making clear that the Legislature intends that the welfare exemption from property taxation shall apply to such property. In so doing, the public policy of the state as expressed in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution will be fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to amend Sections 15505 and 15511 of, the Education Code, relating to public school buildings.

At such election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the district either proposition (a) or (b), or both proposition (a) and (b), as determined by the governing board of the district, as follows:

In connection with the submission of either proposition (a) or (b), or both propositions (a) and (b), the governing board of the district may submit to the qualified electors of the district a proposition for the abandonment of the building and the use of tents or other temporary structures for school purposes in lieu of the building abandoned.

Neither of the propositions under (a) and (b) shall be required to make provision for financing of the entire repair, reconstruction or replacement program of the district, but shall at least provide funds for commencement of such repair, reconstruction or replacement, consistent with the governing board's plan.

SEC. 2. Section 15511 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15511. If at the election, no proposition which is required to be submitted to the qualified electors is approved and authorized, the governing board of the district shall, in accordance with the same or a modified plan, submit either the proposition to authorize the issuance of bonds, or the proposition to increase the tax rate, or both, no later than five years following the last submission of either or both of these propositions to the qualified electors of the district. The result of the voting on the proposition to authorize the use of tents or other temporary structures shall be considered by the governing board as an advisory vote, and the tents or other temporary structures may be used for school purposes to the extent that such use is deemed necessary by the governing board.

[Approved by Governor July 18, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 127 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

127. Any agreement, certificate, or other instrument relating to a domestic or foreign corporation filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to the provisions of this division may, within three years from the date of such filing, be corrected with respect to any misstatement of fact contained therein, any defect in the execution thereof, or any other error or defect contained therein, by filing with the Secretary of State a certificate of correction entitled "Certificate of Correction of _____ (insert here the title of the agreement, certificate or other instrument to be corrected, and name(s) of corporation or corporations)"; provided, however, that no such certificate of correction shall alter the wording of any resolution which was in fact adopted by directors or shareholders or effect a corrected amendment of articles of incorporation which amendment as so corrected would not in all respects have complied with the requirements of this division at the time of filing of the agreement, certificate or other instrument being corrected; and provided, further, that only one certificate of correction may be filed for the same agreement, certificate or other instrument. Such certificate of correction shall be signed and verified or acknowledged as provided in this chapter with respect to the agreement, certificate, or other instrument being corrected. It shall set forth the following:

(a) The name or names of the corporation or corporations.

(b) The date the agreement, certificate, or other instrument being corrected was filed with the Secretary of State.

(c) The provision in the agreement, certificate, or other instrument as corrected or eliminated and, if the execution was defective, wherein it was defective.

The filing of the certificate of correction with the Secretary of State shall not alter the effective time of the agreement, certificate, or instrument being corrected, which shall remain as its original effective time, and such filing shall not affect any right or liability accrued or incurred before such filing, except that any right or liability accrued or incurred by reason of the error or defect being corrected shall be extinguished by such filing.

The fee for filing the certificate of correction shall be the greater of (i) the fee which would have been payable for the filing of the agreement, certificate, or other instrument being corrected had it not contained the error or defect referred to in such certificate of correction, less the fee actually paid for the filing of such agreement, certificate, or other instrument, and (ii) five dollars ($5). In no event shall there be any right to a refund of any portion of the fee paid for the filing of the agreement, certificate or other instrument being corrected. The fee for recording the certificate of correction shall be two dollars ($2).

[Approved by Governor July 18, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11503 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11503. The department may refuse to issue a license and certificate to an applicant when it determines that:

(a) The applicant was previously the holder of a license and certificate issued under this code, which license and certificate were revoked for cause and never reissued by the department, or which license and certificate were suspended for cause and the terms of suspension have not been terminated.

(b) The applicant was previously a partner, stockholder, director, or officer controlling or managing a partnership or corporation whose license and certificate issued under the authority of this chapter were revoked for cause and never reissued or were suspended for cause and the terms of suspension have not been terminated.

(c) If the applicant is a partnership or corporation, that one or more of the partners, stockholders, directors or officers who will control or manage it was previously the holder or a partner, stockholder, director or officer controlling or managing a partnership or corporate license and certificate holder whose license and certificate issued under the authority of this chapter were revoked for cause and never reissued or were suspended for cause and the terms of suspension have not been terminated, and that by reason of the facts and circumstances touching the organization, control and management of the partnership or corporation, business will be directed, controlled, or managed by individuals who, by reason of their conviction of violations of this code, would be ineligible for a license and that by licensing such corporation or partnership the purposes of this code would likely be defeated.

(d) The applicant, or one of the partners, if the applicant be a partnership, or one or more of the officers or directors of the corporation, if a corporation be the applicant, or one or more of the stockholders if the policy of such business will be directed, controlled, or managed by such stockholder or stockholders, has ever been convicted of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude. When a check, draft, or money order submitted to the department by a licensee dismantler for any obligation or fee due the state is dishonored or refused payment upon presentation, it shall be a cause, after notice and hearing, to suspend or revoke a license and certificate issued to such dismantler.

Any of the causes specified in Section 11503 as a cause for refusal to issue a license and certificate to an automobile dismantler applicant, shall be cause, after notice and hearing, to 11511. In any administrative disciplinary proceeding to revoke or suspend an automobile dismantler license, proof that a vehicle reported stolen to a law enforcement agency was thereafter found in the possession of, or upon the premises of a licensed automobile dismantler shall constitute in evidence a prima facie presumption that such licensee had knowledge that such vehicle was stolen. This presumption may be rebutted by satisfactory evidence that the licensee made reasonable inquiry to ascertain that the person from whom he bought or received the said vehicle had the legal right to sell or deliver the said vehicle to the licensee, that he had properly reported acquisition of the vehicle as required by this code, and that he has maintained business records sufficient to identify the vehicle.

SEC. 5. Section 11703 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

(b) The applicant was previously a partner, stockholder, director, or officer controlling or managing a partnership or corporation whose license and certificate issued under the authority of this chapter were revoked for cause and never reissued or were suspended for cause and the terms of suspension have not been terminated.

(c) If the applicant is a partnership or corporation, that one or more of the partners, stockholders, directors or officers who will control or manage it was previously the holder or a partner, stockholder, director or officer controlling or managing a partnership or corporate license holder whose license and certificate issued under the authority of this chapter were revoked for cause and never reissued or were suspended for cause and the terms of suspension have not been terminated, and that by reason of the facts and circumstances touching the organization, control, and management of the partnership or corporation business the policy of such business will be directed, controlled, or managed by individuals who, by reason of their conviction of violations of the provisions of this code, would be ineligible for a license and that by licensing such corporation or partnership the purposes of this code would likely be defeated.

(d) The applicant, or one of the partners, if the applicant be a partnership, or one or more of the officers or directors of the corporation, if a corporation be the applicant, or one or more of the stockholders if the policy of such business will be directed, controlled, or managed by such stockholder or stockholders, has ever been convicted of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude. A conviction after a plea of nolo contendere is deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(e) The information contained in the application is incorrect.

(f) The decision of the department to suspend or revoke a license under the provisions of Section 11721(c) has been entered, and this applicant was the licensee, a copartner, or an officer, director or stockholder of such suspended or revoked licensee.

SEC. 5.5. Section 11703.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11703.1. Any of the causes specified in Section 11705 as a cause to suspend or revoke the license and certificate issued to a dealer, manufacturer, or transporter, shall be cause to refuse to issue a license and certificate to a dealer, manufacturer, or transporter.

[Approved by Governor July 18, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 18, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4210 of the Government Code is amended to read:

4210. (a) In any case in which the law of this state affords a right to a person furnishing labor or materials for a public work who has not been paid therefor to file a stop notice with the public agency concerned and thereby cause the withholding of payment from the contractor for the public work, any such person having no direct contractual relationship with the contractor, other than a person who performed actual labor for wages, may file such a notice, but no payment shall be withheld from any such contractor pursuant to any such notice, unless such person has caused written notice to be given to such contractor and the public agency concerned, not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite, stating with substantial accuracy a general description of the labor, service, equipment, or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and the name of the party to whom the same were furnished. Such notice shall be served by mailing the same by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, in an envelope addressed to the contractor at any place he maintains an office or conducts his business, or his residence, or by personal service. In case of any public works constructed by the Department of Public Works or the Department of General Services of the state, such notice shall be served by mailing in the same manner as above, addressed to the office of the disbursing officer of the department constructing the work or by personal service upon such officer. When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(b) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

SEC. 2. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnishes labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivison (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "construction lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "general contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnishes labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or materials he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

(j) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep such information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to such construction lender the notice required by this section.

SEC. 4. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter must as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section with respect to architectural services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

SEC. 5. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

In order to clarify existing provisions and remove any question of the validity of established practice, to facilitate the financing of these projects, and to assure their completion as soon as practicable, and thereby to make provision for the water needed to preserve the health and safety of the citizens residing in the affected areas, it is now necessary to amend the law with respect to assessments and water service contracts of water storage districts, and it is therefore essential that this act go into immediate effect.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 595 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

595. The trial of any civil action, or proceeding in a court, or of any administrative proceeding before a state board or commission or officer, irrespective of the date of the filing thereof or when it became at issue, or the hearing of any motion, demurrer, or other proceeding, shall be postponed to a date certain when it appears to the court, board, commission, or officer before which such action or proceeding is pending that either a party thereto, or any attorney of record therein (whether he became an attorney of record before or after the commencement of a legislative session or before or after his appointment to a legislative committee), or a principal witness, is a Member of the Legislature of this state and that the Legislature is in session or in recess (not exceeding a recess of forty (40) days) or that a legislative interim committee of which he is a duly appointed member is meeting, or is to meet within a period which the court finds does not exceed the time reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel. When the Legislature is in session or in recess such action or proceeding shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record therein, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment of the Legislature or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If a date is available during recess, continuance shall be given if possible to such earlier date. When a legislative committee is meeting or is to meet within a period which the court finds does not exceed the time reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel, such action or proceeding shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record therein, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of such period necessary following the adjournment or recess of the committee meeting as the court finds is reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the place of trial or hearing by the ordinary mode of travel from the place of the committee meeting, unless at the expiration of that period the Legislature is to be in session; and in that case the action or proceeding shall not, without such consent, be brought on for trial or hearing before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If a date is available during the recess, continuance shall be given to such earlier date. However, any postponement granted under the provisions of this paragraph shall suspend for the same period of time as the postponement, the running of any period of time for any ruling or proceeding by a court, board, commission, or officer, or for the performance by any party of any act affected by said postponement.

Granting of a continuance pursuant to this section is mandatory unless the court determines that such continuance would defeat or abridge a right to relief pendente lite in a paternity action or a right to invoke a provisional remedy such as pendente lite support in a domestic relations controversy, attachment and sale of perishable goods, receivership of a failing business, and temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction, and that the continuance should not be granted.

SEC. 2. Section 1054.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1054.1. When an act to be done in any action or proceeding in any court of this state or before any state administrative agency, as provided by law or rule, relates to the pleadings in the action, or the undertakings to be filed, or the justification of sureties, or the preparation of bills of exceptions, or of amendments thereto, or to the service of notices (other than of appeal, of intention to move for a new trial, and of intention to move to vacate a judgment), and such act is not a motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict, the time allowed therefor, unless otherwise expressly provided, shall be extended to a date certain by the judges of the court or by the agency in which the action or proceeding is pending, or by the judge who presided at the trial of said action, when it appears to the judge of any court or to the agency to whom such application is made that an attorney of record for the party applying for such extension is a Member of the Legislature of this state, and that the Legislature is in session or in recess not exceeding a recess of forty (40) days or that a legislative committee of which he is a duly appointed member is meeting or is to meet within a period which the court or agency finds does not exceed the time reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel. When the Legislature is in session or in recess, extension shall be to a date not less than thirty (30) days next following the final adjournment of the Legislature or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If a date is available during recess, extension shall be to such earlier date. When a legislative committee is meeting or is to meet within a period which the court or agency finds does not exceed the time reasonably necessary to enable the member to reach the committee meeting by the ordinary mode of travel, extension shall be for such period as the court or agency finds will be reasonably necessary to enable the member to perform the act to be done in the action or proceeding, unless said extension would expire when the Legislature is to be in session; and in that case the extension shall be to a date not less than thirty (30) days following the final adjournment of the Legislature or the commencement of a recess of more than forty (40) days. If such act may be reasonably done by the member within such recess, continuance shall be to such earlier date. However, any postponement granted under the provisions of this section shall suspend for the same period of time as the postponement, the running of any period of time for any ruling or proceeding by a court, board, commission, or officer, or for the performance by any party of any act affected by said postponement.

Extension of time pursuant to this section is mandatory unless the court determines that such extension would defeat or abridge a right to relief pendente lite in a paternity action or a right to invoke a provisional remedy such as pendente lite support in a domestic relations controversy, attachment and sale of perishable goods, receivership of a failing business, and temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction, and that the continuance should not be granted.

An act to amend Sections 1773 and 1773.4 of the Labor Code, relating to public works.

[Approved by Governor July 22, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 22, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1773 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

1773. The body awarding any contract for public work, or otherwise undertaking any public work, shall ascertain the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which the public work is to be performed for each craft, classification or type of workman needed to execute the contract, and shall specify in the call for bids for the contract, and in the bid specifications and in the contract itself, what the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and the general prevailing rate for holiday and overtime work in the locality is for each craft, classification or type of workman needed to execute the contract. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid need not be specified by the awarding body, but shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project. In lieu of specifying the prevailing rate of per diem wages in the call for bids the awarding body may refer to copies thereof at its principal office, which shall be made available to any interested party on request, and in such case the contractor shall post a copy thereof at each jobsite. In the event the awarding body chooses to refer to a copy of the prevailing rate of per diem wages on file at its principal office, in lieu of specifying them in each call for bids, the awarding body shall publish its determination of the prevailing rate of per diem wages in a newspaper of general circulation at least one time during each year, and, if there is any change in the prevailing rate during the course of any year, the awarding body shall specify the changes in the first call for bids made by the awarding body thereafter.

In determining such rates, the awarding body shall ascertain and consider the applicable wage rates established by collective bargaining agreements and such rates as may have been predetermined for federal public works, within the locality and in the nearest labor market area. Where such rates do not constitute the rates actually prevailing in the locality, the awarding body shall obtain and consider further data from the labor organizations and employers or employer associations concerned, including the recognized collective bargaining representatives for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved. The rate fixed for each craft, classification or type of work shall be not less than the prevailing rate paid in such craft, classification or type of work.

SEC. 2. Section 1773.4 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

1773.4. Any prospective bidder or his representative, any representative of any craft, classification or type of workman involved, or the awarding body may, within 20 days after commencement of advertising of the call for bids by the awarding body, file with the Director of Industrial Relations a verified petition to review the determination of any such rate or rates upon the ground that they have not been determined in accordance with the provision of Section 1773 of this code. Within two days thereafter, a copy of such petition shall be filed with the awarding body. The petition shall set forth the facts upon which it is based. The Director of Industrial Relations or his authorized representative shall, upon notice to the petitioner, the awarding body and such other persons as he deems proper, including the recognized collective bargaining representatives for the particular crafts, classifications or types of work involved, institute an investigation or hold a hearing. Within 10 days after the filing of such petition he shall make a determination and transmit the same in writing to the awarding body and to the interested parties.

Such determination shall be final and shall be the determination of the awarding body. Upon receipt by it of the notice of the filing of such petition the body awarding the contract or authorizing the public work shall extend the closing date for the submission of bids or the starting of work until five days after the determination of the general prevailing rates of per diem wages pursuant to this section.

Upon the filing of any such petition, notice thereof shall be set forth in the next and all subsequent publications by the awarding body of the call for bids. No other notice need be given to bidders by the awarding body by publication or otherwise. The determination of the director shall be included in the contract.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1969.

SEC. 2. For each year, beginning on the first day of the month following the month in which this act becomes effective, and for each year thereafter for a total three-year period, there is appropriated from the Airport Assistance Revolving Fund the sum of one hundred thirty-four thousand dollars ($134,000) per year, and from the Harbors and Watercraft Revolving Fund the sum of sixty-six thousand dollars ($66,000) per year, for the lease of a hyperbolic area-coverage type navigational system including all technicians, evaluation charting, and installation of manned chain. This appropriation shall supersede the appropriation made by Section 2 of Chapter 1638, Statutes of 1967, Regular Session.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

SEC. 3. Section 13237 of the Education Code is amended to read:

13237. Salary payments for supervision of interns may be made out of district funds and may be met by reducing proportionately the salaries paid interns. Under this authorization no more than eight interns may be supervised by one staff member and the normal district salary paid each intern may be reduced by as much as, but no more than, one-eighth

SEC. 4. This act shall become operative July 1, 1968.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Due to the necessity for the recruitment of teacher interns during the spring of 1968 to participate in an intern program for the school year 1968–69, and due to the desirability of preteaching instruction during the summer of 1968 for such interns, it is necessary for the effective and efficient operation of programs for such interns that legislative authorization for such programs commence with the school year 1968–69.

