(b) If the driver of the vehicle sounds a siren as may be reasonably necessary and the vehicle displays a lighted red lamp visible from the front as a warning to other drivers and pedestrians.

A siren shall not be sounded by an authorized emergency vehicle except when required under this section.

SEC. 3. Section 21451 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

21451. Green alone or "go" on an official traffic control signal means both of the following:

(a) Vehicular traffic facing the signal shall proceed straight through or may turn right or left. Vehicular traffic may make a semicircular or U-turn except where such turn is prohibited by signs erected at such location. The semicircular or U-turn shall be made from the far left-hand lane that is lawfully available to traffic moving in the direction of travel from which the turn is commenced. However, vehicular traffic, including vehicles turning right or left, shall yield the right-of-way to other vehicles and to pedestrians lawfully within the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk at the time such signal was first exhibited.

(c) It is unlawful to operate a traffic signal which is equipped with a green light and a red arrow which are shown simultaneously. A green arrow shall not be displayed so as to direct vehicular traffic in a manner as to conflict with another flow of vehicular traffic directed at the same time in another direction.

(d) In the event a flashing red or yellow signal replaces the green arrow, vehicular traffic facing the signal may make the movement which would have been indicated by the green arrow, but shall proceed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 21457 if the signal is a flashing red signal or pursuant to subdivision (b) of that section if the signal is a flashing yellow signal.

SEC. 5. SECTION 1. Section 4453 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

4453. Except as provided in Section 4453.1, in computing average annual earnings for the purposes of temporary disability indemnity and permanent total disability indemnity only, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than seventy-three dollars and fifty cents ($73.50) nor more than two hundred thirty-one dollars ($231). In computing average annual earnings for purposes of permanent partial disability indemnity, except as provided in Section 4659, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than forty-five dollars ($45) nor more than one hundred five dollars ($105). Between these limits the average weekly earnings, except as provided in Sections 4456 to 4459, shall be arrived at as follows:

(a) Where the employment is for 30 or more hours a week and for five or more working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be 100 percent of the number of working days a week times the daily earnings at the time of the injury.

(b) Where the employee is working for two or more employers at or about the time of the injury, the average weekly earnings shall be taken as 100 percent of the aggregate of such earnings from all employments computed in terms of one week; but the earnings from employments other than the employment in which the injury occurred shall not be taken at a higher rate than the hourly rate paid at the time of the injury.

(c) If the earnings are at an irregular rate, such as piecework, or on a commission basis, or are specified to be by week, month or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivision (a) above shall be taken as 100 percent of the actual weekly earnings averaged for such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay

(d) Where the employment is for less than 30 hours per week, or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings cannot reasonably and fairly be applied, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at 100 percent of the sum which reasonably represents the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because

For the fiscal year 1973–74, each county's share shall be 45 percent of the amount specified in the above table for the particular county. Beginning with the fiscal year 1975–76, the amount payable by each county in each subsequent year shall be determined by multiplying the 1974–75 base-year amount by the ratio of the county's modified assessed value in the subsequent year to the county's modified assessed value in the base year.

(b) The term "modified assessed value" for the current year means the total of (1) the taxable assessed value of state-assessed property and the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (2) the product of the sum of (i) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (ii) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state, and (iii) the sum of assessed valuation equivalents of revenue amounts certified pursuant to Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code times the average of the factor certified for the current year under Section 17261 of the Education Code for the local roll of the county with the factors so certified for the two immediately preceding years.

The term "modified assessed value" for the base year means the total of (1) the taxable assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (2) the product of the sum of (i) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (ii) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state, and (iii) the sum of assessed valuation equivalents of revenue amounts certified pursuant to Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code times the factor certified for the base year under Section 17261 of the Education Code for the local roll of the county. The factor referred to herein is as corrected pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1819 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The assessed valuation equivalents of Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be derived by multiplying such amounts by a factor of 100 and dividing the product by the county's secured tax rate for the prior year.

For purposes of this subdivision commencing with the 1976–77 fiscal year, the term "taxable" assessed value of county-assessed property shall not include any assessed valuation upon which tax receipts are allocated to a redevelopment agency pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 33670) of Chapter 6 of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code.

The State Controller shall determine the amount payable by each particular county in subsequent fiscal years under this section.

(c) The counties' share toward the cost of care and administration provided under this chapter shall be paid to the state monthly.

The amount payable by each county in each subsequent year beginning with the 1972–73 fiscal year shall be determined by multiplying the base-year amount by the ratio of the county's modified assessed value in the subsequent year to the county's modified assessed value in the base year. The term "modified assessed value" for the current year means the total of (a) the taxable assessed value of state-assessed property and the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (b) the product of the sum of (1) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (2) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state, and (3) the sum of the assessed valuation equivalents of revenue amounts certified pursuant to Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code times the average of the factor certified for the current year under Section 17261 of the Education Code for the local roll of the county with the factors so certified for the two immediately preceding years.

The term "modified assessed value" for the base year means the total of (1) the taxable assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (2) the product of the sum of (i) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (ii) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax

The factor referred to herein is as corrected pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1819 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The assessed valuation equivalents of Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be derived by multiplying such amounts by a factor of 100 and dividing the product by the county's secured tax rate for the prior year.

For purposes of this subdivision commencing with the 1976–77 fiscal year, the term "taxable" assessed value of county-assessed property shall not include any assessed valuation upon which tax receipts are allocated to a redevelopment agency pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 33670) of Chapter 6 of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code.

The State Controller shall determine the amount payable by each particular county in subsequent fiscal years under this section.

(b) The counties' share toward the cost of care and administration provided under this chapter shall be paid to the state monthly.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 5707, 5709.5, 5710, and 5714, payment for the costs of health care services provided under Part 2 (commencing with Section 5600), Division 5, of this code, the Short-Doyle Act, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7511, payment for the share of costs of health care services provided under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 7500), Division 7, of this code, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 14150.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14150.5. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 14150, commencing with the 1974–75 fiscal year, no county shall be required to pay as the county share toward the cost of care and administration in any fiscal year under Section 14150 an amount which would exceed the amount produced by a property tax rate of sixty cents ($0.60) per one hundred dollars ($100) of modified assessed value of property in the county for the 1974–75 fiscal year and for each subsequent fiscal year. The term "modified assessed value" means the total of (a) the taxable assessed value of state-assessed property and the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt state-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state and (b) the product of the sum of (1) the taxable assessed value of county-assessed property, (2) the exempt assessed value of partially or totally exempt county-assessed property on which tax losses are reimbursed by the state, and (3) the sum of the assessed valuation equivalents of revenue amounts certified pursuant to Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code times the average of the factor certified for the current year under Section 17261 of the Education Code for the local roll of the county with the factors so certified for the two immediately preceding years, such factors being those as corrected pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1819 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The assessed valuation equivalents of Section 27423 of the Government Code and Section 38905 of the Revenue and Taxation Code shall be derived by multiplying such amounts by a factor of 100 and dividing the product by the county's secured tax rate for the prior year.

For purposes of this subdivision commencing with the 1976–77 fiscal year, the term "taxable" assessed value of county-assessed property shall not include any assessed valuation upon which tax receipts are allocated to a redevelopment agency pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 33670) of Chapter 6 of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code.

Any relief to the county under this section shall be first used to reduce the amount owing by any county of the 15th class to the state under the Medi-Cal program.

(b) For the 1977–78 fiscal year only, the amount determined pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section shall be reduced for each county by the amount by which (1) the sum of the actual amount determined under Section 12400 for the 1976–77 fiscal year plus the amount determined under Section 14150 for the 1976–77 fiscal year exceeds (2) the sum of the amounts that would have been derived for the 1976–77 fiscal year under Sections 12400 and 14150, if the factor for the base year certified under Section 17261 of the Education Code had been used to determine the base-year modified assessed value, instead of the average of the factor certified for the base year with the factors certified for the two immediately preceding years.

If the amount determined under (2) exceeds the amount determined under (1), then the amount determined pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be used as the basis for determining the amount due from each county.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act provides a vital alternative method of computation of a county's share of costs under the state supplementary program for the aged, blind and disabled and the Medi-Cal Act, which must be available to counties prior to the close of the 1976–77 fiscal year. In order to accomplish such purpose, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 66634 is added to the Government Code, to read:

66634. The Legislature finds and declares that because the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission must rely on the expertise provided by volunteer members of advisory boards to make decisions which relate to the public safety, members of the advisory boards should be entitled to the same immunity from liability provided commission members and other public employees.

Members of the advisory bodies appointed pursuant to Section 66633 while performing duties required by this title or by the commission shall be entitled to the same rights and immunities granted public employees by the provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 820) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 3.6 of Title 1. Such rights and immunities are deemed to have attached and shall attach as of the date of appointment of a member to the advisory body. This provision shall apply to members heretofore and hereafter appointed to the Engineering Criteria Review Board (14 Cal. Adm. Code 10298), the Design Review Board (14 Cal. Adm. Code 10295) and any other advisory bodies hereafter created pursuant to Section 66633.

SEC. 2. Section 12389 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

12389. (a) An underwritten title company as defined in Section 12340.5, which shall be a stock corporation, may engage in the business of preparing title searches, title reports, title examinations, certificates or abstracts of title, upon the basis of which a title insurer writes title policies, provided that:

(1) Only domestic corporations may be licensed under this section and no underwritten title company, as defined in Section 12340.5, shall become licensed under this section, or change the name under which it is licensed or operates, unless it has first complied with the provisions of Section 881.

(2) Depending upon the county or counties in which the company is licensed to transact business, it shall maintain required minimum net worth as follows:

Aggregate number of documents recorded and documents filed in the offices of the county recorders in the preceding calendar year in all counties where the company is licensed to transact business	Amount of required minimum net worth
Less than 10,000	$20,000
10,000 to 50,000	30,000
50,000 to 100,000	60,000
100,000 to 500,000	100,000
500,000 to 1,000,000	150,000
1,000,000 or more	200,000

"Net worth" is defined as the excess of assets over all liabilities and required reserves. It may carry as an asset the actual cost of its title plant provided the value ascribed to such asset shall not exceed the lesser of: (a) the actual cost thereof, or (b) 50 percent of its stated capital, as defined in Section 1900 of the Corporations Code.

Where the information in the title plant is not being kept current, the asset value of such plant shall not exceed the actual cost less 20 percent of the actual cost for each 12-month period, immediately preceding the date such asset is valued for purposes of this subdivision, that the title plant is not actually maintained.

An underwritten title company at all times shall maintain current assets of at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in excess of its current liabilities, as such current assets and liabilities may be defined pursuant to regulations made by the commissioner. In making such regulations, the commissioner shall be guided by generally accepted accounting principles followed by certified public accountants in this state.

(3) Such an underwritten title company shall obtain from the commissioner a license to transact its business. Such license shall not be granted until the applicant conforms to the requirements of this section and all other provisions of this code specifically applicable to applicant. After issuance the holder shall continue to comply with the requirements as to its business set forth in this code, in the applicable rules and regulations of the commissioner and in the laws of this state.

Any underwritten title company who possesses, or is required to possess, a license pursuant to this section shall be subject as if an insurer to the provisions of Article 8 (commencing with Section 820) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of this code and shall be deemed to be subject to authorization by the Insurance Commissioner within the meaning of subdivision (e) of Section 25100 of the Corporations Code.

Such license may be obtained by filing an application on a form prescribed by the commissioner accompanied by a filing fee of three hundred dollars ($300). Such license when issued shall be for an indefinite term and shall expire with the termination of the existence of the holder, subject to the annual renewal fee imposed under Sections 12415 and 12416.

An underwritten title company seeking to extend its license to an additional county shall pay a one-hundred-seventy-five-dollar ($175) fee for each such additional county, and shall furnish to the commissioner evidence, at least sufficient to meet the minimum net worth requirements of paragraph (2), of its financial ability to expand its business operation to include such additional county or counties.

(4) Such an underwritten title company shall furnish an audit to the commissioner on the forms provided by the commissioner annually, either on a calendar year basis on or before March 31st or, if approved in writing by the commissioner in respect to any individual company, on a fiscal year basis on or before 90 days after the end of the fiscal year. The time for furnishing any such audit may be extended, for good cause shown, on written approval of the commissioner for a period, not to exceed 60 days. Failure to submit an audit on time, or within such extended time as the commissioner may grant, shall be grounds for an order by the commissioner to accept no new business pursuant to subdivision (d). Such audits shall be private, except that a synopsis of the balance sheet on a form prescribed by the commissioner may be made available to the public.

The audits shall be made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards by an independent certified public accountant or independent licensed public accountant approved by the commissioner specifically for the particular company. Approval of an auditor for a particular company shall not be deemed to be a licensing of the auditor nor approval of the auditor for any other company or any other purpose. Any such approval, or the renewal thereof, shall automatically expire on the first day of January in the fifth calendar year following the date of original or renewal approval. The fee for filing an application for such approval or the renewal thereof shall be seventeen dollars and fifty cents ($17.50). The fee for filing the audit shall be thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents ($37.50).

The commissioner may deny or revoke approval or renewal of approval of an auditor for any of the following reasons:

(i) Adverse result in any proceeding before the State Board of Accountancy affecting the auditor's license;

(ii) The auditor has an affiliation with the underwritten title company or any of its officers or directors which would prevent his reports on the company from being reasonably objective;

(iii) The auditor has suffered conviction of any misdemeanor or felony based on his activities as an accountant; or

(iv) Judgment adverse to the auditor in any civil action finding him guilty of fraud, deceit or misrepresentation in the practice of his profession.

Any company which fails to file any audit or other report on or before the date it is due shall pay to the commissioner a penalty fee of one hundred dollars ($100) and on failure to pay such or any other fee or file the audit required by this section shall forfeit the privilege of accepting new business until the delinquency is corrected.

(b) Such an underwritten title company may engage in the escrow business and act as escrow agent provided that:

(1) All funds deposited with the company in connection with any escrow shall be deposited in a bank in a separate trust account, and such funds shall be the property of the person or persons entitled thereto under the provisions of the escrow and segregated escrow by escrow in the records of the company. Such funds shall not be subject to any debts of the company and shall be used only to fulfill the terms of the individual escrow under which the funds were accepted and none of such funds shall be used until all conditions of the escrow have been met.

Bona fide drafts executed by persons fully responsible financially may at the option of the company, be deemed the equivalent of funds already cleared into such bank deposit unless another law of this state prohibits such persons from tendering such drafts to escrow holders for the purpose of closing escrows.

Any interest received on funds deposited with the company in connection with any escrow which are deposited in a bank shall be paid over to the depositing party to the escrow and shall not be transferred to the account of the company.

(2) It shall maintain record of all receipts and disbursements of escrow funds.

(3) It shall deposit seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) for each county in which it transacts business in some form permitted by Section 12351 with the commissioner who shall forthwith make a special deposit thereof in the State Treasury and such deposit shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 12353, 12356, 12357, and 12358 and as long as there are no claims against the deposit all interest and dividends thereon shall be paid to the depositor. The deposit shall be for the security and protection of persons having lawful claims against the depositor growing out of escrow transactions with it. Such deposit shall be maintained until four years after all escrows handled by the depositor have been closed.

(A) The commissioner may release such deposits prior to the passage of such four-year period upon presentation of evidence satisfactory to the commissioner of either a statutory merger of the depositor into a licensee or certificate holder subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner, or a valid assumption agreement under which all liability of the depositor stemming from escrow transactions handled by it is assumed by a licensee or certificate holder subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner.

(B) With the foregoing exceptions, the deposit shall be returned to the depositor or lawful successor in interest following the four-year period, upon presentation of evidence satisfactory to the commissioner that there are no claims against the deposit stemming from escrow transactions handled by the depositor. If the commissioner has evidence of one or more claims against the depositor, and the depositor is not in conservatorship or liquidation, the commissioner may interplead the deposit by special endorsement to a court of competent jurisdiction for distribution on the basis that claims against the depositor stemming from escrow transactions handled by it have priority in such distribution over other claims against the depositor.

(4) It shall obtain and maintain a fidelity bond on file with the commissioner, to cover all officers and employees of the company who participate in any escrow transaction that is handled by the company. Such bond shall be a blanket bond or, with the approval of the commissioner, may be a position or individual bond. The commissioner shall prescribe the amount of the bond which shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

In the commissioner's sole discretion, he may accept a cash deposit in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) in lieu of the bond otherwise required by this paragraph. In the event such a deposit is accepted by the commissioner, he shall make a special deposit thereof in the State Treasury and so long as the depositor continues to be solvent, the depositor shall annually receive the interest accruing on the assets in the deposit.

(c) The commissioner shall, whenever it appears necessary, examine the business and affairs of a company licensed under this section. All such examinations shall be at the expense of the company.

(d) At any time that the commissioner determines, after notice and hearing, that a company licensed under this section has willfully failed to comply with any of the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall make his order prohibiting the company from conducting its business for a period of not more than one year.

Any company violating such an order is subject to seizure under Article 14 (commencing with Section 1010) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 is guilty of a misdemeanor and may have its license revoked by the commissioner. Any person aiding and abetting any company in a violation of such an order is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The purpose of this section is to maintain the solvency of the companies subject to this section and to protect the public by preventing fraud and requiring fair dealing. In order to carry out such purposes the commissioner may make reasonable rules and regulations to govern the conduct of its business of companies subject to this section.

The name under which each underwritten title company is licensed shall at all times be an approved name. Each such company shall be subject to the provisions of Article 14 (commencing with Section 1010) and Article 14.5 (commencing with Section 1065.1) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1.

Such rules and regulations shall be adopted, amended or repealed in accordance with the procedure provided in Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. Section 12958 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

12958. (a) There is in the office of the commissioner the Local Government Information and Statistical Analysis Section which shall collect relevant data received from insurers pursuant to subdivision (b) in order that public entities will be able to assess past insurance programs and to consider alternatives to full insurance coverage.

(b) Each insurer transacting insurance, as defined in Sections 108 and 116, covering liability for any public entity, as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code, where the public entity is the named insured, shall report the following statistics to the commissioner by type of public entity, on a date not later than July 1 of each calendar year:

(2) The total amount of premiums received from insureds, both written and earned (as reported in the annual statement), during the immediately preceding calendar year.

(3) The number of claims reported to the insurer for the first time separately by the year the claim occurred, and, the number of claims reported closed during a previous calendar year which were reopened separately by the year claim occurred.

(5) (A) The number of claims closed with payment to the claimant during the calendar year next preceding, to be reported by the year the claim occurred, (B) the total monetary amount paid thereon, reported by the year the claim occurred, and (C) the total allocated loss expense paid thereon, reported by the year claim occurred.

CHAPTER 1027

Such subsequent appeal to the commission is not subject to the provisions of this section.

(e) If a customer fails to comply with an amortization agreement, the corporation shall not terminate service without giving notice to the customer, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a), of the conditions the customer must meet to avoid termination, but such notice shall not entitle the customer to further investigation by the corporation.

SEC. 6. Section 12824 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

SEC. 9. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because this act authorizes a revenue source, or makes local governments eligible for a revenue source, that may be utilized by local governments to cover the cost of the mandate.

CHAPTER 1028

An act to amend Section 2005 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish and game.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2005 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

2005. It is unlawful to use an artificial light to assist in the taking of game birds, game mammals, or game fish, except that this section shall not apply to sport fishing in ocean waters or other waters where night fishing is permitted if the lights are not used on or as part of the fishing tackle, commercial fishing, nor to the taking of mammals, the taking of which is governed by Article 2 (commencing with Section 4180) of Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 4.

It is unlawful for any person, or one or more persons, to throw or cast the rays of any spotlight, headlight, or other artificial light on any highway or in any field, woodland, or forest where game mammals, fur-bearing mammals, or nongame mammals are commonly found, or upon any game mammal, fur-bearing mammal, or nongame mammal, while having in his possession or under his control any firearm or weapon with which such mammal could be killed, even though the mammal is not killed, injured, shot at, or otherwise pursued.

It is unlawful to use or possess at any time any infrared or similar light used in connection with an electronic viewing device sometimes designated as a sniperscope to assist in the taking of birds, mammals, amphibia, or fish.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the following:

(a) To the use of a hand held flashlight no larger, nor emitting more light, than a two-cell, three-volt flashlight, provided such light is not affixed in any way to a weapon, or to the use of a lamp or lantern which does not cast a directional beam of light.

(b) In the case of headlights of a motor vehicle operated in a usual manner and there is no attempt or intent to locate a game mammal, fur-bearing mammal, or nongame mammal.

(c) To the owner, or his employee, of land devoted to the agricultural industry while on such land, or land controlled by such an owner and in connection with such agricultural industry.

(d) To such other uses as the commission may authorize by regulation.

No person shall be arrested for violation of this section except by a peace officer.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

An act to amend Sections 55523, 55861, 55863, 56161, 56252, 56571, and 56574 of, and to add Sections 55409, 55862.7, and 56573.5 to, the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture marketing, and making an appropriation therefor.

Such financial statement, if not prepared by a public accountant or certified public accountant, shall be on a form prescribed by the director and shall be submitted under penalty of perjury. SECTION 1. Article 7 (commencing with Section 13550) is added to Chapter 7 of Division 7 of the Water Code, to read:

Article 7. Waste Water Reuse

13550. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the use of potable domestic water for the irrigation of greenbelt areas, including, but not limited to, cemeteries, golf courses, parks, and highway landscaped areas, is a waste or an unreasonable use of such water within the meaning of Section 2 of Article X of the California Constitution when reclaimed water which the state board, after notice and a hearing, finds meets the following conditions is available:

(a) The source of reclaimed water is of adequate quality for such use and is available for such use.

(b) Such reclaimed water may be furnished to such greenbelt areas at a reasonable cost for facilities for such delivery. In determining reasonable cost, the state board shall consider all relevant factors, including, but not limited to, the present and projected costs of supplying potable domestic water to affected greenbelt areas and the present and projected costs of supplying reclaimed water to such areas, and shall find that the cost of supplying such reclaimed water is comparable to, or less than, the cost of supplying such potable domestic water.

(c) After concurrence with the Department of Health, the use of reclaimed water from the proposed source will not be detrimental to public health.

(d) Such use of reclaimed water will not adversely affect downstream water rights, will not degrade water quality, and is determined not to be injurious to plantlife.

The state board may require a public agency to furnish such information as may be relevant to making the findings required by this section.

13551. A public agency, including a state agency, city, county, city and county, district, or any other political subdivision of the state, shall not use water of quality suitable for potable domestic use for the irrigation of greenbelt areas when suitable reclaimed water is available as provided in Section 13550.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Especially in this year of extreme water shortage the use of high quality domestic drinking water for uses which can be served by reuse of suitable, treated waste water should be curtailed wherever possible. In order that such reuse is implemented in the soonest practicable time, it is necessary, therefore, that this act take effect immediately.

14262. (a) "Actuarial methods" mean any reasonable and adequate method of computing or determining prospective per capita rates of payment which is based upon various assumptions, including "experience data," to determine the expected cost and expected frequency of utilization (by aid category, age and sex) for each component or grouping of services and other requirements for which the rate or rates will serve as compensation or reimbursement. Initially, expected cost and utilization information shall be developed from recent experience data and then projected over the period for which the per capita rates are to be effective. Such a projection shall be adjusted to take into consideration various actuarial factors, including inflation and requirements, if any, which exceed the program or basis from which the experience data is derived.

(b) "Experience data" mean cost and utilization data from the Medi-Cal fee-for-service or prepaid health plan programs. Such data shall be sufficient in quantity and extent to provide credibility.

(c) "Actuarial equivalence" means the actual per capita costs for Medi-Cal beneficiaries adjusted by age, sex, aid category, and other appropriate factors so as to be comparable with the costs of prepaid health plan enrollees.

The department shall conduct a public hearing at least 30 days prior to the execution of an initial contract with a prepaid health plan and within 60 days prior to the renewal of a prepaid health plan contract to hear and receive evidence on the ability of the prepaid health plan to fulfill its responsibilities under the contract. The hearing shall be conducted in the county within which the prepaid health plan is located, or in the case of a prepaid health plan situated in more than one county, in the county where the largest number of Medi-Cal beneficiaries are enrolled in the plan.

Notice of the time, date, and place of the hearing shall be mailed to the following:

(a) The prepaid health plan applying for the contract or contract renewal.

(b) Medi-Cal beneficiaries enrolled in the prepaid health plan subject to the hearing.

(c) Any interested party who requests notification of public hearings conducted pursuant to this section.

The department shall present evidence and make a finding of fact as to the ability of the prepaid health plan to comply with its previous and proposed contract obligations.

No contract shall be renewed unless the department makes a finding based upon the evidence presented at the public hearing, including evidence presented by the department, that the prepaid health plan has fully complied with its contract obligations.

SEC. 13. Section 14301 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14301. (a) The department shall determine, by actuarial methods, prospective per capita rates of payment for services provided under this chapter for Medi-Cal beneficiaries enrolled in a prepaid health plan. The rates of payment shall be determined annually, shall be effective no later than the first day of July each year, and shall not exceed the total per capita amount (including cost of administration) which the department estimates (with appropriate adjustments to provide actuarial equivalence) would be payable for all services and requirements covered under the prepaid health plan contract if all such services and requirements were to be furnished to Medi-Cal beneficiaries. In the event that there is any delay in the payment of said new annual rates determined pursuant to this subsection, continued payment to the prepaid health plan of the rate in effect at the time the delay occurred shall be interim payment only, and shall be subject to increase or decrease, as the case may be, to the level of the new annual rates effective as of the first day of July. The per capita rates shall be determined by sound actuarial methods on the basis of age, sex, and aid categories. The contract shall provide the specific per capita rates which the state shall pay the prepaid health plan each month for each beneficiary enrolled in the prepaid health plan, a detailed description of the specific actuarial method or methods and assumptions used in determining per capita rates, and a summary of the data base, including cost and utilization rates, which was used to determine per capita rates. In addition, the director shall engage and rely upon the services of an actuary or consulting actuary in determining prospective per capita rates.

(b) Any prepaid health plan with an operating experience and scale of operation deemed by the department to be insufficient to justify the application of an actuarially determined per capita rate, shall be reimbursed on a cost basis up to the fee-for-service maximum for services provided until such time as the director determines that a per capita lump sum method is reasonable, but not to exceed a period of one year. For purposes of this section, costs shall be net of intercompany profits in those circumstances where any of the following persons have a substantial financial interest, as defined by Section 14478, in any vendor to the prepaid health plan or any vendor to a subcontractor of the plan:

(1) Any person also having a substantial financial interest in the plan.

(2) Any director, officer, partner, trustee or employee of the plan.

(3) Any member of the immediate family of any person designated in (1) or (2).

(c) In the event that during a contract term, or at the time of contract renewal in those instances where the time of contract renewal differs from the time of annual rate determination, any change occurs which was unforeseen or not considered at the time per capita rates were determined and which affects the validity of any of the results of the actuarial methods used in determining per capita rates, or any change occurs in the obligations of any prepaid health plan affecting the cost to the prepaid health plan of performing the contract, where changes are required by a change in federal or state law or regulation, or by a change in the interpretation and implementation of the law or regulation by the department, the per capita rates determined pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be redetermined in the manner provided by subdivision (a) to reflect such change. During such period of time as is required to redetermine the per capita rates, the continued payment to a prepaid health plan of the per capita rates in effect at the time the change in the obligation of the prepaid health plan is made shall be considered interim payments and shall be subject to increase or decrease, as the case may be, effective as of the first day of the month in which the change in the obligation of the prepaid health plan is effective.

(d) The obligations of a prepaid health plan shall be changed only by contract or contract amendment wherein payment for the changes, whether payment results in an increase or decrease in the prior per capita rates paid to a prepaid health plan, shall be determined in accordance with this section and paid to affected prepaid health plans at the time the changes are effective.

(e) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as removing from a prepaid health plan the risk of beneficial or adverse effects, including inflation, which normally result from contracting to furnish health services.

14303.1. The department shall have authority to amend a prepaid health plan contract in accordance with the terms of a merger of a prepaid health plan with another organization or organizations other than the plan's subsidiary corporation, its parent corporation, or another subsidiary of its parent corporation, provided the surviving organization meets the following conditions:

(b) The plans concerned have satisfactorily demonstrated the fiscal and administrative soundness of the newly proposed organization.

(c) The enrollees of the plans concerned are informed of the impending merger, any resulting changes in the service area or delivery of health care services, and such other information required by subdivision (a) of Section 14406 at least 30 days in advance of the merger.

(a) The resulting or surviving organization assures the continued and accessible delivery of health care services to enrollees.

(b) The plan has satisfactorily demonstrated the fiscal and administrative soundness of the newly proposed organization.

(c) If the proposed reorganization or merger results in any change of the plan's service area or delivery of health care services, or if the director otherwise deems it to be appropriate, the following additional conditions shall be met:

(1) A public hearing is held as required by Section 14300.

(2) The enrollees of the plan are informed of the impending reorganization or merger, any resulting changes in the service area or delivery of health care services, and such other information required by subdivision (a) of Section 14406 at least 30 days in advance of the reorganization or merger.

(3) The enrollees of the plan are given the option of disenrolling for any cause within 60 days following the effective date of the reorganization or merger.

(d) The plan meets such other requirements as deemed necessary by the department in order to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

(d) The director shall give reasonable notice of his intention to apply any of the sanctions authorized by this section to the prepaid health plan and others who may be directly interested, including such other persons and organizations as the director may deem necessary. The notice shall include the effective date, the duration of, and the reason for each sanction proposed by the director. Proceedings to impose such sanctions shall be governed by the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1,

(d) On or after January 1, 1979, door-to-door solicitation of Medi-Cal enrollees shall be permitted except by regulation of the director. Prior to authorizing a continuation of door-to-door solicitation, the director shall make a written finding of fact, for each county in which the director proposes to permit a continuation of door-to-door solicitation, that alternative methods of marketing and enrollment are insufficient to guarantee enrollment stability for prepaid health plans operating within the county. The authorization to continue door-to-door solicitation shall apply to each county in which the director has made such a finding of fact and shall continue for a period not to exceed one year, except that the director may extend by regulation such authorization an additional year by making a new finding of fact. In permitting door-to-door solicitation of Medi-Cal enrollees, it is the intent of the Legislature that the department shall develop alternative enrollment procedures to maximize enrollment stability and growth in prepaid health plans.

Such ratios may be adjusted by the department as appropriate to the medical needs of the Medi-Cal population proposed to be served by the plan or if appropriate utilization is made of allied health manpower. Such adjustment shall be specifically stated in the contract between the prepaid health plan and the department.

Each prepaid health plan shall identify each primary care physician by service site and all other physicians by their specialty designation. This subdivision shall not be construed to limit the ability of a prepaid health plan to contract for data processing, claims processing, legal services, and financial services, provided that such contracted services do not replace or substitute for either the prepaid health plan's policy function or its financial risk.

(m) The administrative cost incurred by a health plan shall be reasonable and necessary and shall comply with the regulations of the Commissioner of Corporations governing administrative costs of a health care service plan.

(n) Each prepaid health plan shall establish a grievance procedure under which enrollees may submit their grievances. 150. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Each person in the State of California is entitled to health care commensurate with his or her health care needs, and to protection from inadequate health services not in the person's best interests.

(b) Hereditary disorders, such as sickle cell anemia, cystic fibrosis, and hemophilia, are often costly, tragic, and sometimes deadly burdens to the health and well-being of the citizens of this state.

(c) Detection through screening of hereditary disorders can lead to the alleviation of the disability of some hereditary disorders and contribute to the further understanding and accumulation of medical knowledge about hereditary disorders which may lead to their eventual alleviation or cure.

(d) There are different severities of hereditary disorders, that some hereditary disorders have little effect on the normal functioning of individuals, and that some hereditary disorders may be wholly or partially alleviated through medical intervention and treatment.

(e) All or most persons are carriers of some deleterious recessive genes which may be transmitted through the hereditary process, and that the health of carriers of hereditary disorders is substantially unaffected by that fact.

(f) Carriers of most deleterious genes should not be stigmatized and should not be discriminated against by any person within the State of California.

(g) Specific legislation designed to alleviate the problems associated with specific hereditary disorders may tend to be inflexible in the face of rapidly expanding medical knowledge, underscoring the need for flexible approaches to coping with genetic problems.

(h) State policy regarding hereditary disorders should be made with full public knowledge, in light of expert opinion and should be constantly reviewed to consider changing medical knowledge and ensure full public protection.

(i) The extremely personal decision to bear children should remain the free choice and responsibility of the individual, and should not be restricted by the state.

(j) Participation of persons in hereditary disorders programs in the State of California should be wholly voluntary, except for initial screening for phenylketonuria (PKU) and other genetic disorders treatable through the California newborn screening program. All information obtained from persons involved in hereditary disorders programs in the state should be held strictly confidential.

(k) In order to minimize the possibility for the reoccurrence of abuse of genetic intervention in hereditary disorders programs, all programs offering screening programs for heredity disorders shall comply with the principles established in this chapter. The Legislature finds it necessary to establish a uniform statewide policy for the screening for heredity disorder in the State of California.

151. The director shall establish such rules, regulations, and standards for hereditary disorders programs as the director deems necessary to promote and protect the public health and safety, in accordance with the principles established herein. Such principles shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) The public, especially communities and groups particularly affected by programs on hereditary disorders, should be consulted before any rules, regulations, and standards are adopted by the State Department of Health.

(b) The incidence, severity and treatment costs of each hereditary disorder and its perceived burden by the affected community should be considered; and that where appropriate, state and national experts in the medical, psychological, ethical, social, and economic effects or programs for the detection and management of hereditary disorders be consulted by the State Department of Health.

(c) Information on the operation of all programs on hereditary disorders within the state, except for confidential information obtained from participants in such programs, be open and freely available to the public.

(d) Clinical testing procedures established for use in programs, facilities, and projects be accurate, provide maximum information, and that the testing procedures selected produce results that are subject to minimum misinterpretation.

(e) No test or tests shall be performed on any minor over the objection of the minor's parents or guardian, nor may any tests be performed unless such parent or guardian is fully informed of the purposes of testing for hereditary disorders, and is given reasonable opportunity to object to such testing.

(f) No testing, except initial screening for PKU and other diseases which may be added to the newborn screening program, shall require mandatory participation, and no testing programs shall require restriction of childbearing, and participation in a testing program shall not be a prerequisite to eligibility for, or receipt of, any other service or assistance from, or to participate in, any other program, except where necessary to determine eligibility for further programs of diagnoses of or therapy for hereditary conditions.

(g) Counseling services for hereditary disorders be available through the program or a referral source for all persons determined to be or who believe themselves to be at risk for a hereditary disorder as a result of screening programs, that such counseling is nondirective, emphasizes informing the client, and not require restriction of childbearing.

(h) All participants in programs on hereditary disorders be protected from undue physical and mental harm, and except for initial screening for PKU and other diseases which may be added to newborn screening programs, be informed of the nature of risks involved in participation in such a program or project, and those determined to be affected with genetic disease be informed of the nature, and where possible, the cost of available therapies or maintenance programs, and be informed of the possible benefits and risks associated with such therapies and programs.

(i) All testing results and personal information generated from hereditary disorders programs be made available to an individual over 18 years of age, or to the individual's parent or guardian. If the individual is a minor or incompetent, all testing results which have positively determined the individual to either have, or be a carrier of, a heredity disorder shall be given through a physician or other source of health care.

(j) All testing results and personal information from hereditary disorders programs obtained from any individual, or from specimens from any individual, be held confidential and be considered a confidential medical record except for such information as the individual, parent, or guardian consents to be released; provided that the individual is first fully informed of the scope of the information requested to be released, of all of the risks, benefits, and purposes for such release, and of the identity of those to whom the information will be released or made available, except for statistical data compiled without reference to the identity of any individual, and except for research purposes, provided that pursuant to 45 Code of Federal Regulations Section 46.101 et seq. entitled "Protection of Human Subjects," the research has first been reviewed and approved by an institutional review board which certifies such approval to the custodian of the information and further certifies that in its judgment the information is of such potentially substantial public health value that modification of the requirement for legally effective prior informed consent of the individual is ethically justifiable.

(k) An individual whose confidentiality has been breached as a result of any violation of the provisions of this chapter may recover compensatory damages, and in addition, may recover civil damages not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), reasonable attorney's fees, and the costs of litigation.

152. A violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or any of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter shall be punishable as a misdemeanor.

153. The director shall submit a report to the Governor and the Legislature on an annual basis beginning January 1, 1979. The report shall summarize the activities conducted pursuant to this chapter and contain any recommendations which the director deems necessary regarding problems of hereditary disorders.

154. For the purposes of this chapter, hereditary disorders programs shall include, but not be limited to, all antenatal, neonatal, childhood, and adult screening programs, and all adjunct genetic counseling services.

155. The following programs shall comply with the regulations established pursuant to this chapter:

(a) Crippled children services programs under Article 2 (commencing with Section 249) of Chapter 2

(b) Prenatal testing programs under Article 2.8 (commencing with Section 290) of Chapter 2.

(c) Medical testing programs for newborns under Article 3 (commencing with Section 300) of Chapter 2.

(d) Programs of the genetic disease unit under Section 309.

(e) Child health disability prevention programs under Article 3.4 (commencing with Section 320) of Chapter 2.

(f) Genetically handicapped person's programs under Article 3.6 (commencing with Section 340) of Chapter 2.

(g) Medi-Cal Benefits Program under Article 4.2 (commencing with Section 14131) of Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 2. Section 309 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

309. It is the policy of the State of California to make every effort to detect, as early as possible, phenylketonuria and other preventable heritable disorders leading to mental retardation or physical defects.

The State Department of Health shall establish a genetic disease unit, which shall coordinate all programs of the department in the area of genetic disease. The unit shall promote a statewide program of testing information and counseling services and shall have the responsibility of designating tests and regulations to be used in executing this program. Such tests shall be in accordance with accepted medical practices and shall be administered to each child born in California at such time as the department has established appropriate regulations and testing methods. The department may provide laboratory testing facilities or contract with any laboratory which it deems qualified to conduct tests required under this section.

The department shall charge a fee for any tests performed pursuant to this section. The amount of such fee shall be established and periodically adjusted by the Director of Health in order to meet the costs of this section.

The department shall inform all hospitals or physicians, or both, of required regulations and tests and may alter or withdraw any such requirements whenever sound medical practice so indicates.

The provisions of this section shall not apply if a parent or guardian of the newborn child objects to a test on the ground that the test conflicts with his religious beliefs or practices.

The genetic disease unit is authorized to make grants or contracts for demonstration projects to determine the desirability and feasibility of additional tests or new genetic services or to initiate the development of genetic services in areas of need or to purchase or provide such services from such sums as are appropriated for this purpose.

The genetic disease unit's first task shall be to evaluate and prepare recommendations on the implementation of tests for the detection of the following diseases: galactosemia, histidinemia, galactokinase deficiency, homocystinuria, maple syrup urine disease, and tyrosinosis.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of Chapter 1112 of the Statutes of 1975 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. The Genetic Disease Testing Fund is hereby created as a special fund in the State Treasury. All moneys collected by the State Department of Health under Section 309 of the Health and Safety Code shall be deposited in the Genetic Disease Testing Fund which is continuously appropriated to the department to carry out the purposes of Section 309 of the Health and Safety Code.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the program carried out pursuant to Section 309 of the Health and Safety Code be fully supported from fees collected for such testing.

SEC. 4. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act.

SEC. 5. The sum of fifty thousand four hundred ninety-two dollars ($50,492) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Department of Health for expenditure by the state department during the 1977–78 fiscal year for establishing and implementing regulations under Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 150) of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 6. Upon the request of the Director of Health, the Director of Finance may provide a loan from the General Fund to the Genetic Disease Testing Fund. The amount of any such loan shall be approved by the Director of Finance and be repaid under such terms and conditions as prescribed by the Director of Finance, but shall, in any event, be entirely repaid no later than June 30, 1982.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order to ensure that genetic disease testing programs will continue to operate effectively to protect the public health and safety, it is essential that this act go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1038

An act to amend Sections 9889.18 and 9889.19 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Sections 4000.1 and 24007 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9889.18 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9889.18. (a) Whenever a licensed installer in a licensed station, in conformity with the instructions of the director, inspects or repairs a motor vehicle for pollution control, or installs a motor vehicle pollution control device, and determines that the vehicle conforms with the requirements of Section 27157 or 27157.5 of the Vehicle Code or Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and the rules and regulations of the State Air Resources Board, a certificate of compliance shall be issued to the owner or driver of the vehicle. The certificate of compliance shall contain provisions for the date of issuance, the make and registration number of the vehicle, the name of the owner of the vehicle, and the official designation of the station. It is unlawful for any person, other than a licensed installer in a licensed station, to sign or issue a certificate of compliance required by this article.

(b) A licensed installer shall not issue a certificate of compliance for any motor vehicle or motor vehicle with a motor vehicle engine which is not certified by the state board, and which is the subject of a transaction prohibited by Section 43152 or 43153 of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) With respect to a motor vehicle or motor vehicle with a new motor vehicle engine not certified by the state board which is in violation of Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 43150) of Chapter 2 of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, but which is not the subject of a transaction prohibited by Section 43152 or 43153 of that code, a licensed installer shall issue a certificate of noncompliance. The certificate of noncompliance shall contain the same information as a certificate of compliance but also shall indicate the basis for nonconformity and be of a distinctive form or style. The licensed installer shall send copies of any such certificate of noncompliance issued to the State Air Resources Board.

SEC. 2. Section 9889.19 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9889.19. The director may charge a fee for lamp and brake adjustment certificates, certificates of compliance, and certificates of noncompliance furnished to licensed stations. The fee charged shall be established by regulation and shall not produce a total estimated revenue which, together with license fees charged pursuant to Sections 9886.3, 9887.2 and 9887.3, is in excess of the estimated total cost to the bureau of the administration of this chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

4000.1. (a) The department shall require, pursuant to this section or regulations of the State Air Resources Board adopted pursuant to Section 43655 of the Health and Safety Code, upon initial registration, and upon transfer of ownership and registration, of any motor vehicle subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a motor vehicle pollution control device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, or a certificate of noncompliance, as appropriate.

With respect to new vehicles certified pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and having a gross vehicle weight of 6,000 pounds or less, the department shall accept a statement completed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 24007 in lieu of the certificate of compliance.

For the purposes of determining the validity of a certificate of compliance or noncompliance submitted in compliance with the requirements of this section, the definitions of new and used motor vehicle contained in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010), Part 1, Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall control.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to a transfer of ownership and registration when the transferor is either the parent, grandparent, child, or spouse of the transferee, when a vehicle registered to a sole proprietorship is transferred to such proprietor as owner, or when the transfer is between companies whose principal business is leasing vehicles, if there is no change in the lessee or operator of the vehicle.

(b) The State Air Resources Board, under Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, may exempt designated classifications of motor vehicles from the provisions of subdivision (a) as it deems necessary, and shall notify the department of such action.

SEC. 4. Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Assembly Bill No. 106 of the 1977–78 Regular Session, is amended to read:

4000.1. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) or (c) of this section or in subdivision (b) of Section 43654 of the Health and Safety Code, the department shall require, pursuant to this section or regulations of the State Air Resources Board adopted pursuant to Section 43655 of the Health and Safety Code, upon initial registration, and upon transfer of ownership and registration, of any motor vehicle subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a motor vehicle pollution control device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, or a certificate of noncompliance, as appropriate.

With respect to new vehicles certified pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and having a gross vehicle weight of 6,000 pounds or less, the department shall accept a statement completed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 24007 in lieu of the certificate of compliance.

For the purposes of determining the validity of a certificate of compliance or noncompliance submitted in compliance with the requirements of this section, the definitions of new and used motor vehicle contained in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall control.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a transfer of ownership and registration when:

(1) The transferor is either the parent, grandparent, child, or spouse of the transferee.

(2) A vehicle registered to a sole proprietorship is transferred to such proprietor as owner.

(3) The transfer is between companies whose principal business is leasing vehicles, if there is no change in the lessee or operator of the vehicle.

(c) The State Air Resources Board, under Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, may exempt designated classifications of motor vehicles from the provisions of subdivision (a) as it deems necessary, and shall notify the department of such action.

SEC. 5. Section 24007 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

24007. (a) No dealer or person holding a retail seller's permit shall sell a new or used vehicle which is not in compliance with the provisions of this code and departmental regulations adopted pursuant to this code unless the vehicle is (1) sold to another dealer, (2) sold for the purpose of being wrecked or dismantled, or (3) sold exclusively for off-highway use.

(b) No person shall sell, or offer or deliver for sale, to the ultimate purchaser a new or used motor vehicle, as those terms are defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of that Division 26 which is not in compliance with the provisions of that Part 5 and the rules and regulations of the State Air Resources Board, unless the vehicle is either (1) sold to a dealer, or (2) sold for the purpose of being wrecked or dismantled. With each application for initial registration of a new motor vehicle or transfer of registration of a motor vehicle subject to that Part 5, a dealer shall transmit to the Department of Motor Vehicles a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a certified device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of that Part 5 and the rules and regulations of the board.

With respect to new vehicles certified pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, having a gross vehicle weight of 6,000 pounds or less, a dealer may transmit, in lieu of such certificate of compliance, a statement, in a form and containing such information as is deemed necessary and appropriate by the Director of Motor Vehicles and the Executive Officer of the State Air Resources Board, to attest to the vehicles compliance with the provisions of that Chapter 2. The statement shall be certified under penalty of perjury, and shall be signed by the dealer or the dealer's authorized representative.

SEC. 6. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Assembly Bill No. 106 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, both bills amend Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill No. 106, that Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Assembly Bill No. 106, be further amended on the effective date of this act in the form set forth in Section 4 of this act to incorporate the changes in Section 4000.1 proposed by this bill. Therefore, if this bill and Assembly Bill No. 106 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, and Assembly Bill No. 106 is chaptered before this bill and amends Section 4000.1, Section 4 of this act shall become operative on the effective date of this act and Section 3 of this act shall not become operative.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Recently enacted amendments to provisions of the Vehicle Code have eliminated the authority previously given vehicle dealers to use a statement of facts regarding the exhaust emission control device or system of a vehicle, in lieu of a certificate of compliance issued by a motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station. This will result in unnecessary hardship to vehicle dealers. In order to correct this situation at the earliest possible time, and to make other needed, related changes, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

and Article 10 (commencing with Section 25210) to Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste control, and making an appropriation therefor.

SEC. 1.1. Section 66796 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66796. On or before July 1, 1977, there shall be designated within each county an enforcement agency to carry out the provisions of this chapter. If an agency is not designated by July 1, 1977, the board, in addition to its other powers, shall be the enforcement agency within the county failing to make the designation except for any solid waste facility to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply. For any solid waste facility to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply, the local governing body shall designate either the department or the county health entity, in accordance with the department's decision and the board's concurrence, and not subject to the other provisions of this section. Decisions of the department related specifically to the control of hazardous waste at any solid waste facility to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply shall not be subject to the review of the board.

(a) The designation of the enforcement agency shall be made by any of the following procedures:

(1) The board of supervisors of the county may designate the enforcement agency subject to the approval by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county; or

(2) The county and the cities within the county may enter into a joint exercise of powers agreement pursuant to Section 6500 of the Government Code for the purpose of establishing an enforcement agency.

(3) The county and each city within the county may designate an enforcement agency to carry out the provisions of this chapter. In the case of a city and county, the city and county shall designate the enforcement agency.

(b) If no enforcement agency is designated and the board becomes the enforcement agency, nothing in this chapter shall prevent a designation of an enforcement agency under subdivision (a) of this section at a later date.

(c) A designation made pursuant to this section may be withdrawn in the same manner in which it was made.

(d) No local governmental department or agency which is the operating unit for a solid waste handling or disposal operation shall be the enforcement agency for the type of solid waste handling or disposal operation it conducts. A conditional waiver to this requirement may be granted by the board upon submission of details by the local entity requesting such waiver. The board may review annually effects or impacts of the waiver.

SEC. 1.2. Section 66796.34 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66796.34. (a) Upon compliance with the provisions of Section 66796.32 and after any necessary hearing, the enforcement agency may issue, modify, or revise a solid waste facilities permit if the board has concurred in the permit and if the enforcement agency, in the permit, makes both of the following findings based on substantial evidence:

(1) The proposed solid waste facilities permit is consistent with the county solid waste management plan prepared under Section 66780.

(2) The proposed solid waste facilities permit is consistent with the standards adopted by the board.

The permit shall contain all terms and conditions which the enforcement agency determines to be appropriate for the operation of the solid waste facility. The operator shall comply with all terms and conditions of the permit.

(b) Within 15 days of issuing, modifying, or revising a solid waste facilities permit, the enforcement agency shall transmit to the disposal site owner and the person who is or proposes to become an operator of a transfer/processing station or a disposal site, or both, a copy of the solid waste facilities permit.

(c) For solid waste facilities which accept wastes to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply, the solid waste facilities permit shall include all conditions required by the department pursuant to that division. Permit conditions governing hazardous waste may be modified or revised by the department without the concurrence of the board.

SEC. 1.3. Section 25100 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25100. The Legislature finds that increasing quantities of hazardous wastes are being generated in the state and that without adequate and reasonable safeguards for handling, storage, use, processing, and disposal, such wastes can create conditions which threaten the public health and safety and create hazards to domestic livestock or to wildlife.

SEC. 2. Section 25101 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25101. The Legislature therefore declares that in order to prevent such hazardous conditions it is in the public interest to establish regulations and to maintain a program to provide for the safe handling, storage, use, processing, and disposal of, and recovery of resources from, hazardous wastes.

SEC. 2.5. Section 25110.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

SEC. 6. Section 25116 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25116. "Handling" means the transporting or transferring from one place to another, or pumping, processing, storing, or packaging of hazardous waste, but does not include the handling of any substance before it becomes a waste, and does not include the storage of hazardous waste on the contiguous property of the producer of the waste.

SEC. 7. Section 25117 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25117. "Hazardous waste" means a waste, or combination of wastes, which because of its quantity, concentration, or physical, chemical, or infectious characteristics may either:

(a) Cause, or significantly contribute to an increase in mortality or an increase in serious irreversible, or incapacitating reversible, illness.

(b) Pose a substantial present or potential hazard to human health or environment when improperly treated, stored, transported, or disposed of, or otherwise managed.

SEC. 8. Section 25117.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25117.5. "Infectious," except as otherwise provided in Section 25117.6, includes:

25202. Compliance with conditions on the permit and with regulations adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter shall be required to sustain the validity of the permit. The department may impose conditions on the permit, including, but not limited to, the types of hazardous wastes which may be accepted or disposed of, special operating conditions, and changes in the operation of the permitee necessary to comply with the requirements promulgated pursuant to this chapter.

25203. SEC. 35. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

CHAPTER 1040

An act to amend Section 50280 of, and to add Section 50290 to, the Government Code, to amend Section 5031 of the Public Resources Code, to add Article 1.9 (commencing with Section 439) to Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 1 of, and to repeal Article 7 (commencing with Section 1161) of Chapter 5 of Part 2 of Division 1 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to property taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Upon the application of an owner or the agent of an owner of any qualified historical property described in Article 3 (commencing with Section 5031) of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of the Public Resources Code, the legislative body of a city, county, or city and county may, by ordinance, create an historic zone encompassing so much of such property and so much additional property as the legislative body deems reasonable to carry out the purposes of this article and of Article 1.9 (commencing with Section 439) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 3. Section 50290 is added to the Government Code, to read:

5031. "Qualified historical property" means privately owned property which is not exempt from property taxation, is visually accessible to the public, and which is:

(a) All landmark registrations up to and including Register No. 769, which were approved without the benefit of criteria, shall be approved only if the landmark site conforms to the existing criteria as determined by the California Historical Landmarks Advisory Committee or as to approvals on or after January 1, 1975, by the State Historical Resources Commission. Any other registered California historical landmark under Article 2 (commencing with Section 5020)

(1) The property is the first, last, only, or most significant historical property of its type in the region;

(2) The property is associated with an individual or group having a profound influence on the history of California; or

(3) The property is a prototype of, or an outstanding example of, a period, style, architectural movement, or construction, or if it is one of the more notable works, or the best surviving work, in a region of a pioneer architect, designer, or master builder; or

(c) A property which is listed on a city or county register or inventory of historical or architecturally significant sites, places or landmarks, provided, that such property satisfies any of the requirements set forth in paragraph 1, 2 or 3 under subdivision (a).

SEC. 4. Article 1.9 (commencing with Section 439) is added to Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 1.9. Historical Property

439. For the purposes of this article and within the meaning of Section 8 of Article XIII of the Constitution, property is "enforceably restricted" if it is subject to an historical property contract executed pursuant to Article 12 (commencing with Section 50280) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code.

439.1. For purposes of this article "restricted historical property" means qualified historical property meeting the requirements of Article 3 (commencing with Section 5031) of Chapter 1 of Division 5 of the Public Resources Code which is subject to an historical property contract executed pursuant to Article 12 (commencing with Section 50280) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code.

439.2. When valuing enforceably restricted historical property, the board for purposes of surveys required by Section 1815 of this code and the county assessor shall not consider sales data on similar property, whether or not enforceably restricted, and shall value such restricted historical property by the capitalization of income method in the following manner:

(a) The annual income to be capitalized shall be determined as follows:

(1) Where sufficient rental information is available, the income shall be the fair rent which can be imputed to the restricted historical property being valued based upon rent actually received for the property by the owner and upon typical rentals received in the area for similar property in similar use where the owner pays the property tax. When the restricted historical property being valued is actually encumbered by a lease, any cash rent or its equivalent considered in determining the fair rent of the property shall be the amount for which the property would be expected to rent were the rental payment to be renegotiated in the light of current conditions, including applicable provisions under which the property is enforceably restricted.

