273.82. Spousal abuser prosecution units receiving funds under this chapter shall concentrate enhanced prosecution efforts and resources upon individuals identified under selection criteria set forth in Section 273.83. Enhanced prosecution efforts and resources shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(a) (1) Vertical prosecutorial representation, whereby the prosecutor who, or prosecution unit which, makes the initial filing or appearance in a case performs all subsequent court appearances on that particular case through its conclusion, including the sentencing phase.

(2) Vertical counselor representation, whereby a trained domestic violence counselor maintains liaison from initial court appearances through the case's conclusion, including the sentencing phase.

(b) The assignment of highly qualified investigators and prosecutors to spousal abuser cases. "Highly qualified" for the purposes of this chapter means: (1) individuals with one year of experience in the investigation and prosecution of felonies, (2) individuals whom the district attorney has selected to receive training as set forth in Section 13836, or (3) individuals who have attended a program providing equivalent training as approved by the Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

(c) A significant reduction of caseloads for investigators and prosecutors assigned to spousal abuser cases.

(d) Coordination with local rape victim counseling centers, spousal abuse services programs, and victim-witness assistance programs. That coordination shall include, but not be limited to: referrals of individuals to receive client services; participation in local training programs; membership and participation in local task forces established to improve communication between criminal justice system agencies and community service agencies; and cooperating with individuals serving as liaison representatives of local rape victim counseling centers, spousal abuse victim programs, and victim-witness assistance programs.

SEC. 17. Section 281 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

281. Every person having a husband or wife living, who marries any other person, except in the cases specified in Section 282, is guilty of bigamy.

SEC. 18. Section 282 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

282. Section 281 does not extend to any of the following:

(a) To any person by reason of any former marriage whose husband or wife by such marriage has been absent for five successive years without being known to such person within that time to be living.

(b) To any person by reason of any former marriage which has been pronounced void, annulled, or dissolved by the judgment of a competent court.

SEC. 18.5. Section 330.8 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

330.8. Notwithstanding Sections 330a, 330b, and 330.1 to 330.5, inclusive, the sale, transportation, storage, and manufacture of gambling devices, as defined in Section 330.1, including the acquisition of essential parts therefor and the assembly of such parts, is permitted, provided those devices are sold, transported, stored, and manufactured only for subsequent transportation in interstate or foreign commerce when that transportation is not prohibited by any applicable federal law. Those activities may be conducted only by persons who have registered with the United States government pursuant to Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 1171) of Title 15 of the United States Code, as amended. Those gambling devices shall not be displayed to the general public or sold for use in California regardless of where purchased, nor held nor manufactured in violation of any applicable federal law. A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 19. Section 331 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

331. Every person who knowingly permits any of the games mentioned in Sections 330 and 330a to be played, conducted, or dealt in any house owned or rented by such person, in whole or in part, is punishable as provided in Sections 330 and 330a.

SEC. 20. Section 337b of the Penal Code is amended to read:

337b. Any person who gives, or offers or promises to give, or attempts to give or offer, any money, bribe, or thing of value, to any participant or player, or to any prospective participant or player, in any sporting event, contest, or exhibition of any kind whatsoever, except a wrestling exhibition as defined in Section 18626 of the Business and Professions Code, and specifically including, but without being limited to, such sporting events, contests, and exhibitions as baseball, football, basketball, boxing, horseracing, and wrestling matches, with the intention or understanding or agreement that such participant or player or such prospective participant or player shall not use his or her best efforts to win such sporting event, contest, or exhibition, or shall so conduct himself or herself in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition that any other player, participant or team of players or participants shall thereby be assisted or enabled to win such sporting event, contest, or exhibition, or shall so conduct himself or herself in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition as to limit his or her or his or her team's margin of victory in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition, is guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 21. Section 337c of the Penal Code is amended to read:

337c. Any person who accepts, or attempts to accept, or offers to accept, or agrees to accept, any money, bribe or thing of value, with the intention or understanding or agreement that he or she will not use his or her best efforts to win any sporting event, contest, or exhibition of any kind whatsoever, except a wrestling exhibition as defined in Section 18626 of the Business and Professions Code, and specifically including, but without being limited to, such sporting events, contests, or exhibitions as baseball, football, basketball, boxing, horseracing, and wrestling matches, in which he or she is playing or participating or is about to play or participate in, or will so conduct himself or herself in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition that any other player or participant or team of players or participants shall thereby be assisted or enabled to win such sporting event, contest, or exhibition, or will so conduct himself or herself in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition as to limit his or her or his or her team's margin of victory in such sporting event, contest, or exhibition, is guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 22. Section 337.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

337.1. Any person, who knowingly and designedly by false representation attempts to, or does persuade, procure or cause another person to wager on a horse in a race to be run in this state or elsewhere, and upon which money is wagered in this state, and who asks or demands compensation as a reward for information or purported information given in such case is a tout, and is guilty of touting.

SEC. 23. Section 344 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 23.3. Section 350 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

350. (a) Any person who, without the consent of the registrant, willfully manufactures, or intentionally sells any counterfeit of a mark registered with the Secretary of State and registrable under Section 1052 of Title 15 of the United States Code or incontestable under Section 1065 of Title 15 of the United States Code, shall upon conviction, if such person is an individual, be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year, or both, or if such person is a corporation, be fined not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(b) Any person who has been convicted of a violation of subdivision (a) shall upon subsequent conviction, if such person is an individual, be fined not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year or the state prison, or both, or if such person is a corporation, be fined not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

(c) Any person who has been convicted of a violation of subdivision (a) and who, by virtue of the conduct which was the basis of the conviction, has directly and foreseeably caused death or great bodily injury to another through reliance on the counterfeited item for its intended purpose shall, if the person is an individual, be fined not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or imprisoned in the state prison for two, three, or four years, or both, or, if that person is a corporation, be fined not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000).

(d) If, in any action brought under this section, the court determines that a mark is counterfeit, the court may order the destruction of all such marks, all means of making the marks, and all goods, articles, or other matter bearing the marks, which are in the possession or control of the court or of the defendant; or, after obliteration of the counterfeit mark, the court may dispose of those materials by ordering their transfer to the State of California, an eleemosynary institution, or the owner of the registered service marks or trademarks.

(e) For purposes of this section, the term "counterfeit mark" means a spurious mark which is identical with, or substantially indistinguishable from, a registered mark and which is used on or in connection with the same type of goods or services for which the genuine mark is registered.

(f) This section shall not be enforced against any party who has adopted and lawfully used the same or confusingly similar mark in the rendition of like services or the manufacture or sale of like goods in this state from a date prior to the effective date of registration of the service mark or trademark pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 14200) of Division 6 of the Business and Professions Code.

SEC. 23.5. Section 361 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 24. Section 382.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

382.5. Every person who sells, dispenses, administers or prescribes dinitrophenol for any purpose shall be guilty of a felony, punishable by a fine not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

This section shall not apply to dinitrophenol manufactured or sold as an economic poison registered under the provision of Section 12811 of the Food and Agricultural Code nor to sales for use in manufacturing or for scientific purposes, and not for human consumption.

SEC. 24.5. Section 384g of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 25. Section 384i of the Penal Code is amended to read:

384i. (a) Sections 384a to 384f, inclusive, shall not apply to maintenance and construction activities of public agencies and their employees.

(b) Sections 384b to 384f, inclusive, shall not apply to native desert plants described in subdivision (b) of Section 384b, that have been propagated and cultivated by human beings and which are being transported under Section 6922 or 6923 of the Food and Agricultural Code, pursuant to a valid nursery stock certificate.

(c) Sections 384a to 384f, inclusive, shall not apply to any act regulated by the provisions of Division 23 (commencing with Section 80001) of the Food and Agricultural Code.

SEC. 25.5. Section 396.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

396.5. It shall be unlawful for any retail food store or wholesale food concern, as defined in Section 3(k) of the federal Food Stamp Act of 1977 (Public Law 95-113) (7 U.S.C. Sec. 2012(k)), or any person, to sell, furnish or give away any goods or services, other than those items authorized by the Food Stamp Act of 1964, as amended (Public Law 88-525) (Chapter 51 (commencing with Section 2011) of Title 7 of the United States Code), in exchange for food stamps issued pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 18900), Part 6, Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

Any violator of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 90 days, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 26. Section 398 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 414 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

414. Every person who leaves this state with intent to evade any of the provisions of Section 412 or 413, and to commit any act out of this state such as is prohibited by them, and who does any act which would be punishable under these provisions if committed within this state, is punishable in the same manner as he or she would have been in case such act had been committed within this state.

SEC. 28. Title 11.5 (commencing with Section 422) of Part 1 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 29. Section 426 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

426. The phrase "public moneys," as used in Sections 424 and 425, includes all bonds and evidence of indebtedness, and all moneys belonging to the state, or any city, county, town, district, or public agency therein, and all moneys, bonds, and evidences of indebtedness received or held by state, county, district, city, town, or public agency officers in their official capacity.

SEC. 29.5. Section 500 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 30. Section 506a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

506a. Any person who, acting as collector, or acting in any capacity in or about a business conducted for the collection of accounts or debts owing by another person, and who violates Section 506 of the Penal Code, shall be deemed to be an agent or person as defined in Section 506, and subject for a violation of Section 506, to be prosecuted, tried, and punished in accordance therewith and with law; and "collector" means every such person who collects, or who has in his or her possession or under his or her control property or money for the use of any other person, whether in his or her own name and mixed with his or her own property or money, or otherwise, or whether he or she has any interest, direct or indirect, in or to such property or money, or any portion thereof, and who fraudulently appropriates to his or her own use, or the use of any person other than the true owner, or person entitled thereto, or secretes that property or money, or any portion thereof, or interest therein not his or her own, with a fraudulent intent to appropriate it to any use or purpose not in the due and lawful execution of his or her trust.

SEC. 31. Section 526 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

526. Any person, who, with intent to obtain from another person any money, article of personal property or other thing of value, delivers or causes to be delivered to the other person any paper, document or written, typed or printed form purporting to be an order or other process of a court, or designed or calculated by its writing, typing or printing, or the arrangement thereof, to cause or lead the other person to believe it to be an order or other process of a court, when in fact such paper, document or written, typed or printed form is not an order or process of a court, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and each separate delivery of any paper, document or written, typed or printed form shall constitute a separate offense.

SEC. 32. Section 538 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

538. Every person, who, after mortgaging any of the property, permitted to be mortgaged by the provisions of Sections 9102, 9105, and 9109 of the Commercial Code, excepting locomotives, engines, rolling stock of a railroad, steamboat machinery in actual use, and vessels, during the existence of the mortgage, with intent to defraud the mortgagee, his or her representative or assigns, takes, drives, carries away, or otherwise removes or permits the taking, driving, or carrying away, or other removal of the mortgaged property, or any part thereof, from the county where it was situated when mortgaged, without the written consent of the mortgagee, or who sells, transfers, slaughters, destroys, or in any manner further encumbers the mortgaged property, or any part thereof, or causes it to be sold, transferred, slaughtered, destroyed, or further encumbered, is guilty of theft, and is punishable accordingly. In the case of a sale, transfer, or further encumbrance at or before the time of making the sale, transfer, or encumbrance, the mortgagor informs the person to whom the sale, transfer, or encumbrance is made, of the existence of the prior mortgage, and also informs the prior mortgagee of the intended sale, transfer, or encumbrance, in writing, by giving the name and place of residence of the party to whom the sale, transfer, or encumbrance is to be made.

SEC. 33. Section 579 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

579. No person shall be convicted of an offense under Section 577 or 578 by reason that the contents of any barrel, box, case, cask, or other vessel or package mentioned in the bill of lading, receipt, or other voucher did not correspond with the description given in the instrument of the merchandise received, if the description corresponded substantially with the marks, labels, or brands upon the outside of the vessel or package, unless it appears that the accused knew that the marks, labels, or brands were untrue.

SEC. 34. Section 583 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

583. Section 581 does not apply where property is demanded or sold by virtue of process of law.

SEC. 35. Section 590a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

590a. One-half of all fines imposed and collected under Section 590 shall be paid to the informer who first causes a complaint to be filed charging the defendant with the violation of Section 590.

SEC. 36. Section 597d of the Penal Code is amended to read:

597d. Any sheriff, constable, police, or peace officer, or officer qualified as provided in Section 607f of the Civil Code, may enter any place, building, or tenement, where there is an exhibition of the fighting of birds or animals, or where preparations are being made for such an exhibition, and, without a warrant, arrest all persons present.

SEC. 37. Section 597n of the Penal Code is amended to read:

597n. Any person who cuts the solid part of the tail of any horse in the operation known as "docking," or in any other operation performed for the purpose of shortening the tail of any horse, within the State of California, or procures the same to be done, or imports or brings into this state any docked horse, or horses, or drives, works, uses, races, or deals in any unregistered docked horse, or horses, within the State of California except as provided in Section 597r, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 38. Section 599d of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 38.5. Section 606 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 39. Section 633 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

633. Nothing in Section 631, 632, or 632.5 prohibits the Attorney General, any district attorney, or any assistant, deputy, or investigator of the Attorney General or any district attorney, any officer of the California Highway Patrol, any chief of police, assistant chief of police, or policeman of a city or city and county, any sheriff, undersheriff, or deputy sheriff regularly employed and paid as such of a county, or any person acting pursuant to the direction of one of these law enforcement officers acting within the scope of his or her authority, from overhearing or recording any communication which they could lawfully overhear or record prior to the effective date of this chapter.

Nothing in Section 631, 632, or 632.5 renders inadmissible any evidence obtained by the above-named persons by means of overhearing or recording any communication which they could lawfully overhear or record prior to the effective date of this chapter.

SEC. 40. Section 641 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

641. Every person who, by the payment or promise of any bribe, inducement, or reward, procures or attempts to procure any telegraph or telephone agent, operator, or employee to disclose any private message, or the contents, purport, substance, or meaning thereof, or offers to any agent, operator, or employee any bribe, compensation, or reward for the disclosure of any private information received by him or her by reason of his or her trust as agent, operator, or employee, or uses or attempts to use any information so obtained, is punishable as provided in Section 639.

SEC. 41. Section 647 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

647. Every person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor:

(a) Who solicits anyone to engage in or who engages in lewd or dissolute conduct in any public place or in any place open to the public or exposed to public view.

(b) Who solicits or who agrees to engage in or who engages in any act of prostitution. A person agrees to engage in an act of prostitution when, with specific intent to so engage, he or she manifests an acceptance of an offer or solicitation to so engage, regardless of whether the offer or solicitation was made by a person who also possessed the specific intent to engage in prostitution. No agreement to engage in an act of prostitution shall constitute a violation of this subdivision unless some act, beside the agreement, be done within this state in furtherance of the commission of an act of prostitution by the person agreeing to engage in that act. As used in this subdivision, "prostitution" includes any lewd act between persons for money or other consideration.

(c) Who accosts other persons in any public place or in any place open to the public for the purpose of begging or soliciting alms.

(d) Who loiters in or about any toilet open to the public for the purpose of engaging in or soliciting any lewd or lascivious or any unlawful act.

(e) Who loiters or wanders upon the streets or from place to place without apparent reason or business and who refuses to identify himself or herself and to account for his or her presence when requested by any peace officer so to do, if the surrounding circumstances are such as to indicate to a reasonable person that the public safety demands such identification.

(f) Who is found in any public place under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, controlled substance, toluene, or any combination of any intoxicating liquor, drug, controlled substance, or toluene, in such a condition that he or she is unable to exercise care for his or her own safety or the safety of others, or by reason of his or her being under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, controlled substance, toluene, or any combination of any intoxicating liquor, drug, or toluene, interferes with or obstructs or prevents the free use of any street, sidewalk, or other public way.

(ff) When a person has violated subdivision (f) of this section, a peace officer, if he or she is reasonably able to do so, shall place the person, or cause him or her to be placed, in civil protective custody. Such person shall be taken to a facility, designated pursuant to Section 5170 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, for the 72-hour treatment and evaluation of inebriates. A peace officer may place a person in civil protective custody with that kind and degree of force which would be lawful were he or she effecting an arrest for a misdemeanor without a warrant. No person who has been placed in civil protective custody shall thereafter be subject to any criminal prosecution or juvenile court proceeding based on the facts giving rise to such placement. This subdivision shall not apply to the following persons:

(1) Any person who is under the influence of any drug, or under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug.

(2) Any person who a peace officer has probable cause to believe has committed any felony, or who has committed any misdemeanor in addition to subdivision (f) of this section.

(3) Any person who a peace officer in good faith believes will attempt escape or will be unreasonably difficult for medical personnel to control.

(g) Who loiters, prowls, or wanders upon the private property of another, at any time, without visible or lawful business with the owner or occupant thereof. As used in this subdivision, "loiter" means to delay or linger without a lawful purpose for being on the property and for the purpose of committing a crime as opportunity may be discovered.

(h) Who, while loitering, prowling, or wandering upon the private property of another, at any time, peeks in the door or window of any inhabited building or structure located thereon, without visible or lawful business with the owner or occupant thereof.

(i) Who lodges in any building, structure, vehicle, or place, whether public or private, without the permission of the owner or person entitled to the possession or in control thereof.

In any accusatory pleading charging a violation of subdivision (b) of this section, if the defendant has been once previously convicted of a violation of that subdivision, the previous conviction shall be charged in the accusatory pleading; and, if the previous conviction is found to be true by the jury, upon a jury trial, or by the court, upon a court trial, or is admitted by the defendant, the defendant shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than 45 days and shall not be eligible for release upon completion of sentence, on parole, or on any other basis until he or she has served a period of not less than 45 days in the county jail. In no such case shall the trial court grant probation or suspend the execution of sentence imposed upon the defendant.

In any accusatory pleading charging a violation of subdivision (b) of this section, if the defendant has been previously convicted two or more times of a violation of that subdivision, each such previous conviction shall be charged in the accusatory pleading; and, if two or more of such previous convictions are found to be true by the jury, upon a jury trial, or by the court, upon a court trial, or are admitted by the defendant, the defendant shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than 90 days and shall not be eligible for release upon completion of sentence, on parole, or on any other basis until he or she has served a period of not less than 90 days in the county jail. In no such case shall the trial court grant probation or suspend the execution of sentence imposed upon the defendant.

SEC. 42. Section 647b of the Penal Code is amended to read:

647b. Every person who loiters about any school in which adults are in attendance at courses established pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 52500) of Part 28 of the Education Code, and who annoys or molests any person in attendance therein shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 43. Section 650½ of the Penal Code is amended and renumbered to read:

650.5. A person who willfully and wrongfully commits any act which seriously injures the person or property of another, or which seriously disturbs or endangers the public peace or health, or which openly outrages public decency, or who willfully and wrongfully in any manner, verbal or written, uses another's name for accomplishing lewd or licentious purposes, whether those purposes are accomplished or not, or who willfully and wrongfully uses another's name in any manner that will affect, or have a tendency to affect the moral reputation of the person whose name is used, generally, or in the estimation of the person or persons to whom it is so used, or who with intent of accomplishing any lewd or licentious purpose, whether that purpose is accomplished or not, personifies any person other than himself or herself, or who causes or procures any other person or persons to identify him or her, or to give assurance that he or she is any other person than himself or herself to aid or assist him or her to accomplish any lewd or licentious purpose, for which no other punishment is expressly prescribed by this code, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 44. Section 653½ of the Penal Code is amended and renumbered to read:

653.5. Any appraiser, appointed by virtue of Sections 605, 606, 607, and 609 of the Probate Code, who shall accept any fees, reward, or compensation other than that provided for by law, from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin or heir of any decedent, or from any other person, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 45. Section 665 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

665. Sections 663 and 664 do not protect a person who, in attempting unsuccessfully to commit a crime, accomplishes the commission of another and different crime, whether greater or less in guilt, from suffering the punishment prescribed by law for the crime committed.

SEC. 46. Section 690 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

690. The provisions of Part 2 (commencing with Section 681) shall apply to all criminal actions and proceedings in all courts, except where jurisdictional limitations or the nature of specific provisions prevent, or special provision is made for particular courts or proceedings.

SEC. 47. Section 691 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

691. The following words have in Part 2 (commencing with Section 681) the signification attached to them in this section, unless it is otherwise apparent from the context:

(a) The words "inferior court" or "inferior courts" include municipal courts and justices' courts.

(b) The words "competent court" when used with reference to the jurisdiction over any public offense, mean any court the subject matter jurisdiction of which includes the offense so mentioned.

(c) The words "jurisdictional territory" when used with reference to a court, mean the city and county, county, city, township, or other limited territory over which the criminal jurisdiction of the court extends, as provided by law, and in case of a superior court mean the county in which the court sits.

(d) The words "accusatory pleading" include an indictment, an information, an accusation, a complaint filed with a magistrate charging a public offense of which the superior court has original trial jurisdiction, and a complaint filed with an inferior court charging a public offense of which the inferior court has original trial jurisdiction.

(e) The words "prosecuting attorney" include any attorney, whether designated as district attorney, city attorney, city prosecutor, prosecuting attorney, or by any other title, having by law the right or duty to prosecute, in behalf of the people, any charge of a public offense.

(f) The word "county" includes county, city and county, and city.

SEC. 48. Section 704 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

704. When the person informed against is brought before the magistrate, if the charge be controverted, the magistrate shall take testimony in relation thereto. The evidence shall be reduced to writing and subscribed by the witnesses. The magistrate may, in his or her discretion, order the testimony and proceedings to be taken down in shorthand, and for that purpose he or she may appoint a shorthand reporter. The deposition or testimony of the witnesses shall be authenticated in the form prescribed in Section 869.

SEC. 49. Section 737 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

737. All public offenses triable in the superior court shall be prosecuted therein by indictment or information, except as provided in the Government Code, the Juvenile Court Law under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and Section 859a.

SEC. 50. Section 830.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

830.7. The following persons are not peace officers but may exercise the powers of arrest of a peace officer as specified in Section 836 during the course and within the scope of their employment, if they receive a course in the exercise of those powers pursuant to Section 832:

(a) Persons designated by a cemetery authority pursuant to Section 8325 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) Persons regularly employed as security officers for institutions of higher education, recognized under subdivision (a) of Section 94310.1 of the Education Code, if the institution has concluded a memorandum of understanding, permitting the exercise of that authority, with the sheriff or chief of police within whose jurisdiction the institution lies.

(c) Persons regularly employed as security officers for health facilities defined in Section 1250 of the Health and Safety Code which are owned and operated by cities, counties, and cities and counties, if the facility has concluded a memorandum of understanding permitting the exercise of that authority with the sheriff or chief of police within whose jurisdictions the facility lies.

(d) Employees of the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection designated by the Director of Forestry and approved by the Secretary of the Resources Agency.

(e) Employees of the Public Utilities Commission assigned to the Transportation Division, designated by the division director and approved by the commission, to the extent necessary to enforce the provisions of the Public Utilities Code.

SEC. 51. Section 869 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

869. The testimony of each witness in cases of homicide shall be reduced to writing, as a deposition, by the magistrate, or under his or her direction, and in other cases upon the demand of the prosecuting attorney, or the defendant, or his or her counsel. The magistrate before whom the examination is had may, in his or her discretion, order the testimony and proceedings to be taken down in shorthand in all examinations herein mentioned, and for that purpose he or she may appoint a shorthand reporter. The deposition or testimony of the witness shall be authenticated in the following form:

(a) It shall state the name of the witness, his or her place of residence, and his or her business or profession; except that if the witness is a peace officer, it shall state his or her name, and the address given in his or her testimony at the hearing.

(b) It shall contain the questions put to the witness and his or her answers thereto, each answer being distinctly read to him or her as it is taken down, and being corrected or added to until it conforms to what he or she declares is the truth, except in cases where the testimony is taken down in shorthand, the answer or answers of the witness need not be read to him or her.

(c) If a question put be objected to on either side and overruled, or the witness declines answering it, that fact, with the ground on which the question was overruled or the answer declined, shall be stated.

(d) The deposition shall be signed by the witness, or if he or she refuses to sign it, his or her reason for refusing shall be stated in writing, as he or she gives it, except in cases where the deposition is taken down in shorthand, it need not be signed by the witness.

(e) The reporter shall, within 10 days after the close of the examination, if the defendant be held to answer the charge in superior court, or in any other case if either the defendant or the prosecution orders the transcript, transcribe his or her shorthand notes, making an original and one copy and as many additional copies thereof as there are defendants (other than fictitious defendants), regardless of the number of charges or fictitious defendants included in the same examination, and certify and deliver the original and all copies to the county clerk of the county in which the defendant was examined. The reporter shall, before receiving any compensation as a reporter, file with the auditor of the county his or her affidavit setting forth that the transcript has been delivered to the county clerk within the time herein provided for. The compensation of the reporter for any services rendered by him or her as the reporter in any court of this state shall be reduced one-half if the provisions of this section as to the time of filing said transcript have not been complied with by him or her.

(f) In every case in which a transcript is delivered as provided in this section, the county clerk shall file the original of the transcript with the papers in the case, and shall deliver a copy of the transcript to the district attorney immediately upon his or her receipt thereof and shall deliver a copy of said transcript to each defendant (other than a fictitious defendant) at least five days before trial or upon earlier demand by him or her without cost to him or her; provided, that if any defendant be held to answer to two or more charges upon the same examination and thereafter the district attorney shall file separate informations upon said several charges, the delivery to each such defendant of one copy of the transcript of the examination shall be a compliance with this section as to all of those informations.

(g) If the transcript is delivered by the reporter within the time hereinbefore provided for, the reporter shall be entitled to receive the compensation fixed and allowed by law to reporters in the superior courts of this state.

SEC. 52. Section 870 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

870. The magistrate or his or her clerk shall keep the depositions taken on the information or the examination, until they are returned to the proper court; and shall not permit them to be examined or copied by any person except a judge of a court having jurisdiction of the offense, or authorized to issue writs of habeas corpus, the Attorney General, district attorney, or other prosecuting attorney, and the defendant and his or her counsel; provided however, upon demand by the defendant or his or her attorney the magistrate shall order a transcript of the depositions taken on the information, or on the examination, to be immediately furnished the defendant or his or her attorney, after the commitment of the defendant as provided by Sections 876 and 877, and the reporter furnishing the depositions, shall receive compensation and be paid by the county for the same as provided by subdivision (f) of Section 869.

SEC. 53. Section 881 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

881. (a) If a witness, required to enter into an undertaking to appear and testify, either with or without sureties, refuses compliance with the order for that purpose, the magistrate shall commit him or her to prison until he or she complies or is legally discharged.

(b) If a witness fails to appear at the preliminary hearing in response to a subpoena, the court may hear evidence, including testimony or an affidavit from the arresting or interviewing officer, and if the court determines on the basis of the evidence that the witness is a material witness, the court shall issue a bench warrant for the arrest of the witness, and upon the appearance of the witness, may commit him or her into custody until the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, or until the defendant enters a plea of nolo contendere, or the witness is otherwise legally discharged.

The court may order the witness to enter into a written undertaking to the effect that he or she will appear and testify at the time and place ordered by the court or that he or she will forfeit an amount that the court deems proper.

(c) Once the material witness has been taken into custody on the bench warrant he or she shall be brought before the magistrate issuing the warrant, if available, within two court days for a hearing to determine if the witness should be released on security of appearance or maintained in custody.

(d) A material witness shall remain in custody under this section for no longer than 10 days.

(e) If a material witness is being held in custody under this section the prosecution is entitled to have the preliminary hearing proceed, as to this witness only, within 10 days of the arraignment of the defendant. Once this material witness has completed his or her testimony the defendant shall be entitled to a reasonable continuance.

SEC. 54. Section 882 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

882. When, however, it satisfactorily appears by examination, on oath of the witness, or any other person, that the witness is unable to procure sureties, he or she may be forthwith conditionally examined on behalf of the people. The examination shall be by question and answer, in the presence of the defendant, or after notice to him or her, if on bail, and conducted in the same manner as the examination before a committing magistrate is required by this code to be conducted, and the witness thereupon discharged; and the deposition may be used upon the trial of the defendant, except in cases of homicide, under the same conditions as mentioned in Section 1345; but this section does not apply to an accomplice in the commission of the offense charged.

SEC. 55. Section 903 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

903. This article applies in each county in which a jury commissioner is appointed pursuant to Section 204.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure and in each county in which the secretary of the judges of the superior court performs the duties of jury commissioner pursuant to Section 69893 of the Government Code.

SEC. 56. Section 938.3 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

938.3. The services of the stenographic reporter shall constitute a charge against the county, and the stenographic reporter shall be compensated for reporting and transcribing at the same rates as prescribed in Sections 69947 to 69954, inclusive, of the Government Code, to be paid out of the county treasury on a warrant of the county auditor when ordered by the judge of the superior court.

SEC. 57. Section 949 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

949. The first pleading on the part of the people in the superior court is the indictment, information, accusation, or the complaint in any case certified to the superior court under Section 859a or the complaint filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 272. The first pleading on the part of the people in all inferior courts is the complaint except as otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 58. Section 998 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

998. If the court directs the case to be resubmitted, or an information to be filed, the defendant, if already in custody, shall remain, unless he or she is admitted to bail; or, if already admitted to bail, or money has been deposited instead thereof, the bail or money is answerable for the appearance of the defendant to answer a new indictment or information; and, unless a new indictment is found or information filed before the next grand jury of the county is discharged, the court shall, on the discharge of such grand jury, make the order prescribed by Section 997.

SEC. 60. Section 1001 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1001. It is the intent of the Legislature that neither this chapter, Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1000) of this title, nor any other provision of law be construed to preempt other current or future pretrial or precomplaint diversion programs. It is also the intent of the Legislature that current or future posttrial diversion programs not be preempted, except as provided in Section 13201 or 13352.5 of the Vehicle Code. Sections 1001.2 to 1001.11, inclusive, of this chapter shall apply only to pretrial diversion programs as defined in Section 1001.1.

SEC. 61. Section 1026 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1026. (a) When a defendant pleads not guilty by reason of insanity, and also joins with it another plea or pleas, the defendant shall first be tried as if only such other plea or pleas had been entered, and in that trial the defendant shall be conclusively presumed to have been sane at the time the offense is alleged to have been committed. If the jury shall find the defendant guilty, or if the defendant pleads only not guilty by reason of insanity, then the question whether the defendant was sane or insane at the time the offense was committed shall be promptly tried, either before the same jury or before a new jury in the discretion of the court. In that trial, the jury shall return a verdict either that the defendant was sane at the time the offense was committed or was insane at the time the offense was committed. If the verdict or finding is that the defendant was sane at the time the offense was committed, the court shall sentence the defendant as provided by law. If the verdict or finding be that the defendant was insane at the time the offense was committed, the court, unless it shall appear to the court that the sanity of the defendant has been recovered fully, shall direct that the defendant be confined in a state hospital for the care and treatment of the mentally disordered or any other appropriate public or private treatment facility approved by the community program director, or the court may order the defendant placed on outpatient status pursuant to Title 15 (commencing with Section 1600) of Part 2. The court shall transmit a copy of its order to the community program director or a designee, and if the defendant is ordered confined in a state hospital or other treatment facility, copies of the arrest reports and the report of the community program director required under subdivision (b) shall accompany the person to the state hospital or other treatment facility where the defendant is to be confined.

(b) Prior to making such order directing that the defendant be confined in a state hospital or other treatment facility or placed on outpatient status, the court shall order the community program director or a designee to evaluate the defendant and to submit to the court within 15 judicial days of the order a written recommendation as to whether the defendant should be placed on outpatient status or confined in a state hospital or other treatment facility. No person shall be admitted to a state hospital or other treatment facility or placed on outpatient status under this section without having been evaluated by the community program director or a designee. If, however, it shall appear to the court that the sanity of the defendant has been recovered fully, the defendant shall be remanded to the custody of the sheriff until the issue of sanity shall have been finally determined in the manner prescribed by law. A defendant committed to a state hospital or other treatment facility or placed on outpatient status pursuant to Title 15 (commencing with Section 1600) of Part 2 shall not be released from confinement, parole, or outpatient status unless and until the court which committed the person shall, after notice and hearing, find and determine that the person's sanity has been restored. Nothing in this section shall prevent the transfer of such person from one state hospital to any other state hospital by proper authority. Nothing in this section shall prevent the transfer of the patient to a hospital in another state in the manner provided in Section 4119 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) If the defendant is committed or transferred to a state hospital pursuant to this section, the court may, upon receiving the written recommendation of the medical director of the state hospital and the community program director that the defendant be transferred to a public or private treatment facility approved by the community program director, order the defendant transferred to that facility. If the defendant is committed or transferred to a public or private treatment facility approved by the community program director, the court may, upon receiving the written recommendation of the community program director, order the defendant transferred to a state hospital or to another public or private treatment facility approved by the community program director. Where either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney chooses to contest either kind of order of transfer, a petition may be filed in the court requesting a hearing which shall be held if the court determines that sufficient grounds exist. At that hearing, the prosecuting attorney or the defendant may present evidence bearing on the order of transfer. The court shall use the same procedures and standards of proof as used in conducting probation revocation hearings pursuant to Section 1203.2.

(d) Prior to making an order for transfer under this section, the court shall notify the defendant, the attorney of record for the defendant, the prosecuting attorney, and the community program director or a designee.

(e) If the defendant is confined in a state hospital or other treatment facility as an inpatient, the medical director of the facility shall, at six-month intervals, submit a report in writing to the court and the community program director of the county of commitment or a designee setting forth the status and progress of the defendant. The court shall transmit copies of these reports to the prosecutor and defense counsel.

(f) When directing that the defendant be confined in a state hospital pursuant to subdivision (a), the court shall select the state hospital in accordance with the policies established by the State Department of Mental Health.

(g) For purposes of this section and Sections 1026.1 to 1026.6, inclusive, "community program director" means the person, agency, or entity designated by the State Department of Mental Health pursuant to Section 1605 of this code and Section 5709.8 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 62. Section 1073 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1073. Particular causes of challenge are of two kinds:

(a) For such a bias as, when the existence of the facts is ascertained, in judgment of law disqualifies the juror, and which is known in this code as implied bias.

(b) For the existence of a state of mind on the part of the juror in reference to the case, or to either of the parties, which will prevent him or her from acting with entire impartiality and without prejudice to the substantial rights of either party, which is known in this code as actual bias.

SEC. 63. Section 1076 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1076. In a challenge for implied bias, one or more of the causes stated in Section 1074 shall be alleged. In a challenge for actual bias, the cause stated in subdivision (b) of Section 1073 shall be alleged. No person shall be disqualified as a juror by reason of having formed or expressed an opinion upon the matter or cause to be submitted to the jury, founded upon public rumor, or statements in public journals, circulars, or other literature, or common notoriety if upon his or her declaration, under oath or otherwise, it appears to the court that he or she can and will, notwithstanding that opinion, act impartially and fairly upon the matters to be submitted to him or her. The challenge may be oral, but shall be entered in the minutes of the court or of the phonographic reporter.

SEC. 64. Section 1101 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1101. The order mentioned in Sections 1099 and 1100 is an acquittal of the defendant discharged, and is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense.

SEC. 65. Section 1154 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1154. The special verdict need not be in any particular form, but is sufficient if it presents intelligibly the facts found by the jury.

SEC. 66. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) an enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.6, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, and 12022.9 shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, or 12022.9 or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9 if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 67. Section 1170.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.7. Robbery or attempted robbery for the purpose of obtaining any controlled substance, as defined in Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, when committed against a pharmacist, pharmacy employee, or other person lawfully possessing controlled substances, shall be considered a circumstance in aggravation of the crime in imposing a term under subdivision (b) of Section 1170.

SEC. 68. Section 1201 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1201. He or she may show, for cause against the judgment:

(a) That he or she is insane; and if, in the opinion of the court, there is reasonable ground for believing him or her insane, the question of insanity shall be tried as provided in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 1367) of Title 10 of Part 2. If, upon the trial of that question, the jury finds that he or she is sane, judgment shall be pronounced, but if they find him or her insane, he or she shall be committed to the state hospital for the care and treatment of the insane, until he or she becomes sane; and when notice is given of that fact, as provided in Section 1372, he or she shall be brought before the court for judgment.

(b) That he or she has good cause to offer, either in arrest of judgment or for a new trial; in which case the court may, in its discretion, order the judgment to be deferred, and proceed to decide upon the motion in arrest of judgment or for a new trial.

SEC. 69. Section 1202 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1202. If no sufficient cause is alleged or appears to the court at the time fixed for pronouncing judgment, as provided in Section 1191, why judgment should not be pronounced, it shall thereupon be rendered; and if not rendered or pronounced within the time so fixed or to which it is continued under the provisions of Section 1191, then the defendant shall be entitled to a new trial. If the court shall refuse to hear a defendant's motion for a new trial or when made shall neglect to determine such motion before pronouncing judgment or the making of an order granting probation, then the defendant shall be entitled to a new trial.

SEC. 70. Section 1202a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1202a. If the judgment is for imprisonment in the state prison the judgment shall direct that the defendant be delivered into the custody of the Director of Corrections at the state prison or institution designated by the Director of Corrections as the place for the reception of persons convicted of felonies, except where the judgment is for death in which case the defendant shall be taken to the warden of the California State Prison at San Quentin.

Unless a different place or places are so designated by the Director of Corrections, the judgment shall direct that the defendant be delivered into the custody of the Director of Corrections at the California State Prison at San Quentin. The Director of Corrections shall designate a place or places for the reception of persons convicted of felonies by order, which order or orders shall be served by registered mail, return receipt requested, upon each judge of each superior court in the state. The Director of Corrections may change the place or places of commitment by the issuance of a new order. Nothing contained in this section affects any provision of Section 3400.

SEC. 71. Section 1203 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203. (a) As used in this code, "probation" means the suspension of the imposition or execution of a sentence and the order of conditional and revocable release in the community under the supervision of the probation officer. As used in this code, "conditional sentence" means the suspension of the imposition or execution of a sentence and the order of revocable release in the community subject to the conditions established by the court without the supervision of the probation officer. It is the intent of the Legislature that both conditional sentence and probation are authorized whenever probation is authorized in any code as a sentencing option for infractions or misdemeanors.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (j), in every case in which a person is convicted of a felony and is eligible for probation, before judgment is pronounced, the court shall immediately refer the matter to the probation officer to investigate and report to the court, at a specified time, upon the circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior history and record of the person, which may be considered either in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment. The probation officer shall immediately investigate and make a written report to the court of his or her findings and recommendations, including his or her recommendations as to the granting or denying of probation and the conditions of probation, if granted. Pursuant to Section 828 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the probation officer shall include in his or her report any information gathered by a law enforcement agency relating to the taking of the defendant into custody as a minor, which shall be considered for purposes of determining whether adjudications of commissions of crimes as a juvenile warrant a finding that there are circumstances in aggravation pursuant to Section 1170 or to deny probation. The probation officer shall also include in the report his or her recommendation of the amount the defendant should be required to pay as a restitution fine pursuant to Section 13967 of the Government Code. The probation officer shall also include in his or her report a recommendation as to whether the court shall require, as a condition of probation, restitution to the victim or to the Restitution Fund. The report shall be made available to the court and the prosecuting and defense attorney at least nine days prior to the time fixed by the court for the hearing and determination of the report, and shall be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case at the time of the hearing. The time within which the report shall be made available and filed may be waived by written stipulation of the prosecuting and defense attorneys which is filed with the court or an oral stipulation in open court which is made and entered upon the minutes of the court. At a time fixed by the court, the court shall hear and determine the application, if one has been made, or, in any case, the suitability of probation in the particular case. At the hearing, the court shall consider any report of the probation officer and shall make a statement that it has considered such report which shall be filed with the clerk of the court as a record in the case. If the court determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment prescribed by law or that the ends of justice would be served by granting probation to the person, it may place the person on probation. If probation is denied, the clerk of the court shall immediately send a copy of the report to the Department of Corrections at the prison or other institution to which the person is delivered.

(c) If a defendant is not represented by an attorney, the court shall order the probation officer who makes the probation report to discuss its contents with the defendant.

(d) In every case in which a person is convicted of a misdemeanor, the court may either refer the matter to the probation officer for an investigation and a report or summarily pronounce a conditional sentence. If such a case is not referred to the probation officer, in sentencing the person, the court may consider any information concerning the person which could have been included in a probation report. The court shall inform the person of the information to be considered and permit him or her to answer or controvert that information. For this purpose, upon the request of the person, the court shall grant a continuance before the judgment is pronounced.

(e) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served if the person is granted probation, probation shall not be granted to any of the following persons:

(1) Unless the person had a lawful right to carry a deadly weapon, other than a firearm, at the time of the perpetration of the crime or his or her arrest, any person who has been convicted of arson, robbery, burglary, burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, attempt to commit murder, trainwrecking, kidnapping, escape from the state prison, or a conspiracy to commit one or more of those crimes and was armed with that weapon at either of those times.

(2) Any person who used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of the crime of which he or she has been convicted.

(3) Any person who willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture in the perpetration of the crime of which he or she has been convicted.

(4) Any person who has been previously convicted twice in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony.

(5) Unless the person has never been previously convicted once in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony, any person who has been convicted of burglary with explosives, rape with force or violence, murder, attempt to commit murder, trainwrecking, extortion, kidnapping, escape from the state prison, a violation of Section 286, 288, or 288a, or a conspiracy to commit one or more of those crimes.

(6) Any person who has been previously convicted once in this state of a felony or in any other place of a public offense which, if committed in this state, would have been punishable as a felony, if he or she committed any of the following acts:

(A) Unless the person had a lawful right to carry a deadly weapon at the time of the perpetration of the previous crime or his or her arrest for the previous crime, he or she was armed with the weapon at either of those times.

(B) The person used or attempted to use a deadly weapon upon a human being in connection with the perpetration of the previous crime.

(C) The person willfully inflicted great bodily injury or torture in the perpetration of the previous crime.

(7) Any public official or peace officer of this state or any city, county, or other political subdivision who, in the discharge of the duties of his or her public office or employment, accepted or gave or offered to accept or give any bribe, embezzled public money, or was guilty of extortion.

(8) Any person who knowingly furnishes or gives away phencyclidine.

(9) Any person who intentionally inflicted great bodily injury in the commission of arson under subdivision (a) of Section 451 or who intentionally set fire to, burned, or caused the burning of, an inhabited structure or inhabited property in violation of subdivision (b) of Section 451.

(f) When probation is granted in a case which comes within subdivision (e), the court shall specify on the record and shall enter on the minutes the circumstances indicating that the interests of justice would best be served by such a disposition.

(g) If a person is not eligible for probation, the judge shall refer the matter to the probation officer for an investigation of the facts relevant to determination of the amount of a restitution fine pursuant to Section 13967 of the Government Code in all cases where such determination is applicable. The judge, in his or her discretion, may direct the probation officer to investigate all facts relevant to the sentencing of the person. Upon such referral, the probation officer shall immediately investigate the circumstances surrounding the crime and the prior record and history of the person and make a written report to the court of his or her findings. The findings shall include a recommendation of the amount of the restitution fine as provided in Section 13967 of the Government Code.

(h) In any case in which a defendant is convicted of a felony and a probation report is prepared pursuant to subdivision (b) or (g), the probation officer may obtain and include in the report a statement of the comments of the victim concerning the offense. The court may direct the probation officer not to obtain such a statement in any case where the victim has in fact testified at any of the court proceedings concerning the offense.

(i) No probationer shall be released to enter another state unless his or her case has been referred to the Administrator, Interstate Probation and Parole Compacts, pursuant to the Uniform Act for Out-of-State Probationer or Parolee Supervision (Article 3 (commencing with Section 11175) of Chapter 2 of Title 1 of Part 4).

(j) In any court where a county financial evaluation officer is available, in addition to referring the matter to the probation officer, the court may order the defendant to appear before the county financial evaluation officer for a financial evaluation of the defendant's ability to pay restitution, in which case the county financial evaluation officer shall report his or her findings regarding restitution and other court-related costs to the probation officer on the question of the defendant's ability to pay those costs.

Any order made pursuant to this subdivision may be enforced as a violation of the terms and conditions of probation upon willful failure to pay and at the discretion of the court and as stated in the order, may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action, if any balance remains unpaid at the end of the defendant's probationary period.

SEC. 72. Section 1203.055 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 223 of the Statutes of 1987, is amended to read:

1203.055. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in sentencing a person convicted of committing or of attempting to commit one or more of the offenses listed in subdivision (b) against a person who is a passenger, operator, driver, or other occupant of any public transit vehicle whether the offense or attempt is committed within the vehicle or directed at the vehicle, the court shall require that the person serve some period of confinement. If probation is granted, it shall be a condition of probation that the person shall be confined in the county jail for some period of time. If the time spent in jail prior to arraignment is less than 24 hours, it shall not be considered to satisfy the requirement that some period of confinement be imposed.

(b) Subdivision (a) applies to the following crimes:

(1) Murder.

(2) A violation of Section 241, 241.3, 241.4, 244, 245, 245.2, or 246.

(3) Robbery, in violation of Section 211.

(4) Kidnapping, in violation of Section 207.

(5) Kidnapping for ransom, extortion, or robbery, in violation of Section 209.

(6) Battery, in violation of Section 243, 243.3, or 243.1.

(7) Rape, in violation of Section 261, 262, 264, or 264.1.

(8) Assault with intent to commit rape or sodomy, in violation of Section 220.

(9) Any other offense in which the defendant inflicts great bodily injury on any person other than an accomplice.

(10) Grand theft, in violation of subdivision (1) of Section 487.

(11) Throwing of a hard substance or shooting a missile at the transit vehicle, in violation of Section 219.2.

(12) Unlawfully causing a fire, in violation of Section 452.

(13) Drawing, exhibiting, or using a firearm or deadly weapon, in violation of Section 417.

(14) A violation of Section 214.

(c) Probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for any person convicted of a felony offense falling within this section if the person has been previously convicted and sentenced pursuant to this section.

(d) (1) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under subdivisions (a) and (c) shall be alleged in the accusatory pleading, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by a trial by the court sitting without a jury.

A finding bringing the defendant within the provisions of this section shall not be stricken pursuant to Section 1385 or any provision of law.

(2) This subdivision does not prohibit the adjournment of criminal proceedings pursuant to Division 3 (commencing with Section 3000) or Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(3) As used in paragraph (9) of subdivision (b), "great bodily injury" means "great bodily injury" as defined in Section 12022.7.

(4) As used in subdivision (a), "public transit vehicle" means any motor vehicle, street car, trackless trolley, bus, shuttle, light rail system, rapid transit system, subway, train, taxi cab, or jitney, which transports members of the public for hire.

(e) The court shall require, as a condition of probation for any person convicted of committing a crime which took place on a public transit vehicle, except in any case in which the court makes a finding and states on the record its reasons that the condition would be inappropriate, that the person make restitution to the victim. If restitution is found to be inappropriate, the court shall require as a condition of probation, except in any case in which the court makes a finding and states on the record its reasons that the condition would be inappropriate, that the defendant perform specified community service. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit the authority of a court to provide additional conditions of probation.

(f) In any case in which a person is convicted of committing a crime which took place on a public transit vehicle, the probation officer shall immediately investigate and report to the court at a specified time whether, as a result of the crime, property damage or loss or personal injury was caused by the defendant, the amount of such damage, loss, or injury, and the feasibility of requiring restitution to be made by the defendant. When a probation report is required pursuant to Section 1203 the information required by this subdivision shall be added to that probation report.

SEC. 73. Section 1203.06 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.06. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1203:

(a) Probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, any of the following persons:

(1) Any person who personally used a firearm during the commission or attempted commission of any of the following crimes:

(i) Murder.

(ii) Robbery, in violation of Section 211.

(iii) Kidnapping, in violation of Section 207.

(iv) Kidnapping for ransom, extortion, or robbery, in violation of Section 209.

(v) Burglary of the first degree, as defined in Section 460.

(vi) Except as provided in Section 1203.065, rape in violation of subdivision (2) of Section 261.

(vii) Assault with intent to commit rape or sodomy, in violation of Section 220.

(viii) Escape, in violation of Section 4530 or 4532.

(ix) A felony violation of Section 136.1 or 137.

(2) Any person previously convicted of a felony specified in subparagraphs (i) through (viii) of paragraph (1), or assault with intent to commit murder under former Section 217, who is convicted of a subsequent felony and who was personally armed with a firearm at any time during its commission or attempted commission or was unlawfully armed with a firearm at the time of his or her arrest for the subsequent felony.

(b) (1) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under subdivision (a) shall be alleged in the accusatory pleading, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

(2) This subdivision does not prohibit the adjournment of criminal proceedings pursuant to Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(3) As used in subdivision (a) "used a firearm" means to display a firearm in a menacing manner, to intentionally fire it, or to intentionally strike or hit a human being with it.

(4) As used in subdivision (a) "armed with a firearm" means to knowingly carry a firearm as a means of offense or defense.

SEC. 74. Section 1203.075 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.075. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1203:

(a) Probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, nor shall a finding bringing the defendant within the provisions of this section be stricken pursuant to Section 1385 for, any person who, with the intent to inflict such injury, personally inflicts great bodily injury on the person of another in the commission or attempted commission of any of the following crimes:

(1) Murder.

(2) Robbery, in violation of Section 211.

(3) Kidnapping, in violation of Section 207.

(4) Kidnapping for ransom, extortion, or robbery, in violation of Section 209.

(5) Burglary of the first degree, as defined in Section 460.

(6) Rape, in violation of subdivision (2) of Section 261.

(7) Assault with intent to commit rape or sodomy, in violation of Section 220.

(8) Escape, in violation of Section 4530 or 4532.

(9) A violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289.

(10) Sodomy, in violation of Section 286.

(11) Oral copulation, in violation of Section 288a.

(b) (1) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under subdivision (a) shall be alleged in the accusatory pleading, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by a trial by the court sitting without a jury.

(2) This subdivision does not prohibit the adjournment of criminal proceedings pursuant to Division 3 (commencing with Section 3000) or Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(3) As used in subdivision (a), "great bodily injury" means "great bodily injury" as defined in Section 12022.7.

SEC. 75. Section 1203.09 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.09. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, any person who commits or attempts to commit one or more of the crimes listed in subdivision (b) against a person who is 60 years of age or older; or against a person who is blind, a paraplegic, or a quadriplegic, and such disability is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the crime; and who during the course of the offense inflicts great bodily injury upon such person.

(b) Subdivision (a) applies to the following crimes:

(i) Murder.

(ii) Robbery, in violation of Section 211.

(iii) Kidnapping, in violation of Section 207.

(iv) Kidnapping for ransom, extortion, or robbery, in violation of Section 209.

(v) Burglary of the first degree, as defined in Section 460.

(vi) Rape by force or violence, in violation of subdivision (2) of Section 261.

(vii) Assault with intent to commit rape or sodomy, in violation of Section 220.

(c) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under either subdivision (a) or (f) shall be alleged in the information or indictment, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

(d) As used in this section "great bodily injury" means "great bodily injury" as defined in Section 12022.7.

(e) This section shall apply in all cases, including those cases where the infliction of great bodily injury is an element of the offense.

(f) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served if the person is granted probation, probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, any person convicted of having committed one or more of the following crimes against a person who is 60 years of age or older: assault with a deadly weapon or instrument, battery which results in physical injury which requires professional medical treatment, robbery, or mayhem.

SEC. 76. Section 1203.2a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.2a. If any defendant who has been released on probation is committed to a prison in this state or another state for another offense, the court which released him or her on probation shall have jurisdiction to impose sentence, if no sentence has previously been imposed for the offense for which he or she was granted probation, in the absence of the defendant, on the request of the defendant made through his or her counsel, or by himself or herself in writing, if such writing is signed in the presence of the warden or superintendent of the prison in which he or she is confined or the duly authorized representative of the warden or superintendent, and such warden or superintendent or his or her representative attests both that the defendant has made and signed such request and that he or she states that he or she wishes the court to impose sentence in the case in which he or she was released on probation, in his or her absence and without him or her being represented by counsel.

The probation officer may, upon learning of such defendant's imprisonment, and must within 30 days after being notified in writing by the defendant or his or her counsel, or the warden or superintendent or duly authorized representative of the prison in which the defendant is confined, report such commitment to the court which released him or her on probation.

Upon being informed by the probation officer of the defendant's confinement, or upon receipt from the warden, superintendent, or duly authorized representative of any prison in this state of a certificate showing that the defendant is confined in prison, the court shall issue its commitment if sentence has previously been imposed. If sentence has not been previously imposed and if the defendant has requested the court through counsel or in writing in the manner herein provided to impose sentence in the case in which he or she was released on probation in his or her absence and without the presence of counsel to represent him or her, the court shall impose sentence and issue its commitment, or shall make other final order terminating its jurisdiction over the defendant in the case in which the order of probation was made. If the case is one in which sentence has previously been imposed, the court shall be deprived of jurisdiction over defendant if it does not issue its commitment or make other final order terminating its jurisdiction over defendant in the case within 60 days after being notified of the confinement. If the case is one in which sentence has not previously been imposed, the court is deprived of jurisdiction over defendant if it does not impose sentence and issue its commitment or make other final order terminating its jurisdiction over defendant in the case within 30 days after defendant has, in the manner prescribed by this section, requested imposition of sentence.

Upon imposition of sentence hereunder the commitment shall be dated as of the date upon which probation was granted. If the defendant is then in a state prison for an offense committed subsequent to the one upon which he or she has been on probation, the term of imprisonment of such defendant under a commitment issued hereunder shall commence upon the date upon which defendant was delivered to prison under commitment for his or her subsequent offense. Any terms ordered to be served consecutively shall be served as otherwise provided by law.

In the event the probation officer fails to report such commitment to the court or the court fails to impose sentence as herein provided, the court shall be deprived thereafter of all jurisdiction it may have retained in the granting of probation in said case.

SEC. 77. Section 1203.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.5. The offices of adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer, and deputy adult probation officer are hereby created. The probation officers, assistant probation officers, and deputy probation officers appointed in accordance with Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 2 of Part 1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall be ex officio adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers, and deputy adult probation officers except in any county or city and county whose charter provides for the separate office of adult probation officer. When the separate office of adult probation officer has been established he or she shall perform all the duties of probation officers except for matters under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. Any adult probation officer may accept appointment as member of the Board of Corrections and serve in that capacity in addition to his or her duties as adult probation officer and may receive the per diem allowance authorized in Section 6025.1.

SEC. 79. Section 1208 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208. (a) The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to employment, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of employment conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to employment, in that county is feasible. The provisions of this section, insofar as they relate to education, shall be operative in any county in which the board of supervisors by ordinance finds, on the basis of education conditions, the state of the county jail facilities, and other pertinent circumstances, that the operation of this section, insofar as it relates to education, in that county is feasible. In any such ordinance the board shall prescribe whether the sheriff, the probation officer, the director of the county department of corrections, or the superintendent of a county industrial farm or industrial road camp in the county shall perform the functions of the work furlough administrator. The board may, in such ordinance, provide for the performance of any or all functions of the work furlough administrator by any one or more of such persons, acting separately or jointly as to any of such functions; and may, by a subsequent ordinance, revise such provisions within the authorization of this section. The board of supervisors may also terminate the operativeness of this section, either with respect to employment or education in the county if it finds by ordinance that because of changed circumstances, the operation of this section, either with respect to employment or education in that county is no longer feasible.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors may by ordinance designate a facility for confinement of prisoners classified for the work furlough program and designate the work furlough administrator as the custodian of the facility. The work furlough administrator may, with the approval of the board of supervisors, enter into contracts with appropriate public or nonprofit private agencies to provide a facility and services for the housing, sustenance, counseling, supervision, and related services for such inmates as are eligible for work furlough. No agency entering into such a contract may itself employ any person who is in the work furlough program. The sheriff or director of the county department of corrections, as the case may be, is authorized to transfer custody of such prisoners to the work furlough administrator to be confined in such facility for the period during which they are in the work furlough program.

(b) When a person is convicted of a misdemeanor and sentenced to the county jail, or is imprisoned therein for nonpayment of a fine, for contempt, or as a condition of probation for any criminal offense, the work furlough administrator may, if he or she concludes that such person is a fit subject therefor, direct that such person be permitted to continue in his or her regular employment, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (d), or may authorize the person to secure employment for himself or herself, unless the court at the time of sentencing or committing has ordered that such person not be granted work furloughs. The work furlough administrator may, if he or she concludes that such person is a fit subject therefor, direct that such person be permitted to continue in his or her regular educational program, if that is compatible with the requirements of subdivision (d), or may authorize the person to secure education for himself or herself, unless the court at the time of sentencing has ordered that such person not be granted work furloughs.

(c) If the work furlough administrator so directs that the prisoner be permitted to continue in his or her regular employment or educational program, the administrator shall arrange for a continuation of such employment or education, so far as possible without interruption. If the prisoner does not have regular employment or a regular educational program, and the administrator has authorized the prisoner to secure employment or education for himself or herself, the prisoner may do so, and the administrator may assist him or her in doing so. Any employment or education so secured must be suitable for the prisoner. Such employment or educational program, if such educational program includes earnings by the prisoner, must be at a wage at least as high as the prevailing wage for similar work in the area where the work is performed and in accordance with the prevailing working conditions in such area. In no event may any such employment or educational program involving earnings by the prisoner be permitted where there is a labor dispute in the establishment in which the prisoner is, or is to be, employed or educated.

(d) Whenever the prisoner is not employed or being educated and between the hours or periods of employment or education, he or she shall be confined in the facility designated by the board of supervisors for work furlough confinement unless the work furlough administrator directs otherwise. If the prisoner is injured during a period of employment or education, the work furlough administrator shall have the authority to release him or her from the facility for continued medical treatment by private physicians or at medical facilities at the expense of the employer, worker's compensation insurer, or the prisoner. Such release shall not be construed as assumption of liability by the county or work furlough administrator for medical treatment obtained.

The work furlough administrator may release any prisoner classified for the work furlough program for a period not to exceed 72 hours for medical, dental, or psychiatric care, or for family emergencies or pressing business which would result in severe hardship if the release were not granted, or to attend such activities as the administrator deems may effectively promote the prisoner's successful return to the community, including, but not limited to, an attempt to secure housing, employment, entry into educational programs, or participation in community programs.

(e) The earnings of the prisoner may be collected by the work furlough administrator, and it shall be the duty of the prisoner's employer to transmit such wages to the administrator at the latter's request. Earnings levied upon pursuant to writ of execution or in other lawful manner shall not be transmitted to the administrator. If the administrator has requested transmittal of earnings prior to levy, such request shall have priority. In a case in which the functions of the administrator are performed by a sheriff, and such sheriff receives a writ of execution for the earnings of a prisoner subject to this section but has not yet requested transmittal of the prisoner's earnings pursuant to this section, he or she shall first levy on the earnings pursuant to the writ. When an employer or educator transmits such earnings to the administrator pursuant to this subdivision he or she shall have no liability to the prisoner for such earnings. From such earnings the administrator shall pay the prisoner's board and personal expenses, both inside and outside the jail, and shall deduct so much of the costs of administration of this section as is allocable to such prisoner or if such prisoner is unable to pay such sum, such lesser sum as is reasonable, and, in an amount determined by the administrator, shall pay the support of the prisoner's dependents, if any. If sufficient funds are available after making the foregoing payments, the administrator may, with the consent of the prisoner, pay, in whole or in part, the preexisting debts of the prisoner. Any balance shall be retained until the prisoner's discharge and thereupon shall be paid to him or her.

(f) The prisoner shall be eligible for time credits pursuant to Sections 4018 and 4019.

(g) In the event the prisoner violates the conditions laid down for his or her conduct, custody, education, or employment, the work furlough administrator may order the balance of the prisoner's sentence to be spent in actual confinement.

(h) Willful failure of the prisoner to return to the place of confinement not later than the expiration of any period during which he or she is authorized to be away from the place of confinement pursuant to this section is punishable as provided in Section 4532.

(i) As used in this section, "education" includes vocational and educational training and counseling; and psychological, drug abuse, alcoholic, and other rehabilitative counseling; "educator" includes a person or institution providing such training or counseling; and "employment" includes care of children, including the daytime care of children of the prisoner.

(j) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Cobey Work Furlough Law."

SEC. 80. Section 1215 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1215. If the judgment is for imprisonment, or a fine and imprisonment until it be paid, the defendant must forthwith be committed to the custody of the proper officer and by him or her detained until the judgment is complied with. Where, however, the court has suspended sentence, or where, after imposing sentence, the court has suspended the execution thereof and placed the defendant on probation, as provided in Section 1203, the defendant, if over the age of 16 years, shall be placed under the care and supervision of the probation officer of the court committing him or her, until the expiration of the period of probation and the compliance with the terms and conditions of the sentence, or of the suspension thereof. Where, however, the probation has been terminated as provided in Section 1203, and the suspension of the sentence, or of the execution revoked, and the judgment pronounced, the defendant shall be committed to the custody of the proper officer and be detained until the judgment be complied with.

SEC. 81. Section 1278 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1278. Bail is put in by a written undertaking, executed by two sufficient sureties (with or without the defendant, in the discretion of the magistrate), and acknowledged before the court or magistrate, in substantially the following form:

An order having been made on the _____ day of _____, 19___, by _____, a judge of the Justice Court of _____ County (or as the case may be), that _____ be held to answer upon a charge of (stating briefly the nature of the offense), upon which he or she has been admitted to bail in the sum of _____ dollars ($_____); we, _____ and _____, of _____ (stating their place of residence and occupation), hereby undertake that the above-named _____ will appear and answer any charge in any accusatory pleading based upon the acts supporting the charge above mentioned, in whatever court it may be prosecuted, and will at all times hold himself or herself amenable to the orders and process of the court, and if convicted, will appear for pronouncement of judgment or grant of probation, or if he or she fails to perform either of these conditions, that we will pay to the people of the State of California the sum of _____ dollars ($_____) (inserting the sum in which the defendant is admitted to bail). If the forfeiture of this bond be ordered by the court, judgment may be summarily made and entered forthwith against the said (naming the sureties), and the defendant if he or she be a party to the bond, for the amount of their respective undertakings herein, as provided by Sections 1305 and 1306.

SEC. 82. Section 1280a of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1280a. All affidavits for the justification of bail shall set forth the amount of the bail undertaking, a notice that the affidavit shall constitute a lien upon the real property described in the affidavit immediately upon the recordation of the affidavit with the county recorder pursuant to Section 1280b, and the legal description and assessor's parcel numbers of the real estate owned by the bail, which is scheduled as showing that they each possess the qualifications provided in the preceding sections, the affidavit shall also show all encumbrances upon the real estate known to affiants and shall show the number of bonds, if any, on which each bail has qualified, within one year before the date of the affidavit, together with the amount of each such bond, the date on which, the county in which, and the name of the principal for whom each bond was executed.

The affidavit shall also state the amount of each bail's liability on bonds executed in previous years and not exonerated at the date of the execution of the affidavit and be signed and acknowledged by the owner of the real property.

SEC. 83. Section 1287 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1287. The bail shall be put in by a written undertaking, executed by two sufficient sureties (with or without the defendant, in the discretion of the court or magistrate), and acknowledged before the court or magistrate, in substantially the following form:

An indictment having been found on the _____ day of _____, 19____, in the Superior Court of the County of _____, charging _____ with the crime of _____ (designating it generally) and he or she having been admitted to bail in the sum of _____ dollars ($_____), we, _____ and _____, of _____ (stating their place of residence and occupation), hereby undertake that the above-named _____ will appear and answer any charge in any accusatory pleading based upon the acts supporting the indictment above mentioned, in whatever court it may be prosecuted, and will at all times render himself or herself amenable to the orders and process of the court, and, if convicted, will appear for pronouncement of judgment or grant of probation; or, if he or she fails to perform either of these conditions, that we will pay to the people of the State of California the sum of _____ dollars ($_____) (inserting the sum in which the defendant is admitted to bail). If the forfeiture of this bond be ordered by the court, judgment may be summarily made and entered forthwith against the said (naming the sureties, and the defendant if he or she be a party to the bond), for the amount of their respective undertakings herein, as provided by Sections 1305 and 1306.

SEC. 84. Section 1302 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1302. If money has been deposited instead of bail, and the defendant, at any time before the forfeiture thereof, surrenders himself or herself to the officer to whom the commitment was directed, in the manner provided in Sections 1300 and 1301, the court shall order a return of the deposit to the defendant or to the person or persons found by the court to have deposited said money on behalf of the defendant, upon the production of the certificate of the officer showing the surrender, and upon a notice of five days to the district attorney, with a copy of the certificate.

SEC. 85. Section 1310 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1310. The court to which the committing magistrate returns the depositions, or in which an indictment, information, or appeal is pending, or to which a judgment on appeal is remitted to be carried into effect, may, by an order entered upon its minutes, direct the arrest of the defendant and his or her commitment to the officer to whose custody he or she was committed at the time of giving bail, and his or her detention until legally discharged, in the following cases:

(a) When, by reason of his or her failure to appear, he or she has incurred a forfeiture of his or her bail, or of money deposited instead thereof.

(b) When it satisfactorily appears to the court that his or her bail, or either of them, are dead or insufficient, or have removed from the state.

(c) Upon an indictment being found or information filed in the cases provided in Section 985.

SEC. 86. Section 1330 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1330. No person is obliged to attend as a witness before a court or magistrate out of the county where the witness resides, or is served with the subpoena, unless the distance be less than 150 miles from his or her place of residence to the place of trial, or unless the judge of the court in which the offense is triable, or a justice of the Supreme Court, or a judge of a superior court, or, in the case of a minor concerning whom a petition has been filed pursuant to Article 16 (commencing with Section 650) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, by the judge of the juvenile court hearing the petition, upon an affidavit of the district attorney or prosecutor, or of the defendant, or his or her counsel, or in the case involving a minor in whose behalf a petition has been filed in the juvenile court, of the probation officer approving the filing of the petition or of any party to the action, or his or her counsel, stating that he or she believes the evidence of the witness is material, and his or her attendance at the examination, trial, or hearing is material and necessary, shall endorse on the subpoena an order for the attendance of the witness.

When a subpoena duces tecum is duly issued according to any other provision of law and is served upon a custodian of records or other qualified witness as provided in Article 4 (commencing with Section 1560) of Chapter 2 of Division 11 of the Evidence Code, and his or her personal attendance is not required by the terms of the subpoena, the limitations of this section shall not apply.

SEC. 87. Section 1332 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1332. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 878 to 883, inclusive, when the court is satisfied, by proof on oath, that there is good cause to believe that any material witness for the prosecution or defense, whether the witness is an adult or a minor, will not appear and testify unless security is required, at any proceeding in connection with any criminal prosecution or in connection with a wardship petition pursuant to Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court may order the witness to enter into a written undertaking to the effect that he or she will appear and testify at the time and place ordered by the court or that he or she will forfeit an amount the court deems proper.

(b) If the witness required to enter into an undertaking to appear and testify, either with or without sureties, refuses compliance with the order for that purpose, the court may commit the witness, if an adult, to the custody of the sheriff, and if a minor, to the custody of the probation officer or other appropriate agency, until the witness complies or is legally discharged.

(c) When a person is committed pursuant to this section, he or she is entitled to an automatic review of the order requiring a written undertaking and the order committing the person, by a judge or magistrate having jurisdiction over the offense other than the one who issued the order. This review shall be held not later than two days from the time of the original order of commitment.

(d) If it is determined that the witness must remain in custody, the witness is entitled to a review of that order after 10 days.

(e) When a witness has entered into an undertaking to appear, upon his or her failure to do so the undertaking is forfeited in the same manner as undertakings of bail.

SEC. 88. Section 1347 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1347. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to provide the court with discretion to employ unusual court procedures to protect the rights of a child witness, the rights of the defendant, and the integrity of the judicial process. In exercising its discretion, the court necessarily will be required to balance the rights of the defendant against the need to protect a child witness and to preserve the integrity of the court's truthfinding function. This discretion is intended to be used selectively when the facts and circumstances in the individual case present compelling evidence of the need to use these unusual procedures.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court in any criminal proceeding, upon written notice of the prosecutor made at least three days prior to the date of the preliminary hearing or trial date on which the testimony of the minor is scheduled, or during the course of the proceeding on the court's own motion, may order that the testimony of a minor 10 years of age or younger at the time of the motion be taken by contemporaneous examination and cross-examination in another place and out of the presence of the judge, jury, defendant, and attorneys, and communicated to the courtroom by means of two-way closed-circuit television, if the court makes all of the following findings:

(1) The minor's testimony will involve a recitation of the facts of an alleged sexual offense committed on or with the minor.

(2) The impact on the minor of one or more of the factors enumerated in subparagraphs (A) to (D), inclusive, is shown by clear and convincing evidence to be so substantial as to make the minor unavailable as a witness unless closed-circuit television is used.

(A) Threats of serious bodily injury to be inflicted on the minor or a family member, of incarceration or deportation of the minor or a family member, or of removal of the minor from the family or dissolution of the family, in order to prevent or dissuade the minor from attending or giving testimony at any trial or court proceeding or to prevent the minor from reporting the alleged sexual offense or from assisting in criminal prosecution.

(B) Use of a firearm or any other deadly weapon during the commission of the crime.

(C) Infliction of great bodily injury upon the victim during the commission of the crime.

(D) Conduct on the part of the defendant or defense counsel during the hearing or trial which causes the minor to be unable to continue his or her testimony.

In making the determination required by this section, the court shall consider the age of the minor, the relationship between the minor and the defendant or defendants, any handicap or disability of the minor, and the nature of the acts charged. The minor's refusal to testify shall not alone constitute sufficient evidence that the special procedure described in this section is necessary in order to obtain the minor's testimony.

(3) The equipment available for use of two-way closed-circuit television would accurately communicate the image and demeanor of the minor to the judge, jury, defendant or defendants, and attorneys.

(c) (1) The hearing on a motion brought pursuant to this section shall be conducted out of the presence of the jury.

(2) Notwithstanding Section 804 of the Evidence Code or any other provision of law, the court, in determining the merits of the motion, shall not compel the minor to testify at the hearing; nor shall the court deny the motion on the ground that the minor has not testified.

(3) In determining whether the impact on an individual child of one or more of the four factors enumerated in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) is so substantial that the minor is unavailable as a witness unless closed-circuit television is used, the court may question the minor in chambers, or at some other comfortable place other than the courtroom, on the record for a reasonable period of time with the support person, the prosecutor, and defense counsel present. The defendant or defendants shall not be present. The court shall conduct the questioning of the minor and shall not permit the prosecutor or defense counsel to examine the minor. The prosecutor and defense counsel shall be permitted to submit proposed questions to the court prior to the session in chambers. Defense counsel shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to consult with the defendant or defendants prior to the conclusion of the session in chambers.

(d) When the court orders the testimony of a minor to be taken in another place outside of the courtroom, the court shall do all of the following:

(1) Make a brief statement on the record, outside of the presence of the jury, of the reasons in support of its order. While the statement need not include traditional findings of fact, the reasons shall be set forth with sufficient specificity to permit meaningful review and to demonstrate that discretion was exercised in a careful, reasonable, and equitable manner.

(2) Instruct the members of the jury that they are to draw no inferences from the use of two-way closed-circuit television as a means of facilitating the testimony of the minor.

(3) Instruct respective counsel, outside of the presence of the jury, that they are to make no comment during the course of the trial on the use of two-way closed-circuit television procedures.

(4) Instruct the support witness, outside of the presence of the jury, that he or she is not to coach, cue, or in any way influence or attempt to influence the testimony of the minor.

(5) Order that a complete record of the examination of the minor, including the images and voices of all persons who in any way participate in the examination, be made and preserved on video tape in addition to being stenographically recorded. The video tape shall be transmitted to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending and shall be made available for viewing to the prosecuting attorney, the defendant, and his or her attorney during ordinary business hours. The video tape shall be destroyed after five years have elapsed from the date of entry of judgment. If an appeal is filed, the tape shall not be destroyed until a final judgment on appeal has been ordered. Any video tape which is taken pursuant to this section is subject to a protective order of the court for the purpose of protecting the privacy of the witness. This subdivision does not affect the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 868.7.

(e) When the court orders the testimony of a minor to be taken in another place outside the courtroom, only the minor, a support person designated pursuant to Section 868.5, a nonuniformed bailiff, and, after consultation with the prosecution and the defense, a representative appointed by the court, shall be physically present for the testimony. A videotape shall record the image of the minor and his or her testimony, and a separate videotape shall record the image of the support person.

(f) When the court orders the testimony of a minor to be taken in another place outside the courtroom, the minor shall be brought into the judge's chambers prior to the taking of his or her testimony to meet for a reasonable period of time with the judge, the prosecutor, and defense counsel. A support person for the minor shall also be present. This meeting shall be for the purpose of explaining the court process to the child and to allow the attorneys an opportunity to establish rapport with the child to facilitate later questioning by closed-circuit television. No participant shall discuss the defendant or any of the facts of the case with the minor during this meeting.

(g) When the court orders the testimony of a minor to be taken in another place outside the courtroom, nothing in this section shall prohibit the court from ordering the minor to be brought into the courtroom for a limited purpose including the identification of the defendant or defendants as the court deems necessary.

(h) The examination shall be under oath, and the defendant's image shall be transmitted live to the witness via two-way contemporaneous closed-circuit television.

(i) Nothing in this section shall affect the disqualification of witnesses pursuant to Section 701 of the Evidence Code.

(j) The Judicial Council shall submit a report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1988, summarizing the experience of courts which have used contemporaneous closed-circuit television pursuant to this section.

(k) The cost of examination by two-way contemporaneous closed-circuit television ordered pursuant to this section shall be borne by the court out of its existing budget.

SEC. 89. Section 1360 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1360. The clerk or judge receiving and opening the commission and return shall immediately file it, with the affidavit mentioned in Sections 1358 and 1359, in the office of the clerk of the court in which the indictment is pending. If the commission and return is transmitted by mail, the clerk to whom it is addressed shall receive it from the post office, and open and file it in his or her office, where it must remain, unless otherwise directed by the court or judge.

SEC. 90. Section 1364 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1364. The State Department of Mental Health shall develop a voluntary experimental treatment program that can be evaluated, limited to no more than 50 beds, for persons convicted of sex offenses against a person under the age of 14 years or of a sex offense accomplished against the victim's will by means of force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury to the victim. The screening of inmates for the program shall be performed jointly by the State Department of Mental Health and the Department of Corrections, based upon program criteria, procedures, and guidelines developed by the State Department of Mental Health in consultation with the Department of Corrections.

The treatment shall only be done during the last two years of incarceration, and only persons who voluntarily consent shall be included in the program. The Department of Corrections shall inform such convicted persons of the state hospital program established pursuant to this section.

The Director of Corrections shall, if he or she receives a recommendation for such treatment, and with the consent of the convicted person, transfer, unless he or she is a security risk, the person to an appropriate state hospital designated by the State Director of Mental Health for treatment. No such transfer may occur without the approval of the medical director of the state hospital. In no event shall the person be placed on outpatient status pursuant to such treatment. In no event shall the person be released prior to his or her determinate sentence date, nor shall treatment pursuant to this section exceed the term of imprisonment imposed. The medical director of the state hospital shall make a recommendation prior to the person's release date whether the person should receive outpatient treatment as a condition of parole. If outpatient treatment is provided it shall be funded as provided in Section 5709.8 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

If the person refuses to cooperate in his or her treatment while in the state hospital, or is found unamenable to treatment, or if the person requests a return to the Department of Corrections, the medical director of the state hospital shall cause the person to be returned to the Department of Corrections.

Physical transfer of the inmate from the Department of Corrections to the state hospital and return shall be the responsibility of the Department of Corrections. Upon request of the medical director of the state hospital for return of the person to prison, the Director of Corrections shall immediately send for, take, and receive the person back into prison.

All days of confinement in a state hospital for testing and treatment shall be credited to the person's term of imprisonment and the provisions of Section 2931 shall apply.

SEC. 91. Section 1381 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1381. Whenever a defendant has been convicted, in any court of this state, of the commission of a felony or misdemeanor and has been sentenced to and has entered upon a term of imprisonment in a state prison or has been sentenced to and has entered upon a term of imprisonment in a county jail for a period of more than 90 days or has been committed to and placed in a county jail for more than 90 days as a condition of probation or has been committed to and placed in an institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of the Youth Authority or whenever any person has been committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and has entered upon his or her term of commitment, and at the time of the entry upon the term of imprisonment or commitment there is pending, in any court of this state, any other indictment, information, complaint, or any criminal proceeding wherein the defendant remains to be sentenced, the district attorney of the county in which the matters are pending shall bring the defendant to trial or for sentencing within 90 days after the person shall have delivered to said district attorney written notice of the place of his or her imprisonment or commitment and his or her desire to be brought to trial or for sentencing unless a continuance beyond the 90 days is requested or consented to by the person, in open court, and the request or consent entered upon the minutes of the court in which event the 90-day period shall commence to run anew from the date to which the consent or request continued the trial or sentencing. In the event that the defendant is not brought to trial or for sentencing within the 90 days the court in which the charge or sentencing is pending shall, on motion or suggestion of the district attorney, or of the defendant or person confined in the county jail or committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections or his or her counsel, or of the Department of Corrections, or of the Department of the Youth Authority, or on its own motion, dismiss the action. If a charge is filed against a person during the time the person is serving a sentence in any state prison or county jail of this state or while detained by the Director of Corrections pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or while detained in any institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of the Youth Authority it is hereby made mandatory upon the district attorney of the county in which the charge is filed to bring it to trial within 90 days after the person shall have delivered to said district attorney written notice of the place of his or her imprisonment or commitment and his or her desire to be brought to trial upon the charge, unless a continuance is requested or consented to by the person, in open court, and the request or consent entered upon the minutes of the court, in which event the 90-day period shall commence to run anew from the date to which the request or consent continued the trial. In the event the action is not brought to trial within the 90 days the court in which the action is pending shall, on motion or suggestion of the district attorney, or of the defendant or person committed to the custody of the Director of Corrections or to a county jail or his or her counsel, or of the Department of Corrections, or of the Department of the Youth Authority, or on its own motion, dismiss the charge. The sheriff, custodian, or jailer shall endorse upon the written notice of the defendant's desire to be brought to trial or for sentencing the cause of commitment, the date of commitment, and the date of release.

SEC. 92. Section 1383 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1383. If the defendant is not charged or tried, as provided in Section 1382, and sufficient reason therefor is shown, the court may order the action to be continued from time to time, and in the meantime may discharge the defendant from custody on his or her own undertaking of bail for his or her appearance to answer the charge at the time to which the action is continued.

SEC. 93. Section 1386 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1386. The entry of a nolle prosequi is abolished, and neither the Attorney General nor the district attorney can discontinue or abandon a prosecution for a public offense, except as provided in Section 1385.

SEC. 94. Section 1411 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1411. If the ownership of the property stolen or embezzled and the address of the owner, and the address of the owner of a security interest therein, can be reasonably ascertained, the peace officer who took custody of the property shall notify the owner, and a person having a security interest therein, by letter of the location of the property and the method by which the owner may obtain it. This notice shall be given upon the conviction of a person for an offense involving the theft, embezzlement, or possession of the property, or if a conviction was not obtained, upon the making of a decision by the district attorney not to file the case or upon the termination of the proceedings in the case. Except as provided in Section 217 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, if the property stolen or embezzled is not claimed by the owner before the expiration of three months after the giving of this notice, or, in any case in which such a notice is not given, before the expiration of six months from the conviction of a person for an offense involving the theft, embezzlement, or possession of the property, or if a conviction was not obtained, then from the time the property came into the possession of the peace officer or the case involving the person from whom it was obtained is disposed of, whichever is later, the magistrate or other officer having it in custody may, on the payment of the necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, deliver it to the county treasurer or other proper county officer, by whom it shall be sold and the proceeds paid into the county treasury. However, notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the person from whom custody of the property was taken is a secondhand dealer or licensed pawnbroker and reasonable but unsuccessful efforts have been made to notify the owner of the property and the property is no longer needed for the criminal proceeding, the property shall be returned to the secondhand dealer or pawnbroker who had custody of the property and be treated as regularly acquired property. If the property is transferred to the county purchasing agent it may be sold in the manner provided by Article 7 (commencing with Section 25500) of Chapter 5 of Part 2 of Division 2 of Title 3 of the Government Code for the sale of surplus personal property. If the county officer determines that any of the property transferred to him or her for sale is needed for a public use, the property may be retained by the county and need not be sold. The magistrate or other officer having the property in custody may, however, provide for the sale of the property in the manner provided for the sale of unclaimed property which has been held for at least three months pursuant to Section 2080.4 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 95. Section 1463.01 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 96. Section 1463.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1463.5. The distribution of funds required pursuant to Section 1463, and the distribution of assessments imposed and collected under Section 1464 and Section 42006 of the Vehicle Code, may be determined and made upon the basis of probability sampling. The sampling shall be procedural in nature and shall not substantively modify the distributions required pursuant to Sections 1463 and 1464 and Section 42006 of the Vehicle Code. The procedure for the sampling shall be prescribed by the county auditor and the procedure and its implementation shall be approved by the board of supervisors and a majority of the cities within a county. The reasonableness of the distribution shall be verified during the annual audit performed pursuant to Section 71393 of the Government Code.

SEC. 97. Section 1463.22 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1463.22. (a) Notwithstanding Section 1463, of the moneys deposited with the county treasurer pursuant to Section 1463, ten dollars ($10) for each alleged violation of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code shall be deposited by the county treasurer in a special account and allocated to defray costs of municipal and justice courts incurred in administering Sections 16028, 16030, and 16031 of the Vehicle Code. The amount required to be deposited in a special account pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited regardless of whether the charge is dismissed pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code or otherwise. Any moneys in the special account in excess of the amount required to defray those costs shall be redeposited and distributed by the county treasurer pursuant to Section 1463.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 1463, of the moneys deposited with the county treasurer pursuant to Section 1463, three dollars ($3) for each conviction for a violation of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code shall be initially deposited by the county treasurer in a special account, and shall be transmitted once per month to the Controller for deposit in the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund. These moneys shall be available, when appropriated, to defray the department's administrative costs incurred pursuant to Sections 16031, 16032, 16034, and 16035 of the Vehicle Code. It is the intent of this subdivision to provide sufficient revenues to pay for all of the department's costs in administering Sections 16031, 16032, 16034, and 16035 of the Vehicle Code.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 1463, of the moneys deposited with the county treasurer pursuant to Section 1463, ten dollars ($10) for each alleged violation of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code shall be deposited by the county treasurer in a special account and shall be transmitted monthly to the Controller for deposit in the General Fund. The amount required to be deposited in the county's special account pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited regardless of whether the charge is dismissed pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code or otherwise.

SEC. 99. Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1538.5. (a) A defendant may move for the return of property or to suppress as evidence any tangible or intangible thing obtained as a result of a search or seizure on either of the following grounds:

(1) The search or seizure without a warrant was unreasonable.

(2) The search or seizure with a warrant was unreasonable because (i) the warrant is insufficient on its face; (ii) the property or evidence obtained is not that described in the warrant; (iii) there was not probable cause for the issuance of the warrant; (iv) the method of execution of the warrant violated federal or state constitutional standards; (v) there was any other violation of federal or state constitutional standards.

(b) When consistent with the procedures set forth in this section and subject to the provisions of Section 170 through 170.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the motion should first be heard by the magistrate who issued the search warrant if there is a warrant.

(c) Whenever a search or seizure motion is made in the municipal, justice, or superior court as provided in this section, the judge or magistrate shall receive evidence on any issue of fact necessary to determine the motion.

(d) If a search or seizure motion is granted pursuant to the proceedings authorized by this section, the property or evidence shall not be admissible against the movant at any trial or other hearing unless further proceedings authorized by this section,

Section 871.5, Section 1238, or Section 1466 are utilized by the people.

(e) If a search or seizure motion is granted at a trial, the property shall be returned upon order of the court unless it is otherwise subject to lawful detention. If the motion is granted at a special hearing, the property shall be returned upon order of the court only if, after the conclusion of any further proceedings authorized by this section or Section 1238 or Section 1466, the property is not subject to lawful detention or if the time for initiating such proceedings has expired, whichever occurs last. If the motion is granted at a preliminary hearing, the property shall be returned upon order of court after 10 days unless the property is otherwise subject to lawful detention or unless, within that time, further proceedings authorized by this section, Section 871.5, or Section 1238 are utilized; if they are utilized, the property shall be returned only if, after the conclusion of such proceedings, the property is no longer subject to lawful detention.

(f) If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by a complaint, the motion shall be made in the superior court only upon filing of an information, except that the defendant may make the motion at the preliminary hearing in the municipal or justice court but the motion in the municipal or justice court shall be restricted to evidence sought to be introduced by the people at the preliminary hearing.

(g) If the property or evidence relates to a misdemeanor complaint, the motion shall be made in the municipal or justice court before trial and heard prior to trial at a special hearing relating to the validity of the search or seizure. If the property or evidence relates to a misdemeanor filed together with a felony, the procedure provided for a felony in this section and Sections 1238 and 1539 shall be applicable.

(h) If, prior to the trial of a felony or misdemeanor, opportunity for this motion did not exist or the defendant was not aware of the grounds for the motion, the defendant shall have the right to make this motion during the course of trial in the municipal, justice, or superior court.

(i) If the property or evidence obtained relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant was held to answer at the preliminary hearing, or if the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by indictment, the defendant shall have the right to renew or make the motion in the superior court at a special hearing relating to the validity of the search or seizure which shall be heard prior to trial and at least 10 days after notice to the people unless the people are willing to waive a portion of this time. If the offense was initiated by indictment or if the offense was initiated by complaint and no motion was made at the preliminary hearing, the defendant shall have the right to fully litigate the validity of a search or seizure on the basis of the evidence presented at a special hearing. If the motion was made at the preliminary hearing, unless otherwise agreed to by all parties, evidence presented at the special hearing shall be limited to the transcript of the preliminary hearing and to evidence which could not reasonably have been presented at the preliminary hearing, except that the people may recall witnesses who testified at the preliminary hearing. If the people object to the presentation of evidence at the special hearing on the grounds that the evidence could reasonably have been presented at the preliminary hearing, the defendant shall be entitled to an in camera hearing to determine that issue. The superior court shall base its ruling on all evidence presented at the special hearing and on the transcript of the preliminary hearing, and the findings of the magistrate shall be binding on the superior court as to evidence or property not affected by evidence presented at the special hearing. After the special hearing is held in the superior court, any review thereafter desired by the defendant prior to trial shall be by means of an extraordinary writ of mandate or prohibition filed within 30 days after the denial of his or her motion at the special hearing.

(j) If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant's motion for the return of the property or suppression of the evidence at the preliminary hearing is granted, and if the defendant is not held to answer at the preliminary hearing, the people may file a new complaint or seek an indictment after the preliminary hearing, and the ruling at the prior hearing shall not be binding in any subsequent proceeding. In the alternative, the people may move to reinstate the complaint, or those parts of the complaint for which the defendant was not held to answer, pursuant to Section 871.5. If the property or evidence relates to a felony offense initiated by complaint and the defendant's motion for the return or suppression of the property or evidence at the preliminary hearing is granted, and if the defendant is held to answer at the preliminary hearing, the ruling at the preliminary hearing shall be binding upon the people unless, upon notice to the defendant and the court in which the preliminary hearing was held and upon the filing of an information, the people within 15 days after the preliminary hearing request in the superior court a special hearing, in which case the validity of the search or seizure shall be relitigated de novo on the basis of the evidence presented at the special hearing, and the defendant shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to a continuance of the special hearing for a period of time up to 30 days. If defendant's motion is granted at a special hearing in the superior court, the people, if they have additional evidence relating to the motion and not presented at the special hearing, shall have the right to show good cause at the trial why such evidence was not presented at the special hearing and why the prior ruling at the special hearing should not be binding, or the people may seek appellate review as provided in subdivision (o), unless the court prior to the time such review is sought has dismissed the case pursuant to Section 1385. If the property or evidence seized relates solely to a misdemeanor complaint, and the defendant made a motion for the return of property or the suppression of evidence in the municipal court or justice court prior to trial, both the people and defendant shall have the right to appeal any decision of that court relating to that motion to the superior court of the county in which such inferior court is located, in accordance with the California Rules of Court provisions governing appeals from municipal and justice courts in criminal cases. If the people prosecute review by appeal or writ to decision, or any review thereof, in a felony or misdemeanor case, it shall be binding upon them.

(k) If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted and the case is dismissed pursuant to Section 1385, or the people appeal in a misdemeanor case pursuant to subdivision (j), the defendant shall be released pursuant to Section 1318 if he or she is in custody and not returned to custody unless the proceedings are resumed in the trial court and he or she is lawfully ordered by the court to be returned to custody.

If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted and the people file a petition for writ of mandate or prohibition pursuant to subdivision (o) or a notice of intention to file such a petition, the defendant shall be released pursuant to Section 1318 unless (1) he or she is charged with a capital offense in a case where the proof is evident and the presumption great, or (2) he or she is charged with a noncapital offense defined in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 187) of Title 8 of Part 1 and the court orders that the defendant be discharged from actual custody upon bail.

(l) If the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence is granted, the trial of a criminal case shall be stayed to a specified date pending the termination in the appellate courts of this state of the proceedings provided for in this section, Section 871.5, Section 1238, or Section 1466 and, except upon stipulation of the parties, pending the time for the initiation of such proceedings. Upon the termination of such proceedings, the defendant shall be brought to trial as provided by Section 1382, and subject to the provisions of Section 1382, whenever the people have sought and been denied appellate review pursuant to subdivision (o), the defendant shall be entitled to have the action dismissed if he or she is not brought to trial within 30 days of the date of the order which is the last denial of the petition. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall prohibit a court, at the same time as it rules upon the search and seizure motion, from dismissing a case pursuant to Section 1385 when such dismissal is upon the court's own motion and is based upon an order at the special hearing granting the defendant's motion to return property or suppress evidence. In a misdemeanor case, the defendant shall be entitled to a continuance of up to 30 days if he or she intends to file a motion to return property or suppress evidence and needs this time to prepare for the special hearing on the motion. In case of an appeal by the defendant in a misdemeanor case from the denial of such motion, he or she shall be entitled to bail as a matter of right, and, in the discretion of the trial or appellate court, may be released on his or her own recognizance pursuant to Section 1318.

(m) The proceedings provided for in this section, Section 871.5, Section 995, Section 1238, and Section 1466 shall constitute the sole and exclusive remedies prior to conviction to test the unreasonableness of a search or seizure where the person making the motion for the return of property or the suppression of evidence is a defendant in a criminal case and the property or thing has been offered or will be offered as evidence against him or her. A defendant may seek further review of the validity of a search or seizure on appeal from a conviction in a criminal case notwithstanding the fact that such judgment of conviction is predicated upon a plea of guilty. Such review on appeal may be obtained by the defendant providing that at some stage of the proceedings prior to conviction he or she has moved for the return of property or the suppression of the evidence.

(n) Nothing contained in this section shall prohibit a person from making a motion, otherwise permitted by law, to return property, brought on the ground that the property obtained is protected by the free speech and press provisions of the Federal and State Constitutions. Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering (i) the law of standing to raise the issue of an unreasonable search or seizure; (ii) the law relating to the status of the person conducting the search or seizure; (iii) the law relating to the burden of proof regarding the search or seizure; (iv) the law relating to the reasonableness of a search or seizure regardless of any warrant which may have been utilized; or (v) the procedure and law relating to a motion made pursuant to Section 871.5 or 995 or the procedures which may be initiated after the granting or denial of such a motion.

(o) Within 30 days after a defendant's motion is granted at a special hearing in the superior court, the people may file a petition for writ of mandate or prohibition, seeking appellate review of the ruling regarding the search or seizure motion. If the trial of a criminal case is set for a date which is less than 30 days from the granting of a defendant's motion at a special hearing in the superior court, the people, if they have not filed such a petition and wish to preserve their right to file such a petition, shall file in the superior court on or before the trial date or within 10 days after the special hearing, whichever occurs last, a notice of intention to file such a petition and shall serve a copy of the notice upon the defendant.

SEC. 100. Section 1547 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1547. (a) The Governor may offer a reward of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), payable out of the General Fund, for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any of the following:

(1) Any convict who has escaped from a state prison, prison camp, prison farm, or the custody of any prison officer or employee or as provided in Section 3059 or 4530.

(2) Any person who has committed, or is charged with the commission of, an offense punishable with death.

(3) Any person engaged in the robbery or hijacking of, or any attempt to rob or hijack, any person upon or in charge of, in whole or in part, any public conveyance engaged at the time in carrying passengers within this state.

(4) Any person who kills, assaults with a deadly weapon, or inflicts serious bodily harm upon a police officer who is acting in the line of duty.

(5) Any person who has committed a crime involving the burning or bombing of public property, including any public hospital housed in a privately owned facility.

(6) Any person who has committed a crime involving the burning or bombing of any private hospital. A reward may be offered by the Governor in conjunction with such a crime only if a reward in conjunction with the same crime is offered by the hospital, or any other public or private donor on its behalf. The amount of the reward offered by the Governor shall not exceed the aggregate amount offered privately, or ten thousand dollars ($10,000), whichever is less. Nothing in this paragraph shall preclude a private hospital, or any public or private donor on its behalf, from offering a reward in an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000). If a person providing information for a reward under this paragraph so requests, his or her name and address shall remain confidential. This confidentiality, however, shall not preclude or obstruct the investigations of law enforcement authorities.

(7) Any person who commits a violation of Section 11413.

(b) The reward shall be paid to the person giving the information, immediately upon the conviction of the person so arrested.

(c) As used in this section, "hijacking" means an unauthorized person causing, or attempting to cause, by violence or threat of violence, a public conveyance to go to an unauthorized destination.

SEC. 101. Section 1549 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1549. When it is desired to have returned to this state a person charged in this state with a crime, and the person is imprisoned or is held under criminal proceedings then pending against him or her in another state, the Governor of this state may agree with the executive authority of the other state for the extradition of the person before the conclusion of the proceedings or his or her term of sentence in the other state, upon the condition that the person be returned to the other state at the expense of this state as soon as the prosecution in this state is terminated.

The Governor of this state may also surrender on demand of the executive authority of any other state any person in this state who is charged in the manner provided in Section 1548.2 with having violated the laws of the demanding state even though such person left the demanding state involuntarily.

SEC. 102. Section 1549.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

with committing an act in this state, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the state whose executive authority is making the demand. The provisions of this chapter, not otherwise inconsistent, shall apply to those cases, even though the accused was not in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom. Neither the demand, the oath, nor any proceedings under this chapter pursuant to this section need state or show that the accused has fled from justice from, or at the time of the commission of the crime was in, the demanding or other state.

SEC. 103. Section 1550 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1550. Every peace officer or other person empowered to make the arrest hereunder shall have the same authority, in arresting the accused, to command assistance therefor as the persons designated in Section 150. Failure or refusal to render that assistance is a violation of Section 150.

SEC. 104. Section 1551.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1551.1. The arrest of a person may also be lawfully made by any peace officer, without a warrant, upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of any other state with a crime punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, or that the person has been convicted of a crime punishable in the state of conviction by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year and thereafter escaped from confinement or violated the terms of his or her bail, probation or parole. When so arrested the accused shall be taken before a magistrate with all practicable speed and complaint shall be made against him or her under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in Section 1551.

SEC. 105. Section 1601 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1601. (a) In the case of any person charged with and found incompetent on a charge of, convicted of, or found not guilty by reason of insanity of murder, mayhem, a violation of Section 207 or 209 in which the victim suffers intentionally inflicted great bodily injury, robbery with a deadly or dangerous weapon or in which the victim suffers great bodily injury, a violation of subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 451, a violation of subdivision 2 or 3 of Section 261, a violation of Section 459 in the first degree, a violation of Section 220 in which the victim suffers great bodily injury, a violation of Section 288, a violation of Section 12303.1, 12303.2, 12303.3, 12308, 12309, or 12310, or any felony involving death, great bodily injury, or an act which poses a serious threat of bodily harm to another person, outpatient status under this title shall not be available until such person has actually been confined in a state hospital or other facility for 180 days or more after having been committed under the provisions of law specified in Section 1600.

(b) In the case of any person charged with, and found incompetent on a charge of, or convicted of, any misdemeanor or any felony other than those described in subdivision (a), or found not guilty of any misdemeanor by reason of insanity, outpatient status under this title may be granted by the court prior to actual confinement in a state hospital or other treatment facility under the provisions of law specified in Section 1600.

SEC. 106. Section 1613 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 107. Section 2037 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2037. There may be transferred to and confined in the Deuel Vocational Institution any male, subject to the custody, control and discipline of the Director of Corrections, or any male, subject to the custody, control and discipline of the Youth Authority who has been committed to the Youth Authority under the provisions of Section 1731.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who the Director of Corrections or Youth Authority, as the case may be, believes will be benefited by confinement in such an institution.

SEC. 108. Section 2041 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2041. Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) shall apply to the Deuel Vocational Institution and to the persons confined therein so far as those provisions may be applicable. Whenever the name California Vocational Institution appears in any statute, it shall be deemed for all purposes to refer to the Deuel Vocational Institution.

SEC. 109. Section 2043.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2043.5. Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) shall apply to the California Correctional Center at Susanville and to the persons confined therein, insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 110. Section 2045.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2045.1. The prison authorized to be established by Section 2045 shall be a medium security type institution. Its primary purpose shall be to provide custody, care, industrial, vocational, and other training to persons confined therein. However, the Director of Corrections may designate a portion or all of the prison to serve the same purposes and to have the same security standards as the institution provided for by Article 4 (commencing at Section 2035) of Chapter 1 of Title 1 of Part 3.

SEC. 111. Section 2045.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2045.6. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) apply to the institution and to the persons confined therein insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 112. Section 2046.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2046.1. The prison authorized to be established by Section 2046 shall be a medium security type institution. Its primary purpose shall be to provide custody, care, industrial, vocational, and other training to persons confined therein.

SEC. 113. Section 2046.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2046.6. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) shall apply to the the prison and to the persons confined therein insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 114. Section 2048.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2048.6. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) apply to the California Correctional Institution at Tehachapi and to the persons confined therein insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 115. Section 2049.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2049.6. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) shall apply to the Special Security Facility and to the persons confined therein insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 116. Section 2060 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2060. For the purposes of Sections 11009 and 11030 of the Government Code, the following constitute, among other proper purposes, state business for officers and employees of the department for which such officers and employees shall be allowed actual and necessary traveling expenses when the state travel and expense have been approved by the Governor and the Director of Finance as provided in that section.

Attending meetings of any national association or organization, having as its principal purpose the study of matters relating to penology, including prison management and paroles, or to a particular field thereof, conferring with officers or employees of the United States relative to problems relating to penology, including prison management and paroles, in California, conferring with officers or employees of other states engaged in the performance of similar duties, and obtaining information useful to the department in the conduct of its work.

SEC. 117. Section 2084 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2084. The department shall provide each prisoner with a bed, sufficient covering of blankets, and with garments of substantial material and of distinctive manufacture, and with sufficient plain and wholesome food of such variety as may be most conducive to good health.

SEC. 118. Section 2601 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2601. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, each person described in Section 2600 shall have the following civil rights:

(a) To inherit, own, sell, or convey real or personal property, including all written and artistic material produced or created by such person during the period of imprisonment; provided that, to the extent authorized in Section 2600, the Department of Corrections may restrict or prohibit sales or conveyances that are made for business purposes.

(b) To correspond, confidentially, with any member of the State Bar or holder of public office, provided that the prison authorities may open and inspect incoming mail to search for contraband.

(c) To purchase, receive, read, and permit other inmates to read any and all legal materials, newspapers, periodicals, and books accepted for distribution by the United States Post Office, except those which describe the making of any weapon, explosive, poison, or destructive device, or which in the judgment of the Director of Corrections, in the director's sole discretion, depicts, portrays, or describes a sexual assault upon a correctional employee. Nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of prison authorities (1) to open and inspect any and all packages received by an inmate and (2) to establish reasonable restrictions as to the number of newspapers, magazines, and books that the inmate may have in his or her cell or elsewhere in the prison at one time.

(d) To have personal visits; provided that the department may provide such restrictions as are necessary for the reasonable security of the institution.

(e) To initiate civil actions.

(f) To marry.

(g) To create a power of appointment.

(h) To make a will.

(i) To receive all benefits provided for in Sections 3370 and 3371 of the Labor Code and in Section 5069.

SEC. 119. Section 2622 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2622. When the order for personal appearance is not made pursuant to Section 2620 or Section 2621 the deposition of the prisoner may be taken in the manner provided for in the case of a witness who is sick, and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1335) of Title 10 of Part 2 shall, so far as applicable, govern in the application for and in the taking and use of that deposition. The deposition may be taken before any magistrate or notary public of the county in which the prison is situated; or in case the defendant is unable to pay for taking the deposition, before an officer of the prison designated by the board, whose duty it shall be to act without compensation. Every officer before whom testimony shall be taken under this section, shall have authority to administer, and shall administer, an oath to the witness that his or her testimony shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

SEC. 120. Section 2653 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 121. Section 2654 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 122. Section 2655 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 123. Section 2680 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2680. (a) If it is determined by the attending physician that a confined person should be administered organic therapy, the person shall be advised and informed of his or her rights under this article, and or she shall be provided a copy of this article.

(b) All provisions of this article shall apply to prisoners confined under the provisions of this part in public or private hospitals, sanitariums, and similar facilities, and to the personnel of such facilities.

(c) A person shall be entitled to communicate in writing and by visiting with his or her parents, guardian, or conservator regarding any proposed administration of any organic therapy. The communication shall not be censored. The person shall be entitled to communicate in writing with his or her attorney pursuant to Section 2600.

(d) Nothing in this article shall prohibit the attending physician from terminating organic therapy prior to the period authorized for that therapy by the court, pursuant to Section 2679.

SEC. 124. Section 2691 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2691. No person imprisoned for a felony listed in Section 667.6 shall be removed or released under Section 2690 from the detention institution where he or she is confined for the purpose of attending college classes in any city or county nor shall that person be placed in a community correctional center pursuant to Chapter 9.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Title 7 of Part 3. No person under the jurisdiction of the adult court and confined under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Youth Authority for conviction of a felony listed in Section 667.6 shall be removed or released from the place of confinement for attendance at any educational institution in any city or county.

SEC. 125. Section 2880 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2880. To the extent and insofar as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress, all goods, wares, and merchandise manufactured, produced, or mined wholly or in part by prisoners (except prisoners on parole or probation) or manufactured, produced, or mined wholly or in part in any state prison, transported into the State of California and remaining herein for use, consumption, sale, or storage, shall upon arrival and delivery in this state be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of this state to the same extent and in the same manner as though those commodities had been manufactured, produced, or mined in this state by prisoners or in any state prison, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced in the original package or otherwise.

SEC. 126. Section 2884 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2884. No person, firm, partnership, association or corporation within this state shall sell or offer, trade, consign, keep, expose, or display for sale any goods, wares or merchandise manufactured, assembled, produced, or mined in whole or in part by prisoners in any penitentiary, prison, reformatory, or other establishment in which prison labor is employed, unless those prison-made goods, wares, or merchandise have first been disinfected or sterilized in a plant located in California and licensed by the State Department of Health Services in accordance with any regulations of the State Department of Health Services now in force or which later may be made effective.

It is hereby further provided that certificate of that disinfection or sterilization must accompany, be stamped on or attached to those goods, wares, or merchandise in a manner or form prescribed by the officials of the State of California responsible for the enforcement of this article.

SEC. 127. Section 2900 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

2900. (a) The term of imprisonment fixed by the judgment in a criminal action commences to run only upon the actual delivery of the defendant into the custody of the Director of Corrections at the place designated by the Director of Corrections as a place for the reception of persons convicted of felonies.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the place of reception shall be an institution under the jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections.

(1) As an emergency measure, the Director of Corrections may direct that persons convicted of felonies may be received and detained in jails or other facilities and that the judgment will commence to run upon the actual delivery of the defendant into such place and that any persons previously received and confined for conviction of a felony may be, as an emergency, temporarily housed at such place and the time during which such person is there shall be computed as a part of the term of judgment.

(2) In any case in which, pursuant to the agreement on detainers or other provision of law, a prisoner of another jurisdiction is, before completion of actual confinement in a penal or correctional institution of a jurisdiction other than the State of California, sentenced by a California court to a term of imprisonment for a violation of California law, and the judge of the California court orders that the California sentence shall run concurrently with the sentence which such person is already serving, the Director of Corrections shall designate the institution of the other jurisdiction as the place for reception of such person within the meaning of the preceding provisions of this section. He may also designate the place in California for reception of such person in the event that actual confinement under the prior sentence ends before the period of actual confinement required under the California sentence.

(3) In any case in which a person committed to the Director of Corrections is subsequently committed to a penal or correctional institution of another jurisdiction, the subsequent commitment is ordered to be served concurrently with the California commitment, the prisoner is placed in a penal or correctional institution of the other jurisdiction, and the prisoner is not received by the Director of Corrections pursuant to subdivision (a), the Director of Corrections shall designate the institution of the other jurisdiction as the place for reception and service of the California term.

(c) Except as provided in this section, all time served in an institution designated by the Director of Corrections shall be credited as service of the term of imprisonment.

(1) If a person is ordered released by a court from the custody and jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections pursuant to Section 1272 or 1506 or any other provision of law permitting the legal release of prisoners, time during which the person was released shall not be credited as service of the prison term.

(2) If a prisoner escapes from the custody and jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections, the prisoner shall be deemed an escapee and fugitive from justice, until the prisoner is available to return to the custody of the Director of Corrections or the State of California. Time during which the prisoner is an escapee shall not be credited as service of the prison term.

(d) The Department of Corrections may contract for the use of any facility of the state or political subdivision thereof to care for persons received in accordance with this section.

SEC. 128. Section 3051 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 129. Section 3405 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

3405. No condition or restriction upon the obtaining of an abortion by a prisoner, pursuant to the Therapeutic Abortion Act (Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 25950), Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code), other than those contained in that act, shall be imposed. Prisoners found to be pregnant and desiring abortions, shall be permitted to determine their eligibility for an abortion pursuant to law, and if determined to be eligible, shall be permitted to obtain an abortion.

The rights provided for females by this section shall be posted in at least one conspicuous place to which all female prisoners have access.

SEC. 130. Section 3417 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

3417. Subject to reasonable rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to Section 3414, the Department of Corrections shall admit to the program any applicant whose child was born prior to the receipt of the inmate by the department, if all of the following requirements are met:

(a) The applicant has a probable release or parole date with a maximum time to be served of six years, calculated after deduction of any possible good time credit.

(b) The applicant was the primary caretaker of the infant prior to incarceration. "Primary caretaker" as used in this chapter means a parent who has consistently assumed responsibility for the housing, health, and safety of the child prior to incarceration. A parent who, in the best interests of the child, has arranged for temporary care for the child in the home of a relative or other responsible adult shall not for that reason be excluded from the category, "primary caretaker."

(c) The applicant had not been found to be an unfit parent in any court proceeding. An inmate applicant shall not be denied the opportunity to participate in the program based in whole or in part on a determination that she is an unfit mother unless that decision is made pursuant to Section 232 of the Civil Code, Section 2625, or Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) The Department of Corrections shall determine if the applicant meets the requirements of this section within 30 days of the parent's application to the program. The department shall establish an appeal procedure for the applicant to appeal an adverse decision by the department.

SEC. 131. Section 3704.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

3704.5. Any defendant who, on the effective date of the section is in a state hospital under court order pursuant to Section 3703, as that section read immediately preceding that effective date, shall be transferred to a medical facility of the Department of Corrections, designated by the director of such department, and there kept in safe confinement until his or her reason is restored. Section 3704 shall apply when the defendant recovers his or her sanity.

SEC. 132. Section 4011.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4011.6. In any case in which it appears to the person in charge of a county jail, city jail, or juvenile detention facility, or to any judge of a court in the county in which the jail or juvenile detention facility is located that a person in custody in that jail or juvenile detention facility may be mentally disordered, he or she may cause the prisoner to be taken to a facility for 72-hour treatment and evaluation pursuant to Section 5150 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and he or she shall inform the facility in writing which shall be confidential, of the reasons that the person is being taken to the facility. The local mental health director or his or her designee may examine the prisoner prior to transfer to a facility for treatment and evaluation. Thereupon, the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 5150), Article 4 (commencing with Section 5250), Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 5260), Article 5 (commencing with Section 5275), Article 6 (commencing with Section 5300), and Article 7 (commencing with Section 5325) of Chapter 2 and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 5350) of Part 1 of Division 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code shall apply to the prisoner.

Where the court causes the prisoner to be transferred to a 72-hour facility, the court shall forthwith notify the local mental health director or his or her designee, the prosecuting attorney, and counsel for the prisoner in the criminal or juvenile proceedings about that transfer. Where the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility causes the transfer of the prisoner to a 72-hour facility the person shall immediately notify the local mental health director or his or her designee and each court within the county where the prisoner has a pending proceeding about the transfer; upon notification by the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility the court shall forthwith notify counsel for the prisoner and the prosecuting attorney in the criminal or juvenile proceedings about that transfer.

If a prisoner is detained in, or remanded to, a facility pursuant to those articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the facility shall transmit a report, which shall be confidential, to the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility or judge of the court who caused the prisoner to be taken to the facility and to the local mental health director or his or her designee, concerning the condition of the prisoner. A new report shall be transmitted at the end of each period of confinement provided for in those articles, upon conversion to voluntary status, and upon filing of temporary letter of conservatorship.

A prisoner who has been transferred to an inpatient facility pursuant to this section, may convert to voluntary inpatient status without obtaining the consent of the court, the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facilty, or the local mental health director. At the beginning of that conversion to voluntary status, the person in charge of the facility shall transmit a report to the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility or judge of the court who caused the prisoner to be taken to the facility, counsel for the prisoner, prosecuting attorney, and local mental health director or his or her designee.

If the prisoner is detained in, or remanded to, a facility pursuant to those articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the time passed therein shall count as part of the prisoner's sentence. When the prisoner is so detained or remanded, the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility shall advise the professional person in charge of the facility of the expiration date of the prisoner's sentence. If the prisoner is to be released from the facility before such expiration date, the professional person in charge shall notify the local mental health director or his or her designee, counsel for the prisoner, the prosecuting attorney, and the person in charge of the jail or juvenile detention facility, who shall send for, take, and receive the prisoner back into the jail or juvenile detention facility.

A defendant, either charged with or convicted of a criminal offense, or a minor alleged to be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court may be concurrently subject to the provisions of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act (Part 1 (commencing with Section 5000) of Division 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

If a prisoner is detained in a facility pursuant to those articles of the Welfare and Institutions Code and if the person in charge of the facility determines that arraignment or trial would be detrimental to the well-being of the prisoner, the time spent therein shall not be computed in any statutory time requirements for arraignment or trial in any pending criminal or juvenile proceedings. Otherwise, nothing contained herein shall affect any statutory time requirements for arraignment or trial in any pending criminal or juvenile proceedings.

For purposes of this section, the term "juvenile detention facility" includes any state, county, or private home or institution in which wards or dependent children of the juvenile court or persons awaiting a hearing before the juvenile court are detained.

SEC. 133. Section 4015 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4015. The sheriff shall receive all persons committed to jail by competent authority. The board of supervisors shall provide the sheriff with necessary food, clothing, and bedding, for those prisoners, which shall be of a quality and quantity at least equal to the minimum standards and requirements prescribed by the Board of Corrections for the feeding, clothing, and care of prisoners in all county, city and other local jails and detention facilities. Except as provided in Section 4016, the expenses thereof shall be paid out of the county treasury.

SEC. 134. Section 4028 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4028. No condition or restriction upon the obtaining of an abortion by a female detained in any local detention facility, pursuant to the Therapeutic Abortion Act (Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 25950), Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code), other than those contained in that act, shall be imposed. Females found to be pregnant and desiring abortions shall be permitted to determine their eligibility for an abortion pursuant to law, and if determined to be eligible, shall be permitted to obtain an abortion.

For the purposes of this section, "local detention facility" means any city, county, or regional facility used for the confinement of any female person for more than 24 hours.

The rights provided for females by this section shall be posted in at least one conspicuous place to which all female prisoners have access.

SEC. 135. Section 4104 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4104. Any board of supervisors having adopted a resolution of intention to establish an industrial farm or industrial road camp shall ascertain and enter in its minutes the following facts:

(a) The number of persons sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail during the fiscal year last preceding the adoption of the resolution of intention.

(b) The total number of days for which all persons were imprisoned in the county jail during that fiscal year.

(c) The number of persons sentenced from the superior court of the county to any state prison upon conviction of a violation of Section 270 or Section 270a during that fiscal year.

(d) The total number of days for which all persons so sentenced to state prisons were therein imprisoned during that fiscal year.

SEC. 136. Section 4465.3 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4465.3. Money in the fund shall be allocated in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 444 of the Statutes of 1984.

SEC. 137. Section 4530 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4530. (a) Every prisoner confined in a state prison who, by force or violence, escapes or attempts to escape therefrom and every prisoner committed to a state prison who, by force or violence, escapes or attempts to escape while being conveyed to or from such prison or any other state prison, or any prison road camp, prison forestry camp, or other prison camp or prison farm or any other place while under the custody of prison officials, officers or employees; or who, by force or violence, escapes or attempts to escape from any prison road camp, prison forestry camp, or other prison camp or prison farm or other place while under the custody of prison officials, officers or employees; or who, by force or violence, escapes or attempts to escape while at work outside or away from prison under custody of prison officials, officers, or employees, is punishable by imprisonment in a state prison for a term of two, four, or six years. The second term of imprisonment of a person convicted under this subdivision shall commence from the time he would otherwise have been discharged from prison. No additional probation report shall be required with respect to such offense.

(b) Every prisoner who commits an escape or attempts an escape as described in subdivision (a), without force or violence, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years to be served consecutively. No additional probation report shall be required with respect to such offense.

(c) The willful failure of a prisoner who is employed or continuing his education, or who is authorized to secure employment or education, or who is temporarily released pursuant to Section 2690, 2910, or 6254, or Section 3306 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to return to the place of confinement not later than the expiration of a period during which he or she is authorized to be away from the place of confinement, is an escape from the place of confinement punishable as provided in this section. A conviction of a violation of this subdivision, not involving force or violence, shall not be charged as a prior felony conviction in any subsequent prosecution for a public offense.

SEC. 139. Section 4851 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4851. In all cases where the Board of Prison Terms has made a recommendation favorable to the applicant and in those cases referred by the Governor, notwithstanding an adverse recommendation, the application, together with all papers and documents relied upon in support of and in opposition to the application, including prison records and recommendation of the Board of Prison Terms, shall be forwarded to the Clerk of the Supreme Court for consideration of the justices.

SEC. 140. Section 4852.03 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.03. The period of rehabilitation shall begin to run upon the discharge of the petitioner from custody due to his or her completion of the term to which he or she was sentenced or upon his or her release on parole or probation, whichever is sooner. For purposes of this chapter, the period of rehabilitation shall constitute three years' residence in this state, plus a period of time determined by the following rules:

(1) To the three years there shall be added four years in the case of any person convicted of violating Section 187, 209, 219, 4500 or 12310, or subdivision (a) of Section 1672 of the Military and Veterans Code, or of committing any other offense which carries a life sentence.

(2) To the three years there shall be added two years in the case of any person convicted of committing any offense which is not listed in subdivision (1) and which does not carry a life sentence.

(3) The trial court hearing the application for the certificate of rehabilitation may, if the defendant was ordered to serve consecutive sentences, order that his or her statutory period of rehabilitation be extended for an additional period of time which when combined with the time already served will not exceed the period prescribed by statute for the sum of the maximum penalties for all such crimes.

(4) Any person who was discharged after completion of his or her term or was released on parole before May 13, 1943, is not subject to the periods of rehabilitation set forth in these rules.

Unless and until the period of rehabilitation, as stipulated herein, has passed, the petitioner shall be ineligible to file his or her petition for a certificate of rehabilitation with the court. Any certificate of rehabilitation which is issued and under which the petitioner has not fulfilled the requirements of this chapter shall be void.

A change of residence within this state does not interrupt the period of rehabilitation prescribed by this section.

SEC. 141. Section 4852.15 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.15. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to abridge or impair the power or authority conferred by law on any officer, board, or tribunal to revoke or suspend any right, privilege, or franchise for any act or omission not involved in his or her conviction, or to require the reinstatement of the right or privilege to practice or carry on any profession or occupation the practice or conduct of which requires the possession or obtaining of a license, permit, or certificate. Nothing in this chapter shall affect any provision of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code or the power or authority conferred by law on the Board of Medical Examiners therein, or the power or authority conferred by law upon any board that issues a certificate permitting any person to practice or apply his or her art or profession on the person of another. Nothing in this chapter shall affect any provision of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 6000) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code or the power or authority in relation to attorneys at law and the practice of the law in the State of California conferred by law upon or otherwise possessed by the courts, or the power or authority conferred by law upon the State Bar of California or any board or committee thereof.

SEC. 142. Section 4852.17 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4852.17. Whenever a person is issued a certificate of rehabilitation or granted a pardon from the Governor under this chapter, the fact shall be immediately reported to the Department of Justice by the court, Governor, officer, or governmental agency by whose official action the certificate is issued or the pardon granted. The Department of Justice shall immediately record the facts so reported on the former criminal record of the person, and transmit those facts to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D.C. When the criminal record is thereafter reported by the department, it shall also report the fact that the person has received a certificate of rehabilitation, or pardon, or both.

Whenever a person is granted a full and unconditional pardon by the Governor, based upon a certificate of rehabilitation, the pardon shall entitle the person to exercise thereafter all civil and political rights of citizenship, including but not limited to: (1) the right to vote; (2) the right to own, possess, and keep any type of firearm that may lawfully be owned and possessed by other citizens; except that this right shall not be restored, and Sections 12001 and 12021 shall apply, if the person was ever convicted of a felony involving the use of a dangerous weapon.

SEC. 143. Section 4853 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4853. In all cases in which a full pardon has been granted by the Governor of this state or will hereafter be granted by the Governor to a person convicted of an offense to which the pardon applies, it shall operate to restore to the convicted person, all the rights, privileges, and franchises of which he or she has been deprived in consequence of that conviction or by reason of any matter involved therein; provided, that nothing herein contained shall abridge or impair the power or authority conferred by law on any board or tribunal to revoke or suspend any right, privilege or franchise for any act or omission not involved in the conviction; provided further, that nothing in this article shall affect any of the provisions of the Medical Practice Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code) or the power or authority conferred by law on the Board of Medical Examiners therein, or the power or authority conferred by law upon any board that issues a certificate which permits any person or persons to apply his or her or their art or profession on the person of another.

SEC. 144. Section 4854 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

4854. In the granting of a pardon to a person, the Governor may provide that the person is entitled to exercise the right to own, possess and keep any type of firearm that may lawfully be owned and possessed by other citizens; except that this right shall not be restored, and Sections 12001 and 12021 shall apply, if the person was ever convicted of a felony involving the use of a dangerous weapon.

SEC. 145. Section 5005 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5005. The department may maintain a canteen at any prison or institution under its jurisdiction for the sale to persons confined therein of toilet articles, candy, tobacco products, notions, and other sundries, and may provide the necessary facilities, equipment, personnel, and merchandise therefor. The director shall specify what commodities shall be sold therein. The sale prices of the articles offered for sale shall be fixed by the director at the amounts as will, as far as possible, render each canteen self-supporting. The department may undertake to insure against damage or loss canteen and handicraft materials, supplies and equipment owned by the Inmate Welfare Fund of the Department of Corrections as provided in Section 5006.

The canteen operations at any prison or institution referred to in this section shall be audited biennially by the Department of Finance; and at the end of each intervening fiscal year, each prison or institution shall prepare a statement of operations. At least one copy of any audit report or statement of operations shall be posted at the canteen and at least one copy shall be available to inmates at the library of each prison or institution.

SEC. 146. Section 5051 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5051. The director shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. He or she shall hold office at the pleasure of the Governor, but before the director may be removed, charges against him or her, which charges may be preferred by any person, shall be heard by the Board of Corrections. The Board of Corrections shall make detailed findings with respect to the charges and submit the findings to the Governor. The Governor may, but need not, abide by the findings of the Board of Corrections, and may retain or remove the director. If the Governor removes the director his or her action shall be final. He or she shall receive an annual salary provided for by Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 11550) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and shall devote his or her entire time to the duties of his or her office.

SEC. 147. Section 5058 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5058. (a) The director may prescribe and amend rules and regulations for the administration of the prisons. The rules and regulations shall be promulgated and filed pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and shall, to the extent practical, be stated in language that is easily understood by the general public.

(b) The director shall maintain, publish and make available to the general public, a compendium of the rules and regulations promulgated by the director pursuant to this section.

(c) The following exceptions to the procedures specified in this section shall apply to the Department of Corrections:

(1) The director may specify an effective date that is any time more than 30 days after the rule or regulation is filed with the Secretary of State; provided that no less than 20 days prior to that effective date, copies of the rule or regulation shall be posted in conspicuous places throughout each institution and shall be mailed to all persons or organizations who request them.

(2) The director may rely upon a summary of the information compiled by a hearing officer if the summary and the testimony taken regarding the proposed action shall be retained as part of the public record for at least one year after the adoption, amendment, or repeal.

SEC. 148. Section 5059 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5059. This title shall not affect the powers or jurisdiction of the Department of Transportation as to road camps pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 2760) of Chapter 5 of Title 1 of Part 3.

SEC. 149. Section 5061 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5061. Whenever any person confined in any state institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections dies, and any personal funds or property of that person remains in the hands of the Director of Corrections, the funds may be applied in an amount not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300) to the payment of his or her burial expenses and charges related thereto. If no demand is made upon the director by the owner of the funds or property or his or her legally appointed representative, the director shall hold and dispose of those funds or property as follows:

If the decedent leaves a will, the director shall, within 30 days after the date of death of the decedent, deliver the will to the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction of the estate. If an executor is named in the will, the director shall furnish him or her written notice of the delivery of the will as herein provided.

All money or other personal property of the decedent remaining in the custody or possession of the director shall be held by him or her for a period of one year from the date of death of the decedent, for the benefit of the heirs, legatees or successors in interest of that decedent.

Upon the expiration of the one-year period, any money remaining unclaimed in the custody or possession of the director shall be delivered by him or her to the Treasurer for deposit in the Unclaimed Property Fund under Article 1 (commencing with Section 1440) of Chapter 6 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Upon the expiration of the one-year period, all personal property and documents of the decedent, other than cash, remaining unclaimed in the custody or possession of the director, shall be disposed of as follows:

(a) All deeds, contracts or assignments shall be filed by the director with the public administrator of the county of commitment of the decedent.

(b) All other personal property shall be sold by the director at public auction, or upon a sealed-bid basis, and the proceeds of the sale delivered by him or her to the Treasurer in the same manner as is herein provided with respect to unclaimed money of the decedent. If he or she deems it expedient to do so, the director may accumulate the property of several decedents and sell the property in such lots as he or she may determine, provided that he or she makes a determination as to each decedent's share of the proceeds.

(c) If any personal property of the decedent is not salable at public auction, or upon a sealed-bid basis, or if it has no intrinsic value, or if its value is not sufficient to justify the deposit of such property in the State Treasury, the director may order it destroyed.

(d) All other unclaimed personal property of the decedent not disposed of as provided in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) hereof, shall be delivered by the director to the Controller for deposit in the State Treasury under the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 1440) of Chapter 6 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 150. Section 5062 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5062. Whenever any person confined in any state institution subject to the jurisdiction of the Director of Corrections escapes, or is discharged or paroled from such institution, and any personal funds or property of that person remains in the hands of the Director of Corrections, and no demand is made upon the director by the owner of the funds or property or his or her legally appointed representative, all money and other intangible personal property of the person, other than deeds, contracts, or assignments, remaining in the custody or possession of the director shall be held by him or her for a period of seven years from the date of that escape, discharge, or parole, for the benefit of that person or his or her successors in interest.

Upon the expiration of the seven-year period, any money and other intangible personal property, other than deeds, contracts, or assignments, remaining unclaimed in the custody or possession of the director shall be subject to Article 1 (commencing with Section 1500) of Chapter 7 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Upon the expiration of one year from the date of that escape, discharge, or parole:

(a) All deeds, contracts, or assignments shall be filed by the director with the public administrator of the county of commitment of that person.

(b) All tangible personal property other than money, remaining unclaimed in his or her custody or possession, shall be sold by the director at public auction, or upon a sealed-bid basis, and the proceeds of the sale shall be held by him or her subject to Section 5008 and subject to Article 1 (commencing with Section 1500) of Chapter 7 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. If he or she deems it expedient to do so, the director may accumulate the property of several inmates and may sell the property in such lots as he or she may determine, provided that he or she makes a determination as to each inmate's share of the proceeds.

If any tangible personal property covered by this section is not salable at public auction or upon a sealed-bid basis, or if it has no intrinsic value, or if its value is not sufficient to justify its retention by the director to be offered for sale at public auction or upon a sealed-bid basis at a later date, the director may order it destroyed.

SEC. 151. Section 5064 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5064. At the time of delivering any money or other personal property to the Treasurer or Controller under Section 5061 or of Article 1 (commencing with Section 1500) of Chapter 7 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the director shall deliver to the Controller a schedule setting forth a statement and description of all money and other personal property delivered, and the name and last known address of the owner or deceased owner.

SEC. 152. Section 5066 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 153. Section 5068.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5068.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, except as provided in subdivision (b), any person employed or under contract to provide diagnostic, treatment, or other mental health services in the state correctional system shall be a physician and surgeon, a psychologist, or other health professional, licensed to practice in this state.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 5068 or Section 704 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, persons employed on January 1, 1985, as psychologists to provide diagnostic or treatment services, including those persons on authorized leave, but not including intermittent personnel, shall be exempt from the requirements of subdivision (a), so long as they continue in employment in the same class and in the same department. Additionally, the requirements of subdivision (a) may be waived in order for a person to gain qualifying experience for licensure as a psychologist in this state. However, such a waiver shall not exceed two years from the date of the commencement of employment. The requirements of subdivision (a) may be waived for a person recruited for employment from outside this state and who possesses experience sufficient to qualify for admission to a licensing examination on the date of his or her employment for a period of one year from the date of his or her employment.

SEC. 154. Section 5076.2 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5076.2. (a) Any rules and regulations, including any resolutions and policy statements, promulgated by the Board of Prison Terms, shall be promulgated and filed pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Chapter 3.5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and shall, to the extent practical, be stated in language that is easily understood by the general public.

(b) The Board of Prison Terms shall maintain, publish and make available to the general public, a compendium of its rules and regulations, including any resolutions and policy statements, promulgated pursuant to this section.

(c) The following exception to the procedures specified in this section shall apply to the Board of Prison Terms: the chairman may specify an effective date that is any time more than 30 days after the rule or regulation is filed with the Secretary of State; provided that no less than 20 days prior to such effective date, copies of the rule or regulation shall be posted in conspicuous places throughout each institution and shall be mailed to all persons or organizations who request them.

SEC. 155. Section 5082 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5082. (a) Any number of employees of the Board of Prison Terms as are needed to carry out its functions shall be selected and appointed pursuant to the State Civil Service Act. Nothing shall prohibit the Board of Prison Terms from employing any person employed formerly by the Adult Authority or Women's Board of Terms and Paroles.

(b) The provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6050) of Title 7 of Part 3, relating to the employment of personnel by the department, do not apply to the employees of the Board of Prison Terms.

SEC. 156. Section 6001 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6001. The establishment, organization, jurisdiction, powers, duties, responsibilities, and functions of the Youth Authority are continued as provided in the Youth Authority Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1700) of Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

SEC. 157. Section 6003 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6003. The Youth Authority and the Director of Corrections may, pursuant to Section 11253 and Sections 11256 to 11259, inclusive, of the Government Code, provide for the performance of any of the duties or the exercise of any of the powers of the Youth Authority by the Department of Corrections, subject to the direction and control of the Youth Authority, except that the power of classification and segregation of persons committed to the authority shall be exercised by the authority, and shall not be exercised by any other agency.

SEC. 158. Section 6004 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6004. Whenever the Director of Corrections or the Department of Corrections exercises any power or performs any duty of the Youth Authority pursuant to the authorization in Section 6003:

(a) The exercise of the power or the performance of the duty by the Director of Corrections or the Department of Corrections shall constitute an exercise of the power or a performance of the duty by the Youth Authority for the purposes of the Youth Authority Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1700) of Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

(b) The operation of any service, place, institution, hospital, agency, or facility by the Department of Corrections under the authorization in Section 6003 shall be deemed operation by the Youth Authority.

(c) All public officers and other persons under a duty to make any reports or provide any information, access, or assistance to the Youth Authority in respect to the power or duty so exercised shall make the reports, or provide the information, access, or assistance to the Director of Corrections or the Department of Corrections.

SEC. 159. Section 6029 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6029. The plans and specifications of every jail, prison, or other place of detention of persons charged with or convicted of crime or of persons detained pursuant to the Juvenile Court Law (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code) or the Youth Authority Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1700) of Division 2.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code), if such plans and specifications involve construction, reconstruction, remodeling, or repairs of an aggregate cost in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), shall be submitted to the board for its recommendations. Upon request of any city, city and county, or county, the board shall consider the entire program or group of detention facilities currently planned or under consideration by the city, city and county, or county, and make a study of the entire needs of the city, city and county, or county therefor, and make recommendations thereon. No state department or agency other than the board shall have authority to make recommendations in respect to plans and specifications for the construction of county jails or other county detention facilities or for alterations thereto, except such recommendations as the board may request from any such state department or agency.

SEC. 160. Section 6035 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6035. (a) For the purpose of raising the level of competence of local corrections and probation officers, the board shall adopt, and may from time to time amend, rules establishing minimum standards for the selection and training for such officers employed by any city, county, or city and county. All such rules shall be adopted and amended pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(b) Any city, county, or city and county receiving state aid pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 6040) shall adhere to the standards for selection and training established by the board. The board may defer the promulgation of selection standards until necessary research for job relatedness is completed. In such case, and until selection standards are adopted, a city, county, or city and county may receive state aid upon certification of willingness to adhere to the training standards pursuant to Section 6041.

(c) Minimum training standards may include, but are not limited to, basic, entry, continuation, supervisory, management, and specialized assignments.

(d) Training standards shall apply to all local corrections and probation officers employed by jurisdictions receiving funds under Article 3 (commencing with Section 6040). Exemptions from this requirement for personnel hired prior to July 1, 1980, shall be determined by the board. For the purpose of such exemptions, the board may develop written or oral equivalency examinations, a certification process which recognizes standards equivalency through a combination of professional experience and training, or a combination of examination and certification.

SEC. 161. Section 6052 of the Penal Code is repealed.

SEC. 162. Section 6054 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6054. The director may purchase annuity contracts for permanent employees of the department if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The annuity contract is under an annuity plan which meets the requirements of subdivision (b) of Section 403 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 of the United States.

(b) The purchase of the annuities meets the requirements of the Insurance Code and the Government Code applicable to the purchase.

(c) The salary of an employee for whom the contract is purchased is reduced by the amount of the cost of the contract.

(d) The employee makes an application to the director for the purchase and reduction of salary.

SEC. 163. Section 6082 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6082. References in this title and in Title 5 (commencing with Section 4500) to prisons refer to all facilities, camps, hospitals and institutions for the confinement, treatment, employment, training and discipline of persons in the legal custody of the Department of Corrections.

SEC. 164. Section 6106 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6106. The supervision, management, and control of the Medical Facility and the responsibility for the care, custody, treatment, training, discipline and employment of persons confined therein are vested in the Director of Corrections. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) apply to the institution as a prison under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections and to the persons confined therein insofar as those provisions may be applicable.

SEC. 165. Section 6207 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6207. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000), insofar as applicable, apply to the conservation centers and branches thereof and any permanent, temporary, and mobile camps operating therefrom and to the persons confined therein.

SEC. 166. Section 6301 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

6301. The primary purpose of the camps shall be the confinement, treatment, and care of persons sentenced to long jail terms, including persons so imprisoned as a condition of probation.

SEC. 167. Section 10000 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

10000. The provisions of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000), insofar as they are substantially the same as existing provisions relating to the same subject matter, shall be construed as restatements and continuations thereof and not as new enactments.

SEC. 168. Section 10003 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

10003. If any portion of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000) is held unconstitutional, that decision shall not affect the validity of any other portion of Part 3 (commencing with Section 2000).

SEC. 169. Section 676 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

676. (a) Unless requested by the minor concerning whom the petition has been filed and any parent or guardian present, the public shall not be admitted to a juvenile court hearing. The judge or referee may nevertheless admit those persons he or she deems to have a direct and legitimate interest in the particular case or the work of the court. However, except as provided in subdivision (b), members of the public shall be admitted, on the same basis as they may be admitted to trials in a court of criminal jurisdiction, to hearings concerning petitions filed pursuant to Section 602 alleging that a minor is a person described in Section 602 by reason of the violation of any one of the following offenses:

(1) Murder.

(2) Arson of an inhabited building.

(3) Robbery while armed with a dangerous or deadly weapon.

(4) Rape with force or violence or threat of great bodily harm.

(5) Sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm.

(6) Oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm.

(7) Any offense specified in Section 289 of the Penal Code.

(8) Kidnapping for ransom.

(9) Kidnapping for purpose of robbery.

(10) Kidnapping with bodily harm.

(11) Assault with intent to murder or attempted murder.

(12) Assault with a firearm or destructive device.

(13) Assault by any means of force likely to produce great bodily injury.

(14) Discharge of a firearm into an inhabited or occupied building.

(15) Any offense described in Section 1203.09 of the Penal Code.

(16) Any offense described in Section 12022.5 of the Penal Code committed by a minor 16 years of age or older.

(17) Any felony offense in which a minor 16 years of age or older personally used a weapon listed in subdivision (a) of Section 12020 of the Penal Code.

(18) Burglary of an inhabited dwelling house or trailer coach, as defined in Section 635 of the Vehicle Code, or the inhabited portion of any other building, if the minor previously has been adjudged a ward of the court by reason of the commission of any offense listed in this section, including an offense listed in this paragraph.

(b) Where the petition filed alleges that the minor is a person described in Section 602 by reason of the commission of rape with force or violence or great bodily harm; sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm; oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm; or any offense specified in Section 289 of the Penal Code, members of the public shall not be admitted to the hearing in either of the following instances:

(1) Upon a motion for a closed hearing by the district attorney, who shall make the motion if so requested by the victim.

(2) During the victim's testimony, if, at the time of the offense the victim was under 16 years of age.

(c) The name of a minor found to have committed one of the offenses listed in subdivision (a) shall not be confidential, unless the court, for good cause, so orders.

SEC. 170. Any section of any act enacted by the Legislature during the 1987 calendar year, which takes effect on or before January 1, 1988, and which amends or amends and renumbers any section of the codes, as proposed to be amended by this act, other than the amendments to Sections 241, 1203, and 1203.055 of the Penal Code proposed by this act, shall prevail over this act, whether that act is enacted prior to or subsequent to this act.

CHAPTER 829

An act to amend and renumber the heading of Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 67320) of, and to add Chapter 14.2 (commencing with Section 67310) to, Part 40 of the Education Code, relating to postsecondary education.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 14.2 (commencing with Section 67310) is added to Part 40 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 14.2. STATE FUNDED DISABLED STUDENT PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

67310. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that equal access to public postsecondary education is essential for the full integration of persons with disabilities into the social, political, and economic mainstream of California. The Legislature recognizes the historic underrepresentation of disabled students in postsecondary programs and the need for equitable efforts that enhance the enrollment and retention of disabled students in public colleges and universities in California.

(b) The Legislature recognizes its responsibility to provide and adequately fund postsecondary programs and services for disabled students attending a public postsecondary institution.

(c) To meet this responsibility, the Legislature sets forth the following principles for public postsecondary institutions and budgetary control agencies to observe in providing postsecondary programs and services for students with disabilities:

(1) The state funded activity shall be consistent with the stated purpose of programs and services for disabled students provided by the California Community Colleges, the California State University, or the University of California, as governed by the statutes, regulations, and guidelines of the community colleges, state university, or the University of California.

(2) The state funded activity shall not duplicate services or instruction that are available to all students, either on campus or in the community.

(3) The state funded activity shall be directly related to the functional limitations of the verifiable disabilities of the students to be served.

(4) The state funded activity shall be directly related to these students' full access to and participation in the educational process.

(5) The state funded activity shall have as its goals the independence of disabled students and the maximum integration of these students with other students.

(6) The state funded activity shall be provided in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with state and federal law, state policy and funding requirements, and missions and policies of the postsecondary segment, and shall be based on identified student needs.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that, through the state budget process, the public postsecondary institutions request, and the state provide, funds to cover the actual cost of providing services and instruction, consistent with the principles set forth in subdivision (c), to disabled students in their respective postsecondary institutions.

(e) All public postsecondary education institutions shall continue to utilize other available resources to support programs and services for disabled students as well as maintain their current level of funding from other sources whenever possible.

(f) Pursuant to Section 67312, postsecondary institutions shall demonstrate institutional accountability and clear program effectiveness evaluations for services to students with disabilities.

67311. It is the desire and intent of the Legislature that, as appropriate for each postsecondary segment, funds for disabled student programs and services be based on the following three categories of costs:

(a) Fixed costs associated with the ongoing administration and operation of the services and programs. These fixed costs are basic ongoing administrative and operational costs of campus programs that are relatively consistent in frequency from year-to-year, such as:

(1) Access to, and arrangements for, adaptive educational equipment, materials, and supplies required by disabled students.

(2) Job placement and development services related to the transition from school to employment.

(3) Liaisons with campus and community agencies, including referral and followup services to these agencies on behalf of disabled students.

(4) On-campus and off-campus registration assistance, including priority enrollment, applications for financial aid, and related college services.

(5) Special parking, including on-campus parking registration, temporary parking permit arrangments, and application assistance for students who do not have state handicapped placards or license plates.

(6) Supplemental specialized orientation to acquaint students with the campus environment.

(7) Activities to coordinate and administer specialized services and instruction.

(8) Activities to assess the planning, implementation, and effectiveness of disabled student services and programs.

The baseline cost of these services shall be determined by the respective system and fully funded with annual adjustments for inflation and salary range changes, to the extent funds are provided.

(b) Continuing variable costs that fluctuate with changes in the number of students or the unit load of students. These continuing variable costs are costs for services that vary in frequency depending on the needs of students, such as:

(1) Diagnostic assessment, including both individual and group assessment not otherwise provided by the institution to determine functional, educational, or employment levels or to certify specific disabilities.

(2) On-campus mobility assistance, including mobility training and orientation and manual or automatic transportation assistance to and from college courses and related educational activities.

(3) Off-campus transportation assistance, including transporting students with disabilities to and from the campus in areas where accessible public transportation is unavailable, inadequate, or both.

(4) Disability-related counseling and advising, including specialized academic, vocational, personal, and peer counseling, that is developed specifically for disabled students and not duplicated by regular counseling and advising services available to all students.

(5) Interpreter services, including manual and oral interpreting for deaf and hard-of-hearing students.

(6) Reader services to coordinate and provide access to information required for equitable academic participation if this access is unavailable in other suitable modes.

(7) Services to facilitate the repair of equipment and learning assistance devices.

(8) Special class instruction that does not duplicate existing college courses but is necessary to meet the unique educational needs of particular groups of disabled students.

(9) Speech services, provided by licensed speech or language pathologists for students with verified speech disabilities.

(10) Test taking facilitation, including adapting tests for and proctoring test taking by, disabled students.

(11) Transcription services, including, but not limited to, the provision of Braille and print materials.

(12) Specialized tutoring services not otherwise provided by the institution.

(13) Notetaker services for writing, notetaking, and manual manipulation for classroom and related academic activities.

State funds may be provided annually for the cost of these services on an actual-cost basis, including wages for the individuals providing these services and expenses for attendant supplies. Each institution shall be responsible for documenting its costs to the appropriate state agencies.

(c) One-time variable costs associated with the purchase or replacement of equipment. One-time variable costs are one-time expenditures for the purchase of supplies or the repair of equipment, such as adapted educational materials and vehicles. State funds shall be provided for these expenses on an actual cost basis as documented by each institution.

67312. (a) The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and the Trustees of the California State University shall, for their respective systems, and the Regents of the University of California may do the following:

(1) Work with the California Postsecondary Education Commission and the Department of Finance to develop formulas or procedures for allocating funds authorized under this chapter.

(2) Adopt rules and regulations necessary to the operation of programs funded pursuant to this chapter.

(3) Maintain the present intersegmental efforts to work with the California Postsecondary Education Commission and other interested parties, to coordinate the planning and development of programs for students with disabilities, including, but not limited to, the establishment of common definitions for students with disabilities and uniform formats for reports required under this chapter.

(4) Develop and implement, in consultation with students and staff, a system for evaluating state-funded programs and services for disabled students on each campus at least every five years. At a minimum, these systems shall provide for the gathering of outcome data, staff and student perceptions of program effectiveness, and data on the implementation of the program and physical accessibility requirements of Section 794 of Title 29 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

(b) Commencing in January 1990, and every two years thereafter, the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges and the Trustees of the California State University shall, for their respective systems, and the Regents of the University of California may, submit a report to the Governor, the education policy committees of the Legislature, and the California Postsecondary Education Commission on the evaluations developed pursuant to subdivision (a). These biennial reports shall also include a review on a campus-by-campus basis of the enrollment, retention, transition, and graduation rates of disabled students.

(c) The California Postsecondary Education Commission shall review these reports and submit its comments and recommendations to the Governor and education policy committees of the Legislature.

67313. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to be directing any student, or students, toward a particular program or service for students with disabilities nor shall anything in this chapter be used to deny any student an education because he or she does not wish to receive state funded disabled student programs and services.

67314. No provision of this chapter shall apply to the University of California unless the Regents of the University of California, by resolution, make that provision applicable.

SEC. 2. The heading of Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 67320) of Part 40 of the Education Code is amended and renumbered to read:

CHAPTER 14.3. OFFICE EQUIPMENT

CHAPTER 830

An act to amend Section 798.74 of the Civil Code, and to amend Sections 18062.2 and 18063 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to mobilehomes.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.74 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.74. (a) The management may require the right of prior approval of a purchaser of a mobilehome that will remain in the park and that the selling homeowner or his or her agent give notice of the sale to the management before the close of the sale. Approval cannot be withheld if the purchaser has the financial ability to pay the rent and charges of the park unless the management reasonably determines that, based on the purchaser's prior tenancies, he or she will not comply with the rules and regulations of the park. If the ownership or management rejects a purchaser as a prospective homeowner, the ownership or management shall inform the selling homeowner in writing of its reasons for the rejection. If the approval of a purchaser is withheld for any reason other than those stated in this article, the management or owner may be held liable for all damages proximately resulting therefrom.

(b) If the management collects a fee or charge from a prospective purchaser of a mobilehome in order to obtain a financial report or credit rating, the full amount of the fee or charge shall be credited toward payment of the first month's rent for that mobilehome purchaser. If, for whatever reason, the prospective purchaser is rejected by the management, the management shall refund to the prospective purchaser the full amount of that fee or charge within 30 days from the date of rejection. If the prospective purchaser is approved by the management, but, for whatever reason, the prospective purchaser elects not to purchase the mobilehome, the management may retain the fee, or a portion thereof, to defray its administrative costs under this section.

SEC. 2. Section 18062.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18062.2. It is also unlawful for a dealer to do any of the following:

(a) Engage in the business for which the dealer is licensed without at all times maintaining an established place of business.

(b) Employ any person as a salesperson who is not licensed pursuant to this part, or whose license is not displayed on the premises of the dealer as provided in Section 18063.

(c) Permit the use of his or her dealer's license, supplies, or books by any other person for the purpose of permitting that person to engage in the sale of manufactured homes, mobilehomes, or commercial coaches, or to permit the use of the dealer's license, supplies, or books to operate a branch or secondary location to be used by any other person, if, in either situation, the licensee has no financial or equitable interest or investment in the manufactured homes, mobilehomes, or commercial coaches sold by, or the business of, or branch or secondary location used by, the person, or has no such interest or investment other than commissions, compensations, fees, or any other thing of value received for the use of the dealer's license, supplies, or books to engage in the sale of manufactured homes, mobilehomes, or commercial coaches.

(d) Advertise any specific manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach for sale without identifying the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach by its serial number.

(e) Advertise the total price of a manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach without including all costs to the purchaser at time of delivery at the dealer's premises, except sales tax, title and registration fees, finance charges, and any dealer documentary preparation charge. The dealer documentary preparation charge shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20).

(f) Exclude from the advertisement of a manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach for sale information to the effect that there will be added to the advertised total price at the time of sale, charges for sales tax, title and registration fees, escrow fees, and any dealer documentary preparation charge.

(g) Represent the dealer documentary preparation charge as a governmental fee.

(h) Refuse to sell the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach to any person at the advertised total price for that manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach, exclusive of sales tax, title fee, finance charges, and dealer documentary preparation charge, which charge shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20), while it remains unsold, unless the advertisement states the advertised total price is good only for a specified time and that time has elapsed.

(i) Not post the salesperson's license in a place conspicuous to the public on the premises where they are actually engaged in the selling of manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and commercial coaches for the employing dealer. The license shall be displayed continuously during their employment. If a salesperson's employment is terminated, the dealer shall return the license to the salesperson.

(j) Offer for sale, rent, or lease within this state a new manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach whose manufacturer is not licensed under this part.

(k) To violate Section 798.71 or 798.74 of the Civil Code, or both.

SEC. 3. Section 18063 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18063. It is unlawful for a salesperson to do any of the following:

(a) At the time of employment, not deliver to his or her employing dealer his or her salesperson's license.

(b) Fail to report in writing to the department every change of residence within five days of the change.

(c) Act or attempt to act as a salesperson while not employed by a dealer. For purposes of this subdivision, "employment by a dealer" means employment reported to the department pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 18060.

(d) To violate Section 798.71 or 798.74 of the Civil Code, or both.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 831

An act to amend Sections 7090.1 and 7102 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7090.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7090.1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the failure to pay a civil penalty, or to comply with an order of correction or an order to pay a specified sum to an injured party in lieu of correction once the order has become final, shall result in the automatic suspension of a license by operation of law 30 days after noncompliance with the terms of the order. The registrar shall notify the licensee in writing of the failure to comply with the final order and that the license shall be suspended 30 days from the date of the notice. The licensee may contest the determination of noncompliance within 15 days after service of the notice, by written notice to the registrar. Upon receipt of the written notice, the registrar may reconsider the determination or proceed with an accusation for violation of Section 7099.6. Reinstatement may be made at any time following the suspension by complying with the final order of the citation. If no reinstatement of the license is made within one year of the date of the automatic suspension, the license shall be automatically revoked by operation of law for a period to be determined by the registrar pursuant to Section 7102.

SEC. 2. Section 7102 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7102. After suspension of the license upon any of the grounds set forth in this article, the registrar may reinstate the license upon proof of compliance by the contractor with all provisions of the decision as to reinstatement or, in the absence of such decision or any provisions therein as to reinstatement, in the sound discretion of the registrar.

After revocation of a license upon any of the grounds set forth in this article, the license shall not be reinstated or reissued and a license shall not be issued to any member of the personnel of the revoked licensee found to have had knowledge of or participated in the acts or omissions constituting grounds for revocation, within a minimum period of one year and a maximum period of five years after the final decision of revocation and then only on proper showing that all loss caused by the act or omission for which the license was revoked has been fully satisfied and that all conditions imposed by the decision of revocation have been complied with.

The board shall promulgate regulations covering the criteria to be considered when extending the minimum one-year period. The criteria shall give due consideration to the appropriateness of the extension of time with respect to the following factors:

(a) The gravity of the violation.

(b) The history of previous violations.

(c) Criminal convictions.

When any loss has been reduced to a monetary obligation or debt, however, the satisfaction of such monetary obligation or debt as a prerequisite for the issuance, reissuance, or reinstatement of a license shall not be required where such monetary obligation or debt has been adjudicated in a bankruptcy proceeding. However, any nonmonetary condition not adjudicated in a bankruptcy proceeding shall be complied with prior to the issuance, the reissuance, or reinstatement of the license.

CHAPTER 832

An act to amend Section 44314 of the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the breadth and depth of the academic preparation of candidates for multiple subject instruction in elementary schools is the primary basis for the quality of the elementary school curriculum for young children. The Legislature recognizes that most young children learn the subjects of the school curriculum for the first time in elementary schools and classrooms. These early encounters shape each child's subsequent academic successes and failures. Communication skills, reasoning abilities, physical capacities, and personal values also develop as a consequence of early instruction in language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, art, music, health, and physical education.

The Legislature also recognizes that three out of four of the elementary teachers who are prepared in California qualify for their credentials by completing programs of subject matter preparation, which constitute two-thirds of the collegiate education of these candidates.

SEC. 2. Section 44314 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44314. A "diversified" or "liberal arts" program is any program that has been approved by the commission on the basis of standards adopted by the commission.

(a) An approved program shall consist of a minimum of 84 semester units, or equivalent quarter units, including, but not limited to, language studies, literature, mathematics, science, social science, history, humanities, the arts, physical education and human development.

(b) The commission shall establish standards for "diversified" or "liberal arts" programs, or equivalent programs that waive the subject matter examination for multiple subjects instruction.

SEC. 3. The commission shall adopt standards and promulgate regulations to implement this act on or before July 1, 1988, after which the commission shall begin to review and approve "diversified" or "liberal arts" programs on the basis of the standards and regulations. If the commission finds that the criteria and procedures utilized by a nongovernmental accreditation agency represent a higher standard for "diversified" or "liberal arts" programs than the commission's criteria and procedures for program approval, the commission may approve programs that have been accredited by the nongovernmental agency without separately reviewing the accredited programs.

SEC. 4. Section 2 of this bill amends Section 44314 of the Education Code. Senate Bill No. 1677 and Assembly Bill No. 2619 also propose to amend Section 44314 of the Education Code. If either Senate Bill No. 1677 or Assembly Bill No. 2619, or both, are enacted during the 1987 calendar year, and take effect on or before January 1, 1988, and amend Section 44314 of the Education Code, then Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative regardless of the order of chaptering.

CHAPTER 833

An act to amend Sections 1063.1 and 1063.2 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1063.1 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1063.1. As used in this article:

(a) "Member insurer" means an insurer required to be a member of the association in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 1063, except and to the extent that the insurer is participating in an insolvency program adopted by the United States government.

(b) "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer for which a domiciliary or ancillary liquidator has been appointed in this state after the effective date of this article.

(c) (1) "Covered claims" means the obligations of an insolvent insurer, including the obligation for unearned premiums, (i) imposed by law and within the coverage of an insurance policy of the insolvent insurer; (ii) which were unpaid by the insolvent insurer; (iii) which are presented as a claim to the liquidator in this state or to the association on or before the last date fixed for the filing of claims in the domiciliary liquidating proceedings; (iv) which were incurred prior to, on, or within 30 days after the date the liquidator was appointed; (v) for which the assets of the insolvent insurer are insufficient to discharge in full; (vi) in the case of a policy of workers' compensation insurance, to provide workers' compensation benefits under the workers' compensation law of this state; and (vii) in the case of other classes of insurance if the claimant or insured is a resident of this state at the time of the insured occurrence, or the property from which the claim arises is permanently located in this state.

(2) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations arising from the following:

(i) Life, annuity, health, or disability insurance.

(ii) Mortgage guaranty, financial guaranty, or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risks.

(iii) Fidelity or surety insurance including fidelity or surety bonds, or any other bonding obligations.

(iv) Credit insurance.

(v) Title insurance.

(vi) Ocean marine insurance or ocean marine coverage under any insurance policy including claims arising from the following: the Jones Act (46 U.S.C.A. Sec. 688), the Longshore and Harbor Workers'

Compensation Act (33 U.S.C.A. Sec. 901 et seq.), or any other similar federal statutory enactment, or any endorsement or policy affording protection and indemnity coverage.

(vii) Any claim servicing agreement or insurance policy which contains a retrospective rating or other premium adjustment agreement under which premiums are substantially equal to the losses and the loss expenses covered under the policy or any policy providing retroactive insurance of known loss.

(3) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations of the insolvent insurer arising out of any reinsurance contracts, nor any obligations incurred after the expiration date of the insurance policy or after the insurance policy has been replaced by the insured or canceled at the insured's request or after the insurance policy has been canceled by the association as provided in this chapter, nor any obligations to any state or to the federal government.

