(a) For each fiscal year, the adult education block entitlement shall be computed by multiplying the amount per unit of adult average daily attendance for the preceding fiscal year times the product of 1.06 and the number of units of adult average daily attendance for the programs specified in Section 41976, provided that in no event shall the amount per unit of adult average daily attendance exceed the district's prior fiscal year adult education revenue limit if it is greater than 1.06 times the prior fiscal year statewide average adult education revenue limit pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42237.

(b) In the event the district's adult education block entitlement computed pursuant to subdivision (a) is greater than the following calculations, the following calculations shall be the maximum block entitlement that shall be apportioned to the district:

(1) For the 1981–82 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, increase the 1979–80 fiscal year adult average daily attendance for the programs specified in Section 41976 by 1.02 in the 1980–81 fiscal year, by 1.025 in the 1981–82 fiscal year, and by 1.0 in the 1982–83 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter.

(3) This maximum block entitlement may be exceeded pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (c) when unencumbered funds are reallocated.

(c) If the adult average daily attendance of a school district in any fiscal year is less than the adult average daily attendance utilized to compute the funded district adult education block entitlement for that fiscal year, the district shall receive an apportionment only for the actual average daily attendance generated. Any surpluses accrued as a result of average daily attendance not generated in a district's block entitlement shall be reallocated after the first principal apportionment by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for meeting specific needs or unanticipated growth in adult education, or both. The receipt of reallocated funds shall not be used for computational purposes for the district's block entitlement for subsequent fiscal years.

(d) The adult education block entitlement shall be deposited in a separate fund of the district to be known as the "adult education fund." Moneys in an adult education fund shall only be expended for adult education purposes.

Moneys received for programs other than adult education shall not be expended for adult education.

(e) Each school district which conducted adult education programs for substantially handicapped adults in activity centers, work activity centers, sheltered workshops, state hospitals, and other community settings, shall set aside an amount of money from its adult education block entitlement equal to its current fiscal year revenue limit times the average daily attendance generated in these facilities in the 1979–80 fiscal year times 1.02, subject to the following:

(d) Except as provided in subdivision (f), the amounts computed pursuant to subdivision (c) shall be the authorized instructional personnel service units the state will fund for the district, special education services region, or county office in the then current year. The allocation of these instructional personnel service units shall be described in the annual budget plan.

(e) The number of units of instructional services funded pursuant to this article for a local plan shall not exceed for special classes and centers, an average of one teacher and one aide per special class or center actually operated.

imprisonment begin at and continue after the expiration of any imprisonment imposed as a part of the punishment or of any other imprisonment to which he may theretofore have been sentenced. Each of these judgments shall specify the extent of the imprisonment for nonpayment of the fine, which shall not be more than one day for each thirty dollars ($30) of the fine, nor exceed in any case the term for which the defendant might be sentenced to imprisonment for the offense of which he has been convicted. A defendant held in custody for nonpayment of a fine shall be entitled to credit on the fine for each day he is so held in custody, at the rate specified in the judgment. When the defendant has been convicted of a misdemeanor, a judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he pay the fine within a limited time or in installments on specified dates and that in default of payment as therein stipulated he be imprisoned in the discretion of the court either until the defaulted installment is satisfied or until the fine is satisfied in full; but unless the direction is given in the judgment, the fine shall be payable forthwith.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in case of fines imposed as conditions of probation, the defendant must pay the fine to the clerk of the court, or to the judge thereof if there is no clerk, unless the defendant is taken into custody for nonpayment of the fine, in which event payments made while he is in custody shall be made to the officer who holds him in custody and all amounts so paid shall be forthwith paid over by the officer to the court which rendered the judgment. The clerk shall report to the court every default in payment of a fine or any part thereof, of if there is no clerk, the court shall take notice of the default. If time has been given for payment of a fine or it has been made payable in installments, the court shall, upon any default in payment immediately order the arrest of the defendant and order him to show cause why he should not be imprisoned until the fine or installment thereof, as the case may be, is satisfied in full. If the fine, or installment, is payable forthwith and it is not so paid, the court shall without further proceedings, immediately commit the defendant to the custody of the proper officer to be held in custody until the fine or installment thereof, as the case may be, is satisfied in full. The provisions of this section shall apply to any violation of any of the codes or statutes of the State of California punishable by a fine or by a fine and imprisonment.

(c) The defendant shall pay to the clerk of the court or the collecting agency a fee for the processing of installment accounts. This fee shall equal the administrative and clerical costs, as determined by the board of supervisors, except that the fee shall not exceed thirty dollars ($30).

Where the sale is made in a district where there is no municipal police department, the third copy of the original sheet shall be mailed to the sheriff of the county wherein the sale is made.

(c) If, on receipt of its two copies of the original sheet, it appears to the department that the purchaser resides in a district other than that to which a copy of the original sheet is required to be mailed, the department shall transmit one of its copies to the head of the municipal police department, if any, in the district in which the purchaser resides or, if none, to the sheriff of the county in which he resides.

(d) If the department determines that the purchaser is a person described in Section 12021 of this code or Section 8100 or 8103 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, it shall immediately notify the dealer of that fact.

(e) The Department of Justice may charge the dealer a fee which it determines to be sufficient to reimburse the department for the cost of furnishing this information. No assessment may be collected except upon termination of the guardianship of conservatorship by death or court order. A county may waive any or all of an assessment against an estate, on the basis of hardship, where the guardianship or conservatorship is terminated by court order.

(c) Any amount otherwise owing to a county pursuant to Article

XIII B of the California Constitution and Sections 2231 and 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code for costs incurred by the county for the costs of investigation or review by court investigators pursuant to Sections 1826, 1850, and 1851 shall be reduced by the amount of any assessments actually collected during the fiscal year pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) Facilitate the creation of permanent jobs in tree maintenance and related urban forestry activities in neighborhood, local, and regional urban areas.

(d) Encourage the coordination of state and local agency activities in urban forestry and related programs and encourage maximum citizen participation in their development and implementation.

(e) Prevent the introduction and spread within this state of the Dutch elm disease caused by the fungus Ceralocystis ulmi and to reduce or eliminate the loss of elm trees resulting from the disease.

SEC. 132. Section 4799.10 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

4799.10. (a) The department is authorized to implement a program in urban forestry to encourage better tree management and planting in urban areas, to assist the cities in seeking innovative solutions to problems such as tree maintenance and vandalism, encourage demonstration projects to maximize the benefits of urban forests, and otherwise accomplish the purposes of this chapter.

The department shall assume the primary responsibility in carrying out the intent of this chapter in cooperation with other private and public entities or persons and appropriate local, state, and federal agencies such as the Cooperative Extension, the Department of Parks and Recreation, the Department of Transportation, resource conservation districts, and the United States Forest Service.

(b) The department shall be the agent of the state and shall have full power to cooperate with those agencies of the federal government which have powers and duties concerning urban forestry, and shall perform all things necessary to secure for this state the benefits of federal urban forestry programs.

SEC. 133. Section 25008 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25008. It is further the policy of the state and the intent of the Legislature to promote all feasible means of energy conservation and all feasible uses of alternative energy supply sources.

The Legislature finds and declares that the State of California has extensive physical and natural resources available to it at state-owned sites and facilities which can be substituted for traditional energy supplies or which lend themselves readily to the production of electricity. Due to increases in energy costs, the state's expenditures for energy have also increased, adding to the burden on California taxpayers and reducing the amount of funds available for other public purposes.

It is in the best interest of the state to use these resources when it can be demonstrated that long-term cost and energy use reduction will result, and where increased independence from other fuel sources and development of additional revenues for the state may be obtained.

Therefore, in recognition of recent and projected increases in the cost of energy from traditional sources, it is the policy of the state to use available resources at state facilities which can substitute for traditional energy supplies or produce electricity at its facilities when use or production will reduce long-term energy expenditures. Criteria used in analysis of proposed actions shall include lifecycle cost evaluation, benefit to taxpayers, reduced fossil fuel, and improved efficiency. Energy facilities at state-owned sites shall be scaled to produce optimal system efficiency and best economic advantage to the state. Energy produced may be reserved by the state to meet state facility needs or may be sold to state or nonstate purchasers.

Resources and processes which may be used to substitute for traditional energy supplies and for the purpose of electrical generation at state facilities include, but are not limited to, cogeneration, biomass, wind, geothermal, and solar technologies.

It is the intent of the Legislature that no policy in this section, expressed or implied, be in conflict with existing state or federal regulations regarding the production or sale of electricity, and that this policy be just and reasonable to utility ratepayers.

SEC. 134. Section 25372 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25372. The Legislature further finds and declares that it is the policy and goal of this state to limit the future use of motor vehicle fuel in each county during each respective month of the year to 95 percent of the per capita average amount which was used in each such county for each such respective month during the base period July 1, 1977, through June 30, 1980.

SEC. 135. Section 25375 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25375. If the commission determines that motor vehicle fuel consumption in any county has exceeded the monthly goal established pursuant to Section 25372 for three consecutive months, the Governor, after proclamation of a state of emergency in that county pursuant to Section 8625 of the Government Code and subject to the provisions of the California Emergency Services Act, Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 8550) of Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code, may implement by executive order applicable solely to that county, the motor vehicle fuel conservation measure specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 25373 or any conservation measures contained in the state emergency conservation plan submitted and approved under Section 212 of the Emergency Energy Conservation Act of 1979 (P.L. 96-102) until the commission determines that motor vehicle fuel use in such county meets the monthly goal established pursuant to Section 25372, at which time such order shall be terminated.

SEC. 136. Section 25376 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 137. Section 25377 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 138. Section 25378 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 139. Section 97.7 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

97.7. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the purposes of this chapter the computation required by Section 16713 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be performed by adding the amount determined pursuant to subdivision (a) of that section to the amount computed pursuant to subdivision (b) of that section. It is the intent of the Legislature that this is a declaration and clarification of existing law.

(b) Any computation made pursuant to Section 16713 of the Welfare and Institutions Code prior to the effective date of this section, other than that required by this section, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of Section 16713 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and the provisions of this chapter only insofar as the computation may affect apportionments for the 1981–82 fiscal year or prior fiscal years.

(c) Commencing with the 1982–83 fiscal year, the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section shall be utilized in the apportionment of property tax revenue.

SEC. 140. Section 98.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

98.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the purposes of this chapter the apportionment of property tax revenues required by Sections 95 to 98, inclusive, shall not involve the subtraction of the redevelopment increment, calculated pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 33670 of the Health and Safety Code, from any jurisdiction which is not within the boundaries of a redevelopment project area. Any redevelopment increment which is subtracted from a jurisdiction within a redevelopment project area shall be computed on the basis of the factors or rates which are developed pursuant to Section 98. In order to determine each jurisdiction's liability for the redevelopment increment, the factors or rates for tax rate areas that are part of a redevelopment project shall be applied to the current assessed value of the taxable property within the redevelopment project area, less the assessed valuation on the assessment roll last equalized prior to the effective date of the ordinance establishing the redevelopment project. Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting a county from making the allocation and payment of funds as provided for by subdivision (b) of Section 33670 of the Health and Safety Code prior to the apportionment of property tax revenues to any jurisdiction.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that subdivision (a) of this section is a declaration and clarification of existing law. Any computation made pursuant to Sections 95 to 98, inclusive, or pursuant to Section 33670 of the Health and Safety Code prior to the effective date of this section, which is inconsistent with the provisions of subdivision (a), shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of subdivision (a) only insofar as the computation may affect apportionments for the 1981–82 fiscal year or prior fiscal years.

(c) Commencing with the 1982–83 fiscal year, the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section shall be utilized in the apportionment of property tax revenues.

SEC. 141. Section 100.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

100.5. (a) For the 1982–83 fiscal year, if the total of General Fund revenues and transfers for fiscal year 1982–83 plus the amount of General Fund surplus available for appropriation as of June 30, 1982, as estimated on June 10, 1982, by the organization, is more than one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) less than the base amount, then the amount of local assistance funds for fiscal year 1982–83 shall be reduced by an amount equal to the difference between the base amount and the amount of the organization's estimate, which difference shall be known as the deflator amount.

(b) For the 1982–83 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the Governor's Budget for the prior fiscal year shall contain a base amount for the next succeeding fiscal year determined pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (g). This amount may be changed by the Legislature in the Budget Act for the prior fiscal year, in which case this revised amount shall become the base amount for purposes of this section.

(c) Commencing in 1983, the organization shall, on June 10 of each year, determine the difference between the base amount, as determined pursuant to subdivision (b), and the amount of available resources, as defined in paragraph (3) of subdivision (g), and if the amount of available resources is more than one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) less than the base amount, then the amount of local assistance funds for the next fiscal year shall be reduced by the amount of the difference, which difference shall be known as the deflator amount.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Controller shall deduct 50 percent of the deflator amount from local assistance funds for local agencies in the next fiscal year, to the extent these funds are available, and 50 percent shall be deducted from local assistance funds for school entities, to the extent these funds are available. However, the deduction for all school entities statewide shall not exceed the deduction for all local agencies statewide.

(e) The reductions provided for in subdivision (a) or (c) for local agencies shall be made in the following manner:

(1) The Controller shall total the local assistance funds for local agencies based on the amounts estimated for the next fiscal year in the Governor's Budget for that fiscal year.

(2) The Controller shall then calculate a factor derived by dividing 50 percent of the deflator amount by the amount determined in paragraph (1).

(3) If the factor determined in paragraph (2) is less than 1.0, then this factor shall be multiplied by the amount of funds for each individual source of local assistance funds for local agencies. The resulting amount shall be the amount of funds retained by the state from each individual source of local assistance funds for local agencies. The remaining funds from each source of amounts shall be allocated in accordance with the statutes cited in paragraph (1) of subdivision (g).

(4) If the factor determined in paragraph (2) is equal to or greater than 1.0, then no funds from any source of local assistance funds for local agencies shall be allocated to any local agency.

(f) The reductions provided for in subdivision (a) or (c) for school entities shall be made in proportion to the amount each local educational agency's apportionment pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 41301 or subdivision (a) of Section 84728 of the Education Code bears to 50 percent of the deflator amount provided for in subdivision (a) or (c). However, no educational agency shall receive less than one hundred twenty dollars ($120) per unit of average daily attendance from all state sources. Reductions under this paragraph for community college districts shall be determined by the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, and for other school entities by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(g) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Local assistance funds" means:

(A) For local agencies, the funds allocated by the state to local agencies pursuant to Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 16110) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16140) of Part 1 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code; Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11001) of Part 5, and Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 30461) of Part 13, of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(B) For school entities, the amounts allowed pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 41301 of the Education Code to all elementary, high school and unified school districts, and county offices of education, and by the Chancellor's Office of the California Community Colleges from the amounts allowed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 84301 of the Education Code to all community college districts, or any appropriation in lieu thereof.

(2) "Base amount" means, for the fiscal year 1981–82, twenty-one billion five hundred million dollars ($21,500,000,000). For each fiscal year thereafter, "base amount" means the base amount for the prior year, adjusted annually by the estimated percentage change from the next fiscal year over the current fiscal year in the total state appropriations subject to limitation for purposes of Article XIII B of the California Constitution.

(3) "Available resources" means the total of General Fund revenues and transfers under current law for the next fiscal year, plus the amount of General Fund surplus available at the end of the current fiscal year, less any amounts of General Fund expenditures estimated by the organization on June 10 to be required in the next fiscal year as a replacement for federal government funding cuts in programs during the 1981–82 fiscal year.

(4) "Local agency" has the meaning provided in subdivision (a) of Section 95.

(5) "School entity" means any school district, community college district, or county office of education.

(6) "Organization" means the organization responsible for accurate and comprehensive long-range estimates, which is the Commission on State Finance, or, if this commission is subsequently abolished, it is the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, assisted by the Department of Finance and the Legislative Analyst.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the amounts of all local assistance funds which are not paid to local agencies or school entities by operation of this section, shall be transferred from their respective funds or accounts to the General Fund for the fiscal year in which such payment is not made.

(i) The reductions provided by this section shall be effective for any fiscal year unless a provision stating a contrary finding is enacted by the Legislature on or before June 30 of each year in the Budget Act.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the transfer authority in subdivision (c) of Section 14002 and subdivision (d) of Section 14020 of the Education Code shall have no force or effect if the provisions of subdivision (f) are implemented.

(k) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no reduction shall be made pursuant to this section for the 1982–83 fiscal year.

SEC. 142. Section 1609.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

The full value of an individual property shall be determined without limitation by reason of the applicant's opinion of value stated in the application for reduction in assessment pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1603.

The applicant for a reduction in an assessment on the local roll shall establish the full value of the property by independent evidence. The records of the assessor may be used as part of such evidence.

This report shall identify the statewide costs estimated for each mandate and the reasons for recommending reimbursement. The report may be included in the report required by Section 13928 of the Government Code. Immediately on receipt of the report a local government claims bill shall be introduced in the Legislature. The local government claims bill, at the time of its introduction, shall provide for an appropriation sufficient to pay the estimated costs of these mandates, pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(b) If the Legislature deletes from a local government claims bill funding for a mandate imposed either by legislation or by a regulation adopted pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, it may take one of the following courses of action:

13682. No injunction, writ of mandate, or other legal or equitable process shall ever issue in any suit, action, or proceeding in any court against this state or any officer of this state to prevent or enjoin the collection of any tax imposed by this part.

13683. The Controller may bring suits in the courts of other states to collect estate taxes payable under this part. An official of another state which extends a like comity to this state may sue for the collection of similar taxes in the courts of this state. A certificate by the secretary of state of another state, under the great seal of that state, that an official thereof has authority to collect its estate or other transfer taxes is conclusive evidence of the authority of that official in any suit for the collection of those taxes in any court of this state.

13684. The remedies of the state for the enforcement of the tax imposed by this part are cumulative, and no action taken by the Controller or any other state official constitutes an election by the state or any of its officers to pursue any remedy to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made by this part.

Article 6. Tax Compromise

13801. The Controller may compromise with the personal representative the tax, including interest and penalty thereon, payable on the estate of any decedent who it is claimed was not a resident of this state at the time of his or her death.

13810. When the Controller claims that a decedent was domiciled in this state at the time of his or her death and the taxing authorities of another state or states make a like claim on behalf of their state or states, the Controller may make a written agreement of compromise with the other taxing authorities and the executor or administrator that a certain sum shall be accepted in full satisfaction of any and all death taxes imposed by this state, including any interest to the date of filing the agreement. The agreement shall also fix the amount to be accepted by the other states in full satisfaction of death taxes. The executor or administrator is hereby authorized to make that agreement. Either the Controller or the executor or administrator shall file the agreement, or a duplicate, with the authority that would be empowered to determine death taxes for this state if there had been no agreement; and thereupon the tax shall be deemed conclusively fixed as therein provided. Unless the tax is paid within 90 days after filing the agreement, interest shall thereafter accrue upon the amount fixed in the agreement but the time between the decedent's death and the filing shall not be included in computing the interest.

13810.1. As used in this article, "state" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, and the District of Columbia.

13810.2. This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

13810.3. This article may be cited as the "Uniform Act on Interstate Compromise of Death Taxes."

13810.4. This article shall apply to estates of decedents dying before or after its enactment.

Article 7. Uniform Act on Interstate Arbitration of Death Taxes

13820. When the Controller claims that a decedent was domiciled in this state at the time of his or her death and the taxing authorities of another state or states make a like claim on behalf of their state or states, the Controller may make a written agreement with the other taxing authorities and with the executor or administrator to submit the controversy to the decision of a board consisting of one or any uneven number of arbitrators (hereafter referred to in this article as "board"). The executor or administrator is hereby authorized to make the agreement. The parties to the agreement shall select the arbitrator or arbitrators.

13820.1. The board shall hold hearings at such times and places as it may determine, upon reasonable notice to the parties to the agreement, all of whom shall be entitled to be heard, to present evidence and to examine and cross-examine witnesses.

13820.2. The board shall have power to administer oaths, take testimony, subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents, and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be signed by any member of the board. In case of failure to obey a subpoena, any judge of a court of record of this state, upon application by the board, may make an order requiring compliance with the subpoena, and the court may punish failure to obey the order as a contempt.

13820.3. The board shall, by majority vote, determine the domicile of the decedent at the time of his or her death. This determination shall be final for purposes of imposing and collecting death taxes but for no other purpose.

13820.4. Except as provided in Section 13820.2 in respect of the issuance of subpoenas, all questions arising in the course of the proceeding shall be determined by majority vote of the board.

13820.5. The Controller, the board, or the executor or administrator shall file the determination of the board as to domicile, the record of the board's proceedings, and the agreement, or a duplicate, made pursuant to Section 13820, with the authority having jurisdiction to determine the death taxes in the state determined to be the domicile and shall file copies of all such documents with the authorities that would have been empowered to determine the death taxes in each of the other states involved.

13820.6. In any case where it is determined by the board that the decedent died domiciled in this state, interest, if otherwise imposed by law, for nonpayment of death taxes between the date of the agreement and of filing of the determination of the board as to domicile, shall not exceed 10 percent per annum.

13820.7. Nothing contained herein shall prevent at any time a written compromise, if otherwise lawful, by all parties to the agreement made pursuant to Section 13820, fixing the amounts to be accepted by this and any other state involved in full satisfaction of death taxes.

13820.8. The compensation and expenses of the members of the board and its employees may be agreed upon among those members and the executor or administrator and if they cannot agree shall be fixed by the superior court of the state determined by the board to be the domicile of the decedent. The amounts so agreed upon or fixed shall be deemed an administration expense and shall be payable by the executor or administrator.

13820.9. This article shall apply only to cases in which each of the states involved has a law identical with or substantially similar to this act.

13820.10. As used in this article, the word "state" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, and the District of Columbia.

13820.11. This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

13820.12. This article may be cited as the "Uniform Act on Interstate Arbitration of Death Taxes."

13820.13. This article shall apply to estates of decedents dying before or after its enactment.

Article 8. Determination of Domicile by Arbitration: Alternative Method

13830. For the purposes of this article:

(a) "Executor" means an executor of the will or administrator of the estate of the decedent, but does not include an ancillary administrator nor an administrator with the will annexed if an executor named in the will has been appointed and has qualified in another state.

(b) "Taxing official" means the Controller of the State of California and the designated authority of a reciprocal state.

(c) "Death tax" means any tax levied by a state on account of the transfer or shifting of economic benefits in property at death, or in contemplation thereof, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death, whether denominated an "inheritance tax," "transfer tax," "succession tax," "estate tax," "death duty," "death dues," or otherwise.

(d) "Interested person" means any person who may be entitled to receive, or who has received, any property or interest which may be required to be considered in computing the death tax of any state involved.

(e) "State" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia. "This state" means the State of California.

(f) "Board" means board of arbitration.

13830.1. In any case in which this state and one or more other states each claims that it was the domicile of a decedent at his or her death, at any time prior to the commencement of legal action for determination of domicile within this state or within 60 days thereafter, any executor, or the taxing official of any such state, may elect to invoke the provisions of this article. That executor or taxing official shall send a notice of that election by registered mail, receipt requested, to the taxing official of each such state and to each executor, ancillary administrator, and interested person. Within 40 days after the receipt of that notice of election, any executor may reject that election by sending a notice, by registered mail, receipt requested, to all persons originally required to be sent a notice of election. When an election has been rejected by an executor, no further proceedings shall be had under this article. If that election is not rejected within the 40-day period, the dispute as to death taxes shall be determined solely as provided in this article. No other proceedings to determine or assess those death taxes shall thereafter be prosecuted in any court of this state or otherwise.

13830.2. In any case in which an election is made and not rejected the Controller may enter into a written agreement with the other taxing officials involved and with the executors to acept a certain sum in full payment of any death taxes, together with interest and penalties, that may be due this state; provided, this agreement fixes the amount to be paid the other states involved in the dispute.

13830.3. If in any case it appears that an agreement cannot be reached, as provided in Section 13830.2, or if one year shall have elapsed from the date of the election without an agreement having been reached, the domicile of the decedent at the time of his or her death shall be determined solely for death tax purposes as provided for in this article.

13830.4. Where only this state and one other state are involved, the Controller and the taxing official of the other state shall each appoint a member of a board of arbitration, and these members shall appoint the third member of the board. If this state and more than one other state are involved, the taxing officials thereof shall agree upon the authorities charged with the duty of administering death tax laws in three states not involved in the dispute and each of these authorities shall appoint a member of the board of arbitration. The board shall select one of its members as chairman.

13830.5. The board shall hold hearings at such places as are deemed necessary, upon reasonable notice to the executors, ancillary administrators, all other interested persons, and to the taxing officials of the states involved, all of whom are entitled to be heard.

13830.6. The board may administer oaths, take testimony, subpoena witnesses and require their attendance, require the production of books, papers and documents, and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be issued by any member of the board. Failure to obey a subpoena may be punished by any court of record in the same manner as if the subpoena had been issued by that court.

13830.7. Whenever practicable the board shall apply the rules of evidence then prevailing in the federal courts under the federal rules of civil procedure.

13830.8. The board shall determine the domicile of the decedent at the time of his or her death. This determination is final and conclusive and binds this state, and all of its judicial and administrative officials on all questions concerning the domicile of the decedent for death tax purposes. If the board does not render a determination within one year from the time that it is fully constituted, all authority of the board shall cease and the bar to court proceedings set forth in Section 13830.1 shall no longer exist.

13830.9. The reasonable compensation and expenses of the members of the board and its employees shall be agreed upon among those members, the taxing officials involved, and the executors. If an agreement cannot be reached, compensation and expenses shall be determined by those taxing officials; and, if they cannot agree, by the appropriate probate court of the state determined to be the domicile. That amount shall be borne by the estate and shall be deemed an administration expense.

13830.10. The determination of the board and the record of its proceedings shall be filed with the authority having jurisdiction to assess the death tax in the state determined to be the domicile of the decedent and with the authorities which would have had jurisdiction to assess the death tax in each of the other states involved if the decedent had been found to be domiciled therein.

13830.11. Notwithstanding the commencement of a legal action for determination of domicile within this state or the commencement of an arbitration proceeding, as provided in Section 13830.3, the Controller may in any case enter into a written agreement with the other taxing officials involved and with the executors to accept a certain sum in full payment of any death tax, together with interest and penalties, that may be due this state; provided, this agreement fixes the amount to be paid the other states involved in the dispute, at any time before that proceeding is concluded. Upon the filing of this agreement with the authority which would have jurisdiction to assess the death tax of this state, if the decedent died domiciled in this state, an assessment shall be made as provided in that agreement, and this assessment finally and conclusively fixes the amount of death tax due this state. If the aggregate amount payable under that agreement or under an agreement made in accordance with the provisions of Section 13830.2 to the states involved is less than the minimum credit allowable to the estate against the United States estate tax imposed with respect thereto, the executor forthwith shall also pay to this state the same percentage of the difference between that aggregate amount and the amount of that credit as the amount payable to this state under that agreement bears to that aggregate amount.

13830.12. When in any case the board of arbitration determines that a decedent dies domiciled in this state, the total amount of interest and penalties for nonpayment of the tax, between the date of the election and the final determination of the board, shall not exceed 12 percent of the amount of the taxes per annum.

13830.13. This article shall be applicable only to cases in which each of the states involved in the dispute has in effect therein a law substantially similar hereto. However, nothing contained in this section shall prohibit the application of this article or any part hereof where any of the other states involved in the dispute have in effect therein a law empowering the tax authority to voluntarily enter into a binding arbitration or compromise agreement and such an agreement is so entered into.

SEC. 176. Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14000) is added to Part 8 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 4. Information Confidential

14251. All information and records acquired by the Controller or any of his or her employees are confidential in nature, and except insofar as may be necessary for the enforcement of this part or as may be permitted by this article, shall not be disclosed by any of them.

(b) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every nonresident or part-year resident which is derived from sources in this state, except the head of a household as defined in Section 17042, a tax which shall be equal to the tax computed under subdivision (a) as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident multiplied by the ratio of California source adjusted gross income to total adjusted gross income from all sources.

(c) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every resident of this state, when such resident is the head of a household, as defined in Section 17042, taxes in the following amounts and at the following rates upon the amount of taxable income:

(d) There shall be imposed for each taxable year upon the entire taxable income of every nonresident or part-year resident which is derived from sources within this state when such nonresident or part-year resident is the head of a household, as defined in Section 17042, a tax which shall be equal to the tax computed under subdivision (c) as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident multiplied by the ratio of California source adjusted gross income to total adjusted gross income from all sources.

(e) The tax imposed by this part is not a surtax.

(f) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1978, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the income tax brackets prescribed in subdivisions (a) and (c). Such computation shall be made as follows:

(1) The California Department of Industrial Relations shall transmit annually to the Franchise Tax Board the percentage change in the California Consumer Price Index for all items from June of the prior calendar year to June of the current calendar year, no later than August 1 of the current calendar year.

(2) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1978, and ending on or before November 30, 1979, the Franchise Tax Board shall recompute the income tax brackets by multiplying each income bracket figure in subdivisions (a) and (c) by the inflation adjustment factor of 1.05222, the amounts of each bracket to be rounded off to the nearest ten dollars ($10).

(3) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1979, and ending on or before November 30, 1980, the Franchise Tax Board shall compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to that portion of the percentage change figure furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) which exceeds three percent (3%), and dividing the result by 100, the amounts of each bracket to be rounded off to the nearest ten dollars ($10).

(4) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1980 and ending on or before November 30, 1982, the Franchise Tax Board shall compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to that portion of the percentage change figure which is furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) and dividing the result by 100, the amounts of each bracket to be rounded off to the nearest ten dollars ($10).

(5) For taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1982, and thereafter, the Franchise Tax Board shall compute an inflation adjustment factor by adding 100 percent to that portion of the percentage change figure which is furnished pursuant to paragraph (1) and dividing the result by 100, the amounts of each bracket to rounded off to the nearest ten dollars ($10).

SEC. 180. Section 17052.4 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.4. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in subdivision (h)), an amount equal to the amount determined in paragraph (2), (3), or (5).

(2) Except as provided in paragraphs (3) and (5), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 40 percent of the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) incurred by the taxpayer for energy conservation measures installed on premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer at the time of installation. The credit shall not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for each premises. The owner of the premises on which the energy conservation measures are installed may claim the tax credit for costs incurred; however, an owner-builder or owner-developer of new dwellings may elect not to claim the energy conservation tax credit for any or all energy conservation measures installed on new dwellings. If an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for energy conservation measures, the original purchaser of the new dwelling on which the measures are installed may claim the credit provided that the purchaser can confirm the election by a written document signed by the owner-builder or owner-developer.

The energy conservation tax credit shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the energy conservation measures were installed. However, if an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for energy conservation measures, the original purchaser of the new dwelling on which the energy conservation measures are installed may claim the credit in the taxable year during which the purchaser's escrow closed or the taxable year during which the purchaser acquired legal title to the dwelling.

A taxpayer who claimed the energy conservation tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the energy conservation measure was installed, may in any subsequent year claim an energy conservation tax credit for additional energy conservation measures installed in that tax year.

(3) With regard to premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer, other than dwellings, on which the cost of the measures (as defined in paragraph (7)) exceeds six thousand dollars ($6,000), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 25 percent of the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the energy conservation measures.

(4) (A) If energy conservation measures serve two or more dwelling units, the owner or owners of the dwellings shall be eligible to receive the credit in proportion to the number of dwelling units served. The amount of the credit shall be determined by dividing the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the energy conservation measures by the number of dwelling units served by the energy conservation measures, and applying the formula described in paragraph (2) or (5) to the per dwelling cost.

(B) In the case of a taxpayer who qualifies for a refund provided for under this subdivision, whose credits exceed tax liability computed under this part, minus all other credits provided for in this part, except the credits provided in Sections 17053.5, 17061, and 18551.1, such taxpayer shall be allowed a credit to the extent of the taxpayer's tax liability plus a refund in excess of that amount up to, or combined credit and refund equal to, the credit otherwise provided in this section. For the purposes of this subdivision, a taxpayer qualified for a refund means an individual taxpayer whose adjusted gross income is less than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and married taxpayers filing joint returns whose adjusted gross income is less than thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), in the taxable year in which the credit provided in this section is claimed. This subparagraph shall not apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1982.

(5) Taxpayers who partially own and partially lease on premises in California energy conservation measures from a utility or other lessor shall receive a tax credit as provided in subparagraph (A) or (B).

(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the credit provided by this paragraph shall equal 40 percent of the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the purchased portion and 40 percent of the principal recovery portion (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the lease payments for the first three years of operation or until the energy conservation tax credit terminates, whichever occurs first. Such credit shall not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for each premises.

(B) In the case of premises, other than dwellings, on which the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) incurred by the lessor exceeds six thousand dollars ($6,000), the credit provided by this paragraph shall equal 25 percent of the cost (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the purchased portion and 25 percent of the principal recovery portion (as defined in paragraph (7)) of the lease payments for the first three years of operation or until the energy conservation tax credit terminates, whichever occurs first.

(6) For purposes of computing the credit provided by this section and the basis of the property, the cost of any energy conservation measure eligible for the credit provided by this section shall be reduced by the amount of any grant or any nonreimbursable financial assistance (other than interest charges) provided by a utility or a public entity.

(7) For the purposes of computing the credit provided by this section, "cost" shall include installation charges, but shall exclude interest charges. In the case of measures which are leased, "cost" shall mean the principal recovery portion of monthly lease payments. "Principal recovery portion" means the cost incurred by the lessor in acquiring the energy conservation measures, but does not include interest charges, sales taxes, or maintenance expenses.

(b) The basis of any energy conservation measure for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(c) With the exception of a husband and wife, if there is more than one owner of a premises on which energy conservation measures are installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the energy conservation tax credit in proportion to his or her ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a partnership, the energy conservation tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(d) The tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to trusts or estates subject to tax under this part.

(e) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds such "net tax" may be carried over to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years, with respect to which this section shall remain in effect for purposes of carrying over excess credit until such credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest years possible.

(f) The Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, adopt regulations which establish minimum standards which any item of a generic category of energy conservation measure, as defined by this section, must meet to be eligible for an energy conservation tax credit. Such standards shall include minimum provisions for effectiveness, safety and consumer protection which are consistent with standards established pursuant to the National Energy Conservation Policy Act and other applicable federal and state law. The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section. Regulations adopted by the Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission and the Franchise Tax Board, pursuant to this section, shall be in language which is easily understood by the general public.

(g) (1) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of energy conservation measures in dwelling units, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for an energy conservation measure as defined in this section, the state credit provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be reduced so that the combined effective credit shall not exceed 40 percent of such costs, notwithstanding the carryover provisions of subdivision (f).

(2) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of energy conservation measures in other than dwelling units, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for an energy conservation measure as defined in this section, the state credit provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (a) shall be reduced by the amount of such federal credit.

(h) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Installed" means placed in position in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 minus all credits except the credits provided by Section 17061 (relating to excess state disability insurance withheld), Section 18555.1 (relating to income tax withheld), and Section 17053.5 (relating to the renters' credit).

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises, a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a duly recorded holder of legal title, or a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a lessee with at least three years remaining on its lease.

(4) "Premises" means land, buildings, or mobilehomes.

(G) Covers for swimming pools or hot tubs which transmit the sun's radiation energy into the water or reduce heat loss or water evaporation.

(H) For existing dwellings, such other measures or devices as may be designated "residential energy conservation measures" approved and adopted as part of an appropriate operational Residential Conservation Service Plan pursuant to the provisions of Section 210 of Title II of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (92 Stat. 3206) and recommended as the result of an audit conducted under the auspices of such a plan. This generic category includes, but is not limited to:

(i) Electrical or mechanical furnace ignition systems which replace gas pilot lights;

Energy conservation measures in the generic categories of subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), (D), (E), and (F) installed in multifamily dwelling units shall be ineligible as energy conservation measures and shall have no force or effect in the computation of taxes for taxable years which begin after December 31, 1985.

Energy conservation measures in the generic categories of subparagraphs (G), (H), (I), and (J) shall be ineligible as energy conservation measures and shall have no force or effect in the computation of taxes for taxable years which begin after December 31, 1983.

(7) The energy conservation tax credit provided by this section shall also apply to the cost of conducting energy audits and engineering feasibility studies resulting therefrom.

(8) "Operational Residential Conservation Service Plan" means a Residential Conservation Service (RCS) Plan, developed pursuant to the provisions of Section 210 of Title II of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (92 Stat. 3206), and which provides energy audits for measures identified in this section in accordance with the requirements of such a RCS Plan. The Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after at least one public hearing, certify when participating utilities identified in the California Plan for the Residential Conservation Service dated January, 1981, have operational RCS Plans. In the case of a publicly owned utility, a Residential Conservation Service Plan developed pursuant to the provisions of Section 210 of Title II of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (92 Stat. 3206), shall be certified by the governing board of the publicly owned utility to be operational. Certification that a plan is operational by the commission or the governing board of a publicly owned utility shall occur only after a finding is made that audits are available to utility customers within the time specified in the appropriate approved plan.

(i) In lieu of claiming the tax credit provided by this section, the taxpayer may elect to take depreciation pursuant to Section 17208.7. In addition, the taxpayer may take depreciation pursuant to that section for the cost of an energy conservation measure in excess of the amount of the tax credit claimed under this section.

(j) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the taxable year in which the energy conservation measure was installed or for any prior taxable year.

(k) No credit shall be allowed under this section if the amount would (but for this subdivision) be less than ten dollars ($10).

(l) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, the tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to energy conservation measures required by state laws and regulations pursuant thereto, at the time of installation.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1), a credit shall be allowed for energy conservation measures specified in subparagraph (G) of paragraph (6) of subdivision (h).

SEC. 181. Section 17052.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.5. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in subdivision (i)), an amount equal to the amount determined in paragraphs (2) and (3).

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 55 percent of the cost (including installation charges, monthly lease payments, and costs associated with the acquisition of a solar easement as specified in paragraph (7), but excluding interest charges) incurred by the taxpayer for any solar energy system installed on premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer at the time of installation. The credit shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000) per solar energy system as defined in paragraph (6) of subdivision (i).

(A) The owner of the premises on which the solar energy system is installed may claim the tax credit for costs incurred; however, an owner-builder or owner-developer of new homes may elect not to claim the solar energy tax credit for any or all systems installed on new homes. If an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for a solar energy system, the original purchaser of the new home on which the system is installed may claim the credit provided that the purchaser can confirm the election, if necessary, by a written document signed by the owner-builder or owner-developer.

(B) The solar energy tax credit shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed; however, if an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for a solar energy system, the original purchaser of the new home on which the system is installed may claim the credit for the taxable year during which the purchaser's escrow closed or the taxable year during which the purchaser acquired legal title to the home.

(C) A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed, may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems on the basis of the formulas in this paragraph, so long as the total amount of the credit claimed under the 55 percent formula does not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

(D) With regard to recreational or therapeutic solar energy water heating systems, the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 45 percent of the cost of the system for systems installed between January 1, 1981, and December 31, 1981, 35 percent of the cost of the system for systems installed between January 1, 1982, and December 31, 1982, and 25 percent of the cost of the systems installed after January 1, 1983. Such credit shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

(3) With regard to premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer, other than dwellings, on which the cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges and costs associated with the acquisition of an easement) exceeds twelve thousand dollars ($12,000), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 25 percent of the cost of the solar energy system.

A taxpayer who claimed the solar energy tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the solar energy system was installed, may claim the credit in subsequent years for additions to the system or additional systems on the basis of the formulas in paragraph (2) or (3).

(4) If a solar energy system serves two or more dwellings, the owner or owners of the dwellings shall be eligible to receive the credit in proportion to the number of dwelling units served. The amount of the credit shall be determined by dividing the cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of the solar energy system by the number of dwelling units served by the system, and applying the formula described in either paragraph (2) or (3) to the per dwelling cost.

(5) Energy conservation measures applied in conjunction with solar energy systems to reduce the total cost or backup energy requirements of such systems shall be considered part of the systems, and shall be eligible for the tax credit. Qualified energy conservation measures installed within six months of the solar energy system are considered to be installed "in conjunction with" the solar energy system, even if the period spans two taxable years. In cases involving more than six months between the installations of the energy conservation measures and the solar energy system, the taxpayer must be able to provide persuasive evidence that the energy conservation measures were in fact installed in conjunction with a solar energy system. Eligible conservation measures applied in conjunction with solar space heating shall include, but not be limited to, ceiling, wall, and floor insulation above that required by law at the time of original construction. Eligible conservation measures applied in conjunction with solar water heating shall include, but not be limited to, water heater insulation jackets, and shower and faucet flow reducing devices. Energy conservation measures which shall be eligible for the tax credit when applied in conjunction with solar energy systems shall be defined by the Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission as part of the solar energy system eligibility criteria.

(6) Taxpayers who partially own and partially lease a solar energy system from a municipal utility shall receive a tax credit equal to 55 percent of the purchased portion of the solar energy system (including installation charges, but excluding interest charges) and the principal recovery portion of the lease payments (excluding the interest charges) for the first three years of operation or until the solar tax credit allowance terminates, whichever occurs first. Such credit shall not exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000). In any one year, the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments made during that year and to amounts expended on the purchased portion of the solar energy system (including installation charges) during that year. As used in this section, "principal recovery portion" means the cost incurred by the utility in acquiring the solar energy system. "Principal recovery portion" does not include interest charges, sales taxes, use taxes, or maintenance expenses.

(7) The compensation paid to the owner of burdened property in connection with the acquisition of a solar easement as defined in Section 801.5 of the Civil Code, and the fees for the recording of such an easement shall be considered part of the cost of the solar energy systems, and shall be eligible for the tax credit.

(8) The cost of any solar energy system eligible for the credit provided under this section shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for such system.

(b) The basis of any system for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit and any grant provided by a public utility. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(c) With the exception of a husband and wife, if there is more than one owner of a premises on which a solar energy system is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the solar energy tax credit in proportion to his or her ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a partnership, the solar energy tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(d) The tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to trusts or estates subject to tax under this part.

(e) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds such "net tax" may be carried over to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years, until such credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest years possible.

(f) In the case of taxpayers who qualify for a refund provided for under this subdivision, whose credits exceed their tax liability computed under this part, minus all other credits provided for in this part, except the credits provided in Sections 17061, 18551.1 and 17053.5, the taxpayers shall be allowed a credit to the extent of the taxpayers' tax liability plus a refund in excess of that amount up to, or a combined credit and refund equal to, the credit otherwise provided in this section. For the purposes of this subdivision, a taxpayer qualified for a refund means an individual taxpayer whose adjusted gross income is less than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and married taxpayers filing joint returns whose adjusted gross income is less than thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), in the taxable year in which the credit provided in this section is claimed. This subdivision shall not apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1982.

(g) The Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, establish guidelines and criteria for solar energy systems which shall be eligible for the credit provided by this section. Such guidelines and criteria may include, but shall not be limited to, minimum requirements for safety, reliability and durability of solar energy systems. The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(h) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of solar energy systems, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for a solar energy system as defined in this section, the state credit provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be reduced so that the combined effective credit shall not exceed 55 percent of such costs, notwithstanding the carryover provisions of subdivision (e).

(i) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Installed" means placed in position in a functionally operative state.

(2) "Net tax" means the tax imposed under either Section 17041 or 17048 minus all credits except the credits provided by Section 17061, (relating to excess state disability insurance withheld), Section 18551.1, (relating to income tax withheld), and Section 17053.5, (relating to the renters' credit).

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises or a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a duly recorded holder of legal title.

(4) "Premises" means the principal stationary location in California where the installed system is to be used and includes land, buildings or portions thereof, or mobilehomes.

(5) "Dwelling" means a building used for residential purposes, and includes single-family residences, mobilehomes, apartments, individual units of a condominium, cooperatives, or other similar multiple dwellings.

(6) (A) "Solar energy system" means the use of solar devices for the individual function of:

(i) Domestic, recreational, therapeutic, or service water heating;

(ii) Space conditioning;

(iii) Production of electricity;

(iv) Process heat;

(v) Solar mechanical energy; and

(vi) Wind energy for the production of electricity or mechanical work.

The term "solar energy system" shall include, but is not limited to, passive thermal systems, semipassive thermal systems, active thermal systems, photovoltaic systems and wind-driven systems.

(B) Eligible solar energy systems shall have a useful life of not less than three years.

(7) "Solar device" means the equipment associated with the collection, transfer, distribution, storage or control of solar energy. In the case of a solar device associated with two or more solar energy systems, the credit allowed for the solar device may be taken for any one of the systems, or divided equally between them.

(8) "Passive thermal system" means a system which utilizes the structural elements of the building, and is not augmented by mechanical components, to provide for collection, storage, or distribution of solar energy for heating or cooling.

(9) "Active thermal system" means a system which utilizes solar devices thermally isolated from the living space to provide for collection, storage, or distribution of solar energy for heating or cooling.

(10) "Semipassive thermal system" means a system which utilizes the structure of a building or is augmented by mechanical components to provide for collection, storage, or distribution of solar energy for heating or cooling.

(j) In lieu of claiming the tax credit provided by this section, the taxpayer may elect to take depreciation pursuant to Section 17208. Also, the taxpayer may take depreciation pursuant to that section for the cost of a solar energy system in excess of the amount of the tax credit claimed under this section.

(k) No tax credit may be claimed under this section for any expenditures which have been otherwise claimed as a tax credit for the current or any prior taxable year as energy conservation measures under this part.

(l) No credit shall be allowed under this section if the credit amount would be less than ten dollars ($10).

SEC. 182. Section 17055 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 183. Section 17064.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17064.5. (a) In the case of an estate or trust—

(1) The sum of the items of tax preference for any taxable year of the estate or trust shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries on the basis of the income of the estate or trust allocable to each, and

(2) The four thousand dollars ($4,000) amount specified in Section 17062 applicable to such estate or trust shall be reduced to an amount which bears the same ratio to four thousand dollars ($4,000) as the portion of the sum of the items of tax preference allocated to the estate or trust under paragraph (1) bears to such sum.

(b) In the case of a nonresident or a part-year resident, the minimum tax imposed by this chapter shall be a tax computed as if the nonresident or part-year resident were a resident multiplied by the ratio of California source items of tax preference to total items of tax preference from all sources.

(c) The items of tax preference of a common trust fund (as defined in Section 17671) for each taxable year of the fund shall be treated as items of tax preference of the participants of such fund and shall be apportioned pro rata among such participants.

(d) If a return is made for a short period, then the four thousand dollars ($4,000) amount specified in Section 17062 or the eight thousand dollars ($8,000) specified in Section 17062.1, modified as provided by this section, shall be reduced to the amount which bears the same ratio to such specified amount as the number of days in the short period bears to 365.

(e) (1) For purposes of this part, the term estimated tax shall not include the minimum tax imposed by this chapter.

(2) For purposes of Chapter 12 (relating to credit for taxes paid), the taxes imposed by this part do not include taxes imposed by this chapter.

(3) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, the term "taxes" includes the minimum tax imposed by this chapter.

(f) The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe regulations under which items of tax preference shall be properly adjusted where the tax treatment giving rise to such items will not result in the reduction of the taxpayer's tax under this chapter for any taxable years.

SEC. 184. Section 17241 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17241. (a) In the case of an individual, there is allowed as a deduction amounts paid in cash for a taxable year by or on behalf of such individual for the benefit of himself and his spouse—

(2) No deduction is allowed under subdivision (a) for the taxable year if the individual claims the deduction allowed by Section 17240 for the taxable year.

(5) A member of a reserve component of the armed forces or a volunteer firefighter is not considered to be an active participant in a plan described in subdivision (b) (3) (A) (iv) if, under Section 17240(c) (4), he is not considered to be an active participant in such a plan.

(6) (A) If for the taxable year the maximum amount allowable as a deduction under this section exceeds the amount contributed, then the taxpayer shall be treated as having made an additional contribution for the taxable year in an amount equal to the lesser of—

(i) The amount of such excess, or

(ii) The amount of the excess contributions for such taxable year (determined under paragraph (2) of subsection (b) of Section 4973 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34 without regard to subparagraph (C) thereof).

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, the amount contributed—

(i) Shall be determined without regard to this paragraph, and

(C) Proper reduction shall be made in the amount allowable as a deduction by reason of this paragraph for any amount allowed as a deduction under this section or Section 17240 for a prior taxable year for which the period for assessing a deficiency has expired if the amount so allowed exceeds the amount which should have been allowed for such prior taxable year.

(d) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1981.

SEC. 185. Section 17301 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17301. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the State shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 186. Section 17302 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 187. Section 17303 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 188. Section 17304 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 189. Section 17501 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17501. A trust created or organized in the United States and forming part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries shall constitute a qualified trust under this article—

(a) If contributions are made to the trust by such employer, or employees, or both, or by another employer who is entitled to deduct his contributions under Section 17516(b) (relating to deduction for contributions to profit-sharing and stock bonus plans), for the purpose of distributing to such employees or their beneficiaries the corpus and income of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with such plan;

(b) If under the trust instrument it is impossible, at any time prior to the satisfaction of all liabilities with respect to employees and their beneficiaries under the trust, for any part of the corpus or income to be (within the taxable year or thereafter) used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries;

(c) If the plan of which such trust is a part satisfies the requirements of Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34 (relating to minimum participation standards); and

(d) If the contributions or the benefits provided under the plan do not discriminate in favor of employees who are (1) officers, (2) shareholders, or (3) highly compensated. For purposes of this subdivision, there shall be excluded from consideration employees described in Section 410(b) (2) (A) and (C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-605.

(e) A classification shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) or Section 410(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34 (without regard to paragraph (1) (A) thereof) merely because it excludes employees the whole of whose remuneration constitutes "wages" under Section 3121(a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-613 (relating to the Federal Insurance Contribution Act) or merely because it is limited to salaried or clerical employees. Neither shall a plan be considered discriminatory within the meaning of such provisions merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of the employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, or merely because the contributions or benefits based on that part of an employee's remuneration which is excluded from "wages" by Section 3121(a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 96-613, or of the California Unemployment Insurance Act differ from the contributions or benefits based on employee's remuneration not so excluded, or differ because of any retirement benefits created under state or federal law.

For purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (j), the total compensation of an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) means such individual's earned income (as defined in Section 17502.2(b)), and the basic or regular rate of compensation of such an individual shall be determined, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, with respect to that portion of his earned income which bears the same ratio to his earned income as the basic or regular compensation of the employees under the plan bears to the total compensation of such employees. For purposes of determining whether two or more plans of an employer satisfy the requirements of subdivision (d) when considered as a single plan, if the amount of contributions on behalf of the employees allowed as a deduction under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, for the taxable year with respect to such plans, taken together, bears a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, the plans shall not be considered discriminatory merely because the rights of employees to, or derived from, the employer contributions under the separate plans do not become nonforfeitable at the same rate. For the purposes of determining whether two or more plans of an employer satisfy the requirements of subdivision (d) when considered as a single plan, if the employees' right to benefits under the separate plans do not become nonforfeitable at the same rate, but the levels of benefits provided by the separate plans satisfy the requirements of regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to take account of the differences in such rates, the plans shall not be considered discriminatory merely because of the difference in such rates. For purposes of determining whether one or more plans of an employer satisfy the requirements of paragraph (4) and of subsection (b) of Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34, an employer may take into account all simplified employee pensions to which only the employer contributes.

(f) A plan shall be considered as meeting the requirements of subdivision (c) during the whole of any taxable year of the plan if on one day in each quarter it satisfied such requirements.

(g) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this section unless the plan of which such trust is a part satisfies the requirements of Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-364 (relating to minimum vesting standards).

(h) A trust forming part of a pension plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan provides that forfeitures must not be applied to increase the benefits any employee would otherwise receive under the plan.

(i) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a), a trust forming part of such plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless, under the plan, the entire interest of each employee—

(1) Either will be distributed to him not later than his taxable year in which he attains the age of 70½ years, or, in the case of an employee other than an owner-employee (as defined in Section

17502.2(c)), in which he retires, whichever is the later, or

(2) Will be distributed, commencing not later than such taxable year, (A) in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, over the life of such employee or over the lives of such employee and his spouse, or (B) in accordance with such regulations, over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such employee or the life expectancy of such employee and his spouse. A trust shall not be disqualified under this subdivision by reason of distributions under a designation, prior to the date of the enactment of this subdivision, by any employee under the plan of which such trust is a part, of a method of distribution which does not meet the terms of the preceding sentence.

(j) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are owner-employees (as defined in Section 17502.2(c))—

(1) Subdivision (c), the first and second sentences of subdivision (e), and Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34 shall not apply, but—

(A) Such plan shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, and

(B) Such plan shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of subdivision (d) solely because under the plan contributions described in Section 17502.4 which are in excess of the amounts which may be deducted under Sections 17513 to 17525.1, inclusive, for the taxable year may be made on behalf of any owner-employee; and

(2) A trust forming a part of such plan shall constitute a qualified trust under this section only if the requirements in Section 17502.3 are also met.

(k) (1) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this section if the plan of which such trust is a part provides for the payment of benefits in the form of an annuity unless such plan provides for the payment of annuity benefits in a form having the effect of a qualified joint and survivor annuity.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1), in the case of a plan which provides for the payment of benefits before the normal retirement age (as defined in Section 411(a)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 94-455), the plan is not required to provide for the payment of annuity benefits in a form having the effect of a qualified joint and survivor annuity during the period beginning on the date on which the employee enters into the plan as a participant and ending on the later of—

(A) The date the employee reaches the earliest retirement age under the plan, or

(B) The first day of the 120th month beginning before the date on which the employee reaches normal retirement age.

(3) A plan described in paragraph (2) does not meet the requirements of paragraph (1) unless, under the plan, a participant has a reasonable period during which he may elect the qualified joint and annuity form with respect to the period beginning on the date on which the period described in paragraph (2) ends and ending on the date on which he reaches normal retirement age (as defined in Section 411(a)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 94-455) if he continues his employment during that period. A plan does not meet the requirements of this paragraph unless, in the case of such an election, the payments under the survivor annuity are not less than the payments which would have been made under the joint annuity to which the participant would have been entitled if he made an election described in this paragraph immediately prior to his retirement and if his retirement had occurred on the day before his death and within the period within which an election can be made.

(4) A plan shall not be treated as not satisfying the requirements of this subdivision solely because the spouse of the participant is not entitled to receive a survivor annuity (whether or not an election described in paragraph (3) has been made under paragraph (3)) unless the participant and his spouse have been married throughout the one-year period ending on the date of such participant's death.

(5) A plan shall not be treated as satisfying the requirements of this subdivision unless, under the plan, each participant has a reasonable period (as prescribed by the regulations of the Franchise Tax Board) before the annuity starting date during which he may elect in writing (after having received a written explanation of the terms and conditions of the joint and survivor annuity and the effect of an election under this paragraph) not to take such joint and survivor annuity.

(6) A plan shall not be treated as not satisfying the requirements of this subdivision solely because under the plan there is a provision that any election described in paragraph (3) or (5), and any revocation of any such election, does not become effective (or ceases to be effective) if the participant dies within a period (not in excess of two years) beginning on the date of such election or revocation, as the case may be. The preceding sentence does not apply unless the plan provision described in the preceding sentence also provides that such an election or revocation will be given effect in any case in which—

(A) The participant dies from accidental causes,

(B) A failure to give effect to the election or revocation would deprive the participant's survivor of a survivor annuity, and

(C) Such election or revocation is made before such accident occurred.

(7) For purposes of this subdivision—

(A) The term "annuity starting date" means the first day of the first period for which an amount is received as an annuity (whether by reason of retirement or by reason of disability),

(B) The term "earliest retirement age" means the earliest date on which, under the plan, the participant could elect to receive retirement benefits, and

(C) The term "qualified joint and survivor annuity" means an annuity for the life of the participant with a survivor annuity for the life of his spouse which is not less than one-half of, or greater than, the amount of the annuity payable during the joint lives of the participant and his spouse and which is the actuarial equivalent of a single life annuity for the life of the participant.

For purposes of this subdivision, a plan may take into account in any equitable manner (as determined by the Franchise Tax Board) any increased costs resulting from providing joint and survivor annuity benefits.

(8) This subdivision shall apply only if—

(A) The annuity starting date did not occur before the effective date of this subdivision, and

(B) The participant was an active participant in the plan on or after such effective date.

(l) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that in the case of any merger or consolidation with, or transfer of assets or liabilities to, any other plan after the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), each participant in the plan would (if the plan then terminated) receive a benefit immediately after the merger, consolidation, or transfer which is equal to or greater than the benefit he would have been entitled to receive immediately before the merger, consolidation, or transfer which is equal to or greater than the benefit he would have been entitled to receive immediately before the merger, consolidation, or transfer (if the plan had then terminated). This subdivision shall apply in the case of a multiemployer plan only to the extent determined by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.

(m) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that benefits provided under the plan may not be assigned or alienated. For purposes of the preceding sentence, there shall not be taken into account any voluntary and revocable assignment of not to exceed 10 percent of any benefit payment made by any participant who is receiving benefits under the plan unless the assignment or alienation is made for purposes of defraying plan administration costs. For purposes of this subdivision a loan made to a participant or beneficiary shall not be treated as an assignment or alienation if such loan is secured by the participant's accrued nonforfeitable benefit and is exempt from the tax imposed by Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-596 (relating to tax on prohibited transactions) by reason of Section 4975(d)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-364. This paragraph shall take effect on January 1, 1976, and shall not apply to assignments which were irrevocable on the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406).

(n) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless the plan of which such trust is a part provides that, unless the participant otherwise elects, the payment of benefits under the plan to the participant will begin not later than the 60th day after the latest of the close of the plan year in which—

(1) The date on which the participant attains the earlier of age 65 or the normal retirement age specified under the plan,

(2) Occurs the 10th anniversary of the year in which the participant commenced participation in the plan, or

(3) The participant terminates his service with the employer. In the case of a plan which provides for the payment of an early retirement benefit, a trust forming a part of such plan shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless a participant who satisfied the service requirements for such early retirement benefit, but separated from the service (with any nonforfeitable right to an accrued benefit) before satisfying the age requirement for such early retirement benefit, is entitled upon satisfaction of such age requirement to receive a benefit not less than the benefit to which he would be entitled at the normal retirement age, actuarially reduced under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(o) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article unless under the plan of which such trust is a part—

(1) In the case of a participant or beneficiary who is receiving benefits under such plan, or

(2) In the case of a participant who is separated from the service and who has nonforfeitable rights to benefits, such benefits are not decreased by reason of any increase in the benefit levels payable under Title II of the Social Security Act or any increase in the wage base under such Title II, if such increase takes place after the date of the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406) or (if later) the earlier of the date of first receipt of such benefits or the date of such separation, as the case may be.

(p) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article if the plan of which such trust is a part provides for benefits or contributions which exceed the limitations of Section 415 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34.

(q) In the case of a plan which provides contributions or benefits for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2, only if—

(1) The annual compensation of each employee taken into account under the plan does not exceed the first two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) of compensation, and

(2) In the case of—

(A) A defined contribution plan with respect to which compensation in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is taken into account, contributions on behalf of each employee

(other than an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2) to the plan or plans are at a rate (expressed as a percentage of compensation) not less than 7.5 percent, or

(B) A defined benefit plan with respect to which compensation in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is taken into account, the annual benefit accrual for each employee (other than an employee within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 17502.2) is a percentage of compensation which is not less than one-half of the applicable percentage provided by Section 17502.9.

(r) In the case of a trust which is part of a plan providing a defined benefit for employees some or all of whom are employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2, only if such plan satisfies the requirements of Section 17502.9.

(s) A trust shall not constitute a qualified trust under this article if under the plan of which such trust is a part any part of a participant's accrued benefit derived from employer contributions (whether or not otherwise nonforfeitable), is forfeitable solely because of withdrawal by such participant of any amount attributable to the benefit derived from contributions made by such participant. The preceding sentence shall not apply to the accrued benefit of any participant unless, at the time of such withdrawal, such participant has a nonforfeitable right to at least 50 percent of such accrued benefit (as determined under Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-364). The first sentence of this paragraph shall not apply to the extent that an accrued benefit is permitted to be forfeited in accordance with Section 411(a)(3)(D)(iii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-364 (relating to proportional forfeitures of benefits accrued before enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), in the event of withdrawal of certain mandatory contributions).

(t) A trust forming part of a pension plan shall not be treated as failing to constitute a qualified trust under this section merely because the pension plan of which such trust is a part makes a payment or distribution described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17503 or subparagraph (A) of paragraph (9) of subdivision (a) of Section 17512. This paragraph shall not apply to a defined benefit plan unless the employer maintaining such plan files a notice with the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation) notifying the corporation of such payment or distribution and the corporation has approved such payment or distribution or, within 90 days after the date on which such notice was filed, has failed to disapprove such payment or distribution.

(u) A trust forming part of an employee stock ownership plan shall not fail to be considered a permanent program merely because employer contributions under the plan are determined solely by reference to the amount of credit which would be allowable under subsection (a) of Section 46 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 97-34, if the employer made the transfer described in paragraph (1) of subsection (n) of Section 48 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 97-34.

(v) A trust forming part of a defined contribution plan which meets the requirements of subsection (e) of Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 97-34, shall not be disqualified if it—

(1) Is established by an employer whose stock is not publicly traded, and

(2) After acquiring securities of the employer, more than ten (10) percent of the total assets of the plan are securities of the employer. This subdivision is applicable to the acquisition of securities after December 31, 1979.

(w) A stock bonus plan which otherwise meets the requirements of this section shall not be considered to fail to meet the requirements of this section because it provides a cash distribution option to participants if that option meets the requirements of Section 409A(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-613.

(x) Subdivisions (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), and (s) shall apply only in the case of a plan to which Section 411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-364 (relating to minimum vesting standards) applies without regard to subsection (e)(2) of such section.

(y) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1981.

SEC. 190. Section 17530 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17530. (a) For purposes of this section, the term "individual retirement account" means a trust created or organized in the United States for the exclusive benefit of an individual or his beneficiaries, but only if the written governing instrument creating the trust meets the following requirements:

(1) Except in the case of a rollover contribution described in subdivision (d)(3), in Section 17503(d), 17511(e), 17512(a)(9), or 17530.1(b)(3), no contribution will be accepted unless it is in cash, and contributions will not be accepted for the taxable year in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) on behalf of any individual.

(2) The trustee is a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a)) or such other person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board that the manner in which such other person will administer the trust will be consistent with the requirements of this section.

(3) No part of the trust funds will be invested in life insurance contracts.

(4) The interest of an individual in the balance in his account is nonforfeitable.

(5) The assets of the trust will not be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund.

(6) The entire interest of an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, commencing before the close of such taxable year, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, over—

(A) The life of such individual or the lives of such individual and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such individual or the life expectancy of such individual and his spouse.

(7) If an individual for whose benefit the trust is maintained dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (6) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence does not apply if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the individual for whose benefit the trust was maintained and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (6).

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "individual retirement annuity" means an annuity contract, or an endowment contract (as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board), issued by an insurance company which meets the following requirements:

(1) The contract is not transferable by the owner.

(2) Under the contract—

(A) The premiums are not fixed,

(B) The annual premium on behalf of any individual will not exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), and

(C) Any refund of premiums will be applied before the close of the calendar year following the year of the refund toward the payment of future premiums or the purchase of additional benefits.

(3) The entire interest of the owner will be distributed to him not later than the close of his taxable year in which he attains age 70½, or will be distributed, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board over—

(A) The life of such owner or the lives of such owner and his spouse, or

(B) A period not extending beyond the life expectancy of such owner or the life expectancy of such owner and his spouse.

(4) If the owner dies before his entire interest has been distributed to him, or if distribution has been commenced as provided in paragraph (3) to his surviving spouse and such surviving spouse dies before the entire interest has been distributed to such spouse, the entire interest (or the remaining part of such interest if distribution thereof has commenced) will, within five years after his death (or the death of the surviving spouse), be distributed, or applied to the purchase of an immediate annuity for his beneficiary or beneficiaries (or the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his surviving spouse) which will be payable for the life of such beneficiary or beneficiaries (or for a term certain not extending beyond the life expectancy of such beneficiary or beneficiaries) and which annuity will be immediately distributed to such beneficiary or beneficiaries. The preceding sentence shall have no application if distributions over a term certain commenced before the death of the owner and the term certain is for a period permitted under paragraph (3).

(5) The entire interest of the owner is nonforfeitable. Such term does not include such an annuity contract for any taxable year of the owner in which it is disqualified on the application of subdivision (e) or for any subsequent taxable year. For purposes of this subdivision, no contract shall be treated as an endowment contract if it matures later than the taxable year in which the individual in whose name such contract is purchased attains age 70½; if it is not for the exclusive benefit of the individual in whose name it is purchased or his beneficiaries; or if the aggregate annual premiums under all such contracts purchased in the name of such individual for any taxable year exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(c) A trust created or organized in the United States by an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries, or by an association of employees (which may include employees within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a)) for the exclusive benefit of its members or their beneficiaries, shall be created as an individual retirement account (described in subdivision (a)), but only if the written governing instrument creating the trust meets the following requirements:

(1) The trust satisfies the requirements of paragraphs (1) through (7) of subdivision (a).

(2) There is a separate accounting for the interest of each employee or member (or spouse of an employee or member).

The assets of the trust may be held in a common fund for the account of all individuals who have an interest in the trust.

(d) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity shall be included in gross income by the payee or distributee, as the case may be, for the taxable year in which the payment or distribution is received. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code (including Parts 8 (commencing with Section 13301) and 9 (commencing with Section 15101) of this division), the basis of any person in such an account or annuity is zero.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any annuity contract which meets the requirements of paragraphs (1), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (b) and which is distributed from an individual retirement account. Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, apply to any such annuity contract, and for purposes of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, the investment in such contract is zero.

(3) An amount is described in this paragraph as a rollover contribution if it meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B).

(A) Paragraph (1) does not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit the account or annuity is maintained if—

(i) The entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity (other than an endowment contract) or retirement bond for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the day on which he receives the payment or distribution;

(ii) The entire amount received (including money and other property) represents the entire amount in the account or the entire value of the annuity and no amount in the account and no part of the value of the annuity is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 (other than a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan), or an annuity plan described in Section 17511 (other than a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan) and any earnings on such sums and the entire amount thereof is paid into another such trust (for the benefit of such individual) or annuity plan not later than the 60th day on which he receives the payment or distribution; or

(iii) (I) The entire amount received (including money and other property) represents the entire interest in the account or the entire value of the annuity,

(II) No amount in the account and no part of the value of the annuity is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from an annuity contract described in Section 17512 and any earnings on such rollover, and

(III) The entire amount thereof is paid into another annuity contract described in Section 17512 (for the benefit of such individual) not later than the 60th day after he receives the payment or distribution.

(B) This paragraph does not apply to any amount described in subparagraph (A) (i) received by an individual from an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity if at any time during the one-year period ending on the day of such receipt such individual received any other amount described in that subparagraph from an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or a retirement bond which was not includable in his gross income because of the application of this paragraph. Clause (ii) of subparagraph (A) shall not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an individual retirement account or an individual retirement annuity to which an amount was contributed which was treated as a rollover contribution by Section 17503(f) (or in the case of an individual retirement annuity, such section as made applicable by Section 17511(e)(2)).

(4) Paragraph (1) does not apply to the distribution of any contribution paid for a taxable year to an individual retirement account or for an individual retirement annuity to the extent that such contribution exceeds the amount allowable as a deduction under Section 17240 or 17241 if—

(A) Such distribution is received on or before the day prescribed by law (including extensions of time) for filing such individual's return for such taxable year.

(B) No deduction is allowed under Section 17240 or 17241 with respect to such excess contribution, and

(C) Such distribution is accompanied by the amount of net income attributable to such excess contribution. In the case of such a distribution, for purposes of Section 17071, any net income described in subparagraph (C) shall be deemed to have been earned and receivable in the taxable year in which such excess contribution is made.

(5) (A) In the case of any individual, if the aggregate contributions (other than rollover contributions) paid for any taxable year to an individual retirement account or for an individual retirement annuity do not exceed two thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($2,250), paragraph (1) shall not apply to the distribution of any such contribution to the extent that such contribution exceeds the amount allowable as a deduction under Section 17240 or 17241 for the taxable year for which the contribution was paid—

(i) If such distribution is received after the date described in paragraph (4),

(ii) But only to the extent that no deduction has been allowed under Section 17240 or 17241 with respect to such excess contribution.

If employer contributions on behalf of the individual are paid for the taxable year to a simplified employee pension, the dollar limitation of the preceding sentence shall be increased by the lesser of the amount of such contributions or fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(B) (i) The taxpayer reasonably relies on information supplied pursuant to this part for determining the amount of a rollover contribution, but

(ii) The information was erroneous, subparagraph (A) shall be applied by increasing the dollar limit set forth therein by that portion of the excess contribution which was attributable to such information.

(6) The transfer of an individual's interest in an individual retirement account, individual retirement annuity, or retirement bond to his former spouse under a divorce decree or under a written instrument incident to such divorce is not to be considered a taxable transfer made by such individual notwithstanding any other provision of this part, and such interest at the time of the transfer is to be treated as an individual retirement account of such spouse, and not of such individual. Thereafter such account, annuity, or bond for purposes of this part is to be treated as maintained for the benefit of such spouse.

(e) (1) Any individual retirement account is exempt from taxation under this part unless such account has ceased to be an individual retirement account by reason of paragraph (2) or (3). Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, any such account is subject to the taxes imposed by Section 17651 (relating to imposition of tax on unrelated business income of charitable, etc. organizations).

(2) (A) In the case of such a plan in existence in taxable year 1975 where contributions were made pursuant to and in conformance with Section 408 or 409 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by the Employee's Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406), any net income attributable to the 1975 contribution shall not be includable in the gross income, for taxable year 1977 or succeeding taxable years, of the individual for whose benefit the plan was established until distributed pursuant to the provisions of the plan or by operation of law.

(B) In the case of a simplified employee pension, where contributions are also made pursuant to, and in conformance with, the provisions of Section 408(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 97-34, the net income attributable to the nondeductible portion of such contributions shall not be includable in the gross income of the individual for whose benefit the plan was established for the taxable year or for succeeding taxable years until distributed pursuant to the provisions of the plan or by operation of law.

(3) (A) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit any individual retirement account is established, that individual or his beneficiary engages in any transaction prohibited by Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 95-596 with respect to such account, such account ceases to be an individual retirement account as of the first day of such taxable year. For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) The individual for whose benefit any account was established is treated as the creator of such account and

(ii) The separate account for any individual within an individual retirement account maintained by an employer or association of employees is treated as a separate individual retirement account.

(B) In any case in which any account ceases to be an individual retirement account by reason of subparagraph (A) as of the first day of any taxable year, paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) applies as if there were a distribution on such first day in an amount equal to the fair market value (on such first day) of all assets in the account (on such first day).

(4) If during any taxable year the owner of an individual retirement annuity borrows any money under or by use of such contract, the contract ceases to be an individual retirement annuity as of the first day of such taxable year. Such owner shall include in gross income for such year an amount equal to the fair market value of such contract as of such first day.

(5) If, during any taxable year of the individual for whose benefit an individual retirement account is established, that individual uses the account or any portion thereof as security for a loan, the portion so used is treated as distributed to that individual.

(6) If the assets of an individual retirement account or any part of such assets are used to purchase an endowment contract for the benefit of the individual for whose benefit the account is established—

(A) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are not attributable to the purchase of life insurance, the purchase is treated as a rollover contribution described in subdivision (d) (3), and

(B) To the extent that the amount of the assets involved in the purchase are attributable to the purchase of life, health, accident, or other insurance, such amounts are treated as distributed to that individual (but the provisions of subdivision (f) do not apply).

