[Approved by Governor Feb uary 14, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State February 14,1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35950.1 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.1. After the board has adopted a plan of works it may thereafter by resolution change or supplement the plan if it determines that the works described in the plan as changed or supplemented will benefit all the territory within the district or improvement district, including any territory annexed thereto since the adoption of the original plan of works, and may revise its estimate of the amount of money it is necessary to raise for such purpose. Any such changes or supplements shall be accomplished in the manner hereinafter provided. If bonds to accomplish the original plan of works have previously been investigated and approved for certification by the California Districts Securities Commission, such change or supplement shall not be effective until approved by the commission.

SEC. 2. Section 35950.2 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.2. If the board determines that it is necessary to change or supplement a plan of works previously adopted for a district or an improvement district, it shall adopt a resolution stating the following:

(a) The intention of the board to change or supplement a previously adopted plan of works.

(b) A description of the original purpose of the plan and a general description of the proposed change or supplement.

(c) Any change in the estimated expense of carrying out the plan of works by reason of the change or supplement.

(d) That assessments for carrying out said purpose shall be levied exclusively on the lands of the district or improvement district including any territory annexed thereto.

(e) That a map of the exterior boundaries of the district or an improvement district is on file with the secretary of the district and is available for inspection by any person or persons interested.

(f) The time and place of the hearing by the board in regard to the proposed change or supplement and the benefit or lack thereof to the lands within the district or an improvement district.

SEC. 3. Section 35950.3 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.3. Notice of said hearing shall be given by publishing a copy of the resolution provided for in Section 35950.2 in a newspaper of general circulation published in each affected county, pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code; the first publication to be at least fourteen (14) days prior to the time fixed for the hearing. Said notice shall also be given by posting a copy of said resolution in three public places within the district or the improvement district for at least fourteen (14) days prior to the time fixed for said hearing. No notice other than that required by this section need be given.

SEC. 4. Section 35950.4 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.4. At the time and place so fixed or at any time or place to which the hearing is continued, the board shall hold the hearing provided for by said resolution at which hearing any person interested, including all persons owning land in the district or improvement district to which the hearing pertains, may appear and be heard concerning any matters set forth in the resolution or any matters material thereto. At the conclusion of the hearing on the proposed changes or supplements, the board may, by resolution, amend the plan of works previously adopted in accordance with the proposed changes or supplements. If there is any change in the estimated cost of carrying out the plan of works and the purposes to be accomplished, the amended total of the estimated expense shall be set forth specifically. Additionally, in the event that any bonds to accomplish the original plan of works have been previously investigated and approved for certification by the California Districts Securities Commission, the resolution shall request approval thereof by the commission and any such change or supplement shall not be effective until the approval of the commission has been obtained.

SEC. 5. Section 35950.5 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.5. If the issuance of bonds has been authorized previously by the district or by the district for an improvement district and the change or supplement to the plan of works has increased the original estimate of cost, the board may provide for and call a special bond election within the district or the improvement district to submit to the voters of the district or the improvement district a proposition of whether or not additional indebtedness shall be incurred and bonds issued therefor in an amount which, when added to the amount of unissued bonds previously authorized to accomplish the original plan of works, will not exceed the revised estimate of cost set forth in the resolution approving the change or supplement to the plan of works. Said proposition need only refer to the amended plan, state the amount of additional bonds to be authorized, and indicate that previously authorized bonds will be issued to carry out the amended plan. Said proposition need not state the amount of unissued bonds previously authorized. In any such instance, the special bond election provided for herein shall be called, noticed, held, conducted and the results thereof canvassed in substantially the same manner as provided for in this division for general obligation bond elections.

SEC. 6. Section 35950.6 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.6. If two-thirds of the votes cast at a special bond election favor the issuance of the bonds necessary to accomplish the change or supplement to the plan of works as herein authorized, the board may, by resolution at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the issuance of all or any part of said bonds.

SEC. 7. Section 35950.7 is added to the Water Code, to read:

35950.7. Any bonds authorized to accomplish the amended plan of the district or improvement district shall be issued and sold in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as other general obligation bonds of the district.

36433. The board may advance general funds of the district to accomplish an approved plan of works of an improvement district.

SEC. 9. Section 36434 is added to the Water Code, to read:

36434. The board may repay the district for any advance of funds with any money received which is authorized by law to be used for such a purpose including the proceeds of the sale of bonds authorized for the purposes of the improvement district.

SEC. 10. This act shall remain in effect until the 61st day after the final adjournment of the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature, and shall have no force or effect after that date.

SEC. 11. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to enable California water districts to carry out their duty of providing water and sewer facilities to the lands within their boundaries or within the boundaries of their improvement districts, it is necessary to clarify the California Water District Law as to the authority and procedure by which a plan of works for a California water district or an improvement district thereof may be modified and additional bonds submitted for the approval and authorization of the electorate. It is also necessary to clarify the law in regard to the interim use of general funds of a California water district for the purposes of an improvement district. This bill will clarify and supplement existing provisions previously enacted so that immediate plans for water and sewer facilities within California water districts and improvement districts thereof may be consummated, authorized and constructed in sufficient time to meet existing needs of the public.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall utilize the corrected valuation amounts for purposes of making all computations prescribed by this article for the district for this fiscal year. Upon receipt thereof, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make the necessary revisions in all computations affecting the district made under this article.

In a number of school districts in the state assessment equalization proceedings conducted after the formulation of the last equalized assessment roll for counties for the 1967–1968 fiscal year have resulted in substantial reductions in the total of assessed valuation of property appearing on such rolls. As a result, local tax revenues accruing to the districts will be lower than anticipated. At the same time, State School Fund foundation program support allowances will be computed utilizing the higher assessed valuation levels appearing on the last equalized assessment roll, with the result that amounts allowed will not reflect the true state of local support resources for the year. In order that the urgently needed financial relief provided for affected school districts by this act may be availed of during the 1967–1968 fiscal year, it is essential that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 4

An act to amend Sections 9929 and 9997 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to employment agencies, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 12, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State March 12, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9929 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9929. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, each member of a board shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of his successor or until one year shall have elapsed since the expiration of the term for which he was appointed, whichever first occurs.

The terms of the members first appointed to the board shall expire as follows: three members, January 1, 1969; three members, January 1, 1970; and one member, January 1, 1971. Thereafter appointments shall be made for a term of four years.

Vacancies occurring in the membership of the board for any cause shall be filled by appointment for the balance of the unexpired term.

No member shall serve more than two consecutive terms of office.

SEC. 2. Section 9997 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9997. The bureau shall charge the following fees:

(a) A filing fee of fifty dollars ($50) for each new application for license.

(b) A filing fee of one hundred dollars ($100) for each new application for a branch office license.

(c) A filing fee of fifty dollars ($50) for application for examination or reexamination.

(d) A filing fee of fifty dollars ($50) for application to transfer or assign a license.

(e) An annual license fee of two hundred dollars ($200) for an employment agency license, except that the annual license fee for an employment agency engaged exclusively in the business of procuring babysitting employment for others shall be seventy-five dollars ($75).

(f) An annual license fee of one hundred dollars ($100) for license of each branch office.

(g) An interim employment agency license fee of one hundred dollars ($100).

(h) A reinstatement fee of two hundred dollars ($200), in addition to other fees, to reinstate a license revoked or suspended.

No fees shall be prorated for the unexpired portion of the license year.

Section 9929 as added to the Business and Professions Code in 1967 (Chapter 1505) specifies the terms of the members first appointed to the California Advisory Board of the Bureau of Employment Agencies but fails to specify the duration of the terms of persons appointed subsequently. Since the law provides that the terms of three of said board members shall expire January 1, 1969, and since the duration of the terms of successor board members is not specified, it is necessary that the duration of such terms be specified prior to the appointment of successor board members.

Employment agencies engaged exclusively in providing part-time babysitting services are required by the provisions of Section 9997 of the Business and Professions Code to pay an annual license fee of two hundred dollars ($200), the same amount as a general employment agency, and due to the modest income of such agencies, the fee is disproportionately large. Therefore, in order to avoid a hardship on such agencies and to provide relief from the payment of the entire amount of such fees, it is necessary to amend said Section 9997 to provide a reduced fee before the end of the license year which expires March 31, 1968.

CHAPTER 5

An act to add Section 20580.01 to the Government Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 14, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State March 14, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of implementing the program set forth in Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 7450) of Division 6 of the Education Code, as amended at the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, whereby two or more districts through a joint powers agreement may establish a regional occupational center, the entity thereby created is not presently considered to be a school district wherein the classified employees of the entity and regional occupational center may participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System under the county contract within each county of employment. The Legislature declares that employees of a regional occupational center, established under the provisions as cited above, shall be eligible for participation in the Public Employees' Retirement System. The Legislature further declares that it is in the best interest of the people of the State of California to include in the Public Employees' Retirement System employees of regional occupational centers.

SEC. 2. Section 20580.01 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20580.01. A regional occupational center established pursuant to Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 7450) of Division 6 of the Education Code by two or more school districts by a joint powers agreement shall be deemed a school district for purposes of this part. The board and the county superintendent of schools, upon the request of the governing body of any such center in the county, shall amend the contract entered into under this chapter to include the employees of such center who are not eligible to membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System Credit shall not be granted for any service in such employment prior to the effective date of the amendment; provided, however, that on the request of the governing body of the center, such amendment may provide that the membership of any person becoming a member in such employment on the effective date of the amendment shall be retroactive to the date of his entry into such employment. If the amendment provides for such retroactive membership, both the member and the center shall contribute to the fund for such period the amounts they would have contributed had the amendment been in effect on the date of the entry into employment.

It is necessary that this act take effect immediately in order to enable classified employees of regional occupational centers, presently employed by such centers, to be eligible to participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System under the county superintendent of school's contract with the system, so that current employees may be retained and that new employees may be attracted.

SEC. 4. All acts and proceedings heretofore taken by any public body or bodies under any law, or under color of any law, for the annexation or inclusion of territory into any such public body or for the annexation of any such public body to any other such public body or for the withdrawal or exclusion of territory from any such public body or for the consolidation, merger or dissolution of any public bodies are hereby confirmed, validated, and declared legally effective. This section shall not extend the period in which any action may be brought beyond the period in which it would be barred by any presently existing valid statute of limitations.

SEC. 8. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to render the creation of any city or district, or any change in the boundaries of any city or district, effective for purposes of assessment or taxation unless the statement, together with the map or plat, required to be filed under Sections 54900 to 54904, inclusive, of the Government Code, is filed within the time and substantially in the manner required by said sections.

The peace, health and safety of the citizens of the state require the orderly and unhampered functioning of public bodies and such functioning depends upon the validity of the organization, boundaries, and governing officers or boards of public bodies, and upon the validity of acts, proceedings, and bonds of public bodies, and it is therefore imperative and essential that such matters be validated so that during the period before this act would otherwise become effective:

(1) Citizens of the state can be afforded the protection of the police, fire, safety, sanitary, and other regulations and protections provided by public bodies;

(2) Public works and construction by public bodies can be commenced and continued without delay or restriction, to provide sewers, waterworks, schools, storm drains, flood control works, sanitary facilities, electric and other utility works, firehouses and facilities, police stations and facilities, streets, hospitals, and other works, structures, improvements, and facilities required for the public peace, health and safety, and immediately needed to provide for an increased population;

(3) Public bodies can issue and sell bonds heretofore authorized for the purpose of providing sewers, waterworks, schools, storm drains, flood control works, sanitary facilities, electric and other utility works, firehouses and facilities, police stations and facilities, streets, hospitals, and other works, structures, improvements, and facilities required for the public peace, health and safety and immediately needed to provide for an increased population, which cannot now be sold because of defects in the organization or boundaries of some public body or in the authorization of such bonds, which defects will be cured by this act.

An act to amend Sections 35921 and 35922 of, and to add Sections 35923, 35924, 35925, 35926, and 35927 to, the Agricultural Code, relating to certified milk and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State March 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35921 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

35921. Certified milk is market milk which conforms to the rules, regulations, methods, and standards for the production and distribution of certified milk adopted by the county milk commission established in a county pursuant to this article.

35922. Certified milk shall bear the certification of a milk commission which shall be appointed as provided by this article by the board of supervisors in any county in which certified milk was produced on January 1, 1968. The board of supervisors of any other county may create a commission.

SEC. 3. Section 35923 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

35923. A county milk commission shall consist of five members who reside in the county where the commission is located and who shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for a term of four years and shall be eligible for reappointment. The members shall be appointed as follows:

(b) A physician nominated by the county health department.

(c) A veterinarian, who shall be a member of the county or regional veterinarian association.

(d) A physician nominated by a producer or producers of certified milk in the county.

If no nomination is made by a group so authorized to nominate a member, the board of supervisors shall appoint a person who is a member of any of the designated organizations authorized to nominate members.

SEC. 4. Section 35924 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

35924. A county milk commission shall adopt rules, regulations, and standards governing the production, distribution, and sale of certified milk, including unpasteurized milk, as it deems necessary to protect public health and safety.

The rules, regulations, and standards adopted by a county milk commission shall conform as nearly as practicable to, or may be more restrictive than, the rules, regulations, and standards for the production, distribution, and sale of milk, including unpasteurized milk, adopted by the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions.

SEC. 5. Section 35925 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

35925. A county milk commission shall certify milk, including unpasteurized milk, for any applicant for certification whose milk complies with the rules, regulations, and standards for production, distribution and sale of milk adopted by the commission and prescribed in this code.

35927. A county milk commission may conduct any tests that it finds are reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of this article and may employ personnel to conduct such tests and for such other duties as the commission deems necessary.

All applicants for certification shall submit samples for testing when requested to do so by the commission.

In order for certified milk to continue to be available without substantial disruption and delay to consumers desiring to purchase such milk, this act must take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 8

An act making an appropriation for assistance to local agencies for care of crippled children.

[Approved by Governor March 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State March 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Public Health for services to physically handicapped children the sum of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) in augmentation of Item 277 of the Budget Act of 1967 for allocation to counties and cities and counties to be expended for services to physically handicapped children, including children diagnosed as suffering from phenylketonuria, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 249 through 271 of the Health and Safety Code, and the provisions of Item 277 of the Budget Act of 1967.

SEC. 2. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of Section 8 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 9

An act making an appropriation for acquisition of land for the establishment of a branch office of the Department of Motor Vehicles in the City of El Cerrito, California, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 25, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State March 25, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of two hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($275,000) is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Fund to the Department of Motor Vehicles for the acquisition of land for a branch office of the department in the City of El Cerrito. The appropriation made herein shall be subject to the provisions of the Property Acquisition Law.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The branch office in the City of El Cerrito is urgently needed to permit proper enforcement of provisions of laws regulating vehicles on the highways of this state and to permit necessary maintenance of traffic safety in that portion of the San Francisco Bay area. This situation has been aggravated through the loss by fire of one of the offices in the East Bay area which will not be rebuilt because of the growth of other population centers in that area.

CHAPTER 10

An act to add Section 22201.6 to the Government Code, relating to election officials, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor March 29, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State March 29, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22201.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

22201.6. The board shall execute a modification to the agreement in conformity with the applicable provisions of the Social Security Act and federal regulations to exclude from coverage all services of election workers and election officials who are paid less than fifty dollars ($50) in a calendar quarter for such services.

The earliest possible date this act may become effective under terms of the federal law is March 31, 1968. In order for the agreement to be modified prior to that date, this act must have immediate effect.

CHAPTER 11

An act to amend Section 1825 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to state aid for probation services, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1825 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1825. (a) No county shall be entitled to receive any state funds provided by this article until its application is approved and unless and until the minimum standards prescribed by the Department of the Youth Authority are complied with and then only on such terms as are set forth hereafter in this section.

(b) A commitment rate for each county and for the state as a whole shall be calculated by the Department of Youth Authority by computing the ratio of new commitments to state and county population, expressed in a rate per hundred thousand population, for each of the calendar years 1959 through 1963. The average of these rates for a county for the five-year period or the average of the last two years of the period, whichever is higher, shall be the base rate for that county. The number of commitments shall be the total of the new commitments to the custody of the Director of the Youth Authority and the new criminal commitments to the custody of the Director of Corrections, as certified by the respective departments. The county and state population shall be that certified by the Department of Finance to the Controller as of July 1 of each year. Persons returned to the county and placed on probation under the provisions of Sections 1168 and 1203.03 of the Penal Code or by the Department of the Youth Authority under appropriate provisions of this code shall not be counted as having been committed for purposes of determining commitment rates under this subdivision or subdivision (c).

(c) An annual commitment rate shall be calculated at the end of each fiscal year for each participating county and for the state as a whole in a like manner to that described in subdivision (b) using the population figure of the July 1 included in the year.

(d) The maximum amount that may be paid to a county pursuant to this article is determined by obtaining the dollar amount in the table in this subdivision for such county's base commitment rate and its percentage decrease in rate of commitment and multiplying that dollar amount by the "commitment reduction number." The "commitment reduction number" is obtained by subtracting (1) the product of the most recent annual commitment rate and population of the county for the same year from (2) the product of the base commitment rate and population of the county for the same year employed in (1). The Director of the Youth Authority, with approval of the Director of Finance may annually adjust the dollar amounts in the ensuing table to reflect changes in cost to the state of maintaining persons committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections and the Director of the Youth Authority, and if such adjustments are made, the adjusted amounts shall be employed in making the computation prescribed by this subdivision.

(e) The state will reimburse the county upon presentation of a valid claim based on actual performance in reducing the commitment rate from its base rate. Whenever a claim made by a county, pursuant to this article, covering a prior fiscal year, is found to be in error, adjustment may be made on a current claim without the necessity of applying the adjustment to the allocation for the prior year.

(f) If the amount received by a county in reimbursement of its expenditures in a fiscal year is less than the maximum amount computed under subdivision (d), the difference may be used in the next succeeding fiscal year and may be paid to the county in quarterly installments during such fiscal year upon preparation of valid claims for reimbursement of its quarterly expenses.

(g) In the event a participating county earns less than one-half of the sum paid in the previous year because of extremely unusual circumstances claimed by the county and verified by the Director of the Youth Authority with the approval of the Director of Finance, the Director of the Youth Authority may pay to the county a sum equal to the prior year's payment, provided, however, that in subsequent years the county will be paid only the amount earned.

(h) Funds obtained under this article shall not be used to support existing programs or develop or expand new programs in juvenile homes, ranches, or camps established under Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of this code.

(i) Counties where the actual number of commitments in the base period as established by subdivision (b) is less than 30 may elect either to comply with the procedure set out above or, as an alternative, to receive from the state 90 percent of the salary of one full-time additional probation officer or, in the event there are fewer than 20 persons placed on probation annually otherwise eligible for commitment to state institutions, the county would be entitled to 90 percent of the salary of a half-time officer. In the event a county chooses the alternative proposal, it will be eligible for reimbursement only so long as the officer devotes all of his time in the performance of probation services to supervision of persons eligible for state commitment and (1) if its base rate is below the state average, it does not on an annual basis exceed the base state rate, or (2) if its base rate is above the state average, it does not in the year exceed by 5 percent its own base rate.

SEC. 2. This act shall apply to amounts payable to counties for the 1966–67 fiscal year and all subsequent fiscal years.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35003 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

[Approved by Governor April 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 21702 of the Education Code, the total amount of bonds issued by a junior college district which will be superseded by a new junior college district for all purposes on July 1, 1968, which new junior college district will embrace all the territory of the existing junior college district together with additional territory of three unified school districts, shall not exceed 5 percent of the taxable property of the junior college district as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county or counties in which the junior college district is located. The provisions of Section 17262 of the Education Code shall not be applicable to this section.

SEC. 2. This act shall have no force or effect after June 30, 1968.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

At least one junior college district, which is to be succeeded by a new junior college district formed under the optional reorganization provisions of the Education Code, finds that it does not have sufficient bonding capacity to sell bonds previously authorized by the voters to construct urgently needed junior college facilities by reason of an amendment to Section 17262 of the Education Code in the 1967 session of the Legislature. The successor junior college district will likewise be unable to sell all of the bonds previously authorized by the voters of the junior college district, thereby preventing utilization of the bond authorization approved by more than two-thirds of the voters of the original district. Unless this legislation takes effect immediately, neither the original junior college district nor the succeeding junior college district would be able to issue the bonds to provide the urgently needed funds.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The Legislature has determined that the initial development, by the Department of Parks and Recreation, of facilities in the Thermalito Forebay Area of the Oroville State Recreation Area should be given a high relative priority, and that certain of the moneys previously appropriated for park and recreation development in the Oroville State Recreation Area are as yet unencumbered and available for such purposes. At the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, Chapter 1332 of the Statutes was enacted to authorize local government to impose a uniform real property transfer tax to take effect upon the repeal of the federal tax on such transfers. In conforming the state authorization to the federal law existing at that time, the Legislature specified that documentary stamps must be used to establish that the tax on real property transfers had been paid, as was the case under federal law. However, it has now been established that the use of such stamps by local government would be an unnecessary expense, as the same purpose may be carried out as expeditiously by following the terms of this act. In order to relieve local government of this unnecessary financial burden at the earliest possible date, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

SEC. 15. The provisions of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1968.

The amount of space allotted for this purpose shall be kept to the minimum space consistent with the number of persons to be served. The governing board of any county may also construct and install or permit the construction and installation of vending stands, snackbars and cafeterias for operation by blind persons licensed by the bureau in any building owned or occupied by the county. The governing board of any city may construct and install or permit the construction and installation of such vending stands, snackbars and cafeterias for operation by such blind persons licensed by the bureau in any building owned or occupied by the city. If there is no licensed blind operator in the building, the profits from the vending machine may be assigned to the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation which shall cause such profits to be distributed among those operators who operate in marginal locations.

In order to make it possible to enlarge the economic opportunities of trained and qualified blind persons, operating under the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 24

An act to amend Section 17710 of the Education Code, relating to financial support for the public schools, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17710 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Whenever, subsequent to the date of formulation of the last equalized assessment roll in a county, the county superintendent of schools finds that the assessment equalizations conducted under Part 3 (commencing with Section 1601) of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code have resulted in a substantial reduction or increase in the assessed valuation of property of a school district as compared to that reported pursuant to Section 17701, the county auditor shall notify and furnish to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, on or before the 15th of April in the fiscal year, the corrected assessed valuation of property within the district. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall utilize the corrected valuation amounts for purposes of making all computations prescribed by this article for the district for this fiscal year. In a number of school districts in the state assessment equalization proceedings conducted after the formulation of the last equalized assessment roll for counties for the 1967–1968 fiscal year have resulted in substantial reductions in the total of assessed valuation of property appearing on such rolls. As a result, local tax revenues accruing to the districts will be lower than anticipated. At the same time, State School Fund foundation program support allowances will be computed utilizing the higher assessed valuation levels appearing on the last equalized assessment roll, with the result that amounts allowed will not reflect the true state of local support resources for the year. In order that the urgently needed financial relief provided for affected school districts by this act may be availed of during the 1967–1968 fiscal year, it is essential that this act take effect immediately.

(b) Except in counties that distribute property taxes according to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 4701) of Part 8 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, the allowance for delinquencies shall be fixed by determining for the last three preceding years the percentage that the combined amounts of taxes uncollected at the end of each year bear to the total amount of taxes levied for those years.

(c) In counties that distribute property taxes according to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 4701) of Part 8 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, an allowance for subsequent additions, cancellations, and corrections affecting the tax roll shall be fixed by determining for the last three preceding years the percentage that the combined amounts of such items at the end of each year bear to the total amount of taxes levied for those years.

The financial feasibility report required by this section shall be submitted by the commission to the legislative body within 60 days after the commission's receipt of the request therefor, except that the commission, upon written request to the legislative body, may be granted an extension of time to prepare the report, if the legislative body finds that the extension is necessary. CHAPTER 32

An act to amend Section 33645 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to redevelopment bonds, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33645 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

(a) The issuance of the bonds in one or more series.

(b) The date the bonds shall bear.

(c) The maturity dates of the bonds.

(d) The rate or maximum rate of interest on the indebtedness, which shall not exceed 7 percent, and need not be recited if such rate does not exceed 4½ percent. Such interest shall be payable semiannually, except that interest for the first year after the date of the bonds may be made payable at the end of such year.

(e) The denomination of the bonds.

(f) Their form, either coupon or registered.

(g) The conversion or registration privileges carried by the bonds.

(h) The rank or priority of the bonds.

The small demand for bonds makes it exceedingly difficult to sell bonds at the present rates of interest. Redevelopment projects have been started which are necessary for the public health and safety but cannot be completed until bonds necessary to finance the projects are sold. It is therefore, imperative that this act which would increase the maximum permissible rate of interest on such bonds take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 22841, 22845, 22847, and 22848 of, and to add Section 22846.5 to, the Water Code, relating to irrigation districts.

[Approved by Governor April 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 15, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22844 of the Water Code is amended to read:

22844. The board shall:

(b) Segregate the offices and appoint a person to fill each office.

SEC. 5. Section 22848 of the Water Code is amended to read:

22848. The same person may hold the office of general manager, secretary, treasurer, assessor, and collector, or any of those offices.

CHAPTER 34

An act to amend Section 3100 of the Education Code, relating to school district organization, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 15, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 15, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3100 of the Education Code is amended to read:

3100. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that the procedures prescribed by the provisions of this chapter and Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 3001) of this division be utilized primarily for the formation of unified school districts maintaining grades kindergarten or 1 through 12, and that this form of organization be ultimately adopted throughout the state. It is the further intent of the Legislature that in exercising the authority to approve master plans and plans and recommendations developed at the local level, the State Board of Education consider the boundaries of existing high school districts as the minimum geographical base for the organization of individual unified school districts, to be deviated from only in exceptional situations. The State Board of Education may approve proposals for the formation of districts based upon the division of the territory of existing high school districts, provided that the board has determined, with respect to the proposal and the resulting new districts that all of the following conditions are met:

(a) That the new districts will be adequate in terms of number of pupils enrolled, having a projected average daily attendance of at least 10,000 by the beginning of the seventh fiscal year following the date that any such new district became effect for all purposes.

(b) That the new districts will be adequate in terms of financial ability. For purposes of determining financial ability, the board shall consider assessed valuations per pupil. In addition, solely for purposes of evaluating proposals pursuant to this section with reference to adequacy of districts in terms of financial ability, the board may, in conjunction with assessed valuations per pupil, give such consideration as it deems appropriate to federal funds received by a school district under the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide financial assistance for local educational agencies in areas affected by federal activities, and for other purposes," approved September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874—81st Congress) or under any similar act of Congress. The board shall not approve of the formation of districts by division of the territory of existing high school districts, where the assessed valuation per pupil in kindergarten and grades 1 through 12, inclusive, in any of the new districts varies from the average assessed valuation per pupil in all of the territory of which the new districts are comprised by more than 10 percent.

(c) That the new districts are each organized on the basis of a substantial community identity.

(d) That the proposal will result in an equitable division of property and facilities of the original district.

(e) That the proposal and the formation of the new districts will not promote racial or ethnic discrimination or segregation. The State Board of Education may secure the advice and assistance of any other public agencies concerned with intergroup relationships for purposes of making determinations under this subdivision.

The board may require that proposals combine the area of existing high school districts, with respect to any proposed new or reorganized districts which would not meet the requirements prescribed by Section 17672 or come within the exceptions prescribed by Section 17673.

A number of unification proposals are pending before the State Board of Education which cannot meet the present restrictive standards relating to financial ability of proposed new districts. These unification proposals are desirable and in order that such proposals be approved by the State Board of Education at the earliest time, it is necessary that the present restrictive standards relating to financial ability of proposed new districts be revised. Therefore, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 35

An act to amend Section 25541.7 of the Education Code, relating to junior colleges, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

25541.7. (a) The increases in the maximum rate of tax authorized by Section 25541.5 shall remain in effect until the end of the fifth consecutive fiscal year following the date of the first election at which the first district bond issue for junior college purposes is passed, in junior college districts in which such fifth consecutive year expires on July 1, 1969.

(b) The increases in the maximum rate of tax authorized by Section 25541.5 shall remain in effect until the end of the fourth consecutive fiscal year following the date of the first election at which the first district bond issue for junior college purposes is passed, in junior college districts in which such fourth consecutive fiscal year expires on July 1, 1970.

In order that the urgently needed extensions in the operative period of the increases in maximum junior college district tax rate afforded by this act will be in effect on or before the commencement of the 1968–69 fiscal year, in order that district budgets and other fiscal proceedings may be prepared and conducted accordingly, it is essential that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 36

An act to add Section 15712.5 to the Elections Code, relating to sample ballots, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 18, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 18, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15712.5 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

15712.5. Where the official ballot will consist of one or more individual ballot cards upon which the names of candidates and measures are printed, said ballot cards to be voted by the voter, the sample ballot provided in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10000) of Division 7 of this code may be printed on one or more sheets of white or tinted paper and shall be a substantial facsimile of the ballot, including instructions to voters, and need not be printed in booklet form.

Elections are to be held June 4, 1968 and provision must be made for sample ballots to be issued in those counties using one or more ballot cards for punchcard voting.

CHAPTER 37

An act to amend Section 20808 of the Education Code, relating to public school financing.

SECTION 1. Section 20808 of the Education Code is amended to read:

20808. (a) The maximum rate of any elementary or unified school district is, commencing with the fiscal year 1964–5, increased by an amount sufficient to produce the amount by which the cost during the current fiscal year, of tuition or of educating pupils in grades seven and eight, exceeds the cost during the current fiscal year of educating pupils in grades kindergarten or one through six maintained by the district, exclusive of all federal and state apportionments.

(b) The computations prescribed by subdivision (a) of this section shall be made on the basis of current estimates of cost and average daily attendance, pursuant to rules and regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall also, by rule and regulation, prescribe the accounting procedures and all other procedures to govern the fixing of district tax rates and the disposition of the additional tax revenues provided pursuant to this section.

Of the additional tax revenues provided pursuant to this section, there shall be expended by a school district during a fiscal year, no more than the actual additional cost during that fiscal year of educating pupils in grades seven and eight as computed for purposes of subdivision (a). If at the end of any fiscal year there remains an unencumbered balance derived from the revenue of the increase in tax rate hereby provided, such balance shall be used exclusively in the following fiscal year for the payment of the obligations for which such tax revenues are afforded by this section and to offset such tax rate increase. If an elementary school district withdraws from a junior high school or a system of junior high schools pursuant to Sections 5625 to 5628, any such remaining unencumbered balance derived from the revenue of the increase in tax rate hereby provided may be transferred by resolution of the governing board of the elementary school district to the general fund. In the fiscal year following such transfer, the amount of such remaining unencumbered balance which is transferred to the general fund of the district shall be used to reduce the amount for which the maximum rate of school district tax may be increased pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section for the purposes of educating pupils in grades 7 and 8 in such elementary school district.

CHAPTER 38

An act to amend Section 25643 of the Government Code, relating to county tax levy exceptions.

[Approved by Governor April 18, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State April 18, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25643 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25643. The board of supervisors in any county which provides county funds for structural fire protection of areas in the county in incorporated or unincorporated territory shall at the time of levying county taxes for support of said function, except from the levy of any tax for said purpose all property within the limits of any incorporated city or any fire protection district in said county, which has petitioned the board of supervisors in writing for the exclusion of such property from the levy of taxes for such purpose, such petition to be supported by a resolution to be adopted by the governing body of such incorporated city or fire protection district finding that such incorporated city or fire protection district has an organized fire department in operation and existence which is at such time providing adequate structural fire protection to all property within such incorporated city or fire protection district, and that no additional benefit in fire protection is received or required by such property from structural fire protection given by the county.

Any petition to the board of supervisors to obtain the exemption provided in this section is sufficient to obtain the exemption in every year. If the board of supervisors determines that the incorporated city or fire protection district no longer satisfies the elements of the resolution filed with the petition, the exemption shall terminate and no exemption shall be granted until a new petition is presented.

An act to add Sections 4834, 4835, 4836, 4837, 4838, and 4839 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to county sanitation districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

The clerk of the district shall give notice of the hearing by mailing a copy of such notice to all landowners owning land within the territory proposed to be annexed, and by publishing notice thereof in at least two successive issues, not more than 30 nor less than 10 days prior to the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

SEC. 4. Section 4837 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

(b) Approving the proposed annexation.

(c) Approving the annexation, but excluding any lands which the board finds will not be benefitted by becoming a part of such improvement district.

SEC. 6. Section 4839 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

4839. If the district board approves the proposed annexation, or approves the annexation but excludes any lands, a certified copy of the resolution of the district board, together with a map or plat of the new boundaries of the improvement district, shall be filed with the agencies designated in and as required by Sections 54900, 54901, and 54902 of the Government Code. Upon such filing, the annexation of the territory to the improvement district shall be effective.

Presently there is no provision in the law whereby territory which is already a part of a county sanitation district may be annexed to an improvement district which is a part of that county sanitation district. In order that additional services which are necessary for the health and safety of the persons in such areas, but are not required for the entire district, may be provided without delay, it is imperative that the statute take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State April 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 39081 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39081. (a) As used in this chapter the following terms shall be construed as defined in the Vehicle Code:

(1) Commercial vehicle
(2) Implement of husbandry
(3) Motor vehicle
(4) Motor-driven cycle
(5) Used vehicle
(6) Passenger vehicle

(b) As used in this chapter, "motor vehicle pollution control device" means equipment designed for installation on a motor vehicle for the purpose of reducing the pollutants emitted from the vehicle, or a system or engine modification on a motor vehicle which causes a reduction of pollutants emitted from the vehicle.

(c) As used in this chapter, "certified device" means a motor vehicle pollution control device for the control of emissions of pollutants from a vehicle, including, but not limited to, the exhaust system, the crankcase, the carburetor, and the fuel tank, for which standards have been set by the board, and for which a certificate of approval has been issued by the board. Whenever under this chapter or any other law a motor vehicle is required to be equipped with a certified device, such requirement refers to the certified device for the control of specified pollutants from the particular source involved; provided that no certified device shall be required for the control of emissions of any specified pollutant from a particular source unless the board has found the control of such emissions to be necessary and technologically feasible.

(d) Wherever the title "Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board" is used in the law, it shall be deemed to mean, and be applicable to, the State Air Resources Board.

SEC. 2. Section 39083 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39083. The board shall have the powers and authority necessary to carry out the duties imposed on it by this chapter, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) To adopt rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (commencing with Section 11370 of the Government Code), necessary for proper execution of the powers and duties granted to, and imposed upon the board by this chapter.

(b) To employ such technical and other personnel as may be necessary for the performance of its powers and duties.

(c) To determine and publish the criteria for approval of motor vehicle pollution control devices. In determining the criteria the board shall take into consideration technological feasibility and economic costs, the cost of the device and its installation, its durability, the ease and facility of determining whether the device, when installed on a motor vehicle, is properly functioning, and any other factors which, in the opinion of the board, render such a device suitable or unsuitable for the control of motor vehicle air pollution or for the health, safety, and welfare of the public.

(d) To issue certificates of approval for any motor vehicle pollution control device where, after being tested by the board or tested and recommended by a laboratory designated by the board as an authorized vehicle pollution control testing laboratory, the board finds that the device operates within the standards set by the board and meets the criteria adopted under subdivision (c) of this section; provided that no certificate of approval shall be issued for any device required by subdivision (d) of Section 39090 of this code if:

(1) The cost of such device, including installation, is more than sixty-five dollars ($65);

(2) The annual maintenance cost of the device, including any adjustment necessary for its proper operation in order to meet the standards set pursuant to Section 426.5, is likely to exceed fifteen dollars ($15) a year; or

(3) The device does not equal or exceed the performance criteria established by the board for devices for new motor vehicles or, in the alternative, have an expected useful life of 50,000 miles of operation.

(e) To exempt from Article 2 (commencing with Section 39090) of this chapter motor vehicles whose emissions are found by appropriate tests to meet state standards without additional equipment, and motor-driven cycles, implements of husbandry, and vehicles which qualify for special license plates under Section 5004 of the Vehicle Code.

(f) To revoke, suspend, or restrict a certificate of approval previously issued or an exemption previously granted, upon a determination by the board that the device or motor vehicle no longer operates within the standards set by the board or no longer meets the criteria adopted under subdivision (c) of this section or no longer should be exempted. Provided that once any motor vehicle is equipped with a certified device it shall not thereafter be deemed to be in violation of this chapter or Section 27156 of the Vehicle Code because a certificate of approval for such device is subsequently revoked, suspended, or restricted, and replacement parts for such device may continue to be supplied and used for such vehicle, unless such revocation, suspension or restriction of a certificate of approval is based upon a finding that the certified device has been found to be unsafe in actual use or is otherwise mechanically defective, in which event such motor vehicle must be brought into compliance with this chapter within 30 days after such finding.

(g) Proceedings under this chapter with respect to the denial of applications for the issuance of certificates of approval or the granting of exemptions, or for the revocation, suspension, or restriction of certificates of approval previously issued, or exemptions previously granted, by the board shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein.

SEC. 2.5. Section 39083.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

39083 3. (a) The board shall not approve any motor vehicle pollution control device unless each motor vehicle tested with such device for purposes of such approval meets the emission standards set by the board pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The board shall not exempt motor vehicles without additional equipment pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 39083, or find that motor vehicles meet state standards and board criteria without additional equipment pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 39090, unless each motor vehicle tested for purposes of such exemption or finding, as the case may be, meets the emission standards set by the board pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 39087 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 39090 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39090. (a) No 1966 or later year model motor vehicle shall be registered in this state unless it is equipped with a certified device or devices to control emissions of pollutants for which emissions standards have been set. Every 1966 or later year model passenger vehicle, except motorcycles, subject to registration in this state, shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control the emissions of pollutants for which emission standards have been set.

(b) On and after December 1, 1965, every motor vehicle of 1963 or later year model subject to registration in this state shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the crankcase.

(c) Every motor vehicle of 1955 through 1962 year model subject to registration in this state upon transfer of ownership and registration to an owner whose residence is in a county or portion of a county within an air pollution control district which may function and exercise its powers shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the crankcase.

(d) Every motor vehicle of 1955 through 1965 year model subject to registration in this state upon transfer of ownership and registration to an owner whose residence is in a county or portion of a county within an air pollution control district which may function and exercise its powers, shall be equipped with a certified device to control the emission of pollutants from the exhaust.

(1) Any motor vehicle or class of motor vehicles exempted by the board.

(2) Any motor-driven cycle, implement of husbandry or vehicle which qualifies for special plates under Section 5004 of the Vehicle Code.

(f) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) shall not be applicable in districts formed between January 1, 1964 and July 23, 1965.

(g) On and after December 1, 1966, every 1967 or later year model commercial motor vehicle under 6,001 pounds manufacturer's maximum gross vehicle weight rating, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control emission of pollutants from the crankcase and exhaust.

(h) On and after December 1, 1968, every 1969 or later year model truck, truck tractor, or bus, except those which are diesel-powered, subject to registration and first sold and registered in this state shall be equipped with a certified device or devices to control emission of pollutants from the crankcase and exhaust. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or Section 39083, the board may only grant an exemption for not to exceed 1 percent of a manufacturer's truck, truck tractor and bus sales in California in the preceding model year.

(i) Motor vehicles found by the board to meet established state standards and board criteria without additional equipment are exempt from the provisions of this section.

(j) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section shall not be applicable to motor vehicles registered to an owner whose residence is in any county in which an air pollution control district may function and exercise its powers if (1) prior to the effective date of this section, the board of supervisors of the county has found that the equipment of motor vehicles with devices to control the emission of pollutants is unnecessary for the preservation of air quality in that county, and (2) no air pollution control district created pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 24198) of Division 20 has ever been authorized to function and exercise its powers in any county adjacent to such county; nor shall such provisions be applicable to motor vehicles registered to an owner whose residence is in any county adjacent to such a county, which adjacent county is included within the boundaries of an air pollution control district created by special law to include the area of two or more counties, and in which county such air pollution control district created by special law may transact business and exercise its powers.

(k) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section shall not be applicable to motor vehicles registered to an owner whose residence is in an area, designated pursuant to this subdivision, of any county having an area in excess of 7,000 square miles in which an air pollution control district consisting of a single county may function and exercise its powers and within 60 days after the effective date of this section the board of supervisors of such county has classified the county into two areas because of substantial geographic and climatic differences between the two areas, and within 60 days after the effective date of this section the board of supervisors of the county has found that within one of such areas, designated by the board, the equipment of motor vehicles with devices to control the emission of pollutants is unnecessary for the preservation of air quality within that area.

SEC. 5. Section 39091 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39091. No new motor vehicle required pursuant to this chapter to be equipped with a certified device to control the emissions of pollutants for which emission standards have been set shall be sold in this state unless:

The manufacturer thereof has filed a certificate with the board within the preceding 12 months stating that new motor vehicles of that make, model, and year manufactured pursuant to dealers' orders for initial sale and registration in this state, will be equipped at the factory with certified devices as required by this chapter.

SEC. 6. Section 2814 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol may make and enforce regulations with respect to the issuance of stickers or other devices to be displayed upon passenger vehicles as evidence that the vehicles have been inspected and have been found to be in safe mechanical condition and equipped as required by this code and equipped with certified motor vehicle pollution control devices as required by Section 39090 of the Health and Safety Code which are correctly installed and in operating condition. Any sticker so issued shall be placed on the windshield within a five-inch square in the extreme lower left corner thereof with respect to the driver's position.

If, upon such an inspection of a passenger vehicle, it is found to be in unsafe mechanical condition or not equipped as required by this code and the provisions of Section 39090 of the Health and Safety Code, the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 40150) of Chapter 1 of Division 17 of this code shall apply.

SEC. 7. Section 4000 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

(c) The State Air Resources Board established under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39020) Part 1, of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code may exempt designated classifications of motor vehicles from the provisions of subdivision (b) as they deem necessary, and shall notify the department of such action; provided, however, that no exemption shall be granted to those vehicles subject to the provisions of subdivision (h) of Section 39090 of the Health and Safety Code, except as provided therein.

SEC. 9. Section 4750 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

4750. The department shall refuse registration or renewal or transfer of registration upon any of the following grounds:

(a) That the application contains any false or fraudulent statement.

No such device shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this code or of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 39080) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code and the rules and regulations of the State Air Resources Board unless it has been inspected by a licensed installer in a licensed station and a certificate of compliance has been issued by such licensed station.

SEC. 14. Section 28508 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

28508. Whenever a licensed installer in a licensed station, in conformity with the instructions of the department,

In the event such codefendant is held solely responsible and found guilty, the court may dismiss the charge against the owner or lessee.

There is a need to clarify the law on air pollution with respect to the power of the State Air Resources Board so that the board may proceed immediately to apply and enforce those standards which it finds necessary and technologically feasible. It is necessary for the public health that suitable air pollution control devices be installed on motor vehicles so as to control the emission of air pollutants within the state.

An act to add Section 268.6 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the welfare exemption, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor April 25, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State April 25, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 268.6 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

268.6. For the purposes of Section 268 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, "property as to which the welfare exemption was available for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967" includes property owned by a nonprofit corporation which would otherwise qualify for the welfare exemption, except that at the lien date for that year its articles of incorporation did not provide that its property was irrevocably dedicated to religious, charitable, scientific or hospital purposes, and upon its liquidation, dissolution or abandonment would not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for charitable, scientific or hospital purposes, if the nonprofit corporation does all of the following:

(1) Files an affidavit with the assessor that its property was at that time and has been since then irrevocably dedicated to religious, charitable, scientific, or hospital purposes and upon liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner would not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for religious, hospital, scientific or charitable purposes.

(2) Amended its articles of incorporation during the calendar year 1967 or prior to the first Monday in March, 1968, to provide that its property is irrevocably dedicated to charitable, scientific or hospital purposes and upon liquidation, dissolution or abandonment of the owner, will not inure to the benefit of any private person, except a fund, foundation or corporation organized and operated for religious, charitable, scientific or hospital purposes.

This section shall remain in effect until one year after the effective date of the enactment of this section at the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature and shall thereafter be of no force or effect.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Some organizations have inadvertently failed to amend their articles of incorporation to reflect their actual status, in support of the tax exemption of their property which is granted by the State Constitution, and as a result now are confronted with obligations which, if met, will substantially impair their ability to function effectively. This act will remedy the situation by, in effect, removing the procedural bar to the application of the exemption to such property. In doing so, the public policy of the state as expressed in the Constitution will be entirely fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to amend Section 13187.1 of the Education Code, relating to credentials for service in the public schools, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

13187.1. (a) A credential which was issued prior to January 1, 1964, shall remain in force as long as it is valid and continues to be valid under the law and regulations of the State Board of Education. The State Board of Education may not by regulation invalidate such valid credential unless it issues to the holder thereof, in substitution, a new credential authorized by other sections of this article of an equivalent type and which new credential is no less restrictive than the credential for which it is substituted with respect to the kind of service which it authorizes, and the grades or classes of types of schools in which it authorizes service.

(b) Subject to the provisions of Section 13172, credentials issued prior to January 1, 1964, and credentials issued under subdivision (c) of this section may be renewed in accordance with regulations of the State Board of Education in effect on December 31, 1963.

(c) The State Board of Education shall issue the appropriate credentials authorized by the law operative, and the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education in effect, on December 31, 1963, to any person who, on November 1, 1963, has completed two years of college and on November 1, 1963, was either enrolled in a teacher education curriculum at any institution of higher learning approved by the California State Board of Education, or was engaged in teaching in a foreign country, after such person has completed the requirements for such credential and if the person is otherwise qualified for such credential under the law and rules and regulations. No credential shall be issued under this subdivision after September 15, 1968. However, no person shall be denied the issuance of a prior regular credential if he holds a provisional credential authorized by Sections 13117, 13118, and 13119, and on November 1, 1963, is working toward meeting the requirements of that prior regular credential in accordance with State Board of Education regulations; nor shall any person who, on November 1, 1963, is working toward meeting the requirements of a prior regular credential and on that date is enrolled in a teacher education program, be denied the issuance of a prior credential if because of active military service since September 15, 1961, he was prevented from meeting the educational requirements of a prior regular credential.

(d) The State Board of Education shall issue the appropriate credential authorizing service in an administrative or supervisory position requiring certification qualifications authorized by the law operative, and the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education in effect, on December 31, 1963 to any person who, on that date, had completed all requirements for the credential and was otherwise qualified to receive the same under such laws, rules and regulations, and who has not previously been issued such credential. A credential so issued shall be subject to the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section, as though issued prior to January 1, 1964.

The complex nature of the statutory provisions relating to credential requirements has resulted in many cases of erroneous interpretations of law and poor advice to prospective teachers and to teachers seeking higher degrees and credentials. In many cases, due to erroneous interpretations of law and poor advice, individuals have neglected to avail themselves of the rights involved. In order to facilitate the desires of the teachers of this state to secure additional training and education and to avail themselves of the rights involved, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

SECTION 1. Section 420.75 is added to the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 67

An act to amend Section 12950 of the Corporations Code, and Section 24051 of the Financial Code, relating to nonprofit cooperative associations.

[Approved by Governor May 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12950 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

12950. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, no person, firm, individual, partnership, trust, domestic corporation, foreign corporation, or association shall adopt or use the word "cooperative" or any abbreviation or derivation thereof, or any word similar thereto, as part of the name or designation under which he does business in this state, nor conduct business or represent that business is conducted cooperatively, unless incorporated as provided in this part or as a nonprofit cooperative association under Chapter 1 of Division 20 of the Agricultural Code or under some other law of this state entitling him so to do; provided, however, that the foregoing prohibition shall be inapplicable to any housing cooperative, the financing of which is insured or guaranteed by the United States of America, one of its instrumentalities, or agencies, and which is certified by the Commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration as a consumer cooperative.

SEC. 2. Section 24051 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

24051. This division does not apply to the following:

(a) Any nonprofit cooperative association organized under Chapter 1 of Division 20, of the Agricultural Code, in loaning or advancing money in connection with any activity mentioned therein.

(b) Any corporation, association, syndicate, joint stock company, or partnership engaged exclusively in the business of marketing agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, dairy, livestock, poultry, or bee products on a cooperative nonprofit basis in loaning or advancing money to the members thereof or in connection with any such business.

CHAPTER 68

An act to add Section 271.7 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to tax exemptions, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 271.7 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

271.7. Any tax or penalty, or interest thereon, for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1967 on property owned by any organization qualified for the welfare exemption pursuant to Section 214 which was acquired by it during that calendar year after the lien date in that year but prior to the commencement of such fiscal year, and of a kind that presently qualifies for the welfare exemption and that would have so qualified for such fiscal year had it been owned by such organization on such lien date, shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been levied or charged erroneously and, if paid, a refund thereof shall be made pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been erroneously collected. Any cancellation or refund made pursuant to this section shall be made notwithstanding any limitation upon the time within which such cancellation or refund could otherwise be made.

