No augmentation shall be made to the capital of the Service Revolving Fund for the benefit of the Office of State Printing during the 1976–77 fiscal year except as specifically provided for in this act. Any proposed capital addition to the Service Revolving Fund for the benefit of the Office of State Printing for the 1977–78 fiscal year shall be included in the proposed budget for that fiscal year as an appropriation out of the General Fund.

Any surplus resulting from legislative printing shall be shown as a reimbursement to Item 10 of this act.

SEC. 19.3. There is hereby appropriated from the Abandoned Vehicle Trust Fund in the State Treasury to the General Fund and from the General Fund to the Department of Parks and Recreation the sum of five hundred fifty thousand dollars ($550,000) for a recreational trail on the San Francisco-Lake Tahoe Corridor between Old Sacramento State Historic Park and Folsom Lake State Recreation Area, pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 5050) of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of the Public Resources Code.

SEC. 19.6. It is necessary that the Student Aid Commission announce awards in the spring of each year, prior to the time the Budget Act containing the appropriation for this purpose is enacted, in order that students receiving the awards may have sufficient time to plan for entering school the following fall. Since the Student Aid Commission must announce in the Spring of 1977 those individuals to whom California educational opportunity grants and graduate fellowships will be granted for the following Fall semester of 1977 and, since the Budget Act of 1977 may not be enacted in adequate time, the Student Aid Commission is authorized to announce the following awards during the 1976–77 fiscal year for awards to be in effect during the 1977–78 fiscal year, except that awards (1) in subdivision (a) in excess of 4.25 percent of the number of high school graduates of the previous fiscal year, (2) in subdivision (b) in excess of 3,100, and (3) in subdivision (c) in excess of 700, shall not be announced unless the Student Aid Commission has certified to the Director of Finance that there are federal funds available to the Student Aid Commission in an amount necessary to fund such awards after funding all eligible renewals in accordance with the provisions of Section 40402 of the Education Code:

(a) 14,900 new Cal grant awards as authorized by subdivision (a) of Section 40402 of the Education Code, in an amount not to exceed eighteen million three hundred twenty-seven thousand dollars ($18,327,000).

(b) 4,550 new Cal grant awards as authorized by subdivision (b) of Section 40402 of the Education Code, in an amount not to exceed five million two hundred eighty-two thousand five hundred fifty dollars ($5,282,550).

(c) 975 Cal grant awards as authorized by subdivision (c) of Section 40402 of the Education Code, in an amount not to exceed one million one hundred thirty-two thousand nine hundred fifty dollars ($1,132,950).

(d) Graduate fellowship winners for the awards authorized by Section 42208 of the Education Code, in an amount not to exceed two million dollars ($2,000,000).

SEC. 19.7. The Legislature recognizes that child care programs established and maintained pursuant to Chapter 1177, Statutes of 1972, have made valuable contributions towards insuring that public assistance recipients have been able to accept and maintain employment or related training. It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature that the Department of Education shall insure that the following provision is met:

(a) That counties shall comply with Section 16784 of the Education Code which requires counties to maintain their 1970–71 level of effort for child care services provided by county funds, and that those county funds shall be used to exceed the $1.14 an hour maximum state and federal reimbursement rate as established by Item 327 of this act, for child care programs.

The Department of Education shall insure that each county complies with Section 16784 of the Education Code in one of the two following manners:

(1) The Legislature has appropriated $1,283,379 to the Department of Education for county child care services. The Department of Education shall not issue funds to a child care contractor within a county until such time as that county certifies in writing to the Department of Education that the county has obligated its 1970–71 child care maintenance of effort funding level, pursuant to Section 16784 of the Education Code, to local county child care contractors. Such sums awarded by a county to a local child care contractor shall not adversely affect an agency's contract reimbursement with the Department of Education pursuant to Section 16780 of the Education Code.

(2) The Legislature has appropriated $1,283,379 to the Department of Education for county child care services. Each county, which has a 1970–71 maintenance of effort funding level for child care, pursuant to Section 16784 of the Education Code, shall transmit such sum to the Department of Education. Funds derived from each county shall be returned to each respective county's child care contractors as a grant award and not within the reimbursement control of Section 16780 of the Education Code.

The Department of Education shall notify all such programs and all such counties which maintained such programs during fiscal year 1974–75 of the Legislature's intent. The Department of Education shall report to the Legislature, no later than August 1, 1976, on the implementation of the Legislature's intent.

SEC. 19.8. The Legislature recognizes that state child care programs can make a valuable contribution assisting adults in low-income families to secure and maintain employment. It is therefore the intent of the Legislature that the Department of Education shall insure that the appropriation schedule in Item 327(a) for child care services be encumbered to the fullest extent possible under the state and federal rules and regulations affecting these programs.

To accomplish the full encumbrance of the state allocation for income eligible children not partly supported by federal funds, the Department of Education shall compare the actual rate of expenditures to the budgeted allocations for income eligible children who are state-funded only in each child care provider agency serving such children during the first six months of the 1976–77 fiscal year, and make such reallocations among these agencies as are necessary for the final six months of the 1976–77 fiscal year to insure the maximum encumbrance of the funding level, and, to provide services to the maximum number of children that can be served under this level of funding.

The Department of Education shall also report to the Legislature on or before February 15, 1977, the actual rate of expenditures of all budgeted child care funds from any source for child care services provided in this state during the first six months of the 1976–77 fiscal year and the projected expenditures during the last six months of the 1976–77 fiscal year together with a summary of all actions to be taken by the Department of Education subsequent to the first six months of the 1976–77 fiscal year to ensure the maximum encumbrance of state and federal funds budgeted for child care services.

SEC. 19.9. (a) No funds shall be available to finance contracts in respect to instructional materials adopted by the State Board of Education in which the total price, including sales and use tax, for any instructional materials exceeds by more than 13 percent the average of the three highest total prices for competitive instructional materials.

(b) No funds shall be available to finance contracts for textbooks or separate teachers' manuals adopted by the State Board of Education in which the royalty for any such textbook or separate teacher's manual exceeds by more than 10 percent an amount equal to the net price of that book multiplied by the average of the ratios of royalty to net price of all competitive books of its respective type.

SEC. 20. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to pay the salary of any authorized state position which was abolished effective September 1, 1976 and which position was vacant continuously during the period between October 1, 1975 and July 1, 1976. The State Controller, no later than August 1, 1976, shall notify in writing the Department of Finance of any authorized state position which was vacant continuously during such period. All such positions, except those exempt from civil service or those instructional and instructional-related positions authorized for the California State University and Colleges, are abolished effective September 1, 1976.

The State Controller, not later than December 1, 1976, shall furnish the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a report on all positions as of July 1, 1976, which were unfilled continuously during the period between October 1, 1975, and July 1, 1976.

SEC. 20.1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, expenditures under Item 12 of this act or any appropriation in augmentation of such item shall be exempt from the provisions of Sections 13320 and 13325 of, and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 14250) of Part 5 of, and Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 14780) of Part 5.5 of, Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, subdivision (a) of Section 713 of Title 2 of the California Administrative Code and Sections 4, 8, 18, and 25 of this act, and may be expended as set forth in the Governor's Budget, or for such other purposes, including expenditures for such number of positions in various classifications, as may be authorized by the Joint Committee on Rules.

SEC. 21.4. Since it is imperative that the maximum amount of time possible be provided the State Board of Education in the selection of textbooks and for private publishers and the State Printer to print textbooks for the ensuing school year, the Department of Education and the Department of General Services are authorized subject to the provisions of Education Code Sections 9200 through 10001 to incur textbook printing obligations in an amount not to exceed $10 million in the aggregate during the 1976–77 fiscal year for delivery by the State Printer and private publishers to the Department of Education and local educational agencies beginning in the 1977–78 fiscal year.

SEC. 21.6. In addition to those purposes set forth in Section 19627.3 of the Business and Professions Code, money subject to allocation pursuant to such provisions may be allocated by the Director of Food and Agriculture to county, district, or combined county and district fairs, during the 1976–77 fiscal year, for general operational support purposes, and the limitation of $65,000, as set forth in Section 19627 of the Business and Professions Code, shall not be applicable to such allocation.

SEC. 22. No purchase order for acquisition or replacement of motor vehicles shall be issued against any appropriation made herein until the Department of General Services has investigated and established the necessity therefor.

All passenger-type motor vehicles purchased from any appropriation made by this act for the use of state employees and officers, except constitutional officers, shall be of the light class, as defined by the State Board of Control, unless excepted by the Director of General Services on the basis of unusual requirements, such as use by the California Highway Patrol, which would justify the need for an automobile of a heavier class.

No general use mobile equipment having an original purchase price of $25,000 or more shall be rented or leased from a nonstate source and payment therefor made from any appropriation made by this act without the prior approval of the Department of General Services after a determination that comparable state-owned equipment is not available, unless obtaining such approval would endanger life or property, in which case the transaction and the justification for not having sought prior approval shall be reported immediately thereafter to the department. For purposes of this section, "general use mobile equipment" shall be deemed to refer to equipment that is listed in the Mobile Equipment Inventory of the State Equipment Council and which is capable of being used by more than one agency, and shall not be deemed to refer to such equipment having a practical use limited to the controlling agency only. Section 575 of the Vehicle Code shall have no application to this section.

SEC. 23. All passenger-type motor vehicles purchased either from any appropriation made by this act or from any other appropriation available therefor for the use of the Department of Transportation, except for use of officers excepted in Section 22 of this act, shall be of the light class, as defined by the State Board of Control, unless excepted by the Director of General Services on the basis of unusual requirements which would justify the need for an automobile of a heavier class.

No general use mobile equipment having an original purchase price of $25,000 or more shall be rented or leased from a nonstate source and payment therefor made from any appropriation made by this act to the Department of Transportation or from any other appropriation available therefor to the Department of Transportation without the prior approval of the Department of General Services after a determination that comparable state-owned equipment is not available, unless obtaining such approval would endanger life or property, in which case the transaction and the justification for not having sought prior approval shall be reported immediately thereafter to the department. For purposes of this section, "general use mobile equipment" shall be deemed to refer to equipment that is listed in the Mobile Equipment Inventory of the State Equipment Council and which is capable of being used by more than one agency, and shall not be deemed to refer to such equipment having a practical use limited to the controlling agency only. Section 575 of the Vehicle Code shall have no application to this section.

SEC. 24. None of the moneys appropriated by this act or for an expenditure which is supplemented from money appropriated by this act shall be used to purchase furnishings for any house, mobile home, or apartment of three or more rooms other than a dormitory which is rented to a state employee except for a superintendent of an institution, warden of a prison, or physicians. This provision shall not apply to the purchase of refrigerators, heaters, air-conditioning equipment, stoves, linoleum, or equipment normally furnished in construction of the house as may be determined by the State Board of Control. Any such funds that are appropriated by this act for this purpose shall be held intact and be reverted to the fund from which they were appropriated. It is the intent of the Legislature that no money shall be appropriated henceforth for the purpose of house furnishings. Such furnishings are not to be provided by the state nor shall any money be paid from this appropriation for their replacement, repair or otherwise except in connection with the disposal of the same.

SEC. 25. No moneys appropriated by this act shall be used, either directly or by supplementing any other appropriation, to purchase rugs or carpets for any state office except for offices used by elective officers, the President of the University of California, a Chancellor of the University of California, the Chancellor of the California State University and Colleges, a president of a state university or college, department heads and for other facilities or areas under the control of the agencies financed by this act in accordance with standards issued by the Director of General Services. The Director of General Services shall furnish a detailed report annually to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee of all rugs or carpets purchased for state facilities under this section.

Approval of the Director of General Services shall be obtained prior to procurement and installation of such materials. The Director of General Services may authorize the use of carpeting in other specialized facilities not meeting the established standards 30 days after notification in writing of the proposal with justification therefor to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee.

SEC. 26. Whenever herein an appropriation is made for support it shall include salaries and all other proper expenses, including repairs and equipment, incurred in connection with the institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee, or other agency, for which such appropriation is made.

Whenever herein an appropriation is made for capital outlay, it shall include acquisition of land or other real property, major construction, improvements, equipment, designs, working plans, specifications, repairs and equipment necessary in connection with a construction or improvement project.

Whenever herein any item of appropriation contains provisions for acquisition of land or other real property, it shall include all necessary expenses in connection with the acquisition of such property.

Whenever herein an appropriation is made in accordance with a schedule set forth after such appropriation, the expenditures from such item for each category or project included in the schedule shall be limited to the amount specified for such category or project, except as otherwise provided in this act. Each such schedule is a restriction or limitation upon the expenditure of the respective appropriation made by this act, does not itself appropriate any money, and is not itself an item of appropriation.

As used in this act in reference to such schedules "category" or "project" means a class of expenditures such as, but not limited to:

(a) "Personal services" which shall include all expenditures for payment of officers and employees of the state; including salaries and wages, workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation benefits, insurance premiums for workmen's compensation coverage, industrial disability leave and payments, the state's contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund, the Teachers' Retirement Fund, the University of California Retirement Fund to provide for that portion of retirement costs to be provided for Hastings College of Law in Item 359 of this Budget Act, the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Revolving Fund, the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund, and the state's cost of health benefits plans; but do not include compensation of independent contractors rendering personal services to the state under contract;

(b) "Operating expenses and equipment" which shall include all expenditures for purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, services (other than services of state officers and employees), and all other proper expenses;

(c) "Construct" or "construction" when used in connection with a capital outlay project shall include all such related things as fixtures, installed equipment, and auxiliary facilities;

(d) "Working drawings" are defined as a complete set of plans and specifications showing and describing all phases of a project, architectural, structural, mechanical, electrical, civil engineering, and landscaping systems to the degree necessary for the purposes of accurate bidding by contractors and for the use of artisans in constructing the project. All necessary professional fees and administrative service costs are included in the preparation of such drawings.

(e) "Minor projects" include construction, improvements, repairs and equipment projects not specifically set forth in the schedule.

For the purpose of further interpreting the meaning of the words, terms and phrases used in such schedules, reference is hereby made to those documents entitled, "State of California Governor's Budget for 1976–77," submitted by the Governor to the Legislature at the 1976 portion of the 1975–76 Regular Session, the uniform accounting system prescribed by the Department of Finance under the provisions of Section 13300 of the Government Code, and the appropriate portions thereof. The State Board of Control shall establish such interpretations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and shall furnish the same to the State Controller and to every state agency to whom appropriations are made under this act.

SEC. 26.5. Whenever herein an appropriation is made for support or other expenses for an institution, department, board, bureau, commission, officer, employee, or other agency, there shall be charged to such appropriation from which salaries and wages are paid: workmen's compensation, the state's contribution to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund as provided by Sections 20751 and 20752 of the Government Code, the state's contribution to the Teachers' Retirement Fund as provided by Sections 14050 and 14100 of the Education Code, the state's contribution to the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Revolving Fund as provided by Sections 20782 and 20783 of the Government Code, the state's contribution to the State Employees' Contingency Reserve Fund and the state's contribution for the cost of health benefits plans as provided by Sections 22828 and 22829 of the Government Code.

As of the effective date of this act, the state's contributions as provided by Sections 22828 and 22829 of the Government Code for any month shall be charged to the same appropriations used for payment of salaries and wages from which the employee premium contributions for such month are deducted.

The appropriations made by Sections 20751, 20752, 20782, 20783, 22828, and 22829 of the Government Code, by Sections 14050 and 14100 of the Education Code, shall continue to be available for expenditure, and shall be charged for any expenditure which is not chargeable to an appropriation for support or other expenses as provided in this section. This transfer may be chargeable to such appropriation for a previous fiscal year if there are no funds available from that fiscal year.

The State Controller may transfer to the State Payroll Revolving Fund the contributions required by Sections 20751, 20752, 20782, 20783, 22828, and 22829 of the Government Code, and upon certification by the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System in accordance with Sections 20754 and 20784 of the Government Code, may transfer from the State Payroll Revolving Fund to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund and the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance Revolving Fund the amounts of contributions so certified.

SEC. 26.7. Each item appropriating funds for salaries and wages includes the additional funds necessary to continue the payment of the amount of salaries in effect on June 30, 1976, for the state officers whose salaries are specified by statute.

SEC. 27. The Department of Finance may, pursuant to a request by the officer, department, division, bureau, board, commission, or other agency to whom an appropriation is made herein, authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for a category or project designated in any schedule set forth for such appropriation by transfer from any of the other designated categories or projects within the same schedule. The Department of Finance shall furnish the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a report on all authorizations given pursuant to this section during the preceding quarter.

Augmentations of amounts available for expenditure for a category or project designated in any line of any schedule for personal services or operating expenses and equipment set forth for such appropriation by transfer from any of the other designated categories or projects within the same schedule shall not exceed, during any fiscal year, 20 percent of the amount so scheduled on that line.

SEC. 28. The Director of Finance may authorize the augmentation of the amount available for expenditure for any category in the schedule set forth for any appropriation in this act or any additional category in the amount of any funds which he estimates will be received by an officer, department, division, bureau, or other agency during the 1976–77 fiscal year from any other state agency, from any agency of local government or the federal government, from any appropriation made by the Legislature or from any other source which he determines has not been taken into consideration in said schedule, or is in excess of the amount so taken into consideration, except that the director may authorize expenditures for a new program not identified in the budget as such or for purposes which in his judgment constitute an increase in the level of services above that authorized by the Budget Act or other existing law not sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefor to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of said committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

The Director of Finance may also reduce any category whenever he determines that funds to be received will be less than the amount taken into consideration in the schedule.

SEC. 28.1 The Regents of the University of California and the Trustees of the California State University and Colleges may not enter into a lease-purchase agreement with another entity, public or private, which involves building space, unless such agreement is reviewed and approved by the Legislature.

SEC. 28.2. The Director of General Services may not execute a lease agreement between the state and another entity, public or private, in which the state is lessee when the agreement is to be for the lease of a building or building space or both which will be for the occupancy of any agency or agencies of the state with a firm lease period of five years or longer and an annual rental in excess of $5,000 or if the agreement contains an option for the purchase of the lease property, or if the agreement concerns property in the County of Sacramento or the County of Yolo, unless not less than 30 days prior to its execution he notifies the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee or his designee in writing of his intention to execute such an agreement, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of said committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine, provided that no funds appropriated in this act may be encumbered or expended for any lease entered into on or after July 1, 1976, for office space in the County of Sacramento unless all solicitations for leases for office space in the County of Sacramento under these conditions shall contain the statement, "The state is anticipating capital construction in the City of Sacramento and intends to eventually reduce the use of space on a leased basis."

SEC. 28.3. The Department of Benefit Payments shall submit, by September 1, November 15, and April 15, to the Department of Finance for its approval, all assumptions underlying all estimates related to the (1) average monthly caseloads for each of the categorical aid programs, (2) average grant for each of the categorical aid programs, (3) total estimated expenditures for each of the categorical aid programs, and (4) savings or costs associated with all regulatory or statutory changes.

The State Department of Health shall submit, by September 1, November 15, and April 15, to the Department of Finance for its approval, all assumptions underlying all estimates related to (1) the average monthly caseload for the medically needy and medical indigent in the Medi-Cal Program, (2) the average cost for each category of service and each category of recipient, (3) total estimated expenditures for each category of service, and (4) savings or costs associated with all regulatory or statutory changes.

The Department of Finance shall approve or modify the assumptions underlying all estimates by September 15, December 1, and May 1. Failure on the part of the Department of Finance to approve or modify the assumptions by such date shall constitute acceptance by the Department of Finance of the assumptions as presented by the submitting department.

The estimates of average monthly caseload, average monthly grant, average cost of medical services, total estimated expenditures (including administrative expenditures and savings or costs associated with all regulatory or statutory changes), and a listing of all of the approved assumptions, as well as all supporting data provided by the Department of Benefit Payments and the State Department of Health or developed independently by the Department of Finance, shall be made available to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee immediately following approval by the Department of Finance. However, such departmental estimates, assumptions, and other supporting data as have been prepared shall be forwarded to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee not later than October 1, January 1, and May 15 by the Department of Benefit Payments in the event this information has not been released earlier.

SEC. 28.4. No funds appropriated by this act shall be encumbered or expended for the purpose of funding any increased local governmental costs arising from the issuance of an executive order subject to the provisions of Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, unless notification in writing of the necessity therefor is given at least 30 days before such encumbrance or expenditure is made to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee or such lesser time as the chairman of said committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

SEC. 28.5. Approvals by the Department of Finance to the creation of deficiencies pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code and approvals to expend at rates which, in the opinion of the Director of Finance, will require a deficiency appropriation shall be made in writing and filed with the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee. Such notices shall state the reason for and amount of such authorization and shall be filed prior to approval whenever possible and in no case shall they be filed more than 10 days after approval.

SEC. 28.6. The Director of Parks and Recreation may not negotiate or advertise any concession contract or operating lease or nongovernmental agreement which involves a total investment for any private party in excess of $100,000 or involves projected concessionaire gross receipts in excess of $100,000 on an annual basis under the terms of the proposed agreement unless not less than 30 days prior to such advertising date, the Director of Finance notifies the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee or his designee in writing of his intention to initiate advertising for such concession contract or agreement, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of such committee or his designee, may in each instance determine; provided, that the notification shall include a finding by the Director of Parks and Recreation and the Director of Finance that the concession contract or agreement cannot reasonably be presented to the Legislature through the annual budgeting process.

In addition, none of the access, picnic, restroom, or camping facilities constructed with funds appropriated by this act shall be operated pursuant to any new or existing concession agreement unless the justification for the appropriation presented to the Legislature has included such concession operation.

SEC. 28.7. The Regents of the University of California shall not undertake any project funded from the Health Sciences Hospital Reserve Fund, which is in excess of $100,000, unless the scope and cost of any such project is approved by the Director of Finance and 30 days' written notification is provided to the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee or his designee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of such committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine. Any project funded from the Health Sciences Hospital Reserve Fund, of less than $100,000, shall be reported to the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee by December 1 of each fiscal year. For purposes of this section the definition of a project does not include equipment projects. Any urgent project concerned with patient life or safety may proceed without prior approval or notification but such project shall be identified in the report provided each December 1.

SEC. 28.9. Since it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act that no qualified student be denied admission to the California State University and Colleges or to the University of California because of a budget deficiency caused by unanticipated additional enrollments, the Director of Finance may, following the adoption of a resolution by the Trustees of the California State University and Colleges or the Regents of the University of California declaring an enrollment emergency, authorize the accelerated expenditure of amounts budgeted for the state university and colleges or the university, in the form of an agreement to seek a supplementary appropriation from the General Fund to the extent necessary to ensure that all qualified students can be admitted when he certifies that the systemwide enrollment of the California State University and Colleges or of the University of California exceeds by 2 percent or more the enrollment upon which the budget for the state university and colleges or the university was based; provided, that no increased expenditure may exceed $5,000,000 in the aggregate or be authorized sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefor to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of such committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

In the event that the systemwide enrollment of the California State University and Colleges or University of California is under the budgeted enrollment by more than 2 percent, such excess shall be unallocated by the Director of Finance. Unallocated funds may be reallocated to preclude layoffs only after the Director of Finance has approved such action and shall not be authorized sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefore to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of such committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

SEC. 28.10. All appropriations for the support of the California State University and Colleges shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13320 of the Government Code and applicable Budget Act restrictions with the following exceptions:

(a) The trustees may transfer excess salary saving funds from the salary savings reserve allotments to expenditure allotments provided such transfers do not exceed 20 percent of salary saving. Excess salary savings funds are those in excess of the amount budgeted.

(b) The trustees may approve transfer of funds between one or more of the programs for which funds are appropriated for the support of the California State University and Colleges.

Any transfer of funds made under the above exceptions shall be reported to the Department of Finance and Joint Legislative Budget Committee within 30 days after the end of each quarter in which such transfer was approved.

SEC. 28.11. It is the intent of the Legislature and executive branch in enacting this act that the University of California teaching hospitals suffer no fiscal penalties in the 1976–77 fiscal year as a result of the Medicare cost reimbursement limits issued pursuant to the authority of paragraph (1) of subsection (v) of Section 1861 of the Social Security Act (para. (1), subsec. (v), Sec. 1395x, Title 42, U.S.C.) and the Medi-Cal program cost reimbursement limits issued pursuant to the authority of Sections 14105, 14106, and 14124.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and defined in Section 51508 of Title 22 of the California Administrative Code. Therefore, the Director of Finance may, following the adoption of a resolution by the Regents of the University of California declaring a teaching hospital fiscal emergency, authorize the accelerated expenditure, on a loan basis, of amounts budgeted for the university, in the form of an agreement to seek a supplementary appropriation from the General Fund to the extent of the equivalent dollar amount for the 1976–77 fiscal year, as is determined for each hospital, which is related to the difference in the reimbursement rates allowed by the Medicare and Medi-Cal programs and the reimbursement rates claimed by the University of California; provided, that the University of California will appeal for exceptions to these limits pursuant to procedures for requesting such appeals; provided further, that no increased expenditure may exceed $5,000,000 or be authorized sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefor is made to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than such lesser time as the chairman of such committee, or his designee, may in such instance determine.

Any funds provided under the authority of this section shall be repaid to the fund from which they were derived with the proceeds of the claims appealed, regardless of fiscal year, as decisions on cost reimbursement limits which gave rise to their authorization permit repayment of the loan. It is the intent of the Legislature that provisions for repayment of any loan balances shall be determined after the procedures for requesting appeals have been exhausted and all decisions are rendered. The university shall report annually in its budget on the status of such appeals.

SEC. 28.13. The sum of $25,000,000 is hereby appropriated from the General Fund for transfer to the University of California Teaching Hospital Revolving Fund, which is hereby created in the State Treasury and appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, to be used as working capital for teaching hospitals, University of California, exempt from Sections 925.6 and 12410 of the Government Code.

SEC. 29. Premiums for official bonds may be paid out of appropriations contained in this act, notwithstanding the period covered by such bonds.

SEC. 30. Whenever an expenditure is authorized from the Emergency Fund, from price increase funds, from employee benefits or special salary adjustments funds, from total equivalent compensation funds, from the salary increase funds, or from a special fund pursuant to Section 11006 of the Government Code, in addition to an appropriation made by this act, such authorized expenditures may, for accounting purposes, be deemed to be an augmentation and increase of the appropriation made by this act.

SEC. 31. The appropriations under this act, unless otherwise provided, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13320 of the Government Code requiring expenditures to be made in accordance with the allotments and other provisions of fiscal year budgets approved by the Department of Finance.

The fiscal year budget shall authorize in such manner as the Department of Finance shall prescribe all established positions whose continuance for the year is approved and all new positions. No new position shall be established unless authorized by the Department of Finance on the basis of work program and organization.

The Director of Finance, or his authorized designee, shall notify the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee within 30 days of authorizing any position not authorized for that fiscal year by the Legislature or any reclassification to a position with a minimum step of $1,350 or more per month. He shall also report all transfers to blanket authorizations and the establishment of any permanent position out of a blanket authorization.

All positions administratively established pursuant to this section during the 1976–77 fiscal year shall terminate on June 30, 1977, except that those positions which have been (a) included in the 1977–78 Governor's Budget as proposed new positions, or (b) approved by the Department of Finance and reported to the Legislature after the 1977–78 Governor's Budget submission to the Legislature, may be reestablished by the Department of Finance during the 1977–78 fiscal year, provided such positions are shown in the 1978–79 proposed Governor's Budget submitted to the Legislature, or in subsequent Department of Finance letters to the Legislature, and provided, such positions do not result in establishment of positions deleted by the Legislature through the 1977–78 budget process.

Each fiscal year budget shall provide for a salary savings reserve to which shall be transferred on a document initiated by the agency and submitted to the Department of Finance the unencumbered balance remaining in each allotment for salaries and wages at the close of each quarter or other period of time covered by the allotment. The unencumbered balance remaining in each budget allotment for salaries and wages shall be computed by deducting from the amount of the allotment the expenditures and accrued obligations for salaries and wages chargeable to such allotment for the period covered thereby. The amount in the salary savings reserve shall not be available for expenditure except upon transfer to allotments for salaries and wages approved by the Department of Finance. Such transfer shall be approved only after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance that the allotment to be augmented is insufficient to meet necessary expenditures for salaries and wages.

No money in any salary savings reserve may be expended to pay increases in salary ranges established after July 1, 1975, unless the Department of Finance certifies to the State Personnel Board, or other salary-fixing authority, prior to the adoption of such increased salary range that funds will be made available to pay the increased salaries resulting therefrom. Provided, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to salaries fixed by the State Personnel Board based on prevailing rates pursuant to Government Code Section 18853.

A certification on a payroll claim that expenditures therein are in accordance with current budgetary provisions as approved by the Department of Finance shall be sufficient evidence to the State Controller that such expenditures comply with the provisions of this section.

Each agency, department, board, commission, and institution, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, shall certify to the Director of Finance that its expenditures have been made for the purposes stated in the budget, as implemented by the Budget Act, except as the purposes stated have been revised, in accordance with law, by the Department of Finance subsequent to the enactment of the Budget Act.

SEC. 32. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, are expressly forbidden to make any expenditures in excess of such appropriations, except the consent of the Department of Finance be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by the director of said department, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by the State Controller nor paid out of any state appropriation. Any member of any such department, board, commission or institution, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the consent of the Department of Finance and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

The Department of Finance shall submit copies of certificates approved by it under this section to the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, and the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations, quarterly, and shall indicate in the case of each certificate the code section or section of this act under which the department gave its consent to exceed the particular appropriation.

SEC. 32.2. The Director of Finance may direct the transfer of such unexpended balances of appropriations and of other funds available for use in connection with any function or agency affected by a reorganization plan submitted to the Legislature pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 12080) of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code when the plan becomes effective pursuant to Section 12080.5 of the Government Code, as he deems necessary by reason of the reorganization, for use in connection with the functions affected by the reorganization, or for the use of the agency which has such functions after the reorganization plan is effective; provided that, unexpended balances so transferred shall be used only for the purpose for which the appropriation was originally made.

SEC. 32.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any appropriation of state funds made in the Welfare and Institutions Code for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children Programs expenditures of state funds for those programs for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1977, shall not exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of $573,836,000.

The Department of Benefit Payments shall administer the public assistance programs so that the counties will bear no more than the amount of welfare costs that they would be obligated to bear under the applicable provisions of the Welfare and Institutions Code, without the expenditure limitations set forth herein, and so that the amount authorized to be expended under this section shall fully cover the state's share of aid payments and for services under such programs for the 1976–77 fiscal year.

The limitations on amounts imposed by this section shall apply to any amounts which are determined by the Director of Finance to be necessary to meet increases in cost arising out of approvals made by the Department of Finance pursuant to the provisions contained in Item 300, provided the Legislature is notified pursuant to the provisions of Section 28 of the Budget Act of 1976.

Provided further, that the Director of Finance is authorized to approve expenditures in those amounts made necessary by changes in either caseload or payments, or any change in rule or regulation adopted during the current fiscal year which are in excess of Budget Bill estimates for 1976–77.

Further provided, that any increase related to changes in a rule or regulation shall be limited to the minimum amount needed to reimburse counties for increased costs due to such changes when such regulation changes have been approved in advance by the Department of Finance.

If the Director of Finance determines during the third quarter that the estimate of expenditures will exceed the authorized expenditure in this section, he shall so report to the Legislature prior to the end of the third quarter. At such time as a report is made, the amount of the limitation shall be increased by the amount of such excess unless and until otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 32.9. No expenditure for park furnishings shall be made from any appropriation contained in this act for use by the Department of Parks and Recreation unless the department has made reasonable efforts to acquire such furnishings on a consolidated procurement basis. The department shall provide reasonable demonstration of such consolidated procurement to the Public Works Board and the Office of Procurement of the Department of General Services before the board and office authorize an expenditure or approve procurement.

SEC. 33. If any item of appropriation in this act is vetoed, eliminated, or reduced by the Governor under Section 10 of Article IV of the Constitution, while approving portions of this act, such veto, elimination, or reduction shall not affect the other portions of this act, and these other portions of this act, so approved, shall have the same effect in law as if any vetoed or eliminated items of appropriation had not been present in this act, and as if any reduced item of appropriation had not been reduced.

SEC. 34. If any portion of this act is held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of any other portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each portion thereof, irrespective of the fact that any other portion be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 34.5. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state, shall, under the provisions of Section 8 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

SEC. 35. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act makes appropriation for support of state and local government for the 1976–77 fiscal year and provides for capital outlay appropriations, in continuation of existing programs and to promote and sustain the economy of the state. It is imperative that such appropriations be available for expenditure commencing not later than July 1, 1976. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

An act to amend Sections 6750.1, 17301, 17303.5, 18060, and 18102.6 of, and to add Section 6820.5 to, the Education Code, relating to special education, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 2, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 2, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6750.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

6750.1. (a) The education of educationally handicapped pupils who are diagnosed as being autistic shall be provided all eligible pupils between 6 and 21 years of age, and may be provided eligible pupils between the ages of 3 and 6 years, in the manner set forth in this chapter.

(b) The governing board of any elementary or unified school district which has an average daily attendance of 8,000 or more in the elementary schools of the district, or any high school district which has an average daily attendance of 8,000 or more shall provide for the education, in special education classes or programs, of autistic pupils residing in the district who are not in attendance upon other special education classes or programs.

(c) The county superintendent of schools shall provide special education classes or programs for autistic pupils who reside in the county and in elementary or unified school districts which have an average daily attendance of less than 8,001 in the elementary schools of the district, or who reside in the county and in a unified or high school district which has an average daily attendance of less than 8,001. The classes and programs shall be established at centrally located places, and the county superintendent of schools shall provide transportation to the pupils attending them. A county superintendent of schools, required to provide for the education in special schools or classes of autistic pupils residing in the district who come within the provisions of this section, may with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction enter into an agreement with an elementary, unified, or high school district for the latter to provide for the education of such autistic pupils.

(d) The State Board of Education shall adopt rules and regulations which shall prescribe standards for special education programs for autistic pupils. Such rules and regulations shall ensure that no county has more than four autistic pupils enrolled in special education classes or programs for autistic pupils per 10,000 average daily attendance. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may waive the number of autistic pupils allowed to be served within each county if he determines that such waiver is necessary to meet the exceptional needs of autistic pupils.

SEC. 1.5. Section 6820.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6820.5. Any regional occupation program or center providing classes for severely handicapped students approved pursuant to Section 7451.7 may be supervised by a person holding a valid special education credential which authorizes the person to teach such students.

SEC. 2. Section 17301 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17301. (a) The State Controller shall, during each fiscal year, transfer from the General Fund of the state to that portion of the State School Fund restricted for elementary and high school purposes, hereinafter called Section A of the State School Fund such sums, in addition to the sums accruing from other sources, as shall provide in Section A of the State School Fund for apportionment during the fiscal year a total amount per pupil in average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state, as certified by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, of one hundred eighty dollars ($180).

(b) The Controller shall also transfer, as needed during each fiscal year, such additional amounts from the General Fund to Section A of the State School Fund as are certified from time to time by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to be necessary to meet actual computed apportionments from Section A of the State School Fund for the purposes set forth in Section 17303.5; provided that the total of such additional amounts transferred in a fiscal year shall not exceed, except pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, two hundred fourteen dollars and sixty-four cents ($214.64) for the fiscal year 1976–77 and fiscal years thereafter, per pupil in average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state, as certified by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, less the amount, if any, by which seventy-nine cents ($0.79) multiplied by the number of units of average daily attendance credited during the preceding fiscal year to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state exceeds twenty-one dollars and fifty cents ($21.50) multiplied by the total average daily attendance credited during the preceding school year to elementary school districts which during the preceding school year had less than 901 units of average daily attendance, to high school districts which during the preceding school year had less than 301 units of average daily attendance, and to unified districts which during the preceding school year had less than 1,501 units of average daily attendance.

(c) In addition to the amounts authorized to be transferred to Section A of the State School Fund under subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section, the Controller shall transfer from the General Fund to Section A of the State School Fund during the fiscal year, upon certification of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, if necessary to meet actual computed apportionments for the fiscal year for the purposes set forth in Sections 17303 and 17303.5, an amount not to exceed the lesser of: (1) one percent of the total apportionment from Section A of the State School Fund in the preceding fiscal year for the purposes set forth in Sections 17303 and 17303.5, or (2) the net amount, if any, by which the total amounts authorized to be transferred from the General Fund to Section A of the State School Fund under subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section in prior fiscal years have exceeded the total amounts actually apportioned in prior fiscal years for the purposes set forth in Sections 17303 and 17303.5.

(d) He shall also transfer to Section A of the State School Fund any additional amounts appropriated thereto by the Legislature in augmentation of any of the amounts prescribed for any of the purposes set forth in Sections 17303 and 17303.5 and such additional amounts shall be allowed and apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and warrants therefor drawn by the Controller in the manner provided in Articles 1 (commencing with Section 17300), 2 (commencing with Section 17351), and 3 (commencing with Section 17401) of this chapter, in Sections 11256 and 17251, and in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 17601) of this division.

(e) Commencing with the 1974–75 fiscal year, the unit amounts under subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section shall be considered to be cumulatively increased or decreased, as the case may be, by an amount equal to the percentage increase or decrease of the statewide ratio of assessed valuation per unit of kindergarten through grade 12 statewide average daily attendance, excluding defined adults, using in such ratios the data for the preceding year compared with the second preceding year.

For the 1974–75 fiscal year, each elementary and high school foundation program shall be increased by sixty dollars ($60) except that if the percentage increase of the statewide ratio of assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance in kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, determined in subdivision (e) is less than seven, the sixty dollars ($60) shall be reduced proportionately, but to no less than fifty dollars ($50).

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall prepare a report for the Legislature, to be submitted by December 1, 1976, which shall show the most current trends in costs for school districts, equalization of school district expenditures per average daily attendance, equalizations of property taxation for schools, adequacy levels in expenditures per average daily attendance, school enrollment, assessed valuations, assessed valuation per average daily attendance, and general cost changes in the state for the purpose of giving the Legislature information that the Legislature may use to enact new provisions about increases or decreases in the foundation programs for public school support.

(f) The amounts transferred pursuant to this section shall include the amounts required to be transferred by Section 16130 of the Government Code, exclusive of the amounts required to be transferred pursuant to Section 16130 of the Government Code for the educational need factor and the Early Childhood Educational Program (Chapter 1147, Statutes of 1972).

SEC. 3. Section 17303.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17303.5. The amount transferred to Section A of the State School Fund pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 17301 and Section 17301.5 shall be expended in accordance with the following schedule:

(a) Twenty-one dollars and fifty cents ($21.50) multiplied by the total average daily attendance credited during the preceding school year to elementary school districts which during the preceding school year had less than 901 units of average daily attendance, to high school districts which during the preceding school year had less than 301 units of average daily attendance, and to unified districts which during the preceding school year had less than 1,501 units of average daily attendance, but not to exceed an amount equal to seventy-nine cents ($0.79) multiplied by the average daily attendance credited during the preceding fiscal year to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state, for allowances to county school service funds pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 18352.

(b) Seven dollars and eighteen cents ($7.18) multiplied by the total average daily attendance credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state, during the preceding school year for the purposes of Article 10 (commencing with Section 18051) of Chapter 3 of this division.

(c) Twenty-four dollars and sixty-eight cents ($24.68) multiplied by the total average daily attendance credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state, during the preceding school year, for the purposes of Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 6801), Chapter 8.2 (commencing with Section 6870), Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 6901), of Division 6, and Sections 18060, 18062, 18104, and 18105.

(d) Three dollars and forty-four cents ($3.44) multiplied by the total average daily attendance credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state during the preceding school year for allowances to county school service funds pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 18352.

(e) Two dollars and seventy-three cents ($2.73) multiplied by the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state for allowances to school districts for the purposes of Section 6426.

(f) One hundred sixty dollars and ninety-nine cents ($160.99) multiplied by the average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state during the preceding school year for basic aid, equalization aid, allowances for adults, and allowances to the county school tuition funds to be apportioned on account of average daily attendance. The amount expended pursuant to this subdivision shall be annually revised to reflect the adjustment prescribed by subdivision (e) of Section 17301.

(g) Fourteen dollars and forty-three cents ($14.43) multiplied by the average daily attendance during the preceding school year credited to all elementary, high, and unified school districts and to all county superintendents of schools in the state for purposes of Chapter 7.1 (commencing with Section 6750) of Division 6.

SEC. 4. Section 18060 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18060. (a) In addition to all other amounts allowed to a school district under this article, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district for transporting blind, deaf, aphasic, orthopedic or other health-impaired, and other physically impaired pupils handicapped in mobility, mentally retarded pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6903, autistic pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6750.1, and multihandicapped pupils, to and from special day classes, three hundred eighty-nine dollars ($389) for each unit of average daily attendance of such pupils during the fiscal year resulting from the attendance of such pupils on the special day classes to and from which they are transported by the district.

In addition to all other amounts allowed to a school district under this article, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district for transporting deaf, severely hard-of-hearing, blind, deaf-blind, or other multihandicapped pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6812.5, to and from experimental programs approved by him, three hundred eighty-nine dollars ($389) for each unit of average daily attendance of such pupils during the fiscal year resulting from the attendance of such minor pupils in the experimental programs to and from which they are transported by the district.

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund of each county for transporting blind, deaf, aphasic, orthopedic or other health-impaired, and other physically impaired pupils handicapped in mobility, mentally retarded pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6903, autistic pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6750.1, and multihandicapped pupils, to and from special day classes, three hundred eighty-nine dollars ($389) for each unit of average daily attendance during the fiscal year resulting from the attendance of such pupils on the special day classes to and from which they are transported by the county superintendent of schools.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to the county school service fund of each county for transporting deaf, severely hard-of-hearing, blind, deaf-blind, or other multihandicapped pupils who come within the provisions of Section 6812.5, to and from experimental programs approved by him, three hundred eighty-nine dollars ($389) for each unit of average daily attendance of such pupils during the fiscal year resulting from the attendance of such pupils in the experimental programs to and from which they are transported by the county superintendent of schools.

(c) For each school district and county superintendent of schools furnishing transportation pursuant to subdivision (a) or subdivision (b) under circumstances requiring the operation of vehicles exclusively for such purpose, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow under each such subdivision 75 percent of any expense in excess of three hundred eighty-nine dollars ($389), but the additional allowance shall not exceed seventy-three dollars ($73), per unit of average daily attendance of such pupils. Such amount shall be allowed as a part of the second principal apportionment upon special request made therefor to, and upon approval by, the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(d) As used in this section, "physically impaired pupils handicapped in mobility" means those pupils who are deemed eligible for special class placement as defined by the State Board of Education.

(e) If the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that the current expense of providing transportation under this section does not equal or exceed the allowance provided for such purpose, then the amount of the deficiency shall be withheld from state apportionments to the school district or the county superintendent of schools, as the case may be, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Section 17414. Such amounts withheld shall then be apportioned, on a pro rata basis against the expenses, to those districts which maintain and operate vehicles exclusively for the transportation of handicapped pupils. In no case shall any district receive an amount greater than its total current expense in providing such transportation.

SEC. 5. Section 18102.6 of the Education Code is amended to read:

18102.6. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each school district or county superintendent of schools for the education of educationally handicapped pupils in special classes during the current fiscal year an amount computed as follows:

(a) He shall divide the average daily attendance in each particular class size category by the maximum class size established for each particular class size category, and increase the quotient to the next highest integer where a fractional amount is produced.

(b) He shall then determine for each particular class size category the product of the amount computed under subdivision (a) multiplied by the maximum class size established by law for special day classes for the particular category.

(c) He shall then multiply the amount computed under subdivision (b) by the following amount of the particular level and category:

Category	Elementary grades (K–8)	High school grades (9–12)	Community college grades (13–14)
Educationally handicapped
Class-size maximum of 12	$1,000	$870	$710
Autistic
Class-size maximum of 6	$4,500	$4,315	$4,245

SEC. 6. Allowances authorized by Section 18060 may be paid retroactively to July 1, 1975, based on reports of actual costs from school districts and county superintendents of schools.

SEC. 7. If this act is chaptered after the Budget Act of 1976, in lieu of the amounts specified by subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 17301 of the Education Code as amended by this act, and in lieu of the amounts appropriated by subdivision (a) of Item 332 of the Budget Act of 1976, there is hereby appropriated for transfer by the State Controller during the 1976–77 fiscal year from the General Fund in the State Treasury to Section A of the State School Fund, such sums as needed, in addition to the sums accruing to Section A of the State School Fund from other sources, as shall provide in Section A of State School Fund for apportionment pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 17151), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 17300), and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 17601), of Division 14 of the Education Code, during the 1975–76 fiscal year, an amount not to exceed four hundred fifty-six dollars and twenty cents ($456.20) per pupil in average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year credited to all kindergarten, elementary, high school, and adult schools in the state and to the county school tuition funds, as certified by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Except with respect to paragraph (7) of subdivision (b), this section is not intended to supersede subdivisions (b) to (h), inclusive, of Item 332 of the Budget Act of 1976.

The amount specified in paragraph (7) of subdivision (b) of Item 332 shall be adjusted by sixty-eight cents ($0.68) to provide for the apportionment of amounts transferred to Section A of the State School Fund during the 1976–77 fiscal year by this act.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Chapter 1527 of the Statutes of 1974, effective July 1, 1975, failed to provide sufficient funding to operate classes for autistic children who require greater adult-pupil ratio than most special education programs and failed to provide permission to operate programs for pupils below the age of 5 years 9 months where the most effective programs can make a difference to long-term educational programs. In order that these essential aspects of the programs may be included at the commencement of such programs, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 322

An act to add Sections 1232.2, 1232.3, and 1232.4 to the Government Code, relating to continuation of state government, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 2, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 2, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1232.2 is added to the Government Code, to read:

1232.2. On or after June 30, 1976, no state officer or employee shall be deemed to have a break in service or to have terminated his employment, for any purpose, nor to have incurred any change in his authority, status, or jurisdiction or in his salary or other conditions of employment, solely because of the failure to enact a Budget Bill for the 1976–1977 fiscal year prior to the end of the preceding fiscal year.

Every person who entered state service between June 30, 1976, and the effective date of the Budget Bill for the 1976–1977 fiscal year shall be deemed a state officer or employee, as the case may be, from the time he entered state service until that date, notwithstanding the failure to enact a Budget Bill for the 1976–1977 fiscal year prior to his entry into service.

SEC. 2. Section 1232.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

1232.3. Funds from each appropriation made in the Budget Act of 1976 may be expended to pay such salary adjustments as are authorized by salary-fixing authorities to provide an increase in the compensation for officers and employees during the month of July 1976 to provide compensation equivalent to that which they would have otherwise received had the Budget Act of 1976 been adopted prior to July 1, 1976.

SEC. 3. Section 1232.4 is added to the Government Code, to read:

1232.4. Funds from each appropriation made in the Budget Act of 1976 may be expended to pay any obligation incurred between the commencement of the 1976–1977 fiscal year and the effective date of the Budget Act of 1976, which would otherwise have been authorized by the Budget Act of 1976 had that act been adopted prior to July, 1976, subject to the same limitations, conditions, and requirements.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The failure to enact a Budget Bill at the 1975–76 Regular Session of the Legislature has created serious question regarding the continuity of employment of state personnel, and it is therefore essential that this act take immediate effect.

higher than 2, the resulting figure shall be deemed to be 2, and if the resulting figure is lower than 0.9 no entitlement shall be computed for such a district, unless the district had an average daily attendance in excess of 60,000 for the 1972–73 school year and has more than 8,000 pupils receiving aid for dependent children, in which case the resulting figure shall be deemed to be 0.9; (2) the number of pupils receiving aid for dependent children support; and (3) a constant amount of three hundred dollars ($300), or such amount as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may determine so that the sum of all allocations will not exceed the funds appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of this chapter.

In determining the amount of state aid to be apportioned for defined adults, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall use the actual average daily attendance of other than defined adults in the divisor of the defined adult apportionment formula for purposes of determining the defined adult unit rate.

(3) If funds remain after the apportionment of state aid pursuant to this subdivision because some programs do not expand to 105 percent of the 1974–75 second principal apportionment average daily attendance, such funds may be apportioned to school districts and county superintendents of schools for programs which will exceed the apportionment limit or for programs specified in subdivision (c).

(e) For purposes of apportionments for pupils enrolled in regional occupational centers, and regional occupational programs, adult classes and summer school programs, in the 1975–76 fiscal year, no attendance shall be credited for absences for any reason, including illness in such programs, except where a pupil is enrolled concurrently in a regional occupation center and a regular high school program or a regional occupation program and a regular high school program.

(f) This section shall not be interpreted to impose a limitation upon enrollment.

(g) No amount shall be expended for the purposes specified in subdivision (c) unless the programs for which such expenditures are made are approved pursuant to Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 7450) of Division 6 of and Division 29 (commencing with Section 45000).

The amount withheld per unit of average daily attendance shall be determined by dividing the total amount of basic state aid and state equalization aid computed for the district of residence of such pupils by the total resident average daily attendance of the district.

The Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall add the amount withheld to the apportionment required to be made to the community college district maintaining the community college at which the pupils were in attendance.

SEC. 32. Section 17601.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17601.1. For the purposes of this chapter, the governing board of each school district and community college district shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction or chancellor, as appropriate, during each fiscal year the average daily attendance of the district for all full school months during (1) the period between July 1st and December 31st, inclusive, to be known as the "first period" report for the first principal apportionment, and (2) the period between July 1st and April 15th, inclusive, to be known as the "second period" report for the second principal apportionment. The county superintendent of schools shall report the average daily attendance for the schools and classes maintained by him and the average daily attendance for the county school tuition fund. If the average daily attendance in the regular day schools of a district for the period of time between July 1 and June 30 is greater or lesser than the average daily attendance in the regular day schools reported for the second period report, the appropriate increases and decreases in the several categories of attendance for which separate foundation programs are required to be computed shall be recomputed on the basis of the foundation program and assessed valuation of the district of the fiscal year in which such increases and decreases in average daily attendance were applicable and the appropriate increases and decreases in apportionments shall be added or withheld in the next succeeding fiscal year pursuant to Section 17414.

Each report shall be prepared in accordance with instructions on forms prescribed and furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and average daily attendance shall be computed in the following manner:

(a) The average daily attendance in the regular elementary, junior high, and high schools maintained by the school districts shall be determined by dividing the total number of days of attendance allowed in all full school months in each period, by the number of days such schools are actually taught in all full school months in each period, exclusive of Saturdays or Sundays.

With the exception of days of attendance in special day classes convened, or other instruction provided a pupil for days in a school year which are in excess of the number of days in the school year on which the regular day schools of a district are convened, if the average daily attendance in schools and classes maintained by school districts other than regular day schools and classes for the period of time between July 1 and June 30 is greater or lesser than the average daily attendance in such schools and classes reported for the second period report, the separate state support which is provided for attendance in such schools and classes shall be recomputed on the basis of the fiscal year average daily attendance, and increases and decreases in apportionments shall be added or withheld in the next succeeding fiscal year pursuant to Section 17414.

(b) The average daily attendance of each community college shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 11475). For community colleges under the provisions of this paragraph, the "first period" shall be the summer session and the fall semester for semester-system colleges, the summer and fall quarter for colleges on the three-quarter system, and the summer and fall quarters for colleges on the four-quarter system. The "second period" shall be the "academic year" which is the summer session plus the first and second semester for semester-system colleges, the summer session plus the first and second quarters for three-quarter-system colleges, and the summer, fall, and winter quarters for four-quarter-system colleges.

The "academic year" for three- or four-quarter-system colleges is reported on the annual report and adjustments shall be made as set forth in the first paragraph of this section.

(c) The average daily attendance in summer school and outdoor science and conservation education classes maintained during the period between the last day the regular day schools are in session during the preceding year and the first day the regular day schools are in session during the current year shall be reported on both the first period and second period reports. Such average daily attendance shall be computed by dividing the days of attendance allowed by 175. For community colleges, the hours of attendance shall be divided by 525 for all classes of less than four weeks duration. For summer sessions of four weeks or more, average daily attendance shall be computed as provided in Section 11475.

(d) The attendance for schools and classes maintained by the county superintendent of schools and for the county school tuition fund credited after the last full school month of the second period of the preceding year and prior to the end of each reporting period shall be reported on each report. The average daily attendance of the school, class, or fund shall be determined for the first period by dividing the days of attendance allowed by 100 and for the second period, the days of attendance allowed shall be divided by 175.

(e) The days of attendance in classes for adults, continuation schools and classes, regional occupation centers and opportunity schools and classes maintained after the last full school month of the second period of the preceding year and prior to the end of each reporting period shall be reported on each report. The average daily attendance in such schools and classes shall be determined for the first period by dividing the days of attendance allowed by 100; for the second period, the days of attendance allowed shall be divided by 175 for kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive.

SEC. 33. Section 17611 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17611. For the purposes of computation of allowances and apportionments from the State School Fund, whenever computations of apportionments based on average daily attendance are made for community college districts only the attendance in all classes which have been reported as attached to, or as a part of, a community college which maintains grades 13 and 14 shall be included.

SEC. 34. Section 17651 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17651. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compute for each elementary, high school, and unified district the appropriate amount of a foundation program of school support therefor, in the manner prescribed by this article, using the dollar amounts contained in the various sections of this article which apply.

SEC. 35. Section 17666.2 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 36. Section 17667 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17667. Each computation required by this article for high school districts shall be made after excluding from the average daily attendance for the fiscal year the average daily attendance of adults, as adults are defined in Section 5756, and the average daily attendance in classes for inmates of any state penal institution for adults or of any city, county, or city and county jail, road camp or farm for adults during the fiscal year.

SEC. 38. Section 17668.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

17668.6. The chancellor's office of the California Community Colleges each year shall compute an amount of state aid in support of Community College State Teachers' Retirement contributions determined as follows:

(a) Compute an amount to be known as district aid which a tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of 100 percent of the assessed valuation in such district as shown by the equalized assessment role of the district for the current year as modified pursuant to Section 17262 would produce if levied if such tax was one and six-tenths cents ($0.016) in the 1976–77 fiscal year and an additional two-tenths of one cent ($0.002) in each fiscal year thereafter to a maximum of two cents ($0.02).

(b) Compute an amount to be known as the Foundation Program by multiplying the average daily attendance of such community college district by thirty-two dollars ($32) for the 1976–77 fiscal year and an additional four dollars ($4) in each fiscal year thereafter to a maximum of forty dollars ($40).

(c) Subtract the result of subdivision (a) from the result of subdivision (b) for such district the difference to be known as state aid for the State Teachers' Retirement increase.

Further, the chancellor's office of the California Community Colleges shall identify to each community college district the amount of increased state aid granted under this section which shall be used as a limitation on the taxes that may be levied and collected annually under the provisions of Section 14111 of the Education Code.

SEC. 38.1. Section 17668.8 is added to the Education Code, to read:

17668.8. For the fiscal year 1976–77, and each fiscal year thereafter in the event that the allowances provided pursuant to Section 17668.5 plus the revenue derived by the tax authorized by Section 14111 is not sufficient to fund the school district liability pursuant to Section 14100, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow to each elementary school district, high school district, and unified school district, amounts as determined as follows:

(a) He shall determine what rate of tax levied on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the district as shown by the equalized assessment roll of the district, hereinafter referred to as the computed tax rate, would, if levied, produce such amount. If the computed tax rate is:

(1) In the case of a unified school district greater than fifteen cents ($0.15) but less than twenty-four cents ($0.24) he shall pay to the district all of the balance in excess of fifteen cents ($0.15).

(2) In the case of a high school district greater than five cents ($0.05) but less than eight cents ($0.08), he shall pay all of the balance in excess of five cents ($0.05).

(3) In the case of an elementary school district greater than ten cents ($0.10) but less than sixteen cents ($0.16), he shall pay all of the balance in excess of ten cents ($0.10).

(b) If the amount computed in subdivision (a) is still not sufficient to pay the contribution required pursuant to Section 14100, then the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allow such amounts in excess of the computed tax rates which:

(1) In the case of a unified school district, he shall pay 50 percent of that amount required in excess of the computed tax rate of twenty-four cents ($0.24) but less than thirty-six cents ($0.36).

(2) In the case of a high school district, he shall pay 50 percent of the computed tax rate required in excess of eight cents ($0.08) but less than twelve cents ($0.12).

(3) In the case of an elementary school district, he shall pay 50 percent of the computed tax rate required in excess of sixteen cents ($0.16) but less than twenty-four cents ($0.24).

(c) If the amount computed in subdivision (b) is still not sufficient to pay the contribution required pursuant to Section 14100, then he shall pay 60 percent of all amounts required in excess of the computed tax rate in subdivision (b).

SEC. 38.2. Section 17669 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17669. (a) For the 1976-77 fiscal year, each elementary foundation program shall be increased by one hundred three dollars ($103) and each high school foundation program shall be increased by one hundred four dollars ($104).

(b) For the 1977–78 fiscal year, the increase in elementary and high school foundation programs shall be the prior year's percentage change in the index of "Government Purchases of Goods and Services, State and Local," but no less than 6 percent nor greater than 8 percent, times an amount which is determined as follows: (1) Multiply the unit elementary school foundation program for unified districts which have an elementary average daily attendance of 901 or more by the elementary foundation program units of average daily attendance of unified districts with 901 or more elementary average daily attendance, plus (2) multiply the unit high school foundation program for unified districts which have a high school average daily attendance of 301 or more, by the average daily attendance of unified school districts with 301 or more high school daily attendance, and (3) divide the results by the sum of the average daily attendance in unified districts with 901 or more elementary average daily attendance plus the average daily attendance in unified districts with 301 or more high school average daily attendance.

(c) For the 1978–79 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter, and if the Legislature does not provide otherwise, the increase in elementary and high school foundation programs shall be 6 percent times an amount which is determined as follows: (1) multiply the unit elementary school foundation program for unified districts which have an elementary average daily attendance of 901 or more by the elementary foundation program units of average daily attendance of unified districts with 901 or more elementary average daily attendance, plus (2) multiply the unit high school foundation program for unified districts which have a high school average daily attendance of 301 or more, by the average daily attendance of unified school districts with 301 or more high school average daily attendance, and (3) divide the result by the sum of the average daily attendance in unified districts with 901 or more elementary average daily attendance plus the average daily attendance in unified districts with 301 or more high school average daily attendance.

SEC. 40. Section 17851 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 41. Section 17904 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 42. Section 17951 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17951. The allowance for each unit of average daily attendance during the 1976–77 fiscal year for adults, as adults are defined in Section 5756, for high school districts shall be the adult foundation program of eight hundred sixty-two dollars ($862) less the product of one dollar ($1) multiplied by each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the district, as modified pursuant to Section 17262, per unit of total regular high school average daily attendance plus adult average daily attendance.

For each subsequent fiscal year, the foundation program for adults in high schools for the previous fiscal year shall be increased by the same percentage increase by which the high school foundation program is increased.

SEC. 43. Section 17951.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

17951.1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine the amount of state equalization aid to be added to the regular high school foundation program apportionments for each school district with adult average daily attendance in the 1976–77 fiscal year as follows:

He shall determine the adult average daily attendance used in computing state aid under the high school foundation program in the 1975–76 fiscal year and compute the 1976–77 fiscal year equalization aid according to the high school foundation program for the 1976–77 fiscal year using that 1975–76 fiscal year average daily attendance.

He shall recompute the equalization aid to the high school foundation program with the adult average daily attendance excluded and shall determine the loss of equalization aid due to excluding adult average daily attendance. To this amount he shall add the state allowance for defined adults in the 1975–76 fiscal year. He shall compute the state equalization aid for adults pursuant to Section 17951 and shall deduct this amount from the sum of the state allowance for defined adults in the 1975–76 fiscal year and the loss of equalization aid due to excluding adults from the high school foundation program. The remainder shall be added to the equalization aid for the high school foundation program for that district in the 1976–77 fiscal year. In each subsequent fiscal year the same calculation shall be used, using that year's adult average daily attendance, up to, but not to exceed, the adult average daily attendance used in computing the high school foundation program in the 1975–76 fiscal year.

In order to be eligible for increased state aid computed according to this section, each school district may count no more than the adult average daily attendance as used in determining state equalization aid under the high school foundation program in the 1975–76 fiscal year.

SEC. 44. Section 17970 of the Education Code is amended to read:

17970. For each fiscal year, the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall allow to each community college district for each unit of average daily attendance of pupils not residing in the district and not residing in any district maintaining a community college, one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125) as basic state aid.

There shall be excluded from the computation of allowances provided by this section the average daily attendance of inmates of any state penal institution for adults or of any city, county, or city and county jail, road camp, or farm for adults; unless the inmate is attending a community college class or program pursuant to Section 2690 of the Penal Code, in which case such attendance shall be included.

(a) If the total units of average daily attendance for a community college district computed pursuant to Sections 11475 to 11487, inclusive, for the 1976–77 fiscal year second principal apportionment is equal to or greater than the total units of average daily attendance computed pursuant to Sections 11475 to 11501, inclusive, for the 1975–76 fiscal year second principal apportionment, the chancellor's office of the California Community Colleges shall apportion state aid to the district for its 1975–76 fiscal year level of student attendance in accordance with subdivision (b) if the total units of average daily attendance are greater than 3,000, and subdivision (d) otherwise, and shall apportion additional state aid to the district for growth in student attendance between the 1975–76 fiscal year and the 1976–77 fiscal year in accordance with subdivision (c) if the total units of average daily attendance are greater than 3,000, and subdivision (e) otherwise.

(b) For each community college district with more than 3,000 units of average daily attendance, the state apportionment for its 1975–76 fiscal year level of student attendance shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the amount of the 1975–76 fiscal year second principal apportionment to the district for student attendance computed pursuant to Sections 11475 to 11501, inclusive.

(2) Multiply the amount determined in (1) by 0.06 times the equalization factor for the district determined pursuant to subdivision (f).

The result of this computation shall be the state apportionment to the district in the 1976–77 fiscal year for the growth in its student attendance between the 1975–76 fiscal year and the 1976–77 fiscal year. In no case shall this amount be less than one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125) times the increase in the total units of average daily attendance for the district determined in step (4) above.

(d) For each community college district with less than 3,001 units of average daily attendance for the 1975–76 fiscal year, the state apportionment for its 1975–76 fiscal year level of student attendance shall be computed as follows:

SEC. 46. Section 20803 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 47. Section 20803 is added to the Education Code, to read:

20803. Any maximum rate of tax for any community college district may be increased and, having been increased, may be decreased by an amount equal to, or less than, the amount of such increase, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the community college district at an election which may be ordered by the governing board of the community college district on its own motion and shall be ordered within 90 days after the filing with the governing board of a petition signed by not less than 10 percent of the registered voters of the district requesting that an election be ordered, unless the petitioners request that the election be consolidated with the annual election for members of the governing board, or that the election be consolidated with the general election.

The governing board shall determine whether the increase or decrease shall remain in effect for a specified or unspecified period of time, unless the petition filed by the electors provides for a specified or unspecified period of time. If a specified period is provided for in the petition or determined upon by the governing boards, such period shall be stated on the ballot.

Pursuant to the order of the governing board, the election shall be called, held, and conducted by the county superintendent of schools, as nearly as is practicable in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 1301) of Division 4.

The specification of the election order shall contain the information provided in Section 1323 and shall be furnished the county superintendent of schools by the governing board of the district for all maximum tax increase or decrease elections ordered by it.

The costs incurred by the county clerk or registrar of voters and the county superintendent of schools in connection with this section shall be paid out of the funds of the district.

Except as otherwise herein provided, the ballot used in the election shall contain substantially the words "Shall the proposed (increase decrease) in the maximum tax rates from _____ ($_____) to _____ ($_____) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property, such rate to be in effect in the _____ District for the school year (or years) 19__ to 19__, the revenues of which are to be used for _____, be authorized?" or the words "Shall the proposed (increase decrease) in the maximum tax rates from _____ ($_____) to _____ ($_____) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property commencing on _____, such rate to be in effect in the _____ District for the school years commencing 19__, the revenues of which are to be used for _____, be authorized?" Opposite such words, in separate lines, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed, with a voting square opposite each such word. If, at any prior election held in the district, the maximum tax rate of the district was increased for a specified period of time, and if the election is called for the purpose of continuing in effect the previously authorized increase in the maximum tax rate of the district, the ballot shall contain substantially the words "Shall the existing maximum tax rate of _____ ($_____) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property be continued in the _____ District for the school years 19__ to 19__, the revenues of which are to be used for _____?" Opposite such words in separate lines, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed with a voting square opposite each such word. Each voter shall stamp a cross (+) in the voting square after the answer he desires to give.

Whenever the maximum tax rate of a community college district is increased for either a specified or unspecified period of time and during such period an election is called for the purpose of further increasing the maximum tax rate of the district, the ballot used in the election shall show only the authorized maximum tax rate of the district in effect at the time of the election and the proposed maximum tax rate.

If an election for a decrease in an increased maximum tax rate of a district is held in any year prior to, or concurrently with, the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall become effective on July 1st following the election. If an election for a decrease in an increased tax rate of a district is held in any year after the date of the district election for governing board members, any decrease adopted at such election shall not become effective until July 1st of the next succeeding year.

SEC. 48. Section 20906 of the Education Code is amended to read:

20906. Commencing September 4, 1973, the revenue limit prescribed by Section 20905, 20940, or 20941 may be exceeded upon approval of a majority of the electors of the district voting on a proposition to that effect pursuant to Section 20803.2. Such approval may be granted for any period of time, and shall be added to the budget year revenue limit per foundation program unit of average daily attendance of the district as determined in subdivision (g) of Section 20905 in computing the maximum general purpose tax rate for each year in which the voted revenue limit increase is effective.

For the fiscal year following the last year in which the voted revenue limit increase is authorized, the amount of the voted revenue limit increase as it actually affected the revenue limit shall be subtracted from the revenue limit per foundation program unit of average daily attendance of the district as determined in subdivision (g) of Section 20905, 20940, or 20941. This section shall be subject to Section 20907.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 20803.2, the revenue limit shall be that prescribed by state law plus the amount of increase approved by the electors, and need not be the revenue limit set forth in the ballot proposition prescribed by that section prior to July 1, 1974.

SEC. 48.1. Section 20906.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

district, be increased pursuant to this chapter upon approval of a majority of the electors of the district voting on a proposition to that effect pursuant to Section 20803.2. Such approval may be granted for any period of time, and the budget year revenue limit of the district shall be increased by such amount in computing the maximum general purpose tax rate for each year in which the voted revenue limit increase is effective.

SEC. 48.2. Section 20906.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

20906.2. Commencing July 1, 1977, the tax rate that an elementary, high, or unified school district with a revenue limit at or above 150 percent of the appropriate foundation program amount of the district, which may be levied for a given amount of revenue per unit of average daily attendance beyond its revenue limit, shall be provided yearly to the county superintendent of schools and the county board of supervisors by the Superintendent of Public Instruction on or before August 15.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall use the state average actual assessed valuation per unit of elementary, high, or unified school district average daily attendance to determine the tax rate necessary to raise the dollar amount each year.

SEC. 48.3. Section 20906.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

20906.3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine the tax rates required by Section 20906.2 on the basis of the immediately prior fiscal year's data, updated by estimates of changes in average daily attendance and assessed valuation for each district, as reported to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by each county superintendent of schools. On or before April 1, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall certify to each county superintendent an estimated schedule of the tax rates necessary to provide a given income per unit of average daily attendance required by Section 20906.2. On or before August 15, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall certify to each county superintendent of schools and county board of supervisors, the official schedule of the tax rates necessary to provide a given income per unit of average daily attendance required by Section 20906.2.

The county board of supervisors of each county shall use the official schedule submitted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in setting the tax rate required to produce the increase in the revenue limit provided for by Section 20906.1 which is approved by the electors pursuant to Section 20803.2.

SEC. 48.4. Section 20906.4 is added to the Education Code, to read:

20906.4. The county auditor, in cooperation with the county superintendent of schools, shall determine the amount of excess or the amount of deficiency from the income from tax rates levied pursuant to Section 20906.2. A county shall collect the taxes on the basis of the rates required by Section 20906.2. The county shall allocate the taxes on the basis of the increase in the revenue limit approved by the electors pursuant to Section 20803.2. If the taxes collected are in excess of the amount to be allocated within the county, the excess shall be paid to the State Fund for the Equalization of School Taxes, which is hereby created in the State Treasury. If there is a deficiency of total taxes collected when compared to the taxes to be allowed, the county auditor in a county having a deficiency shall submit a request to the State Controller, for allocation from the State Fund for the Equalization of School Taxes, such amount as necessary to make up the deficiency. The State Controller shall allocate the amounts requested from the State Fund for the Equalization of School Taxes.

CHAPTER 3.9. TAXATION FOR ADULT EDUCATION

20940. For each school district with adult average daily attendance, as defined in Section 5756, the county superintendent of schools shall establish a revenue limit per unit of adult average daily attendance and an adult education tax rate in each such district for the 1976–77 fiscal year pursuant to directions of the Superintendent of Public Instruction as follows:

(a) He shall determine the expenditure, including tuition, per adult average daily attendance in 1975–76. He shall increase this amount by the same percent of increase that is allowed to the high school level foundation program in the 1976–77 fiscal year.

(b) He shall determine the maximum adult education tax necessary for each district by the procedure provided in subdivisions (h) to (k), inclusive, of Section 20941.

For districts which did not have adult average daily attendance in the 1975–76 fiscal year, the adult revenue limit shall be the adult foundation program.

20941. For the 1977–78 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter:

(a) The maximum tax rate for adult education programs of a school district shall be computed pursuant to this section by the county superintendent of schools.

(b) The revenue limit per adult foundation program unit of average daily attendance for the district for the prior fiscal year shall be divided into the adult foundation program amount per unit of average daily attendance for the prior year. If the quotient is greater than one, it shall be deemed to be one.

(c) The adult foundation program amount per unit of average daily attendance used as the dividend in subdivision (b) shall be determined pursuant to Section 17951.

(d) The inflation adjustment shall be based on the increase or decrease in the adult foundation program amount per unit of average daily attendance for the budget year compared with the preceding year.

(e) The amount determined pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be multiplied by the quotient determined pursuant to subdivision (b). The resultant amount shall constitute the revenue limit inflation adjustment of the district per unit of average daily attendance.

(f) The revenue limit inflation adjustment shall be added or subtracted, as the case may be, to the prior year revenue limit per adult foundation program unit of average daily attendance of the district and the sum multiplied by the estimated adult foundation program average daily attendance of the budget year. The product shall be the adult revenue limit of the district for the budget year.

(g) Any district which has an adult revenue limit computed pursuant to subdivision (f) which is equal to or less than the adult foundation program computed for the district pursuant to Section 17951 may increase its revenue limit computed pursuant to subdivision (f) to the lesser of the adult foundation program level of the district or the prior year revenue limit increased by 15 percent, beginning in 1977–78.

(h) From the amount computed pursuant to subdivision (f) or (g), there shall be subtracted the basic state aid and state equalization aid to be received for the budget year, and the amount of income to be received from the equalization offset tax pursuant to Section 17263.1.

(i) The amount determined pursuant to subdivision (h) shall be (1) adjusted as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 10805 and (2) adjusted sufficiently to allow for the mandated increases in 1976–77 and subsequent years for district contributions for the State Teachers' Retirement System as required by Section 14100.

(j) From the amount computed pursuant to subdivision (i), there shall be subtracted the amount of money collected or to be collected as taxes related to adult education on property on the unsecured roll of the budget year and income from the prior year's taxes.

(k) For the purposes of this subdivision, the assessed valuation used in computing the maximum tax rate is defined as the total actual assessed valuation, including business inventory and homeowners' exemption and exclusive of the assessed valuation increment used to allocate tax receipts to a redevelopment agency pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 33670) of Chapter 6 of Part 1 of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code.

The amount determined pursuant to subdivision (j) shall be divided by the amount of actual assessed valuation of the district on the secured roll after due allowance for delinquencies, pursuant to Section 20704. The quotient multiplied by 100 shall be the tax rate on each one hundred dollars ($100) of such assessed valuation and shall be the maximum adult education tax rate which may be levied in the district during the 1976–77 fiscal year.

This section shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 20906 and 20907.

20942. For the 1976–77 fiscal year, any school district which had adult average daily attendance in the 1975–76 fiscal year may increase its regular revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance by the difference between its 1975–76 fiscal year revenue from adult average daily attendance and its actual expenditures for adults in the 1975–76 fiscal year divided by its regular average daily attendance in the 1975–76 fiscal year.

SEC. 85. The sum of seven million seven hundred thousand dollars ($7,700,000) is annually appropriated from the General Fund to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the purposes of this section.

For the 1976–77 fiscal year and each year thereafter, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall:

Article 1. General Provisions

40400. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Lewis Air Quality Management Act."

40402. The Legislature further finds and declares:

(a) That the South Coast Air Basin is a unique geographical entity not reflected by political boundaries.

(b) That the basin is acknowledged to have the most critical air pollution problem in the nation caused by the operation of six million motor vehicles in the basin, stationary sources of pollution, the frequency of atmospheric inversions that trap aerial contaminants, and the large amount of sunshine that transforms vehicular and nonvehicular emissions into a variety of deleterious chemicals.

(c) That the state and federal governments have promulgated ambient air quality standards for the protection of public health, and that it is in the public interest that those standards be met and that those standards should not be exceeded.

(d) That, in order to achieve and maintain air quality within the ambient air quality standards, a comprehensive basinwide air quality management plan must be developed and implemented to provide for the rapid abatement of existing emission levels to levels which will result in the achievement and maintenance of the state ambient air quality standards and to ensure that new sources of emissions are planned and operated so as to be consistent with the basin's air quality goals.