(7) Any common trust fund or common investment fund of individual retirement account assets which is exempt from taxation under this part does not cease to be exempt on account of the participation or inclusion of assets of a trust exempt from taxation under Section 17631 which is described in Section 17501.

(f) (1) If a distribution from an individual retirement account or under an individual retirement annuity to the individual for whose benefit such account or annuity was established is made before such individual attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which such distribution is received shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of distribution which is includable in his gross income for such taxable year.

(2) If an amount is includable in gross income for a taxable year under subdivision (e) and the taxpayer has not attained age 59½ before the beginning of such taxable year, his tax under this article for such taxable year shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of such amount so required to be included in his gross income.

(3) Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply if the amount paid or distributed, or the disqualification of the account or annuity under subdivision (e), is attributable to the taxpayer becoming disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(g) This section shall be applied without regard to any community property laws.

(h) For purposes of this section, a custodial account shall be treated as a trust if the assets of such account are held by a bank (as defined in Section 17502.3(a)) or another person who demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Franchise Tax Board, that the manner in which he will administer the account will be consistent with the requirements of this section, and if the custodial account would, except for the fact that it is not a trust, constitute an individual retirement account described in subdivision (a). For purposes of this part, in the case of a custodial account treated as a trust by reason of the preceding sentence, the custodian of such account shall be treated as the trustee thereof.

(i) The trustee of an individual retirement account and the issuer of an endowment contract described in subdivision (b) or an individual retirement annuity shall make such reports regarding such account, contract, or annuity to the Franchise Tax Board and to the individuals for whom the account, contract, or annuity is, or is to be, maintained with respect to contributions, distributions, and such other matters as the Franchise Tax Board may require under regulations. The reports required by this subdivision shall be filed at such time and in such manner and furnished to such individuals at such time and in such manner as may be required by those regulations.

(j) In the case of a simplified employee pension, this section shall be applied by substituting " fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000)" for "two thousand dollars ($2,000)" in the following provisions:

(1) Paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), and

(2) Paragraph (2) of subdivision (b).

(k) (1) For purposes of this part, the term "simplified employee pension" means an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity with respect to which the requirements of paragraphs (2), (3), (4), and (5) of this subdivision are met.

(2) This paragraph is satisfied with respect to a simplified employee pension for a calendar year only if for such year the employer contributes to the simplified employee pension of each employee who—

(A) Has attained age 25, and

(B) Has performed service for the employer during at least three of the immediately preceding five calendar years. For purposes of this paragraph, there shall be excluded from consideration employees described in subparagraph (A) or (C) of paragraph (1) of subsection (b) of Section 410 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended by Public Law 96-605.

(3) (A) The requirements of this paragraph are met with respect to a simplified employee pension for a calendar year if for such year the contributions made by the employer to simplified employee pensions for his employees do not discriminate in favor of any employee who is—

(i) An officer,

(ii) A shareholder,

(iii) A self-employed individual, or

(iv) Highly compensated.

(B) For purposes of subparagraph (A)—

(i) There shall be excluded from consideration employees described in subparagraph (A) or (C) of Section 410(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 96-605, and

(ii) An individual shall be considered a shareholder if he owns (with the application of Section 17384) more than 10 percent of the value of the stock of the employer.

(C) For purposes of subparagraph (A), employer contributions to simplified employee pensions shall be considered discriminatory unless—

(i) Contributions thereto bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation not in excess of the first two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) of each employee maintaining a simplified employee pension, and

(ii) If compensation in excess on one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is taken into account under a simplified employee pension for an employee, contributions to a simplified employee pension on behalf of each employee for whom a contribution is required are at a rate (expressed as a percentage of compensation) not less than 7.5 percent.

(D) Except as provided in this subparagraph, employer contributions do not meet the requirements of this paragraph unless such contributions meet the requirements of this paragraph without taking into account contributions or benefits relating to tax on self-employment income, relating to Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Title II of the Social Security Act, or any other federal or state law. Taxes paid under Section 3111 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 95-216 (relating to tax on employers) with respect to an employee may, for purposes of this paragraph, be taken into account as a contribution by the employer to an employee's simplified employee pension. If contributions are made to the simplified employee pension of an owner-employee, the preceding sentence shall not apply unless taxes paid by all such owner-employees under Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 97-34, and the taxes which would be payable under Chapter 2 by such owner-employees but for paragraphs (4) and (5) of Section 1402(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by Public Law 95-600, are taken into account as contributions by the employer on behalf of such owner-employees.

(4) A simplified employee pension meets the requirements of this paragraph only if—

(A) Employer contributions thereto are not conditioned on the retention in such pension of any portion of the amount contributed, and

(B) There is no prohibition imposed by the employer on withdrawals from the simplified employee pension.

(5) The requirements of this paragraph are met with respect to a simplified employee pension only if employer contributions to such pension are determined under a definite written allocation formula which specifies—

(A) The requirements which an employee must satisfy to share in an allocation, and

(B) The manner in which the amount allocated is computed.

(6) For purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (l)—

(A) The terms "employee", "employer", and "owner-employee" shall have the respective meanings given such terms by Section 17502.2.

(B) The term "compensation" means, in the case of an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a), earned income within the meaning of Section 17502.2(b).

(l) An employer who makes a contribution on behalf of an employee to a simplified employee pension shall provide such simplified reports with respect to such contributions as the Franchise Tax Board may require by regulations. The reports required by this subsection shall be filed at such time and in such manner, and information with respect to such contributions shall be furnished to the employee at such time and in such manner, as may be required by regulations.

(m) (1) The acquisition by an individual retirement account or by an individually directed account under a plan described in Section 17501 (a) of any collectible shall be treated (for purposes of this section and Section 17503) as distribution from that account in an amount equal to the cost to that account of that collectible.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "collectible" means—

(A) Any work of art,

(B) Any rug or antique,

(C) Any metal or gem,

SEC. 191. Section 17530.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17530.1. (a) For purposes of this section and Section 17240(a), the term "retirement bond" means a bond issued under the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, which by its terms, or by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States or his delegate under such act—

(1) Provides for payment of interest, or investment yield, only on redemption;

(2) Provides that no interest, or investment yield, is payable if the bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance;

(3) Provides that it ceases to bear interest, or provide investment yield on the earlier of—

(A) The date on which the individual in whose name it is purchased (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "registered owner") attains age 70½; or

(B) Five years after the date on which the registered owner dies, but not later than the date on which he would have attained the age 70½ had he lived;

(4) Provides that, except in the case of a rollover contribution described in subdivision (b) (3) (C) or in Section 17503(d), 17511(e), 17512(a) or 17530(d) (3), the registered owner may not contribute on behalf of any individual for the purchase of such bonds in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) for any taxable year; and

(5) Is not transferable.

(b) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, on the redemption of a retirement bond the entire proceeds (excluding nontaxable interest) shall be included in the gross income of the taxpayer entitled to the proceeds on redemption. If the registered owner has not tendered it for redemption before the close of the taxable year in which he attains age 70½, such individual shall include in his gross income for such taxable year the amount of proceeds he would have received if the bond had been redeemed at age 70½. The provisions of Sections 17101 to 17112.7, inclusive, and Sections 18183 to 18185, inclusive (relating to bonds and other evidences of indebtedness) shall not apply to a retirement bond.

(2) The basis of a retirement bond is the amount of contributions not allowed as a deduction under Section 17240 or 17241 on account of the purchase of the bond.

(3) Exceptions:

(A) If a retirement bond is redeemed within 12 months after the date of its issuance, the proceeds are excluded from gross income if no deduction is allowed under Section 17240 on account of the purchase of such bond.

(B) If a retirement bond is redeemed after the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, the proceeds from the redemption of the bond are excluded from the gross income of the registered owner to the extent that such proceeds were includable in his gross income for such taxable year.

(C) If a retirement bond is redeemed at any time before the close of the taxable year in which the registered owner attains age 70½, and the registered owner transfers the entire amount of the proceeds from the redemption of the bond to an individual retirement account described in Section 17530(a) or to an individual retirement annuity described in Section 17530(b) (other than an endowment contract) which is maintained for the benefit of the registered owner of the bond, or to an employees' trust described in Section 17501 which is exempt from tax under Section 17631, an annuity plan described in Section 17511, or an annuity contract described in Section 17512 for the benefit of the registered owner, on or before the 60th day after the day on which he received the proceeds of such redemption, then the proceeds shall be excluded from gross income and the transfer shall be treated as a rollover contribution described in Section 17511(e). This subparagraph does not apply in the case of a transfer to such an employees' trust or such annuity plan unless no part of the value of such proceeds is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from such an employees' trust or annuity plan (other than an annuity plan or a trust forming part of a plan under which the individual was an employee within the meaning of Section 17502.2(a) at the time contributions were made on his behalf under the plan). This subparagraph does not apply in the case of a transfer to an annuity contract described in Section 17512 unless no part of the value of such proceeds is attributable to any source other than a rollover contribution from such annuity contract.

(c) (1) If a retirement bond is redeemed by the registered owner before he attains age 59½, his tax under this article for the taxable year in which the bond is redeemed shall be increased by an amount equal to 2.5 percent of the amount of the proceeds of the redemption includable in his gross income for the taxable year.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply for any taxable year during which the retirement bond is redeemed if, for that taxable year, the registered owner is disabled within the meaning of Section 17112.5(f).

(3) Paragraph (1) does not apply if the registered owner tenders the bond for redemption within 12 months after the date of its issuance.

(d) The amendments made to this section by the act adding this subdivision shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1981.

The Legislative Analyst shall review and comment on the utilization and effectiveness of the Program Development Fund in connection with the annual budget hearings.

The department may allocate funds from the Program Development Fund for any legal purpose, provided, that requests for proposals and such allocations are approved by the state council, in consultation with the department, and are consistent with the priorities for program development in the state plan. Allocations from the Program Development Fund shall take into consideration the following factors:

(1) The future fiscal impact of such allocations on other state supported programs for developmentally disabled persons.

(2) The information on priority services needed but currently unavailable submitted by the Regional Centers.

Consistent with the level of need as determined in the state plan, excess parental fees may be used for purposes other than new program development only when specifically appropriated to the Department of Developmental Services for such other purposes.

Under no circumstances shall the deposit of federal moneys into the Program Development Fund be construed as requiring the State Department of Developmental Services to comply with a definition of "developmental disabilities" and "services for persons with developmental disabilities" other than as specified in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 4512 for the purposes of determining eligibility for developmental services or for allocating parental fees and state general funds deposited in the Program Development Fund.

11201. For the purposes of this chapter, "unemployed parent" means a natural or adoptive parent with whom the child is living.

(a) A child shall be considered to be deprived of parental support or care due to the unemployment of his or her parent or parents when either of the following conditions is met:

(1) The parent qualifies as an unemployed parent in accordance with the standards for unemployed parents set by the federal government.

(2) The parent does not qualify as an unemployed parent in accordance with federal standards, but the parent meets the conditions of eligibility set forth in subdivision (b).

(b) Except as specified in paragraph (5), a parent who does not meet the federal standards for unemployed parents shall be an unemployed parent for the purposes of this chapter and a family eligible for aid only if the parent meets all of the following conditions of eligibility:

(1) The parent is not working or is employed only part time as determined in accordance with standards which may be developed by the department by regulation. The standards shall be consistent with federal law governing part-time employment for unemployed parents.

(2) If the parent is not ill, incapacitated, or over age 65, the parent shall register for employment and cooperate with the Employment Development Department, and shall either: (A) be available for and seeking employment or, (B) be accepted for, or participate in, a training program which has been approved by the department and which is essential for future support.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 11270, the parent shall apply for, meet all conditions of eligibility for, and accept any unemployment insurance benefits for which he or she may be eligible.

(4) The parent shall not have refused a bona fide offer of employment without good cause, including additional employment if the parent is employed only part time, or has terminated his or her employment without good cause within the 30 days immediately prior to the beginning date of aid or while receiving aid. The State Department of Social Services shall develop standards for determining good cause, which standards shall be consistent with the standards for good cause developed by the federal government in the work incentive program and consistent with the purposes of this chapter. When the Department of Social Services finds that a parent has refused or terminated employment without good cause, the family shall be ineligible for aid for 30 days.

(5) When one parent in the home (A) is employed fulltime, or (B) qualifies, or would qualify but refuses to do so, as an unemployed parent in accordance with the standards for unemployed parents set extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982. The cost of living adjustment shall be calculated by the Commission on State Finance based on the changes in the California Necessities Index, which as used in this section means the weighted average changes for food, clothing, fuel, utilities, rent, and transportation for low income consumers. The computation of annual adjustments in the California Necessities Index shall be made in accordance with the following steps:

(a) The base period expenditure amounts for each expenditure category within the California Necessities Index used to compute the annual grant adjustment are:

Food	$1,832
Clothing (Apparel and Upkeep)	298
Fuel and other utilities	264
Rent, residential	2,303
Transportation	1,026
Total	$5,723

(b) Based on the appropriate components of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, as published by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, the percentage change shall be determined for the 12-month period ending with the December preceding the year for which the cost-of-living adjustment will take effect, for each expenditure category specified in subdivision (a) within the following geographical areas: Los Angeles-Long Beach-Anaheim, San Francisco-Oakland, San Diego, and, to the extent statistically valid information is available from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, additional geographical areas within the state which include not less than 80 percent of recipients of aid under this chapter.

(c) Calculate a weighted percentage change for each of the expenditure categories specified in subdivision (a) using the applicable weighting factors for each area used by the State Department of Industrial Relations to calculate the California Consumer Price Index (CCPI).

(d) Calculate a category adjustment factor for each expenditure category in subdivision (a) by (1) adding 100 to the applicable weighted percentage change as determined in subdivision (b) and (2) dividing the sum by 100.

(e) Determine the expenditure amounts for the current year by multiplying each expenditure amount determined for the prior year by the applicable category adjustment factor determined in subdivision (d).

(f) Determine the overall adjustment factor by dividing (1) the sum of the expenditure amounts as determined in subdivision (d) for the current year by (2) the sum of the expenditure amounts as determined in subdivision (d) for the prior year.

The overall adjustment factor determined by the preceding computation steps shall be multiplied by the schedules established pursuant to Section 11452 and subdivision (a) of Section 11450 as are in effect during the month of June preceding the fiscal year in which the adjustments are to occur and the product rounded to the nearest dollar. The resultant amounts shall constitute the new schedules which shall be filed with the Secretary of State.

SEC. 216. Section 11459 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 217. Section 12200 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

12200. An aged, blind or disabled applicant or recipient shall be paid an amount of aid which when added to his or her federal benefit received under Part A of Title XVI of the Social Security Act and other nonexempt income and resources, equals the following:

(a) For a blind applicant or recipient, the sum of five hundred six dollars ($506) per month and for a married couple both qualifying for benefits under this chapter as blind, the sum of nine hundred eighty-five dollars ($985) per month.

(b) For a married couple, both qualifying for benefits under this chapter, and one of whom is blind, the sum of nine hundred twenty-nine dollars ($929) per month.

(c) For an aged or disabled applicant or recipient, the sum of four hundred fifty-one dollars ($451) per month.

(d) For a married couple both qualifying for benefits under this chapter as aged or disabled, the sum of eight hundred thirty-eight dollars ($838) per month.

(e) For an aged or disabled applicant or recipient under subdivision (c) or for a married couple under subdivision (d) whose living arrangement prevents preparation of his or her or their meals at home shall be entitled to an allowance of forty-eight dollars ($48) per month for an individual and ninety-seven dollars ($97) per month for a married couple in addition to any other amount he or she is entitled to under this chapter.

(f) For a disabled minor under 18 living with a parent or guardian or relative by blood or marriage, the sum of three hundred fifty-eight ($358) per month.

(g) For a recipient in a nonmedical out-of-home care facility, the sum of five hundred ten dollars ($510) per month.

(h) For the personal and incidental needs of a person receiving care in a medical facility under the Medi-Cal Act, the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) per month.

(i) In the case of any individual or couple whose federal benefit received under Part A of Title XVI of the Social Security Act is reduced in accordance with Section 1612(a)(2)(A) of Public Law 92-603 because he lives in another person's household and receives support and maintenance-in-kind from such person, the appropriate grant level set forth in subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of the reduction in the federal benefit, subject to the provisions in Section 12204.

This subdivision shall be operative only during such time that such in-kind support and maintenance, under federal law, is treated as providing the basis for a lower payment standard rather than being treated as the receipt of unearned income.

SEC. 218. Section 12201 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

12201. The payment schedules to go into effect July 1, 1983, and on July 1 of each year thereafter, shall be the amounts set forth in Section 12200, as adjusted to reflect any increases or decreases in the cost of living occurring after December 1, 1981. The cost-of-living adjustment shall be based on the changes in the California Necessities Index, which as used in this section shall be the weighted average of changes for food, clothing, fuel, utilities, rent, and transportation for low-income consumers. The computation of annual adjustments in the California Necessities Index shall be made in accordance with the following steps:

(a) The base period expenditure amounts for each expenditure category within the California Necessity Index used to compute the annual grant adjustment are:

Food	$1,832
Clothing (apparel and upkeep)	298
Fuel and other utilities	264
Rent, residential	2,303
Transportation	1,026
Total	$5,723

(b) Based on the appropriate components of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, as published by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, the percentage change shall be determined for the 12-month period ending with the December preceding the year for which the cost-of-living adjustment will take effect, for each expenditure category specified in subdivision (a) within the following geographical areas: Los Angeles-Long Beach-Anaheim, San Francisco-Oakland, San Diego, and, to the extent statistically valid information is available from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, additional geographical areas within the state which include not less than 80 percent of recipients of aid under this chapter.

(c) Calculate a weighted percentage change for each of the expenditure categories specified in subdivision (a) using the applicable weighting factors for each area used by the State Department of Industrial Relations to calculate the California Consumer Price Index (CCPI).

(d) Calculate a category adjustment factor for each expenditure category in subdivision (a) by (1) adding 100 to the applicable weighted percentage change as determined in subdivision (b) and

(2) dividing the sum by 100.

(e) Determine the expenditure amounts for the current year by multiplying each expenditure amount determined for the prior year by the applicable category adjustment factor determined in subdivision (d).

(f) Determine the overall adjustment factor by dividing (1) the sum of the expenditure amounts as determined in subdivision (d) for the current year by (2) the sum of the expenditure amounts as determined in subdivision (d) for the prior year.

The overall adjustment factor determined by the preceding computational steps shall be multiplied by the payment schedules established pursuant to Section 12200 as are in effect during the month of June preceding the fiscal year in which the adjustments are to occur, and the product rounded to the nearest dollar. The resultant amounts shall constitute the new schedules for the categories given under subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of Section 12200, and shall be filed with the Secretary of State. The amount as set forth in subdivision (h) of Section 12200 shall be adjusted annually pursuant to this section in the event that the secretary agrees to administer payment under that subdivision. The payment schedule for subdivision (i) of Section 12200 shall be computed as specified, based on the new payment schedules for subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of Section 12200.

The department shall adjust any amounts of aid under this chapter to insure that the minimum level required by the Social Security Act in order to maintain eligibility for funds under Title XIX of that act is met.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or any other provision of law, a cost-of-living adjustment may be made for any program for which a cost-of-living adjustment is computed pursuant to this section for the period from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983, inclusive, to the extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982.

SEC. 219. Section 12201.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

However, a cost-of-living adjustment may be provided for the period from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983, inclusive, to the extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982.

SEC. 220. Section 12303.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

12303.5. Except as provided in Section 12304, no one individual recipient shall receive services under this article, the total cost of which exceeds five hundred eighty-one dollars ($581) in any one month. The five hundred eighty-one dollars ($581) maximum specified under this section shall be adjusted annually to reflect cost-of-living changes occurring subsequent to January 1, 1982, as determined under Section 12201. However, a cost-of-living adjustment may be provided for the period from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983, inclusive, to the extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982.

SEC. 221. Section 12303.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

12303.7. Any aged, or disabled applicant or recipient who is eligible for assistance under this article, whose disabilities prevent the use of cooking facilities at home, shall be given the option to receive an allowance of forty-seven dollars ($47) per month for an individual and ninety-four dollars ($94) per month for a married couple in lieu of the appropriate in-home food preparation and consumption services. The allowance under this section shall be in addition to any amount that the applicant or recipient is entitled to under this chapter. This allowance shall not have the effect of exceeding the total cost maximum of Sections 12303.5 and 12304. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the applicant's or recipient's right to receive the allowance under this section and all other homemaker and chore services.

The State Department of Social Services shall adjust the amount of the allowance under this section on July 1, 1983, and each year thereafter to reflect cost-of-living changes subsequent to January 1, 1982, as provided under Section 12201. However, a cost-of-living adjustment may be provided for the period from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983, inclusive, to the extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982.

12304. (a) Any aged, blind, or disabled individual who is eligible for assistance under this chapter or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 12500) who is in need, as determined by the county welfare department, of at least 20 hours per week of the services specified in subdivision (e), shall be eligible to receive services under this article, the total cost of which does not exceed eight hundred thirty-eight dollars ($838) per month, plus adjustments reflecting cost-of-living changes subsequent to January 1, 1982, as determined under Section 12201. However, a cost-of-living adjustment may be provided for the period from July 1, 1982, to June 30, 1983, inclusive, to the extent funds are provided therefor by the Budget Act of 1982. Increases in the maximum amount payable under this section shall not be construed to mean automatic increases in the amounts payable under this article.

(b) An individual who is eligible for services subject to the maximum amount specified in subdivision (a) and who is capable of handling his or her own financial and legal affairs shall be given the option of hiring and paying his or her own provider of in-home supportive services. For this purpose the individual shall be entitled to receive a monthly cash payment in advance not to exceed the maximum amount specified in subdivision (a), which is in addition to his or her grant, if any. An individual who is not capable of handling his or her own financial and legal affairs shall be entitled to receive the cash payment through his or her guardian, conservator, or protective payee.

(c) In no event shall the maximum total cost for services and advance cash payment for one individual recipient under subdivisions (a) and (b) exceed the maximum of eight hundred thirty-eight dollars ($838) per month, as adjusted pursuant to subdivision (a).

(d) The county welfare department shall inform in writing any individual who is potentially eligible for services under this section of his or her right to the services.

(e) For purposes of this section, a recipient who is eligible for services subject to the maximum amount specified in subdivision (a) is one who requires in-home supportive care of at least 20 hours per week to carry out any or all of the following:

14017.5. The department shall not issue identification cards to Medi-Cal recipients on a statewide basis until (1) a pilot project has been completed which indicates that the General Fund savings from reduced unauthorized use of Medi-Cal cards more than offsets the costs of issuing the identification cards, and (2) the Legislature has specifically appropriated the funds necessary to issue identification cards to Medi-Cal beneficiaries.

If identification cards are issued by the department on a pilot project or statewide basis, the department shall notify providers that current Medi-Cal beneficiaries have been issued identification cards in accordance with Section 14017. At that time, it shall be the responsibility of the provider prior to rendering nonemergency Medi-Cal reimbursable services to persons presenting themselves as Medi-Cal beneficiaries to verify the person's identity by matching the name and signature on their identification card issued by the department or their valid California driver's license or California identification card issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles, against a signature executed at the time of service and further by visually verifying their likeness to the photograph on the identification card or driver's license.

SEC. 229. Section 14132.4 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14132.4. Nurse-midwifery services provided by a certified nurse-midwife shall be covered under the provisions of this chapter, to the extent required by federal law, subject to utilization controls.

15200.4. (a) In administering the provisions of law and regulations related to the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, the director may impose sanctions as provided by this section to assure adequate county administration performance.

The director may hold counties financially liable for aid paid to ineligible persons and aid paid to eligible persons in excess of the amount to which they are entitled as represented by a dollar error rate. There shall be established annually in the Budget Act a dollar error rate standard which shall be the basis for computing a county's liability under this section for the two subsequent quality control review periods for which error rates are generated, commencing with the Budget Act of 1980. For the two quality control periods commencing with the 1979–80 fiscal year, the director shall submit to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee no later than January 30, 1980, the dollar error rate standard to be in effect during those two periods. For those counties in excess of the dollar error rate standard, liability shall not exceed the product of the error rate in excess of the standard multiplied by the total expenditures for aid paid under the program.

Nothing herein shall limit county liability for exceptions taken against claims for costs incurred prior to July 1, 1978, which are determined to be improper.

(b) If a federal fiscal sanction is imposed against the state as a result of the state's dollar error rate being above the federally established tolerance level, the director shall pass the sanction on to the counties in accordance with regulations adopted by the director which establish a method for equitable distribution of the sanction. The amount assessed to any county may be reduced or set aside if the director finds that extenuating circumstances existed and that imposition of the full sanction amount would unfairly penalize the county.

SEC. 232. Section 16147 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 233. Section 16147 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

16147. (a) The State Department of Social Services shall establish a policy of parental financial responsibility in the costs of providing maternity home care only insofar as this policy does not serve as a deterrent to the pregnant person securing such care.

(b) The department shall design an intake form to be used by licensed maternity home care providers. This intake form shall be used to assess parental or guardian willingness and ability to share in the costs of the care. The intake form shall include, but need not be limited to, all of the following information:

(1) Family income.

(2) Family size.

(3) Availability of medical insurance coverage.

(4) Parental willingness to participate in the costs of care.

(c) This intake assessment shall be performed with sensitivity to the pregnant person's psychological and emotional needs as well as taking into account any possible detrimental affects fixing parental financial responsibility would have on future family reunification efforts.

(d) The State Department of Social Services shall develop and implement a copayment policy based on the ability to pay and the size of the client's family. Under no circumstances shall a family be held financially responsible for part, or all, of the costs of care when the family income is 200 percent of the poverty level or less.

The department shall initiate recoupments to the extent feasible by March 15 of the fiscal year following the fiscal year for which the agreement with the local jurisdiction was in effect.

(2) A report of actual expenditures, revenues, and net county costs for the services provided in accordance with the county health services plan and budget for the fiscal year for which the agreement with the local jurisdiction was in effect. Such notice shall be posted not less than 30 days prior to such public hearings. The notice shall contain a detailed list of the proposed reductions or changes.

(d) The board shall designate an agency to provide: a 24-hour information service which can give eligible people immediate information as to the available services and access to them and an agency to receive and respond to complaints from people eligible for services under this chapter. The designated agency may be the agency which operates the facility. This subdivision shall apply only in instances in which there is a closing of a county facility, an elimination or reduction in the level of services provided, or the leasing, selling, or transfer of such a county facility.

(a) The net cost of all services specified in the approved county Short-Doyle plans shall be financed on a basis of 90 percent state funds and 10 percent county funds, except for local hospital inpatient costs, which shall be financed on a basis of 85 percent state funds and 15 percent county funds, irrespective of where or by whom the services are provided, except for services to be financed from other public or private sources as indicated in the county Short-Doyle plan. The cost of the services shall be the rates established by the Director of Mental Health or a negotiated net amount or rate approved by the Director of Mental Health as provided in Section 5705.2. In counties of less than 100,000 population, the cost requirement for local financial participation shall be waived for all programs except local hospital inpatient and state hospital services.

(b) The cost of state hospital services shall be financed on the basis of 85 percent state funds and 15 percent county funds, except that in counties with less than 100,000 population, the cost of state hospital services shall be financed on the basis of 90 percent state funds and 10 percent county funds.

The State Department of Mental Health is hereby permitted to reallocate any funds which are not matched by counties with the approval of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee using a letter as prescribed in Section 28 of the Budget Act, provided such reallocated funds shall not be counted into the base allocation.

This section shall become operative July 1, 1982, and shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1983, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before July 1, 1983, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 2.3. Section 5705 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Section 3 of Chapter 1042 of the Statutes of 1981, is amended to read:

5705. (a) The net cost of all services specified in the approved county Short-Doyle plans shall be financed on a basis of 90 percent state funds and 10 percent county funds, except for local hospital inpatient costs, which shall be financed on a basis of 85 percent state funds and 15 percent county funds, irrespective of where or by whom the services are provided, except for services to be financed from other public or private sources as indicated in the county Short-Doyle plan. The cost of the services shall be the rates established by the Director of Mental Health or a negotiated net amount or rate approved by the Director of Mental Health as provided in Section 5705.2. In counties of less than 100,000 population, the cost requirement for local financial participation shall be waived for all programs except local hospital inpatient and state hospital services. It is the intent of the Legislature that counties under 100,000 population provide as much of the 10 percent match as possible for mental health, drug and alcohol programs within budgetary constraints.

(b) The cost of state hospital services shall be financed on the basis of 85 percent state funds and 15 percent county funds, except that in counties with less than 100,000 population, the cost of state hospital services shall be financed on the basis of 90 percent state funds and 10 percent county funds.

The State Department of Mental Health is hereby permitted to reallocate any funds which are not matched by counties with the approval of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee using a letter as prescribed in Section 28 of the Budget Act, provided such reallocated funds shall not be counted into the base allocation.

This section shall become operative July 1, 1983.

SEC. 2.4. Section 5705.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5705.1. (a) The Director of Mental Health shall establish, by regulation, rates and methods of reimbursement governing the financing of services specified in the approved county Short-Doyle plans.

(b) In establishing rates, no rate shall exceed 125 percent of the statewide weighted average of the cost of services provided in accordance with the approved county Short-Doyle plans for the 1980–81 fiscal year. This shall not prohibit the adjustment of the rates for cost-of-living increases appropriated by the Legislature. This subdivision shall not apply to prepaid health plans.

(c) The Director of Mental Health, subject to the availability of funds, may approve a waiver of the 125 percent limitation set forth in subdivision (b) requested by the board of supervisors of a county if the county demonstrates that the imposition of the 125 percent limitation will result in a substantial inability to provide mental health services. The Department shall report annually to the Legislature as to the factors justifying waivers granted by it.

(d) The provisions of subdivision (b) shall not apply to consolidated mental health programs established in accordance with Article 5 (commencing with Section 14660) of Chapter 8.8 of Division 9.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, in the event that a health facility has entered into a negotiated rate agreement pursuant to Article 2.6, the facility's rates shall be governed by such agreement.

(f) The State Department of Mental Health shall promulgate regulations implementing the provisions of this article. The Director of the State Department of Mental Health shall adopt all regulations pursuant to subdivision (a) as emergency regulations in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. For the purposes of the Administrative Procedure Act, the adoption of the regulations shall be deemed to be an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, or general welfare. These regulations shall not be subject to the review and approval of the Office of Administrative Law; shall not be subject to approval by the California Conference of Local Mental Health Directors; shall not be subject to automatic repeal until 180 days after the regulations take effect; and shall become effective immediately upon filing with the Secretary of State.

SEC. 3. Section 11150 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11150. It is the intent of this article to set forth the amount of personal or real property, or both, which an applicant for, or recipient of, public assistance may retain and remain eligible to receive public assistance provided he meets the other eligibility requirements for the category of public assistance for which he or she is an applicant or recipient.

In the formulation of any regulations pursuant to this article and in the administration thereof, consideration shall be given to the ability and circumstances of the applicant or recipient in order that undue hardship is not imposed upon any applicant or recipient in making plans to comply with the provisions of this article. No applicant or recipient shall be considered ineligible for retaining property where disposition would alter or impair reasonable access to, or the normal use of, his or her home.

This article does not apply to aid to families with dependent children or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 12000) or Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of this part, unless otherwise expressly indicated.

SEC. 4. Section 14005 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005. The health care benefits and services specified in this chapter, to the extent that such services are neither provided under any other federal or state law nor provided nor available under other contractual or legal entitlements of the person, shall be provided under this chapter to any person who is a resident of this state and is made eligible by the provisions of this article. It is the intent of the Legislature that a provider shall look to such other contractual or legal entitlements for payment before submitting a bill for payment under this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 14005.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005.1. Except for adults receiving aid due to unemployment, for which federal financial participation is not obtainable pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200), public assistance recipients are eligible for health care services under Section 14005, including persons who would be eligible for public assistance, except for the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 11450.

SEC. 6. Section 14005.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005.4. (a) A medically indigent child who is under 21 years of age or an adult residing in a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility whose monthly income or family's income in excess of the amount required for maintenance established pursuant to Section 14005.12 (exclusive of any amounts considered exempt under the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11200) of this part) is not sufficient to provide for the costs of health care or coverage, less any amount by which the value of his or her other resources exceeds the value established in accordance with Section 14006, or a reasonable portion of such value thereof as may be determined in accordance with standards established by the director, is eligible for health care services under Section 14005.

(b) Included under this section are children in foster care for whom public agencies are assuming financial responsibility in whole or in part and persons receiving aid under Chapter 2.1 (commencing with Section 16115) or Part 4 of Division 9 of this code.

(c) The director may, to meet the requirements of the Federal Social Security Act, decrease or increase the eligibility standards for persons under this section.

(d) For the purposes of this section, "skilled nursing facility" shall also include distinct skilled nursing beds in acute care hospitals.

(e) For the purposes of this section, "intermediate care facility" shall include intermediate care facility for developmentally disabled and intermediate care facility for developmentally disabled/habilitative.

(f) For the purposes of this section, the schedule of benefits provided to medically indigent adults residing in skilled nursing facilities shall be limited to those services contained in subdivision (e) of Section 14132. The schedule of benefits provided to medically indigent adults residing in intermediate care facilities shall be limited to those benefits contained in subdivision (n) of Section 14132.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person of the age of 21 years or over shall qualify for aid under this section after January 1, 1983, unless that person is confined in a skilled nursing home or intermediate care facility.

SEC. 6.5. Section 14005.10 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14005.10. Any county shall be permitted to assume responsibility for providing or arranging to provide health care services to persons eligible under Section 14005.4 who are 21 years of age or older, and not confined in a skilled nursing home or intermediate care facility. Each county may assume this responsibility on the first of any month prior to January, 1983, by sending a written declaration of intent to the department at least 45 days in advance. The declaration must include an assurance that the county will make appropriate and necessary health services available to the population specified in this section for the same medical and related conditions and problems covered by the Medi-Cal Program. The declaration must also include a finding by the county that assumption of responsibility on the date specified will mitigate the impact on the county of the January 1, 1983 amendments to Section 14005.4.

SEC. 7. Section 14005.12 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005.12. (a) For the purposes of Sections 14005.4, and 14005.7, except as specified in subdivisions (b) and (c), the department shall establish the income levels for maintenance need at the lowest levels at which federal financial participation will still be provided under Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act.

(b) For the purposes of Sections 14005.4 and 14005.7 for a person in long-term care the amount considered as required for maintenance per month shall be computed pursuant to regulations which provide for the following purposes:

(1) Personal and incidental needs while a patient.

(2) The upkeep and maintenance of the home.

(3) The support and care of his spouse, minor dependents and any disabled relative for whose support he has contributed regularly.

(4) If federal requirements permit such a person to own an automobile of greater value than is permitted in the case of recipients of aid under Chapter 3 of this part, the department shall adopt the more liberal allowance in its rules and regulations.

(c) When family members maintain separate residences, but eligibility is determined as a single unit under Section 14008, the income levels for maintenance per month shall be established for each household in accordance with subdivisions (a) to (e), inclusive. The total of these levels shall be the level for the single eligibility unit.

SEC. 8. Section 14005.13 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is repealed.

SEC. 8.3. In eliminating medically indigent adults from the Medi-Cal program, it is the intent of the Legislature to transfer funds to the counties to be consolidated with existing county health services funds in order to provide health services to low-income persons and other persons not eligible for the Medi-Cal program. In furtherance of this intent, all counties shall implement the provisions of this act relating to the medically indigent by January 1, 1983. However, counties, at their discretion, may implement the service consolidation provisions of this act at any time prior to January 1, 1983.

It is further the intent of the Legislature to provide counties with as much flexibility as possible in organizing county health services to serve the population being transferred.

SEC. 8.5. Section 14005.16 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14005.16. A county shall receive state funds to assist it in covering costs incurred by it as a result of changes in eligibility standards for medically indigent adults as defined in Sections 14005.4 and 14052.

(a) The amount of state funds shall be established and appropriated annually in the Budget Act. However, funds allocated for the 1982–83 fiscal year shall be 70 percent of the amount of Medi-Cal funds that would have been appropriated for the last six months of the 1982–83 fiscal year, including the costs of eligibility determinations.

(b) Funds allocated to the counties pursuant to this section shall be appropriated from the General Fund to a special account in the County Health Services Fund. The procedure used to allocate such funds to the counties shall be that specified in Part 4.5 (commencing with Section 16700) of Division 9 of this code, except that no matching funds shall be required.

(c) As a condition to receiving funds under this section, a county shall expand the county health services plan required of it under Section 16700 of this code to include the eligibility criteria that it will use in determining the allocation of services and funds as will be used by it as a result of the changes of eligibility standards for medically indigent adults. Also, as a condition of receiving state funds under this section, a county shall spend no less in any fiscal year for medical services for low-income persons and other persons not eligible for the Medi-Cal program than it spent in the 1981–82 fiscal year. The Department of Finance may exempt a county from this last requirement in cases of severe hardship.

(d) The amount of state funds to which each county shall be entitled under this section shall be determined as follows:

(1) Each county's percentage shall be determined on the basis of the average amount expended by the county for medically indigent adults, including that expended for eligibility determinations, for the fiscal years 1979–80, 1980–81, and 1981–82.

(2) There shall then be determined the ratio of the amount determined pursuant to subdivision (1) to the amount of the average expenditures of all counties for such purposes for that three-year period.

(3) The percentage derived from subdivision (2) shall be multiplied against the state funds available, and the amount derived shall be the county's share.

(e) In counties with populations under 300,000, as determined in accordance with the 1980 decennial census, the boards of supervisors may, but are not required to, request that state funds be provided to the counties under this section. In lieu thereof, any such county may elect to enter into a contract with the department under which the department agrees to assume the program responsibility. Such a county may also elect to act jointly with other counties in assuming responsibility and claim state funds on a joint basis. In determining the allocation of funds for such counties, the Department of Finance shall take into account adjustments which may be required to meet costs, determined on an actuarial basis, reflecting an unusual level of services, and the department may retain a reasonable reserve to meet such situations. The department shall submit an annual report to the Legislature showing the bases used by it in fixing such reserve.

SEC. 9. Section 14006 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14006. (a) For the purposes of Sections 14005.4 and 14005.7, the term "other resources" means the real or personal property, or any combination of both, held by a medically needy or medically indigent individual or family.

(b) The amount of other resources is limited to not more than one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for an aged, blind or disabled individual, or not more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) for an aged, blind or disabled individual and his spouse. For a medically needy family person or for a medically indigent person or family, this limit shall be established at not less than one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) and not more than three thousand dollars ($3,000), in accordance with family size. In addition, a medically needy or medically indigent person or family may retain: (1) Other property in accordance with the provisions of Sections 11158 and 12152 of this code; (2) Real property other than the home, up to a value of six thousand dollars ($6,000) provided it is producing income for the individual or family reasonably consistent with its value; (3) Any additional resources allowed under the provisions of Title XVI of the Social Security Act.

(c) The director, to meet the requirements of the Federal Social Security Act and to insure the highest percentage of federal financial participation in the program provided by this chapter, may decrease or increase the amounts set forth herein.

(d) If the holdings are in the form of real property, the value shall be the assessed value, determined under the most recent county property tax assessment, less the unpaid amount of any encumbrance of record.

If the real property other than the home is not producing income reasonably consistent with its value, the applicant or recipient shall be allowed reasonable time to begin producing such income from the property. If the property cannot produce reasonable income or be sold based on the market value, the applicant or recipient shall be allowed to submit evidence from a qualified real estate appraiser which indicates the value for which the property can be adequately utilized or sold. If the applicant or recipient provides evidence that the only method of adequately utilizing the property is sale, and the property has not been sold at market value during a reasonable period of time, the property shall be considered to be adequately utilized provided it is listed with a licensed real estate broker at the value determined to be the fair market value by a qualified real estate appraiser and the applicant or recipient provides evidence that a bona fide and continuous effort is being made to sell the property.

(e) Any mortgage or note secured by a deed of trust shall be deemed real property if its value does not exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000) and it is obtained by the applicant or recipient, or in combination with his spouse, through the sale of such real property.

(f) If the holdings consist of money on deposit, the value shall be the actual amount thereof. If the holdings are in any other form of personal property or investment, except life insurance, the value shall be the conversion value as of the date of application or the anniversary date of such application. If the holdings are in the form of life insurance, the value shall be the cash value as of the policy anniversary nearest the date of such application.

(g) The value of property holdings shall be determined as of the date of application and, if the person is found eligible, this determination shall establish the amount of such holdings to be considered during the ensuing 12 months except a new determination to govern during the succeeding 12 months shall be made on the first anniversary date of the application or such alternate date as may be established following the acquisition of additional holdings as provided in the following paragraph and on each succeeding anniversary date thereafter.

(h) If any person shall by gift, inheritance, or other manner, acquire additional holdings during any such interval, other than from his own earnings, he shall immediately report such acquisition, and the anniversary date shall become the date of such acquisition.

SEC. 10. Section 14008 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14008. (a) No relative, other than the spouse, shall be held to be financially responsible for the cost of health care received by an adult eligible under this chapter, except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c).

(b) Except as provided in Section 14010, relative, other than the parent or parents of a child under the age of 18 years if a parent claims the child as a dependent in order to receive a tax credit or deduction for purposes of state or federal income taxation, shall be held to be financially responsible for the cost of health care or related services received by such child, otherwise eligible under this chapter.

(c) To the extent required by federal law, the parent or parents shall have such financial responsibility for any child 18 years of age or older but under the age of 21 years who is living in the home of the parent or parents.

SEC. 11. Section 14011 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14011. (a) Each applicant who is not a recipient of public assistance shall be required to file an affirmation setting forth such facts about his annual income and other resources and qualifications for eligibility as may be required by the department. Such statements shall be on forms prescribed by the department such statements shall be on forms prescribed by the department.

(b) To the extent permitted by federal law, eligibility for medical assistance for such applicants shall not be granted until the applicant or designated representative provides independent documentation verifying statements of gross income by type and source; income amounts withheld for taxes, health care benefits available through employment, retirement, military service, work related injuries or settlements from prior injuries, employee retirement contributions, and other employee benefit contributions, deductible expenses for maintenance or improvement of income-producing property and status and value of property owned, other than property exempt under the provisions of Section 14006. The director may prescribe those items of exempt property which the director deems should be verified as to status and value in order to reasonably assure a correct designation of those items as exempt.

(c) The verification requirements of subdivision (b) apply to income, income deductions and property both of applicants or medical assistance (other than applicants for public assistance) and to persons whose income, income deductions, expenses or property holdings must be considered in determining the applicant's eligibility and share of cost.

(d) A determination of eligibility and share of cost may be extended beyond otherwise prescribed time frames if, in the county department's judgment, and subject to standards of the director, the applicant or designated representative has good cause for failure to provide the required verification and continues to make a good faith effort to provide such verification.

(e) To the extent permitted by federal law, in addition to the other verification requirements of this section, a county department may require verification of any other applicant statements, or conduct a full and complete investigation of such statements, whenever such a verification or investigation is warranted in the judgment of the county department.

(f) If documentation is unavailable, as defined in regulations promulgated by the department, the applicant's signed statement as to the value or amount shall be deemed to constitute verification.

SEC. 12. Section 14016 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14016. (a) The county in which the person resides, except as specified in subdivision (c), shall determine the eligibility of, each person pursuant to Sections 14005.1, 14005.4, and 14005.7 and Article 4.4 (commencing with Section 14140) of this chapter, except that the department may contract with the federal Social Security Administration for the determination of Medi-Cal eligibility of persons eligible under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. Upon termination of such assistance, the county shall determine whether the person remains eligible for Medi-Cal coverage under one of these sections.

(b) The department shall institute an eligibility quality control program, with onsite state auditors who shall verify the eligibility determination of a statistically valid sampling of persons in each county granted Medi-Cal eligibility under Section 14005.4, 14005.7, or 14005.8 or Article 4.4 (commencing with Section 14140) of this chapter. The department shall report to the Legislature in May 1982, on the results of the quality control and on findings of errors.

(c) When family members maintain separate residences, but eligibility is determined as a single unit because of the provisions of Section 14008, the county in which the parent or parents reside shall determine the eligibility for the entire unit.

(d) In administering the provisions of law and regulations related to eligibility determination the director shall impose such sanctions as provided by this section to assure adequate county administrative performance.

(e) (1) The director shall hold counties financially liable for payments made on behalf of ineligible persons or persons with an incorrect share of cost as represented by a dollar payment error rate. There shall be established, annually, a dollar error rate standard which shall be the basis for computing a county's liability under this section commencing with the budget for the 1983–84 fiscal year to be applied on January 1, 1984. The standard for the 1983–84 fiscal year shall be developed by January 1, 1983, and the department shall submit a report to the Legislature pertaining to development of that standard by July 1, 1983. For those counties which exceed the dollar error rate standard, liability shall not exceed the product of the dollar payment error rate in excess of the standard multiplied by the total expenditures paid under the program. The director may grant exceptions to these counties if the department is unable to establish a statistically valid sample or if the error in an individual county rate is above the standard due to natural disaster, job actions, or other occurrences as determined by the director.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1), if fiscal sanctions are imposed by the Department of Health and Human Services against the State Department of Health Services as a result of California's eligibility dollar error rate being above the federally established tolerance level for the Medicaid Quality Control program, the director shall pass on to the counties that portion of the sanction which can be attributed to an individual county's failure to properly apply state laws and regulations. The State Department of Health Services shall develop a methodology for determining the amount of federal fiscal sanctions which shall be passed on to individual counties.

(3) When a county welfare department contravenes state eligibility processing regulations and written instructions in a way that produces increased program benefits or administrative expenses but doesn't result in an increase in the eligibility dollar error rate, the director shall recoup from that county the additional administrative or program benefit costs above those which would have been incurred had that county not contravened the established state eligibility processing regulations and written instructions.

SEC. 13. Section 14019 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14019. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 14018, except as provided in Sections 14019.1 and 14019.6, a Medi-Cal card shall be authorization for payment for health care services rendered, under conditions prescribed by the director and to the extent required by federal law, during any of the three months immediately prior to the month in which application was made, and for which such person would have otherwise been eligible.

SEC. 14. Section 14019.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14019.1. Any adult at least 21 years of age, who is eligible for services pursuant to Section 14005.4, except for an adult residing in a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility, shall not be eligible to receive services under this chapter for any of the three months immediately prior to the month in which application is made.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1983, and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 14019.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14019.6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person, whose property reserve exceeds the property limit, may establish eligibility for any of the three months immediately prior to the month in which application was made, by spenddown of such excess property.

SEC. 16. Section 14052 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14052. "Medically indigent person" means a person under 21 years of age, or a person 21 years of age or older who resides in a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility, who could not qualify as a public assistance recipient, a medically needy person, or a medically needy family person, for reasons other than income or resources but whose income and resources are insufficient to provide for the costs of health care, provided, that to the extent required by federal law, any person under the age of 21 years who could qualify as a medically needy person or a medically needy family person may, instead, qualify as a medically indigent person if the person so chooses.

SEC. 17. Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 14081) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 2.6. Selective Provider Contracts

14081. It is the purpose of this article to ensure that the Medi-Cal program shall be operated in the most cost-effective and efficient manner possible with the optimum number of inpatient hospital service providers. In order to carry out this purpose it is the specific intent of the Legislature that the special negotiator have maximum discretion and flexibility in order to select among various methods of arranging for the provision of health services while achieving significant cost savings. This article shall be the exclusive means of providing inpatient hospital services to recipients qualifying for such care under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part.

14082. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Governor shall designate a person in his office to act as a special negotiator to negotiate rates, terms, and conditions for contracts with hospitals for inpatient services to be rendered to Medi-Cal program beneficiaries. The negotiator may also, if he or she deems it expedient, call for bids, in lieu of negotiations. The special negotiator shall consider, when contracting, the total funds appropriated for inpatient hospital services.

The department and every other state agency concerned with health care or public social services shall provide such assistance as the negotiator may require. The department shall enter into contracts with hospitals and shall be bound by the rates, terms, and conditions negotiated by the negotiator.

In addition to the powers specified in this section, the negotiator has the authority to negotiate contracts under Article 2.8 (commencing with Section 14087.5) and Article 2.91 (commencing with Section 14089) of this chapter.

14082.5. The negotiator provided for in Section 14082 shall serve in such capacity for the 1982–83 fiscal year, after which his or her functions shall be assumed by the California Medical Assistance Commission. Commencing on July 1, 1983, any reference in this article or in Article 2.8 (commencing with Section 14087.5), and Article 2.91 (commencing with Section 14089) of this chapter to the negotiator shall be deemed to be references to the California Medical Assistance Commission.

As of July 1, 1983, the negotiator shall serve as the executive director of the commission.

14083. The following factors to be considered by the negotiator in negotiating contracts under this article, or in drawing specifications for competitive bidding, include but are not limited to:

(a) Beneficiary access.

(b) Utilization controls.

(c) Ability to render quality services efficiently and economically.

(d) Demonstrated ability to provide or arrange needed specialized services.

(e) Protection against fraud and abuse.

(f) Any other factor which would reduce costs, promote access, or enhance the quality of care.

(g) The capacity to provide a given tertiary service, such as specialized childrens' services, on a regional basis.

(h) Recognition of the variations in severity of illness and complexity of care.

14084. Payments to the contractor may be either on a capitation or prepayment basis, or on a combination of both methods of payment, or such other methods as the negotiator determines to be feasible. Hospitals may assume all or part of the risk of utilization of services, or costs of services, or both.

14085. All utilization controls applied to inpatient hospital services by the director in accordance with Section 14133.1 shall continue to be applied to inpatient hospital services rendered under this article, except that the director may waive utilization controls which are no longer necessary in the case of hospitals entering into negotiated, capitated, at-risk contracts under this article.

14086. The provisions of this article relating to contracts with hospitals, to be negotiated or let out to bid by the negotiator, shall apply only to hospitals and shall not apply to hospital inpatient services rendered by health maintenance organizations, and other organized health systems, or state hospitals.

Health maintenance organizations may, however, not be required to utilize hospitals contracting under this article to provide services to enrolled beneficiaries of the plan.

14087. The provisions of this article shall not, however, be construed to preclude an otherwise qualified hospital from obtaining reimbursement as determined by the department based on rates paid to contract hospitals in the area to the extent permitted by federal law under this article for providing services to program beneficiaries in life threatening or other emergency situations, including reimbursement for transportation in such situations such as those that could result in permanent impairment.

14087.1. The department or its authorized agents shall conduct periodic onsite reviews of performance under any contract made pursuant to this article. Onsite reviews may evaluate the following:

(a) Level and quality of care, and the necessity and appropriateness of the services provided.

(b) Internal procedures for assuring efficiency, economy and quality of care.

(c) Grievances relating to medical care and their disposition.

(d) Financial records only when determined necessary by the department to protect public funds.

14087.2. It is the intent of the Legislature that for the 1982–83 fiscal year, regionalized and specialty hospitals, such as children's hospitals, need not contract under the provisions of this article. Services provided by such hospitals shall be reimbursed on the same basis that they were reimbursed on the day prior to the effective date of this section.

If such a hospital elects to contract pursuant to this article in the 1982–83 fiscal year, the negotiator shall give consideration to the special services provided in such hospitals, such as those services provided to children. The California Medical Assistance Commission shall continue to extend such consideration to specialty hospitals following the 1982–83 fiscal year.

14087.25. In order to achieve maximum cost savings the Legislature hereby determines that an expedited contract process for contracts under this article is necessary. Therefore, contracts under this article may be on a nonbid basis, and shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 14780), Part 5.5, Division 3 of the Government Code.

14087.26. In negotiating contracts pursuant to this article, the negotiator may designate a specific group of hospitals as the negotiating unit. The Legislature finds and declares that, in any case where the negotiator designates a group of hospitals for purposes of negotiation there is a compelling state interest in negotiating on this basis, thereby exempting such negotiations from federal antitrust provisions.

14087.27. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, judicial review pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be available to resolve disputes relating to the terms, performance, or termination of contracts entered into pursuant to this article, or any act, failure to act, conduct, order, or decision of the commission.

14087.28. A hospital contracting with the Medi-Cal program pursuant to this chapter, shall not deny medical staff membership or clinical privileges for reasons other than a physician's individual qualifications as determined by professional and ethical criteria, uniformly applied to all medical staff applicants and members. Determination of medical staff membership or clinical privileges shall not be made upon the basis of:

(a) The existence of a contract with the hospital or with others.

(b) Membership in or affiliation with any society, medical group or teaching facility or upon the basis of any criteria lacking professional justification, such as sex, race, creed or national origin.

SEC. 18. Article 2.7 (commencing with Section 14087.3) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institution Code, to read:

Article 2.7. Contracts With Noninstitutional Providers

14087.3. (a) The director may contract with individual physicians, groups of physicians or other providers to provide services to Medi-Cal beneficiaries. Such contract may include provisions to do the following:

(1) Promote case management.

(2) Provide for alternate methods of payment, including, but not limited to, a prospectively negotiated reimbursement rate, fee-for-service, retainer, capitation, or other basis.

(3) Permit the individual physicians, groups of physicians, or other providers to participate in a manner that supports the organized system mode of operation.

(4) Encourage group practices with relationships with hospitals having low unit costs.

(b) The director may require individual physicians, groups of physicians, or other providers as a condition of participation under the Medi-Cal program, to enter into capitated contracts pursuant to this section in order to correct or prevent irregular or abusive billing practices. No physician, groups of physicians, or other providers shall be reimbursed for services rendered to Medi-Cal beneficiaries if the physician, group of physicians, or other providers has declined to enter into a contract required by the director pursuant to this section.

14087.4. (a) Any contract made pursuant to this article may be renewed if the provider continues to meet the requirements of this chapter, regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and the contract. Failure to meet these requirements shall be cause for nonrenewal of the contract. The department may condition renewal on timely completion of a mutually agreed upon plan of correction of any deficiencies.

(b) The department may terminate or decline to renew a contract, in whole or in part, when the director determines that such action is necessary to protect the health of the beneficiaries or the funds appropriated to carry out the Medi-Cal program. Nonrenewal or termination under this article shall not qualify the applicant for an administrative hearing including a hearing pursuant to Section 14123.

(c) In order to achieve maximum cost savings the Legislature hereby determines that an expedited contract process for contracts under this article is necessary. Therefore contracts under this article may be on a nonbid basis, and shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 14780), Part 5.5, Division 3 of the Government Code. Contracts shall have no force and effect unless approved by the State Department of Finance.

14087.45. The provisions of this article shall not become operative until July 1, 1983, the date upon which the California Medical Assistance Commission, created pursuant to Assembly Bill 3480, assumes its full responsibilities.

SEC. 19. Article 2.8 (commencing with Section 14087.5) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 2.8. County Health System

14087.5. The negotiator may negotiate exclusive contracts with any county which seeks to provide, or arrange for the provision of the health care services provided under this chapter. The negotiator shall establish regulations concerning the time for submittal of proposed plans for a contract by a county, and for the time by which the negotiator shall decide whether or not to accept the county's proposal.

14087.55. The department shall enter into contracts with counties under this article, and shall be bound by the rates, terms, and conditions negotiated by the negotiator.

14087.6. A county which has contracted for the provision of services pursuant to this article may provide the services directly to recipients, or arrange for any or all of the services to be provided by subcontracting with primary care providers, health maintenance organizations, insurance carriers, or other entities or individuals. The subcontracts may utilize a prospectively negotiated reimbursement rate, fee-for-service, retainer, capituation, or other basis for payment. The rate of payment established under the contract shall not exceed the total per capita amount which the department estimates would be payable for all services and requirements covered under the contract if all such services and requirements were to be furnished Medi-Cal beneficiaries under the Medi-Cal fee-for-service program.

14087.7. To the extent that a county chooses to contract with primary care providers pursuant to this article, the county shall ensure that designation forms and appropriate information concerning primary care providers are given to beneficiaries.

14087.8. When the department has entered into a contract with a county pursuant to this article, the department shall monitor the level and quality of services provided in a county, as well as a county's expenditures pursuant to the contract, and shall ensure conformity with federal law.

14087.9. A combination of counties may contract with the department pursuant to this article for the provision of services on a regional basis.

SEC. 20. Article 2.9 (commencing with Section 14088) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 2.9. Primary Care Provider Case Management

14088. For the purposes of this article, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Primary care provider" means any internist, general practitioner, obstetrician/gynecologist, pediatrician or family practice physician or any primary care clinic, rural health clinic, community clinic or hospital outpatient clinic holding a valid and current Medi-Cal provider number, which agrees to provide case management to Medi-Cal beneficiaries.

(b) "Case management" means responsibility for referral, consultation, ordering of therapy, admission to hospitals, followup care, and prepayment approval of referred services.

(c) "Designation form" or "form" means a form supplied by the department to be executed by a Medi-Cal beneficiary and an eligible primary care provider, setting forth the beneficiary's choice of primary care provider and an agreement to be limited by the case management decisions of that primary care provider and the provider's agreement to be responsible for that beneficiary's case management and medical care, as specified in this article.

14088.1. The department or a county which has contracted for the provision of services pursuant to this article may, within geographical areas designated by the department, enter into contracts with primary care providers. The contracts shall be on a capitated rate or risk sharing basis, or a combination of both. The rate of payment established under the contract shall not exceed the total per capita amount which the department estimates would be payable for all services and requirements covered under the contract if all such services and requirements were to be furnished Medi-Cal beneficiaries under the Medi-Cal fee-for-service program.

14088.2. The primary care provider with whom a contract has been entered into pursuant to this article shall have responsibility for providing for case management as defined, pursuant to Section 14088.

14088.3. In those geographical areas in which the department has entered into contracts with primary care providers, the department shall, upon notification by a county of the eligiblity of a beneficiary, through the use of county staff, provide the beneficiary with a designation form, unless the beneficiary is enrolled in a health care plan. At the time the beneficiary receives the designation form, the department, through the use of county staff, shall also provide to the beneficiary, information as to those primary care providers who may provide case management services to the beneficiary. A beneficiary who has been provided with a designation form shall have a reasonable time, as prescribed by the department, in which to designate his or her primary care provider. An otherwise eligible beneficiary who is required to complete a designation form, but who has not completed the form within the time prescribed by the department, shall be ineligible for services under this article until such time as the designation form has been completed. If the beneficiary has designated a primary care provider within the required time period, but the designation form has not been agreed to by that provider, the eligibility of the beneficiary for services under this article shall not be affected.

14088.4. No reimbursement shall be provided for any recipient who is receiving case management services pursuant to this article, for any services, except emergency services and dental services, not authorized pursuant to case management decisions made by the appropriate primary care provider.

14088.5. The recipient shall be permitted to disenroll from any primary care provider for good cause shown in accordance with standards established by the department.

SEC. 21. Article 2.91 (commencing with Section 14089) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 3 of Division 9, to read:

Article 2.91. Expanded Choice of Health Care Plans

14089. (a) The purpose of this article is to provide an additional mechanism for providing recipients adequate health care in the counties in which they reside. It is, further, the purpose of this article to permit Medi-Cal recipients in selected counties the option of choosing from among two or more health care plans, including, but not limited to, health maintenance organizations, prepaid health plans, independent practice associations, various insurance coverage, organized county health systems, private foundations and university medical center systems, for the provision of health care services.

(b) The negotiator shall, with the assistance of the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System, issue a request for proposal to provide medical and hospital insurance plans for eligible beneficiaries. The negotiator, at the request of any county, or counties acting jointly, shall also prepare, in cooperation with the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System, a request for proposal detailing such information as is necessary for health care plans to submit bids for provision of health care services to eligible beneficiaries in the county or counties requesting to participate. The request for proposal shall contain specifications for provision of health care services to eligible populations on a capitated prepaid basis. Such information shall include, but not be limited to, such data as are necessary to make a sound actuarial projection of risks and premiums, and shall specify that the coverage include at least the minimum federally-required Medicaid benefits and may include any optional benefits which are currently available pursuant to Section 14132 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. The request for proposal shall identify existing Medi-Cal providers in the county or counties having requested to participate, the numbers of eligible individuals and the most current county Medi-Cal expenditure data.

(c) The negotiator shall approve proposals based on relative costs, extent of coverage offered, quality of health services to be provided, financial stability of the health care plan or carrier, recipient access to services, cost-containment strategies, peer and community participation in quality control, emphasis on preventive services and the ability of the health plan to meet all requirements for certification by the Commissioner of Corporations, the Insurance Commissioner and the Department of Health Services.

(d) The department shall enter into contracts pursuant to this article, and shall be bound by the rates, terms, and conditions negotiated by the negotiator.

(e) Prior to the award of any contract, the department shall provide adequate public notice of a public hearing which shall be held in the county or counties to be served by the contract. In negotiating a contract or contracts, the negotiator shall take into consideration the testimony presented at the public hearing. The negotiator shall negotiate for at least two alternative health care plans in each participating county.

(f) An eligible beneficiary shall be entitled to enroll in any health care plan contracted for pursuant to this article that is in effect for the county in which he or she resides. Enrollment shall be for a minimum of six months. Contracts entered into pursuant to this article shall be for at least one but no more than three years. The director shall make available to recipients information summarizing the benefits and limitations of each health care plan available pursuant to this section in the county in which the recipient resides.

(g) A participating county may include within the plan or plans providing coverage pursuant to this section, employees of county government, and others who depend upon county funds for all or part of their health care costs.

SEC. 22. Section 14103.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14103.4. The director, with the advice of the Medicaid Advisory Committee required by federal law or regulation, shall determine which of the health care and related remedial or preventive services are elective. The director and the committee shall consult with representatives of providers of such services before making a determination.

SEC. 23. Section 14104.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14104.3. (a) The department may, to the extent feasible, enter into nonexclusive contracts providing arrangements under which funds available for health care under this chapter shall be administered and disbursed to providers of health care or to their designated agents in consideration for services rendered and supplies furnished by them in accordance with the provisions of the applicable contract and any schedule of charges or formula for determining payments established pursuant to such contract. Such contract shall provide that the contractor:

(1) Will take such action as may be necessary to assure that payment for services to hospitals and other facilities and professional services shall be based on standards determined by the director. The formula for such payments shall be determined in accordance with regulations establishing the methods to be used and the items to be included.

(2) Will take such action as may be necessary to assure that charges by providers will be reasonable and not higher than the charge for a comparable service and under comparable circumstances made to other payors.

(3) Bills for service under this chapter shall be reviewed and rejected or processed for payment within an average of 18 days from receipt of evidence establishing validity of the bill for payment in the office of the contractor. If it is determined by the contractor that additional evidence of validity is required, such evidence shall be requested within 18 days from the date the bill is received by the contractor. In any event, notice shall be given within 30 days from the date the bill is received concerning the status of the bill submitted if such bill is held for peer review by the contractor beyond 18 days. In no event shall the number of bills not processed for payment within 30 days of receipt exceed 9 percent of the total bills inventory.

(b) Contracts awarded under this section shall be awarded on a bid basis, and before entering into any such contract, the director shall publish notice soliciting bids.

(c) Contracts awarded under this section may provide:

(1) Payments to the contractor may be on a capitation or prepayment basis, or on a combination of both methods of payment.

(2) Providers may assume all or part of the risk of utilization of services, or costs of services, or both, and that providers who agree to assume such risk may be separately classified for purposes of applicable rates of payment or administrative requirements.

(3) Such other provisions as have previously been incorporated into pilot programs established pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part and determined by the director to be desirable and feasible.

The director, at least once each year, shall report to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee actions taken by him in the awarding of contracts under this section, including, but not limited to, the number and types of bids submitted, the basis on which contracts were awarded, and, if a contract is awarded to other than the lowest bidder, the reason for such action.

SEC. 24. Section 14105 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105. (a) The director shall prescribe the policies to be followed in the administration of this chapter, may limit the rates of payment for health care services, and shall adopt such rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out, not inconsistent with, the provisions thereof.

Such policies and regulations shall include rates for payment for services not rendered under a contract pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part. In order to implement expeditiously the budgeting decisions of the Legislature, the director shall, to the extent permitted by federal law, adopt regulations setting rates which reflect such decisions 30 days after the enactment of the Budget Act and of any other appropriation which changes the level of funding for Medi-Cal services. The proposed regulations shall be submitted to the Department of Finance five days prior to the date of adoption. With the written approval of the Department of Finance, the director shall adopt such regulations as emergency regulations in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 11371), Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code). For purposes of such act, the adoption of such regulations shall be deemed an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety or general welfare.

(b) Insofar as practical, consistent with the efficient and economical administration of this part, the department shall afford recipients of public assistance free choice of arrangements under which they shall receive health care benefits.

(c) If, in the judgment of the director, the actions taken by the director under subdivision (c) of Section 14120 will not be sufficient to operate the Medi-Cal program within the limits of appropriated funds, he may limit the scope and kinds of health care services, except for minimum coverage as defined in Section 14056, available to persons who are not eligible under Section 14005.1. When and if necessary, such action shall be taken by the director in ways consistent with the requirements of the federal Social Security Act.

SEC. 24.5. Section 14105.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14105.1. In determining interim rates of reimbursement for inpatient hospital services the department shall use reimbursement policy existing on the date prior to the effective date of this act. The director shall have authority to adjust reimbursement rates only to the extent funds are available. The provisions of this section shall cease to apply to a hospital when the department enters into a contract, pursuant to Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 14081), either with that hospital or with other hospitals which preclude that hospital from receiving reimbursement.

SEC. 25. Section 14105.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14105.3. (a) The department is considered to be the purchaser, but not the dispenser or distributor, of prescribed drugs under the Medi-Cal program for the purpose of enabling the department to obtain from one or more manufacturers of prescribed drugs the most favorable price for such drugs furnished by one or more manufacturer, based upon the large quantity of such drugs purchased under the Medi-Cal program, and to enable the department, notwithstanding any other provision of California law, to obtain from such manufacturers discounts, rebates, or refunds based on such quantities purchased under said program, insofar as may be permissible under federal law. Nothing in this section shall interfere with usual and customary distribution practices in the drug industry.

(b) The department may enter into exclusive or nonexclusive contracts on a bid or negotiated basis with manufacturers, distributors, dispensers, or suppliers of drugs, appliances, durable medical equipment, medical supplies, and other product-type health care services and laboratories for the purpose of obtaining the most favorable prices to the state and to assure adequate quality of the product or service. This subdivision shall not apply to pharmacies licensed pursuant to Section 4080 of the Business and Professions Code.

(c) The department is hereby specifically authorized to contract with one or more manuafactures of each multisource prescribed product or supplier of clinical laboratory services on a bid or nonbid basis. Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the department from contracting with less than all manufacturers or clinical laboratories including just one manufacturer or clinical laboratory, on a bid or nonbid basis.

(d) Prior to entering into any contract under this section, the department shall submit a report to the Legislature demonstrating the cost-effectiveness of the contract.

SEC. 27. Section 14106 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14106. If a Medi-Cal provider negotiates a rate of payment for inpatient, outpatient, or ancillary services with a prepaid health plan under contract with the department pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part which is lower than or equal to the lesser of reasonable costs, customary charges, or the schedule of maximum allowances, the rate shall not affect the director's determination of reasonable costs, customary charges, or schedule of maximum allowances.

SEC. 29. Section 14110.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14110.2. The director shall, unless precluded by federal law or regulation, amend the state plan under Title XIX of the Social Security Act to conform to the policy directions and budgetary decisions of the Legislature, as reflected in the Budget Act for each fiscal year.

SEC. 30. Section 14115 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14115. Bills for service under this chapter shall be submitted not more than two months after the month in which the service is rendered, and shall be in the form prescribed by the director, except that in the event the patient does not identify himself to the provider as a Medi-Cal beneficiary, the provider shall be entitled to submit his statement at any time within 60 days after that date certified by the provider as the date said patient was first identified as a Medi-Cal beneficiary, provided, however, that such date certified by the provider as the date the patient was first so identified shall not be later than one year after the month in which the service was rendered. Whenever a provider is attempting to secure payment for services rendered under this chapter from a liable third party, the provider shall have 120 days after the month in which the service is rendered for submission of the bill, except that whenever a legal proceeding has been commenced with either an administrative or judicial tribunal concerning a bill for which the provider is attempting to obtain payment from a liable third party, the provider shall have one year in which to submit the bill after the month in which the services have been rendered. A copy of the pleadings shall be conclusively presumed to be sufficient evidence of commencement of a legal proceeding.

Further, the director may, where he finds that delay in the submission of bills was caused by circumstances beyond the control of the provider, extend the period for submission of bills for a period not to exceed one year.

For the purposes of this section, identification of a patient as a Medi-Cal beneficiary shall mean presentation to the provider of the patient's Medi-Cal card.

SEC. 31. Section 14123 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14123. Participation in the medical assistance program by a provider of service is subject to suspension in order to protect the health of the recipients and the funds appropriated to carry out this chapter.

(a) The director may suspend a provider of service from further participation under the medical assistance program for violation of the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part or any rule or regulation promulgated by the director pursuant to those chapters. Any such suspension may be for an indefinite or specified period of time and with or without conditions or may be imposed with the operation of the suspension stayed or probation granted. The director shall suspend a provider of service for conviction of any felony or any misdemeanor involving fraud, abuse of the Medi-Cal program or any patient, or otherwise substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a provider of service. The director in consultation with the special hospital negotiator shall also suspend a hospital from further participation under the medical assistance program as a provider of inpatient hospital services when hospital's participation under Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 14081) would not be in the best interest of the Medi-Cal program. Proceedings for suspension shall be by temporary suspension in accordance with subdivision (c). If the provider of service is a clinic, group, corporation, or other association, conviction of any officer, director, or shareholder with a 10 percent or greater interest in that organization, of such a crime shall result in the suspension of that organization and the individual convicted if the director believes that suspension would be in the best interest of the Medi-Cal program. If the provider of services is a political subdivision of the state or other government agency, the conviction of the person in charge of the facility of such a crime shall result in the suspension of that facility. The record of conviction or a certified copy thereof, certified by the clerk of the court or by the judge in whose court the conviction is had, shall be conclusive evidence of the fact that the conviction occurred. A plea or verdict of guilty, or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere is deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section. The director shall order the suspension of a provider of service when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal or when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence irrespective of any subsequent order under the provisions of Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code allowing a person to withdraw his plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, or setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information or indictment. The suspension shall not take effect earlier than the date of the director's order. Suspension following a conviction is not subject to the proceedings required in subdivision (c). However, the director may grant an informal hearing at the request of the provider of service to determine in the director's sole discretion if the circumstances surrounding the conviction justify rescinding or otherwise modifying the suspension provided for in this subdivision.

(b) Whenever the director receives written notification from the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, that a physician or other individual practitioner has been suspended from participation in the Medicare or Medicaid programs, the director shall, promptly suspend such practitioner from participation in the medical assistance program. This automatic suspension is not subject to the proceedings required in subdivision (c). No payment from state or federal funds may be made for any item or service rendered by such practitioner during the period of suspension.

(c) The proceedings for suspension shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except that hearings may be conducted by departmental hearing officers appointed by the director. The director may periodically subcontract with the Office of Administrative Hearings to conduct such hearings. The director may temporarily suspend any provider of service prior to any hearing when in his opinion such action is necessary to protect the public welfare or the interests of the medical assistance program. The director shall notify the provider of service of the temporary suspension and the effective date thereof and at the same time serve such provider with an accusation. The accusation and all proceedings thereafter shall be in accordance with the sections of the Government Code specified in this subdivision. Upon receipt of a notice of defense by the provider, the director shall set the matter for hearing within thirty (30) days after receipt of said notice. The temporary suspension shall remain in effect until such time as the hearing is completed and the director has made a final determination on the merits, provided, however, said temporary suspension shall be deemed vacated if the director fails to make a final determination on the merits within 60 days after the original hearing has been completed.