An act to provide for the cancellation or refund of property taxes, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take immediate effect.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any tax or penalty or interest thereon for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967 or 1968 on property as to which the welfare, cemetery or church exemption was available for such fiscal year shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code as if it had been levied or charged erroneously, and, if paid, a refund thereof shall be made pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code as if it had been erroneously collected. No claim for a cancellation or refund of taxes pursuant to this section shall be granted if an appropriate application for exemption is not filed on or before January 15, 1969.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Some organizations otherwise qualified for the welfare, cemetery or church exemption have failed to file the appropriate forms therefor in a timely manner, and as a result now are confronted with obligations which, if met, will substantially impair their ability to function effectively. This act will remedy the situation by, in effect, removing the procedural bar to the application for the exemption. In doing so, the public policy of the state as expressed in the Constitution will be entirely fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to amend Section 25459 of, and add Article 4 (commencing with Section 25451) to Chapter 2 of Division 18.5 of, the Education Code, relating to junior colleges.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25459 of the Education Code is amended to read:

25459. On and after February 1, 1963, no district, except a junior college district, shall be formed to maintain a junior college. No district, except a junior college district, shall maintain a junior college on and after July 1, 1970.

A separate junior college district may be formed by a unified school district pursuant to the provisions of Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 25450) of this chapter or Article 4 (commencing with Section 25451) of this chapter.

SEC. 2. Article 4 (commencing with Section 25451) is added to Chapter 2 of Division 18.5 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 4. Alternative Provision for Formation of a Junior College District From Territory of a Unified District Maintaining a Junior College

25451. Where a unified school district maintains one or more junior colleges, a junior college district may, pursuant to this article, be formed for purposes of maintaining the one or more junior colleges. The provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 25430) of this chapter and Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 25450) of this chapter shall not apply to proceedings to form a junior college district under this article.

25451.3. The governing board of the unified district may by resolution form a separate junior college district coterminous with the boundaries of the petitioning district. The governing board of the unified district shall serve also as the governing board of the junior college district.

25452. If an individual, whose term on the common governing board is to expire on June 30 of the second succeeding odd-numbered year following the even-numbered year set out in Section 25451.9, elects to serve on the junior college district governing board only, such act shall be deemed to have created a vacancy in his membership on the unified district governing board commencing on the first day of July of the first odd-numbered year following such even-numbered year. Such vacancy shall be filled as provided by law.

In any odd-numbered year first succeeding the year set out pursuant to Section 25451.9 on the same date upon which the election for members of the common governing board is held, an election shall be held in the junior college district to elect members to the junior college district governing board to fill the positions of the governing board members whose terms will expire on June 30 of such odd-numbered year, and the other governing board members, if any, whose terms will expire on June 30 of the next succeeding odd-numbered year, and who have elected, pursuant to Section 25451.9, to serve as members of the unified district board only. Of the members elected to the governing board of the junior college district at that election, those receiving the lowest number of votes shall be deemed to have been elected to the positions, if any, held by members whose terms would otherwise have expired in the next succeeding odd-numbered year and who elected to serve on the unified district governing board only. The first term of office of any such newly elected member receiving such lower number of votes shall expire on June 30 of the next succeeding odd-numbered year. The election shall be held throughout the junior college district, and the members elected to the junior college district governing board thereat shall be elected at large.

25452.4. When a junior college district is established pursuant to this article in a unified district not subject to the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 13701) of Chapter 3 of Division 10 of this code, the common board of the two districts shall adopt policies, relating to the classified service, which permit transfers, promotions, or other assignments between the two districts as if the single unified district, including the junior college system, was being maintained. The common board may specify that certain rules are applicable only to the classified service of the junior college or that the rule is applicable only to the classified service of the unified district, to meet the special problems of the two districts.

Should the common board be dissolved as provided for in Section 25451.9, the rights, benefits, and burdens of classified employees will be fixed pursuant to Section 13584 and Section 13584.3, even though the type of district reorganization required herein is not specifically defined in those two sections. The governing board of the junior college district shall, initially, adopt the rules and regulations governing its classified service which had prevailed under the common board.

25452.5. Notwithstanding other provisions of law to the contrary, when a unified district was subject to the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 13701) of Chapter 3 of Division 10 of this code prior to the separation as provided for in this article, the personnel commission of the unified district shall also serve as the personnel commission for the junior college district. It may, however, adopt certain rules specifically applicable only to the junior college district to meet special problems of that district, and it may, in any rule, provide that the rule is not applicable to the junior college district.

The commission shall provide for transfers, promotional opportunities, and other matters referred to in Sections 13713 and 13714 or other applicable provisions for classified personnel of both districts as if the single unified district, which included the junior college system, was being maintained.

Should the common board be dissolved as provided for in Section 25451.9, the provisions of Sections 13584 and 13584.1 shall apply. The governing board of the junior college district shall cause a personnel commission to be established under law applicable to the personnel commission of the unified district. The personnel commission of the junior college district shall, initially, adopt the rules and regulations of the personnel commission which had served both districts.

An act to amend Section 68099 of the Government Code, relating to courts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 68099 of the Government Code is amended to read:

68099. When war, insurrection, pestilence, or other public calamity, or the danger thereof, or a large influx of criminal cases resulting from a large number of arrests within a short period of time, which threatens the orderly operation of courts within a specified county or judicial district, or the destruction or danger of the building appointed for holding the court renders it necessary, the presiding judge or if there is none, the senior or sole judge of the superior, municipal, or justice court, authorized to hold or preside at a court appointed to be held in a particular place in a county or judicial district may, with the approval of the Chairman of the Judicial Council, by order direct that the court be held or continued at any other place in the county. The order shall be filed with the county clerk, and shall be published as the presiding judge or judge prescribes. SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It is often necessary to make a large number of arrests during and following any civil insurrection or disorder, and the authorities are not able to transport such large numbers of arrested persons to the courts for prompt disposition of their cases without great difficulties. Further, the physical facilities of most courts are not equipped to process such large numbers of arrested persons within a short period of time. Proper facilities for accomplishing proper and speedy court processing often exist within the same county but outside the judicial district of arrest, which do not involve transportation problems to the same extent as the regular facilities. Present laws permitting such court hearings to be held outside the judicial district are time consuming and cumbersome and often cannot be implemented in sufficient time to relieve the congestion. The threat of civil disorders which will necessitate the arresting of large numbers of persons is imminent, and so it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The insurer and any named insured may by agreement in writing delete the provision covering damage caused by an uninsured motor vehicle. Such deletion by any named insured shall be binding upon every insured to whom such policy or endorsement provisions apply. A policy shall be excluded from the application of this section if the only coverage with respect to the use of any motor vehicle is limited to the contingent liability arising out of the use of nonowned motor vehicles.

(b) As used in (a) above, "bodily injury" includes sickness or disease, including death, resulting therefrom; the term "named insured" means only the individual or organization named in the declarations of the policy of motor vehicle bodily injury liability insurance referred to in (a) above; as used in (a) above the term "insured" means the named insured and the spouse of the named insured and relatives of either while residents of the same household while occupants of a motor vehicle or otherwise, heirs and any other person while in or upon or entering into or alighting from an insured motor vehicle and any person with respect to damages he is entitled to recover for care or loss of services because of bodily injury to which the policy provisions or endorsement apply; the term "insured motor vehicle" means the motor vehicle described in the underlying insurance policy of which the uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage is a part, a temporary substitute or a newly acquired automobile for which liability coverage is provided in the policy if the motor vehicle is used by the named insured or with his permission or consent, express or of such accident. In the event of payment to any person under the coverage required by this section and subject to the terms and conditions of such coverage, the insurer making such payment, shall to the extent thereof, be entitled to any proceeds which may be recoverable from the assets of the insolvent insurer through any settlement or judgment of such person against the insolvent insurer.

The term "uninsured motor vehicle" shall not include an automobile owned by the named insured or any resident of the same household or self-insured within the meaning of the safety responsibility law of the state in which the motor vehicle is registered or which is owned by the United States of America, Canada, a state or political subdivision of any such government or an agency of any of the foregoing, or a land motor vehicle or trailer operated on rails or crawlertreads or while located for use as a residence or premises and not as a vehicle, or a farm-type tractor or equipment designed for use principally off public roads, except while actually upon public roads.

(c) The insurance coverage provided for in this section does not apply:

(e) The policy or an endorsement added thereto shall provide that the determination as to whether the insured shall be legally entitled to recover damages, and if so entitled, the amount thereof, shall be made by agreement between the insured and the insurer or, in the event of disagreement, by arbitration. The arbitration shall be conducted by a single neutral arbitrator. The provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 2016) of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of Part 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be applicable to such determinations, and all rights, remedies, obligations, liabilities and procedures set forth in said Article 3 shall be available to both the insured and the insurer at any time after the accident, both before and after the commencement of arbitration, if any, with the following limitations:

(1) Whenever in said Article 3, reference is made to the court in which the action is pending, or provision is made for application to the court or obtaining leave of court or approval by the court, the court which shall have jurisdiction for the purposes of this section shall be the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for any county which is a proper county for the filing of a suit for bodily injury arising out of the accident, against the uninsured motorist, or any county specified in the policy or an endorsement added thereto as a proper county for arbitration or action thereon.

(3) A deposition pursuant to the provisions of Section 2016 of the Code of Civil Procedure may be taken without leave of court, except that leave of court, granted with or without notice and for good cause shown, must be obtained if the notice of the taking of the deposition is served by either party within 20 days after the accident.

(4) The provisions of subparagraph (a)(4) of Section 2019 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall not be applicable to discovery under this section.

(5) For the purposes of discovery under this section, the insured and the insurer shall each be deemed to be "a party to the record of any civil action or proceedings," where that phrase is used in subparagraph (b)(2) of Section 2019 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(6) Interrogatories under the provisions of Section 2030 of the Code of Civil Procedure and requests for admission under Section 2033 may be served by either the insured or the insurer upon the other at any time more than 20 days after the accident without leave of court.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the rights of any party to discovery in any action pending or which may hereafter be pending in any court.

(f) The insurer paying a claim under an uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage shall be entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the insured to whom such claim was paid against any person causing such injury or death to the extent that payment was made. Such action may be brought within three years from the date that payment was made hereunder.

(g) An insured entitled to recovery under the uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage shall be reimbursed within the conditions stated herein without being required to sign any release or waiver or rights to which he may be entitled under any other insurance coverage applicable; nor shall payment under this section to such insured be delayed or made contingent upon the decisions as to liability or distribution of loss costs under other bodily injury liability insurance or any bond applicable to the accident. CHAPTER 740

An act to amend Section 203.1 of, and to add Section 203.2 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to jurors, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 203.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

203.1. When authorized by local superior court rule, a municipal court district pursuant to duly adopted municipal court rule may, but is not required to, use the same jury panel as that summoned for use in the superior court. Persons so selected for jury duty in the municipal court need not be residents of the municipal court judicial district.

SEC. 2. Section 203.2 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

203.2. Section 203.1 shall not be applicable in the County of Alameda.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act is necessary since special facts and circumstances applicable to the County of Alameda, and not generally applicable, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible by any general law. Special legislation is therefore necessary applicable to the County of Alameda only. The special facts are as follows:

Alameda County has within its boundaries several communities and several municipal court jurisdictions with distinct and substantial community identity resulting in a wide divergence in jury selection. The principal of venue and community identity in Alameda County would, therefore, be served by its exclusion.

SEC. 4. If Section 2 of this act is held invalid, the remainder of this act shall not be affected, in which event Section 203.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, as amended by Section 1 of this act, shall be applicable in Alameda County as well as in the other counties of this state.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

SECTION 1. Section 5835.5 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

5835.5. Pursuant to a resolution adopted by its board of supervisors, a county may lend any available county funds to a county maintenance district for the replacement of obsolete equipment, or to defray unusual maintenance costs. Any such loan may be restricted for use in a temporary zone formed under the provisions of Section 5855 in a district. The loan shall bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the board of supervisors, and shall be repaid in approximately equal installments over a period not to exceed 10 years. Any funds lent to the district, or zone, are appropriated for the purposes for which the loan was made. Any area of a district, or of a temporary zone in a district, which is included in a city by annexation or incorporation after a loan has been made shall continue to be taxed for the repayment of its proportionate part of the unpaid balance of the loan.

If a zone is formed to be responsible for the loan, the board of supervisors shall, in the first fiscal year in which a special tax may be levied in said zone, and in each succeeding year of the duration of the zone, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in the zone for the purpose of repaying with interest the amount lent to the district by the county. When the loan has been repaid, the zone shall terminate.

SEC. 2. Section 5855 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

5855. Where the board of supervisors or legislative body has so declared in its resolution of intention to order the formation of a maintenance district or any annexation thereto, the board of supervisors or legislative body may, in its resolution ordering the formation of a maintenance district or any annexation thereto, order the district divided into tax assessment zones. Tax assessment zones may be formed at a time other than at the formation of the district or any annexation thereto if pursuant to the same procedure of resolution, notice, and hearing as are applicable under this chapter to the annexation of territory.

No district shall be divided into zones unless the board of supervisors or legislative body finds that a tax assessment zone requires special services or special facilities in addition to those provided generally by the maintenance district or the replacement of obsolete equipment, and that the tax levy is commensurate with the special benefits to be provided in the zone. The boundaries of tax assessment zones may be changed or a zone may be dissolved in the same manner that a zone may be formed in an existing district.

SEC. 3. Section 5856 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

5856. If a maintenance district is divided into zones, the board of supervisors or legislative body may determine what portion of the amount of money to be secured from the levy of taxes shall be secured from each zone within the district.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Maintenance districts, other than those created for street lighting, often have unusual needs for funds that require a loan of more than one year's duration to pay for vitally needed works and in order for such loans to be available, as provided in this act, as soon as possible, it is necessary that this take effect immediately.

(e) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to prevent access by firefighting equipment to a fire hydrant and it is impracticable to move such vehicle from in front of the fire hydrant to another point on the highway.

(f) When any vehicle, except any highway maintenance or construction equipment, is left unattended for more than four hours upon the right-of-way of any freeway which has full control of access and no crossings at grade.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 139.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

139.5. In any divorce action the court may direct that payments for support of children be made to the probation officer or county clerk or any other county officer the court designates. The court shall include in its order any service charge imposed under the authority of Section 580.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. The district attorney may appear or be directed by the court to appear, on behalf of the children, in any proceedings to enforce such order. Expenses of the probation officer, county clerk or other county officer designated by the court, and district attorney incurred in enforcement of such order, and any fees for service of process in enforcement of such order, shall be a charge on the county.

In order to defray expenses incurred by the district attorney in the enforcement of a child support order, when a district attorney undertakes to enforce a child support order under this section, the court may, by motion on notice or by order to show cause, order the party obligated to make support payments to pay to the county an additional amount as reasonable attorney fees, not to exceed 5 percent of the payments collected as a result of the enforcement, and such sum shall be deposited in the county general fund.

The provision of this section for the payment of attorney fees to defray expenses incurred by the district attorney in the enforcement of a child support order shall not be applicable in any county unless the board of supervisors thereof has voted to have it apply.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 39009.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

39009.3. As used in this part and in Section 14808.1 of the Government Code, the low emission standard is an emission standard more stringent than the approval test standard. In establishing the low emission standard the board shall attempt to insure that no more than 50 percent of the new motor vehicles sold and registered in California that year would be able to comply with the low emission standard.

SEC. 1.5. Section 39051 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39051. The board shall after holding public hearings:

(a) Divide the state into basins to fulfill the purposes of this division not later than January 1, 1969.

(b) Adopt standards of ambient air quality for each basin in consideration of the public health, safety and welfare, including but not limited to health, illness, irritation to the senses, aesthetic value, interference with visibility, and effects on the economy. These standards may vary from one basin to another. Standards relating to health effects shall be based upon the recommendations of the State Department of Public Health.

(c) Adopt rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (commencing with Section 11370 of the Government Code) necessary for the proper execution of the powers and duties granted to, and imposed upon, the board by this division.

(d) Adopt emission standards for all nonvehicular air pollution sources for application for each basin as found necessary as provided in Section 39054.

SEC. 2. Section 39052 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39052. The board shall:

(a) Conduct studies and evaluate the effects of air pollution upon human, plant, and animal life and the factors responsible for air pollution. The board may call upon the Department of Public Health, Department of Agriculture, the University of California, and such other state agencies it may deem necessary.

(b) Encourage a cooperative state effort in combating air pollution.

(c) Inventory sources of air pollution within the basins of the state and determine the kinds and quantity of air pollutants. The board shall use, to the fullest extent, the data of local agencies in fulfilling this purpose.

(d) Monitor air pollutants in cooperation with other agencies to fulfill the purpose of this division.

(e) Coordinate and collect research data on air pollution.

(f) Review rules and regulations of local or regional authorities filed with it pursuant to Sections 39314 and 39461 to assure that reasonable provision is made to control emissions from nonvehicular sources and to achieve the air quality standards established by the board.

(g) Adopt formal procedures, after consultation with the Department of Motor Vehicles, for making timely and decisive mutual agreements on vehicle air pollution matters with which both agencies are concerned, and submit a copy of these procedures to the Legislature by January 1, 1969.

(h) Adopt formal procedures, after consultation with the Department of Public Health, for the performance of services required by the board and for evaluating and resolving air pollution matters with which both agencies are concerned, and submit a copy of these procedures to the Legislature by January 1, 1969.

(i) Adopt formal procedures, after consultation with the Department of the California Highway Patrol, for making timely and decisive mutual agreements on vehicle air pollution matters with which both agencies are concerned, and submit a copy of these procedures to the Legislature by January 1, 1969.

(j) Publish annually a report of the results of the tests administered pursuant to subdivision (k) of this section, which shall include all of the following:

(5) An analysis of the emissions of each engine and transmission combination tested.

(k) Adopt test procedures as soon as possible, but in no event later than 45 days after the effective date of the amendments to this section enacted by the Legislature at the 1968 Regular Session, specifying the manner in which new motor vehicles shall be approved based upon the emission standards contained in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of Chapter 4 of this part. The board shall base its test procedures on driving patterns typical in the urban areas of California, and shall weight approval standards appropriately to reflect normal engine deposit accumulation. The board shall administer the test for new motor vehicles in accordance with such procedures.