Some organizations qualified for the welfare exemption pursuant to Section 214 purchased property during the 1967 calendar year, after the lien date for that year, which property was taxed for the fiscal year 1967–68, although it would have been exempt from taxation for that year by reason of the welfare exemption had it been acquired prior to such lien date. If required to meet such tax obligation, the ability of such organizations to function effectively will be seriously impaired to the great detriment of our state. This act will remedy that situation, and in so doing, the public policy of the state for the exemption of property owned by welfare organizations, as expressed in Section 1c of Article XIII of the Constitution, will be subserved and the state as a whole will benefit.

An act to add Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 16500) to Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to state protective services for children.

[Approved by Governor May 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 16500) is added to Part 4 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. STATE PROTECTIVE SERVICES FOR CHILDREN

16500. The state, through the State Department of Social Welfare and county welfare departments, shall establish and support a public system of statewide child protective services to be developed as rapidly as possible and to be available in each county of the state. All counties or combinations of counties shall establish specialized units of protective services for children.

16501. As used in this chapter, child protective services shall include casework and related services designed to forestall or reduce the need for action by law enforcement agencies, probation departments and courts, and to render these services in behalf of children who are without parents, proper guardianship, or custody, or who are being neglected or whose general welfare is being damaged by the conduct of parents, guardians, or custodians, whether willfully or otherwise.

A child protective services program shall receive any referral or complaint from a public or private agency or from any person having reasonable cause to know that the welfare of a child is endangered, and shall take such actions as are considered necessary to protect the child and correct the situation, including but not limited to:

(a) Social services to children, parent, parents, or guardian.

(b) Financial assistance as may be required, within the scope of this code.

(c) Alternate care of the child if care outside the home is required, such as institutional care, foster care, and day care.

(d) Referral to law enforcement agency for investigation.

16502. The child protective services authorized by this chapter shall be established in any county or combination of counties when a plan which includes financing of such services has been certified by the department. Such certified plan of child protective services shall then be operated in accordance with standards and regulations established by the department, subject to all the provisions of this code relating to the supervision of public social services by the department.

16502.5. As used in this chapter, "child protective services" means public social services which supplement, or substitute for, parental care and supervision for the purpose of preventing or remedying, or assisting in the solution of problems which may result in, the neglect, abuse, exploitation, or delinquency of children, protecting and caring for homeless, dependent, or neglected children, protecting and promoting the welfare of children of working mothers, and otherwise protecting and promoting the welfare of children, including the strengthening of their own homes where possible or, where needed, the provision of adequate care of children away from their homes in foster family homes or day-care or other child-care facilities.

16503. As used in this chapter, "the department" means the State Department of Social Welfare.

16504. Protective services shall be extended to every child in need of protection, regardless of family income.

16505. The services offered to families under this program shall be voluntary.

16506. This chapter shall not be construed to give the department or county welfare departments any law enforcement powers.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed in such a manner as to give the department any law enforcement powers, nor to change or interfere with the responsibility of law enforcement, probation officers and departments to take direct action on behalf of children as provided in Article 6 (commencing with Section 625) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 and Article 7 (commencing with Section 650) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2. Nor shall this part in any way relieve persons administering and working in child protective services programs from the obligation resting on all citizens to report crimes to duly authorized law enforcement agencies. Further it is the purpose of this part to supplement and not supplant existing services for children by the addition of state protective services for children, and nothing herein shall be construed as changing in any way the responsibility of probation officers and departments for initiating juvenile court proceedings as set forth in Article 7 (commencing with Section 650), of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2, nor other duties and responsibilities assigned to them by law.

16507. The department shall report annually to the Legislature on the operation and progress of the protective services program.

16508. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, no child who in good faith is under treatment solely by spiritual means through prayer in accordance with the tenets and practices of a recognized church or religious denomination by a duly accredited practitioner thereof shall, for that reason alone, be considered to have been neglected within the purview of this chapter.

16509. Anyone participating in good faith in the making of a report pursuant to this chapter shall have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal, that might otherwise be incurred or imposed. Any such participant shall have the same immunity with respect to participation in any judicial proceeding resulting from such report.

16510. Services for children who qualify as actual or potential recipients of public assistance under aid to families with dependent children shall be financed as a regular part of the administration of that program.

16511. Services for children not qualifying under Section 16510 shall be financed from federal funds allocated to the state for child welfare services pursuant to Part B of Title 4 of the Social Security Act. The department may limit allocation of child welfare service funds in the following manner: (1) If Congress does not increase the appropriation for child welfare service funds the department may then limit the allocation specifically for protective services to the same proportion of the federal grant as obtained for the 1967–68 fiscal year. (2) If and during such times as the federal government increases the allocation of child welfare services to the state, all of the increased funds resulting from this action shall be devoted to providing protective services for children who do not qualify for service under Section 16510; provided, however, the department shall be permitted to allocate sufficient funds to the development of other aspects of child welfare services in order that the state remain eligible to receive funds pursuant to Part B of Title 4 of the Social Security Act.

SEC. 2. Nothing in this act shall preclude the Legislature from adopting other priorities for the use of child welfare service funds as may be set forth in the Budget Act.

An act relating to state school building aid, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 2, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) In the event a school district failed to include in its 1967–1968 school budget, and the board of supervisors thereafter failed to levy a tax in 1967–1968 upon the property in the district sufficient to raise for the district, the amount of money to be withheld by the State Controller during the fiscal year 1967–1968, as required by Section 19619 of the Education Code, and in the event the county auditor certifies that fact and the amount of such insufficiency to the State Controller, that officer shall reduce the total amount of the deductions from apportionments to be made to that district pursuant to Section 19611 of the Education Code by the amount of such insufficiency.

(b) For the fiscal year 1967–1968, the apportionments from the State School Fund for any district which is subject to subdivision (a) shall be increased by an amount equal to the total amount of deductions made pursuant to Section 19611 during the 1967–1968 fiscal year.

(c) For the fiscal year 1968–1969, the State Controller shall add to the amount to be deducted under Section 19611 of the Education Code, the amount of any reduction in any such deduction effected during the fiscal year 1967–1968 pursuant to subdivision (a), plus an amount equal to 5 percent of such reduction.

By reason of inadvertence, there was a failure of a school district to include in its 1967–1968 budget, and thereafter a failure to levy a tax sufficient to provide, the full amount of the 1967–1968 annual repayment of apportionments made under the State School Building Aid Law of 1952. If this act were not to take effect immediately, the State Controller will deduct such amount under Section 19611 of the Education Code from the apportionments to be made to the district from the State School Fund, which would seriously deplete the general fund of such district and would have a consequential effect upon the educational opportunities afforded to the children of the district.

SECTION 1. Section 1031 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1031. In municipal courts and justice courts the prevailing party, including a defendant as to whom the action is dismissed, is entitled to his costs and necessary disbursements; provided, that where the prevailing party recovers less than the amount prescribed by law as the maximum limitation upon the jurisdiction of small claims courts, the court may, in its discretion, allow or deny costs to such prevailing party, or may allow costs in part in such amount as it may deem proper.

In actions for the recovery of wages for labor performed, where the amount of the demand, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars ($300), the court shall add, as part of the cost, in any judgment recovered by the plaintiff, an attorney's fee not exceeding 20 percent of the amount recovered.

All owners of such property shall be entitled to vote at such election. The number of votes which any such property owner, in any such division, shall be entitled to vote, shall be determined according to the assessed valuation of the property of such voter situated in such division, in the manner provided in Section 7 of this act, as amended.

If the directors are elected at large, each qualified elector of the district may vote, for each director to be elected, as many votes as he may be entitled to vote in accordance with the assessed valuation of his property in the district, as hereinbefore provided.

Prior to the last Friday in December next following the general district election each person elected a director shall qualify as such by taking and subscribing the official oath and executing an official bond in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), which shall be approved by a judge of the superior court. Such oath and bond shall be in the form prescribed by law for public officers, and shall be filed with the secretary of the board of directors. Each such bond shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county where the organization of the district was effected. If a vacancy shall occur in the office of director, the same shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors of the county in which the organization of the district was effected. Such appointee shall qualify as herein provided within 10 days after receiving notice of his appointment and shall hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of his predecessor. Pursuant to Section 2014, it is the purpose of this section to replace all existing certificates which embody the word "chiropody."

No action or proceeding commenced before the operative date of this section and no rights given by any certificate issued before the effective date of this section shall be affected by the enactment of this section, but all procedures hereafter taken, and all rights resulting from any such certificates, shall hereafter conform to, and be exercised according to, the provisions of this section as far as possible.

25000. This division may be known as the "Corporate Securities Law of 1968."

References herein to "this law" refer to the applicable provisions of this division.

25001. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this part apply throughout this division.

25002. "Advertisement" means any written or printed communication or any communication by means of recorded telephone messages or spoken on radio, television, or similar communications media, published in connection with the offer or sale of a security.

25003. "Agent" means any person, other than a broker-dealer or a partner of a licensed broker-dealer, who represents a broker-dealer or who for compensation represents an issuer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of securities in this state. "Agent" does not include a person who only represents an issuer in effecting transactions in securities exempted by subdivision (a), (b), (e), (f), (g), (j), (k) or (l) of Section 25100 or in effecting transactions exempted by Section 25102, and does not include a person who has no place of business in this state if he effects transactions in this state exclusively with broker-dealers. 25004. "Broker-dealer" means any person engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities in this state for the account of others or for his own account. "Broker-dealer" does not include (a) an agent, (b) an issuer, (c) a bank, trust company, or savings and loan association, (d) any person insofar as he buys or sells securities for his own account, either individually or in some fiduciary capacity, but not as a part of a regular business, (e) a person who has no place of business in this state if he effects transactions in this state exclusively with (1) the issuers of the securities involved in the transactions or (2) other broker-dealers, or (f) a broker licensed by the Real Estate Commissioner of this state when engaged in transactions in securities exempted by subdivision (f) or (p) of Section 25100 or in securities the issuance of which is subject to authorization by the Real Estate Commissioner of this state or in transactions exempted by subdivision (e) of Section 25102.

An offer to buy or a purchase of a security is made in this state when an offer to buy is made in this state, or an offer to sell is accepted in this state, or (if both the seller and the purchaser are domiciled in this state) the security is delivered to the purchaser in this state.

(b) An offer to sell or to buy is made in this state when the offer either originates from this state or is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which it is directed. An offer to buy or to sell is accepted in this state when acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state; and acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state and it is received at the place to which it is directed. A security is delivered to the purchaser in this state when the certificate or other evidence of the security is directed to the purchaser in this state and received at the place to which it is directed.

An offering which involves both an issuer transaction and a nonissuer transaction shall be treated for the purposes of Chapters 2 (commencing with Section 25110) and 4 (commencing with Section 25130) of Part 2 of this division as an issuer transaction, but for the purposes of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of Part 2 of this division they shall be treated as separate transactions.

The estate in a separately or commonly owned lot, parcel, or area may be an estate of inheritance or perpetual estate, an estate for life, or an estate for years. The common ownership of the lots, parcels, or areas or the enjoyment of the interests or restrictions referred to in clause (a) above or both may be through ownership of shares of stock or memberships in an owners' association or otherwise.

25016. "Rule" means any published regulation or standard of general application issued by the commissioner. "Order" means a consent, authorization, approval, permit, or requirement applicable to a specific case issued by the commissioner.

(d) A purported gift of assessable stock involves an offer and sale.

(e) Every sale or offer of a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to another security of the same or another issuer, as well as every sale or offer of a security which gives the holder a present or future right or privilege to convert the security into another security of the same or another issuer, includes an offer and sale of the other security only at the time of the offer or sale of the warrant or right or convertible security; but neither the exercise of the right to purchase or subscribe or to convert nor the issuance of securities pursuant thereto is an offer or sale.

(f) The terms defined in this section do not include: (1) any bona fide secured transaction in or loan of outstanding securities; (2) any stock dividend payable with respect to common stock of a corporation solely (except for any cash or scrip paid for fractional shares) in shares of such common stock, if the corporation has no other class of voting stock outstanding; provided, that shares issued in any such dividend shall be subject to any conditions previously imposed by the commissioner applicable to the shares with respect to which they are issued; or (3) any act incident to a judicially approved arrangement or reorganization in which securities are issued and exchanged for one or more outstanding securities, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash.

25018. "Securities Act of 1933," "Securities Exchange Act of 1934," "Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935," "Investment Advisers Act of 1940," and "Investment Company Act of 1940" mean the federal statutes of those names as amended before or after the effective date of this law.

All of the foregoing are securities whether or not evidenced by a written document. "Security" does not include: (1) any beneficial interest in any voluntary inter vivos trust which is not created for the purpose of carrying on any business or solely for the purpose of voting, or (2) any beneficial interest in any testamentary trust, or (3) any insurance or endowment policy or annuity contract under which an insurance company admitted in this state promises to pay a sum of money (whether or not based upon the investment performance of a segregated fund) either in a lump sum or periodically for life or some other specified period.

(a) Any security (including a revenue obligation) issued or guaranteed by the United States, any state, any city, county, city and county, public district, public authority, public corporation, public entity, or political subdivision of a state or any agency or corporate or other instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing; or any certificate of deposit for any of the foregoing.

(b) Any security issued or guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada, any Canadian province, any political subdivision or municipality of any such province, or by any other foreign government with which the United States currently maintains diplomatic relations, if the security is recognized as a valid obligation by the issuer or guarantor; or any certificate of deposit for any of the foregoing.

(c) Any security issued or guaranteed by and representing an interest in or a direct obligation of a national bank or a bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of this state, and any security issued by a bank to one or more other banks and representing an interest in an asset of the issuing bank.

(f) Any security consisting of any interest in all or portions of a parcel or parcels of real property which are subdivided lands or a subdivision or in a real estate development; provided that the exemption in this subdivision shall not be applicable to any investment contract sold or offered for sale with, or as part of, any such interest, or to any corporation engaged in the business of selling, distributing or supplying water for irrigation purposes or domestic use which is not a public utility.

25101. The following securities are exempted from the provisions of Section 25130:

(a) Any security issued by a person which is the issuer of any security registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or exempted from such registration by Section 12(g)(2)(G) of that act or which is an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940; provided, however, that this exemption does not apply to such securities offered pursuant to a registration under the Securities Act of 1933 or pursuant to an exemption under Regulation A under that act if the aggregate offering price of the securities offered under such exemption exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(b) Any offer (but not a sale) of a security for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933 but has not yet become effective, if no stop order or refusal order is in effect and no public proceeding or examination looking toward such an order is pending under Section 8 of such act and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law.

(c) Any offer (but not a sale) and the execution and delivery of any agreement for the sale of securities pursuant to such offer as may be permitted by the commissioner upon application. Any negotiating permit under this subdivision shall be conditioned to the effect that none of the securities may be issued and none of the consideration therefor may be received or accepted until the sale of such securities is qualified under this law.

(d) Any transaction or agreement between the issuer and an underwriter or among underwriters if the sale of the securities is qualified prior to distribution thereof in this state, if any.

(e) Any offer or sale of any evidence of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured, and any guarantee thereof, in a transaction not involving any public offering.

(f) Any offer or sale of any bona fide general partnership, joint venture or limited partnership interest, in a transaction not involving any public offering.

(g) Any offer or sale of conditional sale agreements, equipment trust certificates, or certificates of interest or participation therein or partial assignments thereof, covering the purchase of railroad rolling stock or equipment or the purchase of motor vehicles, aircraft, or parts thereof, in a transaction not involving any public offering.

(h) Any offer or sale of voting common stock by a corporation incorporated in California if, immediately after the proposed sale and issuance, there will be only one class of stock of such corporation outstanding which is owned beneficially by no more than five persons, provided all of the following requirements have been met:

(1) All such stock shall be evidenced by certificates which shall have stamped or printed prominently on their face a legend in a form to be prescribed by rule of the commissioner restricting transfer of such stock in such manner as the rule provides.

(2) The offer and sale of such stock is not accompanied by the publication of any advertisement, and no selling expenses have been given, paid, or incurred in connection therewith.

(3) The consideration to be received by the issuer for the stock to be issued shall consist of (i) only assets (which may include cash) of an existing business enterprise transferred to the issuer upon its initial organization, of which all of the persons who are to receive the stock to be issued pursuant to this exemption were owners during, and such enterprise was operated for, a period of not less than one year immediately preceding the proposed issuance, and the ownership of such enterprise immediately prior to such proposed issuance was in the same proportions as the shares of stock are to be issued, or (ii) only cash or cancellation of indebtedness for money borrowed or both upon the initial organization of the issuer, provided all such stock is issued for the same price per share, or (iii) only cash, provided the sale is approved in writing by each of the existing shareholders and the purchaser or purchasers are existing shareholders, or (iv), in a case where after the proposed issuance there will be only one owner of the stock of the issuer, any legal consideration.

(4) No promotional consideration has been given, paid, or incurred in connection with such issuance. Promotional consideration means any consideration paid directly or indirectly to a person who, acting alone or in conjunction with one or more other persons, takes the initiative in founding and organizing the business or enterprise of an issuer, for services rendered in connection with such founding or organizing.

(5) A notice in a form prescribed by rule of the commissioner, signed by the proposed issuees of the securities and by the officers and directors of the issuer under penalty of perjury and stating only the name and principal business address of the issuer and the facts required by this subdivision to establish this exemption, shall be filed with or mailed for filing to the commissioner not later than the day on which such securities are issued, which notice shall contain an opinion signed by an active member of the State Bar of California to the effect that on the basis of the facts stated in the notice it is his opinion that the exemption provided by this subdivision is available for the proposed offer and sale of securities.

For the purposes of this subdivision, all securities held by a husband and wife, whether or not jointly, shall be considered to be owned by one person, and all securities held by a corporation which has issued stock pursuant to this exemption shall be considered to be held by its shareholders.

(i) Any offer or sale (1) to a bank, savings and loan association, trust company, insurance company, investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trust (other than a pension or profit-sharing trust of the issuer), or such other institutional investor or governmental agency or instrumentality as the commissioner may designate by rule, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or as trustee, or (2) to any corporation with outstanding securities registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or any wholly owned subsidiary of such a corporation which after the offer and sale will own directly or indirectly 100 percent of the outstanding capital stock of the issuer; provided the purchaser represents that it is purchasing for its own account (or for such trust account) for investment and not with a view to or for sale in connection with any distribution of the security.

(j) Any offer or sale of any certificate of interest or participation in an oil or gas title or lease (including subsurface gas storage and payments out of production) if (1) all of the purchasers: (i) are and have been during the preceding two years engaged primarily in the business of drilling for, producing, or refining oil or gas (or whose corporate predecessor, in the case of a corporation, has been so engaged), or (ii) are persons described in clause (1) of subdivision (i) of this section, or (iii) have been found by the commissioner upon written application to be substantially engaged in the business of drilling for, producing or refining oil or gas so as not to require the protection provided by this law (which finding shall be effective until rescinded), or (2) such security is concurrently hypothecated to a bank in the ordinary course of business to secure a loan made by such bank; provided each purchaser represents that it is purchasing for its own account for investment and not with a view to or for sale in connection with any distribution of the security.

(k) Any offer or sale of any security under, or pursuant to, a plan of reorganization or arrangement which, pursuant to the provisions of the National Bankruptcy Act, has been confirmed or is subject to confirmation by the decree or order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(l) Any offer or sale of an option, warrant, put, call, or straddle by a person who is not the issuer of the security subject to such right, if the transaction, had it involved an offer or sale of the security subject to such right by such person, would not have violated Section 25130.

25103. The following transactions are exempted from the provisions of Section 25110 and Section 25120:

(a) Any negotiations or agreements prior to general solicitation of shareholders' approval, and subject to such approval, of a change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions of or on outstanding securities or a merger, consolidation or sale of corporate assets in consideration of the issuance of securities.

(b) Any change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions of or on outstanding securities, unless the holders of at least 25 percent of the outstanding shares or units of any class of securities which will be directly or indirectly affected substantially and adversely by such change have addresses in this state according to the records of the issuer.

(c) Any exchange incident to a merger, consolidation, or sale of corporate assets in consideration of the issuance of securities of another corporation, unless at least 25 percent of the outstanding shares of any class, the holders of which are to receive securities of the surviving, consolidated or purchasing corporation, are held by persons who have addresses in this state according to the records of the corporation of which they are shareholders.

(d) For the purposes of subdivision (b) and subdivision (c) of this section, (1) any securities held to the knowledge of the issuer in the names of broker-dealers or nominees of broker-dealers and (2) any securities controlled by any one person who controls directly or indirectly 50 percent or more of the outstanding securities of that class shall not be considered outstanding. The determination of whether 25 percent of the outstanding securities are held by persons having addresses in this state, for the purposes of subdivision (b) and subdivision (c) of this section, shall be made as of the record date for the determination of the security holders entitled to vote on or consent to the action, if approval of such holders is required, or if not as of the date of directors' approval of such action.

(e) Any change (other than a stock split or reverse stock split) in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions of or on outstanding shares, except the following if they substantially and adversely affect any class of shareholders: (1) to authorize the corporation to levy assessments thereon; (2) to change the rights to dividends thereon; (3) to change the redemption provisions; (4) to make them redeemable; (5) to change the amount payable on liquidation; (6) to change the conversion rights; (7) to change the voting rights; (8) to change preemptive rights; (9) to change sinking fund provisions; (10) to rearrange the relative priorities of outstanding shares; (11) to impose or to change restrictions upon the transfer of shares in the articles of incorporation or bylaws; (12) to change the right of shareholders with respect to the calling of special meetings of shareholders; and (13) to change any rights of the shareholders or members of a mutual water company.

(f) Any stock split or reverse stock split, except the following: (1) any stock split or reverse stock split if the corporation has more than one class of voting shares outstanding; (2) any stock split of a stock which is traded in the market and its market price as of the date of directors' approval of the stock split adjusted to give effect to the split was less than two dollars ($2) per share; and (3) any reverse stock split if the stock is not traded in the market and the corporation has the option of paying cash for any fractional shares created by such reverse split and as a result of such action the proportionate interests of the shareholders would be substantially altered. Any shares issued upon a stock split or reverse stock split exempted by this subdivision shall be subject to any conditions previously imposed by the commissioner applicable to the shares with respect to which they are issued.

(g) Any change in the rights of outstanding debt securities, except the following if they substantially and adversely affect any class of securities: (1) to change the rights to interest thereon; (2) to change their redemption provisions; (3) to make them redeemable; (4) to extend the maturity thereof or to change the amount payable thereon at maturity; (5) to change their voting rights; (6) to change their conversion rights; (7) to change sinking fund provisions; and (8) to make them subordinate to other indebtedness.

25104. The following transactions are exempted from the provisions of Section 25130:

(a) Any offer or sale of a security by the bona fide owner thereof for his own account if the sale (1) is not accompanied by the publication of any advertisement and (2) is not effected by or through a broker-dealer in a public offering.

(b) Any offer or sale effected by or through a licensed broker-dealer pursuant to an unsolicited order or offer to buy. For the purpose of this subdivision (b) an inquiry regarding a written bid for a security or a written solicitation of an offer to sell a security made by another broker-dealer within the previous 60 days, shall not be considered the solicitation of an order or offer to buy.

(c) Any offer or sale to a bank, savings and loan association, trust company, insurance company, investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trust (other than a pension or profit-sharing trust of the issuer), or such other institutional investor or governmental agency or instrumentality as the commissioner may designate by rule, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or as trustee; provided the purchaser represents that it is purchasing for its own account (or for such trust account) for investment and not with a view to or for sale in connection with any distribution of the security.

(d) Any transaction or agreement between a person on whose behalf an offering is made and an underwriter or among underwriters, if the sale of the securities is qualified prior to distribution thereof in this state, if any.

(e) Any offer or sale of any security by or for the account of a bona fide secured party selling the security in the ordinary course of business to liquidate a bona fide debt.

(f) Any transaction by an executor, administrator, sheriff, marshal, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian or conservator.

(g) Any offer (but not a sale) of a security for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933 but has not yet become effective, if no stop order or refusal order is in effect and no public proceeding or examination looking toward such an order is pending under Section 8 of that act and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law.

(h) Any offer or sale of a security if a qualification under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 25110) of this part for any securities of the same class has become effective within 18 months prior to such offer or sale or if a qualification under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 25120) or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 25130) of this part for any securities of the same class has become effective within 12 months prior to such offer or sale, provided no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law with respect to such qualification.

25105. There shall be exempted from the provisions of Section 25110, 25120 or 25130 any other transaction which the commissioner by rule exempts as not being comprehended within the purposes of this law and the qualification of which he finds is not necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

CHAPTER 2. ISSUER TRANSACTIONS

25110. It is unlawful for any issuer to offer or sell in this state any security issued by it (other than in a transaction subject to Section 25120), whether or not by or through underwriters, unless such sale has been qualified under Section 25111, 25112 or 25113 (and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect with respect to such qualification) or unless such security or transaction is exempted under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of this part.

25111. (a) Any security for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with the same offering may be qualified by coordination under this section either in an issuer or nonissuer transaction.

(b) An application for qualification under this section shall contain the following information and be accompanied by the following documents, in addition to the information specified in Section 25160 and the consent to service of process required by Section 25165: (1) a copy of the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, together with all exhibits (other than exhibits incorporated by reference and those specified by rule of the commissioner, unless requested by the commissioner); and (2) an undertaking to forward to the commissioner all future amendments to the registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, other than an amendment which merely delays the effective date of the registration statement, promptly and in any event not later than the first business day after the day they are forwarded to or filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, whichever first occurs. Such application must be filed with the commissioner not later than the fifth business day following filing of the registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission, unless such time is extended by order of the commissioner.

(c) Qualification of the sale of securities under this section automatically becomes effective (and the securities may be offered and sold in accordance with the terms of the application as amended) at the moment the federal registration statement becomes effective if all the following conditions are satisfied: (1) no stop order or order under subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law; (2) the application has been on file with the commissioner for at least 10 days; and (3) a statement of the maximum and minimum proposed offering prices and the maximum underwriting discounts and commissions has been on file for two business days or such shorter period as the commissioner permits by rule or order and the offering is made within those limitations. The applicant shall promptly notify the commissioner by telephone or telegram of the date and time when the federal registration statement became effective and the content of the price amendment, if any, and shall promptly file a posteffective amendment to the application containing the information and documents in the price amendment. "Price amendment" means the final federal amendment which includes a statement of the offering price, underwriting and selling discounts or commissions, amount of proceeds, interest, dividend or conversion rates, call prices and other matters related to the offering price. Upon failure to receive the required notification and posteffective amendment with respect to the price amendment, the commissioner may enter a stop order, without notice or hearing, retroactively denying effectiveness to the application for qualification or suspending its effectiveness until compliance with this subdivision, if he promptly notifies the applicant by telephone or telegram (and promptly confirms by letter or telegram when he notifies by telephone) of the issuance of the order. If the applicant proves compliance with the requirements of this subdivision as to notice and posteffective amendment, the stop order is void as of the time of its entry. The commissioner may by rule or order waive either or both of the conditions specified in clauses (2) and (3) of this subdivision. If the federal registration statement becomes effective before all the conditions in this subdivision are satisfied and they are not waived, the application for qualification automatically becomes effective as soon as all the conditions are satisfied. If the applicant advises the commissioner of the date when the federal registration statement is expected to become effective, the commissioner shall promptly advise the applicant by telephone or telegram, at the applicant's expense, whether all the conditions are satisfied and whether he then contemplates the institution of a proceeding under Section

25140 or 25143; but this advice by the commissioner does not preclude the institution of such a proceeding at any time.

25112. (a) Any security issued by a person which is the issuer of any security registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, and which is not eligible for qualification under Section 25111, may be qualified by notification under this section.

(b) An application for qualification under this section shall contain such information and be accompanied by such documents as shall be required by rule of the commissioner, in addition to the information specified in Section 25160 and the consent to service of process required by Section 25165. For this purpose, the commissioner may classify issuers and types of securities.

(c) If no stop order or order under subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law, qualification of the sale of the securities under this section automatically becomes effective (and the securities may be offered and sold in accordance with the terms of the application as amended) at 12 o'clock noon California time of the 10th business day after the filing of the application or the last amendment thereto or at such earlier time as the commissioner determines.

25113. (a) All securities, whether or not eligible for qualification by coordination under Section 25111 or qualification by notification under Section 25112, may be qualified by permit under this section.

(b) An application for a permit under this section shall contain such information and be accompanied by such documents as shall be required by rule of the commissioner, in addition to the information specified in Section 25160 and the consent to service of process required by Section 25165. For this purpose, the commissioner may classify issuers and types of securities.

(c) Qualification of securities under this section becomes effective upon the commissioner issuing a permit authorizing the issuance of such securities.

25114. Every qualification under this chapter is effective for 12 months from its effective date, unless the commissioner by order or rule specifies a different period, except during the time an order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect.

25115. Every application for qualification of an issuer transaction under this chapter shall be signed and verified by the issuer; every application for qualification of a nonissuer transaction under Section 25111 shall be signed and verified by the person on whose behalf the offering is being made.

CHAPTER 3. RECAPITALIZATIONS AND REORGANIZATIONS

25120. It is unlawful for any issuer to offer or sell in this state any security issued by it in connection with any change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions of or on outstanding securities or in any exchange of securities by the issuer with its existing security holders exclusively or in any exchange in connection with any merger or consolidation or purchase of corporate assets in consideration wholly or in part of the issuance of securities, unless the security is qualified for sale under this chapter (and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect with respect to such qualification) or unless such security or transaction is exempted under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of this part.

25121. The securities qualified for sale under this chapter shall be qualified by permit under this section. The application for the permit shall be signed and verified by the issuer and shall contain such information and be accompanied by such documents as shall be required by rule of the commissioner, in addition to the information specified in Section 25160 and the consent to service of process required by Section 25165. For this purpose, the commissioner may classify issuers and types of securities and transactions.

25122. Qualification of securities under this chapter becomes effective upon the commissioner issuing a permit authorizing the issuance of such securities.

CHAPTER 4. NONISSUER TRANSACTIONS

25130. It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell any security in this state in any nonissuer transaction unless it is qualified for such sale under this chapter or under Section 25111 of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 25110) of this part (and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect with respect to such qualification) or unless such security or transaction is exempted under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of this part.

25131. (a) The securities to be offered or sold in a nonissuer transaction, which are not eligible for qualification under Section 25111, shall be qualified by notification under this section.

(b) The application for qualification by notification under this section shall be signed and verified by the person on whose behalf the offering is being made or by the issuer or by any broker-dealer and shall contain such information and be accompanied by such documents as shall be required by rule of the commissioner, in addition to the information specified in Section 25160 and the consent to service of process required by Section 25165. For this purpose, the commissioner may classify issuers and types of securities.

(c) If no stop order or order under subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect under this law, a qualification under this section automatically becomes effective (and the securities may be offered and sold in accordance with the terms of the application as amended) at 12 o'clock noon California time on the 10th business day after the filing of the application or the last amendment thereto or at such earlier time as the commissioner determines.

(d) Information may not be required under this section unless it is known to the person filing the application or to the persons on whose behalf the distribution is to be made, or can be furnished by them without unreasonable effort or expense.

25132. Every qualification under this chapter and every qualification of a nonissuer transaction under Section 25111 is effective for 12 months from its effective date, except during the time a stop order under Section 25140 or an order under subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect. A qualification under this chapter may be withdrawn only in the discretion of the commissioner. The commissioner may by rule or order extend the effective period of any qualification under this chapter.

25133. It is unlawful for any person without the written consent of the commissioner to consummate the transfer of any securities heretofore or hereafter placed in escrow pursuant to a condition ordered by the commissioner and which have not been released from escrow, or which are subject to a currently effective legend condition requiring such consent (except as permitted therein), or which are issued pursuant to the exemption in subdivision (h) of Section 25102 (except as permitted by rule or order of the commissioner).

CHAPTER 5. AUTHORITY OF THE COMMISSIONER

25140. (a) The commissioner may issue a stop order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, any qualification of securities under Section 25111, 25112 or 25131 or may suspend or revoke any permit issued under Section 25113 or 25122 if he finds (1) that the order is in the public interest and (2) that the proposed plan of business of the issuer or the proposed issuance or sale of securities is not fair, just, or equitable, or that the issuer does not intend to transact its business fairly and honestly, or that the securities proposed to be issued or the method to be used in issuing them will tend to work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof.

(b) The commissioner may refuse to issue a permit under Section 25113 unless he finds that the proposed plan of business of the applicant and the proposed issuance of securities are fair, just, and equitable, that the applicant intends to transact its business fairly and honestly, and that the securities which it proposes to issue and the methods to be used by it in issuing them are not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof.

(c) The commissioner may refuse to issue a permit under Section 25122 unless he finds that the proposed plan of recapitalization or reorganization and the proposed issuance of securities are fair, just, and equitable to all security holders affected.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section, the commissioner shall not have authority to issue any stop order or to refuse to issue or to suspend or revoke any permit on the basis that the price at which the security is to be offered is unfair, unjust or inequitable in any case where the security is being publicly offered for cash pursuant to a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 and the offering is the subject of a firm commitment underwriting by an underwriter or syndicate of underwriters all of whom are registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. For the purposes of this subdivision a firm commitment underwriting means an underwriting pursuant to which the underwriter or syndicate of underwriters is committed to take up and pay for the securities subject only to the usual or customary conditions, but not including any "market out" or similar condition operative after the time of commencement of the offering. (A condition relating to the suspension of all trading on a national securities exchange, a banking holiday, war, civil insurrection, or the like is not a "market out" or similar condition within the meaning of this subdivision.) Nothing contained in this subdivision shall deny authority to the commissioner to issue a stop order or to refuse to issue or to suspend or revoke a permit because of unreasonable discounts, commissions or other compensation to underwriters, sellers or others, unreasonable promoters' profits or participations or unreasonable amounts or kinds of options.

25141. The commissioner may impose as a condition of qualification under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 25110) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 25120) of this part conditions requiring the deposit in escrow of securities, imposing a legend condition restricting the transferability thereof, impounding the proceeds from the sale thereof, limiting the expense in connection with the sale thereof, requiring the waiver of assets, dividends or voting rights by the holders of promotional securities, or any other condition if the commissioner finds that without such condition the offering will be unfair, unjust or inequitable. The commissioner may in his discretion modify or remove any such conditions or any legend condition imposed by subdivision (h) of Section 25102 when in his opinion they are no longer necessary or appropriate.

25142. When application is made for a permit to issue securities (whether or not the security or transaction is exempt from qualification) in exchange for one or more bona fide outstanding securities, claims, or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash, the commissioner is expressly authorized to approve the terms and conditions of such issuance and exchange and the fairness of such terms and conditions, and is expressly authorized to hold a hearing upon the fairness of such terms and conditions, at which all persons to whom it is proposed to issue securities in such exchange have the right to appear.

25143. (a) The commissioner may by order summarily postpone or suspend the effectiveness of any qualification pending final determination of any proceeding under this chapter. Upon the entry of the order, the commissioner shall promptly notify each person specified in subdivision (b) of this section that it has been entered and of the reasons therefor and that upon the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing to commence within 15 days after such receipt unless the applicant consents to a later date. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the commissioner, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the commissioner. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the commissioner, after notice and hearing in accordance with subdivision (b) of this section, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

(b) No stop order may be entered under this chapter except under subdivision (a) of this section without appropriate prior notice to the applicant, the issuer, and the person on whose behalf the securities are to be or have been offered and hearing in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, in connection with which the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted thereunder. In the case of qualification by permit, such hearing shall be held upon such notice within 20 days after a written request therefor by the applicant unless the permit is issued prior to the expiration of such period or the applicant consents to a later date.

25144. The commissioner may vacate or modify a stop order if he finds that the conditions which caused its entry have changed or that it is otherwise in the public interest to do so.

25145. Every issuer qualifying securities for sale in this state shall at all times keep and maintain a complete set of books, records, and accounts of such sales and the disposition of the proceeds thereof, and shall thereafter, at such times as are required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a report, setting forth the securities sold by it under such qualification, the proceeds derived therefrom and the disposition thereof.

25146. For a period of 18 months after the qualification is effective, the commissioner may by rule or order require an issuer who has filed an application to file reports not more often than semiannually for the purpose of keeping reasonably current the information contained in the application; provided, that the commissioner may not require the filing of any such report after completion of the offering if a nonissuer transaction in the security would be entitled to exemption under subdivision (a) of Section 25101.

25147. The commissioner may by rule or order require as a condition of qualification that any security qualified under Section 25113 be sold only on a specified form of subscription or sale contract, and that a signed or conformed copy of each contract be preserved for any period up to three years specified in the rule or order.

25148. Except in cases where the delivery of a prospectus or proxy statement is required under the Securities Act of 1933 or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the commissioner may by rule or order require as a condition of qualification under Section 25112, 25113, 25122 or 25131 that a prospectus or proxy statement containing any designated part of the information required in the application be sent or given to each person to whom an offer is made before or concurrently with:

(1) The first written offer made to him (otherwise than by means of a public advertisement) by or for the account of the issuer or any other person on whose behalf the offering is being made or by any underwriter or broker-dealer who is offering part of an unsold allotment or subscription taken by him as a participant in the distribution,

(2) The written confirmation of any sale made by or for the account of any such person,

(3) Payment pursuant to any such sale, or

(4) Delivery of the security pursuant to any such sale, whichever first occurs.

25149. The commissioner may act as escrow holder for securities required to be deposited in escrow by his order.

25150. The commissioner may accept and act upon the opinions, appraisements and reports of any engineers, appraisers, or other experts which may be presented by an applicant on any question of fact concerning or affecting the securities proposed to be offered and sold. In lieu of, or in addition to, such opinions, appraisements, and reports, the commissioner may have any or all matters concerning or affecting such securities investigated, appraised, passed upon and certified to him by engineers, appraisers, or other experts selected by him.

25151. Upon the filing of a written request for the consent to transfer securities referred to in Section 25133, accompanied by such information and documents as the commissioner may by rule require, the commissioner shall issue such consent if he finds that the transfer requested will be fair, just, and equitable to the proposed transferees, and otherwise he shall deny such consent.

CHAPTER 6. GENERAL PROVISIONS

25160. Every application for qualification shall state (1) the maximum amount of securities proposed to be offered in this state; and (2) any adverse order, judgment, or decree entered in connection with the offering by the regulatory authority in any state or by any court or by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Verification of an application shall be in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of pleadings. All information required to be included in an application shall be true and complete as of the time the qualification of the sale of securities becomes effective; and an applicant shall promptly supply by amendment prior to the effectiveness of such qualification any information based on facts occurring after the original date of filing which is necessary to supplement or correct the information contained in the original application so as to make such information not materially misleading as of the effective date of such qualification.

25161. Any document filed under this law or a predecessor statute may be incorporated by reference in a subsequent application if it was filed within four years prior to the filing of the application, or is otherwise available in the files of the commissioner, to the extent that the document is currently accurate.

25162. An amendment to an application filed after the effective date of the qualification of the sale of securities, if such amendment is approved by the commissioner, shall become effective on such date as the commissioner may determine, having due regard to the public interest and the protection of investors.

25163. In any proceeding under this law, the burden of proving an exemption or an exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it.

25164. (a) Neither (1) the fact that an application for qualification under this law has been filed nor (2) the fact that such qualification has become effective constitutes a finding by the commissioner that any document filed under this law is true, complete, or not misleading. Neither any such fact nor the fact that an exemption is available for a security or a transaction means that the commissioner has passed in any way upon the merits or qualifications of, or recommended or given approval to, any person, security or transaction (except as provided in Section 25142).

(b) It is unlawful to make or cause to be made to any prospective purchaser any representation inconsistent with subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) Every permit issued by the commissioner shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the securities permitted to be issued.

25165. Every applicant for qualification of securities under this law (other than a California corporation or a person licensed as a broker-dealer in this state) shall file with the commissioner, in such form as he by rule prescribes, an irrevocable consent appointing the commissioner or his successor in office to be his attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against him or his successor, executor or administrator, which arises under this law or any rule or order hereunder after the consent has been filed, with the same force and validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. A person who has filed such a consent in connection with a previous qualification under this law (or application for a permit under any prior law if the application under this law states that such consent is still effective) need not file another. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the commissioner but it is not effective unless (1) the plaintiff, who may be the commissioner in a suit, action or proceeding instituted by him, forthwith sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at his last address on file with the commissioner, and (2) the plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this section is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

PART 3. REGULATION OF AGENTS, BROKER-DEALERS AND INVESTMENT ADVISERS

CHAPTER 1. EXEMPTIONS

25200. A broker-dealer registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, who has not previously had any certificate denied or revoked under this law or any predecessor statute, shall be exempted from the provisions of Section 25210 if he has no place of business in this state and he does not direct offers to sell or buy into this state in any manner to persons other than broker-dealers. banks, savings and loan associations, trust companies, insurance companies. investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trusts. or other institutional investors or governmental agencies or instrumentalities designated by rule of the commissioner, or to more than 15 other customers having an existing account with such broker-dealer prior to any offer made to them in this state. during any period of 12 consecutive months, whether or not the offeror or any of the offerees is then present in this state.

25201. An agent shall be exempted from the provisions of Section 25210 insofar as he effects transactions on behalf of a broker-dealer who is exempted by the provisions of Section 25200.

25202. A person registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, who has not previously had any certificate denied or revoked under this law or any predecessor statute, shall be exempted from the provisions of Section 25230 if he has no place of business in this state and (a) his only clients in this state are other investment advisers, broker-dealers, banks, savings and loan associations, trust companies, insurance companies, investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trusts, or other institutional investors or governmental agencies or instrumentalities designated by rule of the commissioner, or (b) during any period of 12 consecutive months he does not direct business communications into this state in any manner to more than five clients other than those specified in clause (a) above, whether or not he or any of the persons to whom the communications are directed is then present in this state.

25203. A person whose only clients are investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 or insurance companies or both shall be exempted from the provisions of Section 25230.

25204. The commissioner may by such rules as he deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, either unconditionally or upon specified terms and conditions or for specified periods, exempt from the provisions of Section 25210 or Section 25230 any class of persons specified in such rules.

CHAPTER 2. LICENSING OF AGENTS AND BROKER-DEALERS

25210. Unless exempted under the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25200) of this part, no broker-dealer or agent shall effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state unless such broker-dealer or such agent has first applied for and secured from the commissioner a certificate, then in effect, authorizing such person to act in that capacity.

25211. (a) The application for a certificate as an agent or as a broker-dealer shall be accompanied by the consent to service of process specified in Section 25240 and shall contain such information in such detail relating to the applicant and any persons associated with him as the commissioner may by rule require.

(b) An application for a certificate as a broker-dealer, with respect to a broker-dealer to be formed or organized, may be made by a licensed broker-dealer to which the broker-dealer to be formed or organized is to be the successor. Such application shall contain such information in such detail relating to the applicant and to the successor and any person associated with the applicant or the successor as the commissioner may by rule require. Such application shall become effective and the successor may transact business as a broker-dealer 30 days after the receipt of such application by the commissioner or within such shorter period of time as the commissioner may determine, unless an order has been entered under Section 25212 denying a certificate to the successor or a proceeding looking toward such an order has been instituted under that section. Such certificate shall terminate on the 45th day after the effective date thereof, unless prior thereto the successor shall, in accordance with such rules as the commissioner may prescribe, adopt such application as its own and file the consent to service of process specified in Section 25240.

25212. The commissioner may, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order censure, deny a certificate to, suspend for a period not exceeding 12 months or revoke the certificate of, any broker-dealer if he finds that such censure, denial, suspension, or revocation is in the public interest and that such broker-dealer, whether prior or subsequent to becoming such, or any partner, officer, director, or branch manager of such broker-dealer, whether prior or subsequent to becoming associated with such broker-dealer, or any person directly or indirectly controlling such broker-dealer, whether prior or subsequent to becoming such, or any agent employed by such broker-dealer while so employed:

(a) Has willfully made or caused to be made in any application for a certificate or in any report required to be filed with the commissioner under this law, or in any proceeding before the commissioner, any statement which was at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it was made false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or has willfully omitted to state in any such application or report any material fact which is required to be stated therein; or

(b) Has been either (1) convicted of a felony or misdemeanor, or (2) held liable in a civil action by final judgment of a court based upon conduct showing moral turpitude, and the commissioner finds that any such felony, misdemeanor or civil action (i) involved the purchase or sale of any security, (ii) arose out of the conduct of the business of a broker-dealer or investment adviser, (iii) involved embezzlement, fraudulent conversion or misappropriation of property, funds or securities, or (iv) involved the violation of Section 1341, 1342 or 1343 of Title 18 of the United States Code; or

(c) Is permanently or temporarily enjoined by order, judgment, or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction from acting as an investment adviser, underwriter, or broker-dealer, or as an affiliated person or employee of any investment company, bank or insurance company, or from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with any such activity or in connection with the purchase or sale of any security; or

(d) Is subject to any currently effective order of the Securities and Exchange Commission or the securities administrator of any other state denying registration to or revoking or suspending the registration of such person as a broker or dealer or investment adviser or is subject to any currently effective order of any national securities association or national securities exchange (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) suspending or expelling such person from membership in such association or exchange; or

(e) Has willfully violated any provision of the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or Title 4 (commencing with Section 25000) of this code, or of any rule or regulation under any of such statutes; or

(f) Has willfully aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced, or procured the violation by any other person of any of the statutes or rules or regulations referred to in subdivision (e) above, or has failed reasonably to supervise, with a view to preventing violations of such statutes, rules and regulations, another person who commits such a violation, if such other person is subject to his supervision; for the purposes of this subdivision, no person shall be deemed to have failed reasonably to supervise any person if (1) there have been established procedures, and a system for applying such procedures, which would reasonably be expected to prevent and detect, insofar as practicable, any such violation by such other person, and (2) such person has reasonably discharged the duties and obligations incumbent upon him by reason of such procedures and system without reasonable cause to believe that such procedures and system were not being complied with; or

(g) Is subject to any currently effective order of the commissioner entered pursuant to Section 25213 revoking or suspending the certificate of such person as an agent.

25213. The commissioner may, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order censure, deny a certificate to, suspend for a period not exceeding 12 months or revoke the certificate of, any agent if he finds that such censure, denial, suspension, or revocation is in the public interest and that such agent has committed or omitted any act or omission enumerated in subdivision (a), (e) or (f) of Section 25212 or has been convicted of any offense or held liable in any civil action specified in subdivision (b) of Section 25212 or is enjoined from any act, conduct or practice specified in subdivision (c) of Section 25212 or is subject to any order specified in subdivision (d) of Section 25212.

25214. It is unlawful for any person, as to whom an order suspending or revoking his certificate as an agent is in effect, willfully to become or to be employed by any broker-dealer, without the consent of the commissioner; and it is unlawful for any broker-dealer to permit such a person to become or to remain a person employed by him, without the consent of the commissioner, if such broker-dealer knew, or in the exercise of reasonable care should have known, of such order.

25215. No order may be entered under Section 25212 or Section 25213 except after notice to any person affected thereby (and, in the case of an agent, to his employer or prospective employer if known to the commissioner) of the intention of the commissioner to enter such order and of the reasons therefor and that upon receipt of a request the matter will be set down for hearing to commence within 15 days after such receipt unless the person affected consents to a later date. If no hearing is requested within 30 days after the mailing of such notice and none is ordered by the commissioner, the order may be entered without hearing to remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the commissioner. In the case of an original application for a certificate, such a hearing must be set down to commence within 15 days after receipt of a written request by the applicant made 30 days or more after the filing of the application, even though no such notice by the commissioner has been given, unless the applicant consents to a later date. If a hearing is requested or ordered, it shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted thereunder.

25216. (a) No broker-dealer or agent shall effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state by means of any manipulative, deceptive or other fraudulent scheme, device, or contrivance. The commissioner shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, by rule define such schemes, devices or contrivances as are manipulative, deceptive, or otherwise fraudulent.

(b) No broker-dealer or agent shall effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state in connection with which such broker-dealer or agent engages in any fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative act or practice or makes any fictitious quotation. The commissioner shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, by rule define and prescribe means reasonably designed to prevent such acts and practices as are fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative and such quotations as are fictitious.