(2) Where sufficient rental information is not available, the income shall be that which the restricted historical property being valued reasonably can be expected to yield under prudent management and subject to applicable provisions under which the property is enforceably restricted.

(3) If the parties to an instrument which enforceably restricts the property stipulate therein an amount which constitutes the minimum annual income to be capitalized, then the income to be capitalized shall not be less than the amount so stipulated.

For purposes of this section income shall be determined in accordance with rules and regulations issued by the board and with this section and shall be the difference between revenue and expenditures. Revenue shall be the amount of money or money's worth, including any cash rent or its equivalent, which the property can be expected to yield to an owner-operator annually on the average from any use of the property permitted under the terms by which the property is enforceably restricted.

Expenditures shall be any outlay or average annual allocation of money or money's worth that can be fairly charged against the revenue expected to be received during the period used in computing such revenue. Those expenditures to be charged against revenue shall be only those which are ordinary and necessary in the production and maintenance of the revenue for that period. Expenditures shall not include depletion charges, debt retirement, interest on funds invested in the property, property taxes, corporation income taxes, or corporation franchise taxes based on income.

(b) The capitalization rate to be used in valuing owner-occupied single family dwellings pursuant to this article shall not be derived from sales data and shall be the sum of the following components:

(1) An interest component to be determined by the board and announced no later than September 1 of the year preceding the assessment year and which was the yield rate equal to the effective rate on conventional mortgages as determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, rounded to the nearest ¼ percent.

(2) An historical property risk component of 4 percent.

(3) A component for property taxes which shall be a percentage equal to the estimated total tax rate applicable to the property for the assessment year times the assessment ratio.

(4) A component for amortization of the improvements which shall be a percentage equivalent to the reciprocal of the remaining life.

(c) The capitalization rate to be used in valuing all other restricted historical property pursuant to this article shall not be derived from sales data and shall be the sum of the following components:

(1) An interest component to be determined by the board and announced no later than September 1 of the year preceding the assessment year and which was the yield rate equal to the effective rate on conventional mortgages as determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, rounded to the nearest ¼ percent.

(2) An historical property risk component of 2 percent.

(3) A component for property taxes which shall be a percentage equal to the estimated total tax rate applicable to the property for the assessment year times the assessment ratio.

(4) A component for amortization of the improvements which shall be a percentage equivalent to the reciprocal of the remaining life.

(d) The value of the restricted historical property shall be the quotient of the income determined as provided in subdivision (a) divided by the capitalization rate determined as provided in subdivision (b) or (c).

(e) The ratio prescribed in Section 401 shall be applied to the value of the property determined in subdivision (d) to obtain its assessed value.

439.3. Notwithstanding any provision of Section 439.2 to the contrary, if either the county or city or the owner of restricted historical property subject to contract has served notice of nonrenewal as provided in Section 50282 of the Government Code, the board, for purposes of surveys required by Section 1815, and the county assessor shall value such restricted historical property as provided in this section.

(a) Following the hearing conducted pursuant to Section 50285 of the Government Code, subdivision (b) shall apply until the termination of the period for which the restricted historical property is enforceably restricted.

(b) The board or assessor in each year until the termination of the period for which the property is enforceably restricted shall:

(1) Determine the full cash value of the property as if it were not subject to an enforceable restriction;

(2) Determine the value of the property by the capitalization of income method as provided in Section 439.2 and without regard to the fact that a notice of nonrenewal or cancellation has occurred;

(3) Subtract the value determined in paragraph (2) of this subdivision by capitalization of income from the full cash value determined in paragraph (1) of this subdivision;

(4) Using the rate announced by the board pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 439.2, discount the amount obtained in paragraph (3) of this subdivision for the number of years remaining until the termination of the period for which the property is enforceably restricted;

(5) Determine the value of the property by adding the value determined by the capitalization of income method as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision and the value obtained in paragraph (4) of this subdivision; and

(6) Apply the ratios prescribed in Section 401 to the value of the property determined in paragraph (5) of this subdivision to obtain its assessed value.

439.4. No property shall be valued pursuant to this article unless an enforceable restriction meeting the requirements of Section 439 is signed, accepted and recorded on or before the lien date for the fiscal year in which the valuation would apply.

SEC. 5. Article 7 (commencing with Section 1161) of Chapter 5 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding Sections 2231 and 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to those sections nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because there are no state-mandated local costs in this act and any revenue loss implied herein is not reimbursable under Section 2229 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 7. The Board of Equalization shall report to the Legislature on or before December 31, 1980, on an evaluation of the provisions of this act, including, but not limited to, an inventory of the properties valued pursuant to this act, the type of property, the annual value and taxes applicable to such property, an assessment of the factors affecting participation under this program, and recommendations to rectify any inequities identified by the report.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities or school districts by this act are such that related costs are incurred as part of their normal operating procedures.

After complying with such procedures if the provider is not satisfied with the director's decision on his claim, he may not later than one year after receiving notice of such decision, present a claim for money against the state in accordance with Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 900) and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 910) of Part 3 of Division 3.6 of the Government Code and proceed in the manner provided in Part 3 (commencing with Section 900), Part 4 (commencing with Section 940) and Part 5 (commencing with Section 965) of Division 3.6 of the Government Code. The provisions of this section shall be the exclusive remedy available to the provider of services for moneys alleged to be payable by reason of the provisions of this chapter.

This section shall not apply to those grievances or complaints arising from the findings of an audit or examination made by or on behalf of the Director of Benefit Payments pursuant to Sections 14102 and 14170. Article 5.3 (commencing with Section 14170) of this chapter shall govern such grievances or complaints.

SEC. 5. Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105. The director shall prescribe the policies to be followed in the administration of this chapter, may limit the rates of payment for health care services, and shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out, not inconsistent with, the provisions thereof.

Such policies and regulations shall include rates for payment for services not rendered under a contract pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part. Standards for costs shall be based on payments of the reasonable cost for such services.

Insofar as practical, consistent with the efficient and economical administration of this part, the department shall afford recipients of public assistance free choice of arrangements under which they shall receive health care benefits.

If, in the judgment of the director, the actions taken by the director under subdivision (c) of Section 14120 will not be sufficient to operate the Medi-Cal program within the limits of appropriated funds, he may limit the scope and kinds of health care services, except for minimum coverage as defined in Section 14056, available to persons who are not eligible under Section 14005.1. When and if necessary, such action shall be taken by the director in ways consistent with the requirements of the federal Social Security Act.

SEC. 5.1. Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105. The director shall prescribe the policies to be followed in the administration of this chapter, may limit the rates of payment for health care services and supplies, and shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out, not inconsistent with, the provisions thereof.

Such policies and regulations shall include rates for payment for services and supplies provided under this chapter. Standards for costs shall be based on payments of the reasonable cost for such services and supplies.

The director shall adopt regulations each year establishing rates of payment for services and supplies provided under this chapter. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director shall make such regulations operative on the same date funds are appropriated by the Legislature for such payment.

In determining the reasonable cost of services and supplies, the director shall solicit and consider data submitted by professional associations representing each health care provider group and other interested health care providers.

SEC. 5.2. Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105. The director shall prescribe the policies to be followed in the administration of this chapter and shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out, not inconsistent with, the provisions thereof.

Such policies and regulations shall include rates for payment for services not rendered under a contract pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part. Standards for costs shall be based on payments of the reasonable cost for such services, provided that reimbursement to county-operated facilities providing services shall be no less than the reimbursement made to private providers of services.

Insofar as practical, consistent with the efficient and economical administration of this part, the department shall afford recipients of public assistance free choice of arrangements under which they shall receive health care benefits.

If, in the judgment of the director, the actions taken by the director under subdivision (c) of Section 14120 will not be sufficient to operate the Medi-Cal program within the limits of appropriated funds, he may limit the scope and kinds of health care services, except for minimum coverage as defined in Section 14056, available to persons who are not eligible under Section 14005.1. When and if necessary, such action shall be taken by the director in ways consistent with the requirements of the federal Social Security Act.

SEC. 5.3. Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105. The director shall prescribe the policies to be followed in the administration of this chapter and shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out, not inconsistent with, the provisions thereof.

Such policies and regulations shall include rates for payment for services and supplies provided under this chapter. Standards for costs shall be based on payments of the reasonable cost for such services and supplies, provided that reimbursement to county-operated facilities providing services shall be no less than the reimbursement made to private providers of services.

The director shall adopt regulations each year establishing rates of payment for services and supplies provided under this chapter. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director shall make such regulations operative on the same date funds are appropriated by the Legislature for such payment.

In determining the reasonable cost of services and supplies, the director shall solicit and consider data submitted by professional associations representing each health care provider group and other interested health care providers.

SEC. 6. Article 5.3 (commencing with Section 14170) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 5.3. Audit, Appeal, and Recovery of Overpayments

14170. Amounts paid for services provided to Medi-Cal beneficiaries shall be audited by the Department of Benefit Payments in the manner and form prescribed by it. The Department of Benefit Payments shall maintain adequate controls to insure responsibility and accountability for the expenditure of federal and state funds. Cost reports and other data submitted by providers to a state agency for the purpose of determining reasonable costs for services or establishing rates of payment shall be considered true and correct unless audited or reviewed by the Department of Benefit Payments within 18 months after July 1, 1969, the close of the period covered by the report, or after the date of submission of the original or amended report by the provider, whichever is later; provided, however, that cost reports and other data for cost reporting periods beginning on January 1, 1972, and thereafter shall be considered true and correct unless audited or reviewed within three years after the close of the period covered by the report, or after the date of submission of the original or amended report by the provider, whichever is later.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the correction of cost reports or rates of payment when inaccuracies are determined to be the result of intent to defraud, or when a delay in the completion of an audit is the result of willful acts by the provider or inability to reach agreement on the terms of final settlement.

14171. (a) The director shall adopt regulations establishing an administrative appeal process to review grievances or complaints arising from the findings of an audit or examination made pursuant to Sections 14102 and 14170.

(b) The director shall contract with the Department of Benefit Payments to conduct hearings or other proceedings and to prepare proposed decisions for adoption by the director pursuant to such regulations.

(c) The administrative appeal process established by the director shall guarantee a provider the right to present any grievances or complaints arising from the findings of an audit or examination made by or on behalf of the Department of Benefit Payments pursuant to Sections 14102 and 14105 at an impartial hearing which shall include the procedural requirements of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code. The impartial hearing shall be conducted by a hearing officer appointed by the Director of Benefit Payments. The Director of Benefit Payments may subcontract with the Office of Administrative Hearings to conduct hearings on cases involving complicated issues of fact or law, or to reduce the backlog of cases.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c) of this section, the administrative appeal process established by the director shall commence with an informal conference with the provider, a representative of the Department of Benefit Payments, and the hearing officer. The hearing officer, when appropriate, may assign the administrative appeal to an informal level of review where efforts could be made to resolve facts and issues in dispute in a fair and equitable manner, subject to the requirements of state and federal law. Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit the provider from presenting any unresolved grievances or complaints at an impartial hearing pursuant to subdivision (c).

(e) The final decision of the director shall be reviewable in accordance with the provisions of Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure within six months of the issuance of the director's final decision.

14172. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if any amount is due and payable and unpaid as the result of an overpayment to a provider for health care services identified through an audit or examination conducted by or on behalf of the Director of Benefit

Payments, and the director has issued a final decision on the appeal pursuant to Section 14171, and 90 days has elapsed from the issuance of such final decision, the Director of Benefit Payments may, not later than three years after the payment became due and owing, file in the office of the County Clerk of Sacramento County, and with the county clerk of the county in which the provider has his principal place of business, a certificate containing the following:

(1) The amount due and owing and unpaid plus interest at the rate of 7 percent per annum commencing 30 days after the service of notice of an overpayment arising from the finding of an audit or examination made pursuant to Sections 14102 and 14170.

(2) A statement that the director has complied with all the provisions of this article prior to the filing of such certificate.

(3) A request that judgment be entered against the provider in the amount set forth in the certificate.

The county clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the State of California against the provider in the amount set forth in the certificate. Such judgment may be filed by the county clerk in a looseleaf book entitled "Health Care Overpayment Recovery Judgments."

(b) If the provider seeks judicial review of the final decision of the director pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 14171 and notice of such action is properly served on the Director of Benefit Payments within 90 days of the issuance of the final decision of the director, the Director of Benefit Payments shall not file any certificate as provided in subdivision (a).

If the provider does not seek judicial review of the final decision of the director pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 14171 and does not properly serve notice within 90 days from the date of the final decision of the director, the Director of Benefit Payments may file the certificate provided in subdivision (a); provided, however, if the provider seeks judicial review of the final decision of the director more than 90 days from the date of such decision in accordance with subdivision (e) of Section 14171, the Director of Benefit Payments shall within 10 days after receiving notice of such action release any lien imposed pursuant to this article and any judgment entered pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be considered for all purposes null and void.

(c) No certificate shall be filed or judgment entered pursuant to the provisions of this section or Section 14173 against a provider which meets the following criteria:

(1) The provider is an unincorporated individual practitioner, and

(2) The provider was not certified to participate under the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part, on the date of issuance of the final decision of the director establishing an overpayment.

Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent the director from using any other means available at law to recover amounts due and owing and unpaid from such providers.

14173. An abstract of a judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14172 or a copy thereof may be recorded with the county recorder of any county. From the time of recording, the judgment shall constitute a lien upon all real property of the provider in that county owned by the provider at the time, or which the provider may afterwards but before the lien expires, acquire. The lien shall have the force, effect and priority of a judgment lien and shall continue for 10 years from the time of recording of the abstract of judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14172 unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

The lien may, within 10 years from the date of recording of the abstract of judgment or within 10 years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner herein provided, be extended by recording a new abstract in the office of the county recorder of any county. From the date of such recording the lien shall be extended for 10 years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Execution shall issue upon such a judgment upon request of the Director of Benefit Payments in the same manner as execution may issue upon other judgments. Sale shall be held under such execution as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure. In all proceedings under this section, the Director of Benefit Payments or his authorized agents may act on behalf of the state.

14174. The right of the Director of Benefit Payments to use the summary judgment procedure contained in this article shall be in addition to any other collection procedure available to him. No action taken by the director shall be construed to be an election to pursue the summary judgment procedure to the exclusion of any other collection procedure.

14175. The Director of Benefit Payments may release any lien imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14172 if he finds that the liability represented by the lien, including any interest accrued thereon, has been paid or is legally unenforceable.

14176. The Director of Benefit Payments may recover a due and payable overpayment made to a provider which is or has been participating under the provisions of this chapter by means of a repayment agreement executed between such provider and the Director of Benefit Payments, and by any other means available at law.

14177. When it has been determined that a provider of health care services participating under the provisions of this chapter has received an overpayment which is due and payable, the director may recover such overpayment by offset against any amount currently due to a provider under the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part.

SEC. 7. Section 14203 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14203. For purposes of administering this chapter and Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part, the State Department of Health is hereby designated as the single or appropriate state agency with full power to administer and adopt regulations in order to secure full compliance with applicable provisions of state and federal laws.

14315. When it has been determined that a prepaid health plan has received an overpayment which is due and payable, the director may recover such overpayment by offset against any amount currently due to the prepaid health plan under the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part.

SEC. 10. (c) If this bill and Senate Bill No. 603 and Senate Bill No. 660 are all chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, and all three bills amend Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 603 and Senate Bill No. 660, the amendments proposed by all three bills shall be given effect and incorporated in Section 14105 in the form set forth in Section 5.3 of this act. Therefore, if Senate Bill No. 603 and Senate Bill No. 660 are both chaptered before this bill and all three bills become effective on or before January 1, 1978, and amend Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, Section 5.3 of this act shall be operative and Sections 5, 5.1, and 5.2 of this act shall not become operative.

The amendments to this section made during the 1977 portion of the 1977–78 Regular Session of the Legislature shall have no force or effect on or after January 1, 1983, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1983, deletes or extends such date.

Public Utilities Commission
Workman's Compensation Appeals Board

Department of the Youth Authority Bureau of Employment Agencies
Board of Barber Examiners

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any agency other than those listed in subdivision (a) from electing to adopt any of the procedures set forth in subdivision (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), or (i) of Section 11513, except that the State Personnel Board shall determine the general language proficiency of prospective interpreters as described in subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 11513 unless otherwise provided for as described in subdivision (f) of Section 11513.

SEC. 3. Section 11018 is added to the Government Code, to read.

11018. Every state agency which is authorized by any law to conduct administrative hearings but is not subject to the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of this part shall nonetheless comply with the provisions of subdivision (d) of Section 11513 relative to the furnishing of language assistance at any such hearing.

SEC. 4. Section 11513 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11513. (a) Oral evidence shall be taken only on oath or affirmation.

(b) Each party shall have these rights: to call and examine witnesses, to introduce exhibits; to cross-examine opposing witnesses on any matter relevant to the issues even though that matter was not covered in the direct examination; to impeach any witness regardless of which party first called him to testify; and to rebut the evidence against him. If respondent does not testify in his own behalf he may be called and examined as if under cross-examination.

(c) The hearing need not be conducted according to technical rules relating to evidence and witnesses. Any relevant evidence shall be admitted if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs, regardless of the existence of any common law or statutory rule which might make improper the admission of such evidence over objection in civil actions. Hearsay evidence may be used for the purpose of supplementing or explaining other evidence but shall not be sufficient in itself to support a finding unless it would be admissible over objection in civil actions. The rules of privilege shall be effective to the extent that they are otherwise required by statute to be recognized at the hearing, and irrelevant and unduly repetitious evidence shall be excluded.

(d) The hearing shall be conducted in the English language, except that a party who does not proficiently speak or understand the English language and who requests language assistance shall be provided an interpreter approved by the hearing officer conducting the proceedings. The cost of providing the interpreter shall be paid by the agency having jurisdiction over the matter if the hearing officer so directs otherwise the party for whom the interpreter is provided.

The hearing officer's decision to direct payment shall be based upon an equitable consideration of all the circumstances in each case, such as the ability of the party in need of the interpreter to pay, except with respect to hearings before the Workman's Compensation Appeals Board or the Division of Industrial Accidents relating to worker's compensation claims. With respect to such hearings, the payment of the costs of providing an interpreter shall be governed by the rules and regulations promulgated by the Workman's Compensation Appeals Board or the Administrative Director of the Division of Industrial Accidents, as appropriate. Such an interpreter shall be selected pursuant to regulations issued by both of the following:

(1) The State Personnel Board which shall establish criteria for an interpreter's proficiency in both English and the language in which the person will testify.

(2) The employing agency which shall establish materials and examinations for an interpreter's understanding of its technical program terminology and procedures.

(e) The State Personnel Board shall compile and publish a list of interpreters it has determined to be proficient in various languages and any interpreter so listed shall be eligible to be examined by each employing agency relating to its technical program terminology and procedures. Any interpreter whose language proficiency and knowledge of such terminology and procedures has been satisfactorily determined by such employing agency shall be deemed to be approved by a hearing officer of such agency.

(f) In the event that interpreters on the approved list cannot be present at the hearing, or if there is no interpreter on the approved list for a particular language, the hearing agency shall have discretionary authority to provisionally qualify and utilize other interpreters.

(g) Every state agency affected by this section shall advise each party of their right to an interpreter at the same time that each party is advised of the hearing date. Each party in need of an interpreter shall also be encouraged to give timely notice to the agency conducting the hearing so that appropriate arrangements can be made.

(h) The rules of confidentiality of the agency, if any, which may apply in an adjudicatory hearing, shall apply to any interpreter in such hearing, whether or not such rules so state.

(i) The interpreter shall not have had any involvement in the issues of the case prior to the hearing.

As used in subdivision (d), the term "hearing officer" shall not be construed to require the use of an Office of Administrative Hearings' hearing officer.

441.16. (a) The commission where necessary to correctly reflect differences either (1) in size of; or (2) in scope, type, or method of provision of or payment for services rendered by health facilities; or where necessary to avoid unduly burdensome costs for such health facilities in meeting the requirements of this part as a result of such differences; shall allow and provide, in accordance with appropriate regulations, for modifications in the accounting and reporting systems approved pursuant to Section 441.15 for use by health facilities in meeting the requirements of this part if such modifications will not interfere with the purposes established in Section 441.

Such health facilities shall be authorized to utilize established accounting systems, and to report costs and revenues in a manner which is consistent with the operating principles of such plans and with generally accepted accounting principles. When health facilities that receive the preponderance of their revenue from associated comprehensive group-practice prepayment health care service plans are operated as units of a coordinated group of health facilities under common management, they shall be authorized to report as a group rather than as individual institutions, and as a group shall submit a consolidated balance sheet, income and expense statement and statement of source and application of funds for such group of health facilities; except, that cost data shall be

The commission shall make available information required by other state agencies for programs they administer or in which they have an interest.

This section shall not preclude the state administrative agency responsible for administration of a program from obtaining from health care institutions data not available from the commission which the administrative agency determines is necessary for administration of the program. Administrative agencies shall use the comprehensive system provided for in this section to the maximum extent feasible.

(d) The commission, in consultation with professional organizations shall develop a Health Facility Economic Stabilization Program for establishment of a system to retard inflationary health facility costs and price increases and shall consider, among other factors, the following:

(1) Costs of doing business.

(5) Quality of care offered.

(6) Reasonable rate of return.

(7) Equalization of rates for all patients of a health facility receiving similar services, regardless of source of payment.

The basis set forth in the American Hospital Association "Statement on Financial Requirements of Health Care Institutions and Services" shall be used in establishing a prospective method of payment for health facility services.

(10) Provision for capital, social security requirements for planning and budgets, provision for covering of third party costs which may not be paid by government or other purchasers, provision for education and research cost not directly related to patient care and not otherwise funded, impact of legally imposed cost increases beyond the control of a health facility, provision for efficiency incentives and appropriate utilization, and provision for requirements of health facilities covered by subdivision (b) of this

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) The state competitive graduate fellowship program prescribed by Article 9 (commencing with Section 69670) of Chapter 2 of Part 42 of Division 5 of Title 3 of the Education Code assists able students from low-income families to pursue graduate study.

(b) The Governor's proposed 1977–78 Budget does not fund the program at the level specified in the Education Code.

(c) Applicants to the program outnumber new fellowship winners at a rate of over 10 to 1.

(d) Federal support of graduate students has been cut in half since 1970.

(e) Minority graduate students borrow at twice the rate of Caucasian students to finance their graduate study.

(f) The impact of affirmative action employment programs is often limited by the disproportionately small numbers of minorities who have conventional academic credentials.

SEC. 2. The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Student Aid Commission for the support of the state competitive graduate fellowship program prescribed by Article 9 (commencing with Section 69670) of Chapter 2 of Part 42 of Division 5 of Title 3 of the Education Code in the 1977–78 fiscal year.

CHAPTER 1064

An act to add Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 3800) to Division 1 of the Financial Code, relating to the small business loan programs, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 24, 1977]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 2 of Assembly Bill No. 881 from $3,000,000 to $1, 00,000 by reducing (a) the State's premium contribution for loans made during the 1977–78 fiscal year from $2,700,000 to $1,000,000 and by reducing (b) the initial expenses of the department in carrying out the duties imposed upon it by this Act from $300,000 to $100,000

The remaining funds are sufficient for the initial phase of the program As the program's success is demonstrated, additional funds will be considered.

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 881.

EDMUND G BROWN JR., Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 3800) is added to Division 1 of the Financial Code, to read:

CHAPTER 22. SMALL BUSINESS LOAN PROGRAM

Article 1. Administration

3800. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(1) Expansion of small businesses will have a favorable impact on the California economy by creating jobs and increasing competition in the marketplace; and

(2) There is an unmet need to provide long-term capital to rapidly growing small businesses whose growth exceeds their ability to generate internal earnings to finance that growth; and

(3) Under traditional standards used by banks many well-operated small businesses cannot provide security adequate to qualify for normal bank loans; and

(4) It is desirable to address this problem by creating an efficient, nonbureaucratic form of state assistance to encourage banks to make many such loans which are not now made; and

(5) The modest state expenditure to encourage such loans will be returned to the people of the State of California in the form of increased tax revenues based on business expansion and reduction in the number of unemployed persons.

In order to accomplish these goals, the Legislature creates the California Small Business Loan Program.

3800.5. The superintendent is responsible for the performance of all duties, the exercise of all powers and jurisdictions, and the assumption and discharge of all responsibilities vested by this chapter in the State Banking Department. He has and may exercise all the powers necessary or convenient for the administration and enforcement of this chapter. He may issue such rules and regulations consistent with law as he may deem necessary or advisable in executing the powers, duties and responsibilities of the department. In achieving the objectives of this chapter, the superintendent shall have the power to examine the loans made pursuant to this chapter at any participating bank to ascertain compliance with this chapter, including rules and regulations issued pursuant to this chapter, and to ascertain whether a bank is exercising reasonable care and diligence in the making and collection of loans made pursuant to this chapter. In carrying out the duties imposed upon him by this chapter, the superintendent shall delegate to the executive director such duties as he deems advisable, and hold the executive director responsible for the performance of such duties.

3801. The executive director shall be appointed by the Governor and shall serve at his pleasure.

3802. In accordance with the provisions of Section 231, the superintendent may employ such other employees as he may need to discharge in a proper manner the duties imposed upon him by this chapter.

3803. The superintendent shall include in the report to the Governor made under Section 256 the following:

(a) The names of all financial institutions certified to participate in the Small Business Loan Program.

(b) The names and locations by county of all borrowers under the program.

(c) The number of employees by county of all borrowers under the program.

(d) The total amount of funds lent under the program by county.

(e) The total amount of funds lent under the program reported separately by categories of uses made by borrowers of the proceeds.

(f) The amount paid out of the fund for loans in default, by lender and by county.

(g) The financial condition of the fund.

(h) An evaluation of the extent to which the results of the program meet the objectives of the program.

(i) Such other information as in the superintendent's judgment may be desirable.

(d) "Default" includes only such defaults as have existed for at least 90 days.

Article 3. Small Business Loan Reserve Fund

3820. There is hereby created in the State Treasury the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund.

3821. The Small Business Loan Reserve Fund is created solely for the purpose of receiving state and private money to secure loans made pursuant to this chapter.

3822. All money deposited in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund is hereby continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for the purposes of this chapter.

3823. The state shall not be liable or obligated in any way beyond the state money which is allocated in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund from moneys from the General Fund moneys appropriated for such purposes.

3824. Funds held in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund which are attributable to the lender participant's portion of the premium charge shall be accounted for on a lender-by-lender basis and shall include matching premiums paid by the borrowers and by the state.

3825. Upon authorization by the executive director, funds in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund shall be paid to financial institutions by the State Treasurer in warrants drawn by the Controller pursuant to the purposes of this chapter.

3826. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, funds in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund shall be invested in time certificates of deposit with lender participants in proportion to each lender participant's participation in the small business loan reserve program.

Such funds shall be offered on a right of first refusal to lender participants. Should a lender participant refuse to receive such funds for investment, the funds shall then be offered other lender participants in proportion to their participation in the small business loan reserve program.

3827. (a) All income from funds invested pursuant to Section 3826 shall be deposited in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund, and shall be used exclusively for the support of the small business loan reserve program.

(b) Whenever the executive director determines that the income from funds invested pursuant to Section 3826 exceeds amounts necessary to support the small business loan reserve program pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section, he may order any excess funds transferred into the State Banking Fund, but not to exceed the amount transferred from the State Banking Fund to the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund.

(c) On the first day of each year, the superintendent shall submit to the Legislature a report on the expenditure of funds made pursuant to this section.

Article 4. Eligible Loans

3830. The executive director shall certify that those financial institutions whose experience, financial capability, and such other criteria as the superintendent may establish under regulations issued pursuant to this chapter, qualify them to participate in the small business loan reserve program.

3831. Any financial institution may be disqualified from further participation in the small business loan reserve program on a finding, by the superintendent, as specified in the regulations, that such institution has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, or any regulation issued pursuant thereto, or that such institution is insolvent.

3832. A loan made by a lender participant shall be recorded under the provisions of this section if made to a corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, cooperative, or other association doing business primarily in California, whether nonprofit or organized for profit.

3833. The superintendent shall, by regulation, promulgate eligibility criteria for loans made pursuant to this chapter. Such criteria shall include, but shall not be limited to, the size and types of businesses which shall be eligible to receive loans, and may be based on the Standard Industrial Classification Code. Absence of a classification within the Standard Industrial Classification Code of a type of business shall not preclude it from being established as an eligible business.

3834. (a) No more than 50 percent of the proceeds of any loans made pursuant to this chapter shall be used for the payment of existing loans.

(b) Upon default by the borrower on any loan made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the executive director may require from the lender a showing as to how the proceeds of the loan were disbursed.

3835. (a) The maximum amount of interest which may be charged on a loan made pursuant to this chapter shall be the amount determined by the superintendent in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of this section.

(b) The superintendent shall, by regulation, establish the maximum amount of interest or variable interest which may be charged on a loan made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. Such amount shall be between 5 and 8 percent per annum plus the rate prevailing on the 25th day of the month preceding the date of execution of the contract established by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco on advances to member banks under Sections 13 and 13a of the Federal Reserve Act as now in effect or hereafter from time to time amended. At any time during the year, when in the judgment of the superintendent conditions may warrant such action, the superintendent may raise or lower the maximum interest rate for loans made pursuant to this chapter.

3836. (a) The premium charge for each loan made pursuant to the provision of this chapter shall be paid in equal and matching amounts by the borrower, the lender, and the state.

(b) The lender shall determine the premium charge for each loan made pursuant to this chapter. Such charge shall be from 6 percent to 15 percent of the loan, as the lender shall determine.

(c) When a loan is participated in by two or more lender participants, the premium charge shall be a single rate, applicable to the entire loan. The lender's portion of the premium charge shall be apportioned among the lenders in proportion to each lender's participation in the loan.

3837. (a) An application to record a loan made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be made by an eligible lender on such form as the executive director may require. The application shall set forth the amount of the loan, its maturity, interest rate and amortization. In addition, the superintendent may require in a form set forth by him other information relating to job creation.

(b) If, upon application by a lender participant, the executive director finds that the lender has made an eligible loan, he shall cause the loan to be recorded.

3838. (a) The lender shall submit, together with the application pursuant to Section 3837, the following premium charges determined by the lender pursuant to Section 3836: (1) the percent premium charge payable by the lender and (2) the percent premium charge payable by the borrower.

(b) Premium charges collected pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund.

(c) Upon the recordation of a loan, the executive director shall, from funds appropriated for the purposes of this chapter, pay the premium charge payable by the state into the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund.

3839. (a) All loans made pursuant to this chapter shall be recorded in a register to be maintained by the superintendent. The registration shall set forth the information contained in the application.

(b) The register shall not be a public record and shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of the Government Code.

3840. At least annually, and more frequently at the direction of the superintendent, a summary of the information contained in the register maintained pursuant to Section 3839 shall be provided each lender participant.

Article 5. Defaults

3850. Upon default by the borrower on any loan made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the lender, if a secured party pursuant to Division 9 (commencing with Section 9101) of the Commercial Code, shall take such steps, and avail himself of such rights and remedies as may be provided for in the security agreement and by virtue of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 9501) of Division 9 of the Commercial Code except when, in the determination of the superintendent, special circumstances exist which do not warrant taking such action.

3851. (a) Upon default by the borrower on any loan made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the lender shall promptly notify the executive director, and the executive director shall, if requested, either at that time, or after further collection efforts, pay to the lender the amount of the loss, as defined in Section 3810, subject to the limitation contained in subdivision (c) of this section, sustained by the lender.

(b) In addition to the amount of loss, the lender may claim five hundred dollars ($500) for collection expenses incurred in the attempted collection of the loan. Such collection expense shall be a charge against that portion of the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund attributable to the lender who made the loan, and shall be subject to the limitation contained in subdivision (c) of this section.

(c) Payments made to a lender pursuant to this section shall not exceed the amount retained in the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund attributable to the lender who made the loan.

3852. Amounts recovered by a lender's collection efforts subsequent to presenting a claim for loss pursuant to this article shall first be paid into the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund to the credit of the lender to reimburse the fund for amounts paid to the lender pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 3851.

3853. Nothing in this article shall be construed to excuse the lender from exercising reasonable care and diligence in the making and collection of loans under the provisions of this chapter.

If the superintendent, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to an eligible lender, finds that it has substantially failed to exercise such care and diligence required under this section, he shall disqualify that lender for further loans made pursuant to this chapter until he is satisfied that its failure has ceased and finds that there is reasonable assurance that the lender will in the future exercise necessary care and diligence.

SEC. 2. The sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) is hereby appropriated to the Small Business Loan Reserve Fund to be used by the State Banking Department as follows:

(a) From the General Fund, for the state's premium contribution for loans made during the 1977-1978 fiscal year, the sum of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000).

(b) From the State Banking Fund, for the initial expenses of the department in carrying out the duties imposed upon it by this act, the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000).

CHAPTER 1065

An act relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 24, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Of the amount appropriated in Item 241.3 of the Budget Act of 1977 (Ch. 219, Stats. 1977), the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) shall be allocated for funding establishment of adult day health centers licensed pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1570) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, subject to the conditions specified in this act. The State Department of Health may utilize such funds to make grants to community organizations establishing adult day health centers, as follows:

(a) The amount of any grant or grants respecting a single adult day health center shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(b) Grant moneys shall be used solely for necessary costs of facility rental, remodeling, and minimum staffing which are incurred for operation of the adult day health center during the initial months of service.

(c) Each adult day health center assisted by a grant authorized by this act shall primarily serve the needs of eligible recipients of Medi-Cal benefits who are persons of low income or medically disadvantaged racial or ethnic minorities.

(d) Each grant shall be administered by the State Department of Health under a contract with the grantee pursuant to which the grantee matches the grant funds, on an equal basis.

(e) Each adult day care center assisted pursuant to this act shall employ a full-time director responsible for the day-to-day operations of the center.

(f) The State Department of Health shall evaluate grant applications on the basis of potential effectiveness and impact of the proposal, financial need of the applicant, and demonstrated community support for the proposed adult day care center.

SEC. 2. This act shall not become operative unless Assembly Bill No. 1611 is chaptered, and in such case shall become operative at the same time as Assembly Bill No. 1611 becomes effective.

CHAPTER 1066

An act to add Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1570) to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to amend Sections 14053 and 14132 of, and to add Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 14520) to Part 3 of Division 9 of, and to repeal Section 14124.7 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 24, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1570) is added to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.5. CALIFORNIA ADULT DAY HEALTH CARE ACT

Article 1. General Provisions

1570. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the California Adult Day Health Care Act.

1570.2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that there exists a pattern of overutilization of long-term institutional care for the elderly and that there is an urgent need to establish a community-based system of quality adult day health care which will enable older persons with medical or psychiatric impairments to maintain maximum independence. While recognizing that there continues to be a substantial need for facilities providing custodial care, overreliance on such care has proven to be a costly panacea in both financial and human terms, often traumatic, and destructive of continuing family relationships and the capacity for independent living.

It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter and related provisions to provide for the development of policies and programs which will accomplish the following:

(a) Assure that elderly persons are not institutionalized inappropriately or prematurely.

(b) Provide a viable alternative to institutionalization for those older impaired persons who are capable of living at home with the aid of appropriate health care or rehabilitative and social services.

(c) Establish adult day health centers in the community for such purpose, which will be easily accessible to all participants, including the economically disadvantaged older person, and which will provide outpatient health, rehabilitative, and social services necessary to permit the participants to maintain personal independence and lead meaningful lives.

(d) Include the services of adult day health centers as a benefit under the Medi-Cal Act, which shall be an initial and integral part in the development of an overall plan for a coordinated, comprehensive continuum of optional long-term care services based upon appropriate need.

1570.7. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Adult day health care" means an organized day program of therapeutic, social, and health activities and services provided pursuant to this chapter to elderly persons with functional impairments, either physical or mental, for the purpose of restoring or maintaining optimal capacity for self-care. Provided on a short-term basis, adult day health care serves as a transition from a health facility or home health program to personal independence. Provided on a long-term basis, it serves as an option to institutionalization in long-term care facilities, when 24-hour skilled nursing care is not medically necessary or viewed as desirable by the recipient or his family.

(b) "Adult day health center" means a facility which provides adult day health care, or a distinct portion of a licensed health facility in which such care is provided by a specialized unit.

(c) "Elderly" or "older person" means a person 55 years of age or older, but also includes other persons who are chronically ill or impaired and who would benefit from adult day health care.

(d) "Individualized plan of care" means a plan designed to provide recipients of adult health care with appropriate treatment in accordance with the assessed needs of each individual.

(e) "License" means a basic permit to operate an adult day health center. With respect to a health facility licensed pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) of this division, "license" means a special permit, as defined by Section 1251.5, empowering the health facility to provide adult day health services as a separate program in a distinct part of the facility.

(f) "Planning council" or "council" means an adult day health care planning council established pursuant to Section 1572.5.

(g) "State review committee' or "committee" means the Adult Day Health Care Review Committee established pursuant to Section 1572.

1570.9. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1200), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250), or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) of this division, this chapter shall be deemed controlling. Except as provided in Section 1507, no facility which provides a specialized program of both medical and nonmedical care for the elderly on an outpatient basis shall be licensed as a health facility, clinic, or community care facility under this division, but shall be subject to licensure exclusively in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

Review of the need and desirability of proposals for adult day health centers shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter and shall not be subject to review under Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 437) of Division 1.

1571. Nothing in this chapter shall require any county to include adult day health care as a part of the services offered by the county hospital or to otherwise establish an adult day health center.

Article 2. Administration

1572. An Adult Day Health Care Review Committee is hereby established in the State Department of Health. The committee shall include a representative of the Department of Aging, the California Commission on Aging, and each appropriate functional division within the state department, as determined by the director (including alternative health systems, social services, Medi-Cal, rates and fees, and licensing and certification). The committee shall assist the director in developing policies and procedures for regulation of adult day health care pursuant to this chapter and respecting reimbursement therefor under the Medi-Cal Act. Additionally, the functions of the committee shall include the following:

(a) The committee shall develop guidelines for adoption by the director setting forth principles for evaluation of community need for adult day health care, which shall take into consideration the desirability of coordinating and utilizing existing resources, avoidance of duplication of services and inefficient operations, and locational preferences with respect to accessibility and availability to the economically disadvantaged older person.

(b) The committee shall review county plans submitted pursuant to Section 1572.9. Such county plans shall be approved if consistent with the guidelines adopted by the director pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The committee shall review and make recommendations to the director concerning individual proposals for original licensure of proposed adult day health centers. Such review may include onsite inspections by the committee, or a special subcommittee thereof, for the purpose of evaluating a proposed provider or its facility. The basis of such review shall be the approved county plan and an evaluation of the ability of the applicant to provide adult day health care in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and regulations adopted hereunder. Public hearings on individual proposals for adult day health centers shall be held by the committee in the county to be served.

1572.5. The board of supervisors of any county may establish for the county an adult day health planning council as provided in this section. Alternatively, two or more adjacent counties may agree to form a single adult day health planning council with jurisdiction in all participating counties. Each council shall be comprised of 15 members appointed by the board of supervisors, or jointly appointed by the boards of supervisors of counties having a single council, as follows:

(a) Eight members of the council shall be persons over 55 years of age who have a demonstrated interest in the special health and social needs of the elderly and who are representative of organizations dedicated primarily to the needs of older persons, including those of low income and racial and ethnic minorities.

(b) A representative of the area agency on aging designated pursuant to Public Law 94-135 or, if none, a county agency responsible for services to senior citizens.

(c) A representative of a county agency responsible for administration of health programs for senior citizens.

(d) A representative of an area health planning agency designated pursuant to Section 437.7 for an area included within the council's jurisdiction.

(e) A representative of the county medical society.

(f) A representative of a publicly funded senior citizen transportation program.

(g) A representative of a health facility or organization of health facilities providing acute or long-term care to the elderly.

If persons meeting the qualifications specified by any subdivision of the section are unavailable or unwilling to serve on the council, the appointing power may apply to the director for an exemption. In such case, the director shall grant an exemption and shall specify such alternative qualifications as will best serve the purposes of this chapter with due regard for local conditions.

1572.7. Notice of intent to form a council shall be published once a week for two successive weeks in every newspaper of general circulation published within the county or counties to be served by the proposed council, at least 10 days prior to public hearing thereon. The notice shall specify the date, time, and place of the hearing.

1572.9. Each planning council approved by the director as meeting the compositional requirements of Section 1572.5 shall adopt an adult day health plan for the county or counties represented by the council. The plan shall be consistent with the state guidelines adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1572 and may include the council's recommendations respecting providers initially determined to be suitable for approval as adult day health centers. Such initial recommendations shall not bind the council with respect to future consideration of individual applications for licensure.

Prior to adopting the plan, the council shall hold hearings thereon at which public comment shall be received and considered. The hearings shall be noticed in advance in the manner prescribed by regulation of the state department. The plan shall become effective when approved by the state review committee.

1573. The director shall submit any application for licensure as an adult day health center within a planning council's jurisdiction to the council for its review and recommendations. Any comments of the council on such an application shall be submitted to the director within 30 days after receipt of the application or copy thereof.

1573.5. The director may, by regulation, provide for such periodic review and update of the state guidelines and county adult day health plans as the director determines are necessary to identify and meet current needs for adult day health care. Revision of the state guidelines and county plans pursuant to this section shall be subject to the same requirements prescribed for initial adoption thereof.

Article 3. Licensure

1575.2. An adult day health center may be operated only by a city or county or by a nonprofit corporation no part of the net earnings of which inure or may lawfully inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual. An applicant for initial licensure as an adult day health center shall file with the state department, pursuant to its regulations, an application on forms furnished by the department, which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Evidence satisfactory to the state department that the applicant, its directors, and officers, if the applicant is a nonprofit corporation, and the person designated to manage the day-to-day affairs of the proposed adult day health center are of reputable and responsible character.

(b) Evidence satisfactory to the state department of the ability of the applicant to comply with the provisions of this chapter and of rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto by the state department.

(c) Such other information as may be required by the state department for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter.

1575.5. Currently with submission of any application under Section 1575.2, the applicant shall apply to the state department for eligibility certification as a provider of adult day health services reimbursable under the Medi-Cal Act (Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000), Part 3, Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code). No license shall be issued or renewed for an adult day health center which is not approved as a Medi-Cal provider of adult day health services.

1575.7. The state department, prior to issuing a new license, shall secure from an appropriate law enforcement agency records of any criminal activity, other than minor traffic violations, of the applicant, its directors, and officers, and any person who will be employed by the applicant to manage the day-to-day affairs of the proposed adult day health center. A past conviction of any crime, especially any crime involving misuse of funds or, in the case of the managing employee or spouse thereof, involving physical abuse shall, in the discretion of the state department, be grounds for denial of the license.

Suspension of the applicant from the Medi-Cal program or prior violations of statutory provisions or regulations relating to licensure of a health facility, community care facility, or clinic shall also be grounds for a denial of licensure, where determined by the state department to indicate a substantial probability that the applicant will not comply with this chapter and regulations adopted hereunder.

No applicant which is licensed as a health facility, community care facility, or clinic may be issued a license for an adult day health center while there exists a subsisting, uncorrected violation of the statutes or regulations relating to such licensure.

1575.9. Each application for a new license or renewal submitted to the state department shall be accompanied by a fee to be determined annually by the director. To the degree possible, and except as hereafter provided, fees shall be established so that applications will produce sufficient revenue to recover the costs of licensure, less reimbursements from federal or other sources. However, the director may by regulation, waive the fee or reduce the fee to a nominal fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for a renewal license for adult day health centers in which not less than 75 percent of the participants are Medi-Cal beneficiaries. There shall be no increase in the fees charged to other adult day health centers to compensate for such a waiver or reduction of fees.

1576. All applications for a new license shall be submitted to the state review committee and to the planning council for the county in which the adult day health center will be located, which shall review the application as provided in subdivision (c) of Section 1572 and in Section 1573. The director shall approve the application if he determines it is consistent with the county plan, that no substantial basis for denial of the license exists under Section 1575.7, and the applicant has met all the requirements for licensure set forth in this chapter and regulations adopted hereunder. Otherwise the director shall deny issuance of the license.

However, applicants which are funded to provide day care services pursuant to Section 14124.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as of December 31, 1977, shall be exempt from the provisions of this section requiring conformity with the county plan as a condition of licensure.

1576.2. Each license issued or renewed pursuant to this chapter shall not be transferable and shall expire 12 months from the date of its issuance. Application for annual renewal of a license, accompanied by the required fee, shall be filed with the state department not less than 30 days prior to the expiration date. Failure to submit a renewal application prior to such date shall result in expiration of the license.

A license shall not be renewed for an applicant which has had its Medi-Cal certification for adult day health care revoked.

1576.5. Immediately upon the denial of any application for issuance or renewal of a license, the state department shall notify the applicant in writing. Not later than 10 days after the state department mails the notice, the applicant may submit a written petition for a hearing to the state department. Upon receipt by the state department of the petition in proper form, such petition shall be set for hearing. The hearing shall be held within 60 calendar days of receipt of the petition. The proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the state department has all the powers granted therein.

Article 4. Standards and Inspection

1580. The state department shall adopt and may from time to time amend or repeal, in accordance with Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to carry out the purposes and intent of this chapter and to enable the state department to exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred upon it by this chapter, not inconsistent with any of the provisions of any statute of this state. The regulations shall prescribe standards of safety and sanitation for the physical plant of adult day health centers and standards for the quality of adult day health care services, including, but not limited to, staffing with duly qualified personnel. In adopting such regulations, the state department shall take into account the physical and mental capabilities and needs of the persons to be served, and consideration shall be given to flexible application of safety and sanitation standards, if necessary, to be consistent with the legislative intent of establishing adult day health care programs in locations easily accessible to economically disadvantaged older persons. Program standards contained in regulations adopted pursuant to this section shall be those specified in Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 14520) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

1580.2. On or before December 1, 1978, the director shall by regulation adopt an equitable and uniform method of evaluating the quality of care and services provided by adult day health centers based upon the following:

(a) Compliance with regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Continued demonstrated community need.

(c) Conformity of the program to individual participants' assessed and reassessed needs and interests with particular attention to visual, auditory, and equipment needs.

(d) Suitability of program changes to the community and participants served.

(e) Compliance with requirements of law pertaining to fire and life and safety.

The evaluation method adopted by the state department shall be published and distributed to all licensed adult day health centers and all other interested persons.

1580.5. Following adoption of the uniform evaluation method pursuant to Section 1580.2, every licensed adult day health center shall be periodically inspected and evaluated for quality of care by a representative or representatives designated by the director. Evaluations shall be conducted at least once per year and as often as necessary to insure the quality of care being provided, whether initiated by the state department or pursuant to Section 1580.9.

After each inspection and evaluation, the state department shall notify the adult day health center in writing of any deficiencies in its compliance with the provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, and shall set a reasonable length of time for compliance by the facility. Upon a finding of noncompliance, the state department may also assess a civil penalty not to exceed fifty dollars ($50) per day for each violation continuing beyond the date fixed in the notice for correction. If the violation is not corrected within such time, the civil penalty shall accrue from the date of receipt of the notice by the licensee. If the violation continues beyond the date fixed for correction, the department may also initiate action against the licensee in accordance with the provisions of Article 7 (commencing with Section 1595) of this chapter.

Where a civil penalty is to be assessed pursuant to this section, the notice shall specify the amount thereof and shall be served upon the licensee in a manner prescribed by subdivision (c) of Section 11505 of the Government Code. Any judicial action required to collect a civil penalty assessed pursuant to this section shall be brought by the Attorney General acting on behalf of the state department in the superior court of the county in which the adult day health center is located.

1580.9. Any person may request an inspection of any adult day health center in accordance with the provisions of this article by transmitting to the state department notice of an alleged violation of applicable requirements prescribed by statute or regulation. Any such notice shall be in writing, specifying to a reasonable extent the details of the alleged violation, and shall be signed by the complainant. The substance of the complaint shall be provided to the licensee no earlier than at the time of the inspection.

Unless the complainant specifically requests otherwise, neither the substance of the complaint provided the licensee nor any copy of the complaint or any record published, released, or otherwise made available to the licensee or the public shall disclose the name of any person mentioned in the complaint, unless the complainant is a duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the state department conducting the investigation or inspection pursuant to this article.

1581. Upon receipt of a complaint pursuant to Section 1580.9, the state department shall make a preliminary review. Unless the state department determines that the complaint is willfully intended to harass a licensee or is without any reasonable basis, it shall make an onsite inspection within 10 days after receiving the complaint. In either event, the complainant shall be promptly informed of the state department's proposed course of action.

No licensee shall discriminate or retaliate in any manner against any person receiving the services of such licensee's adult day health center, or against any employee of such licensee's facility, on the basis or for the reason that such person or employee or any other person has initiated or participated in an inspection pursuant to Section 1580.9 or 1581.

1581.5. Any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the state department may, upon presentation of proper identification, enter and inspect any place providing adult day health care at any time, with or without advance notice, to secure compliance with, or to prevent a violation of, any provision of this chapter or any regulation adopted hereunder.

1582. The state department may provide consulting services upon request to any adult day health center to assist in the identification or correction of deficiencies and in the upgrading of the quality of care provided by such adult day health center.

1582.5. Reports on the results of each inspection, evaluation, or consultation performed pursuant to this article shall be kept on file in the state department, and all inspection reports, consultation reports, lists of deficiencies, and plans of correction shall be open to public inspection.

1583. The director shall publish and make available to interested persons a list of all licensed adult day health centers, the services which each such facility provides, and the relative evaluation rating of each adult day health center as determined pursuant to Section 1580.2.

Article 5. Additional Requirements

1585. The governing board of an adult day health center, having final authority and responsibility for conduct of the center, shall be comprised of four or more persons, at least one-half of whom shall be recipients of the services of the adult day health center, relatives of such recipients, or representatives of community organizations with particular interest in programs for the elderly.

The director shall in individual cases grant exceptions from the requirements of this section for applicants which are also licensed as a health facility, clinic, or community care facility if (1) the applicant delegates primary responsibility for supervision of its adult day health program to a special board meeting the compositional requirements of this section and (2) such special board reviews and recommends to the governing board of the health facility the budget, personnel, and subcontractors of the adult day health care program.

No member of the governing board or such a special board, nor any member of the immediate family thereof, shall have any direct or indirect interest in any contract for supplying services to the adult day health center.

1585.2. Any operator of a health facility, clinic, or community care facility licensed to provide adult day health care under this chapter shall provide such adult day health care as an independent program which is located in a separate, freestanding facility or in a distinct portion of the health facility, clinic, or community care facility.

1585.5. Adult day health centers shall provide services to each recipient pursuant to an individualized plan of care designed to maintain or restore each recipient's optimal capacity for self-care.

1586. No adult day health center shall refuse to provide adult day care health services to any person on the basis that service to such person will be reimbursed under the Medi-Cal Act (Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

Article 6. Denial, Suspension, and Revocation

1590. The state department may suspend or revoke any license issued under the provisions of this chapter upon any of the following grounds and in the manner provided in this article:

(a) Violation by the licensee of any of the provisions of this chapter or of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Aiding, abetting, or permitting the violation of any provision of this chapter or of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(c) Conduct in the operation or maintenance, or both the operation and maintenance, of an adult day health facility which is inimical to the health, morals, welfare, or safety of either an individual receiving services from the facility or the people of the State of California.

1590.5. Proceedings for the suspension, revocation, or denial of a license under this article shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the state department shall have all the powers granted by such provisions. Except as provided in Section 1591, in the event of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and such provisions of the Government

Code, the provisions of the Government Code shall prevail.

1591. When the director intends to seek the suspension or revocation of a license, the director shall notify the licensee of the proposed suspension or revocation and at the same time shall serve such person with an accusation. Upon receipt of a notice of defense from the licensee, the director shall set the matter for hearing within five days after receipt of such notice. The director shall make a final determination as to whether to suspend or revoke the license within 30 days after the original hearing has been completed.

1591.5. The withdrawal of an application for a license after it has been filed with the state department shall not, unless the state department consents in writing to such withdrawal, deprive the state department of its authority to institute or continue a proceeding against the applicant for the denial of the license upon any ground provided by law or to enter an order denying the license upon any such ground.

The suspension, expiration, or forfeiture by operation of law of a license issued by the state department, or its suspension, forfeiture, or cancellation by order of the state department or by order of a court of law, or its surrender without the written consent of the state department, shall not deprive the state department of its authority to institute or continue a disciplinary proceeding against the licensee upon any ground provided by law or to enter an order suspending or revoking the license or otherwise taking disciplinary action against the licensee on any such ground.

Article 7. Offenses

1595. Any license revoked pursuant to this article may be reinstated pursuant to the provisions of Section 11522 of the Government Code.

1595.2. Any person who negligently, repeatedly, or willfully violates any of the provisions of this chapter, or regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1595.5. The director may bring an action to enjoin the violation or threatened violation of Section 1575 in the superior court in and for the county in which the violation occurred or is about to occur. Any proceeding under the provisions of this section shall conform to the requirements of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7, of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that the director shall not be required to allege facts necessary to show or tending to show lack of adequate remedy at law or irreparable damage or loss.