(d) The suspension by the director of any provider of service shall preclude such provider from submitting claims for payment, either personally or through claims submitted by any clinic, group, corporation or other association to the medical assistance program for any services or supplies he has provided under such program, except for services or supplies provided prior to the suspension. No clinic, group, corporation, or other association which is a provider of service shall submit claims for payment to the medical assistance program for any services or supplies provided by a person within said organization who has been suspended or revoked by the director, except for services or supplies provided prior to the suspension.

Where the provisions of this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of this part or the regulations promulgated by the director are violated by a provider of service which is a clinic, group, corporation, or other association, the director may suspend such organization and any individual person within said organization who is responsible for such violation.

(e) Notice of the suspension shall be sent by the director to such provider's state licensing, certifying or registering authority along with the evidence upon which the suspension was based.

SEC. 32. Section 14123.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14123.1. The provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 14123 shall not apply where the suspension of a provider is based upon the conviction of any crime involving fraud, abuse of the Medi-Cal program, or suspension from the federal Medicare program. In such instances, suspension shall be automatic.

SEC. 33. Section 14123.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14123.2. Any provider or person that presents or causes to be presented a claim for services to an officer, employee, or agent of the State of California, or of any department or agency thereof as defined in appropriate state law that the director determines is for a medical or other item or service that the person knows or has reason to know; (1) was not provided as claimed, or (2) payment for which may not be made under the program, or (3) is submitted in violation of an agreement between the person and the state, shall be subject in addition to any other penalties that may be prescribed by law, to a civil money penalty of not more than three times the amount claimed for each such item or service.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, all money collected pursuant to to this section shall be deposited in the General Fund on a monthly basis.

SEC. 34. Section 14124.89 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14124.89. (a) Every health care service plan, self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, disability insurer, and nonprofit hospital service plan shall, upon request of the department for any records, or any information contained in such records, pertaining to the coverage of any individual under any individual or group health insurance policy or plan issued by such corporation, or the medical benefits, including dental benefits paid by or claims made to such corporation under such a policy or plan, make the requested records or information available upon a certification by the department that the individual is an applicant for or recipient of services under this chapter or is a person who is legally responsible for such an applicant or recipient.

(b) The department shall enter into a cooperative agreement setting forth mutually agreeable procedures for requesting and furnishing appropriate information, not inconsistent with any law pertaining to the confidentiality and privacy of medical records, which procedure shall include financial arrangements as may be necessary to reimburse corporations providing health care coverage for necessary costs incurred in furnishing requested information, and the time and manner such procedures are to become effective. Reimbursement to corporations complying with the provisions of this section shall be at the same rate of reimbursement used to reimburse the Department of Motor Vehicles for providing information to insurance carriers. This section shall go into effect on January 1, 1983.

(c) The information required to be made available pursuant to this section shall be limited to information necessary to determine whether insurance benefits have been or should have been claimed and paid pursuant to a health insurance policy or plan with respect to items of medical care and services received by a particular individual for which Medi-Cal coverage would otherwise be available.

(d) Not later than the date upon which the procedures agreed to pursuant to subdivision (b) become effective, the director shall establish guidelines to assure that information relating to an individual certified to be an applicant for or recipient of medical assistance, furnished to any insurance company pursuant to this section, is used only for the purpose of identifying the records or information requested in such manner so as not to violate the confidentiality of an applicant or recipient.

(e) The department shall implement the provisions of this section by January 1, 1983.

SEC. 35. Section 14132 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

The utilization controls shall allow emergency and essential diagnostic and restorative dental services and prostheses that are necessary to prevent a significant disability or to replace previously furnished prostheses which are lost or destroyed due to circumstances beyond the beneficiary's control. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the director may by regulation provide for certain fixed artificial dentures necessary for obtaining employment or for medical conditions which preclude the use of removable dental prostheses, and for orthodontic services in cleft palate deformities administered by the department's crippled children services program.

(i) Medical transportation is covered, subject to utilization controls.

(j) Home health care services are covered, subject to utilization controls.

Orthopedic and conventional shoes are covered when provided by a prosthetic and orthotic supplier on the prescription of a physician and when at least one of the shoes will be attached to a prosthesis or brace, subject to utilization controls. Modification of stock conventional or orthopedic shoes when medically indicated, is covered subject to utilization controls. (2) A patient with a chronic or progressive disease requires an inpatient intensive rehabilitation hospital program as described in Section 14064 to maintain the patient's present functional level as long as possible.

(q) Adult day health care is covered in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8.7 (commencing with Section 14520) of this part.

(t) In-home medical care services are covered when medically appropriate and subject to utilization controls, for beneficiaries who would otherwise require care for an extended period of time in an acute care hospital at a cost higher than in-home medical care services. The director shall have the authority under this section to contract with organizations qualified to provide in-home medical care services to such persons. Such services may be provided to patients placed in facilities such as skilled nursing or intermediate care facilities, or to persons in shared-or-congregate living arrangements, if a home setting is not medically appropriate or available to the beneficiary.

SEC. 36. Section 14132.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14132.1. As used in this chapter "surgical center" means a surgical clinic that is licensed under Section 1203 of the Health and Safety Code. Pursuant to Section 14105, the director shall establish the rates of payment for services provided by surgical centers.

SEC. 37. Section 14133.25 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14133.25. (a) The director shall identify those surgical and medical procedures capable of outpatient performance and establish conditions for assuring performance in an outpatient rather than inpatient setting when medically appropriate.

(b) The director shall identify and apply appropriate utilization controls to review outpatient and office medical and surgical procedures for medical necessity and program coverage. The director may under this section identify and require prior authorization for any specified outpatient or office medical or surgical procedure performed during a month without regard to the provisions of Section 14133.1, provided that, with respect to outpatient or office medical procedures, those medical procedures which remain not subject to prior authorization are sufficient in number and scope as to achieve the general purpose of Section 14133.1.

SEC. 38. Section 14133.3 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14133.3. (a) The director shall require fully documented medical justification from providers that the requested services are medically necessary to protect life or prevent significant disability, on all requests for prior authorization.

(b) For services not subject to prior authorization, the director shall additionally determine utilization controls which shall be applied to assure that the health care services provided and the conditions treated, are medically necessary to protect life or prevent significant disability. Such utilization controls shall take into account those diseases, illnesses, or injuries which require preventive health services or treatment to prevent serious deterioration of health.

(c) Nothing in this section shall preclude payment for family planning services, early or periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment services mandated by federal law.

SEC. 39. Section 14134 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14134. A recipient of services under this chapter shall be required to make copayments as follows:

(a) Except for any person age 12 or under or any woman receiving perinatal care, a copayment of five dollars ($5) shall be made for nonemergency services received in an emergency room. For the purposes of this section, "nonemergency services" means any services not required for the alleviation of severe pain or the immediate diagnosis and treatment of severe medical conditions which, if not immediately diagnosed and treated, would lead to disability or death.

(b) A copayment of one dollar ($1) shall be made for each drug prescription. Collection of this copayment shall be required as a condition for reimbursement. This subdivision shall not apply to an individual residing in a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility.

(c) Except for any person age 12 or under, any woman receiving perinatal care, or any person who is an inpatient in a facility as defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, a copayment of one dollar ($1) shall be made for each visit for services under subdivisions (a) and (h) of Section 14132.

The above copayment amounts set forth in subdivisions (a) and (c) may be collected and retained or waived by the provider. The department shall not reduce the reimbursement otherwise due to providers as a result of such copayment. Such copayment amounts shall be in addition to any reimbursement otherwise due the provider for services rendered under this program.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any services received by persons covered under the federal program of health insurance for the aged and disabled, for which claims for payment will be billed to the federal program or to any child in AFDC-Foster Care, as defined in Section 11400.

SEC. 40. Section 14171.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14171.5. Any institutional provider of health care services which obtained reimbursement under this chapter to which it is not entitled shall be subject to the following interest charges or penalties:

(a) When it is established upon audit that the provider has claimed payments under this chapter to which it is not entitled, the provider shall pay, in addition to the amount improperly received, interest at the rate specified by subdivision (e) of Section 14171.

(b) When it is established upon audit that the provider claimed payments related to services or costs which the department had previously notified the provider in an Audit Report that such costs or services were not reimbursable, the provider shall pay in addition to the amount improperly claimed, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount improperly claimed after this notice, plus the cost of the audit. In addition, interest will be assessed at the rate specified in subdivision (e) of Section 14171. Providers who wish to preserve appeal rights or to challenge the department's positions regarding appeal issues, may claim such cost or services and not be reimbursed therefor, provided that they are identified and presented separately on the cost report.

(c) When it is established that the provider fraudulently claimed and received payments under this chapter, the provider shall pay a penalty of 25 percent of the amount improperly claimed, plus the cost of the audit, in addition to the amount thereof. In addition, interest will be assessed at the rate specified by subdivision (e) of Section 14171. A fraudulent claim is a claim upon which the provider has been convicted of fraud upon the program. Nothing in this section shall prevent the imposition of any other civil or criminal penalties to which the provider may be liable.

(d) Appeals to action taken in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of Section 14171.5 above are subject to the administrative appeals process provided by Section 14171.

(e) Penalties paid by providers under subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of Section 14171.5 are not reimbursable by the program.

SEC. 41. Section 14172 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14172. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if any amount is due and payable and unpaid as the result of an overpayment to a provider for health care services identified through an audit or examination conducted by or on behalf of the director, and the director has issued a final decision on the appeal pursuant to Section 14171, and 90 days has elapsed from the issuance of such final decision, the director may, not later than three years after the payment became due and owing, file in the office of the County Clerk of Sacramento County, and with the county clerk of the county in which the provider has his principal place of business, a certificate containing the following:

(1) The amount due and owing and unpaid plus interest at the rate equal to the rate received on investments in the Pooled Money Investment Fund commencing on the date that an audit or examination finding made pursuant to Sections 10722 and 14170 is mailed.

(2) A statement that the director has complied with all the provisions of this article prior to the filing of such certificate.

(3) A request that judgment be entered against the provider in the amount set forth in the certificate.

The county clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the State of California against the provider in the amount set forth in the certificate. Such judgment may be filed by the county clerk in a looseleaf book entitled "Health Care Overpayment Recovery Judgments."

(b) If the provider seeks judicial review of the final decision of the director pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 14171 and notice of such action is properly served on the director within 90 days of the issuance of the final decision of the director, the director shall not file any certificate as provided in subdivision (a).

If the provider does not seek judicial review of the final decision of the director pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 14171 and does not properly serve notice within 90 days from the date of the final decision of the director, the director may file the certificate provided in subdivision (a); provided, however, if the provider seeks judicial review of the final decision of the director more than 90 days from the date of such decision in accordance with subdivision (d) of Section 14171, the director shall within 10 days after receiving notice of such action release any lien imposed pursuant to this article and any judgment entered is for all purposes null and void.

SEC. 42. Section 14172.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14172.5. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 14172 or any other law, when it is established that an overpayment has been made to a provider, the department shall not begin liquidation of such overpayment until 60 days after issuance of the first statement of accountability or demand for repayment after issuance of the audit or examination report establishing such overpayment should it be found upon appeal that no overpayment was made to the provder, the department shall repay the amount collected, together with the payment of interest thereon, from the date occurring 60 days after issuance of the first statement of accountability or demand for repayment after issuance of the audit or examination report alleging the overpayment.

(b) If on the basis of reliable evidence, the department has a valid basis for believing that, with respect to a provider, proceedings have been or will shortly be instituted in a state or federal court for purposes of determining whether the provider is insolvent or bankrupt under appropriate state or federal law, or that a provider is or will shortly be taking action which reasonably might seriously hinder or defeat the department's ability to collect overpayments in the future, the department may immediately adjust any payments to the provider to a level necessary to insure that no overpayment to the provider is made.

SEC. 43. Section 14173 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14173. An abstract of a judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14172 or a copy thereof may be recorded with the county recorder of any county. From the time of recording, the judgment shall constitute a lien upon all real or personal property of the provider in that county owned by the provider at the time, or which the provider may afterwards but before the lien expires, acquire. The lien shall have the force, effect and priority of a judgment lien and shall continue for 10 years from the time of recording of the abstract of judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14172 unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

The lien may, within 10 years from the date of recording of the abstract of judgment or within 10 years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner herein provided, be extended by recording a new abstract in the office of the county recorder of any county. From the date of such recording the lien shall be extended for 10 years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Execution shall issue upon such a judgment upon request of the director in the same manner as execution may issue upon other judgments. Sale shall be held under such execution as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure. In all proceedings under this section, the director or his authorized agents may act on behalf of the state.

SEC. 44. Section 14178 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14178. (a) Counties shall be held harmless in accordance with the provisions of this section for state funds to be recouped pursuant to audit exceptions issued for acts performed prior to July 1, 1982.

(b) Audit exception for the purpose of this section shall be defined as follows: Demands for recovery resulting from those audit reports issued by the Department of Health Services in which no final settlement or administrative decision adopted by the director has been arrived at prior to the effective date of this section.

(c) Such forgiveness of audit exceptions shall apply only to the state's share of payments made in support of the Medi-Cal program. Counties shall retain liability for payment of the federal portion of payments made for Medi-Cal services unless and until the federal government agrees to waive their rights for repayment of federal share.

(d) Audit exceptions regarding county claims related to nonprogram benefits shall remain unaffected by the provisions of the section. County claims for nonprogram benefits shall include claims for return on equity, claims for bad debts, claims for uncompensated care, and any other claims not compensable pursuant to Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act.

(e) The amount of the recoupment of the federal portion of valid audit exceptions pursuant to subdivision (c) shall be determined pursuant to the existing administrative appeals process.

(f) No provision of this section shall apply to any audit report issued by the Department of Health Services after the effective date of this section.

SEC. 45. Section 14316 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14316. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, contracts with plans which are entered into, renewed, or amended pursuant to this article may include one or more of the following:

(1) A provision to the effect that if the rate for a plan is less than 90 percent of the estimated Medi-Cal fee-for-service cost, the plan's rate shall be increased by one-half the difference between the rate fixed and 90 percent of the estimated fee-for-service cost. The rate shall not, however, be less than 85 percent of the estimated fee-for-service costs.

(2) Guaranteed capitation payments for Medi-Cal beneficiaries, who are entitled to benefits under Title IV of the Social Security Act, for a period of six months or less, even if the eligibility for benefits of such beneficiaries terminates prior to the end of the guaranteed payment period. Each guaranteed payment period shall be calculated beginning on the date a beneficiary's enrollment takes effect.

(3) Benefits in addition to those listed under Section 14132, as long as the provision of such additional services permits plans to remain more cost effective than fee-for-service reimbursement.

SEC. 46. Section 14491.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14491.5. The negotiator shall establish pilot projects in at least two clearly defined geographic areas to test the cost effectiveness of delivering health care benefits, as listed in Section 14132, through private insurance companies or health maintenance organizations. At least one pilot shall be conducted in a rural area, and one in an urban area. The cost of each pilot established under this section shall not exceed the total amount which the department estimates it would pay for all services and requirements within the same geographic area under the fee-for-service Medi-Cal program.

On July 1, 1983, the California Medical Assistance Commission shall evaluate the cost-effectiveness of these pilot projects. Pursuant to this evaluation the commission may either terminate the existing projects, retain the existing pilot projects or create additional pilot projects.

SEC. 47. Section 14653 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14653. This article shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1982, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before July 1, 1982, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 48. (a) The Legislature hereby awards Los Angeles County a grant in the amount of two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) for the purpose of funding the transition from the present to a new county system of providing medical assistance to medically indigent adults.

(b) A contract shall be executed between the State and Los Angeles County whereby the State agrees to make the payments hereinafter set forth, and Los Angeles County agrees to provide for the treatment of medically indigent adults.

SEC. 49. (a) There is hereby established within the General Fund a reserve account to be known as the Los Angeles County Medical Assistance Grant Account.

(b) The sum of two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) shall be deposited in this account as follows:

(2) One hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) during the 1984–85 fiscal year.

(c) There is hereby appropriated for the 1984–85 fiscal year the sum of two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) from the Los Angeles County Medical Assistance Grant Account of the General Fund to the Department of Health Services. This appropriation shall be expended in June 1985 to meet the obligation described in subdivision (a) of Section 48 of this act.

(d) Such grant shall be in lieu of the first two hundred million dollars ($200,000,000) the State would otherwise pay to Los Angeles County for; (1) the treatment of medically indigent adults pursuant to Section 14005.16 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and (2) the State subsidy to county health services pursuant to Section 16702 of the Welfare and Institutions Code for services rendered during the 1982–83 fiscal year.

SEC. 50. (a) It is the specific intent of the Legislature to authorize Los Angeles County to meet its cash requirements occasioned by the transition to the new system of treating medically indigent adults by borrowing against the security of the grant pursuant to Sections 53859 et seq. of the Government Code. For the purposes of this section, and Sections 53859 et seq. of the Government Code, the full amount of the grant hereby awarded and appropriated shall be conclusively presumed to be presently appropriated and committed, to be income and revenue to Los Angeles County for the 1982–83 fiscal year, and to be accrued by the county for the 1982–83 fiscal year.

(b) The grant funds received from the State pursuant to this section and the proceeds of grant anticipation notes sold pursuant to this section shall be placed in a separate fund. Moneys in this fund may be expended only to reimburse other county funds which would have otherwise been reimbursed by the State pursuant to the above-referenced sections of the Welfare and Institutions Code and to retire the principal and interest on the notes. No other county moneys may be expended for the purposes of the expenditures specified in the preceding sentence until such expenditures exceed one hundred ninety million dollars ($190,000,000).

(c) The county may, after June 30, 1982, deposit in this fund any revenues attributable to the fiscal year 1982–83 but received thereafter to the extent that proceeds from the grant are not expected to be sufficient to repay the principal or interest on such grant anticipation notes. This provision shall not be construed to apply to outpatient services provided by laboratory and pathology services or to exempt from licensure under Section 1206.

(2) It is the intent of the Legislature to reduce pharmacy program expenditures, exclusive of the drug dispensing fee reduction provided for in paragraph (8), by twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) General Fund money. To achieve this savings goal, the department shall eliminate drugs, medical supplies, nonprescription and prescription drugs from the Medi-Cal Drug Formulary, or from the Medi-Cal program, and implement other utilization controls for retained items. In implementing this provision, the director shall determine which drugs shall be eliminated based on standards of cost, critical therapeutic importance, safety, efficacy and need. It is the intent of the Legislature that, in making these reductions, the department shall give priority consideration to the elimination of common medicine chest medical supply items, over-the-counter drug products, prescription drug products which afford minor symptomatic relief, and codeine and other narcotic analgesics. In implementing this provision, the Director of Health Services shall not be required to comply with the provisions of Sections 14053.5 and 14184 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, insofar as the latter section requires the director to receive a report from the Medical Therapeutics and Drug Advisory Committee prior to making determinations as to the additions and deletions from the formulary.

(5) Reduce rates of reimbursement for acupuncture treatment by 10 percent.

(8) Reduce rates of reimbursement for drug dispensing services by 9.6 percent.

(9) Reduce rates of reimbursement for laboratory and pathology services, including specimen collection and handling, which are performed by all but hospital inpatient providers, by an overall average of 25 percent. Rates for individual procedures may be adjusted by more or less than the overall 25 percent reduction to reflect changes in technology based on appropriate relative value studies.

(10) Limit coverage of adult vision care services provided by any provider to services necessary to determine whether a condition may be present which could lead to significant disability or threaten the life of the beneficiary or others. If such circumstances are present, medically necessary diagnostic and supplementary services may also be covered. Prescribing, directing the use of, or using, any optical device in connection with ocular exercises, visual training, vision training, or orthoptics are not covered.

(11) Limit coverage of eyeglasses to situations when the beneficiary does not have eyeglasses available which permit vision of at least 20/40 in at least one eye and the refractive correction supplied is at least 1.00 diopter in all meridians of both lenses. Astigmatic corrections of at least 1.00 diopter shall be covered. Presbyopic corrections of at least 1.00 diopter shall be covered for reading glasses.

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall seek all federal waivers necessary to implement the provisions. The provisions for which appropriate federal waivers cannot be obtained shall not be implemented, but provisions for which waivers are either obtained or found to be unnecessary shall be unaffected by the inability to obtain federal waivers for the other provisions.

(c) The State Director of Health Services shall adopt regulations implementing the provisions as emergency regulations in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, emergency regulations adopted by the Department of Health Services in order to implement the provisions shall not be subject to the review and approval of the Office of Administrative Law. SEC. 59. The Medi-Cal fiscal intermediary shall expedite the implementation of any change order required to carry out this act. The department shall provide sufficient funding for any such change order to enable the fiscal intermediary to implement such change order expeditiously and to not have to divert staff or other resources from existing contract tasks, including but not limited to those resources dedicated to the implementation of all other change orders.

SEC. 60. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund without regard to fiscal years the sum not to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) for the support of the special hospital negotiator and for support services contracted for to carry out the provisions of this act.

The other initial appointments made to the commission shall be for a term of four years.

SEC. 6. Section 441.18 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

441.18. Every organization which operates, conducts, or maintains a health facility and the officers thereof, shall make and file with the commission, within four months after the close of the organization's calendar or fiscal year for all annual accounting periods to which the systems of accounting and uniform reporting approved under Section 441.17 are made applicable thereby, all of the following reports on forms specified by the commission which shall be in accord with such systems of accounting and uniform reporting all of the following:

(e) A report of health facility expenditures which allocates the costs of nonrevenue-producing departments of a health facility to the other nonrevenue- and revenue-producing centers which they serve, similar to the "step-down" or "double-apportionment" methods of cost finding used in reporting health facility cost experience under Title XVIII of the Federal Social Security Act. Any health facility which participates in Title XVIII as a provider of health care services may elect to file the cost data reports required under the regulations of the Social Security Administration in its administration of Title XVIII in place of the report required by the commission under this subdivision.

(f) The report required by subdivision (e) shall be accompanied by an accurate and sufficiently detailed statistical report containing data taken from the health facility's basic accounts and patient statistics as maintained under one of the systems approved in accordance with Section 441.17, which identifies costs related to categories, types or units of health care services delivered to patients by the operating departments of the health facility in accordance with a list of such services provided by the commission acting under the provisions of Section 441.15. Any health facility which participates in Title XVIII of the Federal Social Security Act may elect to file the statistical reports covering the provision of such health care services required under Title XVIII in place of the report required by the commission under this subdivision.

Health facilities described in subdivision (b) of Section 441.16 shall file such statements and reports, not inconsistent with subdivision (b) of Section 441.16, as the commission may reasonably require for the annual financial reporting period of such health facilities or group of health facilities.

On or before January 1, 1981, the commission, with the advice and consultation of the State Department of Health Services, shall adopt a single, uniform fiscal reporting document for long-term care facilities for use by the commission and the department.

(g) If federal regulations implementing subsection (a) of Section 19 of Public Law 95-142 relating to hospital reporting requirements for the Uniform Hospital Discharge Data Set (UHDDS) have not been adopted on or before July 1, 1981, every health facility for the first accounting year commencing on or after July 1, 1981, shall file a Hospital Discharge Abstract Data Record limited to all of the following:

(10) Other diagnosis.
(11) Principal procedure and dates.
(12) Other procedures and dates.
(13) Total charges.
(14) Disposition of patient.
(15) Expected source of payment.

It is the expressed intent of the Legislature that the patient's rights of confidentiality shall not be violated in any manner.

A health facility or its designee shall annually file the Hospital Discharge Abstract Record not later than six months after the close of the facility's calendar or fiscal year. A health facility may submit the Hospital Discharge Abstract Record in a computer tape format, and a health facility may use coding from the International Coding of Diseases in reporting diagnoses and procedures.

When the discharge data reporting requirements of Public Law

95-142 are implemented, the requirements of the Hospital Discharge Abstract Data Record adopted by the commission pursuant to this subdivision shall cease to be effective and the requirements of the federal regulations shall thereafter govern the data to be reported pursuant to this subdivision.

The commission shall adopt forms of authentication for use by health facility officers or licensed accountants preparing reports under this section stating that each such officer or accountant making the authentication believes that to the extent of his knowledge and information each statement in the report is true.

With the exception of hospital discharge abstract data, all reports required to be filed by the health facility with the commission shall be available for inspection by the public during regular working hours at the principal location of the health facility.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1985, and as of such date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1985, deletes or extends such date.

SEC. 7. Section 442.13 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

442.13. This part shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1986, and as of that date is repealed unless a later enacted statute chaptered prior to that date extends or deletes that date.

SEC. 8. Section 10133 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

Payments so made shall discharge the insurer's obligation with respect to the amount so paid.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize an insurer to furnish services of hospitals, or physicians and surgeons or in any manner to direct, participate in or control the selection of the hospital or physician and surgeon from whom the insured secures services, except that an insurer may negotiate and enter into contracts for alternative rates of payment with institutional providers, and offer the benefit of such alternative rates to insureds who select such providers. Alternatively, insurers may, by agreement with group policyholders, limit payments under a policy to services secured by insureds from institutional providers charging alternative rates pursuant to contract with such insurer.

On and after July 1, 1983, the amendments made to this section during the 1982 portion of the 1981–82 Regular Session, shall also be applicable with respect to both professional and institutional providers.

SEC. 8.5. Section 10401 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10401. Any incorporated insurer admitted for disability insurance and any agent of such insurer, that makes or permits any discrimination between insureds of the same class in any manner whatsoever with relation to such insurance, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The payment to insureds by an insurer of alternative rates of payment negotiated and contracted for with institutional providers shall not constitute a violation of this section.

On and after July 1, 1983, the amendments made to this section during the 1982 portion of the 1981–82 Regular Session, shall also be applicable with respect to both professional and institutional providers.

SEC. 8.7. Section 11512 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512. No hospital service contract shall be entered into between a corporation proposing to furnish or provide any one or more of the services authorized under this chapter and a subscriber:

(a) Unless the entire consideration therefor is expressed in the contract;

(b) Unless the times at which the benefits or services to the subscriber take effect and terminate are stated in a portion of the contract above the evidence of its execution;

(c) If the contract purports to entitle more than one person to benefits or services except family hospital service contracts issued under Section 11512.1, group hospital service contracts issued under Section 11512.2 and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.4;

(d) Unless every printed portion and any endorsement or attached papers is plainly printed in type of which the face is not smaller than 10 points;

(e) Except for group hospital service contracts and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.2, unless the exceptions of the contract are printed with greater prominence than the benefits to which they apply;

(f) Except for group hospital service contracts and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.2, unless, if any portion of such contract purports, by reason of the circumstances under which an illness, injury or disablement is incurred to reduce any service to less than that provided for the same illness, injury or disablement incurred under ordinary circumstances, such portion is printed in boldface type and with greater prominence than any other text of the contract;

(g) If the contract contains any provisions purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or bylaws of such nonprofit corporation a part of the contract unless such portion is set forth in full in the contract;

(h) Except for a comprehensive health care contract issued under subdivision (e) of Section 11493, unless the contract for hospital service contains in blackface type not less than 10-point the following provisions:

Nothing in this contract contained shall in any way or manner restrict or interfere with the right of any individual entitled to hospital service and care hereunder to select the contracting hospital or to make a free choice of his attending physician, who shall be the holder of a valid and unrevoked physician and surgeon's certificate and who is a member of, or acceptable to, the attending staff and board of directors of the hospital in which said hospital services are to be provided and rendered;

A contract need not contain the foregoing provisions of this subdivision when a plan has negotiated and entered into contracts for alternative rates of payment with institutional providers, and offers the benefits of such alternative rates to group contractors who select such providers. A contract need not contain the foregoing provisions when a plan, by agreement with group contractors, limits payments under a contract to services secured by subscribers from institutional providers charging alternative rates pursuant to contract with such plan. On and after July 1, 1983, the provisions of this subdivision shall also be applicable with respect to both professional and institutional providers.

(i) If such contract contains coverage for sterilization operations or procedures and it imposes any disclaimer, restriction on, or limitation of coverage relative to the insured's reason for sterilization. All such contracts entered into or renewed on or after March 7, 1973, shall be construed to be in compliance with this section, and any provision in any such contract which is in conflict with this section shall be of no force or effect;

(j) Unless, in the case of a contract which provides benefits that accrue after a certain time of confinement in a health care facility, the contract specifies what constitutes a day of confinement or the number of consecutive hours of confinement which are requisite to the commencement of benefits.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Section 40 of Senate Bill No. 46 from $214,000,000 to $214,000. This reduction corrects an inadvertent drafting error. With this reduction I approve Senate Bill No. 46.

EDMUND G. BROWN JR., GOVERNOR

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to preserve the actuarial integrity of the Public Employees' Retirement System, to recognize the fiduciary role of the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System, to assist in the orderly and equitable disposition of the reserve against deficiencies created by Section 20203 of the Government Code, and to provide for repayment of state and school employer retirement contributions. In enacting this act, the Legislature agrees with the findings of the chief actuary and the board, who, on June 16, 1982, determined that funds in the reserve for deficiencies may be allocated from the reserve without jeopardizing the actuarial soundness of the system. The Legislature also concurs with the board's finding that direct relief from contributions in this time of fiscal stress is for the exclusive benefit of the members and retired members of the system.

It is also the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to acknowledge that certain employer accounts in the Public Employees' Retirement Fund may have been adversely affected by the temporary cessation of employer contributions mandated by Chapter 115, Statutes of 1982. In enacting this act, the Legislature provides for the augmented crediting of interest earnings to those accounts in an effort to assure that the accounts are in actuarially sound condition in relation to their current liabilities and existing statutory requirements regarding the full funding of present unfunded obligations.

If, however, the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System determines, pursuant to the next four-year actuarial valuation of that system, that the augmented interest crediting measures provided in this act have been insufficient to maintain the affected employer accounts in the fund in actuarially sound condition, it is the intent of the Legislature to increase employer contributions to a level the board determines necessary to accomplish existing statutory full funding goals.

SEC. 1.5. Section 20009.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20009.1. "Public agency" also includes the following:

(d) The Adjutant General with respect to persons employed by him pursuant to federal regulations and compensated directly from federal funds.

For the purposes of this subdivision, "immediate family" means those persons related by blood or marriage who reside in the household of a member of the credit union who is a member of or retired member of the Public Employees' Retirement System or the State Teachers' Retirement System. For the purposes of this section, the current annual interest rate shall be not less than the current actuarial interest rate. In crediting interest for any fiscal year to contributions of members made during that year, the board may apply one interest rate to the total of such contributions made through the month next preceding the date through which interest is credited, under the assumption that such contributions were made in equal monthly amounts from the July 1st next preceding, to said month, both inclusive.

SEC. 12. Section 20131.1 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20131.1. The board shall credit all contributions of the state, school employer, and contracting agencies in the retirement fund with interest at the current net earnings rate compounded at each June 30th.

SEC. 13. Section 20132 is added to the Government Code, to read:

Notwithstanding Section 20750.9, whenever the board determines that there is in any account a temporary excess of assets over actuarial liabilities the board may, in its discretion, utilize all or any portion of the temporary excess funds to reduce that employer's contributions for a period of time determined by the board. In the case of state employer accounts, the board shall annually review such accounts and shall report to the Legislature on the amount and disposition of the excess. Such excess funds shall not be available for any other purpose.

This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1984, and as of such date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered on or before June 30, 1984, deletes or extends such date.

Income, of whatever nature, earned on the Retirement Fund during any fiscal year, in excess of the interest credited to contributions during that year shall be retained in the fund as a reserve against deficiencies in interest earned in other years, and losses under investments.

Unless specifically authorized by provisions of this part, no funds in the reserve against deficiencies shall be available for the payment of benefits. The board, however, may apply to reduce the book value of securities purchased all or part of the excess of the proceeds of the sale or the redemption prior to maturity of securities over the book value of the securities sold (a) if the purchase of securities is made with those proceeds and (b) if the terms of both securities from the date of sale, redemption prior to maturity, or purchase, as the case may be, to the respective dates of maturity do not differ by more than five years. All applications of such excess proceeds, even with greater differences in terms, heretofore made by the board are hereby validated and confirmed.

At the end of each fiscal year, the amount in the reserve against deficiencies which exceeds 1 percent of the total assets of the system shall be credited to other accounts as prescribed by this part.

SEC. 15. Section 20230 of the Government Code is amended to read:

(c) The accumulated contributions of the state, school employers, and of contracting agencies held for the benefit of members on account of current service.

(d) All other accumulated contributions of the state, school employers, and of contracting agencies, which shall include the amounts available to meet the obligation of the state, school employers, and of the contracting agencies, respectively, on account of benefits that have been granted to, or on account of, retired and deceased employees and on account of prior service of members.

For the purposes of this section, all employers subject to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 20740) shall be deemed to be a single account with respect to their local miscellaneous members, all other employers not subject to Chapter 6 shall be deemed to be a single account with respect to their local miscellaneous members, all employers of local safety members shall be deemed to be a single

(b) Whenever the board determines that there are sufficient funds in the special account created pursuant to subdivision (a), the board shall apply those funds to the increases authorized by this section. If the funds in the special account are not sufficient to pay the increases prescribed in subdivision (d), the board shall proportionately reduce all payments.

(c) The board shall inform each recipient of benefits under subdivision (a) that the increases are not cumulative and shall not be included in their base allowance and may be available for only a limited period of time.

(d) The total quarterly increases payable for the period from October 1, 1982, to September 30, 1984, shall be 10 percent of the quarterly allowance payable to an annuitant or eligible survivor or beneficiary on October 1, 1980. This subdivision shall become operative on July 1, 1982, and shall remain operative only until July 1, 1987, when it shall cease to have any force or effect.

(b) The Investment Dividend Disbursement Account may be utilized, as specified in subdivision (e), to increase all monthly allowances paid by the system to an amount equal to a maximum of 75 percent of the purchasing power, as determined by the board, of the initial monthly allowances that were received by every retired person or survivor or beneficiary of a state, school or local member or retired person who was eligible to receive any allowance at the end of each fiscal year. If sufficient funds are not available to adjust allowances to a maximum of 75 percent of purchasing power, the board shall adjust allowances to eligible recipients by a lesser amount. The board may, for reasons of insufficient funds, determine that no increase under this section shall be made.

This subdivision shall become operative on January 1, 1984, and shall remain operative only until January 1, 1989, when it shall cease to have any force or effect.

(c) The amount specified in subdivision (a) is hereby appropriated from the Investment Dividend Disbursement Account to the board without regard to fiscal years. Whenever the board determines that there are sufficient funds the board shall apply those funds to the increases authorized by this section. If the funds are more than sufficient to pay the increases prescribed in subdivision (b), the board shall retain the funds for three fiscal years. If, at the end of the third fiscal year, a balance remains, the funds allocated in the first fiscal year shall revert to the member accounts in the Public Employees' Retirement Fund. It is the intent of the Legislature that this method of reversion of remaining balances be continued under those circumstances.

(d) The board shall inform each recipient of benefits under subdivision (b) that the increases are not cumulative, not part of the base retirement allowance, and may be available for only a limited period of time and that the board may discontinue the increases.

without interruption after age 18, until the disability ceases. If at the time of the retired member's death there is no eligible surviving spouse or children, the allowance shall be paid to a parent, or collectively to parents, of the deceased member dependent upon him for support. The percentage shall be 25 percent for an allowance based on service for which the allowance is reduced because the service was also covered under the federal system and 50 percent for an allowance based on any other service. If there be no surviving spouse, or upon the death or remarriage of the surviving spouse, the allowance shall be paid collectively to every unmarried child of the deceased member who has not attained age 18, or who is disabled by a condition which disabled that child prior to attaining age 18 and which has continued without interruption after age 18, until the disability ceases. If at the time of the retired member's death there is no eligible surviving spouse or children, the allowance shall be paid to a parent, or collectively to parents, of the deceased member dependent upon him for support. If on the effective date of retirement there is a person who will be eligible if the person survives, the member's election of an optional settlement, other than optional settlement 1, shall apply only to a portion of the allowance as provided in Section 21330 with respect to allowances under Section 21263. The percentage shall be applied to the allowance payable on July 1, 1983, and the allowance as so increased shall be paid for time on and after that date and until April 1, 1984. The base allowance for adjustments due on April 1, 1984, and subsequent annual adjustments under Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 21220) shall be the allowance as so increased. The Legislature finds and declares that, in order to control the fiscal impact of the Mediterranean fruit fly infestation, it is necessary to create a special fund, that this fund be the exclusive source of funding for payment of all legitimate costs, claims, judgments, or other liabilities arising from the Mediterranean fruit fly infestation.

SEC. 2. This act is applicable to all claims whether arising before or after the effective date of this act, and to all settlements or judgments, including, but not limited to, those for injuries to persons or property and for wrongful death, contribution, or indemnification, arising from any effort of the state or its agencies, officers, or employees, or of any public entities, persons, or business entities working under the supervision or direction of the state, to eradicate, control, or otherwise combat the infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly within this state or to protect California crops from the direct or indirect effects, whether physical or economic of that infestation, and is further applicable to costs incurred by the State Board of Control for the administration of those claims, settlements, or judgments.

All claims presented to the board for personal injuries or for wrongful death arising from the activities specified in this section shall be rejected. The claimant may then file a court action on the claim pursuant to Part 4 (commencing with Section 940) of Division 3.6 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 3. (a) There is hereby created in the State Treasury the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Claims Fund for the purpose of paying claims, settlements, or judgments against the state or its agencies, officers, employees, or public entities, persons, or business entities working under the supervision or direction of the state, arising from any of the activities specified in Section 2 of this act. Moneys in the fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the State Board of Control for that purpose.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Claims Fund shall be the exclusive source of funds for the payment of claims, settlements, or judgments to which this act is applicable.

(c) Federal funds received for the payment of claims, settlements, or judgments to which this act is applicable shall be deposited in the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Claims Fund and, where possible, shall be used in lieu of General Fund moneys.

(d) The State Board of Control shall report to the fiscal committees of the Legislature, on a quarterly basis, on the number, types, and dollar amounts of claims approved by the State Board of Control to be paid from the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Claims Fund. The board may pay claims from the fund up to and including an aggregate total of two million dollars ($2,000,000) without making a prior report to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee. The number, types, and dollar amounts of these claims shall be reported to the fiscal committees of the Legislature on August 2, 1982. Claims to be paid after the initial two million dollars ($2,000,000) have been allocated shall first be reported to the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or his or her designee, 20 days prior to final board approval of each claim or settlement. The chairman, or his or her designee, may determine a shorter time for this prior reporting requirement in each instance.

(e) The maximum amount payable per vehicle for any claim, settlement, or judgment for automobile or truck paint damage arising from the activities specified in Section 2 of this act shall be the sum of six hundred eighty-nine dollars ($689) or 20 percent of the current value of the vehicle, whichever is less. Nothing herein shall restrict the board's discretion to allow an amount less than the maximum set forth above. The board may require whatever supporting documents it deems necessary from the claimants, including invoices or estimates.

SEC. 4. The sum of four million one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($4,150,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Director of Finance to be allocated as follows:

(a) For transfer to the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Claims Fund $4,000,000

(b) For transfer to and in augmentation of the support budget of the State Board of Control for costs incurred for processing the claims to which this act is applicable, in such amounts and at such times as the Director of Finance deems necessary $150,000

SEC. 5. Section 2 of Chapter 938 of the Statutes of 1981 is amended to read:

Sec. 2. The sum of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund for reimbursement of activities required to carry out Section 1 of this act in accordance with the following schedule:

(a) For allocation to state agencies to defray actual costs incurred by them pursuant to this act from July 1, 1981 to February 28, 1982, Department of Finance $50,000,000
Provided, that the Director of Food and Agriculture shall make every reasonable effort to obtain federal funds to help defray the costs of the activities specified in Section 1 of this act.

Provided further, that any of the funds appropriated by this section which have not been either encumbered for a specific expense or retained for contingency purposes in a reasonable amount to wind up the eradication program as determined by the Director of Finance by the date on which the Director of Food and Agriculture announces that the eradication of the Mediterranean fruit fly is complete shall revert to the General Fund.

Provided further, that reimbursement to any county agricultural commissioner shall be contingent upon his or her compliance with the terms of the Operational Protocol agreement entered into between the Department of Food and Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the Mediterranean fruit fly eradication project, including the 7-day Mediterranean fruit fly trap monitoring schedule which has also been agreed upon by the Department of Food and Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Provided further, that any of the funds appropriated in this section not required for actual costs from July 1, 1981, to February 28, 1982, may be used to defray actual costs incurred subsequent to February 28, 1982, and shall be subject to the same review requirements set forth in Section 3 of this act.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The limited fiscal reserves of state government are extremely burdened as a result of unanticipated reductions in federal spending and state revenues and an unanticipated increase in the cost of state programs, including the Mediterranean fruit fly eradication effort. This fiscal situation requires the imposition of controls which will assure the orderly allocation of the state's limited fiscal resources, and thus it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 333

An act to amend Section 29125 of the Government Code, relating to counties.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29125 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29125. Transfers and revisions may be made with respect to the appropriations as specified in the resolution of adoption of the budget, except with respect to transfers from the appropriations for contingencies, by an action formally adopted by the board at a regular or special meeting and entered in its minutes. The board may designate a county official to approve transfers and revisions of appropriations, objects, and subobjects within a budget unit.

CHAPTER 334

An act to amend Section 16479 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utility districts.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982 Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16479 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

16479. If the Board of Directors of the Tahoe City Public Utility District or of the North Tahoe Public Utility District determines to use all or any portion of a surplus remaining in the improvement fund from any assessment proceeding to improve the sewer system within district's jurisdiction in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 10427 of the Streets and Highways Code, all of the surpluses to be used for the maintenance of the improvements may be transferred by the legislative body to a single fund for the maintenance and operation of the sewer system without regard to the proportion of the funds so created attributable to each proceeding from which the surplus arose.

The board of directors shall transfer to such single fund the same percentage of the surplus from each improvement fund. The fact that in one or more of such improvement funds no surplus exists shall not prevent the board of directors from proceeding pursuant to this section as to all improvement funds in which a surplus does exist if a surplus of no less than 2½ percent of the total cost exists in no less than 75 percent of such funds.

This section, applicable only to the Tahoe City Public Utility District and the North Tahoe Public Utility District, is necessary because of unique and special fiscal management problems of improvement districts in the Lake Tahoe Basin.

An act to add Chapter 2.85 (commencing with Section 35565) to Part 5 of Division 13 of the Water Code, relating to water districts.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982 Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2.85 (commencing with Section 35565) is added to Part 5 of Division 13 of the Water Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.85. PROVISIONS PERTAINING ONLY TO THE BORREGO WATER DISTRICT

35565. The provisions of this chapter shall apply only to the Borrego Water District.

35565.2. Mosquito abatement and vector control services shall be considered a lawful district purpose and charges may be levied pursuant to Section 35470 to defray the expenses of those services.

35565.3. The district may establish zones of benefit for the purpose of providing mosquito abatement and vector control services. A zone may include the entire district or any portion thereof depending upon the need for or level of services provided. The charges authorized pursuant to Section 35565.2 may vary from zone to zone, and territory may be annexed to, or detached from, a zone.

35565.4. No zone shall be established, nor any land annexed to nor detached from, any existing zone, unless the board by resolution declares its intent to do so and holds a public hearing thereon at a specified time and place where all interested persons may appear and be heard. Notice of the hearing shall be given by publishing a copy of the resolution in a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of San Diego pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby declares that local agencies of the state should, whenever local conditions and circumstances permit, reorganize so as to effectively consolidate their functions. Investigations have revealed that services previously provided by the Borrego Valley Mosquito Abatement District can now be provided more effectively only within the boundaries of the Borrego Water District, which district lies wholly within the Borrego Valley Mosquito Abatement District. Further, the governing board of the Borrego Valley Mosquito Abatement District, having determined that it does not have sufficient revenue sources to continue operations, has initiated proceedings to dissolve that district and has requested the Borrego Water District to assume its functions and responsibilities. The Borrego Water District, having agreed to this transfer of functions and responsibilities, is in need of specific statutory authority broadening the scope of powers of the Borrego Water District, enabling it to reactivate and carry on the functions of the Borrego Valley Mosquito Abatement District. The Legislature therefore finds and declares that a special law is necessary with respect to the Borrego Water District, that the provisions of Section 1 of this act are needed to meet the special circumstances within the district, and that a general law cannot be made applicable.

CHAPTER 336

An act to amend Section 96 of Chapter 22 of the Statutes of 1960, First Extraordinary Session, relating to the Bethel Island Municipal Improvement District.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 96 of Chapter 22 of the Statutes of 1960, First Extraordinary Session, is amended to read:

Sec. 96. The district may make and enforce all necessary and proper regulations, not in conflict with the laws of this State, for the removal of garbage and refuse and the supplying of sewage, water, storm water and reclamation service. A violation of a regulation of the district is an infraction punishable as provided in Sections 19c and 19d of the Penal Code. A regulation of the board shall be adopted by ordinance and shall be posted for one week in three public places in the district and shall take effect upon expiration of the week of such posting. A subsequent finding of the board, entered in its minutes, that posting has been made is conclusive evidence that the posting has been properly made.

CHAPTER 337

An act to amend Section 29130 of the Government Code, relating to county budgets, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 29130 of the Government Code is amended to read:

29130. Balances in appropriations for contingencies, including accretions from cancellation of specific appropriations, and revenues from any source, including but not limited to amounts received from subventions, grants, gifts, judgments, donations, fines, forfeitures, penalties, insurance claim settlements, proceeds of taxes, revenues derived from services provided under contract or agreement which are not specifically set forth in the budget, and charges for current services, which are either in excess of anticipated amounts or are not specifically set forth in the budget, may be made available for specific appropriation by a four-fifths vote of the board at any regular meeting, or at any special meeting of which public notice has been given.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify the authority of county boards of supervisors, as established by Chapter 168 of the Statutes of 1981, so as to assure the orderly implementation of that act without delay, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 338

An act to amend Section 6800 of the Labor Code, relating to railroads.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Division of Occupational Safety and Health be granted jurisdiction over the occupational safety and health of all employees of rail rapid transit systems, electric interurban railroads, and street railroads. Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to grant the division jurisdiction over the operations of rail rapid transit systems, electric interurban railroads, and street railroads insofar as operations affect the safety of their customers or the general public.

SEC. 2. Section 6800 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

6800. The division has jurisdiction over:

An act to add Section 10505 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

SECTION 1. Section 10505 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

10505. Prior to granting any changes in benefits or levels of service for public social services programs, including the Medi-Cal program, funded by the federal government for benefits or services which are permitted, but not required to be given, under federal law, and which changes program or county administrative costs funded from the General Fund in excess of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) on an annual basis, there shall first be obtained a certification by the State Department of Finance that funds are available for the expenditure and that the department has identified the specific funding sources, and has determined whether the expenditure involves a federal mandatory or optional benefit or level of service.

The Department of Finance may not approve any expenditure covered by this section until at least 30 days after the information required by this section has been provided to the chairman of the committee of each house which considers appropriations and the Chairman of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee.

CHAPTER 340

An act to amend Section 338 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to limitation of action.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982 Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 338 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

338. Within three years:

1. An action upon a liability created by statute, other than a penalty or forfeiture.

CHAPTER 344

An act to amend Section 22651 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22651 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

22651. Any peace officer, as that term is defined in Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 830) of Title 3 of Part 2 of the Penal Code; or any regularly employed and salaried employee, who is engaged in directing traffic or enforcing parking laws and regulations, of a city or a county in which a vehicle is located may remove a vehicle from a highway, located within the territorial limits in which the officer or employee is empowered to act under any of the following circumstances:

(a) When any vehicle is left unattended upon any bridge, viaduct, or causeway or in any tube or tunnel where the vehicle constitutes an obstruction to traffic.

(b) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway in such a position as to obstruct the normal movement of traffic or in such a condition as to create a hazard to other traffic upon the highway.

(c) When any vehicle is found upon a highway and report has previously been made that the vehicle has been stolen or a complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that the vehicle has been embezzled.

(d) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to block the entrance to a private driveway and it is impractical to move the vehicle from in front of the driveway to another point on the highway.

(e) When any vehicle is illegally parked so as to prevent access by firefighting equipment to a fire hydrant and it is impracticable to move the vehicle from in front of the fire hydrant to another point on the highway.

(f) When any vehicle, except any highway maintenance or construction equipment, is left unattended for more than four hours upon the right-of-way of any freeway which has full control of access and no crossings at grade.

(g) When the person or persons in charge of a vehicle upon a highway are by reason of physical injuries or illness incapacitated to such an extent as to be unable to provide for its custody or removal.

(h) When an officer arrests any person driving or in control of a vehicle for an alleged offense and the officer is by this code or other law required or permitted to take, and does take, the person arrested before a magistrate without unnecessary delay.

A notice of parking violation issued to such a vehicle shall be accompanied by a warning that repeated violations may result in the impounding of the vehicle. In lieu of requiring satisfactory evidence that the bail has been deposited, the impounding law enforcement agency may, in its discretion, issue a notice to appear for the offenses charged, as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 40500) of Chapter 2 of Division 17. In lieu of either furnishing satisfactory evidence that the bail has been deposited or accepting the notice to appear, that person may demand to be taken without unnecessary delay before a magistrate within the county in which the offenses charged are alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of the offenses and is nearest or most accessible with reference to the place where the vehicle is impounded. Evidence of current registration shall be produced after a vehicle has been impounded or a notice to appear for violation of subdivision (a) of Section 4000 shall be issued to that person.

(j) When any vehicle is found illegally parked and there are no license plates or other evidence of registration displayed, the vehicle may be impounded until the owner or person in control of the vehicle furnishes the impounding law enforcement agency evidence of his identity and an address within this state at which he can be located.

(k) When any vehicle is parked or left standing upon a highway for 72 or more consecutive hours in violation of a local ordinance authorizing removal.

(l) When any vehicle is illegally parked on a highway in violation of any local ordinance forbidding standing or parking and the use of a highway or a portion thereof is necessary for the cleaning, repair, or construction of the highway, or for the installation of underground utilities, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance.

(m) Wherever the use of the highway, or any portion thereof, is authorized by local authorities for a purpose other than the normal flow of traffic or for the movement of equipment, articles, or structures of unusual size, and the parking of any vehicle would prohibit or interfere with such use or movement, and signs giving notice that such a vehicle may be removed are erected or placed at least 24 hours prior to the removal by local authorities pursuant to the ordinance.

(n) Whenever any vehicle is parked or left standing where local authorities, by resolution or ordinance, have prohibited such parking and have authorized the removal of vehicles. No vehicle may be removed unless signs are posted giving notice of the removal.

(o) When any unattended vehicle is found upon a highway with a registration expiration date in excess of one year before the date it is found on the highway.

CHAPTER 345

An act to amend Section 954.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to county highways.

(d) If the board of supervisors resumes maintenance of a county highway on which maintenance was terminated under this section, a notice of maintenance shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder.

(e) If a determination is made that maintenance is no longer necessary, the county shall post signs clearly visible from the traveled highway at each intersection of the highway for which maintenance is being terminated with a maintained highway indicating that the county no longer maintains the highway. The sign shall read as follows: "This road is not maintained. _____ County is not responsible for any loss or injury suffered by reason of its use." The county shall provide adequate maintenance to ensure that the signs remain posted in the appropriate places and the message is legible for a period of one year. Once such action is taken and duly recorded and the required signs are posted, the county shall not be held liable for the death of or injury to a vehicle owner, operator, or passenger, or for damage to a vehicle or its contents, resulting from a dangerous condition on such highway.

SEC. 5. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and Assembly Bill 3539 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1983, both bills amend Section 6702 of the Financial Code, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill 3539, that the amendments to Section 6702 proposed by both bills be given effect and incorporated in Section 6702 in the form set forth in Section 3.5 of this act. Therefore, Section 3.5 of this act shall become operative only if this bill and Assembly Bill 3539 are both chaptered and become effective January 1, 1983, both amend Section 6702, and this bill is chaptered after Assembly Bill 3539, in which case Section 3 of this act shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 349

An act to amend Section 21800 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21800 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

21800. (a) The driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle which has entered the intersection from a different highway.

For the purposes of this subdivision, "terminating highway" means a highway which intersects, but does not continue beyond the intersection, with another highway which does continue in each direction beyond the intersection.

(c) When two vehicles enter an intersection, controlled from all directions by stop signs, from different highways at the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the driver of the vehicle on his immediate right.

(d) This section shall not apply at an intersection controlled by an official traffic control signal or yield right-of-way sign or controlled by stop signs but not from all directions, or to vehicles approaching each other from opposite directions when the driver of one of the vehicles is intending to or is making a left turn.

SEC. 2. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

An act to amend Sections 1208 and 1209 of the Penal Code, relating to prisoners.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1208 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208. (a) The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to employment, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of employment conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to employment, in that county is feasible. The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to education, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of education conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to education, in that county is feasible. In any such ordinance the board shall prescribe whether the sheriff, the probation officer, the director of the county department of corrections, or the superintendent of a county industrial farm or industrial road camp in the county shall perform the functions of the work furlough administrator. The board may, in such ordinance, provide for the performance of any or all functions of the work furlough administrator by any one or more of such persons, acting separately or jointly as to any of such functions; and may, by a subsequent ordinance, revise such provisions within the authorization of this section. The board of supervisors may also terminate the operativeness of this section, either with respect to employment or education in the county if it finds by ordinance that because of changed circumstances, the operation of this section, either with respect to employment or education in that county is no longer feasible.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors may by ordinance designate a facility for confinement of prisoners classified for the work furlough program and designate the work furlough administrator as the custodian of the facility. The work furlough administrator may, with the approval of the board of supervisors, enter into contracts with appropriate public or nonprofit private agencies to provide a facility and services for the housing, sustenance, counseling, supervision, and related services for such inmates as are eligible for work furlough. No agency entering into such a contract may itself employ any person who is in the work furlough program. The sheriff or director of the county department of corrections, as the case may be, is authorized to transfer custody of such prisoners to the work furlough administrator to be confined in such facility for the period during which they are in the work furlough program.

(b) When a person is convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced to the county jail, or is imprisoned therein for nonpayment of a fine, for contempt, or as a condition of probation for any criminal offense, or committed under the terms of Section 6404 or 6406 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as a habit-forming drug addict, the work furlough administrator may, if he concludes that such person is a fit subject therefor, direct that such person be permitted to continue in his regular employment, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (d), or may authorize the person to secure employment for himself, unless the court at the time of sentencing or committing has ordered that such person not be granted work furloughs. The work furlough administrator may, if he concludes that such person is a fit subject therefor, direct that such person be permitted to continue in his regular educational program, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (d), or may authorize the person to secure education for himself, unless the court at the time of sentencing has ordered that such person not be granted work furloughs.

(c) If the work furlough administrator so directs that the prisoner be permitted to continue in his regular employment or educational program, the administrator shall arrange for a continuation of such employment or education, so far as possible without interruption. If the prisoner does not have regular employment or a regular educational program, and the administrator has authorized the prisoner to secure employment or education for himself, the prisoner may do so, and the administrator may assist him in doing so. Any employment or education so secured must be suitable for the prisoner. Such employment or educational program, if such educational program includes earnings by the prisoner, must be at a wage at least as high as the prevailing wage for similar work in the area where the work is performed and in accordance with the prevailing working conditions in such area. In no event may any such employment or educational program involving earnings by the prisoner be permitted where there is a labor dispute in the establishment in which the prisoner is, or is to be, employed or educated.

(d) Whenever the prisoner is not employed or being educated and between the hours or periods of employment or education, he shall be confined in the facility designated by the board of supervisors for work furlough confinement unless the work furlough administrator directs otherwise. If the prisoner is injured during a period of employment or education, the work furlough administrator shall have the authority to release him from the facility for continued medical treatment by private physicians or at medical facilities at the expense of the employer, worker's compensation insurer, or the prisoner. Such release shall not be construed as assumption of liability by the county or work furlough administrator for medical treatment obtained.

The work furlough administrator may release any prisoner classified for the work furlough program for a period not to exceed 72 hours for medical, dental, or psychiatric care, or for family emergencies or pressing business which would result in severe hardship if the release were not granted, or to attend such activities as the administrator deems may effectively promote the prisoner's successful return to the community, including, but not limited to, an attempt to secure housing, employment, entry into educational programs, or participation in community programs.

(e) The earnings of the prisoner may be collected by the work furlough administrator, and it shall be the duty of the prisoner's employer to transmit such wages to the administrator at the latter's request. Earnings levied upon pursuant to writ of execution or in other lawful manner shall not be transmitted to the administrator. If the administrator has requested transmittal of earnings prior to levy, such request shall have priority. In a case in which the functions of the administrator are performed by a sheriff, and such sheriff receives a writ of execution for the earnings of a prisoner subject to this section but has not yet requested transmittal of the prisoner's earnings pursuant to this section, he shall first levy on the earnings pursuant to the writ. When an employer or educator transmits such earnings to the administrator pursuant to this subdivision he shall have no liability to the prisoner for such earnings. From such earnings the administrator shall pay the prisoner's board and personal expenses, both inside and outside the jail, and shall deduct so much of the costs of administration of this section as is allocable to such prisoner or if such prisoner is unable to pay such sum, such lesser sum as is reasonable, and, in an amount determined by the administrator, shall pay the support of the prisoner's dependents, if any. If sufficient funds are available after making the foregoing payments, the administrator may, with the consent of the prisoner, pay, in whole or in part, the preexisting debts of the prisoner. Any balance shall be retained until the prisoner's discharge and thereupon shall be paid to him.

(f) The prisoner shall be eligible for time credits pursuant to Sections 4018, 4019, and 4019.2.

(g) In the event the prisoner violates the conditions laid down for his conduct, custody, education, or employment, the work furlough administrator may order the balance of the prisoner's sentence to be spent in actual confinement.

(h) Willful failure of the prisoner to return to the place of confinement not later than the expiration of any period during which he is authorized to be away from the place of confinement pursuant to this section is punishable as provided in Section 4532.

(i) As used in this section, "education" includes vocational and educational training and counseling; and psychological, drug abuse, alcoholic and other rehabilitative counseling; "educator" includes a person or institution providing such training or counseling; and "employment" includes care of children, including the daytime care of children of the prisoner.

(j) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Cobey Work Furlough Law."

SEC. 2. Section 1209 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1209. Upon conviction of any criminal offense for which the court orders the confinement of a person in the county jail, or other suitable place of confinement, either as the final sentence or as a condition of any grant of probation, and allows the person so sentenced to continue in his or her regular employment by serving the sentence on weekends or similar periods during the week other than their regular workdays and by virtue of this schedule of serving the sentence the prisoner is ineligible for work furlough under Section 1208, the county may collect from the defendant according to the defendant's ability to pay so much of the costs of administration of this section as are allocable to such defendant. The amount of this fee shall not exceed the actual costs of such confinement and shall be collected upon completion of each weekly period of confinement until the entire sentence has been served, and the funds deposited in the county treasury pursuant to county ordinance.

The court, upon allowing sentences to be served on weekends or other nonemployment days, shall conduct a hearing to determine if the defendant has the ability to pay all or a part of the costs of administration without resulting in unnecessary economic hardship to the defendant and his or her dependents. At the hearing, the defendant shall be entitled to have, but shall not be limited to, the opportunity to be heard in person, to present witnesses and other documentary evidence, and to confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and to disclosure of the evidence against the defendant, and a written statement of the findings of the court. If the court determines that the defendant has the ability to pay all or part of the costs of administration without resulting in unnecessary economic hardship to the defendant and his or her dependents, the court shall advise the defendant of the provisions of this section and order him or her to pay all or part of the fee as required by the sheriff, probation officer, or Director of the County Department of Corrections, whichever the case may be. In making a determination of whether a defendant has the ability to pay, the court shall take into account the amount of any fine imposed upon the defendant and any amount the defendant has been ordered to pay in restitution.

As used in this section, the term "ability to pay" means the overall capability of the defendant to reimburse the costs, or a portion of the costs, and shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(a) The defendant's present financial position.

(b) The defendant's reasonably discernible future financial position. In no event shall the court consider a period of more than six months from the date of the hearing for purposes of determining reasonably discernible future financial position.

(c) Likelihood that the defendant shall be able to obtain employment within the six-month period from the date of the hearing.

(d) Any other factor or factors which may bear upon the defendant's financial capability to reimburse the county for the costs.

Execution may be issued on the order in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. The order to pay all or part shall not be enforced by contempt. At any time during the pendency of the judgment, a defendant against whom a judgment has been rendered may petition the rendering court to modify or vacate its previous judgment on the grounds of a change of circumstances with regard to the defendant's ability to pay the judgment. The court shall advise the defendant of this right at the time of making the judgment.

CHAPTER 351

An act to amend Sections 25730, 25731, and 25732 of, and to amend and renumber Section 27933 of, the Government Code, relating to counties.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25730 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25730. The board of supervisors of any county may construct, acquire, and develop works constructed after September 29, 1981, for the generation of hydroelectric power, and works constructed after the effective date of the amendments to this section enacted by the Statutes of 1982 for the generation of power produced by wind energy, and transmission lines for the conveyance thereof, and may operate and maintain the works, or contract for such operation or maintenance. The construction of the plant or plants and transmission lines may be financed by any method of financing county works.

SEC. 2. Section 25731 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25731. The hydroelectric or wind energy plant or plants and transmission lines constructed pursuant to Section 25730 may be leased for operation to, or the power generated may be sold to, a public utility or another public agency engaged in the distribution, use, or sale of electricity. The power generated may be used by the county for its own purposes, or for the production or transmission of water, but shall not be offered for sale directly by the county to customers other than to a public utility or another public agency.

Any power sold to a public utility or another public agency engaged in the distribution or sale of electricity shall be marketed at the bus bar. For purposes of this section, "bus bar" means the high tension disconnect switch or switches of the hydroelectric or wind energy works.

SEC. 3. Section 25732 of the Government Code is amended to read:

25732. The power to construct, acquire, and develop works for the generation of hydroelectric power and to operate and maintain such works shall only apply to works constructed, acquired, developed, operated, and maintained after September 29, 1981. SECTION 1. Section 39573 of the Government Code is amended to read:

39573. Before the superintendent arrives, any property owner may remove the weeds, rubbish, refuse, and dirt at his own expense. Nevertheless, in any case in which an order to abate is issued, the legislative body by motion or resolution may further order that a special assessment and lien be imposed pursuant to Section 39577. In that case the assessment and lien shall be limited to the costs incurred by the responsible agency in enforcing abatement upon the parcels, including investigation, boundary determination, measurement, clerical and other related costs.

SEC. 2. Section 39577 of the Government Code is amended to read:

39577. The cost of abatement in front of or upon each parcel of land and the costs incurred by the responsible agency in enforcing abatement upon the parcels, including investigation, boundary determination, measurement, clerical and other related costs, constitutes a special assessment against that parcel. After the assessment is made and confirmed, a lien attaches on the parcel upon recordation of the order confirming the assessment in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situated, except that if any real property to which such lien would attach has been transferred or conveyed to a bona fide purchaser for value, or if a lien of a bona fide encumbrancer for value has been created and attaches thereon, prior to the date on which the first installment of such taxes as imposed by Section 39578 would become delinquent, then the lien which would otherwise be imposed by this section shall not attach to such real property and the costs of abatement and the costs of enforcing abatement, as confirmed, relating to such property shall be transferred to the unsecured roll for collection.

14912. The amount of the costs for abating the nuisance in front of or upon the various parcels of the land mentioned in the report as confirmed and the amount of the costs incurred by the responsible agency in enforcing abatement upon the parcels, including investigation, boundary determination, measurement, clerical and other related costs, shall constitute special assessments against the respective parcels of land, and are a lien on the property for the amount of the respective assessments. Such lien attaches upon recordation in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situated of a certified copy of the resolution of confirmation. The assessment may be collected at the same time and in the same manner as ordinary municipal ad valorem taxes are collected, and shall be subject to the same penalties and the same procedure and sale in case of delinquency as provided for such taxes. All laws applicable to the levy, collection and enforcement of municipal ad valorem taxes shall be applicable to such assessment, except that if any real property to which such lien would attach has been transferred or conveyed to a bona fide purchaser for value, or if a lien of a bona fide encumbrancer for value has been created and attaches thereon, prior to the date on which the first installment of such taxes would become delinquent, then the lien which would otherwise be imposed by this section shall not attach to such real property and the costs of abatement and the costs of enforcing abatement, as confirmed, relating to such property shall be transferred to the unsecured roll for collection.

All contracts for the construction or completion of any building, structure, or improvement, when the expenditure required for the work exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), shall be contracted for and let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice. The notice inviting bids shall set a date for the opening of bids. The first publication or posting of the notice shall be at least 10 days before the date of opening the bids. Notice shall be published at least twice, not less than five days apart, in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the district, or if there is none, it shall be posted in at least three public places in the district that have been designated by the district board as the places for posting such notice. The notice shall distinctly state the work to be done.

If a lease is entered into without competitive bidding, the actual monthly rental in the executed lease shall not exceed eight hundred dollars ($800), and the lease shall be renewable by the lessee for at least one additional term.

(b) The Legislature finds that unique and special circumstances exist in Santa Barbara County for which a general statute cannot be made applicable. In Santa Barbara County, dwellings are located on county parcels which are used to provide public services.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the dwellings were once used for employee housing. The need for employee housing in such dwellings has ceased, while the parcels on which they are located are still needed for public service. Therefore, the Legislature finds and declares that conditions are such that a lot split or subdivision of the dwelling from the parcels is impractical.

Any area of a district, or of a temporary zone in a district, which is included in a city by annexation or incorporation after a loan has been made shall continue to be taxed for the repayment of its proportionate part of the unpaid balance of the loan.

If a zone is formed to be responsible for the loan, the board of supervisors shall, in the first fiscal year in which a special tax may be levied in said zone, and in each succeeding year of the duration of the zone, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in the zone for the purpose of repaying the amount lent to the district by the county. When the loan has been repaid, the zone shall terminate.

An act relating to public education, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 30, 1982 Filed with Secretary of State June 30, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The governing board of the Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District may by resolution, have placed on the ballot of the November 2, 1982, Regular Election, the question of whether a new separate governing board for the community college district shall be established, effective April 12, 1983, in the manner provided for by subdivision (b) of this section, which shall be an integral part of the ballot measure. If a majority of all votes cast are cast in favor of the question, the question carries, and the provisions of subdivision (b) of this section shall apply:

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this act, a new separate community college district governing board shall be elected, organized, and otherwise governed in accordance with the statutory law. The governing board of the unified school district shall continue in existence and be subject to the provisions of the city charter pertaining to its organization and composition as heretofore provided. Each member of the governing board whose term continues past the third Tuesday in April 1983, shall elect irrevocably, on or before December 31, 1982, at a public meeting of the board, on which of the boards the member shall serve. The community college district governing board so created shall be composed of the same number of members and elected at the same time as the governing board of the unified school district.

(c) If an individual serving on the governing board of the unified school district elects to serve on the new separate community college district governing board, that election shall be deemed to have created a vacancy in that individual's membership on the governing board of the unified school district, effective on the second Tuesday in April 1983, except in any instance where the term would otherwise expire on that date. The vacancy shall be filled in the manner prescribed by the city charter of the city in which the unified district is located, in whole or in part.

(d) If an individual serving on the governing board whose term expires in April of 1983, elects to serve on the new separate community college district governing board, then the term of office on the community college board shall be deemed to commence on the second Tuesday in April 1983, and if an individual serving on the governing board whose term expires in April of 1985, elects to serve on the new community college district governing board, then the term of office on the community college board shall be deemed to expire on the second Tuesday in April 1985.

(e) If an individual serving on the board elects to continue to serve as a member of the governing board of the unified school district, that person shall nevertheless serve also on the community college district governing board, but only until the successor on the community college board is elected at the election for members of the community college district governing board, provided for herein and has assumed office.

On the second Tuesday in April 1983, an election shall be held in the community college district to elect members to the community college district governing board to fill the positions of the governing board members whose terms pursuant to the city charter are scheduled to expire in April of 1983, and other governing board members, if any, whose terms pursuant to the city charter are scheduled to expire in April of 1985, and who have elected, pursuant to this section to serve as members of the governing board of the unified school district only, thus leaving vacancies in community college governing board positions.

(f) If the term of office of an individual who elects to serve on the governing board of the unified school district expires in April 1983, in accordance with the terms of the city charter mentioned in subdivision (b), then the term of office on the community college district board shall be deemed to commence at that time. The member's successor on the community college district board, elected at the April 1983 election, shall be elected to serve for a term of four years.

(g) If the term of office of an individual electing to serve on the governing board of the unified school district expires in April 1985, in accordance with the terms of the city charter mentioned in subdivision (b), then the terms of office in the community college district board shall be deemed to expire at that time, and the member's election to continue to serve on the governing board of the unified school district shall be deemed to have created a vacancy in the member's membership on the community college district board commencing on the second Tuesday in April 1983. The member's successor to the community college district board, elected at the April 1983 election as provided herein, shall serve the remainder of the unexpired term ending on the second Tuesday in April 1985.

(h) It is the intent of the Legislature that the terms of office of the members of the new separate community college district governing board be staggered as regards expirations so that some thereof shall expire in April of each odd-numbered year. If any question should arise in April 1983 concerning whether a member is to serve for a four-year term or for the remaining two years of a term, the matter shall be resolved by assigning to the member or members receiving the greatest number of votes the four-year terms. The county superintendent of schools shall make any determinations and assignments necessary for these purposes.

(i) Following the first election of members to the newly created separate community college district board, all subsequent regular elections for members of the community college district governing board may be held on the same date upon which the election for members of the governing board of the unified school district is held pursuant to city charter and Article 3 (commencing with Section 5340) of Chapter 3 of Part 4 of the Education Code.

(j) The governing board of the community college district shall cause a personnel commission to be established in the manner prescribed by Article 3 (commencing with Section 88060) of Chapter 4 of Part 51 of the Education Code. The appointment of commission members shall be pursuant to Section 88069 of the Education Code, with the initial appointment to be made by the board of governors. The personnel commission of the community college district shall adopt, initially, the rules and regulation of the personnel commission which had served both the unified and community college districts.

SEC. 2. Due to the unique circumstances concerning the common governing board of the Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District and the Santa Monica Community College District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general act cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because existing law provides for the reimbursement of the local agency in order to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to enable the Santa Monica Community College District governing board to consolidate the election of board members with the election to be held in April of 1983, and thereby save the expense of a separate election, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The authority hereby granted to the districts is in addition to all powers granted local agencies under the Revenue Bond Law of 1941, and Section 54310 of the Government Code, insofar as it is inconsistent with that authority, shall not apply.

CHAPTER 373

An act to amend Section 14203 of the Elections Code, relating to elections.

[Approved by Governor July 2, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 2, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14203 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

14203. (a) The precinct board shall post in a conspicuous location in the polling place, at least one facsimile copy of the ballot with the ballot measures and ballot instructions printed in Spanish. Facsimile ballots shall also be printed in other languages and posted in the same manner if a significant and substantial need is found by the clerk.

In those counties which are required under the provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 as extended by Public Law 94-73 to furnish ballots in other than the English language, the posting of the facsimile ballot in that particular language shall not be required.

(b) Subdivision (a) of this section shall remain in effect until such time as the Secretary of State shall make the determinations and findings required by this section. In counties where the Secretary of State has determined that it is appropriate, each precinct board shall post in a conspicuous location in the polling place, at least one facsimile copy of the ballot with the ballot measures and ballot instructions printed in Spanish. If the Secretary of State determines that it is appropriate to post the election materials in Spanish in only certain precincts in the county, the material shall be posted in the polling places situated in those precincts. Facsimile ballots shall also be printed in other languages and posted in the same manner if a significant and substantial need is found by the Secretary of State.