(c) No broker-dealer or agent shall effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state in contravention of such rules as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to provide safeguards with respect to the financial responsibility of broker-dealers. Such rules may require a minimum capital for broker-dealers or prescribe a ratio between net capital and aggregate indebtedness or both.

(d) No broker-dealer or agent shall effect or attempt to effect in this state, in contravention of such rules as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, (1) any transaction in connection with any security whereby any party to such transaction acquires any put, call, straddle, or other option or privilege of buying or selling the security, or (2) any transaction in connection with any security with relation to which he has, directly or indirectly, any interest in any such put, call, straddle, option, or privilege, or (3) any transaction in any security for the account of any person who he has reason to believe has, and who actually has, directly or indirectly, any interest in any such put, call, straddle, option, or privilege with relation to such security.

(e) The commissioner may by rule require any licensed broker-dealer and any issuer who employs agents in connection with any security or transaction not exempted by Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of Part 2 of this division to post a surety bond in an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), conditioned that the licensee or issuer will comply with the provisions of this law and the rules and orders issued thereunder. Such bond, unless previously canceled, shall cover for the entire period that the license is in effect. Any appropriate deposit of cash or securities shall be accepted in lieu of any such bond. Every bond shall provide that no suit may be maintained to enforce any liability thereon unless brought within two years after the contract of sale or other act upon which such suit is based and shall also provide that the liability of the surety on such bond to all persons aggrieved shall, in no event, exceed in the aggregate the amount thereof. Every such bond shall also contain a provision authorizing the surety thereon to cancel it upon 30 days written notice to the licensee and to the commissioner; provided, however, that such cancellation shall not affect any liability incurred or accrued prior to the effective date of such cancellation.

25217. (a) No broker-dealer licensed under this chapter shall, during any period when he is not registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state unless such broker-dealer and all agents employed by him meet such specified and appropriate standards with respect to training, experience, and other qualifications as the commissioner finds necessary or desirable. The commissioner may establish such standards by rules, which may: (1) appropriately classify broker-dealers and agents (taking into account relevant matters, including types of business done and nature of securities sold); (2) specify that all or any portion of such standards shall be applicable to any such class; (3) require persons in any such class to pass examinations prescribed in accordance with such rules; and (4) provide that persons in any such class, other than a broker-dealer and partners, officers and supervisory employees (which term may be defined by the commissioner's rules and as so defined shall include branch managers of broker-dealers) of broker-dealers, may be qualified solely on the basis of compliance with such specified standards of training and such other qualifications as the commissioner finds appropriate.

(b) In addition to the fees imposed by Section 25608, the commissioner may prescribe by rule reasonable fees and charges to defray his costs in carrying out this section, including, but not limited to, fees for any examination administered by him or under his direction. The commissioner may cooperate with national securities associations and national securities exchanges and with the Securities and Exchange Commission in administering examinations and may require broker-dealers and agents to pass examinations administered by or on behalf of any such association or exchange or by the Securities and Exchange Commission and to pay to such association or exchange or such commission reasonable fees or charges to defray the costs incurred by such association or exchange or commission in administering such examinations.

25218. (a) No broker-dealer licensed under this chapter, during any period when he is not registered under the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, shall effect any transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state in contravention of such rules as the commissioner may prescribe designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to provide safeguards against unreasonable profits or unreasonable rates of commissions or other charges, and in general to protect investors and the public interest, and to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market.

(b) In addition to the fees and charges authorized by Section 25217 and imposed by Section 25608, each broker-dealer licensed under this chapter who is not registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 shall pay to the commissioner such reasonable fees and charges as may be necessary to defray the costs of additional regulatory duties required to be performed by the commissioner because such broker-dealer is not registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The commissioner shall establish such fees and charges by rule.

25219. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, if in his opinion the public interest and the protection of investors so require, the commissioner is authorized summarily to suspend all over-the-counter trading in this state by broker-dealers and agents in any security or summarily to suspend all trading on a national securities exchange located in this state in any security (provided, in the case of trading on such exchange, that the security is not listed on any national securities exchange located outside this state on which trading has not been suspended) for a period not exceeding 10 days, and for successive periods of 10 days. No broker-dealer or agent shall effect any transaction (other than an unsolicited brokerage transaction effected on a national securities exchange located outside this state) in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state in which trading is in any manner suspended under this section, except in performance of a contract previously entered into.

25220. At any time after the issuance of an order under Section 25219, any interested person (including, but not limited to, the issuer of the security and any broker-dealer who has been making a market in the security) may in writing request that the suspension of trading be rescinded. Upon the receipt of such a written request, the matter shall be set down for hearing to commence within 15 days after such receipt unless the person making the request consents to a later date. After such hearing, which shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and in connection with which the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted thereunder, the commissioner may order such suspension to be continued until modified or rescinded by further order of the commissioner if he finds that trading in the security will be unfair, unjust, or inequitable to investors or will tend to work a fraud upon the purchasers or sellers of such security. Otherwise, he shall rescind the suspension of trading and no further orders may be entered under Section 25219 with respect to the same security in the absence of changed circumstances justifying such order.

CHAPTER 3. LICENSING OF INVESTMENT ADVISERS

25230. It is unlawful for any investment adviser to conduct his business as an investment adviser in this state unless he has first applied for and secured from the commissioner a certificate, then in effect, authorizing him to do so or unless he is exempted by the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25200) of this part.

25231. Any investment adviser, or any person who contemplates becoming an investment adviser, may apply for a certificate to act as such by filing with the commissioner an application. Such application shall be accompanied by the consent to service of process specified in Section 25240 and shall contain such information, in such form and detail, as the commissioner may by rule prescribe.

25232. The commissioner may, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order censure, deny a certificate to, or suspend for a period not exceeding 12 months or revoke the certificate of, an investment adviser, if he finds that such censure, denial, suspension, or revocation is in the public interest and that such investment adviser, whether prior or subsequent to becoming such, or any partner, officer or director thereof or any person performing similar functions or any person directly or indirectly controlling such investment adviser, whether prior or subsequent to becoming such, or any employee of such investment adviser while so employed:

(a) Has willfully made or caused to be made in any application for a certificate or any report filed with the commissioner under this law, or in any proceeding before the commissioner, any statement which was at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it was made false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or has willfully omitted to state in any such application or report any material fact which is required to be stated therein; or

(b) Has been either (1) convicted of any felony or misdemeanor, or (2) held liable in a civil action by final judgment of a court based upon conduct showing moral turpitude, and the commissioner finds that any such felony, misdemeanor or civil action (i) involved the purchase or sale of any security, (ii) arose out of the conduct of the business of a broker-dealer or investment adviser, (iii) involved embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property, funds or securities, or (iv) involved the violation of Section 1341, 1342 or 1343 of Title 18 of the United States Code; or

(c) Is permanently or temporarily enjoined by order, judgment, or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction from acting as an investment adviser, underwriter or broker-dealer or as an affiliated person or employee of any investment company, bank, or insurance company, or from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with any such activity, or in connection with the purchase or sale of any security; or

(d) Is subject to any currently effective order of the Securities and Exchange Commission or the securities administrator of any other state revoking or suspending his registration as an investment adviser or as a broker or dealer or is subject to any currently effective order of any national securities association or national securities exchange (as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) suspending or expelling him from membership in such association or exchange; or

(e) Has willfully violated any provision of the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or Title 4 (commencing with Section 25000) of this code, or of any rule or regulation under any of such statutes; or

(f) Has aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced, or procured the violation by any other person of any statute or rule or regulation referred to in subdivision (e).

25233. No order may be entered under Section 25232 except after notice to the person affected thereby of the intention of the commissioner to enter such order and of the reasons therefor and that upon receipt of a request the matter will be set down for hearing to commence within 15 days after such receipt unless the person affected consents to a later date. If no hearing is requested within 30 days after the mailing of such notice and none is ordered by the commissioner, the order may be entered without hearing to remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the commissioner. In the case of an original application for a certificate, such a hearing must be set down to commence within 15 days after receipt of a written request by the applicant made 30 days or more after the filing of the application, even though no such notice by the commissioner has been given, unless the applicant consents to a later date. If a hearing is requested or ordered, it shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted thereunder.

25234. (a) No investment adviser shall in this state enter into, extend or renew any investment advisory contract, or in any way perform any investment advisory contract entered into, extended or renewed on or after the effective date of this law, if such contract:

(1) Provides for compensation to the investment adviser on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the client, except as may be permitted by rule of the commissioner;

(2) Fails to provide, in substance, that no assignment of such contract shall be made by the investment adviser without the consent of the other party to the contract; or

(3) Fails to provide, in substance, that the investment adviser, if a partnership, will notify the other party to the contract of any change in the membership of such partnership within a reasonable time after such change.

(b) As used in this section, "investment advisory contract" means any contract or agreement whereby a person agrees to act as investment adviser or to manage any investment or trading account for a person other than an investment company. Clause (1) of subdivision (a) of this section does not prohibit an investment advisory contract which provides for compensation based upon the total value of a fund averaged over a definite period, or as of definite dates, or taken as of a definite date.

25235. It is unlawful for any investment adviser, directly or indirectly, in this state:

(a) To employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud any client or prospective client.

(b) To engage in any transaction, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any client or prospective client.

(c) Acting as principal for his own account, knowingly to sell any security to or purchase any security from a client for whom he is acting as investment adviser, or, acting as broker for a person other than such client, knowingly to effect any sale or purchase of any security for the account of such client, without disclosing to such client in writing before the completion of the transaction the capacity in which he is acting and obtaining the written consent of the client to such transaction.

(d) To engage in any act, practice, or course of business which is fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative. The commissioner shall, for the purpose of this subdivision, by rule define and prescribe means reasonably designed to prevent such acts, practices, and courses of business as are fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative.

(e) To represent that he is an investment counsel or to use the name "investment counsel" as descriptive of his business unless his principal business consists of acting as investment adviser and a substantial part of his business consists of rendering investment advisory services on the basis of the individual needs of his clients.

25236. (a) No investment adviser licensed under this chapter shall conduct any business as such investment adviser in this state unless the investment adviser and all natural persons associated with such investment adviser meet such specified and appropriate standards with respect to training, experience and other qualifications as the commissioner finds necessary or desirable. The commissioner may establish such standards by rule, which may

(1) Appropriately classify investment advisers and persons associated with investment advisers;

(2) Specify that all or any portion of such standards shall be applicable to any such class; and

(3) Require persons in any such class to pass examinations prescribed in accordance with such rules.

(b) In addition to the fees imposed by Section 25608, the commissioner may prescribe by rule reasonable fees and charges to defray the costs of carrying out this section, including, but not limited to, fees for any examination administered by him or under his direction.

25237. The commissioner shall prescribe such rules with respect to investment advisers who have custody of their clients' securities or funds or who have any power of attorney from their clients to execute transactions as he finds to be necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors. Such rules may require a minimum capital for such investment advisers or prescribe a minimum ratio between net capital and aggregate indebtedness or both, and may require a surety bond in an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000). All of the provisions of subdivision (e) of Section 25216 shall be applicable to such bond.

CHAPTER 4. GENERAL PROVISIONS

25240. Every applicant for a certificate as an agent, a broker-dealer, or an investment adviser (other than a California corporation) shall file with the commissioner, in such form as he by rule prescribes, an irrevocable consent appointing the commissioner or his successor in office to be his attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against him or his successor, executor, or administrator, which arises under this law or any rule or order hereunder after the consent has been filed, with the same force and validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. A person who has filed such a consent in connection with a previous application under this law (or under any prior law if the application states that such consent is still effective) need not file another. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the commissioner, but it is not effective unless (1) the plaintiff, who may be the commissioner in a suit, action or proceeding instituted by him, forthwith sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at his last address on file with the commissioner, and (2) the plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this section is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

25241. Every broker-dealer and every investment adviser shall make and keep such accounts, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records and shall file such financial and other reports as the commissioner by rule requires. All records so required shall be preserved for the time specified in the rule. All records referred to in this section are subject at any time and from time to time to such reasonable periodic, special, or other examinations by the commissioner, within or without this state, as the commissioner deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors. For the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplications of examinations, the commissioner, insofar as he deems it practicable in administering this section, may cooperate with the securities administrators of other states, the Securities and Exchange Commission and any national securities exchange or national securities association.

25242. (a) Surrender of a certificate as a broker-dealer or agent or investment adviser becomes effective 30 days after receipt of an application to surrender such certificate or within such shorter period of time as the commissioner may determine, unless a revocation or suspension proceeding is pending when the application is filed or a proceeding to revoke or suspend or to impose conditions upon the withdrawal is instituted within 30 days after the application is filed. If such a proceeding is pending or instituted, withdrawal becomes effective at such time and upon such conditions as the commissioner by order determines.

(b) If the commissioner finds that any agent or broker-dealer or investment adviser is no longer in existence, or has ceased to do business as a broker-dealer or agent or investment adviser, or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee or conservator or guardian, or cannot be located after reasonable search, the commissioner may by order summarily revoke the certificate of such broker-dealer or agent or investment adviser.

(c) The commissioner may summarily suspend or revoke the certificate of a broker-dealer or agent or investment adviser if he (1) fails to pay any fee required by Section 25608 or imposed pursuant to Section 25217, 25218 or 25236 within 10 days after notice by the commissioner that such fee is due and unpaid, or (2) fails to file any report required under Section 25241 within 10 days after notice by the commissioner that such report is due, or (3) fails to maintain any bond required by subdivision (e) of Section 25216 or by Section 25237.

25243. It is unlawful for any person holding a certificate as an agent, broker-dealer, or investment adviser under this part to represent or imply in any manner whatsoever that such person has been sponsored, recommended, or approved or that his abilities or qualifications have in any respect been passed upon by the commissioner. Nothing in this section prohibits a statement (other than in a paid advertisement) that a person holds a certificate under this law, if such statement is true in fact and if the effect of such licensing is not misrepresented.

25244. Any person whose certificate as an agent, broker-dealer, or investment adviser has been suspended or revoked shall immediately surrender such certificate to the commissioner.

PART 4. ADVERTISING SECURITIES

25300. (a) No person shall publish any advertisement in this state concerning any security sold or offered for sale in this state unless a true copy of the advertisement has first been filed in the office of the commissioner at least three days prior to the publication or such shorter period as the commissioner may by rule or order allow.

(b) Subdivision (a) of this section does not apply to:

(1) Any advertisement for any security published by a licensed broker-dealer if he is not effecting transactions in such security as an underwriter or other participant in a distribution for the issuer;

(2) Any advertisement for any security published by an issuer or any underwriter or other participant in a distribution for the issuer if the security or transaction is exempted by the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of Part 2 of this division;

(3) Any advertisement for any security in a nonissuer transaction if the security is exempted by Section 25100 or an offer of the security is exempted by subdivision (g) of Section 25104;

(4) Any advertisement permitted or required by Section 5(b)(2) or Section 2(10)(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to a security which has been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and qualified for sale in this state; or

(5) Any other advertisement exempted by rule of the commissioner.

25301. All advertisements published by any broker-dealer which are exempted from filing by clause (1) or clause (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 25300 shall be approved prior to use by signature or initial of an officer, partner, or responsible supervisory official of such broker-dealer and such signed or initialed copy shall be retained by such broker-dealer in an appropriate file for a period of three years, subject to examination by the commissioner.

25302. No person shall publish any advertisement concerning any security in this state after the commissioner finds that the advertisement contains any statement that is false or misleading or omits to make any statement necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading and so notifies the person in writing. Such notification may be given summarily without notice or hearing. At any time after the issuance of a notification under this section, the person desiring to use the advertisement may in writing request that the order be rescinded. Upon the receipt of such a written request, the matter shall be set down for hearing to commence within 15 days after such receipt unless the person making the request consents to a later date. After such hearing, which shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, the commissioner shall determine whether to affirm and continue or to rescind such order, and the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted under such act.

PART 5. FRAUDULENT AND PROHIBITED PRACTICES

25400. It is unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, in this state:

(a) For the purpose of creating a false or misleading appearance of active trading in any security or a false or misleading appearance with respect to the market for any security, (1) to effect any transaction in a security which involves no change in the beneficial ownership thereof, or (2) to enter an order or orders for the purchase of any security with the knowledge that an order or orders of substantially the same size, at substantially the same time and at substantially the same price, for the sale of any such security, has been or will be entered by or for the same or different parties, or (3) to enter an order or orders for the sale of any security with the knowledge that an order or orders of substantially the same size, at substantially the same time and at substantially the same price, for the purchase of any such security, has been or will be entered by or for the same or different parties.

(b) To effect, alone or with one or more other persons, a series of transactions in any security creating actual or apparent active trading in such security or raising or depressing the price of such security, for the purpose of inducing the purchase or sale of such security by others.

(c) If such person is a broker-dealer or other person selling or offering for sale or purchasing or offering to purchase the security, to induce the purchase or sale of any security by the circulation or dissemination of information to the effect that the price of any such security will or is likely to rise or fall because of market operations of any one or more persons conducted for the purpose of raising or depressing the price of such security.

(d) If such person is a broker-dealer or other person selling or offering for sale or purchasing or offering to purchase the security, to make, for the purpose of inducing the purchase or sale of such security by others, any statement which was, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or which omitted to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, and which he knew or had reasonable ground to believe was so false or misleading.

(e) For a consideration, received directly or indirectly from a broker-dealer or other person selling or offering for sale or purchasing or offering to purchase the security, to induce the purchase or sale of any security by the circulation or dissemination of information to the effect that the price of such security will or is likely to rise or fall because of the market operations of any one or more persons conducted for the purpose of raising or depressing the price of such security.

25401. It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell a security in this state or buy or offer to buy a security in this state by means of any written or oral communication which includes an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

25402. It is unlawful for an issuer or any person who is an officer, director or controlling person of an issuer or any other person whose relationship to the issuer gives him access, directly or indirectly, to material information about the issuer not generally available to the public, to purchase or sell any security of the issuer in this state at a time when he knows material information about the issuer gained from such relationship which would significantly affect the market price of that security and which is not generally available to the public, and which he knows is not intended to be so available, unless he has reason to believe that the person selling to or buying from him is also in possession of the information.

PART 6. ENFORCEMENT

CHAPTER 1. CIVIL LIABILITY

25500. Any person who willfully participates in any act or transaction in violation of Section 25400 shall be liable to any other person who purchases or sells any security at a price which was affected by such act or transaction for the damages sustained by the latter as a result of such act or transaction. Such damages shall be the difference between the price at which such other person purchased or sold securities and the market value which such securities would have had at the time of his purchase or sale in the absence of such act or transaction, plus interest at the legal rate.

25501. Any person who violates Section 25401 shall be liable to the person who purchases a security from him or sells a security to him, who may sue either for rescission or for damages (if the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be, no longer owns the security), unless the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the facts concerning the untruth or omission or that the defendant exercised reasonable care and did not know (or if he had exercised reasonable care would not have known) of the untruth or omission. Upon rescission, a purchaser may recover the consideration paid for the security, plus interest at the legal rate, less the amount of any income received on the security, upon tender of the security. Upon rescission, a seller may recover the security, upon tender of the consideration paid for the security plus interest at the legal rate, less the amount of any income received by the defendant on the security. Damages recoverable under this section by a purchaser shall be an amount equal to the difference between (a) the price at which the security was bought plus interest at the legal rate from the date of purchase and (b) the value of the security at the time it was disposed of by the plaintiff plus the amount of any income received on the security by the plaintiff. Damages recoverable under this section by a seller shall be an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of the security at the time of the filing of the complaint plus the amount of any income received by the defendant on the security and (2) the price at which the security was sold plus interest at the legal rate from the date of sale. Any tender specified in this section may be made at any time before entry of judgment.

25502. Any person who violates Section 25402 shall be liable to the person who purchases a security from him or sells a security to him, for damages equal to the difference between the price at which such security was purchased or sold and the market value which such security would have had at the time of the purchase or sale if the information known to the defendant had been publicly disseminated prior to that time and a reasonable time had elapsed for the market to absorb the information, plus interest at the legal rate, unless the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the information or that the plaintiff would have purchased or sold at the same price even if the information had been revealed to him.

25503. Any person who violates Section 25110, 25120 or 25130 shall be liable to any person acquiring from him the security sold in violation of such section, who may sue to recover the consideration he paid for such security with interest thereon at the legal rate, less the amount of any income received therefrom, upon the tender of such security, or for damages (if he no longer owns the security) equal to the difference between (a) his purchase price plus interest at the legal rate from the date of purchase and (b) the value of the security at the time it was disposed of by the plaintiff plus the amount of any income received therefrom by the plaintiff. Any person on whose behalf an offering is made and any underwriter of the offering, whether on a best efforts or a firm commitment basis, shall be jointly and severally liable under this section, but in no event shall any underwriter (unless such underwriter shall have knowingly received from the issuer for acting as an underwriter some benefit, directly or indirectly, in which all other underwriters similarly situated did not share in proportion to their respective interest in the underwriting) be liable in any suit or suits authorized under this section for damages in excess of the total price at which the securities underwritten by him and distributed to the public were offered to the public. Any tender specified in this section may be made at any time before entry of judgment. No person shall be liable under this section if the sale of the security is qualified prior to the payment or receipt of any part of the consideration for the security sold, even though an offer to sell or a contract of sale may have been made or entered into without qualification.

25504. Every person who directly or indirectly controls a person liable under Section 25501 or 25503, every partner in a firm so liable, every principal executive officer or director of a corporation so liable, every person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, every employee of a person so liable who materially aids in the act or transaction constituting the violation, and every broker-dealer or agent who materially aids in the act or transaction constituting the violation, are also liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as such person, unless the other person who is so liable had no knowledge of or reasonable grounds to believe in the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

25505. A corporation which is liable under this chapter shall have a right of indemnification against any of its principal executive officers, directors, and controlling persons whose willful violation of any provision of this law gave rise to such liability. All persons liable under this chapter shall have a right of contribution against all other persons similarly liable, based upon each person's proportionate share of the total liability, except that no person whose willful violation of any provision of this law has given rise to any liability shall have any right of contribution against any other person guilty merely of a negligent violation, and except that no principal executive officer, director, or controlling person whose willful violation has given rise to any liability shall have any right of contribution against the corporation to which he sustains that relationship.

25506. No action shall be maintained to enforce any liability created under Section 25500, 25501, or 25502 (or Section 25504 insofar as it relates to those sections) unless brought before the expiration of four years after the act or transaction constituting the violation or the expiration of one year after the discovery by the plaintiff of the facts constituting the violation, whichever shall first expire.

25507. (a) No action shall be maintained to enforce any liability created under Section 25503 (or Section 25504 insofar as it relates to that section) unless brought before the expiration of two years after the violation upon which it is based or the expiration of one year after the discovery by the plaintiff of the facts constituting such violation, whichever shall first expire.

(b) No buyer may commence an action under Section 25503 (or Section 25504 insofar as it relates to that section) if, before suit is commenced, such buyer shall have received a written offer approved as to form by the commissioner (1) stating the respect in which liability under such section may have arisen, (2) offering to repurchase the security for a cash price payable upon delivery of the security equal to the consideration paid, together with interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, less the amount of any income received on the security, or, if the buyer no longer owns the security, offering to pay to the buyer upon acceptance of the offer an amount in cash equal to the damages computed in accordance with Section 25503, (3) providing that such offer may be accepted by the buyer at any time within a specified period of not less than 30 days after the date of receipt thereof, (4) setting forth the provisions of this subdivision (b), and (5) containing such other information as the commissioner may require by rule or order, and such buyer shall have failed to accept such offer in writing within the specified period after receipt thereof.

25508. No action shall be maintained to enforce any right of indemnification or contribution created by Section 25505 unless brought before the expiration of one year after final judgment based upon the liability for which the right of indemnification or contribution exists.

25509. Every cause of action under this chapter survives the death of any person who might have been a plaintiff or defendant.

25510. Except as explicitly provided in this chapter, no civil liability in favor of any private party shall arise against any person by implication from or as a result of the violation of any provision of this law or any rule or order hereunder. Nothing in this chapter shall limit any liability which may exist by virtue of any other statute or under common law if this law were not in effect.

CHAPTER 2. POWERS OF THE COMMISSIONER

25530. (a) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this law or any rule or order hereunder, he may in his discretion bring an action in the name of the people of the State of California in the superior court to enjoin the acts or practices or to enforce compliance with this law or any rule or order hereunder. Upon a proper showing a permanent or preliminary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandate shall be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets. The court may not require the commissioner to post a bond.

(b) The commissioner may, with the approval of the Attorney General, include in any action authorized by subdivision (a) of this section a claim for restitution or damages under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25500) of this part on behalf of the persons injured by the act or practice constituting the subject matter of the action, and the court shall have jurisdiction to award appropriate relief to such persons, if the court finds that enforcement of the rights of such persons by private civil action, whether by class action or otherwise, would be so burdensome or expensive as to be impractical.

25531. (a) The commissioner in his discretion (1) may make such public or private investigations within or outside of this state as he deems necessary to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate any provision of this law or any rule or order hereunder or to aid in the enforcement of this law or in the prescribing of rules and forms hereunder, and (2) may publish information concerning any violation of this law or any rule or order hereunder.

(b) In making any investigation authorized by subdivision (a) of this section, the commissioner may, for a reasonable time not exceeding 30 days, take possession of the books, records, accounts and other papers pertaining to the business of any broker-dealer or investment adviser and place a keeper in exclusive charge of them in the place where they are usually kept. During such possession no person shall remove or attempt to remove any of the books, records, accounts, or other papers except pursuant to a court order or with the consent of the commissioner; but the directors, officers, partners, and employees of the broker-dealer or investment adviser may examine them, and employees shall be permitted to make entries therein reflecting current transactions.

(c) For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this law, the commissioner or any officer designated by him may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records which the commissioner deems relevant or material to the inquiry.

(d) In case of contumacy by, or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to, any person, the superior court, upon application by the commissioner, may issue to the person an order requiring him to appear before the commissioner, or the officer designated by him, there to produce documentary evidence, if so ordered, or to give evidence touching the matter under investigation or in question. Failure to obey the order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt.

(e) No person is excused from attending and testifying or from producing any document or record before the commissioner, or in obedience to the subpoena of the commissioner or any officer designated by him, or in any proceeding instituted by the commissioner, on the ground that the testimony or evidence (documentary or otherwise) required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no individual may be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after validly claiming his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence (documentary or otherwise), except that the individual testifying is not exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury or contempt committed in testifying.

25532. If in the opinion of the commissioner the sale of any security is subject to qualification under this law and it is being or has been offered for sale without first being qualified, the commissioner may order the issuer or offeror of such security to desist and refrain from the further offer or sale of such security unless and until it has been qualified under this law. If, after such an order has been made, a request for a hearing is filed in writing by the person to whom such order was directed, a hearing shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commissioner shall have all of the powers granted thereunder; unless such hearing is commenced within 15 days after the request is made (or the person affected consents to a later date), such order is rescinded.

25533. The commissioner may refer such evidence as is available concerning any violation of this law or of any rule or order hereunder to the district attorney of the county in which the violation occurred, who may, with or without such a reference, institute appropriate criminal proceedings under this law.

CHAPTER 3. CRIMES

25540. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this law, or who willfully violates any rule or order under this law, shall upon conviction be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisoned in the state prison for not more than 10 years or in a county jail for not more than one year, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment; but no person may be imprisoned for the violation of any rule or order if he proves that he had no knowledge of the rule or order.

25541. Any person who willfully employs, directly or indirectly, any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud in connection with the offer, purchase, or sale of any security or willfully engages, directly or indirectly, in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person in connection with the offer, purchase, or sale of any security shall upon conviction be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisoned in the state prison for not more than 10 years or in a county jail for not more than one year, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

25542. Nothing in this law limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which constitutes a crime under any other statute.

CHAPTER 4. SERVICE OF PROCESS

25550. When any person, including any nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable by this law or any rule or order hereunder, whether or not he has filed a consent to service of process under Section 25165 or Section 25240, and personal jurisdiction over him cannot otherwise be obtained in this state, that conduct shall be considered equivalent to his appointment of the commissioner or his successor in office to be his attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action, or proceeding against him or his successor, executor, or administrator which grows out of that conduct and which is brought under this law or any rule or order hereunder, with the same force and validity as if served on him personally. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the commissioner, but it is not effective unless (a) the plaintiff, who may be the commissioner in a suit, action, or proceeding instituted by him, forthwith sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at his last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice, and (b) the plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this section is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

PART 7. ADMINISTRATION

25600. There is in the state government a Division of Corporations, which shall administer the provisions of this division. The chief officer of the Division of Corporations is the Commissioner of Corporations. The commissioner shall be appointed by the Governor and shall hold office at the pleasure of the Governor. He shall receive an annual salary as fixed in the Government Code. Within 15 days from the time of his appointment the commissioner shall take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file it in the office of the Secretary of State, and shall execute an official bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

25601. The commissioner shall have his principal office in the City of Sacramento, and may establish branch offices in the City and County of San Francisco, in the City of Los Angeles and in the City of San Diego. The commissioner shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light, and other proper conveniences for the transaction of the business of the Division of Corporations.

25602. In accordance with the laws governing the state civil service, the commissioner shall employ and, with the approval of the Department of Finance, fix the compensation of such personnel as he needs to discharge properly the duties imposed upon him by law, including stenographic reporters to take and transcribe the testimony in any formal hearing or investigation before the commissioner or before a person authorized by him. The personnel of the Division of Corporations shall perform such duties as the commissioner assigns to them. Such employees as the commissioner designates by rule or order shall, within 15 days after their appointments, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file it in the office of the Secretary of State.

25603. The commissioner shall adopt a seal bearing the inscription: "Commissioner of Corporations, State of California." The seal shall be affixed to or imprinted on all orders and certificates issued by him and such other instruments as he directs. All courts shall take judicial notice of this seal.

25604. The administration of the Division of Corporations shall be supported from the General Fund of the state.

25605. (a) All applications, reports and other papers and documents filed with the commissioner under this law shall be open to public inspection, except that the commissioner may, in his discretion, withhold from public inspection any information the disclosure of which is, in the judgment of the commissioner, not necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors. The commissioner may publish any information filed with him or obtained by him, if, in the judgment of the commissioner, such action is in the public interest.

No provision of this law authorizes the commissioner or any of his assistants, clerks, or deputies to disclose any information withheld from public inspection except among themselves or when necessary or appropriate in a proceeding or investigation under this law or to other federal or state regulatory agencies. No provision of this law either creates or derogates from any privilege which exists at common law or otherwise when documentary or other evidence is sought under a subpoena directed to the commissioner or any of his assistants, clerks, or deputies.

(b) It is unlawful for the commissioner or any of his assistants, clerks, or deputies to use for personal benefit any information which is filed with or obtained by the commissioner and which is not then generally available to the public.

25606. The Attorney General shall render to the commissioner opinions upon all questions of law, relating to the construction or interpretation of any law under his jurisdiction or arising in the administration thereof, that may be submitted to him by the commissioner, and shall act as the attorney for the commissioner in all actions and proceedings brought by or against him under or pursuant to any provision of any law under his jurisdiction.

25607. (a) Neither the commissioner nor any of his assistants, clerks or deputies during their terms of employment shall be interested as a director, officer, shareholder, member, partner, agent, or employee of any person who, during the period of such official's or employee's association with the Division of Corporations, (1) was licensed or applied for license as a broker-dealer, agent or investment adviser under this division, or (2) applied for or secured the qualification of the sale of securities under this division.

(b) Nothing contained in subdivision (a) of this section shall prohibit the holding or purchasing of any securities by any assistant, clerk, or deputy in accordance with such rules as the commissioner shall adopt for the purpose of protecting the public interest and avoiding conflicts of interest with respect to such assistants, clerks and deputies.

(c) Nothing contained in subdivision (a) of this section shall prohibit the holding or purchasing of any securities by the commissioner if (1) such security is held or purchased through a management account or trust administered by a bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state which has sole investment discretion regarding the holding, purchase and sale of securities, and (2) the commissioner did not, directly or indirectly, advise, counsel, command or suggest the holding, purchase or sale of any such security or furnish any information relating to such security to such bank or trust company, and (3) such account or trust does not at any time have more than 10 percent of its total assets invested in the securities of any one issuer or hold more than 5 percent of the outstanding shares or units of any class of securities of any one issuer. The commissioner shall report to the Attorney General not less often than quarterly all holdings, purchases, and sales of securities by him as authorized in this subdivision, which reports shall be retained by the Attorney General as public documents.

25608. (a) The commissioner shall charge and collect the fees fixed in this section. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be transmitted to the State Treasurer at least weekly, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof and shall be credited to the General Fund.

(b) The fee for filing an application for a negotiating permit under subdivision (c) of Section 25102 is fifty dollars ($50).

(c) The fee for filing a notice pursuant to clause 5 of subdivision (h) of Section 25102 is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(d) The fee for filing an application for designation of an issuer pursuant to subdivision (k) of Section 25100 is fifty dollars ($50).

(e) The fee for filing an application for qualification of the sale of securities by notification under Section 25112 or by permit under Section 25113 (except applications for qualification by permit of the sale of any guarantee of any security, the fees for which applications are fixed in subdivision (j) of this section) is one hundred dollars ($100) plus one-tenth of 1 percent of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be sold in this state up to a maximum aggregate fee of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

(f) The fee for filing an application for qualification of the sale of securities by coordination under Section 25111 is one hundred dollars ($100) plus one-tenth of 1 percent of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be sold in this state up to a maximum aggregate fee of one thousand one hundred dollars ($1,100).

(g) For the purpose of determining the fees fixed in subdivisions (e) and (f):

(1) The value of the securities shall be the price at which the company proposes to sell the securities, or the value, as alleged in the application, or the actual value, as determined by the commissioner, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor, or of the securities when sold, whichever is greater.

(2) Interim or voting trust certificates shall have a value equal to the aggregate value of the securities to be represented by the interim or voting trust certificates.

(3) The value of a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to another security of the same or another issuer shall be an amount equal to the consideration to be paid for such warrant or right plus an amount equal to the consideration to be paid upon purchase of the additional securities, provided that if such latter amount is not determinable at the time of qualification, such amount shall be the then value of such additional securities as determined by the commissioner.

(4) In the case of a share dividend or share split the value of the securities to be sold shall be the amount of surplus proposed to be transferred to stated capital and any surplus account.

(h) The fee for filing an application for qualification of the sale of securities by permit under Section 25121 is:

(1) One hundred dollars ($100) in connection with any change in the rights, preferences, privileges, or restrictions of or on outstanding securities;

(2) One hundred dollars ($100) plus one-tenth of 1 percent of the value, as alleged in the application, or the actual value, as determined by the commissioner, of the consideration to be received in exchange therefor, up to a maximum aggregate fee of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), in any exchange of securities by the issuer with its existing security holders exclusively, or in any exchange in connection with any merger or consolidation or purchase of corporate assets in consideration of the issuance of securities.

(i) The fee for filing an application for qualification of the sale of securities by notification under Section 25131 and the fee for an application for the removal of any condition under Section 25141 is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(j) The fee for filing any application for a permit to execute or issue any guarantee of any security is fifty dollars ($50).

(k) The fee for acting as escrow holder for securities under Section 25149 is fifty dollars ($50). In addition, a fee of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) shall be paid for the deposit with the commissioner of each new certificate or other document resulting from a transfer in escrow.

(l) The fee for filing an application for an order (1) consenting to the transfer in escrow of securities, (2) consenting to the transfer of securities subject to any condition imposed by the commissioner requiring the commissioner's consent to such transfer, or (3) consenting to the transfer of securities subject to a legend stamped or printed on the certificates evidencing such securities pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 25102, is ten dollars ($10) for each transferor.

(m) The filing fee for an amendment to an application filed after the effective date of the qualification of the sale of securities is fifty dollars ($50) plus any additional fee which would have been required to be paid with the original application for qualification of the sale of securities under this section if the matters set forth in the amendment had been included in the original application.

(n) (1) The fee for filing an application for a certificate as a broker-dealer under Section 25211 is two hundred dollars ($200) for the first office or location and seventy dollars ($70) for each additional office or location in California. Thereafter, every broker-dealer who has secured from the commissioner a certificate shall, in order to keep such certificate in effect, pay for each calendar year following the calendar year in which such certificate was secured, an annual renewal fee of two hundred dollars ($200) for the first office or location and seventy dollars ($70) for each additional office or location in California on or before the 15th day of December of the year preceding the calendar year for which such fee is payable.

(2) If, after a certificate has been issued to any broker-dealer operating as a partnership, there is a change of interest affecting less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the whole interest therein, a new application need not be made, but there shall be filed with the commissioner, accompanied by payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10), written notice of the change, stating the names and addresses of the partners and their respective interests, and any other information which may be required by the commissioner, together with evidence satisfactory to the commissioner that any bond theretofore filed by the broker-dealer is and will be maintained in good standing notwithstanding the change. The commissioner may, in his discretion, require a new application, in which event the procedure and fee shall be the same as upon an original application for a certificate as a broker-dealer. If the commissioner approves the change without a new application, the certificate theretofore issued and in force and any agents' certificates theretofore issued to agents of the partnership and then in force continue in full force and effect.

(o) (1) The fee for filing an application for a certificate as an agent under Section 25211 is thirty-five dollars ($35). Thereafter, every agent who has secured from the commissioner a certificate shall, in order to keep such certificate in effect, pay for each calendar year following the calendar year in which such certificate was secured an annual renewal fee of thirty-five dollars ($35) on or before the 15th day of December of the year preceding the calendar year for which such fee is payable.

(2) If a licensed broker-dealer acquires the business of another licensed broker-dealer, the certificates of the agents of such latter broker-dealer may be transferred to the acquiring broker-dealer upon application therefor to the commissioner and the payment of a transfer fee of five dollars ($5) for each licensed agent to be so transferred; and such transfer shall not, for filing fee purposes, be deemed an initial or renewal registration of any such transferred agent. The foregoing provisions of this clause (2) shall be applicable to any acquisition by a licensed broker-dealer of the business of another licensed broker-dealer other than by merger or consolidation. With respect to the merger or consolidation of two or more corporate licensee broker-dealers, the licensed agents of the broker-dealers who are parties to such merger or consolidation shall become the licensed agents of the new or surviving corporate licensee broker-dealer resulting from such merger or consolidation upon written notice of such merger or consolidation to the commissioner, and the certificates of such agents shall not be deemed to have been transferred for the purposes of this subdivision.

(p) The fee for filing an application for a certificate to act as an investment adviser under Section 25231 is one hundred dollars ($100). Thereafter, every investment adviser who has secured from the commissioner a certificate shall, in order to keep such certificate in effect, pay for each calendar year following the calendar year in which such certificate was secured, an annual renewal fee of one hundred dollars ($100) on or before the 15th day of December of the year preceding the calendar year for which such fee is payable.

(q) The fee for any examination, audit, or investigation is the actual amount of the salary or other compensation paid to the persons making the examination, audit, or investigation plus the actual amount of expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of the work.

(r) The fee for any hearing held by the commissioner pursuant to Section 25142 shall be the sum determined by the commissioner to cover the actual expense of noticing and holding such hearing.

(s) The commissioner may fix by rule a reasonable charge for any publications issued under his authority; provided, however, that such charges shall not be applicable to reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution.

25609. Every final order, decision, license, or other official act of the commissioner is subject to judicial review in accordance with law.

25610. The commissioner may from time to time make, amend and rescind such rules, forms, and orders as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this law, including rules and forms governing applications and reports, and defining any terms, whether or not used in this law, insofar as the definitions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this law. For the purpose of rules and forms, the commissioner may classify securities, persons, and matters within his jurisdiction, and may prescribe different requirements for different classes. The commissioner may in his discretion waive any requirement of any rule or form in situations where in his opinion such requirement is not necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

25611. The commissioner shall have authority to prepare and make available to interested persons such lists of persons whose securities are qualified for trading purposes in this state or are exempt from such qualification or both as he may determine to be necessary or desirable, and the commissioner may make reasonable charges for such lists to defray the expenses of preparation and dissemination.

25612. No rule, form or order may be made, amended, or rescinded unless the commissioner finds that the action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this law. In prescribing rules and forms the commissioner may cooperate with the securities administrators of the other states and the Securities and Exchange Commission with a view to achieving maximum uniformity in the form and content of registration statements, applications, and reports wherever practicable.

25613. The commissioner may by rule or order prescribe (1) the form and content of financial statements required under this law, (2) the circumstances under which consolidated financial statements shall be filed, and (3) the circumstances under which financial statements shall be audited by independent certified public accountants or public accountants.

25614. All rules of the commissioner (other than those relating solely to the internal administration of the Division of Corporations) shall be made, amended or rescinded in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 11370) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Rules may be adopted prior to the effective date of this law to become effective upon its effective date.

25616. The commissioner shall keep an index of all qualifications which are or have ever been effective, all denial, suspension, or revocation orders which have been entered and all permits and certificates which have been issued by him under this law.

25617. Upon request and at such reasonable charges as he prescribes by rule, the commissioner shall furnish to any person photostatic or other copies (certified under his seal of office if requested) of any document which is retained as a matter of public record, except that he shall not charge or collect any fee for photostatic or other copies of any document furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity. In any judicial proceeding or prosecution, any copy so certified is prima facie evidence of the contents of the document certified.

25618. The commissioner in his discretion may honor requests from interested persons for interpretive opinions.

25619. (a) The commissioner may destroy any applications, orders, permits, and revoked or surrendered certificates, together with the files and folders, as useless or obsolete, four years after the date of filing or issuance, with the approval of the Department of General Services; provided, that a permanent record shall be maintained of any disciplinary action taken by the commissioner.

(b) When acting as escrow holder for securities, the commissioner may destroy any certificates evidencing securities of any corporation which has been dissolved or whose charter has been suspended for a period of not less than two years for nonpayment of taxes or penalties and may destroy any other records pertaining to the escrow of the securities destroyed, and he shall have no further liability or accountability therefor; provided, that the commissioner shall maintain a permanent record containing such information as he may by rule prescribe relating to the certificates and records so destroyed.

(c) Copies on microfilm or in other form which may be retained by the commissioner in his discretion of any records destroyed under this section shall be accepted for all purposes as equivalent to the original when certified by the commissioner.

PART 8. GENERAL PROVISIONS

25700. No provision of this law imposing any liability applies to any act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule, form, permit, order, or written interpretive opinion of the commissioner, or any such opinion of the Attorney General, notwithstanding that the rule, form, permit, order, or written interpretive opinion may later be amended or rescinded or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

25701. Any condition, stipulation or provision purporting to bind any person acquiring any security to waive compliance with any provision of this law or any rule or order hereunder is void.

25702. Whenever a person is entitled under this law to a hearing in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, a formal hearing before the Division of Corporations may be substituted with the consent of such person and of the commissioner for such hearing before an independent hearing officer; and in that case after such hearing before the Division of Corporations such person shall not be entitled to any further administrative remedy.

25703. If any provision of this law or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this law which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this law are declared to be severable.

25704. (a) Except as expressly provided in this section, prior law exclusively governs all suits, actions, prosecutions or proceedings which are pending or may be initiated on the basis of facts or circumstances occurring before the effective date of this law.

(b) No civil suit or action may be maintained to enforce any liability or to establish that any securities are void under prior law unless brought within any period of limitation which applied when the cause of action accrued and, in any event, within three years after the effective date of this law.

(c) All effective permits, certificates, orders, consents, and registrations under prior law, all administrative orders relating to the same and all conditions imposed upon the same remain in effect so long as they would have remained in effect if this law had not been enacted. They are considered to have been filed, entered, or imposed under this law, but are governed by prior law. Certificates dated as of January 1, 1969, may be issued by the commissioner after the effective date of this law pursuant to applications filed prior thereto and shall be considered to have been issued under the prior law. Applications for permits filed prior to January 1, 1969, may subsequently be processed without amendment if they comply with prior law, but thereafter shall be otherwise governed by this law.

(d) Judicial review of all administrative orders as to which review proceedings have not been instituted by the effective date of this law are governed by Section 25609, except that no review proceeding may be instituted unless the petition is filed within any period of limitation which applied to a review proceeding when the order was entered.

25705. All references to "the Corporate Securities Law" in any code or statute of the State of California shall hereafter be deemed to be references to the Corporate Securities Law of 1968.

PART 9. CURATIVE PERMITS UNDER PRIOR LAW

25800. This part shall remain in effect only until January 2, 1972, and on and after such date shall have no force or effect.

25801. This part is applicable only to securities issued or sold before January 2, 1969.

25802. Upon application in accordance with this division, the commissioner may issue a curative permit authorizing the issuance and sale of any security previously issued or sold without a permit, or in nonconformity with any provision of a permit previously obtained. The commissioner shall issue a curative permit only if he finds that the plan of business of applicant and the issuance of the curative permit are fair, just, and equitable and that the applicant is transacting and intends to transact its business fairly and honestly and that in his opinion the issuance of the curative permit will not work a fraud upon the holders of any of the issued and outstanding securities of applicant.

25803. A curative permit issued pursuant to Section 25802 shall be effective as of the date upon which the securities authorized thereby were first issued and sold, and the provisions of Section 26100 as it read immediately prior to January 2, 1969 shall not apply to such securities.

25804. The issuance or denial of a curative permit shall have no effect on the criminal liability of any person nor upon any cause of action other than that based upon the provisions of Section 26100 as it read immediately prior to January 2, 1969:

(a) When an application for a curative permit has been filed, the applicant may, in any civil proceeding pending in a court of original jurisdiction, move for a stay of proceedings, with respect to any issue which turns on the provisions of Section 26100 as it read immediately prior to January 2, 1969. Where the applicant is not a party to such proceedings he shall be permitted to intervene.

A copy of the application shall be attached to the notice of motion, and supplementary affidavits may also be attached.

(b) The court shall stay all proceedings relating to any issues which turn on the provisions of Section 26100 as it read immediately prior to January 2, 1969, until the commissioner has granted or denied the permit and the grant or denial has become final if the court finds that the application and affidavits, if any, state facts showing that the commissioner has jurisdiction of the application and that there is a prima facie basis for the finding required by Section 25802.

(c) The fee for filing an application for a curative permit shall be fifty dollars ($50), plus a sum, as estimated by the commissioner, to cover the actual expense of giving notice and holding any hearing held in connection therewith, plus a fee computed in accordance with subdivision (e) or (h) of Section 25608 less any fee previously paid for such security.

No filing need be made in this state by or on behalf of the surviving foreign corporation even though it be qualified for the transaction of intrastate business. Each constituent domestic corporation shall file in the office of the Secretary of State a copy of the agreement, certificate or other document filed by the consolidated or surviving foreign corporation in the state or place of its incorporation for the purpose of effecting the consolidation or merger which copy shall be certified by the public officer having official custody of the original, or, in lieu thereof, an executed counterpart of the agreement or certificate and thereupon the consolidation or merger shall be effective as to such domestic corporation. [Approved by Governor May 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12887.6 of the Water Code is amended to read:

12887.6. A public agency may annually levy or cause to be levied upon all property in the public agency, or in any portion or portions thereof, subject to taxation or assessment by the public agency an ad valorem tax or assessment, based upon the assessed valuation of such property, necessary and sufficient to meet all commitments, financial or otherwise, of the public agency that are set forth in any contract which the agency enters into with the department under this chapter, in addition to any other taxes or assessments which the public agency is authorized to levy or cause to be levied on such property and notwithstanding any provision in the law applicable to such agency which might otherwise preclude or limit such taxing or assessing. Where the law applicable to such public agency does not set forth a procedure for levying and collecting taxes or assessments on an ad valorem basis, such public agency shall utilize the procedure for levying and collecting taxes for the payment of principal and interest on general obligation bonds of municipal water districts, set forth in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (Division 20 (commencing with Section 71000) of this code), as it may now or hereafter be amended, for the purpose of levying and collecting taxes or assessments necessary and sufficient to meet commitments in a contract entered into under this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 25925 of the Water Code is amended to read:

25925. The annual district assessment upon land is a lien against the property assessed from and after the first day in March of the year in which the assessment is levied.

water, watercourse, structure or facility owned, used or controlled by the district for any purpose.

SEC. 4. Section 31805 is added to the Water Code, to read:

31805. All district taxes levied on real property and improvements are a lien upon the same, which lien attaches as of noon on the first day of March of the year in which the tax is levied, and all taxes levied upon personal property are a lien upon the real property of the owner of the personal property, which lien attaches as of noon on the first day in March of the year in which the tax is levied.

to increase membership of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education from 15 to 18 but the change did not increase proportionately the number of votes needed for the council to take effective action, and in order to preserve this necessary relationship and to be effective for pending meetings of the council, this act must take immediate effect.