(4) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations to insurers, insurance pools, or underwriting associations, nor their claims for contribution, indemnity, or subrogation, equitable or otherwise, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(5) "Covered claims," except in the case of a claim for workers' compensation benefits, shall not include any claim in an amount of one hundred dollars ($100) or less, nor the first one hundred dollars ($100) of any claim in excess of one hundred dollars ($100), nor that portion of any claim which is in excess of any applicable limits provided in the insurance policy issued by the insolvent insurer.

(6) "Covered claims" shall not include that portion of any claim, other than a claim for workers' compensation benefits, which is in excess of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(7) "Covered claims" shall not include any amount sought as a return of a premium under any retrospective rating plan.

(8) "Covered claims" shall not include any amount awarded as punitive or exemplary damages.

(9) "Covered claims" shall not include (i) any claim to the extent it is covered by any other insurance of a class covered by the provisions of this article available to the claimant or insured nor (ii) any claim by any person other than the original claimant under the insurance policy in his or her own name, his or her executor, administrator, guardian or other personal representative or trustee in bankruptcy and shall not include any claim asserted by an assignee or one claiming by right of subrogation, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(10) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations arising out of the issuance of an insurance policy written by the separate division of the State Compensation Insurance Fund pursuant to the provisions of Sections 11802 and 11803.

(11) "Covered claims" shall not include any obligations of the insolvent insurer arising from any policy or contract of insurance issued or renewed prior to the insolvent insurer's admission to transact insurance in the State of California.

(12) "Covered claims" shall not include surplus deposits of subscribers as defined in Section 1374.1.

(d) "Admitted to transact insurance in this state" means an insurer possessing a valid certificate of authority issued by the California Department of Insurance.

(e) "Affiliate" means a person who directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with an insolvent insurer on December 31 of the year next preceding the date the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer.

(f) "Control" means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing, 10 percent or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by showing that control does not in fact exist.

(g) "Claimant" means any insured making a first party claim or any person instituting a liability claim; provided that no person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer may be a claimant.

SEC. 2. Section 1063.2 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1063.2. (a) The association shall pay and discharge covered claims and in connection therewith pay for or furnish loss adjustment services and defenses of claimants when required by policy provisions. It may do so either directly by itself or through a servicing facility or through a contract for reinsurance and assumption of liabilities by one or more member insurers or through a contract with the liquidator, upon terms satisfactory to the association and to the liquidator, under which payments on covered claims would be made by the liquidator using funds provided by the association.

(b) The association shall be a party in interest in all proceedings involving a covered claim, and shall have the same rights as the insolvent insurer would have had if not in liquidation, including, but not limited to, the right to: (1) appear, defend, and appeal a claim in a court of competent jurisdiction; (2) receive notice of, investigate, adjust, compromise, settle, and pay a covered claim; and (3) investigate, handle, and deny a noncovered claim. The association shall have no cause of action against the insureds of the insolvent insurer for any sums it has paid out, except as provided by this article.

(c) (1) If damages against uninsured motorists are recoverable by the claimant from his or her own insurer, the applicable limits of the uninsured motorists coverage shall be a credit against a covered claim payable under this article. Any person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured, except that if it is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, he or she shall seek recovery first from the association of the location of the property, and if it is a workers' compensation claim, he or she shall seek recovery first from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this article shall be reduced by the amount of recovery from any other insurance guaranty association or its equivalent. A member insurer may recover in subrogation from the association only one-half of any amount paid by such insurer under uninsured motorist coverage for bodily injury or wrongful death (and nothing for a payment for anything else), in those cases where the injured person insured by such an insurer has proceeded under his or her uninsured motorist coverage on the ground that the tortfeasor is uninsured as a result of the insolvency of his or her liability insurer (an insolvent insurer as defined in this article), provided that such member insurer shall waive all rights of subrogation against such tortfeasor. Any amount paid a claimant in excess of the amount authorized by this section may be recovered by action brought by the association.

(2) Any claimant having collision coverage on a loss which is covered by the insolvent company's liability policy shall first proceed against his or her collision carrier. Neither that claimant nor the collision carrier, if it is a member of the association, shall have the right to sue or continue a suit against the insured of the insolvent insurance company for such collision damage.

(d) The association shall have the right to recover from any person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer and whose liability obligations to other persons are satisfied in whole or in part by payments made under this article the amount of any covered claim and allocated claims expense paid on behalf of that person pursuant to this article.

(e) Any person having a claim or legal right of recovery under any governmental insurance or guaranty program which is also a covered claim, shall be required to first exhaust his or her right under the program. Any amount payable on a covered claim shall be reduced by the amount of any recovery under the program.

(f) The association shall continue coverage for covered claims under all insurance policies of the insolvent insurer that were in force on the date the liquidator was appointed until the insurance policy has expired in accordance with its terms, or has been replaced by the insured, or canceled at the insured's request, or has been canceled by the association as provided in this article.

(g) The association shall have authority to cancel insurance policies of the insolvent insurer by mailing or delivering to the insured at the last known address within this state a written notice of cancellation at least 10 days prior to the effective date of such cancellation, notwithstanding any statute or policy provision to the contrary.

(h) "Covered claims" shall not include any judgments against or obligations or liabilities of the insolvent insurer or the commissioner, as liquidator, or otherwise resulting from alleged or proven torts, nor shall any default judgment or stipulated judgment against the insolvent insurer, or against the insured of the insolvent insurer, be binding against the association.

(i) "Covered claims" shall not include any loss adjustment expenses, including adjustment fees and expenses, attorney fees and expenses, court costs, interest, and bond premiums, incurred prior to the appointment of a liquidator. The deductible provided for in paragraph (5) of subdivision (c) of Section 1063.1 shall apply to each person for each accident for which he or she makes a claim.

SEC. 3. The amendments to Sections 1063.1 and 1063.2 of the Insurance Code made by this act apply to claims resulting from insured occurrences that occur on or after January 1, 1988.

CHAPTER 834

An act to add Section 20145 to the Government Code, relating to public employees, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20145 is added to the Government Code, to read:

20145. (a) The Legislature finds that, given the very real possibility that social security will be mandated upon state correctional peace officers, the cost of providing the present state peace officer/firefighter retirement formula in addition to the social security coverage would create an excessive contribution burden upon the employee.

(b) The Legislature also finds that it is in the best interest of the state to investigate a new state peace officer/firefighter formula that would be available to those officers who are mandated into social security.

(c) Therefore, the board shall investigate the feasibility of establishing a voluntary plan which will provide an alternative to remaining in the current state peace officer/firefighter formula and paying full social security.

As part of the feasibility study for the new voluntary peace officer/firefighter plan, the board shall consider program options including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) Optional enrollment for both current and future hires.

(2) A no-cost-to-employees feature.

(3) Maintenance of the approximate current employer rate.

(4) Maintenance of the approximate current retirement allowance (including receivable social security benefits).

(5) Provision for the employer to pay all or part of the employee's social security contributions.

(6) Continuance of the current program for those who opt to participate both in it and in social security. The new peace officer/firefighters program options identified in this study shall not be made available unless approved in subsequent legislation and included in an approved memorandum of understanding.

(d) The board shall report its methodology and findings to the appropriate policy committees of each house and to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee no later than December 1, 1988. The report shall include the following information about the alternative studies:

(1) The benefits to be provided by social security.

(2) The total costs for the social security contribution.

(3) The savings from reduced benefit payments from the Public Employees' Retirement System.

(4) The net costs to the state (social security payments less reduced contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement System).

The report shall include a side-by-side comparison of current and future benefits and costs.

SEC. 2. There is hereby appropriated the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) from the Public Employees' Retirement Fund to the Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System for expenditure in carrying out the purposes of this act.

CHAPTER 835

An act to amend Section 1284 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Section 5622 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to mental health.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1284 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1284. A licensed inpatient mental health facility shall be subject to the provisions of Section 5622 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 2. Section 5622 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5622. A licensed inpatient mental health facility shall, prior to the discharge of any patient who was placed in the facility under a county Short-Doyle plan, prepare a written aftercare plan. The aftercare plan shall specify the following:

(a) Assessment of present level of functioning, including capacity to provide for food, clothing, and shelter.

(b) Diagnoses, including treatment initiated, medications, and dosage schedules.

(c) Six-month and twelve-month prognosis.

(d) The specific programs and services required so the person can minimize future confinement and receive the treatment in the least restrictive setting, including:

(1) Treatment objectives and goals stated in terms which allow for measurement of progress and the identification of the mental health personnel responsible for the implementation of the goals and objectives.

(2) Referral to providers of medical and mental health services.

(3) Identification of public social services, legal aid, educational, and vocational services.

(e) If the person is homeless, arrangements, if possible, for the voluntary placement of the person in a living environment suitable to his or her needs.

Any person undergoing treatment at a facility under the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act or a county Short-Doyle facility shall be entitled to obtain, upon request, a written aftercare plan.

A copy of the aftercare plan shall be transmitted to the local director of mental health services in the county of the person's placement who shall adopt and implement the plan, with any modifications or changes which are necessary in light of available resources, or when in the opinion of the local director of mental health services, other or alternate treatment is appropriate. Any patient who is released from a community treatment facility or state hospital on a voluntary basis may refuse any or all services under the written aftercare plan.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 836

An act to amend Section 1522.4 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to community care facilities.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1522.4 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1522.4. (a) In addition to any other requirements of this chapter and except for foster family homes, small family homes, and certified family homes of foster family agencies, all of the following apply to any community care facility providing 24-hour care for children:

(1) The facility shall have one or more facility managers. "Facility manager," as used in this section, means a person on the premises with the authority and responsibility necessary to manage and control the day-to-day operation of a community care facility and supervise the clients. The facility manager, licensee, and administrator, or any combination thereof, may be the same person provided he or she meets all applicable requirements. If the administrator is also the facility manager for the same facility, this person shall be limited to the administration and management of only one facility.

(2) The facility manager shall have at least one year of experience working with the client group served, or equivalent education or experience, as determined by the department.

(3) A facility manager shall be at the facility at all times when one or more clients are present. To ensure adequate supervision of clients when clients are at the facility outside of their normal schedule, a current telephone number where the facility manager can be reached shall be provided to the clients, licensing agency, school, and any other agency or person as the department determines is necessary. The facility manager shall instruct these agencies and individuals to notify him or her when clients will be returning to the facility outside of the normal hours.

(4) The Legislature intends to upgrade the quality of care in licensed facilities. For the purposes of Sections 1533 and 1534, the licensed facility shall be inspected and evaluated for quality of care at least once each year, without advance notice and as often as necessary, without advance notice, to insure the quality of care being provided.

Paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) shall apply only to new facilities licensed for six or fewer children which apply for a license after January 1, 1985, and all other new facilities licensed for seven or more children which apply for a license after January 1, 1988. Existing facilities licensed for seven or more children shall comply by January

(b) No employee of the state or county employed in the administration of this chapter or employed in a position that is in any way concerned with facilities licensed under this chapter shall hold a license or have a direct or indirect financial interest in a facility described in subdivision (a).

The department, by regulation, shall make the determination pursuant to the purposes of this section and chapter, as to what employment is in the administration of this chapter or in any way concerned with facilities licensed under this chapter and what financial interest is direct or indirect.

This subdivision does not prohibit the state or county from securing a license for, or operating, a facility that is otherwise required to be licensed under this chapter.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 837

An act relating to regional water quality control boards, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the limit of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) on the total compensation for each member of a regional water quality control board under Section 13205 of the Water Code, at the discretion of the State Water Resources Control Board, individual members of the regional water quality control boards for the San Francisco Bay region and the Central Valley region may be compensated for attendance at hearings convened by the State Water Resources Control Board on water quality standards for the San Francisco Bay/Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta Estuary. The maximum total amount of compensation for each region shall not exceed thirteen thousand dollars ($13,000) during the 1987–88 fiscal year and two thousand dollars ($2,000) during the 1988–89 fiscal year.

SEC. 2. This act shall have no force or effect after July 1, 1989.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure full participation by members of the San Francisco and Central Valley regional water quality control boards at hearings of the State Water Resources Control Board concerning water quality standards in the San Francisco Bay/Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta Estuary, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 838

An act to add and repeal Section 25172.7 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) With the passage of the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments of 1984, which amended the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.), small quantity generators that produce between 220 and 2,200 pounds of hazardous waste each month are required to establish specific waste management practices, including use of the Hazardous Waste Manifest System, by September 1986.

(b) In addition to federal requirements on managing hazardous waste, small quantity generators of hazardous waste are required to submit reports to state and local agencies, including a biennial report on the volume and type of hazardous waste generated.

(c) California may have as many as 200,000 small quantity generators of hazardous waste, but the number of generators using the Hazardous Waste Manifest System when shipping hazardous waste off-site and submitting required biennial reports is much less.

(d) A large number of small quantity generators may be unaware of federal and state hazardous waste management and reporting requirements.

(e) Although it is difficult for the state to notify all small quantity generators of new hazardous waste management requirements and methods to comply with these requirements, trade associations that represent small quantity generators could play a major role in educating their membership.

(f) Unfortunately, many trade associations that represent small quantity generators are also unaware of hazardous waste management requirements or ways to assist their membership in complying with the federal and state requirements.

(g) The State Department of Health Services should routinely meet with trade association representatives of small quantity generators to provide them with regulatory and technical information on hazardous waste management.

SEC. 2. Section 25172.7 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25172.7. (a) Commencing January 1, 1988, the department shall conduct a series of industry-specific meetings with trade association representatives of major small quantity hazardous waste generators for the purposes specified in subdivision (b). The department shall include all of the following categories of trade associations in these meetings:

(1) Vehicle maintenance.

(2) Construction.

(3) Metal manufacturing.

(4) Photographic processing laboratories.

(5) Pesticide formulators and application services.

(6) Paint formulators.

(7) Circuit board manufacturers.

(8) Commercial research and development and testing laboratories.

(9) Educational, scientific, and research institutions.

(10) Medical laboratories and general medical and surgical hospitals.

(11) Dry cleaners.

(b) The department shall conduct the industry-specific meetings with trade association representatives for all of the following purposes:

(1) To inform the representatives of hazardous waste management laws and regulations.

(2) To suggest methods for assisting their membership in complying with hazardous waste laws and regulations.

(3) To facilitate the development of cooperative hazardous waste collection systems.

(4) To give the representatives the opportunity to express their concerns and needs.

(c) The department shall inform trade association representatives of an industry-specific meeting at least 30 days before the meeting. The department may use technical assistance from other federal, state, and local agency representatives, consultants, and large quantity hazardous waste generators. The department may request that the meetings be held during regular trade association meetings. The department shall designate a staff person to each trade association for future assistance.

(d) The department shall request trade association representatives to evaluate the usefulness of the informational meetings. Based upon the evaluation, the department shall determine whether or not to continue these meetings.

(e) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 839

An act to amend Sections 1245, 3718, 3721, 3733, 3750, 3752, 3753, and 3754 of, and to add Sections 808, 3750.5, 3752.5, 3753.5, 3776, and 3777 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to healing arts.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 808 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

808. For purposes of this article, reports affecting respiratory care practitioners required to be filed under Sections 801, 802, and 803 shall be filed with the Respiratory Care Examining Committee.

SEC. 2. Section 1245 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

1245. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter or of any other law, any individual may perform a blood gas analysis if all the following conditions exist:

(a) He or she performs the blood gas analysis in a clinic or a general acute care hospital, as defined respectively in Sections 1202 and 1250 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) He or she has been instructed by a physician and surgeon licensed in this state, who is in charge of a department of pulmonary physiology or clinical pathology in licensed clinics or hospitals, as defined respectively in Sections 1202 and 1250 of the Health and Safety Code, in the proper procedure to be employed when performing a blood gas analysis.

(c) He or she performs the blood gas analysis under the direction and supervision of such a physician and surgeon.

(d) He or she submits the analysis for interpretation to the physician and surgeon under whose direction and supervision he or she performed the analysis.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as authorizing any individual, not otherwise authorized, to withdraw blood.

Nothing contained in subdivisions (a) and (b) is applicable to a person certified as a respiratory care practitioner under Chapter 8.3 (commencing with Section 3700). Those persons are authorized to perform those functions set forth in that chapter.

SEC. 3. Section 3718 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3718. The examining committee shall issue, suspend, and revoke certificates to practice respiratory care as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 3721 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3721. Notice of each regular or special meeting shall be sent to all committee members 15 days prior to the meeting. In addition, notice of each meeting of the committee shall be published in accordance with the Bagley-Keene Open Meeting Act (Article 9 (commencing with Section 11120) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

SEC. 5. Section 3733 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3733. (a) Every applicant for a certificate under this chapter shall, at the time of application, be a person over 18 years of age, have successfully completed courses of training equivalent to the minimum standard established in this chapter for approval by the examining committee, and not have committed acts or crimes constituting grounds for denial of certification under Section 480.

(b) The examining committee may order the denial of an application, or the issuance of a certificate with terms and conditions, for any of the causes specified in this chapter for suspension or revocation of a certificate, including, but not limited to, those causes specified in Sections 3750 and 3750.5.

SEC. 6. Section 3750 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3750. The examining committee may order the suspension for a period not exceeding 12 months, the revocation of, or the imposition of probationary conditions upon, a certificate issued under this chapter, for any of the following causes:

(a) Advertising in violation of Section 651 or Section 17500.

(b) Fraud in the procurement of any certificate under this chapter.

(c) Knowingly employing uncertified persons who present themselves as certified respiratory care practitioners.

(d) Conviction of a crime which substantially relates to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a respiratory care practitioner. The record of conviction or a certified copy thereof shall be conclusive evidence of the conviction.

(e) Impersonating or acting as a proxy for an applicant in any examination given under this chapter.

(f) Gross negligence in his or her practice as a respiratory care practitioner.

(g) Conviction of a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or of the State Medical Practice Act, or violating, or attempting to violate, directly or indirectly, or assisting in or abetting the violation of, or conspiring to violate any provision or term of this chapter or of the Medical Practice Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000)).

(h) The aiding or abetting of any person to violate the provisions of this chapter or any regulations duly adopted under this chapter.

(i) The aiding or abetting of any person to engage in the unlawful practice of respiratory care.

(j) The commission of any fraudulent, dishonest, or corrupt act which is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a respiratory care practitioner.

SEC. 7. Section 3750.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

3750.5. In addition to any other grounds specified in this chapter, the examining committee may deny, suspend, or revoke the certificate of any applicant or certificate holder who has done any of the following:

(a) Obtained or possessed in violation of law, or except as directed by a licensed physician and surgeon, dentist, or podiatrist administered to himself or herself, or furnished or administered to another, any controlled substances as defined in Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, or any dangerous drug as defined in Article 7 (commencing with Section 4210) of Chapter 9 of this code.

(b) Used any controlled substance as defined in Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, or any dangerous drug as defined in Article 7 (commencing with Section 4210) of Chapter 9 of this code, or alcoholic beverages, to an extent or in a manner dangerous or injurious to himself or herself, or other person, or the public or to the extent that the use impaired his or her ability to conduct with safety to the public the practice authorized by his or her certificate.

(c) Been convicted of a criminal offense involving the consumption or self-administration of any of the substances described in subdivisions (a) and (b), or the possession of, or falsification of a record pertaining to, the substances described in subdivision (a), in which event the record of the conviction is conclusive evidence thereof.

(d) Been committed or confined by a court of competent jurisdiction for intemperate use of or addiction to the use of any of the substances described in subdivisions (a) and (b), in which event the court order of commitment or confinement is prima facie evidence of that commitment or confinement.

(e) Falsified, or made grossly incorrect, grossly inconsistent, or unintelligible entries in any hospital, patient, or other record pertaining to the substances described in subdivision (a).

SEC. 8. Section 3752 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3752. A plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere made to a charge of any offense which substantially relates to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a respiratory care practitioner is deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this article. The committee shall order the certificate suspended or revoked, or may decline to issue a certificate, when the time for appeal has elapsed, or the judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal or when an order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence, irrespective of a subsequent order under the provisions of Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code allowing such person to withdraw his or her plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, or setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information, or indictment.

SEC. 9. Section 3752.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

3752.5. For purposes of Division 1.5 (commencing with Section 475), and this chapter, a crime involving bodily injury or attempted bodily injury shall be considered a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a respiratory care practitioner.

SEC. 10. Section 3753 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3753. The procedure in all matters and proceedings relating to the denial, suspension, or revocation of certificates under this chapter shall be governed by the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

SEC. 11. Section 3753.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

3753.5. (a) In any order issued in resolution of a disciplinary proceeding before the examining committee, the committee may request the administrative law judge to direct any practitioner found guilty of a charge involving a significant violation of Section 3750 or 3750.5, to pay to the committee a sum not to exceed the reasonable costs of the investigation and prosecution of the case.

(b) The costs to be assessed shall be fixed by the administrative law judge and shall not be increased by the examining committee. If the examining committee does not adopt a proposed decision and remands the case to an administrative law judge, the administrative law judge shall not increase any assessed costs.

(c) Where an order for recovery of costs is made and timely payment is not made as directed in the examining committee's decision as approved by the board, the committee may enforce the order for payment in the superior court in the county where the administrative hearing was held. This right of enforcement shall be in addition to any other rights the committee may have as to any practitioner directed to pay costs.

(d) In any action for recovery of costs, proof of the committee's decision as approved by the board shall be conclusive proof of the validity of the order of payment and the terms for payment.

SEC. 12. Section 3754 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3754. The committee may deny an application for, or issue with terms and conditions, or suspend or revoke, or impose probationary conditions upon, a certificate in any decision made after a hearing, as provided in Section 3753.

SEC. 13. Section 3776 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

3776. Any person who has submitted to the examining committee a check for fees which was returned for insufficient funds, shall pay all subsequent required fees by cashier's check or money order. The examining committee may make a written waiver of this requirement in appropriate cases.

SEC. 14. Section 3777 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

3777. Where an applicant is issued a certificate to practice respiratory care, and it is later discovered that all required fees have not been paid, the certificate shall not be renewed or reinstated unless all past and current required fees have been paid.

CHAPTER 840

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 14026.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14026.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14026.5. (a) The State Director of Health Services may issue Medi-Cal cards to Medi-Cal fraud investigators for the purpose of conducting investigations of Medi-Cal fraud, or a violation of the Medical Practice Act as set forth at Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code upon written request to the State Director of Health Services, or his or her designee, from the head of the requesting agency stating the purpose of the investigation. The request shall be based upon a specific complaint or information alleging Medi-Cal fraud. The request shall be based upon a specific complaint or information from an outside agency pursuant to its standard procedure for referring cases to another agency where there is suspicion of Medi-Cal fraud.

(b) (1) Upon a complaint by any individual alleging information creating a reasonable suspicion that any person is engaging in Medi-Cal fraud, the State Director of Health Services shall issue Medi-Cal cards for the purpose of conducting investigations of Medi-Cal fraud, or a violation of the Medical Practice Act as set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, upon an order of a magistrate issued upon a showing of reasonable suspicion that the person being investigated has committed or is committing Medi-Cal fraud or a violation of the Medical Practice Act as set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code.

(2) For purposes of this section, "reasonable suspicion" means that a peace officer subjectively entertains such a suspicion and that it is objectively reasonable for him or her to do so. The facts shall be those which would cause any reasonable peace officer in a like position drawing when appropriate on his or her training and experience, to suspect the same criminal activity and the same involvement by the person in question. A showing of reasonable suspicion may be made either by written statement under penalty of perjury or by oral statement taken under oath, recorded and transcribed.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to mean that it is the exclusive method for conducting investigations for Medi-Cal fraud or for violations of the Medical Practice Act as set forth at Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code.

(d) The State Department of Health Services shall report to the Legislature every six months commencing June 1, 1981, on the utilization of Medi-Cal cards issued pursuant to this section. The report shall include, among other matters, a description of the types of criminal investigations conducted pursuant thereto.

(e) The Legislative Analyst shall report to the Legislature by January 1, 1991, on the utilization of Medi-Cal cards issued pursuant to this section.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 14026.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14026.5. (a) The State Director of Health Services shall issue Medi-Cal cards to peace officers or persons working under that officers' immediate supervision for the purpose of conducting investigations of Medi-Cal fraud, or a violation of the Medical Practice Act as set forth at Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, upon an order of a magistrate issued pursuant to subdivision (c).

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to mean that it is the exclusive method for conducting investigations for Medi-Cal fraud or for violations of the Medical Practice Act as set forth at Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code.

(c) A magistrate may issue an order for the issuance of Medi-Cal cards to peace officers upon a showing of reasonable suspicion that the person being investigated has committed or is committing Medi-Cal fraud or a violation of the Medical Practice Act as set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code. As used in this section, "reasonable suspicion" means that the peace officer subjectively entertains such a suspicion and that it is objectively reasonable for him to do so. The facts must be those which would cause any reasonable peace officer in a like position, drawing when appropriate on his training and experience, to suspect the same criminal activity and the same involvement by the person in question. A showing of reasonable suspicion may be made either by written statement under penalty of perjury or by oral statement taken under oath, recorded and transcribed.

(d) The State Department of Health Services shall report to the Legislature every six months commencing June 1, 1981, on the utilization of Medi-Cal cards issued pursuant to this section. The report shall include, among other matters, a description of the types of criminal investigations conducted pursuant thereto.

(e) This section shall become operative January 1, 1992.

CHAPTER 841

An act to amend Sections 53649, 53651, 53651.4, 53661, 53664, and 53667 of the Government Code, relating to local agency investments.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53649 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53649. The treasurer is responsible for the safekeeping of money in his or her custody and shall enter into any contract with a depository relating to any deposit which in his or her judgment is to the public advantage. The depository, and the agent of depository to the extent the agent of depository has been notified of deposits and the amount thereof, are responsible for securing moneys deposited pursuant to such a contract in accordance with Section 53652. One copy of each contract shall be filed with the auditor, controller, secretary, or corresponding officer of the local agency. The contract shall:

(a) Fix the duration of deposits, if appropriate.

(b) Fix the interest rate, if any.

(c) Provide conditions for withdrawal and repayment.

(d) Provide for placement of pooled securities in a named agent of depository in accordance with Section 53656.

(e) Grant authority for agent of depository to place securities for safekeeping in accordance with Section 53659.

(f) Set forth in accordance with Section 53665 the conditions upon which the administrator shall order pooled securities converted into money for the benefit of the local agency, and the procedure therefor.

(g) Provide for compliance in all respects with the provisions of this article and other applicable provisions of law.

(h) Provide, upon notice to the treasurer from the administrator, that a treasurer may withdraw deposits in the event a depository fails to pay the assessments, fines, or penalties assessed by the administrator or may withdraw authorization for the placement of pooled securities in an agent of depository in the event that the agent of depository fails to pay the fines or penalties assessed by the administrator.

SEC. 2. Section 53651 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53651. Eligible securities are any of the following:

(a) United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills or certificates of indebtedness, or obligations for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, including the guaranteed portions of small business administration loans, so long as the loans are obligations for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(b) Notes or bonds or any obligations of a local public agency (as defined in the United States Housing Act of 1949) or any obligations of a public housing agency (as defined in the United States Housing Act of 1937) for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(c) Bonds of this state or of any local agency or district of the State of California having the power, without limit as to rate or amount, to levy taxes to pay the principal and interest of the bonds upon all property within its boundaries subject to taxation by the local agency or district, and in addition, sales tax revenue bonds, and revenue bonds and other obligations payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled or operated by the state, local agency or district or by a department, board, agency or authority thereof.

(d) Bonds of any public housing agency (as defined in the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended) as are secured by a pledge of annual contributions under an annual contribution contract between the public housing agency and the Public Housing Administration if such contract shall contain the covenant by the Public Housing Administration which is authorized by subsection (b) of Section 22 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, and if the maximum sum and the maximum period specified in the contract pursuant to that subsection 22(b) shall not be less than the annual amount and the period for payment which are requisite to provide for the payment when due of all installments of principal and interest on the obligations.

(e) Registered warrants of this state.

(f) Bonds, consolidated bonds, collateral trust debentures, consolidated debentures, or other obligations issued by the United States Postal Service, federal land banks or federal intermediate credit banks established under the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, debentures and consolidated debentures issued by the Central Bank for Cooperatives and banks for cooperatives established under the Farm Credit Act of 1933, as amended, consolidated obligations of the federal home loan banks established under the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, bonds, debentures and other obligations of the Federal National Mortgage Association or of the Government National Mortgage Association established under the National Housing Act, as amended, bonds of any federal home loan bank established under that act, bonds, debentures and other obligations of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation established under the Emergency Home Finance Act of 1970, and obligations of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

(g) Notes, tax anticipation warrants or other evidence of indebtedness issued pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 53820), Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 53840) or Article 7.6 (commencing with Section 53850) of this Chapter 4.

(h) State of California notes.

(i) Bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, warrants or other obligations issued by: (1) any state of the United States (except this state), or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any local agency thereof having the power to levy taxes, without limit as to rate or amount, to pay the principal and interest of such obligations, or (2) any state of the United States (except this state), or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or a department, board, agency or authority thereof except bonds which provide for or are issued pursuant to a law which may contemplate a subsequent legislative appropriation as an assurance of the continued operation and solvency of the department, board, agency or authority but which does not constitute a valid and binding obligation for which the full faith and credit of such state or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico are pledged, which are payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing source owned, controlled or operated thereby; provided the obligations issued by an entity described in (1), above, are rated in one of the three highest grades, and such obligations issued by an entity described in (2), above, are rated in one of the two highest grades by a nationally recognized investment service organization that has been engaged regularly in rating state and municipal issues for a period of not less than five years.

(j) Obligations issued, assumed or guaranteed by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, Inter-American Development Bank, the Government Development Bank of Puerto Rico, the Asian Development Bank, or the African Development Bank.

(k) Participation certificates of the Export-Import Bank of the United States.

(l) Bonds and notes of the California Housing Finance Agency issued pursuant to Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 51350) of Part 3 of Division 31 of the Health and Safety Code.

(m) Promissory notes secured by first mortgages and first trust deeds which comply with Section 53651.2.

(n) Any bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness of a nonprofit corporation issued to finance the construction of a school building or school buildings pursuant to a lease or agreement with a school district entered into in compliance with the provisions of Section 39315 or 81345 of the Education Code, and also any bonds, notes, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness issued to refinance those bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness as specified in Section 39317 of the Education Code.

(o) Any municipal securities, as defined by Section 3(a)(29) of the Securities Exchange Act of June 6, 1934 (15 U.S.C. Sec. 78, as amended), which are issued by this state or any local agency thereof.

(p) With the consent of the treasurer, letters of credit issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco which comply with Section 53651.6.

SEC. 3. Section 53651.4 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53651.4. (a) A depository which uses eligible securities of the class described in subdivision (m) of Section 53651 shall, within 90 days after the close of each calendar year or within a longer period as the administrator may specify, file with the administrator a report of an independent certified public accountant regarding compliance with this article and with regulations and orders issued by the administrator under this article with respect to eligible securities of that class. The report shall be based upon the audit, shall contain the information, and shall be in the form the administrator may prescribe. The depository shall provide a copy of the report to the treasurer on request.

(b) If a depository which is a state bank files with the administrator, not less than 90 days before the beginning of the calendar year, a notice that it elects to be examined by the administrator instead of filing a report of an independent certified public accountant under subdivision (a) for that calendar year, the depository shall be exempt from subdivision (a) for that calendar year and shall for that calendar year be subject to examination by the administrator regarding compliance with this article and with regulations and orders under this article with respect to eligible securities of the class described in subdivision (m) of Section 53651. The administrator shall provide a report to a treasurer with deposits in the examined state bank upon request of the treasurer.

(c) A national bank may apply to the administrator to be examined, and the administrator, in his or her discretion, may examine a national bank for the purposes of satisfying the requirements of subdivision (a). The administrator shall provide a report to a treasurer with deposits in the examined national bank upon request of the treasurer.

(d) Whenever the administrator examines a depository pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c), the depository shall pay, within 30 days after receipt of a statement from the administrator, a fee of two hundred dollars ($200) per day for each examiner engaged in the examination.

SEC. 4. Section 53661 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53661. (a) The Superintendent of Banks shall act as Administrator of Local Agency Security and shall be responsible for the administration of Sections 53638, 53651, 53651.2, 53651.4, 53651.6, 53652, 53654, 53655, 53656, 53657, 53658, 53659, 53660, 53661, 53663, 53664, 53665, 53666, and 53667.

(b) The administrator shall have the powers necessary or convenient to administer and enforce the sections specified in subdivision (a).

(c) (1) The administrator shall issue regulations consistent with law as the administrator may deem necessary or advisable in executing the powers, duties, and responsibilities assigned by this article. The regulations may include regulations prescribing standards for the valuation, marketability, and liquidity of the eligible securities of the class described in subdivision (m) of Section 53651, regulations prescribing procedures and documentation for adding, withdrawing, substituting, and holding pooled securities, and regulations prescribing the form, content, and execution of any application, report, or other document called for in any of the sections specified in subdivision (a) or in any regulation or order issued under any of those sections.

(2) The administrator, for good cause, may waive any provision of any regulation adopted pursuant to paragraph (1) or any order issued under this article, where the provision is not necessary in the public interest.

(d) The administrator may enter into any contracts or agreements as may be necessary, including joint underwriting agreements, to sell or liquidate eligible securities securing local agency deposits in the event of the failure of the depository or if the depository fails to pay all or part of the deposits of a local agency.

(e) The administrator shall require from every depository a report certified by the agent of depository listing all securities, and the market value thereof, which are securing local agency deposits together with the total deposits then secured by the pool, to determine whether there is compliance with Section 53652. These reports may be required whenever deemed necessary by the administrator, but shall be required at least four times each year at the times designated by the Comptroller of the Currency for reports from national banking associations. These reports shall be filed in the office of the administrator by the depository within 20 business days of the date the administrator calls for the report.

(f) The administrator may have access to reports of examination made by the Comptroller of the Currency insofar as the reports relate to national banking association trust department activities which are subject to this article.

(g) (1) The administrator shall require the immediate substitution of an eligible security, where the substitution is necessary for compliance with Section 53652, if (i) the administrator determines that a security listed in Section 53651 is not qualified to secure public deposits, or (ii) a treasurer, who has deposits secured by the securities pool, provides written notice to the administrator and the administrator confirms that a security in the pool is not qualified to secure public deposits.

(2) The failure of a depository to substitute securities, where the administrator has required the substitution, shall be reported by the administrator promptly to those treasurers having money on deposit in that depository and, in addition, shall be reported as follows:

(A) When that depository is a national bank, to the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States.

(B) When that depository is a state bank, to the Superintendent of Banks.

(C) When that depository is a federal association, to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

(D) When that depository is a savings association, to the Savings and Loan Commissioner.

(E) When that depository is a federal credit union, to the National Credit Union Administration.

(F) When that depository is a state credit union, to the Commissioner of Corporations.

(h) The administrator may require from each treasurer a registration report and at appropriate times a report stating the amount and location of each deposit together with other information deemed necessary by the administrator for effective operation of this article. The facts recited in any report from a treasurer to the administrator are conclusively presumed to be true for the single purpose of the administrator fulfilling responsibilities assigned to him or her by this article and for no other purpose.

(i) (1) If, after notice and opportunity for hearing, the administrator finds that any depository or agent of depository has violated or is violating, or that there is reasonable cause to believe that any depository or agent of depository is about to violate, any of the sections specified in subdivision (a) or any regulation or order issued under any of those sections, the administrator may order the depository or agent of depository to cease and desist from the violation or may by order suspend or revoke the authorization of the agent of depository. The order may require the depository or agent of depository to take affirmative action to correct any condition resulting from the violation.

(2) (A) If the administrator makes any of the findings set forth in paragraph (1) with respect to any depository or agent of depository and, in addition, finds that the violation or the continuation of the violation is likely to seriously prejudice the interests of treasurers, the administrator may order the depository or agent of depository to cease and desist from the violation or may suspend or revoke the authorization of the agent of depository. The order may require the depository or agent of depository to take affirmative action to correct any condition resulting from the violation.

(B) Within five business days after an order is issued under subparagraph (A), the depository or agent of depository may file with the administrator an application for a hearing on the order. The administrator shall schedule a hearing at least 30 days, but not more than 40 days, after receipt of an application for a hearing or within a shorter or longer period of time agreed to by a depository or an agent of depository. If the administrator fails to schedule the hearing within the specified or agreed to time period, the order shall be deemed rescinded. Within 30 days after the hearing, the administrator shall affirm, modify, or rescind the order; otherwise, the order shall be deemed rescinded. The right of a depository or agent of depository to which an order is issued under subparagraph (A) to petition for judicial review of the order shall not be affected by the failure of the depository or agent of depository to apply to the administrator for a hearing on the order pursuant to this subparagraph.

(3) Whenever the administrator issues a cease and desist order under paragraph (1) or (2), the administrator may in the order restrict the right of the depository to withdraw securities from a security pool; and, in that event, both the depository to which the order is directed and the agent of depository which holds the security pool shall comply with the restriction.

(4) In case the administrator issues an order under paragraph (1) or (2) suspending or revoking the authorization of an agent of depository, the administrator may order the agent of depository at its own expense to transfer all pooled securities held by it to such agent of depository as the administrator may designate in the order. The agent of depository designated in the order shall accept and hold the pooled securities in accordance with this article and regulations and orders issued under this article.

(j) In the discretion of the administrator, whenever it appears to the administrator that any person has violated or is violating, or that there is reasonable cause to believe that any person is about to violate, any of the sections specified in subdivision (a) or any regulation or order issued thereunder, the administrator may bring an action in the name of the people of the State of California in the superior court to enjoin the violation or to enforce compliance with those sections or any regulation or order issued thereunder. Upon a proper showing a permanent or preliminary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandate shall be granted, and the court may not require the administrator to post a bond.

(k) In addition to other remedies, the administrator shall have the power and authority to impose the following sanctions for noncompliance with the sections specified in subdivision (a) after a hearing if requested by the party deemed in noncompliance. Any fine assessed pursuant to this subdivision shall be paid within 30 days after receipt of the assessment.

(1) Assess against and collect from a depository a fine not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each day the depository fails to maintain with the agent of depository securities as required by Section 53652.

(2) Assess against and collect from a depository a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day beyond the time period specified in subdivision (b) of Section 53663 the depository negligently or willfully fails to file in the office of the administrator a written report required by that section.

(3) Assess against and collect from a depository a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day beyond the time period specified in subdivision (e) that a depository negligently or willfully fails to file in the office of the administrator a written report required by that subdivision.

(4) Assess and collect from an agent of depository a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day the agent of depository fails to comply with any of the applicable sections specified in subdivision (a) or any applicable regulation or order issued thereunder.

(l) (1) In the event that a depository or agent of depository fails to pay a fine assessed by the administrator pursuant to subdivision (k) within 30 days of receipt of the assessment, the administrator may assess and collect an additional penalty of 5 percent of the fine for each month or part thereof that the payment is delinquent.

(2) If a depository fails to pay the fines or penalties assessed by the administrator, the administrator may notify local agency treasurers with deposits in the depository.

(3) If an agent of depository fails to pay the fines or penalties assessed by the administrator, the administrator may notify local agency treasurers who have authorized the agent of depository as provided in Sections 53649 and 53656, and may by order revoke the authorization of the agent of depository as provided in subdivision (i).

SEC. 5. Section 53664 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53664. The individual reports specified in Sections 53654, 53660, 53661, and 53663 are not public documents and are not open to inspection by the public.

SEC. 6. Section 53667 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53667. (a) Expenses incurred by the administrator in carrying out the duties and responsibilities assigned to the administrator by the sections specified in subdivision (a) of Section 53661, shall be borne by the Local Agency Deposit Security Fund, which is hereby created and continuously appropriated to the administrator for the administration of the sections specified in subdivision (a) of Section 53661. This fund shall consist of fines levied pursuant to Section 53661, fees collected pursuant to the sections specified in subdivision (a) of Section 53661, and assessments levied pursuant to this section.

(b) Each fiscal year the administrator shall levy an assessment on a pro rata basis on those depositories which at any time during the preceding fiscal year held local agency deposits. The total assessment levied on all of those depositories shall be in an amount which, when added to the amount of fines and fees that the administrator estimates will be collected during the fiscal year when the assessment is levied, is sufficient in the judgment of the administrator to meet the expenses of the administrator in administering the sections specified in subdivision (a) of Section 53661 and to provide a reasonable reserve for contingencies. The basis of the apportionment of the assessment among the depositories assessed shall be the proportion that the average amount of local agency deposits held by each of those depositories bears to the average total amount of local agency deposits held by all of those depositories as shown by the reports of depositories to the administrator for the preceding fiscal year, as required in subdivision (e) of Section 53661; provided, however, that the amount of the assessment levied on each of those depositories shall be not less than twenty-five dollars ($25).

(c) The administrator shall notify each depository by mail of the amount levied against it. The depository shall pay the amount levied within 20 days after such notice into the Local Agency Deposit Security Fund for the administration of the sections specified in subdivision (a) of Section 53661. If payment is not made to the administrator within such time, the administrator shall assess and collect, in addition to the annual assessment, a penalty of 5 percent of the assessment for each month or part thereof that the payment is delinquent. If a depository fails to pay the assessment or penalties assessed by the administrator, the administrator may notify local agency treasurers with deposits in the depository.

An act to amend Sections 31726 and 31726.5 of, and to add Section 31728.2, to the Government Code, relating to county retirement.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31726 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31726. Upon retirement for nonservice-connected disability a member who has attained age 65 shall receive his or her service retirement allowance.

Every member under age 65 who is retired for nonservice-connected disability and who is not simultaneously retired as a member on deferred retirement of the State Employees' Retirement System or a retirement system established under this chapter in another county shall receive a disability retirement allowance which shall be the greater of:

(1) The sum to which he or she would be entitled as service retirement; or

(2) A sum which shall consist of:

(a) An annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated contributions at the time of his or her retirement.

(b) If, in the opinion of the board, his or her disability is not due to intemperate use of alcoholic liquor or drugs, willful misconduct, or violation of law on his or her part, a disability retirement pension purchased by contributions of the county or district.

(c) If, in the opinion of the board, his or her disability is not due to conviction of a felony or criminal activity which caused or resulted in the member's disability, a disability retirement pension purchased by contributions of the county or district.

Subdivision (c) shall only apply to a person who becomes a member of the system on or after January 1, 1988.

SEC. 2. Section 31726.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31726.5. Upon retirement for nonservice-connected disability a safety member who has attained age 55 shall receive his or her service retirement allowance. Every safety member under age 55 who is retired for nonservice-connected disability and who is not simultaneously retired as a member on deferred retirement of the Public Employees' Retirement System or a retirement system established under this chapter in another county shall receive a disability retirement allowance which shall be the greater of:

(a) The sum to which he or she would be entitled to as service retirement; or

(b) A sum which shall consist of:

(1) An annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated contributions at the time of his or her retirement.

(2) If, in the opinion of the board, his or her disability is not due to intemperate use of alcoholic liquor or drugs, willful misconduct, or violation of law on his or her part, a disability retirement pension purchased by contributions of the county or district.

(3) If, in the opinion of the board, his or her disability is not due to conviction of a felony or criminal activity which caused or resulted in the member's disability, a disability retirement pension purchased by contributions of the county or district.

Paragraph (3) shall only apply to a person who becomes a member of the association on or after January 1, 1988.

SEC. 3. Section 31728.2 is added to the Government Code, to read:

31728.2. Notwithstanding Sections 31728 and 31728.1, if, in the opinion of the board, the disability is due to or results from the conviction of the member of a felony under state or federal law or if the board determines that the criminal activity caused or resulted in the member's disability, the board may pay the member a lump-sum which is equal to the sum of his or her accumulated contributions in lieu of the benefits to which the member would otherwise be entitled as set forth in this article and provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to divest a member of any vested right to a service retirement allowance.

This section shall apply only to a person who becomes a member of the system on or after January 1, 1988.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 843

An act to amend Section 832.4 of the Penal Code, relating to peace officers.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 832.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

832.4. (a) Any undersheriff or deputy sheriff of a county, any policeman of a city, and any policeman of a district authorized by statute to maintain a police department, who is first employed after January 1, 1974, and is responsible for the prevention and detection of crime and the general enforcement of the criminal laws of this state, shall obtain the basic certificate issued by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training within 18 months of his employment in order to continue to exercise the powers of a peace officer after the expiration of such 18-month period.

(b) Every peace officer listed in subdivision (a) of Section 830.1, except a sheriff, elected constable, or elected marshal, who is employed after January 1, 1988, shall obtain the basic certificate issued by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training upon completion of probation, but in no case later than 24 months after his or her employment, in order to continue to exercise the powers of a peace officer after the expiration of the 24-month period.

In those cases where the probationary period established by the employing agency is 24 months, the peace officers described in this subdivision may continue to exercise the powers of a peace officer for an additional three-month period to allow for the processing of the certification application.

CHAPTER 844

An act to amend Sections 14029.1, 14046, 14081.2, 14125, and 14131 of, and to add Section 14028.5 to, the Corporations Code, relating to small business development.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14028.5 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

14028.5. The board shall adopt regulations concerning the implementation of direct lending as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The adoption of these regulations is an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, or general welfare within the meaning of subdivision (b) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. Notwithstanding subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code, the regulations shall not remain in effect for more than 180 days unless the board complies with all provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, as required by subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Section 14029.1 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14029.1. The Small Business Expansion Fund is created solely for the purpose of receiving state money to make loans, guarantees, and restricted investments pursuant to the provisions of this article.

SEC. 3. Section 14046 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14046. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 14131 and Section 14083, the purpose of a regional small business development corporation loan guarantee fund shall be to make and guarantee loans, approved by the regional corporation, which meet the California Small Business Development Corporation Law loan criteria established by the board, policies of the corporation, and provisions of Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 14066). The state shall not be liable or obligated in any way as a result of the allocation of state money to a regional small business development corporation loan guarantee fund beyond the state money which is allocated and deposited in the fund pursuant to this chapter, and which is not otherwise withdrawn by the state pursuant to this chapter.

(b) A summary of all loans to which a state guarantee is attached shall be submitted to the executive director upon completion of the loan agreement.

SEC. 4. Section 14081.2 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14081.2. A small business development corporation may charge the borrower or financial institution a loan guarantee fee on all loans made or guaranteed by the corporation to defray the operating expenses of the corporation. The amount of the fee shall be determined by the board.

SEC. 5. Section 14125 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14125. (a) The board may authorize the establishment of a new regional corporation which will become an urban development corporation or rural development corporation within six months of such designation. To qualify for consideration as a regional corporation, an organization must have had a minimum of two years' experience in small business finance, management, and technical assistance. These qualifications may be waived by the board and the executive director in areas of high unemployment.

(b) The regional corporations designated as urban development corporations or rural development corporations shall within a reasonable period of time take action to amend their articles of incorporation and bylaws to conform to this article.

(c) Thirty days after designation as an urban development corporation or rural development corporation, the corporation shall submit to the board a plan for an urban or rural development program which is independent of state funding, pursuant to this chapter, within four years. The board shall notify the urban development corporation or rural development corporation of its recommended acceptance or rejection for cause, within 60 days of submission of the plan. Upon acceptance, the plan shall be the basis for all the urban development corporations' or rural development corporations' funding pursuant to this chapter. Until the plan is accepted, the urban development corporation or rural development corporation designee shall continue to operate as a regional corporation as defined in Articles 1 (commencing with Section 14000) to 13 (commencing with Section 14120), inclusive.

(d) The state, through the Office of Small Business, shall continue to have jurisdiction and to exercise supervision over urban development corporations and rural development corporations which have achieved independence from state administrative funding. The state shall have the right to review and approve the activities and expenditure of funds of those urban development corporations and rural development corporations to ensure conformity with the provisions and intent of the Small Business Corporation Law and the regulations thereof. The use of state funds paid out to the corporation loan guarantee fund and the return on those funds from investment pursuant to Section 14044 is conditional pursuant to Sections 14025 and 14044.1. Each corporation shall enter into a written signed agreement with the state at the beginning of each fiscal year. The agreement shall govern the activities in which the corporations engage, the investment of state funds and its return, and the budgeted administrative expenses the corporations may incur. In the event the state and corporation do not reach an agreement, or the state finds the corporation has violated the terms of an active agreement, the state may take action under Sections 14025 and 14044.1 or other action as appropriate. In the event the state and corporation do not reach agreement or the state finds the corporation has violated the terms of an active agreement, the corporation shall have no authority to withdraw or encumber the corporation loan guarantee funds or the return on those funds by the issuance of guarantees, by incurring expenses against the fund and its return in any manner whatsoever, and the state may take action under Sections 14025 and 14044.1 or other action as appropriate. Any such guarantee or other encumbrance made by the corporation in violation of this section shall be null and void, and neither the state nor the corporation loan guarantee funds will be liable therefor.

SEC. 6. Section 14131 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14131. (a) The UDC's or RDC's guarantee shall be backed by funds on deposit in the UDC's or RDC's own loan guarantee fund account established pursuant to Articles 5 (commencing with Section 14040) and 6 (commencing with Section 14045).

(b) Loans made under an UDC or RDC guarantee shall be secured by a 100 percent reserve. The guarantee portion may be no more than 90 percent of the required total financing arranged from all lending sources. However, the guaranteed portion may be 100 percent for revolving lines of credit, personal farm operating loans, interim financing where another lender or guarantor will take out the corporation's position within 180 days, loans to UDC's or RDC's, and loans where traditional lenders have turned down the loan because it is too small.

(c) The UDC or RDC shall guarantee loans wherever possible. However, earnings from the trust funds may be used for direct lending provided that UDC or RDC direct loan funds do not constitute more than one-third of the loan, with the following exceptions:

(1) If a firm has received a Phase 1 or Phase 2 Small Business Innovation Research Grant awarded by a federal agency and is suffering cash flow problems because of delay in receipt of grant funds from the date of incurring expenses related to the grant project, a UDC or RDC may advance an interim loan covering 80 percent of the project expenses from trust fund earnings, provided the firm assigns proceeds of grant invoices (or other documentations submitted by the firm to the federal agency for payment) to the corporation for payment of the interim loan advanced and the federal agency agrees to the assignment.

(2) Any RDC that is making a direct loan to a farmer or farm corporation may use trust funds from both the income and trust account, provided that at least 50 percent of the direct loan portfolio is guaranteed by a governmental agency, excluding any state government agency. The total amount of direct loans issued by a corporation shall not exceed 33 percent of the trust fund, including trust income, as determined at the time each loan is made. Only unencumbered funds shall be available for direct lending. Each RDC shall submit an application to the department for participation in the direct loan program under this section. In its capacity as a direct lender, the RDC may sell in the secondary market the guaranteed portion of each loan so as to raise additional funds for direct lending. Funds raised through the secondary market shall not be considered in arriving at the percentage of the loan portfolio to be guaranteed by a government agency above. Any direct loan made by an RDC under this section shall not exceed three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000). The department, in consultation with the board, shall issue regulations governing these direct loans on or before March 1, 1988.

(d) In furtherance of the purposes of this part, up to one-half of the corporate loan guarantee funds may be used to guarantee loans utilized to establish a Business and Industrial Development Corporation (BIDCO) under Division 15 (commencing with Section 33000) of the Financial Code.

(e) The UDC or RDC may assume a negotiated equity position of not more than 5 percent of the current equity in an eligible small business, in lieu of part or all of the fees chargeable to such business or through direct purchase, provided state funds are not used to purchase the equity position. An equity position of 5 percent or less shall not be construed as a conflict of interest in terms of financial and technical assistant participation.

(f) As a method of implementing the direct loan programs established in this chapter, the Office of Small Business may loan trust funds to an RDC for the express purpose of lending those funds to an identified borrower. The loan by the Office of Small Business to the RDC shall be in the amount and terms similar to the loan between the RDC and the borrower. The loan between the Office of Small Business and the RDC shall be evidenced by the loan agreement between the RDC and the borrower and collateralized by the note between the RDC and the borrower. In the absence of fraud on the part of the RDC, the liability of the RDC to repay the loan to the Office of Small Business is limited to the repayment received by the corporation from the borrower.

SEC. 7. In enacting this act, it is the intent of the Legislature to develop a program for collecting and liquidating defaulted loans so that urban development corporations and rural development corporations can qualify to become full-service lenders under the Small Business Administration, and so that rural development corporations may qualify for full-service lender status under the Farmers Home Administration.

CHAPTER 845

An act to amend Sections 5903, and 5906 of, and to add Sections 5903.5 and 5909 to, the Government Code, relating to public financing, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5903 of the Government Code is amended to read:

5903. If, prior to issuing any bonds, the legislative body determines that the interest payable on the bonds to be issued by the state or local government will be subject to federal income taxation under the law in existence on the date of issuance or pending on the date of issuance with an effective date preceding the date of issuance, then notwithstanding any other provision of law, the ordinance, resolution, indenture, agreement, or other instrument providing for the issuance of the bonds may provide for any of the following:

(a) The bonds shall be in such denominations, in such form, either bearer or registered, and payable at such place or places, either within or without the United States, at such time or times, in lawful money of the United States of America, with such terms of redemption, and at such interest rate or rates, either fixed or variable, including methods of determining such rate or rates if variable, as the legislative body shall determine.

(b) The bonds shall be sold at public or private sale, in such manner and place or places, either within or without the United States, and at such price or prices, above or below par, as the legislative body shall determine.

(c) In connection with, or incidental to, the sale and issuance of the bonds, the state or local government may offer, sell, and issue warrants for additional bonds, as well as issue additional bonds pursuant to these warrants on terms consistent with this chapter, and may enter into any contracts which the legislative body determines to be necessary or appropriate to place the obligation of the state or local government, as represented by the bonds and the contract or contracts, in whole or in part on the interest rate, cash flow, or other basis desired by the legislative body, including, without limitation, contracts commonly known as interest rate swap agreements, forward payment conversion agreements, futures, or contracts providing for payments based on levels of or changes in interest rates, or contracts to exchange cash flows or a series of payments, or contracts, including, without limitation, options, puts or calls to hedge payment, rate, spread, or similar exposure. These contracts or arrangements may also be entered into by state or local governments in connection with, or incidental to, entering into any agreement which secures bonds, including bonds issued by private entities. These contracts and arrangements shall be made upon the terms and conditions established by the legislative body, after giving due consideration for the creditworthiness of the counterparties, where applicable, including any rating by a nationally recognized rating agency or any other criteria as may be appropriate. In addition, these contracts and arrangements may be made only if the bonds are rated in one of the three highest rating categories by two nationally recognized rating agencies, and if there has been receipt, from any rating agency rating the bonds, of written evidence that the contract or agreement will not adversely affect the rating.

(d) In connection with, or incidental to, the sale and issuance of the bonds, or entering into any of the contracts or arrangements referred to in subdivision (c), the state or local government may enter into such credit enhancement or liquidity agreements, with such payment, interest rate, security, default, remedy, and other terms and conditions as the legislative body shall determine.

(e) Proceeds of the bonds and any moneys set aside or pledged to secure payment of the bonds, or any of the contracts entered into pursuant to subdivision (c), may be invested in securities or obligations described in the ordinance, resolution, indenture, agreement, or other instrument providing for the issuance of the bonds and may be pledged to and used to service any of the contracts or agreements entered into pursuant to this section.

SEC. 2. Section 5903.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

5903.5. Section 5903 shall apply to any bonds the interest on which will not be subject to federal income taxation under the law in existence on the date of issuance or pending on the date of issuance with an effective date preceding the date of issuance, notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the bonds are issued by the same state or local government for the same project or purpose and within 45 days of the date of issuance of bonds described in Section 5903.

SEC. 3. Section 5906 of the Government Code is amended to read:

5906. Any bonds issued by a state or local government pursuant to this chapter, or otherwise, and the purchasers or holders thereof, shall be exempt from the usury provisions of Section 1 of Article XV of the California Constitution. Any loan, lease, installment sale, investment, forbearance of money, or other agreement between a user of the proceeds of or other moneys pledged to bonds and the issuer of the bonds, or entered into by or on behalf of the issuer of the bonds which provides for the use of the proceeds of the bonds or other moneys pledged to or securing the bonds, and the issuer of the bonds or any person acting on its behalf in connection with the foregoing shall be exempt from the usury provisions of Section 1 of Article XV of the California Constitution. This section creates and authorizes exempted classes of transactions and persons pursuant to Section 1 of Article XV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 4. Section 5909 is added to the Government Code, to read:

5909. To the extent that the provisions of this chapter are inconsistent with any other provision of general law or special act or any part thereof, now or hereafter enacted, the provisions of this chapter shall be controlling.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Since federal legislation has been enacted which makes interest on certain types of bonds issued by governmental entities subject to federal taxation, in order to provide the state and local governments with the necessary flexibility for successful financing of public programs, as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 846

An act to add Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 5920) to Division 6 of Title 1 of the Government Code, relating to public financing.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 5920) is added to Division 6 of Title 1 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 12. PUBLIC FINANCE CONTRACTS

5920. The Legislature finds and declares that the incurring or carrying of obligations and making and managing of investments by state and local governments involves a variety of interest rates, payment, and other risks, that a number of financial instruments are available to offset, hedge, or reduce, and improve net costs, and that many state agencies and local governments lack express statutory authority to take advantage of those instruments.

5921. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply, unless the context otherwise indicates or requires another or different meaning or intent:

(a) "Bonds" mean bonds, notes, bond anticipation notes, commercial paper, or other evidences of indebtedness, or lease, installment purchase, or other agreements or certificates of participation therein.

(b) "State or local government" means the state, any department, agency, board, commission, or authority of the state, or any city, city and county, county, public district, public corporation, authority, agency, board, commission, or other public entity.

5922. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all of the following apply:

(a) In connection with, or incidental to, the issuance or carrying of bonds, or acquisition or carrying of any investment or program of investment, any state or local government may enter into any contracts which the state or local government determines to be necessary or appropriate to place the obligation or investment of the state or local government, as represented by the bonds, investment or program of investment and the contract or contracts, in whole or in part, on the interest rate, currency, cash-flow, or other basis desired by the state or local government, including, without limitation, contracts commonly known as interest rate swap agreements, currency swap agreements, forward payment conversion agreements, futures, or contracts providing for payments based on levels of, or changes in, interest rates, currency exchange rates, stock or other indices, or contracts to exchange cash flows or a series of payments, or contracts, including, without limitation, interest rate floors or caps, options, puts or calls to hedge payment, currency, rate, spread, or similar exposure. These contracts or arrangements may also be entered into by state or local governments in connection with, or incidental to, entering into or maintaining any agreement which secures bonds, including bonds issued by private entities. These contracts and arrangements shall be entered into with the parties, selected by the means, and contain the payment, security, default, remedy, and other terms and conditions, determined by the state or local government, after giving due consideration for the creditworthiness of the counterparties, where applicable, including any rating by a nationally recognized rating agency or any other criteria as may be appropriate.

No local government shall enter into any of the contracts or arrangements pursuant to this subdivision, unless its governing body first determines that the contract or arrangement or program of contracts is designed to reduce the amount or duration of payment, currency, rate, spread, or similar risk or result in a lower cost of borrowing when used in combination with the issuance of bonds or enhance the relationship between risk and return with respect to the investment or program of investment in connection with, or incident to, the contract or arrangement which is to be entered into.

(b) Bonds issued by a state or local government may be payable in accordance with their terms, in whole or in part, in currency other than lawful money of the United States of America, provided that the state or local government enter into a currency swap or similar agreement for payments in lawful money of the United States of America, which covers the entire amount of the debt service payment obligation of the state or local government with respect to the bonds payable in other currency, and provided further that if the term of that agreement is less than the term of the bonds, the state or local government shall covenant to enter into additional agreements as may be necessary to cover the entire amount of the debt service payment obligation. An issuer shall include in its written notice to the California Debt Advisory Commission pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 8855 a statement of its intent to issue bonds payable in a currency other than lawful money of the United States of America.

(c) In connection with, or incidental to, the issuance or carrying of bonds, or entering into any of the contracts or arrangements referred to in subdivision (a), the state or local government may enter into credit enhancement or liquidity agreements, with payment, interest rate, currency, security, default, remedy, and other terms and conditions as the state or local government determines.

(d) Proceeds of bonds and any moneys set aside and pledged to secure payment of the bonds or any of the contracts entered into pursuant to this section, may be invested in securities or obligations described in the ordinance, resolution, indenture, agreement, or other instrument providing for the issuance of the bonds or the contract and may be pledged to and used to service any of the contracts or agreements entered into pursuant to this section.

5923. (a) To the extent that this chapter is inconsistent with any other general statute or special act or parts thereof, now or hereafter enacted, this chapter is controlling.

(b) This chapter shall be liberally construed to effect its purpose.

CHAPTER 847

An act to amend Section 1091 of the Government Code, relating to public officers and employees.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1091 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1091. (a) An officer shall not be deemed to be interested in a contract entered into by a body or board of which the officer is a member within the meaning of this article if the officer has only a remote interest in the contract and if the fact of that interest is disclosed to the body of the board of which the officer is a member and noted in its official records, and thereafter the body or board authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract in good faith by a vote of its membership sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of the officer or member with the remote interest.

(b) As used in this article, "remote interest" means any of the following:

(1) That of an officer or employee of a nonprofit corporation, except as provided in paragraph (8) of subdivision (a) of Section 1091.5.

(2) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if that contracting party has 10 or more other employees and if the officer was an employee or agent of that contracting party for at least three years prior to the officer initially accepting his or her office.

For purposes of this paragraph, time of employment with the contracting party by the officer shall be counted in computing the three-year period specified in this paragraph even though the contracting party has been converted from one form of business organization to a different form of business organization within three years of the initial taking of office by the officer. Time of employment in that case shall be counted only if, after the transfer or change in organization, the real or ultimate ownership of the contracting party is the same or substantially similar to that which existed before the transfer or change in organization. For purposes of this paragraph, stockholders, bondholders, partners, or other persons holding an interest in the contracting party are regarded as having the "real or ultimate ownership" of the contracting party.

(3) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if all of the following conditions are met:

(A) The agency of which the person is an officer is a local public agency located in a county with a population of less than 4,000,000.

(B) The contract is competitively bid and is not for personal services.

(C) The employee or agent is not in a primary management capacity with the contracting party, is not an officer or director of the contracting party, and holds no ownership interest in the contracting party.

(D) The contracting party has 10 or more other employees.

(E) The employee or agent did not directly participate in formulating the bid of the contracting party.

(F) The contracting party is the lowest responsible bidder.

(4) That of a parent in the earnings of his or her minor child for personal services.

(5) That of a landlord or tenant of the contracting party.

(6) That of an attorney of the contracting party or that of an owner, officer, employee, or agent of a firm which renders, or has rendered, service to the contracting party in the capacity of stockbroker, insurance agent, insurance broker, real estate agent, or real estate broker, if these individuals have not received and will not receive remuneration, consideration, or a commission as a result of the contract.

(7) That of a member of a nonprofit corporation formed under the Food and Agricultural Code or a nonprofit corporation formed under the Corporations Code for the sole purpose of engaging in the merchandising of agricultural products or the supplying of water.

(8) That of a supplier of goods or services when those goods or services have been supplied to the contracting party by the officer for at least five years prior to his or her election or appointment to office.

(9) That of a person subject to the provisions of Section 1090 in any contract or agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of the California Land Conservation Act of 1965.

(10) That of an officer, director, or employee of a bank, bank holding company, or savings and loan association with which a party to the contract has the relationship of borrower or depositor, debtor or creditor.

(11) That of an engineer, geologist, or architect employed by a consulting engineering or architectural firm. This paragraph applies only to an employee of a consulting firm who does not serve in a primary management capacity, and does not apply to an officer or director of a consulting firm.

(12) That of an elected officer otherwise subject to Section 1090, in any housing assistance payment contract entered into pursuant to Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1437f) as amended, provided that the housing assistance payment contract was in existence before Section 1090 became applicable to the officer and will be renewed or extended only as to the existing tenant, or, in a jurisdiction in which the rental vacancy rate is less than 5 percent, as to new tenants in a unit previously under a Section 8 contract. This section applies to any person who became a public official on or after November 1, 1986.

(c) This section is not applicable to any officer interested in a contract who influences or attempts to influence another member of the body or board of which he or she is a member to enter into the contract.

(d) The willful failure of an officer to disclose the fact of his or her interest in a contract pursuant to this section is punishable as provided in Section 1097. That violation does not void the contract unless the contracting party had knowledge of the fact of the remote interest of the officer at the time the contract was executed.

SEC. 2. Section 1091 of the Government Code is amended to read:

1091. (a) An officer shall not be deemed to be interested in a contract entered into by a body or board of which the officer is a member within the meaning of this article if the officer has only a remote interest in the contract and if the fact of that interest is disclosed to the body of the board of which the officer is a member and noted in its official records, and thereafter the body or board authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract in good faith by a vote of its membership sufficient for the purpose without counting the vote or votes of the officer or member with the remote interest.

(b) As used in this article, "remote interest" means any of the following:

(1) That of an officer or employee of a nonprofit corporation, except as provided in paragraph (8) of subdivision (a) of Section 1091.5, or that of an employee of an educational institution or agency.

(2) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if that contracting party has 10 or more other employees and if the officer was an employee or agent of that contracting party for at least three years prior to the officer initially accepting his or her office.

For purposes of this paragraph, time of employment with the contracting party by the officer shall be counted in computing the three-year period specified in this paragraph even though the contracting party has been converted from one form of business organization to a different form of business organization within three years of the initial taking of office by the officer. Time of employment in that case shall be counted only if, after the transfer or change in organization, the real or ultimate ownership of the contracting party is the same or substantially similar to that which existed before the transfer or change in organization. For purposes of this paragraph, stockholders, bondholders, partners, or other persons holding an interest in the contracting party are regarded as having the "real or ultimate ownership" of the contracting party.

(3) That of an employee or agent of the contracting party, if all of the following conditions are met:

(A) The agency of which the person is an officer is a local public agency located in a county with a population of less than 4,000,000.

(B) The contract is competitively bid and is not for personal services.

(C) The employee or agent is not in a primary management capacity with the contracting party, is not an officer or director of the contracting party, and holds no ownership interest in the contracting party.

(D) The contracting party has 10 or more other employees.

(E) The employee or agent did not directly participate in formulating the bid of the contracting party.

(F) The contracting party is the lowest responsible bidder.

(4) That of a parent in the earnings of his or her minor child for personal services.

(5) That of a landlord or tenant of the contracting party.

(6) That of an attorney of the contracting party or that of an owner, officer, employee, or agent of a firm which renders, or has rendered, service to the contracting party in the capacity of stockbroker, insurance agent, insurance broker, real estate agent, or real estate broker, if these individuals have not received and will not receive remuneration, consideration, or a commission as a result of the contract.

(7) That of a member of a nonprofit corporation formed under the Food and Agricultural Code or a nonprofit corporation formed under the Corporations Code for the sole purpose of engaging in the merchandising of agricultural products or the supplying of water.

(8) That of a supplier of goods or services when those goods or services have been supplied to the contracting party by the officer for at least five years prior to his or her election or appointment to office.

(9) That of a person subject to the provisions of Section 1090 in any contract or agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of the California Land Conservation Act of 1965.

(10) That of an officer, director, or employee of a bank, bank holding company, or savings and loan association with which a party to the contract has the relationship of borrower or depositor, debtor or creditor.

(11) That of an engineer, geologist, or architect employed by a consulting engineering or architectural firm. This paragraph applies only to an employee of a consulting firm who does not serve in a primary management capacity, and does not apply to an officer or director of a consulting firm.

(12) That of an elected officer otherwise subject to Section 1090, in any housing assistance payment contract entered into pursuant to Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1437f) as amended, provided that the housing assistance payment contract was in existence before Section 1090 became applicable to the officer and will be renewed or extended only as to the existing tenant, or, in a jurisdiction in which the rental vacancy rate is less than 5 percent, as to new tenants in a unit previously under a Section 8 contract. This section applies to any person who became a public official on or after November 1, 1986.

(c) This section is not applicable to any officer interested in a contract who influences or attempts to influence another member of the body or board of which he or she is a member to enter into the contract.

(d) The willful failure of an officer to disclose the fact of his or her interest in a contract pursuant to this section is punishable as provided in Section 1097. That violation does not void the contract unless the contracting party had knowledge of the fact of the remote interest of the officer at the time the contract was executed.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1091 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1494. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 1091 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1494, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 848

An act to amend Section 9975 of, and to add Section 9989.10 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to employment agencies, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9975 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9975. (a) If an employment agency sends an applicant for employment and the applicant accepts employment other than that position specified in the bona fide order for employment to which the applicant was sent, but with the same employer, the agency shall be entitled to a fee for the employment of the applicant computed under the terms of the fee schedule in effect in the agency at the time of referral, provided that the applicant accepts employment within 180 days of the date of referral. The expiration date of the referral shall be stated in the contract.

(b) If an employment agency sends an applicant for employment to a company with a bona fide job order and the company subsequently sends the applicant to a different division of the company and if the applicant is hired by the referred-to division, the employment agency shall be entitled to a fee according to the terms of the fee schedule in effect in the agency at the time of referral.

(c) In interagency disputes concerning the earning of a fee for placement of an applicant, the fee shall be earned by the agency responsible for the applicant being placed. A reasonable effort shall be made by the billing agency to determine that it is entitled to the fee. The applicant shall be responsible for only one full fee for any single placement, and this fact shall be so stated in the contract.

SEC. 2. Section 9989.10 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

9989.10. (a) Sections 9989.2, 9989.3, 9989.4, and 9989.5, paragraphs (3) and (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 9989.6, and Section 9989.7 do not apply to any job listing service which meets the requirements specified in subdivision (b).

(b) A job listing service shall be exempt pursuant to subdivision (a) if it complies with all of the following:

(1) Does not provide, offer, or imply the offer of, services related to employment.

(2) Does not offer or sell lists of employers or job openings to job seekers on an in-person basis.

(3) Maintains records of all its advertisements, identified by date and publication, and the sources of information used for the preparation of lists of employers and job openings, from which the bureau can determine the accuracy of any statistics regarding success rate or similar statistics used in its advertising, promotional materials, or oral or written statements to job seekers.

(4) Identifies, on each list of employers and job openings, its general source of information for jobs included on that list when the source of information is a publication or other public record.

(5) Provides, at or before the time of delivery of the list, a prominent written statement to the job seeker granting the job seeker a right to return the list for an immediate refund of the purchase price during a stated period of time which expires not less than 10 days from the date of delivery of the list. The list shall be deemed returned upon delivery to the address from which it was obtained or upon deposit in the mail properly addressed to that address, with postage prepaid.

SEC. 3. Section 9992 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9992. Upon receipt of a complaint, or upon its own motion, the bureau shall ascertain whether or not there is a probable violation by the licensee constituting a ground for disciplinary action and may make or cause to be made such investigation as it deems necessary in order to ascertain this fact. All inspections and investigations are to be performed by personnel of the department's division of investigation.

Fee controversies which do not involve a violation of any provision of this chapter, or of a rule or regulation of the bureau, shall not be a proper subject for complaint under this section.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

There are various job listing services which, because of their limited activities, should not be required to be licensed by the Bureau of Personnel Services but should be monitored to ensure consumer protection; and there are basic inequities that appear in the Employment Agency Law that work a hardship or injustice to some persons. In order to achieve this objective at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 849

An act to amend Section 879 of, and to add Sections 709 and 871.5 to, the Public Utilities Code, relating to telecommunications.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 709 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

709. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the policies for telecommunications in California are both of the following:

(a) To assure the continued affordability and widespread availability of high quality basic telephone service for all Californians.

(b) To encourage the development and deployment of new technologies and the equitable provision of services in a way which efficiently meets consumer need and encourages the availability of a wide choice of state-of-the-art services.

SEC. 2. Section 871.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

871.5. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The Moore Universal Telephone Service Act has been, and continues to be, an important means to assuring that every Californian enjoys his or her basic right to communicate by enabling more than 800,000 California households to obtain affordable basic residential telephone service.

(b) Every means should be employed by the commission and telephone corporations operating within service areas which furnish universal telephone service to ensure that every person qualified to receive universal telephone service is informed of and is afforded the opportunity to subscribe to that service.

(c) The furnishing of universal telephone service is in the public interest and should be supported fairly and equitably by every telephone corporation, and the commission, in administering the universal telephone service program, should implement the program in a way that is equitable, nondiscriminatory, and without competitive consequences for the telecommunications industry in California.

SEC. 3. Section 879 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

879. (a) The commission shall, at least annually, initiate a proceeding to set rates for universal telephone service. All telephone corporations providing universal telephone service shall annually file, on a date set by the commission, proposed universal telephone service rates and a statement of projected revenue needs to meet the funding requirements to provide universal telephone service to qualified subscribers, together with proposed funding methods to provide the necessary funding. These funding methods shall include identification of those services whose rates shall be adjusted to provide the necessary funding.

(b) The commission shall commence a proceeding within 30 days after the date set for the filings required in subdivision (a), giving interested parties an opportunity to comment on the proposed rates and funding requirements and the proposed funding methods. The commission may change the rates, funding requirements, and funding methods proposed by the telephone corporations in any manner necessary, including reasonably spreading the funding among the services offered by the telephone corporations, to meet the public interest. Within 60 days of the annual filing, the commission shall issue an order setting universal telephone service rates and funding methods for each telephone corporation making a filing as required in subdivision (a). The commission may establish a universal service pool composed of the rate adjustments and surcharges imposed by the commission pursuant to this section for the purpose of funding universal telephone service.

(c) Any order issued by the commission pursuant to this section shall require telephone corporations providing universal telephone service to apply the funding requirement in the form of a surcharge to service rates which may be separately identified on the bills of customers using those services. The commission shall not allow any surcharge under this section on the rates charged by those telephone corporations for universal telephone service.

(d) The commission shall permit telephone corporations operating between service areas to adjust the rates of any service which may be affected by any surcharge imposed by this section.

CHAPTER 850

An act to amend Sections 103, 107, 128.5, 130, 131, 164, 2732.1, 2733, 2741, 2742, 2746.6, 2761, 6980.10, 7500.1, 7507.9, 9941, 9946, and 19210 of, to amend and renumber Section 483 of, to add Section 5061 to, and to repeal Sections 205 and 2660.5 of, the Business and Professions Code, and to amend and renumber Section 44052 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to business and professions, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 103 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

103. Each member of a board, commission, or committee created in the various chapters of Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) and Division 3 (commencing with Section 5000), in Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 316) of Chapter 4, and in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 18600) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 19000) of Division 8, shall receive the moneys specified in this section when authorized by the respective provisions.

Each such member shall receive a per diem of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day actually spent in the discharge of official duties, and shall be reimbursed for traveling and other expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of official duties.

The payments in each instance shall be made only from the fund from which the expenses of the agency are paid and shall be subject to the availability of money.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no public officer or employee shall receive per diem salary compensation for serving on those boards, commissions, committees, or the Consumer Advisory Council on any day when the officer or employee also received compensation for his or her regular public employment.

SEC. 2. Section 107 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

107. Pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 4 of Article VII of the California Constitution, each board may appoint a person exempt from civil service and may fix his or her salary, with the approval of the Department of Personnel Administration pursuant to Section 19825 of the Government Code, who shall be designated as an executive officer unless the licensing act of the particular board designates the person as a registrar.

SEC. 3. Section 128.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

128.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if at the end of any fiscal year, an agency within the Department of Consumer Affairs, except the agencies referred to in subdivision (b), has unencumbered funds in an amount which equals or is more than the agency's operating budget for the next two fiscal years, the agency shall reduce license or other fees, whether the license or other fees be fixed by statute or may be determined by the agency within limits fixed by statute, during the following fiscal year in an amount which will reduce any surplus funds of the agency to an amount less than the agency's operating budget for the next two fiscal years.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if at the end of any fiscal year, the California State Board of Architectural Examiners, the Board of Behavioral Science Examiners, the Board of Examiners in Veterinary Medicine, the Certified Shorthand Reporters Board, the Board of Medical Quality Assurance, the Board of Vocational Nurse and Psychiatric Technician Examiners of the State of California, the Bureau of Collection and Investigative Services has unencumbered funds in an amount which equals or is more than the agency's operating budget for the next two fiscal years, the agency shall reduce license or other fees, whether such license or other fees be fixed by statute or may be determined by the agency within limits fixed by statute, during the following fiscal year in an amount which will reduce any surplus funds of the agency to an amount less than the agency's operating budget for the next two fiscal years.

SEC. 4. Section 130 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

130. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the term of office of any member of an agency designated in subdivision (b) shall be for a term of four years expiring on June 1st.

(b) Subdivision (a) applies to the following boards or committees:

(1) Board of Medical Quality Assurance of the State of California

(2) California Board of Podiatric Medicine

(3) Physical Therapy Examining Committee

(4) Board of Registered Nursing

(5) Board of Vocational Nurse and Psychiatric Technician Examiners of the State of California

(6) State Board of Optometry

(7) California State Board of Pharmacy

(8) Board of Examiners in Veterinary Medicine

(9) California State Board of Architectural Examiners

(10) California State Board of Landscape Architects

(11) State Board of Barber Examiners

(12) State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors

(13) Contractors' State License Board

(14) State Board of Cosmetology

(15) State Board of Guide Dogs for the Blind

(16) State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers

(17) Board of Behavioral Science Examiners

(18) Structural Pest Control Board

(19) Cemetery Board

(20) Bureau of Electronic and Appliance Repair Advisory Board

(21) Certified Shorthand Reporters Board

(22) State Board of Registration for Geologists and Geophysicists

(23) State Athletic Commission

(24) California Advisory Board to the Bureau of Employment Agencies

(25) Board of Osteopathic Examiners of the State of California.

SEC. 5. Section 131 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

131. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no member of an agency designated in subdivision (b) of Section 130 or member of a board, commission, committee, or similarly constituted agency in the department shall serve more than two consecutive full terms.

SEC. 6. Section 164 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

164. The form and content of any license, certificate, permit, or similar indicia of authority issued by any agency in the department, including any document evidencing renewal of a license, certificate, permit, or similar indicia of authority, shall be determined by the director after consultation with and consideration of the views of the agency concerned.

SEC. 7. Section 205 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 483 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

154.5. If a person, not a regular employee of a board under this code, including the Board of Chiropractic Examiners and the Board of Osteopathic Examiners, is hired or under contract to provide expertise to the board in the evaluation of an applicant or the conduct of a licensee, and that person is named as a defendant in a civil action arising out of the evaluation or any opinions rendered, statements made, or testimony given to the board or its representatives, the board shall provide for representation required to defend the defendant in that civil action. The board shall not be liable for any judgment rendered against the person. The Attorney General shall be utilized in the action and his or her services shall be a charge against the board.

SEC. 9. Section 2660.5 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 2732.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2732.1. (a) An applicant for license by examination shall submit a written application in the form prescribed by the board.

Upon approval of the application, the board may issue an interim permit authorizing the applicant to practice nursing pending the results of the first licensing examination following completion of his nursing course.

If the applicant passes the examination, the interim permit shall remain in effect until a regular renewable license is issued by the board. If the applicant fails the examination, the interim permit shall terminate upon notice thereof by certified mail, return receipt requested, or if the applicant fails to receive the notice, upon the date specified in the interim permit.

(b) The board upon written application may issue a license without examination to any applicant who is licensed or registered as a nurse in a state, district or territory of the United States or Canada having, in the opinion of the board, requirements for licensing or registration equal to or higher than those in California, if he has passed an examination for the license or registration that is, in the board's opinion, comparable to the board's examination, and if he or she meets all the other requirements set forth in Section 2736.

(c) Each application shall be accompanied by the fee prescribed by this chapter for the filing of an application for a regular renewable license.

The interim permit shall terminate upon notice thereof by certified mail, return receipt requested, if it is issued by mistake or if the application for permanent licensure is denied.

SEC. 11. Section 2733 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2733. (a) Upon approval of an application filed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 2732.1 and upon the payment of the fee prescribed by such section, the board may issue a temporary license to practice professional nursing for a period of six months from the date of issuance.

A temporary license shall be terminate upon notice thereof by certified mail, return receipt requested, if it is issued by mistake or if the application for permanent licensure is denied.

(b) Upon written application, the board may reissue a temporary license to any person who has applied for a regular renewable license pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 2732.1 and who, in the judgment of the board has been excusably delayed in completing his or her application for or the minimum requirements for a regular renewable license, but the board may not reissue a temporary license more than twice to any one person.

SEC. 12. Section 2741 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2741. An applicant who fails to pass the examination may be reexamined within that period of time as the board, by regulation, deems appropriate upon payment of the fees prescribed by this chapter.

SEC. 13. Section 2742 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2742. The board shall issue a license to each applicant who passes the examination and meets all other licensing requirements. The form of the license shall be determined in accordance with Section 164.

SEC. 14. Section 2746.6 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2746.6. The board may take disciplinary action against a person possessing a certificate as a nurse-midwife for:

(a) Unprofessional conduct, which includes but is not limited to the following:

(1) Incompetence, or gross negligence in carrying out the usual functions of a nurse-midwife.

(2) A conviction of practicing medicine without a license in violation of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000), in which event the record of conviction shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

(3) The use of advertising relating to nursing which violates Section 17500.

(b) Procuring his or her certificate by fraud, misrepresentation, or mistake.

(c) Procuring, or aiding, or abetting, or attempting, or agreeing, or offering to procure or assist at a criminal abortion.

(d) Violating or attempting to violate, directly or indirectly, or assisting in or abetting the violating of, or conspiring to violate any provision or term of this chapter.

(e) Making or giving any false statement or information in connection with the application for issuance of a license.

(f) Conviction of a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions and duties of a nurse-midwife.

(g) Impersonating any applicant or acting as proxy for an applicant in any examination required under this chapter for the issuance of a license or a certificate.

(h) Impersonating another licensed practitioner, or permitting or allowing another person to use his or her license or certificate for the purpose of nursing the sick or afflicted.

(i) Aiding or assisting, or agreeing to aid or assist any person or persons, whether a licensed physician or not, in the performance of or arranging for a violation of any of the provisions of Article 12 (commencing with Section 2221) of Chapter 5.

(j) Commission of any act coming within the scope of Section 2762.

SEC. 15. Section 2761 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2761. The board may take disciplinary action against a certified or licensed nurse or an applicant for a certificate or license for any of the following:

(a) Unprofessional conduct, which includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Incompetence, or gross negligence in carrying out usual nursing functions or nurse anesthetist functions.

(2) A conviction of practicing medicine without a license in violation of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000), in which event the record of conviction shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

(3) The use of advertising relating to nursing which violates Section 17500.

(b) Procuring his or her certificate by fraud, misrepresentation, or mistake.

(c) Procuring, or aiding, or abetting, or attempting, or agreeing, or offering to procure or assist at a criminal abortion.

(d) Violating or attempting to violate, directly or indirectly, or assisting in or abetting the violating of, or conspiring to violate any provision or term of this chapter or regulations adopted pursuant to it.

(e) Making or giving any false statement or information in connection with the application for issuance of a license.

(f) Conviction of a felony or of any offense substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of a registered nurse, in which event the record of the conviction shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

(g) Impersonating any applicant or acting as proxy for an applicant in any examination required under this chapter for the issuance of a license.

(h) Impersonating another licensed practitioner, or permitting or allowing another person to use his or her certificate for the purpose of nursing the sick or afflicted.

(i) Aiding or assisting, or agreeing to aid or assist any person or persons, whether a licensed physician or not, in the performance of, or arranging for, a violation of any of the provisions of Article 12 (commencing with Section 2221) of Chapter 5.

(j) Holding oneself out to the public or to any practitioner of the healing arts as a "nurse practitioner" or as meeting the standards established by the board for a nurse practitioner unless meeting the standards established by the board pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 2834).

(k) Revocation or suspension of a license to practice nursing by another state or territory of the United States for any act or omission which would constitute grounds for the revocation or suspension of a license in this state.

SEC. 16. Section 5061 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

5061. No person engaged in the practice of public accountancy shall pay a commission to obtain a client, nor shall that person accept a commission for a referral to a client of products or services of others. This section shall not prohibit payments for the purchase of an accounting practice or retirement payments to individuals presently or formerly engaged in the practice of public accounting or payments to their heirs or estates.

SEC. 17. Section 6980.10 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980.10. On and after April 1, 1988, it is unlawful for any person to practice as a locksmith without first obtaining a permit from the bureau.

SEC. 18. Section 7500.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7500.1. The following terms as used in this chapter have the meaning expressed in this section.

(a) "Person" includes any individual, partnership, or corporation.

(b) "Department" means the Department of Consumer Affairs.

(c) "Director" means the Director of Consumer Affairs.

(d) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Collection and Investigative Services.

(e) "Chief" means the Chief of the Bureau of Collection and Investigative Services.

(f) "Licensee" means an individual, partnership, or corporation licensed under this chapter as a repossession agency.

(g) "Qualified certificate holder" or "qualified manager" is a person who possesses a valid qualification certificate in accordance with the provisions of Article 5 (commencing with Section 7504) and is in active control or management of, and who is a director of, the licensee's place of business.

(h) "Employee" means a person registered under this chapter.

(i) "Services" means any duty or labor to be rendered by one person for another.

(j) "Dangerous drugs" means any controlled substances as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(k) "Deadly weapon" means and includes any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles, dirk, dagger, pistol, or revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than five inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, and any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club.

(l) "Combustibles" means any substance or article that is capable of undergoing combustion or catching fire, or that is flammable, if retained.

(m) "Health hazard" means any personal effects which if retained would produce an unsanitary or unhealthful condition.

(n) "Advertisement" means any written or printed communication, including a directory listing, except a free telephone directory listing which does not allow space for a license number.

(o) "Assignment" means an authorization by the legal owner, lienholder, or lessor to recover, or to collect money payment in lieu of recovery of, personal property, including, but not limited to, personal property registered under the Vehicle Code which has been sold under a security agreement that contains a repossession clause.

(p) "Security agreement" means an obligation, pledge, mortgage, chattel mortgage, lease agreement, deposit, or lien, given by a debtor as security for payment or performance of his or her debt, by furnishing the creditor with a recourse to be used in case of failure in the principal obligation.

(q) "Legal owner" means a person holding a security interest in personal property which has been sold, leased, or rented under a security agreement.

(u) "Personal property" means any vehicle, boat, recreational vehicle, motor home, appliance, or other property which has been sold under a security agreement.

(v) "Personal effects" means any property contained within repossessed personal property which is not the property of the legal owner.

SEC. 19. Section 7507.9 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7507.9. If personal effects or other personal property, not covered by a security agreement, are contained in or on personal property at the time it is recovered, the effects shall be removed from the vehicle, a complete and accurate inventory shall be made, and the personal effects shall be stored in a labeled container by the licensee for a minimum of 60 days in a secure manner, except those personal effects removed by or in the presence of the registered owner at the time the personal property was being repossessed.

(a) The date and time the inventory is made shall be indicated and shall be signed by the repossession agency employee who performs the inventory.

(b) The following items of personal effects are items determined to present a danger or health hazard when recovered by the licensee and shall be disposed of in the following manner:

(1) Deadly weapons and dangerous drugs shall be turned over to a local law enforcement agency for retention. These items shall be entered on the inventory and a notation shall be made as to the date and the time and the place the deadly weapon or dangerous drug was turned over to the law enforcement agency, and a receipt from the law enforcement agency shall be maintained in the records of the repossession agency.

(2) Combustibles shall be inventoried and noted as "disposed of, dangerous combustible," and the item shall be disposed of in a reasonable and safe manner.

(3) Food and other health hazard items shall be inventoried and noted as "disposed of, health hazard," and disposed of in a reasonable and safe manner.

(c) Personal effects may be disposed of after being held for at least 60 days. The inventory, and adequate information as to how, when, and to whom the personal effects were disposed of, shall be filed in the permanent records of the licensee.

(d) The inventory shall include the name, address, business hours, and phone number of the person at the repossession agency to contact for recovering the personal effects and an itemization of all personal effect storage charges that will be made by the repossession agency. The inventory shall also include the following statement: "Please be advised that the property listed on this inventory will be disposed of by the repossession agency after being held for 60 days from the date of this notice IF UNCLAIMED."

(e) The inventory shall be provided to a consumer not later than 48 hours after the recovery of personal property, except that if:

(1) The 48-hour period encompasses a Saturday, Sunday, or postal holiday, the inventory shall be provided no later than 72 hours after the recovery of personal property.

(2) Inventory resulting from repossession of a yacht, motor home, or travel trailer is such that it shall take at least eight hours to inventory, then the inventory shall be provided no later than 96 hours after the recovery of personal property. When the 96-hour period encompasses a Saturday, Sunday, or postal holiday, the inventory shall be provided no later than 120 hours after the recovery of personal property.

(f) The notice may be given by regular mail addressed to the last known address of the consumer or by personal service at the option of the repossession agency.

SEC. 20. Section 9941 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9941. (a) The bureau shall issue two types of licenses:

(1) An employment agency license.

(2) An interim employment agency license.

(b) The bureau may, when issuing a license under this chapter, restrict the type of employment agency business which may be conducted under the license to one or more of the following categories:

(1) General. This category authorizes the licensee to engage in the business of finding all types of employment for others and charging a fee to either applicants or employers or both applicants and employers for that service where the fee is not required to be paid in advance of, or concurrent with, the rendering of services.

(2) Babysitting. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of providing babysitting employment for others.

(3) Domestic. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of procuring domestic employment for others.

(4) Modeling. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of procuring modeling employment for others.

(5) Farm labor. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of procuring farm labor employment for others.

(6) Employer retained. Effective January 1, 1991, this category authorizes the licensee to engage in the business of finding all types of employment for others, except domestic employment, while charging fees exclusively to employers for that service.

(7) Nurses' registry. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of a nurses' registry.

(8) Employment counseling. This category authorizes the licensee to engage exclusively in the business of an employment counseling service, as defined in Section 9909.5.

(9) Prepaid computer employment agency. This category authorizes the licensee to engage in the business of a prepaid computer employment agency, as defined in Section 9989.

(10) Job listing service. This category authorizes the licensee to engage in the business of a job listing service, as defined in Section 9989.

(c) On or before March 31, 1988, all persons holding a current and valid general employment agency license who operate an employment counseling service, a prepaid computer employment agency, or a job listing service shall be issued, upon application to the bureau, the appropriate employment agency license to operate that business. Licensure fees shall be considered paid for the extent of the term for which the person has paid current license fees.

(d) In restricting the license to one or more of these categories, the bureau shall consider all of the following:

(1) The applicant's experience.

(2) The type of employment agency business which the applicant proposes to conduct.

SEC. 21. Section 9946 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

9946. No employment agency license shall be issued until an applicant named in subdivision (a) of Section 9942 shall have successfully passed a qualifying examination. The applicant shall pass a general employment agency examination if he or she is seeking a license in any of the categories provided for in Section 9941 except for the nurses' registry or employment counseling categories. If he or she is seeking a license in the nurses' registry or employment counseling category, he or she shall pass only an examination designed to test his or her ability, knowledge, and proficiency to conduct or manage an employment agency in the respective category for which he or she is seeking a license.

SEC. 22. Section 19210 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19210. After a hearing, a license may be suspended, revoked, reprimanded, or placed on probation for a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or of the rules and regulations of the bureau, or for a violation of Article 1 (commencing with Section 17500) of Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to false or misleading advertising; provided, however, that the license of a wholesaler or retailer shall not be suspended in the absence of a finding that the wholesaler or retailer knowingly offered for sale or sold articles not conforming to the requirements of this chapter or the rules and regulations of the bureau.

In any order of suspension or revocation, the bureau may impose conditions relative to the disposition of articles not conforming to the requirements of this chapter or the rules and regulations of the bureau, or may impose conditions relative to the completion or fulfillment of any orders or contracts entered into prior to the date of the hearing.

SEC. 23. Section 44052 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 951 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended and renumbered to read:

44059. The willful making of any false statement or entry with regard to a material matter in any oath, affidavit, certificate of compliance or noncompliance, or application form which is required by this chapter or Chapter 20.3 (commencing with Section 9880) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, constitutes perjury and is punishable as provided in the Penal Code.

SEC. 24. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 851

An act to amend Section 13009 of, and to add Section 633 to, the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to employment.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 633 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

633. (a) For purposes of coverage under Part 2 (commencing with Section 2601) of Division 1, "employment" does not include services performed as an intermittent or adjunct instructor at a postsecondary educational institution which meets the requirements of Section 94310.1 or 94310.2 of the Education Code if the intermittent or adjunct instructor and the employing unit enter a written contract with the following provisions:

(1) That any federal or state income tax liability shall be the responsibility of the party providing the services.

(2) That no disability insurance coverage is provided under the contract.

(3) That the party performing the services certifies that he or she is doing so as a secondary occupation or as a supplemental source of income.

(b) This section shall not apply to services performed under a collective bargaining agreement.

SEC. 2. Section 13009 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

13009. "Wages" means all remuneration, other than fees paid to a public official, for services performed by an employee for his or her employer, including all remuneration paid to a nonresident employee for services performed in this state, and the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash, except as provided by this section. "Wages" includes tips received by an employee in the course of his or her employment. The wages shall be deemed to be paid at the time a written statement including tips is furnished to the employer pursuant to Section 13055 or, if no statement including those tips is so furnished, at the time received.

"Wages" shall not include remuneration paid under any of the following conditions:

(a) For agricultural labor, as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 3121 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) For domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority.

(c) For service not in the course of the employer's trade or business performed in any calendar quarter by an employee, unless the cash remuneration paid for that service is fifty dollars ($50) or more and the service is performed by an individual who is regularly employed by the employer to perform the service. For purposes of this subdivision, an individual shall be deemed to be regularly employed by an employer during a calendar quarter only if either of the following conditions is met:

(1) On each of some 24 days during the quarter, the individual performs for the employer for some portion of the day service not in the course of the employer's trade or business.

(2) The individual was regularly employed, as determined under paragraph (1), by the employer in the performance of the service during the preceding calendar quarter.

(d) For services by a citizen or resident of the United States for a foreign government or an international organization.

(e) For services performed by a nonresident alien individual as designated by regulations prescribed by the department.

(f) For services performed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his or her ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by the order.

(g) (1) For services performed by an individual under the age of 18 in delivery or distribution of newspapers or shopping news, not including delivery or distribution to any point for subsequent delivery or distribution.

(2) For services performed by an individual in, and at the time of, the sale of newspapers or magazines to ultimate consumers, under an arrangement under which the newspapers or magazines are to be sold by him or her at a fixed price, his or her compensation being based on the retention of the excess of the price over the amount at which the newspapers or magazines are charged to him or her whether or not he or she is guaranteed a minimum amount of compensation for the services, or is entitled to be credited with the unsold newspapers or magazines turned back.

(h) For services not in the course of the employer's trade or business, to the extent paid in any medium other than cash.

(i) To, or on behalf of, an employee or his or her beneficiary under any of the following situations:

(1) From or to a trust which is exempt from tax under Section 17631 of the Revenue and Taxation Code at the time of payment, unless the payment is made to an employee of the trust as remuneration for services rendered as an employee and not as a beneficiary of the trust.

(2) Under or to an annuity plan which, at the time of payment, is a plan qualified pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 17501) of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(3) Under or to a bond purchase plan which, at the time of payment, is a bond purchase plan qualified pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 17501) of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(4) For a payment which qualifies for deduction by an employee pursuant to Section 17272 of the Revenue and Taxation Code if, at the time of payment, it is reasonable to believe that the employee will be entitled to a deduction under that section for payment.

(j) To a master, officer, or any other seaman who is a member of a crew on a vessel engaged in foreign, coastwise, intercoastal, interstate, or noncontiguous trade.

(k) Pursuant to any provision of law other than Section 5(c) or 6(l) of the Peace Corps Act, for service performed as a volunteer or volunteer leader within the meaning of that act.

(l) In the form of group-term life insurance on the life of an employee.

(m) To or on behalf of an employee, and to the extent that, at the time of the payment of remuneration it is reasonable to believe that a corresponding deduction is allowable for moving expenses pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 17201) of Chapter 3 of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(n) (1) As tips in any medium other than cash.

(2) As cash tips to an employee in any calendar month in the course of his or her employment by an employer, unless the amount of the cash tips is twenty dollars ($20) or more.

(o) For service performed by an individual on a boat engaged in catching fish or other forms of aquatic animal life under an arrangement with the owner or operator of the boat pursuant to which all of the following apply:

(1) The individual does not receive any cash remuneration, other than as provided in paragraph (2).

(2) The individual receives a share of the boat's (or the boats' in the case of a fishing operation involving more than one boat) catch of fish or other forms of aquatic animal life or a share of the proceeds from the sale of the catch.

(3) The amount of the individual's share depends on the amount of the boat's (or the boats' in the case of a fishing operation involving more than one boat) catch of fish or other forms of aquatic animal life.

This subdivision shall apply only where the operating crew of the boat (or each boat from which the individual receives a share in the case of a fishing operation involving more than one boat) is normally made up of fewer than 10 individuals.

(p) For any medical care reimbursement made to, or for the benefit of, an employee under a self-insured medical reimbursement plan pursuant to Section 105(h)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(q) To, or on behalf of, an employee to the extent not includable in gross income pursuant to Section 13006.

(r) For services to which Section 633 applies.

CHAPTER 852

An act to amend Sections 40200.2, 40215, 40220, 40230, and 40519 of, to add Section 40200.7 to, and to repeal Section 40219 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicle parking violations.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 40200.2 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40200.2. (a) If a county or a court within a county has been processing notices of parking violations and notices of delinquent parking violations for a city, a district, or any other issuing agency prior to January 1, 1987, the court shall continue to process those notices unless the court elects to discontinue that processing.

(b) If a court continues to process notices of parking violations and notices of delinquent parking violations pursuant to subdivision (a), for purposes of this article, excepting Sections 40203.5, 40205, 40211, 40215, 40219, 40220, 40221, 40226, and 40230, and subdivision (d) of Section 40206.5, "processing agency" means that court.

SEC. 2. Section 40200.7 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

40200.7. If a person appears to contest a notice of parking violation or a notice of delinquent parking violation, the processing agency shall obtain the person's signed written promise to appear which shall be filed with the court at the time a complaint is filed.

SEC. 3. Section 40215 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40215. (a) If the person served with a notice of parking violation or a notice of delinquent parking violation appears before the person authorized to receive a deposit of the parking penalty and contests the violation, the processing agency shall do either of the following:

(1) If the processing agency is satisfied that the violation did not occur or that the registered owner was not responsible for the violation, the processing agency shall cancel the notice of parking violation or notice of delinquent parking violation and make an adequate record of the reasons for canceling the notice.

(2) The processing agency shall set an arraignment date, or, if the person requests it, a trial date, and provide documentation to the court as specified by local court rule. Except as the rules provide otherwise, the processing agency shall record the person's name, address, and driver's license number, obtain the person's signed, written promise to appear, and verify whether the person appearing has received a notice of parking violation conforming to Section

40202 or a notice of delinquent parking violation conforming to Sections 40207 and 40208. If the person appearing has not received the notice of delinquent parking violation, the processing agency shall serve the person with a notice of delinquent parking violation conforming to Sections 40207 and 40208. The processing agency shall assign a specific date and time as approved by the court for appearance by the person contesting the violation and shall then file a complaint or a copy of the notice of delinquent parking violation, together with the signed promise to appear, with the court pursuant to Section 40230 within 15 days. The processing agency shall notify the registered owner or other person contesting the violation of the filing and the date and time for appearance in the same manner as provided in Section 40206. Thereafter, all proceedings shall be had by the court in the same manner as infraction violations of this code.

(b) If the processing agency has filed the notice of delinquent parking violation with the department for collection pursuant to Section 40220, the processing agency shall recall the notice by notifying the department that the notice of delinquent parking violation has been filed with the court and informing the department of the court file or docket number of the matter.

SEC. 4. Section 40219 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 40220 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40220. Except as provided in Section 40222, the processing agency shall elect to proceed under one and only one of the following options:

(a) Cancel the notice of delinquent parking violation and make an adequate record of the reasons for canceling the notice, in which case no further proceedings shall occur.

(b) File an itemization of unpaid parking penalties, including administrative fees, and the amount of the costs of the processing agency for costs of service, with the department for collection with the registration of the vehicle pursuant to Section 4760.

(c) File a complaint with the court, together with supporting documents and other evidence, pursuant to Section 40230.

SEC. 6. Section 40230 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40230. (a) A complaint pursuant to Section 40206.5, 40209, 40210, 40215, or 40223, shall be filed with the court within 15 days after the defendant requests a court hearing or fails to appear.

(b) If the notice is prepared in the form approved by the Judicial Council, the processing agency may, in lieu of a complaint, file a copy of the notice of delinquent parking violation issued for service under Section 40206, and a copy of the affidavit of service or of the promise to appear. That notice shall serve as a complaint on which a warrant may issue.

(c) After the filing of a complaint or notice of delinquent parking violation under this section, the court shall exercise all further jurisdiction over the violation. Any fines or forfeitures collected by the court, after filing of a complaint, shall be collected, deposited, and disbursed as are fines and forfeitures in other prosecutions of violations of this code.

SEC. 7. Section 40519 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

40519. (a) Any person who has received a written notice to appear for an infraction may, prior to the time at which the person is required to appear, make a deposit and declare the intention to plead not guilty to the clerk of the court named in the notice to appear. The deposit shall be in the amount of bail established pursuant to Section 1269b of the Penal Code, together with any assessment required by Section 42006 of this code or Section 1464 of the Penal Code, for the offense charged, and shall be used for the purpose of guaranteeing the appearance of the defendant at the time and place scheduled by the clerk for arraignment and for trial, and to apply toward the payment of any fine or assessment prescribed by the court in the event of conviction. The case shall thereupon be set for arraignment and trial on the same date, unless the defendant requests separate arraignment.

(b) Any person who has received a written notice to appear or a notice of delinquent parking violation issued under Section 40206 for an infraction may, prior to the time at which the person is required to appear, plead not guilty in writing in lieu of appearing in person. The written plea shall be directed to the court named in the notice to appear or to the court or city agency indicated on the notice of parking violation and, if mailed, shall be sent by certified or registered mail postmarked not later than five days prior to the day upon which appearance is required. The written plea and request to the court or city agency shall be accompanied by a deposit consisting of the amount of bail established pursuant to Section 1269b of the Penal Code, together with any assessment required by Section 42006 of this code or Section 1464 of the Penal Code, for that offense, which amount shall be used for the purpose of guaranteeing the appearance of the defendant at the time and place set by the court for trial and to apply toward the payment of any fine or assessment prescribed by the court in the event of conviction. Upon receipt of the plea and deposit, the case shall be set for arraignment and trial on the same date, unless the defendant requests separate arraignment. Thereafter, the case shall be conducted in the same manner as if the defendant had appeared in person, had made his or her plea in open court, and had deposited that sum as bail. The court or the clerk of the court shall notify the accused of the time and place of trial by first-class mail postmarked at least 10 days prior to the time set for the trial. Any person using this procedure shall be deemed to have waived the right to be tried within the statutory period.

(c) Any person using the procedure set forth in subdivision (a) or (b) shall be deemed to have given a written promise to appear at the time designated by the court for trial, and failure to appear at the trial shall constitute a misdemeanor.

SEC. 8. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 853

An act to amend Sections 13600 and 13601 of the Penal Code, relating to peace officer training.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13600 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13600. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that peace officers of the state correctional system, including youth and adult correctional facilities, have a role in the criminal justice system that has previously been ignored in terms of creation and application of sound selection criteria for applicants and their training prior to assuming their duties. For the purposes of this section, correctional peace officers are peace officers as defined in Section 830.5 and employed by the Department of Corrections or the Department of the Youth Authority.

The Legislature further finds that sound applicant selection and training are essential to public safety and in carrying out the missions of the Youth and Correctional Agency in the custody and care of the state's offender population. The greater degree of professionalism which will result from sound screening criteria and a significant training curriculum will greatly aid the Youth and Adult Correctional Agency in maintaining smooth, efficient, and safe operations and effective programs in the Departments of Corrections and the Youth Authority.

(b) The Department of Corrections-Department of Youth Authority Joint Apprenticeship Committee, as referred to in the Memorandum of Understanding for Unit 6, in consultation with the Presley Institute, shall research, establish, and monitor standards for the selection and training of correctional peace officer apprentices. Any standard for selection established under this subdivision shall be subject to approval by the State Personnel Board. The Joint Apprenticeship Committee may disapprove any training courses created pursuant to the standards developed by the committee if it determines that the courses do not meet the prescribed standards.

SEC. 2. Section 13601 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13601. The Joint Apprenticeship Committee, in consultation with the Presley Institute, shall develop standards for advanced correctional peace officer and supervisory curricula. Those standards shall be approved by both a majority of the management representatives and a majority of the Unit 6 representatives to the Joint Apprenticeship Committee. Upon approval, the standards shall be effective as soon as practicable after funding is made available through the state budget process. When a correctional peace officer is promoted, he or she shall be required to complete these secondary training experiences as a prerequisite to successful passage of probation.

The Joint Apprenticeship Committee shall develop standards for the training of correctional peace officers in the handling of stress associated with their duties. The Joint Apprenticeship Committee may disapprove any training courses created pursuant to the standards developed by the committee if it determines that the courses do not meet the prescribed standards.

CHAPTER 854

An act to add Section 463.5 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 463.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

463.5. (a) Section 463 does not require the commission to undertake a reasonableness review of recorded costs to determine the reasonableness of the costs of each item of any electrical or gas corporation's plant which costs, or is estimated to have cost, more than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) where the commission either has established a maximum reasonable cost pursuant to Section 1005.5 or has adopted an estimate of the reasonable costs in any proceeding.

The establishment of the maximum costs or adoption of an estimated cost does not limit or restrict the discretion of the commission in considering the reasonableness of plant-related costs in subsequent proceedings.

(b) This section shall become operative January 1, 1989.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that in order not to influence or affect the outcome of any litigation pending on January 1, 1987, this act delays the operative date of Section 463.5 of the Public Utilities Code to January 1, 1989.

CHAPTER 855

An act to amend Sections 322, 1094, 1095, and 2714 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 322 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

322. The department may exchange information with other governmental departments and agencies, both federal and state, which are concerned with the administration of unemployment insurance, or the collection of taxes which may be used to finance the administration of unemployment insurance, or the relief of unemployed or destitute individuals, or legislation concerning, regulating, or in any manner affecting the obligations arising out of an employer-employee relation, and with other departments or agencies of government as the department deems necessary or desirable for the proper administration of this division in accordance with authorized regulations.

SEC. 2. Section 1094 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1094. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this code, the information obtained in the administration of this code shall be for the exclusive use and information of the director in discharge of his or her duties and shall not be open to the public, nor admissible in evidence in any action or special proceeding, other than one arising out of the provisions of this code, one arising out of the provisions of Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code to determine entitlement to, and directly connected with and limited to the administration of, public social services, or a proceeding to determine entitlement to, and directly connected with and limited to the administration of, locally provided general relief or assistance benefits or medical assistance services. This information may be tabulated and published in statistical form for the use and information of state departments and the public, except that the name of the employing unit or of any worker shall never be divulged in the course of the tabulation or publication.

SEC. 3. Section 1095 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1095. The director shall permit the use of any information in his or her possession to the extent necessary for any of the following purposes:

(a) To properly present a claim for benefits.

(b) To acquaint a worker or his or her authorized agent with his or her existing or prospective right to benefits.

(c) To furnish an employer or his or her authorized agent with information to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under this division or Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). This subdivision, as it relates to Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000), applies only to subdivision (j) of this section.

(d) To enable an employer to receive a reduction in contribution rate.

(e) To enable the Director of Social Services or his or her representatives or the State Director of Health Services or his or her representatives, subject to federal law, to verify or determine the eligibility or entitlement of an applicant for, or a recipient of, public social services provided pursuant to the Welfare and Institutions Code, and directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of public social services.

(f) To enable county administrators of general relief or assistance, or their representatives, to determine entitlement to locally provided general relief or assistance, where the determination is directly connected with, and limited to, the administration of general relief or assistance.

(g) To enable county district attorneys, or their representatives, to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the unlawful application for, or receipt of, relief provided under Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(h) To enable the director or his or her representative to carry out his or her responsibilities under this code.

(i) To enable county departments of collection or their representatives to determine entitlement to medical assistance services rendered pursuant to Part 5 (commencing with Section 17000) of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and, when appropriate, to enable collection for the county's expenditures for these medical assistance services.

(j) To furnish an employer, or his or her authorized agent, with information including, but not limited to, the applicant's or recipient's name, social security number, address, employable skills, and job placement in order to enable him or her to fully discharge his or her obligations or safeguard his or her rights under the elements of a joint union, management, and Employment Development Department agreement as are deemed necessary to assist displaced workers to obtain new employment under the provisions of Chapter 2.9 (commencing with Section 9970) of Part 1 of Division 3 and related provisions of Division 3 (commencing with Section 9000). The information shall be limited to any information gathered under these divisions by the department and authorized for release by the labor organization which shall act as an agent for the affected workers under terms of the agreement and shall participate in defining the information release provisions.

(k) To provide any law enforcement agency with the name, address, telephone number, birth date, social security number, physical description, and names and addresses of present and past employers, of any victim, suspect, missing person, potential witness, or person for whom a felony arrest warrant has been issued, when a request for this information is made by any investigator or peace officer as defined by Sections 830.1 and 830.2 of the Penal Code and designated by the head of the law enforcement agency and who requests this information in the course of and as a part of an investigation into the commission of a crime where there is a reasonable suspicion that the crime is a felony and that the information would lead to relevant evidence. The information provided pursuant to this subdivision shall be provided to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations, and to the extent the information is available and accessible within the constraints and configurations of existing department records. Any person who receives any information under this subdivision shall make a written report of the information to the law enforcement agency that employs him or her, for filing under the normal procedures of that agency. Any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(1) This subdivision shall not be construed to authorize the release of a general list identifying individuals applying for or receiving benefits to any law enforcement agency.

(2) The department shall maintain records pursuant to this subdivision only for periods required under regulations or statutes enacted for the administration of its programs.

(3) This subdivision shall not be construed as limiting the information provided to law enforcement agencies to that pertaining only to applicants for, or recipients of, benefits.

(4) The department shall notify all applicants for benefits that release of confidential information from their records will not be protected should there be a felony arrest warrant issued against the applicant or in the event of an investigation by a law enforcement agency into the commission of a felony.

(l) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize or permit the use of information obtained in the administration of this code by any private collection agency.

(m) To provide the State Teachers' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 23910.3 of the Education Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability allowance from the State Teachers' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Teachers' Retirement Board only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability allowance from the system. The request may be made by the chief executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief executive officer in writing.

(n) To provide the Public Employees' Retirement System, pursuant to Section 20143 of the Government Code, with information relating to the earnings of any person who is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the Public Employees' Retirement System. The earnings information shall be released to the Board of Administration of the system only upon written request from the board specifying that the person is receiving a disability retirement allowance from the system. The request may be made by the executive officer of the system or by an employee of the system so authorized and identified by name and title by the executive officer in writing.

(o) To provide the University of California Retirement System with information in its possession relating to the earnings of any person who has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The earnings information shall be disclosed only upon written request from the system specifying that the person has applied for or is receiving disability income from the system. The request may be made by the chief administrative officer of the system or by an employee so authorized and identified by name and title by the chief administrative officer in writing. The system shall notify applicants for and recipients of disability income that earnings information from the department's records will be released upon the system's request. The information obtained pursuant to this subdivision shall be used or disclosed by the system only to determine or to verify entitlement to, or continuing eligibility for, disability income. The system shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

(p) To enable the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement in the Department of Industrial Relations to seek criminal, civil, or administrative remedies in connection with the failure to pay, or the unlawful payment of, wages pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 200) of Part 1 of Division 2 of, and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1720) of Part 7 of Division 2 of, the Labor Code. The Division of Labor Standards Enforcement shall reimburse the department for all reasonable administrative expenses incurred pursuant to this subdivision.

SEC. 4. Section 2714 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2714. (a) All medical records of the department obtained under this part, except to the extent necessary for the proper administration of this part or as provided herein, or to the extent necessary for the proper administration of public social services pursuant to the Welfare and Institutions Code, shall be confidential and shall not be published or be open to public inspection in any manner revealing the identity of the claimant, or the nature or cause of his or her disability. These records are not admissible in evidence in any action or special proceeding other than one arising under this division or one arising under Division 9 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code to determine entitlement to, and directly connected with and limited to the administration of, public social services. The department may reveal its records to the Director of Social Services or his or her representatives, and may reveal the identity only of the claimant to the Department of Rehabilitation, but the information shall remain confidential and shall not be disclosed except as provided herein.

(b) The department shall, to the extent permitted by federal law and regulations, and to the extent the information is available and accessible within the constraints and configurations of existing department records, provide any law enforcement agency with the name, address, telephone number, birth date, social security number, physical description, and names and addresses of present and past employers, of any victim, suspect, missing person, potential witness, or person for whom a felony arrest warrant has been issued, when a request for this information is made by any investigator or peace officer as defined by Sections 830.1 and 830.2 of the Penal Code and designated by the head of the law enforcement agency and who requests this information in the course of and a part of an investigation into the commission of a crime where there is a reasonable suspicion that the crime is a felony and that the information would lead to relevent evidence. Any person who receives any information under this subdivision shall make a written report of the information to the law enforcement agency that employs him or her, for filing under normal procedures of that agency. Any officer or employee of the department who discloses information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person who obtains information in violation of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(c) The department shall notify all applicants for benefits that release of confidential information from their records will not be protected should there be a felony arrest warrant issued against the applicant or in the event of an investigation by a law enforcement agency into the commission of a felony.

(d) This section shall not be construed to authorize the release of a general list identifying individuals applying for or receiving benefits to any law enforcement agency.

(e) The department shall maintain records pursuant to this section only for periods required under regulations or statutes enacted for the administration of its programs.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1988.

SEC. 5. The amendments made to Sections 2626.1 and 2626.2 of the Unemployment Insurance Code by Chapter 255 of the Statutes of 1987 shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1988.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 856

An act to amend Section 1540.1 of, and to add Section 1569.405 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to care facilities.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1540.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1540.1. Upon a finding by the licensing authority that a facility is in operation without a license, a peace officer, as defined in Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 830) of Title 3 of Part 2 of the Penal Code, may enforce Section 1503.5, or Section 1508, or both sections by utilizing the procedures set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 853.5) of Title 3 of Part 2 of the Penal Code. A facility violating Section 1503.5 or 1508, or both, is guilty of an infraction punishable by a fine of two hundred dollars ($200) for each day of violation. Upon a determination that a community care facility is in violation of Section 1503.5 or 1508, or both, and after a citation has been issued, the peace officer shall immediately notify the licensing authority in the department.

SEC. 2. Section 1569.405 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.405. Upon a finding by the licensing authority that a facility is in operation without a license, a peace officer, as defined in Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 830) of Title 3 of Part 2 of the Penal Code, may enforce Section 1569.10 by utilizing the procedures set forth in Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 853.5) of Title 3 of Part 2 of the Penal Code. A facility violating Section 1569.10 is guilty of an infraction punishable by a fine of two hundred dollars ($200) for each day of violation. Upon a determination that a residential care facility for the elderly is in violation of Section 1569.10, and after a citation has been issued, the peace officer shall immediately notify the licensing authority in the department.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) and any other provisions of law.

CHAPTER 857

An act to amend Section 429.72 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 429.72 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

429.72. The office may designate experimental health manpower projects as approved projects where the projects are sponsored by community hospitals or clinics, nonprofit educational institutions, or government agencies engaged in health or education activities. Nothing in this section shall preclude approved projects from utilizing the offices of physicians, dentists, pharmacists, and other clinical settings as training sites.

CHAPTER 858

An act to amend Section 1250.9 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1250.9 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1250.9. (a) The Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development shall conduct a demonstration project to evaluate the accommodation of postsurgical care patients for periods not exceeding two days, except that the attending physician may require that the stay be extended to no more than three days.

(b) The demonstration project shall operate for a period not to exceed three years, for no more than eight project sites, one of which shall be located in Fresno County. Of the eight project sites, not more than two may be distinct parts of health facilities, and not more than six shall be physically freestanding from health facilities. Neither of the two project sites that are designated as distinct parts of health facilities, shall be located in the service area of any one of the six freestanding project sites. Neither of the two project sites that are designated as distinct parts of health facilities shall have a service area that overlaps with any one or more service areas of the six freestanding pilot sites. For the purposes of this section, service area shall be defined by the office.

(c) (1) The office shall establish standards for participation, commensurate with the needs of postsurgical care patients requiring temporary nursing services following outpatient surgical procedures.

(2) In preparing the standards for participation, the office may, as appropriate, consult with the department and with a technical advisory committee which may be appointed by the Director of Statewide Health Planning and Development. The committee shall have no more than eight members, all of whom shall be experts in health care, as determined by the director. One of the members of the committee shall, as determined by the director, have specific expertise in the area of pediatric surgery and recovery care.

(3) If a technical advisory committee is established by the director, members of the committee shall be reimbursed for any actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection with their duties as members of the committee.

(d) Not later than six months prior to the conclusion of the demonstration project, the office shall submit an evaluation of the demonstration project to the Legislature on the effectiveness and safety of the demonstration project in providing recovery services to patients receiving outpatient surgical services. The office, as part of the evaluation, shall include recommendations regarding the establishment of a new license category or amendment of existing licensing standards.

(e) The office shall establish and administer the demonstration project in facilities with no more than 20 beds which continuously meet the standards of skilled nursing facilities licensed under subdivision (c) of Section 1250, except that the office may, as appropriate and unless a danger to patients would be created, eliminate or modify the standards. This section shall not prohibit general acute care hospitals from participating in the demonstration project. The office may waive those building standards applicable to a project site which is a distinct part of a health facility which are inappropriate, as determined by the office, to the demonstration project. Notwithstanding health facility licensing regulations found in Division 5 (commencing with Section 70001) of Title 22 of the California Adminstrative Code, a project site which is a distinct part of a health facility shall comply with all standards for participation established by the office and with all regulations adopted by the office to implement this section. A project site which is a distinct part of a health facility shall not, for the duration of the pilot project, be subject to the provisions of Division 5 (commencing with Section 70001) of Title 22 of the California Administrative Code which conflict, as determined by the office, with the demonstration project standards or regulations.

(f) The department shall issue a facility identification number to each facility selected for participation in the demonstration project.

(g) Persons who wish to establish recovery care programs shall make application to the office for inclusion in the pilot program. Applications shall be made on forms provided by the office and shall contain sufficient information determined as necessary by the office.

(h) As a condition of participation in the pilot program, each applicant shall agree to provide statistical data and patient information that the office deems necessary for effective evaluation. It is the intent of the Legislature that the office shall develop procedures to assure the confidentiality of patient information and shall only disclose patient information, including name identification, as is necessary pursuant to this section or any other law.

(i) Any authorized officer, employee, or agent of the office or the state department may, upon presentation of proper identification, enter and inspect any building or premises and any records, including patient records, of a pilot project participant at any reasonable time to review compliance with, or to prevent any violation of, this section or the regulations and standards adopted thereunder.

(j) The office may suspend or withdraw approval of any or all pilot projects with notice, but without hearing if it determines that patient safety is being jeopardized.

(k) The office may charge applicants and participants in the program a reasonable fee to cover its actual cost of administering the pilot program and the cost of any committee created under this section.

(l) The office may contract with a medical consultant or other advisors as necessary, as determined by the office. Due to the necessity to expedite the demonstration project and its extremely specialized nature, the contracts shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 10373 of the Public Contract Code, and shall be considered sole-source contracts.

(m) The office may adopt emergency regulations to implement this section in accordance with Section 11346.1 of the Government Code, except that the regulations shall be exempt from the requirements of subdivisions (e), (f), and (g) of that section. The regulations shall be deemed an emergency for the purposes of Section 11346.1.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The postsurgical care demonstration project required by Section 1250.9 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 1 of this act is a limited term project which is currently being developed by the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development. In order for the office to collect the level of fees necessary to pay for the cost of development, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 859

An act to amend Section 10012 of, and to add Section 10012.3 to, the Elections Code, relating to elections.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10012 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

10012. Each candidate for nonpartisan elective office in any local agency, including any city, county, city and county or district, may prepare a candidate's statement on an appropriate form provided by the clerk. The statement may include the name, age and occupation of the candidate and a brief description of no more than 200 words, of the candidate's education and qualifications expressed by the candidate himself or herself. However, the governing body of the local agency may authorize an increase in the limitations on words for the statement from 200 to 400 words. The statement shall not include the party affiliation of the candidate, nor membership or activity in partisan political organizations. The statement shall be filed in the office of the clerk when his or her nomination papers are returned for filing, if it is for a primary election, or for an election for offices for which there is no primary. The statement shall be filed in the office of the clerk no later than the 88th day before the election, if it is for an election for which nomination papers are not required to be filed. If a runoff election or general election occurs within 88 days of the primary or first election, the statement shall be filed with the clerk by the third day following the governing body's declaration of the results from the primary or first election. Except as provided in Section 10012.3, the statement may be withdrawn, but not changed, during the period for filing nomination papers and until 5 p.m. of the next working day after the close of the nomination period.

The clerk shall send to each voter together with the sample ballot, a voter's pamphlet which contains the written statements of each candidate that is prepared pursuant to this section. The statement of each candidate shall be printed in type of uniform size and darkness, and with uniform spacing. The clerk shall provide a Spanish translation to those candidates who wish to have one, and shall select a person to provide that translation from the list of approved Spanish language translators and interpreters of the superior court of the county or from an institution accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The local agency may estimate the total cost of printing, handling, translating, and mailing the candidate's statements filed pursuant to this section, including costs incurred as a result of complying with the Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended, and may require each candidate filing a statement to pay in advance to the local agency his or her estimated pro rata share as a condition of having his or her statement included in the voter's pamphlet. In the event of underpayment, the clerk may require the candidate to pay the balance of the cost incurred. In the event of overpayment, the clerk shall prorate the excess amount among the candidates and refund the excess amount paid within 30 days of the election.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to make any such statement or the authors thereof free or exempt from any civil or criminal action or penalty because of any false, slanderous or libelous statements offered for printing or contained in the voter's pamphlet.

Before the nominating period opens, the local agency for that election shall determine whether a charge shall be levied against that candidate for the candidate's statement sent to each voter. This decision shall not be revoked or modified after the seventh day prior to the opening of the nominating period. A written statement of the regulations with respect to charges for handling, packaging, and mailing shall be provided to each candidate or his or her representative at the time he or she picks up the nomination papers.

For purposes of this section, and Section 10012.5, the board of supervisors shall be deemed the governing body of judicial elections.

SEC. 2. Section 10012.3 is added to the Elections Code, to read:

10012.3. Notwithstanding Section 10012, if a candidate alleges to be indigent and unable to pay in advance the requisite fee for submitting a candidate statement, the candidate shall submit to the local agency a statement of financial worth to be used in determining whether or not he or she is eligible to submit a candidate statement without payment of the fee in advance.

The statement of financial worth shall be submitted by the candidate together with his or her candidate statement in accordance with the deadline specified in Section 10012. The statement of financial worth form shall be furnished by the local agency and may include questions relating to the candidate's employer, income, real estate holdings, tangible personal property, and financial obligations. The candidate shall certify the content of the statement as to its truth and correctness under penalty of perjury. The candidate shall also sign a release form of the candidate's most recent federal income tax report.

Upon receipt of a statement of financial worth, a determination shall be made by the local agency of whether or not the candidate is indigent and shall notify the candidate of its findings.

If it is determined that the candidate is not indigent the candidate shall within three days of the notification, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and state holidays, withdraw the statement or pay the requisite fee. If the candidate fails to respond within the time prescribed, the local agency shall not be obligated to print and mail the statement.

If the local agency determines that the candidate is indigent the local agency shall print and mail the statement.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the clerk from billing the candidate his or her actual pro rata share of the cost after the election.

CHAPTER 860

An act to amend Section 21382.4 of, and to add Section 21386.5 to, the Government Code, relating to the Public Employees' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21382.4 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21382.4. (a) In lieu of benefits provided in Section 21382 or Section 21382.2, if the death benefit provided by Section 21361 is payable on account of a state member's death which occurs under circumstances other than those described in paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 21360, or if an allowance under Section 21365.5 is payable, the payment pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be made in the following order of priority:

(1) The surviving wife or surviving husband of the member, who has the care of unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the member who are under 22 years of age, or are incapacitated because of disability which began before and has continued without interruption after attainment of that age.

(2) The guardian of surviving unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the member who are 22 years of age or are so incapacitated.

(3) The surviving wife or surviving husband of the member, who does not qualify under paragraph (1).

(4) Each surviving parent of the member.

(b) Regardless of the benefit provided by Section 21361 and of the beneficiary designated by the member under that section, or regardless of the allowance provided under Section 21365.5, the following applicable 1959 survivor allowance, under the conditions stated and from contributions of the state, shall be paid:

(1) A widow or a widower who was married to the member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death, and has the care of unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the deceased member who are under 22 years of age or are so incapacitated, shall be paid seven hundred dollars ($700) per month if there is one such child, or eight hundred forty dollars ($840) per month if there are two or more such children. If there also are such children who are not in the care of the surviving spouse, the portion of the allowance payable under this paragraph, assuming that these children were in the care of the surviving spouse, which is in excess of three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per month, shall be divided equally among all those children and payments made to the spouse and other children, as the case may be.

(2) If there is no such surviving spouse, or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries, and if there are unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the deceased member who are under 22 years of age or are so incapacitated, or if there are such children not in the care of the spouse, the children shall be paid an allowance as follows:

(A) If there is only one child, the child shall be paid three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per month.

(B) If there are two children, the children shall be paid seven hundred dollars ($700) per month divided equally between them.

(C) If there are three or more children, the children shall be paid eight hundred forty dollars ($840) per month divided equally among them.

(3) A widow or a widower who has attained or attains the age of 62 years, and, with respect to both widow and widower, who was married to the member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death and has not remarried subsequent to the member's death, shall be paid three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per month. No allowance shall be paid under paragraph (1), or while an allowance is being paid under subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2). The allowance paid under this paragraph shall be one hundred forty dollars ($140) per month while an allowance is being paid under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2).

(4) If there is no surviving spouse or surviving child who qualifies for the 1959 survivor allowance, or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries and there is no such surviving child, or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries and the children die or marry or, if not incapacitated, reach 22 years of age, each of the member's dependent parents who has attained or attains the age of 62 years, and who received at least one-half of his or her support from the member at the time of the member's death, shall be paid three hundred fifty dollars ($350) per month.

(c) "Stepchildren," for purposes of this section, shall include only stepchildren of the member living with the member in a regular parent-child relationship at the time of the death of the member.

(d) This section shall apply to beneficiaries of state members whose death occurred before January 1, 1985. Where a surviving spouse attained age 62 prior to January 1, 1987, entitlement shall exist retroactive to January 1, 1985, or to his or her 62nd birthday, whichever is later. All assets and liabilities of all state agencies and their employees on account of benefits provided to beneficiaries specified in this subdivision shall be pooled into a single account. The board shall transfer from the reserve for 1959 survivor contributions retained in the retirement fund, an amount sufficient to pay the cost of the increased benefits provided by this subdivision for beneficiaries of members who died on or before December 31, 1984.

(e) This section shall not apply to beneficiaries with respect to the death of a state member, except as provided in subdivision (i), occurring on or after January 1, 1985, unless provided for in a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Section 3517.5, or authorized by the Director of Personnel Administration for classifications of state employees who are excluded from, or not subject to, collective bargaining. The memorandum of understanding adopting this section shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if those provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, those provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature as provided by law.

(f) This section shall apply, with respect to benefits payable on and after January 1, 1985, to school members, except that it shall not apply, without contract amendment, with respect to safety members who became members after January 1, 1985. All assets and liabilities of all school employers, and their employees, on account of benefits provided under this article shall be pooled into a single account, and a single employer rate shall be established to provide benefits under this section on account of school members employed by a school employer.

(g) This section shall apply to members of a contracting agency which, by amending its contract, first elects effective on or after January 1, 1985, to make this article applicable to local members employed by the agency. On and after January 1, 1985, contracting agencies already subject to Section 21382 or Section 21382.2 may elect by contract amendment to be subject to this section. All assets and liabilities of all contracting agencies subject to this section, and their employees, on account of benefits provided under this article shall be pooled into a single account, and a single employer rate shall be established to provide benefits under this section on account of members employed by a contracting agency which is subject to this section.

(h) The rate of contribution of an employer subject to this section shall be figured using the term insurance valuation method. If a contracting agency which is subject to this section has a surplus in its 1959 survivor benefit account as of the date the contracting agency becomes subject to this section, the surplus shall be applied to reduce its rate of contribution. If a contracting agency which is subject to this section has a deficit in its 1959 survivor benefit account as of the date the contracting agency becomes subject to this section, its rate of contribution shall be increased until the deficit is paid.

(i) This section shall not apply to beneficiaries with respect to the death of a state member employed by the California State University occurring on or after January 1, 1988, unless provided for in a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1, or authorized by the Trustees of the California State University for employees excluded from collective bargaining. The memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if the provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

SEC. 2. Section 21386.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

21386.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, if so agreed to in a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1, as it pertains to represented employees of the California State University, the employer may pay, in addition to the employer contributions, all or a portion of the employee contributions required for the benefit payable pursuant to Section 21382.4 or the employees may pay, in addition to the employee contributions, all or a portion of the employer contributions required for the benefit payable pursuant to Section 21382.4.

CHAPTER 861

An act to amend Section 10471.1 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to real estate licenses.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10471.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

10471.1. (a) The claimant shall serve a copy of the notice prescribed in subdivision (c) upon the judgment debtor by personal service or by registered mail, together with a copy of the application.

(b) If the judgment debtor holds a current license issued by the department, service of the notice and a copy of the application may be made by registered mail addressed to the judgment debtor at the latest business or residence address on file with the department. If the judgment debtor does not hold a current license issued by the department and personal service cannot be effected through the exercise of reasonable diligence, the claimant shall serve the judgment debtor by one publication of the notice in each of two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the judgment debtor was last known to reside.

(c) The notice served upon the judgment debtor shall include the following statment:

"NOTICE: Based upon a judgment entered against you in favor of _____, application for (name of claimant)
payment from the Recovery Account of the Real Estate Fund is being made to the Department of Real Estate.

"If payment is made from the Recovery Account, all licenses and license rights that you have under the Real Estate Law will be automatically suspended on the date of payment and cannot be reinstated until the Recovery Account has been reimbursed for the amount paid plus interest at the prevailing rate.

"If you wish to contest payment by the Real Estate Commissioner, you must file a written response to the application addressed to the Department of Real Estate at _____ within 30 days after mailing, delivery, or publication of this notice and send a copy of that response to the claimant. If you fail to do so, you will have waived your right to present your objections to payment."

(d) If a judgment debtor fails to file a written response to the application with the department within 30 days after personal service, mailing, or final publication of the notice, the judgment debtor shall not thereafter be entitled to notice of any action taken or proposed to be taken by the commissioner with respect to the claim.

CHAPTER 862

An act to amend Section 10203.5 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10203.5 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10203.5. (a) Life insurance conforming to all the following conditions is another form of group life insurance:

(1) Covering one of the following groups:

(A) All members are or become borrowers from one financial institution, including subsidiary or affiliated persons, under an agreement to repay the sum borrowed.

(B) All members are or become purchasers of merchandise or other property (exclusive of securities, investment certificates and bank deposits) under an agreement to pay the balance of the purchase price.

(2) The group numbers not less than 100 new entrants yearly or, in the case of a credit union, not less than 50 borrowers yearly.

(3) The amount insured on any one borrower or purchaser does not exceed:

(A) The amount of the loan commitment in the case of an agricultural or horticultural loan commitment (as defined in Section 10203.55) repayable in one sum or in irregular installments within a period not in excess of 18 months from the initial date of the loan commitment, or one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), whichever is less, and

(B) In all other cases the balance of the indebtedness to the financial institution or vendor, or one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), whichever is less, on any one life.

(4) The repayment or payment of purchase price is to be made, under the agreement of loan or purchase; in substantially equal installments over a period not exceeding 40 years; or in installments that may vary according to the terms of a signed agreement; or in payments or installments in accordance with the usual terms of the creditor in the case of an open-ended agreement to extend credit, a revolving loan or revolving charge account; or in one sum or irregular installments within a period not in excess of 18 months from the initial date of the commitment on an agricultural or horticultural loan.

(5) The policy is issued upon application of and made payable to the financial institution, vendor, or a creditor to whom such vendor may transfer title to the indebtedness, as beneficiary, and the premiums are paid by or through the financial institution, vendor, or such creditor.

(b) A policy of insurance conforming to the provisions of this section is not subject to the provisions of Section 10209 or 10213.

CHAPTER 863

An act to add Sections 1176.1 and 1176.3 to the Labor Code, relating to wages, hours and working conditions.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1176.1 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1176.1. Any interested party may petition the commission requesting the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a regulation. The petition shall state clearly and concisely all of the following:

(a) The substance or nature of the regulation, amendment, or repeal that is requested.

(b) The reason for the request.

(c) Reference to the commission's authority to take the action that is requested.

SEC. 2. Section 1176.3 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1176.3. (a) Within 120 days of the receipt of a petition requesting the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a regulation, the commission shall notify the petitioner in writing of the receipt of the petition, set the matter for consideration at a public meeting, and issue a written decision taking one of the following actions:

(1) Setting the matter for public hearing pursuant to Section 1178 or 1178.5.

(2) Denying the petition. A decision denying a petition shall include a statement explaining the reasons for the denial.

(b) The petitioner may request reconsideration of any part or all of a decision denying a petition pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 1176.3. The commission's reconsideration of any matter relating to a petition shall be subject to subdivision (a), except that a decision to deny reconsideration shall be final.

(c) In cases where a petition is referred to a wage board, the commission shall complete its final actions on the petition within 90 days after completion of the public hearing process pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1178.5.

CHAPTER 864

An act relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The federal Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) represents a comprehensive change in federal income tax law that will profoundly affect the citizens of the state.

(b) Electric, gas, telephone, and other public utility rates are determined in part based on the amount of revenue that public utilities need to pay their income taxes.

(c) Public utility customers and subscribers could see a significant reduction in their utility bills if tax reform savings are passed on to them.

SEC. 2. The Public Utilities Commission shall review and analyze the public utility rate implications of the federal Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514), and on or before January 15, 1988, the commission shall report to the Legislature on the degree to which public utility tax savings should be utilized to lower public utility rates.

CHAPTER 865

An act to amend Sections 16750 and 16760 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to restraint of trade.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The purposes of this act are to:

(a) Provide as declarative of existing law that courts have the inherent authority to award reasonable attorney's fees and costs of suit to plaintiffs who obtain injunctive relief in antitrust actions.

(b) Provide as declarative of existing law that courts have the authority to order preliminary or permanent injunctive relief in actions brought pursuant to Section 16750 of the Business and Professions Code.

(c) Harmonize the damage provisions of state and federal antitrust law with respect to parens patriae actions brought by the Attorney General or district attorneys.

SEC. 2. Section 16750 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

16750. (a) Any person who is injured in his or her business or property by reason of anything forbidden or declared unlawful by this chapter, may sue therefor in any court having jurisdiction in the county where the defendant resides or is found, or any agent resides or is found, or where service may be obtained, without respect to the amount in controversy, and to recover three times the damages sustained by him or her, interest on his or her actual damages pursuant to Section 16761, and preliminary or permanent injunctive relief when and under the same conditions and principles as injunctive relief is granted by courts generally under the laws of this state and the rules governing these proceedings, and shall be awarded a reasonable attorneys' fee together with the costs of the suit.

This action may be brought by any person who is injured in his or her business or property by reason of anything forbidden or declared unlawful by this chapter, regardless of whether such injured person dealt directly or indirectly with the defendant.

The amendments to this section adopted at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature do not apply to any action commenced prior to September 18, 1959.

(b) The state and any of its political subdivisions and public agencies shall be deemed a person within the meaning of this section.

(c) The Attorney General may bring an action on behalf of the state or of any of its political subdivisions or public agencies to recover the damages provided for by this section, or by any comparable provision of federal law, provided that the Attorney General shall notify in writing any political subdivision or public agency of his or her intention to bring any such action on its behalf, and at any time within 30 days thereafter, such political subdivision or public agency may, by formal resolution of its governing body or as otherwise specifically provided by applicable law, withdraw the authority of the Attorney General to bring the intended action. In any action brought pursuant to this section on behalf of any political subdivision or public agency of the state, the state shall retain for deposit in the Attorney General antitrust account within the General Fund, out of the proceeds, if any, resulting from such action, an amount equal to the expense incurred by the Attorney General in the investigation and prosecution of such action or an amount equal to 10 percent of the total recovery obtained by the Attorney General, whichever is greater.

(d) In any antitrust action brought on behalf of the state in which the Attorney General is the class representative of political subdivisions, public agencies, or citizens of the state who have been affected by the matters set forth in the complaint, the state shall retain for deposit in the Attorney General antitrust account within the General Fund, the proceeds, if any, of any attorneys' fees awarded by the court in which such case is located, to the Attorney General, resulting from such class representation.

(e) In any action brought by the Attorney General pursuant to either state or federal antitrust laws for the recovery of damages by the state or any of its political subdivisions or public agencies, in addition to his or her other powers and authority, the Attorney General may enter into contracts relating to the investigation and the prosecution of such action with any other party plaintiff who has brought a similar action for the recovery of damages and with whom the Attorney General finds it advantageous to act jointly, or to share common expenses or to cooperate in any manner relative to such action. In any such action, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 12520 of the Government Code, the Attorney General may undertake, among other things, either to render legal services as special counsel to, or to obtain the legal services of special counsel from any department or agency of the United States, of this state or any other state or any department or agency thereof, any county, city, public corporation or public district of this state or of any other state, that has brought or intends to bring a similar action for the recovery of damages, or their duly authorized legal representatives in such action. The Attorney General may also enter into any agreement authorized by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code with any governmental entity enumerated in this subdivision, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in Section 6500 of the Government Code. Every contract or agreement entered into pursuant to this subdivision (e) shall be approved by the Department of General Services.

(f) The amounts paid into the Attorney General antitrust account within the General Fund pursuant to subdivisions (c), (d) and (e) arising from the same action or companion actions shall not cumulatively exceed the greater of ten percent (10%) of the total recovery in all actions resulting from the Attorney General's representation or an amount equal to the expenses incurred by the Attorney General in the investigation and prosecution of such actions. Any excess shall be paid into the General Fund.

(g) The district attorney of any county may prosecute any action on behalf of such county or any city or public agency or political subdivision located wholly within such county which the Attorney General is authorized to bring pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, whenever it appears that the activities giving rise to such prosecution or the effects of such activities occur primarily within such county. The district attorney shall file with the Attorney General at least 30 days prior to the filing of any such action a copy of the proposed complaint together with a confidential memorandum and report explaining the facts giving rise to the proposed prosecution and supporting the filing of the new complaint. Prior to entering into any stipulated or consent judgment or other settlement of any such action, the district attorney shall file with the Attorney General at least 30 days prior to the execution thereof a copy of the proposed settlement together with a memorandum of explanation of the settlement. The Attorney General may waive any time requirements provided in this subdivision. In any investigation or action undertaken or brought by a district attorney pursuant to this section, if the Attorney General deems it necessary and in the public interest, the Attorney General may take full charge of any such investigation or prosecution, and the Attorney General shall have all the powers granted by Section 12550 of the Government Code in respect thereto.

(h) In any action prosecuted pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (g) a district attorney may exercise all of the powers conferred on the Attorney General by subdivision (e) provided that every contract or agreement entered into pursuant to this subdivision by a district attorney shall first be approved by the governing authority of the agency in his or her county.

(i) In any action brought pursuant to subdivision (g) a district attorney may represent any political subdivision located within his or her county directly, in which case he or she shall notify in writing such political subdivision of his or her intention to bring any such action on its behalf, and at any time within 30 days thereafter, that political subdivision may, by formal resolution of its governing body or as otherwise specifically provided by applicable law, withdraw the authority of the district attorney to bring the intended action. In any action in which a district attorney directly represents any political subdivision located within his county, the district attorney shall retain out of the proceeds, if any, resulting from such action, an amount equal to the expense incurred by the district attorney in the investigation and prosecution of such action or an amount equal to 10 percent of the total recovery obtained by the district attorney, whichever is greater. In any action brought pursuant to subdivision (g) in which the county, through the district attorney, is the class representative of political subdivisions located within such county, the district attorney shall retain the proceeds, if any, of any attorneys' fees awarded by the court in which such action is pending to the district attorney, resulting from such class representation. All proceeds retained by a district attorney pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in the appropriate account as provided by law.

(j) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize any district attorney to exercise the powers conferred upon the Attorney General by an act of Congress of September 30, 1976, (P.L. 94-905; 90 Stat. 1983) also known as the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, except at the direction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 3. Section 16760 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

16760. (a) (1) The Attorney General may bring a civil action in the name of the people of the State of California, as parens patriae on behalf of natural persons residing in the state, in the superior court of any county which has jurisdiction of a defendant, to secure monetary relief as provided in this section for injury sustained by such natural persons to their property by reason of any violation of this chapter. The court shall exclude from the amount of monetary relief awarded in such action any amount of monetary relief (A) which duplicates amounts which have been awarded for the same injury, or (B) which is properly allocable to (i) natural persons who have excluded their claims pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), and (ii) any business entity.

(2) The court shall award the state as monetary relief three times the total damage sustained as described in paragraph (1), the interest on the total damages pursuant to Section 16761, and the costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

(3) The court may, in its discretion, award a reasonable attorney's fee to a prevailing defendant upon a finding that the attorney general or district attorney has acted in bad faith, vexatiously, wantonly, or for oppressive reasons.

(b) (1) In any action brought under this section, the Attorney General shall, at such times, in such manner, and with such content as the court may direct, cause notice thereof to be given by publication. If the court finds that notice given solely by publication would deny due process of law to any person or persons, the court may direct further notice to such person or persons according to the circumstances of the case.

(2) Any person on whose behalf an action is brought under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) may elect to exclude from adjudication the portion of the claim for monetary relief attributable to him or her by filing notice of such election with the court within such time as specified in the notice given pursuant to paragraph (1).

(3) The final judgment in an action under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall be res judicata as to any claim under this section by any person on behalf of whom such action was brought and who fails to give such notice within the period specified in the notice given pursuant to paragraph (1).

(c) An action under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall not be dismissed or compromised without the approval of the court, and notice of any proposed dismissal or compromise shall be given in such manner as the court directs.

(d) In any action under this chapter, where there has been a determination that a defendant agreed to fix prices, damages may be proved and assessed in the aggregate by statistical or sampling methods, by the pro rata allocation of illegal overcharges or of excess profits, or by such other reasonable system of estimating aggregate damages as the court in its discretion may permit without the necessity of separately proving the individual claim of, or amount of damage to, persons on whose behalf the suit was brought.

(e) Monetary relief recovered by the Attorney General under this section shall be distributed as follows:

(1) In such manner as the superior court having jurisdiction over the action in its discretion may authorize to insure, to the extent possible, that each person be afforded a reasonable opportunity to secure his or her appropriate portion of the monetary relief.

(2) The Attorney General shall retain that portion of the monetary relief awarded by the court as costs of suit and attorney's fee for deposit in the Attorney General Antitrust Account within the General Fund.

(3) To the extent that the monetary relief awarded by the court is not exhausted by distribution under paragraphs (1) and (2), the remaining funds shall be treated under the provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 1530) and Article 4 (commencing with Section 1540) of Chapter 7 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure as if it were unclaimed property, as defined in Section 1300 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(f) The powers granted in this section are in addition to and not in derogation of the powers granted to the Attorney General by common law in respect to bringing actions parens patriae.

(g) The district attorney of any county may prosecute any action on behalf of the natural persons residing in such county which the Attorney General is authorized to bring pursuant to subdivision (a), whenever it appears that the activities giving rise to such prosecution or the effects of such activities occur primarily within such county. Prior to bringing any such action, a district attorney shall comply with the notice requirements provided in subdivision (g) of Section 16750. In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision, the provisions of subdivisions (a) to (e), inclusive, shall be applicable, except that the portion of monetary relief awarded by the court as attorney's fee and costs shall be retained by the district attorney for deposit in the appropriate account as provided by law.

CHAPTER 866

An act to amend Section 17577.2 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to water treatment devices, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17577.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17577.2. It is unlawful for any person soliciting a sale, rental, lease, or order for water treatment devices to do any of the following:

(a) Make false claims or statements that are not entirely true, or statements that are misleading, about contamination problems in tap water.

(b) Make statements which are not true or applicable in all situtations which they purport to cover. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Claims that state or imply scientific certainty regarding the relationship between acute or chronic illnesses and water quality.

(2) Statements which overstate the kind and degree of problems caused by water treated by public water systems.

(3) Statements stating or implying that the water flowing from a water treatment device is "pure," "safe," or the use of other words or terms which state or imply that the treatment device improves the quality of tap water.

(c) Make product performance claims or product benefit claims unless they are based on factual data of a type and quantity reasonably appropriate for the claims being made, which data is in existence at the time the claims are made.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), make product performance claims or product benefit claims that the device affects health or the safety of drinking water, unless the device has been certified by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 4057) of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code.

This subdivision shall become operative one year after the effective date of the regulations adopted pursuant to Section 4057.1 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) Make statements about the performance attributes or benefits claimed for a product unless they are adequately described or qualified in complete, comprehensive, and detailed terms and are based on proven facts.

(f) Make claims which describe a problem and offer a solution unless the circumstances under which the problem is likely to arise are clearly and accurately identified.

(g) Use pictures, exhibits, graphs, charts, or other graphic portrayals unless they are clearly and unambiguously truthful.

(h) Omit material facts from advertising material or statements if the effect would be to mislead or to misrepresent.

(i) Use endorsements or testimonials unless they contain no misleading implications and they reflect the most current opinion and qualifications of the person giving it.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This bill will remove an unintended restriction on the sale of water treatment devices. The restriction places an unintended and undue burden on commercial activities; thus it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Sections 31020, 31021, 31038, 31113, 31115, 31150, 31152, 31153, 31158, 31210, 31220, 31300, 31320, 31322, 31401, 31403, 31404, 31405, 31506, 31507, 31508, and 31603 of, to amend and renumber Section 31953 of, to add Sections 31034.5, 31047.5, and 31110.5 to, and to repeal Sections 31005, 31321, 31323, 31407, and 31505 of, the Financial Code, relating to business and industrial development corporations.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31005 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 31020 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31020 The Legislature finds all of the following:

(a) That it is necessary to increase job opportunities in this state.

(b) That promoting the establishment, growth, and expansion of business firms in this state is an efficient way to increase job opportunities in this state.

(c) That it is appropriate to provide for the licensing and regulation of business and industrial development corporations which will provide financing assistance and management assistance primarily to business firms in this state.

(d) That the federal government, through the Small Business Administration and other federal agencies, offers programs for providing, through such intermediaries as business and industrial development corporations, financing assistance and management assistance to business firms in this state.

(e) That, in order that this state may obtain the full benefits of such programs, it is necessary that this state provide for the licensing and regulation of business and industrial development corporations.

(f) That only California corporations should be licensed to transact business as business and industrial development corporations because, compared with other types of persons, California corporations can be more effectively regulated and supervised, have greater permanency of existence, and can give better assurance of uninterrupted service.

SEC. 3. Section 31021 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31021. (a) The purposes of this division are:

(1) To provide for the licensing and regulation of business and industrial development corporations which will provide financing assistance and management assistance primarily to business firms in this state.

(2) To provide for the licensing and regulation of business and industrial development corporations so that such corporations will constitute state development companies for purposes of Sections 501 and 502 of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and eligible lending institutions for purposes of Section 7 (a) of the Small Business Act.

(3) To provide for the safe and sound conduct of the business of licensees.

(4) To maintain the confidence of the Small Business Administration and other governmental agencies in licensees.

(b) The purposes of this division, as set forth in subdivision (a), constitute standards which the superintendent shall observe in administering the provisions of this division.

SEC. 4. Section 31034.5 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

31034.5. "Business firm in another state" means both of the following:

(a) Any person which transacts business on a regular and continual basis at one or more places of business in another state of the United States or the District of Columbia, with respect to the transacting of that business at those places of business.

(b) Any person which proposes to establish one or more places of business in another state of the United States or in the District of Columbia and to transact business on a regular and continual basis at those places of business, with respect to the establishment of those places of business and the transacting of that business at those places of business.

SEC. 5. Section 31038 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31038. "Control", when used with respect to a specified person, means possession, direct or indirect, of the power to do either of the following:

(a) To vote 35 percent or more of any class of the voting securities issued by the specified person.

(b) To direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such specified person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract (other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services), or otherwise; provided, however, that no natural person shall be deemed to control a person solely on account of being a director, officer, or employee of such person. For purposes of this subdivision, any person who, directly or indirectly, owns of record or beneficially, holds with power to vote, or holds proxies with discretionary authority to vote, 20 percent or more of any class of the then outstanding voting securities issued by a corporation shall be rebuttably presumed to control such corporation. This presumption is a presumption affecting the burden of proof.

SEC. 6. Section 31047.5 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

31047.5. "Parent," when used with respect to a specified person other than a natural person, means any person other than a natural person which controls the specified person, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

SEC. 7. Section 31110.5 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

31110.5. The superintendent may provide information relating to a licensee to the Small Business Administration or to any governmental agency which licenses or regulates the licensee or any parent or subsidiary of the licensee.

SEC. 8. Section 31113 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31113. Before any applicant for a license is issued a license, such applicant and each parent and subsidiary of such applicant shall file, and each person who becomes a parent or subsidiary of a licensee shall, not less than 30 days after becoming a parent or subsidiary of such licensee, file, with the superintendent, in such form as the superintendent may by regulation or order require, an irrevocable consent appointing the superintendent and his or her successor from time to time in office to be such person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal judicial or administrative proceeding against such person, or his or her successor, executor, or administrator, which arises under this division or under any regulation or order issued under this division after such consent has been filed, with the same force and validity as if served personally on such person. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process at any office of the superintendent, but such service is not effective unless (a) the party making such service, who may be the superintendent, forthwith sends notice of such service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the party served at his or her last address on file with the superintendent, and (b) an affidavit of compliance with this section by the party making service is filed in the case on or before the return date, if any, or within such further time as the court, in the case of a judicial proceeding, or the administrative agency, in the case of an administrative proceeding, allows.

SEC. 9. Section 31115 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31115. (a) Fees shall be paid to, and collected by, the superintendent, as follows:

(1) The fee for filing with the superintendent an application for a license shall be two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(2) The fee for filing with the superintendent an application for approval to acquire control of a licensee shall be one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(3) The fee for filing with the superintendent an application for approval for a licensee to merge with another corporation; an application for approval for a licensee to purchase all or substantially all of the business of another person, or an application for approval for a licensee to sell all or substantially all of its business or of the business of any of its offices to another licensee, shall be one thousand dollars ($1,000); provided, however, that whenever two or more such applications relating to the same merger, purchase, or sale are filed with the superintendent, the fee for filing each application shall be the quotient determined by dividing one thousand dollars ($1,000) by the number of the applications.

(4) The fee for filing with the superintendent an application for approval to relocate the head office of a licensee shall be one hundred dollars ($100).

(5) The fee for issuing a license shall be twenty-five dollars ($25).

(6) Each person which is licensed under this division on June 1 of any year shall pay, on or before the following July 1, a fee of two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(7) Whenever the superintendent examines any licensee or any affiliate of a licensee, such licensee shall pay, within 10 days after receipt of a statement from the superintendent, a fee of two hundred dollars ($200) per day for each examiner engaged in such examination plus, in case it is necessary for any examiner engaged in such examination to travel outside this state, the travel expenses of such examiner.

(b) (1) Each fee for filing an application with the superintendent shall be paid at the time when such application is filed with the superintendent.

(2) No fee for filing an application with the superintendent shall be refundable, regardless of whether such application is approved, denied, withdrawn, or abandoned.

SEC. 10. Section 31150 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31150. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), no person transacting business in this state, other than a licensee, shall use any name or title which indicates that it is a business and industrial development corporation or otherwise represent that it is a business and industrial development corporation or that it is a licensee.

(b) Any California corporation which proposes to apply for a license or which has applied for a license, may, before being issued a license, use a name or title which indicates that it is a business and industrial development corporation if it meets all of the following requirements:

(1) The corporation shall append to the name the designation "proposed," "in organization," or "in formation," or any similar designation which the superintendent may approve. The designation shall be set forth at least as conspicuously as the name or title.

(2) The corporation may perform only such acts as may be necessary (A) to apply for and obtain such license and (B) otherwise to prepare to commence transacting business as a licensee.

