(c) Reduce or vacate a summary judgment by filing a certificate to that effect with the clerk of the proper court.

(d) Offset the amount of the overpayment received by the liable person against any amount of benefits to which he or she may become entitled under this division within six years of the date of the mailing or personal service of the notice of overpayment determination.

SEC. 5. Section 1379.6 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

1379.6. (a) If an abstract has been recorded as provided in Section 1379.5, and the lien, including any interest, costs, and penalty, has been satisfied in full, the department shall, pursuant to Section 724.050 of the Code of Civil Procedure do all of the following:

(1) File an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment with the court.

(2) Serve an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment on the claimant. Service shall be made personally or by mail.

(3) Record an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment in the office of the county recorder where the abstract of judgment is recorded.

(b) If an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment is recorded, the cost of recording is an obligation of the claimant and may be collected from the claimant in any manner provided by law for the collection of benefit overpayments.

(c) If payment is made by check, any action specified in subdivision (a) shall not be required until the check has been paid by the financial institution upon which it was drawn.

SEC. 6. Section 1597 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 2118.5 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2118.5. Any person required by this code to collect, account for, and pay over any tax or amount required to be withheld who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over the tax or amount shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined an amount not more than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), or imprisoned in the state prison, or both the fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 8. Section 2129 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

2129. For the purposes of this chapter, "person" includes, a claimant for benefits and any officer, employee, director, partner, or agent having charge of the affairs of any employer or employing unit with regard to the violation which occurred. "Person" also includes both natural persons and legal entities. More than one person may be charged with violations under this chapter, where control of the affairs of the employing unit, or employer, is shared by more than one person.

SEC. 9. Section 2739 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2739. The Director of Employment Development, subject to this article, may do any or all of the following in the recovery of overpayments of disability benefits:

(a) File a civil action against the liable person for the recovery of the amount of the overpayment within one year after any of the following, or, in cases where the individual has been overpaid benefits due to fraud, misrepresentation, or nondisclosure as described in Section 2735.1, within three years of any of the following:

(1) The mailing or personal service of the notice of overpayment determination if the person affected does not file an appeal to an administrative law judge.

(2) The mailing of the decision of the administrative law judge if the person affected does not initiate a further appeal to the appeals board.

(3) The date of the decision of the appeals board.

(b) Initiate proceedings for a summary judgment against the liable person. However, this subdivision applies only where the director has found, pursuant to Section 2735, that the overpayment may not be waived because it was due to fraud, misrepresentation, or willful nondisclosure on the part of the recipient. The director may, not later than three years after the overpayment became final, file with the clerk of the proper court in the county in which the claimant resides, a certificate containing all of the following:

(1) The amount due, including the assessment made under Section 2735.1, plus interest from the date that the initial determination of overpayment was made pursuant to Section 2735.

(2) A statement that the director has complied with all of the provisions of this article prior to the filing of the certificate.

(3) A request that judgment be entered against the liable person in the amount set forth in the certificate.

The clerk, immediately upon filing of the certificate, shall enter a judgment for the State of California against the liable person in the amount set forth in the certificate.

For purposes of this subdivison only, an overpayment is final and due and payable after one of the following:

(A) The liable person has not filed an appeal pursuant to Section 2737.

(B) The liable person has filed an appeal to the administrative law judge and a decision of an administrative law judge upholding the overpayment has become final.

(C) The liable person has filed an appeal to the appeals board and the decision of the appeals board upholding the overpayment has become final because the liable person has not sought judicial review within the six month period provided by Section 410.

(c) Reduce or vacate a summary judgment by filing a certificate to that affect with the clerk of the proper court.

(d) Offset the amount of the overpayment received by the liable person against any amount of disability benefits to which he or she may become entitled under this division within six years of the date of mailing or personal service of the notice of overpayment determination.

SEC. 10. Section 2739.1 is added to the Unemployment Insurance

Code, to read:

2739.1. An abstract of judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 2739, or a copy thereof, may be recorded with the county recorder of any county. From the time of recording, the judgment shall constitute a lien against all real or personal property of the liable person in that county owned by the liable person at the time, or which the liable person may afterwards, but before the lien expires, acquire. The lien shall have the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and shall continue for 10 years from the time of recording of the abstract of judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 2739, unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

The lien may, within 10 years from the date of recording of the abstract of judgment or within 10 years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner provided, be extended by recording a new abstract in the office of the county recorder of any county. From the date of the recording, the lien shall be extended for 10 years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Execution shall issue upon the judgment upon request of the director in the same manner as execution may issue upon other judgments. Sales shall be held under the execution as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure. In all proceedings under this section, the director or his or her authorized agents may act on behalf of the state.

SEC. 11. Section 2739.2 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

2739.2. (a) If an abstract has been recorded as provided in Section 2739.1 and the lien, including any interest, costs, and penalty has been satisfied in full, the department shall, pursuant to Section 724.050 of the Code of Civil Procedure do all of the following:

(1) File an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment with the court.

(2) Serve an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment on the claimant. Service shall be made personally or by mail.

(3) Record an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment in the office of the county recorder where the abstract of judgment is recorded.

(b) If an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment is recorded, the cost of recording shall be an obligation of the claimant and may be collected from the claimant in any manner provided by law for the collection of the benefit overpayment.

(c) If payment is made by check, any action specified in subdivision (a) shall not be required until the check has been paid by the financial institution upon which it was drawn.

SEC. 12. Section 2742 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

2742. The director shall enforce collection of any judgment obtained by him or her under subdivision (a) or subdivision (b), or both, of Section 2739. Amounts collected under this section shall be deposited in the fund from which the overpayment was made.

CHAPTER 1011

An act relating to the Department of Food and Agriculture, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of two million three hundred thousand dollars ($2,300,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Food and Agriculture for continued construction of the Veterinary Laboratory Conversion Project in Sacramento.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to permit continued construction of the urgently needed Veterinary Laboratory Conversion Project in Sacramento, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1012

An act to amend Section 667.5 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 667.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

667.5. Enhancement of prison terms for new offenses because of prior prison terms shall be imposed as follows:

(a) Where one of the new offenses is one of the violent felonies specified in subdivision (c), in addition and consecutive to any other prison terms therefor, the court shall impose a three-year term for each prior separate prison term served by the defendant where the prior was one of the violent felonies specified in subdivision (c); provided that no additional term shall be imposed under this subdivision for any prison term served prior to a period of 10 years in which the defendant remained free of both prison custody and the commission of an offense which results in a felony conviction.

(b) Except where subdivision (a) applies, where the new offense is any felony for which a prison sentence is imposed, in addition and consecutive to any other prison terms therefor, the court shall impose a one-year term for each prior separate prison term served for any felony; provided that no additional term shall be imposed under this subdivision for any prison term served prior to a period of five years in which the defendant remained free of both prison custody and the commission of an offense which results in a felony conviction.

(c) For the purpose of this section, "violent felony" shall mean any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter.

(2) Mayhem.

(3) Rape as defined in subdivision (2) of Section 261.

(4) Sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person.

(5) Oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person.

(6) Lewd acts on a child under 14 as defined in Section 288.

(7) Any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life.

(8) Any felony in which the defendant inflicts great bodily injury on any person other than an accomplice which has been charged and proved as provided for in Section 12022.7 or 12022.9 on or after July 1, 1977, or as specified prior to July 1, 1977, in Sections 213, 264, and 461, or any felony in which the defendant uses a firearm which use has been charged and proved as provided in Section 12022.5 or 12022.55.

(9) Any robbery perpetrated in an inhabited dwelling house or trailer coach, as defined in the Vehicle Code, or in the inhabited portion of any other building, wherein it is charged and proved that the defendant personally used a deadly or dangerous weapon, as provided in subdivision (b) of Section 12022, in the commission of that robbery.

(10) Arson, in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 451.

(11) The offense defined in subdivision (a) of Section 289 where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person.

(12) Attempted murder.

The Legislature finds and declares that these specified crimes merit special consideration when imposing a sentence to display society's condemnation for such extraordinary crimes of violence against the person.

(d) For the purposes of this section the defendant shall be deemed to remain in prison custody for an offense until the official discharge from custody or until release on parole whichever first occurs including any time during which the defendant remains subject to reimprisonment for escape from custody or is reimprisoned on revocation of parole. The additional penalties provided for prior prison terms shall not be imposed unless they are charged and admitted or found true in the action for the new offense.

(e) The additional penalties provided for prior prison terms shall not be imposed for any felony for which the defendant did not serve a prior separate term in state prison.

(f) A prior conviction of a felony shall include a conviction in another jurisdiction for an offense which if committed in California is punishable by imprisonment in state prison if the defendant served one year or more in prison for the offense in the other jurisdiction. A prior conviction of a particular felony shall include a conviction in another jurisdiction for an offense which includes all of the elements of the particular felony as defined under California law if the defendant served one year or more in prison for the offense in the other jurisdiction.

(g) A prior separate prison term for the purposes of this section shall mean a continuous completed period of prison incarceration imposed for the particular offense alone or in combination with concurrent or consecutive sentences for other crimes, including any reimprisonment on revocation of parole which is not accompanied by a new commitment to prison, and including any reimprisonment after an escape from incarceration.

(h) Serving a prison term includes any confinement time in any state prison or federal penal institution as punishment for commission of an offense, including confinement in a hospital or other institution or facility credited as service of prison time in the jurisdiction of the confinement.

(i) For the purposes of this section, a commitment to the State Department of Health as a mentally disordered sex offender following a conviction of a felony, which commitment exceeds one year in duration, shall be deemed a prior prison term.

(j) For the purposes of this section, when a person subject to the custody, control, and discipline of the Director of Corrections is incarcerated at a facility operated by the Youth Authority, that incarceration shall be deemed to be a term served in state prison.

(k) Notwithstanding subdivisions (d) and (g) or any other provision of law, where one of the new offenses is committed while the defendant is temporarily removed from prison pursuant to Section 2690 or while the defendant is transferred to a community facility pursuant to Section 3416, 6253, or 6263, or while the defendant is on furlough pursuant to Section 6254, the defendant shall be subject to the full enhancements provided for in this section.

This subdivision shall not apply when a full, separate, and consecutive term is imposed pursuant to any other provision of law.

An act to amend Section 9392 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to elderly persons.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9392 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

9392. In order to select the contractors pursuant to Section 9390, the department shall seek proposals through the development of a request for proposal. During the 1984–85 fiscal year, the department shall contract with no more than 10 nonprofit organizations or governmental entities. Expansion beyond the 1984–85 fiscal year limits shall be subject to subsequent administrative action and budget appropriations. The department shall contract with nonprofit organizations or governmental entities to arrange for the provision of services under subdivisions (a) to (d), inclusive, of Section 9390.

A copy of each completed request for a proposal shall be filed by the applicant with either the applicant's local adult day health care planning council or a specified local long-term care planning council, for review and comment. Each local area agency on aging shall receive timely notice of all grants awarded pursuant to this chapter.

CHAPTER 1014

An act to add Sections 741.2, 741.3, and 742.5 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to telephones.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 741.2 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

741.2. (a) No nonpublic utility provider of telephone services, including, but not limited to, a hotel, motel, hospital, university, or similar place of temporary accommodation owning or operating message switching or billing equipment solely for the purpose of reselling services provided by a telephone corporation to its patients or guests is required to file or maintain tariff schedules.

(b) No such nonpublic utility provider of telephone services which provides service to hospital patients may charge more for any nontoll telephone call than the maximum rate of charge authorized by the commission for a nontoll call placed from a coin-activated telephone owned or operated by other than a telephone corporation plus twenty-five cents ($0.25).

(c) No such nonpublic utility provider of telephone services which provides service to hospital patients may charge more for any toll telephone call than the sum of all of the following:

(1) The applicable tariff rate or charge of the telephone corporation whose service is resold for that telephone call.

(2) The surcharge or surcharges, if any, applicable to that call if placed from a coin-activated telephone owned or operated by the telephone corporation within whose service area the nonpublic utility provider of telephone services is located, unless that surcharge is included in the tariff rate or charge for that call.

(3) Twenty-five cents ($0.25).

(d) No such nonpublic utility provider of telephone services may make any charge for any uncompleted telephone call unless notice pursuant to subdivision (e) is provided specifying the circumstances under which a charge will be made for an uncompleted call.

(e) Every telephone corporation shall, as a part of an agreement with a nonpublic utility provider of telephone services for the resale of its telephone services, require that there be displayed or posted on or near the telephone equipment so as to be easily seen by telephone users a notice of all of the following:

(1) The charges applicable to all of the available telephone services.

(2) That these charges are consistent with this section, if applicable.

(3) The telephone number of the Consumer Affairs Division of the commission to which questions or complaints may be directed.

(f) Subdivision (e) does not require separate notices for multiple or extension telephones having the same telephone extension number.

(g) This section does not require any such nonpublic utility provider of telephone services to make any charge for the furnishing of any telephone service, and this section does not apply to any such provider that makes no charge for telephone services furnished. This section does not constitute any such provider a telephone corporation or otherwise subject it to regulation by the commission as a public utility.

SEC. 2. Section 741.3 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

741.3. The commission shall, by rule or order, adopt and enforce operating requirements applicable to operator-assisted telephone services, whether furnished by a telephone corporation or other than a telephone corporation, for nonpublic utility providers of telephone services, including, but not limited to, hotels, motels, hospitals, universities, and similar places of temporary accommodation owning or operating message switching or billing equipment solely for the purpose of reselling services provided by a telephone corporation to its patients or guests. These operating requirements shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(a) That there be displayed or posted on or near the telephone equipment so as to be easily seen by telephone users a notice stating the identity of the nonpublic utility provider of the telephone services; the method for obtaining the rates, terms, or conditions of operator-assisted services; the operator-assisted services provider's procedures for handling complaints; the means by which the telephone user may gain access to other providers of operator-assisted services; and the means by which the telephone user may gain access to the services of the telephone corporation operating within the service area within which the telephone services of the nonpublic utility provider are furnished. The notice shall also provide the telephone number of the Consumer Affairs Division of the commission to which questions or complaints may be directed.

(b) That, when contacted for service by the telephone user, the operator-assisted services provider orally identify itself by name prior to the connection of the telephone call or the commencement of any charges.

(c) That the telephone equipment permit access by the telephone user to any other provider of operator-assisted services generally available in the service area.

(d) Any other operating requirement determined necessary and in the public interest by the commission.

SEC. 3. Section 742.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

742.5. (a) No telephone corporation which operates within a service area shall provide billing and collection services for either of the following:

(1) Any telephone corporation which has not obtained a certificate of public convenience and necessity but is required to do so.

(2) Any person or corporation providing billing and collection services for any telephone corporation which has not obtained a certificate of public convenience and necessity but is required to do so.

(b) Subdivision (a) does not prohibit a telephone corporation operating within a service area from providing billing and collection services for a provider of enhanced service, as defined by Section 64.702 of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(c) No telephone corporation which provides billing and collection services for any call placed by a subscriber of the telephone corporation from a coin-activated telephone available for public use owned or operated by other than a telephone corporation shall transmit any charge which is in excess of the maximum tariff rate or charge for that call placed from that telephone, as determined by the commission. Any reasonable cost incurred by the telephone corporation in verifying any such charge may be included in the fees or charges for conducting the billing and collection services. The commission shall adopt rules and procedures for the implementation of this subdivision.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 52314 and 52314.6 of the Education Code, relating to regional occupational centers and programs, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature emphasizes that the primary reason for authorizing the admission of pupils under the age of 16 years in regional occupational centers or programs is to motivate those pupils to remain in school.

SEC. 2. Section 52314 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52314. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), any pupil eligible to attend a high school or adult school in a school district subject to the jurisdiction of a county superintendent of schools operating a regional occupational center or regional occupational program, and who resides in a school district which by itself or in cooperation with other school districts, has not established a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, is eligible to attend a regional occupational center or regional occupational program maintained by the county superintendent of schools. Any school district which in cooperation with other school districts maintains a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, or any such cooperating school districts may admit to the center, or program, any pupil, otherwise eligible, who resides in the district or in any of the cooperating districts. Any school district which by itself maintains a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, may admit to the center, or program, any pupil, otherwise eligible, who resides in the district. No pupil, including adults under Section 52610 shall be admitted to a regional occupational center, or regional occupational program, unless the county superintendent of schools or governing board of the district or districts maintaining the center, or program, as the case may be, determines that the pupil will benefit therefrom and approves of his or her admission to the regional occupational center or regional occupational program.

A pupil may be admitted on a full-time or part-time basis, as determined by the county superintendent of schools or governing board of the school district or districts maintaining the center, or program, as the case may be.

A county superintendent of schools maintaining a regional occupational program or regional occupational center may admit pupils residing in the county but outside of school districts participating in the county regional occupational program or regional occupational center pursuant to the provisions of Section 46617.5. The county superintendent of schools may authorize pupils who reside in school districts participating in the regional occupational center or regional occupational program conducted by the county superintendent of schools to enroll in other regional occupational programs or regional occupational centers when it is determined that it is in the best interest of the pupils to do so. This attendance shall be pursuant to an attendance agreement specifying that the county superintendent of schools authorizes the regional occupational center or regional occupational program conducting the classes to report the average daily attendance in the classes to the district of residence for the purpose of receiving state apportionments and determining the revenue limit. The agreements shall specify that the district of residence shall pay the regional occupational program or regional occupational center the actual cost per unit of average daily attendance.

(b) No pupil shall be eligible to be admitted to a regional occupational center or program, nor may his or her attendance be credited to a regional occupational center or program, until he or she has attained the age of 16 years, unless the pupil meets one or more of the following conditions:

(1) The pupil is enrolled in grade 11 or a higher grade.

(2) The pupil received a referral and:

(A) The pupil is referred to a regional occupational center or program by a school counselor, school administrator, or classroom teacher. The referral shall include a written statement of the reasons why the pupil's educational needs cannot be met without the pupil being enrolled in a regional occupational center or program.

Pupils under 16 years of age eligible for enrollment in regional occupational centers and programs under this paragraph include, but are not necessarily limited to, pupils for whom there is a high probability that they will leave school prior to graduation.

(B) The referral is reviewed and approved by the principal of the school in which the pupil is enrolled.

(C) The referral is reviewed and approved by the director of the regional occupational center or program to which the pupil has been referred.

(D) The pupil is enrolled in a high school, which, for purposes of this requirement, means a school that maintains any of grades 9 to 12, inclusive.

(3) The pupil's individualized education program adopted pursuant to the requirements of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 56300) of Part 30 prescribes occupational training for which his or her enrollment in a regional occupational center or program is deemed appropriate.

(c) Each school district, county superintendent of schools, or joint powers agency which maintains a regional occupational center or regional occupational program shall submit to the State Department of Education, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the enrollment and average daily attendance for each grade level and the enrollment and average daily attendance for each exemption set forth in subdivision (b).

The State Department of Education shall submit this information to the Legislature and to the Director of Finance by April 1 of each year for the preceding school year.

SEC. 3. Section 52314.6 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52314.6. The average daily attendance claimed for pupils enrolled in a regional occupational center or program pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 52314 shall not exceed 3 percent of the average daily attendance funded in the prior year for the center or program, or the following amount, whichever is greater:

(1) Divide the enrollment of pupils under the age of 16 years in the regional occupational center or program in the 1982–83 fiscal year by three.

(2) Multiply the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (1) by 0.25.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure continuity of programs for the next school year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1016

An act to amend Section 14005.9 of, and to amend, repeal and add Section 14005.8 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14005.8 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005.8. (a) To the extent required by federal law, families who have at any time ceased to receive public assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program solely due to the expiration of the provision which permits thirty dollars ($30) plus one-third of an individual's income to be disregarded when determining eligibility shall remain eligible for health care services under Section 14005.1 for a period of nine months.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until April 1, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before April 1, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 14005.8 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14005.8. (a) (1) To the extent required by subchapter XIX (commencing with Section 1396) of Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, a family who was receiving aid pursuant to a state plan approved under Part A of Subchapter IV (commencing with Section 601) of Title 42 of the United States Code in at least three of the six months immediately preceding the month in which that family became ineligible for that assistance due to increased hours of employment, income from employment, or the loss of earned income disregards, shall remain eligible for health care services as provided in this chapter during the immediately succeeding six-month period.

(2) The department shall terminate extensions of health care services authorized by paragraph (1) as required under federal law.

(b) The department shall notify persons eligible under subdivision (a) of their right to continued health care services for each six-month period and a description of their reporting requirement, and the circumstances under which the extension may be terminated. The notice shall also include a Medi-Cal card or other evidence of entitlement to those services.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the department, in conformance with federal law, shall offer beneficiaries covered under subdivision (a) the option of remaining eligible for health care services provided in this chapter for an additional extension period of six months. Health services shall be continued in as automatic a manner as permitted by federal law, and without any unnecessary paperwork.

(d) During the initial extension period and any additional six-month extension period, the department, consistent with federal law, may, whenever the department determines it to be cost-effective, elect to pay a family's expenses for premiums, deductibles, coinsurance, or similar costs for health insurance or other health coverage offered by an employer of the caretaker relative or by an employer of the absent parent of the dependent child. If, during the additional six-month extension period, the department elects to pay health premiums and this coverage exists, the beneficiary may be given the opportunity to express his or her preference between continuing the Medi-Cal coverage or obtaining health insurance.

(e) During the additional six-month extension period, the department may impose a premium for the health insurance or other health coverage consistent with Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) if the department determines that the imposition of a premium is cost-effective.

(f) The department shall adopt emergency regulations in order to comply with mandatory provisions of Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 1396 et seq.) for extension of medical assistance. These regulations shall become effective immediately upon filing with the Secretary of State.

(g) This section shall become operative April 1, 1990.

SEC. 3. Section 14005.9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14005.9. (a) Share of cost shall be determined on a monthly basis. No person or family shall be required to incur more than one month's share of cost prior to being certified as specified in Section 14018.

(b) For persons in long-term care, any income exempted under Sections 14005.4 and 14005.7 shall be considered in the share-of-cost determination to the extent required by federal law or regulations.

(c) Once the beneficiary has incurred expenses for Medicare and other health insurance deductibles or coinsurance charges and necessary medical and remedial services that are not subject to payment by a third party and which equal or exceed his or her share of cost, the individual is entitled to receive health care services pursuant to Section 14005 if all other applicable conditions of eligibility under this chapter are met.

SEC. 4. Prior to the hearings on the 1990–91 Governor's Budget, the State Department of Health Services shall report to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, the Senate Committee on Appropriations, the Senate Committee on Health and Human Services, the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means, and the Assembly Committee on Health on the implementation of this act. The department's report shall explain in detail how, and under what circumstances, families are eligible for extended health care coverage through options which "buy into" health care insurance available through an employer. If the department has not implemented these options, it shall explain the reasons for its decision.

CHAPTER 1017

An act to amend Section 6924 of the Public Resources Code, relating to geothermal resources.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6924 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

6924. Where the surface of state-owned lands sought for use or development of geothermal resources or the waters thereon are under the jurisdiction of a state department or agency other than the commission, the commission may issue permits or leases under this article only with the consent of and subject to such reasonable terms and conditions as may be prescribed by that other department or agency to ensure the adequate utilization of the surface of the lands or the waters thereon for the purposes for which they are then being administered or for which they were acquired. The other department or agency shall not prescribe any terms and provisions inconsistent with this article.

Notwithstanding Section 6217, as of June 30th of each year, a sum that is 50 percent of the revenue received by the state for the fiscal year ending on that June 30th, pursuant to leases for the development of geothermal resources on the surface of lands under the jurisdiction of that state department or agency, shall be available for appropriation by the Legislature solely for the programs of that state department or agency.

CHAPTER 1018

An act relating to local agencies, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. By the enactment of Chapter 374, of the Statutes of 1988, the Legislature did the following:

(a) Found and declared that there is a need to automate the reporting process which requires the officer of each local agency who has charge of the financial records to annually file a report of all the financial transactions of the local agency with the Controller.

(b) Required the Controller to conduct a feasibility study for special districts to do the following:

(1) Determine the capability of special districts to submit their financial transactions report using some form of electronic media.

(2) Analyze present practices and procedures.

(3) Identify problems, needs, and objectives.

(4) Identify alternate solutions.

(5) Produce as an end product, a feasibility study report following Department of Finance guidelines to be completed and submitted to the Legislature by March 31, 1989.

(c) Appropriated the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) from the General Fund to the Controller to conduct the feasibility study and produce the feasibility study report.

SEC. 2. The Controller's Feasibility Study Report, approved by the Department of Finance, indicates the following:

(a) It is feasible for a significant number of the reports of the annual financial transactions of special districts to be submitted to the Controller by electronic media.

(b) Approximately 51 percent of the special districts of California have expressed a desire to submit their annual financial transactions report to the Controller by electronic media.

(c) An electronic data processing system for receiving and processing special district financial reports submitted to the Controller by electronic media could be developed.

SEC. 3. The Controller shall develop and implement an electronic data processing system which will allow special districts the option of submitting their annual reports of financial transactions to the Controller by electronic media.

SEC. 4. The sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Controller for the purposes of this act.

CHAPTER 1019

An act to amend Sections 19567, 19611.5, 19614.2, and 19616 of, to add Sections 19596.2, 19617.2, and 19617.4 to, and to repeal and add Section 19617 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to horseracing.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19567 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19567. (a) Since the purpose of this chapter is to encourage agriculture and the breeding of horses in this state, a sum equal to 10 percent of the first money of every purse won by a California-bred horse at a horserace meeting shall be paid by the licensee conducting the meeting to the breeder of the animal. This section shall apply to any California-bred standardbred horse that is foaled on or after the first day of November 1977 for all races, except the California standardbred sires stakes races.

(b) This section does not apply to thoroughbred horses or thoroughbred racing.

SEC. 2. Section 19596.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19596.2. (a) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 19596.5 or paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 19596.6, or any other provision of law, of the amounts deducted from wagers at satellite wagering facilities pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 19596.5 and subdivision (d) of Section 19596.6 on thoroughbred meetings or thoroughbred races at mixed breed or fair meetings, four-tenths of 1 percent shall be deposited with the official registering agency for distribution pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2, and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (d) of Section 19596.5 or subdivision (e) of Section 19596.6, on thoroughbred meetings only, the funds remaining after distribution of the amounts set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 19596.5 or subdivision (d) of Section 19596.6 shall be distributed 50 percent as commissions to the racing association which conducts the racing meeting and 50 percent as purses to horsemen participating in the racing meeting without exception as to payment for owners' premiums.

SEC. 3. Section 19611.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19611.5. (a) In addition to the amounts otherwise deducted pursuant to this chapter, every association other than the California State Fair and Exposition or a district or county fair which conducts a thoroughbred race meeting may deduct from the total amount handled in daily double, quiniela, exacta, and other multiple wagering pools approved by the board up to 3 percent thereof to be distributed as commissions and purses in the following percentage ratios: in 1978, 56 percent as commissions and 44 percent as purses; in 1979, 55 percent as commissions and 45 percent as purses; in 1980,

54 percent as commissions and 46 percent as purses; in 1981, 53 percent as commissions and 47 percent as purses; in 1982, 52 percent as commissions and 48 percent as purses; in 1983, 51 percent as commissions and 49 percent as purses; and in 1984 and thereafter, 50 percent as commissions and 50 percent as purses.

(b) From the amount deducted for thoroughbred purses under subdivision (a), a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2, and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

(c) At least 30 days prior to the commencement of its meeting, the association shall file with the board a statement of the additional deduction to be made pursuant to subdivision (a). Except with the consent of the board, the amount of the deduction shall not be changed during the course of the meeting.

SEC. 4. Section 19614.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19614.2. (a) In addition to the amounts otherwise deducted pursuant to this chapter, the California Exposition and State Fair, or a district or county fair, or an association conducting its meeting pursuant to Section 19549.1, may deduct from the total amount handled in daily double, quiniela, exacta, and other multiple wagering pools approved by the board up to 3 percent thereof to be distributed as additional commissions and purses in the current year of the fair meet. Of the amount deducted, if any, 52 percent shall be distributed as additional purses and 48 percent shall be distributed as additional commissions. For racing meetings conducted pursuant to Section 19549.3, of the amounts deducted, if any, 50 percent shall be distributed as purses and 50 percent shall be distributed as commissions.

(b) At least 30 days prior to the commencement of its meeting, the association shall file with the board a statement of the additional deduction to be made pursuant to subdivision (a). Except with the consent of the board, the amount of the deduction shall not be changed during the course of the meeting.

(c) From the amount deducted for thoroughbred purses under subdivision (a), a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2, and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

(d) From the amount deducted for quarter horse purses under subdivision (a), a sum equal to 25 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be paid as owners' premiums for California-breds winning or placing at the meeting. The premiums shall be distributed within 30 days of the date on which the funds are received by the officially recognized organization designated to administer this subdivision on a prorated percentage basis of first and second place moneys earned to persons owning California-bred quarter horses at the time of their wins or places in races having a total purse value equal to or in excess of the average purse value for races, other than stakes races, won by California-bred horses during the previous year.

The board shall designate the officially recognized organizations representing quarter horse horsemen to administer this subdivision and to distribute premiums.

The organization may, with the approval of the board, make a deduction for expenses not to exceed 10 percent of the total awards fund.

(e) From the amount deducted for Appaloosa and Arabian horse purses under subdivision (a), a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be paid as owner's premiums for California-breds winning at the meeting. The premiums shall be distributed within 30 days of the close of the meeting on a prorated percentage basis of first moneys earned to persons owning California-bred Appaloosa and Arabian horses at the time of their wins in races having a total purse value in excess of the average purse value for races, other than stakes races, won by California-bred horses during the previous year. The board shall designate the officially recognized organization representing Appaloosa and Arabian horsemen to administer this subdivision and to distribute premiums. The organization may, with the approval of the board, make a deduction for expenses not to exceed 5 percent of the total awards fund.

SEC. 5. Section 19616 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19616. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, wagers on out-of-state feature races conducted pursuant to Section 19596 shall be placed in a separate parimutuel pool or pools and shall be distributed as provided by this section.

(b) Each association accepting wagers on an out-of-state feature race shall deduct a percentage of the amount handled in its conventional and exotic parimutuel pools which is equal to the percentage deducted from the amount handled by the association in its parimutuel pools at its racing meeting.

(c) Each association shall pay a state license fee at the rate or rates applicable to the races of the association's racing program for the day on which the out-of-state feature race is offered. In the event that the association does not conduct a regular racing program on that day of the meeting, the state license fee shall be paid at the rate or rates applicable to the most immediate prior day of the racing program.

(d) Breakage and unclaimed tickets on out-of-state feature races shall be distributed 50 percent as commissions and 50 percent as purses.

(e) The amount remaining from the deduction under subdivision (b), after payment of the state license fee and the contractual payment to the out-of-state host racing association, shall be distributed 50 percent as commissions and 50 percent as purses.

(f) From the amount distributed under subdivision (e) for quarter horse and Appaloosa purses, a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be paid as owners' premiums for California-breds winning at the meeting. The sum shall be deposited within 10 days of the close of the meeting with the officially recognized organizations representing the respective breeds. After deduction of expenses, not to exceed 5 percent, and approval of all the deductions by the board, the fund shall be distributed on a prorated percentage basis of first moneys earned to persons owning California-bred racehorses at the time of their wins in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of Section 19612.2 and subdivision (c) of Section 19617.

(g) From the amount distributed for thoroughbred purses under subdivision (e), a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2, and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

SEC. 5.5. Section 19616 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

19616. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, wagers accepted on out-of-state feature races pursuant to Section 19596, but not included in the parimutuel pool or pools if the entity conducting the out-of-state racing, shall be placed in a separate parimutuel pool or pools and shall be distributed as provided by this section.

(b) Each association accepting wagers on an out-of-state feature race shall deduct a percentage of the amount handled in its conventional and exotic parimutuel pools which is equal to the percentage deducted from the amount handled by the association in its parimutuel pools at its racing meeting.

(c) Each association shall pay a state license fee at the rate or rates applicable to the races of the association's racing program for the day on which the out-of-state feature race is offered. If the association does not conduct a regular racing program on that day of the meeting, the state license fee shall be paid at the rate or rates applicable to the most immediate prior day of the racing program.

(d) Breakage and unclaimed tickets on out-of-state feature races shall be distributed 50 percent as commissions and 50 percent as purses.

(e) The amount remaining from the deduction under subdivision (b), after payment of the state license fee and the contractual payment to the out-of-state host racing association, shall be distributed 50 percent as commissions and 50 percent as purses.

(f) From the amount distributed under subdivision (e) for quarter horse and Appaloosa purses, a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be paid as owners' premiums for California-breds winning at the meeting. The sum shall be deposited within 10 days of the close of the meeting with the officially recognized organizations representing the respective breeds. After deduction of expenses, not to exceed 5 percent, and approval of all the deductions by the board, the fund shall be distributed on a prorated percentage basis of first moneys earned to persons owning California-bred racehorses at the time of their wins in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 19612.2 and subdivision (c) of Section 19617.

(g) From the amount distributed for thoroughbred purses under subdivision (e), a sum equal to 13.33 percent thereof shall be held by the association to be deposited with the official registering agency pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2, and shall thereafter be distributed in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

SEC. 6. Section 19617 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 19617 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19617. The following definitions shall govern the construction of this chapter:

(a) "Breeder" means a person who is registered as a breeder of a California-bred thoroughbred with the official registering agency and is named on the applicable Certificate of Registration issued by the Jockey Club of New York.

(b) "Qualifying race" means the following:

(1) In the case of breeder awards, all races in this state, and all graded stakes races conducted within the United States.

(2) In the case of owner premiums, all nonclaiming races and certain claiming races conducted in this state.

(3) In the case of stallion awards, all nonclaiming races, and certain claiming races conducted in this state, and all graded stakes races conducted within the United States.

(4) "Certain claiming races" means those claiming races in the central and southern zone in which the total purse exceeds the daily average purse in races, excluding stakes, distributed at that meeting during the prior year, or a claiming race in the northern zone in which the total purse exceeds 125 percent of the daily average purse in races, excluding stakes, distributed at that meeting during the prior year. In determining whether a race complies with this definition, the official registering agency shall base its determination on the actual amount of the purse at the time the race was conducted and shall not take into consideration any postrace adjustments to that purse.

(c) "Eligible earnings" means the following:

(1) In the case of breeder awards, the annual amount earned by a California-bred thoroughbred for finishing first, second, or third in qualifying races.

(2) In the case of owner premiums, the annual amount earned by a California-bred thoroughbred for winning qualifying races.

(3) In order for earnings from a qualifying race to be considered as eligible earnings, a California-bred thoroughbred shall be registered as such with the official registering agency before the date entries were taken by the association for the qualifying race in which that horse earned purse money.

(4) In the case of stallion awards, the annual amount earned by California-conceived or California-bred foals of an eligible thoroughbred sire in winning qualifying races plus the amount earned by those foals for finishing second or third in a stakes race in this state and for finishing first, second, or third in a graded stakes race within the United States.

(5) For purposes of this paragraph, the maximum purse considered earned in any qualifying race within this state shall be three hundred thirty thousand dollars ($330,000) for a win, one hundred twenty thousand dollars ($120,000) for a second, and ninety thousand dollars ($90,000) for a third place finish and the maximum purse considered earned in any qualifying race outside of this state shall be one hundred sixty-five thousand dollars ($165,000) for a win, sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for a second, and forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000) for a third place finish.

(6) In determining the purse earned in any qualifying race which is a stakes race, the amount earned shall be based solely on the added money, with no consideration to be given to other sources of the purse, such as nomination, entry, or starting fees, bonuses, and sponsor contributions, or any combination thereof.

(7) On or before February 1 of any year, it is the ultimate responsibility of the stallion owner to advise the official registering agency of any and all purses earned during the preceding year that shall be considered in determining the amount of the stallion award to which the owner is entitled.

(8) On or before February 1 of any year, it is the ultimate responsibility of the breeder to advise the official registering agency of any and all purses earned during the preceding year in graded stakes races outside of this state by horses bred by breeder.

(d) "Eligible thoroughbred sire" means a thoroughbred stallion that was continuously present in this state from February 1 to July 15, inclusive, of the calendar year in which the qualifying race was conducted, and if the sire left this state after July 15 of the calendar year in which the qualifying race was conducted, the sire returned to and was present in this state by February 1 of the following calendar year and thereafter remained until July 15 of that year. If a sire dies in this state and stood his last season at stud in this state, he shall thereafter continue to be considered an eligible thoroughbred sire. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a thoroughbred stallion shall be considered an eligible thoroughbred sire only if its owner has filed a claim for stallion award on or before February 1 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year for which the awards are being distributed.

(e) "Official registering agency" means the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association.

(f) "Owner" means the person who is registered with the paymaster of purses on the date the qualifying race was conducted as the owner of the California-bred thoroughbred earning purse money in that race.

(g) "Quotient," for any fund, means the amount allocated to that fund pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 19617.2 divided by the aggregate eligible earnings of the horses applicable to that fund. In calculating the quotient for each of the funds, any retroactive purse payments with respect to a race shall not be considered after the disbursement of the fund.

(h) "Stallion owner" means the person who is the owner of the eligible thoroughbred sire as of December 31 of the calendar year in which that sire's foals had eligible earnings or the person who owned the eligible thoroughbred sire on the date that the sire died.

SEC. 8. Section 19617.2 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19617.2. (a) Any association conducting a race meeting which includes thoroughbred racing shall deposit with the official registering agency 0.34 percent of the total amount handled on-track, and 0.40 percent of the total amount handled off-track, in daily conventional and exotic parimutuel pools resulting from thoroughbred racing. These deposits shall be made at the following intervals:

(1) For any meeting of 20 racing days or less, the requisite deposit shall be made not later than seven days immediately following the last day of that meeting.

(2) For any meeting of more than 20 racing days, the initial deposit shall be made not later than 27 racing days after the commencement of that meeting and every 20 racing days thereafter, with a final deposit made not later than seven days following the last day of that meeting. The initial deposit for that meeting shall be based upon the applicable amount handled during the first 20 racing days of the meeting and deposits thereafter shall be based upon the applicable amount handled during the ensuing periods of 20 racing days with the last deposit being based upon the applicable amount handled from the end of the last 20-racing day period for which a deposit has been made to the end of the meeting.

(b) After deducting a sum equal to 5 percent of the total deposits made pursuant to subdivision (a) and the total deposits made pursuant to other provisions of this chapter, including Sections 19596.5, 19596.6, 19611.5, 19614.2, and 19616, the amount to compensate the official registering agency for its administrative cost and for expenses it incurs for educational, promotional, and research programs, the official registering agency shall for computational purposes distribute annually the balance of the deposits in the following manner:

(1) To the breeder fund, 55 percent from which breeder awards are to be paid.

(2) To the owner fund, 20 percent from which owner premiums are to be paid.

(3) To the stallion fund, 20 percent from which stallion awards are to be paid.

(4) Until January 1, 1992, to the California-bred race fund, 5 percent to be used for the promotion of California-bred races and from which purses are to be provided or supplemented for California-bred races, which fund shall be administered by the official registering agency. Any funds not so used during any year shall augment the owner fund of that year and be distributable therefrom. On and after January 1, 1992, that fund's share of the deposits shall be equally distributed among the funds provided under paragraph (2).

(c) The official registering agency shall make the following payments to the breeder, owner, and stallion owner so as to encourage agriculture and the breeding of higher quality horses in this state:

(1) The breeder shall be paid a breeder award equal to the quotient for the breeder fund multiplied by the eligible earnings of the horse bred by the breeder.

(2) The owner shall be paid an owner premium equal to the quotient for the owner fund multiplied by the eligible earnings of the horse he or she owns.

(3) The stallion owner shall be paid a stallion award equal to the quotient for the stallion fund multiplied by the eligible earnings of the stallion owner's eligible thoroughbred sire.

(4) The breeder awards, owner premiums, and stallion awards shall be paid not later than March 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year for which the awards or premiums were earned.

SEC. 9. Section 19617.4 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

19617.4. (a) The official registering agency shall invest the funds deposited with it, and the interest earned on those deposits shall be a part of the total deposits distributable under subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 19617.2.

(b) In the event there are insufficient funds to make the distributions described in Section 19617.2, there shall be no additional assessments made against any association or the state to fund the deficiencies.

(c) Any award or premium remaining uncollected for two consecutive years from that date of disbursement shall be deemed null and void. The official registering agency shall deposit the amount of the uncollected award or premium into the breeder fund existing at that time.

(d) Any dispute with respect to a breeder award, owner premium, or stallion award shall be decided by the official registering agency, which may demand and inspect any registration certificate or record, or require the submission of claims forms, affidavits, and declarations or make that inspection and require submissions of that information. The decision of the official registering agency shall be subject to review by the board pursuant to subdivision (e).

(e) A decision made by the official registering agency with respect to a breeder award, owner premium, or stallion award may be appealed to the board. The appeal shall be submitted in writing to the board in such manner and at such time as to permit the board, in the exercise of reasonable diligence, to determine the appeal prior to the time at which distribution of that award or premium is to be made. The board's decision on this matter shall be final and binding upon all parties.

(f) The official registering agency shall report annually to the board, which in turn shall report annually to the Governor and Legislature, with respect to the funds deposited pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19617.2.

SEC. 10. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the establishment of a day each year, on which a number of stakes races for California-bred thoroughbreds, conducted as the California Cup Day, is an event that should be undertaken as a pilot project to further promote the thoroughbred industry in this state. The Legislature understands that California Cup Day will be funded, in part, through the California-bred race fund, as well as from other traditional sources of purse money.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the California Horse Racing Board, through the exercise of its licensing power, shall cause an association in the central zone to provide a weekend day in October or November 1990, for California Cup Day and that the board shall cause the designated association to cooperate fully in the promotion of California Cup Day. After 1990, it is the further intent of the Legislature that the board cause an association in this state seeking a license to make a suitable weekend day available which will maximize the exposure of California Cup Day.

(c) The Legislature further finds and declares that the thoroughbred industry in this state will be enhanced by the California Horse Racing Board causing, to the extent practical, all satellite wagering facilities and operating associations in the state to simulcast and accept wagering on the races carded on California Cup Day.

SEC. 11. Section 5.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 19616 of the Business and Professions Code proposed by both this bill and AB 82. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 19616 of the Business and Professions Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 82, in which case Section 5 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1020

An act to amend Section 24400 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to excavations.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24400 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

24400. (a) Every person owning land in fee simple or in possession thereof under lease or contract of sale who knowingly permits the existence on the premises of any abandoned mining shaft, pit, well, septic tank, cesspool, or other abandoned excavation dangerous to persons legally on the premises, or to minors under the age of 12 years, who fails to cover, fill, or fence securely that dangerous abandoned excavation and keep it so protected, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Every person owning land in fee simple or in possession thereof under lease or contract of sale who knowingly permits the existence on the premises of any permanently inactive well, cathodic protection well, or monitoring well which constitutes a known or probable preferential pathway for the movement of pollutants, contaminants, or poor quality water, from above ground to below ground, or vertical movement of pollutants, contaminants, or poor quality water below ground, and that movement poses a threat to the quality of the waters of the state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Monitoring well" means the type of well defined by Section 13712 of the Water Code.

(2) "Cathodic protection well" means the type of well defined by Section 13711 of the Water Code.

(3) "Water well" means the type of well defined by Section 13710 of the Water Code.

(d) A "permanently inactive well" is a well which has not been used for a period of one year, unless the person owning land in fee simple or in possession thereof under lease or contract of sale demonstrates an intent for future use for water supply, ground water recharge, drainage, or ground water level control, heating or cooling, cathodic protection, ground water monitoring, or related uses. A well owner shall provide evidence to the county health officer of an intent for future use of an inactive well by maintaining the well in a way that the following requirements are met:

(1) The well shall not allow impairment of the quality of water within the well and ground water encountered by the well.

(2) The top of the well or well casing shall be provided with a cover, that is secured by a lock or by other means to prevent its removal without the use of equipment or tools, to prevent unauthorized access, to prevent a safety hazard to humans and animals, and to prevent illegal disposal of wastes in the well. The cover shall be watertight where the top of the well casing or other surface openings to the well are below ground level, such as in a vault or below known levels of flooding. The cover shall be watertight if the well is inactive for more than five consecutive years. A pump motor, angle drive, or other surface feature of a well, when in compliance with the above provisions, shall suffice as a cover.

(3) The well shall be marked so as to be easily visible and located, and labeled so as to be easily identified as a well.

(4) The area surrounding the well shall be kept clear of brush, debris, and waste materials.

(e) At a minimum, permanently inactive wells shall be destroyed in accordance with standards developed by the Department of Water Resources pursuant to Section 13800 of the Water Code and adopted by the State Water Resources Control Board or local agencies in accordance with Section 13801 of the Water Code. Minimum standards recommended by the department and adopted by the state board or local agencies for the abandonment or destruction of ground water monitoring wells or class 1 hazardous injection wells shall not be construed to limit, abridge, or supersede the powers or duties of the State Department of Health Services, in accordance with Section 13801 of the Water Code.

(f) Nothing in this section is a limitation on the power of a city, county, or city and county to adopt and enforce additional penal provisions regarding the types of wells and other excavations described in subdivisions (a) and (b).

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Moreover, no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 1812.201, 1812.203, 1812.206, 1812.209, 1812.210, 1812.214, and 1812.221 of the Civil Code, relating to marketing plans.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1812.201 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.201. For the purposes of this title, the following definitions shall be used:

(a) "Seller assisted marketing plan" means any sale or lease or offer to sell or lease any product, equipment, supplies or services which requires a total initial payment exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), but requires an initial cash payment of less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), which will aid a purchaser or will be used by or on behalf of the purchaser in connection with or incident to beginning, maintaining, or operating a business when the seller assisted marketing plan seller has advertised or in other manner solicited the purchase or lease of the seller assisted marketing plan and done any of the following acts:

(1) Represented that such purchaser will earn, is likely to earn, or can earn an amount in excess of the initial payment paid by the purchaser for participation in the seller assisted marketing plan;

(2) Represented that there is a market for the product, equipment, supplies, or services, or any product marketed by the user of the product, equipment supplies or services sold or leased or offered for sale or lease to the purchaser by the seller, or anything, be it tangible or intangible, made, produced, fabricated, grown, bred, modified, or developed by the purchaser using, in whole or in part, the product, supplies, equipment or services which were sold or leased or offered for sale or lease to the purchaser by the seller assisted marketing plan seller; or

(3) Represented that the seller will buy back or is likely to buy back any product made, produced, fabricated, grown or bred by the purchaser using, in whole or in part, the product, supplies, equipment or services which were initially sold or leased or offered for sale or lease to the purchaser by the seller assisted marketing plan seller.

(b) A "seller assisted marketing plan" shall not include:

(1) A security defined in the Corporate Securities Law of 1968 (Division 1 (commencing with Section 25000) of Title 4 of the Corporations Code) which has been qualified for sale by the California Department of Corporations, or is exempt under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 25100) of Part 2 of Division 1 of Title

4 of the Corporations Code from the necessity to qualify.

(2) A franchise defined by the Franchise Investment Law (Division 5 (commencing with Section 31000) of Title 4 of the Corporations Code) which is registered with the California Department of Corporations or is exempt under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 31100) of Part 2 of Division 5 of Title 4 of the Corporations Code from the necessity of registering.

(3) Any transaction in which either the seller or purchaser or the lessor or lessee is licensed pursuant to and the transaction is governed by the Real Estate Law, Division 4 (commencing with Section 10000) of the Business and Professions Code.

(4) A license granted by a general merchandise retailer which allows the licensee to sell goods, equipment, supplies, products, or services to the general public under the retailer's trademark, trade name or service mark if all of the following criteria are satisfied:

(A) The general merchandise retailer has been doing business in this state continually for five years prior to the granting of the license.

(B) The general merchandise retailer sells diverse kinds of goods, equipment, supplies, products, or services.

(C) The general merchandise retailer also sells the same goods, equipment, supplies, products or services directly to the general public.

(D) During the previous 12 months the general merchandise retailer's direct sales of the same goods, equipment, supplies, products or services to the public accounts for at least 50 percent of its yearly sales of these goods, equipment, supplies, products or services made under the retailer's trademark trade name or service mark.

(5) A newspaper distribution system distributing newspapers as defined in Section 6362 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(6) A sale or lease to an existing or beginning business enterprise which also sells or leases equipment, products, supplies or performs services which are not supplied by the seller, which the purchaser does not utilize with the equipment, products, supplies or services of the seller, and the equipment products, supplies or services not supplied by the seller account for more than 25 percent of the purchaser's gross sales.

(7) The sale in the entirety of an "ongoing business." An "ongoing business" is one which for at least six months previous to the sale: (i) has been operated from a given specific location, (ii) has been open for business to the general public and (iii) has had all equipment and supplies necessary for operating the business located at the given specific location. The sale shall be of the entire "ongoing business" and not merely a portion of the ongoing business.

(8) A sale or lease or offer to sell or lease to a purchaser: (i) who has for a period of at least six months previously bought products, supplies, services or equipment which were sold under the same trademark or trade name or which were produced by the seller; and (ii) who has received on resale of such product, supplies, services or equipment an amount which is at least equal to the amount of the initial payment.

(9) The renewal or extension of an existing seller assisted marketing plan contract.

(c) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, joint venture or any business entity.

(d) "Seller" is a person who sells or leases or offers to sell or lease a seller assisted marketing plan and:

(1) Has sold or leased or represents or implies that the seller has sold or leased, whether in California or elsewhere, at least five seller assisted marketing plans within 24 months prior to a solicitation; or

(2) Intends or represents or implies that the seller intends to sell or lease, whether in California or elsewhere, at least five seller assisted marketing plans within 12 months following a solicitation.

For purposes of this title, the seller is the person to whom the purchaser becomes contractually obligated. A "seller" does not include a licensed real estate broker or salesman who engages in the sale or lease of a "business opportunity" as such term is used in Sections 10000 to 10030, inclusive, of the Business and Professions Code, or elsewhere in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 10000), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 10050), or Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 10450) of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Business and Professions Code.

(e) "Purchaser" means a person who is solicited to become obligated or does become obligated on a seller assisted marketing plan contract.

(f) "Equipment" includes machines, all electrical devices, video or audio devices, molds, display racks, vending machines, coin operated game machines, machines which dispense products and display units of all kinds.

(g) "Supplies" includes any and all materials used to produce, grow, breed, fabricate, modify, develop or make any product or item.

(h) "Product" includes any tangible chattel, including food or living animals, which the purchaser intends to:

(1) Sell or lease.

(2) Use to perform a service.

(3) Resell or attempt to resell to the seller assisted marketing plan seller.

(4) Provide or attempt to provide to the seller assisted marketing plan seller or to any other person whom the seller suggests the purchaser contact so that the seller assisted marketing plan seller or such other person may assist, either directly or indirectly, the purchaser in distributing, selling, leasing, or otherwise disposing of the product.

(i) "Services" includes any assistance, guidance, direction, work, labor or services provided by the seller to initiate or maintain or assist in the initiation or maintenance of a business.

(j) "Seller assisted marketing plan contract" or "contract" means any contract or agreement which obligates a purchaser to a seller.

(k) "Initial payment" means the total amount a purchaser is obligated to pay under the terms of the seller assisted marketing plan contract prior to or at the time of delivery of the equipment, supplies, products or services or within six months of the purchaser commencing operation of the seller assisted marketing plan. If the contract sets forth a specific total sale price for purchase of the seller assisted marketing plan which total price is to be paid partially as a downpayment and then in specific monthly payments, the "initial payment" means the entire total sale price.

(l) "Initial cash payment" or "downpayment" means that portion of the initial payment which the purchaser is obligated to pay to the seller prior to or at the time of delivery of equipment, supplies, products, or services. It does not include any amount financed by or for which financing is to be obtained by the seller, or financing which the seller assists in obtaining.

(m) "Buy-back" or "secured investment" means any representation which implies in any manner that the purchaser's initial payment is protected from loss. Such terms include a representation or implication: (1) that the seller may repurchase either all or part of what it sold to the purchaser; or (2) that the seller may at some future time pay the purchaser the difference between what has been earned and the initial payment; or (3) that the seller may in the ordinary course buy from the purchaser items made, produced, fabricated, grown, bred, modified, or developed by the purchaser using, in whole or in part, the product, supplies, equipment, or services which were initially sold or leased to the purchaser by the seller; or (4) that the seller or a person to whom the seller will refer the purchaser may in the ordinary course sell, lease, or distribute the items the purchaser has for sale or lease.

SEC. 2. Section 1812.203 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.203. (a) The seller of any seller assisted marketing plan shall pay a fee in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) and file with the Attorney General a copy of the disclosure statements required under Sections 1812.205 and 1812.206, as well as a list of the names and resident addresses of those individuals who sell the seller assisted marketing plan on behalf of the seller, at least 30 days prior to placing any advertisement or making any other representations to prospective purchasers. The filing shall not be deemed to have occurred until a notice of filing has been issued by the Attorney General. The disclosure statements on file, except for the list of salespersons, shall be updated through a new filing and payment of a fee in the amount of thirty dollars ($30), whenever material changes occur during the year following the filing and shall submit all disclosure statements required by Sections 1812.205 and 1812.206 and a list of the names and residences of all current salespersons and all salespersons who have acted on behalf of the company since the previous filing. The renewal filing fee shall be one hundred dollars ($100). If an update is not filed at least annually, the filing shall be deemed to have lapsed and the seller shall be prohibited from placing any seller assisted marketing plan advertisements or making any other representations to prospective purchasers of seller assisted marketing plans.

(b) The Attorney General may send by certified mail to the address set forth in the seller assisted marketing plan filing an intent to issue a stop order denying the effectiveness of or suspending or revoking effectiveness of any registration if he or she finds the following:

(1) That there has been a failure to comply with any of the provisions of this title.

(2) That the offer or sale of the seller assisted marketing plan would constitute a misrepresentation to, or deceit of or fraud on the purchaser.

(3) That any person identified in the filing has been convicted of an offense under paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1812.206, or is subject to an order or has had a civil judgment entered against him or her as described in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 1812.206, and the involvement of that person in the sale or management of the seller assisted marketing plan creates an unreasonable risk to prospective purchasers.

(c) The notice referred shall include facts supporting a suspension or revocation. If the seller assisted marketing plan does not submit to the Attorney General, under penalties of perjury signed by an owner or officer of the seller assisted marketing plan, within 10 days of receipt of the intent to issue a stop order, a refutation of each and every supporting fact set forth in the notice, and each such fact not refuted shall be deemed, for purposes of issuance of the order, an admission that the fact is true. If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, and based upon supporting facts not refuted by the seller assisted marketing plan, the plan is offered to the public without compliance with the provisions of this title, the Attorney General may order the seller to desist and refrain from the further sale or attempted sale of the seller assisted marketing plan unless and until a notice of filing has been issued pursuant to this section. Until that time, the registration shall be void. The order shall be in effect until and unless the seller assisted marketing plan files a proceeding in superior court pursuant to Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure or seeks other judicial relief and serves a copy of the proceeding upon the Attorney General.

SEC. 3. Section 1812.206 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.206. At least 48 hours prior to the execution of a seller assisted marketing plan contract or agreement or at least 48 hours prior to the receipt of any consideration, whichever occurs first, the seller or his or her representative shall provide to the prospective purchaser in writing a document entitled "SELLER ASSISTED MARKETING PLAN INFORMATION SHEET." The seller may combine the information required under this section with the information required under Section 1812.205 and, if done, shall utilize the single title "DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY

CALIFORNIA LAW," and the title page required by Section 1812.205. If a combined document is used, it shall be given at the time required by Section 1812.205, provided that such time meets the 48-hour test of this section. The information sheet required by this section shall contain the following:

(a) The name of and the office held by the seller's officers, directors, trustees and general or limited partners, as the case may be, and the names of those individuals who have management responsibilities in connection with the seller's business activities.

(b) A statement whether any person identified in subdivision (a):

(1) Has been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor or pleaded nolo contendere to a felony or misdemeanor charge if such felony or misdemeanor involved an alleged violation of this title, fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion or misappropriation of property.

(2) Has been held liable in a civil action by final judgment or consented to the entry of a stipulated judgment if the civil action alleged a violation of this title, fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion or misappropriation of property or the use of untrue or misleading representations in an attempt to sell or dispose of real or personal property or the use of unfair, unlawful or deceptive business practices.

(3) Is subject to any currently effective injunction or restrictive order relating to business activity as the result of an action brought by a public agency or department, including, but not limited to, action affecting any vocational license.

The statements required by paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) of this subdivision shall set forth the court, the docket number of the matter, the date of the conviction or of the judgment and, when involved, the name of the governmental agency that brought the action resulting in the conviction or judgment.

(4) Has at any time during the previous seven fiscal years filed in bankruptcy, been adjudged a bankrupt, been reorganized due to insolvency, or been a principal, director, officer, trustee, general or limited partner, or had management responsibilities of any other person, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1812.201, that has so filed or was so adjudicated or reorganized, during or within one year after the period that the individual held such position. If so, the name and location of the person having so filed, or having been so adjudged or reorganized, the date thereof, the court which exercised jurisdiction, and the docket number of the matter shall be set forth.

(c) The length of time the seller:

(1) Has sold seller assisted marketing plans.

(2) Has sold the specific seller assisted marketing plan being offered to the purchaser.

(d) If the seller is required to secure a bond or establish a trust account pursuant to the requirements of Section 1812.204, the information sheet shall state either:

(1) "Seller has secured a bond issued by

(name and address of surety company)

a surety company admitted to do business in this state. Before signing a contract to purchase this seller assisted marketing plan, you should check with the surety company to determine the bond's current status," or

(2) "Seller has deposited with the office of the Attorney General information regarding its trust account. Before signing a contract to purchase this seller assisted marketing plan, you should check with the Attorney General to determine the current status of the trust account."

(e) A copy of a recent, not more than 12 months old, financial statement of the seller, together with a statement of any material changes in the financial condition of the seller from the date thereof. Such financial statement shall either be audited or be under penalty of perjury signed by one of the seller's officers, directors, trustees or general or limited partners. The declaration under penalty of perjury shall indicate that to the best of the signatory's knowledge and belief the information in the financial statement is true and accurate; the date of signature and the location where signed shall also be indicated Provided, however, that where a seller is a subsidiary of another corporation which is permitted by generally accepted accounting standards to prepare financial statements on a consolidated basis, the above information may be submitted in the same manner for the parent if the corresponding financial statement of the seller is also provided and the parent absolutely and irrevocably has agreed to guarantee all obligations of the seller.

(f) An unexecuted copy of the entire seller assisted marketing plan contract.

SEC. 4. Section 1812.209 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.209. Every seller assisted marketing plan contract shall set forth in at least 10-point type or equivalent size if handwritten, all of the following:

(a) The terms and conditions of payment including the initial payment, additional payments, and downpayment required. If the contract provides for the seller to receive more than 20 percent of the initial payment before delivery to the purchaser of the equipment, supplies or products or services to be furnished under the terms of the contract, the contract shall clearly set forth for the escrow account established pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1812.210 and the name and address of the escrow account holder, as well as the institution, branch, and account number of the escrow account. If the contract provides for payment of any amount in excess of 20 percent of the initial payment prior to delivery of the equipment, supplies or products or services to be furnished under the terms of the contract, the contract shall set forth that payment of the amount in excess of 20 percent shall be by separate instrument made payable to the escrow account.

(b) Immediately above the place at which the purchaser signs the contract the following notification, in boldface type, of the purchaser's right to cancel the contract:

"You have three business days in which you may cancel this contract for any reason by mailing or delivering written notice to the seller assisted marketing plan seller. The three business days shall expire on

(last date to mail or deliver notice) and notice of cancellation should be mailed or delivered to

_____.

(seller assisted marketing plan seller's name and business street address)

If you choose to mail your notice, it must be placed in the United States mail properly addressed, first-class postage prepaid, and postmarked before midnight of the above date. If you choose to deliver your notice to the seller directly, it must be delivered to him by the end of his normal business day on the above date. Within five business days of receipt of the notice of cancellation, the seller shall return to the purchaser all sums paid by the purchaser to the seller pursuant to this contract. Within five business days after receipt of all such sums, the purchaser shall make available at his address or at the place at which they were caused to be located, all equipment, products and supplies provided to the purchaser pursuant to this contract. Upon demand of the seller, such equipment, products and supplies shall be made available at the time the purchaser receives full repayment by cash, money order or certified check."

(c) A full and detailed description of the acts or services the seller will undertake to perform for the purchaser.

(d) The seller's principal business address and the name and the address of its agent, other than the Secretary of State, in the State of California authorized to receive service of process.

(e) The business form of the seller, whether corporate, partnership or otherwise.

(f) The delivery date or, when the contract provides for a staggered delivery of items to the purchaser, the approximate delivery date of those products, equipment or supplies the seller is to deliver to the purchaser to enable the purchaser to begin or maintain his business and whether the products, equipment or supplies are to be delivered to the purchaser's home or business address or are to be placed or caused to be placed by the seller at locations owned or managed by persons other than the purchaser.

(g) A complete description of the nature of the "buy-back", "protection", or "security" arrangement, if the seller has represented orally or in writing when selling or leasing, soliciting or offering a seller assisted marketing plan that there is a "buy-back" or that the initial payment or any part of it is "protected" or "secured."

(h) A statement which accurately sets forth a purchaser's right to void the contract under the circumstances and in the manner set forth in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 1812.215.

(i) The name of the supplier and the address of such supplier of the products, equipment, or supplies the seller is to deliver to the purchaser to enable the purchaser to begin or maintain his business.

SEC. 5. Section 1812.210 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.210. (a) No seller assisted marketing plan contract shall require or entail the execution of any note or series of notes by the purchaser which, when separately negotiated, will cut off as to third parties any right of action or defense which the purchaser may have against the seller.

(b) If the contract referred to in Section 1812.209 provides for a downpayment to be paid to the seller, the downpayment shall not exceed 20 percent of the initial payment amount. In no event shall the contract payment schedule provide for the seller to receive more than 20 percent of the initial payment before delivery to the purchaser, or to the place at which they are to be located, the equipment, supplies or products, unless all sums in excess of 20 percent are placed in an escrow account as provided for in subdivision (c) of Section 1812.214. Funds placed in an escrow account shall not be released until the purchaser notifies the escrow holder in writing of the delivery of such equipment, supplies or products within the time limits set forth in the seller assisted marketing plan contract. Notification of delivery by the purchaser to the escrow holder shall not be unreasonably withheld.

SEC. 6. Section 1812.214 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.214. (a) Every seller of seller-assisted marketing plans other than a California corporation shall file with the Secretary of State an irrevocable consent appointing the Secretary of State or successor in office to act as the seller's attorney to receive service or any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against the seller or the seller's successor, executor or administrator, which may arise under this title. When service is made upon the Secretary of State, it shall have the same force and validity as if served personally on the seller. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the Secretary of State, but it shall not be effective unless:

(1) The plaintiff forthwith sends by first-class mail a notice of the service upon the Secretary of State and a copy of the process to the defendant or respondent at the last address on file with the Secretary of State; and

(2) The plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this section is filed in the case on or before the return date of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

(b) If, pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1812.204, a seller must obtain a surety bond or establish a trust account, the following procedures apply:

(1) If a bond is obtained, a copy of it shall be filed with the office of the Secretary of State; if a trust account is established, notification of the depository, the trustee and the account number shall be filed with the office of the Attorney General.

(2) The bond or trust account required shall be in favor of the State of California for the benefit of any person who is damaged by any violation of this title or by the seller's breach of a contract subject to this title or of any obligation arising therefrom. The trust account shall also be in favor of any person damaged by such practices.

(3) Any person claiming against the trust account for a violation of this title may maintain an action at law against the seller and the trustee. The surety or trustee shall be liable only for actual damages and not the punitive damages permitted under Section 1812.218. The aggregate liability of the trustee to all persons damaged by a seller's violation of this title shall in no event exceed the amount of the trust account.

(4) The bond or the trust account shall be in an amount equal to the total amount of the "initial payment" section of all seller-assisted marketing plan contracts the seller has entered into during the previous year or three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000), whichever is less, but in no case shall the amount be less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). The amount required shall be adjusted twice a year, no later than the tenth day of the first month of the seller's fiscal year and no later than the tenth day of the seventh month of the seller's fiscal year. A seller need only establish a bond or trust account in the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) at the commencement of business and during the first six months the seller is in business. By the tenth day of the seller's seventh month in business, the amount of the bond or trust account shall be established as provided for herein as if the seller had been in business for a year.

(c) If, pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1812.210, a seller utilizes an escrow account to receive those portions of the downpayment in excess of 20 percent of the initial payment before delivery to the purchaser of the equipment, supplies or products or services to be furnished under the terms of the contract, the following procedures shall apply:

(1) The holder of the escrow account shall be independent of the seller, and the seller shall not have any authority to direct disbursements from the escrow account by the holder except upon written notification by the purchaser to the holder of the escrow account of the delivery of the equipment, supplies, or products as required by and within the time limits set forth in the seller assisted marketing plan contract.

(2) The name and address of the escrow account holder, the name of the institution, the branch and account number of the escrow account shall be reported to the Attorney General by the seller.

(3) Any person claiming against the escrow account for a violation of this title may maintain an action at law against the seller and the escrow account holder. The escrow account holder shall be liable only for actual damages and not the punitive damages permitted under Section 1812.218. The aggregate liability of the escrow account holder to all persons damaged by a seller's violation of this title shall in no event exceed the amount of the escrow account.

SEC. 7. Section 1812.221 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1812.221. (a) When a deposit has been made in lieu of bond pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 1812.214 and Section 995.710 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the person asserting a claim against the deposit shall, in lieu of the provisions of Section 996.430 of the Code of Civil Procedure, establish the claim by furnishing evidence to the Attorney General of a money judgment entered by a court together with evidence that the claimant is a person described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 1812.214.

(b) When a person has completely established the claim with the Attorney General, the Attorney General shall forthwith review and approve the claim and enter the date of approval thereon. The claim shall be designated an "approved claim."

(c) When the first claim against a particular deposit account has been approved, it shall not be paid until the expiration of a period of 240 days after the date of its approval by the Attorney General. Subsequent claims which are approved by the Attorney General within the same 240-day period shall similarly not be paid until the expiration of the 240-day period. Forthwith upon the expiration of the 240-day period, the Attorney General shall pay all approved claims from that 240-day period in full unless there are insufficient funds in the deposit account in which case each approved claim shall be paid a proportionate amount to exhaust the deposit account.

(d) When the Attorney General approves the first claim against a particular deposit account after the expiration of a 240-day period, the date of approval of that claim shall begin a new 240-day period to which subdivision (c) shall apply with respect to the amount remaining in the deposit account.

(e) After a deposit account is exhausted, no further claims shall be paid by the Attorney General. Claimants who have had their claims paid in full or in part pursuant to subdivisions (c) and (d) shall not be required to make a contribution back to the deposit account for the benefit of other claimants.

(f) When a deposit has been made in lieu of bond, the amount of the deposit shall not be subject to attachment, garnishment, or execution with respect to an action or judgment against the seller, other than as to an amount as no longer needed or required for the purpose of this title which would otherwise be returned to the seller by the Attorney General.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1022

An act to amend Section 584 of, to amend and renumber Section 497 of, to add Section 123 to, and to repeal and add Section 496 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to consumer affairs.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 123 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

123. It is a misdemeanor for any person to engage in any conduct which subverts or attempts to subvert any licensing examination or the administration of an examination, including, but not limited to:

(a) Conduct which violates the security of the examination materials; removing from the examination room any examination materials without authorization; the unauthorized reproduction by any means of any portion of the actual licensing examination; aiding by any means the unauthorized reproduction of any portion of the actual licensing examination; paying or using professional or paid examination-takers for the purpose of reconstructing any portion of the licensing examination; obtaining examination questions or other examination material, except by specific authorization either before, during, or after an examination; or using or purporting to use any examination questions or materials which were improperly removed or taken from any examination for the purpose of instructing or preparing any applicant for examination; or selling, distributing, buying, receiving, or having unauthorized possession of any portion of a future, current, or previously administered licensing examination.

(b) Communicating with any other examinee during the administration of a licensing examination; copying answers from another examinee or permitting one's answers to be copied by another examinee; having in one's possession during the administration of the licensing examination any books, equipment, notes, written or printed materials, or data of any kind, other than the examination materials distributed, or otherwise authorized to be in one's possession during the examination; or impersonating any examinee or having an impersonator take the licensing examination on one's behalf.

Nothing in this section shall preclude prosecution under the authority provided for in any other provision of law.

In addition to any other penalties, a person found guilty of violating this section, shall be liable for the actual damages sustained by the agency administering the examination not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and the costs of litigation.

SEC. 2. Section 496 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 496 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

496. A board may deny, suspend, revoke, or otherwise restrict a license on the ground that an applicant or licensee has violated Section 123 pertaining to subversion of licensing examinations.

SEC. 4. Section 497 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

123.5. Whenever any person has engaged, or is about to engage, in any acts or practices which constitute, or will constitute, a violation of Section 123, the superior court in and for the county wherein the acts or practices take place, or are about to take place, may issue an injunction, or other appropriate order, restraining such conduct on application of a board, the Attorney General or the district attorney of the county.

The proceedings under this section shall be governed by Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The remedy provided for by this section shall be in addition to, and not a limitation on, the authority provided for in any other provision of law.

SEC. 5. Section 584 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

584. No person shall violate the security of any examination, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 123, or impersonate, attempt to impersonate, or solicit the impersonation of, another in any examination for a license, certificate, or registration to practice as provided in this division, the Osteopathic Initiative Act, or the Chiropractic Initiative Act, or under any other law providing for the regulation of any other system or method of treating the sick or afflicted in this state.

SEC. 6. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

An act to add Section 23194 to the Vehicle Code, relating to driving offenses.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23194 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23194. (a) If any person is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 and a minor under 14 years of age was a passenger in the vehicle at the time of the offense, the court shall impose the following penalties in addition to any other penalty prescribed in this article:

(1) If the person is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23160, the punishment prescribed in this article shall be enhanced by an imprisonment of 48 continuous hours in the county jail, whether or not probation is granted, no part of which shall be stayed.

(2) If a person is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23165, the punishment prescribed in this article shall be enhanced by an imprisonment of 10 days in the county jail, whether or not probation is granted, no part of which may be stayed.

(3) If a person is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 punishable under Section 23170, the punishment prescribed in this article shall be enhanced by an imprisonment of 30 days in the county jail, whether or not probation is granted, no part of which may be stayed.

(4) If a person is convicted of a violation of Section 23152 which is punished as a misdemeanor under Section 23175, the punishment prescribed in this article shall be enhanced by an imprisonment of 90 days in the county jail, whether or not probation is granted, no part of which may be stayed.

(b) The driving of a vehicle in which a minor under 14 years of age was a passenger shall be pled and proven.

(c) No punishment enhancement shall be imposed pursuant to this section if the person is also convicted of a violation of Section 273a of the Penal Code arising out of the same facts and incident.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1024

An act to amend Section 11379.6 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11379.6 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11379.6. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law, every person who manufactures, compounds, converts, produces, derives, processes, or prepares, either directly or indirectly by chemical extraction or independently by means of chemical synthesis, any controlled substance specified in Section 11054, 11055, 11056, 11057, or 11058 shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, five, or seven years and by a fine not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(b) Except as otherwise provided by law, every person who offers to perform an act which is punishable under subdivision (a) shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, four, or five years.

(c) All fines collected pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be transferred to the State Treasury for deposit in the Clandestine Drug Lab Clean-up Account, as established by Section 5 of Chapter 1295 of the Statutes of 1987. The transmission to the State Treasury shall be carried out in the same manner as fines collected for the state by the county.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to add Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 4000) to Division 2 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to carriers.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 4000) is added to Division 2 of the Public Utilities Code, to read:

CHAPTER 2.5. PRIVATE CARRIERS

Article 1. General Provisions and Definitions

4000. This chapter may be cited as the Private Carriers' Registration Act

4001. (a) For purposes of this chapter, "private carrier" means a not-for-hire motor carrier, as defined in Section 408 of the Vehicle Code, but does not include persons providing transportation services specified in subdivision (k) or (l) of Section 5353.

(b) For purposes of this chapter, "department" means the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

4002. The Department of Motor Vehicles and the State Board of Equalization shall furnish, upon request, whatever information from their records may be required to assist the commission and department in the effective enforcement of this chapter.

Article 2. Registration

4005. (a) Except as provided in Section 4008, no private carrier shall operate a motor vehicle on any public highway in this state without first having registered the operation with the commission. The commission shall grant registration upon the filing of the application and the payment of the fee as required by this article, subject to the private carrier's compliance with this chapter.

(b) This section shall become operative on June 30, 1990.

4006. A fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) shall be paid to the commission for the filing of the initial registration, and an annual renewal fee of twenty dollars ($20) shall also be paid. The fees required to be paid by carriers of property pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Transportation Rate Fund. The fees required to be paid by carriers of passengers pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Public Utilities Commission Transportation Reimbursement Account in the General Fund.

4007. (a) When the department issues a carrier identification number pursuant to Section 34507.5 of the Vehicle Code, it shall inform the carrier concerning the provisions of this chapter and the requirement that the carrier register with the Public Utilities Commission.

(b) The department shall periodically, but not less frequently than quarterly, transmit to the commission a list of the persons, firms, and corporations to whom it has issued a carrier identification number. Upon receipt of the list, the commission shall notify the carriers of the registration requirements and of the penalties for failure to register.

4008. The State of California and its agencies and political subdivisions are exempt from the registration requirements of this chapter.

Article 3. Insurance

4010. Registration shall not be granted to any private carrier until there is filed with and accepted by the commission, in such form as it may prescribe, a currently effective certificate or certificates of insurance or a surety bond or bonds evidencing bodily injury and property damage.

Article 4. Identification

4015. A private carrier shall display the carrier identification number, as required by Section 34507.5 of the Vehicle Code, on the vehicles operated pursuant to the registration granted under this chapter.

Article 5. Fines and Penalties

4020. The commission shall periodically, but not less frequently than quarterly, transmit to the department a list of persons, firms, and corporations which have received a carrier identification number from the department, but which have not registered with the commission. The department may use this list in its normal enforcement activities, including terminal inspections and roadside enforcement, as prima facie evidence of a failure to register.

4021. (a) Any person or corporation who violates any provision of this chapter is guilty of an infraction, and is punishable by a fine of not more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or both.

(b) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 31100, 31101, 31103, 31111, 31115, and 31500 of the Corporations Code, relating to franchises.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 31100 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31100. There shall be exempted from any or all of the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 31110) any other transaction which the commissioner by rule exempts as not being comprehended within the purposes of this law and the registration of which the commissioner finds is not necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

SEC 2. Section 31101 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31101. There shall be exempted from the provisions of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 31110) of this part the offer and sale of a franchise if the franchisor complies with each of the following minimum net worth, experience, disclosure, and notice filing requirements:

(a) Net worth. The franchisor and, when necessary, a corporation owning at least 80 percent of the franchisor (parent) meet one of the following net worth requirements, according to financial statements for the fiscal year just ended. The franchisor and the parent, when necessary, may rely upon the immediately preceding fiscal year's audited financial statement for 15 months from that fiscal year end date.

(1) The franchisor has a net worth on a consolidated basis of not less than five million dollars ($5,000,000), according to its audited financial statement.

(2) The franchisor has a net worth of not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) and its parent has a net worth of five million dollars ($5,000,000), according to the audited financial statements of the franchisor and its parent, respectively.

(3) The franchisor has a net worth of one million dollars ($1,000,000), according to its unaudited financial statement, and the parent has a net worth on a consolidated basis of not less than five million dollars ($5,000,000), according to its audited financial statement, and the parent absolutely and unconditionally guarantees to assume the duties and obligations of the franchisor under the franchise agreement should the franchisor become unable to perform its duties and obligations.

(b) Experience. The franchisor or a corporation owning at least 80 percent of the franchisor (parent) complies with one or more of the following conditions throughout the five-year period immediately preceding the offer and sale of the franchise, or complies with one of the following conditions during part of the period and one or more of the following conditions during the balance of the period:

(1) The franchisor has had at least 25 franchisees conducting business which is the subject of the franchise.

(2) The franchisor has conducted business which is the subject of the franchise.

(3) The parent has had at least 25 franchisees conducting business which is the subject of the franchise.

(4) The parent has conducted business which is the subject of the franchise.

(c) Disclosure. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2), the franchisor discloses in writing to each prospective franchisee, at least 10 business days prior to the execution by the prospective franchisee of any binding franchise or other agreement, or at least 10 business days prior to the receipt of any consideration, the following information:

(A) The name of the franchisor, the name under which the franchisor is doing or intends to do business, and the name of any parent or affiliated company that will engage in business transactions with franchisees.

(B) The franchisor's principal business address and the name and address of its agent in the State of California authorized to receive service of process.

(C) The business form of the franchisor, whether corporate, partnership, or otherwise.

(D) The business experience of the franchisor, including the length of time the franchisor (i) has conducted a business of the type to be operated by the franchisees, (ii) has granted franchises for such business, and (iii) has granted franchises in other lines of business.

(E) A copy of the typical franchise contract or agreement proposed for use or in use in this state.

(F) A statement of the franchise fee charged, the proposed application of the proceeds of such fee by the franchisor, and the formula by which the amount of the fee is determined if the fee is not the same in all cases.

(G) A statement describing any payments or fees other than franchise fees that the franchisee or subfranchisor is required to pay to the franchisor, including royalties and payments or fees which the franchisor collects in whole or in part on behalf of a third party or parties.

(H) A statement of the conditions under which the franchise agreement may be terminated or renewal refused, or repurchased at the option of the franchisor.

(I) A statement as to whether, by the terms of the franchise agreement or by other device or practice, the franchisee or subfranchisor is required to purchase from the franchisor or his or her designee services, supplies, products, fixtures, or other goods relating to the establishment or operation of the franchise business, together with a description thereof.

(J) A statement as to whether, by the terms of the franchise agreement or other device or practice, the franchisee is limited in the goods or services offered by him or her to his or her customers.

(K) A statement of the terms and conditions of any financing arrangements when offered directly or indirectly by the franchisor or his or her agent or affiliate.

(L) A statement of any past or present practice or of any intent of the franchisor to sell, assign, or discount to a third party any note, contract, or other obligation of the franchisee or subfranchisor in whole or in part.

(M) If any statement of estimated or projected franchisee earnings is used, a statement of such estimation or projection and the data upon which it is based.

(N) A statement as to whether franchisees or subfranchisors receive an exclusive area or territory.

(O) A copy of the financial statement or statements required by subdivision (a).

(P) A copy of the unconditional guaranty, if applicable, required by paragraph (3) of subdivision (a).

(2) In the case of a material modification of an existing franchise, the franchisor discloses in writing to each franchisee information concerning the specific sections of the franchise agreement proposed to be modified and such additional information as may be required by rule or order of the commissioner. Any agreement by such franchisee to such material modifications shall not be binding upon the franchisee if the franchisee, within 10 business days after the receipt of such writing identifying the material modification, notifies the franchisor in writing that the agreement to such modification is rescinded. A writing identifying the material modification is received when delivered to the franchisee. A written notice by the franchisee rescinding an agreement to a material modification is effective when delivered to the franchisor or when deposited in the mail, postage prepaid, and addressed to the franchisor in accordance with any notice provisions in the franchise agreement, or when delivered or mailed to the person designated in the franchise agreement for the receipt of notices on behalf of the franchisor.

(d) Notice filing. The franchisor has filed with the commissioner a notice of exemption and paid the fee required by subdivision (f) of Section 31500 prior to an offer or sale of a franchise in this state during any calendar year in which one or more franchises are sold, excluding any material modification.

SEC. 3. Section 31103 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31103. This division shall not be applicable to any transaction relating to a bank credit card plan. "Bank credit card plan" means a credit card plan in which the issuers of credit cards, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1747.02 of the Civil Code are only: banks regulated by or under the supervision of the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, or the Superintendent of Banks of this state; or, persons controlling these banks, provided that the assets of such a bank or banks represent a majority of the assets on a consolidated basis of any holding company system of which the card issuers may be a party; or, persons controlled by these banks.

SEC. 4. Section 31111 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31111. (a) The application for registration of an offer shall be filed with the commissioner upon the Uniform Franchise Registration Application, as identified, modified, and supplemented by rule of the commissioner.

(b) An authorization for the commissioner to examine the registrant's financial records of the sale of the franchise pursuant to Section 7473 of the Government Code shall be filed with the application.

SEC. 5. Section 31115 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31115. The commissioner may summarily issue a stop order denying the effectiveness of or suspending or revoking effectiveness of any registration if the commissioner finds:

(a) That there has been a failure to comply with any of the provisions of this law or the rules of the commissioner pertaining thereto.

(b) That the offer or sale of the franchise would constitute misrepresentation to, or deceit or fraud of the purchasers, or that, in the case of a franchise other than a subfranchise, a major inducement to prospective franchisees is fees or other compensation from participation in the sale of additional franchises.

(c) That the applicant has failed to comply with any rule or order of the commissioner issued pursuant to Section 31113.

(d) That any person identified in the application has been convicted of an offense under subdivision (e) of Section 31111, or is subject to an order, or has had a civil judgment entered against him as described in subdivision (e) of Section 31111, and the involvement of such person in the sale or management of the franchise creates an unreasonable risk to prospective franchisees.

SEC. 6. Section 31500 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

31500. (a) The commissioner shall charge and collect the fees fixed by this section. All fees and charges collected under this section shall be transmitted to the Treasurer at least weekly, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof and shall be credited to the General Fund.

(b) The fee for filing an application for registration of the offer of franchises under Section 31111 is six hundred seventy-five dollars ($675).

(c) The fee for filing an application for renewal of a registration under Section 31121 is four hundred fifty dollars ($450).

(d) The fee for filing an amendment to the application filed under Section 31111 or 31121 is fifty dollars ($50).

(e) The fee for filing an application for material modification under Section 31125 is fifty dollars ($50), whether or not it accompanies an application under Section 31111 or 31121.

(f) The fee for filing the initial notice of exemption under Section 31101 is four hundred fifty dollars ($450) and the fee for filing each consecutive subsequent notice of exemption under these provisions is one hundred fifty dollars ($150).

(g) The fee for filing an application for approval of a written notice of violation under Section 31303 or 31304 is six hundred seventy-five dollars ($675).

SEC. 7. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that during the past few years there has been a continuing deficit in the budget of the Department of Corporations with respect to administering the Franchise Investment Law.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature in amending Section 31500 of the Corporations Code by increasing the fees charged and collected under the Franchise Investment Law to address the need to fully fund the cost to the Department of Corporations of administering the Franchise Investment Law and to appropriate those additional revenues to the department that are necessary to fully pay all costs of administration.

An act to repeal Sections 6357.1, 6357.2, 7204.5, 7204.6, 7264, and 7264.1 of, and to repeal and add Section 8101.5 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, and making an appropriation therefor, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6357.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 6357.2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 7204.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is

SEC. 4. Section 7204.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 7264 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 7264.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 8101.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 8101.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

8101.5. No refund of any tax shall be granted on motor vehicle fuel used in propelling an aircraft in this state.

SEC. 9. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the first day of the first calendar quarter commencing more than 90 days after the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 1028

An act to amend Section 117.9 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to small claims court, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 117.9 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

117.9. (a) If the judgment or order be against the defendant or cross defendant, he or she shall pay the same forthwith or at any time and upon such terms and conditions as the judge shall prescribe.

(b) At the option of the judgment debtor, payment of the judgment of a small claims court may be made directly to the judgment creditor or to the court in which the judgment was entered.

(c) If payment is made directly to the court in which the judgment was entered, the court shall remit payment to the judgment creditor as follows:

(1) By declaration and motion of the judgment debtor, and upon receipt of payment of the judgment and any accrued interest plus any required fee authorized by this subdivision, the clerk shall enter satisfaction of judgment. Pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1013, the clerk shall notify the judgment creditor, at his or her last known address, that the judgment debtor has satisfied the judgment by making payment. The notification shall explain the procedures for the creditor to obtain from the court the amount paid in satisfaction of the judgment.

(2) The board of supervisors shall set a fee, not to exceed the actual costs of administering this subdivision, up to a maximum of twenty-five dollars ($25), which shall be paid by the judgment debtor.

(3) The Judicial Council shall provide by January 1, 1990, an appropriate declaration form to fulfill the purposes of this subdivision.

(4) Where payment is made by any means other than money order, certified or cashier's check, or cash, entry of satisfaction of judgment shall be delayed for a period of 30 days.

(5) If partial payment of the judgment has been made to the judgment creditor, and the requirements of subdivision (e) have been satisfied, the clerk shall enter satisfaction of the judgment upon receipt of the balance owing on the judgment, plus any accrued interest and the required fee.

(6) Payments that are unclaimed shall escheat to the local agency pursuant to Sections 50050 to 50056, inclusive, of the Government Code.

(d) If payment is made directly to the judgment creditor or his or her assignee of record, immediately upon receipt of payment of the judgment, the judgment creditor or the assignee of record shall file with the court an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment. Any judgment creditor or assignee of record who, after payment in full of the judgment, and after written demand by the judgment debtor fails without just cause for a period of 15 days to execute, and file an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment with the court is liable to the judgment debtor or his or her grantees or heirs for all damages sustained by reason of such failure and, in addition, the sum of fifty dollars ($50).

(e) A canceled check or money order which was written subsequent to the judgment by the judgment debtor for the full or partial amount of the judgment, made payable to and endorsed by the judgment creditor, or a cash receipt written subsequent to the judgment for the full or partial amount thereof and signed by the judgment creditor, shall constitute a rebuttable presumption of satisfaction of judgment when filed with the clerk of the small claims court together with a statement signed by the judgment debtor under penalty of perjury stating that: (1) the judgment debtor has paid the full or a portion of the judgment and costs; (2) the judgment creditor has been requested to file an acknowledgment of satisfaction of judgment and refuses to do so or the present address of the judgment creditor is unknown; and (3) the documents attached constitute evidence of receipt of this payment. In the event a rebuttable presumption of satisfaction of judgment is created pursuant to this section, a satisfaction of judgment shall be entered.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Certain provisions of former Civil Code of Procedure, Section 117.9 authorized payment of a small claims court judgment to the sheriff, marshal, or court constable. Because these provisions were automatically repealed as of January 1, 1988, there is currently no regular method by which a judgment debtor can pay off a judgment, obtain a satisfaction of judgment and procure a release of related judgment liens, if the judgment creditor cannot be located. In order to reduce the resulting disruption to the courts and small claims judgment debtors, and to facilitate payment of small claims court judgments through the provision of an alternative judgment payment procedure, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1029

An act to amend Section 17921.3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to building standards.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17921.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

17921.3. (a) After January 1, 1983, all new buildings constructed in this state shall use water closets and associated flushometer valves, if any, which are water-conservation water closets as defined by American National Standards Institute Standard A112.19.2, and urinals and associated flushometer valves, if any, that use less than an average of 1½ gallons per flush. Blowout water closets and associated flushometer valves are exempt from the requirements of this section. All water closets, urinals, and associated flushometer valves installed in new structures after January 1, 1983, shall be approved by the department as meeting adequate standards of safety and sanitation. These requirements shall only be applicable to new additions to, or renovations of, existing buildings if compliance with the requirements of this section will not require substantial modification of the existing plumbing system. In satisfaction of the requirements of this section and subject to the provisions of Section 18930, the department shall permit the installation of tank-type water closets equipped with devices which are found by the department to meet applicable performance standards. The department shall periodically publish a list of acceptable water closets, urinals, flushometer valves, and devices to reduce water consumption.

(b) After January 1, 1992, all new buildings constructed in this state shall use water closets and associated flushometer valves, if any, which use no more than 1.6 gallons per flush and which meet performance standards established by the American National Standards Institute Standard A112.19.2, and urinals and associated flushometer valves, if any, which use no more than one gallon per flush and which meet performance standards established by the American National Standards Institute Standard A112.19.2.

(c) A local enforcement agency may allow the use of standard flush toilets, or urinals when, in the opinion of the local agency, the configuration of the building drainage system requires a greater quantity of water to adequately flush the system.

(d) This section shall not apply in any local jurisdiction, area, or region of the state subject to waste discharge requirements imposed pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 13260) of Chapter 4 of Division 7 of the Water Code when the local enforcement agency determines that the waste water discharges would exceed such waste discharge requirements if this section was made applicable.

(e) Subject to the provisions of Section 18930, the requirements prescribed by this section may be suspended for a specified period of time by a regulation adopted by the department when the department finds that there is an inadequate supply, including a choice of styles or colors for the consumer, of water closets or urinals specified in this section to meet the needs of new construction, or such water closets and urinals are not available at reasonable prices as compared to water closets and urinals not complying with the requirements of this section.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 2688 and 2689 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to physical therapy, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2688 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2688. The amount of fees provided in connection with licenses or approvals for the practice of physical therapy is as follows:

(a) The application fee for a physical therapist's license shall be fixed by the examining committee at not more than fifty dollars ($50). The application fee for an applicant under Section 2653 shall be fixed by the examining committee at not more than one hundred dollars ($100).

(b) The examination and reexamination fees for the physical therapist examination and the physical therapist assistant examination shall be the actual cost to the examining committee of the purchase and grading of each written examination, plus the actual cost to the examining committee of administering each examination.

(c) The initial license fee for a physical therapist license shall be fixed by the examining committee at not more than fifty dollars ($50).

(d) The renewal fee shall be fixed by the examining committee at not more than fifty dollars ($50).

(e) A fee to be set by the examining committee of not more than fifty dollars ($50) shall be charged for each application for approval as a physical therapist assistant and the approval which may be granted.

(f) A fee to be set by the examining committee of not more than fifty dollars ($50) shall be charged for renewal of each approval as a physical therapist assistant.

(g) The delinquency fee shall be 50 percent of the renewal fee in effect, but not more than twenty-five dollars ($25).

(h) The duplicate wall certificate fee shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20). The duplicate renewal receipt fee shall not exceed twenty dollars ($20).

(i) The endorsement or letter of good standing fee is thirty dollars ($30).

SEC. 2. Section 2689 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2689. (a) The committee may establish by regulation suitable application and renewal fees of not more than two hundred dollars

($200), for persons certified to perform electromyographical testing pursuant to Section 2620.5, based upon the cost of operating the certification program. The application fee shall be paid by the applicant at the time the application is filed and the renewal fee shall be paid as provided in Section 2683.

(b) The committee shall charge an examination and reexamination fee of five hundred dollars ($500) to applicants who are examined and who have been found to otherwise meet the committee's standards for certification.

CHAPTER 1031

An act to add Section 70142.11 to the Government Code, relating to courts.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 70142.11 is added to the Government Code, to read:

70142.11. (a) In lieu of the court commissioner authorized pursuant to Section 70141, in Solano County, the judges of the superior court, by majority vote, may appoint two court commissioners and may provide that the commissioners, in addition to the powers and duties specified in Section 259 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may perform the duties of a probate commissioner specified in Section 69897 and, if appointed by the presiding judge of the juvenile court, shall perform the duties of a juvenile court referee as specified in Section 247 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(b) Any commissioner appointed pursuant to this section shall have been admitted to practice law in California for not less than five years, shall hold office at the pleasure of the superior court, and shall not engage in the private practice of law.

(c) The salary of the commissioners for all duties performed pursuant to this section shall be set by the board of supervisors, not to exceed the annual salary of a judge of a superior court. The commissioners shall be members of the Solano County Retirement System and shall receive vacation, sick leave, and fringe benefits identical to those provided to Solano County administrative management employees.

(d) The commissioner positions shall not be counted in the calculation of trial court funding pursuant to Section 77202, and the salary for these positions shall not be considered as a part of "court operations" for Solano County for purposes of Sections 77003 and 77204.

SEC. 2. The Legislature declares that it and Solano County have jointly agreed that the court commissioner positions established by this act shall be funded by Solano County solely out of county funds.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the programs specified in this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the Califonia Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 25174.1, 25174.2, 25174.6, 25174.7, 25205.2, 25205.6, 25205.7, 25205.8, 25313.5, 25317.5, 25318, 25318.5, 25334, 25342, 25345, 25345.3, 25347.2, 25347.6, 25347.7, 25358.3, and 25400 of, and to repeal Section 25174.3 of, the Health and Safety Code, to amend Sections 43053, 43151, 43152.6, 43152.10, 43551, and 43552 of, and to add Section 43054 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code, to amend Sections 13391, 13391.5, 13392.5, 13392.6, and 13396 of, and to repeal and add Section 13393 of, the Water Code, to amend Section 54 of Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, and to amend and supplement the Budget Act of 1989 by amending Items 4260-001-455, 4260-011-014, 4260-011-455, and 4260-492 of Section 2.00 thereof, relating to hazardous substances, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25174.1 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25174.1. (a) Each person who disposes of hazardous waste, or who annually submits more than 500 pounds of hazardous waste for disposal in the state or outside of the state, or who submits hazardous waste for treatment at a location outside of the state, shall pay a fee directly to the State Board of Equalization for disposal of hazardous waste to land. For purposes of this chapter, the fee imposed by this section shall be known as the disposal fee.

(b) Each operator at any facility, including, but not limited to, all Class II and Class III landfills, as defined in Sections 2532 and 2533 of Title 23 of the California Code of Regulations, at which hazardous wastes are disposed shall pay a fee directly to the State Board of Equalization for disposal of those wastes, except that the site operator is not required to pay the fee for a hazardous waste if the person submitting the waste for disposal provides the operator with a properly completed manifest for that waste which includes that person's Hazardous Waste Tax Account number, as assigned by the State Board of Equalization, and the site operator submits a copy of the manifest to the State Board of Equalization in the time and manner as it may prescribe.

(c) The State Board of Equalization shall deposit the fees collected pursuant to this section in the Hazardous Substance Account in the General Fund.

SEC. 2. Section 25174.2 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25174.2. (a) The State Board of Equalization shall set the base rate for the hazardous wastes specified in Section 25174.6 which are disposed of or submitted for disposal in the state or outside of the state, or is submitted for treatment at a location outside of the state on and after July 1, 1989, at fifty-two dollars and fifty cents ($52.50) per ton for disposal of hazardous waste to land.

(b) The base rate specified in subdivision (a) shall apply to persons subject to the fee specified in Section 25174.1. This base rate is the base rate for the 1989–90, 1990–91, 1991–92, 1992–93, and 1993–94 fiscal years. Beginning in fiscal year 1994–95, and for each fiscal year therafter, the State Board of Equalization shall adjust the base rate annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living during the prior fiscal year, as measured by the Consumer Price Index issued by the United States Department of Labor or a successor agency of the federal government. Within 30 days after the enactment of the annual Budget Act, the State Board of Equalization shall send a notice of the adjusted fee rate to every person subject to the fee specified in Section 25174.1.

SEC. 3. Section 25174.3 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 25174.6 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25174.6. (a) The fee provided pursuant to Section 25174.1 shall be determined as a percentage of the base rate, as adjusted by the State Board of Equalization, pursuant to Section 25174.2. The percentages of the base rate for determining these fees are as follows:

(1) Twenty-five percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof for up to the first 5,000 tons of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state at each specific offsite facility by each producer, or at each specific onsite facility, per month, which is not subject to Subchapter III (commencing with Section 6921) of Chapter 82 of Title 42 of the United States Code, pursuant to subsection (b) of Section 6921 of Title 42 of the United States Code and which is not otherwise subject to the fee specified in paragraph (3) or (4), or hazardous waste for which the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency has determined that regulation is unwarranted, as specified in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) of, and subparagraph (C) of paragraph (3) of, subsection (b) of Section

6921 of Title 42 of the United States Code and which is not otherwise subject to the fee specified in paragraph (3) or (4).

(2) Twenty-five percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, for up to the first 5,000 tons of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state, at each specific offsite facility by each producer, or at each specific onsite facility, per month, which result from the extraction, beneficiation, and processing of ores and minerals, including phosphate rock and the overburden from the mining of uranium ore and which is not otherwise subject to the fee specified in paragraph (3) or (4).

(3) Two hundred percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of extremely hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state.

(4) Two hundred percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of restricted hazardous wastes listed in Section 66900 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state.

(5) One hundred percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state, which is not otherwise subject to the fees specified in paragraph (1), (2), (3), (4), (7), or (8) of this subdivision.

(6) The rates specified in this paragraph apply for each ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste generated in this state which is disposed of, or submitted for disposal outside of the state or which is a hazardous waste residual of any treatment which occurs outside of the state other than incineration, dechlorination, or any treatment described in paragraph (8) and which is disposed of, or submitted for disposal, outside of the state. The rate shall be as follows:

(A) Thirty-five percent of the base rate for the 1989–90 fiscal year.

(B) Forty percent of the base rate for the 1990–91 fiscal year.

(C) Forty-five percent of the base rate after the 1990–91 fiscal year if a new hazardous waste disposal facility is permitted pursuant to Section 25200, or 40 percent of the base rate if no new facility is permitted.

(7) Five percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state, that is a solid hazardous waste residue resulting from incineration or dechlorination.

(8) Five percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state or outside of the state, that is solid hazardous waste residue resulting from any treatment method which results in free liquid removal, removal of volatile organic constituents, and a minimum waste volume reduction of 50 percent, and which has been approved by the department pursuant to Section 25179.6.

(b) The amount of fees payable to the State Board of Equalization pursuant to this section shall be calculated using the total wet weight, measured in tons or fractions thereof, of the hazardous waste in the form in which the hazardous waste existed at the time of disposal, submission for disposal, or application to land using the land disposal methods defined in Section 66122 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the fee rate for hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for offsite disposal, into a surface impoundment which is double lined, meets the criteria specified in paragraph (1), and for which a report has not been submitted pursuant to paragraph (2), is 10 percent of the base rate for each ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste so disposed of or submitted for disposal. The owner or operator of the surface impoundment shall certify to the State Board of Equalization that the requirements of paragraph (1) have been met before the fee rate specified in this subdivision may be applied to the hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, into the surface impoundment.

(1) This subdivision applies only to hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, into a surface impoundment which meets all the following criteria:

(A) The surface impoundment is double lined and is equipped with a leachate collection system which is in place and in operation, and complies with existing federal and state regulations and guidance documents published by the Environmental Protection Agency prior to July 1, 1984.

(B) The surface impoundment has in place and in operation a minimum of one upgradient and two downgradient monitoring wells capable of identifying the migration of any hazardous waste constituents disposed of into the surface impoundment.

(C) The surface impoundment has in place and in operation a vadose zone monitoring system capable of identifying the migration of any hazardous waste constituents disposed of into the surface impoundment from the impoundment into the zone between the surface and the water table.

(D) The surface impoundment has an enforceable site closure plan which initiates closure of the impoundment within 12 years after the surface impoundment is certified pursuant to this subdivision. This plan shall require the surface impoundment, and any surrounding soils contaminated by the impoundment, to be returned to a nonhazardous condition within five years of initiating closure.

(E) The owner or operator has submitted to the department and to the California regional water quality control board documentation demonstrating full compliance with subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D).

(2) Upon discovering that, or receiving notification that, a surface impoundment certified for the fee rate specified in this subdivision has leaked or overflowed, and that there is migration into the vadose zone or into the waters of the state, the owner or operator of the surface impoundment shall report the migration to the department and the California regional water quality control board within 24 hours after the migration or unauthorized release has been detected.

The owner or operator shall transmit a full written report to the department and the regional board within five working days after the detection of the migration. The reporting requirements imposed by this paragraph are in addition to any requirements which may be imposed by Section 13271 of the Water Code. Unless the regional board, or its executive officer, determines that the presence of the hazardous waste constituents in the migration do not pose any short-term or long-term, present or potential, hazards to human health or the environment, the regional board shall issue a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code prohibiting any discharge into the surface impoundment and shall take any other actions which are necessary.

(3) After a surface impoundment has been the subject of a report specified in paragraph (2), the fee rate specified in this subdivision for hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, into that surface impoundment shall not apply and the fees shall be calculated pursuant to subdivision (a). The fee rate specified in this subdivision may again be applied to the hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, into the surface impoundment only after the department and the California regional water quality control board determines that hazardous constituents are no longer migrating from the surface impoundment, and that there is no significant potential for them to migrate from the surface impoundment into the vadose zone or into the waters of the state, so that the presence of the hazardous constituents poses, or would pose, a present or potential hazard to human health or the environment.

(4) Hazardous waste, as used in this subdivision, includes restricted hazardous waste.

(d) All fees imposed by this section shall be paid in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 5. Section 25174.7 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25174.7. (a) The fees provided for in Sections 25174.1, 25174.6, and 25205.5 do not apply to any of the following:

(1) Hazardous wastes which result when a state or local agency, or its contractor, removes or remedies a release of hazardous waste caused by another person. This paragraph applies to all acts performed by a state or local agency, or its contractor, on or after July 1, 1984.

(2) Hazardous wastes generated or disposed of by state or local agencies operating a household hazardous waste collection program.

(3) Hazardous wastes generated or disposed of by local vector control agencies which have entered into a cooperative agreement pursuant to Section 2426 or by county agricultural commissioners, if the hazardous wastes result from their control or regulatory activities and if they comply with the requirements of this chapter and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

(b) This section does not prevent the department from recovering an amount equal to the full cost of the fees specified in Sections 25174.1 and 25174.6 from any person responsible for a release of hazardous waste which has been removed or remedied by a state or local agency, or its contractor. This section does not limit the department's remedies pursuant to any other provision of law.

(c) Any person who acquires land for the sole purpose of owner-occupied single-family residential use, and who acquires that land without actual or constructive notice or knowledge that there is a tank containing hazardous waste on or under that property, is exempt from the fees imposed pursuant to Sections 25174.1, 25205.5, and 25345, in connection with the removal of the tank.

SEC. 6. Section 25205.2 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25205.2. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c), in addition to the fees specified in Section 25174.1, each operator of a facility shall pay a facility fee for each state fiscal year, or any portion thereof, to the board based on the size and type of the facility, as specified in Section 25205.4. The department shall notify the board of all known facility operators by facility type and size at the time it establishes the facility fees pursuant to Section 25205.3. The department shall also notify the board of any operator issued a permit or grant of interim status within 30 days after a permit or grant of interim status is issued to the operator.

(b) The board shall deposit all fees collected pursuant to subdivision (a) in the Hazardous Waste Control Account in the General Fund. The fees so deposited may be expended by the department, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for the purposes specified in subdivision (b) of Section 25174.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), a person who is issued a variance by the department from the requirement of obtaining a hazardous waste facilities permit or grant of interim status, or a person who is in a closure period approved by the department pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) and Article 12 (commencing with Section 25245), is not subject to the fee, for any fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the variance or closure was granted or approved by the department or in any fiscal year in which the facility has completed all activities necessary for the facility to be closed in accordance with the approved closure plan, including, but not limited to, submittal of a certification that these activities are completed to the department.

SEC. 7. Section 25205.6 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25205.6. (a) On or before November 1 of each year, the department shall provide the board with a schedule of two digit SIC codes, as defined in subdivision (o) of Section 25501, as established by the United States Department of Commerce, that consists of corporations which use, generate, store, or conduct activities in this state related to hazardous materials, as defined in subdivision (j) of Section 25501, including, but not limited to, hazardous waste.

(b) Each corporation identified in the schedule adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) shall pay an annual fee, which shall be set at one hundred dollars ($100) for those corporations with 50 or more employees but less than 100 employees, five hundred dollars ($500) for corporations with 100 or more, but less than 500 employees, and one thousand dollars ($1,000) for corporations with 500 employees or more.

(c) The fee imposed pursuant to this section shall be paid by each corporation which is identified in the schedule adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and shall be deposited in the Hazardous Waste Control Account. The revenues shall be available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, to cover the costs of implementing this chapter.

(d) For purposes of this section, the number of employees employed by a corporation is the number of persons employed more than 500 hours during the previous calendar year.

SEC. 8. Section 25205.7 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25205.7. (a) The board shall assess a fee for any application for a new hazardous waste facilities permit, a permit for a hazardous waste facility which would manage extremely hazardous waste, a variance, or a permit modification issued by the department pursuant to this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter. The board shall also assess a fee for any hazardous waste facility which intends to operate pursuant to a permit by regulation governed by this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, which shall be due and payable upon the facility's notification to the department of its intent to operate in this manner. Except as provided in subdivision (i), the board shall not assess a fee pursuant to this section for an application for a hazardous waste facilities permit for a hazardous waste facility which has been previously operating pursuant to a grant of interim status pursuant to Section 25200.5. The fee shall be nonrefundable, even if the application is withdrawn or the permit, variance, or certification is denied. The department shall provide the board with any information which is necessary to assess fees pursuant to this section. The fee shall be collected in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and deposited into the Hazardous Waste Control Account. A hazardous waste facility which is assessed a fee pursuant to more than one of subdivisions (c) to (i), inclusive, shall pay only the higher fee.

(b) The amounts stated in this section shall be base rates for the 1989–90 fiscal year. Thereafter the fees shall be adjusted annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living, as measured by the Consumer Price Index for the United States, as reported by the Department of Labor or a successor agency of the United States government. The fee shall be assessed upon application or notification to the department.

(c) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a land disposal facility shall pay eighty-three thousand dollars ($83,000) for a small facility, one hundred seventy-seven thousand dollars ($177,000) for a medium facility, and three hundred four thousand dollars ($304,000) for a large facility.