No appeal shall affect any apportionment made by the Controller pending the determination of the appeal. If, on such appeal, additional mileage is allowed the county, the department shall immediately certify the corrected figure to the Controller, and the same shall be used for subsequent apportionments.

On relinquishing any state highway or portion thereof to a county, the department shall immediately certify to the State Controller the mileage so relinquished and the same shall immediately be added to the county's maintained mileage of county roads for purposes of subsequent apportionments.

10210. To expedite the conduct of proceedings and the making of any acquisition or improvement authorized by this division the legislative body may at any time transfer into a special fund designated by the name of the improvement proceeding, out of any available funds of the municipality, such sums as it deems necessary. SEC. 7. Section 31040 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

31040. After all bonds issued pursuant to this chapter for the construction of the toll bridge have been fully redeemed and paid, the authority shall either:

CHAPTER 100

An act making an appropriation for the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated from moneys in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, including revenues subject to the provisions of Section 13005 of the Fish and Game Code, the sum of thirteen thousand three hundred dollars ($13,300) to the Department of Fish and Game for the state's share of the expenses of the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission, in accordance with the Pacific Marine Fisheries Compact, in augmentation of Item 210 of the Budget Act of 1967.

The Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission serves a vitally important role in the protection and preservation of the fishery resources of this state, and the Budget Act for the fiscal year 1967–1968 appropriates sufficient funds to provide for the state's share of the expenses of the commission for only six months of the fiscal year. In order to enable the commission to carry out its activities for the remainder of the year, it is essential that this appropriation take effect as soon as possible.

An act to amend Section 1203 of the Penal Code, relating to sentencing.

[Approved by Governor May 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203. After the conviction by plea or verdict of guilty of a public offense not amounting to a felony, in cases where discretion is conferred on the court or any board or commission or other authority as to the extent of the punishment, the court, upon application of the defendant or of the people or upon its own motion, may summarily deny probation, or at a time fixed may hear and determine in the presence of the defendant the matter of probation of the defendant and the conditions of such probation, if granted. If probation is not denied, and in every felony case in which the defendant is eligible for probation, before any judgment is pronounced, and whether or not an application for probation has been made, the court must immediately refer the matter to the probation officer to investigate and to report to the court, at a specified time, upon the circumstances surrounding the crime and concerning the defendant and his prior record, which may be taken into consideration either in aggravation or mitigation of punishment. The probation officer must thereupon make an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the crime and of the prior record and history of the defendant, must make a written report to the court of the facts found upon such investigation, and must accompany said report with his written recommendations, including his recommendations as to the granting or withholding of probation to the defendant and as to the conditions of probation if it shall be granted. The report and recommendations must be made available to the court and the prosecuting and defense attorneys at least two days prior to the time fixed by the court for the hearing and determination of such report and must be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case at the time of said hearing. By written stipulation of the prosecuting attorney and the defense attorney, filed with the court, or by oral stipulation in open court made and entered upon the minutes of the court, the time within which the report and recommendations must be made available and filed, under the preceding provisions of this section, may be waived. At the time or times fixed by the court, the court must hear and determine such application, if one has been made, or in any case the suitability of probation in the particular case, and in connection therewith must consider any report of the probation officer, and must make a statement that it has considered such report which must be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case. If the court shall determine that there are circumstances in mitigation of punishment prescribed by law, or that the ends of justice would be subserved by granting probation to the defendant, the court shall have power in its discretion to place the defendant on probation as hereinafter provided; if probation is denied, the clerk of the court must forthwith send a copy of the report and recommendations to the Department of Corrections at the prison or other institution to which the defendant is delivered.

In every misdemeanor case, the court may, at its option refer the matter to the probation officer for investigation and report or summarily deny probation or summarily grant probation. If a misdemeanor case is not referred to the probation officer, the court in sentencing the defendant may consider any information concerning the defendant, his prior record, and the circumstances surrounding the crime that could have been included in a probation report. The court shall inform the defendant of the information considered and permit the defendant to answer or controvert such information. For this purpose the court upon request of the defendant shall grant a continuance before pronouncing sentence.

The Legislature hereby expresses the policy of the people of the State of California to be that, except in unusual cases where the interest of justice demands a departure from the declared policy, no judge shall grant probation to any person who shall have been convicted of robbery, burglary or arson, and who at the time of the perpetration of said crime or any of them or at the time of his arrest was himself armed with a deadly weapon (unless at the time he had a lawful right to carry the same), nor to a defendant who used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted, nor to one who in the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture, nor to any such person unless the court shall be satisfied that he has never been previously convicted of a felony in this state nor previously convicted in any other place of a public offense which would have been a felony if committed in this state.

Except as hereafter provided in this section, probation shall not be granted to any person who shall have been convicted of burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, assault with intent to commit murder, attempt to commit murder, train wrecking, kidnaping, escape from a state prison, conspiracy to commit any one or more of the aforementioned felonies, and who at the time of the perpetration of said crime or any of them or at the time of his arrest was himself armed with a deadly weapon (unless at the time he had a lawful right to carry the same), nor to a defendant who used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted, nor to one who in the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture, nor to any defendant unless the court shall be satisfied that he has not been twice previously convicted of felony in this state nor twice previously convicted in any other place or places of public offenses which would have been felonies if committed in this state; nor to any defendant convicted of the crime of burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, attempt to commit murder, assault with intent to commit murder, train wrecking, extortion, kidnaping, escape from a state prison, violation of Sections 286, 288 or 288a of this code, or conspiracy to commit any one or more of the aforesaid felonies, unless the court shall be satisfied that he has never been previously convicted of a felony in this state nor previously convicted in any other place of a public offense which would have been a felony if committed in this state; nor to any defendant unless the court shall be satisfied that he has never been previously convicted of a felony in this state nor convicted in any other place of a public offense which would have been a felony if committed in this state and at the time of the perpetration of said previous offense or at the time of his arrest for said previous offense he was himself armed with a deadly weapon (unless at the time he had a lawful right to carry the same) or he personally used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of said previous offense or in the perpetration of said previous offense he willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture; nor to any public official or peace officer of the state, county, city, city and county, or other political subdivision who, in the discharge of the duties of his public office or employment, accepted or gave or offered to accept or give any bribe or embezzled public money or was guilty of extortion.

In unusual cases, otherwise subject to the preceding paragraph, in which the interests of justice would best be served thereby, the judge may, with the concurrence of the district attorney, grant probation.

No probationer shall be released to enter another state of the United States, unless and until his case has been referred to the California Administrator, Interstate Probation and Parole Compacts, pursuant to the Uniform Act for Out-of-state Probationer and Parolee Supervision.

In those cases in which the defendant is not eligible for probation, the judge may in his discretion refer the matter to the probation officer for an investigation of the facts relevant to sentence. The probation officer must thereupon make an investigation of circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior record and history of the defendant and make a written report to the court of the facts found upon such investigation.

CHAPTER 102

An act to amend Section 1174 of, and to add Section 1034.5 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to unlawful detainer.

[Approved by Governor May 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1034.5 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1034.5. In unlawful detainer proceedings, the plaintiff who recovers judgment for the restitution of premises and who advances or pays to the sheriff or marshal the costs required by him for the eviction of any person or persons in possession or occupancy of said premises and the personal property of such person or persons, shall, within 10 days after being advised by the sheriff or marshal of the exact amount of such funds necessarily used and expended to effect such eviction, file a supplemental cost bill in the court in which the judgment was rendered claiming such additional costs and specify the items so paid and the amount thereof; the defendant may move to retax such costs within five days after service upon him of said cost bill; when fixed by the court, or upon failure of the defendant to file notice of motion to retax the same within five days after said service, judgment for such costs shall be immediately entered by the clerk and plaintiff may have execution therefor.

SEC. 2. Section 1174 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1174. If upon the trial, the verdict of the jury, or, if the case be tried without a jury, the findings of the court be in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment shall be entered for the restitution of the premises; and if the proceedings be for an unlawful detainer after neglect, or failure to perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, or after default in the payment of rent, the judgment shall also declare the forfeiture of such lease or agreement if the notice required by Section 1161 of the code states the election of the landlord to declare the forfeiture thereof, but if such notice does not so state such election, the lease or agreement shall not be forfeited.

The jury or the court, if the proceedings be tried without a jury, shall also assess the damages occasioned to the plaintiff by any forcible entry, or by any forcible or unlawful detainer, alleged in the complaint and proved on the trial, and find the amount of any rent due, if the alleged unlawful detainer be after default in the payment of rent. Judgment against the defendant guilty of the forcible entry, or the forcible or unlawful detainer may be entered in the discretion of the court either for the amount of the damages and the rent found due, or for three times the amount so found.

When the proceeding is for an unlawful detainer after default in the payment of rent, and the lease or agreement under which the rent is payable has not by its terms expired, and the notice required by Section 1161 has not stated the election of the landlord to declare the forfeiture thereof, the court may, and, if the lease or agreement is in writing, is for a term of more than one year, and does not contain a forfeiture clause, shall order that execution upon the judgment shall not be issued until the expiration of five days after the entry of the judgment, within which time the tenant, or any subtenant, or any mortgagee of the term, or any other party interested in its continuance, may pay into the court, for the landlord, the amount found due as rent, with interest thereon, and the amount of the damages found by the jury or the court for the unlawful detainer, and the costs of the proceedings, and thereupon the judgment shall be satisfied and the tenant be restored to his estate.

But if payment as here provided be not made within five days, the judgment may be enforced for its full amount, and for the possession of the premises. In all other cases the judgment may be enforced immediately.

A plaintiff, having obtained a writ of restitution of the premises pursuant to an action for unlawful detainer, shall be entitled to have the premises restored to him by officers charged with enforcement of such writs. The enforcing officer shall serve such writ promptly upon payment of reasonable costs of service. If the tenant does not vacate the premises within five days from the date of service of such writ, the enforcing officer shall remove the tenant from the premises and place the plaintiff in possession thereof.

All goods, chattels or personal property of the tenant remaining on the premises at the time of its restitution to the plaintiff shall be stored by the plaintiff in a place of safekeeping for a period of 30 days and may be redeemed by the tenant upon payment of reasonable costs incurred by the plaintiff in providing such storage and the judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff, including costs. Plaintiff may, if he so elects, store such goods, chattels or personal property of the tenant on the premises, and the costs of storage in such case shall be the fair rental value of the premises for the term of storage. An inventory shall be made of all goods, chattels or personal property left on the premises prior to its removal and storage or storage on the premises. Such inventory shall either be made by the enforcing officer or shall be verified in writing by him. The enforcing officer shall be entitled to his costs in preparing or verifying such inventory.

In the event the property so held is not removed within 30 days, such property shall be deemed abandoned and may be sold at a public sale. All money realized from the sale of such personal property shall be used to pay the costs of the plaintiff in storing and selling such property, and any balance thereof shall be applied in payment of plaintiff's judgment, including costs. Any remaining balance shall be returned to the defendant.

An act to amend Section 671 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to appraiser training, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 10, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 10, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 671 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

671. In order to retain a valid appraiser's certificate every holder shall be exposed to at least 24 hours of training conducted or approved by the State Board of Equalization in each one-year period, commencing July 1, 1968.

Any excess in training time over the 24-hour minimum accumulated in any one year shall be carried over as credit for future training requirements with a limit of three years in which the carryover time may be credited, and any training time accumulated between July 1, 1967, and June 30, 1968, shall be carried over as credit for the training required in the one-year period commencing July 1, 1968.

Failure to receive such training shall constitute grounds for revocation of an appraiser's certificate; provided, however, that proceedings to revoke shall be conducted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act contained in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

Training shall include, but not be limited to, new developments in the case and statutory law and administrative rules.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that the State Board of Equalization provide for one-half of the necessary training sessions by January 1, 1969.

Many assessors have been unable to plan and obtain approval of the State Board of Equalization for a training program to begin during the year ending June 30, 1968. This act will permit the assessors additional time to plan and implement an effective training program without impairing their ability to function effectively. In doing so, the public policy of the state as expressed in the Constitution will be entirely fulfilled and the state as a whole will benefit.

As added, the subdivision requires that, if an agent for service of process has been designated by the association, service may be made only upon the agent designated. Hence, if an agent has been designated, service upon the association is not effected by serving the president, vice president, secretary, general manager, or general partner of the association. As the purpose of the change made in 1967 was only to preclude service on a mere member of the association, if an agent had been designated, there was no need to preclude service upon a responsible officer even though an agent had been designated. The effect of this feature of the change has been to require plaintiffs to ascertain whether an agent has been designated in every case, including those in which the plaintiff is well aware of the identity of the responsible officers. This change in longstanding practice (e.g., effecting service on a partnership by serving a general partner) may also cause some plaintiffs inadvertently to fail to perfect service. To overcome these problems by permitting service to be made upon a responsible officer, as well as the designated agent, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Section 1255a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to eminent domain.

[Approved by Governor May 16, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1255a of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1255a. (a) The plaintiff may abandon the proceeding at any time after the filing of the complaint and before the expiration of 30 days after final judgment, by serving on defendants and filing in court a written notice of such abandonment. Failure to comply with Section 1251 of this code shall constitute an implied abandonment of the proceeding.

(b) The court may, upon motion made within 30 days after such abandonment, set aside the abandonment if it determines that the position of the moving party has been substantially changed to his detriment in justifiable reliance upon the proceeding and such party cannot be restored to substantially the same position as if the proceeding had not been commenced.

(c) Upon the denial of a motion to set aside such abandonment or, if no such motion is filed, upon the expiration of the time for filing such a motion, on motion of any party, a judgment shall be entered dismissing the proceeding and awarding the defendants their recoverable costs and disbursements. Recoverable costs and disbursements include (1) all expenses reasonably and necessarily incurred in preparing for the condemnation trial, during the trial, and in any subsequent judicial proceedings in the condemnation action and (2) reasonable attorney fees, appraisal fees, and fees for the services of other experts where such fees were reasonably and necessarily incurred to protect the defendant's interests in preparing for the condemnation trial, during the trial, and in any subsequent judicial proceedings in the condemnation action, whether such fees were incurred for services rendered before or after the filing of the complaint. In case of a partial abandonment, recoverable costs and disbursements shall include only those recoverable costs and disbursements, or portions thereof, which would not have been incurred had the property or property interest sought to be taken after the partial abandonment been the property or property interest originally sought to be taken. Recoverable costs and disbursements, including expenses and fees, may be claimed in and by a cost bill, to be prepared, served, filed, and taxed as in civil actions. Upon judgment of dismissal on motion of the plaintiff, the cost bill shall be filed within 30 days after notice of entry of such judgment.

(d) If, after the plaintiff takes possession of or the defendant moves from the property sought to be condemned in compliance with an order of possession, the plaintiff abandons the proceeding as to such property or a portion thereof or it is determined that the plaintiff does not have authority to take such property or a portion thereof by eminent domain, the court shall order the plaintiff to deliver possession of such property or such portion thereof to the parties entitled to the possession thereof and shall make such provision as shall be just for the payment of damages arising out of the plaintiff's taking and use of the property and damages for any loss or impairment of value suffered by the land and improvements after the time the plaintiff took possession of or the defendant moved from the property sought to be condemned in compliance with an order of possession, whichever is the earlier.

(b) When a person is unable to commence a suit on a cause of action described in subdivision (a) within the time prescribed in that subdivision because he has been sentenced to imprisonment in a state prison, the time limited for the commencement of such suit is extended to six months after the date that the civil right to commence such action is restored to such person, except that the time shall not be extended if the public entity establishes that the plaintiff failed to make a reasonable effort to commence the suit, or to obtain a restoration of his civil right to do so, before the expiration of the time prescribed in subdivision (a).

(c) A person sentenced to imprisonment in a state prison may not commence a suit on a cause of action described in subdivision (a) unless he presented a claim in accordance with Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 900) and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 910) of Part 3 of this division.

[Approved by Governor May 16, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 660) of Division 1 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 660) is added to Division 1 of the Insurance Code, to read:

CHAPTER 10. CANCELLATION OR FAILURE TO RENEW

660. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Policy" means an automobile liability, automobile physical damage, or automobile collision policy, or any combination thereof, delivered or issued for delivery in this state, insuring a single individual or individuals residing in the same household, as named insured, and under which the insured vehicles therein designated are of the following types only:

(1) A motor vehicle of the private passenger or station wagon type that is not used as a public or livery conveyance for passengers, nor rented to others; or

(2) Any other four-wheel motor vehicle with a load capacity of 1,500 pounds or less which is not used in the occupation, profession, or business of the insured; provided, however, that this chapter shall not apply (i) to any policy issued under an automobile assigned risk plan, or (ii) to any policy insuring more than four automobiles, or (iii) to any policy covering garage, automobile sales agency, repair shop, service station, or public parking place operation hazards.

(b) "Automobile liability coverage" includes only coverage of bodily injury and property damage liability, medical payments, and uninsured motorists coverage.

(c) "Automobile physical damage coverage" includes all coverage of loss or damage to an automobile insured under the policy except loss or damage resulting from collision or upset.

(d) "Automobile collision coverage" includes all coverage of loss or damage to an automobile insured under the policy resulting from collision or upset.

(e) "Renewal" or "to renew" means the issuance and delivery by an insurer of a policy replacing at the end of the policy period a policy previously issued and delivered by the same insurer, or the issuance and delivery of a certificate or notice extending the term of a policy beyond its policy period or term; provided, however, that any policy with a policy period or term of six months or less whether or not made continuous for successive terms upon the payment of additional premiums shall for the purpose of this chapter be considered as if written for a policy period or term of six months. Provided, further, that any policy written for a term longer than one year or any policy with no fixed expiration date, shall for the purpose of this chapter, be considered as if written for successive policy periods or terms of one year. Such policies may be terminated at the expiration of their respective policy periods upon giving 20 days' notice of cancellation prior to such anniversary date, and such cancellation shall not be subject to any other provision of this chapter.

(f) "Nonpayment of premium" means failure of the named insured to discharge when due any of his obligations in connection with the payment of premiums on a policy, or any installment of such premium, whether the premium is payable directly to the insurer or its agent or indirectly under any premium finance plan or extension of credit.

661. (a) A notice of cancellation of a policy shall be effective only if it is based on one or more of the following reasons:

(1) Nonpayment of premium; or

(2) The driver's license or motor vehicle registration of the named insured or of any other operator who either resides in the same household or customarily operates an automobile insured under the policy has been under suspension or revocation during the policy period or, if the policy is a renewal, during its policy period or the 180 days immediately preceding its effective date.

(b) This section shall not apply to any policy or coverage which has been in effect less than 60 days at the time notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered by the insurer unless it is a renewal policy.

(c) Modification of automobile physical damage coverage by the inclusion of a deductible not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) shall not be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy.

(d) This section shall not apply to nonrenewal.

662. No notice of cancellation of a policy to which Section 661 applies shall be effective unless mailed or delivered by the insurer to the named insured at least 20 days prior to the effective date of cancellation; provided, however, that where cancellation is for nonpayment of premium, at least 10 days' notice of cancellation accompanied by the reason therefor shall be given. Unless the reason accompanies or is included in the notice of cancellation, the notice of cancellation shall state or be accompanied by a statement that upon written request of the named insured, mailed or delivered to the insurer not less than 15 days prior to the effective date of cancellation, the insurer will specify the reason for such cancellation.

This section shall not apply to nonrenewal.

663. No insurer shall fail to renew a policy unless it shall mail or deliver to the named insured, at the address shown in the policy, at least 20 days' advance notice of its intention not to renew. This section shall not apply:

(a) If the insurer has manifested its willingness to renew; nor

(b) In case of nonpayment of premium; provided that, notwithstanding the failure of an insurer to comply with this section, the policy shall terminate on the effective date of any other insurance policy with respect to any automobile designated in both policies.

(c) If the insured's agent or broker has secured other coverage acceptable to the insured at least 20 days prior to the anniversary date of the policy or termination of the policy period.

Renewal of a policy shall not constitute a waiver or estoppel with respect to grounds for cancellation which existed before the effective date of such renewal.

664. Proof of mailing of notice of cancellation, or of intention not to renew or of reasons for cancellation, to the named insured at the address shown in the policy or to the named insured's latest known address, shall be sufficient proof of notice.

665. When a policy of automobile liability insurance is canceled, other than for nonpayment of premium, or in the event of failure to renew a policy of automobile liability insurance to which Section 663 applies, the insurer shall notify the named insured of his possible eligibility for automobile liability insurance through the automobile liability assigned risk plan. Such notice shall accompany or be included in the notice of cancellation or the notice of intent not to renew.

666. Where the reason for cancellation does not accompany or is not included in the notice of cancellation, the insurer shall upon written request of the named insured, mailed or delivered to the insurer not less than 15 days prior to the effective date of cancellation, specify in writing the reason for such cancellation. Such reason shall be mailed or delivered to the named insured within five days after receipt of such request.

667. There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against, the Insurance Commissioner or against any insurer, its authorized representative, its agents, its employees, or any firm, person, or corporation furnishing to the insurer information as to reasons for cancellation, for any statement made by any of them in any written notice of cancellation, or in any other communication, oral or written, specifying the reasons for cancellation, or the providing of information pertaining thereto, or for statements made or evidence submitted at any hearings conducted in connection therewith.

SEC. 3. Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 670) of Division 1 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. This act shall become operative January 1, 1969, and shall apply to policies written or renewed, or which have a renewal anniversary, thereafter. This act shall not apply to or affect the validity of any notice of cancellation mailed or delivered prior to the operative date of this act, nor shall this act be construed to affect cancellation of a renewal policy if notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered within 60 days after the operative date of this act, nor shall this act be construed to require notice of intent not to renew any policy which expires less than 30 days after the operative date of this act.

It is therefore imperative that this act go into immediate effect.

Individual containers in any lot may, however, contain not more than 1½ times the tolerance if the percentage of smaller asparagus of the entire lot averages within the tolerance.

The time for harvesting and packing fresh asparagus will soon be over for this year and the asparagus container requirements provided for by this act will not be effective in time to be applicable to this year's asparagus crop unless this act goes into immediate effect.

SECTION 1. Section 19 of the Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1122 of the Statutes of 1945) is amended to read:

Sec. 19. (1) Whenever the board of supervisors of said district shall determine that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work or improvement as herein authorized in any zone, the said board may by resolution, passed by unanimous vote of the entire board, determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement, and the denomination and rate of interest of said bonds, said board shall cause a copy of said resolution, duly certified by the county clerk to be filed for record in the office of the recorder of the County of Riverside within five days after its issuance. From and after said filing the said board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with said bond election.

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the said board of supervisors may call a special election in said zone or zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors thereof the question, whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from the revenue derived from annual taxes or assessments levied upon the property taxable by said district situated within the zone or zones, and all such taxable property shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as provided in this act.

(3) Said board of supervisors shall call such special election by ordinance and not otherwise, and shall submit to the qualified electors of said zone or zones the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone or zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the resolution adopted by said board of supervisors, and on file for particulars; and said ordinances shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall in no event exceed six percent (6%) per annum. For the purposes of said election, said board of supervisors shall in said ordinance establish election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election precincts in said district to a number not exceeding six (6) for each such bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge, and one clerk for each of such precincts.

In all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the state.

Said board of supervisors shall cause a map or maps to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed works and improvements and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election.

Said ordinance calling for such election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in said zone or zones for six (6) consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said zone or zones, or two (2) times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said zone or zones. The last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places in said zone or zones for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds. If at such election two-thirds (⅔) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds of said district, zone or zones for the amounts stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided.

SEC. 2. Section 20 of the Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation Act is amended to read:

Sec. 20. The board of supervisors shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the participating zones, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day or date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The payment of the first installment of principal may be deferred for a period of not more than five years from the date of each issue or series of bonds.

The board may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different times from those of any other series. The maturity of each series shall comply with this section. The board may fix a date, not more than five years from the date of issuance, for the earliest maturity of each issue or series of bonds. The final maturity date shall not exceed 40 years from the time of incurring the indebtedness evidenced by each issue or series of bonds. The board may provide for call and redemption of all or any part of any issue or series of bonds before maturity at prices determined by the board. No bond shall be subject to call or redemption prior to maturity unless it contains a recital to that effect.

The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board may determine, and shall be payable on the dates and at the place fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six percent (6%) per annum, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually, except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of that year. Such bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairman of the board, and countersigned by the auditor of said district, and the seal of said district shall be affixed thereto. Either or both such signatures may be printed, engraved, or lithographed. The interest coupons of such bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by said auditor by his printed, engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officer whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such bonds and coupons and signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Because of the increasing urbanization and industrialization of the lands within Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District and the threat of damage, death and destruction from flood and storm waters, there is urgent need for financing and construction of storm and waste water facilities. To accomplish said objectives, it is necessary to modernize and liberalize the bonding and finance provisions of the act, to authorize practices consistent with practices of other like public agencies.

An act to amend Sections 340 and 741 of, and to add Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 871.1) to Title 10 of Part 2 of, the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to real property.

[Approved by Governor May 17, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State May 17, 1968]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 340 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

340. Within one year:

1. An action upon a statute for a penalty or forfeiture, when the action is given to an individual, or to an individual and the state, except when the statute imposing it prescribes a different limitation;

2. An action upon a statute, or upon an undertaking in a criminal action, for a forfeiture or penalty to the people of this state;

3. An action for libel, slander, assault, battery, false imprisonment, seduction of a person below the age of legal consent, or for injury to or for the death of one caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, or by a depositor against a bank for the payment of a forged or raised check, or a check that bears a forged or unauthorized endorsement, or against any person who boards or feeds an animal or fowl or who engages in the practice of veterinary medicine as defined in Business and Professions Code Section 4826, for such person's neglect resulting in injury or death to an animal or fowl in the course of boarding or feeding such animal or fowl or in the course of the practice of veterinary medicine on such animal or fowl;

4. An action against a sheriff or other officer for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned on civil process;

5. An action against an officer to recover damages for the seizure of any property for a statutory forfeiture to the state, or for the detention of, or injury to property so seized, or for damages done to any person in making any such seizure.

6. An action by a good faith improver for relief under Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 871.1) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The time begins to run from the date upon which the good faith improver discovers that he is not the owner of the land upon which the improvements have been made.

SEC. 2. Section 741 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

741. (a) As used in this section, "good faith improver" has the meaning given that term by Section 871.1.

(b) When damages are claimed for withholding the property recovered, and improvements have been made on the property by a defendant or his predecessor in interest as a good faith improver, the amount by which such improvements enhance the value of the land must be allowed as a setoff against such damages.

SEC. 3. Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 871.1) is added to Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

CHAPTER 10. GOOD FAITH IMPROVER OF PROPERTY OWNED BY ANOTHER

871.1. As used in this chapter, "good faith improver" means:

(a) A person who makes an improvement to land in good faith and under the erroneous belief, because of a mistake of law or fact, that he is the owner of the land.

(b) A successor in interest of a person described in subdivision (a).

871.2. As used in this section, "person" includes an unincorporated association.

871.3. A good faith improver may bring an action in the superior court or, subject to Section 396, may file a cross-complaint or counterclaim in a pending action in the superior or municipal court for relief under this chapter. In every case, the burden is on the good faith improver to establish that he is entitled to relief under this chapter, and the degree of negligence of the good faith improver should be taken into account by the court in determining whether the improver acted in good faith and in determining the relief, if any, that is consistent with substantial justice to the parties under the circumstances of the particular case.

871.4. The court shall not grant relief under this chapter if the court determines that exercise of the good faith improver's right of setoff under Section 741 of the Code of Civil Procedure or right to remove the improvement under Section 1013.5 of the Civil Code would result in substantial justice to the parties under the circumstances of the particular case. In determining whether removal of the improvement would result in substantial justice to the parties under the circumstances of the particular case, the court shall take into consideration any plans the owner of the land may have for the use or development of the land upon which the improvement was made and his need for the land upon which the improvement was made in connection with the use or development of other property owned by him.

871.5. When an action, cross-complaint, or counterclaim is brought pursuant to Section 871.3, the court may, subject to Section 871.4, effect such an adjustment of the rights, equities, and interests of the good faith improver, the owner of the land, and other interested parties (including, but not limited to, lessees, lienholders, and encumbrancers) as is consistent with substantial justice to the parties under the circumstances of the particular case. The relief granted shall protect the owner of the land upon which the improvement was constructed against any pecuniary loss but shall avoid, insofar as possible, enriching him unjustly at the expense of the good faith improver. In protecting the owner of the land against pecuniary loss, the court shall take into consideration the expenses the owner of the land has incurred in the action in which relief under this chapter is sought, including but not limited to reasonable attorney fees. In determining the appropriate form of relief under this section, the court shall take into consideration any plans the owner of the land may have for the use or development of the land upon which the improvement was made and his need for the land upon which the improvement was made in connection with the use or development of other property owned by him.

871.6. Nothing in this chapter affects the rules of law which determine the relief, if any, to be granted when a person constructs on his own land an improvement which encroaches on adjoining land.

871.7. (a) This chapter does not apply where the improver is a public entity or where the improvement is made to land owned or possessed by a public entity. As used in this section, "public entity" includes the United States, a state, county, city and county, city, district, public authority, public agency, or any other political subdivision or public corporation.

(b) This chapter does not apply where the owner of the land upon which the improvement is constructed has appropriated the land to a public use and could have acquired the land for that use by exercising the power of eminent domain.

SEC. 4. This act applies in any action commenced after its effective date, whether or not the improvement was constructed prior to its effective date. If any provision of this act or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

An act to amend Section 6 of, and to add Section 6.2 to, the Metropolitan Water District Act (Chapter 429 of the Statutes of 1927), relating to the board of directors of metropolitan water districts.

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6 of the Metropolitan Water District Act (Chapter 429, Statutes of 1927) is amended to read:

Sec. 6. All powers, privileges and duties vested in or imposed upon any district incorporated hereunder shall be exercised and performed by and through a board of directors; provided, however, that the exercise of any and all executive, administrative and ministerial powers may be by said board of directors delegated and redelegated to any of the offices created hereby or by the board of directors acting hereunder.

The board of directors herein referred to shall consist of at least one representative from each municipality, the area of which shall lie within the metropolitan water district. Such representatives shall serve without compensation from the district and shall be designated and appointed by the chief executive officers of municipalities, respectively, with the consent and approval of the governing bodies of the municipalities, respectively (hereafter referred to as the "appointing power"). As a member of the board of directors, each representative shall be entitled to vote on all questions, orders, resolutions and ordinances coming before the board, and shall be entitled to cast one vote for each ten million dollars ($10,000,000), or major fractional part thereof, of assessed valuation of property taxable for district purposes in the municipality represented by him as shown by the assessment records of the county and evidenced by the certificate of the county auditor; provided, that each representative shall have at least one vote and no municipality shall have votes exceeding in number the total number of votes of all the other municipalities whose corporate areas are included in such district. In lieu of one representative any municipality may at its option designate and appoint several representatives not exceeding one additional representative for each one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000) of assessed valuation, in which event each such representative present at a meeting of the board of directors when a vote is taken shall cast, or may abstain from casting, an equal share of the total vote to which such municipality is entitled; provided, that no incumbent representative shall be deprived of his office by reason of increase in the amount of assessed valuation required to authorize designation and appointment of additional representatives nor by reason of any decrease in assessed valuation of the municipality which he represents occurring after his assumption of office. The affirmative votes of members representing more than fifty (50) percent of the total number of votes of all the members shall be necessary and, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be sufficient to carry any order, resolution or ordinance coming before the board of directors. Any meeting may be adjourned or recessed from day to day or from time to time, by vote of the director or directors present, irrespective of the number of directors present or the number of votes represented at such meeting. For the purposes of this section, the term "major fractional part" shall be deemed to mean a fractional part larger than one-half. Members of the board of directors so constituted shall convene at the time and place fixed by the chief executive officer of the municipality initiating the proceedings hereunder, and immediately upon convening, such board of directors shall elect from its membership a chairman, a vice chairman, and a secretary, who shall serve for a period of two years, or until their respective successors shall be elected and qualified.

The board of directors shall have power:

(1) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular meetings shall be held, and shall provide for the calling and holding of special meetings.

(2) To make and pass ordinances, resolutions and orders not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California, or to the provisions of this act, necessary for the government and management of the affairs of the district, for the execution of the powers vested in the district and for carrying into effect the provisions of this act. On all ordinances the roll shall be called and the ayes and noes recorded. Resolutions and orders may be adopted by viva voce, but on demand of any member the roll shall be called. No ordinance shall be adopted unless it shall have been introduced on a day previous to the time of such adoption except by unanimous vote of all the members of the board of directors present; provided, there shall be present directors from not less than three-fourths of all municipalities whose corporate areas are included in said metropolitan water district and representing not less than three-fourths of the total votes of said district; provided, that in lieu of such previous introduction or unanimous vote any ordinance may be mailed by registered mail, postage prepaid, to each member of the board of directors at least five (5) days prior to the day upon which such ordinance shall be presented for adoption. No ordinance adopted by the board of directors shall take effect until the expiration of thirty (30) days following the adoption thereof, except an ordinance ordering or otherwise relating to an election or to the issuance or sale of bonds or to the levying or collection of taxes or the fixing of water rates; and an ordinance necessary for the immediate preservation or protection of the property, interests or welfare of the district, which shall contain a specific statement showing its urgency, and is passed by three-fourths of the total vote of the board of directors but all ordinances of any of the classes heretofore excepted by this section shall take effect upon their adoption. All ordinances except those which shall take effect upon their adoption as provided in this section shall be subject to referendum in the manner provided by law for the legislative acts of boards of supervisors of counties.

(3) To fix the location of the principal place of business of the district and the location of all offices and departments maintained hereunder.

(4) To prescribe by ordinance a system of business administration and to create any and all necessary offices which shall include the offices of controller and of treasurer and to establish and reestablish the powers and duties and compensation of all officers and employees and to require and fix the amount of all official bonds necessary for the protection of the funds and property of the district.

(5) To prescribe by ordinance a system of civil service.

(6) To delegate and redelegate by ordinance to officers of the district power to employ clerical, legal and engineering assistants and labor, and under such conditions and restrictions as shall be fixed by the directors, power to bind the district by contract.

(7) To prescribe a method of auditing and allowing or rejecting claims and demands; also to prescribe methods for the construction of works and for the letting of contracts for the construction of works, structures or equipment, or the performance or furnishing of labor, materials or supplies, required for the carrying out of any of the purposes of this act; provided that, in cases where work is not to be done by the district itself by force account, and the amount involved shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or more, the board of directors shall provide for the letting of contracts to the lowest responsible bidder, after publication of notices inviting bids, subject to the right of said board to reject any and all proposals; provided, likewise, that the board of directors in advertising for bids and in letting contracts as above provided, may require all articles to be furnished to the district thereunder to be manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its territories, and may prohibit the use in, or employment in connection with, the carrying out of such contracts by the contractor or any subcontractor, of all machinery or materials except such as shall have been manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its territories, if such are available, the question of such availability to be determined by the board of directors; provided further, that contracts, in writing or otherwise, may be let without advertising for or inviting bids, when any repairs, alterations, or other work, or the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or other property, shall be deemed by the board of directors to be of urgent necessity, and shall be authorized by a two-thirds vote thereof.

(8) To fix the rate or rates at which water shall be sold. Such rates, in the discretion of the board, may differ with reference to different sources from which water shall be obtained by the district. The board of directors, under conditions and on terms found and determined by the board to be equitable, may fix rates for the sale and delivery to constituent municipalities of water obtained by the district from one source of supply in substitution for water obtained by the district from another and different source of supply, and may charge for such substitute water at the rate fixed for the water for which it is so substituted. The board of directors, so far as practicable, shall fix such rate or rates for water as will result in revenue which will pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and maintenance, provide for payment of the purchase price or other charges for property or services or other rights acquired by the district, and provide for the payment of the interest and principal of the bonded debt subject to the applicable provisions of this act authorizing the issuance and retirement of the bonds. Such rates, subject to the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (8), shall be uniform for like classes of service throughout the district.

SEC. 2. Section 6.2 is added to the Metropolitan Water District Act (Chapter 429 of the Statutes of 1927), to read:

Sec. 6.2. In lieu of the appointment of members to the board of directors pursuant to Section 6 for an indefinite term at the pleasure of the appointing power, a municipality may by ordinance provide that each representative of that municipality shall serve for a term of four years commencing on the first day of January of an odd-numbered year, and thereafter until his successor has been appointed and qualified, in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) The term of office of an incumbent representative of a municipality with only one representative on the board on the effective date of such ordinance shall expire on the next succeeding 31st day of December of an even-numbered year following such effective date, or thereafter when his successor has been appointed and qualified.

(3) A person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

(4) Any director so appointed for a specified term may be removed by the appointing power for cause.

(5) The repeal of such ordinance shall not affect the term of an incumbent representative appointed pursuant to such ordinance.

CHAPTER 4. COUNTY SCHOOL SERVICE FUND SERVICES

Article 1. General Provisions

885. The Legislature hereby declares that it is in the interest of the state and of the people for the office of the county superintendent of schools, through the county school service fund, to provide coordination of the educational program among districts under his jurisdiction and to provide professional and financial assistance to school districts which otherwise, because of size or location, would not be able to furnish a satisfactory program of education for their children. Such assistance is a matter of general concern inasmuch as the education of the children of the state is an obligation and function of the state.

In adopting this chapter, the Legislature considers that the coordination of the educational program constitutes the greatest continuing need to be met through the county school service fund. To meet this need the necessity is recognized to provide professional services to coordinate courses of study, guidance services, health services, school library services, special education, and attendance activities.

As an additional need, the Legislature recognizes the necessity to provide professional services in districts too small to supply such services for themselves economically and effectively, such as, (a) to prepare courses of study; (b) to supervise instructional practices; (c) to provide direct guidance services, health services, and attendance services normally provided in an educational program; (d) to provide for the purchase, distribution, and use of supplementary instructional materials and equipment; and (e) to provide educational opportunity to normal and special pupils who would otherwise be denied it. It is recognized further that providing for professional service is a transitory function of the county school service fund to be assumed by school districts when, through growth or reorganization, they will be able to perform the services for themselves.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that:

(a) Services involving the coordination of the educational program which have among others the purposes of (1) enforcing minimum standards, (2) improving the educational program, and (3) promoting order and reasonable uniformity in the educational program shall be provided, except as may be specifically authorized, at the district level, reserving to the district the opportunity and responsibility for internal improvement, and that such services will be provided in such a manner that recognition will be given to the responsibilities placed upon school districts by the Legislature to determine and administer their own educational program.

(b) Services to school districts which do not constitute coordination among districts shall be provided in such a manner that impetus will be given to strengthening school districts and to improving district organization to the end that more effective programs of education may be offered, and that the provision of services through the county school service fund shall not act to deter or delay any school districts from furnishing such services for themselves.

(c) Services to school districts shall be cooperatively provided by two or more county superintendents of schools without regard for county boundaries whenever a particular service may be so provided with economy and effectiveness.

(d) The direct operation of an educational program by the county superintendent of schools shall, except as specifically authorized by the Legislature, be limited to those emergency cases where children would otherwise be denied an opportunity for education.

885.1. Any services of the county superintendent of schools authorized by this chapter which relate to the coordination of the educational program or coordination of the course of study among districts under his jurisdiction, the preparation of courses of study, the development of courses of study or curricula materials, or research or development studies in connection with the curricular and special services of the county superintendent of schools are subject to the budget and other restrictions of Section 18351.2 and any other applicable sections.

885 2. The county school service fund shall be used to pay for those services provided by the county superintendent of schools that are authorized by this chapter, and for such other purposes as are specifically authorized in Section 880.

885.3. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education and in accordance with regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction which he is authorized to adopt, employ qualified personnel to provide for the coordination of courses of study, guidance services, health services, school library services, special education, and attendance activities among the school districts under his jurisdiction. The regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction adopted pursuant to this section shall be adopted with the advice of an advisory committee to include county superintendents of schools, which the Superintendent of Public Instruction is herewith authorized to appoint.

885.4. The services described in Section 885.3 shall, except in advisory services in school business administration activities, clerical, accounting, and stenographic services, be performed by persons who hold a valid credential, or a life diploma based thereon, of one or more of the following types issued by the State Board of Education:

(a) Elementary or secondary school administration credential.

(b) A standard administration credential.

(c) A standard supervision credential with authorization appropriate to the area of service.

(d) Elementary or secondary school supervision credential.

(e) Special subject supervision credential.

(f) A credential which authorizes service similar to that authorized by one or more of the foregoing types of credentials.

Any person who is, and continuously since September 7, 1955, has been, employed in the office of a county superintendent of schools and is performing any of the services described in Sections 885.3 and 885.4 may continue to perform such services without possessing the credential otherwise required as long as he remains continuously employed in his position.

retarded minors who have applied for but have been denied access to each category of the special education program in the school district territory under his jurisdiction.

Any person who is employed in the office of a county superintendent of schools on the effective date of this section and is performing any of the services described in this article may continue to perform such services without possessing the credential otherwise required as long as he remains continuously employed in his position.

892.2. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, enter into an agreement with the state, any political subdivision, or any agency of the state or of any political subdivision, to conduct and maintain distribution among schools of districts under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools, under such conditions as are agreed upon, of audial and visual instruction materials and apparatus approved by the constituted educational authorities. The state, any political subdivision, or any agency of the state or of any political subdivision may enter into any agreement with a county superintendent of schools authorized by this article.

892.3. The agreement may, among other matters, provide for the payment by the county superintendent of schools, at such times as are agreed upon, from the county school service fund to the state, political subdivision, or agency, of money for the distribution of materials and apparatus among the schools under his jurisdiction. All money transferred shall be used by the authorities of the state, political subdivision, or agency solely for the acquisition of audial and visual materials and apparatus as may be designated by the constituted educational authorities and for the care and distribution to schools of the county of the materials and apparatus.

892.4. The county superintendent of schools and the state or any political subdivision, or any agency of the state or of any political subdivision, may acquire materials and apparatus for distribution pursuant to this article, by purchase, rental, lease, loan, or donation, if the materials and apparatus have been adopted as required by law.

All funds paid by a school district to a county superintendent of schools for services rendered to the schools of the district shall be deposited in the county school service fund.

892.6. The governing board of any school district or the county superintendent of schools acting with its permission and on behalf of such a board, or boards, may enter into contracts, either alone or in cooperation with other school districts, for the purpose of participating in or the procuring of television broadcasts for use in the educational program of the schools.

The governing board of any school district or the county superintendent of schools, either alone or in cooperation with other school districts or other county superintendents of schools, may purchase broadcast time over, and may own, lease, and operate, television transmitting facilities for use in providing instructional services, teachers' in-service educational services, which the governing board or the county superintendent of schools is otherwise authorized to provide, and may provide necessary services in connection therewith. The governing board of a school district and a county superintendent of schools may accept grants-in-aid from any public or private source in carrying out the purposes of this section.

When television transmitting facilities owned, leased or operated by the governing board of a school district or county superintendent of schools either alone or in cooperation with other school districts or other county superintendents of schools pursuant to this section are not in use for providing instructional services or teachers' in-service educational services, such facilities may be used for transmitting community educational television programs if such use does not require the expenditure of any additional public funds of a school district or a county superintendent of schools.

Article 8.5. Television Advisory Committee

893. There is created within the Department of General Services the Television Advisory Committee. The committee shall be composed of the Director of General Services or his designated representative, and six members appointed by the Governor as follows:

893.3. There is created within the Department of General Services the position of Television Coordinator, who shall be appointed by the Governor. The person so appointed shall have demonstrated experience in planning, promotion and administration in the field of television or related activities. The salary of the coordinator shall be fixed by the Director of General Services in accordance with law. He shall serve at the pleasure of the Director of General Services.

Article 9. Education of Physically Handicapped

894. The county superintendent of schools shall establish and maintain programs for physically handicapped minors who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802, including cerebral palsied, orthopedically handicapped, visually handicapped, or aurally handicapped, and who reside in the county and in elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools of the districts or in unified or high school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools of the districts, whenever such districts have not provided nor entered into contract with other districts to provide such programs.

Such program shall, with the approval of the county board of education, be provided in one or more of the following ways:

(c) By the maintenance of special classes of secondary grade.

Such schools and classes shall be establised at centrally located places, and the county superintendent of schools shall provide transportation to the pupils attending them. In an instance where it would be impractical because of the transportation distances existing to bring a sufficient number of physically handicapped minors within the meaning of Section 6801 or 6802 together in one place to form a school or special class, the county superintendent of schools, upon the annual approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, may defer compliance with the provisions of this section for the year in question.

Any elementary or unified school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools of the district and any unified or high school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, may establish and maintain programs for the physically handicapped who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802.

The county superintendent of schools required to provide for the education of physically handicapped minors residing in the county who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802 may, with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, enter into agreements with an elementary, unified, or high school district for the latter to provide for the education of such physically handicapped minors.

894.1. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, enter into an agreement with the governing board of any school district under his jurisdiction for the education in remedial classes of physically handicapped pupils who are excused from regular classes for a portion of a class period. The cost of the education to the school district shall not exceed the actual cost thereof to the county superintendent of schools.

894.2. Each county superintendent of schools providing for the education of physically handicapped children pursuant to this article shall report annually to the Superintendent of Public Instruction on forms provided by him the total average daily attendance of physically handicapped pupils by types of instruction provided, the cost of educating the pupils, and such other information as may be required, for each elementary and high school district in which the education is provided.

894.3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prescribe the procedures for qualifying for and shall determine the amount of the allowances for special regular day classes and for authorized instruction in other than special regular day classes of physically handicapped minors.

894.4. For purposes of Section 894, the average daily attendance of the elementary schools of the district shall be computed by excluding the average daily attendance of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school maintained by a high school district.

Article 10. Education of Mentally Retarded

895. (a) The county superintendent of schools shall establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who reside in the county and in elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 901 in the elementary schools of the district and who come within the provisions of Section 6902. The schools and classes shall be established at centrally located places, and the county superintendent of schools shall provide transportation to the pupils attending them. The district shall pay to the county school service fund of the county in which the district is located all costs of the education of the minors which are in excess of the amounts apportioned from the State School Fund for the average daily attendance of the minors.

Any elementary or unified school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 901 in elementary schools of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, may establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6902.

(b) The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who reside in the county and who come within the provisions of Section 6902 and contract with an elementary or unified school district with an average daily attendance of 901 or more in the elementary schools of the district, or with a high school district with an average daily attendance of less than 901, subject to such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon. The contract shall be approved by the county board of education and shall require the district to pay to the county school service fund of the county in which the district is located all costs of the education of the minors which are in excess of the amounts apportioned from the State School Fund for the average daily attendance of such minors.

Whenever a special training school or class is established under the provisions of this subdivision, the computations prescribed by Sections 17655.5 and 17664 shall not apply.

(c) The county superintendent of schools shall establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who reside in the county and in elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools of the district and in unified or high school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools of the district and who come within the provisions of Section 6903. Such schools and classes shall be established at centrally located places, and the county superintendent of schools shall provide transportation to the pupils attending them. In an instance where it would be impracticable because of the transportation distances existing to bring a sufficient number of mentally retarded minors, within the meaning of Section 6903, together in one place to form a special training class, the county superintendent of schools upon the annual approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction may defer compliance with the provisions of this section for the year in question.

Any elementary or unified school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in elementary schools of the district and any unified or high school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in high schools of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, may establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6903.

A county superintendent of schools, required to provide for the education in special training schools or classes of mentally retarded minors residing in the district who come within the provisions of Section 6903, may with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction enter into agreement with an elementary, unified or high school district for the latter to provide for the education of such mentally retarded minors.

(d) The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, establish and maintain special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors who reside in the county and who come within the provisions of Section 6903 and contract with an elementary or unified school district with an average daily attendance of

8,000 or more in the elementary schools of the district and in unified or high school districts with an average daily attendance of 8,000 or more in the high schools of the district for the education by the county superintendent of schools of such minors residing in such districts. Whenever a special training school or class is established under the provisions of this subdivision, the foundation program prescribed in Section 17656 for an elementary district with an average daily attendance of 901 or more shall apply for elementary schools, and the foundation program prescribed in Section 17665 shall apply for high schools.