In determining whether it is appropriate to post the election materials in Spanish or other languages, the Secretary of State shall determine the number of residents of voting age in each county and precinct who are members of a single language minority, and who lack sufficient skills in English to vote without assistance. If the number of these residents equals 3 percent or more of the voting age residents of a particular county or precinct, or in the event that interested citizens or organizations provide the Secretary of State with information which gives the Secretary of State sufficient reason to believe a need for the furnishing of facsimile ballots, the Secretary of State shall find a need to post at least one facsimile copy of the ballot with the ballot measures and ballot instructions printed in Spanish or other applicable language in the affected polling places.

The Secretary of State shall make the determinations and findings set forth in this subdivision by January 1 of each year in which the Governor is elected.

In those precincts where ballots printed in a language other than English are available for use by the voters at the polls, the posting of a facsimile ballot in that particular language shall not be required.

It is the intent of the Legislature that non-English-speaking citizens, like all other citizens, should be encouraged to vote. Therefore, appropriate efforts should be made on a statewide basis to minimize obstacles to voting by citizens who lack sufficient skill in English to vote without assistance.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State shall make the determinations and findings required under subdivision (b) of Section 14203 of the Elections Code by December 31, 1983. Subsequent determinations and findings shall be made pursuant to the requirements of subdivision (b) of Section 14203 of the Elections Code.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1983, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1983, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 19. Section 64278 of the Food and Agricultural Code is repealed.

SEC. 20. Section 64279 of the Food and Agricultural Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 64280 of the Food and Agricultural Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 64281 of the Food and Agricultural Code is repealed.

SEC. 23. Article 11 (commencing with Section 64300) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 22 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 11. Financing Plan

64300. This article provides for a comprehensive and continuing plan for financing the operations of the council.

64301. Annually, prior to the commencement of the fiscal year, the director shall, upon recommendation of the council, establish and announce the fees for milk used in class 1 and for all other usages to be paid by producers, producer-handlers, and handlers for the coming fiscal year.

These fees shall be established at a level not to exceed the amount required to finance the budget for the coming fiscal year as approved by the director pursuant to Sections 64153 and 64154 except that the initial fees established for the period January through June 1983 shall be at the maximum rate prescribed herein based upon prices calculated for November 1982.

The fees established by the director shall not exceed a maximum rate to be determined as follows:

(a) The director shall determine a maximum rate per hundredweight for class 1 milk which shall be equal to 12 one-hundredths of 1 percent of the statewide average value per hundredweight of such market milk testing 3.5 percent milkfat and 8.7 percent solids-not-fat as calculated by the Bureau of Milk Pooling for the month of April of each year.

(b) The director shall determine a maximum rate per hundredweight for all other usages of milk which shall be equal to four one-hundredths of 1 percent of the statewide weighted average value per hundredweight of classes 2, 3, 4a, and 4b market milk testing 3.5 percent milkfat and 8.7 percent solids-not-fat as calculated by the Bureau of Milk Pooling for the month of April of each year.

(c) The fees for class 1 milk and for all other usages shall not exceed the rates determined herein and shall be computed to the nearest one-tenth of one mill ($0.0001) per hundredweight.

The relationship between the fees per hundredweight established for class 1 milk and for all other usages shall be at a ratio equal to the ratio between the maximum rates determined in subdivisions (a) and (b) above. These fees shall be the same for producers and handlers.

64302. (a) Each producer and producer-handler shall pay fees established for each hundredweight of milk produced by him or her in the state and delivered to a handler. The fees shall be collected by the first handler that purchases, or otherwise acquires possession or control of, this milk by deducting the fee from any payment which is due the producer for this milk. Each producer-handler shall pay the fee on his or her own production. For the purposes of this article, a handler that sells unprocessed milk, of which he or she has the right to possession or control by contract or otherwise, to another handler, and delivers this milk in unprocessed form to this other handler or causes this milk to be delivered to this other handler directly from the producer, is the first handler of this milk.

(b) For the purpose of this chapter, the class 1 fee of each producer shall be determined on the hundredweight equivalent computed by combining the class 1 fat usage and the class 1 skim usage included in the payment to the producer. This skim usage shall be computed by dividing the solids-not-fat usage by the monthly average solids-not-fat test of skim milk first received from the producer by handlers or producer-handlers.

(c) The fee of each producer for all other milk shall be determined on the total hundredweight of milk produced and delivered remaining after deducting the class 1 equivalent as computed herein.

(d) The collection of fees to be paid by handlers, including producer-handlers, pursuant to Section 64303 is to be used for the handler portion of council assessments only, and shall not affect payments of producers, nor in any way change the method of producer payment for milk.

64303. Each handler and producer-handler shall pay to the director the fees established for class 1 milk and for milk for all other usages on all milk, skim milk, and cream utilized in the plant of the handler, or producer-handler in the processing and manufacture of milk and milk products. This usage shall be computed by combining pounds of fat and skim milk so utilized, together with allocated plant loss of this milkfat and skim milk.

64304. The fees established and assessed as prescribed in this chapter shall be billed monthly to the handler and the producer-handler, and shall be paid to the director not later than the 15th day of the second month following the month during which the milk was received.

64305. Fees established and assessed under this chapter may be collected by the director through direct payment or through pool accounting procedures established by the director under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 62700).

64306. To the amount of fees which are unpaid when due, the director may add a penalty of 10 percent.

64307. The director, by action prosecuted by him or her, may recover any unpaid fees. In any action, a certificate of the director which shows the amount, including penalty, determined by the director to be required to be paid by the person required to pay this amount is prima facie evidence of the delinquency. The presumption established by this section is a presumption affecting the burden of proof.

64308. If any handler or producer-handler does not provide the information necessary to determine the amount of fees due, when required, the director shall estimate the amount due from the records of the department or from any other source of information which is available. In any action by the director to recover fees pursuant to this chapter, a certificate of the director which shows the amount determined by the director to be required to be paid by the person that is required to pay the fees is prima facie evidence of the delinquency of the amount which is shown. The presumption established by this section is a presumption affecting the burden of proof.

64309. (a) Any money which is collected by the director pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in a bank or other depository which is approved by the Director of Finance. Funds which are so collected shall be deposited and disbursed in conformity with appropriate regulations prescribed by the director and may be allocated to pay for expenses generated by the auditing requirement imposed by subdivision (b). The expenditure of those funds shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 925.6 of the Government Code.

(b) All such expenditures by the director shall be audited at least once every two years by one of the following means:

(1) By contract with a certified public accountant.

(2) By contract with a public accountant holding a valid permit issued by the State Board of Accountancy.

(3) By contract with a public accounting firm.

(4) By agreement with the Department of Finance.

A copy of the audit shall be delivered within 30 days after the completion thereof to the Governor, the director, and the Controller.

64310. Any money which is collected by the director pursuant to this chapter is hereby appropriated to the department to carry out the duties which are imposed upon the director and the council pursuant to this chapter. The appropriation which is made in this section is exempt from the operation of Section 16304 of the Government Code.

The money which is collected by the director pursuant to this chapter shall be disbursed by the director only for the necessary expenses incurred by the council and the director to carry out the purposes of this chapter, including the payment of refunds which are authorized pursuant to this chapter. The director may disburse these funds in authorized activities related to particular dairy products without reference to the branches of the dairy industry from which these funds are derived.

64311. Any money which is deposited by the director pursuant to Section 64309, which the director determines is available for investment, may be invested or reinvested by the State Treasurer in any of the securities described in Article 1 (commencing with Section 16430) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, or placed in a bank as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16500) of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and handled in the same manner as money in the State Treasury. For these purposes, these moneys may also be combined with funds determined by the director to be available for investment pursuant to Section 58939.

64312. Any increment which is received from investment, reinvestment, or deposit of money pursuant to Section 64311 shall be deposited to the credit of the council. The State Treasurer may deduct from this remittance an amount equal to the reasonable costs incurred in carrying out the provisions of this article or may bill the director for the costs and the director shall pay the costs from moneys collected pursuant to this chapter.

64313. This article shall become operative on January 1, 1983.

SEC. 24. Article 12 (commencing with Section 64320) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 22 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 12. Referendum

64320. (a) Between July 1, 1983, and December 31, 1983, and in the same period each four years thereafter, the director shall, by the public hearing procedure, and if appropriate, the referendum procedure provided for in this article, determine whether the council program provided for in this chapter shall continue in effect.

(b) If the director finds from evidence received at the hearing that a substantial question exists as to whether the council program is contrary to or does not effectuate the declared purposes or provisions of this chapter, the council program shall be submitted to referendum as provided in subdivision (c).

(c) If the director determines that a referendum procedure is appropriate, the director shall establish a referendum period of not to exceed 30 days during which period ballots shall be submitted to all producers, producer-handlers, and handlers on a statewide basis. If the director determines that the referendum period does not provide sufficient time for the balloting, the director may extend the referendum for an additional period not to exceed 30 days. The ballots shall provide a "yes" or "no" voting alternative to the question:

"Shall the Dairy Council of California be continued for the next four fiscal years commencing July 1 following this referendum?"

64321. If the council program is submitted to a referendum, the director shall find that producers, handlers, and producer-handlers statewide have assented to the council program if he or she finds both of the following:

(a) Sixty-five percent or more of the total number of handlers, including producer-handlers, voting approve the program.

(b) (1) Not less than 51 percent of the total number of eligible producers, including producer-handlers, in the state voted in the referendum.

(2) Sixty-five percent or more of the total number of eligible producers, including producer-handlers, who voted in the referendum and who produced 51 percent or more of the total amount of fluid milk produced during the second calendar month preceding the month of the commencement of the referendum period by all producers who voted in the referendum approve the program, or 51 percent or more of the total number of eligible producers who voted in the referendum and who produced 65 percent or more of the total amount of fluid milk produced during the second calendar month preceding the month of the commencement of the referendum period by all producers who voted in the referendum, approve the program.

64321.5. If the director finds that producers, handlers, and producer-handlers have not assented to the council program pursuant to Section 64321, the program may be resubmitted to a referendum as prescribed herein within a period of not less than 60 days and not more than 180 days after the director announces the plan was not approved.

64322. (a) If the council program has been submitted to referendum pursuant to procedures prescribed in Section 64321 and the director finds that producers, handlers, and producer-handlers have not assented to the program, or if the program is resubmitted pursuant to Section 64321.5 and the director finds that assent is again not forthcoming, operations of the provisions of this chapter and of the council shall be suspended commencing July 1 following the referendum or referendums.

(b) After the effective date of suspension of the operation of the provisions of this chapter and of the council, the operations of the council shall be wound up, and any real and personal property held in the name of the council shall be liquidated and the proceeds, along with any and all remaining money held by the council, collected by assessment and not required to defray the expenses of winding up and terminating operations of the council, shall be returned upon a pro rata basis to all persons from whom assessments were collected in the immediately preceding three months. However, if the director finds that the amounts so returnable are so small as to make impractical the computation and remitting of the pro rata refund to these persons, any such moneys remaining after payment of all expenses of winding up and terminating operations shall be withdrawn from the approved depository and paid into the State Treasury as unclaimed trust moneys.

SEC. 25. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to complete in a timely fashion necessary budget revisions and to avoid the cost of the 1982 referendum procedures prescribed in Article 9 (commencing with Section 64278), it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 381

An act to amend Section 1793.1 of the Civil Code, relating to warranties.

[Approved by Governor July 4, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 4, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1793.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1793.1. (a) (1) Every manufacturer, distributor, or retailer making express warranties with respect to consumer goods shall fully set forth such warranties in simple and readily understood language, which shall clearly identify the party making such express warranties, and which shall conform to the federal standards for disclosure of warranty terms and conditions set forth in the federal Magnuson-Moss Warranty Federal Trade Commission Improvement Act, and in the regulations of the Federal Trade Commission adopted pursuant to the provisions of that act.

(2) Every work order or repair invoice for warranty repairs or service shall clearly and conspicuously incorporate in 10-point boldface type the following statement either on the face of such work order or repair invoice, or on the reverse side thereof, or on an attachment to the work order or repair invoice: A buyer of this product in California has the right to have this product serviced or repaired during the warranty period. The warranty period will be extended for the number of whole days that the product has been out of the buyer's hands for warranty repairs. If a defect exists within the warranty period, the warranty will not expire until the defect has been fixed. The warranty period will also be extended if the warranty repairs have not been performed due to delays caused by circumstances beyond the control of the buyer, or if the warranty repairs did not remedy the defect and the buyer notifies the manufacturer or seller of the failure of the repairs within 60 days after they were completed. If, after a reasonable number of attempts, the defect has not been fixed, the buyer may return this product for a replacement or a refund subject, in either case, to deduction of a reasonable charge for usage. This time extension does not affect the protections or remedies the buyer has under other laws.

If the required notice is placed on the reverse side of the work order or repair invoice, the face of the work order or repair invoice shall include the following notice in 10-point boldface type: Notice to Consumer: Please read important information on back.

A copy of the work order or repair invoice and any attachment thereto shall be presented to the buyer at the time that warranty service or repairs are made.

(b) Every manufacturer, distributor, or retailer making express warranties and who elects to maintain service and repair facilities within this state pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall:

(1) At the time of sale, provide the buyer with the name and address of each such service and repair facility within this state; or

(2) At the time of the sale, provide the buyer with the name and address and telephone number of a service and repair facility central directory within this state, or the toll-free telephone number of a service and repair facility central directory outside this state. It shall be the duty of the central directory to provide, upon inquiry, the name and address of the authorized service and repair facility nearest the buyer; or

(3) Maintain at the premises of retail sellers of the warrantor's consumer goods a current listing of such warrantor's authorized service and repair facilities, or retail sellers to whom the consumer goods are to be returned for service and repair, whichever is applicable, within this state. It shall be the duty of every retail seller provided with such a listing to provide, on inquiry, the name, address, and telephone number of the nearest authorized service and repair facility, or the retail seller to whom the consumer goods are to be returned for service and repair, whichever is applicable.

CHAPTER 382

An act to add Section 2267 to the Vehicle Code, relating to the California Highway Patrol.

[Approved by Governor July 4, 1982 Filed with Secretary of State July 4, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2267 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2267. (a) No person shall be appointed as a member of the California Highway Patrol who is not a citizen of the United States.

(b) A member of the patrol appointed prior to the effective date of this act who is not a United States citizen shall become a United States citizen at the earliest possible time. Inability or failure to comply with this subdivision shall result in termination of employment.

CHAPTER 383

An act to amend Sections 545, 34500, 34506, and 40000.21 of, and to add Sections 680, 2807.3, 2816, 12523, and 27906.5 to, the Vehicle Code, and to repeal Chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1982, relating to vehicles, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

(a) A motor vehicle of any type carrying only members of the household of the owner thereof.

(b) A motortruck transporting pupils who are seated only in the passenger compartment, and a passenger vehicle designed for and when actually carrying not more than 10 persons, including the driver, except any such vehicle or truck transporting two or more handicapped pupils confined to wheelchairs.

(c) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned or operated transit system, only during the time it is on a scheduled run and is available to the general public or on a run scheduled in response to a request from a handicapped pupil confined to a wheelchair, or from a parent of the handicapped pupil, for transportation to or from nonschool activities; provided, that the motor vehicle is designed for and actually carries not more than 16 persons and the driver, is available to eligible persons of the general public, and the school does not provide the requested transportation service.

(d) A school pupil activity bus as defined in Section 546.

(e) A motor vehicle operated by a carrier licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission which is transporting pupils on a school activity entering or returning to the state from another state or country.

(f) A youth bus as defined in Section 680.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the governing board of a district maintaining a community college may, by resolution, designate any motor vehicle operated by or for the district, a schoolbus within the meaning of this section, if it is primarily used for the transportation of community college students to or from a public community college or to or from public community college activities. The designation shall not be effective until written notification thereof has been filed with the Department

SEC. 3. Section 2807.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2807.3. (a) The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall inspect and certify every youth bus at least once each school year to ascertain whether its condition complies with all provisions of law.

(b) No person shall drive any youth bus unless there is displayed therein a certificate issued by the Department of the California Highway Patrol stating that on a certain date, which shall be within 13 months of the date of operation, an authorized employee of the Department of the California Highway Patrol inspected the youth bus and found that on the date of inspection the youth bus complied with the applicable provisions of state law. The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol shall provide by rule or regulation for the issuance and display of distinctive inspection certificates.

(c) The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol may determine the fee for the annual inspection of youth buses. The fee, established by regulation, shall be sufficient to cover the cost to the department for youth bus inspections and testing of drivers pursuant to Section 12523. The fee shall be paid by the applicant for a youth bus certificate at the time of inspection. All fees received shall be deposited in the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund.

SEC. 4. Section 2816 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

2816. It is unlawful to load or discharge children onto or from a youth bus upon a highway at any location where the children must cross the highway upon which the youth bus is stopped, unless traffic is controlled by a traffic officer or an official traffic control signal.

Applicants seeking to renew a certificate valid for driving a youth bus shall present evidence that they have received two hours of refresher training during each 12 months of driver certificate validity.

(c) The driver certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol. Such examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The Department of Motor Vehicles may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate valid for driving a youth bus for the causes specified in regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol for schoolbus drivers.

(d) An operator of a youth bus shall, at all times when operating a youth bus, do all of the following:

(1) Use seat belts.

(2) Refrain from smoking.

(3) Report any accidents to the California Highway Patrol.

SEC. 6. Section 27906.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

27906.5. Every youth bus, when operated for the transportation of school pupils, shall bear, upon the front and rear of the youth bus, a plainly visible sign containing the words "YOUTH BUS" in letters not less than eight inches in height. The letters on youth bus signs shall be of proportionate width and the letters shall be in sharp contrast to the background.

SEC. 7. Section 34500 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

34500. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall regulate the safe operation of the following vehicles:

(a) Motortrucks of three or more axles which are more than 6,000 pounds unladen weight.

(h) Any other motortruck not specified in subdivisions (a) through (g), inclusive, that is regulated by the Public Utilities Commission or the Interstate Commerce Commission, but only for matters relating to hours of service and log books of drivers.

SEC. 8. Section 34506 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

34506. It is a misdemeanor to fail to comply with any rule or regulation adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol pursuant to Sections 34501, 34501.5, and 34508 regarding:

(a) Hours of service of drivers.

(b) Hazardous material transportation.

(c) Schoolbus constructions, design, color, equipment, maintenance, or operation.

(d) Youth bus equipment, maintenance, or operation.

SEC. 9. Section 40000.21 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40000.21. A violation of any of the following provisions shall constitute a misdemeanor, and not an infraction:

(a) Section 34506, subdivision (a), relating to the hours of service of drivers.

(b) Section 34506, subdivision (b), relating to the transportation of hazardous materials.

(c) Section 34506, subdivision (c), relating to schoolbuses.

SEC. 10. Chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1982 is repealed.

SEC. 11. The Legislature declares that the regulations relating to youth bus safety are of utmost importance to the safe transportation of children within the state. The Office of Administrative Law shall therefore expedite its review of those regulations.

SEC. 12. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 13. This act shall become operative on the date the regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol governing youth buses becomes effective, but this act shall not become operative sooner than October 1, 1982, nor later than January 1, 1983.

SEC. 14. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Operators of "youth buses" have already signed contracts for the operation of these buses and the employment of their drivers to begin in September 1982 in conjunction with the new school year. These contracts were concluded in anticipation of the provisions of Assembly Bill 366 taking effect in January of 1982. Because the bill became Chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1982 and will not take effect until January of 1983, school districts will be unable to honor the youth bus contracts at the start of the school year. Hence, the planned transportation services will not be provided and it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately in order to remedy the situation.

An act to amend Section 12030 of the Penal Code, relating to firearms.

[Approved by Governor July 4, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 4, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12030 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

12030. The officer having custody of any firearms which may be useful to the California National Guard, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, or to any military or naval agency of the federal or state government, including, but not limited to, the California National Guard military museum and resource center, may, upon the authority of the legislative body of the city, city and county, or county by which he or she is employed and the approval of the commanding general of the state military forces, deliver the firearms to the commanding officer of a unit of the California National Guard, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, or any other military agency of the state or federal government in lieu of destruction as required by this chapter. The officer delivering the firearms shall take a receipt for them containing a complete description thereof and shall keep the receipt on file in his or her office as a public record.

Any law enforcement agency which has custody of any firearms, or any parts of any firearms, which are subject to destruction as required by this chapter may, in lieu of destroying the weapons, retain and use any of them as may be useful in carrying out the official duties of the agency, or upon approval of a court, may release them to any other law enforcement agency, for use in carrying out the official duties of that agency, or may turn over to the criminalistics laboratory of the Department of Justice or the criminalistics laboratory of a police department, sheriff's office, or district attorney's office any weapons which may be useful in carrying out the official duties of their respective agencies.

Any firearm, or part of any firearm, which, rather than being destroyed, is used for official purposes pursuant to this section shall be destroyed by the agency using the weapon when it is no longer needed by the agency for use in carrying out its official duties. In the case of firearms or weaponry donated to the California National Guard military museum and resource center, they may be disposed of pursuant to Section 179 of the Military and Veterans Code.

Any law enforcement agency that retains custody of any firearm pursuant to this section or that destroys a firearm pursuant to Section 12028 shall notify the Department of Justice of the retention or destruction. This notification shall consist of a complete description of each firearm, including the name of the manufacturer or brand name, model, caliber, and serial number.

CHAPTER 385

An act to add Section 1794 to, and to repeal Sections 1794 and 1794.2 of, the Civil Code, relating to warranties.

[Approved by Governor July 4, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 4, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1794 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 1794 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1794. (a) Any buyer of consumer goods who is damaged by a failure to comply with any obligation under this chapter or under an implied or express warranty or service contract may bring an action for the recovery of damages and other legal and equitable relief.

(b) The measure of the buyer's damages in an action under this section shall be as follows:

(1) Where the buyer has rightfully rejected or justifiably revoked acceptance of the goods or has exercised any right to cancel the sale, Sections 2711, 2712, and 2713 of the Commercial Code shall apply.

(2) Where the buyer has accepted the goods, Sections 2714 and 2715 of the Commercial Code shall apply, and the measure of damages shall include the cost of repairs necessary to make the goods conform.

(c) If the buyer establishes that the failure to comply was willful, the judgment may include, in addition to the amounts recovered under subdivision (a), a civil penalty which shall not exceed two times the amount of actual damages. This subdivision shall not apply in any class action under Section 382 of the Code of Civil Procedure or under Section 1781, or with respect to a claim based solely on a breach of an implied warranty.

(d) If the buyer prevails in an action under this section, the buyer may be allowed by the court to recover as part of the judgment a sum equal to the aggregate amount of costs and expenses, including attorney's fees based on actual time expended, determined by the court to have been reasonably incurred by the buyer in connection with the commencement and prosecution of such action, unless the court in its discretion determines that such an award of attorney's fees would be inappropriate.

SEC. 3. Section 1794.2 of the Civil Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 386

An act to amend Section 2782 of the Civil Code, relating to contracts.

[Approved by Governor July 4, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 5, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2782 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2782. CHAPTER 388

An act to amend Section 1793.2 of the Civil Code, relating to warranties.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1793.2 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1793.2. (a) Every manufacturer of consumer goods sold in this state and for which the manufacturer has made an express warranty shall:

(1) Maintain in this state sufficient service and repair facilities reasonably close to all areas where its consumer goods are sold to carry out the terms of such warranties or designate and authorize in this state as service and repair facilities independent repair or service facilities reasonably close to all areas where its consumer goods are sold to carry out the terms of such warranties.

As a means of complying with paragraph (1) of this subdivision, a manufacturer shall be permitted to enter into warranty service contracts with independent service and repair facilities. The warranty service contracts may provide for a fixed schedule of rates to be charged for warranty service or warranty repair work, however, the rates fixed by such contracts shall be in conformity with the requirements of subdivision (c) of Section 1793.3. The rates established pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1793.3, between the manufacturer and the independent service and repair facility, shall not preclude a good-faith discount which is reasonably related to reduced credit and general overhead cost factors arising from the manufacturer's payment of warranty charges direct to the independent service and repair facility. The warranty service contracts authorized by this paragraph shall not be executed to cover a period of time in excess of one year.

(2) In the event of a failure to comply with paragraph (1) of this subdivision, be subject to the provisions of Section 1793.5.

(b) Where such service and repair facilities are maintained in this state and service or repair of the goods is necessary because they do not conform with the applicable express warranties, service and repair shall be commenced within a reasonable time by the manufacturer or its representative in this state. Unless the buyer agrees in writing to the contrary, the goods must be serviced or repaired so as to conform to the applicable warranties within 30 days. Delay caused by conditions beyond the control of the manufacturer or his representatives shall serve to extend this 30-day requirement. Where such delay arises, conforming goods shall be tendered as soon as possible following termination of the condition giving rise to the delay.

(c) It shall be the duty of the buyer to deliver nonconforming goods to the manufacturer's service and repair facility within this state, unless, due to reasons of size and weight, or method of attachment, or method of installation, or nature of the nonconformity, such delivery cannot reasonably be accomplished. Should the buyer be unable to effect return of nonconforming goods for any of the above reasons, he shall notify the manufacturer or its nearest service and repair facility within the state. Written notice of nonconformity to the manufacturer or its service and repair facility shall constitute return of the goods for purposes of this section. Upon receipt of such notice of nonconformity the manufacturer shall, at its option, service or repair the goods at the buyer's residence, or pick up the goods for service and repair, or arrange for transporting the goods to its service and repair facility. All reasonable costs of transporting the goods when, pursuant to the above, a buyer is unable to effect return shall be at the manufacturer's expense. The reasonable costs of transporting nonconforming goods after delivery to the service and repair facility until return of the goods to the buyer shall be at the manufacturer's expense.

(d) Should the manufacturer or its representative in this state be unable to service or repair the goods to conform to the applicable express warranties after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall either replace the goods or reimburse the buyer in an amount equal to the purchase price paid by the buyer, less that amount directly attributable to use by the buyer prior to the discovery of the nonconformity.

(e) (1) It shall be presumed that a reasonable number of attempts have been made to conform a new motor vehicle to the applicable express warranties if, within one year from delivery to the buyer or 12,000 miles, whichever occurs first, either (A) the same nonconformity has been subject to repair four or more times by the manufacturer or its agents and the buyer has at least once directly notified the manufacturer of the need for the repair of the nonconformity, or (B) the vehicle is out of service by reason of repair of nonconformities by the manufacturer or its agents for a cumulative total of more than 30 calendar days since delivery of the vehicle to the buyer. The 30-day limit shall be extended only if repairs cannot be performed due to conditions beyond the control of the manufacturer or its agents. The buyer shall be required to directly notify the manufacturer pursuant to subparagraph (A) only if the manufacturer has clearly and conspicuously disclosed to the buyer, with the warranty or the owner's manual, the provisions of this subdivision and that of subdivision (d), including the requirement that the buyer must notify the manufacturer directly pursuant to subparagraph (A). This presumption shall be a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof in any action to enforce the buyer's rights under subdivision (d) and shall not be construed to limit those rights.

(2) If a qualified third party dispute resolution process exists, and the buyer receives timely notification in writing of the availability of a third party process with a description of its operation and effect, the presumption in paragraph (1) may not be asserted by the buyer until after the buyer has initially resorted to the third party process as required in paragraph (3). Notification of the availability of the third party process is not timely if the buyer suffers any prejudice resulting from any delay in giving the notification. If a qualified third party dispute resolution process does not exist, or if the buyer is dissatisfied with the third party decision, or if the manufacturer or its agent neglects to promptly fulfill the terms of such third party decision, the buyer may assert the presumption provided in paragraph (1) in an action to enforce the buyer's rights under subdivision (d). The findings and decision of the third party shall be admissible in evidence in the action without further foundation. Any period of limitation of actions under any federal or California laws with respect to any person shall be extended for a period equal to the number of days between the date a complaint is filed with a third party dispute resolution process and the date of its decision or the date before which the manufacturer or its agent is required by the decision to fulfill its terms, whichever occurs later.

(3) A qualified third party dispute resolution process shall be one that complies with the Federal Trade Commission's minimum requirements for informal dispute settlement procedures as set forth in the Commission's regulations at 16 Code of Federal Regulations Part 703; that renders decisions which are binding on the manufacturer if the buyer elects to accept the decision; that prescribes a reasonable time not to exceed 30 days, within which the manufacturer or its agents must fulfill the terms of those decisions; and that each year provides to the Department of Motor Vehicles a report of its annual audit required by the Commission's regulations on informal dispute resolution procedures.

(4) For the purposes of this subdivision the following terms have the following meanings:

(A) "Nonconformity" means a nonconformity which substantially impairs the use, value, or safety of the new motor vehicle.

(B) "New motor vehicle" means a new motor vehicle which is used or bought for use primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, but does not include motorcycles, motorhomes, or off-road vehicles.

CHAPTER 389

Insurers admitted for one or more classes of insurance on December 31, 1981, shall be governed by the provisions of this section in effect on December 31, 1981.

SEC. 2. Section 700.02 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 390

An act to amend Section 1300 of the Evidence Code, and to amend Section 1016 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal pleas.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that when possible the criminal justice system should be designed so as to assist the efforts of victims of crime to obtain compensation for their injuries from the criminals who inflicted those injuries. The Legislature further finds and declares that the practice of permitting defendants in criminal cases to enter pleas of nolo contendere and thus avoid the use of the criminal conviction in a civil suit wherein the victim of the crime seeks to recover damages for injuries sustained by the criminal act runs counter to the interest of victims of crime.

SEC. 2. Section 1300 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1300. Evidence of a final judgment adjudging a person guilty of a crime punishable as a felony is not made inadmissible by the hearsay rule when offered in a civil action to prove any fact essential to the judgment whether or not the judgment was based on a plea of nolo contendere.

SEC. 3. Section 1016 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1016. There are six kinds of pleas to an indictment or an information, or to a complaint charging an offense triable in any inferior court:

1. Guilty.

2. Not guilty.

3. Nolo contendere, subject to the approval of the court. The court shall ascertain whether the defendant completely understands that a plea of nolo contendere shall be considered the same as a plea of guilty and that, upon a plea of nolo contendere, the court shall find the defendant guilty. The legal effect of such a plea, to a crime punishable as a felony, shall be the same as that of a plea of guilty for all purposes. In cases other than those punishable as felonies, the plea and any admissions required by the court during any inquiry it makes as to the voluntariness of, and factual basis for, the plea may not be used against the defendant as an admission in any civil suit based upon or growing out of the act upon which the criminal prosecution is based.

4. A former judgment of conviction or acquittal of the offense charged.

5. Once in jeopardy.
6. Not guilty by reason of insanity.

A defendant who does not plead guilty may enter one or more of the other pleas. A defendant who does not plead not guilty by reason of insanity shall be conclusively presumed to have been sane at the time of the commission of the offense charged; provided, that the court may for good cause shown allow a change of plea at any time before the commencement of the trial. A defendant who pleads not guilty by reason of insanity, without also pleading not guilty, thereby admits the commission of the offense charged.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5544.1 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by Chapter 71 of the Statutes of 1982, is amended to read:

5544.1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, the board may borrow money by issuance of promissory notes or other evidences of indebtedness in an amount, or of a value, not exceeding in the aggregate at any one time the greater of 5 percent of the total of the district's general fund and development fund budgets for the year in which the loan is made, or the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), to be used for any revenue-producing purpose for which the district is authorized to expend funds.

A district shall not exercise the borrowing authority conferred by this section if the district, at any time during the previous two years, has not met the loan repayment requirements of this section and the repayment provisions set forth in the promissory note or other evidence of indebtedness issued for a loan entered into pursuant to this section. A district shall not expend in any one year any amount of money in excess of what it collects in property taxes, state and federal subventions, grants, loans, fees, gifts, bequests, or income from other sources.

Indebtedness incurred pursuant to this section shall be repaid in approximately equal annual installments during a period not to exceed five years from June 30th of the fiscal year in which it is incurred and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 10 percent per annum, or the rate allowed under Section 53531 of the Government Code, if higher, payable annually or semiannually or in part annually and in part semiannually.

Each indebtedness incurred under this section shall be authorized by a resolution of the board unanimously adopted, and shall be evidenced by a promissory note or contract signed by the president of the board and attested by the secretary or treasurer. One of the two signatures may be by facsimile reproduction.

The indebtedness authorized to be incurred by this section shall be in addition to, and the provisions of this section shall not apply to, any bonded indebtedness authorized by vote of the electors.

Nothing herein shall be construed so as to limit or restrict the authority of the district to issue promissory notes or deeds of trust in the acquisition of real property or the exercise of its right of eminent domain subject to the limitations in Section 5568.

Nothing herein shall limit the authority of the district to borrow pursuant to Section 5544.3.

SEC. 2. Section 5544.2 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

5544.2. (a) A district may acquire all necessary and proper lands and facilities, or any portion thereof, by means of a plan to borrow money or by purchase on contract.

(b) The amount of indebtedness to be incurred shall not exceed an amount equal to the anticipated tax income for the next four-year period derived pursuant to Section 5545 or the anticipated tax income for the next 10-year period derived pursuant to Section 50077 of the Government Code, or both; or, with respect to the East Bay Regional Park District only, the anticipated tax income for the next two-year period derived pursuant to Sections 5545 and 5545.5 or the anticipated tax income for the next 10-year period derived pursuant to Section 50077 of the Government Code, or both. All indebtedness which is incurred on or after July 1, 1982, pursuant to this section shall be repaid in approximately equal annual installments during a period not to exceed 10 years from the date on which it is incurred and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 10 percent per annum, or the rate allowed pursuant to Section 53531 of the Government Code, if higher, payable annually or semiannually or in part annually and in part semiannually. Each indebtedness shall be authorized by a resolution adopted by the affirmative votes of at least two-thirds of the members of the district board and shall be evidenced by a promissory note or contract signed by the president of the board and attested by the secretary or treasurer. One of the two signatures may be by facsimile reproduction. At the time of making the general tax levy after incurring each indebtedness and annually thereafter until the indebtedness is paid or until there is a sum in the treasury set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all payments of principal and interest on the indebtedness as they become due, a portion of the taxes levied and collected pursuant to Section 50077 of the Government Code, if any, and pursuant to Sections 5545 and 5545.5 shall be levied and collected and set aside sufficient to pay the interest on the indebtedness and the part of the principal that will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available.

(c) The indebtedness authorized to be incurred by this section shall be in addition to, and the provisions of this section shall not apply to, any bonded indebtedness authorized by vote of the electors.

SEC. 3. Section 5563.5 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

5563.5. Notwithstanding Sections 5540 and 5563, the Board of Directors of the Midpeninsula Regional Open-Space District may, without obtaining the consent of the voters, lease real property for a term not exceeding 50 years. A lease entered into pursuant to this section shall be authorized by a resolution adopted by the affirmative votes of at least two-thirds of the members of the board, upon making an express finding that the purpose of the lease is for park or open-space purposes, or for an historic preservation, recreation, or agricultural purpose which is compatible with public use and enjoyment of the real property.

(a) Disabled veterans, 15 points.

(b) All other veterans, widows or widowers of veterans, and spouses of 100 percent disabled veterans, 10 points.

For the purpose of this section, "veteran" means any person who has served full time for 30 days or more in the armed forces in time of war or in time of peace in a campaign or expedition for service in which a medal has been authorized by the government of the United States, or during the period September 16, 1940, to January 31, 1955, or who has served at least 181 consecutive days since January 31, 1955, and who has been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable, but does not include any person who served only in auxiliary or reserve components of the armed forces whose service therein did not exempt him or her from the operation of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940.

For the purpose of this section the termination of World War II shall be considered as of midnight, December 31, 1946.

For the purpose of this section: "disabled veteran" means any veteran as defined herein who is currently declared by the United States Veterans Administration to be 10 percent or more disabled as a result of his or her service; and "100 percent disabled veteran" means any veteran as defined herein who is currently declared by the United States Veterans Administration to be 100 percent disabled as a result of his or her service. CHAPTER 399

An act to amend Sections 4632 and 4635 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to developmental disabilities, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4632 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

4632. If the department and a regional center are unable to resolve any contract dispute, including disputes between the regional center and the department over whether a contract should be renewed or continued, either party may request the state council to review and advise with regard to the issues in dispute. The state council shall review and shall provide its advice in writing within 30 days of receiving a request for such review and advice. Copies of the state council's advice shall be transmitted to the Director of Developmental Services and the governing board of the regional center. The state council's advice shall not be binding upon either party.

SEC. 2. Section 4635 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

4635. If any regional center finds that it is unable to comply with the requirements of this division or its contract with the state, the regional center shall be responsible for informing the department immediately that it does not expect to fulfill its contractual obligations. Failure to provide such notification to the department in a timely manner shall constitute grounds for possible revocation or nonrenewal of the contract. If any regional center makes a decision to cancel or not renew its contract with the department, such regional center shall give a minimum of 90 days' written notice of its decision.

If the department finds that any regional center is not fulfilling its contractual obligations, the department shall make reasonable efforts to resolve the problem with the cooperation of the regional center, including the provision of technical assistance to the regional center or renegotiation of the contract.

If the department finds that any regional center continues to fail in fulfilling its contractual obligations after reasonable efforts have been made, and finds that other regional centers are able to fulfill similar obligations under similar contracts, and finds that it will be in the best interest of the persons being served by the regional center, the department shall take steps to terminate the contract and to negotiate with another governing board to provide regional center services in the area. These findings may also constitute grounds for possible nonrenewal of the contract in addition to, or in lieu of, other grounds.

If the department makes a decision to cancel or not renew its contract with the regional center, the department shall give a minimum of 90 days' written notice of its decision, unless it has determined that the 90 days' notice would jeopardize the health or safety of the regional center's clients, or constitutes willful misuse of state funds, as determined by the Attorney General. Within 14 days after receipt of the notice, the regional center may make a written protest to the department of the decision to terminate or not renew the contract. In such case, the department shall: (1) arrange to meet with the regional center and the appropriate area board within 30 days after receipt of the protest to discuss the decision and to provide its rationale for the termination or nonrenewal of the contract, and to discuss any feasible alternatives to termination or nonrenewal; and (2) initiate the procedures for resolving disputes contained in Section 4632. To the extent allowable under state and federal law, any outstanding audit exceptions or other deficiency reports, appeals, or protests shall be made available and subject to discussion at the meeting arranged under clause (1).

When terminating or not renewing a regional center contract and negotiating with another governing board for a regional center contract, the department shall:

(a) Notify the area board, State Council on Developmental Disabilities, all personnel employed by the regional center, all vendors of service to the regional center, and all clients of the regional center informing them that it proposes to terminate or not renew the contract with the regional center, and that the state will continue to fulfill its obligations to assure a continuity of services, as required by state law, through a contract with a new governing board.

(b) Request the area board and any other community agencies to assist the state by locating or organizing a new governing board to contract with the department to operate the regional center in the area. Area boards shall cooperate with the department when such assistance is requested.

(c) Provide such assistance as may be required to assure that the transfer of responsibility to a new regional center will be accomplished with minimum disruption to the clients of the service program.

In no event, shall the procedures for termination or nonrenewal of a regional center contract limit or abridge the state's authority to contract with any duly authorized organization for the purpose of service delivery, nor shall these procedures be interpreted to represent a continued contractual obligation beyond the limits of any fiscal year contract.

The amendments made to this section by the Statutes of 1982 shall apply to all contracts that were operative as of July 1, 1982.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure that contracts in dispute between regional centers and the State Department of Developmental Services are subject to the due process procedures which currently do not exist in statute, but are provided for in this act, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2416 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2416. (a) The Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol may issue authorized emergency vehicle permits only for the following vehicles, and then only upon a finding in each case that the vehicle is used in responding to emergency calls for fire or law enforcement or for the immediate preservation of life or property or for the apprehension of law violators:

(1) Any vehicle maintained in whole or in part by the state, a county or a city and privately owned and operated by a constable, deputy constable, or person who is a member of, and who receives salary from, and is regularly employed by, a police department or sheriff's department, provided the state, county or city does not furnish to such person a publicly owned authorized emergency vehicle.

CHAPTER 405

An act to add Section 1182.7 to the Labor Code, relating to labor.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 7, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1182.7 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1182.7. (a) The Legislature finds that the time permitted the Industrial Welfare Commission to consider petitions, including, but not limited to, daily overtime compensation petitions that are to be given priority attention by the commission pursuant to Section 20 of Chapter 1083 of the Statutes of 1980, has created unanticipated and unwarranted delays in the review and possible modification of applicable commission orders. The Legislature finds further that legislation is necessary to provide redress of hardships resulting from these delays by the enactment of special commission review procedures that augment, and do not limit in any way, the rights and privileges of parties before the Industrial Welfare Commission under this chapter.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary, if a labor organization or a trade association recognized in the health care industry files or has filed a petition with the commission that requests an amendment to an order of the commission that would directly regulate only the health care industry, the petitioner may request that the ordinary procedure established by this chapter for the review of petitions of this nature not be used and that the procedure specified in subdivisions (c) and (d) be followed instead. If such a request is made by the petitioner, the commission shall be required to follow the procedure specified in subdivisions (c) and (d).

(c) Upon the filing of a request under subdivision (b), the procedure to revise an order of the commission provided in Sections 1178 to 1182, inclusive, shall be waived. In lieu of such procedure, the commission shall propose the adoption or rejection of the petition, in whole or in part, without appointing a wage board. The commission shall make its proposal within 45 days of the date the petition is originally filed.

The commission shall thereafter publish its proposed action in the manner provided in Section 1181 and shall conduct hearings on its proposal in the manner specified in subdivision (c) of Section 1178.5. However, the hearings shall be conducted within 90 days of the date the petition is originally filed.

(d) Not more than 30 days following the hearings specified in subdivision (c), the commission shall take final action with respect to its proposal. The purpose of this article is to provide for the administration and operation of public schools in juvenile halls, juvenile homes, day centers, juvenile ranches, or juvenile camps established pursuant to Article 14 (commencing with Section 850) and Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of Chapter 2 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or any group home with an acceptable onsite school structure and housing 25 or more children placed pursuant to Sections 362, 727, and 730, of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to provide the juvenile court school pupils therein detained with quality education and training.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as indicating that it is the intent of the Legislature to prevent juvenile court school pupils who are housed in group homes from enrolling in regular public schools, or that it is the intent of the Legislature to transfer the responsibility for any costs associated with the operation of group homes to the counties.

SEC. 2. Section 48645.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

48645.1. Public schools or classes in any juvenile hall, juvenile home, day center, juvenile ranch, or juvenile camp established in accordance with Article 14 (commencing with Section 850) and Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of Chapter 2 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or any group home with an acceptable onsite school structure housing 25 or more children who are placed in accordance with the provisions of Sections 362, 727, or 730 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be known as juvenile court schools.

The cost of constructing or otherwise providing classrooms, offices, or other onsite school structures in group homes or other agencies housing children described in Sections 362, 727, and 730 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be the responsibility of the private agency. This contruction shall not entitle private agencies to an increase in the foster care reimbursement rates available from the State Department of Social Services or any other state agency. 17681. The State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code) is adopted for the purpose of the issuance, sale and repayment of, and otherwise providing with respect to, the bonds authorized to be issued by this chapter, and the provisions of that law are included in this chapter as though set out in full in this chapter. All references in this chapter to "herein" shall be deemed to refer both to this chapter and such law.

17682. As used in this chapter, and for the purposes of this chapter as used in the State General Obligation Bond Law, the following words shall have the following meanings:

17683. For the purpose of creating a fund to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with the provisions of the State School Building Lease-Purchase Law of 1976, and of all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and to provide funds to repay any money advanced or loaned to the State School Building Lease-Purchase Fund under any act of the Legislature, together with interest provided for in that act, and to be used to reimburse the General Obligation Bond Expense Revolving Fund pursuant to Section 16724.5 of the Government Code the committee shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the State of California, in the aggregate amount of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) in the manner provided herein, but not in excess thereof.

17684. All bonds herein authorized, which shall have been duly sold and delivered as herein provided, shall constitute valid and legally binding general obligations of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California is hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal and interest thereof.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the several dates of maturity of said principal and interest in each fiscal year, there shall be transferred to the General Fund in the State Treasury, all of the money in the fund, not in excess of the principal of and interest on the said bonds then due and payable, except as herein provided for the prior redemption of said bonds, and, in the event such money so returned on said dates of maturity is less than the said principal and interest then due and payable, then the balance remaining unpaid shall be returned into the General Fund in the State Treasury out of the fund as soon thereafter as it shall become available.

17685. All money deposited in the fund under Section 17732 of this code and pursuant to the provisions of Part 2 (commencing with Section 16300) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, shall be available only for transfer to the General Fund, as provided in Section 17684. When transferred to the General Fund such money shall be applied as a reimbursement to the General Fund on account of principal and interest due and payable or paid from the General Fund on the earliest issue of school building bonds for which the General Fund has not been fully reimbursed by such transfer of funds.

17686. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury for the purpose of this chapter, such an amount as will equal the following:

Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to make such apportionments progressively, and it shall not be necessary that all of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold at any one time.

17689. In computing the net interest cost under Section 16754 of the Government Code, interest shall be computed from the date of the bonds or the last preceding interest payment date, whichever is latest, to the respective maturity dates of the bonds then offered for sale at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, such computation to be made on a 360-day-year basis.

17690. The committee may authorize the State Treasurer to sell all or any part of the bonds herein authorized at such time or times as may be fixed by the State Treasurer.

17691. All proceeds from the sale of the bonds herein authorized deposited in the fund, as provided in Section 16757 of the Government Code, except those derived from premium and accrued interest, shall be available for the purpose herein provided, but shall not be available for transfer to the General Fund pursuant to Section 17686 to pay principal and interest on bonds.

17692. With respect to the proceeds of bonds authorized by this chapter, all the provisions of Sections 17700 to 17746, inclusive, shall apply.

Provided, that where the voting of said election is done by means of voting machines used pursuant to law in such manner as to carry out the intent of this section, such use of such voting machines and the expression of the voters' choice by means thereof, shall be deemed to comply with the provisions of this section.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Allocations totaling four thousand nine hundred seventy-five dollars ($4,975) made from the Aeronautics Account in the State Transportation Fund by the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation to the East Kern Airport District for the 1974–1975 fiscal year, allocations totaling two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) made from the Aeronautics Account to the district for the 1969–1970 fiscal year, and allocations totaling two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) made from the Aeronautics Account to the district for the 1970–1971 fiscal year, which allocations together total nine thousand nine hundred seventy-five dollars ($9,975), are hereby ratified, validated, confirmed, and declared legally effective for all purposes.

SEC. 2. Allocations for the 1972–73, 1973–74, and 1974–75 fiscal years totaling eight thousand two hundred fifty-one dollars ($8,251) made from the Aeronautics Account in the State Transportation Fund by the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation to the City of Montague for airport purposes are hereby ratified, validated, confirmed, and declared legally effective for all purposes.

SEC. 3. There is hereby appropriated from the Aeronautics Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for allocation to the East Kern Airport District for the purpose of returning to the district amounts repaid by the district to the account during the 1979–1980 fiscal year upon demand of the division.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that Section 1 of this act is necessary since special facts and circumstances applicable to the East Kern Airport District, and not generally applicable, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible by any general law. There exists a dispute as to the validity of allocations made by the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation to the East Kern Airport District for airport purposes based on a good faith expenditure of those funds. The Legislature further finds and declares that this is the only such expenditure of funds involved, that the purpose of this act is impossible to accomplish by any general law within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution, and that special legislation applicable only to the East Kern Airport District is therefore necessary.

SEC. 5. The Legislature finds and declares that Section 2 of this act is necessary since special facts and circumstances applicable to the City of Montague, and not generally applicable, make the accomplishment of this purpose impossible by any general law. There exists a dispute as to the validity of allocations made by the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Transportation to the City of Montague from the Aeronautics Account in the State Transportation Fund for airport purposes. The Legislature further finds and declares that this is the only such expenditure of funds involved, that the purpose of this act is impossible to accomplish by any general law within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution, and that special legislation applicable only to the City of Montague is therefore necessary.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25221 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 165 of the Statutes of 1982, is amended to read:

25221. (a) Any person as owner, lessor, or lessee who (1) knows or has probable cause to believe that a significant disposal of hazardous waste has occurred on, under, or into the land which he or she owns or leases or that the land is within 2,000 feet of a significant disposal of hazardous waste; and (2) intends to construct or allow the construction on such land of a building or structure to be used for a purpose which is described in subdivision (b) of Section 25232 within the next calendar year; shall apply to the department prior to such construction for a determination as to whether the land should be designated a hazardous waste property or a border zone property pursuant to Section 25229.

The addition of rooms or living space to an existing single-family dwelling or other minor repairs or improvements to residential property which do not change the use of the property or increase the population density does not constitute the construction of a building or structure for purposes of this subdivision.

(b) Any person who, as owner, lessor, or lessee, knows or has probable cause to believe that land which he or she owns or leases is a hazardous waste property or a border zone property, may apply to the department for a determination whether the land should be designated a hazardous waste property or a border zone property pursuant to Section 25229.

(c) If a city or county knows or has probable cause to believe that any land within its jurisdiction is a hazardous waste property or a border zone property, the city or county may apply to the department for a determination whether that land should be designated a hazardous waste property or a border zone property pursuant to Section 25229.

(2) Significant new information about past disposal of hazardous waste on, or within 2,000 feet of, the land becomes known to the owner, lessor, or lessee of such land.

SEC. 2. Section 25232 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25232. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) of this section, after the director has provided notice in compliance with Section 25222 and a hearing or decision regarding specific land is pending, or after a hearing has been conducted and a decision has been made pursuant to Section 25229 that land is a hazardous waste property, then none of the following shall occur on the land without a specific variance approved in writing by the department for the land use and land in question:

(1) Any new use of the land, other than the use, modification, or expansion of an existing industrial or manufacturing facility or complex on land which is owned by, or held for the beneficial use of, such facility or complex as of January 1, 1981, and which is a hazardous waste property as defined in Section 25117.3.

(2) Subdivision of such land, as that term is used in Division 2 (commencing with Section 66410) of Title 7 of the Government Code, except that this paragraph shall not prevent the division of a parcel of land so as to divide that portion of the parcel which is designated a hazardous waste property from other portions of such parcel not so designated.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c) of this section, after the director has provided notice in compliance with Section 25222 and a hearing or decision regarding specific land is pending, or after a hearing has been conducted and a decision has been made pursuant to Section 25229 that land is a border zone property, then none of the following shall occur on the land without a specific variance approved in writing by the department for the land use and land in question:

(B) A hospital for humans.

(C) A school for persons under 21 years of age.

(D) A day care center for children.

(E) Any permanently occupied human habitation other than those used for industrial purposes.

(2) Subdivision of such land, as that term is used in Division 2 (commencing with Section 66410) of Title 7 of the Government Code, except that this paragraph shall not prevent the division of a parcel of land so as to divide that portion of the parcel which is designated a border zone property from other portions of such parcel not so designated.

(c) This section shall not apply to a portion of a parcel of land which is determined by the director to meet all of the following requirements:

(1) The parcel has been previously classified as a class II-1 disposal site as defined in Section 2510 or 2511 of Title 23 of the California Administrative Code.

(2) The portion of the parcel is physically isolated from the remainder of the classified parcel by the construction of a freeway, as defined in Section 332 of the Vehicle Code, which divides the classified parcel.

(3) The portion of the parcel has not been used as a hazardous waste disposal site.

(4) The portion of the parcel does not contain or overlie hazardous waste.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In order for the orderly implementation of the restrictions on construction on or near land upon which hazardous wastes have been deposited, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2420 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2420. The provisions of this article apply to, determine the expiration of, and govern the renewal of, each of the following certificates, licenses, registrations, and permits issued by or under the Board of Medical Quality Assurance: physician's and surgeon's certificates, certificates to practice podiatric medicine, physical therapy licenses and approvals, registrations of dispensing opticians, registrations of contact lens dispensers, certificates of drugless practitioners, certificates to practice midwifery, and fictitious-name permits.

SEC. 1.5. Section 2542 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2542. Only a physician and surgeon or optometrist in connection with the fitting of a contact lens or lenses may utilize the service of a registered dispensing optician acting on the advice, direction and responsibility of such physician and surgeon or optometrist. A registered dispensing optician shall not fit a contact lens or lenses unless the prescription specifically refers to and authorizes contact lenses. A registered dispensing optician shall not fit a generic type of contact lens or mode of wear for a contact lens contrary to the type or mode, if any, referred to in the prescription.

SEC. 2. Section 2553 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2553. If the board, after investigation, approves such application and finds the applicant to be competent and qualified to engage in the business of dispensing optician it shall register such applicant and issue to the applicant a certificate of dispensing optician. If the board does not so determine it shall deny the application. A separate certificate of registration shall be required for each address where the business is to be conducted. Such certificate authorizes the applicant, its agents and employees acting therefor without further license, to engage in the business defined in Section 2550, except that if the applicant also desires to dispense contact lenses the applicant shall also comply with the requirements of Article 2 (commencing with Section 2560). Such certificate of registered dispensing optician shall be at all times displayed in a conspicuous place at the place of business licensed. Such certificate shall not be transferable, but on application to the division there may be registered a change of address of such certificate.

SEC. 3. Section 2553.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2553.7. During the time an individual or firm is authorized to engage in business at an address for which a separate certificate is issued pursuant to Section 2553, the person in charge of and managing the dispensing operations at that address must possess all of the qualifications specified in Section 2552 and must not be in charge of or manage dispensing operations at any other address. At all times, the manager shall actively and as his or her principal occupation be in charge of and manage dispensing operations at that address, allowing for usual and customary periods of absence such as for illness and vacation.

A certificate of registration issued for a particular address shall automatically expire 90 days after the time the dispensing operations at that address cease for any reason to be under the charge of and managed by the person so designated in the registrant's previously filed application or renewal application, unless within 90 days from the date of such cessation the registrant submits and the board approves a new application form containing all of the information specified in Section 2552 including the affidavits referred to in subdivision (b) of Section 2552. A certificate of registration shall automatically expire, however, without a 90-day delay in the event the manager designated at that address is transferred to serve as manager at another registered address operated by the registrant, unless prior to such transfer a new manager has been designated by the registrant, approved by the board, and actively in charge of dispensing operations at that address, as herein provided.

Whenever a manager ceases to be an active manager at any address because of death, termination of employment, transfer of employment or any other reason, registrant and the manager, within five days thereafter, shall give written notice to the division thereof, stating the reason for such cessation.

No earlier than January 1 and no later than January 31 of each odd-numbered year, each registrant shall file with the division the name of the person who at the time of filing has charge of and manages the registrant's dispensing operations at each address for which a separate certificate has previously been issued by the division.

In addition to any other remedies or penalties provided by law, the division may, in accordance with Section 2555, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the certificate of any individual or firm who has violated any provision of this section.

SEC. 4. Section 2554 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 2554.5 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 2555 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2555. Certificates issued hereunder may in the discretion of the division be suspended or revoked for violating or attempting to violate any provision of this chapter or any regulation adopted under this chapter, or for incompetence, gross negligence, or repeated similar negligent acts performed by the certificate holder or by an employee of the certificate holder. The proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the board shall have all the powers granted therein.

SEC. 7. Section 2555.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

2555.2. Whenever the division imposes disciplinary action against a registrant pursuant to Section 2555, it may also in its decision order the manager who was acting as the registrant's qualified manager at the time of the acts or omissions which resulted in disciplinary action being taken against the registrant, to suspend or terminate or carry on subject to terms and conditions, his or her practice as a qualified manager for any registrant under this chapter.

SEC. 8. Article 2 (commencing with Section 2560) is added to Chapter 5.5 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Article 2. Contact Lens Dispensing

2561. An individual shall apply for registration as a registered contact lens dispenser on forms prescribed by the division. The division shall register an individual as a registered contact lens dispenser upon satisfactory proof that the individual has passed the contact lens registry examination of the National Committee of Contact Lens Examiners or any successor agency to that committee. In the event the division should ever find after hearing that the registry examination is not appropriate to determine entry level competence as a contact lens dispenser or is not designed to measure specific job performance requirements, the division may thereafter from time to time prescribe or administer a written examination that meets such specifications. Any examination administered by the division shall be given at least twice each year on dates publicly announced at least 90 days before the examination dates. The division is authorized to contract with the National Committee of Contact Lens Examiners or any successor agency to that committee to provide that the registry examination is given at least twice each year on dates publicly announced at least 90 days before the examination dates.

The division may deny registration where there are grounds for denial under the provisions of Division 1.5 (commencing with Section 475).

The division shall issue a certificate to each qualified individual stating that the individual is a registered contact lens dispenser.

A registered contact lens dispenser may use that designation, but shall not hold himself or herself out in advertisements or otherwise as a specialist in fitting and adjusting contact lenses.

2562. Upon satisfactory completion of the fitting of contact lenses, but in no event more than 60 days after receipt of the prescription, a registered contact lens dispenser shall direct the person named in the prescription to return to the prescribing physician and surgeon or optometrist for an evaluation.

2563. A certificate issued to a registered contact lens dispenser may in the discretion of the division be suspended or revoked for violating or attempting to violate any provision of this chapter or any regulation adopted under this chapter, or for incompetence, gross negligence, or repeated similar negligent acts performed by the certificate holder. A certificate may also be suspended or revoked if the individual certificate holder has been convicted of a felony as provided in Section 2555.1.

Any proceedings under this section shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the division shall have all the powers granted therein.

2564. The provisions of this article shall not apply to a technician fitting contact lenses in the office of a physician and surgeon or optometrist while acting under the direct responsibility and supervision of the physician and surgeon or optometrist who engages in the practice of fitting contact lenses for his or her patients under Section 2544.

2564.5. A registered dispensing optician fitting contact lenses shall maintain accessible handwashing facilities on the premises and those facilities shall be used before each fitting of contact lenses.

SEC. 9. Article 3 (commencing with Section 2565) is added to Chapter 5.5 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Article 3. Fiscal Provisions

2565. The amount of fees prescribed in connection with the registration of dispensing opticians is as follows:

(a) The application fee is fifty dollars ($50), thirty-five dollars ($35) of which may be refunded upon refusal or denial of a certificate.

(b) The initial license fee is an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued, except that if the license will expire less than one year after its issuance, then the initial license fee is an amount equal to 50 percent of the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued.

(c) The renewal fee shall be fixed by the Division of Allied Health Professions at not more than one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and not less than one hundred dollars ($100).

(b) The biennial fee for the renewal of certificates shall be fixed by the division in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(c) The delinquency fee is fifteen dollars ($15).

(d) The Division of Allied Health Professions may by regulation provide for a refund of a portion of the application fee to applicants who do not meet the requirements for registration.

2567. (a) The provisions of Article 19 (commencing with Section 2420) and Article 20 (commencing with Section 2435) of Chapter 5 which are not inconsistent or in conflict with this chapter apply to the issuance and govern the expiration and renewal of certificates issued under this chapter. All fees collected from persons registered or seeking registration under this chapter shall be paid into the Contingent Fund of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance.

(b) The board may employ, subject to civil service regulations, whatever additional clerical assistance is necessary for the administration of this chapter.

2568. On and after July 1, 1982, the board shall report to the Controller at the beginning of each month for the month preceding the amount and source of all revenue received by it pursuant to this chapter, and shall pay the entire amount thereof to the State Treasurer for deposit in the Dispensing Opticians Fund, which fund is created and continuously appropriated to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

On and after July 1, 1982, the unencumbered balance of any funds in the Contingency Fund of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance derived from fees and revenues received from registered dispensing opticians and registered contact lens dispensers, and applicants for such registration, shall be transferred to the Dispensing Opticians Fund and shall be expended as provided in this section.

SEC. 10. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

An act to amend Section 798.3 of the Civil Code, and to amend Section 18010 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to mobilehomes.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.3 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.3. "Mobilehome" is a structure designed for human habitation and for being moved on a street or highway under permit pursuant to Section 35790 of the Vehicle Code. (b) Contains 400 square feet or less of gross area measured at maximum horizontal projections.

(c) Is built on a single chassis.

(d) Is either self-propelled, truck-mounted, or permanently towable on the highways without a permit.

CHAPTER 420

An act to add Sections 987.566 and 987.64 to the Military and Veterans Code, relating to veterans' farm and home purchase, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 987.566 is added to the Military and Veterans Code, to read:

987.566. (a) Notwithstanding the preferences set forth in Section 987.56, all veterans whose applications for benefits under this article were filed with the department on or before December 31, 1981, and whose applications are subsequently approved, shall be entitled to commitments for funding prior to any veteran whose application is filed on or after January 1, 1982. Any action to this effect taken by the department prior to the effective date of this section is hereby confirmed and ratified.

(b) Whenever applications exceed the amount of funds available, the department may establish a date so as to provide funding to veterans whose applications were filed on or before that date, and whose applications are subsequently approved, before funding is made available to those whose applications are filed after the date, except that the department may establish the date only once in each calendar year.

SEC. 2. Section 987.64 is added to the Military and Veterans Code, to read:

987.64. In the event of any conflict or difference between any provision of this article and the federal Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act of 1980 (P.L. 96-499; 94 Stat. 2660), including any amendment thereto and any regulation issued thereunder, the department shall comply with that federal law or regulation to the extent necessary to maintain the tax-exempt status of any issue of its general obligation or revenue bonds. Any action taken by the department prior to the effective date of this section to effect that compliance is hereby confirmed and ratified, it having at all times been the intent of the Legislature that the tax-exempt status of those bonds be maintained.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The enactment of federal legislation and the publication of federal regulations restricting the issuance and use of tax-exempt mortgage subsidy bonds by state and local agencies has adversely affected the ability of the Department of Veterans Affairs to administer the provisions of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1974, and the immediate enactment of state legislation is necessary to enable compliance with the federal legislation and regulations. In order that the issuance and use of veterans' general obligation and revenue bonds may proceed in an orderly manner, consistent with the requirements of the federal law and regulations, without costly and unnecessary delays in the funding of home loans for thousands of veterans, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 423

An act to amend Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to amend Section 273.6 of the Penal Code, relating to harassment.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

527.6. (a) A person who has suffered harassment as defined in subdivision (b) may seek a temporary restraining order, and an injunction prohibiting harassment as provided in this section.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "harassment" is a knowing and willful course of conduct directed at a specific person which seriously alarms, annoys or harasses the person, and which serves no legitimate purpose. The course of conduct must be such as would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress, and must actually cause substantial emotional distress to the plaintiff. "Course of conduct" is a pattern of conduct composed of a series of acts over a period of time, however short, evidencing a continuity of purpose. Constitutionally protected activity is not included within the meaning of "course of conduct."

(c) Upon filing a petition for an injunction under this section, the plaintiff may obtain a temporary restraining order in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure. A temporary restraining order may be granted with or without notice upon an affidavit which, to the satisfaction of the court, shows reasonable proof of harassment of the plaintiff by the defendant, and that great or irreparable harm would result to the plaintiff. A temporary restraining order granted under this section shall remain in effect, at the court's discretion, for a period not to exceed 15 days, unless otherwise modified or terminated by the court.

(d) Within 15 days of the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be held on the petition for the injunction. The defendant may file a response which explains, excuses, justifies or denies the alleged harassment. At the hearing, the judge shall receive such testimony as is relevant, and may make an independent inquiry. If the judge finds by clear and convincing evidence that unlawful harassment exists, an injunction shall issue prohibiting the harassment. An injunction issued pursuant to this section shall have a duration of not more than three years. At any time within the three months before the expiration of the injunction, the plaintiff may apply for a renewal of the injunction by filing a new petition for an injunction under this section.

(e) Nothing in this section shall preclude either party from representation by private counsel or from appearing on his or her own behalf.

(f) Upon filing of a petition for an injunction under this section, the defendant shall be personally served with a copy of the petition, temporary restraining order, if any, and notice of hearing of the petition.

(g) The court shall order the plaintiff or the attorney for the plaintiff to deliver or the clerk to mail a copy of each temporary restraining order or injunction or modification or termination thereof, granted under this section, by the close of the business day on which the order was granted, to the law enforcement agencies within the court's discretion as are requested by the plaintiff. Each appropriate law enforcement agency shall make available information as to the existence and current status of these orders to law enforcement officers responding to the scene of reported harassment.

(h) The prevailing party in any action brought under this section may be awarded court costs and attorney's fees, if any.

(i) Any willful disobedience of any temporary restraining order or injunction granted under this section shall be punishable pursuant to Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

(j) This section shall not apply to any action covered by Section 4359 or 7020 of the Civil Code, or by Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 540) of this title, or by Title 1.6C (commencing with Section 1788) of the Civil Code. Nothing in this section shall preclude a plaintiff's right to utilize other existing civil remedies.

(k) The Judicial Council shall promulgate forms and instructions therefor, rules for service of process, scheduling of hearings, and any other matters required by this section. The petition and response forms shall be simple and concise.

SEC. 2. Section 273.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

273.6. (a) Any willful and knowing violation of any of the following court orders, when obtained pursuant to Section 4359, 4458, 4516, 7020, or 7021 of the Civil Code, Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 540) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 6 months or by both such fine and imprisonment:

(1) An order enjoining any party from molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, harassing, or disturbing the peace of the other party, or other named family and household members.

(2) An order excluding one party from the family dwelling or from the dwelling of the other.

(3) An order enjoining a party from specified behavior which the court determined was necessary to effectuate the orders under subdivision (a) or (b).

(b) Any person who willfully and knowingly violates an order obtained pursuant to Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be punishable as provided in subdivision (a). However, a person who has previously been convicted one or more times of violating an order obtained pursuant to Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure upon charges separately brought and tried, shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year. Subject to the discretion of the court, the prosecution shall have the opportunity to present witnesses and relevant evidence at the time of the sentencing of a defendant pursuant to this subdivision.

(c) The prosecuting agency of each county shall have the primary responsibility for the enforcement of orders issued pursuant to the provisions listed in subdivisions (a) and (b).

SEC. 3. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

The Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development and the area health planning agency or agencies shall submit such comments and recommendations to the supervising authority within 60 days after receiving a request therefor from the proponents. CHAPTER 426

An act to add Article 7 (commencing with Section 8120) to Chapter 1 of Part 6 of Division 1 of Title 1 of the Education Code, relating to the California Occupational Information System.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 7 (commencing with Section 8120) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 6 of Division 1 of Title 1 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 7. California Occupational Information System

8120. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to insure that all employment training and vocational education programs are planned and implemented so as to provide trainees and students with skills which will be in demand by employers at the conclusion of such training and vocational education.

8121. In creating the California Occupational Information System pursuant to this article, the Legislature finds that accurate and timely labor market information, including information relating to current and future labor supply as well as job and skill demands, is presently not available to vocational education and employment training entities to permit careful planning of programs and prudent allocation of resources. The Legislature further finds that:

(a) The educational system, state and local governments, and all entities involved in developing job skills for California youth and other unemployed and underemployed persons, will more effectively use their resources by modifying curricula and training programs if timely information is provided about current and future career skills that will be needed by employers.

(b) Accurate information regarding how many students and trainees in a labor market area are being prepared for specific job categories in relation to projected job demands will be of assistance in making vocational education and training program evaluations and decisions.

(c) Students, in making career choices, and their counselors, need information about future job demands, job duties, and other job characteristics, and the supply of students and trainees preparing to enter the various job categories.

(d) Information about future job demands and labor supply would be of substantial benefit to private industry in identifying locations where projected skill needs arising from new industrial sitings or expansions can be met.

(e) Industry has offered to provide to the state information about projected job skill needs and has formally recommended through the Job Development and Business Expansion Task Force that the state proceed with developing a comprehensive California Occupational Information System.

8122. The California Occupational Information System is hereby designated as the official state program for the production of occupational planning, administration and guidance information for use by vocational educators, education and training planners, students, and counselors.

8123. The Director of Employment Development, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, the Director of the Department of Rehabilitation, and the Chairperson of the California Employment and Training Advisory Council, or his or her designee, and the Executive Secretary of the Council for Private Postsecondary Educational Institutions in the Department of Education shall cooperate jointly as the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee (hereafter referred to as the SOICC) to develop and implement the California Occupational Information System. The SOICC shall consult with other potential users of the system to maximize the collection of data and the development of a uniform system that can be used to the greatest extent feasible.

8124. The Employment Development Department, in consultation with the Department of Education, the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, the Department of Rehabilitation, the California Employment and Training Advisory Council, the Council for Private Postsecondary Educational Institutions, and other potential users, including but not limited to the California Postsecondary Education Commission and the Division of Apprenticeship Standards in the Department of Industrial Relations, shall be responsible for the preparation of occupational employment demand information concerning job skills that employers are projected to need in the future in the various labor markets.

8125. The Department of Education and the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, in consultation with the other entities listed in Section 8124, and other potential users, shall be responsible for the production of uniform public and private educational supply information concerning the number of students and trainees in courses related to each job category and in each school or center.

8126. The Employment Development Department, in consultation with other entities listed in Section 8124, and other potential users, shall develop and produce, to the maximum extent feasible, socioeconomic information that is related to employment and training.

8128. The Department of Rehabilitation, in consultation with the other entities listed in Section 8124, and other potential users, shall be responsible for the production of information concerning training activities and other rehabilitation data required for the California Occupational Information System.

8129. The entities listed in Section 8124 shall jointly develop and produce, to the extent feasible, other data required for the California Occupational Information System.

8130. The SOICC shall seek to maximize the dissemination and effective use of information developed pursuant to this article. The respective roles of each of the entities shall be fully set out in written agreements. Each entity is authorized to enter into agreements with each other and with any other entity for the purposes of this article. Appropriations to each entity for the purpose of administration of the California Occupational Information System under this article shall be separately identified by purpose and amount and shall not be included in appropriations to the entity for any other purpose.

8131. The information produced by the California Occupational Information System shall be used by the entities listed in Section 8124 to plan programs, curricula, staff developmental training for vocational education and training personnel; to counsel students; and for all other uses related to effectively carrying out the intent and purposes of this article. The information shall be available to students to aid them in making career choices, to operators of employment and training programs, and to other potential users to the maximum extent feasible.

8132. The Department of Rehabilitation and the California Employment and Training Advisory Council shall cooperate with the Employment Development Department, the Department of Education, and the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, which three entities shall report annually to the Legislature, not later than the fifth legislative day, on the progress made toward the establishment of the program and on the use by the entities listed in Section 8124 of the information provided pursuant to this article.

8133. Each entity responsible for any function or activity pursuant to this article shall seek and obtain funds or in-kind contributions to the maximum extent possible from federal and private sources, and may accept and use any such funds or in-kind contributions for the purposes of this article. Each entity shall perform the function or activity with which it is charged under this article to the maximum extent possible with the appropriations, funds and in-kind contributions made available.

SECTION 1. Section 846.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

(b) The requirements of subdivision (a) do not apply to monuments within access-controlled portions of freeways.

(c) When required for a property survey, monuments within a freeway right-of-way shall be referenced to usable points outside the access control line by the agency having jurisdiction over the freeway when requested in writing by the registered civil engineer or licensed land surveyor who is to perform the property survey. (b) If the official deems the applicant entitled to an absent voter's ballot he or she shall deliver by mail or in person the appropriate ballot.

(c) If the official determines that an application does not contain all of the information prescribed in Section 1002 or 1006, or for any other reason is defective, and the election official is able to ascertain the voter's address, the official shall, within one working day of receiving the application, mail the voter an absent voter's ballot together with a notice. SEC. 13.6. Section 1015 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

1015. Upon receipt of the absentee ballot the elections official shall compare the signature on the envelope with that appearing on the affidavit of registration and, if they compare, deposit the ballot, still in the identification envelope, in a ballot container in his or her office. A variation of the signature caused by the substitution of initials for the first or middle name, or both, shall not invalidate the ballot. If the ballot is rejected because the signatures do not compare, the envelope shall not be opened and the ballot shall not be counted. The cause of the rejection shall be written on the face of the identification envelope.