(d) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for any incinerator for which the permit was required on or before July 1, 1989, shall pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for a small facility, one hundred six thousand dollars ($106,000) for a medium facility, and one hundred eighty-two thousand dollars ($182,000) for a large facility. A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for any other incinerator shall pay a fee in accordance with subdivision (e). If the application was submitted before July 1, 1989, the fees specified in this subdivision shall not apply, and the fees specified in subdivision (e) shall instead apply.

(e) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a storage facility, a treatment facility, or a storage and treatment facility shall pay seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000) for a small facility, thirty-one thousand dollars ($31,000) for a medium facility, and sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for a large facility.

(f) A person submitting a hazardous waste facilities permit application for a transportable treatment unit shall pay thirteen thousand dollars ($13,000) for a small unit, thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) for a medium unit, and sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for a large unit.

(g) A person submitting a request for a variance shall pay three thousand dollars ($3,000) for a variance from any hazardous waste storage requirements imposed by this chapter, three hundred dollars ($300) for a variance issued pursuant to Section 25179.8, three hundred dollars ($300) for a variance to allow the use of a test method or analytical method which is an alternative to the methods prescribed by regulation for use in classifying a waste eight hundred dollars ($800) for a variance from the requirements for hazardous waste haulers imposed by this chapter, and eight thousand dollars ($8,000) for all other variances. If the variance application requests a variance from more than one specific statute or regulation, a separate fee may be assessed for each statute or regulation from which the variance is requested.

(h) A person notifying the department that a facility intends to conform with the requirements for a permit by regulation shall pay one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(i) A person applying for approval of an application to manage extremely hazardous waste shall pay two hundred dollars ($200), in addition to any other fee imposed by this section.

(j) (1) A person requesting a permit modification shall pay a fee equal to 70 percent of the fee for a new hazardous waste facilities permit for that facility, or 50 percent of the fee for a new permit for a land disposal facility or an incinerator, if the department's regulations require public notice and public comment before that modification may go into effect.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), a person requesting any other permit modification not subject to paragraph (1) shall pay a fee of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500).

(3) A facility which applies for a new hazardous waste facilities permit, and which has been previously operating pursuant to a grant of interim status, or a facility which applies to renew a hazardous waste facilities permit, shall pay the fee specified in paragraph (1) if the applicant requests any modification for which, if the facility was permitted, the department's regulations would require public notice and public comment before the modification could go into effect.

(k) For purposes of this section, and notwithstanding Section 25205.1, any facility or unit is "small" if it manages 0.5 tons (1,000 pounds) or less of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year, "medium" if it manages more than 0.5 tons (1,000 pounds), but less than 1,000 tons, of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year, and "large" if it manages 1,000 or more tons of hazardous waste during any one month of the state's current fiscal year.

(l) The fees assessed pursuant to this section do not apply to any permit or variance to operate a research, development, and demonstration facility, if the duration of the permit or variance is not longer than one year, unless the permit or variance is renewed pursuant to the regulations adopted by the department. For purposes of this section, a "research, development, and demonstration facility" is a facility which proposes to utilize an innovative and experimental hazardous waste treatment technology or process for which regulations prescribing permit standards have not been adopted.

(m) The fees assessed pursuant to this section do not apply to any variance issued to a local government agency to transport wastes for purposes of operating a household hazardous waste facility.

SEC. 9. Section 25205.8 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25205.8. (a) The board shall assess a fee of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) upon a person requesting the department to classify a waste as hazardous or nonhazardous. The board shall assess a fee of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each additional classification request for the same stream of waste requested by the same person. The department shall notify the board at the time the request for classification is made. The fee shall be assessed by the board for request pending at the time the act adding this section goes into effect. The department shall provide the board with any information which is necessary to assess fees pursuant to this section. The fee shall be collected in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and deposited into the Hazardous Waste Control Account.

(b) The amount stated in this section shall be a base rate for the 1989–90 fiscal year. Thereafter, the department shall adjust the base rate annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living, as measured by the Consumer Price Index for the United States, as reported by the Department of Labor or a successor agency of the United States government.

(c) The fees assessed pursuant to this section do not apply to any waste classification request made for use by a research, development, and demonstration facility, as defined in subdivision (k) of Section 25205.7.

SEC. 10. Section 25313.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25313.5. "Extra-large site" means a hazardous substance release site which the department estimates will cost more than five million dollars ($5,000,000) for completion of a remedial investigation and a feasibility study, or more than twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) for the full implementation of all removal and remedial actions, except operation and maintenance.

SEC. 11. Section 25317.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25317.5. "Large site" means a hazardous substance release site which the department estimates will cost more than one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000), but less than five million dollars ($5,000,000), for completion of a remedial investigation and a feasibility study, or more than five million dollars ($5,000,000), but less than twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), for the full implementation of all removal and remedial actions, except operation and maintenance.

SEC. 12. Section 25318 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25318. "Medium site" means a hazardous substance release site which the department estimates will cost more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), but less than one million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000), for completion of a remedial investigation and a feasibility study, or more than one million dollars ($1,000,000), but less than five million dollars ($5,000,000), for full implementation of all removal and remedial actions, except operation and maintenance.

SEC. 13. Section 25318.5 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25318.5. (a) "Operation and maintenance" means those activities initiated or continued following completion of a remedial or removal action that are deemed necessary by the department to protect the public health and environment and achieve or maintain the abatement goals established by the final remedial action plan.

(b) A "small operation and maintenance activity" means an activity or group of activities conducted at a site with an annual operation cost, exclusive of original construction cost, of less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

(c) A "medium operation and maintenance activity" means an activity or group of activities being conducted at a site with an annual operation cost, exclusive of original construction cost, of at least five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), but less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(d) A "large operation and maintenance activity" means an activity or group of activities being conducted at a site with an annual operation cost, exclusive of original construction cost, of at least one million dollars ($1,000,000), but less than five million dollars ($5,000,000).

(e) An "extra-large operation and maintenance activity" means an activity or group of activities being conducted at a site with an annual operational cost, exclusive of original construction cost, of at least five million dollars ($5,000,000).

SEC. 14. Section 25334 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25334. There is within the state account, the Hazardous Substance Clearing Account, which shall be used to pay the principal of, and interest on, bonds sold pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 25385). Notwithstanding Section 25351, all of the following moneys shall be deposited in the Hazardous Substance Clearing Account for the payment of the principal of, and interest on, bonds:

(a) Transfers from the Superfund Bond Trust Fund made pursuant to Section 25385.8.

(b) Amounts received pursuant to Sections 25356.4 and 25360, as specified in those sections, if the expenditures for removal or remedial actions were paid from the proceeds of the bonds sold pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 25385).

(c) Federal moneys received pursuant to the federal act which are designated to be used for removal or remedial actions paid for by proceeds from the bonds issued pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 25385).

(d) Any moneys appropriated by the Legislature for the payment of the principal of, and interest on, these bonds.

(e) Any moneys derived from the premiums and accrued interest on these bonds.

SEC. 15. Section 25342 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25342. Every person who submitted for disposal or who disposed of in the state or outside of the state, or who submitted for treatment at a location outside of the state, more than 500 pounds of hazardous waste in the state during the preceding calendar year shall report to the board the following information on forms prescribed by the board:

(a) The total amount of hazardous waste, as defined by Section 25117, the federal regulation of which has been suspended under the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.) by act of Congress, which that person has disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state or outside of the state, plus the total amount of hazardous waste, which that person has transferred to a surface impoundment for purposes of reducing the water content of the waste and material by evaporation, plus the total amount of hazardous waste disposed of into an injection well or landfarm, as defined in subdivision (g) of Section 25345, exclusive of that waste specified in subdivisions (d) and (e).

(b) The total amount of hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state or outside of the state, by that person, exclusive of that waste specified in subdivisions (a), (c), (d), and (e).

(c) The total amount of extremely hazardous waste disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state or outside of the state, by that person, exclusive of that waste specified in subdivisions (a), (b), (d), and (e).

(d) The total amount of hazardous or extremely hazardous waste that person has disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state or outside of the state, from the extraction, beneficiation, and processing of ores and minerals, including phosphate rock and overburden from mining of uranium ore.

(e) The total amount of hazardous waste that person has disposed of, or submitted for disposal, in the state that is a solid hazardous waste residue resulting from incineration or dechlorination.

(f) Persons submitting hazardous waste for treatment at a location outside of the state shall report, according to the categories set forth in subdivisions (a) to (d), inclusive, the total amount of hazardous waste residue resulting from that treatment which requires disposal.

SEC. 16. Section 25345 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25345. (a) There is hereby imposed a tax, payable annually, and to be collected by the board, upon each ton or fraction thereof, of waste and material specified in Section 25342, for which the base rate is fifty-two dollars and fifty cents ($52.50) per ton. The base rate for a calendar year is the rate applied to waste and material specified in Section 25342 for each calendar year.

(b) The base rate specified in subdivision (a) shall apply to the 1989 to 1993, inclusive, calendar years. Commencing with calendar year 1994, and each year thereafter, the board shall adjust the base rate annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living, as measured by the Consumer Price Index issued by the United States Department of Labor or by a successor agency of the United States government.

(c) The tax imposed upon each person who submitted for disposal, or who disposed of, more than 500 pounds of hazardous waste in the state, that is reported pursuant to Section 25342 shall be assessed according to the following formula:

$$\text{Tax} = (\text{base tax rate}) \times (0.15P_1 + P_2 + 2P_3 + 0.01P_4 + 0.05P_5)$$

where:

(1) "Base tax rate" equals the figure determined pursuant to subdivision (b).

(2) P_1 is the amount in tons of waste and material specified by the person pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 25342.

(3) P_2 is the amount in tons of waste specified by the person pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 25342.

(4) P_3 is the total amount in tons of waste specified by the person pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 25342.

(5) P_4 is the total amount in tons of waste specified by the person pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 25342.

(6) P_5 is the total amount in tons of waste specified by the person pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 25342.

(d) The tax specified in this subdivision is imposed upon each person who submits for transportation to a location outside of the state more than 500 pounds of hazardous waste in each calendar year that is reported pursuant to Section 25342. The tax per ton, or fraction thereof, of hazardous waste so reported is as follows:

(1) Thirty-five percent of the base rate for the 1989–90 fiscal year.

(2) Forty percent of the base rate for the 1990–91 fiscal year.

Forty-five percent of the base rate after the 1990–91 fiscal year if a new hazardous waste disposal facility is permitted pursuant to Section 25200, or 40 percent of the base rate if no new facility is permitted.

(e) On or before March 1 of each year, each person subject to Section 25342 shall file an annual return and pay the proper amount of tax due. The tax under this chapter shall not be imposed again on hazardous waste or extremely hazardous waste if the waste, or any portion thereof, is removed subsequently to another place for disposal and if the person has paid the tax for the waste in accordance with this section before the removal thereof.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, hazardous wastes disposed of into an injection well during the 1981 calendar year shall be subject to a tax rate that does not exceed 26.4 percent of the base tax rate, as determined in subdivision (a), as it read on January 1, 1984, per ton or fraction thereof.

(g) For purposes of this article, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Injection well" means a bored, drilled, or driven shaft, whose depth is greater than the largest surface dimension, and which is used to inject hazardous waste into an underground formation. Injection well does not mean any well located in class I or a class II–I disposal site, as defined in Sections 2510 and 2511 of Title 23 of the California Administrative Code, on September 25, 1981.

(2) "Formation" means a body of rock characterized by a degree of lithologic homogeneity which is prevailingly, but not necessarily, tabular and is mappable on the earth's surface or traceable in the subsurface.

(3) "Landfarm" means a waste management technique, conducted within a hazardous waste facility which has received a hazardous waste facilities permit or has obtained interim status pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) of Chapter 6.5, or pursuant to Section 6925 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

This waste management technique consists of applying oily wastes, biodegradable wastes, or both wastes onto land and incorporating them into the surface of the soil and, by controlling critical parameters of alkalinity and acidity, moisture content, and soil texture, enhancing the aerobic biodegradation of the waste into carbon dioxide, water, and humus. Landfarming is a managed process which changes the physical, chemical, or biological composition of hydrocarbon wastes, and it does not include any other land disposal practices, including, but not limited to, landfilling or codisposal.

SEC. 17. Section 25345.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25345.3. (a) Any person, or the person's contractor, which removes or remedies a release, by another person, of hazardous waste is not subject to the requirements of Sections 25342 and 25345 with respect to that removal or remedial action.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), the person responsible for a release of hazardous waste, which has been removed or remedied by a state or local agency, or its contractor, shall submit to the board the information required by Section 25342 for the hazardous waste which was released and shall also pay the tax provided in Section 25345.

(c) On and after July 1, 1984, persons responsible for a release of hazardous waste, which has been removed or remedied before September 30, 1990, pursuant to a remedial action plan issued pursuant to Section 25356.1, are not subject to the requirements of Sections 25342 and 25345, and the hazardous waste so removed is not subject to the fee specified in Section 25174.1, with respect to that removal or remedial action, if the original release did not result from willful misconduct by the responsible persons.

SEC. 18. Section 25347.2 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25347.2. The Director of Finance shall schedule in the annual Budget Act the projects proposed in any fiscal year, which will incur direct costs for removal and remedial actions at hazardous substance release sites.

SEC. 19. Section 25347.6 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25347.6. (a) On and after July 1, 1989, the State Board of Equalization shall assess a fee upon a potentially responsible party for the costs incurred by the department in connection with the oversight of any removal or remedial action taken by that party pursuant to Section 25355.5 or any action taken by that party pursuant to an order issued pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 25358.3. The fee is in addition to the costs incurred for the removal or remediation which are not oversight costs, and shall be recovered pursuant to Section 25360. The fees shall be collected in accordance with Part 22 (commencing with Section 43001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and deposited into the state account.

(b) A potentially responsible party shall pay the fee imposed pursuant to this section prior to the commencement of the action for which the oversight occurs. The amounts of the fee specified in this section are base rates for the 1989–90 fiscal year. Thereafter, the State Board of Equalization shall adjust the fee annually to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of living, as measured by the Consumer Price Index issued by the Department of Labor or a successor agency of the United States government.

(c) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee of five thousand dollars ($5,000) to pay for the costs of those actions deemed necessary by the department to accurately estimate the size and complexity of a hazardous substance release site to establish the fee imposed pursuant to subdivisions (d) to (j), inclusive.

(d) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for a preliminary endangerment assessment of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500).

(e) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for oversight of a removal action of fourteen thousand five hundred dollars ($14,500) for a small removal action, thirty-seven thousand dollars ($37,000) for a medium removal action, seventy-three thousand five hundred dollars ($73,500) for a large removal action, and one hundred forty-seven thousand dollars ($147,000) for an extra-large removal action.

(f) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for oversight of a remedial investigation and a feasibility study of twenty-one thousand five hundred dollars ($21,500) for a small site, forty-three thousand dollars ($43,000) for a medium site, eighty-five thousand five hundred dollars ($85,500) for a large site, and two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for an extra-large site.

(g) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for oversight of a remedial action plan of four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500) for a small site, nine thousand dollars ($9,000) for a medium site, eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000) for a large site, and thirty-eight thousand dollars ($38,000) for an extra-large site.

(h) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for oversight of a remedial design of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) for a small site, fourteen thousand five hundred dollars ($14,500) for a medium site, twenty-nine thousand dollars ($29,000) for a large site, and eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) for an extra-large site.

(i) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee for the oversight of a final remedial action of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for a small site, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for a medium site, forty thousand dollars ($40,000) for a large site, and one hundred six thousand dollars ($106,000) for an extra-large site.

(j) A potentially responsible party shall pay a fee per year for oversight and monitoring of ongoing operation and maintenance activities of six thousand dollars ($6,000) for a small operation and maintenance activity, twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) for a medium operation and maintenance activity, twenty-four thousand dollars ($24,000) for a large operation and maintenance activity, and thirty-four thousand dollars ($34,000) for an extra-large operation and maintenance activity.

(k) (1) Fees for any oversight activity being performed on July 1, 1989, or any subsequent date, shall be assessed pursuant to this section and Section 25347.7, even if the activity began prior to July 1, 1989. If the activity began prior to July 1, 1989, the fees shall be payable within 60 days after the effective date of the act adding this section. This section shall not apply to activities for which work has been completed prior to July 1, 1989.

(2) If there is a conflict between this subdivision and Section 25347.7 and the provisions of any agreement entered into pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 25355.5 prior to the effective date of the act adding this section, the agreement shall prevail, unless the agreement is modified as allowed by its terms or by mutual consent of all parties.

(3) Any order or agreement entered into for removal or remedial action may be modified by consent of all parties to assess the fees listed in this section in place of any provisions for charges or cost recovery contained in the order of agreement.

(l) Notwithstanding this section, a potentially responsible party shall pay the State Board of Equalization a fee equal to the actual costs of the department's costs of oversight, in advance of the oversight for removal or remedial activities which is done, pursuant to an agreement, if the site is not listed pursuant to Section 25356, except the potentially responsible party is not required to pay for the costs of any activities necessary and incidental to entering the agreement, which shall be reimbursed pursuant to the agreement.

(m) (1) The department may reclassify a site as to size, as warranted by new information supplied by the department, but this reclassification shall not result in a change in the amount of fees for oversight of any activity which has been completed or is underway.

(2) If a site may be classified as two sizes pursuant to Sections 25313.5, 25317.5, 25318, and 25326.6, it shall be classified as the larger of those sizes.

(n) Notwithstanding this section, the department may waive the fees imposed by this section for any hazardous substance release site owned and operated by an agency of the federal government, if the department has entered into an agreement with that agency for the payment of fees in an amount different from the amounts specified in this section.

SEC. 20. Section 25347.7 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

25347.7. (a) A potentially responsible party is liable for reimbursing the state account or the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund for all expenditures associated with the identification, characterization, and remediation of hazardous substance release sites, including interest and administrative costs, pursuant to Section 25360, for any of these activities which occur before July 1, 1989. The department shall prorate the fees charged by the department pursuant to Section 25347.6 for an activity or phase of activity initiated, but not completed, prior to July 1, 1989, pursuant to this section.

(b) The department shall divide the fee for an activity or phase of activity specified in Section 25347.6 by the number of months estimated by the department to be required to conduct the activity or phase of activity to establish a monthly fee quotient. The department may apply the monthly fee quotient in either of the following ways to establish the prorated fee:

(1) The department may subtract that portion of an activity or phase of activity completed prior to July 1, 1989, from the total number of months estimated by the department to be required to conduct the activity or phase of activity and then multiply the remainder by the monthly fee quotient to establish the prorated fee.

(2) The department may estimate the number of months required to complete an activity or phase of activity and multiply that figure by the monthly fee quotient to establish the prorated fee.

(c) For purposes of making the estimates as are necessary to prorate fees, the department may use the following time periods as guidelines to establish the time periods necessary to complete the various activities and phases of activity specified in Section 25347.6 for which fees are assessed:

(1) The time period required to estimate site size for fee assessment purposes is three months.

(2) The time period required to conduct preliminary endangerment assessments is three months.

(3) The time period required to conduct removal actions is four months for small actions, six months for medium actions, 12 months for large actions, and 24 months for extra-large actions.

(4) The time period required to conduct remedial investigations and feasibility studies is nine months for small sites, 17 months for medium sites, 33 months for large sites, and 60 months for extra-large sites.

(5) The time period required to prepare remedial action plans is three months for small sites, three months for medium sites, six months for large sites, and nine months for extra-large sites.

(6) The time period required to prepare remedial design is two months for small sites, three months for medium sites, six months for large sites, and 12 months for extra-large sites.

(7) The time period required to conduct final remedial actions is deemed to be four months for small sites, eight months for medium sites, 20 months for large sites, and 40 months for extra-large sites.

(8) Ongoing operation and maintenance activities are deemed to be conducted 12 months per year.

SEC. 21. Section 25358.3 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statute of 1989, is amended to read:

25358.3. (a) Whenever the director determines that there may be an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health or welfare or to the environment, because of a release or a threatened release of a hazardous substance, the director may do any or all of the following:

(1) Order any responsible party or parties to take appropriate removal or remedial action necessary to protect the public health and safety and the environment. No order under this section shall be made to an owner of real property solely on the basis of that ownership as specified in Sections 101(35) and 107(b) of the federal act (42 U.S.C. Secs. 9601(35) and 9607(b)).

(2) Take or contract for any necessary removal or remedial action.

(3) Request the Attorney General to secure the relief as may be necessary to abate the danger or threat. The superior court of the county in which the threat or danger occurs shall have jurisdiction to grant the relief which the public interest and equities of the case may require to protect public health and welfare and the environment.

(b) When the director determines that a release of a hazardous substance has occurred or is about to occur, the director may do any or all of the following:

(1) Undertake those investigations, monitoring, surveys, testing, and other information gathering necessary to identify the existence, source, nature, and extent of the hazardous substances involved and the extent of danger to the public health or environment.

(2) Undertake those planning, legal, fiscal, economic, engineering, architectural, and other studies or investigations which are necessary or appropriate to plan and direct response actions, to recover the cost of those actions, and to enforce this chapter.

(c) Whenever there is a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance into the environment, the director may take or contract for any necessary removal or remedial action and may take or contract for any actions authorized by subdivision (b), in compliance with the provisions of this chapter, including, but not limited to, subdivision (b) of Section 25355.

(d) Any person bidding for a contract specified in subdivision (c) shall submit a disclosure statement, as specified by Section 25112.5, except for a federal, state, or local agency. The director may prohibit a person from bidding on such a contract if the director makes any of the following determinations:

(1) The director determines, in writing, that the bidder, or, if the bidder is a business entity, any trustee, officer, director, partner, or any person holding more than 5 percent of the equity in or debt liability of that business entity, has engaged in activities resulting in any federal or state conviction which are significantly related to the fitness of the bidder to perform the bidder's duties or activities under the contract. For purposes of this paragraph, "conviction" means a plea or verdict of guilty or a conviction following a plea of nolo contendere. Any action which the department may take pursuant to this subdivision relating to the department's refusal to permit a person to bid on the contract may be based upon a conviction for which any of the following has occurred:

(A) The time for appeal has elapsed.

(B) The judgment of conviction has been affirmed on appeal.

(C) Any order granting probation is made suspending the imposition of sentence, notwithstanding a subsequent order pursuant to Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code permitting that person to withdraw the plea of guilty and to enter a plea of not guilty, or setting aside the verdict of guilty, or dismissing the accusation, information, or indictment.

(2) The director determines, in writing, that the bidder, or, if the bidder is a business entity, any trustee, officer, director, partner, or any person holding more than 5 percent of the equity in or debt liability of that business entity, has violated or failed to comply with this chapter or Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) or Chapter 6.7 (commencing with Section 25280) of this division, the Porter-Cologne Water Quality Control Act (Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code), the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.), the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, as amended (49 U.S.C. Sec. 1801 et seq.), the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sec. 9601 et seq.), the Toxic Substances Control Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 2601 et seq.), or any other equivalent federal or state statute or any requirement or regulation adopted pursuant thereto relating to the generation, transportation, treatment, storage, recycling, disposal, or handling of a hazardous waste, as defined in Section 25117, a hazardous substance, as defined in Section 25316, or a hazardous material, as defined in Section 353 of the Vehicle Code, if the violation or failure to comply shows a repeating or recurring pattern or may pose a threat to public health or safety or the environment.

(3) The director determines, in writing, that the bidder has had a license, permit, or registration for the generation, transportation, treatment, storage, recycling, disposal, or handling of hazardous waste or hazardous substances revoked or suspended.

SEC. 22. Section 25400 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25400. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that a threat to the public health and safety exists wherever there is a discharge, spill, or presence of hazardous substances on public or private property; and that public entities, county public health directors, public safety employees, members of radiation emergency screening teams formed pursuant to Section 25574, persons authorized by a public entity, or registered sanitarian employees should be encouraged to abate those hazards, and to that end a qualified immunity from liability should be provided for public entities, county public health directors, public safety employees, members of radiation emergency screening teams formed pursuant to Section 25574, persons authorized by a public entity, or registered sanitarian employees.

(b) Except as provided in Article 1 (commencing with Section 17000) of Chapter 1 of Division 9 of the Vehicle Code, a public entity, county public health director, a public safety employee, a member of a radiation emergency screening team formed pursuant to Section 25574, a person authorized by a public entity, or a registered sanitarian employee shall not be liable for any injury or property damage caused by an act or omission taken by a county public health director, a public safety employee, a member of a radiation emergency screening team formed pursuant to Section 25574, a person authorized by a public entity, or a registered sanitarian employee acting within the scope of employment to abate or attempt to abate hazards reasonably believed to be an imminent peril to public health and safety caused by the discharge, spill, or presence of a hazardous substance, unless the act taken or omission was performed in bad faith or in a grossly negligent manner.

(c) For the purposes of this section, it shall be presumed that the act or omission was performed in good faith and without gross negligence. This presumption shall be one affecting the burden of proof.

(d) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Hazardous substance" means a substance that presents a threat to the public because of its toxicity, radioactivity, flammability, or other characteristic dangerous to the public health or the environment.

(2) "Imminent peril" includes a peril which, if not mitigated, threatens the public health or welfare, or the environment.

(3) "Person authorized by a public agency" includes a person from whom services are contracted by a public agency.

(4) "Public safety employee" means any person who is a public entity employee and whose principal duties include law enforcement, fire protection, fire prevention, or the enforcement of regulations relating to facilities or sites where hazardous substances are stored or handled.

(5) "Registered sanitarian employee" means a person who is registered pursuant to Section 520 and who is a paid employee of a state or local public entity.

(e) It is not the intent of this section to impair any cause of action against the person, firm, or entity creating the spill, discharge, or presence of the hazardous material giving rise to the response of the public entity, county public health director, public safety employee, member of a radiation screening team formed pursuant to Section 25574, person authorized by a public entity, or registered sanitarian employee.

(f) The immunity for county public health directors or registered sanitarian employees provided by this section shall apply only where the person, at the request of a public entity or public safety employee in charge of scene management, provides emergency assistance or advice at the scene of the peril in mitigating or attempting to mitigate the effects of an actual or threatened discharge, spill, or presence of a hazardous substance on private or public property. The request issued by the scene manager shall be confirmed by that person in a written report of the incident.

SEC. 23. Section 43053 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

43053. The fees imposed pursuant to Sections 25205.2, 25205.5, 25205.6, 25205.7, and 25205.8, of the Health and Safety Code shall be administered and collected by the board in accordance with this part.

SEC. 24. Section 43054 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

43054. The fees imposed pursuant to Section 25347.6 of the Health and Safety Code shall be administered and collected by the board in accordance with this part.

SEC. 25. Section 43151 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

43151. The fee imposed pursuant to Section 25174.1 of the Health and Safety Code which is a tax collected and administered under Section 43051 are due and payable to the board quarterly on or before the last day of the calendar month following the quarterly period for which the tax is due. Each taxpayer, on or before the last day of the month following the quarterly period for which the tax is due, shall make out a tax return for the preceding quarterly period, in the form as prescribed by the board, showing the total amount of hazardous waste and solid waste subject to each tax, the amount of tax for the period covered by the return, and any other information that the board deems necessary. The taxpayer shall deliver the return, together with a remittance of the amount of tax due, to the office of the board on or before the last day of the month following the quarterly period for which the tax is due.

With the approval of the board, a taxpayer who has more than one facility subject to the taxes collected and administered under this chapter, may file a combined tax return covering operations at more than one, or all, of those facilities.

SEC. 26. Section 43152.6 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

43152.6. The fee imposed pursuant to Section 25205.2 of the Health and Safety Code which is collected and administered under Section 43053 of this code is due and payable to the board in two equal installments, on or before November 1 and April 1 of each fiscal year.

SEC. 27. Section 43152.10 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

43152 10. The fees imposed pursuant to Sections 25205.7, 25205.8, and 25347.6 of the Health and Safety Code, which are collected and administered under Sections 43053 and 43054, are due and payable within 30 days after the date of assessment and the feepayer shall deliver a remittance of the amount of the assessed fee to the office of the board within that 30-day period.

SEC. 28. Section 43551 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

43551. All taxes, interest, and penalties imposed and all amounts of tax required to be paid to the state pursuant to Section 43053, shall be paid to the board in the form of remittances payable to the State Board of Equalization of the State of California. The board shall transmit the payments to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Hazardous Waste Control Account.

SEC. 29. Section 43552 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

43552. All taxes, interest, and penalties imposed and all amounts of tax required to be paid to the state pursuant to Sections 43051, 43052, and 43054 shall be paid to the board in the form of remittances payable to the State Board of Equalization of the State of California. The board shall transmit the payments to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Hazardous Substance Account.

SEC. 30. Section 13391 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

13391. (a) The state board shall formulate and adopt a water quality control plan for enclosed bays and estuaries, which shall be known as the California Enclosed Bays and Estuaries Plan, in accordance with the procedures established by this division for adopting water quality control plans.

(b) As part of its formulation and adoption of the California Enclosed Bays and Estuaries Plan, the state board shall review and update the Water Quality Control Policy for Enclosed Bays and Estuaries of California, as adopted in 1974 pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 13140) of Chapter 3, and incorporate the results of that review and update in the California Enclosed Bays and Estuaries Plan.

(c) State and regional offices, departments, boards and agencies shall fully implement the California Enclosed Bays and Estuaries Plan. Pending adoption of the California Enclosed Bays and Estuaries Plan by the state board, state and regional offices, departments, boards and agencies shall fully implement the Water Quality Control Policy for Enclosed Bays and Estuaries of California.

(d) Each regional board shall review and, if necessary, revise waste discharge requirements that are inconsistent with those policies and principles.

SEC. 31. Section 13391.5 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

13391.5. The definitions set forth in this section govern the construction of this chapter.

(a) "Enclosed bays" means indentations along the coast which enclose an area of oceanic water within distinct headlands or harbor works. "Enclosed bays" include all bays where the narrowest distance between the headlands or outermost harbor works is less than 75 percent of the greatest dimension of the enclosed portion of the bay. "Enclosed bays" include, but are not limited to, Humboldt Bay, Bodega Harbor, Tomales Bay, Drake's Estero, San Francisco Bay, Morro Bay, Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor, Upper and Lower Newport Bay, Mission Bay, and San Diego Bay. For the purposes of identifying, characterizing, and ranking toxic hot spots pursuant to this chapter, Monterey Bay and Santa Monica Bay shall also be considered to be enclosed bays.

(b) "Estuaries" means waters, including coastal lagoons, located at the mouths of streams which serve as mixing zones for fresh and ocean waters. Coastal lagoons and mouths of streams which are temporarily separated from the ocean by sandbars shall be considered as estuaries. Estuarine waters shall be considered to extend from a bay or the open ocean to a point upstream where there is no significant mixing of fresh water and sea water. Estuarine waters include, but are not limited to, the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, as defined in Section 12220, Suisun Bay, Carquinez Strait downstream to the Carquinez Bridge, and appropriate areas of the Smith, Mad, Eel, Noyo, Russian, Klamath, San Diego, and Otay Rivers.

(c) "Health risk assessment" means an analysis which evaluates and quantifies the potential human exposure to a pollutant that bioaccumulates or may bioaccumulate in edible fish, shellfish, or wildlife. "Health risk assessment" shall include an analysis of both individual and population wide health risks associated with anticipated levels of human exposure, including potential synergistic effects of toxic pollutants and impacts on sensitive populations.

(d) "Sediment quality objective" means that level of a constituent in sediment which is established with an adequate margin of safety, for the reasonable protection of the beneficial uses of water or the prevention of nuisances.

(e) "Toxic hot spots" means locations in enclosed bays, estuaries, or any adjacent waters in the "contiguous zone" or the "ocean," as defined in Section 502 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1362), the pollution or contamination of which affects the interests of the state, and where hazardous substances have accumulated in the water or sediment to levels which (1) may pose a substantial present or potential hazard to aquatic life, wildlife, fisheries, or human health, or (2) may adversely affect the beneficial uses of the bay, estuary, or ocean waters as defined in water quality control plans, or (3) exceeds adopted water quality or sediment quality objectives. For purposes of this chapter, "hazardous substances" shall have the same meaning as in subdivision (d) of Section 25281 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 32. Section 13392.5 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

13392.5. (a) Each regional board which has regulatory authority for one or more enclosed bays or estuaries shall, by January 1, 1992, develop for each enclosed bay or estuary, a consolidated data base which identifies and describes all known and suspected toxic hot spots. Each regional board shall, in consultation with the state board, also develop an ongoing monitoring and surveillance program that includes, but is not limited to, the following components:

(1) Establishment of a monitoring and surveillance task force that includes representation from agencies, including, but not limited to, the State Department of Health Services and the Department of Fish and Game, that routinely monitor water quality, sediment, and aquatic life.

(2) Suggested guidelines to promote standardized analytical methodologies and consistency in data reporting.

(3) Identification of additional monitoring and analyses that are needed to develop a complete toxic hot spot assessment for each enclosed bay and estuary.

(b) Each regional board shall make available to state and local agencies and the public all information contained in the consolidated data base, as well as the results of new monitoring and surveillance data.

SEC. 33. Section 13392.6 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

13392.6. (a) On or before July 1, 1991, the state board shall adopt and submit to the Legislature a workplan for the adoption of sediment quality objectives for toxic pollutants that have been identified in known or suspected toxic hot spots and for toxic pollutants that have been identified by the state board or a regional board as a pollutant of concern. The workplan shall include priorities and a schedule for development and adoption of sediment quality objectives, identification of additional resource needs, and identification of staff or funding needs. The state board is not prohibited from adopting sediment quality objectives in the workplan for a constituent for which the workplan identifies additional research needs.

(b) In preparing the workplan pursuant to subdivision (a), the state board shall conduct public hearings and workshops and shall consult with persons associated with municipal discharges, industrial discharges, other public agencies, research scientists, commercial and sport fishing interests, marine interests, organizations for the protection of natural resources and the environment, and the general public.

SEC. 34. Section 13393 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is repealed.

SEC. 35. Section 13393 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13393. The state board shall adopt sediment quality objectives pursuant to the workplan submitted pursuant to Section 13392.6. The state board shall adopt the sediment quality objectives pursuant to the procedures established by this division for adopting or amending water quality control plans. The sediment quality objectives shall be based on scientific information, including, but not limited to, chemical monitoring, bioassays or established modeling procedures, and shall provide adequate protection for the most sensitive aquatic organisms. The state board shall base the sediment quality objectives on a health risk assessment if there is a potential for exposure of humans to pollutants through the food chain to edible fish, shellfish, or wildlife.

SEC. 36. Section 13396 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

13396. No person shall dredge or otherwise disturb a toxic hot spot site that has been identified and ranked by a regional board without first obtaining certification pursuant to Section 401 of the Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1341) or waste discharge requirements. The state board and any regional board to which the state board has delegated authority to issue certification shall not waive certification for any discharge resulting from the dredging or disturbance unless waste discharge requirements have been issued. If the state board or a regional board does not issue waste discharge requirements or a certification within the period provided for certification under Section 401 of the Clean Water Act. The certification shall be deemed denied without prejudice. On or after January 1, 1993, the state and regional boards shall not grant approval for a dredging project that involves the removal or disturbance of sediment which contains pollutants at or above the sediment quality objectives established pursuant to Section 13393 unless the board determines all of the following:

(a) The polluted sediment will be removed in a manner that prevents or minimizes water quality degradation.

(b) Polluted dredge spoils will not be deposited in a location that may cause significant adverse effects to aquatic life, fish, shellfish, or wildlife or may harm the beneficial uses of the receiving waters, or does not create maximum benefit to the people of the state.

(c) The project or activity will not cause significant adverse impacts upon a federal sanctuary, recreational area, or other waters of significant national importance.

SEC. 37. Section 54 of Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989 is amended to read:

Sec. 54. (a) The sum of three million nine hundred thousand dollars ($3,900,000) is hereby appropriated from the Hazardous Substance Account in the General Fund to the State Water Resources Control Board for the operation of the underground tank pilot project pursuant to Section 25297.1 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the Hazardous Waste Control Account in the General Fund to the State Water Resources Control Board to implement Chapter 5.6 (commencing with Section 13390) of Division 7 of the Water Code.

SEC. 38. Item 4260-001-455 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1989 is amended to read:

4260-001-455—For support of Department of Health Services, for payment to Item 4260-001-001, payable from the Hazardous Substance Account, General Fund 5,567,000

Provisions: 1 The limitations of Item 9840-001-494 shall not apply to any deficiency expenditure authorization for the Department of Health Services payable from the Hazardous Substance Account, General Fund

2 Upon the request of the department and the approval of the Director of the Department of Finance, the Controller shall transfer between Item 4260-001-455 and Item 4260-011-455 those funds necessary to ensure that sufficient funds are available for the programs approved by this act

SEC. 39. Item 4260-011-014 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1989, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

4260-011-014—For support of Department of Health Services (Toxic Substances Control Division) 35,458,000

Schedule:

(a) 12.10-Site Mitigation		75,302,000
(1) General Program	28,016,000

(f) 12.50.002-Distributed Program Direction and Support		-17,905,000
(g) Amount payable from Hazardous Waste Management Plan (Item 4260-011-428)		-1,015,000
(h) Amount payable from Hazardous Substance Account (Item 4260-011-455)		43,391,000
(i) Amount payable from Federal Trust Fund (Item 4260-011-890) ..		-6,012,000
(j) Amount payable from Hazardous Substance Account (Item 4260-020-455)		-3,400,000

(k) Amount payable from Federal Trust Fund (Item 4260-021-890) .. -28,250,000

Provisions:

1. Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 25353 of the Health and Safety Code, funds from the Hazardous Substance Account appropriated by this act may be used by the department to provide for state oversight of the abatement of hazardous waste sites located on property owned and operated by the federal government including federal military installations.
2. If a responsible party, or parties, pay(s) the department in advance for the state's costs incurred in monitoring responsible-party cleanups, funds budgeted in the Hazardous Substance Account shall not be spent unless the Legislature is provided 30 days' advance notice.
3. The limitations of Item 9840-001-494 shall not apply to any deficiency expenditure authorization for the Department of Health Services payable from the Hazardous Waste Control Account, General Fund.
4. Notwithstanding provision (b) of Section 1 of Chapter 1624, Statutes of 1988, the amount of money equal to the state's share of the responsibility shall not be transferred from the General Fund to the Special Account for Capital Outlay.
5. At least 30 days prior to the department's submittal to the Office of Administrative Law of proposed regulations regarding a permit-by-rule approach to permitting facilities which handle state-only wastes, a copy of the proposed regulations shall be submitted for review to the Assembly Committee on Environmental Safety and Toxic Materials, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, the Senate Committee on Toxics and Public Safety Management, and the Senate Committee on Budget and Fiscal Review.

SEC. 40. Item 4260-011-455 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1989, as amended by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

4260-011-455—For support of Department of Health Services (Toxic Substances Control Division), for payment to Item 4260-011-014, payable from the Hazardous Substance Account, General Fund 43,391,000

Provisions.

1. The limitations of Item 9840-001-494 shall not apply to any deficiency expenditure authorization for the Department of Health Services payable from the Hazardous Substance Account.

SEC. 41. Item 4260-492 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1989 is amended to read:

4260-492—Reappropriation, Department of Health Services. The balance of the appropriation provided in the following citation is reappropriated for the purposes provided in Schedules (a), (c), and (d) of Section 7 of Chapter 1439, Statutes of 1985, and shall be available for encumbrance and expenditure until June 30, 1990:
710--Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund
For support, as appropriated by Items 4260-011-710 and 4260-012-710 of the Budget Act of 1987 and Items 4260-011-710 and 4260-012-710 of the Budget Act of 1988.

SEC. 42. The sum of one million three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,350,000) is hereby appropriated from the Hazardous Waste Control Account in the General Fund to the Department of Finance, for allocation to the State Board of Equalization not sooner than 30 days after notification in writing of the necessity of this allocation to the Chairperson of the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly, the Chairperson of the Budget and Fiscal Review Committee of the Senate, and the Chairperson of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee. The State Board of Equalization may expend this appropriation, upon allocation, to implement changes in the Health and Safety Code and the Revenue and Taxation Code concerning hazardous waste fees made by Chapter 269 of the Statutes of 1989.

SEC. 43. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 44. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to continue to provide funding for the state's hazardous waste control program in order to protect public health and safety and the environment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1033

An act to amend Sections 922.4 and 922.5 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 922.4 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

922.4. Credit in accounting and financial statements on account of reinsurance ceded to a nonadmitted reinsurer other than an alien reinsurer shall be allowed only:

(a) Where it is demonstrated by the ceding insurer to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the reinsurer maintains the standards and meets the financial requirements applicable to an admitted insurer and that it will submit itself to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state, or a court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States and designate the commissioner or a designated attorney in this state as its agent for service of process in this state in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding insurer for any matter arising out of the reinsurance, or

(b) To the extent of deposits by, or funds withheld from, the reinsurer pursuant to express provision therefor in the reinsurance contract as security for the payment of the obligations thereunder if the deposits or funds are held subject to withdrawal by, and under the control of, the ceding insurer or are placed in trust for those purposes in a bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve System if withdrawals from the trust cannot be made without the consent of the ceding insurer. With respect to credit life insurance and credit disability insurance, the deposits or funds shall be deposited in a bank located in California, notwithstanding the fact that the deposits or funds are held subject to withdrawal by, and under the control of, the ceding insurer.

(c) To the extent that the amount of a clean and irrevocable letter of credit issued for a term of one year conforming to the requirements set forth below, is a substitute for advances for claims, unearned premium, and all other policy and contract liabilities and reserve obligations to be made by a foreign reinsurer in connection with its liability under a specific reinsurance agreement. The clean and irrevocable letter of credit shall be issued and maintained under arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner as constituting security to the ceding insurer substantially equal to that of a deposit under subdivision (b), and that it shall be (1) issued or confirmed by a banking institution which is a member of the Federal Reserve System and of financial standing satisfactory to the commissioner, (2) issued by a California state chartered bank which is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and meets the conditions established by the commissioner, or (3) issued or confirmed by a United States office of a foreign banking corporation that is (A) licensed under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, (B) regulated, supervised, and examined by an agency of the United States or a state agency having regulatory authority with respect to banks and trust companies, (C) designated by the Securities Valuation Office of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners as meeting its credit standards for issuing or confirming letters of credit, and (D) of a financial standing that is satisfactory to the Commissioner. For purposes of this subdivision, a confirming bank undertakes the identical terms and obligations of the issuer including those set forth herein. The changes enacted to this subdivision at the 1982 Regular Session shall apply only to life insurers.

As used in this section, the terms "deposits" and "funds" include securities authorized as general investments by Article 3 (commencing with Section 1170) of Chapter 2, but not to exceed current market value.

SEC. 2. Section 922.5 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

922.5. Credit in accounting and financial statement permitted by this code on account of reinsurance ceded to an alien reinsurer other than one which complies with Article 2 (commencing with Section 1580) of Chapter 4 and includes in the statements required by that article all reserves and liabilities arising out of that reinsurance shall be allowed only:

(a) To the extent of the amount of deposits by, and funds withheld from, the alien reinsurer pursuant to express provision therefor in the reinsurance contract as security for the payment of the obligations thereunder if the deposits or funds are held subject to withdrawal by, and under the control of, the ceding insurer or are placed in trust for those purposes in a bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve System, if withdrawals from the trust cannot be made without the consent of the ceding insurer, or

(b) Where the alien reinsurer maintains sufficient assets in the United States for the protection of policyholders in the United States and operates its business in a manner which satisfies the commissioner that it maintains standard and financial condition reasonably comparable to those required of admitted insurers and that it is able to pay losses in the United States and that it will submit itself to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state, or a court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States and designate the commissioner or a designated attorney in this state as its agent for service of process in this state in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding insurer for any matter arising out of the reinsurance.

(c) To the extent that the amount of a clean and irrevocable letter of credit issued for a term of one year conforming to the requirements set forth below, is a substitute for advances for claims, unearned premium, and all other policy and contract liabilities and reserve obligations to be made by an alien reinsurer in connection with its liability under a specific reinsurance agreement The clean and irrevocable letter of credit shall be issued and maintained under arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner as constituting security to the ceding insurer substantially equal to that of a deposit under subdivision (a), and that it shall be (1) issued or confirmed by a banking institution which is a member of the Federal Reserve System and of financial standing satisfactory to the commissioner, (2) issued by a California state chartered bank which is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and meets the conditions established by the commissioner, or (3) issued by or confirmed a United States office of a foreign banking corporation that is (A) licensed under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, (B) regulated, supervised, and examined by an agency of the United States or a state agency having regulatory authority with respect to banks and trust companies, (C) designated by the Securities Valuation office of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners as meeting its credit standards for issuing or confirming letters of credit, and (D) of a financial standing satisfactory to the commissioner. For purposes of this subdivision, a confirming bank undertakes the identical terms and obligations of the issuer including those set forth herein. The changes enacted to this subdivision at the 1982 Regular Session shall apply only to life insurers

An act to amend Section 243.4 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 243.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

243.4. (a) Any person who touches an intimate part of another person while that person is unlawfully restrained by the accused or an accomplice, and if the touching is against the will of the person touched and is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, is guilty of sexual battery. Such an act is punishable by either imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(b) Any person who touches an intimate part of another person who is institutionalized for medical treatment and who is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated, if the touching is against the will of the person touched, and if the touching is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, is guilty of sexual battery. Such an act is punishable by either imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(c) Any person who, for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, causes another, against that person's will while that person is unlawfully restrained either by the accused or an accomplice, or is institutionalized for medical treatment and is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated, to masturbate or touch an intimate part of either of those persons or a third person, is guilty of sexual battery. Such an act is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(d) Any person who touches an intimate part of another person, if the touching is against the will of the person touched, and is for the specific purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, or sexual abuse, is guilty of misdemeanor sexual battery, punishable by a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000), or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or both. As used in this subdivision, "touches" means physical contact with another person, whether accomplished directly, through the clothing of the person committing the offense, or through the clothing of the victim.

(e) As used in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c), "touches" means physical contact with the skin of another person whether accomplished directly or through the clothing of the person committing the offense.

(f) As used in this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Intimate part" means the sexual organ, anus, groin, or buttocks of any person, and the breast of a female.

(2) "Sexual battery" does not include the crimes defined in Section 261 or 289.

(3) "Seriously disabled" means a person with severe physical or sensory disabilities.

(4) "Medically incapacitated" means a person who is incapacitated as a result of prescribed sedatives, anesthesia, or other medication.

(5) "Institutionalized" means a person who is located voluntarily or involuntarily in a hospital, medical treatment facility, nursing home, acute care facility, or mental hospital.

(g) This section shall not be construed to limit or prevent prosecution under any other law which also proscribes a course of conduct that also is proscribed by this section.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1035

An act to amend Section 22825.3 of the Government Code, relating to public employees' health benefits.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22825.3 of the Government Code is amended to read:

22825.3. (a) Notwithstanding Sections 22825, 22825.1, and 22825.2, state employees who become state members of the Public Employees' Retirement System after January 1, 1989, and who are members in state bargaining units for which a memorandum of understanding to become subject to this section has been agreed to by the state employer and the recognized employee organization shall not receive any portion of the employer's contribution payable for annuitants, pursuant to Section 22825.1, unless these employees are credited with 10 years of state service as defined by this section, at the time of retirement.

(b) Notwithstanding Sections 22825, 22825.1, and 22825.2, a state employee who became a state member of the Public Employees' Retirement System after January 1, 1990, and is either (1) excepted from the definition of state employee in subdivision (c) of Section 3513; or (2) a supervisory employee as defined in Section 3522.1; or (3) employed by the executive branch of government who is not a member of the state civil service, shall not receive any portion of the employer's contribution payable for annuitants, pursuant to Section 22825.1, unless the employee is credited with 10 years of state service as defined by this section, at the time of retirement.

(c) The percentage of employer contribution payable for postretirement health benefits for an employee subject to this section shall be based on the member's completed years of credited state service at retirement as shown in the following table:

Credited Years of Service	Percentage of Employer Contribution
13	65
14	70
15	75
16	80
18	90
20 or more	100

(d) This section shall apply only to state employees who retire for service.

(e) Benefits provided to an employee subject to this section shall be applicable to all future state service.

(f) For the purposes of this section, "state service" shall mean service rendered as an employee or an appointed or elected officer of the state for compensation.

(g) This section shall not apply to employees of the California State University or the Legislature.

CHAPTER 1036

An act to add Section 1602 to, and to add Article 4.1 (commencing with Section 1591) to Chapter 6 of Part 1 of Division 1 of, the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to unemployment compensation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4.1 (commencing with Section 1591) is added to Chapter 6 of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

Article 4.1. Building Fund

1591. (a) There is in the State Treasury the Employment Development Department Building Fund. There shall be deposited in, or transferred to, the fund the following:

(1) All money received from the sale or lease of real property, the purchase, acquisition, or construction of which was made by an appropriation to the Employment Development Department for that specific purpose, which was amortized with federal funds paid out of the Unemployment Administration Fund.

(2) All interest earned by the fund.

(b) Money in the fund shall only be expended pursuant to appropriations by the Legislature.

1592. The Employment Development Department Building Fund shall be used for the acquisition, construction, or renovation of department facilities, necessary for the director to administer this code and laws relating thereto.

SEC. 2. Section 1602 is added to the Unemployment Insurance Code, to read:

1602. The department shall comply with all federal regulations with regard to the sale of property in which the federal government has an equity.

SEC. 3. (a) The Director of General Services, with the approval of the State Public Works Board, may sell, exchange, or lease for current fair market value and upon any terms and conditions and subject to any reservations and exceptions as the director determines are in the best interest of the state, all or any part of the following property:

Parcel 1. Approximately 1.46 acres improved with a structure, known as 1525 South Broadway, in the City of Los Angeles.

(b) The sale of the parcel described in subdivision (a) is exempt from Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 21100) to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 21165), inclusive, of Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code.

(c) The Department of General Services shall be reimbursed for any cost or expense incurred in the disposition of the parcels described in subdivision (a) from the proceeds of that disposition.

(d) After deducting the amount necessary for the purposes of subdivision (c), the net proceeds received from the disposition of that parcel shall be deposited into the Employment Development Department Building Fund.

(e) As to the property sold pursuant to subdivision (a), the Director of General Services shall except and reserve to the state all mineral deposits, as defined in Section 6407 of the Public Resources Code, below a depth of 500 feet, without surface rights of entry.

(f) The sale of the parcel described in subdivision (a) shall be contingent upon an assurance by the Employment Development Department that it will continue to provide services to residents of the area.

CHAPTER 1037

An act relating to education, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that, in school districts in many rural areas of this state, the size of substitute teacher pools to serve the public schools has diminished by more than 50 percent over the last few years. As a result, these school districts do not have enough substitute teachers to cover authorized absences by full-time teachers, and release time for teachers to attend in-service programs required by the state is granted sparingly, if at all.

SEC. 2. (a) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall conduct a study of a representative sampling of rural school districts of this state. The study shall be conducted in coordination with a representative of, and the resources of, the county office of education of each county containing the school districts comprising the representative sampling of school districts. The commission shall conduct the study to do the following:

(1) Determine the causes for the difficulty experienced by certain rural school districts in maintaining access to an adequate number of substitute teachers

(2) Recommend strategies, both state and local, to expand the supply of substitute teachers, particularly those strategies that have been found to be effective in other districts.

(b) The study described under subdivision (a) shall be submitted to the Legislature no later than October 1, 1990.

SEC. 3. The sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) is hereby appropriated from the Teacher Credentials Fund to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing for the 1989–90 fiscal year for the purposes of conducting the study described in Section 2 of this act.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1038

An act to add Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 11300) to Part 7 of the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) The instructional technologies provide California with excellent opportunities to accomplish important long-range educational objectives efficiently. These opportunities include all of the following:

(1) Expanded access to higher education for individuals who currently do not participate because of geographical isolation or language barriers.

(2) The development and implementation of an expanded and enriched high school curriculum utilizing faculty members of various schools, colleges, and universities working together through a collaborative effort, particularly for advanced mathematics, science, and language courses that many high schools do not have the resources to offer.

(3) The development and implementation of in-service training programs for teachers and staff at all levels of public education in kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, through a partnership utilizing outstanding public school teachers and faculty at colleges and universities.

(4) Meeting the challenges of changing demographics in the pupil population, including the needs for remediation, greater English literacy, and preparedness for postsecondary education.

(b) High school graduates from rural counties are significantly less likely than high school graduates statewide to be eligible for admission to a four-year college or university. A primary reason for the differing rates of eligibility to California's colleges and universities is that many small rural high schools are isolated and do not have enough pupils to support advanced or specialty courses offered by larger or less isolated schools, and some schools are not able to supply the resources or qualified staff necessary to offer courses in certain areas, including, but not limited to, science, foreign language, or mathematics.

(c) The state, in order to meet the educational needs of all of its public school pupils and their teachers, needs to consider the efficiency, impact, and expansion of distance education technology.

"Distance learning," for the purposes of Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 11300) of Part 7 of the Education Code, means interactive instruction in which the instructor and student are separated by distance yet interact through the aid of computer and communications technology. "Distance learning" may also include, for the purposes of that chapter, video or audio instruction in which the primary mode of communication between instructor and student is through a communications medium such as instructional television or video, and any other instruction that relies on computer or communications technology to reach students at distant locations. California's educational institutions need to combine their efforts to explore the most efficient ways to expand the use of distance learning technologies to reach all pupils and teachers who may benefit from them.

(d) The Commission for the Review of the Master Plan of Higher Education concluded in 1987 that the new instructional technologies have the exciting potential for revolutionizing the educational process. The commission recommended that the governing boards of educational institutions establish appropriate infrastructures in their systems and on their campuses so that the new instructional technologies are effectively integrated in the support of the fundamental institutional missions, and also recommended that the California State University have the principal responsibility for research on the impact of the new technologies on the learning process.

(e) California has no formal state policy on the use of distance learning. Because of this, no policies are in place for the appropriation of funding, coordination among service providers and users, or guidelines for faculty and administration.

SEC. 2. Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 11300) is added to Part 7 of the Education Code, to read:

CHAPTER 14. THE CALIFORNIA DISTANCE LEARNING POLICY

11300. The California Postsecondary Education Commission shall develop a state policy on the use of distance learning technology in education, to be considered and, if appropriate, adopted by the Legislature. Further, in developing the policy, the California Postsecondary Education Commission shall address issues of funding and management of intersegmental distance learning efforts, course credit transfer, qualifications and credentialing of instructors and onsite personnel, ensuing course quality, and other policy issues associated with distance education, as well as, compile research on the effectiveness and cost-effectiveness of distance instruction at various levels of education.

The policy shall be developed to recognize the several existing distance learning networks, to enhance their coordination and direction, and to provide statewide incentives to continue to build partnerships that further distance learning as a cost-effective means to address resource equity and quality issues in education. In formulation of the policy, the California Postsecondary Education Commission shall specifically draw upon the experience and findings of the various campuses of the California State University that currently offer courses via distance education, including California State University, Bakersfield, California State University, Chico, the California Polytechnic University, Pomona, as well as, draw upon the experience and findings of other current providers of distance education programming.

11301. (a) In developing the policy, the California Postsecondary Education Commission shall propose a strategy to provide, through a cost-effective distance learning delivery system, the following five types of educational services:

(1) Curriculum enhancement to meet the needs of high-risk pupils who would otherwise be likely to drop out of traditional classroom programs.

(2) Expanded course offerings, in subjects that include, but are not limited to, foreign languages, science, and mathematics, to rural and inner-city secondary schools that are unable to provide the college preparatory and enrichment courses that their pupils require and that other schools provide.

(3) Expanded course offerings at rural community colleges and off-campus centers to better serve students in remote parts of the state. These expanded offerings should include university level courses to better serve community college students who are considering a university-level education but do not have the financial resources to transfer.

(4) Staff development courses for elementary and secondary school teachers who might otherwise be unable to participate in these training opportunities.

(5) Curriculum enhancement through the increased communication capability of schools, colleges, and universities providing the opportunity for institutions to receive varied types of supplementary educational programs, conduct exchanges with business, industry, and government, participate in live lectures and conferences on special topics, and increase cooperation and communication among educational institutions.

(b) In developing the policy, the California Postsecondary Education Commission shall identify existing sources of interactive distance learning instructional and staff development programming that can be utilized immediately by schools and colleges, and propose a strategy to utilize existing technologies to deliver instruction over distance, and link together school and college classrooms in rural and inner-city areas in the state.

11302. (a) In preparing the policy statement, the California Postsecondary Education Commission shall consult with an advisory committee composed of representatives from public schools, a county office of education, the State Department of Education, the California State University, the California Community Colleges, the University of California, the independent accredited universities and colleges, the governing board of a school district, the Educational Technology Committee, and private sector providers of communication networks and programming.

(b) The commission shall submit the policy statement to the legislative policy committees and the Governor on or before May 1, 1990.

(c) Following the development of the policy statement, it is the intent of the Legislature that educational institutions consider the preparation of a budget proposal to establish a comprehensive distance learning project within California.

CHAPTER 1039

An act to add Title 7.7 (commencing with Section 67410) to the Government Code, and to add Section 164.57 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to transportation, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature hereby makes the following findings and declarations:

(1) In recent years, in all the rapidly growing areas of California, it is becoming increasingly clear that long-term transportation needs will not be fully serviced by an ever-expanding freeway system because of the increasing financial and environmental costs of such an expansion, critical air quality considerations, and, because of our delayed, but expected problems, paying for and finding fossil fuel.

(2) California is beginning to redevelop its many older urban areas at much greater densities that can no longer be serviced by the existing local street and road and state freeway systems.

(3) As all of these facts are beginning to impact our increasingly traffic-gridlocked urban areas, we must begin to consider development of a fundamentally different transportation system that is characterized by a higher capacity to move people in an efficient, rational, and safe manner.

(4) If a new system can be developed, politically agreed upon, and financed, it must be built on rights-of-way adequate in size and location to do the job.

(5) Because of the already highly developed nature of our urban areas, adequate rights-of-way for future mass transit development are becoming scarcer, if available at any cost.

(6) Certain critical private railroad and other rights-of-way may soon be available for sale and could be lost to the public domain forever for potential use for commuter transit corridors.

(b) The Legislature further finds and declares that it is essential that the state, in cooperation with impacted local governments, the federal government, and the private sector, begin immediately to plan and implement a program of rights-of-way preservation for a future commuter rail and intercity rail transit system in California.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that this system of rights-of-way be planned at the earliest possible time and that this plan provide for the development of a passenger-oriented, efficient, and rational system that provides for a safe, quick, and easy transit trip.

(d) It is the further intent of the Legislature that current users or owners of rights-of-way and public entities negotiate in good faith for the acquisition of rights-of-way included in inventories adopted by the California Transportation Commission pursuant to Title 7.7 (commencing with Section 67410) of the Government Code.

(e) It is the further intent of the Legislature that the California Transportation Commission give as much consideration to projects which have long-term benefits to the transportation system as it does to projects in which transportation improvements would occur in the short term in allocating transportation funds.

SEC. 2. Title 7.7 (commencing with Section 67410) is added to the Government Code, to read:

TITLE 7.7. CALIFORNIA COMMUTER AND INTERCITY TRANSIT RIGHT-OF-WAY PRESERVATION ACT

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

67410. This title shall be known and may be cited as the California Commuter and Intercity Transit Right-of-Way Preservation Act.

67421. As used in this title, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Acquisition," and any form of that word, means the method by which a public agency obtains the right to use a right-of-way for passenger rail purposes, including, but not limited to, purchase, lease, lease with option to purchase, and joint use of a right-of-way.

(b) "Commission" means the California Transportation Commission.

(c) "Commuter rail service" means any commuter passenger rail or urban rail transit service, as defined in Section 164.50 of the Streets and Highways Code, and may include exclusive busways.

(d) "Department" means the Department of Transportation.

(e) "Intercity rail service" has the same meaning as intercity rail, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 164.55 of the Streets and Highways Code.

CHAPTER 2. RAIL RIGHT-OF-WAY INVENTORIES

67460. The department shall prepare and submit to the commission an Intercity Rail Right-of-Way Inventory, by April 30, 1990, for the state consisting of all of the following:

(a) A detailed survey considering all existing plans, data bases, technical information, patronage studies, and other relevent data that is available from federal, state, local, or private entities on potential intercity rail routes. In identifying potential railroad right-of-way acquisitions, the department shall give priority consideration to intercity rail corridors identified in subdivision (e) of Section 164.55 of the Streets and Highways Code. In particular, the survey shall include actual intercity rail experiences of other states and foreign countries. In assembling material for the survey, the department shall attempt to avoid recreating work already accomplished and available from other sources.

(b) A statewide survey of all potentially available and suitable rights-of-way for intercity rail development. The survey shall include rights-of-way owned by railroad corporations which may or may not be for sale at the present time, and shall give full consideration to the potential for passenger service on railroads which are not expected to be for sale, including the leasing of operating space and other operating arrangements on currently operated railroads.

(c) The department shall submit an updated inventory to the commission by April of each even-numbered year, beginning in 1992.

67461. A transportation planning agency, county transportation authority, county transportation commission, and the San Diego Metropolitan Transit Development Board may each prepare, adopt, and submit to the commission by April 30, 1990, a Commuter and Intercity Rail Right-of-Way Inventory for the area under its jurisdiction, consisting of all of the following:

(a) A detailed survey considering all existing plans, data bases, technical information, patronage studies, and other relevant data that is available from federal, state, local, or private entities on potential commuter and intercity rail routes. In identifying potential railroad right-of-way acquisitions, priority consideration shall be given to rail corridors identified in Sections 164.51 and 164.52, and subdivision (e) of Section 164.55 of the Streets and Highways Code. In particular, the survey shall include actual commuter and intercity rail experiences of other states and foreign countries. In assembling material for the survey, a local agency shall attempt to avoid recreating work already accomplished and available from other sources.

(b) A survey of all potentially available and suitable rights-of-way for commuter and intercity rail development. The survey shall include rights-of-way owned by railroad corporations which may or may not be for sale at the present time, and shall give full consideration to the potential for passenger service on railroads which are not expected to be for sale, including the leasing of operating space and other operating arrangements on currently operated railroads.

(c) The transportation planning agency, county transportation authority, county transportation commission, or the San Diego Metropolitan Transit Development Board may submit an update of its inventory to the commission by April 30 of each even-numbered year. The updated inventory shall conform to the requirements specified for the initial inventory.

67462. In preparing the Commuter and Intercity Rail Right-of-Way Inventory, the commission shall solicit and consider recommendations from transportation planning agencies. The inventory shall be consistent with the adopted regional transportation plans.

67463. (a) The commission, in consultation with the department and the Public Utilities Commission, shall prepare a draft statewide inventory encompassing all of the potential acquisitions included in each inventory submitted pursuant to Sections 67460 and 67461.

67464. The commission shall, by July 31, 1990, prepare a draft inventory and shall hold at least one public hearing on its draft inventory not later than August 15, 1990.

67465. The commission shall adopt the Commuter and Intercity Rail Right-of-Way Inventory not later than September 30, 1990, and shall submit the inventory to the Governor and the Legislature.

67466. The commission shall review and revise its inventory biennially, beginning in 1993. The revised inventory shall be adopted in accordance with the procedures prescribed by this chapter for the adoption of the initial inventory.

67467. Within 30 days of approval of each state transportation improvement program, pursuant to Section 14527, the commission shall submit a report to the Legislature indicating which projects included in the inventory were adopted in the state transportation improvement program and the status of those projects which were not adopted.

SEC. 3. Section 164.57 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

164.57. In developing guidelines for the commuter rail, urban rail transit, and intercity rail programs pursuant to Sections 164.50 and 164.55, the department shall consider, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(a) The reasonable financial and technical phasing of right-of-way preservation, consistent with a demonstrated commitment to development of recommended rail services within 10 years of completion of right-of-way acquisition in the form of financial, planning, or operating assistance, or other contributions to fund the difference between operating costs and revenues, and other appropriate resources needed to support or encourage implementation of rail systems.

(b) The development of institutional structures that provide direct responsibility, authority, and accountability needed to fully finance, implement, and operate the rail services in an efficient, rational manner.

(c) The full integration of a proposed rail service with existing rail services and other transportation systems operated by public entities, so that the new service complements existing transportation systems in the state.

SEC. 4. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) is hereby appropriated from the Transportation Planning and Development Account in the State Transportation Fund to the Department of Transportation for purposes of Section 67460 of the Government Code.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that the statewide inventory of rail rights-of-way required by this act may be commenced at the earliest possible time in order to assist in the prevention of the unnecessary loss of key rights-of-way, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1040

An act to amend Sections 32000, 32301, 32310, 32320, 32321, 32323, 32325, 32330, 32352, 32402, 32724, and 32811 of, to amend the headings of Division 15.5 (commencing with Section 32000) of, Article 2 (commencing with Section 32100) of Chapter 1 of Division 15.5 of, and Article 2 (commencing with Section 32810) of Chapter 7 of Division 15.5 of, to add Sections 32332, 32352.5, and 32820.5 to, to repeal and add Sections 32101 and 32326 of, to repeal and add Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 32600) of Division 15.5 of, to repeal Sections 32100 and 32353 of, and to repeal Article 5 (commencing with Section 32340) of Chapter 2 of Division 15.5 of, Article 7 (commencing with Section 32360) of Chapter 2 of Division 15.5 of, Article 2 (commencing with Section 32410) of Chapter 3 of Division 15.5 of, Article 4 (commencing with Section 32430) of Chapter 3 of Division 15.5 of, Article 5 (commencing with Section 32440) of Chapter 3 of Division 15.5 of, Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 32500) of Division 15.5 of, and Article 1 (commencing with Section 32800) of Chapter 7 of Division 15.5 of, the Financial Code, relating to state assistance funds, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

SEC. 16.4. Article 5 (commencing with Section 32440) of Chapter 3 of Division 15.5 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 17. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 32500) of Division 15.5 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 18. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 32600) of Division 15.5 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 18.5. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 32600) is added to Division 15.5 of the Financial Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. LOAN OPERATIONS

32600. The finance officer shall not execute any loan which is not:

(a) Approved for guarantee by the Small Business Administration, where the minimum amount of the guarantee is not less than 80 percent of the principal amount of such loan.

(b) Approved for guarantee by an other governmental loan guarantee authority, the minimum amount of the guarantee is not less than 50 percent of the principal amount of such loan.

(c) Made pursuant to the corporation's participation with the Small Business Administration as a small business investment company or local development company.

(d) Less than 16 percent of the total financing package arranged between the corporation and another lender or lenders on behalf of the applicant.

(e) This section does not apply to loans made pursuant to Section 32724.

32601. The corporation shall not provide financing assistance on any application, except for any application submitted for review as a special project, which has not been reviewed in the manner specified by the board.

SEC. 18.7. Section 32724 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

32724. Notwithstanding any other provision of this division, loans or other financing programs undertaken by the corporation in furtherance of minority enterprises and export financing shall be funded from the enterprise loan fund, or other accounts which the corporation may establish. The board shall promulgate separate loan review procedures and criteria which shall be applicable to loans and other financing programs implemented by the corporation pursuant to this section.

SEC. 18.9. Article 1 (commencing with Section 32800) of Chapter 7 of Division 15.5 of the Financial Code is repealed.

SEC. 19. The heading of Article 2 (commencing with Section 32810) of Chapter 7 of Division 15.5 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

Article 2. State Enterprise Loan Fund

SEC. 20. Section 32811 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

32811. The name of this account shall be the "State Enterprise Loan Fund," which fund shall be continuously appropriated for the purposes of this division.

SEC. 21. Section 32820.5 is added to the Financial Code, to read:

32820.5. Upon approval of the corporation to exercise the powers of a small business development corporation pursuant to Section 32352, the corporation shall cease to be liable for payment of interest on loans made or to be made from the fund pursuant to this article.

CHAPTER 1041

An act to amend Section 11550 of, and to add Section 11370.1 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11370.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11370.1. (a) Notwithstanding Section 11350 or 11377 or any other provision of law, every person who unlawfully possesses one-half gram or less of a substance containing cocaine base, one gram or less of a substance containing cocaine, one gram or less of a substance containing heroin, one gram or less of a substance containing methamphetamine, one-eighth gram or less of a crystalline substance containing phencyclidine, one milliliter or less of a liquid substance containing phencyclidine, one-half gram or less of plant material containing phencyclidine, or one hard-rolled cigarette treated with phencyclidine while in the immediate personal possession of a loaded, operable firearm is guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

As used in this subdivision, "immediate personal possession" includes, but is not limited to, in the interior passenger compartment of a motor vehicle.

(b) Any person who is convicted under this section shall be ineligible for diversion under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1000) of Title 6 of Part 2 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 2. Section 11550 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11550. (a) No person shall use, or be under the influence of any controlled substance which is (1) specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), (21), (22), or (23) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, specified in subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 11055, or specified in paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (d) or in paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) of Section 11055, or (2) a narcotic drug classified in Schedule III, IV, or V, except when administered by or under the direction of a person licensed by the state to dispense, prescribe, or administer controlled substances. It shall be the burden of the defense to show that it comes within the exception. Any person convicted of violating any provision of this subdivision is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced to serve a term of not less than 90 days or more than one year in the county jail. The court may place a person convicted under this subdivision on probation for a period not to exceed five years and shall in all cases in which probation is granted require, as a condition thereof, that the person be confined in the county jail for at least 90 days. In no event does the court have the power to absolve a person who violates this subdivision from the obligation of spending at least 90 days in confinement in the county jail.

(b) In addition to any fine assessed under this section, the judge may assess a fine not to exceed seventy dollars ($70) against any person who violates this section, with the proceeds of this fine to be used in accordance with Section 1463.23 of the Penal Code. The court shall, however, take into consideration the defendant's ability to pay, and no defendant shall be denied probation because of his or her inability to pay the fine permitted under this subdivision.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) or any other provision of law, any person who is unlawfully under the influence of cocaine, cocaine base, heroin, methamphetamine, or phencyclidine while in the immediate personal possession of a loaded, operable firearm is guilty of a public offense punishable by imprisonment in county jail for not exceeding one year or in state prison.

As used in this subdivision "immediate personal possession" includes, but is not limited to, the interior passenger compartment of a motor vehicle.

(d) Every person who violates subdivision (c) is punishable upon the second and each subsequent conviction by imprisonment in the state prison for two, three, or four years.

(e) Nothing in this section prevents diversion of a person under Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1000) of Title 6 of Part 2 of the Penal Code unless the person is charged with violating subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 243 of the Penal Code. A person charged with violating this section by being under the influence of any controlled substance which is specified in paragraph (21), (22), or (23) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054 or in paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) of Section 11055 and with violating either subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 243 of the Penal Code or with a violation of subdivision (c) shall be ineligible for diversion.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 17052.18 and 23617.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17052.18 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.18. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the net tax imposed by this part for the taxable year an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after the effective date of this section for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any taxable year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for each contribution to a full-time qualified care plan and three hundred dollars ($300) for each contribution to a part-time qualified care plan.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(2) "Specialized center" means a facility which provides care to mildly ill children and which may do all of the following:

(A) Be staffed by pediatric nurses and day care workers.

(B) Admit children suffering from common childhood ailments (including colds, flu, and chickenpox).

(C) Make special arrangements for well children with minor problems associated with diabetes, asthma, breaks or sprains, and recuperation from surgery.

(D) Separate children according to their illness and symptoms in order to protect them from cross infection.

(3) "Full-time qualified care plan" means an average of eight or more hours per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(4) "Part-time qualified care plan" means an average of two to eight hours per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(5) "Contributions" include employer reimbursements to employees for the employee's qualified care plan expenses, or direct payments to child care programs or providers, or both.

(6) The term "employee" includes, for any year, an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 401 (c) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to self-employed individuals).

(d) In the case where an employer makes contributions to a qualified care plan and also collects fees from parents to support a child care facility owned and operated by the employer, no credit shall be allowed under this section for contributions in the amount, if any, by which the sum of the contributions and fees exceed the total cost of providing care. The Franchise Tax Board may require information about fees collected from parents of children.

(e) In the case where the child care received is of less than 42-week duration, the employer shall claim a prorated portion of the allowable credit.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the net tax for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds the net tax may be carried over to the net tax in the next five succeeding taxable years. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(g) The credit shall not be available to an employer if the care provided on behalf of an employee is provided by an individual who:

(1) Qualifies as a dependent of that employee or that employee's spouse under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17054.

(2) Is (within the meaning of Section 17056) a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of that employee under the age of 19 at the close of that taxable year.

(h) The contributions to a qualified care plan shall not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, owners, or highly compensated, or their dependents.

(i) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the taxable year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(j) In the case where the credit is taken by an employer for contributions to a qualified care plan which is used at a facility owned by the employer, the basis of that facility shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(k) With the exception of a husband and wife, if two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share. In the case of a husband and wife who file a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(l) (1) This section shall not apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1992.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted and becomes operative before December 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 1.5. Section 17052.18 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.18. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1992, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any taxable year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for contributions to a full-time qualified care plan and three hundred dollars ($300) for contributions to a part-time qualified care plan made on behalf of the employee's dependent.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21 (b) (2) (D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(2) "Specialized center" means a facility which provides care to mildly ill children and which may do all of the following:

(A) Be staffed by pediatric nurses and day care workers.

(B) Admit children suffering from common childhood ailments (including colds, flu, and chickenpox).

(C) Make special arrangements for well children with minor problems associated with diabetes, asthma, breaks or sprains, and recuperation from surgery.

(D) Separate children according to their illness and symptoms in order to protect them from cross infection.

(3) "Full-time qualified care plan" means an average of eight or more hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(4) "Part-time qualified care plan" means an average of two to eight hours of dependent care per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(5) "Contributions" include employer reimbursements to employees for the employee's qualified care plan expenses, or direct payments to child care programs or providers, or both.

(6) The term "employee" includes, for any year, an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 401 (c) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to self-employed individuals).

(d) In the case where an employer makes contributions to a qualified care plan and also collects fees from parents to support a child care facility owned and operated by the employer, no credit shall be allowed under this section for contributions in the amount, if any, by which the sum of the contributions and fees exceed the total cost of providing care. The Franchise Tax Board may require information about fees collected from parents of children.

(e) In the case where the child care received is of less than 42-week duration, the employer shall claim a prorated portion of the allowable credit. The employer shall prorate the credit using the ratio of the number of weeks of care received divided by 42 weeks.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and the next four years, if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted.

(g) The credit shall not be available to an employer if the care provided on behalf of an employee is provided by an individual who:

(1) Qualifies as a dependent of that employee or that employee's spouse under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17054.

(2) Is (within the meaning of Section 17056) a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of that employee under the age of 19 at the close of that taxable year.

(h) The contributions to a qualified care plan shall not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, owners, or highly compensated, or their dependents.

(i) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the taxable year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(j) In the case where the credit is taken by an employer for contributions to a qualified care plan which is used at a facility owned by the employer, the basis of that facility shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(k) With the exception of a husband and wife, if two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the costs paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share. In the case of a husband and wife who file a separate return, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (f), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 2. Section 23617.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23617.5. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax, the alternative minimum tax, and the taxes imposed by Sections 23809 and 23811 relating to built-in gains and excess passive income, respectively) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after the effective date of this section for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any income year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for each contribution to a full-time qualified care plan and three hundred dollars ($300) for each contribution to a part-time qualified care plan.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(2) "Specialized center" means a facility which provides care to mildly ill children and which may do all of the following:

(A) Be staffed by pediatric nurses and day care workers.

(B) Admit children suffering from common childhood ailments (including colds, flu, and chickenpox).

(C) Make special arrangements for well children with minor problems associated with diabetes, asthma, breaks or sprains, and recuperation from surgery.

(D) Separate children according to their illness and symptoms in order to protect them from cross infection.

(3) "Full-time qualified care plan" means an average of eight or more hours per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(4) "Part-time qualified care plan" means an average of two to eight hours per day for at least 42 weeks per year in a qualified care plan.

(5) "Contributions" include employer reimbursements to employees for the employee's qualified care plan expenses, or direct payments to child care programs or providers, or both.

(6) The term "employee" includes, for any year, an individual who is an employee within the meaning of Section 401(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to self-employed individuals).

(d) In the case where an employer makes contributions to a qualified care plan and also collects fees from parents to support a child care facility owned and operated by the employer, no credit shall be allowed under this section for contributions in the amount, if any, by which the sum of the contributions and fees exceed the total cost of providing care. The Franchise Tax Board may require information about fees collected from parents of children served in the facility from taxpayers claiming credits under this section.

(e) In the case where the child care received is of less than 42-week duration, the employer shall claim a prorated portion of the allowable credit.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax, the alternative minimum tax, and the taxes imposed by Sections 23809 and 23811 relating to built-in gains and excess passive income, respectively), that portion of the credit which exceeds those taxes may be carried over to the taxes imposed by this part (except the minimum franchise tax, the alternative minimum tax, and the taxes imposed by Sections 23809 and 29811 relating to built-in gains and excess passive income, respectively) in the next five succeeding income years. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest income years possible.

(g) The credit shall not be available to an employer if the care provided on behalf of an employee is provided by an individual who:

(1) Qualifies as a dependent of that employee or that employee's spouse under paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 17054.

(2) Is (within the meaning of Section 17056) a son, stepson, daughter, or stepdaughter of that employee under the age of 19 at the close of that taxable year.

(h) The contributions to a qualified care plan shall not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, owners, or highly compensated, or their dependents.

(i) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the income year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(j) In the case where the credit is taken by an employer for contributions to a qualified care plan which is used at a facility owned by the employer, the basis of that facility shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(k) If two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the costs paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code, concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share.

(l) (1) This section shall not apply to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1992.

(2) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted and becomes operative before December 1, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2.5. Section 23617.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23617.5. (a) For income years beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1992, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any dependent of the taxpayer's California employee who is under the age of 15.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any income year shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for contributions to a full-time qualified care plan and three hundred dollars ($300) for contributions to a part-time qualified care plan made on behalf of the employee's dependent.

(c) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Qualified care plan" includes, but is not limited to, onsite service, center-based service, in-home care or home-provider care, and a dependent care center as defined by Section 21(b)(2)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code which is a specialized center with respect to short-term illnesses of an employee's dependents, provided the facility is located in this state and is operated under the authority of a license when required by state law.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (f), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 3. The Child Development Programs Advisory Committee shall assess and analyze the impact that Sections 17052.17, 17052.18, 23617, and 23617.5, as amended by this act, of the Revenue and Taxation Code have on increasing employer-assisted child care in California. The committee shall report its findings, along with its recommendations, to the Legislature by January 1, 1991.

SEC. 4. Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17052.18 and 23617.5, respectively, of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by this bill and AB 951. They shall become operative only if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends the above sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 951, in which case the above sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by AB 951, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 1 and 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 5. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1043

An act to amend Sections 667 and 1192.7 of the Penal Code, relating to criminal law.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 667 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

667. (a) In compliance with subdivision (b) of Section 1385, any person convicted of a serious felony who previously has been convicted of a serious felony in this state or of any offense committed in another jurisdiction which includes all of the elements of any serious felony, shall receive, in addition to the sentence imposed by the court for the present offense, a five-year enhancement for each such prior conviction on charges brought and tried separately. The terms of the present offense and each enhancement shall run consecutively.

(b) This section shall not be applied when the punishment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment. There is no requirement of prior incarceration or commitment for this section to apply.

(c) The Legislature may increase the length of the enhancement of sentence provided in this section by a statute passed by majority vote of each house thereof.

(d) As used in this section "serious felony" means a serious felony listed in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7.

(e) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a person convicted of selling, furnishing, administering, or giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any methamphetamine-related drug or any precursors of methamphetamine unless the prior conviction was for a serious felony described in subparagraph (24) of subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7.

(f) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 2. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder; (18) burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, or trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or inhabited portion of any other building; (19) robbery or bank robbery; (20) kidnapping; (21) holding of a hostage by a person confined in a state prison; (22) attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (23) any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon; (24) selling, furnishing, administering, giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any heroin, cocaine, phencyclidine (PCP), or any methamphetamine-related drug, as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, or any of the precursors of methamphetamines, as described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055 or subdivision (a) of Section 11100 of the Health and Safety Code; (25) any violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289 where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; or (26) any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(d) As used in this section, "bank robbery" means to take or attempt to take, by force or violence, or by intimidation from the person or presence of another any property or money or any other thing of value belonging to, or in the care, custody, control, management, or possession of, any bank, credit union, or any savings and loan association.

As used in this subdivision, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Bank" means any member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and any bank, banking association, trust company, savings bank, or other banking institution organized or operating under the laws of the United States, and any bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) "Savings and loan association" means any federal savings and loan association and any "insured institution" as defined in Section 401 of the National Housing Act, as amended, and any federal credit union as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Credit Union Act.

(3) "Credit union" means any federal credit union and any state-chartered credit union the accounts of which are insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 2.1. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony, any felony in which it is alleged that a firearm was personally used by the defendant, or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder; (18) burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, or trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or inhabited portion of any other building; (19) robbery or bank robbery; (20) kidnapping; (21) holding of a hostage by a person confined in a state prison; (22) attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (23) any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon; (24) selling, furnishing, administering, giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any heroin, cocaine, phencyclidine (PCP), or any methamphetamine-related drug, as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, or any of the precursors of methamphetamines, as described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055 or subdivision (a) of Section 11100 of the Health and Safety Code; (25) any violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289

where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (26) any violation of Section 487h; (27) any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(d) As used in this section, "bank robbery" means to take or attempt to take, by force or violence, or by intimidation from the person or presence of another any property or money or any other thing of value belonging to, or in the care, custody, control, management, or possession of, any bank, credit union, or any savings and loan association.

As used in this subdivision, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Bank" means any member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and any bank, banking association, trust company, savings bank, or other banking institution organized or operating under the laws of the United States, and any bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) "Savings and loan association" means any federal savings and loan association and any "insured institution" as defined in Section 401 of the National Housing Act, as amended, and any federal credit union as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Credit Union Act.

(3) "Credit union" means any federal credit union and any state-chartered credit union the accounts of which are insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 2.3. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder; (18) burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, or trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or inhabited portion of any other building; (19) robbery or bank robbery; (20) kidnapping; (21) holding of a hostage by a person confined in a state prison; (22) attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (23) any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon; (24) selling, furnishing, administering, giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any heroin, cocaine, phencyclidine (PCP), or any methamphetamine-related drug, as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, or any of the precursors of methamphetamines, as described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055 or subdivision (a) of Section 11100 of the Health and Safety Code; (25) any violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289 where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (26) any violation of Section 12701; (27) any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(d) As used in this section, "bank robbery" means to take or attempt to take, by force or violence, or by intimidation from the person or presence of another any property or money or any other thing of value belonging to, or in the care, custody, control, management, or possession of, any bank, credit union, or any savings and loan association.

As used in this subdivision, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Bank" means any member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and any bank, banking association, trust company, savings bank, or other banking institution organized or operating under the laws of the United States, and any bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) "Savings and loan association" means any federal savings and loan association and any "insured institution" as defined in Section 401 of the National Housing Act, as amended, and any federal credit union as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Credit Union Act.

(3) "Credit union" means any federal credit union and any state-chartered credit union the accounts of which are insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 2.5. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony, any felony in which it is alleged that a firearm was personally used by the defendant, or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with

CHAPTER 1044

An act to amend Sections 1170.1, 1192.7, 12021, 12021.1, and 12022.5 of the Penal Code, relating to firearms.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1170.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1170.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (c) and subject to Section 654, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same or by a different court, and a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all these convictions shall be the sum of the principal term, the subordinate term and any additional term imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.5, 667.6, or 12022.1, and pursuant to Section 11370.2 of the Health and Safety Code. The principal term shall consist of the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the court for any of the crimes, including any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, or 12022.9 and an enhancement imposed pursuant to Section 11370.4 or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is not a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall exclude any enhancements. In no case shall the total of subordinate terms for such consecutive offenses which are not "violent felonies" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 exceed five years. The subordinate term for each consecutive offense which is a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, including those offenses described in paragraph (8) or (9) of subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, shall consist of one-third of the middle term of imprisonment prescribed for each other such felony conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed, and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9.

(b) When a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed under Sections 669 and 1170 for two or more convictions for kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving both separate victims and separate occasions, the aggregate term shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the subordinate term for each subsequent kidnapping conviction shall consist of the middle term for each kidnapping conviction for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed and shall include one-third of any enhancements imposed pursuant to Section 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9. The five-year limitation on the total of subordinate terms provided in subdivision (a) shall not apply to subordinate terms for second and subsequent convictions of kidnapping, as defined in Section 207, involving separate victims and separate occasions.

(c) In the case of any person convicted of one or more felonies committed while the person is confined in a state prison, or is subject to reimprisonment for escape from such custody and the law either requires the terms to be served consecutively or the court imposes consecutive terms, the term of imprisonment for all the convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall commence from the time such person would otherwise have been released from prison. If the new offenses are consecutive with each other, the principal and subordinate terms shall be calculated as provided in subdivision (a), except that the total of subordinate terms may exceed five years. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(d) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to Section 1170 the court shall also impose the additional terms provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, and the additional terms provided in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, unless the additional punishment therefor is stricken pursuant to subdivision (h). The court shall also impose any other additional term which the court determines in its discretion or as required by law shall run consecutive to the term imposed under Section 1170. In considering the imposition of such additional term, the court shall apply the sentencing rules of the Judicial Council.

(e) When two or more enhancements under Sections 12022, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.7, and 12022.9 may be imposed for any single offense, only the greatest enhancement shall apply; however, in cases of lewd or lascivious acts upon or with a child under the age of 14 years accomplished by means of force or fear, as described in Section 288, kidnapping as defined in Section 207, penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, as defined in Section 289, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape or burglary, or attempted lewd or lascivious acts upon or with a child under the age of 14 years accomplished by means of force or fear, kidnapping, penetration of a genital or anal opening by a foreign object, oral copulation, sodomy, robbery, rape, murder, or burglary the court may impose both (1) one enhancement for weapons as provided in either Section 12022, 12022.4, or subdivision (a) of Section 12022.5 and (2) one enhancement for great bodily injury as provided in either Section 12022.7 or 12022.9.

(f) The enhancements provided in Sections 667, 667.5, 667.6, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.1, 12022.2, 12022.3, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, 12022.8, and 12022.9, and in Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be pleaded and proven as provided by law.

(g) The term of imprisonment shall not exceed twice the number of years imposed by the trial court as the base term pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 1170 unless the defendant stands convicted of a "violent felony" as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, or a consecutive sentence is being imposed pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, or an enhancement is imposed pursuant to Section 667, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.5, 12022.55, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, or 12022.9, or an enhancement is being imposed pursuant to Section 11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, or the defendant stands convicted of felony escape from an institution in which he or she is lawfully confined.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancements provided in Sections 667.5, 667.8, 667.85, 12022, 12022.2, 12022.4, 12022.6, 12022.7, 12022.75, and 12022.9, or the enhancements provided in Section

11370.2, 11370.4, or 11379.8 of the Health and Safety Code, if it determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment and states on the record its reasons for striking the additional punishment.

(i) For any violation of subdivision (2) or (3) of Section 261, Section 264.1, subdivision (b) of Section 288, subdivision (a) of Section 289, or sodomy or oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person as provided in Section 286 or 288a, the number of enhancements which may be imposed shall not be limited, regardless of whether such enhancements are pursuant to this or some other section of law. Each of such enhancements shall be a full and separately served enhancement and shall not be merged with any term or with any other enhancement.

SEC. 2. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony, any felony in which it is alleged that a firearm was personally used by the defendant, or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder; (18) burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, or trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or inhabited portion of any other building; (19) robbery or bank robbery; (20) kidnapping; (21) holding of a hostage by a person confined in a state prison; (22) attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (23) any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon; (24) selling, furnishing, administering, giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give heroin, cocaine, or phencyclidine (PCP) to a minor; (25) any violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289 where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (26) grand theft involving a firearm; (27) any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(d) As used in this section, "bank robbery" means to take or attempt to take, by force or violence, or by intimidation from the person or presence of another any property or money or any other thing of value belonging to, or in the care, custody, control, management, or possession of, any bank, credit union, or any savings and loan association.

As used in this subdivision, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Bank" means any member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and any bank, banking association, trust company, savings bank, or other banking institution organized or operating under the laws of the United States, and any bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) "Savings and loan association" means any federal savings and loan association and any "insured institution" as defined in Section 401 of the National Housing Act, as amended, and any federal credit union as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Credit Union Act.

(3) "Credit union" means any federal credit union and any state-chartered credit union the accounts of which are insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 2.5. Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1192.7. (a) Plea bargaining in any case in which the indictment or information charges any serious felony, any felony in which it is alleged that a firearm was personally used by the defendant, or any offense of driving while under the influence of alcohol, drugs, narcotics, or any other intoxicating substance, or any combination thereof, is prohibited, unless there is insufficient evidence to prove the people's case, or testimony of a material witness cannot be obtained, or a reduction or dismissal would not result in a substantial change in sentence.

(b) As used in this section "plea bargaining" means any bargaining, negotiation, or discussion between a criminal defendant, or his or her counsel, and a prosecuting attorney or judge, whereby the defendant agrees to plead guilty or nolo contendere, in exchange for any promises, commitments, concessions, assurances, or consideration by the prosecuting attorney or judge relating to any charge against the defendant or to the sentencing of the defendant.

(c) As used in this section, "serious felony" means any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter; (2) mayhem; (3) rape; (4) sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (5) oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, threat of great bodily injury, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (6) lewd or lascivious act on a child under the age of 14 years; (7) any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (8) any other felony in which the defendant personally inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, or any felony in which the defendant personally uses a firearm; (9) attempted murder; (10) assault with intent to commit rape or robbery; (11) assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer; (12) assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate; (13) assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate; (14) arson; (15) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure; (16) exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury or mayhem; (17) exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder; (18) burglary of an inhabited dwelling house, or trailer coach as defined by the Vehicle Code, or inhabited portion of any other building; (19) robbery or bank robbery; (20) kidnapping; (21) holding of a hostage by a person confined in a state prison; (22) attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life; (23) any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon; (24) selling, furnishing, administering, giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any heroin, cocaine, phencyclidine (PCP), or any methamphetamine-related drug, as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, or any of the precursors of methamphetamines, as described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055 or subdivision (a) of Section 11100 of the Health and Safety Code; (25) any violation of subdivision (a) of Section 289 where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person; (26) grand theft involving a firearm; (27) any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(d) As used in this section, "bank robbery" means to take or attempt to take, by force or violence, or by intimidation from the person or presence of another any property or money or any other thing of value belonging to, or in the care, custody, control, management, or possession of, any bank, credit union, or any savings and loan association.

As used in this subdivision, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Bank" means any member bank of the Federal Reserve System, and any bank, banking association, trust company, savings bank, or other banking institution organized or operating under the laws of the United States, and any bank the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) "Savings and loan association" means any federal savings and loan association and any "insured institution" as defined in Section 401 of the National Housing Act, as amended, and any federal credit union as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Credit Union Act.

(3) "Credit union" means any federal credit union and any state-chartered credit union the accounts of which are insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by rollcall vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

SEC. 3. Section 12021 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 254 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

12021. (a) Any person who has been convicted of a felony under the laws of the United States, of the State of California, or any other state, government, or country, or of an offense enumerated in Section 12001.6, or who is addicted to the use of any narcotic drug, who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), any person who has been convicted of a felony or of an offense enumerated in Section 12001.6, when such conviction results from certification by the juvenile court for prosecution as an adult in an adult court under the provisions of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony.

(c) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a person who has been convicted of a felony under the laws of the United States unless:

(1) Conviction of a like offense under California law can only result in imposition of felony punishment; or

(2) The defendant was sentenced to a federal correctional facility for more than 30 days, or received a fine of more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or received both such punishments.

SEC. 4. Section 12021.1 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 254 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

12021.1. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 12021, any person who has been previously convicted of any of the offenses listed in subdivision (b) and who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony. A dismissal of an accusatory pleading pursuant to Section 1203.4a involving an offense set forth in subdivision (b) does not affect the finding of a previous conviction. If probation is granted, or if the imposition or execution of sentence is suspended, it shall be a condition of the probation or suspension that the defendant serve at least six months in a county jail.

(b) As used in this section, a violent offense includes any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter.

(2) Mayhem.

(3) Rape.

(4) Sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm.

(5) Oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm

(6) Lewd acts on a child under the age of 14 years.

(7) Any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life.

(8) Any other felony in which the defendant inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, which has been charged and proven, or any felony in which the defendant uses a firearm which use has been charged and proven.

(9) Attempted murder.

(10) Assault with intent to commit rape or robbery.

(11) Assault with a deadly weapon or instrument on a peace officer.

(12) Assault by a life prisoner on a noninmate.

(13) Assault with a deadly weapon by an inmate.

(14) Arson.

(15) Exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to injure.

(16) Exploding a destructive device or any explosive causing great bodily injury.

(17) Exploding a destructive device or any explosive with intent to murder.

(18) Robbery.

(19) Kidnapping.

(20) Taking of a hostage by an inmate of a state prison.

(21) Attempt to commit a felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life.

(22) Any felony in which the defendant personally used a dangerous or deadly weapon.

(23) Escape from a state prison by use of force or violence.

(24) Assault with a deadly weapon or force likely to produce great bodily injury.

(25) Any attempt to commit a crime listed in this subdivision other than an assault.

(26) Any offense enumerated in Section 12001.6.

(c) Any person previously convicted of any of the offenses listed in subdivision (b) which conviction results from certification by the juvenile court for prosecution as an adult in adult court under the provisions of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony. If probation is granted, or if the imposition or execution of sentence is suspended, it shall be a condition of the probation or suspension that the defendant serve at least six months in a county jail.

(d) The court shall apply the minimum sentence as specified in subdivisions (a) and (c) except in unusual cases where the interests of justice would best be served by granting probation or suspending the imposition or execution of sentence without the imprisonment required by subdivisions (a) and (c), or by granting probation or suspending the imposition or execution of sentence with conditions other than those set forth in subdivisions (a) and (c), in which case the court shall specify on the record and shall enter on the minutes the circumstances indicating that the interests of justice would best be served by such a disposition.

SEC. 5. Section 12022.5 of the Penal Code, as amended by Chapter 19 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

12022.5. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c), any person who personally uses a firearm in the commission or attempted commission of a felony shall, upon conviction of such felony or attempted felony, in addition and consecutive to the punishment prescribed for the felony or attempted felony of which he or she has been convicted, be punished by an additional term of imprisonment in the state prison for three, four, or five years, unless use of a firearm is an element of the offense of which he or she was convicted. The court shall order imposition of the middle term unless there are circumstances in aggravation or mitigation. The court shall state its reasons for its enhancement choice on the record at the time of sentencing.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any person who is convicted of a felony or an attempt to commit a felony, including murder or attempted murder, in which that person discharged a firearm at an occupied motor vehicle which caused great bodily injury or death to the person of another, or any person who personally uses an assault weapon, as specified in Section 12276 or a machinegun, as defined in Section 12200, in the commission or attempted commission of a felony, shall, upon conviction of that felony or attempted felony, in addition and consecutive to the sentence prescribed for the felony or attempted felony, be punished by an additional term of imprisonment in the state prison for five years.

(c) Notwithstanding the enhancement set forth in subdivision

(a), any person who personally uses a firearm in the commission or attempted commission of a violation of Section 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11366.5, 11366.6, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, or 11379.6 of the Health and Safety Code, shall, upon conviction of that offense and in addition and consecutive to the punishment prescribed for the offense of which he or she has been convicted, be punished by an additional term of imprisonment in the state prison for three, four, or five years in the court's discretion. The court shall order the imposition of middle term unless there are circumstances in aggravation or mitigation. The court shall state the reasons for its enhancement choice on the record.

(d) The additional term provided by this section may be imposed in cases of assault with a firearm under paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 245, or assault with a deadly weapon which is a firearm under Section 245.

(e) When a person is found to have personally used a firearm, an assault weapon, or a machinegun in the commission or attempted commission of a felony as provided in this section and the firearm, assault weapon, or machinegun is owned by that person, the court shall order that the firearm be deemed a nuisance and disposed of in the manner provided in Section 12028.

(f) For purposes of imposing an enhancement under Section 1170.1, the enhancements under this section shall count as one, single enhancement.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the court may strike the additional punishment for the enhancement provided in subdivision (c) in an unusual case where the interests of justice would best be served, if the court specifies on the record and enters into the minutes the circumstances indicating that the interests of justice would best be served by that disposition.

SEC. 6. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 7. This act shall be known as and may be cited as the McClintock Firearm Act of 1989.

SEC. 8. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 19. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 1192.7 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 19, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1045

An act to amend Section 760.020 of, and to add Section 764.080 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to state lands.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 760.020 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

760.020. (a) An action may be brought under this chapter to establish title against adverse claims to real or personal property or any interest therein.

(b) An action may be brought under this chapter by parties to an agreement entered into pursuant to Section 6307 or 6357 of the Public Resources Code to confirm the validity of the agreement.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of members of the public to bring or participate in actions challenging the validity of agreements entered into pursuant to Section 6307 or 6357 of the Public Resources Code.

SEC. 2. Section 764.080 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

764.080. (a) In any action brought to quiet title to land that has been subject to an agreement entered into pursuant to Section 6307 or 6357 of the Public Resources Code, at the time set for trial the court shall, at the request of any party, receive evidence on the nature of the agreement. After receiving that evidence, the court shall render a statement of decision. In the case of an agreement pursuant to Section 6357, the statement of decision shall include a recitation of the underlying facts and a determination whether the agreement meets the criteria of Section 6357 and other law applicable to the validity of boundary line agreements. In the case of an agreement pursuant to Section 6307, the statement of decision shall recite the relevant facts and shall contain a determination whether the requirements of Section 6307 of the Public Resources Code, Sections 3 and 4 of Article 10 of the California Constitution, and other applicable law have been met. If the court finds the agreement to be valid, the judgment in the action shall quiet title in the parties named in the agreement in accordance with the agreement. If the judgment is entered prior to the effective date of the agreement, the judgment shall provide that, upon the effective date, title is quieted in the parties in accordance with the agreements. However, no action may be brought pursuant to this section until the State Lands Commission has approved the agreement following a public hearing. All such actions shall be set on the trial calendar within one year from the filing of a memorandum to set, unless the court extends this time for good cause.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of members of the public to bring or participate in actions challenging the validity of agreements entered into pursuant to Section 6307 or 6357 of the Public Resources Code. Any action brought by a member of the public shall be set on the trial calendar within one year from the filing of a memorandum to set, unless the court extends this time for good cause.

CHAPTER 1046

An act to amend Section 25189.6 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25189.6 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25189.6 (a) Any person who knowingly, or with reckless disregard for the risk, treats, handles, transports, disposes, or stores any hazardous waste in a manner which causes any unreasonable risk of fire, explosion, serious injury, or death is guilty of a public offense and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for each day of violation, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16, 24, or 36 months, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Any person who knowingly, at the time the person takes the actions specified in subdivision (a), places another person in imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury, is guilty of a public offense and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for each day of violation, and by imprisonment in the state prison for 3, 6, or 9 years.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 13403, 13440, 13442, 13480, 13489, and 13490 of, to add Sections 12005 and 13482 to, and to repeal and add Sections 13460, 13461, and 13462 of, the Business and Professions Code, relating to weights and measures.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12005 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

12005. Whenever any provision of this division makes reference to the National Bureau of Standards, that reference shall be construed to include the National Institute of Standards and Technology.

SEC. 2. Section 13403 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13403. "Octane number" or "antiknock index number," when used in this chapter, means that number assigned to a spark ignition engine fuel which designates the antiknock quality. The "octane number" or "antiknock index number" shall be determined according to the American Society for Testing and Materials method or methods designated in the latest American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Standard Specification D-4814.

SEC. 2.5. Section 13440 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13440. (a) The department shall adopt specifications for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuels. In adopting specifications, the department shall adopt by reference the latest standards of the American Society for Testing and Materials standard specification for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuel, except that no specification shall be less stringent than required by any California state law.

(b) Any gasoline blend containing methanol shall also contain an alcohol cosolvent (butanol (C_4) or higher molecular weight alcohol) in an amount equal to or greater than the volume percentage of methanol except those blends previously granted a waiver by the Environmental Protection Agency.

(c) The antiknock index as defined in Section 13403 for the automotive spark-ignition engine fuel shall not be less than 87.

SEC. 3. Section 13442 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13442. It is unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, or cause or permit to be sold or offered for sale, or deliver or offer for delivery, any petroleum product as a fuel for internal combustion engines at any place where petroleum products are kept or stored for sale, which does not conform to the requirements of this article, unless and until there shall be firmly attached to or painted upon each container, receptacle, pump, and inlet end of the fill pipe of each underground storage tank, from which or into which such petroleum product is drawn or poured for sale or delivery, a sign or label, plainly visible, comprising the brand, trademark, or trade name of such fuel, or the words "no brand," which words shall be in letters of gothic type with a stroke of not less than one-eighth inch in width and not less than one inch in height, and also the words "not gasoline" in red letters of gothic type with a stroke of not less than one-half inch in width and not less than three inches in height, on a white background and not less than twice the size of any other letters or words appearing on or near the label or sign.

The provisions of this article, as to the words "not gasoline," shall not apply to signs or labels used in connection with the sale or delivery of kerosene, jet or turbine fuel, diesel fuel, liquefied petroleum gas, or motor fuel comprised of a mixture of gasoline and lubricating oil properly labeled in accordance with the provisions of Article 9 (commencing with Section 13480).

SEC. 4. Section 13460 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 13460 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

13460. Engine oil shall not be sold or distributed for use in an internal combustion engine unless the product conforms to the following specifications:

(a) It shall meet the engine oil requirements established by the latest revision of the Society of Automotive Engineers Standard SAE J183 for engine oil performance and engine service classification.

(b) The flashpoints for the various Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) classifications shall not be less than the following when tested in accordance with the latest ASTM standard method of test for flash and fire points by means of the Cleveland open cup (ASTM D-92):

Viscosity Classification	Kinematic Viscosity (centistoke) by ASTM D445 at 100°C	Minimum Flash Degrees Fahrenheit
SAE 5W		305
SAE 10W		335
SAE 20W		345
SAE 20		345
SAE 30		355
SAE 40		375
SAE 50		400
SAE 60		435
Grade 70	26.1 to less than 31.7	470

(c) It shall be free from water and suspended matter when tested by means of centrifuge, in accordance with the standard test ASTM D-2273.

(d) Any engine oil that is represented to meet SAE engine oil performance and engine service classification SA must have a neutralization number as measured by ASTM method D-974 of 0.20 maximum.

(e) Any engine oil represented as "energy conserving" shall meet the requirements established by the latest revision of the Society of Automotive Engineers Recommended Practice SAE J-1423.

SEC. 6. Section 13461 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 13461 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

13461. Lubricating oil shall not be sold or distributed for use in lubricating manual transmissions, gears, or axles unless the product conforms to the following specifications:

(a) It meets the service requirements contained in the latest revision of the SAE Information Report on axle and manual transmission lubricants SAE J308.

(b) The viscosity grade classification number shall be the same as the latest published Society of Automotive Engineers Standard SAE J306 when tested in accordance with the latest method published by the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM).

(c) It shall be free from water and suspended matter when tested by means of centrifuge, in accordance with the standard test ASTM D-2273.

SEC. 8. Section 13462 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 13462 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

13462. Any manufacturer or packager of any product subject to this article and sold in this state shall provide, upon request to duly authorized representatives of the department, documentation of any claim made upon their products' label.

SEC. 10. Section 13480 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13480. (a) It is unlawful for any person to sell any petroleum product referred to in this chapter at any place where petroleum products are kept or stored for sale, unless there is affixed to each container, receptacle, pump, dispenser, and inlet end of the fill pipe of each underground storage tank, from which or into which such product, is drawn or poured out for sale or delivery, a sign or label plainly visible consisting of the name of the product, the brand, trademark, or trade name of the product, and in the case of gasoline, diesel fuel, other motor fuel, and kerosene, the grade or brand name designation.

(b) When the product is oil, as defined by Section 13401, each sign or label shall also have in letters or numerals, plainly visible, the viscosity grade classification as determined in accordance with the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) latest standard for engine oil viscosity classification SAE J300 or manual transmission and axle lubricants viscosity classification SAE J306, as applicable, and shall be preceded by the letters "SAE".

(c) When the product is automotive spark-ignition engine fuel, except M-85 and M-100 methanol fuel, there shall be conspicuously displayed on the dispensing device at least one sign or label showing the minimum octane number or antiknock index, as defined in Section 13403, of the product sold therefrom.

(d) When the product is a motor fuel which contains at least 1 percent by volume ethanol (ethyl alcohol) or methanol (methyl alcohol), or a combination thereof, there shall be conspicuously displayed on the dispensing device at least one sign or label correctly stating the applicable one of the following statements:

(1) "Contains alcohol (ethanol)."

(2) "Contains alcohol (methanol)."

(3) "Contains alcohol (ethanol and methanol)."

Devices dispensing M-85 or M-100 methanol fuel shall be exempt from the requirements of this subdivision if the dispenser is labeled pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (f) using the word "methanol" as the product name and M-85 or M-100, as applicable, as grade designations.

(e) When the product is a motor fuel consisting of a mixture or premixture of gasoline and oil, there shall be conspicuously displayed on the dispensing device at least one sign or label stating the ratio of gasoline to motor oil.