1596. Any action brought by the director against an adult day health center shall not abate by reason of a sale or other transfer of ownership of the adult day health center which is a party to the action.

1596.5. The district attorney of every county shall, upon application by the state department or its authorized representative institute and conduct the prosecution of any action for violation within his county of any provisions of this chapter or of regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 14053 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14053. The term "health care services" means:

1. Inpatient hospital services (other than services in a medical institution for tuberculosis or mental disease except to the extent permitted by federal law) in and by a medical institution or facility operated by, or licensed by, the United States, one of the several states, a political subdivision of a state, the State Department of Health, or exempt from such licensure pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1415 of the Health and Safety Code.

2. Outpatient hospital services.

CHAPTER 8.5. ADULT DAY HEALTH CARE PROGRAMS

Article 1. General Provisions

14520. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Adult Day Health Medi-Cal Law.

14521. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter to establish adult day health care as a Medi-Cal benefit and allow persons eligible to receive the benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part, and who have medical and psychiatric impairments, to receive adult day health care services. It is the intent of the Legislature in authorizing such a Medi-Cal benefit to establish a community-based system of quality day health services which will (1) insure that older persons not be institutionalized prematurely and inappropriately, (2) provide appropriate health and social services designed to maintain older persons in their own homes, and (3) establish adult day health care centers in locations easily accessible to the economically disadvantaged older person.

14522. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in Part 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part and in Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 1570) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code shall govern the construction of this chapter.

Article 2. Eligibility, Participation, and Discharge

14525. Any older person eligible for benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part shall be eligible for adult day health care services if such person meets any one of the following criteria:

(a) The person is at the point of discharge from a general acute care hospital or other acute care facility and, except for the availability of an adult day health care program, would be placed in a long-term care institution.

(b) The person is residing in the community, but is in danger of institutionalization, and his or her disabilities and level of functioning are such that without intervention such placement would likely occur.

(c) The person is a resident of a skilled nursing facility or other long-term care facility, but the department determines that institutional placement is unnecessary and the person is an appropriate candidate for adult day health care.

14526. Participation in an adult day health care program shall require authorization by the department. The authorization request shall be initiated by the provider and shall include the results of the assessment screening conducted by the provider's multidisciplinary team and the resulting individualized plan of care. Participation shall begin upon application by the prospective participant or upon referral from community or health agencies, physician, hospital, family, or friends of a potential participant.

The adult day health care provider shall provide services only to those participants living within its service area, as determined by the department consistent with the county plan adopted pursuant to Section 1572.9 of the Health and Safety Code; provided, that, under special circumstances in which an adult day health care provider meets a special need or affinity of a particular individual residing outside the provider's service area, the provider may accept such individual as a participant, conditioned upon limiting reimbursable transportation costs to such costs which are incurred solely within the provider's service area.

14527. Participation in an adult day health care program shall be voluntary. The participant may end the participation at any time. However, an adult day health center shall not otherwise terminate the provision of adult day health services to any participant unless approved by the state department.

No provider may employ, or contract for, persons specifically for the sole purpose of solicitation of eligible participants. A provider shall not use false advertising or false statements to induce participants. No solicitation of participants shall include the granting or offering of any monetary or other valuable consideration for participation.

All informational material for potential participants prepared by the provider shall have the prior approval of the department.

14528. Before acceptance into the program, all adult day health providers shall conduct a multidisciplinary assessment directed towards ascertaining the individual's pathological diagnosis, physical disability, functional ability, psychological status, and social and physical environment.

14529. The multidisciplinary health team conducting an assessment pursuant to Section 14528 shall consist of at least the individual's personal physician or a staff physician, or both, a nurse, social worker, occupational therapist, and physical therapist. The assessment team shall:

(a) Determine the medical, psychosocial, and functional status of each participant.

(b) Develop an individualized plan of care, including goals, objectives, and services designed to meet the needs of the person, which shall be signed by each member of the disciplinary team, except that the signature of only one physician member of the team shall be required.

(c) At least quarterly reassess the participant's individualized plan of care and make any necessary adjustments to the plan.

14530. Individualized plans of care and individual monthly service reports shall be submitted to the department.

Each provider shall supply a written statement to the participant explaining what services will be provided and specifying the scheduled days of attendance. Such statement, which shall be known as the participation agreement, shall be signed by the participant. The provider shall transmit a copy of the participation agreement to the department.

14553. An adult day health care provider shall establish written policies and procedures, which shall have prior approval of the department, for continuously reviewing the quality of care, performance of all personnel, the utilization of services and facilities, and costs. Information derived from such review shall be made available to the department.

14554. The adult day health care provider shall maintain a complete standard medical record for each participant, including records of treatment rendered by a subcontractor, according to specifications established by the department.

14555. Each adult day health care provider shall establish a grievance procedure under which participants may submit their grievances. Such procedure shall be approved by the department prior to the approval of the certification. The department shall establish standards for such procedures to insure adequate consideration and rectification of participant grievances. A provider shall make written findings of fact in the case of each grievance processed, a copy of which shall be transmitted to the participant. If the participant has an unresolved grievance, the fair hearing provided in Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 10950) of Part 2 of this division shall be available to resolve all grievances regarding care and administration by the adult day health care provider. Before certification renewal the provider shall submit with the application therefor a report according to department specifications which includes an analysis of income and expenditures, continued demonstrated community need, services, participant statistics and outcome, and adherence to policies and procedures. Prior to approving renewal of Medi-Cal certification, the department shall conduct an onsite financial, medical, and management audit concurrent with the licensing review. Such review shall be conducted by a team of persons with appropriate technical skills.

Where the director determines that the public interests would be served thereby, a public hearing may be held on any such renewal application. The findings of the departmental program and licensing review and the provider's annual evaluation report shall be presented at the hearing.

14574. The notice shall state the effective date of, and the reason for, the termination.

In this regard, it is the intent of the Legislature to evaluate the second report submitted pursuant to Section 6 of this act to determine whether adult day health care programs conducted under this act have had sufficient positive impact to warrant their continuation.

CHAPTER 1067

An act to amend Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975, relating to transportation, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 24, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) It is the policy of the state to encourage rail passenger service as an alternative to the automobile because of such service's high fuel efficiency and in order to relieve heavily traveled highways.

(b) In recognition of these benefits of rail passenger service, the state should assign high priority to the aid of those projects that will provide for the restoration and use of rail passenger service corridors whenever there is strong local and community support for such projects.

(c) The restoration of the Del Monte Express, providing rail passenger service between the City of Monterey and the City and County of San Francisco, and the Suntan Special, providing such service between the Santa Clara Valley and the beach area in Santa Cruz County via Watsonville, would offer a feasible alternative to automotive travel on some of the most heavily traveled, substandard, and hazardous highway corridors of the state and would be of substantial benefit to the residents of the areas that adjoin those corridors.

(d) While the counties to be served by the Del Monte Express and the Suntan Special will contribute to their restoration to the extent possible, the large initial capital costs involved necessitate the provision of state funds in an amount in excess of that authorized by law. The amendments made by Section 2 of this act will authorize the allocation of such additional funds.

SEC. 2. Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975 is amended to read:

Sec. 4. (a) For the 1976–77 to 1978–79 fiscal years, inclusive, three million dollars ($3,000,000) shall be allocated by the Secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency to the Department of Transportation for the purpose of undertaking a program of projects for the extension of intercity rail passenger services provided by the National Rail Passenger Corporation (Amtrak) under Section 403 (b) of the Rail Passenger Service Act of 1970 (45 U.S.C., Sec. 563 (b)) or the upgrading of other commuter rail services.

(b) Prior to commencing any such project, the department shall enter into an agreement with any city or county that desires to participate in the project. The agreement shall set forth the operational and financial terms and conditions under which the project shall be carried out. The funding provided by any participating city or county may consist of funds derived from any source, including funds made available pursuant to Section 99233.9 and subdivision (b) of Section 99400 of the Public Utilities Code.

SEC. 3. Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975, as amended by Section 2 of this act, is amended to read:

Sec. 4. (a) For the 1976–77 to 1978–79 fiscal years, inclusive, three million dollars ($3,000,000) shall be allocated by the Secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency to the Department of Transportation for the purpose of undertaking a program of projects for the extension of intercity rail passenger services provided by the National Rail Passenger Corporation (Amtrak) under Section 403(b) of the Rail Passenger Service Act of 1970 (45 U.S.C., Sec. 563(b)) or the upgrading of other commuter rail services or to provide feeder services to such rail services.

(b) Prior to commencing any such project, the department shall enter into an agreement with any city or county that desires to participate in the project. The agreement shall set forth the operational and financial terms and conditions under which the project shall be carried out. The funding provided by any participating city or county may consist of funds derived from any source, including funds made available pursuant to Section 99233.9 and subdivision (b) of Section 99400 of the Public Utilities Code.

SEC. 4. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Senate Bill No. 827 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, both bills amend Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 827, that Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975, as amended by Section 2 of this act shall remain operative only until the effective date of Senate Bill No. 827, and that on the effective date of Senate Bill No. 827 Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975 as amended by Section 2 of this act be further amended in the form set forth in Section 3 of this act to incorporate the changes in Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975 proposed by Senate Bill No. 827. Therefore, Section 3 of this act shall become operative only if this bill and Senate Bill No. 827 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, both bills amend Section 4 of Chapter 1130 of the Statutes of 1975, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 827, in which case Section 3 of this act shall become operative on the effective date of Senate Bill No. 827.

SEC. 5. This is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act provides statutory authority that is indispensible to the prompt implementation of plans for the restoration of urgently needed rail passenger service. Therefore, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

If such total is less than two million dollars ($2,000,000), the full amount of such reimbursable snow removal costs shall be apportioned to the several counties in an amount equal to that computed pursuant to subdivision (d) of the report filed by each such county pursuant to Section 2152.

If such total is two million dollars ($2,000,000) or more, each fiscal year the State Controller shall compute percentages for the apportionment of two million dollars ($2,000,000) to the several counties in the state for snow removal on county roads, including the purchase of snow removal equipment therefor, and shall apportion such amount to the counties in the computed percentages. The percentage each county is to be apportioned during such fiscal year shall be derived by adding its reimbursable snow removal expenditures for the three preceding fiscal years as to which the State Controller has received snow removal expenditure reports pursuant to Section 2152, and dividing the sum by the total amount of reimbursable snow removal expenditures by all counties in the state during such fiscal years.

On or before the first day of March of each year, the State Controller shall notify each county of the amount apportioned to it pursuant to this section for expenditure for snow removal on county roads during the following fiscal year.

SEC. 3. Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall not become operative unless (a) the California Transportation Plan is adopted and (b) the Legislature by statute finds that the increase in allowable allocations to counties for reimbursable snow removal costs would give equal consideration to the transportation needs of all areas of the state and all segments of the population consistent with the orderly achievement of the adopted local, regional, and statewide goals for ground transportation in local general plans, regional transportation plans, and the California Transportation Plan.

SEC. 4. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the revised allocation of revenues provided in this act constitutes an equitable geographic and jurisdictional distribution of funds subject to the provisions of Article XIX of the California Constitution.

(c) With respect to each item of Section 18211 property (as defined in Section 18214) which is subject to a lease, the amount by which—would have been allowable had the taxpayer depreciated the property under the straight line method for each taxable year of its useful life for which the taxpayer has held the property, and the deduction allowable under Section 17681 with respect to any property may be treated as the amount which would have been allowable had the taxpayer determined the deduction under Section 17681 without regard to Sections 17683 to 17688, inclusive, for each taxable year for which the taxpayer has held the property.

17226. (a) Every taxpayer at his election, shall be entitled to a deduction with respect to the amortization of the amortizable basis of any certified pollution control facility (as defined in subdivision (d)), based on a period of 60 months. Such amortization deduction shall be an amount with respect to each month of such period within the taxable year, equal to the amortizable basis of the pollution control facility at the end of such month divided by the number of months (including the month for which the deduction is computed) remaining in the period. Such amortizable basis at the end of the month shall be computed without regard to the amortization deduction for such month. The amortization deduction provided by this section with respect to any month shall be in lieu of the depreciation deduction with respect to such pollution control facility for such month provided by Section 17208. The 60-month period shall begin, as to any pollution control facility, at the election of the taxpayer, with the month following the month in which such facility was completed or acquired, or with the succeeding taxable year.

(b) The election of the taxpayer to take the amortization deduction and to begin the 60-month period with the month following the month in which the facility is completed or acquired, or with the taxable year succeeding the taxable year in which such facility is completed or acquired, shall be made by filing with the Franchise Tax Board in such manner, in such form, and within such time, as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, a statement of such election.

(c) A taxpayer which has elected under subdivision (b) to take the amortization deduction provided in subdivision (a) may, at any time after making such election, discontinue the amortization deduction with respect to the remainder of the amortization period, such discontinuance to begin as of the beginning of any month specified by the taxpayer in a notice in writing filed with the Franchise Tax Board before the beginning of such month. The depreciation deduction provided under Section 17208 shall be allowed, beginning with the first month as to which the amortization deduction does not apply, and the taxpayer shall not be entitled to any further amortization deduction under this section with respect to such pollution control facility.

(d) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "certified pollution control facility" means a new identifiable treatment facility which is used, in connection with a plant or other property in operation before January 1, 1977, to abate or control water or atmospheric pollution or contamination by removing, altering, disposing, storing, or preventing the creation or admission of pollutants, contaminants, wastes, or heat and which—

(A) The State Department of Health has certified as having been constructed, reconstructed, erected, or acquired in conformity with the state program or requirements for abatement or control of water or atmospheric pollution or contamination, and

(B) Does not significantly—

(i) Increase the output or capacity, extend the useful life, or reduce the total operating costs of such plant or other property (or any unit thereof), or

(ii) Alter the nature of the manufacturing or production process or facility.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "new identifiable treatment facility" includes only tangible property (not including a building and its structural components, other than a building which is exclusively a treatment facility) which is of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17208, which is identifiable as a treatment facility, and which—

(e) The State Department of Health shall not certify any property to the extent it appears that by reason of profits derived through the recovery of wastes or otherwise in the operation of such property, its costs will be recovered over its actual useful life means that portion of the adjusted basis (for determining gain) of a certified pollution control facility which may be amortized under this section.

(f) (1) For purposes of this section, the term "amortizable basis"

(2) (A) If a certified pollution control facility has a useful life (determined as of the first day of the first month for which a deduction is allowable under this section) in excess of 15 years, the amortizable basis of such facility shall be equal to an amount which bears the same ratio to the portion of the adjusted basis of such facility, which would be eligible for amortization but for the application of this subparagraph, as 15 bears to the number of years of useful life of such facility.

(B) The amortizable basis of a certified pollution control facility with respect to which an election under this section is in effect shall not be increased, for purposes of this section, for additions or improvements after the amortization period has begun.

(g) The depreciation deduction provided by Section 17208 shall, despite the provisions of subdivision (a), be allowed with respect to the portion of the adjusted basis which is not the amortizable basis.

(h) In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction under this section shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowable to the life tenant.

(i) For special rule with respect to certain gain derived from the disposition of property the adjusted basis of which is determined with regard to this section, see Section 18211.

(j) The amendments made to subdivision (d) by the 1977–78 Regular Session of the Legislature shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976. Such amortizable basis at the end of the month shall be computed without regard to the amortization deduction for such month. The amortization deduction provided by this section with respect to any month shall be in lieu of the depreciation deduction with respect to such basis for such month provided by Sections 17208 to 17211.7, inclusive. The 60-month period shall begin, as to any historic structure, at the election of the taxpayer, with the month following the month in which the basis is acquired, or with the succeeding taxable year.

(b) The election of the taxpayer to take the amortization deduction and to begin the 60-month period with the month following the month in which the basis is acquired, or with the taxable year succeeding the taxable year in which such basis is acquired, shall be made by filing with the Franchise Tax Board, in such manner, in such form, and within such time as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, a statement of such election.

If less than one-half of the total days of the trip, excluding the days of transportation to and from the site of the convention, are devoted to business related activities, no deduction for the expenses of transportation shall be allowed which exceeds the percentage of the days of the trip devoted to business related activities

(4) This section shall apply to deductions otherwise allowable under Section 17202 or 17252 to any person, whether or not such person is the individual attending the foreign convention. For the purposes of the preceding sentence such person shall be treated, with respect to each individual, as having selected the same two foreign conventions as were selected by such individual.

(g) No deduction shall be allowed under Section 17202 or 17252 for transportation or subsistence expenses allocable to attendance at a foreign convention unless the taxpayer claiming the deduction attaches to the return of tax on which the deduction is claimed—

SEC. 55.1. Section 17445 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17445. (a) (1) If, in connection with any exchange described in Sections 17431 to 17439, inclusive, there is a transfer of property (other than stock or securities of a foreign corporation which is a party to the exchange or a party to the reorganization) by a United States person to a foreign corporation, for purposes of determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized on such transfer, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be a corporation unless, pursuant to a request filed not later than the close of the 183rd day after the beginning of such transfer (and filed in such form and manner as may be prescribed by regulations by the Franchise Tax Board), it is established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income taxes.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any exchange (otherwise within paragraph (1)), or to any type of property, which the Franchise Tax Board by regulations designates as not requiring the filing of a request.

(b) (1) In the case of any exchange described in Sections 17431 to 17439, inclusive, in connection with which there is no transfer of property described in subdivision (a) (1), a foreign corporation shall be considered to be a corporation except to the extent provided in regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board which are necessary or appropriate to prevent the avoidance of income taxes

(2) The regulations prescribed pursuant to paragraph (1) shall include, but shall not be limited to, regulations dealing with the sale or exchange of stock or securities in a foreign corporation by a United States person, including regulations providing—

(A) The circumstances under which—

(i) Gain shall be recognized currently, or amounts included in gross income currently as a dividend, or both, or

(ii) Gain or other amounts may be deferred for inclusion in the gross income of a shareholder (or his successor in interest) at a later date, and

(B) The extent to which adjustments shall be made to earnings and profits, basis of stock or securities, and basis of assets.

(c) (1) For purposes of this section any distribution described in Sections 17433 and 17435 (or so much of Sections 17435 to 17439, inclusive, as relates to Sections 17433 and 17435) shall be treated as an exchange whether or not it is an exchange.

(2) For purposes of this part, any transfer of property to a foreign corporation as a contribution to the capital of such corporation by one or more persons who, immediately after the transfer, own (within the meaning of Section 17384) stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of such corporation entitled to vote shall be treated as an exchange of such property for stock of the foreign corporation equal in value to the fair market value of the property transferred.

(d) In the case of any exchange beginning before January 1, 1978—

(1) Subdivision (a) shall be applied without regard to whether or not there is a transfer of property described in subdivision (a) (1), and

(2) Subdivision (b) shall not apply

SEC 56 Section 17461 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17461. (a) For the purposes of Article 1 (commencing with Section 17321) to Article 7 (commencing with Section 17431), inclusive, of this chapter, the term "reorganization" means—

(1) A statutory merger or consolidation;

(2) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of stock of another corporation if, immediately after the acquisition, the acquiring corporation has control of such other corporation (whether or not such acquiring corporation had control immediately before the acquisition),

(3) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of substantially all of the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded,

(4) A transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor, or one or more of its shareholders (including persons who were shareholders immediately before the transfer), or any combination thereof, is in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred; but only if, in pursuance of the plan, stock or securities of the corporation to which the assets are transferred are distributed in a transaction which qualifies under Sections 17432 to 17439, inclusive;

(5) A recapitalization; or

(6) A mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

(b) (1) If a transaction is described in both paragraph (3) and paragraph (4) of subdivision (a), then, for purposes of this chapter, such transactions shall be treated as described only in paragraph (4) of subdivision (a)

(2) If—

(A) One corporation acquires substantially all of the properties of another corporation,

(B) The acquisition would qualify under paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) but for the fact that the acquiring corporation exchanges money or other property in addition to voting stock,

then such acquisition shall (subject to paragraph (1) of this subdivision) be treated as qualifying under paragraph (3) of subdivision (a). Solely for the purpose of determining whether subparagraph (C) of the preceding sentence applies, the amount of any liability assumed by the acquiring corporation, and the amount of any liability to which any property acquired by the acquiring corporation is subject, shall be treated as money paid for the property.

(3) A transaction otherwise qualifying under paragraph (1), paragraph (2) or paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that part or all of the assets which were acquired in the transaction are transferred to a corporation controlled by the corporation acquiring such assets.

(4) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange for stock of a corporation (referred to in this paragraph as "controlling corporation") which is in control of the acquiring corporation, of substantially all of the properties of another corporation which in the transaction is merged into the acquiring corporation shall not disqualify a transaction under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), if—

(A) Such transaction would have qualified under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) if the merger had been into the controlling corporation, and

(B) No stock of the acquiring corporation is used in the transaction.

(5) A transaction otherwise qualifying under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that stock of a corporation (referred to in this paragraph as the "controlling corporation") which before the merger was in control of the merged corporation is used in the transaction, if—

(A) After the transaction, the corporation surviving the merger holds substantially all of its properties and of the properties of the merged corporation (other than stock of the controlling corporation distributed in the transaction); and

(B) In the transaction, former shareholders of the surviving corporation exchanged, for an amount of voting stock of the controlling corporation, an amount of stock in the surviving corporation which constitutes control of such corporation.

(6) (A) If immediately before a transaction described in subdivision (a) (other than paragraph (5) thereof), two or more parties to the transaction were investment companies, then the transaction shall not be considered to be a reorganization with respect to any such investment company (and its shareholders and security holders) unless it was a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or a corporation which meets the requirements of subparagraph (B).

(B) A corporation meets the requirements of this subparagraph if not more than 25 percent of the value of its total assets is invested in the stock and securities of any one issuer, and not more than 50 percent of the value of its total assets is invested in the stock and securities of five or fewer issuers For purposes of this paragraph, all members of a controlled group of corporations (within the meaning of Section 1563(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) shall be treated as one issuer.

(C) For purposes of this paragraph the term "investment company" means a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or a corporation more than 50 percent of the value of whose total assets are stock and securities more than 80 percent of the value of whose total assets are assets held for investment. In making the 50-percent and 80-percent determinations under the preceding sentence, stock and securities in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets, and a corporation shall be considered a subsidiary if the parent owns 50 percent or more of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock outstanding.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, in determining total assets there shall be excluded cash and cash items (including receivables), government securities, and, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, assets acquired (through incurring indebtedness or otherwise) for purposes of meeting the requirements of subparagraph (B) or ceasing to be an investment company

(E) This paragraph shall not apply if the stock of each investment company is owned substantially by the same persons in the same proportions

(F) If an investment company which is not diversified within the meaning of subparagraph (B) acquires assets of another corporation, subparagraph (A) shall be applied to such investment company and its shareholders and security holders as though its assets had been acquired by such other corporation If such investment company acquires stock of another corporation in a reorganization described in Section 17461(a)(2) (hereafter referred to as the "actual acquisition") subparagraph (A) shall be applied to the shareholders and security holders of such investment company as though they had exchanged with such other corporation all of their stock in such investment company for a percentage of the value of the total outstanding stock of the other corporation equal to the percentage of the value of the total outstanding stock of such investment company which such shareholders own immediately after the actual acquisition. For purposes of Section 18031, the deemed acquisition or exchange referred to in the two preceding sentences shall be treated as a sale or exchange of property by the corporation and by the shareholders and security holders to which subparagraph (A) is applied.

(c) The amendments made to this section by the 1971 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature shall apply to statutory mergers occurring after December 31, 1970.

SEC. 57. Section 17503 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17503. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee by any employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 shall be taxable to him, in the year in which so distributed or made available, under Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities). The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee shall not include net unrealized appreciation in securities of the employer corporation attributable to the amount contributed by the employee. Such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of such securities shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board

(b) In the case of an employee's trust described in Section 17501, which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, if the total distributions payable with respect to any employee are paid to the distributee within one taxable year of the distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from service, or on account of the death of the employee after his separation from service, so much of such total distribution as is equal to the excess of such total distribution over the amount contributed by the employee (determined by applying Section 17106), which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amount theretofore distributed to him which was not includable in gross income, multiplied by a fraction—

(1) The numerator of which is the number of calendar years of active participation by the employee in such plan before January 1, 1974, and

(2) The denominator of which is the number of calendar years of active participation by the employee in such plan, shall be treated as a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than five years.

Where such total distributions include securities of the employer corporation, there shall be excluded from such total distributions the net unrealized appreciation attributable to that part of the total distributions which consists of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed The amount of such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

This subdivision shall not apply to distributions paid to any distributee to the extent such distributions are attributable to contributions made on behalf of the employee while he was an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2

(c) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "securities" means only shares of stock and bonds or debentures issued by a corporation with interest coupons or in registered form.

(2) The term "securities of the employer corporation" includes securities of a parent or subsidiary corporation (as defined in subdivisions (e) and (f) of Section 17535) of the employer corporation.

(3) The term "total distributions payable" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to a distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of his death after separation from the service.

(4) The term "employee contributions," as used in this section, means the amounts contributed by the employee (determined by applying Section 17106), which employee contributions shall be reduced by amounts theretofore distributed to him which were not includable in gross income.

(d) In the case of an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, if—

(1) The balance to the credit of an employee is paid to him—

(A) Within one taxable year of the employee on account of a termination of the plan of which the trust is a part or a complete discontinuance of contributions under such plan, or

(B) In one or more distributions which constitute a lump-sum distribution within the meaning of Section 402(e)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (determined without reference to subsection (e)(4)(B)).

(2) (A) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract), or a retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property, to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the employee contributions as defined in subparagraph (4) of subdivision (c), or

(B) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or to an annuity plan described in Section 17511 on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property, to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the employee contributions as defined in subparagraph (4) of subdivision (c) and

(3) The amount so transferred consists of the property (other than money) distributed, to the extent that the fair market value of such property does not exceed the amount required to be transferred pursuant to paragraph (2), then such distributions are not includable in gross income for the year in which paid For purposes of this part, a transfer described in paragraph (2) (A) shall be treated as a rollover contribution as described in Section 17530(d) (3). Paragraph (2) (B) does not apply in the case of a transfer to an employees' trust, or annuity plan if any part of a payment described in paragraph (1) is attributable to a trust forming part of a plan under which the employee was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502 2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan.

For purposes of paragraph (4) (A), a complete discontinuance of contributions under a plan shall be deemed to occur on the day the plan administrator notifies the Secretary of the Treasury (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the secretary) that all contributions to the plan have been completely discontinued.

SEC. 58. Section 17511 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17511 Except as provided in subdivision (a), if an annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan which meets the requirements of Section 17515 (whether or not the employer deducts the amounts paid for the contract under such section), the employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities)

(a) If—

(1) An annuity contract is purchased by an employer for an employee under a plan described in the first paragraph,

(2) Such plan requires that refunds of contributions with respect to annuity contracts purchased under such plan be used to reduce subsequent premiums on the contracts under the plan,

(3) The total amounts payable by reason of the employee's death or other separation from service, or by reason of the death of the employee after his separation from service, are paid to the payee within one taxable year of the payee, then the capital gain element of such payments (as defined in subdivision (c)) shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than five years This subdivision shall not apply to amounts paid to any payee to the extent such amounts are attributable to contributions made on behalf of the employee while he was an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the term "total amounts" means the balance to the credit of an employee which becomes payable to the payee by reason of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or by reason of his death after separation from the service.

(c) For purposes of subdivision (a) the term "capital gain element" means so much of such total amounts described in subdivision (a) as is equal to the excess of such amounts over the amount contributed by the employee, which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amounts theretofore paid to him which were not includable in gross income, multiplied by the fraction described in Section 17503(b)

(d) For purposes of this section, the term "employee" includes an individual who is an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2, and the employer of such individual is the person treated as his employer under subdivision (d) of Section 17502.2

(e) In the case of an employee annuity described in this section, if—

(1) The balance to the credit of an employee is paid to him—

(A) Within one taxable year of the employee on account of a termination of the plan of which such trust is a part or a complete discontinuance of contributions under such plan, or

(B) In one or more distributions which constitutes a lump sum distribution within the meaning of Section 402(e)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L 93-406) (determined without reference to subsection (e)(4)(B)),

(2) (A) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an individual account described in Section 17530(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract), or a retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the amount referred to in Section 17503(c)(4), or

(B) The employee transfers all the property he receives in such distribution to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or to an annuity plan described in this section on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received such property to the extent the fair market value of such property exceeds the amount referred to in Section 17503(c)(4), and

(3) The amount so transferred consists of the property distributed to the extent that the fair market value of such property does not exceed the amount required to be transferred pursuant to paragraph (2), then such distribution is not includable in gross income for the year in which paid. For purposes of this part, a transfer described in paragraph (2)(A) shall be treated as a rollover contribution described in Section 17530(d). Subparagraph (2)(B) does not apply in the case of a transfer to an employees' trust, or annuity plan if any part of a payment described in paragraph (1) is attributable to an annuity plan under which the employee was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan.

For purposes of paragraph (1)(A), a complete discontinuance of contributions under a plan shall be deemed to occur on the day the plan administrator notifies the Secretary of the Treasury (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the secretary) that all contributions to the plan have been completely discontinued

SEC. 59. Section 17512 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17512. (a) (1) If—

(A) An annuity contract is purchased—

(i) For an employee by an employer described in Section 23701d which is exempt from tax under Section 23701, or

(ii) For an employee (other than an employee described in clause (i) of subparagraph (A)), who performs services for an educational institution (as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 17150), by an employer which is a state, a political subdivision of a state, or an agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing,

(B) Such annuity contract is not subject to Section 17511, and

(C) The employee's rights under the contract are nonforfeitable, except for failure to pay future premiums, then amounts contributed by such employer for such annuity contract on or after such rights become nonforfeitable shall be excluded from the gross income of the employee for the taxable year to the extent that the aggregate of such amounts does not exceed the exclusion allowance for such taxable year. The employee shall include in his gross income the amounts received under such contract for the year received as provided in Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive.

(2) For purposes of this section, the exclusion allowance for any employee for the taxable year is an amount equal to the excess, if any, of—

(A) The amount determined by multiplying 20 percent of his includable compensation by the number of years of service, over

(B) The aggregate of the amounts contributed by the employer for annuity contracts and excludable from the gross income of the employee for any prior taxable year.

(3) In the case of an employee who makes an election under Section 415(c)(4)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) to have the provisions of Section 415(c)(4)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) (relating to special rule for contracts purchased by educational institutions, hospitals, and home health service agencies) apply, the exclusion allowance for any such employee for the taxable year is the amount which could be contributed (under Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406)) by his employer under a plan described in Section 17511 if the annuity contract for the benefit of such employee were treated as a defined contribution plan maintained by the employer.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "includable compensation" means, in the case of any employee, the amount of compensation which is received from the employer described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), and which is includable in gross income (computed without regard to subdivision (d) of Section 17139 and Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by P.L. 93-406) for the most recent period (ending not later than the close of the taxable year) which under paragraph (4) may be counted as one year of service. Such term does not include any amount contributed by the employer for any annuity contract to which this section applies.

(5) In determining the number of years of service for purposes of this section, there shall be included—

(A) One year for each full year during which the individual was a full-time employee of the organization purchasing the annuity for him, and

(B) A fraction of a year (determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board) for each full year during which such individual was a part-time employee of such organization and for each part of a year during which such individual was a full-time or part-time employee of such organization.

In no case shall the number of years of service be less than one.

(6) If for any taxable year of the employee this section applies to two or more annuity contracts purchased by the employer, such contracts shall be treated as one contract.

(7) For purposes of this section and Section 17106 (relating to special rules for computing employees' contributions to annuity contracts), if rights of the employee under an annuity contract described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) change from forfeitable to nonforfeitable rights, then the amount (determined without regard to this subdivision) includable in gross income by reason of such change shall be treated as an amount contributed by the employer for such annuity contract as of the time such rights become nonforfeitable.

(8) (A) For purposes of this part, amounts paid by an employer described in paragraph (1) (A) to a custodial account which satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.5(b) shall be treated as amounts contributed by him for an annuity contract for his employee if the amounts are paid to provide a retirement benefit for that employee and are to be invested in regulated investment company stock to be held in that custodial account.

(B) For purposes of this part, a custodial account which satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.5(b) shall be treated as an organization described in Section 17501 solely for purposes of Sections 17631 to 17651, inclusive, with respect to amounts received by it (and income from investment thereof).

(C) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "regulated investment company" means a domestic corporation which is a regulated investment company within the meaning of Section 851(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(b) Premiums paid by an employer for an annuity contract which is not subject to Section 17511 shall be included in the gross income of the employee in accordance with Section 17122.7 (relating to property transferred in connection with performance of services), except that the value of such contract shall be substituted for the fair market value of the property for purposes of applying such section. The preceding sentence shall not apply to that portion of the premiums paid which is excluded from gross income under subdivision (a). The amount actually paid or made available to any beneficiary under such contract shall be taxable to him in the year in which so paid or made available under Section 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive (relating to annuities).

SEC. 60. Section 17530 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17530. (a) For purposes of this section, the term "individual retirement account" means a trust created or organized in the United States for the exclusive benefit of an individual or his beneficiaries, but only if the written governing instrument creating the trust meets the following requirements:

(1) Except in the case of a rollover contribution described in subdivision (d) (3), in Section 17503(d), 17511(e), or 17530.1(b) (3), no contribution will be accepted unless it is in cash, and contributions will not be accepted for the taxable year in excess of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) on behalf of any individual.

(2) The trustee is a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a)) or such other person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the manner in which such other person will administer the trust will be consistent with the requirements of this section.

(3) No part of the trust funds will be invested in life insurance contracts.

(4) The interest of an individual in the balance in his account is nonforfeitable.

(5) The assets of the trust will not be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund.

(6) The entire interest of an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, commencing before the close of such taxable year, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, over—

(A) The life of such individual or the lives of such individual and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such individual or the life expectancy of such individual and his spouse.

(7) If an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (6) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence does not apply if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the individual for whose benefit the trust was maintained and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (6)

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "individual retirement annuity" means an annuity contract, or an endowment contract (as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board), issued by an insurance company which meets the following requirements·

(1) The contract is not transferable by the owner

(2) The annual premium under the contract will not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) and any refund of premiums will be applied before the close of the calendar year following the year of the refund toward the payment of future premiums or the purchase of additional benefits.

(3) The entire interest of the owner will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board over—

(A) The life of such owner or the lives of such owner and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such owner or the life expectancy of such owner and his spouse

(4) If the owner dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (3) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence shall have no application if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the owner and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (3).

(5) The entire interest of the owner is nonforfeitable. Such term does not include such an annuity contract for any taxable year of the owner in which it is disqualified on the application of subdivision (e) or for any subsequent taxable year. For purposes of this subdivision, no contract shall be treated as an endowment contract if it matures later than the taxable year in which the individual in whose name such contract is purchased attains age 70½; if it is not for the exclusive benefit of the individual in whose name it is purchased or his beneficiaries; or if the aggregate annual premiums under all such contracts purchased in the name of such individual for any taxable year exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500)

(c) A trust created or organized in the United States by an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries, or by an association of employees (which may include employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a)) for the exclusive benefit of its members or their beneficiaries, shall be treated as an individual retirement account (described in subdivision (a)), but only if the written governing instrument creating the trust meets the following requirements:

(1) The trust satisfies the requirements of paragraphs (1) through (7) of subdivision (a).

(2) There is a separate accounting for the interest of each employee or member (or spouse of an employee or member).

The assets of the trust may be held in a common fund for the account of all individuals who have an interest in the trust.

(d) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity shall be included in gross income by the payee or distributee, as the case may be, for the taxable year in which the payment or distribution is received. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code (including parts 8 (commencing with Section 13301) and 9 (commencing with Section 15101) of this division), the basis of any person in such an account or annuity is zero.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any annuity contract which meets the requirements of paragraphs (1), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (b) and which is distributed from an individual retirement account. Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, apply to any such annuity contract, and for purposes of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, the investment in such contract is zero.

(3) An amount is described in this paragraph as a rollover contribution if it meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B).

(A) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit the account or annuity is maintained if—

(i) The entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity (other than an endowment contract) or retirement bond for the benefit of such individual not later than the

60th day after the day on which he receives the payment or distribution; or

(ii) The entire amount received (including money and other property) represents the entire amount in the account or the entire value of the annuity and no amount in the account and no part of the value of the annuity is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 (other than a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan), or an annuity plan described in Section 17511 (other than a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan) and any earnings on such sums and the entire amount thereof is paid into another such trust (for the benefit of such individual) or annuity plan not later than the 60th day on which he receives the payment or distribution

(B) This paragraph does not apply to any amount described in subparagraph (A) (i) received by an individual from an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity if at any time during the three-year period ending on the day of such receipt such individual received any other amount described in that subparagraph from an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or a retirement bond which was not includable in his gross income because of the application of this paragraph.

(4) Paragraph (1) does not apply to the distribution of any contribution paid during a taxable year to an individual retirement account or for an individual retirement annuity to the extent that such contribution exceeds the amount allowable as a deduction under Section 17240 or 17241 if—

(A) Such distribution is received on or before the day prescribed by law (including extensions of time) for filing such individual's return for such taxable year.

(B) No deduction is allowed under Section 17240 or 17241 with respect to such excess contribution, and

(C) Such distribution is accompanied by the amount of net income attributable to such excess contribution.

In the case of such a distribution, for purposes of Section 17071, any net income described in subparagraph (C) shall be deemed to have been earned and receivable in the taxable year in which such excess contribution is made.

(5) The transfer of an individual's interest in an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or retirement bond to his former spouse under a divorce decree or under a written instrument incident to such divorce is not to be considered a taxable transfer made by such individual notwithstanding any other provision of this part, and such interest at the time of the transfer is to be treated as an individual retirement account of such spouse, and not of such individual. Thereafter such account, annuity, or bond for purposes of this part is to be treated as maintained for the benefit of such spouse.

(e) (1) Any individual retirement account is exempt from taxation under this part unless such account has ceased to be an individual retirement account by reason of paragraph (2) or (3) Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, any such account is subject to the taxes imposed by Section 17651 (relating to imposition of tax on unrelated business income of charitable, etc. organizations).

(2) In the case of such a plan in existence in taxable year 1975 where contributions were made pursuant to and in conformance with Section 408 or 409 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee's Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), any net income attributable to the 1975 contribution shall not be includable in the gross income, for taxable year 1977 or succeeding taxable years, of the individual for whose benefit the plan was established until distributed pursuant to the provisions of the plan or by operation of law.

(3) (A) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit any individual retirement account is established, that individual or his beneficiary engages in any transaction prohibited by Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) with respect to such account, such account ceases to be an individual retirement account as of the first day of such taxable year. For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) The individual for whose benefit any account was established is treated as the creator of such account and

(ii) The separate account for any individual within an individual retirement account maintained by an employer or association of employees is treated as a separate individual retirement account

(B) In any case in which any account ceases to be an individual retirement account by reason of subparagraph (A) as of the first day of any taxable year, paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) applies as if there were a distribution on such first day in an amount equal to the fair market value (on such first day) of all assets in the account (on such first day).

(4) If during any taxable year the owner of an individual retirement annuity borrows any money under or by use of such contract, the contract ceases to be an individual retirement annuity as of the first day of such taxable year Such owner shall include in gross income for such year an amount equal to the fair market value of such contract as of such first day.

(5) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit an individual retirement account is established, that individual uses the account or any portion thereof as security for a loan, the portion so used is treated as distributed to that individual.

(6) If the assets of an individual retirement account or any part of such assets are used to purchase an endowment contract for the benefit of the individual for whose benefit the account is established—

(A) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are not attributable to the purchase of life insurance, the purchase is treated as a rollover contribution described in subdivision (d) (3), and

(B) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are attributable to the purchase of life, health, accident, or other insurance, such amounts are treated as distributed to that individual (but the provisions of subdivision (f) do not apply).

(7) Any common trust fund or common investment fund of individual retirement account assets which is exempt from taxation under this part does not cease to be exempt on account of the participation or inclusion of assets of a trust exempt from taxation under Section 17631 which is described in Section 17501.

(f) (1) If a distribution from an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit such account or annuity was established is made before such individual attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which such distribution is received shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of distribution which is includable in his gross income for such taxable year.

(2) If an amount is includable in gross income for a taxable year under subdivision (e) and the taxpayer has not attained age 59½ before the beginning of such taxable year, his tax under this article for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of such amount so required to be included in his gross income

(3) Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply if the amount paid or distributed, or the disqualification of the account or annuity under subdivision (e), is attributable to the taxpayer becoming disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(g) For purposes of this section, a custodial account shall be treated as a trust if the assets of such account are held by a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a)) or another person who demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, that the manner in which he will administer the account will be consistent with the requirements of this section, and if the custodial account would, except for the fact that it is not a trust, constitute an individual retirement account described in subdivision (a). For purposes of this part, in the case of a custodial account treated as a trust by reason of the preceding sentence, the custodian of such account shall be treated as the trustee thereof

(h) The trustee of an individual retirement account and the issuer of an endowment contract described in subdivision (b) or an individual retirement annuity shall make such reports regarding such account, contract, or annuity to the Franchise Tax Board and to the individuals for whom the account, contract, or annuity is, or is to be, maintained with respect to contributions, distributions, and such other matters as the Franchise Tax Board may require under regulations. The reports required by this subdivision shall be filed at such time and in such manner and furnished to such individuals at such time and in such manner as may be required by those regulations.

SEC. 61 Section 17530.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17530.1. (a) For purposes of this section and Section 17240(a), the term "retirement bond" means a bond issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, which by its terms, or by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States or his delegate under such act—

(1) Provides for payment of interest, or investment yield, only on redemption;

(2) Provides that no interest, or investment yield, is payable if the bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance,

(3) Provides that it ceases to bear interest, or provide investment yield on the earlier of—

(A) The date on which the individual in whose name it is purchased (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "registered owner") attains age 70½; or

(B) Five years after the date on which the registered owner dies, but not later than the date on which he would have attained the age 70½ had he lived,

(4) Provides that, except in the case of a rollover contribution described in subdivision (b)(3)(C) or in Section 17503(d), 17511(e), or 17530(d)(3), the registered owner may not contribute for the purchase of such bonds in excess of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for any taxable year; and

(5) Is not transferable.

(b) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, on the redemption of a retirement bond the entire proceeds shall be included in the gross income of the taxpayer entitled to the proceeds on redemption. If the registered owner has not tendered it for redemption before the close of the taxable year in which he attains age 70½, such individual shall include in his gross income for such taxable year the amount of proceeds he would have received if the bond had been redeemed at age 70½. The provisions of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, and Sections 18183 to 18185, inclusive (relating to bonds and other evidences of indebtedness) shall not apply to a retirement bond

(2) The basis of a retirement bond is zero

(3) Exceptions.

(A) If a retirement bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance, the proceeds are excluded from gross income if no deduction is allowed under Section 17240 on account of the purchase of such bond.

(B) If a retirement bond is redeemed after the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, the proceeds from the redemption of the bond are excluded from the gross income of the registered owner to the extent that such proceeds were includable in his gross income for such taxable year.

(C) If a retirement bond is redeemed at any time before the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, and the registered owner transfers the entire amount of the proceeds from the redemption of the bond to an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a) or to an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract) which is maintained for the benefit of the registered owner of the bond, or to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, or an annuity plan described in Section 17511 for the benefit of the registered owner, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received the proceeds of such redemption, then the proceeds shall be excluded from gross income and the transfer shall be treated as a rollover contribution described in Section 17511(e). This subparagraph does not apply in the case of a transfer to such an employees' trust or such an annuity plan unless no part of the value of such proceeds is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from such an employees' trust or annuity plan (other than an annuity plan or a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan).

(c) (1) If a retirement bond is redeemed by the registered owner before he attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which the bond is redeemed shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of the proceeds of the redemption includable in his gross income for the taxable year

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply for any taxable year during which the retirement bond is redeemed if, for that taxable year, the registered owner is disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(3) Paragraph (1) does not apply if the registered owner tenders the bond for redemption within 12 months after the date of its issuance.

SEC. 62. Section 17530.4 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17530.4 (a) (1) A trust which is a part of a pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under Section 17501, if—

(A) In the case of a defined benefit plan, the plan provides for the payment of benefits with respect to a participant which exceed the limitation of subdivision (b).

(B) In the case of a defined contribution plan, contributions and other additions under the plan with respect to any participant for any taxable year exceed the limitation of subdivision (c), or

(C) In any case in which an individual is a participant in both a defined benefit plan and a defined contribution plan maintained by the employer, the trust has been disqualified under subdivision (g).

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), in the case of—

(A) An employee annuity plan described in Section 17511,

(B) An annuity contract described in Section 17512,

(C) An individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a),

(D) An individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b),

(E) A plan described in Section 17526, or

(F) A retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, such contract, annuity plan, account, annuity, plan, or bond shall not be considered to be described in Section 17511, 17512, 17526, 17530(a), 17530(b) or 17530.1, as the case may be, unless it satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), whichever is appropriate, and has not been disqualified under subdivision (g). In the case of an annuity contract described in Section 17512, the preceding sentence shall apply only to the portion of the annuity contract which exceeds the limitation of subdivision (b) or the limitation of subdivision (c), whichever is appropriate, and the amount of the contribution for such portion shall reduce the exclusion allowance as provided in Section 17512.

(3) Paragraph (2) shall not apply for any year to an account, annuity, or bond described in Section 17530(a), 17530(b), or 17530.1, respectively, established for the benefit of the spouse of the individual contributing to such account, or for such annuity or bond, if a deduction is allowed under Section 17241 to such individual with respect to such contribution for such year.

(b) (1) Benefits with respect to a participant exceed the limitation of this subdivision if, when expressed as an annual benefit (within the meaning of paragraph (2)), such annual benefit is greater than the lesser of—

(A) Seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), or

(B) One hundred percent of the participant's average compensation for his high three years

(2) (A) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "annual benefit" means a benefit payable annually in the form of a straight life annuity (with no ancillary benefits) under a plan to which employees do not contribute and under which no rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1) are made.

(B) If the benefit under the plan is payable in any form other than the form described in subparagraph (A), or if the employees contribute to the plan or make rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1), the determinations as to whether the limitation described in paragraph (1) has been satisfied shall be made, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, by adjusting such benefit so that it is equivalent to the benefit described in subparagraph (A). For purposes of this subparagraph, any ancillary benefit which is not directly related to retirement income benefits shall not be taken into account; and that portion of any joint and survivor annuity which constitutes a qualified joint and survivor annuity (as defined in Section 17501) shall not be taken into account.

(C) If the retirement income benefit under the plan begins before age 55, the determination as to whether the limitation set forth in paragraph (1)(A) has been satisfied shall be made, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, by adjusting such benefit so that it is equivalent to such a benefit beginning at age 55.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1), a participant's high three years shall be the period of consecutive calendar years (not more than three) during which the participant both was an active participant in the plan and had the greatest aggregate compensation from the employer. In the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting for "compensation from the employer" the following· "the participant's earned income (within the meaning of Section 17502.2 but determined without regard to any exclusion under Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954)."

(4) Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this subdivision, the benefits payable with respect to a participant under any defined benefit plan shall be deemed not to exceed the limitation of this subdivision if—

(A) The retirement benefits payable with respect to such participant under such plan and under all other defined benefit plans of the employer do not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for the plan year, or for any prior plan year, and

(B) The employer has not at any time maintained a defined contribution plan in which the participant participated.

(5) In the case of an employee who has less than 10 years of service with the employer, the limitation referred to in paragraph (1), and the limitation referred to in paragraph (4), shall be the limitation determined under such paragraph (without regard to this paragraph), multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of years (or part thereof) of service with the employer and the denominator of which is 10.

(6) The computation of—

(A) Benefits under a defined contribution plan, for purposes of Section 17501(d),

(B) Contributions made on behalf of a participant in a defined benefit plan, for purposes of Section 17501(d), and

(C) Contributions and benefits provided for a participant in a plan described in Section 414(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), for purposes of this section shall not be made on a basis inconsistent with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(c) (1) Contributions and other additions with respect to a participant exceed the limitation of this subdivision, if, when expressed as an annual addition (within the meaning of paragraph (2)) to the participant's account, such annual addition is greater than the lesser of—

(A) Twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or

(B) Twenty-five percent of the participant's compensation.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "annual addition" means the sum for any year of—

(A) Employer contributions,

(B) The lesser of—

(i) The amount of the employee contributions in excess of 6 percent of his compensation, or

(ii) One-half of the employee contributions, and

(C) Forfeitures.

For the purposes of this paragraph, employee contributions under subparagraph (B) are determined without regard to any rollover contributions (as defined in Sections 17503, 17511, 17530, and 17530.1).

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "participant's compensation" means the compensation of the participant from the employer for the year. In the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting for "compensation of the participant from the employer" the following: "the participant's earned income (within the meaning of Section 17502.2 but determined without regard to any exclusion under Section 911 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954)."

(4) (A) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for the year in which occurs a participant's separation from the service with an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant there is substituted for the amount specified in paragraph (1) (B) the amount of the exclusion allowance which would be determined under Section 17512 (without regard to this section) for the participant's taxable year in which such separation occurs if the participant's years of service were computed only by taking into account his service for the employer during the period of years (not exceeeding 10) ending on the date of such separation.

(B) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for any year in the case of a participant who is an employee of an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant there is substituted for the amount specified in paragraph (1) (B) the least of—

(i) Twenty-five percent of the participant's includable compensation (as defined in Section 17512) plus four thousand dollars ($4,000),

(ii) The amount of the exclusion allowance determined for the year under Section 17512, or

(iii) fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(C) In the case of amounts contributed for an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for any year for a participant who is an employee of an educational institution, a hospital, or a home health service agency, at the election of the participant the provisions of Section 17512(a)(2) shall not apply.

(D) (i) The provisions of this paragraph apply only if the participant elects its application at the time and in the manner provided under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. Not more than one election may be made under subparagraph (A) by any participant. A participant who elects to have the provisions of subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of this paragraph apply to him may not elect to have any other subparagraph of this paragraph apply to him. Any election made under this paragraph is irrevocable.

(ii) For purposes of this paragraph the term "educational institution" means an educational institution as defined in Section 151(e)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(iii) For purposes of this paragraph the term "home health service agency" means an organization described in subsection 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 which is exempt from tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and which has been determined by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to be a home health agency (as defined in Section 1861(o) of the Social Security Act).

(5) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a), the amount determined under paragraph (1)(B) with respect to any participant shall not be less than the amount deductible under Section 17524 with respect to any individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a).

(6) Paragraph (1)(B) shall not apply to a contribution described in Section 17502.4 which is made on behalf of a participant for a year to a plan which benefits an owner-employee (within the meaning of Section 17502.2(c)), if—

(A) The annual addition determined under this section with respect to the participant for such year consists solely of such contribution, and

(B) The participant is not an active participant at any time during such year in a defined benefit plan maintained by the employer.

For purposes of this section and Section 17502.4, in the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees who are not owner-employees, such plan will not be treated as failing to satisfy Section 17501(d) merely because contributions made on behalf of employees who are not owner-employees are not permitted to exceed the limitations of paragraph (1)(B).

(d) (1) The Franchise Tax Board shall adjust annually—

(A) The amount in subdivision (b)(1)(A),

(B) The amount in subdivision (c)(1)(A), and

(C) In the case of a participant who is separated from service, the amount taken into account under subdivision (b) (1) (B), for increases in the cost of living in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board Such regulations shall provide for adjustment procedures which are similar to the procedures used to adjust primary insurance amounts under Section 215(i) (2) (A) of the Social Security Act.

(2) The base period taken into account—

(A) For purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) is the calendar quarter beginning October 1, 1974, and

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) is the last calendar quarter of the calendar year before the calendar year in which the participant is separated from service.

(e) (1) In any case in which an individual is a participant in both a defined benefit plan and a defined contribution plan maintained by the same employer, the sum of the defined benefit plan fraction and the defined contribution plan fraction for any year may not exceed 1.4.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, the defined benefit plan fraction for any year is a fraction—

(A) The numerator of which is the projected annual benefit of the participant under the plan (determined as of the close of the year), and

(B) The denominator of which is the projected annual benefit of the participant under the plan (determined as of the close of the year) if the plan provided the maximum benefit allowable under subsection (b).

(3) Defined contribution plan fraction. For purposes of this subdivision, the defined contribution plan fraction for any year is a fraction—

(A) The numerator of which is the sum of the annual additions to the participant's account as of the close of the year, and

(B) The denominator of which is the sum of the maximum amount of annual additions to such account which could have been made under subdivision (c) for such year and for each prior year of service with the employer.

(4) In applying paragraph (3) with respect to years beginning before January 1, 1976—

(A) The aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (3) (A) may not exceed the aggregate amount taken into account under paragraph (3) (B), and

(B) The amount taken into account under subdivision (c) (2) (B) (i) for any year concerned is an amount equal to—

(i) The excess of the aggregate amount of employee contributions for all years beginning before January 1, 1976, during which the employee was an active participant of the plan, over 10 percent of the employee's aggregate compensation for all such years, multiplied by

of which is the number of years beginning before January 1, 1976, during which the employee was an active participant in the plan. Employee contributions made on or after October 2, 1973, shall be taken into account under subparagraph (B) of the preceding sentence only to the extent that the amount of such contributions does not exceed the maximum amount of contributions permissible under the plan as in effect on October 2, 1973.