If the elections official has compared the signature of the voter's application with the affidavit pursuant to Section 1007, the application may be used rather than the affidavit to make the signature check required by this section.

No ballot shall be removed from its identification envelope until the time for processing. No ballot shall be rejected for cause after the envelope has been opened.

In determining from the records of registration if the signature and residence address on the identification envelope appear to be the same as that on the affidavit of registration, the clerk or registrar of voters may use the duplicate file of affidavits of registered voters or the facsimiles of voter's signatures, provided that the method of preparing and displaying the facsimiles complies with law.

Such statement may include the name, age and occupation of the candidate and a brief description of no more than 200 words, of the candidate's education and qualifications expressed by the candidate himself or herself; provided, however, that the governing body of the local agency may authorize an increase in the limitations on words for such statement from 200 to 400 words. In the event of overpayment, the clerk shall prorate the excess amount among the candidates and refund the excess amount paid within 30 days of the election.

The clerk shall reject any statement, which contains any obscene, vulgar, profane, scandalous, libelous or defamatory matter, or any language which in any way incites, counsels, promotes or advocates hatred, abuse, violence or hostility toward, or which tends to cast ridicule or shame upon any person or group of persons by reason of sex, race, color, religion or manner of worship, or any language or matter the circulation of which through the mails is prohibited by Congress.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to make any such statement or the authors thereof free or exempt from any civil or criminal action or penalty because of any false, slanderous or libelous statements offered for printing or contained in the voter's pamphlet.

Before the nominating period opens, the local agency for that election shall determine whether a charge shall be levied against that candidate for the candidate's statement sent to each voter. Such decision shall not be revoked or modified after the seventh day prior to the opening of the nominating period. A written statement of the regulations with respect to charges for handling, packaging, and mailing shall be provided to each candidate or his or her representative at the time he or she picks up the nomination papers.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

SECTION 1. Section 9357.4 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9357.4. A member may redeposit in the Legislators' Retirement Fund, in one sum or in not to exceed 12 monthly or 24 semimonthly payments, an amount equal to any accumulated contributions that have been repaid to him pursuant to Section 9357.3, subject to minimum payments fixed by the board, and if he makes such redeposit, he shall receive credit for all service with which he was credited at the time of such repayment.

SEC. 2. Section 9359 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9359. Upon his written application therefor to the Board of Administration, (a) any member of this system who was a member on the effective date of this amendment who has attained age 60, (b) any member who hereafter becomes a member of this system who has attained age 60 and who is credited with four (4) or more years of service, or (c) any member, regardless of age, who is credited with twenty (20) or more years of service, shall be retired, and thereafter shall receive for life the retirement allowance provided in this chapter.

A written application for retirement may be filed at any time during the term of office of the member, or within thirty (30) days after the expiration of his term of office. Any application which does not specify a different date as the effective date of retirement applied for shall be deemed to be an application for retirement as of the day following the expiration of the term of office of the member.

SEC. 3. Section 9359.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9359.1. (a) The retirement allowance for a member all of whose credited service was rendered as a Member of the Senate or Assembly except as provided in subdivision (d) is an annual amount equal to five percent (5%) of the compensation payable, at the time payments of the allowance fall due, to incumbent Members of the Senate or Assembly, multiplied by the number of years of service with which the member is credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed fifteen (15) years. In no event shall any retirement allowance payable under this chapter to any such member exceed the compensation payable to Members of the Legislature at the time the payment of the allowance is made, except that the retirement allowance of any such member who is credited with more than 15 years shall be increased by an amount equal to 3 percent of the compensation payable, at the time payment of the allowance falls due, to incumbent Members of the Senate or Assembly for each year or fraction of a year in excess of 15 years.

(b) The retirement allowance for a member all of whose credited service was rendered as an elective officer of the state whose office is provided for by the Constitution other than a judge (and other than a Member of the Senate or Assembly) the sum of (1) is an annual amount equal to five percent (5%) of the highest compensation received by the officer while serving in such office, multiplied by the number of years of service with which the member is credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed eight (8) years, plus, if the member is credited with 24 or more years of service, (2) one and two-thirds percent (1⅔%) of the compensation to which the five percent (5%) rate is applicable under subparagraph (1) of this subdivision for his first eight years of credited service, multiplied by the number of years of service in excess of eight years with which the member is credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed 12 years of such credited service in excess of the eight years of service referred to in subparagraph (1) of this subdivision.

(c) The retirement allowance for a member part of whose credited service was rendered as a Member of the Senate or Assembly and part of whose credited service was rendered as an elective officer of the state whose office is provided for by the Constitution, other than a judge (and other than a Member of the Senate or Assembly) is the sum of (1) an annual amount equal to five percent (5%) of all the compensation, at the time payment of the allowance falls due, to the officer holding the highest salaried office which the member held at any time during his service prior to retirement, multiplied by the number of years of service with which the member is credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed eight (8) years, plus, if the member is credited with 24 or more years of service, (2) one and two-thirds percent (1⅔%) of the compensation to which the five percent (5%) rate is applicable under subparagraph (1) of this subdivision for his first eight years of credited service, multiplied by the number of years of service rendered as an elective officer of the state whose office is provided for by the Constitution, other than a judge and other than a Member of the Senate or Assembly, with which the member is credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed 12 years of such credited service in excess of the eight years referred to in subparagraph (1) of this subdivision. If, however, the member would be entitled to receive a greater allowance under subdivision (a), (b), or (d) of this section if all of his credited service had been rendered as a Member of the Senate or Assembly or as an elective officer of the state whose office is provided for by the Constitution other than a judge (and other than a Member of the Senate or Assembly), then all of his credited service shall be deemed to have been rendered as a Member of the Senate or Assembly or as such other elective officer, and he shall receive a retirement allowance computed under subdivision (a), (b), or (d) of this section, whichever is greater.

(d) The retirement allowance for a member, all of whose service was rendered as a Member of the Senate or Assembly, who is the surviving spouse of a deceased Member of the Senate or Assembly and who becomes the immediate successor in office of such deceased Member of the Senate or Assembly is an annual amount equal to five percent (5%) of the compensation payable, at the time the payments of the allowance fall due, to incumbent Members of the Senate or Assembly, multiplied by the number of years of service with which the member is credited at the time of retirement plus the number of years of service as a Member of the Senate or Assembly rendered by the member's deceased husband or wife plus any period in the term, for which the deceased member was elected, following his or her death, not to exceed fifteen (15) years. In no event shall any retirement allowance payable under this chapter to any such member exceed the compensation payable to Members of the Legislature at the time the payment of the allowance is made, except that the retirement allowance of any such member, whose total service creditable under this subdivision is in excess of fifteen (15) years, shall be increased by an amount equal to 3 percent of the compensation payable, at the time payment of the allowance falls due, to incumbent Members of the Senate or Assembly for each year or fraction of a year in excess of fifteen (15) years. This same computation of total service creditable shall be used as a basis in determining eligibility for retirement, under Sections 9359 and 9359.16, of a member described in this subdivision. Any member to whom this subdivision applies shall redeposit an amount equal to the contributions which were required to be contributed by his or her deceased spouse while he or she was a member of the system for his or her service, computed on the basis of the salary and rate of contribution in effect at the time such service was rendered, or would have been rendered, in the Legislators' Retirement Fund on account of the service of his or her deceased spouse in order to use such service for the purposes of this section and Sections 9359 and 9359.16.

The amendments to this section enacted at the 1969 Regular Session shall apply with respect to any member who retired or retires, or died or dies while eligible to retire on or after May 1, 1969, and any allowance payable with respect to such a member who retired or died prior to the effective date of such amendment, shall be adjusted effective from the date of retirement or death to the amount it would have been had the amendment been in effect on that date.

The provisions of Sections 9359.11 and 9359.12 of this code shall control over any conflicting provisions of this section.

The amendments to this section during the 1973–74 Second Extraordinary Session shall not be applicable to members who are retired on the effective date of the amendments.

SEC. 4. Section 9359.12 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9359.12. (a) Any contrary provisions of Section 9359.1 or Section 9360.9 notwithstanding, and subject to the further limitations in subdivision (b), the retirement allowance of any member of the Legislators' Retirement System who serves as a legislator during or after the term commencing in 1967 shall be the sum of: (1) the amount determined by application of the formula provided by Section 9359.1 to the first five hundred dollars ($500) per month of salary payable to the legislator at the time of his retirement, plus (2) an amount equal to 3 percent of the amount of such salary in excess of five hundred dollars ($500) per month multiplied by the number of years credited the member, or two-thirds of the amount of such salary payable to the legislator at the time of his retirement, whichever is the lesser, plus, in the case of members credited with service prior to the term commencing in 1967, an amount equal to a cost-of-living increase computed under Section 9360.9 as of January 1, 1967, on that portion of the allowance based on five hundred dollars ($500) per month, and said total to be further adjusted to reflect cost-of-living increases occurring after the member's retirement as determined under Section 9360.10.

(b) During such time as he serves in any salaried public office any retired member of the Legislators' Retirement System who served as a legislator during or after the term commencing in 1967 shall receive a retirement allowance computed by application of the formula set forth in Section 9359.1 to a salary of five hundred dollars ($500), and any increase in salary above such amount shall, for such purpose, be disregarded.

SEC. 5. Section 9359.16 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9359.16. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 9359, a member of this system, other than a legislative statutory officer, who is under age 60 and who is credited with fifteen (15) or more, but less than twenty (20) years of service shall be retired upon his written application therefor to the Board of Administration, and thereafter shall receive for life the retirement allowance provided by this section. The allowance shall be equal to the retirement allowance which he would receive for such service upon retirement at age 60 reduced by two percent (2%) for each year by which the member's age at the time of retirement is below age 60.

SEC. 6. Section 20452 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20452. On request of the board, the public agency shall furnish data concerning its employees as the board requires to make the necessary valuations and investigation into the experience among such employees.

SEC. 7. Section 20454 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20454. At the option of the board the public agency shall have valuations and investigation made through a consulting actuary selected by the board, under contract between the consulting actuary and the public agency. The contract shall be subject to the approval of the board, and the valuations shall be made under the direction of the actuary of this system. Services under the contract shall be rendered to the public agency and not to the state.

SEC. 8. Section 20862.8 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20862.8. A local miscellaneous member and a local safety member, whose effective date of retirement is within four months of separation from employment with the employer which granted the sick leave credit, shall be credited at his retirement with 0.004 year of service credit for each unused day of sick leave certified to the board by his employer.

This section shall not apply to any contracting agency nor to the employees of any contracting agency unless and until the agency elects to be subject to this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, except that an election among the employees is not required, or, in the case of contracts made after September 26, 1974, by express provision in the contract making the contracting agency subject to this section.

This section shall only apply to members who retire after the effective date of the contract amendment.

SEC. 9. Section 20864 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20864. For the purpose of calculating retirement benefits based on part-time service, except under Section 21258.1, compensation earnable shall be taken as the compensation which would have been earnable if the employment had been on a full-time basis and the member had worked full time.

SEC. 10. Section 21364 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21364. The special death benefit consists of the following:

(a) An amount equal to and derived from the same source as the basic death benefit exclusive of the contributions from which the annuity provided under subdivision (d) is paid.

(b) An amount sufficient, when added to the amount provided under subdivision (a), to provide, when applied according to tables adopted by the board, a monthly death allowance equal to one-half of his or her final compensation in the membership category applicable to him or her at the time of the injury or the onset of the disease causing death, payable to the surviving spouse to whom he or she was married prior to sustaining the injury or disease resulting in death, as long as the surviving spouse lives or until his or her remarriage; or, if there is no surviving spouse or if the spouse dies or remarries before all children of the deceased member attain age 22, to his or her children under 22 collectively until every child shall have died, married, or attained age 22. However, no child shall receive any part of the allowance after marrying or attaining age 22.

(c) During the lifetime of the surviving spouse or until the spouse remarries, an additional percentage of the death benefit allowed by this section, exclusive of the annuity under subdivision (d), shall be paid to the spouse of a member who is killed in the performance of his or her duty or who dies as a result of an accident or an injury caused by external violence or physical force, incurred in the performance of his or her duty, for each of his or her children during the lifetime of the child, or until the child marries or reaches the age of 22, as follows: for one child, 25 percent; for two children, 40 percent; and for three or more children, 50 percent.

(d) An annuity which is the actuarial equivalent, assuming monthly payments for life to the surviving spouse, of the deceased's accumulated additional contributions at the date of his or her death, plus his or her accumulated contributions at that date based on compensation earned in any membership category other than the category applicable to him or her at the time of the injury or the onset of the disease causing death.

If the surviving spouse does not have custody of the member's children, the additional amount payable pursuant to this section shall be payable to the person having custody of the children for each child during the lifetime of the child, or until the child marries or reaches the age of 22.

The computation for time prior to entering the membership category applicable to the deceased at the time of the injury or the onset of the disease causing death shall be based on the compensation earnable by him or her in the position first held by him or her in that category.

"Spouse," for purposes of this section, means a wife or husband.

Any child whose eligibility for an allowance pursuant to this section, commenced on or after October 1, 1965, shall lose that eligibility effective on the date of his adoption.

SEC. 11. Section 21382.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

5101. A bidder shall not be relieved of his or her bid unless by consent of the awarding authority nor shall any change be made in his or her bid because of mistake, but he or she may bring an action against the public entity in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the bids were opened for the recovery of the amount forfeited, without interest or costs.

The bond of an admitted surety insurer shall be filed with the complaint, in such sum as the court may fix, but not less than five hundred dollars ($500), conditioned that, if the plaintiff fails to recover judgment, he or she shall pay all costs incurred by the public entity in the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court.

(d) The mistake was made in filling out the bid and not due to error in judgment or to carelessness in inspecting the site of the work, or in reading the plans or specifications.

5104. Other than the notice to the public entity, no claim is required to be filed before bringing the action.

5105. A bidder who claims a mistake or who forfeits his or her bid security shall be prohibited from participating in further bidding on the project on which the mistake was claimed or security forfeited.

5106. If the public entity deems it is for its best interest, it may, on refusal or failure of the successful bidder to execute the contract, award it to the second lowest bidder.

If the second lowest bidder fails or refuses to execute the contract, the public entity may likewise award it to the third lowest bidder.

On the failure or refusal of the second or third lowest bidder to whom a contract is so awarded to execute it, his or her bidder's security shall be likewise forfeited.

5107. In all actions brought under the provisions of this chapter, all courts wherein such actions are or may hereafter be pending, shall give such actions preference over all other civil actions therein, in the matter of setting the same for hearing or trial, and in hearing the same, to the end that all such actions shall be quickly heard and determined.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1524 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1524. (a) A search warrant may be issued upon any of the following grounds:

(1) When the property was stolen or embezzled.

(2) When the property or things were used as the means of committing a felony.

(3) When the property or things are in the possession of any person with the intent to use it as a means of committing a public offense, or in the possession of another to whom he or she may have delivered it for the purpose of concealing it or preventing its being discovered.

(4) When the property or things to be seized consist of any item or constitutes any evidence which tends to show a felony has been committed, or tends to show that a particular person has committed a felony.

(5) When the property or things to be seized consist of evidence which tends to show that sexual exploitation of a child, in violation of Section 311.3, has occurred or is occurring.

(b) The property or things described in subdivision (a) may be taken on the warrant from any place, or from any person in whose possession it may be.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) or (b), no search warrant shall issue for any documentary evidence in the possession or under the control of any person, who is a lawyer as defined in Section 950 of the Evidence Code, a physician as defined in Section 990 of the Evidence Code, a psychotherapist as defined in Section 1010 of the Evidence Code, or a clergyman as defined in Section 1030 of the Evidence Code, and who is not reasonably suspected of engaging or having engaged in criminal activity related to the documentary evidence for which a warrant is requested unless the following procedure has been complied with:

(1) At the time of the issuance of the warrant the court shall appoint a special master in accordance with subdivision (d) to accompany the person who will serve the warrant. Upon service of the warrant, the special master shall inform the party served of the specific items being sought and that the party shall have the opportunity to provide the items requested. If the party, in the judgment of the special master, fails to provide the items requested, the special master shall conduct a search for the items in the areas indicated in the search warrant.

(2) If the party who has been served states that an item or items should not be disclosed, they shall be sealed by the special master and taken to court for a hearing.

At the hearing the party searched shall be entitled to raise any issues which may be raised pursuant to Section 1538.5 as well as a claim that the item or items are privileged, as provided by law. Any such hearing shall be held in the superior court. The court shall provide sufficient time for the parties to obtain counsel and make any motions or present any evidence. The hearing shall be held within three days of the service of the warrant unless the court makes a finding that the expedited hearing is impracticable. In that case the matter shall be heard at the earliest possible time.

(3) Any such warrant must, whenever practicable, be served during normal business hours. In addition, any such warrant must be served upon a party who appears to have possession or control of the items sought. (d) As used in this section, a "special master" is an attorney who is a member in good standing of the California State Bar and who has been selected from a list of qualified attorneys which is maintained by the State Bar particularly for the purposes of conducting the searches described in this section. These attorneys shall serve without compensation. A special master shall be considered a public employee, and the governmental entity which caused the search warrant to be issued shall be considered the employer of the special master and the applicable public entity, for purposes of Division 3.6 (commencing with Section 810) of Title 1 of the Government Code, relating to claims and actions against public entities and public employees. In selecting the special master the court shall make every reasonable effort to insure that the person selected has no relationship with any of the parties involved in the pending matter. Any information obtained by the special master shall be confidential and shall not be divulged except in direct response to inquiry by the court.

In any case in which the magistrate determines that, after reasonable efforts have been made to obtain a special master, a special master is not available and would not be available within a reasonable period of time, the magistrate may direct the party seeking the order to conduct the search in the manner described in this section in lieu of the special master.

(e) Any search conducted pursuant to this section by a special master may be conducted in such a manner as to permit the party serving the warrant or his or her designee to accompany the special master as he or she conducts his search. However, that party or his or her designee shall not participate in the search nor shall he or she examine any of the items being searched by the special master except upon agreement of the party upon whom the warrant has been served.

(f) As used in this section "documentary evidence" includes, but is not limited to, writings, documents, blueprints, drawings, photographs, computer printouts, microfilms, X-rays, files, diagrams, ledgers, books, tapes, audio and video recordings, films or papers of any type or description.

(g) No warrant shall issue for any item or items described in Section 1070 of the Evidence Code.

Time of employment in such case shall be counted only if, after the transfer or change in organization, the real or ultimate ownership of the contracting party is the same or substantially similar to that which existed before such transfer or change in organization. SECTION 1. Section 1985 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1985. The process by which the attendance of a witness is required is the subpoena. It is a writ or order directed to a person and requiring his attendance at a particular time and place to testify as a witness. It may also require him to bring with him any books, documents, or other things under his control which he is bound by law to produce in evidence. When a county recorder is using the microfilm system for recording, and he is subpoenaed to present a record, he shall be deemed to have complied with the subpoena if he produces a certified copy thereof.

A copy of an affidavit shall be served with a subpoena duces tecum issued before trial, showing good cause for the production of the matters and things described in such subpoena, specifying the exact matters or things desired to be produced, setting forth in full detail the materiality thereof to the issues involved in the case, and stating that the witness has the desired matters or things in his possession or under his control.

The clerk, or if there be no clerk, the judge, shall issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum signed and sealed but otherwise in blank to a party requesting it, who shall fill it in before service. An attorney at law who is the attorney of record in an action or proceeding, may sign and issue a subpoena to require attendance before the court in which the action or proceeding is pending or at the trial of an issue therein, or upon the taking of a deposition in an action or proceeding pending therein; the subpoena in such a case need not be sealed. An attorney at law who is the attorney of record in an action or proceeding, may sign and issue a subpoena duces tecum to require production of the matters or things described in the subpoena. Nothing herein shall authorize the issuance of a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum in cases provided for by Sections 68097.1 to 68097.10, inclusive, of the Government Code unless the required payment or deposit has been made.

SEC. 2. Section 1987.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1987.5. The service of a subpoena duces tecum is invalid unless at the time of such service a copy of the affidavit upon which the subpoena is based is served on the person served with the subpoena. The original affidavit shall be filed with the court in which the action is pending prior to the time designated for the appearance of the witness and production of the matters and things described in the subpoena, and in the case of a subpoena duces tecum which requires appearance and the production of matters and things at the taking of a deposition, the original shall be so filed not less than five days before such designated time, unless the court otherwise orders. In the case of a subpoena duces tecum which requires appearance and the production of matters and things at the taking of a deposition, the subpoena shall not be valid unless a copy of the affidavit upon which the subpoena is based and the designation of the materials to be produced, as set forth in the subpoena, is attached to the notice of taking the deposition served upon each party or its attorney as provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 2002). If matters and things are produced pursuant to a subpoena duces tecum in violation of this section, any other party to the action may file a motion for, and the court may grant, an order providing appropriate relief, including, but not limited to, exclusion of the evidence affected by the violation, a retaking of the deposition notwithstanding any other limitation on discovery proceedings, or a continuance.

SEC. 2.5. Section 1560 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1560. (a) As used in this article:

(1) "Business" includes every kind of business described in Section 1270.

(2) "Record" includes every kind of record maintained by such a business.

(b) Except as provided in Section 1564, when a subpoena duces tecum is served upon the custodian of records or other qualified witness of a business in an action in which the business is neither a party nor the place where any cause of action is alleged to have arisen, and the subpoena requires the production of all or any part of the records of the business, it is sufficient compliance therewith if the custodian or other qualified witness, within five days after the receipt of the subpoena in any criminal action or within the time agreed upon by the party who served the subpoena and the custodian or other qualified witness, or within fifteen days after the receipt of the subpoena in any civil action or within the time agreed upon by the party who served the subpoena and the custodian or other qualified witness, delivers by mail or otherwise a true, legible, and durable copy of all the records described in the subpoena to the clerk of court or to the judge if there be no clerk or to such other person as described in subdivision (a) of Section 2018 of the Code of Civil Procedure, together with the affidavit described in Section 1561.

(c) The copy of the records shall be separately enclosed in an inner envelope or wrapper, sealed, with the title and number of the action, name of witness, and date of subpoena clearly inscribed thereon; the sealed envelope or wrapper shall then be enclosed in an outer envelope or wrapper, sealed, directed as follows:

(1) If the subpoena directs attendance in court, to the clerk of such court, or to the judge thereof if there be no clerk.

(2) If the subpoena directs attendance at a deposition, to the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken, at the place designated in the subpoena for the taking of the deposition or at his place of business.

(3) In other cases, to the officer, body, or tribunal conducting the hearing, at a like address.

(d) Unless the parties to the proceeding otherwise agree, or unless the sealed envelope or wrapper is returned to a witness who is to appear personally, the copy of the records shall remain sealed and shall be opened only at the time of trial, deposition, or other hearing, upon the direction of the judge, officer, body, or tribunal conducting the proceeding, in the presence of all parties who have appeared in person or by counsel at the trial, deposition, or hearing. Records which are not introduced in evidence or required as part of the record shall be returned to the person or entity from whom received.

SEC. 3. Section 1563 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1563. (a) This article shall not be interpreted to require tender or payment of more than one witness fee and one mileage fee or other charge unless there is an agreement to the contrary.

(1) "Reasonable costs," as used in this section, shall mean ten cents ($.10) per page for standard reproduction of documents of a size of 8½ by 14 inches or less, and actual costs for reproduction of oversize documents or documents the reproduction of which require special processing, necessarily done in responding to the subpoena together with additional reasonable clerical costs incurred in locating and making the records available. The clerical costs may be billed at the rate of ten dollars ($10) per hour per person, computed on the basis of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per quarter hour or fraction thereof, and actual costs, if any, charged to the witness by a third person for retrieval and return of records held by such a third person.

(2) The requesting party shall not be required to pay those costs or any estimate thereof prior to the time such records are available for delivery pursuant to the subpoena, but the witness may demand payment of costs pursuant to this section simultaneous with actual delivery of the subpoenaed records, and until such time as payment is made, is under no obligation to deliver the records.

(3) The witness shall submit an itemized statement for such costs to the requesting party setting forth the reproduction and clerical costs incurred by the witness. Upon demand by the requesting party, the witness shall furnish a statement setting forth the actions taken by the witness in justification of such costs.

(4) The requesting party may petition the court in which the action is pending to recover from the witness all or a part of the costs paid to the witness, or to reduce all or a part of the costs charged by the witness, pursuant to this subdivision, on the grounds that such costs were excessive. Upon the filing of the petition the court shall issue an order to show cause and from the time the order is served on the witness the court has jurisdiction over the witness. The court may hear testimony on the order to show cause and if it finds that the costs demanded and collected, or charged but not collected, exceed the amount authorized by this subdivision, it shall order the witness to remit to the requesting party, or reduce its charge to the requesting party by an amount equal to, the amount of the excess. In the event that the court finds the costs excessive and charged in bad faith by the witness, the court shall order the witness to remit the full amount of the costs demanded and collected, or excuse the requesting party from any payment of costs charged but not collected, and the court shall also order the witness to pay the requesting party the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order including attorney's fees. If the court finds the costs were not excessive, the court shall order the requesting party to pay the witness the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in defending the petition, including attorney's fees.

The filing of a complaint and pursuit of conciliation or remedy under this part shall not prejudice the complainant's right to pursue effective judicial relief under other applicable laws, but if a civil action has been filed under Section 52 of the Civil Code, the department shall terminate proceedings upon notification of the entry of final judgment unless such judgment is a dismissal entered at the complainant's request.

(b) The Attorney General, the commission, or the director may, in a like manner, make, sign, and file such complaints citing practices which appear to violate the purpose of this part or any specific provisions of this part relating to housing discrimination.

No complaint may be filed after the expiration of 60 days from the date upon which the alleged violation occurred. This period may be extended for not to exceed 60 days following the expiration of the initial 60 days, if a person allegedly aggrieved by such violation first obtained knowledge of the facts of such alleged violation after the expiration of the initial 60 days from date of its occurrence.

(c) The department may thereupon proceed upon such complaint in the same manner and with the same powers as provided in this part in the case of an unlawful practice.

Such contractual provisions shall be fully and effectively enforced.

(e) Where a contractor or subcontractor is required to prepare an affirmative action, equal employment, or nondiscrimination program subject to review and approval by a federal compliance agency, that program may be filed with the department, instead of any nondiscrimination program regularly required by this section or its implementing rules and regulations. Such a program shall constitute a prima facie demonstration of compliance with this section. Where the department or a federal compliance agency has required the preparation of an affirmative action, equal employment, or nondiscrimination program subject to review and approval by the department or a federal compliance agency, evidence of such a program shall also constitute prima facie compliance with an ordinance or regulation of any city, city and county, or county which requires an employer to submit such a program to a local awarding agency for its approval prior to becoming a contractor or subcontractor with that agency.

(f) Where the department determines and certifies that the provisions of this section or its implementing rules and regulations are violated or where the commission, after hearing an accusation pursuant to Section 12967, determines a contractor or subcontractor is engaging in practices made unlawful under this part, the department or the commission may recommend appropriate sanctions to the awarding agency. 309. It is the policy of the State of California to make every effort to detect, as early as possible, phenylketonuria and other preventable heritable disorders leading to mental retardation or physical defects.

The State Department of Health Services shall establish a genetic disease unit, which shall coordinate all programs of the state department in the area of genetic disease. The unit shall promote a statewide program of testing information and counseling services and shall have the responsibility of designating tests and regulations to be used in executing this program. The tests shall be in accordance with accepted medical practices and shall be administered to each child born in California at such time as the state department has established appropriate regulations and testing methods. The state department may provide laboratory testing facilities or contract with any laboratory which it deems qualified to conduct tests required under this section. However, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 309.5, provision of laboratory testing facilities by the state department shall be contingent upon the provision of funding therefor by specific appropriation to the Genetic Disease Testing Fund enacted by the Legislature. If moneys appropriated for purposes of this section are not authorized for expenditure to provide laboratory facilities, the state department may nevertheless contract to provide laboratory testing services pursuant to this section and shall perform laboratory services, including, but not limited to, quality control, confirmatory, and emergency testing, necessary to ensure the objectives of this program.

The state department shall charge a fee for any tests performed pursuant to this section. The amount of the fee shall be established and periodically adjusted by the State Director of Health Services in order to meet the costs of this section.

The state department shall inform all hospitals or physicians, or both, of required regulations and tests and may alter or withdraw any such requirements whenever sound medical practice so indicates.

The provisions of this section shall not apply if a parent or guardian of the newborn child objects to a test on the ground that the test conflicts with his or her religious beliefs or practices.

The genetic disease unit is authorized to make grants or contracts for demonstration projects to determine the desirability and feasibility of additional tests or new genetic services or to initiate the development of genetic services in areas of need or to purchase or provide such services from such sums as are appropriated for this purpose.

The genetic disease unit's first task shall be to evaluate and prepare recommendations on the implementation of tests for the detection of the following diseases: galactosemia, histidinemia, galactokinase deficiency, homocystinuria, maple syrup urine disease, hypothyroidism, and tyrosinosis. The genetic disease unit shall prepare and submit a report outlining the compliance with an implementation schedule to the Legislature on or before a date two months after September 14, 1979.

SEC. 99. Section 673 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

673. (a) As used in this section, "exercise the right to cancel" means the act of formally electing to use the right of the insured to cancel any insurance policy in accordance with and subject to the provisions of that policy when the right to use that right of the insured has been transferred or assigned by the insured in writing executed by, or on behalf of, the insured to a lender who has advanced to the insurer the premium for the policy. The transfer or assignment may be by power of attorney or other document. The transfer or assignment may, but need not, be accompanied by an assignment of any unearned premium due the insured on cancellation.

(b) No lender shall exercise the right to cancel a financed insurance policy because of the default of the insured under a premium payment loan agreement except in accordance with this section.

(c) Written notice of the exercise of the right to cancel shall be mailed by the lender to the insurer and to the insured at the address shown on the premium payment loan agreement or his or her last known address, specifying a date five days or more after the date of mailing of such notice as the effective date of cancellation. Any insurer may, in writing delivered to the lender, waive, generally or specifically, the right to receive such notice or notices. A copy of such notice may be mailed to the producer of record if known to the lender, but failure to do so shall not affect any rights granted by this section. This subdivision shall not apply to an industrial loan company.

(d) An industrial loan company shall, in giving the insured 10 days' notice of its intent to cancel pursuant to Section 18608 of the Financial Code, furnish a copy of such notice to the insurance agent or insurance broker indicated on the premium finance agreement. After expiration of the 10-day period, the industrial loan company may thereafter, in the name of the insured, cancel the insurance contract or contracts by mailing to the insurer a written notice of cancellation, and the insurance contract shall be canceled as if the notice of cancellation had been submitted by the insured person, but without requiring the return of the insurance contract or contracts. The industrial loan company shall also mail a notice of cancellation, setting forth the effective date of cancellation of the finance insurance contract, to the insured at his or her last known address and to the insurance agent or insurance broker indicated on the premium finance agreement. For the purposes of this subdivision, the words "premium finance agreement" shall have the same meaning as that specified in Section 18564 of the Financial Code.

(e) A written exercise of that right containing a confirmation of the effective date of cancellation shall be mailed by the lender to the insurer within five days following that effective date of cancellation specified in the notice described in subdivision (c) unless the insured has cured any and all defaults. Cancellation shall be effective on the financed insurance policy without requiring the return of the insurance policy or insurance policies, except as provided in subdivisions (f) and (g), on the confirmation date specified in the written exercise of that right. This subdivision shall not apply to an industrial loan company.

(f) All statutory, regulatory, and contractual restrictions providing that the financed insurance policy may not be canceled unless notice is given to a governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party shall apply where cancellation is effected under this section. The insurer shall give the prescribed notice on behalf of itself or the insured to any governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party on or before the fifth business day after the day it receives the written exercise of cancellation right containing confirmation of the cancellation date from the lender, as provided in subdivision (e), or a written notice of cancellation from an industrial loan company, pursuant to subdivision (d), and shall, for the purpose of the notice, determine the effective date of cancellation as to those persons mentioned in this subdivision only, taking into consideration the number of days' notice required to complete the cancellation.

(g) Whenever such a financed insurance policy is canceled by any party for any reason:

(1) The insurer shall, in accordance with the written agreements of which it has notice, return to the lender such unearned premiums as are due to the lender. The amount of the return premiums shall be based upon the confirmed date of cancellation specified in subdivision (e), or upon the written notice of cancellation specified in subdivision (d) in the case of an industrial loan company, lessened by the amount, if any, to compensate equitably the insurer for carrying the risk of loss as to any governmental agency, mortgagee, or other parties specified in subdivision (f) from that date to the effective date of cancellation as to those parties.

(2) When a financed insurance policy is canceled, or the insured discontinues payments to a lender, the insurer shall calculate the return premium on a pro rata basis. This paragraph shall not apply to any policy issued under an assigned risk plan or to any policy with respect to which the insurer has made a loan to the insured for the purposes of payment of premiums for the policy.

(h) The commissioner may amend the rules and regulations of any assigned risk plan, fair plan, or similar plan to provide for the equitable assignment of insurance risks among insurers now in existence or hereafter established, in such manner as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(i) A lender which sends a written exercise of cancellation right or a written notice of cancellation to an insurer, as provided in subdivision (c), or subdivision (d) in the case of an industrial loan company, thereby represents that he or she has a valid right so to do and to receive the unearned premium. If the lender thereby accomplishes the cancellation and receives an unearned premium, such representation shall be conclusive as between the insurer and the lender. An insurer relying upon the written exercise of that right containing a confirmation of cancellation date and giving, when applicable, notice as required by subdivision (e), shall be relieved from complying with any other duty or form of cancellation required by this code.

(j) This section shall not apply where the insurer exercises its own right to cancel the policy for nonpayment of premium, direct or indirect, or otherwise. Such a cancellation shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the policy, this code, except this section, and any rights of the lender of which the insurer has written notice.

(k) This section shall apply only to contracts entered into between an insured and a lender on or after January 1, 1974.

SEC. 154. Section 17052.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 904 of the Statutes of 1980, is amended and renumbered to read:

17052.3. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in subdivision (h), an amount equal to the amount determined in paragraphs (2) and (3).

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 40 percent of the cost (including installation charges, monthly lease payments but excluding interest charges) incurred by the taxpayer of any energy conservation measure on premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer at the time of installation. Such credit shall not exceed fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500). The owner of the premises on which the energy conservation measure is installed may claim the tax credit for costs incurred; however, an owner-builder or owner-developer of new homes may elect not to claim the energy conservation tax credit for any or all energy conservation measures installed on new homes. If an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for an energy conservation measure, the original purchaser of the new home on which the system is installed may claim the credit provided that the purchaser can confirm the election, if necessary, by a written document signed by the owner-builder or owner-developer.

The energy conservation tax credit shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the energy conservation measure was installed. However, if an owner-builder or owner-developer irrevocably elects not to claim the tax credit for an energy conservation measure, the original purchaser of the new home on which the energy conservation measure is installed may claim the credit for the taxable year during which the purchaser's escrow closed or the taxable year during which the purchaser acquired legal title to the home.

A taxpayer who claimed the energy conservation tax credit in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the energy conservation measure was installed, may in any subsequent year claim an energy conservation tax credit for additional energy conservation measures installed in that tax year.

(3) With regard to premises in California which are owned by the taxpayer, other than dwellings, on which the cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) exceeds six thousand dollars ($6,000), the amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 25 percent of the cost of the energy conservation measure.

(4) If an energy conservation measure serves two or more dwelling units, the owner or owners of the dwellings shall be eligible to receive the credit in proportion to the number of dwelling units served. The amount of the credit shall be determined by dividing the cost (including installation charges but excluding interest charges) of the energy conservation system by the number of dwelling units served by the energy conservation measure, and applying the formula described in paragraph (2) to the per dwelling cost.

In the case of taxpayers who qualify for a refund provided for under this subdivision, whose credits exceed their tax liability computed under this part, minus all other credits provided for in this part, except the credits provided in Section 17061 and 1855.1, such taxpayer shall be allowed a credit to the extent of the taxpayer's tax liability plus a refund in excess of that amount up to, or combined credit and refund equal to, the credit otherwise provided in this section. For the purposes of this subdivision, a taxpayer qualified for a refund means an individual taxpayer whose adjusted gross income is less than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and married taxpayers filing joint returns whose adjusted gross income is less than thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), in the taxable year in which the credit provided in this section is claimed.

(5) Taxpayers who partially own and partially lease an energy conservation measure from a utility or other lessor shall receive a tax credit equal to 40 percent of the purchased portion of the energy conservation measure (including installation charges, but excluding interest charges) and the principal recovery portion of the lease payments (excluding the interest charges) for the first three years of operation or until the energy conservation tax credit allowance terminates, whichever occurs first. Such credit shall not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). In any one year, the tax credit shall apply only to the principal recovery portion of lease payments made during that year and to amounts expended on the purchased portion of the energy conservation measure (including installation charges) during that year. As used in this section, "principal recovery portion" means the cost incurred by the utility in acquiring the energy conservation measure. "Principal recovery portion" does not include interest charges, sales taxes, use taxes, or maintenance expenses.

(6) The basis amount of any energy conservation measure eligible for the credit provided under this section shall be reduced by any grant provided by a public entity for such energy conservation measure.

(7) The credit provided by this section shall be reduced by the amount of any grant or any nonreimbursable financial assistance provided by a utility or a public entity (other than interest charges).

(b) The basis of any energy conservation measure for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(c) With the exception of a husband and wife, if there is more than one owner of a premises on which an energy conservation measure is installed, each owner shall be eligible to receive the energy conservation tax credit in proportion to his or her ownership interests in the premises. In the case of a partnership, the energy conservation tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement. In the case of a husband or wife who files a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(d) The tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to trusts or estates subject to tax under this part. The tax credit provided by this section shall not apply to energy conservation measures required by state laws and regulations pursuant thereto, at the time of installation.

(e) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds such "net tax" may be carried over to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years, with respect to which this section shall remain in effect for purposes of carrying over excess credit, until such credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest years possible.

(f) The Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission shall, after one or more public hearings, adopt regulations which establish minimum standards which any item of a generic category of energy conservation measure, as defined by this section, must meet to be eligible for a conservation tax credit. Such standards shall include minimum provisions for effectiveness, safety and consumer protection which are consistent with standards established pursuant to the National Energy Conservation Policy Act and other applicable federal and state law. The Franchise Tax Board shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section. Regulations adopted by the Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission and the Franchise Tax Board, pursuant to this section, shall be in language which is easily understood by the general public.

(g) (1) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of energy conservation measures in dwelling units, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for an energy conservation measure as defined in this section, the state credit provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) shall be reduced so that the combined effective credit shall not exceed 40 percent of such costs, notwithstanding the carryover provisions of subdivision (f).

(2) If a federal income tax credit is enacted for costs incurred by a taxpayer for the purchase and installation of energy conservation measures in other than dwelling units, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for an energy conservation measure as defined in this section, the state credit provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (a) shall be reduced by the amount of such federal credit.

(3) "Owner" includes duly recorded holders of legal title, lessees with at least three years remaining on their lease, a person purchasing premises under a contract of sale, or who holds shares or membership in a cooperative housing corporation, which holding is a requisite to the exclusive right of occupancy to the premises or a person who is a member of a nonprofit corporation or association which is a duly recorded holder of legal title.

(6) "Energy conservation measure" means any item with a useful life of not less than three years of one of the following generic categories which meets the minimum standards as specified pursuant to subdivision (f):

(A) Ceiling insulation.

(B) Weatherstripping of all doors and windows which lead to unheated or uncooled areas so as to effectively and reliably limit air infiltration.

(C) An external water heater insulation blanket.

(D) Low flow devices on all accessible shower heads.

(F) Insulating all accessible insulated transverse heating and cooling system ducts and plenums which enter or leave unheated or uncooled areas.

(G) Covers for swimming pools or hot tubs which transmit the sun's radiation energy into the water, reduce heat loss and water evaporation.

(H) Such other measures or devices as may be designated "residential energy conservation measures" approved and adopted as part of an appropriate Residential Conservation Service Plan pursuant to the provisions of Section 210 of Title II of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (92 Stat. 3206) and recommended as the result of an audit conducted under the auspices of such a plan. This generic category includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(i) Electrical or mechanical furnace ignition systems which replace gas pilot lights.

(ii) Devices modifying the openings of heating and cooling systems which achieve increased efficiency.

(iii) Storm or thermal windows or doors for the exterior of dwellings, multiglazed windows and doors, or movable insulation such as shutters or thermal drapes, which substantially reduce the energy needed for space heating and cooling.

CHAPTER 461

An act to amend Sections 328 and 626 of, and to add Sections 307.5 and 626.5 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to juvenile court law.

[Approved by Governor July 7, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 8, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 307.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

307.5. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 307, an officer who takes a minor suspected of being a person described in Section 300 into temporary custody pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 305 may, in a case where he or she deems that it is in the best interest of the minor and the public, take the minor to a community service program for abused or neglected children. Organizations or programs receiving referrals pursuant to this section shall have a contract or an agreement with the county to provide shelter care or counseling. Employees of a program receiving referrals pursuant to this section are "child care custodians" for the purpose of the requirements of Section 11166 of the Penal Code. The receiving organization shall take immediate steps to notify the minor's parent, guardian, or a responsible relative of the place to which the minor was taken.

SEC. 2. Section 328 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

328. Whenever the probation officer has cause to believe that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a person within the provisions of Section 300, the probation officer shall immediately make such investigation as he or she deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court should be commenced. However, this section does not require an investigation by the probation officer with respect to a minor delivered or referred to any agency pursuant to Section 307.5, unless that agency requests the probation officer to do so.

The probation officer shall interview any minor four years of age or older who is a subject of an investigation, and who is in juvenile hall or other custodial facility, or has been removed to a foster home, to ascertain the minor's view of the home environment. If proceedings are commenced, the probation officer shall include the substance of the interview in any written report submitted at an adjudicatory hearing, or if no report is then received in evidence, the probation officer shall include the substance of the interview in the social study required by Section 358.

SEC. 3. Section 626 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

626. If an officer who takes a minor into temporary custody under the provisions of Section 625 determines that the minor does not need to be brought to the attention of the juvenile court, he or she shall take one of the following actions:

(a) He or she may release the minor.

(b) He or she may deliver or refer the minor to a public or private agency with which the city or county has an agreement or plan to provide shelter care, counseling, or diversion services to minors so delivered. In determining which disposition of the minor he or she will make, the officer shall prefer the alternative which least restricts the minor's freedom of movement, if that alternative is compatible with the best interests of the minor and the community.

SEC. 3. Section 626.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

626.5. If an officer who takes a minor into temporary custody under the provisions of Section 625 determines that the minor should be brought to the attention of the juvenile court, he or she shall take one of the following actions:

(a) He or she may prepare in duplicate a written notice to appear before the probation officer of the county in which the minor was notice shall also contain a concise statement of the reasons the minor was taken into custody. The officer shall deliver one copy of the notice to the minor or to a parent, guardian, or responsible relative of the minor and may require the minor or his or her parent, guardian, or relative, or both, to sign a written promise that either or both will appear at the time and place designated in the notice. Upon the execution of the promise to appear, the officer shall immediately release the minor. The officer shall, as soon as practicable, file one copy of the notice with the probation officer.

(b) He or she may take the minor without unnecessary delay before the probation officer of the county in which the minor was taken into custody, or in which the minor resides, or in which the acts took place or the circumstances exist which are alleged to bring the minor within the provisions of Section 601 or 602, and deliver the custody of the minor to the probation officer. In no case shall he or she delay the delivery of the minor to the probation officer for more than 24 hours if the minor has been taken into custody without a warrant on the belief that he has committed a misdemeanor.

In determining which disposition of the minor he or she will make, the officer shall prefer the alternative which least restricts the minor's freedom of movement, provided that alternative is compatible with the best interests of the minor and the community.

The committee may also appoint occasional professional commissioners for short-term specified periods to assist in its nonpolicy workload.

Public commissioners may examine and evaluate candidates in areas of knowledge such as the law, ethics, and awareness of community resources.

SEC. 4. Section 2960 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2960. The committee may order the denial of an application for, or issue with terms and conditions, or the suspension for a period not exceeding one year, or the revocation of, or the imposition of probationary conditions upon, a license or registration for any of the following causes:

if the act for which the disciplinary action was taken constitutes a violation of this section.

SEC. 8. Section 2971 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2971. Whenever any person other than a licensed psychologist has engaged in any act or practice which constitutes an offense against this chapter, the superior court of any county, on application of the committee, may issue an injunction or other appropriate order restraining such conduct. Proceedings under this section shall be governed by Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7, Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that it shall be presumed that there is no adequate remedy at law, and that irreparable damage will occur if the continued violation is not restrained or enjoined. A licensed psychologist who holds an inactive license shall pay a biennial renewal fee, fixed by the committee, at not more than forty dollars ($40), shall otherwise be subject to the provisions of this chapter and shall not engage in the practice of psychology in this state. Licensees on inactive status who have not committed any acts or crimes constituting grounds for denial of licensure may, upon their request and payment of the biennial active license renewal fee, have their license to practice psychology reinstated.

SEC. 11. No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

The board may, thereafter, divest the district of the power to carry on those activities in the same manner as it may acquire the power.

This section applies to all materials and supplies whether patented or otherwise.

20112. For the purpose of securing bids the board shall publish at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the district, or if there is no such paper, then in some newspaper of general circulation, circulated in the county a notice calling for bids, stating the work to be done or materials or supplies to be furnished and the time when and the place where bids will be opened. Whether or not bids are opened exactly at the time fixed in the public notice for opening bids, a bid shall not be received after that time.

20113. In an emergency when any repairs, alterations, work or improvement is necessary to permit the continuance of existing school classes, or to avoid danger to life or property, the board may by unanimous vote, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, make a contract in writing or otherwise on behalf of the district for the performance of labor and furnishing of materials or supplies for the purpose without advertising for or inviting bids.

20114. In each school district, the governing board may make repairs, alterations, additions, or painting, repainting, or decorating upon school buildings, repair or build apparatus or equipment, make improvements on the school grounds, erect new buildings, and perform maintenance as defined in Section 20115 by day labor, or by force account, whenever the total cost of labor on the job does not exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500), or the total number of hours on the job does not exceed 350 hours, whichever is greater, provided that in any school district having an average daily attendance of 35,000 or greater, the governing board may, in addition, make repairs to school buildings, grounds, apparatus or equipment, including painting or repainting, and perform maintenance as defined in Section 20115, by day labor or by force account whenever the total cost of labor on the job does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), or the total number of hours on the job does not exceed 750 hours, whichever is greater.

For purposes of this section, day labor shall include the use of maintenance personnel employed on a permanent or temporary basis.

20115. For purposes of Section 20114, "maintenance" means routine, recurring, and usual work for the preservation, protection, and keeping of any publicly owned or publicly operated facility for its intended purposes in a safe and continually usable condition for which it was designed, improved, constructed, altered, or repaired. "Facility" means any plant, building, structure, ground facility, utility system, or real property.

This definition of "maintenance" expressly includes, but is not limited to: carpentry, electrical, plumbing, glazing, and other craftwork designed consistent with the definition set forth above to preserve the facility in a safe, efficient, and continually usable condition for which it was intended, including repairs, cleaning, and other operations on machinery and other equipment permanently attached to the building or realty as fixtures.

This definition does not include, among other types of work, janitorial or custodial services and protection of the sort provided by guards or other security forces.

It is the intent of the Legislature that this definition does not include painting, repainting, or decorating other than touchup, but instead it is the intent of the Legislature that such activities be controlled directly by the provisions of Section 20114.

20116. It shall be unlawful to split or separate into smaller work orders or projects any project for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article requiring work to be done by contract after competitive bidding.

The district shall maintain job orders or similar records indicating the total cost expended on each project in accordance with the procedures established in the most recent edition of the California School Accounting Manual for a period of not less than three years after completion of the project.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 20111, informal bidding may be used on projects estimated by the district to cost up to and including the limits set forth in Section 20114. For the purpose of securing informal bids, the board shall publish annually in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, or if there is no such newspaper, then in some newspaper in general circulation in the county, a notice inviting contractors to register to be notified of future informal bidding projects. All contractors included on the informal bidding list shall be given notice of all informal bid projects in such manner as the district deems appropriate.

Article 3.5.

20120. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts awarded by counties subject to Title 3 (commencing with Section 23000) of the Government Code.

20122. In counties containing a population of 500,000 or over, the work referred to in Section 20121 need not be done by contract if the estimated cost thereof is less than six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500), exclusive of the estimated cost of materials or supplies to be furnished pursuant to Section 20133.

20123. In counties containing a population of 2,000,000 or over, the provisions of Sections 20121 and 20122 do not apply to alteration or repair work upon county-owned buildings, if the cost of such work is under fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), and if before the work is authorized the board of supervisors determines that detailed plans for the existing building are obsolete or do not exist and that because of the age or condition of the building it is impracticable to have detailed plans and specifications prepared for the proposed work.

20123.5. In any county, it is unlawful to split or separate into smaller work orders or projects any public work project for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article requiring public work to be done by contract after competitive bidding. Every person who willfully violates the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

20124. The board of supervisors shall adopt plans, specifications, strain sheets, and working details for the work.

20125. The board shall cause an advertisement for bids for the performance of the work to be published pursuant to Section 6062 of the Government Code in a daily newspaper, or pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code in a weekly newspaper, of general circulation published in the county. If there is no such newspaper published in the county, the notice shall be given by posting in three public places for at least two weeks.

20126. Any notice inviting bids which specifies locations of possible materials, such as a borrow pit or gravel bed, for use in the proposed construction project which would be subject to Section 1601 or Section 1603 of the Fish and Game Code shall include any conditions or modifications established pursuant to Section 1601 of the Fish and Game Code.

20127. All bidders shall be afforded opportunity to examine the plans, specifications, strain sheets, and working details.

20128. The board shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and the person to whom the contract is awarded shall perform the work in accordance with the plans, specifications, strain sheets, and working details, unless the contract is modified by a four-fifths vote of the board.

20129. The person to whom the contract is awarded shall execute a bond to be approved by the board for the faithful performance of the contract.

20130. If the board of supervisors is advised by the county surveyor or engineer that any wharf, chute, or other shipping facility can be constructed or repaired for a sum less than the lowest responsible bid, it may reject all bids and order the work done by day's work under the supervision and direction of the surveyor or engineer.

20131. In counties employing a purchasing agent, furnishings, materials, supplies and employment of independent contractors used in the construction or repair of any of the works mentioned in Section 20121 costing not more than six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500) in total may be purchased by the purchasing agent in accordance with Article 7 (commencing with Section 25500) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of Title 3 of the Government Code without the formality of obtaining bids, letting contracts, preparing specifications, and the other things required by this article and Article 7 (commencing with Section 25500) of Chapter 5 of Division

2 of Title 3 of the Government Code for purchases or contracts costing more than six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500).

In counties employing purchasing agents, purchases or contracts for medical or surgical equipment or supplies, or for professional services, for a county hospital may be made without competitive bidding, so long as an appropriation for the costs of such purchases or contracts is included in the county budget.

As used in this section, "medical or surgical equipment or supplies" means only equipment or supplies commonly, necessarily, and directly used by or under the direction of a physician and surgeon in caring for or treating a patient in a hospital.

20132. The board of supervisors of any county may delegate to the county administrative officer or the county executive officer in an equivalent position, the power to enter into and execute on behalf of the county any contracts, which do not involve the expenditure of more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), which relate to purposes previously approved and budgeted by the board of supervisors, subject to ratification of such approval and execution by the board of supervisors. This section shall not apply to:

(a) Matters within the purview of Section 20131.

(b) Contracts for the construction of public improvements.

(c) Contracts which must be awarded after public notice and competitive bidding.

20133. In counties containing a population of 500,000 or over and employing a purchasing agent, furnishings, materials and supplies to be used in the construction or repair of any of the works mentioned in Section 20121 and estimated as costing not more than three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) may be purchased by the purchasing agent in accordance with Article 7 (commencing with Section 25500) of Chapter 5 of Division 2 of Title 3 of the Government Code without the formality of obtaining bids, letting contracts, preparing specifications, or the other things required by this article, and the estimated cost thereof shall not be considered or included in the estimate of the cost of construction for the purposes of Sections 20121 and 20122.

20134. In cases of great emergency, including, but not limited to, states of emergency described in Section 8558 of the Government Code, when repair or replacements are necessary to permit the continued conduct of county operations or services, or to avoid danger to life or property, the board of supervisors, by majority consent, may proceed at once to replace or repair any and all structures without adopting the plans, specifications, strain sheets, or working details or giving notice for bids to let contract. The work may be done by day labor under the direction of the board, by contract, or by a combination of the two. If the work is done wholly or in part by contract, the contractor shall be paid the actual cost of the use of machinery and tools and of material, and labor and compensation insurance expended by him or her in doing the work, plus not more than 15 percent to cover all profits and administration.

No more than the lowest current market prices shall be paid for materials whenever possible. The board may waive the requirements of Section 4200 of the Government Code for work performed pursuant to this section.

20135. The plans and specifications adopted by the board for the erection, alteration, construction, or repair of any public building or other public structure shall not be altered or changed in any manner which increases its cost, except by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the board of supervisors.

20136. Whenever the board enters into a contract for the erection, construction, alteration, or repair of any public building or other structure, the contract shall not be altered or changed in any manner, except:

(a) As provided in Section 20142.

(b) As provided for in the contract itself, or specifications.

(c) By order adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the board, and the consent of the contractor.

20137. If any change or alteration of the contract is ordered, it shall be specified in writing by a duly authorized officer of the county. The cost of such change or alteration must be agreed upon between the board and the contractor unless the contract includes a provision to determine a fair and equitable price for the change or alteration. Such a provision may provide for any method of determining the price common in commercial transactions, including, but not limited to, arbitration or cost plus a fixed fee. If the cost so agreed upon:

(a) Does not exceed the amounts specified in Sections 20121 and 21031, or

(b) Does not exceed 10 percent of the original contract price, the board may authorize the contractor to proceed with the change or alteration without the formality of obtaining bids therefor.

No change or alteration shall be authorized the amount of which is within the limitation specified in subdivision (b) and in excess of the limitation specified in subdivision (a) except by four-fifths vote of the board.

20138. If the cost of the work is reduced by reason of any modification of the contract, compensation shall be made to the county therefor.

20139. The board shall not pay or become liable for any extra work done on, or extra material furnished for, any building or structure in the course of performance of a contract let pursuant to this article except in accordance with Section 25142, unless the contract specifically provides for such payment or the contract is changed or modified in the manner provided for in this article.

20140. The method of payment for construction contracts shall be determined by the board, including progress payments for completed portions of the work and for materials delivered on the ground or stored subject to the control of the board and unused.

20141. The provisions of this article shall not apply to the construction of any public building used for facilities of juvenile forestry camps or juvenile homes, ranches or camps established under Article 15 (commencing with Section 880) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, if a major portion of the construction work is to be performed by wards of the juvenile court assigned to such camps, ranches, or homes.

20142. The board of supervisors may, by board order, authorize the county engineer, or other county officer, to order changes or additions in the work being performed under construction contracts. When so authorized, any change or addition in the work shall be ordered in writing by the county engineer, or other designated officer, and the extra cost to the county for any change or addition to the work so ordered shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) when the total amount of the original contract does not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), nor 10 percent of the amount of any original contract which exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). In no event shall any such change or alteration exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

20143. The board may cause the insertion of provisions in any contract for the erection, construction, alteration, or repair of any public building or structure, or in the specifications therefor, for the performance of such extra work and the furnishing of materials therefor by the contractor as the board, county engineer, or other duly authorized officer requires for the proper completion or construction of the whole work contemplated.

20144. The provisions of this article do not apply to any contract which is entered into between Napa County and the State of California or any agency of the executive department of the State of California, for the alteration or repair of the structure located in Napa County and known as the Old Bale Mill.

20145. In counties containing a population of 6,000,000 or over, the board of supervisors may by ordinance authorize such county officer as is deemed appropriate to take or perform any or all acts or actions permitted or required of the board by this article, including the authority to adopt and advertise plans and specifications, award contracts, approve bonds, or order the change or alteration of contracts, with respect to original contracts which do not exceed the total amount of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), or with respect to changes or alterations to original contracts entered into by the board where the changes or alterations do not exceed 10 percent of the amount of the original contract or seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), whichever is less. The aggregate total amount of such changes or alterations to an original contract may not exceed 25 percent of the amount of the original contract. Any authorization pursuant to this section shall include detailed procedures governing the county officer in the exercise of such authority.

Article 4.

20160. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts awarded by cities subject to Title 4 (commencing with Section 34000) of the Government Code.

(a) A project for the erection, improvement, painting, or repair of public buildings and works.

(b) Work in or about streams, bays, waterfronts, embankments, or other work for protection against overflow.

(c) Street or sewer work except maintenance or repair.

(d) Furnishing supplies or materials for any such project, including maintenance or repair of streets or sewers.

20162. When the expenditure required for a public project exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000), it shall be contracted for and let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice.

20163. It shall be unlawful to split or separate into smaller work orders or projects any public work project for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article requiring public work to be done by contract after competitive bidding. Every person who willfully violates this provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

20164. The notice inviting bids shall set a date for the opening of bids. The first publication or posting of the notice shall be at least 10 days before the date of opening the bids. Notice shall be published at least twice, not less than five days apart, in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the city, or if there is none, it shall be posted in at least three public places in the city that have been designated by ordinance as the places for posting public notices. The notice shall distinctly state the project to be done.

20165. Any notice inviting bids, which specifies locations of possible materials, such as a borrow pit or gravel bed, for use in the proposed construction project which would be subject to Section 1601 or Section 1603 of the Fish and Game Code, shall include any conditions or modifications established pursuant to Section 1601 of the Fish and Game Code.

20166. In its discretion, the legislative body may reject any bids presented and readvertise. If two or more bids are the same and the lowest, the legislative body may accept the one it chooses. If no bids are received, the legislative body may have the project done without further complying with this chapter.

20167. After rejecting bids, the legislative body may pass a resolution by a four-fifths vote of its members declaring that the project can be performed more economically by day labor, or the materials or supplies furnished at a lower price in the open market. Upon adoption of the resolution, it may have the project done in the manner stated without further complying with this chapter.

20168. If there is a great public calamity, as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic, or other disaster, or if it is necessary to do emergency work to prepare for national or local defense, the legislative body may pass a resolution by a four-fifths vote of its members declaring that the public interest and necessity demand the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health, or property. Upon adoption of the resolution, it may expend any sum required in the emergency without complying with this chapter.

20169. Annually before the beginning of the fiscal year, in cities where there is more than one newspaper of general circulation printed and published, the legislative body shall publish a notice inviting bids and contract for the publication of legal notices required to be published in such a newspaper. The contract shall include the printing and publishing of all such legal notices during the fiscal year.

If there is only one such newspaper, the legislative body may contract with it without advertising for bids.

20170. All bids shall be presented under sealed cover and accompanied by one of the following forms of bidder's security:

(a) Cash.

(b) Cashier's check made payable to the city.

(c) A certified check made payable to the city.

(d) A bidder's bond executed by an admitted surety insurer, made payable to the city.

20171. The security shall be in an amount equal to at least 10 percent of the amount bid. A bid shall not be considered unless one of the forms of bidder's security is enclosed with it.

20172. If the successful bidder fails to execute the contract, the amount of the bidder's security shall be forfeited to the city except as hereinafter provided.

20173. The cash or proceeds shall be deposited in the fund out of which the expenses of preparation and printing of the plans and specifications, estimates of cost, and publication of notice are paid.

20174. The city council may, on refusal or failure of the successful bidder to execute the contract, award it to the next lowest responsible bidder. If the legislative body awards the contract to the second lowest bidder, the amount of the lowest bidder's security shall be applied by the city to the difference between the low bid and the second lowest bid, and the surplus, if any, shall be returned to the lowest bidder if cash or a check is used, or to the surety on the bidder's bond if a bond is used.

All bidders shall be afforded an opportunity to examine such plans and specifications and the district shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. The person or corporation to whom the contract is awarded shall be required to execute a bond for the faithful performance of the contract. labor and do all other things necessary for the doing of the work. When any part of the work is to be done or performed by any public body or by the United States jointly or in conjunction with the authority, the portion of the cost thereof to be borne by the authority may be turned over to the government of the United States or to any other public body to be expended by it in the acquisition, construction or completion of the system or any part thereof. Construction contracts entered into by the authority shall not be subject to the provisions of the State Contract Act and shall be governed solely by the provisions of this act, except that the provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing at Section 4200), Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code are hereby expressly made applicable to the system or any part thereof under this act. Any such contracts may be entered into in such manner and upon such terms as the authority deems advisable.

Article 25.

20390. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by boards of supervisors for the construction, repair, or maintenance of a county highway, as provided for in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1070) of Division 2 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20391. Whenever the board of supervisors finds that the estimated expense of any necessary work upon any county highway exceeds the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the board shall order definite surveys of the proposed work to be made and shall direct the preparation of profiles, cross sections, plans, and specifications.

20392. Upon receipt of such profiles, cross sections, plans, and specifications, the board shall publish a notice calling for sealed bids for the performance of the work specified. The notice shall refer to said profiles, cross sections, plans, and specifications, and shall set a time at which bids will be opened. The board shall cause this notice to be published for at least 10 consecutive times, prior to the date set for opening bids, in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county and designated by the board, or for at least two consecutive times prior to such date in a weekly newspaper printed and published in the county and designated by the board.

20393. At the time specified in the notice, the board shall publicly open all bids received and shall award the contract for the work to the lowest responsible bidder, unless the board finds that the bids are too high, and that the work can be done more cheaply by day labor. In such case, the board shall reject the bids and order the work to be done by the road commissioners in whose districts the work is situated. In any case, the board may reject all bids and advertise for new bids in the manner specified in this article. The board may provide, by resolution, that the bids be opened, examined, and declared by an officer designated in the resolution. Any such resolution shall require that the bids be opened at a public meeting called by the officer and that the results of the bidding be reported to the board at a subsequent regular board meeting. The notice inviting bids shall state the time and place of the public meeting and the name of the designated officer.

20394. Whenever the board finds that the estimated expense of any work to be done upon any county highway is twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less, the board or the purchasing agent may let a contract covering both work and material, or purchase the material and let a contract for doing the work, or purchase the materials and do the work by day labor, without calling for bids.

20395. In any county which has appointed a road commissioner pursuant to Section 2006 of the Streets and Highways Code, the board may authorize such road commissioner to have any work upon county highways done under his or her supervision and direction. Such work may be done:

(a) By letting a contract covering both work and material. In such event the contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder as provided in this article.

(b) By purchasing the material and letting a contract for the performance of the work. In such event the material shall be bought at the lowest possible cost and the contract let to the lowest responsible bidder as provided in this article.

(c) By purchasing the material and having the work done by day labor, in which case advertising for bids is not required.

(d) By authorizing the county road commissioner to execute changes for any such contract in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) for contracts of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less, or 10 percent for contracts over fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), but in no event to exceed a net total addition of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

(e) By purchasing the material and letting a contract for the work or by letting a contract covering both work and material without advertising for bids when the estimated cost of emergency work necessitated by the imminence or occurrence of a landslide, flood, storm damage, or other emergency exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) and the public interest and necessity demand immediate action to safeguard life, health, or property.

20396. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in any county employing a competent engineer as road commissioner, the board of supervisors may elect to perform work or projects or let contracts for the performance of work or projects under the provisions of the State Contract Act pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10100) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code; and when such election is made, references in said act to state shall mean county, and references to any state agency shall mean county board of supervisors, or such county agency as the board of supervisors may designate, and the provisions of said act shall be fully applicable to work or projects so to be performed by the county.

20397. In counties containing a population of two million or over and employing a registered engineer as road commissioner, the board of supervisors may authorize the moving, relocation, or reestablishment of detention camps by force account or day labor where such camps are used in connection with county highway construction or maintenance work, if the board determines that such work of moving, relocation, or reestablishment can be done more economically and satisfactorily by force account or day labor than by contract, and that the total estimated cost of new or additional building structural materials necessary to be purchased in order to perform such work does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

20398. The board shall cause the highway work, provided for in this article, to be done in accordance with the provisions of Sections 20391 to 20395, inclusive, except that the notice calling for bids shall be published in a newspaper published in the division if there is such a newspaper. The successful bidder shall give a bond in such sum as the board requires, conditioned on the faithful performance of the contract, and on the payment of all labor employed and material used in the work. The bondsmen shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of all such labor employed and material used.

Article 26.

20400. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by boards of supervisors for the construction, maintenance and repair of a county bridge or subway, as provided for in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1300) of Division 2 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20401. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, may construct, operate, manage or maintain summer bridges under such rules and regulations and at such times and places as they consider necessary. The boards shall cause any expenditure with regard to such bridges to be paid out of the county general fund.

20402. Except as provided in Sections 20406 to 20408, inclusive, whenever the cost of construction or repair of any bridge will exceed the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), such construction or repair shall be done by contract.

20403. Whenever the board of supervisors finds that the estimated expense of any work to be done on any county bridge is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or less, the board or the purchasing agent may let a contract covering both work and material, or purchase the materials and let a contract for doing the work, without calling for bids.

20404. The board of supervisors shall adopt plans, specifications, and working details for such construction or repair and shall cause a notice, calling for bids therefor, to be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county. Such notice shall be published for at least 10 consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the county or for at least two consecutive times in a weekly newspaper published in the county. If there is no newspaper published in the county, such notice shall be given by posting in three public places in the county for at least two weeks.

20405. The board shall afford all bidders an opportunity to examine such plans, specifications, and working details, and shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. The board may provide by resolution that the bids be opened, examined, and declared by an officer designated in the resolution. Any such resolution shall require that the bids be opened at a public meeting called by the officer and that the results of the bidding be reported to the board at a subsequent regular board meeting. The notice inviting bids shall state the time and place of the public meeting and the name of the designated officer. The person to whom the contract is awarded shall execute a bond, approved by the board for the faithful performance of the contract. Such person shall perform the work in accordance with the plans, specifications, and working details, unless all or any of them are modified by a four-fifths vote of the members of the board. In every such case if the cost of the work is reduced by reason of the modification, the person to whom the contract is awarded shall make an allowance on the contract price to the extent of such reduction.

20406. If the board of supervisors is advised by the county surveyor or, in a county not having a county surveyor, by the officer having similar duties and authority, that the work can be done for a sum less than the lowest responsible bid, the board may reject all bids and order the work done by day labor, under the supervision and direction of the county surveyor or officer having similar duties and authority. In such case, the road commissioners in their respective districts shall employ all labor required, and direct the conduct of the work.

20407. In the event of great emergency, including, but not limited to, states of disaster defined in Section 1505 of the Military and Veterans Code, upon the majority vote of the board, the board may proceed at once to replace or repair any and all bridges without adopting plans, specifications, strain sheets or working details, without letting contracts or without calling for bids. Such work may be done by day labor under the direction of the board, or by contract, or by a combination of the two. If done wholly or in part by contract, the contractor shall be paid the actual cost of use of machinery and tools and of material and labor expended by him in doing the work, plus not more than 15 percent to cover all profits, supervision, and any other expense. No more than the lowest current market prices shall be paid for materials.

20408. Whenever any county has appointed a road commissioner for all road districts in the county as authorized by Section 2006 of the Streets and Highways Code, or whenever any county has adopted a county charter pursuant to Section 4 of Article XI of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a road commissioner as a county officer, and for the organization of a permanent road department for the construction, improvement, and maintenance of highways and bridges, such road commissioner shall have charge of the construction and maintenance of all county bridges in the county, under the order and direction of the board of supervisors as provided in Section 1332 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20409. The board of supervisors may authorize such road commissioner to employ such workmen and purchase such materials, equipment, tools, and appliances and cause such work to be done as is necessary to construct or maintain such bridges and to keep them in repair without adopting plans and specifications, or working details and without advertising for bids as required in Sections 20402, 20403, and 20404. The cost of such construction, maintenance or repair shall be paid out of the county road funds or out of the county general fund.

Article 27.

20410. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by legislative bodies for the doing of work or the furnishing of materials, supplies and equipment, as provided for in the Improvement Act of 1911, Division 7 (commencing with Section 5000) of the Streets and Highways Code.

20411. Before the legislative body awards any contract for doing any work or for furnishing materials, supplies and equipment or any portion thereof, authorized by this division, the legislative body shall pass a resolution ordering the work.

20412. Notice shall be posted inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing such work, or for furnishing materials, supplies and equipment or any portion thereof. Notice inviting such proposals, and referring to the specifications on file, shall be published, but if there is no newspaper published in the city, then it shall only be posted. The time fixed for the opening of the bids shall be not less than 10 days from the time of the first publication or posting of the notice.

Said notices shall state the estimated cost of any acquisition, which estimated cost is required to be advanced as a part of the incidental expenses referred to in Section 5256 of the Streets and Highways Code, at the time of entering into the contract.

20413. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check or a certified check payable to the city, for an amount which shall not be less than 10 percent of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for that amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double that amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions, or by a corporate surety bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets.

20414. The proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk, or any other officer designated by the legislative body, and the legislative body shall, in open session publicly open, examine and declare the same. If the legislative body by resolution so provides the proposals or bids may be opened, examined and declared by an officer designated in the resolution. Any such resolution shall require that the proposals or bids be opened at a public meeting called by the officer designated who shall report the results of the bidding to the legislative body at the next regular meeting after the opening of the bids. In the event of such resolution the notice inviting bids shall state the time and place of said public meeting and the officer so designated. No proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by the check or bond satisfactory to the legislative body.

20415. The legislative body may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the city, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work or improvement to the lowest responsible bidder at the prices named in his bid. If the bids are rejected the legislative body shall thereupon return to each bidder the check or bond which accompanied his bid.

20416. Whenever the total amount bid by the lowest responsible bidder plus the estimated amount of incidental costs would result in assessments under this division which exceed by more than 15 percent the engineer's estimate of cost of the proposed work to be assessed, as stated in the "Notice of Improvement" referred to in Section 5193 of the Streets and Highways Code, the legislative body shall direct the clerk to give notice by mail of such increase over the estimated cost.

20417. If the bids are rejected or no bids are received the legislative body may readvertise for proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, without further proceedings, and thereafter proceed in the manner provided in this chapter.

20418. The check or bond accompanying any proposal or bid which is accepted shall be held by the clerk until the contract for doing the work has been entered into, either by the lowest bidder or by the owners of three-fourths part of the frontage, whereupon the certified check or bond shall be returned to the bidder. If the bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract to perform the work, the certified check accompanying his bid and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared to be forfeited to the city and shall be collected by it and paid into the general fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount due thereon collected and paid into the general fund.

20419. If any local, state or national agency or authority contributes the labor, or labor and any portion of the materials, supplies or equipment necessary for the construction of any improvement authorized under this division, the contract shall be for only those items which are not contributed by any such agency or authority. If proposals or bids are invited only for the furnishing of materials, supplies and equipment or any portion thereof not furnished by such agency or authority, the notice shall contain a statement to the effect that the legislative body may cancel the order for any undelivered materials, supplies or equipment by giving the successful bidder 24 hours notice of the cancellation, in which event the successful bidder will be entitled to compensation for only so much of the material, supplies and equipment as has been used prior to the giving of such notice of cancellation at the prescribed unit rates stated in the contract, and that the contractor shall agree to accept the return of any and all materials and supplies not used prior to the giving of such notice.