(f) All signs or labels required by this section for retail motor fuel dispensers and containers of more than one gallon capacity shall be in letters and numerals not less than one-half inch (12.70 mm) in height. On containers of one gallon or less, the signs or labels shall be in letters and numerals not less than one-fourth inch (6.35 mm) in height and one-sixteenth inch (1.59 mm) in width.

(g) The provisions of this section pertaining to octane numbers or antiknock index and motor oil SAE viscosity number grade shall not apply to products sold for aviation purposes.

(h) The provisions of this section shall apply, with respect to thinners or solvents, only to the sale, delivery, or offer for sale of the products through service stations, garages, and other retail outlets.

SEC. 11. Section 13482 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

13482. It is unlawful for any person to sell or distribute engine oil or axle and manual transmission lubricant unless the SAE/API service classification is conspicuously marked on each container. Each container of engine oil with a volume of one gallon or less shall bear a plainly visible statement indicating generally the automobile model years or condition of service for which the engine oil is suitable for gasoline engines as described in SAE J183.

SEC. 12. Section 13489 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13489. The use of pumps or other devices which are capable of withdrawing gasoline from each of two tanks containing different qualities of the same petroleum product and dispensing them as a single combined product shall be authorized when the department determines that all of the following conditions exist:

(a) The device mechanism accurately measures the quantities of the gasoline being simultaneously withdrawn from each of the two tanks and the quantity dispensed.

(b) The device mechanism accurately and visibly records and displays the resulting combined quality, the total quantity, the price per gallon or liter for the particular quality combination being dispensed, and the total price of the quantity of gasoline dispensed at the particular sale.

(c) The device has a locking selector mechanism which prevents the changing of the proportion of the two qualities being combined during the dispensing of the desired quantity.

The provisions of this section shall not supersede any other provisions in this chapter, except that they shall supersede the provisions of Sections 13442, 13443, 13480, 13483, 13486, 13487, and 13488 to the extent necessary to authorize the operation of a blending type of pump connected to two tanks containing two different products, or two different grades of the same product, which, when blended together in different proportions, will produce gasolines of different octane rating, each blend of which shall meet the specifications for gasoline as required by this chapter.

SEC. 13. Section 13490 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

13490. The use of pumps or other devices which are capable of withdrawing gasoline from one tank and motor oil, or a premixture of gasoline and motor oil in a known ratio, from another tank, and dispensing them as a single combined product, or of withdrawing gasoline alone from the tank containing gasoline and of withdrawing a premixture of gasoline and motor oil alone from the tank containing a premixture of gasoline and motor oil shall be authorized when the department determines that all the following conditions exist:

(a) The device mechanism accurately measures the quantities being simultaneously withdrawn for dispensing as a combined product from each of the two tanks when the combined product is dispensed, the quantity being dispensed from the gasoline tank when gasoline alone is dispensed, or the quantity being dispensed from the tank containing a premixture of gasoline and motor oil when the premixture alone is dispensed.

(b) The device mechanism accurately and visibly records and displays: (1) the ratio of gasoline to motor oil or premixture, the quantity of each ingredient being dispensed, the price per gallon or liter for the gasoline being dispensed, and the price per quart or liter for any motor oil or premixture being dispensed or (2) the ratio of gasoline to motor oil or premixture and the price per gallon or liter for the product being dispensed.

(c) The device mechanism prevents the changing of the ratio of gasoline to motor oil or premixture during dispensing.

The provisions of this section shall supersede Sections 13442, 13443, 13480, 13483, 13486, 13487, and 13488 to the extent necessary to authorize the operation of the above-described blending type of pump connected to two tanks, one containing motor oil, or a premixture of motor oil and gasoline in a known ratio, and the other gasoline, provided that the motor oil shall in its separate state meet the specifications for motor oil as required by Section 13460 and that the gasoline shall in its separate state meet the specifications for gasoline as required by Section 13440.

SEC. 14. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 1764 and 1764.1 of, and to add Section 1764.2 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the Department of the Youth Authority.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1764 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1764. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any of the following information in the possession of the Youth Authority regarding persons 16 years of age or older who were committed to the Youth Authority by a court of criminal jurisdiction, or who were committed to the Department of Corrections and were subsequently transferred to the Youth Authority, shall be disclosed to any member of the public, upon request, by the director or his or her designee:

(a) The name and age of the person.

(b) The court of commitment and the offense that was the basis of commitment.

(c) The date of commitment.

(d) Any institution where the person is or was confined.

(e) The actions taken by any paroling authority regarding the person, which relate to parole dates.

(f) The date the person is scheduled to be released to the community, including release to a reentry work furlough program.

(g) The date the person was placed on parole.

(h) The date the person was discharged from the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority and the basis for the discharge.

(i) In any case where the person has escaped from any institution under the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority, a physical description of the person and the circumstances of the escape.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to authorize the release of any information which could place any individual in personal peril; which could threaten Youth Authority security; or which is exempt from disclosure pursuant to the California Public Records Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code).

SEC. 2. Section 1764.1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

1764.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director or his or her designee may release the information described in Section 1764 regarding a person committed to the Youth Authority by a juvenile court for an offense described in subdivision (a) of Section 676, to any member of the public who requests the information, unless the court has ordered confidentiality under subdivision (c) of Section 676.

SEC. 3. Section 1764.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

1764.2. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the director or his or her designee shall release the information described in Section 1764 regarding a person committed to the Youth Authority for an offense described in subdivision (a) of Section 676, to the victim or the next of kin of the victim of the offense, upon request, unless the court has ordered confidentiality under subdivision (c) of Section 676. The victim or the next of kin shall be identified by the court or the probation department in the offender's commitment documents before the director is required to disclose this information.

(b) The director or his or her designee shall, with respect to persons committed to the Youth Authority, including persons committed to the Department of Corrections who have been transferred to the Youth Authority, for an offense described in subdivision (a) of Section 676, inform each victim of that offense, or the victim's next of kin, of his or her right to request and receive information pursuant to subdivision (a) and Section 1767.

CHAPTER 1049

An act to amend the heading of Article 23 (commencing with Section 38651) of, and to add Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 38191) to, Chapter 5 of Part 3 of Division 15 of, to amend Section 38651 of, and to add Section 38655 to, the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 38191 is added to Chapter 5 of Part 3 of Division 15 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

38191. Extra light milk is a market milk product with added milk solids derived from market milk. Extra light milk shall contain not less than 0.9 percent milk fat, not more than 1.1 percent milk fat, and not less than 11 percent of milk solids not fat.

38192. Except as otherwise provided in this article, extra light milk shall meet all standards and requirements which are specified in this division for market milk.

38193. One of the following three phrases shall accompany the name "extra light milk" on the principal display panel or panels of the label in letters not less than one-half of the height of the letters used in the name: "half the fat of lowfat milk", "50 percent less fat than lowfat milk", or "1 percent milk fat". When vitamins are added, extra light milk shall be labeled in accordance with statutes and regulations applicable to vitamin addition.

SEC. 2. The heading of Article 23 (commencing with Section 38651) of Chapter 5 of Part 3 of Division 15 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Article 23. Flavored Milk

SEC. 3. Section 38651 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

38651. Flavored milk is market milk to which has been added a stabilizer, sugar, syrup, or flavor made from wholesome ingredients. Flavored milk may be sold as flavored milk, flavored low-fat milk, flavored high nutrient low-fat milk, and flavored nonfat milk. Flavored milk shall be labeled with the name of the product. The principal flavor may be substituted for the word "flavored" in the name of the product as, for example, "chocolate nonfat milk" in substitution for "flavored nonfat milk." Flavored milk shall be so colored or contain ingredients that cause it to differ distinctly from milk in appearance and other characteristics.

SEC. 4. Section 38655 is added to the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

38655. Flavored high nutrient low-fat milk shall contain not less than 1 percent milk fat and not more than 1.2 percent milk fat, and shall otherwise meet all standards and requirements which are specified in this division for high nutrient low-fat milk, and which are specified in Section 38651.

CHAPTER 1050

An act to amend Sections 15026 and 15071 of, and to add Section 15026.1 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to hospitals.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15026 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

15026. (a) (1) "Hospital building" includes any building not specified in subdivision (b) which is used, or designed to be used, for a health facility of a type required to be licensed pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250) of Division 2.

(2) Hospital building includes a correctional treatment center, as defined in subdivision (j) of Section 1250, the construction of which was completed on or after March 7, 1973. This paragraph shall remain operative only until January 1, 1993.

(b) "Hospital building" does not include any of the following:

(1) Any building in which outpatient clinic services are provided and which is separated from a building in which hospital services are provided. If any one or more outpatient clinic service in the building provides services to inpatients, the building shall not be included as a "hospital building" if those services provided to inpatients represent no more than 25 percent of the total outpatient services provided at the building. Hospitals shall maintain on an ongoing basis, data on the patients receiving services in these buildings, including the number of patients seen, categorized by their inpatient or outpatient status. Hospitals shall submit this data annually to the State Department of Health Services.

(2) Any building used, or designed to be used, for a skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility if the building is of single-story, wood-frame or light steel frame construction.

(3) Any building of single-story, wood-frame or light steel frame construction in which only skilled nursing or intermediate care services are provided if the building is separated from a building housing other patients of the health facility receiving higher levels of care.

(4) Any freestanding structures of a chemical dependency recovery hospital exempted under the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 1275.2.

(5) Any building licensed to be used as an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative with six beds or less and any intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative of 7 to 15 beds which is a single-story, wood-frame or light steel frame building.

(6) Any building which has been used as a community care facility licensed pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500) of Division 2 and which was originally licensed to provide that level of care prior to March 7, 1973, if (A) the building complied with applicable building and safety standards at the time of that licensure, (B) the Director of Health Services, upon application, determines that in order to continue to properly serve the facility's existing client population, relicensure as an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled will be required, and (C) a notice of intent to obtain a certificate of need was filed with the area health planning agency and the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development on or before March 1, 1983. The exemption provided in this paragraph extends only to use of the building as an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled.

(7) Any building which has been used as a community care facility pursuant to paragraph (1) or (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 1502 and which was originally licensed to provide that level of care if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(A) The building complied with applicable building and safety standards for a community care facility at the time of that licensure.

(B) The facility conforms to the 1973 Edition of the Uniform Building Code of the International Conference of Building Officials as a community care facility.

(C) The facility is other than single story, but no more than two stories, and the upper story is licensed for ambulatory patients only.

(D) A certificate of need was granted prior to July 1, 1983, for conversion of a community care facility to an intermediate care facility.

(E) The facility otherwise meets all nonstructural construction standards for intermediate care facilities in existence on the effective date of this act or obtains waivers from the appropriate agency.

The exemption provided in this paragraph extends only to use of the building as an intermediate care facility as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 1250 and the facility is in Health Facilities Planning Area 1420.

(8) Any building licensed as a correctional treatment center, as defined in subdivision (j) of Section 1250, the construction of which was completed prior to March 7, 1973. This paragraph shall remain operative only until January 1, 1993.

SEC. 2. Section 15026.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

15026.1. (a) Space for the following functions shall be considered

"outpatient clinical services," when provided in a freestanding building which is separated from a hospital building where inpatient hospital services are provided: administrative space, central sterile supply; storage; morgue and autopsy facilities; employee dressing rooms and lockers; janitorial and housekeeping facilities; and laundry.

(b) The outpatient portions of the following services may also be delivered in a freestanding building and shall be considered "outpatient clinical services:" intermediate care; chronic dialysis; psychiatry; rehabilitation; occupational therapy; physical therapy; maternity; dentistry; skilled nursing; and chemical dependency.

(c) Services that duplicate basic services, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1250, or services that are provided as part of a basic service, but are not required for facility licensure may also be provided in a freestanding building.

(d) The statewide office shall not approve any plans that propose to locate any function listed in subdivision (a) into a freestanding building until the State Department of Health Services certifies to the office that it has received and approved a plan acceptable to the department that demonstrates how the health facility will continue to provide all basic services in the event of any emergency when the freestanding building may no longer remain functional.

(e) Services listed in subdivisions (b) and (c) are subject to the same 25 percent inpatient limitation described in Section 15026.

SEC. 3. Section 15071 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

15071. Construction or alterations of buildings specified in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026 shall conform to the provisions of the latest edition of Title 24 of the California Code of Regulations. The statewide office shall independently review and inspect these structures. For purposes of this section, "construction or alteration" includes the conversion of a building to a purpose specified in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026. Any construction or alteration of any building subject to this section shall be exempt from any plan review and approval or construction inspection requirement of any city, county, or city and county.

The statewide office may also exempt from the plan review process or expedite those projects undertaken by an applicant for a hospital building which the statewide office determines do not materially alter the mechanical, electrical, architectural, or structural integrity of the facility. The statewide office shall set forth criteria to expedite projects or to implement any exemptions made pursuant to this paragraph.

The Legislature recognizes the relative safety of single story, wood frame, and light steel frame construction for use in housing patients requiring skilled nursing and intermediate care services and it is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature to provide for reasonable flexibility in seismic safety standards for these structures.

The statewide office shall, by July 1, 1989, set forth and implement criteria to exempt from the plan review process or expedite those projects for alterations of buildings specified in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026, which may include, but are not limited to, renovations, remodeling, or installations of necessary equipment such as hot water heaters, air-conditioning units, dishwashers, laundry equipment, handrails, lights, television brackets, small emergency generators (up to 25 kilowatts), storage shelves, and similar plant operations equipment; and decorative materials such as wall coverings, floor coverings, and paint.

The statewide office shall include provisions for onsite field approvals by available office construction advisers and the preapproval of projects which comply with the requirements for which the office has developed standard architectural or engineering detail, or both standard architectural and engineering detail.

SEC. 3.5. Section 15071 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

15071. Construction or alterations of buildings specified in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026 shall conform to the provisions of the latest edition of Title 24 of the California Code of Regulations. The statewide office shall independently review and inspect these buildings. For purposes of this section, "construction or alteration" includes the conversion of a building to a purpose specified in paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026. Any construction or alteration of any building subject to this section shall be exempt from any plan review and approval or construction inspection requirement of any city, county, or city and county.

The statewide office may also exempt from the plan review process or expedite those projects undertaken by an applicant for a hospital building which the statewide office determines do not materially alter the mechanical, electrical, architectural, or structural integrity of the facility. The statewide office shall set forth criteria to expedite projects or to implement any exemptions made pursuant to this paragraph.

The Legislature recognizes the relative safety of single story, wood frame, and light steel frame construction for use in housing patients requiring skilled nursing and intermediate care services and it is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature to provide for reasonable flexibility in seismic safety standards for these structures. The statewide office shall be reasonably flexible in the application of seismic standards for other buildings by allowing incidental and minor nonstructural additions or nonstructural alterations to be accomplished with simplified written approval procedures as established by the statewide office, with the advice of the office of the State Architect and the State Fire Marshal.

The statewide office shall, by July 1, 1991, set forth and implement criteria to exempt from the plan review process or expedite those projects for alterations of buildings specified in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 15026 which may include, but are not limited to, renovations, remodeling, or installations of necessary equipment such as hot water heaters, air-conditioning units, dishwashers, laundry equipment, handrails, lights, television brackets, small emergency generators (up to 25 kilowatts), storage shelves, and similar plant operations equipment; and decorative materials such as wall coverings, floor coverings, and paint.

The statewide office shall include provisions for onsite field approvals by available office construction advisers and the preapproval of projects which comply with the requirements for which the office has developed standard architectural or engineering detail, or both standard architectural and engineering detail.

SEC. 4. Section 3.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 15071 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1293. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 15071 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1293, in which case Section 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1051

An act to add and repeal Article 5 (commencing with Section 37440) to Chapter 3 of Part 22 of the Education Code, relating to education, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

I am deleting the $90,000 appropriation contained in Section 2 of Assembly Bill No. 1566.

I am concerned that the $30,000 appropriation contained in this bill from the Health Education Account of the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Surtax Fund would deplete the reserve of that fund. I believe we should maintain a prudent reserve in the fund to ensure that programs entitled to those monies receive them.

The $30,000 appropriation from the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1986 and the $30,000 appropriation from the federal Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 would come from the share of monies set aside in those funds for distribution to the Superintendent of Public Instruction (SPI) for anti-drug education programs.

These appropriations would limit the flexibility of the SPI to allocate those monies for programs he deems important. If the SPI program proposed in this legislation is a priority he can currently fund it from this source

With this deletion, I approve Assembly Bill No 1566.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 5 (commencing with Section 37440) is added to Chapter 3 of Part 22 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 5. School Pilot Project: Parent Drug Alert Program

37440. It is the intent of the Legislature that the pilot Parent Drug Alert Program be used to heighten the awareness of teachers, parents, and pupils with respect to alcohol, tobacco, drugs, and the types of drug paraphernalia available, the signs and symptoms of substance abuse, and the methods of confronting substance abuse.

37441. There is hereby established a two-year pilot program in each school district that chooses to participate in the pilot project and that complies with this article.

37442. (a) The governing board of each school district participating in the pilot program shall have in its employment one full-time school nurse, with the qualifications specified in Section 44877. Each school maintained by a school district participating in the pilot program that has a full-time school nurse shall be deemed to have satisfied this section.

(b) In order to participate in the pilot program, a school district shall obtain the voluntary participation of a school nurse or school nurses and shall not be required to provide the school nurses additional compensation for participating in the pilot program. Participating school districts that already provide school nurses with additional compensation in the form of release time for duties beyond the regular schoolday shall continue to honor those contractual agreements.

(c) Each school nurse voluntarily employed pursuant to this section shall conduct substance abuse prevention programs for teachers, parents, and pupils on a regular basis, as determined by the school nurse providing voluntary service. The school nurse may use compensatory time if his or her contract with the school district permits the use of compensatory time.

(d) No governing board of a school district maintaining schools pursuant to this article and participating in the pilot program shall decrease the number of school nurses employed by the school district in order to comply with this article.

(e) Each participating school district shall provide and develop an acceptable referral list for the specific needs of the district.

(f) All instruction provided pursuant to this article shall be provided in both the English and Spanish languages or in the English language and any other language that may address the needs of the school.

37443. The pilot project shall, with respect to substance abuse prevention, accomplish the following objectives:

(a) Educate teachers, parents, and pupils so that they are able to identify the various types of drug paraphernalia.

(b) Educate parents so that they are able to identify behavioral and self-esteem changes in their children at school, and at home, that need to be investigated.

(c) Educate parents to observe and practice communication techniques through role playing and thereby facilitate parent-child communications.

(d) Educate teachers so that they are able to identify pupils in the classroom with behavioral and self-esteem changes who need to be referred for assistance.

(e) Provide parents with the knowledge that they may contact the school nurse for information and referrals.

(f) Provide pupils with the knowledge that they may contact the school nurse for information and referrals.

(g) Provide pupils with the knowledge that they have available as a resource, the school nurse, who can assist and provide information to pupils.

37444. (a) Each school district participating in the pilot program shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by January 1, 1992, concerning the effectiveness of the program in meeting the objectives outlined in Section 37443. These evaluations shall be conducted pursuant to procedures specified by the superintendent.

(b) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall review and evaluate the program-effectiveness study and report to the Legislature and Governor by June 30, 1992. This review shall include recommendations regarding continuation of the pilot program, including the identification of ongoing funding sources for the program.

(c) The evaluation shall be based on all of the following:

(1) The number of pupils, teachers, and parents participating.

(2) The number and types of questions asked.

(3) The number and types of referrals made.

(d) The evaluation with measurable objectives shall be distributed to all parents participating and all suggestions for improving the program shall be utilized.

(e) The pilot program shall be deemed to be successful to the extent that all of the following conditions exist:

(1) A majority of school personnel, parents, and students participating in the pilot program are able to identify various types of drug paraphernalia.

(2) A majority of parents are able to, as verified by a survey, indicate that their child's self-esteem has changed in a positive manner, indicate that they practice learned communication skills with their children, and contact the school nurse for information and referral purposes.

(3) A majority of teachers, as verified by a survey, are able to identify pupils with behavioral and self-esteem changes and to refer them for further assistance.

(4) A majority of students, as verified by a survey, are able to utilize the services of the school nurse for information and referral purposes.

37445. Funds appropriated for purposes of this article shall be expended only for the orientation of the school nurses and for the cost of printed material associated with the project.

37446. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall adopt rules and regulations to implement this article.

37447. This article shall remain in effect only until December 31, 1992, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later statute, which is enacted before December 31, 1992, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. The sum of ninety thousand dollars ($90,000) is hereby appropriated to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for allocation for the School Pilot Project: Substance Abuse Prevention Program established pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 37440) of Chapter 3 of Part 22 of the Education Code, as follows:

(a) Thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) from the Health Education Account of the Cigarette and Tobacco Products Surtax Fund for the portion of the program that relates to tobacco-related school health education programs for the prevention and reduction of tobacco use.

(b) Thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) from moneys received by the state under the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1986 (Title V, Public Law 100-297) for the portion of the program that meets the requirements set forth in federal law.

(c) Thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) from moneys that may be available under the drug abuse education prevention portion of the federal Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Title III, Public Law 100-690) for the portion of the program that meets the requirements set forth in federal law.

CHAPTER 1052

An act to repeal Section 2 of Chapter 1462 of the Statutes of 1986, relating to acquired immune deficiency syndrome, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

I am reducing the appropriation contained in Assembly Bill No 2156

I am signing AB 2156 which I believe is the appropriate vehicle to provide additional funding from the AIDS Vaccine Research and Development Grant Fund for continued research to find a cure for AIDS. However, there are only sufficient funds available in that Fund to support an appropriation of $1,798,000. Therefore I am reducing the appropriation in Section 2 from $1,911,000 to $1,798,000 and am deleting the $50,000 appropriation in Section 3 I believe that the appropriation of $1,798,000 will provide for the continued operation of the program being administered by the Department of Health Services.

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No. 2156.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of Chapter 1462 of the Statutes of 1986 is repealed.

SEC. 2. The sum of one million nine hundred eleven thousand dollars ($1,911,000) is hereby appropriated from the AIDS Vaccine Research and Development Grant Fund to the State Department of Health Services for the purposes of the AIDS Vaccine Research and Development Grant Program created pursuant to Section 199.56 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 3. The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) is hereby appropriated from the AIDS Vaccine Research and Development Grant Fund to the State Department of Health Services for the purpose of reimbursing the state department for costs incurred in administering the fund.

CHAPTER 1053

An act to add Section 1522.2 to the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Section 11174.1 of the Penal Code, relating to child abuse, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1522.2 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1522.2. If a local law enforcement agency, a probation officer, or a local department or agency that provides social services becomes aware that an employee of a community treatment facility, a day treatment facility, a group home, or a foster family agency has been arrested for child abuse, as defined in Section 11165.6 of the Penal Code, after determining that the potential for abuse is present and that the employee is free to return to the facility where children are present, the local law enforcement agency, probation officer, or local department or agency shall notify the licensee of the charge of abuse.

SEC. 2. Section 11174.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

11174.1. (a) The Department of Justice, in cooperation with the State Department of Social Services, shall prescribe by regulation guidelines for the investigation of child abuse, as defined in Section 11165.6, in facilities licensed to care for children, and shall ensure that the investigation is conducted in accordance with the regulations and guidelines.

(b) For community treatment facilities, day treatment facilities, group homes, and foster family agencies, the State Department of Social Services shall prescribe the following regulations:

(1) Regulations designed to assure that all licensees and employees of community treatment facilities, day treatment facilities, group homes, and foster family agencies licensed to care for children have had appropriate training, as determined by the State Department of Social Services, in consultation with representatives of licensees, on the provisions of this article.

(2) Regulations designed to assure the community treatment facilities, day treatment facilities, group homes, and foster family agencies licensed to care for children maintain a written protocol for the investigation and reporting of child abuse, as defined in Section 11165.6, alleged to have occurred involving a child placed in the facility.

(c) The State Department of Social Services shall provide such orientation and training as it deems necessary to assure that its officers, employees, or agents who conduct inspections of facilities licensed to care for children are knowledgeable about the reporting requirements of this article and have adequate training to identify conditions leading to, and the signs of, child abuse, as defined in Section 11165.6.

SEC. 3. The State Department of Social Services shall require that at least one hour of the 20 hours of training currently required by regulation of group home child care workers within the first 18 months of employment shall be dedicated to meeting the requirements of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 11174.1 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure that the children of this state are protected from abuse, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1054

An act to amend Sections 626.6, 626.8, and 627.7 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 29, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 626.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

626.6. (a) In any case in which a person who is not a student or officer or employee of a community college, a state university, the university, or a school, and who is not required by his or her employment to be on the campus or any other facility owned, operated, or controlled by the governing board of any such community college, state university, university, or school, enters such campus or facility, and it reasonably appears to the chief administrative officer of the campus or facility or to an officer or employee designated by the chief administrative officer to maintain order on such campus or facility that such person is committing any act likely to interfere with the peaceful conduct of the activities of the campus or facility or has entered the campus or facility for the purpose of committing any such act, the chief administrative officer or officer or employee designated by him or her to maintain order on the campus or facility may direct the person to leave the campus or facility, and if the person fails to do so or if the person willfully and knowingly reenters upon the campus or facility within 7 days after being directed to leave, he or she is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as follows:

(1) Upon a first conviction by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) If the defendant has been previously convicted once of a violation of any offense defined in this chapter or Section 415.5, by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than 10 days or more than six months, or by both such imprisonment and a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and shall not be released on probation, parole, or any other basis until he or she has served not less than 10 days.

(3) If the defendant has been previously convicted two or more times of a violation of any offense defined in this chapter or Section 415.5, by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than 90 days or more than six months, or by both such imprisonment and a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and shall not be released on probation, parole, or any other basis until he or she has served not less than 90 days.

For purposes of this section, a representative of a school employee organization engaged in activities related to representation, as provided for in Chapter 10.7 (commencing with Section 3540) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code, shall be deemed a person required by his or her employment to be in a school building or on the grounds of a school.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not be utilized to impinge upon the lawful exercise of constitutionally protected rights of freedom of speech or assembly.

(c) When a person is directed to leave pursuant to subdivision (a), the person directing him or her to leave shall inform the person that if he or she reenters the campus or facility within 7 days he or she will be guilty of a crime.

SEC. 2. Section 626.8 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

626.8. (a) Any person who comes into any school building or upon any school ground, or street, sidewalk, or public way adjacent thereto, without lawful business thereon, and whose presence or acts interfere with the peaceful conduct of the activities of the school or disrupt the school or its pupils or school activities, or any specified sex offender who comes into any school building or upon any school ground, or street, sidewalk, or public way adjacent thereto, unless such person is a parent or guardian of a child attending that school, or is a student at the school or has prior written permission for the entry from the chief administrative officer of that school, is guilty of a misdemeanor if he or she:

(1) Remains there after being asked to leave by the chief administrative official of that school or his or her designated representative, or by a person employed as a member of a security or police department of a school district pursuant to Section 39670 of the Education Code, or a city police officer, or sheriff or deputy sheriff, or California Highway Patrol Officer; or

(2) Reenters or comes upon such place within 7 days of being asked to leave by a person specified in paragraph (1); or

(3) Has otherwise established a continued pattern of unauthorized entry.

The provisions of this section shall not be utilized to impinge upon the lawful exercise of constitutionally protected rights of freedom of speech or assembly.

(b) Punishment for violation of this section shall be as follows:

(1) Upon a first conviction by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) If the defendant has been previously convicted once of a violation of any offense defined in this chapter or Section 415.5, by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than 10 days or more than six months, or by both such imprisonment and a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and shall not be released on probation, parole, or any other basis until he or she has served not less than 10 days.

(3) If the defendant has been previously convicted two or more times of a violation of any offense defined in this chapter or Section 415.5, by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than 90 days or more than six months, or by both such imprisonment and a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and shall not be released on probation, parole, or any other basis until he or she has served not less than 90 days.

(c) As used in this section:

(1) "Specified sex offender" means any person required to register pursuant to Section 290, who has been convicted of a violation of Section 220, 261, 266, 267, 272, 288, or 289, or of subdivision (c), (d), or (f) of Section 286, or of subdivision (c), (d), or (f) of Section 288a, or of an attempt to commit any of these offenses.

(2) "Lawful business" means a reason for being present upon school property which is not otherwise prohibited by statute, by ordinance, or by any regulation adopted pursuant to statute or ordinance.

(3) "Continued pattern of unauthorized entry" means that on at least two prior occasions in the same school year the defendant came into any school building or upon any school ground, or street, sidewalk, or public way adjacent thereto, without lawful business thereon, and his or her presence or acts interfered with the peaceful conduct of the activities of such school or disrupted the school or its pupils or school activities, and the defendant was asked to leave by a person specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a).

(4) In the case of a specified sex offender, "continued pattern of unauthorized entry" means that on at least two prior occasions in the same school year the defendant came into any school building or upon any school ground, or street, sidewalk, or public way adjacent thereto, and the defendant was asked to leave by a person specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a).

(5) "School" means any preschool or school having any of grades kindergarten through 12.

(d) When a person is directed to leave pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), the person directing him or her to leave shall inform the person that if he or she reenters the place within 7 days he or she will be guilty of a crime.

SEC. 3. Section 627.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

627.7. (a) It is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or by both, for an outsider to fail or refuse to leave the school grounds promptly after the principal, designee, or school security officer has requested the outsider to leave or to fail to remain off the school grounds for 7 days after being requested to leave, if the outsider does any of the following:

(1) Enters or remains on school grounds without having registered as required by Section 627.2.

(2) Enters or remains on school grounds after having been denied registration pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 627.4.

(3) Enters or remains on school grounds after having registration revoked pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 627.4.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not be utilized to impinge upon the lawful exercise of constitutionally protected rights of freedom of speech or assembly.

(c) When a person is directed to leave pursuant to subdivision (a), the person directing him or her to leave shall inform the person that if he or she reenters the place within 7 days he or she will be guilty of a crime.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1055

An act to add Section 199.741 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to AIDS.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) epidemic will have major fiscal implications for the entire health system, including the Medi-Cal program, and, therefore, efforts should be made to identify cost savings to the state.

(b) Money from the General Fund could potentially be saved in the AIDS home health, attendant, and hospice care pilot program by preventing the loss of private health insurance of program participants. If the loss occurs, the state will become the payer of care to pilot program participants. Between January of 1987 and May of 1988, 34 percent of pilot program participants relied on private health insurance as their primary payer of care.

(c) The Medi-Cal program is authorized to implement the Health Insurance Premium Payment (HIPP) program, which provides for Medi-Cal to pay for health insurance premiums for Medi-Cal eligibles when it is cost-effective to do so. Based on Medi-Cal costs associated with AIDS care, as determined by the State Department of Health Services, Medi-Cal can expect to save an average of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per year for each HIPP program participant who has an AIDS diagnosis. Due to the fiscal catastrophic nature of AIDS, many AIDS patients may discontinue their health insurance premium payments prior to qualifying for Medi-Cal. The payment of private health insurance premiums for AIDS patients prior to their obtaining Medi-Cal eligibility may provide the Medi-Cal program with cost savings by increasing participation in the HIPP program.

SEC. 2. Section 199.741 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

199.741. (a) The state department may amend the home health, hospice, and attendant care pilot projects funded pursuant to this chapter, to include, to the extent that it is cost-effective to the Medi-Cal program or the General Fund, the payment of private health insurance premiums for participants in the pilot projects prior to the participants becoming eligible for Medi-Cal.

(b) The director shall make a determination of cost effectiveness, which shall be reviewed by the Department of Finance. The director may use existing budgeted resources for services provided for pursuant to subdivision (a).

CHAPTER 1056

An act to amend Section 2813 of the Public Resources Code, relating to earthquake preparedness.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2813 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

2813. The Southern California Earthquake Preparedness Project and the Bay Area Regional Earthquake Preparedness Project shall continue to June 30, 1995, in order to further comprehensive earthquake preparedness planning in southern and northern California and to help achieve a significant reduction of earthquake hazards by January 1, 2000. The Southern California Earthquake Preparedness Project area shall include the Counties of San Diego and Imperial.

CHAPTER 1057

An act to amend Section 44227.5 of the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44227.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44227.5. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that college and university faculty members who teach courses relating to teaching or administrative methods in programs of professional preparation that are approved by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing have direct knowledge of the way that public elementary and secondary schools function and operate.

(b) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing, in cooperation with public and private postsecondary institutions operating teacher education programs, shall develop standards and procedures which ensure that each faculty member who teaches a course relating to teaching methods in an approved program of professional preparation actively participates in public elementary or secondary schools and classrooms at least once every three academic years.

(c) The commission, in cooperation with public and private postsecondary institutions operating administrative services credential programs, shall develop standards and procedures which ensure that each faculty member who teaches a course relating to administrative methods as defined by the commission in an approved program of professional preparation actively participates in public elementary or secondary schools or classrooms at least once every three academic years.

(d) The commission shall exempt from this requirement faculty members whose primary assignments are in departments or schools other than education.

CHAPTER 1058

An act to amend Sections 313, 313.1, and 313.4 of the Penal Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Parents should carefully monitor the video recordings that their children rent or purchase.

(b) Video retailers should voluntarily adopt systems that assist parents in controlling the types of video recordings their children rent or purchase.

(c) These systems should maintain parental control by the use of, but not limited to, the following:

(1) Family membership cards that list what restrictions a parent wishes to place on their children's rental or purchase privileges.

(2) A computer data base maintained by the retailer to provide this information at the time of rental or purchase.

(3) The placement of video recordings assigned an "X" rating or which are otherwise "adult" videos in a location designated "adults only."

(4) The requirement that identification be shown where the retailer knows or has reason to know that any person seeking to rent or purchase (A) an "R" rated video is less than 17 years of age or (B) any person seeking to rent or purchase an "X" rated video is less than 18 years of age.

Nothing in this section indicates a legislative intent to abrogate the requirements set forth in Section 313.2 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 2. Section 313 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

313. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Harmful matter" means matter, taken as a whole, which to the average person, applying contemporary statewide standards, appeals to the prurient interest, and is matter which, taken as a whole, depicts or describes in a patently offensive way sexual conduct and which, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value for minors.

(1) When it appears from the nature of the matter or the circumstances of its dissemination, distribution or exhibition that it is designed for clearly defined deviant sexual groups, the appeal of the matter shall be judged with reference to its intended recipient group.

(2) In prosecutions under this chapter, where circumstances of production, presentation, sale, dissemination, distribution, or publicity indicate that matter is being commercially exploited by the defendant for the sake of its prurient appeal, that evidence is probative with respect to the nature of the matter and can justify the conclusion that the matter lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value for minors.

(b) "Matter" means any book, magazine, newspaper, video recording, or other printed or written material or any picture, drawing, photograph, motion picture, or other pictorial representation or any statue or other figure, or any recording, transcription, or mechanical, chemical, or electrical reproduction or any other articles, equipment, machines, or materials. "Matter" also includes live or recorded telephone messages when transmitted, disseminated, or distributed as part of a commercial transaction.

(c) "Person" means any individual, partnership, firm, association, corporation, or other legal entity.

(d) "Distribute" means to transfer possession of, whether with or without consideration.

(e) "Knowingly" means being aware of the character of the matter.

(f) "Exhibit" means to show.

(g) "Minor" means any natural person under 18 years of age.

SEC. 3. Section 313.1 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

313.1. (a) Every person who, with knowledge that a person is a minor, or who fails to exercise reasonable care in ascertaining the true age of a minor, knowingly sells, rents, distributes, sends, causes to be sent, exhibits, or offers to distribute or exhibit by any means, including, but not limited to, live or recorded telephone messages, any harmful matter to the minor shall be punished as specified in Section 313.4.

It does not constitute a violation of this section for a telephone corporation, as defined by Section 234 of the Public Utilities Code, to carry or transmit messages described in this chapter or perform related activities in providing telephone services.

(b) Every person who misrepresents himself to be the parent or guardian of a minor and thereby causes the minor to be admitted to an exhibition of any harmful matter shall be punished as specified in Section 313.4.

(c) Any person who knowingly displays, sells, or offers to sell in any coin- or slug-operated vending machine or mechanically or electronically controlled vending machine which is located in a public place, other than a public place from which minors are excluded, any harmful matter displaying to the public view photographs or pictorial representations of the commission of any of the following acts shall be punished as specified in Section 313.4: sodomy, oral copulation, sexual intercourse, masturbation, bestiality, or a photograph of an exposed penis in an erect and turgid state.

(d) Nothing in this section invalidates or prohibits the adoption of an ordinance by a city, county, or city and county which restricts the display of material which is harmful to minors, as defined in this chapter, in a public place, other than a public place from which minors are excluded, by requiring the placement of devices commonly known as blinder racks in front of the material, so that the lower two-thirds of the material is not exposed to view.

(e) Any person who sells or rents video recordings of harmful matter shall create an area within his or her business establishment for the placement of video recordings of harmful matter. This area shall be labeled "adults only." The failure to create and label the area is an infraction, and is punishable by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100). The failure to place a video recording, regardless of its content, in this area shall not constitute an infraction. This subdivision shall not apply to public libraries as defined in Section 18710 of the Education Code.

(f) It shall be a defense in any prosecution for a violation of subdivision (a) by a person who knowingly distributed any harmful matter by the use of telephones or telephone facilities to any person under the age of 18 years that the defendant has taken either of the following measures to restrict access to the harmful matter by persons under 18 years of age:

(1) Required the person receiving the harmful matter to use an authorized access or identification code, as provided by the information provider, before transmission of the harmful matter begins, where the defendant has previously issued the code by mailing it to the applicant after taking reasonable measures to ascertain that the applicant was 18 years of age or older and has established a procedure to immediately cancel the code of any person after receiving notice, in writing or by telephone, that the code has been lost, stolen, or used by persons under the age of 18 years or that the code is no longer desired.

(2) Required payment by credit card before transmission of the matter.

(g) Any list of applicants or recipients compiled or maintained by an information-access service provider for purposes of compliance with paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) is confidential and shall not be sold or otherwise disseminated except upon order of the court.

SEC. 4. Section 313.4 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

313.4. Every person who violates Section 313.1, other than subdivision (e), is punishable by fine of not more than two thousand dollars ($2,000), by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment. However, if the person has been previously convicted of a violation of Section 313.1, other than subdivision (e), or of any section of Chapter 7.5 (commencing with Section 311) of Title 9 of Part 1 of this code, the person shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Section 1203.1b of the Penal Code, relating to criminal law.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.1b of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.1b. (a) In any case in which a defendant is convicted of an offense and granted probation, the court, taking into account any amount which the defendant is ordered to pay in fines, assessments, and restitution, shall make a determination of the ability of the defendant to pay all or a portion of the reasonable cost of probation; and of conducting the presentence investigation and preparing the presentence report made pursuant to Section 1203. The reasonable cost of these services and of probation shall not exceed the amount determined to be the actual average cost thereof. The court shall order the defendant to appear before a county officer designated by the court to make an inquiry into the ability of the defendant to pay all or a portion of such costs. At a hearing, the defendant shall be entitled to have, but shall not be limited to, the opportunity to be heard in person, to present witnesses and other documentary evidence, and to confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and to disclosure of the evidence against the defendant, and a written statement of the findings of the court or the county officer. If the court determines that the defendant has the ability to pay all or part of the costs, the court shall set the amount to be reimbursed and order the defendant to pay that sum to the county in the manner in which the court believes reasonable and compatible with the defendant's financial ability; or with the consent of the defendant, the court shall order the probation officer to set the amount of payment, which shall not exceed the maximum amount set by the court, and the manner in which the payment shall be made to the county. In making a determination of whether a defendant has the ability to pay, the court shall take into account the amount of any fine imposed upon the defendant and any amount the defendant has been ordered to pay in restitution. The court may hold additional hearings during the probationary period.

If practicable, the court or the probation officer shall order payments to be made on a monthly basis. Execution may be issued on the order in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. The order to pay all or part of the costs shall not be enforced by contempt.

A payment schedule for reimbursement of the costs of presentence investigation based on income shall be developed by the probation department of each county and approved by the presiding judges of the municipal and superior courts.

(b) The term "ability to pay" means the overall capability of the defendant to reimburse the costs, or a portion of the costs, of conducting the presentence investigation, preparing the presentence report, and probation, and shall include, but shall not be limited to, the defendant's:

(1) Present financial position.

(2) Reasonably discernible future financial position. In no event shall the court consider a period of more than six months from the date of the hearing for purposes of determining reasonably discernible future financial position.

(3) Likelihood that the defendant shall be able to obtain employment within the six-month period from the date of the hearing.

(4) Any other factor or factors which may bear upon the defendant's financial capability to reimburse the county for the costs.

(c) At any time during the pendency of the judgment rendered according to the terms of this section, a defendant against whom a judgment has been rendered may petition the rendering court to modify or vacate its previous judgment on the grounds of a change of circumstances with regard to the defendant's ability to pay the judgment. The court shall advise the defendant of this right at the time of rendering of the judgment.

(d) All sums paid by a defendant pursuant to this section shall be allocated for the operating expenses of the county probation department.

(e) The provisions of this section shall be operative in a county upon the adoption of an ordinance to that effect by the board of supervisors.

CHAPTER 1060

An act to add Section 19285.1 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Sections 11478 and 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to parent locators.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19285.1 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

19285.1. (a) The Franchise Tax Board may, upon request by the California Parent Locator Service, disclose to the California Parent Locator Service, pursuant to Sections 11478 and 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, any taxpayer return information that may be of assistance in locating alleged abducting or absent parents, spouses, or former spouses, in enforcing their liability for child support or the liability for spousal support, in establishing a parent and child relationship, and in locating and returning abducted children to their parents.

(b) Information disclosed to the California Parent Locator Service pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be disseminated by the California Parent Locator Service only as provided for by, and only for the purposes specified in, Sections 11478 and 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 2. Section 11478 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11478. All state, county, and local agencies shall cooperate in the enforcement of any child support obligation or to the extent required under the state plan under Section 11475.2 and Section 1650 of the Code of Civil Procedure, spousal support orders and in the location of parents who have abandoned, deserted, or abducted children, irrespective of whether the children are or are not receiving aid to families with dependent children, and shall, on request, supply the county department, the Department of Justice, any county probation officer, the district attorney of any county in this state, or the California Parent Locator Service with all information on hand relative to the location, income, or property of any absent parents, spouses, or former spouses, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the information confidential, and with all information on hand relative to the location and prosecution of any person who has, by means of false statement or representation or by impersonation or other fraudulent device, obtained aid for a child under this chapter. The county department shall use the information only for the purposes of administration of aid under this chapter and shall not use it or disclose it for any other purpose. The Department of Justice, the district attorney, and the county probation officer shall use it only for the purpose of establishing a parent and child relationship, enforcing the child support liability of the absent parents, enforcing the spousal support liability of the spouse or former spouse to the extent required by the state plan under Section 11475.2 and Section 1650 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or for locating parents and children abducted by them or for the prosecution of other persons mentioned in this section, or for assisting the California Parent Locator Service, parent locator services of other states, the federal parent locator service, courts, and public agencies, as authorized by Section 11478.5, and shall not use the information or disclose it, for any other purpose. The California Parent Locator Service shall use and disclose the information only as authorized by Section 11478.5.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to compel the disclosure of information relating to a deserting parent who is a recipient of aid under a public assistance program for which federal aid is paid to this state, if that information is required to be kept confidential by the federal law or regulations relating to the program.

SEC. 3. Section 11478.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11478.5. (a) There is in the Department of Justice the California Parent Locator Service which shall collect and disseminate all of the following, with respect to any parent who has deserted or abandoned any child, spouse, or former spouse, and with respect to any parent who has abducted any child:

(1) The full and true name of such parent together with any known aliases.

(2) Date and place of birth.

(3) Physical description.

(4) Social security number.

(5) Employment history and earnings.

(6) Military status and Veterans Administration or military service serial number.

(7) Last known address and date thereof.

(8) Driver's license number, driving record, and vehicle registration information.

(9) Criminal, licensing, and applicant records and information.

(10) (A) Any additional location, asset, and income information, including income tax return information obtained pursuant to Section 19285.1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, that may be of assistance in locating the alleged abducting or absent parent, spouse, or former spouse, in establishing a parent and child relationship, in enforcing the child support liability of the absent parent, or enforcing the spousal support liability of the spouse or former spouse to the extent required by the state plan pursuant to Section 11475.2.

(B) For purposes of this subdivision "income tax return information" means all of the following regarding the taxpayer:

(i) Assets.

(ii) Credits.

(iii) Deductions.

(iv) Exemptions.

(v) Identity.

(vi) Liabilities.

(vii) Nature, source, and amount of income.

(viii) Net worth.

(x) Receipts.

(xi) Address.

(xii) Social security number.

(b) To effectuate the purposes of this section, the California Parent Locator Service shall, to the extent necessary, utilize the federal parent locator service, and may request and shall receive from all departments, boards, bureaus, or other agencies of the state, or any of its political subdivisions, and the same are authorized to provide that assistance and data which will enable the Department of Justice and public agencies to carry out their powers and duties to locate the parents, spouses, and former spouses, and to identify their assets, to establish a parent and child relationship, to enforce their liability for child or spousal support of their children, for any other obligations incurred on behalf of their children, and to locate and return abducted children to their parents.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 14202 of the Penal Code, any records established pursuant to this section shall be disseminated only to the Department of Justice, the central registry of this state and other states as defined by federal law, district attorneys, probation departments, locator services of other states, the federal parent locator service, the county department administering aid to families with dependent children, and courts or local agencies having jurisdiction in support, custody, abduction, adoption, dependency, or abandonment proceedings or actions, or reimbursement proceedings for the support of juveniles who are in out-of-home placement for the purposes set out in Section 11478 and this section.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), at no time shall any information received by the California Parent Locator Service be disclosed to any person, agency, or other entity, other than those persons, agencies, and entities specified pursuant to Section 11478, this section, or any other provision of law.

(2) The following information may be provided to an obligee:

(A) Information regarding the location of an obligor.

(B) Information regarding the location of an obligor's employer.

(3) The following definitions shall govern the construction of this subdivision:

(A) "Employer" means a person for whom an individual performs services as an employee, as defined in Section 706.011 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and includes the United States Government and any public entity as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.

(B) "Obligee" means the person to whom support has been ordered to be paid.

(C) "Obligor" means any person owing a duty of support.

(4) This subdivision shall not affect the right to discovery between parties in any action to establish, modify, or enforce child support, spousal support, or family support.

(e) The Department of Justice, in consultation with the State Department of Social Services, shall promulgate rules and regulations to facilitate maximum and efficient use of the California Parent Locator Service.

(f) This section shall be construed in a manner consistent with the other provisions of this article.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1061

An act to amend Section 5068 of the Penal Code, relating to prisoners.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the maintenance of family ties and the development of familial relationships is crucial to rehabilitation efforts. It is the intent of the Legislature to facilitate the maintenance and development of family relationships by incarcerating inmates in the institution closest to the inmate's home, whenever practical and when requested by the inmate.

(b) The Legislature further finds and declares that the ability of the Department of Corrections to accommodate prisoner requests to be placed in an institution nearest the prisoner's home is limited by the number of prisons located in major metropolitan areas such as southern California. Further growth in prison population and the difficulty in siting prisons in major metropolitan areas will compound the difficulty in accommodating those requests. The Legislature further finds and declares that the increasing percentage of prisoners with short stays in prison, particularly parole violators, inhibits the ability of the Department of Corrections in accommodating prisoner's request for those placements.

SEC. 2. Section 5068 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

5068. The Director of Corrections shall cause each person who is newly committed to a state prison to be examined and studied. This includes the investigation of all pertinent circumstances of the person's life such as the existence of any strong community and family ties, the maintenance of which may aid in the person's rehabilitation, and the antecedents of the violation of law because of which he or she has been committed to prison. Any person may be reexamined to determine whether existing orders and dispositions should be modified or continued in force.

Upon the basis of the examination and study, the Director of Corrections shall classify prisoners; and when reasonable, the director shall assign a prisoner to the institution of the appropriate security level and gender population nearest the prisoner's home, unless other classification factors make such a placement unreasonable.

As used in this section, "reasonable" includes consideration of the safety of the prisoner and the institution, the length of term, and the availability of institutional programs and housing.

As used in this section, "prisoner's home" means a place where the prisoner's spouse, parents, or children reside at the time of commitment.

When the diagnostic study of any inmate committed under subdivision (b) of Section 1168 so indicates, the director shall cause a psychiatric or psychological report to be prepared for the Community Release Board prior to the release of the inmate. The report shall be prepared by a psychiatrist or psychologist licensed to practice in this state.

Before the release of any inmate committed under subdivision (b) of Section 1168, the director shall provide the Community Release Board with a written evaluation of the prisoner.

CHAPTER 1062

An act to add Section 33204.3 to the Public Resources Code, relating to recreation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33204.3 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

33204.3. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) The existing parks and open space owned by federal, state, and local agencies within the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor, as defined in Section 33105.5, are important recreational and environmental resources for the people of California, especially residents of the San Fernando, La Cresenta, and San Gabriel Valleys, and it is in the public interest to facilitate the connection of existing parks and open-space resources and to provide for further improvement of underutilized public easements and other existing public open spaces.

(2) There is a need for overall trail and recreational access planning and coordination between the 11 local agencies, two joint powers park agencies, two state agencies, and three federal agencies with jurisdiction over lands in the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor.

(b) The conservancy, using the voluntary cooperation of governmental jurisdictions within the corridor, shall prepare and adopt a coordinated trail development plan and recreational access program for the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor that includes, but is not necessarily limited to, all of the following:

(1) Identification of major hiking and equestrian trails and important secondary and feeder trails that cross jurisdictional lines, and a priority program for improving those trails.

(2) Identification of special purpose trails, where appropriate, for special population groups and special user groups, such as mountain bicycles where the special purpose trails will have no significant environmental impact.

(3) Identification of, and a priority program for implementing, those additional recreation access needs, including new or expanded trails that should be added to the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor, and additional or upgraded facilities, parks, or open spaces that may be necessary.

(4) Identification of underused existing public open spaces and recommendations for providing better public use and enjoyment of these areas.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 33105.5, the conservancy may make minor boundary changes to the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor solely for the purpose of implementing the plan prepared pursuant to this section. Any boundary change shall be in the form of maps and descriptions which shall be included in the plan submitted pursuant to subdivision (d) and shall be filed with the Secretary of State not later than July 31, 1990.

(d) The conservancy shall hold at least one public hearing in each city and the unincorporated area of each county within the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor prior to the submission of the plan and program pursuant to this subdivision. The plan and program prepared under subdivision (b), and any changes to the corridor boundary, shall be coordinated with each affected jurisdiction prior to adoption by the conservancy. The plan and program shall be submitted to the Assembly Committee on Natural Resources and the Senate Committee on Natural Resources and Wildlife at least 30 days prior to the approval of any acquisition or improvement under the plan or program pursuant to this division, but not later than June 30, 1990.

(e) Upon adoption by a local government of the plan and program prepared under this section, the plan and program shall be part of the plan that the local government implements for purposes of compliance with Section 33009.

SEC. 2. The planning and coordination activities undertaken by the Santa Monica Mountains Conservancy pursuant to Section 33204.3 of the Public Resources Code shall be undertaken within existing budget provisions, using the voluntary resources of local nonprofit organizations, private contributions, and the existing planning resources of the various governmental entities affected by the Rim of the Valley Trail Corridor. The conservancy shall reimburse the Department of Parks and Recreation for any reasonable costs incurred by the department as a result of this act.

SEC. 3. This act shall not become operative unless and until legislation is enacted during the 1989–90 Regular Session which either deletes the repeal of Division 23 (commencing with Section 33000) of the Public Resources Code or extends that repeal date beyond July 1, 1990.

CHAPTER 1063

An act to amend Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous substances.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25356.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25356.1. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (g), the department, or, if appropriate, the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve remedial action plans for all sites listed pursuant to Section 25356

(b) A potentially responsible party may request the department or the regional water quality control board, when appropriate, to prepare or approve a remedial action plan for any site not listed pursuant to Section 25356 if the department or the State Water Resources Control Board determines that a removal or remedial action is required to respond to a release of a hazardous substance. The department or the state board shall respond to a request to prepare or approve a remedial action plan within 90 days of receipt. This subdivision does not affect the authority of any regional water quality control board to issue and enforce a cleanup and abatement order pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code or a cease and desist order pursuant to Section 13301 of the Water Code.

(c) All remedial action plans prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall be based upon Section 25350, Subpart F of the National Oil and Hazardous Substances Pollution Contingency Plan (40 C.F.R. Sec. 300.61 et seq.), and any amendments thereto, and upon all of the following factors, to the extent that these factors are consistent with these federal regulations and do not require a less stringent level of cleanup than these federal regulations:

(1) Health and safety risks posed by the conditions at the site. When considering these risks, the department or the regional water quality control board shall consider scientific data and reports which may have a relationship to the site.

(2) The effect of contamination or pollution levels upon present, future, and probable beneficial uses of contaminated, polluted, or threatened resources.

(3) The effect of alternative remedial action measures on the reasonable availability of groundwater resources for present, future, and probable beneficial uses. The department or regional water quality control board shall consider the extent to which remedial action measures are available which use, as a principal element, treatment that significantly reduces the volume, toxicity, or mobility of the hazardous substances, as opposed to remedial actions which do not use this treatment. The department or regional water quality control board shall not select remedial action measures which use offsite transport and disposal of untreated hazardous substances or contaminated materials if practical and cost-effective treatment technologies are available.

(4) Site specific characteristics, including the potential for offsite migration of hazardous substances, the surface or subsurface soil, and the hydrogeologic conditions, as well as preexisting background contamination levels.

(5) Cost effectiveness of alternative remedial action measures. In evaluating the cost effectiveness of proposed alternative remedial action measures, the department or regional water quality control board shall consider, to the extent possible, the total short-term and long-term costs of these actions and shall use, as a major factor, whether the deferral of a remedial action will result, or is likely to result, in a rapid increase in cost or in the hazard to public health or the environment posed by the site. Land disposal shall not be deemed the most cost-effective measure merely on the basis of lower short-term cost.

(6) The potential environmental impacts of alternative remedial action measures, including, but not limited to, land disposal of the untreated hazardous substances as opposed to treatment of the hazardous substances to remove or reduce its volume, toxicity, or mobility prior to disposal.

(d) A remedial action plan prepared or approved pursuant to this section shall include a statement of reasons setting forth the basis for the removal and remedial actions selected. The statement shall include an evaluation of each proposed alternative submitted to, or prepared by, the department or the regional water quality control board for a particular site. The statement shall also include an evaluation of the consistency of the removal and remedial actions proposed by the plan with the federal regulations and factors specified in subdivision (c) and shall set forth the reasons for rejection of alternative removal and remedial actions. The statement shall also include a nonbinding preliminary allocation of responsibility among all identifiable potentially responsible parties at a particular site, including those parties which may have been released, or may otherwise be immune, from liability pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law. Before adopting a final remedial action plan, the department or the regional water quality control board shall prepare or approve a draft remedial action plan and shall do all of the following.

(1) Circulate the draft plan for at least 30 days for public comment.

(2) Notify affected local and state agencies of the removal and remedial actions proposed in the remedial action plan and publish a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area affected by the draft remedial action plan. The department or the regional water quality control board shall also post notices in the location where the proposed removal or remedial action would be located and shall notify, by direct mailing, the owners of property contiguous to the site addressed by the plan, as shown in the latest equalized assessment roll.

(3) Hold one or more meetings with the lead and responsible agencies for the removal and remedial actions, the potentially responsible parties for the removal and remedial actions, and the interested public, to provide the public with the information which is necessary to address the issues which concern the public. The information to be provided shall include an assessment of the degree of contamination, the characteristics of the hazardous substances, an estimate of the time required to carry out the removal and remedial actions, and a description of the proposed removal and remedial actions.

(4) Comply with Section 25358.7.

(e) After complying with subdivision (d), the department or the regional water quality control board shall review and consider any public comments, and shall revise the draft plan, if appropriate. The department or the regional water quality control board shall then issue the final remedial action plan.

(f) A potentially responsible party named in the final remedial action plan issued by the department or the regional water quality control board may seek judicial review of the final remedial action plan pursuant to Section 1085 of the Code of Civil Procedure within 30 days after the final plan is issued. The filing of a petition seeking judicial review of a final remedial action plan shall not stay any removal or remedial action specified in the final plan.

For purposes of judicial review, the court shall uphold the final remedial action plan if the plan is based upon substantial evidence available to the department or the regional water quality control board, as the case may be. This subdivision does not prohibit the court from granting any appropriate relief within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to, enjoining the expenditure of funds pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 25385.6.

(g) (1) This section does not require the department or a regional water quality control board to prepare a remedial action plan if conditions present at a site present an imminent or substantial endangerment to the public health and safety or to the environment.

(2) A remedial action plan is not required pursuant to subdivision (a) if all of the following apply:

(A) The department, a regional water quality control board, or a responsible party takes a removal action at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356 to prevent, minimize, or mitigate damage that may otherwise result from a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

(B) The total cost of the removal action is less than four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000).

(C) The department, after appropriate testing and analysis, determines that the removal action has adequately abated conditions at the site and the site may be removed from the list established pursuant to Section 25356.

(3) The department may waive the requirement that a remedial action plan meet the requirements specified in subdivision (c) if all of the following apply:

(A) The responsible party adequately characterizes the hazardous substance conditions at a site listed pursuant to Section 25356.

(B) The responsible party submits to the department, in a form acceptable to the department, all of the following:

(i) A description of the techniques and methods to be employed in excavating, storing, handling, transporting, treating, and disposing of materials from the site.

(ii) A listing of the alternative remedial measures which were considered by the responsible party in selecting the proposed removal action.

(iii) A description of methods that will be employed during the removal action to ensure the health and safety of workers and the public during the removal action.

(iv) A description of prior removal actions with similar hazardous substances and with similar public safety and environmental considerations.

(C) The department determines that the remedial action plan provides protection of human health and the environment at least equivalent to that which would be provided by a remedial action plan prepared in accordance with subdivision (c).

(D) The total cost of the removal action is less than two million dollars ($2,000,000).

(4) For purposes of this section, the cost of a removal action includes the cleanup of removal of released hazardous substances from the environment or the taking of other actions which are necessary to prevent, minimize, or mitigate damage which may otherwise result from a release or threatened release, as further defined by Section 9601 (23) of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(5) Paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subdivision do not apply to a removal action paid from the Hazardous Substance Cleanup Fund.

(h) Article 2 (commencing with Section 13320), Article 3 (commencing with Section 13330), Article 5 (commencing with Section 13350), and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13360) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of the Water Code apply to any action or failure to act by a regional water quality control board pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 1064

An act relating to the Department of Justice.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. On or before April 1, 1992, the Attorney General, after collecting data from the district attorney of each county, shall report to the Legislature as to the number of prosecutions, both successful and unsuccessful, which were undertaken in this state between January 1, 1989, and December 31, 1991, in which a violation of Chapter 7.5 (commencing with Section 311) or Chapter 7.6 (commencing with Section 313) of Title 9 of Part 1 of the Penal Code, or both chapters, were alleged in a complaint, indictment, or information.

CHAPTER 1065

An act to add Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11758.50) to Part 1 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to alcohol and drug programs.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11758.50) is added to Part 1 of Division 10.5 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3.5. ALCOHOL DETOXIFICATION AND IV DRUG USER AIDS EDUCATION PILOT PROJECT

11758.50. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Alcohol and other drug related problems are a health issue which dramatically impact California's county programs and county budgets.

(b) Alcohol not only affects the individual involved but potentially extends to the many county programs which involve these individuals and their families.

(c) Additionally, drug abuse and especially intravenous drug abuse relates directly to the contracting and spreading of AIDS.

(d) Drug and alcohol, and their health and welfare related costs are already straining local government budgets.

(e) There are approximately 225,000 habitual needle using drug addicts and an additional 200,000 recreational intravenous drug users in the state.

(f) The relationship of intravenous drug users and the transmission of AIDS is well-documented. AIDS cases, currently estimated to cost almost one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) from diagnosis-to-death, are catastrophic to those budgets.

11758.51. The department shall provide funding, for the 1990–91 fiscal year, for an in-home alcohol detoxification, and intravenous drug user AIDS education pilot project to be established in San Luis Obispo County. The pilot project shall be administered by the alcohol and drug program department of the county. The pilot project shall be required to be implemented only to the extent that state funds are provided. The pilot project shall terminate on July 1, 1991, except as otherwise specified by the county.

11758.52. (a) The pilot project created pursuant to this chapter shall treat drug and alcohol abusers through a county administered in-home detoxification and AIDS education program.

(b) The client contact shall be through a public health nurse who shall provide all of the following:

(1) Information and monitoring of the detoxification period.

(2) Information and educational materials on drug and alcohol abuse.

(3) Information on the contracting and transmission of AIDS via intravenous drug use.

(4) Information and contacts with drug and alcohol, and AIDS support groups.

11758.53. The pilot project shall be administered in accordance with criteria agreed upon by the department and San Luis Obispo County.

11758.54. (a) The department, in cooperation with San Luis Obispo County, shall evaluate the pilot project created pursuant to this chapter. The evaluation shall include numbers of intravenous (IV) drug users in target counties, status of HIV test results among alcoholics and IV drug users not in recovery, drug and alcohol-related jail intakes, and repeat offenses. Changes in the above data following completion of the in-home detoxification project shall be carefully scrutinized. Particular attention shall be paid to changes in incidence of HIV test results among individuals requesting testing from the San Luis Obispo County health department and repeat alcohol- and drug-related offenses as tracked by the county jail, municipal court, and Department of Motor Vehicles.

(b) Additional monitoring and outcome data shall be collected regarding clients of the in-home detoxification pilot project, which shall include each of the following:

(1) Client health status at time of intake screening.

(2) Clients' health status during detoxification.

(3) Clients' health status after detoxification.

(4) Status and results of HIV testing for those choosing the test.
(5) Numbers of detoxification referrals completed.
(6) Numbers of successful referrals to followup.
(7) Rate of subsequent rearrest.

(c) The degree of successful completion of program objectives shall also be analyzed and discussed. Analysis shall be based on results of monitoring instruments designed for the in-home detoxification project which shall include all of the following:

(1) Numbers of referrals to the in-home detoxification project initiated.
(2) Numbers of clients (both detoxification clients and family members) who successfully meet educational criteria related to AIDS education.
(3) Numbers of detoxification referrals completed.
(4) Numbers of successful referrals to followup treatment.
(5) Rate of subsequent rearrest.

(d) The department shall submit an evaluation of the pilot project to the Governor and the Legislature not later than July 1, 1992.

(e) Blood testing and test result disclosure shall be in accordance with Chapter 1.11 (commencing with Section 199.20) and Chapter 1.12 (commencing with Section 199.30) of Part 1 of Division 1.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is required to be implemented only to the extent that state funds are provided. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1066

An act to add Section 60375.5 to the Government Code, and to add Sections 761.5, 779.5, 10009.6, 12822.6, and 16481.6 to the Public Utilities Code, relating to utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) The Public Utilities Commission has authorized telephone corporations to participate in a centralized credit check system in order to share information on subscribers and their behavior with respect to the payment of their last utility bill.

(b) The purpose and goals of credit check systems are to alert public utilities to those customers and subscribers who are known credit risks.

(c) Ascertainment of a customer's or subscriber's habits with regards to paying utility bills is greatly enhanced by the sharing of information between public utilities through appropriate credit check systems.

SEC. 2. Section 60375.5 is added to the Government Code, to read:

60375.5. The decision of a district to require a new residential applicant to deposit a sum of money with the district prior to establishing an account and furnishing service shall be based solely upon the credit worthiness of the applicant as determined by the district.

SEC. 2.5. Section 761.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

761.5. (a) Where the commission determines that it would be cost-effective, the commission shall authorize electrical and gas corporations to participate in a centralized credit check system to share information on customers; and the electrical and gas corporations may also share information on customers with telephone corporations and publicly owned public utilities. No public utility which participates in the centralized credit check system shall utilize any information obtained through the database for its internal marketing purposes. A public utility may release pertinent information to a collection agency for the purpose of collecting an outstanding bill, but shall not otherwise release, transfer, or sell any information obtained through the centralized credit check system.

(b) Every electrical and gas corporation which participates in a centralized credit check system is subject to the Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies Act (Title 1.6 (commencing with Section 1785.1) of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code) and the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.).

SEC. 3. Section 779.5 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

779.5. The decision of an electrical, gas, heat, telephone, or water corporation to require a new residential applicant to deposit a sum of money with the corporation prior to establishing an account and furnishing service shall be based solely upon the credit worthiness of the applicant as determined by the corporation.

SEC. 4. Section 10009.6 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

10009.6. The decision of a public utility to require a new residential applicant to deposit a sum of money with the public utility prior to establishing an account and furnishing service shall be based solely upon the credit worthiness of the applicant as determined by the public utility.

SEC. 5. Section 12822.6 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

12822.6. The decision of a district to require a new residential applicant to deposit a sum of money with the district prior to establishing an account and furnishing service shall be based solely upon the credit worthiness of the applicant as determined by the district.

SEC. 6. Section 16481.6 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

16481.6. The decision of a district to require a new residential applicant to deposit a sum of money with the district prior to establishing an account and furnishing service shall be based solely upon the credit worthiness of the applicant as determined by the district.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to repeal Chapter 1939 of the Statutes of 1955, Chapter 1430 of the Statutes of 1957, and Chapter 1586 of the Statutes of 1963, relating to tidelands and submerged lands and to convey certain tidelands and submerged lands to the City of Antioch.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) There is hereby granted in trust to the City of Antioch, hereafter referred to as the "trustee" all of the right, title, and interest of the State of California, held by the state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tidelands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, situated in the County of Contra Costa and described in Section 13, hereafter referred to as "trust lands." The lands shall be held by the trustee and its successors in trust for the benefit of all the people of the state for purposes of commerce, navigation, and fisheries, and for other public trust purposes, including, but not limited to, preservation of the lands in their natural state for scientific study, open space, wildlife habitat, and recreational and visitor-oriented uses, as more particularly provided in this act.

(b) This trust grant is subject to the following express conditions:

(1) The use of the trust lands shall be in conformity with a trust lands use plan, as defined in Section 2.

(2) The trustee or its successors shall not at any time grant, convey, give, or otherwise alienate the trust lands, or any part thereof, to any person, firm, entity, or corporation for any purposes whatsoever. The trustee may lease the trust lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, not exceeding 50 years, for purposes consistent with the trust upon which those lands are held. The trustee may collect and retain rents and other trust revenues from those leases, under rules and regulations adopted in accordance with Section 2 and consistent with Section 5.

(3) In the management, conduct, operation, and control of the trust lands, or any improvement, betterments, or structures thereon, the trustee or its successors shall make no illegal discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges for any use or service in connection herewith, nor shall the trustee discriminate against or lawfully segregate any person or group of persons on account of sex, race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, or physical handicap for any use or service in connection herewith.

(4) The state shall have the right to use, without charge, any transportation, landing, or storage improvements, betterments, or structures constructed upon the trust lands for any vessel or other watercraft or railroad owned or operated by or under contract to the state The state's use of the facilities shall be governed by the trustee's rules and regulations.

(5) There is reserved to the people of the State of California the right to fish in the waters over the trust lands, with the right to convenient access to those waters over the trust lands for that purpose.

(6) There is excepted and reserved to the state all remains or artifacts of archaeological and historical significance and all deposits of minerals, including, but not limited to, all substances specified in Section 6407 of the Public Resources Code, in the trust lands, and the right to prospect for, mine, and remove those deposits from the lands.

(7) The trustee shall not authorize a capital outlay project, lease, or agreement for port facilities, such as marine terminals, pipelines, or other related energy facilities, on the granted lands without first requesting and receiving the approval, in writing, of the commission. Prior to approving any such capital outlay project, lease, or agreement, the commission shall consult with other governmental agencies, and no approval shall be given unless the commission determines that the project is in, and for, the best interest of the people of the state and consistent with applicable provisions of law.

SEC. 2. (a) On or before January 1, 1994, the trustee shall submit to the State Lands Commission, hereafter referred to as the "commission," a trust lands use plan indicating details of intended development, preservation, or other use of the trust lands. The trustee shall thereafter submit to the commission for approval all changes of, amendments to, or extensions of the trust lands use plan. Any use of the trust lands shall be consistent with the trust lands use plan as approved by the commission.

(b) The commission shall review with reasonable promptness the trust lands use plan submitted by the trustee and any changes or amendments to determine that they are consistent with the public trust and the requirements of this act. Based upon its review, the commission shall either approve or disapprove the plan. If the commission disapproves the plan, the commission shall furnish the trustee with its formal recommendations, and the trustee shall submit a revised plan to the commission within 180 days. If that revised plan is determined by the commission to be inconsistent with the public trust and the requirements of this act, all right, title, and interest of the trustee in and to the trust lands and improvements thereon shall revert to the state.

(c) The trust lands use plan may consist of any plan, program, or other document which includes all of the following:

(1) A general description of the type of uses planned or proposed for the trust lands. The location of these land uses shall be shown on a map or aerial photograph.

(2) The projected statewide benefit to be derived from the planned or proposed uses of the trust lands, including, but not limited to, the financial benefit and the furtherance of those purposes set forth in Section 1.

(3) The proposed method of financing the planned or proposed uses of the trust lands, including estimated capital costs, annual operating costs, and anticipated annual trust revenues.

(4) An estimated timetable for implementation of the trust lands use plan or any phase thereof.

(5) A description of how the trustee proposes to protect and preserve natural and manmade resources in connection with the use of the trust lands.

(d) The governing body of the trustee shall submit to the commission, for its approval, procedures, rules, and regulations to govern the use or development of the trust lands. These rules and regulations shall include, but not be limited to, lease rates, the bases upon which the rates are established, lease terms and conditions, provision for renegotiation of rates and terms and assignments, and other information as may be required by the commission.

(e) All leases or agreements proposed, or entered into, by any trustee after January 1, 1990, shall be consistent with the trust lands use plan submitted by the trustee and approved by the commission.

(f) Upon request, the trustee shall submit to the commission a copy of all leases and agreements entered into, renewed, or renegotiated.

SEC. 3. (a) On or before September 30 of every succeeding fifth year, commencing on September 30, 1991, the trustee shall submit a report of its utilization of the trust lands for each immediately preceding five-calendar-year period ending with June 30 of the calendar year in which the report is required to be submitted.

(b) The report shall include all of the following:

(1) A general description of the uses to which the trust lands have been placed during the period covered by the report.

(2) A list of the owners and holders of leases or permits granted or issued by the trustee, which list shall specify, as to each owner or holder, all of the following:

(A) The use to which the trust lands have been placed by the owner or holder.

(B) The consideration provided for in each lease or permit, and the consideration actually received by the trustee for the lease or permit granted or issued.

(C) An enumeration of the restrictions which the trustee has placed on the use of the trust lands and each area thereof for the period covered by the report.

SEC. 4. The trustee shall demonstrate good faith in carrying out its trust lands use plan and amending it when necessary in accordance with Section 2. If the commission determines that the trustee has substantially failed to improve, restore, preserve, or maintain the trust lands, as required by the trust lands use plan, in the time period set forth in paragraph (4) of subdivision (c) of Section 2, or has unreasonably delayed adopting that proposal, all right, title, and interest of the trustee in and to the trust lands and improvements thereon shall revert to the state.

SEC. 5. (a) The trustee shall establish and maintain accounting procedures, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, providing accurate records of all revenues received from the trust lands and trust assets and of all expenditures of those revenues. If the trustee has several trust grants of adjacent lands and operates the granted lands as a single integrated entity, separation of accounting records for each trust grant is not required. All revenues received from trust lands and trust assets, hereafter referred to as "trust revenues," shall be expended only for those uses and purposes set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 1. The purpose of this requirement is to provide for the segregation of funds derived from the use of the trust lands in order to ensure that they are only expended to enhance the lands in accordance with the trust uses and purposes upon which the trust lands are held.

(b) Trust revenues may be used to acquire appropriate uplands to benefit and enhance the trust with the prior written consent of the commission. Property acquired with these trust revenues shall be considered an asset of the trust and subject to the terms and conditions of this act.

SEC. 6. On or before October 1 of each year, the trustee shall file with the commission a detailed statement of all trust revenues and expenditures relating to its trust lands and trust assets, including obligations incurred but not yet paid, covering the fiscal year preceding submission of the statement. This statement shall be prepared according to generally accepted accounting principles and may take the form of an annual audit prepared by or for the trustee.

SEC. 7. As to the expenditure of trust revenues for any single capital improvement on the trust lands involving an amount in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) in the aggregate, the trustee shall file with the commission a detailed description of the capital improvement not less than 90 days prior to the time of any disbursement therefor or in connection therewith.

Within 90 days after the time of that filing, the commission shall determine whether the capital improvement is in the statewide interest and benefit and is consistent with the conditions of this act. The commission may request the opinion of the Attorney General on the matter; and, if it does so, a copy of that opinion shall be delivered to the trustee with the notice of its determination. If the commission notifies the trustee that the capital improvement is not authorized, the trustee shall not disburse any trust revenues for, or in connection with, the capital improvement, unless and until it is determined to be authorized by a final order or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

The trustee may bring suit against the state for the purpose of securing such an order or judgment, which suit shall have priority over all other civil matters. Service shall be made upon the executive officer of the commission and the Attorney General, and the Attorney General shall defend the state in that suit. If judgment is given against the state in the suit, no costs may be recovered.

SEC. 8. On June 30, 1992, and at the end of every third fiscal year thereafter, that portion of the trustee's trust revenues in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) remaining after current and accrued operating costs and expenditures directly related to the operation or maintenance of trust activities shall be deemed excess revenues.

However, any funds deposited in a reserve fund for future capital expenditures or any funds used to retire bond issues for the improvement or operation of the granted lands shall not be deemed excess revenue. Any reserve fund for future capital expenditure shall be for projects that are consistent with the trust lands use plan required by Section 2 and have prior commission approval under Section 7 to be deemed nonexcess revenues. Capital improvements of the trust lands made for purposes authorized by this act may be considered as expenditures for the purpose of determining excess revenues.

The excess revenues, as determined pursuant to this section, shall be allocated 85 percent to the Treasurer for deposit in the General Fund in the State Treasury and 15 percent to the trustee for expenditures consistent with this act.

SEC. 9. The commission shall, from time to time, institute a formal inquiry to determine that the terms and conditions of this act, and amendments thereto, have been complied with and that all other applicable provisions of law concerning the trust lands are being complied with in good faith.

SEC. 10. Reimbursement for any and all expenditures of nontrust revenues for management, maintenance, and improvements made to the trust shall be approved by the commission in advance of those expenditures, or the expenditures shall be deemed a gift to the trust.

SEC. 11. Whenever the commission finds that the trustee has violated, or is about to violate, the terms of its trust grant or any other principle of law relating to its obligation under the public trust, the commission shall notify the trustee of the violations.

The trustee shall have 30 days from receipt of that notice of violation to conform to the terms of its grant and the principles and laws under the public trust. If the trustee fails or refuses to so conform, the commission may bring such actions as are necessary to enforce the rights of the state and people pursuant to the public trust. The Attorney General shall represent the state and people in those actions or proceedings. If the judgment is given against the state in the action or proceeding, no costs may be recovered from the state.

SEC. 12. Section 6359 of the Public Resources Code does not apply to this act.

SEC. 13. The lands granted in Section 1 are those tidelands and submerged lands described as follows:

All that certain real property situated in the State of California, County of Contra Costa, City of Antioch, described as follows:

Beginning at the point, where the easterly line of the "Fulton Annexation," Resolution No. 2284-A passed and adopted by the City Council of the City of Antioch May 10, 1965, extended into the San Joaquin River, intersects the Ordinary High Water Mark; thence from the point of beginning, northerly along the extension of that east line into the San Joaquin River to the common boundary line between Contra Costa County and Sacramento County; thence westerly and downstream along that common county boundary line to the intersection of the centerline of New York Slough; thence westerly along that centerline of the slough to a point where the west line of the "U.S. Steel Annexation No. 84-2," Resolution No. 84-134 passed and adopted by the City Council of the City of Antioch June 26, 1984, extended northerly meets the centerline of New York Slough; thence southerly along the west line of U.S. Steel Annexation 84-2 boundary line to a point of intersection with the Ordinary High Water Mark of New York Slough; thence easterly along that Ordinary High Water Mark of New York Slough to the intersection of the Ordinary High Water Mark of the San Joaquin River; thence continuing easterly along the Ordinary High Water Mark of the San Joaquin River to the point of beginning.

SEC. 14. Chapter 1939 of the Statutes of 1955 is repealed.

SEC. 15. Chapter 1430 of the Statutes of 1957 is repealed.

SEC. 16. Chapter 1586 of the Statutes of 1963 is repealed.

SEC. 17. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1068

An act to amend Sections 42949, 44974, 44986, 67094, 67140, 67141, and 67142 of, and to add Article 3 (commencing with Section 45031) to Chapter 9 of Division 17 of, the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to agriculture, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42949 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

42949. (a) It is unlawful for any person to alter in any respect any certificate of inspection, notice of violation, report, statement, or other document that is referred to in this division, which is issued by an enforcing officer.

(b) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 2. Section 44974 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

44974. (a) Any violation or threatened violation of any provision of this chapter or regulations of the director established pursuant to this chapter is unlawful and shall constitute grounds for injunctive relief and the imposition of civil penalties of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) and not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) per violation. This action may be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction by the director or district attorney of a county in which a violation or threatened violation occurred. The California Avocado Commission and the Avocado Inspection Committee are also authorized to bring an action for injunctive relief on grounds provided for in this chapter. In bringing this action, the commission or committee is not required to allege facts necessary to show or which tend to show lack of an adequate remedy at law, or which show or tend to show irreparable damage or loss. Prior to commencing this action, the commission shall allow the director the opportunity to bring an action for injunctive relief following the same procedure as provided for the committee in Section 45015. Notwithstanding the director's decision on whether or not to bring an action for injunctive relief, nothing in this section or in Section 45015 shall be construed as preventing the commission from bringing an action for injunctive relief.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subdivision (a), and except as provided in subdivision (c) and Sections 42945, 42948, 42949, and 44986, a violation of this chapter is an infraction punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500).

(c) It is unlawful for any person to fail to comply with the inspection or certification requirements of this chapter. A violation is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than five thousand dollars (5,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(d) Each violation or threatened violation involving a lot of avocados shall be treated as a separate violation. Any number of defendants in any number of counties may be joined in one action even though the violations or threatened violations are not the same, and jurisdiction for the action may be established in any county in which any of the violations or threatened violations occur.

SEC. 3. Section 44986 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

44986. It is unlawful for any person to do any of the following:

(a) Use a certification stamp for certifying containers or lots of avocados for other than containers previously inspected by the director's authorized agent and designated to be stamped.

(b) Use the stamp at any time or in any manner other than provided in this chapter or contrary to the directions of the director's authorized agent authorizing the use of the stamp.

(c) Refuse to surrender, each day after use, or upon demand of the director's authorized agent, any certification stamp authorized to be used.

(d) Counterfeit or alter or use any counterfeit or altered certification stamp.

(e) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 4. Article 3 (commencing with Section 45031) is added to Chapter 9 of Division 17 of the Food and Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 3. Proof of Ownership

45031. Every person who is in possession of over 100 pounds of avocados which are produced in this state shall possess a record of proof of ownership of the avocados.

45032. (a) Upon probable cause to believe any avocados regulated by this chapter are in unlawful possession, proof of ownership shall be made available for inspection upon the request of the director or any peace officer. If the director has probable cause to believe that any avocados regulated by this chapter are in unlawful possession, he or she may request a peace officer to stop the vehicle pursuant to Section 45037 for inspection.

(b) The proof of ownership record shall contain all of the following information:

(1) The name, address, telephone number, and signature of the seller or the seller's authorized representative.

(2) The name and address of the buyer or consignee if not sold.

(3) The common name "avocados" and the quantity of the avocados.

(4) The date of transaction.

45033. A bill of lading, bill of sale, certified farmers certificate, any data obtainable by electronic transmission which is accessible to a common carrier, or a similar type document shall be considered proof of ownership for purposes of this chapter.

45034. It is unlawful for any person to knowingly falsify or cause to be falsified any information in a record intended to show proof of ownership.

45035. A copy of the proof of ownership record shall be retained by the buyer and seller for a period of 60 days after sale.

45036. This article does not apply to any of the following:

(a) Avocados transported from a farm or ranch where they are produced to a commercial packing plant within this state for processing or packing.

(b) Avocados transported and accompanied by a valid permit, disposal order, or certificate issued by the director or the commissioner for any reason other than to comply with this article.

45037. Upon probable cause to believe avocados regulated by this chapter are being unlawfully transported, any peace officer may stop the transporting vehicle and request a record of proof of ownership of the avocados.

45038. Upon reasonable belief that a person is in unlawful possession of avocados regulated by this chapter, the avocados may be seized by the director or any peace officer and shall be turned over to the custody of the director. The director may hold the commodity on the premises where it was seized until disposed of pursuant to Section 45040.

45039. The director or a peace officer may investigate to ascertain the ownership of any avocados that have been held pursuant to this chapter. If the lawful owner is located, the avocados shall be released to the owner, or his or her agent. The director may require reasonable payment to cover costs incurred in the storing of the avocados, but not to exceed the value of the avocados.

45040. (a) If for any reason the avocados are not released to the rightful owner after being in the custody of the director for 48 hours or, in the case of highly perishable avocados, any shorter period of time that the director deems necessary, the director may sell the avocados by private sale at fair grower market value. All of the proceeds derived from the sale of the commodity shall be held by the director for a period of not less than six months, during which time the lawful owner of the avocados may submit satisfactory proof of ownership and obtain possession of the proceeds. The director may require the payment by the owner of an amount sufficient to cover the costs incurred for storage and sale of the avocados, but not to exceed the sale price of the avocados. If, after retention of the proceeds for a period of at least six months, no demand is made or if proof of ownership is not supplied, the director shall deposit the proceeds of the sale of the avocados with the California Avocado Commission.

(b) If any seized avocados remain unsold after being offered for sale pursuant to this article, the director may donate the avocados to a nonprofit charitable organization.

(c) If the avocados are unfit for human consumption, the director may destroy them.

45041. (a) Unless otherwise specified, a violation of this article is an infraction punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500).

(b) A conviction of a second or subsequent violation of this article is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(c) A violation of this article is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both the fine and imprisonment, if the retail value of the avocados in violation is in excess of five hundred dollars ($500).

45042. This article establishes minimal requirements for the transportation, identification, disposition, and use of funds derived from the disposition of avocados seized pursuant to this article. A county may, by ordinance, impose additional requirements regarding these requirements.

SEC. 4.5. Section 67094 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

67094. (a) In order to prevent unfair trade practices which are detrimental to California's avocado industry, including, but not limited to, deception and misinformation, the commission shall collect and disseminate to any and all interested persons, handler F.O.B., market price information based on sales which have occurred.

(c) The procedure for the collection and dissemination of the information pursuant to this section shall be approved by the director.

SEC. 5. Section 67140 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

67140. The commission may recommend to the director the adoption of avocado quality standards or engage in any other activity authorized pursuant to the California Marketing Act of 1937 (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 58601) of Part 2 of Division 21) that is in accordance with the procedures specified in that act, unless otherwise specified in this article.

SEC. 6. Section 67141 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

67141. Any standards or activities adopted pursuant to this article shall be implemented by the director at the beginning of the marketing season next succeeding the date in which they were approved by the director.

SEC. 7. Section 67142 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

67142. Any standards or activities recommended by the commission and concurred in by the director, shall not be operative until approved in the manner specified in Section 67121.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 9. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for the expanded enforcement procedures authorized by this act to be effective when the current avocado crop is harvested for market, it is necessary that the act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1069

An act to amend Section 52580 of, and to add Section 50197.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to local agencies.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50197.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50197.5. Any local agency may, upon the approval of the California Debt Limit Allocation Committee pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 8869.85 of the Government Code, by written agreement assign to any other issuer having the authority to issue qualified mortgage bonds under the laws of this state all or any part of the local agency's allocation pursuant to Sections 50189, 50190, and 50191 for the calendar year. Under the assignment, the issuer shall agree to issue mortgage credit certificates to qualifying homeowners of property located within the territory of the assigning local agency, provided however that if, after a reasonable attempt and for reasons beyond the control of the issuer, the issuer is unable to issue all of the assigned certificates to homeowners of property located within the territory of the assigning local agency, any remaining certificates may be issued to qualifying homeowners of property located within the county within which the assigning local agency is located.

SEC. 2. Section 52580 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

52580. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(1) There exists a severe shortage of affordable housing, especially for persons and families of low and moderate income, and there is an immediate need to encourage local agencies to facilitate the production of new housing through the provision of supplemental financial assistance, not only to develop new and adequate infrastructure but for the rehabilitation, maintenance, and improvement of existing public works essential to accommodate the growing housing needs of our population. Without a supply of affordable housing, this state will find it more difficult to attract and retain industry.

(2) The costs of new housing developments have been increasing, in part, because local agencies do not have a viable means to support the growing infrastructure housing needs. As a consequence, local agencies must require housing developers to assume, through new housing development fees, a significant share of the infrastructure costs, which forces the new home buyers to bear disproportionately increased costs. This not only results in decreasing the relative affordability of the state's housing supply, but also causes vitally needed housing developments to be impeded, halted, or rendered infeasible despite the benefits to the public health, safety, and welfare.

(3) The state has the primary responsibility to assist local agencies through the creation of an incentive-oriented supplemental financing program for local infrastructure to provide the incentive to local agencies toward facilitating the production of an ample supply of affordable housing, necessary both for the well-being of our citizens and for a strong state economy.

(4) It is in the public interest and it will serve a public purpose for the Legislature to provide, through this part, a housing infrastructure incentive policy, and a concept with broad flexibility and local options, which will provide in cooperation with local agencies, greater encouragement to local agencies to expedite the process of approving needed housing developments. This will reassert the state's long-range priority commitment which reaffirms that stimulating affordable housing growth, economic prosperity, development, and environmental protection are statewide public needs which are not mutually exclusive and are each vital to the balanced growth and development of this state.

(b) The provisions of this chapter shall not be self-executing and shall not be implemented unless further enabling legislation, with clearly defined actions, determines and authorizes that the findings shall be implemented, in whole or in part.

(c) This part shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before that date deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1070

An act to amend Section 805 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to healing arts.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 805 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

805. (a) As used in this section, the following terms have the following definitions:

(1) "Peer review body" includes:

(A) A medical or professional staff of any licensed health care facility licensed under Division 2 (commencing with Section 1200) of the Health and Safety Code or of a facility certified to participate in the federal Medicare program as an ambulatory surgical center.

(B) A health care service plan registered under Chapter 2.2 (commencing with Section 1340) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code or a nonprofit hospital service plan regulated under Chapter 11a (commencing with Section 11491) of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code.

(C) Any medical, psychological, dental, or podiatric professional society having as members at least 25 percent of the eligible licentiates in the area in which it functions (which must include at least one county), which is not organized for profit and which has been determined to be exempt from taxes pursuant to Section 23701 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(D) A committee organized by any entity consisting of or employing more than 25 licentiates of the same class which functions for the purpose of reviewing the quality of professional care provided by members or employees of that entity.

(2) "Licentiate" means a physician and surgeon, podiatrist, clinical psychologist, or dentist.

(3) "Agency" means the relevant state licensing agency having regulatory jurisdiction over the licentiates listed in paragraph (2).

(4) "Staff privileges" means any arrangement under which a licentiate is allowed to practice in or provide care for patients in a health facility. Those arrangements shall include, but are not limited to, full staff privileges, active staff privileges, limited staff privileges, auxiliary staff privileges, provisional staff privileges, temporary staff privileges, courtesy staff privileges, locum tenens arrangements, and contractural arrangements to provide professional services, including, but not limited to, arrangements to provide outpatient services.

(5) "Denial or termination of staff privileges, membership, or employment" includes failure or refusal to renew a contract or to renew, extend, or reestablish any staff privileges, when the action is based on medical disciplinary cause or reason.

(6) "Medical disciplinary cause or reason" means that aspect of a licentiate's competence or professional conduct which is reasonably likely to be detrimental to patient safety or to the delivery of patient care.

(7) "805 report" means the written report required under subdivision (b).

(b) The chief of staff of a medical or professional staff or other chief executive officer, medical director, or administrator of any peer review body and the chief executive officer or administrator of any health care facility shall file an 805 report with the relevant agency whenever any of the following actions are taken as a result of a determination of a peer review body:

(1) A licentiate's application for staff privileges or membership is denied or rejected for a medical disciplinary cause or reason.

(2) A licentiate's membership, staff privileges, or employment is terminated or revoked for a medical disciplinary cause or reason.

(3) Restrictions are imposed, or voluntarily accepted, on staff privileges, membership, or employment for a cumulative total of 30 days or more for any 12-month period, for a medical disciplinary cause or reason.

In addition to the duty to report as set forth in paragraphs (1), (2) and (3), the peer review body also has a duty to report under this section a licentiate's resignation or leave of absence from membership, staff, or employment following notice of an impending investigation based on information indicating medical disciplinary cause or reason.

The 805 report shall be filed within 30 days after the effective date of the denial, termination, restriction, resignation, or leave of absence or after the exhaustion of administrative procedures, without regard to any filing for judicial review.

An 805 report shall also be filed within 30 days following the imposition of summary suspension of staff privileges, membership, or employment, if the summary suspension remains in effect for a period in excess of 14 days.

A copy of the 805 report, and a notice advising the licentiate of his or her right to submit additional statements or other information pursuant to Section 800, shall be sent by the peer review body to the licentiate named in the report.

The information to be reported in an 805 report shall include the name of the licentiate involved, a description of the facts and circumstances of the medical disciplinary cause or reason, and any other relevant information deemed appropriate by the reporter.

A supplemental report shall also be made within 30 days following the date the licentiate is deemed to have satisfied any terms, conditions, or sanctions imposed as disciplinary action by the reporting peer review body. In performing its dissemination functions required by Section 805.5, the agency shall include a copy of a supplemental report, if any, whenever it furnishes a copy of the original 805 report.

In those instances where another peer review body is required to file an 805 report, a health care service plan or nonprofit hospital service plan is not required to file a separate report with respect to action attributable to the same medical disciplinary cause or reason.

(c) The reporting required herein shall not act as a waiver of confidentiality of medical records and committee reports. The information reported or disclosed shall be kept confidential except as provided in subdivision (c) of Section 800, provided that a copy of the report containing the information required by this section may be disclosed as required by Section 805.5 with respect to reports received on or after January 1, 1976. The Board of Medical Quality Assurance, the Board of Osteopathic Examiners, and the Board of Dental Examiners shall disclose reports as required by Section 805.5.

An 805 report shall be maintained by an agency for dissemination purposes for a period of three years after receipt.

(d) No person shall incur any civil or criminal liability as the result of making any report required by this section.

(e) Failure to make a report pursuant to this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars ($200) nor more than one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200).

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 71000, 71021, 84713, 84750, 84755, and 87356 of, and to repeal and add Section 71001 of, the Education Code, and to amend Sections 59, 60, and 70 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988, relating to community colleges.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71000 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71000. There is in the state government a Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, consisting of all of the following:

(a) Thirteen members, who are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate. Of the members appointed by the Governor, two shall be current or former elected members of local community college district governing boards. The Governor shall appoint the current or former members of the governing board of a community college district for staggered six-year terms. The voting members who are current or former members of the governing board of a community college district shall first be appointed no later than January 15, 1990, and January 15, 1992, respectively.

(b) One voting student who is enrolled in a community college with a minimum of five semester units, or its equivalent, at the time of the appointment and throughout the period of his or her term of appointment, or until a replacement has been named. A student member shall be enrolled in a community college at least one semester prior to his or her appointment and shall meet and maintain the minimum standards of scholarship prescribed for community college students. The student member shall be appointed by the Governor for a one-year term commencing on June 1.

(c) Two voting tenured faculty members from a community college, who shall be appointed by the Governor for two-year terms. The Governor shall appoint each faculty member from a list of names of at least three persons furnished by the Academic Senate of the California Community Colleges. The first voting tenured faculty member appointed to the board shall occupy the seat on the board that is made available by the next full-term vacancy of a four-year term that exists after January 1, 1984. The first voting tenured faculty member appointed to the additional voting tenured faculty member seat on the board shall be appointed no later than January 15, 1991. Thereafter, each seat shall be designated as a voting tenured faculty member seat and shall in the future be filled by a tenured faculty member from a community college pursuant to this section and Section 71003.

SEC. 2. Section 71001 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 71001 is added to the Education Code, to read:

71001. (a) Except for the student member and the faculty members, the terms of office of the members of the board appointed by the Governor shall be as follows:

(1) To the terms expiring on January 15, 1990, the Governor shall appoint one person whose term shall expire on January 15, 1994; one current or former trustee whose term shall expire on January 15, 1996; and one other person whose term shall expire on January 15, 1996.

(2) To the terms expiring on January 15, 1991, the Governor shall appoint two persons whose terms shall expire on January 15, 1995; and two persons whose terms shall expire on January 15, 1997.

(3) To the terms expiring on January 15, 1992, the Governor shall appoint one person whose term shall expire on January 15, 1998; one current or former trustee whose term shall expire on January 15, 1998; and one person whose term shall expire on January 15, 1994.

(4) To the terms expiring on January 15, 1993, the Governor shall appoint three persons whose terms shall expire on January 15, 1999.

(5) Commencing January 15, 1993, all terms of office of the members of the board, except the terms of the student member and the faculty members appointed by the Governor, shall be six years.

(b) Each term of office shall commence at the expiration of the preceding term.

(c) A member whose term has expired may, in accordance with Section 1770 to 1780, inclusive, of the Government Code, continue to discharge the duties of the office until his or her successor is appointed by the Governor.

SEC. 4. Section 71021 of the Education Code is amended to read:

71021. All official acts of the board shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the board, as determined by the policies of the board. The vote of all members shall be recorded.

SEC. 5. Section 84713 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84713. This article shall become inoperative on July 1, 1991, or on the date Section 84750 is implemented by the board of governors in accordance with Section 70 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988, whichever is later.

SEC. 6. Section 84750 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84750. The board of governors, in accordance with the statewide requirements contained in subdivisions (a) to (j), inclusive, and in consultation with institutional representatives of the California Community Colleges and statewide faculty and staff organizations, so as to ensure their participation in the development and review of policy proposals, shall develop criteria and standards for the purposes of making the annual budget request for the California Community Colleges to the Governor and the Legislature, and for the purpose of allocating the state general apportionment revenues, beginning with the budget request for the 1991–92 fiscal year.

In developing the criteria and standards, the board of governors shall utilize and strongly consider the guidelines and work products of the Task Force on Community College Financing as established pursuant to Chapter 1465 of the Statutes of 1986, and shall complete the development of these criteria and standards, accompanied by the necessary procedures, processes, and formulas for utilizing its criteria and standards, by March 1, 1990, and shall submit on or before that date a report on these items to the Legislature and the Governor.

The board of governors shall develop the criteria and standards within the following statewide minimum requirements:

(a) The calculations of each community college district's revenue level for each fiscal year shall be based on the level of general apportionment revenues (state and local) the district received for the prior year plus any amount attributed to a deficit of minimum workload growth, with revenue adjustments being made for increases or decreases in workload, for program improvement as authorized by this section or by any other provision of law, for inflation, and for other purposes authorized by law.

(b) (1) For credit instruction, the funding mechanism developed pursuant to this section shall recognize the needs among the major categories of operation of community colleges, with categories established for instruction, instructional services and libraries, student services, maintenance and operations, and institutional support.

(2) The board of governors may propose to the Legislature, for enactment by statute, other cost categories when adequate data exist.

(3) Funding for noncredit classes shall be determined as follows:

(A) The preliminary amount per noncredit full-time equivalent student (FTES) for 1991–92 shall be equal to the comparable amount for 1990–91 with increases corresponding to the cost of living adjustment (COLA) specified in subdivision (e) and corresponding to any program improvement provided to the maintenance and operations category for 1991–92.

(B) Funds for maintenance and operations shall be included in the funds derived under paragraph (4) of subdivision (c).

(C) Funds for institutional support will be derived as part of the computation under paragraph (5) of subdivison (c).

(D) From the preliminary amount described in subparagraph (A), a deduction shall be made corresponding to the amounts derived in subparagraphs (B) and (C), and the remainder shall be the funded amount per noncredit FTES for 1991–92.

(E) Changes in noncredit FTES shall result in adjustments to revenues as follows:

(i) Increases in noncredit FTES shall result in an increase in revenues in the year of the increase and at the average rate per noncredit FTES.

(ii) Decreases in noncredit FTES shall result in a revenue reduction as follows:

(I) District revenue shall be adjusted at the average rate per noncredit FTES.

(II) Revenue adjustments shall be over a three-year period beginning in the year following the initial year of decrease in noncredit FTES.

(iii) Districts shall be entitled to restore any reductions in apportionment revenue due to decrease in noncredit FTES during the three years following the initial year of decrease in noncredit FTES if there is a subsequent increase in FTES.

(4) Except as otherwise provided by statute, current categorical programs providing direct services to students, including extended opportunity programs and services, and disabled students programs and services, shall continue to be funded separately through the annual Budget Act, and shall not be assumed under budget formulas of program-based funding.

(5) District revenues shall be determined based on systemwide funding standards within the categories, and revenue adjustments shall occur based on distinct measures of workload applicable to each category.

(c) Workload measures applicable to each category shall be established with the following measures to be provided:

(1) For credit instruction, the workload measure shall be the credit FTES. Changes in credit FTES shall result in adjustments in revenues as follows:

(A) Increases in FTES shall result in an increase in revenues in the year of the increase and at the statewide average per FTES.

(B) Decreases in FTES shall result in a revenue reduction as follows:

(i) High revenue districts (those at the statewide average or higher) shall be adjusted at the statewide average per FTES.

(ii) Low revenue districts (those below the statewide average) shall be adjusted at one-half of the district's average per FTES.

(iii) Revenue adjustments shall be made over a three-year period beginning in the year following the initial year of decrease in FTES.

(C) Districts shall be entitled to restore any reductions in apportionment revenue due to decrease in FTES during the three years following the initial year of decrease in FTES if there is a subsequent increase in FTES.

(2) For instructional services and libraries, the workload measure shall be the credit FTES. Changes in credit FTES with respect to instructional services and libraries shall result in adjustments to revenues as follows:

(A) Increases in FTES shall result in an increase in revenues in the year of the increase and at the statewide average rate per FTES.

(B) Decreases in FTES shall result in a revenue reduction as follows:

(i) High revenue districts (those at the statewide average or higher) shall be adjusted at the full amount of the statewide average per FTES.

(ii) Low revenue districts (those below the statewide average) shall be adjusted at one-half of the district's average per FTES.

(iii) Revenue adjustments shall be made over a three-year period beginning in the year following the initial year of decrease in FTES.

(C) Districts shall be entitled to restore any reductions in apportionment revenue due to decreases in FTES during the three years following the initial year of decreases in FTES if there is a subsequent increase in FTES.

(3) For student services, the workload measure shall be based on the numbers of credit students enrolled (headcount).

Changes in headcount shall result in adjustments to revenues as follows:

(A) Increases in headcount shall result in an increase in revenues in the year of the increase at the statewide average per headcount.

(B) Decreases in headcount shall result in a revenue reduction as follows:

(i) High revenue districts (those at the statewide average or higher) shall be adjusted at the full amount of the statewide average per headcount.

(ii) Low revenue districts (those below the statewide average) shall be adjusted at one-half of the district's average per headcount.

(iii) Revenue adjustments shall be made over a three-year period beginning in the year following the initial year of decrease in headcount.

(C) Districts shall be entitled to restore any reductions in apportionment revenue due to decrease in headcount during the three years following the initial year of decrease in headcount if there is a subsequent increase in headcount.

(4) For maintenance and operations, the workload measure shall be based on the number of square feet of owned or leased facilities. Changes in the number of square feet shall be adjusted as follows:

(A) Increases in the number of square feet shall result in an increase in revenue in the year that the increase occurs and at the average per square foot.

(B) Decreases in the number of square feet shall result in a decrease in revenue beginning July 1 of the first full year in which the square feet are no longer owned or leased and at the average rate per square foot.

(5) For institutional support, a single fixed percentage which shall apply to all districts shall be established based on the pattern from the most recent data. The percentage shall be obtained from statewide data by comparing expenditures for this category with the total revenue for all five categories.

(d) Funding standards, subject to the conditions and criteria of this section, shall be established by the board for the various categories of operation established pursuant to subdivision (b). In consultation as required by subdivision (e) of Section 70901, the board of governors shall annually request program improvement moneys to assist districts in meeting these standards.

(e) Annual revenue adjustments shall be made to reflect cost changes, using the Implicit Price Deflator for State and Local Government Purchases of Goods and Services for the United States as published by the United States Department of Commerce, and using the ratio for the fourth calendar quarter of the latest available year to the fourth calendar quarter of the prior year rounded up to the next hundredth.

(f) An adjustment for economies of scale for districts and colleges shall be provided.

(g) The statewide increase in workload of FTES and headcount shall be, at a minimum, the rate of change of the adult population as determined by the Department of Finance, and may be increased through the budget process to reflect such other factors as statewide priorities, the unemployment rate, and the number of students graduating from California high schools. The allocation of changes on a district-by-district basis shall be determined by the board of governors.

(h) For fiscal year 1991–92 or on the date Section 84750 is implemented by the board of governors in accordance with Section 70 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988, whichever is later, all districts shall receive at least the amount of revenue to which they would have been entitled pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 84700) of Chapter 5 of Part 50. Thereafter, allocations shall be made pursuant to this section, as implemented by the board of governors pursuant to the annual State Budget.

(i) Except as specifically provided by statute, regulations of the board of governors for determining and allocating the state general apportionment to the community colleges shall not require district governing boards to expend the allocated revenues in specified categories of operation or according to the workload measures developed by the board of governors.

(j) As used in this section:

(1) "Criteria" means the definitions of elements of institutional practice or activity to be included in the categories of operation of community college districts.

(2) "Program improvement" means an increase in revenue which is allocated to all districts to fund standards adopted pursuant to subdivision (d). Program improvement also means an increase in revenue allocated to low revenue districts to bring them closer to the statewide average.

(3) "Standard" means the appropriate level of service in a category of operation of the community college districts.

SEC. 7. Section 84755 of the Education Code is amended to read:

84755. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that program-based funding, once implemented, will more adequately and accountably fund the costs of providing quality community college education. Given that program-based funding will not be implemented until fiscal year 1991–92, given that community colleges will be entering a period of major reform and incurrence of new state mandates commencing in January 1989, and given that community colleges will be entering this period of reform having lost purchasing power since the 1977–78 fiscal year, the Legislature recognizes the need to create a transitional funding mechanism for program improvement and mandate funding that can operate until program-based funding is implemented.

(b) For the purpose of improving the quality of community college educational programs and services, for the purpose of reimbursing state-mandated local program costs imposed by this act, and for the purposes of initially implementing specified reforms, the board of governors shall, from amounts appropriated for purposes of this section, allocate program improvement revenues to each district on the basis of an amount per unit of average daily attendance funded in the prior fiscal year. However, this amount shall be increased or decreased to provide for equalization in a manner determined by the Board of Governors, consistent with the provisions of Sections 84703 to 84705, inclusive.

Each community college district shall use its allocation to initially reimburse state-mandated local program costs, and then to implement specified reforms and make authorized program and service improvements as follows:

(1) Developing articulated programs provided for in Section 69 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 with school districts and campuses of the University of California and California State University.

(2) Applying minimum qualifications to all newly hired faculty and administrators, including candidates for these positions as required by Section 87356.

(3) Developing and administering a process for waiver of minimum qualifications as required by Section 87359.

(4) Establishing and applying local hiring criteria as required by Section 87360.

(5) Establishing and applying faculty service areas and competency criteria as required by Sections 87743 to 87743.5, inclusive.

(6) Evaluating temporary employees, instituting peer review evaluation, and widely distributing evaluation procedures as required by Section 87663.

(7) Establishing and applying new processes for tenure evaluation required by Section 87610.1.

(8) Establishing and applying the tenure denial grievance procedure required by Section 87610.1.

(9) Establishing and applying a process for moving administrators into faculty positions as required by Sections 87454 to 87458, inclusive.

(10) Publishing and distributing a report on the affirmative action success rate as required by Section 87102.

(11) Improving instruction by reducing the ratio of full-time equivalent students to full-time equivalent instructors.

(12) Improving instruction by increasing the hiring of full-time instructors and limiting the practice of hiring part-time instructors.

(13) Augmenting budgets for college libraries and learning resources.

(14) Augmenting budgets for plant maintenance and operations.

(15) Adding new courses or programs to serve community need.

(16) Making progress towards affirmative action goals and timetables established by the district.

(17) Developing and maintaining programs and services authorized by Section 78212.5.

(18) Augmenting budgets for student services in the areas of greatest need.

(19) Providing for release time for faculty and staff as deemed appropriate by community college district governing boards, to enable faculty and staff participation in implementing reforms.

(c) Except as provided by Section 87482.6, and except as necessary to reimburse the costs of new state mandates, district governing boards shall have full authority to expend program improvement allocations for any or all of the authorized purposes specified in subdivision (b).