(3) The corporation shall not represent that it is a licensee.

SEC. 11. Section 31152 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31152. If the superintendent finds all of the following with respect to an application for a license, the superintendent shall approve the application:

(a) That the applicant has net worth in an amount which is not less than one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) and which is adequate for the applicant to transact business as a business and industrial development corporation.

(b) That the applicant has lendable funds in an amount which is not less than one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) and which is adequate for the applicant to transact business as a business and industrial development corporation.

(c) That the applicant has, in addition to the requirements of subdivision (b), financial resources in an amount which is adequate for the applicant to pay its expenses in transacting business as a business and industrial development corporation for a period of not less than three years.

(d) That the directors, officers, and controlling persons of the applicant are each of good character and sound financial standing, that the directors and officers of the applicant are each competent to perform their functions with respect to the applicant, and that the directors and officers of the applicant are collectively adequate to manage the business of the applicant as a business and industrial development corporation. For purposes of this subdivision, the superintendent shall accord weight to the prior or current successful operation of a commercial enterprise.

(e) That it is reasonable to believe that the applicant, if licensed, will comply with all applicable provisions of this division and of any regulation or order issued under this division.

(f) That the applicant has reasonable promise of successful operation as a business and industrial development corporation.

(g) That the licensing of the applicant will promote the public convenience and advantage.

If, after notice and a hearing, the superintendent finds otherwise, he or she shall deny the application.

SEC. 12. Section 31153 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31153. Before any applicant for a license is issued a license, each person which is a parent or subsidiary of such applicant shall file, and each person who becomes a parent or subsidiary of a licensee shall, not less than 30 days after becoming a parent or subsidiary of such licensee, file, with the superintendent, in such form as the superintendent may by regulation or order require, an agreement that such person shall comply with all applicable provisions of this division and of any regulation or order issued under this division.

SEC. 13. Section 31158 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31158. (a) The fact that a California corporation is licensed under any law other than this division shall not preclude such corporation from applying for or being issued a license under this division unless the transaction of business by such corporation as a licensee under such other law would violate any provision of this division or of any regulation or order issued under this division or would be contrary to the purposes of this division.

(b) The fact that a California corporation is licensed under this division shall not preclude such corporation from applying for or being issued a license under any other law unless the transaction of business by such corporation as a licensee under such other law would violate any provision of this division or of any regulation or order issued under this division or would be contrary to the purposes of this division.

SEC. 14. Section 31210 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31210. The board of directors of each licensee shall consist of not less than five directors.

SEC. 15. Section 31220 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31220. Notwithstanding any other law of this state, but subject to the provisions of Section 31550:

(a) Any commercial bank or trust company organized under the laws of this state may, with the prior approval of the superintendent, acquire and hold securities issued by a licensee; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of securities issued by licensees which are held by such commercial bank or trust company shall not at any time exceed 2½ percent of the shareholders' equity of such commercial bank or trust company. This subdivision shall not apply to any loan or other extension of credit made by a commercial bank organized under the laws of this state to a licensee in acccordance with the Banking Law (Division 1 (commencing with Section 99)).

(b) Any savings association organized under the laws of this state may, with the prior approval of the Savings and Loan Commissioner, acquire and hold securities issued by a licensee; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of securities issued by licensees which are held by such savings association shall not at any time exceed ½ percent of the total outstanding loans of such savings association.

(c) Any insurance company admitted to transact insurance business in this state may, with the approval of the Insurance Commissioner, acquire and hold securities issued by a licensee; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of securities issued by licensees which are held by such insurance company shall not at any time exceed 2½ percent of the unassigned surplus of such insurance company.

(d) Any public utility licensed or regulated by the Public Utilities Commission may, with the approval of the Public Utilities Commission, acquire and hold securities issued by a licensee; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of securities issued by licensees which are held by such public utility company shall not at any time exceed ½ percent of the total assets of such public utility company.

(e) Any industrial loan company organized under the laws of this state may, with the prior approval of the Commissioner of Corporations, acquire and hold securities issued by a licensee; provided, however, that the aggregate amount of securities issued by licensees which are held by such industrial loan companies shall not at any time exceed 5 percent of the net outstanding loans and obligations of such companies.

SEC. 16. Section 31300 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31300. Each licensee shall maintain its head office in this state.

SEC. 17. Section 31320 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31320. (a) No licensee shall relocate its head office without the prior approval of the superintendent.

(b) No licensee shall establish, relocate, or close any office (other than its head office) unless it files a report on the action with the superintendent not less than 30 days (or such shorter period as the superintendent may approve) before taking the action.

SEC. 18. Section 31321 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 19. Section 31322 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31322. If the superintendent finds, with respect to an application by a licensee for approval to relocate its head office:

(a) That the office at its proposed location will be reasonably accessible to the public;

(b) That it is reasonable to believe that the applicant will operate the office at its proposed location in compliance with all applicable provisions of this division and of any regulation or order issued under this division;

(c) That it will not be unsafe or unsound for the applicant to relocate the office; and

(d) That the relocation of the office will not be detrimental to the public convenience and advantage, or, if the relocation of the office would be detrimental to the public convenience and advantage, that the relocation of the office is necessary in the interests of the safety and soundness of the applicant; the superintendent shall approve the application. If, after notice and a hearing, the superintendent finds otherwise, the superintendent shall deny the application.

SEC. 20. Section 31323 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 31401 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31401. No licensee shall engage in any business other than one or more of the following:

(a) The business of providing financing assistance and management assistance to business firms.

(b) The business of a state development company in accordance with all applicable provisions of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and of the regulations of the Small Business Administration.

(c) The business of a local development company in accordance with all applicable provisions of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and of the regulations of the Small Business Administration.

(d) The business of a small business investment company in accordance with all applicable provisions of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 and of the regulations of the Small Business Administration.

SEC. 22. Section 31403 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31403. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), no licensee shall provide financing assistance or management assistance to any person other than a business firm in this state.

(b) (1) If a licensee provides financing assistance to a business firm in this state, the licensee may also provide financing assistance and management assistance to the business firm with respect to business transacted in any other state of the United States or the District of Columbia.

(2) If a licensee provides financing assistance to a business firm in this state which is a franchisor, the licensee may also provide financing assistance and management assistance to any business firm in another state which is a franchisee of the franchisor.

(3) If a licensee provides financing assistance to a business firm in this state which is a franchisee of a franchisor, the licensee may also provide financing assistance and management assistance to any business firm in another state which is a franchisee of the franchisor.

SEC. 23. Section 31404 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31404. Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) of Section 31403, no licensee shall provide financing assistance or management assistance for use outside this state.

SEC. 24. Section 31405 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31405. Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) of Section 31406:

(a) No licensee shall provide financing assistance or management assistance to any business firm the primary business of which is to provide financing assistance or management assistance.

(b) No licensee shall provide financing assistance to any business firm for the purpose of providing financing assistance to other persons or discharging, in whole or in part, any obligation incurred for such purpose.

SEC. 25. Section 31407 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 26. Section 31505 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 31506 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31506. Each licensee, each director, officer, and employee of a licensee, and each parent and subsidiary of a licensee shall file with the superintendent such reports as and when the superintendent may by regulation or order require. In addition, each affiliate of a licensee (other than a parent or subsidiary of the licensee) shall file with the superintendent such reports regarding transactions between the affiliate and the licensee as and when the superintendent may require. Each report shall be in such form, shall contain such information, shall be signed in such manner, and shall

(if the superintendent so requires by regulation or order) be verified in such manner, as the superintendent may by regulation or order require.

SEC. 28. Section 31507 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31507. (a) The superintendent shall examine each licensee not less frequently than once each calendar year.

(b) (1) The superintendent may at any time examine any licensee or any parent or subsidiary of a licensee.

(2) The superintendent may at any time examine any affiliate of a licensee (other than a parent or subsidiary of the licensee) but only with respect to matters relating to transactions between the affiliate and the licensee.

(c) The directors, officers, and employees of any licensee or of any affiliate of a licensee being examined by the superintendent and any other person having custody of any of the books, accounts, or records of such licensee or of such affiliate shall exhibit to the superintendent, on request, any or all of the books, accounts, and other records of such licensee or of such affiliate and shall otherwise facilitate such examination so far as it may be in their power to do so. However, in the case of an examination of an affiliate of a licensee other than a parent or subsidiary of the licensee, only books, accounts, and records of the affiliate which relate to transactions between the affiliate and the licensee shall be subject to this subdivision.

(d) The superintendent may, if in his or her opinion it is necessary in the examination of any licensee or of any affiliate of a licensee, retain any certified public accountant, attorney, appraiser, or other person to assist him or her, and such licensee shall pay, within 10 days after receipt of a statement from the superintendent, the fees of such person.

SEC. 29. Section 31508 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31508. (a) No licensee shall, except with the prior approval of the superintendent, cause or permit any other person to make or keep any of its books, accounts, or other records.

(b) In case any person other than a licensee makes or keeps any of the books, accounts, or other records of such licensee, the provisions of this division and of any regulation or order issued under this division shall apply to such person with respect to the performance of such services and with respect to such books, accounts, and other records to the same extent as if such person were such licensee.

(c) In case any person other than an affiliate of a licensee makes or keeps any of the books, accounts, or other records of such affiliate or, in the case of an affiliate other than a parent or subsidiary of the licensee, the books, accounts, and other records of the affiliate that relate to transactions between the affiliate and the licensee, the provisions of this division and of any regulation or order issued under this division shall apply to such person with respect to such books, accounts, and other records to the same extent as if such person were such affiliate.

SEC. 30. Section 31603 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

31603. No licensee shall sell all or substantially all of its business to any other person unless such other person is a licensee and such sale shall have first been approved by the superintendent.

SEC. 31. Section 31953 of the Financial Code is amended and renumbered to read:

31410. This section creates and authorizes an exempt class of persons pursuant to Section 1 of Article XV of the State Constitution. The restrictions upon rates of interest contained in Section 1 of Article XV of the State Constitution shall not apply to any loans made by, or forbearances of, any licensee. This section shall apply retroactively to any such loans or forbearances.

CHAPTER 868

An act to amend Sections 6103.8, 7171, and 7174 of the Government Code, relating to state tax liens, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6103.8 of the Government Code is amended to read:

6103.8. (a) Sections 6103 and 27383 do not apply to any fee or charge for recording full releases executed or recorded pursuant to Section 7174 of the Government Code, Sections 4608 and 5003.7 of the Public Resources Code, and Sections 2194, 11496, 12494, and 32362 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, where there is full satisfaction of the amount due under the lien which is released.

(b) The fee for recording full releases listed in subdivision (a) shall be six dollars ($6).

(c) In the case of full releases recorded by the state taxing agency pursuant to Section 7174 of the Government Code, the recording agency shall be billed quarterly or, at the option of the agency, at more frequent intervals. All billing shall refer to the agency certificate number of the recorded releases.

(d) The fee for recording full releases for any document relating to an agreement to reimburse a county for public aid granted by the county shall be six dollars ($6).

(e) The fee for filing any release of judgment which was in favor of a government agency and recorded pursuant to Section 6103 or 27383 shall be six dollars ($6).

(f) Sections 6103 and 27383 do not apply to any fee or charge for recording a notice of state tax lien under subdivision (d) of Section

7171 or a certificate of release under subdivision (h) of Section 7174.

(g) The fee for recording a notice of state tax lien pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 7171 and a certificate of release under subdivision (h) of Section 7174 shall be as permitted by Sections 27361, 27361.2, 27361.4, and 27361.8.

(h) In the case of recording a notice of state tax lien pursuant to subdivision (f) or a certificate of release pursuant to subdivision (f), the recording agency shall be billed quarterly or at the option of the agency at more frequent intervals. All billing shall refer to the agency notice or certificate number.

SEC. 2. Section 7171 of the Government Code is amended to read:

7171. (a) With respect to real property, at any time after creation of a state tax lien, the agency may record in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located a notice of state tax lien.

(b) With respect to personal property, at any time after creation of a state tax lien, the agency may file a notice of state tax lien with the Secretary of State pursuant to Chapter 14.5 (commencing with Section 7220).

(c) The notice of state tax lien recorded or filed pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) shall include all of the following:

(1) The name and last known address of the taxpayer.

(2) The name of the agency giving notice of the lien.

(3) The amount of the unpaid tax.

(4) A statement that the amount of the unpaid tax is a lien on all real or personal property and rights to such property, including all after-acquired property and rights to property, belonging to the taxpayer.

(5) A statement that the agency has complied with all of the provisions of the applicable law for determining and assessing the tax.

(d) If the notice of state tax lien recorded in any county reflects an out-of-state address as the last known address of the taxpayer, the agency shall pay the fees required by Sections 27361, 27361.2, 27361.4, and 27361.8.

(e) The agency recording a notice of state tax lien pursuant to subdivision (d) may collect from the taxpayer, in any manner provided by law for the collection of the tax, the cost of recording.

SEC. 3. Section 7174 of the Government Code is amended to read:

7174. (a) If the agency determines that the amount of tax, interest, and any penalty are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property or that the release or subordination of the state tax lien will not jeopardize the collection of the amount of the tax, including interest and penalty, the agency may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to the state tax lien from the lien or may subordinate the state tax lien to other liens and encumbrances.

(b) If the agency finds that the liability represented by the state tax lien, including any interest accrued thereon, is legally unenforceable, the agency may release the lien.

(c) If the agency has recorded a notice of state tax lien as provided in Section 7171 and the liability represented by the lien, including any interest and penalty, has been satisfied in full:

(1) If the agency is other than the Controller or the State Board of Equalization, the agency shall, not later than 40 days after the liability is satisfied, record a certificate of release in the office of the county recorder where the notice of state tax lien is recorded.

(2) In the case of the Controller or the State Board of Equalization, the agency shall, not later than 40 days after the liability is satisfied, do one of the following:

(A) Record a certificate of release in the office of the county recorder where the notice of state tax lien is recorded.

(B) Deposit in the mail or otherwise deliver to the taxpayer a certificate of release.

(d) If the agency records a certificate of release under subdivision (c) or files a certificate of release under subdivision (e), the cost of recording or filing is an obligation of the taxpayer and may be collected from the taxpayer in any manner provided by law for the collection of the tax.

(e) If the agency has filed a notice of state tax lien with the Secretary of State as provided in Section 7171 and the liability represented by the state tax lien, including any interest and penalty, has been satisfied in full, the agency shall, not later than 40 days after the liability is satisfied, do one of the following:

(1) File a certificate of release with the Secretary of State.

(2) Deposit in the mail or otherwise deliver a certificate of release to the taxpayer.

(f) For the purpose of subdivisions (c) and (e), if payment is made by check, the 40-day period does not commence to run until the check has been paid by the financial institution upon which it was drawn.

(g) A certificate by the agency to the effect that any property has been released from a state tax lien or that the lien has been subordinated to other liens and encumbrances is conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate.

(h) If the certificate of release recorded pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) reflects an out-of-state address as the last known address of the taxpayer, the agency shall pay the fees permitted by Sections 27361, 27361.2, 27361.4, and 27361.8.

SEC. 4. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Franchise Tax Board in augmentation of Item 1730-001-001 of the Budget Act of 1987.

CHAPTER 869

An act to add Sections 23039.1 and 24045.10 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to alcoholic beverages, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23039.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

23039.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any on-sale beer and wine public premises licensee who has been licensed at premises operated as a cabaret theater for at least 10 years and which has a seating capacity for at least 375 patrons may admit persons under the age of 21 years to matinee theater performances on Sundays provided that alcoholic beverages are not sold, served, or consumed on the premises during those performances.

SEC. 2. Section 24045.10 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

24045.10. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department may issue a general on-sale license to a person who does not operate a bona fide eating place or other public premise who meets all of the following:

(a) Has operated a catering business for not less than 5 years.

(b) Has operated or owned for not less than 4 years a bona fide eating place that had a general on-sale license.

(c) Caters over 500 events annually.

(d) Serves alcoholic beverages at no more than 25 percent of the events catered annually and has revenues from the sale of alcoholic beverages which do not constitute more than 25 percent of his or her total annual revenues.

(e) Obtains an annual permit to serve alcoholic beverages at events and obtains an authorization for each event, as specified in Section 23399.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to prevent the immediate loss of employment and taxable revenue, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 870

An act to amend Section 1001 of the Education Code, relating to county boards of education.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1001 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1001. (a) In those counties where the county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over a school district situated in two or more counties, any qualified elector residing in the part of the school district situated in a county whose county superintendent of schools does not have jurisdiction of that school district shall be eligible to vote for one or more members of the county board of education of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district. Each such elector shall be eligible to vote for the member of the county board of education representing the trustee area of that county having jurisdiction as designated by the county committee on school district organization. The committee shall apportion the portion of the school district territory not situated in the county having jurisdiction to one or more trustee areas of the other county so that that territory shall, insofar as possible, be represented as if it were situated in the county having jurisdiction. The territory so apportioned shall not become a part of the trustee area to which apportioned for any other purpose. As used in this subdivision, "school district" means any joint union elementary school district, joint union high school district, or joint unified school district, but does not include any community college district.

(b) Any person who is a resident of a county and is made eligible to vote for the county board of education of another county pursuant to subdivision (a) shall not be eligible to vote for the county board of education of the county of which he or she is a resident. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, a person shall be eligible to vote for both county boards of education if he or she is a resident of an elementary school district of any type that is included in a joint union high school district and the elementary school district and the joint union high school district are each under the jurisdiction of different county superintendents of schools.

(c) "County," for purposes of this section, includes any county other than a charter county for which the charter specifies that this section does not apply.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) and any other provisions of law.

CHAPTER 871

An act relating to courts.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Attorney General may undertake a two-year pilot project to demonstrate methodology to improve the quantity and accuracy of disposition information relating to adult felony arrests reported to the Department of Justice pursuant to Section 13150 of the Penal Code. The Counties of Alameda, Riverside, Sacramento, Santa Cruz, and Shasta are authorized to participate in this project. For the participating counties, the district attorneys shall review adult felony arrest case information provided by the superior, municipal, and justice courts.

In addition, for participating counties, the following shall apply:

(a) The courts of the participating county shall provide the adult felony arrest case adjudication information containing the applicable data elements enumerated in Section 13125 or 13151.1 of the Penal Code to the district attorney of the county in which the court is located. Whenever a court shall order any action subsequent to the initial disposition of a case, the court shall similarly report the proceedings to the district attorney.

(b) The district attorney for the participating county, upon receipt of the adult felony case disposition information from the superior, municipal, and justice courts, shall review the reports and shall, within 30 days of receipt, furnish the Department of Justice with a report of any additions, amendments, or other changes which should be made to accurately reflect the dispositions of the adult felony arrest cases, and shall furnish copies of the additions, amendments, or changes to the court and the appropriate law enforcement agency. The report shall be furnished to the Department of Justice, and the copies provided to the court and the law enforcement agency, only after the district attorney has reconciled any additions, amendments, or changes with the records of the court which provided the original disposition information.

This act shall be in effect only until January 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed.

CHAPTER 872

An act to amend Sections 87272 and 87272.1 of the Education Code, relating to community colleges, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 87272 of the Education Code is amended to read:

87272. Fees shall be levied by the board of governors for the issuance and renewal of teaching and related credentials, and the fingerprint investigative check conducted by the Department of Justice. The fees shall be set by the board in a manner so that revenues shall be produced sufficient to support the credentialing related activities and functions of both agencies, including continuing research and evaluation activities. In no case shall a fee levied under this section exceed forty dollars ($40).

This section shall become operative July 1, 1985, and shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 87272.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

This section shall become operative January 1, 1989.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to postpone until January 1, 1989, a statutory reduction in the maximum authorized fee for the issuance and renewal of community college teaching and related credentials, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 873

An act relating to Andrews v. the State of California, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of one million three hundred ninety-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($1,397,500) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Developmental Services in order to pay the settlement in the action captioned Andrews v. State of California, et al., Case No. CV 83-6336 (JSL) (Mcx), brought in the United States District Court for the Central District of California.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to relieve the substantial hardship of the plaintiffs by paying the settlement in the action referenced in this act as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 874

An act to add Section 25210.1 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous chemicals.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25210.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

25210.1. (a) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Halocarbon chemicals" means chemical compounds which contain carbon, and one or more halogens, and which may include hydrogen, including, but not limited to, trichloroethane, tetrachloroethylene, methylene chloride, halogenated benzenes, and carbon tetrachloride.

(2) "Aromatic hydrocarbon chemicals" means chemical compounds containing carbon and hydrogen and at least one six-carbon ring containing double bonds, including, but not limited to, benzene, toluene, and napthalene.

(3) "Sewage disposal system" means a septic tank, cesspool, sewage seepage pit, leachline, or other structure into which sewage is drained for purposes of disposal and which is not connected to a municipal treatment works.

(b) On and after July 1, 1988, no person shall use any product containing halocarbon chemicals or aromatic hydrocarbon chemicals for the purposes of cleaning or unclogging a sewage disposal system.

(c) On and after July 1, 1988, no person shall sell any product containing halocarbon chemicals or aromatic hydrocarbon chemicals in a container which indicates that the product may be used for the purposes of cleaning or unclogging a sewage disposal system. The department may adopt regulations regarding the sales of these products for the purposes of this subdivision.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 875

An act to amend Sections 7076.5 and 7137 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7076.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7076.5. (a) A contractor may inactivate his or her license by submitting a form prescribed by the registrar accompanied by the current active license certificate. When the current license certificate has been lost, the licensee shall pay the fee prescribed by law to replace the license certificate. Upon receipt of an acceptable application to inactivate, the registrar shall issue an inactive license certificate to the contractor. The holder of an inactive license shall not be entitled to practice as a contractor until his or her license is reactivated.

(b) Any licensed contractor who is not engaged in work or activities which require a contractor's license may apply for an inactive license.

(c) Inactive licenses shall be valid for a period of four years from their due date.

(d) During the period that an existing license is inactive, no bonding requirement pursuant to Section 7071.6, 7071.8 or 7071.9 or qualifier requirement pursuant to Section 7068 shall apply. An applicant for license having met the qualifications for issuance may request that the license be issued inactive unless the applicant is subject to the provisions of Section 7071.8.

(e) The board shall not refund any of the renewal fee which a licensee may have paid prior to the inactivation of his or her license.

(f) An inactive license shall be renewed on each established renewal date by submitting the renewal application and paying the inactive renewal fee.

(g) An inactive license may be reactivated by submitting an application acceptable to the registrar, by paying the full renewal fee for an active license and by fulfilling all other requirements of this chapter. No examination shall be required to reactivate an inactive license.

(h) The inactive status of a license shall not bar any disciplinary action by the board against a licensee for any of the causes stated in this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 7137 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7137. The amount of the fees prescribed by this chapter shall be fixed by the board according to the following schedule:

(a) The application fee for an original license in a single classification shall not exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

The application fee for each additional classification applied for in connection with an original license shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

The application fee for each additional classification pursuant to Section 7059 shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

The application fee to replace a responsible managing officer or employee pursuant to Section 7068.2 shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

(b) The fee for rescheduling an examination for an applicant who has applied for an original license, additional classification, a change of responsible managing officer or responsible managing employee, or for an asbestos certification or hazardous substance removal certification, shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

(c) The initial license fee for an active or inactive license shall not exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(d) The renewal fee for an active license shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200).

The renewal fee for an inactive license shall not exceed seventy-five dollars ($75).

(e) The delinquency fee is an amount equal to 50 percent of the renewal fee, but not more than twenty-five dollars ($25).

(f) The registration fee for a home improvement salesperson shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

(g) The renewal fee for a home improvement salesperson registration shall not exceed seventy-five dollars ($75).

(h) The application fee for an asbestos certification exam shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

(i) The application fee for a hazardous substance removal or remedial action certification examination shall not exceed fifty dollars ($50).

CHAPTER 876

An act to amend Section 220.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, and to amend Section 19625 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to roadside rests.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 220.5 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

220.5. (a) The department shall authorize the placement of vending machines in safety roadside rests, unless prohibited by federal laws, rules, or regulations.

(b) The department, pursuant to provisions contained in paragraph (5) of subsection (a) of Section 2 of the Act of June 20, 1936, commonly known as the Randolph-Sheppard Act, as amended (20 U.S.C. Sec. 107a(a)(5)), shall give preference for the placement of vending machines in safety roadside rest areas along state highways to vendors operating under the Business Enterprises Program for the Blind in accordance with Article 5 (commencing with Section 19625) of Chapter 6 of Part 2 of Division 10 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) The department may determine which safety roadside rest areas are suitable for inclusion in the vending machine program and the appropriate location within each roadside rest area for the placement of the machines, and the department shall approve the design and construction of any shelter or structure that may be required for the machines.

(d) The department shall determine the costs for any maintenance, operations, design review, or other activities related to the vending machines and shall be reimbursed for those costs from the revenues derived from the operation of the machines.

(e) Any money received by the department for authorizing the placement of, or from the income from, the vending machines shall be transferred to the State Highway Account.

SEC. 2. Section 19625 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

19625. For the purpose of providing blind persons with remunerative employment, enlarging the economic opportunities of the blind, and stimulating the blind to greater efforts in striving to make themselves self-supporting, blind persons licensed under this article shall be authorized to operate vending facilities on any property within this state as provided in this article. In order to administer this article, the director shall establish the Business Enterprises Program for the Blind.

(a) With respect to vending facilities on state property, priority shall be given to blind persons, including the assignment of vending machine income as provided in this article. As used in this article, "state property" means all real property, or part thereof, owned, leased, rented, or otherwise controlled or occupied by any department or other agency or body of this state, but does not include any of the following:

(1) A building in which less than 100 state employees are or will be located during normal working hours.

(2) A building in which less than 15,000 square feet of interior floor space are to be used for state government purposes or in which services are to be provided to the public.

(3) A building to be occupied by state government employees for less than three years.

(b) With respect to vending on federal property within this state, as provided in federal law known as the Randolph-Sheppard Act, including the amendments thereto entitled, "Randolph-Sheppard Act Amendments of 1974," this article is intended to conform thereto and is to be of no force or effect if, and to the extent that, any provision of this article or any regulation adopted under this article is in conflict therewith.

(c) With respect to all other property within this state, whether owned or controlled privately or by any county, city, city and county, or other political subdivision, the department shall take all feasible steps to encourage and establish thereon vending by blind persons licensed under this article and is authorized to that end to enter into appropriate agreements with the entities or persons owning or controlling such other property, provided that all such agreements shall be in writing and shall be in conformity with the provisions of this article.

An act to amend Sections 6980, 6980.2, 6980.20, 6980.27, and 6980.42 of, to add Sections 6980.6, 6980.7, and 6980.41 to, and to repeal and add Sections 6980.12, 6980.21, 6980.22, 6980.23, 6980.24, 6980.25, 6980.28, 6980.32, and 6980.40 of, to repeal Sections 6980.14, 6980.16, and 6980.29 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to locksmiths, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6980 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980. The following terms as used in this chapter have the meaning expressed in this article:

(h) "Permittee" means a person certified under the provisions of this chapter as having been issued a permit by the bureau.

(i) "Person" means any individual.

SEC. 2. Section 6980.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980.2. "Locksmith" means a person, other than a key duplicator, who installs, repairs, opens, and modifies locks and who makes keys for locks.

SEC. 3. Section 6980.6 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.6. Every power and duty granted to, or imposed upon, the director under this chapter may be delegated to the chief, except that the director may not delegate authority to adopt, or otherwise act upon, any proposed decision of a hearing officer after a hearing under the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The chief may delegate any power or duty granted to, or imposed upon, him or her under this chapter to the deputy chief, to the assistant chief, or to any inspection, investigation, or auditing personnel of the bureau, or the department.

SEC. 4. Section 6980.7 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.7. The director may adopt and enforce rules and regulations as may be reasonable and necessary for issuing permits to applicants, for the conduct of the permitees, or for the general enforcement of this chapter in the protection of the public.

These rules and regulations shall be adopted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 5. Section 6980.12 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 6980.12 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.12. (a) This chapter applies only to locksmiths working for hire.

(b) This chapter does not apply to the following persons:

(1) Any person, or his or her agent or employee, who is the manufacturer of a product, other than locks and keys, and who installs, repairs, opens, or modifies locks or who makes keys for the locks of that product as a normal incident to its marketing.

(2) Key duplicators.

(3) Employees who are industrial or institutional locksmiths and whose services are provided only to an employer who does not provide locksmith services for hire to the public.

(4) Any person registered with the bureau pursuant to Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 7500), Chapter 11.5 (commencing with Section 7512), or Chapter 11.6 (commencing with Section 7590), if the duties of that person's position which constitute locksmithing are ancillary to the primary duties and functions of that person's position.

SEC. 7. Section 6980.14 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 6980.16 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 6980.20 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980.20. Every person seeking a permit under this chapter shall submit a written application and fingerprints on a form prescribed by the bureau. The application and fingerprints shall be accompanied by the fingerprint processing fee and the application and permit fee specified in Section 6980.40.

SEC. 10. Section 6980.21 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 6980.21 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.21. (a) If the director, with respect to an application for a permit, determines that an applicant has committed any of the following acts, or has been refused a permit under this chapter or had a permit revoked, the director may deny a permit to the applicant:

(1) Committed any act, which, if committed by a permittee, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of a permit under this chapter.

(2) Committed any act constituting dishonesty or fraud.

(3) While unlicensed, committed, or aided and abetted the commission of, any act for which a permit is required by this chapter.

(4) Knowingly made any false statement in his or her application.

(5) Committed any act or crime constituting grounds for denial of licensure under Section 480.

(b) The denial of a permit shall be in writing and shall describe the basis for the denial. The denial shall inform the applicant that if he or she desires a hearing to contest the denial, the hearing shall be requested of the director, in writing, within 30 days of the issuance of the denial.

(c) When a hearing is held under this section, it shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 12. Section 6980.22 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 6980.22 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.22. (a) When considering the denial of a permit under Section 6980.21, for which application has been made under this chapter, the director, in evaluating the rehabilitation of the applicant and the applicant's present eligibility for a permit, shall consider the following criteria:

(1) The nature and severity of the act or crime under consideration as grounds for denial.

(2) Evidence of any act committed subsequent to the act or crime under consideration as grounds for denial which also could be considered as grounds for denial under Section 6980.21.

(3) The time that has elapsed since commission of the act or crime referred to in paragraph (1) or (2).

(4) The extent to which the applicant has complied with any terms of parole, probation, restitution, or any other sanctions lawfully imposed upon the applicant.

(5) Evidence, if any, of rehabilitation submitted by the applicant.

(b) When considering the suspension or revocation of a permit issued under this chapter, on the grounds of the commission of a crime, the director, in evaluating the rehabilitation of the person and the person's present eligibility for a permit, shall consider the following criteria:

(1) The nature and severity of the criminal act or offense.

(2) The total criminal record of the person.

(3) The time that has elapsed since the commission of the criminal act or offense.

(4) Whether the licensee has complied with any terms of parole, probation, restitution, or any sanctions lawfuly imposed upon the permittee.

(5) If applicable, evidence of any proceedings held pursuant to Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code.

(6) Evidence, if any, of rehabilitation submitted by the permittee.

(c) When considering a petition for reinstatement of a permit, the director shall evaluate evidence of rehabilitation, considering those criteria of rehabilitation listed in subdivision (b).

SEC. 14. Section 6980.23 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 6980.23 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.23. Applicants for permits under this chapter shall meet the following requirements:

(d) Complies with other qualifications as the director may adopt by regulation.

SEC. 16. Section 6980.24 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 17. Section 6980.24 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.24. Every permit shall expire on June 30 of each odd-numbered year and shall be renewed upon submission of a written application for renewal and the renewal fee specified in Section 6980.40.

SEC. 18. Section 6980.25 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 19. Section 6980.25 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.25. With the license renewal period beginning July 1, 1989, the bureau, by regulation, may establish a system for staggering renewal dates of permittees to best distribute the renewal work throughout the two-year renewal period. The system shall provide for a pro rata formula for the payment of renewal fees for permittees affected by implementation of the program.

SEC. 20. Section 6980.27 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980.27. Every permittee shall notify the bureau, in writing, within 30 days, of any change of residence or business address.

SEC. 21. Section 6980.28 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 6980.28 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.28. A permittee shall carry a valid permit issued by the bureau at all times the permittee is engaged in the work of a locksmith, as defined in this chapter, whether on or off the premises of a locksmith shop.

SEC. 23. Section 6980.29 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 24. Section 6980.32 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 25. Section 6980.32 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.32. The bureau may suspend or revoke a permit issued pursuant to this chapter for acts including, but not limited to, any of the following acts which shall also be unlawful:

(a) Misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact in a permit application.

(b) Interference with authorized personnel engaged in the enforcement or administration of this chapter.

(c) Knowingly using or permitting the use of any of his or her skills, tools, or facilities for the commission of any crime.

(d) Conviction of a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a locksmith.

(e) A violation of this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted under the authority of this chapter.

SEC. 26. Section 6980.40 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.40. The amount of fees to obtain or renew a permit under this chapter are as follows:

(a) The initial application and permit fee is fifty-five dollars ($55), except that if the permit will expire less than one year after its issuance, then the initial application and permit fee is twenty-eight dollars ($28).

(b) The fee for renewal of a locksmith permit is forty-two dollars ($42).

(c) All applicants seeking a permit pursuant to this chapter shall also remit to the bureau the fingerprint fee that is charged to the bureau by the Department of Justice.

SEC. 27. Section 6980.40 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 28. Section 6980.41 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6980.41. The initial application and permit fee is considered an earned fee at the time an application for a permit is received by the bureau. No refund shall be made to the applicant in the event that the applicant is found to lack the required qualifications, or is otherwise denied a permit pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 29. Section 6980.42 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6980.42. (a) The bureau shall report each month to the Controller the amount and source of all revenue received pursuant to this chapter and shall pay the entire amount thereof into the State Treasury for credit to the Private Investigator Fund.

(b) All moneys paid into the Private Investigator Fund pursuant to subdivision (a) are hereby continuously appropriated to the bureau for the purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 30. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 31. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Certain provisions of law regulating locksmiths will become operative on July 1, 1987, and the revisions to that law made by this act are necessary to clarify, correct, and strengthen those provisions. In order for this act to clarify the existing provisions of law at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 878

An act to amend Sections 65080 and 65081 of, and to add Sections 14529.4, 65086, and 65086.5 to, the Government Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14529.4 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14529.4. The commission may include capacity-increasing projects in the adopted state transportation improvement program adopted pursuant to Section 14529 only if the project studies report has been completed for that project pursuant to Section 65086.5.

SEC. 2. Section 65080 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65080. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d), each transportation planning agency designated under subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 29532 shall prepare a regional transportation plan and a regional transportation improvement program directed at the achievement of a coordinated and balanced regional transportation system, including, but not limited to, mass transportation, highway, railroad, maritime, and aviation facilities and services. The plan shall be action-oriented and pragmatic considering both the short- and long-term future and shall present clear, concise policy guidance to local and state officials. The program shall support and be consistent with the plan. Each transportation planning agency shall consider and incorporate, as appropriate, the transportation plans of cities, counties, districts, private organizations, and state and federal agencies.

(b) Each transportation planning agency shall adopt a regional transportation plan and, if it prepares a regional transportation improvement program, shall adopt a program. Prior to adoption, a public hearing shall be held, after the giving of notice of the hearing by publication in the affected county or counties pursuant to Section 6061. Prior to the adoption of the program, the governing body or the designated policy committee of the transportation planning agency shall consider the relationship between the program and the adopted plan. Each transportation planning agency shall adopt and submit annually, not later than May 1, an updated regional transportation improvement program as specified in Section 65082, and biennially, not later than November 1, an updated regional transportation plan to the California Transportation Commission and the Department of Transportation.

(c) A transportation planning agency designated under subdivision (b) of Section 29532 may have the regional transportation plan for the area under its jurisdiction prepared by the Department of Transportation by adopting a resolution to that effect prior to July 1, 1978. In that case, Section 65080.5 applies to the agency.

(d) The regional transportation improvement program shall be prepared and adopted only by the transportation planning agencies and by county transportation commissions representing urbanized areas of 50,000 or more in population. The department shall prepare the programs, on a state transportation district basis, for all other areas of the state.

SEC. 2.5. Section 65080 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65080. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), each transportation planning agency designated under subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 29532 shall prepare a regional transportation plan and a regional transportation improvement program directed at the achievement of a coordinated and balanced regional transportation system, including, but not limited to, mass transportation, highway, railroad, maritime, and aviation facilities and services. The plan shall be action-oriented and pragmatic considering both the short- and long-term future and shall present clear, concise policy guidance to local and state officials. The program shall support and be consistent with the plan. Each transportation planning agency shall consider and incorporate, as appropriate, the transportation plans of cities, counties, districts, private organizations, and state and federal agencies.

(b) Each transportation planning agency shall adopt a regional transportation plan and, if it prepares a regional transportation improvement program, shall adopt a program. Prior to adoption, a public hearing shall be held, after the giving of notice of the hearing by publication in the affected county or counties pursuant to Section 6061. Prior to the adoption of the program, the governing body or the designated policy committee of the transportation planning agency shall consider the relationship between the program and the adopted plan. Each transportation planning agency shall adopt and submit annually, not later than May 1, an updated regional transportation improvement program as specified in Section 65082, and biennially, not later than November 1, an updated regional transportation plan to the California Transportation Commission and the Department of Transportation.

(c) A transportation planning agency designated under subdivision (b) of Section 29532 may have the regional transportation plan for the area under its jurisdiction prepared by the Department of Transportation by adopting a resolution to that effect prior to July 1, 1978. In that case, Section 65080.5 applies to the agency.

(d) The regional transportation improvement program shall be prepared and adopted only by the transportation planning agencies and by county transportation commissions representing urbanized areas of 50,000 or more in population. The department shall prepare the programs, on a state transportation district basis, for all other areas of the state.

(e) In those counties that have a county transportation commission created pursuant to Section 130050 of the Public Utilities Code, the multicounty designated transportation planning agency, as defined in Section 130004 of the Public Utilities Code, shall prepare the regional transportation plan, and each county transportation commission shall prepare a transportation improvement plan for the county under its jurisdiction. The transportation improvement program adopted by a county transportation commission shall be consistent with the adopted regional transportation plan and shall serve as the transportation improvement program submitted to the California Transportation Commission and the Department of Transportation pursuant to Section 14527.

SEC. 3. Section 65081 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65081. The regional transportation plan shall include:

(a) A policy element that considers important transportation issues and describes the desired short- and long-range transportation goals, and pragmatic objective and policy statements. The objective and policy statements shall consider probable funding constraints.

(b) An action element that describes the programs and actions necessary to implement the plan and assigns implementation responsibilities. In urbanized areas over 50,000 population, the action element shall include a transportation system management element that describes how the region intends to improve the people and goods movement capability of its existing transportation system through appropriate management techniques. The action element shall also include a program for developing intracity and intercity bicycle programs.

The action element may include a future development list of capacity increasing state highway projects in priority order for initiation of project studies reports. If the list is prepared within the area of the multicounty designated transportation planning agency as defined in Section 130004 of the Public Utilities Code, each county transportation commission shall adopt for the area within its jurisdiction a future development list of capacity increasing state highway projects in priority order. The future development list adopted by the multicounty transportation planning agency shall include the lists separately adopted by each county transportation commission. These lists shall be limited to the regional summation of funds available for capacity improvement projects in the adopted state transportation improvement program when distributed according to the county minimum formula defined in Section 188.8 of the Streets and Highways Code.

(c) A financial element that summarizes the cost of plan implementation, compares these costs to a realistic projection of available revenues, and includes estimates of expected surplus and deficits. It shall contain recommendations for the allocation of funds and for the development of new sources of revenues if needed.

SEC. 4. Section 65086 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65086. (a) The Department of Transportation shall carry out long-term state highway system planning to identify future highway improvements and new transportation corridors through route concept reports.

(b) The department, in conjunction with transportation planning agencies, shall develop specific project listings for the initiation of project studies reports resulting in project candidates for inclusion in regional transportation plans and the state transportation improvement program as required by Section 14529.

SEC. 5. Section 65086.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65086.5. (a) To the extent that the work does not jeopardize the delivery of the projects in the adopted state transportation improvement program, the Department of Transportation shall prepare a project studies report for each capacity increasing state highway project which is listed on the regional list pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 65081. The project studies report shall include the project-related factors of limits, description, scope, costs, and the amount of time needed for initiating construction. If a regional list is not consistent with the financial limitation of subdivision (b) of Section 65081, projects for that region may be limited in priority order to the funding limit for that region.

(b) The Department of Transportation shall seek assistance from regional and local transportation agencies or other entities for the preparation of project studies reports for projects specified in subdivision (b) of Section 65081 when the report cannot be completed so as to allow a project to be eligible for inclusion in the upcoming state transportation improvement program. Whenever project studies reports are performed by an entity other than the Department of Transportation, the department shall review and approve the report.

SEC. 6. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 65080 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and AB 18. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 65080 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 18, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 879

An act to add Section 1203.1ab to the Penal Code, and to add Section 729.9 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to probation.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.1ab is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1203.1ab. Upon conviction of any offense involving the unlawful possession, use, sale, or other furnishing of any controlled substance, as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, in addition to any or all of the terms of imprisonment, fine, and other reasonable conditions specified in or permitted by Section 1203.1, unless it makes a finding that this condition would not serve the interests of justice, the court, when recommended by the probation officer, shall require as a condition of probation that the defendant shall not use or be under the influence of any controlled substance and shall submit to drug and substance abuse testing as directed by the probation officer. If the defendant is required to submit to testing and has the financial ability to pay all or part of the costs associated with that testing, the court shall order the defendant to pay a reasonable fee, which shall not exceed the actual cost of the testing.

SEC. 2. Section 729.9 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

729.9. If a minor is found to be a person described in Section 602 by reason of the commission of an offense involving the unlawful possession, use, sale, or other furnishing of a controlled substance, as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, and, unless it makes a finding that this condition would not serve the interests of justice, the court, when recommended by the probation officer, shall require, as a condition of probation, in addition to any other disposition authorized by law, that the minor shall not use or be under the influence of any controlled substance and shall submit to drug and substance abuse testing as directed by the probation officer. If the minor is required to submit to testing and has the financial ability to pay all or part of the costs associated with that testing, the court shall order the minor to pay a reasonable fee, which shall not exceed the actual cost of the testing.

SEC. 3. This act is not intended to restrict the authority of a court to order drug and substance abuse testing in other appropriate cases, not specified in this act.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code for costs mandated by the state pursuant to this act. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) and any other provisions of law.

CHAPTER 880

An act to amend Section 51260 of the Education Code, and to amend Sections 11217, 11795, 11809.3, 11831.5, 11834.17, and 11981 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to alcohol programs.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51260 of the Education Code is amended to read:

51260. (a) Instruction shall be given in the elementary and secondary schools by appropriately trained instructors on drug education and the effects of the use of tobacco, alcohol, narcotics, dangerous drugs, as defined in Section 11032 of the Health and Safety Code, and other dangerous substances.

For purposes of this chapter, an "appropriately trained instructor" is one who, based upon the determination of the site administrator, demonstrates competencies in interacting in a positive manner with children and youth; demonstrates knowledge of the properties and effects of tobacco, alcohol, narcotics, and dangerous drugs; and who demonstrates skills in conducting affective education, which include methods and techniques for helping children and youth to freely express ideas and opinions in a responsible manner and to gain an awareness of their values as they affect decisions related to drug use and misuse.

In grades 1 through 6, instruction on drug education should be conducted in conjunction with courses given on health pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 51210.

In grades 7 to 12, inclusive, instruction on drug education shall be conducted in conjunction with courses given on health or in any appropriate area of study pursuant to Section 51220.

Such instruction shall be sequential in nature and suited to meet the needs of students at their respective grade level.

(b) Services provided under this section shall be in addition to, but shall not be duplicative of, services provided pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 11965) of Part 3 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 2. Section 11217 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11217. No person shall treat an addict for addiction to a narcotic drug except in one of the following:

(a) An institution approved by the State Department of Mental Health, and where the patient is at all times kept under restraint and control.

(b) A city or county jail.

(c) A state prison.

(d) A facility designated by a county and approved by the State Department of Mental Health pursuant to Division 5 (commencing with Section 5000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(e) A state hospital.

(f) A county hospital.

(g) A facility licensed by the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs pursuant to Division 10.5 (commencing with Section 11750).

(h) A facility as defined in subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 1250 and Section 1250.3.

Methadone in the continuing treatment of addiction to a controlled substance shall be used only in those programs licensed by the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 11875) of Chapter 1 of Part 3 of Division 10.5 on either an inpatient or outpatient basis, or both.

This section does not apply during emergency treatment, or where the patient's addiction is complicated by the presence of incurable disease, serious accident, or injury, or the infirmities of old age.

Neither this section nor any other provision of this division shall be construed to prohibit the maintenance of a place in which persons seeking to recover from addiction to a controlled substance reside and endeavor to aid one another and receive aid from others in recovering from such addiction, nor does this section or such division prohibit such aid, provided that no person is treated for addiction in such place by means of administering, furnishing, or prescribing of controlled substances. The preceding sentence is declaratory of preexisting law.

Neither this section or any other provision of this division shall be construed to prohibit short-term methadone detoxification treatment in a controlled setting approved by the director and pursuant to rules and regulations of the director. Facilities and treatment approved by the director under this paragraph shall not be subject to approval or inspection by the Board of Medical Quality Assurance, nor shall persons in such facilities be required to register with, or report the termination of residence with, the police department or sheriff's office.

SEC. 3. Section 11795 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11795. (a) The board of supervisors of each county may apply to the department for funds for the purpose of alleviating problems in its county related to the inappropriate use of alcoholic beverages. The provisions of this part shall be applicable only to counties electing to apply for state or federal alcohol funds allocated by the department under this part.

(b) The Legislature grants responsibility to the county to administer and coordinate all county alcohol programs funded under this part. County alcohol programs shall be held accountable to the board of supervisors and to the state for their effective implementation. The Legislature further grants the responsibility to the county to establish its own priorities for alcohol programs funded under the provisions of this part. However, each county shall allocate and expend no less than the federally required percentage of federal funds for prevention and early intervention activities as defined in this part.

SEC. 4. Section 11809.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11809.3. In the event the alcohol program administrator and advisory board disagree regarding the development of, or implementation of, any element of the county alcohol plan and budget, or any related matter, the advisory board may designate a representative to report to, or make a presentation before, the board of supervisors relating to the disagreement.

SEC. 5. Section 11831.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11831.5. (a) Certification shall be granted by the department pursuant to this section to any alcoholism program wishing to receive, and requesting, the certification regardless of the source of the program's funding.

(b) The purposes of certification under this section shall be all of the following:

(1) To identify programs which exceed minimal levels of service quality, are in substantial compliance with the department's standards, and merit the confidence of the public, third party payers, and county alcohol programs.

(2) To encourage programs to strive for increased quality of service through recognition by the state and by peer programs in the alcoholism field.

(3) To assist programs to identify their needs for technical assistance, training, and program improvements.

(c) Certification may be granted under this section on the basis of evidence satisfactory to the department that the requesting alcoholism program has an accreditation by a statewide or national alcohol program accrediting body. The accrediting body shall be one whose accreditation meets or exceeds the department's standards and which is recognized by the department.

(d) No fee shall be levied by the department for certification of nonprofit organizations or local governmental entities under this section.

(e) Certification, or the lack thereof, shall not convey any approval or disapproval by the department, but shall be for information purposes only.

(f) The standards developed pursuant to Section 11830 and the certification under this section shall satisfy the requirements of Section 1463.16 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 6. Section 11834.17 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11834.17. No city, county, city and county, or district shall adopt or enforce any building ordinance or local rule or regulations relating to the subject of fire and life safety in alcoholism recovery facilities which is more restrictive than those standards adopted by the State Fire Marshal.

SEC. 7. Section 11981 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11981. (a) The board of supervisors of each county may apply to the department for funds for the purpose of alleviating problems in its county related to drug abuse. This part shall be applicable only to counties electing to apply for state or federal drug funds allocated by the department under this part.

(b) The state department shall coordinate state and local drug abuse prevention, care, treatment, and rehabilitation programs. It is the intent of the Legislature that the department and the counties maintain a cooperative partnership to assure effective implementation of this division.

CHAPTER 881

An act to amend, repeal, and add Sections 11102, 11105.1, 11105.2, 11105.3, 11106, 11107, 11108, 11108.5, 11110, 11110.2, 11110.5, 11111, 11111.5, and 11116 of, to add Sections 111, 111.3, 111.5, 11100.1, 11103.1, 11104.3, 11104.6, and 11105.6 to, and to add Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 38500) to Division 16.5 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 111 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

111. "All-terrain vehicle" means a motor vehicle subject to subdivision (a) of Section 38010 which is all of the following:

(a) Designed for operation off of the highway by an operator with no passengers.

(b) Fifty inches or less in width.

(c) Six hundred pounds or less unladen weight.

(d) Suspended on three or more low-pressure tires.

(e) Has a single seat designed to be straddled by the operator.

(f) Has handlebars for steering control.

SEC. 2. Section 111.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

111.3. An "all-terrain vehicle safety instructor" is a person who is sponsored by an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization, who has completed a course in all-terrain vehicle safety instruction administered by an approved all-terrain vehicle safety training organization, and who has been licensed by the department pursuant to Section 11105.1.

SEC. 3. Section 111.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

111.5. An "all-terrain vehicle safety training organization" is any organization which is approved to offer a program of instruction in all-terrain vehicle safety, including all-terrain vehicle safety instruction training, by the Off-Highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee and which has been issued a license by the department pursuant to Section 11105.6.

SEC. 4. Section 11100.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11100.1. No person who instructs others in the operation of all-terrain vehicles shall represent that the instruction given satisfies the requirements of Sections 38503 and 38504, and no certificate shall be issued or awarded for participation in all-terrain vehicle safety instruction unless the instruction is conducted by a licensed all-terrain vehicle safety instructor who is sponsored by an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 5. Section 11102 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11102. (a) A driving school owner shall:

(1) Be a person who has not been convicted of a crime involving an act of dishonesty, fraud, or deceit with the intent to benefit himself or herself or another substantially, or to injure another substantially; or has not committed any act which, if done as a licensed driving school owner, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of the license. A conviction after a plea of nolo contendere shall be deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(2) Maintain an established place of business open to the public. No office or place of business shall be situated within 500 feet of any building used by the department as an office, unless the owner was established at such location on or before January 1, 1976.

(3) Have the proper equipment necessary to giving instruction in the operation of the class of vehicles for which the course is designed.

(4) Procure and file with the department a bond in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000) executed by an admitted surety insurer and conditioned that the applicant shall not practice any fraud or make any fraudulent representation which will cause a monetary loss to a person taking instruction from the applicant.

(5) Meet the requirements of Section 11102.5 and 11105.2. If the owner is not the operator of the driving school, the owner shall designate an operator who shall meet the requirements of Section 11102.5.

(6) File with the department a good and sufficient instrument in writing in which the owner shall appoint the director as the true and lawful agent of the applicant upon whom all process may be served in any action, or actions, which may thereafter be commenced against the applicant, arising out of any claim for damages suffered by any firm, person, association, or out of any claim for damages suffered by any firm, person, association, or corporation by reason of the violation of the applicant of any of the terms and provisions of this code or any condition of the driving school owner's bond. The applicant shall stipulate and agree in such appointment that any process directed to the applicant, when personal service of process upon him or her cannot be made in this state after due diligence, in such a case which is served upon the director, or in the event of the director's absence from the office, upon any employee in charge of the office of the director, shall be of the same legal force and effect as if served upon the applicant personally. The applicant shall further stipulate and agree in writing that the agency created by the appointment shall continue for and during the period covered by the license and so long thereafter as the applicant may be made to answer in damages for a violation of this code or any condition of the bond. The instrument appointing the director as agent for the applicant for service of process shall be acknowledged by the applicant before a notary public. In any case wherein the licensee is served with process by service thereof upon the director, one copy of the summons and complaint shall be left with the director or in the director's office in Sacramento or mailed to the office of the director in Sacramento. A fee of five dollars ($5) shall also be paid to the director at the time of service of the copy of the summons and complaint. The service on the director shall be a sufficient service on the licensee; provided, that a notice of the service and a copy of the summons and complaint shall be forthwith sent by registered mail by the plaintiff or his or her attorney to the licensee. A copy of the summons and complaint shall be mailed by the plaintiff or his attorney to the surety of the applicant's bond at the address of the surety given in the bond, postpaid and registered with request for return receipt. The director shall keep a record of all process so served upon him or her which record shall show the day and hour of service and shall retain the summons and complaint so served on the licensee on file. Where the licensee is served with process by service thereof upon the director, the licensee shall be allowed 30 days from and after the service thereof within which to answer any complaint or other pleading which may be filed in the cause; and provided, further, that for purposes of venue, where the licensee is served with process by service thereof upon the director, the service shall be deemed to have been made upon the licensee in the county in which the licensee has or last had his or her established place of business.

(b) The qualifying requirements referred to in this section shall be met within one year from the date of application for a license, or a new application, examination and fee shall be required.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 11102 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11102. (a) A driving school owner or the principal in an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization shall:

(1) Be a person who has not been convicted of a crime involving an act of dishonesty, fraud, or deceit with the intent to benefit himself or herself or another substantially, or to injure another substantially; or has not committed any act which, if done as a licensed driving school owner or as the principal of an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of the license. A conviction after a plea of nolo contendere shall be deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(2) Maintain an established place of business open to the public. No office or place of business shall be situated within 500 feet of any building used by the department as an office, unless the owner was established at that location on or before January 1, 1976.

(3) Have the proper equipment necessary to giving instruction in the operation of the class of vehicles for which the course is designed.

(4) Procure and file with the department a bond in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000) executed by an admitted surety insurer and conditioned that the applicant shall not practice any fraud or make any fraudulent representation which will cause a monetary loss to a person taking instruction from the applicant.

(5) Meet the requirements of Section 11105.2 and, if the person is the owner of a driving school, meet the requirements of Section 11102.5. If the owner is not the operator of the driving school, the owner shall designate an operator who shall meet the requirements of Section 11102.5.

(6) File with the department a good and sufficient instrument, in writing, in which the owner shall appoint the director as the true and lawful agent of the applicant upon whom all process may be served in any action, or actions, which may thereafter be commenced against the applicant, arising out of any claim for damages suffered by any firm, person, association, or out of any claim for damages suffered by any firm, person, association, or corporation by reason of the violation of the applicant of any of the terms and provisions of this code or any condition of the school owner's bond. The applicant shall stipulate and agree in the appointment that any process directed to the applicant, when personal service of process upon the applicant cannot be made in this state after due diligence, the process may be served upon the director or, if the director is absent from the office, upon any employee in charge of the office of the director, in which case the service shall be of the same legal force and effect as if served upon the applicant personally. The applicant shall further stipulate and agree in writing that the agency created by the appointment shall continue for and during the period covered by the license and so long thereafter as the applicant may be made to answer in damages for a violation of this code or any condition of the bond. The instrument appointing the director as agent for the applicant for service of process shall be acknowledged by the applicant before a notary public. In any case in which the licensee is served with process by service upon the director, one copy of the summons and complaint shall be left with the director or in the director's office in Sacramento or mailed to the office of the director in Sacramento. A fee of five dollars ($5) shall also be paid to the director at the time of service of the copy of the summons and complaint. The service on the director shall be a sufficient service on the licensee if the plaintiff or the plaintiff's attorney also, on the same day, sends notice of the service and a copy of the summons and complaint by registered mail to the licensee. A copy of the summons and complaint shall be mailed by the plaintiff or his or her attorney to the surety of the applicant's bond at the address of the surety given in the bond, postpaid and registered with request for return receipt. The director shall keep a record of all process served upon the director under this paragraph, which record shall show the day and hour of service, and the director shall retain the summons and complaint served on file. If the licensee is served with process by service thereof upon the director, the licensee shall be allowed 30 days from and after the service thereof within which to answer any complaint or other pleading which may be filed in the cause. For purposes of venue, if the licensee is served with process by service thereof upon the director, the service shall be deemed to have been made upon the licensee in the county in which the licensee has or last had the licensee's established place of business.

(b) The qualifying requirements referred to in this section shall be met within one year from the date of application for a license, or a new application, examination and fee shall be required.

(c) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 7. Section 11103.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11103.1. An all-terrain vehicle safety training organization shall maintain bodily injury and property damage liability insurance on motor vehicles while being used in all-terrain vehicle safety instruction, insuring the liability of the organization, the instructors, and any person taking instruction in at least the following amounts:

(a) One hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident.

(b) Subject to the limit specified in paragraph (1) for one person, three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) for bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident.

(c) Fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for damage to property of others in any one accident.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 8. Section 11104.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11104.3. (a) An all-terrain vehicle safety instructor shall:

(1) Be a person who has not been convicted of a crime involving an act of dishonesty, fraud, or deceit with the intent to benefit himself or herself or another substantially, or to injure another substantially; or has not committed any act which, if done as an all-terrain vehicle safety instructor, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of the all-terrain vehicle safety instructor's license. A conviction after a plea of nolo contendere shall be deemed to be a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(2) Have a high school education or its equivalent and have satisfactorily completed a course of instruction training in all-terrain vehicle safety as approved by the Off-Highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee.

(3) Within three attempts, pass the examination that the department shall require on off-highway vehicle laws, safe driving practices, operation of all-terrain vehicles, and teaching methods and techniques.

(4) Be physically able to safely operate a motor vehicle and to train others in the operation of all-terrain vehicles.

(5) Hold a valid California driver's license.

(6) Not be on probation to the department as a negligent operator.

(7) Have a driver record which does not have an outstanding notice for violating a written promise to appear in court or for willfully failing to pay a lawfully imposed fine, as provided in Section 40509 or 40509.5.

(8) Be 18 years of age or older.

(9) Be sponsored by an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization.

(b) The qualifying requirements in this section shall be met within one year from the date of application for a license, or a new application, examination, and a fee shall be required.

(c) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 9. Section 11104.6 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11104.6. Each applicant for a license or for renewal of a license under this chapter shall submit an application to the department on the forms prescribed by the department. The applicant shall provide the department any information concerning the applicant's character, honesty, integrity, and reputation which the department considers to be necessary.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 10. Section 11105.1 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Chapter 111 of the Statutes of 1987, is amended to read:

11105.1. (a) The department shall issue a license certificate to each driving school instructor when it is satisfied that he or she has met the qualifications required under this chapter. The original driving school instructor license and any driving school instructor license renewed pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c) shall be valid for a period of three years from the date of issuance unless canceled, suspended, or revoked by the department.

(b) Every application for the renewal of a driving school instructor license may be made by the licensee prior to the expiration date of the license by presenting the application form provided by the department. In no event shall a driving school instructor renew the license after the date of expiration.

The department shall require all of the following for the renewal of the license:

(1) Compliance with Section 11104, except subdivision (c) thereof, and with 11105.2.

(2) Satisfactory completion of an examination as provided in Section 11104 at least once during each succeeding three-year period after the initial issuance of a license certificate.

In lieu of any examination for renewal of the license, the department may accept submission by the licensee of evidence of continuing professional education as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 11105.

(c) The department may issue a probationary license and certificate subject to conditions to be observed by the licensee in the exercise of the privilege granted. The conditions to be attached to the exercise of the privilege shall not appear on the face of the license or certificate, but shall be such as may, in the judgment of the department, be in the public interest and suitable to the qualifications of the applicant as disclosed by the application and investigation by the department of the information contained therein.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 11. Section 11105.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11105.1. (a) The department shall issue a license certificate to each driving school instructor and to each all-terrain vehicle safety instructor when it is satisfied that the person has met the qualifications required under this chapter. The original instructor's license and any instructor's license renewed pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c) is valid for three years from the date issued unless canceled, suspended, or revoked by the department.

(b) A licensee may apply for the renewal of an instructor's license prior to the expiration date of the license. In no event shall an instructor renew the license after the date of expiration.

(c) The department shall require all of the following for the renewal of the instructor's license:

(1) Compliance with Section 11104, except subdivision (c) thereof, for a driving school instructor, or compliance with Section 11104.3, except paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) thereof, for an all-terrain vehicle safety instructor, and, for either, compliance with Section 11105.2.

(2) Satisfactory completion of an examination as provided in Section 11104 or 11104.3, as applicable, at least once during each succeeding three-year period after the initial issuance of an instructor license certificate.

In lieu of any examination for renewal of the license, the department may accept submission by the licensee of evidence of continuing professional education as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 11105.

(d) The department may issue a probationary instructor's license and certificate subject to conditions to be observed by the licensee in the exercise of the privilege granted. The conditions to be attached to the exercise of the privilege shall not appear on the face of the license or certificate, but shall be such as may, in the judgment of the department, be in the public interest and suitable to the qualifications of the applicant as disclosed by the application and investigation by the department of the information contained therein.

(e) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 12. Section 11105.2 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11105.2. (a) The fee for a license issued to a driving school owner shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license, or an ownership change which requires a new application, except as provided by Section 42231, a nonrefundable fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(2) For the annual renewal of a license, a fee of fifty dollars ($50).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a firm name change, a change in corporate officer structure, address change, or the addition of a branch location, a fee of seventy dollars ($70).

(4) For replacement of the license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(b) The fee for a license issued to a driving school operator shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license a nonrefundable fee of one hundred dollars ($100).

(2) For the annual renewal of a license, a fee of one hundred dollars ($100).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a change in school name or location, or the addition of a branch location, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(4) For replacement of the license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(c) The fee for a license issued to a driving school instructor shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license, except as provided by Section 42231, a nonrefundable fee of thirty dollars ($30).

(2) For the triennial renewal of a license, a fee of thirty dollars ($30).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a change in the instructor's employing school's name or location, or transfer of the instructor's license to another employing driving school, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(4) For the replacement of the instructor's license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 13. Section 11105.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11105.2. (a) The fee for a license issued to a driving school owner or to an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license, or an ownership change which requires a new application, except as provided by Section 42231, a nonrefundable fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(2) For the annual renewal of a license, a fee of fifty dollars ($50).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a firm name change, a change in corporate officer structure, address change, or the addition of a branch location, a fee of seventy dollars ($70).

(4) For replacement of the license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(b) The fee for a license issued to a driving school operator shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license a nonrefundable fee of one hundred dollars ($100).

(2) For the annual renewal of a license, a fee of one hundred dollars ($100).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a change in school name or location, or the addition of a branch location, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(4) For replacement of the license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(c) The fee for a license issued to a driving school instructor or to an all-terrain vehicle safety instructor shall be as follows:

(1) For the original license, except as provided by Section 42231, a nonrefundable fee of thirty dollars ($30).

(2) For the triennial renewal of a license, a fee of thirty dollars ($30).

(3) If an alteration of an existing license is caused by a change in the instructor's employing school's name or location, or transfer of the instructor's license to another employing school, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(4) For the replacement of the instructor's license when the original license is lost, stolen, or mutilated, a fee of fifteen dollars ($15).

(d) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 14. Section 11105.3 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11105.3. Any driving school owner, operator, or instructor required to be licensed under this chapter who fails to renew such license prior to the expiration of the license in accordance with Sections 11105 and 11105.1 and whose license was not canceled, suspended, or revoked by the department at the time of expiration, may reapply for an original license pursuant to Section 11102, 11102.5, or 11104.

This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 15. Section 11105.3 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11105.3. Any school owner, operator, or instructor required to be licensed under this chapter who fails to renew the license prior to the expiration of the license in accordance with Sections 11105 and 11105.1 and whose license was not canceled, suspended, or revoked by the department at the time of expiration, may reapply for an original license pursuant to Section 11102, 11102.5, 11104, or 11104.3.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 16. Section 11105.6 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11105.6. (a) The department shall issue a license to an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization when the department is satisfied that the organization has met the qualifications required under this chapter and has been approved and certified by the Off-Highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee. The license shall be valid for a period of one year from midnight of the last day of the month of issuance unless canceled, suspended, or revoked by the department.

(b) The license shall be renewed annually. The department shall require compliance with Sections 11102 and 11105.2 for the renewal of the license.

(c) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 17. Section 11106 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11106. (a) Pending the satisfaction of the department that the applicant has met the requirements under this chapter, it may issue a temporary permit to any person applying for a license issued pursuant to this chapter. The temporary permit shall permit the operation of a driving school or the giving of instruction for a period not to exceed 120 days while the department is completing its investigation and determination of all facts relative to the qualifications of the applicant for the license.

(b) A temporary permit valid for 30 days may be issued to any applicant for an original driving instructor's license pending satisfactory completion of the course required by subdivision (b) of Section 11104. This subdivision shall not be construed as extending the period of validity of any temporary permit issued pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The department may cancel such temporary permit when it has determined or has reasonable cause to believe that the application is incorrect or incomplete or the temporary permit was issued in error. Such temporary permit shall be invalid when canceled or when the applicant's license has been issued or refused.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 18. Section 11106 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11106. (a) Until the department is satisfied that the applicant has met the requirements under this chapter, it may issue a temporary permit to any person applying for a license issued pursuant to this chapter. The temporary permit authorizes the operation of a school or the giving of instruction for a period not to exceed 120 days while the department is completing its investigation and determination of all facts relative to the qualifications of the applicant for the license.

(b) A temporary permit valid for 30 days may be issued to any applicant for an original instructor's license pending satisfactory completion of the course required by subdivision (b) of Section 11104 or paragraph 2 of subdivision (a) of Section 11104.3, as applicable. This subdivision does not extend the period of validity of any temporary permit issued pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The department may cancel a temporary permit when it has determined, or has reasonable cause to believe, that the application is incorrect or incomplete or the temporary permit was issued in error. A temporary permit is invalid when canceled or when the applicant's license has been issued or refused.

(d) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 19. Section 11107 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11107. (a) The department may refuse to issue a license certificate to any applicant to own or operate a driving school or to any driving instructor when it is satisfied that:

(1) The applicant has not met the qualifications required under this chapter.

(2) The applicant was previously the holder of a license under this chapter, which was revoked or suspended, which license in the case of revocation was never reissued by the department, or which in the case of suspension was never reinstated.

(3) The applicant has done any act or series of acts which would be a cause for suspension or revocation under Section 11110.

(4) If the applicant is a partnership or corporation, one or more of the limited or general partners, stockholders, directors, or officers, was the holder of a revoked or suspended license previously issued under this chapter, which license in the case of revocation was never reissued or in the case of suspension was never reinstated, or one or more of such partners, stockholders, directors, or officers, as the case may be, though not previously the holder of a license, has done any act or series of acts which would be a cause for revocation or suspension under Section 11110.

(5) By reason of the facts and circumstances touching the organization, control, and management of the partnership or corporation, it is likely that the policy or operation of the business will be directed, controlled, or managed by an individual who by reason of the act, series of acts, or conduct described in subparagraphs (3) and (4) above, would be ineligible for a license and that by licensing the corporation or partnership the purposes of this division would likely be defeated.

(6) The applicant has knowingly made a false statement or knowingly concealed a material fact in applying for a license.

(b) Upon refusal of the department to issue a license, the applicant shall be entitled to demand in writing a hearing before the director or his representative within 60 days after notice of refusal.

The hearing shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) A person whose license has been revoked or application for a license has been refused may reapply for such license after a period of not less than one year has elapsed from the effective date of the decision revoking the license or refusing the application.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 20. Section 11107 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11107. (a) The department may refuse to issue a license certificate under this chapter to any applicant to own or operate a school or to any instructor when it is satisfied that:

(1) The applicant has not met the qualifications required under this chapter.

(2) The applicant was previously the holder of a license under this chapter, which was revoked or suspended, which license was never reissued by the department after revocation, or which license was never reinstated after suspension.

(3) The applicant has done any act or series of acts which would be a cause for suspension or revocation under Section 11110.

(4) If the applicant is a partnership or corporation, one or more of the limited or general partners, stockholders, directors, or officers, was the holder of a revoked or suspended license previously issued under this chapter, which license was never reissued after revocation or which license was never reinstated after suspension, or one or more of the partners, stockholders, directors, or officers, as the case may be, though not previously the holder of a license, has done any act or series of acts which would be a cause for revocation or suspension under Section 11110.

(5) By reason of the facts and circumstances touching the organization, control, and management of the partnership or corporation, it is likely that the policy or operation of the business will be directed, controlled, or managed by an individual who, by reason of the act, series of acts, or conduct described in paragraphs (3) and (4), would be ineligible for a license and that by licensing the corporation or partnership the purposes of this division would likely be defeated.

(6) The applicant has knowingly made a false statement or knowingly concealed a material fact in applying for a license.

(b) Upon refusal of the department to issue a license, the applicant may demand, in writing, a hearing before the director or the director's representative within 60 days after notice of refusal. The hearing shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) A person whose license has been revoked or whose application for a license has been refused may reapply for the license after a period of not less than one year has elapsed from the effective date of the decision revoking the license or refusing the application.

(d) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 21. Section 11108 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11108. (a) Every person licensed under this chapter shall keep a record showing all of the following:

(1) The name and address and license number of the school.

(2) The name and address of each person given instruction.

(3) The instruction permit number or driver's license number of every person given instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle.

(4) The date any such instruction permit was issued.

(5) The name and instructor's license number of each driving instructor.

(6) The particular type of instruction given and the date of such instruction.

(7) The amount of time devoted to each type of instruction.

(8) The total number of hours of instruction.

(9) The total cost to the student of such instruction.

(b) The records shall be retained for a minimum of three years and shall be open to the inspection of the department at all reasonable times, but shall be only for the confidential use of the department.

(c) Whenever the licensee suspends or terminates the licensed activity, the licensee shall surrender the records to the department for examination not later than the end of the third day, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays, after the date of suspension or termination. The department may duplicate or make a record of any information contained therein. All such records shall be returned to the licensee not later than 30 days after the date of surrender.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 22. Section 11108 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11108. (a) Every person licensed under this chapter shall keep a record showing all of the following:

(1) The name and address and license number of the school.

(2) The name and address of each person given instruction.

(3) Excepting all-terrain vehicle safety training organizations, the instruction permit number or driver's license number of every person given instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle.

(4) Excepting all-terrain vehicle safety training organizations, the date any instruction permit was issued.

(5) The name and instructor's license number of each instructor.

(6) The particular type of instruction given and the date of the instruction.

(7) The amount of time devoted to each type of instruction.

(8) The total number of hours of instruction.

(9) The total cost to the student of the instruction.

(b) The records shall be retained for at least three years and shall be open to the inspection of the department at all reasonable times, but shall be only for the confidential use of the department.

(c) Whenever the licensee suspends or terminates the licensed activity, the licensee shall surrender the records to the department for examination not later than the end of the third day, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, after the date of suspension or termination. The department may duplicate or make a record of any information contained in the licensee's records. All of the licensee's records shall be returned to the licensee not later than 30 days after the date of surrender.

(d) Every all-terrain vehicle safety training organization shall maintain records for all-terrain vehicle safety instructors who are authorized to offer that organization's courses of instruction.

(e) Each all-terrain vehicle safety instructor shall report the information required under this section to the all-terrain vehicle safety training organization no later than the 15th day of the month following the date instruction was provided. Instructors shall notify the organization, which shall, in turn, notify the department at least 30 days in advance of providing a course of instruction, of the time, date, location, and type of instruction to be given.

(f) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 23. Section 11108.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11108.5. (a) Every driving school owner licensed pursuant to Section 11105 shall notify the department within 10 days of any change in the ownership or corporate structure of the licensee.

(b) Every driving school owner licensed pursuant to Section 11105 shall immediately notify the department upon changing the site or location of the driving school's established place of business.

(c) Every driving school operator and driving instructor licensed pursuant to Sections 11105 and 11105.1 shall report to the department every change of residence address within five days of the change.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 24. Section 11108.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11108.5. (a) Every school owner licensed pursuant to this chapter shall notify the department within 10 days of any change in the ownership or corporate structure of the licensee.

(b) Every school owner licensed pursuant to this chapter shall immediately notify the department upon changing the site or location of the school's established place of business.

(c) Every school operator and every instructor licensed pursuant to this chapter shall report to the department every change of residence address within five days of the change.

(d) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 25. Section 11110 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11110. The department, after notice and hearing, may suspend or revoke any license issued under this chapter in any of the following cases:

(a) The department is satisfied that the licensee fails to meet the requirements to receive or hold a license under this chapter.

(b) The licensee fails to keep the records required by this chapter.

(c) The licensee permits fraud or engages in fraudulent practices either with reference to the applicant or the department, or induces or countenances fraud or fraudulent practices on the part of any applicant for a driver's license.

(d) The licensee fails to comply with any provisions of this chapter or any of the regulations or requirements of the department adopted pursuant thereto.

(e) The licensee represents himself or herself as an agent or employee of the department or uses advertising designed to create the impression, or which would reasonably have the effect of leading persons to believe, that the licensee was in fact an employee or representative of the department, or the licensee makes an advertisement, in any manner or by any means, which is untrue or misleading, and which is known, or which by the exercise of reasonable care should be known, to be untrue or misleading.

(f) The licensee, or any employee or agent of the licensee, solicits driver training or instruction in, or within 200 feet of, an office of the department.

(g) The licensee is convicted of violating Section 14606, 20001, 20002, 20003, 20004, 20006, 20008, 23103, 23104, 23152, or 23153 of this code or subdivision 3 of Section 192 of the Penal Code. A conviction, after a plea of nolo contendere, is a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(h) The licensee does any act or series of acts, or is guilty of conduct, which action or conduct manifests a disability or unfitness to perform properly the licensee's occupational duties. If disability or unfitness to perform properly the occupational duties of the licensee is the basis of suspension or revocation, the referee, hearing officer, or department shall make a specific finding as to the manner in which the action or conduct manifests disability or unfitness, which finding shall be incorporated in the order suspending or revoking the license.

(i) Contrary to provisions of this code or of regulations adopted by the department, the licensee teaches or permits a student to be taught the specific tests administered by the department through use of the department's forms or testing facilities.

(j) The licensee conducts driver training, or permits driver training by any employee, in an unsafe manner or contrary to safe driving practices.

(k) The licensed driving school owner or licensed driving school operator teaches or permits an employee to teach driving instruction without a valid driving instructor's license.

(l) The licensed driving school owner does not have in effect a bond as provided in Section 11102.

(m) The licensee permits the use of the license by any other person for the purpose of permitting that person to engage in the ownership or operation of a driving school or in the giving of driving instruction for compensation.

This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 26. Section 11110 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11110. The department, after notice and hearing, may suspend or revoke any license issued under this chapter in any of the following cases:

(a) The department is satisfied that the licensee fails to meet the requirements to receive or hold a license under this chapter.

(b) The licensee fails to keep the records required by this chapter.

(c) The licensee permits fraud or engages in fraudulent practices either with reference to the applicant or the department, or induces or countenances fraud or fraudulent practices on the part of any applicant for a driver's license or an all-terrain vehicle safety certificate.

(d) The licensee fails to comply with any provisions of this chapter or any of the regulations or requirements of the department adopted pursuant thereto.

(e) The licensee represents himself or herself as an agent or employee of the department or uses advertising designed to create the impression, or which would reasonably have the effect of leading persons to believe, that the licensee was in fact an employee or representative of the department, or the licensee makes an advertisement, in any manner or by any means, which is untrue or misleading, and which is known, or which by the exercise of reasonable care should be known, to be untrue or misleading.

(f) The licensee, or any employee or agent of the licensee, solicits driver training or instruction or all-terrain vehicle safety instruction in, or within 200 feet of, an office of the department.

(g) The licensee is convicted of violating Section 14606, 20001, 20002, 20003, 20004, 20006, 20008, 23103, 23104, 23152, or 23153 of this code or subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code. A conviction, after a plea of nolo contendere, is a conviction within the meaning of this section.

(h) The licensee does any act or series of acts, or is guilty of conduct, which action or conduct manifests a disability or unfitness to perform properly the licensee's occupational duties. If disability or unfitness to perform properly the occupational duties of the licensee is the basis of suspension or revocation, the referee, hearing officer, or department shall make a specific finding as to the manner in which the action or conduct manifests disability or unfitness, which finding shall be incorporated in the order suspending or revoking the license.

(i) Contrary to provisions of this code or of regulations adopted by the department, the licensee teaches or permits a student to be taught the specific tests administered by the department through use of the department's forms or testing facilities.

(j) The licensee conducts training, or permits training by any employee, in an unsafe manner or contrary to safe driving practices.

(k) The licensed school owner or licensed driving school operator teaches or permits an employee to teach driving instruction or all-terrain vehicle safety instruction without a valid instructor's license.

(l) The licensed school owner does not have in effect a bond as provided in Section 11102.

(m) The licensee permits the use of the license by any other person for the purpose of permitting that person to engage in the ownership or operation of a school or in the giving of driving instruction or all-terrain vehicle safety instruction for compensation.

(n) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 27. Section 11110.2 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11110.2. The license issued to a driving school owner shall be canceled upon suspension or cancellation of the corporate charter of the licensee by the state.

This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 28. Section 11110.2 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11110.2. (a) The license issued to a school owner shall be canceled upon suspension or cancellation of the corporate charter of the licensee by the state.

(b) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 29. Section 11110.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11110.5. The department may cancel any license issued under the provisions of this chapter when such license has been issued in error or voluntarily surrendered to the department for cancellation. Whenever a driving school operator's license or a driving instructor's license is canceled, it shall be without prejudice and shall be surrendered to the department. Any person whose license has been canceled may immediately apply for a license and such application may be accepted without additional fee or examination under rules and regulations adopted by the department.

This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 30. Section 11110.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11110.5. The department may cancel any license issued under this chapter when that license has been issued in error or voluntarily surrendered to the department for cancellation. Whenever a driving school operator's license or an instructor's license is canceled, it shall be without prejudice and shall be surrendered to the department. Any person whose license has been canceled may immediately apply for a license, and the application may be accepted without additional fee or examination under rules and regulations adopted by the department.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 31. Section 11111 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11111. (a) Every licensee under this chapter is entitled to notice and hearing prior to cancellation, suspension, or revocation of the license by the department, except that the department shall immediately cancel the license without a hearing for failure of the licensee to meet and maintain the requirements of paragraph (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 11102, or Section 11103, or subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11104, or Section 11110.2.

(b) The notice and hearings provided for in this chapter shall be pursuant to and governed by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) Any action of the department in suspending, canceling, or revoking, or failing to renew a license may be reviewed by any court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) The department may, pending a hearing, temporarily suspend the license or permit of any driving school owner, driving school operator, or driving instructor for a period not to exceed 30 days if the director finds that the action is required in the public interest. In that case, a hearing shall be held and a decision thereon issued within 30 days after notice of temporary suspension.

(e) The suspension, expiration, or cancellation of a license issued under this chapter does not prevent the filing of an accusation for the revocation or suspension of the suspended, expired, or canceled license as provided in Section 11110, and does not invalidate or otherwise preclude a decision by the department that the license should be suspended or revoked. That determination may be considered in granting or refusing to grant any subsequent license authorized by this chapter to the same licensee, or to any partner, officer, director, or stockholder of the same licensee.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 32. Section 11111 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11111. (a) Every licensee under this chapter is entitled to notice and hearing prior to cancellation, suspension, or revocation of the license by the department, except that the department shall immediately cancel the license without a hearing for failure of the licensee to meet and maintain the requirements of paragraph (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 11102, or Section 11103 or 11103.1, or paragraph (5), (6), or (7) of subdivision (a) of Section 11104, or subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11104.3, or Section 11110.2.

(b) The notice and hearings provided for in this chapter shall be pursuant to and governed by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) Any action of the department in suspending, canceling, or revoking, or failing to renew a license may be reviewed by any court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) The department may, pending a hearing, temporarily suspend the license or permit of any person licensed under this chapter for a period not to exceed 30 days if the director finds that the action is required in the public interest. In that case, a hearing shall be held and a decision thereon issued within 30 days after notice of temporary suspension.

(e) The suspension, expiration, or cancellation of a license issued under this chapter does not prevent the filing of an accusation for the revocation or suspension of the suspended, expired, or canceled license as provided in Section 11110, and does not invalidate or otherwise preclude a decision by the department that the license should be suspended or revoked. That determination may be considered in granting or refusing to grant any subsequent license authorized by this chapter to the same licensee, or to any partner, officer, director, or stockholder of the same licensee.

(f) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 33. Section 11111.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11111.5. (a) After the filing of an accusation under this chapter, the director may enter into a stipulated compromise settlement agreement with the consent of the licensee on terms and conditions mutually agreeable to the director, the respondent licensee, and the accuser without further hearing or appeal. The agreement may include, but is not limited to, a period of probation or monetary penalties, or both. The monetary penalty shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for driving school owners or five hundred dollars ($500) for driving school operators or driving instructors for each violation, and it shall be based on the nature of the violation and the effect of the violation on the purposes of this chapter.

(b) A compromise settlement agreement may be entered before, during, or after the hearing, but is valid only if executed and filed pursuant to subdivision (d) before the proposed decision of the hearing officer, if any, is adopted or the case is decided.

(c) The department shall adopt, by regulation, a schedule of maximum and minimum amounts of monetary penalties, the payment of which may be included as a term or condition of a compromise settlement agreement entered under subdivision (a). Any monetary penalty included in a compromise settlement agreement shall be within the range of monetary penalties in that schedule.

(d) Any compromise settlement agreement entered under this section shall be signed by the director, the respondent licensee, and the accuser, or by their authorized representatives. The director shall file, or cause to be filed, the agreement with the Office of Administrative Hearings, together with the department's notice of withdrawal of the accusation or statement of issues upon which the action was initiated.

(e) If the respondent licensee fails to perform all of the terms and conditions of the compromise settlement agreement, the agreement is void and the department may take any action authorized by law notwithstanding the agreement, including, but not limited to, refiling the accusation or imposing license sanctions.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 34. Section 11111.5 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11111.5. (a) After the filing of an accusation under this chapter, the director may enter into a stipulated compromise settlement agreement with the consent of the licensee on terms and conditions mutually agreeable to the director, the respondent licensee, and the accuser without further hearing or appeal. The agreement may include, but is not limited to, a period of probation or monetary penalties, or both. The monetary penalty shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for driving school owners or for a principal in an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization or five hundred dollars ($500) for driving school operators or for driving instructors or all-terrain vehicle safety instructors for each violation, and the monetary penalty shall be based on the nature of the violation and the effect of the violation on the purposes of this chapter.

(b) A compromise settlement agreement may be entered before, during, or after the hearing, but is valid only if executed and filed pursuant to subdivision (d) before the proposed decision of the hearing officer, if any, is adopted or the case is decided.

(c) The department shall adopt, by regulation, a schedule of maximum and minimum amounts of monetary penalties, the payment of which may be included as a term or condition of a compromise settlement agreement entered under subdivision (a). Any monetary penalty included in a compromise settlement agreement shall be within the range of monetary penalties in that schedule.

(d) Any compromise settlement agreement entered under this section shall be signed by the director, the respondent licensee, and the accuser, or by their authorized representatives. The director shall file, or cause to be filed, the agreement with the Office of Administrative Hearings, together with the department's notice of withdrawal of the accusation or statement of issues upon which the action was initiated.

(e) If the respondent licensee fails to perform all of the terms and conditions of the compromise settlement agreement, the agreement is void and the department may take any action authorized by law notwithstanding the agreement, including, but not limited to, refiling the accusation or imposing license sanctions.

(f) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 35. Section 11116 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

11116. (a) Whenever the department cancels, suspends, or revokes the license of a driving school owner, driving school operator, or driving instructor, the licensee or person in possession thereof shall immediately return the license, certificates of completion, and any other evidence of licensing to the department.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until July 1, 1988, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before July 1, 1988, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 36. Section 11116 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

11116. (a) Whenever the department cancels, suspends, or revokes a license issued under this chapter, the licensee or person in possession thereof shall immediately return the license, certificates of completion, and any other evidence of licensing to the department.

(b) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

SEC. 37. Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 38500) is added to Division 16.5 of the Vehicle Code, to read:

CHAPTER 6. ALL-TERRAIN VEHICLES

38500. The Off-Highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee is hereby established. The committee consists of the Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, the Deputy Director of Parks and Recreation for Off-Highway Vehicles, the Director of Motor Vehicles, or their designees, and a member of the Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation Commission appointed by the members of the commission. The committee shall receive staff assistance in its operations from the Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation Division in the Department of Parks and Recreation.

38500.1. The Off-Highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee shall meet periodically to perform all of the following:

(a) Develop minimum criteria for certification as an approved all-terrain vehicle safety training organization. The criteria shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Curriculum and materials for training instructors to teach all-terrain vehicle operation and safety.

(2) Curriculum and materials for training all-terrain vehicle safety.

(3) Curriculum for teaching responsible use of off-highway vehicles with respect to environmental considerations, private property restrictions, off-highway vehicle operating laws, including noise and spark arrestor laws, and prohibitions against operating off-highway vehicles under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

(4) Record keeping and insurance requirements to satisfy the requirements of Sections 11103.1 and 11108.

(b) Upon presentation to the committee of a proposed program by an applicant to become an approved all-terrain vehicle safety training organization, the committee shall determine whether the applicant's program meets the minimum criteria and, if approved, shall recommend the organization for licensing pursuant to Section 11105.6.

38501. (a) An all-terrain vehicle safety training organization, commencing on January 1, 1989, shall issue an all-terrain vehicle safety certificate furnished by the department to any individual who successfully completes a course of instruction in all-terrain vehicle operation and safety as approved and certified by the Off-highway Vehicle Safety Education Committee.

(b) The department shall charge a fee not to exceed three dollars ($3) for each all-terrain vehicle safety certificate issued by an all-terrain vehicle safety training organization to each person completing a course of instruction from an all-terrain vehicle safety instructor using the approved course of instruction of the all-terrain vehicle safety training organization. The amount of the fee shall be determined by the department and shall be sufficient to defray the actual costs incurred by the department for administering and monitoring this program.

(c) An all-terrain vehicle safety training organization shall not charge a fee in excess of the fee charged by the department pursuant to subdivision (b) for furnishing an all-terrain vehicle safety certificate. An organization may charge a fee not to exceed three dollars ($3) in addition to the fee charged by the department for the issuance of a duplicate certificate and shall provide a duplicate certificate if requested by the person who completed the course.

38502. The department, on and after July 1, 1988, may monitor any all-terrain vehicle safety training organization or any all-terrain vehicle safety instructor without advance notice. The monitoring may include, but is not limited to, the instruction provided, business practices, and records required by Section 11108.

38503. No person under the age of 18 years, on and after January 1, 1990, shall operate an all-terrain vehicle on public lands of this state unless the person satisfies one of the following conditions:

(a) The person is taking a prescribed safety training course under the direct supervision of a certified all-terrain vehicle safety instructor.

(b) The person is under the direct supervision of an adult who has in their possession an appropriate safety certificate issued by this state, or issued under the authority of another state.

(c) The person has in possession an appropriate safety certificate issued by this state or issued under the authority of another state.

38504. No person under 14 years of age, on and after January 1, 1990, shall operate an all-terrain vehicle on public lands of this state unless the person satisfies one of the conditions set forth in Section 38503 and, in addition, is accompanied by and under the direct supervision of a parent or guardian or is accompanied by and under the direct supervision of an adult who is authorized by the parent or guardian.

38505. No person under the age of 15 years and six months, on and after January 1, 1990, shall operate, ride, or be otherwise propelled on an all-terrain vehicle on public lands unless the person wears a safety helmet meeting standards adopted by the United States Department of Transportation.

38506. No operator of an all-terrain vehicle, on and after January 1, 1990, shall carry a passenger when operating on public lands.

SEC. 38. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 39. The sum of forty-seven thousand eight hundred thirty-seven dollars ($47,837) is hereby appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Department of Motor Vehicles for purposes of this act.

CHAPTER 882

An act to add Section 8850.6 to the Government Code, relating to state government.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8850.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

8850.6. The advocate may establish a centralized interactive telephone referral system to assist small and minority businesses in their operations, including governmental requirements, such as taxation, accounting, and pollution control, and to provide information concerning the agency from which more specialized assistance may be obtained. The advocate may establish and advertise a telephone number to serve this centralized interactive telephone referral system.

CHAPTER 883

An act to amend Section 798.56 of the Civil Code, relating to mobilehomes.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 798.56 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.56. A tenancy shall be terminated by the management only for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a local ordinance or state law or regulation relating to mobilehomes within a reasonable time after the homeowner receives a notice of noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency.

(b) Conduct by the homeowner or resident, upon the park premises, which constitutes a substantial annoyance to other homeowners or residents.

(c) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation of the park as set forth in the rental agreement or any amendment thereto.

No act or omission of the homeowner or resident shall constitute such a failure to comply unless and until the management has given the homeowner written notice of the alleged rule or regulation violation and the homeowner or resident has failed to adhere to the rule or regulation within seven days. However, if a homeowner has been given a written notice of an alleged violation of the same rule or regulation on three or more occasions within a 12-month period after the homeowner or resident has violated that rule or regulation, no written notice shall be required for a subsequent violation of the same rule or regulation.

Nothing in this subdivision shall relieve the management from its obligation to demonstrate that a rule or regulation has in fact been violated.

(d) (1) Nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges; provided that the amount due has been unpaid for a period of at least five days from its due date, and provided, that the homeowner shall be given a three-day written notice subsequent to that five-day period to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy. The three-day written notice shall be given to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Such notice may be given at the same time as the 60 days' notice required for termination of the tenancy. Payment by the homeowner prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period shall cure a default under this subdivision.

(2) However, if a homeowner has been given a three-day notice to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy on three or more occasions within the preceding 12-month period, no written three-day notice shall be required for a subsequent nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges.

(3) Payment by the legal owner, as defined in Section 18005.8 of the Health and Safety Code, any junior lienholder, as defined in Section 18005.3 of the Health and Safety Code, or the registered owner, as defined in Section 18009.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if other than the homeowner, on behalf of the homeowner prior to the expiration of 30 calendar days following the mailing of the notice to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner provided in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55, shall cure a default under this subdivision with respect to such payment.

(4) The homeowner shall remain liable for all payments due up until the time the tenancy is vacated.

(5) Cure of a default of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges by the legal owner, any junior lienholder, or the registered owner, if other than the homeowner, as provided by this subdivision, may not be exercised more than twice during the term of the tenancy.

(e) Condemnation of the park.

(f) Change of use of the park or any portion thereof, provided:

(1) The management gives the homeowners at least 15 days' written notice that the management will be appearing before a local governmental board, commission, or body to request permits for a change of use of the mobilehome park.

(2) After all required permits requesting a change of use have been approved by the local governmental board, commission, or body, the management shall give the homeowners six months' or more written notice of termination of tenancy.

If the change of use requires no local governmental permits, then notice shall be given 12 months or more prior to the management's determination that a change of use will occur. The management in the notice shall disclose and describe in detail the nature of the change of use.

(3) The management gives each proposed homeowner written notice thereof prior to the inception of his or her tenancy that the management is requesting a change of use before local governmental bodies or that a change of use request has been granted.

(4) The notice requirements for termination of tenancy set forth in Sections 798.56 and 798.57 shall be followed if the proposed change actually occurs.

(5) A notice of a proposed change of use given prior to January 1, 1980, which conforms to the requirements in effect at that time shall be valid. The requirements for a notice of a proposed change of use imposed by this subdivision shall be governed by the law in effect at the time the notice was given.

SEC. 2. Section 798.56 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

798.56. A tenancy shall be terminated by the management only for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a local ordinance or state law or regulation relating to mobilehomes within a reasonable time after the homeowner receives a notice of noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency.

(b) Conduct by the homeowner or resident, upon the park premises, which constitutes a substantial annoyance to other homeowners or residents.

(c) Failure of the homeowner or resident to comply with a reasonable rule or regulation of the park as set forth in the rental agreement or any amendment thereto.

No act or omission of the homeowner or resident shall constitute such a failure to comply unless and until the management has given the homeowner written notice of the alleged rule or regulation violation and the homeowner or resident has failed to adhere to the rule or regulation within seven days. However, if a homeowner has been given a written notice of an alleged violation of the same rule or regulation on three or more occasions within a 12-month period after the homeowner or resident has violated that rule or regulation, no written notice shall be required for a subsequent violation of the same rule or regulation.

Nothing in this subdivision shall relieve the management from its obligation to demonstrate that a rule or regulation has in fact been violated.

(d) (1) Nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges; provided that the amount due has been unpaid for a period of at least five days from its due date, and provided, that the homeowner shall be given a three-day written notice subsequent to that five-day period to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy. The three-day written notice shall be given to the homeowner in the manner prescribed by Section 1162 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The notice may be given at the same time as the 60 days' notice required for termination of the tenancy.

Payment by the homeowner prior to the expiration of the three-day notice period shall cure a default under this subdivision.

(2) However, if a homeowner has been given a three-day notice to pay the amount due or to vacate the tenancy on three or more occasions within the preceding 12-month period, no written three-day notice shall be required for a subsequent nonpayment of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges.

(3) Payment by the legal owner, as defined in Section 18005.8 of the Health and Safety Code, any junior lienholder, as defined in Section 18005.3 of the Health and Safety Code, or the registered owner, as defined in Section 18009.5 of the Health and Safety Code, if other than the homeowner, on behalf of the homeowner prior to the expiration of 30 calendar days following the mailing of the notice to the legal owner, each junior lienholder, and the registered owner provided in subdivision (b) of Section 798.55, shall cure a default under this subdivision with respect to that payment.

(4) The homeowner shall remain liable for all payments due up until the time the tenancy is vacated.

(5) Cure of a default of rent, utility charges, or reasonable incidental service charges by the legal owner, any junior lienholder, or the registered owner, if other than the homeowner, as provided by this subdivision, may not be exercised more than twice during a 12-month period.

(e) Condemnation of the park.

(f) Change of use of the park or any portion thereof, provided:

(1) The management gives the homeowners at least 15 days' written notice that the management will be appearing before a local governmental board, commission, or body to request permits for a change of use of the mobilehome park.

(2) After all required permits requesting a change of use have been approved by the local governmental board, commission, or body, the management shall give the homeowners six months' or more written notice of termination of tenancy.

If the change of use requires no local governmental permits, then notice shall be given 12 months or more prior to the management's determination that a change of use will occur. The management in the notice shall disclose and describe in detail the nature of the change of use.

(3) The management gives each proposed homeowner written notice thereof prior to the inception of his or her tenancy that the management is requesting a change of use before local governmental bodies or that a change of use request has been granted.

(4) The notice requirements for termination of tenancy set forth in Sections 798.56 and 798.57 shall be followed if the proposed change actually occurs.

(5) A notice of a proposed change of use given prior to January 1, 1988, which conforms to the requirements in effect at that time shall be valid. The requirements for a notice of a proposed change of use imposed by this subdivision shall be governed by the law in effect at the time the notice was given.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 798.56 of the Civil Code proposed by both this bill and AB 744. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 798.56 of the Civil Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 744, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 884

An act to amend Sections 5600.9 and 5713 of, and to add Sections 5650.1, 5652.7, 5657, and 5750.1 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to mental health.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5600.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5600.9. Each county shall utilize available private and private nonprofit mental health resources and facilities in the county prior to developing new county-operated resources or facilities when these private and private nonprofit mental health resources or facilities are of at least equal quality and cost as compared with county-operated resources or facilities. All the available local public or private and private nonprofit facilities shall be utilized before state hospitals are used. The annual county mental health plan shall include an affidavit stipulating to the county's compliance with this section.

SEC. 2. Section 5650.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5650.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a county may contract under this part with a mental health care provider for a program of mental health services of up to three years in duration. Any requirements in a three-year program established in a contract between a county and a mental health provider are subject to the availability of mental health program funding.

SEC. 3. Section 5652.7 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5652.7. A county shall have only 60 days from the date of submission of an application to review and certify or deny an application to establish a new mental health care provider. If an application requires review by the State Department of Health Services, the department shall also have only 60 days from the date of submission of the application to review and certify or deny an application to establish a new mental health care provider.

SEC. 4. Section 5657 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5657. (a) The private organization or private nonprofit organization awarded a contract with the county agency to supply mental health services under this part shall provide an invoice to the county for the amount of the payment due within 60 days of the date the services are supplied.

(b) Any county which, without reasonable cause, fails to make any payment within 60 days of the required payment date to a private organization or private nonprofit organization awarded a contract with the county agency to supply mental health services under this part, for an indisputed claim which was properly executed by the claimant and submitted to the county, shall pay a penalty of 0.10 percent of the amount due, per day, from the 61st day after the required payment date.

(c) For the purposes of this section, "required payment date" means any of the following:

(1) The date on which payment is due under the terms of the contract.

(2) If a specific date is not established by contract, the date upon which an invoice is received, if the invoice specifies payment is due upon receipt.

(3) If a specific date is not established by contract or invoice, 60 days after receipt of a proper invoice for the amount of the payment due.

(d) The penalty assessed under this section shall not be paid from the Short-Doyle program funds or county matching funds. The penalty provisions of this section shall not apply to the late payment of any federal funds or Medi-Cal funds.

SEC. 5. Section 5713 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

5713. Except as otherwise provided in this section, in determining the amounts which may be paid, fees paid by persons receiving services or fees paid on behalf of persons receiving services by the federal government, by the California Medical Assistance Program set forth in Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) of Part 3 of Division 9, and by other public or private sources, shall be deducted from the costs of providing services. However, a county may negotiate a contract which permits a mental health care provider to retain unanticipated funds above the budgeted contract amount specified in the county mental health plan, provided that the unanticipated revenues are utilized for the mental health services specified in the contract. If a provider is permitted by contract to retain unanticipated revenues above the budgeted amount, the mental health provider shall specify the services funded by those revenues in the yearend cost report submitted to the county. A county shall not permit the retention of any fees paid by private resources on behalf of Medi-Cal beneficiaries without having those fees deducted from the costs of providing services. Whenever feasible, mentally disordered persons who are eligible for mental health services under the California Medical Assistance Program shall be treated in a facility approved for reimbursement in that program.

General unrestricted or undesignated private charitable donations and contributions made to charitable or nonprofit organizations shall not be considered as "fees paid by persons" or "fees paid on behalf of persons receiving services" under this section and the contributions shall not be applied in determining the amounts to be paid. These unrestricted contributions shall not be used in part or in whole to defray the costs or the allocated costs of the California Medical Assistance Program.

SEC. 6. Section 5750.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

5750.1. Notwithstanding Section 5750, any standard, rule, or policy, not directly the result of a statutory or administrative law change, adopted by the department or county during the term of an existing county Short-Doyle plan contract shall not apply to the negotiated rate and net amount terms of that contract under Section 5705.2, but shall only apply to contracts established after adoption of the standard, rule, or policy.

SEC. 7. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 885

An act to amend and renumber Section 4030.9 of, and to add Sections 4030.6 and 4030.7 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to water, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4030.9 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

4030.5. (a) The Emergency Clean Water Grant Fund is hereby established in the General Fund and, notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, is continuously appropriated to the department, without regard to fiscal years, to provide financial assistance to public water systems and to fund emergency actions by the department to ensure that safe drinking water supplies are available to all Californians who are served by public water systems.

(b) The department may expend funds in the Emergency Clean Water Grant Fund for the purposes specified in subdivision (a), including, but not limited to, payment for all of the following actions:

(1) The provision of alternative water supplies and bottled water.

(2) Improvements of the existing water supply system.

(3) Hookups with adjacent water systems.

(4) Design, purchase, installation, and operation and maintenance of water treatment technologies.

(c) The department shall develop and revise guidelines for the allocation and administration of moneys in the Emergency Clean Water Grant Fund. These guidelines shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) A definition of what constitutes an emergency requiring an alternative or improved water supply.

(2) Priorities and procedures for allocating funds.

(3) Repayment provisions, as appropriate.

(4) Procedures for recovering funds from parties responsible for the contamination of public water supplies.

The guidelines are not subject to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Section 4030.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

4030.6. (a) The department shall expend moneys available in the Emergency Clean Water Grant Fund only for the purpose of taking corrective action necessary to remedy or prevent an emergency or imminent threat to public health due to the contamination or potential contamination of the public water supply.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department may enter into written contracts for remedial action taken or to be taken pursuant to subdivision (a), and may enter into oral contracts, not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) in obligation, when, in the judgment of the department, immediate remedial action is necessary to remedy or prevent an emergency specified in subdivision (a). The contracts, written or oral, may include provisions for the rental or purchase of tools and equipment, either with or without operators, for the furnishing of labor and materials and for engineering consulting necessary to accomplish the work.

SEC. 3. Section 4030.7 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

4030.7. Any remedial action taken or contracted for by the department pursuant to Section 4030.6 shall be exempt from the following provisions:

(a) State Contract Act provided for pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10100) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

(b) Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 4525) of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

(c) Section 14780 of the Government Code and Article 5 (commencing with Section 10355) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

(d) Article 4 (commencing with Section 10335) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

CHAPTER 886

An act to add Sections 14529.11 and 14529.12 to the Government Code, relating to highways.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds that the Counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, and Santa Cruz, have exercised the authority to seek increases in transactions and use taxes, and obtained the approval from the voters for a one-half to 1 percent increase in transactions and use taxes to pay for local transportation improvements. Several other counties are considering similar actions.

(b) The Legislature further finds that several cities and counties have imposed local fees and established special transportation agencies to raise additional revenue to pay for local transportation improvements.

(c) In order to ensure the integrity of the state highway system, the Department of Transportation should maintain oversight to ensure compliance with state and federal requirements on locally financed state highway projects, including planning, design, right-of-way acquisition, and construction. In addition, the department should be responsible for the costs of this oversight.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that, in order to ensure that the expectations of cities, counties, and local transportation agencies that have raised local revenues to pay for transportation improvements are fulfilled, and that the planning, design, right-of-way acquisition, and construction of these projects are delivered in the most expeditious fashion, the department shall give priority to highway projects financed from local revenues without impeding the delivery of projects contained in the state transportation improvement program.

SEC. 2. Section 14529.11 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14529.11. The following conditions shall apply to projects in the state highway system which are financed from retail transactions and use taxes:

(a) A local jurisdiction which chooses to provide its own financing for the construction or improvement of a state highway shall be responsible for determining the priority and delivery schedule of locally funded projects. The jurisdiction shall consult with the department in determining the schedules.

(b) The local jurisdiction shall request that the department, as the state agency responsible for determining the final concept and location of projects in the state highway system, prepare, or cause to be prepared, an initial project report in conjunction with the local jurisdiction. The request shall include preliminary information on the description, priority, and delivery schedule of all projects proposed by the local jurisdiction to be financed by retail transactions and use taxes.

(c) The department shall use the initial project report prepared pursuant to subdivison (b) to determine and obtain initial agreements with the local jurisdiction on feasibility, concept, estimates, staging, limits, environmental considerations, and schedules. The department shall prepare the initial project report at state expense and within a timeframe established jointly by the local jurisdiction and the department. The local jurisdiction shall provide, at its expense, appropriate existing technical and financial information that may be needed to prepare the initial project report and may, at its option, provide other data to expedite preparation and approval. After the department and the local jurisdiction have provided their initial approval, any change in project scope that causes any change in cost estimates or schedule shall be agreed upon by the local jurisdiction, the department and, where appropriate, the Federal Highway Administration.

(d) Upon completion of the initial project report, or at a time deemed appropriate by the local jurisdiction, the department shall respond within 30 days to a request from the local jurisdiction to prepare, or cause to be prepared, all project development work through environmental clearance for those projects financed by retail transactions and use taxes. The local jurisdiction's request shall include the local jurisdiction's final determination of the priority and delivery schedule of proposed projects. This determination may, but is not required to, match the initial agreements reached in the initial project report. If the department determines that it is able to comply with the request, the state shall pay for the project development work through environmental clearance. If the department determines it is unable to comply with the request, the local jurisdiction may proceed with project development pursuant to Section 14529.12.

(e) The local jurisdiction is responsible for procuring and paying all costs of project development work beyond environmental clearance, including, but not limited to, design, right-of-way acquisition, and construction.

(f) The detailed application of the conditions prescribed by this section shall be set forth in an agreement between the department and the local jurisdiction.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 14529.12 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14529.12. A local jurisdiction which has determined to utilize its own funds for the construction or improvement of a state highway may, if the department is unable to comply with the request specified in subdivision (d) of Section 14529.11, further request the department to furnish the local jurisdiction with all information and assistance necessary to enable the local jurisdiction to proceed with the planning, design, and construction of the project. A local jurisdiction which chooses to proceed with project development work through environmental clearance pursuant to this section, is responsible for the costs associated with the work. The department, however, shall provide the required oversight at state expense.

Upon receiving sufficient assurances that adequate local funding for the project will be made available by the local jurisdiction, the department shall move expeditiously to furnish that information and assistance to the local jurisdiction within 90 days of the department's determination that it cannot comply with the request specified in subdivision (d) of Section 14529.11.

This information shall only be made available after the department has had the opportunity to determine whether it will be able to comply with the request specified in subdivision (d) of Section 14529.11.

The project shall be designed and the environmental documents prepared in accordance with the department's practices for planning, design, and construction. The department shall prescribe these practices through policies and procedures memoranda within the 90-day period. The department shall provide appropriate oversight. These practices shall not apply to the organizational structure of the local jurisdiction or any of its consultants.

The department shall accept the completed project into the state highway system if it was approved and constructed in accordance with the practices prescribed by the department pursuant to this section.

Review and approval of project work being done by a local jurisdiction shall be expedited by the department. The department shall organize appropriate professional staff for oversight to ensure that all work done on the state highway system on projects funded by retail transactions and use taxes conforms with established department practices. The required level of departmental oversight for this review and approval is the financial responsibility of the department.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 5. Notwithstanding the fact that Section 14529.11 of the Government Code is repealed on January 1, 1992, any project development work initiated by the Department of Transportation pursuant to Section 14529.11 of the Government Code prior to January 1, 1992, shall be fully completed by the department.

SEC. 6. (a) On or before January 1, 1991, the Legislative Analyst shall prepare and submit to the Legislature a report on the project development work undertaken pursuant to Section 14529.11 of the Government Code. The report shall include an evaluation of the working relationship between the Department of Transportation and local jurisdictions which are responsible for determining the priority and schedule of locally financed projects pursuant to that section.

CHAPTER 887

An act to add Section 84035 to the Education Code, and to amend Sections 53600, 53601, 53630, and 53635 of the Government Code, relating to surplus funds.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 84035 is added to the Education Code, to read:

84035. The governing board of any community college district may invest any surplus moneys of the district as authorized pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 53600) and Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Title 5 of Division 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 2. Section 53600 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53600. As used in this article, "local agency" means county, city, city and county, including a chartered city or county, school district, community college district, public district, county board of education, county superintendent of schools, or any public or municipal corporation.

SEC. 3. Section 53601 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 2.5 of Chapter 853 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

53601. The legislative body of a local agency having money in a sinking fund of, or surplus money in, its treasury not required for the immediate necessities of the local agency may invest any portion of the money which it deems wise or expedient in:

(a) Bonds issued by the local agency, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(b) United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills, or certificates of indebtedness, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(c) Registered state warrants or treasury notes or bonds of this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the state or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the state.

(d) Bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness of any local agency within this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency, or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(e) Obligations issued by banks for cooperatives, federal land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, federal home loan banks, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Tennessee Valley Authority, or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the Federal National Mortgage Association; or in guaranteed portions of Small Business Administration notes; or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, a federal agency or a United States government-sponsored enterprise.

(f) Bills of exchange or time drafts drawn on and accepted by a commercial bank, otherwise known as bankers acceptances, which are eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve System. Purchases of bankers acceptances may not exceed 270 days maturity or 40 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. However, no more than 30 percent of the agency's surplus funds may be invested in the bankers acceptances of any one commercial bank pursuant to this section.

This subdivision does not preclude a municipal utility district from investing any surplus money in its treasury in any manner authorized by the Municipal Utility District Act, Division 6 (commencing with Section 11501) of the Public Utilities Code.

(g) Commercial paper of "prime" quality of the highest ranking or of the highest letter and numerical rating as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Eligible paper is further limited to issuing corporations that are organized and operating within the United States and having total assets in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) and having an "A" or higher rating for the issuer's debt, other than commercial paper, if any, as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Purchases of eligible commercial paper may not exceed 180 days maturity nor represent more than 10 percent of the outstanding paper of an issuing corporation. Purchases of commercial paper may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. An additional 15 percent, or a total of 30 percent of the agency's surplus money, may be invested pursuant to this subdivision. The additional 15 percent may be so invested only if the dollar-weighted average maturity of the entire amount does not exceed 31 days. "Dollar-weighted average maturity" means the sum of the amount of each outstanding commercial paper investment multiplied by the number of days to maturity, divided by the total amount of outstanding commercial paper.

(h) Negotiable certificates of deposits issued by a nationally or state-chartered bank or a state or federal association (as defined by Section 5102 of the Financial Code) or by a state-licensed branch of a foreign bank. Purchases of negotiable certificates of deposit may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. For purposes of this section, negotiable certificates of deposits do not come within Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5, except that the amount so invested shall be subject to the limitations of Section 53638.

(i) Investments in repurchase agreements or reverse repurchase agreements of any securities authorized by this section, so long as the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement are invested solely to supplement the income normally received from these securities. Investment in a reverse repurchase agreement shall be made only upon prior approval of the legislative body of the local agency. For purposes of this section, the term "repurchase agreement" means a purchase of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the seller will repurchase the securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount and will deliver the underlying securities to the local agency by book entry, physical delivery, or by third-party custodial agreement. The transfer of underlying securities to the counterparty bank's customer book entry account may be used for book entry delivery. The term

"counterparty" for the purposes of this subdivision, means the other party to the transaction. A counterparty bank's trust department or safekeeping department may be used for physical delivery of the underlying security. The term of repurchase agreements shall be for one year or less. The term "securities," for purpose of repurchase under this subdivision, means securities of the same issuer, description, issue date, and maturity.

The term "reverse repurchase agreement" means a sale of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the local agency will repurchase such securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount.

(j) Medium-term corporate notes of a maximum of five years' maturity issued by corporations operating within the United States. Securities eligible for investment under this subdivision shall be rated in the top three note rating categories by two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services. Purchase of medium-term corporate notes may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(k) Shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies, as defined in Section 23701m of the Revenue and Taxation Code, investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (l), inclusive, of this section and which comply with the investment restrictions of this article and Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630). To be eligible for investment pursuant to this subdivision, these companies shall either: (1) attain the highest ranking or the highest letter and numerical rating provided by not less than two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services, or (2) have an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission with not less than five years' experience investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (m), inclusive, of this section and with assets under management in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000). The purchase price of shares of beneficial interest purchased pursuant to this subdivision shall not include any commission that these companies may charge and shall not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(l) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this section, Section 53635 or any other provision of law, moneys held by a trustee or fiscal agent and pledged to the payment or security of bonds or other indebtedness, or obligations under a lease, installment sale, or other agreement of a local agency, or certificates of participation in those bonds, indebtedness, or lease installment sale, or other agreements, may be invested in accordance with the statutory provisions governing the issuance of those bonds, indebtedness, or lease installment sale, or other agreement, or to the extent not inconsistent therewith or if there are no specific statutory provisions, in accordance with the ordinance, resolution, indenture, or agreement of the local agency providing for the issuance.

SEC. 3.5. Section 53601 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 2.5 of Chapter 853 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

53601. The legislative body of a local agency having money in a sinking fund of, or surplus money in, its treasury not required for the immediate necessities of the local agency may invest any portion of the money which it deems wise or expedient in:

(a) Bonds issued by the local agency, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(b) United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills, or certificates of indebtedness, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(c) Registered state warrants or treasury notes or bonds of this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the state or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the state.

(d) Bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness of any local agency within this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency, or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(e) Obligations issued by banks for cooperatives, federal land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, federal home loan banks, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Tennessee Valley Authority, or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the Federal National Mortgage Association; or in guaranteed portions of Small Business Administration notes; or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, a federal agency or a United States government-sponsored enterprise.

(f) Bills of exchange or time drafts drawn on and accepted by a commercial bank, otherwise known as bankers acceptances, which are eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve System. Purchases of bankers acceptances may not exceed 270 days maturity or 40 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. However, no more than 30 percent of the agency's surplus funds may be invested in the bankers acceptances of any one commercial bank pursuant to this section.

This subdivision does not preclude a municipal utility district from investing any surplus money in its treasury in any manner authorized by the Municipal Utility District Act, Division 6 (commencing with Section 11501) of the Public Utilities Code.

(g) Commercial paper of "prime" quality of the highest ranking or of the highest letter and numerical rating as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Eligible paper is further limited to issuing corporations that are organized and operating within the United States and having total assets in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) and having an "A" or higher rating for the issuer's debt, other than commercial paper, if any, as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Purchases of eligible commercial paper may not exceed 180 days maturity nor represent more than 10 percent of the outstanding paper of an issuing corporation. Purchases of commercial paper may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. An additional 15 percent, or a total of 30 percent of the agency's surplus money, may be invested pursuant to this subdivision. The additional 15 percent may be so invested only if the dollar-weighted average maturity of the entire amount does not exceed 31 days. "Dollar-weighted average maturity" means the sum of the amount of each outstanding commercial paper investment multiplied by the number of days to maturity, divided by the total amount of outstanding commercial paper.

(h) Negotiable certificates of deposits issued by a nationally or state-chartered bank or a state or federal association (as defined by Section 5102 of the Financial Code) or by a state-licensed branch of a foreign bank. Purchases of negotiable certificates of deposit may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. For purposes of this section, negotiable certificates of deposits do not come within Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5, except that the amount so invested shall be subject to the limitations of Section 53638.

(i) Investments in repurchase agreements or reverse repurchase agreements of any securities authorized by this section, so long as the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement are invested solely to supplement the income normally received from these securities. Investment in a reverse repurchase agreement shall be made only upon prior approval of the legislative body of the local agency. For purposes of this section, the term "repurchase agreement" means a purchase of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the seller will repurchase the securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount and will deliver the underlying securities to the local agency by book entry, physical delivery, or by third-party custodial agreement. The transfer of underlying securities to the counterparty bank's customer book-entry account may be used for book-entry delivery. The term "counterparty" for the purposes of this subdivision, means the other party to the transaction. A counterparty bank's trust department or safekeeping department may be used for physical delivery of the underlying security. The term of repurchase agreements shall be for one year or less. The term "securities," for purpose of repurchase under this subdivision, means securities of the same issuer, description, issue date, and maturity.

The term "reverse repurchase agreement" means a sale of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the local agency will repurchase such securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount.

(j) Medium-term notes of a maximum of five years maturity issued by corporations organized and operating within the United States or by depository institutions licensed by the United States or any state and operating within the United States. Notes eligible for investment under this subdivision shall be rated in a rating category of "A" or its equivalent or better by a nationally recognized rating service. Purchases of medium-term notes may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(k) Shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies, as defined in Section 23701m of the Revenue and Taxation Code, investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (l), inclusive, of this section and which comply with the investment restrictions of this article and Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630). To be eligible for investment pursuant to this subdivision, these companies shall either: (1) attain the highest ranking or the highest letter and numerical rating provided by not less than two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services, or (2) have an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission with not less than five years' experience investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (m), inclusive, of this section and with assets under management in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000). The purchase price of shares of beneficial interest purchased pursuant to this subdivision shall not include any commission that these companies may charge and shall not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(l) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this section, Section 53635 or any other provision of law, moneys held by a trustee or fiscal agent and pledged to the payment or security of bonds or other indebtedness, or obligations under a lease, installment sale, or other agreement of a local agency, or certificates of participation in those bonds, indebtedness, or lease installment sale, or other agreements, may be invested in accordance with the statutory provisions governing the issuance of those bonds, indebtedness, or lease installment sale, or other agreement, or to the extent not inconsistent therewith or if there are no specific statutory provisions, in accordance with the ordinance, resolution, indenture, or agreement of the local agency providing for the issuance.

(m) Notes, bonds, or other obligations which are at all times secured by a valid first priority security interest in securities of the types listed by Section 53651 as eligible securities for the purpose of securing local agency deposits having a market value at least equal to that required by Section 53652 for the purpose of securing local agency deposits. The securities serving as collateral shall be placed by delivery or book entry into the custody of a trust company or the trust department of a bank which is not affiliated with the issuer of the secured obligation, and the security interest shall be perfected in accordance with the requirements of the Uniform Commercial Code or federal regulations applicable to the types of securities in which the security interest is granted.

SEC. 4. Section 53630 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53630. As used in this article:

(a) "Local agency" means county, city, city and county, including a chartered city or county, a community college district, or other public agency or corporation in this state.

(b) "Treasurer" means treasurer of the local agency.

(c) "Depository" means a state or national bank, savings association or federal association, or a state or federal credit union located in this state in which the moneys of a local agency are deposited.

(d) "Agent of depository" means a trust company or trust department of a state or national bank located in this state, including the trust department of a depository where authorized, and the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco, which is authorized to act as an agent of depository for the purposes of this article pursuant to Section 53657.

(e) "Security" means any of the eligible securities or obligations listed in Section 53651.

(f) "Pooled securities" means eligible securities held by an agent of depository for a depository and securing deposits of one or more local agencies.

(g) "Administrator" means the Administrator of Local Agency Security of the State of California.

(h) "Savings association or federal association" means a savings association, savings and loan association, or savings bank as defined by Section 5102 of the Financial Code.

(i) For purposes of being a depository of moneys belonging to or being in the custody of a local agency, the phrases "state or national bank located in this state," "state or national bank," "state or national bank in this state," and "state or national banks in the state" include a foreign bank licensed under Article 3 (commencing with Section 1750) of Chapter 13.5 of Division 1 of the Financial Code to maintain a branch office in this state or authorized under federal law to maintain a federal branch in this state.

SEC. 5. Section 53635 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 4.5 of Chapter 853 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

53635. As far as possible, all money belonging to, or in the custody of, a local agency, including money paid to the treasurer or other official to pay the principal, interest, or penalties of bonds, shall be deposited for safekeeping in state or national banks, savings associations or federal associations or credit unions in this state selected by the treasurer or other official having the legal custody of the money; or, unless otherwise directed by the legislative body pursuant to Section 53601, may be invested in the following:

(a) Bonds issued by the local agency, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(b) United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills, or certificates of indebtedness, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(c) Registered state warrants or treasury notes or bonds of this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the state or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the state.

(d) Bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness of any local agency within this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency, or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(e) Obligations issued by banks for cooperatives, federal land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, federal home loan banks, the federal home loan bank, the Tennessee Valley Authority, or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the Federal National Mortgage Association; or in guaranteed portions of Small Business Administration notes; or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, federal agency or a United States government-sponsored enterprise.

(f) Bills of exchange or time drafts drawn on and accepted by a commercial bank, otherwise known as bankers acceptances, which are eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve System. Purchases of bankers acceptances may not exceed 270 days maturity or 40 percent of the agency's surplus funds which may be invested pursuant to this section. However, no more than 30 percent of the agency's surplus funds may be invested in the bankers acceptances of any one commercial bank pursuant to this section.

This subdivision does not preclude a municipal utility district from investing any surplus money in its treasury in any manner authorized by the Municipal Utility District Act, Division 6 (commencing with Section 11501) of the Public Utilities Code.

(g) Commercial paper of "prime" quality of the highest ranking or of the highest letter and numerical rating as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Eligible paper is further limited to issuing corporations that are organized and operating within the United States and having total assets in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) and having an "A" or higher rating for the issuer's debt, other than commercial paper, if any, as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Purchases of eligible commercial paper may not exceed 180 days maturity nor represent more than 10 percent of the outstanding paper of an issuing corporation. Purchases of commercial paper may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. An additional 15 percent, or a total of 30 percent of the agency's money or money in its custody, may be invested pursuant to this subdivision. The additional 15 percent may be so invested only if the dollar-weighted average maturity of the entire amount does not exceed 31 days. "Dollar-weighted average maturity" means the sum of the amount of each outstanding commercial paper investment multiplied by the number of days to maturity, divided by the total amount of outstanding commercial paper.

(h) Negotiable certificates of deposit issued by a nationally or state-chartered bank or a savings association or federal association or a state or federal credit union or by a state-licensed branch of a foreign bank. Purchases of negotiable certificates of deposit may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. For purposes of this section, negotiable certificates of deposit do not come within Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5, except that the amount so invested shall be subject to the limitations of Section 53638. For purposes of this section, the legislative body of a local agency and the treasurer or other official of the local agency having legal custody of the money are prohibited from depositing or investing local agency funds, or funds in the custody of the local agency, in negotiable certificates of deposit issued by a state or federal credit union if a member of the legislative body of the local agency, or an employee of the administrative officer, manager's office, budget office, auditor-controller's office, or treasurer's office of the local agency also serves on the board of directors, or any committee appointed by the board of directors, or the credit committee or supervisory committee of the state or federal credit union issuing the negotiable certficates of deposit.

(i) Investments in repurchase agreements or reverse repurchase agreements of any securities authorized by this section, so long as the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement are invested solely to supplement the income normally received from these securities. Investment in a reverse repurchase agreement shall be made only upon prior approval of the legislative body of the local agency. For purposes of this section, the term "repurchase agreement" means a purchase of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the seller will repurchase the securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount and will deliver the underlying securities to the local agency by book entry, physical delivery, or by third-party custodial agreement. The transfer of underlying securities to the counterparty bank's customer book entry account may be used for book entry delivery. The term "counterparty" for the purposes of this subdivision, means the other party to the transaction. A counterparty bank's trust department or safekeeping department may be used for physical delivery of the underlying security. The term of repurchase agreements shall be for one year or less. The term "securities," for purpose of repurchase under this subdivision, shall mean securities of the same issuer, description, issue date, and maturity.

The term "reverse repurchase agreement" means a sale of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the local agency will repurchase such securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount.

(j) Medium-term corporate notes of a maximum of five years' maturity issued by corporations operating within the United States. Securities eligible for investment under this subdivision shall be rated in the top three note rating categories by two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services. Purchase of medium-term corporate notes may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(k) Shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies, as defined in Section 23701m of the Revenue and Taxation Code, investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (k), inclusive, of this section and which comply with the investment restrictions of this article and Article 1 (commencing with Section 53600). To be eligible for investment pursuant to this subdivision, these companies shall either: (1) attain the highest ranking or the highest letter and numerical rating provided by not less than two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services, or (2) have an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission with not less than five years' experience investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (m), inclusive, of this section and with assets under management in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000). The purchase price of shares of beneficial interest purchased pursuant to this subdivision shall not include any commission that these companies may charge and shall not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

SEC. 5.5. Section 53635 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 4.5 of Chapter 853 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

53635. As far as possible, all money belonging to, or in the custody of, a local agency, including money paid to the treasurer or other official to pay the principal, interest, or penalties of bonds, shall be deposited for safekeeping in state or national banks, savings associations or federal associations or credit unions in this state selected by the treasurer or other official having the legal custody of the money; or, unless otherwise directed by the legislative body pursuant to Section 53601, may be invested in the following:

(a) Bonds issued by the local agency, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(b) United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills, or certificates of indebtedness, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest.

(c) Registered state warrants or treasury notes or bonds of this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the state or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the state.

(d) Bonds, notes, warrants, or other evidences of indebtedness of any local agency within this state, including bonds payable solely out of the revenues from a revenue-producing property owned, controlled, or operated by the local agency, or by a department, board, agency, or authority of the local agency.

(e) Obligations issued by banks for cooperatives, federal land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, federal home loan banks, the Federal Home Loan Bank, the Tennessee Valley Authority, or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the Federal National Mortgage Association; or in guaranteed portions of Small Business Administration notes; or in obligations, participations, or other instruments of, or issued by, federal agency or a United States government-sponsored enterprise.

(f) Bills of exchange or time drafts drawn on and accepted by a commercial bank, otherwise known as bankers acceptances, which are eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve System. Purchases of bankers acceptances may not exceed 270 days maturity or 40 percent of the agency's surplus funds which may be invested pursuant to this section. However, no more than 30 percent of the agency's surplus funds may be invested in the bankers acceptances of any one commercial bank pursuant to this section.

This subdivision does not preclude a municipal utility district from investing any surplus money in its treasury in any manner authorized by the Municipal Utility District Act, Division 6 (commencing with Section 11501) of the Public Utilities Code.

(g) Commercial paper of "prime" quality of the highest ranking or of the highest letter and numerical rating as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Eligible paper is further limited to issuing corporations that are organized and operating within the United States and having total assets in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000) and having an "A" or higher rating for the issuer's debt, other than commercial paper, if any, as provided for by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or Standard and Poor's Corporation. Purchases of eligible commercial paper may not exceed 180 days maturity nor represent more than 10 percent of the outstanding paper of an issuing corporation. Purchases of commercial paper may not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. An additional 15 percent, or a total of 30 percent of the agency's money or money in its custody, may be invested pursuant to this subdivision. The additional 15 percent may be so invested only if the dollar-weighted average maturity of the entire amount does not exceed 31 days. "Dollar-weighted average maturity" means the sum of the amount of each outstanding commercial paper investment multiplied by the number of days to maturity, divided by the total amount of outstanding commercial paper.

(h) Negotiable certificates of deposit issued by a nationally or state-chartered bank or a savings association or federal association or a state or federal credit union or by a state-licensed branch of a foreign bank. Purchases of negotiable certificates of deposit may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section. For purposes of this section, negotiable certificates of deposit do not come within Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5, except that the amount so invested shall be subject to the limitations of Section 53638. For purposes of this section, the legislative body of a local agency and the treasurer or other official of the local agency having legal custody of the money are prohibited from depositing or investing local agency funds, or funds in the custody of the local agency, in negotiable certificates of deposit issued by a state or federal credit union if a member of the legislative body of the local agency, or an employee of the administrative officer, manager's office, budget office, auditor-controller's office, or treasurer's office of the local agency also serves on the board of directors, or any committee appointed by the board of directors, or the credit committee or supervisory committee of the state or federal credit union issuing the negotiable certficates of deposit.

(i) Investments in repurchase agreements or reverse repurchase agreements of any securities authorized by this section, so long as the proceeds of the reverse repurchase agreement are invested solely to supplement the income normally received from these securities. Investment in a reverse repurchase agreement shall be made only upon prior approval of the legislative body of the local agency. For purposes of this section, the term "repurchase agreement" means a purchase of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the seller will repurchase the securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount and will deliver the underlying securities to the local agency by book entry, physical delivery, or by third-party custodial agreement. The transfer of underlying securities to the counterparty bank's customer book entry account may be used for book entry delivery. The term "counterparty" for the purposes of this subdivision, means the other party to the transaction. A counterparty bank's trust department or safekeeping department may be used for physical delivery of the underlying security. The term of repurchase agreements shall be for one year or less. The term "securities," for purpose of repurchase under this subdivision, shall mean securities of the same issuer, description, issue date, and maturity.

The term "reverse repurchase agreement" means a sale of securities by the local agency pursuant to an agreement by which the local agency will repurchase such securities on or before a specified date and for a specified amount.

(j) Medium-term notes of a maximum of five years' maturity issued by corporations organized and operating within the United States or by depository institutions licensed by the United States or any state and operating within the United States. Notes eligible for investment under this subdivision shall be rated in a rating category of "A" or its equivalent or better by a nationally recognized rating service. Purchases of medium-term notes may not exceed 30 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(k) Shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies, as defined in Section 23701m of the Revenue and Taxation Code, investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (k), inclusive, of this section and which comply with the investment restrictions of this article and Article 1 (commencing with Section 53600). To be eligible for investment pursuant to this subdivision, these companies shall either: (1) attain the highest ranking or the highest letter and numerical rating provided by not less than two of the three largest nationally recognized rating services, or (2) have an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission with not less than five years' experience investing in the securities and obligations as authorized by subdivisions (a) to (m), inclusive, of this section and with assets under management in excess of five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000). The purchase price of shares of beneficial interest purchased pursuant to this subdivision shall not include any commission that these companies may charge and shall not exceed 15 percent of the agency's surplus money which may be invested pursuant to this section.

(l) Notes, bonds, or other obligations which are at all times secured by a valid first priority security interest in securities of the types listed by Section 53651 as eligible securities for the purpose of securing local agency deposits having a market value at least equal to that required by Section 53652 for the purpose of securing local agency deposits. The securities serving as collateral shall be placed by delivery or book entry into the custody of a trust company or the trust department of a bank which is not affiliated with the issuer of the secured obligation, and the security interest shall be perfected in accordance with the requirements of the Uniform Commercial Code or federal regulations applicable to the types of securities in which the security interest is granted.

SEC. 6. Sections 3.5 and 5.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 53601 and 53635 respectively of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and SB 962. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Sections 53601 and 53635 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 962, in which case Sections 3 and 5 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 888

An act to amend Section 50805 of, and to add Section 50805 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50803.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50803.5. (a) The department shall not approve any application for a grant under this chapter if a representative of the applicant participates or votes on the review, evaluation, or ranking of the applicant's application as part of any review process authorized pursuant to department regulations. The department shall ensure that if an incorporated or unincorporated organization or governmental agency designated by the department to solicit, review, and recommend ranking for applications from a regional area defined by the department uses a subcommittee for the purpose of reviewing, ranking, and recommending applications for funding, no member of the subcommittee shall be an officer, employee, or agent of, or in any other way have an interest in, any organization applying for such funds. "Interest," as used in this subdivision shall include, but not be limited to, financial, organizational, or contractual relationships affecting the emergency shelter activities of the applicant, and shall not include the provision of uncompensated technical assistance or other forms of uncompensated assistance to the organization.

(b) The initial notice provided by the department of funding for grants shall be transmitted not later than 45 days after the Budget Bill or other statute providing that funding is chaptered.

(c) If the department requires an application for a grant to be submitted to an incorporated or unincorporated organization or governmental agency designated by the department to solicit, review, and recommend ranking for applications from a regional area defined by the department, the department shall allow at least six weeks for completion of that review before acting on the application.

(d) In approving grants the department shall ensure a fair geographical distribution of funds to needy areas and consider in making its decision the prior award of grants under this program.

SEC. 2. Section 50805 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50805. (a) Grants awarded pursuant to this chapter may be used, with the approval of the department, to purchase, lease, renovate, repair, or equip buildings and sites for use as emergency shelters, to operate those emergency shelters, and to administer emergency shelter programs.

(b) Any eligible recipient awarded a grant pursuant to this chapter shall be required to use the grant funds to provide emergency shelter to needy persons, to practice nondiscrimination in the provision of the shelter, to use grant funds to supplement, not supplant, other state and local programs providing social services, health care, and housing assistance, and to meet any other qualifications the department finds necessary to carry out the intent of this chapter.

(c) The department shall ensure all of the following:

(1) That an eligible recipient does not utilize grant funds to cover more than 80 percent of the operating expenses of the recipient.

(2) That not more than 5 percent of a grant awarded to an eligible recipient pursuant to this chapter is expended for administrative expenses.

(3) That not more than 50 percent of the moneys in the Emergency Housing and Assistance Fund are expended during any fiscal year for grants to cover operating expenses.

(d) (1) The department shall establish, by regulation, the types of expenses which are included within the meaning of operating and administrative expenses for purposes of this chapter.

(2) At a minimum, those regulations shall include, but not be limited to, the following types of operating and administrative expenses:

(A) Operating expenses relating to supervising and counseling clients in obtaining permanent shelter, job placement, and other sources of support.

(B) Administrative expenses relating to telephone charges, office space rent, salary and benefits for administrative staff personnel, office supplies, photocopying and printing, and mail and accounting services.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This act will facilitate the funding of homeless emergency shelters, and in order to address the critical need for these shelters at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 889

An act to add Section 30507.1 to the Water Code, relating to county water districts.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30507.1 is added to the Water Code, to read:

30507.1. Each director of the Contra Costa Water District shall receive compensation in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per day for each day's attendance at meetings of the board and for each day's service rendered as a director by request of the board, not exceeding a total of 10 days in any calendar month, together with any expenses incurred in the performance of duties required or authorized by the board.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that a special law is necessary and that a general law cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution because of the unique circumstances of the Contra Costa Water District, including, but not limited to, the size of the population served by the district and the number of water facilities managed by the district. The Legislature therefore finds that this special act is necessary.

CHAPTER 890

An act to add Section 1203.1k to the Penal Code, relating to probation.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.1k is added to the Penal Code, to read:

1203.1k. For any order of restitution made under Section 1203.1, the court may order the specific amount of restitution and the manner in which restitution shall be made to a victim based on the probation officer's report or it may, with the consent of the defendant, order the probation officer to set the amount of restitution and the manner in which restitution shall be made to a victim. The defendant shall have the right to a hearing before the judge to dispute the determinations made by the probation officer in regard to the amount or manner in which restitution is to be made to the victim. If the court orders restitution to be made to the Restitution Fund, the court, and not the probation officer, shall determine the amount and the manner in which restitution is to be made to the Restitution Fund.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

An act to amend Sections 18035, 18037.5, 18038.7, 18075.5, 18084.7, 18085, 18085.5, 18100.5, 18102.5, 18105.5, 18109, 19981, 19985, 19990, 19991, and 19995 of, to add Sections 19976.05 and 19991.4 to, and to repeal Section 19968 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to manufactured structures.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18035 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18035. (a) For every sale by a dealer of a new or used manufactured home or mobilehome subject to registration under this part, the dealer shall execute in writing and obtain the buyer's signature on a purchase order, conditional sale contract, or other document evidencing the purchase contemporaneous with, or prior to, the receipt of any cash or cash equivalent from the buyer, shall establish an escrow account with an escrow agent, and shall cause to be deposited into that escrow account any cash or cash equivalent received at any time prior to the close of escrow as a deposit, downpayment, or whole or partial payment for the manufactured home or mobilehome or accessory thereto. The downpayment, or whole or partial payment, shall include an amount designated as a deposit, which may be less than, or equal to, the total amount placed in escrow, and shall be subject to the provisions of subdivision (f). The parties shall provide for escrow instructions which identify the fixed amounts of the deposit, downpayment, and balance due prior to closing consistent with the amounts set forth in the purchase documents and receipt for deposit if one is required by Section 18035.1. The deposits shall be made by the dealer within three working days of receipt, one of which shall be the day of receipt. For purposes of this section, "cash equivalent" means any property, other than cash. If an item of cash equivalent is, due to its size, incapable of physical delivery to the escrow holder, the property may be held by the dealer for the purchaser until close of escrow and, if the property has been registered with the department or the Department of Motor Vehicles, its registration certificate and, if available, its certificate of title shall be delivered to the escrow holder.

(b) For every sale by a dealer of a new manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall provide all of the following:

(1) That the original manufacturer's certificate of origin be placed in escrow.

(2) That, in the alternative, either of the following shall occur:

(A) The lien of any inventory creditor on the manufactured home or mobilehome shall be satisfied by payment from the escrow account.

(B) The inventory creditor shall consent in writing to other than full payment.

For purposes of this paragraph, "inventory creditor" includes any person who is identified as a creditor on the manufacturer's certificate of origin or any person who places the original certificate of origin in escrow and claims in writing to the escrow agent to have a purchase money security interest in the manufactured home or mobilehome, as contemplated by Section 9107 of the Commercial Code.

(3) That the escrow agent shall obtain from the manufacturer a true and correct facsimile of the copy of the certificate of origin retained by the manufacturer pursuant to Section 18093.

(c) For every sale by a dealer of a used manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall provide:

(1) That the current registration card, all copies of the registration cards held by junior lienholders, and the certificate of title be placed in escrow.

(2) That, in the alternative, either of the following shall occur:

(A) (i) The registered owner shall acknowledge in writing the amount of the commission to be received by the dealer for the sale of the manufactured home or mobilehome, and (ii) the registered owner shall release all of its ownership interests in the manufactured home or mobilehome either contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account or at the close of the escrow where the buyer has executed a security agreement approved by the registered owner covering the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

(B) (i) The dealer shall declare in writing that the manufactured home or mobilehome is its inventory, (ii) the registered owner shall acknowledge in writing that the purchase price relating to the sale of the manufactured home or mobilehome to the dealer for resale has been paid in full by the dealer, (iii) the current title shall be appropriately executed by the registered owner to reflect the release of all of its ownership interests, and (iv) the dealer shall release all of its ownership interests in the manufactured home or mobilehome either contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account or at the close of escrow where the buyer has executed a security agreement approved by the dealer covering the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

(3) That, in the alternative, the legal owner and each junior lienholder, respectively, shall either:

(A) Release his or her security interest or transfer its security interest to a designated third party contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account.

(B) Advise the escrow agent in writing that the new buyer or the buyer's stated designee shall be approved as the new registered owner upon the execution by the buyer of a formal assumption of the indebtedness secured by his or her lien approved by the creditor at or before the close of escrow.

(d) For every sale by a dealer of a used manufactured home or mobilehome:

(1) The dealer shall present the buyer's offer to purchase the manufactured home or mobilehome to the seller in written form signed by the buyer. The seller, upon accepting the offer to purchase, shall sign and date the form. Copies of the fully executed form shall be presented to both the buyer and seller, with the original copy retained by the dealer. Any portion of the form which reflects the commission charged by the dealer to the seller need not be disclosed to the buyer.

(2) The escrow agent, upon the opening of the escrow and receipt of notification from the dealer that the seller has accepted the buyer's offer to purchase, shall, within three working days, prepare a notice of escrow opening on the form prescribed by the department and forward the completed form to the department with appropriate fees. If the escrow is canceled for any reason before closing, the escrow agent shall prepare a notice of escrow cancellation on the form prescribed by the department and forward the completed form to the department.

(3) (A) The escrow agent shall forward to the legal owner and each junior lienholder at their addresses shown on the current registration card a written demand for a lien status report, as contemplated by Section 18035.5, and a written demand for either an executed statement of conditional lien release or an executed statement of anticipated formal assumption, and shall enclose blank copies of a statement of conditional lien release and a statement of anticipated formal assumption on forms prescribed by the department. The statement of conditional lien release shall include, among other things, both of the following:

(i) A statement of the dollar amount or other conditions required by the creditor in order to release or transfer its lien.

(ii) The creditor's release or transfer of the lien in the manufactured home or mobilehome contingent upon the satisfaction of those conditions.

(B) The statement of anticipated formal assumption shall include, among other things, both of the following:

(i) A statement of the creditor's belief that the buyer will formally assume the indebtedness secured by its lien pursuant to terms and conditions which are acceptable to the creditor at or before the close of escrow.

(ii) The creditor's approval of the buyer or his or her designee as the registered owner upon the execution of the formal assumption.

(4) Within five days of the receipt of the written demand and documents required by paragraph (3), the legal owner or junior lienholder shall complete and execute either the statement of conditional lien release or, if the creditor has elected to consent to a formal assumption requested by a qualified buyer, the statement of anticipated formal assumption, as appropriate, and prepare the lien status report and forward the documents to the escrow agent by first-class mail. If the creditor is the legal owner, the certificate of ownership in an unexecuted form shall accompany the documents. If the creditor is a junior lienholder, the creditor's copy of the current registration card in an unexecuted form shall accompany the documents.

(5) If either of the following events occur, any statement of conditional lien release or statement of anticipated formal assumption executed by the creditor shall become inoperative, and the escrow agent shall thereupon return the form and the certificate of ownership or the copy of the current registration card, as appropriate, to the creditor by first-class mail:

(A) The conditions required in order for the creditor to release or transfer his or her lien are not satisfied before the end of the escrow period agreed upon in writing between the buyer and the seller or, if applicable, before the end of any extended escrow period as permitted by subdivision (g).

(B) The registered owner advises the creditor not to accept any satisfaction of his or her lien or not to permit any formal assumption of the indebtedness and the creditor or registered owner advises the escrow agent in writing accordingly.

(6) If a creditor willfully fails to comply with the requirements of paragraph (4) within 21 days of the receipt of the written demand and documents required by paragraph (3), the creditor shall forfeit to the escrow agent three hundred dollars ($300), except where the creditor has reasonable cause for noncompliance. The three hundred dollars ($300) shall be credited to the seller, unless otherwise provided in the escrow instructions. Any penalty paid by a creditor under this paragraph shall preclude any civil liability for noncompliance with Section 18035.5 relating to the same act or omission.

(e) The escrow instructions shall specify one of the following:

(1) Upon the buyer receiving delivery of an installed manufactured home or mobilehome on the site and the manufactured home or mobilehome passing inspection pursuant to Section 18613 or after the manufactured home or mobilehome has been delivered to the location specified in the escrow instructions when the installation is to be performed by the buyer, all funds in the escrow account, other than escrow fees and amounts for accessories not yet delivered, shall be disbursed.

(2) Upon the buyer receiving delivery of an installed manufactured home or mobilehome not subject to the provisions of Section 18613 with delivery requirements as mutually agreed to and set forth in the sales documents, all funds in the escrow account, other than escrow fees, shall be disbursed.

(f) In the event any dispute arises between the parties to the escrow and upon notification in writing to the escrow agent, unless otherwise specified in the escrow instructions, all funds denoted as deposit shall be held in escrow until a release is signed by the disputing party, or pursuant to new written escrow instructions signed by the parties involved, or pursuant to a final order for payment or division by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any other funds, other than escrow fees, shall be returned to the buyer or any person, other than the dealer or seller, as appropriate.

(g) Escrow shall be for a period of time mutually agreed upon, in writing, by the buyer and the seller. However, the parties may, by mutual consent, extend the time, in writing, with notice to the escrow agent.

(h) No dealer or seller shall establish with an escrow agent any escrow account in an escrow company in which the dealer or seller has more than a 5-percent ownership interest.

(i) The escrow instructions may provide for the proration of any local property tax due or to become due on the manufactured home or mobilehome, and if the tax, or the license fee imposed pursuant to Section 18115, or the registration fee imposed pursuant to Section 18114, is delinquent, the instructions may provide for the payment of the taxes or fees, or both, and any applicable penalties.

(j) No agreement shall contain any provision by which the buyer waives his or her rights under this section, and any waiver shall be deemed contrary to public policy and shall be void and unenforceable.

(k) If a portion of the amount in the escrow is for accessories, then that portion of the amount shall not be released until the accessories are actually installed.

(l) This section creates a civil cause of action against a buyer or dealer or other seller who violates this section, and upon prevailing, the plaintiff in the action shall be awarded actual damages, plus an amount not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). In addition, attorney's fees and court costs shall also be awarded a plaintiff who prevails in the action.

SEC. 1.5. Section 18035 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 2 of Senate Bill 519, is amended to read:

18035. (a) For every sale by a dealer of a new or used manufactured home or mobilehome subject to registration under this part, the dealer shall execute in writing and obtain the buyer's signature on a purchase order, conditional sale contract, or other document evidencing the purchase contemporaneous with, or prior to, the receipt of any cash or cash equivalent from the buyer, shall establish an escrow account with an escrow agent, and shall cause to be deposited into that escrow account any cash or cash equivalent received at any time prior to the close of escrow as a deposit, downpayment, or whole or partial payment for the manufactured home or mobilehome or accessory thereto. The downpayment, or whole or partial payment, shall include an amount designated as a deposit, which may be less than, or equal to, the total amount placed in escrow, and shall be subject to the provisions of subdivision (f). The parties shall provide for escrow instructions which identify the fixed amounts of the deposit, downpayment, and balance due prior to closing consistent with the amounts set forth in the purchase documents and receipt for deposit if one is required by Section 18035.1. The deposits shall be made by the dealer within three working days of receipt, one of which shall be the day of receipt. For purposes of this section, "cash equivalent" means any property, other than cash. If an item of cash equivalent is, due to its size, incapable of physical delivery to the escrow holder, the property may be held by the dealer for the purchaser until close of escrow and, if the property has been registered with the department or the Department of Motor Vehicles, its registration certificate and, if available, its certificate of title shall be delivered to the escrow holder.

(b) For every sale by a dealer of a new manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall provide all of the following:

(1) That the original manufacturer's certificate of origin be placed in escrow.

(2) That, in the alternative, either of the following shall occur:

(A) The lien of any inventory creditor on the manufactured home or mobilehome shall be satisfied by payment from the escrow account.

(B) The inventory creditor shall consent in writing to other than full payment.

For purposes of this paragraph, "inventory creditor" includes any person who is identified as a creditor on the manufacturer's certificate of origin or any person who places the original certificate of origin in escrow and claims in writing to the escrow agent to have a purchase money security interest in the manufactured home or mobilehome, as contemplated by Section 9107 of the Commercial Code.

(3) That the escrow agent shall obtain from the manufacturer a true and correct facsimile of the copy of the certificate of origin retained by the manufacturer pursuant to Section 18093.

(c) For every sale by a dealer of a used manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall provide:

(1) That the current registration card, all copies of the registration cards held by junior lienholders, and the certificate of title be placed in escrow.

(2) That, in the alternative, either of the following shall occur:

(A) (i) The registered owner shall acknowledge in writing the amount of the commission to be received by the dealer for the sale of the manufactured home or mobilehome, and (ii) the registered owner shall release all of its ownership interests in the manufactured home or mobilehome either contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account or at the close of the escrow where the buyer has executed a security agreement approved by the registered owner covering the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

(B) (i) The dealer shall declare in writing that the manufactured home or mobilehome is its inventory, (ii) the registered owner shall acknowledge in writing that the purchase price relating to the sale of the manufactured home or mobilehome to the dealer for resale has been paid in full by the dealer, (iii) the current title shall be appropriately executed by the registered owner to reflect the release of all of its ownership interests, and (iv) the dealer shall release all of its ownership interests in the manufactured home or mobilehome either contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account or at the close of escrow where the buyer has executed a security agreement approved by the dealer covering the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

(3) That, in the alternative, the legal owner and each junior lienholder, respectively, shall either:

(A) Release his or her security interest or transfer its security interest to a designated third party contemporaneously upon the payment of a specified amount from the escrow account.

(B) Advise the escrow agent in writing that the new buyer or the buyer's stated designee shall be approved as the new registered owner upon the execution by the buyer of a formal assumption of the indebtedness secured by his or her lien approved by the creditor at or before the close of escrow.

(d) For every sale by a dealer of a used manufactured home or mobilehome:

(1) The dealer shall present the buyer's offer to purchase the manufactured home or mobilehome to the seller in written form signed by the buyer. The seller, upon accepting the offer to purchase, shall sign and date the form. Copies of the fully executed form shall be presented to both the buyer and seller, with the original copy retained by the dealer. Any portion of the form which reflects the commission charged by the dealer to the seller need not be disclosed to the buyer.

(2) The escrow agent, upon the opening of the escrow and receipt of notification from the dealer that the seller has accepted the buyer's offer to purchase, shall, within three working days, prepare a notice of escrow opening on the form prescribed by the department and forward the completed form to the department with appropriate fees. If the escrow is canceled for any reason before closing, the escrow agent shall prepare a notice of escrow cancellation on the form prescribed by the department and forward the completed form to the department.

(3) (A) The escrow agent shall forward to the legal owner and each junior lienholder at their addresses shown on the current registration card a written demand for a lien status report, as contemplated by Section 18035.5, and a written demand for either an executed statement of conditional lien release or an executed statement of anticipated formal assumption, and shall enclose blank copies of a statement of conditional lien release and a statement of anticipated formal assumption on forms prescribed by the department. The statement of conditional lien release shall include, among other things, both of the following:

(i) A statement of the dollar amount or other conditions required by the creditor in order to release or transfer its lien.

(ii) The creditor's release or transfer of the lien in the manufactured home or mobilehome contingent upon the satisfaction of those conditions.

(B) The statement of anticipated formal assumption shall include, among other things, both of the following:

(i) A statement of the creditor's belief that the buyer will formally assume the indebtedness secured by its lien pursuant to terms and conditions which are acceptable to the creditor at or before the close of escrow.

(ii) The creditor's approval of the buyer or his or her designee as the registered owner upon the execution of the formal assumption.

(4) Within five days of the receipt of the written demand and documents required by paragraph (3), the legal owner or junior lienholder shall complete and execute either the statement of conditional lien release or, if the creditor has elected to consent to a formal assumption requested by a qualified buyer, the statement of anticipated formal assumption, as appropriate, and prepare the lien status report and forward the documents to the escrow agent by first-class mail. If the creditor is the legal owner, the certificate of ownership in an unexecuted form shall accompany the documents. If the creditor is a junior lienholder, the creditor's copy of the current registration card in an unexecuted form shall accompany the documents.

(5) If either of the following events occur, any statement of conditional lien release or statement of anticipated formal assumption executed by the creditor shall become inoperative, and the escrow agent shall thereupon return the form and the certificate of ownership or the copy of the current registration card, as appropriate, to the creditor by first-class mail:

(A) The conditions required in order for the creditor to release or transfer his or her lien are not satisfied before the end of the escrow period agreed upon in writing between the buyer and the seller or, if applicable, before the end of any extended escrow period as permitted by subdivision (g).

(B) The registered owner advises the creditor not to accept any satisfaction of his or her lien or not to permit any formal assumption of the indebtedness and the creditor or registered owner advises the escrow agent in writing accordingly.

(6) If a creditor willfully fails to comply with the requirements of paragraph (4) within 21 days of the receipt of the written demand and documents required by paragraph (3), the creditor shall forfeit to the escrow agent three hundred dollars ($300), except where the creditor has reasonable cause for noncompliance. The three hundred dollars ($300) shall be credited to the seller, unless otherwise provided in the escrow instructions. Any penalty paid by a creditor under this paragraph shall preclude any civil liability for noncompliance with Section 18035.5 relating to the same act or omission.

(e) For every sale by a dealer of a new or used manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall specify one of the following:

(1) Upon the buyer receiving delivery of an installed manufactured home or mobilehome on the site and the manufactured home or mobilehome passing inspection pursuant to Section 18613 or after the manufactured home or mobilehome has been delivered to the location specified in the escrow instructions when the installation is to be performed by the buyer, all funds in the escrow account, other than escrow fees and amounts for accessories not yet delivered, shall be disbursed.

(2) Upon the buyer receiving delivery of an installed manufactured home or mobilehome not subject to the provisions of Section 18613 with delivery requirements as mutually agreed to and set forth in the sales documents, all funds in the escrow account, other than escrow fees, shall be disbursed.

(f) In the event any dispute arises between the parties to the escrow and upon notification in writing to the escrow agent, unless otherwise specified in the escrow instructions, all funds denoted as deposit shall be held in escrow until a release is signed by the disputing party, or pursuant to new written escrow instructions signed by the parties involved, or pursuant to a final order for payment or division by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any other funds, other than escrow fees, shall be returned to the buyer or any person, other than the dealer or seller, as appropriate.

(g) Escrow shall be for a period of time mutually agreed upon, in writing, by the buyer and the seller. However, the parties may, by mutual consent, extend the time, in writing, with notice to the escrow agent.

(h) No dealer or seller shall establish with an escrow agent any escrow account in an escrow company in which the dealer or seller has more than a 5-percent ownership interest.

(i) The escrow instructions may provide for the proration of any local property tax due or to become due on the manufactured home or mobilehome, and if the tax, or the license fee imposed pursuant to Section 18115, or the registration fee imposed pursuant to Section 18114, is delinquent, the instructions may provide for the payment of the taxes or fees, or both, and any applicable penalties.

(j) For every sale by a dealer of a new or used manufactured home or mobilehome, the escrow instructions shall provide that the payment of any fee, charge, dedication, or other form of requirement levied by a school district pursuant to Section 53080 of the Government Code be made to the appropriate school district upon the close of escrow, except where the school district has certified compliance with that fee, charge, dedication, or other form of requirement.

(k) No agreement shall contain any provision by which the buyer waives his or her rights under this section, and any waiver shall be deemed contrary to public policy and shall be void and unenforceable.

(l) If a portion of the amount in the escrow is for accessories, then that portion of the amount shall not be released until the accessories are actually installed.

(m) This section creates a civil cause of action against a buyer or dealer or other seller who violates this section, and upon prevailing, the plaintiff in the action shall be awarded actual damages, plus an amount not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). In addition, attorney's fees and court costs shall also be awarded a plaintiff who prevails in the action.

SEC. 2. Section 18037.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18037.5. (a) In the event of default under the provisions of any security agreement relating to a loan or conditional sale contract which, according to its terms, gives the secured party the right to foreclose its security interest in a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home subject to registration under this part which is not inventory of a dealer, including the right to repossess the property, notwithstanding any contrary provisions in the security agreement or conditional sale contract or in any other agreement entered into prior to default, the secured party may foreclose its security interest only by satisfying the requirements of this section.