(l) Adopt regulations specifying the manner in which used motor vehicles shall be accredited based upon their emissions. These regulations are to be submitted to the Legislature by January 1, 1969.

(m) Adopt regulations specifying the manner in which motor vehicles on factory assembly lines are to be emission tested. Such tests shall take into consideration the recommendations of the Technical Advisory Panel to the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee as set forth in its report of April 14, 1968. Board regulations shall require manufacturers to submit copies of their test procedures and the test results to the board. These regulations are to be submitted to the Legislature by March 31, 1969.

SEC. 3. Section 39052.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

39052.5. The board may adopt motor vehicle emission standards more stringent than those specified in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of Chapter 4 of this part, which the board has found to be necessary and technologically feasible to carry out the purposes of this part.

SEC. 4. Section 39052.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

39052.6. The board may adopt and implement motor vehicle emission standards for the control of other contaminants and sources of air pollution which are not included within Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of Chapter 4 of this part, which the board has found to be necessary and technologically feasible to carry out the purposes of this part.

SEC. 5. Section 39054 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39054. If the board finds after investigation and testing that its ambient air quality standards are not being complied with within a basin or that any local or regional authority has not taken reasonable action to control emissions from nonvehicular sources, it may request a report from such local or regional authority as to the action taken to control the sources responsible. If the board's investigation and testing reveals that its standards are not being complied with, or the local or regional standards are not being complied with or are inadequate, and that the report of the local or regional authority is unsatisfactory, the board may hold public hearings. If the board after holding public hearings, is still unsatisfied it may issue a statement of findings, and may direct the local or regional authority, to take further reasonable action. If any local or regional authority does not comply with the directive of the board within 30 days after the date of the directive, the board shall enforce the standards and the rules and regulations adopted by the board pursuant to this part within the area under the jurisdiction of such local or regional authority until such time as the directive is withdrawn by the board or the local or regional authority complies with the directive. The board may take any other appropriate legal action to carry out its responsibilities in such area. The board shall also have the authority, if such area is within any air pollution control district which is functioning and exercising its powers, to take any action which the district may take. If such area is not within an air pollution control district which is functioning and exercising its powers, the board shall also have the authority to take any action which Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 24198) of Division 20 authorizes a district which is functioning and exercising its powers under that chapter to take. Every person who violates any standard, rule or regulation adopted by the board pursuant to this part in any area in which such standards, rules, and regulations are being enforced by the board is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every day during any portion of which such violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

SEC. 6. Section 39065 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39065. All present standards and rules and regulations for the purposes of air pollution control established by the State Department of Public Health and the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board shall remain in effect until the State Air Resources Board incorporates them into its rules and regulations or standards or adopts rules and regulations or standards.

SEC. 7. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) is added to Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code to read:

CHAPTER 4. MOTOR VEHICLE POLLUTION CONTROL

Article 1. Application and Definitions

39080. This chapter may be cited as the "Pure Air Act of 1968."

39081. The Legislature finds and declares:

(a) That the emission of pollutants from motor vehicles is the primary cause of air pollution in many portions of the state.

(b) That the control and elimination of such pollutants is of prime importance for the protection and preservation of the public health and well-being, and for the prevention of irritation to the senses, interference with visibility, and damage to vegetation and property.

(c) That the state has a responsibility to establish uniform procedures for compliance with standards which control or eliminate such pollutants.

(d) That the California goal for pure air quality is the achievement of an atmosphere with no significant detectable adverse effect from motor vehicle air pollution on health, welfare and the quality of life and property by 1975.

(e) That vehicle emission standards applied to new motor vehicles and to used motor vehicles equipped with emission control devices are standards with which all such vehicles shall comply subject to the approval, accreditation, and certification provisions of this part.

39082. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any racing vehicle, as defined in Section 39090.5.

39083. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any limited production motor vehicle, as defined in Section 39090.

39083.5. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any motorcycle as defined in Section 39084.

39084. As used in this chapter the following terms shall be construed as defined in the Vehicle Code:

39085. As used in this chapter, "approval" means the findings of the board that the device for new vehicles has satisfied the tests and procedures established by the board to determine whether the various makes and models of new motor vehicles for each model year may be sold and registered in this state. Approval shall be determined on the basis of motor vehicle emissions and such other related factors as the board may in regulations indicate.

39088. As used in this chapter, "fuel evaporative loss emissions" means vaporized fuel emitted into the atmosphere from the fuel system of a motor vehicle.

39089. As used in this chapter, "fuel system" means the combination of fuel tank, fuel lines and carburetor, or fuel injector, and includes all vents and fuel evaporative emission control systems or devices.

39090. As used in this chapter, "limited production vehicle" means a make of motor vehicle manufactured in quantities of less than 2,000 units for any given model year.

39090.5. As used in this chapter, "racing vehicle" means a competition vehicle not used on public roads or highways.

39091. As used in this chapter, "model year" means the time of actual manufacture either (1) within the annual production period of such vehicles as designated by the calendar year in which such period ends, or (2) if the manufacturer does not so designate the annual production period of such vehicles manufactured by him, within the 12-month period beginning November 1 of the preceding year. In the case of any vehicle manufactured in two or more stages, the time of manufacture shall be the date of completion of the chassis.

39092. As used in this chapter, "accreditation" means a finding by the board, pursuant to the procedures established in Article 5 (commencing with Section 39175) of this chapter, that a used motor vehicle emission control device has satisfied the tests and procedures established by the board pursuant to Sections 39107 and 39108.

39093. As used in this chapter, "motor vehicle pollution control device" means equipment designed for installation on a motor vehicle for the purpose of reducing the pollutants emitted from the vehicle, or a system or engine modification on a motor vehicle which causes a reduction of pollutants emitted from the vehicle.

39096. As used in this chapter, the terms hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide, and oxides of nitrogen, shall be construed as defined in the regulations of the board, such definitions to be developed in accordance with the purpose of this chapter.

Article 2. Motor Vehicle Emission Standards

39100. Approval of new motor vehicles for sale and registration and accreditation of devices for used motor vehicles shall be contingent upon compliance with the standards established in this part or pursuant thereto, under the test procedures established by the board pursuant to Section 39052. Motor vehicles which do not so comply with the applicable standards shall not be sold and registered in California.

39100.1. Every manufacturer of motor vehicles sold in the State of California during the calendar year 1968 shall file with the board, not later than 60 days after the effective date of this section, a report describing such manufacturer's research and development activities, including test data, during the preceding 12 months relating to the control of oxides of nitrogen emitted from its vehicles. Where proprietary or competitive requirements necessitate, such reports shall refer to vehicles, technical innovations, and devices by code name or number. Additional progress reports shall be filed with the board by such manufacturers at three-month intervals from 60 days after the effective date of this section until July 1, 1970. Failure to submit such reports shall be considered as constituting failure of compliance under Section 39154.

39100.5. The standards in this article have been found to be technologically feasible and capable of implementation with reasonable economic cost by a technical advisory panel of nine California engineers, scientists, and air pollution experts.

39101. The exhaust emissions from a new 1970 model year gasoline-powered motor vehicle under 6,001 pounds, manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating having an engine displacement of 50 cubic inches or greater, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state, shall not exceed:

The exhaust emissions from a new 1972 or later model year gasoline-powered motor vehicle under 6,001 pounds, manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating having an engine displacement of 50 cubic inches or greater, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state, shall not exceed:

(a) 1.5 grams per mile hydrocarbons.

(b) 23 grams per mile carbon monoxide.

(c) 3.0 grams per mile oxides of nitrogen.

39102.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 39102, the oxides of nitrogen exhaust emissions from a new 1974 or later model year gasoline-powered motor vehicles under 6,001 pounds, manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating having an engine displacement of 50 cubic inches or greater, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state, shall not exceed 1.3 grams per mile oxides of nitrogen.

39104. The exhaust emissions from a new 1970 or 1971 model year gasoline-powered truck, truck tractor or bus, except those which are diesel-powered, over 6,001 pounds, manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state, shall not exceed:

39109. Exhaust emission standards for hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide and oxides of nitrogen for new diesel-powered vehicles first sold and registered in this state as established by the board pursuant to subdivision (n) of Section 39052, shall apply to all such vehicles at such time as the board determines it is technologically feasible, but no later than January 1, 1973.

Article 3. Previously Certified Devices

39125. All motor vehicles previously required to have certified pollution control devices pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 1545, Statutes of 1967, shall be required to continue to have such devices, unless otherwise specifically exempted by this chapter.

39126. 39127. The board may revoke, suspend, or restrict a certificate of a previously certified device or an exemption previously granted upon a determination by the board that the device no longer operates within the standards set by the board or no longer should be exempted. Provided that once any motor vehicle is equipped with a certified device it shall not thereafter be deemed in violation of this chapter or of Section 27156 of the Vehicle Code, because the certification of such device is subsequently revoked, suspended or restricted, and replacement parts for such device may continue to be supplied and used for such vehicle, unless such revocation, suspension or restriction is based upon a finding that the certified device has been found to be unsafe in actual use or is otherwise mechanically defective, in which event such devices shall be brought into compliance with this chapter within 30 days after such finding.

39128. Proceedings under this chapter with respect to the granting of exemptions, or for the revocation, suspension or restriction of certificates previously issued, or exemptions previously granted, by the board, shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein.

39129. The following classifications of motor vehicles are subject to the provisions of this article:

(a) Every 1966 or later year model motor vehicle subject to registration in this state shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control emission of pollutants from the crankcase and exhaust.

(b) Every motor vehicle of 1963 or later year model, subject to registration in this state shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the crankcase.

(c) Every motor vehicle of 1955 through 1962 year model subject to registration in this state upon transfer of ownership and registration to an owner whose residence is in a county or portion of a county within an air pollution control district which may function and exercise its powers shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the crankcase.

(d) Every motor vehicle of 1955 through 1965 year model subject to registration in this state upon transfer of ownership and registration to an owner whose residence is in a county or portion of a county within an air pollution control district which may function and exercise its powers, shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the exhaust.

(e) The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section shall not be applicable to any of the following vehicles:

(1) Any motor vehicle or class of motor vehicles exempted by the board.

(2) Any motor-driven cycle, implement of husbandry or vehicle which qualifies for special plates under Section 5004 of the Vehicle Code.

(f) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) shall not be applicable in any district activated after July 1, 1959, so as to be able to perform its functions unless the board of supervisors of each county in which the district is situated adopts a resolution based upon its finding that subdivisions (c) and (d) are necessary to the preservation of air quality within that district; nor shall the provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) be applicable in any county situated within a multicounty district formed prior to July 1, 1959, which county is adjacent to a district activated prior to January 1, 1960, unless the board of supervisors in such county adopts a resolution based upon its finding that subdivisions (c) and (d) are necessary to the preservation of air quality within that county.

(g) Every 1968 year model passenger vehicle, except motorcycles, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control emission of pollutants from the crankcase and exhaust. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or of Article 5 (commencing with Section 39175) of this chapter, the board may only grant an exemption for not to exceed 1 percent of a manufacturer's passenger vehicle sales in California in the preceding model year.

(h) Every 1967 year model commercial motor vehicle under 6,001 pounds manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control emission of pollutants from the crankcase and exhaust.

(i) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section shall not be applicable to motor vehicles registered to an owner whose residence is in an area, designated pursuant to this subdivision, of any county having an area in excess of 7,000 square miles in which an air pollution control district consisting of a single county may function and exercise its powers and within 60 days after the effective date of this section the board of supervisors of such county has classified the county into two areas because of substantial geographic and climatic differences between the two areas, and within 60 days after the effective date of this section the board of supervisors of the county has found that within one of such areas, designated by the board, the equipment of motor vehicles with devices to control the emission of pollutants is unnecessary for the preservation of air quality within that area.

(j) Notwithstanding any provision of subdivision (f), if after the effective date of this section subdivisions (c) and (d) are made applicable to a district or county in which subdivisions (c) and (d) are inapplicable under subdivision (f) on such effective date, subdivisions (c) and (d) shall not be applicable to any other district or county unless its governing board adopts a resolution based upon its finding that subdivisions (c) and (d) are necessary to the preservation of air quality in such other district or county, as the case may be.

39130. No person shall sell, display, advertise, or represent as a certified device any device which, in fact, is not a certified device. No person shall install or sell for installation upon anv motor vehicle, any motor vehicle pollution control device which has not been certified by the board.

39131. Any manufacturer of a device required by this article shall, as a condition of certification of such device by the board, agree that so long as only one such device is certified by the board such manufacturer shall either: (1) agree to enter into such cross-licensing or other agreements as the board determines are necessary to insure adequate competition among manufacturers of such devices to protect the public interest; or (2) agree as a condition to such certification that if only one such device from one manufacturer is made available for sale to the public, the board shall, taking into consideration the cost of manufacturing the device and the manufacturer's suggested retail price, and in order to protect the public interest, determine the fair and reasonable retail price of such device and may require, as a condition to continued certification of such device, that the retail price of such device, including installation, not exceed such price as determined by the board. In either event the retail price so determined by the board for a device required by subdivision (d) of Section 39129 or Section 39176 shall not be in excess of sixty-five dollars ($65) per vehicle.

Article 4. New Motor Vehicle Approval

39150. The board shall have the powers and authority necessary to carry out the duties imposed on it by this article including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) To adopt rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (commencing with Section 11370) of the Government Code, necessary for proper execution of the powers and duties granted to, and imposed upon, the board by this article.

(b) To employ such technical and other personnel as may be necessary for the performance of its powers and duties.

39151. No new motor vehicle required pursuant to this part to meet the emission standards in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter or the standards set pursuant to Sections 39052.5 or 39052.6 shall be sold and registered in this state unless the engine and transmission combination used in that vehicle has been approved by the board.

Vehicle manufacturers shall test engine and transmission combinations in vehicles which are representative of the types of vehicles in which that engine and transmission combination is used.

39154. No new motor vehicle required pursuant to this part to meet the emission standards in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter shall be sold and registered in this state if the vehicle manufacturer has in the previous year for which the board approved his vehicles failed to comply with the standards established in this part or with such regulations as the board may establish, unless the manufacturer thereof complies with such other conditions as the board may by regulation indicate.

The procedures for determining, and the facts constituting, compliance and failure of compliance shall be established by the board pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 39051.

Article 5. Used Motor Vehicle Device Accreditation

39175. The board shall have the powers and authority necessary to carry out the duties imposed on it by this article including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) To adopt rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (commencing with Section 11370) of the Government Code, necessary for proper execution of the powers and duties granted to, and imposed upon the board by this article.

(b) To employ such technical and other personnel as may be necessary for the performance of its powers and duties.

(c) To determine and publish by January 1, 1969, tests and procedures for the accreditation of used car exhaust emission control and fuel system evaporative loss control devices.

(d) To accredit motor vehicle pollution control devices following tests by the board or by a board-designated laboratory in which the board finds that the device operates within the standards set in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter or that the device effectively controls harmful pollutants not specifically mentioned in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter, or that the device effectively controls emissions from a part of the vehicle not specifically mentioned in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter. Any device accredited shall be technologically feasible.

39176. Whenever an exhaust emission control device is accredited pursuant to the provisions of this article and is available for installation as determined by the board, every 1955 through 1965 year model vehicle shall be equipped with an accredited device to control the emission of pollutants from the exhaust in accordance with the requirements, exemptions and schedule of installation provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 39125) of this chapter.

39177. The board may exempt classifications of motor vehicles for which accredited devices are not available, and motor vehicles whose emissions are found by appropriate tests to meet state standards without additional equipment, and motor-driven cycles, implements of husbandry, and vehicles which qualify for special license plates under Section 5004 of the Vehicle Code.

39178. The board may revoke, suspend or restrict an accreditation of a previously accredited device or an exemption previously granted upon a determination by the board that the device no longer operates within the standards set by the board or no longer should be exempted. Provided that once any motor vehicle is equipped with an accredited device it shall not thereafter be deemed in violation of this chapter or Section 27156 of the Vehicle Code because the accreditation of such device is subsequently revoked, suspended or restricted, and replacement parts for such device may continue to be supplied and used for such vehicle, unless such revocation, suspension or restriction is based upon a finding that the accredited device has been found to be defective, in which event such devices must be brought into compliance with this chapter within 30 days after such finding.

39179. Proceedings under this article with respect to the denial of applications for accreditation, the granting of exemptions, or for the revocation, suspension, or restriction of accreditation previously granted by the board shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein.

39180. In establishing tests and procedures the board shall adopt standards including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) An accredited exhaust emission control device shall not cost more than sixty-five dollars ($65), including the cost of installation.

(b) An accredited exhaust emission control device shall not require maintenance more than once each 12,000 miles, and such maintenance shall not cost more than fifteen dollars ($15), including the cost of parts and labor.

(c) An accredited exhaust control device shall equal or exceed the performance criteria established by the board for devices for new motor vehicles or, in the alternative, have an expected useful life of at least 50,000 miles of operation.

(d) Standards for an accredited fuel system evaporative loss control device shall take into consideration the cost of the device and its installation, its durability, the ease and facility of determining whether the device, when installed on a motor vehicle is properly functioning, and any other factors which, in the opinion of the board, render such a device suitable or unsuitable for the control of motor vehicle air pollution or for the health, safety, and welfare of the public.

(e) An accredited fuel system evaporative loss control device shall equal or exceed the performance criteria established by the board for such new devices required on new motor vehicles, or in the alternative, must have an expected useful life of at least 50,000 miles of operation.