(d) As required by the board of governors, the governing board of each community college district shall submit to the board of governors a plan for using the resources allocated pursuant to this section. The board of governors shall review each plan to ensure that proposed expenditures are consistent with the listing of authorized expenditures provided in this section, and the board of governors shall approve all plans to the full extent that expenditures are authorized by this section. To the extent that a community college district expends its program improvement allocation consistent with its plan, the board of governors shall include the district's allocation as part of the district's base budget for subsequent years.

(e) The board of governors, through the annual systemwide budget submitted pursuant to paragraph (5) of subdivision (b) of Section 70901, shall request necessary resources for the purposes of this section. It is the intent of the Legislature that the appropriation and allocation of program improvement money not otherwise provided pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section shall be accomplished through the annual state budget process beginning with the 1989–90 fiscal year. After June 30, 1991, if Section 84750 is implemented, it is the intent of the Legislature to fund the ongoing operations of community college districts pursuant to the provisions of Section 84750.

SEC. 8. Section 87356 of the Education Code is amended to read:

87356. (a) The board of governors shall adopt regulations to establish and maintain the minimum qualifications for hire as a community college faculty member. Unless and until amended pursuant to the process described in Section 87357, the regulations shall establish the minimum qualifications for hire as a community college faculty member teaching any credit course, as any of the following:

(1) Possession of a master's degree from an accredited institution, or equivalent foreign degree, in the discipline of the faculty member's assignment.

(2) Possession of a master's degree from an accredited institution, or equivalent foreign degree, in a discipline reasonably related to the faculty member's assignment and possession of a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution, or equivalent foreign degree, in the discipline of the faculty member's assignment.

(3) For faculty assigned to teach courses in disciplines where the master's degree is not generally expected or available, which are, generally, disciplines in specialized technical, trade, or industrial fields, either of the following:

(A) Possession of a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution, or equivalent foreign degree, in a discipline reasonably related to the faculty member's assignment, plus two years of professional experience, plus appropriate certification to practice or licensure or its equivalent, if available.

(B) Possession of an associate degree from an accredited institution in a discipline reasonably related to the faculty member's assignment, plus six years of professional experience, plus appropriate certification to practice or licensure or its equivalent, if available.

(b) The board of governors shall adopt regulations establishing appropriate minimum qualifications for extended opportunity programs and services workers, pursuant to Section 69648.7.

(c) The board of governors shall adopt regulations establishing appropriate minimum qualifications for handicapped student programs and services workers, pursuant to Section 78440.5.

(d) The board of governors shall adopt regulations to establish and maintain the minimum qualifications for hire as an instructional or student services administrator. Unless and until amended pursuant to the process described in Section 87357, the regulations shall establish the minimum qualifications for hire as an instructional or student services administrator as all of the following:

(1) Possession of a master's degree.

(2) One year of formal training, internship, or leadership experience reasonably related to the administrator's administrative assignment, which may, but need not be, concurrent with the required full-time service.

(e) The board of governors shall adopt regulations establishing appropriate minimum qualifications for apprenticeship instructors. The board of governors shall rely primarily on the advice and judgment of appropriate apprenticeship teaching faculty and labor organization representatives in the adoption of minimum qualifications. Until the board of governors adopts new requirements for apprenticeship faculty, the current regulations for apprenticeship part-time and full-time faculty shall be operative.

(f) The Legislature finds and declares that this section does not create a state-mandated local program cost because compensation of faculty will continue to be determined through the collective bargaining process or meet and confer sessions.

SEC. 9. Section 59 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 is amended to read:

Sec. 59. The California Postsecondary Education Commission and the State Department of Education shall jointly agree on a coordinated research framework to be utilized by each agency in a review of the programs in English as a second language offered through the California Community Colleges, the University of California, the California State University, and adult education programs, and of the future educational needs in this area, and to report its recommendations for programs of effective cooperation between those institutions in this respect. The California Postsecondary Education Commission shall have responsibility for reviewing the programs of the postsecondary segments and the State Department of Education shall have responsibility for reviewing the programs offered by school districts. Both the commission and the State Department of Education shall report the results of their review to the Legislature no later than 18 months after an appropriation has been made for the costs of conducting the study. The purpose of the study provided for under this section shall be to assess the ongoing role of the California Community Colleges, in relation to the respective roles of the University of California and the California State University in conducting programs in English as a second language.

This section shall become operative only if funds are specifically appropriated for the purposes of conducting the work specified in this section.

SEC. 10. Section 60 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 is amended to read:

Sec. 60. The Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall conduct a study, with the participation of one or more community college districts, on the feasibility of establishing, on a pilot basis, "interdisciplinary colleges" within selected community colleges—with a special concern with the integration of vocational and academic study. The study shall include exploration of the possibilities, through the establishment of these colleges, of the integration of work experience and study, and the provision of a more cooperative learning environment as a model for all colleges. No later than 18 months after an appropriation has been made for the study, the chancellor shall submit to the Legislature a report summarizing the findings and recommendations which result from the study conducted pursuant to this section.

This section shall become operative only if funds are specifically appropriated for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 11. Section 70 of Chapter 973 of the Statutes of 1988 is amended to read:

Sec. 70. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the reforms enacted through this act form a mutually dependent and related set of provisions. While some few provisions could be enacted independently, other sections of this act depend upon adequate support for the programs of the community colleges. There is a direct linkage between those sections of this act which constitute the further professionalization of the faculty and the moneys required to enhance the programs of the community colleges for "transitional program improvement," as specified in Section 84755 of the Education Code.

For instance, the elimination of credentials must be accompanied by the establishment of minimum qualifications by the board of governors. Minimum qualifications in turn must be implemented by districts through the establishment of faculty service areas, competency criteria, and various waiver processes. The extension of the tenure probationary period to four years as well as the revisions to layoff procedures also depend upon the establishment of tenure denial grievance processes as well as the establishment of faculty service areas and competency criteria. Similarly, because so many of the reforms call for faculty involvement in the determination and implementation of policy, and because the quality, quantity, and composition of full-time faculty have the most immediate and direct impact on the quality of instruction, overall reform cannot succeed without sufficient members of full-time faculty with sufficient opportunities for continued staff development, and with sufficient opportunity for participation in institutional governance.

The Legislature further finds that, absent resources to reimburse the state-mandated costs of this act, new full-time faculty to replace part-time faculty, and expanded programs for staff development, the viability or success, or both, of many of the reforms in this act will be jeopardized. The Legislature recognizes that due to unanticipated fiscal conditions the State cannot immediately fund all of the reforms contained in this act. The Legislature also recognizes, however, that if minimal funding is not soon provided that it would be inappropriate to proceed with many reforms.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares that the California Community Colleges are entering a period of major reform, but require further assistance in regaining prior purchasing power in order to fully carry out major reforms. The Legislature intends that the reform process be phased in over a reasonable and logical period of time, and that the institution of major reform be based upon the community colleges' ability to deliver enhanced quality in their programs. Pursuant to this act, the Legislature finds and declares that the transitional stage of reform process shall consist of two phases:

(1) "Phase I of transitional program improvement," as used in this section, means a period of reform during which community college programs are improved and enhanced to prepare an appropriate environment for the subsequent professionalization of faculty. In this connection, the Legislature finds and declares that it would be an unsound and wasteful policy to expend moneys to professionalize faculty without first making the program changes necessary to enable that faculty to assume a more effective role in the educational process. It is the intent of the Legislature that those changes, combined in proper sequence with the professional improvement of faculty, will improve the overall quality of education within the system. It is the intent of the Legislature that moneys appropriated during Phase I fully fund any state-mandates created pursuant to this section.

(2) "Phase II of transitional program improvement" means a period of reform following initial program improvement and professionalization of faculty. During that period, the new educational environment created under Phase I, including such reforms as innovative training programs, evaluation procedures, and minimum qualifications, may be utilized to the fullest extent in hiring new full-time faculty. The Legislature finds that this latter step is a major component of successful reform and the eventual attainment of the highest possible quality in the educational programs of the California Community Colleges. It is the intent of the Legislature that moneys appropriated during Phase II fully fund any state-mandate created pursuant to this section.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that the provisions of subdivisions (d) and (e) address an essential policy issue at the core of the system created by this act. The reforms with delayed operative dates pursuant to subdivisions (d) and (e) will be fiscally and substantively meaningful only if other enumerated reforms, on which the reforms with delayed operative dates depend, are adequately funded as an initial step in the process of improving the structure and quality of the California Community Colleges.

(d) Sections 15 and 16 and Sections 27 to 34, inclusive, and Sections 51 to 56, inclusive, of this act shall be implemented by the board of governors and be mandatory with regard to implementation by community college districts only if the board of governors certifies in writing to the Governor and to the Legislature that adequate funding has been provided for Phase I of transitional program improvement and for any applicable state mandates, as authorized in Section 84755 of the Education Code. If the board of governors so certifies, each of these sections shall be implemented on the date of certification, or upon any operative date specified for the particular section in this act, whichever is later. For purposes of this subdivision, "adequate funding" means those moneys required to provide an increased quality of instruction and programs, and to carry out applicable mandates of this act, within the California Community Colleges. Based upon estimates provided by the board of governors and exhaustive review of the community colleges' operations by the Joint Committee for the Review of the Master Plan for Higher Education, the Legislature finds and declares that its estimate of this funding amount is seventy million dollars ($70,000,000).

(e) Sections 21, and 36 to 49, inclusive, of this act shall be implemented by the board of governors and be mandatory with regard to implementation by community college districts only if the board of governors certifies in writing to the Governor and to the Legislature that adequate funding has been provided for Phase II of transitional program improvement and for any applicable state mandates, as authorized in Section 84755. If the board of governors so certifies, each of these sections shall be implemented on the date of certification, or upon any operative date specified for the particular section in this act, whichever is later. For purposes of this subdivision, "adequate funding" means those moneys required to provide an increased quality of instruction and programs, and to carry out applicable state mandates of this act, within the California Community Colleges. Based upon estimates provided by the board of governors and exhaustive review of the community colleges' operations by the Joint Committee for the Review of the Master Plan for Higher Education, the Legislature finds and declares that its estimate of this funding amount is seventy million dollars ($70,000,000), in addition to the seventy million dollars ($70,000,000) estimated under subdivision (d).

(f) Notwithstanding this section, the board of governors, commencing January 1, 1989, may develop criteria and standards, as may be necessary to prepare for implementation of Section 84750 of the Education Code. However, the board of governors may not implement that section until the terms of this section have been met.

CHAPTER 1072

An act to amend Section 11479 of, and to add Section 11479.5 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11479 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11479. Notwithstanding Sections 11473.5 and 11474, at any time after seizure by a law enforcement agency of a suspected controlled substance, that amount in excess of 10 pounds in gross weight may be destroyed without a court order by the chief of the law enforcement agency or a designated subordinate. Destruction shall not take place pursuant to this section until all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) At least five random and representative samples have been taken, for evidentiary purposes, from the total amount of suspected controlled substances to be destroyed. These samples shall be in addition to the 10 pounds required above. When the suspected controlled substance consists of growing or harvested marijuana plants, at least one 10 pound sample (which may include stalks, branches, or leaves) and five representative samples consisting of leaves or buds shall be retained for evidentiary purposes from the total amount of suspected controlled substances to be destroyed.

(b) Photographs have been taken which reasonably demonstrate the total amount of the suspected controlled substance to be destroyed.

(c) The gross weight of the suspected controlled substance has been determined, either by actually weighing the suspected controlled substance or by estimating that weight after dimensional measurement of the total suspected controlled substance.

(d) The chief of the law enforcement agency has determined that it is not reasonably possible to preserve the suspected controlled substance in place, or to remove the suspected controlled substance to another location. In making this determination, the difficulty of transporting and storing the suspected controlled substance to another site and the storage facilities may be taken into consideration.

Subsequent to any destruction of a suspected controlled substance pursuant to this section, an affidavit shall be filed within 30 days in the court which has jurisdiction over any pending criminal proceedings pertaining to that suspected controlled substance, reciting the applicable information required by subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) together with information establishing the location of the suspected controlled substance, and specifying the date and time of the destruction. In the event that there are no criminal proceedings pending which pertain to that suspected controlled substance, the affidavit may be filed in any court within the county which would have jurisdiction over a person against whom those criminal charges might be filed.

SEC. 2. Section 11479.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11479.5. Notwithstanding Sections 11473.5 and 11474, at any time after seizure by a law enforcement agency of a suspected hazardous chemical believed to have been used or intended to have been used in the unlawful manufacture of controlled substances, that amount in excess of one fluid ounce if liquid, or one avoirdupois ounce if solid, of each different type of suspected hazardous chemical and its container, may be disposed of without a court order by the seizing agency. For the purposes of this section, "hazardous chemical" means any material that is believed by the chief of the law enforcement agency to be toxic, carcinogenic, explosive, corrosive, or flammable, and that is believed by the chief of the law enforcement agency to have been used or intended to have been used in the unlawful manufacture of controlled substances.

Destruction pursuant to this section of suspected hazardous chemicals or suspected hazardous chemicals and controlled substances in combination, shall not take place until all of the following requirements are met:

(a) At least a one ounce sample is taken from each different type of suspected hazardous chemical to be destroyed.

(b) At least a one ounce sample has been taken from each container of a mixture of a suspected hazardous chemical with a suspected controlled substance.

(c) Photographs have been taken which reasonably demonstrate the total amount of suspected controlled substances and suspected hazardous chemicals to be destroyed.

(d) The gross weight or volume of the suspected hazardous chemical seized has been determined.

Subsequent to any disposal of a suspected hazardous chemical and its container pursuant to this section, the law enforcement agency involved shall maintain records concerning the details of its compliance with, and reciting the applicable information required by subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d), together with the information establishing the location of the suspected hazardous chemical and its container, and specifying the date and time of the disposal.

Subsequent to any destruction of a suspected controlled substance in combination with a hazardous chemical pursuant to this section, an affidavit shall be filed within 30 days in the court which has jurisdiction over any pending criminal proceedings pertaining to that suspected controlled substance, reciting the applicable information required by subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d).

A law enforcement agency responsible for the disposal of any hazardous chemical shall comply with the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, as well as all applicable state and federal statutes and regulations.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to properly control substances constituting a menace to public health and safety, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1073

An act to add Section 678.5 to, and to add Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13600) to Division 3 of, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds that many Californians are denied or are faced with barriers to receiving necessary forms of property insurance coverage. The Legislature further finds that some insurers will cancel or nonrenew policies for arbitrary reasons, and that some insurers may be committing certain unfair and deceptive practices in the business of insurance.

It is the intent of the Legislature to provide a forum where disputes between policyholders and their insurers concerning cancellation and nonrenewal of certain property insurance can be resolved without the added expense of litigation to the consumer.

SEC. 2. Section 678.5 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

678.5. No policy specified in Section 675 that is issued, amended, or renewed on or after January 1, 1990, may be canceled, and an insurer may not refuse to renew such a policy solely on the grounds of corrosive soil conditions if the policy or renewal policy contains an existing exclusion for payment of loss for that peril.

SEC. 3. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 13600) is added to Division 3 of the Insurance Code, to read:

CHAPTER 3. CONCILIATION

13600. The department shall provide any person who files a complaint pursuant to Section 678.5, with the option of submitting any dispute involving cancellation or nonrenewal to conciliation pursuant to the following conciliation procedures:

(a) (1) The complaint shall first be reviewed by the department. Each insurer shall designate a responsible staff member whom the department may contact to determine whether a complaint may be resolved through a conciliation process.

(2) The complainant shall pay a filing fee of thirty-five dollars ($35), which shall be returned if the complainant prevails in whole or in part in conciliation.

(b) The department staff shall attempt to resolve the dispute over the telephone. The insurer's representative shall have the authority to bind any insurer to any agreement reached over the telephone.

(c) The insurer shall notify the department of the representative's identity in writing and immediately notify the department of any change in the designation.

(d) If the department cannot resolve the dispute by conciliation, the complaint shall be referred to the commissioner, who may, if he or she determines that there are reasonable grounds for believing that a violation of Section 678.5 has occurred, hold a hearing to determine whether a violation has occurred. In the event of a finding that a violation has occurred, the commissioner may order reinstatement of the policy.

13601. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude an insured or other aggrieved party from pursuing any available alternative remedy in lieu of conciliation or from pursuing that alternative remedy without first proceeding under this chapter, but the department shall have no jurisdiction to proceed under this chapter or resolve any dispute under this chapter during the pendency of any judicial action thereon initiated by an insured.

CHAPTER 1074

An act to amend Sections 17053.7 and 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and to amend Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17053.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053.7. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of wages paid to each employee who is certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

The credit under this section shall not apply to an individual unless, on or before the day on which that individual begins work for the employer, the employer:

(1) Has received a certification from the Employment Development Department, or

(2) Has requested in writing that certification from the Employment Development Department.

For the purposes of this subdivision, if on or before the day on which the individual begins work for the employer, the individual has received from the Employment Development Department a written preliminary determination that he or she is a member of a targeted group, then the requirement of paragraph (1) or (2) shall be applicable on or before the fifth day on which the individual begins work for the employer.

(b) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) during a taxable year by a taxpayer to the same individual. With respect to each qualified employee, the aggregate credit under this section shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600).

(c) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual:

(1) Who bears any of the relationships described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code to the taxpayer; or

(2) Who, if the taxpayer is an estate or trust, is a grantor, beneficiary, or fiduciary of the estate or trust, or is an individual who bears any of the relationships described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code to a grantor, beneficiary, or fiduciary of the estate or trust; or

(3) Who is a dependent (as described in Section 152(a) (9) of the Internal Revenue Code) of the taxpayer, or, if the taxpayer is an estate or trust, of a grantor, beneficiary, or a fiduciary of the estate or trust.

(d) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual if, prior to the hiring date of that individual, that individual has been employed by the employer at any time during which he or she was not certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(e) If the certification of an employment has been revoked pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, the credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid by the employer after the date on which notice of revocation is received by the employer.

(f) The credit under this section shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer may be entitled, if any.

(g) The credit provided by this section shall be applied to wages paid to each qualifying employee during the 24-month period beginning on the date the employee begins working for the taxpayer.

(h) (1) A taxpayer may elect to have this section not apply for any taxable year.

(2) An election under paragraph (1) for any taxable year may be made (or revoked) at any time before the expiration of the four-year period beginning on the last date prescribed by law for filing the return for that taxable year (determined without regard to extensions).

(3) An election under paragraph (1) (or revocation thereof) shall be made in any manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(i) (1) In the case of a successor employer referred to in Section 3306(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, the determination of the amount of the credit under this section with respect to wages paid by that successor employer shall be made in the same manner as if those wages were paid by the predecessor employer referred to in that section.

(2) No credit shall be determined under this section with respect to remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed by that employee for another person, unless the amount reasonably expected to be received by the employer for those services from that other person exceeds the remuneration paid by the employer to that employee for those services.

(j) The term "wages" shall not include any amounts paid or incurred to an individual who begins work for an employer after December 31, 1993.

SEC. 1.5. Section 17053.7 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053.7. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of wages paid to each employee who is certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

The credit under this section shall not apply to an individual unless, on or before the day on which that individual begins work for the employer, the employer:

(1) Has received a certification from the Employment Development Department, or

(2) Has requested in writing that certification from the Employment Development Department.

For the purposes of this subdivision, if on or before the day on which the individual begins work for the employer, the individual has received from the Employment Development Department a written preliminary determination that he or she is a member of a targeted group, then the requirement of paragraph (1) or (2) shall be applicable on or before the fifth day on which the individual begins work for the employer.

(b) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) during a taxable year by a taxpayer to the same individual. With respect to each qualified employee, the aggregate credit under this section shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600).

(c) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual:

(1) Who bears any of the relationships described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code to the taxpayer; or

(2) Who, if the taxpayer is an estate or trust, is a grantor, beneficiary, or fiduciary of the estate or trust, or is an individual who bears any of the relationships described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code to a grantor, beneficiary, or fiduciary of the estate or trust; or

(3) Who is a dependent (as described in Section 152(a) (9) of the Internal Revenue Code) of the taxpayer, or, if the taxpayer is an estate or trust, of a grantor, beneficiary, or a fiduciary of the estate or trust.

(d) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual if, prior to the hiring date of that individual, that individual has been employed by the employer at any time during which he or she was not certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(e) If the certification of an employment has been revoked pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, the credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid by the employer after the date on which notice of revocation is received by the employer.

(f) The credit under this section shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer may be entitled, if any.

(g) The credit provided by this section shall be applied to wages paid to each qualifying employee during the 24-month period beginning on the date the employee begins working for the taxpayer.

(h) (1) A taxpayer may elect to have this section not apply for any taxable year.

(2) An election under paragraph (1) for any taxable year may be made (or revoked) at any time before the expiration of the four-year period beginning on the last date prescribed by law for filing the return for that taxable year (determined without regard to extensions).

(3) An election under paragraph (1) (or revocation thereof) shall be made in any manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(i) (1) In the case of a successor employer referred to in Section 3306(b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, the determination of the amount of the credit under this section with respect to wages paid by that successor employer shall be made in the same manner as if those wages were paid by the predecessor employer referred to in that section.

(2) No credit shall be determined under this section with respect to remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed by that employee for another person, unless the amount reasonably expected to be received by the employer for those services from that other person exceeds the remuneration paid by the employer to that employee for those services.

(j) The term "wages" shall not include either of the following:

(1) Payments defined in Section 51(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to payments for services during labor disputes.

(2) Any amounts paid or incurred to an individual who begins work for the employer after December 31, 1993.

SEC. 2. Section 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23621. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of wages paid to each employee who is certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

The credit under this section shall not apply to an individual unless, on or before the day on which that individual begins work for the employer, the employer:

(1) Has received a certification from the Employment Development Department, or

(2) Has requested in writing that certification from the Employment Development Department.

For purposes of this subdivision, if on or before the day on which the individual begins work for the employer, the individual has received from the Employment Development Department a written preliminary determination that he or she is a member of a targeted group, then the requirement of paragraph (1) or (2) shall be applicable on or before the fifth day on which the individual begins work for the employer.

(b) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) during an income year by a taxpayer to the same individual. With respect to each qualified employee, the aggregate credit under this section shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600).

(c) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual:

(1) Who is a dependent, as described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, of an individual who owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of the taxpayer (determined with the application of Section 267(c) of the Internal Revenue Code); or

(2) Who is a dependent (as described in paragraph (9) of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code) of an individual described in paragraph (1).

(d) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual if, prior to the hiring date of that individual, that individual had been employed by the employer at any time during which he or she was not certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(e) If the certification of an employee has been revoked pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, the credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid by the employer after the date on which notice of revocation is received by the employer.

(f) The credit under this section shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer may be entitled, if any.

(g) The credit provided by this section shall be applied to wages paid to each qualifying employee during the 24-month period beginning on the date the employee begins working for the taxpayer.

(h) (1) A taxpayer may elect to have this section not apply for any income year.

(2) An election under paragraph (1) for any income year may be made (or revoked) at any time before the expiration of the four-year period beginning on the last date prescribed by law for filing the return for that income year (determined without regard to extensions).

(3) An election under paragraph (1) (or revocation thereof) shall be made in any manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(i) (1) In the case of a successor employer referred to in Section 3306(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, the determination of the amount of the credit under this section with respect to wages paid by that successor employer shall be made in the same manner as if those wages were paid by the predecessor employer referred to in that section.

(2) No credit shall be determined under this section with respect to remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed by that employee for another person unless the amount reasonably expected to be received by the employer for those services from that other person exceeds the remuneration paid by the employer to that employee for those services.

(j) The term "wages" shall not include any amounts paid or incurred to an individual who begins work for an employer after December 31, 1993.

SEC. 2.5. Section 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read.

23621. (a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) an amount equal to 10 percent of the amount of wages paid to each employee who is certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

The credit under this section shall not apply to an individual unless, on or before the day on which that individual begins work for the employer, the employer:

(1) Has received a certification from the Employment Development Department, or

(2) Has requested in writing that certification from the Employment Development Department.

For purposes of this subdivision, if on or before the day on which the individual begins work for the employer, the individual has received from the Employment Development Department a written preliminary determination that he or she is a member of a targeted group, then the requirement of paragraph (1) or (2) shall be applicable on or before the fifth day on which the individual begins work for the employer.

(b) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid in excess of three thousand dollars ($3,000) during an income year by a taxpayer to the same individual. With respect to each qualified employee, the aggregate credit under this section shall not exceed six hundred dollars ($600).

(c) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual:

(1) Who is a dependent, as described in paragraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, of an individual who owns, directly or indirectly, more than 50 percent in value of the outstanding stock of the taxpayer (determined with the application of Section 267(c) of the Internal Revenue Code); or

(2) Who is a dependent (as described in paragraph (9) of Section 152(a) of the Internal Revenue Code) of an individual described in paragraph (1).

(d) The credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid to an individual if, prior to the hiring date of that individual, that individual had been employed by the employer at any time during which he or she was not certified by the Employment Development Department to meet the requirements of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

(e) If the certification of an employee has been revoked pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code, the credit under this section shall not apply to wages paid by the employer after the date on which notice of revocation is received by the employer.

(f) The credit under this section shall be in addition to any deduction under this part to which the taxpayer may be entitled, if any.

(g) The credit provided by this section shall be applied to wages paid to each qualifying employee during the 24-month period beginning on the date the employee begins working for the taxpayer.

(h) (1) A taxpayer may elect to have this section not apply for any income year.

(2) An election under paragraph (1) for any income year may be made (or revoked) at any time before the expiration of the four-year period beginning on the last date prescribed by law for filing the return for that income year (determined without regard to extensions).

(3) An election under paragraph (1) (or revocation thereof) shall be made in any manner which the Franchise Tax Board may prescribe.

(i) (1) In the case of a successor employer referred to in Section 3306(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, the determination of the amount of the credit under this section with respect to wages paid by that successor employer shall be made in the same manner as if those wages were paid by the predecessor employer referred to in that section.

(2) No credit shall be determined under this section with respect to remuneration paid by an employer to an employee for services performed by that employee for another person unless the amount reasonably expected to be received by the employer for those services from that other person exceeds the remuneration paid by the employer to that employee for those services.

(j) The term "wages" shall not include either of the following:

(1) Payments defined in Section 51 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to payments for services during labor disputes.

(2) Any amounts paid or incurred to an individual who begins work for an employer after December 31, 1993.

SEC. 3. Section 328 of the Unemployment Insurance Code is amended to read:

328. (a) The department shall administer the California Jobs Tax Credit Act as provided in this section, except those functions reserved to the Franchise Tax Board by Section 17053.7 or 24330 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The department shall develop administrative procedures and guidelines necessary to carry out the intent of the act, including, but not limited to, the means to monitor and measure its effectiveness. For the purpose of certifying individuals meeting the criteria of subdivision (b), the department may delegate its responsibilities under this act to the State Department of Social Services. Upon delegation of this responsibility, the State Department of Social Services may provide by regulation for the issuance by county welfare departments of written preliminary determinations pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 11320.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(b) The department shall certify, upon the request of any applicant, for the purposes of Section 17053.7 or 24330 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, that any individual, at the time of his or her hiring by the applicant, is a registrant under the Greater Avenues for Independence Act of 1985 as provided in Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 11320) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) If an individual has been certified as meeting any of the criteria in subdivision (b) and that certification is incorrect because it was based on false information provided by that individual, the certification shall be revoked, and the department shall immediately notify the applicant who requests the certification of the revocation.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 4. The Legislative Analyst shall evaluate the job tax credit allowed by Sections 17053.7 and 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and make a report of that evaluation to the Legislature before May 2, 1993. The report shall include, among other things, information regarding the number of taxpayers claiming the credit, the General Fund revenue losses associated with the credit program, the effect of the credit on the Greater Avenues for Independence Program, and whether or not the General Fund revenue loss and the administrative costs associated with the credit are more than offset by reductions in public aid expenditures and increases in income tax revenues attributable to employed GAIN participants certified for the tax credit.

SEC. 5. Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Sections 17053.7 and 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code proposed by this bill and AB 802. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Sections 17053.7 and 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 802, in which case Sections 17053.7 and 23621 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by AB 802, shall remain operative only until the operative date of this bill, at which time Sections 1.5 and 2.5 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 1 and 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the California Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1075

An act to add Section 1722 to the Civil Code, relating to contracts.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1722 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

1722. (a) (1) Whenever a contract is entered into between a consumer and a retailer with 25 or more employees relating to the sale of merchandise which is to be delivered by the retailer or the retailer's agent to the consumer at a later date, and the parties have agreed that the presence of the consumer is required at the time of delivery, the retailer shall specify either at the time of the sale or at a later date a four-hour time period within which any delivery shall be made. Once a delivery time is established, the retailer or the retailer's agent shall deliver the merchandise to the consumer within that four-hour period.

(2) If the merchandise is not delivered within the specified four-hour period, except for delays caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond the control of the retailer, the consumer may bring an action in small claims court against the retailer for lost wages, expenses actually incurred, or other actual damages not exceeding a total of five hundred dollars ($500).

(3) No action shall be considered valid if the consumer was not present at the time, within the specified period, when the retailer or the retailer's agent attempted to make the delivery or made a diligent attempt to notify the consumer of its inability to do so because of unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond its control.

(4) In any small claims action, logs and other business records maintained by the retailer or the retailer's agent in the ordinary course of business shall be prima facie evidence of the time period specified for the delivery and of the time when the merchandise was delivered, or of a diligent attempt by the retailer or the retailer's agent to notify the consumer of delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences.

(5) It shall be a defense to the action if a diligent attempt was made to notify the consumer of the delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond the control of the retailer or the retailer's agent, or the retailer or the retailer's agent was unable to notify the consumer of the delay because of the consumer's absence or unavailability during the four-hour period, and, in either instance, the retailer or the retailer's agent makes the delivery within two hours of a newly agreed upon time or, if the consumer unreasonably declines to arrange a new delivery time.

(b) (1) Cable television companies shall inform their subscribers of their right to service connection or repair within a four-hour period, if the presence of the subscriber is required, by offering the four-hour period at the time the subscriber calls for service connection or repair, or by notifying their subscribers by mail three times a year of this service. Whenever a subscriber contracts with a cable television company for a service connection or repair, and the parties have agreed that the presence of the subscriber is required, the cable company shall specify the time for the commencement of the service connection or repair within the four-hour period if the subscriber requests.

(2) If the service connection or repair is not commenced within the specified four-hour period, except for delays caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond the control of the company, the subscriber may bring an action in small claims court against the company for lost wages, expenses actually incurred or other actual damages not exceeding a total of five hundred dollars ($500).

(3) No action shall be considered valid if the subscriber was not present at the time, within the specified period, that the company attempted to make the service connection or repair.

(4) In any small claims action, logs and other business records maintained by the company or its agents in the ordinary course of business shall be prima facie evidence of the time period specified for the commencement of the service connection or repair and the time that the company or its agents attempted to make the service connection or repair, or of a diligent attempt by the company to notify the subscriber of a delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences.

(5) It shall be a defense to the action if a diligent attempt was made to notify the subscriber of delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond the control of the company or its agents, or the company or its agents was unable to notify the subscriber because of the subscriber's absence or unavailability during the four-hour period, and, in either instance, the cable television company commenced service or repairs within a newly agreed upon two-hour period.

(6) No action shall be considered valid against a cable television company pursuant to this section when the franchise or any local ordinance provides the subscriber with a remedy for a delay in commencement of a service connection or repair and the subscriber has elected to pursue that remedy. If a subscriber elects to pursue his or her remedies against a cable television company under this section, the franchising or state or local licensing authority shall be barred from imposing any fine, penalty, or other sanction against the company, arising out of the same incident.

(c) (1) Utilities shall inform their subscribers of their right to service connection or repair within a four-hour period, if the presence of the subscriber is required, by offering the four-hour period at the time the subscriber calls for service connection or repair, or by notifying the subscriber by mail three times a year of this service. Whenever a subscriber contracts with the utility for a service connection or repair, and the parties have agreed that the presence of the subscriber is required, the utility shall specify the time for the commencement of the service connection or repair within the four-hour period if the subscriber requests.

(2) If the service connection or repair is not commenced within the specified four-hour period, except for delays caused by unforeseen or unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the company, the subscriber may bring an action in small claims court against the utility for lost wages, expenses actually incurred, or other actual damages not exceeding a total of five hundred dollars ($500).

(3) No action shall be considered valid if the subscriber was not present at the time, within the specified period, that the utility attempted to make the service connection or repair.

(4) In any small claims action, logs and other business records maintained by the utility or its agents in the ordinary course of business shall be prima facie evidence of the time period specified for the commencement of the service connection or repair and of the time that the utility attempted to make the service connection or repair, or of a diligent attempt by a utility to notify the subscriber of delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences.

(5) It shall be a defense to the action if a diligent attempt was made by the utility to notify the subscriber of delay caused by unforeseen or unavoidable occurrences beyond the control of the utility, and the utility commenced service within a newly agreed upon two-hour period.

CHAPTER 1076

An act to amend Section 502 of, and to add Section 502.1 to, the Penal Code, relating to computers.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (i), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to the provisions of Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) This section applies only to public offenses committed on or after January 1, 1988. It is the intent of the Legislature that this section be given no retroactive effect and persons who commit a violation of the provisions of Section 502 in effect prior to January 1, 1988, shall be held responsible therefor.

(h) Any computer, computer system, computer program, instrument, apparatus, device, plans, instructions, or written publication used in the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) that is owned by the defendant may be seized under warrant or incident to a lawful arrest. Any property seized under this subdivision is subject to forfeiture pursuant to Section 502.01.

(i) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(j) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(k) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting

outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

SEC. 3. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) This section applies only to public offenses committed on or after January 1, 1988. It is the intent of the Legislature that this section be given no retroactive effect and persons who commit a violation of the provisions of Section 502 in effect prior to January 1, 1988, shall be held responsible therefor.

(h) Any computer, computer system, computer program, instrument, apparatus, device, plans, instructions, or written publication used in the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) that is owned by the defendant may be seized under warrant or incident to a lawful arrest. Any property seized under this subdivision is subject to forfeiture pursuant to Section 502.01.

(i) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(j) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(k) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

(l) In determining the terms and conditions applicable to a person convicted of a violation of this section the court shall consider the following:

(1) The court shall consider prohibitions on access to and use of computers.

(2) Except as otherwise required by law, the court shall consider alternate sentencing, including community service, if the defendant shows remorse and recognition of the wrongdoing, and an inclination not to repeat the offense.

SEC. 4. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6) or (7) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to the provisions of Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

(k) In determining the terms and conditions applicable to a person convicted of a violation of this section the court shall consider the following:

(1) The court shall consider prohibitions on access to and use of computers.

(2) Except as otherwise required by law, the court shall consider alternate sentencing, including community service, if the defendant shows remorse and recognition of the wrongdoing, and an inclination not to repeat the offense.

SEC. 5. Section 502.1 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

502.1. Any person convicted of a violation of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) of Section 502, and any person convicted of a felony violation of paragraph (3), (6), or (7) of subdivision (c) of Section 502 may be granted probation for up to three years. A court may, as a condition of probation, prohibit any person granted probation under this section from, during the term of his or her probation, accepting employment where he or she will have access to computers not operated by his or her employer or accepting employment in any capacity where he or she has access to a computer, operated by his or her employer or otherwise, without first providing to the court a letter, signed by an officer or partner of the prospective employer, indicating that the employer has been informed of the conviction and has received a certified copy of the record of the person's conviction.

SEC. 6. (a) Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1012. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 502 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1859 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after SB 1012, in which case Sections 1, 3, and 4 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1859. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 502 of the Penal Code, (3) SB 1012 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 1859 in which case Sections 1, 2, and 4 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 4 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, SB 1012, and AB 1859. It shall only become operative if (1) all three bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) all three bills amend Section 502 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1012 and AB 1859, in which case Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 or Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1077

An act to amend Section 205.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 205.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Section 1 of Chapter 411 of the Statutes of 1988, is amended to read:

205.5. (a) Property which is owned by, and which constitutes the principal place of residence of, a veteran is exempted from taxation on that part of the full value of the residence that does not exceed forty thousand dollars ($40,000), if the veteran is blind in both eyes or has lost the use of two or more limbs as a result of injury or disease incurred in military service or that does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), if the veteran is totally disabled as a result of injury or disease incurred in military service. The forty thousand dollar ($40,000) exemption shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), and the one hundred thousand dollar ($100,000) exemption shall be one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000), in the case of an eligible veteran whose household income as defined in Section 20504 does not exceed the amounts specified in Section 20585.

(b) For purposes of this section, "veteran" is defined as specified in subdivision (o) of Section 3 of Article XIII of the Constitution without regard to any limitation contained therein on the value of property owned by the veteran or the veteran's spouse.

(c) Property which is owned by, and which constitutes the principal place of residence of, the unmarried surviving spouse of a veteran is exempt from taxation on that part of the full value of the residence that does not exceed forty thousand dollars ($40,000), in the case of a veteran who was blind in both eyes or had lost the use of two or more limbs, or one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), in the case of a veteran who was totally disabled; provided, that the deceased veteran during his or her lifetime qualified in all respects for the exemption or would have qualified for the exemption under the laws effective on January 1, 1977, except that the veteran died prior to January 1, 1977; or provided that the veteran died from a disease which was service connected as determined by the Veterans Administration. The forty thousand dollar ($40,000) exemption shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), and the one hundred thousand dollar ($100,000) exemption shall be one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000), in the case of an eligible unmarried surviving spouse whose household income as specified in Section 20504 does not exceed the amounts specified in Section 20585.

(d) As used in this section, "property which is owned by a veteran" or "property which is owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse" includes all of the following:

(1) Property owned by the veteran with the veteran's spouse as a joint tenancy, tenancy in common or as community property.

(2) Property owned by the veteran or the veteran's spouse as separate property.

(3) Property owned with one or more other persons to the extent of the interest owned by the veteran, the veteran's spouse, or both the veteran and the veteran's spouse.

(4) Property owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse with one or more other persons to the extent of the interest owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse.

(5) So much of the property of a corporation as constitutes the principal place of residence of a veteran or a veteran's unmarried surviving spouse when the veteran, or the veteran's spouse, or the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse is a shareholder of the corporation and the rights of shareholding entitle one to the possession of property, legal title to which is owned by the corporation. The exemption provided by this paragraph shall be shown on the local roll and shall reduce the full value of the corporate property. Notwithstanding any provision of law or articles of incorporation or bylaws of a corporation described in this paragraph, any reduction of property taxes paid by the corporation shall reflect an equal reduction in any charges by the corporation to the person who, by reason of qualifying for the exemption, made possible the reduction for the corporation.

(e) For purposes of this section, being blind in both eyes means having a visual acuity of 5/200 or less; losing the use of a limb means that the limb has been amputated or its use has been lost by reason of ankylosis, progressive muscular dystrophies, or paralysis; and being totally disabled means that the United States Veterans Administration or the military service from which such veteran was discharged has rated the disability at 100 percent or has rated the disability compensation at 100 percent by reason of being unable to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation.

(f) An exemption granted to a claimant in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be in lieu of the veteran's exemption provided by subdivisions (o), (p), (q), and (r) of Section 3 of Article XIII of the Constitution and any other real property tax exemption to which the claimant may be entitled. No other real property tax exemption may be granted to any other person with respect to the same residence for which an exemption has been granted under the provisions of this section; provided, that if two or more veterans qualified pursuant to this section co-own a property in which they reside, each is entitled to the exemption to the extent of his or her interest.

(g) This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1996, and on that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered on or before that date, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 205.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 411 of the Statutes of 1988, is amended to read:

205.5. (a) Property which is owned by, and which constitutes the principal place of residence of, a veteran is exempted from taxation on that part of the full value of the residence that does not exceed forty thousand dollars ($40,000), if the veteran is blind in both eyes, has lost the use of two or more limbs, or is totally disabled as a result of injury or disease incurred in military service. The exemption shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) in the case of an eligible veteran whose household income as defined in Section 20504 does not exceed the amounts specified in Section 20585.

(b) For purposes of this section, "veteran" is defined as specified in subdivision (o) of Section 3 of Article XIII of the Constitution without regard to any residency requirement or limitation contained therein on the value of property owned by the veteran or the veteran's spouse.

(c) Property which is owned by, and which constitutes the principal place of residence of, the unmarried surviving spouse of a veteran is exempt from taxation on that part of the full value of the residence that does not exceed forty thousand dollars ($40,000); provided, that the deceased veteran during his or her lifetime qualified in all respects for the exemption or would have qualified for the exemption under the laws effective on January 1, 1977, except that the veteran died prior to January 1, 1977; or provided that the veteran died from a disease which was service connected as determined by the Veterans Administration. The exemption shall be sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) in the case of an eligible unmarried surviving spouse whose household income as specified in Section 20504 does not exceed the amounts specified in Section 20585.

(d) As used in this section, "property which is owned by a veteran" or "property which is owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse" includes all of the following:

(1) Property owned by the veteran with the veteran's spouse as a joint tenancy, tenancy in common or as community property.

(2) Property owned by the veteran or the veteran's spouse as separate property.

(3) Property owned with one or more other persons to the extent of the interest owned by the veteran, the veteran's spouse, or both the veteran and the veteran's spouse.

(4) Property owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse with one or more other persons to the extent of the interest owned by the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse.

(5) So much of the property of a corporation as constitutes the principal place of residence of a veteran or a veteran's unmarried surviving spouse when the veteran, or the veteran's spouse, or the veteran's unmarried surviving spouse is a shareholder of the corporation and the rights of shareholding entitle one to the possession of property, legal title to which is owned by the corporation. The exemption provided by this paragraph shall be shown on the local roll and shall reduce the full value of the corporate property. Notwithstanding any provision of law or articles of incorporation or bylaws of a corporation described in this paragraph, any reduction of property taxes paid by the corporation shall reflect an equal reduction in any charges by the corporation to the person who, by reason of qualifying for the exemption, made possible the reduction for the corporation.

(e) For purposes of this section, being blind in both eyes means having a visual acuity of 5/200 or less; losing the use of a limb means that the limb has been amputated or its use has been lost by reason of ankylosis, progressive muscular dystrophies, or paralysis; and being totally disabled means that the United States Veterans Administration or the military service from which such veteran was discharged has rated the disability at 100 percent or has rated the disability compensation at 100 percent by reason of being unable to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation.

(f) An exemption granted to a claimant in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be in lieu of the veteran's exemption provided by subdivisions (o), (p), (q), and (r) of Section 3 of Article XIII of the Constitution and any other real property tax exemption to which the claimant may be entitled. No other real property tax exemption may be granted to any other person with respect to the same residence for which an exemption has been granted under the provisions of this section; provided, that if two or more veterans qualified pursuant to this section co-own a property in which they reside, each is entitled to the exemption to the extent of his or her interest.

(g) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1996.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 2229 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, the requirements of that section relating to any exemption of property for more than five years or for more than 75 percent of the value thereof shall not apply to the exemption made by this act.

SEC. 4. (a) Section 1 of this act shall be applicable to property taxes levied for the 1990–91 fiscal year through the 1995–96 fiscal year.

(b) Section 2 of this act shall be applicable to property taxes levied for the 1996–97 fiscal year and fiscal years thereafter.

CHAPTER 1078

An act to add Section 832.2 to the Penal Code, relating to peace officer training.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 832.2 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

832.2. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature to ensure the safety of students, staff, and the public on or about California's public schools, by providing school peace officers with training that will enable them to deal with the increasingly diverse and dangerous situations they encounter.

(b) Every school peace officer, as described in Sections 39670 and 72331 of the Education Code, shall complete a course of training approved by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training relating directly to the role of school peace officers. Any person employed as a school peace officer prior to the date that the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training approves the course of training shall complete the course of instruction within three years from the date that the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training approves the course of training. Any person who is not employed as a school peace officer until on or after the date that the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training approves the course of training shall complete the course of instruction within one year from the date his or her employment commences.

The school peace officer training course shall address guidelines and procedures for reporting offenses to other law enforcement agencies that deal with violence on campus and other school related matters, as determined by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training. The Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training shall develop and approve the course of training no later than January 1, 1991, and shall consult with school peace officers regarding the content and hourly requirement for this course.

(c) This section does not apply to any school peace officer whose employer requires its school peace officers to possess the basic certificate that is awarded by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training or any school peace officer who possess the basic certificate that is awarded by the Commission on Peace Officers Standards and Training.

CHAPTER 1079

An act to add and repeal Section 1596.955 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to child day care.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares there is a need to expand child care services for older infants not yet ready for a preschool environment. These children are commonly referred to as toddlers. Further, the Legislature finds that current minimim health and safety standards do not appropriately address the needs of toddlers transitioning to preschool.

(a) Currently, children under two years of age are served in infant centers with a maximum ratio of four children to each teacher, and preschool children over two years of age are served by preschool centers with a maximum ratio of 12 children to each teacher.

(b) The fact that these two groups must be kept physically separate from each other results in the following conditions:

(1) Children nearing two years of age represent a danger to newborns with whom they share play space.

(2) Children nearing two years of age require more stimulation and a greater variety of play materials and equipment than are available in most infant centers.

(3) The needs of two-year old children, especially the majority who are not toilet trained, cannot be served by a 12 to 1 ratio.

SEC. 2. Section 1596.955 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1596.955. (a) The department shall develop guidelines and procedures to permit licensed child day care centers serving preschool age children to create a special program component for children between the ages of 18 months and 30 months. This optional toddler program shall be subject to the following basic conditions:

(1) An amended application is submitted to and approved by the department.

(2) All children in the center between 18 and 30 months are placed in the toddler program established at the center and no children shall be placed in the preschool program before the age of 30 months.

(3) Parents give permission for the placement of their children in the toddler program.

(4) A ratio of six children to each teacher is maintained for all children in attendance at the toddler program. An aide who is participating in on-the-job-training may be substituted for a teacher when directly supervised by a fully qualified teacher.

(5) The maximum group size, with two teachers, or one fully qualified teacher and one aide, does not exceed 12 toddlers.

(6) The toddler program is conducted in areas separate from those used by older or younger children. Plans to alternate use of outdoor play space may be approved to achieve separation.

(7) All other preschool regulations are complied with.

(b) The toddler program shall be considered an extension of the preschool license, without the need for a separate license.

(c) The department shall immediately prepare proposed regulations for public hearing which would consider the foregoing basic conditions as well as any additional health and safety safeguards deemed necessary for this age group.

(d) The guidelines in subdivision (a) shall remain in force and effect only until regulations implementing this section are adopted by the department. A status report on development of the regulations shall be submitted by the department to the Legislature no later than June 1, 1990.

(e) The Senate Office of Research, in consultation with the Assembly Office of Research, shall evaluate the toddler program authorized by this section and report its evaluation to the Legislature no later than December 30, 1992. The evaluation shall include, but not be limited to, the advantages and disadvantages of a toddler program and recommendations as to whether or not the toddler program should continue to be authorized and whether the age range of 18 to 30 months should be retained or changed to some other specified age range.

(f) This section shall become inoperative on June 30, 1993, and, as of January 1, 1994, is repealed unless a later enacted statute which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

CHAPTER 1080

An act to amend Sections 1851.5 and 2540 of, and to amend and renumber Section 1800 of, to add Sections 1800, 2620.1, and 2620.2 to, and to repeal and add Sections 1821, 1826, 1851, and 1890 of, the Probate Code, relating to conservatorships and guardianships.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1800 of the Probate Code is amended and renumbered to read:

1800.3. If the need therefor is established to the satisfaction of the court and the other requirements of this chapter are satisfied, the court may appoint:

(a) A conservator of the person or estate of an adult, or both.

(b) A conservator of the person of a minor who is married or whose marriage has been dissolved.

SEC. 2. Section 1800 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1800. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the purposes of this chapter are to do the following:

(a) Protect the rights of persons who are placed under conservatorship.

(b) Provide that an assessment of the needs of the person is performed in order to determine the appropriateness and extent of a conservatorship and to set goals for increasing the conservatee's functional abilities to whatever extent possible.

(c) Provide that the health and psychosocial needs of the proposed conservatee are met.

(d) Provide that community-based services are used to the greatest extent to allow the conservatee to remain as independent and in the least restrictive setting as possible.

(e) Provide that the periodic review of the conservatorship by the court investigator shall consider the best interest of the conservatee.

(f) Ensure that the conservatee's basic needs for physical health, food, clothing, and shelter are met.

(g) Provide for the proper management and protection of the conservatee's real and personal property.

SEC. 3. Section 1821 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 1821 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1821. (a) The petition shall request that a conservator be appointed for the person or estate, or both, shall specify the name, address, and telephone number of the proposed conservator and the name, address, and telephone number of the proposed conservatee, and, unless the petitioner is a bank or other entity authorized to conduct the business of a trust company, shall include supplemental information submitted by the petitioner as to why the appointment of a conservator is required. The supplemental information to be submitted shall include a brief statement of facts addressed to each of the following categories:

(1) The inability of the proposed conservatee to properly provide for his or her needs for physical health, food, clothing, and shelter.

(2) The location of the proposed conservatee's residence and the ability of the proposed conservatee to live in the residence while under conservatorship.

(3) Alternatives to conservatorship considered by the petitioner and reasons why those alternatives are not available.

(4) Health or social services provided to the proposed conservatee during the year preceding the filing of the petition, when the petitioner has information as to those services.

(5) The inability of the proposed conservatee to substantially manage his or her own financial resources, or to resist fraud or undue influence.

The facts required to address the conditions set forth in paragraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, shall be set forth by the petitioner when he or she has knowledge of the facts or by the declarations or affidavits of other persons having knowledge of those facts. In the event that the petitioner does not have personal knowledge of those facts, any person having knowledge of those facts may attest to those facts in an affidavit or declaration under penalty of perjury attached to the petition.

Where any of the conditions set forth in paragraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, are not applicable to the proposed conservatorship, the petitioner shall so indicate and state on the supplemental information form the reasons therefor.

The Judicial Council shall develop a supplemental information form for the information required pursuant to paragraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, after consultation with individuals or organizations approved by the Judicial Council, who represent public conservators, court investigators, the State Bar, specialists with experience in performing assessments and coordinating community-based services, and legal services for the elderly and disabled.

The supplemental information form shall be separate and distinct from the form for the petition. The supplemental information shall be confidential and shall be made available only to parties, persons given notice of the petition who have requested this supplemental information or who have appeared in the proceedings, their attorneys, and the court. The court shall have discretion at any other time to release the supplemental information, if it would serve the interests of the conservatee. The county clerk shall make provisions for the limitation of the supplemental information exclusively to persons entitled to its receipt.

(b) The petition shall set forth, so far as they are known to the petitioner, the names and addresses of the spouse and of the relatives of the proposed conservatee within the second degree. If no spouse of the proposed conservatee, or relatives of the proposed conservatee within the second degree are known to the petitioner, the petition shall set forth, so far as they are known to the petitioner, the names and addresses of the following persons who, for the purposes of Section 1822, shall all be deemed to be relatives:

(1) A spouse of a predeceased parent of a proposed conservatee.

(2) The children of a predeceased spouse of a proposed conservatee.

(3) The siblings of the proposed conservatee's parents, if any, but if none, then the natural and adoptive children of the proposed conservatee's parents' siblings.

(4) The natural and adoptive children of the proposed conservatee's siblings.

(c) If the petition is filed by one other than the proposed conservatee, the petition shall state whether or not the petitioner is a creditor or debtor, or the agent of a creditor or debtor, of the proposed conservatee.

(d) If the proposed conservatee is a patient in or on leave of absence from a state institution under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Mental Health or the State Department of Developmental Services and that fact is known to the petitioner, the petition shall state that fact and name the institution.

(e) The petition shall state, so far as is known to the petitioner, whether or not the proposed conservatee is receiving or is entitled to receive benefits from the Veterans Administration and the estimated amount of the monthly benefit payable by the Veterans Administration for the proposed conservatee.

(f) The petition may include an application for any order or orders authorized under this division, including, but not limited to, orders under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1870).

(g) The petition may include a further statement that the proposed conservatee is not willing to attend the hearing on the petition, does not wish to contest the establishment of the conservatorship, and does not object to the proposed conservator or prefer that another person act as conservator.

(h) In the case of an allegedly developmentally disabled adult the petition shall set forth the following:

(1) The nature and degree of the alleged disability, the specific duties and powers requested by or for the limited conservator, and the limitations of civil and legal rights requested to be included in the court's order of appointment.

(2) Whether or not the proposed limited conservatee is or is alleged to be developmentally disabled.

(i) All conservators shall file a general plan with the court within 90 days of appointment detailing how the personal and financial needs of the conservatee will be met. A copy of the plan shall be provided to the court investigator, and notice of the filing of the general plan shall be given to those persons who have been given notice of the petition. The general plan may be reviewed by those persons who have been given notice of the petition and who request to view the general plan. The court may schedule a hearing on the general plan, if the court determines that a hearing would serve the best interests of the conservatee or if there are objections to the plan within 30 days after mailing of the notice of filing.

Reports submitted pursuant to Section 416.8 of the Health and Safety Code meet the requirements of this section, and conservatorships filed pursuant to Section 416.8 of the Health and Safety Code are exempt from providing the supplemental information required by this section, so long as the guidelines adopted by the State Department of Developmental Services for regional centers require the same information which is required pursuant to this section.

SEC. 5. Section 1826 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 1826 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1826. Regardless of whether the proposed conservatee attends the hearing, the court investigator shall do all of the following:

(a) Interview the proposed conservatee personally.

(b) Inform the proposed conservatee of the contents of the citation, of the nature, purpose, and effect of the proceeding, and of the right of the proposed conservatee to oppose the proceeding, to attend the hearing, to have the matter of the establishment of the conservatorship tried by jury, to be represented by legal counsel if the proposed conservatee so chooses, and to have legal counsel appointed by the court if unable to retain legal counsel.

(c) Determine whether it appears that the proposed conservatee is unable to attend the hearing and, if able to attend, whether the proposed conservatee is willing to attend the hearing.

(d) Review the allegations of the petition as to why the appointment of the conservator is required and the facts set forth in the supplemental information form which addresses each of the categories specified in paragraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, of subdivision (a) of Section 1821, and refer to the supplemental information submitted by the petitioner in making his or her determinations.

(e) Determine whether the proposed conservatee wishes to contest the establishment of the conservatorship.

(f) Determine whether the proposed conservatee objects to the proposed conservator or prefers another person to act as conservator.

(g) Determine whether the proposed conservatee wishes to be represented by legal counsel and, if so, whether the proposed conservatee has retained legal counsel and, if not, the name of an attorney the proposed conservatee wishes to retain.

(h) Determine whether the proposed conservatee is capable of completing an affidavit of voter registration.

(i) If the proposed conservatee has not retained legal counsel, determine whether the proposed conservatee desires the court to appoint legal counsel.

(j) Determine whether the appointment of legal counsel would be helpful to the resolution of the matter or is necessary to protect the interests of the proposed conservatee in any case where the proposed conservatee does not plan to retain legal counsel and has not requested the appointment of legal counsel by the court.

(k) Report to the court in writing, at least five days before the hearing, concerning all of the foregoing, including the proposed conservatee's express communications concerning both of the following:

(1) Representation by legal counsel.

(2) Whether the proposed conservatee is not willing to attend the hearing, does not wish to contest the establishment of the conservatorship, and does not object to the proposed conservator or prefer that another person act as conservator.

(l) Mail, at least five days before the hearing, a copy of the report referred to in subdivision (k) to all of the following:

(1) The attorney, if any, for the petitioner.

(2) The attorney, if any, for the proposed conservatee.

(3) Such other persons as the court orders.

(m) The court investigator shall have discretion to release the report required by this section to the public conservator, interested public agencies, and the long-term care ombudsman.

(n) The report required by this section shall be confidential and shall be made available only to parties, persons given notice of the petition who have requested this report or who have appeared in the proceedings, their attorneys, and the court. The court shall have discretion at any other time to release the report, if it would serve the interests of the conservatee. The county clerk shall make provisions for the limitation of the report exclusively to persons entitled to its receipt.

(o) This section does not apply to a proposed conservatee who has personally executed the petition for conservatorship, or one who has nominated his or her own conservator, if he or she attends the hearing.

SEC. 7. Section 1851 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 1851 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1851. (a) When court review is required, the court investigator shall visit the conservatee. The court investigator shall inform the conservatee personally that the conservatee is under a conservatorship and shall give the name of the conservator to the conservatee. The court investigator shall determine whether the conservatee wishes to petition the court for termination of the conservatorship, whether the conservatee is still in need of the conservatorship, whether the present conservator is acting in the best interests of the conservatee, and whether the conservatee is capable of completing an affidavit of voter registration. If the court has made an order under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1870), the court investigator shall determine whether the present condition of the conservatee is such that the terms of the order should be modified or the order revoked.

(b) The findings of the court investigator, including the facts upon which the findings are based, shall be certified in writing to the court not less than 15 days prior to the date of review. A copy of the report shall be mailed to the conservator and to the attorneys of record for the conservator and conservatee at the same time it is certified to the court.

(c) In the case of a limited conservatee, the court investigator shall make a recommendation regarding the continuation or termination of the limited conservatorship.

(d) The court investigator may personally visit the conservator and other persons as may be necessary to determine whether the present conservator is acting in the best interests of the conservatee.

SEC. 9. Section 1851.5 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1851.5. (a) Promptly following the close of each fiscal year, the Controller shall determine the statewide average cost per investigation or review by a court investigator incurred by a county pursuant to Sections 1826, 1850, and 1851 during each fiscal year.

(b) Except as provided in Section 6102 of the Government Code, each county shall annually assess the estate of each conservatee in the county for any investigation or review conducted by a court investigator at county expense with respect to that person pursuant to Section 1826, 1850, or 1851, at the rate determined by the Controller pursuant to subdivision (a). The court may order the estate to reimburse the county for the cost of the investigations required by statute, unless the court finds that the assessment would pose a hardship to the estate. A county may waive any or all of an assessment against an estate, on the basis of hardship, where the conservatorship of a living person is terminated by court order.

(c) Any amount otherwise owing to a county pursuant to Article XIII B of the California Constitution and Sections 2231 and 2234 of the Revenue and Taxation code for costs incurred by the county for the costs of investigation or review by court investigators pursuant to Sections 1826, 1850, and 1851 shall be reduced by the amount of any assessments actually collected during the fiscal year pursuant to subdivision (b).

SEC. 10. Section 1890 of the Probate Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 1890 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

1890. (a) An order of the court under Section 1880 may be included in the order of appointment of the conservator if the order was requested in the petition for the appointment of the conservator or, except in the case of a limited conservator, may be made subsequently upon a petition made, noticed, and heard by the court in the manner provided in this article.

(b) In the case of a petition filed under this chapter requesting that the court make an order under this chapter or that the court modify or revoke an order made under this chapter, when the order applies to a limited conservatee, the order may only be made upon a petition made, noticed, and heard by the court in the manner provided by Article 3 (commencing with Section 1820) of Chapter 1.

(c) Any request for a court order under Section 1880 whether made as part of the original petition for appointment of a conservator or subsequent thereto, shall be accompanied by a declaration executed by a licensed physician that the proposed conservatee or the conservatee, as the case may be, lacks the capacity to give an informed consent for any form of medical treatment and the reasons therefor.

SEC. 11.5. Section 2540 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

2540. (a) Except as otherwise provided in Sections 2544 and 2545, and except for the sale of a conservatee's personal residence as set forth in subdivision (b), sales of real or personal property of the estate under this article are subject to authorization, confirmation, or direction of the court, as provided in this article.

(b) In seeking authorization to sell a conservatee's present or former personal residence, the conservator shall notify the court that the personal residence is proposed to be sold and that the conservator has discussed the proposed sale with the conservatee. In addition, the conservator shall inform the court whether the conservatee supports or is opposed to the proposed sale and shall describe the circumstances that necessitate the proposed sale, including whether the conservatee has the ability to live in the residence. The court, in its discretion, may require the court investigator to discuss the proposed sale with the conservatee. This subdivision shall not apply when the conservator is granted the power to sell real property of the estate pursuant to Section 2590.

SEC. 12. Section 2620.1 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

2620.1. The account required of a conservator of the estate pursuant to Section 2620, who is also a conservator of the person, shall be accompanied by a status report on the conservatee, indicating the conservator's personal evaluation of the conservatee's health, general well-being, and functional level. This report shall include notification of any intent to change any significant circumstances in the conservatee's living arrangement, condition, or estate. The status report shall be confidential.

SEC. 13. Section 2620.2 is added to the Probate Code, to read:

2620.2. (a) Whenever the conservator has failed to file an account as required by Section 2620, the court shall require that written notice be given to the conservator and the attorney of record for the conservatorship directing the conservator to file an account and to set the account for hearing before the court within 60 days of the date of the notice or, if the conservator is a public agency, within 120 days of the date of the notice.

(b) A citation shall be issued, served, and returned, requiring a conservator, who does not file an account as required by Section 2620, to appear and show cause why the conservator should not be punished for contempt.

(c) If the conservator does not appear and file an account as required by Section 2620 after having been cited under subdivision (b), the conservator may be punished for contempt or removed as conservator, or both, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 14. Sections 3 to 6, inclusive, of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 15. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1081

An act to amend Section 104.12 of, and to add Section 104.2 to, the Streets and Highways Code, relating to highways.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 104.2 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

104.2. If property is provided through donation or at less than fair market value to the department for state highway purposes, or purchased with funds provided by a local agency, the donor or seller may reserve the right to develop the property, but any development of the property shall be subject to the approval of the department and any reservations, restrictions, or conditions that it determines necessary for highway safety.

SEC. 2. Section 104.12 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

104.12. (a) The department may lease to public agencies or private entities for any term not to exceed 99 years the use of areas above or below state highways, subject to any reservations, restrictions, and conditions that it deems necessary to ensure adequate protection to the safety and the adequacy of highway facilities and to abutting or adjacent land uses. Authorized emergency vehicles, as defined in Section 165 of the Vehicle Code, which are on active duty and are not merely being stored, shall be given preference in the use of these areas, and no payment of consideration shall be required for this use of the areas by these vehicles. Prior to entering into any lease, the department shall determine that the proposed use is not in conflict with the zoning regulations of the local government concerned. The leases shall be made in accordance with procedures to be prescribed by the commission, except that, in the case of leases with private entities, the leases shall only be made after competitive bidding unless the commission finds, by unanimous vote, that in certain cases competitive bidding would not be in the best interests of the state. The possibilities of entering into the leases, and the consequent benefits to be derived therefrom, may be considered by the department in designing and constructing the highways.

Revenues from the leases shall be deposited in the State Highway Account. If leased property was provided to the department for state highway purposes through donation or at less than fair market value, the lease revenues shall be shared with the donor or seller if so provided by contract when the property was acquired. If the donor or seller was a local agency which no longer exists at the time the department enters into the lease, the local agency's share of lease revenues shall be paid to the county or counties within which the local agency was situated.

(b) The department shall consider future lease potential of areas above or below state highway projects when planning new state highway projects. This consideration shall be accomplished by intradepartment consultation between offices concerned with project development and airspace lease development.

(c) The department shall submit to the Legislature an annual report on the income and the inventory status of airspace leased above and below state highways.

(d) The department shall report to the Governor and the Legislature on January 1, 1991, and thereafter biennially, on the number and nature of contractual agreements entered into pursuant to Section 104.2 and pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 1082

An act to add Section 14132.81 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Victims of Alzheimer's Disease and other memory impairments can easily become lost or disoriented if they leave their residence unaccompanied.

(b) Families and caregivers of victims of Alzheimer's Disease and other memory impairments undergo substantial emotional stresses when a victim of that disease or other memory impairment disappears.

(c) Without an easy means of identification, police, medical personnel, and other emergency personnel have difficulty in learning that a person is a victim of Alzheimer's Disease or other memory impairment, or that a person has allergies that could be life-threatening.

(d) Identification bracelets with a 24-hour toll-free telephone number inscribed on them provide a widely recognized method of alerting emergency and other medical personnel that an individual has a medical condition such as Alzheimer's Disease.

(e) Programs such as the "Links for Life" program in San Diego County have proven effective in reuniting victims of Alzheimer's Disease with their families or caregivers.

SEC. 2. Section 14132.81 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

14132.81. (a) The purchase of identification bracelets for eligible recipients under the Medi-Cal program who have Alzheimer's Disease or some other cognitive defect, or medication allergies that could be life threatening, shall be a covered benefit under this chapter.

(b) The bracelets shall be purchased from an organization which maintains a 24-hour toll-free telephone number for emergency or medical personnel to make inquiries.

(c) The director shall develop regulations to implement this section.

(d) For purposes of this section "eligible recipients" means those persons who, in addition to qualifying for benefits under this chapter, have been determined by a licensed physician and surgeon to need the benefit authorized by this section.

(e) Benefits shall be provided under this section only to the extent that full federal financial participation is made available.

(f) Benefits shall be provided under this section only when the director determines that two or more organizationally independent providers are available to supply the benefit authorized by this section.

CHAPTER 1083

An act to amend Sections 13127 and 13128 of the Food and Agricultural Code, relating to health, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13127 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

13127. (a) Not later than December 31, 1985, the department shall identify 200 pesticide active ingredients which the department determines have the most significant data gaps, widespread use, and which are suspected to be hazardous to people. Not later than 30 days after the report issued pursuant to Section 13125, the department shall notify each registrant of a pesticide product containing any of the identified 200 pesticide active ingredients of the applicable data gap required to be filled pursuant to this section.

(b) Not later than December 31, 1985, the department shall also adopt a timetable for the filling of all data gaps on all pesticide active ingredients, other than those identified by the department pursuant to subdivision (a), which are currently registered or licensed in California. The department shall notify registrants of the applicable data gaps and the scheduled time to initiate and complete studies as provided in the timetable.

(c) (1) Not later than September 1, 1986, the department shall determine whether a test has been initiated to fill each of the data gaps for each pesticide active ingredient identified in subdivision (a). If no test has been initiated, the department shall fill data gaps in accordance with procedures provided in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subsection (c) of Section 136a of Title 7 of the United States Code. In order to carry out this section, the director has the same authority to require information from registrants of active pesticide ingredients and to suspend registration that the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency has pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subsection (c) of Section 136a of Title 7 of the United States Code. If a hearing is requested regarding the proposed suspension of registration, it shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. On or before July 1, 1986, the director shall, by regulation, prescribe procedures for resolving disputes or funding the filling of data gaps. The procedures may include mediation and arbitration. The arbitration procedures, insofar as practical, shall be consistent with the federal act, or otherwise shall be in accordance with the commercial arbitration rules established by the American Arbitration Association. The procedures shall be established so as to resolve any dispute within the timetable established in subdivision (a).

(2) The department shall also obtain the data which is identified in subdivision (b), according to the timetable and procedures specified in this section.

(d) (1) Not later than March 1, 1987, the director shall again determine whether tests have been initiated to fill each of the data gaps for each pesticide active ingredient identified in subdivision (a). If the tests have not been initiated or if, having been initiated, the tests are not completed within a reasonable time not to exceed four years, the director shall obtain the required test results. The director may utilize assessments charged to those registrants of the active ingredient for which the data gaps exist in amounts necessary to cover the department's expenses in filling the data gaps. Any assessments shall be made pursuant to Section 12824 of the Food and Agricultural Code. The director may also request an appropriation to be used in combination with assessments to obtain the required test results. The director shall initiate the tests as soon as possible, and the tests shall be completed within a reasonable time, not to exceed four years after initiation.

The director shall furnish not less than 30 days' public notice of any proposed action under this paragraph, stating the reasons therefor and allowing public comment thereon. Copies of this notice and final decision shall be provided to the appropriate committees of the Legislature.

(2) The director shall monitor compliance with the timetable established pursuant to subdivision (b). If the director determines that tests are not initiated or completed according to the timetable, the director shall obtain the required test results as provided in paragraph (1).

(e) (1) This section does not apply to any product which the director determines has limited use or that substantial economic hardship would result to users due to unavailability of the product and there is not significant exposure to the public or workers and the product is otherwise in compliance with federal law.

(2) The director may not, pursuant to this subdivision, exempt all pesticide products containing the same pesticide active ingredient unless it is determined that the pesticide active ingredient has only limited use, there is insignificant exposure to workers or the public, and the products are otherwise in compliance with federal law. Any exemption issued pursuant to this paragraph shall expire at the end of three years after it is issued.

(f) (1) Whenever the director exercises the authority provided in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e), he or she shall give public notice of the action stating the reasons for exempting the pesticide product from the data requirements of this article. Copies of this notice shall be provided to the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature.

(2) Whenever the director acts pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (e), the director shall furnish not less than 30 days' public notice of the proposed action, stating the reasons for exempting the pesticide product from the data requirements of this article and allowing public comment thereon. Copies of the notice and the final decision shall be provided to the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature.

SEC. 2. Section 13128 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

13128. No applicant for registration or current registrant of a pesticide who proposes to purchase or purchases a registered pesticide from another producer in order to formulate the purchased pesticide into an end use product shall be required pursuant to Section 13127 to submit or cite mandatory health effect data pertaining to the safety of the purchased product or to offer to pay reasonable compensation for the use of any such data if the producer is engaged in fulfilling the requirements of Section 13127.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that provisions relative to pesticides and birth defects may be clarified as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1084

An act to amend Sections 5655 and 12017 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to pollution, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5655 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

5655. (a) In addition to the responsibilities imposed pursuant to Section 5651, the department may clean up or abate, or cause to be cleaned up or abated, the effects of any petroleum or petroleum product deposited or discharged in the waters of this state or deposited or discharged in any location onshore or offshore where the petroleum or petroleum product is likely to enter the waters of this state, order any person responsible for the deposit or discharge to clean up the petroleum or petroleum product or abate the effects of the deposit or discharge, and recover any costs incurred as a result of the cleanup or abatement from the responsible party.

(b) No order shall be issued pursuant to this section for the cleanup or abatement of petroleum products in any sump, pond, pit, or lagoon used in conjunction with crude oil production which is in compliance with all applicable state and federal laws and regulations.

(c) The department may issue an order pursuant to this section only if there is an imminent and substantial endangerment to human health or the environment and the order shall remain in effect only until any cleanup and abatement order is issued pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code. A regional water quality control board shall incorporate the department's order into the cleanup and abatement order issued pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code, unless the department's order is inconsistent with any more stringent requirement established in the cleanup and abatement order. Any action taken in compliance with the department's order is not a violation of any subsequent regional water quality control board cleanup and abatement order issued pursuant to Section 13304 of the Water Code.

(d) All money recovered or received pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Fish and Wildlife Pollution Cleanup and Abatement Account in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund.

(e) For purposes of this section, "petroleum product" means oil in any kind or form, including, but not limited to, fuel oil, sludge, oil refuse, and oil mixed with waste other than dredged spoil. "Petroleum product" does not include any pesticide which has been applied for agricultural, commercial, or industrial purposes or has been applied in accordance with a cooperative agreement authorized by Section 2426 of the Health and Safety Code, which has not been discharged accidentally or for purposes of disposal, and whose application was in compliance with all applicable state and federal laws and regulations.

SEC. 2. Section 12017 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

12017. (a) The Fish and Wildlife Pollution Cleanup and Abatement Account in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund is hereby created.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 13001, any recovery or settlement of money received pursuant to the following sections shall be deposited in the account:

(1) Section 2014.

(2) Article 1 (commencing with Section 5650) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 6.

(3) Section 12015 or 12016.

(4) Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 151) of Division 1.5 of the Harbors and Navigation Code.

(5) Section 13442 of the Water Code.

(c) Moneys in the account are continuously appropriated to the department.

(d) Funds in the account shall be expended for the following purposes:

(1) Abatement, cleanup, and removal of pollutants from the environment.

(2) Response coordination, planning, and program management.

(3) Resource injury determination.

(4) Resource damage assessment.

(5) Economic valuation of resources.

(6) Restoration or rehabilitation at sites damaged by pollution.

(e) Notwithstanding subdivision (d), funds in the account in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000) as of July 1 of each year may also be expended for the preservation of California plants, wildlife, and fisheries.

(f) Funds in the account may be expended for cleanup and abatement if a reasonable effort has been made to have the responsible party, pay cleanup and abatement costs and funds are not available for disbursement from the emergency reserve account of the Hazardous Substance Account in the General Fund pursuant to Section 25351 or 25354 of the Health and Safety Code.

(g) The department may use funds in the account to pay the costs of consultant contracts for resource injury determination or damage assessment during hazardous material or oil spill emergencies. These contracts are not subject to Part 2 (commencing with Section 10100) of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

CHAPTER 1085

An act to add Title 12 (commencing with Section 93000) of the Government Code, and to amend Section 99317 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title 12 (commencing with Section 93000) is added to the Government Code, to read:

TITLE 12. NORTH COAST RAILROAD AUTHORITY

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

93000 This title shall be known and may be cited as the North Coast Railroad Authority Act.

93001. It is the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this title, to provide an alternative for ensuring railroad service if the Interstate Commerce Commission authorizes the abandonment or discontinuance of service on the current Eureka Southern Railroad line, the Northwestern Pacific Railroad line, or the California Western Railroad line.

It is the intent of the Legislature to provide a means to consider and, if justified, to pursue economic development opportunities and projects related to rail service along these railroad lines.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that this title not provide a justification for the commission to grant a petition for abandonment or discontinuance of service on any of those lines.

93002. It is the intent of the Legislature that the authority be expanded to include the County of Del Norte if the extention of rail service to that county becomes feasible at a future date.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that the authority be expanded to include the Counties of Marin and Sonoma if regional planning for the railroad line extending from Humboldt County to Marin County becomes appropriate at a future date.

93003. The Legislature finds and declares that maintaining railroad service to the north coast area of California will provide economic benefits and, in addition, do all of the following:

(a) Ensure continuing passenger and freight railroad service to the north coast area.

(b) Explore opportunities for the improvement of rail service extending from Humboldt County through Mendocino County, and the potential extension of rail service to Del Norte County.

(c) Enhance tourist access to the north coast area and encourage the establishment of tourist-related facilities.

(d) Reduce reliance on motor vehicles and encourage the use of rail service as an alternative transportation means.

(e) Reduce traffic congestion on and deterioration of State Highway Route 101.

(f) Provide convenient and attractive transportation service for residents of and visitors to the north coast area.

93004. As used in this title "authority" means the North Coast Railroad Authority.

CHAPTER 2. CREATION OF AUTHORITY

93010. The authority is hereby created within the Counties of Humboldt and Mendocino to provide rail passenger and freight service within those counties.

93011. The authority shall be governed by a board of five directors, composed as follows:

(a) Two persons appointed by each of the boards of supervisors of the counties specified in Section 93010. These directors shall serve for terms of two years and until their successors have qualified.

(b) The District Director of Transportation for State Transportation District 1, ex officio.

93012. The authority shall conduct its first meeting not later than 120 days after the abandonment or discontinuance of service on any of the railroad lines specified in Section 93001.

CHAPTER 3. POWERS AND DUTIES OF AUTHORITY

93020. The authority has all of the following powers:

(a) To acquire, own, operate, and lease real and personal property reasonably related to the operation and maintenance of railroads.

(b) To issue revenue bonds pursuant to Section 93024 for any purpose of the authority.

(c) To acquire property by purchase, lease, gift, or through exercise of the power of eminent domain.

(d) To operate railroads, including those outside its boundaries in order to connect its lines with the lines of another railroad corporation.

(e) To accept grants or loans from state or federal agencies.

(f) To select a franchisee, which may be a public or private entity, to acquire or operate a rail transportation system within the area of the authority's jurisdiction.

93021. The authority may acquire, own, lease, and operate railroad lines and equipment, including, but not limited to, real and personal property, tracks, rights-of-way, equipment, and facilities.

93022. The authority may prepare a plan for the acquisition and operation of any railroad line specified in Section 93001, at no expense to the state, to achieve the purposes set forth in Section 93003.

93023. After preparation of a plan pursuant to Section 93022, the authority may do any of the following:

(a) Conduct engineering and other studies related to the acquisition of any railroad line.

(b) Evaluate alternative plans from the private sector to acquire, finance, and operate a railroad system in a manner which achieves the purposes specified in Section 93003.

(c) Establish criteria for the award of a franchise.

(d) Select a franchisee to acquire, finance, and operate the railroad system.

(e) Accept grants, gifts, fees, or allocations from other entities, including private and public sources.

(f) Employ an executive officer, other staff, and consultants deemed appropriate for support of the activities of the authority.

93024. (a) The authority may issue bonds, payable from revenues of any facility or enterprise to be acquired or constructed by the authority, in the manner provided by the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 (Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 54300) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code).

However, an election is not required in the case of revenue bonds authorized by the board of directors for railroad facilities, and any addition, extension, and improvement thereto, and all other facilities authorized to be acquired, constructed, or completed by the authority under this title.

(b) The authority is a local agency within the meaning of the Revenue Bond Law of 1941. The term "enterprise," as used in that law, includes railroad facilities, and any addition, extension, and improvement thereto, and all other facilities authorized to be acquired, constructed, or completed by the authority under this title.

93025. The state is not liable for any contracts, debts, or other obligations of the authority.

SEC. 2. Section 99317 of the Public Utilities Code, as amended by Chapter 105 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

99317. (a) Funds made available pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 99315 shall be appropriated to the department for allocation, as directed by the commission, to fund the following types of transit capital improvement projects:

(1) Railroad rights-of-way acquisition.

(2) Exclusive public mass transit guideways and rolling stock.

(3) Intermodal transfer stations serving various transportation modes.

(4) Passenger ferries and terminals.

(b) Funds made available pursuant to Sections 199 and 199.1 of the Streets and Highways Code shall be appropriated to the department for allocation, as directed by the commission, solely to fund exclusive public mass transit guideways.

(c) The amount of funds allocated for a transit capital improvement project pursuant to this section shall not exceed 50 percent of the amount of the nonfederal share of project cost. This requirement shall not apply to projects for intercity rail.

SEC. 2.5. Section 99317 of the Public Utilities Code, as amended by Chapter 105 of the Statutes of 1989, is amended to read:

99317. (a) Funds made available pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 99315 shall be appropriated to the department for allocation, as directed by the commission, to fund the following types of transit and intercity rail capital improvement projects:

(1) Railroad rights-of-way acquisition.

(2) Exclusive public mass transit guideways and rolling stock.

(3) Intermodal transfer stations serving various transportation modes.

(4) Passenger ferries and terminals.

(b) Funds made available pursuant to Sections 199 and 199.1 of the Streets and Highways Code shall be appropriated to the department for allocation, as directed by the commission, solely to fund exclusive public mass transit guideways.

(c) Funds made available for capital outlay pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 14031.6 of the Government Code and subdivision (a) of Section 99315 shall be appropriated to the department for allocation, as directed by the commission, solely for capital outlay improvements and rolling stock on intercity rail passenger routes.

(d) The amount of funds allocated for a transit capital improvement project, except an intercity rail transit capital improvement project, pursuant to this section shall not exceed 50 percent of the amount of the nonfederal share of project cost. This requirement shall not apply to projects for intercity rail.

SEC. 3. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 99317 of the Public Utilities Code proposed by both this bill and SB 856. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 99317 of the Public Utilities Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 856, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because this act is in accordance with the request of a local agency or school district which desired legislative authority to carry out the program specified in this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to make an appropriation in augmentation of Items 9840-001-001, 9840-001-494, and 9840-001-988 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1988, relating to contingencies or emergencies, to take effect immediately, usual current expenses.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

I am reducing the appropriation in Section 1 of Assembly Bill No 214 from $250,307,143 82 to $224,077,428 82 by reducing the General Fund appropriation in Section 1 (1) for Item 9840-001-001 from $230,562,143 82 to $204,332,428 82 This reduction of $26,229,715 is as follows

Department of Forestry $1,389,000

The bill includes $25,889,000 for emergency fire suppression but the Department of Forestry estimates an augmentation of $24,500,000 is sufficient.

Department of Education $24,840,715

The bill includes $134,960,000 for deficiencies in K-12 education Based on revised revenue estimates, the Department of Finance estimates that $110,119,285 is remaining for allocation to meet the Proposition 98 funding guarantee I am also reducing the amount in Section 2 utilized for the purposes of Section 8 of Article XVI of the California Constitution, to conform with the amount I have vetoed in Section 1 of this act

In taking this action, I recognize that Chapters 82 and 83, Statutes of 1989, which I signed earlier this year, provide a mechanism to ensure that K-14 education agencies receive the full guaranteed funding level enacted by Proposition 98 This mechanism requires a full reconciliation of revenues and appropriations to be jointly certified by the superintendent of Public Instruction, the Chancellor of the Community Colleges, and the Director of Finance Any amounts required to fulfill the funding guarantee will be allocated automatically by the State Controller

I am also reducing Section 2 from $134,960,000 to $110,119,285 to conform to my action in Section 1.

I am also deleting Section 3 which states that any balances remaining after the annual recertification of the second principal apportionment for the 1988–89 fiscal year for school districts and county offices of education shall be allocated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to fund any remaining deficiencies of this act Under current law, the Superintendent has authorization to allocate remaining balances for specific purposes, which include any deficiencies in specific apportionments

With these deletions, I approve Assembly Bill No 214

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The sum of two hundred fifty million three hundred seven thousand one hundred forty-three dollars and eighty-two cents ($250,307,143.82) is hereby appropriated for expenditure in the 1988–89 fiscal year in augmentation of, and for the purposes of, contingencies or emergencies as provided in Items 9840-001-001, 9840-001-494, and 9840-001-988 of Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1988, in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) Two hundred thirty million five hundred sixty-two thousand one hundred forty-three dollars and eighty-two cents ($230,562,143.82) from the General Fund to the Reserve for Contingencies or Emergencies in Item 9840-001-001.

(2) Fourteen million six hundred forty thousand dollars ($14,640,000) from unallocated special funds to the Reserve for Contingencies or Emergencies in Item 9840-001-494.

(3) Five million one hundred five thousand dollars ($5,105,000) from unallocated nongovernmental cost funds to the Reserve for Contingencies or Emergencies in Item 9840-001-988.

(b) The Director of Finance may withhold authorization for expenditure of funds provided in this section until such time as, and to the extent that, preliminary estimates of potential deficiencies are verified.

SEC. 2. Of the amount appropriated in Section 1 of this act, one hundred thirty-four million nine hundred sixty thousand dollars ($134,960,000) shall, for the purposes of Section 8 of Article XVI of the California Constitution, be deemed to be an appropriation for the support of the public school system (K-12) for the 1988–89 fiscal year.

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any balances remaining after the annual recertification of the second principal apportionment for the 1988–89 fiscal year for school districts and county offices of education shall be allocated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to fund any remaining deficiencies recognized in this act.

SEC. 4. This act makes an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1087

An act relating to open-space subventions, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

I am reducing the $10,000,000 appropriation contained in Section 1 of Assembly Bill No 284 to $5,000,000

This bill would appropriate $10 million to the State Controller to increase subventions to local taxing entities under the Williamson Act Open Space Subvention Program

The demands placed on budget resources require all of us to set priorities. A $5 million augmentation to the existing $14 6 million appropriated in the 1989–90 Budget Act provides a significant commitment to preserving our state's agricultural resources We must also fund other top priority programs and continue a prudent reserve for an economic uncertainties Thus, it would be inappropriate to provide a $10 million augmentation to this single program.

With this reduction, I approve Assembly Bill No 284.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated for the 1989–90 fiscal year the sum of ten million dollars ($10,000,000) to the Controller for proportional allocation to eligible local governments pursuant to Section 16142 of the Government Code. The appropriation made by this section shall for the 1989–90 fiscal year be in addition to any appropriation made for the same purpose pursuant to Sections 16100 and 16142 of the Government Code.

Prior to the allocation of funds to an eligible city, county, or city and county pursuant to this section, the Controller shall determine whether the allocation for the eligible city, county, or city and county would result in the city, county, or city and county having proceeds of taxes for the 1989–90 fiscal year in excess of its appropriations limit under Article XIII B of the California Constitution. If the Controller determines that the allocation will result in a city, county, or city and county exceeding its appropriations limit for the 1989–90 fiscal year, the Controller shall reduce the amount of the allocation computed for the city, county, or city and county pursuant to this section by the amount by which that allocation exceeds the entity's appropriations limit.

In the event that the Controller reduces an allocation to a city, county, or city and county in accordance with the preceding paragraph, if the voters of the city, county, or city and county subsequently authorize an increase in that entity's appropriations limit for the 1989–90 fiscal year, the Controller shall pay to the city, county, or city and county that portion of the allocation reduction which does not exceed the entity's increased appropriations limit within 30 days of the Controller receiving from the city, county, or city and county a certification of the election results increasing the entity's appropriations limit

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that many counties and cities have been required to divert their own general purpose revenues to pay for basic social welfare, public health, and justice programs. This shift has diminished local budgetary support for other programs and services, including those which promote the continued productive use of agricultural lands and the conservation of open space. In enacting Section 1 of this act and increasing the amount of state open-space subventions, the Legislature hereby encourages local officials to use a portion of these additional revenues to support programs and services which benefit agricultural lands and open space.

SEC. 3. The Legislature finds and declares that in enacting Section 1 of this act it is the intent of the Legislature to increase the subventions paid to cities and counties for certain open space lands. If a state agency undertakes a comprehensive review of this program of state subventions for open-space lands and if that study recommends that the Legislature change the program, then it is the intent of the Legislature to further revise this program after considering the recommendations by the study.

CHAPTER 1088

An act to add and repeal Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 15775) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public social services, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

I am deleting the $120,000 appropriation contained in Section 4 of Senate Bill No 1484

This bill would require the Department of Social Services to establish a two-year demonstration project in Santa Barbara County for the purpose of conducting centralized intake and assessments for recipients in need of adult protective services. It also appropriates $120,000 from the General Fund in years 1990–91 and 1991–92 to establish this demonstration project.

Since the funding in this bill was not to be appropriated until next year, it is more appropriate to consider funding the provisions of this bill during the budget process for Fiscal Year 1990–91 Only at that time can we review the relative merits of this program in comparison to all other funding projects. The budget process enables us to weigh all demands on the state's revenues and direct our resources to programs, either new or existing, that have the most merit

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No 1484

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares the following:

(a) Across the nation we are facing a dramatic "greying" of our population. In California, there were two million eight hundred thousand people 65 years of age or older in 1985, and that number is projected to grow to three million eight hundred thousand by the year 2000. That means that by the year 2000, one in every nine Californians will be 65 years of age or older.

(b) The elderly and dependent adult population utilizes the services of various community agencies to meet their needs. Each of these service agencies requires a separate intake and assessment process.

(c) There is currently no standardized intake and assessment form or process which is acceptable for use by all agencies providing services to adult protective services clients.

(d) By alleviating the duplication of staff time on the intake and assessment process conducted at each of the various service agencies, a cost savings may be achieved with the development of a multidisciplinary intake and assessment unit for adult protective services.

SEC. 2. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature to establish a two-year demonstration project to centralize the intake and assessment process for elderly and dependent adults who may utilize various adult service programs by the development of a multidisciplinary intake and assessment unit for adult protective services.

(b) It is the further intent of the Legislature to incorporate the resources of volunteers in the delivery of services to elderly and dependent adults.

SEC. 3. Chapter 14 (commencing with Section 15775) is added to Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 14. MULTIDISCIPLINARY INTAKE AND ASSESSMENT UNIT

15775. The department shall, commencing July 1, 1990, pursuant to a request by Santa Barbara County, establish a two-year pilot program in that county which will establish a centralized multidisciplinary intake and assessment unit for adult protective services to gather information on elderly and dependent adults for all of the following purposes:

(a) Completing a comprehensive client-centered needs assessment.

(b) Developing a client-specific service plan.

(c) Referring, as appropriate, to community-based agencies.

(d) Implementing, with volunteers, the delivery of services specified in the service plan in subdivision (b).

When assessment is completed and the services needed are identified in the service plan, ongoing case management will be assigned to that member of the multidisciplinary unit responsible for the primary service identified.

15776. The goal of the pilot program shall be to develop all of the following:

(a) A generic adult intake form, to be used by all participating agencies.

(b) An adult protective services assessment form for statewide use.

(c) A model for the multidisciplinary intake and assessment unit, with potential statewide applicability, to be composed of representatives from, but not limited to, all of the following local entities:

(1) The county welfare department.

(2) The county department of mental health.

(3) The public guardian.

(4) The public conservator.

(5) The county public health department.

(6) The Multipurpose Senior Services Program.

(7) The Area Agency on Aging.

(8) The Santa Barbara Health Initiative.

(d) A model for incorporating senior and intergenerational volunteers into the delivery of supportive services for adult protective services clients.

15777. (a) The county shall report to the Legislature and to the State Department of Social Services by December 31, 1992, on the results of the program.

(b) The report required by subdivision (a) shall include, but need not be limited to, an evaluation of all of the following:

(1) The savings in staff time resulting from nonduplicative intake accomplished through the use of generic intake and assessment.

(2) A comparison of the following:

(A) The total number of clients served in the 1989–90 base year.

(B) The total number of clients served during the operative period of the pilot program.

(3) The savings generated through the use of volunteer hours in support of direct services.

15778. This chapter shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. The sum of one hundred twenty thousand dollars ($120,000) is appropriated from the General Fund to the State Department of Social Services, for allocation for purposes of this act, as follows:

(a) For the 1990–91 fiscal year, the sum of sixty thousand dollars ($60,000).

(b) For the 1991–92 fiscal year, the sum of sixty thousand dollars ($60,000).

CHAPTER 1089

An act to add Sections 39141.9, 46300.1, 46300.3, and 46300.4 to, and to repeal and add Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) of Chapter 5 of Part 28 of, the Education Code, relating to schools, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

I am deleting the $50,000 appropriation contained in Section 9 of Senate Bill No 1563

This bill would make substantial changes to the provisions authorizing local education agencies (LEAs) to conduct independent study programs. Among the major changes, this bill would require LEAs to adopt more rigorous standards for independent study programs and would reduce funding for adult independent study students to the statewide adult education revenue limit over two years. It also appropriates $50,000 to the Department of Education for administrative costs and $50,000 to the Legislative analyst for a study.

The Department of Education has resources available that were used to implement the existing independent study program regulations and guidelines. Therefore, I believe that the Department also can implement the provisions of this bill without additional funding and consider the appropriation unnecessary

With this deletion, I approve Senate Bill No 1563.

GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to encourage school districts and county offices of education to maintain effective alternative education programs designed to respond to the different ways pupils acquire learning and to provide alternative means for pupils to complete their prescribed course of study. The Legislature finds and declares that independent study is an educational alternative that allows the flexibility in scheduling and learning activities required by many pupils.

The Legislature also finds and declares that independent study has grown by approximately 25 percent during the past four years, and that the number of school districts offering independent study has grown from 452 school districts in the 1982–83 school year to 672 in the 1987–88 school year. This growth is partially attributable to the use of independent study by school districts as a key component of their strategy to intensify efforts to retain pupils who are at risk of dropping out of school and to retrieve pupils who have previously dropped out of school.

The Legislature further finds and declares that, while independent study is often conducted in an exemplary manner, reviews conducted by the Auditor General, the Department of Finance, and the office of the Legislative Analyst have stated the following general concerns regarding independent study:

(a) The Auditor General has reported that of 25 school districts and county offices of education with the largest pupil participation in independent study, the amount of revenue spent on independent study ranged from 25 percent of the revenue to 18 percent in excess of their revenue for independent study.

(b) There are no statewide statistics on the number of pupils participating in independent study, the characteristics of these pupils, or the number who complete various course requirements through independent study, all of which is information which must be obtained in order to evaluate the effectiveness of the program.

(c) Independent study varies greatly with respect to the following components:

(1) Student-to-teacher ratios. The Auditor General reports ratios varying from 26:1 to 156:1.

(2) The frequency with which pupils meet with certificated personnel to discuss their progress and receive other educational services.

(3) Whether or not any screening criteria are used to determine whether full-time independent study is the most appropriate alternative for a pupil.

It is the intent of the Legislature to address all of these concerns in an effort to ensure that independent study is an effective alternative educational choice for pupils and their families.

SEC. 2. Section 39141.9 is added to the Education Code, to read:

39141.9. In order to provide alternative, community-based educational opportunities through independent study, any school district or county office of education may request an exemption from the State Allocation Board for a building or structure, or portion of a building or structure, from the definition of "school buildings" within the meaning of Section 39141. The exemptions may be granted for no longer than two years and exemptions are renewable. An exemption may only be granted if the school district or county office of education demonstrates to the satisfaction of the State Allocation Board all of the following:

(a) The building or structure, or portion of building or structure, satisfies all of the following:

(1) It is not located on a regular schoolsite.

(2) It complies with all applicable local building standards and all relevant local health and safety standards in the community in which it is located.

(3) It is used for independent study.

(4) It serves fewer than 25 pupils enrolled in kindergarten or any of the grades 1 to 12, inclusive, at any one time in the building or structure, or in a portion of a building or structure where the remainder of the building or structure is not used for instructional purposes.

(b) The use of the building or structure is critical to providing an effective alternative, community-based program.

(c) The use of other buildings or structures that would meet seismic safety standards for school facilities is not practical.

SEC. 3. Section 46300.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

46300.1. (a) For the 1990–91 and 1991–92 fiscal years, no school district or county office of education may receive apportionments for independent study by pupils 21 years of age or older, or by pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday for average daily attendance in excess of the number of units of average daily attendance generated by such pupils in the 1988–89 fiscal year.

(b) Commencing with the 1990–91 fiscal year, apportionments for pupils 21 years of age or older, and for pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday in independent study under Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) of Chapter 5 of Part 28 shall be reduced over a two-year period to the statewide average level per average daily attendance paid for pupils in adult education according to the following schedule:

(1) For the 1990–91 fiscal year, independent study pupils 21 years of age or older, and pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday generate a revenue limit equivalent to 166 percent of the statewide average level per unit of average daily attendance paid for pupils in adult education.

(2) For the 1991–92 fiscal year, independent study pupils 21 years of age or older, and pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday generate a revenue limit equivalent to 132 percent of the average adult education revenue limit.

(3) For the 1992–93 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, independent study pupils 21 years of age or older, and pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday generate a revenue limit equivalent to 100 percent of the average adult education revenue limit.

SEC. 3.5. Section 46300.3 is added to the Education Code, to read:

46300.3. Apportionments paid for concurrent enrollment in adult education by independent study pupils 21 years of age or older, and pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday, shall not exceed the adult education revenue limit.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 3.7. Section 46300.4 is added to the Education Code, to read:

46300.4. If a pupil 21 years of age or older, or pupils 19 years of age or older who has not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since his or her 18th birthday, is pursuing adult education coursework through independent study, his or her attendance shall be eligible for apportionment only if the coursework meets the requirements for a high school diploma.

This section shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 4. Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) of Chapter 5 of Part 28 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) is added to Chapter 5 of Part 28 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 5.5. Independent Study

51745. (a) Commencing with the 1990–91 school year, the governing board of a school district or a county office of education may offer independent study to meet the educational needs of pupils in accordance with the requirements of this article. Educational opportunities offered through independent study may include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) Special assignments extending the content of regular courses of instruction.

(2) Individualized study in a particular area of interest or in a subject not currently available in the regular school curriculum.

(3) Individualized alternative education designed to teach the knowledge and skills of the core curriculum. Independent study shall not be provided as an alternative curriculum.

(4) Continuing and special study during travel.

(5) Volunteer community service activities that support and strengthen pupil achievement.

(b) Not more than 10 percent of the pupils participating in an opportunity school or program, or a continuation high school, calculated as specified by the State Department of Education, shall be eligible for apportionment credit for independent study pursuant to this article.

(c) No individual with exceptional needs, as defined in Section 56026, may participate in independent study, unless his or her individualized education program developed pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 56340) of Chapter 4 of Part 30 specifically provides for that participation.

(d) No temporarily disabled pupil may receive individual instruction pursuant to Section 48206.3 through independent study.

(e) No course included among the courses required for high school graduation under Section 51225.3 shall be offered exclusively through independent study.

51746. It is the intent of the Legislature that school districts and county offices of education offering independent study shall provide appropriate existing services and resources to enable pupils to complete their independent study successfully and shall ensure the same access to all existing services and resources in the school in which the pupil is enrolled pursuant to Section 51748 as is available to all other pupils in the school. In addition, the services and resources may include, but need not be limited to, any of the following:

(a) A designated learning center or study area staffed by appropriately trained personnel.

(b) The services of qualified personnel to assess the achievement, abilities, interests, aptitudes, and needs of participating pupils to determine each of the following:

(1) Whether full-time independent study is the most appropriate alternative for the pupil being referred.

(2) If the answer to paragraph (1) is affirmative, the determination of the most appropriate individualized plan and resources to be made available to pupils enrolled in full-time independent study.

51747. A school district or county office of education shall not be eligible to receive apportionments for independent study by pupils, regardless of age, unless it has adopted written policies, pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which include, but shall not be limited to, each of the following:

(a) The maximum length of time, by grade level and type of program, which may elapse between the time an independent study assignment is made and the date by which the pupil must complete the assigned work.

(b) The number of missed assignments which will be allowed before an evaluation is conducted to determine whether it is in the best interests of the pupil to remain in independent study, or whether he or she should return to the regular school program. A written record of the findings of any evaluation made pursuant to this subdivision shall be maintained in the pupil's permanent record.

(c) A requirement that a current written agreement for each independent study pupil shall be maintained on file including, but not limited to, all of the following:

(1) The manner, time, frequency, and place for submitting a pupil's assignments and for reporting his or her progress.

(2) The method utilized to evaluate the pupil's work.

(3) The specific resources, including materials and personnel, which will be made available to the pupil.

(4) A statement of the policies adopted pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) regarding the maximum length of time allowed between the assignment and the completion of a pupil's assigned work, and the number of missed assignments which will require an evaluation of whether or not the pupil should be allowed to continue in independent study.

(5) The duration of the independent study agreement. No independent study agreement shall be valid for any period longer than one semester or one-half year for a school on a year-round calendar.

(6) A statement of the number of course credits or, for the elementary grades, other measures of academic accomplishment appropriate to the agreement, to be earned by the pupil upon completion.

(7) The inclusion of a statement in each independent study agreement that independent study is an optional educational alternative in which no pupil may be required to participate.

(8) Each written agreement shall be signed by the pupil, the pupil's parent or legal guardian if the pupil is less than 18 years of age, the certificated employee who has been designated as having responsibility for the general supervision of independent study, and all persons who have direct responsibility for providing assistance to the pupil.

51747.5. The independent study by each pupil 18 years of age or less shall be coordinated, evaluated, and, notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 46300, under the general supervision of an employee of the school district or county office of education who possesses a valid certification document pursuant to Section 44865, registered as required by law.

51747.6. The ratio of average daily attendance by independent study pupils 18 years of age or less to school district full-time equivalent certificated employees responsible for independent study, calculated as specified by the State Department of Education, shall not exceed the equivalent ratio for all other education programs operated by the school district. The ratio of average daily attendance by independent study pupils 18 years of age or less to county office of education full-time equivalent certificated employees responsible for independent study, to be calculated in a manner prescribed by the State Department of Education, shall not exceed the equivalent ratio for all other educational programs operated by the high school or unified school district with the largest average daily attendance of pupils in that county. The computation of the ratios shall be performed annually by the reporting agency at the time of, and in connection with, the second principal apportionment report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Only those units of average daily attendance for independent study that reflect a teacher/student ratio that does not exceed the general ratio shall be eligible for apportionment pursuant to Section 42238.5 for school districts and Section 2558 for county offices of education. Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent a school district or county office of education from serving additional units of average daily attendance greater than the general ratio, however, those additional units shall not be funded pursuant to Section 42238.5 or Section 2558.

51748. School districts and county offices of education shall not be eligible to receive apportionment for independent study attendance by any pupil who is not otherwise identified in the written records of the district or county board by grade level, program placement, and the school in which he or she is enrolled.

51749. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon the next revision of the California Basic Educational Data System, or its equivalent, following the effective date of this article, shall include all data collection elements necessary to compile an annual statewide profile of pupils participating in independent study, including data on the number and percentage of pupils pursuing their coursework through independent study who successfully complete the requirements for a high school diploma.

51749.3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish rules and regulations for the purposes of implementing this article. A public hearing on the rules and regulations shall be held on or before March 15, 1990. The rules and regulations shall be adopted on or before June 30, 1990.

51749 5. This article shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 6. (a) The Legislative Analyst, in consultation with the State Department of Education, shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, a study to determine the most appropriate means of offering independent study to pupils 21 years of age or older, and to pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday, in addition to other issues regarding independent study. The study shall address, but shall not be limited to, the following questions:

(1) Whether independent study for pupils 21 years of age or older, and for pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday should be provided through the educational system consisting of kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, or only through adult education.

(2) If it is recommended that independent study for adults be provided through the educational system consisting of kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, whether there should be a cap on the number of units of average daily attendance generated by pupils 19 years of age or older.

(3) Whether more than one public educational agency should offer independent study for pupils 21 years of age or older, and for pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday in a given geographic area.

(4) Whether independent study for pupils 21 years of age or older, and for pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday should be restricted to certain programs, such as diploma granting programs.

(5) Whether there should be a pupil to teacher ratio in independent study for pupils 21 years of age or older, and for pupils 19 years of age or older who have not been continuously enrolled in kindergarten or any of grades 1 to 12, inclusive, since their 18th birthday, and, if so, what that ratio should be.

(6) The recommended level of staffing within the State Department of Education necessary to implement Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) of Chapter 5 of Part 28 of the Education Code.

(b) The office of the Legislative Analyst shall submit the findings and recommendations in a report to the appropriate fiscal and policy committees of the Legislature, the Governor, and the Director of Finance on or before October 30, 1990.

SEC. 7. Section 4 of this act shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

SEC. 8. The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Legislative Analyst for the purpose of conducting the study on independent study required by Section 6 of this act.

SEC. 9. The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the State Department of Education for administrative costs incurred by the department in implementing Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 51745) of Chapter 5 of Part 28 of the Education Code.

CHAPTER 1090

An act to add and repeal Section 17052.14 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17052.14 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

17052.14. (a) (1) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039), an amount equal to 40 percent of the cost of qualified property purchased on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1994. The amount of the allowable credit shall be claimed as provided in subdivision (c).

(2) The basis of any qualified property, as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d), for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(b) The credit shall only be allowed by this section if:

(1) The total adjusted basis of all qualified property owned on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the total adjusted basis of all qualified property owned on the last day of the base year.

(2) The total number, or capacity to use recycled materials, of items of qualified property on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the total number or capacity of items of qualified property on the last day of the base year. If a qualified property owned in the base year is replaced by qualified property of larger capacity, the eligible costs shall be proportional to the increase in capacity.

(c) The amount of the allowable credit shall be claimed as follows:

(1) Twenty percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the taxable year of purchase.

(2) Fifteen percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the taxable year immediately succeeding the taxable year of purchase.

(3) Five percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the taxable year immediately succeeding the taxable year specified in paragraph (2).

(4) The amount of credit allowed by this section shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to qualified property used in any one manufacturing facility.

(d) (1) "Qualified property" means machinery or equipment located within California, which is used by the taxpayer exclusively to manufacture finished products composed of at least 50 percent secondary waste material with at least 10 percent of which is composed of postconsumer waste generated from within California. "Qualified property" may include manufacturing equipment which utilizes 100 percent secondary waste, including at least 80 percent postconsumer waste where all of that material is contained within a finished product regardless of the finished product's percent postconsumer content. "Qualified property" includes, but is not limited to, deinking equipment utilized in the production of fine quality paper and equipment utilized to reclaim plastic which is used either as a raw material by a manufacturer or is sold to a manufacturer for use in the manufacture or fabrication of finished products.

(2) "Postconsumer waste" is only those products generated within California by a business or consumer which have served their intended end uses and would normally be disposed of as solid waste, having completed their life cycle as a consumer item.

(3) "Secondary waste" means fragments of products or finished products of a manufacturing process generated within California, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include mill broke, wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

(4) "Finished product" means a marketable product or component thereof that has an economic value to a consumer and is ready to be used without the requirement of further alteration of its form.

(5) "Base year" is the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year for which the credit allowed by this section is claimed.

(e) The Department of Conservation shall do all of the following:

(1) Certify that the qualified property is purchased and used by the taxpayer as specified in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (d).

(2) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board, (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the Department of Conservation), of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification.

(3) Provide the taxpayer with a copy of the certification to retain for his or her records.

(f) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) Provide the Department of Conservation with documents, as deemed necessary by the Department of Conservation, verifying the purchase of the qualified property and that the machinery or equipment meets the recycling requirements specified in this section.

(2) Retain for his or her records a copy of the certificate issued by the Department of Conservation specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e).

(g) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," for any taxable year for which a credit is allowed by subdivision (c), the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax," in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(h) If a taxpayer disposes of or no longer uses the qualified property as defined in subdivision (d), then any amount that would have been otherwise allowed as a credit for the taxable year of disposition or nonuse shall not be allowed.

(i) With the exception of a husband and wife, if two or more taxpayers share in the expenses eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to his or her respective share of the expenses paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share. In the case of a husband and wife who file separate returns, the credit may be taken by either or equally divided between them.

(j) The Department of Conservation shall, no later than March 1, 1994, submit a report to the Legislature evaluating the impact of the tax expenditure in this section. The report shall include information about the number of taxpayers claiming the credit, the total dollar amount of credit allocated, and the equipment for which the credit was used. The report shall also determine to what extent, if any, the tax expenditure authorized by this section increased recycling activities in California. The Department of Conservation shall work cooperatively with the Franchise Tax Board to determine the relevant tax return data necessary to complete the report and the time the data is required. The Franchise Tax Board shall be responsible for providing the data to the Department of Conservation.