895.1. For purposes of Section 895 the average daily attendance of the elementary schools of the district shall be computed by excluding the average daily attendance of pupils attending the seventh and eighth grades of a junior high school maintained by a high school district.

895.2. In lieu of providing transportation to special training schools or classes maintained by a county superintendent of schools for mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6903 and who reside in elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000, the county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, pay to the parents or guardians of any such mentally retarded minor the cost of food and lodging for the minor at a place convenient to a special training school or class maintained by the county superintendent, by the governing board of a school district within the county, or by a county superintendent of another county.

895.3. Each county superintendent of schools maintaining special training schools or classes for mentally retarded minors pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 895 may limit the number of minors to be admitted to such schools or classes. Any minor who becomes 21 years of age while in attendance upon a special training school or class shall be permitted to continue to attend thereon for the remainder of the time the school or class is maintained during the then current school year.

895.4. Any county superintendent of schools otherwise required or authorized to maintain special training schools and classes under Section 895 for mentally retarded minors may provide for the education of such minors in, and for the transportation of such minors to, special training schools or classes maintained by a school district under Sections 6901 to 6913, inclusive, or by a county superintendent of schools under this article, subject to such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon. The agreement shall be approved by the county board of education.

895.5. In lieu of entering into an agreement for the transportation of mentally retarded minors by the school district or county superintendent of schools, in the special training schools and classes of which the education of such minors is provided under Section 6910 or 895.4, the school district or county superintendent of schools of the county required to provide for their education may provide such transportation.

895.6. The county superintendent of schools shall, with the approval of the county board of education, certify to the county auditor and the county board of supervisiors, on or before July 15th of each year, the amount of money required to be raised by a county tax for the education of mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6902 and for the rental of property and the purchase of equipment by the county superintendent of schools for special training schools and classes for such minors. The amount shall be determined by subtracting from the total cost of the education of such minors, including transportation, to the county superintendent of schools (1) the total of any balances remaining to be expended for this purpose, and (2) the total amount to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the county school service fund for the education of mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6902 and by adding to the result the amount required for rental of property and purchase of equipment.

The county auditor and the county board of supervisors shall determine the tax necessary to produce the amount certified when levied upon the taxable property of all the districts under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools which during the preceding fiscal year had less than 901 units of average daily attendance in the elementary schools of the district and which have not been approved by the county superintendent of schools to maintain such schools or classes. The board of supervisors shall at the time of levying other county taxes levy the tax so determined in each school district which had during the preceding fiscal year less than 901 units of average daily attendance in the elementary schools of the district and which has not been approved by the county superintendent of schools to maintain such schools or classes, except that the tax levied shall not exceed ten cents ($0.10) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation and shall be levied notwithstanding the provisions of Section 20751 or 20803.

The amount received from the tax shall be deposited in the county school service fund.

In the event the amount received from the tax levied is less than the amount certified by the county superintendent of schools the difference shall, with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, be paid the county superintendent of schools from the county school service fund contingency account pursuant to Section 18353.

to be raised by a county tax for the education of mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6903 and for rental of property and the purchase of equipment by the county superintendent of schools for special training schools or classes for such minors. The amount shall be determined by subtracting from the total cost of the education of such minors, including transportation, to the county superintendent of schools the total amount to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the county school service fund for the education of such mentally retarded minors and by adding to the result the amount required for rental of property and the purchase of equipment. The board of supervisors may include in such amount a sum for capital outlay.

The board of supervisors shall, at the time of levying other county taxes, levy an identical rate of tax in all elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools in the district, and all unified or high schoool districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools of the district under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools, and for which approval has not been granted by the county superintendent for the district to establish and maintain such classes for the education of mentally retarded minors who come within the provisions of Section 6903 upon the taxable property in such districts sufficient to produce an amount equal to all costs of the education of such minors which are in excess of the amounts apportioned from the State School Fund for the average daily attendance of such minors. The amount received from this tax shall be deposited in the county school service fund.

895.8. The county superintendent of schools shall, with the approval of the county board of education, certify to the county auditor and the county board of supervisors, on or before July 15th of each year, the amount of money required to be raised by a county tax for the identification and education of physically handicapped minors who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802 and for the rental of property and the purchase of equipment by the county superintendent of schools for the schools or classes for such minors.

The amount shall be determined by subtracting from the total cost of the education of such minors, including transportation, to the county superintendent of schools the total amounts to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to the county school service fund for the education of such physically handicapped minors and by adding to the result the amount required for rental of property, the purchase of equipment, and capital outlay.

The board of supervisors shall, at the time of levying other county taxes, levy an identical rate of tax in all elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the elementary schools in the district, and all unified or high school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,000 in the high schools under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools, and for which approval has not been granted by the county superintendent for the district to establish and maintain such classes for the education of physically handicapped minors who come within the provisions of Section 6801 or 6802 upon the taxable property in such districts sufficient to produce such amounts. The amount received from this tax shall be deposited in the county school service fund.

The tax shall be levied and collected on a current basis during the fiscal year on the basis of estimates of average daily attendance levels, assessed valuation levels, and the other factors involved. Excess amounts collected in any year may be applied to reduction of the tax in succeeding fiscal years, and the amount to be raised by the tax in any fiscal year may be increased by the amount of deficiency in the tax collected in prior fiscal years.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall adopt such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to the implementation of this section.

895.9. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reduce the allowances to county school service funds to be made in a fiscal year under Section 18355 by an amount determined by: (1) multiplying sixty cents ($0.60) by each one hundred dollars ($100) of the total assessed valuation of all the elementary or unified school districts for whom the county superintendent of schools maintains schools or classes in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894; (2) dividing the product so derived by the total average daily attendance of pupils included in the foundation program computed for the districts for pupils in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive, in the elementary or unified school districts for whom the county superintendent of schools maintains schools or classes in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894; and (3) multiplying the quotient so derived by the average daily attendance of pupils attending the special schools or classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools in grades kindergarten through eight, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894.

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reduce the allowances to county school service funds to be made in a fiscal year under Section 18358 by an amount determined by: (1) multiplying fifty cents ($0.50) by each one hundred dollars ($100) of the total assessed valuation of all the high school or unified school districts for which the county superintendent of schools maintains schools or classes in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894; (2) dividing the product so derived by the total average daily attendance of pupils included in the foundation program computed for the districts for pupils in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, in the high school or unified school districts for whom the county superintendent of schools maintains schools or classes in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894; and (3) multiplying the quotient so derived by the average daily attendance of pupils attending the special schools or classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools in grades 9 through 12, inclusive, pursuant to Section 894.

895.10. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prescribe the procedures for qualifying for and shall determine the amount of the allowances for special regular day classes and for authorized instruction in other than special regular day classes for education of mentally retarded minors.

Article 11. Emergency Schools

896. In order to provide elementary education for children residing in the county, or in order to provide elementary education for children of migratory laborers engaged in seasonal industries within the county, the county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, when funds are not available from other sources and in his judgment it is necessary, do any one or more of the following acts:

(a) Establish and maintain one or more emergency elementary schools for children.

(b) Provide one or more emergency teachers for the regular elementary schools of the districts in the county for the pupils.

(c) Provide transportation for the children to an elementary school.

In lieu of providing transportation of any pupil, the county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, pay to the parents or guardian of the pupil the cost of food and lodging for the pupil at a place convenient to an elementary school. The amount so paid shall not exceed the cost of providing for the transportation of the pupil to and from his home and the school.

The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, pay the expenses incurred in providing all the facilities and services authorized in this section, including necessary capital outlays, from the county school service fund.

All emergency schools shall be maintained in accordance with standards prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

personal property constructed, purchased, or otherwise provided by him for emergency schools established by him.

896.3. The county superintendent of schools may, with the approval of the county board of education, transfer or sell the real and personal property of any emergency school maintained by him to any elementary school district under his jurisdiction, or to any other political subdivision of the state within which the school is located, upon such terms and conditions as are agreed upon by the county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the county board of education, and the governing board or authority of the district or other political subdivision. (b) The governing board shall adopt regulations governing the attendance of pupils at such exercises or instruction and the reporting thereof.

CHAPTER 5.8. SPECIAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL READING INSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Article 1. General Provisions

5770. This chapter may be cited as the Miller-Unruh Basic Reading Act of 1965.

5771. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that the elementary school reading instruction program provided for by this chapter shall be directed to the prevention of reading disabilities, and the correction of reading disabilities at the earliest possible time in the educational career of the pupil. The instruction program shall be provided in grades 1, 2, and 3 in the elementary schools.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that the reading program in the public schools be of high quality, and that the program be designed to permit early development of reading skills, and the early correction of reading disabilities. The Legislature recognizes that early development of reading ability enhances the opportunity of each pupil for success in school and for success in a career upon leaving school. The Legislature further recognizes that to achieve its intent and purpose it will be necessary to provide means to employ teachers trained in the teaching of reading, to provide incentives to encourage such training, and to stimulate the establishment and maintenance of school libraries. To carry out its intent and purpose, the Legislature has enacted this chapter to provide salary payments for specialist teachers in reading, scholarships to encourage the development of skills in the teaching of reading, and salary payments for the employment of professional librarians in school districts. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this chapter shall be administered to provide funds and services first to those school districts and to the schools in such districts where the need for reading instruction is greatest and the financial ability of the district to provide it is least. This program is voluntary and any school district may participate or may decline to participate. If a district participates, it shall participate fully with respect to those schools in the district in which the program is established.

5771.1. During the 1966–67 school year, and thereafter, if a school district is unable to participate fully in the reading program established under this chapter on a school or district basis because of its inability to employ enough specialist teachers to fully meet the basic quota of certificated employees to be appointed specialist teachers as provided in Sections 5781 and 5782, the governing board of the district may request approval of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for participation in the program on a reduced basis. Such approval may be granted by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction if he determines that:

(a) In districts having more than one school, all reasonable efforts are made to concentrate available teachers in the school or schools of the district where the need for the program is the greatest so that such schools may benefit from full participation in the program so far as possible.

(b) For the 1966–67 school year, the applicant district or school employs at least 30 percent of the basic quota of certificated employees to be appointed specialist teachers as computed under the provisions of Sections 5781 and 5782.

(c) For the 1967–68 school year, and thereafter, the applicant district or school employs at least 30 percent of the basic quota of certificated employees to be appointed specialist teachers as computed under the provisions of Sections 5781 and 5782.

5772. The State Board of Education shall have the power to adopt and promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to the effective administration of this chapter, including but not necessarily limited to those specifically required to be adopted by particular provisions of this chapter.

5773. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Specialist teacher" shall mean a person holding a certificate of specialist teacher in reading, issued by the Department of Education, and employed by a school district for the duties listed in Section 5787.

(b) "Average daily attendance" shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, mean average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year.

5774. The governing board of any school district is authorized to accept the provisions of any act of Congress under which federal funds are available for purposes of this chapter, and may participate in any program provided thereunder in order to accept and expend such federal funds pursuant to such act of Congress and this chapter. Participation may include the expenditure by the school district of whatever funds may be required by the federal government as a condition to such participation.

Article 2. Nomination and Designation of Specialist Teacher in Reading

5775. The governing board of any school district maintaining grades 1, 2, and 3 in elementary schools may, in writing, nominate to the Department of Education qualified certificated employees of the district for the position of specialist teacher. The nominations shall be based upon the observed performance of the teacher in instructing elementary school pupils to read, and the written nominations to the department shall so attest.

Any certificated employee of a school district who has not been so nominated may, in writing, petition the Department of Education to be appointed a specialist teacher. Thereupon, the department shall appoint a panel of three persons, selected on the basis of criteria established by rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, who shall observe the performance of the employee in the classroom, and either nominate the employee for the position of specialist teacher or deny such nomination.

5776. Each certificated employee nominated for the position of specialist teacher shall be notified of the time and place at which a written examination will be held to determine whether such employee is qualified for appointment as a specialist teacher.

5777. The State Board of Education shall designate a written examination to be administered by the Department of Education to each person nominated for the position of specialist teacher. The examination shall be one designed to test the knowledge of the nominee concerning the various approaches and techniques which have been determined by competent authority to be most effective in imparting reading instruction to young school pupils, and concerning the appropriate selection of various techniques to meet the requirements of different pupils. Such an examination shall be administered on a statewide basis at least once in each school year. For such purposes the State Board of Education may select an examination prepared by any competent public or private person, organization, or agency.

5778. Certificated school district employees nominated pursuant to Section 5775, who are determined by the department to have passed the examination prescribed by Section 5777, shall forthwith be granted certificates entitling them to accept employment as specialist teachers in reading.

Article 3. Testing and Program Evaluation

5779. Commencing with the school years 1965–66, the State Board of Education shall require that uniform tests to determine achievement of basic reading fundamentals and skills shall be administered to all pupils who are completing the first and second grades. The State Board of Education shall adopt rules and regulations governing the time, place and methods for administration of the testing program.

Uniform tests for each grade shall be recommended by the Department of Education and shall be submitted to the State Board of Education for approval and adoption no later than January 31, 1966. Any test so adopted shall be in national use and nationwide norms shall have been developed for such test. The tests which have been approved and adopted by the board shall be printed or purchased, and distributed to the various school districts in the state by the Department of Education.

Pupils who have been determined to be mentally retarded or educationally handicapped, as defined in this code, shall be exempted from the testing requirement imposed by this chapter.

The testing program imposed by this chapter shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein set forth, and no test scores or results shall be employed to rank school districts according to their test results in any publication, other than a publication which may be made necessary in order to effectively administer this chapter.

The tests administered pursuant to this article shall be employed to determine each school district's quota of specialist reading teachers, as required by Article 4 (commencing with Section 5781) of this chapter.

5779.1. The governing board of each school district, in conducting a testing program in the district pursuant to Section 5779 shall be allowed to conduct achievement reading tests at school district expense printed in the Initial Teaching Alphabet for those pupils who are accustomed to learning in that alphabet in lieu of the uniform tests prescribed by Section 5779.

5780. Commencing with the school year 1966–67, and in each year thereafter, a standardized reading achievement test, which shall be adopted by the State Board of Education and distributed to the various school districts, shall be administered to all third-grade pupils completing the third grade.

The scores of those pupils who have participated in a remedial program shall be maintained and treated separately.

From a study of the results of these tests in districts which conduct a basic reading program pursuant to this chapter, and the test results in districts which do not conduct such a program, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall evaluate the basic reading program provided by this chapter, and he shall report his findings annually to the State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education shall report its findings regarding the implementation of, and experience under, the basic reading program provided by this chapter, together with any recommendations for any adjustments in the program, to the Legislature at each regular session.

Article 4. Employment of Specialist Teachers

5781. Beginning with the fiscal year 1967–68, each school district which is eligible for state equalization aid, and which maintains grades 1, 2, and 3 at the elementary level shall compute a basic quota of certificated employees to be appointed specialist teachers, of one such employee for each 125 units of average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 and any additional fraction thereof; provided that:

(a) With respect to districts maintaining more than one school, each of which has an average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 of less than 50, the quota shall be one such employee for each 100 units of the average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 in those schools.

(b) With respect to all school districts in a county with an average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 of less than 50, the quota shall be one specialist teacher for each 100 units of average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 in those districts.

5782. For the 1966–67 school year, for any school district in which thirty percent (30%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores of the publishers national norm, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 5781 shall be increased by one specialist teacher for each 300 units of average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3, and fractional part thereof, maintained by the district.

For the 1966–67 school year, for any school district in which forty percent (40%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores of the publishers national norm, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 5781 shall be increased as ordered by the Department of Education following an investigation of the circumstances of the district.

For the 1967–68 school year and school years thereafter, for any school district in which thirty percent (30%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores established on a statewide basis for the reading section of the reading achievement test given during the preceding school year pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 5779) of this chapter, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 5781 shall be increased by one specialist teacher for each 300 units of average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3, and fractional part thereof, maintained by the district.

For the 1967–68 school year and school years thereafter any school district in which forty percent (40%) or more of the first grade pupils received scores falling below the first quartile of scores established on a statewide basis for the reading section of the statewide achievement test given during the preceding school year pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 12820) of Division 9, the basic quota established pursuant to Section 5781 shall be increased as ordered by the Department of Education following an investigation of the circumstances of the district.

5783. Each school district maintaining grades 1, 2, and 3 may employ specialist teachers in number not to exceed one hundred ten percent (110%) of the basic quota established for the district pursuant to Sections 5781 and 5782.

5784. Persons serving in the employ of school districts as specialist teachers under this chapter shall be considered as classroom teachers for purposes of all laws dealing with permanent status of certificated employees in the employment of school districts.

Such a specialist teacher employed by a school district may elect to serve for a period of not to exceed two consecutive school years in the employ of other school districts as a specialist teacher, in which case the district of the teacher's regular employment shall afford him a leave of absence for such period, and the teacher shall retain all personnel rights accumulated by him in the employ of such district of regular employment. Such employment with another district shall be pursuant to a written contract for a term of one school year, which contract may be renewed for an additional school year.

A person appointed to the position of specialist teacher and actually employed in such position by the governing board of a school district under this chapter shall not engage in supplementary nonschool employment during the regular academic year established in the district.

5785. A specialist teacher employed by a school district with an average daily attendance in grades 1, 2, and 3 of less than 50, shall serve under the direction of the county superintendent of schools.

5786. The governing board of a school district employing specialist teachers may employ qualified teachers who shall serve under the direction of the specialist teachers in instructing pupils in reading.

5787. Specialist teachers employed by a school district shall be relieved of all regular teaching and administrative responsibilities and shall devote their full time in performance of the following responsibilities, which shall be directed to training pupils to attain reading ability essential to success in studies to be undertaken beyond the grade 3 level:

(a) Supplementing the reading instruction otherwise provided in regular classes for all pupils in grade 1.

(b) Providing instruction to small groups of pupils, and to individual pupils, in grades 2 and 3 who have been determined to have reading disabilities.

(c) Administering reading tests to be given pupils in grades 1, 2, and 3 under Article 3 (commencing with Section 5779) of this chapter. For such purposes, the specialist teachers shall examine the tests given and grade and analyze the results with respect to each pupil.

5788. The annual salary of a specialist teacher, employed as such by a school district for a school year, shall be increased by two hundred fifty dollars ($250) over that otherwise payable to him under his regular contract of employment with the district in which he is regularly employed.

Such sum shall be paid by the school district in a lump sum payment to the specialist reading teacher, no later than June 30 of each fiscal year, and the warrant on which the payment is made shall clearly identify the purpose for which the payment is being made with words to the effect of: "Special Stipend for State Basic Reading Program" appearing on the face of the warrant Partial lump-sum payments for specialist reading teachers employed for a portion of the school year shall be paid no later than 30 days after the specialist teacher leaves the employ of the district.

Article 5. Allowances for Specialist Teachers in Reading

5789. Beginning with the 1966–67 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, a school district which maintains grades 1, 2, and 3, may apply for an allowance for the employment of specialist teachers. Application shall be made in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction on forms that he shall furnish.

5790. Pursuant to its authority under Section 5772, the State Board of Education shall adopt, by rules and regulations, minimum standards of course content for basic reading programs authorized by this chapter, and criteria to be used by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in approving district applications for funds pursuant to Section 5789. No allowance for a special reading program shall be made to a school district unless the Superintendent of Public Instruction approves the district application and certifies that the minimum standards and criteria of the State Board of Education are met by the district.

The superintendent shall not disapprove any application on the basis of the methodology of providing basic reading instruction pursuant to this chapter which the school district has selected.

5791. Allowances under this article shall be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from funds appropriated therefor by the Legislature. The allowances shall be made as early as practicable in the fiscal year and upon order of the Superintendent of Public Instruction the State Controller shall draw his warrants upon the money appropriated, in favor of the eligible districts in the amounts ordered.

5792. Allowances under this article shall be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with a system of priorities that he shall by rule and regulation adopt, designed to carry out the intent and purpose of the Legislature stated in Section 5771. As a basis for such system of priorities, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon receipt of all applications for a fiscal year, shall determine and use (a) the relative financial ability of each applicant district as measured by the assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in the district, and (b) the relative need of the district for specialist teachers in reading as measured by the percentage of pupils in grades 1 through 8, inclusive, tested in the statewide testing program during the preceding year in the district or in the school where the specialist teacher will be employed, that scored below the 25th percentile. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may use additional factors as a basis for a system of priorities as long as such factors are not in conflict with the intent and purpose of the Legislature.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make no allowances in any year in excess of the amount appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

5792.1. During the 1967-68 school year, and thereafter, if the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that the state appropriation for allowances pursuant to this article is insufficient to finance the total number of school district applications for specialist reading teachers according to the basic quota of Section 5781, he shall reduce the basic quota of specialist reading teachers for school districts to enable maximum school district participation in the program. In implementing this section the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall attempt to insure that the quotas of districts already participating in the program are not reduced below the level of the preceding fiscal year. In no case shall the reduced quota of specialized reading teachers for a school district be reduced below 30 percent of the district's basic quota.

5793.1. The allowance for salaries of specialist reading teachers to each district shall be computed by multiplying the number of specialist reading teachers employed by such district by an amount equivalent to the statewide average salary, as determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, paid elementary teachers during the preceding fiscal year plus a sum of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) per teacher. The salary allowance so computed shall not be more than the actual salary paid by the district for the services of the specialist reading teacher.

Article 6. Scholarship Grants for Teachers of Reading

5794. Any regularly credentialed teacher in grades 1, 2, or 3 may, pursuant to this article apply for a scholarship grant for teachers of reading. Each scholarship grant shall be in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

5795. Scholarship grants shall be made by the State Board of Education upon recommendation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education. The scholarship grants may be used to meet expenses of the grantee attending any regular session or summer session conducted by an institution accredited for teacher training purposes by the State Board of Education and enrolling for credit in courses designed to improve the teaching of reading that have been approved by the State Board of Education.

5796. The number of scholarship grants awarded by the State Board of Education in the 1966-67 fiscal year shall not exceed the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during that year to school districts pursuant to Section 5793. In the 1967–68 fiscal year, the number of scholarship grants awarded shall not exceed one-half of the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during that year. In the 1968–69 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the number of scholarship grants awarded shall not exceed one-fourth of the number of specialist teachers in reading for whom allowances were provided during each of such respective fiscal years.

5797. Scholarship grants awarded shall be paid from the amounts appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

Article 7. Salary Allotment for Professional School Librarians

5798. A salary allotment for a professional school librarian shall be computed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction whenever he determines with respect to any district that:

1. The district has employed one-third of its basic quota of specialist reading teachers, and

2. A librarian holding a credential authorizing service as a librarian pursuant to Sections 13289 and 13290 is employed full time in a school or schools in which one or more specialist reading teachers are employed.

The salary allotment for the professional school librarian shall be five hundred dollars ($500) multiplied by the number of specialist teachers in reading employed full time in the school. The maximum allotment so authorized for a school district shall not exceed the total cost of salaries of librarians who come within the provisions of this section.

SEC. 17.5. Chapter 5.9 (commencing with Section 5799) is added to Division 6 of Part 2 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5.9. MATHEMATICS IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS

Article 1. General Provisions

5799. It is the intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this chapter shall be administered to provide funds and services first to those school districts, and to particular schools within school districts, for which the most comprehensive plans have been developed to evaluate the effectiveness of the programs authorized by this chapter, and secondly to those school districts in which the need for mathematics instruction is greatest and the financial ability of the districts to provide it is least.

5799.1. The programs provided for by this chapter shall be afforded for pupils in grades 2 and 3, and 5 and 6, at the elementary level, and in grades 8 to 12, inclusive, at the secondary level. The programs shall be administered under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and pursuant to rules and regulations of the State Board of Education which may be adopted to implement the provisions of this chapter. The rules and regulations of the State Board of Education shall prescribe minimum standards and criteria for all programs, and shall provide for the submission of periodic reports by all school districts participating in programs.

The programs authorized by this chapter may be consolidated or conducted in conjunction with other mathematics programs being conducted in the public schools, if the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that evaluation of the programs authorized by this chapter is not rendered impracticable.

5799.2. In addition to any tests otherwise required to be administered to pupils by this chapter, the State Board of Education shall select achievement tests to be administered to pupils who are participating in programs authorized by this chapter. The selection of such tests shall be with the advice of the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee, and shall be designed to measure the degree to which mathematics programs in the public schools are meeting the objectives of the revised outline of mathematics curriculum developed by the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee.

5799.3. The State Board of Education, on the advice of the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee, shall develop an achievement test in mathematics for grades 3, 6, and 8. The test shall measure the degree to which mathematics programs in the public schools meet the objectives of the revised outline of the mathematics curriculum developed by the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee.

5799.4. The State Board of Education shall, on or before the 30th legislative day of the 1968, 1969, 1970, and 1971 Regular Sessions of the Legislature, report to the Legislature concerning the progress and the extent of the participation in the programs established pursuant to this chapter in school districts in the state. Such reports shall provide an evaluation of the effectiveness of the programs, as ascertained to the respective dates of the reports.

Article 2. Experimental Programs

5799.11. The experimental programs prescribed by this article shall, when established, be conducted as pilot programs during the fiscal years 1968–1969, 1969–1970, and 1970–1971, except the accelerated instructional program in mathematics, which shall extend for five consecutive years, through 1972–1973.

5799.12. The governing board of a school district maintaining elementary schools may establish a specialized teacher program in mathematics. The program shall be established for grades 2 and 5 during the fiscal year 1968–1969, and may be expanded in the fiscal years 1969–1970 and 1970–1971 to include, also, grades 3 and 6. To the maximum extent practicable, the programs established in grades 3 and 6 shall include pupils who participated in programs established in grades 2 and 5.

5799.13. The specialized teacher program in mathematics shall entail the designation of specialized mathematics teachers to provide instruction in mathematics. The teachers designated for such purposes shall be teachers with special interest in the teaching of mathematics, without regard to training for, or experience in, teaching mathematics. The teachers shall provide instruction in each schoolday in mathematics in the classes to which they are regularly assigned to teach, or in one or more other classes by exchange of teaching assignments with other teachers.

5799.14. At least one-half of the persons designated specialized mathematics teachers within a school district shall, during the summer months preceding each academic year in which they are to perform duties as such, participate in and complete an in-service training program.

5799.15. The State Board of Education shall select particular school districts which are to establish specialized teacher programs in mathematics. The selections shall be made on the basis of applications submitted by the governing boards of school districts, and the recommendations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee. The board shall prescribe the standards by which specialized teachers in mathematics shall be designated, and provide for the state-level approval of all such designations.

5799.16. The State Board of Education shall establish regional in-service training programs for specialized teachers in mathematics, to be conducted in each of the fiscal years 1968–1969, 1969–1970, and 1970–1971. The programs shall be conducted in the summer months in each of the fiscal years at centralized locations in the state. Instruction and training shall be provided by experts in mathematics from public and private institutions of higher education and from other fields of endeavor, as determined by the board.

The governing board of each school district which has applied to establish a specialized teacher program in mathematics may nominate to the State Board of Education teachers employed by the district for participation in regional in-service training programs.

The location of centers where the in-service training is to be provided, and the form and content of the instruction and training afforded, shall be determined by the State Board of Education upon recommendation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee.

5799.17. The State Board of Education shall direct the testing of pupils for purposes of evaluating the effectiveness of the specialized teacher programs in mathematics in the several school districts in which the same are established, and shall designate and provide the tests to be administered to pupils.

5799.18. The governing board of a school district maintaining elementary schools may establish a mathematics specialist program. The program shall be established for grades 2 and 5 in the fiscal year 1968–1969, and may be expanded in the fiscal year 1969–1970 to include, also, grades 3 and 6. To the maximum extent practicable, the programs established in grades 3 and 6 shall include pupils who participated in programs established for grades 2 and 5.

5799.19. The mathematics specialist program shall entail the designation of mathematics specialists to provide instruction in mathematics. The specialists designated for such purposes shall have an educational background of at least a collegiate minor in mathematics or the equivalent thereof. For purposes of the designation of mathematics specialists and their performance of duties under this article, any requirements prescribed or pursuant to law in terms of educational qualifications or background which would limit or bar the designation or the performance of the services shall be deemed inapplicable.

5799.20. The mathematics specialist shall supplement the work of regular classroom teachers, and shall teach concepts underlying mathematical techniques, with the pupils' regular classroom teachers continuing to provide instruction in arithmetic and remaining responsible for the pupils' acquisition of mathematical skills. No less than 15 regular class hours per week shall be devoted by each mathematics specialist to the instruction of pupils, and not to exceed five regular class hours per week shall be devoted by each such specialist to in-service training of regular teachers. Mathematics specialists shall be required, at least once each school week, to meet for group discussion and evaluation of the mathematics specialist programs.

5799.21. Each individual class in the grades participating in the mathematics specialist program shall, in each school week, receive instruction from a mathematics specialist teacher for no less than four class hours.

5799.22. The State Board of Education shall select school districts which apply to establish mathematics specialist programs. The selections shall be made on the basis of applications submitted by the governing board of the school district, and the recommendations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Statewide Mathematics Advisory Committee. The State Board of Education shall prescribe the standards by which mathematics specialists shall be designated, and shall approve all such designations.

Evaluation of the program's effectiveness shall be by joint action of the district and the college or university.

5799.24. The State Board of Education shall select particular school districts to participate in accelerated instructional programs in mathematics. Such selection shall be made on the basis of applications submitted by the districts. An application shall include a plan showing in detail the elements and objectives of the program, the procedures and means to be used by the district in identifying pupils with aptitude and talent for mathematics, and the procedures and means to be used to evaluate the program's effectiveness, and shall outline the form and extent of the present and proposed participation in the program by a college and university.

Application shall be made in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction on forms that he shall furnish. No allowance for a mathematics specialist program shall be made to a school district unless the Superintendent of Public Instruction approves the district application and certifies that standards, requirements and criteria of the State Board of Education are met by the district.

5799.44. Allowances for the mathematics specialist program shall be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with a system of priorities that he shall by rule and regulation adopt, designed to carry out the intent and purpose of the Legislature stated in Section 5799. As a basis for such system of priorities, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon receipt of all applications for a fiscal year, shall determine and use the relative financial ability of each applicant district as measured by the assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in the district. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may use additional factors as a basis for a system of priorities as long as such factors are not in conflict with the intent and purpose of the Legislature.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make no allowances in any year in excess of the amount appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

5799.46. From funds appropriated therefor by the Legislature, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall pay the costs of the regional in-service training programs for specialized teachers in mathematics including the salaries of persons employed to provide instruction and training. From such funds teachers in attendance shall be reimbursed for living and traveling expenses necessarily incurred for such purposes, and shall be paid a nominal stipend.

5799.47. From funds which may be appropriated therefor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reimburse school districts for the expenses incurred, pursuant to contractual arrangement, in securing the participation and cooperation of colleges and universities in providing the accelerated instructional program in mathematics in grades 8 to 12, inclusive.

5799.48. The State Board of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall take all necessary actions and steps to ensure that all federal funds which may be made available for any of the experimental pilot programs provided for under Article 2 (commencing with Section 5799.11) of this chapter shall be received and utilized for such purposes.

The governing board of each district may grant temporary exemption from courses in physical education to pupils who are ill or injured where a modified program to meet the needs of the pupils cannot be provided, and to pupils while enrolled for one-half, or less, of the work normally required of full-time students. Permanent exemption may be granted a pupil who has reached his 21st birthday, or a pupil who is enrolled as a postgraduate student.

8703. The governing board of a school district may exempt any four-year or senior high school pupil from attending courses of physical education, if the pupil is engaged in a regular school-sponsored interscholastic athletic program carried on wholly or partially after regular school hours.

This exemption may be granted only upon written application supported by evidence satisfactory to the state board that the providing of such instruction would impose an unreasonable burden on the district.

8705. Credit shall be given for purposes of the course of study requirements prescribed by school district governing boards or other authorities having jurisdiction for grades 9 through 14, inclusive, to courses in foreign languages in private schools on the basis of their being at least equivalent to those which would be required for the student in a foreign language class in the same grade level in the public schools. The State Board of Education shall adopt rules and regulations prescribing standards and conditions pursuant to which credit shall be given for those purposes to students in the public schools who have successfully completed foreign language studies in private schools.

CHAPTER 4. PROHIBITED INSTRUCTION

Article 1. Reflection Upon Citizens Because of Race, Color, Creed, National Origin or Ancestry

9001. No teacher shall give instruction nor shall a school district sponsor any activity which reflects adversely upon persons because of their race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

9002. No textbook, or other instructional materials shall be adopted by the state board or by any governing board for use in the public schools which contains any matter reflecting adversely upon persons because of their race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

Article 2. Prohibited Materials of Instruction

9011. Except as to textbooks approved by the state board or a county board of education, no bulletin, circular, or publication may be used as the basis of study or recitation or to supplement the regular school studies if the material contained in the bulletin, circular, or publication has been disapproved by the governing board of the school district in which the school is situated.

9012. No publication of a sectarian, partisan, or denominational character, shall be distributed, displayed, or used for sectarian, partisan, or denominational purposes on school premises, but such publications may be used in school library collections and for legitimate instructional purposes.

9013. No bulletin, circular, publication, or article of any character, whose purpose is to spread propaganda, shall be distributed or displayed to anyone, or suffered to be distributed or displayed to anyone, for propaganda purposes on the school premises during school hours or within one hour before the time of opening or within one hour after the time of closing of the school, but such bulletin, circular, publication, or article may be used in school library collections and for legitimate instructional purposes.

During school hours or within one hour before the time of opening or within one hour after the time of closing of the school, no bulletin, circular, publication, or article of any character, the purpose of which is to foster membership in or subscriptions to the funds of any organization not directly under the control of the school authorities, shall be distributed or displayed to anyone or suffered to be distributed or displayed to anyone on the school premises unless the organization is a nonpartisan organization, the purpose of such distribution or display is a nonpartisan purpose, and such distribution or display has been approved by the state board, or by the county board of education, or by the governing board of the school district in which the school is located.

The prohibition of this section shall not apply to bulletins or circulars concerning the meetings of organizations issued by any parent-teacher association or by any organization of parents formed for the purpose of cooperating with the school authorities in improving school conditions in the district.

9014. Nothing in this code shall be construed to prevent, or exclude from the public schools, references to religion or references to or the use of religious literature, art, or music or other things having a religious significance when such references or uses do not constitute instruction in religious principles or aid to any religious sect, church, creed, or sectarian purpose and when such references or uses are incidental to or illustrative of matters properly included in the course of study.

Article 3. Prohibited Solicitation of Pupils for Funds, Membership, and the Like 9021. During school hours, and within one hour before the time of opening and within one hour after the time of closing of school, pupils of the public school shall not be solicited on school premises by teachers or others to subscribe or contribute to the funds of, to become members of, or to work for, any organization not directly under the control of the school authorities.

Article 4. Advocacy or Teaching of Communism

9031. No teacher giving instruction in any school, or on any property belonging to any agencies included in the public school system, shall advocate or teach communism with the intent to indoctrinate or to inculcate in the mind of any pupil a preference for communism.

In prohibiting the advocacy or teaching of communism with the intent of indoctrinating or inculcating a preference in the mind of any pupil for such doctrine, the Legislature does not intend to prevent the teaching of the facts about communism. Rather, the Legislature intends to prevent the advocacy of, or inculcation and indoctrination into, communism as is hereinafter defined, for the purpose of undermining patriotism for, and the belief in, the government of the United States and of this state.

For the purposes of this section, communism is a political theory that the presently existing form of government of the United States or of this state should be changed, by force, violence, or other unconstitutional means, to a totalitarian dictatorship which is based on the principles of communism as expounded by Marx, Lenin, and Stalin.

SEC. 31.5. Section 13556.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

13556.5. Each teacher shall endeavor to impress upon the minds of the pupils the principles of morality, truth, justice, patriotism, and a true comprehension of the rights, duties, and dignity of American citizenship, including kindness toward domestic pets and the humane treatment of living creatures, to teach them to avoid idleness, profanity, and falsehood, and to instruct them in manners and morals and the principles of a free government.

SEC. 33. Section 18251.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

18251.2. Allowances by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be made only for driver training classes maintained in accordance with the rules and regulations as set forth by the State Board of Education.

Driver training shall be available without tuition to all eligible students commencing on July 1, 1969. The governing board of a district may make driver training available during school hours, or at other times, or any combination thereof.

SEC. 34. Section 18251.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

18251.3. "Special classes," as used in this section, includes classes providing automobile driver training for pupils who may be excused, for the purpose of taking instruction in automobile driver training.

SEC. 34.5. Section 18251.4 is added to the Education Code, to read:

18251.4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall promote and direct the establishment and maintenance of courses of instruction in automobile driver education and driver training in the public schools. For that purpose, he shall employ such professional and other personnel as are necessary to give full effect to this article. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is authorized to establish a unit within the Department of Education to be comprised of an administrative head, and such consultants and clerical employees as are needed, to provide supervisory and consulting services, to promote and implement this article. The duties assigned to this unit shall include, but shall not be limited to, the preparation of courses of study, consultation services for local school districts, and general supervision of the program pertaining to minimum standards of course content and teacher preparation. All necessary costs and expenses incurred by such a unit or professional and clerical personnel in performance of their duties under this code shall be reimbursed from the Driver Training Penalty Assessment Fund.

There is hereby appropriated from the Driver Training Penalty Assessment Fund to the General Fund in the State Treasury and from the General Fund to the Department of Education the sum of eighty-one thousand dollars ($81,000) for purposes of this section, for the fiscal year 1967–1968. In subsequent fiscal years support for the unit shall be provided from such funds as may be appropriated therefor by the Legislature.

SEC. 34.6. Section 18255 is added to the Education Code, to read:

18255. The expressed purpose of the Legislature is that highway accidents can and must be reduced through the education and training of drivers prior to licensing, and that this instruction properly belongs in the high school curriculum on a basis of having comparable standards of instruction, quality, teacher-pupil ratio and class scheduling in driver education as in other courses in the regular academic program. Only through a high quality program of driver instruction can the greatest potential in traffic accident prevention be realized. Further, the state has a responsibility to share in the reasonable costs of providing such courses.

SEC. 35. Section 25520 is added to the Education Code, to read:

25520. All pupils enrolled in the junior colleges, except pupils excused, shall be required to attend upon the courses of physical education for a minimum of 120 minutes per week. Where adequate facilities are available a daily program is recommended.

cotics, when such publication is to school authorities for use in instruction on the subject of narcotics or to any person when used for the purpose of general education; provided, however, that the name of any person concerning whom any such reports, records, prints, or photographs are used shall be kept confidential and every reasonable effort shall be made to maintain as confidential any information which may tend to identify such person.

SEC. 36.5. This act may be known as the George Miller Jr. Education Act of 1968.

SEC. 37. The provisions of this act, insofar as they are the same or substantially the same as existing statutory provisions relating to the same subject matter, shall be construed as restatements and continuations, and not as new enactments.

CHAPTER 183

An act to add Section 13700.5 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public assistance, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13700.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

13700.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 13700, the maximum average grant provided in Section 13700 shall be increased by two dollars and twenty-five cents ($2.25) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1968, and by four dollars and seventy-five cents ($4.75) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. This section shall cease to be effective on June 30, 1969, unless an earlier date is specified by the 1968 Legislature in the enactment of legislation concerning nonmedical out-of-home care pursuant to the 1967 amendments of the Social Security Act or by the enactment of more favorable financing arrangements for providing or purchasing attendant care or other essential home care services whereby recipients under this chapter are kept in their home in lieu of out-of-home placement.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Application of the provisions of Section 13700 will require an immediate reduction of the standard of care afforded recipients of aid to disabled, the most deprived and helpless group of adult public assistance recipients in the state. Moreover, curtailment in the amount of monthly payments will adversely affect the return of persons in state hospitals to community life with consequent increase in cost to the state.

Recent federal legislation makes possible enactment of alternate provisions concerning disabled persons with ultimate cost savings to the state for Medi-Cal and attendant care for public assistance recipients. The enactment of appropriate alternate provisions will require study of new federal laws and regulations. The interim provisions of this act will give the Legislature time for essential deliberation and at the same time protect the health, safety, and well-being of recipients who would otherwise be adversely affected.

CHAPTER 184

An act to amend Section 16 of the Yolo County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1657 of the Statutes of 1951), relating to the Yolo County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16 of the Yolo County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Ch. 1657 of the Statutes of 1951) is amended to read:

Sec. 16. After the adoption of said report and estimate of the amount of money required to be raised and after the determination of the zones into which the district is divided and the percentages or amounts of the sum to be raised for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds from each of such zones, the board shall call a special election and submit the following proposition to the qualified voters of those zones of said district in which any portion of the sum for payment of the bonds is to be raised:

Shall such zones of the district incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of providing for the control and disposition of flood and storm waters of said district and to protect from damage from such storm and flood waters, the waterways, property, public highways, and public places in said district, and for any other purpose set forth in Section 3 hereof?

The resolution calling the special election shall state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor and shall fix the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness which shall not exceed 6 percent per annum, and shall fix the date on which the special election shall be held and the manner of voting for and against the incurring of such indebtedness.

For the purpose of said election, the board shall, in its resolution, establish election precincts within the boundaries of such zones of said district, and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election purposes in said district to a number not exceeding six for each such bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint two inspectors, two judges and two clerks for each of such precincts.

In all particulars not recited in such resolution, such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the state.

At such election all persons whose names appear on the last great register of County of Yolo as residing within such zones of the district shall be entitled to vote, except as hereinafter otherwise provided.

Such resolution calling such election shall be published once a day for at least seven days, in some newspaper published at least six days a week in said district, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such district, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days a week. No further notice of such election need be given.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the election shall not affect the validity of the bonds.

If at such election two-thirds or more of the votes are cast in favor of the incurring of such bonded indebtedness, then the bonds of such zones of said district, for the amounts stated in such proceedings, shall be issued and sold as provided in this act.

Additional bonded indebtedness may be authorized and the bonds issued, sold, and paid for, and the proceeds used, as provided in this act for original bonded indebtedness, and all other provisions of this act relating to bonds shall apply to additional bonded indebtedness.

The Yolo County Flood Control Water Conservation District has an urgent need for flood control and water conservation and is planning the construction of the Indian Valley Project on the North Fork of Cache Creek for such purposes. The district is proposing to finance construction of said project in part by a loan and grant from the federal government and in part by the sale of general obligations bonds and proposes to have an election on the authorization of a general obligation bond issue as soon as possible. In order to simplify and clarify the district act respecting the propositions to be voted upon at such an election and to enable such an election to be held at the earliest possible date, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

20014.9. Warden or forestry members in warden or forestry service on the operative date of this section, as added at the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature, who did not elect either to be included in the federal system or to be subject to Section 20014.6 of this code at the times heretofore prescribed for such elections, shall have the right to elect to be subject to Section 20014.6. The board shall prescribe the time for the exercise of such elections, which shall be no later than March 30, 1969. Any change in contribution rate resulting from an election under this section shall apply with respect to all compensation for warden or forestry service rendered on and after January 1, 1962. The board shall prescribe the time and manner of payment by a member of any additional contribution required by reason of such change in rate for services prior to the operative date of this section.

The interrogatories shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath. The answers shall be signed by the person making them; and the party upon whom the interrogatories have been served shall file and serve a copy of the answers on the party submitting the interrogatories within 20 days after the service of the interrogatories, unless the court, on motion and notice and for good cause shown, enlarges or shortens the time. For good cause and without notice, the court may enlarge the time not to exceed 15 days. Said answers shall respond to the written interrogatories; or, if any interrogatory be deemed objectionable, the objections thereto may be stated by the party addressed in lieu of response. If the party who has submitted the interrogatories deems that further response is required, he may move the court for an order requiring further response. Such motion must be upon notice given within 20 days from date of service of the answers or objections unless the court, on motion and notice, and for good cause shown, enlarges the time. Otherwise, the party submitting the interrogatories shall be deemed to have waived the right to compel answer pursuant to this section. Solely for their information, copies of all interrogatories and of all answers thereto shall be served upon all other parties to the action who have appeared; but the court on motion with or without notice may waive this requirement if the court determines that enforcement thereof would be unduly expensive, oppressive or burdensome.

(b) Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under subdivision (b) of Section 2016 of this code, and the answers may be used to the same extent as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 2016 of this code for the use of the deposition of a party. Interrogatories may be served after a deposition has been taken, and a deposition may be sought after interrogatories have been answered, but the court, on motion of the deponent or the party interrogated, may make such protective order as justice may require. The number of interrogatories or of sets of interrogatories to be served is not limited except as above provided and except as justice requires to protect the party from annoyance, expense, embarrassment or oppression. The provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 2019 of this code are applicable for the protection of the party from whom answers to interrogatories are sought under this section.

(c) When in order to answer an interrogatory it is necessary to make a compilation, abstract, audit or summary of the business records of a party, and such a compilation, abstract, audit or summary does not exist, or if it does exist, it is not in the possession or under control of such party, it shall be a sufficient answer to such interrogatory to so state and to specify the records from which the answer may be derived or ascertained and to afford to the party by whom the interrogatory was proposed reasonable opportunity to examine, audit or inspect such records and to make copies thereof or compilations, abstracts or summaries therefrom.

(d) Service of interrogatories under this section may be made upon any party or his attorney in the manner provided in Chapter 5, Title 14, Part 2 (commencing at Section 1010) of this code.

SEC. 2. Section 2033 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2033. (a) After service of summons or the appearance of a party, any other party who has appeared in the action may file and serve upon such party who has been served or who has appeared a written request for the admission by the latter of the genuineness of any relevant documents described in the request or of the truth of any relevant matters of fact set forth in the request. If a plaintiff desires to serve a request within 10 days after such service of summons or appearance, leave of court, granted with or without notice, must be obtained. Copies of the documents shall be served with the request unless copies have already been furnished, and upon request the originals shall be made available for inspection. Each of the matters of which an admission is requested shall be deemed admitted unless, within a period designated in the request, not less than 20 days after service thereof or within such shorter or longer time as the court may allow on motion and notice, the party to whom the request is directed files and serves upon the party requesting the admission either (1) a sworn statement denying specifically the matters of which an admission is requested or setting forth in detail the reasons why he cannot truthfully admit or deny those matters or (2) written objections on the ground that some or all of the requested admissions are privileged or irrelevant or that the request is otherwise improper in whole or in part, together with a notice of hearing the objections at the earliest practicable time. For good cause and without notice, the court may enlarge the time not to exceed 15 days. If written objections to a part of the request are made, the remainder of the request shall be answered within the period designated in the request. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party deny only a part or a qualification of a matter of which an admission is requested, he shall specify so much of it as is true and deny only the remainder. The number of requests for admissions or of sets of requests for admissions to be served is not limited except as justice requires to protect the party from annoyance, expense, embarrassment or oppression. The provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 2019 of this code are applicable for the protection of the party from whom admissions are requested under this section.

(b) Any admission made by a party pursuant to such request is for the purpose of the pending action only and neither constitutes an admission by him for any other purpose nor may be used against him in any other action.

(c) Service upon a party of any notice, motion, request or order under this section may be made upon any party or his attorney in the manner provided in Chapter 5, Title 14, Part 2 (commencing at Section 1010) of this code.

SEC. 3. Section 2034 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2034. (a) If a party or other deponent refuses to answer any question propounded upon examination during the taking of a deposition, or refuses to produce at a deposition any books, documents or other things under his control pursuant to a subpoena duces tecum, the examination shall be completed on other matters or adjourned, as the proponent of the question may prefer. Such proponent, on notice to all persons affected thereby, may move the court in which the action is pending (if the deponent is a party or otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of such court), or if such court does not have jurisdiction over the deponent, to the superior court of the county in which the deposition is taken for an order compelling an answer or if good cause is shown, the production of such book, document, or other thing. Such motion may also be made, without further notice, if the proponent notifies the refusing party or other deponent at the time of such refusal that the proponent will apply to the court for an order pursuant to this subdivision of this section, at a specified time not less than 10 nor more than 30 days from the date of such refusal, in which event the officer before whom the deposition is taken shall direct the refusing party or other deponent to attend a session of said court at said time. Not less than five days prior to the hearing on any such motion, the proponent must lodge with the court the original transcript of such deposition. Upon the refusal of a party to answer any interrogatory submitted under Section 2030 of this code, the proponent of the question may on like notice make like application for such an order. Upon the refusal of a party to admit or deny the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, after having been served with a request under Section 2033 of this code, the party serving such request may on like notice make like application for an order requiring further answers to such request or, in the alternative, for an order that the genuineness of said documents or the truth of said matters of fact be deemed admitted for the purpose of the action. If the motion is granted and if the court finds that the refusal was without substantial justification the court may require the refusing party or deponent and the party or attorney advising the refusal or either of them to pay to the examining party the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney's fees. If the motion is denied and if the court finds that the motion was made without substantial justification, the court may require the examining party or the attorney advising the motion or both of them to pay to the refusing party or witness the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion including reasonable attorney's fees.