39180.1. Whenever the board accredits a fuel system evaporative loss control device for which standards have been set by this chapter, it shall submit a report of its findings and its recommendations for installation on used vehicles to the Legislature within 10 days, if it is then in session, or if not in session not later than January 15, of the next general session.

Such report shall contain a report on the cost of such device, including the cost of installation and a review of its potential performance, including required maintenance and the cost of parts and labor.

39180.2. No accredited fuel system evaporative loss control device for installation on used motor vehicles, nor any other accredited device not mentioned in Section 39129 shall be required to be installed on any used motor vehicles until approved by statute enacted by the Legislature.

39181. The board may issue permits for the testing of experimental motor pollution control devices installed in used motor vehicles, or for the testing of experimental or prototype motor vehicles which appear to have very low emission characteristics.

39182. Any manufacturer of a device required by this article shall, as a condition of accreditation of such device by the board, agree that so long as only one such device is accredited by the board such manufacturer shall either: (1) agree to enter into such cross-licensing or other agreements as the board determines are necessary to insure adequate competition among manufacturers of such devices to protect the public interest; or (2) agree as a condition to such accreditation that if only one such device from one manufacturer is made available for sale to the public, the board shall, taking into consideration the cost of manufacturing the device and the manufacturer's suggested retail price, and in order to protect the public interest, determine the fair and reasonable retail price of such device and may require, as a condition to continued accreditation of such device, that the retail price of such device, including installation, not exceed such price as determined by the board. In either event the retail price so determined by the board for a device required by Section 39176 shall not exceed sixty-five dollars ($65) per vehicle.

39183. Whenever the board accredits a device for the control of emissions of pollutants from a particular source of emissions from motor vehicles for which standards have been set by this chapter and the board, it shall so notify the Department of Motor Vehicles.

39184. No person shall sell, display, advertise, or represent as an accredited device any device which, in fact, is not an accredited device. No person shall install or sell for installation upon any used motor vehicle any motor vehicle pollution control device which has not been accredited by the board.

Article 6. Variances

39190. The Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint a hearing board to consist of three members, none of whom is employed by the board or the state. Two members shall be registered professional engineers knowledgeable in motor vehicle emission control. One member shall have been admitted to practice law in this state.

39191. The Governor shall appoint one member of the hearing board for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, and one for a term of three years. Thereafter the terms of members of the hearing board shall be three years.

39192. The hearing board at the request of any person may hold a hearing to determine under what conditions and to what extent a variance from the emission standards for new or used cars established by Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter or by rules, regulations, or orders of the board is necessary and will be permitted. All such hearings shall be open to the public and shall be held at a place which the board determines to be convenient to the public in the area most affected by the motor vehicle air pollution problem.

39193. The board may provide, by regulation, a schedule of fees which will yield a sum not exceeding the estimated cost of the administration of this article, for the filing of applications for variances or to revoke or modify variances. All applicants shall pay the fees required by such regulations.

39194. The hearing board shall serve a notice of the time and place of a hearing to grant a variance upon the chairman and the executive officer of the board and upon the applicant, if any, not less than 10 days prior to such hearing.

39195. If the hearing board finds that because of conditions beyond control, compliance with the standards in Article 2 (commencing with Section 39100) of this chapter or with any rule, regulation, or order of the board will result in an arbitrary and unreasonable taking of property or in a serious and demonstrable economic hardship without a sufficient corresponding benefit or advantage to the people in the reduction of air pollution, it shall prescribe other and different standards not more onerous applicable to named classes of industries or persons. Tests and procedures for determining compliance with the standards established by the hearing board shall be the same as those tests and procedures established by the State Air Resources Board.

In establishing other and different standards the hearing board shall not prescribe standards less onerous than any applicable federal standards. Any federal standard enacted or implemented during the period for which a variance granting a less onerous standard is running shall immediately supersede the standard established by the hearing board.

39196. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 39195. the hearing board shall grant variances to manufacturers of new motor vehicles only on a showing that the vehicle manufacturer is making all reasonable efforts to comply with the standards as soon as possible.

39197. The hearing board shall serve notice of the time and place of a hearing to revoke or modify any order permitting a variance not less than 10 days prior to such hearing upon the director and the executive officer of the board, upon all persons who will be subjected to greater restrictions if such order is revoked or modified as proposed and upon all other persons interested or likely to be affected who have filed with the hearing board or board a written request for such notification.

39197.5. The hearing board shall serve a notice of the time and place of a hearing to grant a variance or to revoke or modify an order permitting a variance either by personal service or by first-class mail, postage prepaid. If either the identity or address of any person entitled to notice is unknown, the hearing board shall serve such person by publication of notice once in a newspaper of general circulation published within the State of California.

39198. The hearing board in making any order permitting a variance may specify the time during which such order will be effective, in no event to exceed one year.

39199. The hearing board in administering the provisions of this article may conduct investigations and hearings pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 11180), Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code.

39200. After each hearing for a variance under proceedings held pursuant to this article, the hearing board shall make written findings of fact based upon the evidence and shall render a written decision Such findings and written decision shall contain a detailed description of all testing data and testing procedures used in connection with the evidence submitted to the hearing board. Each written decision, accompanied by the findings, shall be transmitted to the Legislature forthwith. Nothing in this section shall require or authorize the disclosure of any trade secret privileged under Section 1060 of the Evidence Code, or of any information not a part of the public record the disclosure of which is prohibited by Section 11183 of the Government Code.

39201. The hearing board created by this article shall not exercise or undertake any duty, power, responsibility or jurisdiction vested in the hearing board by this article unless, and until, the State Air Resources Board determines that the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare will not waive application to California of Section 208 of the National Emission Standards Act. In the event of such a determination by the State Air Resources Board then and then only shall Sections 39192 to 39200, inclusive, of this article become operative.

SEC. 9. Section 14808.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14808.1. In establishing bid specifications for the purchase of motor vehicles and in determining the lowest responsible bidder, consideration shall be given by the state to the low emission test results of such vehicles as determined by the State Air Resources Board pursuant to Section 39052 of the Health and Safety Code. The state shall purchase low emission test vehicles insofar as the cost of those vehicles do not exceed the cost of vehicles which would otherwise be purchased for state use by 10 percent, except for the following vehicles:

(a) Vehicles used by the Department of the California Highway Patrol as patrol cars.

(b) Vehicles which are used in other special ways so as to render the low emission requirements impractical.

SEC. 10. Section 2814 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2814. Every driver of a passenger vehicle shall stop and submit the vehicle to an inspection of the mechanical condition and equipment of the vehicle at any location where members of the California Highway Patrol are conducting tests and inspections of passenger vehicles and when signs are displayed requiring such stop.

The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol may make and enforce regulations with respect to the issuance of stickers or other devices to be displayed upon passenger vehicles as evidence that the vehicles have been inspected and have been found to be in safe mechanical condition and equipped as required by this code and equipped with certified motor vehicle pollution control devices as required by Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code which are correctly installed and in operating condition. Any sticker so issued shall be placed on the windshield within a seven-inch square as provided in Section 26708.

If, upon such an inspection of a passenger vehicle, it is found to be in unsafe mechanical condition or not equipped as required by this code and the provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 40150) of Chapter 1 of Division 17 of this code shall apply.

No person shall drive, move, or leave standing any motor vehicle upon a highway which has been registered in violation of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply, following payment of fees due for registration, during such time that registration and transfer is being withheld by the Department of Motor Vehicles pending the investigation of any use tax due under the provisions of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(c) When a vehicle is towed by a tow car on order of a sheriff, marshal, or other official acting pursuant to a court order or on order of a peace officer acting pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 22650) of Division 11, the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section shall not apply.

12303. Whenever a licensed installer in a licensed station, in conformity with the instructions of the commissioner installs, inspects, or repairs a motor vehicle pollution control device, and determines that the device conforms with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and the rules and regulations of the State Air Resources Board, a certificate of compliance shall be issued to the owner or driver of the vehicle. CHAPTER 765

An act to add Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 39200) to Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and to add Section 14808.5 to the Government Code, relating to low-emission motor vehicles.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 39200) is added to Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. LOW-EMISSION MOTOR VEHICLES

39200. The Legislature finds and declares that emission of pollutants from motor vehicles is a major contributor to air pollution within the State of California and, therefore, declares its policy to encourage the development and testing of various types of low-emission motor vehicles, which would contribute substantially to achieving a pure and healthy atmosphere for the people of this state.

39201. As used in this chapter "low-emission motor vehicle" shall mean a self-propelling vehicle which does not have exhaust emissions of more than .5 grams per mile of hydrocarbons, 11 grams per mile of carbon monoxide, and .75 grams per mile of oxides of nitrogen.

39202. Low-emission motor vehicles shall be submitted to the board for testing to determine if such vehicle meets the standards set forth in Section 39201.

39203. After determining that the low-emission motor vehicle meets the standards prescribed by Section 39201, the Department of General Services in consultation with the board shall determine if the low-emission motor vehicle meets all of the following requirements:

(a) Such vehicle can be manufactured in sufficient numbers for the purpose of proper evaluation.

(b) Such vehicle meets the performance needs for state vehicles.

(c) The cost of such vehicle does not exceed by more than 100 percent the average cost of state passenger vehicles purchased in the preceding fiscal year.

(d) If such vehicle is purchased by the state there would be a sufficient number of servicing and maintenance outlets.

(e) The average servicing and maintenance costs for a low-emission vehicle are comparable to the average servicing and maintenance costs for all other state passenger vehicles, but in no event shall the average servicing and maintenance costs for the low-emission vehicle exceed the average costs of servicing and maintaining all other state passenger vehicles by more than 50 percent.

39204. If a low-emission motor vehicle meets the requirements of this chapter, the state shall, if funds are appropriated for the purpose of purchasing such low-emission motor vehicles, purchase, beginning with the next fiscal year, as many of such low-emission motor vehicles as the Department of General Services determines are reasonable to meet state needs and which are in accordance with manufacturing capability, performance, cost, servicing, and maintenance of such vehicles. If a sufficient number of low-emission vehicles are available, the percentage of all such vehicles to be purchased in that year shall not be less than 25 percent of all motor vehicles purchased by the state in the preceding fiscal year.

39205. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the following vehicles:

(a) Patrol cars of the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(b) Any motor vehicle classified as a special-purpose vehicle by the Department of General Services.

SEC. 2. Section 14808.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14808.5. All purchases of motor vehicles by the state shall be in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 39200) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 3. Section 14808.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14808.5. Except for motor vehicles described in Section 39205 of the Health and Safety Code, the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 39200) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall govern the purchase of all motor vehicles by the state to the extent that the Department of General Services determines that such low-emission vehicles are reasonable to meet state needs pursuant to Section 39204 of the Health and Safety Code.

In the purchasing of the motor vehicles described in Section 39205 of the Health and Safety Code and in purchasing motor vehicles for the state when the Department of General Services has determined there are no low-emission motor vehicles which meet the requirements of Section 39203, Section 14808.1 shall govern the purchase of motor vehicles by the state.

SEC. 4. Section 3 of this act shall become operative only if Assembly Bill No. 357 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1968 Regular Session and in such case at the same time as Assembly Bill No. 357 takes effect; at which time Section 14808.5 of the Government Code as added by Section 2 of this act is repealed.

CHAPTER 766

An act to amend Section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to wrongful death actions.

[Approved by Governor July 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 377 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

If any other person is responsible for any such wrongful act or neglect, the action may also be maintained against such other person, or in case of his death, his personal representatives. The respective rights of the heirs and dependent parents in any award shall be determined by the court. Any action brought by the personal representatives of the decedent pursuant to the provisions of Section 573 of the Probate Code may be joined with an action arising out of the same wrongful act or neglect brought pursuant to the provisions of this section. If an action be brought pursuant to the provisions of this section and a separate action arising out of the same wrongful act or neglect be brought pursuant to the provisions of Section 573 of the Probate Code, such actions shall be consolidated for trial on the motion of any interested party.

CHAPTER 5. COUNTY CHARTERS

Article 1. Proposing a Charter

23700. Counties may propose charters or revise existing charters according to the provisions of this chapter.

23701. Proceedings to propose or revise a charter may be initiated by ordinance, adopted by a majority vote of the members of the governing body of each county. The ordinance shall declare that the public interest requires the election of a charter commission composed of 15 qualified electors of the county, to be elected by the qualified electors of the county, at a general or special election. Proceedings to propose or revise a charter may also be initiated by a petition of qualified electors of the county as provided in this chapter.

23702. Petitions to propose or revise a charter shall be signed by at least 15 percent of the qualified electors of the county, computed upon the total number of votes cast for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding general election at which a Governor was elected, and shall request the election of a charter commission to prepare and propose or revise a charter for the county. It shall be filed in the office of the county clerk.

23703. It shall be the duty of the county clerk, within 20 days after the filing of the petition, to examine the same, and to ascertain from the record of the registration of electors of the county, whether the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. If required by the clerk, the governing body shall authorize him to employ persons specially to assist him in the work of examining the petition, and shall provide for their compensation.

23704. Upon the completion of such examination, the clerk shall attach to the petition his certificate, properly dated, showing the result thereof; and if, by such certificate, it shall appear that the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, the clerk shall immediately present the petition to the governing body, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular meeting after the date of such certificate.

23705. Upon the adoption of such ordinance, or the presentation of such petition, the governing body shall order the holding of a special election for the purpose of electing a charter commission, which special election shall be held not less than 20 days nor more than 60 days after the adoption of the ordinance or the presentation of the petition to the governing body. If a general election shall occur in the county not less than 20 days nor more than 60 days after the adoption of the ordinance, or the presentation of the petition to the governing body, the charter commissioners may be elected at such general election.

23706. Candidates for election as members of the charter commission shall be nominated substantially in the same manner provided by general law for the nomination of candidates for county offices.

23708. It shall be the duty of the charter commission to prepare and propose a charter or revised charter for the county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of the charter commission, or a majority of them, and be filed, one copy in the office of the county clerk and the other in the office of the county recorder.

23709. The governing body shall cause the proposed charter or revised charter to be published for at least 10 times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the county. In any county where no such daily newspaper is printed, published and circulated, the proposed or revised charter shall be published for at least three times in at least one weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the county. In any county where neither a daily nor weekly newspaper is printed, published and circulated, a copy of such proposed or revised charter shall be posted by the county clerk in three public places in the county, and on or near the entrance to at least one public schoolhouse in each school district in the county. The first publication or the posting of a proposed or revised charter shall be made within 15 days after the filing of a copy thereof, in the office of the county clerk.

23710. The proposed charter or revised charter shall be submitted by the governing body to the qualified electors of the county at a special election held not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the completion of the publication, or posting provided for in Section 23709. If a general election shall occur in the county not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the completion of the publication, or posting, then the proposed or revised charter may be submitted at the general election.

23711. As an alternative to the procedure provided for in Sections 23700 through 23710 of this article, the governing body of any county, on its own motion may propose or cause to be proposed or revise or cause to be revised, a proposed charter and submit the proposal for adoption to the electors at either a special election called for that purpose or at any general or special election. Any charter so submitted shall be advertised in the same manner as provided for the advertisement of a charter proposed by a charter commission; and the election on such charter shall be held at a date to be fixed by the governing body of the county, which shall be not less than 40 nor more than 60 days after the completion of the advertising in the official paper.

23712. If the electors, voting at a general or special election, shall vote in favor of the charter proposed or revised by a charter commission or the governing body of a county, it shall be deemed to be ratified, and shall be forthwith submitted to the Legislature, if it be in regular session, otherwise at its next regular session, or it may be submitted to the Legislature in extraordinary session, for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be made by concurrent resolution, and if approved by the majority vote of the members elected to each house, such charter shall become the charter of such county and shall become the organic law thereof relative to the matters provided therein, and supersede any existing charter, and shall supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to the matters provided in such charter.

23713. A copy of the charter, certified and authenticated by the chairman and clerk of the governing body under the seal of the governing body and attested by the county clerk of the county, setting forth the submission of the charter to the electors of the county, and its ratification by them shall, after the approval of the charter by the Legislature, be made in duplicate, and filed, one in the office of the Secretary of State and the other, after being recorded in the office of the recorder of the county, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk, and thereafter all courts shall take judicial notice of the charter.

Article 2. Charter Amendment and Repeal

23720. (a) A county charter may be amended by proposals submitted by the governing body or by a petition signed by 10 percent of the qualified electors of the county, computed upon the total number of votes cast in the county for all candidates for Governor at the last general election at which a Governor was elected, filed in the office of the county clerk of the county, petitioning the governing body to submit a proposed amendment or amendments to the charter of the county to the qualified electors of the county, which amendment or amendments are set forth in full in such petition.

(b) A county charter may be repealed by proposals submitted by the governing body or by a petition signed by 10 percent of the qualified electors of the county computed upon the total number of votes cast in the county for all candidates for Governor at the last general election at which a Governor was elected. Such petition, petitioning the governing body to submit the question of charter repeal to the qualified electors of the county, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county.

23721. The petition shall forthwith be examined and certified by the county clerk as provided in Section 23703 for petitions for the election of a charter commission, and if signed by the requisite number of qualified electors of the county, shall be presented to the governing body, by the county clerk.

23722. Upon the presentation of a petition, or upon its own submission of a proposal to amend or repeal the charter, the governing body shall submit the amendment or amendments proposed or the question of the repeal of the charter to the qualified electors of the county at a general or special election held not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the publication of such proposal in the same manner as that provided in Section 23709 for a proposed or revised charter. In submitting the question of charter repeal or amendment, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the electors, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

23723. If the majority of electors voting, at a general or special election, shall vote in favor of the proposed amendment or amendments or in favor of charter repeal, the amendment or amendments or charter repeal shall be deemed to be ratified. Any charter amendment or amendments so ratified shall be forthwith submitted to the Legislature, if it be in regular session, otherwise at its next regular session, or may be submitted to the Legislature in extraordinary session, for approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, and if approved by the Legislature, as provided in this chapter for the approval of the charter, such charter shall be amended accordingly.