(e) That, in order to successfully develop and implement a meaningful strategy for achieving and maintaining ambient air quality standards, local governments in the South Coast Air Basin must be delegated additional authority from the state in the control of vehicular sources and must retain existing authority to set stringent emission standards for nonvehicular sources.

(f) That, in order to successfully implement a comprehensive program for the achievement and maintenance of ambient air quality standards in the South Coast Air Basin, the responsibilities of local and regional authorities with respect to air pollution control must be fully integrated into an agency with basinwide authority, governed by representatives of county and city governments.

40403. The Legislature further finds and declares that the problems of small businesses in complying with the rules and regulations of the south coast district will frequently require special attention, and that it is the intent of the Legislature that the south coast district assist small businesses in dealing with its administrative procedure and in the acquisition of low-interest financing for the purchase of air pollution control equipment.

40404. As used in this article, "plan" means the south coast district air quality management plan.

Article 2. Creation of the South Coast Air Quality Management District

40410. There is hereby created the South Coast Air Quality Management District in those portions of the Counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino included within the area of the South Coast Air Basin, as described in Section 60104 of Title 17 of the California Administrative Code, as now or hereafter amended.

40411. (a) The County of Ventura, and that portion of the County of Santa Barbara included within the South Coast Air Basin, as described in Section 60104 of Title 17 of the California Administrative Code, as now or hereafter amended, shall be included within the South Coast Air Basin upon the adoption of a resolution of approval by the south coast district board of a request submitted by the appropriate board of supervisors.

(b) The inclusion of the county, or portion thereof, as the case may be, shall take effect at the commencement of the first quarter commencing at least 60 days after the adoption of the resolution.

(c) A copy of the resolution of approval shall be sent by the south coast district board to the board of supervisors and the state board.

40412. The south coast district shall be the sole and exclusive local agency within the south coast district with the responsibility for comprehensive air pollution control, and it shall have the duty to represent the citizens of the south coast district in influencing the decisions of other public and private agencies whose actions might have an adverse impact on air quality in the south coast district.

40413. The board of supervisors of a county that is only included in part within the south coast district may contract with the south coast district to perform air pollution control functions in that area of the county not included within the south coast district, and the south coast district may perform such functions for the county. Such area, however, shall not be deemed a part of the south coast district.

40414. No provision of this chapter shall constitute an infringement on the existing authority of local government with regard to land use decisions, and no provision of this chapter shall be interpreted as providing or transferring new authority over such land use decisions to either the south coast district, the Southern California Association of Governments, or the state board.

40415. The Legislature recognizes the recent efforts of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District in unifying the county districts in the South Coast Air Basin into a single agency, and the south coast district board is hereby directed to utilize the expertise and experience of the members of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District and its technical staff to ensure that the transfer of air pollution control functions from that air pollution control district to the south coast district is as smooth and orderly as possible.

In addition, the Legislature recognizes the recent efforts of the Air Quality Maintenance Plan Policy Task Force of the South Coast Air Basin to develop workable mechanisms and procedures for air quality planning in that air basin, and the south coast district board is hereby directed to encourage the participation of the members of the task force in the preparation of the plan.

40416. The south coast district shall commence operation on February 1, 1977, and on that date shall assume the authority, functions, and responsibilities of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District.

All members of the south coast district board shall be appointed not later than January 31, 1977.

A member of the south coast district board who is also a member of a board of supervisors may appoint an alternate member in his place who shall be able to act on all south coast district matters except on the budget of the south coast district.

40421. (a) The Board of Supervisors of the County of Ventura shall appoint one of its members as a member of the south coast district board, if the county is included within the south coast district.

(b) The Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Barbara shall appoint one of its members as a member of the south coast district board, if the county, or that portion of the county included within the South Coast Air Basin, is included within the south coast district.

40222. With the exception of the public member, members of the south coast district board shall serve at the pleasure of their respective appointing powers. Any vacancy on the south coast district board shall be filled within 60 days of occurrence by its appointing power.

40226. Each member of the south coast district board shall receive a compensation of fifty dollars ($50) for each day, or portion thereof, but not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) in any month, attending meetings of the south coast district board or committees thereof or, upon authorization of the south coast district board, while

The south coast district board may adopt such rules and regulations as do not conflict with federal and state laws for the coordination of local, state, and federal programs affecting air quality.

40442. If the plan is not adopted or approved in compliance with the schedule set forth in Sections 40464 and 40465, the powers and duties of the south coast district board with respect to air quality control shall not be diminished or otherwise affected by such failure to adopt or approve the plan.

40445. Pursuant to its authority under Section 40444 to implement the Air Pollution Emergency Contingency Plan of the state board, the south coast district board may adopt rules and regulations to limit the operation of motor vehicles within the south coast district during the period when an air pollution emergency has been called as defined by that plan. Such rules and regulations shall not apply to the operation of authorized emergency vehicles, as defined in Section 165 of the Vehicle Code, or repair vehicles of a public utility.

40446. If requested by the state board, the south coast district board may assist in the administration and enforcement of any state statute establishing an inspection program for motor vehicles with respect to their air pollution emissions and their air pollution control devices or systems and any rules and regulations adopted pursuant to such a statute.

40448. The south coast district board shall establish an office of small business assistance to provide administrative and technical services to small businesses seeking permits and variances from the south coast district board or the hearing board.

The primary purpose of the office shall be to facilitate and encourage small business compliance with the rules and regulations of the south coast district, and to develop a data base on the economic impact and cost effectiveness of the rules and regulations of the south coast district on small businesses within the south coast district. The office shall develop and make available to small businesses information regarding low-cost financing for air pollution control equipment.

The south coast district board, upon receiving findings and recommendations from the office, shall endeavor to coordinate compliance schedules with the availability of low-cost financing to small businesses in implementing its control programs.

40449. (a) No provision of this chapter is a limitation on the power of the board of supervisors of a county included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district to adopt any order, rule, or regulation with respect to air pollution control which is stricter than those adopted by the south coast district board and not in conflict therewith. The south coast district board shall enforce any such order, rule, or regulation.

(b) At the request of the board of supervisors of any county included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district, the south coast district board shall make available to that county, on a temporary basis, the necessary personnel, equipment, and services to assist the county in adopting any order, rule, or regulation stricter than those adopted by the south coast district.

40450. Except as provided in Section 40449 regarding the adoption of stricter orders, rules, and regulations than those of the south coast district board, the board of supervisors of any county included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district shall have no authority after February 1, 1977, with respect to the control of air pollution in that part of the county included within the south coast district.

40451. (a) Within 30 days of any action, or failure to act, by the south coast district board, any aggrieved person may petition the state board to review such action or failure to act. In case of failure to act, the 30-day period shall commence upon refusal of the south

Article 4. Plan

40460. (a) No later than January 31, 1979, the south coast district board shall adopt a plan to achieve and maintain the state ambient air quality standards for the south coast district.

(b) The plan shall be prepared by the south coast district, with the cooperation and active participation of the counties and cities within the south coast district, the Southern California Association of Governments, the state board, and the Department of Transportation.

(c) Upon approval of the plan by the state board, the plan shall be the implementation plan and the air quality maintenance plan of the south coast district.

40461. Until the plan is adopted by the south coast district board and approved by the state board, the south coast district board shall implement the basinwide air pollution control plan adopted for the South Coast Air Basin pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41600) of Part 4.

40462. The plan shall include deadlines for compliance with the state ambient air quality standards for the south coast district at the earliest possible date, and shall include provisions to ensure that future growth and development within the south coast district are, to the maximum extent feasible, consistent with the goal of maintaining the air quality standards.

In the event that the plan will not result in the achievement of a state ambient air quality standard by January 1, 1980, the plan shall contain the compliance schedule for achieving that standard at the earliest date achievable by application of all reasonable and available control measures and technologies.

40463. Formal review of the plan shall be made every two years. During the formal review, the air quality standard compliance schedules shall be revised to reflect advances in control strategy, administrative practice, and technology. The same procedures utilized in preparing the plan shall be utilized in the formal review of the plan.

40464. After holding public hearings in all parts of the south coast district, the south coast district board shall submit the adopted plan to the state board and to the Legislature not later than January 31, 1979.

40465. The plan shall become effective on June 1, 1979, and as submitted shall be approved by the state board by that date unless it finds, after a public hearing, that the plan does not include all reasonable and available methods to achieve and maintain the state ambient air quality standards. Upon such a finding, the state board shall revise the submitted plan accordingly and approve the plan as revised by June 1, 1979.

40466. During 1979, the Legislature shall review the adequacy of the air quality management planning process and the operations of the south coast district with regard to the implementation of the plan.

40467. The Southern California Association of Governments shall review, from an air quality standpoint, the various plans adopted or proposed by federal, state, and local agencies which may have a direct or indirect influence on air quality, such as the California Transportation Plan, the California Coastal Zone Conservation Plan, the State Energy Development and Conservation Plan, and county and city general plans.

40468. Upon completion of the review pursuant to Section 40467, the Southern California Association of Governments shall prepare a summary of the available policy alternatives which might lead to reducing the detrimental air quality impacts of the proposals in the various plans and, along with this summary, shall submit to the south coast district board a work program for the development of recommended modifications in the various plans which might be incorporated into elements of the south coast district air quality management plan during the first biennial review of the plan, including an analysis of how the south coast district might effectively influence federal, state, and local planning efforts on behalf of air quality.

The association shall also submit recommendations for any additional authority which may need to be delegated to the south coast district by the Legislature in order for the south coast district to effectively implement the south coast district air quality management plan.

The summary report and recommendations shall be submitted to the south coast district board not later than December 31, 1977.

40469. Prior to submitting its summary report and recommendations to the south coast district, the Southern California Association of Governments shall prepare guidelines for the preparation of the plan elements relating to transportation, land use, and energy, and related planning elements, which shall comprise a series of recommended alternative policies designed to minimize the adverse air quality impacts of growth and development.

40470. Upon receiving plan guidelines prepared by the Southern California Association of Governments pursuant to Section 40469, the subregional planning agencies designated by the association in each county shall prepare preliminary plans for the subregions under their jurisdiction.

Not later than July 1, 1978, the subregional plans shall be submitted to the association for review and incorporation into its regional plan.

40471. The regional plan shall be submitted by the Southern California Association of Governments to the south coast district board not later than September 1, 1978.

After holding public hearings in all parts of the south coast district on the regional plan, the south coast district board shall include the regional plan in the south coast district air quality management plan and submit the plan to the state board.

Article 5. Officers and Employees

40480. (a) The south coast district board shall employ the necessary staff to carry out its program throughout the south coast district.

(b) The south coast district board shall appoint an executive officer to direct the staff, subject to the direction and policy of the south coast district board.

(c) The staff shall also be available to serve those portions of a county not included within the south coast district where the county is only partly included within the south coast district.

(d) The south coast district may enter into a contract with any county included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district to perform air pollution control functions for the south coast district, and the county may perform such functions for the south coast district pursuant to the contract.

40481. The executive officer shall be appointed solely on the basis of his administrative and executive abilities and qualifications. The executive officer and designated deputies shall serve at the pleasure of the south coast district board, and shall receive such compensation as is determined by the south coast district board.

40482. The south coast district board may delegate such duties to the executive officer as it deems appropriate. The executive officer shall perform and discharge, under the direction and control of the south coast district board, the powers, duties, purposes, functions, and jurisdiction vested in the south coast district board and delegated to him by it.

Any power, duty, purpose, function, or jurisdiction which the south coast district board may lawfully delegate shall be conclusively presumed to have been delegated to the executive officer unless it is shown that the south coast district board, by affirmative vote recorded in its minutes, specifically has reserved the same for its own action.

40483. The south coast district shall appoint a legal counsel who is admitted to the practice of law in this state.

40484. In the appointment of persons to the south coast district staff, the south coast district board shall employ the personnel of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District.

On February 1, 1977, all employees of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District, shall be employed by the south coast district and shall be entitled to similar positions on the south coast district staff. Except as otherwise provided in this article, they shall have permanent civil service employee status and shall perform the similar duties for the south coast district as for the Southern California Air Pollution Control District.

40485. All officers and employees of the south coast district, other than members of the south coast district board, are entitled to the benefits of the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937 (Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 31450), Part 3, Division 4, Title 3 of the Government Code).

40486. When any person is employed by the south coast district, whose immediate prior employer was the Southern California Air Pollution Control District, for the purpose of, but not limited to, retirement benefits, salary rates, seniority, and all fringe benefits, all his time of employment with that district, and his time of employment, if any, with the county, a county district, or both, whose authority, functions, and responsibilities have been assumed by that district if such employment was immediately prior to employment with the Southern California Air Pollution Control District, shall be considered as time of employment with the south coast district.

Upon transfer to the south coast district, employees shall retain all their accumulated sick leave, vacation, and retirement benefits.

40487. The south coast district board shall adopt a civil service system for all employees of the south coast district, except that the executive officer and his designated deputies shall be exempt from the civil service system and shall serve at the pleasure of the south coast district board.

The policies and procedures of the civil service system shall be the same as those adopted by the County of Los Angeles. The south coast district board may administer the system or contract for its administration with that county.

40488. (a) In fixing compensation to be paid to the south coast district employees, the south coast district board, in each instance, shall for the 1977–78 fiscal year provide a salary or wage and fringe benefits at least equal to the salary or wage and fringe benefits paid to the employees of the County of Los Angeles for the same quality of service rendered or for positions of equal responsibilities and duties.

(b) Thereafter, in fixing future compensation to be paid to employees in its civil service system, the south coast district board shall, in each instance, provide a salary or wage and fringe benefits at least equal to the prevailing salary or wage and fringe benefits for the same quality of service rendered by private persons under similar employment in case such prevailing salary or wage can be ascertained.

40489. The south coast district may contract for such professional assistance as may be necessary or convenient for the exercise of duties imposed on the south coast district.

Article 6. Permits and Variances

40500. In accordance with the purposes of this chapter as set forth in Sections 40401 and 40402, the south coast district board shall establish rules and regulations for the granting of variances by the hearing board from such standards for the discharge of air contaminants as the south coast district may adopt.

The rules and regulations shall include a schedule of fees, which shall be based upon the number of sources the variances is applicable to and the extent the amount of emissions from the sources exceeds the required standards, for the filing of applications for variances. All applicants shall pay the fees required by such rules and regulations. A variance may be granted by the hearing board after a public hearing and upon filing, with appropriate fees, of a variance petition with the hearing board.

40501. (a) The south coast district board shall appoint a hearing board, or may authorize the board of supervisors of each county included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district to appoint a hearing board in accordance with Article 1 (commencing with Section 40800). The hearing board shall have such powers and duties vested in the hearing board of a county district.

(b) The granting of variances shall be processed by the hearing board in the county in which the variance is applicable unless the applicant and the hearing board agree otherwise, and shall be granted in conformance with the rules and regulations of the south coast district, and with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 42350) of Chapter 4 of Part 4, with respect to the granting of variances.

40502. The revenues from the schedule of fees adopted by the south coast district board for the filing of applications for variances shall be collected by the hearing board at the time that the application is filed. Each county hearing board appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40501 shall be reimbursed from these fees for its cost in administering the rules and regulations for the issuance of variances established by the south coast district board. The revenues from these fees shall be transmitted by the hearing board to the south coast district board at such time as the south coast district board may prescribe.

40503. Any aggrieved person may appeal the decision of the hearing board to the south coast district board.

40504. The south coast district board shall work with those persons granted variances to reduce emissions of air contaminants from their operation.

40505. Any form developed by the south coast district for use in filing an application for variance shall contain a notice to small businesses of the availability of assistance in filling out the form, developing compliance schedules, and obtaining low-cost financing for air pollution control equipment to meet its regulations.

40506. In accordance with the purposes of this chapter as set forth in Sections 40401 and 40402, the south coast district board shall establish rules and regulations for the issuance by the south coast district board of permits for authority to construct or operate any article, machine, equipment, or other contrivance for which a permit may be required by the south coast district board.

The rules and regulations shall include a schedule of fees for the filing of applications for permits and for the modification, revocation, extension, or annual renewal of permits. All applicants shall pay the fees required by such rules and regulations.

40507. The south coast district board, in making any order granting a permit, may specify the time during which such order shall be effective, in no event to exceed one year, and the payment of such fees as established by the south coast district board.

40508. The revenues from the schedule of fees for the filing of applications for permits shall be collected by the south coast district board at the time that the application is filed.

40509. Any individual may petition the south coast district board to hold a public hearing on a permit application.

40510. The south coast district board may adopt a fee schedule for the issuance of variances and permits to cover the cost of planning, inspection, and monitoring related thereto.

The fees may be varied according to the quantity of emissions and the effect of such emissions on the ambient air quality within the south coast district.

Article 7. Financial Provisions

40520. Upon adoption of its budget for the next fiscal year, the south coast district board shall apportion the amount that each county included within the south coast district shall pay to finance the operation of the south coast district in that fiscal year.

The apportionment to a county shall be that proportion of the amount that the population of the portion of the county included within the south coast district bears to the total population of the south coast district, as determined from the latest federal decennial census.

40521. (a) Excluding any increase in apportionments due to increases in the salaries or wages and fringe benefits to the south coast district employees pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40488, the apportionment levied on a county, for the 1977–78 fiscal year, by the south coast district board shall not exceed by more than 15 percent the apportionment levied on that county by the Southern California Air Pollution Control District for the 1976–77 fiscal year.

(b) For the 1978–79 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, the percentage increase in the county apportionments may not exceed the percentage increase in the California Consumer Price Index as specified in Section 2212 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or the percentage increase in the total county property tax revenues for the counties included, in whole or in part, within the south coast district, whichever is greater.

(c) The limitations specified in subdivisions (a) and (b) shall not apply to increases in apportionments resulting from the termination of federal or state allocations to the south coast district, if the south coast district board votes to continue the programs financed with those funds.

40522. On and after February 1, 1977, any funds required to be contributed by a county included within the south coast district to the Southern California Air Pollution Control District, during the 1976–77 fiscal year, which have not yet been contributed to that district shall be contributed to the south coast district.

40523. On February 1, 1977, all tangible personal property and equipment of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District shall become the property of the south coast district.

40524. All interests in real property held in the name of the Southern California Air Pollution Control District shall become the property of the south coast district on February 1, 1977, and the south coast district shall succeed as of that date to the interest and liability of that district in any leases.

40525. The south coast district shall undertake a study of the financing of the operations of the south coast district and shall submit a report of its findings and recommendations to the Legislature, not later than December 31, 1977, on its efforts to reduce its reliance on property tax revenues to finance the operations of the south coast district.

Among the possible financing measures which shall be evaluated are the imposition of annual permit renewal fees, emission fees, motor vehicle fuel tax, in-lieu motor vehicle tax, and increased penalties for violations of rules and regulations of the south coast district.

SEC. 6. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act because costs incurred pursuant to this act will be offset by savings.

An act to add Sections 71080.7 and 71603.5 to the Government Code, relating to courts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71080.7 is added to the Government Code, to read:

71080.7. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 71602 and 71603, where action is taken and has become effective to create by consolidation, annexation, or otherwise, a new justice court judicial district in Lassen County, and where the consolidation, annexation, or other action is to be operative concurrently with the end of the terms of the constables, the Board of Supervisors of Lassen County shall call for a special election for the office of constable for the new justice court and any otherwise qualified person may be a candidate therefor, and such special election shall be held prior to the vacancy actually occurring in the new justice court. The person receiving the highest number of votes cast shall be elected.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because this act is in accordance with the request of local government entities which desired legislative authority to act to carry out the program specified in this act.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order for Lassen County to fill by election the vacancies which will exist on January 3, 1977 in the offices of judge and constable in their newly created justice court district prior to January 3, 1977, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 326

8300.5. Notwithstanding Section 8300, no species of abalone (genus Haliotis) shall be taken during the months of February and August.

SEC. 2. Section 8306.1 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8306.1. Effective January 1, 1977, no abalone diving permit shall be issued to any person who did not possess an abalone diving permit during the previous abalone season.

SEC. 3. Section 8306.2 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

permits to be issued by the department. No permits shall be issued by the department to those who did not possess an abalone diving permit the previous year except that, if the number of abalone diving permits is below the number established by the commission, the department shall issue permits by drawing, under such regulations as the commission shall prescribe. The person so affected by this section may appeal to the commission, submitting the circumstances surrounding the nonuse of the permit, and request issuance of a diving permit.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1981, and as of such date is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 8306.8 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8306.8. Notwithstanding Section 8306, abalones may not be taken for commercial purposes except under a revocable abalone diving or crewmember permit issued by the department under such regulations as the commission shall prescribe. The diving permit fee is two hundred dollars ($200). The crewmember permit fee is one hundred dollars ($100).

Diving apparatus may be used to take abalones in water not less than 20 feet in depth in those portions of District 20 lying on the southerly side of Catalina Island between Southeast Rock and China Point, and in Districts 18, 19, and 20A, and in District 10 only in the waters lying south of Point Lobos. It is unlawful to take black abalones for commercial purposes, along the mainland coast, except as otherwise specifically authorized by this article.

SEC. 7. Section 8306.9 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8306.9. The Legislature finds and declares that the restrictions on the issuance of abalone diving permits specified in this article, are necessary to insure that abalone diving permittees possess the level of experience needed to protect and enhance the state's abalone resources.

This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1981, and as of such date is repealed.

CHAPTER 328

An act to amend Section 104.13 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to state highway property, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 104.13 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

104.13. (a) Any person leasing real property from the department may, in any year, apply to the department for a credit against future rental payments on the property, or for a refund from the Highway Properties Rental Account in the Transportation Tax Fund if the person is no longer leasing the property, upon submission of evidence to the department that the person had paid the tax imposed for that year for the person's possessory interest in the property.

(b) The credit or the refund, as the case may be, shall be deducted from the payments made pursuant to Section 104.10 to the county in which the property is located.

(c) The department shall report the amount of credit and refund granted pursuant to subdivision (a) in each county during the prior fiscal year to the Department of Finance by October 1.

(d) The credit and refund authorized shall be applicable to all taxes paid on or after January 1, 1975, for the possessory interest in real property leased by the department.

(e) This section shall apply only to real property held for future state highway needs and to real property originally held for that purpose, which the department has determined is no longer needed therefor, prior to its sale or exchange by the department.

CHAPTER 329

An act relating to the Death Valley Unified School District, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the maximum tax rate of the Death Valley Unified School District for the 1976–77 fiscal year is increased by forty-seven cents ($0.47) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation above the rate which would otherwise have been computed for the district pursuant to applicable provisions of law.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that because of a clerical error not the fault of the Death Valley Unified School District which resulted in the computation of a tax rate lower than authorized by law and in decreased revenues to the district, it is necessary to permit the district to levy the additional tax specified by Section 1 to recoup tax revenues not realized and thereby preserve the financial integrity of the district. Because of this unique occurrence, a general law cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to permit the increased maximum tax rate prescribed by this act to be operative for the entire 1976–77 fiscal year, and so facilitate the orderly administration of the school district's finances, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 330

An act to add Section 53069.3 to the Government Code, relating to use of city or county funds to repair defaced structures.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53069.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53069.3. A city or county may enact an ordinance to provide for the use of city or county funds to remove graffiti or other inscribed material from public or privately owned permanent structures located on public or privately owned real property within such city or county.

Such ordinance shall only authorize the removal of the graffiti or other inscribed material itself, and not the painting or repair of a more extensive area.

Such removal may be performed, only after a finding by the city or county that the graffiti or other inscribed material is obnoxious, and, in the case of a publicly owned structure, only after securing the consent of the public entity having jurisdiction over the structure, and in the case of a privately owned structure, only after securing the consent of the owner.

CHAPTER 331

An act to add Article 7 (commencing with Section 3535) to Chapter 7.7, as added by Chapter 634 of the Statutes of 1975, of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to osteopathic physician's assistants, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 7 (commencing with Section 3535) is added to Chapter 7.7, as added by Chapter 634 of the Statutes of 1975, of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Article 7. Osteopathic Physician's Assistants

3535. Notwithstanding any provision of law, physicians and surgeons licensed by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners may employ physician's assistants provided:

(a) Each physician's assistant so employed is a graduate of an approved program and is certified by the Physician's Assistant Examining Committee.

(b) The scope of practice of the physician's assistant shall be the same as that which is approved by the Division of Allied Health Professions of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance for physicians and surgeons supervising physician's assistants in the same or a similar specialty.

(c) The supervising physician is approved by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners may deny an application, or suspend or revoke or impose probationary conditions upon any osteopathic physician and surgeons approved to supervise any physician's assistant in any decision made after a hearing as provided in Section 3528.

(d) Any physician's assistant certified by the committee shall be eligible for employment by any physician approved by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners; except that no physician shall supervise more than two physician's assistants. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners may restrict physicians to supervising specific types of physician's assistants including, but not limited to, restricting physicians from supervising physician's assistants outside of the physician's field of specialty.

(e) Each physician desiring to supervise a physician's assistant under this section shall file a separate application. An application fee of ten dollars ($10) shall be charged to each physician applicant for each application. An approved fee of fifty dollars ($50) shall be charged to each physician upon approval of an application to supervise physician's assistants. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners shall renew approval to supervise physician's assistants upon application for such renewal. A fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) shall be paid for such renewal.

(f) Any person who violates subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or by both.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

CHAPTER 332

An act to amend Section 31000.8 of the Government Code, relating to counties, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31000.8 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31000.8. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the board of supervisors of a county which is wholly or partially self-insured under the workers compensation laws, or which is wholly or partially self-insured against public liability, may contract with a qualified firm for the purpose of having such firm render investigative, administrative, and claims adjustment services relating to workers' compensation and public liability claims against the county. The contract may provide that the contracting firm may reject, settle, compromise and approve workers' compensation and public liability claims against the county, its officers or employees, within such limits and for such amounts as the board of supervisors may specify, and may provide that the contracting firm may execute and issue checks in payment of such claims, which checks shall be payable only from a trust fund which may be established by the board of supervisors. Funds in the trust fund established by the board pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not exceed a sum sufficient to provide for the settlement of claims for a 30-day period as determined by the board of supervisors or the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), whichever is larger, at any one time. The rejection or settlement and approval of a claim by the contracting firm in accordance with the terms of the contract shall have the same effect as would the rejection or settlement and approval of such a claim by the board of supervisors and the county auditor. The contract may also provide that the contracting firm may employ legal counsel, subject to such terms and limitations as the board may prescribe, to advise such contracting firm concerning the legality and advisability of rejecting, settling, compromising and paying claims referred to said contracting firm by the county for investigation and adjustment, or to represent the county in litigation concerning such claims. The compensation and expenses of such attorney for services rendered to the county shall be county charges.

The contract provided for in this section may contain such other terms and conditions as the board of supervisors may consider necessary or desirable to effectuate the county's self-insured programs.

In lieu of, or in addition to, contracting for the services described in this section, the board of supervisors may authorize a county employee to perform any or all of the services and functions which the board may contract for under the provisions of this section.

As used in this section:

(a) "Firm" includes a person, corporation, or other legal entity.

(b) "Board of supervisors" includes governing boards of districts and other public agencies for which the board of supervisors acts as the governing board.

(c) "County" includes such districts and other public agencies for which the board of supervisors acts as the governing board.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Chapter 887 of the Statutes of 1975 was enacted as an urgency statute to alleviate critical county problems regarding prompt settlement and payment of claims against them and to facilitate the prompt and orderly transition of the counties from a fully insured to a self-insured status. Now a further critical problem has developed due to the inadequacy of the $5,000 limit in trust funds authorized under Chapter 887 to accomplish this purpose. Therefore, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 333

An act to add Article 15 (commencing with Section 53950) to Chapter 4 of Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, relating to districts.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 15 (commencing with Section 53950) is added to Chapter 4 of Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code, to read as follows:

Article 15. District Revolving Funds

53950. As used in this article, "special district" shall mean an agency of the state, formed pursuant to general law or special act, for the local performances of governmental or proprietary functions within limited boundaries which utilizes the county treasury as a depository for its funds.

53951. As used in this article, "special district" shall not include any city, county, school district or special assessment district or any public agency which may create and utilize a revolving or petty cash fund pursuant to any other specific statutory authority.

53952. The governing board of a special district may, by resolution, provide for the establishment of a revolving fund in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) to be used to make change and pay small bills directly. The resolution which establishes the district revolving fund shall designate all of the following:

(a) The purposes for which the fund may be expended.

(b) The officer of the district who shall have authority to make disbursements from the fund and be responsible for keeping account of all receipts and disbursements from the fund.

(c) The necessity for the fund.

(d) The maximum amount of the fund.

53953. Certified copies of the resolution establishing the revolving fund shall be transmitted to the county auditor and county treasurer.

53954. (a) Before any money is withdrawn from the county treasury to be placed in the revolving fund of a special district, the officer for whose use the fund is created shall file with the governing body of the district and the clerk of the board of supervisors a bond executed by himself as principal and by an admitted surety insurer, in an amount equal to that of the revolving fund. The bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful administration of the fund and upon the willingness and ability of the principal to account for and pay over the fund upon demand of the governing board of the district at any time.

(b) In lieu of the bond provided for in subdivision (a) of this section, any officer of the district required by statute to furnish an official bond, and any district which purchases and maintains a blanket bond on all or certain of its employees not otherwise required by statute to provide a bond, may cause such a bond or bonds to be issued or amended by endorsement to be conditioned, in addition to its other provisions, upon the faithful administration of the revolving fund and upon the willingness and ability of the principal or principals, for whose use such a fund or funds have been established, to account for and pay over the fund or funds upon demand of the governing board of the district at any time.

53955. Upon the receipt of the certified copy of the resolution establishing the revolving fund and the filing of the required bond, the county auditor shall draw his warrant in favor of the officer for whose benefit the revolving fund is created and the county treasurer shall pay the warrant.

53956. The officer designated in the resolution establishing the revolving fund as being entrusted with the fund shall not be authorized to expend any portion of the revolving fund except for services or material which are a legal charge against the district.

53957. Any expenditure in excess of one dollar ($1) shall not be made unless a receipt is obtained, setting forth the date, purpose of expenditure and amount expended.

53958. Demands shall be made upon the county auditor for reimbursement of the revolving fund in the same manner that other demands are made. No other moneys shall be deposited into the revolving fund. Each demand for reimbursement of the fund shall contain an itemized account of all disbursements.

53959. Upon demand of the county auditor or the governing board of the district, the officer entrusted with the fund shall give an account of the fund.

53960. The governing board may at any time increase, reduce or discontinue any revolving fund established by its order. If the revolving fund is ordered reduced, the officer entrusted with the fund shall immediately return to the county treasurer the amount necessary to reduce the fund as ordered by the board. If the fund is discontinued, the officer shall immediately pay over the balance of the fund to the county treasurer. If the fund is discontinued a reasonable time shall be allowed the officer entrusted with the fund to reimburse himself by demand on the district for expenditures legally made from the fund.

CHAPTER 334

An act to add Section 25260.3 to the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25260.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

25260.3. Any vehicle having personnel aerial lift equipment, actually engaged in the construction, removal, maintenance or inspection of any building, structure, or appurtenances thereto, including the cutting or trimming of trees immediately adjacent thereto, may display flashing amber warning lights to the front, sides, or rear when necessarily parked on a highway or when moving at a speed slower than the normal flow of the traffic.

CHAPTER 335

An act to amend Section 16110 of the Government Code, and to add Section 226 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that in Low v. Austin (1872), 20 L. Ed. 517, the Supreme Court of the United States held, in effect, that imported goods were not subject to property taxation under the import-export clause contained in Section 10 of Article I of the Constitution of the United States. This general rule, modified by various court decisions remained continuously in effect until January 14, 1976, when the Supreme Court of the United States in Michelin Tire Corporation v. Wages (1976), 46 L. Ed. 2d 495, overruled the Low case.

The Legislature finds that it would be manifestly unfair and would cause severe economic hardship, inequities, and injustices to apply the Michelin case retroactively. Therefore, it is the purpose of this act to exempt under Section 2 of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California all personal property formerly exempt under the doctrine of Low v. Austin and subsequent interpretations for any assessment year prior to the 1976–77 assessment year.

Importers relied upon statutory and case law which was in effect prior to the decision in Michelin v. Wages in the general conduct of their business, and could not reasonably foresee the application of the new rule of law under Michelin v. Wages. The decision in Michelin v. Wages (1976), 46 L. Ed. 2d 495, will cause many importers to become insolvent, relocate, or go out of business. This will seriously and adversely affect California businesses related to, or associated with, the importing community, and will result in a further deterioration of the labor market in California. Public policy will be served by preventing the disruptive and unjust effect of applying Michelin v. Wages to tax years prior to 1976–77.

SEC. 2. Section 16110 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16110. (a) It is the purpose of this chapter to provide replacement revenues to local government by reason of the repeal or reduction of the property tax on the following classes of property affected by the following provisions of the Revenue and Taxation Code: (1) business inventories under Section 219; (2) motion pictures under Section 988; (3) livestock under Section 5523; and (4) wine and brandy under Section 992.

(b) If for any reason, Section 226 of the Revenue and Taxation Code should be invalid or inapplicable, no state revenues shall be paid under this chapter on escape assessments for any assessment year prior to the 1976–1977 assessment year on any property formerly deemed exempt from taxation under statutory and case law existing prior to the decision in Michelin v. Wages (1976), 46 L. Ed. 2d 495.

SEC. 3. Section 226 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

226. The validity of any ad valorem property tax assessment on imported goods, heretofore or hereafter imposed, levied or collected with respect to tax years prior to the 1976–77 tax year, shall be determined pursuant to statutory and case law in effect prior to the decision in Michelin v. Wages, (1976), 46 L. Ed. 2d 495.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2229 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement to any local agency or school district by reason of the operation of Section 3 of this act, since no such agency or district will incur an actual loss of revenue because such section deals with a type of property that was previously exempt or immune under the laws of the United States or California on January 1, 1973.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that importers will not be subjected to economic hardship due to escape assessments resulting from the decision in Michelin v. Wages (1976), 46 L. Ed. 2d 495, which could be made prior to the first day of the 1977 calendar year, this act must go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 336

An act to amend Sections 412 and 2602 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, and to amend Section 13 of Chapter 591 of the Statutes of 1975, relating to unemployment insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 3, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 3, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 412 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

412. (a) The appeals board acting as a whole may, by notice mailed to the director and the parties prior to the mailing of a referee's decision on an appeal or petition under this division pending before any referee, on its own motion either:

(1) Transfer the proceedings to another referee; or

(2) Remove the proceedings to itself for review and decision.

(b) If the appeals board removes any proceedings to itself for review and decision pursuant to this section, the appeals board may order the taking of additional evidence and may affirm, reverse, modify, or set aside any findings or action of the Employment Development Department or the Department of Benefit Payments from which the appeal or petition to the referee was taken in the proceedings. The appeals board shall promptly notify the department and the parties to the proceedings of its order or decision.

SEC. 2. Section 2602 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2602. (a) Except as otherwise provided, the provisions and definitions of Part 1 (commencing with Section 100) of this division apply to this part. In case of any conflict between the provisions of Part 1 and the provisions of this part, the provisions of this part shall prevail with respect to unemployment compensation disability benefits, and the provisions of Part 1 shall prevail with respect to unemployment compensation benefits.

(b) The provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 1401) of Chapter 5 of Part 1, and the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 1501) of Part 1, of this division do not apply to this part.

(c) Sections 312, 312.1, 318, 319, 1251, 1253, 1254, 1255, 1262, 1279, 1326 to 1333, inclusive, 1339, 1340, 1375 to 1378, inclusive, and 1380 do not apply to this part.

SEC. 3. Section 13 of Chapter 591 of the Statutes of 1975 is amended to read:

Sec. 13. The changes made in the Unemployment Insurance Code by this act shall be operative with respect to wages paid on and after January 1, 1976, except that no new claim for benefits based solely on base period wages paid on or after January 1, 1976, for agricultural labor, and not more than seven hundred forty-nine dollars ($749) in other types of wages in the base period, shall be valid if the effective date of such new claim is on, or prior to, the last day on which an initial claim for special unemployment assistance may be filed under the Federal Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974, or prior to May 1, 1977, whichever is earlier. The provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Code amended or repealed by this act as they existed prior to the changes made by this act shall remain applicable and are continued in effect with respect to remuneration paid prior to January 1, 1976, and for purposes of eligibility for benefits with respect to new claims based solely on base period wages paid on or after January 1, 1976, for agricultural labor, and not more than seven hundred forty-nine dollars ($749) in other types of wages in the base period, and which have effective dates on, or prior to, the last day on which an initial claim for special unemployment assistance may be filed under the Federal Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974, or prior to May 1, 1977, whichever is earlier.

SEC. 4. The provisions of Section 3 of this act shall become inoperative, and the provisions of Section 13 of Chapter 591 of the Statutes of 1975 as they existed prior to the amendments made by Section 3 of this act shall be operative and continue in effect, if the provisions of Section 3 of this act cannot be given effect without causing the denial of special unemployment assistance under the Federal Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Under Section 208 of the Federal Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974, as amended by Public Law 94-45, California farmworkers can establish claims for federal special unemployment assistance up to August 1, 1976. On and after August 1, 1976, under Section 203 of such federal act those federal claims will end for all California farmworkers who have qualifying wages for state benefits based only on wages paid in the first quarter of 1976. Many farmworkers will have California claims with sharply reduced benefit awards unless immediate action is taken to preserve their federal benefit rights by deferring state benefits until May 1, 1977 or until special unemployment assistance benefits are no longer available under federal law, whichever is earlier. To meet the needs of these unemployed farmworkers and prevent drastic reductions in the unemployment benefits payable to them, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

The duties of regular official reporters appointed pursuant to this section shall be performed as elsewhere provided by law.

(b) The fee for official court reporters for reporting proceedings in contested cases shall be fifty-five dollars ($55) a day. All other fees of such reporters shall be as elsewhere provided by law. Where it is necessary to appoint a pro tempore reporter, the pro tempore reporter shall receive the same per diem fee paid regular official reporters of the municipal courts for the days the pro tempore reporter actually is on duty under order of the court. SEC. 4. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, in view of its constitutionally delegated responsibility of setting salaries for court reporters, it is necessary to obtain information regarding the total compensation paid to court reporters from all sources so as to allow proper evaluation of legislative proposals relating to court reporters' salaries on an ongoing basis.

Such legislative proposals are not made on a uniform, statewide basis, but on a county-by-county basis. Therefore, it is necessary to monitor the compensation provided court reporters on an individual county basis reflecting the periodic legislative proposals which are made for specific counties. Accordingly, this legislation affecting Tulare County is necessary to permit the Legislature to carry out its constitutionally delegated responsibility of setting court reporters' salaries in this county in view of the submitted request for an adjustment in the compensation provided to court reporters in such county.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to employ and maintain sufficient numbers of competent official reporters to meet the needs of the courts affected by this act, it is necessary that this act go into effect at the earliest possible time.

CHAPTER 339

An act to amend Sections 8740.1 and 8742 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to land surveyors.

CHAPTER 340

An act to amend Section 69995 of the Government Code, relating to courts.

[This bill became law without the Governor's signature July 7, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69995 of the Government Code is amended to read:

69995. (a) In Ventura County, a majority of the judges of the superior court may appoint as many competent official phonographic reporters as the business of the superior court requires, and as required to provide court reporting service to the municipal court of the county as provided in subdivision (c). The court may additionally employ as many pro tempore phonographic reporters as may from time to time be required to supplement the services of the official court reporters. The court may further appoint one of the official court reporters to serve as senior superior court reporter to coordinate and supervise the activities of official and pro tempore court reporters.

Official reporters of the superior court shall be exempt from the provisions of any civil service system as employees of the court. They shall serve at the pleasure of a majority of the judges thereof, subject to such court rules and policy as may be adopted by the judges for regulation of superior court personnel. Official and pro tempore superior court reporters shall provide court reporting services for such departments of the superior court and divisions of the municipal court, for such criminal, juvenile and civil proceedings, and proceedings before the grand jury, as directed by the presiding judges of the respective courts, subject to the provisions of this section.

(b) The salary paid to official full-time superior court reporters for services in reporting any and all testimony and proceedings in the superior and municipal courts and before the grand jury, shall be a five-step salary range with biweekly amounts equivalent to ninety percent (90%) of the corresponding steps in the established salary range for official superior court reporters in Los Angeles County. The initial hiring rate for official superior court reporters shall be the first step of the salary range, and subsequent increases within the range shall be at intervals of six months from the first to second step, and one year between each succeeding step, as determined by the court, based on satisfactory performance. Nothing herein shall prohibit the initial appointment or subsequent elevation of a reporter's salary from the steps herein specified, as may be determined by the court on the basis of experience, qualifications and meritorious performance. The salary of the official court reporter who is appointed to serve as senior superior court reporter, shall be fixed at ten percent (10%) above the biweekly salary steps specified for official superior court reporters.

The salary range of official court reporters may be adjusted by joint action and approval of the board of supervisors and a majority of the judges of the superior court. Such changes in compensation made pursuant to this provision shall be on an interim basis and shall expire January 1 following adjournment of the next regular session of the Legislature unless ratified at such session.

The per diem compensation for pro tempore reporters serving the superior or municipal court or the grand jury shall be established at one-tenth (1/10) of the top step in the biweekly salary range established for official superior court reporters, for each day of service or any portion thereof.

Official reporters of the superior court shall be entitled to all benefits provided for the employees of the county, including, but not limited to, participation in county retirement plans, vacation, holiday and sick leave benefits, and insurance plans. These benefits shall also include the same lump-sum payments for benefit accrual balances upon separation from service, as are made to employees of the county. All other compensation, fees, and benefits for official and pro tempore superior court reporters shall be as elsewhere provided by law.

(c) Upon request of the Presiding Judge of the Municipal Court of Ventura County, official and pro tempore reporters of the superior court shall act as pro tempore reporters in the municipal court in all proceedings of the municipal court where their services may be required. Official superior court reporters who are assigned to serve as pro tempore municipal court reporters under this provision, shall receive no additional compensation for such services, and pro tempore superior court reporters who are assigned to serve as pro tempore municipal court reporters shall not receive compensation in excess of one per diem fee for service in either or both of such courts on any single court day. Requests to provide the municipal court with the services of superior court reporters shall be directed to either the presiding judge or the executive officer of the superior court by either the presiding judge or the executive officer of the municipal court, and shall be effective only during the pleasure of the judges of both courts, a majority of the judges of each court concurring.

An act to amend Sections 18100, 18102.5, 18103, 20603, 20603.02, 20604, 20605, 20606, 21400, and 21403 of, to add Chapter 3.6 (commencing with Section 18135) to Part 1 of Division 5 of Title 2 of, and to add Sections 20022.2, 20750.27, 20750.32, 20750.87, 21222.8, 21222.9, and 21365.6 to, the Government Code, to amend Section 4707 of the Labor Code, and to amend Section 1451 of, and to add Chapter 2.4 (commencing with Section 2781) to Part 2 of Division 1 of, the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to state employees, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1976.]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 16 of Senate Bill No. 1555 from $55,176,821 to $37,126,821 by deleting the appropriations contained in subparagraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f).

The bill in its final form allocates over 243 million dollars for pay and benefit increases in conjunction with this year's budget. Of that amount, over 230 million dollars will be distributed equally to all state employees, with the remaining 12 million dollars plus allocated for special inequities. This represents a fair and reasonable pay and benefit level reflecting the meet and confer sessions held with state employee organizations. Most of the reduced funds had been earmarked for additional pay increases which would have eroded the across-the-board concept.

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No. 1555.

EDMUND G. BROWN JR., Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18100 of the Government Code is amended to read:

18100. Following completion of one month of continuous service, except as otherwise provided in Section 18102.5 of the Government Code, each state officer and employee who is employed full time shall be allowed one day of credit for sick leave with pay. Thereafter, for each additional calendar month of service, except as provided in Section 18100.5, one day of credit for sick leave with pay shall be allowed. Each state officer or employee is entitled to such leave with pay, on the submission of satisfactory proof of the necessity for sick leave as provided by rule of the State Personnel Board. For purposes of computing sick leave, each employee shall be considered to work not more than five days each week. The State Personnel Board shall provide by rule for the regulation and method of accumulation of sick leave for civil service employees, and may provide sick leave for those who work less than full time. Subject to board rule sick leave may be granted to employees for the purpose of physical examinations.

SEC. 1.2. Section 18102.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

18102.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law to the

If the employee is disabled because of an industrial injury arising out of said employment during said period the employee may elect to draw sick leave credit during such period of disability, such credit not to exceed one day of sick leave for each completed month of service that he is not earning sick leave credit and not to exceed a total of six days.

18136. When an employee is disabled, whether temporarily or permanently, he shall become entitled, regardless of his period of service and subject to the provisions of this chapter, to receive nonindustrial disability benefits, and payments of one-half his full pay, but not to exceed one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125) per week, payable monthly for a period not exceeding 26 weeks for any one disability benefit period, but in no case shall benefits be payable for any day on and after death or separation or retirement from state service.

18137. A disabled employee is eligible to receive nonindustrial disability benefits under this chapter equal to one-seventh of his weekly benefit amount specified in Section 18136 for each full day during which he is unemployed due to a disability only if the director finds that:

(c) He has exhausted all such leave to which he was entitled under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 18100) of this part.

(d) Except for an individual described in Section 2709 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, he has submitted to such reasonable examinations as the director may require for the purpose of determining his mental or physical disability.

18137.5. A disabled employee shall be eligible to receive nonindustrial disability benefits under this chapter without being required to use any vacation leave accrued under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 18052) of Part 1 of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code, unless the employee, in his or her sole discretion, elects to use such vacation leave in lieu of receiving benefits under this chapter, in which case benefits under this chapter shall not commence until the employee has exhausted such accrued vacation leave.

18138. An employee is not eligible for disability benefits under this chapter with respect to any period for which the director finds that he has received or is entitled to receive unemployment compensation benefits under Part 1 (commencing with Section 100) of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code or under an unemployment compensation act of any other state or of the federal government.

(2) Temporary disability benefits under any employer's liability law of this state or of any other state or of the federal government.

(c) If such "other benefits" are less than the amount an individual would otherwise receive as disability benefits under this chapter, he shall be entitled to receive, for such day, if otherwise eligible, disability benefits under this chapter reduced by the amount of such "other benefits." If after receipt of, or determination of entitlement to receive, such other benefits, a claim for disability benefits under this chapter is filed during the same continuous period of disability, because of a disability for which a claim for such other benefits was made, the maximum amount of disability benefits payable under this chapter during the disability benefit period thereby established shall be reduced by the amount of such "other benefits" which the claimant has received or has been determined to be entitled to receive.

18140. Discretionary deductions of the employee, including those for coverage under a state health benefits plan in which the employee is enrolled, shall be deducted from the disability benefits under this chapter unless canceled by the employee. An employee shall not accrue sick leave or vacation credit or service credit for any other purpose during the period of receipt of disability benefits under this chapter.

18141. Filing, determination, and payment of disability benefit claims under this chapter shall be made in accordance with the procedures prescribed by Article 4 (commencing with Section 2701) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

No such award may exceed the cost of tuition and fees, and shall in no event exceed the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars ($2,700). Such awards may not be utilized for graduate study, and may be renewed for a total of four years of full-time attendance after first entering a postsecondary education institution in an instructional program or an equivalent thereof, provided that financial need continues to exist.

Grants awarded under this chapter shall be for living expenses, transportation, supplies and books, according to the student's financial need, and shall not be in excess of one thousand one hundred dollars ($1,100) per academic year. The Student Aid Commission may also award such grants and an additional amount to pay tuition and fees to attend college at a public or private four-year college or university or other eligible postsecondary educational institution. SEC. 6. Section 41007 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41007. Each competitive scholarship is for the period of one academic year and the award shall be for three hundred dollars ($300) to not to exceed two thousand seven hundred dollars ($2,700) in one-hundred-dollar ($100) amounts at the college the award winner will attend, as required by applicant's financial need, as determined by the commission, but in no event in excess of an amount equal to the tuition or necessary fees, or both tuition and fees, for the academic year, including summer terms, sessions, or quarters of the institution at which the scholarship is used. No competitive scholarship awarded to an applicant under this section for the period of one academic year shall exceed the total amount of two thousand seven hundred dollars ($2,700); except that the commission may, for students who accelerate college attendance, increase the amount of award for one academic year proportional to the period of additional attendance resulting from attendance at a summer term, session, or quarter. In the aggregate, the total amount a student would receive in a four-year period may not be increased as a result of accelerating his progress to a degree by attending summer terms, sessions, or quarters. The commission may provide by appropriate rules and regulations for such reports, accounting, and statements from the award winner and college or university of attendance pertaining to the use or application of the award as it may deem proper. A competitive scholarship may be renewed annually without an additional competitive examination until the award winner has received four annual awards or until he has been graduated from such an institution in an undergraduate course, whichever is the earlier, provided that at or prior to such renewal the commission shall reassess the financial needs of such award winner and establish the amount of the award within the limits prescribed by this section. The scholarship shall remain in effect only during the period that the award winner achieves satisfactory academic progress and is regularly enrolled as a full-time student in an institution of collegiate grade, as described in Section 41006, or commencing with the 1977–78 academic year, as a part-time student as specified in Section 40404.

CHAPTER 344

An act to amend Section 16735 of, and to add and repeal Division 12.4 (commencing with Section 16690) of, the Education Code, relating to child care, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Division 12.4 (commencing with Section 16690) is added to the Education Code, to read:

DIVISION 12.4. ALTERNATIVE CHILD CARE PROGRAMS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

16690. This division shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1979, and as of that date is repealed.

The Legislature declares that it is necessary to design effective and economical methods for meeting the future requirements of California families eligible for subsidized child care. Therefore,

(a) It is the intent of the Legislature that funds allocated pursuant to this division shall:

(1) Test potential cost-reducing features and delivery methods on a trial basis in child care programs; and

(2) Insure that a broad range of services is available to maximize the opportunity for parental choice.

(b) It is further the intent of the Legislature that child care programs funded through this division be designed to:

(1) Address the unmet needs in urban, suburban, and rural areas of the state;

(2) Encourage community level coordination in support of child care services; and

(3) Offer replicable features which may be adopted by other child care provider agencies.

(c) The Legislature further declares its intent to fund programs that may be implemented through a variety of delivery systems.

16690.1. Eligibility for subsidized child care services pursuant to this division shall be based on a family's ability to pay, as determined by family size and gross income. Initial eligibility shall be limited to families whose gross income is 84 percent or less of California's median family income, adjusted for family size. Priority in the initial admission to a program providing such services shall be given to working single-parent families and working families with the lowest income, and single-parent families or families with the lowest income who require subsidized child care in order to maintain or commence an employment training plan or in order to seek employment.

Exceptions to these eligibility and priority standards may be made for children who are neglected or abused, or at risk of being neglected or abused, upon written referral from a public or voluntary social service agency.

16690.2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish a fee schedule for families utilizing services provided pursuant to this division. The schedule shall define fees as a proportionate share of actual or maximum reimbursable program costs, whichever is less. The fees assessed under this schedule shall begin at 10 percent of program costs for families whose gross monthly income is 50 percent of the state median income, adjusted for family size, and shall progress proportionately to 100 percent of program costs for families whose gross monthly income is 115 percent of the state median income adjusted for family size. No recipient of public assistance shall pay a fee.

16690.3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish guidelines according to which providers of services pursuant to this division will certify children as eligible for reimbursement pursuant to Sections 16690.1 and 16690.2.

16690.4. The maximum reimbursement rate by the Department of Education for child-hour costs for child care services provided pursuant to this division shall be one dollar and fourteen cents ($1.14), minus parent fees, or the actual program costs, minus parent fees, whichever is less, for children age two years and over. For children under two years of age, the maximum reimbursement level shall be one dollar and thirty-five cents ($1.35), minus parent fees, or actual program costs, minus parent fees, whichever is less. These maximum reimbursement rates may be waived, on a limited basis, by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon approval of the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, for programs that demonstrate a need for increased reimbursement due to special circumstances directly related to the health and welfare of participating children.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction may authorize increased reimbursement for such programs not sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity therefor to the chairman of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than lesser time as the chairman of said committee, or his designee, may in each instance determine.

If programs operated pursuant to this division utilize reimbursement procedures other than payment per child-hour, the cost per child, when converted to child-hours, shall not exceed the applicable maximum reimbursement level.

CHAPTER 2. ADMINISTRATION AND WAIVER PROVISIONS

16691. All programs operated pursuant to this division shall be by contract with the Department of Education and shall adhere to all applicable rules and regulations established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Such rules and regulations shall be adopted after the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency has been given an opportunity to provide his advice and recommendations and shall be consistent with the operative licensing interagency agreement between the Department of Education and the Department of Health.

16691.1. To promote greater program flexibility for programs under this division, the requirements of Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16700) are not applicable to programs established pursuant to this division. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may waive other Education Code provisions for the implementation of programs established pursuant to this division.

16691.2. All programs authorized by the Department of Education pursuant to this division, shall, as a minimum, comply with the standards of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 31001) of Subdivision 4 of Part II of Division 2 of Title 22 of the California Administrative Code (adopted pursuant to Sections 10552, 10553, and 10554 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and pursuant to Sections 1527, 1530, and 1531 of the Health and Safety Code), until such time as Chapter 6 of Division 6 of Title 22 of the California Administrative Code is operative, and at such time shall comply with the standards of such provisions.

16691.3. In order to assess the effectiveness and economy of the various child care delivery models tested through the provisions of this division, each provider agency shall submit to the Superintendent of Public Instruction at least annually, a report, in a form and manner prescribed by the superintendent after consultation with the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency. Such reports shall include such statistical data, program description, and fiscal information as the superintendent may require.

16691.4. The superintendent shall submit to the Legislature and the Governor a preliminary report by May 1, 1977, and an annual report thereafter prior to November 1 of each year, on the child care programs implemented for the preceding fiscal year under this division. This report shall include an assessment by the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the degree to which programs implemented pursuant to this division have met the purpose of this division as set forth in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 16690. Such report shall also include the superintendent's recommendations for appropriate regulatory and statutory changes.

The report shall include, as a minimum, the following:

(a) Statistical data enumerating and describing children and families served by the programs, including distributions of families and children by income levels, by ethnic groupings, by children's ages, by marital status of parents, by reasons for receiving child care service (i.e., employment, training, education, protection), by public assistance status, and by family size.

(b) Statistical data enumerating and describing the characteristics of programs, including the types of programs in terms of size and type of facilities utilized, types of agencies operating programs, and the staff-child ratios and the staff composition for each type of program and for each type of operating agency.

(c) Cost data describing the total costs and the average cost per hour of service for each type of program and for each type of operating agency.

(d) Evaluative data describing the quality of child development programs in accordance with measurement criteria as established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction after consultation with the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency.

16691.5. The Department of Education shall contract, after consultation with the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, for an independent comparative evaluation of data collected pursuant to Section 16691.4 and similar program reporting requirements of Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16700). Such evaluation shall include: (1) validation of the data collected to meet reporting requirements for this division and Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16700); (2) comparison between like models under this division; and (3) comparison of like models funded under this division which contain comparable components with models funded under Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16700). The preliminary evaluation shall be submitted to the Legislature by January 1, 1978, and the final evaluation shall be submitted to the Legislature by January 1, 1979.

CHAPTER 3. PAYMENT PROCEDURES

16692. Upon the approval of the Department of Education, funds appropriated for the purposes of this division may be used for vendor payment arrangements to allow for maximum parental choice. The specific design of the vendor payment arrangement may be developed at the local level and various methods of reimbursement for parental costs for child care may be employed. All such arrangements must conform to the eligibility criteria and the parent fee schedule established pursuant to Sections 16690.1 and 16690.2.

16692.1. This division shall not be construed as requiring one type of reimbursement structure. Options for reimbursement processes include, but are not limited to: hourly rate reimbursement based on actual child-hours of attendance, unit reimbursement per child, or direct grants for yearly operation. All such processes shall be subject to the maximum reimbursement levels established by Section 16690.4.

16692.2. The Department of Education may authorize a cash advance of up to 10 percent of a child care provider's estimated grant to provide initial working capital.

CHAPTER 4. DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAMS

16693. Delivery systems, approved by the Department of Education, and funded pursuant to this division, may include, but are not limited to, individual family day care homes and networks of family day care homes, group, and center child care approaches and networks of such arrangements which provide nonmedical care to the infants and preschool and and school-age children under 18 years of age during a portion of the day. Flexibility may be added to center programs by affiliating with family day care homes, by coordinating efforts with a resource and referral center, or by arranging to provide direct family subsidies to expand the number of care options. Family day care networks may furnish a variety of services to providers and users while children are cared for in family day care homes. Family day care providers may choose to remain independent or to affiliate either with each other, with a service agency, or with a child care center in a satellite relationship.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall encourage the establishment of worksite child care centers by private organizations and companies or by incorporated parent groups.

16693.1. Program variations shall include at least one cost-reducing feature or delivery method which may include:

(a) Modification of child-staff ratios for specific age groups;
(b) Modification of child-teacher ratios for specific age groups;
(c) Expanded use of differentiated staffing;
(d) Expanded use of volunteers;
(e) Increased coordination and use of local resources; and
(f) Coordinated use of family day care homes and center facilities.

16693.2. Programs operated pursuant to this division may be designed to meet special needs identified by parents, which may include, but are not limited to: before school and after school care for school age children, expanding to full day care during school holidays and summer vacation; weekend care; night shift care; worksite care; temporary emergency child care; child care for ill children; and programs to allow older children to check in at a family day care home and proceed individually to supervised activities elsewhere.

CHAPTER 5. SUPPORT SERVICES

16694. Upon approval of the Department of Education after consultation with the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, funds appropriated for the purposes of this division may be used for minor capital outlay purchases and facility renovation, by child care organizations and family day care home operators for the purpose of insuring compliance with local health and safety standards as well as state standards prescribed in Section 16691.2. Funds appropriated for this purpose shall be allocated only to public entities, which may, in turn, enter into agreements with a public agency or with a private foundation, a nonprofit corporation, a proprietary organization or facility, or with a family day care home operator, in order to carry out the provisions of this section. Requests and justification for such grants for capital outlay purchases, and facility renovations must be submitted to the Department of Education for prior approval. Approved expenditures may be on a depreciation basis or a loan basis and shall be processed and accounted for by the public entity which is the recipient of the grant. Approval for expenditure of funds in these ways will be granted only for renovations necessary to meet required local health and safety standards, as well as state standards prescribed in Section 16691.2.

16694.1. Funds appropriated for the purposes of division may be used for resource and referral centers which may be operated by public or private entities. For purposes of this division, resource and referral centers, established in a definite geographic area, may provide, but are not limited to, the following support services and coordinating functions:

16694.3. Funds provided for support services pursuant to Sections 16694, 16694.1, and 16694.2, shall not be included in determination of a program's maximum reimbursement level, as established by Section 16690.4.

16694.4. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 16691.1, no program funded pursuant to this chapter may include religious worship or instruction, nor may any funds be used for the general support of any private or church-related school system.

CHAPTER 6. APPLICATION PROCEDURES

16695. Funds appropriated for the purposes of this division may be allocated for programs proposed by groups and organizations not currently delivering child care services. Nothing in this division shall preclude existing child care provider agencies from applying for the funds made available under this division, provided that such agencies demonstrate an unmet need and serve additional children through a separately identified program using one or more alternative implementation designs as described in Sections 16693.1 and 16693.2. Individuals or small groups may apply directly to the Department of Education or participate in a subcontract arrangement for the provision of child care services authorized by this division.

(b) A description of available services and facilities within the defined geographical area;

(c) Documentation of unmet need for child care to be provided by the applicant;

(d) A description of the applicant's proposed program, by type and purpose, also including evidence of community support factors, the present availability of resources, and the applicant's administrative capability; and

(e) Such additional information as is determined to be needed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

16695.3. Upon receipt of applications by the Department of Education, the data supplied by each applicant shall be used to assign relative funding priority, on the basis of criteria developed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction after consultation with the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency. Such criteria may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Unit cost, according to the type and scope of the proposed program;

(b) Use of cost-reducing features described in Section 16693.1;

(c) Quality and validity of needs data;

(d) Extent of unmet need;

(e) Proposed impact on unmet need;

(f) Number of families to be served who are eligible for subsidy pursuant to this division;

(g) Uniqueness of delivery system;

(h) Administrative capability;

(i) Community support factors; and

(j) Degree of parental choice.

16695.4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall seek to fund a variety of applicants so that groups from various sectors, such as public agencies, private agencies, business-sponsored groups, community-based groups, and educational institutions are represented.

16695.5. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall include within the annual budget of the Department of Education an amount sufficient to fund programs established pursuant to this division.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 739 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

739. (a) The commission shall designate a lifeline volume of gas and a lifeline quantity of electricity which is necessary to supply the minimum energy needs of the average residential user for the following end uses: space and water heating, lighting, cooking and food refrigerating, provided that in estimating such volumes and quantities the commission shall take into account differentials in energy needs between utility customers whose residential energy needs are supplied by electricity and gas. The commission shall also take into account differentials in energy needs caused by geographic differences by differences in severity of climate, and by season. Where there is a master meter and the end use is residential, there shall be a lifeline volume and quantity available and apportioned to each residential unit.

(b) The commission shall require that every electrical and gas corporation file a schedule of rates and charges providing a lifeline rate. The lifeline rate shall be not greater than the rates in effect on January 1, 1976. The commission shall authorize no increase in the lifeline rate until the average system rate in cents per killowatt-hour or cents per therm increased 25 percent or more over the January 1, 1976, level.

(c) Nothing shall preclude the commission from reducing any rate established pursuant to subdivision (a) either specifically or pursuant to any general restructuring of all electrical or gas rates, charges, and classifications.

(d) As used in this section, the term "residential" means domestic human needs end use and excludes industrial, commercial, and every other category of end use other than wholesale.

(e) Wholesale electrical or gas purchases and the rates charged therefor shall be exempted from the provisions of this section.

(a) For each needy family which includes one or more needy children qualified for aid under this chapter, except as provided in Section 11403, there shall be paid, notwithstanding minimum basic standards of adequate care established by the department under Section 11452, an amount of aid each month which when added to his income, exclusive of any amounts considered exempt as income or paid pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section or Section 11453.1, is equal to the sums specified in the following table, as adjusted for cost-of-living increases or decreases pursuant to Section 11453:

Number of eligible needy persons in the same home	Maximum aid

10 or more	716

If, when and during such times as the United States government increases or decreases its contributions in assistance of needy children in this state above or below the amount paid on July 1, 1972, the amounts specified in the above table shall be increased or decreased by an amount equal to such increase or decrease by the United States government, provided that no such increase or decrease shall be subject to subsequent adjustment pursuant to Section 11453.

(b) For children receiving foster care who are qualified for aid under the provisions of this chapter, except as provided in Section 11403, there shall be paid the sum necessary for the adequate care of each child, but not to exceed in any month the product of one hundred twenty dollars ($120) multiplied by the number of children in each county receiving foster care. The state shall pay 67.5 percent and the county shall pay 32.5 percent of the aid furnished for the adequate care of such children.

(c) As used in this chapter, "foster care" means care in a boarding home or institution.

(d) (1) In addition to the amounts payable under subdivision (a) of this section and Section 11453.1, a family shall be entitled to receive an allowance for recurring special needs not common to a majority of recipients. The county shall pay the full cost of the additional aid furnished needy families pursuant to this subdivision after first deducting therefrom any funds received from the federal government. Such recurring special needs shall include but not be limited to special diets upon the recommendation of a physician, and unusual costs of transportation, laundry, housekeeping service, telephone, and utilities not to exceed the minimum basic standards of adequate care.

(2) A family shall also be entitled to receive an allowance, at county expense after first deducting therefrom any funds received from the federal government, for nonrecurring special needs caused by sudden and unusual circumstances beyond the control of the needy family; provided, however, that such needs shall not be taken into consideration in determining the eligibility of the family for aid.

(3) The department shall establish rules and regulations assuring the uniform application statewide of the provisions of this subdivision.

(e) Except for the purposes of Section 15200, the amounts payable to recipients pursuant to Section 11453.1 shall not constitute part of the payment schedule set forth in subdivision (a) of this section.

The amounts payable to recipients pursuant to Section 11453.1 shall not constitute income to recipients of aid under this section.

SEC. 2. Section 11452 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11452. Minimum basic standards of adequate care shall be distributed to the counties and shall be binding upon them. Such standards are hereby determined on the basis of the schedule set forth in this section, as adjusted for cost-of-living increases or decreases pursuant to Section 11453, which schedule is designed to insure:

(1) Safe, healthful housing.

(2) Minimum clothing for health and decency.

(3) Low-cost adequate food budget meeting recommended dietary allowances of the National Research Council.

(4) Utilities.

(5) Other items including household operation, education and incidentals, recreation, personal needs, and insurance.

(6) Allowance for essential medical, dental, or other remedial care to the extent not otherwise provided at public expense.

(7) Other recurring special needs.

The schedule of minimum basic standards of adequate care is as follows:

plus five dollars ($5) for each additional needy person.

The department shall establish rules and regulations assuring the uniform application statewide of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 11453 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11453. The amounts set forth in Section 11452 and subdivision (a) of Section 11450 shall be adjusted annually by the department to reflect any increases or decreases in the cost of living occurring after December 31, 1975, so that the first such adjustment becomes effective July 1, 1977. The average of the separate indices of the cost of living for Los Angeles and San Francisco, as published by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, shall be used as the basis for determining the changes in the cost of living.

In giving effect to the cost-of-living provisions of this section, the department shall select a comparison month for computation of the percentage change in the cost of living after December 31, 1975. The same month shall be used annually thereafter. The determination of whether an adjustment is to be made, and the amount of such adjustment, shall be made by comparing the average index for the comparison month with the average index for December 1975. The product of any percentage increase or decrease in the average index and the amounts to which each needy family is entitled shall be adjusted by the dollar amount of any cost-of-living change currently in effect pursuant to the provisions of this section. If the resultant amount, when adjusted to the nearer dollar, is one dollar ($1) or more, it shall be added to or subtracted from the schedule set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 11450 and the schedule set forth in Section 11452. The resultant schedules shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

SEC. 4. Section 12201 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

12201. The payment schedules to go into effect July 1 of each year, beginning with the payment to be made July 1, 1976, shall represent the sum of two components. The first, the initial payment schedule, shall be the amounts set forth in Section 12200 under the law in effect and as paid on January 1, 1974. These are:

(a) For a blind applicant or recipient, the sum of two hundred sixty-five dollars ($265) per month and for a married couple both qualifying for benefits under this chapter as blind, the sum of five hundred thirty dollars ($530) per month.

(b) For a married couple, both qualifying for benefits under this chapter, and one of whom is blind, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) per month.

(c) For an aged or disabled applicant or recipient, the sum of two hundred thirty-five dollars ($235) per month.

(d) For a married couple both qualifying for benefits under this chapter as aged or disabled, the sum of four hundred forty dollars ($440) per month.

(e) For an aged or disabled applicant or recipient under subdivision (c) or for a married couple under subdivision (d) whose living arrangement prevents preparation of his or their meals at home shall be entitled to an allowance of twenty-five dollars ($25) per month for an individual and fifty dollars ($50) per month for a married couple in addition to any other amount to which he is entitled under this chapter.

(f) For a disabled minor under 18 living with a parent or guardian or relative by blood or marriage, an amount equal to the state-adjusted payment level determined pursuant to Section 401 of Title IV of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1972, per month; this amount, as paid on January 1, 1974, was two hundred thirteen dollars ($213).

(g) For a recipient in a nonmedical out-of-home care facility, the sum established pursuant to Section 13922 per month; this amount, as paid on January 1, 1974, was two hundred eighty-three dollars ($283).

(h) For the personal and incidental needs of a person receiving care in a medical facility under the Medi-Cal Act, the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) per month.

(i) In the case of any individual or couple whose federal benefit received under Part A of Title XVI of the Social Security Act is reduced in accordance with Section 1612(a)(2)(A) of Public Law 92-603 because the individual or couple lives in another person's household and receives support and maintenance in kind from such person, the appropriate grant level set forth in subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of the reduction in the federal benefit, subject to the provisions in Section 12204.

The second component, the cost-of-living adjustment to be added to the initial payment schedule, shall reflect any increases or decreases in the cost of living occurring after July 1, 1973. The cost-of-living adjustment shall be based on changes in the average of the separate Consumer Price Indices (all items) for Los Angeles-Long Beach and San Francisco-Oakland as published by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The payment to be made July 1, 1976, shall be based upon the change in the average indices to December 1975. The same comparison month, December, shall be used annually thereafter. The cost-of-living adjustment for individuals under this section shall be computed by applying the percentage increase or decrease in the average index, from the base month to the comparison month, to the following base amounts and the products rounded to the nearest dollar:

(1) One hundred sixty-nine dollars ($169) for an individual under subdivision (a).

(2) One hundred forty-four dollars ($144) for an individual under subdivision (c).

(3) Twenty-five dollars ($25) for an individual under subdivision (e).

(4) Forty-six dollars ($46) for an individual under subdivision (f).

(5) One hundred forty dollars ($140) for an individual under subdivision (g).

The adjustments for couples shall be found by adding the adjustments for each member of the couple. The cost-of-living adjustments, for both individuals and couples, shall then be added to the corresponding initial payment schedules as set forth in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) of this section. The resultant sums shall constitute the new schedules for the categories given under subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of Section 12200, and shall be filed with the Secretary of State. The amount as set forth in (h) of Section 12200 shall be adjusted annually pursuant to this section in the event that the secretary agrees to administer payment under that subdivision. The payment schedule for subdivision (i) of Section 12200 shall be computed as specified, based on the new payment schedules for subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Section 12200.

SEC. 5. Section 12205 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

12205. If, when and during such times as the federal benefits under Part A of Title XVI of the Social Security Act are increased by reason of Section 1617 of the Social Security Act (or are increased for reasons other than cost of living and such increases are accompanied by an increase in federal benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act) above the one hundred sixty-eight dollars ($168) per month level for an eligible individual and the two hundred fifty-two dollars ($252) per month level for an eligible individual and eligible spouse, the amount of the payment schedules as set forth in Section 12200, excluding subdivision (h), shall be increased by the amounts by which federal benefits exceed the one hundred sixty-eight dollars ($168) and the two hundred fifty-two dollars ($252) levels, rounded to the nearest dollar.

Increases in federal benefits under Part A of Title XVI for reasons other than cost of living which are not accompanied by an increase in federal benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act shall be added to the payment schedules as set forth in Section 12200, excluding subdivision (h), in accordance with the following method: The amount of the increase in the federal monthly benefit level shall be multiplied by the number of recipients who will benefit therefrom and the resultant amount divided by the total number of recipients eligible for assistance under the provisions of this chapter at the time the increases are to go into effect, and the quotient rounded to the nearest dollar. This amount shall determine the increase in the aforementioned payment schedules.

Subsequent to the first increase pursuant to this section, each additional increase in the Title XVI federal benefit levels added to the payment schedules of Section 12200, excepting subdivision (h), shall be based on the difference between the federal benefit levels immediately applicable prior to an increase thereto and the federal benefit levels immediately applicable thereafter.

The director shall notify the Secretary of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the amount of the increases to be added pursuant to this section to the payment schedules in Section 12200, no later than 15 working days following the date on which the director is notified by the secretary in writing of the amounts of the increases to federal benefits.

Increases to the payment schedule provided by this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 12205.2.

SEC. 5.5. Section 12205.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Upon receipt of such an order, the clerk of the court shall transfer the property to the county purchasing and stores agency or other proper county agency for sale to the public.

At any time prior to the time fixed for the transfer, the owner or any person entitled to the possession of any of such exhibits may obtain from the court an order returning them to him.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act will enable the Public Employees' Retirement Fund to dispose of the certificates of state and local agencies involved in exchange for other securities to significantly increase yield and must take effect immediately to provide the Public Employees' Retirement Fund with the additional revenues as soon as possible.

CHAPTER 392

An act to amend Section 24871 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to alcoholic beverages.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24871 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

24871. Quantity discounts to retailers shall be permitted only when actual delivery of a single order is begun and completed to the same premises within a period not to exceed 48 hours, except in the case of accident, strike, insurrection, riot, or act of God, and then delivery shall be made within 48 hours after such occurrence ends. The total quantity and prompt payment discounts, if any, to retailers shall not exceed 10 percent per case for case lots. Brands owned or controlled for the purpose of filing price schedules pursuant to this chapter by the same winegrower or wholesaler, may be combined for quantity and prompt payment discounts.

Quantity discounts to consumers shall not exceed 10 percent on quantity sales of a case or more. A case for the purpose of the preceding sentence and for Section 24871.5 shall contain 2.3 gallons or more of wine consisting of containers of the same size. The term "containers of the same size" includes wine in metric measure containers and wine in United States standard measure containers which contain substantially the same amount of wine. A quantity sale to a consumer is a single transaction and is accomplished in a single delivery.

Prompt payment discounts to retailers shall be permitted only when the seller actually receives payment in cash or its equivalent within the specified period after date of delivery. Postdated checks or checks returned for nonpayment shall not be deemed the equivalent of cash.

Permitted discounts shall not be taken in merchandise.