(5) For purposes of this subdivision, any annuity contract described in Section 17512 (except in the case of a participant who has elected under subdivision (c) (4) (D) to have the provisions of subdivision (c) (4) (C) apply), any individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a), any individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b), and any retirement bond described in Section 17530.1, for the benefit of a participant shall be treated as a defined contribution plan maintained by each employer with respect to which the participant has the control required under subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P L. 93-406) (as modified by subdivision (h)). In the case of any annuity contract described in Section 17512, the amount of the contribution disqualified by reason of subdivision (g) shall reduce the exclusion allowance as provided in Section 17512.

(f) (1) For purposes of applying the limitations of subdivisions (b), (c), and (e)—

(A) All defined benefit plans (whether or not terminated) of an employer are to be treated as one defined benefit plan, and

(B) All defined contribution plans (whether or not terminated) of an employer are to be treated as one defined contribution plan.

(2) If the employer has more than one defined benefit plan—

(A) Subdivision (b) (1) (B) shall be applied separately with respect to each such plan, but

(B) In applying (b) (1) (B) to the aggregate of such defined benefit plans for purposes of this subdivision, the high three years of compensation taken into account shall be the period of consecutive calendar years (not more than three) during which the individual had the greatest aggregate compensation from the employer.

(g) The Franchise Tax Board, in applying the provisions of this section to benefits or contributions under more than one plan maintained by the same employer, and to any trusts, contracts, accounts, or bonds referred to in subdivision (a) (2), with respect to which the participant has the control required under Section 414(b) or (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L 93-406), as modified by subdivision (h), shall, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, disqualify one or more trusts, plans, contracts, accounts, or bonds, or any combination thereof until such benefits or contributions do not exceed the limitations contained in this section. In addition to taking into account such other factors as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of subdivisions (e) and

(f), the regulations prescribed under this paragraph shall provide that no plan which has been terminated shall be disqualified until all other trusts, plans, contracts, accounts, or bonds have been disqualified.

(h) For purposes of applying subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) to this section, the phrase "more than 50 percent" shall be substituted for the phrase "at least 80 percent" each place it appears in Section 1563(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(i) Where for the period before January 1, 1976, or (if later) the first day of the first plan year of the plan, the records necessary for the application of this section are not available, the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe alternative methods for determining the amounts to be taken into account for such period.

(j) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, including, but not limited to, regulations defining the term "year" for purposes of any provision of this section.

SEC. 63. Section 17532 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17532. (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (c)(1), Section 17531(a) shall apply with respect to the transfer of a share of stock to an individual pursuant to his exercise of a qualified stock option if—

(1) No disposition of such share is made by such individual within the three-year period beginning on the day after the day of the transfer of such share, and

(2) At all times during the period beginning with the date of the granting of the option and ending on the day three months before the date of such exercise, such individual was an employee of either the corporation granting such option, a parent or subsidiary corporation of such corporation, or a corporation or a parent or subsidiary corporation of such corporation issuing or assuming a stock option in a transaction to which Section 17535(a) applies.

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "qualified stock option" means an option granted to an individual after December 31, 1963 (other than a restricted stock option granted pursuant to a contract described in Section 17534(c)(3)(A)), and before May 21, 1976 (or, if it meets the requirements of subdivision (c)(7), granted to an individual after May 20, 1976), for any reason connected with his employment by a corporation, if granted by the employer corporation or its parent or subsidiary corporation, to purchase stock of any of such corporations, but only if—

(1) The option is granted pursuant to a plan which includes the aggregate number of shares which may be issued under options, and the employees (or class of employees) eligible to receive options, and which is approved by the stockholders of the granting corporation within 12 months before or after the date such plan is adopted;

(2) Such option is granted within 10 years from the date such plan is adopted, or the date such plan is approved by the stockholders, whichever is earlier;

(3) Such option by its terms is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date such option is granted;

(4) Except as provided in subsection (c)(1), the option price is not less than the fair market value of the stock at the time such option is granted;

(5) Such option by its terms is not exercisable while there is outstanding (within the meaning of subsection (c)(2)) any qualified stock option (or restricted stock option) which was granted before the granting of such option, to such individual to purchase stock in his employer corporation or in a corporation which (at the time of the granting of such option) is a parent or subsidiary corporation of the employer corporation, or in a predecessor corporation of any of such corporations;

(6) Such option by its terms is not transferable by such individual otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable, during his lifetime, only by him; and

(7) Such individual, immediately after such option is granted, does not own stock possessing more than 5 percent of the total combined voting power or value of all classes of stock of the employer corporation or of its parent or subsidiary corporation; except that if the equity capital of such corporation or corporations (determined at the time the option is granted) is less than two million dollars ($2,000,000), then, for purposes of applying the limitation of this paragraph, there shall be added to such 5 percent the percentage (not higher than 5 percent) which bears the same ratio to 5 percent as the difference between such equity capital and two million dollars ($2,000,000) bears to one million dollars ($1,000,000)

(c) (1) If a share of stock is transferred pursuant to the exercise by an individual of an option which fails to qualify as a qualified stock option under subsection (b) because there was a failure in an attempt, made in good faith, to meet the requirement of subsection (b) (4), the requirement of subsection (b) (4) shall be considered to have been met, but there shall be included as compensation (and not as gain upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset) in his gross income for the taxable year in which such option is exercised, an amount equal to the lesser of—

(A) One hundred fifty percent of the difference between the option price and the fair market value of the share at the time the option was granted, or

(B) The difference between the option price and the fair market value of the share at the time of such exercise. The basis of the share acquired shall be increased by an amount equal to the amount included in his gross income under this paragraph in the taxable year in which the exercise occurred

(2) For purposes of subsection (b) (5)—

(A) Any restricted stock option which is not terminated before January 1, 1965, and

(B) Any qualified stock option granted after December 31, 1963, shall be treated as outstanding until such option is exercised in full or expires by reason of the lapse of time. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a restricted stock option granted before January 1, 1964, shall not be treated as outstanding for any period before the first day on which (under the terms of such option) it may be exercised.

(3) For purposes of subsection (b) (7)—

(A) The term "equity capital" means—

(i) In the case of one corporation, the sum of its money and other property (in an amount equal to the adjusted basis of such property for determining gain), less the amount of its indebtedness (other than indebtedness to shareholders), and

(ii) In the case of a group of corporations consisting of a parent and its subsidiary corporations, the sum of the equity capital of each of such corporations adjusted, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, to eliminate the effect of intercorporate ownership and transactions among such corporations,

(B) The rules of Section 17535(d) shall apply in determining the stock ownership of the individual; and

(C) Stock which the individual may purchase under outstanding options shall be treated as stock owned by such individual. If an individual is granted an option which permits him to purchase stock in excess of the limitation of subsection (b) (7) (determined by applying the rules of this paragraph), such option shall be treated as meeting the requirement of subsection (b) (7) to the extent that such individual could if the option were fully exercised at the time of grant, purchase stock under such option without exceeding such limitation. The portion of such option which is treated as meeting the requirement of subsection (b) (7) shall be deemed to be that portion of the option which is first exercised.

(4) If—

(A) An individual who has acquired a share of stock by the exercise of a qualified stock option makes a disposition of such share within the three-year period described in subsection (a) (1), and

(B) Such disposition is a sale or exchange with respect to which a loss (if sustained) would be recognized to such individual, then the amount which is includable in the gross income of such individual, as compensation attributable to the exercise of such option shall not exceed the excess (if any) of the amount realized on such sale or exchange over the adjusted basis of such share

(5) If an insolvent individual holds a share of stock acquired pursuant to his exercise of a qualified stock option, and if such share is transferred to a trustee, receiver, or other similar fiduciary, in any proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or any other similar insolvency proceeding, neither such transfer, nor any other transfer of such share for the benefit of his creditors in such proceeding, shall constitute a "disposition of such share" for purposes of subsection (a) (1).

(6) The requirement of subsection (b) (5) shall be considered to have been met in the case of any option (referred to in this paragraph as "new option") granted to an individual if—

(A) The new option and all outstanding options referred to in subsection (b) (5) are to purchase stock of the same class in the same corporation, and

(B) The new option by its terms is not exercisable while there is outstanding (within the meaning of paragraph (2)) any qualified stock option (or restricted stock option) which was granted, before the granting of the new option, to such individual to purchase stock in such corporation at a price (determined as of the date of grant of the new option) higher than the option price of the new option.

(7) For purposes of subdivision (b), an option granted after May 20, 1976, meets the requirements of this paragraph—

(A) If such option is granted to an individual pursuant to a written plan adopted before May 21, 1976, or

(B) If such option is a new option substituted in a transaction to which Section 17535(a) applies, for an old option which was granted before May 21, 1976, or which met the requirements of subparagraph (A). An option described in the preceding sentence shall be treated as ceasing to meet the requirements of this paragraph if it is not exercised before May 21, 1981.

SEC. 64. Section 17534 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17534. (a) Section 17531(a) shall apply with respect to the transfer of a share of stock to an individual pursuant to his exercise after December 31, 1950, of a restricted stock option, if—

(1) No disposition of such share is made by him within two years from the date of the granting of the option nor within six months after the transfer of such share to him, and

(2) At the time he exercises such option—

(A) He is an employee of either the corporation granting such option, a parent or subsidiary corporation of such corporation, or a corporation or a parent or subsidiary corporation of such corporation issuing or assuming a stock option in a transaction to which Section 17535(a) applies, or

(B) He ceased to be an employee of such corporations within the three-month period preceding the time of exercise.

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "restricted stock option" means an option granted after February 26, 1945, and before January 1, 1964 (or, if it meets the requirements of subsection (c)(3), an option granted after December 31, 1963), to an individual, for any reason connected with his employment by a corporation, if granted by the employer corporation or its parent or subsidiary corporation, to purchase stock of any of such corporations, but only if—

(1) At the time such option is granted—

(A) The option price is at least 85 percent of the fair market value at such time of the stock subject to the option, or

(B) In the case of a variable price option, the option price (computed as if the option had been exercised when granted) is at least 85 percent of the fair market value of the stock at the time such option is granted

(2) Such option by its terms is not transferable by such individual otherwise than by will or the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable, during his lifetime, only by him;

(3) Such individual, at the time the option is granted, does not own stock possessing more than 10 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the employer corporation or of its parent or subsidiary corporation. This paragraph shall not apply if at the time such option is granted the option price is at least 110 percent of the fair market value of the stock subject to the option, and such option either by its terms is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date such option is granted or is exercised within one year after June 6, 1955. For purposes of this paragraph, the provisions of Section 17535(d) shall apply in determining the stock ownership of an individual; and

(4) Such option by its terms is not exercisable after the expiration of 10 years from the date such option is granted, if such option has been granted on or after December 31, 1954.

(c)(1) If no disposition of a share of stock acquired by an individual on his exercise after December 31, 1950, of a restricted stock option is made by him within two years from the date of the granting of the option, nor within six months after the transfer of such share to him, but, at the time the restricted stock option was granted, the option price (computed under subsection (b) (1)) was less than 95 percent of the fair market value at such time of such share, then, in the event of any disposition of such share by him, or in the event of his death (whenever occurring) while owning such share, there shall be included as compensation (and not as gain upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset) in his gross income, for the taxable year in which falls the date of such disposition or for the taxable year closing with his death, whichever applies—

(A) In the case of a share of stock acquired under an option qualifying under subsection (b) (1) (A), an amount equal to the amount (if any) by which the option price is exceeded by the lesser of—

(i) The fair market value of the share at the time of such disposition or death, or

(ii) The fair market value of the share at the time the option was granted; or

(B) In the case of stock acquired under an option qualifying under subsection (b) (1) (B), an amount equal to the lesser of—

(i) The excess of the fair market value of the share at the time of such disposition or death over the price paid under the option, or

(ii) The excess of the fair market value of the share at the time the option was granted over the option price (computed as if the option had been exercised at such time).

In the case of a disposition of such share by the individual, the basis of the share in his hands at the time of such disposition shall be increased by an amount equal to the amount so includable in his gross income.

(2) For purposes of subsection (b) (1), the term "variable price option" means an option under which the purchase price of the stock is fixed or determinable under a formula in which the only variable is the fair market value of the stock at any time during a period of six months which includes the time the option is exercised; except that in the case of options granted after December 31, 1960, such term does not include any such option in which such formula provides for determining such price by reference to the fair market value of the stock at any time before the option is exercised if such value may be greater than the average fair market value of the stock during the calendar months in which the option is exercised.

(3) For purposes of subsection (b), an option granted after December 31, 1963, meets the requirements of this paragraph if granted pursuant to—

(A) A binding written contract entered into before January 1, 1964, or

(B) A written plan adopted and approved before January 1, 1964, which (as of January 1, 1964, and as of the date of the granting of the option)—

(i) Met the requirements of paragraph (4) and (5) of Section 17533(b), or

(ii) Was being administered in a way which did not discriminate in favor of officers, persons whose principal duties consist of supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees. An option described in the preceding sentence shall be treated as ceasing to meet the requirements of this paragraph if it is not exercised before May 21, 1981.

SEC. 65. Section 17571 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17571. (a) The amount of any item of gross income shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year in which received by the taxpayer, unless, under the method of accounting used in computing taxable income, such amount is to be properly accounted for as of a different period.

(b) In the case of the death of a taxpayer whose taxable income is computed under an accrual method of accounting, any amount accrued only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be included in computing taxable income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death.

(c) (1) In the case of insurance proceeds received as a result of destruction or damage to crops, a taxpayer reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting may elect to include such proceeds in income for the taxable year following the taxable year of destruction or damage, if he establishes that, under his practice, income from such crops would have been reported in a following taxable year. For purposes of the preceding sentence, payments received under the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, as a result of (A) destruction or damage to crops caused by drought, flood, or any other natural disaster, or (B) the inability to plant crops because of such a natural disaster shall be treated as insurance proceeds received as a result of destruction or damage to crops.

An election under this section for any income year shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board prescribes.

(2) The amendment made to paragraph (1) of this subdivision by the 1977–78 Regular Session of the Legislature shall apply to payments received after taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976.

(d) (1) In the case of income derived from the sale or exchange of livestock (other than livestock described in Section 18182(b)) in excess of the number the taxpayer would sell if he followed his usual business practices a taxpayer reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting may elect to include such income for the taxable year following the taxable year in which such sale or exhange occurs if he establishes that, under his usual business practices, the sale or exchange would not have occurred in the taxable year in which it occurred if it were not for drought conditions, and that these drought conditions had resulted in the area being designated as eligible for assistance by the federal government.

(2) This subdivision shall apply only to a taxpayer whose principal trade or business is farming (within the meaning of Section 6420(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954).

SEC. 66. Section 17595 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

(A) With respect to which the interest represents a charge for the use or forbearance of money, and

(B) Which is after the close of the taxable year in which paid, shall be charged to capital account and shall be treated as paid in the period to which so allocable

(2) This section shall not apply to points paid in respect of any indebtedness incurred in connection with the purchase or improvement of, and secured by, the principal residence of the taxpayer to the extent that, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, such payment of points is an established business practice in the area in which such indebtedness is incurred, and the amount of such payment does not exceed the amount generally charged in such area.

(b) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), subdivision (a) shall apply to amounts paid in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976

(2) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to amounts paid before January 1, 1978, pursuant to a binding contract or written loan commitment which existed on September 16, 1975 (and at all times thereafter), and which required prepayment of such amounts by the taxpayer.

17599. (a) In the case of a taxpayer engaged in an activity to which this section applies, any loss from such activity for the taxable year shall be allowed only to the extent of the aggregate amount with respect to which the taxpayer is at risk (within the meaning of subdivision (b)) for such activity at the close of the taxable year. (2) The amount of the tax imposed by paragraph (1) on any includable gain realized on the sale or exchange of any property shall be equal to the sum of—

(A) The excess of—

(i) The tax which would have been imposed under this part for the taxable year of the transferor in which the sale or exchange of such property occurs had the amount of the includable gain realized on such sale or exchange, reduced by any deductions properly allocable to such gain, been included in the gross income of the transferor for such taxable year, over

(ii) The tax actually imposed under this part for such taxable year on the transferor, plus

(B) If such sale or exchange occurs in a taxable year of the transferor which begins after the beginning of the taxable year of the trust in which such sale or exchange occurs, an amount equal to the amount determined under subparagraph (A) multiplied by the annual rate established under Section 18686.

(3) The tax imposed by paragraph (1) shall be imposed for the taxable year of the trust which begins with or within the taxable year of the transferor in which the sale or exchange occurs.

(4) The tax imposed by this section for any taxable year of the trust shall be in addition to any other tax imposed by this part for such taxable year.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "includable gain" means the lesser of—

(1) The gain realized by the trust on the sale or exchange of any property, or

(2) The excess of the fair market value of such property at the time of the initial transfer in trust by the transferor over the adjusted basis of such property immediately after such transfer.

(c) For purposes of subdivision (a)—

(1) The character of the includable gain shall be determined as if the property had actually been sold or exchanged by the transferor, and any activities of the trust with respect to the sale or exchange of the property shall be deemed to be activities of the transferor, and

(1) Subdivision (a) shall be applied if each installment were a separate sale or exchange of property to which such subdivision applies, and

(g) This section shall apply to transfer in trusts made after taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976

SEC. 74 Section 17771 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17771. (a) For purposes of this article, the term "undistributed net income" for any taxable year means the amount by which the distributable net income of the trust for such taxable year exceeds the sum of—

(1) The amounts for such taxable year specified in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 17761, and

(2) The amount of taxes imposed on the trust attributable to such distributable net income.

(b) For purposes of this article, the term "accumulation distribution" for any taxable year of the trust means the amount by which the amounts specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 17761 for such taxable year, exceed distributable net income for such year reduced (but not below zero) by the amounts specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 17761.

For purposes of Section 17775 (other than subdivision (c) thereof, relating to multiple trusts), the amounts specified in paragraph (2) of Section 17761 shall not include amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed to a beneficiary from a trust as income accumulated before the birth of such beneficiary or before such beneficiary attains the age of 18 If the amounts properly paid, credited, or required to be distributed by the trust for the taxable year do not exceed the income of the trust for such year, there shall be no accumulation distribution for such year.

(c) For purposes of this article, the term "taxes imposed on the trust" means the amount of the taxes which are imposed for any taxable year of the trust under this part (without regard to this article) and which, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, are properly allocable to the undistributed portions of the distributable net income and gains in excess of losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. The amount determined in the preceding sentence shall be reduced by any amount of such taxes deemed distributed under Sections 17773, 17774, or subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 17777, to any beneficiary.

(d) For purposes of this article, the term "preceding taxable year" does not include any taxable year of the trust—

(1) Which precedes by more than five years the taxable year of the trust in which an accumulation distribution is made, if it is made in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1974, or

(2) Which begins before January 1, 1969, in the case of an accumulation distribution made during a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1973.

In the case of a preceding taxable year with respect to which a trust qualifies (without regard to this article) under the provisions of Article 2, for purposes of the application of this article to such trust for such taxable year, such trust shall, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, be treated as a trust to which Article 3 applies.

SEC. 75. Section 17774.6 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17774.6. No refund or credit shall be allowed to a trust or a beneficiary of such trust for any preceding taxable year by reason of a distribution deemed to have been made by such trust in such year under Sections 17772 to 17774.5, inclusive.

SEC. 76. Section 17775 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed:

SEC. 77. Section 17775 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read·

17775. (a) The total of the amounts which are treated under Sections 17772 to 17774.5, inclusive, as having been distributed by the trust in a preceding taxable year shall be included in the income of a beneficiary of the trust when paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the extent that such total would have been included in the income of such beneficiary under Section 17762(b) (and, with respect to any tax-exempt interest under Section 17763) if such total had been paid to such beneficiary on the last day of such preceding taxable year. The tax imposed by this part on a beneficiary for a taxable year in which any such amount is included in his income shall be determined only as provided in this section and shall consist of the sum of—

(1) A partial tax computed on the taxable income reduced by an amount equal to the total of such amounts, at the rate and in the manner as if this section had not been enacted, and

(2) A partial tax determined as provided in subdivision (b) of this section.

(b) (1) The partial tax imposed by subdivision (a)(2) shall be determined—

(A) By determining the number of preceding taxable years of the trust on the last day of which an amount is deemed under Section 17772 to have been distributed,

(B) By taking from the five taxable years immediately preceding the year of the accumulation distribution the one taxable year for which the beneficiary's taxable income was the highest and the one taxable year for which his taxable income was the lowest,

(C) By adding to the beneficiary's taxable income for each of the three taxable years remaining after the application of subparagraph (B) an amount determined by dividing the amount deemed distributed under Sections 17772 to 17774.5, inclusive, and required to be included in income under subdivision (a) by the number of preceding taxable years determined under subparagraph (A), and

(D) By determining the average increase in tax for the three taxable years referred to in subparagraph (C) resulting from the application of such subparagraph.

The partial tax imposed by subdivision (a) (2) shall be the excess (if any) of the average increase in tax determined under subparagraph (D), multiplied by the number of preceding taxable years determined under subparagraph (A), over the amount of taxes deemed distributed to the beneficiary under Sections 17773 and 17774.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the taxable income of the beneficiary for any taxable year shall be deemed not to be less than zero.

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1), if the amount of the undistributed net income deemed distributed in any preceding taxable year of the trust is less than 25 percent of the amount of the accumulation distribution divided by the number of preceding taxable years to which the accumulation distribution is allocated under Section 17772, the number of preceding taxable years of the trust with respect to which an amount is deemed distributed to a beneficiary under Section 17772 shall be determined without regard to such year.

(4) In computing the partial tax under paragraph (1) for any beneficiary, the income of such beneficiary for each of his prior taxable years shall include amounts previously deemed distributed to such beneficiary in such year under Sections 17772 to 17774.5, inclusive, as a result of prior accumulation distributions (whether from the same or another trust).

(5) In the case of accumulation distributions made from more than one trust which are includable in the income of a beneficiary in the same taxable year, the distributions shall be deemed to have been made consecutively in whichever order the beneficiary shall determine.

(c) (1) If, in the same prior taxable year of the beneficiary in which any part of the accumulation distribution from a trust (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as "third trust") is deemed under Section 17772 to have been distributed to such beneficiary, some part of prior distributions by each of two or more other trusts is deemed under Section 17772 to have been distributed to such beneficiary, then Sections 17773 and 17774 shall not apply with respect to such part of the accumulation distribution from such third trust.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), an accumulation distribution from a trust to a beneficiary shall be taken into account only if such distribution, when added to any prior accumulation distributions from such trust which are deemed under Section 17772 to have been distributed to such beneficiary for the same prior taxable year of the beneficiary, equals or exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000)

(h) or (c)) shall be increased by an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount of such excess as—

(A) The net appreciation in value of such property, bears to

(B) The net appreciation in value of all such property.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the basis of any property which is a personal or household effect shall be treated as not greater than the fair market value of such property

(3) This subdivision shall not apply to any carryover basis property acquired from any decedent who was (at the time of his death) a nonresident not a citizen of the United States.

(e) If—

(1) Any such person acquires appreciated carryover basis property from a decedent, and

(3) For purposes of subdivisions (c) and (e), property shall be treated as not subject to a tax with respect to the taxes imposed by Part 8 of this code, to the extent that a deduction is allowable with respect to such property under Section 13841, 13842 or 13805 of Part 8 (commencing with Section 13301) of this division.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "appreciated carryover basis property" means any carryover basis property if the fair market value of such property exceeds the adjusted basis of such property immediately before the death of the decedent.

(g) (1) For purposes of this section, when not otherwise distinctly expressed, the term "fair market value" means value as determined under Section 13311.

(2) For purposes of this section, property passing from the decedent shall be treated as property acquired from the decedent.

(3) If the facts necessary to determine the basis (unadjusted) of carryover basis property immediately before the death of the decedent are unknown to the person acquiring such property from the decedent, such basis shall be treated as being the fair market value of such property as of the date (or approximate date) at which such property was acquired by the decedent or by the last preceding owner in whose hands it did not have a basis determined in whole or in part by reference to its basis in the hands of a prior holder.

(4) For purposes of subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), if—

(A) There is an unpaid mortgage on, or indebtedness in respect of, property,

(B) Such mortgage or indebtedness does not constitute a liability of the estate, and

(C) Such property is included in the gross estate undiminished by such mortgage or indebtedness, then the fair market value of such property to be treated as included in the gross estate shall be the fair market value of such property, diminished by such mortgage or indebtedness

(h) (1) If the adjusted basis immediately before the death of the decedent of any property which is carryover basis property reflects the adjusted basis of any marketable bond or security on December 31, 1976, and if the fair market value of such bond or security on December 31, 1976, exceeded its adjusted basis on such date, then for purposes of determining gain, the adjusted basis of such property shall be increased by the amount of such excess.

(2) (A) If—

(i) The adjusted basis immediately before the death of the decedent of any property which is carryover basis property reflects the adjusted basis on December 31, 1976, of any property other than a marketable bond or security, and

SEC 109. Section 18213 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18213 For the purposes of Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive—

(a) The term "additional depreciation" means, in the case of any property, the depreciation adjustments in respect of such property; except that, in the case of property held more than one year, it means such adjustments only to the extent that they exceed the amount of the depreciation adjustments which would have resulted if such adjustments had been determined for each taxable year under the straight line method of adjustment. For purposes of the preceding sentence, if a useful life (or salvage value) was used in determining the amount allowed as a deduction for any taxable year, such life (or value) shall be used in determining the depreciation adjustments which would have resulted for such year under the straight line method.

(b) In the case of a lessee, in determining the depreciation adjustments which would have resulted in respect of any building erected (or other improvement made) on the leased property, or in respect of any cost of acquiring the lease, the lease period shall be treated as including all renewal periods. For purposes of the preceding sentence—

(1) The term "renewal period" means any period for which the lease may be renewed, extended, or continued pursuant to an option exercisable by the lessee, but

(2) The inclusion of renewal periods shall not extend the period taken into account by more than two-thirds of the period on the basis of which the depreciation adjustments were allowed.

(c) The term "depreciation adjustments" means, in respect of any property, all adjustments attributable to periods after December 31, 1963, reflected in the adjusted basis of such property on account of deductions (whether in respect of the same or other property) allowed or allowable to the taxpayer or to any other person for exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, or amortization (other than amortization under Section 17226, 17227 or 17228). For purposes of the preceding sentence, if the taxpayer can establish by adequate records or other sufficient evidence that the amount allowed as a deduction for any period was less than the amount allowable, the amount taken into account for such period shall be the amount allowed

(d) The term "additional depreciation" also means, in the case of Section 18212 property with respect to which a depreciation deduction for rehabilitation expenditures was allowed under Section 17211 7, the depreciation adjustments allowed under such section to the extent attributable to such property, except that, in the case of such property held for more than one year after the rehabilitation expenditures so allowed were incurred, it means such adjustments only to the extent that they exceed the amount of the depreciation adjustments which would have resulted if such adjustments had been determined under the straight line method of adjustment without regard to the useful life permitted under Section 17211.7.

SEC. 110. Section 18215 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read·

18215. (a) Section 18212 shall not apply to a disposition by gift.

(b) Except as provided in Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive, (relating to income in respect to a decedent), Section 18212 shall not apply to a transfer at death

(c) If the basis of property in the hands of a transferee is determined by reference to its basis in the hands of the transferor by reason of the application of Sections 17431, 17481, 17881, 17891 or Sections 24502, 24521, 24551, or 24571 of the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, then the amount of gain taken into account by the transferor under Section 18212(a) shall not exceed the amount of gain recognized to the transferor on the transfer of such property (determined without regard to Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive). This paragraph shall not apply to a disposition to an organization which is exempt from the tax imposed by this part or the Bank and Corporation Tax Law.

(d) (1) If property is disposed of and gain (determined without regard to Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive) is not recognized in whole or in part under Sections 18081 or 18082 to 18090.2, inclusive, then the amount of gain taken into account by the transferor under Section 18212(a) shall not exceed the greater of the following:

(i) The amount of gain recognized on the disposition (determined without regard to Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive), increased as provided in subparagraph (2), or

(ii) The amount determined under subparagraph (3).

(2) With respect to any transaction, the increase provided by this subparagraph is the amount equal to the fair market value of any stock purchased in a corporation which (but for this paragraph) would result in nonrecognition of gain under Section 18083.

(3) With respect to any transaction, the amount determined under this subparagraph shall be the excess of—

(i) The amount of gain which would (but for this paragraph) be taken into account under Section 18212(a), over

(ii) The fair market value (or cost in the case of a transaction described in Sections 18082(c) to 18086, inclusive), of the Section

18212 property acquired in the transaction

(4) In the case of property purchased by the taxpayer in a transaction described in Sections 18082(c) to 18086, inclusive, in applying the last sentence of Section 18088, such sentence shall be applied—

(i) First solely to Section 18212 properties and to the amount of gain not taken into account under Section 18212(a) by reason of this paragraph, and

(ii) Then to all purchased properties to which such sentence applies and to the remaining gain not recognized on the transaction as if the cost of the Section 18212 properties were the basis of such properties computed under clause (i).

In the case of property acquired in any other transaction to which this paragraph applies, rules consistent with the preceding sentence shall be applied under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(5) In the case of any transaction described in Section 18081 or 18082 to 18090.2, inclusive, the additional depreciation in respect of the Section 18212 property acquired which is attributable to Section 18212 property disposed of shall be an amount equal to the amount of the gain which was not taken into account under Section 18212(a) by reason of the application of this paragraph.

(e) Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, rules consistent with paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section and with Sections 18216 and 18217 shall apply in the case of transactions described in Section 18121 (relating to gain from sale or exchange to effectuate policies of FCC) or Sections 18131 to 18134, inclusive (relating to exchanges in obedience to SEC orders).

(f) (1) For purposes of Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive, the basis of Section 18212 property distributed by a partnership to a partner shall be deemed to be determined by reference to the adjusted basis of such property to the partnership.

(2) In respect of any property described in subparagraph (1), the additional depreciation attributable to periods before the distribution by the partnership shall be—

(i) The amount of the gain to which Section 18212 would have applied if such property had been sold by the partnership immediately before the distribution at its fair market value at such time and the applicable percentage for the property had been 100 percent, reduced by

(ii) If Section 17912 applied to any part of such gain, the amount of such gain to which Section 17912 would have applied if the applicable percentage for the property had been 100 percent.

(g) Section 18212 shall not apply to a disposition of—

(1) Property to the extent used by the taxpayer as his principal residence (within the meaning of Sections 18091 to 18100, inclusive, relating to sale or exchange of residence), and

(2) Property in respect of which the taxpayer meets the age and ownership requirements of Section 17154 (relating to gains from sale or exchange of residence of individual who has attained the age of 65) but only to the extent that he meets the use requirements of such section in respect of such property.

(h) If any Section 18212 property is disposed of by the taxpayer pursuant to a bid for such property at foreclosure or by operation of an agreement or of process of law after there was a default on indebtedness which such property secured, the applicable percentage referred to in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) or subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) or subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 18212, as the case may be, shall be determined as if the taxpayer ceased to hold such property on the date of the beginning of the proceedings pursuant to which the disposition occurred, or, in the event there are no proceedings, such percentage shall be determined as if the taxpayer ceased to hold such property on the date, determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, on which such operation of an agreement or process of law, pursuant to which the disposition occurred, began

This subdivision shall apply with respect to proceedings (and to operations of law) which begin after December 31, 1976.

SEC. 111. Section 18217 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read 18217. (a) If, in the case of a disposition of Section 18212 property, the property is treated as consisting of more than one element by reason of subdivision (c), then the amount taken into account under Section 18212 in respect of such Section 18212 property as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in Sections 18181 and 18182 shall be the sum of the amounts determined under subdivision (b).

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the amount taken into account for any element shall be the sum of a series of amounts determined for the periods set forth in Section 18212, with the amount for any such period being determined by multiplying—

(1) The amount which bears the same ratio to the lower of the amounts specified in clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 18212, in clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 18212, or in clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 18212, as the case may be, for the Section 18212 property as the additional depreciation for such element attributable to such period bears to the sum of the additional depreciation for all elements attributable to such period, by

(2) The applicable percentage for such element for such period.

For purposes of this paragraph, determinations with respect to any element shall be made as if it were a separate property.

(c) In applying this section in the case of any Section 18212 property, there shall be treated as a separate element—

(1) Each separate improvement,

(2) If, before completion of Section 18212 property, units thereof (as distinguished from improvements) were placed in service, each such unit of Section 18212 property, and

(3) The remaining property which is not taken into account under paragraphs (1) and (2).

(d) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "separate improvement" means each improvement added during the 36-month period ending on the last day of any taxable year to the capital account for the property, but only if the sum of the amounts added to such account during such period exceeds the greatest of—

(A) Twenty-five percent of the adjusted basis of the property,

(B) Ten percent of the adjusted basis of the property, determined without regard to the adjustments provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 18052, or

(C) Five thousand dollars ($5,000).

For purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B), the adjusted basis of the property shall be determined as of the beginning of the first day of such 36-month period, or of the holding period of the property (within the meaning of Section 18216), whichever is the later.

(2) Improvements in any taxable year shall be taken into account for purposes of paragraph (1) only if the sum of the amounts added to the capital account for the property for such taxable year exceeds the greater of—

(A) Two thousand dollars ($2,000), or

(B) One percent of the adjusted basis referred to in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1), determined, however, as of the beginning of such taxable year.

For purposes of Sections 18212 to 18218, inclusive, if the amount added to the capital account for any separate improvement does not exceed the greater of subparagraph (A) or (B), such improvement shall be treated as placed in service on the first day, of a calendar month, which is closest to the middle of the taxable year.

(3) The term "improvement" means, in the case of any Section 18212 property, any addition to capital account for such property after the initial acquisition or after completion of the property.

(B) The excess of—

(i) The amount realized (in the case of a sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion), or the fair market value of the interest (in the case of any other disposition), over

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)—

(A) In the case of the disposition of a portion of an oil or gas property (other than an undivided interest), the entire amount of the aggregate expenditures described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) with respect to such property shall be treated as allocable to such portion to the extent of the amount of the gain to which paragraph (1) applies

(B) In the case of the disposition of an undivided interest in an oil or gas property (or a portion thereof), a proportionate part of the expenditures described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) with respect to such property shall be treated as allocable to such undivided interest to the extent of the amount of the gain to which paragraph (1) applies

This paragraph shall not apply to any expenditures to the extent the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that such expenditures do not relate to the portion (or interest therein) disposed of

(3) The term "oil and gas property" means any property (within the meaning of Section 614 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) with respect to which any expenditures described in paragraph (1) are property chargeable

(4) In applying subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), the amount deducted for intangible drilling and development costs and allocable to the interest disposed of shall be reduced by the amount (if any) by which the deduction for depletion under Section 17681 with respect to such interest would have been increased if such costs incurred (after December 31, 1976) had been charged to capital account rather than deducted.

(b) Under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board rules similar to the rules of subdivision (g) of Section 17689.5 and to the rules of subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 18211 shall be applied for purposes of this section

(b) The election of the taxpayer to take the amortization deduction and to begin the 60-month period with the month following the month in which the facility is completed or acquired, or with the income year succeeding the income year in which such facility is completed or acquired, shall be made by filing with the Franchise Tax Board in such manner, in such form, and within such time, as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe, a statement of such election.

(c) A taxpayer which has elected under subdivision (b) to take the amortization deduction provided in subdivision (a) may at any time after making such election, discontinue the amortization deduction with respect to the remainder of the amortization period, such discontinuance to begin as of the beginning of any month specified by the taxpayer in a notice in writing filed with the Franchise Tax Board before the beginning of such month. The depreciation deduction provided under Section 24349 shall be allowed, beginning with the first month as to which the amortization deduction does not apply, and the taxpayer shall not be entitled to any further amortization deduction under this section with respect to such pollution control facility.

(d) For purposes of this section—

(1) The term "certified pollution control facility" means a new identifiable treatment facility which is used, in connection with a plant or other property in operation before January 1, 1977, to abate or control water or atmospheric pollution or contamination by removing, altering, disposing, storing or preventing the creation or emission of pollutants, contaminants, wastes, or heat and which—

(A) The State Department of Health has certified as having been constructed, reconstructed, erected, or acquired in conformity with the state program or requirements for abatement or control of water or atmospheric pollution or contamination and—

(B) Does not significantly—

(i) Increase the output or capacity, extend the useful life, or reduce the total operating costs of such plant or other property (or any unit thereof), or

(ii) Alter the nature of the manufacturing or production process or facility

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "new identifiable treatment facility" includes only tangible property (not including a building and its structural components, other than a building which is exclusively a treatment facility) which is of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17208, which is identifiable as a treatment facility, and which—

(A) Is property—

(i) The construction, reconstruction, or erection of which is completed by the taxpayer after December 31, 1970, or

(ii) Acquired after December 31, 1970, if the original use of the property commences with the taxpayer and commences after such date.

(C) In the case of any treatment facility used in connection with any plant or other property not in operation before January 1971, the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting December 31, 1976, for December 31, 1970.

(e) The State Department of Health shall not certify any property to the extent it appears that by reason of profits derived through the recovery of wastes or otherwise in the operation of such property, its costs will be recovered over its actual useful life.

(f) (1) For purposes of this section, the term "amortizable basis" means that portion of the adjusted basis (for determining gain) of a certified pollution control facility which may be amortized under this section.

(2) (A) If a certified pollution control facility has a useful life (determined as of the first day of the first month for which a deduction is allowable under this section) in excess of 15 years, the amortizable basis of such facility shall be equal to an amount which bears the same ratio to the portion of the adjusted basis of such facility, which would be eligible for amortization but for the application of this subparagraph, as 15 bears to the number of years of useful life of such facility.

(B) The amortizable basis of a certified pollution control facility with respect to which an election under this section is in effect shall not be increased, for purposes of this section, for additions or improvements after the amortization period has begun.

(g) The depreciation deduction provided by Section 17208 shall, despite the provisions of subdivision (a), be allowed with respect to the portion of the adjusted basis which is not the amortizable basis.

(h) In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction under this section shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowable to the life tenant.

(i) The amendment made to subdivision (d) by the 1977–78 Legislature shall apply to income years beginning after December 31, 1976 Such amendments shall not apply in the case of any property with respect to which the amortization period under this section began before January 1, 1977.

SEC. 145.1. Section 24561 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 145.2. Section 24561 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

24561. (a) (1) If, in connection with any exchange described in Section 24502, 24521, 24531, 24532, 24533, 24535, 24536, 24537, 24538, 24539, or 24551, there is a transfer of property (other than stock or securities of a foreign corporation which is a party to the exchange or a party to the reorganization) by a United States person to a foreign corporation, for purposes of determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized on such transfer, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be a corporation unless, pursuant to a request filed not later than the close of the 183rd day after the beginning of such transfer (and filed in such form and manner as may be prescribed by regulations by the Franchise Tax Board), it is established to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of taxes under this part.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any exchange (otherwise within paragraph (1)), or to any type of property, which the Franchise Tax Board by regulations designates as not requiring the filing of a request.

(b) (1) In the case of any exchange described in Section 24502, 24521, 24531, 24532, 24533, 24535, 24536, 24537, 24538, 24539, or 24551 in connection with which there is no transfer of property described in subdivision (a) (1), a foreign corporation shall be considered to be a corporation except to the extent provided in regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board which are necessary or appropriate to prevent the avoidance of taxes under this part.

(2) The regulations prescribed pursuant to paragraph (1) shall include (but shall not be limited to) regulations dealing with the sale or exchange of stock or securities in a foreign corporation by a United States person, including regulations providing—

(A) The circumstances under which—

(i) Gain shall be recognized currently, or amounts included in gross income currently as a dividend, of both, or

(ii) Gain or other amounts may be deferred for inclusion in the gross income of a shareholder (or his successor in interest) at a later date, and

(B) The extent to which adjustments shall be made to earnings and profits, basis of stock or securities, and basis of assets.

(c) (1) For purposes of this section, any distribution described in Sections 24532 and 24533 (or so much of Sections 24535 to 24539, inclusive, as relates to Sections 24532 and 24533) shall be treated as an exchange whether or not it is an exchange.

(2) For purposes of this part, any transfer of property to a foreign corporation as a contribution to the capital of such corporation by one or more persons who immediately after the transfer, own (within the meaning of Section 24497) stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of such corporation entitled to vote shall be treated as an exchange of such property for stock of the foreign corporation equal in value to the fair market value of the property transferred.

(d) In the case of any exchange beginning before January 1, 1978—

(1) Subdivision (a) shall be applied without regard to whether or not there is a transfer of property described in subdivision (a) (1), and

(2) Subdivision (b) shall not apply.

SEC. 146. Section 24562 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

24562 (a) For purposes of Chapters 8 (commencing with Section 24451) and 9 (commencing with Section 24501) and this chapter, the term "reorganization" means—

(1) A statutory merger or consolidation,

(2) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of stock of another corporation if, immediately after the acquisition, the acquiring corporation has control of such other corporation (whether or not such acquiring corporation had control immediately before the acquisition);

(3) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock (or in exchange solely for all or a part of the voting stock of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation), of substantially all of the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded;

(4) A transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor, or one or more of its shareholders (including persons who were shareholders immediately before the transfer), or any combination thereof, is in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred; but only if, in pursuance of the plan, stock or securities of the corporation to which the assets are transferred are distributed in a transaction which qualifies under Section 24531, 24533, or 24535;

(5) A recapitalization; or

(6) A mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

(b) (1) If a transaction is described in both paragraph (3) and paragraph (4) of subdivision (a), then, for purposes of this chapter, such transaction shall be treated as described only in paragraph (4) of subdivision (a).

(2) If—

(A) One corporation acquires substantially all of the properties of another corporation;

(B) The acquisition would qualify under paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) but for the fact that the acquiring corporation exchanges money or other property in addition to voting stock; and

(C) The acquiring corporation acquires, solely for voting stock described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), property of the other corporation having a fair market value which is at least 80 percent of the fair market value of all of the property of the other corporation;

then such acquisition shall (subject to paragraph (1) of this subdivision) be treated as qualifying under paragraph (3) of subdivision (a). Solely for the purpose of determining whether subparagraph (C) of the preceding sentence applies, the amount of any liability assumed by the acquiring corporation, and the amount of any liability to which any property acquired by the acquiring corporation is subject, shall be treated as money paid for the property.

(3) A transaction otherwise qualifying under paragraph (1), paragraph (2) or paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that part or all of the assets or stock which were acquired in the transaction are transferred to a corporation controlled by the corporation acquiring such assets or stock

(4) The acquisition by one corporation, in exchange for stock of a corporation (referred to in this paragraph as "controlling corporation") which is in control of the acquiring corporation, of substantially all of the properties of another corporation which in the transaction is merged into the acquiring corporation shall not disqualify a transaction under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), if—

(A) Such transaction would have qualified under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) if the merger had been into the controlling corporation, and

(B) No stock of the acquiring corporation is used in the transaction.

(5) A transaction otherwise qualifying under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall not be disqualified by reason of the fact that stock of a corporation (referred to in this paragraph as the "controlling corporation") which before the merger was in control of the merged corporation is used in the transaction, if—

(A) After the transaction, the corporation surviving the merger holds substantially all of its properties and of the properties of the merged corporation (other than stock of the controlling corporation distributed in the transaction); and

(B) In the transaction, former shareholders of the surviving corporation exchanged, for an amount of voting stock of the controlling corporation, an amount of stock in the surviving corporation which constitutes control of such corporation.

(6) (A) If immediately before a transaction described in subdivision (a) (other than paragraph (5) thereof), two or more parties to the transaction were investment companies, then the transaction shall not be considered to be a reorganization with respect to any such investment company (and its shareholders and security holders) unless it was a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or a corporation which meets the requirements of subparagraph (B).

(B) A corporation meets the requirements of this subparagraph if not more than 25 percent of the value of its total assets is invested in the stock and securities of any one issuer, and not more than 50 percent of the value of its total assets is invested in the stock and securities of five or fewer issuers. For purposes of this paragraph, all members of a controlled group of corporations (within the meaning of Section 1563(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954) shall be treated as one issuer

of the value of whose total assets are assets held for investment. In making the 50-percent and 80-percent determinations under the preceding sentence, stock and securities in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets, and a corporation shall be considered a subsidiary if the parent owns 50 percent or more of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock outstanding.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, in determining total assets there shall be excluded cash and cash items (including receivables), government securities, and, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, assets acquired (through incurring indebtedness or otherwise) for purposes of meeting the requirements of subparagraph (B) or ceasing to be an investment company.

(E) This paragraph shall not apply if the stock of each investment company is owned substantially by the same persons in the same proportions.

(F) If an investment company which is not diversified within the meaning of subparagraph (B) acquires assets of another corporation, subparagraph (A) shall be applied to such investment company and its shareholders and security holders as though its assets had been acquired by such other corporation If such investment company acquires stock of another corporation in a reorganization described in Section 24562(a)(2) (hereafter referred to as the "actual acquisition") subparagraph (A) shall be applied to the shareholders and security holders of such investment company as though they had exchanged with such other corporation all of their stock in such investment company for a percentage of the value of the total outstanding stock of the other corporation equal to the percentage of the value of the total outstanding stock of such investment company which such shareholders own immediately after the actual acquisition. For purposes of Section 24901, the deemed acquisition or exchange referred to in the two preceding sentences shall be treated as a sale or exchange of property by the corporation and by the shareholders and security holders to which subparagraph (A) is applied.

(c) The amendments made to this section by the 1971 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature shall apply to statutory mergers occurring after December 31, 1970.

(2) A partnership engaged in the trade or business of farming, if a corporation is a partner in such partnership, shall be computed on an accrual method of accounting and with the capitalization of 43654. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), every 1966 through 1970 light-duty motor vehicle, subject to registration in this state, shall be equipped with a certified device to control its exhaust emission of oxides of nitrogen upon initial registration and upon transfer of ownership and registration.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a 1966 through 1970 light-duty motor vehicle (1) which is registered to, or subject to registration by, an elderly low-income person, (2) which was purchased from a person other than a dealer or a person holding a retail seller's permit, and (3) which is used principally by or for the benefit of the elderly low-income person; provided, however, that only one such vehicle shall be registered to, or subject to registration by, the elderly low-income person at any one time.

(c) For purposes of subdivision (b), the Department of Motor Vehicles may require satisfactory proof (1) of the age of the transferee of the motor vehicle, (2) of the combined adjusted gross income of the household in which the transferee resides, and (3) that the transferor of the motor vehicle is a person other than a dealer or a person holding a retail seller's permit.

SEC. 2. Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 1206 of the Statutes of 1976, is amended to read:

4000.1. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or in subdivision (b) of Section 43654 of the Health and Safety Code, the department shall require, pursuant to this section or regulations of the State Air Resources Board adopted pursuant to Section 43655 of the Health and Safety Code, upon initial registration, and upon transfer of ownership and registration, of any motor vehicle subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a motor vehicle pollution control device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, or a certificate of noncompliance, as appropriate.

For the purposes of determining the validity of a certificate of compliance or noncompliance submitted in compliance with the requirements of this section, the definitions of new and used motor vehicle contained in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010), Part 1, Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall control.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a transfer of ownership and registration when:

(1) The transferor is either the parent, grandparent, child, or spouse of the transferee.

(2) A vehicle registered to a sole proprietorship is transferred to such proprietor as owner.

(3) The transfer is between companies whose principal business is leasing vehicles, if there is no change in the lessee or operator of the vehicle.

(c) The State Air Resources Board, under Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, may exempt designated classifications of motor vehicles from the provisions of subdivision (a) as it deems necessary, and shall notify the department of such action.

SEC. 3. Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Assembly Bill No. 1163 of the 1977–78 Regular Session, is amended to read:

4000.1. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) or (c) of this section or in subdivision (b) of Section 43654 of the Health and Safety Code, the department shall require, pursuant to this section or regulations of the State Air Resources Board adopted pursuant to Section 43655 of the Health and Safety Code, upon initial registration, and upon transfer of ownership and registration, of any motor vehicle subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a motor vehicle pollution control device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, or a certificate of noncompliance, as appropriate.

With respect to new vehicles certified pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43100) of Part 5 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, and having a gross vehicle weight of 6,000 pounds or less, the department shall accept a statement completed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 24007 in lieu of the certificate of compliance.

For the purposes of determining the validity of a certificate of compliance or noncompliance submitted in compliance with the requirements of this section, the definitions of new and used motor vehicle contained in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall control.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a transfer of ownership and registration when:

(1) The transferor is either the parent, grandparent, child, or spouse of the transferee.

(2) A vehicle registered to a sole proprietorship is transferred to such proprietor as owner.

(3) The transfer is between companies whose principal business is leasing vehicles, if there is no change in the lessee or operator of the vehicle.

(c) The State Air Resources Board, under Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, may exempt designated classifications of motor vehicles from the provisions of subdivision (a) as it deems necessary, and shall notify the department of such action.

SEC. 4. Section 4000.2 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 1206 of the Statutes of 1976, is amended to read:

4000.2. Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) of Section 43654 of the Health and Safety Code, the department shall require upon registration of a motor vehicle subject to Part 5 (commencing with Section 43000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code, previously registered outside this state, a valid certificate of compliance from a licensed motor vehicle pollution control device installation and inspection station indicating that such vehicle is properly equipped with a motor vehicle pollution control device or devices which are in proper operating condition and which are in compliance with the provisions of that part, or a certificate of noncompliance, as appropriate.

For the purposes of determining the validity of a certificate of compliance or noncompliance submitted in compliance with the requirements of this section, the definitions of new and used motor vehicle contained in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 39010) of Part 1 of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code shall control.

SEC. 5 It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Assembly Bill No. 1163 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, both bills amend Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill No. 1163, that Section 4000.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Assembly Bill No. 1163, be further amended on the effective date of this act in the form set forth in Section 3 of this act to incorporate the changes in Section 4000.1 proposed by this bill. Therefore, if this bill and Assembly Bill No 1163 are both chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1978, and Assembly Bill No. 1163 is chaptered before this bill and amends Section 4000.1, Section 3 of this act shall become operative on the effective date of this act and Section 2 of this act shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the amendments to Sections 4000.1 and 4000.2 of the Vehicle Code that were made by Chapter 231 of the Statutes of 1976, but which were superseded by Chapter 1206 of the Statutes of 1976, may be given effect at the earliest possible time, thereby effectuating the intent of the Legislature in enacting Assembly Bill No. 1582 (Chapter 231 of the Statutes of 1976), it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 3544, 3544.1, and 3544.5 of the Government Code, relating to public educational employment.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3544 of the Government Code is amended to read:

3544. (a) An employee organization may become the exclusive representative for the employees of an appropriate unit for purposes of meeting and negotiating by filing a request with a public school employer alleging that a majority of the employees in an appropriate unit wish to be represented by such organization and asking the public school employer to recognize it as the exclusive representative. The request shall describe the grouping of jobs or positions which constitute the unit claimed to be appropriate and shall be based upon majority support on the basis of current dues deduction authorizations or other evidence such as notarized membership lists, or membership cards, or petitions designating the organization as the exclusive representative of the employees. Notice of any such request shall immediately be posted conspicuously on all employee bulletin boards in each facility of the public school employer in which members of the unit claimed to be appropriate are employed.

(b) The employee organization shall submit proof of majority support to the board. The information submitted to the board shall remain confidential and not be disclosed by the board. The board shall obtain from the employer the information necessary for it to carry out its responsibilities pursuant to this section and shall report to the employee organization and the public school employer as to whether the proof of majority support is adequate.

SEC. 2. Section 3544.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

3544.1. The public school employer shall grant a request for recognition filed pursuant to Section 3544 unless:

(a) The public school employer desires that representation election be conducted or doubts the appropriateness of a unit. If the public school employer desires a representation election, the question of representation shall be deemed to exist and the public school employer shall notify the board, which shall conduct a representation election pursuant to Section 3544.7, unless subdivision (c) or (d) apply; or

(b) Another employee organization either files with the public school employer a challenge to the appropriateness of the unit or submits a competing claim of representation within 15 workdays of the posting of notice of the written request. The claim shall be evidenced by current dues deductions authorizations or other evidence such as notarized membership lists, or membership cards, or petitions signed by employees in the unit indicating their desire to be represented by the organization. Such evidence shall be submitted to the board, and shall remain confidential and not be disclosed by the board. The board shall obtain from the employer the information necessary for it to carry out its responsibilities pursuant to this section and shall report to the employee organizations seeking recognition and to the public school employer as to the adequacy of the evidence. If the claim is evidenced by the support of at least 30 percent of the members of an appropriate unit, a question of representation shall be deemed to exist and the board shall conduct a representation election pursuant to Section 3544.7, unless subdivision (c) or (d) of this section apply; or

(c) There is currently in effect a lawful written agreement negotiated by the public school employer and another employee organization covering any employees included in the unit described in the request for recognition, unless the request for recognition is filed less than 120 days, but more than 90 days, prior to the expiration date of the agreement; or

(d) The public school employer has, within the previous 12 months, lawfully recognized another employee organization as the exclusive representative of any employees included in the unit described in the request for recognition.