(k) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before December 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (g), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 2. If Assembly Bill 939 of the 1989–90 Regular Session is chaptered and creates the California Integrated Waste Management Board, Section 17052.14 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by this act, shall be administered by that board, notwithstanding any other provision of that section requiring administration by the Department of Conservation.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative only if and at the same time as AB 1308 of the 1989–90 Regular Session becomes operative.

SEC. 4. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1091

An act to add and repeal Section 23612.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23612.5 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

23612.5. (a) (1) For income years beginning on or after January

1, 1989, and before January 1, 1994, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "tax" (as defined in Section 23036), an amount equal to 40 percent of the cost of qualified property purchased on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1994. The amount of the allowable credit shall be claimed as provided in subdivision (c).

(2) The basis of any qualified property, as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (d), for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The basis adjustment shall be made for the income year for which the credit is allowed.

(b) The credit shall only be allowed by this section if:

(1) The total adjusted basis of all qualified property owned on the last day of the income year exceeds the total adjusted basis of all qualified property owned on the last day of the base year.

(2) The total number, or capacity to use recycled materials, of items of qualified property on the last day of the income year exceeds the total number or capacity of items of qualified property on the last day of the base year. If a qualified property owned in the base year is replaced by qualified property of larger capacity, the eligible costs shall be proportional to the increase in capacity.

(c) The amount of the allowable credit shall be claimed as follows:

(1) Twenty percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the income year of purchase.

(2) Fifteen percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the income year immediately succeeding the income year of purchase.

(3) Five percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for qualified property shall be allowed for the income year immediately succeeding the income year specified in paragraph (2).

(4) The amount of credit allowed by this section shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) with respect to qualified property used in any one manufacturing facility.

(d) (1) "Qualified property" means machinery or equipment located within California, which is used by the taxpayer exclusively to manufacture finished products composed of at least 50 percent secondary waste material with at least 10 percent of which is composed of postconsumer waste generated from within California. "Qualified property" may include manufacturing equipment which utilizes 100 percent secondary waste, including at least 80 percent postconsumer waste where all of that material is contained within a finished product regardless of the finished product's percent postconsumer content. "Qualified property" includes, but is not limited to, deinking equipment utilized in the production of fine quality paper and equipment utilized to reclaim plastic which is used either as a raw material by a manufacturer or is sold to a manufacturer for use in the manufacture or fabrication of finished products.

(2) "Postconsumer waste" is only those products generated within California by a business or consumer which have served their intended end uses and would normally be disposed of as solid waste, having completed their life cycle as a consumer item.

(3) "Secondary waste" means fragments of products or finished products of a manufacturing process generated within California, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include mill broke, wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

(4) "Finished product" means a marketable product or component thereof that has an economic value to a consumer and is ready to be used without the requirement of further alteration of its form.

(5) "Base year" is the income year immediately preceding the income year for which the credit allowed by this section is claimed.

(e) The Department of Conservation shall do all of the following:

(1) Certify that the qualified property is purchased and used by the taxpayer as specified in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (d).

(2) Provide an annual listing to the Franchise Tax Board, (preferably on magnetic tape or other machine-readable form, and in a form and manner agreed upon by the Franchise Tax Board and the Department of Conservation), of the qualified taxpayers who were issued the certification.

(3) Provide the taxpayer with a copy of the certification to retain for its records.

(f) The taxpayer shall do all of the following:

(1) Provide the Department of Conservation with documents, as deemed necessary by the Department of Conservation, verifying the purchase of the qualified property and that the machinery or equipment meets the recycling requirements specified in this section.

(2) Retain for its records a copy of the certificate issued by the Department of Conservation specified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e).

(g) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," for any income year for which a credit is allowed by subdivision (c), the excess may be carried over to reduce that "tax," in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is used.

(h) If a taxpayer disposes of or no longer uses the qualified property as defined in subdivision (d), then any amount that would have been otherwise allowed as a credit for the income year of disposition or nonuse shall not be allowed.

(i) If two or more taxpayers share in the expenses eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive the tax credit in proportion to its respective share of the expenses paid or incurred. In the case of a partnership, the tax credit may be divided between the partners pursuant to a written partnership agreement in accordance with Chapter 10

(commencing with Section 17851), which includes Section 704 of the Internal Revenue Code concerning substantial economic effect, relating to a partner's distributive share.

(j) The Department of Conservation shall, no later than March 1, 1994, submit a report to the Legislature evaluating the impact of the tax expenditure in this section. The report shall include information about the number of taxpayers claiming the credit, the total dollar amount of credit allocated, and the equipment for which the credit was used. The report shall also determine to what extent, if any, the tax expenditure authorized by this section increased recycling activities in California. The Department of Conservation shall work cooperatively with the Franchise Tax Board to determine the relevant tax return data necessary to complete the report and the time the data is required. The Franchise Tax Board shall be responsible for providing the data to the Department of Conservation.

(k) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before December 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (g), until the credit has been exhausted.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative only if and at the same time as Senate Bill 432 of the 1989–90 Regular Session becomes operative.

SEC. 3. If Assembly Bill 939 of the 1989–90 Regular Session is chaptered and creates the California Integrated Waste Management Board, Section 23612.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by this act, shall be administered by that board, notwithstanding any other provision of those sections requiring administration by the Department of Conservation.

SEC. 4. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1092

An act to add Division 12.6 (commencing with Section 17000) to the Public Resources Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Division 12.6 (commencing with Section 17000) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 12.6. PAVING MATERIALS

17000. The Director of Transportation, upon consultation with the Department of Conservation, shall review and modify all bid specifications relating to the purchase of paving materials, and base, subbase, and pervious backfill materials, using recycled materials. The recycled materials shall include, but are not limited to, recycled asphalt pavement, crushed concrete subbase, foundry slag, and paving materials utilizing recycled materials, including, but not limited to, crumb rubber from automobile tires, ash, and glass and glassy aggregates. The specifications shall be based on standards developed by the department for recycled paving materials and for recycled base, subbase, and pervious backfill materials. The standards and specifications shall provide for the use of recycled materials and shall not reduce the quality standards for highway and road construction.

17001. In purchasing any materials to be used in paving or paving subbase for use by the Department of Transportation and any other state agencies which provide road construction and repair services, the State Procurement Officer shall make contracts available for those items which utilize recycled materials in paving materials and base, subbase, and pervious backfill materials, if the price of those items is competitive for the purposes intended. This section also applies to any person who contracts with the department or any other state agency to provide these construction and repair services. The recycled materials shall include, but are not limited to, recycled asphalt, crushed concrete subbase, foundry slag, and paving materials utilizing crumb rubber from automobile tires, ash, and glass and glassy aggregates. The specifications shall be based on the standards of the department for recycled paving materials and for recycled base, subbase, and pervious backfill materials.

SEC. 2. If Assembly Bill 939 of the 1989–90 Regular Session is enacted and creates the California Integrated Waste Management Board, Division 12.6 (commencing with Section 17000) of the Public Resources Code, as added by Section 1 of this act, shall be administered in consultation with that board, notwithstanding any other provision of that division requiring consultation with the Department of Conservation.

CHAPTER 1093

An act to add Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16000) to the Public Resources Code, relating to newspapers.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Recycling old newspapers saves landfill space, reduces energy consumption, and preserves timber resources. Specific benefits can be derived by separating old newspapers from solid waste and by using such old newspapers to produce new newsprint.

(b) Californians consume approximately two million tons of newsprint each year, but only one million tons of old newspapers are separated from the solid waste stream and collected for reuse. Each ton of old newspapers that is recovered saves 3.3 cubic yards of landfill space, and recycling old newspapers into new newsprint saves approximately 50 percent of the energy needed to make newsprint from virgin sources.

(c) A critical component for increasing the recycling of old newspapers is securing adequate markets for the old newspapers separated from the solid waste stream and for the finished products made from such materials.

(d) Increasing the demand for newsprint made from old newspapers will stimulate manufacturers of newsprint to use larger amounts of old newspaper in their production of newsprint.

(e) The development of markets for recycled-content papers of all types and grades is beneficial to the state, and the use of recycled-content paper should be encouraged to the maximum feasible amount.

SEC. 2. Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16000) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 12.5. NEWSPRINT

CHAPTER 1. DEFINITIONS

16000. "Consumer of newsprint" means a person who uses newsprint in a commercial printing operation or in a commercial publishing operation.

16001. "Deink" or "deinking old newspapers" means a process in which old newspaper is mixed with water, the paper fibers are separated to form a paper pulp, and the pulp is cleaned to remove contaminants.

16002. "Department" means the Department of Conservation.

16003. "Newsprint" means uncoated paper, whether supercalendered or machine finished, of the type generally used for, but is not limited to, the publication of newspapers, commercial advertising inserts, directories, or commercial advertising mailers , which is made primarily from mechanical woodpulps combined with some chemical woodpulp. "Newsprint" includes paper made from old newspapers which have been deinked, using the recycled pulp in lieu of virgin pulp. "Newsprint" includes all grades of paper sold as newsprint, supercalendered (SC) uncoated groundwood, or machine finished (MF) uncoated groundwood.

16004. "Old newspaper" or "recovered newspaper" means any newsprint which is separated from other types of solid waste or collected separately from other types of solid waste and made available for reuse in making new newsprint, and which meets quality standards for use as a raw material in the manufacture of a new paper product.

16005. "Post consumer waste paper" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item, including, but not limited to, printing plant waste paper

16006. "Recycled-content newsprint" means newsprint in which not less than 40 percent of its fiber consists of post consumer waste paper.

CHAPTER 2. RECYCLED-CONTENT NEWSPRINT PROGRAM

16050. On and after January 1, 1991, every consumer of newsprint in California shall ensure that at least 25 percent of all newsprint used by that consumer of newsprint is made from recycled-content newsprint, if recycled-content newsprint is available at a price comparable to that of newsprint made from virgin material, if the recycled-content newsprint meets the quality standards established by the department pursuant to Section 16065, and if the recycled-content newsprint is available within a reasonable period of time.

16051. The percentage of newsprint used which is made from recycled-content newsprint shall be calculated in tons used on an annual basis and shall increase to:

(a) Thirty percent on and after January 1, 1994.

(b) Thirty-five percent on and after January 1, 1996.

(c) Forty percent on and after January 1, 1998.

(d) Fifty percent on and after January 1, 2000.

16052. This division does not apply to any newsprint purchased prior to January 1, 1990.

CHAPTER 3. CERTIFICATION OF USE

16060. Each consumer of newsprint within the State of California shall, on or before March 1 of each year, certify to the department the number of tons of newsprint used during the preceding calendar year and the number of tons of recycled-content newsprint used during the preceding calendar year.

16061. Every consumer of newsprint who submits recycled-content newsprint usage certification pursuant to Section 16060 may be subject to an audit to ensure that the recycled-content newsprint was used.

16062. Each person who supplies a consumer of newsprint with newsprint shall certify the amounts of recycled-content newsprint contained in each shipment to each consumer of newsprint. If a shipment contains no recycled-content newsprint, the supplier shall so certify.

16063. If a consumer of newsprint is unable to obtain sufficient amounts of recycled-content newsprint within any reporting period because recycled-content newsprint was not available at a comparable price to that for virgin material, failed to meet the quality standards established pursuant to Section 16065, or was not available within a reasonable period of time, the consumer of newsprint shall so certify to the department and provide the department with the specific reason for failing to use recycled-content newsprint. In order to make that certification in good faith, the newsprint consumer shall have contacted, for the purpose of obtaining recycled-content newsprint, every producer of recycled-content newsprint that offered to sell recycled-content newsprint to the consumer of newsprint within the last 12 months. The name of each person contacted, the corporate name, if any, and address and telephone number shall accompany each filing with the department.

16064. For the purposes of implementing and enforcing this chapter, the department shall develop and maintain a list which identifies every consumer of newsprint, as defined in Section 16000, and every person who supplies a consumer of newsprint with newsprint, in the state. The department may use information from local business permits, trade publications, or any other relevant information to develop the list.

16065. (a) For the purposes of implementing and enforcing this chapter, the department shall set newsprint comparable quality standards for each of the grades of newsprint specified in Section 16003 to determine the comparable quality of recycled-content newsprint to virgin material. These standards shall be based on the average numerical standards of printing opacity, brightness level, and cross machine tear strength available from all producers selling recycled-content newsprint in the state in quantities of at least 5,000 metric tons per year. The department shall set standards which deviate from this average by not more than 5 percent.

(b) The department shall review its standards at least once every two years and determine whether they should be adjusted to reflect changes in industry standards and practices, and, if so, the department shall set new standards according to the criteria in subdivision (a).

16066. After January 1, 1994, the department shall conduct a survey of the paper industry to assess the availability of, quality of, and market for all recycled-content papers, including coated groundwood papers and other papers which are not newsprint. The department shall report the findings of its survey to the Legislature on or before July 1, 1994.

CHAPTER 4. FALSE CERTIFICATION

16070. If any person provides a consumer of newsprint with a false or misleading certificate concerning the recycled content of the delivered newsprint pursuant to Section 16062, the department, within 30 days of making this determination, shall refer the false or misleading certificate to the Attorney General for prosecution for fraud.

16071. If any consumer of newsprint provides the department with a false or misleading certificate concerning the percentage of recycled-content newsprint used pursuant to Section 16060, the department, within 30 days of making this determination, shall refer the false or misleading certificate to the Attorney General for prosecution for fraud.

16072. If any consumer of newsprint provides the department with a false or misleading certificate concerning why the consumer of newsprint was unable to obtain the minimum amounts of recycled-content newsprint pursuant to Section 16063, the department, within 30 days of making this determination, shall refer the false or misleading certificate to the Attorney General for prosecution for fraud

16073. Specific information on newsprint prices included as part of a certificate submitted to the department by newsprint consumers or suppliers of newsprint is propriety information and shall not be made available to the general public.

CHAPTER 5. PENALTIES

16080. (a) Any person who violates Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 16060) is guilty of an infraction punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(b) In addition to subdivision (a), any person who violates this division may be assessed a civil penalty by the department of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each violation, pursuant to notice and hearing conforming with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Any civil penalties received pursuant to this subdivision shall be deposited in a separate account in the General Fund and, upon appropriation, shall be used by the department for the administration of this division.

SEC. 3. If Assembly Bill 939 of the 1989–90 Regular Session is enacted and creates the California Integrated Waste Management and Recycling Board, Division 12.5 (commencing with Section 16000) of the Public Resources Code, as added by this act, shall be administered by that board, notwithstanding any other provision of this act specifying administration by the Department of Conservation.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend and renumber Section 10507 of, to add Sections 10233, 10308.5, 10354, 10507, 10507.5, and 12183.5 to, to add Article 8.5 (commencing with Section 10855) to Chapter 2.5 of, to add Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 12150) and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 12300) to, Part 2 of Division 2 of, and to repeal Article 7 (commencing with Section 10390) and Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 10400) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 2 of, the Public Contract Code, relating to recycling.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10233 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10233. Contractors shall certify in writing, under penalty of perjury, to the department awarding a contract under this part, the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled content, both postconsumer waste and secondary waste as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200, in materials, goods, or supplies offered or products used in the performance of the contract, regardless of whether the product meets the required recycled product percentage as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200. The contractor may certify that the product contains zero recycled content This section shall apply to all state contracts and, to the extent feasible, all federally funded contracts.

SEC. 2. Section 10308.5 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10308.5. Contractors shall certify in writing, under penalty of perjury, to the state agency awarding a contract, the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled content, both postconsumer waste and secondary waste as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200, in materials, goods, or supplies offered or products used in the performance of the contract, regardless of whether the product meets the required recycled product percentage as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200. The contractor may certify that the product contains zero recycled content. This section shall apply to all state contracts and, to the extent feasible, all federally funded contracts.

SEC. 3. Section 10354 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10354. Contractors shall certify in writing, under penalty of perjury, to the state agency awarding a contract, the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled content, both postconsumer waste and secondary waste as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200, in materials, goods, or supplies offered or products used in the performance of the contract, regardless of whether the product meets the required recycled product percentage as defined in Sections 12161 and 12200. The contractor may certify that the product contains zero recycled content. This section shall apply to all state contracts and, to the extent feasible, all federally funded contracts.

SEC. 4. Article 7 (commencing with Section 10390) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 10400) of Chapter 2 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 10507 of the Public Contract Code is amended and renumbered to read:

10507.7. Except as provided for in this article, the Regents of the University of California shall let all contracts involving an expenditure of more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) annually for goods and materials to be sold to the University of California to the lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications, or else reject all bids. Contracts for services to be performed, other than personal or professional services, involving an expenditure of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or more annually shall be made or entered into with the lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications, or else all bids shall be rejected. If the regents deem it to be for the best interest of the university, the regents may, on the refusal or failure of the successful bidder for materials, goods, or services to execute a tendered contract, award it to the second lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications. If the second lowest responsible bidder fails or refuses to execute the contract, the regents may likewise award it to the third lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications.

SEC. 7. Section 10507 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10507. For the purpose of this article, "recycled paper" means all paper and woodpulp products containing postconsumer waste and secondary waste materials as defined in this section. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Secondary waste" means fragments of products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include fibrous waste generated during the manufacturing process such as fibers recovered from waste water or trimmings of paper machine rolls (mill broke), wood slabs, chips, sawdust or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

"Recycled paper" means a paper product with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

SEC. 8. Section 10507.5 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10507.5. It is the intent of the Legislature to encourage the procurement of recycled paper products by the University of California by developing guidelines to encourage the procurement of recycled paper products where suitable for the uses intended and where the quality is equal and the price is equal or less than nonrecycled paper products. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the regents report annually to the Legislature, the Governor, and the California Waste Management Board commencing January 1, 1991, on the percentage of the total dollar amount of recycled paper products purchased or procured under this article.

SEC. 8.5. Section 12183.5 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

12183.5. The California Waste Management Board shall conduct with each state department and agency which purchases co-compost or compost products, regular fertilizer, or soil amendment products, including those state departments specified in Section 12183, testing of co-compost products produced at testing sites selected by the California Waste Management Board to determine whether the products meet the requirements specified in Sections 12181 and 12182 and any applicable state standards and regulations determined pursuant to Section 12183.

On or before January 1, 1989, the Legislative Analyst shall evaluate the results of the tests required by this section and report its findings to the Legislature as an interim report. The final report is due on January 1, 1990. The private contractor shall provide the necessary products by January 1, 1989. If the products are delayed, the report deadline shall be delayed by the same amount of time.

The private contractor which constructs and operates the co-compost facility on the permanent site selected by the City of Los Angeles shall agree to provide the necessary co-compost products and agree in advance to pay with nonstate funds an amount to the California Waste Management Board and each state department or agency for any costs that the department or agency incurs in testing products pursuant to this section and shall pay the Legislative Analyst for costs incurred in evaluating test results.

SEC. 9. Article 8.5 (commencing with Section 10855) is added to Chapter 2.5 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

Article 8.5. Recycled Paper

10855. For the purpose of this article, "recycled paper product" means all paper and woodpulp products containing postconsumer waste and secondary waste materials as defined in this section. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Secondary waste" means fragments of products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include fibrous waste generated during the manufacturing process such as fibers recovered from waste water or trimmings of paper machine rolls (mill broke), wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

"Recycled paper product" means a paper product with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

10860. (a) The trustees shall revise the procedures and specifications for purchases of paper products to give preference, wherever feasible, to the purchase of paper products containing recycled paper products pursuant to Section 10855.

(b) The trustees shall give purchase preference to recycled paper products when both of the following apply:

(1) The products can be substituted for, and cost no more than, nonrecycled paper products.

(2) The products meet all applicable standards and regulations.

(c) To encourage the use of postconsumer waste, the trustees' specifications shall require recycled paper product contracts to be awarded to the bidder whose paper product contains the greater percentage of postconsumer waste if the fitness and quality and price meet the requirements in Sections 10855 and 10860.

(d) The trustees shall set the following goals for the purchasing of recycled paper products:

(1) By January 1, 1992, at least 35 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the trustees shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(2) By January 1, 1994, at least 40 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the trustees shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(3) By January 1, 1996, at least 50 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the trustees shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

If at any time a goal has not been met, the trustees and the Department of General Services, in consultation with the California Waste Management Board, shall review procurement policies and shall make recommendations for immediate revisions to ensure that each goal is met. Revisions include, but are not limited to, providing a purchasing preference and altering the goals. The trustees and the Department of General Services, in consultation with the board, shall present its conclusions and recommendations on these revisions of procurement policies to the Legislature and the Governor in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225.

SEC. 10. Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 12150) is added to Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

CHAPTER 4. STATE ASSISTANCE FOR RECYCLING MARKETS

Article 1. General Provisions

12150. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the State Assistance for Recycling (STAR) Markets Act of 1989.

12153. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) It is the policy of the state to conserve and protect resources for future citizens as well as the current people of the state.

(b) It is in the best interest that the state alter its perception of solid waste to instead look upon this waste as resources which can be recovered and reused.

(c) It is in the best interest of reducing the increasing burden on communities disposing of the state's solid waste for the state to take a role in developing an integrated state solid waste management policy, which includes source reduction, recycling, composting, market development, incineration, and landfills. Since recycling is a necessary component, the state shall encourage the use of recycled products to ensure that the state's industries have sufficient and adequate markets for products regeneratively utilizing the state's solid waste as recycled resources.

(d) It is the policy of the state to encourage the expansion of businesses located in California and, to whatever extent possible, to look favorably on California businesses in the recycling industry, which includes, but is not limited to, those California businesses that manufacture, distribute, or act as brokers for recycled products.

(e) Market development is the key to moving beyond the uneven collection of recyclable materials to stable resource recovery and reuse. Because of existing local collection programs, significant quantities of recycled resources such as the following are today available for purchase: fine grades of paper, high-quality paper products, plastics, retreaded automobile tires, rerefined lubricating oil, reused automotive parts, reclaimed solvents, recycled asphalt, recycled concrete, carpet or geotextiles composed of recycled plastics, and compost and co-compost products.

(f) In making these findings, the Legislature declares that the policy and intent of this chapter is to set an example for the state and nation to encouarge the purchase of products utilizing recycled resources.

(g) It is the intent of the Legislature, whenever economically feasible and as markets allow, to continually expand the policies of the state to utilize recycled resources in the daily operations of the state. This includes, but is not limited to, the procurement and purchase of recycled materials, the use of recycled resources in the performance of a service or project for the state, the purchase of equipment used for the collection and sale of waste materials generated by the state.

(h) It is the intent of the Legislature that the Department of General Services work with all state departments, agencies, the Legislature, the California Waste Management Board, and the Department of Conservation to draft, establish, and implement policies which ensure the procurement and use of recycled resources.

(i) It is also the intent of the Legislature to encourage local public agencies and private companies to adopt policies to maximize the use of recycled resources.

12155. As used in this chapter, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Department" means the Department of General Services.

(b) "Director" means the Director of General Services.

(c) "Procuring agency" means the Department of General Services and any other state department or agency having delegated procurement authority granted pursuant to Section 10333 with an annual total dollar limit above one million dollars ($1,000,000) as prescribed by the Office of Procurement within the Department of General Services.

(d) "Board" means the California Waste Management Board, as defined pursuant to Section 66740 of the Government Code.

12157. This chapter applies to the procurement and purchase of the following materials, goods, and supplies, or products containing the following recycled resources and meeting the specified recycled content requirements pursuant to Section 12161, 12181, 12182, or 12200, whichever is applicable:

(a) Recycled paper products, which include, but are not limited to, fine grades of paper, corrugated boxes, newsprint, tissue, and toweling.

(b) Compost and co-compost products.

(c) Glass.

(d) Oil.

(e) Plastic.

(f) Solvents and paint, including water-based paint.

(g) Tires.

12158. This chapter does not apply to the procurement and purchase of asphalt concrete and portland cement concrete pavement.

Article 2. Recycled Paper Products

12160. The Legislature finds and declares that it is the policy of the state to conserve and protect its resources. The maintenance of a quality environment for the people of this state now and in the future is a matter of statewide concern.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the volume of solid waste generated within the state coupled with an increased rate in the consumption of paper products and the absence of adequate programs and procedures for the reuse of these materials threaten the quality of the environment and well-being of the people of California.

In making these findings, the Legislature declares that the policy and intent of this article is to improve environmental quality by the recycling of paper products.

12161. For the purpose of this article, "recycled paper product" means all paper and woodpulp products containing postconsumer waste and secondary waste materials, as defined in this section. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Secondary waste" means fragments of finished products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include fibrous waste generated during the manfacturing process such as fibers recovered from waste water or trimmings of paper machine rolls (mill broke), wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

"Recycled paper product" means a paper product with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

12162. (a) The department, in consultation with the board, shall revise its procedures and specifications for state purchases of paper products to give preference, wherever feasible, to the purchase of paper products containing recycled paper products as defined pursuant to Section 12161.

(b) The department shall give a preference to the suppliers of recycled paper products as defined pursuant to Section 12161. This preference shall be up to 5 percent of the lowest bid or price quoted by suppliers offering nonrecycled paper products.

In bids in which the state has reserved the right to make multiple awards, the recycled paper preference cost shall be applied, to the extent possible, so as to maximize the dollar participation of recycled business in the contract award.

(c) The combined dollar amount of preference granted pursuant to this section and any other provision of law shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(d) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), and subdivision (a) of Section 12168, the recycled paper bidder preference shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if a preference exceeding that amount would preclude an award to a small business that offers nonrecycled paper products and is qualified in accordance with Section 14838 of the Government Code. This subdivision shall apply only when the small business is the lowest responsible bidder or is eligible for contract award on the basis of application of the 5 percent small business preference.

(e) To encourage the use of postconsumer waste, the department's specifications shall require recycled paper product contracts to be awarded to the bidder whose paper product contains the greater percentage of postconsumer waste if the fitness and quality and price meet the requirements in Sections 12161 and 12162.

(f) The department shall set the following goals for the purchasing of recycled paper products:

(1) By January 1, 1992, at least 35 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the department shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(2) By January 1, 1994, at least 40 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the department shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(3) By January 1, 1996, at least 50 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the department shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(g) Procuring agencies shall report to the department on their progress in meeting the goals and shall submit to the department a detailed plan to meet the goals. The department shall develop a uniform reporting procedure by which procuring agencies shall abide If at any time a goal has not been met, the department, in consultation with the board, shall review procurement policies and shall make recommendations for immediate revisions to ensure that each goal is met. Revisions include, but are not limited to, raising the purchasing preference and altering the goals for all or each recycled product. The department, in consultation with the board, shall present its conclusions and recommendations on these revisions of procurement policies to the Legislature in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225

12162.5. All state agencies may, at the discretion of the individual agency director, print a symbol on paper products selected by the agency director. This symbol shall be determined by the department, in consultation with the board, and shall be similar to the following: "Printed on Recycled Paper." This symbol shall be printed only on paper products meeting the definition of recycled paper products in Section 12161.

12163. (a) The director, in consultation with the board, shall review the procurement specifications currently used by the department in order to eliminate, wherever economically feasible, discrimination against the procurement of recycled paper products.

(b) The director, in consultation with the board, shall review the recycled paper product specifications at least annually to consider increasing the percentage of recycled paper product in paper and woodpulp product purchases. The director shall include his or her conclusions and recommendations in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225.

(c) When contracting with the department for the sale of material subject to this article, the contractor shall certify in writing to the contracting officer or his or her representative that the material offered contains the minimum percentage of recycled paper required by Section 12161 and shall specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of secondary and postconsumer waste in the paper products. The certification shall be furnished under penalty of perjury.

(d) The department, in consultation with the board, shall establish purchasing practices which, to the maximum extent economically feasible, assure purchase of materials which may be recycled or reused when discarded.

(e) The department shall make every effort to eliminate purchases of paper products deemed potential contaminants to the state's recycling program pursuant to Section 12165.

12164. The department shall require the persons with whom it contracts to use, to the maximum extent economically feasible in the performance of the contract work, recycled paper products.

12164.5. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that for the current state waste paper collection program, the department, in consultation with the California Waste Management Board, shall provide participating locations with public information awareness and training to state and legislative employees. Additionally, the department, in consultation with the California Waste Management Board, shall provide training for personnel, including but not limited to, state and buildings and grounds personnel, responsible for the collection of waste materials. This training shall include, but is not limited to, educating and training the personnel concerning the separation and collection of recyclable materials.

(b) It is also the intent of the Legislature that the department continue the current state waste paper collection program and use this program as a model to develop a plan for other waste materials generated by state and legislative employees.

(c) It is also the intent of the Legislature that the department, in consultation with the California Waste Management Board, shall submit a new recycling plan, which includes but is not limited to, the collection and sale of waste materials generated by state and legislative employees. This plan shall be submitted to the appropriate legislative policy committees on or before August 31, 1990. The plan may be phased in utilizing those office facilities and collecting those waste materials most conducive to operation of a source separation program, but shall be fully implemented by June 1, 1991.

12165. (a) After implementing a recycling plan pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 12164.5, the department, with the advice of the board, shall establish, implement, and maintain a recycling plan for the Legislature, which may include all legislative offices and individual members' district offices; all state offices whether in state-owned buildings or leased facilities in Sacramento, Los Angeles, and San Francisco Counties; and in any other areas as the director deems feasible. The plan shall include the provisions for the recycling of office paper, corrugated cardboard, newsprint, beverage containers (as defined in Section 14503 of the Public Resources Code), waste oil, and any other material at the discretion of the director, in consultation with the board.

(b) The collection program for each product and each location shall be reevaluated by the director on or before January 1, 1994. Subsequently, the director, in consultation with the board, upon the determination that inclusion of any particular material type would result in a net revenue loss to the state, shall have the discretion to exclude that material from the program, and shall report his or her conclusions and recommendations to the Legislature in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225. In determining the net revenue loss for the collection of a specified waste material, the director, in consultation with the board shall include the avoided cost to dispose of the waste material. The plan shall provide either for the collection and sale of materials to private brokers, recycling plants, or nonprofit organizations, or the operation of these entities by the state, or a combination thereof. The plan shall be implemented at the earliest possible date.

(c) The department, in consultation with the board, shall provide participating locations with public awareness information and training to state and legislative employees, including, but not limited to, the proper separation and disposal of recyclable resources. Additionally, the department, in consultation with the board, shall provide training for personnel, including, but not limited to, state buildings and grounds personnel, responsible for the collection of waste materials. This training shall include, but is not limited to, educating and training the personnel concerning the separation and collection of recyclable materials.

(d) No individual, group of individuals, state office, agency, or its employees shall establish a similar collection program or enter into agreement for a similar program unless approved by the director.

12166. The department may contract as necessary for the recycling of products which have been returned pursuant to Section 12165.

12167. Revenues received from this plan or any other activity involving the collection and sale of recyclable materials in state and legislative offices located in state-owned and state-leased buildings, such as the sale of waste materials through recycling programs operated by the department or in agreement with the department, shall be used in accordance with the following priorities, when appropriated by the Legislature:

(a) To offset recycling program costs.

(b) To reduce increased charges for recycled paper products furnished to the Legislature, state departments, and agencies by the department and increased charges for recycled paper products acquired to the California State University, due to the preference which must be given the suppliers of recycled paper pursuant to Section 12162.

(c) Any remaining revenues not expended during a fiscal year shall be transferred to the General Fund.

12168. (a) Fitness and quality being equal, all local and state public agencies shall purchase recycled paper products instead of nonrecycled paper products whenever available at no more than the total cost of nonrecycled paper products. All local public agencies may give preference to the suppliers of recycled paper products. All local public agencies may define the amount of this preference.

In bids in which the state has reserved the right to make multiple awards, the recycled paper preference cost shall be applied, to the extent possible, so as to maximize the dollar participation of firms offering recycled paper in the contract award.

(b) The combined dollar amount of preferences granted pursuant to this section and any other provisions of law shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), and subdivision (b) of Section 12162, the recycled paper bidder preference shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) if a preference exceeding that amount would preclude an award to a small business that offers nonrecycled paper products and is qualified in accordance with Section 14838 of the Government Code. This provision shall apply only when the small business is the lowest responsible bidder or is eligible for contract award on the basis of application of the 5-percent business preference.

12169. All local public agencies shall require the bidder to specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled paper product in the paper products, and both the postconsumer and secondary waste content regardless of whether the paper product meets the percentage of recycled paper product required pursuant to Section 12161. The contractor may certify zero recycled product. All contract provisions impeding the consideration of products with reclaimed paper content shall be deleted in favor of performance standards.

All printing contracts made by any local agency shall provide that the paper used shall meet the requirements of these provisions.

Except as otherwise provided in this article, state agencies shall also be subject to this section.

Article 3. Compost and Co-compost Products

12180. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that it is the policy of the state to encourage the use of marketable end products which are produced as a result of superior waste management by counties, cities, and local agencies.

The Legislature further finds and declares that it is in the public interest to provide special consideration for the state purchase of co-compost and compost products because these products substantially reduce the need for solid waste disposal facilities, such as landfills, and will assist the state in providing new alternatives for the alarming decrease in available solid waste disposal facilities, such as landfills.

12181. For purposes of this article, "co-compost product" means an end product which meets all of the following requirements:

(a) It is derived from a blending of materials, of which at least 80 percent, whenever possible, is household refuse and the remainder is sewage sludge or other comparable substitutes, including, but not limited to, nontoxic dairy wastes, livestock and horse manure, or fish wastes.

(b) It is usable.

(c) It is produced by the waste management facilities of counties, cities, or local agencies, or of private entities.

12182. For purposes of this article, "compost product" means an end product which meets all of the following requirements:

(a) It is derived from the controlled biological decomposition of a blend of organic wastes, including, but not limited to, wood byproducts, plant waste, yard refuse, or sewage sludge.

(b) It is usable.

(c) It is produced by the waste management facilities of counties, cities, or local agencies, or of private entities.

12183. (a) All state departments and agencies, including, but not limited to, the Department of Transportation, the Department of Water Resources, the Department of Foresty, and the Department of Parks and Recreation, shall give purchase preference to compost and co-compost products when they can be substituted for, and cost no more than, the cost of regular fertilizer or soil amendment products, or both, if the co-compost products meet all applicable state standards and regulations, as determined by appropriate testing. The product preference shall include, but not be limited to, the construction of noise attenuation barriers and safety walls, highway planting projects, and recultivation and erosion control programs.

12184. It is the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this article, that the revenues derived from the state purchase of co-compost products will be used by counties, cities, and local agencies to offset the costs of construction, operation, and maintenance of co-compost waste disposal facilities.

12185. All state departments and agencies procuring compost and co-compost products in procurement, service, or construction contracts shall report to the department their purchasing activities, including, but not limited to, total contracting dollars, volume, and number of contracts. The department shall design an appropriate and uniform reporting mechanism which shall be made available to all state agencies.

Article 4. Recycled Materials, Goods, and Supplies

12200. For the purpose of this article:

(a) "Recycled product" means all materials, goods, and supplies, no less than 50 percent of the total weight of which consists of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste. A recycled product shall include any product which could have been disposed of as solid waste having completed its life cycle as a consumer item, but otherwise is refurbished for reuse without substantial alteration of its form.

(b) "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would have been disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item, and does not include manufacturing wastes.

(c) "Secondary waste" means fragments of finished products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include excess virgin resources of the manufacturing process.

12205. (a) Procuring agencies purchasing materials, goods, and supplies, shall require all contractors to certify in writing to the contracting officer, or his or her representative, whether the material, good, or supply offered contains the minimum percentage of recycled product required by subdivision (a) of Section 12200. The contractor shall specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled product in the product, both the secondary and postconsumer waste content. This certification shall be furnished under penalty of perjury

(b) The department, in consultation with the board, shall review and revise the procurement specifications currently used by procuring agencies in order to eliminate discrimination against the procurement or purchase of recycled products whenever quality of a recycled product is functionally equal to the same product manufactured with virgin resources In determining procurement specifications by procuring agencies, with the exception of any specifications which have been established to preserve the public health and safety, all state procurement and purchasing specifications shall be established in a manner which results in the maximum state procurement and purchase of recycled products.

(c) Procuring agencies shall establish purchasing practices which assure, to the maximum extent economically feasible, purchase of materials, goods, and supplies which may be recycled or reused when discarded.

(d) Procuring agencies procuring or purchasing materials, goods, or supplies shall give a purchasing preference to recycled products when all of the following apply:

(1) The product meets applicable standards.

(2) The product can be substituted for a comparable nonrecycled product.

(3) The product costs no more than a comparable nonrecycled product.

(e) The department shall set the following goals for purchases made by procuring agencies:

(1) By January 1, 1991, at least 10 percent of state purchases are of recycled products.

(2) By January 1, 1993, at least 20 percent of state purchases are of recycled products.

(3) By January 1, 1995, at least 40 percent of state purchases are of recycled products.

(4) The goals specified in this subdivision shall be applied to the purchases of procuring agencies of the products listed in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of Section 12157 and shall be applied to the total dollar amount of the combined purchases of those products.

(f) The combined purchases of the procuring agencies shall meet each specified goal for each specified product category as defined in subdivisions (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of Section 12157. If at any time a goal has not been met, the department in consultation with the board, shall review procurement policies of procuring agencies and shall make recommendations for immediate revisions to ensure that each goal is met. Revisions include, but are not limited to, providing a purchasing preference and altering the goals for all or each recycled product. The department, in consultation with the board, shall present its conclusions and recommendations on these revisions of procurement policies to the Legislature in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225.

12210. (a) Fitness and quality being equal, all local and state public agencies shall purchase recycled products instead of nonrecycled products whenever available at no more than the total cost of nonrecycled products. All local public agencies may give preference to the suppliers of recycled products. All local public agencies may determine the amount of this preference.

12213. All local public agencies shall require the bidder to specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled product in the products offered, both the postconsumer and secondary waste content regardless of whether the product meets the percentage of recycled product required pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 12200. All contract provisions impeding the consideration of products with recycled product shall be deleted in favor of performance standards.

Except as otherwise provided in this article, state agencies are also subject to this section.

12225. On or before August 31, 1991, and every year thereafter, the department, in consultation with the board, shall prepare a report to the Legislature describing the purchase and procurement of products purchased by the state before and after January 1, 1990.

The report shall detail as much as possible, the amount of recycled products utilized by state contractors before and after the enactment of this chapter. The report shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Listed by department, the total dollar amounts, volume, and number of contracts of individual products purchased by the department and any other agency having delegated procurement authority pursuant to Section 10333.

(b) Total dollar amounts, volume, and number of contracts of each product purchased by the state, which includes the Legislature, the California State University, and the University of California systems.

(c) A list of individual recycled products purchased pursuant to Sections 10507.5 and 10860, inclusive, this chapter and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 12300).

(d) The total dollar amounts, volume, and number of contracts of individual products, whether recycled or nonrecycled, purchased by the state.

(e) The total dollar amounts, volume, and number of contracts of recycled products including recycled paper and compost products purchased pursuant to Sections 10507.5 and 10860, inclusive, this chapter, and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 12300).

(f) The total dollar amount and volume of compost and co-compost products utilized by the state pursuant to Section 12183 or any other state or local program.

(g) For recycled paper products purchased by procuring agencies, the total number of contracts, dollar amounts, and volume of those contracts that were eligible for the preference pursuant to Section 12162.

(h) For each recycled product, including recycled paper and compost products, the total dollar amounts, volume, and number of contracts that were eligible a preference or a combination thereof pursuant to Sections 4533, 7095, and 14838 of the Government Code.

(i) Total number of bids for each product listed in Section 12157, whether or not a contract was awarded the bid.

(j) The range of dollar amounts for bids on procurement contracts which include, but is not limited to, contracts for the procurement of individual recycled products listed in Section 12157.

(k) For each waste material, total revenue dollars and volume generated from the state waste materials collection program pursuant to Section 12165.

(l) Recommendations to the Legislature as to revisions of the percentage amounts contained in the secondary waste and postconsumer waste definitions for individual products which will result in greater procurement of recycled products composed of recycled resources that would otherwise be disposed of as solid waste in the state's disposal facilities.

(m) Recommendations on specific products available containing secondary postconsumer waste which are procured by the state, used in the performance of a service or project for the state, and used in state construction contracts.

These products shall be recommended as candidates for the application of the recycled paper product preference described in Section 12162.

(n) The California Waste Management Board, in consultation with the department, shall identify those products purchased in either large volumes or high dollar amounts by the state which are available as a recycled product. The board shall include this list in the department's annual report and shall revise this list as products purchased by the state become feasibly available in recycled form.

12226. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that the state pursue all feasible measures to improve markets for recycled products including, but not limited to, procurement preferences for purchases made by the state.

(b) Not later than March 1, 1990, the board shall submit to the Legislature a report concerning the state's role in market development for recycling. The report shall address the need for and effectiveness of procurement preferences for the state purchase of recycled goods and materials. The report shall include, but not be limited to, an analysis of the role procurement preferences can play in encouraging recycling and expanding the markets for recycled goods and materials.

SEC. 11. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 12300) is added to Part 2 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code, to read:

CHAPTER 5. RECYCLED PRODUCT PROCUREMENT BY THE LEGISLATURE

Article 1. General Provisions

12300. Unless otherwise provided, this chapter shall apply to all purchases made on behalf of the Legislature, whether made by the Senate Committee on Rules, the Assembly Committee on Rules, the Joint Rules Committee, or any other agency of the Legislature.

12301. The following definitions govern the interpretation of this chapter:

(a) "Department" means the Department of General Services.

(b) "Board" means the California Waste Management Board, as defined pursuant to Section 66740 of the Government Code.

(c) "Recycled paper product" means all paper and woodpulp products containing postconsumer waste and secondary waste materials. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Secondary waste" means fragments of finished products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include fibrous waste generated during the manufacturing process such as fibers recovered from waste water or trimmings of paper machine rolls (mill broke), wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process. "Recycled paper product" means a paper product with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

(d) "Recycled product" means all materials, goods, and supplies, no less than 50 percent of the total weight of which consists of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste. A recycled product shall include any product which could have been disposed of as solid waste having completed its life cycle as a consumer item, but otherwise is refurbished for reuse without substantial alteration of its form. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would have been disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item, and does not include manufacturing wastes. "Secondary waste" means fragments of finished products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include excess virgin resources of the manufacturing process.

12305. This chapter applies to the procurement and purchase of the following materials, goods, and supplies, or products containing the following recycled resources, and meeting the specified content requirements pursuant to either subdivision (c) or (d) of Section 12301, whichever is applicable:

(a) Paper products which include, but are not limited to, fine grades of paper, corrugated boxes, newsprint, tissue, and toweling.

(b) Glass.

(c) Oil.

(d) Plastic.

(e) Solvents and paint, including water-based paint.

(f) Tires.

12306. This chapter does not apply to the procurement and purchase of asphalt concrete and portland cement concrete pavement.

Article 2. Recycled Paper Products

12310. (a) The Legislature shall revise its procedures and specifications for purchases of paper products to give preference, wherever feasible, to the purchase of paper products containing recycled paper product.

(b) The Legislature shall give purchase preference to recycled paper products when both of the following apply:

(1) The products can be substituted for, and cost no more than, nonrecycled paper products.

(2) The products meet all applicable standards and regulations.

(c) The Legislature shall set the following goals for the purchase of recycled paper products:

(1) By January 1, 1992, at least 35 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the Legislature shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(2) By January 1, 1994, at least 40 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the Legislature shall be purchased as a recycled paper product.

(3) By January 1, 1996, at least 50 percent of the total dollar amount of paper products purchased or procured by the Legislature shall be purchased as a recycled paper product. Each specified goal shall be met for paper products. If at any time a goal has not been met, the Legislature and the department, in consultation with the board, shall review procurement policies of the Legislature and shall make recommendations for immediate revisions to ensure that each goal is met. Revisions include, but are not limited to, raising the purchasing preference and altering the goals for all or each recycled product. The department, in consultation with the board, shall present its conclusions and recommendations on these revisions of procurement policies to the Legislature in the department's biennial report pursuant to Section 12225.

(d) To encourage the use of postconsumer waste, the Legislature's specifications shall require recycled paper product contracts to be awarded to the bidder whose paper contains the greater percentage of postconsumer waste if the fitness and quality and price meet the requirements of subdivision (c) of Section 12301 and of Section 12310.

(e) When contracting with the Legislature for the sale of recycled paper products, the contactor shall certify in writing to the contracting officer or his or her representative, that the recycled paper products offered contains the minimum percentage of waste materials required by subdivision (c) of Section 12301. The contractor shall specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled product in the paper product, both the secondary and postconsumer waste content. This certification shall be furnished under penalty of perjury.

(f) The Legislature may, in consultation with the board, print a symbol on paper products selected by the Legislature. The symbol shall be similar to the following: Printed on recycled paper. This symbol shall be printed only on paper products meeting the definition of recycled paper products in Section 12301.

Article 3. Recycled Materials, Goods, and Supplies

12320. (a) The Legislature shall require contractors to certify in writing to the contracting officer, or his or her representative, whether the materials, goods, or supplies offered contain the minimum percentage of recycled product required by subdivision (d) of Section 12301. The contractor shall specify the minimum, if not exact, percentage of recycled product in the product, both the secondary and postconsumer waste content. This certification shall be furnished under penalty of perjury.

(b) The Legislature, in consultation with the department and the board, shall review and revise the procurement specifications currently used by the Legislature in order to eliminate discrimination against the procurement or purchase of recycled products whenever quality of a recycled product is reasonably equal to the same product manufactured with virgin resources. In determining procurement specifications, with the exception of any specifications which have been established to preserve the public health and safety, all legislative procurement and purchasing specifications shall be established in a manner which results in the maximum legislative procurement and purchase of recycled products.

(c) The Legislature, in consultation with the board, shall establish purchasing practices which assure, to the maximum extent feasible, the purchase of materials, goods, and supplies which may be recycled or reused when discarded.

(d) The Legislature shall give purchase preference to recycled products when all of the following apply:

(1) The product meets applicable standards.

(2) The product can be substituted for a comparable nonrecycled product.

(3) The product costs no more than a comparable nonrecycled product.

(e) To encourage the use of postconsumer waste, the Legislature's specifications shall require recycled product contracts to be awarded to the bidder whose product contains the greater percentage of postconsumer waste if the fitness and quality and price meet the requirements in subdivision (d) of Section 12301 and Section 12310.

(f) The Legislature shall set the following goals for purchases made by the Legislature or any individual or group of individuals purchasing on behalf of the Legislature:

(1) By January 1, 1991, at least 10 percent of legislative purchases are of recycled products.

(2) By January 1, 1993, at least 20 percent of legislative purchases are of recycled products.

(3) By January 1, 1995, at least 40 percent of legislative purchases are of recycled products.

(4) The goals specified in this subdivision shall be applied to the purchase by the Legislature of products described in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of Section 12305 and shall be applied to the total dollar amount of the combined purchases of those products.

Each specified goal shall be met for each product listed pursuant to Section 12305. If at any time a goal has not been met, the Legislature and the department, in consultation with the board, shall review procurement policies of the Legislature and shall make recommendations for immediate revisions to ensure that each goal is met. Revisions include, but are not limited to, raising the purchasing preference and altering the goals for all or each recycled product. The department, in consultation with the board, shall present its conclusions and recommendations on these revisions of procurement policies to the Legislature in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 12225.

SEC. 12. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1095

An act to amend Section 11553 of, and to repeal Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 66700) of, Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 66770) of, Article 1 (commencing with Section 66795), Article 2 (commencing with Section 66796.30), Article 3 (commencing with Section 66796.45), Article 4 (commencing with Section 66796.50), Article 5 (commencing with Section 66796.55), Article 6 (commencing with Section 66796.64), Article 7 (commencing with Section 66796.70), Article 8 (commencing with Section 66796.80), and Article 9 (commencing with Section 66798) of, Chapter 3 of, and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 66799) of, Title 7.3 of, the Government Code, to repeal Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 4100), Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 4170), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4200), Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 4250), Chapter 2.6 (commencing with Section 4260), Chapter 2.7 (commencing with Section 4270), and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 4300) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code, and to add Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000) to, and to repeal Section 46811 of, the Public Resources Code, and to amend Sections 45002, 45009, 45051, 45101, 45151, 45855, 45901, 45981, and 45982 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11553 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11553. Effective July 1, 1984, an annual salary of sixty-five thousand dollars ($65,000) will be paid to each of the following:

(a) Chairperson of the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board.

(b) Chairperson of the Agricultural Labor Relations Board.

(c) President of the Public Utilities Commission.

(d) Chairperson of the Fair Political Practices Commission.

(e) Chairperson of the Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission.

(f) Chairperson of the Public Employment Relations Board.

(g) Chairperson of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

(h) Administrative Director of the Division of Industrial Accidents.

(i) Chairperson of the State Water Resources Control Board.

(j) Member of the California Integrated Waste Management and Recycling Board.

On July 1, the annual compensation provided by this section shall be increased in any fiscal year in which a cost-of-living increase is provided for state employees. The amount of the increase provided by this section shall be determined by multiplying the then current compensation by the percentage of the general cost-of-living salary increases provided for state employees during that fiscal year.

SEC. 3. Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 66700) of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 66770) of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 5 Article 1 (commencing with Section 66795) of Chapter 3 of Title 7 3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Article 2 (commencing with Section 66796 30) of Chapter 3 of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Article 3 (commencing with Section 66796.45) of Chapter 3 of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC 8. Article 4 (commencing with Section 66796.50) of Chapter 3 of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Article 5 (commencing with Section 66796.55) of Chapter 3 of Title 7.3 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 16. Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 4170) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC 17. Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 4200) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 18. Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 4250) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 19. Chapter 2.6 (commencing with Section 4260) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 20. Chapter 2.7 (commencing with Section 4270) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 4300) of Part 2 of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 30. WASTE MANAGEMENT

PART 1. INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Findings and Declarations

40000. The Legislature hereby finds and declares, as follows:

(a) In 1988, Californians disposed of over 38 million tons of solid waste, an amount which is expected to grow if existing solid waste policies are continued. This amounts to more than 2,500 pounds of waste per person living in the state, more than any other state in the country and over twice the per-capita rate of most other industrialized counties.

(b) Over 90 percent of California's solid waste currently is disposed of in landfills, some of which pose a threat to groundwater, air quality, and public health.

(c) While California will exhaust most of its remaining landfill space by the mid-1990's, there presently is no coherent state policy to ensure that the state's solid waste is managed in an effective and environmentally sound manner for the remainder of the 20th century and beyond.

(d) The amount of solid waste generated in the state coupled with diminishing landfill space and potential adverse environmental impacts from landfilling constitutes an urgent need for state and local agencies to enact and implement an aggressive new integrated waste management program.

40001. The Legislature declares that the responsibility for solid waste management is a shared responsibility between the state and local governments. The state shall exercise its legal authority in a manner that ensures an effective and coordinated approach to the safe management of all solid waste generated within the state and shall oversee the design and implementation of local integrated waste management plans.

40002. As an essential part of the state's comprehensive program for solid waste management, and for the preservation of health and safety, and the well-being of the public, the Legislature declares that it is in the public interest for the state, as sovereign, to authorize and require local agencies, as subdivisions of the state, to make adequate provision for solid waste handling, both within their respective jurisdictions and in response to regional needs consistent with the policies, standards, and requirements of this division and all regulations adopted pursuant to this division. The provisions of this division which authorize and require local agencies to provide adequate solid waste handling and services, and the actions of local agencies taken pursuant thereto, are intended to implement this state policy.

40003. Nothing in this division abrogates, limits, or otherwise affects the duties of the Department of Conservation under the California Beverage Container Recycling and Litter Reduction Act, Division 12.1 (commencing with Section 14500).

Article 2. General Provisions

40050. This division shall be known and may be cited as the California Integrated Waste Management Act of 1989.

40051. In implementing this division, the board and local agencies shall do both of the following:

(a) Promote the following waste management practices in order of priority:

(1) Source reduction.

(2) Recycling and composting.

(3) Environmentally safe transformation and environmentally safe land disposal, at the discretion of the city or county.

(b) Maximize the use of all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting options in order to reduce the amount of solid waste that must be disposed of by transformation and land disposal. For wastes that cannot feasibly be reduced at their source, recycled, or composted, the local agency may use environmentally safe transformation or environmentally safe land disposal, or both of those practices.

40052. The purpose of this division is to reduce, recycle, and reuse solid waste generated in the state to the maximum extent feasible, to improve regulation of existing solid waste landfills, to ensure that new solid waste landfills are environmentally sound, to streamline permitting procedures for solid waste management facilities, and to specify the responsibilities of local governments to develop and implement integrated waste management programs.

40053. This division, or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is not a limitation on the power of a city, county, or district to impose and enforce reasonable land use conditions or restrictions on solid waste management facilities in order to prevent or mitigate potential nuisances, if the conditions or restrictions do not conflict with or impose lesser requirements than the policies, standards, and requirements of this division and all regulations adopted pursuant to this division.

40054. This division, or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is not a limitation on the power of the Attorney General, on the request of the board, the state water board, a regional water board, or upon his or her own motion, to bring an action in the name of the people of the State of California to enjoin any health hazard, pollution, or nuisance.

40055. (a) This division, or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is not a limitation on the power of any state agency in the enforcement or administration of any provision of law which it is specifically authorized or required to enforce or administer, including, but not limited to, the exercise by the state water board or the regional water boards of any of their powers and duties pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code, the exercise by the State Department of Health Services of any of its powers and duties pursuant to Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, and the exercise by the State Air Resources Board or any air pollution control district or air quality management district of any of its powers and duties pursuant to Part 3 (commencing with Section 40000) of Division 26 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The exercise of authority under this division, including, but not limited to, the adoption of regulations, plans, permits, or standards or any enforcement actions shall not duplicate or be in conflict with any determination relating to water quality control made by the state water board or regional water boards.

(c) Any plans, permits, standards, or corrective action taken under this division shall incorporate, as a condition of the action, any applicable waste discharge requirements issued by the state water board or a regional water board, and shall be consistent with all applicable water quality control plans adopted pursuant to Section 13170, and Article 3 (commencing with Section 13240) of Chapter 4 of Division 7, of the Water Code and the state policies for water quality control adopted pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 13140) of Chapter 3 of Division 7 of the Water Code existing at the time of the action or proposed action.

40056. This division, or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is not a limitation on the right of any person to commence and maintain at any time any appropriate action for relief against a nuisance as defined in the Civil Code.

40057. Each county, city, district, or other local governmental agency which provides solid waste handling services shall provide for those services, including, but not limited to, source reduction, recycling, composting activities, and the collection, transfer, and disposal of solid waste within or without the territory subject to its solid waste handling jurisdiction.

40058. The solid waste handling services shall be provided for by one or any combination of the following:

(a) The furnishing of the services by the local agency itself.

(b) The furnishing of the services by another local agency.

(c) The furnishing of the services by a solid waste enterprise.

40059. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, each county, city, district, or other local governmental agency may determine all of the following:

(1) Aspects of solid waste handling which are of local concern, including, but not limited to, frequency of collection, means of collection and transportation, level of services, charges and fees, and nature, location, and extent of providing solid waste handling services.

(2) Whether the services are to be provided by means of nonexclusive franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, either with or without competitive bidding, or if, in the opinion of its governing body, the public health, safety, and well-being so require, by partially exclusive or wholly exclusive franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, either with or without competitive bidding. The authority to provide solid waste handling services may be granted under terms and conditions prescribed by the governing body of the local governmental agency by resolution or ordinance.

(b) Nothing in this division modifies or abrogates in any manner any franchise previously granted or extended by any county or other local governmental agency.

CHAPTER 2. DEFINITIONS

40100. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this division.

40105. "Authorized recycling agent" means a person that a local governing body or private commercial entity authorizes or contracts with to collect its recyclable waste material. An authorized recycling agency may be a municipal collection service, private refuse hauler, private recycling enterprise, or private nonprofit corporation or association.

40110. "Board" means the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

40115. "City" or "county" includes city and county.

40116. "Compost" means the product resulting from the controlled biological decomposition of organic wastes that are source separated from the municipal solid waste stream.

40120. "Designated recycling collection location" means the place where an authorized recycling agent has contracted with either the local governing body or a private entity to pick up recyclable material segregated from other waste material. "Designated recycling collection location" includes, but is not limited to, the curbside of a residential neighborhood or the service alley of a commercial enterprise.

40121. "Disposal facility" or "facility" means any facility or location where disposal of solid waste occurs.

40122. "Disposal site" or "site" includes the place, location, tract of land, area, or premises in use, intended to be used, or which has been used for the landfill disposal of solid wastes. "Disposal site" includes solid waste landfill, as defined in Section 46027.

40123. "Disposal site owner" means the person who holds title to the property used as a disposal site after January 1, 1977.

40130. "Enforcement agency" means the local agency designated pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 43200) of Chapter 2 of Part 4 for the purpose of carrying out this division, or the board if no designation of a local agency has been approved by the board.

40131. "Enforcement program" means the regulations and procedures adopted by the board pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 43200) of Part 4.

40140. "Hazard" includes any condition, practice, or procedure which is or may be dangerous, harmful, or perilous to employees, property, neighbors, or the general public.

40141. (a) "Hazardous waste" means a waste, or combination of wastes, which because of its quantity, concentration, or physical, chemical, or infectious characteristics may do either of the following:

(1) Cause, or significantly contribute to, an increase in mortality or an increase in serious irreversible, or incapacitating reversible, illness.

(2) Pose a substantial present or potential hazard to human health or environment when improperly treated, stored, transported, or disposed of, or otherwise managed.

(b) Unless expressly provided otherwise, "hazardous waste" includes extremely hazardous waste and acutely hazardous waste.

40150. "Local governing body" means the legislative body of the city, county, or special district which has authority to provide solid waste handling services.

40160. "Operator" means the person to whom the approval to operate a disposal site, transfer or processing station, or collection system is granted.

40170. "Person" includes an individual, firm, association, copartnership, political subdivision, government agency, municipality, industry, public or private corporation, or any other entity whatsoever.

40171. "Pollution" means the condition caused by the presence in or on a body of water, soil, or air of any solid waste or substance derived therefrom in such quantity, of such nature and duration, or under such condition that the quality, appearance, or usefulness of the water, soil, land, or air is significantly degraded or adversely altered.

40172. "Processing" means the reduction, separation, recovery, conversion, or recycling of solid waste.

40180. "Recycle" or "recycling" means the process of collecting, sorting, cleansing, treating, and reconstituting materials that would otherwise become solid waste, and returning them to the economic mainstream in the form of raw material for new, reused, or reconstituted products which meet the quality standards necessary to be used in the marketplace. "Recycling" does not include transformation, as defined in Section 40201.

40181. "Regional planning agency" means any of the following:

(a) An agency organized pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

(b) A regional planning district formed pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 65060) of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code.

(c) A joint area planning commission formed pursuant to Section 65101 of the Government Code.

(d) Any agency established by a legislative act and recognized by the Office of Planning and Research as performing general environmental and resources planning for any region of the state.

40182. "Regional water board" means a California regional water quality control board.

40190. "Segregated from other waste material" means any of the following:

(a) The placement of recyclable materials in separate containers.

(b) The binding of recyclable material separately from the other waste material.

(c) The physical separation of recyclable material from other waste material.

40191. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), "solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid, semisolid, and liquid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, dewatered, treated, or chemically fixed sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste, manure, vegetable or animal solid and semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes.

(b) "Solid waste" does not include hazardous waste.

40192. "Solid waste disposal" or "disposal" means the final deposition of solid wastes onto land, into the atmosphere, or into the waters of the state.

40193. "Solid waste enterprise" means any individual, partnership, joint venture, unincorporated private organization, or private corporation, which is regularly engaged in the business of providing solid waste handling services.

40194. "Solid waste facility" includes a disposal facility, a disposal site, and a solid waste transfer or processing station.

40195. "Solid waste handling" or "handling" means the collection, transportation, storage, transfer, or processing of solid wastes.

40196. "Source reduction" means any action which causes a net reduction in the generation of solid waste. "Source reduction" includes, but is not limited to, reducing the use of nonrecyclable materials, replacing disposable materials and products with reusable materials and products, reducing packaging, reducing the amount of yard wastes generated, establishing garbage rate structures with incentives to reduce the amount of wastes that generators produce, and increasing the efficiency of the use of paper, cardboard, glass, metal, plastic, and other materials in the manufacturing process. "Source reduction" does not include steps taken after the material becomes solid waste or actions which would impact air or water resources in lieu of land, including, but not limited to, transformation.

40197. "State water board" means the State Water Resources Control Board.

40200. (a) "Transfer or processing station" or "station" includes those facilities utilized to receive solid wastes, temporarily store, separate, convert, or otherwise process the materials in the solid wastes, or to transfer the solid wastes directly from smaller to larger vehicles for transport, and those facilities utilized for transformation.

(b) "Transfer or processing station" or "station" does not include any of the following:

(1) A facility, whose principal function is to receive, store, separate, convert, or otherwise process in accordance with state minimum standards, manure.

(2) A facility, whose principal function is to receive, store, convert, or otherwise process wastes which have already been separated for reuse and are not intended for disposal.

(3) The operations premises of a duly licensed solid waste handling operator who receives, stores, transfers, or otherwise processes wastes as an activity incidental to the conduct of a refuse collection and disposal business in accordance with regulations adopted pursuant to Section 43309.

40201. "Transformation" means incineration, pyrolysis, distillation, gasification, or biological conversion other than composting. "Transformation" does not include composting.

CHAPTER 3. INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT AND RECYCLING BOARD

Article 1. Membership, Terms, and Removal

40400. There is in the Resources Agency the California Integrated Waste Management Board. Any reference in any law or regulation to the State Solid Waste Management Board or the California Waste Management Board shall hereafter apply to the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

40401. The board shall consist of the following members:

(a) One member appointed by the Governor who has private sector experience in the solid waste industry.

(b) One member appointed by the Governor who has served as an elected or appointed official of a nonprofit environmental protection organization whose principal purpose is to promote recycling and the protection of air and water quality.

(c) Two members appointed by the Governor who shall represent the public.

(d) One member appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules who shall represent the public

(e) One member appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly who shall represent the public.

40402. Except the member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40401 or any person who formerly served as a member of a city council or as a county supervisor, no person shall be a member of the board if that person has received more than 10 percent of his or her income in the two years before the appointment to the board, directly or indirectly, from a person or entity subject to regulation by the board.

40403. No board member may derive any earned income directly or indirectly, from a person or from an entity subject to regulation by the board or from any organization which actively participates in matters before the board.

40404. (a) The members of the board shall represent the state at large and notany particular area of the state and shall serve full time.

(b) Except as provided in Section 40406 for specified members of the initial board and the member of the board who succeeds the initial member described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 40406, the appointments to the board made by the Governor shall be subject to confirmation by the Senate in accordance with Article 2 (commencing with Section 1770) of Chapter 4 of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

40405. The chairperson of the board shall be elected by a majority of the board members. The member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 40401 shall not serve as chairperson.

40406. (a) Except as provided for the initial board in subdivision (b), each member of the board shall be appointed for a term of four years. A vacancy shall be filled by the appointing power for the unexpired portion of the term in which it occurs.

(b) The term of the initial member of the board are as follows:

(1) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1992.

(2) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1993.

(3) The term of one of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1996.

(4) The term of one of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1997.

(5) The term of the initial member appointed pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40401 ends on January 1, 1995.

(6) The term of the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 40401 is January 1, 1994.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b) of Section 40404, the initial members appointed by the Governor pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 40401 are not subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(d) The Governor shall appoint the initial members appointed pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 40401 and transmit the appointment on or before July 1, 1990. The Senate shall confirm or refuse to confirm the appointments made pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b), or both, on or before a date which is 90 days after receipt of the notice of appointment.

(e) If the Senate refuses or fails to confirm the appointments pursuant to subdivision (d), the Governor, on or before a date which is within 20 days after that refusal or failure, shall appoint another person and transmit the appointment and transmit the appointment and the Senate shall confirm or refuse to confirm that appointment on or before a date which is 90 days after receipt of the notice of appointment.

(f) If the Senate takes no action to confirm or refuse to confirm an appointment pursuant to subdivision (d) or (e) on or before January 1, 1991, that appointment is deemed confirmed.

40407. The board shall elect a vice chairperson from its members.

40408. The annual salary of the members of the board is provided for by Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 11550) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. Each member of the board shall also receive necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of his or her official duties out of appropriations made for the support of the board.

40410. (a) Each member of the board shall have one vote. Except as provided in Section 40450, the affirmative vote of at least four members shall be required for the transaction of any business of the board.

(b) A vacancy in the board shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the powers of the board, and four members of the board shall at all times constitute a quorum.

40411. (a) No member of the board shall participate in any board action or attempt to influence any decision or recommendation by any employee of or consultant to the board which involves himself or herself or which involves any entity with which the member is connected as a director, officer, consultant, or full- or part-time employee, or in which the member has a direct personal financial interest within the meaning of Section 87100 of the Government Code.

(b) No board member shall participate in any proceeding before any agency as a consultant or in any other capacity on behalf of any solid waste handler or any organization which actively participates in matters before the board.

(c) For a period of 12 months after leaving office, a former board member shall not act as agent or attorney for, or otherwise represent, any other person before the board by making any formal or informal appearance or by making any oral or written communication to the board.

40412. (a) For the purposes of this section, "ex parte communication" means any oral or written communication concerning matters, other than purely procedural issues, about a matter under the board's jurisdiction which is subject to a rollcall vote pursuant to Section 40466.

(b) No board member or any person, excepting a staff member acting in his or her official capacity, who intends to influence the decision of a board member on a matter before the board, shall conduct an ex parte communication, except as follows:

(1) If an ex parte communication occurs, the board member shall notify the interested party that a full disclosure of the ex parte communication shall be entered in the board's record.

(2) Communications cease to be ex parte communications when the board member or the person who engaged in the communication with the board member fully discloses the communication and requests in writing that it be placed in the board's official record of the proceeding.

40413. Any person who violates Section 40411 or 40112 is punishable by a fine of not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or by imprisonment for not more than one year in the county jail or in the state prison, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

40414. Upon request of any person or on his or her own initiative, the Attorney General may file a complaint in the superior court for the county in which the board has its principal office alleging that a board member has knowingly violated Section 40403, 40411, or 40412 and the facts upon which the allegation is based and asking that the member be removed from office. Further proceedings shall be in accordance, as near as may be, with rules governing civil actions. If, after trial, the court finds that the board member has knowingly violated any of those sections, it shall pronounce judgment that the member be removed from office.

Article 2. Staff

40430. The board shall appoint a chief executive officer exempt from civil service laws who shall administer the functions of the board. The board shall prescribe the duties and fix the salary of the chief executive officer.

40431. The board may appoint legal counsel, clerical and secretarial employees, technical personnel, and other staff, and acquire facilities, that it finds necessary for the performance of its functions. The staff of the board shall be subject to the relevant system and procedures of the state civil service. The State Civil Service Act (Part 2 (commencing with Section 18500) of Division 5 of Title 2 of the Government Code) applies to those personnel.

40432. The Attorney General shall represent the board and the state in litigation concerning affairs of the board, unless the Attorney General chooses to represent another state agency which is a party to the action. In that case, the legal counsel of the board shall represent the board. Sections 11041, 11042, and 11043 of the Government Code are not applicable to the board.

40433. The Governor shall appoint one adviser for each member of the board upon the request of the board member. Each adviser shall receive a salary as shall be fixed by the board with the approval of the Department of Personnel Administration.

40434. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the responsibilities of the board are substantially greater and more complex that those of the former California Waste Management Board which it replaces, and that it is therefore necessary to establish a new organizational and management structure to implement this division.

(b) On or before April 1, 1991, the board shall establish a new organizational and management structure to implement this division. The board, in consultation with the State Personnel Board and the Department of Personnel Administration, shall establish new managerial classifications consistent with the board's new organizational and management structure. The board shall conduct an extensive recruitment effort to find the most qualified candidates for all new managerial positions.

(c) On or before April 1, 1991, the board shall conduct an extensive recruitment effort to fill the position of the chief executive officer. The board shall conduct competitive examinations for all qualified candidates and shall select the chief executive officer from among the best qualified candidates.

Article 3. Powers and Duties

40500. The board may appoint a committee of not less than four members of the board to carry on investigations, inquiries, or hearings which the board may undertake or hold. Every order made by a committee pursuant to an inquiry, investigation, or hearing, when approved or confirmed by the board and ordered filed in its office, shall be the order of the board.

40501. The board may hold any hearings and conduct any investigations in any part of the state necessary to carry out its powers and duties. The board shall have the same powers as are conferred upon heads of departments of the state by Article 2 (commencing with Section 11180) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

40502. The board shall adopt rules and regulations, as necessary, to carry out this division in conformity with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The board shall make available to any person, upon request, copies of proposed regulations.

40503. The board shall maintain its headquarters in the County of Sacramento, and may establish regional offices in any part of the state that the board deems necessary.

40504. The board shall hold meetings at least monthly at the times and places determined by the board.

40505. In order to carry out its powers and duties under this chapter, the board may enter into any contracts that the board determines to be necessary.

40506. The board may accept grants, gifts and donations for the purposes specified in this division.

40507. The board shall file a biennial report with the Legislature commencing on or before January 1, 1991. The report shall summarize progress achieved by the board in implementing programs established pursuant to this division and shall include all of the following:

(a) Procedures for the timely review of county and city source reduction and recycling elements, countywide siting elements, and countywide integrated waste management plans.

(b) Recommendations concerning state actions needed to maintain an efficient and environmentally safe solid waste management infrastructure.

(c) Recommendations for state actions that are needed to improve the implementation of integrated waste management plans at the state and local levels.

(d) The identification of the geographical location of major existing and potential markets for recyclable materials diverted from solid waste landfills and transformation facilities.

(e) Specific market development strategies and a schedule of proposed market development activities to properly sequence market expansion to prevent an oversupply of recovered material.

(f) Recommendations for public education and information activities needed to promote the reduction and recycling of solid waste.

40508. The board is designated as the state solid waste management agency for all purposes stated in the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.) and any other federal act heretofore or hereafter enacted affecting solid waste.

40509. The board may render technical assistance and make recommendations concerning potential solid waste disposal sites upon the request of the board of supervisors of any county. The board may request any state agency to assist the board in rendering technical assistance and making recommendations pursuant to this section.

40510. The board shall use a rollcall vote for all official board decisions, including, but not limited to, approval, denial, or amendment of integrated waste management plans, exemptions, time extensions, approval, denial, and amendment of any permits issued pursuant to a vote of the board and other appropriate decisions. The rollcall votes shall be included in the minutes of the board's meetings.

Article 4. Disposal Cost Fees

40600. (a) The board, in consultation with the State Board of Equalization and the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the Legislature, shall, on or before January 1, 1991, complete and submit to the Governor and the Legislature, a report and model legislation for introduction and sponsorship by the board during the 1991–92 Regular Session for the most effective means of enacting and implementing a disposal cost fee system on goods sold in California which are not subject to Division 12.1 (commencing with Section 14500) and which are normally disposed of in solid waste landfills or processed in transformation facilities.

(b) In evaluating any disposal cost fee, the board shall give highest priority to those disposable goods which comprise the greatest percentage of materials being disposed and the greatest potential for environmental degradation, and shall take into consideration disposable goods which are already effectively recycled, reduced, or reused.

PART 2. INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT PLANS

CHAPTER 1. PLAN PREPARATION

Article 1. Legislative Findings

40900. (a) The Legislature finds that integrated waste management plans prepared and adopted by local agencies shall conform, to the maximum extent possible to the policies and goals established under Article 1 and Article 2 of this division.

(b) The Legislature finds that decisions involving the establishment or expansion of solid waste facilities should be guided by an effective planning process, including meaningful public and private solid waste industry participation.

(c) The Legislature declares that if is the policy of the state and the intent of the Legislature that each state, regional, and local agency concerned with the solid waste facility planning and siting process involve the public through public hearings and informative meetings and that, at those hearings and other public forums, the public be granted the opportunity to respond to clearly defined alternative objectives, policies, and actions.

(d) The Legislature further declares that it is the policy of the state and the intent of the Legislature to foster and encourage private solid waste enterprises. In furtherance of that policy, it is the intent of the Legislature that each state, regional, and local agency concerned with the solid waste facility planning and siting process involve the private solid waste industry.

Article 2. Local Task Forces

40950. (a) On or before March 1, 1990, and every five years thereafter, each county, which is not a city and county, shall convene a task force to assist in coordinating the development of city source reduction and recycling elements prepared pursuant to Article 1

(commencing with Section 41000) of Chapter 2 and to prepare the countywide siting element required pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 41700).

(b) The membership of the task force shall be determined by the board of supervisors and a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population in the county and may include representatives of the solid waste industry, environmental organizations, general public, special districts, and affected governmental agencies.

(c) To ensure a coordinated and cost-effective regional recycling system, the task force shall do all of the following:

(1) Identify solid waste management issues of countywide or regional concern.

(2) Determine the need for solid waste collection systems, processing facilities, and marketing strategies that can serve more than one local jurisdiction within the region.

(3) Facilitate the development of multijurisdictional arrangements for the marketing of recyclable materials.

(4) To the extent possible, facilitate resolution of conflicts and inconsistencies between or among city source reduction and recycling elements.

(d) The task force shall develop goals, policies, and procedures which are consistent with guidelines and regulations adopted by the board, to guide the development of the siting element of the countywide integrated waste management plan.

CHAPTER 2. CITY SOURCE REDUCTION AND RECYCLING ELEMENTS

Article 1. Requirements

41000. (a) On or before July 1, 1991, each city shall prepare, adopt, and, excepting a city and county, submit to the county in which the city is located a source reduction and recycling element which includes all of the components specified in this chapter and which complies with the requirements specified in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 41780).

41001. The city source reduction and recycling element shall include a program for management of solid waste generated within the city, consistent with the waste management hierarchy provided in Section 40051.

41002. The city source reduction and recycling element shall place primary emphasis on implementation of all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting programs while identifying the amount of landfill and transformation capacity that will be needed for solid waste which cannot be reduced at the source, recycled, or composted.

41003. Each city source reduction and recycling element shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following components for solid waste generated in the jurisdiction of the plan:

(a) A waste characterization component.
(b) A source reduction component.
(c) A recycling component.
(d) A composting component.
(e) A solid waste facility capacity component.
(f) An education and public information component.
(g) A funding component.
(h) A special waste component.
(i) A household hazardous waste component.

Article 2. Waste Characterization Component

41030. The city waste characterization component shall identify the constituent materials which compose solid waste generated within the area affected by the city source reduction and recycling element. The information shall be statistically representative of the solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the city and shall reflect seasonal variations. The constituent materials shall be identified by volume, percentage in weight or its volumetric equivalent, material type, and source of generation, which includes residential, commercial, industrial, governmental, or other sources.

Article 3. Source Reduction Component

41050. The city source reduction component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the recycling and composting components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the city source reduction and recycling element to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41051. The city source reduction component shall describe the types of materials which will be reduced under the programs in Section 41050.

41052. The city source reduction component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through source reduction.

41053. The city source reduction component shall describe new facilities, and of expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the source reduction, recycling and composting components.

41054. The city source reduction component shall evaluate rate structures to reduce the amount of wastes that generators produce, and other source reduction strategies, including, but not limited to, programs and economic incentives to reduce the use of nonrecyclable materials, replace disposable materials and products with reusable materials and products, reduce packaging, and increase the efficiency of the use of paper, cardboard, glass, metal, and other materials.

Article 4. Recycling Component

41070. The city recycling component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the source reduction and composting components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the plan to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41071. The city recycling component shall describe the types of materials which will be recycled under the programs in Section 41070.

41072. The city recycling component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through recycling.

41073. The city recycling component shall describe new facilities, and of expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the recycling component.

41074. The city recycling component shall describe methods which will be used to increase the markets for recycled materials, including, but not limited to, an evaluation of the feasibility of procurement preferences for the purchase of recycled products. Each city may grant a price preference to encourage the purchase of recycled products. The amount of the price preference shall be determined by the city.

41075 The city recycling component shall evaluate industrial, commercial, residential, governmental, and other curbside, mobile, dropoff, and buy-back recycling programs, manual and automated material recovery facilities, zoning and building code changes which encourage recycling of materials, and rate structures which encourage recycling of materials.

Article 5. Composting Component

41200. The city composting component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the source reduction and recycling components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the plan to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41201. The city composting component shall describe the types of materials which will be composted under the programs in Section 41200.

41202. The city composting component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through composting.

41203. The city composting component shall describe any new facilities, and expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the composting component.

41204. The city composting component shall describe the methods which will be used to increase the markets for composted materials, including, but not limited to, an evaluation of the feasibility of procurement preferences for the purchase of recycled products. Each city may grant a price preference to encourage the purchase of composted products. The amount of the price preference shall be determined by the city.

Article 6. Education and Public Information Component

41220. The city education and public information component shall describe to the board how the city will increase public awareness of, and participation in, recycling, source reduction, and composting programs.

Article 7. Funding Component

41230. The city funding component shall identify and specifically describe projected costs, revenues, and revenue sources to implement all components of the city source reduction and recycling element.

Article 8. Special Waste Component

41250. The city special waste component shall describe existing waste handling and disposal practices for special wastes, including, but not limited to, asbestos and sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste. The component shall identify current and proposed programs to ensure the proper handling, reuse, and long-term disposal of special wastes.

Article 9. Facility Capacity Component

41260. The city solid waste facility capacity component shall include, but is not limited to, a projection of the amount of disposal capacity which will be needed to accommodate the solid waste generated within the city preparing the element for a 15-year period, reduced by all of the following:

(a) Implementation of source reduction, recycling, and composting programs required by this part or through implementation of other waste diversion programs.

(b) Any permitted processing, destruction, or transformation capacity which will be available during the 15-year planning period.

(c) All disposal or transformation capacity which has been secured through an agreement with another city or county or through an agreement with a solid waste enterprise.

Article 10. Household Hazardous Waste Component

41280. The city household hazardous waste component shall include a program and implementation schedule for the collection, treatment, and disposal of hazardous waste generated by residences within the jurisdiction of the plan.

CHAPTER 3. COUNTY SOURCE REDUCTION AND RECYCLING ELEMENTS

Article 1. Requirements

41300. On or before January 1, 1991, each county shall prepare and adopt for the unincorporated area a county source reduction and recycling element which includes all of the components specified in this chapter and which complies with the requirements specified in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 41780).

41301. The county source reduction and recycling element shall set forth a program for management of solid waste generated with the unincorporated area of the county, consistent with the waste management hierarchy provided in Section 40051.

41302. The county source reduction and recycling element shall place primary emphasis on implementation of all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting programs while identifying the amount of landfill and transformation capacity that will be needed for solid waste which cannot be reduced at the source, recycled, or composted.

41303. Each county source reduction and recycling element shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following components for solid waste generated in the jurisdiction of the plan:

(a) A waste characterization component.
(b) A source reduction component.
(c) A recycling component.
(d) A composting component.
(e) A solid waste facility capacity component.
(f) An education and public information component.
(g) A funding component.
(h) A special waste component.
(i) A household hazardous waste component.

Article 2. Waste Characterization Component

41330. The county waste characterization component shall identify the constituent materials which compose solid waste generated within the area affected by the county source reduction and recycling element. The information shall be statistically representative of the solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the county and shall reflect seasonal variations. The constituent materials shall be identified by volume, percentage in weight or its volumetric equivalent, material type, and source of generation which includes residential, commercial, industrial, governmental, or other sources.

Article 3. Source Reduction Component

41350. The county source reduction component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the recycling and composting components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the plan to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41351. The county source reduction component shall describe the types of materials which will be reduced under the programs in Section 41350.

41352. The county source reduction component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through source reduction.

41353. The county source reduction component shall describe new facilities, and of expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the source reduction, recycling, and composting components.

41354. The county source reduction component shall evaluate rate structures to reduce the amount of wastes that generators produce, and other source reduction strategies, including, but not limited to, programs and economic incentives to reduce the use of nonrecyclable materials, replace disposable materials and products with reusable materials and products, reduce packaging, and increase the efficiency of the use of paper, cardboard, glass, metal, and other materials.

Article 4. Recycling Component

41370. The county recycling component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the source reduction and composting components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the plan to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41371. The county recycling component shall describe the types of materials which will be recycled under the programs in Section 41370.

41372. The county recycling component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through recycling.

41373. The county recycling component shall describe new facilities, and expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the recycling component.

41374. The county recycling component shall describe methods which will be used to increase markets for recycled materials, including, but not limited to, an evaluation of the feasibility of procurement preferences for the purchase of recycled products. Each county may grant a price preference to encourage the purchase of recycled products. The amount of the price preference shall be determined by the county.

41375. The county recycling component shall evaluate industrial, commercial, residential, governmental, and other curbside, mobile, dropoff, and buy-back recycling programs, manual and automated material recovery facilities, zoning, and building code changes which encourage recycling of materials, and rate structures which encourage recycling of materials.

Article 5. Composting Component

41400. The county composting component shall include a program and implementation schedule which shows the methods by which the city will, in combination with the source reduction and recycling components, reduce a sufficient amount of solid waste generated within the jurisdiction of the plan to comply with the requirements of Section 41780.

41401. The county composting component shall describe the types of materials which will be composted under the programs in Section 41400.

41402. The county composting component shall describe the methods the city will use to determine the amount and categories of solid wastes to be diverted from landfill disposal through composting.

41403. The county composting component shall describe new facilities, and expansion of existing facilities, which will be needed to implement the composting component.

41404. The county composting component shall describe methods which will be used to increase the markets for composted materials, including, but not limited to, an evaluation of the feasibility of procurement preferences for the purchase of recycled products. Each county may grant a price preference to encourage the purchase of composted products. The amount of the price preference shall be determined by the county.

Article 6. Education and Public Information Component

41420. The county education and public information component shall describe to the board how the county will educate and inform its citizens about the recycling and composting programs.

Article 7. Funding Component

41430. The county funding component shall identify and specifically describe projected costs, revenues, and revenue sources to implement all components of the county source reduction and recycling element.

Article 8. Special Waste Component

41450. The county special waste component shall describe existing waste handling and disposal practices for special wastes, including, but not limited to, asbestos and sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste. The component shall identify current and proposed programs to ensure the proper handling, reuse, and long-term disposal of special wastes.

Article 9. Facility Capacity Component

41460. The county solid waste facility capacity component shall include, but is not limited to, a projection of the amount of disposal capacity which will be needed to accommodate the solid waste generated within the unincorporated area of the county preparing the element for a 15-year period, reduced by all of the following:

(a) Implementation of source reduction, recycling, and composting programs required by this part or through implementation of other waste diversion programs.

(b) Any permitted disposal or transformation capacity which will be available during the 15-year planning period.

(c) All disposal or transformation capacity which has been secured through an agreement with another city, county, or through an agreement with a solid waste enterprise.

Article 10. Household Hazardous Waste Component

41480. The county household hazardous waste component shall include a program and implementation schedule for the collection, treatment, and disposal of hazardous wastes generated by residences within the jurisdiction of the plan.

CHAPTER 4. COUNTYWIDE SITING ELEMENTS

Article 1. Element Preparation

41700. Each county shall prepare a countywide siting element which provides a description of the areas to be used for development of adequate transformation or disposal capacity concurrent and consistent with the development and implementation of the county and city source reduction and recycling elements adopted pursuant to this part.

41701. Each countywide siting element and revision thereto, shall include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(a) A statement of goals and policies for the environmentally safe transformation or disposal of solid waste which cannot be reduced, recycled, or composted.

(b) An estimate of the total transformation or disposal capacity in cubic yards and years that will be needed for a 15-year period to safely handle solid wastes generated with the county which cannot be reduced or recycled.

(c) The remaining combined capacity of existing solid waste transformation or disposal facilities existing at the time of the preparation of the siting element, or revision thereto, in cubic yards and years.

(d) The identification of an area or areas for the location of new solid waste transformation or disposal facilities or the expansion of existing facilities which are consistent with the applicable city or county general plan if the county determines that existing capacity will be exhausted within 15 years or additional capacity is desired.

41702. An area is consistent with the city or county general plan if all of the following requirements are met:

(a) The city or county adopted a general plan which complies with the requirements of Article 5 (commencing with Section 65300) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code.

(b) The area reserved for a new solid waste facility or the expansion of an existing solid waste facility is located in, or coextensive with, a land use area designated or authorized for solid waste facilities in the applicable city or county general plan.

(c) The land use authorized in the applicable city or county general plan adjacent to or near the area reserved for the establishment of new solid waste transformation or disposal of solid waste or expansion of existing facilities is compatible with the establishment or expansion of the solid waste facility.

41703. If the county determines that existing capacity will be exhausted within 15 years or additional capacity is desired and that there is no area available for the location of a new solid waste transformation or disposal facility or the expansion of an existing solid waste transformation or disposal facility which is consistent with any applicable city or county general plan, the siting element shall include a specific strategy for the transformation or disposal of solid waste in excess of remaining capacity.

41704. Except as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 41710, any area or areas identified for the location of a new solid waste transformation or disposal facility shall be located in, coextensive with, or adjacent to, a land use area authorized for a solid waste transformation or disposal facility in the applicable city or county general plan.

Article 2. Tentative Reservations

41710. (a) A county may tentatively reserve an area or areas for the location of a new solid waste transformation or disposal facility or the expansion of an existing transformation or disposal facility even though that reservation of the area or areas is not consistent with the applicable city or county general plan. A reserved area in a countywide siting element is tentative until it is made consistent with the applicable city or county general plan.

(b) If a county has tentatively identified a site expansion or a potential site for a new solid waste transformation or disposal facility in its countywide siting element, that tentative site identification may be deemed a tentative area for the purposes of Sections 41711 and 41712.

41711. An area tentatively reserved for the establishment or expansion of a solid waste transformation or disposal facility shall be removed from the countywide siting element if a city or county fails or has failed to make the finding that the area is consistent with the general plan or has made a finding that the area should not be used for the location of a solid waste transformation or disposal facility.

41712. The removal of a tentatively reserved area from the countywide siting element, pursuant to Section 41711, shall be accomplished by either one of the following methods:

(a) The county shall remove the area at the time of the next revision of the siting element.

(b) The local agency having jurisdiction over the area shall request the county to remove the designation at the time of the next revision of the siting element.

Article 3. General Plan Consistency

41720. The countywide siting element submitted to the board, shall include a resolution from each affected city or the county stating that any areas identified for the location of a new or expanded solid waste transformation or disposal facility pursuant to Section 41701 is consistent with the applicable general plan.

Article 4. Local Agency Approval

41721. The countywide siting element, and any amendments thereto, shall be approved by the county and by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county except in those counties which have only two cities, in which case the plan is subject to approval of the city which contains the majority of the population of the incorporated area of the county. Each city shall act upon the countywide siting element or any proposed amendment within 90 days after receipt of the siting element or proposed amendment. If a city fails to act upon the siting element or the proposed amendment within 90 days after receiving the siting element or the amendment, the city shall be deemed to have approved the siting element or proposed amendment as submitted.

CHAPTER 5. COUNTYWIDE INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT PLANS

Article 1. Plan Preparation

41750. Each county and city and county shall prepare and submit to the board in accordance with the schedule set forth in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 41780), a countywide integrated waste management plan, which includes all of the following:

(a) All city source reduction and recycling elements prepared pursuant to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41000) and submitted to the county.

(b) The county's source reduction and recycling element for the unincorporated area of the county prepared pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 41300).

(c) The countywide siting element prepared pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 41700).

41751. The countywide integrated waste management plan shall include a summary of significant waste management problems facing the county or city and county. The plan shall provide an overview of the specific steps that will be taken by local agencies, acting independently and in concert, to achieve the purposes of this division. The plan shall contain a statement of the goals and objectives set forth by the countywide task force created pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 40900).

Article 2. Plan Approval

41760. The countywide integrated waste management plan and any amendments thereto, excepting a source reduction and recycling element prepared by a city and county, shall be approved by the county and by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county, except in those counties which have only two cities, in which case the plan is subject to the approval of the city which contains a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county. Each city shall act upon the plan and any proposed amendment within 90 days after receipt of the amendment. If a city fails to act upon the plan or the proposed amendment within 90 days after receiving the plan or the amendment, the city shall be deemed to have approved the plan or the amendment as submitted.

Article 3. Plan Revision

41770. Each countywide integrated waste management plan and the elements thereof shall be reviewed, revised, if necessary, and submitted to the board every five years in accordance with the schedule set forth under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 41800).

CHAPTER 6. ADDITIONAL PLANNING REQUIREMENTS

Article 1. Waste Diversion

41780. (a) Each city or county source reduction and recycling element shall include an implementation schedule which shows both of the following:

(1) For the initial element, the city or county will divert 25 percent of all solid waste from landfill or transformation facilities by January 1, 1995, through source reduction, recycling, and composting activities.

(2) Except as provided in Sections 41783, 41784, and 41785, for the first revision of the element, the city or county shall divert 50 percent by January 1, 2000, through source reduction, recycling, and composting activities.

(b) Nothing in this part prohibits a city or county from implementing source reduction, recycling, and composting activities designed to exceed these goals.

41781. (a) For the purpose of determining the base rate of solid waste from which recycling levels shall be calculated, "solid waste" includes only the following:

(1) Materials in the waste stream generated within a local agency's jurisdiction which are normally disposed of at a landfill or transformation facility.

(2) The amount of solid waste diverted from a landfill or transformation facility through source reduction, recycling, or composting.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "solid waste" does not include agricultural wastes, inert solids, or other waste products which would not normally be disposed of at a landfill or transformation facility.

(c) For the purposes of this chapter, the amount of solid waste from which the required reductions are measured shall be the amount of solid waste existing on the date of the approval of the county or city source reduction and recycling element by the board with adjustments for increases or decreases in the quantity of waste caused only by changes in population or changes in the number or size of governmental, industrial, or commercial operations in the jurisdiction.

(d) For the purpose of determining recycling levels required pursuant to this article, counties and cities shall include all existing residential, commercial, and industrial source reduction, recycling, and composting activities that divert solid waste from solid waste landfills and transformation facilities.

41782. The board may provide an exemption or reduction in the goals specified in Section 41780 if the city or county demonstrates, and the board concurs, that preparation of a city or a county source reduction and recycling element is not feasible due to the small geographic size of the city or county and the small quantity of waste generated within the city or county. The board may establish alternative, but less comprehensive, requirements for those counties or cities to ensure compliance with this division.

41783. For any city or county source reduction and recycling element submitted to the board after January 1, 1995, the 50 percent source reduction and recycling requirement established under Section 41780 may include not more than 10 percent through transformation, as defined in Section 40201, only if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The transformation project has complied with Sections 21151.1 and 41150 of this code and Section 42315 of the Health and Safety Code.

(b) The transformation project uses front-end methods or programs to remove all recyclable materials from the waste stream prior to transformation to the maximum extent feasible.

(c) The ash or other residue generated from the transformation project is routinely tested at least once a month, and, notwithstanding Section 25143.7 of the Health and Safety Code, if hazardous wastes are present, the ash or residue is sent to a class 1 hazardous waste disposal facility.

(d) The board holds a public hearing in the city or county within which a transformation project is proposed, and, after the public hearing, the board makes both of the following findings, based upon substantial evidence on the record:

(1) The city or county is, and will continue to be, effectively implementing all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting measures.

(2) The transformation project will not adversely affect public health and the environment.

41784. If the board determines that a city or county source reduction and recycling element submitted after January 1, 1995, will not achieve the 50 percent requirement established under Section 41780, and the city or county chooses not to use a transformation project to achieve the 50 percent requirement, the board shall not require the city or county to achieve the 50 percent diversion requirement through transformation, or impose any penalty on the city or county to compel the city or county to achieve the 50 percent requirement through transformation.

41785. On and after January 1, 1995, and upon the request of a city or county, or city and county, the board may establish an alternative source reduction, recycling, and composting requirement to the 50 percent requirement established under Section 41780 if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The board holds a public hearing and makes both of the following findings based upon substantial evidence on the record:

(1) That the local agency is effectively implementing all feasible source reduction, recycling, and composting measures.

(2) That the alternative source reduction, recycling, and composting requirement represents the greatest feasible amount the city, county, or city and county may achieve.

41786. (a) Notwithstanding Section 41780, the board may reduce the recycling goals specified in Section 41780 for any city or county which, on or before January 1, 1989, disposed of 75 percent or more of its solid waste by transformation if both of the following conditions exist:

(1) The attainment of the 25 percent or 50 percent goal specified in Section 41780 would result in substantial impairment of the obligations of one or more contracts in existence on January 1, 1989, for the city or county to furnish solid waste for fuel.

(2) The attainment of the 25 percent or 50 percent goal specified in Section 41780 would substantially interfere with the repayment of debt incurred to finance the transformation project.

(b) For any city or county described in subdivision (a), the board shall establish new goals which require the maximum feasible amount of source reduction, recycling, and composting and which would not meet the conditions in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a).

Article 2. Board Review

41790. In order to coordinate solid waste management activities throughout the state and to ensure that Article 2 (commencing with Section 40050) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 is implemented, the board shall review each county and city source reduction and recycling element and each countywide integrated waste management plan adopted pursuant to this part to determine if it complies with Article 2 (commencing with Section 40050) of Chapter 1 of Part 1.

41791. (a) Any county which has less than five years of remaining landfill capacity shall submit its countywide integrated waste management plan to the board on or before January 1, 1992.

(b) Any county which has between five and eight years of landfill capacity shall submit its countywide integrated waste management plan to the board on or before January 1, 1993.

(c) Any city or county which has more than eight years of landfill capacity shall submit its countywide integrated waste management plan to the board on or before January 1, 1994.

41792. It is the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this part, that cities and counties shall commence efforts to implement source reduction, recycling, or composting activities immediately upon enactment of this part, in order to achieve the deadlines specified under this chapter.

41793. Each county or city shall hold at least one public hearing before approving its source reduction and recycling element and the countywide integrated waste management plan.

41794. Any city may submit its city source reduction and recycling element to the board for review before the dates in the schedule in Section 40791.

CHAPTER 7. APPROVAL OF LOCAL PLANNING

Article 1. Board Approval

41800. Within 120 days of receiving a city source reduction and recycling element or a countywide integrated waste management plan, the board shall determine whether the element or plan complies with Article 2 (commencing with Section 40050) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 and Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 41000) and Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 41750) and, based upon this determination, the board shall approve or disapprove the element or plan.

41801. Before approving an element or plan pursuant to Section 41800, the board shall adopt written findings based on substantial evidence in the record that implementing the element will achieve the requirements established pursuant to this part, including the requirements of Section 41780.

Article 2. Deficiencies

41810. If the board disapproves a city source reduction and recycling element or a countywide integrated waste management plan, the board shall issue a notice of deficiency to the city or county which identifies the specific reasons for the disapproval. The notice of deficiency shall include specific recommendations on how to correct the deficiencies in the element or plan.

41811. Within 120 days of receipt of the notice of deficiency issued pursuant to Section 41810, the city or county shall correct the deficiencies, readopt, and resubmit the city source reduction and recycling element or the countywide integrated waste management plan to the board.

41812. If the board determines that the revised city source reduction and recycling element or the countywide integrated waste management plan submitted pursuant to Section 41811 still fails to meet the requirements of this part, the board shall conduct a public hearing for the purpose of hearing testimony on the plan or element and the deficiencies identified by the board.

41813. After conducting a public hearing pursuant to Section 41812, the board may impose administrative civil penalties of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day on any city or county which fails to submit an adequate plan in accordance with the requirements of this chapter.

Article 3. Other Provisions

41820. The board may grant a one-year time extension from the requirements of Section 41780 to any city or county if the following conditions are met:

(a) The board adopts written findings, based upon substantial evidence in the record, that unfavorable, unforeseen, and severely adverse market conditions beyond the control of city or county prevent the city or county from meeting the requirements of Section 41780.

(b) The city or county submits a plan of correction which demonstrates how the city or county will meet the requirements of Section 41780 before the time extension expires, which includes the source reduction, recycling, or composting steps the city or county will implement, and which states how these programs will be funded.

(c) The city or county demonstrates that it is achieving the maximum feasible amount of source reduction, recycling, and composting of solid waste within its jurisdiction.

41821. Each year following the board's approval of a city source reduction and recycling element or the countywide integrated waste management plan, the city or county shall submit a report to the board summarizing its progress in reducing solid waste as required by Section 41780. The report shall include information on increases or reductions in waste generated due to increases or decreases in the quantity of waste caused only by changes in population or changes in the number or the size of governmental, industrial, or commercial operations in the jurisdiction so that the board may determine if the source reduction and recycling requirements established under Section 41780 need to be revised.

41822. Each city or county shall review its city source reduction and recycling element or the countywide integrated waste management plan at least once every five years to correct any deficiencies in the element or plan, to comply with the source reduction and recycling requirements established under Section 41780, and to revise the documents, as necessary, in order to comply with this part. Any revision made to an element or plan pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the board for review and approval or disapproval pursuant to the schedule established under this chapter.

41823. A city or county may enter into a memorandum of understanding with another city, county, regional planning agency, agency formed under a joint exercise of powers agreement, or district established to manage solid waste for the purpose of preparing and implementing source reduction and recycling elements or a countywide integrated waste management plan.

41824. On or before January 1, 1990, the board shall prepare, and adopt emergency regulations pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code for use by cities and counties in the preparation of source reduction and recycling elements and countywide integrated waste management plans. The regulations and guidelines shall include specific recommendations on how local agencies can achieve diversion of solid waste from landfills through source reduction, recycling, and composting in accordance with this chapter.

Article 3. Review and Enforcement

41825. Not less frequently than every two years, the board shall review each city or county source reduction and recycling element to determine whether a city or county is implementing its source reduction and recycling element. If, after a public hearing, which to the extent possible is held in the local agency's jurisdiction, the board finds that the city or county has failed to implement its source reduction and recycling element, the board shall issue an order of compliance with a specific schedule for achieving compliance.

Article 4. Enforcement

41850. If, after holding the public hearing and issuing an order of compliance pursuant to Section 41825, the board finds that the county or city and county has failed to implement its element, the board may impose administrative civil penalties of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day until the city or county implements the element.

41851. Nothing in this chapter shall infringe on the existing authority of counties and cities to control land use or to make land use decisions, and nothing in this chapter provides or transfers new authority over that land use to the board.

CHAPTER 8. LOCAL FEE AUTHORITY

41900. Each city and county shall demonstrate a funding source, or sources, available to pay for preparing, adopting, and implementing the element or plan, as required by Sections 41003, 41230, 41303, and 41430.

41901. A city, county, or city and county may impose fees in amounts sufficient to pay the costs of preparing, adopting, and implementing an integrated waste management plan prepared pursuant to this chapter. The fees shall be based on the types or amounts of the solid waste, and shall be used to pay the actual costs incurred by the city or county in preparing, adopting, and implementing the plan, as well as in setting and collecting the local fees. In determining the amounts of the fees, a city or county shall include only those costs directly related to the preparation, adoption, and implementation of the plan and the setting and collection of the local fees.

41902. A local agency may directly collect the fees authorized by this chapter or may, by agreement, arrange for the fees to be collected by a solid waste hauler providing solid waste collection for the city or county.

41903. A city or county may assess special fees of a reasonable amount on the importation of waste from outside of the county to publicly owned or privately owned facilities. No city or county shall export solid waste to any other jurisdiction unless the exporting city or county has, within one year following the date specified in Section 41791 or a later date established or permitted by the board, an approved city source reduction and recycling element or countywide integrated waste management plan and is in compliance with it, provided, however, that, until one year following the date specified in Section 41791 or a later date established by the board, nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the export of solid waste. The board may waive the requirements of this section if the board determines that all additional reasonable source reduction and recycling programs are being implemented in the city or county or if the board determines that the system to export waste supports or enhances the city or county source recovery and recycling element.

CHAPTER 9. UNLAWFUL ACTS

41950. No person, other than the authorized recycling agent of the city or county, shall remove paper, glass, cardboard, plastic, used motor oil, ferrous metal, aluminum, or other recyclable materials which have been segregated from solid waste materials and placed at a designated collection location for the purposes of collection and recycling. No person shall be subject to an action for a violation of this section, unless the person knows, or reasonably should know, that the materials would otherwise be collected by the authorized recycling agent for the purpose of recycling the materials.

41951. Unless otherwise provided by contract, paper, glass, cardboard, plastics, used motor oil, ferrous metal, aluminum, and other waste materials, which have been segregated from other waste materials, and placed at the designated collection location, shall not be removed by anyone other than the authorized recycling agent.

41952. Nothing in this chapter limits the right of any person to donate, sell, or otherwise dispose of his or her recyclable materials.

41953. In any civil action by a recycling agent against a person alleged to have violated Section 41950, the court may allow treble damages, as measured by the value of the material removed, against the unauthorized person removing the recyclable material.

41954. Nothing in this article limits the authority of a local agency to adopt or enforce regulations or ordinances on the same matters of this article.

41955. A violation of this part is a misdemeanor punishable pursuant to Section 19 of the Penal Code.

PART 4. SOLID WASTE FACILITIES

CHAPTER 1. SOLID WASTE FACILITY STANDARDS

Article 1. Landfill Facility Requirements

43000. The following definitions govern the construction of this chapter:

(a) "Waste management unit" means the area of a solid waste landfill facility in or on which solid wastes are placed for disposal.

(b) "New waste management unit" means a waste management unit which is not authorized on or before January 1, 1990, under waste discharge provisions adopted on or before that date pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code and for which a solid waste facility permit was not issued on or before that date pursuant to Title 7.3 (commencing with Section 66700) of the Government Code as it read before January 1, 1990.

Article 2. Handling and Disposal Standards

43020. The board shall adopt and revise minimum standards for solid waste handling and disposal for the protection of air, water, and land from pollution, in accordance with this division, and Section 4520 and Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The board shall consider any recommendations of the State Air Resources Board for the prevention of air pollution and any recommendations of the state water board for the prevention of water pollution.

43021. Standards shall include the design, operation, maintenance, and ultimate reuse of solid waste processing or disposal facilities, but shall not include aspects of solid waste handling or disposal which are solely of local concern

Article 3. Financial Responsibility

43040. The board shall adopt standards and regulations on or before January 1, 1991, requiring that, as a condition for the issuance, modification, revision, or review of a solid waste facilities permit for a disposal facility, the operator of the disposal facility shall provide assurance of adequate financial ability to respond to personal injury claims and public or private property damage claims resulting from the operations of the disposal facility which occur before closure.

CHAPTER 2. SOLID WASTE HANDLING AND DISPOSAL

Article 1. Local Enforcement Agencies

43200 (a) On or before August 1, 1991, the board shall prepare and adopt certification regulations for local enforcement agencies. The regulations shall specify requirements that a local agency shall meet before being designated as an enforcement agency. The regulations shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Technical expertise.

(2) Adequacy of staff resources.

(3) Adequacy of budget resources.

(4) Training requirements.

(5) The existence of at least one permitted solid waste facility within the jurisdiction of the local agency.

(b) The regulations adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) shall specify four separate types of certifications for which an enforcement agency may be designated, as follows:

(1) Permitting, inspection, and enforcement of regulations at solid waste landfills.

(2) Permitting, inspection, and enforcement of solid waste incinerators.

(3) Permitting, inspection, and enforcement of transfer and processing stations.

(4) Inspection and enforcement of litter, odor, and nuisance regulations at solid waste landfills.

43201. After August 1, 1992, no enforcement agency shall be designated pursuant to this article unless the board determines that the agency fully complies with one or more of the certification types specified in Section 43200. No enforcement agency shall, after August 1, 1992, exercise the powers of an enforcement agency pursuant to this chapter unless the agency has been certified by the board.

43202. There may be designated within each county an enforcement agency to carry out this chapter. If an agency is not designated and certified, the board, in addition to its other powers, shall be the enforcement agency within the county.

43203. The designation of the enforcement agency shall be made by any one of the following procedures:

(a) The board of supervisors of the county may designate the enforcement agency subject to the approval by a majority of the cities within the county which contain a majority of the population of the incorporated areas of the county.

(b) The county and the cities within the county may enter into a joint exercise of powers agreement pursuant to Section 6500 of the Government Code for the purpose of establishing an enforcement agency.

(c) A city council may designate an enforcement agency to carry out this chapter.

43204. No enforcement agency may exercise the powers and duties of an enforcement agency until the designation is approved by the board. The board shall not approve a designation unless it finds that the designated enforcement agency is capable of fulfilling its responsibilities under the enforcement program and meets the certification requirements adopted by the board pursuant to Section 43200.

43205. If no enforcement agency is designated, the board shall become the enforcement agency, and shall assume all powers and authorities established pursuant to this chapter. Nothing in this chapter prevents a designation of an enforcement agency under Section 43202 at a later date.

43206. A designation made pursuant to this article may be withdrawn in the same manner in which it was made.

43207. No local governmental department or agency which is the operating unit for a solid waste handling or disposal operation shall be the enforcement agency for the types of solid waste handling or disposal operation it conducts.

43208. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, except as provided in Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, and Section 731 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no local governing body may enact, issue, enforce, suspend, revoke, or modify any ordinance, regulation, law, license, or permit relating to a facility that accepts both hazardous wastes and other solid wastes and which meets any of the criteria enumerated in subdivision (a) of Section 25148 of the Health and Safety Code, and was operating as of May 1, 1981, pursuant to a valid solid waste facility permit, so as to prohibit or unreasonably regulate the operation of, or the disposal, treatment, or recovery of resources from solid wastes at any such facility. However, nothing in this section authorizes an operator of such a facility to violate any term or condition of a local land use or facility permit or any other provision of law not in conflict with this section.