CHAPTER 393

An act to amend Section 2 of Chapter 22 of the Statutes of 1976, relating to eminent domain, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of Chapter 22 of the Statutes of 1976 is amended to read:

Sec. 7. (a) Except to the extent otherwise provided in subdivision (b) of Section 1230.065 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which becomes operative July 1, 1976, and subdivision (b) of this section, any eminent domain proceeding commenced prior to July 1, 1976, shall be governed by the law in effect on December 31, 1975.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any quasi-public entity, as defined in Section 1245.330 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which becomes operative July 1, 1976, which has commenced an eminent domain proceeding shall obtain, prior to the commencement of trial of that proceeding, a resolution from a legislative body as required by Article 3 (commencing with Section 1245.310) of Chapter 4 of Title 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which becomes operative July 1, 1976, if the summons in that proceeding has not been served on the defendants by April 1, 1976, in the manner prescribed by Article 2 (commencing with Section 1250.110) of Chapter 5 of Title 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which becomes operative July 1, 1976.

SEC. 2. This is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Chapter 1275 of the Statutes of 1975 enacted new procedures for allowing local governmental bodies to participate in the determination of the appropriateness of eminent domain proceedings by quasi-public entities, and is operative on July 1, 1976. However, these provisions of Chapter 1275 of the Statutes of 1975 will not be applicable to proceedings commenced, but not yet at the trial stage, on July 1, 1976. This creates a possibility that numerous proposed acquisitions by quasi-public entities will not be evaluated by local governments as intended by Chapter 1275 of the Statutes of 1975. This act would assure that local governmental participation will apply to those proposed acquisitions encompassed in proceedings commenced prior to the operative date, but not yet at the trial stage.

In order that this purpose can be accomplished, it is necessary that this act take effect as soon as possible.

CHAPTER 394

An act to amend Section 21451 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

04446 293355 888

such location. A semicircular or U-turn shall be made from the far left-hand lane that is lawfully available to traffic moving in the direction of travel from which the turn is commenced. However, vehicular traffic, including vehicles turning right or left, shall yield the right-of-way to other vehicles and to pedestrians which were lawfully within the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk at the time such signal was first exhibited.

(b) Pedestrians facing the signal may proceed across the roadway within any marked or unmarked crosswalk, but shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles which were lawfully within the intersection at the time such signal was first exhibited.

CHAPTER 395

An act to add Section 1360 to the Civil Code, relating to real property.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1360 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1360. (a) The owner of a lot or unit in any of the subdivisions referred to in Section 11004.5 of the Business and Professions Code, shall as soon as practicable before transfer of title or the execution of a real property sales contract as defined in Section 2985, give to the prospective purchaser a copy of the declarations of restrictions, bylaws and articles of incorporation affecting rights to the property being offered for transfer.

(b) Upon written request, the governing body of any of the subdivisions referred to in subdivision (a) shall within 10 days of the mailing or delivery of such request provide the owner of a lot or unit in such subdivision with a copy of the declarations of restrictions, bylaws and articles of incorporation applicable to such subdivision as of the date of such request. The governing body may impose a fee for providing such documents, but in no event shall such fee exceed the reasonable cost to prepare and reproduce the requested documents.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the transfer of a lot or unit the transfer of which is required to be preceded by the furnishing to a prospective purchaser of a copy of a public report pursuant to Section 11018.1 of the Business and Professions Code.

(d) Any person or entity who willfully violates the provisions of this section shall be liable to the purchaser of a lot, or unit which is subject to the provisions of this section for the actual damages and in addition thereto shall pay a penal sum in an amount not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), and in an action to enforce such liability, the prevailing party shall be awarded reasonable attorney's fees.

(e) Nothing in this section shall affect the validity of title to real property transferred in violation of the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 396

An act to amend Section 3097 of the Civil Code, as amended by Chapter 46 of the 1975 Statutes, relating to works of improvement.

[Approved by Governor July 8, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 9, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3097 of the Civil Code, as amended by Chapter 46 of the 1975 Statutes, is amended to read:

3097. "Preliminary 20-day notice (private work)" means a written notice from a claimant that is given prior to the recording of a mechanic's lien and prior to the filing of a stop notice, and is required to be given under the following circumstances:

(a) Except one under direct contract with the owner or one performing actual labor for wages, or an express trust fund described in Section 3111, every person who furnishes labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this title, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this title, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien, and of a notice to withhold, cause to be given to the owner or reputed owner, to the original contractor, or reputed contractor, and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(b) Except the contractor, or one performing actual labor for wages, or an express trust fund described in Section 3111, all persons who have a direct contract with the owner and who furnish labor, service, equipment, or material for which a lien otherwise can be claimed under this title, or for which a notice to withhold can otherwise be given under this title, must, as a necessary prerequisite to the validity of any claim of lien, and of a notice to withhold, cause to be given to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, a written preliminary notice as prescribed by this section.

(c) The preliminary notice referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) shall be given not later than 20 days after the claimant has first furnished labor, service, equipment, or materials to the jobsite, and shall contain the following information:

(1) A general description of the labor, service, equipment, or materials furnished, or to be furnished, and if there is a construction lender, he shall be furnished with an estimate of the total price thereof in addition to the foregoing.

(2) The name and address of such person furnishing such labor, service, equipment, or materials.

(3) The name of the person who contracted for purchase of such labor, service, equipment, or materials.

(4) A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

(5) The following statement in boldface type:

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER

If bills are not paid in full for the labor, services, equipment, or materials furnished or to be furnished, a mechanic's lien leading to the loss, through court foreclosure proceedings, of all or part of your property being so improved may be placed against the property even though you have paid your contractor in full. You may wish to protect yourself against this consequence by (1) requiring your contractor to furnish a signed release by the person or firm giving you this notice before making payment to your contractor or (2) any other method or device which is appropriate under the circumstances.

(6) If such notice is given by a subcontractor who is required pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement to pay supplemental fringe benefits into an express trust fund described in Section 3111, such notice shall also contain the identity and address of such trust fund or funds.

If an invoice for such materials contains the information required by this section, a copy of such invoice, transmitted in the manner prescribed by this section shall be sufficient notice.

A certificated architect, registered engineer, or licensed land surveyor who has furnished services for the design of the work of improvement and who gives a preliminary notice as provided in this section not later than 20 days after the work of improvement has commenced shall be deemed to have complied with subdivisions (a) and (b) with respect to architectural, engineering, or surveying services furnished, or to be furnished.

(d) If labor, service, equipment, or materials have been furnished to a jobsite by a person who elected not to give a preliminary notice as provided in subdivision (a) or (b), such person shall not be precluded from giving a preliminary notice not later than 20 days after furnishing other labor, service, equipment, or materials to the same jobsite. Such person shall, however, be entitled to claim a lien and a notice to withhold only for such labor, service, equipment, or material furnished within 20 days prior to the service of such notice, and at any time thereafter.

(e) Any agreement made or entered into by an owner, whereby the owner agrees to waive the rights or privileges conferred upon him by this section shall be void and of no effect.

(f) The notice required under this section may be served as follows:

(1) If the person to be notified resides in this state, by delivering the notice personally, or by leaving it at his address of residence or place of business with some person in charge, or by first-class registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the person to whom notice is to be given at his residence or place of business address or at the address shown by the building permit on file with the authority issuing a building permit for the work, or at an address recorded pursuant to subdivision (j) of this section.

(2) If the person to be notified does not reside in this state, by any method enumerated in paragraph (1) of this subdivision. If such person cannot be served by any of such methods, then notice may be given by first-class certified or registered mail, addressed to the construction lender or to the original contractor.

(3) When service is made by first-class certified or registered mail, service is complete at the time of the deposit of such registered or certified mail.

(g) A person required by this section to give notice to the owner and to an original contractor, and to a person to whom a notice to withhold may be given, need give only one such notice to the owner, and to the original contractor and to the person to whom a notice to withhold may be given with respect to all materials, service, labor, or equipment he furnishes for a work of improvement, which means the entire structure or scheme of improvements as a whole, unless the same is furnished under contracts with more than one subcontractor, in which event, the notice requirements must be met with respect to materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to each such contractor.

If a notice contains a general description required by subdivision (a) or (b) of the materials, services, labor, or equipment furnished to the date of notice, it is not defective because, after such date, the person giving notice furnishes materials, services, labor, or equipment not within the scope of such general description.

(h) Where the contract price to be paid to any subcontractor on a particular work of improvement exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), the failure of that contractor, licensed under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, to give the notice provided for in this section, constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

Where such notice is required to contain the information set forth in paragraph (6) of subdivision (c), a failure to give such notice, including such information, that results in the filing of a lien or the delivery of a stop notice by the express trust fund to which such obligation is owing constitutes grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors against the subcontractor if the amount due such trust fund is not paid.

(i) Every city, county, city and county, or other governmental authority issuing building permits shall, in its application form for a building permit, provide space and a designation for the applicant to enter the name, branch designation, if any, and address of the construction lender and shall keep the information on file open for public inspection during the regular business hours of the authority.

If there is no known construction lender, that fact shall be noted in such designated space. Any failure to indicate the name and address of the construction lender on such application, however, shall not relieve any person from the obligation to give to the construction lender the notice required by this section.

(j) A mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing a loan, any of the proceeds of which may be used for the purpose of constructing improvements on real property, shall bear the designation "Construction Trust Deed" prominently on its face and shall state all of the following: (1) the name and address of the lender, and the name and address of the owner of the real property described in the instrument, and (2) a legal description of the real property which secures the loan and, if known, the street address of the property. The failure to be so designated or to state any of the information required by this subdivision shall not affect the validity of any such mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument.

Failure to provide such information on such an instrument when recorded shall not relieve persons required to give preliminary notice under this section from such duty.

The county recorder of the county in which such instrument is recorded shall indicate in the general index of the official records of the county that such instrument secures a construction loan.

(k) Every contractor and subcontractor who is required pursuant to a collective-bargaining agreement to pay supplementary fringe benefits into an express trust fund described in Section 3111, and who has failed to do so shall cause to be given to such fund and to the construction lender, if any, or to the reputed construction lender, if any, not later than five days following the date such payment was due to such fund, a written notice containing:

(1) The name of the owner and the contractor.

(2) A description of the jobsite sufficient for identification.

(3) The identity and address of the express trust fund.

(4) The total number of straight-time and overtime hours on each such job, payment for which the contractor or subcontractor is delinquent to the express trust.

(5) The amount then past due and owing.

Failure to give such notice shall constitute grounds for disciplinary action by the Registrar of Contractors.

(l) Every written contract entered into between a property owner and an original contractor shall provide space for the owner to enter his name and address of residence; and place of business if any. The original contractor shall make available a copy of such contract for inspection by any person seeking to serve notice required by this section.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative on January 1, 1978.

(d) On projects which eliminate an existing crossing, or alter or reconstruct an existing grade separation, no allocation shall be made unless the railroad agrees to contribute 10 percent of the cost of the project.

(e) Where a project does not include a grade separation, but eliminates existing grade crossing or crossings, the allocation shall not exceed the estimated allocation that would have been made for the grade separation which is no longer needed because of the elimination of the grade crossing by the project and which are indicated on the priority list to be urgently in need of grade separation.

(f) Where the project includes the separation of a highway and a railroad passenger service operated by a city or county, the operating agency shall contribute 20 percent of the cost of the project. However, the allocation made pursuant to this chapter shall be computed as though such matching contribution was derived from nonfederal sources and shall be computed as though the railroad had made its contribution pursuant to state law rather than pursuant to federal law. Provided however, that where the contribution of the railroad is computed according to federal law or regulation because of the use of federal funds in the allocation for a project, the allocation shall be increased by the amount the share of the railroad is reduced below 10 percent of the estimated cost of the project.

(h) "Consumables" means any product which is intended for consumption by individuals, or use by individuals for purposes of personal care or in the performance of services ordinarily rendered within the household, and which usually is consumed or expended in the course of such consumption or use.

(i) "Place of business" means, for the purposes of any retail seller that sells consumer goods by catalog or mail order, the distribution point for such goods.

(j) "Return to the retail seller" means, for the purposes of any retail seller that sells consumer goods by catalog or mail order, the retail seller's place of business, as defined in subdivision (i).

SEC. 2. Section 1793.2 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1793.2. (a) Every manufacturer of consumer goods sold in this state and for which the manufacturer has made an express warranty shall:

(1) Maintain in this state sufficient service and repair facilities reasonably close to all areas where its consumer goods are sold to carry out the terms of such warranties or designate and authorize in this state as service and repair facilities independent repair or service facilities reasonably close to all areas where its consumer goods are sold to carry out the terms of such warranties.

As a means of complying with paragraph (1) of this subdivision, a manufacturer shall be permitted to enter into warranty service contracts with independent service and repair facilities. The warranty service contracts may provide for a fixed schedule of rates to be charged for warranty service or warranty repair work, however, the rates fixed by such contracts shall be in conformity with the requirements of Section 1793.3(c). The rates established pursuant to Section 1793.3(c), between the manufacturer and the independent service and repair facility, shall not preclude a good-faith discount which is reasonably related to reduced credit and general overhead cost factors arising from the manufacturer's payment of warranty charges direct to the independent. The warranty service contracts authorized by this paragraph shall not be executed to cover a period of time in excess of one year.

(2) In the event of a failure to comply with paragraph (1) of this subdivision, be subject to the provisions of Section 1793.5.

(b) Where such service and repair facilities are maintained in this state and service or repair of the goods is necessary because they do not conform with the applicable express warranties, service and repair shall be commenced within a reasonable time by the manufacturer or its representative in this state. Unless the buyer agrees in writing to the contrary, the goods must be serviced or repaired so as to conform to the applicable warranties within 30 days. Delay caused by conditions beyond the control of the manufacturer or his representatives shall serve to extend this 30-day requirement. Where such delay arises, conforming goods shall be tendered as soon as possible following termination of the condition giving rise to the delay.

(c) It shall be the duty of the buyer to deliver nonconforming goods to the manufacturer's service and repair facility within this state, unless, due to reasons of size and weight, or method of attachment, or method of installation, or nature of the nonconformity, such delivery cannot reasonably be accomplished. Should the buyer be unable to effect return of noncomforming goods for any of the above reasons, he shall notify the manufacturer or its nearest service and repair facility within the state. Written notice of nonconformity to the manufacturer or its service and repair facility shall constitute return of the goods for purposes of this section. Upon receipt of such notice of nonconformity the manufacturer shall, at its option, service or repair the goods at the buyer's residence, or pick up the goods for service and repair, or arrange for transporting the goods to its service and repair facility. All reasonable costs of transporting the goods when, pursuant to the above, a buyer is unable to effect return shall be at the manufacturer's expense. The reasonable costs of transporting nonconforming goods after delivery to the service and repair facility until return of the goods to the buyer shall be at the manufacturer's expense.

(d) Should the manufacturer or its representative in this state be unable to service or repair the goods to conform to the applicable express warranties, the manufacturer shall either replace the goods or reimburse the buyer in an amount equal to the purchase price paid by the buyer, less that amount directly attributable to use by the buyer prior to the discovery of the nonconformity.

SEC. 3. Section 1793.3 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1793.3. If the manufacturer of consumer goods sold in this state for which the manufacturer has made an express warranty does not provide service and repair facilities within this state pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1793.2, the buyer of such manufacturer's nonconforming goods may follow the course of action prescribed in either subdivision (a), (b), or (c), below, as follows:

(a) Return the nonconforming consumer goods to the retail seller thereof for replacement, or for service or repair in accordance with the terms and conditions of the express warranty. Such replacement, service, or repair shall be at the option of the retail seller. If the retail seller is unable to replace the nonconforming goods or is unable to service or repair the goods so as to effect conformity with applicable express warranties, such retail seller shall reimburse the buyer in an amount equal to the purchase price paid by the buyer, less that amount directly attributable to use by the buyer prior to discovery of the nonconformity.

(b) Return the nonconforming consumer good to any retail seller, within this state, of like goods of the same manufacturer for replacement, or for service or repair. Replacement, service, or repair shall be at the option of the retail seller.

(c) Secure the services of an independent repair or service facility for the service or repair of the nonconforming consumer goods, when service or repair of the goods can be economically accomplished. In that event the manufacturer shall be liable to the buyer, or to the independent serviceman upon an assignment of the buyer's rights, for the actual and reasonable cost of service and repair, including any cost for parts and any reasonable cost of transporting the goods or parts, plus a reasonable profit. It shall be a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence that the reasonable cost of service or repair is an amount equal to that which is charged by the independent serviceman for like services or repairs rendered to service or repair customers who are not entitled to warranty protection. Any waiver of the liability of a manufacturer shall be void and unenforceable.

The course of action prescribed in this subdivision shall be available to the buyer only after the buyer has followed the course of action prescribed in either subdivision (a) or (b) and such course of action has not furnished the buyer with appropriate relief. In no event, shall the provisions of this subdivision be available to the buyer with regard to consumer goods with a wholesale price to the retailer of less than fifty dollars ($50).

In no event shall the buyer be responsible for service or repair costs charged by the independent repair or service facility which accepts service or repair of nonconforming consumer goods under this section. Such independent repair or service facility shall only hold the manufacturer liable for such costs.

(d) A retail seller to which any nonconforming consumer good is returned pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) shall have the option of providing service or repair itself or directing the buyer to a reasonably close independent repair or service facility. In the event the retail seller directs the buyer to an independent repair or service facility, the manufacturer shall be liable for the reasonable cost of repair services in the manner provided in subdivision (c).

(e) In the event a buyer is unable to return nonconforming goods to the retailer due to reasons of size and weight, or method of attachment, or method of installation, or nature of the nonconformity, the buyer shall give notice of the nonconformity to the retailer. Upon receipt of such notice of nonconformity the retailer shall, at its option, service or repair the goods at the buyer's residence, or pick up the goods for service or repair, or arrange for transporting the goods to its place of business. The reasonable costs of transporting the goods shall be at the retailer's expense. The retailer shall be entitled to recover all such reasonable costs of transportation from the manufacturer pursuant to Section 1793.5. The reasonable costs of transporting nonconforming goods after delivery to the retailer until return of the goods to the buyer, when incurred by a retailer, shall be recoverable from the manufacturer pursuant to Section 1793.5. Written notice of nonconformity to the retailer shall constitute return of the goods for the purposes of subdivisions (a) and (b).

(f) The manufacturer of consumer goods with a wholesale price to the retailer of fifty dollars ($50) or more for which the manufacturer has made express warranties shall provide written notice to the buyer of the courses of action available to him under subdivision (a), (b), or (c).

SEC. 4. Section 1793.6 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1793.6. Except as otherwise provided in the terms of a warranty service contract, as specified in subdivision (a) of Section 1793.2, entered into between a manufacturer and an independent service and repair facility, every manufacturer making express warranties whose consumer goods are sold in this state shall be liable as prescribed in this section to every independent serviceman who performs services or incurs obligations in giving effect to the express warranties that accompany such manufacturer's consumer goods whether the independent serviceman is acting as an authorized service and repair facility designated by the manufacturer pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 1793.2 or is acting as an independent serviceman pursuant to subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 1793.3. The amount of such liability shall be an amount equal to the actual and reasonable costs of the service and repair, including any cost for parts and any reasonable cost of transporting the goods or parts, plus a reasonable profit. It shall be a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence that the reasonable cost of service or repair is an amount equal to that which is charged by the independent serviceman for like services or repairs rendered to service or repair customers who are not entitled to warranty protection. Any waiver of the liability of a manufacturer shall be void and unenforceable.

SEC. 5. Section 1794.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1794.1. (a) Any retail seller of consumer goods injured by the willful or repeated violation of the provisions of this chapter may bring an action for the recovery of damages. Judgment may be entered for three times the amount at which the actual damages are assessed plus reasonable attorney fees.

(b) Any independent serviceman of consumer goods injured by the willful or repeated violation of the provisions of this chapter may bring an action for the recovery of damages. Judgment may be entered for three times the amount at which the actual damages are assessed plus reasonable attorney fees.

necessary that this act take immediate effect.

An act to amend Section 28456 of, to add Sections 28455.1 and 28455.2 to, and to add Article 11.5 (commencing with Section 28520) to Chapter 6 of Division 20 of, the Education Code, relating to school library districts.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28455.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

28455.1. The board of supervisors may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different times from those of any other series.

SEC. 2. Section 28455.2 is added to the Education Code, to read:

28455.2. The board of supervisors may provide for redemption of bonds before maturity at prices determined by it. A bond shall not be subject to call or redemption prior to maturity unless it contains a recital to that effect.

SEC. 3. Section 28456 of the Education Code is amended to read:

28456. The bonds shall be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than 95 percent of par.

SEC. 4. Article 11.5 (commencing with Section 28520) is added to Chapter 6 of Division 20 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 11.5. Sale of Unsold Bonds

28520. When the board of trustees of the library district determines that the purpose and object of the bonds has been accomplished, it may request the board of supervisors to cause any unsold bonds to be issued and sold and the proceeds thereof used for any or all of the purposes set forth in Section 28401.

28521. Upon receiving the request, signed by a majority of the members of the board of trustees, the supervisors shall fix a time for hearing the request, which shall not be more than 30 days thereafter, and shall cause a notice, stating the time and place of hearing, and the object of the request in general terms, to be published for 10 days prior to the day of hearing in a newspaper published in the library district, if there is one, and if there is no newspaper published in the library district, then in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which the library district or part thereof is situated.

28522. At the time and place designated in the notice for hearing the request, or at any subsequent time to which the hearing may be postponed, the supervisors shall hear any reasons that may be submitted for or against the granting of the request. If, before the conclusion of the hearing, a petition signed by registered voters within the district equal to not less than 10 percent of the vote cast within the boundaries of the district for all candidates for governor at the last gubernatorial election requesting an election is not filed, the board of supervisors may, if they determine it to be for the best interests of the library district, grant the request. In such event, they shall make and enter an order in the minutes of their proceedings that the unsold bonds shall be sold and the proceeds used for the purposes specified in the request.

28523. In the event a petition, as set forth in Section 28522, is filed, the board of supervisors shall not grant the request without first submitting the question to the voters in the same manner and with the same effect as provided for a referendum by the electors of a district pursuant to Section 5200 of the Elections Code.

An act to amend Section 423 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 423 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

423. Except as provided in Section 423.7, when valuing enforceably restricted open-space land, other than land used for the production of timber for commercial purposes, the board for purposes of surveys required by Section 1815 of this code and the county assessor shall not consider sales data on lands, whether or not enforceably restricted, but shall value such lands by the capitalization of income method in the following manner:

(a) The annual income to be capitalized shall be determined as follows:

(1) Where sufficient rental information is available the income shall be the fair rent which can be imputed to the land being valued based upon rent actually received for the land by the owner and upon typical rentals received in the area for similar land in similar use, where the owner pays the property tax. When the land being valued is actually encumbered by a lease, any cash rent or its equivalent considered in determining the fair rent of the land shall be the amount for which the land would be expected to rent were the rental payment to be renegotiated in the light of current conditions including applicable provisions under which the land is enforceably restricted.

(2) Where sufficient rental information is not available, the income shall be that which the land being valued reasonably can be expected to yield under prudent management and subject to applicable provisions under which the land is enforceably restricted. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that "prudent management" does not include use of the land for a recreational use, as defined in subdivision (n) of Section 51201 of the Government Code, unless the land is actually devoted to such use.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision herein, if the parties to an instrument which enforceably restricts the land stipulate therein an amount which constitutes the minimum annual income per acre to be capitalized, then the income to be capitalized shall not be less than the amount so stipulated.

For the purposes of this section income shall be determined in accordance with rules and regulations issued by the board and with this section and shall be the difference between revenue and expenditures. Revenue shall be the amount of money or money's worth, including any cash rent or its equivalent, which the land can be expected to yield to an owner-operator annually on the average from any use of the land permitted under the terms by which the land is enforceably restricted including, but not limited to, that from the production of salt and from typical crops grown in the area during a typical rotation period, not to exceed six years including the tax year and the next succeeding five years. When the land is planted to fruit-bearing or nut-bearing trees, vines, bushes or perennial plants, the revenue shall not be less than the land would be expected to yield to an owner-operator from other typical crops grown in the area during a typical rotation period, not to exceed six years including the tax year and the next succeeding five years. Proceeds from the sale of the land being valued shall not be included in the revenue from the land.

Expenditures shall be any outlay or average annual allocation of money or money's worth that can be fairly charged against the revenue expected to be received during the period used in computing such revenue. Those expenditures to be charged against revenue shall be only those which are ordinary and necessary in the production and maintenance of the revenue for that period. Expenditures shall not include depletion charges, debt retirement, interest on funds invested in the land, interest on funds invested in trees and vines valued as land as provided by Section 429, property taxes, corporation income taxes, or corporation franchise taxes based on income. When the income used is from operating the land being valued or from operating comparable land, amounts shall be excluded from the income to provide a fair return on capital investment in operating assets other than the land, to amortize depreciable property, and to fairly compensate the owner-operator for his operating and managing services.

(b) The capitalization rate to be used in valuing land pursuant to this article shall not be derived from sales data and shall be the sum of the following components:

(1) An interest component to be determined by the board and announced no later than September 1 of the year preceding the assessment year and which was the yield rate for long-term United States government bonds, as most recently published by the Federal Reserve Board, rounded to the nearest one-quarter (¼) percent.

(2) A risk component which shall be a percentage determined on the basis of the location and characteristics of the land, the crops to be grown thereon and the provisions of any lease or rental agreement to which the land is subject; and

(3) A component for property taxes which shall be a percentage equal to the estimated total tax rate applicable to the land for the assessment year times the assessment ratio.

(4) A component for amortization of any investment in perennials over their estimated economic life when the total income from land and perennials other than timber exceeds the yield from other typical crops grown in the area.

(c) The value of the land shall be the quotient of the income determined as provided in subdivision (a) divided by the capitalization rate determined as provided in subdivision (b).

(d) The ratio prescribed in Section 401 shall be applied to the value of the land determined in subdivision (c) to obtain its assessed value.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Sections 54902, 54902.1, and 54903 of the Government Code, an annexation of territory to a city in 1975 shall be effective for assessment and taxation purposes for the 1976–77 fiscal year, provided that the required statement and map or plat are filed on or before January 15, 1976.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that assessment and taxation of property in cities may be accomplished in fiscal year 1976–77 in accordance with city boundary changes which have taken place but which were defective in certain minor respects, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

(4) If the court finds that the petitioner has a right to have the writing executed by a person who refuses to do so, it shall order the county recorder of the county in which the original certificate is recorded to record the cancellation or amendment of the certificate; and where the certificate is to be amended, the court shall also cause to be filed for record in said office a certified copy of its decree setting forth the amendment.

(5) A certificate is amended or canceled when there is recorded in the office referred to in paragraph (b) of subdivision (1) of Section 15502:

(a) A writing in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (1) or (2), or

(b) A certified copy of the order of court in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (4). Provided, however, that such amendment or cancellation shall be void as against a purchaser or encumbrancer in good faith and for value of real property in a "different county" referred to in subdivision (3) of Section 15502, whose conveyance is duly recorded before such recorded writing, or a copy thereof certified by the recorder in whose office it is recorded, or a certified copy of such court order, has been recorded in the office of the recorder in such different county.

(6) After the certificate is duly amended in accordance with this section, the amended certificate shall thereafter be for all purposes the certificate provided for by this act except as to a purchaser or encumbrancer in good faith and for value under the circumstances set forth in the proviso to subdivision (5).

The term "modified assessed value" means the total of (a) the taxable assessed value of state-assessed property and the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (b) the product of the sum of (1) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (2) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state, and (3) the sum of the assessed valuation equivalents of revenue amounts certified pursuant to Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code times the average of the factor certified for the current year under Section 17261 of the Education Code for the local roll of the county with the factors so certified for the two immediately preceding years. The assessed valuation equivalents of Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be derived by multiplying such amounts by a factor of 100 and dividing the product by the county's secured tax rate for the prior year.

Any relief to the county under this section shall be first used to reduce the amount owing by any county of the 15th class to the state under the Medi-Cal program.

SEC. 4. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

CHAPTER 427

An act to add Section 856.6 to the Government Code, relating to health programs, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 856.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

856.6. (a) A public entity, public employee, or volunteer, participating in the National Influenza Program of 1976, shall not be liable for an injury caused by an act or omission in the promotion of a community program or the administration of vaccine in a community program, including the residual effects of the vaccine, unless the act or omission constitutes willful misconduct.

(b) All promotions of a community program and oral and written information provided for purposes of consent to a person requesting inoculation shall contain notice of the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section. In the event the person to be inoculated is a minor, the parents or legal guardian of said minor must be informed orally or in writing of the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section and said parents or legal guardian must consent in writing to the inoculation of said minor person. The State Department of Health shall prescribe a form to be used in community programs which notifies a person of the provisions of subdivision (a) and contains a provision by which the person acknowledges that he has been so notified and understands the legal effect of the subdivision.

(c) As used in the section:

(1) "Community program" means a public program conducted by a state, city, county, or district health agency under the National Influenza Program of 1976 or a public or private organization which has entered into a contract with a state, city, county, or district health agency, with the approval of the State Department of Health, to provide services pursuant to the National Influenza Program of 1976.

(2) "Volunteer" means a licensed health professional, licensed health facility, organization, or individual participating in a community program.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an individual authorized by the State Department of Health may administer influenza vaccine under the supervision of a licensed health professional in a community program using a jet injection apparatus.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Scientists and public health authorities have concluded that there is a danger of an epidemic of influenza comparable in morbidity and mortality to the influenza pandemic of 1918–1919, due to an influenza virus known as A/New Jersey/76 (Hswl N1), commonly known as swine flu, with a potential commencement date of late fall of 1976. In response to this crisis the United States Congress has enacted the National Influenza Program of 1976, which establishes a mass immunization program for the United States. The federal law provides for distribution of the vaccine to the states free of charge, but it does not provide sufficient funds to reimburse the states or local agencies for the program costs of mass immunization. In California both state and local budgets are inadequate to finance mass immunization programs, unless health care providers of all categories are asked to volunteer their services, and unless local health departments can be relieved of the expense of potential liability associated with administration of the vaccine. It is evident that a sufficient number of volunteers will not be available unless statutory protection is afforded to them against potential liability.

Although there have been almost no reported cases to date of any serious side effects associated with administration of any type of influenza vaccine, claims for alleged damage associated with the vaccine may be expected due to the unprecedentedly large number of people who will be immunized.

For these reasons, and to assure public health and to assure that the disaster of 1918–19 will not be repeated, this act must take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 428

An act to add Section 3364.6 to, and to amend Section 139.5 of, the Labor Code, relating to workers' compensation.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 139.5 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

139.5. (a) The Administrative Director shall establish within the Division of Industrial Accidents a rehabilitation unit, which shall include appropriate professional staff, and which shall have all of the following duties:

(1) To foster, review, and approve rehabilitation plans developed by a qualified rehabilitation representative of the employer, insurance carrier, state agency, or employee.

(2) To adopt rules and regulations which would expedite and facilitate the identification, notification, and referral of industrially injured employees to rehabilitation services.

(3) To coordinate and enforce the implementation of rehabilitation plans.

(b) The salaries of the personnel of the rehabilitation unit shall be fixed by the State Personnel Board.

(c) When a qualified injured workman chooses to enroll in a rehabilitation program, he shall continue to receive temporary disability indemnity payments, plus additional living expenses necessitated by the rehabilitation program, together with all reasonable and necessary vocational training, at the expense of the employer or the insurance carrier, as the case may be.

(d) No provision of this section nor of any rule, regulation, or rehabilitation plan developed or promulgated under this section nor any benefit provided pursuant to this section shall apply to any injured employee whose injury occurred prior to January 1, 1975. Nothing in this section shall affect any plan, benefit, or program authorized by this section as added by Chapter 1513 of the Statutes of 1965 or as amended by Chapter 83 of the Statutes of 1972.

SEC. 2. Section 3364.6 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

3364.6. The Secretary of State, on the basis of the statements transmitted to him by the county clerks, and within 30 days after receiving such statements, shall compile a statewide list showing the number of voters, by party affiliations, in the state and in each county, city, Assembly district, senatorial district, congressional district, and supervisorial district in the state. A copy of this list shall be made available, upon request, to any elector of this state.

In preparing the statement of voters and their political affiliations, the county clerks shall tabulate by political affiliation the affidavits of registration of members of political parties qualified pursuant to Section 6430, and political bodies formally declaring an intent to qualify as political parties pursuant to Section 9951. All other affidavits of registration, except those of persons declining to state a political affiliation, shall be tabulated as miscellaneous registrations.

formal notice required by Section 9951, is entitled upon request to the Secretary of State, to have counted toward its qualification as a political party affidavits of registration in which voters declared affiliation with the political body prior to the date the political body filed the formal notice with the Secretary of State.

9954. If by the 135th day before any primary election, a political body filing notice pursuant to Section 9951 has not qualified as a political party pursuant to Section 6430, the political body shall be considered to have abandoned its attempt to qualify as a political party and shall be ineligible to participate in the following primary.

9955. Until otherwise provided for by statute, a political party newly qualified pursuant to Section 6430 shall carry on its activities in accordance with procedures applicable to such other political party which has detailed statutory provisions applicable to its operation as shall be designated by the newly qualified party. The temporary officers of the newly qualified political party elected pursuant to Section 9951 shall file notice of such selection with the Secretary of State at least 30 days after the political party qualifies.

SEC. 7. Section 10217 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

10217. The Secretary of State shall conduct a drawing of the letters of the alphabet, the result of which shall be known as a randomized alphabet. The procedure shall be as follows:

(a) Each letter of the alphabet shall be written on a separate slip of paper each of which shall be folded and inserted into a capsule. Each capsule shall be opaque and of uniform weight, color, size, shape, and texture. The capsules shall be placed in a container which shall be shaken vigorously in order to mix them thoroughly. The container then shall be opened and the capsules removed at random one at a time. As each is removed, it shall be opened and the letter on the slip of paper read aloud and written down. The resulting random order of letters constitutes the randomized alphabet which is to be used in the same manner as the conventional alphabet in determining the order of all candidates in all elections. For example, if two candidates with the surnames Campbell and Carlson are running for the same office, their order on the ballot will depend on the order in which the letters M and R were drawn in the randomized alphabet drawing.

(b) There shall be six such drawings, three in each even-numbered year and three in each odd-numbered year. Each drawing shall be held at 11 a.m. on the date specified in this subdivision. The results of each drawing shall be mailed immediately to each county clerk or other official responsible for conducting an election to which the drawing is applicable who shall use it in determining the order on the ballot of the names of the candidates for office.

The first such drawing shall take place on the Monday following the first day of January in an even-numbered year and shall apply to the March general law city elections and any other elections held at the same time.

The second shall take place on the 82nd day before the direct primary in June of an even-numbered year and shall apply to all candidates on the ballot in that election.

The third shall take place on the 63rd day before the November general election of an even-numbered year and shall apply to all candidates on the ballot in the November general election.

In the case of the June primary election and the November general election, the Secretary of State shall certify and transmit to each county clerk the order in which the names of federal and state candidates, with the exception of candidates for State Senate and Assembly, shall appear on the ballot. The clerk shall determine the order on the ballot of all other candidates using the appropriate randomized alphabet for that purpose.

The fourth drawing shall take place on the Monday following the first day of January in an odd-numbered year and shall apply to all candidates on the ballot in the elections held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March of that year.

The fifth drawing shall take place on the first Monday in April of the odd-numbered year and shall apply to all candidates on the ballot in elections held on the last Tuesday in May of that year.

The sixth shall take place on the second Monday in September of the odd-numbered year and shall apply to all candidates on the ballot in the November elections conducted under the Uniform District Election Law and any other elections held at the same time.

In the event there is to be an election of candidates to a special district, school district, charter city, or other local government body at the same time as one of the six major election dates specified above and the last possible day to file nomination papers for the local election would occur after the date of the drawing for the major election date, the procedure set forth in Section 10217.5 shall apply.

(c) Each randomized alphabet drawing shall be open to the public. At least 10 days prior to a drawing, the Secretary of State shall notify the news media and other interested parties of the date, time, and place of it. The president of each statewide association of local officials with responsibilities for conducting elections shall be invited by the Secretary of State to attend each drawing or send a representative. The state chairman of each qualified political party shall be invited to attend or send a representative in the case of drawings held to determine the order of candidates on the June primary election ballot, the November general election ballot, or a special election ballot as provided for in subdivision (d) of this section.

(d) In the case of any special election for State Assembly, State Senate, or Representative in Congress, on the first Monday after the close of filing of nomination papers for the office, the Secretary of State shall conduct a public drawing to produce a randomized alphabet in the same manner as provided for in subdivisions (a) and (c) of this section. The resulting randomized alphabet shall be used for determining the order on the ballot of the candidates in both the primary election for the special election and in the special election.

SEC. 8. Section 14427 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

14427. If a voter spoils or defaces a ballot, he shall at once return it to the ballot clerk and receive another. A voter shall not receive more than a total of three ballots, including his original ballot, in this manner.

SEC. 9. Section 15793 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

15793. If a voter spoils or defaces a ballot card or marks it erroneously, he shall return the card with stub folded so as not to disclose any choices that he has made, and receive another. A voter shall not receive more than a total of three ballots, including his original ballot, in this manner. The precinct board shall immediately cancel the spoiled ballot card by writing on the back of the ballot card the word "spoiled" in ink or indelible pencil, and without detaching the ballot stub, shall place the ballot in the container for spoiled ballots in a manner that does not expose the choices of the voter.

SEC. 10. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act are minor in nature and will not cause any financial burden to local government.

SEC. 11. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the provisions of this act may apply to elections conducted in 1976, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 430

An act to add Chapter 2.7 (commencing with Section 4270) to Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code and to repeal Section 35005 of the Government Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35005 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Chapter 2.7 (commencing with Section 4270) is added to Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.7. SOLID WASTE ENTERPRISES

4270. Unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions shall govern the construction of this chapter:

(a) "Exclusive solid waste handling services" means any action by a local agency, whether by franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, whereby the agency itself or one or more other designated local agencies or designated solid waste enterprises shall have the exclusive right to provide solid waste handling services of any class or type within all or any part of the territory of the local agency.

(b) "Local agency" means any county, city and county, city, or special district having power to provide solid waste handling services either by the agency itself or by authorizing or permitting other local agencies or solid waste enterprises to provide solid waste handling services.

(c) "Solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid and semisolid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, manure, vegetable or animal solid or semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes.

(d) "Solid waste enterprise" means any individual, partnership, joint venture, unincorporated private organization, or private corporation regularly engaged in the business of providing solid waste handling services.

(e) "Solid waste handling services" means the collection, transportation, storage, transfer, or processing of solid wastes for residential, commercial, institutional, or industrial users or customers.

4271. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

Although local agencies are empowered to furnish solid waste handling services, in extensive parts of the state solid waste enterprises are furnishing all or substantial portions of necessary solid waste handling services.

It is in the public interest to foster and encourage solid waste enterprises so that, at all times, there will continue to be competent enterprises willing and financially able to furnish needed solid waste handling services.

4272. Where a local agency has authorized, by franchise, contract, or permit, a solid waste enterprise to provide solid waste handling services and such services have been provided for more than three previous years, the solid waste enterprise may continue to provide such services up to five years after mailed notification to such enterprise by the local agency having jurisdiction that exclusive solid waste handling services are to be provided or authorized, except that if the solid waste enterprise has an exclusive franchise or contract then the solid waste enterprise shall continue to provide such services and shall be limited to the unexpired term of the contract or franchise or five years, whichever is less. A solid waste enterprise providing solid waste handling services shall be subject to the provisions of this section only if:

(a) The services of the enterprise are in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions of any such franchise, contract, or permit, and meet the quality and frequency of services required by the local agency in other areas not served by the enterprise.

(b) The rates charged by the enterprise may be periodically reviewed and set by the local agency.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the right of a city following annexation to terminate for cause a franchise, contract, or permit held by a solid waste enterprise authorized by the county.

4273. Any local agency or solid waste handling enterprise may contract, upon mutually satisfactory terms, for the termination of all or any part of the business of the enterprise prior to the expiration of the period specified in Section 4272.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act can be accomplished with no additional cost to local government.

CHAPTER 431

An act to add Section 2617.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2617.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

2617.5. (a) Any uncollected delinquent penalty on property provided for in Section 2617, 2618, 2704, 2705, or 2922 may be canceled by the tax collector or the auditor, with the approval of the board of supervisors upon a finding that the assessee's failure to make a timely payment is due to reasonable cause and circumstances beyond the assessee's control, and occurred notwithstanding the exercise of ordinary care and the absence of willful neglect, provided the principal payment is made within 90 days after the first delinquency date or within 30 days after the second delinquency date.

(b) Any assessee seeking to be relieved of the penalty shall file with the board of supervisors a claim for refund conforming with the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 5096) of Chapter 5 of Part 9. The claim for refund shall be accompanied by a statement under penalty of perjury setting forth the facts upon which the claim for relief is based. The statement shall be filed with the board of supervisors within 60 days after the penalty is paid, or within 60 days following the effective date of this act, whichever is later.

(c) Nothing herein shall affect the powers of a tax collector or redemption officer pursuant to Section 2512, 2512.5 or 2513.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature to provide procedural means for granting relief from property tax penalties when circumstances indicate such relief is appropriate. The Legislature finds that it is necessary to conform the collection of delinquent ad valorem property taxes with similar provisions of the Revenue and Taxation Code. Since any loss of revenue resulting from this act will be attributable to a refund of penalties rather than property taxes, and since this act does not classify or exempt property for purposes of ad valorem property taxation, no payments shall be made to local government as compensation for such losses pursuant to Section 2229 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

CHAPTER 432

An act to amend Section 1373 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 10176, 10177, and 11512.8 of the Insurance Code, relating to licensed clinical social workers.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1373 of the Health and Safety Code as added by Chapter 941 of the Statutes of 1975 is amended to read:

1373. (a) A plan contract may not provide an exception for other coverage where such other coverage is entitlement to Medi-Cal benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

Each plan contract shall be interpreted not to provide an exception for such Medi-Cal benefits.

A plan contract may not provide that the benefits payable thereunder are subject to reduction if the individual insured has entitlement to such Medi-Cal benefits.

(b) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for sterilization operations or procedures shall not impose any disclaimer, restriction on, or limitation of, coverage relative to the covered individual's reason for sterilization.

As used in this section, "sterilization operations or procedures" shall have the same meaning as that specified in Section 10120 of the Insurance Code.

(c) Every plan contract which provides coverage to family members or dependents of the subscriber or enrollee shall grant immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant, and to each minor adopted child from and after the moment the child is placed in the custody of the adoptive parents for adoption, of any subscriber or enrollee covered. No such plan may be entered into or amended if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the coverage or insurability of newborn infants of a subscriber or enrollee covered from and after the moment of birth or of minor adopted children from and after the moment the child is placed in the custody of the adoptive parents for adoption.

(d) Every plan contract which provides that coverage of a dependent child of a subscriber shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the plan, shall also provide in substance that attainment of such limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of such child while the child is and continues to be both (a) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (b) chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance, provided proof of such incapacity and dependency is furnished to the plan by the member within 31 days of the request for such information by the plan or group plan contract holder and subsequently as may be required by the plan or group plan contract holder, but not more frequently than annually after the two-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(e) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for both an employee and one or more covered persons dependent upon such employee and provides for an extension of such coverage for any period following a termination of employment of the employee shall also provide that such extension of coverage shall apply to dependents upon the same terms and conditions precedent as applied to the covered employee, for the same period of time, subject to payment of premiums, if any, as required by the terms of the policy and subject to any applicable collective-bargaining agreement.

(f) A group contract shall not discriminate against handicapped persons or against groups containing handicapped persons. Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude reasonable provisions in a plan contract against liability for services or reimbursement of the handicap condition or conditions relating thereto, as may be allowed by rules of the commissioner.

(g) Every group contract shall set forth the terms and conditions under which subscribers and enrollees may remain in the plan in the event the group ceases to exist, the group contract is terminated or an individual subscriber leaves the group, or the enrollees' eligibility status changes.

(h) A health care service plan may provide for coverage of, or for payment for, professional mental health services, or for the exclusion of such services. No plan shall prohibit the member from selecting, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, a licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license under Section 9040 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the plan, such license holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a member to select and obtain mental health services from a license holder who is not directly affiliated with or under contract to the health care service plan to which the member belongs.

SEC. 1.5. Section 1373 of the Health and Safety Code as added by Chapter 941 of the Statute of 1975 is amended to read:

1373. (a) A plan contract may not provide an exception for other coverage where such other coverage is entitlement to Medi-Cal benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14500) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

Each plan contract shall be interpreted not to provide an exception for such Medi-Cal benefits.

A plan contract may not provide that the benefits payable thereunder are subject to reduction if the individual insured has entitlement to such Medi-Cal benefits.

(b) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for sterilization operations or procedures shall not impose any disclaimer, restriction on, or limitation of, coverage relative to the covered individual's reason for sterilization.

As used in this section, "sterilization operations or procedures" shall have the same meaning as that specified in Section 10120 of the Insurance Code.

(c) Every plan contract which provides coverage to family members or dependents of the subscriber or enrollee shall grant immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant, and to each minor adopted child from and after the moment the child is placed in the custody of the adoptive parents for adoption, of any subscriber or enrollee covered. No such plan may be entered into or amended if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the coverage or insurability of newborn infants of a subscriber or enrollee covered from and after the moment of birth or of minor adopted children from and after the moment the child is placed in the custody of the adoptive parents for adoption.

(d) Every plan contract which provides that coverage of a dependent child of a subscriber shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the plan, shall also provide in substance that attainment of such limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of such child while the child is and continues to be both (a) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (b) chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance, provided proof of such incapacity and dependency is furnished to the plan by the member within 31 days of the request for such information by the plan or group plan contract holder and subsequently as may be required by the plan or group plan contract holder, but not more frequently than annually after the two-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(e) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for both an employee and one or more covered persons dependent upon such employee and provides for an extension of such coverage for any period following a termination of employment of the employee shall also provide that such extension of coverage shall apply to dependents upon the same terms and conditions precedent as applied to the covered employee, for the same period of time, subject to payment of premiums, if any, as required by the terms of the policy and subject to any applicable collective-bargaining agreement.

(f) A group contract shall not discriminate against handicapped persons or against groups containing handicapped persons. Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude reasonable provisions in a plan contract against liability for services or reimbursement of the handicap condition or conditions relating thereto, as may be allowed by rules of the commissioner.

(g) Every group contract shall set forth the terms and conditions under which subscribers and enrollees may remain in the plan in the event the group ceases to exist, the group contract is terminated or an individual subscriber leaves the group, or the enrollees' eligibility status changes.

(h) A health care service plan may provide for coverage of, or for payment for, professional mental health services, or for the exclusion of such services. No plan shall prohibit the member from selecting any psychologist who is the holder of a certificate issued under Section 2948 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, a licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license under Section 9040 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the plan, such certificate holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a member to select and obtain mental health services from a certificate or license holder who is not directly affiliated with or under contract to the health care service plan to which the member belongs.

(i) If the plan utilizes arbitration to settle disputes, the plan contracts shall set forth the type of disputes subject to arbitration, the process to be utilized, and how it is to be initiated.

SEC. 2. Section 10176 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10176. In disability insurance the policy may provide for payment of medical, surgical, chiropractic, physical therapy, professional mental health, dental, hospital, or optometric expenses upon a reimbursement basis, or for the exclusion of any such services, and provision may be made therein for payment of all or a portion of the amount of charge for such services without requiring that the insured first pay such expenses. No such policy shall prohibit the insured from selecting any psychologist or other person who is the holder of a certificate or license under Sections 1000, 1634, 2135, 2553, 2630, 2948, or 3055 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the policy, such certificate holder or licensee being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

Nor shall any such policy prohibit the insured, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, from selecting any licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license issued under Section 9040 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the policy, such certificate holder or licensee being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

SEC. 3. Section 10177 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10177. A self-insured employee welfare benefit plan may provide for payment of professional mental health expenses upon a reimbursement basis, or for the exclusion of such services, and provision may be made therein for payment of all or a portion of the amount of charge for such services without requiring that the employee first pay such expenses. No such plan shall prohibit the employee from selecting any psychologist who is the holder of a certificate issued under Section 2948 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, any licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license issued under Section 9040 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the plan, such certificate or license holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

SEC. 4. Section 11512.8 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512.8. A hospital service contract may provide for payment of professional mental health expenses upon a reimbursement basis, or for the exclusion of such services, and provision may be made therein for payment of all or a portion of the amount of charge for such services without requiring that the employee first pay such expenses. No such contract shall prohibit the subscriber from selecting any psychologist who is the holder of a certificate issued under Section 2948 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, any licensed social worker who is the holder of a license issued under Section 9040 of the Business and Professions Code to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the contract, such certificate or license holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

SEC. 5. The provisions of this act shall apply to every policy of disability insurance, health care service plan, self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, and hospital service contract entered into, issued, delivered, or amended in this state on or after the effective date of this act.

SEC. 6. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Assembly Bill No. 3371 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1977, both bills amend Section 1373 of the Health and Safety Code, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill No. 3371, that the amendments to Section 1373 proposed by both bills be given effect and incorporated in Section 1373 in the form set forth in Section 1.5 of this act. Therefore, Section 1.5 of this act shall become operative only if this bill and Assembly Bill No. 3371 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1977, both amend Section 1373, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill No. 3371, in which case Section 1 of this act shall not become operative.

An act to amend Section 895.12 of the Education Code, relating to special education.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 895.12 of the Education Code is amended to read:

895.12. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this code, any school district having an average daily attendance of 400,000 or more, or two or more districts under the jurisdiction of a county superintendent of schools of a county of the first class, determined pursuant to Section 28022 of the Government Code, with a combined average daily attendance of 40,000 or more, and having an average assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance equal to or less than the countywide assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance, which jointly or cooperatively maintain programs under a joint powers agreement, may contract with a county superintendent of schools or with another school district, pursuant to Section 1062, for the education of physically handicapped pupils, mentally retarded pupils, or educationally handicapped pupils of any contracting party. Any such contract shall require the district or districts whose pupils are receiving educational services thereunder to pay all costs of such educational services which are in excess of the amounts which may be received by the party providing the educational services, apportioned from the State School Fund for the average daily attendance of such pupils. Whenever a county superintendent of schools is a party to such a contract, no tax shall be levied to defray the costs of educational services under the contract by any party other than the school district or districts whose pupils are receiving such educational services.

For purposes of this section, average daily attendance, and assessed valuation per unit of average daily attendance, shall be as shown by the annual report of the county superintendent of schools for the preceding year.

CHAPTER 434

An act to amend Sections 1203.4, 4852.01, 4852.03, 4852.06, 4852.07, 4852.1, 4852.12, and 4852.21 of the Penal Code, relating to certificates of rehabilitation.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.4. (a) In any case in which a defendant has fulfilled the conditions of probation for the entire period of probation, or has been discharged prior to the termination of the period of probation, or in any other case in which a court, in its discretion and the interests of justice, determines that a defendant should be granted the relief available under this section, the defendant shall, at any time after the termination of the period of probation, if he is not then serving a sentence for any offense, on probation for any offense, or charged with the commission of any offense, be permitted by the court to withdraw his plea of guilty or plea of nolo contendere and enter a plea of not guilty; or, if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the court shall set aside the verdict of guilty; and, in either case, the court shall thereupon dismiss the accusations or information against the defendant and he shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense of which he has been convicted. The probationer shall be informed, in his probation papers, of this right and privilege and his right, if any, to petition for a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon. The probationer may make such application and change of plea in person or by attorney, or by the probation officer authorized in writing; provided, that, in any subsequent prosecution of the defendant for any other offense, the prior conviction may be pleaded and proved and shall have the same effect as if probation had not been granted or the accusation or information dismissed.

Dismissal of an accusation or information pursuant to this section does not permit a person to own, possess, or have in his custody or control any firearm capable of being concealed upon the person or prevent his conviction under Section 12021.

This subdivision shall apply to all applications for relief under this section which are filed on or after November 23, 1970.

(b) Subdivision (a) of this section does not apply to any misdemeanor which is within the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 42001 of the Vehicle Code, or to any infraction.

SEC. 2. Section 4852.01 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.01. (a) Any person convicted of a felony who has been released from a state prison or other state penal institution or agency in California, whether discharged on completion of the term for which he was sentenced or released on parole prior to May 13, 1943, who has not been incarcerated in a state prison or other state penal institution or agency since his release and who presents satisfactory evidence of a three-year residence in this state immediately prior to the filing of the petition for a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon provided for by this chapter, may file such petition pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(b) Any person convicted of a felony who, on May 13, 1943, was confined in a state prison or other institution or agency to which he was committed and any person convicted of a felony after that date who is committed to a state prison or other institution or agency may file a petition for a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(c) Any person convicted of a felony the accusatory pleading of which has been dismissed pursuant to Section 1203.4 may file a petition for certificate of rehabilitation and pardon pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; provided the petitioner has not been incarcerated in any prison, jail, detention facility or other penal institution or agency since the dismissal of the accusatory pleading and is not on probation for the commission of any other felony, and petitioner presents satisfactory evidence of three years residence in this state prior to the filing of the petition.

(d) This chapter shall not apply to persons convicted of misdemeanors; to persons serving a mandatory life parole; to persons committed under death sentences; or to persons in the military service.

SEC. 3. Section 4852.03 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.03. The period of rehabilitation shall begin to run upon the discharge of the petitioner from custody due to his completion of the term to which he was sentenced or upon his release on parole or probation, whichever is sooner. For purposes of this chapter, the period of rehabilitation shall constitute three years' residence in this state, plus a period of time determined by the following rules:

(1) To the three years there shall be added 30 days for each year of the term prescribed by statute as the maximum penalty of imprisonment for the crime of which the petitioner was convicted. When the maximum term includes the fractional part of a year, the period of rehabilitation shall be extended by a proportional part of the 30-day period.

(2) For the purposes of this chapter, crimes with maximum penalties of life imprisonment shall be regarded as carrying a maximum penalty of imprisonment for 50 years.

(3) Where the petitioner is convicted of multiple crimes, the maximum penalty for the purpose of computing the period of rehabilitation shall be determined as follows: (a) if the sentences are made to run concurrently, the greatest maximum penalty prescribed by statute for any of such crimes shall constitute the maximum penalty; (b) if the sentences are made to run consecutively, the sum of the maximum penalties prescribed by statute for all such crimes shall constitute the maximum penalty, but in no case shall the maximum penalty exceed the period prescribed for life imprisonment under subparagraph (2) of this section. The trial court hearing the application for the certificate of rehabilitation may, if the defendant was ordered to serve consecutive sentences, order that his statutory period of rehabilitation be extended for an additional period of time which when combined with the time already served will not exceed the period prescribed by statute for the sum of the maximum penalties for all such crimes.

(4) Any person who was discharged after completion of his term or was released on parole before May 13, 1943, is not subject to the periods of rehabilitation set forth in these rules.

Unless and until the period of rehabilitation, as stipulated herein, has passed, the petitioner shall be ineligible to file his petition for a certificate of rehabilitation with the court. Any certificate of rehabilitation which is issued and under which the petitioner has not fulfilled the requirements of this chapter shall be void.

A change of residence within this state does not interrupt the period of rehabilitation prescribed by this section.

SEC. 4. Section 4852.06 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.06. Except as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 4852.01, after the expiration of the minimum period of rehabilitation applicable to him (and, in the case of persons released upon parole or probation, after the termination of parole or probation), each person who has complied with the requirements of Section 4852.05 may file in the superior court of the county in which he then resides a petition for ascertainment and declaration of the fact of his rehabilitation and of matters incident thereto, and for a certificate of rehabilitation under this chapter. No such petition shall be filed until and unless the petitioner has continuously resided in this state, after leaving prison, for a period of not less than three years immediately preceding the date of filing the petition.

SEC. 5. Section 4852.07 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.07. The petitioner shall give notice of the filing of the petition to the district attorney of the county in which the petition is filed, to the district attorney of each county in which the petitioner was convicted of a felony or of a crime the accusatory pleading of which was dismissed pursuant to Section 1203.4, and to the office of the Governor, together with notice of the time of the hearing of the petition, at least 30 days prior to the date set for such hearing.

SEC. 6. Section 4852.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.1. The court in which the petition is filed may require such testimony as it deems necessary, and the production, for the use of the court and without expense of any kind to the petitioner, of all records and reports relating to the petitioner and the crime of which he was convicted, including the record of the trial, the report of the probation officer, if any, the records of the prison, jail, detention facility or other penal institution from which the petitioner has been released showing his conduct during the time he was there, the records of the penal institution or agency doctor and psychiatrist, the records of the parole officer concerning him if he was released on parole, the records of the Youth Authority concerning him if he has been committed to the authority, and written reports or records of any other law enforcement agency concerning the conduct of the petitioner since his release on probation or parole or discharge from custody. All persons having custody of any such records shall make them available for the use of the court in the proceeding.

SEC. 7. Section 4852.12 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.12. (a) In any proceeding for the ascertainment and declaration of the fact of rehabilitation under this chapter, the court, upon the filing of the application for petition of rehabilitation, may request from the district attorney an investigation of the residence of the petitioner, the criminal record of the petitioner as shown by the records of the Department of Justice, any representation made to the court by the applicant, the conduct of the petitioner during his period of rehabilitation, including all matters mentioned in Section 4852.11, and any other information the court may deem necessary in making its determination. If so requested, the district attorney shall provide the court with a full and complete report of such investigations.

(b) In any proceeding for the ascertainment and declaration of the fact of rehabilitation under this chapter of a person convicted of a crime the accusatory pleading of which has been dismissed pursuant to Section 1203.4, the district attorney, upon request of the court, shall deliver to the court the criminal record of petitioner as shown by the records of the Department of Justice. The district attorney may investigate any representation made to the court by petitioner and may file with the court a report of the investigation including all matters known to the district attorney relating to the conduct and place and duration of residence of the petitioner during the period of rehabilitation and all known violations of law committed by petitioner.

SEC. 8. Section 4852.21 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.21. (a) Any person to whom this chapter applies shall, prior to his discharge or release on parole from a state prison or other state penal institution or agency, be informed in writing by the official in charge of the place of confinement of his right to petition for, and of the procedure for filing the petition for, and obtaining, a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Prior to dismissal of the accusatory pleading pursuant to Section 1203.4, the defendant shall be informed in writing by the clerk of the court dismissing the accusatory pleading of the defendant's right, if any, to petition for, and of the procedure for filing a petition for, and obtaining, a certificate of rehabilitation and pardon pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 9. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities or school districts by this act are such that related costs are incurred as a part of their normal operating procedures.

CHAPTER 435

An act to add and repeal Chapter 4.6 (commencing with Section 18285) to Part 6 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to child abuse and neglect, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 4.6 (commencing with Section 18285) is added to Part 6 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4.6. CHILD ABUSE PILOT PROJECT CENTERS

18285. The Legislature finds that there is a need to develop programs to provide the kinds of innovative strategies and services to entire families which will ameliorate and reduce the trauma of child abuse and neglect.

The Legislature also finds that experimentation with new kinds of methods in this area is desirable, and that for purposes of such experimentation, pilot project centers should be established.

18286. The centers shall be designed primarily to (a) establish full-time community-based, family-oriented service centers for the prevention of child abuse and neglect; (b) increase, improve, and coordinate the delivery of comprehensive services to families in the area of the prevention of child abuse and neglect; (c) provide the types of innovative strategies in services which will ameliorate and reduce the problem of child abuse and neglect; and (d) provide treatment consolidation and referral for parents, children and the community. Volunteers shall be trained and used to maximum capacity in the delivery of services.

Such services shall include, but are not limited to, the following treatment programs:

(a) For parents: rap groups, marital counseling, conjoint family therapy, individual treatment, group therapy, parenting classes, parent aides;

(b) For children: child enrichment programs, individual treatment, group treatment, children's aides;

(c) For educational institutions, public and private agencies, professional personnel: staff of the centers shall be available for consultation to expand treatment services in the area of child abuse;

(d) Referral services: staff of the centers shall work with families to identify needs and make appropriate referrals to existing community resources.

In addition, center staff shall work with such agencies as county welfare departments and law enforcement agencies in an advocacy capacity for families served by the centers.

18287. Inasmuch as the centers are to serve a variety of cultural backgrounds, to the extent feasible a portion of the program's personnel shall be fluent in Spanish as well as English.

18288. (a) The Director of Health shall establish standards for the expenditure of state funds which are provided for the establishment and support of the centers to assure the availability of specialized personnel, resources, and equipment necessary to enable the center to carry out the purposes of this chapter. The director shall choose the institution which shall receive state funds to establish and continue such centers from a list of eligible institutions. Upon establishment of such centers the director shall periodically appraise their performance and shall determine whether such centers shall receive continuation grants.

Copies of the reports containing such appraisals and determinations shall be submitted to the Legislature.

(c) Two centers shall be selected. One center shall be located in southern California and one center shall be located in northern California.

18289. The centers may seek, receive, and make use of any funds which may be made available from federal, voluntary, philanthropic, or other sources in order to augment any state funds appropriated for the purposes of this chapter and shall make every attempt to qualify the centers for federal funding under Public Law 93-247.

Each center shall prepare a report at the end of its second year of funding describing the operation and achievement of the center's objectives. The report shall be submitted to the director.

The Director of Health shall submit a report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1978.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1976, and shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1978, and as of such date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before July 1, 1978, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because appropriate funding is included in the Budget Act of 1976.

SEC. 4. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Director of Health the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for expenditure to carry out the purposes of Chapter 4.6 (commencing with Section 18285) of Part 6 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Funding of present programs for the relief of child abuse and neglect, which are conducted by volunteers and subsidized by hospitals, universities, and other private sources, will be exhausted on or about July 1, 1976, long before the effective date of ordinary statutes enacted by the Legislature in 1976. The preliminary results of such programs indicate that the programs can be effective; however, child abuse and neglect is increasing statewide. In order that the effectiveness of such programs with such potential can be fully and completely determined, at the earliest possible time and without disruption, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 436

An act to amend Section 840 of the Penal Code, relating to arrest.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 840 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

840. An arrest for the commission of a felony may be made on any day and at any time of the day or night. An arrest for the commission of a misdemeanor or an infraction cannot be made between the hours of 10 o'clock p.m. of any day and 6 o'clock a.m. of the succeeding day, unless:

(1) The arrest is made without a warrant pursuant to Section 836 or 837.

(2) The arrest is made in a public place.

(3) The arrest is made when the person is in custody pursuant to another lawful arrest.

(4) The arrest is made pursuant to a warrant which, for good cause shown, directs that it may be served at any time of the day or night.

CHAPTER 437

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 481.050 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

481.050. "Chose in action" means any right to payment which arises out of the conduct of any trade, business, or profession and which (a) is not conditioned upon further performance by the defendant or upon any event other than the passage of time, (b) is not an account receivable, (c) is not a deposit account, and (d) is not evidenced by a negotiable instrument, security, chattel paper, or judgment. The term includes an interest in or a claim under an insurance policy and a right to payment on a nonnegotiable instrument which is otherwise negotiable within Division 3 (commencing with Section 3101) of the Commercial Code but which is not payable to order or to bearer.

SEC. 2. Section 482.080 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

482.080. (a) If a writ of attachment is issued, the court may also issue an order directing the defendant to transfer to the levying officer:

(1) Possession of the property to be attached where such property is sought to be attached by taking it into custody.

(2) Possession of any documentary evidence of title to any property of or any debt owed to the defendant which is sought to be attached. An order for the transfer of possession of documentary evidence of title issued pursuant to this paragraph may be enforced by the levying officer when the property or debt is levied upon or at any time thereafter.

(b) The order shall contain a notice to the defendant that failure to comply with the order may subject the defendant to being held in contempt of court.

SEC. 3. Section 482.100 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

482.100. (a) The defendant may claim an exemption provided in Section 487.020 for property levied upon pursuant to a writ issued under this title if the right to the exemption is the result of a change in circumstances occurring after (1) the denial of a claim of exemption for the property earlier in the action or (2) the expiration of the time for claiming the exemption earlier in the action.

(b) A claim of exemption under this section shall follow the procedure provided in Section 690.50 except that, subject to subdivision (a), the defendant may claim the exemption at any time. References in Section 690.50 to "the debtor" shall be deemed references to the defendant, and references in Section 690.50 to "the creditor" shall be deemed references to the plaintiff.

(c) The exemption provided by subdivision (b) of Section 487.020 may be claimed at the defendant's option either pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section or by following the procedure provided in this subdivision. The claim shall be made by filing with the court and serving on the plaintiff a notice of motion. Service on the plaintiff shall be made not less than three days prior to the date set for the hearing. The hearing shall be held not more than five days after the filing of the notice of motion unless, for good cause shown, the court orders otherwise. The notice of motion shall state the relief requested and shall be accompanied by an affidavit supporting any factual issues raised and points and authorities supporting any legal issues raised. At the hearing on the motion, the defendant has the burden of showing that the property is exempt pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 487.020. Upon such showing and the showing required by subdivision (a), the court shall order the release of such property.

SEC. 4. Section 482.110 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

482.110. (a) The plaintiff's application for a right to attach order and a writ of attachment pursuant to this title may include an estimate of the costs and allowable attorney's fees.

(b) In the discretion of the court, the amount to be secured by the attachment may include an estimated amount for costs and allowable attorney's fees.

SEC. 5. Section 482.120 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

482.120. If the court determines at the hearing on issuance of a writ of attachment under this title that the value of the defendant's interest in the property described in the plaintiff's application clearly exceeds the amount necessary to satisfy the amount to be secured by the attachment, the court may direct the order of levy on the property described in the writ or restrict the amount of the property to be levied upon.

SEC. 6. Section 483.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

483.010. (a) Except as otherwise provided by statute, an attachment may be issued only in an action on a claim or claims for money, each of which is based upon a contract, express or implied, where the total amount of such claim or claims is a fixed or readily ascertainable amount not less than five hundred dollars ($500) exclusive of costs, interest, and attorney's fees.

(b) An attachment may not be issued on a claim which is secured by any interest in real or personal property arising from agreement, statute, or other rule of law (including any mortgage or deed of trust of realty, any security interest subject to Division 9 (commencing with Section 9101) of the Commercial Code, and any statutory, common law, or equitable lien). However, an attachment may be issued (1) where the claim was originally so secured but, without any act of the plaintiff or the person to whom the security was given, such security has become valueless or has decreased in value to less than the amount then owing on the claim, in which event the amount for which such attachment may issue shall not exceed the lesser of the amount of such decrease or the difference between the value of the security and the amount then owing on the claim, or (2) where the claim was secured by a nonconsensual possessory lien but such lien has been relinquished by the surrender of the possession of the property.

(c) If the action is against an individual, an attachment may be issued only on a claim which arises out of the conduct by the individual of a trade, business, or profession. An attachment may not be issued on a claim against an individual which is based on the sale or lease of property, a license to use property, the furnishing of services, or the loan of money where the property sold or leased, or licensed for use, the services furnished, or the money loaned was used by the individual primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(d) An attachment may be issued pursuant to this section whether or not other forms of relief are demanded.

SEC. 7. Section 484.050 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

484.050. The notice of application and hearing shall inform the defendant of all of the following:

(a) A hearing will be held at a place and at a time, to be specified in the notice, on plaintiff's application for a right to attach order and a writ of attachment.

(b) The order will be issued if the court finds that the plaintiff's claim is probably valid and the other requirements for issuing the order are established. The hearing is not for the purpose of determining whether the claim is actually valid. The determination of the actual validity of the claim will be made in subsequent proceedings in the action and will not be affected by the decisions at the hearing on the application for the order.

(c) If the right to attach order is issued, a writ of attachment will be issued to attach the property described in the plaintiff's application unless the court determines that such property is exempt from attachment or that its value clearly exceeds the amount necessary to satisfy the amount to be secured by the attachment. However, additional writs of attachment may be issued to attach other nonexempt property of the defendant on the basis of the right to attach order.

(d) If the defendant desires to oppose the issuance of the order, he shall file with the court and serve on the plaintiff a notice of opposition and supporting affidavit as required by Section 484.060 not later than five days prior to the date set for hearing.

(e) If the defendant claims that the property described in the application, or a portion thereof, is exempt from attachment, he shall include such claim in the notice of opposition filed and served pursuant to Section 484.060 or file and serve a separate claim of exemption with respect to the property as provided in Section 484.070. If he does not do so, the claim of exemption will be barred in the absence of a showing of a change in circumstances occurring after the expiration of the time for claiming exemptions.

(f) The defendant may obtain a determination at the hearing whether property not described in the application is exempt from attachment, but the failure to claim that property not so described is exempt from attachment will not preclude him from making a claim of exemption with respect to such property at a later time.

(g) Either the defendant or his attorney or both of them may be present at the hearing.

(h) The notice shall contain the following statement: "You may seek the advice of an attorney as to any matter connected with the plaintiff's application. Such attorney should be consulted promptly so that he may assist you before the time set for hearing."

SEC. 8. Section 484.070 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

484.070. (a) If the defendant claims that the property described in the plaintiff's application, or a portion of such property, is exempt from attachment, the defendant shall claim such exemption as provided in this section. If the defendant fails to make such claim or makes such claim but fails to prove that the property is exempt, he may not later claim such exemption except as provided in Section 482.100.

(b) If the defendant desires to claim at the hearing that property not described in the plaintiff's application is exempt from attachment, in whole or in part, the defendant shall claim such exemption as provided in this section. Failure to make such claim does not preclude the defendant from later claiming the exemption. If the claim is made as provided in this section but the defendant fails to prove that the property is exempt from attachment, he may not later claim that the property, or a portion thereof, is exempt except as provided in Section 482.100.

(c) The claim of exemption shall:

(1) Describe the property claimed to be exempt.

(2) Specify the statute section supporting the claim.

(d) The claim of exemption shall be accompanied by an affidavit

(b) If the court finds that the application and supporting affidavit do not satisfy the requirements of Section 485.010, it shall so state and deny the order If denial is solely on the ground that Section 485.010 is not satisfied, the court shall so state and such denial does not preclude the plaintiff from applying for a right to attach order and writ of attachment under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 484.010) with the same affidavits and supporting papers.

interest stands upon the records of the county, the recorder shall index such attachment when recorded in the names of both the defendant and such other person.

(c) Promptly after recording and in no event more than 15 days after the date of recording, the levying officer shall mail a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment to the defendant and to any other person identified in the writ in whose name the real property in which the defendant has an interest stands upon the records of the county at the address of such other person as shown by the records of the office of the tax assessor of the county where the real property is located.

(1) The name and mailing address, if known, of both the plaintiff and the defendant in the described action.

(2) A description of the vehicle or vessel attached.

the date of filing pursuant to this section, the levying officer shall determine from the department the name and address of the legal owner, if any, of the vehicle or vessel as shown by the records of the department on the date of filing and shall serve such legal owner with a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested.

(d) The lien of attachment acquired pursuant to levy under this section does not affect the rights of a person who is a bona fide purchaser of the vehicle or vessel and obtains possession of both the vehicle or vessel and its certificate of ownership.

(e) A failure to serve the defendant pursuant to subdivision (b) or the legal owner pursuant to subdivision (c) shall not affect the lien created pursuant to subdivision (a).

(f) The fee for filing and indexing each notice of attachment, notice of extension, or notice of release with the Department of Motor Vehicles is three dollars ($3). Upon the request of any person, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall issue its certificate showing whether there is on file, on the date and hour stated therein, any notice of attachment, naming a particular person, and if a notice is on file, giving the date and hour of filing of each notice and the name of the plaintiff. Upon request, the department shall furnish a copy of any notice of attachment or notice affecting a notice of attachment for a fee of one dollar ($1) per page.

SEC. 31. Section 488.360 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

488.360. (a) To attach farm products or inventory of a going business, if the defendant consents, the levying officer shall place a keeper in charge of such property for a period not to exceed 10 days. During such period, the defendant may continue to operate his farm or business at his own expense provided all sales are final and are for cash or the equivalent of cash. For the purposes of this subdivision, payment by check shall be deemed the equivalent of a cash payment. The levying officer shall incur no liability for accepting payment in the form of a cash equivalent. The proceeds from all sales shall be given to the keeper for the purposes of the levy unless otherwise authorized by the plaintiff. If the defendant does not consent or, in any event, after the end of such 10-day period, the levying officer shall take such property into his exclusive custody unless other disposition is made by the parties to the action. At the time of levy or promptly thereafter, the levying officer shall serve the defendant with a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment.