SEC. 3. Section 3544.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

3544.5. A petition may be filed with the board, in accordance with its rules and regulations, requesting it to investigate and decide the question of whether employees have selected or wish to select an exclusive representative or to determine the appropriateness of a unit, by:

(a) A public school employer alleging that it doubts the appropriateness of the claimed unit; or

(b) An employee organization alleging that it has filed a request for recognition as an exclusive representative with a public school employer and that the request has been denied or has not been acted upon within 30 days after the filing of the request; or

(c) An employee organization alleging that it has filed a competing claim of representation pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 3544.1; or

(d) An employee organization alleging that the employees in an appropriate unit no longer desire a particular employee organization as their exclusive representative, provided that such petition is supported by current dues deduction authorizations or other evidence such as notarized membership lists, cards, or petitions from 30 percent of the employees in the negotiating unit indicating support for another organization or lack of support for the incumbent exclusive representative. Such evidence of support shall be submitted to the board, and shall remain confidential and not be disclosed by the board. The board shall obtain from the employer the information necessary for it to carry out its responsibilities pursuant to this section and shall report to the employee organizations seeking recognition and to the public school employer as to the adequacy of the evidence of support.

CHAPTER 1085

An act to amend Section 1484 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to paramedics.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1484 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1484. This article shall remain in effect only until December 31, 1979, and shall have no force or effect after that date.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to this section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local government entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

CHAPTER 1086

An act to add Section 10618 to, and to add Article 9 (commencing with Section 10475) to Chapter 8 of Division 9 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to vital records.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10618 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

10618. A fee of five dollars ($5) shall be paid to the State Registrar by the applicant for establishment of a new record of birth under the provisions of Article 9 (commencing with Section 10475) of Chapter 8 of this division.

SEC. 2. Article 9 (commencing with Section 10475) is added to Chapter 8 of Division 9 of the Health and Safety Code, to read

Article 9. Revision of Birth Records to Reflect Change of Sex

10475. Whenever a person born in this state has undergone surgical treatment for the purpose of altering his or her sexual characteristics to those of the opposite sex, a new birth certificate may be prepared for such person reflecting the change of gender and any change of name accomplished by an order of a court of this state, another state, the District of Columbia, or any territory of the United States. A petition for the issuance of a new birth certificate in such cases shall be filed with the superior court of the county where the petitioner resides

10476. (a) The petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit of a physician documenting the sex change, and a certified copy of the court order changing the applicant's name (if applicable).

(b) Such petition shall be heard at the time appointed by the court and objections may be filed by any person who can, in such objections, show to the court good reason against such change of birth certificate. At the hearing, the court may examine on oath the petitioner, and any other person having knowledge of facts relevant to the application. At the conclusion of the hearing the court shall make an order to issue a new certificate, or dismissing the petition, as to the court may seem right and proper.

(c) A certified copy of the decree of the court ordering the new birth certificate, shall within 30 days from the date of such decree, be filed with the State Registrar. Upon receipt thereof together with the fee prescribed by Section 10618, the State Registrar shall establish a new birth certificate for the applicant.

(d) The new birth certificate shall indicate the sex of the registrant as it has been surgically altered and shall reflect any change of name specified in the application if accompanied by a court order, as prescribed by Section 10475. No reference shall be made in the new birth certificate, nor shall its form in any way indicate, that it is not the original birth certificate of the registrant.

10477. In lieu of separate proceedings, a single petition for a change of name and issuance of a new birth certificate reflecting a change of gender may be filed with the superior court. With respect to such a petition, the court shall follow the procedure set forth in Title 8 (commencing with Section 1275) of Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure. A certified copy of the decree of the court issued pursuant to this section shall within 30 days be filed with both the Secretary of State and the State Registrar. Upon its receipt, the State Registrar shall establish a new birth certificate as provided in this article.

10478. The new birth certificate shall supplant any birth certificate previously registered for the applicant and shall be the only birth certificate open to public inspection. The application and supporting affidavit shall be filed with the original record of birth, which shall remain as a part of the records of the State Registrar. All records and information specified in this article, other than the newly issued birth certificate, shall be available only upon written request of the registrant or an order of a court of record.

When a new birth certificate is established under the provisions of this article, the State Registrar shall transmit copies of the newly established birth certificate for filing to the local registrar and the county recorder whose records contain copies of the original certificate, who shall forward such copies of the original certificate to the State Registrar for filing with the original certificate, if it is practical for him to do so. If it is impractical for him to forward the copy to the State Registrar, he shall effectually seal a cover over the copy of the original certificate in such a manner as not to deface or destroy such copy and forward a verified statement of his action to the State Registrar Thereafter the information contained in such record shall be available only upon written request of the registrant or on order of a court of record 10479 The State Registrar shall transmit a certified copy of a birth certificate newly established under this article to the registrant without additional charge.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities or school districts by this act are such that related costs are incurred as part of their normal operating procedures.

CHAPTER 1087

An act to amend Section 25203 of the Government Code, relating to counties.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25203 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25203. The board shall direct and control the conduct of litigation in which the county, or any public entity of which the board is the governing body, is a party; by a two-thirds vote of all the members, the board may employ counsel to assist the district attorney, county counsel, or other counsel for the county or entity in the conduct of such actions; provided, however, that the board may authorize county officials, who are not attorneys, to initiate and conduct litigation in small claims court on behalf of the county.

SEC. 2. There are no state-mandated local costs in this act that require reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because there are no new duties, obligations or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act.

CHAPTER 1088

An act to add Section 1016.5 to the Penal Code, relating to pleas.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1016.5 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1016.5. (a) Prior to acceptance of a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to any offense punishable as a crime under state law, except offenses designated as infractions under state law, the court shall administer the following advisement on the record to the defendant:

If you are not a citizen, you are hereby advised that conviction of the offense for which you have been charged may have the consequences of deportation, exclusion from admission to the United States, or denial of naturalization pursuant to the laws of the United States.

(b) Upon request, the court shall allow the defendant additional time to consider the appropriateness of the plea in light of the advisement as described in this section. If, after January 1, 1978, the court fails to advise the defendant as required by this section and the defendant shows that conviction of the offense to which defendant pleaded guilty or nolo contendere may have the consequences for the defendant of deportation, exclusion from admission to the United States, or denial of naturalization pursuant to the laws of the United States, the court, on defendant's motion, shall vacate the judgment and permit the defendant to withdraw the plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and enter a plea of not guilty. Absent a record that the court provided the advisement required by this section, the defendant shall be presumed not to have received the required advisement.

(c) With respect to pleas accepted prior to January 1, 1978, it is not the intent of the Legislature that a court's failure to provide the advisement required by subdivision (a) of Section 1016.5 should require the vacation of judgment and withdrawal of the plea or constitute grounds for finding a prior conviction invalid. Nothing in this section, however, shall be deemed to inhibit a court, in the sound exercise of its discretion, from vacating a judgment and permitting a defendant to withdraw a plea.

(d) The Legislature finds and declares that in many instances involving an individual who is not a citizen of the United States charged with an offense punishable as a crime under state law, a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is entered without the defendant knowing that a conviction of such offense is grounds for deportation, exclusion from admission to the United States, or denial of naturalization pursuant to the laws of the United States. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to promote fairness to such accused individuals by requiring in such cases that acceptance of a guilty plea or plea of nolo contendere be preceded by an appropriate warning of the special consequences for such a defendant which may result from the plea. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the court in such cases shall grant the defendant a reasonable amount of time to negotiate with the prosecuting agency in the event the defendant or the defendant's counsel was unaware of the possibility of deportation, exclusion from admission to the United States, or denial of naturalization as a result of conviction. It is further the intent of the Legislature that at the time of the plea no defendant shall be required to disclose his or her legal status to the court.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that this act be deemed null and void if all of the applicable federal laws for which a court advisement is necessary under this act are repealed.

CHAPTER 1089

An act to add Sections 20205.9, 20205.90, 20205.91, 20205.92, 20205.93, and 20205.94 to the Government Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20205.9 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20205.9. The board may select, purchase or acquire in the name of the State of California Public Employees' Retirement System, the fee or any lesser interest in real property, improved or unimproved, and may construct or remodel, and equip, an office building, including appropriate satellite structures, in the County of Sacramento, California, for its use and for the use of State Teachers' Retirement System, other state retirement systems, other departments, boards, and agencies of the state, or appropriate private commercial entities as space may be available from time to time. Such office building and satellite structures shall conform to the Capital Master Plan if located within an area subject to the plan.

(a) In the event that the board acquires bare land, improvements shall be constructed according to plans approved by the State Public Works Board and Department of General Services.

(b) In the event that the board acquires land with improvements thereon, such improvements shall be remodeled or completed in accordance with plans approved by the State Public Works Board and Department of General Services.

(c) In the event that condemnation of the property selected is necessary, the board may elect to deposit such funds as are deemed necessary with the State Treasurer, which funds are appropriated for purchase of the selected property subject to provisions of the Property Acquisition Law.

(d) Work on all projects shall be done under contract awarded to the lowest responsible bidder pursuant to bidding procedures set forth in the State Contract Act.

SEC. 2. Section 20205 90 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20205.90. The board may contract with the Department of General Services or any other state department for assistance and supervision in the acquisition of real property and the construction thereon of buildings and improvements authorized in this article.

SEC. 3 Section 20205.91 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20205.91. All buildings and improvements constructed by the board under the provisions of this article may contain space in excess of the immediate requirements of the board which, until needed, may be leased by the board at rates which are not less than fair market value and upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the board; provided, however, that the rental charged shall be at least sufficient to pay a reasonable rate of return to the board of the cost, including interest thereon, of construction and maintenance of such excess space.

The board may contract with the Department of General Services to handle the rentals of any excess space over and above that required by the board and to furnish general supervision and maintenance of buildings and improvements constructed under the provisions of this article.

SEC. 4. Section 20205.92 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20205.92. Any building or improvement constructed by the board under this article shall be subject to the supervision of the board in accordance with rules and regulations established by the board with the assistance of the Department of General Services.

SEC. 5. Section 20205.93 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20205.93. The board shall establish a building account for the transfer of money which is continuously appropriated for such purpose from the Public Employees' Retirement Fund for the cost of the acquisition of real property, the construction or remodeling of buildings and improvements thereon, and the maintenance, repair, and improvement thereof, and for the orderly repayment to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund of such expenditures plus interest at the aggregate rate of return on investments of the system.

For accounting purposes the board shall pay rental to the building account in an amount sufficient to repay all costs for construction and maintenance of space used by the board plus interest to the Public Employees' Retirement Fund. Other rental received shall be deposited in the building account and disbursed as provided in this section.

The board may contract with the Department of General Services for the purchase of insurance against loss of, or damage to, the property or the loss of use or occupancy of the building, liability insurance and such other insurance as is customarily carried on state office buildings. Premiums for such insurance shall be paid from the building account.

Money in the building account which is in excess of current needs shall be paid into the Public Employees' Retirement Fund monthly The land, building, equipment, and improvements thereon, shall constitute an investment in the Public Employees' Retirement Fund and shall be carried on the books thereof as such in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order that the funds in the building account proposed by this act may become available at the commencement of the 1977–78 fiscal year, this act must take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1090

An act to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 44100) to Chapter 1 of Part 25 of the Education Code, relating to school employees.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 (commencing with Section 44100) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 25 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 4. Affirmative Action Employment

44100. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Generally, California school districts employ a disproportionately low number of racial and ethnic minority classified and certificated employees and a disproportionately low number of women and members of racial and ethnic minorities in administrative positions.

(b) It is educationally sound for the minority student attending a racially impacted school to have available to him the positive image provided by minority classified and certificated employees. It is likewise educationally sound for the child from the majority group to have positive experiences with minority people which can be provided, in part, by having minority classified and certificated employees at schools where the enrollment is largely made up of majority group students. It is also educationally important for students to observe that women as well as men can assume responsible and diverse roles in society.

(c) Past employment practices created artificial barriers and past efforts to promote additional action in the recruitment, employment, and promotion of women and minorities have not resulted in a substantial increase in employment opportunities for such persons.

(d) Lessons concerning democratic principles and the richness which racial diversity brings to our national heritage can be best taught by the presence of staffs of mixed races and ethnic groups working toward a common goal.

It is the intent of the Legislature to establish and maintain a policy of equal opportunity in employment for all persons and to prohibit discrimination based on race, sex, color, religion, age, handicap, ancestry, or national origin in every aspect of personnel policy and practice in employment, development, advancement, and treatment of persons employed in the public school system, and to promote the total realization of equal employment opportunity through a continuing affirmative action employment program.

The Legislature recognizes that it is not enough to proclaim that public employers do not discriminate in employment but that effort must also be made to build a community in which opportunity is equalized. It is the intent of the Legislature to require educational agencies to adopt and implement plans for increasing the numbers of women and minority persons at all levels of responsibility.

44101. For the purposes of this article:

(a) "Affirmative action employment program" means planned activities designed to seek, hire, and promote persons who are underrepresented in the work force compared to their number in the population, including handicapped persons, women, and persons of minority racial and ethnic backgrounds. It is a conscious, deliberate step taken by a hiring authority to assure equal employment opportunity for all staff, both certificated and classified. Such programs require the employer to make additional efforts to recruit, employ, and promote members of groups formerly excluded at the various levels of responsibility who are qualified or may become qualified through appropriate training or experience within a reasonable length of time. Such programs should be designed to remedy the exclusion, whatever its cause. Affirmative action requires imaginative, energetic, and sustained action by each employer to devise recruiting, training, and career advancement opportunities which will result in an equitable representation of women and minorities in relation to all employees of such employer.

(b) "Goals and timetables" means projected new levels of employment of women and minority racial and ethnic groups to be attained on an annual schedule, given the expected turnover in the work force and the availability of persons who are qualified or may become qualified through appropriate training or experience within a reasonable length of time. Goals are not quotas or rigid proportions. They should relate both to the qualitative and quantitative needs of the employer.

(c) "Public education agency" means the Department of Education, each office of the county superintendent of schools, and the governing board of each school district in California.

44102. Each local public education agency shall submit, not later than January 1, 1979, to the Department of Education an affirmation of compliance with the provisions of this article. The affirmative action employment program shall have goals and timetables for its implementation. The plan shall be a public record within the meaning of the California Public Records Act.

44103. Each county superintendent of schools shall render assistance in developing and implementing affirmative action employment programs to elementary school districts under his jurisdiction which had fewer than 901 units of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year, and to high school districts under his jurisdiction which had fewer than 301 units of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year, and to unified school districts under his jurisdiction which had fewer than 1,501 units of average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year.

44104. [Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17052.6 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17052.6. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in subdivision (e)) an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) incurred by the taxpayer of water application or distribution equipment, whether new or used, which results in the improvement of agricultural irrigation efficiency through the reduction of water usage from the installation of systems which include, but are not limited to drip irrigation systems, tail water recovery systems, sprinkler systems, pipelines, and lining of ditches or canals, on agricultural land in California which was cultivated and irrigated during any growing season during the period commencing January 1, 1971, and ending December 31, 1976, and which is owned and controlled by the taxpayer at the time of installation. The credit shall be taken in the year of installation and shall not exceed five hundred dollars ($500).

(b) The credit for such cost shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer otherwise may be entitled, if any.

(c) The basis of any equipment for which a credit is allowed shall either be reduced to its salvage value at the end of its useful life, or reduced by the amount of credit, whichever results in the lesser basis.

(d) In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(e) For the purposes of this section:

(1) The term "net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 minus the credit for retirement income provided for in Section 17053, the credits for personal exemption provided for in Section 17054, and the credits for taxes paid other states provided for in Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 18001)

(2) "Agricultural land" means any land used for the production of food or fiber.

(f) The tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to trusts or estates subject to tax under this law.

(g) The credit allowed by this section shall be allowed only with regard to the installation of water application or distribution equipment on agricultural land used in a trade or business for the production of farm income.

(h) The tax credit provided by this section shall apply only to a taxpayer (1) whose average gross income from farming in the taxable year and the immediately preceding two taxable years is at least 75 percent of the average total gross income from all sources for such years, and (2) whose adjusted gross income in the taxable year is at least five thousand dollars ($5,000), but not more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(i) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(j) This section shall be in effect with respect to taxable years ending on or before December 31, 1980, and as of December 31, 1980, is repealed unless a later enacted statute which is chaptered before December 31, 1980, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 2. Section 23602 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23602. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax and the tax on preference income) an amount equal to 10 percent of the costs (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) incurred by the taxpayer of water application or distribution equipment, whether new or used, which results in the improvement of agricultural irrigation efficiency through the reduction of water usage from the installation of systems which include, but are not limited to, drip irrigation systems, tail water recovery systems, sprinkler systems, pipelines, and lining of ditches or canals, on agricultural land in California which was cultivated and irrigated during any growing season during the period commencing January 1, 1971, and ending December 31, 1976, and which is owned and controlled by the taxpayer at the time of installation. The credit shall be taken in the year of installation and shall not exceed five hundred dollars ($500).

(b) The credit for such cost shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer otherwise may be entitled, if any

(c) The basis of any equipment for which a credit is allowed shall either be reduced to its salvage value at the end of its useful life, or reduced by the amount of the credit, whichever results in the lesser basis.

(d) When either (1) the income from sources within this state of two or more corporations which are commonly owned or controlled is determined in accordance with Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101) of this part or Part 18 (commencing with Section 38001) of this division, or (2) two or more commonly owned or controlled corporations derive income from sources solely within this state, whose business activities are such that if conducted within and without this state, the income derived from sources within this state would be determined in accordance with Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101) of this part or Part 18 (commencing with Section 38001) of this division (hereinafter referred to as "wholly intrastate corporations"), then such corporations shall determine the credit prescribed in subdivision (a) as if such corporations were one corporation. As to wholly intrastate corporations, the amount of the credit prescribed in subdivision (a) shall be prorated among them in the ratio to which the cost of such equipment to each corporation bears to the total cost of such equipment for all corporations.

(e) The credit allowed by this section shall be allowed only with regard to the installation of water application or distribution equipment on agricultural land used in a business for the production of farm income.

(f) The tax credit provided by this section shall apply only to a taxpayer (1) whose average gross income from farming in the income year and immediately preceding two income years is at least 75 percent of the average total gross income from all sources for such years, and (2) whose net income in the income year is at least five thousand dollars ($5,000), but not more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(g) For the purpose of this section, the term "agricultural land" means any land used for the production of food or fiber.

(h) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(i) This section shall be in effect with respect to income years ending on or before December 31, 1980, and as of December 31, 1980, is repealed unless a later enacted statute which is chaptered before December 31, 1980, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 3. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, the operative effect of the provisions of this act shall be as follows:

(a) Section 1 of this act shall be applied in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning on or after the first day of the calendar year in which this act becomes effective provided the effective date is more than 90 days prior to the last day of the calendar year. If the effective date is 90 days or less prior to the last day of the calendar year, Section 1 of this act shall apply in the computation of taxes for taxable years beginning on or after the first day of the calendar year following the effective date.

(b) Section 2 of this act shall be applied in the computation of taxes for income years beginning on or after the first day of the calendar year in which this act becomes effective provided the effective date is more than 90 days prior to the last day of the calendar year. If the effective date is 90 days or less prior to the last day of the calendar year, Section 2 of this act shall apply in the computation of taxes for income years beginning on or after the first day of the calendar year following the effective date.

CHAPTER 1101

An act to add Section 20054 to the Water Code, relating to water projects.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20054 is added to the Water Code, to read:

20054. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, where an improvement district of any district, prior to January 1, 1972, sold bonds for sewer purposes, where such bonds were approved as a legal investment for any trust funds, as well as funds of any insurance companies, commercial and saving banks, as well as trust companies and state school funds pursuant to this division, and where the purpose for which such bonds were approved for certification and sale was consistent with previously existing industrial or commercial plans or zoning ordinances over the property within such improvement district of any district, lands, within such improvement district planned and zoned for industrial or commercial uses, shall be deemed committed to such uses. No legal action brought subsequent to such sale and approval may seek, as a remedy, the invalidation of local plans, zoning, subsequent development approvals, or the provision of infrastructure, as each applies to such lands, nor shall the maintenance of such litigation or the judgment therein prevent the legislative body of the city or county or district from taking any action to permit or authorize use of, or to provide infrastructure for, property served by such facilities in conformity with the general plan and zoning designations in force immediately prior to September 1, 1977. In any such action the judgment shall not prevent the authorization or sale of any bonds of an improvement district which encompasses the territory of an improvement district wherein bonds were sold for sewer purposes prior to January 1, 1972. Any legal action pending as of the effective date of this section shall be deemed to be an action seeking relief not herein prohibited, and no court shall have jurisdiction to issue such prohibited relief.

Nothing in this sections shall be interpreted to preclude a city or county, at its discretion and in a manner pursuant to law, from altering plans, zoning, or subsequent development approvals applicable to such lands, or from enacting and enforcing further regulations upon their use. In addition nothing in this section shall be interpreted to excuse developments on such lands from compliance with all applicable requirements of state law.

CHAPTER 1102

An act to amend, add, and repeal Section 15402 of the Government Code, relating to the State Public Defender.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15402 of the Government Code is amended to read:

All civil service examinations for entry level attorney positions shall be on an open basis without career civil service credits given to any person. Civil service examinations for nonentry level positions may be on an open basis without career civil service credits given to any person or on a promotional basis as determined appropriate by the State Personnel Board in consultation with the State Public Defender. The State Public Defender may contract with county public defenders, private attorneys, and nonprofit corporations organized to furnish legal services to persons who are not financially able to employ counsel and pay a reasonable sum for those services pursuant to such contracts. He may provide for participation by such attorneys and organizations in his representation of eligible persons. The State Public Defender may also enter into reciprocal or mutual assistance agreements with the board of supervisors of one or more counties to provide for exchange of personnel for the purposes set forth in Section 27707.1.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1980, and as of that date is repealed unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1980, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 2. Section 15402 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15402. The State Public Defender may employ such deputies and other employees, and establish and operate such offices, as he may need for the proper performance of his duties. CHAPTER 1103

An act to add and repeal Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 2000) to Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to youth and family projects, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 3 of Assembly Bill No 965 from $62,500 to $30,000 The full-year cost of this bill will be reviewed during preparation of the 1978–79 Budget

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 965

EDMUND G BROWN JR , Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 2000) is added to Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2. MULTISERVICE YOUTH AND FAMILY PROGRAMS

2000. The Legislature hereby finds that the most significant trend in the development of delinquency prevention programs has been in the direction of multipurpose comprehensive youth and family services, such as multipurpose youth service bureau projects, implemented at the local level and dealing with the prevention of juvenile delinquency through youth development and treatment programs designed to prevent juvenile delinquency, child abuse and neglect, alcohol and drug abuse, and behavior patterns, such as runaway minors, which lead to antisocial behavior problems. The Legislature recognizes that the need for such services has become more pressing as a result of the major revisions in the juvenile court law enacted during the 1975–76 Regular Session of the Legislature. It is the intention of the Legislature to encourage countywide and areawide multiservice systems by providing for a reduction of the administrative obstacles to funding such activities through a joint funding simplification program for multiservice youth and family programs. This is not to be construed as a new funding program or single source of funds, but a coordination of existing sources, to the end that improved fund flow management techniques can be developed and demonstrated at state and local level.

2001. The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall conduct a survey to determine which state agencies administer federal grant funds for the purposes set forth in Section 2002. All state agencies shall cooperate in such survey by identifying the type, quantity, period of availability of such grant funds and other information as set forth in the survey. State agencies which administer federal grant funds as provided shall designate an executive staff person to coordinate joint funding activities for that agency.

2002. Pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, an application may be submitted to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for a joint funded multiservice youth and family program, provided that the application involves three or more separate federal grant fund sources administered by or through two or more state agencies and involves three or more of the functions set forth in this section. Any such program may provide all of the following services:

(a) Community-based programs and services for the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency through the development of foster-care and shelter-care homes, group homes, halfway houses, and any other community-based diagnostic, treatment or rehabilitative service;

(b) Community-based programs and services to work with parents and other family members to maintain and strengthen the family unit so that the juvenile may be retained in his home;

(c) Youth service bureaus and other community-based programs to divert youth from the juvenile court or to support, counsel, or provide work and recreational opportunities for delinquents and youth in danger of becoming delinquent;

(d) Comprehensive programs of drug and alcohol abuse education and prevention and programs for the treatment and rehabilitation of drug-addicted youth, and "drug dependent" youth (as defined in the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 201));

(e) Educational programs or supportive services designed to keep delinquents and to encourage other youth to remain in elementary and secondary schools or in alternative learning situations;

(f) Expanded use of probation and recruitment and training of probation officers, other professional and paraprofessional personnel and volunteers to work effectively with youth;

(g) Youth-initiated programs and outreach programs designed to assist youth who otherwise would not be reached by assistance programs; and

(h) Programs which:

(1) Reduce the number of commitments of juveniles to any form of juvenile facility as a percentage of the state juvenile population;

(2) Increase the use of nonsecure community-based facilities as a percentage of total commitments to juvenile facilities; and

(3) Discourage the use of secure incarceration and detention.

For each of these services, the Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall recommend to the appropriate state agency the development of state standards or procedures to which local programs shall adhere in program performance. The lack of existing standards shall not preclude the funding of programs pursuant to this chapter.

2003. Using the procedures developed for the Joint Funding Simplification Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-510) as a model, the Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall prepare procedures, in consultation with the Secretary of Health and Welfare and other state agencies identified under Section 2001, to govern the manner in which multiservice youth and family programs may be jointly funded. Such procedures shall be issued in the form of a management memorandum by the Department of Finance and made part of the state administrative manual. These procedures shall be developed and issued within 180 days after January, 1978. Such procedures shall, at a minimum, provide for the following:

(a) A single and uniform preapplication, application, review, approval or disapproval, accounting, requisitioning, monitoring, evaluation and auditing system for the grant proponent;

(b) That separate state-administered federal grant funds shall be combined but separately accounted by the lead agency and grantee;

(c) Coordination of timing of project period and payments where a single or combined schedule is to be established for the project as a whole;

(d) Establishment of a joint funding task force by the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for each joint funded preapplication and application. Such task force shall consist of representatives of all state agencies identified in the grant application as potential grantors;

(e) The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall act as lead agency for receiving preapplications and applications under the provisions of this chapter. The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall convene and chair joint funding task force meetings and coordinate the administration of joint funding grants;

(f) State grantor agencies shall participate in joint funding task force activities and in joint funding programs, but shall retain existing authority to grant approval.

(g) Joint funding grant proponents shall be counties, except that a city or a combination of contiguous cities organized pursuant to

Section 6500 and following of the Government Code, totaling over 200,000 population, may also act as an applicant, provided such combination formally requests county sponsorship of the application and the county takes no action or refuses to sponsor the application within 60 days of the request;

(h) Administrative policies, procedures and regulations which would hinder the joint funding program shall be waived by individual agencies. The applicant, with the assistance of the Office of Criminal Justice Planning, shall identify those administrative requirements which must be waived by individual grantor agencies;

(i) The application process shall consist of a preapplication for which a task force shall be established by the Office of Criminal Justice Planning. Such task force shall make findings of fund availability and the viability of a joint funded program. The preapplication shall either be rejected or application shall be invited. If rejected, reasons must be stated based on preestablished criteria. If application is invited, potential fund source availability shall be presented by individual grantor agencies and any problems they anticipate under joint funding shall be presented to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning. The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall notify a proponent of preapplication decision, potential fund availability and invite complete application for continuing review and action;

(j) The Joint Funding Task Force established for each proponent shall provide technical assistance to the proponent throughout the application review and approval process; and

(k) That nonprofit community-based organizations will be used to implement no less than 50 percent of the joint funded multiservice youth and family program.

2004. Each state plan prepared pursuant to a federal law which qualifies the state for federal grant funds for one or more of the purposes set forth in Section 2002 and requires gubernatorial review under Part III of the President's Office of Management and Budget Circular A-95, or equivalent federal regulations implementing the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968, shall describe any joint funding proposals considered under such plan and set forth reasons for disapproval of any such proposal not approved.

2005. State administered joint funding multiservice youth and family programs are encouraged to seek out and cooperate with similar projects funded through the Joint Funding Simplification Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-510) by the federal government.

2006. The Office of Criminal Justice Planning shall annually submit a report to the Legislature and Governor on actions taken pursuant to this chapter and make recommendations for its continuation, modification, expansion to other programs or termination. The report shall provide a detailed evaluation of the functioning of this chapter, including information regarding the benefits and costs of jointly funded projects accruing to participating state and local governments.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act shall be operative only until January 1, 1983, and on that date are repealed

SEC. 3. The sum of sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars ($62,500) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for the purposes of carrying out provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code during the fiscal year 1977–78.

CHAPTER 1104

[Approved by Governor September 27, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2800.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2800.1. CHAPTER 1109

An act making an appropriation for the state park system, and in this connection amending and supplementing the Budget Act of 1977 (Ch. 219, Stats. 1977) by adding Section 2.9B thereto, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

I am reducing the amount appropriated from the General Fund by Section 2 of Assembly Bill No 924 from $12,450,000 to $6,725,000

The balance of funding will provide for the highest priority coastal acquisitions, not currently funded from other sources These include schedule (a) Westport-Union Landing SB extension—$2,500,000, (b) Greenwood Creek (Mendocino County)—$375,000, (c) Andrew Molera SP extension—$2,750,000, (d) Haskell's Beach—$500,000, (e) La Piedra Beach extension (Malibu)—$500,000, and a reduced amount for schedule (h) planning and acquisition costs of $100,000

I am reducing the amount appropriated from the State, Urban and Coastal Park Fund from $53,804,000 to $45,904,000 by making the following reductions and deletions

Reducing schedule (h) from $8,000,000 to $6,000,000 This property is overvalued at $8,000,000

Reducing schedule (k) from $7,850,000 to $5,500,000 Because of constraint language precluding the use of these funds for acquisition of any lands "lying seaward of Malibu Road", I recommend the proposed appropriation be reduced to reflect the estimated value of the upland areas only

Reducing schedule (s) from $1,250,000 to $500,000 and deleting schedule (t) The Leo Carrillo upland property offers little in the way of opportunities for recreational use because of topography

With these reductions, I approve Assembly Bill No 924

(c) Employment of the state or a contracting agency while the employee was excluded from membership in an employment in which persons since have become eligible for membership and which is not creditable to the member under other provisions of this part.

(d) Employment in the State Emergency Relief Administration or the State Relief Administration subsequent to March, 1933, regardless of the source of the compensation paid for such employment.

(e) Employment as an academic employee of the University of California prior to 1963; provided, however, that any member electing to receive credit for such public service shall in addition to other contributions required by this article contribute an amount equal to the contributions which would have been made on his behalf by the state had he been in membership during such employment, assuming that the state rate of contribution in effect at the time of election has been in effect during such employment

(f) Employment of the state in which the person was not eligible for membership in the system if such ineligibility was solely because his compensation was paid from other than state-controlled funds; provided, however, that time spent in work as a work relief recipient under programs such as, but not limited to, the Works Progress Administration, the Civil Works Administration, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, the National Youth Administration, and the Civilian Conservation Corps, shall not constitute public service.

SECTION 1. Section 25302 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25302. Upon receipt of a report required under Section 25300 from an electric utility, the commission shall forward copies thereof to the Legislature, the Public Utilities Commission, the Secretary of the Resources Agency, the Director of the Office of Planning and Research, the California Coastal Commission, and other concerned state and federal agencies. The report shall also be made available, at cost, to any person upon request. The commission shall request each city and county within the service area covered by the report to review and comment on the report in relation to estimates of population growth and economic development, patterns of land use and open space, and conservation and other appropriate elements of the adopted city or county general plan. Upon request, the commission shall forward without charge a copy of the report to any interested city or county. A copy of the report shall be maintained on file for public inspection in each county.

SEC. 2. Section 25528 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25528. (a) The commission shall require, as a condition of certification of any site and related facility, that the applicant acquire, by grant or contract, the right to prohibit development of privately owned lands in the area of the proposed site which will result in population densities in excess of the maximum population densities which the commission determines, as to the factors considered by the commission pursuant to Section 25511, are necessary to protect public health and safety.

If the applicant is authorized to exercise the right of eminent domain under Article 7 (commencing with Section 610) of Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code, the applicant may exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire such development rights as the commission requires be acquired.

(b) In the case of an application for a nuclear facility, the area and population density necessary to insure the public's health and safety designated by the commission shall be that as determined from time to time by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, if the commission finds that such determination is sufficiently definitive for valid land use planning requirements.

(c) The commission shall waive the requirements of the acquisition of development rights by an applicant to the extent that the commission finds that existing governmental land use restrictions are of a type necessary and sufficient to guarantee the maintenance of population levels and land use development over the lifetime of the facility which will insure the public health and safety requirements set pursuant to this section.

(d) No change in governmental land use restrictions in such areas designated in subdivision (c) of this section by any government agency shall be effective until approved by the commission. Such approval shall certify that the change in land use restrictions is not in conflict with requirements provided for by this section.

(e) It is not the intent of the Legislature by the enactment of this section to take private property for public use without payment of just compensation in violation of the United States Constitution or the Constitution of California.

SEC. 3. Section 25537 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25537. Upon approval of an application, the commission shall forward to the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Environmental Protection Agency, and to other appropriate federal agencies, the results of its studies including the environmental impact report on the facility, the written decision on the facility contained in the application, and the commission's determination of facility safety and reliability as provided in Section 25511.

SEC. 4 The heading of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 25800) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 1115

An act to amend Section 10012 of the Elections Code, relating to elections

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 10012 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

10012. Each candidate for nonpartisan elective office in any local agency, including any city, county, city and county or district, may prepare a candidate's statemen on an appropriate form provided by the clerk. Such statement may include the name, age and occupation of the candidate and a brief description of no more than 200 words, of the candidate's education and qualifications expressed by the candidate himself; provided, however, that the governing body of such local agency may authorize an increase in the limitations on words for such statement from 200 to 400 words. Such statement shall not include the party affiliation of the candidate, nor membership or activity in partisan political organizations. Such statement shall be filed in the office of the clerk when his nomination papers are returned for filing, if it is for a primary election, or for an election for offices for which there is no primary. Such statement shall be filed in the office of the clerk no later than the 60th day before the election, if it is for an election for which nomination papers are not required to be filed. It may be withdrawn, but not changed, during the period for filing nomination papers and until 5 p.m. of the next working day after the close of the nomination period

The clerk shall send to each voter together with the sample ballot, a voter's pamphlet which contains the written statements of each candidate that is prepared pursuant to this section. The statement of each candidate shall be printed in type of uniform size and darkness, and with uniform spacing. The clerk shall provide a Spanish translation to those candidates who wish to have one, and shall select a person to provide such translation from the list of approved Spanish language translators and interpreters of the superior court of the county or from an institution accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The local agency may bill each candidate availing himself of these services a sum not greater than the actual prorated costs of printing, handling, and translating the candidate's statement, if any, incurred by the agency as a result of providing this service. Such costs shall not include any charge for mailing. Only those charges may be levied with respect to the candidate's statement and each candidate using these services shall be charged the same.

The clerk shall reject any statement, which contains any obscene, vulgar, profane, scandalous, libelous or defamatory matter, or any language which in any way incites, counsels, promotes or advocates hatred, abuse, violence or hostility toward, or which tends to cast ridicule or shame upon any person or group of persons by reason of sex, race, color, religion or manner of worship, or any language or matter the circulation of which through the mails is prohibited by Congress.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to make any such statement or the authors thereof free or exempt from any civil or criminal action or penalty because of any false, slanderous or libelous statements offered for printing or contained in the voter's pamphlet.

The governing body of the local agency may adopt regulations to permit each candidate for elective office to prepare separately other materials to be sent to each voter in addition to the sample ballot and the voter's pamphlet. Such regulations may pertain to size, weight, form, physical composition, and content of such other materials and may specify that the cost of handling, packaging and mailing may be borne by the local agency authorizing the same or may be billed in whole or in part to the candidate submitting the materials Such regulations shall apply equally to all candidates, including incumbents. Before the nominating period opens, the local agency for that election shall determine whether a charge shall be levied against that candidate for the candidate's statement or other materials sent to each voter. Such decision shall not be revoked or modified after the seventh day prior to the opening of the nominating period. A written statement of the regulations with respect to charges for handling, packaging, and mailing shall be provided to each candidate or his representative at the time he picks up his nomination papers.

SEC. 2. There are no state-mandated local costs in this act which require reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because this act makes only technical changes to existing law

(e) If a properly executed affidavit is received by the county clerk on or before the 29th day prior to an election, or is received in the manner and on the dates prescribed in subdivision (b) of Section 305, the clerk shall send to the affiant a voter notification by nonforwardable first-class mail with address correction requested. Such notification shall inform the voter that the voter is registered to vote in the forthcoming election, and that his or her name will appear on the index kept at the polls.

Such notification shall inform the voter that the registration will not be valid for the forthcoming election, but will be valid for any election occurring at least 29 days after the date of receipt of the affidavit by the county clerk

SEC. 8. Section 506 of the Elections Code is amended to read

The receipt shall be separated from the body of the affidavit by a perforated line.

Upon the stub shall be printed the number of the affidavit and blanks for the following:

Any person who (a) willfully interferes with the prompt transfer of a completed affidavit of registration to the county clerk, (b) retains a voter's completed registration card, without the voter's authorization, for more than three days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and state holidays, or (c) denies a voter the right to return to the county clerk the voter's own completed registration card is guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 1117

An act to add Sections 1010 and 36559 to, and to add Chapter 4.3 (commencing with Section 36380) to Part 6 of Division 13 of, the Water Code, relating to water, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1010 is added to the Water Code, to read:

1010. Cessation of or reduction in the use of water under any existing right regardless of the basis of right, as the result of the use of reclaimed water or water polluted by waste to a degree which unreasonably affects such water for other beneficial uses, shall be and is deemed equivalent to, and for purposes of maintaining any right shall be construed to constitute, a reasonable beneficial use of water to the extent and in the amount that such reclaimed or polluted water is being used not exceeding, however, the amount of such reduction No lapse, reduction, or loss of any existing right shall occur under such conditions.

The board may require that any user of water who seeks the benefit of this section file periodic reports describing the extent and amount of the use of reclaimed or polluted water. To the maximum extent possible, such reports shall be made a part of other reports required by the board relating to the use of water.

For purposes of this section, the term "reclaimed water" shall have the same meaning as in Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000).

SEC 2. Chapter 4.3 (commencing with Section 36380) is added to Part 6 of Division 13 of the Water Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4.3. REVENUE WARRANTS

36380. A district whose facilities are for delivery primarily of agricultural water supplies and wherein at least 51 percent of the assessable acreage is zoned and developed for agricultural uses may issue revenue warrants pursuant to this chapter to obtain funds for any lawful purpose of the district, including the repayment of indebtedness of the district. A district may issue revenue warrants pursuant to this chapter in any year only if the district does not receive during such year its full contractual entitlement under a water supply contract with the United States, the State of California, or any other public agency, upon which contract the district relies for meeting a substantial portion of its water supply needs.

36381. Revenue warrants shall be secured by all or part of the revenues received by the district from charges fixed pursuant to Section 35470 or from any other source other than assessments, and any such revenues may be pledged to the payment of revenue warrants. In the resolution authorizing issuance of revenue warrants, the board may subject such revenues as it specifies to a lien or charge to secure the payment of the principal of, and the interest on, revenue warrants, but such warrants shall not be secured by any lien or charge upon any assessment.

36382. Revenue warrants shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8 percent per annum, payable annually or semiannually or in part annually and in part semiannually, as the board may prescribe.

36383. Revenue warrants shall mature at such time or times as the board may prescribe, but not more than 10 years from the date of

36384. Revenue warrants may be made subject to redemption prior to their fixed maturity date upon such terms, conditions and notice, and at such times and prices, as the board may determine prior to the issuance of such warrants.

36385. Revenue warrants may be sold at either public or private sale upon such terms and conditions as the board may determine. Such warrants may be sold at less than their par or face value, but no revenue warrant may be sold at a price which would yield to the purchaser an average of more than 8 percent per annum, payable semiannually, according to standard tables of bond values.

36386. No revenue warrants shall be issued or sold until their issuance has been authorized by resolution of the board adopted by a four-fifths vote and approved by the State Treasurer. The board also may, but need not, request the State Treasurer to investigate and certify such warrants as legal investments in accordance with the provisions of Division 10 (commencing with Section 20000) of this code.

36386.1. If, after the board adopts the resolution to issue the revenue warrants and before 30 days thereafter, the board receives a petition containing the signatures of persons holding title to 10 percent of the land area within the district, the board shall call an election of the qualified voters in the district and submit the resolution to issue revenue warrants to such voters for their approval or rejection. The election required by this section shall be called and noticed, held, and conducted in the same manner provided for bond elections in the district, excepting that a majority of the votes cast in favor of such resolution shall be required for the approval of such resolution.

36387. The board may determine the form and denomination of revenue warrants, the manner of their execution, their registration and exchange privileges and the place or places of their payment.

36388. The board, in a resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue warrants, may provide for special funds for the deposit and application of the proceeds of the warrants and for the deposit and application of revenues pledged to secure their payment. The board may provide for the establishment of a reserve fund from the proceeds of the revenue warrants or revenues pledged to their payment The board may appoint a fiscal agent to hold any or all such funds in trust for the holders of revenue warrants and for the district

36389 The board, in a resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue warrants, may covenant to operate and maintain the facilities producing the revenues pledged for the security of the revenue warrants, may covenant to fix, maintain, and collect tolls, charges, rates, or fees which will produce revenues sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the revenue warrants and to provide such additional sums for the further security of the revenue warrants as the resolution may prescribe, and may make such other covenants, with respect to insurance, investments of funds, accounting records, independent audits, events of default, limitations upon competitive facilities, and any other matters relating to the revenue warrants and their security as the board may deem necessary, convenient, or desirable in order better to secure the revenue warrants or to make them more marketable.

36390. The board, in a resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue warrants, may provide for paying the interest on the revenue warrants for a period of not more than one year out of the proceeds of the sale thereof.

36391. Except as otherwise provided in any resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue warrants, the holder of any revenue warrant may by mandamus, or other appropriate proceeding, require and compel the performance of any of the duties imposed upon the board, or upon any officer or employee of the district, in connection with the collection, deposit, investment, application, or disbursement of any revenues pledged for the security of the revenue warrants, or in connection with the deposit, investment, or disbursement of the proceeds received from the sale of the revenue warrants, or in connection with any covenants contained in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the revenue warrants. The enumeration of such rights and remedies does not, however, exclude the exercise or prosecution of any other rights or remedies available to the holders of revenue warrants.

36392. Revenue warrants shall not be issued under this chapter by any district in any one fiscal year in excess of four million dollars ($4,000,000).

36393. The provisions of this chapter shall constitute an addition to all other power of a district to borrow money, incur indebtedness, and issue warrants in connection therewith, and shall not be deemed a restriction or limitation on such other power.

SEC. 3. Section 36559 is added to the Water Code, to read:

36559. If a fiscal year is adopted pursuant to Section 36558, in lieu of submitting the annual estimate at the time set forth in Section 36552, the board may, by resolution, establish that the annual estimate required by Section 36552 shall be filed between 30 and 90 days from the beginning of the district's fiscal year so adopted. In such event, the annual assessment made pursuant to Section 36570 shall be made between the first day of such fiscal year and 90 days thereafter.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because revenue is provided in Section 37206 of the Water Code to cover such costs.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The California water districts affected by this legislation must consist of lands at least 51 percent of which are zoned for, and are devoted to, developed agricultural use and must have undertaken projects providing facilities for delivery primarily of agricultural water supplies for use in such districts The projects, including the water supply contracts, have annual fixed costs of great magnitude. Although the lands are the ultimate security for these fixed obligations, the financial programs under which these projects are implemented provide that substantial portions of these costs be recovered from charges related to the available water supply. As a direct result of the severe drought conditions existing throughout the State of California the available water supply has been reduced to unexpected minimums, resulting in unit costs of water of unexpected magnitude In order to preserve the financial integrity of the projects, and, thereby, to continue to provide the water necessary to preserve the health and safety of the persons residing in the affected areas, it is now necessary to provide such districts with additional financial flexibility to meet their financial commitments in a timely manner from financially feasible revenues, and it is, therefore, essential that this act go into immediate effect

An act to add Section 172c to the Penal Code, relating to alcoholic beverages, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 172c is added to the Penal Code, to read:

172c. The provisions of Section 172a shall not apply to the sale at auction of alcoholic beverages by a nonprofit organization at the California Museum of Science and Industry premises located at Exposition Park, Los Angeles, California.

SEC. 1. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The purpose of this act is to grant an exemption to permit the sale of alcoholic beverages. The exemption is needed for an auction to be held November 18, 1977, with the proceeds of the sale to benefit educational programs and facilities at the California Museum of Science and Industry. In order to conduct this auction it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1119

An act to add Section 84216 to the Government Code, relating to elections

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 84216 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84216. For purposes of this chapter, a loan received by a candidate or committee is a contribution unless the loan is received from a commercial lending institution in the ordinary course of business or it is clear from the surrounding circumstances that it is not made for political purposes A loan which is not a contribution, but which is used by a candidate or committee for political purposes, shall be reported in the manner described in Section 84210.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3695.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

3695.5. Such objection shall be accompanied by an application to purchase the property under Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 3771) of this part, which shall be filed with the board of supervisors and the tax collector before the date of the first publication of the notice of intended sale. If a nonprofit organization objects to the sale and before the date of sale applies in writing to the board of supervisors

The terms "nonprofit organization," "low-income persons" and "rehabilitation" shall have the same meaning in this section as in Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 3771).

SEC. 2. Section 3772.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

3772.5. As used in this chapter, "low-income persons" means persons and families whose income does not exceed 120 percent of area median income, with adjustments for family size, as determined from time to time by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development pursuant to subsection (f) of Section 8 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-383). SEC. 3. Section 3791.3 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

3791.3. Whenever property has been deeded to the state for taxes, whether or not the property is subject to or has been sold or deeded for taxes to a taxing agency other than the state, the state, county, any revenue district the taxes of which on the property are collected by county officers, a nonprofit organization proposing to rehabilitate and to sell to low-income persons, or a redevelopment agency created pursuant to the California Community Redevelopment Law, may purchase the property or any part thereof, including any right-of-way or other easement, pursuant to this chapter. A redevelopment agency, however, may only purchase such tax-deeded property located within a designated survey area.

SEC. 4. Section 3795.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

3795.5. In the case of an agreement involving a nonprofit organization, the Controller may establish conditions of sale, including reporting, to assure the completion of rehabilitation within a reasonable time and maximum benefit to low-income persons, and may provide for reconveyance if the conditions are not met as provided in Section 3807.5.

SEC. 5. Section 3797 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

3797. The notice of agreement shall state:

(a) A description of the property substantially as described in the agreement.

(b) The name of the last assessee of the property. To ascertain the name of the last assessee of the tax-deeded property an examination shall be made of the assessment of this property on the last equalized roll, or if this property does not appear thereon, the last previous roll on which it was assessed.

(c) That an agreement for the sale of the property or for an option to purchase it, or both, as the case may be, has been made by the board of supervisors of the county with the taxing agency or nonprofit organization named in the agreement and has been approved by the Controller.

(d) That a copy of the agreement is on file in the office of the board of supervisors

(e) If the right to redeem the property has not already been terminated, there shall also be a statement that unless the property is redeemed before it is sold, the right of redemption will cease.

SEC. 6. Section 3800 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read 3800. The cost of giving the notice of agreement shall be paid by the taxing agency or nonprofit organization by which the property is to be or may be purchased.

SEC 7 Section 3805 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read

(1) That the real property was duly sold and conveyed to the state for nonpayment of taxes which had been legally levied and were a lien on the property.

(2) The name of the purchaser.

(b) The deed may further specify any condition deemed necessary to effect compliance with the agreement, including, but not limited to, a condition that the real property be used by the taxing agency or nonprofit organization for the public use specified in the agreement.

SEC 8. Section 3807 5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

3807.5. If the agreement contained provisions for the pro rata division of the proceeds of a sale of the property or for its rehabilitation following sale to a nonprofit organization, and the property is not sold by the taxing agency or rehabilitated by the nonprofit organization purchasing the property within two years after the execution of the deed, and not within any extension of such period approved by the board of supervisors, the taxing agency or nonprofit organization shall execute a deed to the state reconveying to the state all the right, title and interest of the state in the property which such taxing agency or nonprofit organization obtained by the deed of the tax collector under the provisions of this chapter. Such deed shall be delivered to the county tax collector. Thereafter, such property shall be held as tax-deeded property by the state and the privilege of redemption is thereby restored.

The Controller shall provide uniform blanks on which such reconveyances shall be made. There shall be the same number of duplicates as is required for deeds to the state for taxes, and the same procedure shall be followed in recording such deeds as is provided by law for the recording of deeds to the state for taxes.

SEC. 9. Section 3811 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

3811. On execution of the deed to the taxing agency or nonprofit organization, and on receipt of a notice of resale of the property by the taxing agency the tax collector shall report the following within 10 days to the State Controller, assessor, and auditor:

(a) The name of the purchaser.

(b) The date of the deed to the taxing agency or nonprofit organization, or in the event of resale the date of the deed by the taxing agency.

CHAPTER 1121

An act to amend Section 14454 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14454 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14454. (a) The prepaid health plan shall be liable for all in-area and out-of-area emergency services which are required by the contract and rendered by a nonprepaid health plan provider. Payment for such services shall include treatment of emergency conditions and shall continue until such time as the enrollee may be transferred to any provider of the prepaid health plan.

(b) Where a dispute arises between the prepaid health plan and the nonprepaid health plan provider as to the liability of the prepaid health plan for such services, the nonprepaid health plan provider may submit the matter to the director for determination in the form of a claim documenting as fully as reasonably possible the nature of the emergency, the necessity for the treatment rendered, the appropriateness of the length of stay for inpatient care, the reason the patient could not have been transferred to a provider of the prepaid health plan, and including any response by the prepaid health plan to the claim which resulted in the dispute. The director shall, by regulation, provide for resolution of the dispute in a timely fashion and in a manner guaranteeing the procedural due process requirements of the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, except that the department shall use its own hearing officers. The hearing officer may be assisted by a physician. To the extent feasible, the director shall consolidate the claims of the nonprepaid health plan provider against the prepaid health plan.

In no event, shall the prepaid health plan or the nonprepaid health plan provider bill the enrollee for services which are or have been the subject of review by the director pursuant to this section.

(c) If the director determines that the prepaid health plan is liable for the emergency service, the plan shall reimburse the nonprepaid health plan provider within 30 days. If the prepaid health plan fails to reimburse the nonprepaid health plan provider within 30 days, the director shall arrange to set off the amount of the unpaid claim or claims from no fewer than two future capitation payments owed to the prepaid health plan by the department and the department shall forward such setoff or setoffs to the nonprepaid health plan provider. In making such arrangements to set off, the director shall consult with the affected prepaid health plan in an attempt to minimize the impact of such setoff or setoffs on cash flow. When the claim of the nonprepaid health plan provider is satisfied by setoff or setoffs, the director shall satisfy the claim only with the funds of the prepaid health plan and shall in no event use state funds to satisfy such a claim.

(d) Nothing in this section shall preclude prepaid health plans and nonprepaid health plan providers from entering into voluntary agreements to settle disputed claims for services by means of binding arbitration or by other means acceptable to both parties

SEC 2. The sum of eighty-three thousand dollars ($83,000) is hereby appropriated without regard to fiscal years from the General Fund to the State Department of Health for purposes of this act.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

At the earliest possible time, it is vital that current claims disputes be resolved between prepaid health plan and nonprepaid health plan providers under the Medi-Cal program Therefore, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect

An act to amend Sections 13959, 13964, and 13967 of, and to add Section 13969.1 to, the Government Code, and to amend Sections 1203 and 1203.1 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13959 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13959. It is in the public interest to indemnify and assist in the rehabilitation of those residents of the State of California who as the direct result of a crime suffer a pecuniary loss.

SEC. 2. Section 13964 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13964. After having heard the evidence relevant to the application for assistance, the board shall approve the application if a preponderance of the evidence shows that as a direct result of the crime the victim incurred an injury which resulted in a pecuniary loss. However, no victim shall be eligible for assistance under the provisions of this article if:

(a) The board finds that the victim or the person whose injury or death gave rise to the application knowingly and willingly participated in the commission of the crime;

(b) The victim or the person whose injury or death gave rise to the application failed to cooperate with a law enforcement agency in the apprehension and conviction of the criminal committing the crime;

(c) The board finds that the victim should not be allowed to recover because of the nature of his involvement in the events leading to the crime or the involvement of the persons whose injury or death gave rise to the application.

SEC. 3. Section 13967 of the Government Code is amended to read:

13967. Upon a person being convicted of a crime of violence committed in the State of California resulting in the injury or death of another person, if the court finds that the defendant has the present ability to pay a fine and finds that the economic impact of the fine upon the defendant's dependents will not cause such dependents to be dependent on public welfare the court shall, in addition to any other penalty, order the defendant to pay a fine commensurate with the offense committed, and with the probable economic impact upon the victim, of at least ten dollars ($10), but not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). In addition to any other penalty, upon a person being convicted of any other felony or misdemeanor there shall be levied a penalty assessment of ten dollars

($10) for each felony conviction and five dollars ($5) for each misdemeanor conviction upon every fine, penalty, and forfeiture imposed and collected by the courts. Any fine or penalty assessment imposed pursuant to this section shall not be subject to any penalty assessment imposed pursuant to Section 13521 of the Penal Code. The fine or penalty assessment imposed pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Indemnity Fund in the State Treasury, hereby continued in existence, and the proceeds of which shall be available for appropriation by the Legislature to indemnify persons filing claims pursuant to this article.