20420. Notice of the award of the contract shall be published by the clerk.

The clerk shall, upon payment of the statutory fee prescribed therefor, record a notice of the award of contract in the office of the county recorder. Said recordation shall constitute notice to all persons that all property within the boundaries of the proposed assessment district shall be assessed at the time of the confirmation of the assessment under Chapter 16 (commencing at Section 5360) of Part 3 of Division 7 of the Streets and Highways Code to pay the costs of the improvement in proportion to the benefits which the property receives from the improvement, notwithstanding the acquisition of the property by the state or any of its agencies, or by any county, city, municipality or other public or municipal corporation. Said notice shall be substantially as follows:

This shall constitute notice to all persons that all property within 20421. The owners of three-fourths of the area of lands liable to be assessed, or their agents (who shall make oath that they are such owners or agents) shall not be required to present sealed proposals or bids, but may within 10 days after the first publication, or first posting if there is no publication, of the notice of the award of the contract, elect to take the work and enter into a written contract to do the whole work at the price at which the same has been awarded, and all work done under such contract shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance of the legislative body.

20422. If the owners fail to elect to take the work, and to enter into a written contract therefor within 10 days, or to commence the work within 15 days after the date of the written contract, and to prosecute the same with diligence to completion, the superintendent of streets shall enter into a contract with the original bidder to whom the contract was awarded, and at the prices specified in his bid.

20423. If the original bidder neglects, fails or refuses, for 25 days after the first publication of the notice of the award of the contract, to enter into the contract, the legislative body, without further proceedings, shall again advertise for and receive proposals or bids, as in the first instance, and award the contract for the work to the then lowest regular bidder.

20424. If no bids are received in response to this second call for bids, the legislative body may again advertise for and receive bids under the same proceedings at any time and let the contract to the then lowest bidder, and such delay shall in no way affect the validity of any of the proceedings or assessments levied thereunder.

20425. The bids of all persons and the election of all owners who have previously failed to enter into the contract shall be rejected in any bidding or election subsequent to the first for the same work.

20426. All contractors, contracting owners included, shall, at the time of executing any contract for the work, execute either a corporate surety bond or a bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets, with two or more individual sureties and payable to the city, in a sum not less than 25 percent of the amount of the contract, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract; and the sureties shall justify before any person competent to administer an oath, in double the amount mentioned in the bond, over and above all statutory exemptions.

20427. At any time prior to publication and posting notice inviting bids, the legislative body by resolution, may determine that in the event that the contractor, contracting owners included, does not complete the work within the time limit specified in the contract or within such further time as the legislative body shall have authorized, the contractor or contracting owners, as the case may be, shall pay to the city liquidated damages in the amount fixed by the legislative body in said resolution. The amount so fixed is valid as liquidated damages unless manifestly unreasonable under the circumstances existing at the time the contract was made. If such determination is made, the plans or specifications and the contract shall contain provisions in accordance therewith.

Any moneys received by the city on account of such liquidated damages shall be applied as follows:

(1) If received prior to confirmation of the assessment, such moneys shall be applied as a contribution against the assessment.

(2) If received after the confirmation of the assessment, such moneys shall be applied in the manner provided in Section 5132.1 of the Streets and Highways Code for the disposition of excess acquisition funds.

(3) If a contribution has theretofore been made or ordered by any agency, the legislative body may order a refund to the contributing agency in the proportion which said contribution bears to the total costs and expenses of the work.

20428. If the owner or contractor who may have taken any contract does not complete the work within the time limited in the contract, or within such further time as the legislative body may give him, or abandons or fails to proceed with the work, the legislative body may declare him in default and may either relet all or any portion of the work, or it may complete the work by direct purchase of labor and materials, and the owner or contractor shall pay to the city the entire cost of completing the work before the warrant is delivered to the owner or contractor.

Notice of the declaration of default shall be given by the clerk of the legislative body to the owner or contractor by personal service or by mail. Upon receipt of such notice, the owner or contractor shall forthwith quit the work, and shall receive no payment for any work performed thereafter, unless ordered by the legislative body to resume the work.

20429. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, or the owners who have elected to take the contract, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, the cost of publication of the notices, resolutions, orders and matters required under the proceedings prescribed in this division, and of such other notice as may be deemed requisite by the legislative body, together with all other incidental expenses incurred up to the time of entering into the contract, including the estimated cost of any acquisition which the legislative body may determine to be payable at said time, but limited to the amount specified in the notice inviting bids pursuant to Section 5241 of the Streets and Highways Code. All other acquisition costs shall be payable at the time of the delivery to the contractor, or his agent, or assigns, of the warrant, assessment and diagram as provided in Section 5375 of the Streets and Highways Code. The legislative body may waive the payment in advance of all or any part of the incidental expenses and acquisition costs by resolution adopted not later than the time of ordering the work. The waiver must appear in the notice inviting bids.

20430. If the work is abandoned by the city before work is actually started or before any materials, supplies or equipment have been furnished or used, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury, but such expense for which the city is liable and which shall have been paid by it may be charged as incidental expenses against the district benefited in any new proceeding had or taken for any work which includes substantially the same work as that which was included in the abandoned proceedings.

20431. At any time within 10 days from the date of the first publication of the notice of award of the contract, any owner of, or other persons having any interest in, any lot or land liable to assessment, who claims that any of the previous acts or proceedings relating to the work are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, may file with the clerk a written notice specifying in what respect the said acts and proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty. The notice shall state that it is made pursuant to this section.

20432. All objections to any act or proceeding occurring prior to the time within which such objections are permitted to be filed in relation to the work, not made in writing and in the manner and at the time specified, shall be waived, if the resolution of intention to do the work has been actually published, as provided in this division.

20433. If in the opinion of the legislative body the public interest will not be served by allowing the property owners to take the contract it may so provide in the resolution of intention.

20434. An action to determine the validity of proceedings relating to the work and the validity of any contract entered or to be entered into pursuant thereto may be brought by the legislative body or by the contractor pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. For such purpose proceedings shall be deemed to be in existence upon the award of the contract. An action may be commenced and concluded by the legislative body before the publication of the notice inviting bids, and for such purpose the proceedings shall be deemed to be in existence upon the adoption of the resolution ordering the work.

20435. In such action, all findings, conclusions and determinations of the legislative body which conducted the proceedings shall be conclusive in the absence of actual fraud.

20436. If an action is commenced under the provisions of this chapter to determine the validity of any contract or proposed contract, and the contract has not been signed, the contractor shall not be obligated to sign the same until a judgment sustaining the validity of the proceedings and the proposed contract has become final. If the contractor has signed and executed the contract, he shall not be obligated to begin work until a judgment sustaining the validity of the proceedings and the contract has become final. If a judgment is entered holding the contract invalid, the contractor shall be discharged and relieved of all obligation under the contract, and he and his sureties shall be discharged and relieved of all obligation upon any bond required by law in connection with such contract.

20436.5. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the action authorized by this chapter shall not be brought by any person other than the legislative body or the contractor, nor shall the action be brought after the date fixed for the beginning of work.

20437. The superintendent of streets is hereby authorized in his official capacity to make all written contracts, and to receive all bonds authorized by this division and to do any other act, either expressly or impliedly required by this division, that pertains to the street department.

20438. He shall fix the time for the commencement, which shall not be more than 45 days from the date of the contract, and for the completion of the work under each contract entered into by him. The work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion.

20439. He may extend the time fixed for completion of the work from time to time, under the direction of the legislative body. All applications for extensions of time, if in writing, must be filed in the office of the clerk before the expiration of the original time fixed in the contract, or of the time granted by extension, as the case may be. An extension of time may be granted by the legislative body after the expiration of the time originally fixed in the contract or as previously extended, and the extension so granted shall be deemed to commence and be effective from the date of such expiration. Any extension of time shall not release the sureties upon any bond required under this division.

20440. The work, in all cases, shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets and all contracts made therefor shall contain a provision to that effect unless the legislative body by resolution adopted within 10 days after the passage of the resolution ordering the work directs that the work shall be done under the direction of the engineer and the materials used shall comply with the specifications and be to the satisfaction of the engineer, instead of the superintendent of streets, and in such case the contract shall contain a provision to that effect.

20441. The legislative body also may by resolution adopted within 10 days after the passage of the resolution ordering the work provide and direct that the assessment thereafter to be made in the proceeding shall be made and signed by the engineer instead of by the superintendent of streets.

20442. The contract shall contain express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided by law or by charter will the city, or any officer thereof, be liable for any portion of the expense, nor for any delinquency of persons or property assessed.

20443. The legislative body may, by ordinance, prescribe general rules directing the superintendent of streets or the engineer, as the case may be, and the contractor as to the materials to be used, and the mode of executing the work, under all contracts thereafter made. The assessment and apportionment of the expenses of all such work shall be made by the superintendent of streets or the engineer, as the case may be, in the mode provided by this division.

20444. If any fiscal agent of the United States government contributes any money or materials to be used in the construction of any work provided for in this division, the requirements of the agency contributing such money or materials may be incorporated in the contract.

20445. If a contribution of labor or of labor and any portion of materials, supplies or equipment is to be made by any local, state or national agency or authority, the contract shall contain a provision that the legislative body may cancel the order for any undelivered materials, supplies or equipment by giving the contractor 24 hours notice of said cancellation, and require the contractor to accept the return of the unused materials and supplies, in which event the contractor will be entitled to compensation for only so much of the materials, supplies and equipment as has been used prior to the giving of such notice. The contract shall also contain a provision that no materials, supplies or equipment shall be delivered until a delivery permit signed by the superintendent of streets has been received by the contractor.

20446. "Changes" as used in this chapter shall include corrections, alterations, modifications, additions, omissions, increases or decreases.

20447. Unless the power to proceed shall have ceased at the conclusion of the hearing on the resolution of intention because of a majority protest, at any time before the confirmation of the assessment the legislative body may make changes in, to or from the boundaries of the proposed assessment district, the work proposed to be done, or any act, determination or provision made, or permitted to be made, by the legislative body under and pursuant to this division, which act, determination or provision does not affect the jurisdiction of the legislative body to order the work or improvement; provided, that after the award of the contract no such changes shall be made without the written consent of the contractor or the bidder to whom the contract shall have been awarded. The legislative body shall not change the boundaries to include any territory which will not, in its judgment, be benefited by the work.

20448. At the hearing on the resolution of intention, the legislative body, without further notice and hearing, may order any changes, as defined in Sections 5230 and 5231 of the Streets and Highways Code, except changes to include additional territory in the assessment district. Any changes to include additional territory and all changes after the hearing on the resolution of intention shall be ordered only as provided in this chapter.

20449. Before ordering any changes made, the legislative body shall adopt a resolution briefly describing the changes proposed to be made, stating the amount of the estimated increase or decrease in the cost of the work by reason of the proposed changes and giving notice of a time and place when and where any interested person having any objection to the changes proposed to be made may appear before the legislative body and show cause why the changes should not be ordered. The resolution shall also contain the name and telephone number of a local department or agency designated by the legislative body to answer inquiries regarding the hearing proceedings. Such notice shall be omitted if the hearing of objections is not required as provided hereunder. The resolution may describe the changes by referring to maps, plats, plans, profiles, detailed drawings, or specifications on file in the office of the clerk or engineer, which shall indicate the changes proposed to be made and which shall govern for all details thereof. The resolution shall be published pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code, at least 10 days prior to the date of the hearing.

The hearing of objections shall not be required if the legislative body, when considering passage of the resolution, finds and determines by a four-fifth's vote of all members thereof, that all of the owners of lots or lands liable to be assessed, or their agents, who shall make oath that they are such agents, have signed and filed a petition waiving the hearing, with the clerk, on or before the fifth day prior to the day that the resolution is considered for passage, declaring that they do not have any objections to the proposed changes and requesting that the hearing of objections shall not be required.

20450. If said resolution proposes to include additional territory in the assessment district, at least 15 days prior to the hearing fixed therein, the clerk shall mail a copy of such resolution to all persons owning real property within said additional territory whose names and addresses appear on the last equalized assessment roll or as known to the clerk. This section shall not apply if the hearing of objections is not required pursuant to Section 5232 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20451. Written objections to the proposed changes may be filed with the clerk by any interested person at any time not later than the time set for the hearing. The legislative body shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If no written objections to said changes have been delivered to the clerk up to the hour set for hearing thereon, or if said objections have been heard and found by the legislative body to be insufficient or have been overruled or denied, immediately thereupon the legislative body by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of its members shall acquire jurisdiction to order said changes made. If the hearing of objections is not required, pursuant to Section 5232 of the Streets and Highways Code, immediately upon passage of the resolution the legislative body shall acquire jursidiction to order said changes made. The decisions and determinations of the legislative body ordering such changes shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to appeal thereupon to the legislative body.

20452. No changes, except as provided in Section 5234.1 of the Streets and Highways Code, shall be made pursuant to this chapter which will increase the estimated assessable cost by more than 20 percent of the total estimated cost of the work as determined from:

(a) The engineer's estimate, if the change is ordered prior to the award of the contract, or

(b) The successful bid, if the change is ordered after the award of the contract; provided, that any changes so made shall also be subject to the limitations, if any, contained in any law applicable to the proceedings, which law may impose limitations upon the amount by which the estimated cost of the work or improvement may be increased by reason of such changes.

20453. Changes may exceed the 20-percent limitation in cost when the legislative body orders such changes. That portion of the added cost which exceeds the 20-percent limitation shall be paid by the city.

20454. Any changes made pursuant to this chapter shall not release or discharge the sureties upon any bond required under this division.

20455. After construction has begun, the legislative body, or the superintendent of streets if authorized by the legislative body, may order changes in the work without the necessity of a hearing. The order shall be in writing, and the amount of any change ordered shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) when the total amount of the original contract does not exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), nor 5 percent of the amount of any original contract which exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000). No change shall exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000). The limitations on the cost of changes permitted by this section shall not apply where (1) the change is requested in writing by the owner of property subject to assessment for the improvement under construction and the nature of the change requested is such that the cost thereof will be assessed exclusively against the property of the person requesting the change, or (2) the change in the work will not adversely affect the benefiting property and any increase in the cost resulting from such changes will be paid by the city and will not be assessed against the property within the assessment district.

20456. Subject to the limitations of Section 5236 of the Streets and Highways Code, the contract may include a provision to determine a fair and equitable price for changes in the work including, but not limited to, arbitration or cost plus a fixed fee.

20458. The bond shall be executed either by two or more good and sufficient sureties who have each qualified before an officer competent to administer an oath, in an amount not less than the sum specified in the bond and over and above all statutory exemptions, or by one or more duly authorized corporate sureties, and must provide that if the contractor, or his subcontractor fails to pay for any materials, provisions, provender, or other supplies or use of implements or machinery used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be done, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in the bond.

20459. Any person furnishing materials, provisions, provender or other supplies used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be executed or performed, or any person renting or hiring teams or implements, or machinery for, or contributing to, the work to be done, or any person who performs work or labor upon the same, or any person who supplies both work and materials and whose claim has not been paid by the contractor or by the subcontractors of the contractor may, at any time within 30 days from the date of the recordation of the assessment file with the superintendent of streets a verified statement of his claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid.

20460. Each person whose claim has not been paid by the contractor or his subcontractors, shall have a first lien upon and against the assessment, any partial assessment, any reassessment and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment, which lien may be enforced by action brought within three months after the date of the filing of the verified statement in the superior court of the county in which such work is done.

20461. No assignment by the contractor of the whole or any part of the money, assessment, partial assessment, any reassessment and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment, due him or to be due him under the contract, or for "extras" in connection therewith, whether made before or after a verified claim is filed pursuant to this chapter, shall take priority over such claims, and such assignment shall have no binding force insofar as the rights of the claimants, or their assigns, are concerned. None of the provisions of Title 15 (commencing with Section 3082), Part 4, Division 3, of the Civil Code, shall be applicable to any assessment, partial assessment, reassessment, bonds, moneys or funds payable to the contractor or his assignee under this division or to any matter contained in this chapter.

20462. If any contractor disputes the correctness or validity of any claim filed pursuant to this chapter, the city or superintendent of streets may permit the contractor to deliver to the city or superintendent of streets a bond satisfactory to said city or superintendent of streets executed by the contractor and some corporation authorized to issue surety bonds in a penal sum equal to one and one-fourth times the amount of the claim.

20463. The bond shall guarantee the payment of any sum which the claimant may recover on the claim together with his costs of suit in the action, if he shall recover therein. If such bond is filed, the city, any officer thereof, or superintendent of streets shall not withhold any moneys or funds, assessment, partial assessment, any reassessment and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment from the contractor on account of the claim. The sureties upon the bond shall be jointly and severally liable to the claimant with the sureties upon the contractor's original labor and material bond posted by the contractor.

Article 28.

20470. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by Separation of Grade Districts, as provided for in Part 2 (commencing with Section 8100) of Division 9 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20471. The commission shall, pursuant to an order entered in the minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of the project either as a whole or in sections, as it may deem fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, by publishing a notice calling for bids at least once each week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district. The notice shall refer to the order and plan for further particulars. If the commission elects to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of the project, the order shall describe the sections for which separate bids are desired. The commission may advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of the project as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections.

20472. Every contract for the construction of the project or for any section, if it is to be constructed in sections, shall be let, after advertisement, to the lowest responsible bidder, or the commission may reject all bids for the construction of the project or for any section, and may readvertise for bids for doing the work in the same manner and for the same length of time as provided for a notice calling for bids for construction.

20475. The commission may do any or all maintenance or repair work upon the project, either with or without contract, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts, unless the cost of the work exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000), in which event it shall be done only under contract after advertising for bids in the same manner and for the same length of time as provided for advertising for bids and letting contracts for construction work.

20477. As to any project involving a state highway where the plans have been approved by the Department of Transportation, Division of Highways, the commission and the department may enter into and carry out contracts pursuant to Section 130 of the Streets and Highways Code.

Article 29.

20480. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by cities, cities and counties, or counties, or other entities, public corporations, or agencies authorized to operate under the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, as provided for in Division 12 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Streets and Highways Code.

20481. At any time after the preliminary approval of the report provided for in Section 10300 of the Streets and Highways Code, the legislative body may let the contract or contracts for all or any part of the improvement and authorize such acts and proceedings as are necessary to acquire works or appliances already installed, or other property, as authorized by this division.

20482. Each contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice inviting sealed proposals is published pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code in a newspaper published in the municipality, and designated by the legislative body for that purpose, or if there is no such newspaper by such posting as the legislative body may provide. The time fixed for the opening of the bids shall not be less than 14 days after the first publication or posting of the notice.

20483. Each bid shall be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check or a certified check, amounting to 10 percent of the bid, payable to the order of the clerk of the legislative body, or by a bond for that amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify, before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double that amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions or by a corporate surety bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to the municipality if the bidder does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work. The faithful performance of the contract shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sum as the legislative body requires, but not less than 25 percent of the contract price, with sureties satisfactory to the legislative body. When the proceedings include the acquisition or construction of works, appliances, or improvements to be owned, managed or controlled by a public agency other than the municipality making the acquisitions or ordering the work done, the legislative body of the municipality may require that the undertaking also inure to the benefit of such public agency to the extent of its interest in the entire project. The contractor shall also furnish a labor and material bond as required by law in a sum not less than 50 percent of the contract price.

20484. Notice of award of the contract shall be published by the clerk of the legislative body once in the newspaper in which the notice of improvement was published.

20485. The owners of three-fourths of the area of lands assessed or liable to be assessed, or their agents (who shall make oath that they are such owners or agents), shall not be required to present sealed proposals or bids, but may, within 10 days after the publication of the notice of the award of the contract, elect to take the work and enter into a written contract to do the whole work at prices not exceeding the prices specified in the bid of the bidder to whom the contract was awarded, and all work done under such contract shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the legislative body.

20486. If the owners fail to elect to take the work and to enter into a written contract therefor within 10 days, or to commence the work within 15 days after the date of the written contract, and to prosecute the same with diligence to completion, a contract shall be entered into with the original bidder to whom the contract was awarded at the prices specified in his bid.

20487. If, in the opinion of the legislative body, the public interest will not be served by allowing the property owners to take a contract, it may so provide in the resolution of intention. In such event, no notice of award of contract need be published pursuant to Section 10502.1 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20488. The contract shall provide that the work shall be done strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in Sections 10200, 10201, 10202, 10203, 10204, and 10300 of the Streets and Highways Code. The work shall be done under the supervision of the board officer, or person by whom the report was made, and no work or portion of the work shall be paid for until it is approved for payment by that board officer, or person, but this shall not prevent approval of and payment for completed portions of the work as it progresses. Payment made for completed portions of the work shall not constitute final acceptance of these portions or of the completed project.

20489. The provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911 relating to liquidated damages are incorporated in this division.

20490. If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the work as rapidly as required by his contract, the legislative body may declare him in default and relet the work in the manner set forth in this chapter for letting the original contract, or it may complete the work by direct purchase of labor and materials, and retain out of any funds due or to become due the contractor the amount of the cost of the work and any expense incidental to reletting the contract or performing the work, and also hold the contractor and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from the abandonment or failure upon his bond.

Notice of the declaration of default shall be given by the clerk of the legislative body by personal service or by mail. Upon receipt of such notice, the contractor shall forthwith quit the work, and shall receive no payment for any work performed thereafter unless ordered to resume the work by the legislative body.

20491. At any time within 10 days after the award of any contract pursuant to this chapter, or if no bids are received, at any time within 10 days after the time fixed for the opening of bids by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, the legislative body may order that the proposed contract be not made, and that the municipality itself execute the work in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for the work.

20492. If the work is abandoned by the city before work is actually started or before any materials, supplies or equipment have been furnished or used, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment, unless provision has otherwise been made therefor, shall be paid out of the city treasury, but such expense for which the city is liable and which shall have been paid by it may be charged as incidental expenses against the district benefited in any new proceeding had or taken for any work which includes substantially the same work as that which was included in the abandoned proceedings.

20493. At any time after the preliminary approval of the report provided for in Section 10300, by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members and without calling for bids, the legislative body may order that the municipality itself execute any or all of the improvement in accordance with the specifications and plans adopted for the work.

20494. The legislative body, on ordering the municipality itself to execute the improvement, may authorize the municipality to employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies, and illuminating agent necessary to carry out the work.

20495. The cost and expenses of work executed by the municipality itself shall be paid out of the improvement fund, but the amount appropriated and used from the fund for this purpose shall not exceed the amount of the bid upon which the award of the contract was made, or if no bids are received or the work is ordered without asking for bids, the cost and expenses shall not exceed the amount of the estimate provided for in subdivision (c) of Section 10204 of the Streets and Highways Code. If the cost and expenses do exceed the amount of the bid, or of the estimate in case no bids are received or the work is ordered without asking for bids, the excess shall be paid from the general fund in the treasury.

20496. The provisions of Title 15 (commencing with Section 3082), Part 4, Division 3, of the Civil Code are hereby expressly made applicable to the construction of works and improvements under this article.

Article 30.

20500. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by a city council, as provided in the Street Lighting Act of 1919, Part 1

(commencing with Section 18000) of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20501. The city council shall, within 10 days after the establishment of the district, invite bids for the making of the improvement by ordering a notice of such invitation to be published by two successive insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published or circulated in the city and designated by the city council for that purpose; provided, however, that if the city council determines that there is only one contractor practically capable of serving the street lighting system to be improved in the manner provided in the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code and that such contractor is subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, the city council may, in its discretion without competitive bidding, order the improvement to be carried out by such contractor in accordance with rates and rules filed by it from time to time with said Public Utilities Commission. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check amounting to not less than 10 percent of the bid, payable to the order of the city clerk, and the check shall be forfeited to the city in case the bidder depositing it does not, within 15 days after the notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the city for making the improvement, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sums as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to that body. In any case where competitive bidding is required, the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

20502. The contract shall require that the improvement be made, and the improvement shall be made, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in Chapter 3 of Part 1 of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code.

The contract for service shall be for a period not less than three years from and after the date electric energy and service is first delivered to the lighting district pursuant to such contract and shall be extended automatically thereafter for successive terms of one year each; provided, that the agreement may be terminated by either party upon not less than 60 days' written notice prior to the expiration date of the original term or any extended term; and provided further, that the contract for service may be for a period of less than three years by mutual consent of the city council and the contractor.

20503. The improvement shall be made under the supervision of the board, officer or person designated by the city council, and no portion shall be paid for until it has been accepted by that board, officer or person.

20504. If the contractor abandons the making of the improvement, or fails to proceed with it as rapidly as required by his contract, the city council may relet the contract in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof and retain the amount of the cost of the portion relet, and of any expenses incidental to the reletting, out of any funds due or to become due to the contractor. The city council may also hold the contractor and his sureties responsible upon his bond for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure.

20505. The city council may, at any time within 20 days after the opening of bids, or, if no bids are received, at any time within 20 days after the time fixed for the opening of bids, order by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all of its members, that the city itself execute the work of the improvement, or any part thereof, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work, or for such part thereof, and employ the labor and provide the materials, appliances, supplies or illuminating agent necessary therefor. The cost and expenses of such work, or of such part thereof, shall be paid out of the special fund collected to pay for the improvement. If the city council orders that only a part of the work of the improvement be executed by the city then the city council may reject all bids, if any, received for such part of the work and may proceed with the award of the contract for the remaining part of the work.

20506. If the work of the improvement, or any part thereof, is executed by the city, then the amount appropriated and used from the special fund to pay the costs and expenses of the work or part thereof executed by the city shall not exceed the amount of the respective lowest valid bid received for such work or for such part thereof, or, if no bids have been received and the work of the improvement is executed by the city the amount appropriated and used from the special fund to pay the costs and expenses of such work shall not exceed the amount of the respective estimate thereof provided for in Section 18041 of the Streets and Highways Code. If such costs and expenses exceed the amount of the said bid, or of the said estimate in case no bids are received, then such excess cost and expense shall be paid out of any moneys in the general fund in the city treasury.

20507. At any time after the funds for the proposed improvement, or any part thereof, are in the hands of the city treasurer, the city council may, without calling for bids, order by resolution, adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that the city itself execute the work of such improvement, or any part thereof, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work or for such part thereof, and employ the labor, and provide the materials, appliances, supplies or illuminating agent necessary therefor. In such case the costs and expenses of such work, or of such part thereof, shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds, except that if such costs and expenses exceed the amount of the respective estimates provided for in Section 18041 of the Streets and Highways Code, then such excess shall be paid out of the moneys in the general fund in the city treasury.

Article 31.

20510. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by a city council, as provided in the Street Lighting Act of 1931, Part 2 (commencing with Section 18300) of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20511. At any time after the installment assessment becomes delinquent, the superintendent of streets may call for bids for such improvement and may fix a date, not less than 20 nor more than 30 days after the publication of a notice inviting bids for such improvement, for the receipt of such bids at his office at an hour not later than 10 a.m. on such date. Such notice shall be published once in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in the city and designated by the city council for that purpose.

20512. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or a satisfactory corporate surety bond amounting to 10 percent of the bid, payable to the order of the city clerk or securing the city. The check or bond shall be forfeited to the city if the bidder depositing it does not within 10 days after the publication of a notice of award of the contract to him, enter into the necessary contract with the city. Upon such publication of notice of award of contract all other checks or bonds shall be returned to the bidders depositing them.

20513. The contract shall specify a date certain when the improvement shall be started, the date to be not more than 30 days after the execution thereof, and that the contract shall continue in force for a period of one year from the effective date of the contract.

20514. The city council may, by resolution passed prior to the notice inviting bids, impose such other reasonable conditions, including faithful performance bonds and materialmen's bonds, as may in its discretion appear to be necessary and proper.

Article 32.

20520. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by a city council, as provided in the Municipal Lighting Maintenance District Act of 1927, Part 3 (commencing with Section 18600) of Division 14 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20521. The city council shall make all contracts and all necessary provisions for the furnishing of the maintenance and operation finally determined upon for the lighting systems which are to be maintained and operated from funds of the district. Such contracts shall be made in the same manner and after the same notice and by the same persons as other city contracts for such items of maintenance and operation are made unless such contracts of the city are not required to be made after competitive bidding. In that case the contracts for the district shall be let only after competitive bidding and the officer whose duty it is to let contracts for such items for the city shall give or cause to be given a notice inviting sealed bids on the items to be purchased and fix a time and place at which the bids will be opened and declared in public. The contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, or if necessary for the public good any and all bids may be rejected and in such case readvertisement shall be had in the same manner as before. The notice inviting bids shall be published at least twice and the first publication shall be at least 10 days before the time set for opening the sealed bids.

Article 33.

20530. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by a joint highway district, as provided in the Joint Highway District Act, Part 1 (commencing with Section 25000) of Division 16 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20531. All construction work shall be done by contract awarded to the lowest responsible bidder after advertising for bids in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated within the district which has been designated by the secretary or the board of directors for that purpose. The advertising shall be done by means of two publications of the notice inviting bids the first of which shall be not less than 10 days prior to the time fixed for receiving the bids.

20532. The notice inviting bids shall be upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors may determine, and shall require that each bid be accompanied either by a check certified to by some responsible bank within the state, or by a cashier's check issued by a responsible bank in the state, and made payable to the district in an amount not less than 10 percent of the aggregate amount of the bid. No bid shall be considered unless the check which accompanies it is satisfactory to the board of directors.

20533. All bids shall be delivered to the secretary of the board of directors not later than the hour fixed for receiving bids and shall thereafter be publicly opened by the secretary in the presence of the board of directors assembled in public session.

20534. The board of directors shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. However, before awarding the contract the board may:

(a) Reject all bids should it deem this necessary for the good of the district.

(b) Reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with either the district, or any county composing the district, or with the state.

(c) Reject the bid of any bidder who is unable to satisfy the board of directors of his ability, financially or otherwise, to perform the contract for the proposed work.

20535. If all bids have been rejected because it appears that they are too high and that the work can be done more cheaply by day labor, the board may, in lieu of readvertising for bids, order the work done by day labor under the supervision of the district engineer.

20536. The bidder to whom any contract is awarded shall, within 20 days after the date of the award by the board of directors, execute a contract to perform the work. The contract shall be in a form approved by an attorney employed by the board of directors.

20537. Before the contract is executed, the person to whom it is awarded shall execute bonds for the faithful performance of the contract and for the payment of all claims for labor and material thereunder in the manner provided by law and in the form approved by an attorney employed by the board of directors.

20539. The president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary shall sign and attest all construction contracts on behalf of the district.

20540. All construction contracts shall provide that a maximum of eight hours shall constitute a day's labor and that three dollars ($3) shall be the minimum amount paid for a day's labor performed upon any construction work covered by the contract.

20541. If any bidder to whom a contract is awarded fails to enter into the contract and execute the required bonds, the board of directors shall declare the check accompanying the bid of such bidder to be forfeited. Upon cashing the check the proceeds shall be placed to the credit of the construction fund of the district. The board of directors may thereupon award the contract to the next lowest responsible and acceptable bidder, or may call for new bids.

20542. During the course of the improvement of any highway the highway or project shall be under the control of the board of directors. The board of directors may make all necessary regulations, not in conflict with law, concerning the use of the highway. During that period, the board may exclude from the highway any vehicular or other traffic which may, in the opinion of the board of directors, be detrimental to the public safety or will result in injury to the roadway during the progress of the improvement.

20543. All laws relating to the use of state highways shall be applicable to any highways under the control of any district.

Article 34.

20550. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by a boulevard district, as provided for in Part 2 (commencing with Section 26000) of Division 16 of the Streets and Highways Code.

20551. The commission shall, pursuant to an order entered in its minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of the boulevard, either as a whole or in sections as it may see fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, by publishing a notice calling for bids at least once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published within the district if there is such a newspaper published therein, otherwise in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which the district is located. The notice shall refer to the order and plan for further particulars. If the commission elects to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of the boulevard, the order shall describe the sections for which separate bids are desired.

The commission may advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of the boulevard as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections.

20552. Every contract for the construction of the boulevard or for any section, if it is to be constructed in sections, shall be let, after advertisement, to the lowest responsible bidder, or the commission shall reject all bids for the construction of the boulevard or for any section and may readvertise for bids for doing the work in the same manner and for the same time as bids were originally called for.

20554. The contract shall be executed on behalf of the district by the commission, subject to approval or rejection by the electors of the district, expressed at an election called for the purpose of issuing bonds for the payment of the contract. If the electors fail to approve the bond issue, the contract shall be void and the commission shall immediately return the bond to the contractor.

20555. If the cost of any construction work on the boulevard does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) the commission may make contracts therefor without advertisement or it may do the work without letting any contract.

20556. The commission may do any or all maintenance or repair work upon the boulevard, either with or without contract, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts unless the cost of the work exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000), in which event it shall only be done under contract after advertising for bids in the same manner as provided for advertising for bids and letting contracts for construction work.

20557. The commission may hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of contracts entered into by the commission, or to have charge of doing all work done without contract.

Article 35.

20560. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by irrigation districts, as provided for in the Irrigation District Law, Division 11 (commencing with Section 20500) of the Water Code.

20561. As used in this article "works" is limited to any works to be paid for with the proceeds of the sale of bonds or a limited assessment.

20562. Contracts for the construction of any works shall be made pursuant to the provisions of this article except when the board, with the approval of the commission, elects to proceed to construct the works or any part thereof under its own superintendence.

20563. The board shall give notice by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the office county, or if no newspaper is published in that county, in a newspaper the board deems advisable, calling for bids for the construction of the works or of any portion of them.

20564. The notice calling for bids shall contain:

(a) A statement that the plans and specifications of the works to be constructed may be seen at the district office.

(b) A particular description of the portion of the works advertised if less than the whole works are advertised.

(c) A statement that the board will receive sealed bids for the construction of the works advertised or any portion of them designated by the board.

(d) A statement that the contract or contracts for the works advertised will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders, but that any or all bids may be rejected.

(e) A statement of the time and place for opening the bids.

20565. At the time and place appointed the bids shall be opened in public.

20567. In case of emergency or urgent necessity for any works, the board by unanimous vote of those present at any meeting may award a contract for the works without advertising for bids when the cost of the works does not exceed five hundred dollars ($500) and an additional amount equal to five cents ($0.05) for each acre of land.

20568. Contracts for the purchase of material to be furnished or used by the district in the works shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders after such notice as the board deems proper.

20569. Any person to whom a contract may be awarded pursuant to this article shall provide a bond with good and sufficient sureties, approved by the board, payable to the district for at least 25 percent of the estimated contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract.

20570. The works shall be constructed under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer of the district and be subject to the approval of the board.

Article 36.

20580. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by water storage districts, as provided for in the California Water Storage District Law, Division 14 (commencing with Section 39000) of the Water Code.

20581. Before making any contract for the construction or improvement of works in carrying out any project, the board shall advertise for bids.

20582. When work is to be done the board shall give notice calling for bids by publication in the office county once a week for four consecutive weeks.

20583. If less than the whole work provided for in the plans and specifications is to be done, the portion to be done must be particularly described in the notice.

20584. The notice shall set forth that:

(a) Plans and specifications of the work to be done can be seen at the office of the board.

(b) The board will receive sealed bids.

(c) The contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder.

(d) The bids will be opened in public at a given time and place.

20585. The board may either:

(a) Let the work to the lowest responsible bidder.

(b) Reject any or all bids and readvertise for proposals.

(c) Proceed to construct the work under its own superintendence.

20586. In case of emergency or urgent necessity the board, by unanimous vote of those present at any regular or special meeting, may award contracts without advertising for bids. The amount of any contract so awarded shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

20587. Contracts for the purchase of materials only shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, except that the board may reject any or all bids for the furnishing of materials only and thereafter either readvertise for bids or solicit offers from not less than three responsible persons to furnish materials.

20588. Upon receipt of an offer for a less price than that specified in the lowest rejected bid, the board may enter into a contract for the furnishing of the materials with the person who has offered them at the lowest price.

20589. Any person to whom a contract is awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to the district for its use, for 25 percent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the full and faithful performance of the contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of, and be approved by, the board.

20590. All contracts and other documents executed by the board shall be signed by the president and by the secretary.

Article 37.

20600. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by county waterworks districts, as provided for in the County Waterworks District Law, Division 16 (commencing with Section 55000) of the Water Code.

20601. All contracts in excess of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, except that contracts under seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) may be let pursuant to informal bidding procedures established by the board, and except that county waterworks districts may contract with each other, with the county, or, where the district is a subsidiary district of a city, with the city, for furnishing labor, materials, or supplies required for any improvement mentioned in this division upon such terms and conditions as their boards may elect. With the approval of the board of supervisors and the board of directors of the district, if any, or, where the district is a subsidiary district of a city, with the approval of the city council, and upon the terms and conditions they may determine, all contracts, including those under three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500), may be let by the county or city purchasing agent, as applicable.

20602. The district shall advertise in the county pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing labor, materials and supplies for the proposed improvement before any contract shall be made.

20603. The district shall have the right to require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder, to insure the faithful performance of the contract, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids.

20604. The district may, in case of emergency, proceed at once, by a vote of not less than three members of its board, to make such repairs, or to do such other work as may be necessary to prevent a threatened interruption of water supply, or to restore the waterworks system to working condition, without advertising for bids. The board shall cause a statement of the facts constituting the emergency to be entered in their minutes.

20605. When the board of supervisors and the board of directors of the district, if any, determine that any work of repairing, improving, renewing or extending district facilities can be done more economically and satisfactorily by day labor without letting contracts to the lowest bidder as provided in Section 20601, the governing body of the district may cause the work to be done by day labor.

20606. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as prohibiting the county when ordered by the board of supervisors, or the city when ordered by the city council where the district is a subsidiary district of the city, to make the proposed improvement without a contractor therefor, and to purchase the materials and supplies, and employ the labor necessary for the purpose.

20607. The board of supervisors may, except in incorporated cities or towns, order and contract for any of the work, and the acquisition of any of the property contemplated, to be done or authorized to be acquired under this division, and to provide, if ordered by four-fifths of the members of the board of supervisors, that the cost shall be borne by a district.

20608. Any improvement for which bonds are voted under the provisions of this division, shall be made in conformity with the general description of the proposed improvement as provided for in the proceedings authorizing issuance of the bonds.

20609. Whenever for any reason water system facilities are proposed to be installed in a district by someone other than the district itself, or the installation cost is proposed to be paid by someone other than the district itself, and the facilities are to be thereafter dedicated to the district for public use, and the board determines that it is necessary and convenient to the purposes of the district that the acceptance of said dedication be conditional upon the water system facilities being adequate to serve land other than and in addition to land proposed by the installer to be served thereby, the board may by contract agree to reimburse and may reimburse the installer for the proportionate part of the total cost of such water system facilities which will serve and benefit other land, upon such terms as may be agreed upon.

20610. The reimbursement contract may provide that the reimbursement will be made in periodic payments over an agreed period of time not to exceed 10 years, exclusively out of charges imposed upon land and collected from persons owning the land other than the land proposed by the installer to be served by the water system facilities. The other land that may connect to and be served by the water system facilities shall be specified in the contract.

20611. Under no circumstances shall the total amount of all reimbursement payments made or agreed to be made exceed the amount, specified in said contract, for the total cost of the water system facilities exclusive of the costs attributable to the land of the installer. An amount attributable to interest may also be included in the contract, at a rate not to exceed 4 percent per annum from the date of installation to the date of connection of other land to the facilities.

20612. Whenever a district has contracted to reimburse an installer for the installation of water system facilities, it may impose upon land and collect from any person owning the land, other than the land designated in the contract as proposed by the installer to be served therefrom, which may connect to and receive water service from or through said water system facilities, a reasonable charge representing the proportionate share of the estimated cost of replacement or the proportionate share of the total installation cost of said water system facilities which is fairly attributable to the land which may receive water service. An amount attributable to interest may be included in the charge at a rate not to exceed 4 percent per annum from the date of installation to the date of connection of other land to the facilities.

20613. All charges collected under Section 20612 shall be paid into the treasury of the district and treated in the same manner as other water revenues, except as otherwise provided in this chapter and the reimbursement contract.

Article 38.

20620. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by county drainage districts, as provided for in the County Drainage District Act, Division 17 (commencing with Section 56000) of the Water Code.

20621. Upon completion of the precise plans and specifications, the work or any portion of it may be done in any of the following ways as ordered by the district board:

(a) By purchasing the material and doing the work by day labor.

(b) By purchasing the material and letting a contract for the doing of the work.

(c) By purchasing only a portion or none of the material and letting a contract for furnishing the balance or all of the material and the doing of the work.

20622. Any contract for the doing of the work and furnishing any or all of the material shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder submitting a sealed bid in response to a notice calling for bids.

Article 39.

20630. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by levee districts, as provided for in the Levee District Law of 1959, Division 19 (commencing with Section 70000) of the Water Code.

20631. Contracts in excess of five hundred dollars ($500) for the construction or repair of any levees or associated works, unless the construction or repair is done under its own superintendence, shall be made pursuant to this chapter.

20632. The board shall give notice by publication, pursuant to Section 6063 of the Government Code, in calling for bids for the construction or repair of any of the levees or associated works of the district.

20633. The notice calling for bids shall contain:

(a) A statement that the plans and specifications of the construction or repairs may be seen at the district office.

(b) A particular description of the construction or repair advertised if less than the whole construction or repair is advertised.

(c) A statement that the board will receive sealed bids for the construction or repairs advertised or any portion of them designated by the board.

(d) A statement that the contract or contracts for the construction or repair advertised will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders, but that any and all bids may be rejected.

(e) A statement of the time and place for opening the bids.

20634. After opening the bids, and as convenient, the board shall award the contract or contracts for the construction or repair in portions, or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders, but the board may reject any and all bids and readvertise for proposals or may proceed to construct the works or any part thereof under its own superintendence.

20635. In case of emergency the board by unanimous vote of those present at any meeting may award a contract for construction or repair without advertising for bids.

Article 40.

20640. The provisions of this article shall apply to contracts by municipal water districts, as provided for in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911, Division 20 (commencing with Section 71000) of the Water Code.

20641. A district may prescribe methods for the construction of works and for the letting of contracts for any of the following purposes:

(a) The construction of works, structures or equipment.

(b) The performance or furnishing of labor, materials, or supplies, necessary or convenient for carrying out any of the purposes of this division.

(c) The acquisition or disposal of any real or personal property.

20642. When work is not to be done by the district itself by force account, and the amount involved is ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or more, any contract for the doing of such work shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after publication, in the manner prescribed by the board, of notices inviting bids therefor. However, the board may reject any and all proposals.

20643. Notwithstanding Section 20642, contracts, in writing or otherwise, for the acquisition or disposal of any real or personal property may be let without calling for competitive bids.

20644. The board may, from time to time, establish the manner of calling for bids and letting contracts, but except as such procedure so established by the board otherwise requires, all contracts may be entered into upon such terms and in such manner as the board may authorize.

(b) Shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to the person, and shall have the authority to sell, compound, compromise or assign, for the purpose of collection upon such terms and conditions as he or she deems best, any bad or doubtful debts.

(c) Shall have authority to compound, compromise, or in any other manner negotiate settlements of claims against that person upon such terms and conditions as he or she shall deem to be most advantageous to the estate of the person being administered or liquidated or otherwise dealt with under this article.

(d) Shall have authority without notice, to acquire, hypothecate, encumber, lease, improve, sell, transfer, abandon, or otherwise dispose of or deal with, any real or personal property of any such person at its reasonable market value, or, in cases other than acquisition, sale, or transfer on the basis of reasonable market value, upon such terms and conditions as he or she may deem proper. However, no transaction involving real or personal property shall be made where the market value of the property involved exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) without first obtaining permission of the court, and then only in accordance with such terms as the court may prescribe.

(e) Shall have authority to transfer to a trustee or trustees, under a voting trust agreement, the stock of a dealer heretofore or hereafter issued to him or her as conservator or as liquidator in connection with a rehabilitation agreement, or any other proceeding under this article. The voting trust agreement shall confer upon the trustee or trustees the right to vote or otherwise represent the stock, and shall not be irrevocable for a period of more than 21 years.

However, no such investment or reinvestment shall be made which exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) without first obtaining permission of the court, and then only in accordance with such terms as the court may prescribe.

(h) Within six months after taking possession of the property and business of any dealer, the commissioner may terminate or adopt any executory contract to which the dealer may be a party including leases of real or personal property. Claims for damages resulting from the termination of any such contract or lease may be filed and allowed, but no claim of a landlord for damages resulting from the rejection of an unexpired lease of real property or under any covenant of such lease shall be allowed in an amount greater than due under the lease for a period of one year following the surrender of the premises.

The enumeration, in this article, of duties, powers and authority of the commissioner in proceedings under this article shall neither be construed as a limitation upon the commissioner, nor shall it exclude in any manner his or her right to perform and to do such other acts not herein specifically enumerated, or otherwise provided for, which he or she may deem necessary or expedient for the accomplishment or in aid of the purpose of the proceedings.

CHAPTER 4. SHARED APPRECIATION LOANS OF E.R.I.S.A. PENSION FUNDS

Article 1. Legislative Findings and Declarations

1917.010. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:

(a) It is necessary and essential that the state provide and promote alternative means of supplying affordable housing to the citizens of the state.

(b) High interest rates have caused payment schedules for new long-term, fixed-rate and adjustable-rate mortgages to exceed affordable levels for the vast majority of the state's households.

(c) Because of current economic conditions, including high and volatile interest rates, alternative mortgage instruments must be developed to supplement the standard long-term, fixed-rate mortgage.

(d) Because the interest to which the lender is entitled under a shared appreciation mortgage includes a share of the appreciated value of the property securing the loan, the periodic payments under a shared appreciation mortgage are lower and, therefore, more affordable to borrowers than under a mortgage in which the lender's interest does not include a share of the appreciated value of the property. State authorization of the shared appreciation loan for pension fund lenders will serve the need to develop alternative and more affordable means of financing the construction of new housing and the subsequent marketing of new homes, and to create vitally needed jobs in the construction industry.

(e) Pension funds may find shared appreciation loans suited to their investment needs since yields are keyed to appreciation in property values, which may serve as a hedge against inflation.

Article 2. Definitions

1917.020. For purposes of this chapter:

(a) "Adjusted fair market value" means all of the following:

(1) The net sale price, in the case of a bona fide sale made in good faith prior to the maturity date of the shared appreciation loan, but excluding any sale upon a foreclosure or trustee's sale pursuant to Section 726 of the Code of Civil Procedure or Section 2924.

(2) In all other cases, the amount of value of the property specified in the most recent annual appraisal performed pursuant to Section 1917.040 or 1917.042.

(b) "Borrower's cost of the property" means the total cost to the borrower incident to the purchase of the property, including documentary transfer taxes, escrow and recording fees, and title insurance premiums.

(c) "Contingent deferred interest" means the sum resulting upon multiplying the net appreciated value by one-third.

(d) "Cost of capital improvements" means the amount of the credit, if any, determined pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 1917.050).

(e) "Lender" means any person who makes a shared appreciation loan on behalf of a pension fund specified in Section 1917.030. Subsequent to an assignment of a shared appreciation loan to a pension fund pursuant to Section 1917.030, "lender" shall mean the pension fund assignee (or any subsequent assignee) and its agents designated to service the shared appreciation loan.

(f) "Net appreciated value" means the adjusted fair market value less the sum of the borrower's cost of the property and the cost of capital improvements.

(g) "Net sale price" means the gross sale price less expenses of sale actually paid by the borrower, including real estate commissions, advertising, documentary transfer taxes, legal, escrow and recording fees, and title insurance premiums.

(h) "Prevailing rate" means the weighted average yield accepted by the Federal National Mortgage Association in its most recent free market system auction for four-month conventional mortgage commitments or, if the Federal National Mortgage Association alters its free market system auction, then the system which is adopted by the Federal National Mortgage Association which substantially replaces or supersedes the present free market system auction for four-month commitments, or if no auction or equivalent thereof has been conducted within the six months immediately preceding the date the application for a shared appreciation mortgage loan is executed, the weighted average cost of funds for the 11th District Savings and Loan Associations as computed by the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco.

(i) "Shared appreciation loan" means any loan made pursuant to this chapter and includes a deed of trust and any evidence of debt issued in connection with the loan.

Article 3. Terms and Conditions

1917.030. Lenders may make shared appreciation loans pursuant to this chapter for the purchase of real property improved with one- to four-family dwelling units, including structures ancillary to such dwelling units and including attached single-family dwelling units, single-family mobilehome units placed upon permanent foundations, residential condominium units and dwelling units within a planned unit development. Shared appreciation loans shall be made to finance only owner-occupied dwelling units, but in the case of two- to four-unit dwellings financed under this chapter only one of the units need be owner-occupied. The original recipient of a shared appreciation loan shall certify in writing to the lender that he or she will occupy the security property as his or her principal residence, provided that failure to so occupy the security property shall not void a shared appreciation loan, but at the option of the lender the loan may be accelerated in accordance with the terms and conditions provided in the shared appreciation loan. All shared appreciation loans shall be originated by the lender on behalf of a pension fund which is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-406, 88 Stat. 829), pursuant to a prior written commitment to purchase the loan.

1917.031. A shared appreciation loan shall include the following terms and conditions:

(a) The term of the loan, excluding refinancing under Section

1917.033, shall be at least seven years, but not more than 30 years.

(b) The repayment schedule for the loan, excluding refinancing under Section 1917.033, shall be cast so that full amortization of the principal amount of the loan would occur in 30 years, regardless of the actual term of the loan. Any principal balance remaining at maturity shall be due and payable at that time, unless refinanced as provided in Section 1917.033. Monthly installment payments shall be equal in amount and in addition to amortization of principal, shall include fixed interest pursuant to subdivision (d).

(c) The loan shall be secured by a deed of trust or mortgage on the real property financed.

(d) The loan shall bear interest at a fixed rate, which shall be one-third below the prevailing rate in effect 90 days prior to the loan closing, or at another date between that date and the loan closing if mutually agreed by the lender and borrower.

(e) The borrower shall additionally be obligated to pay contingent deferred interest in the amount of one-third of the net appreciated value of the real property which secures the loan, at the time the property is sold (including a sale pursuant to a land sale contract), when title is transferred, other than a transfer specified in Section 2924.6, when a lease with an option to purchase is entered into, when a partnership is formed which in effect transfers the beneficial ownership to another person, when a trust is created which affects title to the property, upon a judicial or nonjudicial foreclosure sale, at the time the loan is prepaid in full, or upon the maturity of the loan, whichever first occurs.

1917.032. (a) The borrower shall have the right to prepay, at any time, in full or in part, the principal loan balance of the shared appreciation loan, together with accrued interest, including deferred contingent interest.

(b) Nothing in this chapter shall prevent a borrower from obligating himself or herself, by an agreement in writing, to pay a prepayment charge, as authorized by this section, upon prepayment of the loan, in full or in part, within five years of the date of execution of the shared appreciation loan.

(c) Any prepayment charge imposed upon the prepayment of a shared appreciation loan shall not exceed the amount authorized and specified in subdivision (b) of Section 2954.9.

(d) No prepayment charge shall be imposed as to any portion of the contingent deferred interest.

1917.033. (a) If the shared appreciation loan is not prepaid in full or the real property securing the loan is not sold or transferred prior to maturity of the loan, the lender shall offer to the original borrower refinancing of the unpaid balance of the loan and all contingent deferred interest.

(b) The term of the refinancing loan shall be at least 30 years from the date of the refinancing, provided that if the interest rate of the refinancing loan is not adjustable or variable during the term of such loan, the loan may contain a call provision giving the lender an option to accelerate the principal loan balance making it, together with accrued interest, payable in full at a date specified in the shared appreciation loan, which shall be no earlier than seven years following the date of refinancing under this section. If such a call provision is included in the refinancing loan, a concise description thereof shall be included in upper case print in the disclosures on refinancing required by Section 1917.071.

(c) The interest rate for the refinancing loan shall not exceed the prevailing rate existing at maturity of the shared appreciation loan.

(d) The lender may require as a condition of the refinancing loan that it be secured by a deed of trust or mortgage of first priority on the property financed.

(e) The terms and conditions of refinancing pursuant to this section shall be specified in the shared appreciation loan, shall be a part of the shared appreciation loan contract, and shall be subject to the applicable laws in effect on the date of execution of the shared appreciation loan. The refinancing shall be fully amortizing and the interest rate may be either fixed or adjustable as permitted by law for home financing offered by banks or savings and loan associations doing business in this state to the public for financing housing similar to the borrower's property, provided that nothing in this section shall preclude such other lawful refinancing terms as may be mutually acceptable to the borrower and lender. If the lender offers more than one form of refinancing, the borrower may select from among the types of refinancing offered by the lender.

1917.034. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the borrower from obtaining any other financing, in lieu of the refinancing provided for in Section 1917.033, including refinancing on other terms that are mutually agreeable to the borrower and lender.

Article 4. Annual Appraisals

1917.040. The fair market value of the real property securing a shared appreciation loan shall be determined annually as provided in this article. The lender shall select an independent appraiser annually to perform an appraisal of the property subject to a shared appreciation loan. The appraisal shall be performed within 30 days preceding the anniversary date of the loan and a copy of the current appraisal shall be sent by first-class mail to the borrower no later than five days following the anniversary date of the loan, together with a notice informing the borrower that the appraisal will constitute a final and conclusive determination of the value of the property for certain purposes and that if the borrower disputes the amount of the appraisal, the borrower may procure an independent appraisal as provided in Section 1917.041. The lender may require the borrower to pay for the cost of the appraisal.

1917.041. If the borrower disputes the amount of the appraisal, the borrower, within 30 days of the anniversary date of the loan, may procure an appraisal of the property at the borrower's expense by a qualified independent appraiser, and a copy of the appraisal shall be sent by first-class mail to the lender within the 30-day period.

1917.042. If the appraisal by the appraiser selected by the borrower is lower in amount than the appraisal by the appraiser selected by the lender, the amount to be used to calculate the annual adjustment shall be one-half of the sum of the two appraisals.

1917.043. The appraisal amount, as determined pursuant to Section 1917.040 if the borrower does not dispute the appraisal amount, or 1917.042 if the borrower disputes the appraisal amount, shall constitute the value of the property from and after the anniversary date of the loan for the purpose of determining the property's adjusted fair market value under Section 1917.020.

1917.044. The qualifications of the appraisers may be specified by the terms of the shared appreciation loan for purposes of this article and Article 5 (commencing with Section 1917.050).

Article 5. Improvements

1917.050. The borrower may have the cost of capital improvements to the security property completed within any 12-month period, and with an appraised value in excess of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), added to the borrower's cost of the property, for purposes of determining the contingent deferred interest, but only if the procedures set forth in this article are followed.

(a) Within 60 days following the completion of the improvements, the borrower shall send by first-class mail a notice of the completion of the improvements to the lender and shall submit proof of cost of the improvements.

(b) Within 90 days following the completion of the improvements, the lender shall select an appraiser to perform an appraisal to determine the increase in value of the property, if any, by reason of the improvements. A copy of the appraisal shall be sent by first-class mail to the borrower, together with a notice informing the borrower that the appraisal will constitute a final and conclusive determination of the increase in the value of the property by reason of the improvement for purposes of computing the net appreciated value of the property, and that if the borrower disputes the amount of the appraisal, the borrower may procure an independent appraisal as provided in subdivision (c). The lender may require the borrower to pay for the cost of the appraisal.

(c) If the borrower disputes the amount of the appraisal, the borrower, within 120 days of the completion of the improvements, may secure at borrower's expense, a qualified, independent appraiser to perform an appraisal to determine the increase in value of the property, if any, by reason of the improvements, and a copy of the appraisal shall be sent by first-class mail to the lender within that period of time.

(d) If the appraisal of the appraiser selected by the borrower is greater in amount than the appraisal by the appraiser selected by the lender, the amount of the appraisal, for the purposes of this section, shall be one-half of the sum of the two appraisals.

(e) The lesser of the borrower's actual cost or the appraised increase in the value of the property by reason of the improvements shall be available as a credit to the buyer for purposes of determining net appreciated value, except as provided in subdivision (f).

(f) If 50 percent or more of the value of the labor or other work on the improvements was performed by the borrower, then the appraised increase in the value of the property by reason of the improvements shall be the cost of capital improvements for purposes of establishing the credit under this section.

Article 6. General Provisions

1917.060. The relationship of the borrower and the lender, as to a shared appreciation loan, is that of debtor and creditor and shall not be, or be construed to be, a joint venture, equity venture, partnership, or other relationship.

1917.061. Any waiver of any right of a borrower under the provisions of this chapter shall be void and unenforceable.

1917.062. (a) Notwithstanding Section 711, a provision in a shared appreciation loan (not including the refinancing obligation) permitting the lender to accelerate the maturity date of the principal and accrued interest on the loan upon a sale or other transfer of the property, as specified in subdivision (e) of Section 1917.031, shall be valid and enforceable against the borrower, except as may be precluded by Section 2924.6.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that potential exposure to liability for enforcement of a "due-on-sale" clause consistent with Section 711, as interpreted by the courts, makes use of such a provision impractical. Moreover, the additional risks to the lender inherent in shared appreciation financing are greater with longer loan terms (which are more desirable from the standpoint of housing affordability), but this risk is reduced with an enforceable "due-on-sale" clause. Therefore, in order to facilitate shared appreciation financing, it is necessary to establish the exception specified in subdivision (a).

1917.063. The terms and conditions of each shared appreciation loan made pursuant to this chapter shall conform to the provisions of this chapter, except that nothing in this chapter shall apply to or limit shared appreciation financing made pursuant to other provisions of law or which is not otherwise unlawful.

1917.064. A shared appreciation loan shall not be subject to any provision of this code or the Financial Code which limits the interest rate or change of interest rate of variable, adjustable, or renegotiable interest instruments, or which requires particular language or provisions in security instruments securing variable, adjustable, or renegotiable rate obligations or in evidences of such debts.

This section is declaratory of existing law.

1917.065. The lien of a deed of trust securing a shared appreciation loan shall include and secure the principal amount of the shared appreciation loan, and all interest, whether accrued or to be accrued, including all amounts of contingent deferred interest.

1917.066. The lien of a shared appreciation loan, including the principal amount and all interest, whether accrued or to be accrued, and all amounts of contingent deferred interest, shall attach from the time of the recordation of the deed of trust securing the loan, and the lien, including the lien of the interest accrued or to be accrued and of the contingent deferred interest, shall have priority over any other lien or encumbrance affecting the property secured by the shared appreciation instrument which is recorded after the time of recordation of the shared appreciation instrument. However, nothing in this section or Section 1917.165 shall preclude a junior lien or encumbrance subordinate to the obligation of the shared appreciation loan.

1917.067. Lenders shall be exempt from the usury provisions of Article XV of the California Constitution with respect to shared appreciation loans made pursuant to this chapter.

1917.068. The qualification requirements of Sections 25110, 25120, and 25130 of the Corporations Code shall not apply to a shared appreciation loan, provided (1) the loan obligation is evidenced by one promissory note secured by a deed of trust which is not one of a series of notes secured by interests in the same real property and (2) the loan obligation is not evidenced by fractional undivided interests in one promissory note secured by interests in the same real property.

1917.069. The aggregate amount of any fee charged to the borrower for processing an application and preparing any necessary documents in connection with originating a shared appreciation loan shall not exceed the reasonable cost of providing the service. No prepaid interest shall be charged to the borrower, but nothing in this chapter shall preclude a lender from requiring a fee for providing commitments for shared appreciation loans to builders or others who will not be the ultimate borrower.

Article 7. Notices and Disclosures

1917.070. (a) The disclosures made pursuant to this chapter, as required, shall be the only disclosures required to be made pursuant to state law for shared appreciation loans, notwithstanding any contrary provisions applicable to loans not made under this chapter, except those, if any, that may be required by reason of the application of Division 1 (commencing with Section 25000) of the Corporations Code, or Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11000) of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Business and Professions Code. A lender may, but shall not be required to, supplement the disclosures required by this article with additional disclosures that are not inconsistent with the disclosures required by this article.

(b) When very specific language is prescribed by this chapter, substantially the same language shall be utilized if possible, but reasonably equivalent language may be used to the extent necessary or appropriate to achieve a clearer or more accurate disclosure.

1917.071. (a) Each lender offering shared appreciation loans shall furnish to a prospective borrower, on the earlier of the date on which the lender first provides written information concerning shared appreciation loans from such lender or provides a loan application form to the prospective borrower, a written disclosure as provided in this section.

(b) The disclosure shall be entitled "INFORMATION ABOUT THE (Name of Lender) SHARED APPRECIATION LOAN," and shall describe the operation and effect of the shared appreciation loan including a brief summary of its terms and conditions, together with a statement consisting of substantially the following language, to the extent applicable to such loan:

INFORMATION ABOUT THE [Name of Lender] SHARED APPRECIATION LOAN

(Name of Lender) is pleased to offer you the opportunity to finance your home through a shared appreciation loan.

Because the shared appreciation loan differs from the usual mortgage loan, the law requires that you should read and understand before you sign the loan documents.

The loan will bear a stated rate of interest which will be one-third below the prevailing market interest rate. In exchange for a stated interest rate which is below the prevailing rate, you will be obligated to pay us additional interest later. This additional interest is called "contingent deferred interest."

Contingent Deferred Interest

This loan provides that you, as borrower, must pay to us, as lender, as contingent deferred interest, one-third of the net appreciated value of the real property which secures the loan. This contingent interest is due and payable when the property is sold or transferred, when the loan is paid in full, upon any acceleration of the loan upon default, or at the end of the term of the loan, whichever first occurs. The dollar amount of contingent interest which you will be required to pay cannot be determined at this time. If the property does not appreciate, you will owe us nothing.

Your obligation to pay contingent interest will reduce the amount of the appreciation, if any, that you will realize on the property. This appreciation will not produce a real gain in your equity in the property, unless the appreciation rate exceeds the general inflation rate, but you will be required to pay a portion of the appreciation as contingent interest without regard to whether the appreciation has resulted in a real gain.

When you sell or refinance your home, you normally will receive enough cash to pay the shared appreciation loan balance, accrued interest, prepayment penalty (if applicable), the contingent interest, and expenses of sale. However, if you sell with only a small downpayment, you may possibly not receive enough cash to pay the contingent interest, and, in that event, it will be necessary for you to provide cash from other funds.

If you do not sell the property before the end of the term of this loan, you will need to refinance this loan at that time. The term of this loan is (duration) years. We will offer to refinance the outstanding obligation, including any contingent interest, at that time. If you refinance this loan, your monthly payments may increase substantially if the property appreciates significantly or if the interest rate on the refinancing loan is much higher than today's prevailing rates. In general, the more your property appreciated, the larger will be the amount of the contingent interest that you will have an obligation to pay or refinance.

The contingent interest will not become due if title to the property is transferred on your death to a spouse, or where a transfer results from a decree of dissolution of a marriage and a spouse becomes the sole owner.

Calculating the Contingent Interest

Contingent interest will be calculated as follows:

	FAIR MARKET VALUE OF THE PROPERTY (Sale price or amount of value determined by appraisal.)
– (less)	BORROWER'S COST OF THE PROPERTY (This amount includes certain costs paid by you incident to the purchase.)
– (less)	COST OF CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS MADE BY YOU IN ANY 12-MONTH PERIOD (Must exceed $2,500 in value. The actual amount may be the lesser of actual cost or appraised value.)
_ (equals)	NET APPRECIATED VALUE
× (times)	ONE-THIRD PERCENTAGE OWED TO LENDER
_ (equals)	TOTAL CONTINGENT INTEREST

Determining Net Appreciated Value

We are entitled to receive one-third of the net appreciated value of the property as contingent interest. As explained above, net appreciated value equals (1) the fair market value of the property at the time of the sale or appraisal, less (2) your cost of the property, less (3) the value of any capital improvements for which you are entitled to credit.

Determining Fair Market Value

Fair market value is the sale price of the property in the case of a bona fide sale of the property made before the maturity of the shared appreciation loan, excluding certain foreclosure related sales. In all other cases, fair market value is determined by our most recent annual appraisal of the property. If you desire to contest the amount of our annual appraisal, you may obtain another appraisal by a qualified independent appraiser within 30 days after the anniversary date of the loan and send a copy of the appraisal to us by first-class mail within that 30-day period. If your appraiser's appraisal is lower than our appraisal, the annual appraisal shall equal one-half the sum of the two appraisals.

Determining Value of Capital Improvements

The cost or value of certain capital improvements (but no maintenance or repair costs) may be added to your cost of the property for the purpose of determining the net appreciated value, but only if the procedures set forth in the shared appreciation loan documents are followed. It is important to note that capital improvements completed and for which a credit is claimed in any 12-month period must cost or be appraised at more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). The lesser of the cost or appraised value will control. However, if you have performed at least half the value of the labor or other work involved, then the appraised value of the improvements will control. The appraised value of the improvements shall be considered to be the increase in the value of the property resulting from the improvements. You will receive no credit for improvements that are not appraised at more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

Cost of Appraisals

The terms of this loan call for annual appraisals of the property, and for additional appraisals to value improvements or in the event of a dispute regarding the value of the property or improvements. The cost of the appraisals will be paid as follows:

Your Right to Refinance This Loan

If the property is not sold or transferred prior to the maturity of the loan, we will offer to refinance the outstanding obligation on the loan, including any contingent interest. We will offer refinancing at the then prevailing interest rate either directly or through another mortgage lender.

The terms of the refinancing loan will be like home loans offered at that time by banks or savings and loan associations, but you are assured that at least one of the options will be a fully amortizing 30-year loan. The interest rate on the refinancing loan may be either fixed or adjustable, as provided in your shared appreciation loan.

We will not be permitted to look to the forecast of your income in offering to refinance. The interest rate and monthly payment upon refinancing cannot be determined at this time. They may be either more or less burdensome to you than the currently prevailing rates and terms.

Tax Consequences

Use of the shared appreciation loan will have income tax or estate planning consequences which will depend upon your own financial and tax situation. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, YOU ARE URGED TO CONSULT YOUR OWN ACCOUNTANT, ATTORNEY OR OTHER FINANCIAL ADVISER. THE QUESTIONS YOU SHOULD DISCUSS INCLUDE THE TAX DEDUCTIBILITY OF THE CONTINGENT INTEREST PAYMENT, YOUR RIGHT TO UTILIZE THAT DEDUCTION IN YEARS OTHER THAN THE YEAR IT IS PAID, AND THE EFFECT OF THE LOSS OF TAX BENEFITS BEFORE THAT TIME.

Other Important Information

(Here insert additional description, if necessary, of the operation and effect of the shared appreciation loan.)

The foregoing describes our shared appreciation loan, includes a summary of all of its important provisions, and informs you of some of the risks of a shared appreciation loan..

If your loan application is accepted by us, we will provide you with more information about your particular shared appreciation loan, which will include a comparison with conventional mortgages, an illustration of the possible increase in your monthly payments upon refinancing, and other important information.

Before you enter into a shared appreciation loan with us, we recommend that you and your attorney or tax accountant review the loan documents for the full text of all of the terms and conditions which will govern the loan.

1917.072. (a) Each lender making a shared appreciation loan shall also furnish to the prospective borrower, prior to the consummation of the loan, the disclosures required by Subpart C of Federal Reserve Board Regulation Z (12 CFR Part 226), including 12 CFR Section 226.18(f), to the extent applicable to the transaction.

(b) The disclosure made pursuant to subdivision (a) and Regulation Z shall be based on the fixed interest rate of the shared appreciation loan, and shall include a description of the shared appreciation feature, including (1) the conditions for its imposition, the time at which it would be collected, and the limitations on the lender's share, as required by the Federal Reserve Board in the information published by the board in 46 Federal Register 20877-78 (April 7, 1981), and (2) the lender's share of the net appreciated value and the prevailing interest rate as defined in Section 1917.120 of the Civil Code.

(c) The disclosure made pursuant to subdivision (a) and Regulation Z shall be accompanied by (1) one or more transaction-specific examples of the operation and effect of the shared appreciation loan and (2) the following charts comparing the shared appreciation loan and a conventional loan made at the prevailing interest rate, and illustrating the possible increase in the monthly payments, and the possible annual percentage rate of finance charge, on the assumptions therein stated:

(d) The disclosures required by paragraph (c) shall be separated from the disclosures required by Regulation Z, and may be presented in the document containing the disclosures required by Regulation Z or in one or more separate documents.

(e) Except to the extent that this section requires disclosure of additional information not required by Regulation Z, compliance with the applicable credit disclosure requirements of Regulation Z shall constitute compliance with the requirements of this section.

(f) The disclosures prescribed in Section 1917.171 shall be physically attached to the disclosures required by this section and Regulation Z at the time such disclosures are furnished to the borrower.

SEC. 11.5. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1917.010) of Title 4 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code shall become inoperative on January 1, 1990, and shall have no force or effect on or after that date, except that Chapter 4 shall continue to apply to any shared appreciation loan entered into prior to January 1, 1990.

SEC. 12. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1917.110) is added to Title 4 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. SHARED APPRECIATION LOANS

Article 1. Legislative Findings and Declarations

1917.110. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:

(a) It is necessary and essential that the state provide and promote alternative means of supplying affordable housing to the citizens of the state.

(b) Because of current economic conditions, including the unprecedented fluctuation in interest rates, alternative mortgage instruments must be developed to supplement the standard long-term, fixed-rate mortgage.

(c) State facilitation of the shared appreciation loan will serve the need to develop alternative means of financing housing, particularly new homes, and will help to create vitally needed jobs in the construction industry.

Article 2. Definitions

1917.120. For purposes of this chapter:

(a) "Borrower" means the recipient or recipients of a shared appreciation loan and includes any successor in interest to the borrower under a shared appreciation loan, to the extent such succession is permitted by law or by the terms of the shared appreciation loan.

(b) "Borrower's cost of the property" means the price paid by the borrower for the purchase of the property to be financed with a shared appreciation loan and also includes documentary transfer taxes, escrow and recording fees, title insurance premiums, and any other fees directly paid by the borrower as a necessary or customary cost of consummating acquisition of the property. However, if the purchase price to be paid for the property does not reasonably reflect the true value of the property, the borrower may request that, in lieu of the actual price paid, the "borrower's cost of the property" be established at an amount mutually agreed by the lender and borrower or be established by averaging two appraisals in the same manner as specified in Section 1917.142 for determination of fair market value. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to require a lender to make shared appreciation loans with the borrower's cost of the property established on the basis of appraisals.

(c) "Contingent deferred interest" means the lender's share of net appreciated value, calculated as the sum resulting upon multiplying the net appreciated value by a percentage agreed by the lender and borrower, not to exceed 50 percent.

(d) "Fair market value" means the highest price on the date of valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell but under no particular or urgent necessity for so doing, nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing, and able to buy but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with the other with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

Fair market value shall be determined pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 1917.140).

(e) "Lender" means any person who makes a shared appreciation loan or the successor in interest to any such person.

(f) "Net appreciated value" means the fair market value less the sum of the borrower's cost of the property and the value of capital improvements. Nothing in this chapter shall, however, preclude a shared appreciation loan from additionally including a provision requiring deduction of any or all of the borrower's costs of selling the property from fair market value in determining, "net appreciated value," and if such a provision is included, the disclosures required by Section 1917.171 shall be modified accordingly.

(g) "Prevailing rate" means the weighted average yield accepted by the Federal National Mortgage Association in its most recent free market system auction for four-month conventional mortgage commitments. In the event that the Federal National Mortgage Association discontinues or substantially alters its free market system auction for conventional mortgages then the "prevailing rate" shall be the average yield established at the most recent immediate delivery auction of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, or if the auction has been discontinued, then the "prevailing rate" shall be specified in the shared appreciation loan as either (1) the most recently published Federal Home Loan Bank Board mortgage contract rate or (2) the average single-family home mortgage rate for the 10 largest savings and loan associations with principal offices in this state.