(b) Where property is levied upon pursuant to subdivision (a), the defendant may apply for an order pursuant to this subdivision for the release of property exempt pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 487.020. Such application shall be made by filing with the court and serving on the plaintiff a notice of motion. Service on the plaintiff shall be made not less than three days prior to the date set for hearing. The hearing shall be held not more than five days after the filing of the notice of motion unless, for good cause shown, the court orders otherwise. The notice of motion shall state the relief requested and shall be accompanied by an affidavit supporting any factual issues raised and points and authorities supporting any legal issues raised. At the hearing on the motion, the defendant has the burden of showing that the property, or a portion thereof or the proceeds therefrom, attached pursuant to subdivision (a), is exempt pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 487.020. Upon such showing, the court shall order the removal of the keeper and return the defendant to possession of such exempt property and may make such further order as the court deems appropriate to protect the plaintiff against frustration of the collection of his claim. Such order may permit the plaintiff to levy on farm products or inventory of a going business and on proceeds or after-acquired property, or both, by filing pursuant to subdivision (c) and may provide reasonable restrictions on the disposition of the property previously levied upon.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), upon the election and the instructions of the plaintiff, the levying officer shall attach farm products or inventory of a going business by filing a notice in the form prescribed by the Secretary of State which indicates that the plaintiff has acquired an attachment lien on the farm products or inventory of the defendant and, where permitted by the writ of attachment or court order, on identifiable cash proceeds (as that term is used in Section 9306 of the Commercial Code) or after-acquired property, or both. The notice shall state the name and mailing address, if known, of both the plaintiff and the defendant and shall describe the property attached and state whether identifiable cash proceeds or after-acquired property, or both, are attached. When the property is growing crops or timber to be cut, the notice shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder in the county where the real property on which the crops are growing or on which the timber is standing is located. Where, on the date of recording, the real property on which the crops are growing or on which the timber is standing stands upon the records of the county in the name of a person other than the defendant, the recorder shall index such attachment when recorded in the names of both the defendant and such other person identified in the writ. In all other cases, the notice shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The fee for filing and indexing each notice of attachment, notice of extension, or notice of release in the office of the Secretary of State is three dollars ($3). Upon the request of any person, the Secretary of State shall issue a certificate showing whether there is on file, on the date and hour stated therein, any notice of attachment, naming a particular person, and if a notice is on file, giving the date and hour of filing of each notice and the name of the plaintiff. The fee for the certificate issued by the Secretary of State is two dollars ($2). A combined certificate may be issued pursuant to Section 7203 of the Government Code. Upon request, the Secretary of State shall furnish a copy of any notice of attachment or notice affecting a notice of attachment for a fee of one dollar ($1) per page. A lien acquired by filing or recording a notice pursuant to this subdivision provides the plaintiff with the same rights and priorities in the attached property as would be obtained by a secured party who perfects a security interest (other than a purchase money security interest) in such property by filing a financing statement at such time and place. Promptly after filing or recording and in no event more than 15 days after the date of filing or recording pursuant to this subdivision, the levying officer shall send by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment to the defendant and, in the case of crops growing or timber standing on real property, to any other person identified in the writ in whose name the real property stands upon the records of the county at the address of such other person as shown by the records of the office of the tax assessor of the county where the property is located.

(d) A failure to serve the defendant or any other person pursuant to subdivision (a) or (c) shall not affect the lien created pursuant to either subdivision.

SEC. 32. Section 488.430 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

488.430. (a) To attach the interest of a defendant in personal property belonging to the estate of a decedent, whether by testate or intestate succession, the levying officer shall (1) file a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment in the office of the clerk of the court in which the estate is being administered and (2) serve the personal representative of the decedent with a copy of the writ and the notice.

(b) Promptly after levy and in no event more than 45 days after levy, the levying officer shall serve the defendant with a copy of the writ and the notice of attachment. A failure to serve the defendant pursuant to this subdivision shall not affect the lien created pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The personal representative shall report such attachment to the court in which the estate is being administered when any petition for distribution is filed.

(d) Such attachment shall not impair the powers of the representative over the property for the purposes of administration.

(e) If a decree orders distribution to the defendant, the property shall be ordered to be delivered to the officer making the levy subject to the claim of the defendant or any person claiming under him. The property shall not be delivered to the officer making the levy until the decree distributing the interest has become final.

SEC. 33. Section 488.500 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

488.500. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) of Section 488.360, levy of a writ of attachment creates a lien on the property levied upon which is valid against all subsequent transferees of the property.

(b) The lien of attachment on real property levied upon pursuant to Section 488.310 becomes effective on the date of recording pursuant to that section.

(g) The lien of attachment on a judgment levied upon pursuant to Section 488.420 becomes effective on the date of service on the judgment debtor.

(h) The lien of attachment on property levied upon pursuant to Section 488.430 becomes effective on the date of filing pursuant to that section.

(i) Notwithstanding subdivisions (b) through (h), inclusive, and except as otherwise provided by Section 486.110, where a temporary protective order has been issued pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 486.010), the lien of attachment on property described in such order and subsequently attached is effective from the date of service of such order.

SEC. 34. Section 488.530 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

488.530. (a) Whenever property is or may be attached, the plaintiff, the defendant, or any third person whose interest has been determined pursuant to Section 689, may apply by noticed motion for the order provided in this subdivision. Upon a showing that the property is perishable or will greatly deteriorate or greatly depreciate in value or that for some other reason the interests of the parties will be best served thereby, the court may order that such property be sold or may appoint a receiver or direct the levying officer to take charge of, cultivate, care for, preserve, collect, harvest, pack, or sell such property.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if the levying officer determines that property is extremely perishable or will greatly deteriorate or greatly depreciate in value before a court order for the sale of the property could be obtained, the levying officer may take any action necessary to preserve the value of the property or sell the property. The levying officer is not liable for a determination made in good faith under this subdivision.

(c) Any sale of such property shall be made in the same manner that property is sold on execution and the proceeds shall be deposited in the court to abide the judgment in the action.

(d) Where a receiver is appointed, the court shall fix the daily fee of such receiver and may order the plaintiff to pay such fee and expenses of the receiver in advance or may direct that the whole or any part of such fee and expenses be paid from the proceeds of any sale of such property.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 564) and Chapter 5a (commencing with Section 571) of Title 7 govern the appointment, qualifications, powers, rights, and duties of a receiver appointed under this section.

SEC. 35. Section 488.555 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

488.555. (a) The defendant may apply by noticed motion to the court in which the action is pending for an order releasing the attachment of property to the extent that the value of the defendant's interest in the property clearly exceeds the amount necessary to satisfy the amount to be secured by the attachment.

(b) The notice of motion shall state the grounds on which the motion is based and shall be accompanied by an affidavit supporting any factual issues raised and points and authorities supporting any legal issues raised.

(c) At the hearing on the motion, the court shall determine the value of the defendant's interest in the property and order the release of the attachment of the property to the extent that the value of the defendant's interest in the property attached clearly exceeds the amount necessary to satisfy the amount to be secured by the attachment.

(d) The court's determinations shall be made upon the basis of the pleadings and other papers in the record; but, upon good cause shown, the court may receive and consider at the hearing additional evidence, oral or documentary, and additional points and authorities, or it may continue the hearing for the production of such additional evidence or points and authorities.

SEC. 36. Section 488.560 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

488.560. (a) The levying officer shall release an attachment whenever he receives a written direction to that effect from the plaintiff, or a certified copy of an order of the court in which the action is pending, discharging or dissolving the attachment or releasing the property.

(b) Where the property to be released has been taken into custody, it shall be released to the person from whom it was taken unless otherwise ordered by the court. If such person cannot be found within the county where the property was levied upon, the levying officer shall retain the property but give notice to such person by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, sent to such person's last known address, as to where he may secure its possession. If, after 30 days from the giving of such notice, such person has not claimed the property, the levying officer shall sell such property in the same manner that property is sold on execution and deposit the proceeds, after first deducting his costs and expenses, in the court to abide the judgment in the action.

(c) Where the property to be released has not been taken into custody, the levying officer shall release the attachment by issuing a written release addressed to the person served with the copy of the writ and notice and, where the writ and notice were recorded or filed, by recording or filing such written release in the same office.

(d) The levying officer is not liable for releasing an attachment in accordance with this section nor is any other person liable for acting in conformity with the release.

SEC. 36.5. Section 489.060 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.060. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), all undertakings shall be presented to a proper court for approval and upon approval shall be filed with the court in which the action is pending. An undertaking becomes effective upon filing.

(b) Where the surety on the undertaking is a corporate surety possessing a certificate of authority from the Insurance Commissioner as provided by Section 1056, the undertaking is not required to be approved by the court.

(c) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to preclude approval of an undertaking in an amount larger than that required.

SEC. 37. Section 489.130 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

489.130. Where the court orders the amount of the undertaking increased pursuant to Section 489.220 or 489.410, the plaintiff's failure to increase the amount of the undertaking is not a wrongful attachment within the meaning of Section 490.010.

SEC. 37.5. Section 489.210 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.210. Before issuance of a writ of attachment or a temporary protective order, the plaintiff shall file an undertaking to pay the defendant any amount the defendant may recover for any wrongful attachment by the plaintiff in the action.

SEC. 38. Section 489.220 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.220. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the amount of an undertaking filed pursuant to this article shall be five hundred dollars ($500) in an action in justice court, two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) in an action in the municipal court, and seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) in an action in the superior court.

(b) If, upon objection to the undertaking, the court determines that the probable recovery for wrongful attachment exceeds the amount of the undertaking, it shall order the amount of the undertaking increased to the amount it determines to be the probable recovery for wrongful attachment if it is ultimately determined that the attachment was wrongful.

SEC. 39. Section 489.230 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.230. (a) The notice of attachment shall include a statement, in a form adopted by the Judicial Council, advising the defendant that the undertaking has been filed and informing him of his right to object to the undertaking on the grounds provided in Section 489.070.

(b) The form for the temporary protective order shall include a statement comparable to the one required by subdivision (a).

SEC. 40. Section 489.310 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.310. (a) Whenever a writ is issued, a defendant who has appeared in the action may apply by noticed motion to the court in which the action is pending for an order permitting the defendant to substitute an undertaking for any of his property in the state which has been or is subject to being attached.

(b) In a case (1) where the defendant applies for an order to release a portion of property which has been attached or (2) where the defendant applies for an order preventing the attachment of property and the amount of the undertaking to be given is less than the amount to be secured by the attachment, the application shall include a statement, executed under oath, describing the property to be so released or so protected from attachment.

(c) The defendant shall file an undertaking to pay the plaintiff the value of the property released not exceeding the amount of any judgment which may be recovered by the plaintiff in the action against the defendant. The amount of the undertaking filed pursuant to this section shall be equal to the lesser of (1) the value of the property attached or prevented from being attached or (2) the amount specified by the writ to be secured by the attachment. The court shall issue such order upon the condition that a sufficient undertaking be filed.

(d) Where an action is against more than one defendant, any defendant may make such application. The filing of an undertaking by such defendant shall not subject him to any demand against any other defendant; however, the levying officer shall not be prevented thereby from attaching, or be obliged to release from attachment, any property of any other defendant. Where all the defendants do not join in the application, the application shall include a statement, executed under oath, describing the character of the defendant's title to the property and the manner in which the defendant acquired such title and stating whether any other defendant who has not joined in the application has an interest in the property. Where two or more defendants have an interest in the same property, a joint application and undertaking shall be filed to secure the release of such property.

SEC. 41. Section 489.320 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

489.320. (a) A defendant who has been served with a temporary protective order and who has appeared in the action may apply by noticed motion to the court in which the action is pending for an order terminating the temporary protective order with respect to such defendant.

(b) The defendant shall file an undertaking to pay the plaintiff the amount of any judgment recovered by the plaintiff in the action against such defendant. The amount of the undertaking filed pursuant to this section shall be equal to the amount of the plaintiff's claim. The court shall issue the order terminating the temporary protective order with respect to such defendant upon the condition that a sufficient undertaking be filed.

SEC. 42. Section 490.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

490.010. A wrongful attachment consists of any of the following:

(a) The levy of a writ of attachment or the service of a temporary protective order in an action in which attachment is not authorized, except that it is not a wrongful attachment if both of the following are established:

(1) The levy was not authorized solely because of the prohibition of subdivision (c) of Section 483.010.

(2) The person who sold or leased, or licensed for use, the property, furnished the services, or loaned the money reasonably believed that it would not be used primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(b) The levy of a writ of attachment or the service of a temporary protective order in an action in which the plaintiff does not recover judgment.

(c) The levy of a writ of attachment obtained pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 484.510) of Chapter 4 or Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 485.010) on property exempt from attachment except where the plaintiff shows that he reasonably believed that the property attached was not exempt from attachment.

(d) The levy of a writ of attachment on property of a person other than the person against whom the writ was issued except that it is not a wrongful attachment if all of the following exist:

(1) The property levied on is required by law to be registered or recorded in the name of the owner.

(2) It appeared that, at the time of the levy, the person against whom the writ was issued was such registered or record owner.

(3) The plaintiff made the levy in good faith and in reliance on the registered or recorded ownership.

SEC. 43. Section 491.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

491.010. (a) Upon application of the plaintiff, the court may order any person owing debts to the defendant, or having in his possession or under his control any personal property belonging to the defendant, to appear before the court and be examined on oath regarding such property. Where a corporation or a partnership or other unincorporated association is to be examined, it shall designate one or more officers, directors, managing agents, or other persons who are familiar with the property held, or the debts owed, by the corporation or partnership or other unincorporated association, to appear and be examined. The plaintiff's application shall be accompanied by an affidavit showing that the person named therein owes debts to the defendant or has in his possession or under his control personal property belonging to the defendant.

(b) The plaintiff shall give the defendant at least three days' notice of an examination ordered pursuant to this chapter.

(c) If the person ordered to appear pursuant to this section fails to appear, and if the order requiring his appearance has been served by a levying officer or some person specially appointed by the court in the order, the court may, pursuant to a warrant, have such person brought before the court to answer for such failure to appear.

(d) After such examination, if the person admits that he is indebted to the defendant, or that he holds property belonging to the defendant, the court may order that such debt or property belonging to the defendant be attached in the manner and under the conditions provided by this title and that any amount owing be paid to the levying officer. If the person admits that he holds property which belongs to the defendant and in which he claims no interest, the court may order that such property be delivered to the levying officer on such terms as may be just.

SEC. 44. Section 492.030 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

492.030. (a) The court shall examine the application and supporting affidavit and shall issue a right to attach order, which shall state the amount to be secured by the attachment, and order a writ of attachment to be issued upon the filing of an undertaking as provided by Sections 489.210 and 489.220, if it finds all of the following:

(1) The claim upon which the attachment is based is one upon which an attachment may be issued.

(2) The plaintiff has established the probable validity of the claim upon which the attachment is based.

(3) The defendant is one described in Section 492.010.

(4) The attachment is not sought for a purpose other than the recovery on the claim upon which the attachment is based.

(5) The affidavit accompanying the application shows that the property sought to be attached, or the portion thereof to be specified in the writ, is subject to attachment pursuant to Section 492.040.

(b) If the court finds that the application and supporting affidavit do not satisfy the requirements of this chapter, it shall so state and deny the order. If denial is solely on the ground that the defendant is not one described in Section 492.010, the judicial officer shall so state and such denial does not preclude the plaintiff from applying for a right to attach order and writ of attachment under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 484.010) with the same affidavits and supporting papers.

SEC. 45. Section 492.090 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

492.090. The court shall examine the application and supporting affidavit and shall order a writ of attachment to be issued upon the filing of an undertaking as provided by Sections 489.210 and 489.220, if it finds both of the following:

(a) A right to attach order has been issued in the action pursuant to Section 492.030.

(b) The affidavit accompanying the application shows that the property sought to be attached, or the portion thereof to be specified in the writ, is subject to attachment pursuant to Section 492.040.

SEC. 46. Section 688 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

688. (a) All goods, chattels, moneys or other property, both real and personal, or any interest therein, of the judgment debtor, not exempt by law, and all property and rights of property levied upon under attachment in the action, are subject to execution.

(b) All property subject to execution may be levied upon or released from levy in like manner as like property may be levied upon or released from attachment, except that tangible personal property in the possession of the judgment debtor shall always be levied upon in the manner provided by Section 488.320. Notwithstanding the provisions of Title 6.5 (commencing with Section 481.010), service on the judgment debtor of a copy of the writ of execution shall be made either by personal delivery or by mail to the judgment debtor at the address furnished by the judgment creditor. To levy upon any property or debt owed to the judgment debtor which is subject to execution but for which a method of levy of attachment is not provided, the levying officer shall serve upon the person in possession of such property or owing such debt, or his agent (1) a copy of the writ of execution and (2) a notice that such property or debt is levied upon in pursuance of such writ.

(c) Until a levy, no property shall be affected by issuance of a writ of execution or its delivery to the levying officer.

(d) No levy shall bind any property for a longer period than one year from the date of the issuance of the execution, except a levy on the interests or claims of heirs, devisees, or legatees in or to assets of deceased persons remaining in the hands of executors or administrators thereof prior to distribution and payment. However, an alias execution may be issued on said judgment and levied on any property not exempt from execution.

(e) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), no cause of action nor judgment as such, nor license issued by this state to engage in any business, profession, or activity, shall be subject to levy or sale on execution.

(f) When a check, draft, money order, or other order for the withdrawal of money from a banking corporation or association, the United States, any state, or any public entity within any state, payable to the defendant on demand, comes into the possession of a levying officer under a writ of execution, the provisions of Section 488.520 are applicable.

SEC. 47. Section 690.50 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

690.50. (a) If the property mentioned in Section 690.1 to 690.29, inclusive, shall be levied upon under writ of execution, the judgment debtor (herein referred to as "the debtor"), in order to avail himself of his exemption rights as to such property, shall within 20 days, in the case of real property described in Section 690.235, and 10 days, in the case of all other property, from the date such property was levied upon deliver to the levying officer an affidavit of himself or his agent, together with a copy thereof, alleging that the property levied upon, identifying it, is exempt, specifying the section or sections of this code on which he relies for his claim to exemption, and all facts necessary to support his claim, and also stating therein his address within this state for the purpose of permitting service by mail upon him of the counteraffidavit and any notice of the motion herein provided. For purposes of this section, if the property levied upon consists of the earnings of a judgment debtor, each date that earnings are withheld from the judgment debtor shall be deemed to be the date such earnings were levied upon. A judgment debtor shall have the right to file a separate claim of exemption each time that a withholding of earnings occurs, provided, that if a prior claim of exemption has been adjudicated under the same levy, that each separate claim of exemption thereafter be supported by a statement under oath alleging the changed circumstances which support the new claim of exemption. If a claim of exemption be allowed, the judgment creditor shall have the right, at any time during the effective period of the claim of exemption, to move the court for consideration of the claim previously granted on the grounds of a material change of circumstances affecting the debtor's exemption rights. If the judgment creditor does make such a motion, he must support his motion by a statement under oath alleging the changed circumstances which support his motion for consideration.

(b) Forthwith upon receiving the affidavit of exemption, the levying officer shall serve upon the person in whose favor the writ runs (herein referred to as "the creditor"), either personally or by mail, a copy of the affidavit of exemption, together with a writing, signed by the levying officer, stating that the claim to exemption has been received and that the officer will release the property unless he receives from the creditor a counteraffidavit within 10 days after service of such writing, in the case of real property described in Section 690.235, and within five days after service of such writing, in all other cases.

(c) If the creditor desires to contest the claim to exemption, he shall, within such period of 10 days, in the case of real property described in Section 690.235, and five days, in all other cases, file with the levying officer a counteraffidavit alleging that the property is not exempt within the meaning of the section or sections of this code relied upon, or if the claim to exemption be based on Sections 690.2, 690.3, 690.4, or 690.6, alleging that the value of the property claimed to be exempt is in excess of the value stated in the applicable section or sections, together with proof of service of a copy of such counteraffidavit upon the debtor.

(d) If no such counteraffidavit, with such proof of service, is so filed with the levying officer within the time allowed, the officer shall forthwith release the property.

(e) If such counteraffidavit, with such proof of service, is so filed, either the creditor or the debtor shall be entitled to a hearing in the court in which the action is pending or from which the writ issued for the purpose of determining the claim to exemption, the priority or division of payment between one or more creditors from nonexempt earnings under the provisions of Section 690.6 or the value of the property claimed to be exempt. Such hearing shall be granted by the court upon motion of either party made within five days after the counteraffidavit is filed with the levying officer, and such hearing must be had within 15 days from the date of the making of such motion unless continued by the court for good cause. The party making the motion for hearing shall give not less than five days' notice in writing of such hearing to the levying officer and to the other party, and specify therein that the hearing is for the purpose of determining the claim to exemption. The notice may be of motion or of hearing and upon the filing of the notice with the clerk of the court, the motion is deemed made.

(f) If neither party makes such motion within the time allowed, or if the levying officer shall not have been served with a copy of the notice of hearing within 10 days after the filing of the counteraffidavit, the levying officer shall forthwith release the property to the debtor.

(g) At any time while the proceedings are pending, upon motion of either party or upon its own motion, the court may (1) order the sale of any perishable property held by such officer and direct disposition of the proceeds of such sale, and (2) make such other orders as may be proper under the particular circumstances of the case. Any orders so made may be modified or vacated by the court or judge granting the same, or by the court in which the proceedings are pending, at any time during the pendency of the proceedings, upon such terms as may be just.

(h) The levying officer in all cases shall retain physical possession of the property levied upon if it is capable of physical possession, or in the case of property not capable of physical possession, the levy shall remain in full force and effect, pending the final determination of the claim to exemption. However, no sale under execution shall be had prior to such final determination unless an order of the court hearing the claim for exemption shall so provide.

(i) At such hearing, the party claiming the exemption shall have the burden of proof. The affidavits and counteraffidavits shall be filed by the levying officer with the court and shall constitute the pleadings, subject to the power of the court to permit an amendment in the interests of justice. The affidavit of exemption shall be deemed controverted by the counteraffidavit and both shall be received in evidence. Nothing herein shall be construed to deprive anyone of the right to a jury trial in any case where, by the Constitution, such right is given, but a jury trial may be waived in any such case in like manner as in the trial of an action. No findings shall be required in a proceeding under this section. When the hearing is before the court sitting without a jury, and no evidence other than the affidavit and counteraffidavit is offered, the court, if satisfied that sufficient facts are shown thereby, may make its determination thereon. Otherwise, it shall order the hearing continued for the production of other evidence, oral or documentary, or the filing of other affidavits and counteraffidavits. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall give judgment determining whether the claim to exemption shall be allowed or not, in whole or in part, and may give judgment determining the priority or division of payment between one or more creditors from nonexempt earnings under the provisions of Section 690.6, which judgment shall be determinative as to the right of the creditor to have the property taken and held by the officer or to subject the property to payment or other satisfaction of his judgment. In such judgment the court shall make all proper orders for the disposition of such property or the proceeds thereof.

(j) A copy of any judgment entered in the trial court shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk to the levying officer in order to permit such officer to either release the property attached or to continue to hold it to sell it, in accordance with the provisions of the writ previously delivered to him. Such officer, unless an appeal from the judgment is waived, or the judgment has otherwise become final, shall continue to hold such property under attachment or execution, continuing the sale of any property held under execution until such judgment becomes final. However, if a claim to exemption under Section 690.6 is allowed by such judgment, the debtor shall be entitled to a release of the earnings so exempted at the expiration of three days, unless otherwise ordered by the court, or unless the levying officer shall have been served with a copy of a notice of appeal from the judgment.

(k) When any documents required hereunder are served by mail, the provisions of this code relating to service by mail shall be applicable thereto.

(l) Whenever the time allowed for an act to be done hereunder is extended by the court, written notice thereof shall be given promptly to the opposing party, unless such notice be waived, and to the levying officer.

(m) An appeal lies from any judgment under this section. Such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided for appeals in the court in which the proceeding is had.

CHAPTER 438

An act to amend Sections 789.9 and 789.10 of the Civil Code, relating to mobilehome park tenancies.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 789.9 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

789.9. The management of a mobilehome park shall provide tenants with the park rules and regulations and the language of Sections 789.4 to 789.13, inclusive, in written form either included within the rules and regulations of the park or in the rental agreement.

SEC. 2. Section 789.10 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

789.10. The ownership or management of a park, subdivision, cooperative, or condominium for mobilehomes shall not make as a condition or precondition of residency or tenancy that the mobilehome be prohibited from remaining in the mobilehome park in the event of a sale to a third party during the term of the tenant's lease or any renewal or extension thereof; provided, however, that the owner may, in the event of a sale to a third party, in order to upgrade the quality of his mobilehome park, require that any mobilehome less than 10 feet wide or more than 15 years old or 25 years old if manufactured after September 15, 1971, or both, or any mobilehome in a rundown condition or in disrepair be removed from the park. The ownership or management shall use reasonable discretion in determining the condition of the mobilehome and its accessory structures.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny the ownership or management the right to require prior approval of a purchaser if the mobilehome will remain located in the mobilehome park or other facility and the selling tenant or his agent shall give notice to the ownership or management of the sale prior to the close of the sale; provided, however, that the approval of a purchaser cannot be withheld if the purchaser as a prospective tenant has the financial ability to pay the rent and charges of the park unless the ownership or management reasonably determines that the prospective tenant will not, based upon prior tenancies, comply with the requirements of the rules and regulations of the mobilehome park. The ownership or management may require that the purchaser as a prospective tenant comply with any rule and regulation of the mobilehome park limiting residence within the park to adults only.

A tenant shall be permitted to advertise the sale or exchange of his mobilehome, or the rental or lease of such mobilehome if rental or lease is not prohibited under terms of an agreement with the ownership or management of a park. Such sign may (1) advertise that the mobilehome is for sale or exchange, or that it is for rental or lease if rental or lease is not prohibited, by the owner or his agent; (2) state the owner's or agent's name, address and telephone number; (3) be of reasonable dimensions but may be at least 12 inches in width and 12 inches in length; and (4) be displayed in the window of the mobilehome.

No rental, lease, or sale agreement shall contain any provision by which the purchaser or tenant waives his rights under this section, and any such waiver shall be deemed contrary to public policy and shall be void and unenforceable.

An act to amend Sections 53100, 53106, 53109, 53112, 53113, 53114.2, 53115 and 53117 of, to add Sections 53108.1, 53115.1, 53115.2 and 53118 to, and to repeal Sections 53118, 53119 and 53120 of, the Government Code, and to add Part 20 (commencing with Section 41001) to Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and making an appropriation therefor, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53100 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53100. (a) This article shall be known and may be cited as the Warren-911-Emergency Assistance Act.

(b) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that it is in the public interest to shorten the time required for a citizen to request and receive emergency aid. There currently exist thousands of different emergency phone numbers throughout the state, and present telephone exchange boundaries and central office service areas do not necessarily correspond to public safety and political boundaries. Provision of a single, primary three-digit emergency number through which emergency services can be quickly and efficiently obtained would provide a significant contribution to law enforcement and other public service efforts by making it less difficult to quickly notify public safety personnel. Such a simplified means of procuring emergency services will result in the saving of life, a reduction in the destruction of property, quicker apprehension of criminals, and ultimately the saving of money. The Legislature further finds and declares that the establishment of a uniform, statewide emergency number is a matter of statewide concern and interest to all inhabitants and citizens of this state. It is the purpose of this act to establish the number "911" as the primary emergency telephone number for use in this state and to encourage units of local government and combinations of such units to develop and improve emergency communication procedures and facilities in such a manner as to be able to quickly respond to any person calling the telephone number "911" seeking police, fire, medical, rescue, and other emergency services.

SEC. 1.2. Section 53106 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53106. "Referral method," as used in this article, means a telephone service which, upon the receipt of a telephone request for emergency services, provides the requesting party with the telephone number of the appropriate public safety agency or other provider of emergency services. The use of the referral method shall only be used for nonemergency situations.

SEC. 1.1. Section 53108.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53108.1. "Incremental costs", as used in this article, mean any costs necessary for the establishment of a system required by this article and recommended for reimbursement by the advisory committee established by Section 53115.1 other than costs for (1) a basic system, (2) a basic system with telephone central office identification, or (3) a system employing automatic call routing, which are reasonable, necessary and unique for the planning and efficient implementation of a local agency's 911 system.

SEC. 2. Section 53109 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53109. Every local public agency within its respective jurisdiction shall establish and have in operation by December 31, 1984, a basic system as provided in this article, or be part of such a system.

The establishment of such systems shall be centralized to the extent feasible. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit or discourage in any way the formation of multijurisdictional or regional systems, and any system established pursuant to this article may include the territory of more than one public agency or may include a segment of the territory of a public agency.

SEC. 2.1. Section 53112 of the Government Code, as amended by Chapter 1044 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

53112. All systems shall be designed to meet the specific requirements of each community and public agency served by the system. Every system, whether basic or sophisticated, shall be designed to have the capability of utilizing at least three of the methods specified in Sections 53103 to 53106, inclusive, in response to emergency calls. The Legislature finds and declares that the most critical aspect of the design of any system is the procedure established for handling a telephone request for emergency services.

In addition, to maximize efficiency and utilization of the system, all pay telephones within each system shall, by December 31, 1984, enable a caller to dial "911" for emergency services, and to reach an operator by dialing "0", without the necessity of inserting a coin. At those "911" public safety answering points serving an area where 5 percent or more of the population, in accordance with the latest United States census information, speak a specific primary language other than English, operators who speak each such other language, in addition to English, shall be on duty or available through interagency telephone conference procedures at all times for "911" emergency services.

SEC. 3. Section 53113 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53113. The Legislature finds that, because of overlapping jurisdiction of public agencies, public safety agencies, and telephone service areas, a general overview or plan should be developed prior to the establishment of any system. In order to insure that proper preparation and implementation of such systems is accomplished by all public agencies by December 31, 1984, the Communications Division, with the advice and assistance of the Attorney General, shall secure compliance by public agencies as provided in this article.

SEC. 4. Section 53114.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53114.2. Technical and operational standards for the development of the public agency systems shall be established and reviewed by the Communications Division on or before December 31, 1973, after consultation with all agencies specified in Section 53114.1. On or before December 31, 1976, and each even-numbered year thereafter, after consultation with all agencies specified in Section 53114.1, the Communications Division shall review and update technical and operational standards for public agency systems.

SEC. 5. Section 53115 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53115. (a) On or before January 31, 1975, all public agencies shall submit tentative plans for the establishment of a system required by this article to the public utility or utilities providing public telephone service within the respective jurisdiction of each public agency. A copy of each such plan shall be filed with the Communications Division.

(b) On or before July 1, 1978, all public agencies shall submit final plans to the Communications Division for approval. On or before July 1, 1979 all public agencies shall place a firm order as approved by the Communications Division to the utility or utilities providing telephone service to the public agency, and shall make arrangements with such utilities for the implementation of the planned emergency telephone system no later than December 31, 1984.

(c) If any public agency has implemented or is a part of a system required by this article on a deadline specified in subdivision (a) or (b), such public agency shall submit in lieu of the tentative or final plan a report describing the system and stating its operational date.

(d) Plans filed pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) shall conform to minimum standards established pursuant to Section 53114.2.

(e) The Communications Division shall monitor all emergency telephone systems to ensure they comply with minimal operational and technical standards as established by the division. If any system does not comply the Communications Division shall notify in writing the public agency or agencies operating the system of its deficiencies.

The public agency shall bring the system into compliance with the operational and technical standards within 60 days of notice by the division. Failure to comply within such time shall subject the public agency to action by the Attorney General pursuant to Section 53116.

SEC. 5.1. Section 53115.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53115.1. The Advisory Committee on the State Emergency Telephone Number is hereby created and established in the Department of General Services. The Communications Division shall provide staff services to the advisory committee.

It is the intention of the Legislature that the advisory committee will assist the Department of General Services in resolving conflicts between state and local government and the communications industry relating to implementation of the emergency telephone number system when requested by the Communications Division.

It is the purpose of the advisory committee to evaluate requests from local agencies for state assistance for incremental costs and to recommend to the Chief of the Communications Division, Department of General Services when appropriation for reimbursement to a local agency for such incremental costs should be made. The advisory committee will be formed on or before January 1, 1977. A majority vote of the membership of the advisory committee shall be required for approval of plans referred to the committee. The committee shall elect a chairman and meet at the call of the chairman. The committee shall consist of nine members and shall be appointed in the following manner:

(a) Three of the members shall be selected from the largest service suppliers of intrastate communications services in the state to represent all service suppliers, to be appointed by the Director of General Services.

(b) Three of the members shall be selected from local agencies to be appointed by the Director of General Services. Urban and rural local agencies shall be represented.

(c) One member shall represent the Department of Finance, selected by the Director of Finance.

(d) Two of the members shall be representatives of the Legislature. One shall be designated by the Speaker of the Assembly and one shall be designated by the Senate Rules Committee.

The members of the advisory committee shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for any actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties. Members shall serve one-year terms subject to reappointment. If a member misses two successive meetings without approval by the chairman, then in that event that member's position shall be considered vacant. Prior to the next meeting a new member to fill the vacancy shall be appointed.

SEC. 5.2. Section 53115.2 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53115.2. The committee shall only review final plans which have been referred for consideration for incremental funding by the Communications Division at the request of a local agency. The committee shall make a recommendation to the Communications Division regarding state appropriation for payment or reimbursement for incremental costs.

The committee may also act in a general advisory capacity to the Communications Division relative to the implementation of any "911" system.

SEC. 6. Section 53117 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53117. (a) On or before February 16, 1975, the Communications Division shall report to the Legislature the progress in the implementation of systems required by this article. Such reports shall contain its recommendations for additional legislation.

(b) In December of 1973 and in December of 1974 the Communications Division, with the advice and assistance of the Attorney General, shall submit recommendations to the Department of Finance and to the Governor specifying amounts necessary to further implement the organization of telephone systems specified in this article during the succeeding fiscal year. The report specified in this subdivision shall contain, in addition, an estimate of the fiscal impact to local public agencies which will be caused by implementation of the provisions of this article.

SEC. 6.1. Section 53118 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 6.2. Section 53118 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53118. The Legislature declares that a major purpose in enacting this article is to eliminate instances in which a responding emergency service refuses to render aid to the requester because the requester is outside of the jurisdictional boundaries of the emergency service. A public safety agency which receives a request through the system for emergency services outside its jurisdictional boundaries shall transmit the request to the proper public safety answering point or public safety agency utilizing the methods described in Sections 53103 to 53105, inclusive. In the event an emergency unit is dispatched in response to a request through the system, such unit shall render its services to the requesting party without regard to whether the unit is operating outside its normal jurisdictional boundaries until properly relieved by the public safety agency responsible for that geographical area. Public agencies within a single system and public agencies in different systems but whose jurisdictional boundaries are contiguous are authorized to enter into joint powers agreements or any other form of written cooperative agreement to implement this requirement. These agreements may further provide for a public safety agency to render aid outside its normal jurisdictional boundaries when need arises on a day-to-day basis.

SEC. 6.3. Section 53119 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 6.4. Section 53120 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Part 20 (commencing with Section 41001) is added to Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2. THE SURCHARGE

Article 1. Imposition of the Surcharge

41020. A surcharge is hereby imposed on amounts paid by every person in the state for intrastate telephone communication services in this state commencing on July 1, 1977.

The surcharge imposed shall be at the rate of one-half of 1 percent of the charges made for such services to and including November 1, 1978, at such a rate as shall be fixed pursuant to Article 2 of this chapter thereafter.

The surcharge shall be paid by the service user as hereinafter provided.

41021. Every service supplier shall collect the surcharge from each service user at the time it collects its billings from the service user, provided, the duty to collect the surcharge from a service user shall commence with the beginning of the first regular billing period applicable to that person which starts on or after the operative date of the surcharge imposed by this part. If the stations or lines of more than one service supplier are utilized in furnishing the telephone communications services to the service user, the service supplier that bills the customer shall collect the surcharge from the customer.

Only one payment under this part shall be required with respect to the surcharge on any service, notwithstanding that the lines or stations of one or more service suppliers are used in furnishing such service.

41022. The surcharge required to be collected by the service supplier shall be added to and stated separately in its billings to the service user.

41023. The surcharge required to be collected by the service supplier, and any amount unreturned to the service user which is not a surcharge but was collected from the service user as representing a surcharge, constitute debts owed by the service supplier to this state.

A service supplier that has collected any amount of surcharge in excess of the amount of surcharge imposed by this part and actually due from a service user, may refund such amount to the service user, even though such surcharge amount has already been paid over to the board and no corresponding credit or refund has yet been secured. Any service supplier making a refund of any charge to a service user upon which surcharge is collected under this part from the service user may repay therewith the amount of the surcharge paid. The service supplier may claim credit for such overpayment against the amount of surcharge imposed by this part which is due upon any other quarterly return, providing such credit is claimed in a return dated no later than three years from the date of overpayment.

41024. Every service user in this state is liable for the surcharge until it has been paid to this state, except that payment to a service supplier registered under this part is sufficient to relieve the user from further liability for the tax.

Any surcharge collected from a service user which has not been remitted to the board shall be deemed a debt owed to the State of California by the person required to collect and remit such surcharge. Nothing in this part shall impose any obligation upon a service supplier to take any legal action to enforce the collection of the utility users surcharge imposed by this part. The service supplier shall provide the board with amounts uncollected along with the names, addresses and reasons of the service users refusing to pay the surcharge imposed by this part.

41025. If a bill is rendered to persons using intrastate telephone services the amount on which the surcharge with respect to such services shall be based shall be the sum of all charges for such services included in the bill; except that if the person who renders the bill groups individual items for purposes of rendering the bill and computing the surcharge then the amount on which the surcharge with respect to each such group shall be based, shall be the sum of all items within that group, and the surcharge on the remaining items not included in any such group, shall be based on the charge for each item separately.

41026. In the payment of the surcharge imposed by this part, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

41027. Nothing in this part shall be construed as imposing a surcharge upon amounts paid by any person when imposition of such surcharge would be in violation of the Constitution of the United States, the United States Code, or the laws of the State of California, nor upon toll charges used in the collection and dissemination of news for the public press or on charges for wide area telephone service used by common carriers in the conduct of their business.

Article 2. Adjustment of Surcharge Rate

41030. Following approval of the Budget Act each year, beginning with the Budget Act for the 1978–79 fiscal year, the board shall determine, on the basis of expenditures authorized in the Budget Act to be made from the "State Emergency Telephone Number Account" in the General Fund and its estimate of the charges for intrastate telephone communications services to which the surcharge will apply, a surcharge rate that it estimates will produce sufficient revenues to fund the expenditures authorized. Such rate shall not exceed three-quarters of 1 percent.

41031. The board shall make its determination of such surcharge rate each year no later than September 1 and shall fix the new rate which shall be effective as provided in Section 41033.

41032. Immediately upon making its determination and fixing the surcharge rate, the board shall each year no later than September 1 publish in its minutes the new rate, and it shall notify by mail every service supplier registered with it of the new rate.

41033. The new rate fixed by the board pursuant to this article shall apply with respect to charges made for interstate telephone communication services on and after November 1 of each year.

Article 3. Registration

41040. Every service supplier in this state shall register with the board upon a form prescribed by the board and shall set forth the name under which it transacts or intends to transact business and such other information as the board may require.

CHAPTER 3. SPECIAL PROVISIONS AND EXEMPTIONS

41045. The surcharges imposed by this part shall be collected insofar as practicable at the same time as, and along with, the charges made in accordance with regular billing practice of the service supplier.

The charges for services determined by or stated on a billing of a service supplier in accordance with its business practices and accounting records to have been supplied to a service user during any calendar month or billing period of the service supplier shall be presumed to be correct. The presumption may be rebutted by evidence which establishes that the charges for services were other than such amount.

41046. There are exempt from the surcharge charges for intrastate telephone communication services which are exempt from the federal communication services tax pursuant to Section 4253 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

41049. In any instances where an exemption is claimed by reason of the provisions of this part, and the service supplier questions the validity of the claimed exemption, either the service supplier or the service user may request the board to issue a ruling as to the validity of the claimed exemption, accompanying the request with a statement showing the facts and basis for the claim. The board shall issue its ruling within 30 days of receipt of the request. Pending issuance of the ruling, the service supplier shall not be obligated to collect the surcharge from the claimant.

CHAPTER 4. DETERMINATION OF SURCHARGE

Article 1. Due and Payable Dates

41050. The surcharge imposed by Section 41020 attaches at the time the intrastate telephone communication services are billed by the service supplier to the service user and shall be paid by the service user when paying for such services.

41051. The surcharges imposed by this part and the amounts thereof required to be collected are due quarterly, the amount of surcharge collected in one calendar quarter by the service supplier shall be remitted to the board no later than 60 days after the close of a calendar quarter.

41052. On or before December 1, 1978, and the 60th day of each calendar quarter following, a return for the preceding quarter shall be filed with the board in such form as the board may prescribe.

The service supplier will include a list of any service users refusing to pay the surcharge imposed by this part with each return filing.

41053. The person required to file the return shall deliver the return together with a remittance of the amount of the surcharge payable to the office of the board.

41054. The board for good cause may extend not to exceed one month the time for making any return or paying any amount required to be paid under this part. The extension may be granted at any time provided a request therefor is filed with the board within or prior to the period for which the extension may be granted.

41055. All amounts required to be paid to the state under this part shall be paid to the board in the form of remittances payable to the State Board of Equalization of the State of California.

41056. The service supplier shall maintain such records as may be necessary to determine the amount of surcharge collected under provisions of this part. Such records shall be maintained for a period of three years from the time the surcharge is due.

Article 3. Deficiency Determinations

41070. If the board is not satisfied with return or returns of the surcharge or the amount of surcharge required to be paid upon the basis of the facts contained in the return or returns or upon the basis of any information within its possession or that may come into its possession. One or more deficiency determinations may be made of the amount payable for one or for more than one period.

41071. The amount of the determination, exclusive of penalties, shall bear interest at the rate of three-fourths of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the last day of the month following the month for which the amount or any portion thereof should have been returned until the date of payment.

41072. In making a determination the board may offset overpayments for another period or periods, against underpayments for another period or periods, against penalties, and against the interest on the underpayments.

41073. If any part of the deficiency for which a deficiency determination is made is due to negligence or intentional disregard of this part or authorized rules and regulations, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the determination or ten dollars ($10), whichever is greater, shall be added thereto.

41074. If any part of the deficiency for which a deficiency determination is made is due to fraud or an intent to evade this part or authorized rules and regulations, a penalty of 25 percent of the amount of the determination or twenty-five dollars ($25), whichever is greater, shall be added thereto.

41075. The board shall give to the service supplier or service user written notice of its determination. The notice shall be placed in a sealed envelope with postage paid addressed to the service supplier or service user at his address as it appears in the records of the board. The notice shall be sent either certified or registered mail. The giving of notice shall be deemed complete at the time of the deposit of the notice in the United States post office or facility regularly maintained or provided by the United States Postal Service, without extension of time for any reason. In lieu of mailing, a notice may be served personally by delivering to the person to be served and service shall be deemed complete at the time of such delivery. Personal service to a corporation may be made by delivery of a notice to any person designated in the Code of Civil Procedure to be served for the corporation with summons and complaint in a civil action.

41076. Except in the case of fraud, intent to evade this part or authorized rules and regulations, or failure to make a return every notice of a deficiency determination shall be mailed within three years after the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period for which the amount is proposed to be determined or within three years after the return is filed, whichever period expires the later. In the case of failure to make a return, every notice of determination shall be mailed within eight years after the last day of the calendar month following the month for which the amount is proposed to be determined.

41077. In the case of a deficiency arising under this part during the lifetime of a decedent, a notice of deficiency determination shall be mailed within four months after written request therefor, in the form required by the board, by the fiduciary of the estate or trust or by any other person liable for the tax or any portion thereof.

Article 4. Determinations if No Return Made

41080. If any person fails to make a return, the board shall make an estimate of the amount of the charges for services by the person, or, as the case may be of the amount of charges for services received by the persons, in this state which are subject to the surcharge. The estimate shall be made for the period or periods in respect to which the person failed to make a return and shall be based upon any information which is in the board's possession or may come in its possession. Upon the basis of this estimate the board shall compute and determine the amount required to be paid to the state, adding to the sum thus arrived at a penalty equal to 10 percent thereof, or ten dollars ($10), whichever is greater. One or more determinations may be made for one or for more than one period.

41081. In making a determination the board may offset overpayments for a period or periods, together with interest on the overpayments, against underpayments for another period or periods, against penalties, and against the interest on the underpayments.

41082. The amount of the determination, exclusive of penalties, shall bear interest at the rate of three-fourths of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the last day of the month following the quarterly period for which the amount or any portion thereof should have been returned until the date of payment.

41083. If the failure of any person to file a return is due to fraud or an intent to evade this part or rules and regulations, a penalty of 25 percent of the amount required to be paid by the person, exclusive of penalties, or twenty-five dollars ($25), whichever is greater, shall be added thereto in addition to the penalty provided in Section 41080.

41084. Promptly after making its determination the board shall give to the person written notice of the estimate, determination, and penalty, the notice to be served personally or by mail in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination.

Article 5. Redeterminations

41085. Any person against whom a determination is made under Article 3 or 4 of this chapter may petition for a redetermination within 30 days after service upon the person of notice thereof. If a petition for redetermination is not filed within the 30-day period, the determination becomes final at the expiration of the period.

41086. Every petition for redetermination shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which the petition is founded. The petition may be amended to state additional grounds at any time prior to the date on which the board issues its order or decision upon the petition for redetermination.

41087. If a petition for redetermination is filed within the 30-day period, the board shall reconsider the determination and, if the person has so requested in his petition, shall grant the person an oral hearing and shall give him 10 days' written notice of the time and place of the hearing. The board may continue the hearing from time to time as may be necessary.

41088. The board may decrease or increase the amount of the determination before it becomes final, but the amount may be increased only if a claim for the increase is asserted by the board at or before the hearing. Unless the penalty imposed by Section 41074 or Section 41080 applies to the amount of the determination as originally made or as increased, the claim for increase must be asserted within eight years after the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period for which the increase is asserted.

41089. The order or decision of the board upon a petition for redetermination becomes final 30 days after service upon the petitioner of notice thereof.

41090. All determinations made by the board under Article 3 or 4 of this chapter are due and payable at the time they become final. If they are not paid when due and payable, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the determination, exclusive of interest and penalties or ten dollars ($10), whichever is greater, shall be added thereto.

41091. Any notice required by this article shall be served personally or by mail in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination.

Article 6. Interest and Penalties

41095. Any person who fails to pay any surcharge to the state or any amount of surcharge required to be collected and paid to the state, except amounts of determinations made by the board under Article 3 (commencing with Section 41070) or Article 4 (commencing with Section 41080), of this chapter, within the time required shall pay a penalty of 10 percent of the surcharge or amount of the surcharge or ten dollars ($10), whichever is greater, in addition to the tax or amount of surcharge, plus interest at the rate of three-fourths of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the date on which the surcharge or the amount of tax required to be collected became due and payable to the state until the date of payment.

41096. If the board finds that a person's failure to make a timely return or payment is due to reasonable cause and circumstances beyond the person's control, and occurred notwithstanding the exercise of ordinary care and the absence of willful neglect, the person may be relieved of the penalty provided by Sections 41080 and 41095.

Any person seeking to be relieved of the penalty shall file with the board a statement under penalty of perjury setting forth the facts upon which he bases his claim for relief.

CHAPTER 5. OVERPAYMENTS AND REFUNDS

Article 1. Claim for Refund

41100. If the board determines that any amount, penalty, or interest has been paid more than once or has been erroneously or illegally collected or computed, the board shall set forth that fact in the records of the board and shall certify to the State Board of Control the amount collected in excess of the amount legally due and the person from whom it was collected or by whom paid. If approved by the State Board of Control the excess amount collected or paid shall be credited by the board on any amounts then due and payable from the person from whom the excess amount was collected or by whom it was paid under this part, and the balance shall be refunded to the person, or his successors, administrators, or executors.

In the case, however, of a determination by the board that an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) was not required to be paid under this part, the board without obtaining approval of the State Board of Control may credit the amount on any amounts then due and payable under this part from the person by whom the amount was paid and may refund the balance to the person or his successors, administrators, or executors.

Any overpayment of the surcharge by a service user to a service supplier who is required to collect the surcharge shall be credited or refunded by the state to the service user; provided however, that if the service supplier has paid the amount to the board and establishes to the satisfaction of the board that it has not collected the amount from the service user or has refunded the amount to the service user, the overpayment may be credited or refunded by the state to the service supplier.

41101. No refund shall be approved by the board after three years from the last day of the month following the close of the quarterly period for which the overpayment was made, or, with respect to determinations made under Article 3 or 4 of Chapter 4 of this part, after six months from the date the determinations become final, or after six months from the date of overpayment, whichever period expires the later, unless a claim therefor is filed with the board within such period. No credit shall be approved by the board after the expiration of such period unless a claim for credit is filed with the board within such period.

41102. Every claim shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded.

41103. Failure to file a claim within the time prescribed in this article constitutes a waiver of any demand against the state on account of overpayment.

41104. Within 30 days after disallowing any claim in whole or in part the board shall give notice of its action to the claimant in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination.

41105. Interest shall be paid upon any overpayment of any amount of tax at the rate of three-fourths of 1 percent per month from the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period for which the overpayment was made; but no refund or credit shall be made of any interest imposed upon the person making the overpayment with respect to the amount being refunded or credited.

The interest shall be paid:

(a) In the case of a refund, to the last day of the calendar month following the date upon which the person making the overpayment, if he has not already filed a claim, is notified by the board that a claim may be filed or the date upon which the claim is approved by the board, whichever date is the earlier.

(b) In the case of a credit, to the same date as that to which interest is computed on the surcharge or amount against which the credit is applied.

41106. If the board determines that any overpayment has been made intentionally or by reason of carelessness, it shall not allow any interest thereon.

Article 2. Cancellations

41107. If any amount in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) has been illegally determined either by the person filing the return or by the board, the board shall set forth that fact in its records and certify to the State Board of Control the amount determined to be in excess of the amount legally due and the person against whom the determination was made. If the State Board of Control approves, it shall authorize the cancellation of the amount upon the records of the board. If an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) has been illegally determined either by the person filing a return or by the board, the board without certifying this fact to the State Board of Control shall authorize the cancellation of the amount upon the records of the board.

Article 3. Suit for Refund

41108. No injunction, or writ of mandate, judgment of declaratory relief, or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action, or proceeding in any court against the state or against any officer of the state to prevent or enjoin the collection under this part of any tax or any amount of tax required to be collected.

41109. No suit or proceeding shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any amount alleged to have been erroneously or illegally determined or collected unless a claim for refund or credit has been duly filed pursuant to Article 1 of this chapter.

41110. Within 90 days after the mailing of the notice of the board's action upon a claim filed pursuant to Article 1 of this chapter, the claimant may bring an action against the board on the grounds set forth in the claim in a court of competent jurisdiction in any city or city and county of this state in which the Attorney General has an office for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount with respect to which the claim has been disallowed.

41111. If the board fails to mail notice of action on a claim within six months after the claim is filed, the claimant may, prior to the mailing of notice by the board of its action on the claim, consider the claim disallowed and bring an action against the board on the grounds set forth in the claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment.

41112. If judgment is rendered for the plaintiff, the amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any surcharge due and payable from the plaintiff. The balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff.

41113. In any judgment, interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 percent per annum upon the amount found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment of the amount to the date of allowance of credit on account of the judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, the date to be determined by the board.

41114. A judgment shall not be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any action brought against the board to recover any amount paid when the action is brought by or in the name of an assignee of the person paying the amount or by any person other than the person who paid the amount.

CHAPTER 6. COLLECTION OF TAX

Article 1. Suit for Tax

41115. At any time within 10 years after any tax or any amount of tax required to be collected becomes due and payable, and at any time after any amount determined under Article 3 (commencing with Section 41070), Article 4 (commencing with Section 41080) or Article 5 (commencing with Section 41085) of Chapter 4 of this part becomes due and payable, the board may bring an action in the courts of this state, of any other state, or of the United States in the name of the people of California to collect the amount delinquent together with penalties.

41116. The Attorney General shall prosecute the action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proof, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings.

41117. In the action a writ of attachment may issue, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of the attachment is required.

41119. In any action brought under this part process may be served according to the Code of Civil Procedure and the Civil Code of this state or may be served upon any agent or clerk in this state employed by a service supplier in a place of business maintained by the service supplier in this state. In the latter case a copy of the process shall forthwith be sent by registered mail to the service supplier at its principal or home office.

Article 2. Notice to Withhold

41120. If any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him or in the event a determination has been made against him which remains unpaid, the board may, not later than five years after the payment became delinquent, give notice thereof personally or by registered mail to all persons, including any officer or department of the state or any political subdivision or agency of the state, having in their possession or under their control any credits or other personal property belonging to the delinquent, or person against whom a determination has been made which remains unpaid, or owing any debts to the delinquent or such person. In the case of any state officer, department or agency, the notice shall be given to such officer, department or agency prior to the time it presents the claim of the delinquent to the State Controller.

41121. After receiving the notice the person so notified shall neither transfer nor make any other disposition of the credits, other personal property, or debts in their possession or under their control at the time they receive the notice until the board consents to a transfer or disposition or until 60 days elapse after the receipt of the notice, whichever period expires the earlier.

41122. All persons so notified shall forthwith after receipt of the notice advise the board of all such credits, other personal property, or debts in their possession, under their control, or owing by them. If such notice seeks to prevent the transfer or other disposition of a deposit in a bank or other credits or personal property in the possession or under the control of a bank, the notice to be effective shall state the amount, interest and penalty due from the person and shall be delivered or mailed to the branch or office of such bank at which such deposit is carried or at which such credits or personal property is held. Notwithstanding any other provision, with respect to a deposit in a bank or other credits or personal property in the possession or under the control of a bank, the notice shall only be effective with respect to an amount not in excess of two times the amount, interest and penalty due from the person.

41123. If, during the effective period of the notice to withhold, any person so notified makes any transfer or disposition of the property or debts required to be withheld hereunder, to the extent of the value of the property or the amount of the debts thus transferred or paid he shall be liable to the state for any indebtedness due under this part from the person with respect to whose obligation the notice was given if solely by reason of such transfer or disposition the state is unable to recover the indebtedness of the person with respect to whose obligation the notice was given.

Article 3. Warrant for Collection

41125. At any time within five years after any person is delinquent in the payment of any amount required to be paid under this part the board or its authorized representative may issue a warrant for the collection of any amount required to be paid to the state under this part. The warrant shall be directed to any sheriff, marshal or constable and shall have the same effect as a writ of execution. The warrant shall be levied and sale made pursuant to it in the same manner and with the same effect as a levy and a sale pursuant to a writ of execution.

41126. The board shall pay the sheriff, marshal or constable upon the completion of his services pursuant to a warrant, the same fees, commissions, and expenses for his services as are provided by law for similar services pursuant to a writ of execution. The board, and not the court, shall approve the fees for publication in a newspaper.

41127. The fees, commissions, and expenses are the obligation of the person required to pay any amount under this part and may be collected from him by virtue of the warrant or in any other manner provided in this part for the collection of the surcharge.

CHAPTER 7. ADMINISTRATION

Article 1. Regulations, Records and Reports

41128. The board shall enforce the provisions of this part and may prescribe, adopt, and enforce rules and regulations relating to the administration and enforcement of this part. The board shall not prescribe, adopt or enforce any rule or regulation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of altering the terms and conditions of service of a service supplier serving the general public, other than the imposition of the surcharge.

41129. Every service supplier in this state shall keep such records pertaining thereto in such form as the board may require.

The board shall transmit the payments to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State Emergency Telephone Number Account in the General Fund, which is hereby created.

41136. Funds in the State Emergency Telephone Number Account shall, when appropriated by the Legislature, be spent solely for the following purposes:

The Department of General Services shall pay, from funds appropriated from the State Emergency Telephone Number Account by the Legislature, as provided in Section 41138, bills submitted by service suppliers or communications equipment companies for the installation and ongoing costs of the following communication services provided local agencies by service suppliers in connection with the "911" emergency telephone number system:

Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement arising out of the enactment of Part 20 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or of the rules and regulations that are adopted pursuant thereto for the administration thereof by the State Board of Equalization.

SEC. 9.5. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of General Services, for the 1976–77 and 1977–78 fiscal years, the sum of one million two hundred twenty-two thousand dollars ($1,222,000), to pay bills as provided in Sections 41136, 41137, 41137.1, 41138 and 41140 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Section 7 of this act.

SEC. 10. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 11. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 444

An act to amend Sections 1063.1, 11732, 11736, and 11779 of, and to add Sections 11801, 11802, 11803, and 11804 to, the Insurance Code, relating to longshoremen's and harbor workers' insurance, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In enacting the provisions of this act, it is the intent of the Legislature, in support of California industry and commerce, to (1) act to provide immediate relief to the crisis facing California employers and employees due to a serious lack of availability of insurance protection against the liability imposed by the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act resulting from the substantial changes to this federal law by the 1972 amendments which swept more employers under the act and radically increased the benefits and assure that such insurance protection is available from the broadest possible market at a premium that is reasonable and equitable to the California employer while concurrently providing the insurance carrier an adequate premium from which to pay claims.

This act will authorize the State Compensation Insurance Fund to respond more effectively to the needs of both California employers and employees by more fully providing the required insurance protection. This act also provides that the necessary adequate minimum rates be promulgated by the Insurance Commissioner.

SEC. 2. Section 1063.1 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1063.1. As used in this article:

(a) "Member insurer" means an insurer required to be a member of the association in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 1063, except and to the extent that such insurer is participating in an insolvency program adopted by the United States government.

(b) "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer for which a domiciliary or ancillary liquidator has been appointed in this state after the effective date of this article.

(c) (1) "Covered claims" means the obligations of an insolvent insurer, (i) imposed by law and arising out of an insurance policy of the insolvent insurer; (ii) which were unpaid by the insolvent insurer; (iii) which are presented as a claim to the liquidator in this state or to the association on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidating proceedings; (iv) which were incurred prior to, on, or within 30 days after the date the liquidator was appointed; (v) for which the assets of the insolvent insurer are insufficient to discharge in full; (vi) in the case of a policy of workmen's compenation insurance, to provide workmen's compensation benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law of this state and (vii) in the case of other classes of insurance if such policy is issued to a resident of this state or claim against an insured thereunder is made by a resident of this state.

(2) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations arising from life, title, surety, disability, credit, mortgage, or mortgage guaranty insurance, nor arising from a policy of ocean marine insurance.

(3) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations to refund unearned premiums, nor any obligations of the insolvent insurer arising out of any reinsurance contracts, nor any obligations incurred after the expiration date of the insurance policy or after the insurance policy has been replaced by the insured or canceled at the insured's request or after the insurance policy has been canceled by the association as provided in this chapter, nor any obligations to any state or to the federal government.

(4) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations to insurers, insurance pools, or underwriting associations, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(5) "Covered claims," except in the case of a claim for workmen's compensation benefits, shall not include any claim in an amount of one hundred dollars ($100) or less, nor the first one hundred dollars ($100) of any claim in excess of one hundred dollars ($100), nor that portion of any claim which is in excess of any applicable limits provided in the insurance policy issued by the insolvent insurer.

(6) "Covered claims" shall not include that portion of any claim, other than a claim for workmen's compensation benefits, which is in excess of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(7) "Covered claims" shall not include (a) any claim to the extent it is covered by any other insurance of a class covered by the provisions of this article available to the claimant nor (b) any claim by any person other than the original claimant under the insurance policy in his own name, his executor, administrator, guardian or other personal representative or trustee in bankruptcy and shall not include any claim asserted by an assignee or one claiming by right of subrogation, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(8) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations arising out of the issuance of an insurance policy written by the separate division of the State Compensation Insurance Fund pursuant to the provisions of Sections 11802 and 11803.

(d) "Admitted to transact insurance in this state" means an insurer possessing a valid certificate of authority issued by the California Department of Insurance.

SEC. 3. Section 11732 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11732. The commissioner shall approve or issue, as adequate for all admitted workers' compensation insurers, a classification of risks and premium rates relating to California workers' compensation insurance and, with respect to operations carried on principally within the borders of this state, United States longshoremen's and harbor workers' compensation insurance. He may also approve or issue a system of merit rating. Such classification and system shall be uniform as to all insurers affected.

SEC. 4. Section 11736 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11736. An insurer shall not issue, renew or continue in force any workers' compensation insurance under a law of this state nor United States longshoremen's and harbor workers' compensation insurance with respect to operations carried on principally within the borders of this state, at premium rates which are less than the rates approved or issued by the commissioner. The effective date of such rates shall be the date fixed by the commissioner; provided, however, this prohibition shall not apply to United States longshoremen's and harbor workers' compensation insurance provided in an ocean marine policy issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1880) of Part 1, Division 2 of this code.

SEC. 5. Section 11779 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11779. (a) The fund may insure California employers against their liability for compensation or damages for injury or death under the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, or other federal or maritime laws, as fully as any private insurer.

SEC. 6. Section 11801 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11801. The assets, premiums, reserves, investment income, and any and all property of whatsoever kind derived or acquired by the fund from its transaction of its workers' compensation insurance business shall not be used, attached or levied upon in any manner whatsoever by any person to satisfy claims or any other obligations or liability incurred, arising out of, or related to, the fund's transaction of insurance pursuant to the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Act.

SEC. 7. Section 11802 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11802. All premiums, reserves, investment income, and all property of whatsoever kind derived or acquired by the fund from its transaction of insurance pursuant to the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act shall be maintained and identified in separate accounts and records.

SEC. 8. Section 11803 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11803. All claims, costs of doing business, liabilities, expenses, and obligations arising out of or related to the fund's transaction of insurance pursuant to the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act shall be paid and charged to the income of whatsoever nature derived from its United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act insurance business only.

SEC. 9. Section 11804 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11804. Joint or shared use of office building space, whether owned, leased or rented, and the joint use of all furniture, automobiles, office equipment, supplies and services shall be charged to each class of insurance business on an equitable and proportional basis.

SEC. 10. The provisions of this act shall be effective for two years and shall thereafter have no further force and effect; except that the authority of the State Compensation Insurance Fund to provide insurance against liability arising from the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, or other federal or maritime laws, shall remain the same as before this act was enacted.

SEC. 11. Notwithstanding provisions of Section 85.2 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, two million dollars ($2,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the Harbors and Watercraft Revolving Fund as a loan to the State Compensation Insurance Fund. The loan is to provide security to enable the State Compensation Insurance Fund to provide insurance coverage required under the Federal Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act. The loan is to be for a period not to exceed five years from the date of the appropriation to the State Compensation Insurance Fund, with repayment to include the principal amount of the loan, plus interest equivalent to the rate of earnings of state special fund moneys deposited in the Surplus Money Investment Fund. In the event that repayment of the loan cannot be made from premiums charged for the coverage, the Director of Finance may make repayment from the General Fund.

In addition to the appropriation herein, it is the intent of the Legislature that if additional loan funds are necessary, a subsequent appropriation from the Harbors and Watercraft Revolving Fund may be sought. However, nothing in this act shall imply liability to or commitment of moneys in the Harbor and Watercraft Revolving Fund beyond the level of the appropriation.

SEC. 12. This is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are:

A serious deficiency exists in the available market for insurance against the liability imposed by the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act upon certain California employers to the extent that such employers are unable to purchase appropriate insurance. The State Compensation Insurance Fund is presently precluded by law from taking care of such needs.

CHAPTER 445

An act to amend Section 4011.6 of the Penal Code and to amend Sections 508 and 705 of, and to add Section 6552 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to juveniles, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4011.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4011.6. In any case in which it appears to the person in charge of a county jail, city jail, or juvenile detention facility, or to any judge of a court in the county in which the jail or juvenile detention facility is located that a person in custody in such jail or juvenile detention facility may be mentally disordered, he may cause such prisoner to be taken to a facility for 72-hour treatment and evaluation pursuant to Section 5150 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and he shall inform the facility in writing which shall be confidential, of the reasons that such person is being taken to the facility. The local mental health director or his designee may examine the prisoner prior to transfer to a facility for treatment and evaluation. Thereupon, the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section

5150), Article 4 (commencing with Section 5250), Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 5260), Article 5 (commencing with Section 5275), Article 6 (commencing with Section 5300), and Article 7 (commencing with Section 5325) of Chapter 2 and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 5350) of Part 1 of Division 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall apply to the prisoner.

Where the court causes the prisoner to be transferred to a 72-hour facility, the court shall forthwith notify the local mental health director or his designee, the prosecuting attorney, and counsel for the prisoner in the criminal or juvenile proceedings about such transfer. Where the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility causes the transfer of the prisoner to a 72-hour facility the person shall immediately notify the local mental health director or his designee and each court within the county where the prisoner has a pending proceeding about such transfer; upon notification by the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility the court shall forthwith notify counsel for the prisoner and the prosecuting attorney in the criminal or juvenile proceedings about such transfer.

If a prisoner is detained in, or remanded to, a facility pursuant to such articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the facility shall transmit a report, which shall be confidential, to the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility or judge of the court who caused the prisoner to be taken to the facility and to the local mental health director or his designee, concerning the condition of the prisoner. A new report shall be transmitted at the end of each period of confinement provided for in such articles, upon conversion to voluntary status, and upon filing of temporary letter of conservatorship.

A prisoner who has been transferred to an inpatient facility pursuant to this section, may convert to voluntary inpatient status without obtaining the consent of the court, the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility, or the local mental health director. At the beginning of such conversion to voluntary status, the person in charge of the facility shall transmit a report to the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility or judge of the court who caused the prisoner to be taken to the facility, counsel for the prisoner, prosecuting attorney, and local mental health director or his designee.

If the prisoner is detained in, or remanded to, a facility pursuant to such articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the time passed therein shall count as part of the prisoner's sentence. When the prisoner is so detained or remanded, the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility shall advise the professional person in charge of the facility of the expiration date of the prisoner's sentence. If the prisoner is to be released from the facility before such expiration date, the professional person in charge shall notify the local mental health director or his designee, counsel for the prisoner, the prosecuting attorney, and the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility, who shall send for, take, and receive the prisoner back into the jail or juvenile detention facility.

A defendant, either charged with or convicted of a criminal offense, or a minor alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court may be concurrently subject to the provisions of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act (Division 5, Part 1, Welfare and Institutions Code).

If a prisoner is detained in a facility pursuant to such articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code and if the person in charge of such facility determines that arraignment or trial would be detrimental to the well-being of the prisoner, the time spent therein shall not be computed in any statutory time requirements for arraignment or trial in any pending criminal or juvenile proceedings. Otherwise, nothing contained herein shall affect any statutory time requirements for arraignment or trial in any pending criminal or juvenile proceedings.

For purposes of this section, the term "juvenile detention facility" includes any state, county, or private home or institution in which wards or dependent children of the juvenile court or persons awaiting a hearing before the juvenile court are detained.

SEC. 2. Section 508 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

508. When any person under 18 years of age is detained in or sentenced to any institution in which adults are confined, it shall be unlawful to permit such person to come or remain in contact with such adults.

No person who is a ward or dependent child of the juvenile court who is detained in or committed to any state hospital or other state facility shall be permitted to come or remain in contact with any adult person who has been committed to any state hospital or other state facility as a mentally disordered sex offender under the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 6300) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 6, or with any adult person who has been charged in an accusatory pleading with the commission of any sex offense for which registration of the convicted offender is required under Section 290 of the Penal Code and who has been committed to any state hospital or other state facility pursuant to Section 1026 or 1370 of the Penal Code.

As used in this section, "contact" does not include participation in supervised group therapy or other supervised treatment activities or participation in hospital recreational activities which are directly supervised by employees of the hospital so long as living arrangements are strictly segregated and all precautions are taken to prevent unauthorized associations.

SEC. 3. Section 705 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

705. Whenever the court, before or during the hearing on the petition, is of the opinion that the minor is mentally disordered or if the court is in doubt concerning the mental health of any such person, the court may proceed as provided in Section 6550 of this code or Section 4011.6 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 4. Section 6552 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, tc read:

6552. A minor who has been declared to be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court may, with the advice of counsel, make voluntary application for inpatient or outpatient mental health services in accordance with Section 5003. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 6000, Section 6002, or Section 6004, the juvenile court may authorize the minor to make such application if it is satisfied from the evidence before it that the minor suffers from a mental disorder which may reasonably be expected to be cured or ameliorated by a course of treatment offered by the hospital, facility or program in which the minor wishes to be placed; and that there is no other available hospital, program, or facility which might better serve the minor's medical needs and best interest. The superintendent or person in charge of any state, county, or other hospital facility or program may then receive the minor as a voluntary patient. Applications and placements under this section shall be subject to the provisions and requirements of the Short-Doyle Act (Part 2 (commencing with Section 5600), Division 5), which are generally applicable to voluntary admissions.

If the minor is accepted as a voluntary patient, the juvenile court may issue an order to the minor and to the person in charge of the hospital, facility or program in which the minor is to be placed that should the minor leave or demand to leave the care or custody thereof prior to the time he is discharged by the superintendent or person in charge, he shall be returned forthwith to the juvenile court for a further dispositional hearing pursuant to the juvenile court law.

The provisions of this section shall continue to apply to the minor until the termination or expiration of the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The California Supreme Court has recently ruled that wards of the juvenile court may not be judicially committed to state hospitals except under the procedures of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act. In order to authorize juvenile court wards to receive mental health services on a voluntary basis, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 446

An act to add Section 4601.5 to the Labor Code, relating to workers' compensation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4601.5 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

4601.5. All fees and expenses of the employee, or the dependents of a deceased employee, incurred for X-rays, laboratory fees, medical reports, medical records, and medical testimony necessary to prove a contested claim, for which the employer is liable under the second paragraph of Section 4600, shall, upon receipt by the employer of all reports and documents required by the administrative director incident to such services, be paid to whom said funds and expenses are due, as follows:

(a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), within 60 days after receipt by the employer of each separate, written billing, and where payment is not made within such period, that portion of the billed sum then unpaid shall be increased by 10 percent, together with interest thereon at the rate of 7 percent per annum. Where the employer, within the 60-day period, contests the reasonableness and necessity for incurring such fees, services, and expenses, payment shall be made within 20 days of the filing of an order of the appeals board directing payment.

(b) Where requested by the employee, or the dependents of a deceased employee, within 20 days from the filing of an order of the appeals board directing payment, and where payment is not made within such period, that portion of the billed sum then unpaid shall be increased by 10 percent, together with interest thereon at the rate of 7 percent per annum retroactive to the date of the filing of the order of the board directing payment.

The employer shall notify, in writing, the provider of the services, the employee, or if represented, his attorney, if the employer contests the reasonableness and necessity of incurring such expenses, and shall indicate the reasons therefore.

The provisions of Sections 5800 and 5814 shall not apply to this section.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative on the 91st day after it is signed by the Governor.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Physicians providing services to injured employees under the workers' compensation laws are often required to wait too long before receiving payment for those services. The effect of such delay is that many competent physicians are either unwilling or unable to provide the medical evaluations and care needed by injured workers in the State of California. In order for adequate health care to be provided for an injured worker at the earliest possible time, it is essential that this act be effective on the 91st day after the Governor affixes his signature hereto.

CHAPTER 447

An act to add Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 32350) to Division 23 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hospitals, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 10, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5.5 (commencing with Section 32350) is added to Division 23 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5.5. STATE LOANS

32350. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to encourage physicians to practice in rural areas which have insufficient numbers of physicians to provide comprehensive medical care.

32351. In the event the Chowchilla Memorial Hospital District enters into a joint powers agreement with a hospital district or hospital districts, whereby an independent governmental agency, as provided in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, is created to investigate, defend, settle and pay, if required, medical injury tort claims against any of the parties to such joint powers agreement in accordance with the authority granted by Sections 990.4 and 990.8 of the Government Code, notwithstanding any provisions of the Insurance Code to the contrary; then, in that event, each hospital district with under 100 beds shall have the right for a period of five years from the effective date of this chapter, but subject to the availability of moneys appropriated therefor, to borrow from the state for the purpose of paying any medical injury tort judgment or settlement which exceeds three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) to the extent of such excess.

However, the total amount of funds loaned by the state to all hospital districts, which have entered into the joint powers agreement pursuant to this chapter, shall not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000) in the aggregate.

32352. Loans made pursuant to this article shall be repaid to the state pursuant to a schedule mutually agreed upon by the state department and the hospital district receiving the loan, not exceeding 40 years, and at an interest rate not to exceed the five-year average of the return on the investment of state funds pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16430) of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The state department shall grant all loans which qualify under the requirements of this chapter to the extent that funds are available therefor. No application for a loan shall be denied because previous applications have been made except that the state department may procure insurance to cover the losses, if any, in connection with such loans and the cost of such insurance may be charged to the independent agency. The cost charged to such an independent agency for the insurance shall not exceed 5 percent of the total of loan losses.

32354. The program established by the Chowchilla Memorial Hospital District and others who enter such a joint powers agreement shall be deemed to be a pilot project to be used as a guide for the State Department of Health in establishing the Rural California Professional Liability Loan Program in the event Assembly Bill 2865 of the 1975–76 Regular Session is enacted, and in such case funds for loans under this chapter shall be made available from the Rural California Professional Liability Loan Fund upon creation by the State Controller.

32355. As a condition of eligibility for loans under this chapter, any hospital district having a licensed bed capacity of less than 100 beds and which participates in a joint powers agreement described in Section 32351 shall submit the following to the state department within 60 days after the effective date of this chapter:

(a) A health quality assurance program which assures adequate review of health services rendered;

(b) Adequate procedures for providing resources for liability coverage, including provisions for the payment of all medical injury tort claims or portions of claims under three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000), and for investment of funds or resources set aside for liability reserves; and

(c) Adequate procedures for obtaining legal services in connection with medical injury tort claims filed against the hospital district.

(d) Adequate procedures to repay loans under Government Code and Health and Safety Code sections relating to district hospitals.

32356. Any provisions applicable to the payment of tort claims against a hospital district shall be applicable for the repayment of any loan from the state to a hospital district pursuant to this chapter.

32358. The state department shall prepare and adopt regulations establishing the specific criteria to be used for the approval of a loan application of a district hospital under this chapter to ensure that the hospital district complies with the intent of the Legislature set forth in Section 32350.