23724. A copy of the amendment or amendments shall, after approval by the Legislature, be made in duplicate, and shall be authenticated, certified, recorded and filed in the same manner as provided in Section 23713 for the charter, and with like force and effect.

Article 3. Elections

23730. Every special election held under the provisions of this chapter, for the election of a charter commission or for the submission of a proposed or revised charter, or any amendment or amendments thereto, or repeal thereof, shall be called by the governing body, by ordinance, which shall specify the purpose and time of such election and shall establish the election precincts and designate the polling places therein, and the names of the election officers for each such precinct.

23731. Such ordinance, referred to in Section 23730, prior to such election, shall be published five times in a daily newspaper, or twice in a weekly newspaper, if there be no such daily newspaper, printed, published and circulated in the county. If no daily or weekly newspaper be printed or published in such county, then a copy of such ordinance shall be posted by the county clerk in three public places in the county and in or near the entrance to at least one public schoolhouse in each school district. In all other respects, every such election shall be held and conducted, the returns canvassed and the result declared by the governing body in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

23732. Whenever a charter commission shall be elected, or any such proposed charter or revised charter, or amendment or amendments thereto, or repeal thereof, shall be submitted, at a general election, the general laws applicable to the election of county officers and the submission of propositions to the vote of electors, shall be followed insofar as the same may be applicable.

SEC 4. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 34450) of Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 34450) is added to Part 1, Division 2, Title 4 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. CITY CHARTERS

34450. Any city or city and county may propose or revise a charter for its own government according to the provisions of this article.

34451. The charter may be proposed or revised by a charter commission chosen by the electors of the city or city and county, at any general or special election, but no person shall be eligible as a candidate for such commission unless he is an elector of the city or city and county.

34452. An election for choosing charter commissioners may be called by a majority vote of the governing body of the city or city and county, or on presentation of a petition signed by not less than 15 percent of the registered electors of such city or city and county. The governing body shall call such election at any time not less than 30 nor more than 60 days from date of the filing of the petition. Any such petition shall be verified by the authority having charge of the registration records of the city or city and county and the expenses of such verification shall be provided by the governing body thereof.

34453. At such election the electors shall vote first on the question "Shall a charter commission be elected to propose a new charter or to revise the charter?" and secondly for the candidates of the office of charter commissioner. If the first question receives a majority of the votes of the qualified voters voting thereon at such election, the 15 candidates for the office of charter commissioner receiving the highest number of votes shall forthwith organize as a charter commission, but if the first question receives less than a majority of the votes of the qualified voters voting thereon at such election no charter commission shall be deemed to have been elected.

34454. Candidates for the office of charter commissioner shall be nominated either in such manner as may be provided for the nomination of officers of the municipal or city and county government or by petition, substantially in the same manner as may be provided by general laws for the nomination by petition of electors of candidates for public offices to be voted for at general elections.

34455. The charter commissioners shall propose a charter for the government of the city or city and county or revise a charter. The charter so prepared shall be signed by a majority of the charter commissioners and shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the governing body of the city or city and county. The governing body of the city or city and county shall, within 15 days after such filing, cause such charter to be published once in the official newspaper of said city or city and county and in each edition thereof, during the day of publication. In case there is no such official newspaper, the charter shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within such city or city and county and in all the editions thereof issued during the day of publication.

34456. In any city or city and county with over 50,000 population, the governing body shall cause copies of the charter to be printed in convenient pamphlet form and in type of not less than 10-point and shall cause copies to be mailed to each of the qualified electors of the city or city and county, and shall, until the day fixed for the election upon the charter, advertise in one or more newspapers of general circulation in said city or city and county a notice that copies may be had upon application therefor.

34457. The proposed or revised charter shall be submitted to the electors of the city or city and county at a date to be fixed by the charter commission before its filing and designated on the charter, either at a special election held not less than 60 days from the completion of the publication of the charter as provided in this article, or at the general election next following the expiration of said 60 days.

34458. As an alternative to the procedure provided for in Sections 34450 through 34457 of this article, the governing body of any city or city and county, on its own motion may propose or cause to be proposed or revise or cause to be revised, a charter and submit the proposal for the adoption or revision thereof to the electors at either a special election called for that purpose or at any general or special election. Any charter so submitted shall be advertised in the same manner as provided for the advertisement of a charter proposed by a charter commission; and the election on such charter shall be held at a date to be fixed by the governing body of the city or city and county, which shall be not less than 40 nor more than 60 days after the completion of the advertising in the official paper.

34459. The charter of any city or city and county may be amended or repealed by proposals submitted by the governing body on its own motion or by petition signed by 15 percent of the registered electors, or both. Such proposals shall be submitted to the electors at either a special election called for that purpose or at any general or special election.

34460. Petitions for the submission of any amendment or petitions for the repeal of a charter shall be filed with the governing body of the city or city and county not less than 60 days prior to the general election next preceding a regular session of the Legislature. The signatures on such petitions shall be verified by the authority having charge of the registration records of the city or city and county, and the expenses of such verification shall be provided by the governing body thereof.

34461. If the petitions have a sufficient number of signatures the governing body of the city or city and county shall submit the amendment or amendments proposed or the proposal for charter repeal to the electors. Amendments proposed by the governing body and amendments proposed by petition of the electors may be submitted at the same election. The amendments so submitted or the proposal for charter repeal shall be advertised in the same manner as provided for the advertisement of a proposed or revised charter, and the election on the proposed amendments or the proposal for charter repeal shall be held at a date to be fixed by the governing body of the city or city and county, which is not less than 40, and not more than 60, days after the completion of the advertising in the official paper.

34462. The percentages of the registered electors required for the election of charter commissioners or the submission of amendments to charters or the proposal for charter repeal shall be calculated upon the total vote cast for all candidates for Governor in the city or city and county at the last preceding general state election at which a Governor was elected; and the qualified electors shall be those whose names appear upon the registration records of the same or preceding year. The election laws of such city, or city and county shall, so far as applicable, govern all elections held under the authority of this section.

34463. One copy of the charter ratified and approved in accordance with the provisions of this article shall be filed with the Secretary of State, one with the recorder in the county in which such city is located, and one in the archives of the city, and in the case of a city and county one copy shall be filed with the recorder thereof, and one in the archives of such city and county; and thereafter the courts shall take judicial notice of the provisions of such charter.

SEC. 5. Section 310 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

310. No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty, or for the exercise of any power of the commission. Any investigation, inquiry, or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or to hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioner or commissioners designated for the purpose by the commission. The evidence in any investigation, inquiry, or hearing may be taken by the commissioner or commissioners to whom such investigation, inquiry, or hearing has been assigned or, in his or their behalf, by an examiner designated for that purpose. Every finding, opinion, and order made by the commissioner or commissioners so designated, pursuant to such investigation, inquiry, or hearing, when approved or confirmed by the commission and ordered filed in its office, shall be deemed to be the finding, opinion, and order of the commission.

SEC. 6. Section 454 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

454. (a) No public utility shall raise any rate or so alter any classification, contract, practice, or rule as to result in any increase in any rate except upon a showing before the commission and a finding by the commission that such increase is justified.

(b) No railroad or other transportation company shall raise any rate or charge for the transportation of freight or passengers or any charge connected therewith or incidental thereto, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon a showing before the commission that such increase is justified. The decision of the commission upon the showing so made shall not be subject to review by any court except upon the question of whether such decision of the commission will result in confiscation of property.

(c) The commission may establish such rules as it considers reasonable and proper for each class of public utility providing for the nature of the showing required to be made in support of proposed increases, the form and manner of the presentation of such showing, and the procedure to be followed in the consideration thereof. Rules applicable to common carriers may provide for the publication and filing of any proposed increase together with a written showing in support thereof, giving notice of such filing and showing in support thereof to the public, affording an opportunity for protests thereto, and to the consideration of, and action on, such showing and any protests filed thereto by the commission, with or without hearing; provided that the proposed increase shall not become effective until it has been approved by the commission.

SEC. 7. Section 461.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

461.5. No discrimination in charges or facilities for transportation shall be made by any railroad or other transportation company between places or persons, or in the facilities for the transportation of the same classes of freight or passengers within this state. It shall be unlawful for any railroad or other transportation company to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of passengers or of like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line or route in the same direction, the shorter being included within the longer distance, or to charge any greater compensation as a through rate than the aggregate of the intermediate rates.

Upon application to the commission such company may, in special cases, after investigation, be authorized by the commission to charge less for longer than for shorter distances for the transportation of persons or property and the commission may from time to time prescribe the extent to which such company may be relieved from the prohibition to charge less for the longer than for the shorter haul. The commission may authorize the issuance of excursion and commutation tickets at special rates.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the commission from ordering and compelling any railroad or other transportation company to make reparation to any shipper on account of the rates charged to such shipper being excessive or discriminatory, provided no discrimination will result from such reparation.

SEC. 8. Section 728.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

728.5. The commission may establish rates or charges for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroads and other transportation companies, and no railroad or other transportation company shall charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for such transportation of passengers or freight, or for any service in connection therewith, between the points named in any tariff of rates established by the commission than the rates, fares and charges which are specified in such tariff. The commission may examine books, records and papers of all railroad and other transportation companies; may hear and determine complaints against railroad and other transportation companies; and may issue subpoenas and all necessary process and send for persons and papers. The commission and each of the commissioners may administer oaths, take testimony and punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The commission may prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be kept by all railroad and other transportation companies.

SEC. 9. Section 1206 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

1206. With the consent and upon the request of the condemnor and condemnee the commission may fix the just compensation to be paid for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the separation of grades at any crossing specified in Section 1202, or for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the construction, alteration, or relocation, under the order or with the approval of the commission, of elevated tracks or subways for any railroad or street railroad over or under any public road, street, highway, or private right-of-way, or of any public road, street, or highway over or under the tracks of any railroad corporation or street railroad corporation, and upon the payment of the compensation so fixed may make a final order of condemnation.

SEC. 10. Section 1403 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

1403. With the consent and upon the request of the condemnor and condemnee any political subdivision may, at any time, file with the commission either a petition of the first class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property, and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility or a petition of the second class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to initiate such proceedings as may be required under the law governing the political subdivision for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the political subdivision a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property, and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility.

SEC. 11. Section 7509 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

SEC. 12.5. Section 2.2 of this act shall not become operative if Senate Bill No. 96 of the 1968 Regular Session is enacted.

SEC. 13. This act shall become operative only if Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 30 of the 1968 Regular Session is adopted by the people, in which event it shall become operative at the same time as Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 30.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24413 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

24413. Unincorporated trusts or unincorporated associations which are subject to the provisions of this part for the income year, and which qualify for federal tax purposes as "real estate investment trusts" under Sections 856, 857 and 858 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, shall be entitled to a deduction for income distributed during the income year.

SEC. 1.5. The provisions of this act shall be applied in the computation of taxes for income years beginning on and after January 1, 1968.

SEC. 2. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 769

An act to add Section 31054 to the Water Code, relating to county water districts.

[Approved by Governor July 27, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 29, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31054 is added to the Water Code, to read:

31054. No publicly owned utility shall commence to provide any water service for, on, or to any land within a county water district which is subject to a lien of an indebtedness arising under any contract between the district and the United States of America incurred or contracted by the district for the purpose of providing water service, provided two-thirds of the registered voters of the county water district have approved the incurrence of the indebtedness and, provided further, that the district has water available and is ready, able, and willing to serve such land.

However, a publicly owned utility may commence to provide service, otherwise prohibited, upon either of the following conditions:

(a) If the board of directors of such a county water district shall by resolution permit such service; or

(b) In any portion of such a county water district proposed to be served by the publicly owned utility in which the total number of registered voters residing therein exceeds 200, and in which at least a majority of the voters voting on the proposition shall have voted at a special county water district election to permit such service within that portion of the district. The election shall be called and held within that portion of the district as an initiative measure pursuant to Section 30830.

CHAPTER 770

An act to add Section 271.3 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property tax exemptions, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 31, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 31, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 271.3 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

271.3. Any tax or penalty or interest thereon, for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967 or any calendar year thereafter on property owned by any organization, which would have qualified for the cemetery, church, college, orphanage or welfare exemption had the organization been in existence on the lien date in 1967 or any calendar year thereafter, which was acquired by it during that calendar year after the lien date in that year but prior to the commencement of such fiscal year, and of a kind that presently qualifies for such exemption and that would have so qualified for such fiscal year had it been owned by such organization on such lien date and had the organization been in existence on such lien date, shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been levied or charged erroneously and, if paid, a refund thereof shall be made pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been erroneously collected. Any cancellation or refund made pursuant to this section shall be made provided an appropriate application for exemption is filed in the case of any tax or penalty, or interest thereon, for the fiscal years commencing during the calendar years 1967 and 1968 by January 15, 1969, and thereafter before the 15th of January in the calendar year following the calendar year in which the property was acquired.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Some organizations qualified for the cemetery, church, college, orphange or welfare exemption underwent reorganization at the time of the lien date and were therefore technically not in existence at that time and as a result their property has been taxed although, in fact, but for the technicality they would qualify for the exemption. If required to meet such tax obligation, the ability of such organizations to function effectively will be seriously impaired to the great detriment of our state. This act will remedy the situation, and in so doing, the public policy of the state will be subserved and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to amend Section 15606 of the Government Code, relating to the State Board of Equalization.

All rules and regulations adopted by the board pursuant to subdivision (c) shall be adopted, on and after January 1, 1968, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371) of Part 1 of this division.

The State Board of Equalization shall not prescribe rules and regulations to govern local boards of equalization when equalizing and assessors when assessing with respect to the assessment and equalization of possessory interest until the lien date in 1970.

The provisions of this section are mandatory.

SEC. 2. In amending Section 15606 of the Government Code by this act, the Legislature declares that rules adopted relating to the taxability and valuation of possessory interest in publicly owned land shall be uniform and relate to all possessory interests, rather than prescribing rules for only one category of possessory interests. The State Board of Equalization is directed between the effective date of the act and February 28, 1970 to develop comprehensive rules relating to all types of possessory interests, factors which make such interests subject to taxation and factors relevant to the valuation of such interests.

SEC. 3. Nothing in this act shall be construed as exempting any possessory interest subject to taxation.

Where such a position is to be filled, using the authority of this section, the appointment shall be made from among the highest two or three, as the case may be, applicants on the appropriate eligibility list who meet language requirements and who are ready and willing to accept the position. If there are insufficient applicants who meet the language qualifications, the commission shall certify the top applicant or applicants plus those applicants who meet the language requirements, not to exceed two or three candidates, as the case may be.

SEC. 2. Section 13727 of the Education Code is amended to read:

13727. When no eligibility list exists for a position in the classified service, an employee may receive provisional appointments which may accumulate to a total of 90 working days. CHAPTER 777

An act to amend Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to works of improvement.

[Approved by Governor July 31, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 31, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2 The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section with respect to architectural services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the cost of the work of improvement is in excess of two hundred dollars ($200), the failure of any contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section with respect to architectural services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addressed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender," or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withheld may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the cost of the work of improvement is in excess of two hundred dollars ($200), the failure of any contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

(j) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep such information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to such construction lender the notice required by this section.

SEC. 3. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

2. The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, services, equipment or materials.

3. The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, services, equipment or materials.

4. A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

5. A statement that if bills are not paid in full for labor, services, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, the improved property may be subject to mechanics' liens.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section, shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section with respect to architectural services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) Service of notice required under this section may be given by delivering the same to the person to be notified, personally, or by leaving it at his address or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given, at his residence or place of business address, or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work. If the address of the person on whom notice was required to be served is not actually known, then service of such notice may be by first-class mail, registered mail, or certified mail addresssed to the jobsite with the envelope setting forth the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, or if not known, then merely "Owner," or to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, if known, or if not known, then to "Construction Lender, or to the original contractor, if known, or if not known, then to "General Contractor." When service is by registered or certified mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of the registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such subcontractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of the notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any public work which is subject to the notice provisions of Section 4210 of the Government Code.

SEC. 4. Section 1193 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1193. (a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) All persons having a direct contract with the owner, except the contractor or one performing actual labor for wages, who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this chapter, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this chapter, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien and of the notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) above shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, services, equipment, or materials to the jobsite and shall contain the following information:

1. A general description of the labor, service, equipment or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite; provided, however, that such person shall be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice and at any time thereafter.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11504 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11504. A hearing to determine whether a right, authority, license or privilege should be granted, issued or renewed shall be initiated by filing a statement of issues. The statement of issues shall be a written statement specifying the statutes and rules with which the respondent must show compliance by producing proof at the hearing, and in addition any particular matters which have come to the attention of the initiating party and which would authorize a denial of the agency action sought. The statement of issues shall be verified unless made by a public officer acting in his official capacity or by an employee of the agency before which the proceeding is to be held. The verification may be on information and belief. The statement of issues shall be served in the same manner as an accusation; provided, that, if the hearing is held at the request of the respondent, the provisions of Sections 11505 and 11506 shall not apply and the statement of issues together with the notice of hearing shall be delivered or mailed to the parties as provided in Section 11509. Unless a statement to respondent is served pursuant to Section 11505, a copy of Sections 11507.5, 11507.6 and 11507.7, and the name and address of the person to whom requests permitted by Section 11505 may be made, shall be served with the statement of issues.