(h) "Property" means the property financed by the shared appreciation loan.

(i) "Sale" means any transfer of title to the property and additionally includes the execution of an installment sale contract giving the purchaser a right to possess the property before transfer of title, refinancing, judicial sale on execution or other legal process of foreclosure or trustee's sale (regardless of whether initiated by the lender), but "sale" does not include a transfer specified in Section 2924.6.

(j) "Shared appreciation loan" means any loan made pursuant to this chapter upon the security of owner-occupied real property of a type specified in Section 1917.130, and in connection with which the lender has a right to receive a share of the appreciation in the value of the security property. "Shared appreciation loan" includes a deed of trust and any evidence of debt issued in connection with the loan.

(k) "Value of capital improvements" means the amount of the credit or credits for capital improvements, if any, determined pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 1917.150).

Article 3. Terms and Conditions

1917.130. Lenders may make shared appreciation loans pursuant to this chapter for the purchase of real property improved with one- to four-dwelling units, including structures ancillary to such dwelling units and including attached single-family dwelling units, single-family mobilehome units placed upon permanent foundations, residential condominium units, and dwelling units within a planned unit development. Shared appreciation loans shall be made to finance only owner-occupied dwelling units, but in the case of two- to four-unit dwellings financed under this chapter only one of the units need be owner-occupied. A dwelling unit shall be conclusively deemed to be owner-occupied for purposes of this chapter if an original recipient of the shared appreciation loan certifies in writing to the lender at the time the loan is made that he or she will occupy the property.

1917.131. A shared appreciation loan shall include the following terms and conditions:

(a) The term of the loan, excluding any refinancing under Section 1917.133, shall be at least seven years, but not more than 30 years.

(b) The repayment schedule for the loan, excluding any refinancing under Section 1917.133, shall be cast so that full amortization of the principal amount of the loan would occur in not less than 30 nor more than 40 years, regardless of the actual term of the loan. Any principal balance remaining at maturity shall be due and payable at that time, unless refinanced as provided in Section 1917.133. Monthly installment payments shall be equal in amount, except for the final payment when a principal balance is remaining at maturity, and in addition to amortization of principal shall include fixed interest pursuant to subdivision (d).

(c) The loan shall be secured by a deed of trust on the real property financed.

(d) The loan shall bear interest at a fixed rate, which shall be established in relation to the prevailing rate (1) in effect 90 days prior to the loan closing, (2) in effect at another date between that date and the loan closing if and as mutually agreed by the lender and borrower, or (3) in effect at the time of the lender's loan commitment given to the borrower or to the person from whom the borrower purchases the property. The percentage by which the fixed interest rate is reduced below the applicable prevailing rate shall be at least one-half the lender's percentage share of net appreciated value which is contingent deferred interest, except that if the shared appreciation loan is for less than 80 percent of the borrower's purchase price of the property, the percentage by which the fixed interest rate is reduced below the applicable prevailing rate shall be at least two-thirds the lender's percentage share of net appreciated value which is contingent deferred interest.

(e) The borrower shall additionally be obligated to pay to the lender contingent deferred interest (1) at the time of sale of the property if the lender accelerates the principal balance of the loan in accordance with a provision in the shared appreciation loan authorized by Section 1917.162, (2) at the time the loan is prepaid in full, upon acceleration of the loan upon default, or (3) upon the maturity of the loan, whichever first occurs.

(f) The aggregate amount of any fee charged to the borrower by the lender for processing an application, preparing any necessary documents, obtaining a credit report, or any other costs incurred by the lender in connection with originating a shared appreciation loan shall not exceed two percent of the principal amount of the loan or five hundred dollars ($500), whichever is greater. No prepaid interest shall be charged to the borrower, but nothing in this chapter shall preclude a lender from requiring a fee for providing commitments for shared appreciation loans to builders or others who purchase such commitments and who will not be the ultimate borrower.

1917.132. (a) The borrower shall have the right to prepay, at any time, in full or in part, the principal loan balance of the shared appreciation loan, together with accrued interest, including contingent deferred interest.

(b) Nothing in this chapter shall prevent a borrower from obligating himself or herself, by an agreement in writing, to pay a prepayment charge upon prepayment of the loan, in full or in part, made within five years of the date of execution of the shared appreciation loan.

(c) Any prepayment charge imposed upon the prepayment of a shared appreciation loan shall not exceed the amount authorized and specified in subdivision (b) of Section 2954.9.

(d) No prepayment charge shall be imposed as to any portion of the contingent deferred interest.

1917.133. (a) If a shared appreciation loan with an original term of less than 10 years is not prepaid in full or the property is not sold or transferred prior to maturity of the loan, and provided the borrower is not then in default, the lender shall offer or arrange for refinancing of the unpaid balance of the loan upon maturity and all contingent deferred interest. The refinancing may be provided directly by the lender or another mortgage lender, or the lender may arrange at the time of making the shared appreciation loan for the refinancing to be provided by a federally or state chartered bank or savings and loan association doing business in this state or by a qualified mortgage banker. As used in this section "qualified mortgage banker" means a lender (1) meeting the criteria established by the Government National Mortgage Association for lenders selling over ten million dollars ($10,000,000) in mortgage loans to that organization annually and (2) which either has conducted an ongoing business of mortgage lending in this state for not less than five years immediately preceding the making of the shared appreciation loans, or made over fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) in mortgage loans in this state during the 12 months immediately preceding the making of the shared appreciation loan. If a refinancing commitment is arranged by the lender upon origination of the shared appreciation loan, this fact shall be fully and fairly disclosed to the borrower, a copy of the lender's contract with the bank, savings and loan association or qualified mortgage banker making the commitment shall be supplied to the borrower at such time, and the contract shall be fully enforceable by the borrower as a third-party beneficiary thereto, but the lender shall not be a guarantor of the obligation of the bank, savings and loan association, or qualified mortgage banker to provide refinancing.

If the original lender is a bank or savings and loan association doing business in this state or a qualified mortgage banker, it may provide the refinancing commitment to the borrower required by this section and assignees or successors in interest of the original lender shall not be guarantors of the refinancing obligation, provided the shared appreciation loan contains this limitation, which is fully and fairly disclosed to the borrower, and the original lender's refinancing commitment is fully enforceable by the borrower.

(b) The term of the loan for refinancing shall be established so that the borrower's repayment schedule provides for the final installment payment not less than 30 years from the date of origination of the shared appreciation loan. However, if loans at that duration are not available, within the meaning of subdivision (d), the lender or other obligor shall give the borrower a choice of any form of loan and maturity for that type of loan which is available at the time of refinancing, within the meaning of subdivision (d). The lender or other obligor shall inform the borrower of the types of loans (and maturities) available for refinancing under this section not less than 60 days prior to maturity of the shared appreciation loan.

(c) The interest rate for the refinancing loan shall not exceed rates generally available in the market for the type of loan instrument provided under subdivision (d) at the time of maturity of the shared appreciation loan. No loan origination fees shall be required of the borrower, either as prepaid interest or for processing services, as a condition of obtaining a refinancing loan pursuant to this section, but the borrower may be required to pay the costs of obtaining a policy of title insurance in accordance with the lender's requirements. The refinancing loan need not be a fixed interest rate loan, subject to the limitations of subdivision (d).

(d) The refinancing loan may be any form of loan which, at the time of refinancing, is generally offered to and utilized by the public for financing housing like the borrower's property by banks or savings and loan associations doing business in this state.

(e) The lender may require as a condition of the refinancing loan that it be secured by a deed of trust having a lien of first priority.

1917.134. Except as provided in this article, the terms and conditions of the refinancing loan shall be subject to all laws applicable to loans in effect on the date of refinancing.

1917.135. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the borrower from obtaining any other financing, in lieu of the refinancing provided for in Section 1917.133, including refinancing on other terms mutually agreeable to the borrower and lender.

Article 4. Determination of Fair Market Value

1917.140. The borrower may, at any time for the purpose of facilitating a sale of the property, request the lender to stipulate the minimum amount which the lender considers to be the fair market value of the property for the purposes of this chapter. The lender shall advise the borrower within 10 working days of the receipt of such request of the lender's estimate of the minimum fair market value. The estimate shall remain effective for purposes of this section for 90 days. For the purposes of this section and Section 1917.141, a sale of the property shall be deemed to have occurred within the 90-day period if there is a valid contract entered by an offer and acceptance within the 90-day period for the sale of the property. The lender's stipulation shall remain effective for an additional 60 days following execution of the sale contract to permit completion of the sale and close of escrow.

The lender shall not be liable to the borrower or any other party on account of damages alleged as a result of providing the stipulation or estimate required by this section if such stipulation or estimate is made in good faith. Evidence of lack of good faith shall include, but not be limited to, a showing that the lender has willfully or repeatedly overrepresented the fair market value of other properties in similar situations, applying equitable principles to those determinations. The lender shall be conclusively presumed to have acted in good faith and no action may be brought or maintained against a lender which arises out of the provision by the lender of such stipulation or estimate, if the lender relied upon an appraisal of an independent appraiser approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association.

1917.141. (a) In the case of a sale for cash within 90 days after the lender stipulates, under the provisions of Section 1917.140, a minimum amount which the lender considers to be the fair market value of the property, the fair market value shall be the gross sale price, unless the gross sales price is below the minimum amount stipulated by the lender and the lender contests in writing the reasonableness of the gross sale price in relation to the fair market value within 10 working days of the lender's receipt of notice of the gross sale price from borrower, in which case fair market value shall be the greater of gross sale price or the amount determined under Section 1917.142.

(b) In the case of a sale for cash where the borrower has not requested the lender under the provisions of Section 1917.140 to stipulate to the minimum amount which the lender considers to be the fair market value of the property or where the stipulated minimum amount was provided by the lender more than 90 days prior to the date of sale, fair market value shall be the gross sale price, unless lender contests in writing the reasonableness of the gross sale price in relation to the fair market value within 10 working days of the lender's receipt of notice of the gross sale price from borrower, in which case fair market value shall be the greater of gross sale price or the amount determined under Section 1917.142.

(c) In the case of a sale which includes consideration to the seller other than cash, fair market value shall be as determined under Section 1917.142.

(d) In the case the shared appreciation loan is prepaid in full, or upon acceleration of the shared appreciation loan upon default, or upon maturity of the shared appreciation loan, fair market value shall be as determined under Section 1917.142.

1917.142. When Section 1917.141 requires the application of this section, the fair market value shall be determined as the average of two appraisals of the property performed as described in this section. If possible, the appraisals shall be based on the sale prices of comparable properties in the market area sold within the preceding three-month period. The appraisals shall be made upon request of the lender by two independent residential appraisers, one to be selected by the lender and one by the borrower. Each appraiser shall be approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association. The cost of the appraiser selected by the lender shall be borne by the lender, and the cost of the appraiser selected by the borrower shall be borne by the borrower, unless the average of the two appraisals equals or is less than the gross sale price of the property, in which case the lender shall also pay the fee of the borrower's appraiser up to two hundred dollars ($200). If either of the appraisers determines that the gross sale price does not reasonably reflect the fair market value of the property, or, in the case of a sale for which appraisal is required by this section, then the fair market value of the property shall be determined as the average of the two appraisals. If the borrower fails to select a qualified appraiser within 15 days after the lender has notified the borrower in writing of the lender's request for an appraisal of the property, the reasons therefor, and the borrower's option to select an independent appraiser within 15 days after the lender's request is submitted to the borrower, the lender may designate the second appraiser, provided the lender's request informs the borrower of this time limitation, and that the lender will select an appraiser on behalf of the borrower in the event the borrower fails to designate an appraiser, with consequent cost to the borrower. If pursuant to this section the lender designates the second appraiser, the cost of both appraisals shall be borne equally by the borrower and lender. If in any case the property has been damaged (other than normal wear and tear) and the damage has not been fully repaired, the determination of fair market value shall be based on the condition of the property not including the damage.

Nothing in this section shall preclude the borrower and lender from establishing the fair market value of the property by mutual agreement in lieu of appraisals pursuant to this section.

Article 5. Improvements

1917.150. The borrower may have the value of capital improvements added to the borrower's cost of the property, for purposes of determining net appreciated value and the amount of contingent deferred interest, but only if the procedures set forth in this article are followed.

(a) Within 60 days following the completion of capital improvements during any 12-month period with a cost in excess of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), the borrower shall send by first-class mail a notice of the completion of the improvements to the lender and shall submit proof of cost and an estimate of the increase in value of the property by reason of the improvements.

(b) If, within 30 days of receipt of the notice, the lender questions the claimed increase in value of the property by reason of the improvements, the lender and the borrower may, by mutual agreement, establish the value of the capital improvements or the lender may require appraisal of the property. An appraisal shall be made to determine the increase in value of the property, if any, by reason of the improvements, by two appraisers selected in the same manner specified in Section 1917.142. If appraisals are performed, the increase in value resulting from the improvements for the purposes of this section, shall be one-half of the sum of the two appraisals. The cost of the appraiser selected by the borrower shall be borne by the borrower, and the cost of the appraiser selected by the lender shall be borne by the lender.

(c) A credit for the value of capital improvements shall be provided if the increase in value of the property resulting therefrom is determined pursuant to subdivision (b) to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

(d) If 50 percent or more of the value of the labor or other work on the improvements was performed by the borrower, then the actual cost of the improvements need not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for purposes of making application under subdivision (a).

1917.151. Nothing in this article shall preclude a shared appreciation loan from providing the borrower with a greater credit for improvements than specified in this article, provided the relevant disclosures required by Article 7 (commencing with Section 1917.170) are appropriately modified to accurately disclose the terms of the credit.

Article 6. General Provisions

1917.160. The relationship of the borrower and the lender, as to a shared appreciation loan, is that of debtor and creditor and shall not be, or be construed to be, a joint venture, equity venture, partnership, or other relationship.

1917.161. Any waiver of any right of a borrower under the provisions of this chapter shall be void and unenforceable.

1917.162. (a) Notwithstanding Section 711, a provision in a shared appreciation loan made pursuant to this chapter permitting the lender to accelerate the maturity date of the principal and accrued interest on the loan upon sale of the property shall be valid and enforceable against the borrower, except as may be precluded by Section 2924.6.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that potential exposure to liability for enforcement of a "due-on-sale" clause consistent with Section 711, as interpreted by the courts, makes use of such a provision impractical. Moreover, the additional risks to the lender inherent in shared appreciation financing are greater with longer loan terms (which are more desirable from the standpoint of housing affordability), but this risk is reduced with an enforceable "due-on-sale" clause. Therefore, in order to facilitate shared appreciation financing, it is necessary to establish the exception specified in subdivision (a).

1917.163. This chapter facilitates the making of shared appreciation financing in this state which conforms to the provisions of this chapter. The terms and conditions of any shared appreciation loan made pursuant to this chapter shall be consistent with this chapter. This chapter does not, however, apply to or limit shared appreciation financing of real property of a type specified in Section 1917.130 that is made pursuant to other provisions of law, or which is not otherwise unlawful. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to in any way affect shared appreciation financing of commercial property or residential property not meeting the criteria specified in Section 1917.130.

1917.164. A shared appreciation loan shall not be subject to any provision of this code or the Financial Code which limits the interest rate or change of interest rate of variable interest rate or renegotiable interest instruments, or which requires particular language or provisions in security instruments securing variable or renegotiable rate obligations or in evidences of those debts.

This section is declaratory of existing law.

1917.165. The lien of a deed of trust securing a shared appreciation loan shall include and secure the principal amount of the shared appreciation loan, and all interest, whether accrued or to be accrued, including all amounts of contingent deferred interest.

1917.166. The lien of a shared appreciation loan, including the principal amount and all interest, whether accrued or to be accrued, and all amounts of contingent deferred interest, shall attach from the time of the recordation of the deed of trust securing the loan, and the lien, including the lien of the interest accrued or to be accrued and of the contingent deferred interest, shall have priority over any other lien or encumbrance affecting the property secured by the shared appreciation instrument, recorded after the time of recordation of the shared appreciation instrument. However, nothing in this section or Section 1917.165 shall preclude a junior lien or encumbrance subordinate to the obligation of the shared appreciation loan. In no case may a junior lien achieve priority over the lien securing the obligation of the shared appreciation loan, provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to supersede Section 3134 of the Civil Code.

1917.167. A shared appreciation loan which at origination bears a fixed interest rate complying with the usury provisions of Article XV of the California Constitution shall not be deemed to become usurious by reason of the payment of contingent deferred interest pursuant to this chapter.

1917.168. The qualification requirements of Sections 25110, 25120, and 25130 of the Corporations Code do not apply to a shared appreciation loan to the extent the exemption afforded by subdivision (p) of Section 25100 of that code is applicable.

Article 7. Notices and Disclosures

1917.170. (a) The disclosures made pursuant to this chapter, as required, shall be the only disclosures required to be made pursuant to state law for shared appreciation loans, notwithstanding any contrary provision applicable to loans not made under this chapter, except those, if any, that may be required by reason of the application of Division 1 (commencing with Section 25000) of the Corporations Code, or Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11000) of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Business and Professions Code. However, a lender shall not be precluded from supplementing the disclosures required by this chapter with additional disclosures that are not inconsistent with the disclosures required by this chapter.

(b) Whenever specific language is prescribed by this chapter, substantially the same language shall be utilized if possible, but reasonably equivalent language may be used to the extent necessary or appropriate to achieve a clearer or more accurate disclosure.

1917.171. (a) Each lender offering shared appreciation loans shall furnish to a prospective borrower, on the earlier of the dates on which the lender first provides written information concerning shared appreciation loans from the lender or provides a loan application form to the prospective borrower, a written disclosure as provided in this section.

(b) The disclosure shall be entitled "INFORMATION ABOUT THE (Name of Lender) SHARED APPRECIATION LOAN," and shall describe the operation and effect of the shared appreciation loan including a brief summary of its terms and conditions, together with a statement consisting of substantially the following language, to the extent applicable to such loan:

INFORMATION ABOUT THE (Name of Lender) SHARED APPRECIATION LOAN

(Name of Lender) is pleased to offer you the opportunity to finance your home through a shared appreciation loan.

Because the shared appreciation loan differs from the usual mortgage loan, the law requires that you have a detailed explanation of the special features of the loan before you apply. Before you sign your particular shared appreciation loan documents, you will receive more information about your particular shared appreciation loan, which you should read and understand before you sign the loan documents.

The loan will bear a stated rate of interest which will be (percent) below the prevailing market interest rate. In exchange for a stated interest rate which is below the prevailing rate, you will be obligated to pay us additional interest later. This additional interest is called "contingent interest."

The loan will require a balloon payment at the end of the _____ year. Thus, if you do not sell the property before that time, you will need to refinance the loan at that time.

Contingent Interest

This loan provides that you, as borrower, must pay to us, as lender, as contingent interest, (percent) of the net appreciated value of the real property which secures the loan. This contingent interest is due and payable when the property is sold or transferred, when the loan is paid in full, upon any acceleration of the loan upon default, or at the end of the term of the loan, whichever first occurs. The dollar amount of contingent interest, if any, which you will be required to pay cannot be determined at this time. If the property does not appreciate, you will owe us nothing. The contingent interest will not become due if title to the property is transferred on your death to a spouse, or where a transfer results from a decree of dissolution of a marriage and a spouse becomes the sole owner.

Your obligation to pay contingent interest will reduce the amount of the appreciation, if any, that you will realize on the property. This appreciation will not produce a real gain in your equity in the property, unless the appreciation rate exceeds the general inflation rate, but you will be required to pay a portion of the appreciation as contingent interest without regard to whether the appreciation has resulted in a real gain.

When you sell or refinance your home, you normally will receive enough cash to pay the shared appreciation loan balance, accrued interest, prepayment charge (if applicable), contingent interest, and expenses of sale. However, if you sell with only a small downpayment, you may possibly not receive enough cash to pay the contingent interest, and, in that event, it will be necessary for you to provide cash from other funds.

Calculating the Contingent Interest

Contingent interest will be calculated as follows:

	FAIR MARKET VALUE OF THE PROPERTY (Sale price or appraised value.)
– (less)	BORROWER'S COST OF THE PROPERTY (This amount includes certain costs paid by you incident to the purchase.)
– (less)	VALUE OF CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS MADE BY YOU (Must exceed $2,500 in value. Must also exceed $2,500 in cost unless you perform more than 50% of the value of the labor or work on the improvement.)
__ (equals)	NET APPRECIATED VALUE
× (times)	_____ PERCENT OWED TO LENDER
__ (equals)	TOTAL CONTINGENT INTEREST

Determining Fair Market Value

If you sell your property for cash before maturity of your shared appreciation loan, the gross sale price will be the fair market value of the property, unless appraisals are requested by us and the appraisals average more than the gross sale price. However, at your request, we also will tell you what we consider to be the fair market value of the property. If you sell for cash for a gross sale price that equals or exceeds that amount, the gross sale price will control and appraisals will not be needed.

Fair market value is determined by appraisals in the event of sales involving a consideration other than cash, prepayment of the loan in full, or maturity of the loan.

When appraisals are required, fair market value is determined by averaging two independent appraisals of the property. You may select one of the two appraisers from a list approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association. If appraisals are requested by us, we will provide you with full information on how to select an appraiser.

In lieu of appraisals, we may establish fair market value at an agreed amount if an agreement can be reached between you and us.

Determining Value of Capital Improvements

Capital improvements with a value exceeding $2,500 (but no maintenance or repair costs) may be added to your cost of the property for the purpose of determining the net appreciated value, but only if the procedures set forth in the shared appreciation loan documents are followed. It is important to note that capital improvements completed and claimed in any 12-month period must add more than $2,500 in value to the property and must generally also cost more than $2,500. However, if you have performed at least half the value of the labor or other work involved, then the cost of the improvements will not be considered. The appraised value of the improvements will be the increase in the value of the property resulting from the improvements. You will receive no credit for minor or major repairs or for improvements that are not appraised at more than $2,500, but the lender will acquire a share of any resulting appreciation in the value of the property.

Determining Net Appreciated Value

We are entitled to receive ____ percent of the net appreciated value of the property as contingent interest. As shown in the chart above, net appreciated value equals (1) the fair market value of the property at the time of the sale or appraisal, less (2) your cost of the property, less (3) the value of any capital improvements for which you are entitled to credit.

Balloon Payment of Principal

If you do not sell the property before the end of the term of this loan, you will need to refinance this loan at that time. The term of this loan is (duration) years. We [are not obligated to refinance either the unpaid balance of the loan or the contingent interest at that time; you alone will be responsible for obtaining refinancing] [will offer or arrange with another lender to refinance the outstanding obligation, including any contingent interest, at that time]. If you refinance this loan, your monthly payments may increase substantially if the property appreciates significantly or if the interest rate on the refinancing loan is much higher than today's prevailing rates. In general, the more your property appreciates, the larger will be the amount of the contingent interest that you will have an obligation to pay or refinance.

Your Right to Refinance This Loan

(For loans with a refinancing obligation)

If the property is not sold or transferred prior to the maturity of the loan, we will offer or arrange with another lender to refinance the outstanding obligation of the loan, including any contingent interest. The refinancing will be at the then prevailing interest rate.

The terms of the refinancing loan will be like those of home loans offered at that time by banks or savings and loan associations. If at the time of refinancing, banks or savings and loan associations in this state offer loans of sufficient duration, you are assured that the combined length of your shared appreciation loan and refinancing loan will be at least 30 years. However, if loans of sufficient duration are not then offered by banks or savings and loan associations, you may elect any type and maturity of loan then offered by banks or savings and loan associations.

We will not be permitted to look to the forecast of your income in offering or arranging for your refinancing loan. The interest rate and specific terms of any refinancing loan will be subject to then-prevailing market conditions. The interest rate and monthly payment upon refinancing cannot be determined at this time. They may be either more or less burdensome to you than the currently prevailing rates and terms.

Tax Consequences

(For all loans)

USE OF THE SHARED APPRECIATION LOAN WILL HAVE INCOME TAX OR ESTATE PLANNING CONSEQUENCES WHICH WILL DEPEND UPON YOUR OWN FINANCIAL AND TAX SITUATION. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, YOU ARE URGED TO CONSULT YOUR OWN ACCOUNTANT, ATTORNEY, OR OTHER FINANCIAL ADVISOR.

THE QUESTIONS YOU SHOULD DISCUSS INCLUDE THE TAX DEDUCTIBILITY OF THE CONTINGENT INTEREST PAYMENT, YOUR RIGHT TO UTILIZE THAT DEDUCTION IN YEARS OTHER THAN THE YEAR IT IS PAID, AND THE EFFECT OF THE LOSS OF TAX BENEFITS BEFORE THAT TIME.

1917.172. (a) Each lender making a shared appreciation loan shall also furnish to the prospective borrower, prior to the consummation of the loan, the disclosures required by Subpart C of Federal Reserve Board Regulation Z (12 CFR Part 226), including 12 CFR Section 226.18(f), to the extent applicable to the transaction.

(b) The disclosure made pursuant to subdivision (a) and Regulation Z shall be based on the fixed interest rate of the shared appreciation loan, and shall include a description of the shared appreciation feature, including (1) the conditions for its imposition, the time at which it would be collected, and the limitations on the lender's share, as required by the Federal Reserve Board in the information published by the board in 46 Federal Register 20877-78 (April 7, 1981), and (2) the lender's share of the net appreciated value and the prevailing interest rate as defined in Section 1917.120 of the Civil Code.

(c) The disclosure made pursuant to subdivision (a) and Regulation Z shall be accompanied by (1) one or more transaction-specific examples of the operation and effect of the shared appreciation loan and (2) the following charts comparing the shared appreciation loan and a conventional loan made at the prevailing interest rate, and illustrating the possible increase in the monthly payments, and the possible annual percentage rate of finance charge, on the assumptions therein stated:

(d) The disclosures required by subdivision (c) shall be separate from the disclosures required by Regulation Z, and may be presented in the document containing the disclosures required by Regulation

Z or in one or more separate documents.

(e) Except to the extent that this section requires disclosure of additional information not required by Regulation Z, compliance with the applicable credit disclosure requirements of Regulation Z shall constitute compliance with the requirements of this section.

(f) The disclosure prescribed in Section 1917.171 shall be physically attached to the disclosures required by this section and Regulation Z at the time the Regulation Z disclosures are furnished to the borrower.

(g) In the event federal law is amended so that this section is inconsistent therewith, the federal law shall prevail as to the disclosures required by this section.

SEC. 15. Section 12032 of the Education Code is amended to read:

12032. The State Board of Education is designated as the state educational agency to carry out the purposes and the provisions of these acts of Congress. The State Board of Education is hereby vested with authority to prepare and submit to the United States Commissioner of Education any state plan required by these acts of Congress, to prepare and submit amendments to the state plans, and to administer the state plans or amendments thereto, in accordance with these acts of Congress and any rules and regulations adopted thereunder. The State Board of Education is hereby vested with all necessary power and authority to cooperate with the government of the United States, or any agency or agencies thereof in the administration of these acts of Congress and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder.

SEC. 16. Section 15528 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15528. In addition to the powers granted the board under this chapter, the board shall have authority (1) to make apportionments to districts for the purchase of sites only, or for the construction or purchase of temporary or portable buildings, and for the cost of site preparation, including any necessary utility costs, in connection with their utilization and (2) to establish standards in conjunction with the State Department of Education or board of governors, as the case may be, pertaining to such sites and buildings as a condition for making the apportionment. In addition the board may also expend moneys from the State School Construction Fund directly for the construction, acquisition, storage, maintenance, and repair of the buildings, including administrative costs related thereto. In the latter event the board may lease, sell, or transfer under a lease-purchase agreement the buildings to school districts eligible for aid under this chapter, under such terms as it deems fit. Agreements pertaining thereto may provide for the payment by the state of site preparation costs, including any necessary utility costs, sufficient to permit their utilization.

Any buildings leased for placement on the school property or under a purchase or a lease-purchase agreement shall be deemed the construction or alteration of a school building as those terms are defined in Sections 39140 to 39155, inclusive, or 81130 to 81145, inclusive.

The consideration provided by any agreement between the state and districts pursuant to this section shall as nearly as possible reflect an amount which would return to the state a fair pro rata proportion of its capital investment and expenditures connected therewith in the light of the benefits conferred by the agreement. Such consideration shall be paid by the districts promptly when due, and Section 15573 shall not be deemed applicable to reduce the consideration, provided that the amounts so repaid shall be redeposited in the State School Construction Fund.

Whenever the board deems it economically desirable to do so the board may dispose of any facilities acquired or constructed directly by it under this section to any public or private parties under such terms and in such manner as the board deems fit, save insofar as the disposal is inconsistent with any agreement under this section between the board and an affected district. The board is authorized to do any and all things necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, and any eligible school district is authorized to enter into an agreement with the board to carry out the purposes hereof.

No agreement shall however be entered into under this section unless the department has with respect thereto, or as a condition of making the agreement, approved (1) the property to be transferred, including any incidental construction pertaining thereto, (2) whether the agreement shall be by lease or sale, and (3) the term of the transfer, if less than a sale, including any contingent or indefinite term. "Sale" as used in this paragraph includes a lease-purchase transaction. The jurisdiction of the department shall not otherwise extend to the terms of the agreement.

SEC. 17. Section 15592 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15592. Whenever the Controller determines that any money apportioned to a school district under this chapter has been expended by the district for purposes not authorized by this chapter, or exceeds the final cost of the project which is authorized by this chapter to be paid therefrom, the Controller shall furnish written notice to the board, the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district, directing the school district and the county treasurer to pay into the State Treasury the amount of the unauthorized expenditures, or the amount of the excess apportionment, as the case may be. Upon receipt of the notice, the governing board shall order the county treasurer to pay to the Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in the notice. The amount shall, upon order of the Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State School Construction Fund, to be reapportioned by the board.

The governing body and county treasurer shall make the payments to the Treasurer as provided in this section, and the Controller shall enforce the collection on behalf of the state.

SEC. 18. Section 15910 of the Education Code is amended to read:

15910. Upon request of the State Allocation Board, supported by a statement of the apportionments made and to be made under Sections 15700 to 15795, inclusive, the State School Building Finance Committee shall determine whether or not it is necessary or desirable to issue any bonds authorized under this chapter in order to make the apportionments, and, if so, the amount of bonds then to be issued and sold. A sufficient number of bonds authorized under this chapter shall be issued and sold so that one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) will have been apportioned or will be available for apportionment on October 5, 1950, or as soon thereafter as the bonds can be issued and sold, and so that five million dollars ($5,000,000) additional will become available for apportionment on November 5, 1950, and on the fifth day of each month thereafter until the total amount of bonds authorized by this chapter have been issued and sold. Successive issues of bonds may be authorized and sold to make the apportionments progressively, and it shall not be necessary that all of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold at any one time.

SEC. 19. Section 16195 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16195. Allocations under this article may be made in such amount as may be necessary, and in such manner as to distribute the available funds equitably among school districts, giving consideration to the needs of each district and the number of children within each district who are blind, partially seeing, aphasic, deaf, hard of hearing, mentally retarded, or orthopedic or who are health impaired, multihandicapped, speech handicapped, educationally handicapped, or enrolled in development centers for the handicapped.

In computing the number of those children, there shall be included all of the following:

(a) The number of them residing in the district.

(b) The number of handicapped minors who are actually living within the district five or more days a week, although their legal residence may be outside the district and who are educated pursuant to Section 56708 or 78709.

(c) The number of them who reside outside of the district, except those described in subdivision (b), and who are to be educated by the district, excluding mentally retarded minors within the provisions of Section 56501 or 78801 who reside within a district having an average daily attendance of 900 or more and which does not meet the requirements of Section 16058 concerning outstanding bonded indebtedness.

Allocations for housing and equipment for minors having speech defects or disorders shall be allowed in new schools constructed after July 1, 1968, and in existing schools constructed between July 1, 1933, and July 1, 1968. The housing and equipment shall be designed and provided to permit their utilization for remedial and other special services including speech therapy, speech reading (lipreading), and auditory training for the speech and hearing handicapped, screening and testing for speech and hearing defects, or both, psychological testing of exceptional children, subject matter tutoring of exceptional children, and other specialized activities required by such children. In addition to the maximum building area allowances provided in Sections 16047, 16052, 16053, and 16054, not more than an additional 200 square feet of building area shall be allowed for each new school so planned and constructed.

Each existing school, constructed between July 1, 1933, and July 1, 1968, shall be allowed not more than an additional 200 square feet of building area only for construction thereon of a new speech facility. At the option of the applicant district, the board may allocate funds to convert existing facilities or to provide a combination of new construction and conversion of existing facilities to provide housing for minors having speech defects or disorders, provided the cost of the conversion or combination of new construction and conversion does not exceed the computed cost for 200 square feet of new classroom construction based upon cost standards adopted by the board. At the further option of the applicant district, and in lieu of new building construction or conversion, the board may allocate funds for the acquisition of mobile speech therapy facilities, provided the cost of the mobile facilities does not exceed the combined computed cost for 200 square feet of new classroom construction, based upon cost standards adopted by the board, at all schools which will be served by the mobile facility.

SEC. 20. Section 16402 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16402. The Treasurer shall, on the respective dates of maturity or prior redemption of the bonds, or as soon thereafter as the bonds are surrendered to him or her, pay the same out of the proceeds of the Controller's warrants drawn in his or her favor as provided in Section 16403 and perforate the bonds so paid with a suitable device in a manner to indicate the payment and the date thereof. The Treasurer, or his or her duly authorized agent, shall also, on the respective dates of maturity, cancel all bonds and appurtenant coupons bearing those dates of maturity and remaining unsold, by perforation with a suitable device in a manner to indicate the cancellation and the date thereof. New bonds may be prepared and executed in lieu of bonds canceled solely by reason of the fact that the bonds have not been sold prior to their fixed maturity dates, whenever the State School Building Finance Committee determines the new bonds shall be prepared and executed, subject to the condition the total indebtedness created hereunder shall not exceed the maximum limit herein specified. Not less than four years after the final maturity date of a particular issue of bonds, the Treasurer, or his or her duly authorized agent, may destroy or cremate any bonds of that issue which have been previously paid or canceled as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 21. Section 16603 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16603. For the purpose of creating a fund to provide aid to school districts of the state in accordance with the provisions of the State School Building Aid Law of 1952, and of all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, the committee may create a debt or debts, liability or liabilities, of the state, in the aggregate amount of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) in the manner provided herein, but not otherwise or in excess thereof.

The assets invested in preferred stocks or shares shall not exceed 5 percent of the total assets of the fund. For the purposes of this section, valuation of fund assets, common stocks or shares, and preferred stocks or shares shall be determined on the basis of cost to the annuity reserve fund.

32200. Notwithstanding Section 1714.5 of the Civil Code, no superintendent, principal, teacher, instructor, or other employee of a school district or community college district employed in a position requiring or not requiring certification qualifications, and no person authorized by the governing board of the school district or community college district to assist any employee of the district, shall be held personally liable for civil damages on account of personal injury to or death of any person resulting from the participation of the person in a fire drill or other drill or test related to a potential emergency situation, ordered by lawful authority to be held in the schools of the employing district, unless negligence or the willful act of the employee is the proximate cause of the injury or death.

33500. The Legislature hereby declares that there is further need to encourage the adoption of new or improved educational ideas, practices, and techniques in solving critical educational problems in preschool, elementary, and secondary schools throughout the state. In recognition of the need for the planning and developing of new programs involving a wide range of new approaches designed to improve the quality of education available in this state, this chapter is expressly enacted to foster innovation and create change in education, based on research and proven need. It is the purpose of this chapter to bring purposeful change and experimentation to schools throughout the state, through the use of all available resources of the state.

The Legislature further finds that there are in existence a large number of permanent commissions, committees, and councils, some of which have overlapping duties and functions, and some of which have been perpetuated beyond the original need or purpose for which created. In order to provide a more economical, efficient, and logical structure to educational policymaking, it is the intent of the Legislature to create three levels of educational advisory bodies: educational policy advisory commissions, educational advisory committees, and educational task forces.

SEC. 25. Section 35515 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35515. "Component district" means an elementary school district which is included within a high school district.

SEC. 26. Section 35577 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35577. Whenever an existing school district having authorized but unsold bonds is completely divided between two or more districts so that the existing district ceases to exist, pursuant to any provision of this chapter, the board of supervisors shall, prior to the date the action is effective for the purposes of Section 35534, make and enter an order in the minutes of its proceedings that the authorization to issue the unsold bonds be divided between the districts in the ratio which the assessed valuation of the territory transferred to the districts bears to the total assessed valuation of the former district. The bonds, if issued by any new district, shall be considered a liability of the new district for purposes of computing the bonding capacity of the new district when applying the State School Building Aid Law of 1952, Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 16000) of Part 10.

SEC. 27. Section 37228 of the Education Code is amended to read:

37228. The governing board of any elementary, high school, or unified school district or any county superintendent of schools may maintain classes on Saturday or Sunday, or both.

The classes may include, but are not limited to, continuation classes, special day classes for mentally gifted minors, and the programs of a regional occupational center or regional occupational program.

Except as otherwise provided in this code, the attendance of any pupil in a class or program held on a Saturday or Sunday shall not result in the crediting of more than five days of attendance for the pupil per week.

Attendance at classes conducted on Saturday or Sunday, or both, shall be at the election of the pupil or, in the case of a minor pupil, the parent or guardian of the pupil.

Except as otherwise provided in this code, any class which is offered on a Saturday or Sunday shall be one offered during the regular Monday through Friday school week.

The voluntary attendance of pupils in approved programs for mentally gifted minors, as defined in Section 52200, in special educational activities conducted on Saturday or Sunday shall not be included in the computation of the average daily attendance of the district.

SEC. 29. Section 39398 of the Education Code is amended to read:

39398. Any land purchased or leased by a public agency pursuant to this article shall thereafter be maintained by such agency for playground, playing field, or other outdoor recreational and open-space uses. Land which prior to its sale or lease was used for playground or playing field purposes, shall continue to be maintained for such use by the acquiring agency, unless the governing body of that agency, by a two-thirds vote at a public hearing, determines that there is no longer a significant need for the land to be so used, in which case the land may thereafter be used for other outdoor recreational or open-space purposes. The school district may, at any time, reacquire the land at a price calculated in the manner prescribed in Section 39396, and the rights of reacquisition provided in this section shall be set forth in the deed or other instrument of transfer. If the governing board of the public agency determines that the land is no longer needed for playground, playing field, or other outdoor recreational and open-space purposes, the public agency shall offer the property to the school district for reacquisition under this section, and the school district shall notify the public agency within 60 days of its intent to reacquire the land. If the school district intends to sell the property within one year of the reacquisition date, the school district may finance the reacquisition of the land by lien against the proceeds to be obtained from the sale of the land by the school district. If the school district fails to give the public agency timely notice of its intent to reacquire the property, or if it fails to exercise its right of reacquisition, the public agency may use or dispose of the property.

For purposes of this section, "cost of acquisition," as used in Section 39396, shall refer to the cost at which the land was acquired by the public agency.

SEC. 30. Section 41342 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41342. When any judgment has been rendered which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of more than the amount actually apportioned thereto during that fiscal year, the difference shall be apportioned to the district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final before any other apportionment from the State School Fund is made. Upon the becoming final of any judgment which requires the apportionment from the State School Fund to any school district, to any other agency, or to any fund for any fiscal year of less than the amount actually apportioned thereto during any fiscal year, the difference shall be deducted from the apportionment made to that district, agency, or fund by the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State School Fund during the fiscal year following that in which the judgment becomes final.

SEC. 31. Section 42237.7 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42237.7. It is the intent of the Legislature to transfer on a permanent basis the junior high school tuition amounts for 7th and 8th grade pupils in junior high schools operated by high school districts from the revenue limits of elementary school districts to the revenue limits of the high school districts. Prior to computing each school district revenue limit for the 1980–81 fiscal year, each elementary and high school district 1979–80 fiscal year revenue limit shall be adjusted pursuant to this section. The adjustment shall not be an adjustment to apportionments for the 1979–80 fiscal year.

(a) The county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall, for elementary districts with pupils attending junior high schools operated by a high school district:

(1) Subtract from the 1979–80 fiscal year revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance computed pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 42237 of the elementary district, the amount of the 1979–80 fiscal year junior high tuition rate per unit of average daily attendance which was calculated to be paid by the elementary district.

(2) Multiply the amount determined in paragraph (1) by the number of units of average daily attendance of the elementary district attending junior high schools operated by a high school district.

(3) Divide the amount determined in paragraph (2) by the number of units of average daily attendance attending kindergarten and grades 1 to 6, inclusive, in the elementary district in the 1979–80 fiscal year.

(4) The amount computed in paragraph (3) shall be added to the amount computed in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 42237 to determine the adjusted revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance of the elementary district.

For the 1979–80 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the elementary school district shall not include in its revenue limit calculation any units of average daily attendance attributable to the attendance of 7th and 8th graders in junior high schools operated by a high school district. The loss of units of average daily attendance due to the transfer of 7th and 8th grade pupils pursuant to this section shall not be used in computing declining enrollment for the elementary district pursuant to Section 42239.

(b) The county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction shall, for high school districts with junior high school pupils:

(1) Multiply the junior high tuition rate for the 1979–80 fiscal year for each elementary district served by the high school district by the number of units of average daily attendance of the appropriate elementary district for the 1979–80 fiscal year and sum the products so determined.

(2) Divide the sum determined in paragraph (1) by the total units of average daily attendance in grades 7 and 8 of the high school district in the 1979–80 fiscal year.

(3) Subtract the amount determined in paragraph (2) from the amount computed for the high school district pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 42237.

(4) Multiply the amount determined in paragraph (3) by the number of units of average daily attendance in the 7th and 8th grades of the high school district in the 1979–80 fiscal year.

(5) Divide the amount determined in paragraph (4) by the number of units of average daily attendance in grades 7 to 12, inclusive, of the high school district in the 1979–80 fiscal year.

(6) The amount computed in paragraph (5) shall be subtracted from the amount computed in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 42237 to determine the adjusted revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance of the high school district.

For the 1980–81 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, all units of average daily attendance generated from pupils attending grades 7 and 8 in a junior high school operated by a high school district shall be credited to the high school district. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish procedures for the determination of declining enrollment for the high school district pursuant to Section 42239.

(c) Any reduction or addition to the revenue limits of school districts affected by the implementation of this section shall not be considered in the calculation provided for in subdivision (d) of Section 42237.

(d) For the purpose of determining the appropriations limit of school districts affected by this section, the appropriations limit of each school district shall be adjusted in accordance with subdivision (a) of Section 3 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution.

SEC. 32. The heading of Article 2 (commencing with Section 42420) of Chapter 8 of Part 24 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 33. Section 42647 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42647. With the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the governing board of a unified school district, or district with over 10,000 average daily attendance, may cause to be drawn all warrants on the county treasurer against all the funds, except debt service, of the district in the county treasury in the payment of the expenses of the district. The warrants shall be issued by a person designated as the district auditor or district disbursing officer for the school district on the county treasurer in favor of the persons entitled thereto in payment of all claims chargeable against the district which have been legally examined, allowed, and ordered paid by the governing board. The district auditor shall issue warrants on the county treasurer for all debts and demands against the district when the amounts are fixed by law. The form of the warrant shall be as prescribed by the governing board and approved by the county auditor or county treasurer having jurisdiction.

Notwithstanding Section 42631, the cost of printing the warrants shall be borne by the district.

No county officer shall be responsible for producing reports, statements, and other data relating to or based on these payments of the expenses of the districts. Those districts issuing warrants as provided by this section shall provide the county superintendent of schools, in the form prescribed by him or her, with the data necessary to make retirement reports and other reports required of him or her by law. All warrants, vouchers, and supporting documents shall be kept by the school districts that draw their own warrants.

Notwithstanding Section 27005 of the Government Code, or any other section requiring orders for warrants or warrants to be signed by the county superintendent of schools or the county auditor, or both, the county treasurer shall pay the warrant, if money is available.

Notwithstanding Section 41000, except for assessing and tax collecting, the county auditor and the county treasurer may charge those districts that draw their own warrants for the cost of all fiscal services.

The person authorized by the governing board of the district to issue warrants pursuant to this section shall execute an official bond in an amount fixed by the governing board conditioned upon the faithful performance of his or her duties under this section. A county superintendent of schools or a county auditor shall not be liable under the terms of their bonds or otherwise for any warrant issued pursuant to this section. It is not intended that this provision shall be applied so as to impair the obligation of any contract in the bond of such officer in effect on the effective date of this section.

A listing of the warrants issued under this section by each school district shall be forwarded to the county auditor having jurisdiction, upon his or her request, and to the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district on the same day warrants are issued. The listing, which may be magnetic tape, punched cards, or in other form, shall report, among other things, the warrant number, date of the warrant, amount of the warrant, the name of the payee, and the fund on which drawn.

The form and content of the warrant listing shall be as prescribed by the governing board and approved by the county auditor having jurisdiction.

Each unified school district or district with over 10,000 average daily attendance which issues warrants pursuant to this section shall furnish monthly to the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor of the county of jurisdiction, upon his or her request, a statement showing for the current fiscal year to date, for each required expenditure classification, the amount budgeted, actual expenditures, encumbrances and unencumbered balances.

SEC. 73. Section 50003 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50003. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that, as a result of public actions involving highways, public facilities, and urban renewal projects, and as a result of poverty and the spread of slum conditions and blight to formerly sound neighborhoods, there exists within the urban and rural areas of the state a serious shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary housing which persons and families of low or moderate income, including the elderly and handicapped, can afford. This situation creates an absolute present and future shortage of supply in relation to demand, as expressed in terms of housing needs and aspirations, and also creates inflation in the cost of housing, by reason of its scarcity, which tends to decrease the relative affordability of the state's housing supply for all its residents.

(b) To provide a decent home and suitable living environment for every California family is the basic housing goal of state government. The Legislature recognizes that the California Statewide Housing Plan shows the magnitude of this goal by documenting a substantial need for rehabilitation of existing housing, demolition and replacement of severely dilapidated housing, construction of new apartments, houses, and mobilehomes, construction or rehabilitation of housing for year-round hired and seasonal farmworkers as well as housing for migrant farmworkers, and the provision of financial assistance to a substantial number of lower income households in order to meet standards for affordable rent or housing cost. Private enterprise and investment, without governmental assistance, cannot economically achieve the needed construction of decent, safe, and sanitary housing at rents or purchase prices which persons and families of low or moderate income can afford, nor can it provide the urgently needed rehabilitation of existing housing. The Legislature also recognizes the need to provide assistance to persons and families of low and moderate income and very low income households to purchase manufactured housing and to cooperatively own the mobilehome parks in which they reside and the need to increase the supply of manufactured housing affordable to persons and families of low and moderate income and very low income households.

(c) The shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary housing is inimical to the safety, health, and welfare of the residents of the state and sound growth of its communities.

(d) In order to remedy such shortages, it is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this division to provide a comprehensive and balanced approach to the solution of housing problems of the people of this state.

(e) This section shall not be interpreted as requiring state actions to meet housing goals without legislative authorization, or as requiring such legislative action.

SEC. 74. Section 50201 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50201. Nothing in this division shall preclude the establishment of direct relationships between the federal government and local public entities or shall in any way alter the authority of local public entities to directly receive federal funds, nor shall anything in this division be construed to supersede or affect any other provision of law relating to the control of funds by local public entities. Further, nothing in this division shall affect the authority or reduce the obligations specified in Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 7260) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code with respect to payment of relocation assistance or prevent the receipt or disbursement of federal funds made available to any governmental agency for such purpose.

SEC. 75. Section 670 of the Insurance Code, as amended by Section 9 of Chapter 53 of the Statutes of 1982, is repealed. The repeal made by this section shall not affect the existence or validity of Section 670 of the Insurance Code as amended by Section 8 of Chapter 53 of the Statutes of 1982.

(c) First amendment to an application, five dollars ($5); a second and each subsequent amendment to an application, ten dollars ($10).

(d) Original application to be given the qualifying examination for a license of a fire and casualty licensee, seventeen dollars and fifty cents ($17.50) for each person to be examined.

(e) Original application to be given the qualifying examination for a license of a life licensee, or a license as a variable contract agent, seventeen dollars and fifty cents ($17.50) for each person to be examined.

(f) Application for reexamination for any of the licenses mentioned in this section, seventeen dollars and fifty cents ($17.50) for each person to be reexamined.

(g) Application which includes a request for a certificate of convenience pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 1685), twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) in addition to, and not in lieu of, fees otherwise required.

Notice of the motion shall be made to the defendant and the magistrate. The only ground for the motion shall be that, as a matter of law, the magistrate erroneously dismissed the action or a portion thereof.

The superior court shall hear and determine the motion on the basis of the record of the proceedings before the magistrate. If the motion is litigated to decision by the prosecutor, the prosecution is prohibited from refiling the dismissed action, or portion thereof.

SEC. 86. Section 10110 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10110. Where the nature of the work is historic restoration for the state park system, as determined jointly by the director and the Director of Parks and Recreation, the department may authorize the carrying out of the project directly by the Department of Parks and Recreation.

If the estimated total cost of any construction project or work carried out under this section exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), the Department of Parks and Recreation shall solicit bids in writing and shall award the work to the lowest responsible bidder or reject all bids. However, the director may authorize the Department of Parks and Recreation to carry out work in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) under the provisions of this section by day labor if the director determines, in consultation with the Director of Parks and Recreation, that the award of a contract, the acceptance of bids, or the acceptance of further bids is not in the best interests of the state. The Department of Parks and Recreation shall establish, by regulation, criteria to be considered by the Department of Parks and Recreation in requesting authorization from the director to perform all or part of a project by day labor.

SEC. 87. Section 10160 of the Public Contract Code is amended to read:

When completed, the questionnaire and financial statement shall be verified under oath by the bidder in the manner in which pleadings in civil actions are verified.

10232. Every contract shall contain a statement by which the contractor swears under penalty of perjury that no more than one final, unappealable finding of contempt of court by a federal court has been issued against the contractor within the immediately preceding two-year period because of the contractor's failure to comply with an order of a federal court which orders the contractor to comply with an order of the National Labor Relations Board. For purposes of this section, a finding of contempt does not include any finding which has been vacated, dismissed, or otherwise removed by the court because the contractor has complied with the order which was the basis for the finding. The state may rescind any contract in which the contractor falsely swears to the truth of the statement required by this section.

SEC. 90. Article 7.1 (commencing with Section 10240) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

Article 7.1. Resolution of Contract Claims

10240. The remedy for the resolution of claims arising under contracts made under the provisions of this chapter shall be arbitration pursuant to this chapter.

10240.1. The claimant may initiate arbitration not later than 180 days after the date of service in person or by mail on the claimant of the final written decision by the department on the claim. This limitation shall not apply to any claim founded on any cost audit, latent defect, warranty, or guarantee under the contract.

10240.2. A failure by the claimant to pursue diligently and exhaust, as to the claim, the required administrative procedures set forth in the contract under which the claim arose shall be a bar to arbitration hereunder until there has been compliance therewith. Subject to the preceding sentence, if more than 240 days have elapsed since acceptance of the work by the department, the claimant is entitled to arbitration, even though the procedures are not concluded.

10240.3. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, the arbitration shall be conducted by a single arbitrator selected by the parties from the certified list created by the Public Works Contract Arbitration Committee. If the parties cannot agree on the arbitrator, either party may petition the superior court to appoint one from the panel of arbitrators certified by the Public Works Contract Arbitration Committee.

10240.4. No decision made by a department shall be conclusive on any issue in the arbitration.

10240.5. The Departments of General Services, Transportation, and Water Resources shall jointly adopt and may, from time to time, modify, revise, or repeal uniform regulations to implement the provisions of this article, which regulations shall be consistent with this article and Article 7.2 (commencing with Section 10245). The regulations may include but not need not be limited to:

(a) The method of initiating arbitration.

(b) The place of hearing based upon the convenience of the parties.

(c) Procedures for the selection of a neutral arbitrator.

(d) The form and content of any pleading.

(e) Procedure for conducting hearings.

(f) The providing of experts to assist the arbitrator in the event the assistance is needed.

(g) The content of the award.

(h) Simplified procedures for claims of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less.

Pending adoption of the initial uniform regulations under this section, the arbitration rules set forth in Subchapter 3 (commencing with Section 301) of Chapter 2 of Title 1 of the California Administrative Code, shall govern the conduct of arbitrations under this chapter.

10240.6. As used in this article, "claim" means a demand for monetary compensation or damages, arising under or relating to the performance of a contract awarded under this chapter.

10240.7. As used in this article, "Public Works Contract Arbitration Committee" means the committee created by Article 7.2 (commencing with Section 10245).

10240.8. Unless the parties to the contract otherwise agree, the arbitration decision shall be decided under and in accordance with the law of this state, supported by substantial evidence and, in writing, contain the basis for the decision, findings of fact, and conclusions of law.

10240.9. A party to the contract may join in the arbitration as a party, any supplier, subcontractor, design professional, surety, or other person who has so agreed and if the joinder is necessary to prevent a substantial risk of the party otherwise being subjected to inconsistent obligations or decisions.

10240.10. Nothing in this article shall be construed as preventing the parties to the contract, after the claim has arisen, from mutually agreeing in writing to waive the provisions of this article and to have the claim litigated in a court of competent jurisdiction.

10240.12. A party may, within the applicable time periods and upon the grounds specified in this section and in Article 1 (commencing with Section 1285) of Chapter 4 of Title 9 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, petition the court to confirm, correct, or vacate the award rendered by the arbitrator. However, no department may petition to vacate an award without the prior written authorization of its agency secretary. Except where the parties agree not to have the arbitration decision rendered in accordance with the provisions of Section 10240.8, a court shall vacate the award, or part thereof, if it determines either that the award, or part thereof, is not supported by substantial evidence or that it is not decided under or in accordance with the laws of this state. If the award, or part thereof, is vacated on the grounds set forth in the preceding sentence or in subdivision (d) or (e) of Section 1286.2 of the Code of Civil Procedure or if the court determines that the award does not include a determination of all submitted questions necessary to determine the controversy, the court may order a rehearing before the original arbitrator or remand to the original arbitrator that portion of the dispute which the court concludes the arbitrator failed to determine.

10240.13. The cost of conducting the arbitration shall be borne equally by the parties. The filing fee, witness fees, costs of discovery, or any other cost necessarily incurred by one party shall not be shared by any other party, except that the arbitrator may allow the prevailing party to recover its costs and necessary disbursements, other than attorney's fees, on the same basis as is allowed in civil actions. These costs shall be taxed as in civil actions.

Interest may be recovered as part of the award as in a civil action. The arbitrator has the same authority as a court in awarding interest and the commencement of the arbitration is equivalent to the filing of an action under subdivision (b) of Section 3287 of the Civil Code for the purpose of an award of interest.

If a party has made an offer of settlement and the award is less favorable than the offer, then the party who has received the offer shall not recover any interest accruing from and after the date on which the offer was made, nor costs of suit.

Reasonable attorney fees may be recovered according to any of the following:

(a) By a party who has made an offer under the circumstances set forth in the preceding sentence but only as to those fees incurred from and after the time of making the offer.

(b) Against a party when substantial evidence establishes that the party has acted frivolously or in bad faith in its demand for, or participation in, the arbitration.

SEC. 91. Article 7.2 (commencing with Section 10245) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

(c) The Director of the Office of Administrative Hearings shall be a nonvoting member of the Public Works Contract Arbitration Committee.

10245.1. Each member appointed by the Governor shall serve for a term of four years, but shall continue in office until the successor to the member is appointed. Each member shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for travel and other expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of the member's duties.

10245.2. The committee may make recommendations to the departments respecting the arbitration practice and procedure provided by Article 7.1 (commencing with Section 10240). The departments shall consult and confer with the committee respecting the content of the uniform regulations governing the conduct of arbitrations under Article 7.1 (commencing with Section 10240) and shall consider the recommendations in adopting uniform regulations pursuant to Section 10240.5.

10245.3. The committee may establish standards and qualifications for the certification of arbitrators and certify as arbitrators persons meeting such standards and qualifications. The committee may remove persons from its list of certified arbitrators.

10245.4. The Office of Administrative Hearings shall provide administrative services, facilities, and fiscal support to implement this article and Article 7.1 (commencing with Section 10240). The cost thereof shall be recovered through filing fees imposed for each arbitration.

SEC. 92. Section 10263 of the Public Contract Code is amended to read:

10263. Provisions shall be included in any invitation for bid and in any contract documents to permit the substitution of securities for any moneys withheld by a public agency to ensure performance under a contract. At the request and expense of the contractor securities equivalent to the amount withheld pursuant to Section 10261 shall be deposited with the Treasurer or a state or federal chartered bank as the escrow agent, who shall pay such moneys to the contractor upon satisfactory completion of the contract.

Securities eligible for investment under this section shall include those listed in Section 16430 of the Government Code or bank or savings and loan certificates of deposit.

The contractor shall be beneficial owner of any securities substituted for moneys withheld and shall receive any interest thereon.

Any escrow agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall contain as a minimum, all of the following provisions:

(c) The termination of the escrow upon completion of the contract.

Transfers of any interest in real or personal property and all rights and powers relating to the property which have been duly disclaimed pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 190) of Division 1 of the Probate Code or in any other valid manner, shall be subject to the inheritance tax only if, and to the same extent and in the same manner as, the transfer would have been subject to the tax if the interest, rights, and powers had been originally created in favor of and transferred to the same persons and in the same shares in which they are effectively distributed or otherwise disposed of, after giving full effect to the disclaimers pursuant to the governing instrument, if any, and Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 190) of Division 1 of the Probate Code and all other applicable law.

SEC. 96. Section 17053 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the amount of "net tax" (as defined in subdivision (g)), an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivisions (b) and (c).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this subdivision shall be 20 percent of the cost incurred by an employer for the purchase of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor pool vehicles which are provided as part of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program for employees conducted principally in this state.

(2) The credit provided in paragraph (1) shall be claimed in the state income tax return for the taxable year in which the ridesharing vehicles are purchased.

(3) The basis of any ridesharing vehicle purchased for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

This credit shall be based on the total annual payments to the lessor or vehicle provider, excluding insurance, maintenance, fuel, drivers' salaries, or other operating expenses. The lessor or vehicle provider of vehicles specified in this subdivision shall not be eligible for this credit.

(d) The credits allowed by subdivisions (b) and (c) shall not apply to the cost of purchasing, leasing, or contracting company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor-pool vehicles which would otherwise be required as part of the employer's business activities in the absence of an employer-sponsored ridesharing incentive program.

(e) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax" for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds the "net tax" may be carried over to the "net tax" in succeeding taxable years, with respect to which this section shall remain in effect, notwithstanding subdivision (g), for purposes of carrying over excess credit, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(f) (1) If the federal investment tax credit for "commuter highway vehicles," as defined and provided for in the Energy Tax Act of 1978, is increased, then to the extent such credit is allowed or allowable for the purchase, lease, or charter of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor pool vehicles, as defined in this section, the state credit provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be reduced so that the combined effective credit shall not exceed 30 percent of the costs, notwithstanding the carryover provisions of subdivision (e).

(2) If the federal investment tax credit for "commuter highway vehicles," as defined and provided for in the Energy Tax Act of 1978, is increased, then to the extent the credit is allowed or allowable for the purchase, lease, or charter of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor pool vehicles as defined in this section, the state credit provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be reduced by the amount of the increase in the federal credit.

as of the close of the taxpayer's last taxable year beginning before January 1, 1979, is less than zero, subdivision (f) shall be applied with respect to the activity by substituting the negative amount for zero.

SEC. 98. Section 17916 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17916. The amount includible in the gross income of a successor in interest of a deceased partner under Section 17896 shall be considered income in respect of a decedent under Sections 17831 to 17837, inclusive.

SEC. 99. Section 18103 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18103. (a) If—

(1) A sale of real property gives rise to indebtedness to the seller which is secured by the real property sold, and

(2) The seller of the property reacquires the property in partial or full satisfaction of the indebtedness, then, except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (d), no gain or loss shall result to the seller from the reacquisition, and no debt shall become worthless or partially worthless as a result of the reacquisition.

(b) (1) In the case of a reacquisition of real property to which subdivision (a) applies, gain shall result from the reacquisition to the extent that—

(A) The amount of money and the fair market value of other property (other than obligations of the purchaser) received, prior to the reacquisition, with respect to the sale of such property, exceeds

(B) The amount of the gain on the sale of the property returned as income for periods prior to the reacquisition.

(2) The amount of gain determined under paragraph (1) resulting from a reacquisition during any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1964, shall not exceed the amount by which the price at which the real property was sold exceeded its adjusted basis, reduced by the sum of—

(A) The amount of the gain on the sale of the property returned as income for periods prior to the reacquisition of the property, and

(B) The amount of money and the fair market value of other property (other than obligations of the purchaser received with respect to the sale of the property) paid or transferred by the seller in connection with the reacquisition of the property.

For purposes of this paragraph, the price at which real property is sold is the gross sales price reduced by the selling commissions, legal fees, and other expenses incident to the sale of the property which are properly taken into account in determining gain or loss on the sale.

(3) Except as provided in this section, the gain determined under this subdivision resulting from a reacquisition to which subdivision (a) applies shall be recognized, notwithstanding any other provision of this part.

(c) If subdivision (a) applies to the reacquisition of any real property, the basis of the property upon such reacquisition shall be the adjusted basis of the indebtedness to the seller secured by the property (determined as of the date of reacquisition), increased by the sum of—

(1) The amount of the gain determined under subdivision (b) resulting from the reacquisition, and

(2) The amount described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b).

If any indebtedness to the seller secured by the property is not discharged upon the reacquisition of the property, the basis of the indebtedness shall be zero.

(d) If, prior to a reacquisition of real property to which subdivision (a) applies, the seller has treated indebtedness secured by the property as having become worthless or partially worthless—

(1) The seller shall be considered as receiving, upon the reacquisition of the property, an amount equal to the amount of the indebtedness treated by him as having become worthless, and

(2) The adjusted basis of the indebtedness shall be increased (as of the date of reacquisition) by an amount equal to the amount so considered as received by the seller.

(e) If—

(1) Subdivision (a) applies to a reacquisition of real property with respect to the sale of which—

(A) An election under Section 17155 (relating to special one-time exclusion of gain from sale or exchange or residence) is in effect, or

(B) Gain was not recognized under Sections 18091 to 18100, inclusive (relating to sale or exchange of residence); and

(2) Within one year after the date of the reacquisition of the property by the seller, the property is resold by him or her, then, as prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) shall not apply to the reacquisition of the property and, for purposes of applying Sections 17155 and 18091 to 18100, inclusive, the resale of the property shall be treated as a part of the transaction constituting the original sale of the property.

(f) As prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, if an installment obligation is indebtedness to the seller which is described in subdivision (a), and if the obligation is, in the hands of the taxpayer, an obligation with respect to which subdivision (b) of Section 17834 applies, then—

(1) For purposes of subdivision (a), acquisition of real property by the taxpayer shall be treated as reacquisition by the seller, and

(2) The basis of the real property acquired by the taxpayer shall be increased by an amount equal to the deduction under Section 17836 which would (but for this subdivision) have been allowable to the taxpayer with respect to the gain on the exchange of the obligation for the real property.

SEC. 100. Section 18685.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18685.8. (a) The amount the underpayment of estimated tax shall be the excess of whichever is the lesser of—

(1) The amount of the installment which would have been required to be paid under subdivision (a) of Section 18556 based upon the estimated tax set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 18415, or over the amount, if any, of the installment paid on or before the last date prescribed for payment.

(b) The period of the underpayment shall run from the date the installment was required to be paid to whichever of the following dates is the earlier—

(1) The 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year.

(2) With respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which that portion is paid. For purposes of this paragraph, a payment of estimated tax on any installment date shall be considered a payment of any previous underpayment only to the extent the payment exceeds the amount of the installment determined under subdivision (a) for that installment date.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding subdivisions, the addition to the tax with respect to any underpayment of any installment shall not be imposed if the total amount of all payments of estimated tax made on or before the last date prescribed for the payment of the installment equals or exceeds whichever of the following is the least—

(1) The tax shown on the return of the individual for the preceding taxable year, if a return showing a liability for tax was filed by the individual for the preceding taxable year and such preceding year was a taxable year of 12 months, or

(2) An amount equal to 80 percent (66⅔ percent in the case of individuals referred to in subdivision (b) of Section 18435, relating to income from farming or fishing) of the tax for the taxable year computed by placing on an annualized basis the taxable income for the months in the taxable year ending before the month in which the installment is required to be paid. For purposes of this paragraph, the taxable income shall be placed on an annualized basis by—

(A) Multiplying by 12 (or, in the case of a taxable year of less than 12 months, the number of months in the taxable year) the taxable income for the months in the taxable year ending before the month in which the installment is required to be paid, and

(B) Dividing the resulting amount by the number of months in the taxable year ending before the month in which such installment date falls, or

(3) An amount equal to 90 percent of the tax computed, at the rates applicable to the taxable year, on the basis of the actual taxable income for the months in the taxable year ending before the month in which the installment is required to be paid.

(4) An amount equal to the tax computed at the rates applicable to the taxable year but otherwise on the basis of the facts shown on the taxpayer's return for, and the law applicable to, the preceding taxable year.

(d) For purposes of applying this section—

(1) The estimated tax shall be computed without any reduction for the amount which the individual estimates as his credit under Section 18551.1 (relating to tax withheld at source on wages),

(2) The amount of the credit allowed under Section 18551.1 for the taxable year shall be deemed a payment of estimated tax, and an equal part of that amount shall be deemed paid on each installment date (determined under Section 18556) for the taxable year, unless the taxpayer established the dates on which all amounts were actually withheld, in which case the amounts so withheld shall be deemed payments of estimated tax on the dates on which the amounts were actually withheld, and

(3) For purposes of paragraph (1) of subdivision (c), "preceding taxable year" means the last preceding taxable year for which a tax was imposed upon all of an individual's taxable income.

(e) For purposes of subdivisions (a) and (c), "tax" means the tax imposed by this part reduced by the credits against tax allowed by this part, other than the credit against tax provided by Section 18551.1 (relating to tax withheld on wages).

(2) The credit provided in paragraph (1) shall be claimed in the state return for the income year in which the ridesharing vehicles are purchased.

(e) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax and the tax on preference income) for the income year, that portion of the credit which exceeds those taxes may be carried over to the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax and the tax on preference income) in succeeding income years, with respect to which this section shall remain in effect, notwithstanding subdivision (g), for purposes of carrying over excess credit, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest income years possible.

(f) (1) If the federal investment tax credit for "commuter highway vehicles," as defined and provided for in the Energy Tax Act of 1978, is increased, then to the extent the credit is allowed or allowable for the purchase, lease, or charter of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor pool vehicles, as defined in this section, the state credit provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be reduced so that the combined effective credit shall not exceed 30 percent of the costs, notwithstanding the carryover provisions of subdivision (e).

(2) If the federal investment tax credit for "commuter highway vehicles," as defined and provided for in the Energy Tax Act of 1978, is increased, then to the extent the credit is allowed or allowable for the purchase, lease, or charter of company shuttle buses, company commuter buses or vans, or company motor pool vehicles, as defined in this section, the state credit provided in subdivisions (b) and (c)

I. To make contracts, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers herein granted; provided, that the district shall not have power to commence, intervene in, compromise, maintain, or defend actions, or pay their costs in controversies between the owners of lands or water rights within the boundaries of the district and which do not involve taking water outside of, or away from, the district.

J. To fix and collect tolls or charges for water supplied for surface irrigation.

K. To submit any contract or proposed contract to the superior court of the county in which is situated the office of the board to determine the validity thereof and the authority of the district to make the contract. M. To establish rules and regulations regarding the sale of water, its distribution, and the collection of tolls and charges therefor, and to therein provide for payment in advance of delivery and for refusal of water delivery to persons against whom there are delinquent water tolls or charges. Nothing herein shall be construed as requiring the district to deliver water to any person or lands within the district, ratably or otherwise.

N. 40158. The board of supervisors of each county included, in whole or in part, within the unified district shall appropriate such funds as are necessary to carry out the purposes of the unified district, as determined by the unified district board, in accordance with the funding provisions specified in the agreement which created the unified district under Section 40151.

An act to amend Sections 1, 14, and 135 of the Drainage District Act of 1903 (Chapter 238 of the Statutes of 1903), relating to flood control, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the Drainage District Act of 1903 (Chapter 238 of the Statutes of 1903) is amended to read:

Section 1. Whenever 50 or a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title as herein provided, to agricultural lands other than swamp and overflowed lands, which are susceptible to construction of works for the control of waters to protect, maintain, and enhance the quality of such lands, including drainage, disposal of drainage water and waters of deleterious quality, conservation and beneficial use of flood, storm, and other waste waters occurring on such lands, or control of flood, storm, and other waste waters occurring on district lands, or waters from local creeks, desire to provide for the protection of such lands, they may propose the organization of a drainage district under the provisions of this act, and when so organized, such district shall have the powers, rights, and duties conferred or which may be conferred by law, upon such drainage districts. The equalized county assessment roll next preceding the presentation of a petition for the organization of a drainage district under the provisions of this act, shall be sufficient evidence of title for the purposes of this act; provided, that no person who has received or acquired title to land within such proposed district for the purpose of enabling him or her to join in such petition or to become an elector of said district, shall be allowed to sign such petition or to vote at any election to be held in such district under the provisions of this act. Such illegal signing, however, shall not invalidate such petition when there shall be found a sufficient number of other legal petitioners.

SEC. 2. Section 14 of the Drainage District Act of 1903 (Chapter 238 of the Statutes of 1903) is amended to read:

Sec. 14. The board shall have the power and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts for services or the performance of services; to adopt a seal of the district to be used in the attestation of proper documents; provide for the payment, from the proper fund, of all the debts and just claims against the district; employ and appoint when necessary, engineers to survey, plan, locate, and estimate the cost of the works necessary to carry out the functions of the district and the land needed for right-of-way, including drains, canals, sluices, watergates, embankments, evaporation ponds, facilities for the disposal of accumulated salts, facilities for the control of storm and other waste waters occurring on lands owned by the district, including waters arising outside the district which flow through it, for the protection of lands of the district from storm and waste waters, or water from local creeks, and facilities for the conservation of storm and waste waters occurring within the district for beneficial use, including spreading, storing, percolation, and sale of such conserved waters, and to construct, maintain, and keep in repair all works necessary for the purpose of maintaining and enhancing the quality and use of the lands within the district through drainage, flood and waste water control on district-owned lands, and conservation, storage, and beneficial use of flood and other waste waters from any lands within the district. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary works and the line for any canals, sluices, watergates and embankments, and the necessary branches for the same, on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, hold and possess either by donation, purchase or condemnation, any land or other property, necessary for the construction, use, maintenance, repair, and improvement of any works required for purposes of the district as provided herein. The board may establish equitable bylaws, rules and regulations necessary or proper for carrying on the business herein contemplated, and generally may perform all such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act.