Within 120 days after submission of an application by a hospital district for a loan under the provisions of this chapter, the state department shall submit its final recommendation to the Legislature with respect to the approval or disapproval of the loan in order to assist the Legislature in determining whether to appropriate funds for the making of the loan. The state department shall notify the hospital district submitting the application of its tentative decision to recommend approval or disapproval of the loan within 90 days after receiving the application in order to allow the hospital district to present additional data as may be necessary to justify the loan.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares in enacting this act that the Chowchilla Memorial Hospital District has a unique record with respect to medical injury tort claims filed against the district and that because of the unique situation presented, a plan which combines the resources of the district and health resources of the surrounding rural communities would be economically feasible with state loans available to assist in the payment of claims, if needed, without imposing any significant risk of loss on the state. The Legislature finds, in enacting this act, that a special statute is needed and that a general statute cannot be made applicable.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order for the Chowchilla Memorial Hospital District to continue operating and to provide needed health services to residents, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 448

An act to amend Section 71812 of the Water Code, relating to municipal water districts.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 11, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71812 of the Water Code is amended to read:

71812. A district may issue negotiable promissory notes pursuant to this section for the purpose of acquiring funds to finance the construction or acquisition of administrative offices, construction headquarters, commercial offices, or facilities for similar district purposes and for the acquisition of land for district purposes. The maturity of such promissory notes shall not be later than 10 years from the date thereof. The total aggregate amount of such notes outstanding at any one time may be at least equal to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in any district, but shall not exceed the lesser of either one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) or 1 percent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the district, or, if the assessed valuation is not obtainable, 1 percent of the county auditor's estimate of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the district evidenced by his certificate; provided, that no more than 50 percent of the increased borrowing capacity made available pursuant to the amendments made to this section at the 1975–76 Regular Session of the Legislature may be used for land acquisition purposes. Promissory notes issued pursuant to Section 71811 may be disregarded in computing the aggregate amount of notes that may be issued pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 449

An act to amend Section 25910 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to asbestos, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 11, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25910 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25910. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), no person, on or after July 1, 1975, shall cause or permit the spraying of any substance containing more than one-half of 1 percent asbestos in or upon a building or other structure during its construction, alteration, or repair. Except as provided in subdivision (b), no person, on or after July 1, 1976, shall cause or permit the spraying of any substance containing any amount of asbestos in or upon a building or other structure during its construction, alteration, or repair.

(b) Portland cement plaster containing less than one-half of 1 percent asbestos, and exterior and interior coatings and laminating resins containing encapsulated asbestos fibers bound within the finished product from manufacture through application, shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter until July 1, 1978. Cold process cutback asphalt roof coatings shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the changes made by this act may take effect prior to July 1, 1976, and at the earliest opportunity during the construction season, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 450

An act to add Section 15452.3 to, and to add Article 9.5 (commencing with Section 1084) to Chapter 3 of Division 4 of, the Education Code, relating to school camps.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 11, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 9.5 (commencing with Section 1084) is added to Chapter 3 of Division 4 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 9.5. School Camps

The amount of the fee may not exceed the difference between any state, local, or federal funds generated by such a program and the cost of the services actually provided.

For purposes of this section a school camp program is one which is operated pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 6011) of Chapter 6 of Division 6.

SEC. 2. Section 15452.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 451

An act to amend Section 893 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to juveniles, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 11, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 12, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 893 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

893. (a) The board of supervisors of any county with a population of five million or more may provide and maintain a pilot project school at a juvenile home, ranch or camp for the purpose of meeting the special educational needs of wards and dependent children of the juvenile court. Such pilot project school shall be conducted in such a manner and under such conditions as will minister to the specific individualized educational and training needs of each ward and dependent child in furtherance of the objective of assisting each of them, as much as possible, to fulfill his potential to be a contributing, law-abiding member of society. In the event the board of supervisors determines that such objective may be promoted as well as or better by provision of educational and training services by a qualified private organization, the board of supervisors on behalf of the county may enter into annual contracts, with or without options to renew, for the provision of such services by such an organization.

(b) The Legislature hereby finds and determines that there are persons whose educational and vocational backgrounds and personal leadership qualities peculiarly fit them to instruct and train wards of the court in promotion of the aforesaid objective, but who lack certification qualifications. Accordingly, the probation officer is hereby authorized to certify to the county board of education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction that a person employed or to be employed by the probation officer or by an organization retained by contract to provide vocational training or vocational training courses at or in connection with the pilot project school is peculiarly fit to provide wards of the court such vocational training in promotion of the aforesaid objective. Such certification shall specify the type or types of service the person is qualified to provide. Upon filing of such certification, such person shall be deemed to be a certificated employee for purposes of authorizing him to provide the services described in the certificate and for apportionment purposes.

(c) The pilot project school shall have a maximum enrollment of 100 students.

(d) The county superintendent of schools shall report on behalf of the county the average daily attendance for the schools and classes maintained by the county in such pilot project school in the manner provided in Section 17601.1 of the Education Code and other provisions of law.

(e) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall compute the amount of allowance to be made to the county by reason of the average daily attendance at such pilot project school by multiplying the average daily attendance by the foundation program amount for a high school district which has an average daily attendance of 301 or more during the fiscal year, and shall make allowances based thereon and shall apportion to the county, the allowances so computed in the same manner and at the same times as would be done with respect to allowances and apportionments to the county school service fund.

(f) The pilot project shall end on January 1, 1978, unless further authorized by the Legislature. The Legislative Analyst shall study the pilot project for the purpose of reporting to the Legislature on the effectiveness of the pilot project, which report shall be made to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1977.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

A pilot project school of the type authorized by this act is presently being conducted under a contract with a qualified private organization. In order to continue the project without interruption, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

SECTION 1. Section 35400 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 7 of the Statutes of 1976, is amended to read:

35400. (a) No vehicle shall exceed a length of 40 feet.

(b) This section does not apply to:

(1) A vehicle used in a combination of vehicles when the excess length is caused by auxiliary parts, equipment, or machinery not used as space to carry any part of the load, except that the combination of vehicles shall not exceed the length provided for combination vehicles.

(2) A vehicle when the excess length is caused by any parts necessary to comply with the fender and mudguard regulations of this code.

(3) An articulated bus, except that such bus shall not exceed a length of 60 feet.

(4) An articulated trolley coach, except that such trolley coach shall not exceed a length of 50 feet.

(6) A bus when the excess length is caused by the projection of a front safety bumper or a rear safety bumper, or both. Such safety bumper shall not cause the length of the vehicle to exceed the maximum legal limit by more than one foot in the front and one foot in the rear. For the purposes of this chapter, "safety bumper" means any device which may be fitted on an existing bumper or which replaces the bumper and is so constructed, treated, or manufactured so that it absorbs energy upon impact.

(7) A bus when the excess length is caused by a device, located in front of the front axle, for lifting wheelchairs into the bus. Such a device shall not cause the length of the bus to be extended by more than 18 inches exclusive of any front safety bumper.

CHAPTER 453

An act to add Section 11093 to the Government Code, relating to statistical analyses.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 13, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State July 13, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11093 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11093. (a) The Department of Finance, the State Department of Health, and the Department of Transportation, shall, in the preparation and maintenance of any statistical analyses, by city, either by population, fiscal, or other bases, make a separate breakdown of the San Fernando Valley provided that the City of Los Angeles continue to provide all necessary data.

Any other state department which desires to do so may voluntarily supply statistical data for the San Fernando Valley statistical area.

The State Controller may, upon request therefor contained in a motion adopted by the City Council of the City of Los Angeles, designate additional statistical areas within the City of Los Angeles, except that such additional statistical areas shall in no event exceed three in number.

(c) For purposes of this section, the San Fernando Valley is all the portion of Los Angeles City which is described as follows:

From a point commencing where the City of Los Angeles most northerly boundary intersects with the Golden State Freeway and following on the city boundary in an easterly direction where such boundary first intersects with the boundary of the City of Burbank; thence continuing southeasterly along the Burbank City boundary to its intersection with Barham Boulevard; thence in a southerly direction on Barham Boulevard to its intersection with Cahuenga Boulevard; thence in a southeasterly direction on Cahuenga Boulevard to Mulholland Drive; thence along Mulholland Drive to the Los Angeles City boundary; thence following the Los Angeles City boundary west and northerly until such boundary intersects with the starting point at the Golden State Freeway.

(d) No department of state government shall be required, by this section, to prepare or maintain any statistical information except the following:

(1) Existing information now prepared or maintained by city, or

(2) Information, by city, which is voluntarily prepared or maintained by the department in the future, or

(3) Information, by city, which is required to be prepared or maintained by future changes in legislation.

This subsection (d) is included as a clarification of legislative intent.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities by this act are such that related costs are incurred as a part of their normal operating procedures.

CHAPTER 454

An act to add Article 3 (commencing with Section 31680) to Chapter 1 of Part 7 of Division 12 of the Water Code, relating to Kings County Water District, making an appropriation therefor and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 14, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 14, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 (commencing with Section 31680) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 7 of Division 12 of the Water Code, to read:

Article 3. Taxation Within the Kings County Water District

31680. Within the Kings County Water District, the board may by ordinance provide for the establishment of special rates of taxation, for general fund purposes and for purposes of paying principal and interest upon general obligation bonds, for relatively low water using, nonfarm, heavy manufacturing industries located entirely within the district and upon which the district's regular rate of taxation may bear unfairly relative to benefits received from the district as compared to other taxpayers in the district. The provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 31665) of Chapter 1 of Part 7 of Division 12 of the Water Code shall apply herein, except for Sections 31665 and 31671.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act are necessary because the present taxation method to support the Kings County Water District bears unfairly upon intensively improved, nonagricultural industrial plants which utilize little water. The Kings County Water District engages primarily in the importation of surface waters for irrigation and ground water replenishment and in the acquisition and management of water stock of mutual water companies. These activities of the district are designed to preserve and increase water availability for agriculture and agriculturally related services and industries. By reason of the high assessed valuation of heavy industrial plants and the equipment and inventory located upon such plant sites, and considering the remote relationship of certain of these industries to the activities of the district and to other taxpayers therein, the rates of taxation of the district may bear unfairly upon certain industries in relation to benefits received and it is necessary that the board be empowered to establish and implement procedures to set special rates of taxation where such rates are found to be necessary to adjust any inequities.

the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is an immediate need for tax relief for industrial water users in the Kings County Water District, and, in order to assure that this provision is available for the 1976–77 fiscal year and the tax levies made during such period, it is necessary that it go into immediate effect.

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding Section 2 of Chapter 1671 of the 1971 Statutes, the sum of two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Director of Finance for allocation and disbursement to counties pursuant to Section 4700.2 of the Penal Code for costs incurred based upon indictments filed from October 6, 1972, to October 6, 1973, inclusive.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5645 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

5645. (a) Nothing contained in this chapter shall be deemed to prohibit a person from engaging in the practice of, or offering to practice as, an irrigation consultant.

SEC. 2. Section 1 of this act shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1979, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1979, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 3. It is the intent of the Legislature that a thorough study be made on the subject of this act, and a report be made to the Legislature within one year of the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 457

(a) The application fee for examination shall be fixed by the board in such amount as it determines is reasonably necessary to provide sufficient funds to carry out the purpose of this chapter, but not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75).

(b) The fee for an original certificate is an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the certificate is issued, except that, if the certificate is issued less than one year before the date on which it will expire, then the fee is an amount equal to 50 percent of the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the certificate is issued. The board may, by appropriate regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of the initial certificate fee where the certificate is issued less than 45 days before the date on which it will expire.

(c) The fee for a temporary certificate is twenty-five dollars ($25).

(d) The fee for a duplicate certificate is five dollars ($5).

(e) The renewal fee shall be fixed by the board in such amount as it determines is reasonably necessary to provide sufficient funds to carry out the purpose of this chapter, but not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75).

(f) The penalty for failure to notify the board of a change of address is five dollars ($5).

(g) The delinquency fee is ten dollars ($10).

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

If a district operates on a calendar year, the maximum rate which may be levied pursuant to this subdivision shall be the greater of three cents ($0.03) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation or that levied in either calendar 1972 or calendar 1973, at the option of the governing body of the district.

CHAPTER 461

An act to add Section 2280 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Became law without Governor's signature July 15, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State July 15, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2280 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

2280. A special district may levy, or have levied on its behalf, a rate in addition to the maximum property tax rate established pursuant to this chapter in order to pay the extraordinary costs of purchasing electricity for use for street lighting which was in operating condition in the 1972–73 fiscal year. This section shall apply only to special districts that were in existence on January 1, 1976, and which have as their sole and exclusive purpose the provision of street lighting services. Such additional rate shall be determined in the following manner:

(1) The special district shall determine the actual cost of electricity used for street lighting purposes during the 1972–73 fiscal year.

(2) The special district shall then determine the property tax rate which, applied to such district's assessed valuation in the 1972–73 fiscal year, would have produced an amount of revenue equivalent to the costs determined pursuant to subdivision (1).

(3) Annually, the special district shall determine whether the property tax rate determined pursuant to subdivision (2) would be increased if such rate were adjusted as provided in Section 2266. If such property tax rate would be increased, it shall be adjusted in the manner provided in Section 2266.

(4) The property tax rate determined pursuant to subdivision (2), as such rate may have been adjusted pursuant to subdivision (3), shall then be applied to the district's assessed valuation for the current fiscal year. The resulting amount shall represent the cost of electricity for street lighting purposes which shall be funded, during the current fiscal year, out of such district's maximum property tax rate.

(5) The amount determined pursuant to subdivision (4) shall be subtracted from the actual cost to the district for the current fiscal year of electricity for street lighting which was in operating condition in the 1972–73 fiscal year. The amount resulting from such subtraction shall represent such district's extraordinary cost of purchasing electricity for street lighting purposes and the special district may levy such additional property tax rate as may be necessary to produce an amount of revenue equivalent to such extraordinary costs. If the amount resulting from such subtraction is a negative amount, the special district shall reduce its property tax rate as may be necessary to produce an amount of revenue which, when deducted from the actual cost to the district for the current fiscal year of electricity for street lighting, will not result in a negative balance.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that this act may be applicable with respect to property tax rates for the 1976–77 fiscal year, thereby enabling special districts to continue existing street lighting for public safety, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 462

An act to add Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 5810) to Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, relating to wetlands and wildlife management, and making an appropriation therefor, and in this connection to amend and supplement the Budget Act of 1975 (Chapter 176, Statutes of 1975) by adding Section 2.8L thereto.

[Approved by Governor August 16, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 16, 1976.]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 2 of Assembly Bill No 2133 from $2,815,000 to $2,695,000 by deleting the $120,000 appropriation to the Department of Parks and Recreation for a wetlands study

The proposed study would largely duplicate a 1974 study prepared by the Department of Fish and Game in conjunction with the U.S Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife If additional research is required, it can be done within the existing resources of the affected departments

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 2133

EDMUND G BROWN JR , Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 5810) is added to Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

CHAPTER 7. WETLANDS PRESERVATION

5810. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Keene-Nejedly California Wetlands Preservation Act.

5811. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the remaining wetlands of this state are of increasingly critical economic, aesthetic, and scientific value to the people of California, and that there is need for an affirmative and sustained public policy and program directed at their preservation, restoration, and enhancement, in order that such wetlands shall continue in perpetuity to meet the needs of the people.

5812. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Wetlands" means streams, channels, lakes, reservoirs, bays, estuaries, lagoons, marshes, and the lands underlying and adjoining such waters, whether permanently or intermittently submerged, to the extent that such waters and lands support and contain significant fish, wildlife, recreational, aesthetic, or scientific resources.

(b) "Departments" means the Department of Parks and Recreation and the Department of Fish and Game.

5813. Either of the departments may acquire interests in real property less than the fee, including, but not limited to, acquisition of development rights, when it determines that acquisition of such lesser interest will accomplish the purposes of this chapter in furthering the public's interest in the protection, preservation, restoration, and enhancement of wetlands.

5814. The departments shall cooperatively conduct a joint study to identify those wetlands of the state which are subject to irreversible modification and which, by their nature, should be acquired and protected and preserved in perpetuity. The departments shall consult and cooperate with cities and counties in the conduct of such study. The departments shall specifically cooperate with the State Lands Commission so as to determine the extent to which the state may have a valid ownership interest in those wetlands identified in the study as meriting protection and those wetlands authorized for acquisition pursuant to this chapter. The study shall be submitted to the Legislature not later than January 15, 1978, and shall set forth, for consideration by the Legislature, a plan for the acquisition, protection, preservation, restoration, and enhancement of wetlands, including funding requirements and the priority status of specific proposed wetlands projects.

5815. The departments, in preparing the wetlands priority plan and program pursuant to Section 5814, shall give particular recognition to the conservation, recreation, and open-space plans and programs of local agencies, and shall, wherever feasible and appropriate, identify and devise cooperative means for planning and for the protection and preservation of wetlands by local agencies.

5816. The departments shall give particular recognition to opportunities for protecting and preserving wetlands lying within, or adjacent to, existing units of the state park system, and consider state park acquisition projects and the acquisition of areas in proximity to state park system units which lend themselves to feasible wetlands management and protection and preservation, without creating inordinate additional management cost burdens.

5817. Either of the departments may enter into operating agreements with cities, counties, and districts for the management and control of wetlands, or interests in wetlands, acquired pursuant to this chapter; provided, however, that any such agreement shall ensure the protection and preservation of the wetlands, and ensure the right to the use and enjoyment of such wetlands by the people of the state; and provided, further, that any such agreement entered into by the Department of Fish and Game pursuant to this section shall provide as well that public use of lands and waters subject to such agreement shall be in accordance with regulations established by the Fish and Game Commission.

5818. All acquisitions made pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the Property Acquisition Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 15850), Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code).

SEC. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the Collier Park Preservation Fund to the Department of Parks and Recreation and the Department of Fish and Game, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5010 of the Public Resources Code, the sum of two million eight hundred fifteen thousand dollars ($2,815,000) for expenditure during the 1976–77, 1977–78, and 1978–79 fiscal years in accordance with the following schedule:

CHAPTER 465

An act to add Chapter 9.7 (commencing with Section 3300) to Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, relating to public safety officers.

[Approved by Governor August 18, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 18, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 9.7 (commencing with Section 3300) is added to Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 9.7. PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICERS

3300. This chapter is known and may be cited as the Public Safety Officers Procedural Bill of Rights Act.

3301. For purposes of this chapter, the term public safety officer means all peace officers, as defined in Section 830.1 and subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 830.2 of the Penal Code, including peace officers who are employees of a charter city or county. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the rights and protections provided to peace officers under this chapter constitute a matter of statewide concern. The Legislature further finds and declares that effective law enforcement depends upon the maintenance of stable employer-employee relations, between public safety employees and their employers. In order to assure that such stable relations are continued throughout the state and to further assure that effective services are provided to all people of the state, it is necessary that this chapter be applicable to all public safety officers, as defined in this section, wherever situated within the State of California.

3302. Except as otherwise provided by law, or whenever on duty or in uniform, no public safety officer shall be prohibited from engaging, or be coerced or required to engage, in political activity.

3303. When any public safety officer is under investigation and subjected to interrogation by his commanding officer, or any other member of the employing public safety department, which could lead to punitive action, such interrogation shall be conducted under the following conditions. For the purpose of this chapter, punitive action is defined as any action which may lead to dismissal, demotion, suspension, reduction in salary, written reprimand, or transfer for purposes of punishment.

(a) The interrogation shall be conducted at a reasonable hour, preferably at a time when the public safety officer is on duty, or during the normal waking hours for the public safety officer, unless the seriousness of the investigation requires otherwise. If such interrogation does occur during off-duty time of the public safety officer being interrogated, the public safety officer shall be compensated for such off-duty time in accordance with regular department procedures, and the public safety officer shall not be released from employment for any work missed.

(b) The public safety officer under investigation shall be informed prior to such interrogation of the rank, name and command of the officer in charge of the interrogation, the interrogating officers, and all other persons to be present during the interrogation. All questions directed to the public safety officer under interrogation shall be asked by and through no more than two interrogators at one time.

(c) The public safety officer under investigation shall be informed of the nature of the investigation prior to any interrogation.

(d) The interrogating session shall be for a reasonable period taking into consideration gravity and complexity of the issue being investigated. The person under interrogation shall be allowed to attend to his own personal physical necessities.

(e) The public safety officer under interrogation shall not be subjected to offensive language or threatened with punitive action, except that an officer refusing to respond to questions or submit to interrogations shall be informed that failure to answer questions directly related to the investigation or interrogation may result in punitive action. No promise of reward shall be made as an inducement to answering any question. The employer shall not cause the public safety officer under interrogation to be subjected to visits by the press or news media without his express consent nor shall his home address or photograph be given to the press or news media without his express consent.

(f) The complete interrogation of a public safety officer may be recorded. If a tape recording is made of the interrogation, the public safety officer shall have access to the tape if any further proceedings are contemplated or prior to any further interrogation at a subsequent time. The public safety officer shall be entitled to a transcribed copy of any notes made by a stenographer or to any reports or complaints made by investigators or other persons, except those which are deemed by the investigating agency to be confidential. No notes or reports which are deemed to be confidential may be entered in the officer's personnel file. The public safety officer being interrogated shall have the right to bring his own recording device and record any and all aspects of the interrogation.

(g) If prior to or during the interrogation of a public safety officer it is deemed that he may be charged with a criminal offense, he shall be immediately informed of his constitutional rights.

(h) Upon the filing of a formal written statement of charges, or whenever an interrogation focuses on matters which are likely to result in punitive action against any public safety officer, that officer, at his request, shall have the right to be represented by a representative of his choice who may be present at all times during such interrogation. The representative shall not be a person subject to the same investigation.

This section shall not apply to any interrogation of a public safety officer in the normal course of duty, counseling, instruction, or informal verbal admonishment by, or other routine or unplanned contact with, a supervisor or any other public safety officer, nor shall this section apply to an investigation concerned solely and directly with alleged criminal activities.

(i) No public safety officer shall be loaned or temporarily reassigned to a location or duty assignment if a sworn member of his department would not normally be sent to that location or would not normally be given that duty assignment under similar circumstances.

3304. (a) No public safety officer shall be subjected to punitive action, or denied promotion, or be threatened with any such treatment, because of the lawful exercise of the rights granted under this chapter, or the exercise of any rights under any existing administrative grievance procedure.

Nothing in this section shall preclude a head of an agency from ordering a public safety officer to cooperate with other agencies involved in criminal investigations. If an officer fails to comply with such an order, the agency may officially charge him with insubordination.

(b) No punitive action, nor denial of promotion on grounds other than merit, shall be undertaken by any public agency without providing the public safety officer with an opportunity for administrative appeal.

3305. No public safety officer shall have any comment adverse to his interest entered in his personnel file, or any other file used for any personnel purposes by his employer, without the public safety officer having first read and signed the instrument containing the adverse comment indicating he is aware of such comment, except that such entry may be made if after reading such instrument the public safety officer refuses to sign it. Should a public safety officer refuse to sign, that fact shall be noted on that document, and signed or initialed by such officer.

3306. A public safety officer shall have 30 days within which to file a written response to any adverse comment entered in his personnel file. Such written response shall be attached to, and shall accompany, the adverse comment.

3307. No public safety officer shall be compelled to submit to a polygraph examination against his will. No disciplinary action or other recrimination shall be taken against a public safety officer refusing to submit to a polygraph examination, nor shall any comment be entered anywhere in the investigator's notes or anywhere else that the public safety officer refused to take a polygraph examination, nor shall any testimony or evidence be admissible at a subsequent hearing, trial, or proceeding, judicial or administrative, to the effect that the public safety officer refused to take a polygraph examination.

3308. No public safety officer shall be required or requested for purposes of job assignment or other personnel action to disclose any item of his property, income, assets, source of income, debts or personal or domestic expenditures (including those of any member of his family or household) unless such information is obtained or required under state law or proper legal procedure, tends to indicate a conflict of interest with respect to the performance of his official duties, or is necessary for the employing agency to ascertain the desirability of assigning the public safety officer to a specialized unit in which there is a strong possibility that bribes or other improper inducements may be offered.

3309. No public safety officer shall have his locker, or other space for storage that may be assigned to him searched except in his presence, or with his consent, or unless a valid search warrant has been obtained or where he has been notified that a search will be conducted. This section shall apply only to lockers or other space for storage that are owned or leased by the employing agency.

3310. Any public agency which has adopted, through action of its governing body or its official designee, any procedure which at a minimum provides to peace officers the same rights or protections as provided pursuant to this chapter shall not be subject to this chapter with regard to such a procedure.

3311. Nothing in this chapter shall in any way be construed to limit the use of any public safety agency or any public safety officer in the fulfilling of mutual aid agreements with other jurisdictions or agencies, nor shall this chapter be construed in any way to limit any jurisdictional or interagency cooperation under any circumstances where such activity is deed necessary or desirable by the jurisdictions or the agencies involved.

SEC. 2. There are no local costs in this act that require reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because there are no duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local entities in the 1975–76 fiscal year by this act. However there are state-mandated local costs in this act in the 1976–77 fiscal year and subsequent years that require reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code which can be handled in the regular budget process.

In the case of regular salaried county or city and county peace officers, the term "injury" also includes any hernia which manifests itself or develops during a period while the officer is in the service. The compensation which is awarded for such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia, shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits, as provided by the workers' compensation laws of this state.

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. Such presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

SEC. 2. Section 3212.2 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3212.2. In the case of officers and employees in the Department of Corrections having custodial duties, each officer and employee in the Department of Youth Authority having group supervisory duties, and each security officer employed at the Atascadero State Hospital, the term "injury" includes heart trouble which develops or manifests itself during a period while such officer or employee is in the service of such department or hospital.

This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

SEC. 3. Section 3212.3 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3212.3. In the case of a member of the California State Police who has graduated from an academy certified by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training, when any such member is employed upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury", as used in this division, includes heart trouble and pneumonia which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service of the California State Police. The compensation which is awarded for such heart trouble or pneumonia shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. However, the member of the California State Police shall have served five years or more in such capacity before the presumption shall arise as to the compensability of heart trouble so developing or manifesting itself. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

The compensation which is awarded for such heart trouble, hernia, or pneumonia shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such heart trouble, hernia, or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

Such heart trouble, hernia, or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

The compensation which is awarded for such heart trouble or pneumonia shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment; provided, however, that the member of the police department, State Highway Patrol, the sheriff or deputy sheriff, or an inspector or investigator in a district attorney's office of any county shall have served five years or more in such capacity before the presumption shall arise as to the compensability of heart trouble so developing or manifesting itself. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

Such tuberculosis so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

SEC. 7. Section 3212.7 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3212.7. In the case of an employee in the Department of Justice falling within the "state safety" class, when any such individual is employed under civil service upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury," as used in this division, includes heart trouble or hernia or pneumonia or tuberculosis which develops or manifests itself during the period while such individual is in the service of the Department of Justice. SEC. 8. Section 3213 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3213. In the case of a member of the University of California Police Department who has graduated from an academy certified by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training, when he and all members of the campus department of which he is a member have graduated from such an academy, and when any such member is employed upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury" as used in this division includes heart trouble and pneumonia which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service of such campus department of the University of California Police Department. The compensation which is awarded

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment; provided, however, that the member of the University of California Police Department shall have served five years or more in such capacity before the presumption shall arise as to the compensability of heart trouble so developing or manifesting itself. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the appeals board is bound to find in accordance with it. This presumption shall be extended to a member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each full year of the requisite service, but not to exceed 60 months in any circumstance, commencing with the last date actually worked in the specified capacity.

SEC. 10. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency because there are savings as well as costs in this act which in the aggregate do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

county tax collector in a sum equal to such excess or, in the alternative, pledge other property with the county tax collector in such amount as security. The requirement for a bond or additional security specified in this paragraph shall terminate when the balance of unpaid tax liability remaining after a subsequent installment payment, plus penalties and interest thereon to the date of such subsequent installment payment, no longer exceeds 66⅔ percent of the full value of the property on which the taxes are a lien, as of the last equalized assessment roll. However, a new bond shall be posted or property pledged if, during the pendency of the action, the balance of unpaid tax liability, plus penalties and interest thereon, again exceeds 66⅔ percent of such full value.

(b) The right to maintain an action under this section shall terminate if there is a default of any obligation by the owner in the installment plan of redemption on the property.

(c) If the owner does not recover the amount of taxes in dispute in an action brought under this section, he shall pay additional interest to the county or city equal to the difference between the interest he has paid under Article 2 (commencing with Section 4216) of Chapter 3 of Part 7 of this division and the amount of interest the county or city would have earned on the funds in the impound account on the entire amount of tax determined by the court to be due, if such amount had been paid in equal installments on the tax delinquency dates.

5146. All courts wherein actions brought under this article are or hereafter may be pending shall give such actions precedence over all other civil actions therein, except actions to which special precedence is given by law, in the matter of setting same for hearing or trial, and in hearing the same, to the end that all such actions shall be quickly heard and determined.

5147. No such action hereafter commenced shall be further prosecuted, and no further proceedings shall be had therein, and all such actions hereafter commenced must be dismissed by the court in which the same shall have been commenced, on its own motion, or on the motion of any defendant therein unless the summons shall have been issued and served and the return thereon made within one year after the commencement of said action, except where the parties have filed a stipulation in writing that the time may be extended.

5148. If all or any portion of the taxes sought to be recovered were collected by officers of the county for a city, an action must be brought against the city for the recovery of such taxes and judgment must be sought against the city. Where actions are brought against both a county and a city such actions may be joined in one complaint.

If all or part of the taxes sought to be recovered were levied on state-assessed property, property which the board has found ineligible for the welfare exemption pursuant to Section 254.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, or property as to which the board has reviewed the assessment pursuant to Section 11 of Article XIII of the Constitution, the board shall be joined as a party to the action.

5149. Any city for which county officers collect taxes may provide for the defense by counsel for the county of actions brought against the city under this article, in which event it shall be the duty of such counsel to defend such actions, or the city may provide that such actions shall be defended by its own counsel.

5149.5. Where the taxes sought to be recovered have been paid after delinquency, the amount of penalties, interest or costs recoverable in actions brought under this article shall be computed only on the taxes recovered.

SEC. 13. Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 5150) is added to Chapter 5 of Part 9 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 2.5. Interest on Refunds

5150. In an action in which the recovery of taxes is allowed by the court, the plaintiff is entitled to interest on the taxes for which recovery is allowed at a rate of 6 percent per annum from the date of filing of the claim for refund, but in no event earlier than the date of payment of the tax or installments thereof sought to be refunded, to the date of entry of judgment, and such accrued interest shall be included in the judgment. This section shall also apply to any action for the recovery of taxes in which the plaintiff is a city.

This section shall not apply to taxes which became due and payable before March 1, 1977. Interest on taxes which became due and payable before March 1, 1977, shall be subject to the provisions on payment of interest in effect prior to January 1, 1977.

SEC. 14. Section 5161 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

5161. (a) Any action to recover taxes pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 5140) by any county, city and county, or municipal corporation shall be brought and tried in any county other than the plaintiff or the county in which the plaintiff is situated and other than the defendant or the county in which defendant is situated.

(b) No judge of the superior court in the plaintiff county or the county in which the plaintiff is situated or in the defendant county or the county in which the defendant is situated shall sit or act in any action brought pursuant to this section.

(1) Any party to or any attorney appearing in any such action may establish such disqualification by an oral or written motion without notice supported by affidavit that the judge before whom such action is pending or to whom it is assigned is disqualified by virtue of this section. Where the judge assigned to or who is scheduled to try the cause or hear the matter is known at least 10 days before the date set for trial or hearing, the motion shall be made at least five days before that date. If directed to the trial of a cause where there is a master calendar, the motion shall be made to the judge supervising the master calendar not later than the time the cause is assigned for trial. In no event shall any judge entertain such motion if it be made after the making of an opening statement by counsel for plaintiff, or if there be no such statement, then after swearing in the first witness or the giving of any evidence or after trial of the cause has otherwise commenced. If the motion is directed to a hearing (other than the trial of a cause), the motion must be made not later than the commencement of the hearing. In the case of trials or hearings not herein specifically provided for, the procedure herein specified shall be followed as nearly as may be.

(2) If such motion is duly presented and such affidavit is duly filed, thereupon and without any further act or proof, the judge supervising the master calendar, if any, shall assign some other judge to try the cause or hear the matter. In other cases, the trial of the cause or the hearing of the matter shall be assigned or transferred to another judge of the court in which the trial or matter is pending or, if there is no other judge of the court in which the trial or matter is pending, the chairman of the judicial council shall assign some other judge to try such cause or hear such matter as promptly as possible. Under no circumstances shall a party or attorney be permitted to make more than one such motion in any one action pursuant to this section; and in actions where there may be more than one plaintiff or similar party or more than one defendant or similar party appearing in the action, only one motion for each side may be made in any one action or special proceeding.

(3) Unless required for the convenience of the court or unless good cause is shown, a continuance of the trial or hearing shall not be granted by reason of the making of a motion under this section. If a continuance is granted, the cause or matter shall be continued from day to day or for other limited periods upon the trial or other calendar and shall be reassigned or transferred for trial or hearing as promptly as possible.

SEC. 14.5. There is no reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code required by this bill because there are no duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed upon local governmental entities.

SEC. 15. The provisions of this act shall be operative with respect to taxes which become due and payable on or after the lien date in 1977.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

The city or county, as the case may be, in making its recommendations to the transit district on the proposed location of any such transit facilities, shall consider whether the proposed location is consistent with the circulation element of its general plan.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section, nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act, because duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities by this act are such that related costs are incurred as a part of their normal operating procedures.

11174. The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the public interest and necessary for the public welfare to provide assistance to certain needy persons of limited income and resources in the payment of delinquent property taxes. It is further found and declared that such assistance may in some cases be most appropriately provided through the limitation of escape assessments and the cancellation of such assessments, or by a combination of limitation or cancellation, and assistance payments, rather than merely through assistance payments.

11175. Whenever a county requests additional unmet shelter needs funds so as to cancel escape assessments upon the homes of welfare recipients improperly granted the homeowners' exemption, such request is deemed a voluntary act of the county and the county shall assume the burden of all the costs in compliance with this act. CHAPTER 2.1. ART IN PUBLIC BUILDINGS

15813.1. For purposes of this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "State buildings" includes state office buildings, hospitals, and prisons, and such other state buildings which the State Architect deems appropriate for the inclusion of art as provided in this chapter.

(b) "Work of art" means any work of visual art, including but not limited to, a drawing, painting, mural, fresco, sculpture, mosaic, or photograph, a work of calligraphy, a work of graphic art (including an etching, lithograph, offset print, silk screen, or a work of graphic art of like nature), crafts (including crafts in clay, textile, fiber, wood, metal, plastic, glass, and like materials), or mixed media (including a collage, assemblage, or any combination of the foregoing art media). The term "work of art" does not include environmental landscaping placed about a state building.

(c) "Council" means the Arts Council.

(d) "Acquisition" includes acquisition by purchase, lease, or commission.

15813.2. (a) Financing for works of art in state buildings shall be subject to an appropriation in the annual Budget Act. The Governor shall include a budget item for art in state buildings in the annual budget submitted to the Legislature.

(b) The annual appropriation shall be made to the Department of Finance for allocation to the State Architect.

(c) The State Architect may accept from the council any federal money made available to the council and may expend such funds for the purposes specified in this chapter.

15813.3. In order to carry out the purposes of this chapter, the State Architect shall do all of the following:

(a) (1) Determine and implement procedures for the purchase or lease by written contract of existing works of art from an artist or the artist's authorized agent. Works of art to be purchased or leased shall be selected by the State Architect from lists of works prepared and submitted by the council or by advisory committees empowered by the council. In making such purchases or in executing such leases, preference may be given to artists who are California residents. No lease obligation shall be incurred under the provisions of this chapter without the prior approval of the Department of Finance.

(2) Determine and implement procedures, one of which shall provide for competition among artists, for the selection and commissioning of artists by written contract to create works of art. Commissioned artists shall be selected by the State Architect from lists of qualified and available artists prepared and submitted by the council or by advisory committees empowered by the council. In making such contracts, preference may be given to artists who are California residents.

(3) If competition among artists is the procedure for selection of an artist pursuant to paragraph (2), a panel of three judges shall be appointed to make such selection. The panel shall consist of the State Architect or a person designated by the State Architect, a member of the council or a person designated by the council, and one person selected by the other two who shall be a visual artist, an architect or designer, a person employed by an art museum, or a collector of visual art. At least one judge on each panel shall be a working visual artist.

(b) Consult with each artist commissioned regarding the design and placement of a work of art.

(c) Ensure that works of art acquired pursuant to this chapter are placed in a manner so that they are within public view.

(d) Ensure that the program for acquisition of works of art pursuant to this chapter results in participation by many different artists and in acquisitions from among many of the different art forms referred to in subdivision (b) of Section 15813.1. A person who is, or is related to, a member of the council or is employed by the council, or a person related to or employed in the office of the State Architect may not be selected or commissioned pursuant to this chapter.

(e) Cooperate with other affected state agencies and consult with the artist to insure that each work of art acquired pursuant to this chapter is properly maintained and is not artistically altered in any manner without the consent of the artist.

(f) Promulgate rules and regulations, as necessary, in consultation with the council, and any other person, group, or association in the State of California related to architecture, design, or the arts, so as to facilitate the implementation of the State Architect's responsibilities under this chapter.

(g) Authorize payments to artists for works of art acquired pursuant to this chapter.

15813.4. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the selection and commissioning of artists, and the purchase and execution of works of art for state buildings shall be exempt from the provisions of the State Contract Act and other state bidding requirements.

15813.5. (a) The state shall receive sole ownership of each work of art acquired pursuant to this chapter, including all tangible rights and privileges thereof, subject to the following intangible rights retained by the artist:

(1) The right to claim authorship of the work of art.

(2) The right to reproduce such work of art, including all rights to which the work of art may be subject under copyright laws. Such rights may be limited by written contract.

(3) If provided by written contract, the right to receive a specified percentage of the proceeds if the work of art is subsequently sold by the state to a third party other than as part of the sale of the building in which the work of art is located.

(b) The rights granted to the artist by subdivision (a) may by written contract be extended to such artist's heirs, assigns, or personal representatives, until after the end of the 20th year following the death of such artist.

(c) Prior to execution of a written contract, the artist shall be informed in writing of the rights specified in subdivisions (a) and (b) which may be granted by contract to the artist or to the artist's heirs, assigns, or personal representatives.

15813.6. In consultation with the State Architect, the council shall prepare and distribute to Members of the Legislature an annual report relative to the art in state buildings program pursuant to this chapter. Such report may be submitted as part of a report on the activities and programs of the council.

15813.7. If a work of art acquired pursuant to this chapter is to be sold by the state, such sale shall be made to the highest bidder, conditioned on the work of art first being offered to the artist at the bid price.

Not to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) of such sum shall be allocated and expended for architectural and engineering services in connection with such remodeling, expansion, or construction.

Sections 19551 to 19555, inclusive, and Sections 19559, 19562, 19565, and 19699.10 of the Education Code shall be applicable to the administration of this act unless the context of this act, as determined by the State Allocation Board, requires otherwise. Except to the extent and for the purposes expressly provided in this act, the provisions of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 19551) of Division 14 of the Education Code shall not be applicable hereto.

SEC. 6. Section 4 of Chapter 1203 of the Statutes of 1970 is amended to read:

Sec. 4. No expenditure of funds under this act shall be made, unless at an election called by the County Superintendent of Schools of Fresno County, two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting on a proposition therefor have authorized the officer or entity designated pursuant to Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 7450) of Division 6 of the Education Code to accept, expend, and repay an amount not to exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) from the proceeds of the State School Building Aid Bond Law of 1974.

SEC. 7. Notwithstanding any provision of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 19551) of Division 14 of the Education Code, or any other provision of law, any conditional apportionment made under that chapter in an amount not to exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000) made to a district on September 15, 1975, which would require the issuance and sale of one hundred eight thousand dollars ($108,000) in bonds, may become final upon receipt of a certification by the county superintendent of schools that (1) such bonds have been sold prior to June 16, 1976, and that (2) the proceeds therefrom have been applied toward the reduction of prior apportionments.

This section shall remain operative until September 15, 1976, and as of that date ceases to be operative.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that a school district in which unique circumstances exist, may proceed to levy a twenty-cent ($0.20) tax during the 1976–77 fiscal year, as authorized by this act, to provide the matching funds needed to qualify for state school building aid in order to finance the replacement of existing substandard buildings for its elementary school pupils, it is essential that this act go into effect immediately.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on school districts by this act are such that related costs are incurred as a part of their normal operating procedures.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in any district which has annexed or annexes territory resulting in a proposal for a rearrangement of trustee areas and which holds an election pursuant to Section 25411.6 and a rearrangement of boundaries is approved by the voters, in the event that such rearrangement results in a trustee area having more or fewer than its allotted number of representatives, a governing board member representing a particular trustee area whose boundaries are rearranged so that he or she no longer resides within the trustee area may serve out his or her term of office as that area's representative. Succeeding representatives shall be selected in the manner provided by law.

There shall also be appointed by the Governor for a two-year term, a student from a California state university or college who shall have at least a junior year standing at the institution he or she attends, and shall remain in good standing as a student for the two-year term. In the selection of a student as a member of the board, the Governor shall appoint such student from a list of names of not more than five persons furnished by student representatives of each of the universities and colleges of the California State University and Colleges. The trustees or corporate trustee of an endowment care fund or one or more special care funds shall file a bond issued by an admitted surety with the Cemetery Board in the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) guaranteeing payment of damages occasioned by breach of the trustees' or corporate trustee's fiduciary duties. The trustees or corporate trustee of both an endowment care fund and one or more special care funds need file only one such bond. The aggregate liability of the surety shall in no case exceed the face amount of the bond. The Cemetery Board or any aggrieved person claiming against any bond required by this section may maintain an action against the trustees or corporate trustee and the surety. Any judgment or settlement recovered on account of such a claim shall be paid into the corpus of the endowment care fund or special care fund.

The trustees or corporate trustee of an endowment care fund or special care fund shall take no action respecting trust funds unless there is on file with the board a bond as required by this section. The Cemetery Board may suspend the certificate of authority of any cemetery authority having endowment or special care funds with respect to which there is no bond on file with the board as required by this section.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act, because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

CHAPTER 525

An act to amend Sections 8302, 8738, and 8738.1 of, and to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 8115) to Part 1 of Division 8 of, the Health and Safety Code, and to repeal Section 563e of the Penal Code, relating to cemeteries.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976.]

Such standards may be made applicable to every public and private cemetery within the city or county.

Nothing in this section supersedes any provision of this division or Division 7 (commencing with Section 7000) or authorizes the adoption of local standards in conflict with such provisions, except that city or county ordinances adopted pursuant to this section shall prevail over the rules and regulations of any private or public cemetery to the extent of any conflict.

SEC. 2. Section 8302 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

8302. (a) It may regulate the uniformity, class, and kind of all markers, monuments, and other structures within the cemetery and its subdivisions.

(b) However, no cemetery authority shall require, as a condition to the erection of a marker, monument, or other structure within the cemetery, that the marker, monument, or other structure be purchased from or through the cemetery authority.

SEC. 3. Section 8738 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

8738. An endowment care cemetery is one which has deposited in its endowment care fund the minimum amounts heretofore required by law and shall hereafter have deposited in its endowment care fund at the time of or not later than completion of the initial sale not less than the following amounts for plots sold or disposed of:

(a) One dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) a square foot for each grave;

(b) Fifteen dollars ($15) for each niche;

(c) Fifty dollars ($50) for each crypt; provided, however, that for companion crypts, there shall be deposited fifty dollars ($50) for the first crypt and twenty-five dollars ($25) for each additional crypt.

SEC. 4. Section 8738.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

8738.1. In addition to the requirements of Section 8738 any endowment care cemetery hereafter established shall also have deposited in its endowment care fund the additional sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) if established on or after January 1, 1977, before disposing of any plot or making any sale thereof.

SEC. 5. Section 563e of the Penal Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 526

An act to amend Sections 12.2, 19.1, and 20 of, and to add Section 20.1 to, the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617 of the Statutes of 1951), relating to the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12.2 of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617 of the Statutes of 1951) is amended to read:

Sec. 12.2. The board by resolution thereof adopted from time to time, may establish drainage areas within the district without reference to the boundaries of other zones or drainage areas, setting forth in such resolution descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and entitling each of such areas by an area designation or number, and institute drainage plans for the specific benefit of such areas.

If the exterior boundaries of such a proposed drainage area will include lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any city within the district, the board shall submit to the governing body of such city, a copy of the resolution specifying its intention to form such area and institute a drainage plan therefor. Such resolution shall be forwarded to any affected city at least 20 days before the date the board proposes to adopt the resolution establishing the drainage area. If prior to taking final action by resolution to form any area, the exterior boundaries of which will include any lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any city within the district, the board receives a resolution or ordinance adopted by a majority of the members of the governing body of such city requesting exclusion of such city territory from the area, the board shall exclude such territory.

A drainage area may include all lands contributing to the drainage requirements of an area, excluding as necessary such lands as are already developed or those adequately served by existing local drainage facilities serving the area at the time of the adoption of a plan for additional drainage facilities from fees.

Whenever drainage facilities, conforming to the instituted drainage plan, are required in the development of any land within a drainage area and where, in the opinion of the board, it is necessary that other facilities be constructed which can be, or will be, used for the benefit of other property in the drainage area, and such drainage facilities are dedicated to the public, the board may contract with the developer and agree to reimburse, and may reimburse him, for all or any portion of such drainage facilities. Such contract shall provide that the board may collect a reasonable charge from any person, corporation, or agency using such facilities for the benefit of other property in the drainage area. Where existing drainage facilities conform to the instituted drainage plan, the board may contract with the developer of the installed drainage facilities and agree to reimburse, and may reimburse him, for all or any portion of such drainage facilities if such drainage facilities are dedicated to the district or public.

Fees may be collected pursuant to this section for payment of all or any portion of any such drainage facility costs if the costs, whether actual or estimated, are based upon findings by the board, that development of property within the planned drainage area will require construction of the facilities described in the drainage plan, and that fees are fairly apportioned within the local drainage area on the basis of benefits conferred on property within the area. The fee as to any property within the drainage area may be charged as a condition precedent to the development of such property, and no building permit therefor shall be issued or the final map for a subdivision approved until payment thereof, and such fee shall not exceed the pro rata share of the amount of the total actual or estimated costs of all such drainage facilities within the drainage area which would be assessable on such property if such costs were apportioned on a uniform fee schedule, excluding, however, such property within the area as, in the opinion of the board, is incapable of development from fees.

The fees collected by the district, pursuant to this section, shall be paid into a drainage facilities fund. A separate fund shall be established for each drainage area. Any money placed in such fund shall be expended as provided in this section for land acquisition, construction, engineering, repair, maintenance and operation or reimbursement for the same, in whole or in part, of local drainage facilities within the planned drainage area from which the fees comprising the fund were collected or to reduce the principal or interest of any bonded indebtedness of the drainage area.

The term "developer," as used herein, shall include a subdivider, industrial developer, or any person, corporation, district, public or private agency, or group that may participate in the drainage facilities constructed pursuant to this section.

Any drainage facilities constructed in any drainage area may be installed by the developer at his sole cost and expense in accordance with plans and specifications prepared or approved by the district, by the district with its own funds, or by the district with funds supplied by the developer, and the cost thereof may be collected and repaid, in whole or in part, in the manner provided for in this section.

SEC. 2. Section 19.1 of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617 of the Statutes of 1951), as amended by Chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1975, is further amended to read:

Sec. 19.1. Proceedings for the conversion of a storm drain maintenance district, Contra Costa County Storm Drainage District zone, or county service area into a drainage area may be commenced by the board by the adoption of a resolution which shall:

(a) State the name, general location, and the boundaries of the district, zone, or county service area proposed to be converted and the name or number and the boundaries of the drainage area proposed to be established. The boundaries may be described in the resolution by reference to a legal description thereof on file in the office of the clerk of the board.

(b) State that a tax may be levied pursuant to Section 12.4 to pay for services or works of improvement furnished within such area after due allowance has been made for existing unencumbered funds standing to the credit of the district, zone, or county service area in the county treasury.

(c) Fix a time and place for a public hearing on the conversion which shall not be less than 30 nor more than 60 days after the adoption of the resolution.

SEC. 3. Section 20 of the Contra Costa Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617 of the Statutes of 1951) is amended to read:

Sec. 20. The bonds of the district issued for any zone or drainage area thereof pursuant to this act, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings, and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities in the State of California, such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of said district issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act, such bonds of said district may be so used.

This section of this act is intended to be and shall be considered the latest enactment with respect to the matters herein contained and any and all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 20.1 is added to the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1617 of the Statutes of 1951), to read:

Sec. 20.1. Bonds may be authorized and issued and bond indebtedness incurred for drainage areas under this act in the same manner and subject to the same provisions for such as provided for zones.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 72190 of the Government Code is amended to read:

72190. Within the jurisdiction of the court and under the direction of the judges, commissioners of municipal courts shall exercise all the powers and perform all of the duties authorized by law to be performed by commissioners of superior courts and such additional powers and duties as may be prescribed by law. They shall possess the same qualifications the law requires of a judge and shall hold office during the pleasure of the court appointing them and shall not engage in the private practice of law. They shall be ex officio deputy clerks.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a commissioner of a municipal court of any judicial district in Los Angeles County and San Diego County who has been duly appointed and has thereafter been retired for service, may be assigned by the presiding judge of a court to serve as a court commissioner of the court for such periods of time as he is needed for the prompt and efficient discharge of the business of that court. While so serving, he shall be paid the full compensation of a court commissioner, payable as follows: He shall continue to receive his retirement allowance, and in addition the county shall pay him the amount equal to the difference between such retirement allowance and such full compensation. Such employment shall not operate to reinstate him as a member of the county retirement system or to terminate or suspend his retirement rights or allowance, and no deductions shall be made from his compensation as contributions to the retirement system.

SEC. 2. There are no state-mandated local costs within the meaning of Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code imposed on local governmental entities by this act.

SEC. 3. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the municipal courts in San Diego County are periodically understaffed and in need of assistance to adequately handle the caseload. This provision, allowing San Diego County to hire retired court commissioners on an as-needed basis, will facilitate the smooth and efficient operation of the court system and the proper administration of justice. Accordingly, this legislation affecting San Diego County is necessary to permit the Legislature to carry out its constitutionally delegated responsibility of prescribing the number, qualifications, and compensation of municipal court officers.

CHAPTER 528

An act to amend Section 4 of Chapter 1021 of the Statutes of 1973, Section 2 of Chapter 1022 of the Statutes of 1973, and Section 8 of Chapter 1023 of the Statutes of 1973, relating to payment to local agencies for increased costs, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

SECTION 1. Section 4 of Chapter 1021 of the Statutes of 1973 is amended to read:

Sec. 4. The sum of one hundred six thousand dollars ($106,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Controller for allocation and disbursement to local agencies pursuant to Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code to reimburse such agencies for costs incurred by them pursuant to this act.

For purposes of this section, costs for purposes of Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be computed as follows:

(a) An insured local agency shall multiply its annual premium, adjusted by its experience modification factor and less dividends received in the current year, by the percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate, calculated by a rating bureau, licensed in accordance with Section 11751 of the Insurance Code, using commonly accepted actuarial practices.

(b) An uninsured local agency shall claim on the basis of actual losses or, in lieu thereof, may multiply total annual losses by the percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate, calculated by a rating bureau, licensed in accordance with Section 11751 of the Insurance Code, using commonly accepted actuarial practices.

When more than one percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate has been developed by rating bureaus, the State Department of Finance shall specify the applicable value to be used for the year of the claim.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of Chapter 1022 of the Statutes of 1973 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. The sum of one million ninety-six thousand dollars ($1,096,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Controller for payments to local agencies pursuant to Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code to reimburse them for costs incurred pursuant to this act. This appropriation shall be available until June 30, 1974.

For purposes of this section, costs for purposes of Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be computed as follows:

(a) An insured local agency shall multiply its annual premium, adjusted by its experience modification factor and less dividends received in the current year by the percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate, calculated by a rating bureau, licensed in accordance with Section 11751 of the Insurance Code, using commonly accepted actuarial practices.

(b) When more than one percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate has been developed by rating bureaus, the State Department of Finance shall specify the applicable value to be used for the year of the claim.

Claims for reimbursement shall be prepared in the form, and payments made at the time, specified by the State Controller.

SEC. 3. Section 8 of Chapter 1023 of the Statutes of 1973 is amended to read:

Sec. 8. The sum of one million five hundred eighty-two thousand two hundred twenty-three dollars ($1,582,223) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Controller for payments to local agencies pursuant to Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code to reimburse them for costs incurred pursuant to this act. This appropriation shall be available until June 30, 1974.

For purposes of this section, costs for purposes of Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be computed as follows:

(a) An insured local agency shall multiply its annual premium, adjusted by its experience modification factor and less dividends received in the current year by the percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate, calculated by a rating bureau, licensed in accordance with Section 11751 of the Insurance Code, using commonly accepted actuarial practices.

(b) An uninsured local agency shall claim on the basis of actual losses or, in lieu thereof, may multiply total annual losses by the percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate, calculated by a rating bureau, licensed in accordance with Section 11751 of the Insurance Code, using commonly accepted actuarial practices.

When more than one percentage increase in losses attributable to the cost mandate has been developed by rating bureaus, the State Department of Finance shall specify the applicable value to be used for the year of the claim.

Claims for reimbursement shall be prepared in the form, and payments made at the time, specified by the State Controller.

SEC. 4. The sum of five million six hundred thousand dollars ($5,600,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in augmentation of Item 165 of the Budget Act of 1975.

SEC. 5. This act shall apply to all claims filed for the fiscal year 1976–77 and thereafter.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that present inequity in the reimbursement of local entities under Chapters 1021, 1022, and 1023 of the Statutes of 1973 be eliminated, before further reimbursements are made, by relating reimbursement to actual costs rather than a fixed unit of cost it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 529

An act to amend Section 20111 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to police protection districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20111 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

20111. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), any amount of money raised for the maintenance of a police department in a district by an annual tax levied pursuant to this article shall not exceed three-fourths of 1 percent of the assessed value of the taxable property in the district.

(b) If the district desires to change the maximum amount of money established by subdivision (a) for maintenance of a police department, the district board shall call a special election to submit a proposed new maximum to the voters of the district. The proposed new maximum shall be expressed on the ballot in the same manner as the maximum amount is expressed in subdivision (a). A majority of the votes cast at such an election shall be required to approve the proposed new maximum. No maximum established pursuant to this subdivision shall exceed 1½ percent of the assessed value of taxable property in the district.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding the time limitations prescribed by Section 23302 of the Elections Code, the county board of supervisors shall order consolidation of a special election called by a police protection district in the county pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 20111 of the Health and Safety Code with the statewide general election to be conducted November 2, 1976, if the board of police commissioners of the police protection district, on or before September 1, 1976, files with the board of supervisors, and a copy with the county clerk of, its resolution requesting such consolidation and setting forth the exact form of the proposition to be voted on at such election as the same is to appear on the ballot.

SEC. 3. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Inadequate funding of police protection districts poses an immediate threat to the public safety. The existing limitation on the tax rate which may be imposed for support of such districts is too low to permit the provision of adequate law enforcement services in some areas. In order that underfunded police protection districts may submit to the voters, at the same time as the 1976 statewide general election, proposals for appropriate increases authorized by this act, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 530

An act to add Section 38111 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to developmental disabilities.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 38111 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

38111. (a) Every physician and surgeon diagnosing a developmental disability of a patient who is a minor, or who observes a minor patient to exhibit manifestations indicating the possible presence of a developmental disability, as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 38003, shall attempt to determine from the patient, the parents or guardian of the patient, or the regional center for the area

if such person has been previously referred to the regional center for the area. If the patient has not been previously referred to the regional center, the physician and surgeon shall inform a parent or the guardian of the patient of the existence of the regional center for the area, shall describe to such person the services available through the regional center, and shall, upon request of the parent or guardian of the patient, refer the patient through his parent or guardian to the regional center. Upon obtaining the consent of the patient's parent or guardian, the physician and surgeon shall notify the regional center of such referral.

(b) Each regional center shall maintain a record of every developmentally disabled person under the age of 18 years known by the regional center to have been referred to it for its services, whether or not services are actually provided, and shall notify any physician and surgeon making an inquiry with the consent of the minor's parent or guardian pursuant to this section regarding the existence or nonexistence of a prior referral.

(c) The state department shall transmit a copy of this section and of subdivision (h) of Section 38003, a list of the names and addresses of each regional center, and such other pertinent information as the state department deems appropriate to every physician and surgeon licensed to practice in this state and every general acute care hospital licensed under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) of Division 2.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act are minor in nature and will not cause any financial burden on local government.

CHAPTER 531

An act to amend Sections 6901 and 6902 of, to add Section 6900 to, and to repeal Section 6900 of, the Financial Code, relating to savings and loan associations.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976]

SECTION 1. Section 6900 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 6900 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

the total asset figure such asset items as may be deemed appropriate by the commissioner. For the purpose of computing total assets as of any given date, an association at its option may use the average of total assets as of the end of the preceding calendar year and the total assets of the association at the end of any one or more, up to four, of the immediately preceding calendar years providing all such dates are consecutive.

SEC. 3. Section 6901 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

6901. Without the consent of the commissioner, no association shall pay any dividends to stockholders or distribute any profits to stockholders if its statutory net worth is less than, or by such payment or distribution would be reduced below, the requirement specified by the commissioner pursuant to Section 6900.

SEC. 4. Section 6902 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

6902. If the statutory net worth falls below the level specified by the commissioner, the commissioner may require the association to increase its statutory net worth within the time and in a manner designated by the commissioner, so as to bring the amount to the level specified in this chapter, and may, in addition, require the association to do any one or more of the following:

(a) Increase its liquid assets and maintain such increased liquidity at the level specified by the commissioner.

(b) Cease:

(1) Issuing investment certificates and withdrawable shares of all classes or categories, except in exchange for certificates and shares already issued.

(2) Issuing investment certificates and withdrawable shares of any particular class, category, or amount.

(3) Receiving additional funds upon investment certificates and withdrawable shares already issued other than installment certificates or shares.

The provisions of this subdivision shall not prevent the association from crediting to investment certificates and withdrawable shares the interest earned thereon.

(c) Cease all lending, lending in a particular area, or making a particular type or category of loans.

(d) Cease purchase of loans or other investments.

(e) Cease or limit promotional expenditures.

(f) Convene a meeting or meetings of its board of directors with the commissioner in attendance to accomplish the objectives of this section.

(g) Take such other steps as the commissioner deems necessary to safeguard the interest of the association and the public.

CHAPTER 532

An act to amend Sections 43.7 and 43.8 of the Civil Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 43.7 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

43.7. There shall be no monetary liability on the part of, and no cause of action for damages shall arise against, any member of a duly appointed committee of a state or local professional society, or duly appointed member of a committee of a medical staff of a licensed hospital (provided the medical staff operates pursuant to written bylaws that have been approved by the governing board of the hospital), for any act or proceeding undertaken or performed within the scope of the functions of any such committee which is formed to maintain the professional standards of the society established by its bylaws, or any member of any peer review committee whose purpose is to review the quality of medical services rendered by physicians and surgeons, which committee is composed chiefly of physicians and surgeons, for any act or proceeding undertaken or performed in reviewing the quality of medical services rendered by physicians and surgeons, if such committee member acts without malice, has made a reasonable effort to obtain the facts of the matter as to which he acts, and acts in reasonable belief that the action taken by him is warranted by the facts known to him after such reasonable effort to obtain facts. "Professional society" includes legal, medical, psychological, dental, accounting, optometric, podiatric, pharmaceutic, chiropractic, and engineering organizations having as members at least a majority of the eligible licentiates in the area served by the particular society. The provisions of this section do not affect the official immunity of an officer or employee of a public corporation.

This section shall not be construed to confer immunity from liability on any professional society or hospital. In any case in which, but for the enactment of the preceding provisions of this section, a cause of action would arise against a hospital or professional society, such cause of action shall exist as if the preceding provisions of this section had not been enacted.

SEC. 2. Section 43.8 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

43.8. In addition to the privilege afforded by Section 47, there shall be no monetary liability on the part of, and no cause of action for damages shall arise against, any person on account of the communication of information in the possession of such person to any hospital, hospital medical staff, professional society, medical or dental school, professional licensing board or division, committee or panel of such licensing board, or peer review committee described in Section 43.7 when such communication is intended to aid in the evaluation of the qualifications, fitness or character of a practitioner of the healing arts and does not represent as true any matter not reasonably believed to be true. The immunities afforded by this section and by Section 43.7 shall not affect the availability of any absolute privilege which may be afforded by Section 47.

CHAPTER 533

An act to amend Sections 36402, 36402.1, 36402.3, 36406, 36407, 36407.1, 36408, 36408.4, 36408.5, 36408.6, and 36409 of, and to add Sections 36408.7 and 36408.8 to, the Water Code, relating to California water districts.

[Approved by Governor August 21, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 22, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 36402 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36402. Indebtedness incurred under this chapter shall be evidenced by warrants or negotiable notes of the district payable at stated times fixed by the board and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 8 percent per annum, payable annually or semiannually.

SEC. 2. Section 36402.1 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36402.1. Except as provided in Section 36407.1, no warrants or negotiable notes issued pursuant to this chapter shall be valid unless their issuance is authorized by a majority of the voters voting at an election called by the board for the purpose of determining whether or not the warrants or negotiable notes shall be authorized.

SEC. 3. Section 36402.3 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36402.3. The proceeds of such warrants or negotiable notes may, with the approval of the State Treasurer where required, be used and applied to the purchase or redemption of any outstanding warrants or negotiable notes of the district.

SEC. 4. Section 36406 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36406. Warrants or negotiable notes issued under this chapter shall be offered for public sale upon notice inviting sealed bids therefor. Such notice shall be given by publication pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district or if such a newspaper is not printed and published in the district by posting in three public places in the district, and the sale shall not be held before 10 days after such publication or posting. The board may reject all bids received on public sale and either readvertise or sell the warrants or negotiable notes at private sale, but no sale at private

SEC. 5. Section 36407 of the Water Code is amended to read:

It shall be the duty of the board to include in its annual estimate filed with the board of supervisors all sums necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, all warrants or negotiable notes issued under this chapter coming due during the next year, and any sums that the board shall direct to be set aside in a special fund for the future payment of principal of and interest on any outstanding warrants or negotiable notes issued under this chapter which will come due in any year following the next year. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors, at the time and in the manner provided in this division for making the annual assessment, to fix an ad valorem rate of assessment sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all warrants or negotiable notes issued under this chapter as the same become due, and the sums required for the special fund established by the board. Such ad valorem assessment shall be in addition to all other assessments in this division provided for and when collected shall be used for no purpose other than the payment of said warrants or negotiable notes and the interest thereon.

SEC. 6. Section 36407.1 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36407.1. Warrants or negotiable notes payable in five years or less from the date of issuance may be issued under this section without the approval of the voters pursuant to Section 36402.1 and shall constitute obligations of the district payable from annual assessments and other revenues of the district and subject to the maximum property tax rate contained in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 2201) of Part 4 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 7. Section 36408 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36408. Warrants or negotiable notes shall not be issued under this chapter in excess of an amount authorized by the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer shall not authorize the issuance of any warrants or negotiable notes under this chapter unless the State Treasurer shall find and determine that in his judgment the district will be able to pay the principal of and interest on the warrants or negotiable notes as the same respectively become due. Such warrants or negotiable notes shall be subject to investigation and certification in the same manner, by the same officers and with the same force and effect as prescribed for the investigation and certification of bonds of irrigation districts by the provisions of Division 10 (commencing with Section 20000).

SEC. 8. Section 36408.4 of the Water Code is amended to read:

These warrants or negotiable notes shall be made payable on a date not later than the first day of July next after the first annual assessment in the district is levied.

SEC. 11. Section 36408.7 is added to the Water Code, to read:

36408.7. A district may borrow money in anticipation of the sale of, but not in excess of the principal amount of, authorized bonds of the district which have not yet been sold and delivered, and for that purpose may issue and sell negotiable bond anticipation notes, and may refund such notes from time to time, but the maximum maturity of any such notes, as originally issued or as refunded, shall not exceed five years from the date of the original notes. The notes shall be sold in such manner as the board may determine, and such notes and the resolution providing for the issuance of such notes may contain any provision, condition or limitation which a bond, or any resolution or ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds, may contain. The interest on bond anticipation notes shall be payable at the time or times provided in such notes and may be represented by interest coupons attached to the notes and shall be payable from the same funds from which the interest on bonds of the district are payable. The principal of such notes may be paid from any moneys of the district available for such purpose. The resolution providing for the issuance of bond anticipation notes may contain a provision that, if for any reason bonds of the district are not sold in time to provide funds to pay any unpaid note, and, if other funds of the district are not available for such payment, ad valorem assessments shall be levied upon the assessable land in the district for such payment in the same manner provided for the payment of bonds in such amount each year for such period of years as may be set forth in such resolution. To the extent bond anticipation notes are paid from such assessment, authorized bonds in a corresponding amount shall be canceled and not issued thereafter. When bonds of the district are issued and any portion of the proceeds of the sale are to be used to pay bond anticipation notes, such bonds shall mature not later than the maximum permissible years for such bonds as provided in Section 36195, with the maximum permissible maturity determined from the date of such notes as originally issued.

SEC. 12. Section 36408.8 is added to the Water Code, to read:

36408.8. A district may borrow money in anticipation of the sale of, but not in excess of the principal amount of, authorized bonds of an improvement district formed pursuant to this division which have not yet been sold and delivered, and for that purpose may issue and sell negotiable bond anticipation notes, and may refund such notes from time to time, but the maximum maturity of any such notes, as originally issued or as refunded, shall not exceed five years from the date of the original notes. The notes shall be sold in such manner as the board may determine, and such notes and the resolution providing for the issuance of such notes may contain any provision, condition or limitation which a bond, or any resolution or ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds, may contain. The interest on bond anticipation notes shall be payable at the time or times provided in such notes and may be represented by interest coupons attached to the notes and shall be payable from the same funds from which the interest on bonds of the improvement district are payable. The principal of such notes may be paid from any moneys of the improvement district available for such purpose. If such notes, or any portion thereof, have not been previously paid, they shall be paid from the proceeds of the next sale of bonds in anticipation of which the notes were issued. The resolution providing for the issuance of bond anticipation notes may contain a provision that, if for any reason bonds of the improvement district are not sold in time to provide funds to pay any unpaid note, and, if other funds of the improvement district are not available for such payment, ad valorem assessments shall be levied upon the assessable land in the improvement district for such payment in the same manner provided for the payment of bonds in such amount each year for such period of years as may be set forth in such resolution. To the extent bond anticipation notes are paid from such assessments, authorized bonds in a corresponding amount shall be canceled and not issued thereafter. When bonds of the improvement district are issued and any portion of the proceeds of the sale are to be used to pay bond anticipation notes, such bonds shall mature not later than the maximum permissible years for such bonds as provided in Section 36195, with the maximum permissible maturity determined from the date of such notes as originally issued.

SEC. 13. Section 36409 of the Water Code is amended to read:

36409. The provisions of this chapter shall constitute an addition to all other power of the district to borrow money, incur indebtedness, and issue warrants or negotiable notes in connection therewith, and shall not be deemed a restriction or limitation on such other power. A district may issue negotiable notes as provided in this chapter in lieu of the issuance of warrants of the district or for an improvement district as provided in this division.

(iii) The tax withheld on wages under Section 3402 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(3) Federal war profits and excess profits taxes.

(4) Estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes;

(5) Taxes computed as an addition to, or as a percentage of, taxes which are not deductible under this section;

(6) Taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this does not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of the taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

(7) Taxes on real property, to the extent that Section 17205 requires such taxes to be treated as imposed on another taxpayer.

(8) Taxes imposed by Sections 4971–4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to excise taxes on prohibited transactions and contributions).

SEC. 6.3. Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17204. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and Section 17205, the following taxes shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year within which paid or accrued:

(1) State and local, and foreign, real property taxes, less any amounts received from the state pursuant to the authorization contained in Section 16123 of the Government Code;

(2) State and local personal property taxes;

(3) State and local general sales taxes;

(4) State and local taxes on the sale of gasoline, diesel fuel, and other motor fuels;

(5) Real property transfer tax; and

In addition, there shall be allowed as a deduction state and local, and foreign, taxes not described in the preceding sentence which are paid or accrued within the taxable year in carrying on a trade or business or an activity described in Section 17252 (relating to expenses for production of income).

(b) For purposes of this section and Section 17205—

(1) The term "personal property tax" means an ad valorem tax which is imposed on an annual basis in respect of personal property, and for the purpose of allowing a deduction under this part, includes, but is not limited to, fees imposed as an excise tax under Section 10751 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

4 140 23 12 245 433

(2) (A) The term "general sales tax" means a tax imposed at one rate in respect of the sale at retail of a broad range of classes of items.

(B) In the case of items of food, clothing, medical supplies, and motor vehicles—

(i) The fact that the tax does not apply in respect of some or all of such items shall not be taken into account in determining whether the tax applies in respect of a broad range of classes of items, and

(ii) The fact that the rate of tax applicable in respect of some or all of such items is lower than the general rate of tax shall not be taken into account in determining whether the tax is imposed at one rate.

(C) Except in the case of a lower rate of tax applicable in respect of an item described in subparagraph (B), no deduction shall be allowed under this section for any general sales tax imposed in respect of an item at a rate other than the general rate of tax.

(D) A compensating use tax in respect of an item shall be treated as a general sales tax. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "compensating use tax" means, in respect of any item, a tax which—

(i) Is imposed on the use, storage, or consumption of such item, and

(ii) Is complementary to a general sales tax, but only if a deduction is allowable under subdivision (a) (3) in respect of items sold at retail in the taxing jurisdiction which are similar to such item.

(3) A state or local tax includes only a tax imposed by a state, a possession of the United States, or a political subdivision of any of the foregoing, or by the District of Columbia.

(4) A foreign tax includes only a tax imposed by the authority of a foreign country.

(5) If the amount of any general sales tax or of any tax on the sale of gasoline, diesel fuel, or other motor fuel is separately stated, then, to the extent that the amount so stated is paid by the consumer (otherwise than in connection with the consumer's trade or business) to his seller, such amount shall be treated as a tax imposed on, and paid by, such consumer.

(c) No deduction shall be allowed for the following taxes:

(1) Taxes paid or accrued to the state under this part;

(2) Taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the taxable year imposed by the authority of:

(A) The government of the United States or any foreign country;

(B) Any state, territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any state or territory;

(C) Taxes imposed by authority of the government of the United States include—

(i) The tax imposed by Section 3101 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (relating to the tax on employees under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act);

(ii) The taxes imposed by Sections 3201 and 3211 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (relating to the taxes on railroad employees and railroad employee representatives); and

(iii) The tax withheld on wages under Section 3402 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(3) Federal war profits and excess profits taxes.

(4) Estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes;

(5) Taxes computed as an addition to, or as a percentage of, taxes which are not deductible under this section;

(6) Taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this does not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of the taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

(7) Taxes on real property, to the extent that Section 17205 requires such taxes to be treated as imposed on another taxpayer.

(8) Taxes imposed by Sections 4971–4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to excise taxes on prohibited transactions and contributions).

SEC. 7. Section 17240 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17240. (a) In the case of an individual, there is allowed as a deduction amounts paid in cash during the taxable year by or on behalf of such individual for his benefit—

(1) To an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a).

(2) For an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b), or

(3) For a retirement bond described in Section 17530.1 (but only if the bond is not redeemed within 12 months of the date of its issuance).

For purposes of this title, any amount paid by an employer to such a retirement account or for such a retirement annuity or retirement bond constitutes payment of compensation to the employee (other than a self-employed individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a)) includible in his gross income, whether or not a deduction for such payment is allowable under this section to the employee after the application of subdivision (b).

(b) Limitations and Restrictions. (1) The amount allowable as a deduction under subdivision (a) to an individual for any taxable year may not exceed an amount equal to 15 percent of the compensation includible in his gross income for such taxable year, or one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), whichever is less.

(2) No deduction is allowed under subdivision (a) for an individual for the taxable year if for any part of such year—

(A) He was an active participant in—

(i) A plan described in Section 17501 which includes a trust exempt from tax under Section 17631,

(ii) An annuity plan described in Section 17511,

(iii) A qualified bond purchase plan described in Section

17526(a), or

(iv) A plan established for its employees by the United States, by a state or political division thereof, or by an agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing, or

(B) Amounts were contributed by his employer for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 (whether or not his rights in such contract are nonforfeitable).

(3) No deduction is allowed under subdivision (a) with respect to any payment described in subdivision (a) which is made during the taxable year of an individual who has attained age 70½ before the close of such taxable year.

(4) No deduction is allowed under this section with respect to a rollover contribution described in Section 17503(e), 17511(c), 17530(d)(3), or 17530.1(b)(3)(C).

(5) In the case of an endowment contract described in Section 17530(b), no deduction is allowed under subdivision (a) for that portion of the amounts paid under the contract for the taxable year properly allocable, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to the cost of life insurance.

(c) (1) For purposes of this section, the term "compensation" includes earned income as defined in Section 17502.2(b).

(2) In the case of married individuals the maximum deduction under subdivision (b)(1) shall be computed separately for each individual.