SEC. 4. Section 13969.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

13969.1. (a) The decisions of the board shall be in writing. Copies of the decisions shall be delivered to the applicant or to his representative personally or sent to them by mail. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this provision to assure reasonable notice of a decision of the board to an applicant, and it is not the intent of the Legislature to require the board to issue a formal opinion in any case.

(b) The board itself may order a reconsideration of all or part of the application for assistance on its own motion or on written request of the applicant or his representative. The board may not grant more than one such request on any application for assistance. The board shall not consider any such request filed with the board more than 30 days after the personal delivery or 60 days after the mailing of the original decision.

(c) Judicial review of a final decision made pursuant to this article may be had by filing a petition for a writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. The right to petition shall not be affected by the failure to seek reconsideration before the board. Such petition shall be filed as follows:

(1) Where no request for reconsideration is made, within 30 days of personal delivery or within 60 days of the mailing of the board's decision on the application for assistance.

(2) Where a timely request for reconsideration is filed and rejected by the board, within 30 days of personal delivery or within 60 days of the mailing of the notice of rejection

(3) Where a timely request for reconsideration is filed and granted by the board, or reconsideration is ordered by the board, within 30 days of personal delivery or within 60 days of the mailing of the final decision on the reconsidered application.

Section 1203 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203. (a) In every case in which a person is convicted of a felony and is eligible for probation, before judgment is pronounced, the court shall immediately refer the matter to the probation officer to investigate and report to the court, at a specified time, upon the circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior history and record of the person, which may be considered either in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment. The probation officer shall immediately investigate and make a written report to the court of his findings and recommendations, including his recommendations as to the granting or denying of probation and the conditions of probation, if granted. The time within which the report shall be made available and filed may be waived by written stipulation of the prosecuting and defense attorney which is filed with the court or an oral stipulation in open court which is made and entered upon the minutes of the court. At a time fixed by the court, the court shall hear and determine the application, if one has been made, or, in any case, the suitability of probation in the particular case At the hearing, the court shall consider any report of the probation officer and shall make a statement that it has considered such report which shall be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case If the court determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment prescribed by law or that the ends of justice would be subserved by granting probation to the person, it may place him on probation. If probation is denied, the clerk of the court shall immediately send a copy of the report to the Department of Corrections at the prison or other institution to which the person is delivered.

(b) If a defendant is not represented by an attorney, the court shall order the probation officer who makes the probation report to discuss its contents with the defendant

(c) In every case in which a person is convicted of a misdemeanor, the court may either refer the matter to the probation officer for an investigation and a report or summarily grant or deny probation If such a case is not referred to the probation officer, in sentencing the person, the court may consider any information concerning him which could have been included in a probation report The court shall inform the person of the information to be considered and permit him to answer or controvert it For this purpose, upon the request of the person, the court shall grant a continuance before the judgment is pronounced

(d) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served if the person is granted probation, probation shall not be granted to any of the following persons:

(1) Unless he had a lawful right to carry a deadly weapon, other than a firearm, at the time of the perpetration of the crime or his arrest, any person who has been convicted of arson, robbery, burglary, burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, assault with intent to commit murder, attempt to commit murder, trainwrecking, kidnapping, escape from the state prison, or a conspiracy to commit one or more of such crimes and was armed with such weapon at either of such times

(2) Any person who used or attempted to use a deadly weapon, other than a firearm, upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of the crime of which he has been convicted.

(3) Any person who willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture in the perpetration of the crime of which he has been convicted

(4) Any person who has been previously convicted twice in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony.

(5) Unless he has never been previously convicted once in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony, any person who has been convicted of burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, attempt to commit murder, assault with intent to commit murder, trainwrecking, extortion, kidnapping, escape from the state prison, a violation of Section 286, 288, or 288a, or a conspiracy to commit one or more of such crimes.

(6) Any person who has been previously convicted once in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony, if he committed any of the following acts:

(i) Unless he had a lawful right to carry a deadly weapon at the time of the perpetration of such previous crime or his arrest for such previous crime, he was armed with such weapon at either of such times.

(ii) He used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of such previous crime.

(iii) He willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture in the perpetration of such previous crime

(7) Any public official or peace officer of this state or any city, county, or other political subdivision who, in the discharge of the duties of his public office or employment, accepted or gave or offered to accept or give any bribe, embezzled public money, or was guilty of extortion.

(e) When probation is granted in a case which comes within the provisions of subdivision (d), the court shall specify the circumstances indicating that the interests of justice would best be served by such a disposition

(f) If a person is not eligible for probation, the judge may, in his discretion, refer the matter to the probation officer for an investigation of the facts relevant to the sentencing of the person. Upon such referral, the probation officer shall immediately investigate the circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior record and history of the person and make a written report to the court of his findings.

(g) No probationer shall be released to enter another state unless his case has been referred to the Administrator, Interstate Probation and Parole Compacts, pursuant to the Uniform Act for Out-of-State Probationer or Parolee Supervision (Article 3 (commencing with Section 11175) of Chapter 2 of Title 1 of Part 4).

SEC. 5. Section 1203.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.1. The court or judge thereof, in the order granting probation, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of the sentence and may direct that such suspension may continue for such period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine. The court, or judge thereof, in the order granting probation and as a condition thereof may imprison the defendant in the county jail for a period not exceeding the maximum time fixed by law in the instant case, provided, however, that where the maximum possible term of such sentence is five years or less, then such period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years; may fine the defendant in such sum not to exceed the maximum fine provided by law in such case; or may in connection with granting probation, impose either imprisonment in county jail, or fine, or both, or neither; may provide for reparation in proper cases; and may require bonds for the faithful observance and performance of any or all of the conditions of probation.

The court shall consider whether the defendant as a condition of probation shall make restitution to the victim or the Indemnity Fund if assistance has been granted to the victim pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 13959) of Chapter 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. In counties or cities and counties where road camps, farms, or other public work is available the court may place the probationer in such camp, farms, or other public work instead of in jail, and Section 25359 of the Government Code shall apply to probation and the court shall have the same power to require adult probationers to work, as prisoners confined in the county jail are required to work, at public work as therein provided; and supervisors of the several counties are hereby authorized to provide public work and to fix the scale of compensation of such adult probationers in their respective counties In all cases of probation the court is authorized to require as a condition of probation that the probationer go to work and earn money for the support of his dependents or to pay any fine imposed or reparation condition, to keep an account of his earnings, to report the same to the probation officer and apply such earnings as directed by the court

In all such cases if as a condition of probation a judge of the superior court sitting by authority of law elsewhere than at the county seat requires a convicted person to serve sentence at intermittent periods such sentence may be served on the order of the judge at the city jail nearest to the place at which the court is sitting, and the cost of his maintenance shall be a county charge.

The court may impose and require any or all of the above-mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine and conditions and other reasonable conditions, as it may determine are fitting and proper to the end that justice may be done, that amends may be made to society for the breach of the law, for any injury done to any person resulting from such breach and generally and specifically for the reformation and rehabilitation of the probationer, that should the probationer violate any of the terms or conditions imposed by the court in the instant matter, it shall have authority to modify and change any and all such terms and conditions and to reimprison the probationer in the county jail within the limitations of the penalty of the public offense involved. Upon the defendant being released from the county jail under the terms of probation as originally granted or any modification subsequently made, and in all cases where confinement in a county jail has not been a condition of the grant of probation, the court shall place the defendant or probationer in and under the charge of the probation officer of the court, for the period or term fixed for probation; provided, however, that upon the payment of any fine imposed and the fulfillment of all conditions of probation, probation shall cease at the end of the term of probation, or sooner, in the event of modification. In counties and cities and counties in which there are facilities for taking fingerprints, such marks of identification of each probationer must be taken and a record thereof kept and preserved.

Any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, all fines collected by a county probation officer in any of the courts of this state, as a condition of the granting of probation, or as a part of the terms of probation, shall be paid into the county treasury and placed in the general fund, for the use and benefit of the county.

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local governmental entities by this act are such that related costs are incurred as a part of their normal operating procedures

6966. The board may order the formation of the zone either without election or subject to confirmation by the voters upon the question of such formation. However, the board shall not order any such formation without an election if the number of written protests filed and not withdrawn is a number described in subdivision (b) of Section 6963.

6967. If the board does not order the formation of the proposed zone, an election on the question shall be conducted if, within 30 days of the date upon which the board did not order the formation, the board receives a petition requesting such an election signed by either of the following:

6970. No public agency shall form a zone which includes any territory already included within another zone

6971. No public agency shall form a zone if such formation will permit other land uses which are not consistent with the general plans, zoning ordinances, or other land use regulations of any county or city within which the proposed zone is located.

6972. After the formation of the zone pursuant to this article, all taxes levied to carry out the purposes of the zone shall be levied exclusively upon the property taxable in the zone by the public agency.

6973. If the board does not form a zone after the close of a hearing in accordance with Section 6967 and no petition is filed pursuant to Section 6967, or if the board abandons proceedings on the proposal to form a zone, or if the formation of a zone is not confirmed by the voters, no further proceeding shall be taken thereon. No application for a subsequent proposal involving any of the same territory and undertaken pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be considered or acted upon by the public agency for at least one year after the date of disapproval of, abandonment of, or election on the proceedings

Article 3. Powers

6975. An on-site wastewater disposal zone may be formed to achieve water quality objectives set by regional water quality control boards, to protect existing and future beneficial water uses, protect public health, and to prevent and abate nuisances. Whenever an on-site wastewater disposal zone has been formed pursuant to this chapter, the public agency shall have the powers set forth in this article, which powers shall be in addition to any other powers provided by law. A public agency shall exercise its powers on behalf of a zone.

6976 An on-site waste water disposal zone shall have the following powers:

(a) To collect, treat, reclaim, or dispose of waste water without the use of sanitary sewers or community sewage systems and without degrading water quality within or outside the zone

(b) To acquire, design, own, construct, install, operate, monitor, inspect, and maintain on-site wastewater disposal systems, not to exceed the number of systems specified pursuant to either Section 6960 or Section 6960.1, within the zone in a manner which will promote water quality, prevent the pollution, waste, and contamination of water, and abate nuisances.

(c) To conduct investigations, make analyses, and monitor conditions with regard to water quality within the zone.

(d) To adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations necessary to implement the purposes of the zone. Such rules and regulations may be adopted only after the board conducts a public hearing after giving public notice pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code.

6977. The district shall immediately do all such acts as are reasonably necessary to secure compliance with any federal, state, regional, or local law, order, regulation, or rule relating to water pollution or the discharge of pollutants, waste, or any other material within the area of the district. For such purpose, any authorized representative of the district, upon presentation of his credentials, or, if necessary under the circumstances, after obtaining an inspection warrant pursuant to Title 13 (commencing with Section 1822.50) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall have the right of entry to any premises on which a water pollution, waste, or contamination source, including, but not limited to, septic tanks, is located for the purpose of inspecting such source, including securing samples of discharges therefrom, or any records required to be maintained in connection therewith by federal, state, or local law, order, regulation,

6978. (a) Violation of any of the provisions of a rule or regulation adopted pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 6976 may be abated as a public nuisance by the board The board may by regulation establish a procedure for the abatement of such a nuisance and to assess the cost of such abatement to the violator If the violator maintains the nuisance upon real property in which he has a fee title interest, the assessment shall constitute a lien upon such real property in the manner provided in subdivision (b).

(b) The amount of any costs, which are incurred by the zone in abating such a nuisance upon real property, shall be assessed to such real property and shall be added to, and become part of, the annual taxes next levied upon the real property subject to abatement and shall constitute a lien upon that real property as of the same time and in the same manner as does the tax lien securing such annual taxes All laws applicable to the collection and enforcement of county ad valorem taxes shall be applicable to such assessment, except that if any real property to which such lien would attach has been transferred or conveyed to a bona fide purchaser for value, or if a lien of a bona fide encumbrancer for value has been created and attached thereon, prior to the date on which such delinquent charges appear on the assessment roll, then a lien which would otherwise be imposed by this section shall not attach to such real property and the delinquent and unpaid charges relating to such property shall be transferred to the unsecured roll for collection. Any amounts of such assessments collected are to be credited to the funds of the zone from which the costs of abatement were expended

6979 (a) The owner of any real property upon which is located an on-site wastewater disposal system, which system is subject to abatement as a public nuisance by the zone, may request the zone to replace or repair, as necessary, such system. If replacement or repair is feasible, the board may provide for the necessary replacement or repair work.

(b) The person or persons employed by the board to do the work shall have a lien, subject to the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 6978, for work done and materials furnished, and the work done and materials furnished shall be deemed to have been done and furnished at the request of the owner. The zone, in the discretion of the board, may pay all, or any part, of the cost or price of the work done and materials furnished; and, to the extent that the zone pays the cost or price of the work done and materials furnished, the zone shall succeed to and have all the rights, including, but not limited to, the lien, of such person or persons employed to do the work against the real property and the owner.

6980. A board may exercise all of the public agency's existing financial powers on behalf of a zone, excepting that any assessment or tax levied upon the real property of a zone shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 6978 and 6981.

6981. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a public agency may levy an assessment reasonably proportional to the benefits derived from the zone, as determined by the board, and the voters pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 (commencing with Section 2285) of Chapter 3 of Part 4 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. Such benefit assessment shall be in addition to any other charges, assessments, or taxes otherwise levied by the public agency upon the property in the zone.

SEC. 2. No appropriation is made by this act, nor is any obligation created thereby under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, for the reimbursement of any local agency for any costs that may be incurred by it in carrying on any program or performing any service required to be carried on or performed by it by this act because this act will be applied under limited circumstances and when so applied the requirements of the act will not result in significant identifiable increased costs.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14201.5 is added to the Financial Code, to read.

14201.5. (a) Amendments to the articles of incorporation of any credit union may be adopted by resolution of the board of directors, which is also adopted by a vote of a majority of the members of the credit union present, in person or by proxy, as provided in the credit union's bylaws, at any regular or special meeting of the shareholders for which notice of such proposed amendments has been given; provided, however, that a minimum vote of at least 10 percent of the entire membership entitled to vote on the question votes in favor of the amendment and those voting in favor of the amendment constitute a majority of the members participating in the vote. The 10-percent minimum vote may be obtained by accumulating the votes obtained at the meeting, in person or by proxy, and by a mail vote which shall be taken 30 days prior or subsequent to the meeting.

(b) The commissioner may approve the amendment according to the resolution adopted by the board of directors if approved by less than 10 percent of the entire membership as provided in this section if he finds, upon the written and verified application filed by the board of directors, that (1) notice of the meeting called to consider the amendment was mailed to each member entitled to vote upon the question, (2) such notice disclosed the purpose of the meeting and properly informed the membership that approval of the amendment might be sought pursuant to this section and (3) a majority of the votes cast upon the question were in favor of the amendment.

SEC. 2. Section 14852 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

14852. No credit union shall impose late charges in case of failure of members to make payments when due, in excess of 3 percent of the payment due with a minimum of not less than five cents ($0.05). Such charge may be made only once for each delinquent payment and may not exceed five dollars ($5).

SEC. 3. Section 14904 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

14904. (a) No credit union shall make a loan in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to any person under 18 years of age, unless such loan is secured in the manner provided for in subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 14907.

(b) No credit union shall make a loan which will result in any member being obligated to the credit union in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or 10 percent of its paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus, whichever is greater, but not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) plus the then unpledged shares, except that credit unions with assets of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or more may make loans to members resulting in the member being obligated to the credit union up to but not exceeding the amounts indicated in the following schedule:

Paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus	Maximum obligation to credit union per member

$1,000,000 but less than $2,000,000	$12,000 plus the amount secured by shares of the credit union or certificates for funds
$2,000,000 but less than $3,000,000	$15,000 plus the amount secured by shares of the credit union or certificates for funds
$3,000,000 or more	⅔ of 1% of the paid-in and unimpaired capital and surplus of the credit union plus the amount secured by shares of the credit union or certificates for funds, not to exceed a maximum total loan of $100,000 per member or such greater amount as the commissioner, in his discretion, may permit.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), no credit union shall make loans to any one family whereby total liability of the family to the credit union would be greater than double the amount permitted by the above schedule. "Family as used in this section shall mean persons related by blood or marriage and residing in the same household.

CHAPTER 1128

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

SECTION 1. Section 1279 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1279. Each individual eligible under this chapter who is unemployed in any week shall be paid with respect to that week an unemployment compensation benefit in an amount equal to his weekly benefit amount less the amount of wages in excess of twenty-one dollars ($21) payable to him for services rendered during that week. The benefit payment, if not a multiple of one dollar ($1), shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1). For the purpose of this section only "wages" includes any and all compensation for personal services whether performed as an employee or as an independent contractor or as a juror or as a witness, but does not include any payments, regardless of their designation, made by a city of this state to an elected official thereof as an incident to such public office.

SEC 2. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there by an appropriation made by this act because the duties, obligations, or responsibilities imposed on local government by this act are minor in nature and will not cause any financial burden to local government.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977. Filed by Secretary of State September 28, 1977.]

SECTION 1. Section 22651 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 73 of the Statutes of 1977, is amended to read:

22651. Any member of the California Highway Patrol; any regularly employed and salaried deputy of the sheriff's office of a county in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of a police department in a city in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of the University of California Police Department on or about a campus or in or about other grounds or properties owned, operated, controlled, or administered by the Regents of the University of California on or in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of a California state university and college police department on or about a campus or in or about other grounds or properties owned, operated, controlled, or administered by the Trustees of the California State University and Colleges on or in which a vehicle is located, or any regularly employed and salaried employee, who is engaged in directing traffic or enforcing parking laws and regulations, of a city or a county in which a vehicle is located; may remove a vehicle from a highway under any of the following circumstances:

(a) When any vehicle is left unattended upon any bridge, viaduct, or causeway or in any tube or tunnel where the vehicle constitutes an obstruction to traffic

(b) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway in such a position as to obstruct the normal movement of traffic or in such a condition as to create a hazard to other traffic upon the highway.

(c) When any vehicle is found upon a highway and report has previously been made that the vehicle has been stolen or complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that the vehicle has been embezzled.

(d) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to block the entrance to a private driveway and it is impractical to move such vehicle from in front of the driveway to another point on the highway.

(e) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to prevent access by firefighting equipment to a fire hydrant and it is impracticable to move such vehicle from in front of the fire hydrant to another point on the highway.

(f) When any vehicle, except any highway maintenance or construction equipment, is left unattended for more than four hours upon the right-of-way of any freeway which has full control of access and no crossings at grade.

(g) When the person or persons in charge of a vehicle upon a highway are by reason of physical injuries or illness incapacitated to such an extent as to be unable to provide for its custody or removal.

(h) When an officer arrests any person driving or in control of a vehicle for an alleged offense and the officer is by this code or other law required or permitted to take, and does take, the person arrested before a magistrate without unnecessary delay.

(i) When any vehicle registered in a foreign jurisdiction is found upon a highway and it is known to have been issued five or more notices of parking violation over a period of five or more days, to which the owner or person in control of the vehicle has not responded, the vehicle may be impounded until such person furnishes to the impounding law enforcement agency evidence of his identity and an address within this state at which he can be located and satisfactory evidence that bail has been deposited for all notices of parking violation issued for the vehicle. A notice of parking violation issued to such a vehicle shall be accompanied by a warning that repeated violations may result in the impounding of the vehicle. In lieu of requiring satisfactory evidence that such bail has been deposited, the impounding law enforcement agency may, in its discretion, issue a notice to appear for the offenses charged, as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 40500) of Chapter

2 of Division 17 In lieu of either furnishing satisfactory evidence that such bail has been deposited or accepting the notice to appear, such person may demand to be taken without unnecessary delay before a magistrate within the county in which the offenses charged are alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of the offenses and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where the vehicle is impounded.

(j) When any vehicle is found illegally parked and there are no license plates or other evidence of registration displayed, the vehicle may be impounded until the owner or person in control of the vehicle furnishes the impounding law enforcement agency evidence of his identity and an address within this state at which he can be located.

(k) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway for 72 or more consecutive hours in violation of a local ordinance authorizing removal.

(l) When any vehicle is illegally parked on a highway in violation of any local ordinance forbidding standing or parking and the use of a highway or a portion thereof is necessary for the cleaning, repair, or construction of the highway, or for the installation of underground utilities, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance.

(m) Wherever the use of the highway or any portion thereof is authorized by local authorities for a purpose other than the normal flow of traffic or for the movement of equipment, articles, or structures of unusual size, and the parking of any vehicle would prohibit or interfere with such use or movement, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance

(n) Whenever any vehicle is parked or left standing where local authorities by resolution or ordinance have prohibited such parking and have authorized the removal of vehicles. No vehicle may be removed unless signs are posted giving notice of the removal.

SEC. 2 Section 22651 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 73 of the Statutes of 1977, is amended to read:

22651. Any member of the California Highway Patrol; any regularly employed and salaried deputy of the sheriff's office of a county in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of a police department in a city in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of the University of California Police Department on or about a campus or in or about other grounds or properties owned, operated, controlled, or administered by the Regents of the University of California on or in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried officer of a California state university and college police department on or about a campus or in or about other grounds or properties owned, operated, controlled, or administered by the Trustees of the California State University and Colleges on or in which a vehicle is located; any regularly employed and salaried employee, who is engaged in directing traffic or enforcing parking laws and regulations, of a city or a county in which a vehicle is located; or any police officer appointed or employed by the board of directors of a regional park district on or about lands, grounds, or properties owned, operated, or administered by the regional park district on or in which a vehicle is located; may remove a vehicle from a highway under any of the following circumstances.

(a) When any vehicle is left unattended upon any bridge, viaduct, or causeway or in any tube or tunnel where the vehicle constitutes an obstruction to traffic

(b) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway in such a position as to obstruct the normal movement of traffic or in such a condition as to create a hazard to other traffic upon the highway.

(c) When any vehicle is found upon a highway and report has previously been made that the vehicle has been stolen or complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that the vehicle has been embezzled.

(d) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to block the entrance to a private driveway and it is impractical to move such vehicle from in front of the driveway to another point on the highway

(e) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to prevent access by firefighting equipment to a fire hydrant and it is impracticable to move such vehicle from in front of the fire hydrant to another point on the highway.

(f) When any vehicle, except any highway maintenance or construction equipment, is left unattended for more than four hours upon the right-of-way of any freeway which has full control of access and no crossings at grade.

(g) When the person or persons in charge of a vehicle upon a highway are by reason of physical injuries or illness incapacitated to such an extent as to be unable to provide for its custody or removal.

(h) When an officer arrests any person driving or in control of a vehicle for an alleged offense and the officer is by this code or other law required or permitted to take, and does take, the person arrested before a magistrate without unnecessary delay.

(i) When any vehicle registered in a foreign jurisdiction is found upon a highway and it is known to have been issued five or more notices of parking violation over a period of five or more days, to which the owner or person in control of the vehicle has not responded, the vehicle may be impounded until such person furnishes to the impounding law enforcement agency evidence of his identity and an address within this state at which he can be located and satisfactory evidence that bail has been deposited for all notices of parking violation issued for the vehicle. A notice of parking violation issued to such a vehicle shall be accompanied by a warning that repeated violations may result in the impounding of the vehicle. In lieu of requiring satisfactory evidence that such bail has been deposited, the impounding law enforcement agency may, in its discretion, issue a notice to appear for the offenses charged, as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 40500) of Chapter 2 of Division 17. In lieu of either furnishing satisfactory evidence that such bail has been deposited or accepting the notice to appear, such person may demand to be taken without unnecessary delay before a magistrate within the county in which the offenses charged are alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of the offenses and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where the vehicle is impounded.

(j) When any vehicle is found illegally parked and there are no license plates or other evidence of registration displayed, the vehicle may be impounded until the owner or person in control of the vehicle furnishes the impounding law enforcement agency evidence of his identity and an address within this state at which he can be located

(k) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway for 72 or more consecutive hours in violation of a local ordinance authorizing removal.

(l) When any vehicle is illegally parked on a highway in violation of any local ordinance forbidding standing or parking and the use of a highway or a portion thereof is necessary for the cleaning, repair, or construction of the highway, or for the installation of underground utilities, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance.

(m) Wherever the use of the highway or any portion thereof is authorized by local authorities for a purpose other than the normal flow of traffic or for the movement of equipment, articles, or structures of unusual size, and the parking of any vehicle would prohibit or interfere with such use or movement, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance.

(n) Whenever any vehicle is parked or left standing where local authorities by resolution or ordinance have prohibited such parking and have authorized the removal of vehicles. No vehicle may be removed unless signs are posted giving notice of the removal.

SEC. 3. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Senate Bill No. 606 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1978, both bills amend Section 22651 of the Vehicle Code, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill No. 606, that the amendments to Section 22651 proposed by both bills be given effect and incorporated in Section 22651 in the form set forth in Section 2 of this act. Therefore, Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if this bill and Senate Bill No. 606 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1978, both amend Section 22651, and this bill is chaptered after Senate Bill

No 606, in which case Section 1 of this act shall not become operative.

SEC 4 Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant, identifiable cost changes

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 5 (commencing with Section 19625) of Chapter 6 of Part 2 of Division 10 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

For the purpose of providing blind persons with remunerative employment, enlarging the economic opportunities of the blind, and stimulating the blind to greater efforts in striving to make themselves self-supporting, blind persons licensed under this article shall be authorized to operate vending facilities on any property within this state as provided in this article. In order to administer this article, the director shall establish the Business Enterprises Program for the Blind.

(a) With respect to vending facilities on state property, priority shall be given to such blind persons, including the assignment of vending machine income as provided in this article. As used in this article, "state property" means all real property, or part thereof, owned, leased, rented, or otherwise controlled or occupied by any department or other agency or body of this state, but does not include any of the following:

(b) With respect to vending on federal property within this state, as provided in federal law known as the Randolph-Sheppard Act, including the amendments thereto entitled, "Randolph-Sheppard Act Amendments of 1974," this article is intended to conform thereto and is to be of no force or effect if, and to the extent that, any provision of this article or any regulation adopted under this article is in conflict therewith.

(c) With respect to all other property within this state, whether owned or controlled privately or by any county, city, city and county, or other political subdivision, the department shall take all feasible steps to encourage and establish thereon vending by blind persons licensed under this article and is authorized to that end to enter into appropriate agreements with the entities or persons owning or controlling such other property, provided that all such agreements shall be in writing and shall be in conformity with the provisions of this article.

(1) That priority is given to blind persons licensed under this article, including the assignment of vending machine income as provided in this article.

(2) Whenever feasible, one or more vending facilities shall be established on all state property to the extent that any such facility or facilities would not adversely affect the interests of the state. Any limitation on the placement or operation of a vending facility based on a finding that such placement or operation would adversely affect the interests of the state shall be fully justified in writing to the director, who shall determine whether such limitation is justified. The Director of General Services is authorized to construct and install or permit the construction and installation of a vending facility on any property owned or occupied by the state. In the case of leased space, costs shall be shared by agencies occupying such space as determined by the Director of General Services.

(b) The director is authorized, in consultation with the head of the department or agency in control of the maintenance, operation, and protection of the state property on which the facility is to be located, but subject to regulations pursuant to subdivision (a), to select a location for such facility and the type of facility to be provided.

(c) Each department or agency shall provide notice to the director of its plans for occupation, acquisition, renovation or relocation of a property adequate to permit the director to determine in accordance with regulations developed pursuant to subdivision (a) whether such property includes a satisfactory site or sites for a vending facility.

(d) After January 1, 1978, no department or agency of the state shall undertake to acquire by ownership, rent or lease, or to otherwise occupy, in whole or in part, any property unless, after consultation with the head of such department or agency, it is determined by the director in accordance with regulations developed pursuant to subdivision (a) either (1) that such property includes a satisfactory site or sites for the location and operation of a vending facility by a blind person; or (2) that, if a building is to be constructed, substantially altered or renovated, or, in the case of a building that is already occupied on such date by such department or agency, is to be substantially altered or renovated for use by such department or agency, the design for such construction, substantial alteration or renovation includes a satisfactory site or sites for the location and operation of a vending facility by a blind person.

electrical and plumbing outlets, and such other facilities as the director may by regulation prescribe, for the location and operation of a vending facility by a blind person.

(d) All vending machine income which accrues to the department shall be used to establish retirement or pension plans or to provide health insurance contributions or paid sick leave or vacation time, subject to a vote of blind vendors as provided under paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of Section 19629. 19633. The vendor of each vending facility is subject to the provisions of any ordinance of the county or city in which the facility is located requiring a license or permit for the conduct of such business, but any such license or permit shall be issued free of charge to a blind person licensed by the department.

19634 Blind persons who are authorized to operate vending facilities under this article may keep their guide dogs with them on the property while operating the vending facilities.

Any blind vendor who is dissatisfied with any action arising from the operation or administration of the vending facility program may submit to the department a request for a full evidentiary hearing, which shall be provided by the department. If such blind vendor is dissatisfied with any action taken or decision rendered as a result of such hearing, he may file a complaint with the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare who shall convene a panel to arbitrate the dispute pursuant to Section 6 of the Randolph-Sheppard Act, and the decision of such panel shall be final and binding on the parties except as otherwise provided in that act

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 2510 is added to the Education Code, to read

2510. The maximum tax rate which may be levied by, or on behalf of, a county superintendent of schools may be increased by a rate which will provide the amount necessary to pay costs mandated by the courts, as defined in Section 2205 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to final court orders issued after January 1, 1978, to pay costs mandated by the federal government, as defined in Section 2206 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to any federal statutes or regulations enacted or issued after January 1, 1978, and to pay costs mandated by an initiative enactment, as defined in Section 2206 5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, by means of any initiative statutes or amendments adopted or enacted after January 1, 1978

The Controller may audit any rate imposed under this section and any data related to the establishment thereof If the Controller determines that such rate exceeds a rate which would be necessary to meet the federally mandated, initiative-mandated, or court-mandated costs, or if the Controller determines that such rate has been levied to pay any cost mandated by a court which has resulted from litigation entered into in order to avoid the property tax rate limits established by this chapter, or if the Controller determines that a county superintendent of schools has erroneously concluded that the county superintendent is subject to costs mandated by the courts or costs mandated by the federal government, the Controller shall immediately notify the county superintendent of schools of such determination, and the county superintendent of schools shall reduce the property tax rate by an appropriate amount for the next succeeding fiscal year. In the event that a county superintendent of schools fails to make such a reduction in the property tax rate, the Controller shall request the Attorney General to bring an action under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1084) of Title 1 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure to force a reduction in the rate.

An additional property tax heretofore or hereafter levied pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be invalidated and may continue to be levied to meet recurring costs resulting from any program or activity undertaken or implemented by a county superintendent of schools in order to comply with a mandate by the federal government, by initiative enactment, or the courts, notwithstanding the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of such mandate, if the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of the mandate occurred or occurs after the county superintendent of schools has made such additional levy to satisfy continuing contractual obligations entered into in order to undertake, implement or continue the mandated program or activity

The additional rate shall not continue to be levied if the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of the mandate is upheld by a final court order.

SEC. 2. Section 42243.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

42243.6. The revenue limit of a school district, as determined under Section 42238, may be increased by the amount necessary to pay costs mandated by the courts, as defined in Section 2205 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to final court orders issued after January 1, 1978, to pay costs mandated by the federal government, as defined in Section 2206 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to any federal statutes or regulations enacted or issued after January 1, 1978, and to pay costs mandated by an initiative enactment, as defined in Section 2206.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, by means of any initiative statutes or amendments adopted or enacted after January 1, 1978.

The Controller may audit any revenue limit increase under this section and any data related to the establishment thereof. If the Controller determines that such limit exceeds a limit which would be necessary to meet the federally mandated, initiative-mandated, or court-mandated costs, or if the Controller determines that such limit has been increased to pay any cost mandated by a court which has resulted from litigation entered into in order to avoid the revenue limits established by this chapter or if the Controller determines that a school district has erroneously concluded that it is subject to costs mandated by the courts or costs mandated by the federal government, the Controller shall immediately notify the governing board of the school district of such determination, and the school district shall reduce its revenue limit by an appropriate amount for the next succeeding fiscal year. In the event that a school district fails to make such a reduction in its revenue limit, the Controller shall request the Attorney General to bring an action under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1084) of Title 1 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure to force a reduction in the limit.

An increase in the revenue limit heretofore or hereafter established pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be invalidated and may continue to be in effect to meet recurring costs resulting from any program or activity undertaken or implemented by a school district in order to comply with a mandate by the federal government, by initiative enactment, or the courts, notwithstanding the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of such mandate, if the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of the mandate occurred or occurs after the school district has increased its revenue limit to satisfy continuing contractual obligations entered into in order to undertake, implement or continue the mandated program or activity.

The increase in the revenue limit shall not continue in effect if the reversal, repeal, stay, or invalidation of the mandate is upheld by a final court order.

SEC. 3. Section 85122 is added to the Education Code, to read.

85122. The maximum tax rate which may be levied by, or on behalf of, a community college district may be increased by a rate which will provide the amount necessary to pay costs mandated by the courts, as defined in Section 2205 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to final court orders issued after January 1, 1978, to pay costs mandated by the federal government, as defined in Section 2206 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, pursuant to any federal statutes or regulations enacted or issued after January 1, 1978, and to pay costs mandated by initiative enactment, as defined in Section 2206.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, by means of any initiative statutes or amendments adopted or enacted after January 1, 1978.

The Controller may audit any rate imposed under this section and any data related to the establishment thereof. If the Controller determines that such rate exceeds a rate which would be necessary to meet the federally mandated, initiative-mandated, or court-mandated costs, or if the Controller determines that such rate has been levied to pay any cost mandated by a court which has resulted from litigation entered into in order to avoid the property tax rate limits established by this chapter, or if the Controller determines that a community college district has erroneously concluded that it is subject to costs mandated by the courts or costs mandated by the federal government, the Controller shall immediately notify the governing board of the community college district of such determination, and the district shall reduce its property tax rate by an appropriate amount for the next succeeding fiscal year. In the event that a district fails to make such a reduction in its property tax rate, the Controller shall request the Attorney General to bring an action under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1084) of Title 1 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure to force a reduction in the rate.

CHAPTER 1140

An act to add Part 6 (commencing with Section 35800) to Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to discrimination in the financing of housing.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Part 6 (commencing with Section 35800) is added to Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

PART 6. FINANCIAL DISCRIMINATION

CHAPTER 1. FINDINGS AND DECLARATIONS OF PURPOSE AND POLICY

35800. This part shall be known and may be cited as the The Housing Financial Discrimination Act of 1977.

35801. The Legislature finds and declares:

(a) The subject of housing is of vital statewide importance to the health, safety, and welfare of the residents of the state.

(b) A healthy housing market, where residents of this state have a choice of housing opportunities and where the housing consumer may effectually choose within a free market place, is necessary to achieve a healthy state economy.

(c) The equities that California residents accumulate in family homes must be protected and conserved.

(d) The Legislature has the responsibility to direct the discontinuance of injurious practices.

(e) With respect to certain geographic areas, financial institutions have sometimes denied financial assistance or approved assistance on terms less favorable than are usually offered in other geographic areas, regardless of the creditworthiness of the applicant or the condition of the real-property security offered, and this practice has the following effects:

(1) Contributes to the decline of available family housing in such areas and is likely to continue to do so.

(2) Limits the choice of housing opportunities and inhibits the operation of a healthy housing market in such areas.

(3) Leads to the abandonment of such areas.

(4) Adversely affects the health, welfare, and safety of the residents of this state.

(5) Undermines the value of the equity of current owners of property in such areas.

(6) Inhibits the granting of amortized loans.

(7) Perpetuates racially and economically segregated neighborhoods and geographic areas.

(f) The practice of denying mortgage loans or adversely varying the terms of such loans because of conditions, characteristics, or trends in a neighborhood or geographic area that are unrelated to the creditworthiness of the applicant or the value of the real property security offered is against public policy.

35802. The purposes of this part include the following:

(a) To prevent discrimination in the provision of financial assistance for financing or refinancing the purchase, construction, rehabilitation, or improvement of housing accommodations because of conditions, characteristics, or trends in the neighborhood or geographic area surrounding the security property.

(b) To encourage increased lending in neighborhoods or geographic areas in which conventional residential mortgage financing has been unavailable.

(c) To increase the availability of housing accommodations to creditworthy persons

(d) To ensure the supply of decent, safe housing.

(e) To prevent the abandonment and decay of neighborhoods and geographic areas

35803. This part shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the health, welfare, and peace of the people of this state.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITIONS

35805. As used in this part·

(a) "Agency" means the Business and Transportation Agency.

(e) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency

CHAPTER 3 PROHIBITIONS AND ENFORCEMENT

35810. No financial institution shall discriminate in the availability of, or in the provision of, financial assistance for the purpose of purchasing, constructing, rehabilitating, improving, or refinancing housing accommodations due, in whole or in part, to the consideration of conditions, characteristics, or trends in the neighborhood or geographic area surrounding the housing accommodation, unless the financial institution can demonstrate that such consideration in the particular case is required to avoid an unsafe and unsound business practice

35812. No financial institution shall consider the racial, ethnic, religious, or national origin composition of a neighborhood or geographic area surrounding a housing accommodation or whether or not such composition is undergoing change, or is expected to undergo change, in appraising a housing accommodation or in determining whether or not, and under what terms and conditions, to provide financial assistance for the purpose of purchasing, constructing, rehabilitating, improving, or refinancing a housing accommodation No financial institution shall utilize appraisal practices that are inconsistent with the provisions of this part

35813 Nothing in this part shall (1) require a financial institution to provide financial assistance if it is clearly evident that occupancy of the housing accommodation would create an imminent threat to the health or safety of the occupant or (2) be construed to preclude a financial institution from considering the fair market value of the property which will secure the proposed loan.

35814. The secretary shall issue such rules, regulations, guidelines, and orders as are necessary to interpret and enforce the provisions of this part and to affirmatively further the provisions of this part. The secretary may delegate the responsibilities imposed by this section to one or more departments within the agency that license persons or organizations engaged in a business related to, or affecting compliance with, this part

35815. The secretary or the secretary's designee shall monitor and investigate the lending patterns and practices of financial institutions for compliance with this part, including the lending patterns and practices for housing accommodations which are not occupied by the owner. If a finding is made that such patterns or practices violate the provisions of this part the secretary or the secretary's designee shall take such action as will effectuate the purposes of this part. In addition to other remedies provided by this part or other provisions of law, the secretary may recommend to the State Treasurer that state funds not be deposited in a financial institution where the secretary has made a finding that such financial institution has engaged in a lending pattern and practice which violates the provisions of this part

CHAPTER 4 COMPLAINT RESOLUTION

35820. Any applicant for a real estate loan in connection with a housing accommodation claimed to be aggrieved by an alleged violation of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 35810) of this part, or any rule or regulation adopted thereunder, may file a complaint with the secretary.

35821. Immediately upon receipt of the complaint, the secretary shall endeavor to eliminate any alleged unlawful practice by conference, conciliation, or persuasion.

35822. If, in accordance with procedures established for the resolution of complaints by the secretary, and within 30 days of receiving the complaint, the secretary finds that a financial institution has engaged in any unlawful practice as defined in this part, the secretary shall state in a written decision his or her findings of fact and shall cause such financial institution to be served with a copy of the decision and an order issued by the secretary requiring it to cease and desist from such practice and to take one of the following steps as, in the judgment of the secretary, will effectuate the purposes of this part:

(a) The making of the financial assistance or the making of the financial assistance on nondiscriminatory terms; or

(b) The payment of damages to the complainant in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), if the secretary finds that effective relief under subdivision (a) is no longer available.

The secretary may require a report of the manner of compliance.

If the secretary finds that a financial institution has not engaged in any practice which constitutes a violation of this part, the secretary shall issue a written decision incorporating his findings of fact and shall cause to be served upon the complainant and the financial institution involved a copy of the decision.

35823. The decision of the secretary shall be final unless, within ten days from the date of receipt thereof, the complainant or financial institution files a written request with the secretary for a formal administrative hearing. Upon receipt of such a written request, the secretary shall file a copy thereof with the Office of Administrative Hearings. Within 20 days of receipt of the copy of such request, the Office of Administrative Hearings shall commence a hearing on the merits pursuant to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, except that the decision of the hearing officer shall be a final decision and binding upon the secretary. The decision shall be in accordance with the provisions of Section 35822 and shall be rendered within 45 days of receipt of the copy of the request for a hearing by the Office of Administrative Hearings. The secretary shall represent the complainant at such hearing if the secretary's decision rendered pursuant to Section 35822 was in favor of the complainant.

Judicial review may be obtained by the complainant or the financial institution by filing a petition for writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure. In any such judicial proceeding, the court may exercise its independent judgment on the evidence included in the record of the administrative hearing and may additionally consider evidence which was improperly excluded by the hearing officer and any other relevant evidence not included in the record of the administrative hearing which the court finds the offering party could not, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, have produced at the administrative hearing. The court may in its discretion award costs or reasonable attorney fees, or both, to the complainant if the complainant is the prevailing party, without regard to whether such judicial action is brought by the complainant or by the financial institution.

CHAPTER 5. MISCELLANEOUS

35830. In order to further the purposes of this part, financial institutions shall notify all applicants at the time of written application for financial assistance of the prohibitions enumerated in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 35810) and of the right of review provided by Section 35820. Such notice shall include the address of the secretary, or the secretary's designee, and where complaints may be filed and questions may be asked. Such notice shall be in at least 10-point type and shall also be posted in a conspicuous place for public inspection.

35831. The provisions of this part, including rules, regulations, guidelines, and orders issued pursuant to this part, shall not affect the validity of any prohibitions or requirements pertaining to the activity of financial institutions that arise from other provisions of law relating to discrimination in lending. Rules, regulations, guidelines, and orders issued pursuant to this part shall not be in any manner contrary to, or inconsistent with, the purposes of this part.

35832 The provisions of this part shall be liberally construed in order to effectuate the purposes of this part.

35833. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this part or application thereof to any person, financial institution, or circumstance shall, for any reason, be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this part and the application thereof to other persons, financial institutions or circumstances but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person, financial institution, or circumstance involved.

CHAPTER 1141

An act to amend Section 38261 of, and to add Section 38261 2 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to developmental disabilities, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 3 of Assembly Bill No 865 from $15,000,000 to $5,000,000

This will provide sufficient funds until all client assessments are completed and final cost estimates are determined

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 865

EDMUND G BROWN JR , Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 38261 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read.

38261. By July 1, 1977, and each year thereafter, the State Department of Health shall establish rates, which shall be reviewed by the state council. Such rates shall annually be proposed to the Legislature by March 1 and shall be operative on July 1 of each year, subject to the appropriation of sufficient funds for such purpose in the Budget Act. In establishing rates to be paid for out-of-home care, the State Department of Health shall include each of the cost elements in this section as follows:

(a) Rates established for all facilities shall include an adequate amount to care for "basic living needs" of a person with developmental disabilities. "Basic living needs" are defined to include housing (shelter, utilities, and furnishings), food, and personal care. The amount required for basic living needs shall be calculated each year as the average cost of an additional normal child, between the age of 12–17, living at home. The amount for basic living needs shall be adjusted depending on the size of the out-of-home facility These amounts shall be adjusted annually to reflect cost-of-living changes. A redetermination of basic living costs shall be undertaken every three years by the State Department of Health, using the best available estimating methods.

(b) Rates established for all facilities that provide direct supervision for persons with developmental disabilities shall include an amount for "direct supervision." The cost of "direct supervision" shall reflect the ability of the persons in the facility to function with minimal, moderate, or intensive supervision Minimal supervision means that a developmentally disabled person needs the assistance of other persons with certain daily activities. Moderate supervision means that a developmentally disabled person needs the assistance of other persons with daily activities most of the time. Intensive supervision means that all the personal and physical needs of a developmentally disabled person are provided by other persons The individual program plan developed pursuant to Section 38215 shall determine the amount of "direct supervision" required for each individual. The cost of "direct supervision" is calculated as the wage costs of care-giving staff depending on the needs of the person with developmental disabilities These rates shall be adjusted annually to reflect wage changes and shall comply with all federal regulations for hospitals and residential-care establishments under provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(c) Rates established for all facilities that provide "special services" for persons with developmental disabilities shall include an amount to pay for such "special services" for each person receiving special services. "Special services" include medical and dental care and therapeutic, educational, training, or other services required in the individual program plan of each person. Facilities shall be paid for providing special services for each individual to the extent that such services are specified in the person's individual program plan and the facility is designated provider of such special services. Rates of payment for special services shall be the same as prevailing rates paid for similar services in the area.

(d) To the extent applicable, rates established for facilities shall include a reasonable amount for "unallocated services." Such costs shall be determined using generally accepted accounting principles "Unallocated services" means the indirect costs of managing a facility and includes costs of managerial personnel, facility operation, maintenance and repair, employee benefits, taxes, interest, insurance, depreciation, and general and administrative support If a facility serves other persons in addition to developmentally disabled persons, unallocated services expenses shall be reimbursed under the provision of this section, only for the proportion of the costs associated with the care of developmentally disabled persons.

(e) Rates established for facilities shall include an amount to reimburse facilities for the depreciation of "mandated capital improvements and equipment" as established in the state's uniform accounting manual. For purposes of this section, "mandated capital improvements and equipment" are only those remodeling and equipment costs incurred by a facility because an agency of government has required such remodeling or equipment as a condition for the use of the facility as a provider of out-of-home care to persons with developmental disabilities.

(f) When applicable, rates established for proprietary facilities shall include a reasonable "proprietary fee."

(g) Rates established for all facilities shall include as a "factor" an amount to reflect differences in the cost of living for different geographic areas in the state.

SEC. 2. Section 38261.2 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

38261.2. The Legislative Analyst shall conduct a study of the feasibility of establishing an independent rate-setting commission responsible for the establishment of rates and fees for community care facilities as defined in Section 1502, and health facilities, as defined in Section 1250, for developmentally disabled persons and report thereon to the Legislature no later than March 1, 1978. The study shall evaluate the feasibility of adopting a system similar to the rate-setting system for public utilities in California.

SEC. 3. The sum of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Department of Health for expenditure during the 1977–78 fiscal year for the purpose of paying rates for out-of-home care pursuant to the Lanterman Developmental Disabilities Services Act (Division 25 (commencing with Section 38000), of the Health and Safety Code) in augmentation of Item 253 of the Budget Act of 1977 (Chapter 219, Statutes of 1977). It is the intent of the Legislature in making this appropriation to replace moneys not included in Item 253 of the Budget Act of 1977 because of the underestimation by the State Department of Health of the number of developmentally disabled clients of regional centers in out-of-home placement who would require more than basic care and supervision

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are·

In order for the rates to be established for financing community living facilities for the developmentally disabled and be effective at the start of the 1977–78 fiscal year, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

(b) If the worker contributions required by Section 984 with respect to cash tips and cash gratuities exceed the amount of worker contributions which can be collected by the employer from the wages of the worker, the excess shall be paid by the worker, except as provided by Section 1088.5. The worker shall pay the excess to the department within 30 days from his receipt of the written statement furnished by his employer pursuant to Section 1088.5. If the worker

If the employer fails to furnish the statement as required by this section and authorized regulations, he shall be liable for the excess of the worker contributions.

SEC. 8. The provisions of this act shall be operative with respect to cash tips and cash gratuities received by a worker on and after January 1, 1978.

The Director of Employment Development shall approve any voluntary plan under this section as to which he or she finds that all of the following exist:

CHAPTER 1144

An act to add Section 25524.25 to the Public Resources Code, relating to nuclear powerplants, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. Section 25524.25 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

25524.25. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, the commission shall, no later than January 16, 1978, transmit, to each house of the Legislature, its determination as to whether all of the findings required by Sections 25524.1 and 25524.2 can be made at that time. In the event that the commission determines that any of such findings cannot then be made, it shall include in its determination a recommendation as to whether any facilities, or any unit thereof, for which a notice of intention has been filed with the commission before January 1, 1977, should be exempted from the requirements of Sections 25524.1 and 25524.2, and what conditions, if any, should be attached to such exemption.

In making the recommendation required by this subdivision the commission shall consider the following:

(1) The commission's most recent energy and demand forecast as updated to indicate the energy requirement, capacity and supply for the area proposed to be served by any such facilities as identified in the notice of intention at the time the commission's recommendation is made.

(2) The extent to which the need identified in subsection (1) can be reduced by nongenerational alternatives to the proposed facilities or by reasonable conservation measures, or both.

(3) Whether any practical alternative technology is or will be available to meet the need as determined pursuant to subsections (1) or (2). For purposes of this subsection "practical alternative technology" means a facility which uses a form of primary energy for generation other than that proposed for use in the facilities which are the subject of such notice of intention, which alternative facility is or will be economically comparable, for which technology is or will be available, which is environmentally acceptable, and which, in prudent judgment, could be certified and constructed in sufficient time to meet the need determined pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) or within the same time period as the facilities subject to this section, whichever is longer.

For purposes of making the findings required by subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this subdivision, the commission shall consider, among other things, the record of the proceedings on the notice of intention for such facilities and shall hold such hearings as it deems necessary.

(b) In the event that the commission recommends that the proposed facilities be exempted from Sections 25524.1 and 25524.2, the Legislature, within 90 days of receipt of such recommendation, shall act on it.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

It is uncertain whether the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission can make the findings required by Sections 25524.1 and 25524.2 of the Public Resources Code, both of which must be satisfied before the commission may certify a nuclear fission thermal powerplant. Such inability to certify facilities for which the need has been recognized by the commission, and for which there is no practical alternative technology, could gravely impact the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of the state.

In order to allow the commission to perform its powerplant certification function and avoid injuriously delaying needed powerplants, risking statewide energy shortages, and thereby disrupting rational planning to meet state energy needs, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 2 and 3 of Chapter 1066 of the Statutes of 1976, relating to the state park system, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 28, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 28, 1977]

I am deleting the appropriation contained in Section 6 of Assembly Bill No 1489

In the judgment of the Parks and Recreation Department, this property is not suitable for public acquisition

With this deletion, I approve Assembly Bill No 1489

EDMUND G BROWN JR , Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Department of Parks and Recreation shall conduct a feasibility study to determine appropriate means of providing public access to the Deer Springs Trail in the Mount San Jacinto State Wilderness The department shall report the findings of such study to the Legislature not later than March 1, 1978

SEC. 2. The sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Parks and Recreation for purposes of conducting a feasibility study as prescribed by Section 1 of this act.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of Chapter 1066 of the Statutes of 1976 is amended to read.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding Section 5098.2 of the Public Resources Code, there is hereby appropriated, in accordance with the following schedule, the sum of five hundred sixty thousand dollars ($560,000) to the Department of Parks and Recreation for expenditure, during the period September 1, 1976, to December 31, 1979, inclusive, for a study to determine whether there is available a continuous source of water from wells that is sufficient to supply Lake Elsinore and whether such manner of supplying the lake would be feasible:

Schedule:

(a) Payable from the Harbors and Watercraft Revolving Fund $40,000

(b) Payable from the Park and Recreation Revolving Account in the General Fund $520,000

The study may include, but is not limited to, the installation of equipment necessary for monitoring underground water characteristics, the monitoring of underground water behavior, subsidence surveys, and the construction of a new water well

SEC. 4. Section 3 of Chapter 1066 of the Statutes of 1976 is amended to read:

Sec. 3. If at any time prior to December 31, 1979, the water level of Lake Elsinore recedes to an elevation of 1,227.5 feet above mean sea level, as determined by the Director of Parks and Recreation, an amount, not to exceed three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) of the funds appropriated in Section 2 of this act, may be expended by the Department of Parks and Recreation for the purpose of purchasing or pumping water from any available source to raise the elevation of the lake.

SEC 5. The unencumbered balance of the funds appropriated in Section 1 of Chapter 1066 of the Statutes of 1976 is hereby reappropriated to the Department of Parks and Recreation and shall be available for expenditure until June 30, 1980.

SEC. 6. The sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Parks and Recreation for the acquisition of the Oakzanita property, consisting of 636 acres, more or less, as an addition to Cuyamaca Rancho State Park.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The costs of providing public access to the Deer Springs Trail in the Mount San Jacinto State Wilderness, a much needed recreational resource for the people of this state, will continuously increase as a result of continuing inflation. Section 1 of this act requires the Department of Parks and Recreation to conduct a feasibility study to determine appropriate means of public access to such trail and to report the findings of such study to the Legislature not later than March 1, 1978.

Further, the high evaporation rate of water in Lake Elsinore is such that the health and safety benefits of additional water supplies which may be secured are jeopardized. It is necessary to drill a new test well at the earliest possible time in order to carry out a study of a possible water supply for the lake; and, because the water level of the lake relates directly to the water quality and recreational benefits of the lake and the neighboring community, it is also necessary that the water level be maintained as high as is practicable during the study period.

Further, the Oakzanita property will be available for purchase by the state only for a short time.

Therefore, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1146

An act to add Title 11.5 (commencing with Section 422) to Part 1 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 11.5 (commencing with Section 422) is added to Part 1 of the Penal Code, to read:

TITLE 11.5. TERRORIST THREATS

If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

An act to amend Section 466 of, to amend the heading of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 466) of Title 13 of Part 1 of, and to add Sections 466.6 and 466.7 to, the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

Any person who violates any provision of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor

(b) The provisions of this section shall include, but are not limited to, the making of a key from key codes or impressions.

(c) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the duplication of any key for a motor vehicle from another such key.