(b) (1) The court may punish as a contempt (i) the refusal of any person to obey a subpoena issued by that court to attend a deposition or to be sworn as a witness, or (ii) the refusal of any person to attend a session of court (either personally or by his attorney) after having been directed to attend in the manner provided in subdivision (a) of this section, or (iii) the refusal of any person to obey any order made by the court under subdivision (a) of this section.

(2) If any party or person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or an officer, director, superintendent, member, agent, employee or managing agent of any such party or person refuses to obey an order made under subdivision (a) of this section, or if any party or an officer or managing agent of a party refuses to obey an order made under Sections 2019, 2031 or 2032 of this code, the court may make such orders in regard to the refusal as are just, and among others the following:

(i) An order that the matters regarding which the questions were asked, or the character or description of the thing or land, or the contents of the paper, or the physical or mental or blood condition of the person sought to be examined, or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(ii) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting him from introducing in evidence designated documents or things or items of testimony, or from introducing evidence of the physical or mental or blood condition of the person sought to be examined;

(iii) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party;

(iv) An order requiring the disobedient party or the attorney advising such disobedience to pay to the party obtaining an order under this section the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney's fees;

(v) In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, an order directing the arrest of any party or agent of a party for disobeying any of such orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental or blood examination;

(vi) Where a party has failed to comply with an order under subdivision (a) of Section 2032 of this code requiring him to produce another for examination, such orders as are listed in (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subdivision of this section, unless the party failing to comply shows that he is unable to produce such person for examination.

(c) If a party, after being served with a request under Section 2033 of this code to admit the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, serves a sworn denial thereof and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of any such document or the truth of any such matter of fact, he may apply to the court in the same action for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making such proof, including reasonable attorney's fees. If the court finds that there were no good reasons for the denial and that the admissions sought were of substantial importance, the order shall be made.

(d) If a party or a person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended or anyone who at the time the deposition is set is an officer, director, or managing agent of any such party or person willfully fails to appear before the officer who is to take his deposition, after said party or his attorney has been served with a proper notice in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) (4) of Section 2019 of this code, or if a party or an officer or managing agent of a party willfully fails to serve and file answers to interrogatories submitted under Section 2030 of this code, after proper service of such interrogatories, the court on motion and notice may strike out all or any part of any pleading of that party, or dismiss the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or enter a judgment by default against that party, or impose such other penalties of a lesser nature as the court may deem just, and may order that party or his attorney to pay to the moving party the reasonable expenses in making such motion, including reasonable attorney's fees.

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2.6 (commencing with Section 731) is added to Part 1 of Division 2 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.6. LEGAL ESTATES PRINCIPAL AND INCOME LAW

731. This chapter may be cited as the Legal Estates Principal and Income Law.

731.01. Nothing in this chapter shall affect the provisions of the Personal Income Tax Law and the Bank and Corporation Tax Law.

731.02. This chapter shall apply to all transactions by which a principal was established without the interposition of a trust on or after September 13, 1941, or is hereafter so established. Transactions by which a principal is held in trust are governed by Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 730) Part 1 of Division 2.

731.03. (a) "Principal" as used in this chapter means any realty or personalty which has been so set aside or limited by the owner thereof or a person thereto legally empowered that it and any substitutions for it are eventually to be conveyed, delivered, or paid to a person, while the return therefrom or use thereof or any part of such return or use is in the meantime to be taken or received by or held for accumulation for the same or another person;

(b) "Income" as used in this chapter means the return derived from principal;

(c) "Tenant" as used in this chapter means the person to whom income is presently or currently payable, or for whom it is accumulated or who is entitled to the beneficial use of the principal presently and for a time prior to its distribution;

(d) "Remainderman" as used in this chapter means the person ultimately entitled to the principal, whether named or designated by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established or determined by operation of law.

731.04. This chapter shall govern the ascertainment of income and principal and the apportionment of receipts and expenses between tenants and remaindermen in all cases where a principal has been established without the interposition of a trust, except that in the establishment of the principal, provision may be made touching all matters covered by this chapter, and the person establishing the principal may himself direct the manner of ascertainment of income and principal and the apportionment of receipts and expenses or grant discretion to the tenant or other person to do so, and such provision and direction, where not otherwise contrary to law shall control notwithstanding this chapter. The exercise by the tenant or other designated person, of such discretionary power if in good faith and according to his best judgment, shall be conclusive, irrespective of whether it may be in accordance with the determination which the court having jurisdiction would have made.

731.05. (a) All receipts of money or other property paid or delivered as rent of realty or hire of personalty, or interest on money loaned, or interest on or the rental or use value of property wrongfully withheld or tortiously damaged or otherwise in return for the use of principal, shall be deemed income unless otherwise expressly provided in this chapter. Dividends on corporate shares, payable in stock or otherwise, shall be deemed income except as provided in Section 731.07.

(b) All receipts of money or other property paid or delivered as the consideration for the sale or other transfer, not a leasing or letting, of property forming a part of principal, or as a repayment of loans, or in liquidation of the assets of a corporation, or as the proceeds of property taken on eminent domain proceedings where separate awards to tenant and remainderman are not made, or as proceeds of insurance upon property forming a part of the principal except where such insurance has been issued for the benefit of either tenant or remainderman alone, or otherwise as a refund or replacement or change in form of principal, shall be deemed principal unless otherwise expressly provided in this chapter. Any profit or loss resulting upon any change in form of principal shall inure to or fall upon principal, except in the case of property referred to and defined by Section 731.14, in which case the provisions of Section 731.14 shall govern.

(c) All income, after payment of expenses properly chargeable to it, shall be paid and delivered to the tenant or retained by him if already in his possession or held for accumulation where legally so directed by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established; while the principal shall be held for ultimate distribution as determined by the terms of the transaction by which it was established or by law, except in the case of property referred to and defined by Section 731.14, in which case the provisions of Section 731 14 shall govern.

731.06. Whenever a tenant's right to income shall cease by death, or in any other manner, all payments theretofore actually paid to the tenant shall belong to the tenant or to his personal representative; all income actually received after such termination shall be paid to the person next entitled to income by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established.

731.07. (a) All dividends on shares of a corporation forming a part of the principal which are payable

(1) In shares of the declaring corporation of the same kind and rank as the shares on which such dividend is paid; and

(2) In shares of the declaring corporation of a different kind or rank to the extent that they represent a capitalization of surplus not derived from earnings, shall be deemed principal.

Subject to the provisions of this section, all dividends, other than those awarded to principal under (1) and (2) above, including ordinary and extraordinary dividends and dividends payable in shares or other securities or obligations of corporations other than the declaring corporation, shall be deemed income.

Where the tenant shall have the option of receiving a dividend either in cash or in the shares of the declaring corporation, it shall be considered as a cash dividend and deemed income, irrespective of the choice made by the tenant except as provided in subdivision (f) of this section.

(b) All rights to subscribe to the shares or other securities or obligations of a corporation accruing on account of the ownership of shares or other securities in such corporation, and the proceeds of any sale of such rights, shall be deemed principal. All rights to subscribe to the shares or other securities or obligations of a corporation accruing on account of the ownership of shares or other securities in another corporation, and the proceeds of any sale of such rights shall be deemed income.

(c) Where the assets of a corporation are liquidated, amounts paid upon corporate shares as cash dividends declared before such liquidation occurred or as arrears of preferred or guaranteed dividends shall be deemed income; all other amounts paid upon corporate shares on disbursement of the corporate assets to the stockholders shall be deemed principal All disbursements of corporate assets to the stockholders, whenever made, which are designated by the corporation as a return of capital or division of corporate property shall be deemed principal.

(d) Where a corporation succeeds another by merger, consolidation, or reorganization or otherwise acquires its assets, and the corporate shares of the succeeding corporation are issued to the shareholders of the original corporation in like proportion to, or in substitution for, their shares of the original corporation, the two corporations shall be considered a single corporation in applying the provisions of this section. But, two corporations shall not be considered a single corporation under this section merely because one owns corporate shares of or otherwise controls or directs the other.

(e) In applying this section the date when a dividend accrues to the person who is entitled to it shall be held to be the date specified by the corporation as the one on which the stockholders entitled thereto are determined, or in default thereof the date of declaration of the dividend.

(f) Distributions made from ordinary income by a regulated investment company or by a trust qualifying and electing to be taxed under federal law as a real estate investment trust are income. All other distributions made by the company or trust, including distributions from capital gains, depreciation, or depletion, whether in the form of cash or an option to take new stock or cash or an option to purchase additional shares, are principal.

(g) The tenant may rely upon the statement of the paying corporation as to whether dividends are paid from profits or earnings or are a return of capital or division of corporate property, and as to any other fact, relevant under any provision of this chapter, concerning the source or character of dividends or disbursements of corporate assets.

731.08. Where any part of the principal consists of bonds or other obligations for the payment of money, they shall be deemed principal at their inventory value as fixed by the appraiser or appraisers regularly appointed by the court, or, in default thereof, at their market value at the time the principal was established, or at their cost where purchased later, regardless of their par or maturity value; and upon their respective maturities or upon their sale or other disposition any loss or gain realized thereon shall fall upon or inure to the principal, except in the case of property referred to and defined by Section 731.14, in which case the provisions of Section 731.14 shall govern. Where any part of the principal consists of a bond or other obligation for the payment of money, bearing no stated interest but redeemable at maturity or a future time at an amount in excess of the amount in consideration of which it was issued, such accretion, as when realized, shall inure to income.

731.09. (a) Whenever a tenant is authorized by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established or by law, to use any part of the principal in the continuance of a business which the original owner of the property comprising the principal had been carrying on, the net profits of such business attributable to such principal shall be deemed income.

(b) Where such business consists of buying and selling property, the net profits for any period shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross returns during, and the inventory value of the property at the end of, such period, the expenses during, and the inventory value of the property at the beginning of, such period.

(c) Where such business does not consist of buying and selling property, the net income shall be computed in accordance with the customary practice of such business, but not in such way as to decrease the principal.

(d) Any increase in the value of the principal used in such business shall be deemed principal, and all losses in any one calendar year, after the income from such business for that year has been exhausted, shall fall upon principal.

731.10. Where any part of the principal consists of animals employed in business, the provisions of Section 731.09 shall apply; and in other cases where the animals are held as a part of the principal partly or wholly because of the offspring or increase which they are expected to produce, all offspring or increase shall be deemed principal to the extent necessary to maintain the original number of such animals and the remainder shall be deemed income; and in all other cases such offspring or increase shall be deemed income.

731.11. (a) Where any part of the principal consists of property in lands from which may be taken timber, minerals, oils, gas, or other natural resources, and the tenant in possession is not under a duty to change the form of the investment of the principal, or (the duty to change the form of the investment being absent) is authorized by law or by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established, to lease or otherwise develop such natural resources, and no provision is made for the disposition of the net proceeds thereof after the payment of expenses and carrying charges on such property, such proceeds shall be deemed income, whether received as rent or bonus on a lease or as a consideration, by way of royalties or otherwise for the permanent severance of such natural resources from the lands. A duty to change the form of the investment shall be negatived, and authority to develop such natural resources shall be deemed to exist (not excluding other cases where appropriate intent is manifested) where: (1) the resources or the right to exploit them is specifically devised or granted, or (2) where development or exploitation of the resources had begun prior to the transaction by which the principal was established, or (3) where by the terms of that transaction a general authority to lease or otherwise develop is conferred, or (4) where the lands are directed to be retained. The fact that such property received upon creation of the principal does not fall within the category of investments which the tenant or a trustee would be authorized to make under the law or the terms of the particular instrument by which the principal is established, nor the conferring of a mere authority, as distinguished from a direction, to sell such property, shall not be deemed to evidence an intent that the form of the investment shall be changed.

(b) Where any part of the principal consists of property in lands containing such natural resources, and the conditions under which the proceeds thereof become income shall not exist, then in the absence of the expression of contrary intent in the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established, all such proceeds from such resources, not in excess of 5 percent per annum of the inventory value of such resources as fixed by the appraiser or appraisers regularly appointed by the court, or in default thereof their fair market value at the time the principal was established, or their cost if acquired later, shall be deemed income and the remainder principal.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to abrogate or extend any right which may otherwise have accrued by law to a tenant to develop or work such natural resources for his own benefit.

731.12. Where any part of the principal consists of property subject to depletion, such as leaseholds, patents, copyrights, and royalty rights, and the tenant in possession is not under a duty to change the form of the investment of the principal, the full amount of rents, royalties, or income from the property shall be income to the tenant; but where the tenant is under a duty to change the form of the investment, either at once or as soon as a reasonable price, not representing an undue sacrifice of value, may be obtained, then the rents, royalties or income from such property not in excess of 5 percent per annum of its inventory value as fixed by the appraiser or appraisers regularly appointed by the court, or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established or at its cost where purchased later, shall be deemed income and the remainder principal.

731.13. (a) Where any part of a principal in the possession of a tenant consists of realty or personalty which for more than a year and until disposed of as hereinafter stated has not produced an average net income of at least 1 percent per annum of its inventory value as fixed by the appraiser or appraisers regularly appointed by the court, or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established or of its cost where purchased or otherwise acquired later, and the tenant is under a duty to change the form of the investment as soon as a reasonable price, not representing an undue sacrifice of value, may be obtained and such change is delayed, but is made before the principal is finally distributed, then the tenant shall be entitled to share in the net proceeds received from the property as delayed income to the extent hereinafter stated.

(b) Such income shall be the difference between the net proceeds received from the property and the amount which, had it been placed at simple interest at the rate of 5 percent per annum for the period during which the change was delayed, would have produced the net proceeds at the time of change, but in no event shall such income be more than the amount by which the net proceeds exceed the inventory value of the property as fixed by the appraiser or appraisers regularly appointed by the court, or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established or its cost where purchased later. The net proceeds shall consist of the gross proceeds received from the property less any expenses incurred in disposing of it and less all carrying charges which have been paid out of principal during the period while it has been unproductive.

(c) The change shall be taken to have been delayed from the time when the duty to make it first arose, which shall be presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to be one year after the tenant first received the property if then unproductive, otherwise one year after it became unproductive.

(d) If the tenant has received any income from the property or has had any beneficial use thereof during the period while the change has been delayed, his share of the delayed income shall be reduced by the amount of such income received or the value of the use had.

(e) As between successive tenants, or a tenant and a remainderman, delayed income shall be apportioned in the same manner as provided for income by Section 731.06.

731.14. (a) Where any part of the principal in possession of the tenant consists of an obligation for the payment of money secured by a mortgage or other hypothecation of real or personal property, and by reason of the enforcement of such obligation or by agreement in lieu of enforcement the tenant acquires any property, real or personal, of whatsoever kind, including a money judgment, such property shall be treated as a single substituted asset, and thereafter all income therefrom, expenses incident thereto and proceeds received upon sale, satisfaction, or transfer thereof, not a leasing or letting, excepting gain or profit on such sale, satisfaction or transfer, shall be apportioned in the same manner as provided by this chapter for property of like character acquired by purchase or held as a part of the estate at the time the principal was established.

Gain or profit realized on sale, satisfaction, or transfer, not a leasing or a letting, of property referred to in this section shall be credited to the income in an amount up to, but not exceeding, the accrued unpaid interest on the original obligation secured by such property as of the date of its acquisition by enforcement of the obligation or agreement in lieu thereof, and the balance shall be credited to principal. Such credit to income on account of accrued interest shall be in addition to any and all other credits due income by the terms of any other section of this chapter. Should any portion of such credit to income on account of accrued interest be in a form other than cash, then, and in that event, the full amount of such credit to income shall be paid first out of any sums received from the conversion of such asset into cash whether by payment, sale, or transfer before any sums so received shall be paid to principal.

As between successive tenants or a tenant and a remainderman, all sums paid hereunder on account of accrued interest shall be apportioned in the same manner as provided for income by Section 731.06.

The cost price of the property shall be the unpaid balance of the principal sum of the debt secured by such property, plus all sums whenever paid on any of the following items:

(1) All costs, charges, and expenses incident to the acquisition of such property;

(2) All taxes, bonds, and assessments, or any of them, which were payable at the date of the acquisition of such property by the tenant, excepting, however, interest accruing thereon from the date of the acquisition of such property by the tenant; and all such sums shall be a charge against the principal.

(b) Upon the sale, surrender, or other disposition of a bond, debenture, note, or other evidence of an indebtedness, voluntarily created, or of a certificate of deposit evidencing the deposit of any such instrument with a protective or reorganization committee, or of stock or other security received through participation in the enforcement of such obligation or the foreclosure of the security therefor, upon which bond or other obligation there is overdue unpaid interest which accrued after the establishment of the principal, the proceeds realized upon such sale, surrender, or other disposition, after repayment (1) of expenses incurred in connection therewith and (2) of any sums paid to protect or preserve such security, shall be divided pro rata between income and principal, computing interest at the rate specified in such obligation. The amount allocable to income shall in no case exceed the interest accrued and unpaid on the original obligation up to the time of such sale or other disposition or, where another security has been received in lieu of the original obligation, the income which would have accrued on the latter up to such time, less income received from the original or the substituted security. The terms sale, surrender, or other disposition, as above used, shall include compromise, settlement, accord and satisfaction, and similar arrangements.

731.15. (a) All ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the principal or with its administration and management, including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal, water rates, premiums on insurance taken upon the estates of both tenant and remainderman, interest on mortgages on the principal, ordinary repairs, compensation of assistants and court costs on regular accountings, except attorneys' fees, shall be paid out of income. Attorneys' fees for ordinary or current services shall be paid one-half out of income; one-half out of principal or in such other proportion as the court may direct.

SEC. 2. Section 1 of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1968.

At the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, Chapter 1508 of the 1967 Statutes was enacted to repeal Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 730) of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Civil Code, known and cited as the Principal and Income Law and adopted in this state in 1941, and to add new Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 730) of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Civil Code, to be known and cited as the Revised Principal and Income Act, operative July 1, 1968.

The Revised Principal and Income Act is framed in terms of trust relationships and does not expressly include the creation of principal by life or other legal estates, without the interposition of a trust. The history of the Revised Principal and Income Act indicates that this omission was intentional, as noted in Review of Selected 1967 Code Legislation, California Continuing Education of the Bar, page 26. The Principal and Income Act of 1941 in Section 730.04 of the Civil Code declared that act generally applicable where a principal is created with or without the interposition of a trust. To avoid a gap in the statutory law, in the case of legal life and other legal estates, present or future, it is necessary this act, pertaining to legal estates, be enacted to become operative July 1, 1968.

Article 5. Domesticated Anadromous Fishery

6550. The holder of a domesticated fish breeder's license may be granted a permit by the commission, under such terms and conditions as the commission may prescribe, to release and recapture domestically reared anadromous fish in state waters.

6551. Prior to issuance of any permit by the commission, a public hearing shall be held in the county or counties affected. Notice of the hearing shall be published at least once, and at least 10 days prior to the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the counties in which the hearing is to be held, or if no such newspaper is published in that county or counties then in such a newspaper in an adjoining county. The hearing shall be conducted by either (a) the commission, (b) a member of the commission designated by it, or (c) the director if requested to do so by the commission.

Such employees of the department as may be necessary or are requested by any interested group of persons, shall be present at the hearing.

6552. No permit will be issued which may tend to deplete the natural runs of anadromous fish, result in waste or deterioration of fish, or when the proposed operation is located on a stream or river below a state or federal fish hatchery or egg-taking station.

6553. All fish released into the wild under authority of this article during the time they are in the wild will become the property of the state and may be taken under the authority of a sport or commercial fishing license.

Proceedings to cause such alteration or termination shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commission shall have all the powers granted therein. An orderly termination shall not exceed a three-year period and shall culminate in the revocation of the permit in its entirety. During this period, the permittee may continue to examine and take specified domesticated anadromous fish according to the provisions of the permit, but may not release additional fish.

(c) If the commission finds that the operation has caused deterioration of the natural run of anadromous fish in the waters covered by the permit, it may require the permittee to return the fishery to the same condition as was prior to issuance of the permit. If the permittee fails to take appropriate action, the commission may direct the department to take such action, and the permittee shall bear any cost incurred by the department.

(d) Prior to release into state waters the fish may be examined by the department to determine that they are not diseased or infected with any disease which, in the opinion of the department, may be detrimental to the state fishery resources.

(e) The permittee shall have the right to divert all fish returning to the stream to an inspection area as authorized by the commission, and shall be allowed to examine all fish for the purpose of identifying domestically reared fish that have returned.

(f) No unmarked fish may be transported from the trapping facility other than to be returned to state waters.

(g) All fish not bearing marks approved by the commission for the permittee will be returned unharmed to the stream or river.

SEC. 2. Any permit issued under this act shall be on an experimental basis until its impact on the fishery resource can be ascertained and, therefore, this act shall be applicable only to the waters of Waddell Creek, contained within Santa Cruz County, until the 61st day after final adjournment of the 1972 Regular Session of the Legislature after which time this act shall have no force or effect.

junior college. The governing board of the district maintaining such junior college designated by the student shall admit the student provided he otherwise qualifies for admission.

The provisions of the preceding paragraph of this section shall be inapplicable to any student residing in a district maintaining a junior college if the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that such district maintains adequate dormitories or housing facilities or provides adequate transportation for such student between his home and the junior college attendance center.

If the student resides in a district maintaining a junior college, the provisions of Article 7 (commencing with Section 10801) of Chapter 1 of Division 9 shall be inapplicable, and the district of the student's residence shall pay to the district of the student's attendance an amount on account of such attendance computed pursuant to Section 20201. For purposes of all provisions of this code dealing with allowances and apportionments from the State School Fund for support of junior colleges, the district of the student's residence and the district of his attendance shall be deemed to have entered into an interdistrict attendance agreement with respect to the student.

(e) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned transit system, or by a passenger charter-party carrier and used under a contractual agreement to transport pupils to and from school activities but not used regularly to transport pupils to and from a public or private school.

SEC. 3. Section 16851 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16851. A schoolbus is defined as any motor vehicle while being used for the transportation of any school pupil at or below the 12th-grade level to and from a public school or to and from public school activities, except the following:

(a) A passenger vehicle designed for and when actually carrying not more than eight persons, including the driver.

(c) A motor vehicle of any type carrying only members of the household of the owner thereof.

(d) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned transit system, on scheduled runs but not used exclusively for the transportation of school pupils.

(e) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned transit system, or by a passenger charter-party carrier and used under a contractual agreement to transport pupils to and from school activities but not used regularly to transport pupils to and from a public school.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the governing board of a district maintaining a junior college may, by resolution, designate any motor vehicle operated by or for the district, a schoolbus within the meaning of this section, while it is being used for the transportation of any junior college students to and from a public junior college or to and from public junior college activities. The designation shall not be effective until written notification thereof has been filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 4. Section 545 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

545. A "schoolbus" is any motor vehicle while being used for the transportation of any school pupil at or below the 12th-grade level to and from a public or private school or to and from public or private school activities, except the following:

(a) A passenger vehicle designed for and when actually carrying not more than eight persons, including the driver.

(b) A nine-passenger station wagon when used for the transportation of not more than eight pupils and the driver, other than the regular transportation of pupils to and from a public or private school or the transportation of mentally retarded or physically handicapped pupils.

(c) A motor vehicle of any type carrying only members of the household of the owner thereof.

(d) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned transit system, on scheduled runs but not used exclusively for the transportation of school pupils.

(e) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned transit system, or by a passenger charter-party carrier and used under a contractual agreement to transport pupils to and from school activities but not used regularly to transport pupils to and from a public or private school.

for the district, a schoolbus within the meaning of this section, while it is being used for the transportation of any junior college students to and from a public junior college or to and from public junior college activities. The designation shall not be effective until written notification thereof has been filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 5. Sections 3 and 4 of this act shall become operative only if Senate Bill No. 27 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1968 session, and in such case at the same time as Senate Bill No. 27 takes effect; at which time Section 16851 of the Education Code, as amended by Section 1 of this act and Section 545 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Section 2 of this act, are repealed.

Owners of private student housing, who have been furnishing transportation to and from public, private, and parochial schools for pupils above the 12th-grade level, are being prevented from using motor vehicles to provide such transportation unless the motor vehicles are made to conform with all of the requirements for schoolbuses. Such requirements are not applicable to similar motor vehicles operated by the University of California, a California state college or a junior college. Unless this statute, which would exempt these buses from the schoolbus requirements, becomes effective immediately many of the pupils who have been depending upon the owners of the private student housing for transportation to and from public, private, and parochial schools will be unable to attend such schools and complete their educations.

An act to amend Section 186 95 of the Streets and Highways Code, providing for allocation of funds pursuant to the Emergency Flood Relief Law for the repair, restoration, or replacement of public property damaged or destroyed by storm and flood or flood conditions, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 29, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State May 29, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The unexpended balance of the appropriation made by Item 446.7, Budget Act of 1958, as amended by Section 12, Budget Act of 1960, and Section 11.4, Budget Act of 1967, is appropriated to the Department of Finance for expenditure for the purposes of the Emergency Flood Relief Law (Article 6 (commencing with Section 54150), Chapter 5, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5, Government Code) for damage or destruction to public real property, other than the repair, restoration, or replacement of streets, roads, and bridges, by flood conditions arising from tidal waves which occurred between March 1, 1964, and April 30, 1964, or by storm and flood or flood conditions, including damage or destruction by flood conditions arising from tidal waves, which occurred between November 1, 1967, and June 30, 1968, and the local agency applies to the Department of Finance for an allocation of funds on or before October 1, 1968.

The money appropriated by this section shall remain available for expenditure until June 30, 1969.

SEC. 2. The funds made available by Section 1 of this act may also be expended for the purposes described in Section 54155 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. Allocations of funds under Section 1 of this act may be expended, if the local agency so elects, for the repair, restoration, or replacement of a public building to present-day standards; provided, that the square footage of such building is not increased thereby.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 54157 of the Government Code, whenever the Department of Finance determines that a local agency to which funds available pursuant to Section 1 of this act are proposed to be allocated is financially unable to meet the matching requirements set forth in Section 54157 of the Government Code due to exhaustion of its financial resources because of disaster expenditures, the provisions of Section 54157 of the Government Code shall not apply, and the Department of Finance may allocate funds available pursuant to Section 1 of this act to pay all of the cost of repairing, restoring, or replacing public buildings of such local agency or such portion of such cost as the department determines is necessary to accomplish the project, taking into consideration the financial ability of the local agency to meet the matching requirements of Section 54157 of the Government Code, less any money provided by the United States or any agency thereof for any portion of the cost of the project; provided, that the total amount of state funds allocated for any one project pursuant to this section shall not exceed the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

SEC. 5. The money in the Street and Highway Disaster Fund under subdivision (b) of Section 186 95 of the Streets and Highways Code shall be available for expenditure for allocation by the State Allocation Board for the purposes of the Emergency Flood Relief Law, including the purposes provided for in Section 54160 of the Government Code, for the repair or restoration of any local street, road, or bridge damaged or destroyed by storm and flood or flood conditions, including damage or destruction by flood conditions arising from tidal waves, occurring between November 1, 1967, and June 30, 1968; provided, that the local agency has applied to the State Allocation Board for an allocation of funds on or before October 1, 1968.

SEC. 6. Whenever the Department of Finance determines that a local agency which would otherwise be eligible for an allocation under the formula of Section 54157 of the Government Code is unable to finance the work due to exhaustion of its financial resources because of disaster expenditures, the State Allocation Board may allocate funds available pursuant to Section 5 of this act to pay such portion of the cost of repairing, restoring, or replacing the streets, roads and bridges of such local agency as the department has determined is necessary to accomplish such work; provided, that the amount contributed by each local agency shall not be reduced to less than an amount of money equal to the amount allocated to such local agency for the 1966-67 fiscal year pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 2110 of the Streets and Highways Code; and provided, further, that if the local agency is a county, the Department of Finance, in determining whether the county's financial resources are exhausted, shall ascertain whether the county has levied, during the then current year, the maximum property tax for highway purposes authorized by Section 1550 of the Streets and Highways Code in the road district in which the work is proposed, and if such tax is being levied at less than the maximum rate authorized by Section 1550, the amount to be allocated by the State Allocation Board under this section shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the difference between the revenue derived from the property tax being levied for highway purposes in such road district and the revenue which would have been derived from such tax at the maximum rate authorized by Section 1550. In determining if a county has levied sufficient taxes, amounts to be received from other taxes levied by that county and used for road purposes shall be included.

SEC. 7. Section 186.95 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

186.95. The Street and Highway Disaster Fund is hereby created in the State Treasury, to consist of the moneys referred to in Section 186.9.

The moneys in the Street and Highway Disaster Fund, which are appropriated by Section 186.9, shall be available for expenditure, transfer, and allocation, as follows:

(a) The money transferred to the fund pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 186.9 shall be available for allocation by the State Allocation Board for the purposes of the Emergency Flood Relief Law (Article 6 (commencing with Section 54150), Chapter 5, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code), including the purposes provided for in Section 54160 of the Government Code, for damage or destruction to local streets, roads and bridges from storm and flood or flood conditions which have occurred between December 1, 1964, and June 30, 1965. Local agencies shall apply to the State Allocation Board for an allocation of funds on or before April 1, 1966. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in the Emergency Flood Relief Law, the funds allocated pursuant to this subdivision may be used for the purpose of repairing, restoring or replacing such local streets, roads or bridges to present-day standards, such as those referred to in Section 186.8 of this code, and to accommodate present traffic.

(b) The money in the fund including the money received from the federal government as reimbursement to any city or county for the repair or restoration of any street, road or bridge which has been or will be repaired or restored in part or in whole by funds allocated pursuant to this section shall be available for allocation by the State Allocation Board for the purposes of the Emergency Flood Relief Law for the repair or restoration of any local street, road or bridge damaged or destroyed by any disaster to present-day standards such as those referred to in Section 186.8 of this code, and to accommodate present traffic; and the use of such money shall not be limited to the repair or restoration of streets, roads or bridges damaged or destroyed by storm and flood or flood conditions; provided, that no such money shall be allocated for expenditure in connection with any disaster, except the damage or destruction to local streets, roads or bridges damaged or destroyed by storm and flood or flood conditions which have occurred between December 1, 1964, and June 30, 1965, unless and until specifically authorized by the Legislature.

(c) The money in the fund received from the federal government as reimbursement to the state for the repair or restoration of any state highway which has been or will be repaired or restored in part or in whole by funds transferred to the State Highway Fund pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 186.9 or by funds expended pursuant to this section shall be available for transfer by the Department of Finance to the State Highway Fund for allocation by the California Highway Commission and expenditure by the Department of Public Works for the repair or restoration of any state highway damaged or destroyed by any disaster to present-day standards and to accommodate present traffic.

(d) Any money in the fund not necessary for immediate use for the purposes otherwise specified in this section shall be available for transfer by the Department of Finance to the State Highway Fund for allocation and expenditure for construction of state highways, but any amount so transferred shall, after receipt by the Department of Public Works of written demand from the Department of Finance, be returned from the State Highway Fund to the Street and Highway Disaster Fund upon determination by the Department of Finance of the necessity of such money for the purposes of this section within a period of not to exceed six months in such installments as may be agreed upon by the Department of Finance and the Department of Public Works.

(e) If the Department of Finance determines the cash balance of the money in the fund under subdivision (b) of this section is temporarily insufficient to make payments for purposes authorized under subdivision (b), and the Department of Public Works determines the cash balance of the money in the fund under subdivision (c) in an amount not to exceed two million dollars ($2,000,000) is not needed for immediate use for the purposes specified therein, the Department of Finance may transfer such amount to subdivision (b) for expenditure pursuant to that subdivision; provided, however, that such transfer shall not be made until the Department of Public Works and the Department of Finance have entered into an agreement providing that the Department of Finance, upon receipt of written demand from the Department of Public Works, shall repay all such amounts by transfer of money in the fund under subdivision (b) to subdivision (c) in such installments as may be agreed to by the Department of Public Works and the Department of Finance.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, money in the fund under subdivision (b) may be allocated by the State Allocation Board for expenditure pursuant to Section 54155 of the Government Code.

(g) Income from investment of moneys in the fund and all payments by local agencies in reimbursement of moneys disbursed from the fund, including deferred payments with interest, pursuant to Government Code Sections 54160 and 54161, and all other moneys deposited therein, pursuant to law, shall be available for expenditure, transfer and allocation pursuant to this section.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Annual storms and floods occurring in various counties of the state have caused and are expected to cause severe damage and destruction to essential local streets, roads and bridges, public facilities and property in said counties, including public facilities supplying domestic water to inhabitants thereof. In order that funds may be made available immediately for the repair, restoration, or replacement of such local streets, roads and bridges, public facilities and property, it is essential that this act go into immediate effect.

In the event that a trial date has been set before such justice court judge, such affidavit must be filed at least 10 days prior to the trial date.

(b) Thereupon the justice court judge with whom the affidavit is filed shall be without jurisdiction to proceed with the case and shall immediately transfer the case and all papers in connection therewith for further proceedings before a municipal court judge or other magistrate having jurisdiction of such offense at the county seat.

(c) The foregoing method of securing a change of venue is in addition to any other method provided by law for obtaining a change of venue.

The cards or tape shall be provided without charge.

The county clerk, upon demand of the chairman of a county central committee, and under the conditions set forth in the preceding paragraph, shall sell to the committee a set of cards or a copy of the tape applicable to voters of a political party other than the party represented by the committee for all voters prior to the subsequent direct primary election or general election. The charge made for the cards or tape shall be an amount sufficient to reimburse the county for the expense incurred in preparing and furnishing the cards or tape.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8784 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

8784. If there is a surplus remaining in the redemption fund after payment of all bonds and the interest thereon, that surplus shall first be applied to repayment to the city of any special taxes levied by it for the purpose of paying for lands purchased by it under Part 13 of this division less its recovery on the lands purchased at such delinquent sale, and also of any costs incurred by it under this division. The remainder shall be repaid in accordance with the provisions of Section 8783 to persons paying supplemental assessments, if any, and the balance may be proportionately credited upon the final installments due upon the assessments securing the bonds and repaid to those persons whose assessments have been previously paid or may be transferred to the general fund of the city.

CHAPTER 227

An act to amend Section 14675.5 of the Education Code, relating to school district retirement boards, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 29, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 29, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14675.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

14675.5. Notwithstanding anything in this code, a district retirement board may invest in an amount not exceeding 20 percent of the assets of such plan in securities, whether or not they are expressly authorized, and whether or not they qualify as investments for savings banks, in which in the informed opinion of the district retirement board it is prudent to invest retirement funds.

Any investments as are authorized by this section in corporation shares may under the advice of proper counsel be made in an amount, determined on the basis of cost, not to exceed 10 percent of the assets of the retirement fund in the first two years after the effective date of this section, not to exceed 15 percent during the third year after the effective date of this section, and not to exceed 20 percent thereafter, in common or preferred stock or shares, of corporations created or existing under the laws of the United States, or any state, district, or territory thereof; provided that

(a) Such stock is registered on a national securities exchange, as provided in the "Securities Exchange Act of 1934" as amended. Such registration shall not be required with respect to the following stocks:

(3) Any preferred stock.

(b) Such corporation has total assets of at least one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000);

(c) Bonds of such a corporation, if any are outstanding, qualify for investment of the retirement fund, and that there are no arrears of dividend payments on its preferred stock;

(d) Such corporation has paid a cash dividend on its common stock in at least 8 of the 10 years next preceding the date of investment, and the aggregate net earnings available for dividends on the common stock of such corporation for the whole of such period have been equal to the amount of such dividends paid, and such corporation has paid an earned cash dividend in each of the last three years;

(e) Such investment in any one company may not exceed 5 percent of the common shares outstanding; and

(f) No single common stock investment, based on cost, may exceed 2 percent of the assets of the fund.

The board shall employ investment counsel or trust companies or trust departments of banks to render service in connection with the board's investment program in corporation shares and may pay for such service.

When an agreement is entered into by the board for consulting or management services in connection with the administration of the board's investment program, any fees stipulated in such agreement to be paid for such services shall not be considered a cost of administration but shall be considered as a reduction in earnings from such investments or a charge against the assets of the retirement fund as determined by the board.

In order to permit school districts maintaining retirement plans to utilize investment program for 1968–1969 fiscal year authorized by amendment of Section 1372 of the Financial Code at the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 228

An act to amend Sections 243, 362, and 12804 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 29, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 29, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 243 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

243. A "camper" is a structure designed to be mounted upon a motor vehicle and to provide facilities for human habitation or camping purposes. A camper having one axle shall not be considered a vehicle.

SEC. 2. Section 362 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

362. A "house car" is a motor vehicle originally designed, or permanently altered, and equipped for human habitation, or to which a camper has been permanently attached. A motor vehicle to which a camper has been temporarily attached is not a house car except that, for the purposes of Division 11 (commencing with Section 21000) and Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), a motor vehicle equipped with a camper having an axle that is designed to support a portion of the weight of the camper unit shall be considered a three-axle house car regardless of the method of attachment or manner of registration.

SEC. 3. Section 12804 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804. (a) The examination shall include a test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code governing the operation of vehicles upon the highways, the ability to read and understand simple English used in highway traffic and directional signs, his understanding of traffic signs and signals and the applicant shall be required to give an actual demonstration of his ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in operating a motor vehicle by driving the same under the supervision of an examining officer and submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he desires a license to drive. The examination shall also include a test of the hearing and eyesight of the applicant and such other matters as may be necessary to determine the applicant's mental and physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways and whether any ground exists for refusal of a license under this code. The examination for a class 1 or class 2 license under subdivision (b) of this section shall also include a doctor's report of a medical examination of the applicant. In establishing the requirements consideration may be given to the standards presently required of motor carrier drivers by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Any physical defect of the applicant which in the opinion of the department is compensated to insure safe driving ability shall not prevent the issuance of a license to the applicant.

(b) Any applicant for a driver's license shall be required to submit to an examination appropriate to the type of motor vehicle or combination of vehicles he desires a license to drive in accordance with the following classifications:

(1) Class 1. Any combination of vehicles and includes the operation of all vehicles under class 2 and class 3.

(2) Class 2. Any bus, any "farm labor truck," any single vehicle with three or more axles, any such vehicles towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross, and all vehicles covered under class 3, except that a person holding a valid class 3 license on the effective date of this act may drive a bus designed to carry not more than 15 passengers until such time as the license expires without obtaining a class 2 license.

(3) Class 3. A three-axle house car and any two-axle vehicle, except a bus or "farm labor truck" and such vehicles towing another vehicle weighing less than 6,000 pounds gross.

(c) The department may accept a certificate of driving experience in lieu of a driving test on class 1 or 2 applications when such certificate is issued by an employer of the applicant provided the applicant has first qualified for a class 3 license and also met the other examination requirements for the license for which he is applying. Such certificate may be submitted as evidence of the applicant's experience or training in the operation of the types of equipment covered by the license for which he is applying.

Unless this act takes effect immediately, campers with an axle mounted on a pickup truck would result in a complete lack of uniformity in the application of highway traffic laws such as speed limits, class of drivers license, carrying of passengers and safety glass, as well as causing great inconvenience to the users of such vehicles.

CHAPTER 229

An act to add Section 65356.1 to the Government Code, relating to local planning.

[Approved by Governor May 29, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State May 29, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 65356.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65356.1. When it deems it to be in the public interest the legislative body may change or add to all or a part of an adopted general plan. The legislative body shall first refer the proposed change or addition to the planning commission for a report. Before making such report the planning commission shall hold at least one hearing on the proposed change or addition. Notice of the time and place of such hearing shall be given in the time and manner specified in Section 65351 of this article. The planning commission's report shall be completed not later than 90 days after the referral.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9001 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

9001. Shrimp traps not to exceed 20 inches in width, 18 inches in height, and 24 inches in greatest length, with openings from exterior to interior not to exceed one-half inch in any dimension throughout the trap, may be used in Districts 18, 19, 19A, 19B, 20A, and 21 to take shrimp only.

CHAPTER 231

An act to amend Section 6.1 of the Ventura County Flood Control Act (Chapter 44 of the Statutes of 1944, Fourth Extraordinary Session), relating to the Ventura County Flood Control District, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6.1 of the Ventura County Flood Control Act (Chapter 44 of the Statutes of 1944, Fourth Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 6.1. The board of supervisors is authorized and empowered at any time and from time to time to create within any of the zones, described in Sections 3 to 6, inclusive, of this act, special zones for the purpose of acquiring, engineering, designing, constructing, reconstructing, maintaining, or operating any project authorized by this act or any flood control or storm drainage facilities within such special zones which in the opinion of the board will be of special benefit only to the area within the special zones. Before creating any special zone under the provisions of this section, the board of supervisors shall hold a public hearing on the proposal. Notice of the hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the special zone, if there be one, otherwise notice of the meeting shall be posted in at least seven places within the proposed special zone. Said notice shall describe the boundaries of the proposed special zone and contain a general statement of the nature of work proposed to be done. At the hearing, any interested person may appear and protest the creation of the zone or the performance of any proposed work therein. Before final action is taken to form any special zone the exterior boundaries of which will include any land lying within the limits of any incorporated city, the board of supervisors shall have the concurrence of such city to the formation of such special zone, such concurrence to be evidenced by a resolution or ordinance adopted by a majority of the members of the governing body of such city or by a vote of a majority of the qualified electors residing in such city or portion thereof to be included in such special zone. Said election shall in all particulars be held as provided by law for holding municipal elections in said city and the cost thereof shall be a city charge.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Because of a recent legal interpretation of the Ventura County Flood Control Act and present flood hazard conditions in many existing secondary storm drain systems of zone three of the Ventura County Flood Control District the provisions of this act are urgently needed to permit the district to effectively accomplish reconstruction, maintenance, and operation of such systems for the preservation of the public health and safety.

CHAPTER 232

CHAPTER 235

An act to add Section 196b to the Civil Code and to amend Section 270 of the Penal Code, relating to child support.

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 196b is added to the Civil Code, to read:

196b. The husband of a woman who bears a child as a result of artificial insemination shall be liable for support of the child in the same manner as if he were the natural father, if he consented in writing to the artificial insemination.

SEC. 2. Section 270 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

270. A father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child who willfully omits without lawful excuse to furnish necessary clothing, food, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. If the father, during such violation, remains out of the state for 30 days, or if he fails or refuses to comply with the order of a court of competent jurisdiction requiring him to make any provision for the maintenance, support, medical treatment or other remedial care of such minor child and remains out of the state for 10 days without doing so, he is guilty of a felony. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such father from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the mother of such child is legally entitled to the custody of such child nor because the mother of such child, or any other person, or organization, voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for such child, or undertakes to do so.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father, or the omission by such father to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care is willful and without lawful excuse.

The court, in determining the ability of the father to support his child, shall consider all income, including social insurance benefits and gifts.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such father or the omission by such father to furnish such food, shelter, clothing or medical attendance or other remedial care for more than thirty (30) days is prima facie evidence that such father was outside the state.

In the event that the father of either a legitimate or illegitimate minor child is dead or for any other reason whatsoever fails to furnish the necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his minor child, the mother of said child shall become subject to the provisions of this section and be criminally liable for the support of said minor child during the period of failure on the part of the father to the same extent and in the same manner as the father.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the child. A child conceived but not yet born is to be deemed an existing person insofar as this section is concerned.

The husband of a woman who bears a child as a result of artificial insemination shall be considered the father of that child for the purposes of this section, if he consented in writing to the artificial insemination.

A utility compartment or glove compartment shall be deemed to be within the area occupied by the driver and passengers.

This section shall not apply to the living quarters of a housecar or camper.

23125. (a) The provisions of Sections 23121 and 23122 shall not apply to passengers in any bus, taxicab or the living quarters of a housecar or camper nor shall Section 23123 apply to the driver or owner of a bus or taxicab.

(b) The provisions of Sections 23121, 23122, and 23123 shall not apply to any person who, upon the recommendation of a doctor, carries alcoholic beverages in his motor vehicle for medicinal purposes. [Approved by Governor June 3, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20024.01 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20024.01. For a state member, or for a local member who is an employee of a contracting agency which is subject to the provisions of this section, "final compensation" means the highest average annual compensation earnable by a member during any period of three consecutive years during his membership in the system, including any or all of such period or periods of (a) service required for qualification for membership, or (b) prior service which qualifies for credit under this system, if any, immediately preceding membership, or (c) time prior to entering state service at the compensation earnable by him in the position first held by him in such service, as may be necessary to complete three consecutive years. For the purposes of this section, periods of service separated by breaks in service may be aggregated to constitute a period of three consecutive years, if the periods of service are consecutive except for such breaks. If a break in service did not exceed six months in duration, time included in the break and compensation earnable during such time shall be included in computation of final compensation. If a break in service exceeded six months in duration, the first six months thereof and the compensation earnable during those six months shall be included in computation of final compensation, but time included in the break which is in excess of six months and the compensation earnable during such excess time shall be excluded in computation of final compensation. Time during which a member is in state service and is also a member of the State Teachers' Retirement System or of another retirement system to which the state or the university contributes shall not be considered to be an absence for the purposes of Section 20023 nor to be a break in service for the purposes of this section, and the determination of the final compensation of such a member shall take into consideration his compensation earnable while he was a member of such other system.

On and after the operative date of the amendment to this section at the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature, the provisions of this section shall supersede Section 20024 and apply to all contracting agencies and to the employees of such agencies whether or not such agencies have previously elected to be subject to this section, except that this section shall not apply to an employee of a contracting agency which has not elected to be subject to this section whose death occurred or whose retirement was effective prior to such operative date.

SEC. 2. Section 20894.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20894.5. Notwithstanding other provisions of this article to the contrary, the employer shall contribute for each member of this system who is absent on military service without compensation, whose death occurs during such absence or who returns to state service within six months after discharge under conditions other than dishonorable or within six months after any period of rehabilitation afforded by the United States government other than a period of rehabilitation for purely educational purposes, amounts equal to the contributions which would have been made by the employee and the employer to the system on the basis of his compensation earnable at the commencement of his absence plus the annual salary adjustments which he would have received, if he had not been so absent. For the purpose of this section, the member absent on military service shall be deemed to have received a service rating for the period of such absence entitling him to annual salary adjustments. For the purposes of this section, a member who is or was granted a leave of absence or placed on a state civil service reemployment list as of the same date he was reinstated from military leave shall be considered as having returned to state service within said six months, if he returns to state service at the end of such leave of absence or upon offer of employment from the reemployment list, or if he retires under this system for service or disability during such leave. Retirements, heretofore effective, of members during such leaves, and the contribution by the employer of said amounts with respect to said members, are hereby validated and confirmed.

Any such member who exercises or did exercise the right to contribute to the system during the period of military service shall have such contributions refunded or credited to his account as additional contributions under Section 20630.

Any such member who withdraws or has withdrawn his accumulated contributions during his military service and who does not or did not redeposit the amount withdrawn upon his return to state service is entitled to be credited with the employer's contribution provided for in this section, and to receive credit for service during the period he was absent on military service, the same as if he had not withdrawn his accumulated contributions, and his rate for future contributions shall be based upon his age at the commencement of his absence on military service.

The contributions required of the employer pursuant to this section may be made in one sum, or in the manner in which other contributions are made. Contributions pursuant to this section shall be available only for the purpose of benefits payable in event of death or retirement for service or for disability, and shall be made available only for the purpose of benefits payable in event of death or retirement, and an employee resigning from state service after reinstatement from military service shall be entitled to withdraw under Sections 20652 and 20653 only that portion of his accumulated contributions personally made by him

This section does not apply to persons absent from state service by reason of service with the Merchant Marine of the United States, or on ships operated by or for the United States government, or with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, anything to the contrary in Section 20890 notwithstanding. Contributions by the employer pursuant to this section shall not be made for any period of time after December 31, 1949, for any member whose absence on military service began prior to January 1, 1950, and who had not returned to state service prior to January 1, 1950.