SEC. 8. Section 17501 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17501. A trust created or organized in the United States and forming part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries shall constitute a qualified trust under this article—

(a) If contributions are made to the trust by such employer, or employees, or both, or by another employer who is entitled to deduct his contributions under Section 17516(b) (relating to deduction for contributions to profit-sharing and stock bonus plans), for the purpose of distributing to such employees or their beneficiaries the corpus and income of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with such plan;

(b) If under the trust instrument it is impossible, at any time prior to the satisfaction of all liabilities with respect to employees and their beneficiaries under the trust, for any part of the corpus or income to be (within the taxable year or thereafter) used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries;

(c) If the plan of which such trust is a part satisfies the requirements of Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to minimum participation standards); and shareholders, or (3) highly compensated. For purposes of this subdivision, there shall be excluded from consideration employees described in Section 410(b)(2)(A) and (C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(e) A classification shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) or Section 410(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (without regard to paragraph (1)(A) thereof) merely because it excludes employees the whole of whose remuneration constitutes "wages" under Section 3121(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the Federal Insurance Contribution Act) or merely because it is limited to salaried or clerical employees. Neither shall a plan be considered discriminatory within the meaning of such provisions merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of the employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, or merely because the contributions or benefits based on that part of an employee's remuneration which is excluded from "wages" by Section 3121(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, or of the California Unemployment Insurance Act differ from the contributions or benefits based on employee's remuneration not so excluded, or differ because of any retirement benefits created under state or federal law.

For purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (j), the total compensation of an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) means such individual's earned income (as defined in Section 17502.2(b)), and the basic or regular rate of compensation of such an individual shall be determined, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, with respect to that portion of his earned income which bears the same ratio to his earned income as the basic or regular compensation of the employees under the plan bears to the total compensation of such employees. For purposes of determining whether two or more plans of an employer satisfy the requirements of subdivision (d) when considered as a single plan, if the amount of contributions on behalf of the employees allowed as a deduction under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, for the taxable year with respect to such plans, taken together, bears a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, the plans shall not be considered discriminatory merely because the rights of employees to, or derived from, the employer contributions under the separate plans do not become nonforfeitable at the same rate. For the purposes of determining whether two or more plans of an employer satisfy the requirements of subdivision (d) when considered as a single plan, if the employees' right to benefits under the separate plans do not become nonforfeitable at the same rate, but the levels of benefits provided by the separate plans satisfy the requirements of regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to take account of the differences in such rates, the plans shall not be considered discriminatory merely because of the difference in such rates.

(f) A plan shall be considered as meeting the requirements of subdivision (c) during the whole of any taxable year of the plan if on one day in each quarter it satisfied such requirements.

(g) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this section unless the plan of which such trust is a part satisfies the requirements of Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to minimum vesting standards).

(h) A trust forming part of a pension plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan provides that forfeitures must not be applied to increase the benefits any employee would otherwise receive under the plan.

(i) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a), a trust forming part of such plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless, under the plan, the entire interest of each employee—

(1) Either will be distributed to him not later than his taxable year in which he attains the age of 70½ years, or, in the case of an employee other than an owner-employee (as defined in Section 17502.2(c)), in which he retires, whichever is the later, or

(2) Will be distributed, commencing not later than such taxable year, (A) in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, over the life of such employee or over the lives of such employee and his spouse, or (B) in accordance with such regulations, over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such employee or the life expectancy of such employee and his spouse.

A trust shall not be disqualified under this subdivision by reason of distributions under a designation, prior to the date of the enactment of this subdivision, by any employee under the plan of which such trust is a part, of a method of distribution which does not meet the terms of the preceding sentence.

(j) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are owner-employees (as defined in Section 17502.2(c))—

(1) Subdivision (c), the first and second sentences of subdivision (e), and Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) shall not apply, but—

(A) Such plan shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, and

(B) Such plan shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) solely because under the plan contributions described in Section 17502.4 which are in excess of the amounts which may be deducted under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, for the taxable year may be made on behalf of any owner-employee;

(2) A trust forming a part of such plan shall constitute a qualified trust under this section only if the requirements in Section 17502.3 are also met.

(k) (1) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this section if the plan of which such trust is a part provides for the payment of benefits in the form of an annuity unless such plan provides for the payment of annuity benefits in a form having the effect of a qualified joint and survivor annuity.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1), in the case of a plan which provides for the payment of benefits before the normal retirement age (as defined in Section 411(a)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)), the plan is not required to provide for the payment of annuity benefits in a form having the effect of a qualified joint and survivor annuity during the period beginning on the date on which the employee enters into the plan as a participant and ending on the later of—

(A) The date the employee reaches the earliest retirement age under the plan, or

(B) The first day of the 120th month beginning before the date on which the employee reaches normal retirement age.

(3) A plan described in paragraph (2) does not meet the requirements of paragraph (1) unless, under the plan, a participant has a reasonable period during which he may elect the qualified joint and annuity form with respect to the period beginning on the date on which the period described in paragraph (2) ends and ending on the date on which he reaches normal retirement age (as defined in Section 411(a)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)) if he continues his employment during that period. A plan does not meet the requirements of this paragraph unless, in the case of such an election, the payments under the survivor annuity are not less than the payments which would have been made under the joint annuity to which the participant would have been entitled if he made an election described in this paragraph immediately prior to his retirement and if his retirement had occurred on the day before his death and within the period within which an election can be made.

(4) A plan shall not be treated as not satisfying the requirements of this subdivision solely because the spouse of the participant is not entitled to receive a survivor annuity (whether or not an election described in paragraph (3) has been made under paragraph (3)) unless the participant and his spouse have been married throughout the one-year period ending on the date of such participant's death.

(5) A plan shall not be treated as satisfying the requirements of this subdivision unless, under the plan, each participant has a reasonable period (as prescribed by the regulations of the Franchise Tax Board) before the annuity starting date during which he may elect in writing (after having received a written explanation of the terms and conditions of the joint and survivor annuity and the effect of an election under this paragraph) not to take such joint and survivor annuity.

(6) A plan shall not be treated as not satisfying the requirements of this subdivision solely because under the plan there is a provision that any election described in paragraph (3) or (5), and any revocation of any such election, does not become effective (or ceases to be effective) if the participant dies within a period (not in excess of two years) beginning on the date of such election or revocation, as the case may be. The preceding sentence does not apply unless the plan provision described in the preceding sentence also provides that such an election or revocation will be given effect in any case in which—

(A) The participant dies from accidental causes,

(B) A failure to give effect to the election or revocation would deprive the participant's survivor of a survivor annuity, and

(C) Such election or revocation is made before such accident occurred.

(7) For purposes of this subdivision—

(A) The term "annuity starting date" means the first day of the first period for which an amount is received as an annuity (whether by reason of retirement or by reason of disability),

(B) The term "earliest retirement age" means the earliest date on which, under the plan, the participant could elect to receive retirement benefits, and

(C) The term "qualified joint and survivor annuity" means an annuity for the life of the participant with a survivor annuity for the life of his spouse which is not less than one-half of, or greater than, the amount of the annuity payable during the joint lives of the participant and his spouse and which is the actuarial equivalent of a single life annuity for the life of the participant.

For purposes of this subdivision, a plan may take into account in any equitable manner (as determined by the Franchise Tax Board) any increased costs resulting from providing joint and survivor annuity benefits.

(8) This subdivision shall apply only if—

(A) The annuity starting date did not occur before the effective date of this subdivision, and

(B) The participant was an active participant in the plan on or after such effective date.

(l) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that in the case of any merger or consolidation with, or transfer of assets or liabilities to, any other plan after the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), each participant in the plan would (if the plan then terminated) receive a benefit immediately after the merger, consolidation, or transfer which is equal to or greater than the benefit he would have been entitled to receive immediately before the merger, consolidation, or transfer which is equal to or greater than the benefit he would have been entitled to receive immediately before the merger, consolidation, or transfer (if the plan had then terminated). This subdivision shall apply in the case of a multiemployer plan only to the extent determined by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.

(m) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that benefits provided under the plan may not be assigned or alienated. For purposes of the preceding sentence, there shall not be taken into account any voluntary and revocable assignment of not to exceed 10 percent of any benefit payment made by any participant who is receiving benefits under the plan unless the assignment or alienation is made for purposes of defraying plan administration costs. For purposes of this subdivision a loan made to a participant or beneficiary shall not be treated as an assignment or alienation if such loan is secured by the participant's accrued nonforfeitable benefit and is exempt from the tax imposed by Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to tax on prohibited transactions) by reason of Section 4975(d)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406). This paragraph shall take effect on January 1, 1976, and shall not apply to assignments which were irrevocable on the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(n) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that, unless the participant otherwise elects, the payment of benefits under the plan to the participant will begin not later than the 60th day after the latest of the close of the plan year in which—

(1) The date on which the participant attains the earlier of age 65 or the normal retirement age specified under the plan,

(2) Occurs the 10th anniversary of the year in which the participant commenced participation in the plan, or

(3) The participant terminates his service with the employer. In the case of a plan which provides for the payment of an early retirement benefit, a trust forming a part of such plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless a participant who satisfied the service requirements for such early retirement benefit, but separated from the service (with any nonforfeitable right to an accrued benefit) before satisfying the age requirement for such early retirement benefit, is entitled upon satisfaction of such age requirement to receive a benefit not less than the benefit to which he would be entitled at the normal retirement age, actuarially reduced under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(o) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless under the plan of which such trust is a part—

(1) In the case of a participant or beneficiary who is receiving benefits under such plan, or

(2) In the case of a participant who is separated from the service and who has nonforfeitable rights to benefits, such benefits are not decreased by reason of any increase in the benefit levels payable under Title II of the Social Security Act or any increase in the wage base under such Title II, if such increase takes place after the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) or (if later) the earlier of the date of first receipt of such benefits or the date of such separation, as the case may be.

(p) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article if the plan of which such trust is a part provides for benefits or contributions which exceed the limitations of Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(q) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2, only if the annual compensation of each employee taken into account under the plan does not exceed the first one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of such compensation.

(r) In the case of a trust which is part of a plan providing a defined benefit for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2, only if such plan satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.9.

(s) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article if under the plan of which such trust is a part any part of a participant's accrued benefit derived from employer contributions (whether or not otherwise nonforfeitable), is forfeitable solely because of withdrawal by such participant of any amount attributable to the benefit derived from contributions made by such participant. The preceding sentence shall not apply to the accrued benefit of any participant unless, at the time of such withdrawal, such participant has a nonforfeitable right to at least 50 percent of such accrued benefit (as determined under Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406). The first sentence of this paragraph shall not apply to the extent that an accrued benefit is permitted to be forfeited in accordance with Section 411(a)(3)(D)(iii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to proportional forfeitures of benefits accrued before enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), in the event of withdrawal of certain mandatory contributions).

Subdivisions (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), and (s) shall apply only in the case of a plan to which Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to minimum vesting standards) applies without regard to subsection (e) (2) of such section.

SEC. 9. Section 17502 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 17502 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17502. A stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan shall be considered as satisfying the requirements of Section 17501 for the period beginning with the date on which it was put into effect, or for the period beginning with the earlier of the date on which there was adopted or put into effect any amendment which caused the plan to fail to satisfy such requirements, and ending with the time prescribed by law for filing the return of the employer for his taxable year in which such plan or amendment was adopted (including extensions thereof) or such later time as the Franchise Tax Board may designate, if all provisions of the plan which are necessary to satisfy such requirements are in effect by the end of such period and have been made effective for all purposes for the whole of such period.

SEC. 11. Section 17502.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17502.3. A trust forming part of a pension or profit-sharing plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are owner-employees shall constitute a qualified trust under this article only if, in addition to meeting the requirements of Section 17501, the following requirements of this section are met by the trust and by the plan of which such trust is a part:

(a) In the case of a trust which is created on or after November 10, 1969, or which was created before such date but is not exempt from tax under Section 17631 as an organization described in Section 17501 on the day before such date, the assets thereof are held by a bank or other person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the manner in which he will administer the trust will be consistent with the requirements of this article. A trust shall not be disqualified under this subdivision merely because a person (including the employer) other than the trustee or custodian so administering the trust may be granted, under the trust instrument, the power to control the investment of the trust funds either by directing investments (including reinvestments, disposals, and exchanges) or by disapproving proposed investments (including reinvestments, disposals, or exchanges). This subdivision shall not apply to a trust created or organized outside the United States before November 10, 1969, if, under Section 17505, it is treated as exempt from tax under Section 17631 on the day before such date; or, to the extent provided under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax

Board, to a trust which uses annuity, endowment, or life insurance contracts of a life insurance company exclusively to fund the benefits prescribed by the trust, if the life insurance company supplies annually such information about trust transactions affecting owner-employees as the Franchise Tax Board shall by forms or regulations prescribe. For purposes of this section, the term "bank" means a bank as defined in Section 581 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, an insured credit union (within the meaning of Section 101(6) of the Federal Credit Union Act), a corporation which under the laws of the state of its incorporation is subject to supervision and examination by the commissioner of banking or other officer of such state in charge of the administration of the banking laws of such state, and, in the case of a trust created or organized outside the United States, a bank or trust company, wherever incorporated, exercising fiduciary powers and subject to supervision and examination by governmental authority.

(b) Under the plan—

(1) The employees' rights to or derived from the contributions under the plan are nonforfeitable at the time the contributions are paid to or under the plan; and

(2) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, there is a definite formula for determining the contributions to be made by the employer on behalf of employees (other than owner-employees).

Subdivision (b)(1) shall not apply to contributions which, under provisions of the plan adopted pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to preclude the discrimination prohibited by Section 17501(d), may not be used to provide benefits for designated employees in the event of early termination of the plan.

(c) (1) The plan benefits each employee having three or more years of service (within the meaning of Section 410(a)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "employee" does not include—

(A) Any employee included in a unit of employees covered by a collective-bargaining agreement described in Section 410(b)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), and

(B) Any employee who is a nonresident alien individual described in Section 410(b)(2)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(d) Under the plan—

(1) Contributions or benefits are not provided for any owner-employee unless such owner-employee has consented to being included under the plan; and

(2) No benefits in excess of contributions made by an owner-employee as an employee may be paid to any owner-employee except in the case of his becoming disabled (within the meaning of Section 17112.5), prior to his attaining the age of 59½ years.

(e) The plan does not permit—

(1) Contributions to be made by the employer on behalf of any owner-employee in excess of the amounts which may be deducted under Sections 17513 to 17525, inclusive, for the taxable year;

(2) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits only for owner-employees, contributions to be made on behalf of any owner-employee in excess of the amounts which may be deducted under Sections 17513 to 17525, inclusive, for the taxable year; and

(3) If a distribution under the plan is made to any employee and if any portion of such distribution is an amount described in Section 17112.5, contributions to be made on behalf of such employee for the five taxable years succeeding the taxable year in which such distribution is made.

Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply to contributions described in Section 17502.4.

(f) Except as provided in this subdivision, the plan meets the requirements of Section 17501(d) without taking into account for any purpose contributions or benefits under Chapter 2 (relating to tax on self-employment income) and Chapter 21 (relating to Federal Insurance Contributions Act) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Title II of the Social Security Act, as amended, or any other federal or state law. If—

(1) Of the contributions deductible under Sections 17513 to 17525, inclusive, not more than one-third is deductible by reason of contributions by the employer on behalf of owner-employees, and

(2) Taxes paid by the owner-employees under Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (relating to tax on self-employment income), and the taxes which would be payable under such Chapter 2 by the owner-employees but for paragraphs (4) and (5) of Section 1402(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, are taken into account as contributions by the employer on behalf of such owner-employees, then taxes paid under Section 3111 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (relating to tax on employers) with respect to an employee may, for purposes of Section 17501(d), be taken into account as contributions by the employer for such employee under the plan.

(g) Under the plan, if an owner-employee dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced in accordance with Section 17501(i)(2) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before his entire interest has been distributed to such surviving spouse, his entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of his surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence shall not apply if distribution of the interest of an owner-employee has commenced and such distribution is for a term certain over a period permitted under Section 17501(i)(2)(B).

(h) (1) If the plan provides contributions or benefits for an owner-employee who controls, or for two or more owner-employees who together control, the trade or business with respect to which the plan is established, and who also control as an owner-employee or as owner-employees one or more other trades or businesses, such plan and the plans established with respect to such other trades or businesses, when coalesced, constitute a single plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501 (including subdivision (i) thereof) and of this section with respect to the employees of all such trades or businesses (including the trade or business with respect to which the plan intended to qualify under this section is established).

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), an owner-employee, or two or more owner-employees, shall be considered to control a trade or business if such owner-employee, or such two or more owner-employees together—

(A) Own the entire interest in an unincorporated trade or business, or

(B) In the case of a partnership, own more than 50 percent of either the capital interest or the profits interest in such partnership.

For purposes of the preceding sentence, an owner-employee, or two or more owner-employees, shall be treated as owning any interest in a partnership which is owned, directly or indirectly, by a partnership which such owner-employee, or such two or more owner-employees, are considered to control within the meaning of the preceding sentence.

(i) The plan does not provide contributions or benefits for any owner-employee who controls (within the meaning of subdivision (h)(2)), or for two or more owner-employees who together control, as an owner-employee or as owner-employees, any other trade or business, unless the employees of each trade or business which such owner-employee or such owner-employees control are included under a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501 (including subdivision (j) thereof) and of this section, and provides contributions and benefits for employees which are not less favorable than contributions and benefits provided for owner-employees under the plan.

(j) Under the plan, contributions on behalf of any owner-employee may be made only with respect to the earned income of such owner-employee which is derived from the trade or business with respect to which such plan is established.

SEC. 12. Section 17502.4 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 17502.4 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17502.4. A contribution by the employer on behalf of an owner-employee is described in this section if—

(a) Under the plan such contribution is required to be applied (directly or through a trustee) to pay premiums or other consideration for one or more annuity, endowment, or life insurance contracts on the life of such owner-employee issued under the plan.

(b) The amount of such contribution exceeds the amount deductible under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, with respect to contributions made by the employer on behalf of such owner-employee under the plan, and

(c) The amount of such contribution does not exceed the average of the amounts which were deductible under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, with respect to contributions made by the employer on behalf of such owner-employee under the plan (or which would have been deductible if such section had been in effect) for the first three taxable years preceding the year in which the last such annuity, endowment, or life insurance contract was issued under the plan, and in which such owner-employee derived earned income from the trade or business with respect to which the plan is established, or for so many of such taxable years as such owner-employee was engaged in such trade or business and derived earned income therefrom.

In the case of any individual on whose behalf contributions described in subdivision (a) are made under more than one plan as an owner-employee during any taxable year, the preceding sentence does not apply if the amount of such contributions under all such plans for all such years exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

SEC. 14. Section 17502.4a of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 17502.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 16. Section 17502.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17502.5. For purposes of this part, a custodial account or an annuity contract shall be treated as a qualified trust under this article if—

(a) The custodial account or annuity contract would, except for the fact that it is not a trust, constitute a qualified trust under this article, and

(b) In the case of a custodial account the assets thereof are held by a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a)) or another person who demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, that the manner in which he will hold the assets will be consistent with the requirements of this article.

For purposes of this part, in the case of a custodial account or annuity contract treated as a qualified trust under this article by reason of this section, the person holding the assets of such account or holding such contract shall be treated as the trustee thereof.

SEC. 17. Section 17502.9 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17502.9. (a) A defined benefit plan satisfies the requirements of this section only if the basic benefit accruing under the plan for each plan year of participation by an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) is permissible under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board under this section to insure that there will be reasonable comparability (assuming level funding) between the maximum retirement benefits which may be provided with favorable tax treatment under this part for such employees under—

(1) Defined contribution plans,

(2) Defined benefit plans, and

(3) A combination of defined contribution plans and defined benefit plans.

(b) The regulations prescribed under this section shall provide that a plan does not satisfy the requirements of this section if, under the plan, the basic benefit of any employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) may exceed the sum of the products for each plan year of participation of—

(1) His annual compensation (not in excess of $50,000) for such year, and

(2) The applicable percentage determined under subdivision (c).

(c) (1) Table. For purposes of subdivision (b), the applicable percentage for any individual for any plan year shall be based on the percentage shown on the following table opposite his age when his current period of participation in the plan began.

Age when participation began:	Applicable percentage
30 or less	6.5
35	5.4
40	4.4
45	3.6
50	3.0
55	2.5
60 or over	2.0

(2) The regulations prescribed under this section shall include provisions—

(A) For applicable percentages for ages between any two ages shown on the table,

(B) For adjusting the applicable percentages in the case of plans providing benefits other than a basic benefit,

(C) That any increase in the rate of accrual, and any increase in the compensation base which may be taken into account, shall, with respect only to such increase, begin a new period of participation in the plan, and

(D) When appropriate, in the case of periods beginning after December 31, 1977, for adjustments in the applicable percentages based on changes in prevailing interest and mortality rates occurring after 1973.

(d) A defined benefit plan which provides contributions or benefits for owner-employees does not satisfy the requirements of this section unless such plan meets the requirements of Section 17501(d) without taking into account contributions or benefits under Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (relating to tax on self-employment income), Chapter 21 (relating to Federal Insurance Contributions Act), Title II of the Social Security Act, or any other federal or state law.

(e) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "basic benefit" means a benefit in the form of a straight life annuity commencing at the later of—

(A) Age 65, or

(B) The day five years after the day the participant's current period of participation began—

Under a plan which provides no ancillary benefits and to which employees do not contribute.

(2) The term "compensation" means in the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) the earned income of such individual.

(f) Section 17524 (relating to special limitations for self-employed individuals) does not apply to a trust to which this section applies.

SEC. 18. Section 17503 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17503. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee by any employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 shall be taxable to him, in the year in which so distributed or made available, under Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities). The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee shall not include net unrealized appreciation in securities of the employer corporation attributable to the amount contributed by the employee. Such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of such securities shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) In the case of an employees' trust described in Section 17501, which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, if the total distributions payable with respect to any employee are paid to the distributee within one taxable year of the distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of the death of the employee after his separation from the service, the amount of such distribution, to the extent exceeding the amount contributed by the employee (determined by applying Section 17106), which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amount theretofore distributed to him which were not includable in gross income, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than five years.

Where such total distributions include securities of the employer corporation, there shall be excluded from such excess the net unrealized appreciation attributable to that part of the total distributions which consists of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed. The amount of such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

This subdivision shall not apply to distributions paid to any distributee to the extent such distributions are attributable to contributions made on behalf of the employee while he was an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2.

(c) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "securities" means only shares of stock and bonds or debentures issued by a corporation with interest coupons or in registered form.

(2) The term "securities of the employer corporation" includes securities of a parent or subsidiary corporation (as defined in subdivisions (e) and (f) of Section 17535) of the employer corporation.

(3) The term "total distributions payable" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to a distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of his death after separation from the service.

(4) The term "employee contributions," as used in this section, means the amounts contributed by the employee (determined by applying Section 17106), which employee contributions shall be reduced by amounts theretofore distributed to him which were not includable in gross income.

(d) The first sentence of subdivision (b) shall apply to a distribution paid after December 31, 1969, only to the extent that it does not exceed the sum of—

(1) The benefits accrued by the employee on behalf of whom it is paid during plan years beginning before January 1, 1970, and

(2) The portion of the benefits accrued by such employee during plan years beginning after December 31, 1969, which the distributee establishes does not consist of the employee's allocable share of employer contributions to the trust by which such distribution is paid.

The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this subdivision.

(e) In the case of an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, if—

(1) The balance to the credit of an employee is paid to him—

(A) Within one taxable year of the employee on account of a termination of the plan of which the trust is a part or a complete discontinuance of contributions under such plan, or

(B) In one or more distributions which constitute a lump-sum distribution within the meaning of Section 402(e)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (determined without reference to subsection (e)(4)(B)).

(2) (A) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract), or a retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property, to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the employee contributions as defined in subparagraph (4) of subdivision (c), or

(B) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or to an annuity plan described in Section 17511 on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property, to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the employee contributions as defined in subparagraph (4) of subdivision (c) and

(3) The amount so transferred consists of the property (other than money) distributed, to the extent that the fair market value of such property does not exceed the amount required to be transferred pursuant to paragraph (2), then such distributions are not includable in gross income for the year in which paid. For purposes of this part, a transfer described in paragraph (2)(A) shall be treated as a rollover contribution as described in Section 17530(d)(3). Paragraph (2)(B) does not apply in the case of a transfer to an employees' trust, or annuity plan if any part of a payment described in paragraph (1) is attributable to a trust forming part of a plan under which the employee was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan.

For purposes of paragraph (1)(A), a complete discontinuance of contributions under a plan shall be deemed to occur on the day the plan administrator notifies the Secretary of the Treasury (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the secretary) that all contributions to the plan have been completely discontinued.

SEC. 19. Section 17511 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17511. Except as provided in subdivision (a), if an annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17515 (whether or not the employer deducts the amounts paid for the contract under such section), the employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities).

(a) If—

(1) An annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan described in the first paragraph;

(2) Such plan requires that refunds of contributions with respect to annuity contracts purchased under such plan be used to reduce subsequent premiums on the contracts under the plan; and

(3) The total amounts payable by reason of an employee's death or other separation from the service, or by reason of the death of an employee after the employee's separation from the service, are paid to the payee within one taxable year of the payee, then the amount of such payments, to the extent exceeding the amount contributed by the employee, which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amounts theretofore paid to him which were not includable in gross income, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than six months. This subdivision shall not apply to amounts paid to any payee to the extent such amounts are attributable to contributions made on behalf of the employee while he was an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the term "total amounts" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to the payee by reason of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or by reason of his death after separation from the service.

(c) Subdivision (a) shall apply to a payment paid after December 31, 1969, only to the extent it does not exceed the sum of—

(1) The benefits accrued by the employee on behalf of whom it is paid during plan years beginning before January 1, 1970, and

(2) The portion of the benefits accrued by such employee during plan years beginning after December 31, 1969, which the payee establishes does not consist of the employee's allocable share of employer contributions under the plan under which the annuity contract is purchased.

The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this subdivision.

(d) For purposes of this section, the term "employee" includes an individual who is an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2, and the employer of such individual is the person treated as his employer under subdivision (d) of Section 17502.2.

(e) In the case of an employee annuity described in this section, if—

(1) The balance to the credit of an employee is paid to him—

(A) Within one taxable year of the employee on account of a termination of the plan of which such trust is a part or a complete discontinuance of contributions under such plan, or

(B) In one or more distributions which constitutes a lump sum distribution within the meaning of Section 402(e)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (determined without reference to subsection (e)(4)(B))

(2) (A) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an individual account described in Section 17530(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract), or a retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the amount referred to in Section 17503(c)(4), or

(B) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or to an annuity plan described in this section on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the amount referred to in Section 17503(c)(4), and

(3) The amount so transferred consists of the property distributed to the extent that the fair market value of such property does not exceed the amount required to be transferred pursuant to paragraph (2), then such distribution is not includable in gross income for the year in which paid. For purposes of this part, a transfer described in paragraph (2)(A) shall be treated as a rollover contribution described in Section 17530(d). Subparagraph (2)(B) does not apply in the case of a transfer to an employees' trust, or annuity plan if any part of a payment described in paragraph (1) is attributable to an annuity plan under which the employee was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan.

For purposes of paragraph (1)(A), a complete discontinuance of contributions under a plan shall be deemed to occur on the day the plan administrator notifies the Secretary of the Treasury (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the secretary) that all contributions to the plan have been completely discontinued.

SEC. 20. Section 17512 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17512. (a) (1) If—

(A) An annuity contract is purchased—

(i) For an employee by an employer described in Section 23701d which is exempt from tax under Section 23701, or

(ii) For an employee (other than an employee described in clause (i) of subparagraph (A)), who performs services for an educational institution (as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 17150), by an employer which is a state, a political subdivision of a state, or an agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing,

(B) Such annuity contract is not subject to Section 17511, and

(C) The employee's rights under the contract are nonforfeitable, except for failure to pay future premiums, then amounts contributed by such employer for such annuity contract on or after such rights become nonforfeitable shall be excluded from the gross income of the employee for the taxable year to the extent that the aggregate of such amounts does not exceed the exclusion allowance for such taxable year. The employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive.

(2) For purposes of this section, the exclusion allowance for any employee for the taxable year is an amount equal to the excess, if any, of—

(A) The amount determined by multiplying 20 percent of his includable compensation by the number of years of service, over

(B) The aggregate of the amounts contributed by the employer for annuity contracts and excludable from the gross income of the employee for any prior taxable year.

(3) In the case of an employee who makes an election under Section 415(c)(4)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) to have the provisions of Section 415(c)(4)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to special rule for contracts purchased by educational institutions, hospitals, and home health service agencies) apply, the exclusion allowance for any such employee for the taxable year is the amount which could be contributed (under Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)) by his employer under a plan described in Section 17511 if the annuity contract for the benefit of such employee were treated as a defined contribution plan maintained by the employer.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "includable compensation" means, in the case of any employee, the amount of compensation which is received from the employer described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), and which is includable in gross income (computed without regard to subdivision (d) of Section 17139 and Section 17529) for the most recent period (ending not later than the close of the taxable year) which under paragraph (4) may be counted as one year of service. Such term does not include any amount contributed by the employer for any annuity contract to which this section applies.

(5) In determining the number of years of service for purposes of this section, there shall be included—

(A) One year for each full year during which the individual was a full-time employee of the organization purchasing the annuity for him, and

(B) A fraction of a year (determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) for each full year during which such individual was a part-time employee of such organization and for each part of a year during which such individual was a full-time or part-time employee of such organization.

In no case shall the number of years of service be less than one.

(6) If for any taxable year of the employee this section applies to two or more annuity contracts purchased by the employer, such contracts shall be treated as one contract.

(7) For purposes of this section and Section 17106 (relating to special rules for computing employees' contributions to annuity contracts), if rights of the employee under an annuity contract described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) change from forfeitable to nonforfeitable rights, then the amount (determined without regard to this subdivision) includable in gross income by reason of such change shall be treated as an amount contributed by the employer for such annuity contract as of the time such rights become nonforfeitable.

(8) (A) For purposes of this part, amounts paid by an employer described in paragraph (1) (A) to a custodial account which satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.5(b) shall be treated as amounts contributed by him for an annuity contract for his employee if the amounts are paid to provide a retirement benefit for that employee and are to be invested in regulated investment company stock to be held in that custodial account.

(B) For purposes of this part, a custodial account which satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.5(b) shall be treated as an organization described in Section 17501 solely for purposes of Sections 17631 to 17651, inclusive, with respect to amounts received by it (and income from investment thereof).

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "regulated investment company" means a domestic corporation which is a regulated investment company within the meaning of Section 851 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and which issues only redeemable stock.

(b) Premiums paid by an employer for an annuity contract which is not subject to Section 17511 shall be included in the gross income of the employee in accordance with Section 17122.7 (relating to property transferred in connection with performance of services), except that the value of such contract shall be substituted for the fair market value of the property for purposes of applying such section. The preceding sentence shall not apply to that portion of the premiums paid which is excluded from gross income under subdivision (a). The amount actually paid or made available to any beneficiary under such contract shall be taxable to him in the year in which so paid or made available under Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities).

SEC. 21. Section 17514 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 17514 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17514. (a) In the taxable year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a pension trust, and if such taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Section 17631, in an amount determined as follows:

(1) The amount necessary to satisfy the minimum funding standard provided by Section 412(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) for plan years ending within or with such taxable year (or for any prior plan year), if such amount is greater than the amount determined under paragraph (2) or (3) (whichever is applicable with respect to the plan).

(2) The amount necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount, or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, but if such remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 percent of such remaining unfunded cost, the amount of such unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five taxable years.

(3) An amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, plus, if past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount necessary to amortize such credits in equal annual payments (until fully amortized) over 10 years, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

In determining the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations the funding method and the actuarial assumptions used shall be those used for such year under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) and the maximum amount deductible for such year shall be an amount equal to the full funding limitation for such year determined under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(b) In the case of a plan which the Secretary of Labor finds to be collectively bargained which makes an election under this subdivision (in such manner and at such time as may be provided under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board), if the full funding limitation determined under Section 412(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) for such year is zero, if as a result of any plan amendment applying to such plan year, the amount determined under Section 412(c)(7)(B) exceeds the amount determined under Section 412(c)(7)(A), and if the funding method and the actual assumptions used are those used for such year under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), the maximum amount deductible in such year under the limitations of this section shall be an amount equal to the lesser of—

(1) The full funding limitation for such year determined by applying Section 412(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) but increasing the amount referred to in subparagraph (A) thereof by the decrease in the present value of all unamortized liabilities resulting from such amendment, or

(2) The normal cost under the plan reduced by the amount necessary to amortize in equal annual installments over 10 years (until fully amortized) the decrease described in paragraph (1).

In the case of any election under this subdivision, the amount deductible under the limitations of this section with respect to any of the plan years following the plan year for which such election was made shall be determined as provided under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to carry out the purposes of this subdivision.

(c) In the case of a plan which the Secretary of Labor finds to be collectively bargained, established or maintained by an employer doing business in not less than 40 states and engaged in the trade or business of furnishing or selling services described in Section 167(1)(3)(A)(iii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, with respect to which the rates have been established or approved by a state or political subdivision thereof, by any agency or instrumentality of the United States, or by a public service or public utility commission or other similar body of any state or political subdivision thereof, and in the case of any employer which is a member of a controlled group with such employer, subdivision (b) shall be applied by substituting for the words "plan amendment" the words "plan amendment or increase in benefits payable under Title II of the Social Security Act." For purposes of this subdivision, the term "controlled group" has the meaning provided by Section 1563(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 determined without regard to Section 1563(a)(4) and (e)(3)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(d) Any amount paid in a taxable year in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for such year under the foregoing limitations.

SEC. 23. Section 17515 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17515. A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, in an amount determined in accordance with Section 17514, if the contributions are paid toward the purchase of retirement annuities and such purchase is part of a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17501(c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), (r), and (s), and, if applicable, the requirements of Section 17501(i), (j), (q) and (r) and of Section 17502.3 (other than subdivision (a)), and if refunds of premiums, if any, are applied within the current taxable year or next succeeding taxable year towards the purchase of such retirement annuities.

SEC. 24. Section 17516 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17516. (a) A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if such taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Section 17631, in an amount not in excess of 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan. If in any taxable year there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under the preceding sentence, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible, shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any such succeeding taxable year shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such succeeding taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one succeeding taxable year together with the amount so deductible under the first sentence of this subdivision shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in any taxable year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan. The term "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust," as used in this section, shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially as provided in Section 17514. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, such trusts shall be considered a single trust for purposes of applying the limitations in this section.

(b) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, or a stock bonus plan in which contributions are determined with reference to profits, of a group of corporations which is an affiliated group within the meaning of Section 1504 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if any member of such affiliated group is prevented from making a contribution which it would otherwise have made under the plan, by reason of having no current or accumulated earnings or profits or because such earnings or profits are less than the contributions which it would otherwise have made, then so much of the contribution which such member was so prevented from making may be made, for the benefit of the employees of such member, by the other members of the group, to the extent of current or accumulated earnings or profits, except that such contribution by each such other member shall be limited, where the group does not file a consolidated return, to that proportion of its total current and accumulated earnings or profits remaining after adjustment for its contribution deductible without regard to this subdivision which the total prevented contribution bears to the total current and accumulated earnings or profits of all the members of the group remaining after adjustment for all contributions deductible without regard to this subdivision. Contributions made under the preceding sentence shall be deductible under subdivision (a) of this section by the employer making such contributions, and, for the purpose of determining amounts which may be carried forward and deducted under the second sentence of subdivision (a) of this section in succeeding taxable years, shall be deemed to have been made by the employer on behalf of whose employees such contributions were made.

SEC. 25. Section 17519 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

In addition,

any amount paid into such trust or under such annuity plans in any taxable year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such taxable years to the beneficiaries under the trusts or plans. If for the period (or part thereof) referred to in clauses (ii) and (iii) such corporation has no gross income, the provisions of clauses (ii) and (iii) shall be treated as satisfied if it is reasonable to anticipate that, with respect to the first taxable year thereafter for which such corporation has gross income, the provisions of such clauses will be satisfied.

(1) The corporation of which such individual is an employee ceases, for any taxable year, to be a domestic subsidiary within the meaning of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a),

(2) Such individual ceases to be an employee of a domestic subsidiary of such domestic parent corporation, if he becomes an employee of another corporation controlled by such domestic parent corporation, or

(3) Any reference to compensation shall be considered to be a reference to the total compensation of such individual (determined with the application of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b)).

no contribution will be accepted unless it is in cash, and contributions will not be accepted for the taxable year in excess of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) on behalf of any individual.

(2) The trustee is a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a) or such other person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the manner in which such other person will administer the trust will be consistent with the requirements of this section.

(3) No part of the trust funds will be invested in life insurance contracts.

(4) The interest of an individual in the balance in his account is nonforfeitable.

(5) The assets of the trust will not be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund.

(6) The entire interest of an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, commencing before the close of such taxable year, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, over—

(A) The life of such individual or the lives of such individual and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such individual or the life expectancy of such individual and his spouse.

(7) If an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (6) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence does not apply if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the individual for whose benefit the trust was maintained and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (6).

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "individual retirement annuity" means an annuity contract, or an endowment contract (as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board), issued by an insurance company which meets the following requirements:

(1) The contract is not transferable by the owner.

(2) The annual premium under the contract will not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) and any refund of premiums will be applied before the close of the calendar year following the year of the refund toward the payment of future premiums or the purchase of additional benefits.

(3) The entire interest of the owner will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board over—

(A) The life of such owner or the lives of such owner and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such owner or the life expectancy of such owner and his spouse.

(4) If the owner dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (3) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence shall have no application if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the owner and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (3).

(5) The entire interest of the owner is nonforfeitable. Such term does not include such an annuity contract for any taxable year of the owner in which it is disqualified on the application of subdivision (e) or for any subsequent taxable year. For purposes of this subdivision, no contract shall be treated as an endowment contract if it matures later than the taxable year in which the individual in whose name such contract is purchased attains age 70½; if it is not for the exclusive benefit of the individual in whose name it is purchased or his beneficiaries; or if the aggregate annual premiums under all such contracts purchased in the name of such individual for any taxable year exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

(c) A trust created or organized in the United States by an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries, or by an association of employees (which may include employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a)) for the exclusive benefit of its members or their beneficiaries, shall be treated as an individual retirement account (described in subdivision (a)), but only if the written governing instrument creating the trust meets the following requirements:

(1) The trust satisfies the requirements of paragraphs (1) through (7) of subdivision (a).

(2) There is a separate accounting for the interest of each employee or member.

The assets of the trust may be held in a common fund for the account of all individuals who have an interest in the trust.

(d) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity shall be included in gross income by the payee or distributee, as the case may be, for the taxable year in which the payment or distribution is received. The basis of any person in such an account or annuity is zero.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any annuity contract which meets the requirements of paragraphs (1), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (b) and which is distributed from an individual retirement account. Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, apply to any such annuity contract, and for purposes of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, the investment in such contract is zero.

(3) An amount is described in this paragraph as a rollover contribution if it meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B).

(A) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit the account or annuity is maintained if—

(i) The entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity (other than an endowment contract) or retirement bond for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the day on which he receives the payment or distribution; or

(ii) The entire amount received (including money and other property) represents the entire amount in the account or the entire value of the annuity and no amount in the account and no part of the value of the annuity is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 (other than a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan), or an annuity plan described in Section 17511 (other than a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan) and any earnings on such sums and the entire amount thereof is paid into another such trust (for the benefit of such individual) or annuity plan not later than the 60th day on which he receives the payment or distribution.

(B) This paragraph does not apply to any amount described in subparagraph (A)(i) received by an individual from an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity if at any time during the three-year period ending on the day of such receipt such individual received any other amount described in that subparagraph from an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or a retirement bond which was not includible in his gross income because of the application of this paragraph.

(4) Paragraph (1) does not apply to the distribution of any contribution paid during a taxable year to an individual retirement account or for an individual retirement annuity to the extent that such contribution exceeds the amount allowable as a deduction under Section 17237 if—

(A) Such distribution is received on or before the day prescribed by law (including extensions of time) for filing such individual's return for such taxable year.

(B) No deduction is allowed under Section 17237 with respect to such excess contribution, and

(C) Such distribution is accompanied by the amount of net income attributable to such excess contribution.

Any net income described in subparagraph (C) shall be included in the gross income of the individual for the taxable year in which received.

(5) The transfer of an individual's interest in an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or retirement bond to his former spouse under a divorce decree or under a written instrument incident to such divorce is not to be considered a taxable transfer made by such individual notwithstanding any other provision of this part, and such interest at the time of the transfer is to be treated as an individual retirement account of such spouse, and not of such individual. Thereafter such account, annuity, or bond for purposes of this part is to be treated as maintained for the benefit of such spouse.

(e) (1) Any individual retirement account is exempt from taxation under this part unless such account has ceased to be an individual retirement account by reason of paragraph (2) or (3). Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, any such account is subject to the taxes imposed by Section 17651 (relating to imposition of tax on unrelated business income of charitable, etc. organizations).

(2) (A) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit any individual retirement account is established, that individual or his beneficiary engages in any transaction prohibited by Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) with respect to such account, such account ceases to be an individual retirement account as of the first day of such taxable year. For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) The individual for whose benefit any account was established is treated as the creator of such account and

(ii) The separate account for any individual within an individual retirement account maintained by an employer or association of employees is treated as a separate individual retirement account.

(B) In any case in which any account ceases to be an individual retirement account by reason of subparagraph (A) as of the first day of any taxable year, paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) applies as if there were a distribution on such first day in an amount equal to the fair market value (on such first day) of all assets in the account (on such first day).

(3) If during any taxable year the owner of an individual retirement annuity borrows any money under or by use of such contract, the contract ceases to be an individual retirement annuity as of the first day of such taxable year. Such owner shall include in gross income for such year an amount equal to the fair market value of such contract as of such first day.

(4) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit an individual retirement account is established, that individual uses the account or any portion thereof as security for a loan, the portion so used is treated as distributed to that individual.

(5) If the assets of an individual retirement account or any part of such assets are used to purchase an endowment contract for the benefit of the individual for whose benefit the account is established—

(A) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are not attributable to the purchase of life insurance, the purchase is treated as a rollover contribution described in subdivision (d) (3), and

(B) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are attributable to the purchase of life, health, accident, or other insurance, such amounts are treated as distributed to that individual (but the provisions of subdivision (f) do not apply).

(6) Any common trust fund or common investment fund of individual retirement account assets which is exempt from taxation under this part does not cease to be exempt on account of the participation or inclusion of assets of a trust exempt from taxation under Section 17631 which is described in Section 17501.

(f) (1) If a distribution from an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit such account or annuity was established is made before such individual attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which such distribution is received shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of distribution which is includible in his gross income for such taxable year.

(2) If an amount is includible in gross income for a taxable year under subdivision (e) and the taxpayer has not attained age 59½ before the beginning of such taxable year, his tax under this article for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of such amount so required to be included in his gross income.

(3) Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply if the amount paid or distributed, or the disqualification of the account or annuity under subdivision (e), is attributable to the taxpayer becoming disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(g) For purposes of this section, a custodial account shall be treated as a trust if the assets of such account are held by a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a) or another person who demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, that the manner in which he will administer the account will be consistent with the requirements of this section, and if the custodial account would, except for the fact that it is not a trust, constitute an individual retirement account described in subdivision (a). For purposes of this part, in the case of a custodial account treated as a trust by reason of the preceding sentence, the custodian of such account shall be treated as the trustee thereof.

(h) The trustee of an individual retirement account and the issuer of an endowment contract described in subdivision (b) or an individual retirement annuity shall make such reports regarding such account, contract, or annuity to the Franchise Tax Board and to the individuals for whom the account, contract, or annuity is, or is to be, maintained with respect to contributions, distributions, and such other matters as the Franchise Tax Board may require under regulations. The reports required by this subdivision shall be filed at such time and in such manner and furnished to such individuals at such time and in such manner as may be required by those regulations.

SEC. 37. Section 17530.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17530.1. (a) For purposes of this section and Section 17237(a), the term "retirement bond" means a bond issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, which by its terms, or by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States or his delegate under such act—

(1) Provides for payment of interest, or investment yield, only on redemption;

(2) Provides that no interest, or investment yield, is payable if the bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance;

(3) Provides that it ceases to bear interest, or provide investment yield on the earlier of—

(A) The date on which the individual in whose name it is purchased (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "registered owner") attains age 70½; or

(B) Five years after the date on which the registered owner dies, but not later than the date on which he would have attained the age 70½ had he lived;

(4) Provides that, except in the case of a rollover contribution described in subdivision (b)(3)(C) or in Section 17503(e), 17511(e), or 17530(d)(3), the registered owner may not contribute for the purchase of such bonds in excess of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) in any taxable year; and

(5) Is not transferable.

(b) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, on the redemption of a retirement bond the entire proceeds shall be included in the gross income of the taxpayer entitled to the proceeds on redemption. If the registered owner has not tendered it for redemption before the close of the taxable year in which he attains age 70½, such individual shall include in his gross income for such taxable year the amount of proceeds he would have received if the bond had been redeemed at age 70½. The provisions of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, and Sections 18183 to 18185, inclusive (relating to bonds and other evidences of indebtedness) shall not apply to a retirement bond.

(2) The basis of a retirement bond is zero.

(3) Exceptions:

(A) If a retirement bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance, the proceeds are excluded from gross income if no deduction is allowed under Section 17237 on account of the purchase of such bond.

(B) If a retirement bond is redeemed after the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, the proceeds from the redemption of the bond are excluded from the gross income of the registered owner to the extent that such proceeds were includible in his gross income for such taxable year.

(C) If a retirement bond is redeemed at any time before the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, and the registered owner transfers the entire amount of the proceeds from the redemption of the bond to an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a) or to an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract) which is maintained for the benefit of the registered owner of the bond, or to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or an annuity plan described in Section 17511 for the benefit of the registered owner, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received the proceeds of such redemption, then the proceeds shall be excluded from gross income and the transfer shall be treated as a rollover contribution described in Section 17511(e). This subparagraph does not apply in the case of a transfer to such an employees' trust or such an annuity plan unless no part of the value of such proceeds is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from such an employees' trust or annuity plan (other than an annuity plan or a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan).

(c) (1) If a retirement bond is redeemed by the registered owner before he attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which the bond is redeemed shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of the proceeds of the redemption includable in his gross income for the taxable year.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply for any taxable year during which the retirement bond is redeemed if, for that taxable year, the registered owner is disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(3) Paragraph (1) does not apply if the registered owner tenders the bond for redemption within 12 months after the date of its issuance.

SEC. 38. Section 17530.2 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17530.2. The provisions of subsections (b) and (c) of Section 413, Collectively Bargained Plans, of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) shall be applied to a plan maintained pursuant to an agreement which the Secretary of Labor finds to be a collective-bargaining agreement between employee representatives and one or more employers, and each trust which is a part of such plan, exclusive of those paragraphs concerned with and entitled "Liability for Funding Tax."

SEC. 39. Section 17530.3 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17530.3. For the purposes of this article, the definitions and special rules set forth in Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) shall be applied as provided therein.

SEC. 40. Section 17530.4 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17530.4. (a) (1) A trust which is a part of a pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under Section 17501, if—

(A) In the case of a defined benefit plan, the plan provides for the payment of benefits with respect to a participant which exceed the limitation of subdivision (b).

(B) In the case of a defined contribution plan, contributions and other additions under the plan with respect to any participant for any taxable year exceed the limitation of subdivision (c), or

(C) In any case in which an individual is a participant in both a defined benefit plan and a defined contribution plan maintained by the employer, the trust has been disqualified under subdivision (g).

(2) In the case of—

(A) An employee annuity plan described in Section 17511,

(B) An annuity contract described in Section 17512,

(C) An individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a),

(D) An individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b),

(E) A plan described in Section 17526, or

(F) A retirement bond described in Section 17530.1,

such contract, annuity plan, account, annuity, plan, or bond shall not be considered to be described in Section 17511, 17512, 17526, 17530(a), 17530(b) or 17530.1, as the case may be, unless it satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), whichever is appropriate, and has not been disqualified under subdivision (g). In the case of an annuity contract described in Section 17512, the preceding sentence shall apply only to the portion of the annuity contract which exceeds the limitation of subdivision (b) or the limitation of subdivision (c), whichever is appropriate, and the amount of the contribution for such portion shall reduce the exclusion allowance as provided in Section 17512.

(b) (1) Benefits with respect to a participant exceed the limitation of this subdivision if, when expressed as an annual benefit (within the meaning of paragraph (2)), such annual benefit is greater than the lesser of—

(A) Seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), or

(B) One hundred percent of the participant's average compensation for his high three years.

(2) (A) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "annual benefit" means a benefit payable annually in the form of a straight life annuity (with no ancillary benefits) under a plan to which employees do not contribute and under which no rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1) are made.

(B) If the benefit under the plan is payable in any form other than the form described in subparagraph (A), or if the employees contribute to the plan or make rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1), the determinations as to whether the limitation described in paragraph (1) has been satisfied shall be made, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, by adjusting such benefit so that it is equivalent to the benefit described in subparagraph (A). For purposes of this subparagraph, any ancillary benefit which is not directly related to retirement income benefits shall not be taken into account; and that portion of any joint and survivor annuity which constitutes a qualified joint and survivor annuity (as defined in Section 17501) shall not be taken into account.

(C) If the retirement income benefit under the plan begins before age 55, the determination as to whether the limitation set forth in paragraph (1) (A) has been satisfied shall be made, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, by adjusting such benefit so that it is equivalent to such a benefit beginning at age 55.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1), a participant's high three years shall be the period of consecutive calendar years (not more than three) during which the participant both was an active participant in the plan and had the greatest aggregate compensation from the employer. In the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting for "compensation from the employer" the following: "the participant's earned income (within the meaning of Section 17502.2 but determined without regard to any exclusion under Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954)."

(4) Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this subdivision, the benefits payable with respect to a participant under any defined benefit plan shall be deemed not to exceed the limitation of this subdivision if—

(A) The retirement benefits payable with respect to such participant under such plan and under all other defined benefit plans of the employer do not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for the plan year, or for any prior plan year, and

(B) The employer has not at any time maintained a defined contribution plan in which the participant participated.

(5) In the case of an employee who has less than 10 years of service with the employer, the limitation referred to in paragraph (1), and the limitation referred to in paragraph (4), shall be the limitation determined under such paragraph (without regard to this paragraph), multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of years (or part thereof) of service with the employer and the denominator of which is 10.

(6) The computation of—

(A) Benefits under a defined contribution plan, for purposes of Section 17501(d),

(B) Contributions made on behalf of a participant in a defined benefit plan, for purposes of Section 17501(d), and

(C) Contributions and benefits provided for a participant in a plan described in Section 414(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), for purposes of this section shall not be made on a basis inconsistent with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) (1) Contributions and other additions with respect to a participant exceed the limitation of this subdivision, if, when expressed as an annual addition (within the meaning of paragraph (2)) to the participant's account, such annual addition is greater than the lesser of—

(A) Twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or

(B) Twenty-five percent of the participant's compensation.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "annual addition" means the sum for any year of—

(A) Employer contributions,

(B) The lesser of—

(i) The amount of the employee contributions in excess of 6 percent of his compensation, or

(ii) One-half of the employee contributions, and

(C) Forfeitures.

For the purposes of this paragraph, employee contributions under subparagraph (B) are determined without regard to any rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1).

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "participant's compensation" means the compensation of the participant from the employer for the year. In the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting for "compensation of the participant from the employer" the following: "the participant's earned income (within the meaning of Section 17502.2 but determined without regard to any exclusion under Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954)."

(4) (A) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for the year in which occurs a participant's separation from the service with an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant there is substituted for the amount specified in paragraph (1) (B) the amount of the exclusion allowance which would be determined under Section 17512 (without regard to this section) for the participant's taxable year in which such separation occurs if the participant's years of service were computed only by taking into account his service for the employer during the period of years (not exceeding 10) ending on the date of such separation.

(B) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for any year in the case of a participant who is an employee of an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant there is substituted for the amount specified in paragraph (1) (B) the least of—

(i) Twenty-five percent of the participant's includable compensation (as defined in Section 17512) plus four thousand dollars ($4,000),

(ii) The amount of the exclusion allowance determined for the year under Section 17512, or (iii) fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(C) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for any year for a participant who is an employee of an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant the provisions of Section 17512(a) (2) shall not apply.

(D) (i) The provisions of this paragraph apply only if the participant elects its application at the time and in the manner provided under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Not more than one election may be made under subparagraph (A) by any participant. A participant who elects to have the provisions of subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of this paragraph apply to him may not elect to have any other subparagraph of this paragraph apply to him. Any election made under this paragraph is irrevocable.

(ii) For purposes of this paragraph the term "educational institution" means an educational institution as defined in Section 151(e) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(iii) For purposes of this paragraph the term "home health service agency" means an organization described in subsection 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 which is exempt from tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and which has been determined by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to be a home health agency (as defined in Section 1861(o) of the Social Security Act).

(d) (1) The Franchise Tax Board shall adjust annually—

(A) The amount in subdivision (b) (1) (A),

(B) The amount in subdivision (c) (1) (A), and

(C) In the case of a participant who is separated from service, the amount taken into account under subdivision (b) (1) (B), for increases in the cost of living in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Such regulations shall provide for adjustment procedures which are similar to the procedures used to adjust primary insurance amounts under Section 215(i) (2) (A) of the Social Security Act.

(2) The base period taken into account—

(A) For purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) is the calendar quarter beginning October 1, 1974, and

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) is the last calendar quarter of the calendar year before the calendar year in which the participant is separated from service.

(e) (1) In any case in which an individual is a participant in both a defined benefit plan and a defined contribution plan maintained by the same employer, the sum of the defined benefit plan fraction and the defined contribution plan fraction for any year may not exceed 1.4.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, the defined benefit plan fraction for any year is a fraction—

(A) The numerator of which is the projected annual benefit of the participant under the plan (determined as of the close of the year), and

(B) The denominator of which is the projected annual benefit of the participant under the plan (determined as of the close of the year) if the plan provided the maximum benefit allowable under subsection (b).

(3) Defined contribution plan fraction. For purposes of this subdivision, the defined contribution plan fraction for any year is a fraction—

(A) The numerator of which is the sum of the annual additions to the participant's account as of the close of the year, and

(B) The denominator of which is the sum of the maximum amount of annual additions to such account which could have been made under subdivision (c) for such year and for each prior year of service with the employer.

(4) In applying paragraph (3) with respect to years beginning before January 1, 1976—

(A) The aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (3) (A) may not exceed the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (3) (B), and

(B) The amount taken into account under subdivision (c) (2) (B) (i) for any year concerned is an amount equal to—

(i) The excess of the aggregate amount of employee contributions for all years beginning before January 1, 1976, during which the employee was an active participant of the plan, over 10 percent of the employee's aggregate compensation for all such years, multiplied by

(ii) A fraction the numerator of which is 1 and the denominator of which is the number of years beginning before January 1, 1976, during which the employee was an active participant in the plan.

Employee contributions made on or after October 2, 1973, shall be taken into account under subparagraph (B) of the preceding sentence only to the extent that the amount of such contributions does not exceed the maximum amount of contributions permissible under the plan as in effect on October 2, 1973.

(5) For purposes of this subdivision, any annuity contract described in Section 17512 (except in the case of a participant who has elected under subdivision (c) (4) (D) to have the provisions of subdivision (c) (4) (C) apply), any individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a), any individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b), and any retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, for the benefit of a participant shall be treated as a defined contribution plan maintained by each employer with respect to which the participant has the control required under subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (as modified by subdivision (h)). In the case of any annuity contract described in Section 17512, the amount of the contribution disqualified by reason of subdivision (g) shall reduce the exclusion allowance as provided in Section 17512.

(f) (1) For purposes of applying the limitations of subdivision (b), (c), and (e)—

(A) All defined benefit plans (whether or not terminated) of an employer are to be treated as one defined benefit plan, and

(B) All defined contribution plans (whether or not terminated) of an employer are to be treated as one defined contribution plan.

(2) If the employer has more than one defined benefit plan—

(A) Subdivision (b) (1) (B) shall be applied separately with respect to each such plan, but

(B) In applying (b) (1) (B) to the aggregate of such defined benefit plans for purposes of this subdivision, the high three years of compensation taken into account shall be the period of consecutive calendar years (not more than three) during which the individual had the greatest aggregate compensation from the employer.

(g) The Franchise Tax Board, in applying the provisions of this section to benefits or contributions under more than one plan maintained by the same employer, and to any trusts, contracts, accounts, or bonds referred to in subdivision (a) (2), with respect to which the participant has the control required under Section 414(b) or (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), as modified by subdivision (h), shall, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, disqualify one or more trusts, plans, contracts, accounts, or bonds, or any combination thereof until such benefits or contributions do not exceed the limitations contained in this section. In addition to taking into account such other factors as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of subdivisions (e) and (f), the regulations prescribed under this paragraph shall provide that no plan which has been terminated shall be disqualified until all other trusts, plans, contracts, accounts, or bonds have been disqualified.

(h) For purposes of applying subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) to this section, the phrase "more than 50 percent" shall be substituted for the phrase "at least 80 percent" each place it appears in Section 1563(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(i) Where for the period before January 1, 1976, or (if later) the first day of the first plan year of the plan, the records necessary for the application of this section are not available, the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe alternative methods for determining the amounts to be taken into account for such period.

(j) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, including, but not limited to, regulations defining the term "year" for purposes of any provision of this section.

(k) (1) For purposes of this article, the term "defined contribution plan" or "defined benefit plan" means a defined contribution plan (within the meaning of Section 414(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)) or a defined benefit plan (within the meaning of Section 414(j) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)), whichever applies, which is—

(A) A plan described in Section 17501 which includes a trust which is exempt from tax under Section 17631,

(B) An annuity plan described in Section 17511,

SEC. 42. Section 24601 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24601. If contributions are paid by an employer to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or if compensation is paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, such contributions or compensation shall not be deductible under Section 24343 (relating to trade or business expenses) but if they satisfy the conditions of the section, they shall be deductible under this section, subject, however, to the following limitations as to the amounts deductible in any year:

(a) In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a pension trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Section 17501 of Part 10, Division 2 of this code, in an amount determined as follows:

(1) The amount necessary to satisfy the minimum funding standard provided by Section 412(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) for plan years ending within or with such income year (or for any prior plan year), if such amount is greater than the amount determined under paragraph (2) or (3) (whichever is applicable with respect to the plan),

(2) The amount necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount, or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, but if such remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 percent of such remaining unfunded cost, the amount of such unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five income years.

(3) An amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, plus, if past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount necessary to amortize such credits in equal annual payments (until fully amortized) over 10 years, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

In determining the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations the funding method and the actuarial assumptions used shall be those used for such year under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) and the maximum amount deductible for such year shall be an amount equal to the full funding limitation for such year determined under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(b) In the case of a plan which the Secretary of Labor finds to be collectively bargained which makes an election under this subdivision (in such manner and at such time as may be provided under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board), if the full funding limitation determined under Section 412(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) for such year is zero, if as a result of any plan amendment applying to such plan year, the amount determined under Section 412(c)(7)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) exceeds the amount determined under section 412(c)(7)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), and if the funding method and the actuarial assumptions used are those used for such year under Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), the maximum amount deductible in such year under the limitations of this paragraph shall be an amount equal to the lesser of—

(1) The full funding limitation for such year determined by applying Section 412(c)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974

(P.L. 93-406) but increasing the amount referred to in subparagraph (A) thereof by the decrease in the present value of all unamortized liabilities resulting from such amendment, or

(2) The normal cost under the plan reduced by the amount necessary to amortize in equal annual installments over 10 years (until fully amortized) the decrease described in paragraph (1). In the case of any election under this subdivision, the amount deductible under the limitations of this section with respect to any of the plan years following the plan year for which such election was made shall be determined as provided under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to carry out the purposes of this subdivision.

(c) In the case of a plan which the Secretary of Labor finds to be collectively bargained, established or maintained by an employer doing business in not less than 40 states and engaged in the trade or business of furnishing or selling services described in Section 167 (l) (3) (A) (iii), with respect to which the rates have been established or approved by a state or political subdivision thereof, by any agency or instrumentality of the United States, or by a public service or public utility commission or other similar body of any state or political subdivision thereof, and in the case of any employer which is a member of a controlled group with such employer, subdivision (b) shall be applied by substituting for the words "plan amendment" the words "plan amendment or increase in benefits payable under Title II of the Social Security Act." For purposes of this subdivision, the term "controlled group" has the meaning provided by Section 1563(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, determined without regard to Section 1563(a) (4) and (e) (3) (C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(d) Any amount paid in an income year in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each such succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for such year under the foregoing limitations.

SEC. 43. Section 24602 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24602. In the income year when paid, in an amount determined in accordance with Section 24601, if the contributions are paid toward the purchase of retirement annuities and such purchase is a part of a plan which meets the requirements of Sections 17501(c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), (r), and (s), and if applicable, the requirements of Section (i), (j), (q), and (r) and of Section 17502.3 (other than subdivision (a)) of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code, and if refunds of premiums, if any, are applied within the current income year or next succeeding income year toward the purchase of such retirement annuities.

SEC. 44. Section 24603 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24603. (a) In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Section 17501 of this code, in an amount not in excess of 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan. If in any income year there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under the preceding sentence, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any such succeeding income year shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such succeeding income year to the beneficiaries under the plan, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one succeeding income year together with the amount so deductible under the first sentence of this subdivision shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in any income year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this subsection shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding income year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this subsection shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. The term "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust," as used in this subsection, shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially as provided in Section 24601. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, such trusts shall be considered a single trust for purposes of applying the limitations in this subsection.

(b) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, or a stock bonus plan in which contributions are determined with reference to profits, of a group of corporations which is an affiliated group within the meaning of Section 1504 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if any member of such affiliated group is prevented from making a contribution which it would otherwise have made under the plan, by reason of having no current or accumulated earnings or profits or because such earnings or profits are less than the contributions which it would otherwise have made, then so much of the contribution which such member was so prevented from making may be made, for the benefit of the employees of such member, by the other members of the group, to the extent of current or accumulated earnings or profits, except that such contribution by each such other member shall be limited, where the group does not file a consolidated return, to that proportion of its total current and accumulated earnings or profits remaining after adjustment for its contribution deductible without regard to this subsection which the total prevented contribution bears to the total current and accumulated earnings or profits of all members of the group remaining after adjustment for all contributions deductible without regard to this subsection. Contributions made under the preceding sentence shall be deductible under subsection (a) by the employer making such contribution, and, for the purpose of determining amounts which may be carried forward and deducted under the second sentence of subsection (a) in succeeding income years, shall be deemed to have been made by the employer on behalf of whose employees such contributions were made.

SEC. 45. Section 24607 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24607. For purposes of Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, a taxpayer shall be deemed to have made a payment on the last day of the preceding income year if the payment is on account of such income year and is made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such income year (including extensions thereof).

SEC. 46. Section 24608 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24608. If amounts are deductible under Sections 24601 and 24603, or Sections 24602 and 24603, or Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, in connection with two or more trusts, or one or more trusts and an annuity plan, the total amount deductible in an income year under such trusts and plans shall not exceed the greater of 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to the beneficiaries of the trusts or plans, or the amount of contributions made to or under the trusts or plans to the extent such contributions do not exceed the amount of employer contributions necessary to satisfy the minimum funding standard provided by Section 412 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) for the plan year which ends with or within such income year (or for any prior plan year). In addition, any amount paid into such trust or under such annuity plans in any income year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this section shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding income year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this section shall not exceed 25 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income years to the beneficiaries under the trusts or plans. This section shall not have the effect of reducing the amount otherwise deductible under Sections 24601, 24602, and 24603, if no employee is a beneficiary under more than one trust, or a trust and an annuity plan.

SEC. 47. Section 24610 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24610. If contributions are paid by an employer—

(a) Under a plan under which such contributions are held in trust for the purpose of paying (either from principal or income or both) for the benefit of employees and their families and dependents at least medical or hospital care, or pensions on retirement or death of employees; and

(b) Such plan was established prior to January 1, 1954, as a result of an agreement between employee representatives and the government of the United States during a period of government operation, under seizure powers, of a major part of the productive facilities of the industry in which such employer is engaged, such contributions shall not be deductible under this article or be made nondeductible by this article, but the deductibility thereof shall be governed solely by Section 24343 (relating to trade or business expenses). For purposes of this article and Part 8 and Part 9 of this division, in the case of any individual who before July 1, 1974, was a participant in a plan described in the preceding sentence—

(A) Such individual, if he is or was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a), shall be treated (with respect to service covered by the plan) as being an employee other than an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) and as being an employee of a participating employer under the plan,

(B) Earnings derived from service covered by the plan shall be treated as not being earned income within the meaning of Section 17502.2(b), and

(C) Such individuals shall be treated as an employee of a participating employer under the plan with respect to service before July 1, 1975, covered by the plan.

Section 24437 (relating to deductions incurred by certain membership organizations in transactions with members) does not apply to any trust described in this section. The first and third sentences of this section shall have no application with respect to amounts contributed to a trust on or after any date on which such trust is qualified for exemption from tax under Section 17631 of Part 10 of Division 2 of this code.

SEC. 48. It is the intent of the Legislature that if this bill and Senate Bill No. 1375 or Assembly Bill No. 4520, or both, are chaptered and amend Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and this bill is chaptered last, that amendments proposed by each of the bills which are chaptered be given effect as follows:

(a) If this bill and Senate Bill No. 1375 are both chaptered and amend Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, but Assembly Bill No. 4520 is not chaptered or as chaptered does not amend that section, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 1375, the amendments proposed by both bills shall be given effect and incorporated in Section 17204 in the form set forth in Section 6.1

of this act. Therefore, if Senate Bill No. 1375 is chaptered before this bill and both bills amend Section 17204, and Assembly Bill No. 4520 is not chaptered or as chaptered does not amend that section, Section 6.1 of this act shall be operative and Sections 6, 6.2 and 6.3 of this act shall not become operative.

(b) If this bill and Assembly Bill No. 4520 are both chaptered and amend Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, but Senate Bill No. 1375 is not chaptered or as chaptered does not amend that section, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill No. 4520, the amendments proposed by both bills shall be given effect and incorporated in Section 17204 in the form set forth in Section 6.2 of this act. Therefore, if Assembly Bill No. 4520 is chaptered before this bill and both bills amend Section 17204, and Senate Bill No. 1375 is not chaptered or as chaptered does not amend that section, Section 6.2 shall be operative and Sections 6, 6.1 and 6.3 of this act shall not become operative.

(c) If this bill and Senate Bill No. 1375 and Assembly Bill No. 4520 are all chaptered, and all three bills amend Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 1375 and Assembly Bill No. 4520, the amendments proposed by all three bills shall be given effect and incorporated in Section 17204 in the form set forth in Section 6.3 of this act. Therefore, if Senate Bill No. 1375 and Assembly Bill No. 4520 are both chaptered before this bill and all three bills amend Section 17204 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, Section 6.3 of this act shall be operative and Sections 6, 6.1 and 6.2 of this act shall not become operative.

SEC. 49. The actual total price per gallon, or liter, shall include fuel taxes and all sales taxes.

If gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel is sold by the liter, the word "liter" shall be conspicuously displayed in letters of not less than one-half inch in height on the side of the dispensing apparatus from which service can be made.

For purposes of this subdivision "gasoline" does not include gasoline sold for aviation purposes.

The provisions of this section relating to the posting of octane numbers shall not be operative unless and until the Federal Trade Commission or any federal governmental agency adopts regulations relating to posting of octane numbers, in which case the provisions of this section shall become operative at the time designated in such regulations.

20826. A price indicator used in connection with a computing meter pump or a pump designed to compute price fulfills the requirements of this article; provided, all letters, figures or numerals used to designate the total fuel-tax-included price per gallon or liter are clear and distinct and so located as to be plainly discernible to the purchaser and, provided further, that where sales tax is to be added a sign so stating and designating the rate and tax base shall be conspicuously displayed on the dispensing apparatus.

SEC. 3. Section 20826.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

No person shall display on any dispensing apparatus from which gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel is being offered for sale or sold, any sign referring to the price of such gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel, which shall include a price indicator used in connection with a computing meter pump or a pump designed to compute price, unless such sign is limited to the actual total price per gallon or liter of all gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel, as prescribed in Sections 20820 and 20826 of this article.

SEC. 4. Section 20880 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

20880. (a) Nothing in this article shall be construed to apply to the price signs referred to in Article 5 (commencing with Section 20820) of this chapter; provided, however, that any numerals designating the net tax-included price per gallon or liter for a particular brand or trade name of gasoline or motor vehicle fuel permitted under the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 20820) of this chapter, unless otherwise stated herein, shall be identical in numerical value with numerals designating the net tax-included price per gallon or liter for the same brand or trade name of gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel permitted under the provisions of this article.

(b) Nothing in this article shall be construed to apply to the price signs referred to in Article 5 (commencing with Section 20820) of this chapter; provided, however, that any numerals designating the net tax-included price per gallon or liter and the minimum octane number for a particular brand or trade name of gasoline permitted under the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 20820) of this chapter, unless otherwise stated herein, shall be identical in numerical value with numerals designating the net tax-included price per gallon or liter and the minimum octane number for the same brand or trade name of gasoline permitted under the provisions of this article.

As used in this subdivision "octane number" means the American Society for Testing and Materials octane number of the gasoline as defined by Section 20710.

(c) No person shall keep, maintain or display on or near the premises of any place of business in this state any advertising medium, which indicates or shows or advertises the price of gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel sold, offered for sale or advertised for sale from such premises, unless the actual price per gallon or liter of gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel including taxes is also shown on such advertising medium, together with the word or words "gasoline" or "motor fuel" and the trade name or brand and grade designation of the gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel product advertised for sale by such advertising medium.

The numerals indicating the price on such sign shall be of uniform size and at least six inches in height. All letters or numerals used in designating the brand name or the words "no brand" on such sign shall not be less than one-third the size of the numerals designating the price and the height of such letters or numerals shall not be more than twice the dimension of the width. All letters or numerals used in designating the product, such as "gasoline" or other motor fuel, shall be not less than one-third the size of the numerals designating the price; and the height of such letters or numerals shall not be more than twice the dimension of the width, except that these letters or numerals need not be larger than four inches in height. If gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel is sold by the liter and advertised, the word "liter" shall be displayed on such sign in letters not less than one-third the size of the numerals designating the price and the height of such letters shall not be more than twice the dimension of the width.

(d) No person offering for sale or selling any gasoline or motor vehicle fuel from any place of business in the State of California shall post or display a sign or statement or other advertising medium reading, in substance, "save" a designated amount, or a designated amount per gallon or liter, such as "save 5 cents" or "save 5 cents per gallon or liter", or using the expression "off" a designated amount, such as "5 cents off" or "5 cents less", or "discount" of a given amount, such as "5 cents discount", or otherwise using the words "save", "off", "discount", "less", "below", or any of them, or a word or words of similar meaning or other phraseology indicating a reduced price, unless there is posted and displayed in letters and numerals of at least equal size and as part of the same sign, statement or other advertising medium, the total price, or prices per gallon or liter, including all taxes from which such reduction will be made, the reduction given and the total net price per gallon, including all taxes, at which gasoline or other motor vehicle fuel is being sold or offered for sale. Words shall be used to explain the reduced price, the amount of reduction, and the price from which the reduction is made. Such words shall be clearly shown in letters at least one-third the size of the numerals indicating the prices.

(e) In the event that the same brand or grade of gasoline or motor fuel is sold at different prices from the dispensing devices on the premises of any single place of business, it shall be unlawful for any person to post or display any sign or advertising medium which indicates or shows or advertises a price of such brand or grade unless such sign or advertising medium indicates, shows, or advertises in letters or numerals of equal size each of the higher prices, including all taxes, for which such brand or grade is sold, offered for sale, or advertised for sale and unless such sign or advertising medium explains the conditions under which such brand or grade is advertised for sale, at different prices. The words of explanation shall be clearly shown in letters at least one-third the size of the numerals indicating the prices.

The provisions of this section relating to the posting of octane numbers shall not be operative unless and until the Federal Trade Commission or any federal governmental agency adopts regulations relating to posting of octane numbers, in which case the provisions of this section shall become operative at the time designated in such regulations.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

(d) Before any new or revised written advertising or solicitation, or any form of evidence of coverage, is adopted by a health care service plan under the Knox-Mills Health Plan Act (commencing with Section 12530 of the Government Code) for distribution to members pursuant to subdivision (c), the proposed new or revised advertising or solicitation or evidence of coverage shall be submitted to the Attorney General who shall, within 30 days, prohibit its use if he determines that the advertising or solicitation or evidence of coverage as proposed is untrue or misleading or deceptive as determined pursuant to the definitions contained in Section 12531 of the Government Code. The Attorney General shall notify the plan or its representatives of such determination.

(e) Any labor organization, bona fide employee group or bona fide employee association, contracting for a health care service plan under this section, shall not derive any profit from such plan.

CHAPTER 537

An act to amend Section 10921 of, and to add Sections 6871.6 and 6872.1 to, the Education Code, relating to special education.

[Approved by Governor August 23, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 24, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6871.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6871.6. In the event that the department, pursuant to Section 6871.5, affirms the decision of the county superintendent of schools, the parent or guardian may petition the appropriate superior court for a writ of mandate. If a writ of mandate is issued ordering the admission of a pupil, the school district shall be liable to the parent or guardian for reasonable attorney fees and all other court costs.

SEC. 2. Section 6872.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

6872.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the tuition payments required by this chapter shall, at the written request of the parent or guardian, be paid by the school district directly to the private nonsectarian school, institution, or agency in which the pupil is enrolled, at the end of each calendar month of attendance and in prorated amounts determined pursuant to regulations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act are minor in nature and will not place any financial burden on local government.

CHAPTER 538

An act to amend Section 1777.5 of, and to add Section 1777.7 to, the Labor Code, relating to apprenticeship standards.