SEC 4. Section 466 7 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

466.7. Every person who, with the intent to use it in the commission of an unlawful act, possesses a motor vehicle key with knowledge that such key was made without the consent of either the registered or legal owner of the motor vehicle or of a person who is in lawful possession of the motor vehicle, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be an appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local governmental entities which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

If brought by a city attorney or city prosecutor, one-half of the penalty shall be paid to the treasurer of the county and one-half to the city.

SEC. 3. Section 311.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

311.4. (a) Every person who, with knowledge that a person is a

An act is simulated when it gives the appearance of being sexual conduct.

SEC. 4. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 5. Notwithstanding Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, there shall be no reimbursement pursuant to that section nor shall there be any appropriation made by this act because the Legislature recognizes that during any legislative session a variety of changes to laws relating to crimes and infractions may cause both increased and decreased costs to local government entities and school districts which, in the aggregate, do not result in significant identifiable cost changes.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Recent findings have indicated the use of children in pornographic materials is increasing at an alarming rate. Los Angeles County alone estimates that 30 000 cases of child and teenage molestation, including cases of child pornography, will occur in 1977. Due to the seriousness of this problem, the Legislature declares that laws prohibiting the use of children in pornography must take effect immediately

SEC. 2. Section 633.4 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read.

633.4 Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 633, "employment" includes those services specified in Chapter 5.8 (commencing with Section 1480) of this part.

SEC. 3. Chapter 5 8 (commencing with Section 1480) is added to Part 1 of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5.8. UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION AND DISABILITY BENEFITS FOR FORMER INMATES OF STATE PRISONS OR INSTITUTIONS

1480. Notwithstanding Sections 2700 and 2791 of the Penal Code, or any other provision of law, inmates of any state prison or institution under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections shall be considered in "employment" for all purposes under this division in connection with any productive work by inmates who do or may receive compensation pursuant to Section 2700, 2762, 2782, 3323, or other provision of the Penal Code, or in connection with the participation by inmates in a vocational training program approved by the Department of Corrections as permitted in the Constitution. Except as modified by this chapter, any such inmate shall, after his or her release on parole or discharge, be eligible for benefits on the same terms and conditions as are specified by this part, and Part 3 (commencing with Section 3501) and Part 4 (commencing with Section 4001) of this division, for all other individuals, and unemployment compensation disability benefits on the same terms and conditions as are specified by Part 2 (commencing with Section 2601) of this division for all other individuals.

For unemployment compensation benefits purposes, an individual may use wages, as defined by Section 1481, only with respect to the benefit year established by the first new claim for unemployment compensation benefits, including any extended duration benefits or federal-state extended benefits related to that new claim. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, in no event shall any such individual receive payments of unemployment compensation benefits, extended duration benefits, federal-state extended benefits, or disability benefits, separately or in any combination, for more than 26 weeks. No new claims for unemployment compensation benefits or first claims for disability benefits pursuant to this chapter may be filed with an effective date or period of disability commencing on or after October 31, 1983, if such claim uses wages as defined by Section 1481. No provision of this chapter shall apply to any inmate or individual who has a valid claim for unemployment compensation benefits pursuant to other provisions of this part, or who has a valid claim for disability benefits pursuant to Part 2 (commencing with Section 2601) of this division. Except as inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, the provisions of this division and authorized regulations shall apply to any matter arising pursuant to this chapter.

1481. "Wages of inmates" means an amount computed at two dollars and thirty cents ($2.30) per hour of "employment" as defined by Section 1480, commencing January 1, 1977, regardless of any compensation received by inmates.

1482. Subdivision (a) of Section 1281 shall not apply to wages as defined by Section 1481. An individual cannot establish a valid claim or a benefit year during which any benefits are payable for unemployment compensation benefits based on wages for employment, as defined by Section 1481, unless he or she has during his or her base period been paid wages for employment, as defined by Section 1481, of not less than one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

1483. (a) In lieu of the contributions required of employers and workers under this division, the State of California shall pay into the Unemployment Fund in the State Treasury at the times and in the manner provided in subdivision (b) of this section, an amount equal to the additional cost to the Unemployment Fund, and an amount equal to the additional cost to the Disability Fund, of the benefits paid with respect to employment of, and payment of wages of inmates to, inmates of any state prison or institution confined under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections. Unemployment compensation benefits otherwise payable, irrespective of this chapter, shall be charged to employers' reserve accounts in accordance with other sections of this part and benefits, including extended duration benefits and federal-state extended benefits, shall be the liability of governmental entities or nonprofit organizations pursuant to Section 803, but the additional cost to the Unemployment Fund of the benefits, including extended duration benefits and federal-state extended benefits, paid pursuant to this chapter shall be borne solely by the State of California. Unemployment compensation disability benefits otherwise payable, irrespective of this chapter, shall be the liability of the Disability Fund in accordance with other sections of this division, but the additional cost to the Disability Fund of the unemployment compensation disability benefits paid pursuant to this chapter shall be borne solely by the State of California.

(b) In making the payments prescribed by subdivision (a) of this section, there shall be paid or credited to the Unemployment Fund and to the Disability Fund, either in advance or by way of reimbursement, as may be determined by the director, such sums as he or she estimates the Unemployment Fund and the Disability Fund will be entitled to receive from the State of California under this section for each calendar quarter, reduced or increased by any sum by which he or she finds that his or her estimates for any prior calendar quarter were greater or less than the amounts which should have been paid to the respective fund. Such estimates may be made upon the basis of statistical sampling, or other method as may be determined by the director

Upon making such determination, the director shall certify to the Controller the amount determined with respect to the State of California. The Controller shall pay to the Unemployment Fund and to the Disability Fund the contributions due from the State of California.

(c) The director may require from the Department of Corrections such employment, wage, financial, statistical, or other information and reports, properly verified, as may be deemed necessary by the director to carry out his or her duties under this division, which shall be filed with the director at the time and in the manner prescribed by him or her.

(d) The director may tabulate and publish information obtained pursuant to this chapter in statistical form and may divulge the name of the employing unit.

(e) The Department of Corrections shall keep such work records as may be prescribed by the director for the proper administration of this division.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the State of California shall not be liable for that portion of any extended duration benefits or federal-state extended benefits which is reimbursed or reimbursable by the federal government to the State of California.

(g) The Department of Corrections shall provide each inmate, at the time of his or her release on parole or discharge, with written information advising the inmate of benefit rights pursuant to this chapter.

1484. The Department of Corrections, in cooperation with the Employment Development Department, shall report to the Legislature on the effectiveness of this chapter not later than July 1, 1981 Such report shall include, but not be limited to, a comprehensive analysis of the rate of new convictions of persons receiving payments under this chapter, and an evaluation of the extent to which payments under this chapter have been beneficial in the return to productive employment of persons receiving such payments, and in reducing the rate of recidivism.

SEC. 4. This act shall remain in effect only until November 1, 1983, and as of such date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before November 1, 1983, deletes or extends such date. Any new claim for unemployment compensation benefits or first claims for disability benefits pursuant to this chapter filed with an effective date or period of disability commencing prior to November 1, 1983, shall continue to receive benefits provided by this chapter after November 1, 1983, provided, however, that no claim for benefits pursuant to this chapter may use wages, as defined by Section 1481, which are earned after July 1, 1982.

SEC. 5. This act shall be operative on July 1, 1978.

CHAPTER 1150

An act to add Section 1203.09 to the Penal Code, and to amend Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by the Governor September 29, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.09 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1203.09. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, any person who commits or attempts to commit one or more of the crimes listed in subdivision (b) against a person who is 60 years of age or older; or against a person who is blind, a paraplegic, or a quadriplegic, and such disability is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the crime; and who during the course of the offense inflicts great bodily injury upon such person.

(b) Subdivision (a) applies to the following crimes:

(i) Murder.

(ii) Assault with intent to commit murder, in violation of Section 217.

(iii) Robbery, in violation of Section 211.

(iv) Kidnapping, in violation of Section 207.

(v) Kidnapping for ransom, extortion, or robbery, in violation of Section 209.

(vi) Burglary of the first degree, as defined in Section 460.

(vii) Rape by force or violence, in violation of subdivision (2) of Section 261.

(viii) Rape by threat of great and immediate bodily harm, in violation of subdivision (3) of Section 261.

(ix) Assault with intent to commit rape, sodomy, or robbery, in violation of Section 220.

(c) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under subdivision (a) shall be alleged in the information or indictment, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

(d) As used in this section "great bodily injury" means "great bodily injury" as defined in Section 12022.7.

(e) This section shall apply in all cases, including those cases where the infliction of great bodily injury is an element of the offense.

SEC. 2. Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

707. (a) In any case in which a minor is alleged to be a person described in Section 602 by reason of the violation, when he was 16 years of age or older, of any criminal statute or ordinance except those listed in subdivision (b), upon motion of the petitioner made prior to the attachment of jeopardy the court shall cause the probation officer to investigate and submit a report on the behavioral patterns and social history of the minor being considered for unfitness. Following submission and consideration of the report, and of any other relevant evidence which the petitioner or the minor may wish to submit the juvenile court may find that the minor is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law if it concludes that the minor would not be amenable to the care, treatment and training program available through the facilities of the juvenile court, based upon an evaluation of the following criteria:

(1) The degree of criminal sophistication exhibited by the minor.

(2) Whether the minor can be rehabilitated prior to the expiration of the juvenile court's jurisdiction.

(3) The minor's previous delinquent history.

(4) Success of previous attempts by the juvenile court to rehabilitate the minor.

(5) The circumstances and gravity of the offense alleged to have been committed by the minor.

A determination that the minor is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law may be based on any one or a combination of the factors set forth above, which shall be recited in the order of unfitness. In any case in which a hearing has been noticed pursuant to this section, the court shall postpone the taking of a plea to the petition until the conclusion of the fitness hearing, and no plea which may already have been entered shall constitute evidence at such hearing.

(b) In any case in which a minor is alleged to be a person described in Section 602 by reason of the violation, when he was 16 years of age or older, of one of the following offenses:

(1) Murder;

(2) Arson of an inhabited building;

(3) Robbery while armed with a dangerous or deadly weapon;

(4) Rape with force or violence or threat of great bodily harm,

(5) Kidnapping for ransom;

(6) Kidnapping for purpose of robbery;

(7) Kidnapping with bodily harm;

(11) Discharge of a firearm into an inhabited or occupied building;

(12) Any offense described in Section 1203.09 of the Penal Code, upon motion of the petitioner made prior to the attachment of jeopardy the court shall cause the probation officer to investigate and submit a report on the behavioral patterns and social history of the minor being considered for unfitness. Following submission and consideration of the report, and of any other relevant evidence which the petitioner or the minor may wish to submit the juvenile court shall find that the minor is not a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law unless it concludes that the minor would be amenable to the care, treatment and training program available through the facilities of the juvenile court based upon an evaluation of the following criteria:

(i) The degree of criminal sophistication exhibited by the minor, and

(ii) Whether the minor can be rehabilitated prior to the expiration of the juvenile court's jurisdiction, and

(iii) The minor's previous delinquent history, and

(iv) Success of previous attempts by the juvenile court to rehabilitate the minor, and

(v) The circumstances and gravity of the offenses alleged to have been committed by the minor.

A determination that the minor is a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law shall be based on a finding of amenability after consideration of the criteria set forth above, and reasons therefor shall be recited in the order. In any case in which a hearing has been noticed pursuant to this section, the court shall postpone the taking of a plea to the petition until the conclusion of the fitness hearing and no plea which may already have been entered shall constitute evidence at such hearing

CHAPTER 1151

An act to add and repeal Chapter 2.3 (commencing with Section 999b) to Title 6 of Part 2 of the Penal Code, relating to career criminals, and making an appropriation therefor

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2.3 (commencing with Section 999b) is added to Title 6 of Part 2 of the Penal Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2 3. CAREER CRIMINALS

999b. The Legislature hereby finds a substantial and disproportionate amount of serious crime is committed against the people of California by a relatively small number of multiple and repeat felony offenders, commonly known as career criminals. In enacting this chapter, the Legislature intends to support increased efforts by district attorneys' offices to prosecute career criminals through organizational and operational techniques that have been proven effective in selected counties in this and other states.

999c. (a) There is hereby established in the Office of Criminal Justice Planning a program of financial and technical assistance for district attorneys' offices, designated the California Career Criminal Prosecution Program. All funds appropriated to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for the purposes of this chapter shall be administered and disbursed by the executive director of such office in consultation with the California Council on Criminal Justice, and shall to the greatest extent feasible be coordinated or consolidated with federal funds that may be made available for these purposes.

(b) The executive director is authorized to allocate and award funds to counties in which career criminal prosecution units are established in substantial compliance with the policies and criteria set forth below in Sections 999d, 999e, 999f, and 999g.

(c) Such allocation and award of funds shall be made upon application executed by the county's district attorney and approved by its board of supervisors. Funds disbursed under this chapter shall not supplant local funds that would, in the absence of the California Career Criminal Prosecution Program, be made available to support the prosecution of felony cases.

(d) On or before April 1, 1978, and in consultation with the Attorney General, the executive director shall prepare and issue written program and administrative guidelines and procedures for the California Career Criminal Prosecution Program, consistent with this chapter In addition to all other formal requirements that may apply to the enactment of such guidelines and procedures, a complete and final draft of them shall be submitted on or before March 1, 1978, to the chairpersons of the Criminal Justice Committee of the Assembly and the Judiciary Committee of the Senate of the California Legislature.

(e) Annually, commencing October 1, 1978, the executive director shall prepare a report to the Legislature describing in detail the operation of the statewide program and the results obtained of career criminal prosecution units of district attorneys' offices receiving funds under this chapter and under comparable federally-financed awards.

999d. Career criminal prosecution units receiving funds under this chapter shall concentrate enhanced prosecution efforts and resources upon individuals identified under selection criteria set forth in Section 999e. Enhanced prosecution efforts and resources shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) "Vertical" prosecutorial representation, whereby the prosecutor who makes the initial filing or appearance in a career criminal case will perform all subsequent court appearances on that particular case through its conclusion, including the sentencing phase;

(b) Assignment of highly qualified investigators and prosecutors to career criminal cases; and

(c) Significant reduction of caseloads for investigators and prosecutors assigned to career criminal cases.

999e. (a) An individual shall be the subject of career criminal prosecution efforts who is under arrest for the commission or attempted commission of one or more of the following felonies: robbery, burglary, arson, any unlawful act relating to controlled substances in violation of Section 11351 or 11352 of the Health and Safety Code, receiving stolen property, grand theft and grand theft auto; and who is either being prosecuted for three or more separate offenses not arising out of the same transaction involving one or more of such felonies, or has suffered at least one conviction during the preceding 10 years for any felony listed in paragraph (1) of this subdivision, or at least two convictions during the preceding 10 years for any felony listed in paragraph (2) of this subdivision:

(1) Robbery by a person armed with a deadly or dangerous weapon, burglary of the first degree, arson as defined in Section 447a or 448a, forcible rape, sodomy or oral copulation committed with force, lewd or lascivious conduct committed upon a child, kidnapping as defined in Section 209, or murder

(2) Grand theft, grand theft auto, receiving stolen property, robbery other than that described in paragraph (1) above, burglary of the second degree, kidnapping as defined in Section 207, assault with a deadly weapon, or any unlawful act relating to controlled substances in violation of Section 11351 or 11352 of the Health and Safety Code.

For purposes of this chapter, the 10-year periods specified in this section shall be exclusive of any time which the arrested person has served in state prison

(b) In applying the career criminal selection criteria set forth above, a district attorney may elect to limit career criminal prosecution efforts to persons arrested for any one or more of the felonies listed in subdivision (a) of this section if crime statistics demonstrate that the incidence of such one or more felonies presents a particularly serious problem in the county.

(c) In exercising the prosecutorial discretion granted by Section 999g, the district attorney shall consider the following: (1) the character, background, and prior criminal background of the defendant; and (2) the number and the seriousness of the offenses currently charged against the defendant.

999f. Subject to reasonable prosecutorial discretion, each district attorney's office establishing a career criminal prosecution unit and receiving state support under this chapter shall adopt and pursue the following policies for career criminal cases:

(a) A plea of guilty or a trial conviction will be sought on the most serious offense charged in the accusatory pleading against an individual meeting career criminal selection criteria

(b) All reasonable prosecutorial efforts will be made to resist the pretrial release of a charged defendant meeting career criminal selection criteria.

(c) All reasonable prosecutorial efforts will be made to persuade the court to impose the most severe authorized sentence upon a person convicted after prosecution as a career criminal.

(d) All reasonable prosecutorial efforts will be made to reduce the time between arrest and disposition of charge against an individual meeting career criminal selection criteria.

(e) The prosecution shall not negotiate an agreement with a career criminal:

(1) That permits the defendant to plead guilty or nolo contendere to an offense lesser in degree or in kind than the most serious offense charged in the information or indictment;

(2) That the prosecution shall not oppose the defendant's request for a particular sentence if below the maximum; or

(3) That a specific sentence is the appropriate disposition of the case if below the maximum

999g The selection criteria set forth in Section 999e and the policies of Section 999f shall be adhered to for each career criminal case unless, in the reasonable exercise of prosecutor's discretion, one or more of the following circumstances are found to apply to a particular case:

(a) The facts or available evidence do not warrant prosecution on the most serious offense charged.

(b) Prosecution of the most serious offense charged, if successful, would not add to the severity of the maximum sentence otherwise applicable to the case

(c) Departure from such policies with respect to a particular career criminal defendant would substantially improve the likelihood of successful prosecution of one or more other felony cases.

(d) Extraordinary circumstances require the departure from such policies in order to promote the general purposes and intent of this chapter.

999h. The characterization of a defendant as a "career criminal" as defined by this chapter may not be communicated to the trier of fact.

SEC. 2. The sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning without regard to fiscal years for costs of administration of this act and for allocation by the Office of Criminal Justice Planning to district attorneys' offices and the Attorney General for the purposes of this act It is the intent of the Legislature that any additional funding shall be requested in the annual Budget Act

SEC. 3. This act shall remain operative only until January 1, 1982, and on such date is repealed.

CHAPTER 1152

An act to amend Sections 859b, 1043, and 1050 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal procedure.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 859b of the Penal Code is amended to read:

859b. At the time the defendant appears before the magistrate for arraignment, if the public offense is a felony to which the defendant has not pleaded guilty in accordance with Section 859a, the magistrate, immediately upon the appearance of counsel, or if none appears, after waiting a reasonable time therefor as provided in Section 859, must set a time for the examination of the case and must allow not less than two days, excluding Sundays and holidays, for the district attorney and the defendant to prepare for the examination. He must also issue subpoenas, subscribed by him, for witnesses within the state, required either by the prosecution or the defense

Both the defendant and the people have the right to a preliminary examination at the earliest possible time, and unless both waive that right or good cause for a continuance is found as provided for in Section 1050, the preliminary examination shall be held within 10 court days of the date the defendant is arraigned or pleads, whichever occurs later In no instance shall the preliminary examination be continued beyond 10 court days from such arraignment or plea whenever the defendant is in custody at the time of such arraignment or plea and the defendant does not personally waive his right to preliminary examination within such 10 court days.

SEC. 2. Section 1043 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1043. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the defendant in a felony case shall be personally present at the trial.

(b) The absence of the defendent in a felony case after the trial has commenced in his presence shall not prevent continuing the trial to, and including, the return of the verdict in any of the following cases:

(1) Any case in which the defendant, after he has been warned by the judge that he will be removed if he continues his disruptive behavior, nevertheless insists on conducting himself in a manner so disorderly, disruptive, and disrespectful of the court that the trial cannot be carried on with him in the courtroom.

(2) Any prosecution for an offense which is not punishable by death in which the defendant is voluntarily absent.

(c) Any defendant who is absent from a trial pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) may reclaim his right to be present at the trial as soon as he is willing to conduct himself consistently with the decorum and respect inherent in the concept of courts and judicial proceedings.

(d) Subdivisions (a) and (b) shall not limit the right of a defendant to waive his right to be present in accordance with Section 977.

(e) If the defendant in a misdemeanor case fails to appear in person at the time set for trial or during the course of trial, the court shall proceed with the trial, unless good cause for a continuance exists, if the defendant has authorized his counsel to proceed in his absence pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 977

If there is no authorization pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 977 and if the defendant fails to appear in person at the time set for trial or during the course of trial, the court, in its discretion, may do one or more of the following, as it deems appropriate·

(1) Continue the matter.

(2) Order bail forfeited or revoke release on the defendant's own recognizance.

(3) Issue a bench warrant.

(4) Proceed with the trial if the court finds the defendant has absented himself voluntarily with full knowledge that the trial is to be held or is being held.

Nothing herein shall limit the right of the court to order the defendant to be personally present at the trial for purposes of identification unless counsel stipulate to the issue of identity.

SEC. 3. Section 1050 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1050. The welfare of the people of the State of California requires that all proceedings in criminal cases shall be set for trial and heard and determined at the earliest possible time To this end the Legislature finds that the criminal courts are becoming increasingly congested with resulting adverse consequences to the welfare of the people and the defendant. It is therefore recognized that both the people and the defendant have the right to an expeditious disposition, and to that end it shall be the duty of all courts and judicial officers and of all counsel, both the prosecution and the defense, to expedite such proceedings to the greatest degree that is consistent with the ends of justice. In accordance with this policy, criminal cases shall be given precedence over, and set for trial and heard without regard to the pendency of, any civil matters or proceedings.

To continue any hearing in a criminal proceeding, including the trial, a written notice must be filed within two court days of the hearing sought to be continued, together with affidavits or declarations detailing specific facts showing that a continuance is necessary, unless the court for good cause entertains an oral motion for continuance Continuances shall be granted only upon a showing of good cause. Upon a showing that the attorney of record at the time of the defendant's first appearance in the superior court is a Member of the Legislature of this state and that the Legislature is in session or that a legislative interim committee of which the attorney is a duly appointed member is meeting or is to meet within the next seven days, the defendant shall be entitled to a reasonable continuance not to exceed 30 days. A continuance shall be granted only for that period of time shown to be necessary by the evidence considered at the hearing on the motion. Whenever any continuance is granted, the facts proved which require the continuance shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. Whenever it shall appear that any court may be required, because of the condition of its calendar, to dismiss an action pursuant to Section 1382 of this code, the court must immediately notify the Chairman of the Judicial Council

SEC. 13. Division 19 (commencing with Section 29000) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 19. SUISUN MARSH PRESERVATION

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

29000. This division shall be known and may be cited as the Suisun Marsh Preservation Act of 1977

29002. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the Suisun Marsh, consisting of approximately 55,000 acres of marshland and 30,000 acres of bays and sloughs, and comprising almost 10 percent of the remaining natural wetlands in California, plays an important role in providing wintering habitat for waterfowl of the Pacific Flyway; that during years of drought the area becomes particularly important to waterfowl by virtue of its large expanse of aquatic habitat and the scarcity of such habitat elsewhere; that the area provides critical habitat for other wildlife forms, including such endangered, rare, or unique species as the peregrine falcon, white-tailed kite, golden eagle, California clapper rail, black rail, salt-marsh harvest mouse, and Suisun shrew; that the existence of this wide variety of wildlife is due to the relatively large expanse of unbroken native habitat and the diversity of vegetation and aquatic conditions that prevail in the marsh; that man is an integral part of the present marsh ecosystem and, to a significant extent, exercises control over the widespread presence of water and the abundant source of waterfowl foods; that the Suisun Marsh represents a unique and irreplaceable resource to the people of the state and nation; that future residential, commercial, and industrial developments could adversely affect the wildlife value of the area; and that it is the policy of the state to preserve and protect resources of this nature for the enjoyment of the current and succeeding generations.

29003. The Legislature further finds and declares that, in order to preserve the integrity and assure continued wildlife use of the Suisun Marsh, including the preservation of its waterfowl-carrying capacity and retention of the diversity of its flora and fauna, there is a need for all of the following:

(a) Provisions for establishment and maintenance of adequate water quality

(b) Improvement of present water management practices, including drainage and other water control facilities within the Suisun Marsh.

(c) Establishment of criteria for the production of valuable waterfowl food plants.

(d) Provisions for future supplemental water supplies and related facilities to assure that adequate water quality will be achieved within the wetland areas

(e) Development and implementation of plans and policies to protect the marsh from degradation by excessive human use.

(f) Definition and establishment of a buffer area consisting of upland areas that have high wildlife values themselves and also contribute to the integrity and continued wildlife use of the wetlands within the marsh.

29004. The Legislature further finds and declares as follows:

(a) That the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the Department of Fish and Game, pursuant to the Nejedly-Bagley-Z'berg Suisun Marsh Preservation Act of 1974 (former Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 1850) of Division 2 of the Fish and Game Code), have made a detailed study of the Suisun Marsh; that there has been extensive participation by other governmental agencies, private interests, and the general public in the study; and that, based on the study, the commission has prepared the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan for the orderly and long-range conservation, use, and management of the natural, scenic, recreational, and manmade resources of the marsh.

(b) That the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan contains a series of recommendations which require implementation by the Legislature; and, accordingly, these recommendations are implemented in the manner provided in this division.

29005. The Legislature further finds and declares as follows:

(a) That, to achieve maximum responsiveness to local conditions, public accountability, and public accessibility, it is necessary to rely heavily on local government and local land use planning procedures and enforcement.

(b) That, to ensure maximum state and federal conformity with the provisions of this division; to protect regional, state, and national interests in assuring the maintenance of the long-term productivity of the Suisun Marsh; to avoid long-term costs to the public and a diminished quality of life resulting from the misuse of the marsh; to coordinate and integrate the activities of the many agencies whose activities impact the marsh; and to supplement the activities of such agencies in matters not properly within the jurisdiction of any existing agency; it is appropriate to provide for continued state planning and management through the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which since 1965 has exercised jurisdiction over a substantial portion of the Suisun Marsh pursuant to Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code

29006. No provision of this division is a limitation on any of the following:

(a) On the power of a city, county, or district, except as otherwise limited by state law, to adopt and enforce regulations, in addition to, and not in conflict with, the requirements of this division, imposing further conditions, restrictions, or limitations with respect to any land or water use or other activity that might adversely affect the resources of the marsh.

(b) On the power of any city, county, or district to declare, prohibit, and abate nuisances.

(c) On the power of the Attorney General to bring an action in the name of the people of the state on his own motion or at the request of any state agency having standing under provisions of law other than this division, to enjoin any waste or pollution of the marsh or any nuisance.

(d) On the right of any person to maintain an appropriate action for relief against a private nuisance or any other private relief.

29007. The Legislature further finds and declares that the public has a right to participate fully in governmental decisions affecting planning, conservation, and development of the Suisun Marsh; that achievement of sound protection of the marsh is dependent upon public understanding and support; and that continuing planning and implementation of programs for marsh protection should include the opportunity for public participation.

29008. The Legislature further finds and declares that the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan is a more specific application of the general, regional policies of the San Francisco Bay Plan prepared and administered by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission pursuant to Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code, and is an appropriate supplement to those policies because of the unique characteristics of the Suisun Marsh. Therefore, the Legislature declares that the appropriate policies of both the San Francisco Bay Plan and the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan shall apply within any area that is within the commission's jurisdiction, as defined in Section 66610 of the Government Code, and that is also within the marsh, as defined in Section 29101 of this code, except where the San Francisco Bay Plan and the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan may conflict. If a conflict occurs in a specific instance, the policies of the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan shall control.

29009. The Legislature further finds and declares that land within or adjacent to the Suisun Marsh should be acquired for public use or resource management, or both, and facilities suitable for such purposes should be constructed thereon, if the land meets one or more of the following criteria:

(a) It is suitable for passive recreational purposes such as fishing and nature observation and is located in the outer portions of the marsh near population centers or existing transportation routes, such as State Highway Route 12.

(b) It is suitable for the purpose of restoring areas to tidal action or to marsh or managed-wetland conditions and such restoration cannot be required as a condition of private development.

(c) It is suitable for providing additional wildlife habitat necessary to effective wildlife management, including consolidation of management units and improved public hunting opportunities. Acquisitions within this category should avoid privately owned property already managed as wildlife habitat unless offered for sale to the state.

29010. (a) The Legislature further finds that.

(1) The Suisun Marsh is located where the saltwater of the Pacific Ocean and the freshwater of the Sacramento and San Joaquin River Delta meet and mix; and because of its location, the marsh provides a transition zone between salt- and fresh-water habitats, creating a unique diversity of fish and wildlife habitats.

(2) Water quality in the marsh is dependent on the salinity of the water in sloughs of the marsh, which depends in turn on the amount of freshwater flowing in from the delta.

(3) Numerous upstream storage facilities, together with diversions of water from the delta and tributary streams of the delta, have substantially reduced the amount of freshwater flowing into the marsh from the delta

(4) Further substantial diversions are planned, and these diversions will have adverse impacts in the marsh through increased salinity intrusion unless adequate mitigation measures are taken

(5) Possible mitigation measures, including the development of other sources of freshwater for the marsh, have been under study by a variety of state and federal agencies.

(6) Protection of the marsh from salinity intrusion, particularly protection through the development of alternative sources of freshwater for the marsh, cannot be considered independently of other issues relating to the management of California's water resources, and discussions are now underway among various agencies of the state and federal governments to resolve such issues.

(b) The Legislature, therefore, declares that it expects any resolution of these issues, whether by written agreement, federal legislation, state legislation, or any combination thereof, will protect the marsh from the adverse impacts of salinity intrusion and from any other significant adverse impacts.

29011. The Legislature further finds and declares that the Suisun Marsh is a fragile ecological system and that, in order to protect wildlife, many areas of the marsh should not be subject to extensive human intrusion. Highest priority, therefore, should be given to developing and maintaining opportunities for public access on lands currently in, or in the future to be in, public ownership.

29012. This division shall be liberally construed to accomplish its purposes and objectives.

29013. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that this division is not intended to authorize, and shall not be construed as authorizing, the commission or local government acting pursuant to this division, to exercise their powers to grant or deny a permit in a manner which will take or damage private property for public use, without the payment of just compensation therefor. This section is not intended to increase or decrease the rights of any owner of property under the Constitution of the State of California or of the United States.

29014. The Legislature finds and declares it is not its intent in enacting this division to grant the commission any authority over any development outside the Suisun Marsh, except as expressly authorized in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 29200) and in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 29400). Except as provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 29200), neither the provisions of this division nor of the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan shall apply to any permit, development, or any other action or project which occurs outside of the marsh prior to the approval of the local protection program and its certification by the commission, as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 29410) of Chapter 5.

29105. "Managed wetland" means those diked areas in the marsh in which water inflow and outflow is artificially controlled or in which waterfowl food plants are cultivated, or both, to enhance habitat conditions for waterfowl and other water-associated birds, wildlife, or fish, regardless of whether such areas are used for hunting or fishing or nonconsumptive uses such as nature study, photography, and similar passive wildlife activities, or a combination of both such consumptive and nonconsumptive uses.

29106. "Commission" means the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission created by Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code.

29111. "Local protection program" means those provisions of general or specific plans; ordinances, zoning district maps; land use regulations, procedures, or controls; or any other programs, procedures, standards, or controls that are adopted, undertaken, or carried out by local governments, districts, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission in and adjacent to the marsh, are submitted by the county to the commission pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 29400), and meet the requirements of, and implement, this division and the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan at the local level.

29112. "Local protection program component" or "component" means a part of the local protection program that is prepared by or submitted to the county pursuant to Section 29411 or prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District pursuant to Section 29412.5 for inclusion in the local protection program.

(b) "Development" does not include either a change in the intensity of use of water or the removal or harvesting of major vegetation where such change, removal, or harvesting is to maintain or improve wildfowl habitat and does not have a significant, adverse effect on other fish and wildlife resources in the marsh.

29115. "Feasible" means capable of being accomplished in a successful manner within a reasonable period of time, taking into account economic, environmental, social, and technological factors.

"Aggrieved person" includes the applicant for a permit; and, with respect to the approval of the local protection program, or any component thereof, any affected local government.

CHAPTER 3. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE COMMISSION

29200. Unless expressly provided otherwise in this division, the commission shall have the primary state responsibility for the implementation of the provisions of this division and the protection plan.

29201. In carrying out its responsibilities under this division, and in addition to the specific powers and duties of the commission under Chapters 5 (commencing with Section 29400) and 6 (commencing with Section 29500), the commission may do all of the following:

(a) Accept grants, contributions, and appropriations from any person.

(b) Appoint committees from its membership and appoint advisory committees from other interested public and private groups.

(c) Contract for or employ any professional services required by the commission or for the performance of work and services which in its opinion cannot satisfactorily be performed by its officers and employees or by other federal, state, or local governmental agencies.

(d) Sue or be sued in all actions and proceedings and in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction, including prohibitory and mandatory injunctions to restrain violations of this division.

(e) Adopt regulations consistent with this division.

(f) Do such other things as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this division and are consistent with this division.

29202. (a) Consistent with this division, the commission may amend the protection plan. Such amendments shall be made by resolution of the commission adopted after a public hearing on the proposed change, of which adequate descriptive notice shall be given. Such descriptive notice shall include a general description of the changes, if any, that would be required in the certified local protection program and whether any changes would be required in the local protection program as it applies to any area outside the marsh. If the proposed amendment pertains to a policy of the protection plan, the resolution adopting the amendment may not be voted upon less than 90 days following notice of hearing on the proposed change and shall require the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the commission members The resolution adopting any other amendment to the protection plan may not be voted on less than 30 days following notice of hearing on the proposed amendment and shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the commission members.

(b) Any local government or district or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission, if affected by any such amendment to the protection plan, shall, within one year from the effective date of such amendment, prepare and submit any amendments to the local protection program, or any component thereof, to bring such program or component into conformity with the amended protection plan

(c) No amendment to the policies of the protection plan that will require a change in the local protection program as it applies to the marsh or any area outside the marsh shall be effective until approved by the Legislature by statute if, within the 90-day period provided in subdivision (a), the local government having jurisdiction over any such area objects to such amendment in writing to the commission.

(d) No amendment to the policies of the protection plan may require a change or amendment to the component of the local protection program prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District until it has been approved by the Legislature by statute if, within the 90-day period provided in subdivision (a), the department objects to such amendment in writing to the commission on the grounds that such amendment would be inconsistent with this division.

(e) No amendment to the policies of the protection plan may require a change or amendment to the component of the local protection program prepared by the Solano County Mosquito Abatement District until it has been approved by the Legislature by statute if, within the 90-day period provided in subdivision (a), the Director of Health objects to such amendment in writing to the commission on the grounds that such amendment would be inconsistent with the applicable provisions of the Health and Safety Code.

29203. Not later than March 1, 1978, the commission shall prepare and adopt a detailed map for the marsh, on a scale of one inch equals 24,000 inches, which shall show both the primary and secondary management areas, and which the commission shall file with the clerk of the county Upon the filing of such map with the clerk of the county, no further changes in the boundaries of the marsh or the boundaries of the primary or secondary management areas shall be made without the approval of the Legislature by statute.

29204. Not later than July 1, 1978, the commission shall make any necessary changes in the San Francisco Bay Plan and in existing priority use area boundaries established pursuant to Section 66611 of the Government Code. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in Title 7 2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code, such changes shall not require the approval of the Legislature

29205 (a) The marsh shall be considered part of the commission's segment of the California coastal zone, and this division shall be part of the commission's segment of California's coastal zone management program, for purposes of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972 (P.L. 92-583; 16 U.S.C. 1451 et seq.) as amended, and any other federal act heretofore or hereafter enacted or amended that relates to the planning or management of coastal zone resources.

(b) Except with respect to a facility defined in Section 25110, the commission may exercise any and all powers set forth in the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended, or any amendment thereto, or any other federal act heretofore or hereafter enacted that relates to the planning or management of the marsh. In addition to any other authority, the commission may grant or issue any certificate or statement required pursuant to any such federal law that an activity of any person is in conformity with the provisions of this division

CHAPTER 4. RESPONSIBILITIES OF OTHER STATE AND FEDERAL AGENCIES

29300. It is the intent of the Legislature to minimize duplication and conflicts among existing state agencies carrying out their regulatory duties and responsibilities in connection with the subject matter of this division.

29301. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this division, enactment of this division does not increase, decrease, duplicate, or supersede the authority of any existing state agency.

This chapter does not limit in any way the regulatory controls over development provided in Chapters 5 (commencing with Section 29400) and 6 (commencing with Section 29500); except that the commission may not set standards or adopt regulations that duplicate regulatory controls established by any existing state agency pursuant to express statutory requirements or authorization.

29302. (a) This division imposes a judicially enforceable duty on state agencies to comply with, and to carry out their duties and responsibilities in conformity with, this division and the policies of the protection plan.

(b) However, this division does not subject any agency of the state or federal government to the permit requirements of Sections 29502, 29503, and 29504.

(c) Further, notwithstanding any policy of the protection plan to the contrary, nothing contained in this division requires any local government or state or federal agency to establish or meet a specific water quality standard in the marsh or to maintain a specific level of delta outflow.

29303. It is the intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this division, the protection plan, and the local protection program, or any component thereof, prepared pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 29400) provide the common assumptions upon which state functional plans for the marsh are based in accordance with the provisions of Section 65036 of the Government Code.

29304. (a) The commission may periodically submit to any state agency recommendations designed to encourage such agency to carry out its functions in a manner consistent with the policies of the protection plan. The recommendations may include proposed changes in regulations, rules, and statutes.

(b) Such state agency shall review and consider such recommendations and shall, in the event the recommendations are not implemented, report to the commission or the Governor and the Legislature its action and the reasons therefor within six months after receipt of the recommendations. Such report shall also include the agency's comments on any legislation which may have been proposed by the commission.

(c) The procedures provided in this section do not relieve the commission of its responsibility to submit recommendations to other state agencies in a timely manner pursuant to existing procedures; and, to the maximum extent possible, the commission shall submit any recommendations authorized by subdivision (a) pursuant to such existing procedures.

29305. The Wildlife Conservation Board shall acquire title to, or a lesser right or interest in, in such land or water as the board determines is appropriate for the purposes of the protection plan; and, when authorized by the board, the department shall construct such facilities as are suitable for the purpose for which such acquisitions were made. Such acquisitions shall be made in accordance with the Wildlife Conservation Law of 1947 (commencing with Section 1300 of the Fish and Game Code) and the criteria specified in Section 29009 of this division.

29306. (a) The department and the Fish and Game Commission are the state agencies that are primarily responsible for the establishment and control of wildlife and fishery management programs, and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission may not establish or impose any controls with respect thereto that duplicate or exceed regulatory controls established by such agencies pursuant to express statutory requirements or authorization.

(b) The department shall have primary responsibility for carrying out fish and wildlife management programs in the marsh in accordance with the management recommendations in the protection plan on lands owned by the state and under the jurisdiction, control, or supervision of the department

29307. (a) The State Lands Commission shall have the primary responsibility, in accordance with the provisions of Division 6

(commencing with Section 6001), for carrying out the management recommendations in the protection plan on lands owned by the state and under the jurisdiction, control, or supervision of the State Lands Commission, including tidelands, submerged lands, swamp and overflowed lands, and beds of navigable rivers and streams.

(b) Prior to approval by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 29400), the State Lands Commission shall review, and may comment on, the proposed local protection program, or any component thereof, that could affect state lands

(c) No power granted to any local government or district under this division, shall change the authority of the State Lands Commission over granted or ungranted lands within its jurisdiction or change the rights and duties of its grantees, lessees, or permittees.

(d) Boundary settlements between the State Lands Commission and other parties and any exchanges of land in connection therewith shall not be a development within the meaning of that term as used in this division.

(e) Nothing in this division shall amend or alter the terms and conditions in any legislative grant of lands, in trust, to any local government or district; except, that any development on such granted lands shall, in addition to the terms and conditions of such grant, be subject to the regulatory controls provided by Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 29500).

29308. All federal agencies, to the extent permitted under federal law or regulations or the United States Constitution, shall comply with this division and the policies of the protection plan.

CHAPTER 5. RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE COMMISSION AND LOCAL AGENCIES

Article 1. Local Protection Program

29400. The county shall prepare the local protection program for the marsh. The local protection program shall be consistent with the provisions of this division and the policies of the protection plan.

29401. Within the marsh the local protection program shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Any amendments to general or specific plans applicable to any area within the marsh necessary to bring such plans into conformity with this division and the policies of the protection plan.

(b) Enforceable standards for diking, flooding, draining, filling, and dredging of sloughs, managed wetlands, and marshes.

(c) Enforceable standards for operation of septic tanks and wastewater discharges.

(d) A management program prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District designed to preserve, protect, and enhance the plant and wildlife communities within the primary management area of the marsh, including, but not limited to, enforceable standards for diking, flooding, draining, filling, and dredging of sloughs, managed wetlands, and marshes.

(e) Zoning ordinances or zoning district maps, or both, designating principal permitted uses on lands within the marsh, which ordinances or maps shall designate the existing agricultural and wildlife habitat uses of such lands as principal permitted uses of such lands.

(f) Enforceable standards for development to ensure that any use of deepwater industrial and port areas near Collinsville designated on the Suisun Marsh Protection Plan Map is in conformity with the policies of the protection plan.

(g) Enforceable standards for the design and location of any new development in the marsh to protect the visual characteristics of the marsh and, where possible, to enhance views of the marsh

(h) Enforceable standards for development designed (1) to minimize soil erosion, especially during construction in areas of soil instability, (2) to require special provisions for surface and subsurface drainage, (3) to ensure that grading restores, rather than disrupts, natural patterns and volumes of surface runoff, and (4) to limit construction of impermeable surfaces over naturally permeable soils and geologic areas, all to control erosion, sedimentation, and runoff within the marsh.

(i) Enforceable standards for development adjacent to creeks and watercourses to protect riparian habitat and to prevent waterway modification or vegetation removal that increases sedimentation or runoff in or into the marsh, to an extent that a significant, adverse environmental impact will occur in the marsh.

29402 Outside the marsh, but within the watershed, the local protection program shall include only ordinances controlling grading, erosion, sedimentation, runoff, and creekside development that meet the requirements of subdivisions (h) and (i) of Section 29401.

29403. Within the marsh, in addition to the requirements of Sections 29400 and 29401, the component of the local protection program prepared by the county shall include the following:

(a) A determination of the minimum size parcels necessary for long-term agricultural use and productivity.

(b) Enforceable standards limiting or prohibiting land divisions or other development that are inconsistent with protection of the marsh and continued agricultural use.

(c) Enforceable standards precluding agricultural uses by type and intensity that are inconsistent with the long-term preservation of the marsh.

(d) Limitations on special assessments against agricultural lands for the provision of public services, the demand for which is not generated by agricultural uses on such lands.

29404. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 29403, the local protection program may not include any provision requiring particular crops to be planted and harvested on agricultural lands within or adjacent to the marsh or particular types or numbers of livestock to be grazed on such lands.

29405 Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 29400, 29401, and 29402, the local protection program for that portion of the secondary management area west of State Highway Route 680 and outside the city limits of the City of Fairfield as of January 1, 1977, may include only ordinances to be prepared by the county, in cooperation with the City of Benicia, which control grading, erosion, sediment, runoff, and creekside development and which meet the requirements of subdivisions (h) and (i) of Section 29401. Such ordinances shall take into consideration the seismic hazards and unusually erodible and landslide-prone soils at this location, and ensure that development, if any, in this portion of the secondary management area will not cause increased sedimentation within the marsh.

29406 Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 29400, 29402, and 29403, the local protection program for the area that is located east of State Highway Route 680, southeast of State Highway Route 80, south of State Highway Route 12, and outside the marsh, and that is also located within the City of Fairfield, or within the sphere of influence of the City of Fairfield as such sphere of influence existed on January 1, 1977, may contain only (1) zoning ordinances implementing the land use designations of the Cordelia Area General Plan Diagram as adopted by the City of Fairfield on September 17, 1974, and which is a part of the Central Solano County General Plan and (2) ordinances controlling grading, erosion, sedimentation, runoff, and creekside development that meet the requirements of subdivisions (h) and (i) of Section 29401.

29407. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 29400, 29401, and 29403, the local protection program for that portion of the secondary management area west of Shiloh Road and south of State Highway Route 12 may not prohibit construction of reasonable improvements (including construction of individual single-family dwellings) related to the long-term continuation of existing agricultural uses; nor shall the local protection program limit or prohibit divisions of agricultural land within or adjacent to this portion of the secondary management area if such divisions of land do not affect long-term continuation of compatible agricultural uses within, or adjacent to, the marsh.

29408. The local protection program shall not preclude the continuation and expansion of existing nonagricultural uses on sites in Section 11 or 12 of Township 4 North, Range 1 West, Mount Diablo Baseline and Meridian, that were zoned for such uses as of January 1, 1977, and for the conduct of such uses so that they do not cause any substantial, adverse impact on the marsh. The local protection program shall also provide that any other use of these sites in the future shall be compatible with the preservation of the marsh and its wildlife resources.

29409. Notwithstanding the policies of the protection plan, the local protection program may not preclude the future development of a new solid waste disposal site in the Potrero Hills if it can be demonstrated that the construction and operation of solid waste facilities at that site would not have significant, adverse ecological or aesthetic impacts on the marsh.

29409.5. The component of the local protection program prepared by the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission shall conform to this division and the policies of the protection plan, which shall govern its decisions. That component of the local protection program shall be specifically designed to encourage continued long-term agricultural use of lands within and adjacent to the marsh and continued wildlife use of lands within the marsh.

Article 2. Procedure for Preparation and Certification of the Local Protection Program

29410. The local protection program, if it is otherwise consistent with the requirements of this division, may be submitted to the commission if both of the following requirements are met:

(a) It is submitted pursuant to a resolution adopted after at least one public hearing by each local government and district having jurisdiction in the marsh and the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission stating the local protection program is intended to be carried out in a manner fully in conformity with this division.

(b) It contains materials sufficient for a thorough and complete review.

29411. The local protection program shall be prepared as follows:

(a) Not later than July 1, 1978, the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission, and the Cities of Benicia, Fairfield, and Suisun City shall each submit to the county its proposed component of the local protection program.

(b) Not later than July 1, 1978, each district that issues permits, grants approvals for development, or conducts activities that do, or may, affect the marsh, shall also submit to the county its proposed component of the local protection program.

(c) If the county determines that the proposed component does not conform to the protection plan and the provisions of this division, the county shall advise the affected local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if affected, of the changes or additions necessary to bring the component into conformity.

(d) In reviewing proposed local protection program components, the county may request the assistance of the commission. Upon receiving such request, the commission shall provide as much advice, information, and staff assistance as is compatible with the commission's performance of its other responsibilities under state and federal law. On request, the commission shall seek the assistance of the department and other appropriate state agencies.

(e) Any local government, district, or the Solano Local Agency Formation Commission may request the commission to prepare its component of the local protection program, or the county may request the commission to prepare the local protection program, if either such request is submitted to the commission, in writing, not later than March 1, 1978.

(f) During the preparation of the local protection program, local governments, districts, and the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission shall afford reasonable opportunity for public participation and consultation with other agencies, including adequate public notice, review periods, workshops, and public hearings.

29412. (a) Not later than January 1, 1979, the county shall submit to the commission the local protection program, which shall include the county's component and all components prepared by other local governments, districts, and the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission and which shall meet the requirements of Section 29410

(b) If by July 1, 1978, any local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission fails to submit its component to the county, the county may submit the local protection program without such component, if the local protection program otherwise meets the requirements of Section 29410.

(c) If by January 1, 1979, the county fails to submit the local protection program to the commission, any local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission may submit its component directly to the commission for consideration pursuant to the provisions of this division if such component otherwise meets the requirements of Section 29410.

(d) If by January 1, 1979, the county fails to submit to the commission a local protection program component that has been submitted to it by a local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission, the affected local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if affected, may submit such component directly to the commission if such component otherwise meets the requirements of Section 29410.

29412.5. Notwithstanding Sections 29411 and 29412, the component of the local protection program prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District shall be submitted directly to the commission not later than January 1, 1979. Such component shall include a water management program for each managed wetland in private ownership within the primary management area and shall specify all necessary development related to such management. Such component shall be processed by the commission pursuant to Sections 29413, 29414, 29415, and 29416 with the remainder of the local protection program submitted by the county.

29413. (a) Not less than 15 days after submission of the local protection program, or any component thereof, pursuant to Section 29412, the commission shall request comments on the program from the Department of Fish and Game, from the State Department of Health, from all local governments, and from such other governmental agencies and interested persons as the commission may determine would be of assistance in reviewing the proposed program. The department or any such agency or person shall provide its comments within 60 days of the commission's request, and failure to provide comments within such time shall be deemed to mean that the department or any such agency or person has no comments to make.

(b) In addition to its responsibilities under subdivision (a), the department shall specifically determine whether the component of the local protection program prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District is, in the opinion of the department, consistent with this division and the policies of the protection plan.

(c) The Director of Health shall specifically determine whether the component of the local protection program prepared by the Solano County Mosquito Abatement District is in conformity with the applicable provisions of the Health and Safety Code.

29414. After receipt of the comments requested under Section 29413, or the expiration of the 60-day time limit established in Section 29413, but in no event more than 90 days after receipt of the proposed local protection program, the commission shall hold a public hearing on the proposed program The commission shall give notice pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code, commencing not less than 30 days before any such hearing.

29415. (a) After the public hearing, the commission shall determine whether the proposed local protection program is in conformity with this division and the policies of the protection plan. The commission shall certify the local protection program, or any component thereof, if the commission finds that it in all respects meets the requirements of, and is in conformity with, this division and the policies of the protection plan Certification of the local protection program, or any component thereof, shall require the affirmative votes of a majority of the commission members. If, within 120 days of receipt of the local protection program, the commission has not voted on whether or not to certify it, it shall be deemed certified.

(b) The commission shall not certify the component of the local protection program, or any amendment thereto, prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District unless the department determines, in writing, pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 29413, that such component or amendment is consistent with this division and the policies of the protection plan

(c) The commission shall not certify the component of the local protection program, or any amendment thereto, prepared by the Solano County Mosquito Abatement District unless the Director of Health has determined in writing, pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 29413, that such component is in conformity with the applicable provisions of the Health and Safety Code.

29416 If the commission fails to certify the proposed local protection program, the commission shall give written notice of its action, specifying the portions of the local protection program that are not in conformity with the provisions of this division and the protection plan, and shall return the proposed program to the county, which shall advise any affected local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if affected, of the commission's action.

29417. The county may revise and resubmit the local protection program to the commission in accordance with the provisions of this division. In the event the county declines to revise the local protection program and resubmit it to the commission, any local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission may submit its component of the local protection program to the commission directly for approval in accordance with the provisions of this division

29418 (a) After certification by the commission, the local protection program, or any component thereof, may be amended by the appropriate local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if appropriate. Any such amendment shall meet, in all respects, the requirements of, and be in conformity with, this division and the policies of the protection plan.

(b) Any proposed amendment to the local protection program, or any component thereof, shall be submitted directly to the commission by the appropriate local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if appropriate. If the amendment would affect any area in the marsh, it shall be processed by the commission in accordance with the provisions of Sections 29413, 29414, 29415, and 29416.

(c) The commission shall establish, by regulation, a procedure whereby amendments proposed by a local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission to the local protection program, or any component thereof, may be reviewed and designated by the executive director of the commission as being minor in nature. Proposed amendments designated as minor shall not be subject to the provisions of Sections 29412, 29413, 29414, 29415, and 29416 and shall take effect on the 10th working day after such designation. Amendments that allow changes in uses may not be designated as minor.

(d) For the purpose of this section an amendment of the local protection program, or any component thereof, includes, but is not limited to, any action by a local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission that authorizes a use of a parcel of land other than that designated in the local protection program as a permitted use of such parcel.

29419 (a) The local protection program, any component thereof, or any amendment, shall not take effect until it has been formally adopted by the responsible local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if responsible, and certified by the commission.

(b) Any amendment, or portion of any amendment, to the local protection program that would affect any area outside the marsh shall not be effective until the governing body of the local government or district has (1) held a public hearing on the proposed amendment, of which at least 30 days' notice has been given; (2) notified the commission and the county in writing of the nature and text of the proposed amendment at least 30 days prior to adoption, which notification shall be accompanied by a resolution adopted by the governing body stating that the amendment is consistent with this division and the policies of the protection plan; and (3) submitted the amendment as adopted to the commission and the county.

29420. (a) Upon request to the commission, the commission shall grant to the county an extension of the time limit provided in Section 29412 for submission to the commission of the local protection program, or of the time limit provided in Section 29411 for submission to the county of any local protection program component; provided, however, that no extension hereunder may authorize submission of the local protection program, or any component thereof, after January 1, 1980.

(b) The commission may extend, for a period not to exceed one year, any other time limitation established by this chapter for good cause.

29421. If on or before January 1, 1981, the local protection program is not certified, or if the local protection program as certified lacks a component from one or more local governments, the commission may take any of the following actions if it finds that, in the absence of the certified local protection program or component, (1) any new development in the marsh or in any area for which there is no local protection program component would be inconsistent with this division and the protection plan and (2) the development controls contained in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 29500) are inadequate to ensure consistency with this division and the protection plan:

(a) Prohibit or otherwise restrict, by regulation, the affected local government from issuing any permit or any type of entitlement for use for any development within the marsh, or any portion thereof, within the jurisdiction of such local government.