(1) Unless the registered owner of the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home has abandoned the property or has voluntarily surrendered possession of the property to the foreclosing creditor, the foreclosing creditor shall deposit or cause to be deposited in the United States mail an envelope addressed to each registered owner as shown on the current registration of the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home, registered or certified with postage prepaid, containing a notice in substantially the following form and in at least plus any amount necessary to reimburse the creditor for its reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses and any other sums to which the creditor may have become entitled after the date of this notice under the terms of your agreement.

(2) Within five days following the mailing of the notice of default required by paragraph (1), the foreclosing creditor shall forward a copy thereof to the legal owner shown on the current registration card, if different than the foreclosing creditor, and to each junior lienholder shown on the current registration card, if different than the foreclosing creditor, and, effective July 1, 1985, to the department. The notice shall be forwarded to each party in the same manner as provided for mailing the original notice to the registered owner.

(3) In the event of default under the provisions of any security agreement relating to a loan or conditional sale contract which, according to its terms, gives the secured party the right to foreclose its security interest in a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home, each registered owner and each junior lienholder having a security interest which is subordinate to the security interest of the foreclosing creditor shall have the right to cure the default by the methods and in the manner prescribed in the notice within 45 days after mailing of the notice to the registered owner required by paragraph (1).

(4) If the default is not cured within the time indicated on the notice required by paragraph (1), or if the property has been abandoned by the registered owner or voluntarily surrendered by the registered owner to the foreclosing creditor, the creditor may proceed to sell the property at private or public sale pursuant to the provisions of Section 9504 of the Commercial Code, except as provided in paragraph (5) and subdivision (c). The notice of sale required by Section 9504 of the Commercial Code shall not be mailed or delivered before expiration of the period for the right to cure the default, as stated in the notice required by paragraph (1), unless the property has been abandoned by the registered owner or voluntarily surrendered by the registered owner to the foreclosing creditor.

(5) Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of Section 9504 of the Commercial Code, the foreclosing creditor shall deposit or cause to be deposited in the United States mail, registered or certified with postage prepaid, an envelope containing the notice of sale addressed to each party to whom the notice of default was mailed pursuant to paragraph (2). The notice of sale shall be given at least 10 days before the date fixed for a public sale or on or after which any private sale is to be made.

(6) For purposes of this subdivision, a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home shall be deemed abandoned if the foreclosing creditor gives written notice of its belief of abandonment to the registered owner as provided in this paragraph and the registered owner fails to give the foreclosing creditor written notice, prior to the appropriate date specified in the foreclosing creditor's notice, stating that the registered owner has not abandoned and does not intend to abandon the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home and stating an address at which the registered owner may be served by certified mail with a summons in connection with any legal action which the foreclosing creditor may appropriately initiate. The foreclosing creditor may give a notice of belief of abandonment only where it reasonably believes that the registered owner has abandoned the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home. The notice of belief of abandonment shall be personally delivered to the registered owner or sent by registered or certified mail, with postage prepaid, to the registered owner at his or her last known address and, if there is reason to believe that the notice sent to that address will not be received by the registered owner, to any other address, if any, known to the foreclosing creditor where the registered owner may reasonably be expected to receive the notice. The notice of belief of abandonment shall be in substantially the following form in at least 10-point type:

NOTICE OF BELIEF OF ABANDONMENT

unless the default is promptly cured. Unless the foreclosing creditor receives a written notice from you to the contrary by

_____ ,

(insert a date not less than 15 days after this notice is served personally or, if mailed, not less than 18 days after this notice is deposited in the mail) your manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home will be deemed abandoned, which means that the foreclosing creditor may sell your manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home sooner than would otherwise be permitted by law. The written notice you must send to the foreclosing creditor shall be sent to (address of foreclosing creditor) and shall state both of the following:

1. Your intent not to abandon the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home.

2. An address at which you may be served by certified mail with a summons in connection with any legal action which the foreclosing creditor may appropriately initiate.

(name of foreclosing creditor)

(signature of foreclosing creditor)

(b) In the event of default under the provisions of any security agreement relating to a loan or a conditional sale contract in which the collateral is a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home subject to registration under this part which is inventory of a dealer or a commercial coach, the secured party may repossess and dispose of the collateral in accordance with the provisions of the security agreement or conditional sale contract and applicable law, including the provisions of Division 9 (commencing with Section 9101) of the Commercial Code. Upon repossession of a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home subject to registration under this part which is inventory of a dealer or a commercial coach subject to registration under this part, the secured creditor shall prepare and forward to the department a notice of repossession on the form prescribed by the department.

(c) The proceeds of the sale of a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home shall be applied, in the following order, to:

(1) The reasonable and necessary expenses incurred for preparing for and conducting the sale and, if the foreclosing creditor has obtained possession of the collateral prior to the disposition, the reasonable and necessary expenses for the retaking and holding of the collateral and to the extent provided for in the agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the foreclosing creditor in retaking the property from any person not a party to the credit contract.

(2) The satisfaction of the indebtedness secured by the security interest of the foreclosing creditor under which the disposition is made.

(3) The satisfaction of indebtedness secured by any subordinate liens or encumbrances on the property in the order of their priority as provided in Section 18105, if with respect to a junior creditor written notification of demand therefor is received before distribution of the proceeds is completed, and to the satisfaction of any subordinate attachment lien or execution lien pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 701.040 of the Code of Civil Procedure if notice of the levy of attachment or execution is received before distribution of the proceeds is completed. If requested by the foreclosing creditor, the holder of a subordinate lien or encumbrance shall furnish reasonable proof of his or her interest, and unless it does so, the foreclosing creditor need not comply with its demand.

(4) The satisfaction of indebtedness secured by all senior liens or encumbrances in the order of their priority as provided in Section 18105, if with respect to a senior creditor written demand therefor is received by the foreclosing creditor before distribution of the proceeds is completed. If requested by the foreclosing creditor, the holder of a senior lien or encumbrance shall furnish reasonable proof of his or her interest, and unless he or she does so, the foreclosing creditor need not comply with his or her demand.

(5) To the registered owner within 45 days after the sale is conducted if a surplus remains.

(d) Unless automatically provided to the registered owner within 45 days after the sale of a manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home if a request for an accounting is made within one year of the sale, the foreclosing creditor shall provide to the registered owner a written accounting containing the gross sales proceeds and its allocation pursuant to subdivision (c). In the event any surplus is paid to the registered owner pursuant to paragraph (5) of subdivision (c), the foreclosing creditor shall furnish such an accounting whether or not requested by the registered owner.

SEC. 3. Section 18038.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18038.7. No deficiency judgment shall lie in any event, after the sale of any manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home subject to registration pursuant to this part, for failure of the purchaser to complete his or her sale contract given to the seller to secure payment of the balance of the purchase price of the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home. This section shall not apply in the event there is substantial damage to the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home other than wear and tear from normal usage.

SEC. 4. Section 18075.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18075.5. Manufactured homes, mobilehomes, commercial coaches, truck campers, and floating homes sold or used within this state shall be subject to annual registration with the department and payment of registration fees prescribed by Section 18114 except as follows:

(a) Manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and floating homes subject to local property taxation pursuant to Part 13 (commencing with Section 5800) of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and not installed on foundation systems pursuant to Section 18551, shall be subject to registration and payment of fees and penalties prescribed by Section 18114 at the time of original registration with the department, and upon subsequent sale, resale, or transfer of title. For purposes of this section, a transfer of title includes, but is not limited to, any change, addition, or deletion of one or more registered owners, legal owners, or junior lienholders.

(b) Manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and commercial coaches installed or to be installed on foundation systems pursuant to Section 18551 shall be exempt from registration so long as they remain affixed to the foundation system. In the event that the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach, is removed from a foundation system for any purpose other than dismantling or reinstallation on a foundation system, it shall be immediately subject to registration with the department.

(c) A nonresident owner of a foreign manufactured home or mobilehome otherwise subject to registration under this code may, subject to exceptions and special provisions contained in this chapter, occupy or permit occupancy of the manufactured home or mobilehome within this state without registering the manufactured home or mobilehome in, or paying any fees to, this state, subject to the condition that the manufactured home or mobilehome at all times, when occupied in this state, is duly registered in the place of residence of the owner and displays on the manufactured home or mobilehome a valid registration issued for that manufactured home or mobilehome in the place of residence of the owner.

For the purposes of the exceptions and special provisions of this part, a registration issued by any foreign jurisdiction shall be deemed to be valid for not more than one year from the date of initial use in this state.

(d) Any nonresident owner of a foreign manufactured home or mobilehome who is a member of the armed forces of the United States on active duty within this state shall be entitled to the exemption granted under subdivision (c) under the conditions set forth therein. Any member of the armed forces, whether a resident or nonresident, shall also be entitled to exemption from registration with respect to a manufactured home or mobilehome owned by the person upon which there is displayed a valid registration issued for the manufactured home or mobilehome in a foreign jurisdiction where the owner was regularly assigned and stationed for duty by competent military orders at the time the registration was issued. Competent military orders shall not include military orders for leave, for temporary duty, nor for any other assignment of any nature requiring the owner's presence outside the foreign jurisdiction where the owner was regularly assigned and stationed for duty.

(e) Any nonresident owner of a manufactured home or mobilehome of a type subject to registration in this state who, while temporarily living within this state, accepts gainful employment within this state shall be entitled to the exemption granted under subdivision (c), but only until the expiration of the valid home state registration on the manufactured home or mobilehome which was in effect at the time the nonresident accepted gainful employment within this state.

(f) Any nonresident owner of a manufactured home or mobilehome of a type subject to registration under this part who becomes a legal resident of this state shall be entitled to the exemption granted under subdivision (c), but only until the expiration of the valid home state registration on the manufactured home or mobilehome which was in effect at the time the owner became a resident of this state.

(g) Any person who enters California for the purpose of establishing or reestablishing residence or accepting gainful employment following his or her discharge from the armed forces of this country may occupy a manufactured home or mobilehome owned by that person at the time of his or her discharge and registered to him or her in a foreign jurisdiction where his or her military orders required his or her presence without registering the manufactured home or mobilehome in this state until the expiration of the registration period current at the time of his or her discharge and entrance into California.

(h) Any new and previously unregistered, unoccupied manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach which is part of an inventory held for sale by a manufacturer or dealer in the course of business.

The department may adopt regulations for exempting additional classes of manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and commercial coaches from registration under a temporary or one-trip permit system which permits the lawful transportation and use of manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and commercial coaches not otherwise subject to registration.

(i) Floating homes, which are subject to local property taxation, as prescribed by Section 229 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, shall be subject to registration at the time of sale and upon any subsequent sale, resale, or transfer of title. Floating homes are subject to the fees prescribed by subdivision (b) of Section 18114 upon registration or reregistration.

SEC. 5. Section 18084.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18084.7. Manufactured homes, mobilehomes, and commercial coaches shall not be subject to registration or titling under this part or to Part 13 (commencing with Section 5800) of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code prior to the original registration of the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach. Upon original registration and issuance of title, whether in the name of a consumer, a dealership, or some other party, the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach thereafter is subject to all registration and titling requirements of this part and to the provisions of Part 13 (commencing with Section 5800) of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 6. Section 18085 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18085. (a) Application for the original registration of a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home required to be registered under this part shall be made to the department upon the appropriate forms approved by the department, and shall be accompanied by the filing fee prescribed by the department. If the application is for the original registration of a manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach, or of a truck camper manufactured on or after January 1, 1986, the application shall include the original manufacturer's certificate of origin in the form prescribed by Sections 18093 and 18093.5. If the original certificate of origin is not in existence, a duplicate thereof shall be obtained from the manufacturer and submitted with the application for original registration. Any duplicate copy shall be conspicuously marked by the manufacturer as a duplicate copy.

(b) The application shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) The true name and mailing address of the registered owner, the legal owner, if any, and junior lienholders, if any.

(2) The name of the county in which the registered owner resides.

(3) The situs address of the manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach, or the residence address of a truck camper owner, or floating home owner to include the county of residence.

(4) A description of the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, including all of the following:

(A) The manufacturer's name and identification number.

(B) The date of manufacture.

(C) The serial number or numbers.

(D) The federal label number or numbers affixed pursuant to the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 5401 et seq.) or department insignia number or numbers affixed pursuant to Section 18026.

(E) The date first sold or leased to a purchaser or lessee for purposes other than resale.

(F) Any other information as may be reasonably required by the department to enable it to determine whether the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home is lawfully entitled to registration.

(c) If the application is for a floating home, other evidence of ownership may be accepted at the sole discretion of the department in lieu of the manufacturer's certificate of origin.

SEC. 7. Section 18085.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18085.5. The department shall not accept an application for the original registration of a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home unless the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home at the time of application is within the state or unless the provisions of this part have been complied with.

SEC. 8. Section 18100.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18100.5. (a) If the title or interest of a registered owner, legal owner, junior lienholder in a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, or truck camper, or floating home for which an original registration under this part has been obtained is transferred to another person, or, if all outstanding secured obligations previously held by a legal owner registered on the original or a subsequent registration or by a junior lienholder are satisfied and the person no longer has any obligation to extend credit, incur obligations, or otherwise give value to be secured by the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, or, if a security interest is taken in a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home after the permanent title record has been established, the department shall be notified within 20 days and shall act as follows:

(1) If the title or interest of a registered owner or legal owner is being transferred, the transferor and the transferee of the title or interest shall execute in the manner prescribed by the department the certificate of title for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home. If the transfer is made by a registered owner and the transferee is to assume the underlying indebtedness secured by the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home and owed to a legal owner, the legal owner shall state on the certificate of title that legal title and interest are to be retained. The certificate of title along with all other supporting documents shall be fowarded to the department with appropriate fees. The department shall appropriately amend the permanent title record of the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, forward a new certificate of title reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the legal owner by first-class mail, and forward an amended registration card reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the registered owner with copies to all secured parties shown on the permanent title record. If there is no legal owner, the new certificate of title and amended registration card shall be forwarded to the registered owner.

(2) If the interest of a junior lienholder is being transferred, the transferor and the transferee shall execute in a manner prescribed by the department the registration card, and the card so executed shall be forwarded to the department with appropriate fees. The department shall appropriately amend the permanent title record and forward an amended registration card reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the registered owner with copies to all secured parties shown on the permanent title record.

(3) If a creditor acquires a security interest in a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home after the permanent title record has been established, the department shall amend the permanent title record to reflect the interest as that of a legal owner or as that of a junior lienholder, as appropriate. If the permanent title record already reflects the interest of one or more junior lienholders, the creditor then perfecting its interest pursuant to this section shall be designated as the most junior lienholder.

(4) If a legal owner no longer holds an outstanding obligation or a commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value to be secured by the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, or truck camper, or floating home, the legal owner shall indicate its release of lien by appropriately signing the certificate of title for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home and forward the certificate of title to the department with appropriate fees. The department shall appropriately amend the permanent title record for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, deliver a new certificate of title reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the new legal owner, if any, by first-class mail, and forward an amended registration card reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the registered owner with copies to all secured parties shown on the registration card. For purposes of this paragraph, the following person shall be designated as the new legal owner:

(A) The junior lienholder, if any.

(B) If there is more than one junior lienholder, the junior lienholder whose statement of lien was designated as the most senior junior lienholder on the permanent title record shall be the legal owner.

(5) If a junior lienholder no longer holds an outstanding obligation or a commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value to be secured by the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, the junior lienholder shall forward the properly executed and released junior lienholder registration card to the department with appropriate fees. The department shall appropriately amend the permanent title record for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home and forward an amended registration card reflecting the change to the permanent title record to the registered owner with copies to all secured parties shown on the permanent title record.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (d) of this section and subdivisions (c) and (e) of Section 18080.7, for the 120-day period beginning upon the receipt by the department of the notice of escrow and appropriate fee provided by paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 18035, or until the escrow is canceled or until the escrow closes and the resulting transfers of ownership interests and transfers or creation of legal owner and junior lienholder interests are acknowledged by the department as amendments to the permanent title record of the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home, whichever is earlier, the department, except at its sole discretion, shall impose a moratorium on all of the following:

(A) On any other amendments to the permanent title record of the manufactured home, mobilehome, truck camper, or floating home for the purpose of transferring any ownership interest or transferring or creating any security interest in the manufactured home or mobilehome.

(B) On issuing any duplicate, substitute, or new certificate of title, registration card, or copy of a registration card regarding the manufactured home, mobilehome, or floating home.

(C) On subsequent notices of escrow openings.

(2) The department shall, upon receipt of the notice of escrow and the appropriate fee, forward to the escrow agent an acknowledgment of receipt and a true and correct copy of the permanent title record as of the commencement of the period of moratorium.

(c) If a secured party fails to comply with the provisions of subdivision (a) relating to releases of lien and the secured party thereafter receives a written demand from the registered owner that the secured party release its lien, the secured party shall be liable to the registered owner for all actual damages suffered by the registered owner by reason of the failure to release the lien unless the secured party, within 20 days of receipt of the demand, complies with the requirements of subdivision (a), except where the secured party has reasonable cause for noncompliance.

(d) Whenever the title or interest of the registered owner or legal owner in or to a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home registered under this part passes to another in a manner other than by voluntary transfer, the new registered owner or legal owner may obtain a transfer of registration upon application therefor and upon presentation of the last certificate of title, if available, and current registration card, if available, issued for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home and any instruments or documents of authority or certified copies thereof as may be required by the department, or required by law, to evidence or effect the transfer of title or interest in that case. The department, when satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of the transfer, shall amend the permanent title record of the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home, issue a new current registration card and certificate of title, and forward copies of the current registration card to all junior lienholders.

(e) The department shall not transfer registration until the applicant complies with the requirements of Section 18092.7.

SEC. 9. Section 18102.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18102.5. If application is made to the department for a transfer of registration of a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home to a new registered or legal owner and if the applicant is unable to present the certificate of title or registration card issued for the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home because it is lost or otherwise not available, the department may receive the application and investigate the circumstances of the case and may require the filing of certifications or other information. When the department is satisfied that the applicant is entitled to a transfer of registration, the department may transfer the registration of the manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home and issue a new certificate of title and registration card to the person or persons found to be entitled thereto.

SEC. 10. Section 18105.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18105.5. A legal owner or junior lienholder may assign title or interest to a manufactured home, mobilehome, commercial coach, truck camper, or floating home subject to registration under this part without the consent, and without affecting the interest of the registered owner or other lienholders.

SEC. 11. Section 18109 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18109. Except as otherwise provided in this part, every registration card for a manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach subject to annual registration shall expire at midnight on the expiration date indicated on the registration card and shall be renewed prior to that expiration. The department, upon presentation by the registered owner of the registration card or potential registration card last issued and receipt of the proper renewal fees, shall renew the registration of a manufactured home, mobilehome, or commercial coach.

SEC. 12. Section 19968 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 13. Section 19976.05 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

19976.05. "Quality assurance agency" means a private organization meeting the requirements specified in regulations of the department to perform in-plant inspections of the construction of factory-built housing.

SEC. 14. Section 19981 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19981. (a) All factory-built housing bearing an insignia of approval pursuant to Section 19980 shall be deemed to comply with the requirements of all ordinances or regulations enacted by any city, city and county, county, or district which may be applicable to the construction of housing.

(b) No factory-built housing bearing a department insignia of approval pursuant to Section 19980 shall be in any way modified prior to installation unless approval is first obtained from the department.

(c) No factory-built housing shall be in any way modified during installation unless approval for such modification is first obtained from the local enforcement agency.

SEC. 15. Section 19985 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19985. If the department determines that standards for the construction of factory-built housing, which have been prescribed by the statutes or rules and regulations of other states, are at least equal to the standards of the State Building Standards Code and the other requirements prescribed by the department, the department may so provide by regulation. Any factory-built housing which a state has approved as meeting its standards for construction shall be deemed to meet the requirements of the department, if the department determines that the standards of that other state are actually being enforced.

SEC. 16. Section 19990 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19990. (a) Except as provided in Section 18930, the department shall adopt rules and regulations to interpret and make specific this part. The department shall adopt and submit building standards for approval pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 18935) of Part 2.5 of this division for the purposes described in this section. Standards adopted, amended, or repealed from time to time by the department pursuant to this chapter shall include provisions imposing requirements reasonably consistent with recognized and accepted standards contained in the most recent editions of the following uniform industry codes as adopted or amended from time to time by the organizations specified:

(1) The Uniform Housing Code of the International Conference of Building Officials.

(2) The Uniform Building Code of the International Conference of Building Officials.

(3) The Uniform Plumbing Code of the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials.

(4) The Uniform Mechanical Code of the International Conference of Building Officials and the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials.

(5) The National Electrical Code of the National Fire Protection Association.

(b) The department shall require every city and county to file with the department all wind pressure and snow load requirements in effect within their respective jurisdictions if these requirements differ from building standards published in the State Building Standards Code, on or before January 1 of each year. The department shall notify every manufacturer of factory-built housing of these requirements on or before March 1 of each year.

(c) Except as provided in Section 18930, the department shall adopt other rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out this part. In promulgating these other rules and regulations the department shall consider any amendments to the uniform codes referred to in this section. In the event of any conflict with respect to factory-built housing between Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 17910) and this part, the requirements of this part shall control.

SEC. 17. Section 19991 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19991. The department shall enforce every provision of this part, the building standards published in the State Building Standards Code relating to factory-built housing, and the other regulations adopted pursuant to this part, except as provided in Sections 19991.1, 19991.3, 19991.4, and 19992.

SEC. 18. Section 19991.4 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

19991.4. The department may provide by regulation for the qualification and disqualification of quality assurance agencies to perform inspections of factory-built housing manufacturers. Quality assurance agencies shall act on behalf and subject to the supervision of the department and shall exercise the powers of the department with respect to these inspections, as provided by regulations of the department. These regulations shall specifically provide for the absence of any conflict of interest between manufacturers and quality assurance agencies and for department oversight of the performance quality assurance agencies.

SEC. 19. Section 19995 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

19995. Except as provided in Section 18945, the department shall hear appeals brought by any person regarding the application to such person of any building standard published in the State Building Standards Code relating to factory-built housing or to any other rule or regulation of the department promulgated pursuant to this part. Any such appeals shall first be submitted to the local enforcement agency, if any, delegated by the department to enforce the provisions of this part. The department shall not hear any appeal regarding any local ordinance, rule, or regulation related to the installation of factory-built housing.

SEC. 20. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 21. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 18035 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and SB 519. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 18035 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 519, in which case Section 18035 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by SB 519, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Section 1.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 892

An act to add Section 12598 to the Government Code, relating to charitable trusts.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature to require that the fiscal burden of supervising charities within the State of California be shared by the charitable organizations and individuals whose conduct makes necessary charitable trust enforcement actions by the Attorney General. The Attorney General's powers and authority with respect to regulation of religious corporations is governed by Section 9230 of the Government Code and nothing in this act is intended to alter or supersede that section.

It is the purpose of this act to allow the Attorney General to recover, by court order, all of the actual costs incurred by his or her office in conducting any charitable trust enforcement action that results in pecuniary benefits for charity. These recoverable costs shall include costs of audits performed by the Attorney General in preparing the charitable trust enforcement action.

It is the purpose of this act to require a court, at the time of entering judgment or approving settlement in a pending charitable trust enforcement case, to award recovery of costs to the Attorney General which shall be paid by the charitable organization and the individuals that are named as defendants in the action, pursuant to direction of the court.

SEC. 2. Section 12598 is added to the Government Code, to read:

12598. (a) The primary responsibility for supervising charitable trusts in California, for insuring compliance with trusts and articles of incorporation, and for protection of assets held by charitable trusts and public benefit corporations, resides in the Attorney General. The Attorney General has broad powers under common law and California statutory law to carry out these charitable trust enforcement responsibilities. These powers include, but are not limited to, charitable trust enforcement actions under all of the following:

(1) This article.

(2) Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 2215) and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 2250) of Title 8 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code.

(3) Division 2 (commencing with Section 5000) of Title 1 of the Corporations Code.

(4) Sections 328, 1080, 15004, 15409, 15680 to 15685, 16060 to 16062, 16064, and 17200 to 17210, inclusive, of the Probate Code.

(5) Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 17200) of Part 2 of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code, and Sections 17500 and 17535 of the Business and Professions Code.

(6) Sections 319, 326.5, and 532d of the Penal Code.

(b) The Attorney General shall be entitled to recover from defendants named in a charitable trust enforcement action all actual costs incurred in conducting that action, including the costs of auditors, consultants, and experts employed or retained to assist with the investigation, preparation, and presentation in court of the charitable trust enforcement action.

(c) Costs shall be recovered by the Attorney General pursuant to court order. At the time of entering judgment or approving settlement of a charitable trust enforcement action, as defined in subdivision (a), the court shall make findings on whether the Attorney General's action has resulted in pecuniary benefits or corrected a breach of trust for any charitable organization, or charitable purpose. If the court finds in the affirmative, the court shall award recovery of costs in the charitable trust enforcement action to the Attorney General and shall order that costs be paid by the charitable organization and the individuals named as defendants in or otherwise subject to the action, in a manner that the court finds to be equitable and fair. The court shall not award costs pursuant to this subdivision which exceed one-third of the pecuniary benefit to any charitable organization or charitable purpose realized by the Attorney General's action.

(d) All moneys received by the Department of Justice pursuant to this section shall be deposited into the General Fund and shall be used to offset the costs of future charitable trust enforcement actions by the Attorney General.

(e) Upon a finding by the court that a lawsuit filed by the Attorney General was frivolous or brought in bad faith, the court may award the defendant charity the costs of that action.

CHAPTER 893

An act to add Sections 40445.5 and 40715 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to the South Coast Air Quality Management District.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 40445.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

40445.5. (a) The south coast district board shall conduct hearings on the adoption and implementation of intermittent transportation controls which shall be applicable, upon order of the south coast district board, during periods in the months of June to October, inclusive, when an air pollution emergency, as defined in the Air Pollution Emergency Plan of the state board, has been called pursuant to the authority of the south coast district under Section 40444 to implement that plan.

(b) The south coast district board shall conduct the hearings pursuant to subdivision (a) to define and designate the necessary transportation controls in cooperation with representatives of industry, transportation, and local governments in the south coast district.

(c) The south coast district board shall incorporate its findings and determinations into the south coast district air quality management plan.

SEC. 2. Section 40715 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

40715. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (d), every district board which has adopted an emergency episode plan for ozone or oxidant may conduct hearings on the adoption and implementation of intermittent transportation controls which shall be applicable, upon order of the district board, during periods in the months of June to October, inclusive, when an air pollution emergency, as defined in the Air Pollution Emergency Plan of the state board, has been called.

(b) The district board, in cooperation with representatives of industry, transportation, and local governments in the district, shall conduct the hearings pursuant to subdivision (a) to define and designate the necessary transportation controls. The district board shall prepare and submit to the Legislature within one year a report on the findings from the hearings.

(c) The district board shall incorporate its findings and determinations into the district air quality management plan.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivisions (a) to (c), inclusive, in that portion of the bay district which is subject to the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, the commission, at the request of the bay district, shall undertake those duties and responsibilities set forth in subdivisions (a) to (c), inclusive, that relate to the conduct of hearings and the adoption and implementation of intermittent transportation controls and that relate to making recommended findings and determinations for the bay district for incorporation into the bay district's air quality management plan.

SEC. 3. The South Coast Air Quality Management District Board shall prepare and submit to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1989, a report on its findings from the hearings held pursuant to Section 40445.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act or because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act.

CHAPTER 894

An act to amend Section 1043 of the Probate Code, and to amend Section 16810 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to decedents.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1043 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1043. An executor or administrator to whom letters are issued on the estate of a nonresident decedent by a court of competent jurisdiction of any state or territory of the United States desiring to collect any claim or receive any personal property in this state of such decedent and remove that collected or received to the jurisdiction in which his or her letters are issued, shall publish in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the debtor resides or the property is located, if there be one, if not, then in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, notice to all persons interested in said estate as creditors or as heirs, legatees or devisees. The notice shall set forth the names and addresses of the decedent and the person in this state indebted to or holding personal property of the decedent, shall state that the executor or administrator desires to collect a claim or receive personal property and remove that collected or received, and shall require all persons having claims against the decedent or an interest in his or her estate and wishing to object to such removal to give written notice thereof to the person indebted to or holding personal property of the decedent within three months after the first publication of the notice. Publication shall be pursuant to Section 6064 of the Government Code.

Upon the expiration of three months after the first publication of said notice, if the person so indebted to or holding personal property of the decedent either has not received written notice from any person claiming as a creditor, heir, devisee or legatee and objecting to such removal, or has received the consent of such person, then he or she may pay such debt or deliver such personal property to the executor or administrator, upon receipt of the following:

(1) An affidavit of the executor or administrator that valid letters were issued to him or her by a court of competent jurisdiction of a named state or territory of the United States on the estate of a nonresident decedent and averring to the best of his or her knowledge and belief that no other letters on said estate are then outstanding, that no petition for such letters is then pending in this state, that no ancillary proceedings will be brought, and that there are no unpaid creditors of the decedent or the estate in this state who have not consented to such removal;

(2) An authenticated copy of his or her letters;

(3) An affidavit showing publication of the notice required under this section and be discharged from further liability and responsibility for the debt or property, without the necessity of inquiring into the truth of any of the facts stated in the foregoing documents.

"Person" as used herein includes a partnership, association, firm or corporation.

If the person indebted to or holding personal property of the decedent maintains branch offices, the publication shall be in the county where it is located, and the notices and consents by claimants shall be given to, the office or branch at which the account evidencing the indebtedness or credit is carried, or at which the personal property is located or controlled.

SEC. 2. Section 16810 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

16810. The tax imposed by this part is a lien in the manner prescribed in Section 13610 upon the property transferred from the time the generation skipping transfer is made and until the expiration of 10 years from and after the time a deficiency determination is issued pursuant to the provisions of this part or until the tax is paid, whichever is earlier.

CHAPTER 895

An act to amend Section 25351.1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous substances, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25351.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25351.1. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, there is hereby transferred annually from the state account to the Hazardous Substance Clearing Account, and appropriated therefrom, an amount of not more than five million dollars ($5,000,000) which is required to pay the principal of, and interest on, bonds sold pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 25385) to the extent that the funds in the Hazardous Substance Clearing Account and the Superfund Bond Trust Fund are insufficient to pay the principal of, and interest on, these bonds.

CHAPTER 896

An act to amend Sections 52335, 52335.2, 52335.4, and 52335.5 of, and to add Sections 52335.25, 52335.6, 52335.7, and 52335.8 to, the Education Code, relating to education, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 52335 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52335. Commencing with the 1988–89 fiscal year, funds for regional occupational centers and programs shall be apportioned in accordance with this article.

For purposes of this article, "ROC/P" means regional occupational center or program.

SEC. 2. Section 52335.2 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52335.2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall calculate a revenue limit for each ROC/P in the following manner:

(a) Calculate a base revenue limit per unit of average attendance for the current fiscal year as follows:

(1) Divide the revenue limit for the prior year computed pursuant to this section by the annual units of average daily attendance funded in the prior year pursuant to subdivisions (c) and (d).

(2) Increase the amount computed in paragraph (1) by the percentage inflation adjustment specified in the Budget Act for the current fiscal year multiplied by the statewide average ROC/P revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year.

(b) Calculate a revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance for program growth by increasing the revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance for program growth computed pursuant to this subdivision for the prior fiscal year by the percentage inflation adjustment specified in the Budget Act for the current fiscal year.

(c) Multiply the amount computed pursuant to subdivision (a) by the lesser of the ROC/P's annual units of average daily attendance for the current fiscal year or the ROC/P's annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year.

(d) Subtract the ROC/P's annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year from the ROC/P's annual units of average daily attendance for the current fiscal year and multiply the difference by the amount computed pursuant to subdivision (b). If the product computed pursuant to this subdivision is negative, it shall be deemed to be zero.

(e) Except as provided in Section 52335.3, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall apportion to the ROC/P the sum of the amounts computed pursuant to subdivisions (c) and (d).

(f) The average daily attendance used for purposes of this section shall not include the average daily attendance in schools receiving funding pursuant to Section 52324.6.

SEC. 3. Section 52335.25 is added to the Education Code, to read:

52335.25. For the 1988–89 fiscal year only, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall calculate "annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year" for the purposes of Section 52335.2 for each ROC/P, as follows:

(a) (1) Calculate the actual funded average daily attendance in 1986–87.

(2) Calculate the sum of the base and allowed average daily attendance in 1986–87.

(3) Calculate the allowed growth average daily attendance for the 1987–88 fiscal year only.

(4) Calculate the actual funded average daily attendance in 1987–88.

(b) If the amount calculated for a ROC/P pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) is less than or equal to the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), subtract the amount in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) from the amount in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), multiply that result by the factor 0.5, and add that product to the amount in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a).

(c) If the amount calculated for a ROC/P pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) is greater than the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), subtract the amount in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) from the amount in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), multiply that result by the factor 0.5, and add that product to the amount in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a).

(d) Add to the amounts computed in subdivisions (b) and (c), as appropriate for each ROC/P, the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (a).

(e) For each ROC/P for which subdivision (b) is applicable, the "annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year" shall be the lesser of paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) or subdivision (d).

(f) For each ROC/P for which subdivision (c) is applicable, the "annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year" shall be subdivision (d).

(g) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall calculate the number of units of average daily attendance funded in 1987–88 which are in excess of the statewide total number of "annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year" pursuant to subdivisions (e) and (f). These excess units of funded average daily attendance shall be allocated on a pro rata basis to ROC/Ps for which the amount in paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) exceeds the amount in subdivision (d), based on each ROC/P's number of funded units of average daily attendance in exess of subdivision (d) in relation to the total number of funded units of average daily attendance in excess of subdivision (d).

These allocations shall increase a ROC/P's "annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior fiscal year" as calculated pursuant to subdivision (e) or (f).

SEC. 4. Section 52335.4 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52335.4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall determine each ROC/P's share of funded growth average daily attendance by computing the sum of subdivisions (a), (b), and (c):

(a) Subtract the ROC/P's annual units of funded average daily attendance for the prior year from the ROC/P's annual units of funded average daily attendance for the second prior year. If the amount computed pursuant to this subdivision is negative, it shall be deemed to be zero.

(b) Allocate 25 percent of the allowable growth average daily attendance funded in the Budget Act to low participation ROC/P's, pursuant to criteria established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(c) (1) Subtract the statewide sum of the growth average daily attendance computed pursuant to subdivisions (a), and (b) from the allowable growth in average daily attendance funded in the Budget Act. If the amount computed is negative, it shall be deemed to be zero.

In calculating the pro rata share of funded growth average daily attendance, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall ensure that each ROC/P is provided at least 10 units of allowed growth average daily attendance pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c).

SEC. 5. Section 52335.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52335.5. In the event that the funds appropriated for purposes of this article are insufficient to fully fund the apportionments herein authorized, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reduce the amounts computed pursuant to Section 52335.2 for each ROC/P based on equal amounts per unit of average daily attendance, consistent with the following priorities:

(a) First priority shall be given to fully funding average daily attendance that is less than or equal to the average daily attendance funded in the prior fiscal year.

(b) Second priority shall be given to fully funding each ROC/P's share of funded growth average daily attendance determined pursuant to Section 52335.4.

(c) Third priority shall be given to funding current year annual average daily attendance that exceeds the sum of the average daily attendance specified in subdivisions (a) and (b).

SEC. 6. Section 52335.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

52335.6. For purposes of allocating allowable growth average daily attendance to low participation ROC/Ps, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall:

(a) Calculate for each ROC/P the prior year average daily attendance in grades 9 to 12, inclusive, for the school districts served by the ROC/P.

(b) Divide the funded average daily attendance of the ROC/P for the prior year by the amount calculated in subdivision (a).

(c) Divide the statewide funded ROC/P average daily attendance for the prior year by the prior year statewide average daily attendance in grades 9 to 12, inclusive.

(d) For each ROC/P where the amount calculated in subdivision (b) is less than the amount calculated in subdivision (c), calculate the ROC/P's pro rata share of allowable growth daily attendance for low participation ROC/Ps, based on the average daily attendance needed by the ROC/P to be at the percentage of participation calculated in subdivision (c) in relation to the total of average daily attendance needed by low participation ROC/Ps for each ROC/P to be at the percentage of participation calculated in subdivision (c).

SEC. 7. Section 52335.7 is added to the Education Code, to read:

52335.7. (a) For any fiscal year in which the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that the allowable growth in average daily attendance funded in the Budget Act represents less than 2-percent growth in relation to the funded average daily attendance of ROC/Ps in the prior year, the superintendent shall not allocate funds for ROC/P growth pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 52335.4, but shall allocate growth funds exclusively in accordance with subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 52335.4.

(b) Effective July 1, 1991, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not allocate funds for ROC/P growth pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 52335.4, unless funds for such purpose are specifically appropriated in the Budget Act.

SEC. 8. Section 52335.8 is added to the Education Code, to read:

52335.8. (a) On or before April 15, 1988, the State Department of Education shall report to the Legislative Analyst and the Department of Finance the projected revenue limits and average daily attendance entitlements for each ROC/P for the 1988–89 fiscal year.

(b) On or before December 1, 1990, the State Department of Education shall report to the Legislative Analyst and the Department of Finance the changes in revenue limits and average daily attendance entitlements for ROC/Ps from the 1987–88 fiscal year to the 1990–91 fiscal year and shall make findings and recommendations concerning the effectiveness of the provisions of the act adding this section relative to achieving equity in allocating funds and average daily attendance.

SEC. 9. Sections 1 to 7, inclusive, of this act shall become operative July 1, 1988.

SEC. 10. The sum of six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the California State Council on Vocational Education in augmentation of Item 6320-001-001 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1987, (Chapter 135, Statutes of 1987) for the replacement of office automation equipment.

CHAPTER 897

An act to amend Section 53158 of the Government Code, and to amend Section 1203.1 of the Penal Code, relating to emergency response.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 53158 of the Government Code is amended to read:

53158. It is not the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this article, to occupy the field of recovery of the expense of an emergency response by a public agency, nor is it the intent of the Legislature to preempt local regulations or to otherwise limit the remedies available to any public agency to recover the expenses of an emergency response to any incident not involving persons who operate a motor vehicle, a boat or vessel, or a civil aircraft while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug. It is the intent of the Legislature that the recovery of the expenses of an emergency response under this chapter shall supplement and shall not supplant any other provisions of law relating to the recovery of those expenses.

SEC. 2. Section 1203.1 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 1503 of the Statutes of 1985, is amended to read:

1203.1. The court or judge thereof, in the order granting probation, may suspend the imposing, or the execution, of the sentence and may direct that the suspension may continue for a period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of the sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon those terms and conditions as it shall determine. The court, or judge thereof, in the order granting probation and as a condition thereof may imprison the defendant in the county jail for a period not exceeding the maximum time fixed by law in the case; however, where the maximum possible term of the sentence is five years or less, then the period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years; may fine the defendant in a sum not to exceed the maximum fine provided by law in the case; or may in connection with granting probation, impose either imprisonment in county jail, or fine, or both, or neither; shall provide for restitution in proper cases; and may require bonds for the faithful observance and performance of any or all of the conditions of probation.

The court shall consider whether the defendant as a condition of probation shall make restitution to the victim or the Restitution Fund. Any restitution payment received by a probation department in the form of cash or money order shall be forwarded to the victim within 30 days from the date the payment is received by the department. Any restitution payment received by a probation department in the form of a check or draft shall be forwarded to the victim within 45 days from the date the payment is received by the department, provided, that payment need not be forwarded to a victim until 180 days from the date the first such payment is received, if the restitution payments for that victim received by the probation department total less than fifty dollars ($50). In cases where the court has ordered the defendant to pay restitution to multiple victims and where the administrative cost of disbursing restitution payments to multiple victims involves a significant cost, any restitution payment received by a probation department shall be forwarded to multiple victims when it is cost effective to do so, but in no event shall restitution disbursements be delayed beyond 180 days from the date the payment is received by the probation department. In counties or cities and counties where road camps, farms, or other public work is available the court may place the probationer in such a road camp, farm, or other public work instead of in jail; Section 25359 of the Government Code shall apply to probation and the court shall have the same power to require adult probationers to work, as prisoners confined in the county jail are required to work, at public work. Each county board of supervisors may fix the scale of compensation of the adult probationers in that county. In all cases of probation the court may require as a condition of probation that the probationer go to work and earn money for the support of his or her dependents or to pay any fine imposed or reparation condition, to keep an account of his or her earnings, to report them to the probation officer and apply those earnings as directed by the court.

The court shall also consider whether the defendant as a condition of probation shall make restitution to a public agency for the costs of an emergency response pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 53150) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Government Code.

In all such cases if as a condition of probation a judge of the superior court sitting by authority of law elsewhere than at the county seat requires a convicted person to serve his or her sentence at intermittent periods the sentence may be served on the order of the judge at the city jail nearest to the place at which the court is sitting, and the cost of his or her maintenance shall be a county charge.

Upon conviction of any offense involving child abuse or neglect, the court may require, in addition to any or all of the above-mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine, and other reasonable conditions, that the defendant shall participate in counseling or education programs, or both, including, but not limited to, parent education or parenting programs operated by community colleges, school districts, other public agencies, or private agencies.

The court may impose and require any or all of the above-mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine, and conditions, and other reasonable conditions, as it may determine are fitting and proper to the end that justice may be done, that amends may be made to society for the breach of the law, for any injury done to any person resulting from that breach, and generally and specifically for the reformation and rehabilitation of the probationer, and that should the probationer violate any of the terms or conditions imposed by the court in the matter, it shall have authority to modify and change any and all such terms and conditions and to reimprison the probationer in the county jail within the limitations of the penalty of the public offense involved. Upon the defendant being released from the county jail under the terms of probation as originally granted or any modification subsequently made, and in all cases where confinement in a county jail has not been a condition of the grant of probation, the court shall place the defendant or probationer in and under the charge of the probation officer of the court, for the period or term fixed for probation. However, upon the payment of any fine imposed and the fulfillment of all conditions of probation, probation shall cease at the end of the term of probation, or sooner, in the event of modification. In counties and cities and counties in which there are facilities for taking fingerprints, those of each probationer shall be taken and a record of them kept and preserved.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, except as provided in Sections 13967 and 13967.5 of the Government Code and Sections 1202.4, 1203.04, 1463.16, paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 1463.18, and Section 1464, all fines collected by a county probation officer in any of the courts of this state, as a condition of the granting of probation or as a part of the terms of probation, shall be paid into the county treasury and placed in the general fund for the use and benefit of the county.

If the court orders restitution to be made to the victim, the board of supervisors may add a fee to cover the actual administrative cost of collecting restitution but not to exceed 10 percent of the total amount ordered to be paid. The fees shall be paid into the general fund of the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute which is chaptered before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 1203.1 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 5 of Chapter 980 of the Statutes of 1984, is amended to read:

1203.1. The court or judge thereof, in the order granting probation, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of the sentence and may direct that the suspension may continue for a period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of the sentence, except as hereinafter set forth, and upon those terms and conditions as it shall determine. The court, or judge thereof, in the order granting probation and as a condition thereof may imprison the defendant in the county jail for a period not exceeding the maximum time fixed by law in the case; however, where the maximum possible term of the sentence is five years or less, then the period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years; may fine the defendant in a sum not to exceed the maximum fine provided by law in the case; or may in connection with granting probation, impose either imprisonment in county jail, or fine, or both, or neither; shall provide for restitution in proper cases; and may require bonds for the faithful observance and performance of any or all of the conditions of probation.

The court shall consider whether the defendant as a condition of probation shall make restitution to the victim or the Restitution Fund. In counties or cities and counties where road camps, farms, or other public work is available, the court may place the probationer in such a road camp, farm, or other public work instead of in jail. Section 25359 of the Government Code shall apply to probation and the court shall have the same power to require adult probationers to work, as prisoners confined in the county jail are required to work, at public work. Each county board of supervisors may provide public work and fix the scale of compensation of the adult probationers in that county. In all cases of probation the court is authorized to require as a condition of probation that the probationer go to work and earn money for the support of his or her dependents or to pay any fine imposed or reparation condition, to keep an account of his or her earnings, to report them to the probation officer and apply those earnings as directed by the court.

The court shall also consider whether the defendant as a condition of probation shall make restitution to a public agency for the costs of an emergency response pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 53150) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Government Code.

In all such cases if as a condition of probation a judge of the superior court sitting by authority of law elsewhere than at the county seat requires a convicted person to serve his or her sentence at intermittent periods the sentence may be served on the order of the judge at the city jail nearest to the place at which the court is sitting, and the cost of his or her maintenance shall be a county charge.

Upon conviction of any offense involving child abuse or neglect, the court may require, in addition to any or all of the above-mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine, and other reasonable conditions, that the defendant shall participate in counseling or education programs, or both, including, but not limited to, parent education or parenting programs operated by community colleges, school districts, other public agencies, or private agencies.

The court may impose and require any or all of the above-mentioned terms of imprisonment, fine, and conditions, and other reasonable conditions, as it may determine are fitting and proper to the end that justice may be done, that amends may be made to society for the breach of the law, for any injury done to any person resulting from that breach and generally and specifically for the reformation and rehabilitation of the probationer, and that should the probationer violate any of the terms or conditions imposed by the court in the matter, it shall have authority to modify and change any and all such terms and conditions and to reimprison the probationer in the county jail within the limitations of the penalty of the public offense involved. Upon the defendant being released from the county jail under the terms of probation as originally granted or any modification subsequently made, and in all cases where confinement in a county jail has not been a condition of the grant of probation, the court shall place the defendant or probationer in and under the charge of the probation officer of the court, for the period or term fixed for probation. However, upon the payment of any fine imposed and the fulfillment of all conditions of probation, probation shall cease at the end of the term of probation, or sooner, in the event of modification. In counties and cities and counties in which there are facilities for taking fingerprints, those of each probationer shall be taken and a record of them kept and preserved.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, except as provided in Sections 13967 and 13967.5 of the Government Code and Sections 1202.4, 1203.04, 1463.16, paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 1463.18, and Section 1464, all fines collected by a county probation officer in any of the courts of this state, as a condition of the granting of probation or as a part of the terms of probation, shall be paid into the county treasury and placed in the general fund for the use and benefit of the county.

If the court orders restitution to be made to the victim, the board of supervisors may add a fee to cover the actual administrative cost of collecting restitution but not to exceed 2 percent of the total amount ordered to be paid. The fees shall be paid into the general fund of the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1989.

CHAPTER 898

An act to amend Sections 139 and 3209.5 of the Labor Code, relating to labor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 139 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

139. The administrative director shall appoint a Medical and Chiropractic Advisory Committee composed of 10 members, seven of whom shall be physicians and surgeons who hold an M.D. degree and are certificated to practice medicine in this state, and two of whom shall be physicians and surgeons who hold a D.O. degree and are certificated to practice osteopathic medicine in this state. One member of the Medical and Chiropractic Advisory Committee shall be a chiropractor licensed to practice chiropractic in this state. The seven physician and surgeon, M.D., and two physician and surgeon, D.O., members of the advisory committee shall represent medical specialties concerned with the treatment of industrial injury and disease. The physician and surgeon, M.D., members shall be appointed after consultation with statewide and local associations of the medical profession. The physician and surgeon, D.O., members shall be appointed after consultation with the statewide association of the osteopathic medical profession. The physician and surgeon members shall be appointed for two-year staggered terms. The chiropractic member shall be appointed after consultation with statewide and local associations of the chiropractic profession for a term of two years. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired terms. Members shall receive actual necessary traveling expenses and a per diem of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day spent in meetings of the Medical and Chiropractic Advisory Committee. The Medical and Chiropractic Advisory Committee members shall counsel and assist the medical director and shall perform other duties as the administrative director may direct.

The members of the Medical and Chiropractic Advisory Committee shall, within the scope of each member's professional training, do all the following:

(a) Maintain liaison with the medical and chiropractic professions.

(b) Assist in recruiting doctors for the medical bureau.

(c) Advise the medical director as to selection and removal of independent medical or chiropractic examiners.

(d) Assist, within the scope of each member's professional training, in developing guidelines for determination of disputed questions of clinical fact.

(e) Suggest standards for improving care furnished injured employees.

(f) Undertake continuing studies of developments in the field of rehabilitation, and continuously inform treating physicians and surgeons and chiropractors of these developments.

(g) Advise the division regarding reasonable levels of fees for physicians and surgeons and chiropractors performing services under this code.

The administrative director shall appoint for renewable terms of two years, independent expert medical examiners in each of the respective specialties as may be required. The administrative director shall appoint for renewable terms of two years, independent expert chiropractic examiners.

Assignment of cases to independent examiners shall be made at the request of the administrative director, the secretary of the appeals board, or a workers' compensation judge by the medical director or his or her assistant in each office where a unit of the medical bureau is maintained or by the workers' compensation judge in charge in other offices of the division. Insofar as possible, a rotation method of assignment of independent medical or expert chiropractic examiners shall be followed.

The examiners shall conduct examinations and report their findings and opinions in accordance with guidelines developed for that purpose by the medical director of the division.

Payment for the examination shall be made by the Division of Industrial Accidents from funds appropriated for that purpose or for the support of the division's medical bureau, or in accordance with Section 5703.5.

SEC. 2. Section 3209.5 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

3209.5. Medical, surgical, and hospital treatment, including nursing, medicines, medical and surgical supplies, crutches, and apparatus, includes but is not limited to services and supplies by physical therapists and chiropractic practitioners as licensed by California state law and within the scope of their practice as defined by law.

CHAPTER 899

An act to amend Section 88091 of the Education Code, relating to classified employees.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 88091 of the Education Code is amended to read:

88091. (a) All vacancies in the classified service shall be filled pursuant to this article and the rules of the commission, from applicants on eligibility lists which, wherever practicable, as determined by the commission, shall be made up from promotional examinations, or appointments may be made by means of transfer, demotion, reinstatement, and reemployment in accordance with the rules of the commission. All applicants for promotional examinations shall have the required amount of service in classes designated by the commission or meet the minimum qualifications of education, training, experience, and length of service, which shall be determined by the commission to be appropriate for the class for which they have applied. Any promotional applicant who has served the required amount of time in a designated class or who meets the minimum qualifications for admission to a promotional examination shall be admitted to the examination. Applicants shall be placed on the eligibility lists in the order of their relative merit as determined by competitive examinations. The final scores of candidates shall be rounded to the nearest whole percent for all eligibles. All eligibles with the same percentage score will be considered as having the same rank. Appointments shall be made from the eligibles having the first three ranks on the list who are ready and willing to accept the position.

(b) Upon the request of a majority of the members of the governing board of a community college district, the commission may exempt two executive secretarial positions from the requirements of this section. Exemptions authorized under this subdivision shall be limited to one executive secretary position reporting directly to members of the governing board, and one executive secretary position reporting directly to the chancellor.

Any person employed in an exempt executive secretarial position shall continue to be afforded all of the rights, benefits, and burdens of any other classified employee serving in the regular service of the district, except he or she shall not attain permanent status in an executive secretarial position. Positions of executive secretary shall be filled from an unranked list of eligible employees who have been found to be qualified for the positions as specified by the district superintendent and determined by the personnel commission. Any person whose services in an executive secretarial position are discontinued for a cause other than a cause for disciplinary action specified in this code or in a rule of the commission shall have the right to return to a position in a classification he or she previously occupied or, if that classification no longer exists, in a similar classification, as determined by the commission. This subdivision shall apply only to the employees hired on or after January 1, 1988.

Nothing contained in this section shall authorize the selection of eligible candidates in circumvention of the affirmative action programs of any community college district.

CHAPTER 900

An act to amend Sections 22010, 22206, 22210, 24010, 24206, 24210, 26010, 26206, and 26210 of the Financial Code, relating to financial institutions.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22010 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22010. "Personal property broker" and "broker" do not include employees regularly employed at the particular location specified in the license of the personal property broker or broker except that an employee, when acting within the scope of his or her employment, shall be exempt from any other law from which his or her employer is exempt.

SEC. 2. Section 22206 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22206. Upon the filing of an application pursuant to Section 22201 or 22201.1 and the payment of the fees, the commissioner shall investigate the applicant, and its general partners and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests if the applicant is a partnership, and its officers, directors, and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding equity securities if the applicant is a corporation, trust, or association (including an unincorporated organization). If the commissioner determines that the applicant has satisfied this division and does not find facts constituting reasons for denial as specified in Section 22210, the commissioner shall issue and deliver a license to the applicant to engage in business in accordance with this division.

SEC. 3. Section 22210 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22210. (a) Upon reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, the commissioner may deny the application for any of the following reasons:

(1) A false statement of a material fact has been made in the application.

(2) Any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has, within the last 10 years, (i) been convicted of or pleaded nolo contendere to a crime, or (ii) committed any act involving dishonesty, fraud, or deceit, which crime or act is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a person engaged in business in accordance with this division.

(3) The applicant or any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has violated any provision of this division or the rules thereunder or any similar regulatory scheme of a foreign jurisdiction.

(b) The application shall be considered withdrawn within the meaning of this section if the applicant fails to respond to a written notification of a deficiency in the application within 90 days of the date of the notification.

(c) The commissioner shall within 60 days from the filing of a full and complete application for a license with the fees, either issue a license or file a statement of issues prepared in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 4. Section 24010 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

24010. "Consumer finance lender" and "broker" do not include employees regularly employed at the particular location specified in the license of the consumer finance lender or broker except that an employee, when acting within the scope of his or her employment, shall be exempt from any other law from which his or her employer is exempt.

SEC. 5. Section 24206 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

24206. Upon the filing of an application pursuant to Section 24201 or 24201.1 and the payment of the fees, the commissioner shall investigate the applicant, and its general partners and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests if the applicant is a partnership, and its officers, directors, and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding equity securities if the applicant is a corporation, trust, or association (including an unincorporated organization). If the commissioner determines that the applicant has satisfied this division and does not find facts constituting reasons for denial as specified in Section 24210, the commissioner shall issue and deliver a license to the applicant to engage in business in accordance with this division.

SEC. 6. Section 24210 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

24210. (a) Upon reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, the commissioner may deny the application for any of the following reasons:

(1) A false statement of a material fact has been made in the application.

(2) Any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has, within the last 10 years, (i) been convicted of or pleaded nolo contendere to a crime, or (ii) committed any act involving dishonesty, fraud, or deceit, which crime or act is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a person engaged in business in accordance with this division.

(3) The applicant or any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has violated any provision of this division or the rules thereunder or any similar regulatory scheme of a foreign jurisdiction.

(b) The application shall be considered withdrawn within the meaning of this section if the applicant fails to respond to a written notification of a deficiency in the application within 90 days of the date of the notification.

(c) The commissioner shall within 60 days from the filing of a full and complete application for a license with the fees, either issue a license or file a statement of issues prepared in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 7. Section 26010 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

26010. "Commercial finance lender" does not include employees regularly employed at the particular location specified in the license of the commercial finance lender except that an employee, when acting within the scope of his or her employment, shall be exempt from any other law from which his or her employer is exempt.

SEC. 8. Section 26206 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

26206. Upon the filing of an application pursuant to Section 26201 or 26201.1 and the payment of the fees, the commissioner shall investigate the applicant, and its general partners and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests if the applicant is a partnership, and its officers, directors, and persons owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding equity securities if the applicant is a corporation, trust, or association (including an unincorporated organization). If the commissioner determines that the applicant has satisfied this division and does not find facts constituting reasons for denial as specified in Section 26210, the commissioner shall issue and deliver a license to the applicant to engage in business in accordance with this division.

SEC. 9. Section 26210 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

26210. (a) Upon reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, the commissioner may deny the application for any of the following reasons:

(1) A false statement of a material fact has been made in the application.

(2) Any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has, within the last 10 years, (i) been convicted of or pleaded nolo contendere to a crime, or (ii) committed any act involving dishonesty, fraud, or deceit, which crime or act is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of a person engaged in business in accordance with this division.

(3) The applicant or any officer, director, general partner, or person owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the outstanding interests or equity securities of the applicant has violated any provision of this division or the rules thereunder or any similar regulatory scheme of a foreign jurisdiction.

(b) The application shall be considered withdrawn within the meaning of this section if the applicant fails to respond to a written notification of a deficiency in the application within 90 days of the date of the notification.

(c) The commissioner shall within 60 days from the filing of a full and complete application for a license with the fees, either issue a license or file a statement of issues prepared in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 901

An act to amend Sections 1770, 1770.5, 1771, 1773.5, 1773.7, 1773.8, 1773.9, 1774, 1775.5, 1779, 1780.5, 1780.6, and 1784 of, to repeal Section 1773.6 of, and to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 1793) to Chapter 10 of Division 2 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to health, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1770 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1770. (a) Any provider who promises to provide care for life or for more than one year in return for a transfer of consideration from, or on behalf of, a person 60 years of age or older shall first receive written licenses pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) or Chapter 3.3 (commencing with Section 1569), and shall also obtain a certificate of authority from the State Department of Social Services.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any arrangement for the care of a person by a relative, or any arrangement for the care of a person or persons from only one family by a friend, shall not require a certificate of authority.

(c) Any transaction, or series of transactions, in which care is promised to an elderly person in return for an entrance fee, prepayment, or other transfer of consideration which covers more than one year of services to, or residence for, that person shall be regarded as a life care contract under this chapter.

(d) Any arrangement for which a permit to sell deposit subscriptions or a certificate of authority has been obtained shall not be deemed a security for any purpose.

(e) If a provider subcontracts or assigns to another person or entity the responsibility to provide life care, that other person or entity shall have a certificate of authority, except that the provider may contract for the provision of a particular aspect of life care, such as medical care, with another person or entity that does not possess a certificate of authority if that other person or entity is appropriately licensed under laws of this state to provide that care, and that care is not paid for more than one year in advance.

SEC. 2. Section 1770.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1770.5. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that abrupt and involuntary transfer of frail, elderly residents from one home to another can and does have tragic consequences. Numerous studies have shown that such forced movement often results in the death of the transferee and almost always causes depression or regressive behavior. Called "transfer trauma," the cause of this reaction has been variously ascribed to the loss of a familiar physical environment, loss of well-known neighbors, attendants, nurses and medical personnel, the stress of an abrupt break in the small routines of daily life, and the major loss of visits from friends and relatives who may be unable to reach the new facility. Involuntary transfer may occur when a provider of services under a life care contract has been found to be insolvent or substantially out of compliance with state operating standards.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this chapter to provide a procedure whereby the State Department of Social Services, after consultation with the Committee on Life Care Contracts of the State Social Services Advisory Board, may petition the superior court for an order appointing a qualified administrator to work with the management of, and, in specified circumstances, to operate a facility of, a provider which has been found to be out of compliance with the rules and regulations for the performance of life care contracts and thereby prevent crisis situations wherein elderly residents are left without means for their support or moved without proper preparation.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that the administrator may only assume the operation of such a provider in order to either bring it into compliance with law and return it to the original certificate holder in accordance with standards set forth in this chapter, or facilitate an orderly liquidation of the provider. It is the intent of the Legislature that the administrator shall assure the orderly transfer of residents should the provider ultimately fail.

(d) The Legislature further finds and declares that safeguards are necessary to protect elderly persons from selling or mortgaging their homes or transferring substantial amounts of cash or other consideration, in anticipation of the construction, licensure and operation of facilities promising to offer life care, when there is a material reason to believe that the facilities in development will not achieve the requisite enrollment, financing, licensure or other attributes necessary to commence and sustain operations on a sound financial basis. Methods and procedures to implement these safeguards shall be established by the department. These safeguards shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) Reasonable assurance that accommodations and services promised to elderly persons who have entered into life care contracts will be provided.

(2) Reserves, as provided in Sections 1775 and 1775.5, in order to preserve and provide collateral for consideration received from elderly persons who have entered into life care contracts or deposit subscription agreements so that contracted services may be provided and refunds paid as specified by this chapter and by contract provisions.

(3) Disclosure of basic information about providers, including current financial condition, affiliation with other persons or entities, and status of compliance with requirements of this chapter.

(4) Requirement that life care contracts include basic protective provisions as set forth in regulations promulgated by the department.

(5) Encouragement of self-regulation by providers, and consultation with the advisory board about proposed regulations.

SEC. 3. Section 1771 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1771. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this section govern the construction of this chapter.

(a) "Advisory board" or "board" means the Committee on Life Care Contracts of the State Social Services Advisory Board.

(b) "Applicant for life care" means any person, prospective resident or transferor who transfers money or other consideration to a provider prior to the execution of a life care contract, based on the provider's representation that the transfer will reserve a living unit in, or assure care from, a facility, or as a prerequisite to the execution of a life care contract.

(c) "Care" means nursing services, medical services, health services, health related services, or assistance with the personal activities of daily living, or any combination of those services.

(d) "Certificate" or "certificate of authority" means an authorization in writing, in the form designated by the state department, for a provider to enter into one or more life care contracts at a single specified facility.

(e) "Contracts" or "agreements" means life care contracts.

(f) "Department" or "state department" means the State Department of Social Services.

(g) "Deposit subscription" means the installment payment of the entrance fee made by an applicant for life care to a provider during development or construction of a facility, pursuant to an approved permit to sell deposit subscriptions.

(h) "Director" means the Director of Social Services.

(i) "Elderly person" means a person 60 years of age or older.

(j) "Entrance fee" means an initial or deferred transfer to a provider of a sum of money or property, made or promised to be made by a person entering into a life care contract, for the purpose of assuring care or related services pursuant to a life care contract or as full or partial payment for the promise to provide a facility.

(k) "Escrow agent" means any of the following entities approved by the director as capable of ensuring the safety of the funds and properties entrusted to it and capable and willing to perform the terms of such escrow pursuant to the escrow agreement and the provisions of this chapter:

(1) A bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) A building and loan association which is a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

(l) "Facility" means any place or accommodation in which a provider undertakes to provide a resident with care or related services pursuant to a life care contract, whether or not the place or accommodation is constructed, owned, leased, rented or otherwise contracted for by the provider. For the purposes of meeting the enrollment criteria of this chapter, a distinct phase of development may be considered to be the facility when a project is being developed in successive multiple phases over a period of time.

(m) "Life care contract" means a contract which includes a promise by a provider to provide care to a resident for the duration of his or her life or for a term in excess of one year, which is conditioned upon the transfer of consideration. The transfer may include a payment of an entrance fee to the provider or the payment of periodic charges for the care and services involved, or both types of payments. Life care contracts include continuing care agreements.

(n) "Living unit" means an apartment, room, or other area within a facility set aside for the exclusive use of one or more identified residents.

(o) "Monthly care fee" means the monthly charge to a resident for services rendered pursuant to a life care contract, exclusive of entrance fees or other prepayments, including care, board, or lodging, and any other periodic charges to the resident, determined on a monthly or other recurring basis, pursuant to the provisions of a life care contract.

(p) "Nonmedical unit" means a living unit of a facility which is neither subject to licensure as a health facility nor designated for ongoing personal care, as defined in Section 1569.2.

(q) "Permit to sell deposit subscriptions" means an authorization in writing, in the form designated by the state department, for a provider to enter into one or more deposit subscription agreements at a single specified facility.

(r) "Prepaid life care contract" means a life care contract under which the advance payment, including any entrance fee, is more than nine times the annual amount of the monthly care fee or 108 times the monthly care fee. Life care contracts which provide for changes in the monthly care fee to cover the actual cost of care are excluded from this definition.

(s) "Processing fee" means an advance payment by the transferor to cover administrative costs of processing the application of a prospective resident.

(t) "Promise to provide care" means any representation that care will be provided or will be available, whether the representation is part of a life care contract or other written agreement, or is made orally, or is contained in any advertisement, brochure or other printed material.

(u) "Proposes" means a representation that a provider plans to make a future promise to provide care, which may be subject to the happening of certain events, such as facility construction or obtaining a certificate of authority.

(v) "Provider" means a person, association, joint venture or organization of any kind, including a homeowner's association, cooperative, or a condominium association, whether in single or multiple entities, which promises to provide, or proposes to promise to provide care for life or for more than one year.

(w) "Resident" means an elderly person who enters into a life care contract with a provider, or who is designated in a life care contract, to be a person being provided or to be provided with services, including care, board, or lodging.

(x) "Transferor" means a person who transfers or promises to transfer a sum of money or property to a provider for the purpose of assuring care or related services pursuant to a life care contract, whether for the benefit of the transferor or another.

SEC. 4. Section 1773.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1773.5. (a) No deposit subscription shall be received from an applicant for life care by a provider who proposes to promise to provide care, unless the provider has first received a permit to sell deposit subscriptions from the department. Until the department has authorized the release of funds from escrow, in accordance with Section 1773.9, all deposit subscriptions, excluding reasonable processing fees to cover costs, shall be placed in an escrow account, the terms of which must be approved in advance by the department.

(b) No life care contract shall be executed, unless the provider has first received a certificate of authority or a provisional certificate of authority from the department. Until the department has authorized the release of funds from escrow, in accordance with Section 1773.9, all entrance fees, excluding reasonable processing fees to cover costs, shall be placed in an escrow account, the terms of which shall be approved in advance by the department.

(c) No moneys or other consideration placed in escrow shall be encumbered or used as collateral for any obligation of the provider or any other person, unless the encumbrance or use as collateral is subordinate to the rights of transferors for refunds under this chapter or pursuant to their deposit subscription agreement or life care contract.

SEC. 5. Section 1773.6 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 1773.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1773.7. (a) If deposit subscriptions placed in escrow pursuant to Section 1773.5 can be used, in whole or in part, to finance facility construction, construction of the facility may not commence until at least 20 percent of each applicable entrance fee has been received for at least 60 percent of the number of nonmedical units projected, in documents submitted to, and approved by, the department, to be occupied six months after the facility has opened for operation.

(b) If deposit subscriptions are placed in escrow pursuant to Section 1773.5 prior to completion of construction of the facility, and are not to be used, in whole or in part, to finance facility construction, construction of the facility may not commence until at least 10 percent of each applicable entrance fee has been received for every nonmedical unit projected, in documents submitted to, and approved by, the department, to be occupied six months after the facility has opened, or the percentage of entrance fees specified in subdivision (a) has been received.

(c) If existing buildings are to be converted to a life care use, no deposit or payment for life care contracts shall be received by a provider unless the provider has agreed to keep deposit subscriptions or entrance fees in escrow until the provisions of Section 1773.9 have been met.

SEC. 7. Section 1773.8 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1773.8. (a) Before obtaining a permit to sell deposit subscriptions or a certificate of authority, each provider shall submit to the department a financial and marketing plan, including occupancy projections, covering the project development period and a period of at least five years after the opening of the facility for occupancy. If at any time prior to issuance of a certificate of authority, the provider's average performance over any six-month period does not substantially equal or exceed the provider's projections for that period, the department, in consultation with the advisory board, may cancel the permit to sell deposit subscriptions, may increase the percentages of completion of construction or the numbers or percentages of deposits on entrance fees required under Sections 1773.7, 1773.9, 1780.5, and 1780.6, or may increase the reserve requirements under this chapter for that provider. In the event consideration has been released from escrow, the department may further require the provider to reopen the escrow as a condition of receiving any further payments from applicants for life care.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subdivision (a), a provider, before obtaining a permit to sell deposit subscriptions, shall also submit documentation evidencing a preliminary approval for licensure from the State Department of Social Services, Community Care Licensing Division or the State Department of Health Services, Licensing and Certification Division, as appropriate, in order to demonstrate ability and intent to comply with subdivision (a) of Section 1770.

SEC. 8. Section 1773.9 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1773.9. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the escrow agent shall pay refunds to applicants for life care who terminate an arrangement for life care, upon written notice from the provider in accordance with the approved deposit subscription agreement or life care contract, as applicable. These refunds shall be paid within 10 days after the applicant for life care gives notice to the provider.

(b) After notice of commencement of construction, an applicant for life care shall not be entitled to a refund of deposit subscriptions until the facility is opened for operation, or another applicant for life care has reserved the residential unit and paid the necessary entrance fee deposit or deposits, with respect to the unit for which the refund is sought by the previous applicant for life care.

(c) The department shall instruct the escrow agent to release to the provider all deposit subscriptions or entrance fees which have been placed in escrow pursuant to Section 1773.5, when all of the following requirements have been met:

(1) Either:

(A) Construction of the facility is at least 50 percent completed and at least 20 percent of the total of each applicable entrance fee has been received and placed in escrow for at least 50 percent of the total number of nonmedical units in the project, or;

(B) Construction of the facilities is completed and at least 10 percent of the total of each applicable entrance fee has been received and placed in escrow for at least 75 percent of the total number of nonmedical units in the project.

(2) Provider's average performance over any six-month period substantially equals or exceeds its financial and marketing projections, approved by the department, for that period.

(3) Licensing requirements are being met on a timely basis.

(4) Any additional requirements for release of escrowed funds, established by the department pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1773.8, have been met.

(d) If the requirements of subdivision (c) are not met within 36 months after the opening of the escrow required by Section 1773.5, the department may instruct the escrow agent to refund to applicants for life care or transferors all deposit subscriptions or entrance fees held in escrow plus any interest earned in accordance with the approved deposit subscription agreements or life care contracts, as applicable. The department, in its discretion, may lengthen the 36-month period upon a showing of good cause.

SEC. 9. Section 1774 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1774. Before issuing a permit to sell deposit subscriptions or a certificate of authority, the state department shall require that any agent or employee of the applicant, who, in the course of his or her agency or employment, has access to any substantial amount of funds, furnish and maintain in effect during the period that the certificate of authority is in force, a surety bond in the form and penal sum as the state department finds necessary to protect all persons from loss of the funds.

SEC. 10. Section 1775.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1775.5. (a) The Legislature foresees the need to protect transferors who have entered into life care contracts which provide for substantial refunds of entrance fee payments. Without reasonable assurance of the providers' abilities to pay the refunds, in consideration of possible competitive disadvantages, such as aging of the facility, the transferors or their estates would risk the loss of substantial entrance fee refunds. It is the policy of the State of California to limit these risks for the benefit of the general population of elderly persons. Therefore, the department shall impose requirements with respect to entrance fee refunds.

(b) Each provider, or other entity assuming responsibility, shall provide satisfactory evidence of the ability to pay refunds of entrance fees if the proposed or current life care contract form includes promises, express or implied, to pay refunds of entrance fees or to repurchase the transferors' units, membership, stock, or other interest in the project or facility, after the end of the trial residence period, in the event of the death of the surviving resident, or in the event of voluntary termination by the transferor or residents, when the specified refund right is not fully amortized within the first six years of residency.

(c) Satisfactory evidence of the ability to pay refunds shall be the maintenance of a refund reserve, deposited in a special trust fund which shall remain intact to accumulate interest earnings resulting from investments of liquid reserves in accordance with Section 1775.

(1) The "refund reserve" referred to in this subdivision shall be calculated based on the following assumptions:

(A) The facility will no longer receive entry fee income after a period of 40 years starting with the commencement of operation.

(B) Approved long-term investments, such as treasury notes, will earn 3 percent more than the rate of inflation.

(C) Entrance fees will increase at the rate of inflation.

(D) Land values will increase at the rate of inflation.

(E) Investments in the refund reserve trust will increase at the rate for approved long-term investments.

(2) The refund reserve referred to in this subdivision shall be calculated as follows:

(A) Calculate the number of units to be turned over each year at the approved rate of turnover.

(B) Determine the mean entrance fee, as of the current date.

(C) Determine the factor for inflating the mean entrance fee at the rate of 3 percent below the rate of interest on new 30-year treasury bonds, for the time interval from the current date to the 40th year of operation and for each preceding year, until all units have been turned over.

(D) Calculate the inflated mean entrance fees for the 40th year and for each preceding year, until all units have been turned over.

(E) (i) Multiply the inflated mean entrance fee for the 40th year, as specified in subparagraph (D), by the annual turnover, as specified in subparagraph (A).

(ii) Multiply the inflated mean entrance fee for each preceding year by the annual turnover, until the total of the annual turnovers used in the calculations equals the total number of units in the facility.

(iii) The projected refund liability shall be the sum of the products obtained pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii), multiplied by the rate of refund for the seventh year of residency, specified by current contracts, multiplied by the percentage of current life care contracts which specify this rate of refund. The projected refund liability shall be calculated for each rate, if existing contracts specify several rates.

(F) The projected refund liability, or the aggregate of these liabilities, if several rates are obtained pursuant to clause (iii) of subparagraph (E), may be reduced by the value of the land used for the facility, as determined by an appraiser approved by the department, inflated to the 40th year of operation, as determined pursuant to subparagraph (C), if the provider agrees to a lien pursuant to Section 1772 to secure this commitment.

(G) Calculate the present value of the projected refund liability at the rate of interest for new 30-year treasury bonds. The result is the required refund reserve.

(3) The amount of the refund reserve shall be revised annually by the provider and submitted to the department in conjunction with the annual audit and reports required by Section 1782.5.

(d) Any provider who has a certificate of authority or permit to sell deposit subscriptions issued by the department pursuant to this chapter on or before September 23, 1986, shall be exempt from the refund reserve requirement established by this section if the provider or other entity assuming responsibility has an equity balance of five times the amount of the refund reserve calculated pursuant to subdivision (c), as verified by one or more of the following means: the "stockholders' equity," or equivalent amount, as reflected on the most recent Form 10K (which may be on a consolidated basis or on a consolidated and combined basis) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission; the "total fund balances or net worth," or equivalent amount, as reflected on the most recent Form 990 or Form 990-PF filed with the Internal Revenue Service; or the "total net worth," or equivalent amount, as reflected on the most recent Form 109 filed with the Franchise Tax Board.

(1) The amount of the requirement for the equity balance shall be revised annually pursuant to subdivision (c).

(2) Compliance shall be based on review, by the department, of financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, accompanied by an unqualified opinion by a licensed certified public accountant.

(3) If the equity balance is determined by the department to be less than the required amount, the provider or other entity assuming responsibility shall post, in a form satisfactory to the department, an amount equal to the refund reserve required within 60 days.

(e) Except with respect to subdivisions (a) and (h), this section shall remain operative only until December 31, 1988, or the effective date of the regulations promulgated pursuant to subdivision (f), whichever is earlier, and shall be inoperative as of that date.

(f) Prior to December 31, 1988, the department shall promulgate regulations, adopted in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to establish these or other appropriate reserve requirements or exemptions therefrom pertaining to refundable entrance fees where the specified refund right is not amortized over the first six years of residence in the event of voluntary termination. The department shall conduct the regulation adoption process expeditiously to ensure that the regulations will become effective no later than January 1, 1989.

(g) In promulgating the regulations, the department shall consult throughout the regulation adoption process with the following:

(1) The California Association of Homes for the Aging.

(2) The Committee on Life Care Contracts of the Social Services Advisory Board.

(3) Representatives of life care providers, or potential life care providers, who are not members of the California Association of Homes for the Aging but who have a certificate of authority or a permit to sell deposit subscriptions issued by the department pursuant to this chapter.

(4) Any other persons, entities, and organizations the department deems proper to ensure that the refund reserve requirements so promulgated are both effective from the standpoint of consumer protection and feasible from the standpoint of life care providers.

(h) Any life care provider who (1) has a certificate of authority or a permit to sell deposit subscriptions issued by the department pursuant to this chapter on or before the date the Governor signs the bill enacting this section or, if the bill becomes a statute without the Governor's signature, September 30, 1986, whichever date is earlier, and (2) qualifies for the exemption set forth in subdivision (d) of this section shall not be required to provide any further refund reserve or security pursuant to this section or the regulations promulgated hereunder.

SEC. 11. Section 1779 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1779. Any agreement constituting a life care contract shall contain all of the following in addition to any other terms or matter required by the state department:

(a) The value of all property transferred, including, but not limited to, donations, subscriptions, fees, and any other amounts paid or payable by or on behalf of the resident. The basis for changing monthly care fees shall be printed in a size equal to at least 10-point boldface type.

(b) The services which are to be provided by the provider to the resident, including, in detail, all items which the resident will receive, such as board, room, medical care, clothing, burial, incidentals, and whether such items will be provided for a designated time period or for life.

(c) A copy of the current financial statement.

(d) A statement in boldface type informing the transferor of the terms and conditions under which the contract may be terminated by either party, including any health or financial conditions for a person to continue as a resident and any conditions under which all or any portion of the entrance fee will not be refunded by the provider. No life care contract shall be terminated except upon at least 90 days' notice, except that, during the first 90-day trial residence period, the agreement may be terminated by either party without cause and without advance notice. Such requirement shall be written into the terms of the contract, consistent with state law.

(e) A conspicuous statement in a size equal to at least 10-point boldface type in immediate proximity to the space reserved for the signature of the transferor that provides as follows:

"You, the transferor, may cancel this transaction at any time within 90 days from the date of this transaction. See the attached notice of cancellation form for an explanation of this right."

(f) A completed form in duplicate, captioned "Notice of Cancellation" which may be attached to the agreement and be easily detachable, and which shall contain in type of at least 10-point size the following statement:

"Notice of Cancellation"

/Enter date of transaction/

(Date)

You may cancel this transaction, without any penalty, within 90 days from the above date.

If you cancel, any property transferred, any payments made by you under the contract or sale, and any negotiable instrument executed by you will be returned within 10 days after making possession of the living unit available to the provider, and any security interest arising out of the transaction will be canceled.

If you cancel, you are obligated for a reasonable processing fee to cover costs and the reasonable value of the services received by you from the provider after the first seven days up to the date you canceled or made available to the provider the possession of any living unit delivered to you under this contract, whichever is later.

If you cancel, you must make available to the provider, in substantially as good condition as when received, the possession of any living unit delivered to you under this contract.

Possession of the living unit must be made available to the provider within 20 days of your notice of cancellation. If you fail to make the possession of any living unit available to the provider, then you remain liable for performance of all obligations under the contract.

To cancel this transaction, mail or deliver a signed and dated copy of this cancellation notice, or any other written notice, or send a telegram to _____ ,

/Name of provider/

at _____ /Address of provider's place of business/not later than midnight of _____.

(Date)

I hereby cancel this transaction _____ .
(Date)

(Transferor's signature)

(g) The name and address of the provider to which a notice of cancellation is to be delivered.

(h) The date the transferor signed the agreement.

(i) With respect to the transfer of real property pursuant to this chapter, a statement that the deed or other instrument of conveyance shall contain a recital that the transaction is made pursuant to a "life care contract" and may be subject to rescission by the transferor within 90 days from the date of the transfer.

The failure to comply with this subdivision shall not affect the validity of title to real property transferred pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 12. Section 1780.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1780.5. A certificate of authority shall not be issued to a provider unless the department determines that all of the following have occurred:

(a) Construction of the facility or applicable phase is completed and required licenses have been obtained.

(b) At least one of the following requirements has been met:

(1) At least 80 percent of the total nonmedical units in the facility have been reserved, with payment in full of the entrance fee.

(2) At least 70 percent of the total nonmedical units in the facility have been reserved, with payment in full of the entrance fee, and the provider has submitted a financial and marketing plan, satisfactory to the department, demonstrating that the project will be financially viable.

(3) At least 50 percent of the total nonmedical units in the facility have been reserved, with payment in full of the entrance fee, and the provider furnishes a letter of credit or other security, satisfactory to the department, sufficient to bring the total amount of payments to a level equivalent to 80 percent of the total entrance fees for the entire facility.

(c) A minimum 5-year financial plan of operation satisfactory to the department has been submitted.

(d) Adequate reserves exist as required by Sections 1775 and 1775.5. For a new facility without an operating history, the department may approve calculation of required reserves on a pro forma basis in conjunction with compliance with approved marketing plans.

(e) All applicable provisions of this chapter have been met.

SEC. 13. Section 1780.6 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1780.6. In order to permit a provider to enter into life care contracts and meet the requirements of subdivision (b) of Section 1780.5, the department shall issue a provisional certificate of authority when a provider has done all the following:

(a) Met the preconstruction requirements of either subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 1773.7 or the requirements of subdivision (c) of Section 1773.7.

(b) Completed construction of the facility, and obtained the required licenses referenced in subdivision (a) of Section 1770.

(c) Complied with the approved marketing plans in accordance with Section 1773.8.

(d) Complied with subdivision (c) of Section 1780.5.

The provisional certificate of authority shall be valid for a period of 12 months after issuance. Upon a showing of good cause by the provider, the department may extend a provisional certificate of authority for one additional 12-month period if it appears to the department that the provider is capable of meeting the requirements of Section 1780.5 during the period of extension.

SEC. 14. Section 1784 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1784. (a) Certificates of authority may be suspended, limited, or revoked for cause by the state department as follows:

(1) Revocation of the license of the provider pursuant to the licensing provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) shall require either that the department revoke or suspend such certificate or that the director petition the superior court in the county in which the provider's facility is located for an order appointing an administrator to assume management and possession of the facility and the assets thereof pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 1790).

(2) Suspension of the license of the provider pursuant to the licensing provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) is cause for the department, in its discretion, to limit, suspend, or revoke such certificate until such license is reinstated.

(3) Failure to maintain at all times at least the minimum reserve requirements of Section 1775 without notice to, and written approval of, the department, a copy of which written approval shall be posted in at least two prominent locations in the facility, is cause to limit or suspend such certificate. The department may, upon finding of changed circumstances, remove a suspension or limitation imposed pursuant to this paragraph after approval by the department of a temporary deficiency in such reserves, and after notice of such approval is posted in at least two prominent locations in such facility, and after the department finds that the residents of such facility are adequately protected.

(4) Failure to file the annual financial audit and reports pursuant to Section 1782.5 is cause for the department to limit, suspend, or revoke the certificate.

(5) Maintaining the reserve fund escrow account required pursuant to Section 1774.4 at an amount less than the aggregate principal and interest, rental, and lease payments due during the next 12 months pursuant to Section 1774.4 for one or more periods totaling 12 months or more in the aggregate in the preceding two-year period is cause to limit, suspend, or revoke such certificate.

(6) Violation of a limitation on a certificate shall require the department to revoke such certificate.

(7) Violation of the rules and regulations promulgated by the department pursuant to the provisions of this chapter is cause for the department to limit, suspend, or revoke such certificate.

(8) Failure to comply with the refund reserve requirement specified in Section 1775.5 shall be cause for the department to revoke the certificate.

(b) Once issued, a certificate of authority shall be limited, suspended, or revoked by the state department only after consultation with, and consideration of the recommendations by, the advisory board. The person or organization whose certificate of authority is limited, suspended, or revoked shall have right of appeal to the state department. The proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the state department shall have all of the powers granted therein. A suspension, limitation, or revocation shall remain in effect until completion of such proceedings in favor of the provider, and may be changed to another form of such qualification on the certificate.

(c) For the purposes of this chapter "limit" and "limitation," with respect to a certificate, means a restriction on any activity pursuant to such certificate which prohibits the provider from entering any new contract or contracts subject to this chapter.

SEC. 15. Article 4 (commencing with Section 1793) is added to Chapter 10 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 4. Life Care Provider Fee Fund

1793. (a) There is hereby created in the State Treasury a fund which shall be known as the Life Care Provider Fee Fund. The fund shall consist of funds received by the department pursuant to Section 1791. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code the Life Care Provider Fee Fund is hereby continuously appropriated without regard to fiscal years to the department for the purpose of funding all of the following:

(1) Statistical and actuarial studies for use by providers and departmental program management.

(2) Contracts with technically qualified persons, as necessary to provide advice regarding the feasibility of proposed facilities.

(3) Development of improved departmental systems and procedures for carrying out the responsibilities imposed by this chapter, in consultation with the advisory board.

(b) The department shall use no more than 5 percent of the funds appropriated pursuant to this section for administrative costs.

CHAPTER 902

An act to amend Section 42923 of the Education Code, relating to foster children services.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42923 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42923. (a) Each school district providing foster children services pursuant to this chapter shall, by January 1 of each even-numbered year, report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction any information as may be required by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the purpose of subdivision (b).

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, by February 15 of each even-numbered year, report to the Legislature and the Governor on the foster children services provided by school districts. The report shall be prepared with the advice and assistance of providers of foster children services and shall include, but not be limited, to the following:

(1) Recommendations regarding the continuation of services.

(2) Recommendations regarding the effectiveness of the services, unless program effectiveness is assessed in any other report covering the same time period.

(3) Recommendations regarding the broadening of the application of those services.

(4) Information which shall be sufficient to determine at a minimum, whether these services have resulted in a major quantitative improvement or deterioration in any of the following indicators:

(A) Pupil academic achievement.

(B) The incidence of pupil discipline problems or juvenile delinquency.

(C) Pupil dropout rates or truancy rates.

(5) A discussion of the meaning and implications of the indicators contained in paragraph (4).

CHAPTER 903

An act to amend Section 16072 of the Vehicle Code, relating to driver's licenses.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16072 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16072. (a) The suspension of the driving privilege of a person as provided in Section 16070 shall not be terminated until one year has elapsed from the date of actual commencement of the suspension and until the person files proof of financial responsibility, provided that the suspension shall be reinstated if the person fails to maintain proof of financial responsibility for three years. However, in lieu of suspending a person's driving privilege pursuant to this section, the department may, upon application, restrict the person's driving privilege to necessary travel to and from that person's place of employment and to driving that is required in the person's course of employment, when driving a motor vehicle is necessary in order to perform the duties of the person's primary employment, if the person files and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility pursuant to Section 16021 and pays a penalty fee to the department of two hundred fifty dollars ($250). The restriction shall remain in effect for the period of suspension required by this section. If proof of financial responsibility is established by the filing of evidence that the person procured an automobile or motor vehicle liability policy or bond, and coverage under that policy or bond terminates, the insurer or surety shall inform the department of the date of termination.

(b) If a suspension has been imposed under Section 16070 and one year has elapsed from the date of suspension actually commenced, that suspension shall be terminated if the driving privilege is suspended under Section 16370 or 16381 as the result of a judgment arising out of the accident for which proof of financial responsibility was required to be established. The department may reimpose the suspension of the driving privilege of a person under Section 16070 if the suspension under Section 16370 or 16381 is later set aside for a reason other than that the person has satisfied the judgment in full or to the extent provided in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 16250) and has given proof of ability to respond in damages as provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16430).

(c) Notwithstanding Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 42200) of Division 18, all revenues derived from the penalty fees provided in subdivision (a) shall be deposited in the Financial Responsibility Penalty Account in the General Fund. The balance in this fund on July 1, 1986, and each successive July 1 thereafter, which is not subject to appropriation as provided in Section 12980 of the Insurance Code, shall revert to the General Fund.

CHAPTER 904

An act to amend Sections 51005, 51361, 51368, 51400, 51401, 51402, and 51403 of, to amend and renumber Section 50154 of, and to repeal Sections 51326, 51368, and 51404 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50154 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 323 of the Statutes of 1983, is amended and renumbered to read:

50156. The California Housing Finance Agency shall provide to the Legislature and the Legislative Analyst, in each annual report required by Section 51005, information concerning all units produced, assisted, or insured using agency funds. This information shall include, but shall not be limited to, the sales prices of these units, the number of units within various price ranges or price classifications, the rents being charged for the units, the number of rental units within each price range, the number of households by income level purchasing the units, and the number by household income occupying the rental units.

SEC. 2. Section 51005 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51005. (a) The agency shall, by November 1 of each year, submit an annual report of its activities under this division for the preceding year to the Governor, the Secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency, the Director of Housing and Community Development, the Treasurer, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, and the Legislature. The report shall set forth a complete operating and financial statement of the agency during the concluded fiscal year. The report shall specify the number of units assisted, the distribution of units among the metropolitan, nonmetropolitan, and rural areas of the state, and shall contain a summary of statistical data relative to the incomes of households occupying assisted units, the monthly rentals charged to occupants of rental housing developments, and the sales prices of housing developments purchased during the previous fiscal year by housing sponsors who are persons or families of low or moderate income. The report shall also include a statement of accomplishment during the previous year with respect to the agency's progress, priorities, and affirmative action efforts. The agency shall specifically include in its report on affirmative action goals, statistical data on the numbers and percentages of minority sponsors, developers, contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, architects, engineers, attorneys, mortgage bankers or other lenders, insurance agents, and managing agents.

(b) The report shall also include specific information evaluating the extent to which the programs administered by the agency have attained the statutory objectives of the agency, including, but not limited to, (1) the primary purpose of the agency in meeting the housing needs of persons and families of low or moderate income pursuant to Section 50950, (2) the occupancy requirements for very low income households established pursuant to Sections 50951 and 51226, (3) the elderly and orthopedic disability occupancy requirements established pursuant to Section 51230, (4) the use of surplus moneys pursuant to Section 51007, (5) the metropolitan, nonmetropolitan, and rural goals established pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 50952, (6) the California Statewide Housing Plan, as required by Section 50154, (7) the statistical and other information developed and maintained pursuant to Section 51650, (8) the implementation and administration of the Senior Citizens Housing Assistance Program established pursuant to Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 51450), including (A) the number of assisted units in rental housing developments, (B) the number of units in rental housing developments occupied by, or available to, eligible households, (C) the number of units in rental housing developments occupied by, or available to, very low income eligible households, (D) the average income of, and the distribution of annual incomes among, eligible households, (E) the average and median cost of a unit in each rental housing development, (F) the administrative costs incurred by the agency to implement and manage each program, (G) the agency's recommendations, as needed, to improve the operation of each program, (9) the number of manufactured housing units assisted by the agency, (10) information with respect to the proceeds derived from the issuance of bonds or securities and any interest or other increment derived from the investment of bonds or securities, and the uses for which those proceeds or increments are being made as provided for in Section 51365, including the amount by which each fund balance exceeds indenture requirements, (11) any recommendations described in subdivision (d), (12) any recommendations described in Section 51227, and (13) the revenue bonding authority plan adopted pursuant to Section 51004.5.

The Legislative Analyst shall include an analysis of the information in the report on the Senior Citizens Housing Assistance Program in the Legislative Analyst's analysis of the 1989 and 1990 Budget Bills and evaluate the extent to which the objectives of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 51450) are being accomplished along with any recommendations for improving program performance and meeting statutory objectives.

(c) The agency shall cause an audit of its books and accounts with respect to its activities under this division to be made at least once during each fiscal year by an independent certified public accountant and the agency shall be subject to audit by the Department of Finance not more often than once each fiscal year.

(d) The agency shall assess any obstacles or problems which it has encountered in meeting its mandate to serve nonmetropolitan and rural metropolitan areas, and recommend legislative and administrative solutions to overcome these obstacles or problems. The agency shall separately assess its progress in meeting the rehabilitation needs of rural areas and the new construction needs of rural areas, and separately assess its progress as to single and multifamily units. The agency shall include in its report a quantification and evaluation of its progress in meeting the housing needs of communities of various sizes in rural areas.

(e) By December 1 of each fiscal year, the agency shall ascertain that not less than 25 percent of the total units financed by mortgage loans during the preceding 12 months pursuant to this part were made available to very low income households. If the agency finds that these very low income occupancy goals have not been met, the agency shall immediately notify the Governor, the Speaker of the Assembly, and the Senate Rules Committee, and shall recommend legislation or other action as may be required to make (1) at least 25 percent of the units so available, and (2) at least 25 percent of the units thereafter financed so available. In housing developments for which the agency provides a construction loan but not a mortgage loan, the agency shall report annually on the percentage of units projected to be made available for occupancy and actually occupied by lower income households.

SEC. 3. Section 51326 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 3.5. Section 51361 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51361. The Treasurer shall act as trustee for the agency and the holders of its bonds, provided the Treasurer elects to serve as trustee with respect to a particular issuance of bonds by notifying the agency of this election in writing at or prior to the board meeting at which the board approves a resolution authorizing the issuance and sale of the bonds.

Any bonds issued under this division may be secured by a trust agreement, indenture, or resolultion, by and between the agency and a trustee or trustees, which may be the Treasurer or any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the state. Notwithstanding other provisions in this division, references to the Treasurer as trustee shall be deemed to refer to either the Treasurer or the duly empowered bank or trust company trustee as the case may be. The trust agreement, indenture, or the resolution providing for the issuance of the bonds may pledge or assign revenues to be received or proceeds of any contract or contracts pledged. Any resolution authorizing any bonds or issue thereof shall prescribe the duties of the Treasurer with respect to the issuance, authentication, sale, and delivery of the bonds, the payment of principal and interest thereof, and the redemption of the bonds. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Treasurer shall not be deemed to have a conflict of interest by reason of acting as trustee pursuant to this division.

The agency may provide by a resolution for the deposit of all revenues pledged for the security of the bonds in one or more separate accounts in the California Housing Finance Fund under the control of the Treasurer as trustee. The money in the accounts shall be disbursed only as provided in the resolution.

The trustee shall act on behalf of the holders of the agency's bonds, or any stated percentage thereof, for the purpose of exercising and prosecuting on behalf of the holders in the manner and under conditions provided in the resolution authorizing the bonds.

SEC. 4. Section 51368 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Section 2 of Chapter 997 of the Statutes of 1981, is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 51368 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Section 2.5 of Chapter 997 of the Statutes of 1981, is amended to read:

51368. (a) The Supplementary Bond Security Account is hereby created in the California Housing Finance Fund. Moneys in the account may be transferred into separate, individual accounts in the fund which shall be known as supplementary reserve accounts, but the amounts appropriated to the Supplementary Bond Security Account shall be utilized to secure issuances of bonds as deemed necessary by the agency and may also be used as provided in subdivision (d). Upon issuance of any bonds, the agency may create a supplementary reserve account to secure payment of the principal of, interest, redemption-premium, and sinking fund payments on those bonds.

(b) When all obligations secured by all supplementary reserve accounts are retired the Supplementary Bond Security Account shall be dissolved and all moneys therein shall be used first for repayment to the General Fund in the State Treasury of amounts advanced to the Supplementary Bond Security Account from the General Fund, less any amount previously repaid on account of the advances.

Remaining funds shall be paid into the general accounts of the housing finance agency unless otherwise obligated.

(c) When the amount in a bond reserve fund falls below the minimum bond reserve fund requirement for that fund and available revenues of the agency pledged to the prescribed minimum bond reserve fund requirement are insufficient to restore the fund, the agency shall transfer to the bond reserve fund, from the supplementary bond reserve account securing the bonds, the amount necessary to restore the fund to the minimum bond reserve fund requirement. Moneys in supplementary reserve accounts may be used to directly pay the interest, principal and sinking fund payments on the bonds as provided by bond resolution.

(d) Supplementary reserve accounts may also be used to insure mortgages to protect the value of the housing developments, residential structures, or other housing financed under this division that serves as real property security, in any manner permitted by the agency.

(e) "Bonds" as used in this section, includes taxable securities issued pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 51400).

SEC. 6. Section 51400 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51400. The Legislature finds and declares that it is essential to the economic growth of the state and the supply of adequate residential and multifamily rental housing in the state and that it is a public purpose to expand the program of the agency of purchasing and selling residential mortgage loans for which all California families may be eligible and financing, purchasing, and selling loans for multifamily rental housing. The Legislature also finds and declares that it is a public purpose to create procedures through which the agency may issue mortgage-backed securities to finance these purchases for sale to pension funds, institutional investors, and individuals.

SEC. 7. Section 51401 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51401. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, as used in this chapter:

(a) "Mortgage loan" means any residential mortgage loan or multifamily rental housing loan.

(b) "Multifamily rental housing" means any existing structure of more than four dwelling units or any work or undertaking of more than four units of new construction, improvement, or rehabilitation for the provision of housing.

(c) "Multifamily rental housing loan" means a mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on multifamily rental housing.

(d) "Residence" means any existing structure of one to four dwelling units or any work or undertaking of one to four dwelling units of new construction, improvement, or rehabilitation for the provision of housing.

(e) "Residential mortgage loan" means a mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on a residence.

(f) "Taxable securities" means securities bearing interest that is otherwise taxable under the personal income tax provisions of state and federal tax law and which are issued to finance the purchase or making of mortgage loans pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 8. Section 51402 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51402. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, the agency may establish a mortgage loan program. Under the mortgage loan program, the agency may acquire or make first or second mortgage loans for the construction, purchase, improvement, or rehabilitation of residences or multifamily rental housing.

(b) The agency may invest in, make, purchase, take assignments of, or otherwise acquire or make commitments to invest in, make, purchase, take assignments, or otherwise acquire any mortgage loan or partial interest or participation therein. The agency may sell, assign, or otherwise dispose of, or enter into commitments to sell, assign, or otherwise dispose of, any obligation, mortgage loan, or partial interest or participation therein, or create pools of obligations, mortgage loans, or partial interest or participations held by the agency, and issue and sell securities backed by pools. The agency may require the seller of obligations, residential mortgage loans, or partial interest or participations purchased by the agency, to use the proceeds of the sale for the purpose of financing mortgage loans, except when the proceeds arise from the sale of new loans, initiated for the purpose of sale to the agency or others. The agency may pledge mortgage loans, acquired pursuant to the mortgage loan program, to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, on taxable securities issued by the agency for the mortgage loan program.

(c) Any multifamily rental housing financed by the agency pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the same occupancy standards specified in Section 51335.

SEC. 9. Section 51403 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51403. (a) The agency may, from time to time, issue its taxable securities in whatever principal amount the agency determines is necessary to provide sufficient funds for the acquisition or making of mortgage loans and for the payment of interest on the securities, establishment of reserves to secure the securities, and other expenditures of the agency incident to, and necessary or convenient to, issuance of the securities, and the purchase or sale of mortgage loans in accordance with this chapter.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, taxable securities issued pursuant to this chapter shall not be subject to any limitation of aggregate principal amount outstanding at any time. The securities shall not be taken into account for purposes of the limitation on indebtedness of the agency contained in Section 51350, or any other limitation on the amount of securities of the agency which at any time may be issued or which may be outstanding.

(c) Any taxable securities issued pursuant to this chapter shall not be a general obligation of the agency and shall be payable solely from the receipts, revenues, or other income derived in respect of mortgage loans or securities purchased or sold pursuant to this chapter. Any official statement or other prospectus used by the agency in offering taxable securities for sale shall clearly indicate that the securities are not the debt or obligation of the state or of the agency except to the extent provided in this section.

(d) All proceeds received by the agency pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the Taxable Securities Account which is hereby created in the California Housing Finance Fund. Any moneys appropriated to the agency for the purposes of this chapter shall be deposited in the Taxable Securities Account and shall be repaid from revenues received by the agency pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 10. Section 51404 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. The Legislature finds and declares that of the twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) originally appropriated to the Supplementary Bond Security Account from the General Fund and advanced to the California Housing Finance Agency, ten million nine hundred ninety-six thousand nine hundred ninety-one dollars ($10,996,991) has been previously repaid on account of this advance as provided in Section 51368 of the Health and Safety Code. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the agency shall repay to the General Fund the remaining balance of nine million three thousand nine dollars ($9,003,009) in annual installments at the end of each fiscal year in the amount of the interest earned on the sum of twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) invested by the agency for that purpose until the remaining balance shall have been repaid in full.

SEC. 12. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Automatic repeal of certain provisions of Division 31 of the Health and Safety Code at the end of 1987, as well as federal legislation enacted in 1986 regarding the taxability of interest on certain housing bonds issued by governmental entities, would otherwise prevent the California Housing Finance Agency from continuing to meet its statutory mandate to provide affordable housing to very low, low, and moderate income Californians, and inhibit flexibility needed to accomplish its financing of single and multifamily housing programs. Additionally, it is necessary to provide for uniform and consolidated reporting procedures for the agency. In order to prevent delay in implementing these programs, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 905

An act to add Sections 82048.3, 82048.5, 84108, 84218, 84219, 84220, 84221, and 84305.5 to the Government Code, relating to the Political Reform Act of 1974.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 82048.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

82048.3. "Slate mailer" means a mass mailing which supports or opposes a total of four or more candidates or ballot measures.

SEC. 2. Section 82048.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

82048.5. (a) "Slate mailer organization" means, except as provided in subdivision (b), any person who, directly or indirectly, does all of the following:

(1) Is involved in the production of one or more slate mailers and exercises control over the selection of the candidates and measures to be supported or opposed in the slate mailers.

(2) Receives or is promised payments totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more in a calendar year for the production of one or more slate mailers.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a slate mailer organization shall not include any of the following:

(1) A candidate or officeholder or a candidate's or officeholder's controlled committee.

(2) An official committee of any political party.

(3) A legislative caucus committee.

(4) A committee primarily formed to support or oppose a candidate, officeholder, or ballot measure.

(c) The production and distribution of slate mailers by a slate mailer organization shall not be considered making contributions or expenditures for purposes of subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 82013. If a slate mailer organization makes contributions or expenditures other than by producing or distributing slate mailers, and it reports those contributions and expenditures pursuant to Sections 84218 and 84219, no additional campaign reports shall be required of the slate mailer organization pursuant to Section 84200 or 84200.5.

SEC. 3. Section 84108 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84108. (a) Every slate mailer organization shall comply with the requirements of Sections 84100, 84101, 84103, and 84104.

(b) The statement of organization of a slate mailer organization shall include:

(1) The name, street address, and telephone number of the organization.

(2) The full name, street address, and telephone number of the treasurer and other principal officers.

(3) The full name, street address, and telephone number of each person with final decisionmaking authority as to which candidates or measures will be supported or opposed in the organization's slate mailers.

(c) The statement of organization shall be filed with the Secretary of State within 10 days after the slate mailer organization receives or is promised five hundred dollars ($500) or more for producing one or more slate mailers. However, if an entity qualifies as a slate mailer organization before the date of an election in which it is required to file preelection statements, but after the closing date of the last campaign statement required to be filed before the election pursuant to Section 84218, the slate mailer organization shall file with the Secretary of State, by telegram or personal delivery within 24 hours of qualifying as a slate mailer organization, the information required to be reported in the statement of organization.

SEC. 4. Section 84218 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84218. (a) A slate mailer organization shall file semiannual campaign statements for each period in which it has received payments totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more from any person for the support of or opposition to candidates or ballot measures in a slate mailer, or in which it has expended five hundred dollars ($500) or more to produce one or more slate mailers. The semiannual statements shall be filed no later than July 31 for the period ending June 30, and no later than January 31, for the period ending December 31.

(b) In addition to the semiannual statements required by subdivision (a), slate mailer organizations shall file preelection statements as follows:

(1) Any slate mailer organization which produces a slate mailer supporting or opposing candidates or measures being voted on in an election held upon the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the statements specified in Section 84200.7 if, during the period covered by the preelection statement, the slate mailer organization receives payments totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more from any person for the support of or opposition to candidates or ballot measures in one or more slate mailers, or expends five hundred dollars ($500) or more to produce one or more slate mailers.

(2) Any slate mailer organization which produces a slate mailer supporting or opposing candidates or measures being voted on in an election held on a date other than the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June or November of an even-numbered year shall file the statements specified in Section 84200.8 if, during the period covered by the preelection statement, the slate mailer organization receives payments totaling five hundred dollars ($500) or more from any person for the support of or opposition to candidates or ballot measures in one or more slate mailers, or expends five hundred dollars ($500) or more to produce one or more slate mailers.

(c) A slate mailer organization shall file two copies of its campaign reports with the clerk of the county in which it is domiciled. A slate mailer organization is domiciled at the address listed on its statement of organization unless it is domiciled outside California, in which case its domicile shall be deemed to be Los Angeles County for purposes of this section.

In addition, slate mailer organizations shall file campaign reports as follows:

(1) A slate mailer organization which produces one or more slate mailers supporting or opposing candidates or measures voted on in a state election, or in more than one county, shall file campaign reports in the same manner as state general purpose committees pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 84215.

(2) A slate mailer organization which produces one or more slate mailers supporting or opposing candidates or measures voted on in only one county, or in more than one jurisdiction within one county, shall file campaign reports in the same manner as county general purpose committees pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 84215.

(3) A slate mailer organization which produces one or more slate mailers supporting or opposing candidates or measures voted on in only one city shall file campaign reports in the same manner as city general purpose committees pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 84215.

(4) Notwithstanding the above, no slate mailer organization shall be required to file more than the original and one copy, or two copies, of a campaign report with any one county or city clerk or with the Secretary of State.

SEC. 5. Section 84219 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84219. Whenever a slate mailer organization is required to file campaign reports pursuant to Section 84218, the campaign report shall include the following information:

(a) The total amount of receipts during the period covered by the campaign statement and the total cumulative amount of receipts. For purposes of this section only, "receipts" means payments received by a slate mailer organization for production and distribution of slate mailers.

(b) The total amount of disbursements made during the period covered by the campaign statement and the total cumulative amount of disbursements. For purposes of this section only, "disbursements" means payment made by a slate mailer organization for the production or distribution of slate mailers.

(c) For each candidate or committee that is a source of receipts totaling one hundred dollars ($100) or more during the period covered by the campaign statement:

(1) The name of the candidate or committee, identification of the jurisdiction and the office sought or ballot measure number or letter, and if the source is a committee, the committee's identification number, street address, and the name of the candidate or measure on whose behalf or in opposition to which the payment is made.

(2) The date and amount received for each receipt totaling one hundred dollars ($100) or more during the period covered by the campaign statement.

(3) The cumulative amount of receipts on behalf of or in opposition to the candidate or measure.

(d) For each person other than a candidate or committee who is a source of receipts totaling one hundred dollars ($100) or more during the period covered by the campaign statement:

(1) Identification of the jurisdiction, office or ballot measure, and name of the candidate or measure on whose behalf or in opposition to which the payment was made.

(2) Full name, street address, name of employer or, if self-employed, name of business, of the source of receipts.

(3) The date and amount received for each receipt totaling one hundred dollars ($100) or more during the period covered by the campaign statement.

(4) The cumulative amount of receipts on behalf of or in opposition to the candidate or measure.

(e) For each candidate or ballot measure not reported pursuant to subdivision (c) or (d), but who was supported or opposed in a slate mailer sent by the slate mailer organization during the period covered by the report, identification of jurisdiction, office or ballot measure, and name of the candidate or measure who was supported or opposed.

(f) The total amount of disbursements made during the period covered by the campaign statement to persons who have received one hundred dollars ($100) or more.

(g) The total amount of disbursements made during the period covered by the campaign statement to persons who have received less than one hundred dollars ($100).

(h) For each person to whom a disbursement of one hundred dollars ($100) or more has been made during the period covered by the campaign statement:

(1) His or her full name.

(2) His or her street address.

(3) The amount of each disbursement.

(4) A brief description of the consideration for which each disbursement was made.

(5) The information required in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, for each person, if different from the payee, who has provided consideration for a disbursement of one hundred dollars ($100) or more during the period covered by the campaign statement.

(i) Cumulative disbursements, totaling one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more, made directly or indirectly to any person listed in the slate mailer organization's statement of organization. For purposes of this subdivision, a disbursement is made indirectly to a person if it is intended for the benefit of or use by that person or a member of the person's immediate family, or if it is made to a business entity in which the person or member of the person's immediate family is a partner, shareholder, owner, director, trustee, officer, employee, consultant, or holds any position of management or in which the person or member of the person's immediate family has an investment of one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more. This subdivision shall not apply to any disbursement made to a business entity whose securities are publicly traded.

(j) The full name, street address, and telephone number of the slate mailer organization and of the treasurer.

(k) Whenever a slate mailer organization also qualifies as a general purpose committee pursuant to Section 82027.5, the campaign report shall include, in addition to the information required by this section, the information required by Section 84211.

SEC. 6. Section 84220 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84220. If a slate mailer organization receives a payment of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or more for purposes of supporting or opposing any candidate or ballot measure in a slate mailer, and the payment is received at a time when, if the payment were a contribution it would be considered a late contribution, then the slate mailer organization shall report the payment in the manner set forth in Section 84203 for candidates and committees when reporting late contributions received. The slate mailer organization shall, in addition to reporting the information required by Section 84203, identify the candidates or measures whose support or opposition is being paid for, in whole or in part, by each late payment.

SEC. 7. Section 84221 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84221. Slate mailer organizations shall terminate their filing obligations in the same manner as applies to committees qualifying under subdivision (a) of Section 82013.

SEC. 8. Section 84305.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

84305.5. (a) No slate mailer organization shall send a slate mailer unless:

(1) The name, street address, and city of the slate mailer organization are shown on the outside of each piece of slate mail and on at least one of the inserts included with each piece of slate mail in no less than 8-point roman type which shall be in a color or print which contrasts with the background so as to be easily legible. A post office box may be stated in lieu of a street address if the organization's street address is a matter of public record with the Secretary of State's Political Reform Division.

(2) At the top or bottom of the front side or surface of at least one insert or at the top or bottom of one side or surface of a postcard or other self-mailer, there is a notice in at least 8-point roman, boldface type, which shall be in a color or print which contrasts with the background so as to be easily legible, and in a printed or drawn box and set apart from any other printed matter. The notice shall consist of the following statement:

NOTICE TO VOTERS

THIS DOCUMENT WAS PREPARED BY (name of slate mailer organization), NOT AN OFFICIAL POLITICAL PARTY ORGANIZATION. Appearance in this mailer does not necessarily imply endorsement of others in this mailer. Appearance is paid for and authorized by each candidate and ballot measure which is designated by an *.

(3) The name, street address, and city of the slate mailer organization as required by paragraph (1) and the notice required by paragraph (2) may appear on the same side or surface of an insert.

(4) Each candidate and each ballot measure which has paid to appear in the slate mailer is designated by *. Any candidate or ballot measure which has not paid to appear in the slate mailer is not designated by *.

The * required by this subdivision shall be of the same type size, type style, color or contrast, and legibility as is used for the name of the candidate or the ballot measure name or number and position advocated to which the * designation applies except that in no case shall the * be required to be larger than 10-point boldface type. The designation shall immediately follow the name of the candidate, or the name or number and position advocated on the ballot measure where the designation appears in the slate of candidates and measures. If there is no slate listing, the designation shall appear at least once in at least 8-point boldface type, immediately following the name of the candidate, or the name or number and position advocated on the ballot measure.

(b) For purposes of the designations required by paragraph (4) of subdivision (a), the payment of any sum made reportable by the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 84219 by or at the behest of a candidate or committee, whose name or position appears in the mailer, to the slate mailer organization, shall constitute a payment to appear, requiring the * designation. Such payment shall also be deemed to constitute authorization to appear in the mailer.

(c) A slate mailer which complies with the requirements of this section shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of Sections 11703 and 11704 of the Elections Code.

SEC. 8.5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 9. The Legislature finds and declares that the provisions of this act further the purposes of the Political Reform Act of 1974 within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 81012 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 906

An act to amend Section 25612 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to seafood, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

I am deleting the $30,000 appropriation contained in Section 4 of Senate Bill No. 1188.

This bill would appropriate $30,000 to the Department of Health Services to conduct a shellfish sampling and monitoring program in Humboldt Bay and prohibits the sale of such seafood if the study determines a threat to human health.

I approved a $1.3 million appropriation in 1985 to support a study of marine pollution and related health concerns. It is more appropriate to direct funds from this account for the proposed Humboldt Bay monitoring program rather than provide an additional appropriation.

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No. 1188.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25612 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25612. The department, utilizing available funds and in cooperation with the Department of Fish and Game and the Joint Committee on Fisheries and Aquaculture, shall do all of the following:

(a) Cooperate with any federal agency that conducts monitoring of marine life or ocean waters, or both, at the sites of radioactive waste dumping off the California coast to determine the effects of the dumping.

(b) Purchase and test samples of seafood taken in the vicinity of the Farallon Islands radioactive waste dump site to determine whether the seafood contains radioactivity beyond natural and artificial background levels.

(c) Establish a scientific advisory committee on ocean dumping of radioactive waste. The committee shall include, but not be limited to, scientists from the staffs of the department, the Department of Fish and Game, the California Coastal Commission, the Senate Office of Research, the Assembly Office of Research, the faculties of the University of California and the California State University, and private nonprofit marine resource and public policy organizations. The advisory committee shall meet at least once a year and design the procedures for the testing required by subdivision (b), subject to approval by the department. The advisory committee shall also analyze the results of the monitoring conducted pursuant to subdivision (a) and the testing conducted pursuant to subdivision

(b), and make any recommendations that it deems appropriate to the department, the Department of Fish and Game, and the Legislature. The members of the committee shall serve without compensation.

(d) Make annual reports to the Legislature on the implementation of this section, including any recommendations for legislation it deems necessary to protect the health of Californians.

(e) Take emergency action pursuant to the general authority contained in the Sherman Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Law (Division 21 (commencing with Section 26000)) to prohibit the commercial sale of seafood for human consumption if, in the judgment of the director, samples analyzed pursuant to subdivision (b), are found to contain radioactivity that poses a threat to human health.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that good water quality in Humboldt Bay is critical to beneficial uses in the area, including the culture and harvesting of shellfish. While the municipal and industrial dischargers, the North Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board, and the Environmental Protection Agency have spent millions of dollars in an attempt to improve the water quality of Humboldt Bay, there has been no assessment of the effectiveness of these programs. A shellfish sampling study is necessary to assess the impact of the State Department of Health Services' 1987 relaxation of shellfish harvesting restrictions.

SEC. 3. The State Department of Health Services shall conduct a shellfish sampling and monitoring program in Humboldt Bay. The department shall submit a report of the findings of that program to the Legislature on or before July 1, 1988.

SEC. 4. The sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Department of Health Services for expenditures pursuant to Section 3 of this act.

CHAPTER 907

An act relating to environmental protection.

[Became law without Governor's signature. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Department of Transportation may grant right of entry to real property near Adobe Falls to the City of San Diego for park and recreational purposes under the condition that the City of San Diego maintain the property.

CHAPTER 908

An act to add and repeal Chapter 2.8 (commencing with Section 17070) of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Mello-Condit-McClintock Tax Rebate Act of 1987.

SEC. 2. Chapter 2.8 (commencing with Section 17070) is added to Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.8. TAX REBATES

17070. (a) For purposes of returning excess revenues in the 1986–87 fiscal year as required pursuant to Section 2 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution, a tax reduction (hereafter referred to as "rebate") of 15 percent against the "tax imposed by this part" (as defined in subdivision (b)) shall be allowed to every qualified taxpayer (as defined in subdivision (c)) with respect to the 1986 taxable year, for excess revenues in the 1986–87 fiscal year. The rebates provided by this section shall not be less than the amounts specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) and shall not exceed the amounts determined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (e).

(b) For the purpose of this section, "tax imposed by this part" means the sum of paragraphs (1) and (2) as follows:

(1) The tax under either Section 17041 or 17048, minus all credits allowed by this part other than the renter credit (Section 17053.5), the credit for excess unemployment insurance (Section 17061), the credit for withholding (Section 18551.1), and any other refundable credits provided by this part.

(2) The tax on preference income imposed by Section 17062, the tax on the early withdrawal from an individual retirement account imposed by Section 17082, and the tax on the early withdrawal from a Keogh or annuity contract imposed by Section 17507.

(c) For purposes of this section, "qualified taxpayer" means any of the following individuals:

(1) Any individual who filed a California state tax return for the 1986 taxable year on or before the due date provided in Section 18551 or any allowable extension thereof, but in no event later than October 15, 1987.

(2) Any individual who received property tax assistance pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 20501) of Part 10.5 for the 1986–87 fiscal year.

(d) Following the transfer by the Controller to the Special Fund for Economic Uncertainties for the 1986–1987 fiscal year pursuant to Section 16418 of the Government Code, the Controller shall transfer the unappropriated balance of the General Fund to the Appropriations Limit Impound Account, which is hereby created in the General Fund. The Controller shall certify to the Franchise Tax Board the amount so transferred no later than November 1, 1987.

(e) Upon receipt of the Controller's certification, the Franchise Tax Board shall determine the amounts of the rebates as follows:

(1) (A) The minimum rebate amount allowable for all qualified taxpayers, as defined in subdivision (c), shall be thirty-two dollars ($32) if the qualified taxpayer is a single individual or a married person filing a separate return. If the qualified taxpayer is a married couple filing a joint return, a head of household, or a surviving spouse, as defined in Section 17046, the minimum rebate amount allowable shall be sixty-four dollars ($64). A qualified taxpayer, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), shall be eligible for the rebate amount for a single individual or a married person filing a separate return.

(B) Based on the minimum amounts specified in subparagraph (A), the Franchise Tax Board shall determine the total amount of the rebates allowed to qualified taxpayers, exclusive of those qualified taxpayers defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) who are entitled to a rebate amount greater than the applicable amounts specified in subparagraph (A).

(2) (A) The Franchise Tax Board shall subtract from the amount certified by the Controller pursuant to subdivision (d) the total amount of rebates determined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1).

(B) Based on the amount determined in subparagraph (A), the Franchise Tax Board shall determine for each qualified taxpayer defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) who is entitled to a rebate amount greater than the applicable amount specified in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), a rebate amount which is equal to 15 percent of the amount of each qualified taxpayer's liability for the tax imposed by this part for the 1986 taxable year, but in no event to exceed a maximum rebate amount for all those qualified taxpayers so that the total amount to be rebated to those qualified taxpayers is equal to the amount determined in subparagraph (A). In making this determination, the Franchise Tax Board shall determine a maximum rebate amount for a married couple filing a joint return, a head of household, or a surviving spouse which is twice the maximum rebate amount for a single individual or a married person filing a separate return.

(f) Based on the determinations made pursuant to subdivision (e), the Franchise Tax Board shall determine the actual amount of the tax rebate for each qualified taxpayer and the total amount of the tax rebates for all qualified taxpayers. In that regard, no individual shall receive a tax rebate as a qualified taxpayer defined in paragraph

(2) of subdivision (c), if that individual is also eligible for a tax rebate as a qualified taxpayer defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c).

(g) The Franchise Tax Board shall certify to the Controller no later than November 15, 1987, the names and addresses of all qualified taxpayers and the actual amount of the rebate payment for which each qualified taxpayer is eligible.

(h) The Controller shall issue the required rebate payments no later than January 15, 1988.

(i) All rebate payments which are returned shall be redeposited by the Controller in the Appropriations Limit Impound Account.

17070.1. All references in this chapter to sections in this code which are not enacted by this chapter are to sections as amended or to be amended and to successor sections.

17070.2. This chapter shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1988, and on that date is repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative only if AB 2609 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is chaptered.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide sufficient time to complete the tax rebate provided by this act, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 909

An act to amend Section 2453 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to healing arts.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2453 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2453. (a) It is the policy of this state that holders of M.D. degrees and D.O. degrees shall be accorded equal professional status and privileges as licensed physicians and surgeons.

(b) Notwithstandng any other provision of law, no health facility subject to licensure under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, no health care service plan, nonprofit hospital service plan, policy of disability insurance, self-insured employer welfare benefit plan, and no agency of the state or of any city, county, city and county, district, or other political subdivision of the state shall discriminate with respect to employment, staff privileges, or the provision of, or contracts for, professional services against a licensed physician and surgeon on the basis of whether the physician and surgeon holds an M.D. or D.O. degree. This section shall not be construed to require a disability insurer health care service plan or hospital service plan to employ, offer staff privileges, or contract for professional services with a class of physician who holds an M.D. or D.O. degree. However, this subdivision shall not prohibit a school of allopathic medicine or a school of osteopathic medicine from employing a physician and surgeon as an instructor on the basis of whether the physician and surgeon holds an M.D. or D.O. degree, where the subject matter to be taught specifically requires allopathic or osteopathic training and experience.

(c) Any violation of the provisions of subdivision (b) may be enjoined in an action brought in the name of the people of the State of California by the district attorney of the county in which the violation occurs, upon receipt of a complaint by an aggrieved physician and surgeon.

CHAPTER 910

An act to amend Sections 668, 773.7, 773.8, 774.2, and 774.3 of, and to add Section 655.4 to, the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to vessels.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 655.4 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

655.4. (a) No person shall serve as a crew member on any charter boat while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, or the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug.

(b) No person shall serve as a crew member on any charter boat while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, or under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug, and while so serving, do any act forbidden by law, or neglect any duty imposed by law in the use of the vessel, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than himself or herself.

SEC. 2. Section 668 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

668. (a) Any person who violates Section 652, 654, 654.05, 654.06, 655.2, 655.3, 659, or 663.6, or any regulations adopted by the department pursuant thereto, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed five days, or both, for each violation.

(b) Any person who violates subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 658 is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200) for each violation.

(c) Any person who violates Section 652.5, subdivision (a) of Section 655, Section 656 or 656.1, subdivision (d) or (e) of Section 658, or any rules and regulations adopted by the department pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 660, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both, for each violation.

(d) Any person convicted of a first violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655, or of a violation of Section 655.4, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

(e) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655 within five years of the first conviction shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(f) Any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(g) If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within five years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655 and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than five days or more than one year and pay a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within five years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 or of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and pay fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(h) The court may not absolve a person who is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within five years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 or of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, from the minimum time in confinement provided in this section and a fine of at least two hundred fifty dollars ($250), except as provided in subdivision (i).

(i) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice demand an exception, the court shall not strike a prior conviction of an offense under subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 or of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, for purposes of sentencing in order to avoid imposing, as part of the sentence or as a term of probation, the minimum time in confinement and the minimum fine, as provided in this section. When a prior conviction is stricken by the court for purposes of sentencing, the court shall specify the reason or reasons for the striking order. On appeal by the people from an order striking a prior conviction, it shall be conclusively presumed that the order was made only for the reasons specified in the order, and the order shall be reversed if there is no substantial basis in the record for any of those reasons.

(j) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 656.2 or 656.3 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisonment in the state prison or in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(k) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 658.5 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

SEC. 3. Section 773.7 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

773.7. The operator, or the operator's employee or agent, of a charter boat, prior to getting underway, shall orient each passenger concerning emergency procedures. A public announcement shall be made at the beginning of each trip to afford all passengers knowledge of the stowage location of life preservers, a demonstration of the proper method of donning and adjusting life preservers, the type and location of all lifesaving devices carried on the vessel, and the location of and contents of the emergency check-off list as prescribed in 46 C.F.R. 185.25-1. This public announcement shall be identified as a safety briefing in compliance with state law so as to differentiate it from a general information announcement.

SEC. 4. Section 773.8 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

773.8. (a) A charterer or operator who organizes charter boat trips shall inform each adult passenger as soon as practicable after the passenger contracts or pays for passage or boards the charter boat, whichever occurs first, that life jackets will be provided at the adult passenger's request. Adult and minor passengers shall be informed that life jackets are required to be worn at the direction of the operator or the operator's employee or agent.

(b) When leaving or returning to port, the operator shall use reasonable care in securing or causing to be secured objects which may cause injury to passengers.

SEC. 5. Section 774.2 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

774.2. The operation of Section 655, 773.5, 773.7, or 774.1 or subdivision (b) of Section 773.8 shall be suspended if the Coast Guard or other appropriate federal agency has adopted and is enforcing a substantially similar regulation which conflicts with those sections.

SEC. 6. Section 774.3 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

774.3. (a) Except as provided in Section 774, violation of any provision of this article is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for not more than six months in the county jail, or a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Any operator who violates any provision of this article shall be liable for a civil penalty of not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for each violation. The action shall be brought in the manner specified in Section 17206 of the Business and Professions Code.

(c) Any violation of this article may be enjoined by the manner specified in Section 17203 of the Business and Professions Code and a violation of an injunction may be punished to the extent provided in Section 17207 of the Business and Professions Code.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 911

An act to amend Section 4300 of the Civil Code, relating to marriage.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4300 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4300. (a) Before any person, who is authorized to issue marriage licenses, shall issue any such license, each applicant therefor shall file with him or her a certificate from a duly licensed physician stating that the applicant has been given such examination, including a standard serological test, as may be necessary for the discovery of syphilis, made not more than 30 days prior to the date of issuance of the license, and that, in the opinion of the physician, the person either is not infected with syphilis, or if so infected, is not in a stage of that disease which is or may become communicable to the marital partner.

(b) The certificate shall also state whether the female applicant has laboratory evidence of immunological response to rubella (German measles). The certificate shall not contain evidence of response to rubella where the female applicant (1) is over 50 years of age, or (2) has had a surgical sterilization or (3) presents laboratory evidence of a prior test declaring her immunity to rubella.

(c) The certificate shall indicate that a test, including any appropriate confirmatory tests for positive reactors, was offered to detect infection by the probable causative agent of acquired immune deficiency syndrome. It is the intention of the Legislature that the results of any such tests shall be transmitted to the marriage license applicant, and that follow-up counseling by a knowledgeable and experienced person shall be made available.

(d) When the results of any test performed in accordance with subdivision (c) to detect infection by the probable causative agent of AIDS are included in the medical record of the patient who is subject to the test, the inclusion is not a disclosure for purposes of Section 199.21 of the Health and Safety Code as long as it is recorded within a distinct and separate part of the medical record, which is available only to health care professionals working directly with the patient, and is only for the purposes of providing direct patient care. Disclosure of the distinct and separate part of the medical record, as described in this subdivision, shall not be made except as provided in Chapter 1.11 (commencing with Section 199.20) Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) Any person who by law is validly able to obtain a marriage license in the State of California is validly able to give consent to any examinations and tests required by this article. In submitting the blood specimen to the laboratory the physician shall designate that this is a premarital test.

CHAPTER 912

An act to amend Section 14016 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14016 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14016. (a) The county in which the person resides, except as specified in subdivision (d), shall determine the eligibility of each person pursuant to Sections 14005.1, 14005.4, and 14005.7 and Article 4.4 (commencing with Section 14140), except that the department may contract with the federal Social Security Administration for the determination of Medi-Cal eligibility of persons eligible under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. Upon termination of such assistance, the county shall determine whether the person remains eligible for Medi-Cal coverage under one of these sections.

(b) The department shall institute an eligibility quality control program, to verify the eligibility determination of a sample of persons in each county granted Medi-Cal eligibility under Section 14005.4, 14005.7, or 14005.8 or Article 4.4 (commencing with Section 14140).

(c) A review period shall be defined as one year and shall coincide with the federal fiscal year. The department shall draw a random sample of cases for each period. The random sample shall be drawn to ensure a minimum number of cases reviewed in each county in each review period according to the following:

(1) All cases shall be sampled in any county with less than 50 Medi-Cal cases.

(2) Fifty cases in any county with greater than 0.01 percent and less than or equal to .50 percent of the Medi-Cal cases.

(3) Seventy-five cases in any county with greater than .50 percent and less than or equal to 1 percent of the Medi-Cal cases.

(4) One hundred cases in any county with greater than 1 percent and less than or equal to 3 percent of the Medi-Cal cases.

(5) One hundred twenty-five cases in any county with greater than 3 percent and less than or equal to 10 percent of the Medi-Cal cases.

(6) Six hundred fifty cases in any county with greater than 10 percent of the Medi-Cal cases.

(d) When family members maintain separate residences, but eligibility is determined as a single unit because of the provisions of Section 14008, the county in which the parent or parents reside shall determine the eligibility for the entire unit.

(e) In administering the provisions of law and regulations related to eligibility determination the director shall impose such fiscal penalties as provided by this section to assure adequate county administrative performance.

(f) The director shall hold counties financially liable for payments made on behalf of ineligible persons or persons with an incorrect share of cost. When a sample case is found to include an ineligible person or a person with an understated share of cost, written notification shall be sent to the county department which describes the error and requests a written response within two weeks. The county shall indicate whether it agrees or disagrees with the findings. If the county disagrees, the department shall reevaluate the error findings, taking into consideration any additional facts contained in the county's response. The department shall again notify the county of the department's findings. If the county continues to disagree with the error findings, the county may appeal to the Chief of the Medi-Cal Policy Division, requesting that the department review the case and render a final decision. The director may reduce or waive the fiscal liability of a county if the department is unable to meet the minimum sample required, as defined in subdivision (c), or if an individual county experienced a natural disaster, job actions, or other occurrences which impacted the findings in an individual county as determined by the director.

(g) The department shall utilize the methodology detailed in this subdivision to establish counties' fiscal penalties. The department shall determine each county's case error rate for each review period by dividing the number of completed case reviews in that county found in error by the number of case reviews in that county. State caused errors shall be determined by the department and shall not be included in this calculation. Case error rates shall be arrayed from highest to lowest. From this array, the department shall determine the percentage of counties liable as follows:

(1) The 60 percent of counties with the highest case error rates shall be liable if the state's dollar error rate exceeds the federal standard by 0.01 percent to 1 percent.

(2) The 70 percent of counties with the highest case error rates shall be liable if the state's dollar error rate exceeds the federal standard by greater than 1 percent and less than or equal to 2 percent.

(3) The 80 percent of counties with the highest case error rates shall be liable if the state's dollar error rate exceeds the federal standard by greater than 2 percent and less than or equal to 3 percent.

(4) The 90 percent of counties with the highest case error rates shall be liable if the state's dollar error rate exceeds the federal standard by greater than 3 percent and less than or equal to 4 percent.

(5) All counties shall be liable if the state's dollar error rate exceeds the federal standard by greater than 4 percent.

As used herein, "the state's dollar error rate" means the Medicaid dollar error rate reported to the department by the United States Department of Health and Human Services, less any portion of this error rate attributable to state caused errors. The term "federal standard" means the Medicaid dollar error rate standard to which the state is held accountable.

For each county determined liable, the department shall calculate a penalty multiple which shall be the product of a liable county's case error rate multiplied by the liable county's percentage of statewide Medi-Cal cases. Each county's fiscal penalty shall be the product of a county's penalty multiple divided by the sum of all penalty multiples, multiplied times the penalty bank. The penalty bank includes only quality control federal fiscal sanctions, federal withholds, federal disallowances, and any associated General Fund expenditures, minus the value of any state assumed errors and the General Fund share of the value of client caused errors. The case error rate and penalty multiple shall be adjusted by excluding client errors for the purpose of determining the associated General Fund expenditures.

If, after the department has assessed penalties to counties, the federal government reduces or eliminates any quality control federal fiscal sanction, federal withhold or federal disallowance, the department shall reduce or eliminate the corresponding fiscal penalty assessment including any associated General Fund expenditures to liable counties.

(h) When a county welfare department contravenes state eligibility processing regulations and written instructions in a way that produces increased program benefits or administrative expenses but doesn't result in an increase in the eligibility dollar error rate, the director shall recoup from that county the additional administrative or program benefit costs above those which would have been incurred had that county not contravened the established state eligibility processing regulations and written instructions. This section shall not be construed to interfere with the rights of counties to out-station eligibility staff.

Notwithstanding the number of counties determined liable for fiscal penalties under this section, individual county corrective action plans as prescribed by the department shall be required from all counties which exceed a 15 percent case error rate.

(i) Any penalties imposed under this system shall be collected through direct repayment from liable counties rather than through any reduction in funds otherwise due to counties.

CHAPTER 913

An act relating to water resources development.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Department of Water Resources shall conduct a reconnaissance-level investigation of the transfer of water from the Imperial Irrigation District, through the process of water marketing, to the San Diego County Water Authority. The investigation shall include consideration of the various alternatives available to the Imperial Irrigation District to market surplus water to the San Diego County Water Authority. The investigation shall also include consideration of costs, energy use, and potential energy production for alternate use and disposal of waste water from the San Diego Metropolitan Sewerage System. To the extent that funds are available after the above matters have been evaluated, the investigation shall also include consideration of the potential transfer of reclaimed water from San Diego County for use for environmental or irrigation purposes. The department shall perform the investigation within the limits of its existing resources and shall not expend more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) on the investigation. The department shall report to the Legislature not later than January 1, 1990, on the results of the investigation.

CHAPTER 914

An act to amend Sections 25244.6 and 25244.10 of, and to repeal and add Article 3 (commencing with Section 25130) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 3 (commencing with Section 25130) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Article 3 (commencing with Section 25130) is added to Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 3. Hazardous Waste Resource and Research Coordination Program

25130. The department shall establish the Hazardous Waste Resource and Research Coordination Program, which consists of the following two components:

(a) A data base containing information on known hazardous waste research being conducted within the state pursuant to Section 25131.

(b) A pool of research consultants qualified in the field of hazardous waste management established pursuant to Section 25132.

25131. (a) The department shall assemble a bibliographic cross-referenced data base containing all of the following information on known hazardous waste research programs which are ongoing within the state:

(1) The institution or organization sponsoring the research program.

(2) The principal investigators conducting the research.

(3) A brief description of the research, including anticipated applications of the resulting information.

(4) The specific problems facing hazardous waste generators that the research is designed to address, including, but not limited to, specific hazardous waste streams or specific production processes.

(5) A summary of results already achieved by the research program.

(6) The date on which the program began, and its expected completion date.

(b) The department shall update the data base annually, and the department shall make the information in the data base available to the public at a cost not greater than the department's printing and mailing costs.

25132. (a) The department shall establish and maintain a pool of research consultants expert in the field of hazardous waste management. The department may consult with the individual members of the pool to develop a directed approach to research in hazardous waste management. This approach shall include, but is not limited to, emphasis on interdisciplinary research into the relationships between air, water, and soils as media for the spread of hazardous substances and toxic effects in the environment. The department may utilize these research consultants as needed to implement this chapter.

(b) Individual research consultants within the pool may receive compensation as determined by the department, including per diem and reimbursement for travel expenses incurred as a result of official business.

SEC. 3. Section 25244.6 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25244.6. The department, in consultation with the State Water Resources Control Board, the State Air Resources Board, and the California Waste Management Board, shall do all of the following:

(a) Implement a program to research, develop, and demonstrate hazardous waste reduction, recycling, and treatment technologies at appropriate locations throughout the state.

(b) On or before January 1, 1987, and, in consultation with industry and interested parties, adopt criteria for selecting projects which would receive grants to pay for the construction of equipment which would be used to demonstrate hazardous waste reduction, recycling, or treatment technologies. The criteria shall include provisions which require that, in assessing each project, the department consider the feasibility of the project's particular technology, the research and technical spinoffs likely to be generated by the project, the degree to which the findings of the projects can be disseminated and evaluated for replication elsewhere, and the consistency of, and contributions of, the project to the state's hazardous waste management program.

(c) Using the criteria adopted pursuant to subdivision (b), select projects to receive grants to construct equipment which would be used to demonstrate hazardous waste reduction, recycling, or treatment technologies. A grant issued by the department pursuant to this section is not subject to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 10290) of Part 2 of the Public Contract Code, including, but not limited to, Section 10295 of the Public Contract Code, or Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 4525) of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code. The department shall select projects which also meet at least one of the following requirements:

(1) The project has onsite, as well as offsite potential, for the reduction, recycling, or treatment of hazardous waste.

(2) The project has the potential to benefit, or be utilized by, small businesses.

(3) The project is applicable to a range of industries.

SEC. 4. Section 25244.10 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25244.10. The department may issue grants to, and enter into contracts with, universities, governmental agencies, and private organizations to research and develop hazardous waste reduction, recycling, or treatment technology. These grants may be applied to personnel, equipment, and administrative costs and shall, to the extent possible, be used to augment other sources of research and development funding, including federal and private funds. Any grant issued by the department pursuant to this section is not subject to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 10290) of Part 2 of the Public Contract Code, including, but not limited to, Section 10295 of the Public Contract Code, but a contract entered into pursuant to this section is subject to all applicable state laws governing contracts.

CHAPTER 915

An act to amend Sections 6006 and 6010 of, and to add Chapter 2.8 (commencing with Section 17070) to Part 10 of Division 2, of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Condit-Mello-McClintock Tax Rebate Act of 1987.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that the revenues received by the state during the 1986–87 fiscal year have exceeded the appropriations limit determined pursuant to Article XIII B of the California Constitution. The Legislature further finds and declares that Chapter 2.8 (commencing with Section 17070) of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code implements the mandatory disposition of those excess revenues pursuant to Section 2 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution.

In this connection, the Legislature finds and declares that every taxpayer incurred California sales and use tax liability during the 1986–87 fiscal year in connection with the purchase or use of various taxable necessity items, including clothing, furniture, household goods, durables, nonprescription drugs, sundries, gasoline, and restaurant meals. The Legislature further finds and declares that the tax rebate provided by Section 17070 of the Revenue and Taxation Code to certain taxpayers who had no or a very small amount of California personal income tax liability for the 1986 taxable year constitutes a return to them of a portion of the sales and use taxes paid by them during the 1986–87 fiscal year.

Thus, the Legislature further finds and declares that the tax rebate provided by Chapter 2.8 (commencing with Section 17070) of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is for the purpose of meeting the requirements of Section 2 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution and constitutes a return of excess revenues which is substantially equivalent in value and effect to a revision of tax rates.

SEC. 3. Section 6006 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6006. "Sale" means and includes:

(a) Any transfer of title or possession, exchange, or barter, conditional or otherwise, in any manner or by any means whatsoever, of tangible personal property for a consideration. "Transfer of possession" includes only transactions found by the board to be in lieu of a transfer of title, exchange, or barter.

(b) The producing, fabricating, processing, printing, or imprinting of tangible personal property for a consideration for consumers who furnish either directly or indirectly the materials used in the producing, fabricating, processing, printing, or imprinting.

(c) The furnishing and distributing of tangible personal property for a consideration by social clubs and fraternal organizations to their members or others.

(d) The furnishing, preparing, or serving for a consideration of food, meals, or drinks.

(e) A transaction whereby the possession of property is transferred but the seller retains the title as security for the payment of the price.

(f) A transfer for a consideration of the title or possession of tangible personal property which has been produced, fabricated, or printed to the special order of the customer, or of any publication.

(g) Any lease of tangible personal property in any manner or by any means whatsoever, for a consideration, except a lease of:

(1) Motion pictures or animated motion pictures, including television, films, and tapes.

(2) Linen supplies and similar articles when an essential part of the lease agreement is the furnishing of the recurring service of laundering or cleaning the articles.

(3) Household furnishings with a lease of the living quarters in which they are to be used.

(4) Mobile transportation equipment for use in transportation of persons or property as defined in Section 6023.

(5) Tangible personal property leased in substantially the same form as acquired by the lessor or leased in substantially the same form as acquired by a transferor, as to which the lessor or transferor has paid sales tax reimbursement or has paid use tax measured by the purchase price of the property. For purposes of this paragraph,

"transferor" shall mean the following:

(A) A person from whom the lessor acquired the property in a transaction described in subdivision (b) of Section 6006.5.

(B) A decedent from whom the lessor acquired the property by will or the laws of succession.

(6) A mobilehome, as defined in Sections 18008 and 18211 of the Health and Safety Code, other than a mobilehome originally sold new prior to July 1, 1980, and not subject to local property taxation.

(7) Paragraphs (1) and (5) and Section 6094.1 shall not apply to rentals or leases of video cassettes, video tapes, and video discs for private use under which the lessee or renter does not obtain or acquire the right to license, broadcast, exhibit, or reproduce the video cassette, video tape, or video disc.

SEC. 4. Section 6010 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6010. "Purchase" means and includes:

(a) Any transfer of title or possession, exchange, or barter, conditional or otherwise, in any manner or by any means whatsoever, of tangible personal property for a consideration. "Transfer of possession" includes only transactions found by the board to be in lieu of a transfer of title, exchange, or barter.

(b) When performed outside this state or when the customer gives a resale certificate pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 6091) of Chapter 2, the producing, fabricating, processing, printing, or imprinting of tangible personal property for a consideration for consumers who furnish either directly or indirectly the materials used in the producing, fabricating, processing, printing, or imprinting.

(c) A transaction whereby the possession of property is transferred but the seller retains the title as security for the payment of the price.

(d) A transfer for a consideration of tangible personal property which has been produced, fabricated, or printed to the special order of the customer, or of any publication.

(e) Any lease of tangible personal property in any manner or by any means whatsoever, for consideration, except a lease of:

(1) Motion pictures or animated motion pictures, including television, films, and tapes.

(2) Linen supplies and similar articles when an essential part of the lease agreement is the furnishing of the recurring service of laundering or cleaning the articles.

(3) Household furnishings with a lease of the living quarters in which they are to be used.

(4) Mobile transportation equipment for use in transportation of persons or property as defined in Section 6023.

(5) Tangible personal property leased in substantially the same form as acquired by the lessor or leased in substantially the same form as acquired by a transferor, as to which the lessor or transferor has paid sales tax reimbursement or has paid use tax measured by the purchase price of the property. For purposes of this paragraph, "transferor" shall mean the following:

(A) A person from whom the lessor acquired the property in a transaction described in subdivision (b) of Section 6006.5.

(B) A decedent from whom the lessor acquired the property by will or the laws of succession.

(6) A mobilehome, as defined in Sections 18008 and 18211 of the Health and Safety Code, other than a mobilehome originally sold new prior to July 1, 1980, and not subject to local property taxation.

(7) Paragraphs (1) and (5) and Section 6094.1 shall not apply to rentals or leases of video cassettes, video tapes, and video discs for private use under which the lessee or renter does not obtain or acquire the right to license, broadcast, exhibit, or reproduce the video cassette, video tape, or video disc.

SEC. 5. It is the intent of the Legislature that the State Board of Equalization in promulgating regulations affecting the imposition of the Sales and Use Tax Law on the production of animated motion pictures, determine that charges for animation, as used in the production of animated motion pictures, are not taxable.

As used in this section, "animation" includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(a) The drawing of step-by-step scenes necessary to produce the entire action.

(b) Inking or painting, or both, consisting of the tracing or painting of scenes prepared in subdivision (a) on celluloid cells.

(c) Photographing the cells in subdivision (b) on a continuous roll of film.

SEC. 6. The Legislature finds and declares that Sections 3 and 4 of this act do not constitute a change in, but are declaratory of, the existing law.

SEC. 7. An amount sufficient to pay the tax rebates required pursuant to Section 17070 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is hereby appropriated from the Appropriations Limit Impound Account in the General Fund to the Controller for that purpose. For purposes of subdivision (a) of Section 8 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution, the appropriation made by this section shall be deemed to be a refund of taxes.

SEC. 8. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund the sum of six million nine hundred thousand dollars ($6,900,000) for allocation as follows:

(1) Four million seven hundred thousand dollars ($4,700,000) to the Controller in augmentation of Item 0840-001-001 of the Budget Act of 1987.

(2) Two million two hundred thousand dollars ($2,200,000) to the Franchise Tax Board in augmentation of Item 1730-001-001 of the Budget Act of 1987.

SEC. 9. This act shall become operative only if Senate Bill 47 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is chaptered.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide funding to complete in sufficient time the tax rebate program established by Section 17070 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 916

An act to amend Section 199.81 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 199.81 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

199.81. The State Department of Education shall provide information to school districts on acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), on AIDS-related conditions, and on Hepatitis B. This information shall include, but not be limited to, any appropriate methods school employees may employ to prevent exposure to AIDS and Hepatitis B, including information concerning the availability of a vaccine to prevent contraction of Hepatitis B, and that the cost of vaccination may be covered by the health plan benefits of the employees. This information shall be compiled and updated annually, or if there is new information, more frequently, by the State Department of Education in conjunction with the State Department of Health Services and in consultation with the California Conference of Local Health Officers. In order to reduce costs, this information may be included as an insert with other regular mailings to the extent practicable, and the information required to be provided on Hepatitis B shall be provided in conjunction with the information required to be provided on AIDS.

CHAPTER 917

An act to amend Sections 1621, 1623, 16090, 35015, 35111, 35700, 35756.5, 39617, 39802, 41002, 41341, 42120, 42122, 42125, 42126, 42127, 42239, 42600, 42601, 42602, 42610, 42810, 42840, 42842, 46013.7, 48206.3, 52321, 52501.5, 54444.2, and 56827 of, to add Section 39618.5 to, to repeal Section 46013.9 of, and to repeal and add Section 33003 of, the Education Code, to amend and renumber Section 19994.9 of the Government Code, to amend Item 6100-101-001 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1987, and to amend Section 4 of Chapter 1258 of the Statutes of 1986, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1621 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1621. On or before the date specified by the Superintendent of Public Instruction each year, the county board of education shall file with the Superintendent of Public Instruction a single-fund tentative budget showing all the purposes for which the county school service fund will need money.

The budget may also contain a general reserve in that sum as the county board of education may deem sufficient to meet the cash requirements of the next succeeding fiscal year until adequate proceeds of the taxes levied or apportionment of state funds are available.

The budget may also contain a designated fund balance which may be designated for any specific purpose as determined by the county board of education. Those funds shall be available for appropriation by a majority vote of the members of the county board of education.

The budget may also contain an unappropriated fund balance which shall be available for appropriation by a majority vote of the members of the county board of education to cover expenditures that have not been provided for, that have been insufficiently provided for, or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise.

The single fund tentative budget shall include estimated cash balances, estimated apportionments from the State School Fund, and an estimate of revenues from sources other than taxes on the secured roll of the equalized assessment roll of the county.

SEC. 3. Section 1623 of the Education Code is amended to read:

1623. (a) The county board of education shall hold a public hearing on the county school service fund budget. The public hearing shall be held any day on or before September 15, but at least three days following the availability of the proposed budget for public inspection. Notification of dates, times, and location, or locations at which the proposed budget may be inspected by the public shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published within the county. The notification shall be no earlier than August 1, nor later than August 31, but not less than 10 days prior to the date set for the hearing. The cost of publication shall be a proper and legal charge against the county school service fund and shall not exceed the rate fixed by the board of supervisors for official advertising. The published notice shall include the time, place, and purpose of the public hearing, and other information that may be determined by the county board of education, and shall state that any taxpayer directly affected by the county school service fund budget may appear before the county board of education and speak to the proposed budget or any item therein.

Following the public hearing, the final budget shall be adopted by the county board of education and filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the board of supervisors, and the county auditor.

(b) On or before November 1, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall approve the county office budget after doing the following:

(1) Examining the adopted final budget to determine that proposed expenditures do not exceed the anticipated revenues and that the anticipated revenues are realistic.

(2) Examining the adopted final budget and suggesting, if necessary, any technical corrections needed to bring the budget into compliance with school financial and budget reporting requirements as prescribed in the California School Accounting Manual.

(c) If, after examining the final adopted budget of a county office of education, it is the opinion of the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the proposed expenditures will exceed anticipated revenues as described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) or that specific technical corrections as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) should be made, he or she shall, by November 1, transmit to the county superintendent of schools, in writing, his or her recommendations and the reasons therefor.

(d) The county superintendent of schools and county board of education shall, by November 30, do the following:

(1) Review the recommendations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at a regularly scheduled meeting of the county board of education.

(2) Respond to the recommendations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The response shall include the proposed actions to be taken, if any, as a result of the recommendations of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SEC. 4. Section 16090 of the Education Code is amended to read:

16090. The board of supervisors of the county, the county superintendent of which has jurisdiction over any district which under this chapter will have moneys withheld by the Controller from the apportionments to be made to it from the State School Fund during any fiscal year, shall annually at the time the board of supervisors makes the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy a tax upon the property in the district sufficient to raise for the district the amount of money to be withheld by the Controller during the fiscal year in which the tax is levied. Effective July 1, 1988, that tax, when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury of the county, the county superintendent of schools of which has jurisdiction over the district for which the tax was levied, to the credit of a separate fund of the district to be known as the Tax Override Fund.

SEC. 5. Section 33003 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 33003 is added to the Education Code, to read:

33003. The board, through its own bylaws, shall provide for its operation and organization, including, but not limited to, the election of its officers and the establishment of its committees.

SEC. 7. Section 35015 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35015. As prescribed in subdivision (g) of Section 35035, the governing board of each school district shall certify, within 45 days after the close of the period being reported, in writing whether or not the school district is able to meet its financial obligations for the remainder of the fiscal year. These certifications shall be based upon the board's assessment of the district's probable cash within the county treasury and the district's probable unrestricted fund balances that will be available for meeting their obligations. The certifications shall be classified as positive, qualified, or negative certifications, as prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the purposes of determining subsequent state agency actions pursuant to Section 35105.1. These certifications shall be based upon the financial and budgetary reports required by subdivision (g) of Section 35035 but may include additional financial information known by the governing board to exist at the time of each certification. A copy of each certification shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools. Copies of any certification in which the governing board is unable to certify unqualifiedly that these financial obligations will be met shall be sent to the Controller and the Superintendent of Public Instruction at the time of the certification, together with a completed transmittal form provided by the Controller. County superintendents shall comment within 75 days of the close of the reporting period on all school district certifications that are classified as qualified or negative pursuant to this section and send those comments to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Controller.

SEC. 8. Section 35111 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35111. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), when a governing board has adopted a resolution specified in Section 35110, the elementary school district and the high school district shall be deemed to be a single school district for all purposes, including, but not limited to, budget and personnel matters, and the governing board shall be deemed to be the governing board of a single school district.

(b) When a governing board has adopted a resolution pursuant to Section 35110, the school districts under its jurisdiction shall continue to be treated as separate school districts for purposes of computing state apportionments and allowances, and allocations of local property tax revenue.

(c) When a governing board has adopted a resolution pursuant to Section 35110, the school districts under its jurisdiction shall continue to hold title to the property of each district separately and any indebtedness for such property shall remain in the indebtedness of each separate district.

(d) When a governing board has adopted a resolution pursuant to Section 35110, the school districts under its jurisdiction shall publish annually, in a newspaper of local circulation, the general fund income and expenses of both districts. The publication documents shall indicate the amount transferred to each district pursuant to Section 35112 from the combined special reserve of both districts. The governing board shall adopt a resolution authorizing the specific transfers pursuant to Section 35112 at the time of the final budget adoption.

(e) For the purpose of Section 53892.1 of the Government Code, common governing boards, as described in Section 35110, shall be reported as one single educational entity.

SEC. 9. Section 35700 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35700. An action to reorganize one or more districts is initiated upon the filing, with the county superintendent of schools, of a petition to reorganize one or more school districts signed by any of the following:

(a) At least 25 percent of the registered voters residing in the territory proposed to be reorganized if the territory is inhabited. Where the petition is to reorganize territory in two or more school districts, the petition shall be signed by at least 25 percent of the registered voters in that territory in each of those districts.

(b) The owner of the property, provided that territory is uninhabited and the owner thereof has filed either a tentative subdivision map with the appropriate county or city agency or an application for any project, as defined in Section 21065 of the Public Resources Code, with one or more local agencies.

(c) A majority of the members of the governing boards of each of the districts that would be affected by the proposed reorganization.

SEC. 10. Section 35756.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

35756.5. In the case of the transfer of territory from one district to another, if the transfer is opposed by the governing boards of one or more of the districts affected with an average daily attendance of 900 or less, the territory in which the election is held shall include the entire territory of the districts opposing the transfer. Each district with an average daily attendance of 900 or less which is included in an election because of the objection of its governing board to the transfer shall bear the additional cost of holding the election in that portion of its territory not otherwise included in the election. When a majority of the votes cast in the school district opposing the transfer and a majority of the votes cast in the entire territory in which the election is held are in favor of the reorganization, the proposal carries.

SEC. 11. Section 39617 of the Education Code is amended to read:

39617. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the quality of protective equipment worn by participants in high school interscholastic football is a significant factor in the occurrence of injuries to such participants and that it is therefore necessary to insure minimum standards of quality for the equipment in order to prevent unnecessary injuries to such participants.

(b) No football helmets shall be worn by participants in high school interscholastic football unless the equipment has been certified for use by the National Operating Committee on Standards for Athletic Equipment or any other recognized certifying agency in the field.

This section shall not be construed as relieving school districts from the duty of maintaining football protective equipment in a safe and serviceable condition.

SEC. 11.5. Section 39618.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

39618.5. Notwithstanding Section 39618, whenever the state funds provided pursuant to Sections 39619 and 39619.2 are insufficient to fully match the local funds deposited in the deferred maintenance fund, the governing board of each school district may transfer the excess local funds deposited in that fund to any other expenditure classifications in other funds of the district. A resolution providing for the transfer shall be approved by a two-thirds vote of the governing board members and filed with the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor.

SEC. 12. Section 39802 of the Education Code is amended to read:

39802. In order to procure the service at the lowest possible figure consistent with proper and satisfactory service, the governing board shall, whenever an expenditure of more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) is involved, secure bids pursuant to Sections 20111 and 20112 of the Public Contract Code whenever it is contemplated that a contract may be made with a person or corporation other than a common carrier or a municipally owned transit system or a parent or guardian of the pupils to be transported. The governing board may let the contract for the service to other than the lowest bidder.

SEC. 13. Section 41002 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41002. All moneys received by any school district or paid into the county or city and county treasury to the credit of the district from state apportionments, county, district or municipal taxes, other than moneys required to be placed in a separate fund of the school district, shall be deposited in the general fund of the district, which fund shall be in existence in each county and city and county treasury.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as discontinuing, nor as affecting the disposition of moneys in any of the separate funds of the school districts legally created or established in law.

SEC. 14. Section 41341 of the Education Code is amended to read:

41341. If during any fiscal year there is apportioned to a school district or to any fund from the State School Fund at least one hundred dollars ($100) more or at least one hundred dollars ($100) less than the amount to which the district or fund was entitled, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in accordance with regulations that he or she is herewith authorized to adopt, not later than the third succeeding fiscal year from the fiscal year in which the computational error was made shall withhold from, or add to, the apportionment made during that fiscal year, the amount of the excess or deficiency, as the case may be. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code to the contrary, excesses withheld or deficiencies added by the Superintendent of Public Instruction under this section shall be added to or allowed from any portion of the State School Fund except that portion reserved as allowances for basic state aid.