43209. The enforcement agency, within its jurisdiction and consistent with its certification by the board, shall do all of the following:

(a) Enforce applicable provisions of this chapter and the regulations adopted thereunder, and under Section 43020, pertaining to the minimum standards for solid waste handling and disposal for the protection of air, water, and land from pollution and nuisance, and for the protection of the public health.

(b) Request enforcement by appropriate federal, state, and local agencies of their respective laws governing solid waste storage, handling, and disposal.

(c) File with the board, upon its request, information the board determines to be necessary.

(d) Develop, implement, and maintain inspection, enforcement, and training programs.

(e) Adopt an enforcement program consisting of regulations necessary to implement this chapter and the standards adopted pursuant thereto, and to establish specific local standards for solid waste handling and disposal subject to approval by a majority vote of its local governing body. However, any such regulation shall be consistent with this title and all regulations adopted by the board. The enforcement program shall also include a description of the locally adopted procedures for carrying out the permit and inspection program pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001).

(f) Keep and maintain records of its inspection, enforcement, training, and regulatory programs, and of any other official action in accordance with regulations adopted by the board.

(g) Consult, as appropriate, with the appropriate local health agency concerning all actions which involve health standards. The consultation shall include affording the health agency adequate notice and opportunity to conduct and report the evaluation as it reasonably determines is appropriate.

43210. For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes and to which the provisions of Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code apply, the board and the enforcement agency have no enforcement or regulatory authority. All enforcement activities for the facilities relative to the control of hazardous wastes shall be performed by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

43211. For those facilities which accept both hazardous wastes and other solid wastes, the State Department of Health Services shall exercise enforcement and regulatory powers relating to the control of the hazardous wastes at the facility pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code. The board shall, at mixed waste disposal facilities, exercise enforcement and regulatory powers relating to the control of solid wastes other than hazardous wastes at the facility pursuant to this chapter.

43213. The enforcement agency may, upon a majority vote of its local governing body, prescribe, revise, and collect fees or other charges from each operator of a solid waste facility or from any person who conducts solid waste handling if the local governing body having ratesetting authority has approved rate adjustments to compensate the solid waste hauler or solid waste facility operator for the amount of the surcharge imposed pursuant to this section. The fee or other charge shall be based on the weight, volume, or type of solid waste which is received or handled by any such operator or person or on any other appropriate basis or any combination of the foregoing. In no case shall the fee or other charge imposed by the enforcement agency under this section exceed the actual cost of the solid waste enforcement authorized under this title.

43214. The board shall develop performance standards for evaluating local enforcement agencies and shall periodically review each enforcement agency and its implementation of the permit, inspection, and enforcement program. The board's review shall include periodic inspections of solid waste facilities to assess compliance with state standards.

43215. If the board finds that an enforcement agency is not fulfilling its responsibilities, the board shall notify the enforcement agency of the particular reasons for finding that the enforcement agency is not fulfilling its responsibilities and of the board's intention to withdraw its approval of the designation if, within a time to be specified in that notification, but in no event less than 30 days, the enforcement agency does not take the corrective action specified by the board.

43216. If the board withdraws its approval of the designation of an enforcement agency, another enforcement agency shall be designated pursuant to Section 43203 within 90 days and approved by the board. If no designation is made within 90 days, the board shall become the enforcement agency within the jurisdiction of the former enforcement agency.

43217. The board shall provide ongoing training, technical assistance, and guidance to enforcement agencies to assist in their decisionmaking processes. This assistance shall include, but is not limited to, providing all of the following:

(a) Technical studies and reports.

(b) Copies of innovative facility operation plans.

(c) Investigative findings and analyses of new waste management practices and procedures.

43218. Each enforcement agency shall inspect each solid waste facility within its jurisdiction at least one time each month and shall file, within 30 days of the inspection, a written report in a format prescribed by the board.

43219. (a) The board, in conjunction with an inspection conducted by the enforcement agency, shall conduct each year at least one inspection of each solid waste facility in the state. A written inspection report shall be prepared and submitted within 30 days of the inspection to the enforcement agency.

(b) If the board identifies significant violations of state minimum requirements that were not identified and resolved through previous inspections by the enforcement agency, the board shall conduct a performance review of the enforcement agency within 120 days, prepare a written performance report within 60 days of the review, and require the submission of a plan of correction by the enforcement agency within 90 days of the report.

(c) The board shall withdraw an enforcement agency's designation pursuant to Section 43215 if it determines the enforcement agency has failed to submit an adequate plan of correction or has failed to implement the plan.

Article 2. Powers and Duties of the Board

43300. The board, when acting in its capacity as an enforcement agency, may enforce all provisions of this division, and the regulations adopted thereto, for the protection of air, water, and land from pollution and nuisance, and for the protection of the public health.

43301. The board shall coordinate action in solid waste handling and disposal with other federal, state, and local agencies and private persons.

43302. The board may request enforcement by appropriate federal, state, and local agencies of their respective laws governing solid waste storage, handling, and disposal.

43303. The board shall develop, implement, and maintain inspection, enforcement, and training programs.

43304. The board shall adopt an enforcement program consisting of regulations necessary to implement this division and the standards adopted pursuant thereto. The enforcement program shall include a description for carrying out the permit and inspection program pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001).

43305. The board may, as it deems necessary, establish specific local standards for solid waste handling and disposal after consultation with the local governing body. However, the standards shall be consistent with this division and all regulations adopted by the board.

43306. The board shall keep and maintain records of its inspection, enforcement, training, and regulatory programs and of any other official action in accordance with regulations adopted by the board.

43307. The board shall consult with the appropriate local health agency concerning all actions which involve health standards. The consultation shall include granting the health agency adequate notice and opportunity to conduct and report any evaluation that it reasonably deems appropriate.

43308 For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes and to which Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code applies, the board shall have no enforcement or regulatory authority. Except as otherwise provided in Section 40052, all enforcement activities for those facilities relative to the control of hazardous wastes shall be performed by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

43309. The board may adopt regulations specifying the operations subject to the exception in paragraph (3) of subdivision (b) of Section 40200. The regulations shall prohibit the storing of more than 90 cubic yards of waste in covered containers during any 72-hour period and the transfer of uncontainerized refuse from smaller refuse hauling motor vehicles to larger refuse transfer motor vehicles for transport to the point of ultimate disposal.

43310. If the board becomes the enforcement agency, it may charge reasonable fees to the local governing body to recover operation costs.

Article 3. Closure Plans

43500. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the long-term protection of air, water, and land from pollution due to the disposal of solid waste is best achieved by requiring financial assurances of the closure and postclosure maintenance of solid waste landfills.

43501. Any person owning or operating a solid waste landfill, as defined in Section 46027, shall do both of the following:

(a) On or before January 31, 1990, or upon application to become an operator of a solid waste facility pursuant to Section 44001, certify to the board and the enforcement agency that all of the following have been accomplished:

(1) The owner or operator has prepared an initial estimate of closure and postclosure maintenance costs.

(2) The owner or operator has established a trust fund or equivalent financial arrangement acceptable to the board, as specified in subdivision (f).

(3) The amounts that the owner or operator will deposit annually in the trust fund or equivalent financial arrangement acceptable to the board will ensure adequate resources for closure and postclosure maintenance.

(b) Submit to the regional water board and the board a plan for the closure of the landfill and a plan for the postclosure maintenance of the landfill.

43502. All documentation relating to the preparation of the closure and postclosure maintenance costs shall be retained by the owner or operator and shall be available for inspection by the board or the enforcement agency at reasonable times.

43503. The closure plan and the postclosure maintenance plan shall be submitted not later than the first date after July 1, 1990, that the solid waste facilities permit is required to be reviewed, pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 66796.33 of the Government Code, as it read on December 31, 1989, or Section 44001. The closure and postclosure maintenance plans shall be included in that review. If the owner or operator intends to close the solid waste landfill on or before September 28, 1992, or if the solid waste landfill does not have sufficient permitted capacity to operate after September 28, 1992, the owner or operator shall submit the plans on or before July 1, 1990, or upon application to become an operator of a solid waste facility pursuant to Section 44001.

43504. Pursuant to the procedural requirements in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001), the enforcement agency or the board may suspend or revoke a permit if the applicant fails within a reasonable period of time to submit an acceptable plan for the closure of the landfill and an acceptable plan for postclosure maintenance of the landfill.

43505. The closure plan and the postclosure maintenance plan may be revised only upon the filing of a written application therefor by the owner or operator, and the approval, or amendment and approval, by the board.

43506. After receiving a complete closure plan and postclosure maintenance plan, the regional water board shall approve or disapprove the plans pursuant to the authority and time schedules specified in Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code. The action by the regional water board shall include a review and approval of the estimates of the funds necessary to implement those portions of the plans approved by the regional water board. The board shall incorporate the action of the regional water board and shall only approve plans that include an acceptable mechanism for providing the necessary funds to implement the plans.

43507. The owner and operator shall, regardless of any changes occurring during the continued operation of the landfill, close and maintain the landfill during postclosure in accordance with the most recent closure plan and the most recent postclosure maintenance plan approved by the board pursuant to this article.

43508. The board may recover any costs incurred in meeting the requirements of this article by charging a fee pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 41900) of Part 2.

43509. (a) The board shall adopt and amend regulations specifying closure plan and postclosure maintenance plan adoption procedures and uniform closure and postclosure standards. The regulations shall also require solid waste landfill owners or operators to calculate, and periodically revise, cost estimates for closure and postclosure maintenance for a period of not less than 30 years after closure.

(b) The board may adopt regulations that authorize the adoption of both preliminary and final closure and postclosure maintenance plans. Regulations for preliminary closure and postclosure maintenance plans may require less specificity and engineering detail than final closure and postclosure maintenance plans, and these regulations shall apply only in those cases in which there is reasonable certainty that the solid waste landfill will not close for at least one year following approval of the plans. Preliminary closure and postclosure maintenance plans shall provide sufficient detail to enable the owner or operator and the board to accurately estimate the costs for closure and postclosure maintenance.

43510. The regulations adopted by the board pursuant to Section 43509 shall not duplicate or conflict with the regulations imposing the closure and postclosure maintenance requirements adopted by the state water board which are found in Subchapter 15 (commencing with Section 2510) of Chapter 3 of Title 23 of the California Code of Regulations.

Article 4. Financial Ability

43600. Any person owning or operating a solid waste landfill shall, with the closure plan and postclosure maintenance plan submitted pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 43501, submit to the board evidence of financial ability to provide for the cost of closure and postclosure maintenance, in an amount equal to the estimated cost of closure and 15 years of postclosure maintenance, contained in the closure plan and the postclosure maintenance plan submitted.

43601. The evidence of financial ability shall be in the form of a trust fund into which funds shall be deposited on an annual basis in amounts sufficient to meet closure and postclosure costs when needed, or an equivalent financial arrangement acceptable to the board, and shall be reviewed and approved by the board in conjunction with the required plans.

43602. The evidence of financial ability required of an owner or operator shall be adjusted to equal the estimated costs of closure and 15 years of postclosure maintenance in the approved plans. Revisions in the plans prior to closure shall be accompanied by corresponding revisions in cost estimates and financial assurances.

43603. The board shall not require an owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to revise or amend a closure plan submitted pursuant to this section or former Section 66796.22 of the Government Code after closure of the landfill in order to reflect subsequent changes in any standards and regulations adopted by the board.

43604. After closure, and during the postclosure maintenance period, a solid waste landfill owner or operator shall maintain evidence of financial ability for postclosure maintenance at all times equal to the estimated cost of 15 years of postclosure maintenance, except that, 15 years before the end of the postclosure maintenance period specified in a postclosure maintenance plan approved by the board, an owner or operator may request approval of the board to provide evidence of financial ability in a lesser amount.

43605. Nothing in this division affects the authority of the State Water Resources Control Board to impose closure and postclosure maintenance requirements on solid waste landfills.

43606. (a) Except for financial arrangements approved by the board pursuant to this article, no indemnification, hold harmless, or similar agreement or conveyance is effective to transfer from the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to any other person any obligations imposed on the owner or operator under this article.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), nothing in this section prohibits any agreement between the owner and the operator regarding their respective obligations for closure and postclosure maintenance of a solid waste landfill, and nothing in this section prohibits a cause of action that an owner or operator has or would have against the other party by reason of that agreement.

CHAPTER 3. PERMIT AND INSPECTION PROGRAM

Article 1. Solid Waste Facility Permits

44001. Any person who proposes to become an operator of a solid waste facility shall file with the enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the facility, or the board if there is no designated and certified enforcement agency, an application for a solid waste facilities permit at least 120 days in advance of the date on which it is desired to commence operation.

44002 The operation of a solid waste facility by any person, except as authorized pursuant to a solid waste facilities permit issued by the enforcement agency, is prohibited.

44003. When the operator of the disposal site is not the disposal site owner, the disposal site operator's application for a solid waste facilities permit shall contain any information that the enforcement agency may require regarding the disposal site owner's interest in the real property utilized as the disposal site.

44004. (a) No operator of a solid waste facility shall make a significant change in the design or operation of any solid waste facility except in conformance with the terms and conditions in a solid waste facilities permit or revised permit issued by the enforcement agency to that operator

(b) If the operator wishes to modify the operation of a solid waste facility, the operator shall file an application for revision of the existing solid waste facilities permit with the enforcement agency. The application shall be filed at least 120 days in advance of the date when the proposed modification is to take place.

(c) Under circumstances which present an immediate danger to public health, as determined by the enforcement agency, the 120-day filing period may be waived.

44005. Any person, who is the owner of a disposal site, shall file with the enforcement agency or the board a report specifying the date when he or she encumbered, sold, transferred, or conveyed, or permitted to be encumbered, sold, transferred, or conveyed, by agreement for sale or in any other manner, his or her interest or any portion thereof in the real property utilized as the disposal site. The report shall be filed within 30 days after any sale, transfer, or conveyance of the real property.

44006. (a) Each report or application filed under this article shall be submitted under oath or under penalty of perjury.

(b) Each report, notice, or application filed under this article shall be submitted on a form approved by the board.

(c) Each application required to be filed under this article shall be accompanied by a filing fee according to a fee schedule established by the enforcement agency to reflect the cost of processing the application. Any filing fee established by the enforcement agency shall not exceed five hundred dollars ($500), except as necessary to recover costs incurred in meeting the requirements of Article 3 (commencing with Section 43500) and Article 4 (commencing with Section 43600) of Chapter 2. This fee is in addition to the fee authorized by Section 41900.

44007. The enforcement agency shall not issue or revise a solid waste facilities permit unless it has, at least 65 days in advance, provided the board and the applicant with a copy of the proposed permit, which shall contain the terms and conditions the enforcement agency proposes to establish.

44008. A decision to issue or not issue the permit shall be made by the enforcement agency within 120 days of the time the application is filed unless waived by the applicant.

44009. The board shall, in writing, concur or object to the issuance, modification, or revision of any solid waste facilities permit within 60 days of the board's receipt of any proposed solid waste facilities permit submitted under Section 44007. If the board determines that the permit is not consistent with state standards, it shall object to provisions of the permit, and shall submit such objections to the enforcement agency for its consideration. If the board fails to concur or object in writing within 60 days, it shall be deemed to have concurred in the issuance of the permit as submitted to it.

44010. The enforcement agency shall issue the permit only if it finds that the proposed solid waste facilities permit is consistent with the standards adopted by the board.

44011. A decision to issue or not issue the permit shall be made by the enforcement agency within 120 days of the time the application is filed unless waived by the applicant.

44012. When issuing or revising any solid waste facilities permit, the enforcement agency shall ensure that primary consideration is given to preventing environmental damage and that the long-term protection of the environment is the guiding criterion. To achieve these purposes, the enforcement agency may prohibit or condition the handling or disposal of solid waste to protect, rehabilitate, or enhance the environmental quality of the state or to mitigate adverse environmental impacts.

44013. The enforcement agency may suspend, revise, or revoke any permit pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 44300).

44014. (a) Upon compliance with Sections 44007, 44008, 44009, and 44011, and after any necessary hearing, the enforcement agency may issue, modify, or revise a solid waste facilities permit if the board has concurred in the permit.

(b) The permit shall contain all terms and conditions which the enforcement agency determines to be appropriate for the operation of the solid waste facility. The operator shall comply with all terms and conditions of the permit.

(c) Within 15 days of issuing, modifying, or revising a solid waste facilities permit, the enforcement agency shall transmit to the disposal site owner and the person who is or proposes to become an operator of a transfer or processing station or a disposal site, or both, a copy of the solid waste facilities permit.

44015. Any solid waste facilities permit issued or revised under this chapter shall be reviewed and, if necessary, revised at least once every five years.

44016. (a) The enforcement agency or the board may suspend or revoke the permit of any solid waste facility designed to convert solid waste from offsite sources into energy or synthetic fuels if the facility utilizes recyclable materials for conversion to energy and if the local agency in whose jurisdiction the materials are collected requires, by ordinance, contract, or otherwise, that recyclable materials within the jurisdiction of that local agency be converted into energy at that facility. This subdivision does not otherwise restrict the ability of a solid waste facility to purchase, collect, transport, or process recyclable materials.

(b) As used in this section, "local agency" means any county, city, or district authorized to collect, dispose, or collect and dispose of solid waste, or any joint powers authority formed pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 6500) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code which is authorized to construct and operate a facility for the conversion of solid waste into energy, synthetic fuel, or reusable materials.

(c) As used in this section, "recyclable materials" means discarded paper, glass, cardboard, plastic, ferrous metal, or aluminum which has been segregated from other solid waste materials for the purpose of reuse or recycling, except that recyclable materials do not include materials which a local agency, having jurisdiction over the locations where these materials exist, determines could be potentially harmful to the public health, or materials which create a public nuisance, as defined in Section 3480 of the Civil Code.

44017. The enforcement agency shall include, in the permit of any solid waste facility designed to convert solid waste into energy or synthetic fuels, a provision which requires the use of operating procedures at the facility to prevent significant quantities of hazardous waste from entering the conversion process and to ensure that the ash which is produced is nonhazardous.

Article 2. Facility Inspections

44100. (a) The enforcement agency, in issuing or reviewing any solid waste facilities permit or in connection with any action relating thereto or authorized by this division, may investigate the operation by any person of a transfer or processing station, or disposal site, collection or handling equipment, or storage area for solid wastes.

(b) In the investigation, the enforcement agency may require any person, who is or proposes to become an operator of a transfer or processing station, disposal site, collection or handling equipment, or storage area for solid wastes, to furnish, under penalty of perjury, any technical or monitoring program reports or other reports that the enforcement agency may specify.

44101 In the investigation, the enforcement agency may inspect the facility, equipment, or vehicle used for storage, collection, transportation, processing, or disposal of solid waste, as necessary to ensure compliance with this division and to determine that the terms and conditions of solid waste facilities permits are being complied with.

The inspection shall be made with the consent of the owner or possessor of the facilities or, if consent is refused, with a warrant duly issued pursuant to Title 13 (commencing with Section 1822.50) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. However, in the event of an emergency affecting the public health or safety, an inspection may be made without consent or the issuance of a warrant.

44102. Upon the request of any person furnishing any report, notice, application, or other document required by this chapter, the enforcement agency or the board shall not make available for inspection by the public those portions of the report, notice, application, or other document which contain trade secrets as defined in subdivision (3) of Section 499c of the Penal Code.

However, the portions of a report, notice, application, or other document shall be made available to governmental agencies for the use in making reports and to the state or any state agency in judicial review for enforcement proceedings involving the person furnishing the report.

Nothing in this section prohibits the disclosure of information pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1.

44103. (a) For those facilities which accept only hazardous wastes, a solid waste facilities permit issued by the enforcement agency is not required. A single hazardous waste facilities permit issued by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) of Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code shall be the only waste facilities permit necessary for the use and operation of hazardous waste disposal facilities.

(b) For those facilities which accept both hazardous wastes and other solid wastes, two permits shall be required, as follows:

(1) The hazardous waste facilities permit issued by the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Article 9 (commencing with Section 25200) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code.

(2) The solid waste facilities permit issued by the enforcement agency pursuant to this article.

(c) Nothing in this section limits or supersedes any other permit or licensing requirements imposed by other provisions of law.

44104. (a) The board shall maintain an inventory of solid waste facilities which violate state minimum standards. To the extent it is practicable to do so, the board shall incorporate in this inventory existing information collected in the course of previous surveys of this type and similar information made available to the board by state and local agencies.

(b) Whenever a solid waste facility is proposed to be included in the inventory, the board shall give notice thereof by certified mail to the disposal site owner and the operator of the solid waste facility. If, within 90 days of that notice, the violation has not been corrected, the solid waste facility shall be included in the inventory. The board shall update and publish the inventory twice annually.

44105. (a) The board shall maintain an inventory of all permitted solid waste facilities and shall conduct regular inspections.

(b) The board shall establish a special unit to investigate illegal, abandoned, or closed solid waste disposal sites to ensure that public health and safety and the environment are adequately protected.

44106. (a) The enforcement agency shall develop a compliance schedule for a solid waste facility included in the inventory prepared pursuant to Section 44014. The compliance schedule shall ensure that diligent progress will be made to bring the solid waste facility into compliance with state minimum standards within one year of the date on which actual notice is received that the solid waste facility was included in the inventory.

(b) If the solid waste facility is not in compliance within that period, the enforcement agency shall revoke the operating permit of the solid waste facility until the violations of state minimum standards are remedied. If a closed or abandoned disposal site is not in compliance within the one-year period, the unremedied condition is prima facie evidence of negligence; and, in any action for damages against the owner of the property for injury caused by the unremedied condition, the burden of proving that the injury was not caused by the unremedied condition shall be on the owner of the property.

(c) The enforcement agency may recover any costs incurred pursuant to this section by charging the fee authorized by Section 41900.

Article 3. Other Requirements

44150. (a) The enforcement agency shall not issue, revise, or reissue a solid waste facilities permit for any project which proposes to use transformation, as defined in Section 40201, unless the project complies with all of the following conditions:

(1) The proposed project meets all of the requirements specified in Section 44007.

(2) The proposed project is consistent with state solid waste management policy as set forth in Section 40051.

(3) The proposed project has a defined source of waste, including waste available from existing solid waste transfer and processing stations.

(4) The proposed project is guaranteed, by contract or other commitments, more than sufficient quantities of waste to maintain the project's economic feasibility for the life of the bonded indebtedness of the project. This guarantee shall not include any materials which will be recycled pursuant to paragraph (5).

(5) The proposed project, and any contracts or commitments the project has entered into for the provision of waste, uses front-end recycling methods or programs to remove all recyclable materials from the waste stream prior to transformation to the maximum extent feasible.

(6) If the proposed project is a thermal powerplant, the thermal powerplant has been specifically included in an adopted and approved revision of the plan prepared pursuant to Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 40500).

(7) The ash or other residue generated from the transformation project is routinely tested at least once a month, and, notwithstanding Section 25143.7 of the Health and Safety Code, if hazardous wastes are present, the ash or residue is sent to a Class 1 hazardous waste disposal facility.

(b) Facilities for the recovery of methane gas are not subject to this section.

44151. Any solid waste facility, located outside of any city, shall be maintained in compliance with the flammable clearance provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 4371) of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Government Code.

44152. No enforcement agency shall issue or revise a permit for a solid waste disposal facility or a solid waste incineration facility until the board has concluded in writing that the proposed permit is consistent with the state's minimum standards for solid waste facilities.

CHAPTER 4. DENIAL, SUSPENSION, OR REVOCATION OF PERMITS

Article 1. Denial of Permits

44300. If the enforcement agency denies a permit, or if the applicant deems the terms and conditions of the proposed permit inappropriate, the applicant may request a hearing. The hearing shall be held in accordance with Article 4 (commencing with Section 44800).

44301. (a) A hearing to determine whether a permit should be issued shall be initiated by the filing of a statement of issues by the enforcement agency. The enforcement agency shall file the statement within 15 days after receiving a written request from an applicant for a hearing. The statement of issues shall be a written statement specifying the statutes and regulations with which the applicant shall show compliance by producing proof at the hearing and any particular matters which come to the attention of the enforcement agency which would authorize a denial of the permit.

(b) The statement of issues and a notice of defense shall be served personally on the applicant or by registered mail at least 20 days prior to the hearing.

Article 2. Suspension, Revocation, or Modification of Permits

44500. After a hearing, any permit may be suspended, amended, or revoked by the enforcement agency for cause, including, but not limited to, any or all of the following:

(a) A violation of any term or condition contained in the permit.

(b) Having obtained the permit by misrepresentation or failing to disclose fully all relevant facts.

(c) A change in any condition that requires either a temporary or permanent modification, reduction, or elimination of the permitted operation to bring it into compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(d) A finding that the facility poses a substantial threat to public health or the environment.

44501. A hearing to determine whether a permit should be revoked, suspended, or modified shall be initiated by the filing of an accusation by the enforcement agency. The accusation shall be a written statement of charges which sets forth, in ordinary and concise language, the acts or omissions with which the permittee is charged. It shall specify the statutes and regulations which the permittee is alleged to have violated, but shall not consist merely of charges phrased in the language of those statutes and regulations.

44502. The accusation and all accompanying documents shall be served personally on the permittee or by registered mail.

44503. (a) The enforcement agency shall include with the accusation a form entitled "Notice of Defense" which, when signed by, or on behalf of, the permittee and returned to the enforcement agency, will acknowledge service of the accusation and constitute a notice of defense under Section 44504.

(b) The accusation shall also be accompanied by a statement that the permittee may request a hearing by filing a notice of defense within 20 days after service of the accusation, that failure to file a notice of defense constitutes a waiver of the right to a hearing, and that the permittee has the right to inspect and copy documents relative to the accusation.

44504. Within 20 days after service of an accusation, the permittee may file with the enforcement agency a notice of defense in which the permittee may do one or more of the following:

(a) Request a hearing.

(b) Object to the accusation upon the ground that it does not state acts or omissions upon which the enforcement agency may proceed.

(c) Object to the form of the accusation on the ground that it is so indefinite or uncertain that the permittee cannot identify the transaction or prepare his or her defense.

44505. A copy of the accusation or statement of issues shall be sent to the board by the enforcement agency when the accusation or statement is filed.

44506. The permittee shall be entitled to a hearing on the merits if he or she files a notice of defense, and a notice of defense is a specific denial of all parts of the accusation not expressly admitted. Failure to file a notice of defense is a waiver of the right to a hearing, except the enforcement agency may consent to a hearing.

44507. The notice of defense shall be in writing signed by, or on behalf of, the permittee and shall state his or her mailing address.

Article 3. Hearings

44800. All hearings required to be conducted under this chapter or Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 41100) shall be conducted by a hearing panel of three persons appointed by the chairperson of the local governing body of the enforcement agency under either of the following alternatives:

(a) The local governing body may appoint itself as the hearing panel.

(b) The local governing body may appoint an independent hearing panel.

44801. (a) If an independent hearing panel is appointed, not more than one member of the local governing body shall serve on the hearing panel. Members of the panel shall be selected for their legal, administrative, or technical abilities in areas relating to solid waste management. At least one member of the hearing panel shall be a technical expert with knowledge of solid waste management methods and technology. At least one member shall be a representative of the public at large. Panel members shall serve for a term of two years, and may serve more than one term but not more than two consecutive terms. If a member does not complete his or her term, the local governing body may appoint a replacement to serve out the remainder of the unexpired term.

(b) Members of the hearing panel may receive per diem and necessary expenses while conducting the hearing.

44802. The panel shall conduct the hearing, determine the facts, and issue a decision which shall be binding on the parties unless appealed as provided in Section 44815.

44803. (a) After initiation of a proceeding in which an applicant for a permit or a permittee is entitled to a hearing on the merits, a party, upon written request made to any other party prior to the hearing, is entitled to both of the following:

(1) Obtain the names and addresses of witnesses to the extent known to the other party, including, but not limited to, those intended to be called to testify at the hearing.

(2) Inspect and make a copy of any relevant documents in the possession or custody or under the control of the other party, including statements made by any person pertaining to the subject matter of the proceeding, all writings pertaining to the subject matter of the proceeding, and investigative reports made by or on behalf of the board or other party pertaining to the subject matter of the proceeding.

(b) Nothing in this section authorizes the inspection or copying of any writing or thing which is privileged from disclosure by law or otherwise made confidential or protected as an attorney's work product.

44804. Any party claiming his or her request for discovery pursuant to Section 44803 has not been complied with may serve and file a verified petition to compel discovery in the superior court for the county in which the hearing will be held, naming as respondent the party refusing or failing to comply with Section 44803. The petition shall be served upon the respondent and filed within 15 days after the respondent first failed or refused to comply with Section 44803.

44805. If, from a reading of the petition for discovery, the court is satisfied that the petition sets forth good cause for relief, the court shall issue an order to show cause directed to the respondent; otherwise, the court shall enter an order denying the petition. The order to show cause shall be served upon the respondent and his or her attorney of record in the administrative proceeding by personal service or registered mail and shall be returnable not later than 10 days from its issuance. The respondent party may serve and file a written answer to the petition and order to show cause.

44806. The administrative proceedings shall be stayed during the pendency of the proceeding before the superior court on the petition for discovery only if the court issues an order to show cause.

44807. The court shall decide the issues on the petition for discovery on the matters examined by the court in camera, the papers filed by the parties, and any oral argument and additional evidence that the court allows.

44808. The court shall, not later than 30 days after the filing of the petition for discovery, file its order denying or granting the petition. The order of the court shall be in writing setting forth the matters the petitioner is entitled to discover. A copy of the order shall be mailed immediately by the clerk to the parties.

44809.. The order of the superior court on a petition for discovery is final and not subject to review by appeal. However, a party aggrieved by the superior court's order may, within 15 days after the service of the order, file in the appropriate court of appeal and serve a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the superior court to set aside or otherwise modify its order.

44810. (a) Before the hearing has commenced, the hearing panel shall issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum at the request of any party for attendance of witnesses or production of documents at the hearing. Compliance with Section 1985 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be a condition precedent to the issuance of a subpoena duces tecum.

(b) The subpoena process shall be extended to all parts of the state and shall be served in accordance with Sections 1987 and 1988 of the Code of Civil Procedure. No witness shall be obliged to attend at a place out of the county in which he or she resides, unless the distance is less than 150 miles from his or her place of residence. However, the hearing panel, upon affidavit of any party showing that the testimony of that witness is material and necessary, may endorse on the subpoena an order requiring the attendance of that witness.

(c) All witnesses appearing pursuant to subpoena, other than the parties or officers or employees of the enforcement agency. shall receive fees, and all witnesses appearing pursuant to subpoena, except the parties, shall receive mileage, in the same amount and under the same circumstances as prescribed by law for witnesses in civil actions in a superior court. Fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose request the witness is subpoenaed.

44811. Oral evidence shall be taken only on oath or affirmation.

Each party may call and examine witnesses, introduce exhibits, cross-examine opposing witnesses on any matter relevant to the issues even though that matter was not covered in the direct examination, impeach any witness regardless of which party first called the witness to testify, and rebut the evidence against him or her. If the permittee does not testify in his or her own behalf, the permittee may be called and examined as if under cross-examination.

44812. (a) The hearing need not be conducted according to the technical rules relating to evidence and witnesses. Any relevant evidence shall be admitted if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs, regardless of the existence of any common law or statutory rule which might make improper the admission of that evidence over objection in civil actions.

(b) Hearsay evidence may be used solely for the purpose of supplementing or explaining other evidence, but shall not be sufficient in itself to support a finding unless it would be admissible over objection in civil actions.

(c) The rules of privilege shall be affected to the extent that they are otherwise required by statute to be recognized at the hearing, and irrelevant and unduly repetitious evidence shall be excluded.

44813. (a) In reaching a decision, official notice may be taken, prior to submission of the case for decision, of any generally accepted technical or scientific matter pertaining to solid waste management, and of any fact which may be judicially noticed by the courts of this state.

(b) Parties present at the hearing shall be informed of the matters to be officially noticed, and those matters shall be noted in the record. On request, any party shall be given a reasonable opportunity to refute the officially noticed matters by evidence or by written or oral presentation of authority.

44814. (a) Within 30 days after the case is submitted for decision, the hearing panel shall issue its decision. The decision shall be in writing and shall contain findings of fact, a determination of the issues presented and the penalty, if any.

(b) Copies of the decision shall be sent to all parties and to the board.

44815. The decision shall become effective 30 days after it is mailed or personally served upon the permittee unless the permittee files an appeal to the board of a decision by a hearing panel appointed by the local governing body of the enforcement agency. If an appeal to the board is filed, the decision of the hearing panel is stayed pending determination by the board.

44816. (a) If the permittee fails to file a notice of defense or to appear at the hearing, the hearing panel may take action based upon information supplied by the permittee to the enforcement agency in writing, including, but not limited to, the permit application.

(b) If the burden of proof is on the permittee to establish that he or she is entitled to the action of the enforcement agency sought, the hearing panel may act without taking further evidence.

(c) Nothing in this article deprives the permittee of the right to make any showing by way of mitigation.

44817. A person whose permit has been revoked or suspended may petition the enforcement agency for reinstatement or reduction of penalty after a period of not less than one year has elapsed from the effective date of the decision or from the date of the denial of a similar petition. If the enforcement agency declines to take the action requested, the petitioner, if he or she so requests, shall be granted a hearing pursuant to this article.

PART 5. ENFORCEMENT

CHAPTER 10. ADMINISTRATIVE ENFORCEMENT

Article 1. Permit Violations

45000. Any person who is operating or proposes to operate a transfer or processing station or a disposal site, or both, in violation of a solid waste facilities permit, or who is operating or proposes to operate any solid waste facility without a solid waste facilities permit, or who owns a disposal site and causes or permits the operator of the disposal site to violate the terms and conditions of a solid waste facilities permit or to operate the disposal site without a solid waste facilities permit, shall, upon order of the enforcement agency, cease and desist any improper action, clean up any solid waste, abate the effects thereof, or take any other necessary remedial action. If the enforcement agency fails to issue the order, the board, after notification of the enforcement agency, may do so.

45001. If any of the circumstances set forth in Section 45000 pose an imminent threat to life or health, the board may expend any available money to perform any cleanup and abatement or remedial work required.

45002. (a) If the circumstances set forth in Section 45000 do not pose an imminent threat to life or health, but the chief executive officer of the board determines that it is necessary for the public health to perform cleanup and abatement work or remedial work, the chief executive officer shall request the authorization to perform the work from the board.

45003. After receiving a request pursuant to subdivision (a), the board may hold a hearing pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 44800) of Chapter 4 of Part 4 on the matter and thereafter deny, grant, or grant in part the request.

45004. If the board grants a request submitted under Section 45002, the board shall, in a written decision, specify the nature of actions that may be taken and the maximum amount of moneys to be expended for the work.

45005. (a) Any work performed pursuant to Section 45001 or 45004 is in default of, or in addition to, remedial work by the operator or other persons, and the work may be performed regardless of whether injunctive relief is being sought.

(b) The board may perform the work itself, or have the work performed by, or in cooperation with, any other governmental agency or private contractor, and may use rented tools or equipment, either with or without operators furnished.

45006. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the board may enter into oral or written contracts for cleanup and abatement work or remedial work pursuant to Section 45001 or 45004, and the contracts, whether written or oral, may include provisions for equipment rental or the furnishing of labor and materials necessary to accomplish the work. Those contracts by the board are exempt from approval by the Department of General Services pursuant to Section 14780 of the Government Code.

44007. (a) If the solid waste is cleaned up, the effects thereof abated, or other necessary remedial action is taken by any governmental agency pursuant to Section 45001 or 45004, any person to whom an order pursuant to Section 45000 was issued is liable to that governmental agency to the extent of the reasonable costs actually incurred in cleaning up the operation, abating the effects thereof, or taking other remedial action.

(b) The amount of those costs is recoverable in a civil action by, and shall be paid to, that governmental agency together with the costs of suit incurred. From any available money, the governmental agency shall reimburse the board to the extent of the board's contribution.

Article 2. Civil Penalties

45200. Any person who operates a solid waste facility except as permitted by a solid waste facility permit, or who owns a disposal site and intentionally or negligently causes or permits the operator of the disposal site to violate the terms and conditions of a solid waste facilities permit or to operate the disposal site without a solid waste facilities permit, or who intentionally or negligently violates any standard adopted by the board for the storage or removal of solid wastes, is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each day the violation or operation occurs.

45201. Any attorney authorized to act on behalf of the board shall petition the superior court to impose, assess, and recover the civil penalties authorized by Section 41130. Funds collected shall be paid to the Solid Waste Management Fund.

45202. Remedies under this article are in addition to, and do not supersede or limit, any other remedies, civil or criminal.

Article 3. Hazard, Pollution, or Nuisances

45300. (a) Whenever the enforcement agency finds that any person is operating a solid waste facility or proposes to operate a solid waste facility which causes or threatens to cause a condition of hazard, pollution, or nuisance constituting an emergency requiring immediate action to protect the public health, welfare, or safety, the enforcement agency may issue a cease and desist or cleanup order under this article. If the enforcement agency fails to issue an order the board, after notification of the enforcement agency, may do so.

(b) The enforcement agency may, whenever it determines that the operation of a disposal site is causing or threatening to cause a condition of hazard, pollution, or nuisance due to the migration of methane gas or any solid waste, require the owner or operator of the disposal site to take corrective action as necessary to abate a nuisance or protect human health and the environment.

45301. At least 10 days before issuing an enforcement order which is not for an emergency, within five days after issuing an enforcement order for an emergency, or within 15 days after discovering a violation of a state law, regulation, or term or condition of a permit, for a solid waste disposal site which is likely to result in an enforcement action, the following agencies shall provide a written statement providing an explanation of, and justification for, the enforcement order or a description of the violation in the following manner:

(a) The enforcement agency shall provide the statement to the regional water board, to the air pollution control district or air quality management district, and to the State Department of Health Services.

(b) A regional water board shall provide the statement to the enforcement agency, the air pollution control district or air quality management district, and the State Department of Health Services.

(c) An air pollution control district or an air quality management district shall provide the statement to the enforcement agency, the regional water board, and the State Department of Health Services.

(d) The State Department of Health Services shall provide the statement to the enforcement agency, the regional water board, and the air pollution control district or air quality management district.

45302. Within 10 days after receiving a notice of the issuance of, or the proposal to issue, an enforcement order pursuant to Section 45301, the regional water board, the enforcement agency, the air pollution control district or the air quality management district, and the State Department of Health Services shall inspect the solid waste disposal site to determine whether any state law, regulation, or term or condition of a permit, which that board or agency is authorized to enforce, is being violated.

45303. If any board or agency specified in Section 41151 receives a complaint concerning a solid waste disposal site and the board or agency determines that it is not authorized to take action concerning the complaint, the board or agency shall refer the complaint within 10 days of receipt to another state agency which it determines is authorized to take action.

45304. If any agency or board specified in Section 45301 receives a complaint concerning a solid waste disposal site which the agency or board does not refer to another state agency pursuant to Section 45303, or if the agency or board receives a complaint referred to it by another agency or board pursuant to Section 45303, the agency or board shall either take enforcement action concerning that facility or, within 10 days, provide the person who filed the complaint with a written statement explaining why an enforcement action would not be appropriate.

Article 4. Corrective Actions

45400. Upon the request of the enforcement agency, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, enforce this division. In taking any action, the board is vested, in addition to its other powers, with all the powers of the enforcement agency under this division.

45401. (a) Upon the request of the enforcement agency, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, require the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to do either of the following:

(1) Take corrective action as necessary to abate a nuisance or protect human health and the environment.

(2) Prepare and implement a closure plan and postclosure maintenance plan.

(b) The board may expend funds available to it from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund in preparing and issuing an order under this subdivision.

45402. (a) Upon the request of the enforcement agency or a regional water board, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, contract for the preparation and, if necessary, the implementation of any closure plan or postclosure maintenance plan required by Article 3 (commencing with Section 43500) of Chapter 2 of Part 4 after issuance of an order pursuant to Section 45401 and the failure of the owner or operator to comply on or before the date specified in the order.

(b) The board may expend funds allocated from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund to carry out this section.

45403. (a) Upon the request of the enforcement agency, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, contract for corrective action after the issuance of an order pursuant to Section 45401 and failure of the owner and operator to comply on or before the date specified in the order.

(b) The board may expend funds allocated from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund to carry out this section.

45404. (a) If the board expends any funds pursuant to Section 45402 or 45403, the owner and the operator of the solid waste landfill shall pay the board an amount equal to the amount expended, a reasonable amount for the board's cost of contract administration, and an amount equal to the interest that would have been earned on the expended funds.

(b) The amount of any cost incurred by the board pursuant to this section shall be recoverable in a civil action by the board or, upon request of the board pursuant to Section 40432, by the Attorney General.

(c) Any amounts recovered, except amounts payable to the board for contract administration, shall be deposited in the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund.

45405. Any contract entered into by the board, pursuant to this article, is exempt from approval by the Department of General Services pursuant to Section 14780 of the Government Code.

45406. Nothing in this division affects the authority of the state water board or a regional water board to issue enforcement orders or take corrective actions on solid waste facilities.

45407. Any corrective action taken under this division shall incorporate, as a condition of the action, any applicable waste discharge requirements issued by the state water board or a regional water board, and shall be consistent with all applicable water quality control plans adopted pursuant to Section 13170, and Article 3 (commencing with Section 13240) of Chapter 4 of Division 7, of the Water Code and state policies for water quality control adopted pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 13140) of Chapter 3 of Division 7 of the Water Code existing at the time of the action or proposed action.

Article 5. Administrative Appeals

45500. Within 30 days of issuance of a written decision by a hearing panel under Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001) or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 44300) of Part 4, any aggrieved person may appeal to the board to review the written decision of the hearing panel. The board may, on its own motion, review at any time a written decision of the hearing panel.

45501. Within 30 days after an appeal has been filed with the board, the board may do any of the following:

(a) Determine not to hear the appeal if the appellant fails to raise substantial issues.

(b) Determine not to hear the appeal if the appellant failed to participate in the administrative hearing before the hearing panel, except that the board shall hear the appeal if the appellant shows good and excusable cause for his or her failure to appear.

(c) Determine to accept the appeal and to decide the matter without a hearing on the basis of the record before the hearing panel and on written arguments submitted by the parties.

(d) Determine to accept the appeal and hold a hearing, within 60 days, unless all parties stipulate to extending the hearing date.

45502. (a) If the board declines to hear the appeal, it shall notify all parties, and the decision of the hearing panel shall become effective 30 days after the date of the board's notification to the parties unless judicial review is sought.

(b) If the board accepts the appeal, the evidence before the board shall consist of the record before the hearing panel and any other relevant evidence which, in the judgment of the board, should be considered to effectuate and implement the policies of this division.

45503. In reviewing any decision of a hearing panel, the board's review shall be limited to those issues that relate to the enforcement of the state minimum standards for solid waste handling and disposal.

45504. The board may find the decision of the hearing panel inconsistent with the provisions of this division and the standards adopted by the board. Upon a finding that the decision of the hearing panel was inconsistent, the board may do any of the following:

(a) Direct that the appropriate action be taken by the enforcement agency.

(b) Refer the matter to any other state agency having jurisdiction.

(c) Take the appropriate action itself.

(d) Any combination of the above.

45505. Any attorney authorized to act on behalf of the board, at the board's request, shall petition the superior court for injunctive relief to enforce Article 1 (commencing with Section 44001) of Chapter 3 of Part 4 or Article 1 (commencing with Section 45000) or Article 3 (commencing with Section 45300) of this chapter, any term or condition in any solid waste facilities permit, or any standard adopted by the board for the storage of solid waste or for the operation of collection and transportation equipment.

45506. If the enforcement agency fails to enforce the provision, term, condition, or standard specified in Section 45505, the Attorney General shall, at the request of the board, petition the superior court for injunctive relief to enforce it 45507. The board shall, by regulation, require the appropriate administrative procedures, including notice to the permittee, to be followed by the board prior to taking action against any person under Section 45200 or 45506.

45508. Failure to appeal to the board for review as provided in this chapter does not preclude a person from filing an action in the superior court to contest the action of an enforcement agency brought under this chapter.

Article 6. Jurisdictional Disputes

45600. If an operation of a transfer or processing station or disposal site, or both, is carried on within the jurisdiction of more than one enforcement agency and there is disagreement between the enforcement agencies involved as to the conditions in the solid waste facilities permit which should be established or the enforcement thereof, either enforcement agency may submit the disagreement to the board for resolution.

45601. Upon the request of the enforcement agency, or upon its own initiative, the board may, after notification of the enforcement agency, enforce this division. In taking any action under this section, the board is vested, in addition to its other powers, with all of the powers of the enforcement agency under this division.

Article 7. Reports to Legislature

45700. (a) On or before January 1, 1991, the state water board shall submit a report to the Legislature. The report shall summarize the extent of hazardous waste in solid waste disposal sites and the potential effects these hazardous wastes may have upon the quality of waters of the state and recommend actions needed to protect the quality of water.

(b) The report shall summarize the data from those solid waste water quality assessment test reports which have been submitted during the preceding year to regional water boards pursuant to Section 13273 of the Water Code, and shall evaluate the accuracy of the solid waste water quality assessment tests conducted.

CHAPTER 2. JUDICIAL REVIEW

45800. Within 30 days after service of a copy of a decision and order issued by the board under Article 5 (commencing with Section 45500) of Chapter 1, any aggrieved party may file with the superior court a petition for a writ of mandate for review thereof.

45801. The evidence before the court shall consist of the records before the board, including the enforcement agency's records, and any other relevant evidence which, in the judgment of the court, should be considered to effectuate and implement the policies of this division.

45802. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, subdivisions (e) and (f) of Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure govern proceedings pursuant to this article.

PART 6. SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL SITE CLEANUP AND MAINTENANCE

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

Article 1. Short Title and Findings

46000. This part shall be known and may be cited as the Solid Waste Disposal Site Hazard Reduction Act of 1989.

46001. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(1) There are approximately 1,300 closed and active solid waste landfills in California.

(2) Recent studies have indicated that there may be future leachate and gas migration problems at California solid waste landfills

(3) A state solid waste cleanup and maintenance fund should be financed through fees collected from solid waste landfill operators. In addition to providing resources to respond to potential health and environmental problems at onsite and offsite solid waste landfills, the fund should be used to support state and local landfill permit enforcement programs and to provide grants to local agencies to initiate and implement waste separation programs to prevent the disposal of household hazardous waste in solid waste landfills, and to preserve remaining solid waste disposal capacity.

(b) It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature, in enacting this chapter, to provide a means for addressing and funding these urgent problems.

Article 2. Definitions

46020. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

46021. "Account" means the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund.

46022. "Closure plan" means a plan prepared by the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to close the landfill in accordance with permit conditions and standards as may be required by a regional water board, an enforcement agency, and the board.

46023. "Committee" means the Solid Waste Cleanup and Advisory Committee.

46024. "Corrective action" means any action, required or approved by the board, a regional water board, or an air quality management district or air pollution control district, to abate a nuisance or prevent the migration of methane gas or contaminated ground or surface water as necessary to protect human health and the environment.

46025. "Inert waste" means a nonliquid waste including, but not limited to, soil and concrete, that does not contain hazardous waste or soluble pollutants at concentrations in excess of water quality objectives established by a regional water board pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code and does not contain significant quantities of decomposable waste.

46026. "Postclosure plan" means a plan prepared by the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill to maintain the landfill for at least 30 years after closure in accordance with any permit conditions and standards which may be required by a regional water board or the board.

46027 "Solid waste landfill" means a disposal facility that accepts solid waste and which meets the requirements of a class III landfill pursuant to Sections 2533 and 2541 of Title 23 of the California Code of Regulations. "Solid waste landfill" does not include a facility which receives only wastes generated by the landfill owner or operator in the extraction, beneficiation, or processing of ores and minerals or a facility which receives only nonhazardous wood waste derived from timber production or wood product manufacturing.

46028. "State board" means the State Board of Equalization.

Article 2. The Solid Waste Cleanup and Maintenance Advisory Committee

46100. The committee is hereby established within the board.

46101. (a) The committee is composed of seven members, as follows:

(1) The State Director of Health Services, or a designee of the director.

(2) The Chairperson of the State Water Resources Control Board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(3) The Chairperson of the State Air Resources Board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(4) The chairperson of the board, or a designee of the chairperson.

(5) A member appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules.

(6) A member appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(7) A member, who shall be a county health officer, appointed by the Governor.

46102. The Secretary of Environmental Affairs shall serve, ex officio, as chairperson of the committee

46103. The committee shall submit an annual report to the Legislature in 1990, 1991, and 1992 on all of the following:

(a) The status of regulatory activities by state agencies relating to closure and postclosure maintenance of solid waste facilities.

(b) The progress on coordinating these activities among the state agencies with regulatory authority over closure and postclosure maintenance of solid waste facilities.

46104. All members of the committee shall serve without compensation, except the members appointed pursuant to subdivisions (e), (f), and (g) of Section 46101, are entitled to receive from the account one hundred dollars ($100) for each day attending meetings of the committee and necessary traveling and other expenses incurred by him or her in the performance of official duties.

46105. The committee shall meet at those times and places which are determined by the board. Five members of the committee constitute a quorum 46106 No member of the committee shall participate in any board or committee action involving a grant or loan guarantee which involves the member or any recipient of a grant or loan guarantee with which the member is connected as a director, officer, or employee, or in which the member otherwise has a financial interest within the meaning of Section 87100 of the Government Code.

46107. The committee shall establish detailed criteria for selecting grant recipients and for making loan guarantees pursuant to this chapter and shall make recommendations to the board thereon.

CHAPTER 3. DUTIES AND FUNCTIONS OF THE BOARD

46200. The board shall administer this chapter and may exercise all powers reasonably necessary to carry out the powers and responsibilities expressly granted or imposed upon the board pursuant to this chapter.

46201. The board may enter into loan guarantee agreements with owners or operators of solid waste landfills operating solid waste disposal facilities on or after January 1, 1990, pursuant to a solid waste facilities permit issued by the board.

46202. The board may enter into contracts which the board deems necessary to carry out its powers and duties pursuant to this part.

46203 The board may provide grants, pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 46400), to counties and cities for local programs to help prevent the disposal of hazardous wastes at solid waste disposal sites, including, but not limited to, programs to manage household hazardous waste These grants shall not exceed, in any one fiscal year, more than 20 percent of the total revenues deposited, or anticipated to be deposited, in the account during the fiscal year.

46204 The board may fix reasonable fees and charges for loan guarantees and revise, from time-to-time, these fees and charges.

46205. The board shall adopt criteria for selecting grant recipients and for making loan guarantees pursuant to this part 46206. All expenses incurred by the board in carrying out this part are payable solely from the account. No liability or obligation is imposed upon the state pursuant to this part, and the board shall not incur a liability or obligation beyond the extent to which money is provided in the account.

46207. On or before March 1, the board shall submit to the Legislature an annual report of its activities for the preceding calendar year 46208. The board shall adopt regulations to carry out this part, including, but not limited to, regulations for the issuing of loan guarantees and grants from the account. The board shall reserve 25 percent of the total revenues deposited, or anticipated to be deposited, in the account each fiscal year for the purpose of guaranteeing loans.

46209. This part does not grant any local or state agency any power in addition to any other power which may be authorized under any other provision of law.

CHAPTER 4. LOAN GUARANTEES

Article 1. Loan Guarantee Requirements

46300. The board may make loan guarantees to the owner and operator of a solid waste landfill to implement a corrective action. The board may also make loan guarantees to the operator of a solid waste landfill for corrective action taken pursuant to Section 41805.5 of the Health and Safety Code or Section 13273 of the Water Code, if the operator has paid an annual fee to the state board pursuant to Section 46801.

46301. Loan guarantees approved by the board may apply to loans made by banks, savings and loan institutions, or state or federal agencies authorized to make loans or provide other forms of financial assistance for the purposes described in Section 46300, including, but not limited to, the California Pollution Control Financing Authority.

46302. The board shall not make a loan guarantee pursuant to this chapter unless the board finds both of the following:

(a) That the owner or the operator of a solid waste landfill requires financial assistance to complete a corrective action.

(b) That loan guarantee funds will not be used to fund routine closure and postclosure maintenance activities that could be paid or financed out of trust funds or equivalent arrangements established pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 43600) of Chapter 2 of Part 5

46303 The board shall adopt uniform criteria for guaranteeing loans pursuant to this article. The criteria shall include a test for demonstrating financial need, ability to repay, and collateral requirements, if any The board shall not accept as collateral any land upon which solid waste has been disposed.

46304. The board shall not make a loan guarantee to a solid waste landfill owner or operator who cannot demonstrate compliance, or at least a good faith attempt to comply, with applicable laws, regulations, and solid waste facilities permit requirements.

46305. The board shall not make a loan guarantee to any solid waste landfill owner or operator, unless the board receives determinations from all state and local agencies authorized to approve the closure plan or postclosure plan, or issue the corrective action order, that the loan guarantee, if made, will further compliance with the permit, plan, or order.

46306 The board shall establish a method of determining priority in the allocation of loan guarantee funds available for corrective actions.

46307. The board shall base the priority for allocation of funds on all of the following factors:

(a) The financial need of the operator and owner of the solid waste landfill.

(b) The need for the loan guarantee to prevent potential hazards to public health or the environment.

(c) The increase in the cost of closure, postclosure, or corrective action which is likely to occur if the action is deferred.

(d) The record of compliance by the operator, or if applicable the owner, with the solid waste facilities permit for the solid waste landfill and with corrective action orders.

46308 Applicants for loan guarantees shall submit a nonrefundable application fee of one hundred dollars ($100) payable to the board, for deposit in the account, to defray the board's expenses in reviewing the application, including a check on the applicant's credit rating.

46309. The board shall not, on or after January 1, 1990, guarantee a loan to a person who is not the owner or operator of a solid waste landfill operating pursuant to a solid waste facilities permit issued by the board pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001) and accepting solid wastes.

Article 2. Defaults

46350. The board shall adopt procedures to be followed if there is a default in payment of a loan guaranteed pursuant to this article

46351. The default procedures may vary, depending on whether the loan guarantee was secured by real property, secured by personal property, or unsecured.

46352. The board may take legal action to secure repayments from loan guarantee recipients defaulting on loan guarantees made pursuant to this article and may call on the assistance of other state agencies in securing repayment, including, but not limited to, a levy against any tax refunds owed to the borrower by any state agency.

46353. The repeal of this article shall not extinguish a loan guarantee obligation and shall not impair any loan security taken by the board or the authority of the state to pursue appropriate action for collection.

CHAPTER 5. GRANTS

46400. The board may make grants of funds in the account to a city or county for any of the following purposes related to the safe operation, closure, and maintenance of solid waste landfills operating on or after January 1, 1990.

(a) Support for establishing collection systems to ensure that hazardous waste, including, but not limited to, household hazardous waste, is not improperly disposed of in a solid waste landfill.

(b) Payment of the local costs of waste control and enforcement programs that help prevent the disposal of hazardous wastes in solid waste landfills.

46401. If a city or county has already funded the type of program described in Section 46400 locally, the board shall award a minimum grant of funds from the account to reimburse that city or county for the actual cost of the local program in that fiscal year or 20 percent of the fees generated or anticipated to be generated in the city or county into the account during that fiscal year, whichever is less. This subdivision does not limit the authority of the board to award grants of funds from the account in excess of, or in addition to, the minimum grant amounts set forth in this subdivision, in accordance with the grant criteria adopted pursuant to Section 46205.

46402. Grants made pursuant to Sections 46400 and 46401 during a fiscal year shall equal 20 percent of the total revenues deposited or anticipated to be deposited in the account during that fiscal year.

CHAPTER 6. INSPECTIONS AND EMERGENCY ACTIONS

46500. (a) The board shall annually grant or allocate funds from the account to the state water board, as determined necessary by the board and consistent with legislative direction, to assist in the support of solid waste landfill permit inspection and enforcement programs carried out by regional water boards pursuant to Division 7 (commencing with Section 13000) of the Water Code.

(b) The board shall apportion the funds generally to reflect population, number of solid waste landfills, and the weight of solid waste disposed of within a regional water board's jurisdiction.

46501. The state water board shall expend its annual apportionment made pursuant to Section 46500 exclusively for the inspection of solid waste landfills, enforcement of the solid waste landfill's solid waste facilities permits, and enforcement of waste discharge requirements by the regional water boards.

46502. The funds apportioned pursuant to Section 46500 are in addition to any other funds available for the purposes of Section 46501.

46503. The board shall grant or allocate funds pursuant to Section 46500 in an amount which equals, in any fiscal year, 5 percent of the total revenues deposited, or anticipated to be deposited, in the account during the fiscal year.

46504. The board may allocate not more than 10 percent of the total revenues deposited, or anticipated to be deposited, in the account during the fiscal year to carry out the solid waste landfill permit and inspection program pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001) of Part 4.

46505. Upon application by the state water board or at the discretion of the board, the board may allocate funds from the account to the state water board to prepare or implement a closure plan, or a postclosure maintenance plan for a solid waste landfill, if the owner and the operator of the solid waste landfill have failed to comply with an order issued by a regional water board requiring the preparation or implementation of a closure plan or postclosure maintenance plan.

46506. Upon application by the state water board or at the discretion of the board, the board may allocate funds from the account to the state water board to take emergency corrective action if the solid waste landfill owner and operator have failed to comply with a corrective action order issued by a regional board.

46507. (a) If the regional water board expends any funds pursuant to Sections 46505 or 46506, the owner and operator of the solid waste landfill shall pay the board an amount equal to the amount expended, a reasonable amount for interest, and the costs of contract administration

(b) Costs incurred by the state water board pursuant to this article shall be recoverable in a civil action by the board or, upon the request of the board pursuant to Section 40432, by the Attorney General. Any amounts recovered shall be deposited in the account.

CHAPTER 7. THE SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL SITE CLEANUP AND MAINTENANCE ACCOUNT

46800. The Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the General Fund is continued in existence as the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund.

46801. (a) Every operator of a solid waste landfill required to have a solid waste facilities permit pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 44001) of part 4 shall pay an annual fee to the state board pursuant to Part 23 (commencing with Section 45001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code on all solid waste disposed at each disposal site. The fee shall be established by the state board and shall be based on the amount, by weight or by a volumetric equivalent, as determined by the state board, of solid waste disposed at each disposal site so that total receipts of approximately twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), are collected each calendar year.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the state board shall, as necessary, adjust the rate of the fees annually so that the balance in the account each July 1 does not exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000).

46802. The state board may exempt from all fees any operator of a solid waste landfill that receives less than a monthly average of five tons per operating day of solid waste.

46803. Recycled materials and inert waste removed from the waste stream and not disposed of in a solid waste landfill shall not be included for the purpose of assessing fees imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 46801.

46804. The state board shall adopt rules and regulations to carry out Sections 46801, 46802, and 46803, including, but not limited to, provisions governing collections, reporting, refunds, and appeals.

46805. Subject to Section 46806, the state board may spend not more than 5 percent of total revenues deposited or anticipated to be deposited in the account during a fiscal year for the administration of this chapter during that fiscal year.

46806. All money in the account is available, upon appropriation by the Legislature, only for purposes of this chapter and for the purposes of Article 5 (commencing with Section 45400) of Chapter 1 of Part 5.

46807. All money received by the state board pursuant to this chapter shall be deposited in the account.

46808. Upon repeal of this article, the account shall be dissolved and all money in the account shall be distributed to the solid waste landfill operators which have paid annual fees to the state board during the effective life of the account. Each operator shall receive an amount based upon the proportion that operator's total fees bear to the total funds paid into the account during its effective life. Any money thereafter received in repayment of loans made pursuant to this chapter shall be distributed to operators according to the same formula.

46809. Any distributions received pursuant to Section 40808 may only be used for any of the following activities related to solid waste landfills:

(a) Closure and postclosure planning and maintenance.

(b) Preventative or corrective actions to protect human health or the environment.

(c) Enforcement activities.

(d) Programs to prevent the disposal of hazardous waste in landfills.

46810. Except as provided in Section 46300, the board shall not make grants or loan guarantees until the unencumbered balance in the account is at least two million dollars ($2,000,000).

46811. (a) Any operator of a solid waste landfill that pays a fee pursuant to this chapter, may impose, as necessary, on its users an administrative fee of not more than 5 percent of the fees collected by the state board in the previous year.

(b) Administrative fees imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) shall reflect the actual costs of collecting and accounting for fees paid to the state board.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1994, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1994, deletes or extends that date.

PART 7. OTHER PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 13. HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCE INFORMATION

Article 1. Legislative Findings and Definitions

47000. The Legislature finds and declares that, because hazardous substances are an integral part of daily life, it would benefit the public to have access to practical and consistent information concerning chemicals in daily life, products which contain hazardous substances, and proper procedures for the disposal of hazardous substances. This information would improve the ability of all Californians to assist in protecting the state's natural resources from environmental degradation.

47001. The Legislature also finds that the disposal of hazardous substances by households can be injurious to sanitation workers, the general public, and wildlife and domestic animals, and can pose a threat to the environment.

47002. The Legislature, therefore, declares that the state should assist the efforts of local governments and other agencies to provide safer disposal methods for household hazardous waste and to provide public information on the proper disposal of hazardous substances commonly found in and around homes.

47003. For purposes of this chapter, "hazardous substance" means hazardous substance, as defined in Section 25316 of the Health and Safety Code.

Article 2. Public Information Program

47050. The board shall, in consultation with the advisory committee established pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 47300), develop and implement a public information program to provide uniform and consistent information on the proper disposal of hazardous substances found in and around homes. The program may include information, consistent with product labeling, on the proper use and storage of products which contain hazardous substances.

47051. The public information program shall be designed to provide uniform responses to public inquiries about household hazardous substances and to assist the efforts of local governments and other agencies to provide services related to household hazardous substances.

47052 The public information program shall include the development of pamphlets or other written materials which may be used by local governments and other agencies in conjunction with household hazardous waste collection or other programs which these agencies may offer. The written materials shall be prepared with the intent of promoting consistency in how these local programs define and handle household hazardous wastes.

Article 3. Household Hazardous Waste Management

47100. The board shall designate a household hazardous waste coordinator to advise and assist local governments and other agencies which offer programs for household hazardous waste management.

47101. The board shall provide technical assistance to local governments and other agencies which establish household hazardous waste management programs.

47102. The board shall adopt, in consultation with the State Department of Health Services and the advisory committee established pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 41450), guidelines for local governments and other agencies to provide community services related to the safe disposal of hazardous substances commonly found in and around homes.

47103. The guidelines required by this article shall include all the following elements:

(a) Development of a model operation plan for community household hazardous waste collection programs. The model operation plan shall include a description of proper procedures for hazardous waste handling, storage, transportation, and personnel training.

(b) The adoption of guidelines on the generic types of household hazardous substances which should be disposed of as hazardous waste and guidelines on the safe management of hazardous wastes generated by households which may be excluded from household hazardous waste collection programs but which may require some special handling.

47104. In adopting guidelines on which generic types of household hazardous substances should be disposed of as hazardous waste, the board shall consider such factors as toxicity, concentration of toxic ingredients in a product, and other appropriate factors The board shall also consider the appropriateness of excluding from any listing of household hazardous wastes specific categories of household products, including, but not limited to, products intended for human consumption, personal hygiene products, and other categories of household products intended for general consumer use

47105. The guidelines and operation plan prepared pursuant to this article shall, upon request, be made available to local governments, other agencies, and the public The board shall advise county health offices of the availability of these materials and of the informational materials developed pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 41410).

47106. In developing the guidelines required by this article, the board shall, to the extent feasible, consult existing sources of information, including, but not limited to, household hazardous waste collection programs which have been operated in the state and in other states, industry, and academia

Article 4. Advisory Committee

47500. The board shall establish a nine-member advisory committee on household hazardous waste management to review and comment on the informational materials developed pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 47050), to review and comment on the guidelines adopted by the board pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 47100), and to perform other functions related to household hazardous waste management, as requested by the board.

47501. The membership of the advisory committee shall be as follows:

(a) A representative of county government, from a rural county, to be selected by the County Supervisors Association of California.

(b) A representative of city government, to be selected by the League of California Cities.

(c) A representative of a hazardous waste transfer station operation, to be selected by the State Department of Health Services.

(d) A representative of public information programs, to be selected by the League of Women Voters of California.

(e) A representative of publicly owned municipal landfill operations, to be selected by the board.

(f) A representative of product manufacturers, to be selected by the Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association.

(g) A representative of waste haulers, to be selected by the Southern California Refuse Council and the Northern California Refuse Council.

(h) A representative of environmental organizations, to be selected by the League of Women Voters of California.

(i) A representative of paint and coatings manufacturers, to be selected by the National Paint and Coatings Association.

47502. The organizations selecting advisory committee members shall select individuals with experience in, or knowledge of, household hazardous waste management programs.

47503. The board shall provide staff to the advisory committee.

47504 If any of the appointing authorities for members of the advisory committee fails to make an appointment, the chairperson of the board shall make the appointment.

47505 The chairperson of the advisory committee shall be selected by the committee members. The committee shall meet at least twice a year. The chairperson shall call meetings of the committee after consultation with the board 47506. Advisory committee members shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred in attending advisory committee meetings.

CHAPTER 2. FINANCES

48000. Each operator of a solid waste landfill required to have a solid waste facility permit shall, in addition to the fee imposed pursuant to Section 46801, pay a fee quarterly to the State Board of Equalization based on all solid waste disposed of at each disposal site on or after January 1, 1990. The fee shall be based on the amount, by weight or volumetric equivalent, as determined by the board, of solid waste disposed of at each disposal site, and is due within 25 days of the end of the calendar quarter. The first payment shall be received by the State Board of Equalization on or before April 25, 1990. The fee shall be set initially at fifty cents ($.50) per ton for waste disposed of during the period of January 1, 1990, through June 30, 1990. The fee for waste disposed of during the period of July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991, shall be set by the board at an amount sufficient to generate revenues equivalent to the approved budget for the 1990–91 fiscal year, including a prudent reserve, but shall not exceed seventy-five cents ($ 75) per ton. The fee for waste disposed of on July 1, 1991, and thereafter, shall be set annually by the board at an amount sufficient to generate revenues equivalent to the approved budget for that fiscal year, including a prudent reserve, but not exceed one dollar ($1) per ton.

48001. The revenue from the fees paid pursuant to Section 41700 shall, after payment of refunds and administrative costs of collection, be deposited in the Integrated Waste Management Account, which is hereby created within the Solid Waste Management Fund.

48002 The state board shall adopt rules and regulations to carry out Section 48000, including, but not limited to, provisions governing collections, reporting, refunds, and appeals.

48003. The state board may not spend more than ½ percent of the total revenues deposited, or anticipated to be deposited in the account during a fiscal year for the administration of this chapter during that fiscal year, except that up to one hundred sixteen thousand dollars ($116,000) may be spent during fiscal year 1989–90.

48004. The money in the Integrated Waste Management Account shall be used by the board, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for the purposes of this division, except Part 6 (commencing with Section 46000), which shall be funded by fees pursuant to Section 46801.

48005. Unless otherwise specified, all money received by the board shall be deposited in the Integrated Waste Management Account and shall be used by the board, upon appropriation by the Legislature, for the purposes for which it was collected or, if not expressly specified for a particular purpose, for the purposes of this division, except Part 6 (commencing with Section 46000), which shall be funded by fees pursuant to Section 46801.

48006. The board may exempt from all fees any operator of a solid waste landfill that receives less than a monthly average of five tons per operating day of solid waste.

48007. Recycled materials and inert waste removed from the waste stream and not disposed of in a solid waste landfill shall not be included for the purpose of assessing fees imposed pursuant to Section 48000.

48008. (a) Any operator of a solid waste landfill that pays a fee pursuant to this chapter may impose, on its users an administrative fee of not more than 5 percent of the fees paid to the State Board of Equalization during the previous quarter pursuant to Section 48000.

(b) Administrative fees imposed pursuant to subdivision (a) shall reflect, to the extent feasible, the actual costs of collecting and accounting for fees paid to the State Board of Equalization.

48009. It is the intent of the Legislature that five million dollars

($5,000,000) be transferred each year through the annual Budget Act beginning with the 1990–91 fiscal year from the General Fund to the Waste Management Incentive Account, which is hereby created within the General Fund. These funds shall be designated for the purpose of offsetting revenue losses to the General Fund by tax credits which encourage private activity related to the goals and objectives of the Integrated Waste Management Program.

48010. Beginning June 30, 1991, and annually thereafter, the Controller shall transfer to the General Fund from the Waste Management Incentive Account an amount equal to the tax credits provided during the immediately prior calendar year pursuant to Section 23612.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. The estimated amount of the tax credits meeting this criteria shall be reported by the State Board of Equalization to the Controller and the Department of Finance by April 30 of each year.

CHAPTER 3 OTHER PROVISIONS

48500 If any provisions of this division or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this division which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application thereof, and to this end the provisions of this division are severable.

48501. In any civil action brought pursuant to this division in which injunctive relief is sought, it shall not be necessary to allege or prove at any stage of the proceeding that irreparable damage will occur if the injunctive relief is not granted, or that the remedy at law is inadequate, and any form of injunctive relief shall be granted without those allegations and without that proof.

48502. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the powers and duties of the State Department of Health Services pursuant to Chapter 6.5 (commencing with Section 25100) of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, including those concerning the issuance of permits for hazardous waste disposal sites, enforcement activities related to the handling, transportation, storage, use, processing, and disposal of hazardous wastes, and the development of programs for the recycling and recovery of resources from hazardous wastes, shall not be assumed or duplicated by the board pursuant to its responsibilities, powers, and duties provided in this division.

PART 8. GARBAGE AND REFUSE DISPOSAL

CHAPTER 1. GARBAGE DISPOSAL DISTRICTS

Article 1 Definitions

49000. "District," as used in this chapter, means a district formed pursuant to this chapter or pursuant to any law which it supersedes.

Article 2. Formation

49005. Any portion or portions of a county, whether contiguous or noncontiguous, and whether the portion or portions include incorporated or unincorporated territory, may be formed into a garbage disposal district in the manner and under the proceedings set forth in this chapter, except that less than the whole of any city shall not be included in the district without unanimous consent of the governing body of the city and no parcel of noncontiguous territory which is less than a full subdivision or which contains less than 10 privately owned acres may be included in any district.

49006. (a) The board of supervisors may determine, by resolution, that a portion of the county is in need of facilities for the disposal of garbage and should be formed into a district.

(b) Upon making the determination under subdivision (a), the board of supervisors shall fix a time and a place for a hearing on the matter of the formation of the district, which time shall be not less than three weeks after the adoption of the resolution, and shall direct the clerk of the board to publish a notice once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper which is circulated in the territory that is proposed to be organized into a district and which the board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of the territory

49007. The notice shall state the fact that the board of supervisors has fixed the time and place, which shall be stated in the notice, for a hearing on the matter of the formation of a garbage disposal district.

49008 The notice shall describe the territory or shall specify the exterior boundaries of the territory proposed to be organized into a district. So far as practicable, the boundaries shall be the center lines of highways

49009. At any time prior to the time fixed for a hearing of the matter, any person interested may file with the clerk of the board written objections to the formation of the district

At the time and place fixed for the hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be continued, the board of supervisors shall consider and pass on all objections to the creation of the district, or to the inclusion of any territory in the district

At the hearing, the board of supervisors may exclude any territory that, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, would not be benefited by inclusion in the district.

49010. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board of supervisors shall either adopt an order abandoning the creation of the proposed district or shall, by resolution, order the matter of the creation of the district, within the boundary lines determined upon at the hearing, to be submitted to the voters registered in the proposed district at an election to be called for that purpose.

At the election only voters registered in the proposed district shall be permitted to vote.

49011. Election precincts shall be established by the board of supervisors, and election boards composed of one inspector, one judge, and one clerk shall be named. At least one week prior to the election, notice of the election shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed district In other matters, the election shall be conducted in the manner ordered by the board of supervisors.

49012 (a) Within five days after the district formation election has been called, the board of supervisors shall transmit, by registered mail, a written notification of the election call to the executive officer of the local agency formation commission of the county or principal county in which the territory or major portion of the territory of the proposed district is located. The written notice shall include the name and a description of the proposed district and may be in the form of a certified copy of the resolution adopted by the board of supervisors.

(b) The executive officer of the local agency formation commission, within five days after being notified that a district formation election has been called, shall submit to the local agency formation commission, for its approval or modification, an impartial analysis of the proposed district formation.

(c) The impartial analysis shall not exceed 500 words in length and shall include a specific description of the boundaries of the district proposed to be formed

(d) The local agency formation commission, within five days after the receipt of the executive officer's analysis, shall approve or modify the analysis and submit it to the officials in charge of conducting the district formation election.

49013. (a) The board of supervisors or any member or members of the board authorized by the board, or any individual voter or bona fide association of citizens entitled to vote on the district formation proposition, or any combination of those voters and associations of citizens, may file a written argument for or a written argument against the proposed district formation.

(b) Arguments shall not exceed 300 words in length and shall be filed with the officials in charge of conducting the election not less than 54 days prior to the date of the district formation election

49014. (a) If more than one argument for or more than one argument against the proposed district formation is filed with the election officials within the time prescribed, the election officials shall select one of the arguments for printing and distribution to the voters.

(b) In selecting the arguments, the election officials shall give preference and priority in the order named to the arguments of the following:

(1) The board of supervisors or any member or members of the board authorized by the board.

(2) Individual voters or bona fide associations of citizens or a combination of those voters and associations.

49015. (a) The officials in charge of conducting the election shall cause a ballot pamphlet concerning the district formation proposition to be voted on to be printed and mailed to each voter entitled to vote on the district formation question.

(b) The ballot pamphlet shall contain all of the following in the order prescribed:

(1) The complete text of the proposition.

(2) The impartial analysis of the proposition prepared by the local agency formation commission.

(3) The argument for the proposed district formation.

(4) The argument against the proposed district formation.

(c) The election officials shall mail a ballot pamphlet to each voter entitled to vote in the district formation election at least 10 days prior to the date of the election. The ballot pamphlet is "official matter" within the meaning of Section 10012 of the Elections Code.

49016. If at the election a majority of all those voting upon the question of creation of the district, and a majority of those voting thereon in each city is in favor of the formation of the district, the board of supervisors shall make an order forming the district and thereupon it is formed

The order shall contain the name of the district and a description of the boundaries, or otherwise indicate its territorial extent.

The order is conclusive evidence of the regularity of all prior proceedings, except the adoption and publication in full of the resolution of intention, and of the fact of the holding of the hearing on formation.

49017 (a) A district may be formed for the exclusive purpose of providing, maintaining, and operating a garbage and refuse disposal site. In forming a district for this limited purpose, the determination of the board of supervisors required by Section 44006 shall be that this is the exclusive purpose of the district. In all other matters a district shall be formed in the same manner as other districts under this chapter. On formation, the district shall have only those powers granted to districts by this chapter that are reasonably necessary to carry out the exclusive purpose.

(b) A district formed for the exclusive purpose of providing, maintaining, and operating a garbage and refuse disposal site may issue bonds and levy taxes therefor in the same manner as provided for bonds of garbage and refuse disposal districts pursuant to Article 7 (commencing with Section 44160) of Chapter 2, and may issue revenue bonds pursuant to the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 (Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 54300) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code).

Article 3 Administration

49018. The board of supervisors is the governing body of the district and may do any or all of the following:

(a) Make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of the district, and for the collection and disposal of garbage and other refuse matter in the district.

(b) Appoint agents and employees for the district sufficient to maintain and operate the property acquired for the purposes of the district.

(c) Acquire in the name of the county, by gift, purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, and own, control, manage, and dispose of, any interest in real or personal property necessary or convenient for the collection and disposal of the garbage or other refuse matter of the district.

(d) Perform all of the acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this chapter.

49019. (a) The board of supervisors may enter into contracts for the disposal of garbage and other refuse matter. Whenever the board enters into, or renews such a contract, it shall advertise for bids for the performance of the work in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. The advertisement shall be published pursuant to Section 6062 of the Government Code. If there is no newspaper of general circulation published in the county, the notice shall be given by posting in three public places for at least two weeks.

(b) All bidders shall be granted an opportunity to ascertain the details of the nature of the work to be done under the contract. The contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. If no satisfactory bid is obtained, the board may reject all bids. If all bids are rejected, the board of supervisors may readvertise for bids or, without the necessity of readvertising, may enter into contracts for the disposal of garbage and other refuse for a term not to exceed six months on terms that are necessary or proper in the exercise of the district's powers.

49020. If an emergency occasioned by default of a contractor or other circumstances which would be detrimental to the public health, safety, or welfare of the inhabitants of the district, the board of supervisors may, without the necessity of advertising for bids, enter into contracts for the disposal of garbage and other refuse for a term not to exceed six months on terms that are necessary or proper, in the exercise of the districts' power.

Article 4. Taxation

49030. The board of supervisors shall levy a tax each year upon the taxable property in the district sufficient to defray the cost of the disposal of garbage and other refuse in the district, and of the maintenance of the district, and to meet other expenditures authorized by this chapter

The tax shall be levied and collected at the same time, and in the same manner, as general county taxes levied for county purposes and, when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury and used in furtherance of the purposes of this chapter.

49031 For any district in a county with a population of six million or more, the board of supervisors may prescribe and collect garbage and refuse collection and disposal service fees for the purpose of defraying the cost of the disposal of garbage and refuse in the district, maintaining the district, and meeting other expenditures authorized by this chapter.

Subject to the additional requirements of Section 49032, fees and charges prescribed, revised, and collected pursuant to this section shall be prescribed, revised, and collected pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 5470) of Chapter 6 of Part 3 of the Health and Safety Code.

49032 (a) Prior to adoption of the initial ordinances prescribing the fees provided for in Section 49031, the board of supervisors shall place before the voters of the district the question whether the district shall be authorized to prescribe fees. If the voters do not approve that authorization, a subsequent election to secure that approval shall not be held within one year of the date of the prior authorization election.

(b) The approval of the voters may be secured at a district or countywide election or by a ballot mailed to each registered voter of the district.

(c) The board of supervisors shall determine what majority of the voters voting on the proposition shall be required to approve the proposition

Article 5. Claims

49040 All claims for money or damages against the district are governed by Part 3 (commencing with Section 900) and Part 4 (commencing with Section 940) of Division 3.6 of Title 1 of the Government Code, except as provided therein, or by other statutes or regulations expressly applicable thereto.

Article 6. Annexation

49050. The boundaries of any district may be altered, and outlying districts or territory, whether incorporated or unincorporated, and whether contiguous or noncontiguous, may be annexed pursuant to the Cortese-Knox Local Government Reorganization Act of 1985 (Division 3 (commencing with Section 56000) of Title 6 of the Government Code). However, no parcel of noncontiguous territory which contains less than 10 privately owned acres may be annexed to any district.

CHAPTER 2. GARBAGE AND REFUSE DISPOSAL DISTRICTS

Article 1. Definitions

49100. "District," as used in this chapter, means a district formed pursuant to this chapter or pursuant to any law which it supersedes.

Article 2. Formation

49110. Any contiguous portion or portions of a county, whether the portion or portions include incorporated or unincorporated territory, may be formed into a garbage and refuse disposal district in the manner and under the proceedings specified in this chapter However, no city, or any portion thereof, shall be included in the district without the consent of the governing body of the city adopted by a favorable vote of two-thirds or more of its members.

49111. (a) The board of supervisors may determine, by resolution, that a portion of the county is in need of a site for the disposal of garbage and refuse and should be formed into a district.

(b) Upon making the determination under subdivision (a), the board of supervisors shall fix a time and a place for a hearing on the matter of the formation of the district, which time shall be not less than three weeks after the adoption of the resolution. The board of supervisors shall also direct the clerk of the board to publish a notice once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper which is circulated in the territory that is proposed to organize into a district and which the board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants of the territory.

49112. The notice shall state the fact that the board of supervisors has fixed the time and place, which shall be stated in the notice, for a hearing on the matter of the formation of a garbage and refuse disposal district.

49113. The notice shall describe the territory, or shall specify the exterior boundaries of the territory, proposed to be organized into a district.

49114. At any time prior to the time fixed for a hearing on the matter, any person interested may file with the clerk of the board of supervisors written objections to the formation of the district At the time and place fixed for the hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be continued, the board of supervisors shall consider and pass on all objections to the formation of the district or to the inclusion of any territory in the district. At the hearing, the board of supervisors may exclude any territory that, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, would not be benefited by inclusion in the district.

49115. At the final hearing the board of supervisors shall make those changes in the proposed boundaries that are advisable and shall define and establish the boundaries

49116. If, from the testimony given before the board of supervisors, it appears to the board of supervisors that the public necessity or welfare requires the formation of the district, it shall, by an order entered on its minutes, declare that to be its finding, and shall further declare and order that the territory within the boundaries so fixed and determined be organized as a district, under an appropriate name to be selected by the board of supervisors. The name shall be descriptive of the functions of the district.

49117. The county clerk shall immediately file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land embraced in the district is situated, and also shall file with the Secretary of State, a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors From and after the date of the filing of the certified copy with the Secretary of State, the district named therein is organized as a district, with all the rights, privileges, and powers set forth in this chapter or necessarily incident thereto.

49118. No district shall be formed under this chapter after October 1, 1961.

Article 3 Board of Directors

49120. (a) Within 30 days after the filing with the Secretary of State of the certified copy of the order of formation, a governing board of trustees for the district shall be appointed.

(b) The governing board of a district is a board of directors of not less than three members. The district board shall be appointed as follows:

(1) If the district includes only one incorporated city, two members of the governing body shall be selected by the board of supervisors and one member of the governing body shall be selected by the city council.

(2) If the district includes two or more cities, only one member of the governing body of the district shall be selected by the board of supervisors to represent the unincorporated area. The legislative body of each city within the district shall appoint one member to represent each incorporated city within the district. If the selection of members pursuant to this subdivision results in the governing body having an even number of members, those members may appoint an additional member from the district at large.

(c) A vacancy shall be filled in the same manner as an original appointment The person appointed shall reside within the area he or she represents.

49121. Any governing body authorized by Section 49120 to appoint a member to the district board may make the appointment from its own members.

49122. The members of the district board in office on September 15, 1961, shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, so classify themselves, by lot, that a majority of the members serve until January 1, 1963, and a minority of the members of the district board shall serve until January 1, 1965, or until the appointment of their successors or their resignation or termination of residence within the area they represent Thereafter, the term of office of each succeeding member of the district board shall be four years and each shall hold office until the appointment of his or her successor or his or her resignation or termination of residence within the area he or she represents.

49123. (a) Members of the district board may be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of official business of the district as approved by the district board.

(b) Members of the district board may also receive not more than fifty dollars ($50) per diem for each day of actual attendance at the meetings of the board, with the per diem to be established by order of the board and entered upon its minutes. No member of the district board shall, however, receive more than one hundred dollars ($100) per diem in any calendar month.

(c) In addition to any other compensation received pursuant to this section, the chairperson of the district board and the secretary of the district board, if the secretary is a member of the district board, shall each receive monthly compensation as established by the district board.

Article 4. Powers and Duties

49130. The district board may do all of the following.

(a) Make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of the district and for the operation and maintenance of the garbage and refuse disposal site acquired by the district.

(b) Appoint agents, employees, and experts for the district sufficient to maintain and operate the property acquired for the purposes of the district.

(c) Enter into contracts with other public agencies which may be necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of the district.

(d) Acquire, in the name of the district, by gift, purchase, condemnation, or otherwise and own, control, manage, dispose of, and exchange, any interest in real or personal property.

(e) Perform all acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this chapter.

(f) Maintain and operate a garbage disposal site and facilities and fix and collect fees for the use thereof.

(g) Borrow money and incur indebtedness and guarantee the performance of its legal or contractual obligations.

49131. The district board may designate any depository for the custody of any or all the money collected or received for district purposes pursuant to Article 2 (commencing with Section 53630) of Chapter 4 of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code.

A depository shall give security sufficient to secure the district against possible loss and shall pay the warrants drawn by the district for demands against the district under the rules that the district board prescribes.

Article 5. Taxation

49140. At least 15 days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of the county in which the district is situated is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, the district board shall furnish the board of supervisors and county auditor of the county an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for district's purposes during the next ensuing fiscal year.

The county tax collector shall collect the district taxes at the same time and in the same manner as the county taxes are collected. Unless the governing board has designated any depository pursuant to Section 49131, all money collected for district purposes shall be paid into the county treasury and paid out on warrants of the county auditor drawn on the county treasurer, upon order of the district board.

The amount of money necessary for the district's purposes may include a cash-basis fund.

49141 The district board may also include in its estimate prepared pursuant to Section 49140 an unappropriated reserve to cover expenditures that have not been provided for, or that have been insufficiently provided for, or for unforeseen requirements.

The money in any unappropriated reserve fund so established may be made available for appropriation by a four-fifths vote of the members of the district board at any regular or special meeting of which all members have had reasonable notice.

In addition, the district board may further provide, by resolution, for transfers or revisions of unencumbered funds within the general district expenditures provided for during any fiscal year where, in the opinion of the district board, the transfer or revision is necessary for purposes of the district.

49142. The board of supervisors of the county in which the district is situated shall, at the time of levying county taxes, levy a tax to be known as the "_____ garbage and refuse disposal district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to it by the district board, upon property of the district in the county.

The board of supervisors shall determine the rate of the tax by deducting 5 percent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the taxable property of the district within the county as it appears on the assessment roll of the county, and then dividing the sum reported to it by the district board by the remainder of the total assessed value.

49143. For purposes of the district, the board of supervisors shall levy a tax of not more than fifteen cents ($0.15) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of taxable property of the district in the county.

49144. The district board may establish and maintain a cash-basis fund for the purpose of defraying district expenses between the beginning of a fiscal year and the time of distribution of tax receipts in a fiscal year The cash-basis fund shall not exceed 60 percent of the estimated expenditures for a fiscal year.

Article 6. Claims

49150. All claims for money or damages against the district are governed by Part 3 (commencing with Section 900) and Part 4

(commencing with Section 940) of Division 3 6 of Title 1 of the Government Code except as provided therein, or by other statutes or regulations expressly applicable thereto.

Article 7. Bonds

49160 No general obligation bonds shall be issued by the district unless the issuance thereof is approved by the electors of the district at a special election as provided in this article. If the district board finds that it is necessary to incur a bonded indebtedness to obtain funds with which to carry out the purposes of the district, it may submit the proposition to the voters of the district. For that purpose, a special election shall be called by resolution.

49161 The resolution shall state all of the following:

(a) The general objectives and purposes for which it is proposed to incur an indebtedness.

(b) A general description of all property to be acquired or damaged and work to be executed through the expenditure of the funds secured by the issuance and sale of the bonds.

(c) An estimate of the cost of the proposed work.

(d) The amount of the bonds proposed to be issued.

(e) The number of years beyond which the all of the bonds are to run.

(f) The rate of interest or a maximum rate of interest to be paid.

(g) The date of the election.

(h) The election precincts, polling places, and election officers.

49162. For purposes of the bond election, the district board may consolidate into one precinct several precincts established for general election purposes and describe the precinct by reference to the general election precincts.

49163. An election board consisting of one inspector, one judge and one clerk shall be appointed by the district board for each precinct.

49164. Only voters registered in the district are eligible to vote at the bond election.

49165. A resolution calling the election shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper having a general circulation in the district and designated by the district board. No other notice of the election is required

49166 If two-thirds of the votes cast are in favor of incurring the bonded indebtedness as proposed, bonds of the district for the amount stated in the resolution calling the election shall be issued and sold.

49167. The validity of the bonds after their issuance shall not be questioned in any court except on the ground that the provisions of this chapter authorizing their issuance are unconstitutional, or that the required hearing regarding the formation of the district was not regularly held or proper notice of it was not given

49168. The district board shall prescribe, by resolution, the form of the bonds and interest coupons. The bonds shall be payable at the times and at a place to be fixed by the district board and designated in the bonds, together with interest on all sums unpaid on that date until all of the indebtedness has been paid. The term of the bonds issued shall not exceed 40 years.

49169. The bonds shall be issued in the denominations that the district board determines, except that no bond shall be of a denomination less than one hundred dollars ($100) or greater than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

The bonds shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in the bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in the bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of 8 percent per annum and shall, after the first year, be payable semiannually.

49170. The bonds shall be signed by the chairperson of the district board and countersigned by the county auditor, and the seal of the district board shall be affixed. The interest coupons of the bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the county auditor by his or her engraved or lithographed signature.

49171. If any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on the bonds ceases to be an officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, his or her signature or countersignature shall be as valid as if he or she had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

49172. The district board may issue and sell bonds of the district at not less than par value, and the proceeds shall be placed in the treasury of the county.

49173. All premiums and accrued interest received shall be paid into the fund to be used for the payment of principal of, and interest on, the bonds and the remainder of the proceeds of the sale shall be paid into the construction fund of the district. Proper records of the transactions shall be placed upon the books of the county treasurer

49174 (a) The funds in the construction fund shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the resolution calling the bond election.

(b) Payments from the construction fund shall be made upon demands authorized by the district board, and shall be prepared, presented, and audited in the same manner as demands upon funds of the county.

49175. If the proposition of issuing bonds submitted at the bond election fails to receive the requisite number of votes, the district board may, after expiration of six months after that election, call or order another bond election, either for the same objects and purposes, or for any other object or purpose of the district.

49176. If bonds have been issued by the district and the proceeds of the sale have been expended and the district board, by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, determines that the public interest or necessity of the district demands the issuance of additional bonds for carrying out any of the objects of the district, the district board may again submit to the voters the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner as for a first issue. All provisions of this chapter for the issuance and sale of bonds, and for the expenditure of proceeds, apply to the issuance of additional bonds.

49177. Bonds and interest thereon shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual tax upon the property in the district, and all the property in the district shall be and remain liable to be taxed for those payments.

The bonds and the interest thereon shall not be taxable in this state.

49178. (a) An issue of bonds is hereby defined to be the aggregate principal amount of all of the bonds authorized to be issued in accordance with a proposal submitted to and approved by the electors of the district, but no indebtedness is deemed to have been contracted until bonds have been sold and delivered and then only to the extent of the principal amount of the bonds so sold and delivered.

(b) The district board issuing bonds may, in its discretion, divide the aggregate principal amount of the issue into two or more divisions or series and fix different dates for the bonds of each separate division or series. If any authorized issue is divided into two or more divisions or series, the bonds of each division or series may be made payable at the time or times fixed by the district board, separate and distinct from the time or times for the payment of bonds of any other division or series of the same issue.

49179. Whenever a district has issued bonds, in its annual statement to the board of supervisors as to the amount of money needed for district purposes during the next ensuing fiscal year pursuant to Section 44140, the district board shall include, in addition thereto, the amount necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, those bonds that will become due before the time for making the next general tax levy

49180 If the district board fails to furnish to the board of supervisors a statement of the amount of money necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds as required by Section 49179, the board of supervisors shall ascertain that amount and shall levy it and cause it to be collected.

49181. The principal of, and interest on, the bonds shall be paid by the treasurer of the county in the manner prescribed by law for the principal of, and interest on, the bonds of the county.

Article 8. Revenue Bonds

49190. A district formed pursuant to this chapter is a local agency within the meaning of the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 (Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 54300) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code), and the provisions of that law are applicable to that district.

Article 9. Change of Boundaries

49195. The boundaries of any district may be altered, and outlying contiguous territory, whether incorporated or unincorporated, may be annexed pursuant to the Cortese-Knox Local Government Reorganization Act of 1985 (Division 3 (commencing with Section 56000) of Title 1 of the Government Code).

CHAPTER 3. FRANCHISE BY COUNTIES

49200. Every franchise or permit for the collection, disposal, or destruction, or any combination thereof, of garbage, waste, offal, and debris, shall be granted by the board of supervisors only under the terms and conditions of this chapter.

49201 (a) Any county may, by resolution adopted by the board of supervisors, call for bids for the granting of a franchise or permit, exclusive or otherwise, for the collection, disposal, or destruction, or any combination thereof, of garbage, waste, offal, and debris, according to the terms and conditions set forth in the resolution, for a period of time not to exceed 25 years.

(b) After adoption of the resolution pursuant to subdivision (a), the board of supervisors shall cause to be published once a week for two successive weeks a notice which shall set forth all of the terms and conditions in the resolution and the time, date, and place for the receiving and opening of sealed bids, which shall not be sooner than four full weeks from date of the first publication of the notice.

(c) Upon examination by the board of supervisors of the bids, the franchise or permit may be awarded to the lowest qualified bidder. The board of supervisors may postpone the granting of the franchise or permit from time to time until it has had a full and complete opportunity to examine the merits of each bid.

49202. The successful bidder shall file with the board of supervisors, upon grant of the franchise or permit, a bond in favor of the county in an amount and under the terms and conditions prescribed by the board of supervisors

49203 The county may, in the resolution and advertised notice, impose terms and conditions other than those specified in this chapter if they are not in conflict with this chapter.

49204. A bidder may in his or her franchise or permit bid set forth any propositions, terms, and conditions that the bidder may desire to offer, or receive the benefit from, which may be in addition to, or in conflict with, those specified in the resolution or advertised notice calling for bids, if they are not in conflict with this chapter.

49205. The board of supervisors which, prior to July 1, 1980, adopted an ordinance governing the granting of franchises or permits for the collection, disposal, or destruction, or any combination thereof, of garbage, waste, offal, and debris, and which granted franchises or permits pursuant to that ordinance covering defined zones or areas of the county, may extend the term of any of those franchises or permits for only one additional period not exceeding 25 years without advertising or calling for bids as required by Section 49201, if all of the following conditions exist:

(a) (1) The county franchise or permit ordinance contains rules and regulations for the protection of the public health and welfare and provides that the board of supervisors may control the rates to be charged customers by the franchise or permitholders.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision in a county ordinance, the board of supervisors shall not increase the rates to be charged to customers by franchise or permitholders without first calling and holding a public hearing on the proposed increase in rates. Publication of notice of the hearing required by this paragraph shall be made by the board of supervisors pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code

(b) The franchise or permit proposed to be extended was granted in strict compliance with the requirements for calling and advertising for bids and award to the lowest qualified bidder pursuant to Section 49201, and was otherwise granted in strict compliance with this chapter.

(c) The franchise or permit proposed to be extended was granted on a nonexclusive basis so that the board of supervisors is not precluded from granting additional franchises or permits to cover the same areas if, in the judgment and discretion of the board of supervisors, the public interest will be served thereby.

(d) The county franchise or permit ordinance authorizes the county auditor or any other qualified public accountant to audit periodically the books and records of the franchise or permitholders.

CHAPTER 4. CITY GARBAGE DISPOSAL CONTRACTS

49300. The legislative body of any incorporated city may contract for the collection or disposal, or both, of garbage, waste, refuse, rubbish, offal, trimmings, or other refuse matter under the terms and conditions that are prescribed by the legislative body of the city by resolution or ordinance

CHAPTER 5. GARBAGE AND REFUSE DUMPS

49400. No city, county, district, or public or municipal corporation shall acquire and operate, or cause to be acquired and operated, a dump or site for the disposal of garbage or refuse, or a transfer station or collection point for garbage or refuse, within a city without the consent of the city council or within the unincorporated area of a county without the consent of the board of supervisors.

CHAPTER 6. SOLID WASTE ENTERPRISES

Article 1. Definitions

49500. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this chapter.

49501. "Exclusive solid waste handling services" means any action by a local agency, whether by franchise, contract, license, permit, or otherwise, whereby the agency itself or one or more other local agencies or solid waste enterprises has the exclusive right to provide solid waste handling services of any class or type within all or any part of the territory of the local agency.

49502 "Local agency" means any county, city, or district having the authority to provide solid waste handling services either by the agency itself or by authorizing or permitting other local agencies or solid waste enterprises to provide solid waste handling services.

49503. "Solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid and semisolid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, manure, vegetable or animal solid or semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes

49504. "Solid waste enterprise" means any individual, partnership, joint venture, unincorporated private organization, or private corporation regularly engaged in the business of providing solid waste handling services.

49505 "Solid waste handling services" means the collection, transportation, storage, transfer, or processing of solid wastes for residential, commercial, institutional, or industrial users or customers.

Article 2. Legislative Findings

49510. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) Although local agencies are authorized to furnish solid waste handling services, in extensive parts of the state solid waste enterprises are furnishing all or substantial portions of necessary solid waste handling services.

(b) It is in the public interest to foster and encourage solid waste enterprises so that, at all times, there will continue to be competent enterprises willing and financially able to furnish needed solid waste handling services.

Article 3. Continuation of Services

49520. If a local agency has authorized, by franchise, contract, license, or permit, a solid waste enterprise to provide solid waste handling services and those services have been provided for more than three previous years, the solid waste enterprise may continue to provide those services up to five years after mailed notification to the solid waste enterprise by the local agency having jurisdiction that exclusive solid waste handling services are to be provided or authorized, unless the solid waste enterprise has an exclusive franchise or contract.

If the solid waste enterprise has an exclusive franchise or contract, the solid waste enterprise shall continue to provide those services and shall be limited to the unexpired term of the contract or franchise or five years, whichever is less.

49521. A solid waste enterprise providing solid waste handling services is subject to this chapter only under both of the following conditions:

(a) The services of the solid waste enterprise are in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions of the franchise, contract, license, or permit, and meet the quality and frequency of services required by the local agency in other areas not served by the solid waste enterprise

(b) The rates charged by the enterprise may be periodically reviewed and set by the local agency.

49522. Nothing in this chapter affects the right of a city following annexation to terminate for cause a franchise, contract, license, or permit held by a solid waste enterprise authorized by the county.

49523. Any local agency or solid waste handling enterprise may contract, upon mutually satisfactory terms, for the termination of all or any part of the business of the solid waste enterprise before the expiration of the period specified in Section 49520.

CHAPTER 7. BURNING GARBAGE

Article 1 General Provisions

49600. No person shall operate in any city or town any crematory for the destruction by fire heat of garbage, ashes, offal, or other refuse matter, except as provided in this chapter.

49601. No crematory described in Section 49600 shall be operated in this state except in a manner which will prevent the propagation of disease through contamination of the atmosphere of any city or town by the gases or fumes arising from the fires or ovens of the crematory.

49602. Every person who burns by fire heat or destroys by cremation any garbage, ashes, offal, or other refuse matter in violation of this article is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Article 2 Cremation of Animal Refuse

49620. Any person who destroys, or who attempts to destroy, the carcass of any dead animal, or the offal from any slaughter pen, corral, or butcher shop by fire within one-fourth of a mile of any city, town, or village, except in a crematory whose construction and operation are satisfactory to the board of health of the city or the health officer of the town, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 23. Section 45002 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45002. The collection and administration of the fee referred to in Section 45051 shall be governed by the definitions contained in Part 6 (commencing with Section 46000) of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code, unless expressly superseded by the definitions contained in this part.

SEC. 24. Section 45009 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45009. "Fee payer" means any person liable for the payment of a fee imposed by Section 46801 of the Public Resources Code

SEC. 25. Section 45051 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45051. The fee imposed pursuant to Section 46801 of the Public Resources Code shall be administered and collected by the board in accordance with this part.

SEC. 26 Section 45101 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45101. Every person who operates a solid waste landfill required to have a solid waste facilities permit pursuant to Section 46801 of the Public Resources Code shall register with the board.

SEC. 27. Section 45151 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45151. The fee collected and administered under Section 45051 is due and payable to the board annually on or before July 1 of each year Each fee payer, on or before March 1 of each year, shall prepare a report for the preceding calendar year, in the form prescribed by the board, showing the information required to be reported by Section 46801 of the Public Resources Code and any other information that the board deems necessary to carry out this part.

The fee payer shall deliver the report to the office of the board on or before March 1 of each year. The fee payer shall deliver a remittance of the amount of tax assessed pursuant to Section 46801 of the Public Resources Code to the office of the board on or before the following July 1.

SEC. 28. Section 45855 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45855. Any information regarding solid wastes which is available to the board shall be made available to the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

SEC. 29. Section 45901 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45901. All fees, interest, and penalties imposed and all amounts of fee required to be paid to the state pursuant to Section 45051 shall be paid to the board in the form of remittances payable to the State Board of Equalization of the State of California. The board shall transmit the payments to the Treasurer to be deposited in the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the Solid Waste Management Fund.

SEC. 30. Section 45981 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

45981. (a) The board shall provide any information obtained under this part to the California Integrated Waste Management Board.

(b) The California Integrated Waste Management Board and the board may utilize any information obtained pursuant to this part to develop data on the generation or disposal of solid waste within the state. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the California Integrated Waste Management Board may make waste generation and disposal data available to the public

SEC. 31. Section 45982 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read·

45982. Neither the California Integrated Waste Management Board, nor any person having an administrative duty under Part 9 (commencing with Section 15600) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code shall disclose the business affairs, operations, or any other information pertaining to a fee payer which was submitted to the board in a report or return required by this part, or permit any report or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person not expressly authorized by Section 45981 or this section. However, the Governor may, by general or special order, authorize examination of the records maintained by the board under this part by other state officers, by officers of another state, by the federal government if a reciprocal arrangement exists, or by any other person. The information so obtained pursuant to the order of the Governor shall not be made public except to the extent and in the manner that the order may authorize that it be made public.

SEC. 32. (a) The Legislature finds and declares by this act that it has expressly repealed and not recodified Articles 1 (commencing with Section 66700), 3 (commencing with Section 66730), 4 (commencing with Section 66740), and 5 (commencing with Section 66750) of Chapter 1, Articles 2 (commencing with Section 66780), 3 (commencing with Section 66785), and 3.5 (commencing with Section 66788) of Chapter 2, and Article 3 (commencing with Section 66796.45) of Chapter 3 of Title 7.3 of the Government Code.

(b) Except as expressly provided in subdivision (a), the Legislature declares that the recodification of the balance of Title 7.3 (commencing with Section 66700) of the Government Code by this act is a continuation of, and not a change to, existing law

(c) The Legislature declares that by this act it has recodified all of Chapters 1 (commencing with Section 4100) to 3 (commencing with Section 4300), inclusive, of Part 2 (commencing with Section

4100) of Division 5 of the Health and Safety Code and that all provisions are a continuation of, and not a change to, existing law. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the provisions of Parts 1 (commencing with Section 40000) to Part 7 (commencing with Section 47000), inclusive, and Part 8 (commencing with Section 48000) of Division 30, as enacted by this act, the provisions of Parts 1 to 7, inclusive, shall prevail.

(d) On the effective date of this section, the California Integrated Waste Management Board shall strictly implement and enforce the provisions of this act. All articles expressly repealed by this act shall, on the effective date of this section, have no force or effect.

SEC. 33. Any section of any act enacted by the Legislature during the 1989 calendar year which takes effect on or before January 1, 1990, and which amends, amends and renumbers, adds, or repeals and adds a section which is repealed by Sections 3 to 21, inclusive, of this act, shall prevail over this act, whether that act is enacted prior to, or subsequent to, this act.

SEC. 34 (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, until a sufficient number of members are appointed to the California Integrated Waste Management Board pursuant to Chapter 3, (commencing with Section 40400) of Part 1, of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code and take office to transact the business of the board, as described in Section 40410 of the Public Resources Code, the former California Waste Management Board shall perform the duties of the California Integrated Waste Management Board, as prescribed in this act.

(b) Except as provided in Section 40434 of the Public Resources Code, the California Integrated Waste Management Board succeeds to and is vested with all of the powers, duties, funds, officers, and employees of the California Waste Management Board.

SEC 35. It is the intent of the Legislature that, if this bill and SB 1260 are both enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, and this bill is enacted after SB 1260, that the provisions of Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000), as added to the Public Resources Code by this bill, and Division 30 (commencing with Section 40100), as added to the Public Resources Code by SB 1260, form a single, unified California Integrated Waste Management Act of 1989 (Division 30 (commencing with Section 40400) of the Public Resources Code).

Therefore, if both this bill and SB 1260 are enacted and this bill is enacted last, this bill does not prevail over SB 1260 and the provisions of both bills shall become operative in a single, unified Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000) of the Public Resources Code

SEC. 36. The California Integrated Waste Management Recycling Board may use not more than six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) in the 1989–90 fiscal year and not more than one million two hundred thousand dollars ($1,200,000) in the 1990–91 fiscal year from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the General Fund, if those respective amounts are appropriated in the Budget Act for those fiscal years from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account in the General Fund, for initial startup costs incurred pursuant to Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 40400) and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 40500) of Part 1 of Division 30 of the Public Resources Code. Any funds made available from the Solid Waste Disposal Site Cleanup and Maintenance Account for the purposes specified in this section shall be a loan, which shall be repaid to the account, with interest calculated at the rate the funds would have earned in the Pooled Money Investment Account as fee revenue becomes available.

SEC. 37. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1096

An act to add Division 30 (commencing with Section 40100) to the Public Resources Code, relating to solid waste.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature declares that it is incumbent upon the state to demonstrate a leadership role in implementing the integrated waste management hierarchy of actions specified in Section 40051 in order to assist in accomplishing the goals set forth in this division.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature to place high priority on implementing state programs that accomplish the following objectives:

(1) Promote changes to manufacturing and consumption habits that result in the reduction of generation of waste.

(2) Increase the procurement of recycled materials by the state.