SEC. 2. Section 11505 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11505. (a) Upon the filing of the accusation the agency shall serve a copy thereof on the respondent as provided in subdivision (c). The agency may include with the accusation any information which it deems appropriate, but it shall include a post card or other form entitled Notice of Defense which, when signed by or on behalf of the respondent and returned to the agency, will acknowledge service of the accusation and constitute a notice of defense under Section 11506. The copy of the accusation shall include or be accompanied by (1) a statement that respondent may request a hearing by filing a notice of defense as provided in Section 11506 within 15 days after service upon him of the accusation, and that failure to do so will constitute a waiver of his right to a hearing, and (2) copies of Sections 11507.5, 11507.6, and 11507.7.

(b) The statement to respondent shall be substantially in the following form:

Unless a written request for a hearing signed by or on behalf of the person named as respondent in the accompanying accusation is delivered or mailed to the agency within 15 days after the accusation was personally served on you or mailed to you, (here insert name of agency) may proceed upon the accusation without a hearing. The request for a hearing may be made by delivering or mailing the enclosed form entitled Notice of Defense, or by delivering or mailing a notice of defense as provided by Section 11506 of the Government Code to: (here insert name and address of agency).

If you desire the names and addresses of witnesses or an opportunity to inspect and copy the items mentioned in Section 11507.6 in the possession, custody or control of the agency, you may contact: (here insert name and address of appropriate person).

(c) The accusation and all accompanying information may be sent to respondent by any means selected by the agency. But no order adversely affecting the rights of the respondent shall be made by the agency in any case unless the respondent shall have been served personally or by registered mail as provided herein, or shall have filed a notice of defense or otherwise appeared. Service may be proved in the manner authorized in civil actions. Service by registered mail shall be effective if a statute or agency rule requires respondent to file his address with the agency and to notify the agency of any change, and if a registered letter containing the accusation and accompanying material is mailed, addressed to respondent at the latest address on file with the agency.

SEC. 3. Section 11507.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11507.5. The provisions of Section 11507.6 provide the exclusive right to and method of discovery as to any proceeding governed by this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 11507.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11507.6. After initiation of a proceeding in which a respondent or other party is entitled to a hearing on the merits, a party, upon written request made to another party, prior to the hearing and within 30 days after service by the agency of the initial pleading or within 15 days after such service of an additional pleading, is entitled to (1) obtain the names and addresses of witnesses to the extent known to the other party, including, but not limited to, those intended to be called to testify at the hearing, and (2) inspect and make a copy of any of the following in the possession or custody or under the control of the other party:

(a) A statement of a person, other than the respondent, named in the initial administrative pleading, or in any additional pleading, when it is claimed that the act or omission of the respondent as to such person is the basis for the administrative proceeding;

(b) A statement pertaining to the subject matter of the proceeding made by any party to another party or person;

(c) Statements of witnesses then proposed to be called by the party and of other persons having personal knowledge of the acts, omissions or events which are the basis for the proceeding, not included in (a) or (b) above;

(d) All writings, including but not limited to reports of mental, physical and blood examinations and things which the party then proposes to offer in evidence;

(e) Any other writing or thing which is relevant and which would be admissible in evidence;

(f) Investigative reports made by or on behalf of the agency or other party pertaining to the subject matter of the proceeding, to the extent that such reports (1) contain the names and addresses of witnesses or of persons having personal knowledge of the acts, omissions or events which are the basis for the proceeding, or (2) reflect matters perceived by the investigator in the course of his investigation, or (3) contain or include by attachment any statement or writing described in (a) to (e), inclusive, or summary thereof.

For the purpose of this section, "statements" include written statements by the person, signed or otherwise authenticated by him, stenographic, mechanical, electrical or other recordings, or transcripts thereof, of oral statements by the person, and written reports or summaries of such oral statements.

Nothing in this section shall authorize the inspection or copying of any writing or thing which is privileged from disclosure by law or otherwise made confidential or protected as the attorney's work product.

SEC. 5. Section 11507.7 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11507.7. (a) Any party claiming his request for discovery pursuant to Section 11507.6 has not been complied with may serve and file a verified petition to compel discovery in the superior court for the county in which the administrative hearing will be held, naming as respondent the party refusing or failing to comply with Section 11507.6. The petition shall state facts showing the respondent party failed or refused to comply with Section 11507.6, a description of the matters sought to be discovered, the reason or reasons why such matter is discoverable under this section, and the ground or grounds of respondent's refusal so far as known to petitioner.

(b) The petition shall be served upon respondent party and filed within 15 days after the respondent party first evidenced his failure or refusal to comply with Section 11507.6 or within 30 days after request was made and the party has failed to reply to the request, whichever period is longer. If from a reading of the petition the court is satisfied that the petition sets forth good cause for relief, the court shall issue an order to show cause directed to the respondent party; otherwise the court shall enter an order denying the petition. The order to show cause shall be served upon the respondent and his attorney of record in the administrative proceeding by personal delivery or certified mail and shall be returnable no earlier than 10 days from its issuance nor later than 30 days after the filing of the petition. The respondent party shall have the right to serve and file a written answer or other response to the petition and order to show cause.

(c) The administrative proceeding shall be stayed during the pendency of the proceedings before the superior court only if the court issues an order to show cause and only if a copy of the order to show cause is filed with the Office of Administrative Procedure forthwith upon issuance thereof.

(d) Where the matter sought to be discovered is under the custody or control of the respondent party and the respondent party asserts that such matter is not a discoverable matter under the provisions of Section 11507.6, or is privileged against disclosure under such provisions, the court may order lodged with it such matters as are provided in subdivision (b) of Section 915 of the Evidence Code and examine such matters in accordance with the provisions thereof.

(e) The court shall decide the case on the matters examined by the court in camera, the papers filed by the parties, and such oral argument and additional evidence as the court may allow.

(f) Unless otherwise stipulated by the parties, the court shall no later than 30 days after the filing of the petition file its order denying or granting the petition, provided, however, the court may on its own motion for good cause extend such time an additional 30 days. The order of the court shall be in writing setting forth the matters or parts thereof the petitioner is entitled to discover under Section 11507.6. A copy of the order shall forthwith be served by mail by the clerk upon the parties. Where the order grants the petition in whole or in part, such order shall not become effective until 10 days after the date the order is served by the clerk. Where the order denies relief to the petitioning party, the order shall be effective on the date it is served by the clerk.

(g) The order of the superior court shall be final and not subject to review by appeal. A party aggrieved by such order, or any part thereof, may within 15 days after the service of the superior court's order serve and file in the appropriate court of appeal a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the superior court to set aside or otherwise modify its order. Where such review is sought from an order granting discovery, the order of the trial court and the administrative proceeding shall be stayed upon the filing of the petition for writ of mandamus, provided, however, the court of appeal may dissolve or modify the stay thereafter if it is in the public interest to do so. Where such review is sought from a denial of discovery, neither the trial court's order nor the administrative proceeding shall be stayed by the court of appeal except upon a clear showing of probable error.

(h) Where the superior court finds that a party or his attorney, without substantial justification, failed or refused to comply with Section 11507.6, or, without substantial justification, filed a petition to compel discovery pursuant to this section, or, without substantial justification, failed to comply with any order of court made pursuant to this section, the court may award court costs and reasonable attorney fees to the opposing party. Nothing in this subdivision shall limit the power of the superior court to compel obedience to its orders by contempt proceedings.

SEC. 6. Section 11510 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11510. (a) Before the hearing has commenced the agency, or the assigned hearing officer, shall issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum at the request of any party for attendance or production of documents at the hearing. Compliance with the provisions of Section 1985 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be a condition precedent to the issuance of a subpoena duces tecum. After the hearing has commenced the agency itself hearing a case or a hearing officer sitting alone may issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum.

(b) The process issued pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be extended to all parts of the state and shall be served in accordance with the provisions of Sections 1987 and 1988 of the Code of Civil Procedure. No witness shall be obliged to attend at a place out of the county in which he resides unless the distance be less than 150 miles from his place of residence except that the agency, upon affidavit of any party showing that the testimony of such witness is material and necessary, may endorse on the subpoena an order requiring the attendance of such witness.

(c) All witnesses appearing pursuant to subpoena, other than the parties or officers or employees of the state or any political subdivision thereof, shall receive fees, and all witnesses appearing pursuant to subpoena, except the parties, shall receive mileage in the same amount and under the same circumstances as prescribed by law for witnesses in civil actions in a superior court. Witnesses appearing pursuant to subpoena, except the parties, who attend hearings at points so far removed from their residences as to prohibit return thereto from day to day shall be entitled in addition to fees and mileage to a per diem compensation of three dollars ($3) for expenses of subsistence for each day of actual attendance and for each day necessarily occupied in traveling to and from the hearing. Fees, mileage and expenses of subsistence shall be paid by the party at whose request the witness is subpoenaed.

SEC. 3. Section 210 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

210. It is the purpose of this article to outline the policies of the Legislature for the guidance of the commission and the department in determining and adopting the locations for state highways as freeways, as authorized elsewhere in this code. To the end of achieving coordinated planning, there should be a complete exchange of pertinent information through conferences between representatives of the department and the governing bodies of appropriate local agencies, their technical staffs, and planning personnel from the commencement of studies leading to the adoption of the freeway location to the time of construction. Recommendations of all such local agencies and the effects of the proposed freeway location upon their activities and present and future development should be considered by the department and the commission. In addition, when sufficient information has been accumulated to permit intelligent discussion, adequately publicized public meetings shall be held so as to assure to all interested individuals, officials and civic or other groups an opportunity to become acquainted with the studies being made and to express their views with respect thereto. The director shall notify the State Office of Planning and other state agencies concerned with the growth and preservation of the state's resources in order to analyze the socioeconomic factors involved of the proposed freeway routing recommendations of the State Highway Engineer, and, if recommendations are received from the State Office of Planning or such other affected state agencies, the director shall consider such recommendations in making his freeway location recommendation to the commission. The recommendation of the director to the commission as to such freeway locations shall be publicized and an opportunity offered to local governing bodies to request public hearings by the commission itself before the commission takes final action, in which event the commission shall hold such hearings. In its consideration of a precise freeway location adoption, the commission shall have available to it the recommendations of the State Highway Engineer, and the recommendations, if made, of the State Office of Planning and of other affected state agencies and local agencies, in their original form, and shall consider such recommendations in making its decision as to the location of the freeway.

An act to amend Section 2402.5 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor July 31, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 31, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2402.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2402.5. The commissioner shall, after he has considered motor vehicle safety standards adopted pursuant to the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C., Sec. 1381 et seq.), adopt and enforce regulations identical to such standards with respect to any motor vehicle or item of motor vehicle equipment applicable to the same aspect of performance of such vehicle or item of equipment.

Following adoption of such regulations, the commissioner may test vehicles and specific types of equipment for compliance with the federal standards. In formulating test procedures, the commissioner shall review and consider test procedures utilized for compliance with the federal standards. If such vehicle or equipment does not conform to regulations adopted by the commissioner, no person shall sell or offer for sale any such vehicle or equipment.

As used in this section, "motor vehicle safety standard" means a minimum standard for motor vehicle performance, or motor vehicle equipment performance which is practicable, which meets the need for motor vehicle safety and which provides objective criteria. A federal motor vehicle safety standard which conflicts with an equipment provision of this code applicable to the same aspect of performance shall supersede that specific provision of this code with respect to vehicles in compliance with the federal motor vehicle safety standard that was in effect at the time of sale.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the Department of California Highway Patrol shall continue to carry out the approval of lamps, devices, and equipment as required in other sections of this code and the Department of the California Highway Patrol regulations adopted pursuant to this code, including, but not limited to, such approval of lamps, devices, and equipment on new vehicles first sold in California. Testing requirements of this code and regulations adopted pursuant thereto shall be met by the manufacturer submitting a report from a laboratory approved by the department showing compliance with this code and such regulations. The test report shall contain a description adequate for positive identification of the particular item of equipment as prescribed by the Department of the California Highway Patrol and shall state the detailed data and measurements obtained to show compliance with each test requirement.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 5300) is added to Division 4 of the Elections Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. BOND ISSUES

5300. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the provisions of this chapter apply to all bond issues proposed by a county, city and county, city, district or other political subdivision or by any agency, department, or board thereof, the security for which constitutes a lien on the property within the jurisdiction and the proposal for which is required to be submitted to the voters for approval.

5301. (a) In connection with each bond issue specified in Section 5300, a statement shall be mailed to the voters with the sample ballot for the bond election. The statement required by this section shall include:

(1) The best estimate from official sources of the tax rate which would be required to be levied to fund that bond issue during the first fiscal year after the first sale of the bonds based on assessed valuations available at the time of the election or a projection based on experience within the same jurisdiction or other demonstrable factors.

(2) The best estimate from official sources of the tax rate which would be required to be levied to fund that bond issue during the first fiscal year after the last sale of the bonds if the bonds are proposed to be sold in series and an estimate of the year in which that rate will apply, based on assessed valuations available at the time of the election or a projection based on experience within the same jurisdiction or other demonstrable factors.

(3) The best estimate from official sources of the highest tax rate which would be required to be levied to fund that bond issue and an estimate of the year in which that rate will apply, based on assessed valuations available at time of the election or a projection based on experience within the same jurisdiction or other demonstrable factors

(b) In addition the statement may contain any declaration of policy of the legislative or governing body of the applicable jurisdiction which proposes to utilize revenues other than ad valorem taxes for purposes of funding the bond issue and the best estimate from official sources of such revenues and the reduction in the tax rate levied to fund the bond issue resulting from such substitution of revenue.

(c) The words "tax rate" as used in this chapter means tax rate per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation on all property to be taxed to fund any bond issue described in Section 5300.

5302. All official publications and any ballot pamphlet prepared, sponsored or published by the jurisdiction which has proposed the bond issue or which is financed in whole or part by funds furnished by such jurisdiction, directed at or including a bond issue proposal shall contain a statement of the tax rate data specified in Section 5301.

5303. Failure to comply with the provisions of this chapter shall not affect the validity of any bond issue following the sale and delivery of such bonds.

5304. The Legislature declares that the essence of compliance with the provisions of this chapter is good faith in presenting to voters the most accurate available information for their use in effecting comparisons and exercising judgment in casting their ballots.

4579.1. After publishing the notice as required by Section 4579, the board may, at a regular meeting, declare the amendments in effect. The amendments shall remain in effect unless a petition by not less than 25 timber owners in the applicable district is filed with the board within 30 days following such declaration by the board. If such a petition is filed with the board, the amendments shall be submitted to the timber owners in the applicable district for approval pursuant to the procedure provided in Section 4572 without additional publication.

At any time after notice of pendency of an action has been recorded pursuant to Section 409 or other law, the court in which the action is pending shall, upon motion of a party to the action supported by affidavit, order that the notice be expunged, if it is shown to the satisfaction of the court, by clear and convincing proof, that:

(a) The action does not affect title to or right of possession of the real property described in the notice; or

(b) Insofar as the action affects title to or right of possession of the real property described in the notice, the party recording the notice has commenced or prosecuted the action for an improper purpose and not in good faith. Notice of motion to expunge shall be served not less than 20 days prior to the hearing. SEC. 2. Section 409.2 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

409.2. At any time after notice of pendency of an action has been recorded pursuant to Section 409 or other law, the court in which the action is pending may order that the notice be expunged if the moving party shall have given an undertaking of such nature, in such amount and within such time as shall be fixed by the court after notice and hearing, such undertaking to be to the effect that the moving party will indemnify the party recording the notice for all damages which he may incur if the notice is expunged and the moving party does not prevail and if the court finds that adequate relief can be secured to the party recording the notice by the giving of such undertaking. Upon recordation of a certified copy of such order in the office of the county recorder in which the notice of the pendency of the action was recorded, any purchaser or encumbrancer may thereafter deal with the property described in such notice free and clear of the effect of the action whether or not he has actual notice of the pendency of the action.

SEC. 3. Section 409.3 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

409.3. When an order expunging a notice of pendency of the action is made pursuant to Section 409.1, the order may direct that the party recording the notice pay the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by the moving party in securing such order.

SEC. 4. Section 409.4 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

409.4. An order granting or denying a motion to expunge a notice of pendency of action made pursuant to Section 409.1 or 409.2 shall not be appealable. When such an order is made, the party aggrieved by such order may, within the time hereinafter provided, petition the proper reviewing court to review such order by writ of mandate. Such petition for writ of mandate may be filed within 20 days after service of written notice of the order, or within such additional time not exceeding 20 days as the trial court may, within the original 20 days, allow, but in no event later than 60 days after entry of the order.

SEC. 5. Section 409.5 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

409.5. No order expunging a notice of pendency of action made pursuant to Section 409.1 or 409.2 shall be effective, nor shall it be recorded in the office of any county recorder, until the time within which a petition for writ of mandate may be filed pursuant to Section 409.4 has expired.

SEC. 6. Section 409.6 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

409.6. Nothing contained in Sections 409 through 409.5 shall affect or limit the liability otherwise existing of any person recording a notice of pendency of action for damages proximately caused thereby.

[Approved by Governor July 31, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 31, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 329 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

329. If no one appears to contest the probate, the court may admit the will to probate on the evidence of one of the subscribing witnesses only, if the evidence shows that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law. If none of the subscribing witnesses resides in the county, but the deposition of one of them can be taken elsewhere, the court may direct it to be taken, and may authorize a photographic copy of the will to be made and to be presented to such witness on his examination, who may be asked the same questions with respect to it and the handwriting of himself, the testator and the other witness, as would be pertinent and competent if the original will were present. If the subscribing witnesses are competent at the time of attesting the execution, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause, will not prevent the probate of the will, if it is otherwise satisfactorily proved. If the court is satisfied that the evidence of no subscribing witness can be procured after reasonable search or inquiry, the court may, if the will on its face conforms to all requirements of law, admit the will to probate (1) upon proof of the handwriting of the testator and of any one of the subscribing witnesses or (2) upon proof of the handwriting of the testator and receipt in evidence either of a writing incorporated in the document offered as a will bearing the purported signatures of all subscribing witnesses, or an affidavit of a person with personal knowledge of the circumstances of execution, which writing or affidavit recites facts showing the due execution of the will. The evidence of one or more of the subscribing witnesses may be received by an affidavit to which there is attached a photographic copy of the will, in any uncontested will proceedings.