SEC. 15. Section 42120 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42120. As used in this article, "budget" includes the tentative budget and the final budget of a school district.

SEC. 16. Section 42122 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42122. Effective July 1, 1988, each budget shall show a complete plan and itemized statement of all proposed expenditures of the school district and of all estimated revenues for the ensuing fiscal year, together with a comparison of revenues and expenditures for the existing fiscal year. The county superintendent of schools shall from his or her own records supply to the school district any information that the school district may need to make the comparisons required by this section.

SEC. 16.5. Section 42122 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42122. Effective July 1, 1988, each budget shall show a complete plan and itemized statement of all proposed expenditures of the school district and of all estimated revenues for the ensuing fiscal year, together with a comparison of revenues and expenditures for the existing fiscal year. The budget shall also include the appropriations limit and the total annual appropriations subject to limitation as determined pursuant to Division 9 (commencing with Section 7900) of Title 1 of the Government Code. The county superintendent of schools shall from his or her own records supply to the school district any information that the school district may need to make the comparisons required by this section.

SEC. 17. Section 42125 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42125. The budget may contain amounts to be known as the designated fund balance, which may be designated for any specific purpose as determined by the governing board of the school district, and the unappropriated fund balance. These funds shall be available for appropriation by a majority vote of the members of the governing board, to cover expenditures that have not been provided for or that may have been insufficiently provided for, or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise.

SEC. 18. Section 42126 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42126. Effective July 1, 1988, each budget shall be made on the number of forms and upon the blanks or in the format prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to prepare standard forms or a format necessary to show the budgeting items and comparisons required by this article. The required forms or format shall be furnished to the school districts by the county superintendent of schools.

SEC. 19. Section 42127 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42127. (a) On or before the first day in July in each year, each school district shall file a tentative budget with the county superintendent of schools.

(1) The budget shall indicate the date, time, and location at which the governing board of the district will hold the public hearing required pursuant to Section 42103.

(2) If the governing board of the district does not want all or a portion of the property tax requirement levied for the purpose of making payments for the interest and principal on outstanding general obligation bonds or other indebtedness approved by the voters prior to July 1, 1978, the budget shall include a statement of the amount or portion for which a levy shall not be made.

(b) On or before August 1, in each year, the county superintendent of schools:

(1) Shall examine and make technical corrections to the tentative budget and indicate changes he or she deems desirable or necessary to determine any tax requirement.

(2) Shall make any recommendations he or she deems necessary to ensure that the proposed expenditures do not exceed the anticipated revenues and that the anticipated revenues are realistic, and shall transmit to the governing board a written explanation of the reasons for those recommended changes.

(3) May make written recommendations as to anticipated revenues at any time prior to final adoption of the budget by the governing board of the district.

(4) May accept changes in the date, time, or location of the public hearing pursuant to Section 42103 and changes in the statement required by paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of the amount or portion for which a property tax levy shall not be made.

(c) The county superintendent or the county auditor shall compute the actual amounts to be levied on the property tax rolls of the district for purposes which exceed apportionments to the district pursuant to Sections 95 to 100, inclusive, of the Revenue and Taxation Code. Each school district shall provide all data needed by the county superintendent or the county auditor to compute the amounts. On or before August 15, the county superintendent shall transmit the amounts so computed to the county auditor who shall compute the tax rates necessary to produce the amounts. On or before September

1, the county auditor shall submit the rate so computed to the board of supervisors for adoption.

(d) On or before September 15, the governing board of each school district shall adopt a final budget including any tax requirements computed pursuant to subdivision (c) as adjusted by paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 42127 and shall file that budget with the county superintendent of schools.

(e) On or before November 1, the county superintendent shall approve the adopted final budget for each school district after doing the following:

(1) Examining the adopted final budget to determine that the proposed expenditures do not exceed the anticipated revenues, including prior year ending balances, and that the anticipated revenues are realistic.

(2) Examining the adopted final budget and suggesting, if necessary, any technical corrections needed to bring the budget into compliance with school financial and budget reporting requirements as prescribed in the California School Accounting Manual.

(f) If, after examining the adopted final budget of a school district, it is the opinion of the county superintendent that proposed expenditures will exceed anticipated revenues, including prior year ending balances, as described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e), or that specific technical corrections as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (e) should be made, he or she shall, by November 1, transmit to the governing board, in writing, his or her recommendations and the reasons therefor.

(g) The superintendent and district governing board shall, by November 30, do all of the following:

(1) Review the recommendations of the county superintendent of schools at a regularly scheduled meeting of the governing board.

(2) Respond to the recommendations of the county superintendent. The response shall include the proposed actions to be taken, if any, as a result of the county superintendent's recommendations.

(h) On or before November 30, the county superintendent of schools shall transmit a copy of each district's adopted final budget to the county auditor. Further, he or she shall transmit to the Superintendent of Public Instruction a copy of each district's adopted final budget, if he or she provided the district governing board recommendations deemed to be significant and the governing board did not take actions he or she deemed appropriate. Accompanying these budgets shall be a copy of the county superintendent's recommendations and the school district's response to those recommendations as prescribed by paragraph (2) of subdivision (g).

SEC. 20. Section 42239 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42239. For the 1984–85 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the county superintendent shall compute an amount for each school district's summer school attendance in the following manner:

(a) Divide the amount received on account of average daily attendance pursuant to Section 42238.6 in the 1983–84 fiscal year by the 1983–84 fiscal year hours of attendance. This amount shall be increased annually by the percentage increase granted to school districts for base revenue limit increases.

(b) Multiply the amount computed in subdivision (a) by the lesser of the 1983–84 fiscal year hours of summer school attendance or the actual fiscal year hours of summer school attendance computed pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(c) If the fiscal year hours of summer school attendance computed pursuant to subdivision (d) exceed the hours of summer school attendance specified in subdivision (b), multiply the increased hours by one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50). This amount shall be increased annually by the percentage increase granted to school districts for base revenue limit increases.

(d) Commencing in the 1984–85 fiscal year, summer school attendance shall be the sum of paragraphs (1) and (2):

(1) The hours of attendance in the categories identified in Section 42238.6 as it read in the 1983–84 fiscal year.

(2) Any summer school hours of attendance for mathematics, science, or other core academic areas designated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(e) (1) A school district's maximum entitlement for reimbursement for pupil attendance in summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) shall be an amount equal to 5 percent of the district's total enrollment for the prior fiscal year times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the current fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c).

(2) A district may enroll more than 5 percent of its students, or may enroll students for more than 120 hours per year in summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d), as long as the total state apportionment to the district for those programs does not exceed the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (1). A district shall earn its entitlement at the per pupil hourly rate pursuant to subdivision (c).

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, classes may be convened pursuant to this section at the hours and for the length of time during the schoolday, and at the period and for the length of time during the school year, as may be determined by the governing board of the school district.

SEC. 21. Section 42600 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42600. The total amount budgeted as the proposed expenditure of the school district for each major classification of school district expenditures listed in the school district budget forms prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be the maximum amount which may be expended for that classification of expenditures for the school year. Transfers may be made from the designated fund balance or the unappropriated fund balance to any expenditure classification or between expenditure classifications at any time by written resolution of the board of education of any school district governed by a board of education, when filed with the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor, or by written resolution of the board of trustees of any school district not governed by a board of education, when approved by the county superintendent of schools and filed with the county auditor. A resolution providing for the transfers specified in this section shall be approved by a majority vote of the members of the governing board. Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting Sections 42204 and 85112.

SEC. 22. Section 42601 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42601. At the close of any school year a school district may, with the approval of the governing board, identify and request the county superintendent of schools to make the transfers between the designated fund balance or the unappropriated fund balance and any expenditure classification or classifications, or balance any expenditure classifications of the budget of the district for that school year as necessary to permit the payment of obligations of the district incurred during that school year. For those school districts with an average daily attendance of 2,500 or less, the county superintendent of schools, with the consent of the governing board of the school district, may identify and make the transfers.

SEC. 23. Section 42602 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42602. Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 42600 and 42610 or any provision of this code to the contrary, the governing board of any school district may, by a majority vote of its membership, and with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, budget and use any unbudgeted income provided during the fiscal year from any source.

SEC. 24. Section 42610 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42610. Any amounts added to the general reserve of the school district in excess of the amount already budgeted shall not be available for appropriation by the school district for the current fiscal year except by the following procedure. The governing board of the school district shall, by formal action of the board, pass a resolution setting forth the need according to major classification of school district expenditures to be met from any portion of the general reserve derived from assured income in excess of the total amount anticipated in the budget. The resolution shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools.

The county superintendent of schools shall approve any resolution for the appropriation of income to the extent that the income was not anticipated in the budget of the school district.

On the first day of July of each year, the general reserve together with unexpended balances of appropriations and income in excess of anticipated income for the preceding fiscal year shall be placed to the credit of the school district, and the school district shall include all money so credited in the balance shown in the budget for the ensuing fiscal year.

SEC. 25. Section 42810 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42810. In addition to establishing or maintaining a revolving cash fund under the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 42800) of this chapter, the governing board of any school district may, by resolution, establish revolving cash funds for use by school principals and other administrative officials designated by the governing board and acting in accordance with regulations prescribed by the governing board, for services or matériel and for the purposes specified in Section 45167. The resolution shall set forth the necessity for the revolving cash funds, the principals of schools and other administrative officials of the school district designated by the governing board, the purposes for which the revolving cash funds shall be made available, and the amount of the funds. No funds maintained in any revolving cash fund established pursuant to this section shall be available for the purposes of attempting to influence government decisions, entertainment, or any other purpose not related to classroom instruction. The total amount of the funds for each district shall not exceed 3 percent of the current year's instructional supply budget.

The governing board of any school district may establish a checking account for the revolving fund in one or more banks. The account shall be established in the custody of the principal or other administrative official designated by the governing board for whose use the revolving cash fund is created. The principal or administrative official in whose name the revolving cash fund is created shall be responsible for all expenditures therefrom, subject to regulations that the governing board prescribes. The governing board shall provide for an audit of the funds on a regular basis.

The revolving cash fund for supplies shall be subject to the bonding provisions of Section 42801.

SEC. 26. Section 42840 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42840. The governing board of a school district may provide for the accumulation over a period of school years of funds for capital outlay purposes and salaries of school district employees whose work is directly related to projects financed by those funds, derived from the receipt of taxes levied for the district and from other sources including balances, and not required to be used for other than capital outlay purposes.

The governing board of a school district may also provide for the accumulation over a period of school years of funds for other than capital outlay purposes, derived from the receipt of taxes levied for the district and from other sources including balances, and not required to be used for capital outlay purposes.

SEC. 27. Section 42842 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42842. The governing board may expend the money in the special reserve fund for capital outlay for the purpose or purposes specified in any resolution filed pursuant to Section 42841 unless the purpose has been withdrawn pursuant to that section. In addition, unless actually encumbered for ongoing expenses, the governing board may expend the money in the fund for the general operating purposes of the district.

The governing board of a school district may expend the money in the special reserve fund for other than capital outlay in accordance with this section.

SEC. 29. Section 46013.7 of the Education Code is amended to read:

46013.7. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may authorize 30 schools in 28 school districts to continue to use the attendance accounting and reporting procedures prescribed by Section 46013 for the 1985–86 school year through the 1993–94 school year, and shall not require these districts to keep parallel attendance accounting and reporting procedures as required under existing laws otherwise applicable. Subsequent to the 1982–83 fiscal year, no school district shall be eligible to receive a revenue limit increase pursuant to Section 46013.

SEC. 30. Section 46013.9 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 31. Section 48206.3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

48206.3. (a) Except for those pupils receiving individual instruction provided pursuant to Section 48206.5, a pupil with a temporary disability which makes attendance in the regular day classes or alternative education program in which the pupil is enrolled impossible or inadvisable shall receive individual instruction provided by the district in which the pupil is deemed to reside.

(b) For purposes of this section and Sections 48206.5, 48207, and 48208, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Individual instruction" means instruction provided to an individual pupil in a hospital or other residential health facility, excluding state hospitals, the pupil's home, or under other circumstances prescribed by regulations adopted for that purpose by the State Board of Education.

(2) "Temporary disability" means a physical, mental, or emotional disability incurred while a pupil is enrolled in regular day classes or an alternative education program, and after which the pupil can reasonably be expected to return to regular day classes or the alternative education program without special intervention. A temporary disability shall not include a disability for which a pupil is identified as an individual with exceptional needs pursuant to Section 56026.

(c) (1) For purposes of computing average daily attendance pursuant to Section 42238.5, each clock hour of teaching time devoted to individual instruction shall count as one day of attendance.

(2) No pupil shall be credited with more than five days of attendance per calendar week, or more than the total number of calendar days that regular classes are maintained by the district in any fiscal year.

(d) Notice of the availability of individualized instruction shall be given pursuant to Section 48980.

SEC. 32. Section 52321 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52321. (a) A regional occupational center or program established and maintained by school districts or joint powers agencies pursuant to Section 52301 shall receive in annual operating funds from each of the participating school districts an amount per unit of average daily attendance equal to the revenue limit received by those districts for each unit of average daily attendance generated in the regional occupational center or program.

A regional occupational center or program established and maintained by a county superintendent of schools pursuant to Section 52301 shall receive funding pursuant to Section 2550. A county superintendent of schools shall report average daily attendance to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for that funding.

(b) Any regional occupational center or program is authorized to (1) budget and accumulate an amount necessary to meet the cash flow needs of the regional occupational center or program known as a general reserve, and (2) budget and accumulate amounts known as the designated fund balance and as the unappropriated fund balance; or, for regional occupational centers or programs established and maintained by school districts or joint powers agencies, to budget an amount necessary to meet long-term program needs of the regional occupational center or program known as capital outlay expenditures or equipment replacement. At the end of any given school year, subject to the exception provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c), the net ending balance may be distributed to any of the reserved accounts, provided that the combined total transferred does not exceed 15 percent of the previous year's expenditures.

(1) The general reserve, the designated fund balance, the unappropriated fund balance, and the capital outlay expenditures or equipment replacement reserved account shall be available for appropriation only after approval by a majority vote of the governing body of the regional occupational center or program.

(2) Funds of regional occupational centers or programs established and maintained by school districts or joint powers agencies shall be distributed to the capital outlay expenditures or equipment replacement reserve account only upon adoption by the governing board of a resolution specifying the general use to which each appropriation from the account would be put.

(c) (1) With the exception of the 1988–89 fiscal year, at the end of any given school year the combined net ending balances of the general reserve, the designated fund balance, and the unappropriated fund balance in excess of 15 percent of the previous fiscal year's expenditures shall be returned to the districts participating in the regional occupational center or program in proportion to the district's contribution to the regional occupational center or program. The county superintendent of schools shall reduce the revenue limit of the districts by an amount equal to the excess reserves which are required to be returned to the districts. Net ending balances in excess of 15 percent, except those funds specifically set aside by the board and restricted to capital outlay expenditures or equipment replacement, in county-operated regional occupational centers or programs shall reduce the revenue limit of the county superintendent program by an amount equal to the excess reserves in that program. For the 1988–89 fiscal year only, the 1987–88 fiscal year net ending balance for the regional occupational center or program shall be carried forward to the 1988–89 fiscal year with no limit applied if the ending balance in excess of 15 percent of the amount expended in the prior year was the result of accrual policies of the California School Accounting Manual.

(2) A regional occupational center or program established and maintained by school districts or joint powers agencies may accumulate over a period of two or more given school years, a net ending balance in the capital outlay expenditures or equipment replacement reserved account of more than 15 percent of the previous fiscal year's expenditures, under provisions of a resolution of the governing board pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b).

(d) With the exception of ending balances governed by provisions of Section 2558.5, funds placed in either the general reserve, the designated fund balance, the unappropriated fund balance, or the capital outlay or equipment replacement accounts, shall only be expended for regional occupational center or program educational purposes.

SEC. 33. Section 52501.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52501.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), no revenue derived from the average daily attendance of adult education programs shall be expended for other than adult education purposes, nor shall revenue derived from other average daily attendance be expended for adult education purposes.

(b) When a district's adult revenue limit as allowed by Section 43001 is composed of average daily attendance from both a regional occupational center or program and an adult education program, the adult revenue limit income may be allocated to each program in a proportion other than the amount of adult revenue limit per average daily attendance otherwise allocable thereto.

(c) Beginning with the 1976–77 fiscal year, any high school or unified school district may (1) budget and accumulate an amount necessary to meet the cash flow needs of the adult education program, known as a "general reserve," not to exceed 10 percent of the previous year's expenditures for the operation of the adult education program, and (2) budget and accumulate amounts known as the designated fund balance and as the unappropriated fund balance. These amounts are intended to provide for unforeseen requirements and shall be available for appropriation only after approval by a two-thirds vote of the governing body, and limited to 5 percent of the previous fiscal year's expenditures for the operation of the adult education program.

With the exception of the 1988–89 fiscal year, net ending balances in excess of 15 percent of the amount expended in the prior year shall be deemed to be excessive regardless of the year accumulated. The county superintendent of schools shall subtract from the district's total revenue limit an amount equal to the excess reserves in the adult education fund. For the 1988–89 fiscal year only, the 1987–88 fiscal year net ending balance for the district adult education fund shall be carried forward to the 1988–89 fiscal year with no limit applied if the ending balance in excess of 15 percent of the amount expended in the prior year was the result of accrual policies of the California School Accounting Manual.

SEC. 34. Section 54444.2 of the Education Code is amended to read:

54444.2. (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall take the steps necessary to assure effective parental involvement throughout the state migrant education program, which shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(1) The superintendent shall adopt rules and regulations requiring each operating agency receiving migrant education funds or services to actively solicit parental involvement in the planning, operation, and evaluation of its programs through the establishment of, and consultation with, a parent advisory council.

The membership of each parent advisory council shall be comprised of members who are knowledgeable of the needs of migrant children and shall be elected by the parents of migrant children enrolled in the operating agency's programs. The composition of the council shall be determined by the parents at a general meeting to which all parents of pupils enrolled in the migrant program shall be invited. Parents shall be informed, in a language they understand, that the parents have the sole authority to decide on the composition of the council. All parent candidates for the council shall be nominated by parents; nonparent candidates shall be nominated by the groups they represent (i.e., teachers by teachers, administrators by administrators, other school personnel by other school personnel, and pupils by pupils). All other community candidates shall be nominated by the parents. Each parent advisory council shall hold meetings on a regular basis during the operation of the regular program, but not less than six times during the year.

At least two-thirds of the members of each parent advisory council shall be the parents of migrant children. Each parent advisory council shall have the responsibilities listed in subdivision (a) of Section 54444.4.

(2) The superintendent shall establish a statewide parent advisory council which shall participate in the planning, operation, and evaluation of the state migrant education program. The membership of the statewide parent advisory council shall be comprised of members who are knowledgeable of the needs of migrant children and shall be nominated and elected by the parents of migrant children enrolled in the operating agencies. At least two-thirds of the members of the State Parent Advisory Council shall be the parents of migrant children. The state council shall meet a minimum of six times a calendar year to provide input on issues relating to the operation of the program. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the state director.

The superintendent shall also sponsor an annual State Parent Advisory Council Conference. The conference shall be scheduled during the spring of every year. Within 120 days from the conclusion of the conference, the State Parent Advisory Council shall prepare and submit a report to the Legislature, State Board of Education, the superintendent, and the Governor regarding the status of the migrant education program.

(3) The superintendent and each operating agency shall furnish, without charge, to the statewide and operating agency parent advisory councils and, upon request, to each member, a copy of all applicable state and federal migrant education statutes, rules and regulations, and guidelines. In addition, the superintendent and each operating agency shall furnish, without charge, to the statewide and operating agency parent advisory councils and, upon request, to each member, copies of all applicable state and federal audits, monitoring reports, and evaluations.

(4) The superintendent and each operating agency shall establish and implement training programs for members of the statewide and operating agency parent advisory councils to enable them to carry out their responsibilities. Each training program shall be developed in consultation with the parent advisory councils and shall include appropriate training materials in a language understandable to each member. Costs incurred in providing training under this paragraph, including federally authorized expenses associated with the attendance of members at training sessions, shall be funded, to the extent that funds are available, by federal funds allocated to the state, based upon the educational and related health needs of migratory children defined in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 54441, and may be supported by funds from the state migrant education program.

(b) Each operating agency which provides services on a statewide basis shall be exempt from the requirement that it create its own parent advisory council, but shall consult the statewide parent advisory council in the planning, operation, and evaluation of its programs.

SEC. 35. Section 56827 of the Education Code is amended to read:

56827. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall review the information and calculations submitted by districts and county offices in support of all apportionment computations described in this chapter. The review shall be conducted on the data submitted during the initial year of apportionment and for the three succeeding fiscal years only. Adjustments to any year's apportionment shall be received by the superintendent from the district or county office prior to the end of the third fiscal year following the fiscal year to be adjusted. The superintendent shall consider and adjust only the information and computational factors originally established during an eligible fiscal year, if the superintendent's review determines that they are correct.

SEC. 36. Section 19994.9 of the Government Code is amended and renumbered to read:

19050.8. The board may prescribe rules governing the temporary assignment or loan of employees within an agency or between agencies or jurisdictions for not to exceed two years for any of the following purposes:

(a) To provide training to employees.

(b) To enable an agency to obtain expertise needed to meet a compelling program or management need.

(c) To facilitate the return of injured employees to work.

These temporary assignments or loans shall be deemed to be in accord with this part limiting employees to duties consistent with their class and may be used to meet minimum requirements for promotional as well as open examinations. An employee participating in that arrangement shall have the absolute right to return to his or her former position. Any temporary assignment or loan of an employee made for the purpose specified in subdivision (b) shall be made only with the voluntary consent of the employee.

In addition, out-of-class experience obtained in a manner not described in this section may be used to meet minimum requirements for promotional as well as open examinations, only if it was obtained by the employee in good faith and was properly verified under standards prescribed by board rule.

For purposes of this section, a temporary assignment or loan between educational agencies or jurisdictions, or both, shall be extended for up to two additional years upon a finding by the Superintendent of Public Instruction or the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges, and with the approval of the Executive Officer of the State Personnel Board, that the extension is necessary in order to substantially complete work on an educational improvement project. Public and private colleges and universities shall be considered educational jurisdictions within the meaning of this section.

SEC. 37. Item 6100-101-001 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1987 is amended to read:

6100-101-001—For local assistance, Department of Education, for transfer to Section A of the State School Fund, Program 10.10—School Apportionments..... 8,076,717,000

Schedule:

(a) Program 10.10.001.001—School

Apportionments, District Revenue Limit, for the purposes of Section 42238 of the Education Code 7,955,144,000

(b) Program 10.10.001.002—School Apportionments, for Necessary Small Schools, in addition to the amount appropriated in category (a) of this item, for the purposes of subdivision (f) of Section 42238 of the Education Code 15,407,000

(d) Program 10.10.001.004—School Apportionments, for Meals for Needy Pupils programs, for the purposes of Article 10.5 (commencing with Section 49550) of Chapter 9 of Part 27 of the Education Code 26,767,000

(e) Program 10.10.001.005—School Apportionments, for apprentice programs, for the purposes of Section 8153 of the Education Code 6,878,000

(f) Program 10.10.011—School Apportionments, for summer school programs, for the purposes of Section 42239 of the Education Code..... 72,521,000

Provisions:

1. Funds appropriated by this item are for transfer by the State Controller to Section A of the State School Fund, in lieu of the amount which would otherwise be appropriated for transfer from the General Fund in the State Treasury to Section A of the State School Fund for the 1987–88 fiscal year pursuant to Sections 14002, 14004, and 41301 of the Education Code, an amount as needed, in addition to sums accruing to Section A of the State School Fund from other sources for the purposes specified herein, for apportionment pursuant to Section 8153, Section 42238, Section 42239, and Sections 42240 and 42240.1 of the Education Code.
2. Notwithstanding Section 8154 of the Education Code, or any other provision of law, the funds specified in Schedule (e) of this item shall be the only funds available for and allocated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the apprentice programs operated by school districts and county offices of education.
3. Notwithstanding Section 8152 of the Education Code, each 60-minute hour of teaching time devoted to each indentured apprentice enrolled in and attending classes of related and supplemental instruction as provided under Section 3074 of the Labor Code shall be reimbursed at the rate of $3.76 per hour. For purposes of this division, each hour of teaching time may include up to 10 minutes for passing time and breaks.

4. (a) No school district or county office of education shall use funds available under Schedule (e) to offer any new or expanded apprentice program(s) unless that program(s) has been approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(b) Upon the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, school districts and county offices of education may use funds available under Schedule (e) for an apprentice program that is transferred to the school district from a community college district in 1987–88.

(c) For any apprentice program offered pursuant to Section 8152 or Section 8153 of the Education Code that is transferred from a K-12 school district or a county office of education to a community college district in 1987–88, the Controller, upon certification by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall transfer, prior to the first or second principal apportionment, as appropriate, from Schedule (e) of this item to Schedule (a) of Item 6870-101-001 an amount equal to the number of hours for which the apprentice program received funding in 1986–87 times $3.76.

(d) The Director of Finance may approve any transfer authorized by this provision, provided that such transfer may not be authorized sooner than 30 days after the notification in writing of the necessity therefor to the chairperson of the committee in each house which considers appropriations and the Chairperson of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, or not sooner than whatever lesser time the chairperson of the joint committee, or his or her designee, may in each instance determine.

5. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall report to the Department of Finance and the Legislature no later than October 1, 1987, on the amount of funds expended for and the hours of related and supplemental instruction offered in the apprentice program during the 1986–87 fiscal year, with information to be provided by school district, county office of education, program sponsor, and trade. Expenditure information shall distinguish between direct and indirect costs, including administrative costs funded for the Department of Education, school districts, county offices of education, and program sponsors. In addition, the report shall identify the hours of related and supplemental instruction proposed for the 1987–88 and 1988–89 fiscal years by school district, county office of education, program sponsor, and trade. As a condition of receiving funds for the apprenticeship program, K-12 school districts shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the information necessary for the completion of this report.

6.3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the county superintendent shall reduce the total revenue limit computed pursuant to Section 42238 of the Education Code by the amount of the decreased employer contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement System resulting from the enactment of Chapter 330 of the Statutes of 1982, adjusted for any changes in those contributions resulting from subsequent changes in employer contribution rates through the 1987–88 fiscal year.

The reduction shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Determine the amount of employer contributions which would have been made in the 1987–88 fiscal year if the applicable Public Employees' Retirement System employer contribution rate in effect immediately prior to the enactment of Chapter 330 of the Statutes of 1982 were in effect during the 1987–88 fiscal year. For the purposes of this calculation, no school district shall have a contribution rate higher than 13.020 percent.

(b) Subtract from the amount determined in subdivision (a) the actual amount of employer contributions made to the Public Employees' Retirement System in the 1987–88 fiscal year.

(c) For the purposes of this provision, employer contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement System for any of the following positions shall be excluded from the calculation specified above:

(1) Positions supported totally by federal funds which are subject to supplanting restrictions.

(2) Positions supported by funds received pursuant to Section 42243.6 of the Education Code.

(3) Positions supported, to the extent of employer contributions not exceeding $25,000 by any single educational agency, from a revenue source determined on the basis of equity to be properly excludable from this subdivision by the Superintendent of Public Instruction with the approval of the Director of Finance.

(d) For accounting purposes, the reduction made by this provision may be reflected as an expenditure from appropriate sources of revenue as directed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

7. Notwithstanding Subdivision (e) of Section 42239 of the Education Code, for the 1987–88 fiscal year, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall allocate a minimum of $5,300 for supplemental summer school programs in those districts whose prior year enrollment was less than 500 and that, in the 1987–88 fiscal year, offer at least 1,500 hours of supplemental summer school instruction. A small school district as defined above, that offers less than 1,500 hours of supplemental summer school offerings shall receive a proportionate reduction in its allocation. For the purpose of this provision, supplemental summer school programs shall be defined as programs authorized under paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

9. Of the funds appropriated in this item, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is authorized to pay the United States Department of Education an amount not to exceed $586,535 in partial settlement of the final audit determination identified as ACN 09-60002, Education Appeal Board Docket No. 9-(55)-79. The State Department of Education shall reduce the revenue limit apportionment amount otherwise to be provided to the school district identified in the audit by the amount owing. The amount which is repaid to the state under the provisions of Section 456 of the General Education Provisions Act (20 U.S.C. 1234e) shall be apportioned to this district in accordance with the settlement agreement entered among the district, the State Department of Education, and the United States Department of Education.

10.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 42239 of the Education Code, or any other provision of law, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall reallocate to high school districts any unexpended balance of the appropriations made for the 1987–88 fiscal year for reimbursement for actual pupil attendance in summer school programs authorized under paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 42239 of the Education Code that exceeds the maximum attendance for which reimbursement is available under subdivision (e) of Section 42239 of the Education Code. In no event shall any high school district receive reimbursement for pupil attendance in summer school programs in a total amount exceeding 7 percent of the high school district's total enrollment for the prior fiscal year times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the current fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

(b) Commencing in 1988–89, a school district's maximum entitlement for pupil attendance in summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 42239 of the Education Code shall be as follows:

(1) For elementary school districts, an amount equal to 4 percent of the district's enrollment for the prior fiscal year, times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the 1988–89 fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

(2) For high school districts, an amount equal to 7 percent of the district's enrollment for the prior fiscal year, times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the 1988–89 fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

(3) For unified school districts, an amount equal to 5 percent of the district's enrollment for the prior fiscal year, times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the 1988–89 fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the total appropriation provided for summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 42239 of the Education Code for the 1988–89 fiscal year be based upon 5 percent of prior-year statewide enrollment, times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the 1988–89 fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 42239 of the Education Code.

13. Notwithstanding Article 8 (commencing with Section 8150) of Chapter 1 of Part 6 of the Education Code, or any other provision of law, the total number of hours eligible for reimbursement in apprentice programs operated by K-12 school districts and county offices of education shall be limited to an amount equal to the total appropriation specified in Schedule (e) of this item divided by the hourly rate specified in Provision 3 and as adjusted by Provision 4(b). The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have the authority to determine which apprentice programs, and which hours offered in such programs, are eligible for reimbursement.

14. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for the purpose of calculating entitlements for revenue limit apportionments, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall increase the number of units of average daily attendance (ADA) for the Victor Valley Union High School District by 300 units in the 1987–88 fiscal year only. In each of the fiscal years 1988–89 through 1992-93, the superintendent shall reduce the district's number of units of ADA by 60 units below the level that the district would otherwise be entitled to claim. It is the intent of the Legislature to assist the district in overcoming the severe impacts on its cash flow of a reorganization election which reduced the district's ADA by 70 percent for the 1987–88 fiscal year. It is further the intent of the Legislature that such assistance be provided at no net cost to the state.

15. If a final court decision is issued prior to June 30, 1988, declaring null and void the November 4, 1986, election which created the Apple Valley Unified, Hesperia Unified, and Lucerne Valley Unified school districts, Provision 14 of this item shall be inoperative.

SEC. 37.5. Section 4 of Chapter 1258 of the Statutes of 1986 is amended to read:

Sec. 4. As a condition on the receipt by the Berkeley Unified School District of any emergency apportionment funds pursuant to Section 3, in addition to complying with Article 2 (commencing with Section 41320) of Chapter 3 of the Education Code, all of the following conditions shall apply:

(a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall appoint a trustee having recognized expertise in education, management, and finance, and who shall be bonded. The costs of the trustee and of the bonding shall be borne by the district. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish the terms and conditions of employment, and the remuneration of, the trustee, who shall serve at the pleasure of, and report directly to, the superintendent. The trustee shall be discharged at the time the total apportionment made under Section 3 of this act is repaid, including interest.

(b) The trustee shall monitor and review the operation of the district. During the period of his or her service, the trustee may stay or rescind any action of the school district governing board that, in the judgment of the trustee, may affect the financial condition of the district. The trustee shall approve or reject all reports and other materials required from the district pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 41320) of Chapter 3 of the Education Code. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon the recommendation of the trustee, may reduce any apportionment to the district in an amount of up to one thousand dollars ($1,000) per day for each late or unacceptable report or other material required under Part 24 (commencing with Section 41000) of the Education Code, and shall report to the Legislature any failure of the district to comply with the requirements of this section.

(c) For the 1986–87 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the Controller shall conduct an audit of the books and accounts of the district, as provided by Section 41020 of the Education Code. Any audit conducted under this subdivision for the preceding fiscal year shall be deemed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to fulfill the requirement for an audit for that fiscal year described in Section 41020 of the Education Code. The costs of these services shall be borne by the district, in an amount not to exceed the salary expense of two temporary full-time employees assigned to this purpose. The Department of Finance shall approve the addition of two temporary full-time positions funded through reimbursement by the local school district for the purpose of completing these audits. These audits shall be required until the Controller determines, in consultation with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, that the district has not deviated from the financial plan approved under Section 41320 of the Education Code and that the district is financially solvent, but in no event earlier than one year following the implementation of the plan or later than the time the apportionment made under Section 3 is repaid, including interest. The Controller may use the services of private certified public accountants currently on contract with the Berkeley Unified School District to assist in the performance of these audits. Any audit assistance used by the Controller from those certified public accountants shall be under the control and at the expense of the Controller.

(d) The county superintendent of schools in which the district is situated shall provide any information and other assistance that the Superintendent of Public Instruction may require in this respect until the apportionment made under Section 3 is repaid, including interest.

(e) The district shall develop and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall approve an educational plan, which includes, but is not necessarily limited to, details on how educational programs, personnel, facilities, and other programs will be affected by each fiscal plan.

SEC. 38. Section 16.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 42122 of the Education Code proposed by both this bill and SB 813. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 42122 of the Education Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 813, in which case Section 16 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 39. (a) The Guadalupe Union School District shall use the 1981–82 fiscal year as the base year for calculating its longer school year, longer schoolday entitlements pursuant to Sections 46201 and 46202 of the Education Code.

(b) Due to the unique circumstances concerning the Guadalupe Union School District, the Legislature finds and declares that a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 40. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

SEC. 41. No reimbursement is required by Section 37 of this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because that section is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in that section.

CHAPTER 918

An act to add and repeal Section 14913 of the Government Code, and to amend Sections 18681.1, 18802, and 19286.8 of, and to add Sections 18408.5, 18810, 25106.5, 25906, and 26132.3 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14913 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14913. (a) Consistent with the policy expressed in Section 14900, all libraries throughout the state shall continue to make California income tax forms freely available to the state's inhabitants.

(b) The Legislative Analyst shall conduct a study of the use of libraries as distribution centers for California tax forms and report to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1990, regarding all of the following:

(1) The effectiveness and efficiency of libraries as distribution centers.

(2) The burden imposed on libraries by the distribution program.

(3) If the distribution program is found to be effective and efficient, the necessity, if any, for libraries to receive additional funding for continuation of the program.

(c) This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 1991, and, as of January 1, 1992, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 18408.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18408.5. In lieu of filing a return pursuant to Section 18401 or 18405.5, the Franchise Tax Board may, pursuant to requirements and conditions set forth in forms and instructions, provide for the filing of a group return for electing nonresident partners by a partnership doing business in, or deriving income from, sources in California. The tax rate or rates applicable to each electing partner's distributive share shall be the highest marginal rate or rates provided by this part. No deductions shall be allowed except those necessary to determine each partner's distributive share, and no credits shall be allowed except those directly attributable to the partnership. As required by the Franchise Tax Board, the partnership as agent for the electing partners shall make the payments of tax, additions to tax, interest, and penalties otherwise required to be paid by the electing partners.

SEC. 3. Section 18681.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18681.1. (a) In the case of each failure—

(1) To file a statement of the amount of payments to another person required by—

(A) Subdivision (a) of Section 18802 (relating to information at source),

(B) Subdivision (a) of Section 18802.8 (relating to reporting requirements of certain fishing boat operators), or

(2) To make a return required by—

(A) Subdivision (a) of Section 18802.3 (relating to information reporting requirements for real property owners),

(B) Section 18802.4 (relating to information reporting requirements for brokers and barterers),

(C) Subdivision (a) of Section 18802.5 (relating to reporting payment of wages in the form of group-term life insurance),

(D) Subdivision (a) of Section 18802.6 (relating to copies of federal information returns),

(E) Section 18803 (relating to information reporting requirements for income from securities), on the date prescribed therefor (determined with regard to any extension of time for filing), unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be paid (upon notice and demand by the Franchise Tax Board and in the same manner as the tax), by the person failing to file a statement referred to in paragraph (1) or failing to make a return referred to in paragraph (2), fifty dollars ($50) for each such failure, but the total amount imposed on the delinquent person for all such failures during any calendar year shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(b) In the case of each failure to file a return of the amount of payments to another person required by subdivision (a) of Section 18802.1 (relating to payments of patronage dividends), on the date prescribed therefor (determined with regard to any extension of time for filing), there shall be paid by the person failing to file such statement a penalty of fifty dollars ($50) for each such failure unless it is shown that such person exercised due diligence in attempting to satisfy the requirement with respect to that statement.

(c) Article 2 (commencing with Section 18581) of Chapter 18 of this part (relating to deficiency assessments) shall not apply with respect to the assessment or collection of any penalty imposed by this section.

(d) If one or more failures to which subdivision (a) or (b) applies are due to intentional disregard of the filing requirement, then with respect to those failures—

(1) The penalty imposed under subdivision (a) shall not be less than an amount equal to—

(A) In the case of a return not described in subparagraph (B) or (C), 10 percent of the aggregate amount of the items required to be reported,

(B) In the case of a return required to be filed by Section 18802.4, 5 percent of the gross proceeds required to be reported,

(C) In the case of a return required to be filed under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 18802.6, one hundred dollars ($100) for each such failure, and

(2) The ten thousand dollar ($10,000) limitation under subdivision (a) shall not apply.

(e) In the case of each failure to provide a written explanation as required by Section 402(f) of the Internal Revenue Code (as incorporated by Section 17501), at the time prescribed therefor, unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be paid, on notice and demand of the Franchise Tax Board and in the same manner as tax, by the person failing to provide that written explanation, an amount equal to ten dollars ($10) for each such failure, but the total amount imposed on that person for all those failures during any calendar year shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

SEC. 4. Section 18802 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

18802. (a) Every individual, partnership, corporation, joint stock company or association, insurance company, business trust, or so-called Massachusetts trust, engaged in a trade or business in this state and making payment in the course of such trade or business to another person, including lessees or mortgagors of real or personal property, fiduciaries, employers, and all officers and employees of this state or any political subdivision of this state, or any city organized under a freeholder's charter, or any political body not a subdivision or agency of the state, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), dividends, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income amounting to six hundred dollars ($600) or over, paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer, shall make a complete return to the Franchise Tax Board, which shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by it.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), the term "trade or business" includes the activities of nonprofit organizations.

(c) In lieu of an information return required by subdivision (a), the Franchise Tax Board may require that a copy of the federal information return be filed with the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) Every entity making a return under subdivision (a) shall furnish to each person whose name is set forth in the return a written statement showing—

(1) The name, address, and identification number of the entity making the return, and

(2) The aggregate amount of payments to the person shown on the return.

The written statement required under this subdivision shall be furnished to the person on or before January 31 of the year following the calendar year for which the return under subdivision (a) was made.

(e) This section shall not apply to tips with respect to which Section 13055 of the Unemployment Insurance Code applies. The only records which an employer shall be required to keep under this section in connection with charged tips shall be charge receipts and copies of statements furnished by employees under Section 13055 of the Unemployment Insurance Code. This subdivision shall apply to payments made after December 31, 1978.

(f) The amendments to this section made by the 1981–82 Regular Session of the Legislature shall apply to returns and statements required to be furnished after December 31, 1981.

SEC. 5. Section 18810 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

18810. The Franchise Tax Board may require employers to submit copies of income tax withholding exemption certificates. If the Franchise Tax Board determines that a certificate is invalid for state income tax purposes, the Franchise Tax Board shall notify the employer and the affected employee of its determination. An employee who disagrees with the Franchise Tax Board's determination may request review of the determination by filing a written petition in the form and within the time prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. After review, the Franchise Tax Board shall give written notification of its decision to both the employer and the employee.

SEC. 6. Section 19286.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19286.8. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, each city which maintains a computerized recordkeeping system or has access to a computerized recordkeeping or information system and which assesses a business tax shall annually furnish to the Franchise Tax Board the information specified in subdivision (b) for all businesses subject to the tax in the preceding fiscal year.

(b) The information required shall include all of the following:

(1) Business name.

(2) Business address.

(3) Federal employer identification number (if the business is a partnership or corporation, or owner's name and social security number (for all others).

(4) Type of business activity.

(5) Amount of annual business tax.

(6) Any other information which the Franchise Tax Board may require.

(c) The reports required under this section shall be filed on magnetic media or in other machine-readable form, according to standards prescribed by forms and instructions by the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) Cities shall begin providing to the Franchise Tax Board the information required by this section as soon as economically feasible, but no later than December 31, 1990. The information shall be furnished annually at a time and in the form which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe by forms and instructions.

(e) (1) Notwithstanding Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code, the information furnished pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to be public records and shall not be open to the public for inspection.

(2) Any deputy, agent, clerk, officer, or employee of any entity described in subdivision (a), or any former officer or employee or other individual who in the course of his or her employment or duty has or had access to the information required to be furnished under this section, shall not disclose or make known in any manner that information, except to the Franchise Tax Board.

(f) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to utilize the social security account numbers or federal employer identification numbers for the sole purposes of establishing the identification of individuals affected by state tax laws and, to that end, the information furnished pursuant to this section shall be used exclusively for state tax enforcement purposes.

SEC. 7. Section 25106.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

25106.5. The Franchise Tax Board shall adopt regulations which it deems necessary to prevent avoidance of tax liability imposed under this part by any taxpayer which is or was a member of a group of taxpayers whose income and apportionment factors are or were required to be determined by a combined report. The regulations shall take into account one or more of the following: how tax liability may be returned, determined, computed, assessed, collected, or adjusted in such manner as to clearly reflect tax liability and the various elements necessary to determine tax liability.

SEC. 8. Section 25906 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

25906. If any portion of a tax is satisfied by credit of an overpayment, then no interest shall be imposed under this article on the portion of the tax so satisfied for any period during which, if the credit had not been made, interest would have been allowable with respect to that overpayment.

SEC. 9. Section 26132.3 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

26132.3. The Franchise Tax Board may require employers to submit copies of income tax withholding exemption certificates. If the Franchise Tax Board determines that a certificate is invalid for state income tax purposes, the Franchise Tax Board shall notify the employer and the affected employee of its determination. An employee who disagrees with the Franchise Tax Board's determination may request review of the determination by filing a written petition in the form and within the time prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board. After review, the Franchise Tax Board shall give written notification of its decision to both the employer and the employee.

SEC. 10. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 919

An act to add Sections 8478.5 and 8486.5 to the Education Code, relating to education, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8486.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

8486.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a priority in funding of capital outlay grants or relocatables from funds allocated but unencumbered pursuant to Section 5 of Chapter 1026 of the Statutes of 1985, shall be given to any applicant or contracting agency providing, or seeking to provide, extended child care facilities in, or in close proximity to, public housing projects, or in areas of high density of recipients of benefits under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program to serve participants under the Greater Avenues for Independence Act of 1985 (Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

(b) This section shall apply only to those funds remaining in the State Child Care Facilities Fund which have not, as of the effective date of this act, been encumbered for funding successful applicants, pursuant to Section 5 of Chapter 1026 of the Statutes of 1985.

SEC. 2. Section 8478.5 is added to the Education Code, to read:

8478.5. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a priority in funding of capital outlay grants or relocatables from funds allocated but unencumbered pursuant to Section 5 of Chapter 1026 of the Statutes of 1985, shall be given to any applicant or contracting agency providing, or seeking to provide, extended child care facilities in, or in close proximity to, public housing projects, or in areas of high density of recipients of benefits under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program to serve participants under the Greater Avenues for Independence Act of 1985 (Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code).

(b) This section shall apply only to those funds remaining in the State Child Care Facilities Fund which have not, as of the effective date of this section, been encumbered for funding successful applicants, pursuant to Section 5 of Chapter 1026 of the Statutes of 1985.

SEC. 3. Section 1 of this act adds Section 8486.5 to the Education Code. SB 998, AB 1919, and AB 2628 of the 1987–88 Regular Session would amend and renumber Section 8486 to be Section 8478. If SB 998, AB 1919, or AB 2628, or any of those bills, are chaptered and become effective on or before January 1, 1988, and any of them amend and renumber Section 8486 to be Section 8478, irrespective of the order of chaptering, then Section 2 of this act shall become operative, and Section 1 of this act shall not become operative. If none of those bills are chaptered, or become effective on or before January 1, 1988, then Section 1 of this act shall become operative, and Section 2 of this act shall not become operative.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for needed facilities for the provision of child care services to be developed at the earliest possible time, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 920

An act to amend Section 18976 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18976 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18976. A primary prevention program shall include all of the following:

(a) Parent, teacher, and children's workshops which provide all of the following:

(1) Information, provided in a clear, age-appropriate, nonthreatening manner, delineating the problem and the range of possible solutions.

(2) Workshops which are culturally and linguistically appropriate to the population served and which are staffed by people with cultural and linguistic backgrounds representing the diversity of the population in the service area.

(3) Workshops which are appropriate to the geographic area served.

(4) Workshops which are designed to help counteract common stereotypes about victims and offenders.

(b) Parent and school staff workshops presented prior to the presentation of children's workshops, which include information and training concerning all of the following:

(1) Physical and behavioral indicators of abuse.

(2) Postworkshop session techniques.

(3) Community resources.

(4) Rights and responsibilities regarding reporting.

(5) School district procedures to facilitate reporting and apprise supervisors and administrators of reports.

(6) Caring for a child's needs after a report is made.

(c) Children's workshops shall contain information and training concerning all of the following:

(1) The right of every child to live free of abuse.

(2) How to disclose incidents of abuse.

(3) The availability of support resources and how to obtain help.

(4) Child safety training and age-appropriate self-defense techniques.

(5) A period for postworkshop sessions in a school setting which maximizes the child's privacy and sense of safety and provide a period of time following each child's workshop, or a reasonable time thereafter, for any child who on a voluntary basis may want to individually talk with classroom presenters. Reports and referrals to appropriate child protective services agencies shall be made pursuant to state law. These sessions shall not provide any therapy or other forms of treatment.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify the law and prevent the disruption of child abuse training programs as soon as possible, it is essential that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 921

An act to amend Sections 98.9, 722.5, 723.1, 755, and 756 of, to add Section 98.10 to, and to repeal Section 7062 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 98.9 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

98.9. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, commencing with the 1988–89 fiscal year, property tax assessed value attributable to unitary and operating nonunitary property, as defined in Section 723, and Section 723.1, which is assessed by the State Board of Equalization shall be allocated by county as provided in Section 756 and the assessed value and revenues attributable to that allocation shall be allocated within each county as follows:

(a) Each county shall establish one countywide tax rate area. The assessed value of all unitary and operating nonunitary property shall be assigned to this tax rate area. No other property shall be assigned to this tax rate area.

(b) Property assigned to the tax rate area created by subdivision (a) shall be taxed at a rate equal to the sum of the following two rates:

(1) A rate determined by dividing the county's total ad valorem tax levies for the secured roll, including levies made pursuant to Section 100, for the prior year, exclusive of levies for debt service, by the county's total ad valorem secured roll assessed value for the prior year.

(2) A rate determined by dividing the county's total ad valorem tax levies for the secured roll for the prior year for debt service only by the county's total ad valorem secured roll assessed value for the prior year.

(c) The property tax revenue derived from the assessed value assigned to the countywide tax rate area pursuant to subdivision (a) by the use of the tax rate determined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be allocated as follows:

(1) For the 1988–89 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, each taxing jurisdiction shall be allocated an amount of property tax revenue equal to 102 percent of the amount of the aggregate property tax revenue it received from all unitary and operating nonunitary property in the prior fiscal year, exclusive of revenue attributable to levies for debt service.

(2) If the amount of property tax revenue available for allocation in the current fiscal year is insufficient to make the allocations required by paragraph (1), the amount of revenue to be allocated to each taxing jurisdiction shall be prorated based on a factor determined by dividing the total amount of property tax revenue available to all taxing jurisdictions from unitary and operating nonunitary property in the current year, exclusive of revenue attributable to levies for debt service, by the total amount of property tax revenue received by all taxing jurisdictions from unitary and operating nonunitary property in the prior fiscal year, exclusive of revenue attributable to levies for debt service.

(3) If the amount of property tax revenue available for allocation to all taxing jurisdictions in the current fiscal year from unitary and operating nonunitary property, exclusive of revenue attributable to levies for debt service, exceeds 102 percent of the property tax revenue received by all taxing jurisdictions from all unitary and operating nonunitary property in the prior fiscal year, exclusive of revenue attributable to levies for debt service, the amount of revenue in excess of 102 percent shall be allocated to all taxing jurisdictions in the county by a ratio determined by dividing each taxing jurisdiction's share of the county's total ad valorem tax levies for the secured roll for the prior year, exclusive of levies for debt service, by the county's total ad valorem tax levies for the secured roll for the prior year, exclusive of levies for debt service.

(d) The property tax revenue derived from the assessed value assigned to the countywide tax rate area pursuant to subdivision (a) by the use of the tax rate determined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) shall be allocated as follows:

(1) An amount shall be computed for each taxing jurisdiction which shall be determined by multiplying the amounts required in the current year pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 93 by that percentage which shall be determined by dividing the amount of property tax revenue the jurisdiction received in the prior year from unitary property and operating nonunitary property by the total amount of property tax revenue the jurisdiction received in the prior year from all property.

(2) The amount of property tax revenue available for allocation pursuant to this subdivision shall be allocated among taxing jurisdictions in the proportion that the amount computed for each taxing jurisdiction pursuant to paragraph (1) bears to the total amount computed pursuant to paragraph (1) for all taxing jurisdictions.

(3) If a taxing jurisdiction is levying a tax rate for debt service for the first time in the current fiscal year, for purposes of determining the percentage specified in paragraph (1), that percentage shall be the percentage determined by dividing the amount of property tax revenue received by that taxing jurisdiction in the prior year pursuant to subdivision (c) from unitary and operating nonunitary property by the total amount of property tax revenue received by that taxing jurisdiction in the prior year from the locally assessed secured roll.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "The county's total ad valorem tax levies for the secured roll" means all ad valorem tax levies for the county's secured roll, including the general tax levy, levies for debt service (including land only and land and improvement rates), and levies for redevelopment agencies.

(2) "The county's total ad valorem secured roll" means the county's local roll, after all exemptions except the homeowner's exemption, and the county's utility roll.

(3) "Taxing jurisdiction" includes a redevelopment agency.

(f) The assessed value of the unitary and operating nonunitary property shall be kept separate for each state assessee throughout the allocation process.

(g) Each state assessee shall be issued only one tax bill for all unitary and operating nonunitary property within the county.

(h) This section does not apply to unitary property of regulated railway companies.

(i) This section does not apply to property which on July 1, 1987, was undeveloped and owned by a utility and which is located within a city, county, or city and county which adopts a resolution stating that the property is subject to a development agreement and that this section shall not apply to that property, and the city, county, or city and county transmits a copy of that resolution, including a legal description of the property, to the State Board of Equalization and the county's auditor-controller prior to January 1, 1988.

SEC. 2. Section 98.10 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

98.10. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, commencing with the 1988–89 fiscal year, property tax assessed value attributable to unitary property, as defined in Section 723, of a regulated railway company which is assessed by the State Board of Equalization, shall be allocated to tax rate areas as follows:

(a) Each tax rate area shall receive an amount of assessed value equal to the amount of assessed value received in the prior fiscal year adjusted for changes in track mileage unless the total amount of assessed value to be allocated is insufficient, in which case, each tax rate area shall receive a pro rata share of the amount it received in the prior fiscal year adjusted for changes in track mileage.

(b) If the total amount of assessed value to be allocated is greater than the amount of assessed value allocated in the prior fiscal year adjusted for changes in track mileage, each tax rate area shall receive a pro rata share of the amount in excess of the prior year's assessed value of the regulated railway company adjusted for track mileage.

(c) If a tax rate area is divided, the prior fiscal year amount of assessed value of the unitary property of the regulated railway company shall be divided among the resulting tax rate areas in the same proportion that the track mileage on unitary property is divided among the resulting tax rate areas.

(d) The assessed value allocated to each tax rate area under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) shall be further allocated between land, improvements, and personal property in the same proportion as existed for each regulated railway company statewide in the 1987–88 assessment year.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "The amount of assessed value received in the prior fiscal year adjusted for changes in track mileage" means the prior year's amount of assessed value in each tax rate area after it has been adjusted upward or downward in direct proportion to the change in the amount of track mileage on unitary property in the current year over the prior year.

(2) "Track mileage" means the number of miles of track adjusted to reflect the relative importance of mainline, branch, and other track.

SEC. 3. Section 722.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

722.5. (a) Real property assessed by the board pursuant to Section 19 of Article XIII of the California Constitution on January 1, which thereafter becomes subject to local assessment, shall not be assessed locally during the remainder of the local assessment year commencing within 60 days after January 1, except as provided in Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 75) of Part 0.5 of Division 1. For the purposes of Section 75.11, real property which becomes subject to local assessment after January 1 and before the following March 1 shall be deemed to be subject to local assessment as of March 1.

(b) Real property which becomes subject to board assessment pursuant to Section 19 of Article XIII of the California Constitution as the result of a lease, a purchase, a change in ownership, or the creation of a possessory interest after January 1 and before the following March 1 shall be deemed to be subject to board assessment as of January 1.

(c) Personal property which becomes subject to board assessment after January 1, and real property which becomes subject to board assessment on or after March 1, and on or before the following January 1, shall not be state assessed until the assessment year commencing on the latter January 1.

SEC. 4. Section 723.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

723.1. Operating nonunitary properties are those that the assessee and its regulatory agency consider to be operating as a unit, but the board considers not part of the unit in the primary function of the assessee. This section does not apply to state-assessed property of regulated railway companies. In the case of regulated railway companies, there shall be only two classifications of property for purposes of this code, unitary and nonunitary.

SEC. 5. Section 755 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

755. (a) On or before July 15, the board shall transmit to each county auditor an estimate of the total unitary value and operating nonunitary value of state-assessed property in the county and of nonunitary state-assessed property in each revenue district in the county. An estimate need not be made for a revenue district that did not levy a tax or assessment during the preceding year unless the board receives on or before January 1 preceding the fiscal year for which the levy is to be made a notice in writing of the proposed levy. The estimate shall be regarded as establishing the total assessed value of state-assessed property in the county and each revenue district in the county for the purpose of determining tax rates, subject only to such changes as may be transmitted on or prior to July 31. All information furnished pursuant to this section is at all times during office hours open to inspection of any interested person or entity.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in making the estimate referred to in subdivision (a), the unitary value and nonunitary value of the property of regulated railway companies and property subject to subdivision (i) of Section 98.9 shall be allocated by revenue district.

SEC. 6. Section 756 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

756. (a) On or before July 31, the board shall transmit to each county auditor a roll showing the unitary and operating nonunitary assessments made by the board in the county and the nonoperating nonunitary assessments made by the board in each city and revenue district in the county; provided, however, that the roll need not show the assessments made by the board in a revenue district which did not levy a tax or assessment during the preceding year. Such roll is at all times, during office hours, open to the inspection of any person representing any taxing agency or revenue district, or any district described in Section 2131. If the roll does not show the assessments in a revenue district as herein provided and a notice of a proposed levy is furnished the board in writing, on or before January 1 preceding the fiscal year for which the levy is to be made, the board shall furnish an estimate of the total assessed value of nonoperating nonunitary state-assessed property in the district and shall transmit thereafter to the county auditor a statement of roll change showing the nonoperating nonunitary assessments made by the board in the district.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in making the roll referred to in subdivision (a), the unitary value and nonunitary value of the property of regulated railway companies and property subject to subdivision (i) of Section 98.9 shall be enrolled by revenue district.

SEC. 7. Section 7062 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the Legislature finds and declares that there are savings as well as costs in this act which, in the aggregate, do not result in additional net costs.

SEC. 9. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Section 98.9 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 1457 of the Statutes of 1986, provided for a new formula for the allocation of assessed values within each county of unitary property and operating nonunitary property assessed by the State Board of Equalization. Certain adjustments in that program are required to make it administratively feasible. In order to provide county auditors with adequate time to implement Section 98.9 in a manner consistent with these necessary adjustments and in order to make necessary changes to related provisions, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 922

An act to amend Sections 9390.5 and 9391.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9390.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

9390.5. (a) The State Department of Health Services shall conduct preadmission screening statewide.

(1) Preadmission screening shall be conducted by the Medi-Cal field offices which shall utilize the option of directly authorizing preadmission screening activities by Medi-Cal service providers, including, but not limited to, multipurpose senior services programs, adult day health care, home health agencies, or other comparable Medi-Cal service providers.

(2) The State Department of Health Services may delegate preadmission screening of general acute care hospital patients to discharge planning units of general acute care hospitals which agree to accept such delegation. Such delegated preadmission screening shall be performed in accordance with criteria established by the State Department of Health Services, in consultation with representatives of general acute care hospitals and community-based services. The criteria shall include referrals to community-based resources as defined in Section 9390.1 and shall emphasize the importance of making such referrals in a timely manner. Prior to implementation of the delegated preadmission screening program, orientation sessions regarding preadmission screening program procedures shall be conducted.

The State Department of Health Services shall work with general acute care hospitals and general acute care hospital association representatives to develop an acute care hospital reporting mechanism which would allow an independent review of the success of the delegated program. Such a review shall, at the minimum, include the number of home-and-community-based waiver services which were utilized to divert patients into the community. The State Department of Health Services shall report to the Legislature on the results of this review by March 31, 1989. The report shall include all of the following:

(A) The total number of preadmission screens performed.

(B) The total number of preadmission screens from the community.

(C) The total number of preadmission screens from acute care hospitals.

(D) The total number of patients screened that were determined to be prolonged-stay patients.

(E) The total number of patients screened that were determined to be short-stay patients.

(F) The total number of patients diverted from nursing homes.

(G) The total number of patients who could not be diverted.

It is further the intent of the Legislature that the discharge planning units of general acute care hospitals which agree to accept delegated preadmission screening, shall coordinate with the multipurpose senior services program to the extent possible.

(b) Every long-term health care facility which receives an application for admission of a Medi-Cal eligible or Medicare/Medi-Cal eligible person shall contact by telephone the appropriate State Department of Health Services Medi-Cal field office or the appropriate general acute care hospital discharge planner for the purpose of conducting preadmission screening.

(c) Except where the State Department of Health Services has delegated preadmission screening functions to a general acute care hospital discharge planner, every general acute care hospital which identifies a Medi-Cal eligible or Medicare/Medi-Cal eligible patient for referral to a long-term health care facility shall contact by telephone the appropriate State Department of Health Services Medi-Cal field office for the purpose of conducting preadmission screening. Where preadmission screening of acute care hospital patients has been delegated to discharge planning units, the Medi-Cal field office shall review and approve a determination to refer a patient to a skilled nursing facility which is owned or operated by the referring hospital.

(d) Preadmission screening shall not be required for persons referred to certified programs for the mentally ill or developmentally disabled or for persons who are entering active treatment programs for the mentally ill or developmentally disabled.

(e) For the purpose of conducting preadmission screening, and subject to applicable confidentiality requirements, including Section 14100.2, the State Department of Health Services, or its designated representatives, shall have access to all medical records of Medi-Cal or Medicare/Medi-Cal eligible persons who apply or are referred for admission to a long-term health care facility. It is further the intent of the Legislature that the State Department of Health Services shall coordinate with the Multipurpose Senior Services Program or similar case management agencies, to the extent possible.

(f) All persons who are admitted to nursing homes for a short stay as a result of preadmission screening shall have a discharge plan, including projected length of stay and proposed discharge goal, which shall be reviewed at least monthly for up to four months until the medical status, the ability to perform activities of daily living, and the determination of service needs indicate referral to community-based services for care at home is appropriate.

All persons who are admitted to nursing homes for prolonged care as a result of preadmission screening shall be reviewed for their potential for community-based care during the process of reauthorization of prolonged care Treatment Authorization Request (TAR) and, if appropriate, be referred to community-based service.

(g) All Medi-Cal recipients residing in nursing homes who have not been preadmission screened shall be reviewed for their potential for postadmission screening. Those persons identified as having the potential for living in the community with the support of community-based services shall be postadmission screened and referral made to community-based services, if appropriate. Priority for postadmission screening shall be given to those persons who have been in nursing homes six months or less. All Medi-Cal recipients residing in nursing homes on a six month or less Treatment Authorization Request (TAR) shall be postadmission screened within six months of the effective date of this section. All other Medi-Cal recipients residing in nursing homes shall be postadmission screened within 12 months of the effective date of this section. The State Department of Health Services shall give priority to qualified Multipurpose Senior Services Providers (MSSP) to conduct postadmission screening.

(h) Persons admitted to a long-term health care facility who have been residing in the residential care facility portion of the multilevel facility, as defined in paragraph (9) of subdivision (d) of Section 15432 of the Government Code, are not subject to this section.

(i) Contractors operating under Medi-Cal capitated, case management-based contracts entered into under the authority of this chapter or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 shall assess each covered Medi-Cal patient residing in a long-term care facility or for whom long-term institutional care is contemplated, is assessed for diversion by referral to community-based resources and ambulatory health care services and makes such diversion when feasible on a timely basis. Contractors with existing department-approved utilization review plans which include such an activity shall be deemed to be in compliance with this section.

(j) The State Department of Health Services may delegate the responsibility for carrying out the provisions of this section to Medi-Cal at risk, capitated contractors or projects which do not have a case management feature. Such contracts or projects shall operate under one of the following arrangements:

(1) The contractor or project shall adhere to the procedures developed by the State Department of Health Services to carry out this section.

(2) The contractor or project may, subject to the approval of the State Department of Health Services, revise the department's procedures or adopt its own procedures, provided that the alternative procedures satisfy the intent of this section.

(k) Contractors operating as Medi-Cal capitated case management based contractors pursuant to contracts entered into under the authority of Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 and Sections 1177 and 1177.1 of the Health and Safety Code shall ensure that for each covered Medi-Cal patient resident in a long-term care facility or for whom long-term institutional care is contemplated, the patient's potential is assessed for diversion by referral to community-based resources and ambulatory health care services and that such diversion occurs, when feasible, on a timely basis. Contractors with approved utilization review plans approved by the State Department of Health Services which included such an activity through delegation or other acceptable means, shall be deemed to be in compliance with this section.

(l) The State Department of Health Services shall review each capitated contractor's arrangements for and provision of preadmission and postadmission screening during the annual medical audit of the contractor.

SEC. 2. Section 9391.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

9391.3. All Medi-Cal field offices shall have a list of alternative community-based services, as defined in Section 9390.1, and shall include senior information and referral telephone numbers, in their areas. The field offices shall provide this information to health providers, including discharge planning units of general acute care hospitals, in their areas.

CHAPTER 923

An act to amend Section 353 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to amend Sections 5230, 7230, 9240, and 15031 of the Corporations Code, to amend Section 21207 of the Government Code, to amend Sections 2, 8, 20, 21, 24, 26, 54, 62, 141, 203, 233, 277, 282, 300, 303, 327, 328, 333, 422, 441, 541.1, 553.3, 608.5, 904, 911, 920, 920.3, 926, 1000, 1004, 1020, 1020.1, 1025.5, 1027, 1041, 1067, 1080, 1191, 1464, 1469, 2100, 2105, 2351.5, 2405, 2406, 2453, 2455, 2456, 2525, 2543, 2555, 2574, 2580, 2614, 2631, 6246, 6247, 6327, 6501, 6511, 6525, 6527, 6541, 6607, 6611, 13101, 13114, 13152, 13153, 13501, 13552, 13655, 16304, and 20114.5 of, to amend the heading of Part 2 (commencing with Section 20) of Division 1 of, to amend the heading of Part 4 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 2 of, to add Sections 23, 46, 52, 216, 1021.5, 2105.5, 2453.5, and 13116 to, to add Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 215) to Part 4 of Division 2 of, Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 573) and Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 707) to Division 3 of, Article 4 (commencing with Section 956) to Chapter 15 of Division 3 of, Chapter 22.5 (commencing with Section 1280) to Division 3 of, Division 7 (commencing with Section 7000) to, and Division 11 (commencing with Section 21100) to, to repeal and add Sections 22, 58, 1862, 1892, and 2652 of, to repeal and add Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 750) of, and Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 1200) of, Division 3 of, to repeal Sections 920.5, 2546, and 15005 of, and to repeal Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 570) of, Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 700) of, Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 830) of, Article 4 (commencing with Section 950) of Chapter 15 of, Article 5 (commencing with Section 980) of Chapter 15 of, Article 3 (commencing with Section 1030) of Chapter 16 of, and Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 1350) of, Division 3 of, the Probate Code, and to amend Section 19265 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to probate law and procedure.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 353 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

353. (a) If a person entitled to bring an action dies before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced by the person's representatives, after the expiration of that time, and within six months from the person's death.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if a person against whom an action may be brought dies before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced against the person's representatives, after the expiration of that time, and within one year after the date of death, or an action against the estate provided for by subdivision (b) of Section 385 of the Code of Civil Procedure or Section 707 or 721 of the Probate Code may be commenced within one year after the expiration of the time otherwise limited for the commencement thereof.

(c) If a person against whom an action may be brought died before July 1, 1988, and before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement of the action, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced against the person's representatives before the expiration of the later of the following times:

(1) July 1, 1989, or one year after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration, whichever is the earlier time.

(2) The time limited for the commencement of the action.

SEC. 1.2. Section 5230 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

5230. (a) Any duties and liabilities set forth in this article shall apply without regard to whether a director is compensated by the corporation.

(b) Part 4 (commencing with Section 16000) of Division 9 of the Probate Code does not apply to the directors of any corporation.

SEC. 1.3. Section 7230 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

7230. (a) Any duties and liabilities set forth in this article shall apply without regard to whether a director is compensated by the corporation.

(b) Part 4 (commencing with Section 16000) of Division 9 of the Probate Code does not apply to the directors of any corporation.

SEC. 1.4. Section 9240 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

9240. (a) Any duties and liabilities set forth in this article shall apply without regard to whether a director is compensated by the corporation.

(b) Part 4 (commencing with Section 16000) of Division 9 of the Probate Code does not apply to the directors of any corporation.

(c) A director, in making a good faith determination, may consider what the director believes to be:

(1) The religious purposes of the corporation; and

(2) Applicable religious tenets, canons, laws, policies, and authority.

SEC. 1.5. Section 15031 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

15031. Dissolution is caused:

(1) Without violation of the agreement between the partners,

(a) By the termination of the definite term or particular undertaking specified in the agreement,

(b) By the express will of any partner when no definite term or particular undertaking is specified,

(c) By the express will of all the partners who have not assigned their interest or suffered them to be charged for their separate debts, either before or after the termination of any specified term or particular undertaking,

(d) By the expulsion of any partner from the business bona fide in accordance with such a power conferred by the agreement between the partners;

(2) In contravention of the agreement between the partners, where the circumstances do not permit a dissolution under any other provision of this section, by the express will of any partner at any time;

(3) By any event which makes it unlawful for the business of the partnership to be carried on or for the members to carry it on in partnership;

(4) By the death of any partner unless otherwise provided in an agreement in writing signed by all the partners before such death or in a court order made pursuant to Section 9762 of the Probate Code;

(5) By the bankruptcy of any partner or the partnership;

(6) By decree of court under Section 15032;

(7) By withdrawal of a partner or admission of a new partner unless otherwise provided in an agreement in writing signed by all of the partners, including any such withdrawing partner or any such newly admitted partner, before such withdrawal or admission; provided that in the case of a newly admitted partner he or she may become a party to any such preexisting agreement by signing the same upon such admission.

None of the provisions of any other section of this chapter shall prevent, or impair the effect or enforceability of, any agreement in writing that a partnership will not be dissolved as provided for in subdivision (4) or (7) of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 21207 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21207. If any person entitled to a benefit from this system is a minor who has no guardian of the estate, the board, if within the limits as to amount of payment and value of the minor's estate specified as of the time of payment under the provisions of the Probate Code authorizing payment to a parent of a minor entitled to the minor's custody, may pay it to the person entitled to custody of the minor to hold for the minor, if the person files with the board a verified statement that the total estate of the minor does not exceed the value so specified or, if in excess of such limits, may pay it to the probate court, and the court may order that such money be deposited in a bank or banks, or a trust company or companies, or invested in an account or accounts in an insured savings and loan association or associations, subject to withdrawal only on order of the probate court, or it may require a guardian of the estate to be appointed and the money paid to such guardian, or prescribe such other conditions as the court in its discretion deems to be in the best interest of the minor. Payment so made is a full discharge of the board and this system. The person shall account to the minor for the money when the minor reaches the age of majority.

The term "account in an insured savings and loan association" used in this section has the same meaning as in Section 23 of the Probate Code.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2. (a) A provision of this code, insofar as it is substantially the same as a previously existing provision relating to the same subject matter, shall be construed as a restatement and continuation thereof and not as a new enactment.

(b) A provision of this code, insofar as it is the same in substance as a provision of a uniform act, shall be so construed as to effectuate the general purpose to make uniform the law in those states which enact that provision.

SEC. 4. Section 8 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

8. Unless otherwise expressly stated:

(a) "Division" means a division of this code.

(b) "Part" means a part of the division in which that term occurs.

(c) "Chapter" means a chapter of the division or part, as the case may be, in which that term occurs.

(d) "Article" means an article of the chapter in which that term occurs.

(e) "Section" means a section of this code.

(f) "Subdivision" means a subdivision of the section in which that term occurs.

(g) "Paragraph" means a paragraph of the subdivision in which that term occurs.

(h) "Subparagraph" means a subparagraph of the paragraph in which that term occurs.

SEC. 5. The heading of Part 2 (commencing with Section 20) of Division 1 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

PART 2. DEFINITIONS

SEC. 6. Section 20 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

20. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this part govern the construction of Division 1 (commencing with Section 1), Division 2 (commencing with Section 100), Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 1200) and Chapter 22.5 (commencing with Section 1280) of Division 3, Division 6 (commencing with Section 6100), Division 7 (commencing with Section 7000), Division 8 (commencing with Section 13000), Division 9 (commencing with Section 15000), Division 10 (commencing with Section 20100), and Division 11 (commencing with Section 21100).

SEC. 7. Section 21 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

21. "Account," when used to mean a contract of deposit of funds between a depositor and a financial institution, includes a checking account, savings account, certificate of deposit, share account, mutual capital certificate, and other like arrangements.

SEC. 8. Section 22 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 22 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

22. "Account in an insured credit union" means a share account in a credit union, either federally chartered or state licensed, that is insured under Title II of the Federal Credit Union Act.

23. (a) "Account in an insured savings and loan association" means a savings account or mutual capital certificate of either of the following:

(1) A federal association.

(2) A savings association doing business in this state which is an "insured institution" as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. Sec. 1724, et seq.).

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Federal association" has the meaning given that term in subdivision (b) of Section 5102 of the Financial Code.

(2) "Mutual capital certificate" has the meaning given that term in Section 5111 of the Financial Code.

(3) "Savings account" has the meaning given that term in Section 5116 of the Financial Code.

(4) "Savings association" has the meaning given that term in subdivision (a) of Section 5102 of the Financial Code.

SEC. 11. Section 24 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

24. "Beneficiary" means a person to whom a donative transfer of property is made or that person's successor in interest, and:

(a) As it relates to the estate of a decedent who died intestate, means an heir.

(b) As it relates to the estate of a decedent who died testate, means a devisee.

(c) As it relates to a trust, means a person who has any present or future interest, vested or contingent.

(d) As it relates to a charitable trust, includes any person entitled to enforce the trust.

SEC. 12. Section 26 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

26. "Child" means any individual entitled to take as a child under this code by intestate succession from the parent whose relationship is involved.

SEC. 13. Section 46 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

46. "Insured account in a financial institution" means an account in a bank, an account in an insured credit union, and an account in an insured savings and loan association, to the extent that the account is insured.

SEC. 14. Section 52 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

52. "Letters," as used in Division 7 (commencing with Section 7000), means letters testamentary, letters of administration, letters of administration with the will annexed, or letters of special administration.

SEC. 15. Section 54 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

54. "Parent" means any individual entitled to take as a parent under this code by intestate succession from the child whose relationship is involved.

SEC. 16. Section 58 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 17. Section 58 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

58. (a) "Personal representative" means executor, administrator, administrator with the will annexed, special administrator, successor personal representative, or a person who performs substantially the same function under the law of another jurisdiction governing the person's status.

(b) "General personal representative" excludes a special administrator unless the special administrator has the powers, duties, and obligations of a general administrator under Section 465.

SEC. 18. Section 62 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

62. "Property" means anything that may be the subject of ownership and includes both real and personal property and any interest therein.

SEC. 19. Section 141 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

141. (a) The right of a surviving spouse to any of the following may be waived in whole or in part by a waiver under this chapter:

(1) Property that would pass from the decedent by intestate succession.

(2) Property that would pass from the decedent by testamentary disposition in a will executed before the waiver.

(3) A probate homestead.

(4) The right to have exempt property set aside.

(5) Family allowance.

(6) The right to have an estate set aside under Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6600) of Part 3 of Division 6.

(7) The right to elect to take community or quasi-community property against the decedent's will.

(8) The right to take the statutory share of an omitted spouse.

(9) The right to be appointed as the personal representative of the decedent's estate.

(b) Nothing in this chapter affects or limits the waiver or manner of waiver of rights other than those referred to in subdivision (a), including but not limited to the right to property that would pass from the decedent to the surviving spouse by nonprobate transfer upon the death of the decedent, such as the survivorship interest under a joint tenancy, a Totten trust account, or a payable-on-death account.

SEC. 20. The heading of Part 4 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 2 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

PART 4. ESTABLISHING AND REPORTING FACT OF DEATH

SEC. 21. Section 203 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

203. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(b) If the person who commenced the proceedings files an affidavit with the petition stating that the person has no reason to believe there is any opposition to, or contest of, the petition, the court may act ex parte.

SEC. 22. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 215) is added to Part 4 of Division 2 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. REPORTING FACT OF DEATH

215. If a beneficiary or a person in possession of property of the decedent knows or has reason to believe that the decedent received health care under the provisions of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the beneficiary or the person in possession of property of the decedent shall give the Director of Health Services notice of the decedent's death not later than 90 days after the date of death. The notice shall include a copy of the decedent's death certificate. The notice shall be given as provided in Section 1215, addressed to the director at the Sacramento office of the director.

SEC. 22.5. Section 216 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

216. (a) Where a deceased person or his or her spouse or minor child has received or may have received care, support, and maintenance in a state hospital for which there is a liability for payment pursuant to Section 7275 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the estate attorney, or if there is no estate attorney, the beneficiaries, the personal representative, or the persons in possession of any property of the decedent, shall give the Director of Mental Health notice of the person's death.

(b) Where a deceased person has received or may have received care, support, and maintenance in a state hospital for which there is a liability for payment pursuant to Section 7513 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the estate attorney, or it there is no estate attorney, the beneficiaries, the personal representative, or the person in possession of any property of the decedent shall give the Director of Developmental Services notice of the person's death.

(c) All notices given pursuant to this section shall be mailed postage prepaid to the Sacramento office of the appropriate director no later than 90 days from the date of the deceased person's death and shall include a copy of the decedent's death certificate.

SEC. 23. Section 233 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

233. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following:

(a) The personal representative of each person the priority of whose death is in issue if there is a personal representative for the person.

(b) All known devisees of each person the priority of whose death is in issue.

(c) All known heirs of each person the priority of whose death is in issue.

(d) All persons (or their attorneys if they have appeared by attorneys) who have requested special notice as provided in Section 1250 in the proceeding in which the petition is filed or who have given notice of appearance in person or by attorney in that proceeding.

SEC. 24. Section 277 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

277. (a) A disclaimer on behalf of a minor shall be made by the guardian of the estate of the minor if one has been appointed or, if none has been appointed, by a guardian ad litem of the minor. A disclaimer by a guardian is not effective unless made pursuant to a court order obtained under this section.

(b) A disclaimer on behalf of a decedent shall be made by the personal representative of the decedent. Except as provided in Part 6 (commencing with Section 10400) of Division 7, a disclaimer by a guardian or personal representative is not effective unless made pursuant to a court order obtained under this section.

(c) A petition for an order authorizing or requiring a guardian or personal representative to execute and file a disclaimer shall be filed in the superior court in the county in which the estate of the minor or decedent is administered or, if there is no administration, the superior court in any county in which administration would be proper. The petition may be filed by the guardian, personal representative, or other interested person.

(d) The petition shall:

(1) Identify the creator of the interest.

(2) Describe the interest to be disclaimed.

(3) State the extent of the disclaimer.

(4) Identify the person or persons the petitioner believes would take the interest in the event of the disclaimer.

(e) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as follows:

(1) If the petition is for an order authorizing or requiring the guardian of the estate of a minor to execute and file the disclaimer, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1 of Division 4 to all of the persons (other than the petitioner or persons joining in the petition) required to be given notice under that chapter.

(2) If the petition is for an order authorizing or requiring the personal representative of a decedent to execute and file the disclaimer, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(3) If the petition is for an order authorizing or requiring a guardian ad litem of a minor to execute and file the disclaimer, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given to the persons and in the manner that the court shall by order direct.

(f) After hearing, the court in its discretion may make an order authorizing or requiring the guardian or personal representative to execute and file the disclaimer if the court determines, taking into consideration all of the relevant circumstances, that the minor or decedent as a prudent person would disclaim the interest if he or she had the capacity to do so.

SEC. 25. Section 282 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

282. (a) Unless the creator of the interest provides for a specific disposition of the interest in the event of a disclaimer, the interest disclaimed shall descend, go, be distributed, or continue to be held (1) as to a present interest, as if the disclaimant had predeceased the creator of the interest or (2) as to a future interest, as if the disclaimant had died before the event determining that the taker of the interest had become finally ascertained and the taker's interest indefeasibly vested. A disclaimer relates back for all purposes to the date of the death of the creator of the disclaimed interest or the determinative event, as the case may be.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a):

(1) The beneficiary is not treated as having predeceased the decedent for the purpose of determining the generation at which the division of the estate is to be made under Part 6 (commencing with Section 240) of Division 2 or other provision of a will or trust.

(2) The beneficiary of a disclaimed interest is not treated as having predeceased the decedent for the purpose of applying subdivision (d) of Section 6409 or subdivision (b) of Section 6410.

SEC. 26. Section 300 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

300. When a person dies, the title to the person's property, real and personal, passes to the person to whom it is devised or bequeathed by the decedent's last will, or, in the absence of such disposition, to the persons who succeed to the decedent's estate as provided in Part 2 (commencing with Section 6400) of Division 6; but all of the decedent's property is subject to the possession of the executor or administrator and to the control of the superior court for the purposes of administration, sale, or other disposition under the provisions of this code, and is chargeable with the expenses of administering the decedent's estate, and the payment of the decedent's debts and the family allowance, except as otherwise provided in this code.

SEC. 27. Section 303 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

303. (a) No will shall be admitted to probate or letters of administration granted or other proceeding had (except the ordering of a transfer as provided in subdivision (b)), before any judge who is interested as an heir of the decedent, or as a legatee or devisee under a will, or when the judge is named as executor or trustee in the will, or is a creditor or is in any other manner interested or disqualified from acting. A judge who was a witness to a will is disqualified from acting in any proceeding prior to and including the admission of the will to probate or in any proceeding involving its validity or interpretation.

(b) When a petition is filed praying for the admission of a will to probate or for the granting of letters of administration, or when proceedings are pending with respect to an estate, and there is no judge of the superior court in that county qualified to act, the court or judge must make an order transferring the proceedings to the superior court of an adjoining county, and the clerk, on receipt of the clerk's fee, must transmit to the clerk of the court to which the proceedings are transferred a certified copy of the order together with all papers in the proceedings on file in the clerk's office; and thereafter the court to which the proceedings are transferred shall exercise the same jurisdiction over the estate and all matters relating to the administration thereof as if it had original jurisdiction. But such transfer shall not be ordered when some other judge qualified to act is assigned by the chairman of the judicial council to sit in the county where such proceedings are pending, to hear such proceedings.

(c) The amendments made to this section by Assembly Bill 708 of the 1987–88 Regular Session do not apply in any proceeding commenced before July 1, 1988.

SEC. 28. Section 327 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

327. When the petition is filed, the clerk of the court shall set the same for hearing by the court upon some day not less than 15 nor more than 30 days thereafter, and cause notice thereof to be published pursuant to Section 333. At the request of the petitioner which shall be made at the time the petition is filed, the clerk of the court shall set the petition for hearing by the court upon some day not less than 30 nor more than 45 days thereafter.

SEC. 29. Section 328 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

328. At least 15 days before the hearing, notice of the hearing must be personally served upon each heir of the testator and each devisee and legatee named in the will and each person named as executor who is not petitioning, or mailed, postage prepaid, from a post office within this state, addressed to each such person at his or her respective place of residence or mailing address, if known to the petitioner, or, if not, at the county seat of the county where the proceedings are pending. This notice shall also advise the person receiving the notice that the person may request special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Section 1250.

Whenever the instrument offered for probate involves or may involve a testamentary trust of property for charitable purposes other than a charitable trust with a designated trustee, resident in this state, or involves or may involve a bequest or devise for a charitable purpose without an identified legatee, devisee, or beneficiary, notice of the hearing on the petition for probate accompanied by a copy of the petition and the will, must be personally served upon the Attorney General or mailed, postage prepaid from a post office within this state, addressed to him or her at the office of the Attorney General at Sacramento, California.

SEC. 30. Section 333 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

333. (a) Publication of notice pursuant to this section shall be for at least 15 days. Three publications in a newspaper published once a week or more often, with at least five days intervening between the first and last publication dates, not counting such publication dates, are sufficient. Notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city where the decedent resided at time of death, or where the decedent's property is located if the court has jurisdiction over the estate pursuant to subdivision (3) of Section 301. If there is no such newspaper, the decedent did not reside in a city, or the property is not located in a city, then notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county which is circulated within the community in which the decedent resided or the property is located. If there is no such newspaper, notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in the State of California nearest to the county seat of the county in which the decedent resided or the property is located, and which is circulated within the community in which the decedent resided or the property is located. If there is no such newspaper, notice shall be given in written or printed form, posted at three of the most public places within such community. For purposes of this section, "city" means a charter city as defined in Section 34101 of the Government Code or a general law city as defined in Section 34102 of the Government Code.

(b) The caption of such notice and decedent's name shall be in at least 8-point type, the text of the notice shall be in at least 7-point type, and the notice shall state substantially as follows:

"NOTICE OF DEATH OF

AND OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE NO._____

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of _____ and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both:

A petition has been filed by _____ in the Superior Court of _____ County requesting that _____ be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of _____. The petition is set for hearing in Dept. No. _____ at _____ on _____ at _____ .

(Address)

(Date of hearing) (Time of hearing)

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should either appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Section 9100 of the Probate Code of California. The time for filing claims will not expire prior to four months from the date of the hearing noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may request special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Section 1250 of the California Probate Code.

(Name and address of petitioner, or his or her attorney)"

(c) No petition filed pursuant to Section 326 or 440 may be heard by the court unless an affidavit showing due publication of notice has been filed with the clerk upon completion of the publication. Such affidavit shall contain a copy of the notice, and state the date of its first publication.

(d) When, however, notice has been previously published and an affidavit showing due publication of notice, containing a copy of the notice, and stating the date of its first publication, has been filed with the clerk upon completion of the publication, then, whether published or posted, the caption of any subsequent notice and decedent's name shall be in at least 8-point type, the text of the notice shall be in at least 7-point type, and the notice shall state substantially as follows:

"NOTICE OF

PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE NO._____

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of _____ and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both:

A petition has been filed by _____ in the Superior Court of _____ County requesting that _____ be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of _____. The petition is set for hearing in Dept. No. _____ at _____ on _____ at _____ .

(Address) (Date of hearing) (Time of hearing)

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should either appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may request special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Section 1250 of the California Probate Code.

(Name and address of petitioner, or his or her attorney)"

(e) If the petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act, the notice prescribed by subdivision (b) or subdivision (d) shall include the statement required by subdivision (c) of Section 10451.

SEC. 31. Section 422 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

422. (a) Administration of the estate of a person dying intestate must be granted to one or more of the following persons, who are entitled to letters in the following order:

(1) The surviving spouse, or some competent person whom he or she may request to have appointed.

In the event the surviving spouse is a party to an action in any court for separate maintenance, annulment, or dissolution of the marriage of the decedent and the surviving spouse, and was living apart from the decedent on the date of the decedent's death, then letters of administration pursuant to this subparagraph shall issue to the surviving spouse only after he or she has waived his or her right to file a petition under Section 13650 for transfer of any of the decedent's property to the surviving spouse.

(2) The children.

(3) The grandchildren.

(4) The parents.

(5) The brothers and sisters.

(6) A surviving spouse who is a party to an action in any court for separate maintenance, annulment, or dissolution of the marriage of the decedent and the surviving spouse and who was living apart from the decedent on the date of the decedent's death and who has not waived his or her right to file a petition under Section 13650 for transfer of any of the decedent's property to the surviving spouse.

(7) The next of kin entitled to share in the estate.

(8) The relatives of a previously deceased spouse, when such relatives are entitled to succeed to some portion of the estate.

(9) The conservator or guardian of the estate of the deceased person acting in that capacity at the date of death of the conservatee or ward.

(10) The public administrator.

(11) The creditors.

(12) Any person legally competent.

(b) A relative of the decedent who is entitled to priority under subdivision (a) is entitled to priority only if either of the following facts exist:

(1) The relative is entitled to succeed to all or part of the estate.

(2) The relative is a parent, grandparent, child, or grandchild of the decedent and either takes under the will of, or is entitled to succeed to all or part of the estate of, another deceased person who is entitled to succeed to all or part of the estate of the decedent.

SEC. 32. Section 441 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

441. The clerk shall set the petition for hearing by the court and cause notice of the hearing to be published pursuant to Section 333. The clerk shall also cause notice of the hearing to be mailed, postage prepaid, to each heir of the decedent named in the petition at least 15 days before the hearing, addressed to each heir at the heir's residence or mailing address as set forth in the petition, otherwise at the county seat of the county where the proceedings are pending. Such mailed notice shall also advise the person receiving such notice that the person may request special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of estate assets or any petition or account as provided in Section 1250.

SEC. 33. Section 541.1 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

541.1. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 541, in any proceedings for the determination of the amount of bond to be required of the executor or administrator (whether at the time of appointment or subsequently), when satisfactory evidence is presented to the court that the estate of the decedent includes money or securities which have been, or will be, deposited pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 9700) of Part 5 of Division 7 upon condition that such money or securities will not be withdrawn except on authorization of the court, the court may, in its discretion, order such money or securities so deposited or such money so invested and may exclude such deposited property from the computation of the amount of such bond or reduce the amount of bond to be required in respect of such money or securities to such an amount as it may deem reasonable.

(b) The petitioner for letters testamentary or of administration may deliver any such money or securities in his or her possession in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 9700) of Part 5 of Division 7 or may allow the financial institution or trust company to retain any such money or securities already in its possession. In either event, the petitioner shall secure and file with the court a written receipt including the agreement of the financial institution or trust company that such money or securities shall not be allowed to be withdrawn except on authorization of the court. In so receiving and retaining such money or securities, the financial institution or trust company shall be protected to the same extent as though it had received the same from a person to whom letters testamentary or of administration had been issued.

(c) As used in this section:

(1) "Financial institution" has the same meaning as provided in Section 40.

(2) "Trust company" has the same meaning as provided in Section 83.

SEC. 34. Section 553.3 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

553.3. If an administrator or executor moves to have the amount of the bond reduced, the motion shall include an affidavit setting forth the condition of the estate and notice of hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 35. Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 570) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 35.5. Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 573) is added to Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 8. SURVIVAL OF ACTIONS

573. (a) Except as provided in this section, no cause of action is lost by reason of the death of any person, but may be maintained by or against the person's personal representative.

(b) In an action brought under this section against a personal representative, all damages may be awarded which might have been recovered against the decedent had the decedent lived except damages awardable under Section 3294 of the Civil Code or other damages imposed primarily for the sake of example and by way of punishing the defendant.

(c) Where a person having a cause of action dies before judgment, the damages recoverable by his or her personal representative are limited to the loss or damage the decedent sustained or incurred prior to death, including any penalties or punitive or exemplary damages that the decedent would have been entitled to recover had the decedent lived but not including any damages for pain, suffering, or disfigurement.

(d) This section applies where a loss or damage occurs simultaneously with or after the death of a person who would have been liable for the loss or damage if his or her death had not preceded or occurred simultanously with the loss or damage.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the assignability of causes of action.

SEC. 36. Section 608.5 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

608.5. (a) At any time prior to entry of the decree of final distribution of the estate, any interested person may file with the court a written objection to the appraisement by the executor, administrator, or probate referee.

(b) The clerk shall fix a time, not less than 15 days after the filing, for a hearing on the objection.

(c) The person objecting shall give notice of the hearing, together with a copy of the objection, as provided in Section 1220. If the appraisement was made by the probate referee, the person objecting shall also mail a copy of the objection and of the notice to the probate referee at least 15 days before the time set for the hearing.

(d) The person objecting to the appraisement has the burden of proof.

(e) Upon completion of the hearing, the court may make any orders it deems appropriate.

SEC. 37. Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 700) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 38. Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 707) is added to Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 12. CLAIMS AGAINST DECEDENT

Article 1. Actions Involving Decedent

707. The filing of a claim is not required as a prerequisite to commencing an action against the decedent for damages for injury to, or for the death of, a person caused by the wrongful act or neglect of the decedent or to recover upon a judgment obtained in the action if (1) the decedent had liability insurance applicable to the cause of action, (2) the amount of damages sought in the action does not exceed the maximum amount of that insurance, or recovery in excess thereof is waived, and (3) the estate of the decedent otherwise qualifies for summary probate proceedings pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13100) of Part 1 of Division 8. If the amount of damages sought in the action exceeds the maximum amount of the insurance, filing and presentation of a claim is required only with respect to the amount sought in excess of the maximum amount of the insurance. The defendant in the action may be designated as "Estate of (name of decedent), Deceased." No action shall be maintained under this section unless the insurer has been served with a copy of the complaint.

709. If an action is pending against the decedent at the time of his or her death, the plaintiff shall in like manner file his or her claim as required in other cases. No recovery shall be allowed against decedent's estate in the action unless proof is made of the filing. If, however, the action which is pending is an action for damages, the decedent was insured therefor, the insurer has accepted the defense of the cause, and an appearance has been made in such action on behalf of the decedent, no claim shall be required except for amounts in excess of or not covered by the insurance. Further, if any action is pending against the decedent at the time of his or her death and a claim based on such action is not filed within four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, the court may thereafter allow filing of the claim on such terms as may be just and equitable, upon the claimant's petition and notice of hearing given as provided in Section 1220, if it finds that the claim was not filed previously because neither the claimant nor the claimant's attorney had actual knowledge of the decedent's death at least 15 days prior to the expiration of four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative for filing the claim, but any property distributed pursuant to court order or any payment properly made before notice of such petition shall not be subject to the claim.

No relief shall be granted unless the petition is filed within a reasonable time after discovery of decedent's death, and in any event within one year after the expiration of four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, and before petition for final distribution has been filed.

If, at the time of filing the petition hereunder, assets of the estate have been paid to general creditors or some thereof or have been distributed by decree of preliminary distribution to heirs, devisees, or legatees (in either case after expiration of four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative), and it appears that the filing and later establishment of the claim, in the circumstances, would cause or tend to cause unequal treatment between heirs, devisees, legatees, or creditors, then permission to file the claim shall be denied.

709.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court in which an action described in Section 709 is pending may permit the action to be continued against the defendant in the name of "Estate of (name of decedent), Deceased," upon petition of the plaintiff, pursuant to the same procedure, and upon the same terms and conditions, as are provided in Section 721 for claims which were not the subject of a pending action at decedent's death. The procedure of this section is cumulative and does not supersede the procedure provided in subdivision (b) of Section 385 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

716. (a) An action may be brought by the holder of a mortgage or lien to enforce the same against the property of the estate subject thereto, where all recourse against any other property of the estate is expressly waived in the complaint. The action may be brought whether or not the claim was filed as provided in Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) of Division 7; but no counsel fees shall be recovered in the action unless the claim was so filed.

(b) As used in this section, "lien" includes, but is not limited to, a judgment that is a lien.

719. When a judgment is recovered, with costs, against any personal representative, the personal representative shall be individually liable for such costs, but they must be allowed the personal representative in the administration accounts, unless it appears that the suit or proceeding in which the costs were taxed was prosecuted or defended by the personal representative without just cause.

720. If a claim for damages for injuries to, or death of, a person, for which no action specified in Section 709 was pending at the time of the decedent's death, is not filed within the time otherwise limited by this chapter, the court, upon application of the claimant made not later than one year after accrual of the claimant's cause of action, and upon such notice and hearing, if any, as the court may order, shall permit the filing of the claim and, if required, appoint or reappoint a personal representative. Neither the filing of the claim pursuant to this section nor its later establishment, in whole or in part, shall make payments properly made before notice of such application subject to the claim. The personal representative, distributee, or payee shall not be liable on account of such prior distribution or payment. The court shall impose reasonable conditions upon the filing of the claim to avoid unequal treatment between the heirs, devisees, legatees, or creditors of the estate.

This section shall not be applicable to claims of public entities under Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 9200) of Part 4 of Division 7.

721. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the filing of a claim as provided in Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) of Division 7 shall not be required and a civil action may be maintained by a claimant to establish, to the limits of the insurance protection only, a liability of the decedent for which the decedent was protected by liability insurance.

(b) The claimant shall file a verified petition in the superior court of the county in which the administration of the estate is pending, or if none is pending, in the superior court of the county in which administration may be had as provided in Section 301, alleging (1) the nature and amount of the claim, (2) the decedent was protected, in whole or in part, by liability insurance with respect thereto, (3) the interests of the estate will not be prejudiced, and (4) any recovery in the action by the claimant will be limited solely to the decedent's insurance protection. The court, upon such hearing and notice, if any, as it may order, shall grant leave to the claimant to file the action, unless it finds that the interests of the estate will be prejudiced thereby. However, if it appears that the insurer denies coverage or admits liability only conditionally or with reservation, the court may deny leave to the claimant to file the action.

(c) The action by the claimant shall name as the defendant "Estate of (name of decedent), Deceased." Summons shall be served upon a person designated in writing by the insurer or, if none, upon the insurer. Further proceedings shall be in the name of the estate, but otherwise shall be conducted in the same manner and have the same effect as if the action were against the personal representative. For good cause, the court in which the civil action is pending, upon motion of an interested person or upon its own motion, may order the appointment of a personal representative and the personal representative's substitution as the defendant.

(d) The insurer may deny or otherwise contest its liability by cross-complaint in the action or by an independent action against the claimant, but the judgment on the cross-complaint or in the independent action shall not adjudicate rights of persons who are not parties.

(e) A judgment in favor of claimant in an action pursuant to this section shall be enforceable only from the insurance protection and shall not create a lien upon real or other property in the estate.

(f) The remedies of this section are cumulative, and may be pursued concurrently with other remedies.

Article 2. Exonerating Encumbered Property

736. When a testator devises real property subject to a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien and the intention is indicated by the will that the mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien is to be exonerated, other property specifically devised or bequeathed shall not be sold for the purpose of exonerating the encumbered property unless a contrary intention that the other property be sold is indicated by the will.

SEC. 39. Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 750) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 40. Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 750) is added to Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 13. ABATEMENT

750. If the testator makes provision by his or her will, or designates the estate to be appropriated, for the payment of his or her debts, the expenses of administration, or family allowance, they must be paid according to such provision or out of the estate thus appropriated, so far as the same is sufficient. If insufficient, that portion of the estate not disposed of by the will, if any, must be appropriated for that purpose; and if that is not sufficient, the property given to residuary legatees and devisees, and thereafter all property devised and bequeathed is liable for the same, in proportion to the value or amount of the several devises and legacies, but specific devises and legacies are exempt from such liability if it appears to the court necessary to carry into effect the intention of the testator, and there is other sufficient estate.

751. The property of a testator, except as otherwise provided in this code, must be resorted to for the payment of legacies in the following order:

(a) The property which is expressly appropriated by the will therefor.

(b) Property not disposed of by the will.

(c) Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee.

752. Unless a different intention is expressed in the will, abatement takes place in any class only as between legacies of that class, and legacies to a spouse or to kindred shall abate only after abatement of legacies to persons not related to the testator.

753. When property given by will to persons other than the residuary devisees and legatees is sold for the payment of debts or expenses or family allowance, all the devisees and legatees must contribute according to their respective interests to the devisee or legatee whose devise or legacy has been sold, and the court, when distribution is made, must settle the amount of the several liabilities and decree the amount each person shall contribute, and reserve the same from his or her distributive share for the purpose of such contribution.

SEC. 41. Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 830) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 42. Section 904 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

904. (a) Any executor or administrator, at any time after four months from the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration, and upon such notice to the persons interested in the estate as the court or a judge thereof shall require, may petition the court for an allowance upon his or her commissions; and on the hearing the court shall make an order allowing such portion of the commissions, for services rendered up to that time, as the court shall deem proper, and the portion so allowed may be thereupon charged against the estate.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the commissions.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the commissions.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the commissions.

SEC. 43. Section 911 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

911. (a) Any attorney who has rendered services to an executor or administrator, at any time after four months from the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration, may petition the court for an allowance upon his or her fees; and on the hearing the court shall make an order requiring the executor or administrator to pay such attorney out of the estate such compensation, on account of services rendered up to that time, as the court shall deem proper, and such payment shall be made forthwith.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the fees.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the fees.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the payment of the fees.

SEC. 44. Section 920 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

920. Every personal representative is chargeable in his or her accounts with all of the estate of the decedent which comes into his or her possession, and with all the income, issues, and profits of the estate.

SEC. 45. Section 920.3 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

920.3. Upon each accounting, the personal representative shall show that during the period covered by the account he or she has complied with Section 9652.

SEC. 46. Section 920.5 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 47. Section 926 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

926. (a) When an account is rendered for settlement, the clerk shall set the account for settlement by the court. If the account is for a final settlement, and a petition for the final distribution of the estate is filed with the account, the notice of settlement shall so state, and on the settlement of the account, distribution of the estate to those entitled thereto may be had immediately, without further notice or proceedings.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the account and petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the account and petition.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the account and petition.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the account and petition.

SEC. 48. Article 4 (commencing with Section 950) of Chapter 15 of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 48.5. Article 4 (commencing with Section 956) is added to Chapter 15 of Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

Article 4. Payment of Debts, Expenses, and Charges

956. If all of the debts have been paid by the first order for payment, the court must direct the payment of legacies and the distribution of the estate among the persons entitled, as provided in the next chapter; but if there are debts remaining unpaid, or if, for other reasons, the estate is not in a condition to be closed, the administration may continue for such time as may be reasonable.

SEC. 48.6. Article 5 (commencing with Section 980) of Chapter 15 of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 49. Section 1000 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1000. (a) When two months have elapsed after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative as defined in Section 58 and upon bond—or with or without bond, as the court determines, when the time for filing claims has expired and all uncontested claims have been paid or are sufficiently secured by mortgage, or otherwise, but the estate is not in a condition to be finally closed and distributed—the executor or administrator, or any heir, devisee, or legatee, or the assignee, grantee, or successor in interest of any heir, devisee, or legatee, may petition the court for distribution of a legacy, devise, or share of the estate or any portion or portions thereof to which he or she is entitled or a payment on account of the legacies to the heirs, devisees, or legatees or any assignees, grantees, or successors in interest or where there are priorities, to those of the class or classes having priorities; or, if the decedent was a nonresident and left a will which has been duly proved or allowed in the state of his or her residence, and the will has been admitted to probate in this state pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 360) of Chapter 1 of Division 3, or if the decedent died intestate, and an administrator has been duly appointed and qualified in the state of his or her residence, and it is necessary, in order that the estate or any part thereof may be distributed according to the will, or it is for the best interests of the estate, that any part of the estate in this state should be delivered to the executor or administrator in the state of the decedent's residence, the executor or administrator may petition the court for an order authorizing the delivery of such portion of the estate as the court shall deem safe and proper and for the best interests of the estate, to the executor or administrator in the state of decedent's residence.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition for distribution.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition for distribution.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the petition for distribution.

(d) Any person interested in the estate or any personal representative may resist the petition.

SEC. 50. Section 1004 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1004. When the time for filing claims has expired and all uncontested claims have been paid or are sufficiently secured by mortgage, or otherwise, but the estate is not in a condition to be finally closed and distributed, the executor or administrator to whom authority has been granted to administer the estate without court supervision, in accordance with Part 6 (commencing with Section 10400) of Division 7, may petition the court for authority to distribute a portion of the estate to the person or persons entitled thereto. Such petition need not include an accounting, provided that when the petition seeks authority to distribute to a trustee the petition shall include an accounting unless the trustee consents to the distribution without an accounting. The total amount of the property distributed under this section shall not exceed 50 percent of the net value of the estate. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220, but the court may order the notice to be given for a shorter period or dispensed with. If the court shall determine that all of the allegations of the petition are true, that the estate is but little indebted, that the property to be distributed does not exceed 50 percent of the net value of the estate, and that the distribution may be made without loss or injury to the estate or any person interested therein, the court shall make an order authorizing the executor or administrator to distribute the property to the person or persons entitled thereto. For purposes of this section, "net value of the estate" means the excess of the value of the assets of the estate reflected by all inventories and appraisements on file with the court over the total amount of all creditors' claims filed and liens and encumbrances recorded or known to the executor or administrator not reflected in any creditors' claims filed, excluding death tax liens occasioned by the decedent's death.

SEC. 51. Section 1020 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1020. (a) Immediately upon the final settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator, or at any subsequent time, upon the petition of the executor or administrator, or of any heir, devisee or legatee, or his or her assignee, grantee or successor in interest, the court must proceed to distribute the residue of the estate among the persons entitled thereto. Any person interested in the estate or any coexecutor or coadministrator may resist the petition.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

SEC. 51.5. Section 1020.1 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1020.1. The court before making distribution of any property of a decedent to any assignee or transferee of any heir, devisee or legatee or before making distribution to any person other than an heir, devisee, or legatee pursuant to any agreement, request or instructions of any heir, devisee or legatee or of any attorney-in-fact of any heir, devisee or legatee may on the motion of any person interested in the estate or on the motion of the public administrator or on its own motion inquire into the consideration for such assignment, transfer, agreement, request or instructions and into the amount of any fees, charges, or consideration paid or agreed to be paid by the heir, devisee or legatee and into the circumstances surrounding the execution of such assignment, transfer, agreement, request or instructions and if it finds that the fees, charges or consideration paid by any such heir, devisee or legatee is grossly unreasonable or that any such assignment, transfer, agreement, request or instructions was obtained by duress, fraud or undue influence it may refuse to make distribution pursuant thereto except upon such terms as it deems just and equitable. Notice of a hearing on any motion made pursuant to this section shall be served personally or by registered mail as the court may direct at least 15 days before the hearing upon the heir, devisee, or legatee executing any such assignment, transfer, agreement, request, or instructions and upon the person or persons claiming thereunder.

SEC. 52. Section 1021.5 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1021.5. If an option granted pursuant to Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 9960) of Part 5 of Division 7 extends beyond the closing of administration, the decree of final distribution shall provide that the real property affected be distributed subject to the option.

SEC. 53. Section 1025.5 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1025.5. Within one year from the date of issuance of letters in estates not required to file a federal estate tax return and within 18 months from the date of issuance of letters in estates where such return is required, the executor or administrator shall either petition for final distribution of the estate or file a verified report of status of administration. If a report is filed, it shall show the condition of the estate and the reasons why the estate cannot be distributed and closed. Notice of the hearing of the report shall be given as provided in Section 1220. Upon the hearing of the report, the court may either order that the administration of the estate continue for the time and upon the terms and conditions as it determines reasonable, provided that it finds that a continuance is in the best interests of the estate or the persons interested therein, or it may order the executor or administrator to file the petition for final distribution.

If a petition or report is not filed by the executor or administrator within the times set forth herein or prescribed by the court, then, upon petition of any person interested in the estate or upon its own motion, the court may cite the executor or administrator to appear before the court and show the condition of the estate and the reasons why the estate cannot be distributed and closed. Upon the hearing of the citation, the court may either order the administration of the estate to continue as above provided or may order the executor or administrator to file the petition for final distribution.

Failure of the executor or administrator to comply with any order made under this section shall be grounds for revocation of letters.

If, upon the hearing for final distribution or for an allowance upon the commissions of the executor or administrator or upon the fees of the attorney, the court finds that the time taken for administration of the estate exceeds the applicable time set forth herein or prescribed by the court, and was caused by factors within the control of the executor or administrator or the attorney and that the time taken was not in best interests of the estate or the persons interested therein, the court may, notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 901 and 910, reduce the fees or commissions of the person or persons having control of those factors by an amount as the court deems appropriate, regardless of whether the fees or commissions otherwise allowable under the provisions of Sections 901 and 910 would be reasonable compensation for the services rendered by such person or persons.

This section shall be applicable only to the estates of persons dying on or after January 1, 1977.

SEC. 54. Section 1027 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1027. (a) Executors or administrators, public or otherwise, shall petition for distribution of an estate at the time of filing a final account. If the court, at the time set for the hearing of the final account, or such time thereafter to which the matter may be continued, does not distribute the entire balance of the estate remaining for distribution to known heirs, devisees, or legatees entitled to succeed thereto, it must distribute to the State of California that portion of the estate not distributed to the known heirs, devisees, or legatees. Insofar as practical, any real property or tangible personal property shall be converted to money prior to transmittal to the state.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(3) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(d) Whenever it appears that the estate or any portion thereof is to be distributed to the State of California because there are no known heirs or that the estate or any portion thereof is to be distributed to heirs, devisees, or legatees whose whereabouts are unknown, the executor or administrator must serve the State Controller, personally or by mail, with a copy of the petition for distribution, together with notice of the hearing thereon, specifying the date of the hearing, and a copy of the latest account filed with the court, at least 30 days prior to the date of the hearing.

(e) If the court distributes the estate or any portion thereof to the State of California, and the distributing clause contains words otherwise creating a trust in favor of certain unknown or unidentified persons as a class, the distribution shall vest in the State of California both legal and equitable title to the property so distributed; saving, however, the right of claimants to appear and claim the estate or any portion thereof, as in this section provided.

(f) Upon the rendition of a decree of distribution, any money distributed to the State of California shall forthwith be delivered to the State Treasurer by the executor or administrator, and all other personal property so distributed shall forthwith be delivered to the State Controller for deposit in the State Treasury.

(g) A certified copy of the decree of distribution and of any court orders amending the decree of distribution shall be delivered to the State Controller by the executor or administrator at the time of making any remittance in connection with an estate.

(h) No deposit of property in an estate shall be made in the county treasury by any executor or administrator, public or otherwise, if the estate has previously been distributed to the State of California pursuant to this section, but the estate shall be transmitted forthwith to the State Treasurer or State Controller as provided in this section.

(i) The property so distributed shall be held by the State Treasurer for a period of five years from the date of the decree making the distribution, within which time any person may claim the estate or any part thereof in the manner provided by Title 10 (commencing with Section 1300) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(j) Any person who does not appear and claim, as herein required, shall be forever barred, and such property, or so much thereof as is not claimed, shall vest absolutely in the state.

SEC. 54.5. Article 3 (commencing with Section 1030) of Chapter 16 of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 55. Section 1041 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1041. The order may be made on the petition of the executor or administrator or of any person interested in the estate. When the petition is filed, the clerk shall set the petition for hearing by the court, and the petitioner shall give notice of the hearing as provided in Section 1220. Any person interested in the estate may appear and contest the petition by filing written objections thereto.

SEC. 56. Section 1067 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1067. The final settlement of an estate, as provided in this chapter, shall not prevent a subsequent issue of letters testamentary or of administration, or of administration with the will annexed, if other property of the estate is discovered, or if it becomes necessary or proper for any cause that letters should be again issued. The court shall issue such letters to the person or persons entitled thereto in the same order and manner as is directed in relation to original letters of administration, provided, however, that the administrator who served at the time of the order of discharge shall have priority.

Whenever an estate, or any portion thereof, has been distributed to the State of California, a copy of any petition for subsequent issuance of letters testamentary or of administration, or of administration with the will annexed, and notice of any hearing thereon, shall be served on the State Controller as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 57. Section 1080 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1080. Anytime after the commencement of the time for filing claims and prior to the time a petition for final distribution has been filed, the executor or administrator, or any person claiming to be an heir of the decedent or entitled to distribution of the estate or any part thereof, may file a petition setting forth his or her claim or reason and praying that the court determine the persons who are entitled to distribution of the estate. Notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220. At least 15 days before the date set for the hearing on the petition by the court, the petitioner also shall cause notice of the hearing thereof to be mailed to all legatees and devisees and to all known heirs of the decedent addressed to them at their respective offices or places of residence, if known, and if not, at the county seat of the county where the proceedings are pending, or to be personally served upon these persons. Any person may appear and file a written statement setting forth the person's interest in the estate. No other pleadings are necessary and the allegations of each claimant shall be deemed to be denied by each of the other claimants to the extent that they conflict with any claim of the latter.

Whenever any estate involves or may involve a charitable trust, other than a charitable trust with a designated trustee who may lawfully accept the trust, or involves or may involve a bequest or devise for a charitable purpose without an identified legatee, devisee, or beneficiary thereof, or involves or may involve an escheat to the State of California, the Attorney General shall be deemed to be a person entitled to distribution within the meaning of this section and shall be entitled to file the petition referred to in this section and shall be given written notice of the hearing in the same manner as legatees and devisees.

SEC. 58. Section 1191 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1191. Notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 59. Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 1200) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 60. Chapter 22 (commencing with Section 1200) is added to Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 22. NOTICES

Article 1. General Notice Provisions

1200. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d), this chapter governs notice required or permitted under this code.

(b) This chapter does not apply to proceedings under Division 4 (commencing with Section 1400) (guardianship and conservatorship) or Division 9 (commencing with Section 15000) (Trust Law), except that Sections 1201, 1202, 1204, 1205, 1207, 1240, 1241, and 1242 apply to proceedings under any of the divisions of this code.

(c) This chapter does not apply to notice under a particular provision to the extent that the particular provision is inconsistent with this chapter.

(d) This chapter does not apply to the giving of a particular notice where the notice was delivered, mailed, posted, or first published before July 1, 1988. The applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, continues to apply to the giving of that notice, notwithstanding its amendment or repeal by the act that enacted this section.

1201. If a person is required to give notice, the person required to give the notice need not give the notice to himself or herself or to any other person who joins in the petition.

1202. Where the court determines that the notice otherwise required is insufficient in the particular circumstances, the court may require that further or additional notice, including a longer period of notice, be given.

1203. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), the court may, for good cause, shorten the time for giving a notice of hearing.

(b) The court may not shorten the time for giving the notice of hearing required by Section 328, 441, or 9861.

(c) Unless the particular provision governing the publication of notice of hearing otherwise provides, the court may not shorten the time for publication of notice of hearing.

1204. A person, including a guardian ad litem, guardian, conservator, trustee, or other fiduciary, may waive notice by a writing signed by the person or the person's attorney and filed in the proceeding.

1205. If a hearing is continued or postponed, no further notice of the continued or postponed hearing is required unless ordered by the court.

1206. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), where notice is required to be given to known heirs or devisees, notice shall be given to the following persons:

(1) If the estate is an intestate estate, to the heirs named in the petition for letters of administration and to any additional heirs who become known to the person giving the notice prior to the giving of the notice.

(2) If the estate is a testate estate, to the devisees named in the petition for probate of the will and to any additional devisees who become known to the person giving the notice prior to the giving of the notice.

(b) Notice need not be given to a person under subdivision (a) if the person's interest has been satisfied pursuant to court order or as evidenced by the person's written receipt or written acceptance.

1207. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), where notice is required to be given to a decedent's beneficiaries, devisees, or heirs, notice need not be given to a person who, because of a possible parent-child relationship between a stepchild and a stepparent or between a foster child and a foster parent, may be (1) an heir of the decedent or (2) a member of a class to which a devise is made.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not apply where the person required to give the notice has actual knowledge of facts that a person would reasonably believe give rise under Section 6408 to the parent-child relationship between the stepchild and the stepparent or between the foster child and the foster parent.

1208. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if notice is required to be given to a trust or trustee, notice to trust beneficiaries is not required.

(b) Subject to subdivision (c), where the personal representative and the trustee, or the person named as trustee, are the same person, notice shall be given to (1) each person who, under the terms of the trust, would be presently entitled to any payment if the trust were in effect, or (2) if there are no such persons, to each person who, under the terms of the trust, would be entitled to any distribution if the trust were terminated at the time the notice is required to be given.

(c) Notice to trust beneficiaries is not required under subdivision (b) where the trust has more than one trustee and notice is given to a cotrustee who is not a personal representative.

1209. (a) Where notice is required to be given to the State of California, the notice shall be given to the Attorney General.

(b) Where notice is required to be given to the Attorney General, the notice shall be mailed to the Attorney General at the office of the Attorney General at Sacramento, California.

Article 2. Mailing in General

1215. Unless otherwise expressly provided:

(a) If a notice or other paper is required or permitted to be mailed to a person, notice shall be mailed as provided in this section or personally delivered as provided in Section 1216.

(b) The notice or other paper shall be sent by:

(1) First-class mail if the person's address is within the United States. First-class mail includes certified, registered, and express mail.

(2) Airmail if the person's address is not within the United States.

(c) The notice or other paper shall be deposited in a post office, mailbox, subpost office, substation, mail chute, or other like facility regularly maintained by the United States Postal Service, in a sealed envelope, with postage paid, addressed to the person to whom it is mailed.

(d) When the notice or other paper is deposited in the mail, mailing is complete and the period of notice is not extended.

1216. (a) If a notice or other paper is required or permitted to be mailed to a person, it may be delivered personally to that person. Personal delivery as provided in this section satisfies a provision that requires or permits a notice or other paper to be mailed.

(b) Personal delivery pursuant to this section is complete when the notice or other paper is delivered personally to the person who is to receive it.

1217. If a notice or other paper is required to be served or otherwise given and no other manner of giving the notice or other paper is specified by statute, the notice or other paper shall be mailed or personally delivered as provided in this article.

Article 3. Mailing Notice of Hearing

1220. (a) Notice of a hearing shall be given as provided in this section in the following cases:

(1) Where another section so requires.

(2) Where notice of a hearing is required but no other period or manner is prescribed by statute, unless the period or manner of notice is ordered by the court or judge.

(b) At least 15 days before the time set for the hearing, the petitioner or the person filing the report, account, or other paper shall cause notice of the time and place of the hearing to be mailed to the persons required to be given notice.

(c) Unless the section requiring notice specifies the persons to be given notice, notice shall be mailed to all of the following:

(1) The personal representative.

(2) All persons who have given notice of appearance in the estate proceeding in person or by attorney. If the person appeared by attorney, the notice shall be mailed to the attorney.

(d) The notice shall be addressed to the person required to be given notice at his or her office or place of residence, if known, or, if neither address is known, to the person at the county seat where the proceedings are pending.

(e) Nothing in this section excuses compliance with the requirements for notice to a person who has requested special notice pursuant to Article 6 (commencing with Section 1250).

(f) The court for good cause may dispense with the notice otherwise required to be given to a person as provided in this section.

Article 4. Posting Notice of Hearing

1230. Where notice of hearing is required to be posted as provided in this section:

(a) At least 15 days before the time set for the hearing, the court clerk shall cause a notice of the time and place of the hearing to be posted at the courthouse of the county where the proceedings are pending. If court is held at a place other than the county seat, the notice may be posted either at the courthouse of the county where the proceedings are pending or at the building where the court is held.

(b) The posted notice of hearing shall state all of the following:

(1) The name of the estate.

(2) The name of the petitioner.

(3) The nature of the petition, referring to the petition for further particulars.

(4) The time and place of the hearing of the petition.

Article 5. Citations

1240. A citation may be issued by the court clerk on the application of any party, without a court order, except in cases where an order is expressly required by law.

1241. The citation shall be directed to the person to be cited, signed by the court clerk, and issued under the seal of the court. The citation shall contain the title of the proceeding, a brief statement of the nature of the proceeding, and a direction that the person cited appear at a time and place specified.

1242. The citation shall be served on the person cited in the same manner as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 413.10) of Title 5 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Except as otherwise provided by statute, the citation shall be served at least five days before its return day.

Article 6. Request for Special Notice

1250. (a) At any time after the issuance of letters, any person interested in the estate, whether as devisee, heir, creditor, beneficiary under a trust, or as otherwise interested, may in person or by attorney, file with the court clerk, a written request for special notice.

(b) The request for special notice shall be so entitled and shall set forth the name of the person and the address to which notices shall be sent.

(c) Special notice may be requested of any or all of the following matters:

(1) Petitions filed in the estate proceeding.

(2) Inventories and appraisements of the estate, including any supplemental inventories and appraisements.

(3) Objections to an appraisement made by the personal representative or probate referee.

(4) Accounts of a personal representative.

(5) Reports of status of administration.

(d) Special notice may be requested of any matter in subdivision (c) by describing it, or of all the matters in subdivision (c) by referring generally to "the matters described in subdivision (c) of Section 1250 of the Probate Code" or by using words of similar meaning.

(e) A copy of the request shall be personally delivered or mailed to the personal representative or to the attorney for the personal representative. If personally delivered, the request is effective when it is delivered. If mailed, the request is effective when it is received.

(f) When the original of the request is filed with the court clerk, it shall be accompanied by a written admission or proof of service.

1251. A request for special notice may be modified or withdrawn in the same manner as provided for the making of the initial request.

1252. (a) If a request has been made pursuant to Section 1250 for special notice of a hearing, the person filing the petition, report, or account, or other paper shall give written notice of the filing, together with a copy of the petition, report, or account, or other paper, and the time and place set for the hearing, by mail to the person named in the request at the address set forth in the request, at least 15 days before the time set for the hearing.

(b) If a request has been made pursuant to Section 1250 for special notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisement of the estate or of the filing of any other paper that does not require a hearing, the inventory and appraisement or other paper shall be mailed not later than 15 days after the inventory and appraisement or other paper is filed with the court.

Article 7. Proof of Giving Notice

1260. (a) If notice of a hearing is required, proof of giving notice of the hearing shall be made to the satisfaction of the court at or before the hearing.

(b) If it appears to the satisfaction of the court that notice has been regularly given or that the party entitled to notice has waived it, the court shall so find in its order.

(c) The finding described in subdivision (b), when the order becomes final, is conclusive on all persons.

1261. Proof of mailing may be made in the manner prescribed in Section 1013a of the Code of Civil Procedure.

1262. Proof of publication may be made by the affidavit of the publisher or printer, or the foreman or principal clerk of the publisher or printer, showing the time and place of publication.

1263. Proof of posting may be made by the affidavit of the person who posted the notice.

1264. Proof of notice by personal delivery may be made by the affidavit of the person making the delivery showing the time and place of delivery and the name of the person to whom delivery was made.

1265. Proof of notice, however given, may be made by evidence presented at the hearing.

SEC. 60.5. Chapter 22.5 (commencing with Section 1280) is added to Division 3 of the Probate Code, to read:

CHAPTER 22.5. ORDERS AND PROCEDURE

Article 1. Rules of Procedure

1280. All issues of fact joined in probate proceedings must be tried in conformity with the requirements of the rules of practice in civil actions. The party affirming is deemed plaintiff, and the one denying or avoiding is deemed defendant. When a party is entitled to a trial by jury and a jury is demanded, and the issues are not sufficiently made up by the written pleadings on file, the court, on due notice, must settle and frame the issues to be tried. If no jury is demanded, the court must try the issues joined, and sign and file its decision in writing, as provided in civil actions. Judgment on the issue joined, as well as for costs, may be entered and enforced as provided in Title 9 (commencing with Section 680.010) of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

1281. A motion for a new trial in probate proceedings can be made only in cases of contests of wills, either before or after probate, in proceedings to determine heirship and interests in estates, and in those cases where the issues of fact, of which a new trial is sought, were of such character as to entitle the parties to have them tried by a jury, whether or not they were so tried.

1282. When not otherwise prescribed by this code or by rules adopted by the Judicial Council, either the superior court or the court on appeal, may, in its discretion, order costs to be paid by any party to the proceedings, or out of the assets of the estate, as justice may require.

1283. Except as otherwise provided by this code or by rules adopted by the Judicial Council, the provisions of Part 2 (commencing with Section 307) and of Article 3 (commencing with Section 2016) of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of Part 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to and constitute the rules of practice in the proceedings mentioned in this code with regard to discovery, trials, new trials, appeals, and all other matters of procedure.

An affidavit or verified petition must be received as evidence when offered in any uncontested probate proceedings, including proceedings relating to the administration of estates of decedents and proceedings relating to the administration of estates of persons for whom a guardian or conservator has been appointed and in uncontested proceedings to establish a record of birth. The evidence of one or more of the subscribing witnesses may be received by an affidavit to which there is attached a photographic copy of the will, in any uncontested will proceedings.

1284. (a) Except as otherwise provided by statute, all of the following shall be verified:

(1) A petition, report, or account.

(2) An objection or response to a petition, report, or account.

(b) The verification of a petition shall be made by the petitioner or, if there are two or more petitioners, by any of them. The verification of a report or account shall be made by the person who has the duty to make the report or account. The verification of an objection or response shall be made by the objector or respondent.

1285. When a petition, report, account, or other matter that requires a hearing is filed with the clerk of the court, the clerk shall set the matter for hearing.

1286. The court may continue or postpone any hearing, from time to time, in the interest of justice.

1287. At the hearing the court shall hear and determine the matter and any response or objection presented and shall make such orders as may be appropriate.

1288. Where compensation, pension, insurance, or other allowance is made or awarded by a department or bureau of the United States government to a decedent's estate, the department or bureau has the same right as an interested person to request special notice, to commence and prosecute an action on the bond of a personal representative, and to file written exceptions to a personal representative's account or contest the account.

1289. If an interested person has a guardian or conservator of the estate who resides in this state, personal service on the guardian or conservator of any process, notice, or court order concerning a decedent's estate is equivalent to service on the ward or conservatee, and it is the duty of the guardian or conservator to attend to the interests of the ward or conservatee in the matter. The guardian or conservator may appear for the ward or conservatee and waive any process, notice, or order to show cause that a person not under legal disability might waive.

Article 2. Orders

1290. Orders and decrees made by the court or a judge thereof, in probate proceedings, need not recite the existence of facts, or the performance of acts, upon which the jurisdiction of the court or judge may depend, but it is only necessary that they contain the matters ordered or adjudged, except as otherwise provided in this code.

1291. All orders and decrees of the court or judge must be entered at length in the minute book of the court, or else signed by the judge and filed, provided that decrees of distribution shall be entered at length in a judgment book or other permanent record of the court.

1292. When an order is made setting apart a homestead, confirming a sale or making distribution of real property, or determining any other matter affecting the title to real property, a certified copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which the land, or any part thereof, lies; and from the time of that filing for record, notice is imparted to all persons of the contents thereof.

1293. When a personal representative, public or otherwise, deposits money or other personal property in a county treasury during administration or after final distribution of the estate of a deceased person, the personal representative shall, within 30 days after the date on which the court makes the decree of distribution or any order amending the decree, deliver to the county treasurer a certified copy of the decree or other court order.

Article 3. Appeals

1297. An appeal may be taken from an order or the refusal to make an order:

(a) Granting or revoking letters.

(b) Admitting a will to probate or revoking the probate thereof.

(c) Setting aside a small estate under Section 6609.

(d) Setting apart property as a homestead or claimed to be exempt from enforcement of a money judgment.

(e) Granting or modifying a family allowance.

(f) Directing or authorizing the sale or conveyance or confirming the sale of property.

(g) Directing or authorizing the granting of an option to purchase real property.

(h) Adjudicating the merits of a claim under Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 9860) of Part 5 of Division 7.

(i) Allocating debts under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 11440) of Part 9 of Division 7.

(j) Settling an account of a personal representative.

(k) Instructing or directing a personal representative.

(l) Directing or allowing the payment of a debt, claim, devise, or attorney's fee.

(m) Determining heirship or the persons to whom distribution should be made.

(n) Distributing property.

(o) Determining that property passes to, or confirming that property belongs to, the surviving spouse under Section 13656.

(p) Fixing an inheritance tax or determining that none is due.

(q) Authorizing a personal representative to invest or reinvest any surplus money under Section 9732.

1299. The following papers, without being attached together, constitute the judgment roll in proceedings under this code:

(a) The petition, application, contest, report, or account that initiates a particular proceeding; any order directing notice to be given of the hearing; any notice of the hearing, or any order to show cause made, with the affidavits showing the publication, posting, or mailing of the notice or order as required by law or order of the court; the citation, in case no answer or written opposition is filed by a party entitled, by law or order of court, to notice of the proceeding by citation, with the affidavit or proof of service, and if service of the citation is made by publication, the affidavit for the publication and the order directing publication; any finding of the court or referee; the order or judgment made or rendered; and the letters, if any.

(b) If an answer, demurrer, written opposition, or counter petition is filed in the proceeding, all pleadings and papers in the nature of pleadings; all orders striking out any pleading in whole or in part; any order made on demurrer, or relating to a change of parties; the verdict of the jury, if any; and the papers described in subdivision (a).

(c) If the proceeding is for the probate of a will, the will; and if the proceeding is a contest of a will, or for the revocation of the probate of a will, or a partial, ratable, or final distribution of the estate under a will, the will and the order admitting the will to probate; and the papers described in subdivisions (a) and (b).

(d) If the proceeding is for the settlement of the final account of the personal representative, or for the final distribution of the estate, the affidavit showing publication of notice to creditors, and the papers described in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c).

SEC. 60.7. Chapter 24 (commencing with Section 1350) of Division 3 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 61. Section 1464 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1464. When notice of the time and place of hearing is required to be given by this chapter or by any other provision of this division, the notice shall be in the form prescribed by the Judicial Council.

SEC. 62. Section 1469 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1469. When a provision of this division applies the provisions of this code applicable to personal representatives to proceedings under this division, a reference to Section 1220 or Section 1230 in the provisions applicable to personal representatives shall be deemed to be a reference to this chapter.

SEC. 63. Section 1862 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 64. Section 1862 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1862. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1.

SEC. 65. Section 1892 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 66. Section 1892 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1892. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1.

SEC. 66.5. Section 2100 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2100. Guardianships and conservatorships are governed by the provisions of this division. If no specific provision of this division is applicable, the provisions applicable to administration of estates of decedents govern so far as they are applicable to like situations.

SEC. 67. Section 2105 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2105. (a) The court, in its discretion, may appoint for a ward or conservatee:

(1) Two or more joint guardians or conservators of the person.

(2) Two or more joint guardians or conservators of the estate.

(3) Two or more joint guardians or conservators of the person and estate.

(b) When joint guardians or conservators are appointed, each shall qualify in the same manner as a sole guardian or conservator.

(c) Subject to subdivisions (d) and (e):

(1) Where there are two guardians or conservators, both must concur to exercise a power.

(2) Where there are more than two guardians or conservators, a majority must concur to exercise a power.

(d) If one of the joint guardians or conservators dies or is removed or resigns, the powers and duties continue in the remaining joint guardians or conservators until further appointment is made by the court.

(e) Where joint guardians or conservators have been appointed and one or more are (1) absent from the state and unable to act, or (2) otherwise unable to act, or (3) legally disqualified from serving, the court may, by order made with or without notice, authorize the remaining joint guardians or conservators to act as to all matters embraced within its order.

SEC. 68. Section 2105.5 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

2105.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), where there is more than one guardian or conservator of the estate, one guardian or conservator is not liable for a breach of fiduciary duty committed by another guardian or conservator.

(b) Where there is more than one guardian or conservator of the estate, one guardian or conservator is liable for a breach of fiduciary duty committed by another guardian or conservator of the same estate under any of the following circumstances:

(1) Where the guardian or conservator participates in a breach of fiduciary duty committed by the other guardian or conservator.

(2) Where the guardian or conservator improperly delegates the administration of the estate to the other guardian or conservator.

(3) Where the guardian or conservator approves, knowingly acquiesces in, or conceals a breach of fiduciary duty committed by the other guardian or conservator.

(4) Where the guardian or conservator negligently enables the other guardian or conservator to commit a breach of fiduciary duty.

(5) Where the guardian or conservator knows or has information from which the guardian or conservator reasonably should have known of the breach of fiduciary duty by the other guardian or conservator and fails to take reasonable steps to compel the other guardian or conservator to redress the breach.

SEC. 69. Section 2351.5 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2351.5. (a) The limited conservator has the care, custody, and control of the limited conservatee, except that a limited conservator shall not have any of the following powers or controls over the limited conservatee unless such powers or controls are specifically requested in the petition for appointment of a limited conservator and granted by the court in its order appointing the limited conservator:

(1) To fix the residence or specific dwelling of the limited conservatee.

(2) Access to the confidential records and papers of the limited conservatee.

(3) To consent or withhold consent to the marriage of the limited conservatee.

(4) The right of the limited conservatee to contract.

(5) The power of the limited conservatee to give or withhold medical consent.

(6) The limited conservatee's right to control his or her own social and sexual contacts and relationships.

(7) Decisions concerning the education of the limited conservatee.

The limited conservator shall secure for the limited conservatee such habilitation or treatment, training, education, medical and psychological services, and social and vocational opportunity as appropriate and as will assist the limited conservatee in the development of maximum self-reliance and independence.

(b) Any limited conservator, the limited conservatee, or any relative or friend of the limited conservatee may apply by petition to the superior court of the county in which the proceedings are pending to have the limited conservatorship modified by the elimination or addition of any of the powers which must be specifically granted to the limited conservator pursuant to subdivision (a) above. The petition shall state the facts alleged to establish that the limited conservatorship should be modified. The granting or elimination of such powers shall be discretionary with the court. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1.

(c) The limited conservator or any relative or friend of the limited conservatee may appear and oppose the petition. The court shall hear and determine the matter according to the laws and procedures relating to the trial of civil actions, including trial by jury if demanded. If any such powers are granted or eliminated, new letters of limited conservatorship shall be issued reflecting such change in the limited conservator's powers.

SEC. 70. Section 2405 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2405. If there is a dispute relating to the estate between the guardian or conservator and a third person, the guardian or conservator, or the limited conservator to the extent specifically and expressly provided in the order appointing the limited conservator, may do either of the following:

(a) Enter into an agreement in writing with the third person to refer the dispute to a temporary judge designated in the agreement. The agreement shall be filed with the clerk, who shall thereupon, with the approval of the court, enter an order referring the matter to the designated person. The temporary judge shall proceed promptly to hear and determine the matter in controversy by summary procedure, without any pleadings, discovery, or jury trial. The decision of the temporary judge shall be subject to Section 632 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Judgment shall be entered on the decision and shall be as valid and effective as if rendered by a judge of the court in an action against the guardian or conservator or the third person commenced by ordinary process.

(b) Enter into an agreement in writing with the third person that a judge of the court, pursuant to the agreement and with the written consent of the judge, both filed with the clerk within the time specified in Section 9257 for bringing an independent action on the matter in dispute, may hear and determine the dispute pursuant to the procedure provided in subdivision (a).

SEC. 71. Section 2406 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2406. If there is a dispute relating to the estate between the guardian or conservator and a third person, the guardian or conservator may enter into an agreement in writing with the third person to submit the dispute to arbitration under Title 9 (commencing with Section 1280) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The agreement is not effective unless it has first been approved by the court and a copy of the approved agreement is filed with the court.

SEC. 72. Section 2453 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2453. The guardian or conservator may deposit money belonging to the estate in an insured account in a financial institution in this state. Unless otherwise provided by court order, the money deposited under this section may be withdrawn without order of court. As used in this section, "insured account in a financial institution" has the meaning provided in Section 46.

SEC. 73. Section 2453.5 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

2453.5. Where a trust company is a guardian or conservator and in the exercise of reasonable judgment deposits money of the estate in any department of the corporation or association of which it is a part, it is chargeable with interest thereon at the rate of interest prevailing among banks of the locality on such deposits.

SEC. 74. Section 2455 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2455. (a) A trust company serving as guardian or conservator may deposit securities that constitute all or part of the estate in a securities depository as provided in Section 775 of the Financial Code.

(b) If the securities have been deposited with a trust company pursuant to Section 2328 or Section 2454, the trust company may deposit the securities in a securities depository as provided in Section 775 of the Financial Code.

(c) The securities depository may hold securities deposited with it in the manner authorized by Section 775 of the Financial Code.

SEC. 75. Section 2456 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2456. (a) Upon application of the guardian or conservator, the court may, with or without notice, order that money or other personal property be deposited pursuant to Section 2453 or 2454, and be subject to withdrawal only upon authorization of the court.

(b) The guardian or conservator shall deliver a copy of the court order to the financial institution at the time the deposit is made.

(c) No financial institution accepting a deposit pursuant to Section 2453 or 2454 shall be on notice of the existence of an order that the money or other property is subject to withdrawal only upon authorization of the court unless it has actual notice of the order.

SEC. 76. Section 2525 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2525. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if a civil action is pending with respect to the subject matter of a petition filed pursuant to this article and jurisdiction has been obtained in the court where the civil action is pending prior to the filing of the petition, upon request of any party to the civil action, the court shall abate the petition until the conclusion of the civil action.

(b) The court need not abate the petition if the court determines that the civil action was filed for the purpose of delay.

SEC. 77. Section 2543 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2543. (a) Sales may be at public auction or private sale, as the guardian or conservator deems best.

(b) Subject to Section 1469, unless otherwise specifically provided in this article, all proceedings concerning sales by guardians or conservators, giving notice of sale, reselling the same property, return of sale and application for confirmation thereof, notice and hearing of such application, making orders authorizing sales, rejecting or confirming sales and reports of sales, ordering and making conveyances of property sold, and allowance of commissions, shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of this code concerning sales by administrators, other than the Independent Administration of Estates Act, Part 6 (commencing with Section 10400) of Division 7.

(c) The clerk of the court shall cause notice to be posted at the courthouse of the county where the proceedings described in subdivision (b) are pending only in the following cases:

(1) Where posting of notice of hearing is required on a petition for the confirmation of a sale of real or personal property of the estate.

(2) Where posting of notice of a sale governed by Section 10250 (sales of personal property) is required or authorized.

(3) In any case where posting of notice is ordered by the court.

SEC. 78. Section 2546 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 79. Section 2555 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2555. The guardian or conservator may lease real property without authorization of the court when (a) the rental does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) a month and the term does not exceed two years, or (b) regardless of the amount of the rental, when the lease is from month to month.

SEC. 80. Section 2574 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2574. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), the guardian or conservator, without authorization of the court, may invest funds of the estate pursuant to this section in:

(1) Direct obligations of the United States, or of this state, having a maturity at the time of acquisition of not more than five years.

(2) United States Treasury bonds redeemable at par value on the death of the holder for payment of federal estate taxes, regardless of maturity date.

(3) Stocks, bonds, and other securities listed on an established stock or bond exchange in the United States which are purchased on such exchange.

(4) Eligible securities for the investment of surplus state moneys as provided for in Section 16430 of the Government Code.

(5) An interest in a money market mutual fund registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. Sec. 80a-1, et seq.) or an investment vehicle authorized for the collective investment of trust funds pursuant to Section 9.18 of Part 9 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations, the portfolios of which are limited to United States government obligations maturing not later than five years from the date of investment and to repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations.

(6) Units of a common trust fund described in Section 1564 of the Financial Code. The common trust fund shall have as its objective investment primarily in short-term fixed income obligations and shall be permitted to value investments at cost pursuant to regulations of the appropriate regulatory authority.

(b) In making and retaining investments made under this section, the guardian or conservator shall take into consideration the circumstances of the estate, indicated cash needs, and, if reasonably ascertainable, the date of the prospective termination of the guardianship or conservatorship.

(c) Nothing in this section limits the authority of the guardian or conservator to seek court authorization for any investment, or to make other investments with court authorization, as provided in this division.

SEC. 81. Section 2580 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2580. (a) The conservator or other interested person may file a petition under this article for an order of the court authorizing or requiring the conservator to take a proposed action for any one or more of the following purposes:

(1) Benefiting the conservatee or the estate.

(2) Minimizing current or prospective taxes or expenses of administration of the conservatorship estate or of the estate upon the death of the conservatee.

(3) Providing gifts for such purposes, and to such charities, relatives (including the other spouse), friends, or other objects of bounty, as would be likely beneficiaries of gifts from the conservatee.

(b) The action proposed in the petition may include, but is not limited to, the following:

(1) Making gifts of principal or income, or both, of the estate, outright or in trust.

(2) Conveying or releasing the conservatee's contingent and expectant interests in property, including marital property rights and any right of survivorship incident to joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety.

(3) Exercising or releasing the conservatee's powers as donee of a power of appointment.

(4) Entering into contracts.

(5) Creating for the benefit of the conservatee or others, revocable or irrevocable trusts of the property of the estate, which trusts may extend beyond the conservatee's disability or life.

(6) Exercising options of the conservatee to purchase or exchange securities or other property.

(7) Exercising the rights of the conservatee to elect benefit or payment options, to terminate, to change beneficiaries or ownership, to assign rights, to borrow, or to receive cash value in return for a surrender of rights under any of the following:

(i) Life insurance policies, plans, or benefits.

(ii) Annuity policies, plans, or benefits.

(iii) Mutual fund and other dividend investment plans.

(iv) Retirement, profit sharing, and employee welfare plans and benefits.

(8) Exercising the right of the conservatee to elect to take under or against a will.

(9) Exercising the right of the conservatee to disclaim any interest that may be disclaimed under Division 2.5 (commencing with Section 260).

(10) Exercising the right of the conservatee (i) to revoke a revocable trust or (ii) to surrender the right to revoke a revocable trust, but the court shall not authorize or require the conservator to exercise the right to revoke a revocable trust if the instrument governing the trust (i) evidences an intent to reserve the right of revocation exclusively to the conservatee, (ii) provides expressly that a conservator may not revoke the trust, or (iii) otherwise evidences an intent that would be inconsistent with authorizing or requiring the conservator to exercise the right to revoke the trust.

(11) Making an election referred to in Section 13502 or an election and agreement referred to in Section 13503.

SEC. 82. Section 2614 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2614. (a) Within 30 days after the inventory and appraisement is filed, the guardian or conservator or any creditor or other interested person may file written objections to any or all appraisals. The clerk shall set the objections for hearing not less than 15 days after their filing.

(b) Notice of the hearing, together with a copy of the objections, shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1. If the appraisal was made by a probate referee, the person objecting shall also mail notice of the hearing and a copy of the objection to the probate referee at least 15 days before the time set for the hearing.

(c) The court shall determine the objections and may fix the true value of any asset to which objection has been filed. For the purpose of this subdivision, the court may cause an independent appraisal or appraisals to be made by at least one additional appraiser at the expense of the estate or, if the objecting party is not the guardian or conservator and the objection is rejected by the court, the court may assess the cost of any such additional appraisal or appraisals against the objecting party.

SEC. 83. Section 2631 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2631. (a) Upon the death of the ward or conservatee, the guardian or conservator may contract for and pay a reasonable sum for the expenses of the last illness and the funeral of the deceased ward or conservatee, or may pay the unpaid expenses of such last illness and funeral, in full or in part, to the extent reasonable, from any assets of the deceased ward or conservatee, other than real property or any interest therein, which are under the control of the guardian or conservator.

(b) When a claim for such expenses is presented to the guardian or conservator, the guardian or conservator shall endorse thereon an allowance or rejection, with the date thereof. If the claim is allowed, it shall be presented to the court and the court shall in like manner endorse thereon an allowance or rejection. If the claim is approved by the court, the claim shall be filed with the clerk within 30 days thereafter.

(c) After payment of such expenses, the guardian or conservator may transfer any remaining assets as provided in Division 8 (commencing with Section 13000). For this purpose, the value of the property of the deceased ward or conservatee shall be determined after the deduction of the expenses so paid.

SEC. 84. Section 2652 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 85. Section 2652 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

2652. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner provided in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1460) of Part 1.

SEC. 85.3. Section 6246 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6246. In addition to the mandatory clauses contained in Section 6245, the California statutory will with trust form shall also incorporate the following mandatory clauses:

(a) INEFFECTIVE DISPOSITION. If, at the termination of any trust created in the California statutory will with trust, there is no effective disposition of the remaining trust assets, then the trustee shall distribute those assets to the testator's then living heirs at law, their identities and respective shares to be determined as though the testator had died on the date of the trust's termination and according to the laws of the State of California then in effect relating to intestate succession.

(b) POWERS OF TRUSTEE. (1) In addition to any powers now or hereafter conferred upon trustees by law, the trustee shall have all the powers listed in Article 2 (commencing with Section 16220) of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Probate Code. The trustee may exercise those powers without court authorization.

(2) In addition to the powers granted in the foregoing paragraph, the trustee may:

(A) Hire and pay from the trust the fees of investment advisers, accountants, tax advisers, agents, attorneys, and other assistants for the administration of the trust and for the management of any trust asset and for any litigation affecting the trust.

(B) On any distribution of assets from the trust, the trustee shall have the discretion to partition, allot, and distribute the assets (i) in kind, including undivided interests in an asset or in any part of it, or (ii) partly in cash and partly in kind, or (iii) entirely in cash. If a distribution is being made to more than one beneficiary, the trustee shall have the discretion to distribute assets among them on a pro rata or non-pro rata basis, with the assets valued as of the date of distribution.

(C) The trustee may, upon termination of the trust, distribute assets to a custodian for a minor beneficiary under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act of any state or the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act of any state.

(3) The trustee is free of liability and is discharged from any further accountability for distributing assets in compliance with the provisions of this paragraph.

(c) TRUST ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS. The following provisions shall apply to any trust created by a California statutory will with trust:

(1) The interests of trust beneficiaries are not transferable by voluntary or involuntary assignment or by operation of law and shall be free from the claims of creditors and from attachment, execution, bankruptcy, or other legal process to the fullest extent permissible by law.

(2) The trustee is entitled to reasonable compensation for ordinary and extraordinary services, and for all services in connection with the complete or partial termination of any trust created by this will.

(3) All persons who have any interest in a trust under a California statutory will with trust are bound by all discretionary determinations the trustee makes in good faith under the authority granted in the California statutory will with trust.

SEC. 85.7. Section 6247 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6247. (a) Except as specifically provided in this chapter, a California statutory will shall include only the texts of the property disposition clauses and the mandatory clauses as they exist on the day the California statutory will is executed.

(b) Sections 6205, 6206, and 6226 apply to every California statutory will, including those executed before January 1, 1985.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 6222 and except as provided in subdivision (b), a California statutory will is governed by the law that applied prior to January 1, 1985, if the California statutory will is executed on or after January 1, 1985, on a form that (1) was prepared for use under former Sections 56 to 56.14, inclusive, of the Probate Code and (2) satisfied the requirements of law that applied prior to January 1, 1985.

(d) A California statutory will does not fail to satisfy the requirement of subdivision (a) merely because the will is executed on a form that incorporates the mandatory clauses of Section 6246 that refer to former Section 1120.2. If the will incorporates the mandatory clauses with a reference to former Section 1120.2, the trustee has the powers listed in Article 2 (commencing with Section 16220) of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of Division 9.

SEC. 86. Section 6327 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6327. An appeal may be taken from any of the following:

(a) Any order described in Section 1297 made pursuant to this chapter.

(b) An order making or refusing to make a determination specified in paragraph (1), (2), or (8) of subdivision (a) of Section 6325.

(c) As provided in Section 17207 for an order made pursuant to Section 6326.

SEC. 87. Section 6501 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6501. A petition for an order under Section 6500 may be filed by any interested person. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 88. Section 6511 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6511. A petition for an order under Section 6510 may be filed by any interested person. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 89. Section 6525 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6525. A petition to select and set apart a probate homestead may be filed by any interested person. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 90. Section 6527 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6527. (a) The court may by order modify the term or conditions of the probate homestead right or terminate the probate homestead right at any time prior to entry of a final decree of distribution of the decedent's estate if in the court's discretion to do so appears appropriate under the circumstances of the case.

(b) A petition for an order under this section may be filed by any of the following:

(1) The person for whose use the probate homestead is set apart.

(2) The testate or intestate successors of the decedent or other successors to the property set apart as a probate homestead.

(3) Persons having claims secured by liens or encumbrances on the property set apart as a probate homestead.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given to all the persons listed in subdivision (b) as provided in Section 1220.

SEC. 91. Section 6541 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6541. (a) The court may grant or modify a family allowance on petition of any interested person.

(b) With respect to an order for the family allowance provided for in subdivision (a) of Section 6540:

(1) Before the inventory is filed, the order may be made or modified either (A) ex parte or (B) after notice of the hearing on the petition has been given as provided in Section 1220.

(2) After the inventory is filed, the order may be made or modified only after notice of the hearing on the petition has been given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) An order for the family allowance provided in subdivision (b) of Section 6540 may be made only after notice of the hearing on the petition has been given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(3) All persons (or their attorneys if they have appeared by attorney) who have requested special notice as provided in Section 1250 or who have given notice of appearance in person or by attorney.

SEC. 92. Section 6607 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6607. (a) Where proceedings for the administration of the estate of the decedent are not pending when the petition is filed under this chapter and the petition under this chapter is not joined with a petition for the probate of the decedent's will or for administration of the estate of the decedent, the petitioner shall give notice of the hearing by mail not less than 15 days before the hearing to each heir and devisee of the decedent, and to each person named as executor who is not petitioning, if known to the petitioner. A copy of the petition shall be sent with this notice of hearing to the surviving spouse, each child, and each devisee who is not petitioning.

(b) If the petition under this chapter is filed with a petition for the probate of the decedent's will, notice of the hearing on the petition under this chapter shall be given to the persons and in the manner prescribed by Sections 327 and 328 and shall be included in the notice of hearing required by those sections. If the petition filed under this chapter is filed with a petition for administration of the estate of the deceased spouse, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given to the persons and in the manner prescribed by Section 441 and shall be included in the notice required by that section.

(c) If proceedings for the administration of the estate of the decedent are pending when the petition is filed under this chapter and the hearing of the petition for probate of the will or administration of the estate of the decedent is set for a day more than 15 days after the filing of the petition filed under this chapter, the petition under this chapter shall be set for hearing at the same time as the petition for probate of the will or for administration of the estate, and notice of hearing on the petition filed under this chapter shall be given by the petitioner as provided in Section 1220. If the hearing of the petition for probate of the will or for administration of the estate is not set for hearing for a day more than 15 days after the filing of the petition under this chapter, (1) the petition filed under this chapter shall be set for hearing at least 15 days after the date on which it is filed, (2) notice of the hearing on the petition filed under this chapter shall be given by the petitioner as provided in Section 1220, and (3) if the petition for probate of the will or for administration of the estate has not already been heard, that petition shall be continued until that date and heard at the same time unless the court otherwise orders.

SEC. 92.5. Section 6611 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

6611. (a) Subject to the limitations and conditions specified in this section, the person or persons in whom title vested pursuant to Section 6609 are personally liable for the unsecured debts of the decedent.

(b) The personal liability of a person under this section shall not exceed the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death of the property title to which vested in that person pursuant to Section 6609, less the total of all of the following:

(1) The amount of any liens and encumbrances on that property.

(2) The value of any probate homestead interest set apart under Section 6520 out of that property.

(3) The value of any other property set aside under Section 6510 out of that property.

(c) The personal liability under this section ceases one year after the date the court makes its order under Section 6609, except with respect to an action or proceeding then pending in court.

(d) In any action or proceeding based upon an unsecured debt of the decedent, the surviving spouse of the decedent, the child or children of the decedent, or the guardian of the minor child or children of the decedent, may assert any defense, cross-complaint, or setoff which would have been available to the decedent if the decedent had not died.

(e) If proceedings are commenced in this state for the administration of the estate of the decedent and the time for filing claims has commenced, any action upon the personal liability of a person under this section is barred to the same extent as provided for claims under Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) of Division 7, except as to the following:

(1) Creditors who commence judicial proceedings for the enforcement of the debt and serve the person liable under this section with the complaint therein prior to the expiration of the time for filing claims.

(2) Creditors who have or who secure an acknowledgment in writing of the person liable under this section that that person is liable for the debts.

(3) Creditors who file a timely claim in the proceedings for the administration of the estate of the decedent.

SEC. 93. Division 7 (commencing with Section 7000) is added to the Probate Code, to read:

DIVISION 7. ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES OF DECEDENTS

PART 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

PART 2. OPENING ESTATE ADMINISTRATION

PART 3. INVENTORY AND APPRAISAL

PART 4. CREDITOR CLAIMS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

9000. As used in this division:

(a) "Claim" means a demand for payment for any of the following, whether due, not due, or contingent, and whether liquidated or unliquidated:

(1) Liability of the decedent, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise.

(2) Liability for taxes incurred before the decedent's death, whether assessed before or after the decedent's death, other than property taxes and assessments secured by real property liens.

(3) Liability of the estate for funeral expenses of the decedent.

(b) "Claim" does not include a dispute regarding title of a decedent to specific property alleged to be included in the decedent's estate.

9001. (a) The publication or posting of notice under Section 333 and the giving of notice of administration of the estate of the decedent under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 9050) constitute notice to creditors of the requirements of this part.

(b) Nothing in subdivision (a) affects a notice or request to a public entity required by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 9200).

9002. Except as otherwise provided by statute:

(a) All claims shall be filed in the manner and within the time provided in this part.

(b) A claim that is not filed as provided in this part is barred.

(c) The holder of a claim may not maintain an action on the claim unless the claim is first filed as provided in this part.

9003. A claim that is established under this part shall be included among the debts to be paid in the course of administration.

9004. (a) This part applies in any proceeding for administration of a decedent's estate commenced on or after July 1, 1988.

(b) The applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, governing the subject matter of this part continues to apply in any proceeding for administration of a decedent's estate commenced before July 1, 1988, notwithstanding its repeal by the act that enacted this section.

CHAPTER 2. NOTICE TO CREDITORS

9050. (a) If, within four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, the personal representative has knowledge of a creditor of the decedent, the personal representative shall give notice of administration of the estate to the creditor, subject to Section 9054. The notice shall be given as provided in Section 1215. For the purpose of this subdivision, a personal representative has knowledge of a creditor of the decedent if the personal representative is aware that the creditor has demanded payment from the decedent or the estate.

(b) The giving of notice under this chapter is in addition to the publication or posting of the notice under Section 333.

9051. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the notice shall be given within four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative.

(b) If the personal representative first has knowledge of a creditor less than 30 days before expiration of the time provided in subdivision (a), the notice shall be given within 30 days after the personal representative first has knowledge of the creditor.

9052. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION OF

ESTATE OF _____, DECEDENT

Notice to creditors:

Administration of the estate of _____ (deceased) has been commenced by _____ (personal representative) in Estate No. _____ in the Superior Court of California, County of _____. You must file your claim with the court and mail or deliver a copy to the personal representative within four months after _____ (the date letters were issued to the personal representative), or 30 days after the date this notice was mailed to you or, in the case of personal delivery, 30 days after the date this notice was delivered to you, whichever is later, as provided in Section 9100 of the California Probate Code. A claim form may be obtained from the court clerk. For your protection, you are encouraged to file your claim by certified mail, with return receipt requested.

_____ _____

(Date of mailing this notice) (Name and address of personal representative or attorney)

9053. (a) If the personal representative or attorney for the personal representative in good faith believes that notice to a particular creditor is or may be required by this chapter and gives notice based on that belief, the personal representative or attorney is not liable to any person for giving the notice, whether or not required by this chapter.

(b) If the personal representative or attorney for the personal representative in good faith fails to give notice required by this chapter, the personal representative or attorney is not liable to any person for the failure. Liability, if any, for the failure in such a case is on the estate.

(c) Nothing in this chapter imposes a duty on the personal representative or attorney for the personal representative to make a search for creditors of the decedent.

9054. Notwithstanding Section 9050, the personal representative need not give notice to a creditor even though the personal representative has knowledge of the creditor if any of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) The creditor has filed a claim as provided in this part.