[Approved by Governor August 24, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 24, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1777.5 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

1777.5. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent the employment of properly indentured apprentices upon public works.

Every such apprentice shall be paid the standard wage paid to apprentices under the regulations of the craft or trade at which he is employed, and shall be employed only at the work of the craft or trade to which he is indentured.

Only apprentices, as defined in Section 3077, who are in training under apprenticeship standards and written apprentice agreements under Chapter 4 (commencing at Section 3070), Division 3, of the Labor Code, are eligible to be employed on public works. The employment and training of each apprentice shall be in accordance with the provisions of the apprenticeship standards and apprentice agreements under which he is training.

When the contractor to whom the contract is awarded by the state or any political subdivision, or any subcontractor under him, in performing any of the work under the contract or subcontract, employs workmen in any apprenticeable craft or trade, the contractor and subcontractor shall apply to the joint apprenticeship committee administering the apprenticeship standards of the craft or trade in the area of the site of the public work for a certificate approving the contractor or subcontractor under the apprenticeship standards for the employment and training of apprentices in the area of the site of the public work. Contractors or subcontractors shall not be required to submit individual applications for approval to local joint apprenticeship committees provided they are already covered by the local apprenticeship standards. The ratio of apprentices to journeymen who shall be employed in the craft or trade on the public work may be the ratio stipulated in the apprenticeship standards under which the joint apprenticeship committee operates, but in no case shall the ratio be less than one apprentice for each five journeymen, except as otherwise provided in this section.

The contractor or subcontractor, if he is covered by this section, shall, upon the issuance of the approval certificate, or if he has been previously approved in such craft or trade, shall, employ the number of apprentices or the ratio of apprentices to journeymen stipulated in the apprenticeship standards. Upon proper showing by the contractor that he employs apprentices in such craft or trade in the state on all of his contracts on an annual average of not less than one apprentice to each eight journeymen, the Division of Apprenticeship Standards shall grant a certificate exempting the contractor from the 1-to-5 ratio as set forth in this section. This section shall not apply to contracts of general contractors involving less than thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) or 20 working days or to contracts of specialty contractors not bidding for work through a general or prime contractor, involving less than two thousand dollars ($2,000) or fewer than five working days.

"Apprenticeable craft or trade," as used in this section, shall mean a craft or trade determined as an apprenticeable occupation in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Apprenticeship Council. The joint apprenticeship committee shall have the discretion to grant a certificate exempting a contractor from the 1-to-5 ratio set forth in this section when it finds that any one of the following conditions is met:

(a) In the event unemployment for the previous three-month period in such area exceeds an average of 15 percent, or

(b) In the event the number of apprentices in training in such area exceeds a ratio of 1 to 5, or

(c) If there is a showing that the apprenticeable craft or trade is replacing at least one-thirtieth of its journeymen annually through apprenticeship training, either (1) on a statewide basis, or (2) on a local basis.

(d) If assignment of an apprentice to any work performed under a public works contract would create a condition which would jeopardize his life or the life, safety, or property of fellow employees or the public at large or if the specific task to which the apprentice is to be assigned is of such a nature that training cannot be provided by a journeyman.

When such exemptions are granted to an organization which represents contractors in a specific trade from the 1-to-5 ratio on a local or statewide basis the member contractors will not be required to submit individual applications for approval to local joint apprenticeship committees, provided they are already covered by the local apprenticeship standards.

A contractor to whom the contract is awarded, or any subcontractor under him, who, in performing any of the work under the contract, employs journeymen or apprentices in any apprenticeable craft or trade and who is not contributing to a fund or funds to administer and conduct the apprenticeship program in any such craft or trade in the area of the site of the public work, to which fund or funds other contractors in the area of the site of the public work are contributing, shall contribute to the fund or funds in each craft or trade in which he employs journeymen or apprentices on the public work in the same amount or upon the same basis and in the same manner as the other contractors do, but where the trust fund administrators are unable to accept such funds, contractors not signatory to the trust agreement shall pay a like amount to the California Apprenticeship Council. The contractor or subcontractor may add the amount of such contributions in computing his bid for the contract. The Division of Labor Law Enforcement is authorized to enforce the payment of such contributions to the fund or funds as set forth in Section 227.

The body awarding the contract shall cause to be inserted in the contract stipulations to effectuate this section. Such stipulations shall fix the responsibility of compliance with this section for all apprenticeable occupations with the prime contractor.

All decisions of the joint apprenticeship committee under this section are subject to the provisions of Section 3081.

SEC. 2. Section 1777.7 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1777.7. In the event a licensed contractor willfully fails to comply with the provisions of Section 1777.5, such licensee shall be denied the right to bid on any public works contract for a period of one year from the date the determination of noncompliance is made by the Administrator of Apprenticeship and, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1727, upon receipt of such a determination the awarding body shall withhold from contract progress payments then due or to become due the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000). Any determination shall be issued after a full investigation, a fair and impartial hearing, and reasonable notice thereof in accordance with reasonable rules and procedures prescribed by the California Apprenticeship Council. Any funds withheld by the awarding body pursuant to this section shall be released to the contractor upon issuance of an order to that effect by the administrator, or upon completion of the contract.

The interpretation and enforcement of Sections 1777.5 and 1777.7 shall be in accordance with the rules and procedures of the California Apprenticeship Council.

SEC. 3. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act.

(b) The director may, with the concurrence of the California Highway Patrol, designate the California Highway Patrol Academy as a site where such training and testing may be offered.

(c) The director may prescribe that each person, upon successful completion of the training course and upon passing a written and a practical examination, be certified as an emergency medical technician of an appropriate classification. A suitable identification card may be issued to each certified person to designate that person's emergency medical skill level.

The division shall, pursuant to authorized regulations, conduct an informal review of any refusal by a representative of the division to issue a citation with respect to any such alleged violation. The division shall furnish the employee or the representative of employees requesting such review a written statement of the reasons for the division's final disposition of the case.

The name of any person who submits to the division a complaint regarding the unsafeness of an employment or place of employment shall be kept confidential by the division unless that person requests otherwise.

An act to amend Section 35541.5 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor August 24, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 25, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35541.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

35541.5. The Housing Authority of the City of Alameda need not demolish the temporary project in its jurisdiction commonly known as Makassar Straits Village until September 1, 1979. 02899 28 8450 734 maintained as a reasonably safe and sanitary place in which to live.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the provisions of this section are intended to aid in relieving a critical shortage of low-rent housing for low-income civilian and military families and that the removal of Makassar Straits Village before such date would place an extreme hardship on these people. Additionally, an extension of time for the demolition of Makassar Straits Village is necessary to ensure the development and implementation of a relocation assistance advisory program for such persons.

This section shall not be construed to relieve any governmental agency of any existing duty under the present housing program.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

(1) Extreme hardship would be placed upon low-income military and civilian families by demolition before other low-rent housing facilities are available.

(2) Lack of low-income housing available in the Alameda area.

(3) The trend of private housing to become even more expensive, putting additional burdens on low-income families in need of safe, decent and healthy housing in the area.

15002.1. The governing board of a school district, prior to acquiring any site on which it proposes to construct any school building as defined in Section 15452 shall have the site, or sites, under consideration investigated by competent personnel to ensure that the final site selection is determined by an evaluation of all factors affecting the public interest and is not limited to selection on the basis of raw land cost only. If the prospective school site is located within the boundaries of any special studies zone or within an area designated as geologically hazardous in the seismic safety element of the local general plan as provided in subdivision (f) of Section 65302 of the Government Code, the investigation shall include such geological and soil engineering studies by competent personnel as are needed to provide an assessment of the nature of the site and potential for earthquake or other geologic hazard damage.

The geological and soil engineering studies of the site shall be of such a nature as will preclude siting of a school in any location where the geological and site characteristics are such that the construction effort required to make the school building safe for occupancy is economically unfeasible. No such studies need be made if the site or sites under consideration have been the subject of adequate prior studies. The evaluation shall also include location of the site with respect to population, transportation, water supply, waste disposal facilities, utilities, traffic hazards, surface drainage conditions, and other factors affecting the operating costs, as well as the initial costs, of the total project.

15002.2. Geological and soils engineering studies as described in Section 15002.1 shall be made, within the boundaries of any special studies zone, for the construction of any school building as defined in Section 15452 or, if the estimated cost exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the reconstruction or alteration of or addition to any such school building for work which alters structural elements. The Department of General Services may require similar geological and soils engineering studies for the construction or alteration of any school building on a site located outside of the boundaries of any special studies zone. No such studies need be made if the site under consideration has been the subject of adequate prior studies.

No school building shall be constructed, reconstructed, or relocated on the trace of a geological fault along which surface rupture can reasonably be expected to occur within the life of the school building.

A copy of the report of each investigation conducted pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the Department of General Services pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 15451) of Chapter 2 of this division and to the Department of Education. The cost of geological and soil engineering studies and investigations conducted pursuant to this section may be treated as a capital expenditure.

1005.1. Cessation of or reduction in the extraction of ground water by the owner of a right to extract, as the result of the use of an alternate supply of water from a nontributary source, shall be and is deemed equivalent to, and for purposes of establishing and maintaining any right to extract the ground water shall be construed to constitute, a reasonable beneficial use of the ground water to the extent and in the amount that water from the alternate source is applied to reasonable beneficial use, not exceeding, however, the amount of such reduction. Any such user of water from an alternate nontributary source who seeks the benefit of this section, shall file with the board, on or before December 31st of each calendar year, a statement of the amount of water from such source so applied to reasonable beneficial use pursuant to the provisions of this section during the next preceding water year (November 1st to October 31st), and such user cannot claim the benefit of this section for any water year for which such statement is not so filed.

"Ground water," for the purpose of this section and of Sections 1005.2 and 1005.4, means water beneath the surface of the ground, whether or not flowing through known and definite channels.

The term "nontributary source," as used in this section, shall be deemed to include water imported from another watershed, or water conserved and saved in the watershed by a water conservation plan or works without which such water of the same watershed would have wasted, or would not have reached the underground source of supply of the owner relying upon this section.

SEC. 2. Section 1005.4 is added to the Water Code, to read:

1005.4. Cessation of or reduction in the extraction of ground water, to permit the replenishment of such ground water by the use of water from an alternate nontributary source, is hereby declared to be a reasonable beneficial use of the ground water to the extent and in the amount that water from such alternate source is applied to beneficial use, not exceeding, however, the amount of such reduction. No lapse, reduction or loss of any right in ground water, shall occur under such conditions. Any such user of water from an alternate source who seeks the benefit of this section with respect to the use of such water occurring prior to January 1, 1977, shall file with the board, on or before April 1, 1977, a statement of the amounts of reduction in the extraction of ground water as the result of water from such alternate source having been so applied to reasonable beneficial use prior to January 1, 1977, to permit the replenishment of such ground water and said amounts shall be segregated and shown for each water year (November 1st to October 31st) during which such use occurred prior to January 1, 1977. Any such user of water from an alternate source who seeks the benefit of this Section 1005.4 with respect to the use of such water occurring subsequent to January 1, 1977, shall file with the board, on or before December 31st of each calendar year, a statement of the amount of reduction in the extraction of ground water as the result of water from the alternate source having been so applied to reasonable beneficial use during the next preceding water year (November 1st to October 31st) to permit the replenishment of such ground water. Such user cannot claim the benefit of this section for any water year for which such statement is not so filed.

The provisions of this section apply only as to the cessation of, or reduction in, the extraction of ground water within that area in this state defined by the exterior boundaries of every county, except the Counties of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside, and San Bernardino.

The term "nontributary source" as used in this section shall be deemed to include water imported from another watershed or water conserved and saved in the watershed by a water conservation plan or works without which such water of the same watershed would have wasted, or would not have reached the underground source of supply of the owner relying upon this section.

[Approved by Governor August 24, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 25, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

This special provision is necessary because of special circumstances in the area served by the Juniper-Riviera County Water District. This area is located in a sparsely populated desert area, and the people of the county have an urgent and immediate need for improved and maintained roads within the boundaries of this county water district. The people of the county would be substantially benefited by having road improvement and maintenance provided by the existing district instead of by the formation of other and additional districts. It is, therefore, hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable and that this enactment is necessary for the solution of problems within the Juniper-Riviera County Water District.

CHAPTER 585

pursuant thereto, shall not be invalidated and may continue to be made to meet recurring costs resulting from any program or activity undertaken or implemented by a local agency in order to comply with such amendments or regulations, notwithstanding the repeal, stay or invalidation of such amendments or regulations, if the repeal, stay or invalidation of such amendments or regulations occurs or occurred after the local agency has made such additional levy or has incurred continuing obligations in order to implement the mandated program or activity.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Existing laws authorize counties, cities, and districts to levy taxes over and above their maximum tax rates to meet costs mandated by the courts or the federal government, but such authorization terminates if the curtailment of the mandate is upheld by a final court order. In reliance on this authority many counties, cities, and districts have levied such additional or override taxes and have established programs and incurred continuing obligations in order to pay costs mandated by the 1974 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act. This act is necessary as an urgency measure to enable counties, cities and districts to continue levying and using moneys derived from override taxes to meet continuing obligations incurred to implement programs mandated by the 1974 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act the validity of which is presently being challenged in the United States Supreme Court.

26569.9. No chopped or ground beef or hamburger which is offered for sale in any retail food production and marketing establishment or frozen food locker plant shall be advertised, labeled, or otherwise held out in any manner to describe or suggest its quality or relative leanness or fat content unless the label, advertisement, or other representation accurately discloses the maximum fat content thereof by one of the following designations:

(c) Does not exceed 15 percent fat.

No designation such as, but not limited to, "lean," "super lean," "premium," "deluxe" or similar terms descriptive of quality, leanness, or fat content shall be included on any such label unless the label also contains the fat-weight designation specified in subdivision (a), (b), or (c). However, as an alternative to including such fat-weight designation on the label, the fat-weight designation required by this section may be disclosed by means of a sign placed immediately adjacent to the counter on which the chopped or ground beef or hamburger is displayed. Such a sign shall be within plain view of prospective purchasers and shall display the appropriate designation specified in subdivision (a), (b), or (c) in boldface print.

It is unlawful and constitutes misbranding for any person to sell or offer for sale in a retail food production and marketing establishment or frozen food locker plant any chopped or ground beef or hamburger which is labeled in violation of this section.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local government entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

Upon a determination by the department and after notice to the affected parties of the necessity for an onsite investigation or upon the request for an onsite investigation by the affected parties, the department shall make an onsite investigation of the proposed construction and shall make such investigation before it proposes any modifications.

Within 14 days of receipt of the department's proposals, the affected agency or public utility shall notify the department in writing as to the acceptability of the proposals, except that this time may be extended by mutual agreement. If such proposals are not acceptable to the affected agency or public utility, then that agency or public utility shall so notify the department. Upon request the department shall meet with the affected agency or public utility within seven days of receipt of such notification or such time as may be mutually agreed upon for the purpose of developing proposals which are acceptable to the department and the affected agency or public utility. If mutual agreement is not reached at such meeting a panel of arbitrators shall be established; provided, however, that the appointment of such panel may be deferred by mutual consent of the parties. The panel shall be established within seven days of such meeting and shall be composed of one representative of the department, one representative of the affected agency or public utility, and a third person mutually agreed upon, or if no agreement can be reached, the third person shall be appointed in the manner provided by Section 1281.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The third person shall act as panel chairman. The panel shall have power to settle disagreements and make binding decisions regarding such fish and wildlife modifications. Such arbitration shall be completed within 14 days from the day that the composition of the panel is established, unless the time is extended by mutual agreement. Expenses of the department representative are to be borne by the department; expenses of the representative of the governmental agency, state or local, or the public utility are to be borne by the governmental agency, state or local, or the public utility; expenses of the chairman are to be paid one-half by each party.

Agencies or public utilities proposing projects affected by this section shall not commence such operations until the department has found that such project will not substantially adversely affect an existing fish or wildlife resource or until the department's proposals, or the decisions of a panel of arbitrators, have been incorporated into such projects.

The department shall determine and specify types of work, methods of performance or remedial measures which shall be exempt from the operation of this section.

With regard to any project which involves routine maintenance and operation of water supply, drainage, flood control, or waste treatment and disposal facilities, notice to and agreement with the department shall not be required subsequent to the initial notification and agreement unless the work as described in the agreement is substantially changed, or conditions affecting fish and wildlife resources substantially change, and such resources are adversely affected by the activity conducted under the agreement. This provision shall be applicable in any instance where notice to and agreement with the department has been attained prior to the effective date of this act.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to emergency work necessary to protect life or property; however, notification by the agency or public utility performing such emergency work shall be made to the department within 14 days of the commencement of such emergency work.

1602. In addition to the provisions of Section 1601, the department, following submission of the modifications referred to in Section 1601, shall by mutual agreement with any state agency proposing such project, establish such procedures that the parties deem necessary to provide adequate review of the proposed modifications and consideration of alternative conditions designed to protect existing fish and wildlife resources. If no agreement can be reached between the department and the state agency proposing the project, the procedures for arbitration specified in Section 1601 shall then apply.

1603. It is unlawful for any person to substantially divert or obstruct the natural flow or substantially change the bed, channel or bank of any river, stream or lake designated by the department, or use any material from the streambeds, without first notifying the department of such activity, except when the department has been notified pursuant to Section 1601. The department within 30 days of receipt of such notice, or within the time determined by mutual written agreement, shall, when an existing fish or wildlife resource may be substantially adversely affected by such activity, notify the person of the existence of such fish and wildlife resource together with a description thereof, and shall submit to the person its proposals as to measures necessary to protect fish and wildlife. Upon a determination by the department of the necessity for onsite investigation or upon the request for an onsite investigation by the affected parties, the department shall notify the affected parties that it shall make onsite investigation of the activity and shall make such investigation before it shall propose any measure necessary to protect the fish and wildlife.

Within 14 days of receipt of the department's proposals, the affected person shall notify the department in writing as to the acceptability of the proposals, except that this time may be extended by mutual agreement. If such proposals are not acceptable to the affected person, then that person shall so notify the department. Upon request the department shall meet with the affected person within seven days of receipt of such notification or such time as may be mutually agreed upon for the purpose of developing proposals which are acceptable to the department and the affected person. If mutual agreement is not reached at such meeting a panel of arbitrators shall be established; provided, however, that the appointment of such panel may be deferred by mutual consent of the parties. The panel shall be established within seven days of such meeting and shall be composed of one representative of the department, one representative of the affected person, and a third person mutually agreed upon, or if no agreement can be reached, the third person shall be appointed in the manner provided by Section 1281.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The third person shall act as panel chairman. The panel shall have power to settle disagreements and make binding decisions regarding fish and wildlife modifications. Such arbitration shall be completed within 14 days from the day that the composition of the panel is established, unless the time is extended by mutual agreement. Expenses of the department representative are to be borne by the department, expenses of the representative of the person who diverts or obstructs the natural flow or changes the bed of any river, stream or lake, or uses any material from the streambeds shall be borne by such person; expenses of the chairman are to be paid one-half by each party.

It is unlawful for any person to commence any activity affected by this section until the department has found it will not substantially adversely affect an existing fish or wildlife resource or until the department's proposals, or the decisions of a panel of arbitrators, have been incorporated into such projects. If the department fails to act within 30 days of the receipt of the notice, the person may commence such activity.

It is unlawful for any person to engage in a project or activity affected by this section, unless such project or activity is conducted in accordance with the department's proposals or the decisions of the panel of arbitrators.

With regard to any project which involves routine maintenance and operation of water supply, drainage, flood control, or waste treatment and disposal facilities, notice to and agreement with the department shall not be required subsequent to the initial notification and agreement unless the work as described in the agreement is substantially changed, or conditions affecting fish and wildlife resources substantially change, and such resources are adversely affected by the activity conducted under the agreement. This provision shall be applicable in any instance where notice to and agreement with the department have been attained prior to the effective date of this chapter.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to emergency work necessary to protect life or property. Notification by the person performing such emergency work shall be made to the department within 14 days of commencement of such emergency work.

1604. Any party affected by a decision made by an arbitration panel pursuant to Section 1601 or 1603 may petition a court of competent jurisdiction for confirmation, correction, or vacation of the decision in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1285) of Title 9 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

1605. Any governmental agency, state or local, or public utility which intends to specify any location of possible construction material such as borrow pits or gravel beds, for the use in any construction project undertaken on its behalf which would be subject to this chapter, shall include in any notice inviting bids, any modifications or conditions established pursuant to Section 1601 of this code.

1606. Persons submitting timber harvesting plans under provisions of Section 4581 of the Public Resources Code may consider that notification to the department as required in Section 1603 has been given, provided, however, the following information is provided in the contents of such plan:

(a) The volume, type, and equipment to be used in removing or displacing any one or combination of soil, sand, gravel or boulders.

(b) The volume of water, intended use, and equipment to be used in any water diversion or impoundment, if applicable.

SEC. 4. Section 25452.5 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 25452.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

Any notice inviting bids which specifies locations of possible materials, such as a borrow pit or gravel bed, for use in the proposed construction project which would be subject to Section 1601 or 1603 of the Fish and Game Code shall include any conditions or modifications established pursuant to Section 1601.

CHAPTER 606

An act to add Section 16051.1 to, and to amend Section 16075 of, the Education Code, relating to school property.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16051.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

16051.1. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that school districts be authorized under specified procedures to make vacant classrooms in operating schools available for rent or lease to other school districts, educational agencies, governmental units, nonprofit organizations, community agencies, professional agencies, commercial and noncommercial firms, corporations, partnerships, businesses and individuals. This will place students in close relationship to the world of work, thus facilitating career education opportunities.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that priority in leasing or renting vacant classroom space be given to educational agencies, particularly those conducting special education programs.

It is the intent of the Legislature that such procedures provide for community involvement by attendance area and at the district level. This community involvement should facilitate making the best possible judgments about the use of excess school facilities in each individual situation.

It is the intent of the Legislature to have the community involved before decisions are made about school closure or the use of surplus space, thus avoiding community conflict and assuring building use that is compatible with the community's needs and desires.

(c) The governing board of any school district may, and the governing board of each school district, prior to the sale, lease, or rental of any excess real property, except rentals not exceeding 30 days, shall, appoint a district advisory committee to advise the governing board in the development of districtwide policies and procedures governing the use or disposition of school buildings or space in school buildings which is not needed for school purposes.

(d) A district advisory committee shall consist of not less than 7 nor more than 11 members, and shall be representative of the following:

1. The ethnic, age group and socioeconomic composition of the district.

2. The business community, such as store owners, managers or supervisors.

3. Landowners and renters.

4. Teachers and administrators.

5. Parents of students.

6. Persons with expertise in environmental impact, legal contracts, building codes, and land use planning.

(e) The district advisory committee shall:

1. Review the projected school enrollment and other data as provided by the district to determine the amount of surplus space.

2. Establish a priority list of use of surplus space that will be acceptable to the community.

3. Cause to have circulated throughout the attendance area a priority list of surplus space and provide for hearings of community input to the committee on acceptable uses of space.

4. Make a final determination of limits of tolerance for use of space.

5. Forward to the district governing board a report recommending uses of surplus space.

(f) An existing district advisory committee having the representation specified in subdivision (c), may be designated as the district advisory committee for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 16075 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16075. Any school district may enter into leases and agreements relating to real property and buildings to be used jointly by the district and any private person, firm, or corporation pursuant to this article. As used in this article, "building" includes onsite and offsite facilities, utilities and improvements which as agreed upon by the parties are appropriate for the proper operation or function of the building to be occupied jointly by the district and the private person, firm, or corporation. It also includes the permanent improvement of school grounds.

Any building, or portion thereof, which is used by a private person, firm, or corporation pursuant to this section shall be subject to the zoning and building code requirements of the local jurisdiction in which the building is situated.

Section 53094 of the Government Code shall not be applicable to uses of school district property or buildings authorized by this section, except in the case of property or buildings used solely for educational purposes.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities or school districts by this act are such that related costs are incurred as part of their normal operating procedures.

CHAPTER 607

An act to add Section 6211 to the Public Resources Code, relating to public lands.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6211 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

6211. Whenever a parcel of timbered land under jurisdiction of the commission is totally surrounded by, or is contiguous to, a national or state forest, the commission may, whenever it is in the best interests of the state to do so, and after 10 days' prior notice to the Secretary of the Resources Agency for comments, provide for the harvesting of timber from such land at the same time as the orderly harvesting of the surrounding or adjacent federal- or state-owned timber. In carrying out the provisions of this section, the commission may enter into agreements with the United States or the Division of Forestry for the inclusion of timbered lands under the jurisdiction of the commission within a total parcel to be offered for timber harvesting contracts. The commission shall report to the Legislature by December 1 of each year, a summary of any actions taken pursuant to this section during the preceding 12 months, including any comments made by interested state agencies.

1428b. (a) All papers and records filed or kept in criminal proceedings in municipal and justice courts, other than the docket and minutes, may, upon the order of the presiding judge of any such court, be destroyed after the expiration of the minimum retention period set forth in subdivision (b). The retention period shall be measured from the final determination of the proceeding or the forfeiture of bail in cases in which no other proceedings are had during a like period following such forfeiture.

(b) Minimum retention periods are as follows:

(1) Two years for cases involving alleged violations of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11 of the Vehicle Code or of any local ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, relating to stopping, standing, or parking, for cases involving alleged violations of Division 14 (commencing with Section 30501) of the Food and Agricultural Code or of any local ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, relating to the regulation or licensing of dogs, and for cases involving alleged violations of subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 11357 or subdivision (c) of Section 11360 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to marijuana.

(2) Four years for infraction cases not specified by paragraph (1), and for misdemeanor cases involving alleged violations of the Vehicle Code other than Sections 20002, 23102, 23104, 23105, and 23106.

(3) Five years for all other cases.

(c) The minutes and docket shall be permanently retained in cases governed by paragraph (3) of subdivision (b). In other cases, the docket and minutes may be destroyed concurrently with other papers and records affecting the case.

CHAPTER 609

An act to amend Section 2147.6 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to foreign medical graduates, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2147.6 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2147.6. (a) Physicians, who are legally admitted to the United States of America, who seek postgraduate study in an approved medical school either as a fellow, instructor, or exchange professor, may, after proper application to and approval by the board and receipt of an appointment from the dean of an approved medical school, be permitted by the board to participate in the professional activities of the department in the approved medical school to which they are appointed under the direction of the chairman of the department. Such permission granted by the board shall be for a period not in excess of five years, and must be renewed semiannually. Such renewal shall only be granted subject to the discretion of the board.

(b) Physicians, who are legally admitted to the United States of America on a temporary basis, who seek postgraduate study may, after application to and approval by the board, be permitted to participate in a fellowship program in a specialty or subspecialty field, providing the fellowship program is given in a hospital in the State of California approved by the Joint Committee on Accreditation and providing the service is satisfactory to the board. Such persons shall at all times be under the direction and supervision of a licensed, board-certified physician who is recognized as a clearly outstanding specialist in the field in which the foreign fellow is to be trained. The supervisor, as part of the application process, shall submit his curriculum vitae and a protocol of the fellowship program to be completed by the foreign fellow. Approval of the program and supervisor is to be for a period of one year, but may be renewed for another year upon application to and approval by the board. Such approval may not be renewed more than four times.

The board is authorized to determine a suitable fee, based on the cost of operating this program, which shall be paid by the applicant at the time application is filed.

(c) Except to the extent authorized by this section, no such visiting physician may treat the sick or afflicted or receive compensation therefor or otherwise engage in or offer to engage in the practice of medicine and surgery.

Nothing in this section shall preclude any United States citizen who has received his or her medical degree from a medical school located in a foreign country from participating in any program established pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 610

An act to amend Section 395 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to support obligations.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 395 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

395. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law and subject to the power of the court to transfer actions or proceedings as provided in this title, the county in which the defendants or some of them reside at the commencement of the action is the proper county for the trial of the action. If the action is for injury to person or personal property or for death from wrongful act or negligence, either the county where the injury occurs or the injury causing death occurs or the county in which the defendants, or some of them reside at the commencement of the action, shall be a proper county for the trial of the action. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, the county in which the petitioner has been a resident for three months next preceding the commencement of the proceeding is the proper county for the trial of the proceeding. In a proceeding to determine parental relation under Part 7 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 4 of the Civil Code or to enforce an obligation of support under Section 196a of the Civil Code, the county in which the child resides is the proper county for the trial of the action. In a proceeding to establish and enforce a foreign judgment or court order for the support of a minor child, the county in which the child resides is the proper county for the trial of the action. Subject to the provisions of subdivision (b), when a defendant has contracted to perform an obligation in a particular county, either the county where such obligation is to be performed or in which the contract in fact was entered into or the county in which the defendant or any such defendant resides at the commencement of the action shall be a proper county for the trial of an action founded on such obligation, and the county in which such obligation is incurred shall be deemed to be the county in which it is to be performed unless there is a special contract in writing to the contrary. If none of the defendants reside in the state or if residing in the state and the county in which they reside is unknown to the plaintiff, the action may be tried in any county which the plaintiff may designate in his complaint, and, if the defendant is about to depart from the state, such action may be tried in any county where either of the parties reside or service is made. If any person is improperly joined as a defendant or has been made a defendant solely for the purpose of having the action tried in the county or judicial district where he resides, his residence shall not be considered in determining the proper place for the trial of the action.

(b) Subject to the power of the court to transfer actions or proceedings as provided in this title, in an action founded upon an obligation of the defendant for goods, services, loans or extensions of credit intended primarily for personal, family or household use, other than an obligation described in Section 1812.10 or Section

2984.4 of the Civil Code, the county in which the defendant in fact signed the contract, the county in which the defendant resided at the time the contract was entered into, or the county in which the defendant resides at the commencement of the action is the proper county for the trial thereof.

(c) If within any such county there is a municipal or justice court having jurisdiction of the subject matter established in the judicial district in which the defendant or any defendant resides, in which the injury to person or personal property or the injury causing death occurs, or, in the cases mentioned in subdivision (a), in which the obligation was contracted to be performed or, in cases mentioned in subdivision (b), in which the defendant in fact signed the contract, in which the defendant resided at the time the contract was entered into, or in which the defendant resides at the commencement of the action, then such court is the proper court for the trial of such action. Otherwise, any municipal or justice court in such county having jurisdiction of the subject matter is a proper court for the trial thereof.

(d) Any provision of an obligation described in subdivision (b) or (c) waiving the provisions of those subdivisions is void and unenforceable.

CHAPTER 611

An act relating to air transportation.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976 Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That allocation of fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000) applied for pursuant to Sections 21682, 21683, and 21684 of the Public Utilities Code to the County of San Mateo during the period July 1, 1975, to and including June 30, 1976, for airport assistance in connection with the San Carlos Airport is hereby authorized.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that Section 1 of this act is necessary since special facts and circumstances applicable to the County of San Mateo, and not generally applicable, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible by any general law. There is a dispute as to the validity of an allocation applied for by the County of San Mateo pursuant to Sections 21682, 21683, and 21684 of the Public Utilities Code for the purchase of approach areas of both north and south ends of San Carlos Airport in San Mateo County related to airport purposes based on a good faith expenditure of these funds by the County of San Mateo. The Legislature further finds and declares that this is the only such expenditure involved, that the purpose of this act is impossible to accomplish by any general law, and that special legislation applicable only to the County of San Mateo is therefore necessary.

CHAPTER 612

An act to amend Sections 674.5 and 674.7 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to liens.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 674.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

674.5. A certified copy of any judgment or order of the superior court of this state for spousal or child support, when recorded with the recorder of any county, shall from such recording become a lien upon all real property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterwards and before the lien expires, acquire, for the respective amounts and installments as they mature (but shall not become a lien for any sum or sums prior to the date they severally become due and payable) which lien shall have, to the extent herein provided and for the period of 10 years from such recording, the same force, effect and priority as the lien created by recordation of an abstract of a money judgment pursuant to Section 674.

Article 3.5. Third Party Liability

14124.70. As used in this article:

(a) "Director" means the Director of Benefit Payments.

(b) "Carrier" includes any insurer as defined in Section 23 of the Insurance Code, including any private company, corporation, mutual association, trust fund, reciprocal or interinsurance exchange authorized under the laws of this state to insure persons against liability or injuries caused to another, and also any insurer providing benefits under a policy of bodily injury liability insurance covering liability arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of a motor vehicle which provides uninsured motorist endorsement or coverage, pursuant to Section 11580.2 of the Insurance Code.

(c) "Beneficiary" means any person who has received benefits or will be provided benefits under this chapter because of an injury for which another person may be liable. It includes such beneficiary's guardian, conservator or other personal representative, his estate or survivors.

14124.71. (a) When benefits are provided or will be provided to a beneficiary under this chapter because of an injury for which another person is liable, or for which a carrier is liable in accordance with the provisions of any policy of insurance issued pursuant to Insurance Code Section 11580.2, the director shall have a right to recover from such person or carrier the reasonable value of benefits so provided. The Attorney General, or counsel for the fiscal intermediary under the Medi-Cal Program with the permission of the Attorney General or a county through its civil legal adviser, may, to enforce such right, institute and prosecute legal proceedings against the third person or carrier who may be liable for the injury in an appropriate court, either in the name of the director or in the name of the injured person, his guardian, personal representative, estate, or survivors.

(b) The director may:

(1) Compromise, or settle and release any such claim, or

(2) Waive any such claim, in whole or in part, for the convenience of the director, or if the director determines that collection would result in undue hardship upon the person who suffered the injury, or in a wrongful death action upon the heirs of the deceased.

(c) No action taken in behalf of the director pursuant to this section or any judgment rendered in such action shall be a bar to any action upon the claim or cause of action of the beneficiary, his guardian, personal representative, estate, dependents, or survivors against the third person who may be liable for the injury, or shall operate to deny to the beneficiary the recovery for that portion of any damages not covered hereunder.

14124.72. (a) Where an action is brought by the director pursuant to Section 14124.71, it shall be commenced within the period prescribed in Section 338 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) The death of the beneficiary does not abate any right of action established by Section 14124.71.

(c) When an action or claim is brought by persons entitled to bring such actions or assert such claims against a third party who may be liable for causing the death of a beneficiary, any settlement, judgment or award obtained is subject to the director's claim for reimbursement of the benefits provided to the beneficiary under the Medi-Cal Program.

(d) Where the action or claim is brought by the beneficiary alone and the beneficiary incurs a personal liability to pay attorney's fees and costs of litigation, the director's claim for reimbursement of the benefits provided to the beneficiary shall be limited to the amount of the medical expenditures for the benefit of the beneficiary less 25 percent which represents the director's reasonable share of attorney's fees paid by the beneficiary and that portion of the cost of litigation expenses determined by multiplying by the ratio of the full amount of the expenditures to the full amount of the judgment, award, or settlement.

14124.73. (a) If either the beneficiary or the director brings an action or claim against such third person or carrier the beneficiary or the director shall within 30 days of filing the action give to the other written notice by personal service or registered mail of the action or claim, and of the name of the court or state or local agency in which the action or claim is brought. Proof of such notice shall be filed in such action or claim. If an action or claim is brought by either the director or the beneficiary, the other may, at any time before trial on the facts, become a party to, or shall consolidate his action or claim with the other if brought independently.

(b) If an action or claim is brought by the director pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14124.71, written notice to the beneficiary, guardian, personal representative, estate or survivor given pursuant to this section shall advise him of his right to intervene in the proceeding, his right to obtain a private attorney of his choice, and the director's right to recover the reasonable value of the benefits provided.

14124.74. In the event of judgment or award in a suit or claim against such third party or carrier,

(a) If the action or claim is prosecuted by the beneficiary alone, the court or agency shall first order paid from any judgment or award the reasonable litigation expenses incurred in preparation and prosecution of such action or claim, together with reasonable attorney's fees, when an attorney has been retained. After payment of such expenses and attorney's fees the court or agency shall, on the application of the director, allow as a first lien against the amount of such judgment or award, the amount of the director's expenditures for the benefit of the beneficiary under the Medi-Cal Program, as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 14124.72.

(b) If the action or claim is prosecuted both by the beneficiary and the director, the court or agency shall first order paid from any judgment or award, the reasonable litigation expenses incurred in preparation and prosecution of such action or claim, together with reasonable attorney's fees based solely on the services rendered for the benefit of the beneficiary. After payment of such expenses and attorney's fees, the court or agency shall apply out of the balance of such judgment or award an amount sufficient to reimburse the director the full amount of benefits paid on behalf of the beneficiary under the Medi-Cal Program.

14124.75. The court or agency shall, upon further application at any time before the judgment or award is satisfied, allow as a further lien the amount of any expenditures of the director in payment of additional benefits arising out of the same cause of action or claim provided on behalf of the beneficiary under the Medi-Cal Program, where such benefits were provided or became payable subsequent to the original order.

14124.76. No judgment, award, or settlement in any action or claim by a beneficiary to recover damages for injuries, where the director has an interest, shall be satisfied without first giving the director notice and a reasonable opportunity to perfect and satisfy his lien.

14124.77. When the director has perfected a lien upon a judgment or award in favor of a beneficiary against any third party for an injury for which the beneficiary has received benefits under the Medi-Cal Program, the director shall be entitled to a writ of execution as lien claimant to enforce payment of said lien against such third party with interest and other accruing costs as in the case of other executions. In the event the amount of such judgment or award so recovered has been paid to the beneficiary, the director shall be entitled to a writ of execution against such beneficiary to the extent of the director's lien, with interest and other accruing costs as in the case of other executions.

14124.78. Except as otherwise provided in this article, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the entire amount of any settlement of the injured beneficiary's action or claim, with or without suit, is subject to the director's claim for reimbursement of the benefits provided and any lien filed pursuant thereto, but in no event shall the director's claim exceed one-half of the beneficiary's recovery after deducting for attorney's fees, litigation costs, and medical expenses relating to the injury paid for by the beneficiary.

14124.79. In the event that the beneficiary, his guardian, personal representative, estate or survivors or any of them brings an action against the third person who may be liable for the injury, notice of institution of legal proceedings, notice of settlement and all other notices required by this code shall be given to the director in Sacramento except in cases where the director specifies that notice shall be given to the Attorney General. All such notices shall be given by the attorney retained to assert the beneficiary's claim, or by the injured party beneficiary, his guardian, personal representative, estate or survivors, if no attorney is retained.

Except as provided in this section his rate of contribution shall be based on age at the nearest birthday at time of reentrance into the system. If he does not redeposit all of the accumulated normal contributions previously withdrawn he shall be considered as a new member without credit for any previous service.

"Regular interest" as used in this section shall mean that amount of interest which would have been credited to the account of the member on the amount to be deposited at the interest rates established for the system if the contributions required by this section had been on deposit from the date of reentrance into the retirement system until the amount required to be deposited has been paid.

(b) Any member who left county service on or before December 31, 1971, and thereafter again became a member of the county system which he left and (1) who did not withdraw his accumulated normal contributions, or (2) who elected to leave his accumulated normal contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700), or (3) who redeposited or redeposits withdrawn accumulated normal contributions plus interest as authorized in this section, shall be eligible for all benefits granted a member entering a reciprocal retirement system under Article 15 (commencing with Section 31830), including the benefits granted to members who left their accumulated contributions on deposit or who redeposited their accumulated contributions pursuant to Section 31831.1. This paragraph shall not be applicable to any member entering service after December 31, 1977.

(c) Any member who left county service on or after January 1, 1972, and who within 90 days thereafter again became a member of the county system which he left and (1) who did not withdraw his accumulated normal contributions, or (2) who elected to leave his accumulated normal contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700), or (3) who redeposits or redeposited his withdrawn accumulated normal contributions plus interest as authorized by Section 31652 within 180 days after leaving county service, shall be eligible for all benefits granted a member entering a reciprocal retirement system under Article 15 (commencing with Section 31830), except that Section 31831.1 shall not apply to such members.

31831.1. Any member who left county or district service on or before December 31, 1971, and became a member of a retirement system established under this chapter in another county or of the Public Employees' Retirement System, who did not elect to, or was not eligible to, leave his contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700) may now elect to leave his accumulated contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700) by redepositing in the retirement fund of the county or district he left the amount of accumulated contributions and interest he withdrew from such retirement fund plus regular interest thereon from date of separation.

Any such member whose accumulated contributions are on deposit as provided in this section and any other member who left county or district service on or before December 31, 1971, who became a member of a retirement system established under this chapter in another county or of the Public Employees' Retirement System and who elected to leave his accumulated contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700) shall be eligible for the benefits provided in this article, and for purposes of such benefits shall be deemed to have entered membership in such other system within 90 days of his separation from county or employment. The deferred retirement allowance for such member shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this chapter applicable to members retiring directly from county employment on the date of his retirement. Any member who qualifies for a reduced age at entry pursuant to this section shall be entitled to use such age only from and after the date he completes the redeposit as provided in this section or, if he elected to leave his accumulated contributions on deposit pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 31700), from and after the date he notifies the board in writing that he desires the benefits of this section. This section shall not apply to members who are retired or who are not in service of an employer making him a member of a retirement system established under this chapter or of the Public Employees' Retirement System.

Unless this chapter expressly provides to the contrary the retirement allowance received by a member pursuant to this section shall be calculated based upon the laws pertaining to the retirement system of such district or county as of the date of retirement and not the laws pertaining to such system as of the date the member first left county or district service.

This section shall not be applicable to any member entering service after December 31, 1977.

Such permit shall be in the form of a sticker which shall be affixed and displayed upon the outside of the self-contained recreational vehicle. The director shall prescribe, by regulation, the designated coastal beach parking areas where persons with such permits are to park, the procedure for permit application and fee collection, the form and content of the permit, the location and manner of its display, and any other matters deemed by the director to be necessary or desirable in carrying out the provisions of this section, including, but not limited to, restrictions on the length of stay at any one location or the periods when the permit is used in conjunction with day use facilities. The director shall designate such coastal beach parking areas under the program on or before December 31, 1976, and there shall be no additional areas designated nor any intensification of use of any designated area after December 31, 1976.

(b) For purposes of this section, "overnight" means the period of time from one hour before sunset to 9 a.m.

The moneys in the State Beach Overnight Parking Fund shall, when appropriated by the Legislature, be used for the purpose of administering the program, providing facilities and protection for persons parking overnight under the permit issued pursuant to this section.

This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1979, and as of that date is repealed.

CHAPTER 631

An act to amend Sections 33202, 34120, 34286, 34290, and 34292 of, and to add Section 34120.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing and community development, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor August 26, 1976. Filed with Secretary of State August 27, 1976.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33202 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

The legislative body may additionally delegate any of its functions as the governing body of the agency to the community redevelopment commission.

SEC. 2. Section 34120 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

34120. (a) The legislative body may, at the time of the adoption of an ordinance declaring that there is a need for a commission to function in the community or at any time thereafter, by adoption of an ordinance, declare itself to be the commission in which case, all the rights powers, duties, privileges and immunities, vested by this part in a commission, except as otherwise provided in this part, shall be vested in the legislative body of the community.

(b) If the legislative body has declared itself to be the commission, the legislative body shall appoint two additional commissioners who are tenants of the housing authority if the housing authority has tenants. One such tenant commissioner shall be over 62 years of age if the housing authority has tenants of such age. If the housing authority does not have tenants, the legislative body shall, by ordinance, provide for the appointment to the commission of two tenants of the housing authority, one of whom shall be over 62 years of age if the housing authority has tenants of such age, within one year after the housing authority first does have tenants. The term of any tenant appointed pursuant to this subdivision shall be two years from the date of appointment. If a tenant commissioner ceases to be a tenant of the housing authority, he shall be disqualified from serving as a commissioner and another tenant of the housing authority shall be appointed to the remainder of the unexpired term. A tenant commissioner shall have all the powers, duties, privileges, and immunities of any other commissioner.

(c) As an alternative to the appointment of tenants of the housing authority as commissioners pursuant to subdivision (b), if a community development committee is created as provided in Section 34120.5, the governing body may make tenant appointments pursuant to subdivision (b) to the committee, rather than to the commission.

SEC. 3. Section 34120.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

34120.5. (a) A legislative body which has declared itself to be the commission pursuant to Section 34120 may, by ordinance, create a community development committee of not more than seven members, or not more than nine members if tenant appointments are made pursuant to Section 34120. The terms of office, qualifications, and method of appointment and removal shall be as provided by ordinance.

(b) If a community development committee is created, its function shall be to review and make recommendations on all matters to come before the commission prior to commission action, except emergency matters, and matters which the committee, by resolution, excludes from committee review and recommendation. The legislative body may provide for procedures for review and recommendation, and for further functions of the committee, by ordinance or resolution, and may delegate any of its functions as the community development commission to the committee.

SEC. 4. Section 34286 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

34286. Any tenant shall be eligible for appointment as a tenant commissioner of any authority if such person is a tenant in any housing provided by or through such authority pursuant to the provisions of this part, the Temporary Housing Projects Law, Part 4 (commencing with Section 35450) of, or the Farm Labor Center Law, Part 7 (commencing with Section 36050) of, this division. Any tenant shall also be eligible for appointment as one of the commissioners not required to be a tenant commissioner, with all the rights, powers, duties, privileges, and immunities of any other commissioner.

SEC. 5. Section 34290 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

34290. (a) As an alternative to the appointment of commissioners of the authority, the governing body of any county or city, at the time of the adoption of a resolution pursuant to Section 34240 of this chapter or at any time thereafter, may declare itself to be the commissioners of the authority, in which case, all the rights, powers, duties, privileges and immunities, vested by this chapter in the commissioners of an authority, except as otherwise provided in this article, shall be vested in the governing body.

(b) If the governing body of any county or city has declared itself to be the commissioners of the authority, the governing body shall also appoint two tenants of the authority as commissioners if the authority has tenants, or within one year after the authority first does have tenants. One tenant commissioner shall be over 62 years of age if the authority has tenants of such age. Tenant commissioners appointed pursuant to this subdivision shall serve, and their successors shall be appointed, as provided in Section 34272.

(c) As an alternative to appointment of tenants of the authority as commissioners of the authority pursuant to subdivision (b), if a housing commission is created as provided in Section 34291 and does not have more than seven commissioners, the governing body may make tenant appointments pursuant to subdivision (b) to the commission rather than to the authority. In communities where the housing commission also serves as the community redevelopment commission under Section 33201 and has no more than nine members, the governing body may make tenant appointments pursuant to subdivision (b) to such joint commission rather than to the authority.

If a housing commission has more than seven members, or nine members in the case of a joint housing commission and community redevelopment commission, the governing body may, by ordinance, reorganize an existing housing commission by dissolving and appointing the housing commission in order to reduce the number of members of the commission to seven or fewer members, or nine or fewer members, in the case of a joint housing commission and community redevelopment commission, so that the purposes of this subdivision may be carried out.

(d) A tenant commissioner shall have all the rights, powers, duties, privileges, and immunities of any other commissioner.

SEC. 6. Section 34292 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

34292. If a housing commission is created as provided in Section 34291, its function shall be to review and make recommendations on all matters to come before the authority prior to authority action, except emergency matters and matters which the commission, by resolution, excludes from commission review and recommendation.

The governing body may provide for procedures for review and recommendation, and for further functions of the commission, by ordinance or resolution, and may delegate any of its functions as commission of the housing authority to the housing commission created pursuant to Section 34291.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to prevent disruption of local mechanisms for securing a broad community viewpoint in those counties and cities with unified policymaking in the areas of redevelopment and housing, and in order to provide for the efficient management of redevelopment agencies and housing authorities administered by a city council or board of supervisors, it is necessary that this act go into effect as soon as possible.

State shall file a document as of any requested future date not more than 90 days after its receipt, including a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, if the document is received in the Secretary of State's office at least one business day prior to the requested date of filing. The date of filing in such case shall be the date the instrument is received on resubmission.

(c) Any instrument filed with respect to a corporation (other than original articles) may provide that it is to become effective not more than 90 days subsequent to its filing date. In case such a delayed effective date is specified, the instrument may be prevented from becoming effective by a certificate stating that by appropriate corporate action it has been revoked and is null and void, executed in the same manner as the original instrument and filed before the specified effective date. In the case of a merger agreement, such certificate revoking the earlier filing need only be executed on behalf of one of the constituent corporations. SEC. 4.8. Section 189 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

189. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), "subsidiary" of a specified corporation means a corporation shares of which possessing more than 50 percent of the voting power are owned directly or indirectly through one or more subsidiaries by the specified corporation.

(b) For the purpose of Section 703, "subsidiary" of a specified corporation means a corporation shares of which possessing more than 25 percent of the voting power are owned directly or indirectly through one or more subsidiaries as defined in subdivision (a) by the specified corporation.

SEC. 4.9. Section 191 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

191. (a) For the purposes of Chapter 21 (commencing with Section 2100), "transact intrastate business" means entering into repeated and successive transactions of its business in this state, other than interstate or foreign commerce.

(b) A foreign corporation shall not be considered to be transacting intrastate business merely because its subsidiary transacts intrastate business.

(c) Without excluding other activities which may not constitute transacting intrastate business, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be transacting intrastate business within the meaning of subdivision (a) solely by reason of carrying on in this state any one or more of the following activities:

(1) Maintaining or defending any action or suit or any administrative or arbitration proceeding, or effecting the settlement thereof or the settlement of claims or disputes.

(2) Holding meetings of its board or shareholders or carrying on other activities concerning its internal affairs.

(8) Conducting an isolated transaction completed within a period of 180 days and not in the course of a number of repeated transactions of like nature.

(d) Without excluding other activities which may not constitute transacting intrastate business, any foreign lending institution, including, but not limited to: any foreign banking corporation, any foreign corporation all of the capital stock of which is owned by one or more foreign banking corporations, any foreign savings and loan association, any foreign insurance company or any foreign corporation or association authorized by its charter to invest in loans secured by real and personal property, whether organized under the laws of the United States or of any other state, district or territory of the United States, shall not be considered to be doing, transacting or engaging in business in this state solely by reason of engaging in any or all of the following activities either on its own behalf or as a trustee of a pension plan, employee profit sharing or retirement plan, testamentary or inter vivos trust, or in any other fiduciary capacity:

(1) The acquisition by purchase, by contract to purchase, by making of advance commitments to purchase or by assignment of loans, secured or unsecured, or any interest therein, if such activities are carried on from outside this state by the lending institution.

(5) The engaging by contractual arrangement of a corporation, firm or association, qualified to do business in this state, which is not a subsidiary or parent of the lending institution and which is not under common management with the lending institution, to make collections and to service loans in any manner whatsoever, including the payment of ground rents, taxes, assessments, insurance and the like and the making, on behalf of the lending institution, of physical inspections and appraisals of real or personal property securing any loans or proposed to secure any loans, and the performance of any such engagement.

(6) The acquisition of title to the real or personal property covered by any mortgage, deed of trust or other security instrument by trustee's sale, judicial sale, foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure, or for the purpose of transferring title to any federal agency or instrumentality as the insurer or guarantor of any loan, and the retention of title to any real or personal property so acquired pending the orderly sale or other disposition thereof.

(7) The engaging in activities necessary or appropriate to carry out any of the foregoing activities.

Nothing contained in this subdivision shall be construed to permit any foreign banking corporation to maintain an office in this state otherwise than as provided by the laws of this state or to limit the powers conferred upon any foreign banking corporation as set forth in the laws of this state or to permit any foreign lending institution to maintain an office in this state except as otherwise permitted under the laws of this state.

SEC. 5. Section 192 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

192. "Vacancy" when used with respect to the board means any authorized position of director which is not then filled by a duly elected director, whether caused by death, resignation, removal, change in the authorized number of directors (by the board or the shareholders) or otherwise.

SEC. 5.5. Section 194 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

194. "Vote" includes authorization by written consent, subject to the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 307 and subdivision (d) of Section 603.

SEC. 6. Section 194.5 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

194.5. "Voting power" means the power to vote for the election of directors at the time any determination of voting power is made and does not include the right to vote upon the happening of some condition or event which has not yet occurred. In any case where different classes of shares are entitled to vote as separate classes for different members of the board, the determination of percentage of voting power shall be made on the basis of the percentage of the total number of authorized directors which the shares in question (whether of one or more classes) have the power to elect in an election at which all shares then entitled to vote for the election of any directors are voted.

SEC. 6.2. Section 204 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

204. The articles of incorporation may set forth:

(a) Any or all of the following provisions, which shall not be effective unless expressly provided in the articles:

(1) Granting, with or without limitations, the power to levy assessments upon the shares or any class of shares;

(2) Granting to shareholders preemptive rights to subscribe to any or all issues of shares or securities;

(3) Special qualifications of persons who may be shareholders;

(4) A provision limiting the duration of the corporation's existence to a specified date;

(5) A provision requiring, for any or all corporate actions (except as provided in Section 303, subdivision (c) of Section 708 and Section 1900) the vote of a larger proportion or of all of the shares of any class or series, or of a larger proportion or of all of the directors, than is otherwise required by this division;

(6) A provision limiting or restricting the business in which the corporation may engage or the powers which the corporation may exercise or both;

(7) A provision conferring upon the holders of any evidences of indebtedness, issued or to be issued by the corporation, the right to vote in the election of directors and on any other matters on which shareholders may vote;

(8) A provision conferring upon shareholders the right to determine the consideration for which shares shall be issued.

(9) A provision requiring the approval of the shareholders (Section 153) or the approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) for any corporate action, even though not otherwise required by this division.

Notwithstanding this subdivision, in the case of a close corporation any of the provisions referred to above may be validly included in a shareholders' agreement. Notwithstanding this subdivision, bylaws may require for all or any actions by the board the affirmative vote of a majority of the authorized number of directors. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall affect the enforceability, as between the parties thereto, of any lawful agreement not otherwise contrary to public policy.

(b) Reasonable restrictions upon the right to transfer or hypothecate shares of any class or classes or series, but no restriction shall be binding with respect to shares issued prior to the adoption of the restriction unless the holders of such shares voted in favor of the restriction.

(c) The names and addresses of the persons appointed to act as initial directors.

(d) Any other provision, not in conflict with law, for the management of the business and for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, including any provision which is required or permitted by this division to be stated in the bylaws.

SEC. 6.6. Section 212 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

212. (a) The bylaws shall set forth (unless such provision is contained in the articles, in which case it may only be changed by an amendment of the articles) the number of directors of the corporation; or that the number of directors shall be not less than a stated minimum nor more than a stated maximum (which in no case shall be greater than two times the stated minimum minus one), with the exact number of directors to be fixed, within the limits specified, by approval of the board or the shareholders (Section 153) in the manner provided in the bylaws, subject to paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 204. The number or minimum number of directors shall not be less than three; provided, however, that (1) before shares are issued, the number may be one, (2) before shares are issued, the number may be two, (3) so long as the corporation has only one shareholder, the number may be one, (4) so long as the corporation has only one shareholder, the number may be two, and (5) so long as the corporation has only two shareholders, the number may be two. After the issuance of shares, a bylaw specifying or changing a fixed number of directors or the maximum or minimum number or changing from a fixed to a variable board or vice versa may only be adopted by approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152); provided, however, that a bylaw or amendment of the articles reducing the number or the minimum number of directors to a number less than five cannot be adopted if the votes cast against its adoption at a meeting or the shares not consenting in the case of action by written consent are equal to more than 16⅔ percent of the outstanding shares entitled to vote.

(b) The bylaws may contain any provision, not in conflict with law or the articles for the management of the business and for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, including but not limited to:

(1) Any provision referred to in subdivision (b), (c) or (d) of Section 204.

(2) The time, place and manner of calling, conducting and giving notice of shareholders', directors' and committee meetings.

(3) The manner of execution, revocation and use of proxies.

(4) The qualifications, duties and compensation of directors; the time of their annual election; and the requirements of a quorum for directors' and committee meetings.

(5) The appointment and authority of committees of the board.

(6) The appointment, duties, compensation and tenure of officers.

(7) The mode of determination of holders of record of its shares.

(8) The making of annual reports and financial statements to the shareholders.

SEC. 7. Section 300 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

300. (a) Subject to the provisions of this division and any limitations in the articles relating to action required to be approved by the shareholders (Section 153) or by the outstanding shares (Section 152), the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and all corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the direction of the board. The board may delegate the management of the day-to-day operation of the business of the corporation to a management company or other person provided that the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and all corporate powers shall be exercised under the ultimate direction of the board.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) or any other provision of this division, but subject to subdivision (c), no shareholders' agreement, which relates to any phase of the affairs of a close corporation, including but not limited to management of its business, division of its profits or distribution of its assets on liquidation, shall be invalid as between the parties thereto on the ground that it so relates to the conduct of the affairs of the corporation as to interfere with the discretion of the board or that it is an attempt to treat the corporation as if it were a partnership or to arrange their relationships in a manner that would be appropriate only between partners. A transferee of shares covered by such an agreement which is filed with the secretary of the corporation for inspection by any prospective purchaser of shares, who has actual knowledge thereof or notice thereof by a notation on the certificate pursuant to Section 418, is bound by its provisions and is a party thereto for the purposes of subdivision (d). Original issuance of shares by the corporation to a new shareholder who does not become a party to the agreement terminates the agreement, except that if the agreement so provides it shall continue to the extent it is enforceable apart from this subdivision. The agreement may not be modified, extended or revoked without the consent of such a transferee, subject to any provision of the agreement permitting modification, extension or revocation by less than unanimous agreement of the parties. A transferor of shares covered by such an agreement ceases to be a party thereto upon ceasing to be a shareholder of the corporation unless the transferor is a party thereto other than as a shareholder. An agreement made pursuant to this subdivision shall terminate when the corporation ceases to be a close corporation, except that if the agreement so provides it shall continue to the extent it is enforceable apart from this subdivision. This subdivision does not apply to an agreement authorized by subdivision (a) of Section 706.

(c) No agreement entered into pursuant to subdivision (b) may alter or waive any of the provisions of Sections 158, 500, 501, and 1111, subdivision (e) of Section 1201, Sections 2009, 2010, and 2011, or of Chapters 15 (commencing with Section 1500), 16 (commencing with Section 1600), 18 (commencing with Section 1800), and 22 (commencing with Section 2200). All other provisions of this division may be altered or waived as between the parties thereto in a shareholders' agreement, except the required filing of any document with the Secretary of State.

(d) An agreement of the type referred to in subdivision (b) shall, to the extent and so long as the discretion or powers of the board in its management of corporate affairs is controlled by such agreement, impose upon each shareholder who is a party thereto liability for managerial acts performed or omitted by such person pursuant thereto that is otherwise imposed by this division upon directors, and the directors shall be relieved to that extent from such liability.

(e) The failure of a close corporation to observe corporate formalities relating to meetings of directors or shareholders in connection with the management of its affairs, pursuant to an agreement authorized by subdivision (b), shall not be considered a factor tending to establish that the shareholders have personal liability for corporate obligations.

SEC. 7.5. Section 305 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

305. (a) Unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws and except for a vacancy created by the removal of a director, vacancies on the board may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, whether or not less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director. Unless the articles or a bylaw adopted by the shareholders provide that the board may fill vacancies occurring in the board by reason of the removal of directors, such vacancies may be filled only by approval of the shareholders (Section 153).

(b) The shareholders may elect a director at any time to fill any vacancy not filled by the directors. Any such election by written consent requires the consent of a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote.

(c) If, after the filling of any vacancy by the directors, the directors then in office who have been elected by the shareholders shall constitute less than a majority of the directors then in office,

(1) Any holder or holders of an aggregate of 5 percent or more of the total number of shares at the time outstanding having the right to vote for such directors may call a special meeting of shareholders, or

(2) The superior court of the proper county shall, upon application of such shareholder or shareholders, summarily order a special meeting of shareholders, to be held to elect the entire board. The term of office of any director shall terminate upon such election of a successor.

The hearing on any application filed pursuant to this subdivision shall be held on not less than 10 business days' notice to the corporation. If the corporation intends to oppose the application, it shall file with the court a notice of opposition not later than five business days prior to the date set for the hearing. The application and any notice of opposition shall be supported by appropriate affidavits and the court's determination shall be made on the basis of the papers in the record; but, for good cause shown, the court may receive and consider at the hearing additional evidence, oral or documentary, and additional points and authorities. The hearing shall take precedence over all other matters not of a similar nature pending on the date set for the hearing.

(d) Any director may resign effective upon giving written notice to the chairman of the board, the president, the secretary or the board of directors of the corporation, unless the notice specifies a later time for the effectiveness of such resignation. If the resignation is effective at a future time, a successor may be elected to take office when the resignation becomes effective.

SEC. 8. Section 307 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

307. (a) Unless otherwise provided in the articles or (subject to paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 204) in the bylaws:

(1) Meetings of the board may be called by the chairman of the board or the president or any vice president or the secretary or any two directors.

(2) Regular meetings of the board may be held without notice if the time and place of such meetings are fixed by the bylaws or the board. Special meetings of the board shall be held upon four days' notice by mail or 48 hours' notice delivered personally or by telephone or telegraph. The articles or bylaws may not dispense with notice of a special meeting. A notice, or waiver of notice, need not specify the purpose of any regular or special meeting of the board.

(3) Notice of a meeting need not be given to any director who signs a waiver of notice, whether before or after the meeting, or who attends the meeting without protesting, prior thereto or at its commencement, the lack of notice to such director.

(4) A majority of the directors present, whether or not a quorum is present, may adjourn any meeting to another time and place. If the meeting is adjourned for more than 24 hours, notice of any adjournment to another time or place shall be given prior to the time of the adjourned meeting to the directors who were not present at the time of the adjournment.

(5) Meetings of the board may be held at any place within or without the state which has been designated in the notice of the meeting or, if not stated in the notice or there is no notice, designated in the bylaws or by resolution of the board.

(6) Members of the board may participate in a meeting through use of conference telephone or similar communications equipment, so long as all members participating in such meeting can hear one another. Participation in a meeting pursuant to this subdivision constitutes presence in person at such meeting.

(7) A majority of the authorized number of directors constitutes a quorum of the board for the transaction of business. The articles or bylaws may not provide that a quorum shall be less than one-third the authorized number of directors or less than two, whichever is larger, unless the authorized number of directors is one, in which case one director constitutes a quorum.

(8) Every act or decision done or made by a majority of the directors present at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present is the act of the board, subject to the provisions of Section 310 and subdivision (e) of Section 317. The articles or bylaws may not provide that a lesser vote than a majority of the directors present at a meeting is the act of the board. A meeting at which a quorum is initially present may continue to transact business notwithstanding the withdrawal of directors, if any action taken is approved by at least a majority of the required quorum for such meeting.

(b) The transactions of any meeting of the board, however called and noticed or wherever held, are as valid as though had at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice if a quorum is present and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, a consent to holding the meeting or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents and approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

(c) Any action required or permitted to be taken by the board may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the board shall individually or collectively consent in writing to such action. Such written consent or consents shall be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the board. Such action by written consent shall have the same force and effect as a unanimous vote of such directors.

(d) The provisions of this section apply also to committees of the board and action by such committees, mutatis mutandis.

SEC. 9. Section 308 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

308. (a) If a corporation has an even number of directors who are equally divided and cannot agree as to the management of its affairs, so that its business can no longer be conducted to advantage or so that there is danger that its property and business will be impaired or lost, the superior court of the proper county may, notwithstanding any provisions of the articles or bylaws and whether or not an action is pending for an involuntary winding up or dissolution of the corporation, appoint a provisional director pursuant to this section. Action for such appointment may be brought by any director or by the holders of not less than 33⅓ percent of the voting power.

(b) If a corporation has an uneven number of directors and the shareholders are deadlocked so that they cannot elect a successor board at an annual meeting of shareholders, the superior court of the proper county may, notwithstanding any provisions of the articles or bylaws, upon petition of a shareholder or shareholders holding 50 percent of the voting power, appoint a provisional director or directors pursuant to this section or order such other equitable relief as the court deems appropriate.

(c) A provisional director shall be an impartial person, who is neither a shareholder nor a creditor of the corporation, nor related by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree according to the common law to any of the other directors of the corporation or to any judge of the court by which such provisional director is appointed. A provisional director shall have all the rights and powers of a director until the deadlock in the board or among shareholders is broken or until such provisional director is removed by order of the court or by approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152). Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as shall be fixed by the court unless otherwise agreed with the corporation.

(d) This section does not apply to corporations subject to the Banking Law (Division 1 (commencing with Section 99) of the Financial Code) or the Public Utilities Act (Part 1 (commencing with Section 201) of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code).

SEC. 9.5. Section 309 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

309. (a) A director shall perform the duties of a director, including duties as a member of any committee of the board upon which the director may serve, in good faith, in a manner such director believes to be in the best interests of the corporation and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances.

(b) In performing the duties of a director, a director shall be entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, in each case prepared or presented by:

(1) One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented,

(2) Counsel, independent accountants or other persons as to matters which the director believes to be within such person's professional or expert competence, or

(3) A committee of the board upon which the director does not serve, as to matters within its designated authority, which committee the director believes to merit confidence, so long as, in any such case, the director acts in good faith, after reasonable inquiry when the need therefor is indicated by the circumstances and without knowledge that would cause such reliance to be unwarranted.

(c) A person who performs the duties of a director in accordance with subdivisions (a) and (b) shall have no liability based upon any alleged failure to discharge the person's obligations as a director.

SEC. 10. Section 310 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

310. (a) No contract or other transaction between a corporation and one or more of its directors, or between a corporation and any corporation, firm or association in which one or more of its directors has a material financial interest, is either void or voidable because such director or directors or such other corporation, firm or association are parties or because such director or directors are present at the meeting of the board or a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, if

(1) The material facts as to the transaction and as to such director's interest are fully disclosed or known to the shareholders and such contract or transaction is approved by the shareholders (Section 153) in good faith, with the shares owned by the interested director or directors not being entitled to vote thereon, or

(2) The material facts as to the transaction and as to such director's interest are fully disclosed or known to the board or committee, and the board or committee authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient without counting the vote of the interested director or directors and the contract or transaction is just and reasonable as to the corporation at the time it is authorized, approved or ratified, or

(3) As to contracts or transactions not approved as provided in paragraph (1) or (2) of this subdivision, the person asserting the validity of the contract or transaction sustains the burden of proving that the contract or transaction was just and reasonable as to the corporation at the time it was authorized, approved or ratified.

A mere common directorship does not constitute a material financial interest within the meaning of this subdivision. A director is not interested within the meaning of this subdivision in a resolution fixing the compensation of another director as a director, officer or employee of the corporation, notwithstanding the fact that the first director is also receiving compensation from the corporation.

(b) No contract or other transaction between a corporation and any corporation or association of which one or more of its directors are directors is either void or voidable because such director or directors are present at the meeting of the board or a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction, if

(1) The material facts as to the transaction and as to such director's other directorship are fully disclosed or known to the board or committee, and the board or committee authorizes, approves or ratifies the contract or transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient without counting the vote of the common director or directors or the contract or transaction is approved by the shareholders (Section 153) in good faith, or

(2) As to contracts or transactions not approved as provided in paragraph (1) of this subdivision, the contract or transaction is just and reasonable as to the corporation at the time it is authorized, approved or ratified.

This subdivision does not apply to contracts or transactions covered by subdivision (a).

(c) Interested or common directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the board or a committee thereof which authorizes, approves or ratifies a contract or transaction.

SEC. 10.5. Section 312 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

312. (a) A corporation shall have a chairman of the board or a president or both, a secretary, a chief financial officer and such other officers with such titles and duties as shall be stated in the bylaws or determined by the board and as may be necessary to enable it to sign instruments and share certificates. The president, or if there is no president the chairman of the board, is the general manager and chief executive officer of the corporation, unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws. Any number of offices may be held by the same person unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by the articles or bylaws, officers shall be chosen by the board and serve at the pleasure of the board, subject to the rights, if any, of an officer under any contract of employment. Any officer may resign at any time upon written notice to the corporation without prejudice to the rights, if any, of the corporation under any contract to which the officer is a party.

SEC. 10.7. Section 316 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

316. (a) Subject to the provisions of Section 309, directors of a corporation who approve any of the following corporate actions shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the benefit of all of the creditors or shareholders entitled to institute an action under subdivision (c):

(1) The making of any distribution to its shareholders to the extent that it is contrary to the provisions of Sections 500 to 503, inclusive.

(2) The distribution of assets to shareholders after institution of dissolution proceedings of the corporation, without paying or adequately providing for all known liabilities of the corporation, excluding any claims not filed by creditors within the time limit set in a notice given to creditors under Chapters 18 (commencing with Section 1800), 19 (commencing with Section 1900) and 20 (commencing with Section 2000).

(3) The making of any loan or guaranty contrary to Section 315.

(b) A director who is present at a meeting of the board, or any committee thereof, at which action specified in subdivision (a) is taken and who abstains from voting shall be considered to have approved the action.

(c) Suit may be brought in the name of the corporation to enforce the liability (1) under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) against any or all directors liable by the persons entitled to sue under subdivision

(b) of Section 506, (2) under paragraph (2) or (3) of subdivision (a) against any or all directors liable by any one or more creditors of the corporation whose debts or claims arose prior to the time of any of the corporate actions specified in paragraph (2) or (3) of subdivision (a) and who have not consented to the corporate action, whether or not they have reduced their claims to judgment, or (3) under paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) against any or all directors liable by any one or more holders of shares outstanding at the time of any corporate action specified in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) who have not consented to the corporate action, without regard to the provisions of Section 800.

(d) The damages recoverable from a director under this section shall be the amount of the illegal distribution or the loss suffered by the corporation as a result of the illegal loan or guaranty, as the case may be, but not exceeding the liabilities of the corporation owed to nonconsenting creditors at the time of the violation and the injury suffered by nonconsenting shareholders, as the case may be.

(e) Any director sued under this section may implead all other directors liable and may compel contribution, either in that action or in an independent action against directors not joined in that action.

(f) Directors liable under this section shall also be entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the corporation:

(1) With respect to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), against shareholders who received the distribution.

(2) With respect to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), against shareholders who received the distribution of assets.

(3) With respect to paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), against the person who received the loan or guaranty.

Any director sued under this section may file a cross-complaint against the person or persons who are liable to such director as a result of the subrogation provided for in this subdivision or may proceed against them in an independent action.

SEC. 11. Section 317 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

317. (a) For the purposes of this section, "agent" means any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or other agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another foreign or domestic corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, or was a director, officer, employee or agent of a foreign or domestic corporation which was a predecessor corporation of the corporation or of another enterprise at the request of such predecessor corporation; "proceeding" means any threatened, pending or completed action or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative; and "expenses" includes without limitation attorneys' fees and any expenses of establishing a right to indemnification under subdivision (d) or paragraph (3) of subdivision (e).

(b) A corporation shall have power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any proceeding (other than an action by or in the right of the corporation) by reason of the fact that such person is or was an agent of the corporation, against expenses, judgments, fines, settlements and other amounts actually and reasonably incurred in connection with such proceeding if such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the corporation and, in the case of a criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the conduct of such person was unlawful. The termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which the person reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the corporation or that the person had reasonable cause to believe that the person's conduct was unlawful.

(c) A corporation shall have power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that such person is or was an agent of the corporation, against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action if such person acted in good faith, in a manner such person believed to be in the best interests of the corporation and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances. No indemnification shall be made under this subdivision (c):

(1) In respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation in the performance of such person's duty to the corporation, unless and only to the extent that the court in which such action was brought shall determine upon application that, in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for the expenses which such court shall determine;

(2) Of amounts paid in settling or otherwise disposing of a threatened or pending action, with or without court approval; or

(3) Of expenses incurred in defending a threatened or pending action which is settled or otherwise disposed of without court approval.

(d) To the extent that an agent of a corporation has been successful on the merits in defense of any proceeding referred to in subdivision (b) or (c) or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, the agent shall be indemnified against expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the agent in connection therewith.

(e) Except as provided in subdivision (d), any indemnification under this section shall be made by the corporation only if authorized in the specific case, upon a determination that indemnification of the agent is proper in the circumstances because the agent has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in subdivision (b) or (c), by:

(1) A majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who are not parties to such proceeding;

(2) Approval of the shareholders (Section 153), with the shares owned by the person to be indemnified not being entitled to vote thereon; or

(3) The court in which such proceeding is or was pending upon application made by the corporation or the agent or the attorney or other person rendering services in connection with the defense, whether or not such application by the agent, attorney or other person is opposed by the corporation.

(f) Expenses incurred in defending any proceeding may be advanced by the corporation prior to the final disposition of such proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the agent to repay such amount unless it shall be determined ultimately that the agent is entitled to be indemnified as authorized in this section.

(g) No provision made by a corporation to indemnify its or its subsidiary's directors or officers for the defense of any proceeding, whether contained in the articles, bylaws, a resolution of shareholders or directors, an agreement or otherwise, shall be valid unless consistent with this section. Nothing contained in this section shall affect any right to indemnification to which persons other than such directors and officers may be entitled by contract or otherwise.

(h) No indemnification or advance shall be made under this section, except as provided in subdivision (d) or paragraph (3) of subdivision (e), in any circumstance where it appears:

(1) That it would be inconsistent with a provision of the articles, bylaws, a resolution of the shareholders or an agreement in effect at the time of the accrual of the alleged cause of action asserted in the proceeding in which the expenses were incurred or other amounts were paid, which prohibits or otherwise limits indemnification; or

(2) That it would be inconsistent with any condition expressly imposed by a court in approving a settlement.

(i) A corporation shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any agent of the corporation against any liability asserted against or incurred by the agent in such capacity or arising out of the agent's status as such whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify the agent against such liability under the provisions of this section.