(3) Improve markets for recyclable materials.

(4) Conduct research and development to improve the technology of recycled materials manufacturing processes

(5) Inform and educate the public about the integrated waste management hierarchy.

(c) The responsibility for implementation of the integrated waste management hierarchy is borne equally by the government, business and individual citizens. To define the critical role of the state program to the success of local implementation of integrated waste management programs, the Legislature hereby declares the need to identify specific state program actions to reduce the amount of waste generated, enhance the markets for recycled products, increase recycled products procurement by the state, define the role of business and industry in changing wasteful manufacturing practices, and to implement a comprehensive public information and education program to achieve the goals of integrated waste management.

SEC. 2. Division 30 (commencing with Section 40100) is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

DIVISION 30. WASTE MANAGEMENT

PART 1. INTEGRATED WASTE MANAGEMENT

CHAPTER 2 DEFINITIONS

40100. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this article govern the construction of this division.

40110. "Board" means the California Waste Management Board.

40115. "City" or "county" includes city and county.

40121. "Disposal facility" or "facility" means any facility or location where disposal of solid waste occurs.

40122. "Disposal site" or "site" includes the place, location, tract of land, area, or premises in use, intended to be used, or which has been used for the landfill disposal of solid wastes. "Disposal site" includes solid waste landfill, as defined in Section 41318.

40160. "Operator" means the person to whom the approval to operate a disposal site, transfer/processing station, or collection system is granted.

40170. "Person" includes an individual, firm, association, copartnership, political subdivision, government agency, municipality, industry, public or private corporation, or any other entity whatsoever.

40172. "Processing" means the reduction, separation, recovery, conversion, or recycling of solid waste.

40180. "Recycle" or "recycling" means the process of collecting, sorting, cleansing, treating, and reconstituting materials that would otherwise become solid waste, and return them to the economic mainstream in the form of raw material for new, reused, or reconstituted products which meet the quality standards necessary to be used in the marketplace. "Recycling" does not include transformation, as defined in Section 40201.

40190. "Segregated from other waste material" means any of the following:

(a) The placement of recyclable materials in separate containers.

(b) The binding of recyclable material separately from the other waste material.

(c) The physical separation of recyclable material from other waste material.

40191. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), "solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible solid, semisolid, and liquid wastes, including garbage, trash, refuse, paper, rubbish, ashes, industrial wastes, demolition and construction wastes, abandoned vehicles and parts thereof, discarded home and industrial appliances, dewatered, treated, or chemically fixed sewage sludge which is not hazardous waste, manure, vegetable or animal solid and semisolid wastes, and other discarded solid and semisolid wastes.

(b) "Solid waste" does not include hazardous waste.

40192. "Solid waste disposal" or "disposal" means the final deposition of solid wastes onto land, into the atmosphere, or into the waters of the state.

40194. "Solid waste facility" includes a disposal facility, a disposal site, and a solid waste transfer or processing station.

40200. (a) "Transfer or processing station" or "station" includes those facilities utilized to receive solid wastes, temporarily store, separate, convert, or otherwise process the materials in the solid wastes, or to transfer the solid wastes directly from smaller to larger vehicles for transport and those facilities utilized for transformation.

(b) "Transfer or processing station" or "station" does not include any of the following:

(1) A facility whose principal function is to receive, store, separate, convert or otherwise process, in accordance with state mimimum standards, manure.

(2) A facility whose principal function is to receive, store, convert, or otherwise process wastes which have already been separated for reuse and are not intended for disposal.

(3) The operations premises of a duly licensed waste handling operator who receives, stores, transfers, or otherwise processes wastes as an activity incidental to the conduct of a refuse collection and disposal business in accordance with regulations adopted by the board.

40201. "Transformation" means incineration, pyrolysis, distillation, gasification, or biological conversion other than composting. "Transformation" does not include composting.

PART 3. STATE PROGRAMS

CHAPTER 1. STATE SOURCE REDUCTION PROGRAM

42000. A Source Reduction Advisory Committee is hereby established in the board which consists of seven members who have demonstrated expertise is source reduction.

42001. The committee shall recommend specific actions to the board and the Legislature to reduce the volume of materials generated in the state. The committee shall develop specific recommendations for submittal to the board and for consideration by the Legislature.

42002. Recommendations developed by the committee shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Packaging and product design improvements.

(b) Development of product durability standards.

(c) Methods for increasing recycled feedstock use.

(d) Reducing toxicity of packaging and products.

(e) Evaluation of new technology developments.

42003. The Source Reduction Advisory Committee shall consist of the following representatives:

(1) One member representing the product packaging industry appointed by the Governor.

(2) One member representing the durable goods manufacturing industry appointed by the Governor.

(3) One member representing the nondurable goods manufacturing industry appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

(4) One member representing the marketing/advertising industry appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

(5) One member representing consumers appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(6) One member representing an environmental group appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly.

(7) The chair of the board or his or her designee, who shall act as the chair of the committee.

42004. The Source Reduction Advisory Committee shall meet monthly for 12 months beginning in January 1991. Following the final meeting, the committee shall meet as frequently as necessary to summarize the findings of the committee and submit a report to the board on or before June 30, 1992, with recommendations for action to achieve source reduction goals.

42005. The board shall consider the recommendations of the committee and adopt any recommendations that it determines are appropriate. Recommendations adopted by the board shall be forwarded to the Legislature and the Governor within six months of formal adoption by the board and in a manner to be prescribed by the board.

42006. The Source Reduction Advisory Committee shall be reimbursed at a rate of one hundred dollars ($100) per day for each day of meeting, not to exceed four hundred dollars ($400) per month, plus expenses for travel calculated at the current per diem reimbursement structure for civil service employees of the state.

42007. In the event of the vacancy, replacement appointees may be appointed by the designated appointing power to serve the remainder of the term of office.

CHAPTER 2. RECYCLED MARKET DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

42100. The Recycling Market Development Commission is hereby created in the board. The commission shall make the recommendations for expansion of markets for recyclable materials annually to the Governor and the Legislature and shall include the progress of markets development for recyclable materials.

42101. The commission shall consist of the following members:

(a) The chairperson of the board, or his or her designee, who shall serve as chair of the commission.

(b) The director, or his or her designee, of the Department of Commerce.

(c) One member, appointed by the Governor, who shall represent private manufacturing businesses.

42102. The commission shall meet at least quarterly or more frequently as determined by the board.

42103. The commission shall perform the following tasks:

(a) Establish a direct liaison with the private manufacturing industries in the state to promote increased utilization of recycled feedstock in manufacturing processes.

(b) Assist local governments in the inclusion of recycling activities into county Overall Economic Development Plans.

(c) Promote utilization of all available financial resources for expansion of recycling industry capacity.

(d) Review the research and development programs administered by the board and advise the board on such activities.

(e) Review state, local, and private industry product and materials procurement practices and recommend improvements to such practices.

42104. The commission shall report its recommendations to the Legislature and the Governor, specifying actions to be taken to accomplish the tasks assigned to the commission.

42105. The board shall provide staff support to the California Markets Development Commission.

CHAPTER 3. MARKET DEVELOPMENT ZONES

Article 1. General Provisions

42140. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the health, safety, and welfare of the people of California depend upon the development, stability, and expansion of domestic markets for the postconsumer wastes collected by recycling within the state. Therefore, the Legislature finds and declares that the purpose of this act is to stimulate the recycling of postconsumer waste materials generated in California as raw materials used as feedstock by private business, industry, and commerce.

42141. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to infringe upon regulations relating to civil rights, equal employment rights, equal opportunity rights, or fair housing rights of any person or any environmental protection or public health law.

42142. The following definitions govern the construction of this chapter:

(a) "Applicant" means a person, city, county, or city and county applying for designation as a Recycling Market Development Zone.

(b) "Eligible area" means a geographic area meeting the criteria described in subdivision (d).

(c) "Postconsumer waste material" means any product generated by a business or a consumer which has served its intended end use, and which has been separated from solid waste for the purposes of collection, recycling, and disposition and which does not include secondary waste material.

(d) "Recycling market development zone" or "zone" means any single or joint, contiguous parcels of property that, based on the determination of the board, meets at least the following criteria:

(1) The area has been zoned an appropriate land use for the development of commercial, industrial, or manufacturing purposes.

(2) The area is identified in the countywide integrated waste management plan as part of the market development section.

(3) The area is located in a city with an existing postconsumer waste collection infrastructure.

(4) The area may be used to establish commercial, manufacturing, or industrial processes which would produce end products that consist of not less than 50 percent recycled materials.

(e) "Secondary waste material" means industrial byproducts which would otherwise go to disposal facilities and wastes generated after completion of a manufacturing process, but does not include internally generated scrap commonly returned to industrial or manufacturing processes, such as home scrap and mill broke.

Article 2. Designation of Zones

42145. (a) The local governing body may, either by ordinance or resolution, upon the recommendation of the appropriate land use planning agency, propose eligible parcels of property within its jurisdiction as a recycling market development zone.

(b) The proposal of a recycling market development zone shall be based upon the following findings by the local governing body:

(1) The current waste management practices and conditions are favorable to development of postconsumer waste material markets.

(2) The designation as a recycling market development zone is necessary in order to assist in attracting private sector recycling investments to the area.

42146. Any parcel of property designated as a recycling market development zone shall retain this designation for 10 years.

42147. The local governing body, or any person through the local governing body, may apply to the board for designation as a recycling market development zone.

42148. On or before July 1, 1991, the board shall adopt regulations and guidelines concerning the necessary contents of each application for designation and, in the state integrated waste management plan, shall determine the maximum number of recycling market development zones to be designated pursuant to this chapter.

42149. The board may designate or redesignate recycling market development zones for persons applying for that designation.

42150. If there are more applications for designation than the number of recycling market development zones to be designated, the board shall select the applicants who shall receive the designation of a recycling market development zone based on a comparison of the applications submitted and an indication that the applicant's proposals include effective, innovative and comprehensive regulatory tax, and other incentive programs to attract private sector investment in the proposed recycling market development zone.

42151. For the purpose of Section 42150, "regulatory incentives" include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(a) The suspension or relaxation of locally originated or modified building codes, zoning laws, and general plans.

(b) The elimination or reduction of fees for applications, permits, and local government services, and the establishment of a streamlined local permit process.

42152. For purposes of Section 42150, "tax incentives" include, but are not limited to, the elimination or reduction of construction taxes or business license taxes.

42153. For purposes of Section 42150, "other incentives" may include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(a) The provision for expansion of infrastructure.

(b) Provisions for increased amounts of recyclable feedstock.

42154. The board shall consider the amount of remaining landfill capacity when evaluating applications for recycling market development zones.

42155. In evaluating an application for designation of a recycling market development zone, the board shall not deny the application solely because of technical deficiencies. The board shall provide applicants with an opportunity to correct technical deficiencies. An application shall be denied if technical deficiencies are not corrected within two weeks.

42156. Nothing in this chapter prohibits an applicant from seeking designation of an enterprise zone by the Department of Commerce and receiving economic incentives as defined in Section 7073 of the Government Code.

42157. In evaluating an application for designation of a recycling market development zone, the board shall consult with the Department of Commerce.

42158. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to limit the authority of local governments to make land use decisions within their jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 4. RECYCLED-CONTENT HIGH GRADE, BLEACHED PRINTING AND WRITING PAPERS PROGRAM

Article 1. Definitions

42200. The following definitions govern the construction of this chapter.

42201. "Department" means Department of General Services.

42202. "Recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers" means all paper and woodpulp products containing postconsumer waste and secondary waste materials, as defined in this section. "Postconsumer waste" means a finished material which would normally be disposed of as a solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Secondary waste" means fragments of finished products or finished products of a manufacturing process, which has converted a virgin resource into a commodity of real economic value, and includes postconsumer waste, but does not include fibrous waste generated during the manfacturing process such as fibers recovered from waste water or trimmings of paper machine rolls (mill broke), wood slabs, chips, sawdust, or other wood residue from a manufacturing process.

"Recycled paper product" means a paper product with not less than 50 percent of its total weight consisting of secondary and postconsumer waste with not less than 10 percent of its total weight consisting of postconsumer waste.

Article 2. Purchases

42210. On and after January 1, 1991, the department shall ensure that at least 25 percent of all high grade, bleached printing and writing papers purchased for state agencies is made from recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers, as defined, allowing for the following conditions:

(a) The suppliers of recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers bid within 5 percent of the lowest bids by suppliers of high grade, bleached printing and writing papers made from virgin material.

(b) The recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers meet the specifications for state purchases of high grade, bleached printing and writing papers established by the department pursuant to Section 42212.

(c) The suppliers of recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers make shipment to the department within a reasonable time period, as determined by the department.

42211. The percentage of recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers purchased for state agencies shall be calculated in reams and used on an annual basis and shall increase to:

(a) Thirty percent on and after January 1, 1994.

(b) Thirty-five percent on and after January 1, 1997.

(c) Forty percent on and after January 1, 2000.

42212. The department shall revise its specifications for high grade, bleached printing and writing papers by January 1, 1991. The revised specifications shall be based on the mean average of the numerical standards for printing opacity, brightness level, and cross-machine tear strength for all recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers available in the state. The department shall establish specifications which deviate from this average by not more than 5 percent.

42213. The department shall submit to the board the numerical standards and calculations used in determining its specifications for high grade, bleached printing and writing papers within 30 days of establishing the specifications.

42214. The department shall review its specifications at least once every two years to determine whether they discriminate against recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers available in the state. If it is determined that discrimination exists, the department shall establish new specifications according to the criteria in Section 42212.

42215. The department shall inform every supplier of recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers that had submitted bids to sell such papers to the state within the 12 months preceding a bidding period for high grade, bleached printing and writing papers that the state is accepting bids for high grade, bleached printing and writing papers. The name of each supplier contacted, address, and telephone number shall be submitted to the board within 30 days following the close of each bidding period. The department shall make that information available to any other supplier upon request.

Article 3. Certification

42220. The department shall, on or before March 1 of each year, certify the number of reams of high grade, bleached printing and writing papers made from virgin material purchased for use by state agencies during the preceding calendar year and the number of reams of recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers used during the preceding calendar year.

42221. The certification of the department shall be submitted to the board on or before March 31 of each year following the reporting year.

42222. If the department is unable to meet the 25 percent purchasing requirement for recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers within any reporting period, the department shall so certify and provide specific reasons for failing to meet the 25 percent purchasing requirement. This certification shall be submitted to the board by April 30 of each year following the reporting year.

CHAPTER 5. COMPOST MARKET PROGRAM

Article 1. Definitions

42230. The following definitions govern the construction of this chapter.

42231. "Compost" means the product resulting from the controlled biological decomposition of organic wastes that are sources separated from the municipal solid waste stream.

Article 2 Compost Market Program

42240 The Department of General Services and the board, in consultation with other affected state agencies, shall, on or before January 1, 1991, promulgate regulations for the purchase of compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sewage sludge by the State of California. The regulations shall designate the state minimum operating standards and product quality standards. The regulations shall be designed to maximize the use of compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sludge without jeopardizing the safety and health of the citizens of the state or the environment.

42241 On or after January 1, 1991, the Department of Transportation shall use compost in place of, or to supplement, petroleum-based commercial fertilizers in the state's highway landscape maintenance program.

42242. On or after January 1, 1991, the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, the Department of Parks and Recreation, and the Department of General Services, in cooperation with the board, shall identify and evaluate uses for compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sewage sludge in public land restoration projects, state landscaping projects, and park and recreational area maintenance programs. The results of the evaluation shall be submitted to the board by March 31, 1992.

42243. On or after January 1, 1993, the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, the Department of Parks and Recreation, and the Department of General Services shall initiate programs to restore public lands that use compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sewage sludge and shall use those products wherever possible.

42244. On or after January 1, 1991, the board shall evaluate compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sewage sludge for use as solid waste landfill cover materials or for use as extenders for currently used cover material. Compost, co-compost, or chemically fixed sewage sludge products, when used as a substitute for or mixed with currently approved cover material, shall possess all the physical characteristics required in the definition of a cover material. The results of the evaluation shall be reported in accordance with the reporting requirements of the evaluation shall be reported in accordance with the reporting requirements of Section 42246.

42245. On or after January 1, 1992, based on the results of the evaluation conducted in accordance with Section 42243, the board may, on a case-by-case basis, approve the use of compost, co-compost, and chemically fixed sewage sludge that meet the performance standards for cover material, be used as up to 25 percent of landfill cover materials or landfill cover extenders.

42246. Any procuring agency that prepares a request for bid for commercial fertilizers or soil amendment products shall document its determination that the use of a compost, co-compost, or chemically fixed sewage sludge would jeopardize public health or safety or would jeopardize the intended result of the project.

42247. The board shall report on the implementation of this chapter in accordance with the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

CHAPTER 6. PLASTIC RECYCLING PROGRAM

Article 1. Definitions

42360. "Postconsumer plastic" means a finished plastic product which would normally be disposed of as solid waste, having completed its life cycle as a consumer item. "Postconsumer plastic" does not include manufacturing and fabrication scrap.

42361. "Recycled secondary plastic product" means any product comprised of at least 75 percent plastic material, of which the plastic component contains at least 25 percent secondary material.

42362. "Recycled postconsumer plastic product" means any product comprised of the maximum technologically feasible percentage of postconsumer plastic.

42363. "Secondary plastic material" means any plastic scrap material generated as a byproduct of a manufacturing or fabrication process for finished or unfinished plastic products.

Article 2. Plastic Recycling Program

42370. The board shall review the existing purchasing guidelines of the Office of Procurement of the Department of General Services, to identify impediments to the increased procurement of recycled products and report those impediments to the Director of the Department of General Services.

42371. The Office of Procurement, in cooperation with the board, shall develop and adopt specifications for the procurement of recycled secondary and postconsumer plastic products by July 1, 1992. The board shall review and comment on the specifications before adoption and the comments shall become part of the record of the adoption procedure under Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

42372. The Office of Procurement, whenever the price is competitive for the purpose intended, shall procure recycled secondary and postconsumer plastic products instead of plastic products made from virgin resins. The preference shall be extended to the bidder whose products contain the highest percentage of secondary and postconsumer plastic materials, to the extent that the quality of the product is equal to that of the virgin resin counterpart and that the price is equal to or less than the virgin resin product.

42373. By July 1, 1992, the board shall perform a study to identify methods to increase the utiliztion of recyclable plastics in manufacturing of new products. The report shall identify laws, regulations, and institutional barriers to the development of markets for recyclable plastics. The results of the study shall be included in the report required pursuant to Section 42950.

CHAPTER 7. RETREADED TIRE PROGRAM

Article 1. Definitions

42400. The following definitions govern the construction of this chapter.

42401. "Retreaded tire" means any tire that utilizes an existing casing for the purpose of vulcanizing new tread to such casing which meets all performance and quality standards specified in the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards determined by the United States Department of Transportation.

Article 2. Retreaded Tire Program

42410. The board shall evaluate current state and federal quality standards for retreaded tires and identify the obstacles for an increased market for retreads. The results of this evaluation and the activities that the board will undertake to increase the use of retreaded tires shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

42411. The Department of General Services and the board, in consultation with representatives of the California retreading industry, may promulgate regulations for the purchase of retreaded tires by the State of California. The regulations shall designate the state minimum quality standards for retreaded tires. The regulations shall be designed to maximize the use of retreads without jeopardizing the safety of the occupants of the vehicle or the intended end use of the tire.

42412. On or before July 1, 1991, and to the extent that existing stock shall be utilized first, all tires for use on state vehicles issued for short-term use through Fleet Administration shall, at the next required installation of tires, be equipped with retreaded tires.

42413. Emergency vehicles, as defined in Section 165 of the California Vehicle Code are exempt from this provision.

42414. The number of retreaded tires purchased annually by the Department of General Services during each fiscal year shall be tabulated and forwarded to the board by August 31, 1992, and by August 31 of every subsequent year. This information shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

42415. On or before July 1, 1993, the board, in consultation with the Department of General Services, shall perform a study to determine if the retreads, procured by the Department of General Services, have met all quality and performance criteria of a new tire. The results of this study and any recommendations to expand, revise, or curtail the program shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

42416. On or before July 1, 1991, the board shall, in consultation with the retreading industry, develop a procedure to estimate the number of retreads sold in California. This information, in addition to other facts compiled on utilization of retread tires, shall be used to evaluate the effectiveness of this program. The results of this evaluation shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

CHAPTER 8. RECYCLED LEAD-ACID BATTERY PROGRAM

42440. For the purposes of this chapter, "lead-acid battery" means any battery which is primarily composed of both lead and sulfuric acid, with a capacity of six volts or more, and which is used for any of the following purposes:

(a) As a starting battery which is designed to deliver a high burst of energy necessary to crank an engine until it starts.

(b) As a motive power battery which is designed to provide the sources of power for propulsion or operation.

(c) As a stationary standby battery which is designed to be used in systems where the battery acts as a source of emergency power, serving as a backup in case of failure or interruption in the flow of power from the primary source.

42441. "Recycled lead-acid battery" means any lead-acid battery which contains a minimum percentage of postconsumer recovered lead. The required minimum percentage of postconsumer recovered lead shall be determined by the board in consultation with the Market Development Commission.

42442. On or before January 1, 1991, all lead-acid batteries purchased by any state agency for, and, at the next required installation of a battery in, an automobile or light truck owned or operated by the state agency, the battery shall be a recycled lead-acid battery, to the extent that all existing stock of nonrecycled batteries have been utilized.

42443. The number of recycled lead-acid batteries purchased each fiscal year by the Department of General Services shall be tabulated and forward annually to the board by August 31, 1992, and every subsequent fiscal year. This information shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

CHAPTER 9. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Article 1. Enforcement Agency Training and Assistance

42500. The board shall provide periodic training to enforcement agencies regarding changes in state or federal regulations, new technologies affecting solid waste landfill operations, and other matters which will enhance the enforcement agencies' ability to carry out their enforcement responsibilities.

42501. The board shall provide ongoing technical assistance and guidance to enforcement agencies to assist in their decisionmaking processes. This assistance shall include, but is not limited to, providing all of the following:

(a) Technical studies and reports.

(b) Copies of innovative facility operation plans.

(c) Investigative findings and analyses of new waste management practices and procedures.

Article 2. Waste Evaluations

42510. To the extent that resources are available for this purpose, the board shall provide technical assistance to the public and private sector in the form of government and business waste evaluations, upon the request for that assistance.

42511. The waste evaluations shall be designed to accomplish the following objectives:

(a) A thorough review and analysis of the processes followed by the government agency, business, or manufacturer and an identification of procedural changes which would reduce the amount of waste generated by the agency, business, or industry.

(b) A thorough review and analysis of the waste stream of individual offices or subunits of government, business, or manufacturing to determine what materials currently disposed of could reasonably be segregated for the purpose of recycling.

(c) Recommendations of specific methods to segregate recyclables from the waste stream and make other organizational improvements to facilitate recycling.

(d) Identification of potential markets for the segregated recyclables.

(e) Review current procurement practices to evaluate potential substitution of recycled products for virgin products.

(f) An evaluation of cost-saving benefits of source reduction and recycling in terms of waste collection costs avoided due to changes in consumption and disposal practices.

(g) Review of product and package design procedures and practices and identification of possible methods to increase the recycled content and recyclability of those products and packages.

Article 3. Plastic Recycling Assistance

42520. The board shall establish a Plastics Recycling Information Clearinghouse. This clearinghouse shall provide information to postconsumer plastics collectors, reprocessors, and recyclers about programs collecting postconsumer plastics, availability of postconsumer plastics, and recent advances in postconsumer plastics recycling technology.

Article 4. Assessment of Costs of Waste Management Options

42530 The following definitions govern the construction of this article:

(a) "Opportunity cost of land" means the cost a landowner incurs by not being able to rent or sell the land for other purposes.

(b) "Quantity-based user fee" means a waste management services user fee which varies according to the quantity of waste disposed.

42531. On or before January 1, 1991, the board shall undertake a study to develop a uniform cost accounting methodology to evaluate the costs of integrated waste management program options. The methodology shall include, to the extent feasible, all costs incurred for the design and operation of the option, including, but not limited to, site acquisition, the opportunity cost of land, purchase of capital equipment, operation, closure, postclosure maintenance and liability, environmental monitoring, and the cost of environmental impacts, in order to provide standardized units of cost comparison among options.

42532. Local jurisdictions that have developed a methodology for assessment of costs for solid waste options that accomplishes all of the methodologies specified in Section 42531 shall have the option of utilization of such methodology.

42533. It is the policy of the state to encourage the use of quantity-based user fees. To the extent that quantity-based users fees assist in promoting source reduction, local governments are encouraged to establish such billing systems that structure costs based on quantity of waste generated, such as variable can rates for residential waste.

42534. The board shall review the tax incentive provisions related to the integrated waste management program on an annual basis to determine if the combination of credits and deductions offered to business and individuals is effective in encouraging participation in goal-related activities as outlined in Section 42535. Recommendations for continuing or discontinuing the tax incentive provisions, and adding new features shall be included in the reporting requirements specified in Section 42950.

42535. The board shall evaluate the costs and benefits of integrated waste management. The evaluation shall include the tax costs and revenue benefits derived from tax credits and other source reduction, recycling, and resource conversion incentive programs. The evaluation shall include the effects of incentive programs on state and local government tax revenues and collection procedures, the effects on economic development and job creation, and the impacts on municipal solid waste management costs and revenues.

On or before March 31, 1995, the board shall report on the results of the evaluation for inclusion in the biennial report specified.

Article 5. City and County Integrated Waste Management Plans

42540. The board shall provide technical assistance to counties and cities to assist in development, revision, amendment, and implementation of local city source reduction and recycling elements and countywide integrated waste management plans. Assistance rendered, at the discretion of the board, includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(a) Developing regulations for the implementation of the city source reduction and recycling elements and the countywide integrated waste management plans.

(b) Conducting waste characterization studies on a city, county, district, regional, or statewide basis, or any combination thereof.

(c) Developing annual baseline data for measurement of the effectiveness of local plans in achieving statewide goals.

(d) Conducting studies on issues or problems that impact the ability of local government, the state, or business and industry in achieving individual or collective goals for integrated waste management.

(e) Developing mechanisms to implement market development recommendations recommended by the board.

(f) Providing technical and general information deemed appropriate to assist state and local governments achieve the objectives of integrated waste management elements and plans.

CHAPTER 10. OFFICE PAPER RECOVERY PROGRAM

42560. "Recycled-content high grade, bleached printing and writing papers" means any of the following papers:

(a) Offset printing, mimeograph, and duplicator paper.

(b) Stationery, bond, and office paper.

(c) High-speed copier paper.

(d) Envelopes without plastic address windows.

(e) Form bond, including computer paper and carbonless forms.

(f) Book papers.

(g) Ledger, cover stock, and cotton fiber papers having a secondary wastepaper, as defined in Section 42204, or postconsumer wastepaper, as defined in Section 42203, content of at least 50 percent by weight.

42561. On or before January 1, 1991, the board shall initiate a high grade white office paper recovery assistance program for state and local agencies and private businesses.

42562. The high grade white office paper recovery assistance program shall include the following elements:

(a) Staff training materials designed to provide training to local program coordinators and instruction to personnel of state and local agencies and private businesses who would participate in high grade white office paper recovery programs.

(b) Public information materials designed to provide initial program startup support and periodic reinforcement to high grade white office paper recovery programs.

(c) Desk top collection containers designed for use by personnel within the office setting.

(d) Metal collection bins that meet State Fire Marshal's standards for overnight storage of flammable materials for use in intermediate storage of recovered paper.

(e) Staff assistance from the board to identify markets for collected materials, including model contracts for negotiation with local paper brokers.

42563 The board shall report on the implementation of the white office paper recovery program in the report specified in Section 42950.

CHAPTER 11. LOS ANGELES COUNTY PILOT LITTER PROGRAM

42580. (a) The board shall develop and implement a pilot litter cleanup and abatement project on highways in Los Angeles County. The pilot project shall be administered by the board in consultation with the California Department of Transportation and shall utilize to the maximum extent feasible, members of the California Conservation Corps to perform the specified litter collection activities To the maximum extent feasible, the pilot project shall be conducted in coordination with existing litter cleanup and abatement programs.

(b) The pilot litter cleanup and abatement project shall be conducted for a period of 12 months, commencing July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991.

(c) The pilot litter cleanup and abatement project shall be funded, upon appropriation by the Legislature, from the Integrated Waste Management Account of the Solid Waste Management Fund in an amount not to exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(d) The pilot litter cleanup and abatement project shall be structured to incorporate new innovations to alleviate problems associated with litter that accomplish the following objectives:

(1) Integrate recycling activities into the state highway litter cleanup program.

(2) Test and evaluate the feasibility and impact of utilization of degradable plastic bags for state highway litter abatement programs.

(3) Coordinate the statewide public information and education program, administered by the board, to increase the public's awareness of the problems posed by indiscriminate littering.

(4) Conduct detailed litter composition analyses to identify, classify, and quantify litter components for consideration in the study of full disposal cost fees.

(5) Assess the impact of the cost for litter cleanup on local government, the state, appropriate federal agencies, business and manufacturers, and the public

(e) The board shall evaluate the effectiveness of the pilot litter cleanup and abatement program and report to the Legislature, not later than September 30, 1991, on the recommendations for continuation, expansion, or curtailment of the project.

CHAPTER 12 PUBLIC INFORMATION AND EDUCATION

42600. The board shall conduct a statewide public information and education program to encourage participation by the general public, business, government, and industry in all phases of integrated waste management. To the maximum extent possible, public information and education programs developed pursuant to this chapter shall be coordinated so as to not duplicate the efforts of other state agency public information programs. The public information and education program shall encourage participation in the board's integrated waste management programs. The board's program shall, at a minimum, include strategies and specific campaign activities to do all of the following:

(a) Encourage business and industry to reduce excess packaging of consumer products, to eliminate nonrecyclable contaminants from consumer goods, and to increase product durability. The board shall also promote waste handling practices which reduce waste generation by business and industry.

(b) Promote consumer tips to reduce waste generation through selective purchasing and to encourage recycling at home and work. The board shall also provide the public with information about safe waste transformation and landfill technologies.

(c) Foster local government procurement of products containing recycled materials, integration of recycling into the community waste management infrastructure, and public participation in local waste management decisionmaking.

(d) Implement a "Buy Recycled" campaign to encourage business, industrial, and residential consumers to purchase products manufactured with, or packaged in, recycled materials. To promote the "Buy Recycled" program, the board shall develop a directory of California vendors providing recycled products and shall work to dispel myths regarding the inferiority of recycled products.

42601. The board shall measure public information program effectiveness through research which establishes program benchmarks and tracks results. The results of such measurement shall serve as the basis for program modification.

42602. The board shall employ appropriate marketing techniques to disseminate its message, including radio and television advertising. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit the board from conducting paid advertising campaigns or from soliciting joint sponsorship of advertising campaigns by private industry.

42603. (a) The board, in cooperation with the State Department of Education, shall develop, produce, and disseminate supplementary materials to teach the concepts of source reduction, recycling, and integrated waste management in California schools.

(b) The board and the State Department of Education shall jointly develop requests for proposals to develop and pilot test separate supplementary materials for elementary, middle, and high schools. The department shall assist in the evaluation of contractor proposals for supplementary materials development contracts issued by the board, and shall advise the board during the development process to ensure that the materials are consistent with the science framework adopted by the State Board of Education. The department shall also participate in monitoring development contracts issued by the board.

(c) The department, in cooperation with the board, shall develop a teacher training and implementation plan to guide the placement of the supplementay materials in the schools. The plan shall project the phased implementation of elementary, middle, and high school programs following pilot testing. The board shall use the plan and consult with the department in developing its annual public information and education budget, and shall include sufficient funds for successful implementation.

42604. With the advice of the board, the California Community Colleges, California State University, and University of California shall focus teaching and research efforts to promote career development and technological advancement in integrated waste management.

42610. The State Board of Education shall include in the science framework appropriate language addressing the issue of integrated waste management in the ecology and environmental studies areas.

42611. The State Department of Education shall encourage the use of supplementary materials developed in cooperation with the California Waste Management Board to satisfy the teaching requirements of the science framework adopted by the State Board of Education.

CHAPTER 13. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

42650. The board may establish a comprehensive research and development program designed to identify, develop, and refine processes and technologies that will assist state and local governments and private industries to implement innovative resource management and waste reduction programs. Upon appropriation by the Legislature, the board is authorized to conduct research and development programs that include, but are not limited to:

(a) Establishment of a recycling extension service within the board to serve as a central clearinghouse for recycling research information.

(b) Establishment of cooperative research and development facilities at universities and colleges in the state.

(c) Development of a research program to study the feasibility of using landfill mining technology to extend the life of existing landfills, recover valuable resources, and to reuse the reclaimed landfill in an environmentally sound manner.

(d) Establishment of a research program to identify educational and promotional methods that can effect environmentally positive changes in human behavior.

(e) Conducting studies into hazards posed by special wastes and by the ash and air emissions from incineration of waste.

(f) Evaluation of the potential for various materials recovery technologies, including materials recovery facilities, to handle significant portions of the waste stream safely and in an environmentally sound manner.

(g) Conducting research to develop statistical tools to establish computer-based databases on waste characteristics, special waste volumes, and county and regional waste capacities.

(h) Analyzing landfill encroachment problems and develop effective public policy tools to discourage landfill encroachment.

(i) The board shall submit the results of the research and development programs in the report required by Section 42952.

CHAPTER 14. REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE

42950. Commencing March 31, 1991, and each March 31 of each odd-numbered year thereafter, the board shall submit a comprehensive report to the Legislature that reflects the progress on implementation of the Integrated Waste Management Act.

42951. The biennial report shall be organized to correlate with the activities undertaken at each level of the hierarchy specified in Section 40051.

42952. In addition to the information reflecting the actions undertaken in the previous two years, the biennial report shall contain a comprehensive state plan for action to be taken in the ensuing five years to establish appropriate priorities and implement appropriate programs for integrated solid waste management in the state. Included in the state plan shall be an evaluation of the effectiveness of this division and any recommendations for legislative change to make this division more effective.

SEC. 3. It is the intent of the Legislature, if this bill and AB 939 are both enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, and this bill is enacted after AB 939, that the provisions of Division 30 (commencing with Section 40100), as added to the Public Resources Code by this bill, and Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000), as added to the Public Resources Code by AB 939, form a single, unified California Integrated Waste Management Act of 1989 (Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000) of the Public Resources Code).

Therefore, if both this bill and AB 939 are enacted and this bill is enacted last, this bill does not prevail over AB 939, and the provisions of both bills shall become operative in a single, unified Division 30 (commencing with Section 40000) of the Public Resources Code.

CHAPTER 1097

An act to amend Section 76000 of, and to add Section 76010 to, the Government Code, relating to justice facilities.

[Became law without Governor's signature. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 76000 of the Government Code is amended to read:

76000. (a) In each county, provided that the board of supervisors has adopted a resolution stating that the provisions of this section and Section 76001, 76002, 76004, 76005, 76006, 76008, 76009, or 76010 are necessary to the establishment of adequate facilities in the county, the following surcharges and penalties shall be collected, except that a resolution adopted pursuant to Section 76004 may limit the collection to the penalties specified in paragraph (2) or (3), as applicable, a resolution adopted pursuant to Section 76005, 76008, or 76010 shall limit the collection to the penalties specified in paragraph (2), and a resolution adopted pursuant to Section 76009 shall limit the collection to the penalties specified in paragraph (4):

(1) Except as limited by resolution pursuant to this subdivision, with respect to each fund established pursuant to Section 76001, 76002, 76004, or 76006, for every parking offense where a fine or forfeiture is imposed, a surcharge of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) shall be included in the fine or forfeiture.

The judges of the county shall increase the bail schedule amounts as appropriate to reflect the surcharge provided for by this subdivision.

In those cities, districts, or other issuing agencies which elect to receive, deposit, accept forfeitures, and otherwise process the posting of bail for parking violations pursuant to subdivision (3) of Section 1463 of the Penal Code, that city, district, or issuing agency shall observe the increased bail amounts as established by the court reflecting the surcharge provided for by this paragraph.

(2) With respect to each fund established pursuant to Section 76002, 76004, or 76005, except in the counties listed in paragraph (3), and with respect to each fund established pursuant to Section 76008 or 76010, there shall be levied an additional amount of one dollar ($1) for every ten dollars ($10) or fraction thereof which shall be collected together with and in the same manner as the penalty established by Section 1464 of the Penal Code, upon every fine, penalty, or forfeiture imposed and collected by the courts for criminal offenses, including all offenses involving a violation of the Vehicle Code or any local ordinance adopted pursuant to the Vehicle Code, except offenses relating to parking or registration or offenses by pedestrians or bicyclists, or where an order is made to pay a sum to the general fund of the county pursuant to clause (C) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. This amount shall be deposited with the county treasurer and placed in the fund established pursuant to Section 76002, 76004, 76005, 76008, or 76010.

(3) Except as provided in subdivision (h) of Section 76006, but notwithstanding any other provision of law, in Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Marin, Monterey, Orange, Placer, Riverside, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Solano, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Ventura, and Yolo Counties, with respect to each fund established pursuant to Section 76001, 76004, or 76006, there shall be levied an additional amount of two dollars ($2) for every ten dollars ($10) or fraction thereof which shall be collected together with and in the same manner as the penalty established by Section 1464 of the Penal Code, upon every fine, penalty, or forfeiture imposed and collected by the courts for criminal offenses, including all offenses involving a violation of the Vehicle Code or any local ordinance adopted pursuant to the Vehicle Code, except offenses relating to parking or registration or offenses by pedestrians or bicyclists, or where an order is made to pay a sum to the general fund of the county pursuant to clause (C) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. These amounts shall be deposited with the county treasurer and placed in the funds established pursuant to Sections 76001, 76004, and 76006.

(4) With respect to each fund established pursuant to Section 76009, there shall be levied an additional amount of fifty cents ($0.50) for every ten dollars ($10) or fraction thereof which shall be collected together with and in the same manner as the penalty established by Section 1464 of the Penal Code, upon every fine, penalty, or forfeiture imposed and collected by the courts for criminal offenses, including all offenses involving a violation of the Vehicle Code or any local ordinance adopted pursuant to the Vehicle Code, except offenses relating to parking or registration or offenses by pedestrians or bicyclists, or where an order is made to pay a sum to the general fund of the county pursuant to clause (C) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. This amount shall be deposited with the county treasurer and placed in the fund established pursuant to Section 76009.

(b) The surcharge and penalty increase imposed pursuant to this section shall continue so long as deposits to the funds are required pursuant to Section 76001, 76002, 76004, 76005, 76006, 76008, 76009, or 76010.

(c) No county, city and county, city, district or other issuing agency shall be required to contribute revenues to any fund in excess of those revenues generated from the surcharges and penalty established in the resolution adopted pursuant to this section, except as otherwise agreed upon by the local governmental entities involved.

SEC. 2. Section 76010 is added to the Government Code, to read:

76010. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, to assist the County of Kern in the funding of the county juvenile justice facilities, the board of supervisors, operative upon the adoption of a resolution stating that the provisions of this section and Section 76000 are necessary to the establishment of adequate county juvenile justice facilities in the county, may establish in the county treasury a County Juvenile Justice Facility Temporary Construction Fund. Deposits shall be made to this fund as follows.

(b) The county treasurer shall place in the fund one dollar ($1) for every ten dollars ($10) or fraction thereof for every fine, penalty, or forfeiture imposed and collected by the courts for criminal offenses, including all offenses involving a violation of the Vehicle Code or any local ordinance adopted to the Vehicle Code except offenses relating to parking or registration or offenses by pedestrians or bicyclists, or where an order is made to pay a sum to the general fund of the county pursuant to paragraph (C) of subdivision (3) of Section 258 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(c) The fund moneys together with any interest earned thereon shall be held by the county treasurer separate from any funds subject to transfer or division pursuant to Section 1463 of the Penal Code. The moneys in the County Juvenile Justice Facilities Temporary Construction Fund shall be payable only for construction, reconstruction, expansion, improvement, operation, or maintenance of county juvenile justice or county juvenile justice rehabilitation facilities. The money in the fund may be used through any public agency funding mechanism, including, but not limited to, retirement of bonded indebtedness, loan repayments, and monthly payments involving lease-purchase programs, which reduce an obligation incurred in reliance upon the authority granted by this section.

(d) Deposits to the fund in accordance with this section shall continue through and including the 10th year after the initial calendar year in which the surcharge is collected, unless this date is extended by a later enacted statute prior to the expiration date.

SEC. 3. Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall not become operative if Senate Bill 870 is enacted repealing Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 76000) of, and adding Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 76010) to, Title 8 of the Government Code, and takes effect on or before January 1, 1990.

CHAPTER 1098

An act to amend Section 11590 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11590 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11590. (a) Except as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d), any person who is convicted in the State of California of any offense defined in Section 11350, 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11353, 11353.5, 11353.7, 11354, 11355, 11357, 11358, 11359, 11360, 11361, 11363, 11366, 11366.5, 11366.6, 11368, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, 11380, 11380.5, 11383, or 11550, or any person who is discharged or paroled from a penal institution where he or she was confined because of the commission of any such offense, or any person who is convicted in any other state of any offense which, if committed or attempted in this state, would have been punishable as one or more of the above-mentioned offenses, shall within 30 days of his or her coming into any county or city, or city and county in which he or she resides or is temporarily domiciled for that length of time, register with the chief of police of the city in which he or she resides or the sheriff of the county if he or she resides in an unincorporated area.

For persons convicted of an offense defined in Section 11378, 11379, or 11380, this subdivision shall apply only to offenses involving controlled substances specified in paragraph (12) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054 and paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 11055, and to analogs of these substances, as defined in Section 11401. For persons convicted of an offense defined in Section 11379 or 11379.5, this subdivision shall not apply if the conviction was for transporting, offering to transport, or attempting to transport a controlled substance.

(b) Any person who is convicted in any federal court of any offense which, if committed or attempted in this state would have been punishable as one or more of the offenses enumerated in subdivision (a) shall within 30 days of his or her coming into any county or city, or city and county in which he or she resides or is temporarily domiciled for that length of time, register with the chief of police of the city in which he or she resides or the sheriff of the county if he or she resides in an unincorporated area.

(c) This section does not apply to a conviction of a misdemeanor under Section 11357 or 11360.

(d) The registration requirements imposed by this section for the conviction of offenses defined in Section 11353.7, 11366.5, 11366.6, 11377, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, 11379.5, 11379.6, 11380, 11380.5, or 11383, shall apply to any person who commits any of those offenses on and after January 1, 1990.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1099

An act to amend Sections 1861.02 and 1861.03 of, and to add Article 5 (commencing with Section 755) to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 5 (commencing with Section 755) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, to read:

Article 5. Unlawful Practices

755. If at the time of the solicitation and issuance of a policy of life or disability insurance, or of a surety bond which by its terms continues until canceled, a person may lawfully receive commissions on it, that person, or in the event of that person's death, his or her estate or heirs may continue to receive commissions on it during the continuance in force or renewal of the policy or bond without being licensed under the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1621) of Part 2 if all of the following requirements are met:

(a) The recipient does not transact insurance in connection with the policy or bond while not so licensed.

(b) The payment is made pursuant to a contract entered into, before that solicitation and issuance, between the insurer paying or allowing the commission and that person.

756. When the premium on a policy insuring an employer is based upon the amount or segregation of the employer's payroll, and the employer, personally or knowingly through his or her employee, procures a lower premium by willfully misrepresenting the amount or segregation, that misrepresentation is an unlawful act as to the employer.

In addition to any penalty provided by law, the employer in that case is liable to the state in an amount 10 times the difference between the lower premium paid and the premium properly payable. The commissioner shall collect the amount so payable and may bring a civil action in his or her name as commissioner to enforce collection unless the misrepresentation is made to, and the lower premium procured from the State Compensation Insurance Fund. In the latter case the liability to the state under this section shall be enforced in a civil action in the name of the State Compensation Insurance Fund and any amount so collected shall become a part of that fund.

757. When a statement of the amount or segregation of a payroll is materially false, and an insurer, through a person employed by it in a managerial capacity, accepts the statement as the basis for the premium on a policy, the acceptance is an unlawful act if the accepting employee knows of the falsity.

SEC. 2. Section 1861.02 of the Insurance Code, as added by Proposition 103, adopted by the electors on November 8, 1988, is amended to read:

1861.02. (a) Rates and premiums for an automobile insurance policy, as described in subdivision (a) of Section 660, shall be determined by application of the following factors in decreasing order of importance:

(1) The insured's driving safety record.

(2) The number of miles he or she drives annually.

(3) The number of years of driving experience the insured has had.

(4) Such other factors as the commissioner may adopt by regulation that have a substantial relationship to the risk of loss. The regulations shall set forth the respective weight to be given each factor in determining automobile rates and premiums. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the use of any criterion without such approval shall constitute unfair discrimination.

(b) (1) Every person who (A) has been licensed to drive a motor vehicle for the previous three years and (B) has had, during that period, not more than one conviction for a moving violation which has not eventually been dismissed shall be qualified to purchase a Good Driver Discount policy from the insurer of his or her choice An insurer shall not refuse to offer and sell a Good Driver Discount policy to any person who meets the standards of this subdivision.

(2) The rate charged for a Good Driver Discount policy shall comply with subdivision (a) and shall be at least 20% below the rate the insured would otherwise have been charged for the same coverage Rates for Good Driver Discount policies shall be approved pursuant to this article.

(3) (A) This subdivision shall not prevent a reciprocal insurer, organized prior to November 8, 1988, by a motor club holding a certificate of authority under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 12160) of Part 5 of Division 2, and which requires membership in the motor club as a condition precedent to applying for insurance from requiring membership in the motor club as a condition precedent to obtaining insurance described in this subdivision.

(B) This subdivision shall not prevent an insurer which requires membership in a specified voluntary, nonprofit organization, which was in existence prior to November 8, 1988, as a condition precedent to applying for insurance issued to or through those membership groups, including franchise groups, from requiring such membership as a condition to applying for the coverage offered to members of the group, provided that it or an affiliate also offers and sells coverage to those who are not members of those membership groups.

(C) However, all of the following conditions shall be applicable to the insurance authorized by subparagraphs (A) and (B).

(i) Membership, if conditioned, is conditioned only on timely payment of membership dues and other bona fide criteria not based upon driving record or insurance, provided that membership in a motor club may not be based on residence in any area within the state.

(ii) Membership dues are paid solely for and in consideration of the membership and membership benefits and bear a reasonable relationship to the benefits provided. The amount of the dues shall not depend on whether the member purchases insurance offered by the membership organization. None of those membership dues or any portion thereof shall be transferred by the membership organization to the insurer, or any affiliate of the insurer, attorney-in-fact, subsidiary, or holding company thereof, provided that this provision shall not prevent any bona fide transaction between the membership organization and those entities.

(iii) Membership provides bona fide services or benefits in addition to the right to apply for insurance. Those services shall be reasonably available to all members within each class of membership.

Any insurer that violates clause (i), (ii), or (iii) shall be subject to the penalties set forth in Section 1861.14.

(c) The absence of prior automobile insurance coverage, in and of itself, shall not be a criterion for determining eligibility for a Good Driver Discount policy, or generally for automobile rates, premiums, or insurability.

(d) This section shall become operative on November 8, 1989. The commissioner shall adopt regulations implementing this section and insurers may submit applications pursuant to this article which comply with such regulations prior to that date, provided that no such application shall be approved prior to that date.

SEC. 2.5. Section 1861.02 of the Insurance Code, as added by Proposition 103, adopted by the electors on November 8, 1988, is amended to read:

1861.02. (a) Rates and premiums for an automobile insurance policy, as described in subdivision (a) of Section 660, shall be determined by application of the following factors in decreasing order of importance:

(1) The insured's driving safety record.

(2) The number of miles he or she drives annually.

(3) The number of years of driving experience the insured has had.

(4) Such other factors as the commissioner may adopt by regulation that have a substantial relationship to the risk of loss. The regulations shall set forth the respective weight to be given each factor in determining automobile rates and premiums. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the use of any criterion without such approval shall constitute unfair discrimination.

(b) (1) Every person who meets the criteria of Section 1861.025 shall be qualified to purchase a Good Driver Discount policy from the insurer of his or her choice. An insurer shall not refuse to offer and sell a Good Driver Discount policy to any person who meets the standards of this subdivision.

(2) The rate charged for a Good Driver Discount policy shall comply with subdivision (a) and shall be at least 20% below the rate the insured would otherwise have been charged for the same coverage. Rates for Good Driver Discount policies shall be approved pursuant to this article.

(3) (A) This subdivision shall not prevent a reciprocal insurer, organized prior to November 8, 1988, by a motor club holding a certificate of authority under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 12160) of Part 5 of Division 2, and which requires membership in the motor club as a condition precedent to applying for insurance from requiring membership in the motor club as a condition precedent to obtaining insurance described in this subdivision.

(B) This subdivision shall not prevent an insurer which requires membership in a specified voluntary, nonprofit organization, which was in existence prior to November 8, 1988, as a condition precedent to applying for insurance issued to or through those membership groups, including franchise groups, from requiring such membership as a condition to applying for the coverage offered to members of the group, provided that it or an affiliate also offers and sells coverage to those who are not members of those membership groups.

(C) However, all of the following conditions shall be applicable to the insurance authorized by subparagraphs (A) and (B):

(i) Membership, if conditioned, is conditioned only on timely payment of membership dues and other bona fide criteria not based upon driving record or insurance, provided that membership in a motor club may not be based on residence in any area within the state.

(ii) Membership dues are paid solely for and in consideration of the membership and membership benefits and bear a reasonable relationship to the benefits provided. The amount of the dues shall not depend on whether the member purchases insurance offered by the membership organization. None of those membership dues or any portion thereof shall be transferred by the membership organization to the insurer, or any affiliate of the insurer, attorney-in-fact, subsidiary, or holding company thereof, provided that this provision shall not prevent any bona fide transaction between the membership organization and those entities.

(iii) Membership provides bona fide services or benefits in addition to the right to apply for insurance. Those services shall be reasonably available to all members within each class of membership.

Any insurer that violates clause (i), (ii), or (iii) shall be subject to the penalties set forth in Section 1861.14.

(c) The absence of prior automobile insurance coverage, in and of itself, shall not be a criterion for determining eligibility for a Good Driver Discount policy, or generally for automobile rates, premiums, or insurability.

(d) An insurer may refuse to sell a good driver discount policy insuring a motorcycle unless all named insureds have been licensed to drive a motorcycle for the previous three years

(e) This section shall become operative on November 8, 1989. The commissioner shall adopt regulations implementing this section and insurers may submit applications pursuant to this article which comply with those regulations prior to that date, provided that no such application shall be approved prior to that date.

SEC. 3. Section 1861.03 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1861.03. (a) The business of insurance shall be subject to the laws of California applicable to any other business, including, but not limited to, the Unruh Civil Rights Act (Civil Code Sections 51 through 53), and the antitrust and unfair business practices laws (Parts 2 (commencing with Section 16600) and 3 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 7 of the Business and Professions Code).

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit (1) any agreement to collect, compile and disseminate historical data on paid claims or reserves for reported claims, provided such data is contemporaneously transmitted to the commissioner, or (2) participation in any joint arrangement established by statute or the commissioner to assure availability of insurance.

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a notice of cancellation or nonrenewal of a policy for automobile insurance shall be effective only if it is based on one or more of the following reasons: (A) nonpayment of premium; (B) fraud or material misrepresentation affecting the policy or insured; (C) a substantial increase in the hazard insured against.

(2) This subdivision shall not prevent a reciprocal insurer, organized prior to November 8, 1988, by a motor club holding a certificate of authority under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 12160) of Part 5 of Division 2, and which requires membership in the motor club as a condition precedent to applying for insurance from issuing an effective notice of nonrenewal based solely on the failure of the insured to maintain membership in the motor club. This subdivision shall also not prevent an insurer which issues private passenger automobile coverage to members of groups that were in existence prior to November 8, 1988, whether membership, franchise, or otherwise, and to those who are not members of groups from issuing an effective notice of nonrenewal for coverage provided to the insured as a member of the group based solely on the failure of the insured to maintain that membership if (i) the insurer offers to renew the coverage to the insured on a nongroup basis, or (ii) to transfer the coverage to an affiliated insurer. The rates charged by the insurer or affiliated insurer shall have been adopted pursuant to this article. However, all of the following conditions shall be applicable to that insurance:

(A) Membership, if conditioned, is conditioned only on timely payment of membership dues and other bona fide criteria not based upon driving record or insurance, provided that membership in a motor club may not be based on residence in any area within the state.

(B) Membership dues are paid solely for and in consideration of the membership and membership benefits and bear a reasonable relationship to the benefits provided. The amount of the dues shall not depend on whether the member purchases insurance offered by the membership organization. None of those membership dues or any portion thereof shall be transferred by the membership organization to the insurer, or any affiliate of the insurer, attorney-in-fact, subsidiary, or holding company thereof, provided that this provision shall not prevent any bona fide transaction between the membership organization and those entities.

(C) Membership provides bona fide services or benefits in addition to the right to apply for insurance. Those services shall be reasonably available to all members within each class of membership.

Any insurer that violates subparagraphs (A), (B), or (C) shall be subject to the penalties set forth in Section 1861.14.

SEC. 4. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the reenactment of Sections 755.2, 756, and 757 of the Insurance Code, which were repealed by Proposition 103, is in furtherance of the purpose of Proposition 103, within the meaning of subdivision (b) of Section 8 of Proposition 103. The Legislature determines that the repeal of Sections 755.2, 756, and 757 of the Insurance Code by Proposition 103 did not further the interests of consumers, was inconsistent with the purposes of that proposition, and was inadvertent.

(b) The Legislature further finds and declares that the amendments of Sections 1861.02 and 1861.03 of the Insurance Code proposed by this act are in furtherance of the purposes of Proposition 103 within the meaning of Section 8 of Proposition 103, by clarifying that membership organizations can continue to condition the right to apply for auto insurance on bona fide membership requirements provided those requirements, are unrelated to driving record or insurance, and provided that membership in a motor club may not be based on residence in any area within the state.

SEC. 5. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1861.02 of the Insurance Code proposed by both this bill and AB 451. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 1861.02 of the Insurance Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 451, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Sections 755.2, 756, and 757 of the Insurance Code were inadvertently repealed by the adoption of Proposition 103 by the voters. In order to protect consumers by continuing the state policy of permitting persons to receive compensation rightfully belonging to them, and prohibiting an employer from misrepresenting the payroll in order to get a lower insurance premium, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately. In addition, in order to clarify that membership organizations can continue to condition the right to apply for auto insurance on bona fide membership requirements provided those requirements are unrelated to driving record or insurance at the earliest possible time, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1100

An act to add Section 1012.5 to the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to documents.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1012.5 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

1012.5 (a) The Legislature finds that the use of facsimile transmission (FAX machines) has become commonplace in business and government. Currently, there are over 2.5 million FAX machines in the nation and the legal profession owns approximately 12 percent of these machines. Across the nation, courts are starting to address the use of FAX machines in the judicial system as a means of transmitting documents to the courts and to lawyers and litigants.

Use of FAX transmission of documents may alleviate congestion in and around courthouses, promote savings in the time spent by attorneys in filing documents with the courts and with other attorneys and litigants, and ultimately, will result in a savings to the legal consumer.

Therefore, the Judicial Council shall conduct pilot projects to encompass cases filed in three or more superior courts and three or more municipal or justice courts from January 1, 1990, to June 30, 1991, to determine how best to implement the use of facsimile transmission of documents in the judicial system and to assess the extent of savings due to implementation of FAX transmission. Moreover, the Judicial Council shall report to the Legislature on the results of these pilot projects and its specific proposals for implementation.

(b) The Judicial Council shall determine the effectiveness of these pilot projects by conducting a survey of attorneys, judicial officers, clerks of court, and process servers registered pursuant to Chapter 16 (commencing with Section 22350) of Division 8 of the Business and Professions Code, to determine whether the pilot project is effective in: (1) reducing courthouse congestion, (2) increasing courthouse filings by FAX to at least 25 percent of all filings in those courts participating in the pilot projects, (3) producing a time savings of at least 50 percent of the time normally required to file documents with the court, and (4) producing a savings in costs billed to the client.

(c) The Judicial Council shall report to the Legislature on these pilot projects and make its recommendations on any changes in law needed to promote uniform, efficient, and effective service or filing of legal documents by FAX on or before December 31, 1991. The report shall include a compilation of data, proposed standards, rules, or statutes for: (1) the types of facsimile machines, including personal computers with facsimile modems, that are suitable for use by the courts in receiving legal documents for filing, (2) the quality of paper to be used to ensure the permanency of court records, (3) the readability of documents sent by facsimile transmission, (4) the service and filing of documents which require an original signature, (5) the service on other parties to the action of legal documents by FAX, (6) the filing with the court of originals of documents first filed by FAX, (7) if necessary, modification of time periods for service and filing of documents by FAX, and (8) the cost to the courts for the equipment, supplies, additional staff, and administrative costs associated with the filing of legal documents by FAX and how these costs should be recovered.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Judicial Council may adopt rules of court for use in the pilot project counties to facilitate the purposes of the pilot project and to provide an appropriate experiment. Any rules of court adopted by the Judicial Council pursuant to this subdivision shall not affect the requirements for personal or substituted service of the summons and complaint or any other opening paper.

CHAPTER 1101

An act to amend Section 2455 of, and to add Section 2454.5 to, the Business and Professions Code and to amend an initiative act entitled "An act to establish a board of osteopathic examiners, to provide for their appointment, and to prescribe their powers and duties; to regulate the examination of applicants, who are graduates of osteopathic schools, for any form of certificate to treat disease, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions; to regulate the practice of those so licensed, who are graduates of osteopathic schools; to impose upon said board of osteopathic examiners all duties and functions, relating to graduates of osteopathic schools, holding or applying for any form of certificate or license, heretofore exercised and performed by the board of medical examiners of the State of California under the provisions of the state medical practice act, approved June 2, 1913, and acts amendatory thereof" approved by electors November 7, 1922, by amending Section 1 thereof, relating to the Board of Osteopathic Examiners, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2454.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

2454.5. In order to ensure the continuing competence of licensed osteopathic physicians and surgeons, the board shall adopt and administer standards for the continuing education of those licensees. The board shall require each licensed osteopathic physician and surgeon to demonstrate satisfaction of the continuing education requirements as a condition for the renewal of a license at intervals of not less than one year nor more than three years.

SEC. 2. Section 2455 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

2455. The amount of fees and refunds is that fixed by the following schedule for any certificate issued by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners. All other fees and refunds for any certificate issued by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners and which are not prescribed in this schedule, are prescribed in Section 2456.

(a) Each applicant for an original or reciprocity Physicians and Surgeons Certificate shall pay an application fee in a sum not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200) at the time his or her application is filed. If the applicant's credentials are insufficient, or if he or she does not take the examination, the board may retain a sum equal to the actual cost of processing the application, not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and the remainder of the fee is returnable upon application.

(b) The oral and practical examination fee shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200) nor be less than fifty dollars ($50).

(c) The annual tax and registration fee, unless otherwise provided, shall be set by the board on or before November 1 of each year for the ensuing calendar year at a sum as the board determines necessary to defray the expenses of administering this chapter, under the Osteopathic Act, relating to the issuance of certificates to those applicants, which sum, however, shall, not exceed two hundred dollars ($200) nor be less than twenty-five dollars ($25).

(d) The board shall set an annual tax and registration fee in an amount less than that levied pursuant to subdivision (c) which shall be paid by any applicant who indicates to the board in writing that he or she does not intend to practice under the Osteopathic Act during the renewal period covered by that annual tax and registration fee.

(e) The fee for failure to pay the annual tax and registration fee shall be 50 percent of the renewal fee but not more than one hundred dollars ($100).

SEC. 3. Section 1 of the act cited in the title is amended to read:

Section 1. A self-sustaining Board of Osteopathic Examiners to consist of five members and to be known as the "Board of Osteopathic Examiners of the State of California" is hereby created and established. The Governor shall appoint the members of the board, each of whom shall have been a citizen of this state for at least five years next preceding his or her appointment. Each of the members shall be appointed from among persons who are graduates of osteopathic schools who hold unrevoked licenses or certificates to practice in this state. The Governor shall fill by appointment all vacancies on the board. The term of office of each member shall be three years; provided, that of the first board appointed, one shall be appointed for one year, two for two years, and two for three years, and that thereafter all appointments shall be for three years, except that appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term only. The Governor shall have power to remove from office any member of the board for neglect of duty, for incompetency, or for unprofessional conduct. Each member of the board shall, before entering upon the duties of his or her office, take the constitutional oath of office. All fees collected on behalf of the Board of Osteopathic Examiners and all receipts of every kind and nature, shall be reported at the beginning of each month for the month preceding, to the Controller and at the same time the entire amount must be paid into the State Treasury and shall be credited to a fund to be known as the Board of Osteopathic Examiners Contingent Fund, which fund is hereby created. The contingent fund shall be for the use of the Board of Osteopathic Examiners and out of it and not otherwise shall be paid all expenses of the board. Each member of the board shall receive a per diem and expenses as provided in Section 103, provided the fees and other receipts of the board are sufficient to meet this expense

The Governor shall appoint the members of the board within 30 days after this act takes effect. The board shall be organized within 60 days after the appointment of its members by the Governor by electing from its number a president, vice president, and a secretary who shall also be the treasurer, who shall hold their respective positions during the pleasure of the board. The board shall hold one meeting during the first quarter of each calendar year at a time and place designated by the board with power of adjournment from time to time until its business is concluded. Special meetings of the board may be held at such time and place as the board may designate. Notice of each regular or special meeting shall be given twice a week for two weeks next preceding each meeting in one daily paper published in the City of San Francisco, one published in the City of Sacramento, and one published in the City of Los Angeles which notice shall also specify the time and place of holding the examination of applicants The secretary of the board upon an authorization from the president of the board, or the chairperson of the committee may call meetings of any duly appointed committee of the board at a specified time and place and it shall not be necessary to advertise those committee meetings. The board shall receive through its secretary applications for certificates to be issued by the board and shall, on or before the first day of January in each year transmit to the Governor a full report of all its proceedings together with a report of its receipts and disbursements.

The office of the board shall be in the City of Sacramento. Suboffices may be established in Los Angeles and San Francisco and records as may be necessary may be transferred temporarily to those suboffices. Legal proceedings against the board may be instituted in any one of the three cities.

The board may from time to time adopt rules as may be necessary to enable it to carry into effect the provisions of this act. It shall require the affirmative vote of three members of the board to carry any motion or resolution, to adopt any rules, pass any measure or to authorize the issuance or the revocation of any certificate. Any member of the board may administer oaths in all matters pertaining to the duties of the board and the board shall have authority to take evidence in any matter cognizable by it. The board shall keep an official record of its proceedings, a part of which record shall consist of a register of all applicants for certificates under this act together with the action of the board upon each application.

The board shall have the power to employ legal counsel to advise and assist it in connection with all matters cognizable by the board or in connection with any litigation or legal proceedings instituted by or against the board and may also employ clerical assistance as it may deem necessary to carry into effect this act. The board may fix the compensation to be paid for those services and may incur other expense as it may deem necessary; provided, however, that all of that expense shall be payable only from the fund hereinbefore provided for and to be known as the Board of Osteopathic Examiners Contingent Fund.

CHAPTER 1102

An act to amend Sections 11352, 11379, and 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11352 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11352. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this division, every person who transports, imports into this state, sells, furnishes, administers, or gives away, or offers to transport, import into this state, sell, furnish, administer, or give away, or attempts to import into this state or transport (1) any controlled substance specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (e), or paragraph (1) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, specified in paragraph (14), (15), or (20) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054, or specified in subdivision (b), (c), or (g) of Section 11055, or (2) any controlled substance classified in Schedule III, IV, or V which is a narcotic drug, unless upon the written prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian licensed to practice in this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, four, or five years.

(b) Notwithstanding the penalty provisions of subdivision (a), any person who transports for sale any controlled substances specified in subdivision (a) within this state from one county to another noncontiguous county shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

SEC. 2. Section 11379 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11379. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) and in Article 7 (commencing with Section 4211) of Chapter 9 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, every person who transports, imports into this state, sells, furnishes, administers, or gives away, or offers to transport, import into this state, sell, furnish, administer, or give away, or attempts to import into this state or transport any controlled substance which is (1) classified in Schedule III, IV, or V and which is not a narcotic drug, (2) specified in subdivision (d) of Section 11054, except paragraphs (13), (14), (15), (20), (21), (22), and (23) of subdivision (d), (3) specified in paragraph (2) or (3) of subdivision (f) of Section 11054, or (4) specified in subdivision (d) or (e), except paragraph (3) of subdivision (e), or specified in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (f), of Section 11055, unless upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian, licensed to practice in this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of two, three, or four years.

(b) Notwithstanding the penalty provisions of subdivision (a), any person who transports for sale any controlled substances specified in subdivision (a) within this state from one county to another noncontiguous county shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

SEC. 3. Section 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11379.5. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b) and in Article 7 (commencing with Section 4211) of Chapter 9 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, every person who transports, imports into this state, sells, furnishes, administers, or gives away, or offers to transport, import into this state, sell, furnish, administer, or give away, or attempts to import into this state or transport phencyclidine or any of its analogs which is specified in paragraph (21), (22), or (23) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054 or in paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) of Section 11055, or its precursors as specified in subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055, unless upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian licensed to practice in this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of three, four, or five years.

(b) Notwithstanding the penalty provisions of subdivision (a), any person who transports for sale any controlled substances specified in subdivision (a) within this state from one county to another noncontiguous county shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for three, six, or nine years.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1103

An act to amend Sections 50668.5, 50808, 50884, and 51345 of, and to add and repeal Sections 50714, 50771.3, and 50895 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to housing, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 50668.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50668.5. For the purpose of providing financial assistance pursuant to this chapter utilizing bond proceeds transferred to the Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 53130 and paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 53130 and Sections 8878.20 and 8878.21 of the Government Code, deferred payment loans made with these funds shall be subject to all of the following special provisions, which shall prevail over conflicting provisions of this chapter:

(a) (1) Applications for fund commitments shall be accepted by the department at any time. Fund commitments shall be based on a ranking of applications, which shall occur at least once every three months until there are insufficient funds available to commit according to this ranking. In making this ranking for rental housing developments, priority shall be given to those projects which (A) serve the greater number of eligible households as defined in Section 50105 with the lowest incomes, (B) provide the greater number of units with three or more bedrooms, (C) are located in areas where the housing need is great as determined by the department, taking into consideration, among other factors, low vacancy rates, high market rents, long waiting lists for subsidized housing, the stock of substandard housing, and the potential loss of subsidized rental housing to market-rate housing through demolition, foreclosure, or subsidy termination, (D) complement the implementation of an existing housing program, (E) maximize private local and other funding sources, and (F) maximize long-term benefits for eligible households, as defined in Sections 50079.5 and 50105 Subparagraph (B) above shall not apply to applications for fund commitments submitted pursuant to Section 50670 or to any application for residential hotels and motels. In making this ranking for owner-occupied housing, priority shall be given to those applications which (A) serve the greater number of eligible households, as defined in Section 50105, with the lowest income, (B) provide the greater number of units with three or more bedrooms, (C) are located in areas where the need for rehabilitation is great as determined by the department, taking into consideration, among other factors, the amount of substandard owner-occupied housing, low vacancy rates, and limited availability of affordable housing, (D) complement the implementation of an existing housing program, and (E) maximize available and appropriate private, local, and other funding sources. The department shall also evaluate the capability of the sponsor to rehabilitate, own, and manage the rental housing development or the capability of the applicant for funding for owner-occupied housing to implement the proposed program.

(2) Loans for rental housing developments may be reviewed, approved, and funded by the department directly to the sponsor. In these cases, the department shall ensure that the sponsor notifies the local legislative body of the sponsor's loan application prior to a funding award. Loans to owner-occupants may be made by local public entities or nonprofit corporations which have received fund commitments from the department. The department shall ensure that the local public entity or nonprofit corporation applying for fund commitments for loans to owner-occupants notifies the local legislative body of the application prior to a funding award. When the department certifies a local public entity or nonprofit corporation as being capable of making these loans, the department shall delegate responsibility for reviewing and approving these loans to the local public entity or nonprofit corporation. If it is determined by the department that the local public entity or nonprofit corporation is no longer capable of making or managing these loans, the department may, at its sole discretion, revoke that delegation of responsibility or cancel the funding commitment to the local public entity or nonprofit corporation, or both. The department's regulations shall include procedures and standards for certification and decertification.

(3) A sponsor may apply for loans for one or more rental housing developments.

(b) (1) A housing development may utilize any combination of federal, state, local, and private financial resources necessary to make the development affordable, for the term of the state's regulatory agreement, to the eligible households. Notwithstanding the requirements of Section 50663, rental housing developments and owner-occupied units assisted by the program may be located anywhere in the state

(2) In the case of nonprofit sponsors, loans for rental housing developments, when combined with other indebtedness against the property shall not exceed 100 percent of the after-rehabilitation value of the property, as determined by an appraisal of the property conducted pursuant to guidelines established in regulations of the department.

(3) The maximum loan amounts per unit established in regulations pursuant to Section 50670 shall also apply to rental housing developments rehabilitated or acquired and rehabilitated pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 50661, except that there shall not be a maximum loan amount established per project. These dollar limitations may be increased by the department, as necessary, in high-cost areas of the state or where the correction of severe health and safety defects or the provisions of handicapped accessibility standards necessitate greater assistance. The department, by regulation, may specify unit loan limits for loans made for owner-occupied housing and the circumstances under which it may grant exceptions to, or variances from, these limits.

(4) (A) Loans made to sponsors of rental housing developments for acquisition and rehabilitation shall be for terms of not less than 30 years. Loans made to sponsors of rental housing developments for rehabilitation only shall be for terms of not less than 20 years. However, the term shall not exceed the useful life of the rental housing development for which the loan is made. The sponsor may elect to begin to repay the loan at any time in accordance with the prepayment plan established in accordance with paragraph (6), if it is determined by the department, that the sponsors can continue to maintain the rents at levels affordable to eligible households.

(B) The term of the loan and the time for repayment may be extended by the department for additional 10-year terms as long as the rental housing development is operated in a manner consistent with the regulatory agreement and the sponsor requires an extension in order to continue to operate in a manner consistent with this chapter.

(5) (A) In the case of loans made for rental housing developments, eligible costs shall include those costs relating to (i) real property acquisition, including refinancing of existing debt to the extent necessary to reduce debt service to a level consistent with the provision of affordable rents and the fiscal integrity of the project; (ii) rehabilitation or reconstruction, including the conversion of nonresidential structures to residential use; (iii) general property improvements which are necessary to correct unsafe, unhealthy, or unsanitary conditions, including renovations and remodeling, including, but not limited to, remodeling of kitchens and bathrooms, installation of new appliances, landscaping, and purchase or installation of central air conditioning; (iv) necessary and related onsite improvements; (v) reasonable administrative expenses in connection with the planning and execution of the project, as determined by the department; (vi) reasonable consulting costs; (vii) rent-up costs; (viii) seismic rehabilitation improvements; and (ix) any other costs of rehabilitation authorized by the department. "Rent-up costs," as used in this section, means costs incurred while a unit is on the housing market but not rented to its first tenant. "Seismic rehabilitation improvements," as used in this section, means improvements which are designed to increase seismic structural safety in accordance with a plan developed by a civil engineer, a structural engineer, or an architect for a particular building that has been identified as hazardous by the city or county in which the building is located in accordance with the criteria established by the Seismic Safety Commission pursuant to Section 8875.1 of the Government Code or in accordance with a previously adopted city or county seismic safety ordinance adopted pursuant to Section 19163.

(B) In the case of loans made for owner-occupied housing, eligible costs shall include those costs relating to (i) rehabilitation work expenses; (ii) cost of room additions necessary to alleviate overcrowding; (iii) costs of general property improvements including renovations and remodeling, including, but not limited to, remodeling of kitchens and bathrooms, installation of new appliances, landscaping and purchase or installation of central air conditioning, to the extent that they are necessary to correct unsafe, unhealthy, or unsanitary conditions; (iv) costs related to necessary architectural, engineering, and other technical consultants; (v) costs of preliminary reports, title policies, credit reports, appraisal reports, and fees for recording documents related to the department's loans; (vi) costs of building permits and other government fees; and (vii) if in conjunction with other rehabilitation work, costs for improvements related to making the housing accessible to the handicapped.

(C) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 53130 which limit the use of allocated proceeds with respect to project operating costs, and Sections 53131 and 53133, the department may set aside or use any amounts available in the fund to establish a rental housing development default reserve for the purpose of curing or avoiding a sponsor's defaults on the terms of any loan or other obligation which jeopardizes the financial integrity of a rental housing development or the department's security in the rental housing development. The payment or advance of funds by the department pursuant to this subparagraph shall be solely within the discretion of the department and no sponsor shall be entitled to or have any right to payment of these funds. Funds advanced pursuant to this subparagraph shall be added to the loan amount secured by the deed of trust and shall be payable to the department upon demand.

(D) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 53130 which limit the use of allocated proceeds with respect to project operating cost, or Sections 53131 and 53133, the department may set aside or use proceeds in the fund in an amount not to exceed 3 percent of the amount of encumbrances for loans for owner-occupied housing to establish an owner-occupied housing default reserve for the purpose of curing or avoiding an owner's default on the terms of any loan or other obligation which jeopardizes the department's security in the owner-occupied housing. The payment or advance of funds by the department pursuant to this subparagraph shall be solely within the discretion of the department, and no homeowner shall be entitled to, or have any right to payment of, these funds. Funds advanced pursuant to this subparagraph shall be added to the loan amount secured by the deed of trust and shall be payable to the department upon demand. Interest payments from loans for owner-occupied housing shall be allocated by the department into this reserve to replace the allocated proceeds until the percent established by the department is achieved solely with interest payments.

(6) Upon request of the sponsor, the department may permit repayment of a sponsor's loan on the basis of net cash flow. The department shall develop a prepayment plan in conjunction with the sponsor which will ensure the maintenance of affordable rents and the fiscal integrity of the rental housing development. As an incentive to encourage the prepayment of loans, the department may permit the sponsor to retain one-half of the net cash flow. The department shall determine the method for calculating net cash flow, which may include a factor for excess debt service coverage or a return on cash investment to the sponsor.

(7) If a loan is made pursuant to this chapter for both seismic rehabilitation improvements and other eligible rehabilitation costs, only those costs related to the seismic rehabilitation improvements shall be counted and included for purposes of the fund reservation made by Section 8878.20 of the Government Code.

(c) Principle and accumulated interest is due and payable upon completion of the term of the loan.

(1) "Maintain affordable rent levels," as used in this section, means rents may be automatically increased by the sponsor on an annual basis pursuant to an inflation index to be determined by the department. The inflation index shall reflect anticipated annual changes in rental housing development operating costs from a base year when the rents are initially established. Any sponsor may appeal to the department for a greater adjustment in rents necessary to ensure the fiscal integrity of the rental housing development. If the department does not respond within 60 days, the request shall be deemed approved. A 30-day written notice shall be given to each eligible household prior to an adjustment in the amount of rent.

(2) Upon prior written approval by the department, a sponsor may set income limits for incoming tenants at a level below the limit specified in Section 50079.5. If a tenant's income exceeds this income limit established by the sponsor, but does not exceed the limit specified in Section 50079.5, that fact alone shall neither constitute cause for the tenant's eviction, nor be a violation of the sponsor's loan agreement. If a tenant's income exceeds the income limit for a household specified in Section 50079.5, the tenant shall be required to vacate the assisted unit within six months from the date of income recertification or notice to the sponsor of an increase in income over the permissible income level. That period may be extended by the sponsor for an additional six-month period in high cost rental areas with low vacancy rates, as determined by the department. Any vacant units shall be rented to eligible households until the required residency by eligible households is attained.

In the case of limited equity housing cooperatives, the provisions of this paragraph shall apply, except that tenants whose incomes, upon recertification, exceed the limit specified in Section 50079.5

shall not be required to vacate their units. Instead, and upon six months' notice, these tenants shall be required to pay rent in an amount equal to the market rate rent for comparable units, as determined by the department. When a tenant's income exceeds the limit specified in Section 50079.5, the next available membership share for occupancy in a comparable unit shall be sold to a household with an income at or below this limit.

(3) When operating income as defined by the department is greater than operating expenses, debt service, deposits required for reserve accounts, payments pursuant to paragraph (6) of subdivision (b) if elected by the sponsor, approved annual distributions, and any other disbursements approved by the department, these excess funds shall be paid into an account established in the fund. Funds in this account shall be appropriated to the department for use to assist rental housing developments funded pursuant to this section with proceeds of bonds issued pursuant to Chapter 27 of the Statutes of 1988, Chapter 30 of the Statutes of 1988, or Chapter 48 of the Statutes of 1988, subject to the following requirements:

(i) Excess funds in the account shall be allocated first into the rental housing development default reserve established pursuant to subparagraph (C) of paragraph (5) of subdivision (b). The balance of this default reserve shall not exceed the maximum level of funding established by regulations adopted by the department.

(ii) After the rental housing development default reserve is fully funded with these excess funds, the department shall use all additional excess funds in the account for payment of either unforeseen capital improvements, the cost of which would jeopardize the fiscal integrity and affordability of a rental housing development, or to further reduce rents in a rental housing development. The department may adopt regulations which specify the procedures and standards for application for, and use of, these funds. Those payments used for capital improvements shall be added to the loan amount secured by the deed of trust and shall be payable to the department upon demand

(d) Prior to disbursement of any funds for loans to rental housing developments made pursuant to this section, the department shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the sponsor in accordance with subdivision (d) of Section 50670, except that (1) the term of the regulatory agreement shall be for the original term of the loan and the agreement shall be binding upon the sponsor and successors in interest upon sale or transfer of the rental housing development or prepayment of the loan and (2) a nonprofit sponsor, other than a governmental agency, may maintain a debt service coverage ratio of 115 percent and distribute earnings in an amount no greater than 8 percent of the nonprofit sponsor's actual investment. The regulatory agreement also shall contain provisions requiring annual inspections and review of year-end fiscal audits and related reports by the department and provisions to maintain affordable rent levels to serve eligible households.

(e) Where loans will be used in conjunction with federal or other housing assistance or tax credits and a conflict exists between the other state or federal program requirements and those of this chapter with respect to the calculation of rents, the requirements of the Deferred Payment Rehabilitation Loan Program and the Special User Housing Rehabilitation Program may be waived only to the extent necessary to permit federal or other state financial participation or eligibility for tax credits.

(f) "Sponsor," for purposes of this section, has the same meaning as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 50669.

(g) The department shall adopt emergency regulations to implement this chapter and to amend the maximum loan amounts per unit established in regulations adopted pursuant to Section 50670, with respect to loans made with funding subject to this section. The regulations shall be conclusively presumed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or general welfare within the meaning or purposes of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code.

Notwithstanding conflicting provisions of this chapter, the department may elect to make these regulations additionally applicable until July 1, 1990, to all other deferred payment loan programs authorized by this chapter, except the programs specified in Sections 50662.5 and 50671, if the department determines that the uniformity achieved thereby will avoid significant additional administrative costs.

(h) For purposes of this section, "rental housing development" means a single family house or a multifamily structure or structures containing two or more dwelling units, including efficiency units. One or more of the dwelling units in a rental housing development shall be rented or leased or otherwise occupied as a primary residence by a person or household who is not the owner of the structure or structures. For the purposes of this section, motels operated pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 50669, residential hotels, group or congregate homes, and limited equity housing cooperatives are rental housing developments. Except for motels, the limitations concerning types of residents and minimum number of units set forth in subdivision (b) of Section 50669 shall not apply.

(i) "Affordable rent" for the purposes of this section shall be established by the department in the regulations authorized by subdivision (g). However, the initial rents shall be established by the department based on a designated family size for each unit size, and those initial rents shall not exceed 30 percent of 50 percent of the area median income adjusted by that designated family size for units restricted to occupancy by very low income households; or 30 percent of 60 percent of area median income adjusted by that designated family size for units restricted to occupancy by low-income households. In establishing affordable rent levels, the department shall make provision in its regulations for projects serving the physically and mentally handicapped persons.

SEC. 1.5. Section 50714 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50714. The department may adopt, amend, or repeal emergency regulations to implement this chapter with respect to financial assistance allocated pursuant to Section 53130. The adoption, amendment, or repeal of these regulations shall be conclusively presumed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or general welfare within the meaning, or purposes, of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. This authority shall remain in effect until June 30, 1990.

This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before June 30, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 50771.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50771.3. The department may adopt, amend, or repeal emergency regulations to implement this chapter with respect to loans made with funds allocated pursuant to Section 53130. The adoption, amendment, or repeal of these regulations shall be conclusively presumed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or general welfare within the meaning, or purposes, of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. This authority shall remain in effect until June 30, 1990.

This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before June 30, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 50808 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50808. For the purpose of providing grants to recipients for the development of emergency shelters for the homeless utilizing funds transferred to the Emergency Housing and Assistance Fund pursuant to Section 53130, the department shall not award more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) to any eligible recipient under each application.

SEC. 4. Section 50884 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

50884. The department shall implement the program enacted by this chapter after adopting rules and regulations in a manner which will ensure that the initial requests for proposals for assistance to community housing developments and congregate housing developments can be released on or before May 1, 1990.

SEC. 5. Section 50895 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

50895. The department may adopt, amend, or repeal emergency regulations to implement this chapter with respect to loans made with funds allocated pursuant to Section 53130. The adoption, amendment, or repeal of these regulations shall be conclusively presumed to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or general welfare within the meaning, or purposes, of Section 11346.1 of the Government Code. This authority shall remain in effect until June 30, 1990.

This section shall remain in effect only until June 30, 1990, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before June 30, 1990, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 51345 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

51345. (a) The agency shall administer a home purchase assistance program in accordance with this chapter. The purpose of the home purchase assistance program is to assist first-time homebuyers to utilize existing mortgage financing available pursuant to this part or Division 4 (commencing with Section 800) of the Military and Veterans Code with the additional financial resources made available pursuant to Part 8 (commencing with Section 53130).

(b) Home purchase assistance under this chapter shall include, but not be limited to: (1) an interest rate subsidy to reduce the interest rate , (2) a deferred-payment, low-interest, second-mortgage loan to reduce the principal and interest payments, and (3) downpayment assistance to make financing affordable to first-time homebuyers.

(c) The amount of home purchase assistance shall not exceed the amount necessary to make the total debt financing affordable to eligible households, but in no case shall the interest rate subsidy reduce the effective interest rate to the borrower below 3 percent per annum, nor shall the deferred-payment, low-interest, second-mortgage loan exceed 49 percent of the total debt financing necessary to purchase the home.

(d) The amount of home purchase assistance shall be a second-mortgage loan secured by a deed of trust of second priority to the primary financing provided by the agency or the Department of Veterans Affairs. The term of the home purchase assistance shall not exceed the term of the primary loan.

(e) The amount of home purchase assistance shall be due and payable at end of term or upon sale of the home or refinancing. If there are insufficient proceeds from the sale to reimburse the borrower for the amount of the borrower's share of the original downpayment, the principal and interest due on the home purchase assistance shall be reduced by that amount. In no case shall the amount of principal and interest due and payable by the borrower on the primary financing be reduced for this purpose. The borrower may refinance the mortgages on the home provided the principal of and accrued interest on the second mortgage loan securing the home purchase assistance are repaid in full. All repayments shall be deposited in the fund.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect The facts constituting the necessity are:

This act extends regulatory authority necessary to implement the Housing and Homeless Bond Act of 1988 and the California Earthquake and Housing Rehabilitation Bond Act of 1988, and makes necessary changes to vital housing programs. These housing programs fulfill immediate and critical housing needs throughout California. It is therefore necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1104

An act to amend Sections 728, 820, 3500, 3500.5, 3501, 3502, 3503, 3504, 3505, 3509, 6886, 6894.2, 6894.6, 6895, 6899, 6911, 6913, 6923, 6926.7, 7508.1, 7508.5, 7510.1, 7546.13, 7547.1, 7547.4, 7553.5, 7590.1, 7596.3, 7596.4, and 7599.25 of, to amend and renumber Sections 116, 117, 6868.7, 6893.1, 6893.2, and 6894.18 of, to amend the headings of Article 5 (commencing with Section 6886) and Article 9 (commencing with Section 6920) of Chapter 8 of, and Article 7 (commencing with Section 7597) of Chapter 11.6 of, Division 3 of, to add Sections 6911.1, 6926.13, 7512 13, and 7553.7 to, and to repeal Sections 6894.17, 6956.1, and 7546 1 of, the Business and Professions Code, to amend Sections 1010 and 1014 of the Evidence Code, to amend Sections 1373 and 8751.1 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend Sections 10177 and 11512 8 of the Insurance Code, relating to consumer affairs, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 116 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

489. Any agency in the department which is authorized by law to deny an application for a license upon the grounds specified in Section 480, may without a hearing deny an application upon such a ground, if within one year previously, and after proceedings conducted in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, such agency has denied an application from the same applicant upon the same ground.

SEC 1.3. Section 117 of the Business and Professions is amended and renumbered to read:

493. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a proceeding conducted by a board within the department pursuant to law to deny an application for a license or to suspend or revoke a license or otherwise take disciplinary action against a person who holds a license, upon the ground that the applicant or the licensee has been convicted of a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of the licensee in question, the record of conviction of the crime shall be conclusive evidence of the fact that the conviction occurred, but only of that fact, and the board may inquire into the circumstances surrounding the commission of the crime in order to fix the degree of discipline or to determine if the conviction is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of the licensee in question.

As used in this section, "license" includes "certificate," "permit," "authority," and "registration."

SEC. 1.5. Section 728 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

728. (a) Any psychotherapist or employer of a psychotherapist who becomes aware through a patient that the patient had alleged sexual intercourse or alleged sexual contact with a previous psychotherapist during the course of a prior treatment, shall provide to the patient a brochure promulgated by the department which delineates the rights of, and remedies for, patients who have been involved sexually with their psychotherapist. Further, the psychotherapist or employer shall discuss with the patient the brochure prepared by the department.

(b) Failure to comply with this section constitutes unprofessional conduct.

(c) For the purpose of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Psychotherapist" means a physician specializing in the practice of psychiatry or practicing psychotherapy, a psychologist, a clinical social worker, a marriage, family, and child counselor, a psychological assistant, marriage, family, and child counselor registered intern, or associate clinical social worker.

(2) "Sexual contact" means the touching of an intimate part of another person.

(3) "Intimate part" and "touching" have the same meaning as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 243.4 of the Penal Code.

(4) "The course of a prior treatment" means the period of time during which a patient first commences treatment for services which a psychotherapist is authorized to provide under his or her scope of practice or which the psychotherapist represents to the patient as being within his or her scope of practice until such time as the psychotherapist-patient relationship is terminated.

SEC. 1.7. Section 820 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

820. Whenever it appears that any person holding a license, certificate or permit under this division or under any initiative act referred to in this division may be unable to practice his or her profession safely because the licentiate's ability to practice is impaired due to mental illness, or physical illness affecting competency, the licensing agency may order the licentiate to be examined by one or more physicians and surgeons or psychologists designated by the agency. The report of the examiners shall be made available to the licentiate and may be received as direct evidence in proceedings conducted pursuant to Section 822.

SEC. 1.8. Section 3500 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3500. In its concern with the growing shortage and geographic maldistribution of health care services in California, the Legislature intends to establish in this chapter a framework for development of a new category of health manpower—the physician assistant.

The purpose of this chapter is to encourage the more effective utilization of the skills of physicians by enabling them to delegate health care tasks to qualified physician assistants where such delegation is consistent with the patient's health and welfare.

This chapter is established to encourage the utilization of physician assistants by physicians, and to provide that existing legal constraints should not be an unnecessary hindrance to the more effective provision of health care services. It is also the purpose of this chapter to allow for innovative development of programs for the education of physician assistants.

SEC. 1.9. Section 3500.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3500.5. This chapter shall be known and cited as the Physician Assistant Practice Act.

SEC. 2. Section 3501 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3501 As used in this chapter:

(a) "Board" means the Division of Allied Health Professions of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance of the State of California.

(b) "Approved program" means a program for the education of physician assistants which has been formally approved by the committee.

(c) "Trainee" means a person who is currently enrolled in an approved program.

(d) "Physician assistant" means a person who meets the requirements of this chapter and is licensed by the committee.

(e) "Committee" or "examining committee" means the Physician Assistant Examining Committee.

(f) "Regulations" means the rules and regulations as contained in Chapter 13.8 (commencing with Section 1399.500) of Title 16 of the California Code of Regulations.

(g) "Routine visual screening" means uninvasive nonpharmacological simple testing for visual acuity; for visual field defects; for color blindness; and depth perception.

SEC 2.1. Section 3502 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3502. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a physician assistant may perform those medical services as set forth by the regulations of the board when such services are rendered under the supervision of a licensed physician or physicians approved by the board.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a trainee may perform those medical services as set forth by the regulations of the board when those services are rendered within the scope of an approved program.

No medical services may be performed under this chapter in any of the following areas:

(a) The determination of the refractive states of the human eye, or the fitting or adaptation of lenses or frames for the aid thereof.

(b) The prescribing or directing the use of, or using, any optical device in connection with ocular exercises, visual training or orthoptics.

(c) The prescribing of contact lenses for, or the fitting or adaptation of contact lenses to, the human eye.

(d) The practice of dentistry or dental hygiene or the work of a dental auxiliary as defined in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1600).

This section shall not be construed in a manner which shall preclude the performance of routine visual screening as defined in Section 3501.

SEC. 2.2. Section 3503 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3503. No person other than one who has been licensed to practice as a physician assistant or authorized to practice on interim approval under Section 3517 shall practice as a physician assistant or in a similar capacity to a physician and surgeon or hold himself or herself out as a "physician assistant," or shall use any other term indicating or implying that he or she is a physician assistant.

SEC. 2.3. Section 3504 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3504. There is established a Physician Assistant Examining Committee of the Board of Medical Quality Assurance. The committee shall consist of nine members.

SEC. 2.4 Section 3505 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3505. The members of the committee shall include one member of the board, a physician representative of a California medical school, an educator participating in an approved program for the training of physician assistants, one physician who is an approved supervising physician of a physician assistant and who is not a member of any division of the board, three physician assistants, and two public members.

Each member of the committee shall hold office for a term of four years expiring on January 1st, and shall serve until the appointment and qualification of a successor or until one year shall have elapsed since the expiration of the term for which the member was appointed, whichever first occurs. No member shall serve for more than two consecutive terms. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired terms.

The Governor shall appoint the licensed members qualified as provided in this section. The Senate Rules Committee and the Speaker of the Assembly shall each appoint a public member.

SEC. 2.5. Section 3509 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

3509. It shall be the duty of the committee to:

(a) Establish standards and issue licenses of approval for programs for the education and training of physician assistants.

(b) Make recommendations to the board concerning the scope of practice for physician assistants.

(c) Make recommendations to the board concerning the formulation of guidelines for the consideration of applications by licensed physicians to supervise physician assistants and approval of such applications

(d) Require the examination of applicants for licensure as a physician assistant who meet the requirements of this chapter.

SEC. 2.7. Section 6868.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read.

6864.1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the bureau shall not release the home address or home phone number of any licensee or registrant, other than to a governmental agency or law enforcement agency, unless the bureau has received a written request for that information. When a threat of physical harm is made or communicated to the bureau concerning a licensee or registrant, the bureau shall immediately notify the registrant or licensee of the threat and the name of the person making the threat.

All applications for registration, or licensure pursuant to this chapter shall contain a statement, printed in 18 point type, consisting of the following language:

"WARNING—READ BEFORE FILLING OUT THIS APPLICATION"

The address and phone number which you give may be either that of your employer, that of your business, or your home address and phone number. Pursuant to the California Public Records Act, whichever address and phone number you give, may be given to other governmental or law enforcement agencies, as well as given to anyone who requests it, including, but not limited to, debtors from whom you have attempted to collect a past due account."

SEC. 3. The heading of Article 5 (commencing with Section 6885) of Chapter 8 of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

Article 5. Applications; Examinations; Grounds for Denial, Suspension, and Revocation; Qualification Certificates

SEC. 4. Section 6886 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6886. Except as in this chapter otherwise provided, an applicant for a qualification certificate shall:

(a) Be at least 18 years of age.

(b) Not be subject to denial pursuant to Section 480.

(c) Have been actively engaged in the collection agency business for at least one year in this state or two years in another state during the five years next preceding the date on which his application is filed.

(d) Pass the examination required.

(e) Pay the required application and examination fees to the chief.

SEC. 5. Section 6893.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6928. When considering the denial, suspension, revocation, or reinstatement of a license, registration, or certificate, the director, in evaluating the rehabilitation of the applicant, licensee, registrant, certificate holder or petitioner and his or her present eligiblity for a license, registration, or certificate, shall consider the following criteria:

(a) The nature and severity of the act or crime under consideration as grounds for denial, suspension or revocation.

(b) Evidence of any act committed subsequent to the act or crime under consideration as grounds for denial which also could be considered as grounds for denial, suspension or revocation under Section 480.

(c) The time that has elapsed since commission of the act or crime referred to in subdivision (a) or (b).

(d) The extent to which the applicant has complied with any terms of parole, probation, restitution, or any other sanctions lawfully imposed against the applicant.

(e) Evidence, if any, of any rehabilitation submitted by the applicant.

SEC. 6. Section 6893.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6885. (a) An applicant is not eligible for examination until he or she has filed a complete application accompanied by the appropriate fee.

(b) The application shall be (1) in writing stating the true name and full residence address of the applicant, (2) accompanied by a recent photograph, two classifiable sets of fingerprints, and a certificate in support of experience, (3) signed by the applicant, and (4) verified by the bureau. In addition to the information or documents required by this chapter, the chief may require the submission of any other information, evidence, statements, or documents he or she may deem necessary.

(c) Complete applications shall be filed in person at, or mailed to, the bureau's Sacramento office not later than 20 days prior to the next scheduled examination date. An applicant who fails to file within the above time period may, in the bureau's discretion, be scheduled to take the following scheduled examination.

SEC. 7. Section 6894.2 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6894.2. (a) Every person required to be registered pursuant to Section 6894 shall file with the chief an application for registration within 15 days after the commencement of employment.

(b) Each person licensed under this chapter shall notify the chief in writing within 15 days after the commencement of employment by him or her of any person registered under this article. The notice shall be on a form prescribed by the chief. A violation of this subdivision by a licensee constitutes grounds for the suspension or revocation of his or her license.

SEC. 8. Section 6894.6 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6894.6. Employees of a licensee who are engaged exclusively in sales or stenographic, typing, filing or other clerical activities shall not be required to register under this article.

This exemption shall not include those persons whose duties include accounting for receipts or disbursements or trust moneys, preparation of bank deposits or reconciliations, or other functions of responsibility for the financial transactions of the licensee.

SEC. 9. Section 6894.17 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 6894.18 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6914.6. After any license has been revoked or has expired, the licensee shall not sell or assign any claim or account in his or her possession for collection other than to return or reassign the uncollected accounts to the customers or their order, and the licensee shall not charge or receive any fee or compensation for the return or assignment of any such claim or account; and no licensee shall charge or receive any fee or commission on any moneys received or collected subsequent to the revocation or expiration of his or her license, but all those moneys shall be forthwith remitted to the owners of the accounts on which the moneys were paid. The commission of any of the above-mentioned prohibited acts shall be deemed to constitute carrying on business within the meaning of Section 6871, but this section shall not be construed to prohibit a bulk sale after termination of license of all of the business, assets and goodwill of a licensee as a unit, including the right to solicit reassignment of all uncollected accounts.

SEC. 11. Section 6895 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6895. The applicant for a license shall file with the chief a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) upon notification by the chief that an applicant's fictitious business name has been approved. During the period in which the license is active, the licensee shall maintain a bond which reflects the name and address of the licensee as shown in the records of the bureau.

The bond shall run to the people of the State of California and shall be executed and acknowledged by the applicant or licensee as principal and by an admitted surety insurer as surety.

The chief shall keep the bond on file for a period of four years following termination of any bond filed under this chapter.

SEC. 12. Section 6899 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6899. The bond shall be continuous in form and remain in full force and effect and shall run concurrently with the license period and for any renewals thereof, as provided in Section 995.440 of the Code of Civil Procedure, unless terminated or canceled by action of the surety as provided by law or unless terminated or canceled as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 13. Section 6911 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6911. The license is not transferable.

SEC. 14. Section 6911.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6911.1. In the event of the loss or destruction of a license, the licensee may file with the chief a written statement executed under penalty of perjury explaining the loss or destruction and pay the duplicate license fee prescribed. Thereupon the chief shall issue a duplicate license.

SEC. 15. Section 6913 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6913. The acquisition of more than 10 percent of the voting stock or shares in any corporation or unincorporated association by any person shall be grounds for revocation or suspension of any and all licenses of the corporation or unincorporated association if the director, after proceedings had in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code finds that the person:

(a) Has been convicted of a crime substantially related to the qualifications, functions, or duties of the corporation or association.

(b) Has committed any act which would justify refusal of permission to take the collection agency examination and to issue a qualification certificate under Section 6886.1.

Every licensed corporation and unincorporated association shall file with the chief a written report of any transfer, issuance, cancellation or redemption of stock or memberships amounting to 10 percent or more of the total voting stock or memberships then outstanding within 30 days after the transfer, issuance, cancellation or redemption.

SEC. 16. The heading of Article 9 (commencing with Section 6920) of Chapter 8 of Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

Article 9. Conduct of Business

SEC. 17. Section 6923 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6923. Except as herein otherwise provided no person shall be in charge of any licensed office or agency if the person has ever had a license revoked for cause or has ever been disqualified from further employment in the collection agency business pursuant to Article 10 (commencing with Section 6925) or was a partner, managing employee, officer, director, trustee or stockholder of a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association a license of which has been revoked for cause.

SEC. 18. Section 6926.13 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6926.13. (a) In the pursuit of collection, an account may be referred to an attorney for his or her evaluation and possible legal action. On the date when such an account is so referred, the collection agency shall indicate the date of referral and the name of the attorney on the debtor account record in a clear and concise manner.

(b) All clerical work delegated by the attorney of record shall be under the direction and control of that attorney. Should an attorney delegate clerical work to a person on the payroll of a collection agency, the delegation shall be in writing and shall specifically set forth the work to be done.

(c) If litigation is initiated by the attorney, there shall be no further contract with the debtor or his or her attorney except by those individuals who have been specifically authorized and delegated by the agency's attorney in writing.

SEC. 19. Section 6926.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read·

6926.7. The acceptance of claims by collection agencies shall be limited to debts arising out of contracts, express or implied, or other claims reduced to judgment.

SEC. 21. Section 6956.1 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 7508.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7508.1. The director may assess administrative fines for the following prohibited acts:

(a) Knowingly making any false report to his or her employer or client for whom information was being obtained. The fine shall be one hundred dollars ($100) for the first violation, and five hundred dollars ($500) for each violation thereafter.

(b) Using any identification to indicate registration as a repossessor, other than the bureau-issued registration card, except an employer identification card issued by the repossession agency which has met bureau approval. A bureau-issued registration card shall be carried by those individuals specified by Section 7506.3, and shall be shown on demand to any bureau employee or law enforcement officer. The fine shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) for each violation.

(c) Using an alias in connection with the official activities of the licensee's business. A notice of warning shall be issued for the first violation. Thereafter the fine shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) for each violation.

(d) Appearing as an assignee party in any court proceeding involving claim and delivery, replevin, or other possessory court action, action to foreclose a chattel mortgage, mechanic's lien, materialman's lien, or any other lien. This section shall not prohibit a licensee from appearing as a defendant in any of the preceding actions. The fine shall be one hundred dollars ($100) for each violation.

SEC. 23. Section 7508.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7508.5. The director may assess administrative fines against a repossession agency employee for the following acts, in addition to those imposed pursuant to any other section in this article. The fine shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) for each of the following violations:

(a) Knowingly submit a false report to his or her employer.

(b) Submitting a report to a client without authorization by his or her employer.

(c) Failing to carry a bureau-issued identification card and failing to show that card upon demand to a bureau employee or a law enforcement officer.

(d) Failing to register.

(e) Failing to return his or her registration card to the employer upon termination.

SEC. 24. Section 7510.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7510.1. The director may suspend or revoke a repossession agency license, a qualification certificate, or registration issued under this chapter if the director determines that the licensee or the licensee's manager, if an individual, or if the licensee is a person other than an individual, that any of its officers, partners, employees, or its manager, has:

(a) Made any false statement or given any false information in connection with an application for a license or a renewal or reinstatement of a license.

(b) Violated any provisions of this chapter.

(c) Violated any rule of the director adopted pursuant to authority contained in this chapter.

(d) Been convicted of a felony or any crime substantially related to the repossession agency business including illegally using, carrying, or possessing a deadly weapon.

(e) Committed or permitted any employee to commit any act while the license was expired which would be cause for the suspension or revocation of a license, or grounds for the denial of an application for a license.

(f) Unlawfully committed assault, battery, or kidnapping, or used force or violence on any person.

(g) Knowingly violated, or advised, encouraged, or assisted the violation of any court order or injunction in the course of business as a licensee.

(h) Been convicted of a violation of Section 148 of the Penal Code, resisting or obstructing a public officer.

(i) Committed any act which is a ground for denial of an application for license under this chapter.

(j) Committed any act prohibited by Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 630) of Title 15 of Part 1 of the Penal Code.

(k) Committed any act in the course of the licensee's business constituting dishonesty or fraud, including, but not limited to:

(1) Knowingly making a false statement relating to evidence or information obtained in the course of employment, or knowingly publishing a slander or a libel in the course of business.

(2) Using illegal means in the collection or attempted collection of a debt or obligation.

SEC. 25. Section 7512.13 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7512.13. As used in this chapter, "firearm permit" includes "firearms permit," "firearms qualification card," "firearms qualification," and "firearms qualification permit."

SEC. 26. Section 7546.1 of the Business and Professions Code is repealed.

SEC. 27. Section 7546.13 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7546.13. The registration of a security guard shall be automatically suspended if the guard is convicted of any crime which is substantially related to the functions, duties, and responsibilities of a security guard. The automatic suspension shall be effectuated by the mailing of a notice of conviction and suspension of license to be sent by the bureau to the registered guard at his or her address of record. A copy of the notice shall be sent to the private patrol operator employing the guard with notice that the employer shall suspend any and all employment of the guard forthwith. The notice shall contain a statement of preliminary determination by the director or his or her designee that the crime stated is reasonably related to the functions, duties, and responsibilities of a security guard. Upon proper request by the guard, a hearing shall be convened within 60 days of the request, before the private security disciplinary review committee, as specified in Section 7517.2, for a determination as to whether the automatic suspension shall be made permanent or whether the registration shall be revoked or the guard otherwise disciplined.

In enacting this provision, the Legislature finds and declares that registered guards convicted of the commission of crimes reasonably related to the functions, duties, and responsibilities of a security guard shall be subject to automatic suspension of their license and that summary suspension is justified by compelling state interests of public safety and security within the meaning of the California Supreme Court's decision in Eye Dog Foundation v. State Board of Guide Dogs for the Blind, 67 Cal. 2d 536.

SEC. 28. Section 7547.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7547.1. The bureau shall issue a firearms permit when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) The applicant is a licensee, a qualified manager of a licensee, or a registered uniformed security guard.

(b) A certified firearms training instructor has certified that the applicant has successfully completed a written examination prepared by the bureau and training course in the carrying and use of firearms approved by the bureau.

(c) The applicant has filed with the bureau a classifiable fingerprint card, a completed application for a firearms permit on a form prescribed by the director, dated and signed by the applicant, certifying under penalty of perjury that the information in the application is true and correct.

(d) The bureau has determined, after investigation, that the carrying and use of a firearm by the applicant, in the course of his or her duties, presents no apparent threat to the public safety, or that the carrying and use of a firearm by the applicant is not in violation of the Penal Code.

(e) The applicant has produced evidence to the firearm training facility that he or she is a citizen of the United States or has permanent legal alien status in the United States. Evidence of citizenship or permanent legal alien status shall be that deemed sufficient by the bureau to ensure compliance with federal laws prohibiting possession of firearms by persons unlawfully in the United States and may include, but not be limited to, Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service Form I-151 or I-551, Alien Registration Receipt Card, naturalization documents, or birth certificates evidencing lawful residence or status in the United States.

(f) The application is accompanied by the application fees prescribed in this chapter.

SEC. 29. Section 7547.4 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7547.4. If a firearms permit is denied, the denial of the permit shall be in writing and shall describe the basis for the denial. The denial shall inform the applicant that if he or she desires a review by a disciplinary review committee to contest the denial, the review shall be requested of the director within 30 days following notice of the issuance of the denial. However, no review or hearing shall be granted to an individual who is otherwise prohibited by law from carrying a firearm.

SEC. 30. Section 7553.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7553.5. (a) A baton training facility shall issue a bureau-developed baton permit to any person who successfully completes a baton training course as described in Section 7553 and possesses a valid security guard registration card issued pursuant to Article 3.2 (commencing with Section 7544) or who has made application for that registration card. The permit is valid only when the holder possesses a valid guard registration card.