(b) The creditor has demanded payment and the personal representative elects to treat the demand as a claim under Section 9154.

CHAPTER 3. TIME FOR FILING CLAIMS

9100. (a) A creditor shall file a claim before expiration of the later of the following times:

(1) Four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative.

(2) Thirty days after the date notice of administration is given to the creditor, if notice is given within the time provided in Section 9051.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 9103, a reference in another statute to the time for filing a claim means the time provided in this section, unless the provision or context requires otherwise.

9101. A vacancy in the office of the personal representative that occurs before expiration of the time for filing a claim does not extend the time.

9102. A claim that is filed before expiration of the time for filing the claim is timely even if acted on by the personal representative or by the court after expiration of the time.

9103. (a) Upon petition by a creditor, the court may allow a claim to be filed after expiration of the time for filing a claim if it appears by clear and convincing evidence that all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The creditor was out of the state during the entire four-month period after the date letters were first issued to a general personal representative.

(2) The creditor did not have knowledge of the administration of the estate within four months after the date letters were first issued to a general personal representative by reason of being out of the state.

(3) The claim does not arise out of the creditor's conduct of a trade, business, or profession in the state.

(b) The court shall not allow a claim to be filed under this section after the earlier of the following times:

(1) The time the court makes an order for final distribution of the estate.

(2) One year after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative.

(c) Property distributed under court order and payments otherwise properly made before a claim is filed under this section are not subject to the claim, regardless of whether the claim is later established in whole or in part.

9104. (a) If a claim is filed within the time provided in this chapter, the creditor may later amend or revise the claim, subject to subdivision (b). The amendment or revision shall be filed in the same manner as the claim.

(b) An amendment or revision may not be made to increase the amount of the claim after the time for filing a claim has expired. An amendment or revision may not be made for any purpose after the earlier of the following times:

(1) The time the court makes an order for final distribution of the estate.

(2) One year after letters are first issued to a general personal representative.

CHAPTER 4. FILING OF CLAIMS

9150. (a) A claim may be filed by the creditor or a person acting on behalf of the creditor.

(b) A claim shall be filed with the court and a copy shall be mailed to the personal representative. Failure to mail a copy to the personal representative does not invalidate a properly filed claim, but any loss that results from the failure shall be borne by the creditor.

9151. (a) A claim shall be supported by the affidavit of the creditor or a person on behalf of the creditor stating:

(1) That the claim is a just claim.

(2) If the claim is due, the facts supporting the claim, the amount of the claim, and that all payments on and offsets to the claim have been credited.

(3) If the claim is not due or contingent, or the amount is not yet ascertainable, the facts supporting the claim.

(4) If the affidavit is made by a person other than the creditor, the reason it is not made by the creditor.

(b) The personal representative may require satisfactory vouchers or proof to be produced to support the claim. An original voucher may be withdrawn after a copy is provided, which shall be attached to the claim.

9152. (a) If a claim is based on a written instrument, either the original or a copy of the original with all endorsements shall be attached to the claim. If a copy is attached, the original instrument shall be exhibited to the personal representative or court or judge on demand unless it is lost or destroyed, in which case the fact that it is lost or destroyed shall be stated in the claim.

(b) If the claim or a part of the claim is secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien that is recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property subject to the lien is situated, it is sufficient to describe the mortgage, deed of trust, or lien and refer to the date or volume and page of its record.

9153. (a) The Judicial Council may prescribe a form for the claim. Use of a form prescribed by the Judicial Council is deemed to satisfy the requirements of this chapter.

(b) A claim form adopted by the Judicial Council shall inform the creditor that the claim must be filed with the court and a copy mailed or delivered to the personal representative. The claim form shall include a proof of mailing or delivery of a copy of the claim to the personal representative, which may be completed by the creditor.

9154. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, if a creditor makes a written demand for payment within four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, the personal representative may waive formal defects and elect to treat the demand as a claim that is filed and established under this part by paying the amount demanded before the expiration of 30 days after the four-month period if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) The debt was justly due.

(b) The debt was paid in good faith.

(c) The amount paid was the true amount of the indebtedness over and above all payments and offsets.

(d) The estate is solvent.

CHAPTER 5. CLAIMS BY PUBLIC ENTITIES

9200. (a) Except as provided in this chapter, a claim by a public entity shall be filed within the time otherwise provided in this part. A claim not so filed is barred, including any lien imposed for the claim.

(b) As used in this chapter, "public entity" has the meaning provided in Section 811.2 of the Government Code, and includes an officer authorized to act on behalf of the public entity.

9201. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, if a claim of a public entity arises under a law, act, or code listed in subdivision (b):

(1) The public entity may use a form as is necessary to effectively administer the law, act, or code. Where appropriate, the form may require the decedent's social security number, if known.

(2) The claim is barred only after written notice or request to the public entity and expiration of the period provided in the applicable section. If no written notice or request is made, the claim is enforceable by the remedies, and is barred at the time, otherwise provided in the law, act, or code.

Waxman-Duffy Prepaid Health Plan Act (commencing with Section 14200 of the Welfare and Institutions Code)	Section 9202 of the Probate Code

9202. Not later than 90 days after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, the general personal representative shall give the Director of Health Services notice of the decedent's death in the manner provided in Section 215 if the general personal representative knows or has reason to believe that the decedent received health care under the provisions of Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. The director has four months after notice is given in which to file a claim.

9203. (a) Failure of a person to give the written notice or request required by this chapter does not affect the validity of any proceeding under this division.

(b) If property in the estate is distributed before expiration of the time allowed a public entity to file a claim, the public entity has a claim against the distributees to the full extent of the public entity's claim, or each distributee's share of the distributed property, whichever is less. The public entity's claim against distributees includes interest at a rate equal to that earned in the Pooled Money Investment Account, Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 16480) of Chapter 3 of Part 2 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code, from the date of distribution or the date of filing the claim by the public entity, whichever is later, plus other accruing costs as in the case of enforcement of a money judgment.

9204. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the order of priority of claims provided for under other provisions of law.

9205. This chapter does not apply to liability for the restitution of amounts illegally acquired through the means of a fraudulent, false, or incorrect representation, or a forged or unauthorized endorsement.

CHAPTER 6. ALLOWANCE AND REJECTION OF CLAIMS

9250. (a) When a claim is filed, the personal representative shall allow or reject the claim in whole or in part.

(b) The allowance or rejection shall be in writing. The personal representative shall file the allowance or rejection with the court clerk and give notice to the creditor as provided in Section 1215, together with a copy of the allowance or rejection.

(c) The allowance or rejection shall contain the following information:

(1) The name of the creditor.

(2) The total amount of the claim.

(3) The date of issuance of letters.

(4) The date of the decedent's death.

(5) The estimated value of the decedent's estate.

(6) The amount allowed or rejected by the personal representative.

(7) Whether the personal representative is authorized to act under the Independent Administration of Estates Act.

(8) A statement that the creditor has three months in which to act on a rejected claim.

(d) The Judicial Council may prescribe an allowance or rejection form, which may be part of the claim form. Use of a form prescribed by the Judicial Council is deemed to satisfy the requirements of this section.

9251. If the personal representative is not authorized to act under the Independent Administration of Estates Act:

(a) Immediately on the filing of the allowance of a claim, the clerk shall present the claim and allowance to the court or judge for approval or rejection.

(b) On presentation of a claim and allowance, the court or judge may, in its discretion, examine the creditor and others on oath and receive any evidence relevant to the validity of the claim. The court or judge shall endorse on the claim whether the claim is approved or rejected and the date.

9252. (a) If the personal representative or the attorney for the personal representative is a creditor of the decedent, the clerk shall present the claim to the court or judge for approval or rejection. The court or judge may in its discretion require the creditor to file a petition and give notice of hearing.

(b) If the court or judge approves the claim, the claim is established and shall be included with other established claims to be paid in the course of administration.

(c) If the court or judge rejects the claim, the personal representative or attorney may bring an action against the estate. Summons shall be served on the judge, who shall appoint an attorney at the expense of the estate to defend the action.

9253. (a) The filing of a claim tolls the statute of limitations otherwise applicable to the claim until notice of allowance, approval, or rejection.

(b) A claim barred by the statute of limitations may not be allowed by the personal representative or approved by the court or judge.

(c) The allowance or approval of a claim in whole or in part further tolls the statute of limitations as to the part allowed or approved during the administration of the estate.

(d) Whether the statute of limitations otherwise applicable to a claim will expire before or after the time prescribed in Section 9257, an action on a rejected claim shall be commenced within the time prescribed in Section 9257.

9254. (a) The validity of an allowed or approved claim may be contested by any interested person at any time before settlement of the report or account of the personal representative in which it is first reported as an allowed or approved claim. The burden of proof is on the contestant, except where the personal representative has acted under the Independent Administration of Estates Act, in which case the burden of proof is on the personal representative.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not apply to a claim established by a judgment.

9255. (a) The personal representative may allow a claim, or the court or judge may approve a claim, in part. The allowance or approval shall state the amount for which the claim is allowed or approved.

(b) A creditor who refuses to accept the amount allowed or approved in satisfaction of the claim may bring an action on the claim in the manner provided in Section 9257. The creditor may not recover costs in the action unless the creditor recovers an amount greater than that allowed or approved.

9256. If within 30 days after a claim is filed the personal representative or the court or judge has refused or neglected to act on the claim, the refusal or neglect may, at the option of the creditor, be deemed equivalent to giving a notice of rejection on the 30th day.

9257. (a) A rejected claim is barred unless the creditor brings an action on the claim or the matter is referred to a referee or to arbitration within the following times, excluding the time during which there is a vacancy in the office of the personal representative:

(1) If the claim is due at the time the notice of rejection is given, three months after the notice is given.

(2) If the claim is not due at the time the notice of rejection is given, three months after the claim becomes due.

(b) In addition to any other county in which an action may be brought, an action on the claim may be brought in the county in which the proceeding for administration of the decedent's estate is pending.

(c) The plaintiff shall file a notice of the pendency of the action with the court clerk in the estate proceeding, together with proof of giving a copy of the notice to the personal representative as provided in Section 1215. Personal service of a copy of the summons and complaint on the personal representative is equivalent to the filing and giving of the notice. Any property distributed under court order, or any payment properly made, before the notice is filed and given is not subject to the claim. The personal representative, distributee, or payee is not liable on account of the prior distribution or payment.

(d) The prevailing party in the action shall be awarded court costs and, if the court determines that the prosecution or defense of the action against the prevailing party was unreasonable, the prevailing party shall be awarded reasonable litigation expenses, including attorney's fees.

CHAPTER 7. CLAIMS ESTABLISHED BY JUDGMENT

9300. (a) Except as provided in Section 9303, after the death of the decedent all money judgments against the decedent or against the personal representative on a claim against the decedent or estate are payable in the course of administration and are not enforceable against property in the estate of the decedent under the Enforcement of Judgments Law.

(b) Subject to Section 9301, a judgment referred to in subdivision (a) shall be filed in the same manner as other claims.

9301. When a money judgment against a personal representative in a representative capacity becomes final, it conclusively establishes the validity of the claim for the amount of the judgment. The judgment shall provide that it is payable out of property in the decedent's estate in the course of administration. An abstract of the judgment shall be filed in the administration proceedings.

9302. (a) Notwithstanding the death of the decedent, a judgment for possession of property or a judgment for sale of property may be enforced under the Enforcement of Judgments Law. Nothing in this subdivision authorizes enforcement under the Enforcement of Judgments Law against any property in the estate of the decedent other than the property described in the judgment for possession or sale.

(b) After the death of the decedent, a demand for money that is not satisfied from the property described in a judgment for sale of property shall be filed as a claim in the same manner as other claims and is payable in the course of administration.

9303. If property of the decedent is subject to an execution lien at the time of the decedent's death, enforcement against the property may proceed under the Enforcement of Judgments Law to satisfy the judgment. The levying officer shall account to the personal representative for any surplus. If the judgment is not satisfied, the balance of the judgment remaining unsatisfied is payable in the course of administration.

9304. (a) An attachment lien may be converted into a judgment lien on property in the estate subject to the attachment lien, with the same priority as the attachment lien, in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the judgment debtor dies after entry of judgment in an action in which the property was attached.

(2) Where a judgment is entered after the death of the defendant in an action in which the property was attached.

(b) To convert the attachment lien into a judgment lien, the levying officer shall, after entry of judgment in the action in which the property was attached and before the expiration of the attachment lien, do one of the following:

(1) Serve an abstract of the judgment, and a notice that the attachment lien has become a judgment lien, on the person holding property subject to the attachment lien.

(2) Record or file in any office where the writ of attachment and notice of attachment are recorded or filed an abstract of the judgment and a notice that the attachment lien has become a judgment lien. If the attached property is real property, the plaintiff or the plaintiff's attorney may record the required abstract and notice with the same effect as if recorded by the levying officer.

(c) After the death of the decedent, any members of the decedent's family who were supported in whole or in part by the decedent may claim an exemption provided in Section 487.020 of the Code of Civil Procedure for property levied on under the writ of attachment if the right to the exemption exists at the time the exemption is claimed. The personal representative may claim the exemption on behalf of members of the decedent's family. The claim of exemption may be made at any time before the time the abstract and notice are served, recorded, or filed under subdivision (b) with respect to the property claimed to be exempt. The claim of exemption shall be made in the same manner as an exemption is claimed under Section 462.100 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

PART 5. ESTATE MANAGEMENT

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Duties and Liabilities of Personal Representative

9600. (a) The personal representative has the management and control of the estate and, in managing and controlling the estate, shall use ordinary care and diligence. What constitutes ordinary care and diligence is determined by all the circumstances of the particular estate.

(b) The personal representative:

(1) Shall exercise a power to the extent that ordinary care and diligence require that the power be exercised.

(2) Shall not exercise a power to the extent that ordinary care and diligence require that the power not be exercised.

9601. (a) If a personal representative breaches a fiduciary duty, the personal representative is chargeable with any of the following that is appropriate under the circumstances:

(1) Any loss or depreciation in value of the decedent's estate resulting from the breach of duty, with interest.

(2) Any profit made by the personal representative through the breach of duty, with interest.

(3) Any profit that would have accrued to the decedent's estate if the loss of profit is the result of the breach of duty.

(b) If the personal representative has acted reasonably and in good faith under the circumstances as known to the personal representative, the court, in its discretion, may excuse the personal representative in whole or in part from liability under subdivision (a) if it would be equitable to do so.

9602. If the personal representative is liable for interest pursuant to Section 9601, the personal representative is liable for the greater of the following amounts:

(a) The amount of interest that accrues at the legal rate on judgments.

(b) The amount of interest actually received.

9603. The provisions of Sections 9601 and 9602 for liability of a personal representative for breach of a fiduciary duty do not prevent resort to any other remedy available against the personal representative under the statutory or common law.

9604. No personal representative is chargeable upon a special promise to answer in damages for a liability of the decedent or to pay a debt of the decedent out of the personal representative's own estate unless the agreement for that purpose, or some memorandum or note thereof, is in writing and is signed by one of the following:

(a) The personal representative.

(b) Some other person specifically authorized by the personal representative in writing to sign the agreement or the memorandum or note.

Article 2. Court Supervision

9610. Unless this part specifically provides a proceeding to obtain court authorization or requires court authorization, the powers and duties set forth in this part may be exercised by the personal representative without court authorization, instruction, approval, or confirmation. Nothing in this section precludes the personal representative from seeking court authorization, instructions, approval, or confirmation.

9611. (a) In all cases where no other procedure is provided by statute, upon petition of the personal representative, the court may authorize and instruct the personal representative, or approve and confirm the acts of the personal representative, in the administration, management, investment, disposition, care, protection, operation, or preservation of the estate, or the incurring or payment of costs, fees, or expenses in connection therewith. Section 9613 does not preclude a petition for instructions under this section.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9612. When a judgment or order made pursuant to this division becomes final, it releases the personal representative and the sureties from all claims of the heirs or devisees and of any persons affected thereby based upon any act or omission directly authorized, approved, or confirmed in the judgment or order. For the purposes of this section, "order" includes an order settling an account of the personal representative, whether an interim or final account.

9613. (a) On petition of any interested person, and upon a showing that if the petition is not granted the estate will suffer great or irreparable injury, the court may direct the personal representative to act or not to act concerning the estate. The order may include such terms and conditions as the court determines to be appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

Article 3. Summary Determination of Disputes

9620. If there is a dispute relating to the estate between the personal representative and a third person, the personal representative may do either of the following:

(a) Enter into an agreement in writing with the third person to refer the dispute to a temporary judge designated in the agreement. The agreement shall be filed with the clerk, who shall thereupon, with the approval of the court, enter an order referring the matter to the designated person. The temporary judge shall proceed promptly to hear and determine the matter in controversy by summary procedure, without pleadings or discovery. The decision of the designated person shall be subject to Section 632 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Judgment shall be entered on the decision and shall be as valid and effective as if rendered by a judge of the court in an action against the personal representative or the third person commenced by ordinary process.

(b) Enter into an agreement in writing with the third person that a judge, pursuant to the agreement and with the written consent of the judge, both filed with the clerk within the time specified in Section 9257 for bringing an independent suit on the matter in dispute, may hear and determine the dispute pursuant to the procedure provided in subdivision (a).

9621. If there is a dispute relating to the estate between the personal representative and a third person, the personal representative may enter into an agreement in writing with the third person to submit the dispute to arbitration under Title 9 (commencing with Section 1280) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The agreement is not effective unless it is first approved by the court and a copy of the approved agreement is filed with the court. Notice of the hearing on the petition for approval of the agreement shall be given as provided in Section 1220 unless the court, upon a showing of good cause, orders that notice be given for a shorter period or that notice be dispensed with. The order approving the agreement may be made ex parte.

Article 4. Joint Personal Representatives

9630. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b), (c), and (d):

(1) Where there are two personal representatives, both must concur to exercise a power.

(2) Where there are more than two personal representatives, a majority must concur to exercise a power.

(b) If one of the joint personal representatives dies or is removed or resigns, the powers and duties continue in the remaining joint personal representatives as if they were the only personal representatives until further appointment is made by the court.

(c) Where joint personal representatives have been appointed and one or more are (1) absent from the state and unable to act, or (2) otherwise unable to act, or (3) legally disqualified from serving, the court may, by order made with or without notice, authorize the remaining joint personal representatives to act as to all matters embraced within its order.

(d) Where there are two or more personal representatives, any of them may:

(1) Oppose a petition made by one or more of the other personal representatives or by any other person.

(2) Petition the court for an order requiring the personal representatives to take a specific action for the benefit of the estate or directing the personal representatives not to take a specific action. If a procedure is provided by statute for a petition to authorize the specific action by the personal representatives, the petitioner shall file the petition under the provision relating to that procedure. Otherwise, the petitioner shall file the petition under Section 9611.

9631. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), where there is more than one personal representative, one personal representative is not liable for a breach of fiduciary duty committed by another of the personal representatives.

(b) Where there is more than one personal representative, one personal representative is liable for a breach of fiduciary duty committed by another of the personal representatives under any of the following circumstances:

(1) Where the personal representative participates in a breach of fiduciary duty committed by the other personal representative.

(2) Where the personal representative improperly delegates the administration of the estate to the other personal representative.

(3) Where the personal representative approves, knowingly acquiesces in, or conceals a breach of fiduciary duty committed by the other personal representative.

(4) Where the personal representative's negligence enables the other personal representative to commit a breach of fiduciary duty.

(5) Where the personal representative knows or has information from which the personal representative reasonably should have known of the breach of fiduciary duty by the other personal representative and fails to take reasonable steps to compel the other personal representative to redress the breach.

(c) The liability of a personal representative for a breach of fiduciary duty committed by another of the personal representatives that occurred before July 1, 1988, is governed by prior law and not by this section.

Article 5. Independent Administration

9640. Nothing in this part limits or restricts the authority given the personal representative under Part 6 (commencing with Section 10400) (Independent Administration of Estates Act) if the personal representative has been given the authority to administer the estate under that part.

Article 6. Transitional Provision

9645. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b) and (c), any petition or other matter filed or commenced before July 1, 1988, shall be continued under this part, so far as applicable, except where the court determines that application of a particular provision of this part would substantially interfere with the rights of the parties or other interested persons, in which case the particular provision of this part does not apply and the applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, applies.

(b) Nothing in this part affects any order, judgment, or decree made, or any action taken, before July 1, 1988.

(c) Notwithstanding the enactment of this part:

(1) An order, judgment, or decree made before July 1, 1988, shall continue in full force and effect in accordance with its term or until modified or terminated by the court.

(2) The validity of an order, judgment, or decree made before July 1, 1988, is determined by the applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, and not by this part.

(3) The validity of any action taken before July 1, 1988, is determined by the applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, and not by this part.

CHAPTER 2. ESTATE MANAGEMENT GENERALLY

9650. (a) Except as provided by statute and subject to subdivision (c):

(1) The personal representative has the right to, and shall take possession or control of, all the estate of the decedent to be administered in the decedent's estate and shall collect all debts due to the decedent or the estate. The personal representative is not accountable for any debts that remain uncollected without his or her fault.

(2) The personal representative is entitled to receive the rents, issues, and profits from the real and personal property in the estate until the estate is settled or delivered over by order of court to the heirs or devisees.

(b) The personal representative shall pay taxes on, and take all steps reasonably necessary for the management, protection, and preservation of, the estate in his or her possession.

(c) Real property or tangible personal property may be left with or surrendered to the person presumptively entitled to it unless or until, in the judgment of the personal representative, possession of the property by the personal representative will be necessary for purposes of administration. The person holding the property shall surrender it to the personal representative on request by the personal representative.

9651. (a) A personal representative who in good faith takes into his or her possession real or personal property, and reasonably believes that the property is part of the estate of the decedent, is not:

(1) Criminally liable for so doing.

(2) Civilly liable to any person for so doing.

(b) The personal representative shall make reasonable efforts to determine the true nature of, and title to, the property so taken into possession.

(c) During his or her possession, the personal representative is entitled to receive all rents, issues, and profits of the property. If the property is later determined not to be part of the estate of the decedent, the personal representative shall deliver the property, or cause it to be delivered, to the person legally entitled to it, together with all rents, issues, and profits of the property received by the personal representative, less any expenses incurred in protecting and maintaining the property and in collecting rents, issues, and profits. The personal representative may request court approval before delivering the property pursuant to this subdivision.

(d) The court may award the personal representative and the personal representative's attorney reasonable compensation for services rendered in connection with the duties specified in this section as to property later determined not to be part of the estate of the decedent, if the court makes one of the following findings:

(1) That the services were of benefit to the estate. In such case, the compensation shall be a proper expense of administration.

(2) That the services were essential to preserve, protect, and maintain the property. In such case, the court shall award compensation as an expense deductible from the rents, issues, and profits received by the personal representative, or, if these are insufficient, as a lien against the property.

9652. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), the personal representative shall keep all cash in his or her possession invested in interest-bearing accounts or other investments authorized by law.

(b) The requirement of subdivision (a) does not apply to the amount of cash that is reasonably necessary for orderly administration of the estate.

(c) The requirement of subdivision (a) does not apply to the extent that the testator's will otherwise provides.

9653. (a) On application of a creditor of the decedent or the estate, the personal representative shall commence and prosecute an action for the recovery of real or personal property of the decedent for the benefit of creditors if the personal representative has insufficient assets to pay creditors and the decedent during lifetime did either of the following:

(1) Made a conveyance of the property, or any right or interest in the property, that is fraudulent as to creditors under the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 3439) of Title 2 of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Civil Code.

(2) Made a gift of the property in view of death.

(b) A creditor making application under this section shall pay such part of the costs and expenses of the suit and attorney's fees, or give an undertaking to the personal representative for that purpose, as the personal representative and the creditor agree, or, absent an agreement, as the court or a judge thereof shall order.

(c) The property recovered under this section shall be sold for the payment of debts in the same manner as if the decedent had died seised or possessed of the property. The proceeds of the sale shall be applied first to payment of the costs and expenses of suit, including attorney's fees, and then to payment of the debts of the decedent in the same manner as other property in possession of the personal representative. After all the debts of the decedent have been paid, the remainder of the proceeds shall be paid to the person from whom the property was recovered. The property may be sold in its entirety or in such portion as necessary to pay the debts.

9654. The heirs or devisees may themselves, or jointly with the personal representative, maintain an action for possession of property or to quiet title to property against any person except the personal representative.

9655. With respect to a share of stock of a domestic or foreign corporation held in the estate, a membership in a nonprofit corporation held by the estate, or other property held in the estate, a personal representative may do any one or more of the following:

(a) Vote in person, and give proxies to exercise, any voting rights with respect to the share, membership, or other property.

(b) Waive notice of a meeting or give consent to the holding of a meeting.

(c) Authorize, ratify, approve, or confirm any action which could be taken by shareholders, members, or property owners.

9656. The personal representative may insure the property of the estate against damage or loss and may insure himself or herself against liability to third persons.

9657. The personal representative shall not make profit by the increase, nor suffer loss by the decrease or destruction without his or her fault, of any part of the estate.

CHAPTER 3. DEPOSIT OF MONEY AND PERSONAL PROPERTY WITH FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

9700. The personal representative may deposit money belonging to the estate in an insured account in a financial institution in this state. Unless otherwise provided by court order, the money may be withdrawn without order of the court.

9701. The personal representative may deposit personal property of the estate with a trust company for safekeeping. Unless otherwise provided by court order, the personal property may be withdrawn without order of the court.

9702. (a) A trust company serving as personal representative may deposit securities that constitute all or part of the estate in a securities depository as provided in Section 775 of the Financial Code.

(b) If securities have been deposited with a trust company by a personal representative pursuant to Section 9701, the trust company may deposit the securities in a securities depository as provided in Section 775 of the Financial Code.

(c) The securities depository may hold securities deposited with it in the manner authorized by Section 775 of the Financial Code.

9703. (a) Upon application of the personal representative, the court may, with or without notice, order that money or other personal property be deposited pursuant to Section 9700 or 9701 and be subject to withdrawal only upon authorization of the court.

(b) The personal representative shall deliver a copy of the court order to the financial institution or trust company at the time the deposit is made.

(c) No financial institution or trust company accepting a deposit pursuant to Section 9700 or 9701 shall be on notice of the existence of an order that the money or other property is subject to withdrawal only upon authorization of the court unless it has actual notice of the order.

9704. When a decree is rendered distributing money or personal property deposited pursuant to this chapter, the financial institution, trust company, or securities depository may deliver the property directly to the distributees and shall file receipts therefor with the clerk.

9705. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), where a trust company is a personal representative and in the exercise of reasonable judgment deposits money of the estate in an account in any department of the corporation or association of which it is a part, it is chargeable with interest thereon at the rate of interest prevailing among banks of the locality on such deposits.

(b) Where it is to the advantage of the estate, the amount of cash that is reasonably necessary for orderly administration of the estate may be deposited in a checking account that does not earn interest which is maintained in a department of the corporation or association of which the trust company is a part.

CHAPTER 4. INVESTMENTS AND PURCHASE OF PROPERTY

9730. Pending settlement of the estate, the personal representative may invest money of the estate in possession of the personal representative in any one or more of the following:

(a) Direct obligations of the United States, or of the State of California, maturing not later than one year from the date of making the investment.

(b) An interest in a money market mutual fund registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. Sec. 80a-1, et seq.) or an investment vehicle authorized for the collective investment of trust funds pursuant of Section 9.18 of Part 9 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations, the portfolios of which are limited to United States government obligations maturing not later than five years from the date of investment and to repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations.

(c) Units of a common trust fund described in Section 1564 of the Financial Code. The common trust fund shall have as its objective investment primarily in short term fixed income obligations and shall be permitted to value investments at cost pursuant to regulations of the appropriate regulatory authority.

9731. (a) Pending settlement of the estate, upon a showing that it is to the advantage of the estate, the court may order that money of the estate in possession of the personal representative be invested in securities of the United States or of this state.

(b) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition stating the types of securities that are proposed to be purchased and the advantage to the estate of the purchase.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9732. (a) The court may order that money of the estate in possession of the personal representative be invested in any manner provided by the will if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The time for filing claims has expired.

(2) All uncontested claims have been paid or are sufficiently secured by mortgage or otherwise, or there is sufficient cash in the estate aside from the money to be invested to pay all uncontested claims, or the court is otherwise satisfied that all uncontested claims will be paid.

(3) The estate is not in a condition to be finally closed and distributed.

(b) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition showing the general condition of the estate and the types of investments that are proposed to be made.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220. In addition, the petitioner shall cause notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to be mailed to all known devisees of property which is proposed to be invested. Where the property proposed to be invested is devised to a trust or trustee, notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition shall be mailed to the trustee or, if the trustee has not yet been appointed, to the person nominated as trustee. Mailing pursuant to this subdivision shall be to the person's last known address as provided in Section 1220.

(d) If no objection has been filed by an interested person, the court may make an order authorizing or directing the personal representative to invest such portion of the money of the estate as the court deems advisable in the types of investments proposed in the petition and authorized by the will. If there is no objection by an interested person and no substantial reason why some or all of the investment powers given by the will should not be exercised, the court shall make the order. The order may be for a limited period or until the administration of the estate is completed. Upon petition of the personal representative or any interested person, the order may be renewed, modified, or terminated at any time.

9733. (a) Pending settlement of the estate or at the time of settlement of the estate, on petition of the personal representative or any interested person, the court may, upon good cause shown, order that the personal representative purchase an annuity from an insurer admitted to do business in this state to satisfy a devise of an annuity or other direction in the will for periodic payments to a devisee.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9734. (a) If an asset of the estate consists of an option right, the personal representative may exercise the option after authorization by order of court upon a showing that the exercise would be to the advantage of the estate and would be in the best interest of the interested persons. The personal representative may use any funds or property in the estate to acquire the property covered by the option.

(b) A petition under this section may be filed by the personal representative or any interested person.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9735. (a) After authorization by order of court, the personal representative may purchase securities or commodities required to perform an incomplete contract of sale where the decedent died having sold but not delivered securities or commodities not owned by the decedent. The court's order shall fix the terms and conditions of purchase.

(b) A petition under this section may be filed by the personal representative or by any party to the contract. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) No notice of hearing need be given when the maximum purchase price is fixed or when the securities or commodities are to be purchased on an established stock, bond, or commodity exchange.

9736. The personal representative may hold a security in the name of a nominee or in any other form without disclosure of the estate so that title to the security may pass by delivery.

9737. (a) If an estate by reason of owning securities also owns or receives subscription rights for the purchase of additional securities, the personal representative may exercise the subscription rights after authorization by order of court upon a showing that it is to the advantage of the estate.

(b) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition stating the nature of the subscription rights and the advantage to the estate of exercising them.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

CHAPTER 5. OPERATION OF DECEDENT'S BUSINESS

9760. (a) As used in this section, "decedent's business" means an unincorporated business or venture in which the decedent was engaged or which was wholly or partly owned by the decedent at the time of the decedent's death, but does not include a business operated by a partnership in which the decedent was a partner.

(b) If it is to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons, the personal representative, with or without court authorization, may continue the operation of the decedent's business; but the personal representative may not continue the operation of the decedent's business for a period of more than six months from the date letters are first issued to a personal representative unless a court order has been obtained under this section authorizing the personal representative to continue the operation of the business.

(c) The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition requesting an order (1) authorizing the personal representative to continue the operation of the decedent's business or (2) directing the personal representative to discontinue the operation of the decedent's business. The petition shall show the advantage to the estate and the benefit to the interested persons of the order requested. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(d) If a petition is filed under this section, the court may make an order that either:

(1) Authorizes the personal representative to continue the operation of the decedent's business to such an extent and subject to such restrictions as the court determines to be for the advantage of the estate and in best interests of the interested persons.

(2) Directs the personal representative to discontinue the operation of the decedent's business within the time specified in, and in accordance with the provisions of, the order.

9761. If a partnership existed between the decedent and another person at the time of the decedent's death, on application of the personal representative, the court may order any surviving partner to render an account pursuant to Section 15043, 15510, or 15634 of the Corporations Code. An order under this section may be enforced by the court's power to punish for contempt.

9762. (a) After authorization by order of court upon a showing that it would be to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons, the personal representative may continue as a general or a limited partner in any partnership in which the decedent was a general partner at the time of death. In its order, the court may specify any terms and conditions of the personal representative's participation as a partner that the court determines are to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons, but any terms and conditions that are inconsistent with the terms of any written partnership agreement are subject to the written consent of all of the surviving partners.

(b) If there is a written partnership agreement permitting the decedent's personal representative to participate as a partner, the personal representative has all the rights, powers, duties, and obligations provided in the written partnership agreement, except as otherwise ordered by the court pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) If there is not a written partnership agreement, the personal representative has the rights, powers, duties, and obligations that the court specifies in its order pursuant to subdivision (a).

(d) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition showing that the order requested would be to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220. In addition, unless the court otherwise orders, the petitioner, not less than 15 days before the hearing, shall cause notice of hearing and a copy of the petition to be mailed to each of the surviving general partners at his or her last known address.

9763. (a) If the decedent was a general partner, the personal representative may commence and maintain any action against the surviving partner that the decedent could have commenced and maintained.

(b) The personal representative may exercise the decedent's rights as a limited partner as provided in Section 15675 of the Corporations Code.

CHAPTER 6. ABANDONMENT OF TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY

9780. Unless the property is specifically devised, subject to the requirements of this chapter, the personal representative may dispose of or abandon tangible personal property where the cost of collecting, maintaining, and safeguarding the property would exceed its fair market value.

9781. Unless otherwise provided in the will, subject to the requirements of this chapter, the personal representative may exercise the power provided in Section 9780 without court authorization or approval.

9782. (a) Except as provided in Section 9785, before disposing of or abandoning property under Section 9780, the personal representative shall give notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment as provided in subdivision (c) to all of the following:

(1) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

(2) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

(3) Each person who has filed a request for special notice pursuant to Section 1250.

(4) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

(b) The notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment shall describe the property to be disposed of or abandoned, indicate the manner in which the property is to be disposed of or abandoned, and specify the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned.

(c) The notice shall be delivered personally to each person required to be given notice or shall be sent by mail to the person at the person's last known address. If the notice is delivered personally, it shall be delivered to the person not less than five days before the date specified in the notice as the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned. If the notice is sent by mail, it shall be deposited in the mail not less than 10 days before the date specified in the notice as the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned.

9783. A person described in Section 9782 may deliver or mail a written objection to the disposition or abandonment to the personal representative on or before the date specified in the notice as the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned. Subject to Section 9788, after receipt of the written objection, the personal representative shall not dispose of or abandon the property without authorization by order of the court obtained under Section 9611.

9784. (a) A person described in Section 9782 who objects to the disposition or abandonment of property by the personal representative under Section 9780 may apply to the court having jurisdiction over the proceeding for an order restraining the personal representative from disposing of or abandoning the property without prior court authorization.

(b) The court shall grant the requested order without requiring notice to the personal representative and without cause being shown for the order if the court is satisfied that the estate will not suffer any loss or unreasonable expense if the order is granted. As a condition of granting the order, the court may require the person applying for the order (1) to pay the costs of storing and protecting the property or (2) to provide security by bond or cash deposit that the costs will be paid.

(c) The personal representative is deemed to have notice of the restraining order if it is served upon the personal representative in the same manner as is provided for in Section 415.10 or 415.30 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or in the manner authorized by the court, before the date specified in the notice as the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned.

9785. Notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment need not be given to any of the following:

(a) Any person who consents in writing to the proposed disposition or abandonment.

(b) Any person who, in writing, waives the right to notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment.

9786. A person who objects to the disposition or abandonment as provided in Section 9783, or who serves a restraining order issued under Section 9784 in the manner provided in that section, shall be given notice of any court hearing on a petition for court authorization of the disposition or abandonment of the property.

9787. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a person described in Section 9782 who receives notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment as provided in Section 9782, waives the right to have the court later review the disposition or abandonment of the property unless the person does one of the following:

(1) Delivers or mails a written objection as provided in Section 9783.

(2) Serves a restraining order obtained under Section 9784 before whichever of the following is the later time:

(A) The date specified in the notice of proposed disposition or abandonment as the date on or after which the property will be disposed of or abandoned.

(B) The date the property has actually been disposed of or abandoned.

(b) Subject to Section 9785, the court may review the disposition or abandonment of the property upon the motion of a person described in subdivision (a) of Section 9782 who establishes that he or she did not actually receive notice of the proposed disposition or abandonment before the time to object expired.

9788. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 9783 and 9784, the personal representative may abandon or dispose of the property without court authorization if the person who made the objection or obtained the restraining order fails to take possession of the property at his or her expense within 10 days after the personal representative requests that the person do so.

(b) A person who takes possession of estate property pursuant to this section is liable for the safekeeping of the property until a court order is made relieving the person of this obligation.

CHAPTER 7. BORROWING, REFINANCING, AND ENCUMBERING PROPERTY

9800. (a) Subject to subdivision (c), after authorization by order of court obtained under this chapter upon a showing that it would be to the advantage of the estate, the personal representative may borrow money on a note, either unsecured or to be secured by a security interest or other lien on the personal property of the estate, or any part thereof, or to be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on the real property of the estate, or any part thereof, and may give a security interest or other lien on the personal property of the estate, or any part thereof, or a mortgage or deed of trust on the real property of the estate, or any part thereof, in order to do any one or more of the following:

(1) Pay the debts of the decedent or the estate, devises made in the will of the decedent, and expenses and charges of administration.

(2) Pay, reduce, extend, or renew a security interest or lien or mortgage or deed of trust already existing on property of the estate.

(3) Improve, use, operate, or preserve property in the estate.

(b) The personal representative shall apply the money to the purpose specified in the order.

(c) Where the surviving spouse has elected to have his or her share of the community real property administered in the decedent's estate, the personal representative is authorized to borrow money to be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on the real property of the estate, or any part thereof, only with the written consent of the surviving spouse.

9801. If property of the estate consists of an undivided interest in real or personal property, or any other interest therein less than the entire ownership, upon a showing that it would be to the advantage of the estate to borrow money to improve, use, operate, or preserve the property jointly with the owners of the other interests therein, or to pay, reduce, extend, or renew a security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust already existing on all of the property, the personal representative, after authorization by order of the court obtained under this chapter, may join with the owners of the other interests in borrowing money and the execution of a joint and several note and such security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust as may be required to secure the payment of the note. The note may be for such sum as is required for the purpose.

9802. (a) The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition for an order under this chapter.

(b) The petition shall state the purpose for which the order is sought and the necessity for or the advantage to accrue from the order. If applicable, the petition shall also show the amount of money proposed to be borrowed, the rate of interest to be paid, the length of time the note is to run, and a general description of the property proposed to be mortgaged or subjected to the deed of trust, security interest, or other lien.

9803. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9804. (a) Subject to subdivision (c), if the court is satisfied that it will be to the advantage of the estate, the court shall make an order that authorizes or requires that the personal representative do any one or more of the following:

(1) Borrow money and execute a note.

(2) Execute a mortgage or deed of trust or give other security by security interest or other lien.

(3) Pay, reduce, extend, or renew a security interest or lien or mortgage or deed of trust already existing upon property of the estate.

(b) The court in its order may do any one or more of the following:

(1) Order that a lesser amount than that specified in the petition be borrowed.

(2) Prescribe the maximum rate of interest and the period of the loan.

(3) Require that the interest and the whole or any part of the principal be paid from time to time out of the whole estate or any part thereof.

(4) Require that the personal property used as security, or any buildings on real property to be mortgaged or subjected to the deed of trust, be insured for the further security of the lender and that the premiums be paid out of the estate.

(5) Specify the purpose for which the money to be borrowed is to be applied.

(6) Specify the terms and conditions of any extension or renewal agreement.

(7) Prescribe such other terms and conditions concerning the transaction as the court determines to be to the advantage of the estate.

(c) Where the surviving spouse has elected to have his or her share of the community real property administered in the decedent's estate, an order authorizing or requiring the personal representative to borrow money to be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon the real property of the estate, or any part thereof, may be made only if the written consent of the surviving spouse has been filed with the court.

9805. (a) The personal representative shall execute and deliver the mortgage or deed of trust, or execute and deliver the instrument creating the security interest, setting forth therein that it is made by authority of the order, giving the date of the order.

(b) The note and the mortgage or deed of trust or other instrument creating the security interest, if any, shall be signed by the personal representative and shall be acknowledged by the personal representative if the instrument creates a lien on real property. The personal representative is not personally liable on the note or the mortgage or deed of trust or other instrument by reason of so signing.

9806. (a) Every mortgage, deed of trust, or security interest made pursuant to a court order obtained under this chapter is effectual to mortgage, or to subject to the deed of trust or security interest, both of the following:

(1) All right, title, and interest which the decedent had to the property described therein at the time of the decedent's death.

(2) Any right, title, or interest in the property acquired by the estate of the decedent, by operation of law or otherwise, since the time of the decedent's death.

(b) Jurisdiction of the court to administer the estate of the decedent shall be effectual to vest the court with jurisdiction to make the order for the note and for the security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust. This jurisdiction shall conclusively inure to the benefit of the owner of the security interest or lien, mortgagee named in the mortgage, or the trustee and beneficiary named in the deed of trust, and their heirs and assigns.

(c) No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this chapter shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the note, security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust given pursuant to an order under this chapter. Subject to Section 9807, the owner of the security interest or lien, the mortgagee named in the mortgage, or the trustee and beneficiary named in the deed of trust, and their heirs and assigns, have and possess the same rights and remedies on the note and the security interest or lien or mortgage or deed of trust as if it had been made by the decedent prior to his or her death.

9807. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), no judgment or claim for any deficiency shall be had or allowed against the personal representative or the estate if (1) there is a foreclosure or sale under a security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust and (2) the proceeds of sale of the encumbered property are insufficient to pay the note, the security interest, lien, mortgage, or deed of trust, and the costs or expenses of sale.

(b) If the note, security interest, mortgage, or deed of trust was given to pay, reduce, extend, or renew a lien, mortgage, security interest, or deed of trust existing on property of the estate at the time of death of the decedent and the indebtedness secured thereby was an allowed and approved claim against the estate, the part of the indebtedness remaining unsatisfied shall be classed and paid with other allowed claims against the estate.

CHAPTER 8. ACTIONS AND PROCEEDINGS BY OR AGAINST PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE

9820. The personal representative may:

(a) Commence and maintain actions and proceedings for the benefit of the estate.

(b) Defend actions and proceedings against the decedent, the personal representative, or the estate.

9822. The personal representative may bring an action on the bond of any former personal representative of the same estate, for the use and benefit of all interested persons.

9823. (a) If the decedent leaves an undivided interest in any property, an action for partition of the property may be brought against the personal representative.

(b) The personal representative may bring an action against the other cotenants for partition of any property in which the decedent left an undivided interest.

CHAPTER 9. COMPROMISE OF CLAIMS AND ACTIONS; EXTENSION, RENEWAL, OR MODIFICATION OF OBLIGATIONS

9830. (a) Unless this chapter or some other applicable statute requires court authorization or approval, if it is to the advantage of the estate, the personal representative may do any of the following withou court authorization, instruction, approval, or confirmation:

(1) Compromise or settle a claim, action, or proceeding by or for the benefit of, or against, the decedent, the personal representative, or the estate, including the giving of a covenant not to sue.

(2) Extend, renew, or in any manner modify the terms of an obligation owing to or in favor of the decedent or the estate.

(3) Release, in whole or in part, any claim belonging to the estate to the extent that the claim is uncollectible.

(b) Nothing in this section precludes the personal representative from seeking court authorization pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(c) Upon petition of an interested person or upon the court's own motion, the court may limit the authority of the personal representative under subdivision (a). Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9831. Unless the time for filing creditor's claims has expired, authorization by order of court is required for a compromise or settlement of a claim, action, or proceeding by or for the benefit of, or against, the decedent, the personal representative, or the estate.

9832. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), authorization by order of court is required for a compromise, settlement, extension, renewal, or modification which affects any of the following:

(1) Title to real property.

(2) An interest in real property or a lien or encumbrance on real propert

(3) An option to purchase real property or an interest in real property.

(b) If it is to the advantage of the estate, the personal representative without prior court authorization may extend, renew, or modify a lease of real property having an unexpired term of one year or less where, under the lease as extended, renewed, or modified (1) the rental does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) a month and the term does not exceed one year or (2) regardless of the amount of the rental, the lease is from month to month. For the purposes of this subdivision, if the lease gives the lessee the right to extend the term of the lease, the length of the term shall be considered as though the right to extend had been exercised.

9833. Authorization by order of court is required for a compromise or settlement of a matter when the transaction requires the transfer or encumbrance of property of the estate, or the creation of an unsecured liability of the estate, or both, in an amount or value in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

9834. Authorization by order of court is required for any of the following:

(a) A compromise or settlement of a claim by the estate against the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney, whether or not the claim arises out of the administration of the estate.

(b) An extension, renewal, or modification of the terms of a debt or similar obligation of the personal representative, or the personal representative's attorney, owing to, or in favor of, the estate.

9835. Authorization by order of court is required for the compromise or settlement of a claim or right of action given to the personal representative by any law for the wrongful death or injury of the decedent, including any action brought by the personal representative in attempting enforcement of the claim or right of action. Authorization to compromise or settle the claim or right of action includes authorization to give a covenant not to sue.

9836. The court authorization required by this chapter shall be obtained from the court in which the estate is being administered.

9837. (a) A petition for an order authorizing a compromise, settlement, extension, renewal, or modification under this chapter may be filed by any of the following:

(1) The personal representative.

(2) Any interested person who has obtained the written approval of the personal representative to file the petition.

(b) The petition shall show the terms of the compromise, settlement, extension, renewal, or modification and its advantage to the heirs or devisees and the estate.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9838. (a) If an order made under Section 9837 authorizes a compromise or settlement that requires the transfer of real property of the estate, the personal representative shall execute a conveyance of the real property to the person entitled thereto under the compromise or settlement. The conveyance shall refer to the order authorizing the compromise or settlement and directing that the conveyance be executed. A certified copy of the order shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the real property or any portion thereof lies.

(b) A conveyance made in compliance with the court order authorizing the compromise or settlement and directing the conveyance to be executed vests in the person to whom the property is transferred both of the following:

(1) All the right, title, and interest which the decedent had in the property at the time of the decedent's death.

(2) Any other or additional right, title, or interest in the property acquired by the estate of the decedent, by operation of law or otherwise, prior to the transfer.

9839. If the personal representative pays a claim for less than its full amount, the personal representative's accounts may be credited only for the amount actually paid.

CHAPTER 10. ACCEPTANCE OF DEED IN LIEU OF FORECLOSURE OR TRUSTEE'S SALE; GRANT OF PARTIAL SATISFACTION OR PARTIAL RECONVEYANCE

9850. (a) If it is to the advantage of the estate to accept a deed to property which is subject to a mortgage or deed of trust in lieu of foreclosure of the mortgage or sale under the deed of trust, the personal representative may, after authorization by order of the court and upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, accept a deed conveying the property to the heirs or devisees of the decedent, subject to administration.

(b) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition showing the advantage to the estate of accepting the deed. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) The court shall make an order under this section only if the advantage to the estate of accepting the deed is shown by clear and convincing evidence.

9851. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if it is to the advantage of the estate for the personal representative to give a partial satisfaction of a mortgage or to cause a partial reconveyance to be executed by a trustee under a trust deed held by the estate, the personal representative may, after authorization by order of the court and upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, give the partial satisfaction or cause the partial reconveyance to be executed by the trustee.

(b) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition showing the advantage to the estate of giving the partial satisfaction or causing the partial reconveyance. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) No authorization by the court is necessary for the personal representative to give a partial satisfaction of a mortgage or to cause a partial reconveyance to be executed by a trustee under a trust deed held by the estate if the partial satisfaction or partial reconveyance is executed pursuant to the terms of the mortgage or trust deed held by the estate.

CHAPTER 11. CONVEYANCE OR TRANSFER OF PROPERTY CLAIMED TO BELONG TO DECEDENT OR OTHER PERSON

9860. (a) The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition requesting that the court make an order under this chapter in any of the following cases:

(1) Where the decedent while living is bound by a contract in writing to convey real property or to transfer personal property and dies before making the conveyance or transfer and the decedent, if living, could have been compelled to make the conveyance or transfer.

(2) Where the decedent while living binds himself or herself or his or her personal representative by a contract in writing to convey real property or to transfer personal property upon or after his or her death and the contract is one which can be specifically enforced.

(3) Where the decedent died in possession of, or holding title to, real or personal property, and the property or some interest therein is claimed to belong to another.

(4) Where the decedent died having a claim to real or personal property, title to or possession of which is held by another.

(b) The petition shall set forth the facts upon which the claim is based.

9861. (a) At least 30 days prior to the day of the hearing, the petitioner shall cause notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition to be served in the same manner as provided in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 413.10) of Title 5 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure on all of the following persons:

(1) The personal representative.

(2) Any person claiming an interest in, or having title to or possession of, the property.

(b) Except for those persons given notice pursuant to subdivision (a):

(1) Notice of the hearing also shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(2) In addition to the notice required by paragraph (1), notice of the hearing, together with a copy of the petition, shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following:

(A) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase.

(B) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase.

9862. Any interested person may request time for filing a response to the petition, for discovery proceedings, or for other preparation for the hearing, and the court shall grant a continuance for a reasonable time for any of these purposes.

9863. If the matter concerns real property, notice of the pendency of the proceeding may be filed pursuant to Section 409 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

9864. Any person having or claiming title to or an interest in the property which is the subject of the petition may, at or prior to the hearing, object to the hearing of the petition if the petition is filed in a court which is not the proper court under any other provision of law for the trial of a civil action seeking the same relief and, if the objection is established, the court shall not grant the petition.

9865. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if a civil action is pending with respect to the subject matter of a petition filed pursuant to this chapter and jurisdiction has been obtained in the court where the civil action is pending prior to the filing of the petition, upon request of any party to the civil action, the court shall abate the petition until the conclusion of the civil action.

(b) The court need not abate the petition if the court determines that the civil action was filed for the purpose of delay.

9866. The court shall not grant a petition under this chapter if the court determines that the matter should be determined by a civil action.

9867. Except as provided in Sections 9864, 9865, and 9866, if the court is satisfied that a conveyance, transfer, or other order should be made, the court shall make an order authorizing and directing the personal representative, or the other person having title to or possession of the property, to execute a conveyance or transfer to the person entitled thereto or granting other appropriate relief.

9868. (a) The order is prima facie evidence of the correctness of the proceedings and of the authority of the personal representative or other person to make the conveyance or transfer.

(b) After entry of an order that the personal representative or other person execute a conveyance or transfer, the person entitled thereunder has the right to the possession of the property, and the right to hold the property, according to the terms of the order as if the property had been conveyed or transferred in accordance with the terms of the order.

(c) The personal representative or other person ordered to execute a conveyance or transfer under Section 9867 shall execute the conveyance or transfer according to the terms of the order.

(d) The conveyance or transfer of the personal representative passes title to the property as fully as if the decedent had executed it while living.

CHAPTER 12. PURCHASE OF ESTATE PROPERTY BY PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE OR PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE'S ATTORNEY

9880. Except as provided in this chapter, neither the personal representative nor the personal representative's attorney may purchase any property of the estate, or any claim against the estate, directly or indirectly, nor be interested in any such purchase.

9881. Upon a petition filed under Section 9883, the court may make an order under this section authorizing the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney to purchase property of the estate if all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) Written consent to the purchase is signed by (1) each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase and (2) each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase.

(b) The written consents are filed with the court.

(c) The purchase is shown to be to the advantage of the estate.

9882. Upon a petition filed under Section 9883, the court may make an order under this section authorizing the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney to purchase property of the estate if the will of the decedent authorizes the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney to purchase the property.

9883. (a) The personal representative may file a petition requesting that the court make an order under Section 9881 or 9882. The petition shall set forth the facts upon which the request for the order is based.

(b) If court confirmation of the sale is required, the court may make its order under Section 9881 or 9882 at the time of the confirmation.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(d) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (c), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase.

(2) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed purchase.

(e) If the court is satisfied that the purchase should be authorized, the court shall make an order authorizing the purchase upon the terms and conditions specified in the order, and the personal representative may execute a conveyance or transfer according to the terms of the order. Unless otherwise provided in the will or in the order of the court, the sale of the property shall be made in the same manner as other estate property of the same nature.

9884. This chapter does not prohibit the purchase of property of the estate by the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney pursuant to a contract in writing made during the lifetime of the decedent if the contract is one that can be specifically enforced and the requirements of Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 9860) are satisfied.

9885. This chapter does not prevent the exercise by the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney of an option to purchase property of the estate given in the will of the decedent if the requirements of Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 9980) are satisfied.

CHAPTER 13. DEDICATION OR CONVEYANCE TO GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY OF EASEMENT OR ACCESS RIGHT

9900. If it is to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons, the personal representative, after authorization by order of the court obtained under this chapter and upon such terms and conditions as the court may prescribe, may do any of the following either with or without consideration:

(a) Dedicate or convey real property of the estate for any purpose to any of the following:

(1) This state or any public entity in this state.

(2) The United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States.

(b) Dedicate or convey an easement over real property of the estate to any person for any purpose.

(c) Convey, release, or relinquish to this state or any public entity in this state any access rights to any street, highway, or freeway from any real property of the estate.

(d) Consent as a lienholder to a dedication, conveyance, release, or relinquishment under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) by the owner of property subject to the lien.

9901. (a) The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition for an order under this chapter.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

CHAPTER 14. EXCHANGE OF PROPERTY

9920. If it is to the advantage of the estate to exchange property of the estate for other property, the personal representative may, after authorization by order of court obtained under this chapter and upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, exchange the property for the other property. The terms and conditions prescribed by the court may include the payment or receipt of part cash by the personal representative.

9921. To obtain an order under this chapter, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition containing all of the following:

(a) A description of the property.

(b) The terms and conditions of the proposed exchange.

(c) A showing of the advantage to the estate to accrue from the exchange.

9922. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(b) If the petition is for authorization to exchange securities as defined in Section 10200 for different securities, the court, upon a showing of good cause, may order that the notice be given for a shorter period or that the notice be dispensed with. The order provided by this subdivision may be made ex parte.

9923. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this chapter shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the exchange made pursuant to an order made under this chapter.

CHAPTER 15. LEASES

9940. For the purpose of this chapter:

(a) "Lease" includes, without limitation, a lease that includes an option to purchase real propery of the estate.

(b) If a lease gives the lessee the right to extend the term of the lease, the length of the term shall be considered as though the right to extend had been exercised.

9941. If it is to the advantage of the estate, the personal representative may lease, as lessor, real property of the estate without authorization of the court in either of the following cases:

(a) Where the rental does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) a month and the term does not exceed one year.

(b) Where the lease is from month to month, regardless of the amount of the rental.

9942. (a) The personal representative may lease, as lessor, real property of the estate after authorization by order of court obtained under this chapter upon a showing that the proposed lease is to the advantage of the estate.

(b) If the proposed lease includes an option to purchase real property of the estate, a petition for an order authorizing the lease shall be filed under this chapter but the applicable provisions for court approval both in this chapter and in Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 9960) apply to the execution of the lease.

9943. (a) To obtain an order under this chapter, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition containing all of the following:

(1) A general description of the real property proposed to be leased.

(2) The term, rental, and general conditions of the proposed lease.

(3) A showing of the advantage to the estate to accrue from giving the lease.

(b) If the lease is proposed to be for a term longer than 10 years, the petition shall also state facts showing the need for the longer lease and its advantage to the estate and its benefit to the interested persons.

9944. (a) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220 and posted as provided in Section 1230.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition also shall be given as provided in Section 10300, but this notice is not required if the will authorizes or directs the personal representative to lease or sell property.

(c) If the lease is proposed to be for a term longer than 10 years, in addition to the notice required by subdivision (a), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed lease.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed lease.

9945. (a) At the hearing, the court shall entertain and consider any other offer made in good faith at the hearing to lease the same property on more favorable terms.

(b) If the court is satisfied that it will be to the advantage of the estate, and, if the lease is for more than 10 years, that it is to the benefit of interested persons, the court shall make an order authorizing the personal representative to make the lease to the person on the terms and conditions stated in the order. The court shall not make an order authorizing the personal representative to make the lease to any person other than the lessee named in the petition unless the offer made at the hearing is acceptable to the personal representative.

9946. (a) Subject to Section 9947, an order authorizing the execution of a lease shall set forth the minimum rental or royalty or both and the period of the lease.

(b) The order may authorize other terms and conditions of the lease, including, with respect to a lease for the purpose of exploration for or production or removal of minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances, or geothermal energy, any one or more of the following provisions:

(1) A provision for the payment of rental and royalty to a depositary.

(2) A provision for the appointment of a common agent to represent the interests of all the lessors.

(3) A provision for the payment of a compensatory royalty in lieu of rental and in lieu of drilling and producing operations on the land covered by the lease.

(4) A provision empowering the lessee to enter into any agreement authorized by Section 3301 of the Public Resources Code with respect to the land covered by the lease.

(5) A provision for a community oil lease or a pooling or unitization by the lessee.

(c) If the lease covers additional property owned by other persons or an undivided or other interest of the decedent less than the entire ownership in the property, the order may authorize the lease to provide for division of rental and royalty in the proportion that the land or interest of each owner bears to the total area of the land or total interests covered by the lease.

9947. (a) Except as provided in this section, the period of the lease shall be for such time as the court may authorize.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), the court shall not authorize a lease for longer than 10 years if any heir or devisee who has an interest in the property to be leased objects at the hearing.

(c) If the lease is for the purpose of exploration for or production or removal of minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances, or geothermal energy, the court may authorize that the lease be for a fixed period and any of the following:

(1) So long thereafter as minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances or geothermal energy are produced in paying quantities from the property leased or mining or drilling operations are conducted thereon.

(2) If the lease provides for the payment of a compensatory royalty, so long thereafter as such compensatory royalty is paid.

(3) If the land covered by the lease is included in an agreement authorized by Section 3301 of the Public Resources Code, so long thereafter as oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances are produced in paying quantities from any of the lands included in any such agreement or drilling operations are conducted thereon.

9948. (a) The personal representative shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver the lease as directed, setting forth therein that it is made by authority of the order, giving the date of the order.

(b) A lease made pursuant to an order obtained under this chapter is effectual to demise and let the premises described in the order at the rent, for the term, and upon the conditions prescribed in the order.

(c) Jurisdiction of the court to administer the estate of the decedent shall be effectual to vest the court with jurisdiction to make the order for the lease. This jurisdiction shall conclusively inure to the benefit of the lessee and the lessee's heirs and assigns.

(d) No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this chapter shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the lease made pursuant to an order made under this chapter.

CHAPTER 16. GRANTING OPTION TO PURCHASE REAL PROPERTY

9960. After authorization by order of court obtained under this chapter, the personal representative may grant an option to purchase real property of the estate for a period within or beyond the period of administration.

9961. To obtain an order under this chapter, the personal representative shall file a petition containing all of the following:

(a) A description of the real property.

(b) The terms and conditions of the proposed option.

(c) A showing of the advantage to the estate to accrue from the granting of the option.

9962. The purchase price of the real property subject to the option shall be at least 90 percent of the appraised value of the real property. The appraisal shall be one made by a probate referee within one year prior to the hearing of the petition.

9963. (a) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220 and posted as provided in Section 1230.

(b) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (a), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate would be affected by the granting of the option.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate would be affected by the granting of the option.

9964. (a) The court shall make an order authorizing the personal representative to grant the option upon the terms and conditions stated in the order if the court is satisfied as to all of the following:

(1) Good reason exists to grant the option and granting the option will be to the advantage of the estate.

(2) It does not appear that a higher offer with respect to the purchase price of the real property subject to the option may be obtained. An offer is a higher offer with respect to purchase price only if the offer satisfies the requirements of Section 10311 governing increased bids in real property sales.

(3) It does not appear that a better offer with respect to the terms of the option may be obtained. An offer is a better offer with respect to the terms of the option only if the offer is materially more advantageous to the estate.

(b) A higher offer made either for cash or on credit, whether on the same or different credit terms, or a better offer, shall be considered only if the personal representative informs the court in person or by counsel, before the court makes its order authorizing the granting of the option, that the offer is acceptable.

9965. An option granted pursuant to an order made under this chapter, whether within or beyond the administration of the estate, is subject to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 884.010) of Title 5 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Civil Code.

9966. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this chapter shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the granting of an option pursuant to an order made under this chapter.

CHAPTER 17. OPTION TO PURCHASE GIVEN IN WILL

9980. (a) When an option to purchase real or personal property is given in a will, the person given the option has the right to exercise the option at any time within the time limits provided by the will. For the purposes of this section, if a time limitation in the will is measured from the death of the testator, that time shall be extended by the period between the testator's death and the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration with the will annexed or by six months, whichever is the shorter period.

(b) If the will does not provide a time limit for exercise of the option, the time limit is one year from the death of the decedent.

(c) Subject to subdivision (b), if the option given in the will is exercisable under the terms of the will after the time that the estate would otherwise be closed, the property subject to the option shall be distributed subject to the option.

9981. (a) When an option to purchase real or personal property is given in a will admitted to probate, the court may make an order under this chapter directing the personal representative to transfer or convey the property to the person given the option upon compliance with the terms and conditions stated in the will.

(b) The personal representative or the person given the option to purchase the property may file a petition for an order pursuant to this chapter.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

9982. The court shall not make an order under this chapter unless one of the following requirements is satisfied:

(a) The court determines that the rights of creditors will not be impaired by the making of the order.

(b) The court requires a bond in an amount and with such surety as the court shall direct or approve.

9983. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this chapter shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the transfer or conveyance made pursuant to an order made under this chapter.

CHAPTER 18. SALES

Article 1. General Provisions

10000. Subject to the limitations, conditions, and requirements of this chapter, the personal representative may sell real or personal property of the estate in any of the following cases:

(a) Where the sale is necessary to pay debts, devises, family allowance, expenses of administration, or taxes.

(b) Where the sale is to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons.

(c) Where the property is directed by the will to be sold.

(d) Where authority is given in the will to sell the property.

10001. (a) If the personal representative neglects or refuses to sell the property, any interested person may petition the court for an order requiring the personal representative to sell real or personal property of the estate in any of the following cases:

(1) Where the sale is necessary to pay debts, devises, family allowance, expenses of administration, or taxes.

(2) Where the sale is to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons.

(3) Where the property is directed by the will to be sold.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition also shall be given to the personal representative by citation served at least five days before the hearing.

10002. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), if directions are given in the will as to the mode of selling or the particular property to be sold, the personal representative shall comply with those directions.

(b) If the court determines that it would be to the advantage of the estate and in the best interest of the interested persons, the court may make an order relieving the personal representative of the duty to comply with the directions in the will. The order shall specify the mode and the terms and conditions of selling or the particular property to be sold, or both. The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition for an order under this subdivision. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

10003. Subject to Chapter 13 (commencing with Section 750) of Division 3 and to Sections 10001 and 10002, if estate property is required or permitted to be sold, the personal representative may:

(a) Use discretion as to which property to sell first.

(b) Sell the entire interest of the estate in the property or any lesser interest therein.

(c) Sell the property either at public auction or private sale.

10004. (a) When the personal representative determines in his or her discretion that, by use or relationship, any assets of the estate, whether real or personal, constitute a unit for purposes of sale, the personal representative may cause the property to be appraised as a unit.

(b) Whether or not the property is appraised as a unit, the personal representative may sell all the assets described in subdivision (a) as a unit and under one bid if the court finds the sale of the assets as a unit to be to the advantage of the estate.

(c) No private sale of the assets as a unit may be made for less than 90 percent of the sum of the appraised values of the personal property and the sum of the appraised values of the real property, appraised separately, or for less than 90 percent of the appraised value if appraised as a unit.

(d) If the assets to be sold as a unit include any real property, the sale shall be made in the manner provided for the sale of real property, and the bid and sale are subject to the limitations and restrictions established for the sale of real property. If the assets to be sold as a unit are entirely personal property, the property shall be sold in the manner provided for the sale of personal property.

10005. (a) If any property of the estate is sold for more than the appraisement, the personal representative shall account for the proceeds of sale, including the excess over the appraisement.

(b) If any property of the estate is sold for less than the appraisement and the sale has been made in accordance with law, the personal representative is not responsible for the loss.

Article 2. Contract With Agent, Broker, or Auctioneer

10150. (a) The personal representative may enter into a written contract with either or both of the following:

(1) A licensed real estate broker to secure a purchaser for any real property of the estate. The broker may associate other licensed real estate brokers for this purpose, including use of a multiple listing service as defined in Section 1087 of the Civil Code.

(2) One or more agents or brokers to secure a purchaser for any personal property of the estate. If the particular property to be sold or the particular manner of sale requires that the agent or broker be licensed, the contract may be made only with an agent or broker that is so licensed.

(b) The contract may provide for payment of a commission out of the proceeds of sale, but the contract is binding and valid as against the estate only for such amount as the court allows pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 10160). No liability of any kind is incurred by the estate under the contract or a sale unless the sale is confirmed by the court, except for the obligations of the estate to the purchaser of personal property as to which title passes pursuant to Section 10259 without court confirmation or approval. The personal representative is not personally liable on the contract by reason of execution of the contract.

(c) The contract may grant an exclusive right to sell property for a period not in excess of 90 days if, prior to execution of the contract granting an exclusive right to sell, the personal representative obtains permission of the court to enter into the contract upon a showing of necessity and advantage to the estate. The court may grant the permission when the personal representative is appointed or at any subsequent time upon ex parte application. The personal representative may execute one or more extensions of the contract granting an exclusive right to sell property, each extension being for a period not to exceed 90 days, if for each extension the personal representative obtains permission of the court upon ex parte application to extend the contract upon a showing of necessity and advantage to the estate of the extension.

10151. (a) The personal representative may enter into a written contract with any of the following:

(1) Where the public auction sale will be held in this state, an auctioneer who holds a valid license under Chapter 3.7 (commencing with Section 5700) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code to conduct a public auction sale and to secure purchasers by that method for any personal property of the estate to the extent authorized under Chapter 3.7 (commencing with Section 5700) of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code.

(2) Where the public auction sale will be held outside this state pursuant to an order made under Section 10254, an auctioneer who is legally permitted in the jurisdiction where the sale will be held to conduct a public auction sale and to secure purchasers by that method for the personal property authorized to be sold by public auction sale in that jurisdiction under the court order.

(b) The contract shall be one that is legally enforceable under the law of the jurisdiction where made.

(c) The contract may provide for payment to the auctioneer of a fee or commission out of the proceeds of sale and for reimbursement of expenses, but the contract is binding and valid as against the estate only for such amounts as the court allows pursuant to Section 10167. No liability of any kind is incurred by the estate under the contract or a sale unless the sale is approved by the court, except for the obligations of the estate to the purchaser of personal property as to which title passes pursuant to Section 10259 without court confirmation or approval. The personal representative is not personally liable on the contract by reason of execution of the contract.

(d) The contract may provide that personal property of two or more estates being administered by the same personal representative may be sold at the same public auction sale. Items of personal property may be sold separately or in a lot with other items from the same estate. A sale pursuant to the contract shall be with reserve. The auctioneer shall comply with the instructions of the personal representative with respect to withdrawal of items, risk of loss, place of delivery, warranties, and other matters.

Article 3. Compensation of Agent, Broker, or Auctioneer

10160. The estate is not liable to an agent, broker, or auctioneer under a contract for the sale of property or for any fee, commission, or other compensation or expenses in connection with a sale of property unless the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) An actual sale is made.

(b) If court confirmation or approval is required, the sale is confirmed or approved by the court as required.

(c) The sale is consummated.

10161. (a) Subject to the provisions of this article, whether or not the agent or broker has a contract with the personal representative, the fee, commission, or other compensation of an agent or broker in connection with a sale of property shall be the amount the court, in its discretion, determines to be a reasonable compensation for the services of the agent or broker to the estate.

(b) Unless the agent or broker holds a contract granting an exclusive right to sell the property, an agent or broker is not entitled to any fee, commission, or other compensation for services to the estate in connection with a sale except in the following cases:

(1) Where the agent or broker produces the original bid which is returned to the court for confirmation.

(2) Where the property is sold on an increased bid, made at the time of the hearing on the petition for confirmation, to a purchaser procured by the agent or broker.

(c) If the agent or broker has a contract with the personal representative, the amount of the compensation of the agent or broker in connection with the sale of property shall not exceed the amount provided for in the contract.

10162. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), where the bid returned to the court for confirmation is made by a person who is not represented by an agent or broker and the successful bidder is represented by an agent or broker, the compensation of the agent or broker who procured the purchaser to whom the sale is confirmed shall not exceed one-half of the difference between the amount of the bid in the original return and the amount of the successful bid.

(b) This section does not limit the compensation of the agent or broker who holds a contract under Section 10150 granting him or her the exclusive right to sell the property.

10162.3. (a) This section applies if all of the following circumstances exist:

(1) There is no agent or broker holding a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property.

(2) The bid returned to court for confirmation is made by a person represented by an agent or broker.

(3) The court confirms the sale to that purchaser on the bid returned to court for confirmation.

(b) If all the circumstances described in subdivision (a) exist, the court shall allow the agent or broker who procured the purchaser to whom the sale is confirmed the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the full amount for which the sale is confirmed.

10162.5. Where an agent or broker holds a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property, the court shall allow to the agent or broker holding the contract the compensation determined under Section 10161 on:

(a) The full amount for which the sale is confirmed if both of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The bid returned to the court for confirmation is made by a person who is not represented by an agent or broker.

(2) The court confirms the sale to that purchaser on that bid.

(b) The amount of the original bid if both of the following circumstances exist:

(1) The bid returned to court for confirmation is made by a person who is not represented by an agent or broker.

(2) The court confirms the sale on an increased bid, made at the time of the hearing on the petition for confirmation, to a purchaser who was not procured by a bona fide agent or broker.

10162.7. (a) This section applies if all of the following circumstances exist:

(1) There is an agent or broker holding a contract under Section

10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property.

(2) The bid returned to court for confirmation is made by a purchaser procured by another agent or broker.

(3) The court confirms the sale to that purchaser on the bid returned to court for confirmation.

(b) If all the circumstances described in subdivision (a) exist, the court shall allow the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the full amount for which the sale is confirmed. The compensation allowed by the court shall be divided between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker as is provided in any agreement between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker. If there is no agreement, the compensation shall be divided equally between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker.

10163. Subject to Section 10162, the court shall allow the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the full amount for which the sale is confirmed to the agent or broker who procured the purchaser to whom the sale is confirmed if all of the following circumstances exist:

(a) There is no agent or broker holding a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property.

(b) The original bid was made direct to the estate by a purchaser who was not procured by an agent or broker.

(c) The court confirms a sale on an increased bid, made at the time of the hearing on the petition for confirmation, to a purchaser procured by a bona fide agent or broker.

10164. (a) This section applies only where the court confirms a sale on an increased bid, made at the time of the hearing on the petition for confirmation, to a purchaser who was not procured by a bona fide agent or broker.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), the court shall allow the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the amount of the original bid to the agent or broker whose original bid was returned to the court.

(c) If an agent or broker holds a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property and the original bid returned to the court is made by a purchaser who was procured by another agent or broker, the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the amount of the original bid shall be divided between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker as is provided in any agreement between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker. If there is no agreement, the compensation shall be divided equally between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker.

10165. (a) Where the court confirms a sale on an increased bid, made at the time of the hearing on the petition for confirmation, to a purchaser procured by a bona fide agent or broker, the court shall allow the compensation determined under Section 10161 on the full amount for which the sale is confirmed, as provided in this section, if either of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) The original bid returned to the court for confirmation was made by a purchaser who was procured by another agent or broker.

(2) Another agent or broker holds a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property.

(b) The agent or broker who procured the purchaser to whom the sale is confirmed shall be paid one-half of the compensation on the amount of the original bid and all of the compensation on the difference between the original bid and the amount for which the sale is confirmed.

(c) The other one-half of the compensation on the amount of the original bid shall be paid as follows:

(1) If the original bid returned to the court is made by a purchaser who was procured by the agent or broker holding a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property, the entire one-half of the compensation on the original bid shall be paid to that agent or broker.

(2) If the original bid returned to the court is made by a purchaser who was procured by a bona fide agent or broker and there is no agent or broker holding a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property, the entire one-half of the compensation on the original bid shall be paid to that agent or broker.

(3) If there is an agent or broker who holds a contract under Section 10150 granting the exclusive right to sell the property and the original bid returned to the court is made by a purchaser who was procured by another agent or broker, the one-half of the compensation on the amount of the original bid shall be divided between the agent or broker holding the contract granting the exclusive right to sell the property and the other agent or broker whose original bid was returned to the court for confirmation as is provided in any agreement between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker. If there is no agreement, the one-half of the compensation on the amount of the original bid shall be divided equally between the agent or broker holding the contract and the other agent or broker whose original bid was returned to the court for confirmation.

10166. Notwithstanding that a bid contains a condition that a certain amount of the bid shall be paid to an agent or broker by the personal representative, only such compensation as is proper under this article shall be allowed. Acceptance of the bid by the court binds the bidder even though the compensation allowed by the court is less than that specified by the condition.

10167. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), whether or not the auctioneer has a contract with the personal representative, the fees, compensation, and expenses of an auctioneer in connection with a sale of property shall be the amount the court, in its discretion, determines to be a reasonable compensation for the services of the auctioneer to the estate.

(b) If the auctioneer has a contract with the personal representative, the amount of the compensation of the auctioneer in connection with the sale of property shall not exceed the amount provided for in the contract.

Article 4. Special Provisions Applicable to Particular Types of Property

10200. (a) As used in this section, "securities" means "security" as defined in Section 70, land trust certificates, certificates of beneficial interest in trusts, investment trust certificates, mortgage participation certificates, or certificates of deposit for any of the foregoing, but does not include notes secured by a mortgage or deed of trust unless the note or notes have been authorized or permitted to be issued by the Commissioner of Corporations or have been made by a public utility subject to the Public Utilities Act (Part 1 (commencing with Section 201) of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code).

(b) After authorization by order of court, securities may be sold or may be surrendered for redemption or conversion. Title to the securities sold or surrendered as authorized by an order obtained under this section passes without the need for subsequent court confirmation.

(c) To obtain an order under this section, the personal representative or any interested person shall file a petition stating the terms and conditions and the advantage to the estate of the proposed sale or redemption or conversion. If the court authorizes the sale, redemption, or conversion, the court's order shall fix the terms and conditions of sale, redemption, or conversion.

(d) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220 and posted as provided in Section 1230, but the court may order that the notice be given for a shorter period or dispensed with.

(e) No notice of sale or of the redemption or conversion need be given if any of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The minimum selling price is fixed by the court.

(2) The securities are to be sold on an established stock or bond exchange.

(3) The securities to be sold are securities designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system, or subsystem thereof, by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., sold through a broker-dealer registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 during the regular course of business of the broker-dealer.

(4) The securities are to be surrendered for redemption or conversion.

10201. (a) As used in this section:

(1) "Federal association" has the same meaning as defined in Section 5102 of the Financial Code.

(2) "Mutual capital certificate" has the same meaning as defined in Section 5111 of the Financial Code.

(3) "Savings account" has the same meaning as defined in Section 5116 of the Financial Code.

(4) "Savings association" has the same meaning as defined in Section 5102 of the Financial Code.

(5) "Withdrawal value" has the same meaning as defined in Section 5124 of the Financial Code.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 10200, savings accounts and mutual capital certificates of a savings association or federal association may be sold or surrendered for withdrawal by the personal representative, and title thereto passed, without notice of sale, prior order of court, or subsequent confirmation by the court, if an amount of money is obtained upon the sale or withdrawal not less than the withdrawal value of the savings account or the value of the mutual capital certificate.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 10200, credit union share accounts and certificates for funds may be sold or withdrawn by the personal representative, and title thereto passed, without notice of sale, prior order of court, or subsequent confirmation by the court, if an amount of money is obtained upon the sale or withdrawal not less than the withdrawal value of the share account or the value of the certificate for funds.

10202. Notwithstanding Section 10200, if an estate by reason of owning securities, also owns or receives subscription rights for the purchase of additional securities, the personal representative may sell all or part of the subscription rights without notice of sale, prior order of court, or subsequent confirmation by the court.

10203. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), where property to be sold consists of a leasehold interest, the sale shall be made as in the case of the sale of personal property of the estate.

(b) The sale of a leasehold interest shall be made as in the case of the sale of real property of the estate if the interest to be sold consists of any of the following:

(1) A leasehold interest in real property with an unexpired term of 10 years or longer. For this purpose, the leasehold interest shall be considered to have an unexpired term of 10 years or longer if the lessee has the right to extend the term and the term, if extended, would exceed 10 years.

(2) A leasehold interest in real property together with an option to purchase the leased property or some part thereof.

(3) A lease for the purpose of production of minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances, or geothermal energy.

10204. Property of the estate that consists of a partnership interest or an interest belonging to an estate by virtue of a partnership formerly existing may be sold in the same manner as other personal property.

10205. A chose in action belonging to the estate may be sold in the same manner as other personal property.

10206. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if the decedent at the time of death was possessed of a contract for the purchase of real property and the decedent's interest in the property and under the contract is to be sold, the sale shall be made as in the case of the sale of real property of the estate.

(b) If the decedent's interest in the property and under the contract is sold, the sale shall be made subject to all payments which are due at the time of sale or which may thereafter become due on the contract. Except as provided in subdivision (d), if there are any payments due or to become due, the court shall not confirm the sale until the purchaser executes a bond to the personal representative that satisfies the requirements of subdivision (c).

(c) The bond shall be for the benefit and indemnity of the personal representative and the persons entitled to the interest of the decedent in the real property contracted for. The amount of the bond shall be equal to the amount of payments then due and thereafter to become due on the contract, with such sureties as the court or judge may approve. The bond shall be conditioned that the purchaser will (1) make all payments for the property which are then due or which become due after the date of the sale and (2) fully indemnify the personal representative and the person entitled to the interest of the decedent against all demands, costs, charges, and expenses, by reason of any covenant or agreement contained in the contract.

(d) The bond need not be given in either of the following cases:

(1) When no claim has been made against the estate on the contract and the time for filing claims has expired.

(2) When the person entitled to payment under the contract waives all recourse to the assets of the estate for payment and releases the estate and the personal representative from liability for payment.

10207. (a) Real property suitable for a shift-in-land-use loan to develop grazing or pasture facilities may be sold under this section by the personal representative to a grazing or pasture association in conformity with the federal Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, 7 U.S.C. Sec. 1921, et seq., after authorization by order of the court.

(b) The personal representative or any interested person may file a petition for an order under this section. Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(c) An order for sale of property under this section may be made only if the court determines both of the following:

(1) Either the sale is made pursuant to the will of the decedent or all of the following have consented to the sale:

(A) Each known heir whose interest in the estate would be affected by the sale.

(B) Each known devisee who has an interest in the property under the decedent's will.

(2) The sale will not jeopardize the rights of creditors of the estate.

(d) If the court makes an order authorizing sale of the property, the personal representative may make the sale in accord with the terms and conditions set out in the order, subject to the following requirements:

(1) Except as provided in Sections 10002, 10301, 10303, and 10503, notice of the time and place of the sale shall be published pursuant to Section 10300.

(2) The price of the sale made shall be not less than the value of the property as established by an independent and competent appraiser mutually acceptable to the federal government, the grazing or pasture association, and the personal representative.

(3) Except as provided in Sections 10002 and 10503, the sale shall be reported to and confirmed by the court as provided in Article 6 (commencing with Section 10300) before title to the property passes, but the sale may be made irrespective of whether a higher bid is made to the court at the hearing on the petition to confirm the sale.

Article 5. Sale of Personal Property

10250. Subject to Sections 10251 and 10252 and except as otherwise provided by statute, personal property of the estate may be sold only after notice of sale is given by one or both of the following methods, as the personal representative may determine:

(a) Posting at the county courthouse of the county in which the proceedings are pending at least 15 days before:

(1) In the case of a private sale, the day specified in the notice of sale as the day on or after which the sale is to be made.

(2) In the case of a public auction sale, the day of the auction.

(b) Publication pursuant to Section 6063a of the Government Code in a newspaper in the county in which the proceedings are pending, such publication to be completed before:

(1) In the case of a private sale, the day specified in the notice of sale as the day on or after which the sale is to be made.

(2) In the case of a public auction sale, the day of the auction.

10251. (a) If it is shown that it will be to the advantage of the estate, the court or judge may by order shorten the time of notice of sale to not less than five days.

(b) If the court or judge makes an order under subdivision (a), notice of sale shall be given by one or both of the following methods, as the personal representative may determine:

(1) By posting as provided in Section 10250 except that the posting shall be for at least five days instead of 15 days as required by Section 10250.

(2) By publication as provided in Section 10250 except that the publication shall be pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code.

10252. Personal property may be sold with or without notice, as the personal representative may determine, in any of the following cases:

(a) Where the property is directed by the will to be sold.

(b) Where authority is given in the will to sell the property.

(c) Where the property is perishable, will depreciate in value if not disposed of promptly, or will incur loss or expense by being kept.

(d) Where sale of the property is necessary to provide for the payment of a family allowance pending receipt of other sufficient funds.

10253. (a) The notice of sale given pursuant to Section 10250 shall state all of the following:

(1) Whether the sale is to be a private sale or a public auction sale.

(2) In the case of a private sale, the place at which bids or offers will be received and a day on or after which the sale will be made or, in the case of a public auction sale, the time and place of sale.

(3) A brief description of the personal property to be sold.

(b) The notice of sale may state other matters in addition to those required by subdivision (a), including terms and conditions of sale.

10254. (a) Unless the court orders otherwise pursuant to subdivision (b):

(1) A sale of personal property at a public auction sale shall be made within this state at the courthouse door, at the auction house, at some other public place, or at the residence of the decedent.

(2) No public auction sale shall be made of any tangible personal property that is not present at the time of sale.

(b) Upon petition of the personal representative or any interested person, the court may order either or both of the following:

(1) That a sale of personal property at public auction be made at any place within or without the United States.

(2) That tangible personal property need not be present at the time of sale.

(c) The personal representative may postpone a public auction sale of personal property from time to time if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The personal representative believes that the postponement will serve the interests of all persons concerned.

(2) Notice of the postponement is given by public declaration at the time and place appointed for the sale.

(3) The postponement, together with previous postponements of sale of the property, does not exceed three months.

10255. (a) A private sale of personal property may not be made before the day stated in the notice of sale as the day on or after which the sale will be made, nor later than one year after that day.

(b) In the case of a private sale of personal property, the bids or offers shall be in writing and shall be left at the place designated in the notice of sale, or be delivered to the personal representative personally or to the person specified in the notice of sale, at any time after the first publication or posting of notice of sale and before the making of the sale.

10256. Whether a sale of personal property is private or at public auction, bids shall substantially comply with any terms specified in the notice of sale.

10257. (a) Personal property may be sold for cash or on credit.

(b) Except as may otherwise be ordered by the court pursuant to Section 10258, if a sale is made on credit, not less than 25 percent of the purchase price shall be paid in cash at the time of sale, and the personal representative shall do one of the following:

(1) Take the note of the purchaser for the balance of the purchase money, with a security interest in the personal propery sold, to secure the payment of the balance.

(2) Enter into a conditional sale contract under which title is retained until the balance is paid.

(c) The terms of the note and security interest or conditional sale contract shall be approved by the court at the time of confirmation of sale.

(d) Where property sold by the personal representative for part cash and part deferred payments consists of an undivided interest in personal property or any other interest therein less than the entire ownership and the owner or owners of the remaining interests therein join in the sale, the note and security interest may be made to the personal representative and such others having an interest in the property. The interest of the personal representative in the note and security interest shall be in the same interest and in the same proportions as the estate's interest in the property prior to the sale.

10258. (a) On petition of the personal representative, the court may by order authorize a sale of personal property on credit on terms providing for less than 25 percent of the purchase price to be paid in cash at the time of sale, or may waive or modify the requirement that a security interest or other lien shall be retained or taken to secure payment of the balance of the purchase price, where it is shown that the terms are to the advantage of the estate and the property to be sold is of such a nature that it is impracticable to sell the property for a larger cash payment at the time of sale or to retain a security interest or other lien in the property. The order of the court shall fix the terms and conditions of the sale.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220 and posted as provided in Section 1230.

(c) In addition to the notice required by subdivision (b), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(1) Each known heir whose interest in the estate would be affected by the sale.

(2) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate would be affected by the sale.

10259. (a) Title to the following personal property passes upon sale without the need for court confirmation or approval:

(1) Personal property which is perishable, which will depreciate in value if not disposed of promptly, or which will incur loss or expense by being kept.

(2) Personal property the sale of which is necessary to provide for the payment of a family allowance pending receipt of other sufficient funds.

(b) Title to personal property sold at public auction passes without the need for court confirmation or approval upon receipt of the purchase price and:

(1) In the case of tangible personal property, the delivery of the property to the purchaser.

(2) In the case of intangible personal property, the delivery to the purchaser of the instrument that transfers the title to the property to the purchaser.

(c) The personal representative is responsible for the actual value of the property described in subdivision (a) or (b) unless the sale is reported to and approved by the court.

10260. (a) Except as provided in Sections 10200, 10201, 10202, 10259, and 10503, all sales of personal property shall be reported to and be confirmed by the court before title to the property passes to the purchaser, notwithstanding that the property is directed by the will to be sold or authority is given in the will to sell the property.

(b) If the personal representative fails to file the report and a petition for confirmation of the sale within 30 days after the sale, the purchaser at the sale may file the report and petition for confirmation of the sale.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition for confirmation filed under subdivision (a) or (b) shall be given as provided in Section 1220, and posted as provided in Section 1230.

10261. (a) Except as provided in this subdivision, at the hearing on the petition for confirmation of the sale, the court shall examine into the necessity for the sale or the advantage to the estate and the benefit to the interested persons in making the sale. If the decedent's will authorizes or directs the property to be sold, there need be no showing of the necessity of the sale or the advantage to the estate and the benefit to the interested persons in making the sale.

(b) Any interested person may file written objections to the confirmation of the sale at or before the hearing and may testify and produce witnesses in support of the objections.

(c) Before confirming the sale of a partnership interest, whether made to the surviving partner or to any other person, the court shall do both of the following:

(1) Inquire into the condition of the partnership affairs.

(2) Examine any surviving partner if that surviving partner is a resident within the state at the time of the hearing and able to be present in court. The court may issue a citation to compel the surviving partner to attend the hearing.

(d) Upon its own motion or upon the request of the personal representative, the agent or broker, or any other interested person, made at the time of the confirmation hearing or at another time, the court shall fix the compensation of the agent or broker as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 10160).

10262. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if a written offer to purchase the property is made to the court at the hearing on the petition for confirmation of the sale and the new bid is at least 10 percent more than the amount stated in the report made to the court, the court in its discretion may accept the new bid and confirm the sale to the offeror, or may order a new sale, if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The original bid as stated in the report to the court is more than one hundred dollars ($100) or, if the original bid is less than one hundred dollars ($100), the new bid is at least one hundred dollars ($100) more than the original bid.

(2) The new bid is made by a responsible person.

(3) The new bid complies with all provisions of law.

(b) If there is more than one offer that satisfies the requirements of subdivision (a), the court shall do one of the following:

(1) Accept the highest such offer and confirm the sale to the offeror.

(2) Order a new sale.

(c) This section does not apply to a sale of property described in Section 10259.

10263. If notice of the sale was required, before an order is made confirming the sale, it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court that notice of the sale was given as required by this article, and the order of confirmation shall show that such proof was made.

10264. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this article shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the sale pursuant to an order made under this article.

Article 6. Sale of Real Property

10300. (a) Except as provided in Sections 10301 to 10303, inclusive, and in Section 10503, real property of the estate may be sold only after notice of sale has been published pursuant to Section 6063a of the Government Code (1) in a newspaper published in the county in which the real property or some portion thereof lies or (2) if there is no such newspaper, in such newspaper as the court or judge may direct.

(b) The publication of notice of sale shall be completed before:

(1) In the case of a private sale, the day specified in the notice as the day on or after which the sale is to be made.

(2) In the case of a public auction sale, the day of the auction.

10301. (a) If it appears from the inventory and appraisement that the value of the real property to be sold does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), the personal representative may in his or her discretion dispense with publication of notice of sale and, in lieu of publication, post the notice of sale at the courthouse of the county in which the real property or some portion thereof lies.

(b) Except as provided in Section 10302, posting pursuant to this section shall be for at least 15 days before:

(1) In the case of a private sale, the day specified in the notice of sale as the day on or after which the sale is to be made.

(2) In the case of a public auction sale, the day of the auction.

10302. (a) If it is shown that it will be to the advantage of the estate, the court or judge may by order shorten the time of notice of sale to not less than five days.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if the court or judge makes an order under subdivision (a), notice of sale shall be published as provided in Section 10300 except that the publication shall be pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code.

(c) In a case described in Section 10301, if the court makes an order under subdivision (a), notice of sale shall be posted as provided in Section 10301 except that the notice of sale shall be posted at least five days before the sale instead of 15 days as required by Section 10301.

10303. Real property may be sold with or without notice, as the personal representative may determine, in either of the following cases:

(a) Where the property is directed by the will to be sold.

(b) Where authority is given in the will to sell the property.

10304. (a) The notice of sale given pursuant to this article shall state all of the following:

(1) Whether the sale is to be a private sale or a public auction sale.

(2) In the case of a private sale, the place at which bids or offers will be received and a day on or after which the sale will be made or, in the case of a public auction sale, the time and place of sale.

(3) The street address or other common designation or, if none, a legal description of the real property to be sold.

(b) The notice of sale may state other matters in addition to those required by subdivision (a), including terms and conditions of sale.

10305. (a) A sale of real property at public auction shall be made in the county in which the property is located. If the property is located in two or more counties, it may be sold in any one of them.

(b) A sale of real property at public auction shall be made between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., and the sale shall be made on the day specified in the notice of sale unless the sale is postponed.

(c) The personal representative may postpone a public auction sale of real property from time to time if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The personal representative believes that the postponement will serve the interests of all persons concerned.

(2) Notice of the postponement is given by public declaration at the time and place appointed for the sale.

(3) The postponement, together with previous postponements of sale of the property, does not exceed three months in all.

10306. (a) A private sale of real property may not be made before the day stated in the notice of sale as the day on or after which the sale will be made, nor later than one year after that day.

(b) In the case of a private sale of real property, the bids or offers shall be in writing and shall be left at the place designated in the notice of sale, or be delivered to the personal representative personally or to the person specified in the notice of sale, at any time after the first publication or posting of notice of sale and before the making of the sale.

10307. Whether a sale of real property is private or at public auction, bids shall substantially comply with any terms specified in the notice of sale.

10308. (a) Except as provided in Section 10503, all sales of real property shall be reported to and be confirmed by the court before title to the property passes to the purchaser, whether the sale is a private sale or a public auction sale and notwithstanding that the property is directed by the will to be sold or authority is given in the will to sell the property.

(b) If the personal representative fails to file the report and a petition for confirmation of the sale within 30 days after the sale, the purchaser at the sale may file the report and petition for confirmation of the sale.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition for confirmation filed under subdivision (a) or (b) shall be given as provided in Section 1220 and posted as provided in Section 1230.

10309. (a) Except as provided in Section 10207, no sale of real property at private sale shall be confirmed by the court unless all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The real property has been appraised within one year prior to the date of the confirmation hearing.

(2) The valuation date used in the appraisal described in paragraph (1) is within one year prior to the date of the confirmation hearing.

(3) The sum offered for the property is at least 90 percent of the appraised value of the property as determined by the appraisal described in paragraph (1).

(b) An appraisal of the property may be had at any time before the sale or the confirmation of sale in any of the following cases:

(1) Where the property has not been previously appraised.

(2) Where the property has not been appraised within one year before the date of the confirmation hearing.

(3) Where the valuation date used in the latest appraisal is more than one year before the date of the confirmation hearing.

(4) Where the court is satisfied that the latest appraisal is too high or too low.

(c) A new appraisal made pursuant to subdivision (b) need not be made by a probate referee if the original appraisal of the property was made by a person other than a probate referee. If the original appraisal of the property was made by a probate referee, the new appraisal may be made by the probate referee who made the original appraisal without further order of the court or further request for the appointment of a new probate referee. If appraisal by a probate referee is required, a new probate referee shall be appointed, using the same procedure as for the appointment of an original referee, to make the new appraisal if the original probate referee is dead, has been removed, or is otherwise unable to act, or if there is other reason to appoint another probate referee.

10310. (a) Except as provided in this subdivision, at the hearing on the petition for confirmation of the sale of the real property, the court shall examine into the necessity for the sale or the advantage to the estate and the benefit to the interested persons in making the sale. If the decedent's will authorizes or directs the property to be sold, there need be no showing of the necessity of the sale or the advantage to the estate and benefit to the interested persons in making the sale.

(b) The court shall examine into the efforts of the personal representative to obtain the highest and best price for the property reasonably attainable.

(c) Any interested person may file written objections to the confirmation of the sale at or before the hearing and may testify and produce witnesses in support of the objections.

10311. (a) Subject to subdivisions (b), (c), (d), and (e), and except as provided in Section 10207, if a written offer to purchase the real property is made to the court at the hearing on the petition for confirmation of the sale, the court shall accept the offer and confirm the sale to the offeror if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The offer is for an amount at least 10 percent more on the first ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of the original bid and 5 percent more on the amount of the original bid in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(2) The offer is made by a responsible person.

(3) The offer complies with all provisions of law.

(b) Subject to subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), if there is more than one offer that satisfies the requirements of subdivision (a), the court shall accept the highest such offer and confirm the sale to the person making that offer.

(c) The court may, in its discretion, decline to accept the offer that satisfies the requirements of subdivisions (a) and (b); and, in such case, the court shall order a new sale.

(d) If the sale returned for confirmation is on credit and the higher offer is for cash or on credit, whether on the same or different credit terms, or the sale returned for confirmation is for cash and the higher offer is on credit, the court may not consider the higher offer unless the personal representative informs the court in person or by counsel prior to confirmation of sale that the higher offer is acceptable.

(e) For the purpose of this section, the amount of the original bid and any higher offer shall be determined by the court without regard to any of the following:

(1) Any commission on the amount of the bid to which an agent or broker may be entitled under a contract with the personal representative.

(2) Any condition of the bid that a certain amount of the bid be paid to an agent or broker by the personal representative.

10312. If notice of the sale was required, before an order is made confirming the sale it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court that notice of the sale was given as required by this article, and the order of confirmation shall show that the proof was made.

10313. (a) The court shall make an order confirming the sale to the person making the highest offer that satisfies the requirements of this article, and directing conveyances or assignments or both to be executed, if it appears to the court that all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) Either the sale was authorized or directed to be made by the decedent's will or good reason existed for the sale.

(2) If notice of the sale was required, the proof required by Section 10312 has been made.

(3) The sale was legally made and fairly conducted.

(4) The amount for which the sale is to be confirmed is not disproportionate to the value of the property.

(5) In the case of a private sale, the sale complied with the requirements of Section 10309.

(6) If the sale is confirmed to the original bidder, it does not appear that a sum exceeding the original bid by at least 10 percent more on the first ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of the original bid and 5 percent more on the amount of the original bid in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), exclusive of the expenses of a new sale, may be obtained.

(b) Upon its own motion or upon the request of the personal representative, the agent or broker, or any other interested person, made at the time of the confirmation hearing or at another time, the court shall fix the compensation of the agent or broker as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 10160).

(c) If it appears to the court that the requirements of subdivision (a) are not satisfied, the court shall vacate the sale and order a new sale.

(d) If the court orders a new sale under subdivision (c) of this section or under subdivision (c) of Section 10311, notice of the new sale shall be given and the new sale shall in all respects be conducted as if no previous sale had taken place.

10314. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), upon confirmation of the sale, the personal representative shall execute a conveyance to the purchaser which shall refer to the order confirming the sale and directing the conveyance to be executed. A certified copy of the order shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the real property or any portion thereof lies.

(b) Upon confirmation of a sale of the decedent's interest under a contract for the purchase of real property by the decedent and after the purchaser has furnished a bond if one is required under Section 10206, the personal representative shall execute an assignment of the contract to the purchaser.

(c) A conveyance made in compliance with the court order confirming the sale and directing the conveyance to be executed vests in the purchaser both of the following:

(1) All the right, title, and interest which the decedent had in the property at the time of the decedent's death.

(2) Any other or additional right, title, or interest in the property acquired by the estate of the decedent, by operation of law or otherwise, prior to the sale.

(d) An assignment made in compliance with the court order confirming the sale of the decedent's interest under a contract for the purchase of real property by the decedent vests in the purchaser all the right, title, and interest of the estate, or of the persons entitled to the interest of the decedent, at the time of sale in the property assigned. The purchaser of the decedent's interest under the contract for the purchase of the real property by the decedent has the same rights and remedies against the vendor of the property as the decedent would have had if living.

10315. (a) If a sale is made on credit, the personal representative shall take the note of the purchaser for the unpaid portion of the purchase money, with a mortgage or deed of trust on the property to secure payment of the note. The mortgage or deed of trust shall be subject only to encumbrances existing at the date of sale and such other encumbrances as the court may approve.

(b) Where property sold by the personal representative for part cash and part deferred payments consists of an undivided interest in real property or any other interest therein less than the entire ownership and the owner or owners of the remaining interests therein join in the sale, the note and deed of trust or mortgage may be made to the personal representative and such others having an interest in the property. The interest of the personal representative in the note and deed of trust or mortgage shall be in the same interest and in the same proportions as the estate's interest in the property prior to the sale.

10316. No omission, error, or irregularity in the proceedings under this article shall impair or invalidate the proceedings or the sale pursuant to an order made under this article.

Article 7. Vacating Sale for Purchaser's Default; Liability of Defaulting Purchaser for Damages

10350. (a) If after court confirmation of sale of real or personal property the purchaser fails to comply with the terms of sale, the court may, on petition of the personal representative, vacate the order of confirmation and order a resale of the property.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given to the defaulting purchaser as directed by the court, except that notice need not be given to a defaulting purchaser whose written consent to the vacation of the order confirming sale is filed with the court before the hearing.

(c) Notice of the resale of the property shall be given as provided in this chapter for a sale of the property in the first instance.

(d) Proceedings after notice of the resale shall be as provided in this chapter for a sale of the property in the first instance.

(e) If the property is resold, the defaulting purchaser is liable to the estate for damages equal to the sum of the following:

(1) The difference between the contract price of the first sale and the amount paid by the purchaser at the resale.

(2) Expenses made necessary by the purchaser's breach.

(3) Other consequential damages.

10351. (a) The court may vacate the order of confirmation of a sale of real or personal property and make an order confirming the sale to the new high bidder if both of the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) A petition is filed within 60 days after confirmation of the sale showing that (A) the purchaser at the sale has failed to complete the purchase and (B) a bid has been made for the property in the same or a higher amount, on the same or better terms, and in the manner prescribed in the original notice of sale.

(2) The sale has not been vacated pursuant to Section 10350.

(b) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given to the defaulting purchaser as directed by the court, except that notice need not be given to a defaulting purchaser whose written consent to the vacation of the order confirming the sale is filed with the court prior to the hearing.

(c) If the report and petition for confirmation of the second sale are not filed within 60 days of the confirmation of the first sale, the property may be resold only in the manner provided in Section 10350.

Article 8. Application of Sale Proceeds of Encumbered Property; Sale to Lienholder

10360. As used in this article:

(a) "Amount secured by the lien" includes interest and any costs and charges secured by the lien.

(b) "Encumbered property" means real or personal property that is subject to a lien for a secured debt which is a valid claim against the estate and which has been allowed or approved.

(c) "Lien" means a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien.

10361. (a) If encumbered property is sold, the purchase money shall be applied in the following order:

(1) The payment and satisfaction of the amount secured by the lien on the property sold if payment and satisfaction of the lien is required under the terms of the sale.

(2) The payment of the expenses of the sale.

(3) Application in the due course of administration.

(b) The application of the purchase money to the payment and satisfaction of the amount secured by the lien on the property sold shall be made without delay; and, subject to Section 10362, the property sold remains subject to the lien until the purchase money has been actually so applied.

10362. (a) If encumbered property is sold, the purchase money, or so much of the purchase money as is sufficient to pay the amount secured by the lien on the property sold and the expenses of the sale, may be paid to the clerk of the court. Upon the payment being so made, the lien on the property sold ceases.

(b) The clerk of court without delay shall use the money paid to the clerk under this section to pay the expenses of the sale and to pay and satisfy the amount secured by the lien on the property sold. The clerk shall at once return the surplus, if any, to the personal representative unless the court, for good cause shown and after notice to the personal representative, otherwise orders.

10363. (a) At a sale of real or personal property subject to a lien, the lienholder may become the purchaser of the property, even though no claim for the amount secured by the lien on the property sold has been, or could have been, filed, allowed, or approved.

(b) Unless the property is sold subject to the lien:

(1) If the lienholder becomes the purchaser of the property and the amount secured by the lien on the property is a valid claim against the estate and has been allowed or approved, the receipt of the lienholder for the amount due the lienholder from the proceeds of the sale is a payment pro tanto.

(2) If the lienholder becomes the purchaser of the property and no claim for the amount secured by the lien on the property has been filed, allowed, or approved, the court may at the hearing on the petition for confirmation of the sale examine into the validity and enforceability of the lien and the amount secured by the lien, and the court may authorize the personal representative to accept the receipt of the lienholder for the amount secured by the lien as payment pro tanto.

(3) If the lienholder becomes the purchaser of the property and the amount for which the property is purchased is insufficient to pay the expenses of the sale and to discharge the lienholder's lien, whether or not a claim has been filed, allowed, or approved, the lienholder shall pay to the clerk of the court an amount sufficient to cover the expenses of the sale.

(c) Nothing permitted under this section shall be deemed to be an allowance or approval of a claim based upon the lien or the amount secured by the lien.

Article 9. Damages and Recovery of Property

10380. The personal representative is liable to an interested person for damages suffered by the interested person by reason of the neglect or misconduct of the personal representative in the proceedings in relation to a sale.

10381. In addition to any other damages for which the personal representative is liable, if the personal representative fraudulently sells real property of the estate contrary to or otherwise than under the provisions of this chapter, the person having an estate of inheritance in the real property may recover from the personal representative, as liquidated damages, an amount equal to double the fair market value of the real property sold on the date of sale.

10382. (a) No action for the recovery of property sold by a personal representative on the claim that the sale is void may be maintained by an heir or other person claiming under the decedent unless the action is commenced within whichever of the following is the later time:

(1) Three years after the settlement of the final account of the personal representative.

(2) Three years after the discovery of any fraud upon which the action is based.

(b) The limitation established by subdivision (a) is not tolled for any reason.

PART 6. INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

10400. This part shall be known and may be cited as the Independent Administration of Estates Act.

10401. As used in this part, "court supervision" means the judicial order, authorization, approval, confirmation, or instructions that would be required if authority to administer the estate had not been granted under this part.

10402. As used in this part, "full authority" means authority to administer the estate under this part that includes all the powers granted under this part.

10403. As used in this part, "limited authority" means authority to administer the estate under this part that includes all the powers granted under this part except the power to do any of the following:

(a) Sell real property.

(b) Exchange real property.

(c) Grant an option to purchase real property.

(d) Borrow money with the loan secured by an encumbrance upon real property.

10404. The personal representative may not be granted authority to administer the estate under this part if the decedent's will provides that the estate shall not be administered under this part.

10405. A special administrator may be granted authority to administer the estate under this part if the special administrator is appointed with, or has been granted, the powers of a general administrator.

10406. (a) Subject to subdivision (c), this part applies in all of the following cases:

(1) Where authority to administer the estate is granted under this part.

(2) Where authority to administer the estate was granted under former Sections 591.1 to 591.9, inclusive, of the Probate Code on a petition filed after January 1, 1985.

(3) Where authority was granted prior to January 1, 1985, to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act and one of the following requirements is satisfied:

(A) A petition was filed under former Section 591.1 of the Probate Code after January 1, 1985, requesting that the personal representative be authorized to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act in effect at the time the petition was filed, and the petition was granted.

(B) A petition is filed under this part requesting that the personal representative be authorized to administer the estate under this part, and the petition is granted.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), a personal representative who was granted authority prior to January 1, 1985, to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act shall continue to administer the estate under the provisions of the Independent Administration of Estates Act that were applicable at the time the petition was granted.

(c) If the personal representative was granted independent administration authority prior to July 1, 1988, the personal representative may use that existing authority on and after July 1, 1988, to borrow money on a loan secured by an encumbrance upon real property, whether or not that existing authority includes the authority to sell real property.

CHAPTER 2. GRANTING OR REVOKING INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION AUTHORITY

10450. (a) To obtain authority to administer the estate under this part, the personal representative shall petition the court for that authority either in the petition for appointment of the personal representative or in a separate petition filed in the estate proceedings.

(b) The petition may request either of the following:

(1) Full authority to administer the estate under this part.

(2) Limited authority to administer the estate under this part.

10451. (a) If the authority to administer the estate under this part is requested in the petition for appointment of the personal representative, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given for the period and in the manner applicable to the petition for appointment.

(b) Where proceedings for the administration of the estate are pending at the time a petition is filed under Section 10450:

(1) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220.

(2) In addition to the notice required by paragraph (1), notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to all of the following persons:

(A) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(B) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the petition.

(C) Each person named as personal representative in the will of the decedent.

(c) The notice of hearing of the petition for authority to administer the estate under this part, whether included in the petition for appointment or in a separate petition, shall include the substance of the following statement: "The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. This will avoid the need to obtain court approval for many actions taken in connection with the estate. However, before taking certain actions, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action. The petition will be granted unless good cause is shown why it should not be."

10452. (a) Any interested person may object to the granting of authority to administer the estate under this part by filing at or before the hearing a written statement setting forth the objection or by appearing at the hearing and making the objection.

(b) Unless the court determines that the objecting party has shown good cause why the authority requested in the petition should not be granted, the court shall grant the requested authority. If the objecting party has shown good cause why only limited authority should be granted, the court shall grant only limited authority.

(c) The letters shall be endorsed to the effect that the letters are issued under this part and, if the authority granted is limited authority, the endorsement shall include a statement that the personal representative has all of the powers granted by this part except the power to do any of the following:

(1) Sell real property.

(2) Exchange real property.

(3) Grant an option to purchase real property.

(4) Borrow money with the loan secured by an encumbrance upon real property.

10453. (a) If the personal representative is otherwise required to file a bond and has full authority, the court, in its discretion, shall fix the amount of the bond at not more than the estimated value of the personal property, the estimated net proceeds of the real property authorized to be sold under this part, and the estimated value of the probable annual gross income of all of the property belonging to the estate, or, if the bond is to be given by personal sureties, at not less than twice that amount.

(b) If the personal representative is otherwise required to file a bond and has limited authority, the court, in its discretion, shall fix the amount of the bond at not more than the estimated value of the personal property and the estimated value of the probable annual gross income of all of the property belonging to the estate, or, if the bond is to be given by personal sureties, at not less than twice that amount.

10454. (a) Any interested person may file a petition requesting that the court make either of the following orders:

(1) An order revoking the authority of the personal representative to continue administration of the estate under this part.

(2) An order revoking the full authority of the personal representative to administer the estate under this part and granting the personal representative limited authority to administer the estate under this part.

(b) The petition shall set forth the basis for the requested order.

(c) Notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 1220. In addition, the personal representative shall be served with a copy of the petition and a notice of the time and place of the hearing at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Service on the personal representative shall be made in the manner provided in Section 415.10 or 415.30 of the Code of Civil Procedure or in such manner as may be authorized by the court.

(d) If the court determines that good cause has been shown, the court shall make an order revoking the authority of the personal representative to continue administration of the estate under this part. Upon the making of the order, new letters shall be issued without the endorsement described in subdivision (c) of Section 10452.

(e) If the personal representative was granted full authority and the court determines that good cause has been shown, the court shall make an order revoking the full authority and granting the personal representative limited authority. Upon the making of the order, new letters shall be issued with the endorsement described in subdivision (c) of Section 10452 that is required where the authority granted is limited authority.

CHAPTER 3. ADMINISTRATION UNDER INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION AUTHORITY

Article 1. General Provisions

10500. (a) Subject to the limitations and conditions of this part, a personal representative who has been granted authority to administer the estate under this part may administer the estate as provided in this part without court supervision, but in all other respects the personal representative shall administer the estate in the same manner as a personal representative who has not been granted authority to administer the estate under this part.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the personal representative may obtain court supervision as provided in this code of any action to be taken by the personal representative during administration of the estate.

10501. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, whether the personal representative has been granted full authority or limited authority, a personal representative who has obtained authority to administer the estate under this part is required to obtain court supervision, in the manner provided in this code, for any of the following actions:

(1) Allowance of the personal representative's commissions.

(2) Allowance of attorney's fees.

(3) Settlement of accountings.

(4) Preliminary and final distributions and discharge.

(5) Sale of property of the estate to the personal representative or to the attorney for the personal representative.

(6) Exchange of property of the estate for property of the personal representative or for property of the attorney for the personal representative.

(7) Grant of an option to purchase property of the estate to the personal representative or to the attorney for the personal representative.

(8) Allow, pay, or compromise a claim of the personal representative, or the attorney for the personal representative, against the estate.

(9) Compromise or settle a claim, action, or proceeding by the estate against the personal representative or against the attorney for the personal representative.

(10) Extend, renew, or modify the terms of a debt or other obligation of the personal representative, or the attorney for the personal representative, owing to or in favor of the decedent or the estate.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, a personal representative who has obtained only limited authority to administer the estate under this part is required to obtain court supervision, in the manner provided in this code, for any of the following actions:

(1) Sale of real property.

(2) Exchange of real property.

(3) Grant of an option to purchase real property.

(4) Borrow money with the loan secured by an encumbrance upon real property.

(c) Paragraphs (5) to (10), inclusive, of subdivision (a) do not apply to a transaction between the personal representative as such and the personal representative as an individual where all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) Either (A) the personal representative is the sole beneficiary of the estate or (B) all the known heirs or devisees have consented to the transaction.

(2) The period for filing creditor's claims has expired.

(3) No request for special notice is on file or all persons who filed a request for special notice have consented to the transaction.

(4) The claim of each creditor who filed a claim has been paid, settled, or withdrawn, or the creditor has consented to the transaction.

10502. (a) Subject to the conditions and limitations of this part and to Section 9600, a personal representative who has been granted authority to administer the estate under this part has the powers described in Article 2 (commencing with Section 10510), Article 3 (commencing with Section 10530), and Article 4 (commencing with Section 10550).

(b) The will may restrict the powers that the personal representative may exercise under this part.

10503. Subject to the limitations and requirements of this part, when the personal representative exercises the authority to sell property of the estate under this part, the personal representative may sell the property either at public auction or private sale, and with or without notice, for such price, for cash or on credit, and upon such terms and conditions as the personal representative may determine, and the requirements applicable to court confirmation of sales of real property (including, but not limited to, publication of notice of sale, court approval of agents' and brokers' commissions, sale at not less than 90 percent of appraised value, and court examination into the necessity for the sale, advantage to the estate and benefit to interested persons, and efforts of the personal representative to obtain the highest and best price for the property reasonably attainable), and the requirements applicable to court confirmation of sales of personal property, do not apply to the sale.

Article 2. Powers Exercisable Only After Giving Notice of Proposed Action

10510. The personal representative may exercise the powers described in this article only if the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) (notice of proposed action procedure) are satisfied.

10511. The personal representative who has full authority has the power to sell or exchange real property of the estate.

10512. The personal representative has the power to sell or incorporate any of the following:

(a) An unincorporated business or venture in which the decedent was engaged at the time of the decedent's death.

(b) An unincorporated business or venture which was wholly or partly owned by the decedent at the time of the decedent's death.

10513. The personal representative has the power to abandon tangible personal property where the cost of collecting, maintaining, and safeguarding the property would exceed its fair market value.

10514. (a) Subject to subdivision (b), the personal representative has the following powers:

(1) The power to borrow.

(2) The power to place, replace, renew, or extend any encumbrance upon any property of the estate.

(b) Only a personal representative who has full authority has the power to borrow money with the loan secured by an encumbrance upon real property.

10515. The personal representative who has full authority has the power to grant an option to purchase real property of the estate for a period within or beyond the period of administration.

10516. If the will gives a person the option to purchase real or personal property and the person has complied with the terms and conditions stated in the will, the personal representative has the power to convey or transfer the property to the person.

10517. The personal representative has the power to convey or transfer real or personal property to complete a contract entered into by the decedent to convey or transfer the property.

10518. The personal representative has the power to determine any of the following:

(a) A third-party claim to real or personal property if the decedent died in possession of, or holding title to, the property.

(b) The decedent's claim to real or personal property title to or possession of which is held by another.

10519. The personal representative has the power to make a disclaimer.

Article 3. Powers the Exercise of Which Requires Giving of Notice of Proposed Action Under Some Circumstances

10530. Except to the extent that this article otherwise provides, the personal representative may exercise the powers described in this article without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

10531. (a) The personal representative has the power to manage and control property of the estate. Except as provided in subdivision (b), the personal representative may exercise this power without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(b) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) in any case where a provision of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 10500) governing the exercise of a specific power so requires.

10532. (a) The personal representative has the power to enter into a contract in order to carry out the exercise of a specific power granted by this part, including, but not limited to, the powers granted by Sections 10531 and 10551. Except as provided in subdivision (b), the personal representative may exercise this power without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(b) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) where the contract is one that by its provisions is not to be fully performed within two years, except that the personal representative is not required to comply with those requirements if the personal representative has the unrestricted right under the contract to terminate the contract within two years.

(c) Nothing in this section excuses compliance with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) when the contract is made to carry out the exercise of a specific power and the provision that grants that power requires compliance with Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) for the exercise of the power.

10533. (a) The personal representative has the power to do all of the following:

(1) Deposit money belonging to the estate in an insured account in a financial institution in this state.

(2) Invest money of the estate in any one or more of the following:

(A) Direct obligations of the United States, or of the State of California, maturing not later than one year from the date of making the investment.

(B) An interest in a money market mutual fund registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. Sec. 80a-1, et seq.) or an investment vehicle authorized for the collective investment of trust funds pursuant to Section 9.18 of Part 9 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations, the portfolios of which are limited to United States government obligations maturing not later than five years from the date of investment and to repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations.

(C) Units of a common trust fund described in Section 1564 of the Financial Code. The common trust fund shall have as its objective investment primarily in short term fixed income obligations and shall be permitted to value investments at cost pursuant to regulations of the appropriate regulatory authority.

(D) Eligible securities for the investment of surplus state moneys as provided for in Section 16430 of the Government Code.

(3) Invest money of the estate in any manner provided by the will.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), the personal representative may exercise the powers described in subdivision (a) without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(c) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) where the personal representative exercises the power to make any investment pursuant to the power granted by subparagraph (D) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) or paragraph (3) of subdivision (a), except that the personal representative may invest in direct obligations of the United States, or of the State of California, maturing not later than one year from the date of making the investment without complying with the requirements of Chapter 4

(commencing with Section 10580).

10534. (a) Subject to the partnership agreement and the provisions of the Uniform Partnership Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 15001) of Title 2 of the Corporations Code), the personal representative has the power to continue as a general partner in any partnership in which the decedent was a general partner at the time of death.

(b) The personal representative has the power to continue operation of any of the following:

(1) An unincorporated business or venture in which the decedent was engaged at the time of the decedent's death.

(2) An unincorporated business or venture which was wholly or partly owned by the decedent at the time of the decedent's death.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), the personal representative may exercise the powers described in subdivisions (a) and (b) without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(d) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) if the personal representative continues as a general partner under subdivision (a), or continues the operation of any unincorporated business or venture under subdivision (b), for a period of more than six months from the date letters are first issued to a personal representative.

10535. (a) The personal representative has the power to pay a reasonable family allowance. Except as provided in subdivision (b), the personal representative may exercise this power without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(b) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) for all of the following:

(1) Making the first payment of a family allowance.

(2) Making the first payment of a family allowance for a period commencing more than 12 months after the death of the decedent.

(3) Making any increase in the amount of the payment of a family allowance.

10536. (a) The personal representative has the power to enter as lessor into a lease of property of the estate for any purpose (including, but not limited to, exploration for and production or removal of minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances or geothermal energy, including a community oil lease or a pooling or unitization agreement) for such period, within or beyond the period of administration, and for such rental or royalty or both, and upon such other terms and conditions as the personal representative may determine. Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), the personal representative may exercise this power without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(b) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) where the personal representative enters into a lease of real property for a term in excess of one year. If the lease gives the lessee the right to extend the term of the lease, the lease shall be considered as if the right to extend has been exercised.

(c) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) where the personal representative enters into a lease of personal property and the lease is one described in subdivision (b) of Section 10532.

10537. (a) The personal representative has the power to sell personal property of the estate or to exchange personal property of the estate for other property upon such terms and conditions as the personal representative may determine. Except as provided in subdivision (b), the personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) in exercising this power.

(b) The personal representative may exercise the power granted by subdivision (a) without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) in case of the sale or exchange of any of the following:

(1) A security sold on an established stock or bond exchange.

(2) A security designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system, or subsystem thereof, by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., sold through a broker-dealer registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 during the regular course of business of the broker-dealer.

(3) Personal property referred to in Section 10202 or 10259 when sold for cash.

(4) A security described in Section 10200 surrendered for redemption or conversion.

10538. (a) The personal representative has the following powers:

(1) The power to grant an exclusive right to sell property for a period not to exceed 90 days.

(2) The power to grant to the same broker one or more extensions of an exclusive right to sell property, each extension being for a period not to exceed 90 days.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), the personal representative may exercise the powers described in subdivision (a) without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

(c) The personal representative shall comply with the requirements of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580) where the personal representative grants to the same broker an extension of an exclusive right to sell property and the period of the extension, together with the periods of the original exclusive right to sell the property and any previous extensions of that right, is more than 270 days.

Article 4. Powers Exercisable Without Giving Notice of Proposed Action

10550. The personal representative may exercise the powers described in this article without giving notice of proposed action under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10580).

10551. In addition to the powers granted to the personal representative by other sections of this chapter, the personal representative has all the powers that the personal representative could exercise without court supervision under this code if the personal representative had not been granted authority to administer the estate under this part.

10552. The personal representative has the power to do all of the following:

(a) Allow, pay, reject, or contest any claim by or against the estate.

(b) Compromise or settle a claim, action, or proceeding by or for the benefit of, or against, the decedent, the personal representative, or the estate.

(c) Release, in whole or in part, any claim belonging to the estate to the extent that the claim is uncollectible.

10553. The personal representative has the power to do all of the following:

(a) Commence and maintain actions and proceedings for the benefit of the estate.

(b) Defend actions and proceedings against the decedent, the personal representative, or the estate.

10554. The personal representative has the power to extend, renew, or in any manner modify the terms of an obligation owing to or in favor of the decedent or the estate.

10555. The personal representative has the power to convey or transfer property in order to carry out the exercise of a specific power granted by this part.

10556. The personal representative has the power to pay all of the following:

(a) Taxes and assessments.

(b) Expenses incurred in the collection, care, and administration of the estate.

10557. The personal representative has the power to purchase an annuity from an insurer admitted to do business in this state to satisfy a devise of an annuity or other direction in the will for periodic payments to a devisee.

10558. The personal representative has the power to exercise an option right that is an asset of the estate.

10559. The personal representative has the power to purchase securities or commodities required to perform an incomplete contract of sale where the decedent died having sold but not delivered securities or commodities not owned by the decedent.

10560. The personal representative has the power to hold a security in the name of a nominee or in any other form without disclosure of the estate, so that title to the security may pass by delivery.

10561. The personal representative has the power to exercise security subscription or conversion rights.

10562. The personal representative has the power to make repairs and improvements to real and personal property of the estate.

10563. The personal representative has the power to accept a deed to property which is subject to a mortgage or deed of trust in lieu of foreclosure of the mortgage or sale under the deed of trust.

10564. The personal representative has the power to give a partial satisfaction of a mortgage or to cause a partial reconveyance to be executed by a trustee under a deed of trust held by the estate.

CHAPTER 4. NOTICE OF PROPOSED ACTION PROCEDURE

Article 1. Notice of Proposed Action Procedure

10580. (a) A personal representative who has been granted authority to administer the estate under this part shall give notice of proposed action as provided in this article prior to the taking of the proposed action without court supervision if the provision of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 10500) giving the personal representative the power to take the action so requires. Nothing in this subdivision authorizes a personal representative to take an action under this part if the personal representative does not have the power to take the action under this part.

(b) A personal representative who has been granted authority to administer the estate under this part may give notice of proposed action as provided in this article even if the provision of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 10500) giving the personal representative the power to take the action permits the personal representative to take the action without giving notice of proposed action. Nothing in this subdivision requires the personal representative to give notice of proposed action where not required under subdivision (a) or authorizes a personal representative to take any action that the personal representative is not otherwise authorized to take.

10581. Except as provided in Sections 10582 and 10583, notice of proposed action shall be given to all of the following:

(a) Each known devisee whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

(b) Each known heir whose interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

(c) Each person who has filed a request for special notice pursuant to Section 1250.

(d) The State of California if any portion of the estate is to escheat to it and its interest in the estate is affected by the proposed action.

10582. Notice of proposed action need not be given to any person who consents in writing to the proposed action. The consent may be executed at any time before or after the proposed action is taken.

10583. (a) Notice of proposed action need not be given to any person who, in writing, waives the right to notice of proposed action with respect to the particular proposed action. The waiver may be executed at any time before or after the proposed action is taken. The waiver shall describe the particular proposed action and may waive particular aspects of the notice, such as the delivery, mailing, or time requirements of Section 10586, or the giving of the notice in its entirety for the particular proposed action.

(b) Notice of proposed action need not be given to any person who has executed a Statutory Waiver of Notice of Proposed Action Form that satisfies the requirements of Section 10600 and in that form has made either of the following:

(1) A general waiver of the right to notice of proposed action.

(2) A waiver of the right to notice of proposed action for all transactions of a type which includes the particular proposed action.

10584. (a) A waiver or consent may be revoked only in writing and is effective only when the writing is received by the personal representative.

(b) A copy of the revocation may be filed with the court, but the effectiveness of the revocation is not dependent upon a copy being filed with the court.

10585. (a) The notice of proposed action shall state all of the following:

(1) The name and mailing address of the personal representative.

(2) The person and telephone number to call to get additional information.

(3) The action proposed to be taken, with a reasonably specific description of the action. Where the proposed action involves the sale or exchange of real property, or the granting of an option to purchase real property, the notice of proposed action shall state the material terms of the transaction, including, if applicable, the sale price and the amount of, or method of calculating, any commission or compensation paid or to be paid to an agent or broker in connection with the transaction.

(4) The date on or after which the proposed action is to be taken.

(b) The notice of proposed action may be given using the most current Notice of Proposed Action form prescribed by the Judicial Council.

(c) If the most current form prescribed by the Judicial Council is not used to give notice of proposed action, the notice of proposed action shall satisfy all of the following requirements:

(1) The notice of proposed action shall be in substantially the same form as the form prescribed by the Judicial Council.

(2) The notice of proposed action shall contain the statements described in subdivision (a).

(3) The notice of proposed action shall contain a form for objecting to the proposed action in substantially the form set out in the Judicial Council form.

10586. The notice of proposed action shall be mailed or personally delivered to each person required to be given notice of proposed action not less than 15 days before the date specified in the notice of proposed action on or after which the proposed action is to be taken. If mailed, the notice of proposed action shall be addressed to the person at the person's last-known address. Sections 1215 and 1216 apply to the mailing or delivery of the notice of proposed action.

10587. (a) Any person entitled to notice of proposed action under Section 10581 may object to the proposed action as provided in this section.

(b) The objection to the proposed action is made by delivering or mailing a written objection to the proposed action to the personal representative at the address stated in the notice of proposed action. The person objecting to the proposed action either may use the Judicial Council form or may make the objection in any other writing that identifies the proposed action with reasonable certainty and indicates that the person objects to the taking of the proposed action.

(c) The personal representative is deemed to have notice of the objection to the proposed action if it is delivered or received at the address stated in the notice of proposed action before whichever of the following times is the later:

(1) The date specified in the notice of proposed action on or after which the proposed action is to be taken.

(2) The date the proposed action is actually taken.

10588. (a) Any person who is entitled to notice of proposed action for a proposed action described in subdivision (a) of Section 10580, or any person who is given notice of a proposed action described in subdivision (b) of Section 10580, may apply to the court having jurisdiction over the proceeding for an order restraining the personal representative from taking the proposed action without court supervision. The court shall grant the requested order without requiring notice to the personal representative and without cause being shown for the order.

(b) The personal representative is deemed to have notice of the restraining order if it is served upon the personal representative in the same manner as is provided for in Section 415.10 or 415.30 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or in the manner authorized by the court, before whichever of the following times is the later:

(1) The date specified in a notice of proposed action on or after which the proposed action is to be taken.

(2) The date the proposed action is actually taken.

10589. (a) If the proposed action is one that would require court supervision if the personal representative had not been granted authority to administer the estate under this part and the personal representative has notice of a written objection made under Section 10587 to the proposed action or a restraining order issued under Section 10588, the personal representative shall, if the personal representative desires to take the proposed action, take the proposed action under the provisions of this code dealing with court supervision of that kind of action.

(b) If the proposed action is one that would not require court supervision even if the personal representative had not been granted authority to administer the estate under this part but the personal representative has given notice of the proposed action and has notice of a written objection made under Section 10587 to the proposed action or a restraining order issued under Section 10588, the personal representative shall, if he or she desires to take the proposed action, request instructions from the court concerning the proposed action and may take the proposed action only under such order as may be entered by the court.

(c) A person who objects to a proposed action as provided in Section 10587 or serves a restraining order issued under Section 10588 in the manner provided in that section shall be given notice of any hearing on a petition for court authorization or confirmation of the proposed action.

10590. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c), only a person described in Section 10581 has a right to have the court review the proposed action after it has been taken or otherwise to object to the proposed action after it has been taken; and, except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), a person described in Section 10581 waives the right to have the court review the proposed action after it has been taken, or otherwise to object to the proposed action after it has been taken, if either of the following circumstances exists:

(1) The person has been given notice of a proposed action, as provided in Sections 10580 to 10586, inclusive, and fails to object as provided in subdivision (d).

(2) The person has waived notice of or consented to the proposed action as provided in Sections 10582 to 10584, inclusive.

(b) Unless the person has waived notice of or consented to the proposed action as provided in Sections 10582 to 10584, inclusive, the court may review the action taken upon motion of a person described in Section 10581 who establishes that he or she did not actually receive the notice of proposed action before the time to object under subdivision (d) expires.

(c) The court may review the action of the personal representative on its own motion where necessary to protect the interests of an heir or devisee who establishes all of the following:

(1) At the time the notice was given, the heir or devisee lacked capacity to object to the proposed action or was a minor.

(2) No notice of proposed action was actually received by the guardian, conservator, or other legal representative of the heir or devisee.

(3) The guardian, conservator, or other legal representative did not waive notice of proposed action.

(4) The guardian, conservator, or other legal representative did not consent to the proposed action.

(d) For the purposes of this section, an objection to a proposed action is made only by one or both of the following methods:

(1) Delivering or mailing a written objection as provided in Section 10587 within the time specified in subdivision (c) of that section.

(2) Serving a restraining order obtained under Section 10588 in the manner prescribed and within the time specified in subdivision (b) of that section.

10591. (a) The failure of the personal representative to comply with subdivision (a) of Section 10580 and with Sections 10581, 10585, 10586, and 10589, and the taking of the action by the personal representative without such compliance, does not affect the validity of the action so taken or the title to any property conveyed or transferred to bona fide purchasers or the rights of third persons who, dealing in good faith with the personal representative, changed their position in reliance upon the action, conveyance, or transfer without actual notice of the failure of the personal representative to comply with those provisions.

(b) No person dealing with the personal representative has any duty to inquire or investigate whether or not the personal representative has complied with the provisions listed in subdivision (a).

10592. (a) In a case where notice of proposed action is required by this chapter, the court in its discretion may remove the personal representative from office unless the personal representative does one of the following:

(1) Gives notice of proposed action as provided in this chapter.

(2) Obtains a waiver of notice of proposed action as provided in this chapter.

(3) Obtains a consent to the proposed action as provided in this chapter.

(b) The court in its discretion may remove the personal representative from office if the personal representative takes a proposed action in violation of the provisions of Section 10589.

Article 2. Statutory Form for Waiver of Notice of Proposed Action

10600. (a) The Judicial Council may prescribe a Statutory Waiver of Notice of Proposed Action Form. A form prescribed by the Judicial Council pursuant to this subdivision shall include the substance of the warning set out in subdivision (b). If the Judicial Council prescribes a form pursuant to this subdivision, that form shall be used instead of the form set out in subdivision (b).

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (a), a Statutory Waiver of Notice of Proposed Action Form shall be in substantially the form set out in this subdivision and shall include the warning set out in this subdivision, either printed in not less than 10-point boldface type or a reasonable equivalent thereof or typed in all capital letters:

STATUTORY WAIVER OF PROPOSED ACTION FORM
(California Probate Code Section 10600)

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA COUNTY OF _____

Estate of No. _____

(deceased)

WARNING. THE LAW REQUIRES THAT THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE GIVE YOU NOTICE OF CERTAIN ACTIONS THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE PROPOSES TO TAKE WITH RESPECT TO THE ESTATE. THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE MUST GIVE YOU THIS NOTICE BEFORE TAKING THE ACTION.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT (1) TO OBJECT TO A PROPOSED ACTION AND (2) TO REQUIRE THAT THE COURT SUPERVISE THE PROPOSED ACTION. IF YOU DO NOT OBJECT BEFORE THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE ACTS, THEN YOU LOSE THAT RIGHT AND YOU CANNOT OBJECT LATER.

IF YOU SIGN THIS FORM, YOU GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO RECEIVE NOTICE. THIS MEANS THAT YOU GIVE THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE THE RIGHT TO TAKE ACTIONS CONCERNING THE ESTATE WITHOUT FIRST GIVING YOU THE NOTICE REQUIRED BY LAW, AND YOU CANNOT OBJECT AFTER THE ACTION IS TAKEN.

IF YOU SIGN THIS FORM, YOU MUST ALSO CHECK ONE OF THE BOXES BELOW TO INDICATE WHETHER YOU GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO RECEIVE:

(1) A NOTICE OF ANY AND ALL ACTIONS THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE MAY DECIDE TO TAKE.

(2) A NOTICE OF ANY OF THE PARTICULAR KINDS OF ACTIONS YOU LIST IN THIS FORM.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO REVOKE (CANCEL) THIS WAIVER AT ANY TIME. A REVOCATION MUST BE IN WRITING AND IS NOT EFFECTIVE UNTIL IT IS ACTUALLY RECEIVED BY THE PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE.

IF YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND THIS FORM, YOU SHOULD ASK A LAWYER TO EXPLAIN IT TO YOU.

1. The name of the personal representative of the estate of the deceased and the address to which notices to the personal representative may be delivered or mailed are:

2. The personal representative has authority to administer the estate without court supervision under the Independent Administration of Estates Act (California Probate Code Sections 10400–10600)

3. By signing below, I waive my right to receive prior notice of (check only one box to indicate your choice):

☐ (a) Any and all actions the personal representative is authorized to take under the Independent Administration of Estates Act.

PART 9. PAYMENT OF DEBTS

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS AND PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS

Article 1. Definitions

11400. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this part.

11401. "Debt" means:

(a) A claim that is established under Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) or that is otherwise payable in the course of administration.

(b) An expense of administration.

(c) A charge against the estate including, but not limited to, taxes, expenses of last illness, and family allowance.

11402. "Wage claim" means a claim for wages, not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000), of each employee of the decedent for work done or personal services rendered within 90 days before the death of the decedent.

Article 2. Preliminary Provisions

11405. (a) This part applies in any proceeding for the administration of a decedent's estate commenced on or after July 1, 1988.

(b) The applicable law in effect before July 1, 1988, governing the subject matter of this part continues to apply in any proceeding for administration of a decedent's estate commenced before July 1, 1988, notwithstanding its repeal by the act that enacted this section.

CHAPTER 2. GENERAL PROVISIONS

11420. (a) Debts shall be paid in the following order of priority among classes of debts, except that debts owed to the United States or to this state that have preference under the laws of the United States or of this state shall be given the preference required by such laws:

(1) Expenses of administration.

(2) Funeral expenses.

(3) Expenses of last illness.

(4) Family allowance.

(5) Wage claims.

(6) Obligations secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien, including, but not limited to, a judgment lien, in the order of their priority, so far as they may be paid out of the proceeds of the property subject to the lien. If the proceeds are insufficient, the part of the obligation remaining unsatisfied shall be classed with general debts.

(7) General debts, including judgments not secured by a lien and all other debts not included in a prior class.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by statute, the debts of each class are without preference or priority one over another. No debt of any class may be paid until all those of prior classes are paid in full. If property in the estate is insufficient to pay all debts of any class in full, each debt in that class shall be paid a proportionate share.

11421. As soon as the personal representative has sufficient funds, after retaining sufficient funds to pay expenses of administration and debts owed to the United States or to this state that have preference under the laws of the United States or of this state, the personal representative shall pay the following debts:

(a) Funeral expenses.

(b) Expenses of last illness.

(c) Family allowance.

(d) Wage claims.

11422. (a) Except as provided in Section 11421, the personal representative is not required to pay a debt until payment has been ordered by the court.

(b) On the settlement of any account of the personal representative after the expiration of four months after the date letters are first issued to a general personal representative, the court shall order payment of debts, as the circumstances of the estate permit. If property in the estate is insufficient to pay all of the debts, the order shall specify the amount to be paid to each creditor.

(c) If the estate will be exhausted by the payment ordered, the account of the personal representative constitutes a final account, and notice of hearing shall be the notice given for the hearing of a final account. The personal representative is entitled to a discharge when the personal representative has complied with the terms of the order.

(d) Nothing in this section precludes settlement of an account of a personal representative for payment of a debt made without prior court authorization.

11423. (a) Interest accrues on a debt from the date the court orders payment of the debt until the date the debt is paid. Interest accrues at the legal rate on judgments.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in the case of a debt based on a written contract, interest accrues at the rate and in accordance with the terms of the contract. The personal representative may, by order of the court, pay all or part of the interest accumulated and unpaid at any time when there are sufficient funds, whether the debt is then due or not.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), in the case of a debt for unpaid taxes or any other debt for which interest is expressly provided by statute, interest accrues at the rate and in accordance with the terms of the statute.

11424. (a) The personal representative shall pay a debt to the extent of the order for payment of the debt, and is liable personally and on the bond, if any, for failure to make the payment.

(b) An order for payment of debt may be enforced in the same manner as enforcement of a money judgment under the Enforcement of Judgments Law.

11425. If a creditor whose debt is not due waives interest for the time until the debt is due, the creditor is entitled to payment of the debt.

11426. (a) Notwithstanding any other statute, the court may in its discretion appoint a trustee to whom payment of a debt that is contingent or is payable in installments shall be made, with the direction that the trustee invest the payment in investments that would be proper for a personal representative or as authorized by the court. The court in determining the amount of the payment shall compute the present value of the debt, giving consideration to a reasonable interest rate on the amount to be invested.

(b) The trustee shall pay the debt as ordered by the court. On completion of payment, any excess in possession of the trustee shall be paid or distributed in accordance with the order for distribution.

11427. Except as otherwise provided in this part, if a debt is not due or is contingent, or if a claim is disputed, the amount of the debt or claim or the part that would be payable if the debt were due or absolute or the claim established, shall be paid into court. The amount paid into court shall remain there, to be paid to the creditor when the debt is due or absolute or the claim is established, or, if the claim is not established, to be paid or distributed as the circumstances of the estate require.

11428. (a) If an estate is in all other respects ready to be closed, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court, on affidavit or evidence taken in open court, that a debt has not been and cannot be paid because the creditor cannot be found, the court or judge shall make an order fixing the amount of the payment and directing the personal representative to deposit the payment with the county treasurer of the county in which the proceeding is pending.

(b) The county treasurer shall give a receipt for the deposit, for which the county treasurer is liable on the official bond. The receipt shall be treated by the court or judge in favor of the personal representative with the same force and effect as if executed by the creditor.

(c) A deposit with the county treasurer under the provisions of this section shall be received, accounted for, and disposed of as provided by Section 1444 of the Code of Civil Procedure. A deposit in the State Treasury under the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be made under the provisions of Article 1 (commencing with Section 1440) of Chapter 6 of Title 10 of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

11429. (a) Where the accounts of the personal representative have been settled and an order made for the payment of debts and distribution of the estate, a creditor who is not paid, whether or not included in the order for payment, has no right to require contribution from creditors who are paid or from distributees.

(b) Nothing in this section precludes recovery against the personal representative personally or on the bond, if any, by a creditor who is not paid.

CHAPTER 3. ALLOCATION OF DEBTS BETWEEN ESTATE AND SURVIVING SPOUSE

11440. If it appears that a debt of the decedent has been paid or is payable in whole or in part by the surviving spouse, or that a debt of the surviving spouse has been paid or is payable in whole or in part from property in the decedent's estate, the personal representative, the surviving spouse, or a beneficiary may, at any time before an order for final distribution is made, petition for an order to allocate the debt.

11441. The petition shall include a statement of all of the following:

(a) All debts of the decedent and surviving spouse known to the petitioner that are alleged to be subject to allocation and whether paid in whole or part or unpaid.

(b) The reason why the debts should be allocated.

(c) The proposed allocation and the basis for allocation alleged by the petitioner.

11442. If it appears from the petition that allocation would be affected by the value of the separate property of the surviving spouse and any community property and quasi-community property not administered in the estate and if an inventory and appraisal of the property has not been provided by the surviving spouse, the court shall make an order to show cause why the information should not be provided.

11443. The petitioner shall give notice of the hearing as provided in Section 1220, together with a copy of the petition and the order to show cause, if any.

11444. (a) The personal representative and the surviving spouse may provide for allocation by agreement and, on a determination by the court that the agreement substantially protects the rights of interested persons, the allocation provided in the agreement shall be ordered by the court.

(b) In the absence of an agreement, each debt of the decedent shall be apportioned based on all of the property of the spouses liable for the debt at the date of death that is not exempt from enforcement of a money judgment, in the proportion determined by the value of the property less any liens and encumbrances at the date of death, adjusted to take into account any right of reimbursement that would have been available if the property were applied to the debt at the date of death, and the debt shall be allocated accordingly.

11445. On making a determination as provided in this chapter, the court shall make an order that:

(a) Directs the personal representative to make payment of the amounts allocated to the estate by payment to the surviving spouse or creditors.

(b) Directs the personal representative to charge amounts allocated to the surviving spouse against any property or interests of the surviving spouse that are in the possession or control of the personal representative. To the extent that property or interests of the surviving spouse in the possession or control of the personal representative are insufficient to satisfy the allocation, the court order shall summarily direct the surviving spouse to pay the allocation to the personal representative.

11446. Notwithstanding any other statute, funeral expenses and expenses of last illness shall be charged against the estate of the decedent and shall not be allocated to, or charged against the community share of, the surviving spouse, whether or not the surviving spouse is financially able to pay the expenses and whether or not the surviving spouse or any other person is also liable for the expenses.

PART 10. DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATES

PART 11. CLOSING ESTATE ADMINISTRATION

PART 12. ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES OF MISSING PERSONS PRESUMED DEAD

12400. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, as used in this part, "missing person" means a person who is presumed to be dead under Section 12401.

12401. In proceedings under this part, a person who has not been seen or heard from for a continuous period of five years by those who are likely to have seen or heard from that person, and whose absence is not satisfactorily explained after diligent search or inquiry, is presumed to be dead. The person's death is presumed to have occurred at the end of the period unless there is sufficient evidence to establish that death occurred earlier.

12402. Subject to the provisions of this part, the estate of a missing person may be administered in the manner provided generally for the administration of estates of deceased persons.

12403. (a) If the missing person was a resident of this state when last seen or heard from, the superior court of the county of the person's last known place of residence has jurisdiction for the purposes of this part.

(b) If the missing person was a nonresident of this state when last seen or heard from, the superior court of a county where real property of the missing person is located, or of a county where personal property is located if the missing person has no real property in this state, has jurisdiction for the purposes of this part.

12404. (a) A petition may be filed in the court having jurisdiction under Section 12403 for the administration of the estate of a missing person.

(b) The petition may be filed by any person who may be appointed as a personal representative, other than a person described in paragraph (12) of subdivision (a) of Section 422.

(c) In addition to the matters otherwise required in a petition for administration of the estate, the petition shall state all of the following:

(1) The last known place of residence and the last known address of the missing person.

(2) The time and circumstances when the missing person was last seen or heard from.

(3) That the missing person has not been seen or heard from for a continuous period of five years by the persons likely to have seen or heard from the missing person (naming them and their relationship to the missing person) and that the whereabouts of the missing person is unknown to those persons and to the petitioner.

(4) A description of the search or the inquiry made concerning the whereabouts of the missing person.

12405. Notice of hearing shall be served and published, and proof made, in the same manner as in proceedings for administration of the estate of a decedent, except that notice of hearing on the petition shall also be sent by registered mail to the missing person at his or her last known address.

12406. (a) At the hearing, the court shall determine whether the alleged missing person is a person who is presumed to be dead under Section 12401. The court may receive evidence and consider the affidavits and depositions of persons likely to have seen or heard from or know the whereabouts of the alleged missing person.

(b) If the court is not satisfied that a diligent search or inquiry has been made for the missing person, the court may order the petitioner to conduct a diligent search or inquiry and to report the results. The court may order the search or inquiry to be made in any manner that the court determines to be advisable, including any or all of the following methods:

(1) Inserting in one or more suitable newspapers or other periodicals a notice requesting information from any person having knowledge of the whereabouts of the missing person.

(2) Notifying law enforcement officials and public welfare agencies in appropriate locations of the disappearance of the missing person.

(3) Engaging the services of an investigator.

(c) The costs of a search ordered by the court pursuant to subdivision (b) shall be paid by the estate of the missing person, but if there is no administration, the court in its discretion may order the petitioner to pay the costs.

12407. (a) If the court finds that the alleged missing person is a person presumed to be dead under Section 12401, the court shall do both of the following:

(1) Appoint a personal representative for the estate of the missing person in the manner provided for the estates of deceased persons.

(2) Determine the date of the missing person's death.

(b) The personal representative shall administer the estate of the missing person in the same general manner and method of procedure, and with the same force and effect, as provided for the administration of the estates of deceased persons, except as otherwise provided in this part.

12408. (a) If the missing person reappears:

(1) The missing person may recover property of the missing person's estate in the possession of the personal representative, less fees, costs, and expenses thus far incurred.

(2) The missing person may recover from distributees any property of the missing person's estate that is in their possession, or the value of distributions received by them, to the extent that recovery from distributees is equitable in view of all the circumstances, but an action under this paragraph is forever barred five years after the time the distribution was made.

(b) The remedies available to the missing person under subdivision (a) are exclusive, except for any remedy the missing person may have by reason of fraud or intentional wrongdoing.

(c) Except as provided in subdivisions (a) and (b), the order for final distribution, when it becomes final, is conclusive as to the rights of the missing person, the rights of the beneficiaries of the missing person, and the rights of all other persons interested in the estate.

(d) If a dispute arises as to the identity of a person claiming to be a reappearing missing person, the person making the claim or any other interested person may file a petition under Section 1080, notwithstanding the limitations of time prescribed in Section 1080, for the determination of the identity of the person claiming to be the reappearing missing person.

12409. (a) This part applies only to cases where a petition is filed under Section 12404, or under former Section 1354, after December 31, 1983. If a petition is filed under Section 12404, or under former Section 1354, the required period of absence of the alleged missing person may include a period of absence that commenced to run before the operative date of the applicable section.

(b) This part does not apply to any proceeding under former Sections 280 to 294, inclusive, that was pending on December 31, 1983, and the law that applied to that proceeding on December 31, 1983, continues to apply after that date.

SEC. 94. Section 13101 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13101. (a) To collect money, receive tangible personal property, or have evidences of a debt, obligation, interest, right, security, or chose in action transferred under this chapter, an affidavit or a declaration under penalty of perjury under the laws of this state shall be furnished to the holder of the decedent's property stating all of the following:

(1) The decedent's name.

(2) The date and place of the decedent's death.

(3) "At least 40 days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, as shown in a certified copy of the decedent's death certificate attached to this affidavit or declaration."

(4) "No proceeding is now being or has been conducted in California for administration of the decedent's estate."

(5) "The gross value of the decedent's real and personal property in California, excluding the property described in Section 13050 of the California Probate Code, does not exceed sixty thousand dollars ($60,000)."

(6) A description of the property of the decedent that is to be paid, transferred, or delivered to the affiant or declarant.

(7) The name of the successor of the decedent (as defined in Section 13006 of the California Probate Code) to the described property.

(8) Either of the following, as appropriate:

(A) "The affiant or declarant is the successor of the decedent (as defined in Section 13006 of the California Probate Code) to the decedent's interest in the described property."

(B) "The affiant or declarant is authorized under Section 13051 of the California Probate Code to act on behalf of the successor of the decedent (as defined in Section 13006 of the California Probate Code) with respect to the decedent's interest in the described property."

(9) "No other person has a right to the interest of the decedent in the described property."

(10) "The affiant or declarant requests that the described property be paid, delivered, or transferred to the affiant or declarant."

(11) "The affiant or declarant affirms or declares under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct."

(b) Where more than one person executes the affidavit or declaration under this section, the statements required by subdivision (a) shall be modified as appropriate to reflect that fact.

(c) A certified copy of the decedent's death certificate shall be attached to the affidavit or declaration.

SEC. 94.1. Section 13114 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13114. (a) A public administrator who has taken charge of the estate of a decedent as provided in Section 1140 may refuse to pay money or deliver property pursuant to this chapter if payment of the costs and fees described in Section 1144.5, subject to the dollar limitations specified in that section, has not first been made or adequately assured to the satisfaction of the public administrator.

(b) A coroner who has property found upon the body of a decedent, or who has taken charge of property of the decedent pursuant to Section 27491.3 of the Government Code, may refuse to pay or deliver the property pursuant to this chapter if payment of the reasonable costs of holding or safeguarding the property has not first been made or adequately assured to the satisfaction of the coroner.

SEC. 94.3. Section 13116 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

13116. The procedure provided in this chapter is in addition to and supplemental to any other procedure for (1) collecting money due to a decedent, (2) receiving tangible personal property of a decedent, or (3) having evidence of ownership of property of a decedent transferred. Nothing in this chapter restricts or limits the release of tangible personal property of a decedent pursuant to any other provision of law. This section is declaratory of existing law.

SEC. 94.5. Section 13152 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13152. (a) The petition shall be verified by each petitioner, shall contain a request that the court make an order under this chapter determining that the particular item of property described in the petition is property passing to the petitioner and that no administration of the decedent's estate is necessary, and shall state all of the following:

(1) The facts necessary to determine that the petition is filed in the proper county.

(2) The gross value of the decedent's real and personal property in California, excluding the property described in Section 13050, as shown by the inventory and appraisement attached to the petition, does not exceed sixty thousand dollars ($60,000).

(3) A description of the particular item of property in this state which the petitioner alleges is property of the decedent passing to the petitioner.

(4) The facts upon which the petitioner bases the allegation that the described real property is property passing to the petitioner.

(5) A statement that no proceeding is being or has been conducted in this state for administration of the decedent's estate.

(6) Whether estate proceedings for the decedent have been commenced in any other jurisdiction and, if so, where those proceedings are pending or were conducted.

(7) The names, addresses, relationships, and ages of the heirs and devisees of the decedent, the names and addresses of all persons named as executors of the will of the decedent, and, if the personal representative is the trustee of a trust that is a devisee under the will of the decedent, the names and addresses of all persons interested in the trust, as determined in cases of future interests pursuant to paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 15804, so far as known to any petitioner.

(b) There shall be attached to the petition an inventory and appraisement in the form set forth in Section 600 of the decedent's real and personal property in this state, excluding the property described in Section 13050. The inventory and appraisement shall be made by a probate referee selected by the petitioner from those probate referees appointed by the Controller under Section 1305 to appraise property in the county where the real property is located. The appraisement shall be made as set forth in Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 600) of Division 3. The petitioner may appraise the assets which a personal representative could appraise under paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 605.

(c) If the petitioner bases his or her claim to the described particular item of property upon the will of the decedent, a copy of the will shall be attached to the petition.

SEC. 95. Section 13153 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13153. Notice of the hearing shall be given as provided in Section 1220 to each of the persons named in the petition pursuant to Section 13152.

SEC. 96. Section 13501 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13501. Except as provided in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 6600) of Division 6 and in Part 1 (commencing with Section 13000) of this division, the following property of the decedent is subject to administration under Division 3 (commencing with Section 300):

(a) Property passing to someone other than the surviving spouse under the decedent's will or by intestate succession.

(b) Property disposed of in trust under the decedent's will.

(c) Property in which the decedent's will limits the surviving spouse to a qualified ownership. For the purpose of this subdivision, a devise to the surviving spouse that is conditioned on the spouse surviving the decedent by a specified period of time is not a "qualified ownership" interest if the specified period of time has expired.

SEC. 97. Section 13552 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13552. If proceedings are commenced in this state for the administration of the estate of the deceased spouse and the time for filing claims has commenced, any action upon the liability of the surviving spouse pursuant to Section 13550 is barred to the same extent as provided for claims under Part 4 (commencing with Section 9000) of Division 7, except as to the following:

(a) Creditors who commence judicial proceedings for the enforcement of the debt and serve the surviving spouse with the complaint therein prior to the expiration of the time for filing claims.

(b) Creditors who have or who secure the surviving spouse's acknowledgment in writing of the liability of the surviving spouse for the debts.

(c) Creditors who file a timely claim in the proceedings for the administration of the estate of the deceased spouse.

SEC. 98. Section 13655 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

13655. (a) If a petition filed under this chapter is filed with a petition for probate of the deceased spouse's will, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given in the manner prescribed by Sections 327 and 328 and shall be included in the notice required by those sections. If the petition filed under this chapter is filed with a petition for administration of the estate of the deceased spouse, notice of the hearing on the petition shall be given in the manner prescribed by Section 441 and shall be included in the notice required by that section.

(b) If proceedings for the administration of the estate of the deceased spouse are pending at the time a petition is filed under this chapter or, if the proceedings are not pending and if the petition filed under this chapter is not filed with a petition for probate of the deceased spouse's will or for administration of the estate of the deceased spouse, the clerk shall set the petition for hearing. At least 15 days before the hearing, notice of the hearing on the petition filed under this chapter shall be personally served upon the following persons by the petitioner or mailed, postage prepaid, by the petitioner to the following persons, addressed to the addresses given in their request for special notice or notice of appearance, the addresses of their offices or places of residence, or, if neither of these addresses is known to the petitioner, the county seat of the county in which the proceedings are pending:

(1) Any personal representative who is not the petitioner.

(2) All devisees and known heirs of the deceased spouse and, if the personal representative is the trustee of a trust that is a devisee under the will of the decedent, all persons interested in the trust, as determined in cases of future interests pursuant to paragraph (1),

(2), or (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 15804.

(3) All persons or their attorneys who have requested special notice pursuant to Section 1250.

(4) All persons or their attorneys who have given notice of appearance.

(c) The notice specified in subdivision (b) shall also be mailed as provided in subdivision (b) to the Attorney General, addressed to the office of the Attorney General at Sacramento, California, if the petitioner bases the allegation that all or part of the estate of the deceased spouse is property passing to the surviving spouse upon the will of the deceased spouse and the will involves or may involve either of the following:

(1) A testamentary trust of property for charitable purposes other than a charitable trust with a designated trustee, resident in this state.

(2) A devise for a charitable purpose without an identified devisee or beneficiary.

SEC. 99. Section 15005 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 100. Section 16304 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

16304. (a) An income beneficiary is entitled to income from the date specified in the trust instrument or, if none is specified, from the date an item of property becomes subject to the trust. In the case of an item of property becoming subject to a trust by reason of a person's death, it becomes subject to the trust as of the date of the death of the person even though there is an intervening period of administration of the person's estate.