(j) This section does not apply to any proceeding against any trustee, investment manager or other fiduciary of an employee benefit plan in such person's capacity as such, even though such person may also be an agent as defined in subdivision (a) of the employer corporation. Nothing contained in this section shall limit any right to indemnification to which such a trustee, investment manager or other fiduciary may be entitled by contract or otherwise, which shall be enforceable to the extent permitted by applicable law other than this section.

SEC. 11.3. Section 400 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

400. (a) A corporation may issue one or more classes or series of shares or both, with full, limited or no voting rights and with such other rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions as are stated or authorized in its articles. No denial or limitation of voting rights shall be effective unless at the time one or more classes or series of outstanding shares or debt securities, singly or in the aggregate, are entitled to full voting rights; and no denial or limitation of dividend or liquidation rights shall be effective unless at the time one or more classes or series of outstanding shares, singly or in the aggregate, are entitled to unlimited dividend and liquidation rights.

(b) All shares of any one class shall have the same voting, conversion and redemption rights and other rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions, unless the class is divided into series. If a class is divided into series, all the shares of any one series shall have the same voting, conversion and redemption rights and other rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions.

SEC. 11.6. Section 402 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

402. (a) A corporation may provide in its articles for one or more classes or series of shares which are redeemable, in whole or in part, at the option of the corporation only (except as provided in subdivision (b)), at such price or prices, within such time or upon the happening of one or more specified events and upon such terms and conditions as are stated in the articles.

(b) A corporation shall not issue redeemable or other shares which purport by their terms to grant to any holder thereof the right to compel the corporation to redeem such shares, except that an open-end investment company registered under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940 may, if its articles so provide, issue shares which are redeemable at the option of the holder at a price approximately equal to the shares' proportionate interest in the net assets of the corporation and a shareholder may compel redemption of such shares in accordance with their terms.

(c) No redeemable common shares, other than (1) those authorized under subdivision (b), (2) shares of a corporation which has a license or franchise from a governmental agency to conduct its business or is a member corporation of a national securities exchange registered under the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which license, franchise or membership is conditioned upon some or all of the holders of its stock possessing prescribed qualifications, to the extent necessary to prevent the loss of such license, franchise or membership or to reinstate it, or (3) shares of a professional corporation as defined in Part 4 (commencing with Section 13400) of Division 3 of this title, shall be issued or redeemed unless the corporation at the time has outstanding a class of common shares that is not subject to redemption.

creating a sinking fund or similar provision for, or entering into an agreement for, the redemption or purchase of its shares to the extent permitted by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 500).

SEC. 12. Section 407 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

407. A corporation may, but is not required to, issue fractions of a share originally or upon transfer. If it does not issue fractions of a share, it shall in connection with any original issuance of shares (a) arrange for the disposition of fractional interests by those entitled thereto, (b) pay in cash the fair value of fractions of a share as of the time when those entitled to receive such fractions are determined or (c) issue scrip or warrants in registered or bearer form which shall entitle the holder to receive a certificate for a full share upon the surrender of such scrip or warrants aggregating a full share; provided, however, that, if the fraction of a share which any person would otherwise be entitled to receive in a merger or reorganization is less than one-half of 1 percent of the total shares such person is entitled to receive, a merger or reorganization agreement may provide that fractions of a share will be disregarded or that shares issuable in the merger will be rounded off to the nearest whole share; and provided, further, that a corporation may not pay cash for fractional shares if such action would result in the cancellation of more than 10 percent of the outstanding shares of any class. A determination by the board of the fair value of fractions of a share shall be conclusive in the absence of fraud. A certificate for a fractional share shall, but scrip or warrants shall not unless otherwise provided therein, entitle the holder to exercise voting rights, to receive dividends thereon and to participate in any of the assets of the corporation in the event of liquidation. The board may cause scrip or warrants to be issued subject to the condition that they shall become void if not exchanged for certificates representing full shares before a specified date or that the shares for which scrip or warrants are exchangeable may be sold by the corporation and the proceeds thereof distributed to the holder of the scrip or warrants or any other condition which the board may impose.

SEC. 13. Section 423 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

423. (a) Shares are not assessable except as provided in this section or as otherwise provided by a statute other than this division. If the articles expressly confer such authority upon the corporation or the board, and subject to any limitations therein contained, the board may in its discretion levy and collect assessments upon all shares of any or all classes made subject to assessment by the articles. This authority is in addition to the right of the corporation to recover the unpaid subscription price of shares or the remainder of the consideration to be paid therefor.

(b) Every levy of an assessment shall: specify the amount thereof and to whom and where it is payable; fix, or if proceedings or filings with any governmental or other agency for any qualification, registration or exemption therefrom are required as a condition precedent to the levy or payment of an assessment provide for the establishment of, a date on which the assessment is payable; fix a date, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days from the date on which the assessment is payable, on which such assessment becomes delinquent if not paid; and fix a date, not less than 15 nor more than 60 days from the date on which the unpaid assessment becomes delinquent, for the sale of delinquent shares. The levy also shall fix the hour and place of sale, which place shall be in the county where the corporation is required to keep a copy of its bylaws pursuant to Section 213, or if there is no such county, in Sacramento.

(c) On or before the date an assessment is payable, the secretary of the corporation shall give notice thereof in substantially the following form:

(Name of corporation in full. Location of principal executive office.)

Notice is hereby given that the board of directors on (date) has levied an assessment of (amount) per share upon the (name or designation of class or series of shares) of the corporation payable (to whom and where). Any shares upon which this assessment remains unpaid on (date fixed) will be delinquent. Unless payment is made prior to delinquency, the said shares, or as many of them as may be necessary, will be sold at (particular place) on (date) at (hour) of such day, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with a penalty of 5 percent of the amount of the assessment on such shares, or be forfeited to the corporation. (Name of secretary with location of office.)

(d) The notice shall be served personally upon each holder of record of shares assessed; provided, however, that in lieu of personal service the notice may be mailed to each such shareholder addressed to the last address of the shareholder appearing on the books of the corporation or given by the shareholder to the corporation for the purpose of notice, or if no such address appears or is given, at the place where the principal executive office of the corporation is located, and published once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the principal executive office of the corporation is located. If there is no such newspaper in such county, the publication shall be made in some newspaper of general circulation in an adjoining county.

(e) The assessment is a lien upon the shares assessed from the time of personal service or the publication of the notice of assessment, unless the articles provide for such lien from the time of the levy. Unless otherwise provided by law, a transfer of the shares on the books of the corporation after the lien of an assessment has attached is a waiver of the lien unless a conspicuous legend is placed on the face of any certificate issued upon such transfer setting forth the information contained in the notice required by subdivision (c). Such legend shall be removed if the assessment on the shares evidenced by the certificate is paid or if the shares are sold to pay the assessment or forfeited for nonpayment.

(f) The date of sale of delinquent shares fixed in any levy of an assessment may be extended from time to time for not more than 30 days at a time by order of the board entered on the records of the corporation, or when the sale is restrained by order of a court. Notice of such extension shall be given by announcement by the secretary, or other person authorized to conduct the sale, made at the time and place of sale last theretofore fixed.

If a date of sale of delinquent shares is extended for more than five days the corporation shall cause a notice to be mailed to the shareholder or shareholders whose shares are to be the subject of such sale setting forth the date and time to which the date of sale has been extended.

(g) If payment is made after delinquency and before the sale, the shareholder shall pay a penalty of 5 percent of the amount of the assessment on the shares in addition to the assessment.

(h) At the place and time appointed in the notice of levy any officer or an agent of the corporation, shall, unless otherwise ordered by the board, sell or cause to be sold to the highest bidder for cash as many shares of each delinquent holder of the assessed shares as may be necessary to pay the assessment and charges thereon according to the notice.

The person offering at the sale to pay the assessment and penalty for the smallest number of shares is the highest bidder. The shares purchased shall be transferred to the highest bidder on the share register of the corporation on the payment of the assessment and penalty and a new certificate therefor issued to such highest bidder.

A corporation is not required to accept an offer for a fraction of a share.

(i) If no bidder offers to pay the amount due on the shares, together with the penalty of 5 percent thereof, the shares shall be forfeited to the corporation in satisfaction of the assessment and penalty thereon.

(j) After a sale or forfeiture of shares for nonpayment of an assessment, the holder or owner of delinquent shares shall surrender the certificate for such shares to the corporation for cancellation. This duty may be enforced by order or decree of court and such holder or owner shall be liable for damages to the corporation for failure to surrender the certificate for cancellation upon demand without good cause or excuse.

Any certificate not so surrendered forthwith becomes null and void and ceases to be evidence of the right or title of the holder or any transferee to the shares purporting to be represented thereby, and neither the corporation nor the purchaser of such shares incurs any liability thereon to any such transferee.

The purchaser of any shares, at a sale for delinquent assessments thereon, whenever made, is entitled to the issue of a new certificate representing the shares so purchased.

(k) The certificate of the secretary or assistant secretary of the corporation is prima facie evidence of the time and place of sale and any postponement thereof, of the quantity and particular description of the shares sold, to whom, for what price, and of the fact of payment of the purchase money. The certificate shall be filed in the office of the corporation, and copies of the certificate, certified by the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

(l) An assessment is not invalidated by a failure to publish the notice of assessment, nor by the nonperformance of any act required in order to enforce the payment of the assessment; but in case of any substantial error or omission in the course of proceedings for collection of an assessment on any shares, all previous proceedings, except the levy of the assessment, are void as to such shares, and shall be taken anew.

(m) No action shall be maintained to recover shares sold for delinquent assessments, upon the ground of irregularity in the assessment, irregularity or defect of the notice of sale, or defect or irregularity in the sale, unless the party seeking to maintain the action first pays or tenders to the corporation, or the party holding the shares sold, the sum for which the shares were sold, together with all subsequent assessments which may have been paid thereon and interest on such sums from the time they were paid. No such action shall be maintained unless it is commenced by the filing of a complaint and the issuing of a summons thereon within six months after the sale was made.

(n) The only remedy for the collection of an assessment on fully paid shares is sale or forfeiture of the shares unless (1) remedy by action is expressly authorized in the original articles or by an amendment of the articles adopted before August 21, 1933, or by an amendment adopted on or after August 21, 1933, by unanimous consent of the shareholders, and (2) unless a statement of such remedy appears on the face of any share certificate issued on or after August 21, 1933.

SEC. 14. Section 500 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

500. Neither a corporation nor any of its subsidiaries shall make any distribution to the corporation's shareholders (Section 166) unless:

(a) The amount of the retained earnings of the corporation immediately prior thereto equals or exceeds the amount of the proposed distribution; or

(b) Immediately after giving effect thereto:

(1) The sum of the assets of the corporation (exclusive of goodwill, capitalized research and development expenses and deferred charges) would be at least equal to 1¼ times its liabilities (not including deferred taxes, deferred income and other deferred credits); and

(2) The current assets of the corporation would be at least equal to its current liabilities or, if the average of the earnings of the corporation before taxes on income and before interest expense for the two preceding fiscal years was less than the average of the interest expense of the corporation for such fiscal years, at least equal to 1¼ times its current liabilities; provided, however, that in determining the amount of the assets of the corporation no appreciation in value not yet realized shall in any event be included, except with respect to readily marketable securities, and profits derived from an exchange of assets shall not be included unless the assets received are currently realizable in cash; and provided, further, that for the purpose of this subdivision "current assets" may include net amounts which the board has determined in good faith may reasonably be expected to be received from customers during the 12-month period used in calculating current liabilities pursuant to existing contractual relationships obligating such customers to make fixed or periodic payments during the term of the contract or, in the case of public utilities, pursuant to service connections with customers, after in each case giving effect to future costs not then included in current liabilities but reasonably expected to be incurred by the corporation in performing such contracts or providing service to utility customers. The amount of any distribution payable in property shall, for the purpose of this chapter, be determined on the basis of the value at which such property is carried on the corporation's financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) is not applicable to a corporation which does not classify its assets into current and fixed under generally accepted accounting principles.

SEC. 15. Section 502 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

502. Neither a corporation nor any of its subsidiaries shall make any distribution to the corporation's shareholders (Section 166) on any shares of its stock of any class or series which are junior to outstanding shares of any other class or series with respect to distribution of assets on liquidation if, after giving effect thereto, the excess of its assets (exclusive of goodwill, capitalized research and development expenses and deferred charges) over its liabilities (not including deferred taxes, deferred income and other deferred credits) would be less than the liquidation preference of all shares having a preference on liquidation over the class or series to which the distribution is made.

SEC. 15.3. Section 504 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

504. The provisions of Section 500 do not apply to any dividend declared by a regulated investment company, as defined in the United States Internal Revenue Code, to the extent that the dividend is necessary to maintain the status of the corporation as a regulated investment company under the provisions of that code. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to any purchase or redemption of shares redeemable at the option of the holder by a registered open-end investment company under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940, so long as the right of redemption remains unsuspended under the provisions of that statute and the articles and bylaws of the corporation.

SEC. 15.5. Section 506 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

506. (a) Any shareholder who receives any distribution prohibited by this chapter with knowledge of facts indicating the impropriety thereof is liable to the corporation for the benefit of all of the creditors or shareholders entitled to institute an action under subdivision (b) for the amount so received by such shareholder with interest thereon at the legal rate on judgments until paid, but not exceeding the liabilities of the corporation owed to nonconsenting creditors at the time of the violation and the injury suffered by nonconsenting shareholders, as the case may be.

(b) Suit may be brought in the name of the corporation to enforce the liability (1) to creditors arising under subdivision (a) for a violation of Section 500 or 501 against any or all shareholders liable by any one or more creditors of the corporation whose debts or claims arose prior to the time of the distribution to shareholders and who have not consented thereto, whether or not they have reduced their claims to judgment, or (2) to shareholders arising under subdivision (a) for a violation of Section 502 or 503 against any or all shareholders liable by any one or more holders of preferred shares outstanding at the time of the distribution who have not consented thereto, without regard to the provisions of Section 800.

(c) Any shareholder sued under this section may implead all other shareholders liable under this section and may compel contribution, either in that action or in an independent action against shareholders not joined in that action.

(d) Nothing contained in this section affects any liability which any shareholder may have under Sections 3439 to 3439.12, inclusive, of the Civil Code.

SEC. 15.7. Section 507 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

507. Each dividend other than one chargeable to retained earnings shall be identified in a notice to shareholders as being made from a source other than retained earnings, stating the accounting treatment thereof. The notice shall accompany the dividend or shall be given within three months after the end of the fiscal year in which the dividend is paid.

SEC. 16. Section 600 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

600. (a) Meetings of shareholders may be held at such place within or without this state as may be stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no other place is stated or so fixed, shareholder meetings shall be held at the principal executive office of the corporation.

(b) An annual meeting of shareholders shall be held for the election of directors on a date and at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting.

(c) If there is a failure to hold the annual meeting for a period of 60 days after the date designated therefor or, if no date has been designated, for a period of 15 months after the organization of the corporation or after its last annual meeting, the superior court of the proper county may summarily order a meeting to be held upon the application of any shareholder after notice to the corporation giving it an opportunity to be heard. The shares represented at such meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereat shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of such meeting, notwithstanding any provision of the articles or bylaws or in this division to the contrary. The court may issue such orders as may be appropriate, including, without limitation, orders designating the time and place of such meeting, the record date for determination of shareholders entitled to vote and the form of notice of such meeting.

(d) Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the board, the chairman of the board, the president or the holders of shares entitled to cast not less than 10 percent of the votes at the meeting or such additional persons as may be provided in the articles or bylaws.

SEC. 16.1. Section 601 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

601. (a) Whenever shareholders are required or permitted to take any action at a meeting, a written notice of the meeting shall be given not less than 10 nor more than 60 days before the date of the meeting to each shareholder entitled to vote thereat. Such notice shall state the place, date and hour of the meeting and (1) in the case of a special meeting, the general nature of the business to be transacted, and no other business may be transacted, or (2) in the case of the annual meeting, those matters which the board, at the time of the mailing of the notice, intends to present for action by the shareholders, but subject to the provisions of subdivision (f) any proper matter may be presented at the meeting for such action. The notice of any meeting at which directors are to be elected shall include the names of nominees intended at the time of the notice to be presented by management for election.

(b) Notice of a shareholders' meeting or any report shall be given either personally or by mail or other means of written communication, addressed to the shareholder at the address of such shareholder appearing on the books of the corporation or given by the shareholder to the corporation for the purpose of notice; or if no such address appears or is given, at the place where the principal executive office of the corporation is located or by publication at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the principal executive office is located. The notice or report shall be deemed to have been given at the time when delivered personally or deposited in the mail or sent by other means of written communication. An affidavit of mailing of any notice or report in accordance with the provisions of this division, executed by the secretary, assistant secretary or any transfer agent, shall be prima facie evidence of the giving of the notice or report.

If any notice or report addressed to the shareholder at the address of such shareholder appearing on the books of the corporation is returned to the corporation by the United States Postal Service marked to indicate that the United States Postal Service is unable to deliver the notice or report to the shareholder at such address, all future notices or reports shall be deemed to have been duly given without further mailing if the same shall be available for the shareholder upon written demand of the shareholder at the principal executive office of the corporation for a period of one year from the date of the giving of the notice or report to all other shareholders.

(c) Upon request in writing to the chairman of the board, president, vice president or secretary by any person (other than the board) entitled to call a special meeting of shareholders, the officer forthwith shall cause notice to be given to the shareholders entitled to vote that a meeting will be held at a time requested by the person or persons calling the meeting, not less than 35 nor more than 60 days after the receipt of the request. If the notice is not given within 20 days after receipt of the request, the persons entitled to call the meeting may give the notice or the superior court of the proper county shall summarily order the giving of the notice, after notice to the corporation giving it an opportunity to be heard. The procedure provided in subdivision (c) of Section 305 shall apply to such application. The court may issue such orders as may be appropriate, including, without limitation, orders designating the time and place of the meeting, the record date for determination of shareholders entitled to vote and the form of notice.

(d) When a shareholders' meeting is adjourned to another time or place, unless the bylaws otherwise require and except as provided in this subdivision, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At the adjourned meeting the corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than 45 days or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

(e) The transactions of any meeting of shareholders, however called and noticed, and wherever held, are as valid as though had at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum is present either in person or by proxy, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the persons entitled to vote, not present in person or by proxy, signs a written waiver of notice or a consent to the holding of the meeting or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents and approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person objects, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and except that attendance at a meeting is not a waiver of any right to object to the consideration of matters required by this division to be included in the notice but not so included, if such objection is expressly made at the meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at nor the purpose of any regular or special meeting of shareholders need be specified in any written waiver of notice, unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws, except as provided in subdivision (f).

(f) Any shareholder approval at a meeting, other than unanimous approval by those entitled to vote, pursuant to Section 310, 902, 1201, 1900 or 2007 shall be valid only if the general nature of the proposal so approved was stated in the notice of meeting or in any written waiver of notice.

SEC. 16.3. Section 603 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

603. (a) Unless otherwise provided in the articles, any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of shareholders may be taken without a meeting and without prior notice, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding shares having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

(b) Unless the consents of all shareholders entitled to vote have been solicited in writing,

(1) Notice of any shareholder approval pursuant to Section 310, 317, 1201 or 2007 without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given at least 10 days before the consummation of the action authorized by such approval, and

(2) Prompt notice shall be given of the taking of any other corporate action approved by shareholders without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent, to those shareholders entitled to vote who have not consented in writing. Subdivision (b) of Section 601 applies to such notice.

(c) Any shareholder giving a written consent, or the shareholder's proxyholders, or a transferee of the shares or a personal representative of the shareholder or their respective proxyholders, may revoke the consent by a writing received by the corporation prior to the time that written consents of the number of shares required to authorize the proposed action have been filed with the secretary of the corporation, but may not do so thereafter. Such revocation is effective upon its receipt by the secretary of the corporation.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), subject to subdivision (b) of Section 305 directors may not be elected by written consent except by unanimous written consent of all shares entitled to vote for the election of directors.

SEC. 16.5. Section 701 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

701. (a) In order that the corporation may determine the shareholders entitled to notice of any meeting or to vote or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any other lawful action, the board may fix, in advance, a record date, which shall not be more than 60 nor less than 10 days prior to the date of such meeting nor more than 60 days prior to any other action.

(b) If no record date is fixed:

(1) The record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be at the close of business on the business day next preceding the day on which notice is given or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the business day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held.

(2) The record date for determining shareholders entitled to give consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, when no prior action by the board has been taken, shall be the day on which the first written consent is given.

(3) The record date for determining shareholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the board adopts the resolution relating thereto, or the 60th day prior to the date of such other action, whichever is later.

(c) A determination of shareholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting unless the board fixes a new record date for the adjourned meeting, but the board shall fix a new record date if the meeting is adjourned for more than 45 days from the date set for the original meeting.

(d) Shareholders on the record date are entitled to notice and to vote or to receive the dividend, distribution or allotment of rights or to exercise the rights, as the case may be, notwithstanding any transfer of any shares on the books of the corporation after the record date, except as otherwise provided in the articles or by agreement or in this division.

SEC. 16.6. Section 702 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

702. (a) Subject to subdivision (c) of Section 703, shares held by an administrator, executor, guardian, conservator or custodian may be voted by such holder either in person or by proxy, without a transfer of such shares into the holder's name; and shares standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by the trustee, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote shares held by such trustee without a transfer of such shares into the trustee's name.

(b) Shares standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver; and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without the transfer thereof into the receiver's name if authority to do so is contained in the order of the court by which such receiver was appointed.

(c) Subject to the provisions of Section 705 and except where otherwise agreed in writing between the parties, a shareholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

(d) Shares standing in the name of a minor may be voted and the corporation may treat all rights incident thereto as exercisable by the minor, in person or by proxy, whether or not the corporation has notice, actual or constructive, of the nonage, unless a guardian of the minor's property has been appointed and written notice of such appointment given to the corporation.

SEC. 16.8. Section 703 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

703. (a) Shares standing in the name of another corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted by such officer, agent or proxyholder as the bylaws of such other corporation may prescribe or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of such other corporation may determine or, in the absence of such determination, by the chairman of the board, president or any vice president of such other corporation, or by any other person authorized to do so by the chairman of the board, president or any vice president of such other corporation. Shares which are purported to be voted or any proxy purported to be executed in the name of a corporation (whether or not any title of the person signing is indicated) shall be presumed to be voted or the proxy executed in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision, unless the contrary is shown.

(b) Shares of a corporation owned by its subsidiary shall not be entitled to vote on any matter.

(c) Shares held by the issuing corporation in a fiduciary capacity, and shares of an issuing corporation held in a fiduciary capacity by its subsidiary, shall not be entitled to vote on any matter, except to the extent that the settlor or beneficial owner possesses and exercises a right to vote or to give the corporation binding instructions as to how to vote such shares.

SEC. 16.9. Section 706 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

706. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, an agreement between two or more shareholders of a close corporation, if in writing and signed by the parties thereto, may provide that in exercising any voting rights the shares held by them shall be voted as provided by the agreement, or as the parties may agree or as determined in accordance with a procedure agreed upon by them, and the parties may transfer the shares covered by such an agreement to a third party or parties with authority to vote them in accordance with the terms of the agreement. Such an agreement shall not be denied specific performance by a court on the ground that the remedy at law is adequate or on other grounds relating to the jurisdiction of a court of equity. An agreement made pursuant to this subdivision between shareholders of a close corporation shall terminate when the corporation ceases to be a close corporation, except that if the agreement so provides it shall continue to the extent it is enforceable apart from this subdivision.

(b) Shares in any corporation may be transferred by written agreement to trustees in order to confer upon them the right to vote and otherwise represent the shares for such period of time, not exceeding 10 years, as may be specified in the agreement. The validity of a voting trust agreement, otherwise lawful, shall not be affected during a period of 10 years from the date when it was created or last extended as hereinafter provided by the fact that under its terms it will or may last beyond such 10-year period. At any time within two years prior to the time of expiration of any voting trust agreement as originally fixed or as last extended as provided in this subdivision, one or more beneficiaries under the voting trust agreement may, by written agreement and with the written consent of the voting trustee or trustees, extend the duration of the voting trust agreement with respect to their shares for an additional period not exceeding 10 years from the expiration date of the trust as originally fixed or as last extended as provided in this subdivision. A duplicate of the voting trust agreement and any extension thereof shall be filed with the secretary of the corporation and shall be open to inspection by a shareholder, a holder of a voting trust certificate or the agent of either, upon the same terms as the record of shareholders of the corporation is open to inspection.

(c) No agreement made pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be held to be invalid or unenforceable on the ground that it is a voting trust which does not comply with subdivision (b).

(d) This section shall not invalidate any voting or other agreement among shareholders or any irrevocable proxy complying with subdivision (e) of Section 705, which agreement or proxy is not otherwise illegal.

SEC. 17. Section 800 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

800. (a) As used in this section, "corporation" includes an unincorporated association; "board" includes the managing body of an unincorporated association; "shareholder" includes a member of an unincorporated association; and "shares" includes memberships in an unincorporated association.

(b) No action may be instituted or maintained in right of any domestic or foreign corporation by any holder of shares or of voting trust certificates of such corporation unless both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The plaintiff alleges in the complaint that plaintiff was a shareholder, of record or beneficially, or the holder of voting trust certificates at the time of the transaction or any part thereof of which

plaintiff complains or that plaintiff's shares or voting trust certificates thereafter devolved upon plaintiff by operation of law from a holder who was a holder at the time of the transaction or any part thereof complained of; provided, that any shareholder who does not meet such requirements may nevertheless be allowed in the discretion of the court to maintain such action on a preliminary showing to and determination by the court, by motion and after a hearing, at which the court shall consider such evidence, by affidavit or testimony, as it deems material, that (i) there is a strong prima facie case in favor of the claim asserted on behalf of the corporation, (ii) no other similar action has been or is likely to be instituted, (iii) the plaintiff acquired the shares before there was disclosure to the public or to the plaintiff of the wrongdoing of which plaintiff complains, (iv) unless the action can be maintained the defendant may retain a gain derived from defendant's willful breach of a fiduciary duty, and (v) the requested relief will not result in unjust enrichment of the corporation or any shareholder of the corporation; and

(2) The plaintiff alleges in the complaint with particularity plaintiff's efforts to secure from the board such action as plaintiff desires, or the reasons for not making such effort, and alleges further that plaintiff has either informed the corporation or the board in writing of the ultimate facts of each cause of action against each defendant or delivered to the corporation or the board a true copy of the complaint which plaintiff proposes to file.

(c) In any action referred to in subdivision (b), at any time within 30 days after service of summons upon the corporation or upon any defendant who is an officer or director of the corporation, or held such office at the time of the acts complained of, the corporation or such defendant may move the court for an order, upon notice and hearing, requiring the plaintiff to furnish security as hereinafter provided. The motion shall be based upon one or both of the following grounds:

(1) That there is no reasonable possibility that the prosecution of the cause of action alleged in the complaint against the moving party will benefit the corporation or its shareholders.

(2) That the moving party, if other than the corporation, did not participate in the transaction complained of in any capacity.

The court on application of the corporation or any defendant may, for good cause shown, extend the 30-day period for an additional period or periods not exceeding 60 days.

(d) At the hearing upon any motion pursuant to subdivision (c), the court shall consider such evidence, written or oral, by witnesses or affidavit, as may be material (1) to the ground or grounds upon which the motion is based, or (2) to a determination of the probable reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, of the corporation and the moving party which will be incurred in the defense of the action. If the court determines, after hearing the evidence adduced by the parties, that the moving party has established a probability in support of any of the grounds upon which the motion is based, the court shall fix the nature and amount of security, not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), to be furnished by the plaintiff for reasonable expenses, including attorneys' fees, which may be incurred by the moving party and the corporation in connection with the action, including expenses for which the corporation may become liable pursuant to Section 317. A ruling by the court on the motion shall not be a determination of any issue in the action or of the merits thereof. The amount of the security may thereafter be increased or decreased in the discretion of the court upon a showing that the security provided has or may become inadequate or is excessive, but the court may not in any event increase the total amount of the security beyond fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in the aggregate for all defendants. If the court, upon any such motion, makes a determination that security shall be furnished by the plaintiff as to any one or more defendants, the action shall be dismissed as to such defendant or defendants, unless the security required by the court shall have been furnished within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the court. The corporation and the moving party shall have recourse to the security in such amount as the court shall determine upon the termination of the action.

(e) If the plaintiff shall, either before or after a motion is made pursuant to subdivision (c), or any order or determination pursuant to such motion, post good and sufficient bond or bonds in the aggregate amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to secure the reasonable expenses of the parties entitled to make the motion, the plaintiff has complied with the requirements of this section and with any order for security theretofore made pursuant hereto, and any such motion then pending shall be dismissed and no further or additional bond or other security shall be required.

(f) If a motion is filed pursuant to subdivision (c), no pleadings need be filed by the corporation or any other defendant and the prosecution of the action shall be stayed until 10 days after the motion has been disposed of.

SEC. 18. Section 902 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

902. (a) After any shares have been issued, amendments may be adopted if approved by the board and approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152), either before or after the approval by the board.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), an amendment extending the corporate existence or making the corporate existence perpetual may be adopted by a corporation organized prior to August 14, 1929, with approval by the board alone.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), unless the corporation has more than one class of shares outstanding, an amendment effecting only a stock split (including any increase in the authorized number of shares required in connection therewith and taking account of shares then reserved for future issuance) may be adopted with approval by the board alone.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), an amendment deleting the names and addresses of the first directors or the name and address of the initial agent may be adopted with approval by the board alone.

(e) Whenever the articles require for corporate action the vote of a larger proportion or of all of the shares of any class or series, or of a larger proportion or of all of the directors, than is otherwise required by this division, the provision in the articles requiring such greater vote shall not be altered, amended or repealed except by such greater vote unless otherwise provided in the articles.

(f) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any amendment reducing the vote required for an amendment pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 158 may not be adopted unless approved by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of each class of outstanding shares or such other vote as may then be specified by the articles of the corporation.

SEC. 18.3. Section 905 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

905. In the case of amendments adopted after the corporation has issued any shares, the corporation shall file a certificate of amendment, which shall consist of an officers' certificate stating:

(a) The wording of the amendment or amended articles in accordance with Section 907;

(b) That the amendment has been approved by the board;

(c) If the amendment is one for which the approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) is required, that the amendment was approved by the required vote of shareholders in accordance with Section 902, 903 or 904; the total number of outstanding shares of each class entitled to vote with respect to the amendment; and that the number of shares of each class voting in favor of the amendment equaled or exceeded the vote required, specifying the percentage vote required of each class entitled to vote; and

(d) If the amendment is one which may be adopted with approval by the board alone, a statement of the facts entitling the board alone to adopt the amendment.

In the event of an amendment of the articles pursuant to a merger, the filing of the officers' certificate and agreement pursuant to Section 1103 or a certificate of ownership pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 1110 shall be in lieu of any filing required under this chapter.

SEC. 18.6. Section 907 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

907. The certificate of amendment shall establish the wording of the amendment or amended articles by one or more of the following means:

(a) By stating that the articles shall be amended to read as therein set forth in full.

(b) By stating that any provision of the articles, which shall be identified by the numerical or other designation given it in the articles or by stating the wording thereof, shall be stricken from the articles or shall be amended to read as set forth in the certificate

(c) By stating that the provisions set forth therein shall be added to the articles.

If the purpose of the amendment is to effect a stock split or reverse stock split or to reclassify, cancel, exchange, or otherwise change outstanding shares, the amended articles shall state the effect thereof on outstanding shares.

SEC. 18.8. Section 1001 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1001. (a) A corporation may sell, lease, convey, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets when the principal terms are

(1) Approved by the board, and

(2) Unless the transaction is in the usual and regular course of its business, approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152), either before or after approval by the board and before or after the transaction.

A transaction constituting a reorganization (Section 181) is subject to the provisions of Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 1200) and not this section.

(b) Notwithstanding approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152), the board may abandon the proposed transaction without further action by the shareholders, subject to the contractual rights, if any, of third parties.

(c) Such sale, lease, conveyance, exchange, transfer or other disposition may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration as the board may deem in the best interests of the corporation. The consideration may be money, property or securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, or any of them.

(d) If the buyer in a sale of assets pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section or subdivision (g) of Section 2001 is in control of or under common control with the seller, the principal terms of the sale must be approved by at least 90 percent of the voting power unless the sale is to a domestic or foreign corporation in consideration of the nonredeemable common shares of the purchasing corporation or its parent.

SEC. 19. Section 1101 of the Corporations Code as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1101. The board of each corporation which desires to merge shall approve an agreement of merger. The agreement shall state:

(a) The terms and conditions of the merger;

(b) The amendments, subject to Sections 900 and 907, to the articles of the surviving corporation to be effected by the merger, if any; if any amendment changes the name of the surviving corporation the new name may be the same as or similar to the name of a disappearing domestic or foreign corporation, subject to subdivision (b) of Section 201;

(c) The name and place of incorporation of each constituent corporation and which of the constituent corporations is the surviving corporation;

(d) The manner of converting the shares of each of the constituent corporations into shares or other securities of the surviving corporation and, if any shares of any of the constituent corporations are not to be converted solely into shares or other securities of the surviving corporation, the cash, property, rights or securities of any corporation which the holders of such shares are to receive in exchange for such shares, which cash, property, rights or securities of any corporation may be in addition to or in lieu of shares or other securities of the surviving corporation; and

(e) Such other details or provisions as are desired, if any, including, without limitation, a provision for the payment of cash in lieu of fractional shares or for any other arrangement with respect thereto consistent with the provisions of Section 407.

Each share of the same class or series of any constituent corporation (other than the cancellation of shares held by a surviving corporation or its parent or a wholly owned subsidiary of either in a constituent corporation) shall, unless all shareholders of the class or series consent and except as provided in Section 407, be treated equally with respect to any distribution of cash, property, rights or securities. Notwithstanding subdivision (d), except in a short-form merger, the nonredeemable common shares of a constituent corporation may be converted only into nonredeemable common shares of the surviving corporation or a parent party if a constituent corporation or its parent owns, directly or indirectly, shares of another constituent corporation representing more than 50 percent of the voting power of the other constituent corporation prior to the merger, unless all of the shareholders of the class consent and except as provided in Section 407.

SEC. 19.2. Section 1103 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1103. After approval of a merger by the board and any approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) required by Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 1200), the surviving corporation shall file a copy of the agreement of merger with an officers' certificate of each constituent corporation attached stating the total number of outstanding shares of each class entitled to vote on the merger, that the agreement in the form attached was approved by that corporation by a vote of a number of shares of each class which equaled or exceeded the vote required, specifying each class entitled to vote and the percentage vote required of each class, or that the merger was entitled to be approved by the board alone under the provisions of Section 1201. If equity securities of a parent of a constituent corporation are to be issued in the merger, the officers' certificate of that constituent corporation shall state either that no vote of the shareholders of the parent was required or that the required vote was obtained. The merger and any amendment of the articles of the surviving corporation contained in the merger agreement shall thereupon be effective (subject to subdivision (c) of Section 110 and subject to the provisions of Section 1108) and the several parties thereto shall be one corporation. The agreement shall not be filed, however, until there has been filed by or on behalf of each corporation taxed under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code), the existence of which is terminated by the merger, the certificate of satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that all taxes imposed by said law have been paid or secured. The Secretary of State may certify a copy of the merger agreement separate from the officers' certificates attached thereto.

SEC. 19.4. Section 1106 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1106. A copy of an agreement of merger certified on or after the effective date by an official having custody thereof has the same force in evidence as the original and, except as against the state, is conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions precedent to the merger, the existence on the effective date of the surviving corporation and the performance of the conditions necessary to the adoption of any amendment to the articles contained in the agreement of merger.

SEC. 19.6. Section 1108 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1108. (a) The merger of any number of domestic corporations with any number of foreign corporations may be effected if the foreign corporations are authorized by the laws under which they are formed to effect such a merger. The surviving corporation may be any one of the constituent corporations and shall continue to exist under the laws of the state or place of its incorporation.

(b) If the surviving corporation is a domestic corporation, the merger proceedings with respect to that corporation and any domestic disappearing corporation shall conform to the provisions of this chapter governing the merger of domestic corporations, or to Section 1110, but if the surviving corporation is a foreign corporation, then, subject to the requirements of subdivision (d) and of Section 407 and Chapters 12 (commencing with Section 1200) and 13 (commencing with Section 1300) (with respect to any domestic constituent corporations), the merger proceedings may be in accordance with the laws of the state or place of incorporation of the surviving corporation.

(c) If the surviving corporation is a domestic corporation, the agreement and the officers' certificate of each domestic or foreign constituent corporation shall be filed as provided in Section 1103 and thereupon, subject to subdivision (c) of Section 110, the merger shall be effective as to each domestic constituent corporation; and each foreign disappearing corporation which is qualified for the transaction of intrastate business shall by virtue of the filing automatically surrender its right to transact intrastate business.

(d) Subject to Section 1110, if the surviving corporation is a foreign corporation, the merger shall become effective in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction in which it is organized, but shall be effective as to any domestic disappearing corporation as of the time of filing in such foreign jurisdiction upon the filing in this state as required by this subdivision. There shall be filed as to the domestic disappearing corporation or corporations a copy of the agreement, certificate or other document filed by the surviving foreign corporation in the state or place of its incorporation for the purpose of effecting the merger, which copy shall be certified by the public officer having official custody of the original or, in lieu thereof, an executed counterpart of such agreement, certificate or other document; and each foreign disappearing corporation which is qualified for the transaction of intrastate business shall automatically by such filing surrender its right to transact intrastate business.

(e) The provisions of Chapters 12 (commencing with Section 1200) and 13 (commencing with Section 1300) apply to the rights of the shareholders of any of the constituent corporations which are domestic corporations and of any domestic corporation which is a parent party of any foreign constituent corporation.

SEC. 19.8. Section 1109 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1109. Whenever a domestic or foreign corporation having any real property in this state merges or consolidates with another corporation pursuant to the laws of this state or of the state or place in which any constituent corporation was incorporated, and the laws of the state or place of incorporation (including this state) of any disappearing corporation provide substantially that the making and filing of the agreement of merger or consolidation vests in the surviving or consolidated corporation all the real property of any disappearing corporation, the filing for record in the office of the county recorder of any county in this state in which any of the real property of such disappearing corporation is located of either (a) a certificate prescribed by the Secretary of State, or (b) a copy of the agreement of merger or consolidation, certified by the Secretary of State or an authorized public official of the state or place pursuant to the laws of which the merger or consolidation is effected, shall evidence record ownership in the surviving or consolidated corporation of all interest of such disappearing corporation in and to the real property located in that county.

SEC. 20. Section 1110 of the Corporations Code as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1110. (a) If a domestic corporation owns all the outstanding shares of a corporation or corporations, domestic or foreign, the merger of the subsidiary corporation or corporations into the parent corporation may be effected by a resolution adopted by the board of the parent corporation and the filing of a certificate of ownership as provided in subdivision (d). The resolution shall provide for the merger and shall provide that the parent corporation assumes all the liabilities of each subsidiary corporation.

(b) If a domestic corporation owns less than all the outstanding shares but at least 90 percent of the outstanding shares of each class of a corporation or corporations, domestic or foreign, the merger of the subsidiary corporation or corporations into the parent corporation may be effected by resolutions adopted by the boards of the parent and each subsidiary corporation and the filing of a certificate of ownership as provided in subdivision (d). The resolution of the board of the parent corporation shall provide for the merger, shall provide that the parent corporation assumes all the liabilities of each subsidiary corporation and shall set forth the securities, cash, property or rights to be issued, paid, delivered or granted by the parent corporation upon surrender of each share of each subsidiary corporation not owned by the parent corporation. The resolution of the board of each subsidiary corporation shall approve the fairness of the consideration to be received for each share of the subsidiary corporation not owned by the parent corporation.

(c) In any merger pursuant to this section, the parent corporation may change its name, subject to Section 201, regardless of whether the name so adopted is the same as or similar to that of one of the disappearing corporations. In such case the resolution shall provide for the amendment of articles to change the name and shall establish the wording of the amendment as provided in Section 907.

(d) After adoption of the resolution or resolutions of merger, a certificate of ownership consisting of an officers' certificate of the parent corporation shall be filed, and a copy thereof for each domestic and qualified foreign disappearing corporation shall also be filed. The certificate of ownership shall:

(1) Identify the parent and subsidiary corporation or corporations.

(2) Set forth the share ownership by the parent corporation of each subsidiary corporation as 100 percent of the outstanding shares or as at least 90 percent of the outstanding shares of each class, as the case may be.

(3) Set forth the resolution adopted by the board of the parent corporation, including the resolution for change of name if applicable.

(4) Set forth the resolution adopted by the board of each subsidiary corporation, if required.

(e) The certificate of ownership shall not be filed, however, until there has been filed by or on behalf of each subsidiary corporation taxed under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code), the existence of which is terminated by the merger, the certificate of satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that all taxes imposed by such law have been paid or secured.

(f) Upon the filing of the certificate of ownership, the merger shall be effective and any amendment of the articles of the surviving corporation set forth in the certificate shall be effective.

(g) A merger pursuant to this section may be effected if the parent corporation is a foreign corporation and if at least one subsidiary corporation is a domestic corporation but in such a case the certificate of ownership prepared as in subdivision (d) shall be filed as to each domestic and qualified foreign subsidiary corporation, but no filing shall be made as to the foreign parent corporation.

(h) A foreign subsidiary corporation may not be merged as in this section provided and a foreign parent corporation may not act as in this section provided unless the laws of the state or place of its incorporation permit such action.

(i) In the event all of the outstanding shares of a subsidiary domestic corporation party to a merger effected under this section are not owned by the parent corporation immediately prior to the merger, the parent corporation shall, at least 10 days before the effective date of the merger, give notice to each shareholder of such subsidiary corporation that the merger will become effective on or after a specified date, which notice shall contain a copy of the resolutions of the boards of the parent and the subsidiary required by subdivision (b) and the information required by subdivision (a) of Section 1301. The notice shall be sent by mail addressed to the shareholder at the address of such shareholder as it appears on the records of the corporation. Any such shareholder shall have the right to demand payment of cash for the shares of such shareholder pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 1300).

SEC. 20.5. Section 1111 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1111. If any disappearing corporation in a merger is a close corporation and the surviving corporation is not a close corporation, the merger shall be approved by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of each class of the outstanding shares of such disappearing corporation; provided, however, that the articles may provide for a lesser vote, but not less than a majority of the outstanding shares of each class.

SEC. 21. Section 1201 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1201. (a) The principal terms of a reorganization shall be approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152) of each class of each corporation the approval of whose board is required under Section 1200, except as provided in subdivision (b) and except that (unless otherwise provided in the articles) no approval of any class of outstanding preferred shares of the surviving or acquiring corporation or parent party shall be required if the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon such class of shares remain unchanged (subject to the provisions of subdivision (c)). For the purpose of this subdivision, two classes of common shares differing only as to voting rights shall be considered as a single class of shares.

(b) No approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) is required by subdivision (a) in the case of any corporation if such corporation, or its shareholders immediately before the reorganization, or both, shall own (immediately after the reorganization) equity securities, other than any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase such equity securities, of the surviving or acquiring corporation or a parent party (subdivision (d) of Section 1200) possessing more than five-sixths of the voting power of the surviving or acquiring corporation or parent party. In making the determination of ownership by the shareholders of a corporation, immediately after the reorganization, of equity securities pursuant to the preceding sentence, equity securities which they owned immediately before the reorganization as shareholders of another party to the transaction shall be disregarded. For the purpose of this section only, the voting power of a corporation shall be calculated by assuming the conversion of all equity securities convertible (immediately or at some future time) into shares entitled to vote but not assuming the exercise of any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase such shares.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), a reorganization shall be approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152) of the surviving corporation in a merger reorganization if any amendment is made to its articles which would otherwise require such approval.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), a reorganization shall be approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152) of any class of a corporation which is a party to a merger or sale-of-assets reorganization if holders of shares of that class receive shares of the surviving or acquiring corporation having different rights, preferences, privileges or restrictions than those surrendered. Shares in a foreign corporation received in exchange for shares in a domestic corporation have different rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions within the meaning of the preceding sentence.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (a) and (b), a reorganization shall be approved by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of each class of the outstanding shares of any close corporation if the reorganization would result in their receiving shares of a corporation which is not a close corporation; provided, however, that the articles may provide for a lesser vote, but not less than the vote otherwise required by this section.

(f) Any approval required by this section may be given before or after the approval by the board. Notwithstanding approval required by this section, the board may abandon the proposed reorganization without further action by the shareholders, subject to the contractual rights, if any, of third parties.

SEC. 21.3. Section 1300 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1300. (a) If the approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) of a corporation is required for a reorganization under subdivisions (a) and (b) or subdivision (e) of Section 1201, each shareholder of such corporation and each shareholder of a disappearing corporation in a short-form merger may, by complying with this chapter, require the corporation in which the shareholder holds shares to purchase for cash at their fair market value the shares owned by the shareholder which are dissenting shares as defined in subdivision (b). The fair market value shall be determined as of the day before the first announcement of the terms of the proposed reorganization or short-form merger, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in consequence of the proposed action, but adjusted for any stock split, reverse stock split or share dividend which becomes effective thereafter.

(b) As used in this chapter, "dissenting shares" means shares which come within all of the following descriptions:

(1) Which were not immediately prior to the reorganization or short-form merger either (i) listed on any national securities exchange certified by the Commissioner of Corporations under subdivision (o) of Section 25100 or (ii) listed on the list of OTC margin stocks issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the notice of meeting of shareholders to act upon the reorganization summarizes the provisions of this section and Sections 1301, 1302, 1303 and 1304; provided, however, that this provision does not apply to any shares with respect to which there exists any restriction on transfer imposed by the corporation or by any law or regulation; and provided, further, that this provision does not apply to any class of shares described in clause (i) or (ii) if demands for payment are filed with respect to 5 percent or more of the outstanding shares of that class.

(2) Which were outstanding on the date for the determination of shareholders entitled to vote on the reorganization and (i) were not voted in favor of the reorganization or, (ii) if described in clause (i) or (ii) of paragraph (1) (without regard to the provisos in that paragraph), were voted against the reorganization, or which were held of record on the effective date of a short-form merger; provided, however, that clause (i) rather than clause (ii) of this paragraph applies in any case where the approval required by Section 1201 is sought by written consent rather than at a meeting.

(3) Which the dissenting shareholder has demanded that the corporation purchase at their fair market value, in accordance with Section 1301.

(4) Which the dissenting shareholder has submitted for endorsement, in accordance with Section 1302.

(c) As used in this chapter, "dissenting shareholder" means the recordholder of dissenting shares and includes a transferee of record

SEC. 21.6. Section 1301 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1301. (a) If, in the case of a reorganization, any shareholders of a corporation have a right under Section 1300 to require the corporation to purchase their shares for cash, such corporation shall mail to each such shareholder a notice of the approval of the reorganization by its outstanding shares (Section 152) within 10 days after the date of such approval, accompanied by a copy of Sections 1300, 1302, 1303, 1304 and this section, a statement of the price determined by the corporation to represent the fair market value of the dissenting shares, and a brief description of the procedure to be followed if the shareholder desires to exercise the shareholder's right under such sections. The statement of price constitutes an offer by the corporation to purchase at the price stated any dissenting shares as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1300, unless they lose their status as dissenting shares under Section 1309.

(b) Any shareholder who has a right to require the corporation to purchase the shareholder's shares for cash under Section 1300 and who desires the corporation to purchase such shares shall make written demand upon the corporation for the purchase of such shares and payment to the shareholder in cash of their fair market value. The demand is not effective for any purpose unless it is received by the corporation or any transfer agent thereof (1) in the case of shares described in clause (i) or (ii) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1300 (without regard to the provisos in that paragraph), not later than the date of the shareholders' meeting to vote upon the reorganization, or (2) in any other case within 30 days after the date on which the notice of the approval by the outstanding shares pursuant to subdivision (a) or the notice pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 1110 was mailed to the shareholder.

(c) The demand shall state the number and class of the shares held of record by the shareholder which the shareholder demands that the corporation purchase and shall contain a statement of what such shareholder claims to be the fair market value of those shares as of the day before the announcement of the proposed reorganization or short-form merger. The statement of fair market value constitutes an offer by the shareholder to sell the shares at such price.

SEC. 22. Section 1305 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1305. (a) If the court appoints an appraiser or appraisers, they shall proceed forthwith to determine the fair market value per share. Within the time fixed by the court, the appraisers, or a majority of them, shall make and file a report in the office of the clerk of the court. Thereupon, on the motion of any party, the report shall be submitted to the court and considered on such evidence as the court considers relevant. If the court finds the report reasonable, the court may confirm it.

(b) If a majority of the appraisers appointed fail to make and file a report within 10 days from the date of their appointment or within such further time as may be allowed by the court or the report is not confirmed by the court, the court shall determine the fair market value of the dissenting shares.

(c) Subject to the provisions of Section 1306, judgment shall be rendered against the corporation for payment of an amount equal to the fair market value of each dissenting share multiplied by the number of dissenting shares which any dissenting shareholder who is a party, or who has intervened, is entitled to require the corporation to purchase, with interest thereon at the legal rate from the date on which judgment was entered.

(d) Any such judgment shall be payable only upon the endorsement and delivery to the corporation of the certificates for the shares described in the judgment. Any party may appeal from the judgment.

(e) The costs of the action, including reasonable compensation to the appraisers to be fixed by the court, shall be assessed or apportioned as the court considers equitable, but, if the appraisal exceeds the price offered by the corporation, the corporation shall pay the costs (including in the discretion of the court attorneys' fees, fees of expert witnesses and interest at the legal rate on judgments from the date of compliance with Sections 1300, 1301 and 1302 if the value awarded by the court for the shares is more than 125 percent of the price offered by the corporation under subdivision (a) of Section 1303*l*).

SEC. 22.5. Section 1312 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1312. (a) No shareholder of a corporation who has a right under this chapter to demand payment of cash for the shares held by the shareholder shall have any right at law or in equity to attack the validity of the reorganization or short-form merger, or to have the reorganization or short-form merger set aside or rescinded, except in an action to test whether the number of shares required to authorize or approve the reorganization have been legally voted in favor thereof; but any holder of shares of a class whose terms and provisions specifically set forth the amount to be paid in respect to them in the event of a reorganization or short-form merger is entitled to payment in accordance with those terms and provisions.

(b) If one of the parties to a reorganization or short-form merger is directly or indirectly controlled by, or under common control with, another party to the reorganization or short-form merger, subdivision (a) shall not apply to any shareholder of such party who has not demanded payment of cash for such shareholder's shares pursuant to this chapter; but if the shareholder institutes any action to attack the validity of the reorganization or short-form merger or to have the reorganization or short-form merger set aside or rescinded, the shareholder shall not thereafter have any right to demand payment of cash for the shareholder's shares pursuant to this chapter. The court in any action attacking the validity of the reorganization or short-form merger or to have the reorganization or short-form merger set aside or rescinded shall not restrain or enjoin the consummation of the transaction except upon 10-days prior notice to the corporation and upon a determination by the court that clearly no other remedy will adequately protect the complaining shareholder or the class of shareholders of which such shareholder is a member.

(c) If one of the parties to a reorganization or short-form merger is directly or indirectly controlled by, or under common control with, another party to the reorganization or short-form merger, in any action to attack the validity of the reorganization or short-form merger or to have the reorganization or short-form merger set aside or rescinded, (1) a party to a reorganization or short-form merger which controls another party to the reorganization or short-form merger shall have the burden of proving that the transaction is just and reasonable as to the shareholders of the controlled party, and (2) a person who controls two or more parties to a reorganization shall have the burden of proving that the transaction is just and reasonable as to the shareholders of any party so controlled.

SEC. 23. Section 1501 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1501. (a) The board shall cause an annual report to be sent to the shareholders not later than 120 days after the close of the fiscal year, unless in the case of a corporation with less than 100 holders of record of its shares (determined as provided in Section 605) this requirement is expressly waived in the bylaws. Such report shall contain a balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal year and an income statement and statement of changes in financial position for such fiscal year, accompanied by any report thereon of independent accountants or, if there is no such report, the certificate of an authorized officer of the corporation that such statements were prepared without audit from the books and records of the corporation.

Unless so waived, such report shall be sent to the shareholders at least 15 days prior to the annual meeting of shareholders to be held during the next fiscal year, but this requirement shall not limit the requirement for holding an annual meeting as required by Section 600.

(b) In addition to the financial statements required by subdivision (a), the annual report of any corporation having 100 or more holders of record of its shares (determined as provided in Section 605) and having no class of securities registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or exempted from such registration by Section 12(g)(2) of that act, shall also describe briefly:

(1) Any transaction (excluding compensation of officers and directors) during the previous fiscal year involving an amount in excess of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) (other than contracts let at competitive bid or services rendered at prices regulated by law) to which the corporation or its parent or subsidiary was a party and in which any director or officer of the corporation or of a subsidiary or (if known to the corporation or its parent or subsidiary) any holder of more than 10 percent of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation had a direct or indirect material interest, naming such person and stating such person's relationship to the corporation, the nature of such person's interest in the transaction and, where practicable, the amount of such interest; provided, that in the case of a transaction with a partnership of which such person is a partner, only the interest of the partnership need be stated; and provided, further that no such report need be made in the case of transactions approved by the shareholders (Section 153) under subdivision (a) of Section 310.

(2) The amount and circumstances of any indemnification or advances aggregating more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) paid during the fiscal year to any officer or director of the corporation pursuant to Section 317; provided, that no such report need be made in the case of indemnification approved by the shareholders (Section 153) under paragraph (2) of subdivision (e) of Section 317.

(c) A shareholder or shareholders holding at least 5 percent of the outstanding shares of any class of a corporation may make a written request to the corporation for an income statement of the corporation for the three-month, six-month or nine-month period of the current fiscal year ended more than 30 days prior to the date of the request and a balance sheet of the corporation as of the end of such period and, in addition, if no annual report for the last fiscal year has been sent to shareholders, the statements required by subdivision (a) for the last fiscal year. The statement shall be delivered or mailed to the person making the request within 30 days thereafter. A copy of the statements shall be kept on file in the principal office of the corporation for 12 months and they shall be exhibited at all reasonable times to any shareholder demanding an examination of them or a copy shall be mailed to such shareholder.

(d) A corporation shall, upon the written request of any shareholder, mail to the shareholder a copy of the last annual, semiannual or quarterly income statement which it has prepared and a balance sheet as of the end of the period.

(e) The quarterly income statements and balance sheets referred to in this section shall be accompanied by the report thereon, if any, of any independent accountants engaged by the corporation or the certificate of an authorized officer of the corporation that such financial statements were prepared without audit from the books and records of the corporation.

(f) In addition to the penalties provided for in Section 2200, the superior court of the proper county shall enforce the duty of making and mailing or delivering the information and financial statements required by this section and, for good cause shown, may extend the time therefor.

(g) In any action or proceeding under this section, if the court finds the failure of the corporation to comply with the requirements of this section to have been without justification, the court may award an amount sufficient to reimburse the shareholder for the reasonable expenses incurred by the shareholder, including attorneys' fees, in connection with such action or proceeding.

(h) This section applies to any domestic corporation and also to a foreign corporation having its principal executive office in this state or customarily holding meetings of its board in this state.

SEC. 23.2. Section 1502 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1502. (a) Every corporation shall, within 90 days after the filing of its original articles and annually thereafter during the applicable filing period in each year, file, on a form prescribed by the Secretary of State, a statement containing: (1) the presently authorized number of its directors; (2) the names and complete business or residence addresses of its incumbent directors; (3) the names and complete business or residence addresses of its chief executive officer, secretary and chief financial officer; (4) the street address of its principal executive office; (5) if the address of its principal executive office is not in this state, the street address of its principal business office in this state, if any; and (6) a statement of the general type of business which constitutes the principal business activity of the corporation (for example, manufacturer of aircraft; wholesale liquor distributor; retail department store).

(b) The statement required by subdivision (a) shall also designate, as the agent of such corporation for the purpose of service of process, a natural person residing in this state or a corporation which has complied with Section 1505 and whose capacity to act as such agent has not terminated. If a natural person is designated, the statement shall set forth such person's complete business or residence address. If a corporate agent is designated, no address for it shall be set forth.

(c) For the purposes of this section, the applicable filing period for a corporation shall be the calendar month during which its original articles were filed and the immediately preceding five calendar months. The Secretary of State shall mail a form for compliance with this section to each corporation approximately three months prior to the close of the applicable filing period. The form shall state the due date thereof and shall be mailed to the last address of the corporation according to the records of the Secretary of State. Neither the failure of the Secretary of State to mail the form nor the failure of the corporation to receive it is an excuse for failure to comply with this section.

(d) Whenever any of the information required by subdivision (a) is changed, the corporation may file a current statement containing all the information required by subdivisions (a) and (b). In order to change its agent for service of process or the address of the agent, the corporation must file a current statement containing all the information required by subdivisions (a) and (b). Whenever any statement is filed pursuant to this section, it supersedes any previously filed statement and the statement in the articles as to the agent for service of process and the address of the agent.

(e) The Secretary of State may destroy or otherwise dispose of any statement filed pursuant to this section after it has been superseded by the filing of a new statement.

(f) This section shall not be construed to place any person dealing with the corporation on notice of, or under any duty to inquire about, the existence or content of a statement filed pursuant to this section.

SEC. 23.4. Section 1508 of the Corporations Code, as added by

If the answer is not satisfactory, the Attorney General may institute, maintain or intervene in such suits, actions or proceedings of any type in any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction or before any administrative agency for such relief by way of injunction, the dissolution of entities, the appointment of receivers or any other temporary, preliminary, provisional or final remedies as may be appropriate to protect the rights of shareholders or to undo the consequences of failure to comply with such requirements. In any such action, suit or proceeding there may be joined as parties all persons and entities responsible for or affected by such activity.

SEC. 23.5. Section 1600 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1600. (a) A shareholder or shareholders holding at least 5 percent in the aggregate of the outstanding voting shares of a corporation or who hold at least 1 percent of such voting shares and have filed a Schedule 14B with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission relating to the election of directors of the corporation shall have an absolute right to do either or both of the following: (1) inspect and copy the record of shareholders' names and addresses and shareholdings during usual business hours upon five business days' prior written demand upon the corporation, or (2) obtain from the transfer agent for the corporation, upon written demand and upon the tender of its usual charges for such a list (the amount of which charges shall be stated to the shareholder by the transfer agent upon request), a list of the shareholders' names and addresses, who are entitled to vote for the election of directors, and their shareholdings, as of the most recent record date for which it has been compiled or as of a date specified by the shareholder subsequent to the date of demand. The list shall be made available on or before the later of five business days after the demand is received or the date specified therein as the date as of which the list is to be compiled. A corporation shall have the responsibility to cause its transfer agent to comply with this subdivision.

(b) Any delay by the corporation or the transfer agent in complying with a demand under subdivision (a) beyond the time limits specified therein shall give the shareholder or shareholders properly making the demand a right to obtain from the superior court, upon the filing of a verified complaint in the proper county and after a hearing, notice of which shall be given to such persons and in such manner as the court may direct, an order postponing any shareholders' meeting previously noticed for a period equal to the period of such delay. Such right shall be in addition to any other legal or equitable remedies to which the shareholder may be entitled.

(c) The record of shareholders shall also be open to inspection and copying by any shareholder or holder of a voting trust certificate at any time during usual business hours upon written demand on the corporation, for a purpose reasonably related to such holder's interests as a shareholder or holder of a voting trust certificate.

(d) Any inspection and copying under this section may be made in person or by agent or attorney. The rights provided in this section may not be limited by the articles or bylaws. This section applies to any domestic corporation and to any foreign corporation having its principal executive office in this state or customarily holding meetings of its board in this state.

This section applies to a director of any foreign corporation having its principal executive office in this state or customarily holding meetings of its board in this state.

SEC. 23.8. Section 1603 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1603. (a) Upon refusal of a lawful demand for inspection, the superior court of the proper county, may enforce the right of inspection with just and proper conditions or may, for good cause shown, appoint one or more competent inspectors or accountants to audit the books and records kept in this state and investigate the property, funds and affairs of any domestic corporation or any foreign corporation keeping records in this state and of any subsidiary corporation thereof, domestic or foreign, keeping records in this state and to report thereon in such manner as the court may direct.

(b) All officers and agents of the corporation shall produce to the inspectors or accountants so appointed all books and documents in their custody or power, under penalty of punishment for contempt of court.

(c) All expenses of the investigation or audit shall be defrayed by the applicant unless the court orders them to be paid or shared by the corporation.

SEC. 24. Section 1702 of the Corporations Code as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1702. (a) If an agent for the purpose of service of process has resigned and has not been replaced or if the agent designated cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the address designated for personally delivering the process, and it is shown by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court that process against a domestic corporation cannot be served with reasonable diligence upon the designated agent by hand in the manner provided in Section 415.10, subdivision (a) of Section 415.20 or subdivision (a) of Section 415.30 of the Code of Civil Procedure or upon the corporation in the manner provided in subdivision (a), (b) or (c) of Section 416.10 or subdivision (a) of Section 416.20 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the court may make an order that the service be made upon the corporation by delivering by hand to the Secretary of State, or to any person employed in the Secretary of State's office in the capacity of assistant or deputy, one copy of the process for each defendant to be served, together with a copy of the order authorizing such service. Service in this manner is deemed complete on the 10th day after delivery of the process to the Secretary of State.

(b) Upon the receipt of any such copy of process and the fee therefor, the Secretary of State shall give notice of the service of the process to the corporation at its principal executive office, by forwarding to such office, by registered mail with request for return receipt, the copy of the process or, if the records of the Secretary of State do not disclose an address for its principal executive office, by forwarding such copy in the same manner to the last designated agent for service of process who has not resigned. If the agent for service of process has resigned and has not been replaced and the records of the Secretary of State do not disclose an address for its principal executive office, no action need be taken by the Secretary of State.

(c) The Secretary of State shall keep a record of all process served upon the Secretary of State under this chapter and shall record therein the time of service and the Secretary of State's action with reference thereto. The certificate of the Secretary of State, under the Secretary of State's official seal, certifying to the receipt of process, the giving of notice thereof to the corporation and the forwarding of such process pursuant to this section, shall be competent and prima facie evidence of the matters stated therein.

SEC. 24.5. Section 1800 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

(4) Any other person expressly authorized to do so in the articles.

(b) The grounds for involuntary dissolution are that:

(1) The corporation has abandoned its business for more than one year.

(2) The corporation has an even number of directors who are equally divided and cannot agree as to the management of its affairs, so that its business can no longer be conducted to advantage or so that there is danger that its property and business will be impaired or lost, and the holders of the voting shares of the corporation are so divided into factions that they cannot elect a board consisting of an uneven number.

(3) There is internal dissension and two or more factions of shareholders in the corporation are so deadlocked that its business can no longer be conducted with advantage to its shareholders or the shareholders have failed at two consecutive annual meetings at which all voting power was exercised, to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired or would have expired upon election of their successors.

(4) Those in control of the corporation have been guilty of or have knowingly countenanced persistent and pervasive fraud, mismanagement or abuse of authority or persistent unfairness toward any shareholders or its property is being misapplied or wasted by its directors or officers.

(5) In the case of any corporation with 35 or fewer shareholders (determined as provided in Section 605), liquidation is reasonably necessary for the protection of the rights or interests of the complaining shareholder or shareholders.

(6) The period for which the corporation was formed has terminated without extension of such period.

(c) At any time prior to the trial of the action any shareholder or creditor may intervene therein.

(d) This section does not apply to any corporation subject to the Banking Law (Division 1 (commencing with Section 99) of the Financial Code), the Public Utilities Act (Part 1 (commencing with 201) of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code), the Savings and Loan Association Law (Division 2 (commencing with Section 5000) of the Financial Code) or Article 14 (commencing with Section 1010) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code.

(2) If the election was made by the vote of shareholders, the number of shares voting for the election and that the election was made by shareholders representing at least 50 percent of the voting power.

(3) If the certificate is executed by a shareholder or shareholders, that the subscribing shareholder or shareholders were authorized to execute the certificate by shareholders holding shares representing at least 50 percent of the voting power.

(4) If the election was made by the board pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1900, the certificate shall also set forth the circumstances showing the corporation to be within one of the categories described in said subdivision.

SEC. 25.8. Section 1902 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1902. (a) A voluntary election to wind up and dissolve may be revoked prior to distribution of any assets by the vote of shareholders holding shares representing a majority of the voting power, or by approval by the board if the election was by the board pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1900. Thereupon a certificate evidencing the revocation shall be signed, verified and filed in the manner prescribed by Section 1901.

(b) The certificate shall set forth:

The court, if it assumes jurisdiction, may make such orders as to any and all matters concerning the winding up of the affairs of the corporation and for the protection of its shareholders and creditors as justice and equity may require. The provisions of Chapter 18 (commencing with Section 1800) (except Sections 1800 and 1801) shall apply to such court proceedings.

SEC. 28. Section 1905 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

1905. (a) When a corporation has been completely wound up without court proceedings therefor, a majority of the directors then in office shall sign and verify a certificate of dissolution stating:

(1) That the corporation has been completely wound up.

(2) That its known debts and liabilities have been actually paid, or adequately provided for, or paid or adequately provided for as far as its assets permitted, or that it has incurred no known debts or liabilities, as the case may be. If there are known debts or liabilities for payment of which adequate provision has been made, the certificate shall state what provision has been made, setting forth the name and address of the corporation, person or governmental agency that has assumed or guaranteed the payment, or the name and address of the depositary with which deposit has been made or such other information as may be necessary to enable the creditor or other person to whom payment is to be made to appear and claim payment of the debt or liability.

(3) That its known assets have been distributed to shareholders, or, if there are no shareholders, to the persons entitled thereto, or wholly applied or deposited on account of its debts and liabilities or that it acquired no known assets, as the case may be.

(4) That the corporation is dissolved.

(b) The certificate of dissolution shall be filed and thereupon the corporate existence shall cease, except for the purpose of further winding up if needed. However, before any corporation taxed under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law (Part 11 (commencing with Section 23001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code) may file a certificate of dissolution it shall file or cause to be filed the certificate of satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that all taxes imposed under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law have been paid or secured.

SEC. 28.6. Section 2000 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2000. (a) Subject to any contrary provision in the articles, in any suit for involuntary dissolution, or in any proceeding for voluntary dissolution initiated by the vote of shareholders representing only 50 percent of the voting power, the corporation or, if it does not elect to purchase, the holders of 50 percent or more of the voting power of the corporation (the "purchasing parties") may avoid the dissolution of the corporation and the appointment of any receiver by purchasing for cash the shares owned by the plaintiffs or by the shareholders so initiating the proceeding (the "moving parties") at their fair value. The fair value shall be determined on the basis of the liquidation value but taking into account the possibility, if any, of sale of the entire business as a going concern in a liquidation. In fixing the value, the amount of any damages resulting if the initiation of the dissolution is a breach by any moving party or parties of an agreement with the purchasing party or parties may be deducted from the amount payable to such moving party or parties, unless the ground for dissolution is that specified in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 1800. The election of the corporation to purchase may be made by the approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) excluding shares held by the moving parties.

(b) If the purchasing parties (1) elect to purchase the shares owned by the moving parties, and (2) are unable to agree with the moving parties upon the fair value of such shares, and (3) give bond with sufficient security to pay the expenses (including attorneys' fees) of the moving parties if such expenses are recoverable under subdivision (c), the court upon application of the purchasing parties, either in the pending action or in a proceeding initiated in the superior court of the proper county by the purchasing parties in the case of a voluntary election to wind up and dissolve, shall stay the winding up and dissolution proceeding and shall proceed to ascertain and fix the fair value of the shares owned by the moving parties.

(c) The court shall appoint three disinterested appraisers to appraise the fair value of the shares owned by the moving parties, and shall make an order referring the matter to the appraisers so appointed for the purpose of ascertaining such value. The order shall prescribe the time and manner of producing evidence, if evidence is required. The award of the appraisers or of a majority of them, when confirmed by the court, shall be final and conclusive upon all parties. The court shall enter a decree which shall provide in the alternative for winding up and dissolution of the corporation unless payment is made for the shares within the time specified by the decree. If the purchasing parties do not make payment for the shares within the time specified, judgment shall be entered against them and the surety or sureties on the bond for the amount of the expenses (including attorneys' fees) of the moving parties. Any shareholder aggrieved by the action of the court may appeal therefrom.

(d) If the purchasing parties desire to prevent the winding up and dissolution, they shall pay to the moving parties the value of their shares ascertained and decreed within the time specified pursuant to this section, or, in case of an appeal, as fixed on appeal. On receiving such payment or the tender thereof, the moving parties shall transfer their shares to the purchasing parties.

(e) For the purposes of this section, "shareholder" includes a beneficial owner of shares who has entered into an agreement under Section 300 or 706.

SEC. 28.8. Section 2001 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2001. The powers and duties of the directors (or other persons appointed by the court pursuant to Section 1805) and officers after commencement of a dissolution proceeding include, but are not limited to, the following acts in the name and on behalf of the corporation:

(a) To elect officers and to employ agents and attorneys to liquidate or wind up its affairs.

(b) To continue the conduct of the business insofar as necessary for the disposal or winding up thereof.

(c) To carry out contracts and collect, pay, compromise and settle debts and claims for or against the corporation.

(d) To defend suits brought against the corporation.

(e) To sue, in the name of the corporation, for all sums due or owing to the corporation or to recover any of its property.

(f) To collect any amounts remaining unpaid on subscriptions to shares or to recover unlawful distributions.

(g) To sell at public or private sale, exchange, convey or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation for cash in an amount deemed reasonable by the board without compliance with the provisions of Section 1001 (except subdivision (d) thereof), or (subject to compliance with the provisions of Sections 1001, 1200 and 1201, but Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 1300) shall not be applicable thereto) upon such other terms and conditions and for such other considerations as the board deems reasonable or expedient; and to execute bills of sale and deeds of conveyance in the name of the corporation.

(h) In general, to make contracts and to do any and all things in the name of the corporation which may be proper or convenient for the purposes of winding up, settling and liquidating the affairs of the corporation.

SEC. 29. Section 2004 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2004. After determining that all the known debts and liabilities of a corporation in the process of winding up have been paid or adequately provided for, the board shall distribute all the remaining corporate assets among the shareholders according to their respective rights and preferences or, if there are no shareholders, to the persons entitled thereto. If the winding up is by court proceeding or subject to court supervision, the distribution shall not be made until after the expiration of any period for the presentation of claims which has been prescribed by order of the court.

SEC. 29.5. Section 2007 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2007. (a) If the corporation in process of winding up has both preferred and common shares outstanding, a plan of distribution of the shares, obligations or securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, or assets other than money which is not in accordance with the liquidation rights of the preferred shares as specified in the articles may nevertheless be adopted if approved by (a) the board and (b) by approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) of each class. The plan may provide that such distribution is in complete or partial satisfaction of the rights of any of such shareholders upon distribution and liquidation of the assets.

(b) A plan of distribution so approved shall be binding upon all the shareholders except as provided in subdivision (c). The board shall cause notice of the adoption of the plan to be given by mail within 20 days after its adoption to all holders of shares having a liquidation preference.

(c) Shareholders having a liquidation preference who dissent from the plan of distribution are entitled to be paid the amount of their liquidation preference in cash if they file written demand for payment with the corporation within 30 days after the date of mailing of the notice of the adoption of the plan of distribution, unless the plan of distribution is abandoned. The demand shall state the number and class of the shares held of record by the shareholder in respect of which the shareholder claims payment.

(d) If any such demand for cash payment is filed, the board in its discretion may abandon the plan without further approval by the outstanding shares (Section 152), and all shareholders shall then be entitled to distribution according to their rights and liquidation preferences in the process of winding up.

SEC. 30. Section 2011 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2011. (a) In all cases where a corporation has been dissolved, the shareholders may be sued in the corporate name of such corporation upon any cause of action against the corporation arising prior to its dissolution. This section is procedural in nature and is not intended to determine liability.

(b) Summons or other process against such a corporation may be served by delivering a copy thereof to an officer, director or person having charge of its assets or, if no such person can be found, to any agent upon whom process might be served at the time of dissolution. If none of such persons can be found with due diligence and it is so shown by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court, then the court may make an order that summons or other process be served upon the dissolved corporation by personally delivering a copy thereof, together with a copy of the order, to the Secretary of State or an assistant or deputy secretary of state. Service in this manner is deemed complete on the 10th day after delivery of the process to the Secretary of State.

(c) Every such corporation shall survive and continue to exist indefinitely for the purpose of being sued in any quiet title action. Any judgment rendered in any such action shall bind each and all of its shareholders or other persons having any equity or other interest in such corporation, to the extent of their interest therein, and such action shall have the same force and effect as an action brought under the provisions of Sections 410.50 and 410.60 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Service of summons or other process in any such action may be made as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 413.10) of Title 5 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure or as provided in subdivision (b).

(d) Upon receipt of such process and the fee therefor, the Secretary of State forthwith shall give notice to the corporation as provided in Section 1702.

SEC. 30.2. Section 2104 of the Corporations Code, as added by Chapter 682 of the Statutes of 1975, is amended to read:

2104. Any foreign lending institution which has not qualified to do business in this state and which engages in any of the activities set forth in subdivision (d) of Section 191 shall be considered by such activities to have appointed the Secretary of State as its agent for service of process for any action arising out of any such activities, and, on or before June 30th of each year, shall file a statement showing the address to which any notice or process may be sent in the manner and with the effect provided in Section 2111.