On and after the operative date of the amendment to this section at the 1968 Regular Session of the Legislature, the provisions of this section shall apply to all contracting agencies and to the employees of such agencies whether or not such agencies have previously elected to be subject to this section.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on the first day of the month following the month in which it becomes effective.

spectively, have been discharged. The obligations of any member to this system continue throughout his membership, and thereafter until all of the obligations of this system to or in respect to him have been discharged. For the purposes of payments into or out of the retirement fund for adjustment of errors or omissions, whether pursuant to Sections 20165, 20180, or 20527, or otherwise, the period of limitation of actions otherwise applicable shall not be deemed to commence or to have commenced to run until the error or omission has been discovered, as evidenced by the filing with this system of a claim or demand against this system or by the making of a claim or order for payment by this system against a member, a contracting agency or the state, except that with respect to actions against a retired member, or beneficiary based upon erroneous payment from or to this system the period of limitation shall commence from the date of such payment.

In such cases, the retailer may, within 15 days after such delivery, return such wine to the seller or his successor for exchange for the wine actually ordered, or may return the wine delivered in excess of the wine actually ordered. Returns under this subdivision may also be made after 15 days from the date of delivery upon written approval of the department.

(e) The wine has deteriorated in quality or the container thereof has been damaged, or the label or container for the wine has been changed, and the wine is returned and exchanged for the identical quantity of the same brand and type of wine and size of container.

If wine or the container thereof is damaged or deteriorated, and the seller thereof has ceased to carry on a business licensed under this division and there is no successor to such business, such wine may be returned by a retailer to a winegrower or wholesaler who handles the same brand or item of wine, upon the same terms and conditions provided in this section for return of wine to a seller or his successor, after receiving approval from the department.

If so executed at least 30 days before death, such devises and legacies shall be valid, but they may not collectively exceed one-third of the testator's estate as against his spouse, brother, sister, nephew, niece, descendant or ancestor, who would otherwise, as aforesaid, have taken the excess over one-third, and if they do, a pro rata deduction from such devises and legacies shall be made so as to reduce the aggregate thereof to one-third of the estate. All property bequeathed or devised contrary to the provisions of this section shall go to the spouse, brother, sister, nephew, niece, descendant or ancestor of the testator, if and to the extent that they would have taken said property as aforesaid but for such devises or legacies; otherwise the testator's estate shall

The term newspaper of general circulation as used herein is as defined in Article 1 (commencing with Section 6000) of Chapter 1, Division 7. Title 1 of the Government Code.

It is essential that the provisions of this act be applicable to certain irrigation districts which will be required to hold elections in 1968. [Approved by Governor June 5, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 5, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12 of the San Diego County Flood Control District Act (Ch. 55, Stats. 1966 (1st Ex. Sess.)) is amended to read:

Sec. 12. In each of the zones the board shall appoint a commission as follows: one representative of all the soil conservation districts situated entirely or partially within the zone; one representative of all the water agencies situated entirely or partially within the zone; three or more representatives of the unincorporated territory of the zone, the precise number to be determined as hereinafter specified, and one additional representative appointed by the board if such appointment is necessary to make the total number of representatives an uneven number.

As used in this section the term "water agencies" means any person operating a dam having an impounding capacity of 2,500 acre-feet or more, and any public agency representing the owners of, or controlling, water rights that in the determination of the board would or could be affected by zone or district projects.

The board shall appoint the representative of the soil conservation districts from a list of one or more nominees proposed by all of such districts acting in concert.

The board shall appoint the representative of the water agencies from a list of one or more nominees proposed by all of such agencies acting in concert.

Representatives of the unincorporated area shall be not less than three in number and shall be nominated and appointed by the board. The number of representatives authorized for the unincorporated territory shall be determined according to the following table, provided, however, where the application of such table results in the appointment of less than three representatives for the unincorporated territory the board shall appoint additional representatives so that the number of representatives for the unincorporated territory shall be at least three:

Zone	One representative for *	One additional representative for *
1	30, or less	each additional full 30
2	100, or less	each additional full 100
3	40, or less	each additional full 40
4	20, or less	each additional full 20
5	10, or less	each additional full 10

* The numbers in the center and right columns represent millions of dollars of assessed valuation.

Upon annexation to the district, any corporate area of any city which is within or partially within any zone shall have the right to representation on the zone commission for said zone and the number of representatives shall be determined and they shall be appointed and serve in like manner as representatives of the unincorporated territory, except that they shall be nominated by the city council.

If the position of representative of the soil conservation districts or of the water agencies is or becomes vacant for any reason, the clerk of the board shall give to each of said districts or agencies, as the case may be, 30 days notice of the time and place at which will be held a meeting for the purpose of nominating a representative of its own choosing. If the position of representative of any city or of the unincorporated territory is or becomes vacant for any reason the board shall appoint the representative nominated by the city council or by the board of supervisors, as the case may be, only, and such position shall remain vacant unless and until such nomination and appointment is made.

In all zones representatives shall serve four-year terms, except that the initial appointment of one-half the representatives, as determined by lot, shall be for a two-year term, only, so that the terms of the representatives will be staggered. Any representative appointed by the board for the purpose of making the total number of representatives an uneven number shall be appointed only for a two-year term. Zone representatives may be reappointed by the board to serve additional terms.

Each zone representative shall receive such sum as may be fixed by the board not exceeding ten dollars ($10) for each meeting of the zone commission attended by him, not exceeding two meetings in any calendar month. The board by resolution may provide for the reimbursement from funds of the district of actual and necessary expenses incurred by such representatives in the performance of official duties under this act.

(c) Each supervisor, fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) a year and the necessary and actual expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of his office.

(d) Grand jurors and trial jurors in superior courts and municipal courts shall receive for each day's attendance in court, upon regularly called jury meetings, committee meetings, or when appointed by the foreman of a grand jury to make individual investigations, five dollars ($5) a day. SECTION 1. Section 13991 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13991. SEC. 2. Section 13993 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13993. The resolution initiating the proceedings shall describe the boundaries of the proposed special fire protection zone or of the territory proposed to be annexed to or detached from a zone, declaring that public interest and necessity demands the creation of the zone or the annexation or detachment, and the reasons therefor, and set a date for a public hearing on the question of the creation of the zone or of the annexation or detachment before the district board.

SEC. 3. Section 13995 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13995. Any person interested, at or before the hearing, may file with the district board a written objection to the creation of the zone or to the annexation of territory to, or the detachment of territory from, a zone, or to the inclusion of his property in the zone or in such territory. At the hearing the district board shall hear and determine all protests and objections. At the conclusion of the hearing the district board shall decide and determine whether the zone shall be formed or whether the territory shall be annexed or detached, with the boundaries as described in the original resolution, except that it may revise the proposed boundaries by reducing the size of the zone or of the territory proposed to be annexed or detached.

SEC. 4. Section 13998 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13998. The district board shall file a report of the following types of action, together with a map describing the new boundaries when changes are made, with the State Board of Equalization and the county assessor:

CHAPTER 254

An act to amend Section 29333 of the Government Code, relating to county revolving funds.

[Approved by Governor June 5, 1968 Filed with Secretary of State June 5, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29333 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29333. In any county having a population of over 200,000 according to the 1950 federal census, the board of supervisors may establish a revolving fund not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) to be used for the benefit of all county departments. The fund shall be administered by an officer designated by the board, and shall be used to pay for services and supplies which county officers are authorized to purchase, and to meet other expenses county officers are authorized to incur, which constitute a legal charge against the county. The officer charged with administering the fund shall obtain a receipt for each disbursement and periodically shall file such receipts with the county auditor or controller to obtain reimbursement to the fund.

The officer administering the fund shall be bonded as provided in Section 29323. The board of supervisors may establish a procedure by which officers of county departments may submit requests to the officer administering the fund for payment of authorized expenses incurred by them.

In all other respects, the provisions of this article shall apply to the revolving fund provided for in this section.

An act to add Section 55501.5 to the Water Code, relating to county waterworks districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 5, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 5, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 55501.5 is added to the Water Code, to read:

55501.5. A district may fix a water service standby or immediate availability charge to be applied on an area or frontage or parcel basis, or a combination thereof, within the district to be charged to such areas to which water service is made available for any purpose by the district, whether the water service is actually used or not. The district may establish schedules varying such charge according to the land uses and the degree of availability or quantity of use of such water service to the affected lands, and may restrict such charge to lands lying within one or more zones or areas of benefits established within such district. The district may not, however, fix a charge in excess of ten dollars ($10) per acre or in excess of five dollars ($5) for a parcel of less than one acre.

If a person for more than one year obtains substantially all of his water requirements for the contiguous parcels of land which he occupies from rainfall, springs, streams, lakes, rivers or wells, and if the person's primary economic activity on such land is the commercial extraction or processing of minerals, such land shall be exempt from any water standby or availability charges.

The district may collect the standby or availability charge by billing the charged lands on a fiscal year basis or by other means available.

The district may collect the standby or availability charge as a part of the annual general county tax bill provided the district furnishes in writing to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor the description of each parcel for which a charge is to be billed together with the amount of the charge applicable to each parcel in sufficient time to meet the schedule established by the county for inclusion of such items on the county general tax bill. The parcel description may be the parcel number assigned by the county assessor to the parcel. In such, the standby or availability charge shall become a lien against the parcel of land to which it is charged in the same manner as the county general taxes. Penalties may be collected for late payment of the standby or availability charge or the amount thereof unpaid in the manner and at the same rates as that applicable for late payment or the amount thereof unpaid of county general taxes.

If the district collects standby charges through the county general tax bill, the amount of the standby charge and any applicable penalty shall be stated on the tax bill separately from all other taxes, if practicable.

Since the authority to fix water standby charges under this act must be exercised on or before July 1st of each year and since an ordinary statute does not take effect until the 61st day following adjournment of the Legislature, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately so that a district may fix water standby charges for the 1968–69 fiscal year in order to provide necessary funds for county waterworks district operations during said fiscal year.

SEC. 3. Section 22207.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

22207.6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, the board may execute a modification of the agreement, in conformity with the provisions of Section 218 of the Social Security Act and applicable federal regulations adopted pursuant thereto, to include the services of employees of a public agency which has ceased to exist if, with respect to all such services, all taxes required of an employer and an employee under Sections 3101 and 3111 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 were reported and paid by the public agency to the Internal Revenue Service in the mistaken belief that such reporting and payment established coverage for such employees and a refund of such taxes has not been requested or made.

SEC. 4. Section 22216 is added to the Government Code, to read:

22216. All acts and proceedings heretofore taken under this part by or on behalf of the state or any other public agency for inclusion of its employees in the federal system and all modifications to the agreement executed by the board pursuant to such acts and proceedings are hereby confirmed, validated and declared legally effective. SEC. 5. Section 22550.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

22550.5. A school district whose employees in positions covered under a retirement system as defined in Section 22009.1(c) are included in the agreement, shall be subject to all obligations and liabilities imposed on a public agency under this article. The county superintendent of schools shall submit on behalf of the district and for employees in his office included in his contract with the system, all wage, contribution, and other reports required under this article and shall collect and forward to the state amounts due in the manner provided in Section 20585 of this code for payment of contributions under the Public Employees' Retirement System.

1824. Whenever, in any action to form or abolish existing school districts, or to change the boundaries thereof, taken pursuant to any provision of Division 5 of this code, an existing school district having authorized but unsold bonds is divided between two or more districts, the board of supervisors shall, prior to the date the action is effective for all purposes, make and enter an order in the minutes of its proceedings that the unsold bonds be canceled. Said cancellation shall be effective on the date the action to form, or abolish existing school districts, or to change the boundaries thereof is effective for all purposes. Thereafter, the bonds and the vote by which they were authorized to be issued shall cease to be of any validity.

SEC. 2. Section 1824.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that urgently needed bond proceeds be secured to school districts which have been scheduled to reorganize in the near future or have been reorganized, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 43006 and 47180 of the Water Code, relating to California water storage districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 43006 of the Water Code is amended to read:

43006. In addition to levying assessments under Part 9 (commencing with Section 46000) of this division, the board may fix tolls or charges for the use of water or for other services rendered by the district, including the use of ground water, and collect the same from all persons receiving the benefit of the water or other services. The tolls and charges shall be proportional, as nearly as practicable, to the services rendered. Such tolls or charges may be levied and collected in order to provide, in whole or in part, for the payment of amounts due to the state, the department, any other district, or the United States, whether for capital charges or service charges or otherwise, pursuant to contracts made in accordance with Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 44000) of this part, or in order to provide, in whole or in part, for the payment of the costs of a project or the principal of and interest on bonds or warrants of the district, or in order to provide a bond reserve fund to secure bonds of the district, or in order to provide for the operation and maintenance of a project pursuant to Section 47180. The tolls and charges shall be proportional as nearly as possible to the service rendered.

go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The Rosedale-Rio Bravo Water Storage District in Kern County, California, entered into a contract with the Kern County Water Agency to purchase state aqueduct water which will be delivered in 1969. It is necessary, in order to have necessary funds available to operate such facilities to balance the cost of the project between the users and those who are pumping ground water, to have a clarification of the right of the district to make this ground water charge.

CHAPTER 261

An act to add Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 4450) to Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code, relating to public buildings.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 4450) is added to Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 7. ACCESS TO PUBLIC BUILDINGS BY PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED PERSONS

4450. It is the purpose of this chapter to insure that buildings and facilities, constructed in the state by the use of state, county, or municipal funds, or the funds of any political subdivision of the state, adhere to the American Standards Association Specifications A 117.1-1961 for making buildings and facilities accessible to, and usable by, the physically handicapped.

4451. Except as otherwise provided in this section, this chapter shall apply to all buildings and facilities intended for use by the public, which have any reasonable availability to, or usage by, physically handicapped persons, including the University of California, the California State Colleges, and the various junior college districts, which are constructed in whole or in part by the use of state, county, or municipal funds, or the funds of any political subdivision of the state. If an elementary, high school, or unified school district provides special buildings and facilities for the physically handicapped, the other buildings and facilities of such district shall be exempt from this chapter, except that at least one floor of all new elementary, high school, or unified school district buildings, and places of public assembly therein, such as those used for public meetings, will meet the American Standards Association Specifications A 117.1-1961. All such buildings and facilities constructed in this state after the effective date of this chapter from any of these funds or any combination thereof shall conform to each of the standards and specifications as prescribed in American Standards Association Specifications A 117.1-1961, except Sections 2.3, 2.4, 5.11, 5.12, and Figure 1 as related to Section 5.4.1.

These standards and specifications shall be adhered to in those buildings and facilities under construction on the effective date of this chapter, unless the authority responsible for the construction shall determine that the construction has reached a state where compliance is impractical. This chapter shall apply to temporary or emergency construction as well as permanent buildings.

In cases of practical difficulty, unnecessary hardship, or extreme differences, administrative authorities as designated under Section 4453 may grant exceptions from the literal requirements of this standard or permit the use of other methods or materials, but only when it is clearly evident that equivalent facilitation and protection are thereby secured.

4452. It is the intent of the Legislature that American Standards Association Specifications A 117.1-1961 shall be used as minimum standards to insure that buildings and facilities covered by this chapter are accessible to, and functional for, the physically handicapped to, through, and within their doors, without loss of function, space, or facility where the general public is concerned.

Any unauthorized deviation from these specifications shall be rectified by full compliance within 90 days after discovery of the deviation.

4453. The responsibility for enforcement of this chapter shall be as follows:

(a) Where state funds are utilized, by the Director of the Department of General Services.

(b) Where funds of counties, municipalities, or other political subdivisions are utilized, by the governing bodies thereof.

CHAPTER 262

SECTION 1. Section 262 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

262. Any tax or penalty or interest thereon for any fiscal year commencing during the calendar year 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, or 1968 on property as to which the church exemption was available for such fiscal year shall be canceled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 4986) of Chapter 4 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been levied or charged erroneously, and, if paid, a refund thereof shall be made pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9 of this division as if it had been erroneously collected.

SEC. 2. Section 264 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

(b) Subdivision does not include any parcel or parcels of land which is divided into four or less parcels. Any conveyance of land to a governmental agency, public entity or public utility shall not be considered a division of land for purposes of computing the number of parcels.

(c) Subdivision does not include the division of any real property improved or unimproved or a portion thereof shown on the latest adopted county tax roll as a unit or as contiguous units, which is divided for the purpose of sale, lease, or financing, whether immediate or future, if any of the following conditions prevail:

(1) The whole parcel before division contains less than five acres, each parcel created by the division abuts upon a public street or highway and no dedications or improvements are required by the governing body.

(2) Any parcel or parcels divided into lots or parcels, each of a gross area of 20 acres or more, and each of which has an approved access to a maintained public street or highway.

(d) In any case provided in subdivisions (c)(1), (c)(2), and (c)(3), and in the case of subdivision (b) when requested by local ordinance, a tentative map shall be submitted to the governing body or advisory agency (in the same manner as provided in this chapter for subdivisions) for approval as to area and lot design and as to all requirements of this section. Within one year after approval of the tentative map, a parcel map showing each new parcel or parcels may be filed with the recorder of the county concerned. This map shall be filed prior to sale, lease, or financing of such parcels. Conveyances may be made of parcels shown on such map by number or other such designation. Upon application an extension of the approval of the tentative map, not to exceed one year, may be granted by the governing body or advisory agency.

The governing body may require dedications or an offer of dedication by separate instrument for street opening or widening or easements. If dedications or offers of dedications are required, such dedications shall be completed prior to filing of the parcel map. An offer of dedication shall be in such terms as to be binding on the owner, his heirs, assigns or successors in interest, and shall continue until the governing body accepts or rejects such offer.

In the case of subdivisions (b) and (c)(3), and when local ordinance provides, the governing body may require the improvement of public or private streets, highways, ways, or easements as may be necessary for local traffic, drainage and sanitary needs.

(e) Nothing contained in this chapter shall apply to land dedicated for cemetery purposes under the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall in any way modify or affect any of the provisions of Section 11000 of this code.

This map shall be filed prior to sale, lease, or financing of such parcels. Conveyances may be made of parcels shown on such map by number or other such designation. Upon application an extension of the approval of the tentative map, not to exceed one year, may be granted by the governing body or advisory agency.

The governing body may require dedications or an offer of dedication by separate instrument for street opening or widening or easements. If dedications or offers of dedications are required, such dedications shall be completed prior to filing of the parcel map. An offer of dedication shall be in such terms as to be binding on the owner, his heirs, assigns or successors in interest, and shall continue until the governing body accepts or rejects such offer.

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall in any way modify or affect any of the provisions of Section 11000 of this code.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25410 of the Education Code is amended to read:

If the district is divided into two or more unified districts, or if any territory is included within the boundaries of such junior college district by annexation thereto or by change of boundaries thereof, which territory is not included within the unified district, such junior college district shall be governed by a board of five members who shall be elected in the same manner, for the same terms, and at the same time as are members of the governing boards of other districts. Within 15 days after the effective date of the annexation or change of boundaries for the purpose of electing members of the governing board, the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the junior college district shall call an election. The election shall be called and conducted in the manner provided by law for an election to choose the first governing board members of a newly formed junior college district.

SEC. 2. Section 25413.4 is added to the Education Code, to read:

25413.4. When a junior college district is coterminous with a high school district, the governing board of the high school district shall not constitute the governing board of the junior college district. Those persons who on the effective date of this section are serving as members of the governing boards of both a junior college district and a coterminous high school district shall, however, continue to so serve until the expiration of their present terms, provided they may on or after

July 2, 1969 elect on which of the two boards they will continue to serve. Such election shall be in writing, shall specify the effective date, and shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district. Those persons electing to withdraw as members of either the governing board of the junior college district or the governing board of the high school district shall continue to discharge the duties of the office from which they have withdrawn until their successors on such board are appointed pursuant to Sections 1162 or 25413.5 and have qualified.

An act to add Section 25210.77b, 25210.77c, and 25210.77d to the Government Code, relating to county service areas, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 7, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25210.77b is added to the Government Code, to read:

25210.77b. A county may fix, on or before the first day of July in each calendar year, a water standby or immediate availability charge on all land within a county service area to which water is made available for any purpose by the county whether the water is actually used or not, except that such charge shall not apply to lands permanently dedicated exclusively to the public transportation of persons or property. The board of supervisors of the county which fixes such a charge may establish schedules varying the charges in different months and in different localities within a county service area depending upon factors such as the uses to which the land is put, the cost of transporting the water to the land, the degree of availability or quantity of use of such water to the affected lands. The board may not, however, fix a charge in excess of ten dollars ($10) per acre or in excess of five dollars ($5) for a parcel of less than one acre.

If a person for more than one year obtains substantially all of his water requirements for the contiguous parcels of land which he occupies from rainfall, springs, streams, lakes, rivers or wells, and if the person's primary economic activity on such land is the commercial extraction or processing of minerals, such land shall be exempt from any water standby or availability charges.

This section shall remain in effect until the 61st day after the final adjournment of the 1971 Regular Session of the Legislature, and a county shall have no authority to fix a water standby or availability charge on any land within a county service area after that date.

SEC. 2. Section 25210.77c is added to the Government Code, to read:

25210.77c. Any funds derived from the charges levied pursuant to Section 25210.77b may be used by the county to pay the cost and expenses of maintaining, operating, extending and repairing the waterworks of a county service area and for the payment of interest and principal due on bonds for the ensuing fiscal year.

SEC. 3. Section 25210.77d is added to the Government Code, to read:

25210.77d. If any water standby charge remains unpaid on the first day of the month before the month in which the board of supervisors of the county in which the county service area is located is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, a 6-percent penalty thereon shall accrue. The amount of the unpaid standby charge plus the penalty shall be added to the annual tax levied upon the land for which the standby charge is unpaid, and shall constitute a lien on that land. The amount of tax attributable to unpaid water standby charges, and the penalty thereon, shall be stated on the tax bill separately from all other taxes.

At least 15 days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, the county officer, designated by the board of supervisors, shall furnish in writing to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor, respectively, a description of each and every parcel of land within the county service area upon which a standby charge remains unpaid, together with the amount of the unpaid charge, plus the penalty on each parcel of land.

Since the authority to fix water standby charges under this act must be exercised on or before July 1st of each year and since an ordinary statute does not take effect until the 61st day following adjournment of the Legislature, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately so that a county may fix water standby charges for the 1968–69 fiscal year in order to provide necessary funds for county waterworks district operations during said fiscal year.

(a) No policy of bodily injury liability insurance covering liability arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of any motor vehicle, shall be issued or delivered in this state to the owner or operator of a motor vehicle, or shall be issued or delivered by any insurer licensed in this state upon any motor vehicle then principally used or principally garaged in this state, unless the policy contains, or has added to it by endorsement, a provision with coverage limits at least equal to the financial responsibility requirements specified in Section 16059 of the Vehicle Code insuring the insured, his heirs or his legal representative for all sums within such limits which he or they, as the case may be, shall be legally entitled to recover as damages for bodily injury or wrongful death from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle. The insurer and any named insured may by agreement in writing delete the provision covering damage caused by an uninsured motor vehicle. Such deletion by any named insured shall be binding upon every insured to whom such policy or endorsement provisions apply. A policy shall be excluded from the application of this section if the only coverage with respect to the use of any motor vehicle is limited to the contingent liability arising out of the use of nonowned motor vehicles.

(b) As used in (a) above, "bodily injury" includes sickness or disease, including death, resulting therefrom; the term "named insured" means only the individual or organization named in the declarations of the policy of motor vehicle bodily injury liability insurance referred to in (a) above; as used in (a) above the term "insured" means the named insured and the spouse of the named insured and relatives of either while residents of the same household while occupants of a motor vehicle or otherwise, heirs and any other person while in or upon or entering into or alighting from an insured motor vehicle and any person with respect to damages he is entitled to recover for care or loss of services because of bodily injury to which the policy provisions or endorsement apply; the term "insured motor vehicle" means the motor vehicle described in the underlying insurance policy of which the uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage is a part, a temporary substitute or a newly acquired automobile for which liability coverage is provided in the policy if the motor vehicle is used by the named insured or with his permission or consent, express or implied, and any other automobile not owned by the named insured or any resident of the same household while being operated by the named insured or his spouse if a resident of the same household, but the term "insured motor vehicle" shall not include any automobile while used as a public or livery conveyance. (1) The bodily injury has arisen out of physical contact of such automobile with the insured or with an automobile which the insured is occupying,

(2) The insured or someone on his behalf shall have reported the accident within 24 hours to the police department of the city where the accident occurred or, if the accident occurred in unincorporated territory then either to the sheriff of the county where the accident occurred or the local headquarters of the California Highway Patrol, and have filed with the insurer within 30 days thereafter a statement under oath that the insured or his legal representative has or the insured's heirs have a cause of action arising out of such accident for damages against a person or persons whose identity is unascertainable and set forth facts in support thereof. (e) The policy or an endorsement added thereto shall provide that the determination as to whether the insured shall be legally entitled to recover damages, and if so entitled, the amount thereof, shall be made by agreement between the insured and the insurer or, in the event of disagreement, by arbitration. The arbitration shall be conducted by a single neutral arbitrator. The provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 2016) of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of Part 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be applicable to such determinations, and all rights, remedies, obligations, liabilities and procedures set forth in said Article 3 shall be available to both the insured and the insurer at any time after the accident, both before and after the commencement of arbitration, if any, with the following limitations:

(4) The provisions of subparagraph (a) (4) of Section 2019 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall not be applicable to discovery under this section.

(5) For the purposes of discovery under this section, the insured and the insurer shall each be deemed to be "a party to the record of any civil action or proceedings," where that phrase is used in subparagraph (b)(2) of Section 2019 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(6) Interrogatories under the provisions of Section 2030 of the Code of Civil Procedure and requests for admission under Section 2033 may be served by either the insured or the insurer upon the other at any time more than 20 days after the accident without leave of court.

(7) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the rights of any party to discovery in any action pending or which may hereafter be pending in any court.

(f) The insurer paying a claim under an uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage shall be entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the insured to whom such claim was paid against any person causing such injury or death to the extent that payment was made. Such action may be brought within three years from the date that payment was made hereunder.

Unless this act takes effect immediately, a city which has annexed territory and otherwise qualifies to levy taxes in the territory except for a procedural filing defect will not be able to levy taxes in the annexed territory for the 1968–69 fiscal year to cover the cost of services being furnished the territory.

(2) Any passenger stage corporation subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission when the motor vehicles of such passenger stage corporation are exclusively operated in urban or suburban areas, as defined in Section 9651.5 of this code.

(3) Any common carrier of passengers operating exclusively on any line or lines within the limits of a single city between fixed termini or over a regular route, 98 percent of whose operations, as measured by total route mileage operated, are exclusively within the limits of a single city, and who by reason thereof is not a passenger stage corporation subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission.

(c) Notwithstanding the exemption provided for by subdivision (b), any system, corporation or carrier using fuel exempt under the provisions of subdivision (b) shall, for the privilege of operating vehicles on state highways and freeways, make a payment equal to one cent ($0.01) for each gallon of such exempt fuel used. The payments required by this subdivision shall be paid to the State Board of Equalization in the manner prescribed by the board, and such payments shall be treated as a tax for all purposes of this part.

(d) The exemption provided for in subdivision (b) and the payments provided for in subdivision (c) shall not be applicable to fuel used by a charter-party carrier of passengers. The term "charter-party carrier of passengers" has the same meaning as that specified in Section 5360 of the Public Utilities Code and shall further include those transportation services described in subdivisions (a) and (e) of Section 5353 of the Public Utilities Code, if such transportation service is rendered as a charter-party carrier of passengers.

(f) That by such search he has discovered no personal or real property or other assets liable to be sold or applied, or that he has discovered certain of them, describing them, owned by the judgment debtor and liable to be so applied, and that he has taken all necessary action and proceedings for the realization thereof, and that the amount thereby realized was insufficient to satisfy the judgment, stating the amount so realized and the balance remaining due on the judgment after application of the amount realized.

(d) The last known address, as shown on the records of the holder, of the apparent owner is in a foreign nation and the holder is (1) domiciled in this state or (2) a government or governmental subdivision or agency of this state.

1511. For the purposes of Section 1510, where the records of the holder do not show a last known address of the apparent owner of a travelers check or money order, it is presumed that the state in which the travelers check or money order was purchased is the state of the last known address of the apparent owner. This presumption is a presumption affecting the burden of proof.

SEC. 12. Section 1502 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended and renumbered to read:

1513. Subject to Sections 1510 and 1511, the following property held or owing by a business association escheats to this state:

(1) Increased or decreased the amount of the deposit, or presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the deposit for the crediting of interest; or

(1) Increased or decreased the amount of the funds or deposit, or presented an appropriate record for the crediting of interest or dividends; or

(3) Otherwise indicated an interest in the funds or deposit as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the financial organization.

(c) Any sum payable on a travelers check issued by a business association that has been outstanding for more than 15 years from the date of its issuance, when the owner, for more than 15 years, has not corresponded in writing with the business association concerning it, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with such association.

(d) Any sum payable on any other written instrument on which a banking or financial organization is directly liable, including, by way of illustration but not of limitation, any draft, certified check, or money order, that has been outstanding for more than seven years from the date it was payable, or from the date of its issuance if payable on demand, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, when the owner, for more than seven years, has not corresponded in writing with the banking or financial organization concerning it, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the banking or financial organization.

(e) Any sum payable on a money order issued by a business association (other than a banking or financial organization) that has been outstanding for more than seven years from the date it was payable, or from the date of its issuance if payable on demand, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, when the owner, for more than seven years, has not corresponded in writing with the business association concerning it, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the business association.

(b) If a person other than the insured or annuitant is entitled to the funds and no address of such person is known to the corporation or if it is not definite and certain from the records of the corporation what person is entitled to the funds, it is presumed that the last known address of the person entitled to the funds is the same as the last known address of the insured or annuitant according to the records of the corporation. This presumption is a presumption affecting the burden of proof.

(c) A life insurance policy not matured by actual proof of the death of the insured according to the records of the corporation is deemed to be matured and the proceeds due and payable if:

(1) The insured has attained, or would have attained if he were living, the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based;

(2) The policy was in force at the time the insured attained, or would have attained, the limiting age specified in paragraph (1); and

(d) Any funds otherwise payable according to the records of the corporation are deemed due and payable although the policy or contract has not been surrendered as required.

SEC. 16. Section 1504 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended and renumbered to read:

1516. (a) Subject to Section 1510, any dividend, profit, distribution, interest, payment on principal, or other sum held or owing by a business association for or to its shareholder, certificate holder, member, bondholder, or other security holder, or a participating patron of a cooperative, who has not claimed it, or corresponded in writing with the business association concerning it, within seven years after the date prescribed for payment or delivery, escheats to this state.

(b) Subject to Section 1510, any intangible interest in a business association, as evidenced by the stock records or membership records of the association, escheats to this state if (1) the interest in the association is owned by a person who for more than 20 years has neither claimed a dividend or other sum referred to in subdivision (a) nor corresponded in writing with the association or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the association, and (2) the association does not know the location of the owner at the end of such 20-year period. With respect to such interest, the business association shall be deemed the holder.

(c) Subject to Section 1510, any dividends or other distributions held for or owing to a person at the time the stock or other security to which they attach escheats to this state also escheat to this state as of the same time.

(b) For the purpose of this section, when a person holds property as an agent for a business association, he is deemed to hold such property in a fiduciary capacity for the business association alone, unless the agreement between him and the business association clearly provides the contrary. For the purposes of this chapter, if a person holds property in a fiduciary capacity for a business association alone, he is the holder of the property only insofar as the interest of the business association in such property is concerned and the association is deemed to be the holder of the property insofar as the interest of any other person in the property is concerned.

SEC. 20. Section 1507 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended and renumbered to read:

"Person," "owner" or "operator" means federal, state, and local public agencies, private corporations, firms, partnerships, individuals or groups of individuals, whether legally organized or not; "owner" or "operator" also means the person to whom a water-producing facility is assessed by the county assessor, or, if not separately assessed, the person who owns the land upon which a water-producing facility is located.

"Ground water" means all water beneath the earth's surface, whether or not flowing through known and definite channels.

"Production" or "producing" means the extraction or extracting of ground water, by pumping or any other method, from shafts, tunnels, wells (including, but not limited to, abandoned oil wells), excavations or other sources of such ground water, for domestic, municipal, irrigation, industrial, or other use, except that such terms shall not mean or include the extraction of ground water produced in the construction or reconstruction of a well, or water incidentally produced with oil or gas in the production thereof, or water incidentally produced in a bona fide mining or excavating operation or water incidentally produced in the bona fide construction of a tunnel.

"Water-producing facility" means any device or method, mechanical or otherwise, for the production of water from the ground water supplies within the improvement district.

"Water year" means July 1 of one calendar year to June 30 of the following calendar year.

SEC. 5. Section 14.22 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.22. Prior to the establishment of any ground water charge in an improvement district, the board shall adopt a resolution stating its intention to do so, designating the improvement district in which it is proposed that such charges be levied, and requiring the registration of all water-producing facilities located within such improvement district as provided in Section 14.24 of this act. Said resolution shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the agency.

SEC. 6. Section 14.23 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.23. Ground water charges levied pursuant to this act are declared to be in furtherance of agency activities in the protection and augmentation of the water supplies of the improvement district which are necessary for the public health, welfare and safety of the people of this state. The ground water charges are authorized to be levied upon the production of ground water from all water-producing facilities, whether public or private, within said improvement district for the benefit of all who rely directly or indirectly upon the ground water supplies and water imported into such improvement district.

The proceeds of ground water charges levied and collected upon the production of water from ground water supplies within such improvement district are authorized and shall be used exclusively by the board for the following purposes:

(a) To pay the costs of acquiring, constructing, maintaining and operating facilities which will import water into the agency which will benefit such improvement district including payments made under any contract between the agency and the State of California, the United States of America, or any public, private or municipal utility.

(b) To pay the costs of purchasing water for importation into the agency which will benefit such improvement district, including payments made under any contract with the State of California, the United States of America, or any public, private or municipal utility; provided, that the costs of cloud seeding and weather modification activities shall not be deemed to be costs of purchasing water for importation.

(c) To pay the costs of acquiring, constructing, maintaining and operating facilities which will provide for ground water recharge or which will measure ground water extractions.

(d) To pay any administrative costs and the principal or interest of any bonded indebtedness or other obligations incurred by the agency on behalf of such improvement district or districts for any of the purposes set forth in subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of this section.

SEC. 7. Section 14.24 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.24. Within six months after the last date of publication of the resolution provided for in Section 14.22 stating the board's intent to establish a ground water charge in an improvement district, all water-producing facilities located within the boundaries of such improvement district shall be registered with the agency by the owner or operator thereof on forms provided by the agency and, if required by the board, equipped with a water-measuring device satisfactory to the agency installed by the agency or at the agency's option by the operator thereof. Any new water-producing facility, constructed or reestablished, or any abandoned water-producing facility, which is reactivated, after such date, shall be registered with the agency, and if required by the board, equipped with a water-measuring device satisfactory to the agency within 30 days after the completion or reestablishment thereof.

Failure to register any water-producing facility, as required by this act, is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

In addition to other information which the agency may determine is necessary and may require in the registration form provided, there shall also be given information as to the owner or owners of the land upon which each water-producing facility is located, a general description and location of each water-producing facility, the name and address of the person charged with the operation of each water-producing facility, and the name or names and addresses of all persons owning or claiming to own an interest in the water-producing facility.

SEC. 8. Section 14.25 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.25. After adoption of the resolution provided for in Section 14.22, the agency engineer shall annually prepare a report which shall include, among other matters which the agency may desire, information on the availability of surface and ground water in the improvement district, the quantity of water needed for surface delivery and for replenishment of the ground water supplies within the improvement district for the ensuing water year, the amount of water which the agency is obligated to purchase for use in the improvement district during the ensuing water year and an estimate of the amount of ground water to be extracted within the improvement district during the ensuing water year.

SEC. 9. Section 14.26 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.26. On or before October 1st of each year the engineering report shall be delivered to the secretary of the board in writing. Said secretary shall publish, pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code, a notice of the receipt of such report and of the public hearing to be held on the third Monday of October, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the agency, at least 10 days prior to the date at which the public hearing regarding said engineering report shall be held. Said notice, among other information which the agency may provide therein, shall designate the place where such hearing shall be held and contain an invitation to all operators of water-producing facilities within the improvement district to call at the offices of the agency to examine said engineering report.

There shall be held by the board on the third Monday of October of each year a public hearing at which time any operator of a water-producing facility within the improvement district, or any person interested in the condition of the ground water supplies or the surface water supplies of the improvement district, may in person, or by representative, appear and submit evidence concerning the ground water conditions and the surface water supplies within the improvement district. Appearances also may be made supporting or protesting said written engineering report. The board shall, before the levy of the ground water charge, find and determine the estimated amount of agricultural water to be withdrawn from the ground water supplies of the improvement district for the ensuing water year; the amount of water other than agricultural water to be drawn from the ground water supplies of the improvement district for the ensuing water year; the estimated amount of water necessary for surface distribution in the improvement district for the ensuing water year; and the amount of water the district is obligated by contract to purchase. Said findings and determinations by the board shall be conclusive and binding upon all persons and parties.

SEC. 10. Section 14.27 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.27. Within 30 days from the close of said hearing, the board shall determine whether or not a ground water charge should be levied in such improvement district or districts. If the board determines that a ground water charge or charges should be so levied, it shall levy, assess, and affix such charge or charges against all persons operating ground water-producing facilities within such improvement district or districts during the ensuing water year. The charges shall be computed at a fixed and uniform rate per acre-foot for agricultural water and at a fixed and uniform rate per acre-foot for all water other than agricultural water; provided, that the ground water charge for one class of water shall not exceed twice that for any other class of water; provided, further, that with respect to small water-producing facilities which have a discharge opening not greater than a size specified by the board and which do not provide water for an area in excess of that specified by the board, for administrative convenience the board may provide for either a flat annual charge or for no charge in lieu of a charge computed at such fixed and uniform rates. Different rates may be established for different improvement districts; provided, however, that in each improvement district the rate for agricultural water shall be fixed and uniform and the rate for water other than agricultural water shall be fixed and uniform.

Any ground water charge levied pursuant to this section shall be in addition to any other taxes or assessments, if any, levied within the agency or any improvement district or districts thereof.

Clerical errors occurring or appearing in the name of any person or in the description of the water-producing facility where the production of water therefrom is otherwise properly charged, or in the making or extension of any charge upon the records, which do not affect the substantial rights of the assessee or assessees, shall not invalidate the ground water charge.

SEC. 11. Section 14.28 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.28. The agency, after the levying of the ground water charge, shall give notice thereof to each operator of each water-producing facility in the improvement district or districts in which such charge or charges are levied as disclosed by the records of the agency, which notice shall state the rate for each class of water of the ground water charge applicable to said water-producing facility for each acre-foot of water to be produced during the ensuing water year. Said notice may be sent by postal card or by other first-class mail and with postage prepaid by the agency.

SEC. 12. Section 14.29 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.29. After the adoption of the resolution provided for in Section 14.22 for an improvement district in which a ground water charge may be levied, each owner or operator of a water-producing facility within said improvement district, until such time as said water-producing facility has been permanently abandoned, shall file with the agency, on or before the 31st day of January and on or before the 31st day of July in each year, a statement setting forth the total production in acre-feet of water for the preceding six-months period (excluding the month in which the statement is due), a general description or number locating each water-producing facility, the method or basis of the computation of such water production, and the amount of the ground water charge based on such computation. If no water has been produced from said water-producing facility during the preceding six-months period, said statement shall be filed as provided for herein, setting forth that no water has been produced during said period. Said statement shall be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. The ground water charge is due and payable to the agency on or before the last day upon which the water production statements shall be filed, and is computed by multiplying the production in acre-feet of water for each classification as disclosed in the statement by the ground water charge for each classification of water. At such time as any said water-producing facility has been permanently abandoned, the operator thereof shall give written notice of such abandonment to the agency. If any operator of a water-producing facility shall fail to pay the ground water charge when due, the agency shall charge interest at the rate of one percent (1%) each month on the delinquent amount of the ground water charge.

Should any owner or operator of a water-producing facility fail to register each water-producing facility, or fail to file the water-production statements as required by this act, the agency shall, in addition to charging interest as provided herein, assess a penalty charge against such owner or operator in an amount of ten percent (10%) of the amount found by said agency to be due, except in those cases where payment in the proper amount has been made within the time required by this act and the failure to register the water-producing facility or to file the water-production statement within the time required by this act resulted, in the opinion of the board, from excusable and justifiable circumstances, in which case the board may reduce the penalty to an amount of not less than one percent (1%) of said amount found to be due.

When a water-measuring device is permanently attached to water-producing facility, the record of production as disclosed by such water-measuring device shall be presumed to be accurate and shall be used as the basis for computing the water production of said water-producing facility in completing the water-production statement, unless it can be shown that the water-measuring device is not measuring accurately.

When a water-measuring device is not permanently attached to a water-producing facility, the board may establish a method or methods to be used in computing the amount of water produced from such water-producing facilities.

Such methods may be based upon any, or all, or a combination of some of the following criteria: the minimum charge sufficient to cover administrative costs of collection, size of water-producing facility discharge opening, area served by the water-producing facility, number of persons served by the water-producing facility, use of land served by the water-producing facility, crops grown on land served by the water-producing facility, or any other criteria which may be used to determine with reasonable accuracy the amount of water produced from such water-producing facility.

SEC. 13. Section 14.30 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.30. Upon good cause shown, an amended statement of water production may be filed or a correction of the records may be made at any time prior to the final date for filing the next semiannual water production statement; provided that if pursuant to Section 14.33, the owner or operator has been notified of a determination by the agency that the production of water from the water-producing facility is in excess of that disclosed by the sworn statement covering such water-producing facility, and such owner or operator fails to protest such determination in the manner and in the time set forth in Section 14.33, he shall be precluded from later filing an amended water production statement for that period for such water-producing facility.

SEC. 14. Section 14.31 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.31. The agency shall prepare each year for each improvement district in which a ground water charge is levied a record called "The Record of Water Production and Ground Water Charges, Improvement District No. _____" in which shall be entered a general description of the property upon which each water-producing facility is located, an identifying number or code which is assigned to such facility, the annual water production for each class of water produced from each water-producing facility, and the ground water charge for each class of water.

SEC. 15. Section 14.32 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.32. The superior court of the county in which the agency lies may issue a temporary restraining order upon the filing by the agency with said court of a petition or complaint setting forth that the person named therein as defendant is the operator of a water-producing facility which has not been registered with the agency or that such defendant is delinquent in the payment of a ground water charge Such temporary restraining order shall be returnable to said court on or before 10 days after its issuance.

The court may issue and grant an injunction restraining and prohibiting the named defendant from the operation of any water-producing facility when it is established at the hearing that the defendant has failed to register such water-producing facility with the agency or that the defendant is delinquent in payment of ground water charges thereon. Such court may provide that the injunction so made and issued shall be stayed for a period not to exceed 10 days to permit the defendant to register the water-producing facility or to pay the delinquent ground water charge.

Service of process is completed by posting a copy of the summons and complaint upon the water-producing facility or the parcel of land upon which it is located and by personal service upon the named defendant.

The right to proceed for injunctive relief granted herein is an additional right to those which may be provided elsewhere in this act or otherwise allowed by law. The procedure provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525), Title 7, Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, regarding injunctions shall be followed except insofar as it may herein be otherwise provided. The agency shall not be required to provide an undertaking or bond as a condition to granting injunctive relief.

SEC. 16. Section 14.33 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.33. If the agency has probable cause to believe that the production of water from any water-producing facility is in excess of that disclosed by the sworn statements covering such water-producing facility, or if no statements are filed covering any water-producing facility, the agency may cause an investigation and report to be made concerning the production of water from each such water-producing facility. The owner or operator of each such water-producing facility shall furnish to the agency from time to time, as may be required by the agency, the records, notices or bills, or duplicates thereof, respecting the amount of electric power used in operating such facility, as received by such owner or operator from the utility or entity which furnishes such electric power. The agency may fix the amount of water production from any such water-producing facility at an amount not to exceed the maximum production capacity of such water-producing facility; provided, however, where a water-measuring device is permanently attached thereto, the record of production, as disclosed by such water-measuring device, shall be presumed to be accurate.

After such determination has been made by the agency, a written notice thereof shall be mailed to the person operating such water-producing facility at his address as shown by the agency's records. Any such determination made by the agency shall be conclusive on all persons having an interest in such water-producing facility, and the ground water charge, interest and penalties thereon, shall be paid forthwith, unless such person files with the board within 10 days after the mailing of such notice, a written protest setting forth the ground or grounds for protesting the amount of production so fixed. Upon the filing of such protest, the board thereafter shall hold a hearing at which time the total amount of the water production and the ground water charge thereon shall be determined, which shall be conclusive if based upon substantial evidence. If the water-production statement was filed and the amount disclosed thereon was paid within the time required by this act, and the board finds that the failure to report the amount of water actually produced resulted from excusable or justifiable circumstances, the board may waive the charge of interest on the amount found to be due. A notice of such hearing shall be mailed to the protestant at least 10 days before the date fixed for the hearing. Notice of the determination by the board shall be mailed to each protestant, who shall have 20 days from the date of mailing to pay the ground water charge, interest or penalties provided by the provisions of this act.

Notice as required in this section shall be given by deposit thereof in any postal facility regularly maintained by the government of the United States in a sealed envelope with postage paid, addressed to the person on whom it is served at his name and address as disclosed by the records of the agency. The service is complete at the time of deposit.

SEC. 17. Section 14.34 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.34. The agency may bring a suit in the court having jurisdiction against any operator of a water-producing facility within the agency for the collection of any delinquent ground water charge. The court having jurisdiction of said suit may, in addition to allowing recovery of costs to said agency as allowed by law, fix and allow as part of the judgment interest and penalties as provided in Section 14.29. Should the agency, as a provisional remedy in bringing such suit, seek an attachment against the property of any named defendant therein, the agency shall not be required to provide a bond or undertaking as is otherwise provided for in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 537), Title 7, Part 2, of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 18. Section 14.35 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.35. It shall be unlawful to produce water from any water-producing facility required to be registered pursuant to the terms of this act unless such water-producing facility has been registered with the agency within the time required by the provisions of this act and, if required by the board, has a water-measuring device affixed thereto capable of registering the accumulated amount of water produced therefrom.

Violation of this provision shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day of operation in violation hereof shall constitute a separate offense.

SEC. 19. Section 14.36 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.36. Any person who injures, alters, removes, resets, adjusts, manipulates, obstructs or in any manner interferes or tampers with or procures or causes or directs any person to injure, alter, remove, reset, adjust, manipulate, obstruct or in any manner interfere or tamper with any water-measuring device affixed to any water-producing facility as required by this act, so as to cause said water-measuring device to improperly or inaccurately measure and record said water production, or any person who willfully does not file with the agency a water-production statement as prescribed and within the time required by this act, or any person who willfully removes or breaks a seal attached to an abandoned water-producing facility, or any person who with intent to evade any provision or requirement of this act files with the agency any false or fraudulent water-production statement is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 20. Section 14.37 is added to the Kern County Water Agency Act (Chapter 1003 of the Statutes of 1961), to read:

Sec. 14.37. In implementing the enforcement of the provisions of this act relating to ground water charges, the agency shall have the power, in addition to the powers enumerated elsewhere in this act:

(a) To install and maintain water-measuring devices, and other devices which will aid in determining accurate water production, on water-producing facilities not owned by the agency.

(b) To affix seals to water-producing facilities which the owner or operator thereof has declared to be abandoned, or are in fact permanently abandoned.

(c) To enter onto any land for the purposes enumerated in this section and for the purpose of making investigations relating to water production.

To assist in financing the acquisition and distribution of water supplies in various areas within the Kern County Water Agency, which water supplies are necessary for the preservation of the public health and safety, it is imperative that this act go into effect immediately.

An act to add Section 34.6 to the Civil Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor June 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 34.6 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

34.6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor 15 years of age or older who is living separate and apart from his parents or legal guardian, whether with or without the consent of a parent or guardian and regardless of the duration of such separate residence, and who is managing his own financial affairs, regardless of the source of his income, may give consent to hospital care or any X-ray examination, anesthetic, or medical or surgical diagnosis or treatment to be rendered by a physician and surgeon licensed under the provisions of the State Medical Practice Act, or to hospital care or any X-ray examination, anesthetic, dental or surgical diagnosis or treatment to be rendered by a dentist licensed under the provisions of the Dental Practice Act. Such consent shall not be subject to disaffirmance because of minority.

The consent of the parent, parents or legal guardian of such a minor shall not be necessary in order to authorize such hospital, medical, dental, or surgical care and such parent, parents or legal guardian shall not be liable for any care rendered pursuant to this section.