(b) Upon property becoming subject to a trust by reason of a person's death:

(1) Receipts due but not paid at the date of death of the person are principal.

(2) Receipts in the form of periodic payments (other than corporate distributions to stockholders), including rent, interest, or annuities, not due at the date of the death of the person shall be treated as accruing from day to day. That portion of the receipt accruing before the date of death is principal and the balance is income.

(c) In all other cases, any receipt from income-producing property is income even though the receipt was earned or accrued in whole or in part before the date when the property became subject to the trust.

(d) If an income beneficiary's right to income ceases by death or in any other manner, all payments actually paid to the income beneficiary or in the hands of the trustee for payment to the income beneficiary before such termination belong to the income beneficiary or to his or her personal representative. All income actually received by the trustee after such termination shall be paid to the person next entitled to income by the terms of the trust. This subdivision is subject to subdivision (d) of Section 21524 and does not apply to income received by a trustee under subdivision (b) of Section 16305.

(e) Corporate distributions to stockholders shall be treated as due on the day fixed by the corporation for determination of stockholders of record entitled to distribution or, if no date is fixed, on the date of declaration of the distribution by the corporation.

SEC. 100.5. Section 20114.5 of the Probate Code, as added by Chapter 128 of the Statutes of 1987, is amended to read:

20114.5. (a) As used in this section:

(1) A reference to Section 4981 of the Internal Revenue Code means Section 4981 as enacted by Section 1133(a) of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) or as subsequently amended.

(2) "Excess retirement accumulation" has the meaning given it in Section 4981(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) If the federal estate tax is increased under Section 4981(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, the amount of the increase shall be a charge against the persons who receive the excess retirement accumulation that gives rise to the increase, and shall be equitably prorated among all persons who receive interests in qualified employer plans and individual retirement plans to which the excess retirement accumulation is attributable.

SEC. 101. Division 11 (commencing with Section 21100) is added to the Probate Code, to read:

DIVISION 11. CONSTRUCTION OF WILLS, TRUSTS, AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS

PART 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. SCOPE AND DEFINITIONS

21100. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, as used in this division:

(a) "Fiduciary" means personal representative, trustee, guardian, conservator, or other legal representative.

(b) "Instrument" means a will, trust, deed, or other writing that designates a beneficiary or makes a donative transfer of property.

(c) "Transferor" means the testator, settlor, grantor, owner, or other person who executes an instrument.

21101. Unless the provision or context otherwise requires, this division applies to a will, trust, deed, and any other instrument.

CHAPTER 2. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

21120. (a) If an instrument authorizes a fiduciary to satisfy a pecuniary gift wholly or partly by distribution of property other than money, property selected for that purpose shall be valued at its fair market value on the date of distribution, unless the instrument expressly provides otherwise. If the instrument permits the fiduciary to value property selected for distribution as of a date other than the date of distribution, then, unless the instrument expressly provides otherwise, the property selected by the fiduciary for that purpose shall have an aggregate fair market value on the date or dates of distribution which, when added to any cash distributed, will amount to no less than the amount of the pecuniary gift as stated in, or determined by, the instrument.

(b) As used in this section, "pecuniary gift" means a transfer of property made in an instrument that either is expressly stated as a fixed dollar amount or is a dollar amount determinable by the provisions of the instrument.

PART 5. COMPLIANCE WITH INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

21500. As used in this part, "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time. A reference to a provision of the Internal Revenue Code includes any subsequent provision of law enacted in its place.

21501. (a) This part applies to a distribution made on or after January 1, 1988, whether the transferor died before, on, or after that date.

(b) A distribution made on or after January 1, 1983, and before January 1, 1988, is governed by the applicable law in effect before January 1, 1988.

21502. (a) This part does not apply to an instrument the terms of which expressly or by necessary implication make this part inapplicable.

(b) By an appropriate statement made in an instrument, the transferor may incorporate by reference any or all of the provisions of this part. The effect of incorporating a provision of this part in an instrument is to make the incorporated provision a part of the instrument as though the language of the incorporated provision were set forth verbatim in the instrument. Unless an instrument incorporating a provision of this part provides otherwise, the instrument automatically incorporates the provision's amendments.

21503. (a) If an instrument includes a formula intended to eliminate the federal estate tax, the formula shall be applied to eliminate or to reduce to the maximum extent possible the federal estate tax.

(b) If an instrument includes a formula that refers to a maximum fraction or amount that will not result in a federal estate tax, the formula shall be construed to refer to the maximum fraction or amount that will not result in or increase the federal estate tax.

CHAPTER 2. MARITAL DEDUCTION GIFTS

21520. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Marital deduction" means the federal estate tax deduction allowed for transfers under Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code or the federal gift deduction allowed for transfers under Section 2523 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) "Marital deduction gift" means a transfer of property that is intended to qualify for the marital deduction.

21521. This chapter does not apply to a trust that qualifies for the marital deduction under Section 20.2056(e)-2(b) of the Code of Federal Regulations (commonly referred to as the "estate trust").

21522. If an instrument contains a marital deduction gift:

(a) The provisions of the instrument, including any power, duty, or discretionary authority given to a fiduciary, shall be construed to comply with the marital deduction provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) The fiduciary shall not take any action or have any power that impairs the deduction as applied to the marital deduction gift.

(c) The marital deduction gift may be satisfied only with property that qualifies for the marital deduction.

21523. (a) The Economic Recovery Act of 1981 was enacted August 13, 1981. This section applies to an instrument executed before September 12, 1981 (before 30 days after enactment of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981).

(b) If an instrument described in subdivision (a) indicates the transferor's intention to make a gift that will provide the maximum allowable marital deduction, the instrument passes to the recipient an amount equal to the maximum amount of the marital deduction that would have been allowed as of the date of the gift under federal law as it existed before enactment of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981, with adjustments for the following, if applicable:

(1) The provisions of Section 2056(c)(1)(B) and (C) of the Internal Revenue Code in effect immediately before enactment of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981.

(2) To reduce the amount passing under the gift by the final federal estate tax values of any other property that passes under or outside of the instrument and qualifies for the marital deduction. This subdivision does not apply to qualified terminable interest property under Section 2056(b)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code.

21524. If a marital deduction gift is made in trust, in addition to the other provisions of this chapter, each of the following provisions also applies to the marital deduction trust:

(a) The transferor's spouse is the only beneficiary of income or principal of the marital deduction property as long as the spouse is alive. Nothing in this subdivision precludes exercise by the transferor's spouse of a power of appointment included in a trust that qualifies as a general power of appointment marital deduction trust.

(b) Subject to subdivision (d), the transferor's spouse is entitled to all of the income of the marital deduction property not less frequently than annually, as long as the spouse is alive.

(c) The transferor's spouse has the right to require that the trustee of the trust make unproductive marital deduction property productive or to convert it into productive property within a reasonable time.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (d) of Section 16304, in the case of qualified terminable interest property under Section 2056(b)(7) or Section 2523(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, on termination of the interest of the transferor's spouse in the trust all of the remaining accrued or undistributed income shall pass to the estate of the transferor's spouse, unless the instrument provides a different disposition that qualifies for the marital deduction.

21525. (a) If an instrument that makes a marital deduction gift includes a condition that the transferor's spouse survive the transferor by a period that exceeds six months, other than a condition described in subdivision (b), the condition shall be limited to six months as applied to the marital deduction gift.

(b) If an instrument that makes a marital deduction gift includes a condition that the transferor's spouse survive a common disaster that results in the death of the transferor, the condition shall be limited to the time of the final audit of the federal estate tax return for the transferor's estate, if any, as applied to the marital deduction gift.

21526. A fiduciary is not liable for a good faith decision to make any election, or not to make any election, referred to in Section 2056(b)(7) or Section 2523(f) of the Internal Revenue Code.

CHAPTER 3. CHARITABLE GIFTS

21540. If an instrument indicates the transferor's intention to comply with the Internal Revenue Code requirements for a charitable remainder unitrust or a charitable remainder annuity trust as each is defined in Section 664 of the Internal Revenue Code, the provisions of the instrument, including any power, duty, or discretionary authority given to a fiduciary, shall be construed to comply with the charitable deduction provisions of Section 2055 or Section 2522 of the Internal Revenue Code and the charitable remainder trust provisions of Section 664 of the Internal Revenue Code in order to conform to that intent. In no event shall the fiduciary take an action or have a power that impairs the charitable deduction. The provisions of the instrument may be augmented in any manner consistent with Section 2055(e) or Section 2522(c) of the Internal Revenue Code on a petition provided for in Section 17200.

21541. If an instrument indicates the transferor's intention to comply with the requirements for a charitable lead trust as described in Section 170(f)(2)(B) and Section 2055(e)(2) or Section 2522(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, the provisions of the instrument, including any power, duty, or discretionary authority given to a fiduciary, shall be construed to comply with the provisions of that section in order to conform to that intent. In no event shall the fiduciary take any action or have any power that impairs the charitable deduction. The provisions of the instrument may be augmented in any manner consistent with that intent upon a petition provided for in Section 17200.

SEC. 102. Section 19265 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

19265. (a) Every fiduciary who pays in whole or in part any claim, other than claims for taxes, expenses of administration, funeral expenses, expenses of last illness, family allowance, or wage claims as defined in Section 11402 of the Probate Code, against the person, estate, or trust for whom or for which the fiduciary acts, or who makes any distribution of the assets of the person, estate, or trust, before satisfaction and payment of taxes, interest, and penalties, except penalties due from a decedent, which are imposed by this part on the person, estate, or trust for whom or for which the fiduciary acts, or which constitute a claim against the person, estate, or trust, or which are a lien or charge on or against the assets of the person, estate, or trust, is personally liable to the state for the taxes, interest, and penalties to the extent of the payments and distributions.

(b) The amendments made to this section by Assembly Bill 708 of the 1987–88 Regular Session do not apply in any proceeding commenced before July 1, 1988.

SEC. 103. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this act, Sections 1 to 102, inclusive, of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1988.

(b) The following sections of this act shall become operative on January 1, 1988:

(1) Section 1.2 (amending Section 5230 of the Corporations Code).

(2) Section 1.3 (amending Section 7230 of the Corporations Code).

(3) Section 1.4 (amending Section 9240 of the Corporations Code).

(4) Section 3 (amending Section 2 of the Probate Code).

(5) Section 4 (amending Section 8 of the Probate Code).

(6) Section 5 (amending the heading of Part 2 (commencing with Section 20) of Division 1 of the Probate Code).

(7) Section 6 (amending Section 20 of the Probate Code).

(8) Section 7 (amending Section 21 of the Probate Code).

(9) Sections 8 and 9 (repealing and adding Section 22 of the Probate Code).

(10) Section 10 (adding Section 23 to the Probate Code).

(11) Section 11 (amending Section 24 of the Probate Code).

(12) Section 12 (amending Section 26 of the Probate Code).

(13) Section 13 (adding Section 46 to the Probate Code).

(14) Section 14 (adding Section 52 to the Probate Code).

(15) Section 15 (amending Section 54 of the Probate Code).

(16) Sections 16 and 17 (repealing and adding Section 58 of the Probate Code).

(17) Section 18 (amending Section 62 of the Probate Code).

(18) Section 19 (amending Section 141 of the Probate Code).

(19) Section 25 (amending Section 282 of the Probate Code).
(20) Section 26 (amending Section 300 of the Probate Code).
(21) Section 31 (amending Section 422 of the Probate Code).
(22) Section 54.5 (repealing Article 3 (commencing with Section 1030) of Chapter 16 of Division 3 of the Probate Code).
(23) Section 66.5 (amending Section 2100 of the Probate Code).
(24) Section 81 (amending Section 2580 of the Probate Code).
(25) Section 85.3 (amending Section 6246 of the Probate Code).
(26) Section 85.7 (amending Section 6247 of the Probate Code).
(27) Section 94 (amending Section 13101 of the Probate Code).
(28) Section 94.1 (amending Section 13114 of the Probate Code).
(29) Section 94.3 (adding Section 13116 to the Probate Code).
(30) Section 94.5 (amending Section 13152 of the Probate Code).
(31) Section 96 (amending Section 13501 of the Probate Code).
(32) Section 99 (repealing Section 15005 of the Probate Code).
(33) Section 100 (amending Section 16304 of the Probate Code).
(34) Section 100.5 (amending Section 20114.5 of the Probate Code).
(35) Section 101 (adding Division 11 (commencing with Section 21100) to the Probate Code).

(c) On and after January 1, 1988, the Judicial Council may adopt any necessary forms so that the forms may be used when this act becomes operative.

(d) On and after January 1, 1988, the courts may adopt any necessary rules so that the rules will be effective when this act becomes operative.

SEC. 104. Section 22.5 of this bill, which adds Section 216 to the Probate Code, incorporates the provisions of Section 700.2 of the Probate Code, as added by Assembly Bill 2248. Section 22.5 shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) Assembly Bill 2248 adds Section 700.2 to the Probate Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after Assembly Bill 2248.

CHAPTER 924

An act to amend Sections 11470, 11473.3, 11488, 11488.4, 11488.5, and 11489 of, and to add Sections 11471.5, 11488.4, and 11488.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11470 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 25.5 of Chapter 1044 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

11470. The following are subject to forfeiture:

(a) All controlled substances which have been manufactured, distributed, dispensed, or acquired in violation of this division.

(b) All raw materials, products and equipment of any kind which are used, or intended for use, in manufacturing, compounding, processing, delivering, importing, or exporting any controlled substance in violation of this division.

(c) All property except real property or a boat, airplane, or any vehicle which is used, or intended for use, as a container for property described in subdivision (a) or (b).

(d) All books, records, and research products and materials, including formulas, microfilm, tapes, and data which are used, or intended for use, in violation of this division.

(e) The interest of any registered owner of a boat, airplane, or any vehicle other than an implement of husbandry, as defined in Section 36000 of the Vehicle Code, which has been used as an instrument to facilitate the possession for sale or sale of 14.25 grams or more of heroin or cocaine base as specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, or a substance containing 14.25 grams or more of heroin or cocaine base as specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, or 14.25 grams or more of a substance containing heroin or cocaine base as specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, or 28.5 grams or more of Schedule I controlled substances except marijuana, peyote, or psilocybin; 10 pounds dry weight or more of marijuana, peyote, or psilocybin; or 28.5 grams or more of cocaine, as specified in paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 11055, or methamphetamine; or a substance containing 28.5 grams or more of cocaine, as specified in paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 11055, or methamphetamine; or 57 grams or more of a substance containing cocaine, as specified in paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 11055, or methamphetamine; or 28.5 grams or more of Schedule II controlled substances. No interest in a vehicle which may be lawfully driven on the highway with a class 3 or class 4 license, as prescribed in Section 12804 of the Vehicle Code, may be forfeited under this subdivision if there is a community property interest in the vehicle by a person other than the defendant and the vehicle is the sole class 3 or class 4 vehicle available to the defendant's immediate family.

(f) All moneys, negotiable instruments, securities, or other things of value furnished or intended to be furnished by any person in exchange for a controlled substance , all proceeds traceable to such an exchange, and all moneys, negotiable instruments, or securities used or intended to be used to facilitate any violation of Section 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11355, 11359, 11360, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11382 of this code, or Section 182 of the Penal Code, insofar as the offense involves manufacture, sale, possession for sale, offer for sale, or offer to manufacture, or conspiracy to commit at least one of those offenses, if the exchange, violation, or other conduct which is the basis for the forfeiture occurred within five years of the seizure of the property, or the filing of a petition under this chapter, or the issuance of an order of forfeiture of the property, whichever comes first.

(g) The real property of any property owner who is convicted of violating Section 11366, 11366.5, or 11366.6 with respect to that property. However, property which is used as a family residence or for other lawful purposes, or which is owned by two or more persons, one of whom had no knowledge of its unlawful use, shall not be subject to forfeiture.

(h) Subject to Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code and compliance with the requirements of Section 11488.5 and except as further limited by this subdivision to protect innocent parties who claim a property interest acquired from a defendant, all right, title, and interest in any personal property described in this section shall vest in the state upon commission of the act giving rise to forfeiture under this chapter, if the state or local governmental entity proves a violation of Section 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11355, 11359, 11360, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11382 in accordance with the burden of proof set forth in paragraph (1) of subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4 or, in the case of cash or negotiable instruments in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), paragraph (4) of subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4.

The operation of the special vesting rule established by this subdivision shall be limited to circumstances where its application will not defeat the claim of any person, including a bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer who, pursuant to Section 11488.5, 11488.6, or 11489, claims an interest in the property seized, notwithstanding that the interest in the property being claimed was acquired from a defendant whose property interest would otherwise have been subject to divestment pursuant to this subdivision.

(i) Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, or in cases which proceed under subdivision (j) of Section 11488.4, upon seizure by any peace officer of this state, all moneys, negotiable instruments, or other cash equivalents seized in accordance with Section 11488, shall, immediately upon being seized, come under the jurisdiction of the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying or related criminal offense or the superior court of the county in which the property subject to forfeiture has been seized. These moneys, negotiable instruments, or other cash equivalents shall be handled in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 11488.

This subdivision applies only to the Los Angeles Police Department and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department and does not apply (1) when the property seized exceeds a value of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), (2) in any case where the seizure was made in the course of a criminal investigation in which federal law enforcement agents participated, or (3) in any case in which the underlying or related criminal action or proceeding is brought in federal court.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 1.5. Section 11471.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11471.5. A peace officer making a seizure pursuant to Section 11471 shall notify the Franchise Tax Board where there is reasonable cause to believe that the value of the seized property exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000).

SEC. 2. Section 11473.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11473.3. (a) When authorized by a final judgment of forfeiture or by a declaration of forfeiture issued pursuant to subdivision (j) of Section 11488.4, items of property seized or subject to forfeiture, but not seized, pursuant to subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 11470 may be utilized by the law enforcement agency in its law enforcement program.

(b) A certified copy of the judgment of forfeiture issued by the court or a declaration of forfeiture issued pursuant to subdivision (j) of Section 11488.4 as a result of the forfeiture proceedings shall serve to vest title to any property specified in subdivision (a) in the named law enforcement agency.

(c) The same authority with respect to transfer or sale of property as is specified in Section 11473.2 shall apply to property subject to this section.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 11488 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 26.5 of Chapter 1044 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

11488. (a) Any peace officer of this state, subsequent to making or attempting to make an arrest for a violation of Section 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11355, 11359, 11360, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, or 11382 of this code, or Section 182 of the Penal Code insofar as the offense involves manufacture, sale, purchase for the purpose of sale, possession for sale or offer to manufacture or sell, or conspiracy to commit one of those offenses, may seize any item subject to forfeiture under subdivisions (a) to (f), inclusive, of Section 11470.

The peace officer shall also notify the Franchise Tax Board of a seizure where there is reasonable cause to believe that the value of the seized property exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(b) Except as provided in this subdivision, the peace officer shall immediately turn over all moneys, negotiable instruments, or other cash equivalents to the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying or related criminal offense or the superior court of the county in which the property subject to forfeiture has been seized or to the Attorney General or district attorney to hold for that court. Except for property subject to forfeiture pursuant to subdivision (j) of Section 11488.4, these moneys, negotiable instruments, or other cash equivalents shall not be transferred to any other agency, local, state, or federal, except upon court order. The peace officer shall also notify the Franchise Tax Board of a seizure where there is reasonable cause to believe that the value of the seized property exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000).

This subdivision applies only to the Los Angeles Police Department and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Department and does not apply (1) when the property seized exceeds a value of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), (2) in any case where the seizure was made in the course of a criminal investigation in which federal law enforcement agents participated, or (3) in any case in which the underlying or related criminal action or proceeding is brought in the federal court.

(c) Receipts for property seized pursuant to this section shall be delivered to any person out of whose possession such property was seized, in accordance with Section 1412 of the Penal Code. In the event property seized was not seized out of anyone's possession, receipt for the property shall be delivered to the individual in possession of the premises at which the property was seized.

(d) There shall be a presumption affecting the burden of proof that the person to whom a receipt for property was issued is the owner thereof. This presumption may, however, be rebutted at the forfeiture hearing specified in Section 11488.5.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 11488.4 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 8 of Chapter 1032 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

11488.4. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (j), if the Department of Justice or the local governmental entity determines that the factual circumstances do warrant that the moneys, negotiable instruments, securities, or other things of value seized or subject to forfeiture come within the provisions of subdivisions (a) to (g), inclusive, of Section 11470, and are not automatically made forfeitable or subject to court order of forfeiture or destruction by another provision of this chapter, the Attorney General or district attorney shall file a petition of forfeiture with the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying criminal offense or in which the property subject to forfeiture has been seized or, if no seizure has occurred, in the county in which the property subject to forfeiture is located. If the petition alleges that real property is forfeitable, the prosecuting attorney shall cause a lis pendens to be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which the real property is located.

A petition of forfeiture under this subdivision shall be filed within one year of the seizure of the property which is subject to forfeiture, or within one year of the filing by the Attorney General or district attorney of a lis pendens or other process against the property, whichever is earlier.

(b) Physical seizure of assets shall not be necessary in order to have that particular asset alleged to be forfeitable in a petition under this section. The prosecuting attorney may seek protective orders for any asset pursuant to Section 11492.

(c) The Attorney General or district attorney shall make service of process regarding this petition upon every individual designated in a receipt issued for the property seized. In addition, the Attorney General or district attorney shall cause a notice of the seizure, if any, and of the intended forfeiture proceeding, as well as a notice stating that any interested party may file a verified claim with the superior court of the county in which the property was seized or if the property was not seized, a notice of the initiation of forfeiture proceedings with respect to any interest in the property seized or subject to forfeiture, to be served by personal delivery or by registered mail upon any person who has an interest in the seized property or property subject to forfeiture other than persons designated in a receipt issued for the property seized.

(d) An investigation shall be made by the law enforcement agency as to any claimant to a vehicle, boat, or airplane whose right, title, interest, or lien is of record in the Department of Motor Vehicles or appropriate federal agency. If the law enforcement agency finds that any person, other than the registered owner, is the legal owner thereof, and such ownership did not arise subsequent to the date and time of arrest or notification of the forfeiture proceedings or seizure of the vehicle, boat, or airplane, it shall forthwith send a notice to the legal owner at his or her address appearing on the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles or appropriate federal agency.

(e) When a forfeiture action is filed, the notices shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the seizure was made or where the property subject to forfeiture is located.

(f) All notices shall set forth the time within which a claim of interest in the property seized or subject to forfeiture is required to be filed pursuant to Section 11488.5.

(g) Nothing contained in this chapter shall preclude a person, other than a defendant, claiming an interest in property actually seized from moving for a return of property pursuant to Section 1538.5, 1539, or 1540 of the Penal Code if that person can show standing by proving an interest in the property not assigned subsequent to the seizure or filing of the forfeiture petition.

(h) If there is an underlying or related criminal action, a defendant may move, exclusively pursuant to Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code, for the return of the property on the grounds that there is not probable cause to believe that the property is forfeitable pursuant to subdivisions (a) to (g), inclusive, of Section 11470 and is not automatically made forfeitable or subject to court order of forfeiture or destruction by another provision of this chapter. The motion may be made at the preliminary examination or subsequent thereto. If made subsequent to the preliminary examination, the Attorney General or district attorney may submit the record of the preliminary hearing to establish that probable cause exists to believe that the underlying or related criminal violations have occurred.

Within 15 days after a defendant's motion is granted, the people may file a petition for a writ of mandate or prohibition seeking appellate review of the ruling.

(i) (1) With respect to property described in subdivisions (e) and (g) of Section 11470 for which forfeiture is sought and as to which forfeiture is contested, the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that the property for which forfeiture is sought was used, or intended to be used, to facilitate a violation of one of the offenses enumerated in subdivision (f) or (g) of Section 11470.

(2) In the case of property described in subdivision (f) of Section 11470, except cash, negotiable instruments, or other cash equivalents of a value of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), for which forfeiture is sought and as to which forfeiture is contested, the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that the property for which forfeiture is sought meets the criteria for forfeiture described in subdivision (f) of Section 11470.

(3) In the case of property described in paragraphs (1) or (2), a judgment of forfeiture requires as a condition precedent thereto, that a defendant be convicted in an underlying or related criminal action of an offense specified in subdivision (f) or (g) of Section 11470 which offense occurred within five years of the seizure of the property subject to forfeiture or within five years of the notification of intention to seek forfeiture. If the defendant is found guilty of the underlying or related criminal offense, the issue of forfeiture shall be tried before the same jury, if the trial was by jury, or tried before the same court, if trial was by court, unless waived by all parties.

(4) In the case of property described in subdivision (f) of Section 11470 that is cash or negotiable instruments of a value of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that the property for which forfeiture is sought is such as is described in subdivision (f) of Section 11470. There is no requirement for forfeiture thereof that a criminal conviction be obtained in an underlying or related criminal offense.

(5) If there is an underlying or related criminal action, and a criminal conviction is required before a judgment of forfeiture may be entered, the issue of forfeiture shall be tried in conjunction therewith. Trial shall be by jury unless waived by all parties. If there is no underlying or related criminal action, the presiding judge of the superior court shall assign the action brought pursuant to this chapter for trial.

(j) The Attorney General or the district attorney of the county in which property is subject to forfeiture under Section 11470 may, pursuant to this subdivision, order forfeiture of personal property not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) in value. The Attorney General or district attorney shall provide notice of proceedings under this subdivision pursuant to subdivisions (c), (d), (e), and (f), including:

(1) A description of the property.

(2) The appraised value of the property.

(3) The date and place of seizure or location of any property not seized but subject to forfeiture.

(4) The violation of law alleged with respect to forfeiture of the property.

(5) The instructions for filing a claim with the Attorney General or the district attorney pursuant to Section 11488.5 and time limits for filing a claim. If no claims are timely filed, the Attorney General or the district attorney shall prepare a written declaration of forfeiture of the subject property to the state and dispose of the property in accordance with Section 11489. A written declaration of forfeiture signed by the Attorney General or district attorney under this subdivision shall be deemed to provide good and sufficient title to the forfeited property.

The prosecuting agency ordering forfeiture pursuant to this subdivision shall provide a copy of the declaration of forfeiture to any person listed in the receipt given at the time of seizure and to any person personally served notice of the forfeiture proceedings.

If a claim is timely filed, then the Attorney General or district attorney shall file a petition of forfeiture pursuant to this section within 30 days of the receipt of the claim. The petition of forfeiture shall then proceed pursuant to other provisions of this chapter, except that no additional notice need be given and no additional claim need be filed.

(k) If in any underlying or related criminal action or proceeding, in which a petition for forfeiture has been filed pursuant to this section, and a criminal conviction is required before a judgment of forfeiture may be entered, the defendant willfully fails to appear as required there shall be no requirement of a criminal conviction as a prerequisite to forfeiture. In these cases, forfeiture shall be ordered as against the defendant and judgment entered upon default, upon application of the state or local governmental entity. In its application for default, the state or local governmental entity shall be required to give notice to the defendant's attorney of record, if any, in the underlying or related criminal action, and to make a showing of due diligence to locate the defendant. In moving for a default judgment pursuant to this subdivision, the state or local governmental entity shall be required to establish a prima facie case in support of its petition for forfeiture.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 5. Section 11488.4 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11488.4. (a) If the Department of Justice or the local governmental entity determines that the factual circumstances warrant that the moneys, negotiable instruments, securities, or other things of value seized come within the provisions of subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470, the Attorney General or district attorney shall file a petition of forfeiture with the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying criminal offense.

(b) The prosecuting attorney shall cause to be recorded a lis pendens on any real property alleged to be forfeitable in the petition in the county in which the property is located.

(c) Physical seizure of assets shall not be necessary in order to have that particular asset alleged to be forfeitable in a petition under this section. The prosecuting attorney may seek protective orders for any asset pursuant to Section 11492.

(d) The Attorney General or district attorney shall make service of process regarding this petition upon every individual designated in a receipt issued for the property seized. In addition, the Attorney General or district attorney shall cause a notice of the seizure and of the intended forfeiture proceeding, as well as a notice stating that any interested party may file a verified claim with the superior court of the county in which the property was seized with respect to any interest in the property seized, to be served by personal delivery or by registered mail upon any person who has an interest in the seized property other than persons designated in a receipt issued for the property seized.

(e) An investigation shall be made by the law enforcement agency as to any claimant to a vehicle, boat, or airplane whose right, title, interest, or lien is of record in the Department of Motor Vehicles or appropriate federal agency. If the law enforcement agency finds that any person, other than the registered owner, is the legal owner thereof, and such ownership did not arise subsequent to the date and time of arrest or seizure of the vehicle, boat, or airplane, it shall forthwith send a notice of the seizure to such legal owner at his or her address appearing on the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles or appropriate federal agency.

(f) When a forfeiture action is filed, the notices shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the seizure was made.

(g) All notices shall set forth the time within which a claim of interest in the property seized is required to be filed pursuant to Section 11488.5.

(h) Nothing contained in this chapter shall preclude a defendant from moving for a return of property pursuant to Section 1538.5 of the Penal Code.

(i) A defendant may move for the return of the property on the grounds that there is no probable cause to believe that the property is forfeitable pursuant to subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470. The motion may be made at the preliminary examination or subsequent to the preliminary examination. If made subsequent to the preliminary examination, the district attorney may submit the record of the preliminary hearing to establish that probable cause exists to believe that the underlying criminal violations have occurred.

Within 15 days after a defendant's motion is granted, the people may file a petition for a writ of mandate or prohibition seeking appellate review of the ruling.

(j) If the defendant is found guilty of the underlying criminal offense, the issue of forfeiture shall be tried before the same jury, if trial was by jury, or tried before the same court, if trial was by the court, unless waived by all parties. At the hearing, the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that the assets in question are subject to forfeiture pursuant to Section 11470.

(k) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1989.

SEC. 6. Section 11488.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 9 of Chapter 1032 of the Statutes of 1986, is amended to read:

11488.5. (a) (1) Any person claiming an interest in the property seized pursuant to Section 11488 may, at any time within 30 days from the date of the first publication of the notice of seizure, if that person was not personally served or served by mail, or within 10 days after receipt of actual notice, file with the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying or related criminal offense or in which the property was seized or, if there was no seizure, in which the property is located, a verified claim stating his or her interest in the property. A verified copy of the claim shall be served by the claimant on the Attorney General or district attorney, as appropriate.

(2) Any person who claims that the property was assigned to him or to her prior to the seizure or notification of pending forfeiture of the property under this chapter, whichever occurs first, shall file a claim with the court and prosecuting agency pursuant to Section 11488.5 declaring an interest in that property and such interest shall be adjudicated at the forfeiture hearing. The property shall remain under control of the law enforcement or prosecutorial agency until the adjudication of the forfeiture hearing.

(3) The claim of a law enforcement agency to property seized pursuant to Section 11488 or subject to forfeiture shall have priority over a claim to the seized or forfeitable property made by the Franchise Tax Board in a notice to withhold issued pursuant to Section 18817 or 26132 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(b) (1) If, at the end of the time set forth in subdivision (a), there is no claim on file, the court, upon motion, shall declare the property seized or subject to forfeiture pursuant to subdivisions (a) to (g), inclusive, of Section 11470 forfeited to the state. In moving for a default judgment pursuant to this subdivision, the state or local governmental entity shall be required to establish a prima facie case in support of its petition for forfeiture.

(2) The clerk of the court shall dispose of the forfeited property as set forth in Section 11489.

(c) (1) If a verified claim is filed, the forfeiture proceeding shall be set for hearing on a day not less than 30 days therefrom, and the proceeding shall have priority over other civil cases. Notice of the hearing shall be given in the same manner as provided in Section 11488.4. Such a verified claim or a claim filed pursuant to subdivision (j) of Section 11488.4 shall not be admissible in the proceedings regarding the underlying or related criminal offense set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 11488.

(2) The hearing shall be by jury, unless waived by consent of all parties.

(d) (1) At the hearing, the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of establishing, pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4, that the owner of any interest in the seized property consented to the use of the property with knowledge that it would be or was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, in accordance with the burden of proof set forth in subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4.

(2) No interest in the seized property shall be affected by a forfeiture decree under this section unless the state or local governmental entity has proven that the owner of such interest consented to the use of the property with knowledge that it would be or was used for the purpose charged. Forfeiture shall be ordered when, at the hearing, the state or local governmental entity has shown that the assets in question are subject to forfeiture pursuant to Section 11470, in accordance with the burden of proof set forth in subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4.

(e) The forfeiture hearing shall be continued upon motion of the prosecution or the defendant until after a verdict of guilty on any criminal charges specified in this chapter and pending against the defendant have been decided. The forfeiture hearing shall be conducted in accordance with Sections 600 to 630, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure if a trial by jury, and by Sections 631 to 636, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure if by the court. Unless the court or jury finds that the seized property was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, the court shall order the seized property released to the person it determines is entitled thereto.

If the court or jury finds that the seized property was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, but does not find that a person claiming an interest therein, to which the court has determined he or she is entitled, had actual knowledge that the seized property would be or was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, the court shall order the seized property released to the claimant.

(f) All seized property which was the subject of a contested forfeiture hearing and which was not released by the court to a claimant shall be declared by the court to be forfeited to the state, provided the burden of proof required pursuant to subdivision (i) of Section 11488.4 has been met. Except as provided in Sections 11473.2 and 11473.3, the clerk of the court shall dispose of the forfeited property as set forth in Section 11489.

(g) All seized property which was the subject of the forfeiture hearing and which was not forfeited shall remain subject to any order to withhold issued with respect to the property by the Franchise Tax Board.

(h) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1989, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 7. Section 11488.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11488.5. (a) (1) Any person claiming an interest in the property seized pursuant to Section 11488 may, at any time within 30 days from the date of the first publication of the notice of seizure, or within 10 days after receipt of actual notice, file with the superior court of the county in which the defendant has been charged with the underlying criminal offense a verified claim stating his or her interest in the property seized. A verified copy of the claim shall be given by the claimant to the Attorney General or district attorney, as appropriate.

(2) Any person who claims that the property was assigned to him or to her prior to the seizure of the property under this chapter shall file a claim with the court pursuant to Section 11488.5 declaring an interest in that property and such interest shall be adjudicated at the forfeiture hearing. The property shall remain under control of the law enforcement or prosecutorial agency until the adjudication of the forfeiture hearing.

(3) The claim of a law enforcement agency to property seized pursuant to Section 11488 shall have priority over a claim to the seized property made by the Franchise Tax Board in a notice to withhold issued pursuant to Section 18817 or 26132 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(b) (1) If, at the end of the time set forth in subdivision (a), there is no claim on file, the court, upon motion, shall declare the property seized pursuant to subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470 forfeited to the state upon conviction of a violation set forth in subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470.

(2) The clerk of the court shall dispose of the forfeited property as set forth in Section 11489.

(c) (1) If a verified claim is filed, the forfeiture proceeding shall be set for hearing on a day not less than 30 days therefrom, and the proceeding shall have priority over other civil cases. Notice of the hearing shall be given in the same manner as provided in Section 11488.4. Such verified claim shall not be admissible in the proceedings regarding the underlying criminal offense set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 11488.

(2) The hearing shall be by jury, unless waived by consent of all parties.

(d) (1) At the hearing, the state or local governmental entity shall have the burden of establishing beyond a reasonable doubt that the owner of any interest in the seized property consented to the use of the property with knowledge that it would be or was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted.

(2) No interest in the seized property shall be affected by a forfeiture decree under this section unless the state or local governmental entity has proven that the owner of such interest consented to the use of the property with knowledge that it would be or was used for the purpose charged. No forfeiture shall be ordered unless and until a conviction is had for an offense set forth in subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470.

(e) The forfeiture hearing may be continued, and upon motion of the defendant for the underlying criminal charges shall be continued, until after a verdict of guilty on the related charges has been decided. The forfeiture hearing shall be conducted in accordance with Sections 600 to 630, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure if a trial by jury, and by Sections 631 to 636, inclusive, of the Code of Civil Procedure if by court. Unless the court or jury finds that the seized property was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, the court shall order the seized property released to the person it determines is entitled thereto.

If the court or jury finds that the seized property was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, but does not find that a person claiming an interest therein, to which the court has determined he or she is entitled, had actual knowledge that the seized property would be or was used for a purpose for which forfeiture is permitted, the court shall order the seized property released to the claimant.

(f) All seized property which was the subject of the forfeiture hearing and which was not released by the court to a claimant shall, upon motion, be declared by the court forfeited upon conviction of a violation set forth in subdivision (e), (f), or (g) of Section 11470. Except as provided in Section 11473.2, the clerk of the court shall dispose of the forfeited property as set forth in Section 11489.

(g) All seized property which was the subject of the forfeiture hearing and which was not forfeited shall remain subject to any order to withhold issued with respect to the property by the Franchise Tax Board.

(h) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1989.

SEC. 8. Section 11489 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11489. Notwithstanding Section 11502 and except as otherwise provided in Sections 11473 and 11473.2, in all cases where the property is seized pursuant to this chapter and forfeited to the state or local governmental entity and, where necessary, sold by the Department of General Services or local governmental entity, the money forfeited or the proceeds of sale shall be distributed by the state or local governmental entity as follows:

(a) To the bona fide or innocent purchaser, conditional sales vendor, or mortgagee of the property, if any, up to the amount of his or her interest in the property, when the court declaring the forfeiture orders a distribution to that person.

(b) The balance, if any, to accumulate, and to be distributed and transferred quarterly in the following manner:

(1) To the state agency or local governmental entity for all expenditures made or incurred by it in connection with the sale of the property, including expenditures for any necessary repairs, storage, or transportation of any property seized under this chapter.

(2) The remaining funds shall be distributed as follows:

(A) Sixty-five percent to the state, local, or state and local law enforcement entities that participated in the seizure distributed so as to reflect the proportionate contribution of each agency.

(B) Ten percent to the prosecutorial agency which processes the forfeiture action.

(C) Twenty percent to the State Department of Mental Health for deposit in the Mental Health Primary Prevention Fund for primary prevention programs in accordance with Chapter 1083 of the Statutes of 1981. There is hereby created in the State Treasury the Mental Health Primary Prevention Fund. Notwithstanding Section 13340 of the Government Code, the moneys in the Mental Health Primary Prevention Fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the State Department of Mental Health to expend for primary prevention programs in accordance with Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 5475) of Part 1 of Division 5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. Expenditures may include administrative costs incurred by the department. These administrative costs are not to exceed 5 percent of the fund. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 16305.7 of the Government Code, any interest earned or other increment derived from investments made from moneys in the fund shall be deposited in the Mental Health Primary Prevention Fund.

(D) Five percent to eligible nonprofit organizations established for the purposes of aiding those seizures and forfeitures. Moneys shall be used to fund the operations of those organizations where it has been determined that information provided by the organization resulted in the seizure of these funds. In all other instances these moneys shall be deposited into the Narcotics Assistance and Relinquishment by Criminal Offenders Fund. The eligibility criteria and amount of funds to be allocated under this subparagraph shall be determined by each county pursuant to county ordinance.

(c) Notwithstanding Item 0820-101-469 of the Budget Act of 1985 (Chapter 111 of the Statutes of 1985), all funds allocated to the Department of Justice pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph

(2) of subdivision (b) shall be deposited into the Department of Justice Special Deposit Fund—State Asset Forfeiture Account and used for the law enforcement efforts of the state or for state or local law enforcement efforts pursuant to Section 11493.

All funds allocated to the Department of Justice by the federal government under its Federal Asset Forfeiture program authorized by the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 may be deposited directly into the Narcotics Assistance and Relinquishment by Criminal Offender Fund and used for state and local law enforcement efforts pursuant to Section 11493.

Funds which are not deposited pursuant to the above paragraph shall be deposited into the Department of Justice Special Deposit Fund-Federal Asset Forfeiture Account.

(d) All the funds distributed to the state or local governmental entity pursuant to subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) shall not supplant any state or local funds that would, in the absence of this subdivision, be made available to support the law enforcement and prosecutorial efforts of these agencies.

The court shall order the forfeiture proceeds distributed to the state, local, or state and local governmental entities as provided in this section.

For the purposes of this section, "local governmental entity" means any city, county, or city and county in this state.

All property seized and all proceeds from the sale of property seized pursuant to this chapter prior to October 2, 1985, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 8. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

SEC. 9. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to provide for the proper implementation of recently enacted legislation relating to controlled substances, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 925

An act to amend Sections 101, 205, 19000, 19004, 19019, 19022, 19030, 19034, 19059.7, 19161.5, 19174, and 19175 of, and to add Sections 19074 and 19213.1 to, the Business and Professions Code, and to amend the heading of Chapter 10.5 (commencing with Section 25910) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code, relating to consumer affairs, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 101 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

101. The department is comprised of:

(a) The Board of Dental Examiners of California.

(b) The Board of Medical Quality Assurance of the State of California.

Each such account or fund shall be available for expenditure only for such purposes as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

SEC. 3. Section 19000 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19000. This chapter may be cited as the Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation Act.

SEC. 4. Section 19004 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19004. (a) "Bureau" refers to the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation.

(b) "Chief" refers to the chief of the bureau.

(c) "Inspector" refers to an inspector either employed by, or under contract to, the bureau.

(d) "Director" refers to the Director of Consumer Affairs.

(e) "Department" refers to the Department of Consumer Affairs.

(f) "Board" refers to the California Advisory Board of Home Furnishings.

SEC. 5. Section 19019 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19019. "Insulation material" means any material or combination of materials applied or installed within or contiguous to a roof, wall, ceiling, or floor of a building or structure, or contiguous to the surface of any appliance or its intake or outtake mechanism, for the purpose of reducing heat transfer and thus energy requirements for heating and cooling or reducing adverse temperature fluctuations of the building, room, appliance, or structure.

SEC. 6. Section 19022 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19022. (a) An "insulation manufacturer" is any person who produces insulation materials or a combination of materials which, when properly applied or installed without any alteration, dilution, or modification so as to affect the thermal or physical properties, performance, or intended use as supplied by the manufacturer, retards the transfer of heat or cold. "Insulation manufacturer" also includes any person who produces finished products whose function is insulation, including, but not limited to, insulated roof and wall panels, insulation kits, pipe insulation, flexible insulated ducting, spray applied insulation systems, or other similar material.

(b) Anyone who alters, substitutes, or recompounds any insulation product or material shall be considered to be the manufacturer of that particular insulation product.

(c) Any applicator, contractor, or fabricator of insulation materials, who installs, applies, or uses insulation materials for their intended use, without changing the thermal or physical properties of the insulation material, shall not be considered an insulation manufacturer, provided that the manufacturer of the insulation material has been licensed in accordance with this chapter.

(d) As used in subdivision (b) "alteration," "substitution," or "recompounding" includes:

(1) The attachment of facings or vapor barriers, including, but not limited to, plastic, metal, felt, paper, or other similar materials.

(2) The compression, expansion, or reshaping of insulation materials.

(3) The addition of, or mixing with adhesives.

(4) In the case of spray applied or foamed in place insulation, any addition to, substitution of, or deletion from the chemical system provided by the insulation manufacturers.

(e) This chapter does not apply to the attaching of fiberglass insulation to metal duct work by a licensed contractor using industry-accepted adhesives and metal pins.

(f) This chapter does not apply to the attaching of fiberglass insulation to metal duct work by a licensed contractor using industry-accepted adhesives and metal pins.

SEC. 7. Section 19030 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19030. The Bureau of Home Furnishings in the department under the supervision and control of the chief is continued in existence as the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation.

SEC. 8. Section 19034 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19034. With the approval of the director, the chief may adopt rules and regulations necessary for the administration of this chapter and declaring the policy of the bureau, and shall determine when any article, not otherwise clearly defined, is "upholstered furniture" or "bedding" or "insulation" under the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 9. Section 19059.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19059.7. Every insulation manufacturer who sells insulation material in California shall hold an insulation manufacturing license issued by the bureau. Manufacturers having more than one manufacturing plant shall hold a single license for all plants under the same ownership producing the same generic type of insulation. The total annual license fee for any insulation manufacturer shall not exceed eight thousand dollars ($8,000).

SEC. 10. Section 19074 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19074. This chapter does not apply to the manufacturer of insulating window or door glass or products containing insulating window or door glass.

SEC. 11. Section 19161.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19161.5. The chief of the bureau, subject to the approval of the Director of Consumer Affairs, may in his or her discretion exempt items of upholstered furniture which are deemed not to pose a serious fire hazard from the fire retardant requirements of Section 19161.

SEC. 12. Section 19174 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19174. All fees collected under this chapter shall be reported to the Controller and paid to the Treasurer and credited to the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation Fund, to be expended only in carrying out this chapter.

SEC. 13. Section 19175 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19175. (a) All fees collected by the bureau relating to insulation standards shall be credited to the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation Fund to be expended only for carrying out provisions of this chapter relating to insulation standards.

(b) All fees collected by the bureau relating to the home furnishings program shall be credited to the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation Fund to be expended only for carrying out the provisions of this chapter relating to the home furnishings program.

SEC. 14. Section 19213.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19213.1. The bureau may require a licensee who sells or manufactures furniture and bedding products that are inspected and found not to be in compliance with this chapter, or any regulation implementing it, to pay those reasonable fees as are necessary to cover the costs of inspections and testing necessary to investigate and enforce compliance by those licenses. The range of fees for testing or inspection shall be fixed by the bureau in an amount not less than two hundred dollars ($200) and not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each test or inspection.

SEC. 15. The heading of Chapter 10.5 (commencing with Section 25910) of Division 15 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 10.5. INSULATION MATERIAL STANDARDS

SEC. 16. It is the intent of the Legislature that the inspection program in the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation shall be reviewed and evaluated by the bureau, including the effect of decentralization of inspectors from the Division of Investigation. The bureau shall take appropriate action based on the results of this analysis to maintain the effectiveness of its activities.

SEC. 17. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 18. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to add specificity, eliminate ambiguities, and otherwise clarify the the regulatory authority of the Bureau of Home Furnishings and Thermal Insulation over insulation materials and home furnishings, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 926

An act to repeal Sections 25332 and 25333 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 1428 of the Statutes of 1985, relating to hazardous substances, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25332 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 25333 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of Chapter 1428 of the Statutes of 1985 is amended to read:

Sec. 3. The sum of twenty-one million four hundred thousand dollars ($21,400,000) is hereby appropriated from the contingency reserve for economic uncertainties in the General Fund, as provided in Section 12.30 of the Budget Act of 1985 (Chapter 111, Statutes of 1985), as follows:

(a) Sixteen million dollars ($16,000,000) to State Department of Health Services for expenditure at the Stringfellow Acid Pits without regard to fiscal years in accordance with the following schedule:

Schedule:

(1) To provide a permanent alternative water supply to residents in Glen Avon who now receive bottled water from the state	$ 1,600,000
(2) To conduct a comprehensive health study of former and current residents near the Stringfellow Acid Pits to identify and assess both acute and chronic health problems that may be linked to contaminants from the Stringfellow site.....	$ 800,000
(3) To establish a Special Stringfellow Reserve Account to be used by the department to fund special investigations and remedial or emergency actions that are necessary to fully protect the health of the residents near Stringfellow if the department determines that funds are not available from other sources including the federal Environmental Protection Agency, the responsible parties, the Hazardous Substance Account, and the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund	$13,600,000

(b) One million four hundred thousand dollars ($1,400,000) to the State Department of Health Services for expenditure without regard to fiscal years for the design, purchase, and installation of activated carbon adsorption water treatment systems for the Rurban Homes and Richwood Mutual Water Companies and the expansion of the existing carbon treatment system for the Hemlock Mutual Water Company. The department shall maximize the use of federal funds and shall enter into a written agreement with the Environmental Protection agency in which the department agrees to reimburse the agency for expenditures which exceed the agency's portion of design, purchase, and installation costs pursuant to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 9601 et seq.).

Any funds remaining following the installation of water treatment systems pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in the subaccount for site operation and maintenance established pursuant to Section 4 of Chapter 1428 of the Statutes of 1985.

(c) Four million dollars ($4,000,000) to be transferred by the Controller to the Emergency Clean Water Grant Fund. This amount is available to the State Department of Health Services without regard to fiscal years, pursuant to Section 4030.9 of the Health and Safety Code, to take remedial action to ensure safe water supplies at public water systems where there is an imminent threat to public health due to contamination of the public water supply and for which the department determines that the situation would not otherwise be adequately addressed through an action funded by any other private, local, state, or federal agency or funding source, including the Hazardous Substance Account and the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund. Four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) shall be used to design, purchase, and install water filtration systems for nitrate removal for the McFarland Mutual Water Company.

SEC. 4. Section 4 of Chapter 1428 of the Statutes of 1985 is amended to read:

Sec. 4. Upon installation of the carbon adsorption water treatment systems funded in subdivision (b) of Section 3 of this act, the State Department of Health Services shall establish, pursuant to Section 25330.5 of the Health and Safety Code, a subaccount for site operation and maintenance for remedial measures affecting the San Gabriel Valley Superfund site, and shall deposit in the subaccount sufficient funds to cover the costs of operation and maintenance of the carbon adsorption water treatment systems at the Richwood, Hemlock, and Rurban Homes Mutual Water Companies for 20 years. The State Department of Health Services may expend funds from the subaccount established pursuant to this section only to the extent that federal funds for operation and maintenance are not available pursuant to the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sec. 9601, et seq.). The funds shall be allocated from the Hazardous Substance Account or the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund.

CHAPTER 927

An act to add Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 66000) to Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, relating to development projects.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 66000) is added to Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. FEES FOR DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS

66000. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Development project" means any project undertaken for the purpose of development. "Development project" includes a project involving the issuance of a permit for construction or reconstruction, but not a permit to operate.

(b) "Fee" means a monetary exaction, other than a tax or special assessment, which is charged by a local agency to the applicant in connection with approval of a development project for the purpose of defraying all or a portion of the cost of public facilities related to the development project, but does not include fees specified in Section 66477, fees for processing applications for governmental regulatory actions or approvals, or fees collected under development agreements adopted pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 65864) of Chapter 4.

(c) "Local agency" means a county, city, whether general law or chartered, city and county, school district, special district, or any other municipal public corporation or district; provided that "local agency" does not include a school district if Senate Bill No. 97 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is enacted and becomes effective on or before January 1, 1988.

(d) "Public facilities" includes public improvements, public services, and community amenities.

66001. (a) In any action establishing, increasing, or imposing a fee as a condition of approval of a development project by a local agency on or after January 1, 1989, the local agency shall do all of the following:

(1) Identify the purpose of the fee.

(2) Identify the use to which the fee is to be put. If the use is financing public facilities, the facilities shall be identified. That identification may, but need not, be made by reference to a capital improvement plan as specified in Sections 65403 or 66002, may be made in applicable general or specific plan requirements, or may be made in other public documents that identify the public facilities for which the fee is charged.

(3) Determine how there is a reasonable relationship between the fee's use and the type of development project on which the fee is imposed.

(4) Determine how there is a reasonable relationship between the need for the public facility and the type of development project on which the fee is imposed.

(b) In any action imposing a fee as a condition of approval of a development project by a local agency on or after January 1, 1989, the local agency shall determine how there is a reasonable relationship between the amount of the fee and the cost of the public facility or portion of the public facility attributable to the development on which the fee is imposed.

(c) Upon receipt of a fee subject to this section, the local agency shall deposit, invest, account for, and expend the fees pursuant to Section 53077.

(d) The local agency shall make findings once each fiscal year with respect to any portion of the fee remaining unexpended or uncommitted in its account five or more years after deposit of the fee to identify the purpose to which the fee is to be put and to demonstrate a reasonable relationship between the fee and the purpose for which it was charged. The findings required by this subdivision need only be made for moneys in the possession of the local agency and need not be made with respect to letters of credit, bonds, or other instruments taken to secure payment of the fee at a future date.

(e) The local agency shall refund to the then current record owner or owners of the development project or projects on a prorated basis the unexpended or uncommitted portion of the fee, and any interest accrued thereon, for which need cannot be demonstrated pursuant to this subdivision. A local agency may refund the unexpended or uncommitted revenues by direct payment, by providing a temporary suspension of fees, or by any other means consistent with the intent of this section. The determination by the governing body of the local agency of the means by which those revenues are to be refunded is a legislative act.

If the administrative costs of refunding unexpended or uncommitted revenues pursuant to this subdivision exceed the amount to be refunded, the local agency, after a public hearing, notice of which has been published pursuant to Section 6061 and posted in three prominent places within the area of the development project, may determine that the revenues shall be allocated for some other purpose for which fees are collected subject to this chapter and which serves the project on which the fee was originally imposed.

66002. (a) Any local agency which levies a fee subject to Section 66001 may adopt a capital improvement plan, which shall indicate the approximate location, size, time of availability, and estimates of cost for all facilities or improvements to be financed with the fees.

(b) The capital improvement plan shall be adopted by, and shall be annually updated by, a resolution of the governing body of the local agency adopted at a noticed public hearing. Notice of the hearing shall be given pursuant to Section 65090. In addition, mailed notice shall be given to any city or county which may be significantly affected by the capital improvement plan. This notice shall be given no later than the date the local agency notices the public hearing pursuant to Section 65090. The information in the notice shall be not less than the information contained in the notice of public hearing and shall be given by first-class mail or personal delivery.

(c) "Facility" or "improvement," as used in this section, means any of the following:

(1) Public buildings, including schools and related facilities; provided that school facilities shall not be included if Senate Bill 97 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is enacted and becomes effective on or before January 1, 1988.

(2) Facilities for the storage, treatment, and distribution of nonagricultural water.

(3) Facilities for the collection, treatment, reclamation, and disposal of sewage.

(4) Facilities for the collection and disposal of storm waters and for flood control purposes.

(5) Facilities for the generation of electricity and the distribution of gas and electricity.

(6) Transportation and transit facilities, including but not limited to streets and supporting improvements, roads, overpasses, bridges, harbors, ports, airports, and related facilities.

(7) Parks and recreation facilities.

(8) Any other capital project identified in the capital facilities plan adopted pursuant to Section 66002.

66003. This chapter does not apply to a fee imposed pursuant to a reimbursement agreement by and between a city or county and a property owner or developer for that portion of the cost of a public facility paid by the property owner or developer which exceeds the need for the public facility attributable to and reasonably related to the development. This chapter shall become operative on January 1, 1989.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution, because this act does not mandate a new program or higher level of service on local government. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 17550) of Part 7 of Division 2 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 928

An act to add Section 1444.6 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to county medical facilities.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1444.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1444.6. If a county hospital requests an ambulance to transfer a mental health patient who is unstable and has a history of being assaultive to another facility, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director of the hospital or a designee shall inform the ambulance personnel of the instability and potential assaultiveness of the mental health patient. The county hospital shall establish procedures as are necessary to assure that the notification required by this section is given in appropriate cases and to assure that these notifications are documented.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act does not mandate a new program or higher level of service on local government. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 17550) of Part 7 of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 929

An act to amend Sections 1260, 1265.5, 1265.6, and 1379 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1260 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1260. (a) An individual disqualified under Section 1256, under a determination transmitted to him or her by the department, is ineligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits for the week in which the act that causes his or her disqualification occurs and continuing until he or she has, subsequent to the act that causes disqualification and his or her registration for work, performed service in bona fide employment for which remuneration is received equal to or in excess of five times his or her weekly benefit amount.

(b) An individual disqualified under subdivision (b) of Section 1257, under a determination transmitted to him or her by the department, is ineligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits for not less than 2 nor more than 10 consecutive weeks beginning with:

(1) The week in which the cause of his or her disqualification occurs, if he or she registers for work in that week.

(2) The week subsequent to the occurrence of the cause of his or her disqualification in which he or she first registers for work, if he or she does not register for work in the week in which the cause of his or her disqualification occurs.

(c) An individual disqualified under subdivision (a) of Section 1257, under a determination transmitted to him or her by the department, is ineligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits for the week in which the determination is mailed to or personally served upon him or her, or any subsequent week, for which he or she is first otherwise in all respects eligible for unemployment compensation benefits and for not more than nine subsequent weeks for which he or she is otherwise in all respects eligible for unemployment compensation benefits. No disqualification under this subdivision shall be applied to any week if all or any portion of the week is beyond the three-year period next succeeding the date of the mailing or personal service of the determination. This subdivision shall not apply to an individual convicted under Section 2101.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), an individual who is subject to a disqualification that is imposed under subdivision (b) of Section 1257 may, if he or she is otherwise in all respects eligible for unemployment compensation benefits, concurrently serve a disqualification imposed under subdivision (a) of Section 1257.

SEC. 2. Section 1265.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1265.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, payments to an individual for vacation pay which was earned but not paid for services performed prior to termination of employment, or commencement of unemployment caused by disability, as the case may be, shall not be construed to be wages or compensation for personal services under this division and benefits payable under this division shall not be denied or reduced because of the receipt of these payments.

SEC. 3. Section 1265.6 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1265.6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, payments to an individual for holiday pay for any holiday occurring in a week during which the individual was unemployed shall be deemed wages received for the week in which the individual returns to work, if holiday pay is not paid until the individual returns to work from a definite period of layoff. Payments to an individual for holiday pay for any holiday occurring in a week during which the individual was unemployed shall be deemed wages received for the week in which the holiday falls, if holiday pay is paid prior to the individual's return to work from a definite period of layoff.

However, payments to an individual for holiday pay which was earned but not paid prior to an indefinite layoff, or termination of employment, or commencement of unemployment caused by disability, as the case may be, shall not be construed to be wages or compensation for personal services under this division and benefits payable under this division shall not be denied or reduced because of the receipt of these payments.

SEC. 4. Section 1379 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1379. The director, subject to the provisions of this article, may do any or all of the following in the recovery of overpayments of unemployment compensation benefits:

(a) File a civil action against the liable person for the recovery of the amount of the overpayment within one year after any of the following:

(1) The mailing or personal service of the notice of overpayment determination if the person affected does not file an appeal to an administrative law judge.

(2) The mailing of the decision of the administrative law judge if the person affected does not initiate a further appeal to the appeals board.

(3) The date of the decision of the appeals board.

(b) Initiate proceedings for a summary judgment against the liable person. However, this subdivision applies only where the director has found, pursuant to Section 1375, that the overpayment may not be waived because it was due to fraud, misrepresentation, or willful nondisclosure on the part of the recipient. The director may, not later than one year after the overpayment became final, file with the clerk of the proper court in the county from which the overpayment of benefits was paid or in the county in which the claimant resides, a certificate containing all of the following:

(1) The amount due, including the assessment made under Section 1375.1, plus interest from the date that the initial determination of overpayment was made pursuant to Section 1376.

(2) A statement that the director has complied with all the provisions of this article prior to the filing of the certificate.

(3) A request that judgment be entered against the liable person in the amount set forth in the certificate.

The clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the State of California against the liable person in the amount set forth in the certificate.

For the purposes of this subdivision only, an overpayment is final and due and payable after any of the following:

(A) The liable person has not filed an appeal pursuant to Section 1377.

(B) The liable person has filed an appeal to the administrative law judge and a decision of an administrative law judge has become final.

(C) The liable person has filed an appeal to the appeals board and the decision of the appeals board has become final because the liable person has not sought judicial review within the six-month period provided by Section 410.

(c) Offset the amount of the overpayment received by the liable person against any amount of benefits to which he or she may become entitled under this division within six years of the date of the mailing or personal service of the notice of overpayment determination.

SEC. 5. The amendments made to Sections 2626.1 and 2626.2 of the Unemployment Insurance Code by Chapter 255 of the Statutes of 1987 shall apply to periods of disability commencing on or after January 1, 1988.

CHAPTER 930

An act to amend Sections 7026.10, 7029.1, 7058.5, 7068.2, 7099, and 7143 of, and to add Sections 7026.2 and 7083.1 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to contractors, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7026.10 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7026.10. Any person, licensed or unlicensed, who willfully and intentionally uses, with intent to defraud, a contractor's license number which does not correspond to the number on a currently valid contractor's license held by that person is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in state prison, or in county jail for not more than one year, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2. Section 7026.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7026.2. As used in this article, "contractor" includes any person, consultant to an owner-builder, firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, or company, who or which undertakes to, offers to undertake to, purports to have the capacity to undertake to, or, except in the case of a joint venture which qualifies for a joint venture license under Section 7029, submits a bid to or does itself or by or through others, or on behalf of an owner-builder submits a bid to, construct any building or home improvement project, or part thereof.

SEC. 3. Section 7029.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7029.1. It is unlawful for any two or more licensees, each of whom has been issued a license to act separately in the capacity of a contractor within this state, to be awarded a contract jointly or otherwise act as a contractor without first having secured a joint venture license in accordance with the provisions of this chapter as provided for an individual, partnership or corporation. Any violation of this section shall also constitute a cause for disciplinary action. If a combination of licensees submit a bid for the performance of work for which a joint venture license is required, a failure to obtain that license shall not prevent the imposition of any penalty specified by law for the failure of a contractor who submits a bid to enter into a contract pursuant to the bid.

SEC. 4. Section 7058.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7058.5. (a) On and after January 1, 1987, no contractor shall engage in asbestos-related work, as defined in Section 6501.8 of the Labor Code, which involves 100 square feet or more of surface area of asbestos containing materials, unless the qualifier for the license passes an asbestos certification examination. Additional updated asbestos certification examinations may be required based on new health and safety information. The decision on whether to require an updated certification examination shall be made by the Contractors' State License Board, in consultation with the Division of Occupational Safety and Health in the Department of Industrial Relations and the State Department of Health Services.

No asbestos certification examination shall be required for contractors involved with the installation, maintenance, and repair of asbestos cement pipe or sheets, vinyl asbestos floor materials, or asbestos bituminous or resinous materials.

"Asbestos" as used in this section, has the same meaning as defined in Section 6501.7 of the Labor Code.

(b) On or after January 1, 1987, and until December 31, 1989, the Contractors' State License Board shall develop, and deliver to all contractors at each renewal thereafter, and to all applicants with the request for bond and fee, a booklet containing information relative to handling and disposal of asbestos, together with an open book examination concerning asbestos-related work. All contractors and applicants for a contractor's license shall complete and sign the open book examination and submit it to the Contractors' State License Board with the required renewal or bond and fee. On or after January 1, 1990, only applicants for an original license shall complete and sign the open book examination and submit it to the Contractors' State License Board with the required bond and fee.

SEC. 5. Section 7068.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7068.2. If the responsible managing officer or responsible managing employee disassociates from the licensed entity, the licensee, or the qualifier shall notify the registrar in writing, and the licensee shall replace the qualifier, within 90 days from the date of disassociation.

To replace a responsible managing officer or responsible managing employee, the licensee shall file an application as prescribed by the registrar, accompanied by the fee fixed by this chapter, designating an individual to qualify as required by this chapter.

Upon failure to replace the qualifier within 90 days of the disassociation the license shall be automatically suspended or the classification removed at the end of the 90 days.

The registrar may review and accept the petition of a licensee who disputes the date of disassociation or who has failed to notify and replace the qualifier within the prescribed time, upon a showing of good cause by the contractor. This petition shall be received within 90 days from the date of the board's notice that the license will be suspended if the qualifier is not replaced. The registrar may grant only one 90-day extension to replace the qualifier.

Upon failure of the licensee or the qualifier to notify the registrar of the disassociation within 90 days from the date of disassociation, the license shall be automatically suspended or the classification removed and the qualifier removed from the license effective the date the written notification is received at the board's headquarters office.

The person qualifying on behalf of an individual or firm under subdivision (a), (b), or (c) of Section 7068 shall be responsible for the licensee's construction operations until the board receives the written notification of disassociation.

Failure of the licensee or the qualifier to notify the registrar of the qualifier's disassociation within 90 days of the disassociation is grounds for disciplinary action.

SEC. 6. Section 7083.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7083.1. Any licensee whose license is expired, canceled, or inactive, shall notify the registrar in writing of any change of address of record within 90 days, and shall maintain a current address of record during the three-year period immediately following the expiration, cancellation, or inactivation of the license.

SEC. 7. Section 7099 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7099. If, upon investigation, the registrar has probable cause to believe that a licensee, or an applicant for a license under this chapter, has committed any acts or omissions which are grounds for denial, revocation, or suspension of license, he or she may, in lieu of proceeding pursuant to this article, issue a citation to the licensee or applicant. Each citation shall be in writing and shall describe with particularity the nature of the violation, including a reference to the provisions alleged to have been violated. In addition, each citation may contain an order of correction fixing a reasonable time for correction of the violation or an order, against the licensee only, for payment of a specified sum to an injured party in lieu of correction, and may contain an assessment of a civil penalty.

SEC. 8. Section 7143 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7143. A license which is suspended for any reason which constitutes a basis for suspension under this chapter, is subject to expiration and shall not be renewed as active. The license may only be renewed as inactive, but such renewal does not entitle the licensee, while the license remains suspended, and until it is reinstated, to engage in the licensed activity, or in any other activity or conduct in violation of the order or judgment by which the license was suspended.

SEC. 9. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

This bill will save the Contractors' State License Board a substantial amount of money through prompt enactment; thus, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 931

An act to amend Section 211.3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 211.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

211.3. (a) The director shall establish a statewide system for the collection of information determining the incidence of cancer, using population-based tumor registries modeled after the Cancer Surveillance Program of Orange County. As of the effective date of this section the director shall begin phasing in the statewide cancer reporting system. By July 1, 1988, all county or regional registries shall be implemented or initiated. By July 1, 1990, the statewide cancer reporting system shall be fully operational. Within 60 days of the effective date of this section, the director shall submit an implementation and funding schedule to the Legislature.

(b) The department may designate any demographic parts of the state as regional cancer incidence reporting areas and may establish regional cancer registries, with the responsibility and authority to carry out the intent of this section in designated areas. Designated regional registries shall provide, on a timely basis, cancer incidence data as designated by the department to the department. The department may contract with an agency, including, but not limited to, a health systems agency, single county health department, multicounty health department grouping, or nonprofit professional association, representing a designated cancer reporting region for the purposes of collecting and collating cancer incidence data.

(c) The director shall designate cancer as a disease required to be reported in the state or any demographic parts of the state in which cancer information is collected under this section. All cancers diagnosed or treated in the reporting area shall thereafter be reported to the representative of the state department authorized to compile the cancer data, or any individual, agency, or organization designated to cooperate with that representative.

(d) (1) Any hospital or other facility providing therapy to cancer patients within an area designated as a cancer reporting area shall report each case of cancer to the department or the authorized representative of the department in a format prescribed by the department. If the hospital or other facility fails to report in a format prescribed by the department, the department's authorized representative may access the information from the hospital or the facility and report it in the appropriate format. In these cases, the hospital or other health facility shall reimburse the department or the authorized representative for its cost to access and report the information.

(2) Any physician, dentist, podiatrist, or other health care practitioner diagnosing or providing treatment for cancer patients shall report each cancer case to the department or the authorized representative of the department except for those cases directly referred to a treatment facility or those previously admitted to a treatment facility for diagnosis or treatment of that instance of cancer.

(e) Any hospital or other facility which is required to reimburse the department or its authorized representative for the cost to access and report the information pursuant to subdivision (d) shall provide payment to the department or its authorized representative within 60 days of the date this payment is demanded. In the event any hospital or other facility fails to make the payment to the department or its authorized representative within 60 days of the date the payment is demanded, the department or its authorized representative may, at its discretion, assess a late fee not to exceed 1½ percent per month of the outstanding balance. Further, in the event that the department or its authorized representative takes a legal action to recover its costs and any associated fees, and the department or its authorized representative receives a judgment in its favor, the hospital or other facility shall also reimburse the department or its authorized representative for any additional costs it incurred to pursue the legal action. Late fees and payments made to the department by hospitals or other facilities pursuant to this subdivision shall be considered as reimbursements of the additional costs incurred by the department.

(f) All physicians, hospitals, outpatient clinics, nursing homes and all other facilities, individuals or agencies providing diagnostic or treatment services to patients with cancer shall grant to the department or the authorized representative access to all records which would identify cases of cancer or would establish characteristics of the cancer, treatment of the cancer, or medical status of any identified cancer patient. Willful failure to grant access to those records shall be punishable by a fine of up to five hundred dollars ($500) each day access is refused. Any fines collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in the General Fund.

(g) All information reported pursuant to this section shall be confidential, as provided in Section 211.5, and shall be used for the purpose of determining the sources of malignant neoplasms and evaluating measures designed to eliminate, alleviate, or ameliorate their effect.

(h) For the purpose of this section, "cancer" means all malignant neoplasms, regardless of the tissue of origin, including malignant lymphoma, Hodgkins disease, and leukemia, but excluding basal cell and squamous cell carcinoma of the skin.

(i) Nothing in this section shall preempt the authority of facilities or individuals, providing diagnostic or treatment services to patients with cancer, to maintain their own facility-based tumor registries.

(j) It is the intent of the Legislature that the department, in establishing a system pursuant to this section, maximize the use of available federal funds.

CHAPTER 932

An act to amend Section 41805.5 of the Health and Safety Code, and to add Sections 13273.1, 13273.2, and 13273.3 to the Water Code, relating to solid waste, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 41805.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

41805.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), the operator of a solid waste disposal site shall submit to the district on or before July 1, 1987, a solid waste air quality assessment test report that contains all of the following:

(1) Test results to determine if there is any underground landfill gas migration beyond the solid waste disposal site's perimeter.

(2) Analyses for specified air contaminants in the ambient air adjacent to the solid waste disposal site to determine the effect of the site on air quality.

(3) Chemical characterization test results to determine the composition of gas streams immediately above the solid waste disposal site, or immediately above the solid waste disposal site and within the solid waste disposal site, as appropriate, as determined by the district.

(4) Any other information which the district board may require, by emergency regulation.

The solid waste air quality assessment test report shall be prepared in accordance with the guidelines developed by the state board pursuant to subdivision (d).

(b) The operator of an inactive solid waste disposal site shall complete and submit the screening questionnaire, developed pursuant to subdivision (e), to the district on or before November 1, 1986, unless the operator is required to submit a report containing the same information specified in subdivision (a) pursuant to a federal, state, or district order, or unless exempted pursuant to subdivision (c). The district shall evaluate the submitted screening questionnaires in accordance with the guidelines developed pursuant to subdivision (e) and shall determine whether the operator of the site be required to submit all, or a portion of, the information required to be reported in a solid waste air quality assessment test report. The district shall notify the operator in writing on or before January 1, 1987, of the information identified in subdivision (a) to be submitted for the site. After receiving this notification, the operator of the inactive solid waste disposal site shall submit a solid waste air quality assessment test report containing the required information on or before January 1, 1988, to the district.

(c) A district may exempt from subdivisions (a) and (b) a solid waste disposal site or inactive solid waste disposal site which has accepted or now contains only inert and nondecomposable solids. To receive an exemption, the operator of the site shall submit, on or before November 1, 1986, a copy of all permits, all waste discharge requirements pertinent to the site, and any other data necessary for the district to determine whether an exemption should be granted to the site.

(d) On or before February 1, 1987, the state board, in coordination with the districts, shall develop and publish test guidelines for the solid waste air quality assessment report specifying the air contaminants to be tested for and identifying acceptable testing, analytical, and reporting methods to be employed in completing the report.

(e) On or before October 1, 1986, the state board, in coordination with the districts, shall develop and publish a screening questionnaire for inactive solid waste disposal sites and guidelines for evaluating the questionnaire by the districts pursuant to subdivision (b). The screening questionnaire and guidelines shall require an inactive solid waste disposal site to be evaluated based on the nature and age of materials in the site, the quantity of materials in the site, the size of the site, and other appropriate factors. The guidelines for evaluating the screening questionnaire shall require a district to weigh heavily the proximity of the site to residences, schools, and other sensitive areas, and to pay particular attention to potential adverse impacts on facilities such as hospitals and schools, and on residential areas, within one mile of the site's perimeter.

(f) A district may reevaluate the status of a solid waste disposal site, including sites exempted pursuant to subdivision (c), and require the operator to submit or revise a solid waste air quality assessment test report after January 1, 1987. The district shall give written notification to the operator of the solid waste disposal site that a solid waste air quality assessment test report is to be submitted, or that the existing report is to be revised, and the date by which the report is to be submitted.

(g) A district shall evaluate any solid waste air quality assessment test reports submitted pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b), and (f), and determine if the report's testing, analytical and reporting methods comply with the guidelines developed pursuant to subdivision (d). If the district determines that the solid waste air quality assessment test report complies with the guidelines, it shall evaluate the data. If the district determines, after evaluation of the report and consultation with the state department and the California Waste Management Board, that levels of one or more specified air contaminants pose a health risk to human beings or a threat to the environment, the district shall take appropriate remedial action.

(h) If a district determines that a solid waste air quality assessment test report does not comply with the guidelines developed pursuant to subdivision (d), the district shall provide the operator of the site with a written notice specifying the inadequacies of the report and shall require the operator to correct the deficiencies and resubmit the report by a date determined by the district.

(i) For the purpose of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Inactive solid waste disposal site" means a solid waste disposal site which has not received any solid waste for disposal after January 1, 1984.

(2) "Landfill gas" means any untreated, raw gas derived through a natural process from the decomposition of organic waste deposited in a solid waste disposal site or from the evolution of volatile species in the waste.

(3) "Operator" means the person who operates or manages, or who has operated or managed, the solid waste disposal site. If the operator of the solid waste disposal site no longer exists, or is unable, as determined by the district, to comply with the requirements of this section, "operator" means any person who owns or who has owned the solid waste disposal site.

(4) "Perimeter" means the outer boundary of the entire solid waste disposal site property.

(5) "Solid waste disposal site" means a place, location, tract of land, area, or premises in use, or which has been used, for the landfill disposal of solid waste, as defined in Section 66719 of the Government Code, or hazardous waste, as defined in Section 66714.8 of the Government Code, or both.

(6) "Specified air contaminants" means substances determined to be air contaminants by the state board in coordination with the districts. The state board and the districts shall consider determining the following compounds to be air contaminants for purposes of this paragraph: benzene, chloroethene, 1,2-dibromoethane, 1,2-dichloroethane benzyl chloride, chlorobenzene, dichlorobenzene, 1,1-dichloroethene, dichloromethane, formaldehyde, hydrogen sulfide, tetrachloroethylene, tetrachloromethane, toluene, 1,1,1-trichloroethane, trichloroethylene, trichloromethane, xylene, and any other substance deemed appropriate by the state board or a district.

SEC. 2. Section 13273.1 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13273.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), an operator of a solid waste disposal site may submit a solid waste assessment questionnaire to the appropriate regional board at least 24 months prior to the site's solid waste water quality assessment test due date as established pursuant to Section 13273. The regional board shall require the operator to submit any additional information, as needed, or require onsite verification of the solid waste assessment questionnaire data in order to render a decision pursuant to subdivision (c).

(b) Any solid waste disposal site which is larger than 50,000 cubic yards or is known or suspected to contain hazardous substances, other than household hazardous wastes, shall be prohibited from submitting a solid waste assessment questionnaire under this section.

(c) The regional board shall complete a thorough analysis of each solid waste assessment questionnaire submitted pursuant to this section by a date 18 months prior to the solid waste assessment test due date. Based upon this analysis, the regional board shall determine whether or not the site has discharged hazardous substances which will impact the beneficial uses of water. If the regional board determines that the site has not so discharged hazardous substances, the regional board shall notify the operator that the operator is not required to prepare a solid waste water quality assessment test pursuant to Section 13273.

(d) If the regional board does not make the determination specified in subdivision (c), the operator shall submit all, or a portion of, a solid waste water quality assessment test. The regional board shall notify the operator of this determination and indicate if all, or what portion of, a solid waste water quality assessment test shall be required. The operator shall submit the solid waste water quality assessment test, or a portion thereof, by the date established pursuant to Section 13273.

(e) The state board shall develop a solid waste assessment questionnaire and guidelines for submittal no later than three months after the effective date of this statute adding this section. The questionnaire shall contain, but not be limited to, a characterization of the wastes, size of the site, age of the site, and other appropriate factors.

(f) Those operators of solid waste disposal sites listed by the state board pursuant to Section 13273 in Rank 3 and seeking an exemption under this section shall submit their solid waste assessment questionnaire no later than July 1, 1988. If the regional board does not make the determination specified in subdivision (c), the regional board shall require the operator to submit all, or a portion of, a solid waste water quality assessment test by July 1, 1990.

SEC. 3. Section 13273.2 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13273.2. Notwithstanding subdivision (b) of Section 13273.1, a regional board may reevaluate the status of any solid waste disposal site ranked pursuant to Section 13273, including those sites exempted pursuant to Section 13273.1, and may require the operator to submit or revise a solid waste water quality assessment test after July 1, 1989. The regional board shall give written notification to the operator that a solid waste assessment test is required and the due date. This section shall not require submittal of a solid waste water quality assessment test by a date earlier than established in accordance with Section 13273.

SEC. 4. Section 13273.3 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13273.3. As used in Sections 13273, 13273.1, and 13273.2, "operator" means a person who operates or manages, or who has operated or managed, the solid waste disposal site. If the operator of the solid waste disposal site no longer exists, or is unable, as determined by the regional board, to comply with the requirements of Section 13273, 13273.1, or 13273.2, "operator" means any person who owns or who has owned the solid waste disposal site.

SEC. 5. The sum of forty-nine thousand dollars ($49,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Water Resources Control Board for expenditure during the 1987–88 fiscal year for purposes of Section 13273.1 of the Water Code.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to better protect the public health and safety by providing a screening procedure for inactive solid waste disposal sites, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 933

An act to amend Sections 25355.5 and 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25355.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25355.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b), (c), and (d), no money shall be expended from the Hazardous Substance Account or the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund for removal or remedial actions on any site selected for inclusion on the list established pursuant to Section 25356, unless the department first takes both of the following actions:

(1) The department issues one of the following orders or enters into the following agreement:

(A) The department issues an order specifying a schedule for compliance or correction pursuant to Section 25187.

(B) The department issues an order establishing a schedule for removing or remedying the release of a hazardous substance at the site, or for correcting the conditions that threaten the release of a hazardous substance. The order shall include, but is not limited to, requiring specific dates by which necessary corrective actions shall be taken to remove the threat of a release, or dates by which the nature and extent of a release shall be determined and the site adequately characterized, a remedial action plan shall be prepared, the remedial action plan shall be submitted to the department for approval, and a removal or remedial action shall be completed.

(C) The department enters into an enforceable agreement with a potentially responsible party for the site which requires the party to take necessary corrective action to remove the threat of the release, or to determine the nature and extent of the release and adequately characterize the site, prepare a remedial action plan, and complete the necessary removal or remedial actions, as required in the approved remedial action plan.

(2) The department determines, in writing, that the potentially responsible party or parties for the hazardous substance release site have not complied with all of the terms of an order issued pursuant to subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (1) or an agreement entered into pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1). Before the department determines that a potentially responsible party is not in compliance with the order or agreement, the department shall give the potentially responsible party written notice of the proposed determination and an opportunity to correct the noncompliance or show why the order should be modified. After the department has made the final determination that a potentially responsible party is not in compliance with the order or agreement, the department may expend money from the Hazardous Substance Account or the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund for a removal or remedial action.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not apply, and money from the Hazardous Substance Account or the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund shall be available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for removal or remedial actions, if any of the following conditions apply:

(1) The department, after a reasonable effort, is unable to identify a potential responsible party for the hazardous substance release site.

(2) The department determines that immediate corrective action is necessary, as provided in Section 25354.

(3) The director determines that removal or remedial action at a site is necessary because there may be an imminent and substantial endangerment to the public health or welfare or to the environment.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the department may expend funds, upon appropriation by the Legislature, from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund or the Hazardous Substance Account to conduct activities necessary to verify that an uncontrolled release of hazardous substances has occurred at a suspected hazardous substance release site, to issue an order or enter into an enforceable agreement pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), and to review, comment upon, and approve or disapprove remedial action plans submitted by potentially responsible parties subject to the orders or the enforceable agreement.

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the department may expend funds, upon appropriation by the Legislature, from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund or the Hazardous Substance Account to provide for oversight of removal and remedial actions, or to provide the state's share of a removal or remedial action, if the site is also listed on the federal act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 9604(c)(3)).

(e) A responsible party who fails, as determined by the department in writing, to comply with an order issued pursuant to subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), or to comply with all of the terms of an enforceable agreement entered into pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), shall be deemed, for purposes of subdivision (b) of Section 25355, to have failed to take action properly and in a timely fashion with respect to a hazardous substance release or a threatened release.

SEC. 2. Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25356.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the department, or, if appropriate, the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve remedial action plans for all sites listed pursuant to Section 25356.

(b) A potentially responsible party may request the department or the regional water quality control board, when appropriate, to prepare or approve a remedial action plan for any site not listed pursuant to Section 25356 if the department or the State Water Resources Control Board determines that a removal or remedial action is required to respond to a release of a hazardous substance. The department or the state board shall respond to a request to prepare or approve a remedial action plan within 90 days of receipt. This subdivision does not affect the authority of any regional water quality control board to issue and enforce a cleanup and abatement order pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code or a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code.

(c) All remedial action plans prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall be based upon Section 25350, Subpart F of the National Oil and Hazardous Substances Pollution Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. Sec. 300.61 et seq.), and upon all of the following factors, to the extent that these factors are consistent with these federal regulations and do not require a less stringent level of cleanup than these federal regulations:

(1) Health and safety risks posed by the conditions at the site. When considering these risks, the department or the regional water quality control board shall consider scientific data and reports which may have a relationship to the site.

(2) The effect of contamination or pollution levels upon present, future, and probable beneficial uses of contaminated, polluted, or threatened resources.

(3) The effect of alternative remedial action measures on the reasonable availability of groundwater resources for present, future, and probable beneficial uses. The department or regional water quality control board shall consider the extent to which remedial action measures are available which use, as a principal element, treatment that significantly reduces the volume, toxicity, or mobility of the hazardous substances, as opposed to remedial actions which do not use this treatment. The department or regional water quality control board shall not select remedial action measures which use offsite transport and disposal of untreated hazardous substances or contaminated materials if practical and cost-effective treatment technologies are available.

(4) Site specific characteristics, including the potential for offsite migration of hazardous substances, the surface or subsurface soil, and the hydrogeologic conditions, as well as preexisting background contamination levels.

(5) Cost effectiveness of alternative remedial action measures. In evaluating the cost effectiveness of proposed alternative remedial action measures, the department or regional water quality control board shall consider, to the extent possible, the total short-term and long-term costs of these actions and shall use, as a major factor, whether the deferral of a remedial action will result, or is likely to result, in a rapid increase in cost or in the hazard to public health or the environment posed by the site. Land disposal shall not be deemed the most cost-effective measure merely on the basis of lower short-term cost.

(6) The potential environmental impacts of alternative remedial action measures, including, but not limited to, land disposal of the untreated hazardous substances as opposed to treatment of the hazardous substances to remove or reduce its volume, toxicity, or mobility prior to disposal.

(d) A remedial action plan prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall include a statement of reasons setting forth the basis for the removal and remedial actions selected. The statement shall include an evaluation of each proposed alternative submitted to, or prepared by, the department or the regional water quality control board for a particular site. The statement shall also include an evaluation of the consistency of the removal and remedial actions proposed by the plan with the federal regulations and factors specified in subdivision (c) and shall set forth the reasons for rejection of alternative removal and remedial actions. The statement shall also include a nonbinding preliminary allocation of responsibility among all identifiable potentially responsible parties at a particular site, including those parties which may have been released, or may otherwise be immune, from liability pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law. Before adopting a final remedial action plan, the department or the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve a draft remedial action plan and shall do all of the following:

(1) Circulate the draft plan for at least 30 days for public comment.

(2) Notify affected local and state agencies of the removal and remedial actions proposed in the remedial action plan and publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area affected by the draft remedial action plan. The department or the regional water quality control board shall also post notices in the location where the proposed removal or remedial action would be located and shall notify, by direct mailing, the owners of property contiguous to the site addressed by the plan, as shown in the latest equalized assessment roll.

(3) Hold one or more meetings with the lead and responsible agencies for the removal and remedial actions, the potentially responsible parties for the removal and remedial actions, and the interested public, to provide the public with the information which is necessary to address the issues which concern the public. The information to be provided shall include an assessment of the degree of contamination, the characteristics of the hazardous substances, an estimate of the time required to carry out the removal and remedial actions, and a description of the proposed removal and remedial actions.

(4) Comply with Section 25358.7.

(e) After complying with subdivision (d), the department or the regional water quality control board shall review and consider any public comments, and shall revise the draft plan, if appropriate. The department or the regional water quality control board shall then issue the final remedial action plan.

(f) A potentially responsible party named in the final remedial action plan issued by the department or the regional water quality control board may seek judicial review of the final remedial action plan pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 30 days after the final plan is issued. The filing of a petition seeking judicial review of a final remedial action plan shall not stay any removal or remedial action specified in the final plan.

For purposes of judicial review, the court shall uphold the final remedial action plan if the plan is based upon substantial evidence available to the department or the regional water quality control board, as the case may be. This subdivision does not prohibit the court from granting any appropriate relief within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to, enjoining the expenditure of funds pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 25385.6.

(g) (1) This section does not require the department or a regional water quality control board to prepare a remedial action plan if conditions present at a site present an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health and safety or to the environment.

(2) A remedial action plan is not required pursuant to subdivision (a) if all of the following apply:

(A) The department, a regional water quality control board, or a responsible party takes a removal action at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356 to prevent, minimize, or mitigate damage that may otherwise result from a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

(B) The total cost of the removal action is less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000).

(C) The department, after appropriate testing and analysis, determines that the removal action has adequately abated conditions at the site and the site may be removed from the list established pursuant to Section 25356.

(3) Paragraph (2) of this subdivision does not apply to a removal action paid from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund.

(h) Article 2 (commencing with Section 13320), Article 3 (commencing with Section 13330), Article 5 (commencing with Section 13350), and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13360) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code apply to any action or failure to act by a regional water quality control board pursuant to this section.

SEC. 3. Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25356.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the department, or, if appropriate, the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve remedial action plans for all sites listed pursuant to Section 25356.

(b) A potentially responsible party may request the department or the regional water quality control board, when appropriate, to prepare or approve a remedial action plan for any site not listed

pursuant to Section 25356 if the department or the State Water Resources Control Board determines that a removal or remedial action is required to respond to a release of a hazardous substance. The department or the state board shall respond to a request to prepare or approve a remedial action plan within 90 days of receipt. This subdivision does not affect the authority of any regional water quality control board to issue and enforce a cleanup and abatement order pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code or a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code.

(c) All remedial action plans prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall be based upon Section 25350, Subpart F of the National Oil and Hazardous Substances Pollution Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. Sec. 300.61 et seq.), and any amendments thereto, and upon all of the following factors, to the extent that these factors are consistent with these federal regulations and do not require a less stringent level of cleanup than these federal regulations:

(1) Health and safety risks posed by the conditions at the site. When considering these risks, the department or the regional water quality control board shall consider scientific data and reports which may have a relationship to the site.

(2) The effect of contamination or pollution levels upon present, future, and probable beneficial uses of contaminated, polluted, or threatened resources.

(3) The effect of alternative remedial action measures on the reasonable availability of groundwater resources for present, future, and probable beneficial uses. The department or regional water quality control board shall consider the extent to which remedial action measures are available which use, as a principal element, treatment that significantly reduces the volume, toxicity, or mobility of the hazardous substances, as opposed to remedial actions which do not use this treatment. The department or regional water quality control board shall not select remedial action measures which use offsite transport and disposal of untreated hazardous substances or contaminated materials if practical and cost-effective treatment technologies are available.

(4) Site specific characteristics, including the potential for offsite migration of hazardous substances, the surface or subsurface soil, and the hydrogeologic conditions, as well as preexisting background contamination levels.

(5) Cost effectiveness of alternative remedial action measures. In evaluating the cost effectiveness of proposed alternative remedial action measures, the department or regional water quality control board shall consider, to the extent possible, the total short-term and long-term costs of these actions and shall use, as a major factor, whether the deferral of a remedial action will result, or is likely to result, in a rapid increase in cost or in the hazard to public health or the environment posed by the site. Land disposal shall not be deemed the most cost-effective measure merely on the basis of lower short-term cost.

(6) The potential environmental impacts of alternative remedial action measures, including, but not limited to, land disposal of the untreated hazardous substances as opposed to treatment of the hazardous substances to remove or reduce its volume, toxicity, or mobility prior to disposal.

(d) A remedial action plan prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall include a statement of reasons setting forth the basis for the removal and remedial actions selected. The statement shall include an evaluation of each proposed alternative submitted to, or prepared by, the department or the regional water quality control board for a particular site. The statement shall also include an evaluation of the consistency of the removal and remedial actions proposed by the plan with the federal regulations and factors specified in subdivision (c) and shall set forth the reasons for rejection of alternative removal and remedial actions. The statement shall also include a nonbinding preliminary allocation of responsibility among all identifiable potentially responsible parties at a particular site, including those parties which may have been released, or may otherwise be immune, from liability pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law. Before adopting a final remedial action plan, the department or the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve a draft remedial action plan and shall do all of the following:

(1) Circulate the draft plan for at least 30 days for public comment.

(2) Notify affected local and state agencies of the removal and remedial actions proposed in the remedial action plan and publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area affected by the draft remedial action plan. The department or the regional water quality control board shall also post notices in the location where the proposed removal or remedial action would be located and shall notify, by direct mailing, the owners of property contiguous to the site addressed by the plan, as shown in the latest equalized assessment roll.

(3) Hold one or more meetings with the lead and responsible agencies for the removal and remedial actions, the potentially responsible parties for the removal and remedial actions, and the interested public, to provide the public with the information which is necessary to address the issues which concern the public. The information to be provided shall include an assessment of the degree of contamination, the characteristics of the hazardous substances, an estimate of the time required to carry out the removal and remedial actions, and a description of the proposed removal and remedial actions.

(4) Comply with Section 25358.7.

(e) After complying with subdivision (d), the department or the regional water quality control board shall review and consider any public comments, and shall revise the draft plan, if appropriate. The department or the regional water quality control board shall then issue the final remedial action plan.

(f) A potentially responsible party named in the final remedial action plan issued by the department or the regional water quality control board may seek judicial review of the final remedial action plan pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 30 days after the final plan is issued. The filing of a petition seeking judicial review of a final remedial action plan shall not stay any removal or remedial action specified in the final plan.

For purposes of judicial review, the court shall uphold the final remedial action plan if the plan is based upon substantial evidence available to the department or the regional water quality control board, as the case may be. This subdivision does not prohibit the court from granting any appropriate relief within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to, enjoining the expenditure of funds pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 25385.6.

(g) (1) This section does not require the department or a regional water quality control board to prepare a remedial action plan if conditions present at a site present an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health and safety or to the environment.

(2) A remedial action plan is not required pursuant to subdivision (a) if all of the following apply:

(A) The department, a regional water quality control board, or a responsible party takes a removal action at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356 to prevent, minimize, or mitigate damage that may otherwise result from a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

(B) The total cost of the removal action is less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000).

(C) The department, after appropriate testing and analysis, determines that the removal action has adequately abated conditions at the site and the site may be removed from the list established pursuant to Section 25356.

(3) Paragraph (2) of this subdivision does not apply to a removal action paid from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund.

(h) Article 2 (commencing with Section 13320), Article 3 (commencing with Section 13330), Article 5 (commencing with Section 13350), and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13360) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code apply to any action or failure to act by a regional water quality control board pursuant to this section.

SEC. 4. Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1191. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1191, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 934

An act to amend Sections 2456, 2457, and 3535 of, and to add Sections 2456.1, 2456.2, and 2456.3 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to osteopathic physicians and surgeons and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2456 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2456. (a) Each person holding a certificate issued by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners residing in or out of California shall pay to the secretary-treasurer of the board an annual tax and registration fee.

(b) Fictitious name permits issued by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners as provided in Section 2415 shall expire on December 31st of each year. The initial permit fee shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) and the renewal permit fee shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

SEC. 2. Section 2456.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

2456.1. All osteopathic physician's and surgeon's certificates shall expire 12 midnight on the last day of the birth month of the licensee.

The board shall establish by regulation procedures for the administration of a birth date renewal program, including, but not limited to, the establishment of a system of staggered license expiration dates such that a relatively equal number of licenses expire monthly.

To renew an unexpired license, the licensee shall, on or before the dates on which it would otherwise expire, apply for renewal on a form prescribed by the board and pay the prescribed renewal fee.

SEC. 3. Section 2456.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

2456.2. (a) The board shall notify in writing by certified mail, return receipt requested, any physician and surgeon who does not renew his or her license within 60 days from its date of expiration.

(b) Any licensee who does not renew his or her expired license on or before its date of expiration shall pay all the following fees:

(1) The renewal fee in effect at the time of renewal.

(2) The delinquency fee required by Section 2455.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the renewal of any expired physician's and surgeon's license within six months from its date of expiration shall be retroactive to the date of expiration of that license.

SEC. 4. Section 2456.3 is added to the Business and Professions

Code, to read:

2456.3. Except as provided in Section 2429, a license which has expired may be renewed at any time within five years after its expiration by filing an application for renewal on a form prescribed by the board and payment of all accrued renewal fees and any other fees required by Section 2455. Except as provided in Section 2456.2, renewal under this section shall be effective on the date on which the renewal application is filed, on the date on which the renewal fee or accrued renewal fees are paid, or on the date on which the delinquency fee or the delinquency fee and penalty fee, if any, are paid, whichever last occurs. If so renewed, the license shall continue in effect through the expiration date set forth in Section 2456.1 which next occurs after the effective date of the renewal.

SEC. 5. Section 2457 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2457. The failure of any person holding a certificate issued by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners to pay the annual tax and registration fee during the time his or her certificate remains in force, shall automatically work a forfeiture of his or her certificate after a period of 60 days from the date of expiration.

The certificate shall not be restored except upon written application and the payment to the Board of Osteopathic Examiners of the fee provided by this article. No examination shall be required for the reissuance of a certificate that was forfeited under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 6. Section 3535 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3535. Notwithstanding any provision of law, physicians and surgeons licensed by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners may employ physician's assistants provided:

(a) Each physician's assistant so employed is a graduate of an approved program and is certified by the Physician's Assistant Examining Committee.

(b) The scope of practice of the physician's assistant shall be the same as that which is approved by the Division of Allied Health Professions of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance for physicians and surgeons supervising physician's assistants in the same or a similar specialty.

(c) The supervising physician is approved by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners may deny an application, or suspend or revoke or impose probationary conditions upon any osteopathic physician and surgeons approved to supervise any physician's assistant in any decision made after a hearing as provided in Section 3528.

(d) Any physician's assistant certified by the committee shall be eligible for employment by any physician approved by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners; except that no physician shall supervise more than two physician's assistants. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners may restrict physicians to supervising specific types of physician's assistants including, but not limited to, restricting physicians from supervising physician's assistants outside of the physician's field of specialty.

(e) Each physician desiring to supervise a physician's assistant under this section shall file a separate application. The fees to be paid to the Board of Osteopathic Examiners for approval to supervise a physician's assistant are to be set as follows: An application fee not to exceed fifty dollars ($50) shall be charged to each physician applicant. An approval fee not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) shall be charged to each physician upon approval of an application to supervise a physician's assistant. If the approval will expire less than one year after its issuance, the fee shall be 50 percent of the initial approval fee currently in effect. The Board of Osteopathic Examiners shall renew approval to supervise physician's assistants upon application for that renewal. A biennial renewal fee not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) shall be paid for the renewal of that approval. The delinquency fee is twenty-five dollars ($25). The duplicate certificate fee is ten dollars ($10). The fees collected by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in the Board of Osteopathic Examiners Contingent Fund.

(f) Any person who violates subdivision (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or by both.

CHAPTER 935

An act to amend Section 33433 of, and to add Section 33013 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to redevelopment.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33013 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

33013. "Small housing project" means real property containing or proposed to contain a separate residential structure having not more than four dwelling units and which is owned by an agency and proposed to be conveyed to persons and families of low or moderate income or to private parties pursuant to an agreement with an agency to develop or maintain the residential structure which is proposed to be restricted by a recorded instrument for the use and occupancy of persons and families of low or moderate income for a period of not less than 30 years, or to the term otherwise provided by law, and which meets either of the following criteria:

(a) The real property is owned by an agency and one or more of the dwelling units therein are proposed to be restricted for the use and occupancy of persons or families to whom the agency is obligated to provide relocation assistance under Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 7260) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code or for persons and families of low or moderate income.

(b) The real property is owned by the agency and is proposed to be conveyed to persons and families of low or moderate income or developed for rental by private parties (nonprofit or otherwise) pursuant to an agreement with the redevelopment agency.

SEC. 2. Section 33433 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

33433. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c), before any property of the agency acquired in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, with tax increment moneys is sold or leased for development pursuant to the redevelopment plan, the sale or lease shall first be approved by the legislative body after public hearing. Notice of the time and place of the hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the community for at least two successive weeks prior to the hearing.

The agency shall make available for public inspection and copying at a cost not to exceed the cost of duplication:

(1) A copy of the proposed sale or lease.

(2) A summary which describes and specifies all of the following:

(A) The cost of the agreement to the agency, including land acquisition costs, clearance costs, relocation costs, the costs of any improvements to be provided by the agency, plus the expected interest on any loans or bonds to finance the agreements.

(B) The estimated value of the interest to be conveyed or leased, determined at the highest uses permitted under the plan.

(C) The purchase price or sum of the lease payments which the lessor will be required to make during the term of the lease. If the sale price or total rental amount is less than the fair market value of the interest to be conveyed or leased, determined at the highest and best use consistent with the redevelopment plan, then the agency shall provide as part of the summary an explanation of the reasons for the difference.

(b) The report shall be made available to the public no later than the time of publication of the first notice of the hearing mandated by this section. The resolution approving the lease or sale shall be adopted by a majority vote unless the legislative body has provided by ordinance for a two-thirds vote for that purpose and shall contain findings that the consideration is not less than fair market value in accordance with covenants and conditions governing the sale or lease or, with respect to any sale or lease at less than estimated value, determined at the highest use permitted under the plan, that the lesser consideration is necessary to effectuate the purposes of the plan.

(c) At the election of the legislative body, subdivisions (a) and (b) shall not apply to the sale or lease of a small housing project, as defined by Section 33013. If the legislative body so elects, the agency shall, instead, hold a public hearing in conformity with the requirements of subdivision (a) and shall also report the sale or lease to the legislative body on or before 30 days after the end of the agency's fiscal year during which the sale or lease occurred. The report shall disclose the name of the buyer, the legal description or street address of the property, the date of the sale or lease, the consideration for which the property was sold or leased by the agency to the buyer or lessee, and the date on which the agency held its public hearing for the sale or lease pursuant to Section 33431.

As used in this subdivision and Section 33413, "persons and families of low or moderate income" has the same meaning as defined by Section 50093.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act does not mandate a new program or higher level of service on local government. It is recognized, however, that a local agency or school district may pursue any remedies to obtain reimbursement available to it under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 17550) of Part 7 of Division 2 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 936

An act to amend Sections 82030, 86106, and 86107 of the Government Code, relating to the Political Reform Act of 1974.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 82030 of the Government Code is amended to read:

82030. (a) "Income" means, except as provided in subdivision (b), a payment received, including but not limited to any salary, wage, advance, dividend, interest, rent, proceeds from any sale, gift, including any gift of food or beverage, loan, forgiveness or payment of indebtedness received by the filer, reimbursement for expenses, per diem, or contribution to an insurance or pension program paid by any person other than an employer, and including any community property interest in the income of a spouse. Income also includes an outstanding loan. Income of an individual also includes a pro rata share of any income of any business entity or trust in which the individual or spouse owns, directly, indirectly or beneficially, a 10-percent interest or greater. "Income," other than a gift, does not include income received from any source outside the jurisdiction and not doing business within the jurisdiction, not planning to do business within the jurisdiction, or not having done business within the jurisdiction during the two years prior to the time any statement or other action is required under this title.

(b) "Income" also does not include:

(1) Campaign contributions required to be reported under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 84100).

(2) Salary and reimbursement for expenses or per diem received from a state, local, or federal government agency and reimbursement for travel expenses and per diem received from a bona fide educational, academic, or charitable organization.

(3) Any devise or inheritance.

(4) Interest, dividends, or premiums on a time or demand deposit in a financial institution, shares in a credit union or any insurance policy, payments received under any insurance policy, or any bond or other debt instrument issued by any government or government agency.

(5) Dividends, interest, or any other return on a security which is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission of the United States government or a commodity future registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission of the United States government, except proceeds from the sale of these securities and commodities futures.

(6) Redemption of a mutual fund.

(7) Alimony or child support payments.

(8) Any loan or loans from a commercial lending institution which are made in the lender's regular course of business on terms available to members of the public without regard to official status if:

(A) Used to purchase, refinance the purchase of, or for improvements to, the principal residence of filer; or

(B) The balance owed does not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(9) Any loan from an individual's spouse, child, parent, grandparent, grandchild, brother, sister, parent-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, nephew, niece, uncle, aunt, or first cousin, or the spouse of any such person, provided that a loan from any such person shall be considered income if the lender is acting as an agent or intermediary for any person not covered by this paragraph.

(10) Any indebtedness created as part of a retail installment or credit card transaction if made in the lender's regular course of business on terms available to members of the public without regard to official status, so long as the balance owed to the creditor does not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(11) Payments received under a defined benefit pension plan qualified under Internal Revenue Code Section 401(a).

(12) Proceeds from the sale of securities registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission of the United States government or from the sale of commodities futures registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission of the United States government if the filer sells the securities or the commodities futures on a stock or commodities exchange and does not know or have reason to know the identity of the purchaser.

SEC. 2. Section 86106 of the Government Code is amended to read:

86106. Within 20 days after the opening of each regular session of the Legislature, each registered lobbying firm and lobbyist employer which will be conducting activities which require registration shall renew its registration by filing photographs of its lobbyists, authorizations, and a registration statement. Each lobbyist shall renew his or her lobbyist certification in connection with the renewal of registration by the lobbyist's lobbying firm or employer.

SEC. 3. Section 86107 of the Government Code is amended to read:

86107. (a) If any change occurs in any of the information contained in a registration statement, an appropriate amendment shall be filed with the Secretary of State within 20 days after the change. However, if the change includes the name of a person by whom a lobbying firm is retained, the registration statement of the lobbying firm shall be amended and filed to show that change prior to the lobbying firm's attempting to influence any legislative or administrative action on behalf of that person. Lobbying firms and lobbyist employers which, during a regular session of the Legislature, cease all activity which required registration shall file a notice of termination within 20 days after such cessation. Lobbying firms and lobbyist employers which at the close of a regular session of the Legislature cease all activity which required registration, shall not be required to file a notice of termination.

(b) If any change occurs in any of the information contained in a lobbyist certification or if the lobbyist terminates all activity which required the certification, the lobbyist shall submit an amended certification or notice of termination to his or her lobbying firm or lobbyist employer for filing with the Secretary of State within the time limits specified in subdivision (a). A lobbyist who at the close of a regular session of the Legislature ceases all activity which required certification, shall not be required to file a notice of termination.

(c) Lobbyists and lobbying firms shall remain subject to Section 86203 for the earlier of six months after filing a notice of termination or six months after the close of a regular session of the Legislature at the close of which the lobbyist or lobbying firm ceased all activity which required certification or registration.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that the provisions of this act further the purposes of the Political Reform Act of 1974 within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 81012 of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 937

An act to amend Section 8230 of, and to add Section 2762.2 to, the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2762.2 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

2762.2. The department may advance partial finding, of up to 50 percent of the amount contracted for, to contractors for projects under subdivision (b) of Section 2762 if the director finds the organization meets all of the following requirements:

(1) It has a previously demonstrated record of successfully completing one or more fishery restoration projects funded under contract with the department.

(2) It utilizes generally accepted accounting procedures.

(3) It demonstrates that the project can be accomplished more efficiently and economically with partial funding advanced at the initiation of the project.

SEC. 2. Section 8230 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8230. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that commercial salmon fishing is affected with a public interest and that the preservation of commercial salmon fishing directly affects the health and welfare of the public. The Legislature further finds and declares that, due to past declines in salmon stocks, the increase in the number of persons participating in commercial salmon fishing, the number and types of vessels being used, and the commensurate increase in the salmon fishing potential of the commercial salmon fishing fleet, it is necessary and proper to limit the persons who are eligible to take salmon for commercial purposes and to regulate the amount of salmon that may be taken by restricting the number and salmon fishing potential of the vessels in the commercial salmon fishing fleet in order to preserve and rebuild the salmon resource, to protect commercial salmon fishing, and thereby protect the health and welfare of the public.

(b) The Legislature further finds and declares the following:

(1) The system for allocating commercial salmon vessel permits enacted in this article is an interim system created in response to the urgent need to protect the salmon resource in California waters while inflicting the least hardship on the people of the state.

(2) The Legislature shall, on or before January 1, 1989, enact a permanent system to regulate entry into the commercial salmon fishery which will continue to be equitable and provide for new entry.

(3) In order to devise a permanent system to regulate entry into the commercial salmon fishery, the Legislature shall continue to collect information on the salmon fishery from the department with the assistance of the Joint Committee on Fisheries and Aquaculture. This information shall include the impact that equipment and experience have on the fishery and the burden placed on the fishery by commercial salmon fishermen.

(4) A report containing the requested information shall be prepared by the department with the assistance of the committee and transmitted to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1987.

CHAPTER 938

An act to amend Section 31470.11 of, and to add Section 31470.12 to, the Government Code, relating to the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31470.11 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31470.11. Notwithstanding Section 31470.2, all welfare fraud and child support investigators and administrators in counties of the 16th class, as described by Sections 28020 and 28037, as amended by Chapter 1204 of the Statutes of 1971, are ineligible for safety membership, except as provided in Section 31470.12.

SEC. 2. Section 31470.12 is added to the Government Code, to read:

31470.12. Notwithstanding Section 31470.11, child support investigators and administrators in counties of the 16th class, as described by Section 28020 and 28037, as amended by Chapter 1204 of the Statutes of 1971, are eligible.

This section shall not be operative in any county until such time as the board of supervisors shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote, make this section applicable in the county.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act.

CHAPTER 939

An act to amend Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, relating to sentencing.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9, and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.4 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 2. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.1 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5

exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 3. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.4 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, and 12022.9 and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 4. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.4 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) or (9) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, and 12022.9 and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 5. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.1 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 6. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.1 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) or (9) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 7. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.4 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) or (9) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.8, and 12022.9 and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 8. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.1 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) or (9) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 9. (a) Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1152. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1578 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, (4) AB 1559 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section and (5) this bill is enacted after AB 1152, in which case Sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1578. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1152 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, (4) AB 1559 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section and (5) this bill is enacted after AB 1578, in which case Sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 4 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1559. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1152 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, (4) AB 1578 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section and (5) this bill is enacted after AB 1559, in which case Sections 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(d) Section 5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1578. It shall only become operative if (1) this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1578 are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1578 amend Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1559 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, (4) this bill is enacted after AB 1152 and AB 1578, in which case Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(e) Section 6 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1559. It shall only become operative if (1) this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1559 are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) this bill, AB 1152, and AB 1559 amend Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1578 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, (4) this bill is enacted after AB 1152 and AB 1559, in which case Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(f) Section 7 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill, AB 1578, and AB 1559. It shall only become operative if (1) this bill, AB 1578, and AB 1559 are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) this bill, AB 1578, and AB 1559 amend Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1152 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section,

(4) this bill is enacted after AB 1578 and AB 1559, in which case Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

(g) Section 8 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, AB 1152, AB 1578, and AB 1559. It shall only become operative if (1) all four bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1988, (2) all four bills amend Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code, (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1152, AB 1578, and AB 1559, in which case Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 940

An act to amend Sections 224p and 224q of the Civil Code, relating to adoption.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 224p of the Civil Code is amended to read:

224p. (a) Any person who, or organization that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license or permit to place children for adoption issued by the State Department of Social Services, advertises in any periodical or newspaper, by radio, or other public medium, that he, she, or it will place children for adoption, or accept, supply, provide or obtain children for adoption, or that causes any advertisement to be published in or by any public medium soliciting, requesting, or asking for any child or children for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Any person other than a parent who, or any organization, association, or corporation that, without holding a valid and unrevoked license or permit to place children for adoption issued by the State Department of Social Services, places any child for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. Section 224q of the Civil Code is amended to read:

224q. As used in this chapter, "place for adoption," in the case of an adoption to which neither the State Department of Social Services nor a licensed adoption agency is a party, means the selection of a prospective adoptive parent or parents for a minor child by the parent or parents. The selection shall be personally made by the parent or parents of the child and may not be delegated to an agent. The act of selection by the parent or parents shall be based upon his, her, or their personal knowledge of the prospective adoptive parent or parents. "Personal knowledge" includes, but is not limited to, substantially correct knowledge of all of the following regarding the prospective adoptive parents: their full legal name; age; religion; race or ethnicity; employment; whether other persons, whether children and adults, reside in their home; any health conditions curtailing their normal daily activities or reducing their normal life expectancy; and their general area of residence, or upon request, their address. "Prospective adoptive parent" means a person who has filed or intends to file a petition to adopt a minor who has been or who is to be placed in his or her physical care.

CHAPTER 941

An act to amend Sections 21628, 21637, 21638, and 21647 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Section 21201 of the Financial Code, relating to secondhand dealers.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21628 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

21628. Every secondhand dealer described in Section 21626 shall report daily, or on the first working day after receipt or purchase of such property, on forms either approved or provided at actual cost by the Department of Justice, all tangible personal property which he or she has purchased, taken in trade, taken in pawn, accepted for sale on consignment, or accepted for auctioning, to the chief of police or to the sheriff, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 21630 and 21633. The report shall be legible, prepared in English, completed where applicable, and include, but not limited to, the following information:

(a) The name and current address of the intended seller or pledgor of the property.

(b) The identification of the intended seller or pledgor. The identification of the seller or pledgor of the property shall be verified by the person taking the information. The verification shall be valid if the person taking the information reasonably relies on any one of the following documents, provided the document is currently valid or has been issued within five years and contains a photograph or description, or both, of the person named on it, is signed by the person, and bears a serial or other identifying number:

(1) A passport of the United States.

(2) A driver's license issued by any state, or Canada.

(3) An identification card issued by any state.

(4) An identification card issued by the United States.

(c) A complete and reasonably accurate description of serialized property, including, but not limited to, the following: serial number and other identifying marks or symbols, owner-applied numbers, manufacturer's named brand, and model name or number.

(d) A complete and reasonably accurate description of nonserialized property, including, but not limited to, the following: size, color, material, manufacturer's pattern name (when known), owner-applied numbers and personalized inscriptions and other identifying marks or symbols.

(e) A certification by the intended seller or pledgor that he or she is the owner of the property or has the authority of the owner to sell or pledge the property.

(f) A certification by the intended seller or pledgor that to his or her knowledge and belief the information is true and complete.

(g) A legible fingerprint taken from the intended seller or pledgor, as prescribed by the Department of Justice.

SEC. 2. Section 21637 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

21637. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to excuse compliance with the provisions of any city, county, or city and county ordinance or any other state law pertaining to or covering the reporting, holding, or releasing of tangible personal property, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, except that no city, county, or city and county or any other state agency shall adopt the following:

(a) Holding, reporting, or identification requirements for transactions involving coins, monetized bullion, or commercial grade ingots of gold, silver, or other precious metals.

(b) Identification, holding, or reporting requirements for the acquisition of tangible personal property, in the ordinary course of business, by pawnbrokers and secondhand dealers, other than as set forth in Sections 21628, 21630, 21633, and 21636 of this code, and Section 21208 of the Financial Code.

SEC. 3. Section 21638 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

21638. The provisions of this article shall not prohibit enactment, amendment, or enforcement by any city, county, or city and county of any local ordinance relating to a secondhand dealer which is not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, except that no city, county, or city and county, or any other state agency shall adopt the following:

(a) Holding, reporting, or identification requirements for transactions involving coins, monetized bullion, or commercial grade ingots of gold, silver, or other precious metals.

(b) Identification, holding, or reporting requirements for the acquisition of tangible personal property, in the ordinary course of business, by pawnbrokers and secondhand dealers, other than as set forth in Sections 21628, 21630, 21633, and 21636 of this code, and Section 21208 of the Financial Code.

SEC. 4. Section 21647 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

21647. (a) Whenever any peace officer has probable cause to believe that property in the possession of a pawnbroker or secondhand dealer is stolen, the peace officer may place a hold on the property for a period not to exceed 90 days. The peace officer shall give the pawnbroker or secondhand dealer a written notice at the time the hold is placed, describing the item or items to be held. During that period the pawnbroker or secondhand dealer shall not release or dispose of the property, except pursuant to a court order or upon receipt of a written authorization signed by any peace officer who is a member of the law enforcement agency of which the peace officer placing the hold on the property is a member. Except as specifically set forth in this section, a pawnbroker or secondhand property dealer shall not be subject to civil liability for compliance with this section.

(b) Whenever property that is in the possession of a pawnbroker or secondhand dealer is subject to a hold and the property is required by a peace officer in a criminal investigation, the pawnbroker or secondhand dealer, upon reasonable notice, shall produce the property at reasonable times and places upon the request of any peace officer who is a member of the law enforcement agency of which the peace officer placing the hold on the property is a member.

(c) Whenever property that is in the possession of a pawnbroker or secondhand dealer is subject to a hold and the property is no longer required for the purpose of criminal investigation, the law enforcement agency that placed the hold on the property shall undertake the following:

(1) With respect to the property being held, if the law enforcement agency has no knowledge of the property on hold being reported as stolen, the property shall be released.

(2) If the law enforcement agency has knowledge that the property has been reported stolen, the law enforcement agency shall notify the person who reported the stolen property of the name and address of the pawnbroker or secondhand dealer holding the property, authorize the release of the property to that person, and advise the person that the law neither requires nor prohibits payment of a fee or any other condition in return for the surrender of the property.

The law enforcement agency that placed the property on hold shall release the hold after 60 days has elapsed following the delivery of the notice to the person who reported the property stolen.

(3) If a pledgor seeks to redeem property that is subject to a hold, the pawnbroker or secondhand dealer shall advise the pledgor of the name and badge number of the peace officer who placed the hold on the property and the name of the law enforcement agency of which the officer is a member. If the property is not required to be held pursuant to a criminal prosecution the hold shall be released.

SEC. 5. Section 21201 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

21201. Every loan made by a pawnbroker for which goods are received in pledge as security shall be evidenced by a written contract a copy of which shall be furnished to the borrower. The loan contract shall set forth the loan period and the date on which the loan is due and payable, and shall clearly inform the borrower of his or her right to redeem the pledge during the redemption period.

Every pawnbroker shall retain in his or her possession, after the date on which the loan became due and payable, every article pledged to him or her for a period of four months. During such periods the borrower may redeem the articles upon payment of the applicable charges.

If any pledged article is not redeemed during the four-month redemption period as provided herein, and the borrower and pawnbroker do not mutually agree in writing to extend the redemption period, the pawnbroker shall notify the borrower within 30 days after expiration of the redemption period. The pawnbroker shall notify the borrower either by registered mail, or by certified mail, or by regular mail for which a certificate of mailing is issued by the United States Postal Service addressed to his or her last known address of the termination of the redemption period, and extending the right of redemption for a period of 10 days from date of mailing of such notice.

However, the posted schedule of charges required pursuant to Section 21200.5 shall contain a notice informing the borrower that if he or she desires, the pawnbroker shall send the notice of termination of the redemption period by registered or certified mail with return receipt requested, upon prepayment of the mailing costs. The schedule of charges shall contain the notice no later than January 1, 1986. If any pledged article is not redeemed within the 10-day period, the pawnbroker shall become vested with all right, title, and interest of the pledgor, or his or her assigns, to the pledged article, to hold and dispose of as his or her own property. Any other provision of law relating to the foreclosure and sale of pledges shall not be applicable to any pledge the title to which is transferred in accordance with this section. The pawnbroker shall not sell any article of pledged property until he or she has become vested with the title to that property pursuant to this section. The sale of pledged property is a misdemeanor pursuant to Section 21209.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 942

An act to add Section 48915.1 to the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that a pupil who is expelled from a school district for the serious offenses specified in Section 48915 of the Education Code may enroll, through subterfuge or the failure of communication between school districts, in a school in another school district in the state.

The Legislature finds and declares that the presence of these pupils in any other school during the period of the expulsion represents a possible danger to pupils or employees of the district and that school districts should not evade the responsibility of prohibiting these pupils from enrolling at a school in their school district.

The Legislature finds and declares that the law is silent regarding the responsibilities of a school district with respect to enrolling a pupil during the period of his or her expulsion from another school district if the pupil has satisfied the residency requirements of the enrolling district.

SEC. 2. Section 48915.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

48915.1. (a) The governing board of a school district may make a determination to deny enrollment to an individual who has been expelled from another school district for acts described in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, of subdivision (a) of Section 48915, for the remainder of the expulsion period after a determination has been made, through a hearing, that the individual poses a potential danger to either the pupils or employees of the school district.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the governing board of a school district, after a determination has been made, through a hearing, that an individual expelled from another school district for the acts described in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, of subdivision (a) of Section 48915 does not pose a danger to either the pupils or employees of the school district, shall permit the individual to enroll in a school in the school district during the term of the expulsion, provided that he or she, subsequent to the expulsion, either has established legal residence in the school district, pursuant to Section 48200, or has enrolled in the school pursuant to an interdistrict agreement executed between the affected school districts.

(c) The governing board of a school district, having received a request from an individual, who has been expelled from another school district for an act described in paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, of subdivision (a) of Section 48915, for enrollment in a school maintained by the school district shall hold a hearing to determine whether that individual poses a continuing danger either to the pupils or employees of the school district. The hearing and notice shall be conducted according to the rules and regulations governing procedures for the expulsion of pupils as described in Section 48918 of the Education Code. If a school district requests information regarding the expulsion of an applicant for enrollment, the school district receiving the request shall respond to it within five working days from the date of receipt.

(d) The governing board of a school district, when making its determination whether to enroll an individual who has been expelled from another school district for these acts, may consider the following options:

(1) Deny enrollment.

(2) Permit enrollment.

(3) Permit conditional enrollment in a regular school program or another educational program.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 943

An act to amend Section 16731 of, to amend and repeal Sections 53531, 53532, and 53541 of, and to repeal and add Chapter 11.8 (commencing with Section 8869.80) of Division 1 of Title 2 of, the Government Code, and to amend Section 50191 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to bonds.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 11.8 (commencing with Section 8869.80) of Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Chapter 11.8 (commencing with Section 8869.80) is added to Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 11.8. CALIFORNIA DEBT LIMIT ALLOCATION COMMITTEE

8869.80. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) establishes a unified volume ceiling on the aggregate amount of private activity bonds which can be issued in each state. The unified volume ceiling is the product of seventy-five dollars ($75) multiplied by the state population in 1987 and fifty dollars ($50) multiplied by the state population in each succeeding calendar year.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the federal act requires each state to allocate its volume ceiling according to a specified formula unless a different procedure is established by Governor's proclamation or state legislation.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the Governor issued a proclamation on September 30, 1986, altering the allocation formula described in the act by centralizing the allocation process in the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the federal act terminates the authority of a Governor's proclamation on December 31, 1987.

The Legislature, therefore, finds and declares that it is necessary to designate a state agency and create an allocation system to administer the state unified volume ceiling.

The Legislature further finds and declares that a substantial public benefit is served by promoting housing for lower income families and individuals.

The Legislature further finds and declares that a substantial public benefit is served by preserving and rehabilitating existing governmental assisted housing for lower income families and individuals.

8869.81. This chapter is enacted to implement the state unified volume limit established in Section 1301 of the Federal Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) and Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code.

8869.82. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in this section shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Committee" means the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee established pursuant to Section 8869.83.

(b) "Fund" means the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee Fund created pursuant to Section 8869.90.

(c) "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

(d) "Issuer" means any local agency or state agency authorized by the Constitution or laws of the state to issue private activity bonds.

(e) "Local agency" means any political subdivision of the state within the meaning of Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code, or any entity that has the power to issue private activity bonds "on behalf of" any such political subdivision.

(f) "MBAC" means the Mortgage Bond Allocation Committee created by Section 50185 of the Health and Safety Code.

(g) "Private activity bond" means a part or all of any bond (or other instrument) required to obtain a portion of the state's volume cap pursuant to Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code in order to be tax exempt, including generally the following (as such bonds are defined in the Internal Revenue Code): (1) exempt facility bonds (except bonds for airports, docks and wharves, and certain solid waste facilities), (2) qualified mortgage bonds, (3) qualified small issue bonds, (4) qualified student loan bonds, (5) qualified redevelopment bonds, and (6) the nonqualified amount of an issue of governmental bonds (including advance refunds) exceeding fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), as provided in Section 141(b)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(h) "Private activity bond limit" means any portion of the state ceiling allocated or transferred to a state agency or local agency pursuant to this chapter.

(i) "State" means the State of California.

(j) "State agency" means the state and all state entities, including joint powers authorities of which the state or agency or instrumentality thereof is a member, empowered to issue private activity bonds, the interest on which is exempt from income tax under Section 103(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, including nonprofit corporations described in Section 150(d) of the Internal Revenue Code authorized to issue qualified scholarship funding bonds.

(k) "State ceiling" shall be the amount specified by Section 146(d) of the Internal Revenue Code for each calendar year commencing in 1986.

Pursuant to Section 146(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, this chapter shall govern the allocation of the state ceiling among the state agencies and local agencies in this state having authority to issue private activity bonds. Any portion of the state ceiling allocated or transferred by or under the authority of this chapter shall become the private activity bond limit for the issuer of which such portion is allocated or transferred for any private activity bonds issued by that issuer.

8869.83. (a) There is in state government the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee, consisting of three members as follows:

(1) The Treasurer, or his or her designee.

(2) The Controller, or his or her designee.

(3) The Governor, or his or her designee.

(b) The Treasurer shall serve as chairperson of the committee and the office of the Treasurer shall provide any administrative assistance and support staff which is needed for the committee to operate. The chairperson shall keep, or cause to be kept, minutes and other records and documents of the committee.

(c) Members of the committee shall serve without compensation.

(d) Two members of the committee shall constitute a quorum. The affirmative vote of two members of the committee shall be necessary for any action taken by the committee. However, the committee may, by unanimous vote, delegate to its chairperson the authority to carry out any acts empowered to it under this chapter.

8869.84. (a) The committee shall, as soon as is practicable after the start of each calendar year, determine and announce the state ceiling for the calendar year.

(b) The entire state ceiling for each calendar year is hereby allocated to the committee to further allocate to state and local agencies as provided in this chapter.

(c) The committee shall prepare application forms and announce procedures for receipt and review of applications from state and local agencies desiring to issue private activity bonds.

(d) The committee may at any time, before or after granting any allocations in any calendar year to any state agencies or local agencies, announce priorities or reservations of any part of the state ceiling not theretofore allocated either for certain categories of bonds or categories of issuers.

(e) The committee may require any issuer making an application to the committee or MBAC for allocation of a portion of the state ceiling to make a deposit, as determined by the committee, of up to 1 percent of the portion requested. If an allocation is not given, the deposit shall be returned. If an allocation is given, the deposit shall be kept (in proportion to the amount of allocation given) until bonds are issued. Upon that issuance, the deposit shall be returned to the issuer in an amount equal to the product of (1) the amount of the deposit retained times (2) the ratio between the amount of bonds issued divided by the amount of allocation granted. If no bonds are issued prior to the expiration of the allocation, the deposit shall be kept, unless the committee determines there is good cause to return all or part of the deposit. Any portion of a deposit kept shall be deposited in the fund.

(f) The committee may transfer part of the state ceiling to the MBAC, to be used for qualified mortgage bonds and exempt facility bonds, as those terms are used in the Internal Revenue Code, for qualified residential rental projects, as those terms are used in the Internal Revenue Code, (together referred to as "housing bonds"), with directions and conditions pursuant to which MBAC may allocate those amounts to issuers of housing bonds at both the state and local level. In carrying out these functions, MBAC shall act solely as directed or authorized by the committee. If the committee makes the transfer to MBAC authorized by this subdivision, the references in Sections 8869.85, 8869.86, 8869.87, and 8869.88 to the "committee" shall, for purposes of any housing bonds, be deemed to mean MBAC.

8869.85. (a) Each state agency shall apply to the committee for allocation of a portion of the state ceiling, supplying any information which the committee may require. The application may be for a specific project, or it may be for a designated dollar amount, to be utilized for projects or programs at the discretion of the state agency. No private activity bonds issued by any state agency shall be deemed to receive the benefit of any portion of the state ceiling unless the committee has allocated or permitted the transfer of a portion of the state ceiling to the state agency. The allocation may be on any terms and conditions as the committee may determine.

(b) Any local agency may apply to the committee for an allocation of a portion of the state ceiling, supplying any information which the committee may require. Applications from local agencies may only be for specific projects or programs. No private activity bond issued by a local agency shall be deemed to receive the benefit of any portion of the state ceiling unless the committee has allocated or permitted the transfer of a portion of the state ceiling to the local agency. The allocation may be upon any terms and conditions as the committee may determine.

(c) Any allocation made pursuant to this section shall be irrevocable upon issuance of bonds pursuant thereto at least to the extent of the amount of the bonds so issued. No allocation shall permit the state agency or local agency which receives it to use all or any portion of the allocation for a carryforward pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, unless the committee expressly allows use of the allocation for a carryforward.

(d) No allocation made to a state agency or a local agency pursuant to this section may be transferred by the initial recipient thereof to any other state agency or local agency unless the committee expressly permits the transfer. With the committee's permission, any state or local agency may, by resolution, transfer to any other local agency or to any state agency or back to the committee all or any portion of the agency's private activity bond limit. Any such transfer shall be made in writing and may be general or limited and subject to any terms and conditions as may be set forth in the resolution or under the committee's permission, as long as the transfer is irrevocable upon issuance of bonds pursuant to the transfer, at least to the extent of the amount of the bonds so issued. Each transferee shall maintain a written record of the transfer in its records for at least the term of all private activity bonds issued pursuant to the transfer. No transfer may be made pursuant to this section in return for any payment of cash, property, or other marketable thing of value.

8869.86. (a) Subject to any limitations on transferred private activity bond limit as may be provided in subdivision (d) of Section 8869.85, any state agency or local agency may utilize its private activity bond limit for any of the following:

(1) The issuance of private activity bonds.

(2) If permitted by the committee, to make a carryforward election pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) If permitted by the committee, to make a transfer to any state agency, local agency, or the committee.

(b) Prior to issuing any private activity bonds, the issuer shall, in the bond resolution or other similar action giving approval for the issuance of bonds, specifically designate to the bond issue a portion of the private activity bond limit available or expected to be available to that issuer. The designation shall be irrevocable upon the issuance of the bonds to the extent of the amount thereof.

(c) Each state agency and local agency shall notify the committee in writing, as directed by the committee, after any of the following:

(1) The issuance of any private activity bonds.

(2) Any action taken pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 8869.85 to transfer any portion of its private activity bond limit.

(3) Any election to treat all or any portion of the state agency's or local agency's private activity bond limit as a carryforward pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code. The committee shall keep the notices in its records for a period no less than the term of all private activity bonds issued as described in the notices.

8869.87. The committee may request local agencies and state agencies to provide the committee with information pertaining to the amount and purpose of anticipated future private activity bond issues, or any other information which may be useful to the committee in performing its duties and responsibilities under this chapter.

8869.88. The committee may transfer any private activity bond limit directly to any joint powers authority created pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1. This section is specifically intended to be an expressed statement of an alternative allocation as provided in Temporary Treasury Regulations Section 1.103(n)-3T, A-14 and A-15, to the extent the regulations, or any successor thereto or similar regulations, are applicable to private activity bonds.

8869.89. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the committee may, upon any terms and conditions as it determines, authorize the use of a portion of the state ceiling, as contemplated by Section 146(n) of the Internal Revenue Code, in connection with the issuance by any state agency or local agency or mortgage credit certificates under a Qualified Mortgage Credit Certificate Program, as those terms are defined in Section 25(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

8869.90. (a) The committee may charge fees to the lead underwriter or the bond purchaser to cover the committee's costs in carrying out the duties and responsibilities set out in this chapter. Any fees received shall be deposited in the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee Fund, which is hereby created. All money in the fund shall be available, when appropriated, for expenses of the committee and the Treasurer.

(b) Until the time that fees are received by the committee and appropriated pursuant to this chapter for the expenses of the committee, the committee may borrow any money as may be required for the purpose of meeting necessary expenses of initial organization and operation of the committee.

(c) Any moneys received by the committee from fees or deposits beginning in fiscal year 1987–88, shall also be deposited into the fund.

8869.91. This chapter is intended to provide a full, fair, flexible, and workable means of utilizing the state ceiling available under the Internal Revenue Code, and it shall be liberally construed and implemented to achieve those purposes.

8869.92. To the extent that any provision of this chapter is held to be inconsistent with or repugnant to the federal law, the provision shall be given effect in accordance with its terms to the greatest extent possible and consistent with federal law and an inconsistency shall have no effect on the remaining provisions of the chapter.

8869.93. The Treasurer, or his or her designee, is designated as the state official to certify that an issue of private activity bonds meets the requirements of Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and to take any and all actions as may be necessary or appropriate in connection therewith.

SEC. 2.5. Chapter 11.8 (commencing with Section 8869.80) is added to Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 11.8. CALIFORNIA DEBT LIMIT ALLOCATION COMMITTEE

8869.80. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) establishes a unified volume ceiling on the aggregate amount of private activity bonds which can be issued in each state. The unified volume ceiling is the product of seventy-five dollars ($75) multiplied by the state population in 1987 and fifty dollars ($50) multiplied by the state population in each succeeding calendar year.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the federal act requires each state to allocate its volume ceiling according to a specified formula unless a different procedure is established by Governor's proclamation or state legislation.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the Governor issued a proclamation on September 30, 1986, altering the allocation formula described in the act by centralizing the allocation process in the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the federal act terminates the authority of a Governor's proclamation on December 31, 1987.

The Legislature, therefore, finds and declares that it is necessary to designate a state agency and create an allocation system to administer the state unified volume ceiling.

The Legislature further finds and declares that a substantial public benefit is served by promoting housing for lower income families and individuals.

The Legislature further finds and declares that a substantial public benefit is served by preserving and rehabilitating existing governmental assisted housing for lower income families and individuals.

8869.81. This chapter is enacted to implement the state unified volume limit established in Section 1301 of the Federal Tax Reform Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-514) and Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code.

8869.82. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in this section shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Committee" means the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee established pursuant to Section 8869.83.

(b) "Fund" means the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee Fund created pursuant to Section 8869.90.

(c) "Internal Revenue Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

(d) "Issuer" means any local agency or state agency authorized by the Constitution or laws of the state to issue private activity bonds.

(e) "Local agency" means any political subdivision of the state within the meaning of Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code, or any entity that has the power to issue private activity bonds "on behalf of" any such political subdivision.

(f) "MBTCAC" means the Mortgage Bond and Tax Credit Allocation Committee created by Section 50185 of the Health and Safety Code.

(g) "Private activity bond" means a part or all of any bond (or other instrument) required to obtain a portion of the state's volume cap pursuant to Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code in order to be tax exempt, including generally the following (as such bonds are defined in the Internal Revenue Code): (1) exempt facility bonds (except bonds for airports, docks and wharves, and certain solid waste facilities), (2) qualified mortgage bonds, (3) qualified small issue bonds, (4) qualified student loan bonds, (5) qualified redevelopment bonds, and (6) the nonqualified amount of an issue of governmental bonds (including advance refunds) exceeding fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), as provided in Section 141(b)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(h) "Private activity bond limit" means any portion of the state ceiling allocated or transferred to a state agency or local agency pursuant to this chapter.

(i) "State" means the State of California.

(j) "State agency" means the state and all state entities, including joint powers authorities of which the state or agency or instrumentality thereof is a member, empowered to issue private activity bonds, the interest on which is exempt from income tax under Section 103(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, including nonprofit corporations described in Section 150(d) of the Internal Revenue Code authorized to issue qualified scholarship funding bonds.

(k) "State ceiling" shall be the amount specified by Section 146(d) of the Internal Revenue Code for each calendar year commencing in 1986.

Pursuant to Section 146(e) of the Internal Revenue Code, this chapter shall govern the allocation of the state ceiling among the state agencies and local agencies in this state having authority to issue private activity bonds. Any portion of the state ceiling allocated or transferred by or under the authority of this chapter shall become the private activity bond limit for the issuer of which such portion is allocated or transferred for any private activity bonds issued by that issuer.

8869.83. (a) There is in state government the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee, consisting of three members as follows:

(1) The Treasurer, or his or her designee.

(2) The Controller, or his or her designee.

(3) The Governor, or his or her designee.

(b) The Treasurer shall serve as chairperson of the committee and the office of the Treasurer shall provide any administrative assistance and support staff which is needed for the committee to operate. The chairperson shall keep, or cause to be kept, minutes and other records and documents of the committee.

(c) Members of the committee shall serve without compensation.

(d) Two members of the committee shall constitute a quorum. The affirmative vote of two members of the committee shall be necessary for any action taken by the committee. However, the committee may, by unanimous vote, delegate to its chairperson the authority to carry out any acts empowered to it under this chapter.

8869.84. (a) The committee shall, as soon as is practicable after the start of each calendar year, determine and announce the state ceiling for the calendar year.

(b) The entire state ceiling for each calendar year is hereby allocated to the committee to further allocate to state and local agencies as provided in this chapter.

(c) The committee shall prepare application forms and announce procedures for receipt and review of applications from state and local agencies desiring to issue private activity bonds.

(d) The committee may at any time, before or after granting any allocations in any calendar year to any state agencies or local agencies, announce priorities or reservations of any part of the state ceiling not theretofore allocated either for certain categories of bonds or categories of issuers.

(e) The committee may require any issuer making an application to the committee or MBTCAC for allocation of a portion of the state ceiling to make a deposit, as determined by the committee, of up to 1 percent of the portion requested. If an allocation is not given, the deposit shall be returned. If an allocation is given, the deposit shall be kept (in proportion to the amount of allocation given) until bonds are issued. Upon that issuance, the deposit shall be returned to the issuer in an amount equal to the product of (1) the amount of the deposit retained times (2) the ratio between the amount of bonds issued divided by the amount of allocation granted. If no bonds are issued prior to the expiration of the allocation, the deposit shall be kept, unless the committee determines there is good cause to return all or part of the deposit. Any portion of a deposit kept shall be deposited in the fund.

(f) The committee may transfer part of the state ceiling to the MBTCAC, to be used for qualified mortgage bonds and exempt facility bonds, as those terms are used in the Internal Revenue Code, for qualified residential rental projects, as those terms are used in the Internal Revenue Code, (together referred to as "housing bonds"), with directions and conditions pursuant to which MBTCAC may allocate those amounts to issuers of housing bonds at both the state and local level. In carrying out these functions, MBTCAC shall act solely as directed or authorized by the committee. If the committee makes the transfer to MBTCAC authorized by this subdivision, the references in Sections 8869.85, 8869.86, 8869.87, and 8869.88 to the "committee" shall, for purposes of any housing bonds, be deemed to mean MBTCAC.

8869.85. (a) Each state agency shall apply to the committee for allocation of a portion of the state ceiling, supplying any information which the committee may require. The application may be for a specific project, or it may be for a designated dollar amount, to be utilized for projects or programs at the discretion of the state agency. No private activity bonds issued by any state agency shall be deemed to receive the benefit of any portion of the state ceiling unless the committee has allocated or permitted the transfer of a portion of the state ceiling to the state agency. The allocation may be on any terms and conditions as the committee may determine.

(b) Any local agency may apply to the committee for an allocation of a portion of the state ceiling, supplying any information which the committee may require. Applications from local agencies may only be for specific projects or programs. No private activity bond issued by a local agency shall be deemed to receive the benefit of any portion of the state ceiling unless the committee has allocated or permitted the transfer of a portion of the state ceiling to the local agency. The allocation may be upon any terms and conditions as the committee may determine.

(c) Any allocation made pursuant to this section shall be irrevocable upon issuance of bonds pursuant thereto at least to the extent of the amount of the bonds so issued. No allocation shall permit the state agency or local agency which receives it to use all or any portion of the allocation for a carryforward pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code, unless the committee expressly allows use of the allocation for a carryforward.

(d) No allocation made to a state agency or a local agency pursuant to this section may be transferred by the initial recipient thereof to any other state agency or local agency unless the committee expressly permits the transfer. With the committee's permission, any state or local agency may, by resolution, transfer to any other local agency or to any state agency or back to the committee all or any portion of the agency's private activity bond limit. Any such transfer shall be made in writing and may be general or limited and subject to any terms and conditions as may be set forth in the resolution or under the committee's permission, as long as the transfer is irrevocable upon issuance of bonds pursuant to the transfer, at least to the extent of the amount of the bonds so issued. Each transferee shall maintain a written record of the transfer in its records for at least the term of all private activity bonds issued pursuant to the transfer. No transfer may be made pursuant to this section in return for any payment of cash, property, or other marketable thing of value.

8869.86. (a) Subject to any limitations on transferred private activity bond limit as may be provided in subdivision (d) of Section 8869.85, any state agency or local agency may utilize its private activity bond limit for any of the following:

(1) The issuance of private activity bonds.

(2) If permitted by the committee, to make a carryforward election pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) If permitted by the committee, to make a transfer to any state agency, local agency, or the committee.

(b) Prior to issuing any private activity bonds, the issuer shall, in the bond resolution or other similar action giving approval for the issuance of bonds, specifically designate to the bond issue a portion of the private activity bond limit available or expected to be available to that issuer. The designation shall be irrevocable upon the issuance of the bonds to the extent of the amount thereof.

(c) Each state agency and local agency shall notify the committee in writing, as directed by the committee, after any of the following:

(1) The issuance of any private activity bonds.

(2) Any action taken pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 8869.85 to transfer any portion of its private activity bond limit.

(3) Any election to treat all or any portion of the state agency's or local agency's private activity bond limit as a carryforward pursuant to Section 146(f) of the Internal Revenue Code. The committee shall keep the notices in its records for a period no less than the term of all private activity bonds issued as described in the notices.

8869.87. The committee may request local agencies and state agencies to provide the committee with information pertaining to the amount and purpose of anticipated future private activity bond issues, or any other information which may be useful to the committee in performing its duties and responsibilities under this chapter.

8869.88. The committee may transfer any private activity bond limit directly to any joint powers authority created pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1. This section is specifically intended to be an expressed statement of an alternative allocation as provided in Temporary Treasury Regulations Section 1.103(n)-3T, A-14 and A-15, to the extent the regulations, or any successor thereto or similar regulations, are applicable to private activity bonds.

8869.89. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the committee may, upon any terms and conditions as it determines, authorize the use of a portion of the state ceiling, as contemplated by Section 146(n) of the Internal Revenue Code, in connection with the issuance by any state agency or local agency or mortgage credit certificates under a Qualified Mortgage Credit Certificate Program, as those terms are defined in Section 25(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

8869.90. (a) The committee may charge fees to the lead underwriter or the bond purchaser to cover the committee's costs in carrying out the duties and responsibilities set out in this chapter. Any fees received shall be deposited in the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee Fund, which is hereby created. All money in the fund shall be available, when appropriated, for expenses of the committee and the Treasurer.

(b) Until the time that fees are received by the committee and appropriated pursuant to this chapter for the expenses of the committee, the committee may borrow any money as may be required for the purpose of meeting necessary expenses of initial organization and operation of the committee.

(c) Any moneys received by the committee from fees or deposits beginning in fiscal year 1987–88, shall also be deposited into the fund.

8869.91. This chapter is intended to provide a full, fair, flexible, and workable means of utilizing the state ceiling available under the Internal Revenue Code, and it shall be liberally construed and implemented to achieve those purposes.

8869.92. To the extent that any provision of this chapter is held to be inconsistent with or repugnant to the federal law, the provision shall be given effect in accordance with its terms to the greatest extent possible and consistent with federal law and an inconsistency shall have no effect on the remaining provisions of the chapter.

8869.93. The Treasurer, or his or her designee, is designated as the state official to certify that an issue of private activity bonds meets the requirements of Section 146 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and to take any and all actions as may be necessary or appropriate in connection therewith.

SEC. 3. Section 16731 of the Government Code is amended to read:

16731. Whenever the committee determines that the sale of all or any part of the bonds authorized to be issued is necessary or desirable, it shall adopt a resolution to that effect. The resolution shall authorize and direct the Treasurer to arrange for the preparation of the requisite number of suitable bonds, either in coupon or registered form, and shall specify as to the bonds then to be sold:

(a) The aggregate number, aggregate par value, denominations and the date of the bonds to be then sold. The denominations shall be in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), or multiples of that sum. The date appearing on the bonds shall be deemed to be the date of issuance for all purposes of this chapter, irrespective of the actual date of delivery of the bonds and the payment of the purchase price of the bonds.

(b) The dates of maturity, and the amount of the bonds maturing at each date of maturity, which amounts need not be equal, but which dates shall be at annual or semiannual intervals, and the first of which dates of maturity shall be not more than five years, and the last of which dates of maturity shall be not more than 45 years, after the date of the bonds.

(c) Whether or not the bonds are to be subject to redemption at the option of the board prior to maturity, and, if so, the provisions for the redemption, the manner of the call thereof, and the price or prices at which the bonds shall be subject to redemption.

(d) The annual rate, or rates, of interest which the bonds to be issued shall bear, which may be in multiples of one-eighth or one-twentieth of 1 percent, payable semiannually, but not in excess of 11 percent, which rate or rates may be determined at the time of the sale of the bonds.

(e) The interest payment dates.

(f) The technical form and language of the bonds and any interest coupons to be attached to the bonds.

(g) Whether or not the right is reserved to make delivery in the form of temporary or interim bonds, certificates, or receipts, exchangeable for definitive bonds when executed and available for delivery, and if the right is reserved the denominations and form of the temporary securities.

(h) Whether the bonds are to be issued in coupon form or in fully registered form, or both, and whether or not any coupon bonds are to be subject to registration, and if so, whether the registration is to be as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest, or in either of the forms at the option of the holder, and the form and all of the terms and conditions of the registration. If the registration is provided for, coupon bonds may be interchanged for registered bonds and registered bonds for coupon bonds, and all of the provisions of this chapter with reference to the payment of bonds and interest coupons shall be subject to the terms and conditions of the registration with respect to the payment of registered bonds and the interest on registered bonds.

(i) All other terms and conditions of the bonds and of the execution, issuance, and sale of the bonds, which shall be consistent with all of this chapter.

(j) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the provisions, if any, for the interexchange of coupon or registered bonds of different denominations and the issuance of coupon or registered bonds in lieu of, or in exchange for, bonds of a like aggregate principal amount but of different denominations and in either coupon or registered form, or partly in coupon and partly in registered form.

SEC. 4. Section 53531 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is amended to read:

53531. Any provision of law specifying the maximum interest rate on bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, bonds may bear interest at a coupon rate or rates as determined by the legislative body in its discretion but not to exceed 12 percent per year payable as permitted by law, unless some higher rate is permitted by law.

SEC. 5. Section 53531 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 3 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 53532 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 4 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is amended to read:

53532. The provisions of Section 53531 shall apply only to coupon rates and shall not affect the power of a local agency to sell bonds at a discount below par if permitted by law. Any provision of law permitting bonds to be sold at a discount but specifying a maximum interest yield on bonds sold at a discount to the contrary notwithstanding, the bonds may be sold at a price yielding to the purchaser an effective interest rate of not to exceed 12 percent per year, payable as permitted by law, according to standard tables of bond values.

SEC. 7. Section 53532 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 5 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 53541 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 6 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is amended to read:

53541. Any provision of law requiring an election to the contrary notwithstanding, the legislative body without a vote of the electors may issue bonds of the local agency, zone or improvement district if all the following occur:

(a) The principal amount of such bonds does not exceed the then unissued balance of the principal amount of bonds of the same type authorized at an election heretofore held in the local agency, or in such zone or improvement district.

(b) The bonds are issued for the same purpose as that for which the unissued bonds were authorized.

(c) The bonds are issued in accordance with the laws governing the issuance of bonds of the local agency, except for the requirement of a bond election.

Bonds issued pursuant to this section may bear interest at a rate or rates not to exceed 12 percent per year. When bonds are issued pursuant to this section, unissued bonds as referred to in subdivisions (a) and (b) in a principal amount at least equal to the principal amount of bonds issued pursuant to this section, shall be canceled by order of the legislative body and shall not be issued.

SEC. 9. Section 53541 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 7 of Chapter 579 of the Statutes of 1985, is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 50191 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50191. (a) To apply for an allocation of qualified mortgage bonds, at least 30 days prior to issuing qualified mortgage bonds, a local agency shall file with the committee a notice specifying the amount of qualified mortgage bonds proposed to be issued, the approximate date on which the qualified mortgage bonds are to be issued, the amount of the proposed issuance attributable to the local agency's entitlement allocation under subdivision (a) of Section 50189, the portion of the proposed issuance, if any, which is to be a supplementary allocation under subdivision (b) of Section 50189, the portion of the proposed issuance, if any, which is an allocation assigned to the local agency pursuant to Section 50193 and what portion, if any, will be assigned to its housing authority or redevelopment agency. The committee may require the local agency to submit verification of amounts assigned to it pursuant to Section 50192.

The notice to the committee shall include a copy of a resolution adopted by the local agency's legislative body authorizing application for an allocation of bonds. In addition, the notice shall contain certification from the local agency to the committee that the local agency has on deposit in an interest-bearing trust account an amount, or contain certification that there is a letter of credit in an amount, up to 1 percent of the dollar amount of qualified mortgage bonds being requested for allocation, as determined by the committee. When it finds special circumstances exist, the committee may reduce the amount of the deposit required. Those circumstances may include, but are not limited to, the participation of nonprofit developers in the local agency's proposed issuance. Except to the extent needed to pay costs incurred in connection with the proposed issue of qualified mortgage bonds, the deposit shall be forfeited to be used by the local agency to assist housing for persons of low and moderate income, in an amount up to 1 percent of the dollar amount of bonds allocated, as determined by the committee, to the local agency but not sold within the time period specified in this section. The committee may require the local agency to justify what constitutes costs and may disallow those costs which, in the committee's determination are unjustified. When the committee finds that a local agency has sold substantially all of its allocation of bonds, or, for reasons beyond the control of the local agency has not sold all or substantially all of its allocation of bonds, the committee may waive or reduce the requirement for the forfeiture of such amount.

If an issuer establishes a mortgage credit certificate program, the amount or a portion of the amount the issuer has on deposit in an interest-bearing account or in a letter of credit in accordance with the preceding paragraph, may be withdrawn by the issuer at the following times:

(1) All of the amount on deposit or the amount of the letter of credit immediately following the issuance of all of the issuer's mortgage credit certificates.

(2) That portion of the amount on deposit or the amount of the letter of credit in proportion to the amount of the mortgage credit certificates that have been issued by the issuer.

Prior to April 1, a local agency may not file, and the committee may not accept, a notice of intent to issue qualified mortgage bonds in excess of its entitlement allocation plus amounts assigned pursuant to Section 50192, unless all proceeds of qualified mortgage bonds in excess of these amounts are restricted for use exclusively to provide mortgages to persons and families whose incomes do not exceed the applicable maximum incomes specified in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 50189.

The committee may continue any list from the previous year of notices filed by local agencies for the allocation of qualified mortgage bonds. If the committee elects to continue an existing list of notices, it shall require the local agency whose notice was received in the previous year to designate whether it wishes to remain on the list and whether it wishes it to be deemed accepted as of January 1 or April 1. If the committee elects to continue an existing list, notices received on or after January 1 shall be added to the existing list in the order received by the committee.

Upon receipt of a notice pursuant to this subdivision, the committee shall advise the local agency of the aggregate amount of qualified mortgage bonds in each allocation category previously approved pursuant to this chapter in that calendar year. Within five days of selling qualified mortgage bonds, the local agency shall notify the committee of the amount of qualified mortgage bonds sold.

(b) Except as provided in Section 50186, the committee shall approve an allocation for qualified mortgage bonds specified in a notice filed by a local agency pursuant to subdivision (a) and which conforms to the requirements and limitations of this chapter, provided the allocation, when combined with previously approved allocations, would not exceed the respective portions of the state ceiling reserved for entitlement allocations and supplementary allocations during that calendar year. If the committee has not acted within 30 days after the date that the local agency files a notice with the committee pursuant to subdivision (a), the proposed allocation shall be deemed approved by the committee.

(c) Within 30 days of receiving a notice from the first local agency filing pursuant to subdivision (a), and every 30 days thereafter if requests for allocation are pending before the committee, the committee shall determine whether the combined and cumulative requests for allocations as of that date would, if approved, exceed the respective portions of the state ceiling reserved for entitlement and supplementary allocations to local agencies pursuant to Section 50189, or if after April 1, would exceed the local bond limit. If the sum of the requests would exceed the respective portions of the state ceiling reserved for entitlement and supplementary allocations on that date, or if after April 1, would exceed the local bond limit, the committee shall reduce each request pro rata based on the amount of each request so as not to exceed either the local bond limit or the respective portions of the state ceiling reserved for entitlement and supplementary allocations during the calendar year, except that no request for an entitlement allocation shall be reduced below twenty million dollars ($20,000,000).

(d) Unless sold, an allocation of qualified mortgage bonds to a local agency shall expire 90 days after the allocation was granted by the committee. However, the committee may, upon application of the local agency in advance of the expiration date, extend the expiration date on the allocation for an additional period not to exceed 30 days, except as provided in subdivision (f), if the committee determines that the issuer demonstrates prior to the expiration date:

(1) The issuer had prepared the text of, and was prepared to market the bonds by distribution of, an official statement or other marketing materials.

(2) Interest rates or other terms when available in the financial markets were unacceptable to the issuer because, in the judgment of the issuer, such rates or terms made the financing of the mortgages to be provided by the issuance of the bonds infeasible for the homes to be financed.

Any allocation which has expired shall be available for reallocation to local agencies pursuant to Section 50189. If the amount of qualified mortgage bonds reported sold by a local agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section is less than the amount allocated to the local agency, the amount allocated but not sold shall be available as of the date of the local agency's report pursuant to subdivision (a) for reallocation to local agencies pursuant to Section 50189.

(e) The committee may disapprove or reduce the amount of an allocation requested by a local agency which did not use all or a substantial portion of an allocation granted after March 1, 1982.

(f) The committee may, in its discretion, grant further extentions of the expiration date of an allocation if, in its judgment, the issuer has been delayed in issuing bonds for reasons beyond its control. These reasons may include, but are not limited to, the pendency of litigation which precludes the issuance of bonds, and the pendency of designations of areas of chronic economic distress as defined in the federal act.

(g) The committee may designate an appropriate individual who shall receive entitlement or supplementary allocation notices on behalf of the committee.

Any allocation which has expired shall be available for reallocation to local agencies pursuant to Section 50189. If the amount of qualified mortgage bonds reported sold by a local agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section is less than the amount allocated to the local agency, the amount allocated but not sold shall be available as of the date of the local agency's report pursuant to subdivision (a) for reallocation to local agencies pursuant to Section 50189.

SEC. 11. If Senate Bill No. 113 of the 1987–88 Regular Session of the Legislature is chaptered, Section 2 of this act shall not become operative, and Section 2.5 of this act shall become operative. If Senate Bill No. 113 of the 1987–88 Regular Session of the Legislature is not chaptered, Section 2 of this act shall become operative, and Section 2.5 of this act shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 944

An act to add and repeal Article 8 (commencing with Section 18540) of Chapter 17 of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 8 (commencing with Section 18540) is added to Chapter 17 of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

Article 8. Designations to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund

18540. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Alzheimer's disease and related disorders are devastating health conditions which affect a significant number of Californians and can cause serious financial, social, and emotional hardships on the victims and their family caregivers. Approximately 50 percent of all nursing home admissions in the state may be attributable to Alzheimer's disease and related disorders.

(b) There is no known cause or cure for Alzheimer's disease at this time. It is also acknowledged that its continued progression over time can lead to other medical disorders that generally prove fatal.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this article, to establish a systematic program for the conduct of research regarding the cause, cure, and treatment of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. The outcome of this research may have direct effects and consequences on the development of a comprehensive system which will provide diagnoses and treatment to victims of those health problems. This program shall award grants to eligible physicians, hospitals, laboratories, educational institutions, and other organizations and persons for the purpose of enabling those organizations and persons to conduct research.

18541. For the purposes of this article, "research" shall include, but not be limited to, expenditures to develop and advance the understanding, techniques, and modalities effective in the care, treatment, and cure of Alzheimer's victims and their families.