(b) By regulation, extend the permit requirements of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 29500) by requiring a permit from the commission for any development within any area of the marsh under the jurisdiction of the affected local government.

29422. (a) The commission shall, from time to time, but at least once every five years after certification, review the certified local protection program, and each component thereof, to determine whether such program is being effectively implemented in conformity with the policies of this division. If the commission determines that the certified local protection program, or any component thereof, is not being carried out in conformity with this division or the protection plan, it shall submit to the affected local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if affected, recommendations of corrective actions that should be taken. Such recommendations may include recommended amendments to the local protection program or any component thereof.

(b) Recommendations submitted pursuant to this section shall be reviewed by the affected local government or district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission if affected, and, if the recommended action is not taken, the local government, district, or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission shall, within one year of such submission, forward to the commission a report setting forth its reasons for not taking the recommended action. The commission shall review such report and, where appropriate, report to the Legislature and recommend legislative action necessary to assure effective implementation of the relevant policy of this division.

29423. If the application of the certified local protection program, or any component or part thereof, is prohibited or enjoined by any court, any development that would otherwise be subject to such program, or any component or part thereof, shall by operation of law be subject to the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 29500) relating to control of development prior to certification.

29424. Nothing in this chapter shall permit the commission to certify a local protection program, or any component thereof, which provides for a lesser degree of environmental protection than that provided by the plans and policies of any state regulatory agency.

Article 2.5. Agricultural Lands

29427. (a) Prior to certification of the county's component of the local protection program, the county shall designate the area of the county adjacent to the marsh that should be retained in agricultural use, or in uses that are compatible with agricultural use, in order to ensure the long-term agricultural use and productivity of agricultural lands within the marsh.

(b) Within such area the county shall do all of the following prior to certification of the county's component: (1) determine the minimum size parcels necessary for long-term agricultural use and productivity, (2) establish enforceable standards limiting or prohibiting land divisions or other types of development that are inconsistent with protection of the marsh and continued agricultural use, (3) establish enforceable standards precluding agricultural uses by type and intensity that are inconsistent with the long-term preservation of the marsh, and (4) limit special assessments against agricultural lands for the provision of public services, the demand for which is not generated by agricultural uses on such lands

(c) No change by the county of any designation, standard, or limitation established pursuant to this section shall become effective until 30 days after it has notified the commission of the proposed change and unless it makes a specific finding that the change will not adversely affect, directly or indirectly, the long-term agricultural use and productivity of agricultural lands within the marsh.

Article 3 Preferential Assessment

29430. (a) Any person who owns land within the marsh that is being used for the purpose of agriculture or wildlife habitat on January 1, 1978, or that is used for such a purpose at any time after that date, may petition the local government having jurisdiction over the land to enter into a contract pursuant to the California Land Conservation Act of 1965 (Williamson Act) (Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 51200) of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code) or a wildlife habitat contract, as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 421 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(b) Upon receipt of a petition pursuant to subdivision (a), such local government is authorized to, and shall, enter into such contract with the petitioning landowner

29431. Neither the acreage limitations contained in Section 51230 of the Government Code and subdivision (f) of Section 421 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, nor the requirements of Section 51242 of the Government Code, shall apply to any contract entered into pursuant to this article.

29432. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 51243 of the Government Code, upon the annexation by a city of any land within the marsh that is under contract with the county, the city shall succeed to all rights, duties, and powers of the county under such contract and the contract shall remain effective for all purposes even if (1) the land being annexed was within one mile of such city at the time that the contract was entered into; (2) the city had filed, and the local agency formation commission had approved, a protest to the contract pursuant to Section 51234.5 of the Government Code; and (3) the city had stated its intent not to succeed in its resolution of intention to annex.

29433. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 51282, 51283, 51283.3, and 51285 of the Government Code, no contract with any person concerning land within the marsh and entered into by any local government pursuant to the California Land Conservation Act of 1965 (Williamson Act) (Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 51200) of Part 1 of Division 1 of Title 5 of the Government Code) or pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 421 of the Revenue and Taxation Code may be canceled, nor shall a notice of nonrenewal of any such contract by any local government be effective, without the consent of the commission, if such contract was in effect on or after

September 27, 1974

(b) The commission may not consent to the cancellation or notice of nonrenewal of any such contract unless the commission finds that such cancellation or nonrenewal is consistent with the provisions of this division and the protection plan.

(c) Other than as expressly provided herein, this section does not affect the right of any person or local government relating to the renewal or nonrenewal of any such contract

CHAPTER 6. DEVELOPMENT CONTROLS

Article 1 General Provisions

29500. In addition to obtaining any other permit required by law from any local government or from a state, regional, or local agency, on and after January 1, 1978, any person wishing to perform or undertake any development in the marsh shall obtain a marsh development permit.

29501 (a) Within the primary management area, a marsh development permit required under Section 29500 shall be obtained from the commission and shall be in lieu of any other permit that may be required by law from the commission.

(b) The commission shall issue a marsh development permit under this section if it finds that the proposed development is consistent with either the provisions of this division and the policies of the protection plan or the certified local protection program, if any.

(c) Subsequent to certification of the local protection program, the commission may define and delegate by regulation to the local government having jurisdiction the commission's permit authority under this section over development that does not have significant impact on the marsh. Any local government to which the commission has delegated any part of its permit authority under this section shall issue a marsh development permit under this section if it finds the proposed development is consistent with the local protection program.

(d) Any action by a local government on an application for a marsh development permit under this section may be appealed to the commission pursuant to Section 29522 The commission, on appeal, shall issue the permit if it finds the proposed development that is the subject of the appeal is consistent with the local protection program.

(e) Any delegation by the commission of its permit authority under this section may be revoked at any time for good cause.

29501.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 29500, within the primary management area no marsh development permit shall be required for any development specified in the component of the local protection program prepared by the Suisun Resource Conservation District and certified by the commission pursuant to

Section 29415

29502. (a) Except as provided in Section 29505, within the secondary management area, a marsh development permit required under Section 29500 shall be obtained from the local government having jurisdiction over the land in which the proposed development is to occur.

(b) The local government may incorporate the procedures for issuing marsh development permits into its procedures relating to the issuance of any other land use or development permit.

29503. (a) Prior to certification of the local protection program, a local government may issue a marsh development permit pursuant to Section 29502 only if it finds that the proposed development (1) is in conformity with this division and the policies of the protection plan and (2) will not prejudice the preparation of the local protection program.

(b) Subsequent to certification, a local government may issue a marsh development permit pursuant to Section 29502 only if it finds that the proposed development is consistent with the certified local protection program.

29504. (a) Any action taken by a local government on an application for a marsh development permit pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 29503, except an action denying such an application, may be appealed to the commission

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (e) of this section, any action taken by a local government on an application for a marsh development permit pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 29503 may be appealed to the commission.

(c) Prior to certification of the local protection program, the commission, on appeal, shall issue the marsh development permit only if it finds that the proposed development that is the subject of the appeal (1) is in conformity with this division and the policies of the protection plan and (2) will not prejudice the preparation of the local protection program.

(d) Subsequent to certification of the local protection program, the commission, on appeal, shall issue the marsh development permit only if it finds the proposed development that is the subject of the appeal is in conformity with the local protection program. However, this subdivision does not authorize the commission, on appeal, to consider any action by local government on a marsh development permit which is not appealable to the commission by virtue of the provisions of subdivision (e) of this section.

(e) The following actions of a local government on an application for a marsh development permit are not appealable to the commission under this section:

(1) Any action denying an application for a marsh development permit.

(2) Any action that consists of a finding that a development is a principal permitted use under a zoning ordinance or zoning district map that has been certified by the commission as part of the local protection program and any action that authorizes such development to the extent, but only to the extent, such action is based on such finding.

29505 No person shall be required to obtain a marsh development permit from local government for any development on tidelands, submerged lands, or other public trust lands, whether filled or unfilled, or for any development by a public agency for which a local government permit is not otherwise required, but in such a case, a marsh development permit shall be obtained from the commission The commission shall issue a marsh development permit pursuant to this section if the commission finds that the proposed development is consistent with either this division and the policies of the protection plan or the certified local protection program, if any.

29506. Any permit that is issued or any development or action that is approved on appeal pursuant to this division shall be subject to such reasonable terms and conditions as the commission determines will ensure that such development or action will be in accordance with the provisions of this division and the protection plan.

29507. (a) No person who has obtained a vested right in a development prior to January 1, 1978, or who has obtained a valid permit for development from the commission pursuant to Title 7 2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code or from the commission or any local government pursuant to former Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 1850) of Division 2 of the Fish and Game Code shall be required to secure a permit for the development pursuant to this division However, no substantial change may be made in any such development or with respect to the activity authorized by such a permit without prior approval having been obtained under this division.

(b) Any person who claims a vested right in a development and thereby an exemption from the requirements of this division shall, on or before January 1, 1979, notify the commission in writing by filing a claim of exemption with the commission. If any person does not file a claim of exemption on or before that date the development of such person shall be subject to the approval requirements of this division.

(c) The commission shall establish, by regulation, procedures, including public hearings, for determining claims of exemption and may require documentation or other competent evidence, including declarations under penalty of perjury or affidavits, to support any such claim

(d) The commission shall take reasonable steps to notify persons of the provisions of this section, but the fact that any person did not receive such notice shall not extend the period within which a claim of exemption must be filed under this section

to this chapter for the following types of development and in the following areas:

(a) Improvement to existing single-family residences

(b) Repair, replacement, reconstruction, or maintenance that does not result in an addition to, or enlargement or expansion of, the object of such repair, replacement, reconstruction, or maintenance. However, if the commission determines that certain types of repair, replacement, reconstruction, or maintenance activities involve a risk of substantial adverse environmental impact, it shall require, by regulation, that a permit be obtained under this chapter.

(c) The installation, testing, and placement in service or the replacement of any necessary utility connection between an existing service facility and any other development for which a marsh development permit is required and has been issued pursuant to this division. However, the commission may, whenever it deems necessary, require, as a condition to the issuance of such a permit, reasonable measures for the mitigation of any adverse impacts on marsh resources, including scenic resources

(d) Any category of development, or any category of development within a specifically defined geographic area, that the commission, by regulation, after public hearings, and by a two-thirds vote of its members, has described or identified and with respect to which the commission has found that there is no potential for any significant adverse effect, either individually or cumulatively, on the resources of the marsh and that such exclusion will not impair the ability of any local government or district or the Solano County Local Agency Formation Commission to prepare its component of the local protection program.

29509. (a) When immediate action by a person performing a public service is required to protect life and public property from imminent danger, or to restore, repair, or maintain public works, levees, dikes, utilities, or services destroyed, damaged, or interrupted by natural disaster, serious accident, or in other cases of emergency, no permit from the commission shall be required prior to commencing such action if within three days of the disaster or the discovery of the danger, whichever occurs first, the person performing such action notifies the executive director of the commission of the type and location of the work undertaken pursuant to such action. Upon such notification, the executive director of the commission may waive the requirements for a permit or other authorization for such work. However, this section does not authorize the permanent erection of structures valued at more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25 000).

(b) The commission shall provide, by regulation, for the issuance of marsh development permits by the executive director of the commission, without compliance with the procedures specified in this chapter, in cases of emergency, other than an emergency as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, or for minor repairs or improvements.

29510. Not later than two years following certification of the local protection program, the commission shall report to the Legislature regarding the operation of the appellate procedure in the secondary management area, as provided in subdivision (b) of Section 29504. Not less than 60 days prior to the date on which the report is required to be submitted to the Legislature, the report shall be made available, for review and comment, to each local government having jurisdiction within the marsh. Not later than 30 days prior to the date on which the report is required to be submitted to the Legislature, any comments by a local government shall be submitted to the commission. Each such comment shall be included in the commission's report, together with the commission's response thereto.

Article 2 Development Control Procedures

29520 (a) Except as expressly provided in this division, the commission shall use the procedures set forth in Title 7.2 (commencing with Section 66600) of the Government Code for the submission, review, and issuance by the commission of marsh development permits and claims of exemption

(b) The commission or any local government may require a reasonable filing fee and the reimbursement of expenses for the processing by the commission or the local government of any application by any person for a marsh development permit under this division. The funds received under this subdivision shall be deposited in the General Fund and shall be available for expenditure by the commission only when appropriated by the Legislature therefor.

29521 Not later than March 1, 1978, the commission shall adopt procedures for the submission, review, and appeal of applications for marsh development permits to be issued by local government. Such procedures shall include reasonable provisions for notification to the commission and other interested persons of any action by a local government pursuant to this division in sufficient detail to assure that a preliminary review of such action for conformity with the provisions of this division can be made.

29522. (a) Any appealable action on a marsh development permit for any development by a local government may be appealed to the commission by any aggrieved person or by any two members of the commission Such action shall become final after the 20th working day after receipt of the notice required by Section 29521, unless an appeal is filed within that time.

(b) If an appeal of any action on a development by any local government is filed with the commission, the operation and effect of such action shall be stayed pending the commission's decision on the appeal

29523 The commission shall hear an appeal unless it determines that the appeal raises no substantial issue as to the conformity of the proposed development with the provisions of this division, the local protection program, if in existence, and the policies of the protection plan.

29524. (a) The commission shall provide for a public hearing de novo on any appeal brought pursuant to this division and shall give to any affected person a written public notice of the nature of the proceeding and of the time and place of the public hearing. Notice shall also be given to any person who requests, in writing, such notice. A hearing on any appeal shall be set not earlier than 21 days nor later than 42 days after the date on which the appeal is filed with the commission.

(b) The commission shall act upon an appeal within 21 days after the conclusion of the hearing pursuant to subdivision (a) and may approve, modify, or deny the application for the proposed development; and if no action is taken within the time limits specified in this subdivision and subdivision (a), the decision of the local government shall become final.

(c) Thirteen affirmative votes of members of the commission, or of the commission hearing an appeal, are required to grant a permit. Neither of the federal representatives who are members of the commission may vote on whether or not a permit shall be granted.

(d) The applicant for a marsh development permit may waive any time limits prescribed in this section.

CHAPTER 7. JUDICIAL REVIEW, ENFORCEMENT, AND PENALTIES

Article 1. General Provisions

29600. The provisions of this chapter shall be in addition to any other remedies available pursuant to law.

29601. The provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 66630) of Title 7.2 of the Government Code relating to cease and desist orders and penalties for violations thereof shall apply to all development for which a marsh development permit from the commission, or the commission hearing an appeal, may be required under this division.

29602. Any aggrieved person may seek judicial review of any decision or action of the commission by filing a petition for a writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 60 days after such decision or action has become final.

29603. Any aggrieved person, including an applicant for a marsh development permit, or the commission, may seek judicial review of any decision made or any action taken pursuant to this division by a local government that is implementing the certified local protection program, or any component thereof, whether or not such decision or action has been appealed to the commission, by filing a petition for writ of mandate in accordance with the provisions of Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 60 days after the decision or action has become final. The commission may intervene in any such proceeding upon a showing that the matter involves a question of the conformity of a proposed development with the certified local protection program, or any component thereof, or the validity of any action taken by a local government to implement or amend the local protection program, or any component thereof. Any local government may request that the commission intervene. Notice of any such action against a local government shall be filed with the commission within five working days of the filing of such action. When an action is brought challenging the validity of the local protection program, or any component thereof or any amendment thereto, a preliminary showing shall be made prior to proceeding on the merits as to why such action should not have been brought pursuant to the provisions of Section 29602.

29604. Any person may maintain an action to enforce the duties specifically imposed upon the commission, any governmental agency, any district, or any local government by this division. No bond shall be required for an action under this section.

29605 Any person may maintain an action for the recovery of civil penalties provided in Section 29610 or 29611. Any penalties so recovered shall inure to the state and shall be deposited in the General Fund. However, the person recovering such penalties shall be entitled to reimbursement for reasonable attorney's fees out of the penalties so recovered.

29606 Any civil action under this division by or against a city or county, the commission, a district, or any other public agency shall, upon motion of either party, be transferred to a county or city and county not a party to the action or to a county or city and county other than that in which the city, district, or other public agency which is a party to the action is located

Article 2 Penalties

29610 (a) Any person who intentionally or negligently violates any provision of this division shall be subject to a civil fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000)

(b) In addition to any other penalties, any person who intentionally and knowingly commences any development in violation of this division shall be subject to a civil fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) and no more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) per day for each day in which such violation occurs

(c) If any person negligently or intentionally violates a cease and desist order issued pursuant to Section 29601, then the penalties provided in subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section shall not apply and the penalties provided in Section 66641 of the Government Code shall apply.

29611. Except as provided in Section 818 of the Government Code, whenever a person has intentionally and knowingly violated any provision of this division, the commission may maintain an action, in addition to an action under Section 29610, for the recovery of exemplary damages. In determining the amount to be awarded, the court shall consider the amount of such damages necessary to deter further violations.

29612. Any moneys recovered by the commission under this article shall be deposited in the General Fund and shall be available for expenditure by the commission for carrying out the provisions of this division, when appropriated by the Legislature therefor.

SEC. 14. Section 402.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

402.1. In the assessment of land, the assessor shall consider the effect upon value of any enforceable restrictions to which the use of the land may be subjected. Such restrictions shall include, but are not limited to: (a) zoning; (b) recorded contracts with governmental agencies other than those provided in Section 422; (c) permit authority of, and permits issued by, governmental agencies exercising land use powers concurrently with local governments, including the California Coastal Commission and regional coastal commissions, the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency; (d) development controls of a local government in accordance with any local coastal program certified pursuant to Division 20 (commencing with Section 30000) of the Public Resources Code, (e) development controls of a local government in accordance with a local protection program, or any component thereof, certified pursuant to Division 19 (commencing with Section 29000) of the Public Resources Code; and (f) environmental constraints applied to the use of land pursuant to provisions of statutes.

There shall be a rebuttable presumption that restrictions will not be removed or substantially modified in the predictable future and that they will substantially equate the value of the land to the value attributable to the legally permissible use or uses.

Grounds for rebutting the presumption may include, but are not necessarily limited to, the past history of like use restrictions in the jurisdiction in question and the similarity of sales prices for restricted and unrestricted land. The possible expiration of a restriction at a time certain shall not be conclusive evidence of the future removal or modification of the restriction unless there is no opportunity or likelihood of the continuation or renewal of the restriction, or unless a necessary party to the restriction has indicated an intent to permit its expiration at that time.

In assessing land with respect to which the presumption is unrebutted, the assessor shall not consider sales of otherwise comparable land not similarly restricted as to use as indicative of value of land under restriction, unless the restrictions have a demonstrably minimal effect upon value.

In assessing land under an enforceable use restriction wherein the presumption of no predictable removal or substantial modification of the restriction has been rebutted, but where the restriction nevertheless retains some future life and has some effect on present value, the assessor may consider, in addition to all other legally permissible information, representative sales of comparable land which are not under restriction but upon which natural limitations have substantially the same effect as restrictions.

For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Comparable lands" are lands which are similar to the land being valued in respect to legally permissible uses and physical attributes

(b) "Representative sales information" is information from sales of a sufficient number of comparable lands to give an accurate indication of the full cash value of the land being valued.

It is hereby declared that the purpose and intent of the Legislature in enacting this section is to provide for a method of determining whether a sufficient amount of representative sales information is available for land under use restriction in order to ensure the accurate assessment of such land. It is also hereby declared that the further purpose and intent of the Legislature in enacting this section and Section 1630 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is to avoid an assessment policy which, in the absence of special circumstances, considers uses for land which legally are not available to the owner and not contemplated by government, and that these sections are necessary to implement the public policy of encouraging and maintaining effective land use planning. Nothing in this statute shall be construed as requiring the assessment of any land at a value less than as required by Section 401 of this code or as prohibiting the use of representative comparable sales information on land under similar restrictions when such information is available.

SEC. 14.5. Section 10 15 of the Budget Act of 1977 (Ch. 219, Stats. 1977) is amended to read·

Sec 10.15 (a) As of June 30, 1977, the unencumbered balance of the appropriation made by Section 2 of Chapter 123 of the Statutes of 1975 shall revert to the General Fund

(b) As of July 1, 1977, the amount that reverted pursuant to subdivision (a) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Wildlife Conservation Board for expenditure during the 1977–78 fiscal year for the acquisition of lands and water and the construction of suitable facilities thereon. Such acquisition and construction shall be made for the purposes of Section 1880, and in accordance with the provisions of Section 1881, of the Fish and Game Code until such date as Assembly Bill No 1717 of the 1977–78 Regular Session of the Legislature becomes operative, and on and after such date such acquisition and construction shall be made pursuant to Section 29305 of the Public Resources Code.

SEC 15. There is no appropriation made by this act for the 1977–78 fiscal year pursuant to Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. However, the Legislature acknowledges that there may be direct planning and administrative costs in the 1977–78 fiscal year that are costs mandated by the state, as defined in Section 2207 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as a result of the enactment of this act, but finds that such costs are indeterminable at this time. It is the intent of the Legislature that such costs incurred by local government shall be reimbursed by the state. If such costs do result from the enactment of this act or from executive orders issued pursuant to this act in the 1977–78 or subsequent fiscal years, reimbursement shall be provided pursuant to Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code in the annual state budget process; except, that claims for such costs which may be incurred in the 1977–78 fiscal year shall be submitted to the State Controller by October 31, 1978.

If the Legislature does not provide full funds for state-mandated local costs that are approved by the State Controller as costs qualified for reimbursement under Section 2231 of the Revenue and Taxation Code in the annual state budget process or in special legislation during the 1977–78 and each subsequent fiscal year in which such costs have been so approved, the dates specified for the submission of the local protection program, the implementation of a local protection program, and the performance of any other duty required of local government to be performed after the enactment of Division 19 (commencing with Section 29000) of the Public Resources Code, shall be postponed by the number of years elapsing between the date the local protection program, implementing act, or duty is to be performed and the year in which such funds are provided.

It is the policy of the state that 20 percent of the funds, but in no event more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), received by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission in any year from the federal government after January 1, 1978, pursuant to the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972 (P.L. 92-583; 16 U.S.C. 1451, et seq.), shall be used for the development and implementation of the local protection program, as defined in Section 29111 of the Public Resources Code.

Funds appropriated by the Legislature for the purpose of, and pursuant to, this section, together with any federal funds available for such purposes, shall be disbursed in the manner provided herein. The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission shall review and analyze all claims submitted for payment pursuant to this section and shall submit to the State Controller its recommendation. The State Controller shall consider the report of the commission and review claims submitted by any local government pursuant to this section to determine whether such claimed planning and administration costs are directly attributable to the implementation of this act. Any such claimed costs found to be directly attributable to the implementation of this act shall be charged against and paid from such funds when appropriated by the Legislature.

SEC. 15.5. The Legislature acknowledges that the increased public use of the Suisun Marsh as a resource of statewide importance might place demands on local services, such as fire and police protection and highway maintenance, that might be greater than would be the case without the enactment of this act, thereby possibly causing greater costs to be incurred by local government and necessitating higher taxes. The amount of such costs, if any, is not ascertainable at this time. It is the intent of the Legislature to observe this situation and to determine, at the appropriate time, whether such costs should be reimbursed by the state.

SEC. 16. The Suisun Marsh, the primary management area, and the secondary management area, as generally defined in Sections 29101, 29102, and 29103, of the Public Resources Code, are the land and water areas so designated on the map prepared by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, titled "Boundaries of the Suisun Marsh," and on file with the Secretary of State.

CHAPTER 1157

An act to add Section 1776 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the Youth Authority, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 30, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. Section 1776 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

1776 Whenever an alleged parole violator is detained in a county detention facility pursuant to a valid exercise of the powers of the Youth Authority as specified in Sections 1753, 1755, and 1767.3 and when such detention is initiated by the Youth Authority and is related solely to a violation of the conditions of parole and is not related to a new criminal charge, the county shall be reimbursed for the costs of such detention by the Department of the Youth Authority. Such reimbursement shall be expended for maintenance, upkeep, and improvement of juvenile hall and jail conditions, facilities, and services. Before the county is reimbursed by the department, the total amount of all charges against that county authorized by law for services rendered by the department shall be first deducted from the gross amount of the reimbursement authorized by this section. Such net reimbursement shall be calculated and paid monthly by the department. The department shall withhold all or part of such net reimbursement to a county whose juvenile hall or jail facility or facilities do not conform to minimum standards for local detention facilities as authorized by Section 6030 of the Penal Code or Section 509.5 of this code.

SEC. 2. The sum of seventy-three thousand dollars ($73,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of the Youth Authority for reimbursement to counties for costs incurred by them pursuant to Section 1776 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Counties are currently required to divert a portion of their tax-base funds available to support local jail and juvenile hall operations to underwrite the costs of detaining Department of the Youth Authority parolees who have violated parole conditions. In order that the financial burden be transferred to the proper governmental entity as quickly as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1158

An act to add Article 9 (commencing with Section 3460) to Chapter 1 of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, relating to recycling of oil, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 30, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 9 (commencing with Section 3460) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, to read:

Article 9. Used Oil Recycling Act

3460. As used in this article:

(a) "Used oil" means a petroleum based oil which, after sale to a consumer, through use, storage, or handling has become unsuitable for its original purpose due to the presence of impurities or loss of original properties and is suitable for recycling.

(b) "Recycle" means to prepare used oil for reuse as a petroleum product by refining, rerefining, reclaiming, reprocessing, or other means, or to use used oil in a manner that substitutes for a petroleum product made from new oil

(c) "Board" means the State Solid Waste Management Board as defined by Section 66740 of the Government Code.

(d) "Person" means any individual, private or public corporation, partnership, cooperative, association, estate, municipality, political or jurisdictional subdivision, or government agency or instrumentality.

3462 The Legislature finds that almost 100 million gallons of used automotive and industrial oil are generated each year in the state; that used oil is a valuable petroleum resource which can be recycled; and that, in spite of this potential for recycling, significant quantities of used oil are wastefully disposed of or improperly used by means which pollute the water, land, and air and endanger the public health and welfare.

3463. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article that used oil shall be collected and recycled to the maximum extent possible, by means which are economically feasible and environmentally sound, in order to conserve irreplaceable petroleum resources, preserve and enhance the quality of natural and human environments, and protect public health and welfare.

3464. (a) No person shall collect, transport, transfer, store, recycle, use, or dispose of used oil in violation of any provision of this article or any rule or regulation adopted pursuant thereto

(b) Disposal of used oil by discharge to sewers, drainage systems, surface or ground waters, watercourses, or marine waters, or by incineration or deposit on land is prohibited, unless authorized under other provisions of law.

"Disposal," as used in this subdivision, shall not include the application of used oil to roads for maintenance purposes or the use of used oil as a fuel, or the use of used oil for agricultural dust control or the use of used oil for weed abatement on the user's property.

3465. The board shall conduct a public education program to inform the public of the needs for and benefits of collecting and recycling used oil in order to conserve resources and preserve the environment. As part of this program, the board shall:

(a) Adopt rules, in accordance with subdivision (a) of Section 3470, requiring any person who sells to a consumer more than 500 gallons of lubricating or other oil annually in containers for use off the premises to inform purchasers by posting at or near the point of purchase the locations of conveniently located collection facilities.

Such rules shall provide that in a county wherein 5 percent or more of the population, as determined in accordance with the latest Bureau of the Census information, speak a specific primary language other than English, the signs shall be in such other language, as well as English.

(b) Establish, maintain, and publicize a used oil information center that shall explain local, state, and federal laws and regulations governing used oil and inform holders of quantities of used oil on how and where used oil may be properly disposed.

(c) Encourage the establishment of voluntary used oil collection and recycling programs and provide technical assistance and, whenever possible, financial assistance, to persons organizing such programs.

(d) Encourage the procurement of rerefined automotive and industrial oils for all state and local uses, whenever such rerefined oils are available at prices competitive with those of new oil produced for the same purpose.

3466. The board shall by rule adopted in accordance with subdivision (a) of Section 3470 prescribe means for the provision of safe and conveniently located collection facilities for the deposit of used oil by persons possessing not more than five gallons at one time at no cost to those persons.

3467. (a) No person, except a person collecting solely from sources owned and operated by the person, shall transport more than 500 gallons of used oil annually over public highways or maintain any storage facility that receives more than 10,000 gallons of used oil annually without first registering as a used oil collector with the board.

(b) A registered used oil collector shall transfer used oil only to another registered used oil collector, a recycler registered under Section 3468, or a person outside the state.

(c) A registered used oil collector shall provide a receipt to any person to whom used oil is transferred; maintain a complete record of all such transactions, documented by reproducible receipts, for two years; and make available to the board, upon request, all records and copies of receipts for the purpose of review and audit.

(d) A registered used oil collector shall submit an annual report to the board on its activities during the calendar year based on the records kept in accordance with subdivision (c). The report shall state the quantities of used oil possessed at the beginning and end of the reporting period, the total amount collected, and the amounts transferred during the reporting period. The amounts transferred shall be itemized as to used oil collectors, used oil recyclers, and by the state or foreign country for those persons outside the state

3468. (a) No person, except a person recycling solely from sources owned and operated by the person, shall recycle more than 5,000 gallons of used oil annually without first registering as a used oil recycler with the board.

(b) A registered used oil recycler shall provide a receipt to any person from whom used oil is received; maintain a complete record of all such transactions, documented by reproducible receipts, for two years; maintain records on the quantities of used oil recycled; and make available to the board, upon request, all records and copies of receipts for the purpose of review and audit.

(c) A registered used oil recycler shall submit an annual report to the board on its activities during the calendar year based upon the records kept in accordance with subdivision (b). The report shall state the quantities of used oil possessed at the beginning and end of the reporting period, the total amount received, and the amounts recycled during the reporting period. The amounts recycled shall be itemized as follows: prepared for reuse as a petroleum product; consumed in the process of preparing for reuse, including wastes generated; and other uses, specifying each type of use 3469. The board, and every state officer and employee, shall encourage the purchase of recycled oil products represented as substantially equivalent to products made from new oil in accordance with Section 3471.

3470. (a) All rules and regulations of the board shall be adopted, amended, and repealed in accordance with the provisions of The Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

(b) The board shall adopt rules in accordance with subdivision (a) governing contents of and fees for applications for registrations under this article and procedures for review of applications and for approval, renewal, denial, and revocation of registrations. These rules shall provide for joint registrations for persons requiring more than one authorization under this article or other provisions administered by the board. The board shall also adopt rules prescribing provision of receipts, the keeping of records, and the filing of reports by registrants

(c) The board shall register an applicant if it determines that the proposed means for collection, transport, transfer, storage, recycling, use, or disposal is operationally safe, environmentally sound, and consistent with the provisions of this article and shall impose terms in connection with the registration requiring the registration holder to install or effect controls, processes, or practices necessary to insure continuous compliance with existing laws and regulations. A registration shall be valid until revoked.

(d) The board shall coordinate activities and functions with all other state agencies, including but not limited to, the State Department of Health, the Department of Water Resources, and the State Water Resources Control Board, in order to avoid duplication in reporting and information gathering.

(e) The board shall prepare and submit an annual report to the Legislature, based in part on information submitted in accordance with Sections 3467, 3468, and 3469, summarizing information on used oil collection and recycling and registrations, analyzing the effectiveness of the provisions of this article in implementing the policies prescribed in Section 3463, and making recommendations for necessary changes in the provisions or their administration.

(f) The board shall fully implement the provisions of this article as soon as practical, but in no event later than January 1, 1979.

3471. A person may represent any product made in whole or in part from used oil to be substantially equivalent to a product made from new oil for a particular end use if substantial equivalency has been determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the Federal Trade Commission under Section 383(d)(1)(A) of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (P.L. 94-163) or if the product conforms fully with the specifications applicable to that product made from new oil. Otherwise, the product shall be represented as made from previously used oil.

3472. (a) The board shall enforce compliance with the provisions of this article and with the terms of registrations pursuant to this article.

(b) The board is authorized to employ any of the following means of civil enforcement: inspection of the operations of a registrant; issuance of an administrative order directing specified actions in accordance with a specified schedule; revocation of a registration, after providing an opportunity for a hearing; and a civil action seeking equitable relief or the civil penalties provided for in subdivision (c), or both.

(c) Any person who in the course of business violates any provision of this article or rule or regulation of the board promulgated pursuant thereto, in addition to any penalty provided by law, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each such violation. Any other person who violates any provision of this article or rule or regulation on the board promulgated pursuant thereto, in addition to any penalty provided by law, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars ($100) for each such violation. For purposes of this section, each day of a continuing violation shall be deemed a separate and distinct violation

When establishing the amount of civil liability pursuant to this subdivision, the court shall consider, in addition to other relevant circumstances, the following:

(1) The extent of the harm caused by the violation or deposit.

(2) The persistence of the violation or deposit

(3) The number of prior violations by the same violator.

(4) The deterrent value of the penalty based on the financial resources of the violator

3473. If any provision of this article or the application of it to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this article which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are severable

SEC. 2 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Solid Waste Management Board for expenditure, without regard to fiscal years, for the purposes of Article 9 (commencing with Section 3460) of Chapter 1 of Division 3 of the Public Resources Code.

3512. It is the purpose of this chapter to promote full communication between the state and its employees by providing a reasonable method of resolving disputes regarding wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment between the state and public employee organizations. It is also the purpose of this chapter to promote the improvement of personnel management and employee-employer relations within the State of California by providing a uniform basis for recognizing the right of state employees to join organizations of their own choosing and be represented by such organizations in their employment relations with the state.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to contravene the spirit or intent of the merit principle in state employment

The initial determination as to whether the charges of unfair practices are justified, and, if so, what remedy is necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter, shall be a matter within the exclusive jurisdiction of the board. Procedures for investigating, hearing, and deciding these cases shall be devised and promulgated by the board and shall include all of the following:

(a) Any employee, employee organization, or employer shall have the right to file an unfair practice charge, except that the board shall not do either of the following: (1) issue a complaint in respect of any charge based upon an alleged unfair practice occurring more than six months prior to the filing of the charge; (2) issue a complaint against conduct also prohibited by the provisions of the agreement between the parties until the grievance machinery of the agreement, if it exists and covers the matter at issue, has been exhausted, either by settlement or binding arbitration. However, when the charging party demonstrates that resort to contract grievance procedure would be futile, exhaustion shall not be necessary. The board shall have discretionary jurisdiction to review such settlement or arbitration award reached pursuant to the grievance machinery solely for the purpose of determining whether it is repugnant to the purposes of this chapter. If the board finds that such settlement or arbitration award is repugnant to the purposes of this chapter, it shall issue a complaint on the basis of a timely filed charge, and hear and decide the case on the merits; otherwise, it shall dismiss the charge The board shall, in determining whether the charge was timely filed, consider the six-month limitation set forth in this subdivision to have been tolled during the time it took the charging party to exhaust the grievance machinery

(b) The board shall not have authority to enforce agreements between the parties, and shall not issue a complaint on any charge based of alleged violation of such a agreement that would not also constitute an unfair practice under this chapter

(c) The board shall have the power to issue a decision and order directing an offending party to cease and desist from the unfair practice and to take such affirmative action, including but not limited to the reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this chapter.

3515. Except as otherwise provided by the Legislature, state employees shall have the right to form, join, and participate in the activities of employee organizations of their own choosing for the purpose of representation on all matters of employer-employee relations. State employees also shall have the right to refuse to join or participate in the activities of employee organizations, except that nothing shall preclude the parties from agreeing to a maintenance of membership provision, as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 3513, pursuant to a memorandum of understanding In any event, state employees shall have the right to represent themselves individually in their employment relations with the public agency 3515.5. Employee organizations shall have the right to represent their members in their employment relations with the state, except that once an employee organization is recognized as the exclusive representative of an appropriate unit, the recognized employee organization is the only organization that may represent that unit in employment relations with the state. Employee organizations may establish reasonable restrictions regarding who may join and may make reasonable provisions for the dismissal of individuals from membership. Nothing in this section shall prohibit any employee from appearing in his own behalf in his employment relations with the state.

3515.6. All employee organizations shall have the right to have membership dues, initiation fees, insurance premiums, and general assessments deducted pursuant to Sections 1156, 1156.1, and 1156.2

until such time as an employee organization is recognized or certified as the exclusive representative for employees in an appropriate unit, and then such deductions as to any employee in the negotiating unit shall not be permissible except to the exclusive representative.

3516 The scope of representation shall be limited to wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, except, however, that the scope of representation shall not include consideration of the merits, necessity, or organization of any service or activity provided by law or executive order.

3516.5 Except in cases of emergency as provided in this section, the state, its agencies, departments, commissions, or boards, or its representatives as may be properly designated by law, shall give reasonable written notice to each recognized employee organization affected by any law, rule, resolution, or regulation directly relating to matters within the scope of representation proposed to be adopted by the state or its agencies, departments, commissions, or boards, and shall give such recognized employee organizations the opportunity to meet and confer with the administrative officials or their delegated representatives as may be properly designated by law.

In cases of emergency when the state or its agencies, departments, commissions, or boards determine that a law, rule, resolution, or regulation must be adopted immediately without prior notice or meeting with a recognized employee organization, the administrative officials or their delegated representatives as may be properly designated by law shall provide such notice and opportunity to meet and confer at the earliest practical time following the adoption of such law, rule, resolution, or regulation.

3517. The Governor, or his representative as may be properly designated by law, shall meet and confer in good faith regarding wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment with representatives of recognized employee organizations, and shall consider fully such presentations as are made by the employee organization on behalf of its members prior to arriving at a determination of policy or course of action

"Meet and confer in good faith" means that the Governor or such representatives as the Governor may designate, and representatives of recognized employee organizations, shall have the mutual obligation personally to meet and confer promptly upon request by either party and continue for a reasonable period of time in order to exchange freely information, opinions, and proposals, and to endeavor to reach agreement on matters within the scope of representation prior to the adoption by the state of its final budget for the ensuing year. The process should include adequate time for the resolution of impasses 3517.5. If agreement is reached between the Governor and the recognized employee organization, they shall jointly prepare a written memorandum of such understanding which shall be presented, when appropriate, to the Legislature for determination.

3517 6 In any case where the provisions of subdivision (h) of Section 3513, or Sections 1156, 1156.1, 1156 2, 13920, 13924, 14876, 18001, 18005, 18005.5, 18006, 18007, 18020, 18021, 18021.5, 18021 6, 18021 7, 18022, 18023, 18024, 18025, 18025.1, 18026, 18050, 18051, 18051.5, 18100, 18100.5, 18101, 18101.5, 18102, 18102.5, 18103, 18105, 18120, 18121, 18122, 18122.1, 18123, 18124, 18125, 18126, 18127, 18128, 18129, 18135, 18135.5, 18136, 18137, 18137 5, 18138, 18139, 18140, 18141, 18142, 18300, 18301, 18302, 18310, 18705, 18714, 18730, 18731, 18732, 18850, 18850.1, 18851, 18852, 18853, 18853 5, 18854, 18855, 18856, 18857, 18859, 18860, 18861, 19080.5, 19083, 19100, 19120, 19251, 19252, 19253.5, 19261, 19300, 19301, 19302, 19303, 19304, 19330, 19330.5, 19331, 19332, 19333, 19334, 19335, 19360, 19360.5, 19361, 19362, 19369, 19450, 19451, 19452, 19455, 19460, 19461, 19462, 19463, 19464, 19465, 19502, 19503, 19532, 19533, 19535, 19536, 19536.5, 19537, 19538, 19540, 19541, 19555, 19556, 20750.11, 21400, 21402, 21404, 21405, 22754, 22790, 22813, 22814, 22815, 22816, 22825, or 22825 1 are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action If any provision of the memorandum of understanding requires the expenditure of funds, those provisions of the memorandum of understanding shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act. [Approved by Governor September 30, 1977 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1977]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1 Chapter 12.5 (commencing with Section 13955) is added to Division 7 of the Water Code, to read:

CHAPTER 12 5 CLEAN WATER AND WATER CONSERVATION BOND LAW OF 1978

13955 This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Clean Water and Water Conservation Bond Law of 1978

13956. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that clean water, which fosters the health of the people, the beauty of their environment, the expansion of industry and agriculture, the enhancement of fish and wildlife, the improvement of recreational facilities and the provision of pure drinking water at a reasonable cost, is an essential public need. However, because the State of California is subject to great fluctuations in precipitation which have created semiarid and arid conditions in many parts of the state, and because the state has historically experienced a dry year on the average once every fourth year and has occasionally experienced such dry years consecutively resulting in conditions of drought, it is of paramount importance that the limited water resources of the state be preserved and protected from pollution and degradation in order to ensure continued economic, community, and social growth. Although the State of California is endowed with abundant lakes and ponds, streams and rivers, and hundreds of miles of shoreline, as well as large quantities of underground water, these vast water resources are threatened by pollution, which, if not checked, will impede the state's economic, community and social growth. The chief cause of pollution is the discharge of inadequately treated waste into the waters of the state. Many public agencies have not met the demands for adequate waste treatment or the control of water pollution because of inadequate financial resources and other responsibilities. Increasing population accompanied by accelerating urbanization, growing demands for water of high quality, rising costs of construction and technological changes mean that unless the state acts now the needs may soar beyond the means available for public finance. Meeting these needs is a proper purpose of the federal, state and local governments. Local agencies, by reason of their closeness to the problem, should continue to have primary responsibility for construction, operation and maintenance of the facilities necessary to cleanse our waters. Since water pollution knows no political boundaries and since the cost of eliminating the existing backlog of needed facilities and of providing additional facilities for future needs will be beyond the ability of local agencies to pay, the state, to meet its responsibility to protect and promote the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of the state, should assist in the financing. The federal government is contributing to the cost of control of water pollution, and just provision should be made to cooperate with the United States of America.

13956.5. The Legislature further finds and declares that the people of the state have a primary interest in the development and implementation of programs, devices, and systems to conserve water so as to make more efficient use of existing water supplies and to reclaim wastewater in order to supplement present surface and underground water supplies Utilization of reclaimed water and water which has otherwise been conserved will economically benefit the people of the state, will augment the existing water supplies of many local communities, and will assist in meeting future water requirements of the state. It is therefore further intended by the Legislature that the state undertake all appropriate steps to encourage and develop water conservation and reclamation so that such water may be made available to help meet the growing water requirements of the state.

13957. It is the intent of this chapter to provide necessary funds to insure the full participation by the state under the provisions of Title II of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq) and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, and to provide funds for state participation in the financing of projects, for the control of water pollution, or for the development of water conservation and wastewater reclamation, which are ineligible for federal assistance under Title II of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto.

13958. The State General Obligation Bond Law is adopted for the purpose of the issuance, sale and repayment of, and otherwise providing with respect to, the bonds authorized to be issued by this chapter, and the provisions of that law are included in this chapter as though set out in full in this chapter except that, notwithstanding anything in the State General Obligation Bond Law, the maximum maturity of the bonds shall not exceed 50 years from the date of each respective series. The maturity of each respective series shall be calculated from the date of such series.

(f) "Construction" means any one or more of the following: preliminary planning to determine the feasibility of treatment works, engineering, architectural, legal, fiscal, or economic investigations or studies, surveys, designs, plans, working drawings, specifications, procedures, or other necessary actions, erection, building, acquisition, alteration, remodeling, improvement, or extension of treatment works, or the inspection or supervision of any of the foregoing items.

(1) Eligible for federal assistance, whether or not federal funds are then available therefor;

(2) Necessary to prevent water pollution;

(3) Certified by the board as entitled to priority over other treatment works, and which complies with applicable water quality standards, policies and plans

[Approved by Governor September 30, 1977. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1977.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 66786.8 is added to the Government Code, to read:

66786.8. The board shall take or cause to be taken by contract, such actions as may be necessary to:

(a) Identify the geographical location of existing or potential markets for recovered materials;

(b) Identify the economic and technical barriers to the use of recovered materials, and materials.

(c) Encourage the development of new uses for recovered

A summary of such findings and any such actions taken and any recommendations resulting therefrom shall be transmitted to the Governor and Legislature by December 1 of each odd-numbered year, commencing on December 1, 1979.

SEC. 1.5. Section 66791.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

66791.5. The board may accept grants, gifts, and donations for purposes specified in this title and Title 7.8.

SEC. 2. Section 66796.22 is added to the Government Code, to read:

66796.22. (a) In addition to any other fees, effective January 1, 1979, there shall be imposed by the board on each operator of a publicly or privately owned solid waste disposal site within a standard metropolitan statistical area a surcharge equivalent to twenty-five cents ($0.25) per ton of solid wastes disposed.

(b) The board shall prescribe that the surcharge be based upon either the weight, volume, or type of solid waste received by any such operator or upon any other appropriate parameter.

(c) The board shall exempt from such surcharge:

(1) Solid wastes which cannot practicably be disposed of other than by burial at a solid waste disposal site, including but not limited to, agricultural and food processing wastes, except where such wastes have not been separated from other wastes.

(2) Solid wastes disposed of by individuals who engage in source separation at the first point of disposal, provided that the collection and disposal of such wastes is operated to minimize the amount disposed of by burial at a solid waste disposal site.

(d) The board shall prescribe the manner in which such fees are to be collected and forwarded to the board.

(e) Moneys collected by the board pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund, which is hereby created.

(f) In adopting the surcharge, the board shall require that the surcharge be reflected in the rates, levies, or other fees charged by the operator of a solid waste disposal site and by any other person or agency involved in the setting of rates, levies, or fees for the collection and disposal of solid wastes at a solid waste disposal site. It is the intent of the Legislature that existing rates, levies, or fees be increased by an amount equivalent to the surcharge in order that the surcharge is paid by persons who first dispose of waste material.

SEC. 3. Title 7.8 (commencing with Section 68000) is added to the Government Code, to read:

TITLE 7 8 LITTER CONTROL, RECYCLING, AND RESOURCE RECOVERY

CHAPTER 1 GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Findi gs and Declarations

68000. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Act of 1977.

68001. The Legislature finds the following·

(a) The rapid population growth of California and the ever increasing mobility of its people heighten the fundamental need for a healthful, clean and beautiful environment, the proliferation and accumulation of improperly discarded materials throughout the state impairs this need; the proliferation and accumulation of litter is statewide in scope and that uniform state action rather than a piecemeal county, city, or regional solution is necessary to accomplish effective litter control, and that statewide uniformity in control programs, including uniformity in litter bags, receptacles, signs, symbols, and regulations is desirable and necessary to accomplish effective litter control

(b) The burden placed on existing solid waste disposal systems to collect littered products and the need to reduce energy and other resource consumption makes it imperative that recycling efforts be intensified and that resource recovery systems be developed to process discarded packaging materials, as well as other energy rich components of solid waste.

68002. The Legislature therefore declares that the protection of the public health, safety, and well-being, the maintenance of the economic productivity and environmental quality of the state, and the conservation of natural resou ces require the implementation of a comprehensive litter and waste removal program throughout the state, and the rapid development of technologically and economically feasible, operational projects for the recovery of energy and resources from litter and solid waste

68014. "Litter receptacle" means those containers specified by the board and which shall be acceptable to the board as to size, shape, capacity, and color and which shall bear the state antilitter symbol, as well as any other receptacle suitable for depositing litter

68041 A public agency or private entity eligible to receive a grant pursuant to this article may make an application for such grant to the board in such form as the board shall require.

68042. (a) The board shall grant funds from the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund to eligible public agencies or private entities who have submitted applications for such funds when the board determines that the plan submitted by any such agency or entity is qualified and suitable for the purposes of the program.

(b) The board shall adopt guidelines for the determination of eligibility of public agencies and private entities and the determination of qualification and suitability of plans submitted by such agencies or entities Such guidelines shall be consistent with the policy and provisions of this chapter.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that the money in the fund be substantially expended each year, with the total commitments to each of the various classes of expenditure in this article adhering as closely to the specified percentages as is consistent with efficient and prudent administration.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that funds made available by this chapter shall be used to supplement and not replace existing funding for the same purposes.

68043. Thirty percent of the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund shall be expended on cleanup of recreational land and public thoroughfares distributed as follows:

(a) One percent to the Department of Parks and Recreation for cleanup on lands under its jurisdiction

(b) Two percent to the California Conservation Corps, or other qualified state or nonprofit agencies as determined by the board, for cleanup on federal lands used for recreational purposes, including national forests, national parks, and Bureau of Land Management lands.

(c) Two percent to the Department of Transportation for cleanup of state freeways and highways.

(d) Twenty-five percent to cities and counties, for cleanup on recreational lands and public thoroughfares within that city and county. Of the total amount allocated pursuant to this subdivision, 50 percent shall be allocated for expenditure within each county in proportion to the ratio of the population of such county to the total population of the state according to the most recent annual estimates published by the Department of Finance, and 50 percent shall be allocated for expenditure within each county in proportion to the ratio of the mileage of city and county streets and highways within such county to the total city and county street and highway mileage in the state based on the most recent estimates of the Department of Transportation.

The total funds allocated for expenditure within each county shall be distributed by either of the two following procedures:

(1) Fifty percent to the respective cities and the county in proportion to the ratio of the population residing in the respective cities and the unincorporated area to the total population of the county, and 50 percent to the respective cities and the county in proportion to the ratio of the city and county streets and highway mileage within the respective cities and the unincorporated area to the total city and county street and highway mileage within the county; or

(2) In accordance with a plan developed by the county and the cities and approved by the county board of supervisors and by at least 50 percent of the cities representing at least 50 percent of the total population residing within the cities in the county.

(e) The board may authorize expenditure by public agencies other than cities and counties where it can be demonstrated that other agencies are providing a substantial portion of recreation and park services within a county or are receiving a substantial portion of the county's recreational land litter and such expenditure is included within the plan described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of this section.

68045. In making grants pursuant to subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 68043 for litter cleanup, the board shall require a commitment by the grantee, in a manner satisfactory to the board with regard to:

(a) Application of behavioral science techniques in litter control.

(b) Improved sanitation technology.

(c) Continuous public education.

(d) Vigorous enforcement

(e) An annual report on progress on cleaning up litter.

68046. Twenty percent of the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund shall be expended by the board for grants and loans to public agencies, private entities, or combinations thereof, as determined by the board, for implementation of the state research and development program for recovery of resources and energy from wastes mandated by Section 66785. Grants or loans for the planning, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of resources and energy recovery projects authorized by this subdivision shall be made by the board only if the project.

(a) Is not in potential conflict with the state policy for solid waste management required by Section 66770 or the solid waste management plans required by Section 66780.

(b) Is designed to make a substantial, long-term contribution to regional or areawide solution of the solid and liquid waste disposal problems.

(c) Advances the development of technologically and economically feasible, operational resources and energy recovery systems.

(d) Provides an equitable procedure for financing and distributing the costs associated with project planning, design, construction, operation, maintenance, and reserve for contingencies among the users.

(e) Is proposed by the public agency or private entity, or combination thereof, which:

(1) Demonstrates a capacity to provide satisfactory performance of solid waste management activities;

(2) Possesses sufficient financial resources and stability to ensure protection of the public interest in the project by the bonding or other sureties deemed appropriate by the board,

(3) Is capable of producing plans and specifications susceptible to implementation; and

(4) To the extent practicable, provides written confirmation of the economic viability of the project in the form of contracts for recovered resources or energy with guaranteed purchasers at guaranteed prices for the period of time deemed satisfactory by the board.

(f) Pursuant to guidelines and criteria adopted by the board, subsidies may be provided in such grants and loans for the difference between the unit selling price of recovered resources or energy and the total cost of producing such recovered resources and energy.

(g) Grants or loans authorized by this section for any project shall not:

(1) Exceed 75 percent of the total planning, design, and construction costs, plus the first three years' operation and maintenance costs,

(2) Be provided for land acquisition costs; and

(3) Be made until the applicant has made provision satisfactory to the board for proper and efficient construction, operation, and maintenance of the project.

(h) Grants made by the board under this section shall be made with the express requirements that.

(1) The recipient will accept for processing, without charge, any amount of litter picked up from roadsides or recreation areas by nonprofit organizations and public agencies conducting organized litter cleanup programs. Insofar as economic feasibility warrants, the recipient may pay an appropriate premium for such litter if it can be demonstrated that it contains percentages of marketable salvage materials in excess of the average for municipal solid waste;

(2) In the event the project so supported with a grant becomes self sustaining, as determined by the board, the grant shall be deemed to be a loan to the entity receiving such assistance, and shall be repayable to the board for deposit in the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund, for expenditure in the resource and energy recovery program in accordance with terms and conditions agreed upon between the entity and the board. Such terms and conditions shall be expressed in a "loan agreement" entered into prior to the rendering of such assistance;

(3) The obligation for a loan shall be in the form of a note or notes payable to the order of the board, carrying a rate of interest acceptable to the board which is payable solely from the revenues of the project by its operator, and subordinated to any security interest or interests which are equivalent to a first mortgage lien upon the facilities or assets of the project or a pledge of its revenues; and

(4) Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit the board from receiving additional compensation out of the revenues of the project in the form of income participation or other payments.

68047. Twenty-five percent of the State Litter Control, Recycling, and Resource Recovery Fund shall be for grants to public agencies and private entities, in accordance with guidelines and criteria adopted by the board, for the expansion of existing and the creation of new community recycling centers; provided, that such grants shall not be used for the payment of salaries or wages. In adopting guidelines and criteria for the implementation of this section, the board shall consider, as a minimum, the following:

(a) Availability to the potential grantee of land or property on or in which the center will operate.

(b) An acceptable business plan for the operation of the center, including a detailed listing of the full range of materials and products which will be accepted.

(c) The availability of necessary licenses and permits.

(d) Letters of intent from those who will accept the materials and products recovered at the center.