If at any time it appears that the excavation is to be of a greater depth than are the walls or foundations of any adjoining building or other structure, and is to be so close as to endanger the building or other structure in any way, then the owner of the building or other structure must be allowed at least 30 days, if he so desires, in which to take measures to protect the same from any damage, or in which to extend the foundations thereof, and he must be given for the same purposes reasonable license to enter on the land on which the excavation is to be or is being made.

4. If the excavation is intended to be or is deeper than the standard depth of foundations, which depth is defined to be a depth of nine feet below the adjacent curb level, at the point where the joint property line intersects the curb and if on the land of the coterminous owner there is any building or other structure the wall or foundation of which goes to standard depth or deeper then the owner of the land on which the excavation is being made shall, if given the necessary license to enter on the adjoining land, protect the said adjoining land and any such building or other structure thereon without cost to the owner thereof, from any damage by reason of the excavation, and shall be liable to the owner of such property for any such damage, excepting only for minor settlement cracks in buildings or other structures.

(1) Citizens of the state can be afforded the protection of the police, fire, safety, sanitary, and other regulations and protections provided by public bodies;

(2) Public works and construction by public bodies can be commenced and continued without delay or restriction, to provide sewers, waterworks, schools, storm drains, flood control works, sanitary facilities, electric and other utility works, firehouses and facilities, police stations and facilities, streets, hospitals, and other works, structures, improvements, and facilities required for the public peace, health and safety, and immediately needed to provide for an increased population;

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13943.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13943.5. Upon authorization of the State Board of Control a state agency may refrain from collecting taxes, licenses, fees or money owing to the state for any other reason where the amount to be collected is five dollars ($5) or less. State agencies desiring to secure such authorization shall file an application therefor with the State Board of Control accompanied by a statement of the circumstances. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as releasing any person from the payment of any taxes, licenses, fees or other money which is due and owing to the state.

SEC. 2. Section 16302.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16302.1. Whenever any person pays to any state agency pursuant to law an amount covering taxes, penalties, interest, license or other fees, or any other payment, and it is subsequently determined by the state agency responsible for the collection thereof that such amount includes an overpayment of five dollars ($5) or less of the amount due the state pursuant to the assessment, levy, or charge to which the payment is applicable, the amount of such overpayment may be disposed of in either of the following ways:

(1) The state agency responsible for the collection to which the overpayment relates may apply the amount of such overpayment as a payment by such person on any other taxes, penalties, interest, license or other fees, or any other amount due the state from such person; provided, such state agency is responsible by law for the collection to which such overpayment is to be applied as a payment.

(2) Upon written request of the state agency responsible for the collection to which the overpayment relates, the amount of such overpayment shall, on order of the Controller, be deposited as revenue in the fund in the State Treasury into which such collection, exclusive of overpayments, is required by law to be deposited.

The State Board of Control may adopt rules and regulations to permit state agencies to retain such overpayments where a demand for refund permitted by law is not made within six months after the refund becomes due; and such retained overpayments shall belong to the state.

Except as provided in the foregoing paragraph, the provisions of this section shall not affect the right of any person making overpayment of any amount to the state to make claim for refund of such overpayment, nor the authority of any state agency or official to make payment of any amount so claimed, if otherwise authorized by law.

An act authorizing the Department of Water Resources to enter into certain loan commitment contracts and to disburse loan commitment funds in furtherance of the development of the water resources of this state, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 31, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State July 31, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In furtherance of the provisions of Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 12894) of Part 6, Division 6 of the Water Code, the Department of Water Resources is hereby authorized to enter into a commitment, upon the terms and conditions herein specified, to make a loan from funds appropriated for such purpose by Section 12894 of the Water Code to each of the following public agencies (hereinafter in this act referred to as the "agency"): the Belridge Water Storage District, the Berrenda Mesa Water District, the Buena Vista Water Storage District, the Cawelo Water District, the Dudley Ridge Water District, the Kern Delta Water District, the Lost Hills Water District, the Rosedale Rio Bravo Water Storage District, the Pond Poso Improvement District of the Semitropic Water Storage District, the Buttonwillow Improvement District of Semitropic Water Storage District, and the Tehachapi-Cummings County Water District. No loan commitment shall be made pursuant to this act to any agency for an amount in excess of 15 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the next general obligation bond issue of the agency for the purpose of the construction of projects for the utilization of water from the State Water Resources Development System.

SEC. 2. Each agency desiring such a loan commitment shall, prior to the proposed date of such next general obligation bond issue of the agency, submit to the department a formal application, as prescribed by the department, and shall, upon request, furnish to the department such financial data and other information as may be required by the department.

SEC. 3. No loan commitment shall be made with respect to any bond issue unless such bond issue has been approved for certification by the California Districts Securities Commission pursuant to the provisions of Division 10 (commencing with Section 20000) of the Water Code. The date on which such bond issue is approved for certification by the commission shall determine the priority of the agency issuing such bonds in the event available funds are not sufficient to meet all applications under this act.

SEC. 4. In the event, at such time as the agency proceeds to market such next general obligation bond issue, no bids are received on such bond issue, the department shall determine whether or not to approve a loan commitment to the agency, based on such information as may then be available to the department. If approved, the amount of the loan commitment, not to exceed 15 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the bond issue, shall be determined by the department in accordance with the degree of loan commitment deemed necessary to effect a sale of the bond issue.

SEC. 5. No loan commitment funds shall be available to an agency unless the agency enters into a loan commitment contract with the department under which the agency agrees to the following terms and conditions:

(a) The loan commitment obligation shall extend for a period of seven years from the date of the issuance of the general obligation bonds, and during such period the state shall be obligated to loan to the agency, according to the terms and conditions of the loan commitment contract, funds, not to exceed such specified total amount, for use by the agency in making principal or interest payments accruing on such general obligation bonds, or for the replenishment of any reserve fund established by the agency for servicing such bonds.

(b) The agency shall submit a written request for loan commitment funds, on a form to be provided by the department, which specifies the use to be made of such funds and which contains the certification of the agency that insufficient funds are available from other sources, including bond reserve funds and taxes or assessments, for the purpose of making such principal or interest payments or replenishing such bond reserve fund. Each year during the loan commitment period in which the agency is unable to raise sufficient funds by other means, it shall levy upon all property in the agency subject to taxation or assessment a tax or assessment sufficient to enable the agency to make the principal and interest payments due or to become due on such bonds prior to the date of the next tax or assessment levy.

(c) Loan commitment funds received by the agency shall be deposited in a special fund, and, upon request by the department, the agency shall submit written reports to the department on the expenditure by the agency of any such funds.

(d) After the termination of the loan commitment period, the department shall submit to the agency a statement showing the principal amount of the loan, which shall be the difference between the total amount of money disbursed to the agency under the loan commitment contract and any amount previously repaid to the state by the agency as a partial repayment of the moneys loaned. The principal amount of the loan shall be repaid in not to exceed 10 consecutive annual installments to be set forth in a loan repayment schedule. The amount of each installment shall be expressed in the schedule as a percentage of the principal amount of the loan, but the amount of each installment may be tailored to the particular circumstances of the agency and need not be equal. The first installment shall be due and payable on January 1st of the year following the year in which the statement of the principal amount of the loan is submitted to the agency, but if the statement is received in December, the first installment shall be due and payable on February 1st rather than January 1st, and the remaining installments shall be due and payable on January 1st of each year thereafter. The agency shall have the option of paying in advance on any January 1st or July 1st all or any part of the unpaid portion of the principal amount of the loan.

(e) Interest shall be charged at an annual rate of 5 percent on the unpaid balance of the amounts of money disbursed to the agency pursuant to the loan commitment contract, and shall be due and payable on January 1st and July 1st of the year following the year in which the first disbursement of a portion of the loan commitment funds is made under the contract, but if such first disbursement is made in the month of December, then on February 1st rather than January 1st, and on January 1st and July 1st thereafter. The agency may, however, defer the payment of any interest amount until the first installment on the principal amount of the loan is due and payable, and no interest shall be charged on the deferred interest amounts during such deferral period, but after the interest deferral period, the total accrued interest amounts shall be payable, with 5 percent annual interest payable on January 1st and July 1st, in consecutive equal annual installments on each January 1st during the period of the repayment of the principal amount of the loan. Interest shall be charged on all delinquent interest payments.

(f) The governing body of the agency shall provide for the punctual payment of all amounts due and payable to the state pursuant to the loan commitment contract, and if necessary shall levy taxes or assessments to make such payments and enforce and collect such taxes or assessments and place them in a special fund for use in making such payments to the state.

SEC. 6. The department may withhold the disbursement to the agency of loan funds whenever it determines that such agency is in substantial breach of the provisions of the loan commitment contract.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Several of the water districts eligible to enter into the loan commitment contracts authorized by this act must proceed with the marketing of general obligation bond issues prior to the time when this act would ordinarily take effect. Thus, in order to enable loan commitments to be made at the earliest possible time in order to aid the affected districts, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15104 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

15104. (a) Whenever the losses of any such credit union resulting from a depreciation in the value of its securities or otherwise exceed its undivided earnings and reserve fund so that the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due its shareholders, the credit union may, by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership at a meeting called to consider the matter order a reduction of the liability to each of its shareholders, so as to divide the loss equitably among such shareholders. If thereafter the credit union shall realize from such assets a greater amount than was fixed in the order of reduction, such excess shall be divided among the shareholders whose assets were reduced, but to the extent of such reduction only.

(b) The commissioner may approve a reduction in the liability on shares approved by less than three-fourths of the entire membership as provided in subdivision (a) if he finds, upon the written and verified application filed by the board of directors, that (1) notice of the meeting called to consider the question was mailed to each member entitled to vote upon said question, (2) such notice disclosed the purpose of the meeting and properly informed the membership that approval of such reduction in liability might be sought pursuant to this subdivision, and (3) that a majority of the votes cast upon the question were in favor of such reduction in liability.

The commissioner may, however, prepare and file such final certificate whenever he retains possession of the assets of any credit union for the purpose of liquidation. The liquidating agent need not be a member of the credit union to be liquidated and may be a person, firm or corporation as determined by the commissioner.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is an urgent need for a clarification of the law relating to the certificates which must be filed when a credit union is being liquidated in order to facilitate the prompt and efficient completion of presently pending proceedings for the liquidation of credit unions. There is urgent need to facilitate voluntary recapitalizations on the part of distressed credit unions, particularly those organized by low-income groups, in order to attract needed financial aid to such credit unions and to return them to a normal operating status. It is therefore imperative that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 884

An act to amend Section 19582 of the Education Code, relating to state school building aid.

[Approved by Governor August 1, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State August 1, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19582 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19582. The board by the adoption of rules shall provide for the manner of determining the area of adequate school construction existing in an applicant school district at the time of application. Such rules shall define and provide for the method of determining building areas that are to be included in whole or in part, or to be excluded from the area of existing adequate school construction.

The board may make exceptions to the provisions of this section or to the rules adopted pursuant to such section when it determines that such will be for the benefit of children affected.

For the purposes of this section, "service area" may be defined as (1) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which the provisions of Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would not apply, whether or not such sections were in effect at the time when the building was constructed, or (2) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would apply, whether or not such sections were in effect when the building was constructed, but which building has been converted or is intended to be converted, as shown by the application, to use for purposes to which such sections would not apply. Service area may include, but is not limited to, construction used as bus garages, maintenance shops, centrally located district storage and warehouses, custodial houses, utility shelters, administration offices, transformer vaults, and service yards.

In the event that a school district has expended funds for the purpose of constructing buildings used for housing certificated employees of the district and their families, the area of such buildings and the funds expended therefor shall be accounted for in the following manner:

(a) The area of such buildings constructed or acquired with the proceeds of a tax levied under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 20701), Division 16, of this code, shall be excluded from the building area of the district.

(b) The area of such buildings constructed or acquired with the proceeds from the sale of school district bonds prior to July 1, 1961, shall be excluded from the building area of the district, however, such bond funds shall not be considered as "eligible bonded debt service" as defined in Section 19601(d) and 19615.

The board shall exclude from the building area of a district:

(a) The area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a parent cooperative nursery education facility, and for no other purpose, and which building at the time of acquisition thereof by the district was incidental to the purchase of a school site and unsuitable for classroom purposes or which was acquired by the district without expenditure of school district funds.

(b) The area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a preschool educational program facility pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 6450) of Division 6 of this code, or Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 16150) of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or any combination thereof; provided, that the building was constructed, leased, or purchased with local general funds, or federal or state funds allocated specifically for a preschool educational program.

The area of adequate school construction existing in a district at the time of application shall be initially computed as all of the construction area of a district except (1) such areas as may be eligible for replacement under standards established by the board, and (2) such areas in an existing structurally inadequate building for which an application has been filed for structural rehabilitation or in a building previously structurally rehabilitated under either Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive, or Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive, of the Education Code, that exceeds the maximum building area allowed by Section 19581 for a number of pupils, equivalent to those that could be housed in the building after rehabilitation. The board shall prescribe by rule the method of computing the number of pupils which could be so housed for the purposes of this subsection. If such area of adequate school construction, when added to the minimum facilities needed by the district, results in a total construction area in excess of the amount prescribed in Section 19581, then the board may make the following adjustments to the initial computation or such revisions thereof as the board, in its discretion, deems desirable:

(a) Service areas constructed prior to July 19, 1947, shall be excluded, except as provided in (c) below.

(b) Service areas constructed subsequent to July 19, 1947, shall be recomputed by multiplying the total number of square feet of said service area by the percentage determined from dividing the actual construction cost per square foot as determined by the Director of General Services by the estimated average cost per square foot of the new school facilities for which the district has made application.

(c) If any inadequate nonservice area constructed prior to July 19, 1947, is, or will be, converted to a service area, such area shall be recomputed by multiplying said area by the percentage determined by dividing the depreciated value of said area by the replacement cost as such value and cost are determined by the Director of General Services.

(d) If, after the revised computation of service areas is made as prescribed under subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the existing and requested building area of the district is in excess of the schedule set forth in Section 19581, the existing building area of nonservice facilities may be determined on the basis of the number of pupils housed by such facilities at an allowance per pupil which is not more than 25 percent in excess of the amount per pupil prescribed in Section 19581.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method for computing the number of adequately housed pupils for purposes of this subsection.

The governing board of each school district shall pay to each person employed for less than full time in a position requiring certification qualifications and serving under other than an emergency or provisional credential an annual salary of not less than an amount which bears the same ratio to six thousand dollars ($6,000) as the time required of the person bears to the time required of a person employed full time.

Whenever the board holds an executive session in conjunction with any regular or special meeting or maintains as confidential any information or records hereunder, the board shall make an affirmative finding in its public minutes that the holding of an open meeting or the disclosure of the information or records to the public would substantially impair the performance by the board of its statutory duties. At the end of the minutes of each meeting of the board shall appear the certificate of its executive secretary that the meeting was held in accordance with the provisions of Article 9 (commencing with Section 11120) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code and Sections 12516 and 12519 of the Water Code.

CHAPTER 6. UNSECURED ROLL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

3101. If any tax, interest, or penalty imposed under this part is not paid by the last day of the month succeeding the delinquency date, the official collecting taxes on the unsecured roll may file, no sooner than 10 days after the mailing of the notice required in subdivision (b), in the office of the county clerk, without fee, a certificate specifying as follows:

(a) The fact that a notice of intent to file said certificate had been sent, by registered mail, to the assessee, at his last known address, not less than 10 days prior to the date of the certificate.

(b) The fact that the notice required in subdivision (a) set forth the following information:

(1) The name of the assessee.

(2) The description of the property assessed.

(3) The assessed value of the property.

(4) The fact that judgment will be sought in the amount of the tax, penalty, or interest that will remain unpaid at the time of the filing of the certificate.

(5) The fact that, upon the issuance and recordation of such judgment, additional penalties will continue to accrue at the rate prescribed by law.

(6) The fact that a fee of two dollars ($2) will be required to be paid for the purpose of the recordation of any release of the judgment lien.

(c) The name of the assessee.

(d) The amount for which judgment is to be entered.

(e) The fact that the county has complied with all provisions of this part in the computation and the levy of the tax, penalty, or interest.

(f) The fact that a request is therein made for the issuance and entry of judgment against the assessee.

3102. The county clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the county against the assessee in the amount of the tax, penalty, and interest set forth in the certificate. The county clerk may file the judgment in a looseleaf book entitled "County Unsecured Property Tax Judgments."

3103. An abstract or a copy of the judgment shall be recorded, without fee, in the office of the county recorder of any county. From the time of the recording, the amount of the tax, penalty, and interest set forth constitutes a lien upon all property of the assessee in the county, owned by him or afterward, and before the lien expires, acquired by him. The lien has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and continues for 10 years from the date of the recording unless sooner released or otherwise discharged. The lien imposed by this section shall not be valid insofar as personal property is concerned as against a purchaser for value without actual knowledge of the lien.

3104. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law relating to interest authorized or allowed as a result of any judgment duly entered, the additional penalty provided for in this division shall be imposed in lieu of any such judgment interest.