18542. (a) Any taxpayer may designate on the tax return that a contribution in excess of the tax liability, if any, be made to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund , which is established by Section 18543. That designation is to be used as a voluntary checkoff on the tax return.

(b) The contributions shall be in full dollar amounts and may be made individually by each signatory on the joint return.

(c) A designation under subdivision (a) shall be made for any taxable year on the individual return for that taxable year, and once made shall be irrevocable. In the event that payments and credits reported on the return, together with any other credits associated with the taxpayer's account, do not exceed the taxpayer's liability, the return shall be treated as though no designation has been made. In the event that no designee is specified, the contribution shall be transferred to the General Fund, after reimbursement of the direct actual costs of the Franchise Tax Board for the collection and administration of funds under this article.

(d) In the event a taxpayer designates a contribution to more than one account, and the amount available is insufficient to satisfy the total amount designated, the contribution shall be allocated among the designees on a pro rata basis.

(e) The Franchise Tax Board shall revise the forms of the return to include a space labeled the "Alzheimer's Disease/Related Disorders Fund" to allow for the designation permitted under subdivision (a). The forms shall also include in the instructions information that the contribution may be in the amount of one dollar ($1) or more and that the contribution shall be used to conduct research relating to the cure and treatment of Alzheimer's disease.

(f) A deduction shall be allowed under Article 6 (commencing with Section 17201) of Chapter 3 for any contribution made pursuant to subdivision (a).

18543. There is in the State Treasury the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund to receive contributions made pursuant to Section 18542. The Franchise Tax Board shall notify the Controller of both the amount of money paid by taxpayers in excess of their tax liability and the amount of refund money which taxpayers have designated pursuant to Section 18542 to be transferred to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund. The Controller shall transfer from the Personal Income Tax Fund to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund an amount not in excess of the sum of the amounts designated by individuals pursuant to Section 18542 for payment into that fund.

18544. All money transferred to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund, upon appropriation by the Legislature, shall be allocated as follows:

(a) To the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board and the Controller in connection with their duties under this article.

(b) To the appropriate state department as established by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency in consultation with the Department of Aging, and any others which the secretary deems appropriate. These funds shall be expended for the purpose of conducting research relating to the care, treatment, and the cure of Alzheimer's disease through contracts or grants developed and awarded as determined by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, in consultation with the Department of Aging and any others which the secretary deems appropriate.

18545. This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date, is repealed unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that contributions made to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund shall not be used to offset or otherwise reduce the current or subsequent years' budget appropriations earmarked for Alzheimer's disease research.

CHAPTER 945

An act to add and repeal Article 8 (commencing with Section 18540) of Chapter 17 of Part 10 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

18543. There is in the State Treasury the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund to receive contributions made pursuant to Section 18542. The Franchise Tax Board shall notify the Controller of both the amount of money paid by taxpayers in excess of their tax liability and the amount of refund money which taxpayers have designated pursuant to Section 18542 to be transferred to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund. The Controller shall transfer from the Personal Income Tax Fund to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund an amount not in excess of the sum of the amounts designated by individuals pursuant to Section 18542 for payment into that fund.

18544. All money transferred to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund, upon appropriation by the Legislature, shall be allocated as follows:

(a) To the Franchise Tax Board for reimbursement of all costs incurred by the Franchise Tax Board in connection with its duties under this article.

(b) To the appropriate state department as established by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency in consultation with the Department of Aging, and any others which the secretary deems appropriate. These funds shall be expended for the purpose of conducting research relating to the care, treatment, and the cure of Alzheimer's disease through contracts or grants developed and awarded as determined by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency, in consultation with the Department of Aging and any others which the secretary deems appropriate.

18545. This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date, is repealed unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. It is the intent of the Legislature that contributions made to the California Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Research Fund shall not be used to offset or otherwise reduce the current or subsequent years' budget appropriations earmarked for Alzheimer's disease research.

CHAPTER 946

An act to amend Section 19770 of the Government Code, relating to military leave.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19770 of the Government Code, is amended to read:

19770. (a) This part, rather than provisions of the Military and Veterans Code, governs leave for military service, rights and benefits accrued during that service, and reinstatement after that service, for civil service employees. Both the State Personnel Board and the Department of Personnel Administration have responsibilities for carrying out certain provisions of this chapter as provided in subdivision (b).

(b) The State Personnel Board is responsible for the provisions of this chapter pertaining to civil service examinations, list eligibility, appointments, reinstatements, probationary periods, and status. The Department of Personnel Administration is responsible for the provisions of this chapter on eligibility for military leave and the effect of these leaves on the employee's salary, vacation, sick leave, and seniority.

CHAPTER 947

An act to amend Section 1568.12 of, to amend the heading of Chapter 3.3 (commencing with Section 1568.10) of Division 2 of, to add Section 1568.22 to, and to repeal Chapter 3.3 (commencing with Section 1568.10) of Division 2 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to Alzheimer's disease.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Chapter 3.3 (commencing with Section 1568.10) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 3.3. ALZHEIMER'S DAY CARE-RESOURCE CENTERS ACT

SEC. 2. Section 1568.12 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1568.12. The following powers and duties are hereby vested in the department:

(a) The department shall supervise a program in specialized day care-resource centers for participants developed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) (1) The department shall conduct a grants-in-aid program, subject to the funds appropriated, for that purpose.

(2) The maximum award by the department to any grantee shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) per year, and a grantee shall be required to match not less than 25 percent of the amount granted. The use of the grants shall be limited to the expenses of administration, staffing, operating expenses, such as rent and utilities, equipment, and required renovation expenses.

(3) The matching contribution of the grantee may include cash or in-kind contributions, and the in-kind contribution may include the value of staffing or volunteer services, or both.

(4) Grants shall be awarded in different geographical areas of the state. Grantees shall include at least one urban and one rural center, with representation from the north, south, and central regions of the state.

(c) The department shall adopt policies, priorities, and guidelines to carry out the purposes of this chapter, and the adoption thereof shall not be subject to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

The Adult Day Health Care Review Committee, established by Section 1572, shall make recommendations to the department on the selection of grantees to operate Alzheimer's day care-resource centers. If Senate Bill 601 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is enacted and amends Section 1572, the Long-Term Care Committee as provided for in that bill shall make recommendations to the department on the selection of grantees under this section.

Subject to funds appropriated for that purpose, the department shall allocate the funds necessary to continue operation of the Alzheimer's day care-resource centers, administered pursuant to this part, during the 1987–88, 1988–89, 1989–90, and 1990–91 fiscal years.

SEC. 3. Section 1568.22 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1568.22. This chapter shall become inoperative on July 1, 1991, and, as of January 1, 1992, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1992, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

CHAPTER 948

An act to amend Sections 4700 and 4726 of the Civil Code, to amend Section 640.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and to amend Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4700 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4700. (a) In any proceeding where there is at issue the support of a minor child or a child for whom support is authorized under Section 206, the court may order either or both parents to pay any amount necessary for the support, maintenance, and education of the child. At the request of either party, the court shall make appropriate findings with respect to the circumstances on which the order for the support of a minor child is based. Upon a showing of good cause, the court may order the parent or parents required to make the payment of support to give reasonable security therefor. All payments of support shall be made by the person owing the support payment prior to the payment of any debts owing to creditors. Any order for child support may be modified or revoked as the court may deem necessary, except as to any amount that may have accrued prior to the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause to modify or revoke. Any order for child support, as well as any order of modification or revocation of such an order, may be made retroactive to the date of the filing of the notice of motion or order to show cause therefor, or to any subsequent date, except as may otherwise be prescribed by federal law (42 U.S.C. Sec. 666(a) (9)). An order of modification or revocation may include an award of attorney fees and court costs to the prevailing party.

(b) The court may order financial compensation for periods when a parent fails to assume the caretaker responsibility, or when a parent has been thwarted by the other parent when attempting to exercise visitation or custody rights, contemplated by a custody or visitation order entered pursuant to this part, including, but not limited to, an order for joint physical custody or by a written or oral agreement between the parents. The compensation shall be limited to (1) the reasonable expenses incurred for, or on behalf of, a child, resulting from the other parent's failure to assume his or her caretaker responsibility or (2) reasonable expenses incurred by a parent for or on behalf of a child resulting from the other parent's thwarting his or her efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights. These expenses may include the value of caretaker services, but are not limited to the cost of services provided by a third party during the relevant period.

The compensation may be requested by noticed motion or an order to show cause and shall allege, under penalty of perjury, a minimum of one hundred dollars ($100) of expenses so incurred or, at least three occurrences of failure to exercise visitation or custody rights or at least three occurrences of the thwarting of efforts to exercise visitation or custody rights within the six months prior to filing of the motion or order.

Attorney's fees shall be awarded to the prevailing party, upon a showing of the nonprevailing party's ability to pay.

(c) When a court orders a person to make specified payments for support of a child during the child's minority, or until the child is married or otherwise emancipated, or until the death of, or the occurrence of a specified event as to, a child for whom support is authorized under Section 206, the liability of the person ordered to pay support terminates upon the happening of the contingency. If the custodial parent or other person having physical custody of the child, to whom payments are to be made, fails to notify the person ordered to make those payments, or the attorney of record of the person ordered to pay support, of the happening of the contingency, and continues to accept support payments, the person shall refund any and all moneys received which accrued after the happening of the contingency, except that the overpayments shall first be applied to any and all support payments which are then in default. The court may, in the original order for support, order the custodial parent or other person to whom payments are to be made to notify the person ordered to make the payments, or his or her attorney of record, of the happening of the contingency.

(d) In the event obligations for support of a child are discharged in bankruptcy, the court may make all proper orders for the support, maintenance and education of the child, as the court may deem just.

SEC. 2. Section 4726 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4726. (a) The court shall require that health insurance coverage for the supported children shall be maintained by either or both parents if that insurance is available at no cost or at nominal cost to the parent or parents. In cases in which the court determines that health insurance coverage is not available at no or nominal cost, the court's order for support shall contain a provision which specifies that health insurance coverage shall be obtained if it becomes available at no or nominal cost. Upon health insurance coverage at no or nominal cost becoming available to the parent or parents, the parent or parents shall apply for that coverage.

(b) Where the district attorney has been designated as the assigned payee for child support, the court shall order the parent or parents to notify the district attorney upon applying for health insurance coverage for the child within a reasonable period of time.

The district attorney shall obtain a completed medical form from the parent or parents in accordance with Section 11490 of the Welfare and Institutions Code and shall forward the completed form to the State Department of Health Services.

(c) This section is applicable in all cases, irrespective of whether the support award made is based on the mandatory minimum schedule or a higher amount based on a state or county schedule.

SEC. 2.5. Section 640.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

640.1. (a) To the extent required by federal law, all applications filed by the district attorney for an order to establish or enforce child support, except paternity cases or those cases involving complex issues, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, shall be referred for hearing to a commissioner or a referee, unless the district attorney of that particular county has applied for, and received, an exemption from this requirement from the State Department of Social Services.

Paternity cases and cases involving complex issues, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, may be referred to and heard by a commissioner or a referee, if deemed appropriate by the commissioner or referee. If the case is heard by a commissioner or referee, the time limits specified in subdivision (a) of Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code do not apply.

In counties which operate an expedited process, commissioners and referees shall order a temporary support obligation under the expedited process in complex cases, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, prior to referring those cases to the full judicial system.

All applications to be heard by a commissioner or referee shall be made returnable on an order to show cause within 30 days after service thereof or heard on a noticed motion within 30 days after service of notice. The matter shall not be heard earlier than 10 days after service of the order to show cause or notice of motion and supporting papers. The hearing shall not be continued to a date more than 10 days after the date originally set for hearing.

Nothing in this section prohibits persons other than the district attorney from bringing an action under this section, if permitted by that particular county. However, actions brought by the district attorney shall have priority over actions brought by other persons.

(b) At the hearing, the commissioner or referee shall, where appropriate, do all of the following:

(1) Take testimony.

(2) Establish a record, evaluate evidence, and make recommendations or decisions.

(3) Accept voluntary acknowledgments of support liability and parentage and stipulated agreements respecting the amount of child support to be paid.

(4) Enter default orders where authorized pursuant to Section 639.5.

(c) Except where a default or stipulated order has been entered by a commissioner or a referee, a recommended order shall be filed by the commissioner or referee within seven court days after the hearing concludes. The clerk shall mail an endorsed copy first class, postage prepaid, to all parties by the close of the business day on which the order is filed, together with a notice of a review hearing before a judge of the superior court, stating the date any party may appear and object to the recommended order. As an alternative to mailing the copy of the order and the notice to the parties, the clerk may personally serve the copy of the order and the notice at the time of the hearing. The clerk shall also provide a written notice of that hearing to all persons appearing at the hearing before the commissioner or referee. The hearing in superior court shall take place no less than 15 days nor later than 20 days following the mailing of the recommended order to all parties. The hearing before the superior court shall not be continued to a date more than 10 days after the date originally set for hearing. Section 1013 does not apply to these time limits.

(d) Except as provided in subdivision (e), on the appointed hearing date, the superior court shall independently review the record of the original hearing, any supplemental papers filed, hear any oral objections and responses thereto, and either adopt the recommended order or modify it on such terms as the interests of justice require.

(e) Notwithstanding subdivision (d), on its own motion, the superior court may rehear the matter. Any rehearing determined necessary by the court shall be heard within 10 days of the date of the hearing required by subdivision (d). At the conclusion of the hearing, the superior court shall either adopt the recommended order or modify it on such terms as the interests of justice require.

(f) If no objection to the recommended order is presented to the court on the date specified in subdivision (c), the court shall adopt the recommended order, unless it modifies it on its own motion, consistent with the interests of justice, as described in subdivision (e).

SEC. 3. Section 11475.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11475.1. (a) Each county shall maintain a single organizational unit located in the office of the district attorney which shall have the responsibility for promptly and effectively enforcing child and spousal support obligations and determining paternity in the case of a child born out of wedlock. The district attorney shall take appropriate action, both civil and criminal, to enforce this obligation when the child is receiving public assistance, and when requested to do so by the individual on whose behalf the enforcement efforts will be made when the child is not receiving public assistance. To the extent required by federal law, actions brought by the district attorney to establish or enforce support obligations in all cases, other than paternity cases or those cases involving complex issues, shall be completed within the following time limits: (1) 90 percent of the actions shall be completed within three months from the date of service; (2) 98 percent of the actions shall be completed within six months from the date of service; and (3) 100 percent of the actions shall be completed within 12 months from the date of service. As used in this section, "service" means the service of process required by law for the particular proceeding. This responsibility applies to spousal support only where the spousal support obligation has been reduced to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction. In any action brought for modification or revocation of an order that is being enforced under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act, the effective date of the modification or revocation shall be as prescribed by federal law (42 U.S.C. Sec. 666(a)(9)), or any subsequent date. In any action brought or enforcement proceedings instituted by the district attorney pursuant to this section for payment of child or spousal support, an action to recover an arrearage in support payments may be maintained by the district attorney at any time within the period otherwise specified for the enforcement of a support judgment, notwithstanding the fact that the child has attained the age of majority. The county shall undertake an outreach program to inform the public that this service is available to persons not receiving public assistance. There shall be prominently displayed in every public area of every office of the units established by this section a notice, in clear and simple language prescribed by the Director of Social Services, that child and spousal support enforcement services are provided to all individuals whether or not they are recipients of public social services.

In any action for child support brought by the district attorney in the performance of duties under this section, the district attorney may make a motion for an order effective during the pendency of that action, for the support, maintenance, and education of the child or children that are the subject of the action. This order shall be referred to as an order for temporary support. This order shall have the same force and effect as a like or similar order under the Family Law Act (Part 5 (commencing with Section 4000) of Division 4 of the Civil Code).

The district attorney shall file a motion for an order for temporary support within the following time limits:

(1) If the defendant is the mother, a presumed father under subdivision (a) of Section 7004 of the Civil Code, or any father where the child is at least six months old when the defendant files his answer, the time limit is 90 days after the defendant files an answer.

(2) In any other case where the defendant has filed an answer prior to the birth of the child or not more than six months after the birth of the child, then the time limit is nine months after the birth of the child.

If more than one child is the subject of the action, the limitation on reimbursement shall apply only as to those children whose parental relationship and age would bar recovery were a separate action brought for support of that child or those children.

If the district attorney fails to file a motion for an order for temporary support within time limits specified in this section, the district attorney shall be barred from obtaining a judgment of reimbursement for any support provided for that child during the period between the date the time limit expired and the motion was filed, or, if no such motion is filed, when a final judgment is entered.

Nothing in this section prohibits the district attorney from entering into cooperative arrangements with other county departments as necessary to carry out the responsibilities imposed by this section pursuant to plans of cooperation with the departments approved by the State Department of Social Services.

Nothing in this section shall otherwise limit the ability of the district attorney from securing and enforcing orders for support of a spouse or former spouse as authorized under any other provision of law.

As used in this subdivision, "complex issues" means issues arising in the following types of cases: (1) any case which could directly result in a person's incarceration; (2) any case involving the right to jury trial; and (3) any case so deemed by a commissioner, a referee, or a superior court judge.

In counties which operate an expedited process in accordance with Section 640.1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, commissioners and referrees shall order a temporary support obligation under the expedited process in complex cases, as defined in this section, prior to referring those cases to the full judicial system.

(b) As used in this article, "enforcing obligations" includes, but is not limited to, (1) the use of all interception and notification systems operated by the State Department of Social Services for the purposes of aiding in the enforcement of support obligations and (2) the obtaining by the district attorney of an initial order for child support, by civil or criminal process, without regard to whether the child is receiving public assistance.

(c) As used in this section "out of wedlock" means that the biological parents of the child were not married to each other at the time of the child's conception.

(d) The district attorney is the public agency responsible for administering wage withholding for the purposes of Title IV-D of the Social Security Act. The district attorney shall seek a wage assignment in any case as soon as the obligor is in arrears in payment in a sum equal to the amount of support payable for one month pursuant to Section 4701 of the Civil Code.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 949

An act to amend Sections 11512 and 11512.05 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11512 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512. No hospital service contract shall be entered into between a corporation proposing to furnish or provide any one or more of the services authorized under this chapter and a subscriber:

(a) Unless the entire consideration therefor is expressed in the contract;

(b) Unless the times at which the benefits or services to the subscriber take effect and terminate are stated in a portion of the contract above the evidence of its execution;

(c) If the contract purports to entitle more than one person to benefits or services except family hospital service contracts issued under Section 11512.1, group hospital service contracts issued under Section 11512.2 and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.4;

(d) Unless every printed portion and any endorsement or attached papers is plainly printed in type of which the face is not smaller than 10 points;

(e) Except for group hospital service contracts and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.2, unless the exceptions of the contract are printed with greater prominence than the benefits to which they apply;

(f) Except for group hospital service contracts and blanket contracts issued under Section 11512.2, unless, if any portion of such contract purports, by reason of the circumstances under which an illness, injury or disablement is incurred to reduce any service to less than that provided for the same illness, injury or disablement incurred under ordinary circumstances, such portion is printed in boldface type and with greater prominence than any other text of the contract;

(g) If the contract contains any provisions purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or bylaws of such nonprofit corporation a part of the contract unless such portion is set forth in full in the contract;

(h) Except for a comprehensive health care contract issued under subdivision (e) of Section 11493, unless the contract for hospital service contains in boldface type not less than 10-point the following provisions:

Nothing in this contract contained shall in any way or manner restrict or interfere with the right of any individual entitled to hospital service and care hereunder to select the contracting hospital or to make a free choice of his or her attending physician, who shall be the holder of a valid and unrevoked physician and surgeon's certificate and who is a member of, or acceptable to, the attending staff and board of directors of the hospital in which said hospital services are to be provided and rendered.

A contract need not contain the foregoing provisions of this subdivision when a plan has negotiated and entered into contracts for alternative rates of payment with professional or institutional providers, and offers the benefits of those alternative rates to group contractors or individual subscribers who select those providers. A contract need not contain the foregoing provisions when a plan, by agreement with group contractors, limits payments under a contract to services secured by subscribers from professional or institutional providers charging alternative rates pursuant to contract with that plan.

(i) Contracts for alternative rates of payment with institutional and professional providers made pursuant to subdivision (h) of this section shall be executed in the name of the plan and fully disclosed to the contracting providers.

A contract which, by agreement with group contractors, limits payments to services secured by subscribers from providers charging alternative rates shall meet the provisions of Section 10133.5 of the Insurance Code.

A contract which, by agreement with group contractors limits payments under a contract to services secured by subscribers from institutional providers charging alternative rates pursuant to contract with such plan, and after July 1, 1983, to services secured by both professional and institutional providers, shall include programs for the continuous review of the quality of care, performance of medical personnel, utilization of services and facilities and costs by professionally recognized unrelated third parties utilizing in the case of professional providers similarly licensed providers for each medical and dental service covered under the plan and utilizing in the case of institutional providers appropriate professional providers. All provisions of the laws of the state relating to immunity from liability and discovery privileges for medical and dental peer review shall apply to the licensed providers performing the foregoing activities.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a plan to engage in the practice of medicine, or to exercise medical or dental professional judgment.

(j) If such contract contains coverage for sterilization operations or procedures and it imposes any disclaimer, restriction on, or limitation of coverage relative to the insured's reason for sterilization. All such contracts entered into or renewed on or after March 7, 1973, shall be construed to be in compliance with this section, and any provision in any such contract which is in conflict with this section shall be of no force or effect;

(k) Unless, in the case of a contract which provides benefits that accrue after a certain time of confinement in a health care facility, the contract specifies what constitutes a day of confinement or the number of consecutive hours of confinement which are requisite to the commencement of benefits.

SEC. 2. Section 11512.05 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512.05. (a) A nonprofit hospital service plan which negotiates and enters into contracts with professional providers pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 11512 for alternative rates of payment and offers the benefits of those alternative rates to group contractors or individual subscribers who select those providers, shall give reasonable consideration to timely written proposals for contracting by licensed or certified professional providers.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions are applicable:

(1) "Reasonable consideration" means consideration in good faith of the terms of proposals for contracting prior to the time that contracts for alternative rates of payment are entered into or renewed. A plan may specify the terms and conditions of contracting to assure cost efficiency, qualification of providers, appropriate utilization of services, accessibility, convenience to persons who would receive the provider's services, and consistency with the plan's basic method of operation, but shall not exclude providers because of their category of license.

(2) "Professional provider" means a holder of a certificate or license under Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) of the Business and Professions Code, or any initiative act referred to therein, except for those certified or licensed pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 2050) of Chapter 5 or Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 4800), who may, within the scope of their licenses, perform the services of a specific plan benefit defined in the hospital service plan's contracts with its contract holders.

(c) A plan which has a contract with an institutional provider or with professional providers is not required by this section to give consideration to contracting with professional providers who hold the same category of license or certificate and propose to serve a geographic area served adequately by the contracting providers that provide their professional services as employees or agents of that institutional or professional provider, or contract with that institutional or professional provider to provide professional services.

(d) In every description of plan benefits, and in every directory of participating hospitals and professional providers, or similar document, listing or identifying participating providers in a geographical area served by the plan, the plan shall state that the plan will reimburse subscribers for services of any professional provider duly licensed by the State of California, whether or not the provider participates on a contracting basis with the plan. Where permitted by Section 10176, the plan may state that as to certain provider categories, reimbursement is conditioned on physician referral.

(e) In each directory of participating hospitals and professional providers, at the appropriate alphabetical locations within each geographical list of participating providers, the plan shall list every provider category licensed by Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) of the Business and Professions Code, or any initiative act referred to therein, in type style and size comparable to those of all other provider categories, and shall state under each category that the plan will reimburse subscribers for services of any professional provider of that category duly licensed by the State of California, and, where permitted by Section 10176, that physician referral is required.

(f) In any description, definition, or glossary of medical specialties included in the directory of participating hospitals and professional providers, the plan shall include appropriate definitions of each license category, based on the statutory scope of each license.

(g) No duties imposed by this section shall apply to a plan to the extent that it issues comprehensive health care contracts under subdivision (e) of Section 11493, or contracts which limit payments to services secured by subscribers from providers charging alternative rates under subdivision (h) of Section 11512, nor shall the requirements of this section apply to any documents issued in connection with those contracts.

SEC. 3. Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to affect the application of Section 10176 of the Insurance Code to nonprofit hospital service plans.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

The intention of the proponents of Chapter 559 of the Statutes of 1986 (Assembly Bill 526) is detailed in a letter from the author of Assembly Bill 526 which appears in the Journal of the California State Assembly on page 268, January 16, 1987.

Enactment of Sections 1 and 2 of this act are necessary to eliminate unintended confusion among consumers, health plans, and providers, and to assure the orderly regulation of health plans subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of Insurance. It is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately as an urgency statute.

CHAPTER 950

An act to add and repeal Section 12306.6 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to in-home supportive services.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12306.6 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

12306.6. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that the County of Santa Clara voluntarily conduct a special pilot project to determine the need to screen prospective providers for prior criminal convictions which may pose a risk to in-home supportive services applicants' or recipients' health and safety. The following conditions shall apply to the special pilot project:

(1) The Santa Clara County Welfare Department shall be responsible for conducting a criminal records clearance of a prospective provider of in-home supportive services. The county welfare department shall obtain fingerprints of a provider for submission to the Department of Justice and shall obtain a signed declaration under penalty of perjury from the provider regarding any prior criminal convictions. The county welfare department, upon obtaining the fingerprints, shall secure from the Department of Justice information of only convictions from the state summary criminal history information to determine whether the prospective employee has ever been convicted of a crime specified in Section 220, subdivision (1), (2), (3), or (4) of Section 261, or Section 264.1, 267, 288a, or 289 of the Penal Code, or of a felony or three or more misdemeanors which are crimes of violence as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 11105.3 of the Penal Code, or of any crime which bears directly upon the individual's fitness to perform his or her duties pursuant to Section 12300. Any statement requested by the local county welfare department of an applicant pertaining to his or her state summary criminal history information shall remain confidential unless confidentiality is waived by the employee. Fingerprints of the provider shall be submitted to the Department of Justice within 20 days of employment by a contract agency described in Section 12302.1, or within 20 days of being placed on a county-maintained list or registry of providers, or within 20 days of receiving a request from an applicant or recipient pursuant to paragraph (4). If the prospective provider was employed, or resided, out of the state, two fingerprint cards shall be submitted to the Department of Justice for processing.

(2) Every contractor employed by the county pursuant to Section 12302.1 shall participate in the pilot project and refer all new prospective providers to the county welfare department for a criminal records clearance. The contractor may hire a provider for whom a criminal records clearance is pending, subject to conditions imposed by this section and any other requirements of the pilot project.

(3) The pilot county shall conduct a criminal records clearance for any new prospective provider who is added to a county-maintained list or registry of persons who wish to be referred to an in-home supportive services applicant or recipient for possible employment. The county may make referrals from the list or registry while the criminal records clearance is pending, provided that the applicant or recipient of in-home supportive services is informed of this fact.

(4) Any applicant for, or recipient of, in-home supportive services may request that the pilot county conduct a criminal records clearance on any new prospective provider under consideration for employment.

(b) In the case of prospective providers seeking employment with a contract agency, the cost of securing the criminal records clearance information and fingerprints on new applicants shall be borne by the contractor. The costs of securing the criminal records clearance and fingerprints for other providers shall be borne by the pilot county. No in-home supportive services funds used for providing such services shall be used to defer the costs of the fingerprinting and criminal records check completed pursuant to this section.

(c) If it is determined by the county welfare department, on the basis of the fingerprints submitted to the Department of Justice, that the provider has been convicted of an offense specified in Section 220, subdivision (1), (2), (3), or (4) of Section 261, or Section 264.1, 267, 288a, or 289 of the Penal Code, or of a felony or three or more misdemeanors which are crimes of violence as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 11105.3 of the Penal Code or of any crime which bears directly upon the individual's fitness to perform his or her duties, the department shall notify the public or private agency or individual recipient of services to deny employment or to terminate employment, as the case may be, and the following actions shall be taken as appropriate:

(1) If the provider is employed by a contract agency, the county welfare department shall notify the contractor to act immediately to terminate the person's employment and prevent the person from providing in-home supportive services. The director of the county welfare department may subsequently grant an exemption pursuant to subdivision (e).

(2) If the provider is listed on a county-maintained list or registry, the county shall immediately remove the provider's name from the list or registry and shall not refer the provider to any applicant or recipient. Any applicant or recipient to whom the provider has been referred shall be notified of removal of the provider's name from the list or registry. The director of the county welfare department may subsequently grant an exemption pursuant to subdivision (e).

(3) If the criminal records clearance was done at the request of an applicant or recipient pursuant to paragraph (4) of subdivision (a), the county welfare department shall immediately notify the applicant or recipient that the criminal records check showed one or more prior convictions for which the provider could not be listed on a county-maintained list or registry. The notification shall also include whether an exemption would be possible pursuant to subdivision (e).

(d) For purposes of the pilot project, the definition and procedures related to convictions shall be the same as described in subdivision (d) of Section 1569.17 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to residential facilities for the elderly.

(e) After review of the record, the county may grant an exemption from denial of employment if the department has substantial and convincing evidence to support a reasonable belief that the person convicted of the crime is of such good character as to justify granting an exemption.

(f) Neither the County of Santa Clara nor the state shall incur any liability for the conduct of the special pilot project pursuant to this section.

(g) This section shall not apply to those employers of recipients of services who receive payments for in-house supportive services in advance of those services being provided, unless the recipient of services requests a fingerprint and criminal records check to be completed on a prospective employee.

(h) Santa Clara County shall report to the Legislature, by July 1, 1989, on the results of the pilot project. The report shall include statistical data on the number of prospective providers who have a criminal record, the types of convictions, the number of waivers, the number of applicants for or recipients of in-home supportive services who requested criminal record checks, the number of criminal record checks made in connection with the contractor's potential providers and the number of criminal record checks made prior to potential providers' names being placed on the county's referral list or registry. The report shall also include an account of any reports of abuse, neglect, or exploitation alleged to have been made against an applicant for, or recipient of, in-home supportive services by a provider and the criminal record, if any, of that provider. The report shall further include information on whether or not any adverse consequences resulted from allowing providers to work for contract agencies or to be placed on a county-maintained list or registry prior to receiving the results of the criminal records clearance. Finally, the report shall present an evaluation of the pilot project and recommendations regarding future statewide use of criminal record checks in the in-home supportive services program.

(i) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 951

An act to amend Section 99301.5 of, and to add Sections 99234.1 and 99301.6 to, the Public Utilities Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 99234.1 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

99234.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article or Article 4 (commencing with Section 99260), the Orange County Transportation Commission may allocate funds from either the Orange County Unified Transportation Trust, as defined in Section 99301.6, or from the principal upon which the interest is accruing to the Department of Transportation for construction of high-occupancy vehicle lanes within freeways in the county. In the event high-occupancy vehicle lanes constructed with the funds are subsequently converted to mixed flow use, the local transportation fund shall be reimbursed through the State Transportation Improvement Program process the amount of funds provided to the department for construction of the lanes pursuant to this section.

SEC. 2. Section 99301.5 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

99301.5. Notwithstanding Sections 99232, 99233, and 99301, the Orange County Transportation Commission may direct the transportation planning agency to allocate interest accruing from money retained for the development of transit in the local transportation fund of the County of Orange, to the County of Orange, to cities within the county, to the Department of Transportation, to the Orange County Transit District, and to the Orange County Transportation Commission to expend for purposes within the County of Orange, as determined by the Orange County Transportation Commission, which could be funded by motor vehicle fuel taxes pursuant to Section 1 of Article XIX of the California Constitution. The commission, when determining the purposes for which the money is to be expended, shall ensure that, to the extent possible, at least one half of the money is allocated to local street and road projects.

SEC. 3. Section 99301.6 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

99301.6. Interest accruing pursuant to Section 99301.5 shall continue to be allocated under that section for as long as there is a balance of money retained for the development of transit in the local transportation fund of the County of Orange. For this purpose, the amount of the balance retained for the development of transit in the local transportation fund shall be determined by the Orange County Transportation Commission with the concurrence of the Orange County Transit District prior to the beginning of each fiscal year.

After the allocation instructions have been received from the transportation planning agency, the interest accruing shall be deposited in a separate account maintained by the Orange County Treasurer, which shall be known as the Orange County Unified Transportation Trust. Thereafter, the Orange County Transportation Commission shall issue allocation instructions on the balance in the Orange County Unified Transportation Trust.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act.

CHAPTER 952

An act to add Sections 12749.8, 12749.81, and 12749.82 to the Water Code, relating to flood protection.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12749.8 is added to the Water Code, to read:

12749.8. The project for flood protection measures on the Guadalupe River in Santa Clara County is adopted and authorized substantially in accordance with the plans and subject to the conditions of the Report of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors dated June 29, 1986, as authorized by Section 401(b) of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-662), at an estimated cost to the state of the sum that may be appropriated for state cooperation by the Legislature upon the recommendation and advice of the department. The department may pay 50 percent of the nonfederal capital costs of the recreation and fish and wildlife enhancement features of the project.

SEC. 2. Section 12749.81 is added to the Water Code, to read:

12749.81. The Santa Clara Valley Water District shall give assurances satisfactory to the Secretary of the Army that local cooperation required by the Report of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors dated June 29, 1986, will be furnished by the district in connection with the project for flood control adopted and authorized in Section 12749.8.

SEC. 3. Section 12749.82 is added to the Water Code, to read:

12749.82. The Santa Clara Valley Water District, in conjunction with the Department of the Army, shall execute the plans and project referred to in Section 12749.8 and may make modifications and amendments to the plan as may be necessary to execute them for purposes of Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 12570) and this chapter.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act.

CHAPTER 953

An act to amend Section 790.07 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 790.07 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

790.07. Whenever the commissioner shall have reason to believe that any person has violated a cease and desist order issued pursuant to Section 790.05 or a court order issued pursuant to Section 790.06, after the order has become final, and while the order is still in effect, the commissioner may, after a hearing at which it is determined that the violation was committed, order that person to forfeit and pay to the State of California a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), which may be recovered in a civil action, except that, if the violation is found to be willful, the amount of the penalty may be a sum not to exceed fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000).

For any subsequent violation of the cease and desist order or of the court order, while any such order is still in effect, the commissioner may, after hearing, suspend or revoke the license or certificate of that person for a period not exceeding one year; provided, however, no such proceeding shall be based upon the subsequent violation unless the same was committed or continued after the date on which the order imposing the penalty pursuant to the preceding paragraph became final.

The hearings provided by this section shall be conducted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, and the commissioner shall have all the powers granted therein.

The person shall be entitled to have the proceedings and the order of the commissioner therein reviewed by means of any remedy provided by Section 12940 of this code or by said Administrative Procedure Act.

CHAPTER 954

An act to add Sections 4604.5, 5163.5, and 7017.6 to the Civil Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4604.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4604.5. Prior to granting or modifying a custody order in any case in which one or both parents of the child have not appeared either personally or by counsel, the court shall require the parent, petitioner, or other party appearing in the case to submit a certified copy of the child's birth certificate to the court. The court or its designee shall forward the certified copy of the birth certificate to the local police or sheriff's department which shall check with the National Crime Information Center Missing Person System to ascertain whether the child in question has been reported missing or is the victim of an abduction and report thereon to the court. If the custody matter before the court also involves a petition for the dissolution of marriage or the adjudication of paternity rights or duties, this section is applicable only in those cases in which there is no proof of personal service of the petition on the absent parent. For good cause shown, the court may waive the requirements of this section.

SEC. 2. Section 5163.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

5163.5. Section 4604.5 is applicable to proceedings pursuant to this title.

SEC. 3. Section 7017.6 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

7017.6. Section 4604.5 is applicable to proceedings pursuant to this part.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 955

An act to amend Section 13108.5 of the Health and Safety Code, and to add Section 4290 to the Public Resources Code, relating to fire safety.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13108.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

13108.5. (a) The State Fire Marshal shall adopt, amend, and repeal regulations for roof coverings and openings into the attic areas of buildings in those fire hazard severity zones designated by the Director of Forestry pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 4201) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Public Resources Code.

The regulations shall be consistent with the rules and regulations adopted by the Commission of Housing and Community Development pursuant to Section 17922 and shall apply to buildings subject to this part located in fire hazard severity zones within state responsibility areas. The regulations shall be enforced by the agency responsible for enforcement of this part within each zone.

The State Fire Marshal shall take into account the rating, reflecting the degree of severity of fire hazard assigned pursuant to Section 4203 of the Public Resources Code for each of the fire hazard severity zones.

The regulations adopted pursuant to this section are applicable to new buildings constructed and to existing buildings when 50 percent or more of the roof area is reroofed pursuant to a building permit when the application for the permit is filed after the effective date of the regulations. When there is no building permit, the regulations are applicable to buildings constructed and to buildings where 50 percent or more of the roof area is reroofed after the effective date of the regulations.

(b) The State Fire Marshal shall report to the Legislature by February 1, 1988, describing the regulations adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) for roof coverings and openings that are applicable to each of the fire hazard severity zones designated by the Director of Forestry and Fire Protection. The report shall also generally identify the fire hazard severity zones and the agency responsible for enforcement of the regulations within each zone.

SEC. 2. Section 4290 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

4290. The board shall adopt regulations implementing minimum fire safety standards related to defensible space which are applicable to state responsibility area lands under the authority of the department. These regulations apply to the perimeters and access to all residential, commercial, and industrial building construction within state responsibility areas approved after July 1, 1989. The board may not adopt building standards, as defined in Section 18909 of the Health and Safety Code, under the authority of this section. As an integral part of fire safety standards, the State Fire Marshal has the authority to adopt regulations for roof coverings and openings into the attic areas of buildings specified in Section 13108.5 of the Health and Safety Code. The regulations apply to the placement of mobile homes as defined by National Fire Protection Association standards. These regulations do not apply where an application for a building permit was filed prior to July 1, 1989, or to parcel or tentative maps or other developments approved prior to July 1, 1989, if the final map for the tentative map is approved within the time prescribed by the local ordinance. The regulations shall include all of the following:

(a) Road standards for fire equipment access.

(b) Standards for signs identifying streets, roads, and buildings.

(c) Minimum private water supply reserves for emergency fire use.

(d) Fuel breaks and greenbelts.

These regulations do not supersede local regulations which equal or exceed minimum regulations adopted by the state.

CHAPTER 956

An act to amend Sections 1255.3, 1269, 1271, 1274.10, 9614, and 15079 of, to repeal Sections 1274 and 1274.9 of, and to amend and renumber Section 1274.5 of, the Unemployment Insurance Code, and to amend Section 11 of Chapter 1217 of the Statutes of 1985, relating to unemployment compensation, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1255.3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1255.3. (a) Except as provided by subdivisions (c) and (d), the amount of unemployment compensation benefits, extended duration benefits, and federal-state extended benefits payable to an individual for any week which begins after March 31, 1980, and which begins in a period with respect to which that individual is receiving a governmental or other pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or any other similar periodic payment which is based on the previous work of the individual shall be reduced, but not below zero, by an amount equal to the amount of the pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or other payment, which is reasonably attributable to that week.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall be operative only during such time as Section 3304 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act requires that state unemployment insurance laws contain those provisions as a condition of certification of state unemployment insurance laws by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Subdivision (a) shall apply to any pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or other similar periodic payment only if both of the following are met:

(1) The pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or similar payment is under a plan maintained (or contributed to) by a base period or chargeable employer.

(2) In the case of such a payment not made under the federal Social Security Act or the federal Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 (or the corresponding provisions of prior law), services performed for the employer by the individual after the beginning of the base period (or remuneration for such services) affect eligibility for, or increase the amount of, such pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or similar periodic payment.

(d) (1) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to any pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity or other similar periodic payment if the individual has made any contribution to the pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or other similar periodic payment.

(2) The amendments made to this subdivision during the 1986 portion of the 1985–86 Regular Session shall apply to new claims filed with an effective date beginning on or after January 1, 1987.

(e) The amendments made to subdivision (c) of this section during the 1985 portion of the 1985–86 Regular Session shall apply retroactively to all unemployment compensation benefits, extended duration benefits, and federal-state extended benefits, payable to an individual for any week which begins after November 1, 1980.

SEC. 2. Section 1269 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1269. A determination of potential eligibility for benefits under this article shall be issued to an unemployed individual if the director finds that any of the following apply:

(a) The training is authorized by Title III of the federal Job Training Partnership Act or by Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 10200) of Part 1 of Division 3.

(b) The training is performance-based and authorized by Division 8 (commencing with Section 15000) or by the federal Job Training Partnership Act (Public Law 97-300).

(c) That all of the following apply:

(1) The individual has been unemployed for four or more continuous weeks, or the individual is unemployed and unlikely to return to his or her most recent workplace because work opportunities in the individual's job classification are impaired by a plant closure or a substantial reduction in employment at the individual's most recent workplace, or by advancement in technological improvements, the effects of automation and relocation in the economy, and foreign competition as set forth in petitions certified under the federal Trade Act of 1974, as amended (Title 19, United States Code, Sections 2101 et seq.), or because of a mental or physical disability which prohibits the individual from utilizing existing occupational skills.

(2) One of the substantial causes of the individual's unemployment is a lack of sufficient current demand in the individual's labor market area for the occupational skills for which the individual is fitted by training and experience or current physical or mental capacity and that the lack of employment opportunities is expected to continue for an extended period of time, or, if the individual's occupation is one for which there is a seasonal variation in demand in the labor market and the individual has no other skill for which there is current demand.

(3) The training or retraining course of instruction relates to an occupation or skill for which there are, or are expected to be in the immediate future, reasonable employment opportunities in the labor market area in this state in which the individual intends to seek work and there is not a substantial surplus of workers with requisite skills in the occupation in that area.

(4) The training or retraining course of instruction is one approved by the director and can be completed within one year.

(5) The training or retraining course is a full-time course prescribed for the primary purpose of training the applicant in skills that will allow him or her to obtain immediate employment in a demand occupation and is not primarily intended to meet the requirements of any degree from a college, community college, or university.

(6) The individual can be reasonably expected to complete the training or retraining successfully.

(7) The beginning date of training is more than three years after the beginning date of training last approved for the individual under this subdivision.

SEC. 3. Section 1271 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1271. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, any unemployed individual receiving benefits payable under this part, Part 3 (commencing with Section 3501), or Part 4 (commencing with Section 4001), or any other federal unemployment compensation law, who, no later than the 16th week of his or her receiving these benefits, applies for a determination of potential eligibility for benefits under this article and is determined eligible for benefits under this article, is eligible for a maximum of 52 times his or her weekly benefit amount under the provisions of this division. The department shall notify every individual who applies for unemployment compensation in this state of his or her opportunity to receive benefits under this article and to receive extended benefits under this article if application is made pursuant to this section.

(b) Any claimant receiving benefits pursuant to subdivision (a) who becomes eligible to file an unemployment compensation claim under state law or any other federal unemployment compensation law, shall file the claim in order to remain eligible under this article.

(c) Additional benefits paid under this section, and not otherwise payable under this division, shall be charged to individual employer reserve accounts, consistent with other provisions of this code.

(d) To the extent permitted by federal law, benefits payable under any federal unemployment compensation law shall be included as benefits payable under this section.

SEC. 4. Section 1274 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 1274.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended and renumbered to read:

1274. The director may publish a list of high demand occupations in each labor market area of this state. If a demand occupation is limited to a particular industry, the director may identify the industry of the demand occupation.

SEC. 6. Section 1274.9 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 1274.10 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

1274.10. This article shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before that date, deletes or extends the date.

SEC. 8. Section 9614 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

9614. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the department shall annually issue the following reports to the Governor and the Legislature:

(a) An evaluation of the Work Incentive Program, the Employment Preparation Program, the Supported Work program, the California Welfare Skills Training Act, and the California Job Tax Credit program. This report shall be issued by February 1 of each year.

(b) An evaluation of the Job Agent program and the Service Center program. This report shall be issued by December 1 of each year.

(c) An evaluation of the Retraining Benefits program pursuant to Section 15079, the Regional Employment Assessment, Job Search Assistance, and Placement Services for Displaced Workers Act, and the Displaced Worker Education and Training Act program. This report shall be issued by November 1 of each year.

SEC. 9. Section 15079 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

15079. In order to maximize employment and training services to displaced workers, it is the intent of the Legislature that subsistence assistance for workers enrolled in retraining be financed through unemployment insurance funds, in accordance with Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 1266) of Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 1. The Employment Development Department shall annually report on program outcomes and estimated costs to the Unemployment Fund for this purpose.

SEC. 10. Section 11 of Chapter 1217 of the Statutes of 1985 is amended to read:

Sec. 11. The Employment Development Department shall refund immediately all benefit overpayment assessments received since March 1, 1984, from the Unemployment Fund and penalties received since March 1, 1984, from the Benefit Audit Fund relating to the pension benefit offset issue.

The Employment Development Department shall utilize the moneys in the Unemployment Fund for refunding all types of unemployment compensation benefits pursuant to this act.

SEC. 11. The Employment Development Department shall review the claim of each deceased person for whom unemployment insurance benefits were denied or reduced because of subdivision (f) of Section 1255.3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, which is repealed by this act, determine the amount of benefits payable on these claims according to Section 1255.3 of the Unemployment Insurance Code as amended by this act, and make a diligent effort to notify and pay any benefits due to any person or persons entitled to receive these benefits under Section 1341 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

SEC. 12. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to permit individuals suffering the economic hardships which accompany the death of a friend or relative to expeditiously claim unemployment insurance benefits, which, except for the amendments repealed by this act, would be owed the deceased pursuant to Section 1341 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 957

An act to add Section 11250.8 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11250.8 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

11250.8. If an applicant for, or recipient of, benefits pursuant to this chapter receives one or more educational loans or grants, for purposes of determining availability of income, that person's educational expenses shall not be applied to any educational loans or grants which, under federal or state law, are totally exempt from consideration as income for purposes of determining eligibility for benefits under this chapter.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

CHAPTER 958

An act to amend Section 2400 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that the intent of the amendments made to Section 2400 of the Vehicle Code by Section 2 of this act is to clarify the responsibility of the Department of the California Highway Patrol as the principal law enforcement agency with respect to the enforcement of the Vehicle Code or other laws regulating the operation of vehicles and investigation of traffic accidents on state highways constructed as freeways and transit-related facilities located on or along the rights-of-way of those freeways. This bill has no effect on the current and future provision of police services by other law enforcement agencies.

SEC. 2. Section 2400 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

2400. The commissioner shall administer Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 10850) of Division 4, Article 3 (commencing with Section 17300) of Chapter 1 of Division 9, Division 10 (commencing with Section 20000), Division 11 (commencing with Section 21000) except Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 22950), Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), Division 13 (commencing with Section 29000), Division 14 (commencing with Section 31600), Division 14.1 (commencing with Section 32000), Division 14.5 (commencing with Section 33000), Division 14.7 (commencing with Section 34000), Division 14.8 (commencing with Section 34500), Division 15 (commencing with Section 35000), Division 16 (commencing with Section 36000) except Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 36100) and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 36300), and Division 16.5 (commencing with Section 38000) except Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 38010).

The commissioner shall enforce all laws regulating the operation of vehicles and the use of the highways except that, on ways or places to which Section 592 makes reference, the commissioner shall not be required to provide patrol or enforce any provisions of this code other than those provisions applicable to private property.

The commissioner shall not be required to provide patrol for or enforce Division 16.5 (commencing with Section 38000).

The commissioner shall have full responsibility and primary jurisdiction for the administration and enforcement of the provisions and laws, and for the investigation of traffic accidents, on all state highways constructed as freeways, including transit-related facilities located on or along the rights-of-way of those freeways, except facilities of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District; provided, however, that city police officers while engaged primarily in general law enforcement duties may incidentally enforce state and local traffic laws and ordinances on state freeways within incorporated areas of the state. In any city having either a population in excess of 2,000,000 or an area of more than 300 square miles, city police officers shall have full responsibility and primary jurisdiction for the administration and enforcement of those laws and ordinances, unless the city council of the city by resolution requests administration and enforcement of those laws by the commissioner.

The commissioner may enter into any interagency agreement with the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of enforcement of statutes requiring commercial vehicles from foreign jurisdictions to have a diesel fuel tax permit and to make payments to the board as required.

CHAPTER 959

An act to amend Sections 5536.25 and 6703.1 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to buildings.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5536.25 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

5536.25. (a) A licensed architect who signs plans, specifications, reports, or documents shall not be responsible for damage caused by subsequent changes to or uses of those plans, specifications, reports, or documents, where the subsequent changes or uses, including changes or uses made by state or local governmental agencies, are not authorized or approved by the licensed architect who originally signed the plans, specifications, reports, or documents, provided that the architectural service rendered by the architect who signed the plans, specifications, reports, or documents was not also a proximate cause of the damage.

(b) The signing of plans, specifications, reports, or documents which relate to the design of fixed works shall not impose a legal duty or responsibility upon the person signing the plans, specifications, reports, or documents to observe the construction of the fixed works which are the subject of the plans, specifications, reports, or documents. However, nothing in this section shall preclude an architect and a client from entering into a contractual agreement which includes a mutually acceptable arrangement for the provision of construction observation services. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall modify the liability of an architect who undertakes, contractually or otherwise, the provision of construction observation services for rendering those services.

(c) "Construction observation services" means periodic observation of completed work to determine general compliance with the plans, specifications, reports, or other contract documents. However, "construction observation services" does not mean the superintendence of construction processes, site conditions, operations, equipment, or personnel, or the maintenance of a safe place to work or any safety in, on, or about the site.

For purposes of this subdivision, "periodic observation" means visits by an architect, or his or her agent, to the site of a work of improvement.

SEC. 2. Section 6703.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6703.1. "Supervision of the construction of engineering structures" means the periodic observation of materials and completed work to determine general compliance with plans, specifications, and design and planning concepts. However, "supervision of the construction of engineering structures" does not include responsibility for the superintendence of construction processes, site conditions, operations, equipment, personnel, or the maintenance of a safe place to work or any safety in, on, or about the site.

For purposes of this subdivision, "periodic observation" means visits by an engineer, or his or her agent, to the site of a work of improvement.

CHAPTER 960

An act to amend Sections 4383 and 4384 of the Civil Code, relating to support.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4383 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4383. (a) Notwithstanding Section 4380, a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of child support or family support may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior court approval until five years after the child reaches the age of majority and, thereafter, for amounts that are not more than 10 years overdue on the date of application therefor. A judgment, order, or decree for the payment of spousal support may be enforced by a writ of execution without prior approval for amounts that are not more than 10 years overdue on the date of the application for the writ. Notwithstanding Section 4351, a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of child or spousal support may be enforced against an employee pension benefit plan regardless of whether the plan has been joined as a party to a proceeding under this part. Notwithstanding Section 697.710 of the Code of Civil Procedure, an execution lien created by a levy on the judgment debtor's right to payment of benefits from an employee pension benefit plan to enforce a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of child or spousal support continues until the date the plan has withheld and paid over to the levying officer, as provided in Section 701.010 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the full amount specified in the notice of levy, unless the plan is directed to stop withholding and paying over before that time by court order or by the levying officer.

(b) The application for a writ of execution shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the total amount due and unpaid that is authorized to be enforced pursuant to subdivision (a) on the date of the application. If interest on the overdue installments is sought, the affidavit shall state the total amount of the interest and the amount of each due and unpaid installment and the date it became due. The affidavit shall be filed in the action and a copy shall be attached to the writ of execution delivered to the levying officer. The levying officer shall serve the copy of the affidavit on the judgment debtor when the writ of execution is first served on the judgment debtor pursuant to a levy under the writ.

(c) A writ of execution pursuant to which a levy is made on the judgment debtor's right to payment of benefits from an employee pension benefit plan under this section shall be returned not later than one year after the date the execution lien expires under subdivision (a).

SEC. 2. Section 4384 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4384. The lack of diligence for more than the period specified in Section 4383 in seeking enforcement of a judgment, order, or decree of the court made, entered, or enforceable pursuant to this part that requires the payment of money shall be considered by the court in determining whether to permit enforcement of the judgment, order, or decree under Section 4380. In the case of a judgment, order, or decree for the payment of money in installments, the period specified pursuant to Section 4383 runs as to each installment from the date the installment became due.

CHAPTER 961

An act to amend Section 1798.26 of the Civil Code, and to amend Sections 1810, 3103, 12804.1, and 12804.3 of the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1798.26 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1798.26. With respect to the sale of information concerning the registration of any vehicle or the sale of information from the files of drivers' licenses, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall, by regulation, establish administrative procedures under which any person making a request for information shall be required to identify himself or herself and state the reason for making the request. These procedures shall provide for the verification of the name and address of the person making a request for the information and the department may require the person to produce the information as it determines is necessary in order to ensure that the name and address of the person are his or her true name and address. These procedures shall also provide for notification to the person to whom the information primarily relates, as to what information was provided and to whom it was provided. The department shall, by regulation, establish a reasonable period of time for which a record of all the foregoing shall be maintained.

The procedures required by this subdivision do not apply to any governmental entity, any person who has applied for and has been issued a requester code by the department, or any court of competent jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Section 1810 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1810. (a) The department may permit inspection of or sell, or both, information from its records concerning the registration of any vehicle or information from the files of drivers' licenses at a charge sufficient to pay the actual cost to the department for providing the inspection or sale of the information, including, but not limited to, costs incurred by the department in carrying out subdivision (b), the charge for the information to be determined by the director. The department may sell stamps or coupons in appropriate denominations for the convenient enforcement of this section. The stamps or coupons may be used to accompany requests for information in lieu of cash, but otherwise shall be nonredeemable and shall be canceled by the department upon granting the request for information. This section does not apply to statistical information of the type previously compiled and distributed by the department.

(b) With respect to the inspection or sale of information concerning the registration of any vehicle or of information from the files of drivers' licenses, the department shall, by regulation, establish administrative procedures under which any person making a request for that information shall be required to identify himself or herself and state the reason for making the request. The procedures shall provide for the verification of the name and address of the person making a request for the information, and the department may require the person to produce that information as it determines is necessary in order to ensure that the name and address of the person are his or her true name and address. The procedures shall also provide for notification to the person to whom the information primarily relates, as to what information was provided and to whom it was provided. The department shall, by regulation, establish a reasonable period of time for which a record of all the foregoing shall be maintained.

The procedures required by this subdivision do not apply to any governmental entity, any person who has applied for and has been issued a requester code by the department or any court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) With respect to the inspection or sale of information from the files of drivers' licenses, the department may require both the full name of the driver and either the driver's license number or date of birth as identifying points of the record, except that the department may disclose a record without two identifying points if the department determines that the public interest in disclosure outweighs the public interest in personal privacy.

SEC. 3. Section 3103 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

3103. (a) No nonresident having in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license, endorsement, or certificate issued by a foreign jurisdiction of which he or she is a resident permitting the operation of vehicles requiring certification under Section 12804.1 or 12804.3, shall be required to obtain certification under Section 12804.1 or 12804.3, if the Department of Motor Vehicles determines that the law of the foreign jurisdiction pertaining to the license, endorsement, or certificate is at least equivalent to the requirements of this state pertaining to certification under Section 12804.1 or 12804.3.

(b) No employer shall require an employee to obtain certification pursuant to Section 12804.1 or 12804.3, unless the employee's duties upon obtaining the certification include actual operation of vehicles requiring that certification.

SEC. 4. Section 12804.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (h) of this section, subdivision (a) of Section 3103, and Section 12804.2, no person shall operate a motor vehicle which is required to display placards or markings pursuant to Section 27903 or which is hauling hazardous waste, as defined in Sections 25115 and 25117 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the person has in his or her possession a driver's license for the appropriate class of vehicle to be driven and a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of vehicles requiring placards or markings pursuant to Section 27903 and vehicles hauling hazardous waste.

(b) Applicants for that certificate shall be required to submit a report of a medical examination of the applicant given not more than two years prior to the date of the application by a physician licensed to practice medicine and submit to a test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code, other federal and state laws relating to the transportation of hazardous materials or hazardous waste, and safe driving practices relating to the transportation of hazardous materials pursuant to Section 27903 and the transportation of hazardous waste as provided in rules or regulations of the State Department of Health Services.

(c) The department may accept a certificate of training, as authorized under subdivision (b) of Section 3100, in lieu of the knowledge test required under subdivision (b) of this section, when the certificate of training is issued by an employer of the applicant.

(d) A certificate shall be valid for the operation of any vehicle class for which the person is licensed which is transporting hazardous materials requiring placards pursuant to Section 27903 or which is transporting hazardous waste, as defined in Sections 25115 and 25117 of the Health and Safety Code, provided that the person has in immediate possession a medical certificate issued within the past two years.

(e) Applicants for a certificate to drive vehicles transporting hazardous materials pursuant to Section 27903 or transporting hazardous waste, as defined in Sections 25115 and 25117 of the Health and Safety Code, shall pay a fee of twelve dollars ($12) to the department.

(f) Renewal of the certificate is subject to Section 12814, as it may apply to a certificate.

(g) Implementation dates for this section may be established by the department by regulation in order to accomplish an orderly certification program.

(h) This section does not apply to any person transporting diesel fuel in an implement of husbandry or a vehicle exempt from registration pursuant to Division 16 (commencing with Section 36000).

SEC. 5. Section 12804.3 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12804.3. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 3103, no person shall operate combinations of vehicles with any tank configuration, which are required to be operated by a class 1 driver and which are transporting bulk liquid loads, unless the person has in his or her possession a certificate required by this section.

(b) Applicants for a certificate pursuant to this section shall pay a fee of twelve dollars ($12) to the department.

(c) Applicants for the certificate shall be required to meet all licensing requirements for a class 1 license issued pursuant to Section 12804 and shall be required to submit to a test of the applicant's knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this code and safe driving practices relating to the operation of combinations of vehicles with any tank configuration transporting bulk loads.

(d) The department may accept a certificate of training, as authorized under subdivision (b) of Section 3100, in lieu of the knowledge test required under subdivision (c) of this section, when the certificate of training is issued by an employer of the applicant.

(e) Renewal of the certificate is subject to Section 12814, as it may apply to a certificate.

(f) Implementation dates for this section may be established by the department by regulation in order to accomplish an orderly certification program.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure that adequate safeguards are maintained for the driving records of persons who are the subject of information requests, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 962

An act to add Section 1098 to the Government Code, relating to public officers and employees.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1098 is added to the Government Code, to read:

1098. (a) Any current public officer or employee who willfully and knowingly discloses for pecuniary gain, to any other person, confidential information acquired by him or her in the course of his or her official duties, or uses any such information for the purpose of pecuniary gain, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Confidential information" means information to which all of the following apply:

(A) At the time of the use or disclosure of the information, the information is not a public record subject to disclosure under the Public Records Act.

(B) At the time of the use or disclosure of the information, the disclosure is prohibited by (i) a statute, regulation, or rule which applies to the agency in which the officer or employee serves; (ii) the statement of incompatible activities adopted pursuant to Section 19990 by the agency in which the officer or employee serves; or (iii) a provision in a document similar to a statement of incompatible activities if the agency in which the officer or employee serves is a local agency.

(C) The use or disclosure of the information will have, or could reasonably be expected to have, a material financial effect on any investment or interest in real property which the officer or employee, or any person who provides pecuniary gain to the officer or employee in return for the information, has at the time of the use or disclosure of the information or acquires within 90 days following the use or disclosure of the information.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1):

(A) "Interest in real property" has the definition prescribed by Section 82033.

(B) "Investment" has the definition prescribed by Section 82034.

(C) "Material financial effect" has the definition prescribed by Sections 18702 and 18702.2 of Title 2 of the California Administrative Code, as those sections read on September 1, 1987.

(3) "Pecuniary gain" does not include salary or other similar compensation from the officer's or the employee's agency.

(c) This section shall not apply to any disclosure made to any law enforcement agency, nor to any disclosure made pursuant to Sections 10542 and 10543.

(d) This section is not intended to supersede, amend, or add to subdivision (b) of Section 8920 regarding prohibited conduct of Members of the Legislature.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 963

An act to amend Section 8690.6 of the Government Code, relating to disaster relief.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8690.6 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8690.6. (a) There is hereby established in the Reserve for Economic Uncertainties a Disaster Response-Emergency Operations Account. Notwithstanding Section 13340, moneys in the account are continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for allocation by the Director of Finance, upon an order of the Governor, to state or local agencies for costs, including the cost of providing disaster victim assistance, incurred related to emergencies declared by the Governor. For purposes of this section, an "emergency" means a fire, flood, storm, tidal wave, earthquake, or similar public calamity.

(b) The Director of Finance shall allocate funds pursuant to this section in accordance with Section 27.00 of the annual Budget Act, except that the allocations may be made 30 days or less after the director's notification pursuant to subdivision (b) of that section.

(c) Funds allocated to state or local agencies under this section may be used to provide the state or local agency's share of the cost of participation in federal disaster relief programs, but shall not be used to supplant federal funds otherwise available in the absence of state financial relief or to pay any expense which is eligible for federal funding. The Department of Finance may establish standards for the allocation of funds to local agencies. Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2, these standards, if promulgated, shall not be subject to the review and approval of the Office of Administrative Law.

(d) The amount of financial assistance provided to an individual, business, or governmental entity under this section, or pursuant to any other program of state-funded disaster assistance, shall be deducted from sums received in payment of damage claims asserted against the state, its agents, or employees, for causing or contributing to the effects of the proclaimed disaster.

(e) For purposes of this section, "local agency" means a local agency or a school entity, as defined in subdivisions (a) and (f), respectively, of Section 95 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(f) The Legislature finds and declares that the amendments made to subdivision (c) of this section by Chapter 16 of the Statutes of 1986 and the amendments made to that subdivision during the 1987 portion of the 1987–88 Regular Session of the Legislature, declare the intent of the Legislature at the time when this section was originally added to this code by Chapter 1562 of the Statutes of 1985.

(g) This section shall become inoperative on June 30, 1988, and, as of January 1, 1989, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1989, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 8690.6 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8690.6. (a) There is hereby established in the Reserve for Economic Uncertainties a Disaster Response-Emergency Operations Account. Notwithstanding Section 13340, moneys in the account are continuously appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for both of the following:

(1) For allocation by the Director of the Office of Emergency Services, upon an order of the Governor and approval by the Director of Finance, for reimbursement of extraordinary emergency or disaster response operation costs incurred by state-requested local agencies as a result of a state of emergency proclamation by the Governor.

(2) For allocation by the Director of Finance for the reimbursement of extraordinary emergency or disaster response operation costs incurred by state agencies as a result of a state of emergency proclamation by the Governor.

(b) The funds shall be allocated subject to the conditions of this section and in accordance with Section 27.00 of the annual Budget Act, except that the allocations may be made 30 days or less after notification of the Legislature pursuant to subdivision (b) of that section.

(c) Funds allocated to state and local agencies pursuant to the requirements of this section may be used to provide reimbursement to state and local agencies for extraordinary costs incurred for emergency or disaster response operations resulting from a state of emergency proclamation by the Governor. No funds allocated under this section shall be used to supplant federal funds otherwise available in the absence of state financial relief. The Office of Emergency Services shall establish standards and instructions for the receipt and processing of state and local agency claims. Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2, these standards shall not be subject to the review and approval of the Office of Administrative Law. All funds provided pursuant to this section shall be subject to audit by the Controller.

(d) The amount of financial assistance provided to an individual, business, or governmental entity under this section, or pursuant to any other program of state-funded disaster assistance, shall be deducted from sums received in payment of damage claims asserted against the state, its agents, or employees, for causing or contributing to the effects of the proclaimed disaster.

(e) The Legislature finds and declares that the amendments made to subdivision (c) of this section by Chapter 16 of the Statutes of 1986 declare the intent of the Legislature at the time when this section was originally added to this code by Chapter 1562 of the Statutes of 1985.

(f) This section shall become inoperative on June 30, 1993, and, as of January 1, 1994, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 8690.6 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1095. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 8690.6 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1095, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 964

An act to amend Sections 4721 and 4725 of the Civil Code, relating to family law.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4721 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4721. In determining the ability of parents to pay the mandatory minimum child support award and to calculate the actual monthly payments to be made by each parent, all of the following provisions apply:

(a) The annual gross income of each parent shall be determined and then adjusted to obtain the annual net disposable income. To determine and apportion the mandatory minimum child support award, as defined in Section 4722, the court shall also consider, to the extent consistent with the best interests of the child or children, the earning capacity of either or both parents. The annual gross income means income from whatever source derived, except as specified in subdivision (b), and includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Income such as commissions, salaries, royalties, wages, bonuses, rents, dividends, pensions, interest, trust income, annuities, workers' compensation benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, disability insurance benefits, and spousal support actually received from a person not a party to the order.

(2) Income from the proprietorship of a business, such as gross receipts from the business reduced by expenditures required for the operation of the business.

(3) To the extent that income derived from paragraphs (1) and (2) is insufficient to produce a mandatory minimum child support award at the AFDC standard for the same number of children, upon the request of either party, the court may consider investment assets of either or both parties which could be liquidated. To determine and apportion the mandatory minimum child support award at the AFDC level, the court shall also consider, to the extent consistent with the best interests of all of the children, the earning capacity of either or both parents.

(b) Annual gross income shall not include any income derived from child support payments actually received and income derived from any public assistance program, eligibility for which is based on a determination of need.

(c) The annual net disposable income of each parent shall be computed by deducting from his or her annual gross income the actual amounts attributable only to the following items, after which the remainder shall be adjusted to reflect the monthly net disposable income of each parent:

(1) The state and federal income taxes attributed to the parent. Federal and state income tax deductions shall bear an accurate relationship to the tax status of the parties (that is, single, married, married filing separately, or head of household) and number of dependents.

(2) Deductions attributed to the employee's contribution or the self-employed worker's contribution pursuant to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), or an amount not to exceed that allowed under FICA for persons not subject to FICA, provided that the deducted amount is used to secure retirement or disability benefits for the parent.

(3) Deductions for mandatory union dues and retirement benefits, provided that they are required as a condition of employment.

(4) Deductions for health insurance premiums and state disability insurance premiums.

(5) Any child or spousal support actually being paid by the parent pursuant to a court order, to or for the benefit of any person who is not a subject of the award to be established by the court. In the absence of a court order, any child support actually being paid, not to exceed the amount established by the county support guidelines applicable in the county of the child's residence, for a natural or adopted child or children of the parent not residing in that parent's home, who is not the subject of the award to be established by the court, and for whom the parent has a duty of support.

(d) For the purposes of verifying total gross income and amounts allowed for deductions, copies of the parents' state income tax returns for the previous two years, copies of present wage stubs, and any other relevant documents shall be subject to discovery by the parties. Further, the court may require copies of the parents' tax returns for the previous two years, copies of present wage stubs, and such other documentation as it may deem necessary, including a current income and expense declaration in the form prescribed by the Judicial Council for family law matters.

(e) For the purpose of determining the parent's annual gross income, in calculating the mandatory minimum child support award, the court shall not include any portion of the earned income and income derived from the separate property of the current spouse or the nonmarital partner of either parent. This requirement does not apply to a child support obligation arising from the marriage between the obligated parents.

(f) The court shall inquire of each party as to the total number of minor children he or she is legally obligated to support.

SEC. 2. Section 4725 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4725. In the event that a parent is experiencing extreme financial hardship due to justifiable expenses resulting from the circumstances enumerated in this section, upon the request of a party, the court may allow such income deductions as may be necessary to accommodate those circumstances, in addition to the deductions specified in subdivision (c) of Section 4721.

(a) Circumstances evidencing hardship include the extraordinary health expenses for which the parent is financially responsible, and uninsured catastrophic losses.

(b) Circumstances evidencing hardship also include the minimum basic living expenses of either parent's natural or adopted dependent minor children from other marriages or relationships who reside with the parent. The court, upon its own motion or upon the request of a party, may allow such income deductions as are necessary to accommodate these expenses.

(c) If deductions for hardship expenses are allowed, the court shall state on the record the reasons supporting the deductions, cite the documentation of the underlying facts and circumstances, and specify the amount of deductions allowed. Whenever possible, the court shall specify the duration that any deduction shall be in effect.

(d) Upon considering whether to allow a deduction under this section, and in determining the amount of any such deduction, the court shall be guided by the goals set forth in the expression of legislative intent set forth in this chapter.

(e) The court shall not order a child support award that would reduce a parent's net income to an amount less than that established for the needs of one person by Section 11452 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as annually adjusted by Section 11453 of that code.

CHAPTER 965

An act to amend Sections 4430, 4432, and 4439 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to pharmacy.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4430 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4430. The board shall contract with a pharmacists' professional association with statewide representation for the following purposes:

(a) To coordinate the voluntary participation in the program.

(b) To recruit volunteer intervenors and to train them.

(c) To promote the program within the profession and to the public.

(d) To establish and maintain a 24-hour statewide toll-free telephone "hotline" service.

(e) To report to the board on these functions.

SEC. 2. Section 4432 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4432. The functions of the Employee Assistance Program shall include the following:

(a) To evaluate those pharmacists who request participation in the program according to the guidelines prescribed by the board.

(b) To review and designate those treatment facilities and services to which pharmacists in the program may be referred.

(c) To receive and review information concerning a pharmacist's participation in the program.

(d) To assist pharmacists' professional associations in publicizing the program.

(e) To prepare reports to be submitted to the board.

SEC. 3. Section 4439 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

4439. This article shall be operative until January 1, 1992, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 966

An act to amend Section 11272 of the Government Code, relating to state government, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11272 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11272. In determining or redetermining the fair share, the State Board of Control may consider the factors of cost distribution and cost estimation as it deems necessary, except that, as to the proceeds of those taxes, the use of which is restricted by Article XIX of the California Constitution, the State Board of Control shall assess only those administrative costs ascertained as being necessarily incurred in connection with highway purposes as set forth in the article, and except that, as to funds collected pursuant to Section 221 of the Food and Agricultural Code, the State Board of Control shall assess only those administrative costs incurred in connection with the enforcement of the law under which the funds were derived.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for the provisions of this act to apply to the 1987–88 fiscal year, and so facilitate the orderly determination of administrative costs, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 967

An act to add Sections 69510.5 and 69510.6 to the Government Code, relating to courts.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69510.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69510.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a majority of the judges of the Orange County Superior Court may, upon a finding that no suitable additional facilities exist in the county seat or where municipal courts hold sessions, order sessions of the court to be held prior to January 1, 1990, at any location within the county.

SEC. 2. Section 69510.6 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69510.6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a majority of the judges of the San Mateo County Superior Court may, upon a finding that no suitable additional facilities exist in the county seat or where municipal courts hold sessions, order sessions of the court to be held prior to January 1, 1990, at Crestmoor High School in San Bruno, California.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act.

CHAPTER 968

An act relating to public employees.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of Administration of the Public Employees' Retirement System shall conduct a study on the cost of contracting with one or more health benefit carriers or plans which would provide state annuitants with vision care benefits comparable to those provided state employees under plans contracted for by the Department of Personnel Administration. The board shall prepare and submit a report on the study to the Legislature by April 1, 1988.

CHAPTER 969

An act to amend Section 675 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, and to amend Section 6302 of, and to add Section 6302.1 to, the Public Resources Code, relating to vessels.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 675 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

675. (a) Any peace officer, as described in Section 663, any employee or officer of the State Lands Commission designated by the State Lands Commission, or any lifeguard or marine safety officer employed by a city, county, or district while engaged in the performance of official duties, may remove a vessel from a public waterway under any of the following circumstances:

(1) When any vessel is left unattended and is moored, docked, beached, or made fast to land in such a position as to obstruct the normal movement of traffic or in such a condition as to create a hazard to other vessels using the waterway, to public safety, or to the property of another.

(2) When any vessel is found upon a waterway and report has previously been made that the vessel has been stolen or complaint has been filed and a warrant thereon issued charging that the vessel has been embezzled.

(3) When the person or persons in charge of a vessel are by reason of physical injuries or illness incapacitated to such an extent as to be unable to provide for its custody or removal.

(4) When an officer arrests any person operating or in control of a vessel for an alleged offense, and the officer is by any provision of this code or other statute required or permitted to take, and does take, the person arrested before a magistrate without unnecessary delay.

(5) When any vessel seriously interferes with, or otherwise poses a critical and immediate danger to navigation or to the public health, safety, or welfare.

(b) Costs incurred by a public entity pursuant to removal of vessels under subdivision (a) may be recovered through appropriate action in the courts of this state.

SEC. 2. Section 6302 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

6302. The commission may eject from any tide and submerged lands, beds of navigable channels, streams, rivers, creeks, lakes, bays, and inlets under its jurisdiction, any person, firm, or corporation, trespassing upon any such lands, through appropriate action in the courts of this state. The commission may recover costs of ejectment through the legal action.

SEC. 3. Section 6302.1 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

6302.1. (a) The commission may remove from areas under its jurisdiction any vessel, boat, raft, or other similar watercraft which is left unattended and is moored, docked, beached, or made fast to land in a position as to obstruct the normal movement of traffic or in a condition as to create a hazard to other vessels using a waterway, to public safety, or to the property of another.

(b) The commission may remove from areas under its jurisdiction any vessel, boat, watercraft, raft, or other similar obstruction which seriously interferes with, or otherwise poses a critical and immediate danger to navigation or to the public health, safety, or welfare.

(c) Through appropriate action in the courts of this state, the commission may remove or destroy any vessel, boat, watercraft, raft, or other similar obstruction which hinders navigation or otherwise creates a public nuisance in areas under the commission's jurisdiction.

(d) The commission may recover costs incurred in removal actions undertaken pursuant to this section through appropriate action in the courts of this state.

(e) For purposes of this section, "appropriate action" means any cause of action available at law or in equity.

CHAPTER 970

An act to amend Sections 11350, 11351, 11352, 11353, 11354, and 11355 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11350 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11350. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this division, every person who possesses (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b) or (c), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, unless upon the written prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian licensed to practice in this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this division, every person who possesses any controlled substance specified in subdivision (e) of Section 11054 shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison.

SEC. 2. Section 11351 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11351. Except as otherwise provided in this division, every person who possesses for sale or purchases for purposes of sale (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

SEC. 3. Section 11352 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11352. Except as otherwise provided in this division, every person who transports, imports into this state, sells, furnishes, administers, or gives away, or offers to transport, import into this state, sell, furnish, administer, or give away, or attempts to import into this state or transport (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, unless upon the written prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian licensed to practice in this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, four, or five years.

SEC. 4. Section 11353 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11353. Every person 18 years of age or over who in any voluntary manner solicits, induces, encourages, or intimidates any minor with the intent that the minor shall violate any provision of this chapter or Section 11550 with respect to (1) a controlled substance which is specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, who hires, employs, or uses a minor to unlawfully transport, carry, sell, give away, prepare for sale, or peddle any such controlled substance, or who unlawfully sells, furnishes, administers, gives, or offers to sell, furnish, administer, or give, any such controlled substance to a minor shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of three, five, or seven years.

SEC. 5. Section 11354 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11354. (a) Every person under the age of 18 years who in any voluntary manner solicits, induces, encourages, or intimidates any minor with the intent that the minor shall violate any provision of this chapter or Section 11550, who hires, employs, or uses a minor to unlawfully transport, carry, sell, give away, prepare for sale, or peddle (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, or who unlawfully sells, furnishes, administers, gives, or offers to sell, furnish, administer, or give, any such controlled substance to a minor shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison.

(b) This section is not intended to affect the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

SEC. 6. Section 11355 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11355. Every person who agrees, consents, or in any manner offers to unlawfully sell, furnish, transport, administer, or give (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (13), (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug to any person, or who offers, arranges, or negotiates to have any such controlled substance unlawfully sold, delivered, transported, furnished, administered, or given to any person and who then sells, delivers, furnishes, transports, administers, or gives, or offers, arranges, or negotiates to have sold, delivered, transported, furnished, administered, or given to any person any other liquid, substance, or material in lieu of any such controlled substance shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or in the state prison.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 971

An act to amend Section 13510 of, and to add Section 13525 to, the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13510 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

13510. (a) For the purpose of raising the level of competence of local law enforcement officers, the commission shall adopt, and may, from time to time amend, rules establishing minimum standards relating to physical, mental, and moral fitness, which shall govern the recruitment of any city police officers, peace officer members of a county sheriff's office, marshals or deputy marshals of a municipal court, reserve officers as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 830.6, policemen of a district authorized by statute to maintain a police department, regularly employed and paid inspectors and investigators of a district attorney's office as defined in Section 830.1 who conduct criminal investigations, or peace officer members of a district, in any city, county, city and county, or district receiving state aid pursuant to this chapter, and shall adopt, and may, from time to time amend, rules establishing minimum standards for training of city police officers, peace officer members of county sheriff's offices, marshals or deputy marshals of a municipal court, reserve officers as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 830.6, policemen of a district authorized by statute to maintain a police department, regularly employed and paid inspectors and investigators of a district attorney's office as defined in Section 830.1 who conduct criminal investigations, and peace officer members of a district which shall apply to those cities, counties, cities and counties, and districts receiving state aid pursuant to this chapter. All such rules shall be adopted and amended pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1, of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(b) The commission shall conduct research concerning job-related educational standards and job-related selection standards, to include vision, hearing, physical ability, and emotional stability. Job-related standards which are supported by this research shall be adopted by the commission prior to January 1, 1985, and shall apply to those peace officer classes identified in subdivision (a). The commission shall consult with local entities during the conducting of related research into job-related selection standards.

(c) For the purpose of raising the level of competence of local public safety dispatchers, the commission shall adopt, and may, from time to time amend, rules establishing minimum standards relating to the recruitment and training of local public safety dispatchers having a primary responsibility for providing dispatching services for local law enforcement agencies described in subdivision (a), which standards shall apply to those cities, counties, cities and counties, and districts receiving state aid pursuant to this chapter. All such rules shall be adopted and amended pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1, of Division 3, of Title 2 of the Government Code. As used in this section, "primary responsibility" refers to the performance of law enforcement dispatching duties for a minimum of 50 percent of the time worked within a pay period.

(d) Nothing in this section shall prohibit a local agency from establishing selection and training standards which exceed the minimum standards established by the commission.

SEC. 2. Section 13525 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

13525. Any city, county, city and county, or district which desires to receive state aid pursuant to this chapter for the training of regularly employed and paid local public safety dispatchers, as described in subdivision (c) of Section 13510, shall include that request for aid in its application to the commission pursuant to Sections 13522 and 13523.

CHAPTER 972

An act to amend Sections 1797.97 and 1798.180 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to health.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1797.97 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.97. "Poison control center" or "PCC" means a hospital-based facility or other facility which, as a minimum, provides information and advice regarding the management of individuals who have or may have ingested or otherwise been exposed to poisonous or possibly toxic substances, and which has been designated by the Emergency Medical Services Authority according to the standards prescribed by this division.

SEC. 2. Section 1798.180 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1798.180. (a) The authority shall establish minimum standards for the operation of poison control centers.

(b) The authority shall establish geographical service areas and criteria for designation of regional poison control centers. The authority may designate poison control centers which have met the standards established pursuant to subdivision (a), in accordance with the criteria adopted pursuant to this subdivision.

(c) No person or persons, business, agency, organization, or other entity, whether public or private, shall hold itself out as providing a poison advice service or use the term poison control center, poison advice center, or any other term which implies that it is qualified to provide advice on the treatment or handling of poisons in its advertising, name, or in printed materials and information it furnishes to the general public unless that entity meets one of the following conditions:

(1) Has been designated as a poison control center by the authority.

(2) Is a company or organization which provides a poison information service for products or chemicals which it manufactures or distributes.

(d) Nothing in this section shall prohibit a qualified health care professional, within his or her level of professional expertise, from providing advice regarding poisoning or poisons to his or her patient or patients upon request or whenever he or she deems it warranted in the exercise of his or her professional judgment, as otherwise permitted by law.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 973

An act to add Section 9884.75 to the Business and Professions Code, and to add Section 753 to the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9884.75 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

9884.75. It is unlawful for any automobile repair dealer to offer to any insurance agent, broker, or adjuster any fee, commission, profit-sharing, or other form of direct or indirect consideration for referring an insured to that automobile repair dealer for vehicle repairs covered under a policyholder's automobile physical damage coverage or automobile collision coverage.

SEC. 2. Section 753 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

753. (a) It is unlawful for any insurance agent or broker, or any insurance solicitor employed thereby, to receive any financial benefit from an automobile repair facility or any other form of direct or indirect consideration from any person for referring insureds to that person or that person's designee for vehicle repairs covered under automobile comprehensive coverage, property damage coverage, or automobile collision coverage, of an insurance policy issued through the insurance agent or broker or by an insurer represented by the insurance agent.

(b) Subdivision (a) applies with respect to commercial and noncommercial policies of automobile insurance.

(c) For purposes of this section, "financial benefit" means the receiving of any commission or gratuity, discount on repair costs, free repairs, or employment by a repair facility.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 974

An act to add Section 17537.6 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to money judgments.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17537.6 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

17537.6. (a) It is unlawful for any person to make any untrue or misleading statements in any manner in connection with the offering or performance of a homestead filing service. For the purpose of this section, an "untrue or misleading statement" means and includes any representation that any of the following is true:

(1) The preparation or recordation of a homestead declaration will in any manner prevent the forced sale of a judgment debtor's dwelling.

(2) The preparation or recordation of a homestead declaration will prevent the foreclosure of a mortgage, deed of trust, or mechanic's lien.

(3) Any of the provisions relating to the homestead exemption set forth in Article 4 (commencing with Section 704.710) of Chapter 4 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure are available only to persons who prepare or record a homestead declaration.

(4) A homestead declaration is in any way related to the obtaining of any applicable homeowner's exemption to real property taxes.

(5) The preparation or recordation of a homestead declaration is required by law in any manner.

(6) The offeror of the homestead filing service has a file or record covering a person to whom a solicitation is made.

(7) The offeror of the homestead filing service is, or is affiliated with, any charitable or public service entity unless the offeror is, or is affiliated with, a charitable organization which has qualified for a tax exemption under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(8) The offeror of the homestead filing service is, or is affiliated with, any governmental entity. A violation of this paragraph includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(A) The misleading use of any governmental seal, emblem, or other similar symbol.

(B) The use of a business name including the word "homestead" and the word "agency," "bureau," "department," "division," "federal," "state," "county," "city," "municipal," "California," or "United States," or the name of any city, county, city and county, or any governmental entity.

(C) The use of an envelope that simulates an envelope containing a government check, tax bill, or government notice or an envelope which otherwise has the capacity to be confused with, or mistaken for, an envelope sent by a governmental entity.

(b) (1) It is unlawful to offer to perform a homestead filing service without making the following disclosure:

THIS HOMESTEAD FILING SERVICE IS NOT ASSOCIATED WITH ANY GOVERNMENT AGENCY.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO RECORD A HOMESTEAD DECLARATION.

RECORDING A HOMESTEAD DECLARATION DOES NOT PROTECT YOUR HOME AGAINST FORCED SALE BY A CREDITOR. YOU MAY WISH TO CONSULT A LAWYER ABOUT THE BENEFITS OF RECORDING A HOMESTEAD DECLARATION.

IF YOU WANT TO RECORD A HOMESTEAD, YOU CAN FILL OUT A HOMESTEAD DECLARATION FORM BY YOURSELF, HAVE YOUR SIGNATURE NOTARIZED, AND HAVE THE FORM RECORDED BY THE COUNTY RECORDER.

(2) The disclosure specified in paragraph (1) shall be placed at the top of each page of every advertisement or promotional material disseminated by an offeror of a homestead filing service and shall be printed in 12-point boldface type enclosed in a box formed by a heavy line.

(3) The disclosure specified in paragraph (1) shall be recited at the beginning of every oral solicitation and every broadcast advertisement and shall be delivered in printed form as prescribed by paragraph (2) before the time each person who responds to the oral solicitation or broadcast advertisement is obligated to pay for any service.

(c) In addition to any other service, every offeror of a homestead filing service shall deliver each notarized homestead declaration to the appropriate county recorder for recordation as soon as needed or required by a homestead declarant, but no later than 10 days after the homestead declaration is notarized. The offeror of the homestead filing service shall pay all fees charged in connection with the notarization and recordation of the homestead declaration.

(d) No offeror of a homestead filing service shall charge, demand, or collect any money until after the homestead declaration is recorded. The total amount charged, demanded, or collected by an offeror of a homestead filing service, including all fees for notarization and recordation, shall not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25).

(e) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Homestead filing service" means any service performed or offered to be performed for compensation in connection with the preparation or completion of a homestead declaration or in connection with the assistance in any manner of another person to prepare or complete a homestead declaration. "Homestead filing service" does not include any service performed by an attorney at law authorized to practice in this state for a client who has retained that attorney or an employee of that attorney acting under the attorney's direction and supervision.

(2) A "homestead declaration" has the meaning described in Article 5 (commencing with Section 704.910) of Chapter 4 of Division 2 of Title 9 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

CHAPTER 975

An act to amend Sections 2728, 2770, 2774.3, 2774.5, and 2776 of the Public Resources Code, relating to surface mining.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2728 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2728. "Lead agency" means the city, county, San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, or the board which has the principal responsibility for approving a surface mining operation or reclamation plan pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 2. Section 2770 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2770. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), no person shall conduct surface mining operations unless a permit is obtained from, and a reclamation plan has been submitted to, and approved by, the lead agency for the operation pursuant to this article.

(b) Any person with an existing surface mining operation who has vested rights pursuant to Section 2776 and who does not have an approved reclamation plan shall submit a reclamation plan to the lead agency not later than March 31, 1988. If a reclamation plan application is not on file by March 31, 1988, the continuation of the surface mining operation is prohibited until a reclamation plan is submitted to the lead agency. For purposes of this subdivision, reclamation plans may consist of all or the appropriate sections of any plans or written agreements previously approved by the lead agency or another agency, together with any additional documents needed to substantially meet the requirements of Sections 2772 and 2773 and the lead agency surface mining ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2774, provided that all documents which together are proposed to serve as the reclamation plan are submitted for approval to the lead agency in accordance with this chapter. The lead agency's review of these plans is limited to whether the plan substantially meets the requirements of Sections 2772 and 2773 and the lead agency surface mining ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2774. Plans that are judged to meet the intent of this chapter shall be approved for the purposes of this chapter. Plans that are judged as not substantially meeting the requirements of Sections 2772 and 2773 and the lead agency surface mining ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2774 shall be returned to the operator within 60 days. The operator has 60 days to revise the plan to address identified deficiencies, at which time the revised plan shall be returned to the lead agency for review and approval. Except as specified by subdivision (c), (d), or (f), if plans remain unapproved by July 1, 1990, the continuation of the surface mining operation is prohibited until a reclamation plan is approved by the lead agency.

(c) Any person who, based on the evidence of the record, can substantiate that a lead agency has failed to act according to due process, or has relied on considerations not related to the specific requirements of Sections 2772 and 2773 and the lead agency surface mining ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2774 in reaching a decision to deny approval of a reclamation plan, or has failed to act within a reasonable time of receipt of a completed application, may appeal that action or inaction to the board.

(d) The board may decline to hear an appeal if it determines that the appeal raises no substantial issues related to the lead agency's review pursuant to this section.

(e) Appeals that the board does not decline to hear shall be scheduled and heard at a public hearing within 45 days of the filing of the appeal, or any longer period as may be mutually agreed upon by the board and the person filing the appeal. In hearing an appeal, the board shall only determine whether the plan substantially meets the requirements of Sections 2772 and 2773 and the lead agency surface mining ordinance adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2774. A plan judged to meet these requirements shall be approved. A plan judged not to meet these requirements shall be returned to the person filing the appeal with a notice of deficiencies, who shall be granted, once only, a period of 30 days to correct the noted deficiencies and submit the revised plan to the lead agency for review and approval.

(f) Any enforcement action which may be brought against an operator with vested rights pursuant to Section 2776 shall be held in abeyance pending action on an application pursuant to subdivision (b) or the resolution of an appeal filed with the board pursuant to subdivision (c).

SEC. 3. Section 2774.3 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2774.3. The board shall review lead agency ordinances which establish permit and reclamation procedures to determine whether each ordinance is in accordance with state policy, and shall certify the ordinance as being in accordance with state policy if it adequately meets, or imposes requirements more stringent than, the California surface mining and reclamation policies and procedures established by the board pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 2774.5 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2774.5. (a) If, upon review of an ordinance, the board finds that it is not in accordance with state policy, the board shall communicate the ordinance's deficiencies in writing to the lead agency. Upon receipt of the written communication, the lead agency shall have 90 days to submit a revised ordinance to the board for certification as being in accordance with state policy. The board shall review the lead agency's revised ordinance for certification within 60 days of its receipt. If the lead agency does not submit a revised ordinance within 90 days, the board shall assume full authority for reviewing and approving reclamation plans submitted to the lead agency until the time the lead agency's ordinances are revised in accordance with state policy.

(b) If, upon review of a lead agency's revised ordinance, the board finds the ordinance is still not in accordance with state policy, the board shall again communicate the ordinance's deficiencies in writing to the lead agency. The lead agency shall have a second 90-day period in which to revise the ordinance and submit it to the board for review. If the board again finds that the revised ordinance is not in accordance with state policy or if no revision is submitted, the board shall assume full authority for reviewing and approving reclamation plans submitted to the lead agency until the time the lead agency's ordinances are revised in accordance with state policy.

(c) In any jurisdiction in which the lead agency does not have a certified ordinance, no person shall initiate a surface mining operation unless a reclamation plan has been submitted to, and approved by, the board. Any reclamation plan, approved by a lead agency under the lead agency's ordinance which was not in accordance with state policy at the time of approval, shall be subject to amendment by the board or under the ordinance certified by the board as being in accordance with state policy.

(d) Reclamation plans approved by the board pursuant to this section shall not be subject to modification by the lead agency at a future date but may be amended by the board. Reclamation plans approved by the board shall be remanded to the lead agency upon certification of the lead agency's ordinance, and the lead agency shall approve the reclamation plan as approved by the board, except that a subsequent amendment as may be agreed upon between the operator and the lead agency may be made according to this chapter. No additional public hearing shall be required prior to the lead agency's approval. Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing the board to issue a permit for the conduct of mining operations.

SEC. 5. Section 2776 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2776. No person who has obtained a vested right to conduct surface mining operations prior to January 1, 1976, shall be required to secure a permit pursuant to this chapter as long as the vested right continues and as long as no substantial changes are made in the operation except in accordance with this chapter. A person shall be deemed to have vested rights if, prior to January 1, 1976, he or she has, in good faith and in reliance upon a permit or other authorization, if the permit or other authorization was required, diligently commenced surface mining operations and incurred substantial liabilities for work and materials necessary therefor. Expenses incurred in obtaining the enactment of an ordinance in relation to a particular operation or the issuance of a permit shall not be deemed liabilities for work or materials.

The reclamination plan required to be filed under subdivision (b) of Section 2770, shall apply to operations conducted after January 1, 1976, or to be conducted.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as requiring the filing of a reclamation plan for, or the reclamation of, mined lands on which surface mining operations were conducted prior to January 1, 1976.

CHAPTER 976

An act to amend Sections 226, 226.3, and 226.4 of, and to repeal Sections 226.1 and 226.2 of, the Labor Code, relating to employment.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 226 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

226. (a) Every employer shall semimonthly, or at the time of each payment of wages, furnish each of his or her employees either as a detachable part of the check, draft, or voucher paying the employee's wages, or separately when wages are paid by personal check or cash, an itemized statement in writing showing: (1) gross wages earned; (2) total hours worked by each employee whose compensation is based on an hourly wage; (3) all deductions; provided, that all deductions made on written orders of the employee may be aggregated and shown as one item; (4) net wages earned; (5) the inclusive dates of the period for which the employee is paid; (6) the name of the employee and his or her social security number; and (7) the name and address of the legal entity which is the employer.

The deductions made from cash payments of wages shall be recorded in ink or other indelible form, properly dated, showing the month, day, and year, and a copy of the statement, or a record of the deductions, shall be kept on file by the employer for at least three years at the place of employment or at a central location within the State of California. An employer's records shall be available for inspection by the employee upon reasonable request.

This section shall not apply to any employer of any person employed by the owner or occupant of a residential dwelling whose duties are incidental to the ownership, maintenance, or use of the dwelling, including the care and supervision of children, or whose duties are personal and not in the course of the trade, business, profession, or occupation of the owner or occupant.

(b) Any employee suffering injury as a result of a knowing and intentional failure by an employer to comply with subdivision (a) shall be entitled to recover all actual damages or one hundred dollars ($100), whichever is greater, plus costs and reasonable attorney fees.

(c) This section shall not apply to the state, or any city, county, city and county, district, or any other governmental entity.

SEC. 2. Section 226.1 of the Labor Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 226.2 of the Labor Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 226.3 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

226.3. Any employer who violates subdivision (a) of Section 226 shall be subject to a civil penalty in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) per employee for each violation, for which the employer fails to provide the employee a wage deduction statement or fails to keep the records required in subdivision (a) of Section 226. The civil penalties provided for in this section are in addition to any other penalty provided by law.

SEC. 5. Section 226.4 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

226.4. If, upon inspection or investigation, the Labor Commissioner determines that an employer is in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 226, the Labor Commissioner may issue a citation to the person in violation. The citation may be served personally or by registered mail in accordance with subdivision (c) of Section 11505 of the Government Code. Each citation shall be in writing and shall describe the nature of the violation, including reference to the statuory provision alleged to have been violated.

CHAPTER 977

An act to amend Sections 1163, 1165, 1177, 1181, 1190, and 1195 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to pilots, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1163 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1163. (a) (1) Each retired or disabled pilot shall receive, as a monthly pension, that amount which is ninety-five dollars ($95) multiplied by the number of full years of service he performed as a pilot licensed under this division.

(2) A pilot who retires or becomes disabled shall not begin to receive his pension until the benefit year next following the date on which he retires or becomes disabled.

(3) No retired pilot shall receive benefits pursuant to the pension plan in any benefit year unless his resignation as an active pilot specifying a proposed date of retirement was submitted, in writing, to the board, prior to December if his retirement is to be effective the first day of the following January or prior to June if his retirement is to be effective the first day of the following July. His resignation shall become effective on either January 1 or July 1 as specified in the written resignation.

(4) If a retired or disabled pilot who is receiving a pension dies without a wife surviving him, his successor in interest shall receive the proceeds of the pension for the remainder of the benefit year, after which time it shall cease.

(b) (1) The widow of a deceased pilot who would be eligible for a pension pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1164 shall receive, as a monthly pension, one-half of the amount that her deceased husband would have received as a pension pursuant to this section had he lived.

(2) If a retired or disabled pilot receiving a pension dies, his widow shall continue to receive the full pension to which her deceased husband was entitled for the balance of the benefit year, after which she shall receive the amount specified in paragraph (1) of this subdivision.

(3) When a widow receiving a pension dies, her successor in interest shall receive the proceeds of the pension for the remainder of the benefit year, after which time it shall cease.

(c) For the purposes of the computations described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), six months or more of service by a pilot shall be considered a full year.

SEC. 2. Section 1165 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1165. (a) In addition to and concurrently with the basic pilotage rate described in Section 1190, a charge shall be levied for pilotage services at a rate necessary to provide the benefits to be paid out pursuant to the pension plan. The additional rate shall be determined as follows:

(1) On December 1 and June 1, of each year, the number of persons eligible to receive benefits under the plan, their identities, the amount each will be entitled to receive, and the total amount to be paid out to all such persons during each month of the next six-month period, shall be determined by the fiduciary agent.

(2) After the total amount to be paid out monthly under the plan has been determined, the rate necessary to provide that amount each month shall be calculated. The rate shall be based upon the volume of shipping, in gross registered tons, handled by pilots licensed under this division for the 12-month periods ending the previous September 30 and the previous March 31, respectively. The rate shall be expressed as mills per gross registered ton and shall be calculated to the nearest one-hundredth of a mill.

(3) Based on the above calculations, if the total amount to be paid out yearly will exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000), the rate shall be established so that the pension plan will produce maximum revenues of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per year and the benefits shall be reduced accordingly.

(b) The rate determined pursuant to paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (a) shall become effective on January 1 of the following year with respect to the September 30 calculations, and on July 1 of that year with respect to the March 31 calculations, and shall be in effect for the succeeding six-month period.

(c) Revenues for any month or year are the amounts to be received pursuant to the pension plan for pilotages during that month or year.

(d) Benefits pursuant to the new rate calculations shall be paid commencing in February and August of each year and shall continue through and include July of the same year and January of the following year. The period during which benefits are paid is the benefit year.

SEC. 3. Section 1177 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1177. (a) On or before December 31, 1988, all pilots licensed pursuant to this division shall have proper federal endorsements allowing them to pilot on the high seas and on all waters of the Bays of San Francisco, San Pablo, and Suisun and the tributaries thereof, except for the Ports of Sacramento and Stockton.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), all pilots issued original licenses pursuant to this division after December 31, 1987, shall have proper federal endorsements allowing them to pilot on the high seas and on all waters of the Bays of San Francisco, San Pablo, and Suisun and the tributaries thereof and on the waters of the Ports of Sacramento and Stockton.

SEC. 4. Section 1181 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1181. The license of a pilot or inland pilot may be revoked or suspended before its expiration only for reasons of misconduct, which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Neglect, for 30 days after it becomes due, to render an account to the board of all money received for pilotage.

(b) Neglect, for 30 days after it becomes due, to pay over to the board the percentage of all pilotage money received , as set by the board pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1136.

(c) Rendering to the board a false account of pilotage received.

(d) Absence from duty for more than one month at any one time without leave granted by the board, unless sickness or personal injury causes the absence. This subdivision does not apply to inland pilots.

(e) Refusing to exhibit the pilot or inland pilot license when requested to do so by the master of any vessel boarded.

(f) Intoxication or being under the influence of any substance or combination of substances which so affects the nervous system, brain, or muscles as to impair, to an appreciable degree, the ability to conduct the duties of a pilot or inland pilot while on duty.

(g) Negligently, ignorantly, or willfully running any vessel on shore, or otherwise rendering it liable to damage, or otherwise causing injury to persons or damage to property.

(h) Willful violation of the rules and regulations adopted by the board for the government of pilots or inland pilots.

(i) Inability to comply with the standards of health or physical condition requisite to the duties of a pilot or inland pilot, but in that case the burden of proving compliance with these standards is upon the licensee, unless prior to the hearing the licensee takes and passes those tests or examinations required by the board.

SEC. 5. Section 1190 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1190. (a) Every vessel spoken inward or outward bound, shall pay the following rate of bar pilotage through the Golden Gate and into or out of the Bays of San Francisco, San Pablo, and Suisun:

(1) Seven dollars and thirty-five cents ($7.35) per draft foot of the vessel's deepest draft and fractions of a foot pro rata, and an additional charge of 46.06 mills ($0.04606) per high gross registered ton.

(2) A minimum charge for bar pilotage shall be six hundred dollars ($600) for each vessel piloted.

(3) The vessel's deepest draft shall be the maximum draft attained, on a stillwater basis, at any part of the vessel during the course of such transit inward or outward.

(b) The rate specified in subdivision (a) shall apply only to a pilotage which passes through the Golden Gate to or from the high seas to or from a berth within an area bounded by the Southern Pacific Bridge to the north and Hunter's Point to the south. The rate for pilotage to or from the high seas to or from a point past the Southern Pacific Bridge or Hunter's Point shall include a movement fee in addition to the basic bar pilotage rate as specified by the board pursuant to Section 1191.

(c) The rate established in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) shall be for a trip from the high seas to dock or from the dock to high seas. The rate specified in Section 1191 shall not be charged by pilots for docking and undocking vessels. This subdivision does not apply to the rates charged by inland pilots for their services.

(d) The board shall determine the number of pilots to be licensed based on the 1986 manpower study adopted by the board.

SEC. 6. Section 1195 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

1195. (a) In addition to other fees for pilotage, there shall be a surcharge in an amount established by the board for each movement of a vessel using pilot services for each pilot trainee who is enrolled in the pilot training program established by the board.

(b) The moneys charged and collected each month from the pilot trainee surcharge shall be paid to the board. The moneys shall be used only to fund the pilot training program in the manner established by the board.

(c) By action of the board, the board may adjust the amount established pursuant to subdivision (a) as necessary to efficiently administer the pilot training program.

CHAPTER 978

An act to amend Section 16119 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16119 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

16119. The department and all adoption agencies shall disseminate information to prospective adoptive families, especially those families of lower income levels and those belonging to disadvantaged groups, as to the availability of adoptable special needs children and of the existence of aid to adoptive families under this chapter. At the time application for adoption of a special needs child is made, the department or the licensed adoption agency, whichever is appropriate, shall provide the prospective adoptive family with information, in writing, on the availability of Adoption Assistance Program benefits, with an explanation of the difference between these benefits and foster care payments.

The county responsible for providing foster care for a child shall provide financial aid to the adoptive family in an amount determined pursuant to Section 16120.

CHAPTER 979

An act to amend Section 8573 of, and to add Sections 8664.13 and 8693.5 to, the Fish and Game Code, relating to fish, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8573 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

8573. Drift gill nets may be used to take shark and swordfish under the permit provided in this article and are subject to the following restrictions:

(a) From June 1 to November 15, inclusive, shark or swordfish gill nets shall not be in the water from two hours after sunrise to two hours before sunset east of a line described as follows:

From a point beginning at Las Pitas Point to San Pedro Point on Santa Cruz Island, thence to Gull Island Light, thence to the northeast extremity of San Nicolas Island, thence along the high water mark on the west side of San Nicolas Island to the southeast extremity of San Nicolas Island, thence to the northwest extremity of San Clemente Island, thence along the high water mark on the west side of San Clemente Island to the southeast extremity of San Clemente Island, thence along a line running 150° true from the southeast extremity of San Clemente Island to the westerly extension of the boundary line between the Republic of Mexico and San Diego County.

(b) (1) The total maximum length of a shark or swordfish gill net on the net reel on a vessel, on the deck of the vessel, and in the water at any time shall not exceed 6,000 feet in float line length. The float line length shall be determined by measuring the float line, as tied, of all the net panels, excluding the bridle, towline, or stotza and excluding the parachute or other drogue device.

(2) Any shark or swordfish gill net on the reel shall have the float lines of the adjacent panels tied together, the lead lines of the adjacent panels tied together, and the web of the adjacent panels laced together. No quick disconnect device may be used unless the total maximum length of all shark and swordfish gill nets, including all spare gill nets or net panels on the vessel and all gill nets or net panels on the net reels on the vessel, on the deck of the vessel, stored aboard the vessel, and in the water, does not exceed 6,000 feet in float line length as determined under paragraph (1).

(3) Spare shark or swordfish gill net aboard the vessel shall not exceed 250 fathoms (1,500 feet) in total length, and the spare net shall be in separated panels of not to exceed 80 fathoms (480 feet) in float line length for each panel, with the float lines and leadlines attached to each panel separately gathered and tied, and the spare net panels stowed in lockers, wells, or other storage space.

(4) If a torn panel is replaced in a working shark or swordfish gill net, the torn panel shall be removed from the working net before the replacement panel is attached to the working net.

(c) Any end of a shark or swordfish gill net not attached to the permittee's vessel shall be marked by a pole with a radar reflector. The reflector shall be at least six feet above the surface of the ocean and not less than 10 inches in any dimension except thickness. The permittee's permit number shall be permanently affixed to at least one buoy or float which is attached to the radar reflector staff. The permit number shall be at least one and one-half inches in height and all markings shall be at least one-quarter inch in width.

(d) For the purposes of this article, "shark or swordfish gill net" means a drift gill net of 14-inch or greater mesh size.

SEC. 2. Section 8664.13 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8664.13. During the period from December 15 to May 15, inclusive, set gill nets and trammel nets with mesh eight inches or greater and less than 12 inches used in ocean waters 25 fathoms or less in depth between a line extending due west magnetic from Point Conception and the westerly extension of the boundary line between the Republic of Mexico and the United States shall be constructed with breakaway and anchoring features, as follows:

(a) The corkline and any other line which may extend across the top of the net shall have a combined breaking strength not to exceed 2,400 pounds.

(b) A breakaway device shall be used along the corkline (headrope) and along the leadline (footrope) at regular intervals of 45 fathoms or less.

(c) Each breakaway or disconnect device shall be constructed as described in either of the following:

(1) Of nylon twine, or an equivalent material, with a breaking strength of 200 pounds or less, using not more than eight complete circular (360) wraps of the twine to connect the ends of each corkline and leadline interval, which allows each breakaway or disconnect device a breaking strength of not more than 1,600 pounds.

(2) As the department may otherwise authorize.

(d) Anchors used to secure each end of the net to the ocean bottom shall weigh not less than 35 pounds each, and shall be attached to the net by a ground rope and bridle with combined length of not less than 15 fathoms from the anchor to the net.

SEC. 3. Section 8693.5 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

8693.5. During the period from December 15 to May 15, inclusive, gill nets and trammel nets shall not be used within two nautical miles of Point Loma in San Diego County or San Mateo Point in Orange County or within one nautical mile of Point La Jolla in San Diego County, Dana Point in Orange County, or Point Fermin, Point Vicente, Palos Verdes Point, or Point Dume in Los Angeles County.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for this act to be effective in the fishing season this year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 980

An act to amend Section 8242 of the Government Code, and to amend Section 19701 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to boards and commissions.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8242 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8242. (a) Public members of the commission shall receive one hundred dollars ($100) per diem while on official business of the commission, not to exceed 12 days per year. Each member of the commission shall also be entitled to receive his or her actual necessary traveling expenses while on official business of the commission.

(b) The commission shall select annually from its membership, a chairperson and vice chairperson.

SEC. 2. Section 19701 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

19701. (a) The members of the board shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the course of official duties.

(b) In addition to subdivision (a), each member shall receive a per diem of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day actually spent in the discharge of official duties.

Those payments shall be made from federal and state general fund moneys appropriated to the department.

CHAPTER 981

An act to amend Sections 25159.5 and 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous substances.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25159.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25159.5. (a) In adopting or revising standards and regulations pursuant to this chapter, the department shall, insofar as practicable, make the standards and regulations conform with corresponding regulations adopted by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended, (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.). This section does not prohibit the department from adopting standards and regulations which are more stringent or more extensive than federal regulations.

(b) Until the state program is granted final authorization by the Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to Section 6926 of Title 42 of the United States Code, all regulations adopted pursuant to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended, (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.) shall be deemed to be the regulations of the department, except that any state statute or regulation which is more stringent or more extensive than a federal regulation shall supersede the federal regulation.

SEC. 2. Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25356.1. (a) The department, or, if appropriate, the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve remedial action plans for all sites listed pursuant to Section 25356.

(b) A potentially responsible party may request the department or the regional water quality control board, when appropriate, to prepare or approve a remedial action plan for any site not listed pursuant to Section 25356 if the department or the State Water Resources Control Board determines that a removal or remedial action is required to respond to a release of a hazardous substance. The department or the state board shall respond to a request to prepare or approve a remedial action plan within 90 days of receipt. This subdivision does not affect the authority of any regional water quality control board to issue and enforce a cleanup and abatement order pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code or a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code.

(c) All remedial action plans prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall be based upon Section 25350, Subpart F of the National Oil and Hazardous Substances Pollution Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. 300.61 et seq.), and any amendments thereto, and upon all of the following factors, to the extent that these factors are consistent with these federal regulations and do not require a less stringent level of cleanup than these federal regulations:

(1) Health and safety risks posed by the conditions at the site. When considering these risks, the department or the regional water quality control board shall consider scientific data and reports which may have a relationship to the site.

(2) The effect of contamination or pollution levels upon present, future, and probable beneficial uses of contaminated, polluted, or threatened resources.

(3) The effect of alternative remedial action measures on the reasonable availability of groundwater resources for present, future, and probable beneficial uses. The department or regional water quality control board shall consider the extent to which remedial action measures are available which use, as a principal element, treatment that significantly reduces the volume, toxicity, or mobility of the hazardous substances, as opposed to remedial actions which do not use this treatment. The department or regional water quality control board shall not select remedial action measures which use offsite transport and disposal of untreated hazardous substances or contaminated materials if practical and cost-effective treatment technologies are available.

(4) Site specific characteristics, including the potential for offsite migration of hazardous substances, the surface or subsurface soil, and the hydrogeologic conditions, as well as preexisting background contamination levels.

(5) Cost effectiveness of alternative remedial action measures. In evaluating the cost effectiveness of proposed alternative remedial action measures, the department or regional water quality control board shall consider, to the extent possible, the total short-term and long-term costs of these actions and shall use, as a major factor, whether the deferral of a remedial action will result, or is likely to result, in a rapid increase in cost or in the hazard to public health or the environment posed by the site. Land disposal shall not be deemed the most cost-effective measure merely on the basis of lower short-term cost.

(6) The potential environmental impacts of alternative remedial action measures, including, but not limited to, land disposal of the untreated hazardous substances as opposed to treatment of the hazardous substances to remove or reduce its volume, toxicity, or mobility prior to disposal.

(d) A remedial action plan prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall include a statement of reasons setting forth the basis for the removal and remedial actions selected. The statement shall include an evaluation of each proposed alternative submitted to, or prepared by, the department or the regional water quality control board for a particular site. The statement shall also include an evaluation of the consistency of the removal and remedial actions proposed by the plan with the federal regulations and factors specified in subdivision (c) and shall set forth the reasons for rejection of alternative removal and remedial actions. The statement shall also include a nonbinding preliminary allocation of responsibility among all identifiable potentially responsible parties at a particular site, including those parties which may have been released, or may otherwise be immune, from liability pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law. Before adopting a final remedial action plan, the department or the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve a draft remedial action plan and shall do all of the following:

(1) Circulate the draft plan for at least 30 days for public comment.

(2) Notify affected local and state agencies of the removal and remedial actions proposed in the remedial action plan and publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area affected by the draft remedial action plan. The department or the regional water quality control board shall also post notices in the location where the proposed removal or remedial action would be located and shall notify, by direct mailing, the owners of property contiguous to the site addressed by the plan, as shown in the latest equalized assessment roll.

(3) Hold one or more meetings with the lead and responsible agencies for the removal and remedial actions, the potentially responsible parties for the removal and remedial actions, and the interested public, to provide the public with the information which is necessary to address the issues which concern the public. The information to be provided shall include an assessment of the degree of contamination, the characteristics of the hazardous substances, an estimate of the time required to carry out the removal and remedial actions, and a description of the proposed removal and remedial actions.

(4) Comply with Section 25358.7.

(e) After complying with subdivision (d), the department or the regional water quality control board shall review and consider any public comments, and shall revise the draft plan, if appropriate. The department or the regional water quality control board shall then issue the final remedial action plan.

(f) A potentially responsible party named in the final remedial action plan issued by the department or the regional water quality control board may seek judicial review of the final remedial action plan pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 30 days after the final plan is issued. The filing of a petition seeking judicial review of a final remedial action plan shall not stay any removal or remedial action specified in the final plan.

For purposes of judicial review, the court shall uphold the final remedial action plan if the plan is based upon substantial evidence available to the department or the regional water quality control board, as the case may be. This subdivision does not prohibit the court from granting any appropriate relief within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to, enjoining the expenditure of funds pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 25385.6.

(g) This section does not require the department or a regional water quality control board to prepare a remedial action plan if conditions present at a site present an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health and safety or to the environment.

(h) Article 2 (commencing with Section 13320), Article 3 (commencing with Section 13330), Article 5 (commencing with Section 13350), and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13360) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code apply to any action or failure to act by a regional water quality control board pursuant to this section.

SEC. 3. Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25356.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the department, or, if appropriate, the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve remedial action plans for all sites listed pursuant to Section 25356.

(b) A potentially responsible party may request the department or the regional water quality control board, when appropriate, to prepare or approve a remedial action plan for any site not listed pursuant to Section 25356 if the department or the State Water Resources Control Board determines that a removal or remedial action is required to respond to a release of a hazardous substance. The department or the state board shall respond to a request to prepare or approve a remedial action plan within 90 days of receipt. This subdivision does not affect the authority of any regional water quality control board to issue and enforce a cleanup and abatement order pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code or a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code.

(c) All remedial action plans prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall be based upon Section 25350, Subpart F of the National Oil and Hazardous Substances Pollution Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. Sec. 300.61 et seq.), and any amendments thereto, and upon all of the following factors, to the extent that these factors are consistent with these federal regulations and do not require a less stringent level of cleanup than these federal regulations:

(1) Health and safety risks posed by the conditions at the site. When considering these risks, the department or the regional water quality control board shall consider scientific data and reports which may have a relationship to the site.

(2) The effect of contamination or pollution levels upon present, future, and probable beneficial uses of contaminated, polluted, or threatened resources.

(3) The effect of alternative remedial action measures on the reasonable availability of groundwater resources for present, future, and probable beneficial uses. The department or regional water quality control board shall consider the extent to which remedial action measures are available which use, as a principal element, treatment that significantly reduces the volume, toxicity, or mobility of the hazardous substances, as opposed to remedial actions which do not use this treatment. The department or regional water quality control board shall not select remedial action measures which use offsite transport and disposal of untreated hazardous substances or contaminated materials if practical and cost-effective treatment technologies are available.

(4) Site specific characteristics, including the potential for offsite migration of hazardous substances, the surface or subsurface soil, and the hydrogeologic conditions, as well as preexisting background contamination levels.

(5) Cost effectiveness of alternative remedial action measures. In evaluating the cost effectiveness of proposed alternative remedial action measures, the department or regional water quality control board shall consider, to the extent possible, the total short-term and long-term costs of these actions and shall use, as a major factor, whether the deferral of a remedial action will result, or is likely to result, in a rapid increase in cost or in the hazard to public health or the environment posed by the site. Land disposal shall not be deemed the most cost-effective measure merely on the basis of lower short-term cost.

(6) The potential environmental impacts of alternative remedial action measures, including, but not limited to, land disposal of the untreated hazardous substances as opposed to treatment of the hazardous substances to remove or reduce its volume, toxicity, or mobility prior to disposal.

(d) A remedial action plan prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall include a statement of reasons setting forth the basis for the removal and remedial actions selected. The statement shall include an evaluation of each proposed alternative submitted to, or prepared by, the department or the regional water quality control board for a particular site. The statement shall also include an evaluation of the consistency of the removal and remedial actions proposed by the plan with the federal regulations and factors specified in subdivision (c) and shall set forth the reasons for rejection of alternative removal and remedial actions. The statement shall also include a nonbinding preliminary allocation of responsibility among all identifiable potentially responsible parties at a particular site, including those parties which may have been released, or may otherwise be immune, from liability pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law. Before adopting a final remedial action plan, the department or the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve a draft remedial action plan and shall do all of the following:

(1) Circulate the draft plan for at least 30 days for public comment.

(2) Notify affected local and state agencies of the removal and remedial actions proposed in the remedial action plan and publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area affected by the draft remedial action plan. The department or the regional water quality control board shall also post notices in the location where the proposed removal or remedial action would be located and shall notify, by direct mailing, the owners of property contiguous to the site addressed by the plan, as shown in the latest equalized assessment roll.

(3) Hold one or more meetings with the lead and responsible agencies for the removal and remedial actions, the potentially responsible parties for the removal and remedial actions, and the interested public, to provide the public with the information which is necessary to address the issues which concern the public. The information to be provided shall include an assessment of the degree of contamination, the characteristics of the hazardous substances, an estimate of the time required to carry out the removal and remedial actions, and a description of the proposed removal and remedial actions.

(4) Comply with Section 25358.7.

(e) After complying with subdivision (d), the department or the regional water quality control board shall review and consider any public comments, and shall revise the draft plan, if appropriate. The department or the regional water quality control board shall then issue the final remedial action plan.

(f) A potentially responsible party named in the final remedial action plan issued by the department or the regional water quality control board may seek judicial review of the final remedial action plan pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 30 days after the final plan is issued. The filing of a petition seeking judicial review of a final remedial action plan shall not stay any removal or remedial action specified in the final plan.

For purposes of judicial review, the court shall uphold the final remedial action plan if the plan is based upon substantial evidence available to the department or the regional water quality control board, as the case may be. This subdivision does not prohibit the court from granting any appropriate relief within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to, enjoining the expenditure of funds pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 25385.6.

(g) (1) This section does not require the department or a regional water quality control board to prepare a remedial action plan if conditions present at a site present an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health and safety or to the environment.

(2) A remedial action plan is not required pursuant to subdivision (a) if all of the following apply:

(A) The department, a regional water quality control board, or a responsible party takes a removal action at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356 to prevent, minimize, or mitigate damage that may otherwise result from a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

(B) The total cost of the removal action is less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000).

(C) The department, after appropriate testing and analysis, determines that the removal action has adequately abated conditions at the site and the site may be removed from the list established pursuant to Section 25356.

(3) Paragraph (2) of this subdivision does not apply to a removal action paid from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund.

(h) Article 2 (commencing with Section 13320), Article 3 (commencing with Section 13330), Article 5 (commencing with Section 13350), and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13360) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code apply to any action or failure to act by a regional water quality control board pursuant to this section.

SEC. 4. Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2036. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2036, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 982

An act to amend Sections 66411.1, 66431, 66435.2, 66436, 66439, 66440, 66441, 66442, 66445, 66447, 66449, 66450, 66452.4, 66452.5, 66457, 66458, 66463, 66464, 66477.1, 66492, 66493, and 66499.23 of the Government Code, relating to subdivisions.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 66411.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66411.1. (a) Whenever a local ordinance requires improvements for a division of land which is not a subdivision of five or more lots, the regulations shall be limited to the dedication of rights-of-way, easements, and the construction of reasonable offsite and onsite improvements for the parcels being created. Requirements for the construction of offsite and onsite improvements shall be noticed by a statement on the parcel map, on the instrument evidencing the waiver of the parcel map, or by a separate instrument and shall be recorded on, concurrently with, or prior to the parcel map or instrument of waiver of a parcel map being filed for record.

(b) Fulfillment of the construction requirements shall not be required until the time a permit or other grant of approval for development of the parcel is issued by the local agency or, where provided by local ordinances, until the time the construction of the improvements is required pursuant to an agreement between the subdivider and the local agency, except that in the absence of an agreement, a local agency may require fulfillment of the construction requirements within a reasonable time following approval of the parcel map and prior to the issuance of a permit or other grant of approval for the development of a parcel upon a finding by the local agency that fulfillment of the construction requirements is necessary for either of the following reasons:

(1) The public health and safety.

(2) The required construction is a necessary prerequisite to the orderly development of the surrounding area.

SEC. 2. Section 66431 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66431. Upon mutual agreement of their respective legislative bodies, the county surveyor may perform any or all of the duties assigned to the city engineer, including required certifications or statements. Whenever these duties have been divided between the county surveyor and city engineer, each officer shall state the duties performed by him or her.

SEC. 3. Section 66435.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66435.2. Whenever a certificate, statement, or acknowledgment is made by separate instrument, there shall appear on the final map a reference to the separately recorded document. This reference shall be completed by the county recorder pursuant to Section 66468.1.

SEC. 4. Section 66436 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66436. (a) A statement, signed and acknowledged by all parties having any record title interest in the subdivided real property, consenting to the preparation and recordation of the final map is required, except in the following circumstances:

(1) A lien for state, county, municipal, or local taxes or special assessments, a trust interest under bond indentures, or mechanics' liens do not constitute a record title interest in land for the purpose of this chapter or any local ordinance.

(2) The signature of either the holder of beneficial interests under trust deeds or the trustee under the trust deeds, but not both, may be omitted. The signature of either shall constitute a full and complete subordination of the lien of the deed of trust to the map and any interest created by the map.

(3) Signatures of parties owning the following types of interests may be omitted if their names and the nature of their respective interests are stated on the final map:

(A) (i) Rights-of-way, easements or other interests which cannot ripen into a fee, except those owned by a public entity, public utility, or subsidiary of a public utility for conveyance to the public utility for rights-of-way. If, however, the legislative body or advisory agency determines that division and development of the property in the manner set forth on the approved or conditionally approved tentative map will not unreasonably interfere with the free and complete exercise of the public entity or public utility right-of-way or easement, the signature of the public entity or public utility may be omitted. Where that determination is made, the subdivider shall send, by certified mail, a sketch of the proposed final map, together with a copy of this section, to any public entity or public utility which has previously acquired a right-of-way or easement.

(ii) If the public entity or utility objects to either recording the final map without its signature or the determination of the legislative body or advisory agency that the division and development of the property will not unreasonably interfere with the full and complete exercise of its right-of-way or easement, it shall so notify the subdivider and the legislative body or advisory agency within 30 days after receipt of the materials from the subdivider.

(iii) If the public entity or utility objects to recording the final map without its signature, the public entity or utility so objecting may affix its signature to the final map within 30 days of filing its objection with the legislative body or advisory agency.

(iv) If the public entity or utility either does not file an objection with the legislative body or advisory agency or fails to affix its signature within 30 days of filing its objection to recording the map without its signature, the local agency may record the final map without the signature.

(v) If the public entity or utility files an objection to the determination of the legislative body or advisory agency that the division and development of the property will not unreasonably interfere with the exercise of its right-of-way or easement, the legislative body or advisory agency shall set the matter for public hearing to be held not less than 10 nor more than 30 days of receipt of the objection. At the hearing, the public entity or public utility shall present evidence in support of its position that the division and development of the property will unreasonably interfere with the free and complete exercise of the objector's right-of-way or easement.

(vi) If the legislative body or advisory agency finds, following the hearing, that the development and division will in fact unreasonably interfere with the free and complete exercise of the objector's right-of-way or easement, it shall set forth those conditions whereby the unreasonable interference will be eliminated and upon compliance with those conditions by the subdivider, the final map may be recorded with or without the signature of the objector. If the legislative body or advisory agency finds that the development and division will in fact not unreasonably interfere with the free and complete exercise of the objector's right-of-way or easement, the final map may be recorded without the signature of the objector, notwithstanding the objections.

(vii) Failure of the public entity or public utility to file an objection pursuant to this section shall in no way affect its rights under a right-of-way or easement.

(B) Rights-of-way, easements, or reversions, which by reason of changed conditions, long disuse, or laches appear to be no longer of practical use or value and signatures are impossible or impractical to obtain. A statement of the circumstances preventing the procurement of the signatures shall also be stated on the map.

(C) Interests in, or rights to, minerals, including but not limited to, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances.

(4) Real property originally patented by the United States or by the State of California, which original patent reserved interest to either or both of those entities, may be included in the final map without the consent of the United States or the State of California to the map or to dedications made by it.

(b) No monetary liability shall be incurred by, and no cause of action shall arise against, a local agency, a party, the subdivider, the subdivider's agent, or the engineer or land surveyor who prepared the map, on account of the omission of any signature, which omission is authorized by this section.

(c) A notary acknowledgment shall be deemed complete for recording without the official seal of the notary, so long as the name of the notary, the county of the notary's principal place of business, and the notary's commission expiration date are typed or printed below the notary's signature in the acknowledgment.

SEC. 5. Section 66439 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66439. (a) Dedications of, or offers to dedicate interests in, real property for specified public purposes shall be made by a statement on the final map, signed and acknowledged by those parties having any record title interest in the real property being subdivided, subject to the provisions of Section 66436.

(b) In the event any street shown on a final map is not offered for dedication, the statement may contain a declaration to this effect. If the statement appears on the final map and if the map is approved by the legislative body, the use of the street or streets by the public shall be permissive only.

(c) An offer of dedication of real property for street or public utility easement purposes shall be deemed not to include any public utility facilities located on or under the real property unless, and only to the extent that, an intent to dedicate the facilities is expressly declared in the statement.

SEC. 6. Section 66440 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66440. The final map shall contain a certificate or statement for execution by the clerk of each approving legislative body stating that the body approved the map and accepted, accepted subject to improvement, or rejected, on behalf of the public, any real property offered for dedication for public use in conformity with the terms of the offer of dedication.

SEC. 7. Section 66441 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66441. A statement by the engineer or surveyor responsible for the survey and final map is required. His or her statement shall give the date of the survey, state that the survey and final map were made by him or her or under his or her direction, and that the survey is true and complete as shown.

The statement shall also state that all the monuments are of the character and occupy the positions indicated, or that they will be set in those positions on or before a specified later date. The statement shall also state that the monuments are, or will be, sufficient to enable the survey to be retraced.

SEC. 8. Section 66442 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66442. (a) If a subdivision for which a final map is required lies within an unincorporated area, a certificate or statement by the county surveyor is required. If a subdivision lies within a city, a certificate or statement by the city engineer is required. The appropriate official shall state that:

(1) He or she has examined the map.

(2) The subdivision as shown is substantially the same as it appeared on the tentative map, and any approved alterations thereof.

(3) All provisions of this chapter and of any local ordinances applicable at the time of approval of the tentative map have been complied with.

(4) He or she is satisfied that the map is technically correct.

(b) The county surveyor or the city engineer, as the case may be, or other public official or employee qualified and authorized to perform the functions of either, shall complete and file with his or her legislative body his or her certificate or statement, as required by this section, within 20 days from the time the final map is submitted to him or her by the subdivider for approval.

SEC. 9. Section 66445 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66445. The parcel map shall be prepared by, or under the direction of, a registered civil engineer or licensed land surveyor, shall show the location of streets and property lines bounding the property, and shall conform to all of the following provisions:

(a) It shall be legibly drawn, printed or reproduced by a process guaranteeing a permanent record in black on tracing cloth or polyester base film. Certificates or statements, affidavits, and acknowledgments may be legibly stamped or printed upon the map with opaque ink. If ink is used on polyester base film, the ink surface shall be coated with a suitable substance to assure permanent legibility.

(b) The size of each sheet shall be 18 by 26 inches. A marginal line shall be drawn completely around each sheet, leaving an entirely blank margin of one inch. The scale of the map shall be large enough to show all details clearly and enough sheets shall be used to accomplish this end. The particular number of the sheet and the total number of sheets comprising the map shall be stated on each of the sheets, and its relation to each adjoining sheet shall be clearly shown.

(c) Each parcel shall be numbered and each block may be numbered or lettered. Each street shall be named or otherewise designated.

(d) (1) The exterior boundary of the land included within the subdivision shall be indicated by distinctive symbols and clearly so designated.

(2) The map shall show the location of each parcel and its relation to surrounding surveys. If the map includes a "designated remainder" parcel or similar parcel, and the gross area of the "designated remainder" parcel or similar parcel is five acres or more, that remainder parcel need not be shown on the map and its location need not be indicated as a matter or survey, but only by deed reference to the existing boundaries of the remainder parcel.

(3) A parcel designated as "not a part" shall be deemed to be a "designated remainder" for purposes of this section.

(e) Subject to the provisions of Section 66436, a statement, signed and acknowledged by all parties having any record title interest in the real property subdivided, consenting to the preparation and recordation of the parcel map is required, except that less inclusive requirements may be provided by local ordinance.

With respect to a division of land into four or fewer parcels, where dedications or offers of dedications are not required, the statement shall be signed and acknowledged by the subdivider only. If the subdivider does not have a record title ownership interest in the property to be divided, the local agency may require that the subdivider provide the local agency with satisfactory evidence that the persons with record title ownership have consented to the proposed division. For purposes of this paragraph, "record title ownership" shall mean fee title of record unless a leasehold interest is to be divided, in which case "record title ownership" shall mean ownership of record of the leasehold interest. "Record title ownership" does not include ownership of mineral rights or other subsurface interests which have been severed from ownership of the surface.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, local agencies may require that those statements and acknowledgments required pursuant to subdivision (e) be made by separate instrument to be recorded concurrently with the parcel map being filed for record.

(g) On and after January 1, 1987, no additional survey and map requirements shall be included on a parcel map which do not affect record title interests. However, the map shall contain a notation of reference to survey and map information required by a local ordinance adopted pursuant to Section 66434.2.

(h) Whenever a certificate or acknowledgment is made by separate instrument, there shall appear on the final map a reference to the separately recorded document. This reference shall be completed by the county recorder pursuant to Section 66468.1.

(i) If a field survey was performed, the parcel map shall contain a statement by the engineer or surveyor responsible for the preparation of the map that states that all monuments are of the character and occupy the positions indicated, or that they will be set in those positions on or before a specified date, and that the monuments are, or will be, sufficient to enable the survey to be retraced.

SEC. 10. Section 66447 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66447. If dedications or offers of dedication are required, they may be made either by a statement on the parcel map or by separate instrument, as provided by local ordinance. If dedications or offers of dedication are made by separate instrument, the dedications or offers of dedication shall be recorded concurrently with, or prior to, the parcel map being filed for record.

The dedication or offers of dedication, whether by statement or separate instrument, shall be signed by the same parties and in the same manner as set forth in Section 66439 for dedications by a final map.

SEC. 11. Section 66449 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66449. The following statements shall appear on a parcel map:

(a) Engineer's (surveyor's) statement:

This map was prepared by me or under my direction (and was compiled from record data) (and is based upon a field survey) in conformance with the requirements of the Subdivision Map Act and local ordinance at the request of (name of person authorizing map) on (date). I hereby state that this parcel map substantially conforms to the approved or conditionally approved tentative map, if any.

SEC. 13. Section 66452.4 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66452.4. If no action is taken upon a tentative map by an advisory agency which is authorized by local ordinance to approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the tentative map or by the legislative body within the time limits specified in this chapter or any authorized extension thereof, the tentative map as filed, shall be deemed to be approved, insofar as it complies with other applicable requirements of this division and local ordinance, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the legislative body to certify or state his or her approval.

SEC. 14. Section 66452.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66452.5. (a) The subdivider, or any tenant of the subject property, in the case of a proposed conversion of residential real property to a condominium project, community apartment project, or stock cooperative project, may appeal from any action of the advisory agency with respect to a tentative map to the appeal board established by local ordinance or, if none, to the legislative body.

The appeal shall be filed with the clerk of the appeal board, or if there is none, with the clerk of the legislative body within 10 days after the action of the advisory agency from which the appeal is being taken.

Upon the filing of an appeal, the appeal board or legislative body shall set the matter for hearing. The hearing shall be held within 30 days after the date of filing the appeal. Within 10 days following the conclusion of the hearing, the appeal board or legislative body shall render its decision on the appeal.

(b) The subdivider, any tenant of the subject property, in the case of a conversion of residential real property to a condominium project, community apartment project, or stock cooperative project, or the advisory agency may appeal from the action of the appeal board to the legislative body. The appeal shall be filed in writing with the clerk of the legislative body within 10 days after the action of the appeal board from which the appeal is being taken.

After the filing of an appeal, the legislative body shall set the matter for hearing. The hearing shall be held within 30 days after the date of a request therefor filed by the subdivider or the appellant. Within 10 days following the conclusion of the hearing, the legislative body shall render its decision on the appeal. The decision shall comply with the provisions of Sections 66473, 66473.5, and 66474, and shall include any findings required by those sections.

(c) If there is an appeal board and it fails to act upon an appeal within the time limit specified in this chapter, the decision from which the appeal was taken shall be deemed affirmed and an appeal therefrom may thereupon be taken to the legislative body as provided in subdivision (b) of this section. If no further appeal is taken, the tentative map, insofar as it complies with applicable requirements of this division and local ordinance, shall be deemed approved or conditionally approved as last approved or conditionally approved by the advisory agency, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the legislative body to certify or state that approval, or if the advisory agency is one which is not authorized by local ordinance to approve, conditionally approve, or disapprove the tentative map, the advisory agency shall submit its report to the legislative body as if no appeal had been taken.

If the legislative body fails to act upon an appeal within the time limit specified in this chapter, the tentative map, insofar as it complies with applicable requirements of this division and local ordinance, shall be deemed to be approved or conditionally approved as last approved or conditionally approved, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the legislative body to certify or state that approval.

(d) Where a local ordinance so provides, any interested person adversely affected by a decision of the advisory agency or appeal board may file a complaint with the governing body concerning any decision of the advisory agency or appeal board. The complaint shall be filed with the clerk of the governing body within 10 days after the action of the advisory agency or appeal board which is the subject of the complaint. Upon the filing of the complaint, the governing body may set the matter for hearing. The hearing shall be held within 30 days after the filing of the complaint. The hearing may be a public hearing for which notice shall be given in the time and manner provided.

Upon conclusion of the hearing, the governing body shall, within seven days, declare its findings based upon the testimony and documents produced before it or before the advisory board or the appeal board. It may sustain, modify, reject, or overrule any recommendations or rulings of the advisory board or the appeal board and may make any findings which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or local ordinance adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(e) Notice of each hearing provided for in this section shall be sent by United States mail to each tenant of the subject property, in the case of a conversion of residential real property to a condominium project, community apartment project, or stock cooperative project, at least three days prior to the hearing. The notice requirement of this sudivision shall be deemed satisfied if the notice complies with the legal requirements for service by mail. Pursuant to Section 66451.2, fees may be collected from the subdivider for expenses incurred under this section.

SEC. 15. Section 66457 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66457. (a) A final map or parcel map conforming to the approved or conditionally approved tentative map, if any, may be filed with the legislative body for approval after all required certificates or statements on the map have been signed and, where necessary, acknowledged.

(b) If the subdivision lies entirely within the territory of a city, the map shall be filed with the city. If the subdivision lies entirely within unincorporated territory, the map shall be filed with the county. If the subdivision lies partially within two or more territories, the map shall be filed with each, and each shall act thereon as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 16. Section 66458 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66458. (a) The legislative body shall, at the meeting at which it receives the map or, at its next regular meeting after the meeting at which it receives the map, approve the map if it conforms to all the requirements of this chapter and any local subdivision ordinance applicable at the time of approval or conditional approval of the tentative map and any rulings made thereunder. If the map does not conform, the legislative body shall disapprove the map.

(b) If the legislative body does not approve or disapprove the map within the prescribed time, or any authorized extension thereof, and the map conforms to all requirements and rulings, it shall be deemed approved, and the clerk of the legislative body shall certify or state its approval thereon.

(c) The meeting at which the legislative body receives the map shall be the date on which the clerk of the legislative body receives the map.

SEC. 17. Section 66463 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66463. (a) Except as otherwise provided for in this code, the procedure for processing, approval, conditional approval, or disapproval and filing of parcel maps and modifications thereof shall be as provided by local ordinance. The provisions of Sections 66477.1, 66477.2, and 66477.3 relating to dedications and offers of dedication on final maps, shall apply to dedications and offers of dedications on parcel maps.

(b) Whenever a local agency provides, by ordinance, for the approval, conditional approval, or disapproval of parcel maps by the county engineer, surveyor, or other designated official, the local agency may also, by ordinance, provide that the officer may accept or reject dedications and offers of dedication that are made by a statement on the map.

(c) Whenever a local agency provides, by ordinance, for the approval of parcel maps by the legislative body, the parcel maps shall be filed pursuant to the procedure for final maps as prescribed by Sections 66457 and 66458.

SEC. 18. Section 66464 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66464. (a) Unless otherwise provided by the county, if the final map or map parcel is not subject to Section 66493, after the approval by the city of a final map of a subdivision or a parcel map, the city clerk shall transmit the map to the county recorder.

(b) If a final map or parcel map is subject to Section 66493, after all certificates or statements and security required under Section 66493 have been filed and deposited with the clerk of the board of supervisors and approved by the county, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall certify or state that the certificates and statements have been filed and deposits have been made and shall transmit the final map or parcel map to the county recorder.

(c) After the approval by the county of a final or parcel map of a subdivision within unincorporated territory, the map shall be transmitted ultimately to the county recorder.

SEC. 19. Section 66477.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66477.1. (a) At the time the legislative body approves a final map, it shall also accept, accept subject to improvement, or reject any offer of dedication. The clerk of the legislative body shall certify or state on the map the action by the legislative body.

(b) The legislative body of a county may accept into the county road system, pursuant to Section 941 of the Streets and Highways Code, any road for which an offer of dedication has been accepted or accepted subject to improvements.

SEC. 20. Section 66492 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66492. Prior to the filing of the final map or parcel map with the legislative body, the subdivider shall, in accordance with procedures established by the county, file with the county recorder of the county in which any part of the subdivision is located, a certificate or statement from the official computing redemptions in any public agency in which any part of the subdivision is located, showing that, according to the records of that office, there are no liens against the subdivision or any part thereof for unpaid, state, county, municipal or local taxes or special assessments collected as taxes, except taxes or special assessments not yet payable.

SEC. 21. Section 66493 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66493. (a) Whenever any part of the subdivision is subject to a lien for taxes or special assessments collected as taxes which are not yet payable, the final map or parcel map shall not be recorded until the owner or subdivider does both of the following:

(1) Files with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county wherein any part of the subdivision is located a certificate or statement prepared by the appropriate state or local official giving his or her estimate of those taxes or assessments.

(2) Executes and files with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county wherein any part of the subdivision is located, security conditioned upon the payment of all state, county, municipal, and local taxes and the current installment of principal and interest of all special assessments collected as taxes, which at the time the final map is recorded are a lien against the property, but which are not yet payable.

(b) If the land being subdivided is a portion of a larger parcel shown on the last preceding tax roll as a unit, the security for payment of taxes need be only for the sum which may be determined by the county to be sufficient to pay the current and delinquent taxes on the land being subdivided, together with all accrued penalties and costs if those taxes have been or are allowed to become delinquent. Separate assessor's parcel numbers shall be given to the portion of the larger parcel which is not within the proposed subdivision and to the parcel or parcels which are within the proposed subdivision.

If the land being subdivided is tax-defaulted, it may be redeemed without the redemption of the remainder of the larger parcel of which it is a part pursuant to the Revenue and Taxation Code as if it were held in ownership separate from and other than the ownership of the remainder.

(c) Whenever land subject to a special assessment or bond which may be paid in full is divided by the line of a lot or parcel of the subdivision, that assessment or bond shall be paid in full, or security shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, payable to the county as trustee for the assessment bondholders for the payment of the special assessment or bond. This section does not apply to bonds issued under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, which is provided for in Division 10 (commencing with Section 8500) of the Streets and Highways Code.

(d) In computing the amount of security for "taxes" in subdivision (a) or "current taxes" in subdivision (b), it shall only be necessary to consider amounts shown on the regular assessment roll or shown on any supplemental rolls prepared pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 75) of Part 0.5 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 22. Section 66493 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66493. (a) Whenever any part of the subdivision is subject to a lien for taxes or special assessments collected as taxes which are not yet payable, the final map or parcel map shall not be recorded until the owner or subdivider does both of the following:

(1) Files with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county wherein any part of the subdivision is located a certificate or statement prepared by the appropriate state or local official giving his or her estimate of those taxes or assessments.

(2) Executes and files with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county wherein any part of the subdivision is located, security conditioned upon the payment of all state, county, municipal, and local taxes and the current installment of principal and interest of all special assessments collected as taxes, which at the time the final map is recorded are a lien against the property, but which are not yet payable.

(b) If the land being subdivided is a portion of a larger parcel shown on the last preceding tax roll as a unit, the security for payment of taxes need be only for the sum which may be determined by the county to be sufficient to pay the current and delinquent taxes on the land being subdivided, together with all accrued penalties and costs if those taxes have been or are allowed to become delinquent. Separate assessor's parcel numbers shall be given to the portion of the larger parcel which is not within the proposed subdivision and to the parcel or parcels which are within the proposed subdivision.

If the land being subdivided is tax-defaulted, it may be redeemed without the redemption of the remainder of the larger parcel of which it is a part pursuant to the Revenue and Taxation Code as if it were held in ownership separate from and other than the ownership of the remainder.

(c) Whenever land subject to a special assessment or bond which may be paid in full is divided by the line of a lot or parcel of the subdivision, that assessment or bond shall be paid in full, or security shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, payable to the county as trustee for the assessment bondholders for the payment of the special assessment or bond.

(d) Whenever land subject to a special assessment for payment of a bond would be divided by the line of a lot or parcel of a subdivision, and which is not paid in full or secured pursuant to subdivision (c), the final map or parcel map shall not be recorded until the owner or subdivider files with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county a certificate prepared by the clerk of the legislative body that created the assessment district. The certificate shall certify that the legislative body has determined that provision has been made for segregation of the responsibility of each of the proposed new parcels for a portion of the assessment payment obligation in the manner provided in the statute pursuant to which the assessments were levied or to which the bonds were issued.

(e) In computing the amount of security for "taxes" in subdivision (a) or "current taxes" in subdivision (b), it shall only be necessary to consider amounts shown on the regular assessment roll or shown on any supplemental rolls prepared pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 75) of Part 0.5 of Division 1 of the Revenue and taxation Code.

SEC. 23. Section 66499.23 of the Government Code is amended to read:

66499.23. The petition shall be accompanied by a new map showing the boundaries of the subdivision as it appears after the exclusion and alteration. The new map shall designate as numbered or lettered parcels those portions excluded and show the acreage of each parcel. If the map can be compiled from data available, an actual field survey shall not be required. If the map meets with the approval of the county surveyor, a statement by an engineer or surveyor shall not be required.

SEC. 24. The amendments to Section 66499.23 of the Government Code in Section 23 of this act shall not become operative if Senate Bill No. 654 of the 1987–88 Regular Session is enacted, becomes effective on or before January 1, 1988, and repeals Section 66499.23 of the Government Code.

SEC. 25. Section 22 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 66493 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and SB 837. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1988, (2) each bill amends Section 66493 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 837, in which case Section 21 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 983

An act to amend Section 76.3 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to boating.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 76.3 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

76.3. (a) The department may make loans to private marina owners for construction costs, not including planning, design, and other similar expenses, to develop a recreational marina. Loan funds from the department shall be utilized for berthing facilities, dredging, parking, public access facilities, restrooms, vessel pumpout facilities, utilities, landscaping, and other incidental boating-related amenities.

(b) No loan made by the department to a private marina owner shall exceed 25 percent of the funds annually budgeted for purposes of this article.

(c) The department shall not make a loan to a recreational marina that restricts access or bars the public other than what is consistent with general commercial business practices.

(d) Any private marina owner who purchases facilities previously developed with a department loan is eligible to apply for a new construction loan from the department.

CHAPTER 984

An act to amend Sections 25197, 25197.1, 25197.2, and 25197.3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25197 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25197. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(1) The United States Environmental Protection Agency has estimated that 90 percent of the 9 to 10 million metric tons of hazardous waste produced in California each year is improperly disposed.

(2) Approximately 50 percent of California's drinking water comes from underground water supplies which are highly susceptible to contamination from hazardous waste.

(3) Prosecution for violators of hazardous waste laws requires a specialized team of investigators and attorneys to detect, investigate, and prosecute these violators.

(b) It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature in enacting this article to increase the effectiveness of local and state hazardous waste enforcement activities.

SEC. 2. Section 25197.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25197.1. (a) The director shall establish a Hazardous Waste Enforcement Unit within the department and shall appoint an enforcement coordinator to administer that unit and carry out the duties specified in subdivision (b).

(b) The enforcement coordinator shall do all of the following:

(1) Require that information which the department receives concerning a violation of this chapter or any regulation or order issued pursuant to this chapter is routinely and expeditiously transmitted from the department to the appropriate city attorney or district attorney, and to the Attorney General.

(2) Make recommendations of persons to be awarded payment pursuant to Section 25191.7.

(3) Make annual recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature of statutory changes to increase the capability of city attorneys, district attorneys, and the Attorney General to prosecute violations of this chapter and any other law or regulation relating to hazardous waste, including needed training, assistance, and coordination programs.

(4) Submit an annual report to the Governor and the Legislature concerning all specific actions taken during that year by the enforcement coordinator and the Hazardous Waste Strike Force to carry out this article and the results obtained from those actions in increasing the effectiveness of local and state hazardous waste enforcement activities.

(5) Establish and maintain a toll-free telephone number, operating during the regular working hours of the department, which is available to the public to report information concerning violations of this chapter and any other hazardous waste statutes and regulations. The department shall screen calls for violations and shall refer information concerning potential violations within three working days to the regional office of the department, the office of the city attorney, the district attorney, or the Attorney General, as appropriate.

(6) Establish a program to publicize the toll-free telephone number.

(c) Nothing in this article limits the authority of a city attorney, a district attorney, or the Attorney General to investigate or prosecute violations of hazardous waste laws or regulations.

(d) Nothing in this article limits the authority of the department or any agency specified in subdivision (a) of Section 25197.2 to request that a civil or criminal action be brought by a city attorney, a district attorney, or the Attorney General under any other law or regulation.

SEC. 3. Section 25197.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25197.2. (a) The department shall establish a statewide Hazardous Waste Strike Force which shall consist of a representative from each of the following agencies:

(1) The Department of Transportation.
(2) The Department of Industrial Relations.
(3) The Department of Food and Agriculture.
(4) The State Water Resources Control Board.
(5) The State Air Resources Board.
(6) The Department of the California Highway Patrol.
(7) The State Fire Marshal.
(8) The California Waste Management Board.
(9) The Department of Fish and Game.
(10) The Department of Forestry.
(11) The Office of Emergency Services.
(12) The State Department of Health Services.
(13) The Attorney General.

(b) The director, or the director's designee, shall direct and coordinate the activities of the Hazardous Waste Strike Force.

(c) The Hazardous Waste Strike Force shall do all of the following:

(1) Recommend standardized programs among the agencies represented on the Hazardous Waste Strike Force for the purposes of uniformly enforcing state hazardous waste statutes and regulations and reporting violators of these statutes and regulations.

(2) Recommend programs to publicize and improve the statewide telephone number established pursuant to paragraph (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 25197.1.

(3) Recommend local and regional programs to report information concerning violations of this chapter and any other hazardous waste statutes and regulations.

SEC. 4. Section 25197.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25197.3. This article shall be funded from the department's existing resources.

CHAPTER 985

An act to amend Sections 65940, 65941.5, 65943, and 65956 of, and to add Section 65943 to, the Government Code, relating to development projects.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 65940 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65940. Each state agency and each local agency shall compile one or more lists which shall specify in detail the information which will be required from any applicant for a development project. Each local agency shall revise the list of information required from an applicant to include a certification of compliance with Section 65962.5, and the statement of application required by Section 65943. Copies of the information, including the statement of application required by Section 65943, shall be made available to all applicants for development projects and to any person who requests the information.

SEC. 2. Section 65941.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65941.5. Each public agency shall notify applicants for development permits of the time limits established for the review and approval of development permits pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 65940) and Article 5 (commencing with Section 65950), of the requirements of subdivision (e) of Section 65962.5, and of the public notice distribution requirements under applicable provisions of law. The public agency shall also notify applicants regarding the provisions of Section 65961. The public agency may charge applicants a reasonable fee not to exceed the amount reasonably necessary to provide the service required by this section. If a fee is charged pursuant to this section, the fee shall be collected as part of the application fee charged for the development permit.

SEC. 3. Section 65943 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65943. (a) Not later than 30 calendar days after any public agency has received an application for a development project, the agency shall determine in writing whether the application is complete and shall immediately transmit the determination to the applicant for the development project. If the written determination is not made within 30 days after receipt of the application, and the application includes a statement that it is an application for a development permit, the application shall be deemed complete for purposes of this chapter. Upon receipt of any resubmittal of the application, a new 30-day period shall begin, during which the public agency shall determine the completeness of the application. If the application is determined not to be complete, the agency's determination shall specify those parts of the application which are incomplete and shall indicate the manner in which they can be made complete, including a list and thorough description of the specific information needed to complete the application. The applicant shall submit materials to the public agency in response to the list and description.

(b) Not later than 30 calendar days after receipt of the submitted materials, the public agency shall determine in writing whether they are complete and shall immediately transmit that determination to the applicant. If the written determination is not made within that 30-day period, the application together with the submitted materials shall be deemed complete for purposes of this chapter.

(c) If the application together with the submitted materials are determined not to be complete pursuant to subdivision (b), the public agency shall provide a process for the applicant to appeal that decision in writing to the governing body of the agency or, if there is no governing body, to the director of the agency, as provided by that agency. A city or county shall provide that the right of appeal is to the governing body or, at their option, the planning commission, or both.

There shall be a final written determination by the agency on the appeal not later than 60 calendar days after receipt of the applicant's written appeal. The fact that an appeal is permitted to both the planning commission and to the governing body does not extend the 60-day period. Notwithstanding a decision pursuant to subdivision (b) that the application and submitted materials are not complete, if the final written determination on the appeal is not made within that 60-day period, the application with the submitted materials shall be deemed complete for the purposes of this chapter.

(d) Nothing in this section precludes an applicant and a public agency from mutually agreeing to an extension of any time limit provided by this section.

(e) This section shall become operative on July 1, 1985, and shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1991, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1991, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 65943 is added to the Government Code, to read:

65943. Not later than 30 calendar days after any public agency has received an application for a development project, the agency shall determine in writing whether the application is complete and shall immediately transmit its determination to the applicant for the development project. If the written determination is not made within 30 days after receipt of the application, and the application includes a statement that it is an application for a development permit, the application shall be deemed complete for purposes of this chapter. In the event that the application is determined not to be complete, the agency's determination shall specify those parts of the application which are incomplete and shall indicate the manner in which they can be made complete. This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

SEC. 5. Section 65956 of the Government Code is amended to read:

65956. (a) If any provision of law requires the lead agency or responsible agency to provide public notice of the development project or to hold a public hearing, or both, on the development project and the agency has not provided the public notice or held the hearing, or both, at least 60 days prior to the expiration of the time limits established by Sections 65950 and 65952, the applicant or his or her representative may file an action pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure to compel the agency to provide the public notice or hold the hearing, or both, and the court shall give the proceedings preference over all other civil actions or proceedings, except older matters of the same character.

(b) In the event that a lead agency or a responsible agency fails to act to approve or to disapprove a development project within the time limits required by this article, the failure to act shall be deemed approval of the permit application for the development project. However, the permit shall be deemed approved only if the public notice required by law has occurred. If the applicant has provided seven days advance notice to the permitting agency of the intent to provide public notice, then no earlier than 60 days from the expiration of the time limits established by Sections 65950 and 65952, an applicant may provide the required public notice using the distribution information provided pursuant to Section 65941.5. If the applicant chooses to provide public notice, that notice shall include a description of the proposed development substantially similar to the descriptions which are commonly used in public notices by the permitting agency, the location of the proposed development, the permit application number, the name and address of the permitting agency, and a statement that the project shall be deemed approved if the permitting agency has not acted within 60 days. If the applicant has provided the public notice required by this section, the time limit for action by the permitting agency shall be extended to 60 days after the public notice is provided. If the applicant provides notice pursuant to this section, the permitting agency shall refund to the applicant any fees which were collected for providing notice and which were not used for that purpose.

(c) Failure of an applicant to submit complete or adequate information pursuant to Sections 65943 to 65946, inclusive, may constitute grounds for disapproving a development project.

(d) Nothing in this section shall diminish the permitting agency's legal responsibility to provide, where applicable, public notice and hearing before acting on a permit application.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

CHAPTER 986

An act to amend and repeal Sections 545 and 34500 of, and to add Sections 336, 545, 12523.5, 34500, and 34501.8 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1987 Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1987]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature that, on and after July 1, 1988, general public paratransit operations be employed to provide service where it is most feasible and cost-effective and where existing public transit services cannot meet the needs of the community. It is the further intent of the Legislature that those operations not be viewed as a replacement or alternative to existing schoolbus services.

SEC. 2. Section 336 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

336. "General public paratransit vehicle" is any motor vehicle designed for carrying no more than 19 persons and the driver, and which provides local transportation to the general public under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned and operated transit system through one of the following modes: dial-a-ride, subscription service, or route-deviated bus service. Vehicles used in the exclusive transportation of the handicapped, as defined by Section 22511.5, or of persons 55 years of age or older are not general public paratransit vehicles.

This section shall become operative July 1, 1988.

SEC. 3. Section 545 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

545. A "schoolbus" is any motor vehicle designed, used, or maintained for the transportation of any school pupil at or below the 12th-grade level to or from a public or private school or to or from public or private school activities, except the following:

(a) A motor vehicle of any type carrying only members of the household of the owner thereof.

(b) A motortruck transporting pupils who are seated only in the passenger compartment, and a passenger vehicle designed for and when actually carrying not more than 10 persons, including the driver, except any such vehicle or truck transporting two or more handicapped pupils confined to wheelchairs.

(c) A motor vehicle operated by a common carrier, or by and under the exclusive jurisdiction of a publicly owned or operated transit system, only during the time it is on a scheduled run and is available to the general public or on a run scheduled in response to a request from a handicapped pupil confined to a wheelchair, or from a parent of the handicapped pupil, for transportation to or from nonschool activities; provided, that the motor vehicle is designed for and actually carries not more than 16 persons and the driver, is available to eligible persons of the general public, and the school does not provide the requested transportation service.

(d) A school pupil activity bus as defined in Section 546.

(e) A motor vehicle operated by a carrier licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission which is transporting pupils on a school activity entering or returning to the state from another state or country.

(f) A youth bus as defined in Section 680.