SEC. 3. Section 135 of the Drainage District Act of 1903 (Chapter 238 of the Statutes of 1903) is amended to read:

Sec. 135. In addition to, and as an alternative to, the matters contained in this act regarding assessments of district lands, the district may by resolution adopt separate plans for drainage, for disposal of drainage and other waste waters, for control of storm and waste waters, or waters from local creeks, occurring on lands of the district, and for the storage, conservation, and beneficial use of storm and flood waters within the district, and may establish limited areas within the district to which each of these plans shall apply. The district may enter into long-term contracts with holders of title to land in each such area to provide one or more of such services. Upon recordation of the long-term contract with the county recorder of the county in which the real property is situated, the contract shall run with the land and be binding upon successors in interest of the contracting landowners for the duration of the contract. Such recorded long-term contract may provide that the failure of the contracting landowner to pay for district service or services as required by contract, shall, upon recordation of a certificate in the office of the county recorder in the county in which the land is situated, constitute a lien with the priority of a judgment lien which delinquency may be collected and enforced in the manner provided in this act for the collection and enforcement of district assessments. Such contracts may be acknowledged or proved, certified, and recorded in like manner and with like effect as grants of real property, and all statutory provisions relating to the recording or nonrecordation of conveyances of real property, and to the effect thereof, shall apply to such contracts with like effect.

SEC. 4. The Department of Water Resources may, pursuant to a written agreement between the department and the Lower San Joaquin Levee District, transfer to the Lower San Joaquin Levee District, from funds appropriated to the department during the 1981–82 and 1982–83 fiscal years for capital outlay for the Sacramento River bank protection project, an amount not to exceed a total sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for expenditure by the district for levee work along Bear Creek, a tributary of the Chowchilla Bypass, and for modifications to the weir and low flow for the bypass channel on Bear Creek. Neither the state nor the Lower San Joaquin Levee District shall be liable for any flooding caused by actions of property owners to alleviate flood hazards or construction of flood control works to protect their lands. It is recognized that the state has an interest in providing for the repair of these flood control works which were constructed by the state initially and which are inadequate to meet present flood control needs.

SEC. 5. The Reclamation Board may enter into a cooperative agreement with the Department of Transportation to reimburse the department for the additional cost of constructing the Highway 59 bridge where it crosses Fahren's Creek, caused by the increased channel width and the elevated approaches which are necessary to meet flood control project requirements. The reimbursement to the Department of Transportation shall be funded during the 1982–83 fiscal year.

An act to amend Section 5 of, and to add Section 6 to, Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929, relating to lands conveyed to the City of San Diego and the County of San Diego, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The purpose of this act is to clarify the present status of title to the land granted to the City of San Diego and the County of San Diego by Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929. That act was intended to terminate the previous conveyance in trust of the lands to the City of San Diego; to free the lands from the public use for navigation, commerce, and fisheries; to revert title to the state; and to reconvey title from the state to the city and county to be used for county and municipal purposes.

The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) After the enactment of Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929, a public administration building was constructed on those lands and occupied by both the City of San Diego and the County of San Diego.

(b) After construction of the public administration building, the Legislature amended Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929, by Chapter 693 of the Statutes of 1945, and by Chapter 479 of the Statutes of 1961.

(c) Thereafter, the county purchased all right, title, and interest in and to those lands then held by the city, rendering the county the sole owner and occupant of the lands and the public administration building.

(d) The county now contemplates increased utilization of the lands so as to maximize its benefit to the general public.

(e) Any nontax revenues generated from the development of the lands pursuant to this act should be segregated and deposited into a separate account to be managed by the county as trustee for public trust purposes, providing a benefit to the general public as hereafter set forth.

(f) The purpose of this act is to resolve any uncertainty which may exist with respect to title to those lands, to allow the County of San Diego to make various additional uses of those lands in recognition of the public's changing needs in those lands and the trust revenues which may be produced thereby, and to provide for proper control, management, and administration of those lands and any revenues so that they will be used in the best interests of the general public.

SEC. 2. Section 5 of Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929 is amended to read:

Sec. 5. There is hereby excepted and reserved to the State of California all deposits of minerals, including oil and gas, in the lands described in Section 1 of this act, and to the State of California, or persons authorized by the State of California, the right to prospect for, mine, and remove those deposits from those lands. However, the right to enter to a depth of 500 feet below the present surface is hereby waived by the state to allow development of the lands.

SEC. 3. Section 6 is added to Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929, to read:

Sec. 6. (a) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the lands described in Section 1 of this act may be used for any nonresidential purpose, including, but not limited to, the right to lease, for a term not to exceed 66 years, portions thereof to private interests for commercial and recreational uses and to permit construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, and operation thereon of such buildings, facilities, utilities, structures, and appliances as may be incidental, necessary, or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of any such uses, including, but not limited to, snack bars, cafes, restaurants, hotels, motels, public assembly and meeting places, convention centers, museums, theaters, parks, playgrounds, public restrooms, bathhouses, public recreation facilities, tackle shops, souvenir shops, clothings and other specialty shops, service stations, parking areas and structures, roadways and other transportation facilities, pedestrian ways, landscaped areas, public or private office or administration buildings, and all other uses compatible with surrounding land uses; provided, however, that at least 30 percent of the lands shall be used for open space, parks, terraces, or other landscaped areas beneath which may be located subterranean facilities for public or private uses.

Any use made by a private person, firm, or corporation of any portion or portions of the lands granted and conveyed hereby shall conform and be subject to the Local Coastal Program, the General Plan, and the zoning and building code requirements of the City of San Diego; provided, however, that this limitation shall not apply to private uses incidental to the use of public buildings.

If any use results in the creation of an interest subject to ad valorem property taxation, the taxes on that interest shall be allocated to the respective taxing agencies without regard to any applicable redevelopment plan providing for allocation of taxes pursuant to Section 33670 of the Health and Safety Code or any other provision of the Community Redevelopment Law (Part 1 (commencing with Section 33000) of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code) enacted pursuant to Section 16 of Article XVI of the California Constitution, unless the County of San Diego, by resolution, approves the allocation of taxes pursuant to the redevelopment plan.

(b) The county shall establish a separate fund and shall deposit therein all nontax revenues received directly from, or indirectly attributable to, those lands. The purpose of this requirement is to provide for the segregation of funds derived from the use of granted lands in order to ensure that they shall be expended by the county to enhance public trust purposes, including, but not limited to, the improvement, maintenance, or operation of those lands and the reimbursement for all costs incurred by the county in acquiring sole ownership of those lands, the acquisition or reimbursement for previous acquisitions of lands or interests in lands situated in the coastal zone as defined by the California Coastal Act of 1976 (Division 20 (commencing with Section 30000) of the Public Resources Code) within the County of San Diego which are adjacent to, or involve interests in, tide and submerged lands, rivers, lagoons, estuaries, wetlands, or marshlands, and for the improvement, maintenance, or operation of those lands, or the improvement, maintenance, or operation of any tide or submerged lands, filled or unfilled, within the County of San Diego for public trust purposes of a statewide general benefit as designated in this act, including the right to provide public light-rail and other transportation services and facilities for the portions on, or contiguous to, filled tide or submerged lands in order to enhance public access to the water. Lands acquired with, or for which full reimbursement is made from, those revenues shall be held for public trust purposes, including, but not limited to, public parks, public harbors or marinas, or other water-oriented recreational facilities, public access, public light-rail and other transportation services and facilities, beach rehabilitation and maintenance, lifeguard services, open space, and wildlife and ecological preserves. The lands may be leased for limited periods not exceeding 66 years for uses consistent with public trust purposes. All nontax revenues derived from lands acquired under the terms and conditions of this act shall be deposited in the separate account established by the county pursuant to subdivision (c) and shall be expended by the county in accordance with the terms of this act. However, prior to the acquisition or reimbursement for any previous acquisition of any lands or interests in lands pursuant to this section, the county shall obtain approval of the State Lands Commission. The State Lands Commission may only approve proposed acquisitions which are consistent with the provisions of this act. Upon any acquistion or full reimbursement for any previous acquisition pursuant to the provisions of this act, the county shall immediately record in the office of the County Recorder of San Diego County an appropriate instrument setting forth a legal description of the property and reflecting the county's ownership in trust thereof, subject to the provisions of this act.

(c) An annual statement of financial condition and operations, to conform with such requirements as the State Lands Commission may prescribe, shall be submitted to the State Lands Commission by the county on or before November 30th of each year for the preceding fiscal year.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The lands granted and conveyed by the State of California by Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929 are proposed to be more fully utilized by the County of San Diego in order to maximize benefit to the public. The increased utilization contemplates leasing portions of the lands to private interests. Procedures leading up to the execution of the leases are rapidly approaching completion, thus necessitating an immediate clarification of uses to be made of the land under Chapter 778 of the Statutes of 1929 in order to avoid prolonged delays in realizing full utilization of those lands for maximum public benefit. It is necessary, therefore, that this act take effect immediately.

SEC. 4. No appropriation is made by this act pursuant to Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act. CHAPTER 484

An act to amend Section 12640.04 of, and to repeal and add Section 12640.05 to, the Insurance Code, relating to mortgage guaranty insurance.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12640.04 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

12640.04. In addition to the paid-in capital and surplus provided in Section 12640.03, each mortgage guaranty insurer shall establish a contingency reserve after establishment of the unearned premium reserve. There shall be an annual contribution to the contingency reserve which in the aggregate shall be the greater of either 50 percent of the earned premium or the policyholders surplus required to be established under Section 12640.05 divided by 10. The annual contributions to the contingency reserve made during each calendar year shall be maintained for a period of 120 months, except that withdrawals may be made by the insurer in any given year to the extent by which incurred losses exceed 20 percent of earned premium or as otherwise permitted by the commissioner.

SEC. 2. Section 12640.05 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 12640.05 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

12640.05. (a) A mortgage guaranty insurer shall maintain at all times a policyholders surplus in an amount not less than the amount required by this section. The required policyholders surplus shall be the calculated net of reinsurance ceded, but shall include reinsurance assumed. "Face amount of an insured mortgage" means the outstanding principal balance computed without any reduction because of an insurer's option limiting its coverage.

(b) If a policy of mortgage guaranty insurance insures individual loans with a percentage claim settlement option on such loans, the insurer shall maintain a policyholders surplus based on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the face amount of the mortgage, the percentage coverage or claim settlement option, and the loan-to-value category.

The required amount of policyholders surplus shall be calculated in the following manner:

(1) If the total indebtedness is greater than 75 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of the insurance:

Percent Coverage	Policyholders Surplus per $100 of the Face Amount of the Mortgage	Percent Coverage	Policyholders Surplus per $100 of the Face Amount of the Mortgage
5%	$ .20	55%	$1.50
10	.40	60	1.55
15	.60	65	1.60
20	.80	70	1.65
25	1.00	75	1.75
30	1.10	80	1.80
35	1.20	85	1.85
40	1.30	90	1.90
45	1.35	95	1.95
50	1.40	100	2.00

If the percent coverage is between any five-point increment, then the factor for policyholders surplus per one hundred dollars ($100) of the face amount of the mortgage shall be prorated.

(2) If the total indebtedness is at least 50 percent and not more than 75 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be 50 percent of the amount required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (b).

(3) If the total indebtedness is less than 50 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be 25 percent of the amount required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (b).

(c) If a policy of mortgage guaranty insurance provides coverage on a group of loans subject to an aggregate loss limit, the policyholders surplus shall be:

(1) If the equity is not more than 50 percent and is at least 20 percent, or equity plus prior insurance or a deductible equals 25 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be calculated as follows:

Percent Coverage	Policyholders Surplus per $100 of the Face Amount of the Mortgage	Percent Coverage	Policyholders Surplus per $100 of the Face Amount of the Mortgage
1%	$ .30	50%	$ .825
5	.50	60	.85
10	.60	70	.875
15	.65	75	.90
20	.70	80	.925
25	.75	90	.95
30	.775	100	1.00
40	.80

If the percent coverage is between any specified increment, then the factor for policyholders surplus per one hundred dollars ($100) of the face amount of the mortgage shall be prorated.

(2) If the equity is less than 20 percent or the equity plus prior insurance or a deductible is less than 25 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be 200 percent of the amount required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (c).

(3) If the equity is more than 50 percent or the equity plus prior insurance or a deductible is more than 55 percent of the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be 50 percent of the amount of policyholders surplus required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (c).

(d) If a policy of mortgage guaranty insurance provides for layers of coverage, deductibles or excess reinsurance, the required amount of policyholders surplus may be computed by subtraction of the required policyholders surplus for the lower percentage coverage limits from the required policyholders surplus for the upper or greater coverage limit.

(e) If a policy of mortgage guaranty insurance provides for coverage on loans secured by second liens, the policyholders surplus shall be:

(1) If the policy provides coverage on individual loans, the required amount of policyholders surplus shall be calculated according to subdivision (b) after the percent of coverage and the loan-to-value ratios have been determined as follows:

(a) Divide the insured portion of the second loan by the entire loan indebtedness on the collateral property to determine the percent coverage.

(b) Divide the entire loan indebtedness on the property by the value of the collateral property at the date of insurance to determine loan-to-value percent.

(c) The face amount of insured mortgage shall mean the entire loan indebtedness on the property.

(d) Equity shall mean the complement of the loan-to-value percent.

(2) If the policy provides coverage on a group of loans subject to an aggregate loss limit, the policyholders surplus shall be calculated according to subdivision (c) after the percent of coverage and the loan-to-value ratios have been determined in accordance with paragraph (1).

(e) If a policy of mortgage guaranty insurance provides for coverage on leases, the policyholders surplus shall be four dollars ($4) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of the insured amount of the lease.

(f) If a mortgage guaranty insurer does not have the amount of policyholders surplus required by this section, it shall cease transacting new business until such time that its policyholders surplus is in compliance with this section.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1917.063 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1917.063. This chapter facilitates the making of shared appreciation financing in this state which conforms to the provisions of this chapter. This chapter does not, however, apply to or limit shared appreciation financing of real property of a type specified in Section 1917.030 that is made pursuant to other provisions of law, or which is not otherwise unlawful. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to in any way affect shared appreciation financing of commercial property or residential property not meeting the criteria specified in Section 1917.030.

Nothing in this chapter precludes a pension fund specified in 1917.030 from providing shared appreciation financing pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1917.110) or any other provision of law, or which is not otherwise unlawful.

SEC. 2. The amendments to Section 1917.063 made by this act do not constitute a change in, but are declaratory of existing law.

[Approved by Governor July 9, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 10, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53978 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53978. (a) Any local agency which provides fire protection or prevention services directly, by contract with another local agency, or which provides such services pursuant to Section 25643 of this code or the Fire Protection District Law of 1961, Part 2.7 (commencing with Section 13801) of Division 12 of the Health and Safety Code, or which provides police protection services, may, by ordinance, determine and propose for adoption a special tax for fire protection and prevention provided by the local agency, or a special tax for police protection services provided by the local agency, or both of such special taxes if both such services are provided by the local agency, other than ad valorem property taxes, pursuant to this section. The legislative body may establish zones or areas within the local agency and may restrict the levy of the special tax to those zones or areas. Such proposition shall be submitted to the voters of the affected area or zone, or of the district, and shall take effect upon approval of two-thirds of the voters voting upon such proposition. The local agency which fixes such a special tax shall not, however, impose such tax upon a federal or state governmental agency or another local agency.

(b) The ordinance submitted to voter approval pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (a), shall specify the amount of each of such special taxes. Each of such special taxes shall be levied on a parcel, class of improvement to property, or use of property basis, or a combination thereof, within the local agency to which fire protection services or police protection services are made available, for the purpose of obtaining, furnishing, operating, and maintaining fire suppression and police protection equipment or apparatus or either such service, respectively, for paying the salaries and benefits to firefighting and police protection personnel or either such personnel, respectively, and for such other necessary fire protection and prevention expenses and police protection expenses, respectively, or either such expenses of the local agency in such area, zone, or local agency to which fire protection and prevention services or police protection services, or both, are made available.

An ordinance which sets a maximum amount of the tax to be levied on a parcel, class of improvement to property, or use of property basis, or a combination thereof, and which permits the local agency proposing the tax to determine the amount to be levied, annually, within the maximum amount, shall satisfy the requirements of this section. However, in no case shall the amount of the tax to be levied exceed the maximum amount established by the ordinance without the approval of the voters as prescribed in subdivision (a).

(c) The amount of each such special tax established by the legislative body, and approved by the voters of the local agency, may be varied to each parcel, improvement, or use of property based on the degree of availability of fire protection and prevention services or police protection services, respectively, in the affected area, and may restrict such charges to areas lying within one or more zones or areas established in such local agency.

(d) The legislative body may provide for the collection of the special taxes in the same manner and subject to the same penalty as, or with, other charges and taxes fixed and collected by the local agency, or by the county on behalf of the local agency. CHAPTER 6.1. BENEFIT ASSESSMENT ACT OF 1982

Article 1. General Provisions

54701. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Benefit Assessment Act of 1982.

54702. The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the public interest to allow local agencies to finance property related services through the imposition of an assessment upon the property which benefits from those services.

The Legislature also finds and declares that assessments imposed for the purpose of providing services which benefit individual properties are not taxes for the general benefit of the governmental entity, but are assessments for services which confer special benefits upon the properties to which the services are provided.

54703. The purpose of this chapter is to recodify and supplant previously enacted provisions of law which authorize the imposition of benefit assessments and to provide a uniform procedure for the enactment of benefit assessments for services by local jurisdictions.

Article 2. Definitions

54705. As used in this chapter, "local agency" means any city, county, city and county, special district, or any other municipal corporation or district.

54706. As used in this chapter, "legislative body" means the city council or board of trustees in the case of a city, the board of supervisors in the case of a county or a city and county, or the board of directors, trustees, or governors or other governing body in the case of a special district or any other municipal or public corporation or district.

Article 3. Authorization: Requisites for Assessment

54710. Any local agency which is authorized by law to provide one or more of the following services may impose a benefit assessment pursuant to this chapter to finance the maintenance and operation costs of these services:

(a) Drainage.

(b) Flood control.

(c) Street lighting.

54710.5. Any local agency which is authorized by law to provide drainage services or flood control services may, in addition to imposing a benefit assessment for the purposes authorized pursuant to Section 54710, impose such an assessment to finance the cost of installation and improvement of facilities.

54711. (a) No benefit assessment shall be levied pursuant to this chapter unless it meets all of the following requirements:

(1) The amount of the assessment imposed on any parcel of property shall be related to the benefit to the parcel which will be derived from the provision of the service. In the case of a benefit assessment for flood control services, the benefit may be determined on the basis of the proportionate storm water runoff from each parcel.

(2) The annual aggregate amount of the assessment shall not exceed the estimated annual cost of providing the service.

(3) The revenue derived from the assessment shall not be used to pay the cost of any service other than the service for which the assessment was levied.

(b) This section does not limit or prohibit the levy or collection of any other fee, charge, or tax for the provision of services, except that a maintenance district formed pursuant to Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1550) of Division 2 of the Streets and Highways Code may impose an assessment pursuant to this chapter only as an alternative to imposing a property tax for the provision of street lighting services.

Article 4. Procedure for Imposition of Benefit Assessment

54715. (a) The legislative body of a local agency may by ordinance or resolution, adopted after notice and public hearing, determine and propose for adoption an annual assessment on each parcel of real property within the jurisdiction of the local agency, except that the governing body shall not impose an assessment upon a federal or state governmental agency or another local agency.

(b) The legislative body may establish zones or areas of benefit within the local agency and may restrict the imposition of the assessment to areas lying within one or more of the zones or areas of benefit established within the local agency.

(c) The benefit assessment shall be levied on a parcel, class of improvement to property, or use of property basis, or a combination thereof, within the boundaries of the local agency, zone, or area of benefit. In the case of a benefit assessment for flood control services, the benefit assessment may be levied on the basis of proportionate storm water runoff from each parcel.

The assessment may be levied against any parcel, improvement, or use of property to which such services may be made available, whether or not such service is actually used.

(d) Whenever a railroad, gas, water, telephone, cable television, electric utility right-of-way, electric line right-of-way, or other utility right-of-way is included within an area proposed to be assessed, the railroad, gas, water, telephone, cable television, electric utility right-of-way, electric line right-of-way, or other utility right-of-way shall be subject to the assessment only if, and to the extent that, it is found that it will benefit from the service, and the railroad, gas, water, telephone, cable television, electric utility right-of-way, electric line right-of-way, or other utility right-of-way shall be subject to the same penalties, and the same procedure and sale, in the event of delinquencies, as other parcels in the assessment area. In determining whether or not the railroad, gas, water, telephone, cable television, electric utility right-of-way, electric line right-of-way, or other utility right-of-way benefits from the services provided, its use as a right-of-way for a railroad, gas, water, telephone, cable television, electric, or other utility shall be presumed to be permanent.

54716. (a) For the first fiscal year in which a benefit assessment is proposed to be imposed pursuant to this chapter, the legislative body shall cause a written report to be prepared and filed with the clerk of the local agency which shall contain all of the following information:

(1) A description of the service proposed to be financed through the revenue derived from the assessment.

(2) A description of each lot or parcel of property proposed to be subject to the benefit assessment. The assessor's parcel number shall be a sufficient description of the parcel.

(3) The amount of the proposed assessment for each parcel.

(4) The basis and schedule of the assessment.

(b) The clerk shall cause notice of the filing of the report and of a time, date, and place of hearing thereon to be published pursuant to Section 6066 and posted in at least three public places within the jurisdiction of the local agency.

(c) At the hearing, the legislative body shall hear and consider all protests. At the conclusion of the hearing, the legislative body may adopt, revise, change, reduce, or modify the proposed assessment. The legislative body shall make a determination upon the assessment as described in the report or as determined at the hearing, and shall, by ordinance or resolution, determine the proposed assessment.

54717. (a) The proposition shall be submitted to the eligible voters within the jurisdiction of the affected local agency, zone, or area of benefit established by the local agency, and shall take effect upon approval by a majority vote of the voters voting on the proposition.

(b) The legislative body may annually thereafter determine the cost of the service which is financed by the assessment and, by ordinance or resolution, determine and impose the assessment.

54718. (a) The legislative body may provide for the collection of the assessment in the same manner, and subject to the same penalties and priority of lien as, other charges and taxes fixed and collected by, or on behalf of the local agency, except that if, for the first year the assessment is levied the real property on which the assessment is levied has been transferred or conveyed to a bona fide purchaser for value, or if a lien of a bona fide encumbrancer for value has been created and attaches thereon, prior to the date on which the first installment of county taxes would become delinquent, the confirmed assessment shall not result in a lien against the real property but shall be transferred to the unsecured roll.

(b) If the assessments are collected by the county, the county may deduct its reasonable costs incurred for the service before remittal of the balance to the local agency's treasury.

SEC. 4. Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 60400) of Division 2 of Title 6 of the Government Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 494

An act to amend Section 5230 of, to add Sections 5412.1, 5412.2, 5412.3, and 5412.4 to, and to repeal and add Section 5412 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to outdoor advertising.

[Approved by Governor July 11, 1982. Filed with Secretary of State July 11, 1982.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds that it is in the public interest that consistent statewide standards be established for laws, ordinances, and regulations governing the removal of lawfully erected outdoor advertising displays. This uniformity will eliminate the uncertainty concerning the validity of removal efforts by local entities, provide a mechanism for local entities to adopt effective removal and relocation programs, establish standards which will allow private owners to operate without the imposition of different removal requirements in each jurisdiction, and will eliminate the multitude of expensive and time-consuming lawsuits burdening local entities, display and property owners, and the judicial system.

In order to study and develop statewide standards, the Governor's Outdoor Advertising Committee was established and, after extensive study, recommended the statutory amendments contained in this act.

SEC. 2. Section 5230 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

5230. The governing body of any city, county, or city and county may enact ordinances, including, but not limited to, land use or zoning ordinances, imposing restrictions on advertising displays adjacent to any street, road, or highway equal to or greater than those imposed by this chapter, if Section 5412 is complied with.

SEC. 3. Section 5412 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 5412 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

5412. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, no advertising display which was lawfully erected anywhere within this state shall be compelled to be removed, nor shall its customary maintenance or use be limited, whether or not the removal or limitation is pursuant to or because of this chapter or any other law, ordinance, or regulation of any governmental entity, without payment of compensation, as defined in the Eminent Domain Law (Title 7 (commencing with Section 1230.010) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure), except as provided in Sections 5412.1, 5412.2, and 5412.3. The compensation shall be paid to the owner or owners of the advertising display and the owner or owners of the land upon which the display is located.

This section applies to all displays which were lawfully erected in compliance with state laws and local ordinances in effect when the displays were erected if the displays were in existence on November 6, 1978, or lawfully erected after November 6, 1978, regardless of whether the displays have become nonconforming or have been provided an amortization period. This section does not apply to on-premise displays as specified in Section 5272 or to displays which are relocated by mutual agreement between the display owner and the local entity.

"Relocation," as used in this section, includes removal of a display and construction of a new display to substitute for the display removed.

It is a policy of this state to encourage local entities and display owners to enter into relocation agreements which allow local entities to continue development in a planned manner without expenditure of public funds while allowing the continued maintenance of private investment and a medium of public communication. Cities, counties, cities and counties, and all other local entities are specifically empowered to enter into relocation agreements on whatever terms are agreeable to the display owner and the city, county, city and county, or other local entity.

SEC. 5. Section 5412.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

5412.1. A city, county, or city and county, whose ordinances or regulations are otherwise in full compliance with Section 5412, is not in violation of that section if the entity elects to require the removal without compensation of any display which meets all the following requirements:

(a) The display is located within an area shown as residential on a local general plan as of either the date an ordinance or regulation is enacted or becomes applicable to the area which incorporates the provisions of this section.

(b) The display is located within an area zoned for residential use either on the date on which the removal requirement is adopted or becomes applicable to the area.

(c) The display is not located within 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with its copy visible from the highway, nor is placed or maintained beyond 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with the purpose of its message being read from the main traveled way.

(d) The display is not required to be removed because of an overlay zone, combining zone, or any other special zoning district whose primary purpose is the removal or control of signs.

(e) The display is allowed to remain in existence for the period of time set forth below after the enactment or amendment after January 1, 1983, of any ordinance or regulation necessary to bring the entity requiring removal into compliance with Section 5412, and after giving notice of the removal requirement:

(d) The display is not required to be removed because of an overlay zone, combining zone, or any other special zoning district whose primary purpose is the removal or control of signs.

(e) The display is allowed to remain in existence for the period of time set forth below after the enactment or amendment after January 1, 1983, of any ordinance or regulation necessary to bring the entity requiring removal into compliance with Section 5412, and after giving notice of the removal requirement:

Fair Market Value on Date of Notice of Removal Requirement	Minimum Years Allowed
Under $1,999	2
$2,000 to $3,999	3
$4,000 to $5,999	4

(a) The display is located within an unincorporated area shown as agricultural on a local general plan as of either the date an ordinance or regulation is enacted or becomes applicable to the area which incorporates the provisions of this section.

(b) The display is located within an area zoned for agricultural use either on the date on which the removal requirement is adopted or becomes applicable to the area.

(c) The display is not located within 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with its copy visible from the highway, nor is placed or maintained beyond 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with the purpose of its message being read from the main traveled way.

(d) The display is not required to be removed because of an overlay zone, combining zone, or any other special zoning district whose primary purpose is the removal or control of signs.

(e) The display is allowed to remain in existence for the period of time set forth below after the adoption or amendment after January 1, 1983, of any ordinance or regulation necessary to bring the entity requiring removal into compliance with Section 5412, and after giving notice of the removal requirement:

Fair Market Value on Date of Notice of Removal Requirement	Minimum Years Allowed

5412.4. Section 5412 shall not be applied in any judicial proceeding which was filed and served by any city, county, or city and county prior to January 1, 1982, except that Section 5412 shall be applied in litigation to prohibit the removal without compensation of any advertising display located within 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with its copy visible from the highway, or any advertising display placed or maintained beyond 660 feet from the edge of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway that is placed with the purpose of its message being read from the main traveled way of the highway.

No appropriation is made and no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution or Section 2231 or 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation Code because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

(d) No application for a building permit or for the use of property which is the subject of a request pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be acted upon pending a determination by the department, unless the permit or use is not for a purpose set forth in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 25232.

The director shall establish a schedule of the fees to be paid to the State Board of Equalization by the operator for disposal of hazardous or extremely hazardous waste, which shall provide revenues which shall not exceed the amount necessary, but shall be sufficient, to cover all costs incurred in the administration of this chapter. The director shall notify the holder of the certification or registration of the temporary suspension and the effective date thereof and, at the same time, shall serve the holder with an accusation. Upon receipt of a notice of defense to the accusation, the director shall set the matter for a hearing which shall be held as soon as possible, but not later than 10 days after receipt of the notice of defense. The temporary suspension shall remain in effect until the hearing is completed and the director has made a final determination on the merits, which in any event shall be made within 10 days after the completion of the hearing. If the determination is not transmitted within 10 days after the hearing is completed, the temporary suspension shall be of no further effect.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24071 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

24071. The license of one spouse may be transferred to the other spouse when the application for transfer is made prior to the entry of a final decree of divorce, and the license of a decedent, minor ward, incompetent person, conservatee, bankrupt person, person for whose estate a receiver is appointed, or assignor for the benefit of creditors may be transferred by or to the surviving partners of a deceased licensee, the executor, administrator, conservator or guardian of an estate of a licensee, the surviving spouse of a deceased licensee in the event that the deceased licensee leaves no estate to be administered, the trustee of a bankrupt estate of a licensee, a receiver of the estate of a licensee, or an assignee for the benefit of creditors of a licensee with the consent of the assignor, or a license may be transferred by or to a receiver appointed for a judgment debtor as provided by Section 708.630 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or a license may be transferred between partners where no new partner is being licensed, or a license may be transferred between corporations whose outstanding shares of stock are owned by the same natural persons, or a licensee may transfer upon compliance with Section 24073 any license to a corporation whose entire stock is owned by the licensee, or his spouse, or a license may be transferred from a corporation to a person who owns, or whose spouse owns, the entire stock of the corporation, and the fee for transfer of each license is fifty dollars ($50). The regular transfer fee provided in Section 24072 shall be due and payable upon the subsequent transfer of 25 percent of the stock in a corporation to which a license has been transferred by a licensee or his spouse pursuant to this section, except if such transfer of stock is from a parent to his child or grandchild, in which case the fee shall be one-half of the regular transfer fee. In no case shall a fee be charged for the transfer of an importer's license. All money collected from the fees provided for in this section shall be deposited directly in the General Fund in the State Treasury, rather than in the Alcohol Beverage Control Fund as provided in Section 25761.

SEC. 1.5. Section 24075 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

24075. The provisions of Sections 24073 and 24074 do not apply to any transfer of a license made by an executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, trustee, receiver, except a receiver appointed under the provisions of Section 708.630 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or other person acting in the legal or proper discharge of official duty, or in the discharge of any trust imposed upon the person by law, nor to any transfer or assignment made for the benefit of creditors, nor to a surviving spouse or fiduciary or other person within the meaning of Section 24071.

SEC. 2. Section 765 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

765. Estates of inheritance and for life are called estates of freehold; estates for years are chattels real; and estates at will are chattel interests, but are not subject to enforcement of a money judgment.

SEC. 3. Section 859 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

859. Where a trust is created to receive the rents and profits of real or personal property, and no valid direction for accumulation is given, the surplus of such rents and profits, beyond the sum that may be necessary for the education and support of the person for whose benefit the trust is created, may be applied to the satisfaction of a money judgment against the person as provided in Section 709.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 4. Section 954.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

954.5. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), a transfer of a right represented by a judgment excluded from coverage of Division 9 of the Commercial Code by subdivision (h) of Section 9104 of the Commercial Code shall be deemed perfected as against third persons upon there being executed and delivered to the transferee an assignment thereof in writing.

(b) As between bona fide assignees of the same right for value without notice, the assignee who first becomes an assignee of record, by filing an acknowledgment of assignment of judgment with the court as provided in Section 673 of the Code of Civil Procedure or otherwise becoming an assignee of record, has priority.

(c) The filing of an acknowledgment of assignment of the judgment with the court under Section 673 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not, of itself, notice to the judgment debtor so as to invalidate any payments made by the judgment debtor that would otherwise be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment.

SEC. 5. Section 955 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

955. A transfer other than one intended to create a security interest (Section 9102(1)(a) of the Commercial Code) of a nonnegotiable instrument which is otherwise negotiable within Division 3 of the Commercial Code but which is not payable to order or to bearer and a sale of accounts or chattel paper as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose (Section 9104(f) of the Commercial Code) shall be deemed perfected against third persons when such property rights have been endorsed or assigned in writing and in the case of such instruments or chattel paper delivered to the transferee, whether or not notice of such transfer or sale has been given to the obligor; but such endorsement, assignment, or delivery is not, of itself, notice to the obligor so as to invalidate any payments made by the obligor to the transferor.

SEC. 6. Section 955.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

955.1. (a) Except as provided in Sections 954.5 and 955 and subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), a transfer other than one intended to create a security interest (Section 9102(1)(a) of the Commercial Code) of any general intangible (Section 9106 of the Commercial Code) consisting of any right to payment and any transfer of accounts or chattel paper excluded from the coverage of Division 9 of the Commercial Code by Section 9104(f) thereof shall be deemed perfected as against third persons upon there being executed and delivered to the transferee an assignment thereof in writing.

(b) As between bona fide assignees of the same right for value without notice, the assignee first giving notice thereof to the obligor in writing has priority.

(c) Such an assignment is not, of itself, notice to the obligor so as to invalidate any payments made by the obligor to the transferor.

SEC. 7. Section 986 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

986. (a) Whenever a work of fine art is sold and the seller resides in California or the sale takes place in California, the seller or the seller's agent shall pay to the artist of such work of fine art or to such artist's agent 5 percent of the amount of such sale. The right of the artist to receive an amount equal to 5 percent of the amount of such sale is not transferable and may be waived only by a contract in writing providing for an amount in excess of 5 percent of the amount of such sale.

(1) When a work of art is sold at an auction or by a gallery, dealer, broker, museum, or other person acting as the agent for the seller the agent shall withhold 5 percent of the amount of the sale, locate the artist and pay the artist.

(2) If the seller or agent is unable to locate and pay the artist within 90 days, an amount equal to 5 percent of the amount of the sale shall be tranferred to the Arts Council.

(3) If a seller or the seller's agent fails to pay an artist the amount equal to 5 percent of the sale of a work of fine art by the artist or fails to transfer such amount to the Arts Council, the artist may bring an action for damages within three years after the date of sale or one year after the discovery of the sale, whichever is longer.

(4) Moneys received by the council pursuant to this section shall be deposited in an account in the Special Deposit Fund in the State Treasury.

(5) The Arts Council shall attempt to locate any artist for whom money is received pursuant to this section. If the council is unable to locate the artist and the artist does not file a written claim for the money received by the council within seven years of the date of sale of the work of fine art, the right of the artist terminates and such money shall be transferred to the operating fund of the council as reimbursement to fund programs of the council.

(6) Any amounts of money held by any seller or agent for the payment of artists pursuant to this section shall be exempt from enforcement of a money judgment by the creditors of the seller or agent.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to any of the following:

(1) To the initial sale of a work of fine art where legal title to such work at the time of such initial sale is vested in the artist thereof.

(2) To the resale of a work of fine art for a gross sales price of less than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(3) To a resale after the death of such artist.

(4) To the resale of the work of fine art for a gross sales price less than the purchase price paid by the seller.

(5) To a transfer of a work of fine art which is exchanged for one or more works of fine art or for a combination of cash, other property, and one or more works of fine art where the fair market value of the property exchanged is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(6) To any sale of a work of fine art under the provisions of Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Artist" means the person who creates a work of fine art.

(2) "Fine art" means an original painting, sculpture, or drawing.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1977, and shall apply to works of fine art created before and after its operative date.

(e) If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid for any reason, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or applications of this section which can be effected, without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

SEC. 8. Title 5 (commencing with Section 1237) of Part 4 of Division 2 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 1861 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1861. Hotel, motel, inn, boardinghouse, and lodginghouse keepers shall have a lien upon the baggage and other property belonging to or legally under the control of their guests, boarders, tenants, or lodgers which may be in such hotel, motel, inn, or boarding or lodging house for the proper charges due from such guests, boarders, tenants, or lodgers, for their accommodation, board and lodging and room rent, and such extras as are furnished at their request, and for all money paid for or advanced to such guests, boarders, tenants, or lodgers, and for the costs of enforcing such lien. The lien may be enforced only after final judgment in an action brought to recover such charges or moneys. During the pendency of the proceeding, the plaintiff may take possession of the baggage and property pursuant to a writ of possession as provided by Sections 1861.1 to 1861.27, inclusive. However, if any baggage or property becoming subject to the lien herein provided for does not belong to the guest, lodger, tenant, or boarder who incurred the charges or indebtedness secured thereby, at the time when such charges or indebtedness was incurred, and if the hotel, motel, inn, boarding or lodging house keeper entitled to such lien receives notice of such fact at any time before the sale of such baggage or property hereunder, then, and in that event, such baggage and property which is subject to said lien and did not belong to said guest, boarder, tenant, or lodger at the time when such charges or indebtedness was incurred shall not be subject to this lien.

Any property which is exempt from enforcement of a money judgment is not subject to the lien provided for in this section.

SEC. 10. Section 1861a of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1861a. Keepers of furnished and unfurnished apartment houses, apartments, cottages, or bungalow courts shall have a lien upon the baggage and other property of value belonging to their tenants or guests, and upon all the right, title and interest of their tenants or guests in and to all property in the possession of such tenants or guests which may be in such apartment house, apartment, cottage, or bungalow court, for the proper charges due from such tenants or guests, for their accommodation, rent, services, meals, and such extras as are furnished at their request, and for all moneys expended for them, at their request, and for the costs of enforcing such lien.

Such lien may be enforced only after final judgment in an action brought to recover such charges or moneys. During the pendency of the proceeding, the plaintiff may take possession of such baggage and property upon an order issued by the court, where it appears to the satisfaction of the court from an affidavit filed by or on behalf of the plaintiff that the baggage or property is about to be destroyed, substantially devalued, or removed from the premises. Ten days written notice of the hearing on the motion for such order shall be served on the defendant and shall inform the defendant that the defendant may file affidavits on the defendant's behalf and present testimony in the defendant's behalf and that if the defendant fails to appear the plaintiff will apply to the court for such order. The plaintiff shall file an undertaking with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court, in such sum as may be fixed by the court.

Upon such order, the plaintiff shall have the right to enter peaceably the unfurnished apartment house, apartment, cottage, or bungalow court used by the guest or tenant without liability to the guest or tenant, including any possible claim of liability for conversion, trespass, or forcible entry. The plaintiff shall have the same duties and liabilities as a depository for hire as to property which the plaintiff takes into possession. An entry shall be considered peaceable when accomplished with a key or passkey or through an unlocked door during the hours between sunrise and sunset. Unless the judgment shall be paid within 30 days from the date when it becomes final, the plaintiff may sell the baggage and property, at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving notice of such sale by publication of a notice containing the name of the debtor, the amount due, a brief description of the property to be sold, and the time and place of such sale, pursuant to Section 6064 of the Government Code in the county in which said apartment house, apartment, cottage, or bungalow court is situated, and after by mailing, at least 15 days prior to the date of sale, a copy of such notice addressed to such tenant or guest at the residence or other known address of the tenant or guest, and if not known, such notice shall be addressed to the tenant or guest at the place where such apartment house, apartment, cottage, or bungalow court is situated; and, after satisfying such lien out of the proceeds of such sale, together with any reasonable costs, that may have been incurred in enforcing said lien, the residue of said proceeds of sale, if any, shall, upon demand made within six months after such sale, be paid to such tenant or guest; and if not demanded within six months from the date of such sale, said residue, if any, shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which such sale took place; and if the same be not claimed by the owner thereof, or the owner's legal representative within one year thereafter, it shall be paid into the general fund of the county; and such sale shall be a perpetual bar to any action against said keeper for the recovery of such baggage or property, or of the value thereof, or for any damages, growing out of the failure of such tenant or guest to receive such baggage or property.

When the baggage and property are not in the possession of the keeper as provided herein, such lien shall be enforced only in the manner provided for enforcement of a money judgment.

Any property which is exempt from enforcement of a money judgment is not subject to the lien provided for in this section.

SEC. 10.5. Section 1861.25 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1861.25. Where the property taken is claimed by a third person, the rules and proceedings applicable in cases of third-party claims under Division 4 (commencing with Section 720.010) of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure apply.

SEC. 11. Section 3057 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 3058 of the Civil Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 3152 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3152. Nothing contained in this title affects the right of a claimant to maintain a personal action to recover a debt against the person liable therefor either in a separate action or in the action to foreclose the lien, nor any right the claimant may have to the issuance of a writ of attachment or execution or to enforce a judgment by other means. In an application for a writ of attachment, the claimant shall refer to this section. A lien held by the claimant under this chapter does not affect the right to procure a writ of attachment. The judgment, if any, obtained by the claimant in a personal action, or personal judgment obtained in a mechanic's lien action, does not impair or merge a lien held by the claimant under this chapter, but any money collected on the judgment shall be credited on the amount of the lien.

SEC. 14. Section 3193 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3193. No assignment by the original contractor of any of the money due or to become due to the original contractor under the contract, or for "extras" in connection therewith whether made before or after the service of a stop notice, takes priority over a stop notice under this chapter and such assignment has no effect on the rights of the stop notice claimants. Any garnishment of such money by any creditor of the original contractor pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 708.710) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and any statutory lien thereon are subordinate to the rights of all stop notice claimants.

SEC. 15. Section 4383 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4383. (a) Notwithstanding Section 4380, a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of child or spousal support may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval for amounts that are not more than 10 years overdue on the date of the application for the writ.

(b) The application for a writ of execution shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the total amount due and unpaid that is not more than 10 years overdue on the date of the application. If interest on the overdue installments is sought, the affidavit shall state the total amount of the interest and the amount of each due and unpaid installment and the date it became due. The affidavit shall be filed in the action and a copy shall be attached to the writ of execution delivered to the levying officer. The levying officer shall serve the copy of the affidavit on the judgment debtor when the writ of execution is first served on the judgment debtor pursuant to a levy under the writ.

SEC. 16. Section 4384 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4384. The lack of diligence for more than 10 years in seeking enforcement of a judgment, order, or decree of the court made, entered, or enforceable pursuant to this part that requires the payment of money shall be considered by the court in determining whether to permit enforcement of the judgment, order or decree under Section 4380. In the case of a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of money in installments, the 10-year period runs as to each installment from the date the installment became due.

SEC. 16.5. Section 4385 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4385. A judgment, order, or decree for child or spousal support made, entered, or enforceable in this state is enforceable under this chapter whether or not the judgment, order, or decree was made or entered pursuant to this part.

SEC. 17. Section 4701 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4701. (a) In any proceeding where the court has ordered either or both parents to pay any amount for the support of a minor child, the court may order either parent or both parents to assign to the county clerk, probation officer, or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court to receive the payment, that portion of salary or wages of either parent due or to be due in the future as will be sufficient to pay the amount ordered by the court for the support, maintenance, and education of the minor child. The order shall operate as an assignment and shall be binding upon any existing or future employer of the defaulting parent upon whom a copy of the order is served. Any such order may be modified or revoked at any time by the court.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), in any proceeding where the court has ordered either or both parents to pay any amount for the support of a minor child, upon a petition signed under penalty of perjury by the person or county officer to whom support has been ordered to have been paid that the parent so ordered is in arrears in payment in a sum equal to the amount of one month of the payment within the 24-month period immediately preceding filing of the petition with the court, the court shall issue without notice to the parent ordered to pay support an order requiring the parent ordered to pay support to assign either to the person to whom support has been ordered to have been paid or to a county officer designated by the court to receive the payment, that portion of the salary or wages of the parent due or to be due in the future as will be sufficient to pay the amount ordered by the court for the support, maintenance, and education of the minor child. Such an order shall operate as an assignment and shall be binding upon any existing or future employer of the parent ordered to pay support upon whom a copy of the order is served.

The petition shall state the number of previous times a petition for assignment has been filed pursuant to this subdivision and the county in which any such petition was filed.

(2) No petition shall be accepted for filing pursuant to this subdivision unless it contains a declaration stating that the parent, or any other person designated pursuant to subdivision (a), to whom support has been ordered to be paid has given the parent ordered to pay support a written notice of his or her intent to seek a wage assignment in the event of a default in support payments and that the notice was transmitted by certified mail or personally served at least 15 days prior to the date of the filing of the petition. A written notice of intent to seek a wage assignment may be given at the time of the entry of the final decree of dissolution or at any time subsequent thereto. In addition to any other penalty provided by law, the filing of a petition with knowledge of the falsity of the declaration of notice is punishable as a contempt pursuant to Section 1209 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The parent ordered to pay support may at any time waive the written notice required by this subdivision.

(3) The parent to whom support has been ordered to be paid shall notify the court and the employer of the parent ordered to pay support, by any form of mailing requiring a return receipt, of any change of address within a reasonable period of time after any such change. In instances in which payments have been ordered to be made to a county officer designated by the court, the parent to whom support has been ordered to be paid shall notify the court and the county officer, by any form of mail requiring a return receipt, of any address change within a reasonable period of time after any such change. If the employer or county officer is unable to deliver payments under the assignment for a period of three months due to the failure of the person to whom support has been ordered to be paid to notify the employer or county officer of a change of address, the employer or county officer shall not make any further payments under the assignment and shall return all undeliverable payments to the employee.

(4) An assignment order made pursuant to this subdivision shall not become effective until 10 days after service of the order on an employer.

(5) Within 10 days of service of an assignment order issued pursuant to this subdivision on an employer, the employer shall deliver a copy of the assignment order to the parent ordered to pay support.

(6) A parent alleged to be in default may move to quash an assignment order issued under this subdivision within 10 days after service on the parent of notice of the assignment order by his or her employer if the parent states under oath that a default in the amount alleged in the petition has not occurred within the 24-month period referred to in the petition or that the amount is not owed. The motion and notice of motion to quash the assignment order shall be filed with the court issuing the assignment order within 10 days after service on the parent of notice of the order by the employer. The clerk of the court shall set the motion to quash for hearing within not less than 15 days, nor more than 20 days, after receipt of the notice of motion and shall mail to the petitioner at the return address contained in the petition a copy of the notice of motion by first-class mail within five days after receipt of the notice of motion.

(7) The employer shall continue to withhold and forward support as ordered by the court until served with notice that the motion to quash under this subdivision has been granted.

(8) The due date of support payments under this subdivision shall be the date specifically stated in the order of support or if no date is stated in the support order, then it shall be the last day of the month in which the support payment is to be paid.

(9) For purposes of this subdivision, arrearages of payment shall be computed on the basis of the payments owed and unpaid on the date that the parent ordered to pay support has been given notice of the order of assignment and the fact that the parent ordered to pay support may have subsequently paid such arrearages shall not relieve the court of its duty under this subdivision to order the assignment.

(10) Upon petition by the parent ordered to pay support, the court shall terminate an order of assignment entered pursuant to this subdivision upon proof of full payment pursuant to the wage assignment for the appropriate period of time, as follows:

(A) An assignment pursuant to this subdivision pursuant to an initial petition shall continue until support payments are current.

(B) An assignment under this subdivision pursuant to a second petition filed within 24 months shall continue for 12 months.

(C) An assignment under this subdivision pursuant to a third or subsequent petition filed within 48 months shall continue for 18 months.

Upon petition by the parent ordered to pay support the court shall terminate an order of assignment entered pursuant to this subdivision if the employer or county officer has been unable to deliver payments under the assignment for a period of three months due to the failure of the person to whom support has been ordered to be paid to notify the employer or county officer of a change of address.

(c) The Judicial Council shall prescribe forms for the orders for wage assignment required or authorized by this section. The employer may deduct from the salary or wages of the employee the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order. Any such assignment made pursuant to court order shall have priority as against any attachment, execution, or other assignment, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(d) The employer shall cooperate with and provide relevant employment information to the district attorney for the purpose of enforcing the child support obligation.

(e) No employer shall use any assignment authorized by this section as grounds for the dismissal of such employee.

(f) As used in this section "employer" includes the United States government and any public entity as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.

(g) On declaration or affidavit of the parent to whom support has been ordered to be paid to the court that: (1) the parent ordered to make support payments is in default in such payment in the amount specified in subdivision (b), and (2) the whereabouts of such defaulting parent or the identity of his employer are unknown to the parent to whom support has been ordered to be paid, the district attorney shall contact the central registry maintained by the Department of Justice in the manner prescribed in Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and upon receiving the requested information, notify the court of the last known address of the absent parent and the name and address of the absent parent's last known employer. The court shall then order the defaulting parent to make support payments pursuant to subdivision (b).

(h) Nothing in this section shall limit the authority of the district attorney to utilize any and all civil and criminal remedies to enforce child suppport obligations regardless of whether or not the custodial parent receives welfare moneys.

(i) The provisions of this section apply to the money and benefits described in Sections 704.110 and 704.113 of the Code of Civil Procedure to the extent that such money and benefits are subject to a wage assignment for support under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 703.010) of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when a certified copy of any order of assignment is served on any public entity described in Section 704.110 of the Code of Civil Procedure other than the United States government, such entity shall comply with any request for a return of employee contributions by an employee named in such order by delivering such contributions to the clerk of the court from which such order issued, unless the entity has received a certified copy of an order terminating the order of assignment. Upon receipt of moneys pursuant to this section, the clerk of the court, within 10 days, shall send written notice of such fact to the parties, and any agency through whom payments have been ordered under Section 4702. Such moneys shall be subject to any procedure available to enforce an order for child support, but if no enforcement procedure is commenced after 30 days have elapsed from the date the notice of receipt is sent, the clerk shall, upon request, return the moneys to the public entity that delivered the moneys to the court unless the public entity has informed the court in writing that the moneys shall be released to the defaulting parent. A court shall not directly or indirectly condition the issuance, modification, or termination of, or condition the terms or conditions of, any order for the support of a minor child upon the issuance of such a request by such an employee.

SEC. 18. Section 4800 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4800. (a) Except upon the written agreement of the parties, or on oral stipulation of the parties in open court, the court shall, either in its interlocutory judgment of dissolution of the marriage, in its judgment decreeing the legal separation of the parties, or at a later time if it expressly reserves jurisdiction to make such a property division, divide the community property and the quasi-community property of the parties equally. For purposes of making such division, the court shall value the assets and liabilities as near as practicable to the time of trial, except that, upon 30 days' notice by the moving party to the other party, the court for good cause shown may value all or any portion of the assets and liabilities at a date after separation and prior to trial to accomplish an equal division of the community property and the quasi-community property of the parties in an equitable manner.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the court may divide the community property and quasi-community property of the parties as follows:

(1) Where economic circumstances warrant, the court may award any asset to one party on such conditions as it deems proper to effect a substantially equal division of the property.

(2) As an additional award or offset against existing property, the court may award, from a party's share, any sum it determines to have been deliberately misappropriated by such party to the exclusion of the community property or quasi-community property interest of the other party.

(3) If the net value of the community property and quasi-community property is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) and one party cannot be located through the exercise of reasonable diligence, the court may award all such property to the other party on such conditions as it deems proper in its final judgment decreeing the dissolution of the marriage or in its judgment decreeing the legal separation of the parties.

(4) Educational loans shall be assigned to the spouse receiving the education in the absence of extraordinary circumstances rendering such an assignment unjust.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), community property personal injury damages shall be assigned to the party who suffered the injuries unless the court, after taking into account the economic condition and needs of each party, the time that has elapsed since the recovery of the damages or the accrual of the cause of action, and all other facts of the case, determines that the interests of justice require another disposition. In such case, the community property personal injury damages shall be assigned to the respective parties in such proportions as the court determines to be just, except that at least one-half of such damages shall be assigned to the party who suffered the injuries. As used in this subdivision, "community property personal injury damages" means all money or other property received or to be received by a person in satisfaction of a judgment for damages for his or her personal injuries or pursuant to an agreement for the settlement or compromise of a claim for such damages, if the cause of action for such damages arose during the marriage but is not separate property as defined in Section 5126, unless such money or other property has been commingled with other community property.

(d) The court may make such orders as it deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SEC. 19. Section 4801.6 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4801.6. (a) In any proceeding where the court has ordered a party to pay any amount of spousal support to the other party, the court, upon a showing of good cause, may order the party required to make such payment of spousal support to assign to the county clerk or other officer of the court or county officer designated by the court to receive such payment, that portion of salary or wages of the party due or to be due in the future as will be sufficient to pay the amount ordered by the court for spousal support. Such order shall operate as an assignment and shall be binding upon any existing or future employer of the party required to make such payment of spousal support upon whom a copy of such order is served. The Judicial Council shall prescribe forms for such orders. The employer may deduct the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to such order. Any such order may be modified or revoked at any time by the court. Any such assignment made pursuant to court order shall have priority as against any execution or other assignment, unless otherwise ordered by the court, with the exception of assignments made pursuant to Section 4701. The employer shall cooperate with and provide relevant employment information to the district attorney for the purpose of enforcing the spousal support obligation.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), in any proceeding where the court has ordered a party to pay spousal support to the other party upon both a petition by the person to whom support has been ordered to have been paid and a finding by the court that the party so ordered to pay spousal support is in arrears in payment in a sum equal to the amount of two months of such payments within the 24-month period immediately preceding submission of such petition, the court shall order the defaulting party to assign either to the person to whom support has been ordered to have been paid or to a county officer designated by the court to receive such payment, that portion of the salary or wages of the party required to make such payment of spousal support as will be sufficient to pay the amount ordered by the court for spousal support. Such an order shall operate as an assignment and shall be binding upon any existing or future employer of the party required to make such payment of spousal support upon whom a copy of such order is served. The Judicial Council shall prescribe forms for such orders. The employer may deduct the sum of one dollar ($1) for each payment made pursuant to the order. Any such assignment made pursuant to court order shall have priority as against any execution or other assignment, unless otherwise ordered by the court, with the exception of assignments made pursuant to Section 4701.

The party to whom support has been ordered to be paid shall notify the court and the employer of the party ordered to pay spousal support, by any form of mail requiring a return receipt, of any change of address within a reasonable period of time after any such change. In instances in which payments have been ordered to be made to a county officer designated by the court, the party to whom spousal support has been ordered to be paid shall notify the court and such county officer, by any form of mail requiring a return receipt, of any address change within a reasonable period of time after such changes. If the employer or county officer is unable to deliver payments under the assignment for a period of three months due to the failure of the person to whom support has been ordered to be paid to notify the employer or county officer of a change of address, the employer or county officer shall not make any further payments under the assignment and shall return all undeliverable payments to the employee.

For purposes of this subdivision, arrearages in payment shall be computed on the basis of the payments owed and unpaid on the date that the defaulting party has been given notice personally, and not by mail pursuant to Sections 1010 and 1011 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the application for the order of assignment, and the fact that the defaulting party may have subsequently paid such arrearages shall not relieve the court of its duty under this subdivision to order the assignment.

Upon a petition by the defaulting party, the court shall terminate such order of assignment entered pursuant to this subdivision if (1) there has been 18 continuous and uninterrupted months of full payment under the wage assignment or (2) the employer or county officer has been unable to deliver payments under the assignment for a period of three months due to the failure of the person to whom spousal support has been ordered to be paid to notify the employer or county officer of a change of address.

(c) No employer shall use any assignment authorized by this section as grounds for the dismissal of such employee.

(d) As used in this section "employer" includes the United States government and any public entity as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.

(e) On declaration or affidavit of the party to whom spousal support has been ordered to be paid to the court that: (1) the party ordered to make a spousal support payment is in default in such payment in the amount specified in subdivision (b), and (2) the whereabouts of such defaulting party or the identity of his employer are unknown to the party to whom spousal support has been ordered to be paid, the district attorney shall contact the central registry maintained by the Department of Justice in the manner prescribed in Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and upon receiving the requested information, notify the court of the last known address of the absent party and the name and address of the absent party's last known employer. The court shall then order the party obligated to make spousal support payments to show cause why an order for assignment pursuant to subdivision (b) should not issue. The county may charge a reasonable fee not to exceed two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for the services of the district attorney under this subdivision.

(f) Nothing in this section shall limit or expand the authority of the district attorney to utilize any and all civil and criminal remedies to enforce spousal support obligations regardless of whether or not the party to be supported receives welfare moneys.

(g) The provisions of this section apply to the money and benefits described in Sections 704.110 and 704.113 of the Code of Civil Procedure to the extent that such moneys and benefits are subject to a wage assignment for support under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 703.010) of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when a certified copy of any order of assignment is served on any public entity described in Section 704.110 of the Code of Civil Procedure other than the United States government, such entity shall comply with any request for a return of employee contributions by an employee named in such order by delivering such contributions to the clerk of the court from which such order issued, unless the entity has received a certified copy of an order terminating the order of assignment. Upon receipt of moneys pursuant to this section, the clerk of the court, within 10 days, shall send written notice of such fact to the parties, and any agency through whom payments have been ordered under Section 4801.7. Such moneys shall be subject to any procedure available to enforce an order for spousal support, but if no enforcement procedure is commenced after 30 days have elapsed from the date the notice is sent, the clerk shall, upon request, return the moneys to the public entity that delivered the moneys to the court unless the public entity has informed the court in writing that the moneys shall be released to the defaulting party. A court shall not directly or indirectly condition the issuance, modification or termination of, or condition the terms or conditions of, any order for spousal support upon the issuance of such a request by such an employee.

SEC. 20. Section 4810 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4810. The disposition of the community and quasi-community property, as above provided, is subject to revision on appeal in all particulars, including those which are stated to be in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 21. Section 5102 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

5102. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, neither husband nor wife has any interest in the separate property of the other, but neither can be excluded from the other's dwelling except as provided in Section 4359 or, in proceedings under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 4400) or Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4425) of Title 2 of this part, or under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 4500) of Title 3 of this part, upon application of either party in the manner provided by Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the court may order the temporary exclusion of either party from the family dwelling or from the dwelling of the other upon a showing that the party to be excluded has assaulted or threatens to assault the other party, and that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result to the other party or any other person under the care, custody, or control of the other party, until the final determination of the proceeding.

(b) If notice of the pendency of a proceeding for separation or annulment or dissolution of marriage is recorded in any county in which the husband or wife resides on real property that is the separate property of the other, the real property shall not for a period of three months thereafter be transferred, encumbered, or otherwise disposed of voluntarily or involuntarily without the joinder of both spouses, unless the court otherwise orders.

SEC. 22. Section 5121 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

5121. (a) The separate property of a spouse is liable for the debts of the spouse contracted before or after the marriage of the spouse, but is not liable for the debts of the other spouse contracted after marriage; provided, that the separate property of the spouse is liable for the payment of debts contracted by either spouse for the necessaries of life pursuant to Section 5132.

(b) The separate property of a spouse is not subject to enforcement of a money judgment for a debt of the other spouse unless the spouse is made a judgment debtor under the judgment for the purpose of liability.

SEC. 23. Section 5125 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

5125. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) and Sections 5113.5 and 5128, either spouse has the management and control of the community personal property, whether acquired prior to or on or after January 1, 1975, with like absolute power of disposition, other than testamentary, as the spouse has of the separate estate of the spouse.

(b) A spouse may not make a gift of community personal property, or dispose of community personal property without a valuable consideration, without the written consent of the other spouse.

(c) A spouse may not sell, convey, or encumber community personal property used as the family dwelling, or the furniture, furnishings, or fittings of the home, or the clothing or wearing apparel of the other spouse or minor children which is community personal property, without the written consent of the other spouse.

(d) A spouse who is operating or managing a business or an interest in a business which is community personal property has the sole management and control of the business or interest.

(e) Each spouse shall act in good faith with respect to the other spouse in the management and control of the community property.

SEC. 24. Section 85 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

85. If the judgment or order in a municipal court or justice court in any action or proceeding in which the defendant has appeared is for the payment of money by the defendant, the defendant shall pay the same immediately or at any time and upon such terms and conditions, including installment payments, which the court may prescribe. The court may amend the terms and conditions for payment of the judgment or order at any time to provide for installment payments for good cause upon motion by a party and notice to all affected parties, regardless of the nature of the underlying debt and regardless whether the moving party appeared before entry of such judgment or order. In any determination regarding the imposition of terms and conditions upon the payment of the judgment, the court shall consider any factors which would be relevant to the determination of a claim for exemption pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 703.010) of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 or the examination of a debtor pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 708.110) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2.

SEC. 25. Section 86 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

86. (a) Each municipal and justice court has original jurisdiction of civil cases and proceedings as follows:

(1) In all cases at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy amounts to fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less, except cases which involve the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, except the courts have jurisdiction in actions to enforce payment of delinquent unsecured personal property taxes if the legality of the tax is not contested by the defendant.

(2) In actions for dissolution of partnership where the total assets of the partnership do not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000); in actions of interpleader where the amount of money or the value of the property involved does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(3) In actions to cancel or rescind a contract when the relief is sought in connection with an action to recover money not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or property of a value not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), paid or delivered under, or in consideration of, the contract; in actions to revise a contract where the relief is sought in an action upon the contract if the court otherwise has jurisdiction of the action.

(4) In all proceedings in forcible entry or forcible or unlawful detainer:

(A) In actions to recover possession of real property where rent is charged, and the amount of the last rental charged is one thousand dollars ($1,000) per month or less, and the whole amount of damages claimed is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less.

(B) In all other actions to recover possession of real property where the rental value is one thousand dollars ($1,000) per month or less, and the whole amount claimed is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less.

(5) In all actions to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property where the amount of the liens is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less.

(6) In all actions to enforce and foreclose liens of mechanics, materialmen, artisans, laborers, and of all other persons to whom liens are given under the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3109) of Title 15 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code where the amount of the liens is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or less. However, where an action to enforce the lien is pending in a municipal or justice court, and affects property which is also affected by a similar action pending in a superior court, or where the total amount of the liens sought to be foreclosed against the same property by action or actions in a municipal or justice court aggregates an amount in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) the municipal or justice court in which any such action, or actions, is, or are, pending, upon motion of any interested party, shall order the action or actions pending therein transferred to the proper superior court. Upon the making of the order, the same proceedings shall be taken as are provided by Section 399 with respect to the change of place of trial.

(7) In actions for declaratory relief when brought by way of cross-complaint as to a right of indemnity with respect to the relief demanded in the complaint or a cross-complaint in an action or proceeding otherwise within the jurisdiction of the municipal or justice court.

(8) To issue temporary restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, to take accounts, and to appoint receivers where necessary to preserve the property or rights of any party to an action of which the court has jurisdiction; to appoint a receiver and to make any order or perform any act, pursuant to Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) of Part 2 (enforcement of judgments); to determine title to personal property seized in an action pending in such court.

(9) In all actions under Article 3 (commencing with Section 708.210) of Chapter 6 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 for the recovery of an interest in personal property or to enforce the liability of the debtor of a judgment debtor where the interest claimed adversely is of a value not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or the debt denied does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(b) Each municipal and justice court has jurisdiction of cases in equity as follows:

(1) In all cases to try title to personal property when the amount involved is not more than fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(2) In all cases when equity is pleaded as a defensive matter in any case otherwise properly pending in a municipal or justice court.

(3) To vacate a judgment or order of such municipal or justice court obtained through extrinsic fraud, mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect.

(c) In any action that is otherwise within its jurisdiction, the court may impose liability whether the theory upon which liability is sought to be imposed involves legal or equitable principles.

(d) Changes in the jurisdictional ceilings made by amendments to this section at the 1977–78 Regular Session of the Legislature shall not constitute a basis for the transfer to another court of any case pending at the time such changes become operative.

SEC. 26. Section 117 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117. (a) The hearing and disposition of small claims actions shall be informal, the object being to dispense justice promptly between the parties. The parties shall have the right to offer evidence by witnesses at the hearing or, with the permission of the court, at another time. The judge may consult witnesses informally and otherwise investigate the controversy. If the defendant fails to appear, the judge shall still require plaintiff to present evidence to prove his claim. The judge shall give judgment and make such orders as to time of payment or otherwise as the judge deems to be just and equitable for disposition of the controversy. The provisions of Section 579 of this code may be applied.

(b) The prevailing party in any action in the small claims court is entitled to costs of the action and also the costs of enforcing the judgment rendered therein. Such costs shall include costs of service of the order for the appearance of the defendant.

SEC. 27. Section 117.7 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117.7. No attachment may issue from the small claims division. The judgment may be enforced in the manner provided in Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) of Part 2 and in Section 1174. However, enforcement of the judgment is automatically stayed, without the filing of a bond by the defendant, until the expiration of time for appeal and, if an appeal is taken, until the appeal is determined.

SEC. 28. Section 117.9 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117.9. If the judgment or order be against the defendant or cross defendant, he or she shall pay the same forthwith or at any time and upon such terms and conditions as the judge shall prescribe. Immediately upon receipt of payment of the judgment, the judgment creditor or the assignee of record shall file with the court an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment. Any judgment creditor or assignee of record who, after payment in full of the judgment, and after written demand by the judgment debtor fails without just cause for a period of 15 days to execute, and file an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment with the court is liable to the judgment debtor or his or her grantees or heirs for all damages sustained by reason of such failure and, in addition, the sum of fifty dollars ($50).

A canceled check or money order which was written subsequent to the judgment by the judgment debtor for the full amount of the judgment, made payable to and endorsed by the judgment creditor, or a cash receipt written subsequent to the judgment for the full amount thereof and signed by the judgment creditor, shall constitute a rebuttable presumption of satisfaction of judgment when filed with the clerk of the small claims court together with a statement signed by the judgment debtor under penalty of perjury stating that: (1) the judgment creditor has been paid in full the amount of the judgment and costs; (2) the judgment creditor has been requested to file an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment and refuses to do so or the present address of the judgment creditor is unknown; and (3) the documents attached constitute evidence of receipt of this payment. In the event a rebuttable presumption of satisfaction of judgment is created pursuant to this section, a satisfaction of judgment shall be entered.

SEC. 29. Section 117.19 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117.19. (a) Whenever a claim is filed under this chapter against a person operating or doing business under a fictitious business name, as defined in Section 17900 of the Business and Professions Code, which relates to the person's business, the judge shall inquire at the time of the hearing whether the name of the person is the legal name under which the business or person has been licensed, registered, incorporated, or otherwise authorized to do business. If the legal name of the person is other than the name specified on the claim, the judge shall order the plaintiff's claim to be amended to conform to the legal name of the business. The plaintiff may request the court at any time, including after judgment, to amend the claim of the plaintiff or the judgment to conform to the legal name of the person against whom the claim was filed.

(b) At the time judgment is rendered, or notice thereof is mailed to the parties, the clerk shall provide the judgment debtor with a form containing questions regarding the nature and location of any assets of the judgment debtor. The judgment debtor shall complete the form and cause it to be delivered to the judgment creditor within 35 days after the clerk has mailed by first-class mail notice of entry of judgment unless the judgment has been satisfied. In the event a motion to vacate the judgment or an appeal is filed, a judgment debtor shall complete and deliver the form within 30 days after entry of judgment on the motion or on the appeal. In case of willful failure by the judgment debtor to comply with this subdivision, the judgment creditor may request the court to apply the sanctions provided in Section 708.170. The Judicial Council shall approve or adopt the form to be used for the purpose of this subdivision.

SEC. 30. Section 166 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

166. (a) The judge or judges of the superior, municipal and justice courts may, at chambers, in the matters within the jurisdiction of their respective courts:

(1) Grant all orders and writs which are usually granted in the first instance upon an ex parte application, and may, at chambers, hear and dispose of such orders and writs; and may also, at chambers, appoint appraisers, receive inventories and accounts to be filed, suspend the powers of executors, administrators, guardians, or conservators in the cases allowed by law, grant special letters of administration and letters of temporary guardianship or conservatorship, approve claims and bonds, and direct the issuance from the court of all writs and process necessary in the exercise of their powers in matters of probate.

(2) Hear and determine all motions made pursuant to Section 657 or 663.

(3) Hear and determine all uncontested actions, proceedings, demurrers, motions, petitions, applications, and other matters pending before the court other than actions for dissolution of marriage, for legal separation, or for a judgment of nullity of the marriage, and except also applications for confirmation of sale of real property in probate proceedings.

(4) Hear and determine motions to tax costs of enforcing a judgment.

(b) A judge may, out of court, anywhere in the state, exercise all the powers and perform all the functions and duties conferred upon a judge as contradistinguished from the court, or which a judge may exercise or perform at chambers.

SEC. 31. Section 339 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

339. Within two years: 1. An action upon a contract, obligation or liability not founded upon an instrument of writing, except as provided in Section 2725 of the Commercial Code or subdivision 2 of Section 337 of this code; or an action founded upon a contract, obligation or liability, evidenced by a certificate, or abstract or guaranty of title of real property, or by a policy of title insurance; provided, that the cause of action upon a contract, obligation or liability evidenced by a certificate, or abstract or guaranty of title of real property or policy of title insurance shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery of the loss or damage suffered by the aggrieved party thereunder.

2. An action against a sheriff, coroner, or constable upon a liability incurred by the doing of an act in an official capacity and in virtue of office, or by the omission of an official duty including the nonpayment of money collected in the enforcement of a judgment.

3. An action based upon the rescission of a contract not in writing. The time begins to run from the date upon which the facts that entitle the aggrieved party to rescind occurred. Where the ground for rescission is fraud or mistake, the time does not begin to run until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud or mistake.

SEC. 32. Section 431.70 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

431.70. Where cross-demands for money have existed between persons at any point in time when neither demand was barred by the statute of limitations, and an action is thereafter commenced by one such person, the other person may assert in the answer the defense of payment in that the two demands are compensated so far as they equal each other, notwithstanding that an independent action asserting the person's claim would at the time of filing the answer be barred by the statute of limitations. If the cross-demand would otherwise be barred by the statute of limitations, the relief accorded under this section shall not exceed the value of the relief granted to the other party. The defense provided by this section is not available if the cross-demand is barred for failure to assert it in a prior action under Section 426.30. Neither person can be deprived of the benefits of this section by the assignment or death of the other. For the purposes of this section, a money judgment is a "demand for money" and, as applied to a money judgment, the demand is barred by the statute of limitations when enforcement of the judgment is barred under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 683.010) of Division 1 of Title 9.

SEC. 33. Section 514.050 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

514.050. Where the property taken is claimed by a third person, the rules and proceedings applicable in cases of third-party claims under Division 4 (commencing with Section 720.010) of Title 9 apply.

SEC. 34. Section 564 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

564. A receiver may be appointed, in the manner provided in this chapter, by the court in which an action or proceeding is pending in any case in which such court is empowered by law to appoint a receiver.

In superior courts a receiver may be appointed by the court in which an action or proceeding is pending, or by a judge thereof, in the following cases:

1. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property, or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to the creditor's claim, or between partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund, on the application of the plaintiff, or of any party whose right to or interest in the property or fund, or the proceeds thereof, is probable, and where it is shown that the property or fund is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured.

2. In an action by a mortgagee for the foreclosure of the mortgage and sale of the mortgaged property, where it appears that the mortgaged property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured, or that the condition of the mortgage has not been performed, and that the property is probably insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt.

3. After judgment, to carry the judgment into effect.

4. After judgment, to dispose of the property according to the judgment, or to preserve it during the pendency of an appeal, or pursuant to Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) (enforcement of judgments), or after sale of real property pursuant to a decree of foreclosure, during the redemption period, to collect, expend, and disburse rents as directed by the court or otherwise provided by law.

5. In the cases when a corporation has been dissolved, or is insolvent, or in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights.

6. In an action of unlawful detainer.

7. At the request of the Public Utilities Commission pursuant to Section 855 of the Public Utilities Code.

8. In all other cases where receivers have heretofore been appointed by the usages of courts of equity.

SEC. 35. Section 568.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

568.5. A receiver may, pursuant to an order of the court, sell real or personal property in the receiver's possession upon the notice and in the manner prescribed by Article 6 (commencing with Section 701.510) of Chapter 3 of Division 2 of Title 9.