A physician and surgeon or dentist may, with or without the consent of the minor patient, advise the parents, parent or legal guardian of such minor of the treatment given or needed if the physician and surgeon or dentist has reason to know, on the basis of the information given him by the minor, the whereabouts of the parents, parent or legal guardian.

An act to add Section 17928 to the Education Code, relating to supplemental support for school districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17928 is added to the Education Code, to read:

17928. Notwithstanding any provisions of this article to the contrary, whenever, due solely to fluctuations in average daily attendance after the adoption of the annual budget and the setting of the tax rates for the fiscal year, a district, which is not eligible for the increase in foundation program prescribed by Section 17676, is not eligible for supplemental support funds allowed by Section 17924 or 17925, as the case may be, because the established tax rate is not sufficient to meet the requirements of Section 17924 or 17925, as the case may be, upon certification of the county superintendent of schools that the district made a reasonable effort to accurately determine the average daily attendance and that but for fluctuations in such average daily attendance the established tax rate would have been sufficient to meet the requirements of Section 17924 or 17925, as the case may be, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion the additional supplemental support funds allowed by Section 17924 or 17925, as the case may be.

The tax rate of any school district to which an apportionment is made pursuant to this section, shall be increased in the succeeding fiscal year by an amount equal to the difference between the established tax rate and the tax rate which would have been sufficient following such fluctuations in the average daily attendance of the district to meet the requirements of Section 17924 or 17925, as the case may be.

In order that school districts with fluctuations in average daily attendance may receive supplemental support allowances at the earliest possible date and not be penalized after diligent efforts to comply with the law, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

The basin equity assessments, as well as the production requirements and limitations provided for herein, are authorized to be levied upon and applied to all persons and producers within such district for the benefit of all who rely directly or indirectly upon the ground water supplies of such district.

The proceeds of the basin equity assessments levied and collected shall be used exclusively as provided for herein to equalize the cost of water to all persons and operators within the district.

"Supplemental sources" as used in this act means sources of water outside the watershed of the Santa Ana River such as but not limited to water produced from the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California.

"Basin production percentage" as used in this act means the ratio that all water to be produced from ground water supplies within the district bears to all water to be produced by persons and operators within the district from supplemental sources as well as from ground water within the district during the ensuing fiscal year.

There shall be held, by the board of directors on the second Wednesday of March of each year, a public hearing at which time any person or operator within the district or any person interested in the amounts and source from which all persons and operators produce their total supply of water as well as the estimated difference in the cost of water produced from ground water within district or supplemental sources, may in person, or by representative, appear and be heard.

(c) On the second Wednesday in April of each year, the board of directors shall hold a public hearing for the purpose of determining the need and desirability of levying a basin equity assessment and the amount thereof as well as the need for establishing production requirements and limitations and the extent thereof as to each person or operator within the district for the ensuing fiscal year. In computing and fixing the amount of any such basin equity assessment the board may allow a percent not to exceed 10 percent, as shall be determine by the board of directors of the district, for delinquencies. Notice of the proposed hearing shall be published in the district pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code at least 10 days prior to the date set for said hearing.

different uniform rate for the ensuing fiscal year. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board may, by adopting a resolution which resolution shall require the vote of eight members of the board, find and determine for the ensuing fiscal year as follows:

(1) The estimated total amount of water to be produced by all persons and operators within the district from the ground water within the district and the estimated amount to be produced by such persons and operators from supplemental sources;

(2) The basin production percentage;

(3) That a basin equity assessment and production requirement and limitation from ground water within the district are necessary for the protection of the water supply of district;

(5) The amount of the basin equity assessment to be levied against all persons and operators in a dollar amount per acre-foot of water produced from the ground water supply for irrigation purposes and that such amount is reasonable;

(6) Production requirements or limitations on persons and operators within the district to be applicable during the ensuing fiscal year. Such requirements and limitations shall be expressed in a percentage of overall water produced or obtained by such persons or operators from ground water within the district and from supplemental sources;

(7) That during the ensuing fiscal year, upon the district giving published notice thereof, pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within district at least 10 days prior to such a hearing, a subsequent public hearing may be held to modify the basin production percentage, the basin equity assessment, or any production requirement or limitation established by the district. Such modifications, if any, shall be effective on the date established by the board and district shall give notice of such modification 10 days prior to the effective date thereof in the manner provided hereafter in subdivision (e).

The board may exclude all persons and operators who produced 25 acre-feet or less of water from ground water within district during the preceding fiscal year for all purposes other than irrigation from the levy of the basin equity assessment and the production requirements and limitations provided for herein.

The board may exclude all persons and operators who produced 25 acre-feet or less of water from ground water within the district during the preceding fiscal year for irrigation purposes from the levy of the basin equity assessment and the production requirements and limitations provided for herein.

The findings and determinations of the board in regard to any of the foregoing shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all persons and parties.

(e) The district shall thereafter, and in any event prior to July 1 in each year, give notice to each person or operator within the district which notice shall state:

The statement shall be verified by a written declaration under penalty of perjury. In the event that the person or operator has been required by the district to produce or has in fact produced more water from ground water within district than the equivalent of the basin production percentage determined by district, such person or operator shall pay to district, on or before July 31, an amount determined by the number of acre-feet of water which such person or operator has produced from ground water within the district in excess of the acre-foot equivalent of the basin production percentage multiplied by the applicable basin equity assessment rate. In the event that a person or operator, pursuant to the requirement of district, has produced from ground water within district less than the equivalent of the basin production percentage, such person or operator, on or before the 30th day of September, shall be paid by district from the basin equity assessment fund an amount determined by the number of acre-feet by which the production of such person or operator from ground water as required by the district is less than the acre-foot equivalent of the basin production percentage multiplied by the applicable basin equity assessment rate.

(g) If any person or operator shall fail to pay the amount due by reason of the basin equity assessment when due, the district shall charge interest at the rate of 1 percent each month on said delinquent amount due. Should any person or operator within the district fail to file a basin equity assessment report on or before the 31st day of July of any year, the district shall, in addition to charging interest as provided herein, assess a penalty charge against such operator in the amount of 10 percent of the amount found by said district to be due.

The district may, from time to time, require other reports from persons and operators as necessary and desirable in the application of the basin equity assessment procedures provided herein.

Upon good cause shown an amendment to any report required under this section may be filed or a correction of any such report may be made within six (6) months after the date such report was filed with the district.

SEC. 4. Section 31.6 is added to the Orange County Water District Act (Chapter 924, Statutes of 1933), to read:

Sec. 31.6. The board of directors may from time to time transfer up to a maximum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) to the basin equity assessment fund from the general fund in the event that there is insufficient money in the basin equity assessment fund for expenditures authorized in Section 31.5. All of the money so transferred shall be repaid to the general fund as soon as it is financially feasible to do so. It shall be financially feasible to repay the general fund when there is money in the basin equity assessment fund over and above that necessary to make expenditures, as specified in Section 31.5, and to provide a reasonable reserve for the making of such expenditures.

SEC. 5. Section 32 of the Orange County Water District Act (Chapter 924, Statutes of 1933) is amended to read:

Sec. 32. The superior court of the county in which said district lies may issue a temporary restraining order upon the filing by said district with said court of a verified petition or complaint setting forth that the person named therein as defendant is the operator of a water-producing facility which has not been registered with the district, that such defendant is delinquent in the payment of a replenishment assessment, or that the defendant is delinquent in the payment of a basin equity assessment. Such temporary restraining order shall be returnable to said court on or before ten (10) days after its issuance.

The court may issue and grant an injunction restraining and prohibiting the named defendant from the operation of any water-producing facility when it is established by the preponderance of the evidence at a hearing that the defendant has failed to register such water-producing facility with said district, that the defendant is delinquent in a replenishment assessment thereon, or has not paid or is delinquent in the payment of a basin equity assessment. Such court may provide that the injunction so made and issued shall be stayed for a period not to exceed 10 days to permit the defendant to register the water-producing facility or to pay the delinquent replenishment assessment, or to pay the delinquent basin equity assessment.

Service of process is completed by posting a copy of the summons and complaint upon the water-producing facility or the parcel of land upon which it is located and by personal service upon the named defendant.

The right to proceed for injunctive relief granted herein is an additional right to those which may be provided elsewhere in this act or otherwise allowed by law. The procedure provided in Part 2, Title 7, Chapter 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure regarding injunctions shall be followed except insofar as it may herein be otherwise provided. Said district shall not be required to provide an undertaking or bond as a condition to granting injunctive relief.

SEC. 6. Section 34 of the Orange County Water District Act (Chapter 924, Statutes of 1933) is amended to read:

Sec. 34. Said district may bring a suit in the court having jurisdiction against any operator of a water-producing facility within said district for the collection of any delinquent replenishment assessment or basin equity assessment. The court having jurisdiction of said suit may, in addition to allowing recovery of costs to said district as allowed by law, fix and allow as part of the judgment, interest and penalties as provided in Section 29. Should said district, as a provisional remedy in bringing such suit, seek an attachment against the property of any named defendant therein, said district shall not be required to provide a bond or undertaking as is otherwise provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California in Part 2, Title 7, Chapter 4 thereof.

SEC. 7. Section 33.1 is added to the Orange County Water District Act (Chapter 924, Statutes of 1933), to read:

Sec. 33.1. If the district has probable cause to believe that the production of water from ground water by any person or operator is less than or in excess of that disclosed by the sworn statements filed by such person or operator pursuant to Section 31.5, or if no such statements are filed by any person or operator, the district may cause an investigation and report to be made concerning the production of water by such person or operator. The district may fix the amount of water produced from ground water within the district by such person or operator at an amount not to exceed the total maximum production capacity of all water-producing facilities of such person or operator; provided, however, where a water measuring device is permanently attached to any such water-producing facility, the record of production as disclosed by such water measuring device shall be presumed to be accurate and the burden is upon said district to establish the contrary.

After such determination has been made by the district, a written notice thereof shall be mailed to such person or operator at his address as shown by the district's record. Any such determination made by the district shall be conclusive on such person or operator and any basin equity assessment due by reason thereof, together with interest and penalties thereon, shall be payable forthwith, unless such person files with the board of directors of the district within 10 days after the mailing of such notice a written protest setting forth the ground or grounds for protesting the amount of production so fixed. Upon the filing of such protest, the board of directors thereafter shall hold a hearing at which time the total amount of water production by said person or operator shall be determined, which determination shall be conclusive if based upon substantial evidence. A notice of such hearing shall be mailed to protestant at least 10 days days before the date fixed for the hearing. Notice of the determination of the board of directors shall be mailed to each protestant.

Notice as required in this section shall be given by deposit thereof in any postal facility regularly maintained by the government of the United States in a sealed envelope postage prepaid, addressed to the person on whom it is served at his address as disclosed by the records of said district. Service is complete at the time of deposit.

[Approved by Governor June 25, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 25, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 21. The president and secretary in addition to the respective duties imposed on them by law shall perform such duties as may be imposed on them by the board of directors. The board of directors shall designate a depository or depositories to have the custody of the funds of the agency, all of which depositories shall give security sufficient to secure the agency against possible loss, and who shall pay the warrants drawn by the treasurer for demands against the agency under such rules as the directors may prescribe.

The general manager, secretary and treasurer, and all other employees or assistants of said agency who may be required so to do by the board of directors, shall give such bonds to the agency conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties within the following sums as the board of directors from time to time may provide:

(d) All others	$5,000 to $50,000

Each director shall execute a bond in favor of the agency in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

The premiums on such bonds shall be paid by the agency.

SEC. 2. Section 28 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 28. Whenever the board of directors deems it necessary for the agency to incur a bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction, completion, or repair of any or all improvements, works or property mentioned in this act, the board shall, by resolution, so declare and call an election to be held in said agency for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of said agency. Said resolution shall state: (a) the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, which may include expenses of all proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds; (b) the amount of debt to be incurred; (c) the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed 40 years; (d) the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed 6 percent per annum, payable semiannually, except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of said year; (e) the measure to be submitted to the voters; (f) the date upon which an election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred; and (g) the designation of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and two clerks in each precinct. The board of directors shall provide for holding such special election on the day so fixed and in accordance with the provisions of the Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of the holding of such election shall be given by publishing pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code the resolution calling the election, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the proposed election, in at least one newspaper published in such agency, then such resolution shall be posted in three public places in such agency not less than two weeks prior to the date of the proposed election. No other notice of such election need be given. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of directors within seven days following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the Elections Code, so far as they may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of directors, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Any action or proceeding, wherein the validity of any such bonds or of the proceedings in relation thereto is contested, questioned or denied, shall be commenced within three months from the date of such election; otherwise, said bonds and all proceedings in relation thereto shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

SEC. 3. Section 29 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 29. Whenever the board of directors deems it necessary to incur a bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction, completion, or repair of any or all improvements, works or property mentioned in this act and to provide for such bonded indebtedness to be payable from taxes levied upon less than all of the agency, the board shall, by resolution, so declare and state: (a) the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred; (b) the amount of debt to be incurred, which may include expenses of all proceedings for the authorization, issuance and the sale of the bonds; (c) that the board intends to form an improvement district of a portion of the agency which in the opinion of the board will be benefited, the exterior boundaries of which portion are set forth on a map on file with the secretary of the agency, which map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the proposed improvement district, and to call an election in such proposed improvement district on a date to be fixed, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of the agency for said improvement district; (d) that taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be levied exclusively upon the taxable property in the improvement district; (e) that a general description of the proposed improvement, together with a map showing the exterior boundaries of said proposed improvement district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto and to the proposed improvement is on file with the secretary of the agency and is available for inspection by any person or persons interested; (f) the time and place for a hearing by the board on the questions of the formation of said proposed improvement district, the extent thereof, the proposed improvement and the amount of debt to be incurred; and (g) that at the time and place specified in the resolution any person interested, including all persons owning property in the agency or in the proposed improvement district, will be heard. Notice of said hearing shall be given by publishing a copy of the resolution pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code prior to the time fixed for the hearing in a newspaper printed and published in the agency, if there is a newspaper printed and published in such agency. Such notice shall also be given by posting a copy of said resolution in six public places within the proposed improvement district at least two weeks before the time fixed for said hearing.

At the time and place so fixed, or at any time and place to which the hearing is adjourned, the board shall proceed with the hearing. At the hearing any person interested, including any person owning property within the agency or within the proposed improvement district, may appear and present any matters material to the questions set forth in the resolution declaring the necessity for incurring the bonded indebtedness. The board shall have the power to change the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, or the amount of bonded debt to be incurred, or the boundaries of said proposed improvement district, or one or all of said matters; provided, however, that said board shall not change such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not, in its judgment, be benefited by said improvement.

The purpose, amount of bonded debt or boundaries shall not be changed by said board except after notices of its intention to do so, given by publication pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code in a newspaper printed and published in said agency, if there is a newspaper printed and published in such agency, and by posting in six public places within said proposed improvement district. Said notice shall state the changed purpose and debt proposed and that the exterior boundaries as proposed to be changed are set forth on a map on file with the secretary of the agency, which map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the proposed improvement district, and specify the time and place for hearing on such change, which time shall be at least 10 days after publication or posting of said notice. At the time and place so fixed, or at any time and place to which the hearing is adjourned, the board shall proceed with the hearing. At the hearing any person interested, including any person owning property within the agency or the proposed improvement district, may appear and present any matters material to the changes stated in the notice. At the conclusion of the hearing the board shall by resolution determine whether it is deemed necessary to incur the bonded indebtedness, and, if so, the resolution shall also state the purpose for which said proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of the proposed debt, that the exterior boundaries of the portion of the agency which will be benefited are set forth on a map on file with the secretary of the agency which map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the improvement district, and that said portion of the agency set forth on said map shall thereupon constitute and be known as "Improvement District No. _____ of Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency," and the determinations made in said resolution shall be final and conclusive. After the formation of such improvement district within the agency pursuant to this section, all proceedings for the purpose of a bond election shall be limited, and shall apply only to the improvement district, and taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be levied exclusively upon the taxable property in the improvement district.

After the board has made its determination of the matters required to be determined by said last-mentioned resolution, and if the board deems it necessary to incur the bonded indebtedness, the board shall by a further resolution call a special election in said improvement district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of the agency for said improvement district. Said resolution shall state: (a) that the board deems it necessary to incur the bonded indebtedness; (b) the purpose for which the bonded indebtedness will be incurred; (c) the amount of debt to be incurred; (d) the improvement district to be benefited by said indebtedness, as set forth in the resolution making determinations, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said improvement district is on file with the secretary of the agency, which map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the improvement district; (e) that taxes for the payment of such bonds and the interest thereon shall be levied exclusively upon the taxable property in said improvement district; (f) the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed 40 years; (g) the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed 6 percent per annum payable semiannually, except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of the said year; (h) the measure to be submitted to the voters; (i) the date upon which an election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred; and (j) the designation of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and two clerks in each precinct.

The board of directors shall provide for holding such special election on the day so fixed and in accordance with the provisions of the Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of the holding of such election shall be given by publishing pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code the resolution calling the election prior to the date of the proposed election in at least one newspaper printed and published in the agency, if there is a newspaper printed and published in such agency. Such resolution shall also be posted in three public places in such improvement district not less than two weeks prior to the date of the proposed election. No other notice of such election need be given.

The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of directors within seven days following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the Elections Code so far as they may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of directors, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Any action or proceeding, wherein the validity of the formation of the improvement district or of any such bonds or of the proceedings in relation thereto is contested, questioned or denied, shall be commenced within three months from the date of such election; otherwise, said bonds and all proceedings in relation thereto, including the formation of the improvement district, shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal and incontestable.

SEC. 4 Section 31 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 31. If from the returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast in an election held pursuant to the provisions of Section 28 or of Section 29 of this act, were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of directors may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, issue bonds of the agency for the whole or any part of the amount of the indebtedness so authorized, and may from time to time provide for the issuance of such amounts as the necessity thereof may appear, until the full amount of such bonds authorized shall have been issued. Said full amount of bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for each of the series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed 40 years from the date of each series respectively.

The board of directors shall, by resolution, prescribe the form of the bonds and the form of the coupons attached thereto and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal shall become due and payable. The payment of the first installment of principal may be deferred for a period of not more than five years from the date of the bonds or the date of the bonds of each series respectively. The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed six percent (6%) per annum, payable semiannually, except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of said year. The board of directors may also provide for call and redemption of bonds prior to maturity at such times and prices and upon such other terms as it may specify. A bond shall not be subject to call or redemption prior to maturity unless it contains a recital to that effect or unless a statement to that effect is printed thereon.

The denomination of the bonds shall be stated in the resolution providing for their issuance, but shall not be less than one hundred dollars ($100). The principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the treasurer of the district or such other place or places as may be designated, or at either place or places at the option of the holder of the bond.

The bonds shall be dated, numbered consecutively, and be signed by the president and treasurer of the agency, countersigned by the secretary of the agency, and the official seal of the agency attached. The interest coupons of such bonds shall be signed by the treasurer of said agency. All such signatures and countersignatures may be printed, lithographed, or mechanically reproduced, except that one of said signatures or countersignatures to said bonds shall be manually affixed.

If the bond election proceedings have been limited to and have applied only to an improvement district within said agency, said bonds are bonds of the agency and shall be issued in the name of the agency and shall be designated "Bonds of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency for Improvement District No. _____" and each bond and all interest coupons thereof shall state that taxes levied for the payment thereof shall be levied exclusively upon the taxable property in said improvement district.

Before selling the bonds, or any part thereof, the board of directors shall give notice inviting sealed bids in such manner as it may prescribe. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be awarded to the highest responsible bidder. If no bids are received, or if said board determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, it may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or sell the bonds at private sale.

The proceeds arising from the sale of bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the agency and placed to the credit of a special improvement fund and expended only for the purpose for which the indebtedness was created; provided, however, that when said purpose has been accomplished any moneys remaining in said special improvement fund may be transferred to the fund to be used for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds. Said remaining moneys remaining from the sale of bonds of the agency may also be used for some other agency purpose. Such moneys remaining from the sale of bonds of the agency for an improvement district therein may also be used for any purpose which will benefit the property in the improvement district. Said moneys may not be used for said other agency purpose or improvement district purpose until two-thirds of the qualified voters of said agency or improvement district have consented thereto at a special election called in said agency or improvement district by the board of directors. Notice of said election shall be given in the manner provided for bond elections in said agency or improvement district, as the case may be, and in other respects the election shall be conducted as are other agency elections.

SEC. 5. Section 34 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 34. The board of directors may advance general funds of the agency to accomplish the purposes of an improvement district formed in accordance with Section 29 or 33 and, if the improvement district is formed under Section 29, may repay the agency from the proceeds of the sale of bonds authorized for such purpose, or if the improvement district is formed under Section 33 may, in the formation of such improvement district, provide that the agency shall be repaid with interest at not to exceed 6 percent from the special taxes levied exclusively upon the taxable property in said improvement district.

SEC. 6. Section 35 of the Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency Law (Chapter 28, Statutes of 1962, First Extraordinary Session) is amended to read:

Sec. 35. Interest on any bonds issued by the agency coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available, may be paid from the proceeds of the sale of such bonds; provided that not more than six percent (6%) of the proceeds of any sale of the bonds shall be used for said purpose.

The Upper Santa Clara Valley Water Agency is one of the contractors with the State of California under a water supply contract for delivery of water from the State Water Project. There is an urgent need for financing and construction of the facilities necessary to take delivery of water from the facilities of the State Water Project and deliver such water to the users within the boundaries of the agency. To accomplish the objectives of the agency it is necessary to liberalize the bonding provisions of the act to meet the existing realities of the bond market and in order to do so it is necessary that the maximum rate of interest which bonds of the agency may bear be increased.

An act to amend Sections 947 and 951 of the Government Code, relating to public entities.

905. An appeal from a judgment in a justice court pursuant to Section 904.4 is not effective for any purpose unless an undertaking is filed in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for the payment of costs on appeal, including any damages awarded under Section 907. The undertaking shall be in addition to any other undertaking required or permitted under the provisions of this title.

The undertaking shall be filed within five days after the filing of the notice of appeal, and notice of the filing of the undertaking shall be given to the respondent. The provisions of Section 922 shall apply to this undertaking. A cash deposit in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) with the clerk, or if there be no clerk, with the judge of the justice court, will satisfy the requirement of this section. The judge of the justice court shall transmit such money to the clerk of the superior court to be paid out by him on the order of the reviewing court.

906. Upon an appeal pursuant to Section 904.1, 904.2 or 904.3, the reviewing court may review the verdict or decision and any intermediate ruling, proceeding, order or decision which involves the merits or necessarily affects the judgment or order appealed from or which substantially affects the rights of a party, including, on any appeal from the judgment, any order on motion for a new trial, and may affirm, reverse or modify any judgment or order appealed from and may direct the proper judgment or order to be entered, and may, if necessary or proper, direct a new trial or further proceedings to be had. The respondent, or party in whose favor the judgment was given, may, without appealing from such judgment, request the reviewing court to and it may review any of the foregoing matters for the purpose of determining whether or not the appellant was prejudiced by the error or errors upon which he relies for reversal or modification of the judgment from which the appeal is taken. The provisions of this section do not authorize the reviewing court to review any decision or order from which an appeal might have been taken.

907. When it appears to the reviewing court that the appeal was frivolous or taken solely for delay, it may add to the costs on appeal such damages as may be just.

908. When the judgment or order is reversed or modified, the reviewing court may direct that the parties be returned so far as possible to the positions they occupied before the enforcement of or execution on the judgment or order. In doing so, the reviewing court may order restitution on reasonable terms and conditions of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment or order, so far as such restitution is consistent with rights of third parties and may direct the entry of a money judgment sufficient to compensate for property or rights not restored. The reviewing court may take evidence and make findings concerning such matters or may, by order, refer such matters to the trial court for determination.

909. In all cases where trial by jury is not a matter of right or where trial by jury has been waived, the reviewing court may make findings of fact contrary to or in addition to those made by the trial court. Such findings may be based on the evidence adduced before the trial court either with or without the taking of evidence by the reviewing court. The reviewing court may for the purpose of making such findings of fact or for any other purpose in the interests of justice, take additional evidence of or concerning facts occurring at any time prior to the decison of the appeal, and may give or direct the entry of any judgment or order and may make such further or other order as the case may require. This section shall be liberally construed to the end among others that, where feasible, causes may be finally disposed of by a single appeal and without further proceedings in the trial court except where in the interests of justice a new trial is required on some or all of the issues.

910. When a party appeals on questions of fact or on questions of both law and fact from a justice court, pursuant to Section 904.4, the matter shall be tried anew in the superior court to which the appeal is taken. When a party appeals on questions of law alone from a justice court pursuant to Section 904.3, and a new trial is ordered by the reviewing court, it shall be had in the superior court to which the appeal is taken. Judgment rendered in the superior court after trial anew on appeal or upon a new trial shall have the same force and effect and may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment in an action commenced in the superior court except that no further review shall lie from such a judgment of the superior court other than as provided in Section 911.

911. A court of appeal may order any case on appeal within the original jurisdiction of the municipal and justice courts in its district transferred to it for hearing and decision as provided by rules of the Judicial Council when the superior court certifies, or the court of appeal determines, that such transfer appears necessary to secure uniformity of decision or to settle important questions of law.

No case in which there is a right on appeal to a trial anew in the superior court shall be transferred pursuant to this section before a decision in such case becomes final therein.

A court to which any case is transferred pursuant to this section shall have similar power to review any matter and make orders and judgments as the superior court would have in such case, except that if the case was tried anew in the superior court, the reviewing court shall have similar power to review any matter and make orders and judgments as it has in a case within the original jurisdiction of the superior court.

912. Upon final determination of an appeal by the reviewing court, the clerk of the court shall remit to the trial court a certified copy of the judgment or order of the reviewing court and of its opinion, if any. The clerk of the trial court, or the judge, if there be no clerk, shall file such certified copy of the judgment and opinion of the reviewing court, shall attach the same to the judgment roll if the appeal was from a judgment, and shall enter a note of the judgment of the reviewing court stating whether the judgment or order appealed from has been affirmed, reversed or modified, in the margin of the original entry of such judgment or order, and also in the register of actions or docket.

913. The dismissal of an appeal shall be with prejudice to the right to file another appeal within the time permitted, unless the dismissal is expressly made without prejudice to another appeal.

914. When the right to a phonographic report has not been waived and when it shall be impossible to have a phonographic report of the trial transcribed by a stenographic reporter as provided by law or by rule, because of the death or disability of a reporter who participated as a stenographic reporter at the trial or because of the loss or destruction, in whole or in substantial part, of the notes of such reporter, the trial court or a judge thereof, or the reviewing court shall have power to set aside and vacate the judgment, order or decree from which an appeal has been taken or is to be taken and to order a new trial of the action or proceeding.

CHAPTER 2. STAY OF ENFORCEMENT AND OTHER PROCEEDINGS

916. (a) Except as provided in Sections 917 1 through 917.9, the perfecting of an appeal stays proceedings in the trial court upon the judgment or order appealed from or upon the matters embraced therein or affected thereby, including enforcement of the judgment or order, but the trial court may proceed upon any other matter embraced in the action and not affected by the judgment or order.

(b) A stay of proceedings shall release from levy property which has been levied upon under execution issued upon such judgment.

(c) When there is a stay of proceedings other than the enforcement of the judgment, the trial court shall have jurisdiction of proceedings related to the enforcement of the judgment as well as any other matter embraced in the action and not affected by the judgment or order appealed from.

917.1. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in the trial court if the judgment or order is for money or directs the payment of money, whether consisting of a special fund or not, and whether payable by the appellant or another party to the action, unless an undertaking is given on condition that if the judgment or order or any part of it is affirmed or the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed, the party ordered to pay shall pay the amount directed to be paid by the judgment or order, or the part of it as to which the judgment or order is affirmed. Such undertaking shall be for double the amount of the judgment or order unless given by a corporate surety authorized to execute the same by Section 1056 in which event it shall be for one and one-half times the amount of the judgment or order. If the party ordered to pay does not make such payment within 30 days after the filing of the remittitur from the reviewing court in the trial court, on motion of the respondent judgment may be entered in his favor on the undertaking for such amount, together with the interest as may be due thereon and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the appellant on appeal, but not to exceed the amount of the undertaking.

If the judgment or order appealed from be for an amount in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) and the sureties do not state in their affidavits of justification accompanying the undertaking that they are each worth the amount specified in the undertaking, the stipulation may be that the judgment to be entered against the sureties shall be for such amounts only as in their affidavits they may state that they are severally worth, and judgment may be entered against the sureties by the court from which the appeal is taken, pursuant to the stipulations herein designated.

917.2. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order of the trial court if the judgment or order appealed from directs the assignment or delivery of personal property, including documents, whether by the appellant or another party to the action, or the sale of personal property upon the foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien thereon, unless the property is placed in the custody of an officer designated by the trial court to abide the order of the reviewing court or an undertaking in a sum and upon conditions fixed by the trial court, is given that the appellant or party ordered to assign or deliver the property will obey the order of the reviewing court. If the judgment or order appealed from directs the sale of perishable property the trial court may order such property to be sold and the proceeds thereof to be deposited with the clerk of the trial court to abide the order of the reviewing court.

917.3. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in the trial court if the judgment or order appealed from directs the execution of one or more instruments unless the instrument or instruments are executed and deposited in the office of the clerk of the court where the original judgment or order is entered to abide the order of the reviewing court.

917.4. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in the trial court if the judgment or order appealed from directs the sale, conveyance or delivery of possession of real property which is in the possession or control of the appellant or the party ordered to sell, convey or deliver possession of such property, unless an undertaking in a sum fixed by the trial court is given that the appellant or party ordered to sell, convey or deliver possession of such property will not commit or suffer to be committed any waste thereon and that if the judgment or order appealed from is affirmed, or the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed, the appellant shall pay the damage suffered by such waste and the value of the use and occupancy of such property, or the part of it as to which the judgment or order is affirmed, from the time of the taking of the appeal until the delivery of the possession of the property. If such judgment or order directs the sale of mortgaged real property and the payment of any deficiency, the undertaking shall also provide for the payment of any deficiency. However, the surety shall not be held liable for an amount in excess of the undertaking.

917.5. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in the trial court if the judgment or order appealed from appoints a receiver, unless an undertaking in a sum fixed by the trial court is given that if the judgment or order is affirmed or the appeal is withdrawn, or dismissed, the appellant will pay all damages which the respondent may sustain by reason of such stay, but not to exceed the amount of the undertaking. However, the surety shall not be held liable for an amount in excess of the undertaking.

917.6. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in the trial court if the judgment or order appealed from directs the performance of two or more of the acts specified in Sections 917.1 through 917.5, unless the appellant complies with the requirements of each applicable section.

917.7. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay proceedings as to those provisions of a judgment or order which award, change or otherwise affect the custody, including the right of visitation, of a minor child in any civil action, in an action filed under the Juvenile Court Law, or in a special proceeding, or the provisions of a judgment or order for the temporary exclusion of a party from the family dwelling or the dwelling of the other party, as provided in Section 157 of the Civil Code; provided, the trial court may in its discretion stay execution of such provisions pending review on appeal or for such other period or periods as to it may appear appropriate; provided further, that in the absence of a writ or order of a reviewing court providing otherwise, the provisions of such judgment or order allowing, or eliminating restrictions against, removal of the minor child from the state are stayed by operation of law for a period of 30 days from the entry of the judgment or order and are subject to any further stays ordered by the trial court, as herein provided.

917.8. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay proceedings, in the absence of an order of the trial court providing otherwise or of a writ of supersedeas, where a party to the proceeding has been adjudged guilty of usurping, or intruding into, or unlawfully holding a public office, civil or military within this state, or where the judgment or order directs a corporation or its officers or agents, or any of them, to give to a person adjudged to be a director, stockholder or member of such corporation a reasonable opportunity to inspect or make copies of such books, papers or documents of the corporation as the trial court finds that such director, stockholder or member is entitled by law to inspect or copy, or where the judgment or order adjudges a building or place to be a nuisance, and as part of such judgment or order directs the closing or discontinuance of any specific use of the building or place for any period of time.

917.9. The perfecting of an appeal shall not stay enforcement of the judgment or order in cases not provided for in Sections 917.1 through 917.8 if the trial court, in its discretion, requires an undertaking and such undertaking is not given. The undertaking shall be in a sum fixed by the court and shall provide that if the judgment or order appealed from or any part of it is affirmed, or the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed, the appellant will pay all damages which the respondent may sustain, by the taking of such appeal, but not to exceed the amount of the undertaking.

918. The trial court may stay the enforcement of any judgment or order; provided that if the enforcement of such judgment or order would be stayed on appeal only by the giving of an undertaking, a trial court shall not have power, without the consent of the adverse party, to stay the enforcement thereof pursuant to this section for a period which extends for more than 10 days beyond the last date on which a notice of appeal could be filed.

919. The trial court may, in its discretion, dispense with or limit the security required by any section in this chapter, when the appellant is an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, conservator or other person acting in another's right.

920. In all cases where an undertaking is required or permitted by the provisions of this title, a deposit in the trial court of the amount of the undertaking provided for by any section of this title, or where the amount of such undertaking is to be fixed by the court, then of the amount so fixed, shall be equivalent to filing the undertaking. Any undertaking required in this title may be waived in writing by the party to be benefited thereby.

921. An appeal by a party who has levied an attachment shall not continue in force the attachment, unless an undertaking be executed and filed on the part of the appellant that the appellant will pay all costs and damages which the respondent may sustain by reason of the attachment, in case the order of the court below be sustained in favor of the respondent; and unless, within five days after written notice of the entry of the order appealed from, such appeal shall be perfected. The amount of the undertaking on appeal required by this section shall be such amount as is fixed by the trial court on motion of the respondent as provided in Section 553 of this code and if no such order shall have been made, the undertaking shall be in double the amount of the debt claimed by the appellant. If the respondent is not satisfied with the undertaking in double the amount of the debt or the amount fixed by order under Section 553, the trial court upon motion of the respondent made within 60 days after perfecting the appeal may order an increase in the amount of the undertaking in such amount as is justified by the detriment reasonably to be anticipated by continuing the attachment. If such an order be made, the attachment shall be discharged and the property released therefrom, unless the undertaking shall be executed and filed within 10 days after the order is made. The sureties on any undertaking required for the purpose of continuing an attachment may be required to justify as provided in Section 922 and if they fail to do so, the order of attachment shall be discharged.

922. An undertaking required or permitted by this title shall be entered into by two or more sureties. A respondent may except to the sufficiency of the sureties at any time within 10 days after notice of the filing of such undertaking; and unless they or other sureties, within 10 days after the appellant has been served with notice of such exception, justify before a judge of the trial court, upon 5 days notice to the respondent of the time and place of justification, enforcement of the judgment or order appealed from is no longer stayed and property which has been levied upon under execution issued upon such judgment shall not be released from levy. When a bond or undertaking required by law or order of any court is executed in an amount greater than that required, the surety shall be liable upon such bond or undertaking in the same manner and to the same extent as though it had been executed in the amount required by such law or order of the court.

923. The provisions of this chapter shall not limit the power of a reviewing court or of a judge thereof to stay proceedings during the pendency of an appeal or to issue a writ of supersedeas or to suspend or modify an injunction during the pendency of an appeal or to make any order appropriate to preserve the status quo, the effectiveness of the judgment subsequently to be entered, or otherwise in aid of its jurisdiction.

SEC. 3. In any case in which a provision of Title 13 (commencing with Section 901) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, as enacted by this act, or any application thereof, is held invalid, the applicable procedure in such case shall be that which was prescribed by Title 13 (commencing with Section 934) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, repealed by this act, as such title read immediately prior to repeal.

1692.1. The commissioner may suspend the privilege of an insurer to certify to the enrollment of applicants in any course

During any period of suspension of such privilege of an insurer the insurer is also prohibited from appointing any holder of a certificate of convenience to act as its agent.

Any such suspension may be terminated by order of the commissioner when it has been demonstrated to the commissioner's satisfaction that the insurer has established procedures both to assure proper training of its prospective agents to enable them to pass the qualifying license examination and to insure proper selection of prospective agents to the end that a reasonable proportion of those selected will in good faith pursue the course of study and actually attempt to pass the qualifying examination.

This section shall not apply to an insurer during any calendar year in which such insurer certified, pursuant to Section 1690, 25 or fewer applicants.

SEC. 2. Section 8517 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

8517. If a person is a delegate to the state convention and qualifies independently of that fact to be a delegate to the same state convention, he shall be a delegate by virtue of the most recent election at which he becomes a delegate. The resulting vacancy shall be filled pursuant to Section 8514.

SEC. 3. Section 9011 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

9011. The state convention shall be composed of the following delegates:

(a) Each officer named in Section 9010 who was nominated and elected as a candidate of the party and whose term of office extends beyond the eighth day of January next following the direct primary election, or the appointee or successor appointed, elected, or otherwise designated by law to fill a vacancy in the office of any such officer. These delegates are "holdover delegates."

(b) Each candidate of the party in whose behalf nomination papers were filed and who was nominated at the direct primary election by that party. These delegates are "nominee delegates." Nominees for an office the term of which extends beyond two years are delegates to each succeeding state convention until that following the direct primary election at which nominations for the office are again to be made. If a candidate is a "nominee delegate" to the state convention held in the year in which he is nominated, and is elected to the office at the succeeding general election, he shall be considered a "holdover delegate" to the state convention of his party in the next odd-numbered year, if his party is required to hold such a convention.

(c) One delegate appointed for each of the officers named in Section 9010, not represented by a "holdover delegate"

nor by a "nominee delegate" of the party. These delegates shall be chosen and appointed in the manner provided in this chapter for filling vacancies in the state convention. These delegates are "appointive delegates."

SEC. 4. Section 9017 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

9017. If a person is a delegate to the state convention and qualifies independently of that fact to be a delegate to the same state convention, he shall be a delegate by virtue of the most recent election at which he becomes a delegate. The resulting vacancy shall be filled pursuant to Section 9014.

Doubt has arisen with respect to the legal effect of a person's qualifying to be a delegate to the state convention twice, resulting in the possibility of double membership in the convention and in the state central committee. There is also some question as to the term of membership to which a person is entitled when nominated for an office which has a term of over two years. This act resolves the latter issue consistently with past practice, but as the first has not before arisen but now appears as a possibility, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately to clarify the matter in time to be applicable to the 1968 party conventions.

During the 1968 meeting of the Republican State Convention scheduled for August __, the presidential electors of the party are selected and the state platform of the party is determined. In order to permit as large a participation in these important matters as possible the state convention should be expanded by the time of its meeting to include the persons added by Section 1 of this act.

Each person employed by the governing board of a school district for a position requiring a credential or permit shall, not later than 60 days after the date fixed by the governing board of the district for the commencement of his service, file with the county superintendent of schools a valid credential or permit issued on or before said date, authorizing him to serve in the position for which he was employed, and must, not later than 60 days after the renewal thereof, file the renewed credential or permit in the same manner. Other personnel employed by a school district or a county superintendent of schools in a development center under the provisions of this article (commencing at Section 16645.1) shall be deemed for all purposes, including retirement, to be a person employed by the school district in a position not requiring certification qualifications; provided, however, that any person who is a member of the State Teachers' Retirement System because of employment to perform duties which are requisite for membership and who subsequently is employed by a school district or a county superintendent of schools in a development center under the provisions of this article (commencing with Section 16645.1) shall continue to be a member of the State Teachers' Retirement System with respect to his duties as such employee in such a development center upon assuming such duties, unless he elects by a writing filed in the office of the State Teachers' Retirement System within 90 days after such entry, not to continue as a member with respect to his new duties. The provisions of this section shall apply with equal effect to any member who shall have been employed by a school district or county superintendent of schools in a development center under the provisions of this article prior to the effective date of this section. Continuance of his membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System of any person so employed prior to the effective date of this section, is hereby ratified, validated and confirmed, and for all purposes he shall be considered as having been a member without interruption as far as such employment is concerned, unless such person elects within 90 days after the date upon which notice of such right to elect, is mailed by the State Teachers' Retirement System to the member's latest address on file in the office of said system, not to be a member of the system with respect to the duties which, but for the provisions of this section, otherwise would not be so requisite for membership therein.

The commission may, with the approval of the State Board of Control, authorize the refund of moneys received or collected by it illegally or by mistake, inadvertence, or error. Claims authorized by the commission and approved by the State Board of Control shall be filed with the State Controller and the Controller shall draw his warrant against the General Fund in payment of such refund from any appropriation made for that purpose.

SEC. 1.2. Section 11738 of the Water Code is amended to read:

Plans for such fishing access sites shall be subject to the approval of the Department of Water Resources to ensure that they shall not defeat or impair the orderly operation of any state water project for its other authorized purposes and the accomplishment of such purposes.

SEC. 2.2. Section 12 of Chapter 138, Statutes of 1964, First Extraordinary Session, is amended to read:

Sec. 12. The first eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) of oil revenue and dry gas revenue payable to the State of California under this act each year shall be deposited in the California Water Fund; except that commencing with the fiscal year 1970–1971, the amount so deposited each year shall be twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000); and except that during the balance of the fiscal year 1967–1968 and the fiscal years 1968–1969, 1969–1970, 1970–1971, and 1971–1972, such amount shall instead be deposited in the Central Valley Water Project Construction Fund for expenditure without regard to fiscal years by the Department of Water Resources for construction of the State Water Resources Development System as defined in Section 12931 of the Water Code, other than provision for water development facilities for local areas as provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 12880) of Part 6 of Division 6 of the Water Code. Any reference in this act to the amount provided for deposit in the California Water Fund by this section shall, during the balance of the fiscal year 1967–1968 and the fiscal years 1968–1969, 1969–1970, 1970–1971, and 1971–1972, be deemed to refer to the amount provided for deposit in the Central Valley Water Project Construction Fund by this section.

In order to accomplish the objectives of this act in connection with state water project facilities as to which revenue bonds are currently being issued and sold, and facilities currently being planned and under construction, it is essential that this act take immediate effect.

Existing available funds, moreover, are insufficient for completion of construction of the State Water Resources Development System. This act makes additional capital funds available so that facilities necessary for the health and welfare of the people of the state may be completed.

CHAPTER 412

An act to amend Section 69590 of the Government Code, relating to judges.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69590 of the Government Code is amended to read:

69590. In the County of Monterey there shall be three judges of the superior court. On and after January 1, 1969, there shall be four judges.

CHAPTER 413

An act to amend Sections 51201, 51243, and 51256 of, and to add Section 51243.5 to, the Government Code, relating to the California Land Conservation Act.

[Approved by Governor June 28, 1968. Filed with Secretary of State June 28, 1968.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51201 of the Government Code is amended to read:

51201. As used in this chapter, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

(a) "Agricultural commodity" means any and all plant and animal products produced in this state for commercial purposes.

(b) "Agricultural use" means use of land for the purpose of producing an agricultural commodity for commercial purposes.

(c) "Prime agricultural land" means (1) all land which qualifies for rating as class I or as class II in the Soil Conservation Service land use capability classifications, (2) land which qualifies for rating 80 through 100 in the Storie Index Rating, (3) land which supports livestock used for the production of food and fiber, and which has an annual carrying capacity equivalent to at least one animal unit per acre as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture, (4) land planted with fruit- or nut-bearing trees, vines, bushes or crops which have a nonbearing period of less than five years and during the commercial bearing period will normally return on an annual basis from the production of unprocessed agricultural plant production not less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre, or (5) land which has returned from the production of unprocessed agricultural plant products an annual gross value of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) per acre for three of the previous five years.

(d) "Agricultural preserve" means an area devoted to agricultural and compatible uses as designated by a city or county, and established by resolution of the governing body of a city or county after a public hearing. When a county proposes to establish an agricultural preserve it shall give written notice at least two weeks before the hearing to the Local Agency Formation Commission and to every city within one mile of the exterior boundaries of the preserve. Notice of the hearing shall be published pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code. The governing body may, by resolution, provide procedures for initiating, filing and processing requests to establish agricultural preserves. The same procedure to establish an agricultural preserve shall be used to enlarge or diminish the size of an agricultural preserve including disestablishment of an agricultural preserve. In the event any proposed alteration of the boundary of an agricultural preserve or proposed disestablishment of an agricultural preserve will remove land under contract or agreement from an agricultural preserve, notice of the proposed alteration or disestablishment and hearing date shall be furnished by the county or city to the owner by registered United States mail directed to him at his latest address known to the county or city and such notice shall be furnished in a like manner to each owner of land in that preserve which has a common boundary with the land to be removed from the agricultural preserve. Such preserves, when established, shall be for the purpose of subsequently placing restrictions upon the use of land within them, or supplementing existing restrictions, pursuant to the purposes of this chapter. Such preserve may contain land other than prime agricultural land, but the use of any land not under contract within the preserve shall subsequently be restricted in such a way as to not be incompatible with the agricultural use of the prime agricultural land the use of which is limited by contract in accordance with this chapter. Such preserve may also be established even if it contains no prime agricultural land, provided that the land within the preserve is subsequently restricted to agricultural and compatible uses by agreement as provided in Section 51255, or by any other suitable means.

(e) Except as otherwise defined by this act, "compatible use" shall be determined by the city or county administering the agricultural preserve according to uniform rules. "Compatible use" is hereby determined by the Legislature to include the erection, construction, alteration, or maintenance of gas, electric, water, or communication utility facilities, unless the governing board makes a finding after notice and hearing that any or all such facilities are not a compatible use. No land occupied by gas, electric, water, or communication utility facilities shall be excluded from a preserve by reason of such use.

(f) "Uniform rules" mean rules adopted by a city or county for the administration of each agricultural preserve including waiver of compensation pursuant to Section 51261, and such rules shall be uniform throughout the agricultural preserve for which the rules are adopted.

SEC. 2. Section 51243 of the Government Code is amended to read:

51243. Every such contract shall:

(a) Provide for the exclusion of uses other than agricultural, and other than those related to or compatible with agricultural use, for the duration of the contract.

(b) Be transferred from the contracting owner to any succeeding owner and from succeeding owner to succeeding owner. The contract shall also be transferred from the contracting city or county to any succeeding city or county acquiring jurisdiction over the land, except as hereinafter provided. On the annexation by a city of any land under contract with a county, the city shall succeed to all rights, duties and powers of the county under such contract, unless the land being annexed was within one mile of such city at the time that the contract was initially executed, the city protested the execution of the contract pursuant to Section 51243.5, and the city states its intent not to succeed in its resolution of intention to annex. If the city does not exercise its option to succeed, the contract becomes null and void as to the land actually being annexed on the date of annexation. In the event that only part of the land under contract was within one mile of the city the option of the city shall extend only to such part..

(c) Be divisible in the event land under contract is divided. A contract identical to the contract then covering the original parcel except any waiver of compensation payment which is distributed pursuant to Section 51261.1 shall be executed by the owner on each parcel created by the division at the time of the division and the county or city shall require, as a condition of approval of the division, the execution of the contracts provided for in this subdivision and any division by order of a judicial proceeding shall require the execution of the contracts required by this subdivision.

SEC. 3. Section 51243.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

51243.5. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall give written notice to a city of its intention to consider a contract which includes land within one mile of the exterior boundaries of that city. Such notice shall be given at least 30 days prior to the time the board of supervisors intends to consider the execution of such a contract. If such city files with the county a resolution protesting the execution of a contract which includes land within one mile of the exterior boundaries of the city and the board of supervisors executes such a contract, the city shall have the option provided in subdivision (b) of Section 51243 to not succeed to the contract upon annexation of the land to the city.

SEC. 4. Section 51256 of the Government Code is amended to read:

51256. Any city or county which offers any such agreement to any owner of land in agricultural use within a preserve shall offer agreements on similar terms to any other such owner within that preserve upon his request. Each agreement as to land within a preserve may be made mutually dependent upon any other agreements as to land within that preserve. The provisions of the agreement relating to length, terms, conditions, restrictions and, including but not limited to provisions relating to the same subjects as contracts, shall be determined by negotiation between the city or county and the landowner. The agreement shall be transferred from the city or county signing the agreement to any succeeding city or county acquiring jurisdiction over the land in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided for contracts in subdivision (b) of Section 51243. Section 51243.5 shall be applicable to such agreements. It shall be the policy of the city or county to secure agreements under which the limitations or restrictions will not be removed or substantially modified in the predictable future. However, the provisions of this section shall not be construed to require that all agreements entered into upon lands within a preserve be identical, so long as such differences as exist are related to differences in the location and circumstances of the owners of land in agricultural or compatible uses, or pursuant to uniform rules adopted by the city or county.