3105. Within 10 years from the date of the recording or within 10 years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner provided for in this section, the lien may be extended by recording in the office of the county recorder of the county an abstract or copy of the judgment. From the time of the recording the lien extends to the property for 10 years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

3106. Execution shall issue upon the judgment upon request of the official collecting taxes on the unsecured roll in the same manner as execution may issue upon other judgments, and sales shall be held under such execution as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.

3107. (a) The judgment is satisfied and the lien removed when, but not before, the judgment amount, any additional penalty authorized by this part, and a recording fee of two dollars ($2) for each release of lien issued for each county in which a judgment was recorded are paid. The recording fee shall be transmitted to the county recorder together with a certificate of release or discharge from the judgment lien.

An act to add Title 7.6 (commencing with Section 67400) to the Government Code, relating to the Western Interstate Nuclear Compact.

[Approved by Governor August 1, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State August 1, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 7.6 (commencing with Section 67400) is added to the Government Code, to read:

TITLE 7.6. WESTERN INTERSTATE NUCLEAR COMPACT

67400. The Legislature of California hereby ratifies and approves the "Western Interstate Nuclear Compact" as set forth below.

67401. The provisions of this interstate compact are as follows:

WESTERN INTERSTATE NUCLEAR COMPACT

Article I. Policy and Purpose

The party states recognize that the proper employment of scientific and technological discoveries and advances in nuclear and related fields and direct and collateral application and adaptation of processes and techniques developed in connection therewith, properly correlated with the other resources of the region, can assist substantially in the industrial progress of the West and the further development of the economy of the region. They also recognize that optimum benefit from nuclear and related scientific or technological resources, facilities and skills requires systematic encouragement, guidance, assistance, and promotion from the party states on a cooperative basis. It is the policy of the party states to undertake such cooperation on a continuing basis. It is the purpose of this compact to provide the instruments and framework for such a cooperative effort in nuclear and related fields, to enhance the economy of the West and contribute to the individual and community well-being of the region's people.

Article II. The Board

(a) There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the "Western Interstate Nuclear Board" (hereinafter called the board). The board shall be composed of two members from each party state designated or appointed in accordance with the law of the state which he represents and serving and subject to removal in accordance with such law. Any member of the board may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions thereon (either for the duration of his membership or for any lesser period of time) by a deputy or assistant, if the laws of his state make specific provisions therefor. The federal government may be represented without vote if provision is made by federal law for such representation.

(b) The board members of the party states shall each be entitled to one vote on the board. No action of the board shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of all members representing the party states are present and unless a majority of the total number of votes on the board are cast in favor thereof.

(c) The board shall have a seal.

(d) The board shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice chairman, and a treasurer. The board shall appoint and fix the compensation of an executive director who shall serve at its pleasure and who shall also act as secretary, and who, together with the treasurer, and such other personnel as the board may direct, shall be bonded in such amounts as the board may require.

(e) The executive director, with the approval of the board, shall appoint and remove or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the board's functions irrespective of the civil service, personnel or other merit system laws of any of the party states.

(f) The board may establish and maintain, independently or in conjunction with any one or more of the party states, or its institutions or subdivisions, a suitable retirement system for its full-time employees. Employees of the board shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivors insurance provided that the board takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to federal law to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The board may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate.

(g) The board may borrow, accept, or contract for the services of personnel from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, from any interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation.

(h) The board may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials and services (conditional or otherwise) from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, or interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm, or corporation, and may receive, utilize, and dispose of the same. The board shall publish its bylaws, rules, and regulations in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof, and shall also file a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(k) The board annually shall make to the governor of each party state, a report covering the activities of the board for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been adopted by the board, which report shall be transmitted to the legislature of said state. The board may issue such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

Article III. Finances

(a) The board shall submit to the Governor or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that jurisdiction for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the board's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. Each of the board's requests for appropriations pursuant to a budget of estimated expenditures shall be apportioned equally among the party states. Subject to appropriation by their respective legislatures, the board shall be provided with such funds by each of the party states as are necessary to provide the means of establishing and maintaining facilities, a staff of personnel, and such activities as may be necessary to fulfill the powers and duties imposed upon and entrusted to the board.

(c) The board may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article II (h) of this compact; provided. that the board takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to the incurring of any obligation to be met in whole or in part in this manner. Except where the board makes use of funds available to it under Article II (h), the board shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party jurisdictions which are adequate to meet any such obligation.

(d) Any expenses and any other costs for each member of the board in attending board meeting shall be met by the board.

(e) The board shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the board shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the board shall be audited yearly by a certified or licensed public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become a part of the annual report of the board.

(j) Recommend such changes in, or amendments or additions to the laws, codes, rules, regulations, administrative procedures and practices or local laws or ordinances of the party states or their subdivisions in nuclear and related fields, as in its judgment may be appropriate. Any such recommendations shall be made through the appropriate state agency, with due consideration of the desirability of uniformity but shall also give appropriate weight to any special circumstances which may justify variations to meet local conditions.

(k) Consider and make recommendations designed to facilitate the transportation of nuclear equipment, materials, products, byproducts, wastes, and any other nuclear or related substances, in such manner and under such conditions as will make their availability or disposal practicable on an economic and efficient basis.

The board may formulate and, in accordance with need from time to time, revise a regional plan or regional plans for coping with nuclear incidents within the territory of the party states as a whole or within any subregion or subregions of the geographic area covered by this compact.

Any nuclear incident plan in force pursuant to this paragraph shall designate the official or agency in each party state covered by the plan who shall coordinate requests for aid pursuant to Article VI of this compact and the furnishing of aid in response thereto.

Unless the party states concerned expressly otherwise agree, the board shall not administer the summoning and dispatching of aid, but this function shall be undertaken directly by the designated agencies and officers of the party states.

However, the plan or plans of the board in force pursuant to this paragraph shall provide for reports to the board concerning the occurrence of nuclear incidents and the requests for aid on account thereof, together with summaries of the actual working and effectiveness of mutual aid in particular instances.

From time to time, the board shall analyze the information gathered from reports of aid pursuant to Article VI and such other instances of mutual aid as may have come to its attention, so that experience in the rendering of such aid may be available.

(r) Prepare, maintain, and implement a regional plan or regional plans for carrying out the duties, powers, or functions conferred upon the board by this compact.

(s) Undertake responsibilities imposed or necessarily involved with regional participation pursuant to such cooperative programs of the federal government as are useful in connection with the fields covered by this compact.

Article VI. Mutual Aid

(a) Whenever a party state, or any state or local governmental authorities request aid from any other party state pursuant to this compact in coping with a nuclear incident, it shall be the duty of the requested state to render all possible aid to the requesting state which is consonant with the maintenance of protection of its own people.

Any such agreement shall specify the purpose or purposes; its duration and the procedure for termination thereof or withdrawal therefrom; the method of financing and allocating the costs of the activity or project; and such other matters as may be necessary or appropriate.

No such supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to this article shall become effective prior to its submission to and approval by the board. The board shall give such approval unless it finds that the supplementary agreement or activity or project contemplated thereby is inconsistent with the provisions of this compact or a program or activity conducted by or participated in by the board.

(b) Unless all of the party states participate in a supplementary agreement, any cost or costs thereof shall be borne separately by the states party thereto. However, the board may administer or otherwise assist in the operation of any supplementary agreement.

Article VIII. Other Laws and Relations

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to have the following effect:

(a) Permit or require any person or other entity to avoid or refuse compliance with any law, rule, regulation, order or ordinance of a party state or subdivision thereof now or hereafter made, enacted or in force.

(b) Limit, diminish, or otherwise impair jurisdiction exercised by the Atomic Energy Commission, any agency successor thereto, or any other federal department, agency or officer pursuant to and in conformity with any valid and operative act of Congress; nor limit, diminish, affect, or otherwise impair jurisdiction exercised by any officer or agency of a party state, except to the extent that the provisions of this compact may provide therefor.

(c) Alter the relations between and respective internal responsibilities of the government of a party state and its subdivisions.

into law; provided, that it shall not become initially effective until enacted into law by five states.

(c) Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall take effect until two years after the Governor of the withdrawing state has given notice in writing of the withdrawal to the Governors of all other party states. No withdrawal shall affect any liability already incurred by or chargeable to a party state prior to the time of such withdrawal.

(d) Guam and American Samoa, or either of them may participate in the compact to such extent as may be mutually agreed by the board and the duly constituted authorities of Guam or American Samoa, as the case may be. However, such participation shall not include the furnishing or receipt of mutual aid pursuant to Article VI, unless that article has been enacted or otherwise adopted so as to have the full force and effect of law in the jurisdiction affected. Neither Guam nor American Samoa shall be entitled to voting participation on the board, unless it has become a full party to the compact.

Article X. Severability and Construction

The provisions of this compact and of any supplementary agreement entered into hereunder shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact or such supplementary agreement is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact or such supplementary agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact or any supplementary agreement entered into hereunder shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact or such supplementary agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. The provisions of this compact and of any supplementary agreement entered into pursuant thereto shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes thereof.

CHAPTER 916

An act to amend Section 1 of Chapter 80, Statutes of 1967, and to provide for the cancellation or refund of property taxes, relating to property tax exemptions, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor August 1, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State August 1, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 80, Statutes of 1967, is amended to read:

Section 1. For the purposes of Section 268 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, "property as to which the welfare exemption was available for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1966 or 1967" includes property owned by a nonprofit corporation which would otherwise qualify for the welfare exemption, except that at the lien date for that year its articles of incorporation did not provide that its property was irrevocably dedicated to charitable, scientific or hospital purposes, and upon its liquidation, dissolution or abandonment would not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for charitable, scientific or hospital purposes, if the nonprofit corporation does all of the following:

(1) Files an affidavit with the assessor that its property was at that time and has been since then irrevocably dedicated to religious, charitable, scientific, or hospital purposes and upon liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner would not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific or charitable purposes.

(2) Amended its articles of incorporation during the calendar year 1966 or 1967 or prior to the first Monday in March, 1968, to provide that its property is irrevocably dedicated to charitable, scientific, or hospital purposes and upon liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner, will not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for charitable, scientific or hospital purposes.

This section shall remain in effect until one year after the effective date of the enactment of this section at the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature and shall thereafter be of no force or effect.

SEC. 2. Any tax or penalty or interest thereon for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967 or 1968 on property as to which the welfare, cemetery, or church exemption was available for such fiscal year shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code as if it had been levied or charged erroneously, and, if paid, a re-

Any cancellation or refund made pursuant to this section shall be made, provided an appropriate application for exemption is filed on or before January 15, 1969.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Some organizations have inadvertently failed to amend their articles of incorporation to reflect their actual status, in support of the tax exemption of their property which is granted by the State Constitution, and as a result now are confronted with obligations which, if met, will substantially impair their ability to function effectively. This act will remedy the situation by, in effect, removing the procedural bar to the application of the exemption to such property. In doing so, the public policy of the state as expressed in the Constitution will be entirely fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

The board shall include in the textbooks and teachers' manuals adopted such materials as it may deem necessary and proper to encourage thrift, fire prevention, and the humane treatment of animals, and teach the health hazards of tobacco and the evil effects of alcohol, narcotics, and hallucinogenic drugs on the human system.

9305. The board shall, when adopting textbooks and teachers' manuals for use in elementary schools for the teaching of courses in civics and history of the United States and the State of California, include only such textbooks which correctly portray the role and contribution of the American Negro and members of other ethnic groups in the total development of the United States and of the State of California.

9306. The board shall require textbooks and teachers' manuals which may be adopted for teaching civics to contain the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. Such textbooks shall be in simple form and suited to the comprehension of the pupils.

9307. The board shall adopt for use in the elementary schools of the state basic textbooks for use in those subjects of the several elementary school grades in which the board shall determine the need and desirability for a basic textbook or basic textbooks to promote the maximum efficiency of pupil learning. The board shall determine the period for which each basic textbook is adopted, pursuant to Section 9315.

9308. The board shall, at the time of the adoption of basic textbooks as provided in Section 9307, provide a list of supplementary textbooks tentatively indicated for adoption for use in those subjects of the several elementary school grades for which the board shall determine the need and desirability for a supplementary textbook or supplementary textbooks to promote the maximum efficiency of pupil learning. The board shall establish a distribution schedule which shall set forth the recommended quantities of supplementary textbooks which shall be available to pupils and teachers. Such schedule shall include the estimated cost of each supplementary textbook. The board shall cause to be computed for each school district providing instruction in the elementary school grades an amount of textbook credit by subject matter adoption which shall be equal to the total of the estimated cost of all the supplementary textbooks which would be available to the school district under the conditions of the recommended distribution schedule. The board shall make this amount of textbook credit known to the school district. The board shall determine the period for which each supplementary textbook is adopted, consistent with the provisions of Section 9315.

9309. The board shall adopt supplementary textbooks for use in those subjects of the several elementary school grades for which the board shall determine the need and desirability for a supplementary textbook or supplementary textbooks to promote the maximum efficiency of pupil learning, subsequent to receiving the selections of the governing boards of school districts maintaining one or more elementary school grades made from the list of supplementary textbooks tentatively indicated for adoption, as provided in Section 9308.

9310. The board shall cause to be acquired and distributed to school districts of the state providing instruction in the elementary school grades, appropriate basic textbooks to be used in the selection process as provided in Section 9318. The board shall determine the necessary quantities and distribution pattern of such textbooks. However, in cases where the district does not qualify as a city school district, the county superintendent of schools shall receive for review by districts such basic textbooks.

9310.5. The board shall cause to be acquired and distributed to school districts of the state providing instruction in the elementary school grades one full and complete set of the supplementary textbooks tentatively adopted by the board to be used in the selection provided in Section 9318. Any district requiring additional copies of tentatively adopted textbooks may request such copies, on forms provided for that purpose, from the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The cost of all supplementary textbooks distributed to districts beyond the one complete set provided herein shall be deducted from the supplementary textbook credit as provided in Section 9308.

However, in cases where the district does not qualify as a city school district, the county superintendent of schools shall receive for review by districts a set of tentatively adopted supplementary textbooks. Nothing in this section shall prevent school districts which do not qualify as city school districts from ordering tentatively adopted supplementary textbooks to be purchased with supplementary textbook credit in the manner described above, or the county superintendent of schools from purchasing such supplementary textbooks.

9311. The board shall adopt separate teachers' manuals for use in the subjects of the several elementary school grades in which the board shall determine the need and desirability for such manuals.

9312. The board shall make available for the use of each pupil enrolled in the elementary schools the basic textbook or textbooks adopted for the grade in which the pupil is enrolled, except that, in lieu thereof, a copy of a basic textbook covering the same or closely related subject matter and adopted for a lower or higher grade may be made available for any pupil for whom such a textbook would be more appropriate. The board shall provide copies of basic textbooks for teachers of subjects for which such textbooks are adopted. The board shall determine the quantities in which copies of basic textbooks and teachers' manuals adopted by the board shall be provided for pupils and teachers.

9313. Whenever the board adopts two or three basic textbooks in a subject, to provide for meeting the various learning ability levels of pupils in a given grade level, the textbooks shall be provided uniformly in quantities that shall be determined by the board at the time the textbooks are adopted.

9314. The board shall make available supplementary textbooks under the conditions prescribed in Section 9308 and Section 9318, except that if a total of less than 25,000 copies of a given supplementary textbook is selected on a statewide basis, such supplementary textbook shall not be adopted.

9315. The board shall determine the period for which each basic textbook or supplementary textbook or teachers' manual is adopted, which period shall not be less than four years nor more than eight years. After an original adoption period has expired, the board may extend the adoption period of such books for not less than one year nor more than four years.

9316. The board shall make available copies of adopted textbooks in large print for pupils enrolled in the elementary schools whose visual acuity is 20/70 or less or who have other visual impairment making the use of such textbooks necessary. The board shall make available adopted textbooks in braille characters for pupils enrolled in elementary schools whose corrected visual acuity is 20/200 or less.

9317. The board shall enter into a contract, whenever any plates, maps, or engravings of any publisher or author are adopted for use, or whenever any books are purchased, which shall be consistent with the provisions of Section 9315, and shall require a good and sufficient bond of the owners of the books, plates, maps, or engravings under a written guarantee that they shall be kept, revised, and free from all errors, and up to date as may be required by the board.

9318. The governing board of a school district maintaining one or more elementary school grades, in accordance with specific rules adopted by the State Board of Education, shall:

(a) Require that all basic textbooks adopted by the State Board of Education be used for instructional purposes in the appropriate grades and classes of the school district.

(b) Select from the list of supplementary textbooks tentatively indicated for adoption by the State Board of Education those textbooks that the governing board may determine to be necessary and desirable for use in the indicated subjects and grades of the school district. Such supplementary textbooks may be selected in any number, without regard to the distribution schedule recommended by the board, except that the total computed costs of the selections shall not exceed the amount of computed textbook credit of the district pursuant to Section 9308. The titles so selected and the distribution schedule resulting therefrom shall become the supplementary textbooks distribution schedule available to such school district throughout the adoption period prescribed in Section 9315.

9319. Nothing in this article shall be construed as prohibiting the governing board of any school district, or any county library, from ordering and purchasing such supplementary textbooks as are required.

SEC. 6. Section 9352 of the Education Code is amended to read:

(d) That, upon the willful failure of the seller to comply with the requirements of the contract specified by this section, the seller shall be liable to the State of California in the amount of three times the total sum which the seller was paid in excess of the price required under subdivisions (a) or (b) of this section, and in the amount of three times the total value to the state of the performance of the terms and conditions to which the state is entitled under subdivision (c) of this section.