(b) The bureau shall issue baton permits to a baton training facility, in good standing, upon request and upon payment of the fees as set forth in this chapter.

(c) Each baton training facility shall submit to the bureau, on forms as prescribed by the director, no later than five working days following the issuance of a permit for each person, the name, address, bureau registration or license number, date of birth, and baton permit number of each person issued a permit.

SEC. 31. Section 7553.7 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

7553.7. In the event of the loss, theft, or destruction of a baton permit, a permitholder may request the bureau to issue a replacement permit. The request shall be in writing, shall state the circumstances surrounding the loss, theft, or destruction of the permit and the name of the instructor, training facility, and date of instruction relating to the issuance of the original baton permit. The request shall be accompanied by a five dollar ($5) replacement fee. The bureau may issue a replacement baton permit upon verification of successful baton training.

SEC. 38. Section 1014 of the Evidence Code is amended to read:

1014. Subject to Section 912 and except as otherwise provided in this article, the patient, whether or not a party, has a privilege to refuse to disclose, and to prevent another from disclosing, a confidential communication between patient and psychotherapist if the privilege is claimed by:

(a) The holder of the privilege.

(b) A person who is authorized to claim the privilege by the holder of the privilege.

(c) The person who was the psychotherapist at the time of the confidential communication, but such person may not claim the privilege if there is no holder of the privilege in existence or if he or she is otherwise instructed by a person authorized to permit disclosure.

The relationship of a psychotherapist and patient shall exist between a psychological corporation as defined in Article 9 (commencing with Section 2995) of Chapter 6.6 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code or a licensed clinical social workers corporation as defined in Article 5 (commencing with Section 4998) of Chapter 14 of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code, and the patient to whom it renders professional services, as well as between those patients and psychotherapists employed by those corporations to render services to those patients. The word "persons" as used in this subdivision includes partnerships, corporations, associations and other groups and entities.

SEC. 39. Section 1373 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read

1373. (a) A plan contract may not provide an exception for other coverage where the other coverage is entitlement to Medi-Cal benefits under Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 14000) or Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 14200) of Part 3 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

Each plan contract shall be interpreted not to provide an exception for the Medi-Cal benefits.

A plan contract may not provide that the benefits payable thereunder are subject to reduction if the individual insured has entitlement to the Medi-Cal benefits.

(b) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for sterilization operations or procedures shall not impose any disclaimer, restriction on, or limitation of, coverage relative to the covered individual's reason for sterilization.

As used in this section, "sterilization operations or procedures" shall have the same meaning as that specified in Section 10120 of the Insurance Code.

(c) Every plan contract which provides coverage to family members or dependents of the subscriber or enrollee shall grant immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant of any subscriber or enrollee covered and to each minor child placed for adoption from and after the moment the child is placed in the physical custody of the covered subscriber or enrollee for adoption. No such plan may be entered into or amended if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the coverage or insurability of newborn infants of, or children placed for adoption with, a subscriber or enrollee covered as required by this subdivision.

(d) Every plan contract which provides that coverage of a dependent child of a subscriber shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the plan, shall also provide in substance that attainment of the limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of the child while the child is and continues to be both (1) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (2) chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance, provided proof of the incapacity and dependency is furnished to the plan by the member within 31 days of the request for such information by the plan or group plan contractholder and subsequently as may be required by the plan or group plan contractholder, but not more frequently than annually after the two-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(e) A plan contract which provides coverage, whether by specific benefit or by the effect of general wording, for both an employee and one or more covered persons dependent upon the employee and provides for an extension of the coverage for any period following a termination of employment of the employee shall also provide that this extension of coverage shall apply to dependents upon the same terms and conditions precedent as applied to the covered employee, for the same period of time, subject to payment of premiums, if any, as required by the terms of the policy and subject to any applicable collective bargaining agreement.

(f) A group contract shall not discriminate against handicapped persons or against groups containing handicapped persons. Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude reasonable provisions in a plan contract against liability for services or reimbursement of the handicap condition or conditions relating thereto, as may be allowed by rules of the commissioner.

(g) Every group contract shall set forth the terms and conditions under which subscribers and enrollees may remain in the plan in the event the group ceases to exist, the group contract is terminated or an individual subscriber leaves the group, or the enrollees' eligibility status changes.

(h) (1) A health care service plan or specialized health care service plan may provide for coverage of, or for payment for, professional mental health services, or vision care services, or for the exclusion of such services. If the terms and conditions include coverage for services provided in a general acute care hospital or an acute psychiatric hospital as defined in Section 1250 and do not restrict or modify the choice of providers, the coverage shall extend to care provided by a psychiatric health facility as defined in Section 1250.2 operating pursuant to licensure by the State Department of Health Services or pursuant to a waiver of licensure by the State Department of Mental Health. A health care service plan that offers outpatient mental health services but does not cover such services in all of its group contracts shall communicate to prospective group contractholders as to the availability of outpatient coverage for the treatment of mental or nervous disorders.

(2) No plan shall prohibit the member from selecting any psychologist who is licensed pursuant to the Psychology Licensing Law or, any optometrist who is the holder of a certificate issued pursuant to Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 3000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed pursuant to the Medical Practice Act, (i) any marriage, family, and child counselor who is the holder of a license under Section 4980.50 of the Business and Professions Code, or (ii) any licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license under Section 4996 of the Business and Professions Code, or (iii) any registered nurse licensed pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2700) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code who possesses a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, at such time as the State Board of Registered Nurses produces and maintains a list of those psychiatric-mental health nurses who possess a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the plan, the certificate holder being expressly authorized by law to perform these services.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow any certificate holder or licensee enumerated in this section to perform professional mental health services beyond his or her field or fields of competence as established by his or her education, training and experience.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "marriage, family, and child counselor" means a licensed marriage, family, and child counselor who has received specific instruction in assessment, diagnosis, prognosis, and counseling, and psychotherapeutic treatment of premarital, marriage, family, and child relationship dysfunctions which is equivalent to the instruction required for licensure on January 1, 1981.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a member to select and obtain mental health or psychological or vision care services from a certificate or license holder who is not directly affiliated with or under contract to the health care service plan or specialized health care service plan to which the member belongs. All health care service plans and individual practice associations which offer mental health benefits shall make reasonable efforts to make available to their members the services of licensed psychologists. However, a failure of a plan or association to comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence shall not constitute a misdemeanor.

(6) As used in this subdivision, "individual practice association" means an entity as defined in subsection (5) of Section 1307 of the federal Public Health Service Act (subs. (5), Sec. 300e-1, 42 U.S.C.).

(7) Health care service plan coverage for professional mental health services may include community residential treatment services which are alternatives to inpatient care and which are directly affiliated with the plan or to which enrollees are referred by providers affiliated with the plan.

(i) If the plan utilizes arbitration to settle disputes, the plan contracts shall set forth the type of disputes subject to arbitration, the process to be utilized, and how it is to be initiated.

(j) A plan contract which provides benefits that accrue after a certain time of confinement in a health care facility shall specify what constitutes a day of confinement or the number of consecutive hours of confinement which are requisite to the commencement of benefits.

SEC. 39.5. Section 8751.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

8751.1. In addition to the requirements of Section 8751, the funds may be invested and reinvested and kept invested in investments of the type and in the manner as provided in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 16000), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 16200) and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16400), of Part 4 of Division 9 of the Probate Code.

SEC. 40. Section 10177 of the Insurance Code is amended to read.

10177. A self-insured employee welfare benefit plan may provide for payment of professional mental health expenses upon a reimbursement basis, or for the exclusion of such services, and provision may be made therein for payment of all or a portion of the amount of charge for such services without requiring that the employee first pay such expenses. No such plan shall prohibit the employee from selecting any psychologist who is the holder of a certificate issued under Section 2948 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, any licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license issued under Section 4996 of the Business and Professions Code or any marriage, family, and child counselor who is the holder of a certificate or license under Section 4980.50 of the Business and Professions Code, or any registered nurse licensed pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2700) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code who possesses a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, at such time as the State Board of Registered Nurses produces and maintains a list of those psychiatric-mental health nurses who possess a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the plan, such certificate or license holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow any certificate holder or licensee enumerated in this section to perform professional services beyond his or her field or fields of competence as established by his or her education, training, and experience. For the purposes of this section, "marriage, family, and child counselor" shall mean a licensed marriage, family, and child counselor who has received specific instruction in assessment, diagnosis, prognosis, and counseling, and psychotherapeutic treatment of premarital, marriage, family, and child relationship dysfunctions which is equivalent to the instruction required for licensure on January 1, 1981.

A self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, which is issued, renewed, or amended on or after January 1, 1988, which includes mental health services coverage in nongroup contracts may not include a lifetime waiver for that coverage with respect to any employee. The lifetime waiver of coverage provision shall be deemed unenforceable.

SEC. 41. Section 11512.8 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512.8. A hospital service contract may provide for payment of professional mental health expenses upon a reimbursement basis, or for the exclusion of such services, and provision may be made therein for payment of all or a portion of the amount of charge for such services without requiring that the employee first pay such expenses.

No such contract shall prohibit the subscriber from selecting any psychologist who is the holder of a certificate issued under Section 2948 of the Business and Professions Code or, upon referral by a physician and surgeon licensed under Section 2135 of the Business and Professions Code, any licensed clinical social worker who is the holder of a license issued under Section 4996 of the Business and Professions Code or any marriage, family, and child counselor who is the holder of a license under Section 4980.50 of the Business and Professions Code, or any registered nurse licensed pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2700) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code who possesses a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, at such time as the State Board of Registered Nurses produces and maintains a list of those psychiatric-mental health nurses who possess a master's degree in psychiatric-mental health nursing and two years of supervised experience in psychiatric-mental health nursing, to perform the particular services covered under the terms of the contract, such certificate or license holder being expressly authorized by law to perform such services.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow any certificate holder or licensee enumerated in this section to perform professional mental health services beyond his or her field or fields of competence as established by his or her education, training and experience. For the purposes of this section, "marriage, family, and child counselor" shall mean a licensed marriage, family, and child counselor who has received specific instruction in assessment, diagnosis, prognosis, and counseling, and psychotherapeutic treatment of premarital, marriage, family, and child relationship dysfunctions which is equivalent to the instruction required for licensure on January 1, 1981.

A hospital service contract, which is issued, renewed, or amended on or after January 1, 1988, which includes mental health services coverage in nongroup contracts may not contain a lifetime waiver for that coverage with respect to any applicant. The lifetime waiver of coverage provision shall be deemed unenforceable.

CHAPTER 1105

An act to amend Sections 4370.5 and 7007 of, and to add Sections 4350.5 and 4353 to, the Civil Code, to amend Sections 259, 412.20, 1011, 1276, 1277, and 1278 of, and to add Section 412.21 to, the Code of Civil Procedure, and to amend Section 273.6 of the Penal Code, relating to courts.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4350.5 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4350.5. As used in this part, other than Title 1 (commencing with Section 4000), the terms "husband" and "wife" refer to persons who are lawfully married to each other and to persons who were previously lawfully married to each other.

SEC. 2. Section 4353 is added to the Civil Code, to read:

4353. In any action for legal separation or dissolution or annulment of a marriage, the court has continuing jurisdiction to award community property or community debts to the parties that has not been previously awarded by a judgment therein. A party may file a postjudgment motion or order to show cause in the proceeding in order to obtain adjudication of any community asset omitted or not awarded by the judgment. In these cases, the court shall equally divide the omitted or unawarded community asset, unless the court finds upon good cause shown that the interests of justice require an unequal division of the asset.

SEC. 3. Section 4370.5 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

4370.5. (a) The court may make an award under this chapter where the making of the award, and the amount of the award, is just and reasonable under the circumstances of the respective parties.

(b) In determining what is just and reasonable under the circumstances, the court shall take into consideration both of the following:

(1) The need for the award to enable each party, to the extent practical, to have sufficient financial resources to adequately present his or her case, taking into consideration to the extent relevant the circumstances of the respective parties described in subdivision (a) of Section 4801.

(2) The extent to which the conduct of each party and the attorney furthers or frustrates the policy of the law to promote settlement of litigation, and, where possible, to reduce the cost of litigation by encouraging cooperation between the parties and attorneys. An award of attorney fees and costs pursuant to this paragraph is in the nature of a sanction. In making an award pursuant to this paragraph, the court shall take into consideration all evidence concerning the parties' incomes, assets, and abilities. The court shall not impose a sanction pursuant to this paragraph that imposes an unreasonable financial burden upon the party against whom the sanction is imposed.

(c) The court may order payment of the award from any type of property, whether community or separate, principal or income.

SEC. 4. Section 7007 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

7007. (a) The superior court has jurisdiction of an action brought under this part.

(b) A person who has sexual intercourse in this state thereby submits to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state as to an action brought under this part with respect to a child who may have been conceived by that act of intercourse.

(c) The action may be brought in the county in which the child resides or is found or, if the father is deceased, in which proceedings for probate of his estate have been or could be commenced.

(d) The superior court has jurisdiction in an action under this part to change the name of a minor or adult child for whom a parent and child relationship is established pursuant to Section 7010, upon application in accordance with Title 8 (commencing with Section 1275) of Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The procedure for a change of name shall conform to those provisions, except that the application for the change of name may be included with the petition filed under this part and except as provided in Sections 1277 and 1278 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

SEC. 5 Section 259 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

259. Subject to the supervision of the court every court commissioner shall have power to do all of the following:

(1) Hear and determine ex parte motions, for orders and alternative writs and writs of habeas corpus in the superior court for which the court commissioner is appointed.

(2) Take proof and make and report findings thereon as to any matter of fact upon which information is required by the court. Any party to any contested proceeding may except to the report and the subsequent order of the court made thereon within five days after written notice of the court's action. A copy of the exceptions shall be filed and served upon opposing party or counsel within the five days. The party may argue any exceptions before the court on giving notice of motion for that purpose within 10 days from entry thereof. After a hearing before the court on the exceptions, the court may sustain, or set aside, or modify its order.

(3) Take and approve any bonds and undertakings in actions or proceedings, and determine objections to the bonds and undertakings.

(4) Administer oaths and affirmations, and take affidavits and depositions in any action or proceeding in any of the courts of this state, or in any matter or proceeding whatever, and take acknowledgments and proof of deeds, mortgages, and other instruments requiring proof or acknowledgment for any purpose under the laws of this or any other state or country.

(5) Act as temporary judge when otherwise qualified so to act and when appointed for that purpose, or by written consent of the party appearing at the hearing where the action is either uncontested or the other party or parties are in default. While acting as temporary judge the commissioner shall receive no compensation therefor other than compensation as commissioner.

(6) Hear and report findings and conclusions to the court for approval, rejection, or change, all preliminary matters including motions or petitions for the custody and support of children, the allowance of temporary alimony, costs and attorneys' fees, and issues of fact in contempt proceedings in divorce, maintenance, and annulment of marriage cases.

(7) Hear, report on, and determine all uncontested actions and proceedings subject to the requirements of paragraph (5) above.

(8) Charge and collect the same fees for the performance of official acts as are allowed by law to notaries public in this state for like services. This paragraph does not apply to any services of the commissioner, the compensation for which is expressly fixed by law. The fees so collected shall be paid to the treasurer of the county, for deposit in the general fund of the county.

(9) Provide an official seal, upon which must be engraved the words "Court Commissioner" and the name of the county, or city and county, in which the commissioner resides.

(10) Authenticate with the official seal the commissioner's official acts.

SEC. 6. Section 412.20 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

412.20. (a) Except as otherwise required by statute, a summons shall be directed to the defendant, signed by the clerk and issued under the seal of the court in which the action is pending, and it shall contain:

(1) The title of the court in which the action is pending.

(2) The names of the parties to the action.

(3) A direction that the defendant file with the court a written pleading in response to the complaint within 30 days after summons is served on him or her.

(4) A notice that, unless the defendant so responds, his or her default will be entered upon application by the plaintiff, and the plaintiff may apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, which could result in garnishment of wages, taking of money or property, or other relief.

(5) The following statement in boldface type: "You may seek the advice of an attorney in any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted promptly so that your pleading may be filed or entered within the time required by this summons."

(6) The following introductory legend at the top of the summons above all other matter, in boldface type, in English and Spanish:

"Notice! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read information below."

(b) Each county may, by ordinance, require that the legend contained in paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) be set forth in every summons issued out of the courts of that county in any additional foreign language, if the legend in the additional foreign language is set forth in the summons in the same manner as required in that paragraph.

(c) A summons in a form approved by the Judicial Council is deemed to comply with this section.

SEC. 7. Section 412.21 is added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

412.21. (a) Commencing on July 1, 1990, in an action for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, or annulment of marriage, the summons shall additionally contain temporary restraining orders set forth in this section. Upon the filing of a petition for dissolution of marriage, legal separation, annulment of marriage, or domestic violence by the petitioner and issuance of the summons and upon personal service of the petition and summons on the respondent or upon waiver and acceptance of service by the respondent, a temporary restraining order shall be in effect against both parties until the final decree is entered or the petition is dismissed, or until further order of the court:

(1) Enjoining both parties from harassing, molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, or disturbing the peace of the other party.

(2) Restraining both parties from removing the minor child or children of the parties, if any, from the state without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court.

(3) Restraining both parties from transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life and requiring each party to notify the other party of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least five business days prior to incurring those expenditures and to account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after service of the summons on that party. However, nothing in the restraining order shall preclude the parties from using community property to pay reasonable attorney's fees in order to retain legal counsel in the action.

(4) Restraining both parties from cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage including life, health, automobile, and disability held for the benefit of the parties and their minor child or children.

The restraining order is enforceable in any place in this state, but is not enforceable by a law enforcement agency of a political subdivision unless that law enforcement agency has received a copy of the order pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, has otherwise received a copy of the order, or the officer enforcing the order has been shown a copy of the order.

The summons shall state on its face that the order thereon is enforceable in any place in this state by any law enforcement agency that has received mailed notice thereof, by any other law enforcement agency that has received the order, or by any officer who has been shown the order. Any willful and knowing violation of the order by removing a child from the state without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court shall be punishable as provided in Section 278.5 of the Penal Code. Any willful and knowing violation of any of the other orders in the summons shall be punishable as provided in Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude either party from applying to the court for further temporary orders, an expanded temporary ex parte order, or modification or revocation of the order.

The automatic granting of these ex parte orders is not a court determination or competent evidence in any proceeding of any prior history of the conduct so proscribed occurring between the parties.

(b) In an action under Part 7 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 4 of the Civil Code, the summons shall additionally contain the temporary restraining orders set forth in this subdivision. Upon the filing of a petition hereunder by petitioner and issuance of the summons and upon personal service of the petition and summons on a respondent or upon waiver and acceptance of service by a respondent, a temporary restraining order shall be in effect against the parties until the final decree is entered or the petition is dismissed, or until further order of the court:

(1) Enjoining the parties from harassing, molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, or disturbing the peace of another party.

(2) Restraining all parties from removing from the state any minor child or children for whom the action seeks to establish a parent and child relationship, without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court.

The restraining order is enforceable in any place in this state, but is not enforceable by a law enforcement agency of a political subdivision unless that law enforcement agency has received a copy of the order pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, has otherwise received a copy of the order, or the officer enforcing the order has been shown a copy of the order.

The summons shall state on its face that the order thereon is enforceable in any place in this state by any law enforcement agency that has received mailed notice thereof, by any other law enforcement agency that has received the order, or by any officer who has been shown the order. Any willful and knowing violation of the order by removing a child from the state without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court shall be punishable as provided in Section 278.5 of the Penal Code. Any willful and knowing violation of any of the other orders in the summons shall be punishable as provided in Section 273.6 of the Penal Code.

Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude either party from applying to the court for further temporary orders, an expanded temporary ex parte order, or modification or revocation of the order.

The automatic granting of these ex parte orders is not a court determination or competent evidence in any proceeding of any prior history of the conduct so proscribed occurring between the parties.

(c) The restraining orders issued under this section are confidential and the court shall order as part of the restraining order that any person who discloses the existence of a temporary restraining order, except for the purpose of enforcing the restraining order or orders as provided herein, is subject to the penalties provided under Section 1218. Each and every disclosure shall constitute a separate violation of this subdivision. If this subdivision or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this section and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

SEC. 8. Section 1011 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1011. The service may be personal, by delivery to the party or attorney on whom the service is required to be made, or it may be as follows:

(a) If upon an attorney, service may be made at the attorney's office, by leaving the notice or other papers in an envelope or package clearly labeled to identify the attorney being served, with a receptionist or with a person having charge thereof. When there is no person in the office with whom the notice or papers may be left for purposes of this subdivision at the time service is to be effected, service may be made by leaving them between the hours of nine in the morning and five in the afternoon, in a conspicuous place in the office, or, if the attorney's office is not open so as to admit of that service, then service may be made by leaving the notice or papers at the attorney's residence, with some person of not less than 18 years of age, if the attorney's residence is in the same county with his or her office, and, if the attorney's residence is not known or is not in the same county with his or her office, or being in the same county it is not open, or there is not found thereat any person of not less than 18 years of age, then service may be made by putting the notice or papers, enclosed in a sealed envelope, into the post office or a mail box, subpost office, substation, or mail chute or other like facility regularly maintained by the Government of the United States directed to the attorney at his or her office, if known and otherwise to the attorney's residence, if known. If neither the attorney's office nor residence is known, service may be made by delivering the notice or papers to the clerk of the court, or to the judge where there is no clerk, for the attorney.

(b) If upon a party, service shall be made in the manner specifically provided in particular cases, or, if no specific provision is made, service may be made by leaving the notice or other paper at the party's residence, between the hours of eight in the morning and six in the evening, with some person of not less than 18 years of age. If at the time of attempted service between those hours a person 18 years of age or older cannot be found at the party's residence, the notice or papers may be served by mail. If the party's residence is not known, then service may be made by delivering the notice or papers to the clerk of the court or the judge, if there is no clerk, for that party.

SEC. 9. Section 1276 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1276. All applications for change of names shall be made to the superior court of the county where the person whose name is proposed to be changed resides either (a) by petition signed by the person or, if the person is under 18 years of age, by one of the person's parents, if living, or if both parents are dead, then by the guardian of the person and, if there is no guardian, then by some near relative or friend of the person or (b) as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 7007 of the Civil Code.

The petition or pleading shall specify the place of birth and residence of the person, his or her present name, the name proposed, and the reason for the change of name, and shall, if neither parent of the person is living, name, as far as known to the person proposing the name change, the near relatives of the person, and their place of residence.

In an action for a change of name commenced by the filing of a petition:

(a) If the person whose name is proposed to be changed is under 18 years of age and the petition is signed by only one parent, the petition shall specify the address, if known, of the other parent if living.

(b) If the person whose name is proposed to be changed is 12 years of age or over, has been relinquished to an adoption agency by his or her parent or parents, and has not been legally adopted, the petition shall be signed by the person and the adoption agency to which the person was relinquished. The near relatives of the person and their place of residence shall not be included in the petition unless they are known to the person whose name is proposed to be changed.

SEC. 10. Section 1277 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1277. (a) Where an action for a change of name is commenced by the filing of a petition, the court shall thereupon make an order reciting the filing of the petition, the name of the person by whom it is filed and the name proposed, and directing all persons interested in the matter to appear before the court at a time and place specified, which shall be not less than four or more than eight weeks from the time of making the order, to show cause why the application for change of name should not be granted. A copy of the order to show cause shall be published pursuant to Section 6064 of the Government Code in a newspaper of general circulation to be designated in the order published in the county. If no newspaper of general circulation is published in the county, a copy of the order to show cause shall be posted by the clerk of the court in three of the most public places in the county in which the court is located, for a like period. Proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the court of this publication or posting, at the time of the hearing of the application.

Four weekly publications shall be sufficient publication of the order to show cause. If the order is published in a daily newspaper, publication once a week for four successive weeks shall be sufficient.

Where a petition has been filed for a minor and the other parent, if living, does not join in consenting thereto, the petitioner shall, not less than 30 days prior to the hearing, serve notice of the time and place of the hearing or a copy of the order to show cause on the other parent pursuant to Section 415.10 or 415.40 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(b) Where application for change of name is brought as part of an action under Part 7 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 4 of the Civil Code, whether as part of a petition or cross-complaint or as a separate order to show cause in a pending action thereunder, service of the application shall be made upon all other parties to the action in a like manner as prescribed for the service of a summons, as is set forth in Article 3 (commencing with Section 415.10) of Chapter 4 of Title 5 of Part 2. Upon the setting of a hearing on the issue, notice of the hearing shall be given to all parties in the action in a like manner and within the time limits prescribed generally for the type of hearing (whether trial or order to show cause) at which the issue of the change of name is to be decided.

SEC. 11. Section 1278 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1278. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), the application shall be heard at the time designated by the court, only if objections are filed by any person who can, in those objections, show to the court good reason against the change of name. At the hearing, the court may examine on oath any of the petitioners, remonstrants, or other persons, touching the application, and may make an order changing the name, or dismissing the application, as to the court may seem right and proper.

If no objection is filed the court may, without hearing, enter the order that the change of name is granted.

(b) Where the application for a change of name is brought as part of an action under Part 7 (commencing with Section 7000) of Division 4 of the Civil Code, the hearing on the issue of the change of name shall be conducted pursuant to statutes and rules of court governing those proceedings, whether the hearing is conducted upon an order to show cause or upon trial.

SEC. 12. Section 273.6 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

273.6. (a) Any willful and knowing violation of any of the court orders set forth in this subdivision, when obtained pursuant to Section 4359, 4458, 4516, 7020, or 7021 of the Civil Code, subdivision (e) or (f) of Section 412.20 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Section 527.6 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 540) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) In the event of a violation of subdivision (a) which results in a physical injury, the person shall be imprisoned in the county jail for at least 48 hours, whether a fine or imprisonment is imposed, or the sentence is suspended.

(c) Subdivisions (a) and (b) shall apply to the following court orders:

(1) An order enjoining any party from molesting, attacking, striking, threatening, sexually assaulting, battering, harassing, or disturbing the peace of the other party, or other named family and household members.

(2) An order excluding one party from the family dwelling or from the dwelling of the other.

(3) An order enjoining a party from specified behavior which the court determined was necessary to effectuate the orders under subdivision (a) or (d).

(d) A second or subsequent conviction for a violation of an order issued pursuant to subdivision (a) occurring within seven years of a prior conviction for a violation of such an order and involving an act of violence or "a credible threat" of violence as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 139 is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one year, or in the state prison for 16 months or two or three years.

(e) The prosecuting agency of each county shall have the primary responsibility for the enforcement of orders issued pursuant to the provisions listed in subdivisions (a), (b), and (d).

SEC. 13. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1106

An act to amend Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to navigation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

651 As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Boating and Waterways.

(b) "Director" means the Director of Boating and Waterways.

(c) "Vessel" includes every description of watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, except either of the following:

(1) A seaplane on the water

(2) A watercraft specifically designed to operate on a permanently fixed course, the movement of which is restricted to a fixed track or arm to which the watercraft is attached or by which the watercraft is controlled.

(d) "Boat" means any vessel which is any of the following:

(1) Manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use.

(2) Leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use.

(3) Engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers, including those for-hire vessels carrying more than three passengers while using inland waters of the state that are not declared navigable by the United States Coast Guard.

(4) Commercial vessels required to be numbered pursuant to Section 9850 of the Vehicle Code.

(e) "Motorboat" means any vessel propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion, but shall not include a vessel which has a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(f) "Owner" is a person having all the incidents of ownership, including the legal title, of a vessel whether or not that person lends, rents, or pledges the vessel; the person entitled to the possession of a vessel as the purchaser under a conditional sale contract; or the mortgagor of a vessel. "Owner" does not include a person holding legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(g) "Legal owner" is a person holding the legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state, or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state, under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(h) "Registered owner" is the person registered by the Department of Motor Vehicles as the owner of the vessel.

(i) "Waters of this state" means any waters within the territorial limits of this state

(j) "Person" means an individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, or other entity, but does not include the United States, the state, or a municipality or subdivision thereof.

(k) "Operator" means the person on board who is steering the vessel while underway.

(l) "Undocumented vessel" means any vessel which is not required to have and does not have a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto

(m) "Use" means operate, navigate, or employ.

(n) "State" means a state of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the District of Columbia.

(o) "State of principal use" means the state on which waters a vessel is used or intended to be used most during a calendar year.

(p) "Passenger" means every person carried on board a vessel other than any of the following:

(1) The owner or his or her representative.

(2) The operator.

(3) Bona fide members of the crew engaged in the business of the vessel who have contributed no consideration for their carriage and who are paid for their services.

(4) Any guest on board a vessel which is being used exclusively for pleasure purposes who has not contributed any consideration, directly or indirectly, for his or her carriage.

(q) "Associated equipment" means any of the following, excluding radio equipment:

(1) Any system, part, or component of a boat as originally manufactured or any similar part or component manufactured or sold for replacement, repair, or improvement of the system, part, or component.

(2) Any accessory or equipment for, or appurtenance to, a boat.

(3) Any marine safety article, accessory, or equipment intended for use by a person on board a boat.

(r) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in any of the following:

(1) The manufacture, construction, or assembly of boats or associated equipment

(2) The manufacture or construction of components for boats and associated equipment to be sold for subsequent assembly.

(3) The importation into this state for sale of boats, associated equipment, or components thereof.

(s) "Drug" means any substance or combination of substances other than alcohol which could so affect the nervous system, brain, or muscles of a person as to impair to an appreciable degree his or her ability to operate a vessel in the manner that an ordinarily prudent person, in full possession of his or her faculties, using reasonable care, would operate a similar vessel under like conditions.

(t) "Water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device" includes all forms of water skiing, barefoot skiing, skiing on skim boards, knee boards, or other contrivances, parasailing, ski kiting, or any activity where a person is towed behind or alongside a boat.

(u) "Special-use area" means all or a portion of a waterway that is set aside for specified uses or activities to the exclusion of other incompatible uses or activities.

SEC. 1.3. Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

651. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Boating and Waterways

(b) "Director" means the Director of Boating and Waterways.

(c) "Vessel" includes every description of watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, except either of the following:

(1) A seaplane on the water.

(2) A watercraft specifically designed to operate on a permanently fixed course, the movement of which is restricted to a fixed track or arm to which the watercraft is attached or by which the watercraft is controlled.

(1) Manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use.

(2) Leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use.

(3) Engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers, including those for-hire vessels carrying more than three passengers while using inland waters of the state that are not declared navigable by the United States Coast Guard.

(4) Commercial vessels required to be numbered pursuant to Section 9850 of the Vehicle Code.

(e) "Motorboat" means any vessel propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion, but shall not include a vessel which has a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(f) "Owner" is a person having all the incidents of ownership, including the legal title, of a vessel whether or not that person lends, rents, or pledges the vessel; the person entitled to the possession of a vessel as the purchaser under a conditional sale contract; or the mortgagor of a vessel. "Owner" does not include a person holding legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(g) "Legal owner" is a person holding the legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state, or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state, under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(h) "Registered owner" is the person registered by the Department of Motor Vehicles as the owner of the vessel

(i) "Waters of this state" means any waters within the territorial limits of this state.

(j) "Person" means an individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, or other entity, but does not include the United States, the state, or a municipality or subdivision thereof.

(k) "Operator" means the person on board who is steering the vessel while underway.

(l) "Undocumented vessel" means any vessel which is not required to have and does not have a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(m) "Use" means operate, navigate, or employ.

(n) "State" means a state of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the District of Columbia.

(o) "State of principal use" means the state on which waters a vessel is used or intended to be used most during a calendar year.

(p) "Passenger" means every person carried on board a vessel other than any of the following:

(1) The owner or his or her representative.

(2) The operator.

(3) Bona fide members of the crew engaged in the business of the vessel who have contributed no consideration for their carriage and who are paid for their services.

(4) Any guest on board a vessel which is being used exclusively for pleasure purposes who has not contributed any consideration, directly or indirectly, for his or her carriage.

(q) "Associated equipment" means any of the following, excluding radio equipment:

(1) Any system, part, or component of a boat as originally manufactured or any similar part or component manufactured or sold for replacement, repair, or improvement of the system, part, or component.

(2) Any accessory or equipment for, or appurtenance to, a boat.

(3) Any marine safety article, accessory, or equipment intended for use by a person on board a boat.

(r) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in any of the following:

(1) The manufacture, construction, or assembly of boats or associated equipment.

(2) The manufacture or construction of components for boats and associated equipment to be sold for subsequent assembly.

(3) The importation into this state for sale of boats, associated equipment, or components thereof.

(s) "Drug" means any substance or combination of substances other than alcohol which could so affect the nervous system, brain, or muscles of a person as to impair to an appreciable degree his or her ability to operate a vessel in the manner that an ordinarily prudent person, in full possession of his or her faculties, using reasonable care, would operate a similar vessel under like conditions.

(t) "Water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device" includes all forms of water skiing, barefoot skiing, skiing on skim boards, knee boards, or other contrivances, parasailing, ski kiting, or any activity where a person is towed behind or alongside a boat.

(u) "Special-use area" means all or a portion of a waterway that is set aside for specified uses or activities to the exclusion of other incompatible uses or activities.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 1.5. Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

651. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Alcohol" means any form or derivative of ethyl alcohol (ethanol).

(b) "Alcohol concentration" means either grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

(c) "Chemical test" means a test which analyzes an individual's breath, blood, or urine, for evidence of drug or alcohol use.

(d) "Controlled substance" means controlled substance as defined in Section 11007 of the Health and Safety Code.

(e) "Department" means the Department of Boating and Waterways

(f) "Director" means the Director of Boating and Waterways.

(g) "Vessel" includes every description of watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, except either of the following:

(1) A seaplane on the water.

(2) A watercraft specifically designed to operate on a permanently fixed course, the movement of which is restricted to a fixed track or arm to which the watercraft is attached or by which the watercraft is controlled.

(h) "Boat" means any vessel which is any of the following:

(1) Manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use.

(2) Leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use.

(3) Engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers, including those for-hire vessels carrying more than three passengers while using inland waters of the state that are not declared navigable by the United States Coast Guard.

(4) Commercial vessels required to be numbered pursuant to Section 9850 of the Vehicle Code.

(i) "Intoxicant" means any form of alcohol, drug, or combination thereof.

(j) "Marine employer" means the owner, managing operator, charterer, agent, master, or person in charge of a vessel other than a recreational vessel.

(k) "Motorboat" means any vessel propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion, but does not include a vessel which has a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(l) "Owner" is a person having all the incidents of ownership, including the legal title, of a vessel whether or not that person lends, rents, or pledges the vessel; the person entitled to the possession of a vessel as the purchaser under a conditional sale contract; or the mortgagor of a vessel. "Owner" does not include a person holding legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more

(m) "Legal owner" is a person holding the legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state, or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state, under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(n) "Registered owner" is the person registered by the Department of Motor Vehicles as the owner of the vessel.

(aa) "Special-use area" means all or a portion of a waterway that is set aside for specified uses or activities to the exclusion of other incompatible uses or activities

(bb) "Recreational vessel" means a vessel which is being used only for pleasure.

This section shall become operative January 1, 1992.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. Sections 1.3 and 1.5 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1119. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1119, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1107

An act to amend Sections 25682, 25684, 25686.5, and 25686.8 of, and to repeal Section 25368 of, the Public Resources Code, relating to energy resources.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25368 of the Public Resources Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 25682 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25682. For purposes of this chapter:

(a) "Account" means the Energy Technologies Research, Development, and Demonstration Account.

(b) "Alternative sources of energy" includes, but is not limited to, geothermal, hydroelectric power equal to or less than 5 megawatts, photovoltaics, wind, biomass, cogeneration, solar thermal, fuel cells, and energy efficiency measures.

(c) "Loan" means the contractual financing of a qualifying project under the program, and in which the recipient of the loan repays the loan amount, plus accrued interest regardless of the commercial success of the project. Loans are generally to be provided to those projects that include energy technology systems that are relatively close to full commercialization, represent demonstrations of the technology, and have high probability of generating net positive cash flows sufficient to repay the loan and the accrued interest within five years from the performance determination date of the contract.

(d) "Repayable research contract" means the contractual award made to a qualifying project under the program, and in which the recipient of the award is obligated to repay up to the full amount of the award, plus accrued interest if the project, or invention developed as a result of the project award, results in the generation of net positive cash flows. Repayable research contracts are to be provided to those projects that are in the latter stages of technology development and have a moderate probability of generating net positive cash flows sufficient to repay the award and the accrued interest within five years from the performance determination date of the contract.

(e) "Primary research contract" means the contractual award made to a qualifying project under the program, and in which the recipient of the award is obligated to repay up to the full amount of the award, plus accrued interest if the project, or invention developed as a result of the project award, results in the generation of net positive cash flows. Primary research contracts are to be provided to those projects that are in the early stages of technology development and have a low probability of generating net positive cash flows sufficient to repay the award and the accrued interest within five years from the performance determination date of the contract.

(f) "Performance determination date" means the date at which the commission renders a written decision on the success of the project in meeting the goals and objectives established in the contract for the project.

SEC. 3 Section 25684 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25684. The commission shall make loans and repayable research contracts, and may provide primary research contracts funding from the account for the purposes of making energy technologies more efficient and cost-effective, and to develop new cost-effective alternative sources of energy. The commission shall select recipients through a procedure using an invitation for bids or a request for proposals. Each invitation for bids and request for proposals shall specify the criteria to be used in selecting projects for financing. The criteria shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following factors:

(a) The potential of the project to reduce consumption and increase the efficiency of nonrenewable energy sources and systems.

(b) The financial, technical, and management strength of the project applicant.

(c) The near-term and long-term feasibility of the project.

(d) The ability of the project technology to be used on other applications throughout California.

(e) The potential of the project for promoting diverse, secure, and resilient energy supplies.

(f) The potential of the project for reducing adverse environmental impacts.

(g) The potential of the project to stimulate economic development, employment, and tax revenues for California.

(h) The potential of the project for reducing short-term and long-term energy costs for the ratepayers of California.

(i) The need of the project for state financing.

(j) The ability of the project to garner private investment.

(k) The investment payback period for the project.

(l) The probability of success in overcoming the risk of the project.

(m) The potential for stimulating small business competition in the field of alternative energy development.

(n) The ability of the project to generate needed community economic development for participating local jurisdictions.

(o) The extent of the applicant's financial participation.

(p) The degree of innovation of the project.

(q) Whether the project is in general agreement with the energy policies of California regarding the energy technologies and priorities as set forth in the biennial report of the commission.

SEC. 4. Section 25686.5 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25686 5. At the commencement of each fiscal year, at least 70 percent of the money in the account shall be made available for loans or repayable research contracts for projects and the remainder shall be made available for primary research contracts funding under this chapter for that fiscal year. The commission may make less than 70 percent of the money in the account at the commencement of each fiscal year available for loans, or repayable research contracts, if it determines, through a four-fifths vote of the commission, that the public interest and objectives of this chapter will be better served through increased primary research contracts funding. In no instance, however, shall the amount of funds available for loans or repayable research contracts be less than 50 percent of the money in the account at the commencement of each fiscal year.

SEC. 5. Section 25686.8 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

25686.8. Any loan made from the account shall not be greater than 80 percent of the total project cost. Any repayable research contract or primary research contracts funding shall not be greater than 50 percent of the total project cost. The commission may provide a loan which exceeds that limit if it determines, through a four-fifths vote of the commission, that a major state contribution is essential to ensure project success.

CHAPTER 1108

An act to amend Section 12092 of the Government Code, relating to economic opportunity.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12092 of the Government Code is amended to read:

12092. (a) There is in state government a Department of Economic Opportunity Advisory Commission, which consists of 11 members. Two shall be appointed by the Rules Committee of the Senate, two shall be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, and seven shall be appointed by the Governor. Of the Governor's seven appointments, one shall be a representative of organized labor, one shall be a representative of the business community, one shall be a member of the State Community Action Association, one shall be a low-income person from northern California, one from central California, and two from southern California. The term of each member shall be four years.

(b) The commission shall advise the director on program development, establishment of goals, and priorities in combating poverty. It shall also review departmental performance and make recommendations to the director and the Governor for improvement. The director shall serve as executive secretary to the commission, and shall provide any staff and resources he or she deems essential.

(c) Each member of the commission shall be reimbursed for travel and other business-related expenses pursuant to the rules of the Department of Personnel Administration. In addition, effective July 1, 1990, each member shall receive a daily allowance in the amount specified in Section 11564.5 for each day that the member attends a meeting of the commission. The purpose of the stipend is to encourage and permit low-income persons to serve on the commission. This subdivision shall only be operative in a fiscal year for which the annual budget act for that fiscal year appropriates funds for the purposes of this subdivision.

CHAPTER 1109

An act to amend Sections 15373.1, 15373.2, 15373.8, and 15373.9 of, to add Section 15373.07 to, and to add Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 15373.51) and Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 15373.91) to Chapter 2.5 of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of, the Government Code, relating to rural economic development, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15373.07 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15373.07. The department shall adopt regulations necessary to implement and make specific Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 15373.51) and Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 15373.91) as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3, and for purposes of that chapter, including Section 11349.6, the adoption of the regulations shall be considered by the Office of Administrative Law to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and general welfare. Notwithstanding subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1, the regulations shall be repealed within 180 days after their effective date unless the agency complies with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 11346.1.

SEC. 2. Section 15373.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.1. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in this section govern the construction of this chapter.

(a) "County" means either of the following:

(1) A county with both 200,000 or less in population according to the 1980 Federal Census and an average annual unemployment rate equal to or greater than the state's 1984 annual average unemployment rate as determined by the Employment Development Department.

(2) A county with both 600,000 or less in population according to the 1980 Federal Census and an average annual unemployment rate of 130 percent or greater than the state's 1984 annual average unemployment rate as determined by the Employment Development Department.

(b) "Department" means the Department of Commerce.

(c) "Fund" means the Rural Economic Development Fund.

(d) "Local agency" means any of the following:

(1) A county as defined in subdivision (a).

(2) Any city within a county as defined in subdivision (a).

(3) A county that is not defined in subdivision (a) or a city which is outside of an urbanized area as designated by the United States Bureau of the Census from the 1980 Federal Census and which is within that county.

(e) "Panel" means the Rural Economic Development Infrastructure Panel.

SEC. 3. Section 15373.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.2. (a) In order to carry out this chapter, there is hereby created in the State Treasury the Rural Economic Development Fund.

(b) The fund shall receive state funds appropriated to it, repayment of loans and interest on those loans pursuant to this chapter, interest which accrues to the moneys in the fund pursuant to subdivision (c), fees or charges pursuant to subdivision (d), and penalties prescribed by the panel.

(c) (1) The Treasurer shall invest moneys contained in the fund not needed to meet current obligations in the same manner as other public funds are invested. The moneys resulting from this investment shall be used to support the three rural small business assistance and development centers previously established through the department and the Employment Development Department. The department shall grant these interest moneys to the centers upon request to provide for the continued operation of the centers.

(2) If sufficient interest moneys are not available at a time when the centers require additional funds, the department shall lend the centers necessary funds from the Rural Economic Development Fund, if the expected interest earnings from the fund will repay the loans. Funds received under this subdivision shall not be considered when the department reviews and approves applications pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 15397.3). Each center shall receive a maximum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) each fiscal year.

(3) Interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) per fiscal year shall be available for expenditure by the department pursuant to this chapter. Those expenditures shall include the costs associated with the provision of ongoing legal counsel to the Infrastructure Review Panel, created pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6) and reimbursement of expenses incurred by designated panel members while in the conduct of official panel business. The interest earnings may also be used by the department for administrative support and local assistance costs of activities consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(4) In addition to centers specified in paragraph (1), centers which are located in a county subject to this chapter may also be funded from interest earnings in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) annually for all additional centers, if there are sufficient funds available after support is provided for the three existing rural centers, and after the funding of other priorities established by this chapter.

(d) In order to defray costs to the department for administration of Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6), the department may impose reasonable charges on all applications, and approved loans. The department may use these fees or other charges for those costs necessary to protect the state's position as a lender-creditor. These costs include, but are not limited to, foreclosure expenses, auction fees, title searches, appraisals, real estate brokerage fees, removal and storage for repossessed equipment and inventory, and additional expenditures to purchase a senior lien in foreclosure or bankruptcy proceedings.

(e) Notwithstanding Section 13340, all moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to, and shall remain available for expenditure by, the department for the purposes of this chapter only until July 1, 1994, and on that date any remaining funds shall revert to the Special Account for Capital Outlay.

(f) Unless deemed appropriate by the local agency, no money in the fund shall be used in lieu of any existing state infrastructure financing program, including, but not limited to, the State Transportation Improvement Program or the Clean Water Bond Program.

SEC. 3.5. Section 15373.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.2. (a) In order to carry out this chapter, there is hereby created in the State Treasury the Rural Economic Development Fund.

(b) The fund shall receive state funds appropriated to it, repayment of loans and interest on those loans pursuant to this chapter, interest which accrues to the moneys in the fund pursuant to subdivision (c), fees or charges pursuant to subdivision (d), and penalties prescribed by the panel.

(c) (1) The Treasurer shall invest moneys contained in the fund not needed to meet current obligations in the same manner as other public funds are invested. The moneys resulting from this investment shall be used to support the three rural small business assistance and development centers previously established through the department and the Employment Development Department. The department shall grant these interest moneys to the centers upon request to provide for the continued operation of the centers.

(2) If sufficient interest moneys are not available at a time when the centers require additional funds, the department shall lend the centers necessary funds from the Rural Economic Development Fund, if the expected interest earnings from the fund will repay the loans. Funds received under this subdivision shall not be considered when the department reviews and approves applications pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 15397.3). Each center shall receive a maximum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) each fiscal year.

(3) Interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) per fiscal year shall be available for expenditure by the department pursuant to this chapter. The expenditures of these interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) shall include the costs associated with the provision of ongoing legal counsel to the Infrastructure Review Panel, created pursuant to Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6) and reimbursement of expenses incurred by designated panel members while in the conduct of official panel business. The interest earnings in excess of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) may also be used by the department for administrative support and local assistance costs of activities consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(4) In addition to centers specified in paragraph (1), centers which are located in a county subject to this chapter may also be funded from interest earnings in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) annually for all additional centers, if there are sufficient funds available after support is provided for the three existing rural centers, and after the funding of other priorities established by this chapter.

(5) If sufficient interest earnings are available after support is provided to centers specified in paragraphs (1) and (4), and to other priorities established by this chapter, an amount not to exceed seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) annually may be used for support of the California Main Street Program (Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 15399)). Services rendered as a result of this increased support shall be targeted for Main Street Demonstration and Self-Initiated Cities in counties subject to this chapter.

(d) In order to defray costs to the department for administration of Article 5 (commencing with Section 15373.6), the department may impose reasonable charges on all applications, and approved loans. The department may use these fees or other charges for those costs necessary to protect the state's position as a lender-creditor. These costs include, but are not limited to, foreclosure expenses, auction fees, title searches, appraisals, real estate brokerage fees, removal and storage for repossessed equipment and inventory, and additional expenditures to purchase a senior lien in foreclosure or bankruptcy proceedings.

(e) Notwithstanding Section 13340, all moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to, and shall remain available for expenditure by, the department for the purposes of this chapter only until July 1, 1994, and on that date any remaining funds shall revert to the Special Account for Capital Outlay.

(f) Unless deemed appropriate by the local agency, no money in the fund shall be used in lieu of any existing state infrastructure financing program, including, but not limited to, the State Transportation Improvement Program or the Clean Water Bond Program.

SEC. 4. Section 15373.8 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.8. (a) (1) The panel shall meet regularly to conduct its business and to review and approve projects pursuant to this article for funding from the Rural Economic Development Fund. The panel shall make a decision on any application within 90 days after a local agency submits the application to the department. This financing shall be in the form of loans and grants.

(A) Loans shall be limited to a maximum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) per project. The terms of any approved loan shall be specified in a loan agreement between the local agency and the panel. Repayment of loans shall begin within nine months of the date of the loan and shall be made semiannually. Each loan shall be for a term not to exceed 15 years from the date of loan disbursement. The local agency shall pay interest at a rate specified in the loan agreement which shall not exceed 2 percent less than the rate earned by the state Surplus Money Investment Fund. Penalties, if established by the panel, shall be uniformly applied. Any loan or grant approved for a local agency shall not be considered debt within the meaning of Section 18 of Article XVI of the California Constitution.

(B) Grants shall be limited to two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) per project and shall be made only if a local agency demonstrates an inability to repay a loan or similar extraordinary circumstances. In no event shall more than 20 percent of the available moneys in the fund in any fiscal year be allocated as grants for purposes of funding projects under this section.

(2) Subject to paragraph (3), a local agency which submits an application pursuant to Section 15373.9 may, at the time the application is submitted, request the panel to approve a loan amount, term, interest rate, beginning payment, or frequency of repayment which differs from the requirements of paragraph (1). The panel may approve the request or may change and approve the request only if all of the following exist:

(A) The local agency provides sufficient documentation to the panel that the local agency or special district responsible for repaying the loan will be unable to repay a loan under the conditions specified in paragraph (1).

(B) The loan is equal to or less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) or the loan is for more than one million dollars ($1,000,000) and the local agency provides sufficient documentation of special circumstances.

(3) The panel shall not approve a loan in an amount of more than two million dollars ($2,000,000), nor shall it approve a loan which provides for an indefinite deferral of the repayment of principal and interest, or for a term for more than 50 years. The panel shall make a decision on any request made pursuant to paragraph (2) at the time the panel makes a decision on the loan application.

(b) Loans and grants may be made to a local agency for projects which meet the criteria specified in Section 15373.9, for the purpose of assisting in financing public improvements, including, but not limited to, sewer and water facilities, streets, storm drains, bridges, and related costs, such as engineering design. Funds may be used for the development of new facilities, or the rehabilitation, alteration, expansion, or improvement of existing facilities.

(c) Preliminary design work, including a cost estimate for the project, shall be completed before a loan or grant is awarded. Costs for preliminary design work, project cost estimates, planning, preliminary engineering, and other costs necessary for preparation of the application may be reimbursed from a loan or grant, subject to approval by the panel.

(d) Any county which does not meet the definition of a county provided for under subdivision (a) of Section 15373.1 may apply for a loan or grant under this article only with respect to an unincorporated area outside of an urbanized area as designated by the United States Bureau of the Census from the 1980 Federal Census.

(e) Projects financed under this article shall meet all of the following requirements:

(1) Be associated with either an expansion, retention, relocation, or new location of an identified private sector firm. This firm shall be a manufacturing, service, research and development, production, assembly, warehousing, or industrial distribution facility. Commercial business activity, as well as tourist and recreation facilities, which are found by the panel to significantly increase permanent private sector employment and substantially improve the economic prosperity of an area may also qualify the project.

(2) Directly lead to the creation or retention of permanent private sector jobs within the applicant's jurisdictional boundaries. Projects shall also create at least one full-time job for every fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in loan funds received except in the case of research and development facilities in which the economic job creation standard shall be set by the panel.

(f) Loans and grants may also be made, pursuant to this article and under criteria established by the department, to local agencies in high unemployment areas to develop infrastructure for industrial parks or other sites for businesses where there is no specific business already committed to the project, when the department determines that there is little likelihood of business expansion into the community prior to the development of the parks or sites, and that the loan or grant has a high probability of leading to the creation or retention of permanent private sector jobs within the applicant's jurisdictional boundaries. The loan or grant cannot exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000). Notwithstanding subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of this section, repayment of any loan directed towards a specific business expansion, retention, relocation, or new location shall begin when the industrial park or other development has enough occupancy to produce adequate revenues for repayment. The amount and the timing of the repayment shall be specified in the loan agreement between the local agency and the panel.

(g) Priority shall be given to those projects which create jobs in communities with particularly high levels of unemployment and declining resource-based economics. Consideration shall be given to other community factors in awarding loans and grants, including, but not limited to, those communities which are facing local government fiscal crises, a high poverty rate, or which exhibit an active commitment to diversifying and expanding their economic base. To the extent possible, loans and grants shall be equitably distributed throughout the various rural regions of the state.

(h) Financing shall not be provided for projects which would result in increased production or availability of goods, materials, or services where sufficient capacity exists in the community to meet current and future demands

(i) Loans or grants may not finance projects which would either affect the relocation of any substantial operations of the company from one area of the state to another, or result in the abandonment of any substantial operations of the company within other areas of the state, unless completion of the project or operation of the facility is reasonably necessary to prevent the relocation of any substantial operations of the company from an area within the state to an area outside the state.

(j) The proceeds of repayment of loan principal and the payment of interest prior to July 1, 1994, shall be deposited in the fund. The proceeds of repayment of loan principal and the payment of interest on and after July 1, 1994, shall be deposited in the Special Account for Capital Outlay.

SEC. 5. Section 15373.9 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15373.9. A local agency may submit an application to the department for loan or grant funds pursuant to this article. A local agency may submit an application on behalf of a special district. Any application shall include information concerning the project which shall do all of the following:

(a) Demonstrate community need for economic development.

(b) Demonstrate financial need for state assistance.

(c) Demonstrate financial source of loan repayment and interest.

(d) Provide evidence of firm financial commitment on the part of the business or enterprise associated with the project.

(e) Provide evidence of site control, including any leases, easements, covenants, or encumbrances which may affect the project.

(f) Demonstrate that the applicant has the ability to administer the project and state assistance requirements.

(g) Demonstrate that the project is consistent with a city, county, or city and county general plan.

(h) Demonstrate that the project will comply with the California Environmental Quality Act as set forth in Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code.

SEC. 6. Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 15373.51) is added to Chapter 2.5 of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 4.5. Rural Economic Development Grant Program

15373.51. (a) There is hereby established within the department the Rural Economic Development Grant Program. Grants shall be made from the Rural Economic Development Fund, and in any fiscal year shall total not more than the lesser of 10 percent of the balance of the fund or seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000).

(b) The purpose of the program is to encourage economic development, including tourism promotion and business attraction and retention activities.

(c) Eligible applicants shall be local agencies, as defined in this chapter, or other public agencies or nonprofit organizations principally involved in economic development or tourism promotion.

15373.52. (a) Eligible applicants shall submit grant proposals to the department's Office of Local Development. The director of the office shall approve or deny all applications within 45 days after the grant application is deemed complete by the department.

(b) Grant funds shall be used to fund projects which lead to both of the following:

(1) Retention or creation of permanent jobs.

(2) Increased local tax revenue.

15373.53. (a) Grant awards shall range from twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and shall be awarded to applicants on a competitive basis.

(b) The highest priority shall be given to projects which lead to the most employment and tax revenue. In calculating tax revenue and employment, the department shall take into consideration the size and economic distress of the locality.

(c) Priority shall be given to applications which accomplish one or more of the following:

(1) Effectively identify and address significant economic needs within the local economy.

(2) Facilitate a specific business development project leading to the creation of permanent private sector jobs.

(3) Support community-specific or industry-specific business retention or expansion efforts.

(4) Promote a regional business or tourism development activity.

(5) Encourage public-private cooperative efforts in economic development.

15373.54 Eligible uses for grant funds shall be all those identified in subdivision (d) of Section 15373.5. All restrictions and requirements of that section shall also apply to grants awarded under the program prescribed by this chapter.

SEC. 7. Article 5.5 (commencing with Section 15373.91) is added to Chapter 2.5 of Part 6.7 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 5.5. Rural Revolving Loan Program

15373.91. There is hereby established within the department the Rural Revolving Loan Program.

15373.92. (a) The purpose of the program is to provide fully collateralized loans to encourage the expansion, new location, and retention of existing businesses within rural areas of the state.

(b) Eligible applicants shall be for-profit small businesses.

(c) Eligible projects shall consist of manufacturing, warehousing, or product distribution, and shall be located within the jurisdiction of a local agency.

(d) Loan funds shall only be used for any or all of the following:

(1) Acquisition of real property.

(2) Take-out financing for the construction or rehabilitation of a structure owned and occupied by the borrower.

(3) Purchase of machinery and equipment by the borrower to be used solely at the project location.

(e) The loan amounts shall range from fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000). The term of the loan shall be 20 years for the financing of real property or structures, and seven years for the financing of machinery or equipment. The interest rate for loans shall be set at the rate earned by the state Surplus Money Investment Fund at the time of the loan commitment.

(f) Collateral for 20-year loans shall include, at a minimum, a deed of trust on the real property financed. Collateral for seven-year loans shall include, at a minimum, a first security interest on all equipment and machinery purchased with loan funds.

(g) Applicants must demonstrate, within two years of the date that the loan agreement is executed, that the project will result in a minimum of one full-time permanent job for every twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of loan funds. The department shall stipulate in the loan agreement that failure to meet this condition may result in the calling due of the loan.

(h) The department may assess a loan fee. The fee shall be deposited in the Rural Revolving Loan Collection Account.

15373.93. The department shall finance no more than one-third the cost of any project. Each borrower shall be required to pay a minimum of 10 percent of the project costs from its own funds. The remaining funds shall be provided by a financial institution chartered by a state or federal governmental entity.

15373.94. As part of the application form developed for this program, the department shall provide a list of financial and legal documents necessary to demonstrate the applicant's ability to repay and collateralize the loan. The department may also request additional financial and legal documents not provided on the list from individual applicants, and the application shall not be deemed complete until the applicant has provided all additional information requested by the department.

15373.95. (a) Loan applications reviewed by the department shall be reviewed by a loan committee, appointed by the Director of the Department of Commerce, consisting of the Director of the Office of Local Development, an additional member from the department, two members employed by financial institutions with expertise in evaluating loan proposals, and one local economic development professional with expertise in small business lending. This committee shall then approve or deny the loan request.

(b) Applicants shall receive a final funding decision within 45 days after the loan application is deemed complete by the department.

15373.96. (a) There is hereby created in the Rural Economic Development Fund the Rural Revolving Loan Collection Account. The Rural Revolving Loan Collection Account is created solely for the purpose of receiving charges, fees, income, and collections, and paying costs necessary to protect the state's interests as specified in subdivision (c).

(b) In order to defray costs to the department for administration of its rural revolving loan program the department may do all of the following:

(1) Impose reasonable charges on all applications, approved grants, and approved loans.

(2) Recover collection costs from the borrower, grantee, or other party

(3) Earn income on any asset recovered pursuant to a loan default.

(c) The department may use these fees or other charges for those costs necessary to protect the state's position as a lender-creditor. These costs shall be broadly construed to include, but are not limited to, foreclosure expenses, auction fees, title searches, appraisals, real estate brokerage fees, attorney fees, mortgage payments, insurance payments, utility costs, repair costs, removal and storage costs for repossessed equipment and inventory, and additional expenditures to purchase a senior lien in foreclosure or bankruptcy proceedings.

(d) In the event that collection costs exceed the funds available in the Rural Revolving Loan Collection Account, the department may pay collection costs from the funds in the Rural Economic Development Fund.

SEC. 8. The Legislative Analyst shall report to the Legislature, no later than December 31, 1993, regarding whether the program has accomplished its stated goals of:

(a) Encouraging economic development, including tourism promotion, in the state's rural areas.

(b) Retaining or creating permanent jobs.

(c) Increasing local tax revenues.

(d) Providing one full-time permanent job for every twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) loaned.

SEC. 9. Section 3.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 15373.2 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and SB 409. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, but this bill becomes operative first, (2) each bill amends Section 15373.2 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 409, in which case Section 15373.2 of the Government Code, as amended by Section 3 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the operative date of SB 409, at which time Section 3.5 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to promptly proceed with implementation of the Rural Economic Development Program to encourage the revitalization of economically depressed rural areas of the state by providing permanent private sector jobs and reducing dependency on governmental social welfare programs, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1110

An act to amend Sections 502 and 502.7 of, and to add Section 502.01 to, the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means two or more computer systems connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6) or (7) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

SEC. 3. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means two or more computer systems connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

(k) In determining the terms and conditions applicable to a person convicted of a violation of this section the court shall consider the following:

(1) The court shall consider prohibitions on access to and use of computers.

(2) Except as otherwise required by law, the court shall consider alternate sentencing, including community service, if the defendant shows remorse and recognition of the wrongdoing, and an inclination not to repeat the offense.

SEC. 4. Section 502 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section to expand the degree of protection afforded to individuals, businesses, and governmental agencies from tampering, interference, damage, and unauthorized access to lawfully created computer data and computer systems. The Legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of computer technology has resulted in a concomitant proliferation of computer crime and other forms of unauthorized access to computers, computer systems, and computer data.

The Legislature further finds and declares that protection of the integrity of all types and forms of lawfully created computers, computer systems, and computer data is vital to the protection of the privacy of individuals as well as to the well-being of financial institutions, business concerns, governmental agencies, and others within this state that lawfully utilize those computers, computer systems, and data.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Access" means to gain entry to, instruct, or communicate with the logical, arithmetical, or memory function resources of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(2) "Computer network" means any system which provides communications between one or more computer systems and input/output devices including, but not limited to, display terminals and printers connected by telecommunication facilities.

(3) "Computer program or software" means a set of instructions or statements, and related data, that when executed in actual or modified form, cause a computer, computer system, or computer network to perform specified functions.

(4) "Computer services" includes, but is not limited to, computer time, data processing, or storage functions, or other uses of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) "Computer system" means a device or collection of devices, including support devices and excluding calculators which are not programmable and capable of being used in conjunction with external files, one or more of which contain computer programs, electronic instructions, input data, and output data, that performs functions including, but not limited to, logic, arithmetic, data storage and retrieval, communication, and control.

(6) "Data" means a representation of information, knowledge, facts, concepts, computer software, computer programs or instructions. Data may be in any form, in storage media, or as stored in the memory of the computer or in transit or presented on a display device.

(7) "Supporting documentation" includes, but is not limited to, all information, in any form, pertaining to the design, construction, classification, implementation, use, or modification of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software, which information is not generally available to the public and is necessary for the operation of a computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or computer software.

(8) "Injury" means any alteration, deletion, damage, or destruction of a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data caused by the access.

(9) "Victim expenditure" means any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, deleted, damaged, or destroyed by the access.

(10) "Computer contaminant" means any set of computer instructions that are designed to modify, damage, destroy, record, or transmit information within a computer, computer system, or computer network without the intent or permission of the owner of the information. They include, but are not limited to, a group of computer instructions commonly called viruses or worms, which are self-replicating or self-propagating and are designed to contaminate other computer programs or computer data, consume computer resources, modify, destroy, record, or transmit data, or in some other fashion usurp the normal operation of the computer, computer system, or computer network.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (h), any person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense:

(1) Knowingly accesses and without permission alters, damages, deletes, destroys, or otherwise uses any data, computer, computer system, or computer network in order to either (A) devise or execute any scheme or artifice to defraud, deceive, or extort, or (B) wrongfully control or obtain money, property, or data.

(2) Knowingly accesses and without permission takes, copies, or makes use of any data from a computer, computer system, or computer network, or takes or copies any supporting documentation, whether existing or residing internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(3) Knowingly and without permission uses or causes to be used computer services.

(4) Knowingly accesses and without permission adds, alters, damages, deletes, or destroys any data, computer software, or computer programs which reside or exist internal or external to a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(5) Knowingly and without permission disrupts or causes the disruption of computer services or denies or causes the denial of computer services to an authorized user of a computer, computer system, or computer network.

(6) Knowingly and without permission provides or assists in providing a means of accessing a computer, computer system, or computer network in violation of this section.

(7) Knowingly and without permission accesses or causes to be accessed any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(8) Knowingly introduces any computer contaminant into any computer, computer system, or computer network.

(d) (1) Any person who violates any of the provisions of paragraph (1), (2), (4), or (5) of subdivision (c) is punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person who violates paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For the first violation which does not result in injury, and where the value of the computer services used does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400), by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or in an injury, or if the value of the computer services used exceeds four hundred dollars ($400), or for any second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(3) Any person who violates paragraph (6), (7), or (8) of subdivision (c) is punishable as follows:

(A) For a first violation which does not result in injury, an infraction punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars ($250).

(B) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount not greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or for a second or subsequent violation, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(C) For any violation which results in a victim expenditure in an amount greater than five thousand dollars ($5,000), by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by imprisonment in the state prison for 16 months, or two or three years, or by both that fine and imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) (1) In addition to any other civil remedy available, the owner or lessee of the computer, computer system, computer network, computer program, or data may bring a civil action against any person convicted under this section for compensatory damages, including any expenditure reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner or lessee to verify that a computer system, computer network, computer program, or data was or was not altered, damaged, or deleted by the access. For the purposes of actions authorized by this subdivision, the conduct of an unemancipated minor shall be imputed to the parent or legal guardian having control or custody of the minor, pursuant to the provisions of Section 1714.1 of the Civil Code.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this subdivision the court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a prevailing party.

(3) A community college, state university, or academic institution accredited in this state is required to include computer-related crimes as a specific violation of college or university student conduct policies and regulations that may subject a student to disciplinary sanctions up to and including dismissal from the academic institution. This paragraph shall not apply to the University of California unless the Board of Regents adopts a resolution to that effect.

(f) This section shall not be construed to preclude the applicability of any other provision of the criminal law of this state which applies or may apply to any transaction, nor shall it make illegal any employee labor relations activities that are within the scope and protection of state or federal labor laws.

(g) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in subdivision (c) or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of subdivision (c) shall be subject to forfeiture, as specified in Section 502.01.

(h) (1) Subdivision (c) does not apply to any person who accesses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting within the scope of his or her lawful employment.

(2) Paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) does not apply to any employee who accesses or uses his or her employer's computer system, computer network, computer program, or data when acting outside the scope of his or her lawful employment, so long as the employee's activities do not cause an injury, as defined in paragraph (8) of subdivision (b), to the employer or another, or so long as the value of supplies and computer services, as defined in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b), which are used do not exceed an accumulated total of one hundred dollars ($100).

(i) No activity exempted from prosecution under paragraph (2) of subdivision (h) which incidentally violates paragraph (2), (4), or (7) of subdivision (c) shall be prosecuted under those paragraphs.

(j) For purposes of bringing a civil or a criminal action under this section, a person who causes, by any means, the access of a computer, computer system, or computer network in one jurisdiction from another jurisdiction is deemed to have personally accessed the computer, computer system, or computer network in each jurisdiction.

(k) In determining the terms and conditions applicable to a person convicted of a violation of this section the court shall consider the following:

(1) The court shall consider prohibitions on access to and use of computers.

(2) Except as otherwise required by law, the court shall consider alternate sentencing, including community service, if the defendant shows remorse and recognition of the wrongdoing, and an inclination not to repeat the offense.

SEC. 5. Section 502.01 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

502.01. (a) As used in this section:

(1) "Property subject to forfeiture" means any property of the defendant that is a computer, computer system, or computer network, and any software or data residing thereon, if the computer, computer system, or computer network was used in committing a violation of subdivision (c) of Section 502 or a violation of subdivision (b) of Section 502.7 or was used as a repository for the storage of software or data obtained in violation of those provisions. If the defendant is a minor, it also includes property of the parent or guardian of the defendant.

(2) "Sentencing court" means the court sentencing a person found guilty of violating subdivision (c) of Section 502 or a violation of subdivision (b) of Section 502.7 or, in the case of a minor found to be a person described in Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code because of a violation of those provisions, the juvenile court.

(3) "Interest" means any property interest in the property subject to forfeiture.

(4) "Security interest" means an interest that is a lien, mortgage, security interest, or interest under a conditional sales contract

(b) The sentencing court shall, upon petition by the prosecuting attorney, at any time following sentencing, or by agreement of all parties, at the time of sentencing, conduct a hearing to determine whether any property or property interest is subject to forfeiture under this section. At the forfeiture hearing, the prosecuting attorney shall have the burden of establishing, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the property or property interests are subject to forfeiture. The prosecuting attorney may retain seized property that may be subject to forfeiture until the sentencing hearing.

(c) Prior to the commencement of a forfeiture proceeding, the law enforcement agency seizing the property subject to forfeiture shall make an investigation as to any person other than the defendant who may have an interest in it. At least 30 days before the hearing to determine whether the property should be forfeited, the prosecuting agency shall send notice of the hearing to any person who may have an interest in the property that arose before the seizure.

A person claiming an interest in the property shall file a motion for the redemption of that interest at least 10 days before the hearing on forfeiture, and a copy of the motion to the prosecuting agency and to the probation department.

If a motion to redeem an interest has been filed, the sentencing court shall hold a hearing to identify all persons who possess valid interests in the property. No person shall hold a valid interest in the property if, by a preponderance of the evidence, the prosecuting agency shows that the person knew or should have known that the property was being used in violation of subdivision (c) of Section 502 or subdivision (b) of Section 502.7, and that the person did not take reasonable steps to prevent that use, or if the interest is a security interest, the person knew or should have known at the time that the security interest was created that the property would be used for such a violation.

(d) If the sentencing court finds that a person holds a valid interest in the property, the following provisions shall apply:

(1) The court shall determine the value of the property.

(2) The court shall determine the value of each valid interest in the property.

(3) If the value of the property is greater than the value of the interest, the holder of the interest shall be entitled to ownership of the property upon paying the court the difference between the value of the property and the value of the valid interest.

If the holder of the interest declines to pay the amount determined under paragraph (2), the court may order the property sold and designate the prosecutor or any other agency to sell the property. The designated agency shall be entitled to seize the property and the holder of the interest shall forward any documentation underlying the interest, including any ownership certificates for that property, to the designated agency. The designated agency shall sell the property and pay the owner of the interest the proceeds, up to the value of that interest.

(4) If the value of the property is less than the value of the interest, the designated agency shall sell the property and pay the owner of the interest the proceeds, up to the value of that interest.

(e) If the defendant was a minor at the time of the offense, this subdivision shall apply to property subject to forfeiture that is the property of the parent or guardian of the minor.

(1) The prosecuting agency shall notify the parent or guardian of the forfeiture hearing at least 30 days before the date set for the hearing.

(2) The computer shall not be subject to forfeiture if the parent or guardian files a signed statement with the court at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing that the minor shall not have access to any computer owned by the parent or guardian for two years after the date on which the minor is sentenced.

(3) If the minor is convicted of a violation of subdivision (c) of Section 502 or subdivision (b) of Section 502.7 within two years after the date on which the minor is sentenced, and the violation involves a computer owned by the parent or guardian, the original property subject to forfeiture, and the property involved in the new offense, shall be subject to forfeiture notwithstanding paragraph (2).

(f) If the defendant is found to have the only valid interest in the property subject to forfeiture, it shall be distributed as follows:

(1) First, to the victim, if the victim elects to take the property as full or partial restitution for injury, victim expenditures, or compensatory damages, as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 502. If the victim elects to receive the property under this paragraph, the value of the property shall be determined by the court and that amount shall be credited against the restitution owed by the defendant. The victim shall not be penalized for electing not to accept the forfeited property in lieu of full or partial restitution.

(2) Second, at the discretion of the court, to one or more of the following agencies or entities:

(A) The prosecuting agency.

(B) The public entity of which the prosecuting agency is a part.

(C) The public entity whose officers or employees conducted the investigation resulting in forfeiture.

(D) Other state and local public entities, including school districts.

(E) Nonprofit charitable organizations.

(g) If the property is to be sold, the court may designate the prosecuting agency or any other agency to sell the property at auction. The proceeds of the sale shall be distributed by the court as follows:

(1) To the bona fide or innocent purchaser or encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, or mortgagee of the property up to the amount of his or her interest in the property, if the court orders a distribution to that person.

(2) The balance, if any, to be retained by the court, subject to the provisions for distribution under subdivision (f).

SEC. 6. Section 502.7 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

502.7. (a) Any person who, knowingly, willfully, and with intent to defraud a person providing telephone or telegraph service, avoids or attempts to avoid, or aids, abets or causes another to avoid the lawful charge, in whole or in part, for telephone or telegraph service by any of the following means is guilty of a misdemeanor or a felony, as provided in subdivision (f):

(1) By charging the service to an existing telephone number or credit card number without the authority of the subscriber thereto or the lawful holder thereof.

(2) By charging the service to a nonexistent telephone number or credit card number, or to a number associated with telephone service which is suspended or terminated, or to a revoked or canceled (as distinguished from expired) credit card number, notice of the suspension, termination, revocation, or cancellation of the telephone service or credit card having been given to the subscriber thereto or the holder thereof.

(3) By use of a code, prearranged scheme, or other similar stratagem or device whereby the person, in effect, sends or receives information.

(4) By rearranging, tampering with, or making connection with telephone or telegraph facilities or equipment, whether physically, electrically, acoustically, inductively, or otherwise, or by using telephone or telegraph service with knowledge or reason to believe that the rearrangement, tampering, or connection existed at the time of the use.

(5) By using any other deception, false pretense, trick, scheme, device, or means.

(b) Any person who (1) makes, possesses, sells, gives, or otherwise transfers to another, or offers or advertises any instrument, apparatus, or device with intent to use it or with knowledge or reason to believe it is intended to be used to avoid any lawful telephone or telegraph toll charge or to conceal the existence or place of origin or destination of any telephone or telegraph message; or (2) sells, gives, or otherwise transfers to another or offers, or advertises plans or instructions for making or assembling an instrument, apparatus, or device described in paragraph (1) of this subdivision with knowledge or reason to believe that they may be used to make or assemble the instrument, apparatus, or device is guilty of a misdemeanor or a felony, as provided in subdivision (f).

(c) Any person who publishes the number or code of an existing, canceled, revoked, expired, or nonexistent credit card, or the numbering or coding which is employed in the issuance of credit cards, with the intent that it be used or with knowledge or reason to believe that it will be used to avoid the payment of any lawful telephone or telegraph toll charge is guilty of a misdemeanor. The provisions of subdivision (f) shall not apply to this subdivision. As used in this section, "publishes" means the communication of information to any one or more persons, either orally, in person or by telephone, radio, or television, or in a writing of any kind, including without limitation a letter or memorandum, circular or handbill, newspaper, or magazine article, or book.

(d) Subdivision (a) applies when the telephone or telegraph communication involved either originates or terminates, or both originates and terminates, in this state, or when the charges for service would have been billable, in normal course, by a person providing telephone or telegraph service in this state, but for the fact that the charge for service was avoided, or attempted to be avoided, by one or more of the means set forth in subdivision (a).

(e) Jurisdiction of an offense under this section is in the jurisdictional territory where the telephone call or telegram involved in the offense originates or where it terminates, or the jurisdictional territory to which the bill for the service is sent or would have been sent but for the fact that the service was obtained or attempted to be obtained by one or more of the means set forth in subdivision (a).

(f) If the total value of all telephone or telegraph services obtained in violation of this section aggregates over four hundred dollars ($400) within any period of twelve (12) consecutive months during the three years immediately prior to the time the indictment is found or the case is certified to the superior court, or prior to the time the information is filed, or if the defendant has previously been convicted of an offense in excess of four hundred dollars ($400) under this section or of an offense in excess of four hundred dollars ($400) under the laws of another state or of the United States which would have been an offense under this section if committed in this state, a person guilty of such offense is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both, or by imprisonment in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or both.

(g) Any instrument, apparatus, device, plans, instructions, or written publication described in subdivision (b) or (c) may be seized under warrant or incident to a lawful arrest, and, upon the conviction of a person for a violation of subdivision (a), (b), or (c), the instrument, apparatus, device, plans, instructions, or written publication may be destroyed as contraband by the sheriff of the county in which the person was convicted or turned over to the person providing telephone or telegraph service in the territory in which it was seized.

(h) Any computer, computer system, computer network, or any software or data, owned by the defendant, which is used during the commission of any public offense described in this section or any computer, owned by the defendant, which is used as a repository for the storage of software or data illegally obtained in violation of this section shall be subject to forfeiture.

SEC. 7. (a) Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and SB 304. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 502 of the Penal Code, and (3) AB 1859 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after SB 304, in which case Sections 1, 3, and 4 of this bill shall not become operative.

(b) Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1859. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 502 of the Penal Code, (3) SB 304 is not enacted or as enacted does not amend that section, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 1859 in which case Sections 1, 2, and 4 of this bill shall not become operative.

(c) Section 4 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 502 of the Penal Code proposed by this bill, SB 304, and AB 1859. It shall only become operative if (1) all three bills are enacted and become effective January 1, 1990, (2) all three bills amend Section 502 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 304 and AB 1859, in which case Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 8. If this bill and AB 1859 are both enacted and become operative on January 1, 1990, and both bills add Section 502.01 to the Penal Code, and this bill is enacted last, then Section 502.01 of the Penal Code, as added by AB 1859, shall not become operative.

SEC. 9. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1111

An act to amend Sections 1797.170, 1797.171, 1797.172, and 1797.213 of, and to add Section 1797.192 to, the Health and Safety Code, and to add Section 13519.3 to the Penal Code, relating to sudden infant death syndrome.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

(a) Sudden infant death syndrome is the leading cause of death for children under the age of one, striking one out of every 500 children.

(b) Existing law generally requires an investigation to determine the cause of all unexplained deaths, and law enforcement agencies often interview parents, day care providers, and surviving children shortly after an infant death has occurred to determine if a criminal act may have taken place.

(c) Law enforcement officers and many other first responders in emergency situations are not adequately informed on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome, its signs and typical history, and as a result, may compound the family grief and child care provider grief through conveyed suspicions of a criminal act.

SEC. 2. Section 1797.170 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.170. (a) The authority shall establish minimum standards and promulgate regulations for the training and scope of practice for EMT-I.

(b) Any individual certified as an EMT-I pursuant to this act shall be recognized as an EMT-I on a statewide basis, and recertification shall be based on statewide standards. Effective July 1, 1990, any individual certified as an EMT-I pursuant to this act shall complete a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome which is developed by the California SIDS program in the State Department of Health Services in consultation with experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome.

SEC. 3. Section 1797.171 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.171. (a) The authority shall develop, and after approval of the commission pursuant to Section 1799.50 shall adopt, minimum standards for the training and scope of practice for EMT-II.

(b) An EMT-II shall complete a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 1797.170.

SEC. 4. Section 1797.172 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.172. (a) The authority shall develop, and after the approval of the commission pursuant to Section 1799.50, shall adopt, minimum standards for the training and scope of practice for EMT-P.

(b) An EMT-P shall complete a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 1797.170.

SEC. 5. Section 1797.192 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1797.192. (a) By July 1, 1992, existing firefighters in this state shall complete a course on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome taught by experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome. All persons who become firefighters after January 1, 1990, shall complete a course on this topic as part of their basic training as firefighters. The course shall include information on the community resources available to assist families who have lost children to sudden infant death syndrome.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "firefighter" has the same meaning as that specified in Section 1797.182.

(c) When the instruction and training are provided by a local agency, a fee shall be charged sufficient to defray the entire cost of the instruction and training.

SEC. 6. Section 1797.213 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.213. (a) Any local EMS agency conducting a program pursuant to this article may provide courses of instruction and training leading to certification as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse. When such instruction and training are provided, a fee may be charged sufficient to defray the cost of such instruction and training.

(b) Effective July 1, 1990, any courses of instruction and training leading to certification as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse shall include a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome which is developed by the California SIDS program in the State Department of Health Services in consultation with experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome, and effective January 1, 1990, any individual certified as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse shall complete that course of training. The course shall include information on the community resources available to assist families who have lost a child to sudden infant death syndrome. An individual who was certified as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse prior to January 1, 1990, shall complete supplementary training on this topic on or before January 1, 1992.

SEC. 6.5. Section 1797.213 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.213. (a) Any local EMS agency conducting a program pursuant to this article may provide courses of instruction and training leading to certification as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse if the courses are consistent with Sections 1797.7, 1797.170, 1797.171, and 1797.172. When the instruction and training are provided, a fee shall be charged sufficient to defray the entire cost of the instruction and training.

(b) Effective July 1, 1990, any courses of instruction and training leading to certification as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse shall include a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome which is developed by the California SIDS program in the State Department of Health Services in consultation with experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome, and effective January 1, 1990, any individual certified as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse shall complete that course of training. The course shall include information on the community resources available to assist families who have lost a child to sudden infant death syndrome. An individual who was certified as an EMT-I, EMT-II, EMT-P, or authorized registered nurse prior to January 1, 1990, shall complete supplementary training on this topic on or before January 1, 1992.

SEC. 7. Section 13519.3 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

13519 3. (a) Effective July 1, 1990, the commission shall establish, for those peace officers specified in subdivision (a) of Section 13510 who are assigned to patrol or investigations, a course on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome and the handling of cases involving the sudden deaths of infants. The course shall include information on the community resources available to assist families and child care providers who have lost a child to sudden infant death syndrome. Officers who are employed after January 1, 1990, shall complete a course in sudden infant death syndrome prior to the issuance of the Peace Officer Standards and Training basic certificate, and shall complete training on this topic on or before July 1, 1992.

(b) The commission, in consultation with experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome, shall prepare guidelines establishing standard procedures which may be followed by law enforcement agencies in the investigation of cases involving sudden deaths of infants.

(c) The course relating to sudden infant death syndrome and the handling of cases of sudden infant deaths shall be developed by the commission in consultation with experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome. The course shall include instruction in the standard procedures developed pursuant to subdivision (b). In addition, the course shall include information on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome which shall be taught by experts in the field of sudden infant death syndrome.

(d) The commission shall review and modify the basic course curriculum to include sudden infant death syndrome awareness as part of death investigation training.

(e) When the instruction and training are provided by a local agency, a fee shall be charged sufficient to defray the entire cost of instruction and training.

SEC. 8. Section 6.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1797.213 of the Health and Safety Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2159. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 1797.213 of the Health and Safety Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2159, in which case Section 6 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 9. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1112

An act to add and repeal Section 217 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to sudden infant death syndrome.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(1) Sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) is the leading cause of death in children under the age of one, striking one out of every 500 infants, with a death toll in California now approaching 800 annually.

(2) Babies afflicted with SIDS simply stop breathing in their sleep and die.

(3) SIDS kills more children in the first year of life than birth defects, cancer, heart disease, cerebral palsy, cystic fibrosis, child abuse, and virtually all other diseases combined.

(4) The precise cause of SIDS continues to remain a mystery.

(5) There is a pressing need for strong state support for the following: SIDS education and training programs, data collection and analysis regarding SIDS, printing and distribution of newsletters and research monographs regarding SIDS, coordinated activities with SIDS volunteer groups, sponsorship of statewide conferences regarding SIDS, oversight of coroners' autopsy reporting and use of appropriate protocols in autopsies involving SIDS, county public health nursing visits regarding SIDS death, and grief counseling following SIDS deaths.

(b) Therefore, it is the intention of the Legislature by providing for the establishment of a Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Advisory Council, to ameliorate hardships encountered by SIDS families and child care providers by addressing the education and training services required by those who interact with SIDS parents and caregivers following a SIDS death, to foster research into the cause of SIDS, and to increase public awareness and education which will result in greater support and understanding for those families and caregivers affected by SIDS.

SEC. 2. Section 217 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

217. (a) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "SIDS" means sudden infant death syndrome.

(2) "SIDS Advisory Council" or "advisory council" means the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Advisory Council established pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) The State Department of Health Services shall establish a Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Advisory Council. The advisory council shall consist of nine members who shall be chosen by the State Director of Health Services in consultation with regional SIDS parent advisory councils. At least one-third of the members of the advisory council chosen by the director shall be representatives of SIDS parents' groups. The membership of the advisory council shall also include, but not be limited to, a coroner, a medical examiner, a public health nurse, a physician and surgeon with expertise in SIDS, and a representative from a police or fire department.

(c) The SIDS Advisory Council shall do all of the following:

(1) Provide guidance to the state department in the development of training, educational, and research programs regarding SIDS.

(2) Provide ongoing guidance to the Governor and the Legislature regarding the need for specific programs regarding SIDS for specific targeted groups of persons.

(3) In conjunction with the state department or a person with whom the state department contracts to provide SIDS education, convene a statewide conference annually to examine the progress in discovering the cause of SIDS, explore the progress of newly established programs and services related to SIDS, identify future needs for legislation and program development regarding SIDS, and make recommendations on the needs of programs regarding SIDS. Conference participants shall include professionals and service providers in the area of SIDS, family members of SIDS victims, and the staff of members of the Legislature and departments of the state.

(d) The members of the advisory council shall serve at the pleasure of the director. The members of the advisory council shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for necessary and travel expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of the advisory council.

(e) The requirements contained in this section shall be subject to the annual Budget Act and shall be operative only to the extent that funds are appropriated for the purposes of this section.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1995, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1995, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 1113

An act to amend Sections 52154, 52155, 52156, 69509, 69509.5, 69511, 69511.5, 69514, 69515, 69517, 69518, 69521, 69530, 69531, 69532, 69535, 69535.1, 69535.5, 69537, 69538, 69539, 69546.5, 69613, 69613.1, 69615.2, 69673, 69677, 69721, 69726, 69740, 69760, 69761, 69761.5, 69762, 69763, 69764, 69765, 69766, 69768, 69769, 69769.3, 69769.5, 69769.9, 69771, 69772, 69774, 69812, 69813, 69956, and 94343.6 of, to amend the heading of Article 3 (commencing with Section 69530) of Chapter 2 of Part 42 of, to add Section 52159.1 to, and to repeal Sections 69516, 69519, 69520, 69536, 69540, 69541, 69542, 69543, 69680, 69763.3, 69763.5, and 69770 of, the Education Code, relating to education.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 52154 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52154. The Student Aid Commission shall chair as ex officio member a Bilingual Teacher Grant Program Advisory Committee to advise the commission on the operations of the program. The advisory committee shall consist of the following:

(a) A representative of the Chancellor's office of the California Community Colleges.

(b) Four coordinators of bilingual teacher grant programs representing California Community Colleges, the California State University, the University of California, and independent colleges and universities nominated by the respective segment and approved by the Student Aid Commission.

(c) One representative from each of the following who shall be nominated by each respective agency and approved by the Student Aid Commission:

(1) The State Department of Education

(2) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

(3) The California Postsecondary Education Commission.

(d) The Student Aid Commission shall appoint one student grant recipient to the advisory committee.

SEC. 2. Section 52155 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52155. The Student Aid Commission shall report annually no later than February 15 to the Legislature on the status of the Bilingual Teacher Grant Program. This report shall include, but not be limited to, demographic information on the grant recipients and participating institutions of higher education, numbers of grant recipients credentialed each year, projections on number of grantees expected to qualify as bilingual teachers, with appropriate timetables, and comments, provided by each participating institution through an onsite coordinator, concerning the supplementary services prescribed by subdivision (e) of Section 52156. Reports regarding supplementary services shall be supplied to the Student Aid Commission each year no later than November 15 by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, the Trustees of the California State University, and the Regents of the University of California.

SEC. 3. Section 52156 of the Education Code is amended to read:

52156. The following requirements for program administration shall be met by participating agencies:

(a) Participating community college campuses shall designate a certificated employee to coordinate the grant program and to provide supplementary services to the grant recipients. Participating campuses shall notify the Student Aid Commission and the chancellor's office immediately when a campus no longer has a coordinator.

(b) Participating campuses of the California State University shall designate personnel responsible for coordinating the grant program and providing supplementary services to the grant recipients. Each participating campus shall notify the Student Aid Commission annually of the person so designated.

(c) Participating campuses of the University of California shall designate personnel responsible for coordinating the grant program and providing supplementary services to the grant recipients. Each participating campus shall notify the Student Aid Commission annually of the person so designated.

(d) Participating independent colleges and universities shall designate personnel responsible for coordinating the grant program and providing supplementary services to the grant recipients. Each participating campus shall notify the Student Aid Commission annually of the person so designated.

(e) Each participating campus with 10 or more recipients shall receive from the Student Aid Commission from the funds appropriated for the Bilingual Teacher Grant Program an allocation equal to the product of (1) the quotient obtained by dividing the number of recipients enrolled at the participating campus by the total number of recipients statewide multiplied by (2) 8 percent of the total annual appropriation to the Student Aid Commission and shall provide additional services as appropriate and limited to all of the following:

(1) To hire students who are bilingual and biliterate to tutor bilingual teacher grant participants at the institution of higher education in cases of special need.

(2) To finance workshops for bilingual teacher grant candidates.

(3) To finance institution of higher education staff development endeavors.

(4) To reimburse institution of higher education staff for expenses incurred for attending bilingual teacher preparation workshops.

(5) A maximum of 10 percent of this 8-percent allocation may be used to reimburse the institutions of higher education for direct program operating expenses, except for salaries.

(f) The funds received by participating campuses pursuant to subdivision (e) shall be expended for purposes that are directly related to the services actually rendered by the participating campus in furtherance of a public purpose to be achieved and the moneys paid shall not be in excess of the value of the benefit being conferred on the state by the participating campus, and shall not be used for any sectarian purposes.

SEC. 4. Section 52159.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

52159.1. This article shall be repealed on January 1, 1992, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January

1, 1992, deletes or extends the date on which it is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 69509 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69509. (a) Upon the commencement of any cause of action, including an emergency action, by the commission against an educational institution in connection with the California Loan Programs or other state student financial aid program, the director of the commission may order that all or any part of state financial aid funds scheduled to be delivered to that institution by the commission, whether payable to that institution or its students, be withheld from the institution and deposited in a separate state account. However, in order to alleviate the financial hardships imposed upon students by withholding the delivery of state financial aid funds to an educational institution, the director of the commission may, at any time after the initial withholding, release state financial aid funds to these students, giving first priority to the release of funds for subsistence payments.

(b) The director shall give notice to the institution and affected students of any action taken pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The director, upon the termination of any action taken pursuant to subdivision (a), shall order the disposition of the withheld funds in a manner consistent with the outcome of the cause of action and in the best interest of the affected students. The director may order that the funds be withheld from an institution permanently, in which case those funds shall be returned to the state fund or account from which it originated, for subsequent use by the commission.

(d) "Cause of action" and "emergency action," for the purposes of this section, mean those actions described in Sections 30302 and 30304 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, and as those sections may subsequently be amended, concerning the limitation, suspension, and termination of eligibility under the California Loan Programs.

SEC. 6. Section 69509.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69509.5. (a) Within five days of the commencement of any cause of action, including an emergency action, by the commission against a private postsecondary educational institution in connection with the California Loan Programs, the director of the commission shall give notice, in writing, of the commencement of the action to the Private Postsecondary Education Division of the State Department of Education.

(b) "Cause of action" and "emergency action," for the purposes of this section, mean those actions described in Sections 30302 and 30304 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, and as those sections may subsequently be amended, concerning the limitation, suspension, and termination of eligibility under the California Loan Programs.

SEC. 7. Section 69511 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69511. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), each member of the commission shall have a four-year term: provided, that members appointed pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 69510 shall have terms of two academic years.

(b) The term of one member appointed pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 69510 and the term of one member appointed pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 69510, effective January 1, 1991, shall be for five years. Each subsequent term for members appointed pursuant to this subdivision shall be for four years.

(c) At no time shall both student representatives be enrolled in the same segment of postsecondary education in California. For purposes of this subdivision, each postsecondary education program listed in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of Section 69510 is a segment of postsecondary education in California.

(d) Appointment to the commission of members appointed pursuant to subdivisions (a) to (f), inclusive, of Section 69510 shall be made by the Governor subject to confirmation by the Senate.

(e) Any vacancy shall be filled by the appointment of a person who will have the same status as the predecessor of the appointee. The appointee shall hold office only for the balance of the unexpired term.

(f) Each member of the commission shall receive a stipend of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day in which he or she attends any meeting of the commission or any meeting of any committee or subcommittee of the commission, of which committee or subcommittee he or she is a member, and which committee or subcommittee meeting is conducted for the purpose of carrying out the powers and duties of the commission. In addition, each member shall receive his or her actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the course of his or her duties.

(g) Whenever by the provisions of any act of Congress a program of scholarships or grants for undergraduate students is established which permits administration of the program within a state by a state agency, the Student Aid Commission, as established by Section 69510, shall administer the act within the state if the Governor and the Student Aid Commission, by a majority vote of its entire membership, determine that the participation by the state in the federal scholarship or grant program under the act would not interfere with or jeopardize the continuation of the scholarship program established under Sections 69530 to 69547, inclusive.

The commission shall constitute the state commission on federal scholarships or grants and is hereby empowered to formulate a plan for development and administration of any such federal scholarship or grant program within the state

Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the commission is hereby vested with all necessary power and authority to cooperate with the government of the United States, or any agency or agencies thereof, in the administration of any act of Congress establishing a scholarship or grant program and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder.

Before adopting a state plan, the Student Aid Commission, acting as the state commission on federal scholarships or grants, shall hold public hearings as provided in the California Administrative Procedure Act.

SEC. 8. Section 69511.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69511.5. (a) Notwithstanding Section 69511, the Governor shall appoint each student member of the Student Aid Commission pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 69510 from the persons nominated in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b).

(b) For each student member of the commission, the appropriate student organization of each of the four postsecondary education segments may submit a list of nominees. The appropriate student organizations are:

(1) The California State Student Association.

(2) The University of California Student Association.

(3) The California Association of Independent College and University Students.

(4) A composite group of representative community college student organizations, as determined by the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges

(c) Participating student organizations designated in subdivision (b) shall inform students within their respective segment of pending student vacancies on the commission.

(d) Any person appointed pursuant to subdivision (a) may be reappointed if the person is renominated pursuant to subdivision (b), but in no event shall the person be reappointed for more than two consecutive terms if the student is enrolled in the same postsecondary education segment as the one in which he or she was enrolled when first appointed.

(e) The person appointed as a student member of the Student Aid Commission pursuant to this section shall be subject to confirmation by the Senate as required in subdivision (d) of Section 69511.

SEC. 9. Section 69514 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69514. The commission shall do all of the following:

(a) Report, on or before April 1 of each year, statistical data examining the impact and effectiveness of state-funded programs. The commission shall utilize common criteria in determining the impact of these programs and shall have the authority to obtain any data from postsecondary educational institutions necessary for the reports.

(b) Collect and disseminate data concerning the financial resources and needs of students and potential students, and the scope and impact of existing state, federal, and institutional student aid programs.

(c) Report, on or before April 1 of each year, the aggregate financial need of individuals seeking access to postsecondary education and the degree to which current student aid programs meet this legitimate financial need.

(d) Develop and report annually the distribution of funds and awards among income groups, ethnic groups, grade point average levels, and postsecondary education segments.

(e) Prepare and disseminate information regarding the criteria utilized in distributing available student aid funds.

(f) Be authorized to expend funds for the purpose of disseminating information about all institutional, state, and federal student aid programs to potential applicants. This distribution of information shall primarily focus on potential applicants with the greatest financial need.

SEC. 9.5. Section 69515 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69515. As used in this division, "commission" means the Student Aid Commission created by this article.

SEC. 10. Section 69516 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 69517 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69517. (a) The Student Aid Commission, in consultation with an advisory committee of students and representatives of postsecondary institutions, may make adjustments to award selection procedures and selection criteria. In determining adjustments, the commission shall consider at least all of the following factors:

(1) The impact of the adjustments on the distribution of funds and awards among income groups, ethnic groups, and grade point average levels.

(2) The impact of the adjustments on the distribution of funds and awards among postsecondary education segments.

(3) The costs of implementing proposed adjustments.

(4) The availability of financial aid from other sources for students who qualify for an award.

(b) The commission may also consider the impact of inflation in the proposed adjustments pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) In proposing changes to the procedures and criteria for award selection that would result in a substantive change in the recipient population, the commission shall submit the proposed changes for public review and comment in accordance with procedures established in Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

SEC. 12. Section 69518 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69518. (a) By September 15 of each fiscal year, the Student Aid Commission shall submit budget change proposals to the Department of Finance for inclusion in the Governor's Budget prepared pursuant to Section 12 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

(b) The budget change proposals submitted pursuant to subdivision (a) shall include, but not be limited to, an analysis of the impact of any proposed adjustments in the distribution of funds and awards.

(c) Any supporting materials prepared for the Student Aid Commission's consideration and public review and comment pursuant to this section, including, when it becomes available, data pertaining to the impact of any proposed adjustments on the distribution of funds and awards among income groups, ethnic groups, grade point average levels, and postsecondary education segments, shall be incorporated within the expenditure plan.

(d) If the Student Aid Commission proposes, in its budget change proposals, adjustments to the maximum grant, number of grants, and the income ceiling for grant awards made pursuant to Section 69532, at least the following factors shall be considered in determining the appropriate adjustments:

(1) The impact of inflation.

(2) The availability of financial aid from other sources for students who would qualify for a grant award.

(3) Any changes in the level of educational support provided to students at public colleges and universities in the state.

(4) The impact of proposed adjustments in the maximum grant and in the income ceiling upon the utilization of public and private postsecondary educational institutions.

(5) The number of applicants eligible to receive an award in the previous year who did not receive an award in the previous year.

SEC. 13. Section 69519 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 69520 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 15. Section 69521 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69521. By January 1 of each year, the commission shall report to the fiscal committees of the Legislature regarding contracts made pursuant to Section 69534.4 and regarding the status of those contracts.

SEC. 15.1. The heading of Article 3 (commencing with Section 69530) of Chapter 2 of Part 42 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Article 3. The Cal Grant Program

SEC. 15.3. Section 69530 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69530. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The enactment of the Pell Grant Program requires substantial changes in current state student aid programs if state programs are to effectively supplement federal student assistance.

(b) The entire student aid system, due to a proliferation of programs, has resulted in substantial confusion and inefficiencies.

(c) One statewide student assistance program supplementary to the Pell Grant Program would increase simplicity and effectiveness. The most appropriate program for this purpose is the Cal Grant Program.

SEC. 16. Section 69531 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69531. There is hereby established a state educational opportunity grant program, which shall be known as the Cal Grant Program.

SEC. 16.1. Section 69532 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69532. Cal Grant Program awards shall be known as "Cal Grant A awards," "Cal Grant B awards," and "Cal Grant C awards." The maximum award in each category shall be determined in the annual Budget Act.

(a) Cal Grant A awards shall be used only for tuition and student fees in an instructional program of no less than two academic years. There shall be a minimum of 17,400 new Cal Grant A awards each year.

(b) Cal Grant B awards shall be used only for tuition, student fees, and subsistence costs in an instructional program of no less than one academic year. Subsistence costs are living expenses, transportation, supplies, and books. There shall be a minimum of 12,250 new Cal Grant B awards each year.

(c) Cal Grant C awards shall be used only for occupational or technical training in a course of no less than four months. There shall be a minimum of 1,570 new Cal Grant C awards each year.

SEC. 17. Section 69535 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69535. (a) Cal Grant Program awards shall be based upon the financial need of the applicant. The level of financial need of each applicant shall be determined by the commission, taking into account the financial resources of the applicant and the applicant's family.

(b) For the applicants so qualifying, academic criteria or criteria related to past performances shall be utilized as the criteria in determining eligibility for grants.

(c) All Cal Grant Program award recipients shall be residents of California, as determined by the commission pursuant to the provisions of Part 41 (commencing with Section 68000), and shall remain eligible only if they are in attendance and making satisfactory progress through the instructional programs, as determined by the commission.

(d) Part-time students shall not be discriminated against in the selection of Cal Grant Program award recipients, and awards to part-time students shall be roughly proportional to the time spent in the instructional program, as determined by the commission. First-time Cal Grant Program award recipients who are part-time students shall be eligible for a full-time renewal award.

(e) Cal Grant Program awards shall be awarded without regard to race, religion, creed, sex, or age.

(f) No applicant shall receive more than one type of Cal Grant Program award concurrently. Except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 69535.1, no applicant shall:

(1) Receive one or a combination of Cal Grant Program awards in excess of a total of four years of full-time attendance in an undergraduate program.

(2) Have obtained a baccalaureate degree prior to receiving a Cal Grant Program award.

Cal Grant Program awards may only be used for the expenses of coursework leading directly to an undergraduate degree or certificate.

(g) The commission may, for students who accelerate college attendance, increase the amount of award for one academic year proportional to the period of additional attendance resulting from attendance at a summer term, session, or quarter. In the aggregate, the total amount a student may receive in a four-year period may not be increased as a result of accelerating his or her progress to a degree by attending summer terms, sessions, or quarters.

(h) The commission may provide by appropriate rules and regulations for reports, accounting, and statements from the award winner and college or university of attendance pertaining to the use or application of the award as the commission may deem proper.

(i) The commission may establish Cal Grant Program awards in one hundred dollar ($100) increments.

(j) A Cal Grant Program award may be utilized only at a California postsecondary educational institution or program that participates in two of the three federal campus-based student aid programs and whose students participate in the Pell Grant program.

SEC. 17.3. Section 69535.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69535.1. (a) Cal Grant A awards and Cal Grant B awards may be renewed for a total of four years of full-time attendance in an undergraduate program provided that financial need continues to exist. Commencing with the 1989–90 academic year, the total number of years of eligibility for grants pursuant to this section shall be based on the student's educational level in his or her course of study as designated by the institution of attendance when the recipient initially receives payment for a grant.

(b) For a student enrolled in an institutionally prescribed five-year undergraduate program, Cal Grant A awards and Cal Grant B awards may be renewed for a total of five years of full-time attendance, provided that financial need continues to exist.

(c) Cal Grant Program award recipients who have completed a baccalaureate degree and who have been admitted to and are enrolled in a program of professional teacher preparation at an institution approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing are eligible for renewal of a Cal Grant Program award for an additional year of full-time attendance, if financial need continues to exist.

Payment for this additional year is limited to only those courses required for an initial teaching authorization. Awards under this section may not be used for other courses.

This section applies to those students who complete a baccalaureate degree in or after 1989. A student's Cal Grant renewal eligibility shall not have lapsed more than 15 months prior to the payment of an award for purposes of this section.

SEC. 18. Section 69535.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69535.5. The Student Aid Commission may determine that an advanced payment is essential to assure that funds provided pursuant to this chapter to assist students to enroll in postsecondary education are available at the time students enroll. Upon making that determination, the Student Aid Commission may, based on institutional academic calendars, advance per term to authorized postsecondary educational institutions the funds for eligible students who have indicated they will attend those institutions less an amount based on historical claim enrollment attrition information. Each institution shall disburse the funds in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Institutional Agreement between the Student Aid Commission and the institution.

SEC. 18.1. Section 69536 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 18.3. Section 69537 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69537. An individual selected for a Cal Grant A award who enrolls in a public community college may elect to have the award held in trust for him or her for a period not to exceed two academic years, except that the commission may extend the period in which his or her award may be held in trust for up to three academic years if, in the commission's judgment, the student's rate of academic progress has been as rapid as could be expected in light of the personal and financial conditions that the student has encountered. The commission shall, in that case, hold the award in trust, to be granted to the award winner upon receipt of his or her request therefor within that period, provided that at the time of making the request he or she meets all of the requirements of this chapter. Upon receipt of the request the commission shall assess or reassess the financial needs of the award winner. The commission may prescribe the forms and procedures to be utilized for the purposes of this section. The commission may award to another eligible individual any award being so held in trust, subject to the provisions of this section and any other conditions and restrictions that may be imposed by the commission, to the end that all authorized awards are being continually utilized. Following the first year for which any such award is made, the awards shall be included in the number of the continuing awards available for any year and not the authorized new awards for the year.

SEC. 18.5. Section 69538 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69538. To be eligible for a Cal Grant B award, the applicant shall be a disadvantaged student under criteria to be established by the commission, which shall take into consideration those financial, educational, cultural, language, home, community, environmental, and other conditions that hamper access to and persistence in postsecondary programs.

The Legislature recognizes that the role of the community colleges, as the least expensive level of California higher education, is a crucial role in increasing the higher education opportunities for disadvantaged students, and it is the intent of the Legislature that the additional opportunities for higher education provided pursuant to this section shall be initiated primarily on the public community college level.

Awards under this section shall be for subsistence costs. The commission may also award these grants and an additional amount to pay tuition and fees to attend college at a public or private four-year college or university or other eligible postsecondary educational institution. No more than 2 percent of new recipients enrolling for the first time in an institution of postsecondary education shall be eligible for tuition payments and fees in their first academic year of attendance.

An individual selected for a Cal Grant B award who enrolls in a public community college in his or her first year of attendance, and who is determined to be financially ineligible for renewal of the award in the second year of attendance at a public community college but would be financially eligible for renewal, if he or she had elected to attend a four-year college, may elect to have the award held in trust for a period not to exceed two academic years, except that the commission may extend the period in which the award is held in trust for up to three academic years, if, in the commission's judgment, the individual's rate of academic progress has been as rapid as could be expected for the personal and financial conditions that the individual has encountered. The commission shall, in this case, hold the award in trust, to be granted to the individual upon receipt of his or her request therefor within that period, provided that at the time of making the request the individual meets all the requirements of this chapter. Upon receipt of the request, the commission shall assess or reassess the financial needs of the individual. The commission may prescribe the forms and procedures to be utilized for the purposes of this section. The commission may award to another eligible individual any award being so held in trust, subject to the provisions of this section and any other conditions and restrictions that may be imposed by the commission, to the end that all authorized awards are continually being utilized. Following the first year for which any award is made, the awards shall be included in the number of the continuing awards available for any year and not the authorized new awards for the year.

SEC. 18.7. Section 69539 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69539. A Cal Grant C award shall be utilized for occupational or technical training.

(a) "Occupational or technical training" means that phase of education coming after the completion of a secondary school program and leading toward recognized occupational goals approved by the commission.

(b) The commission may use criteria it deems appropriate in selecting students with occupational talents to receive grants for occupational or technical training.

(c) The Cal Grant C recipients shall be eligible for renewal of their grants until they have completed their occupational or technical training in comformance with terms prescribed by the commission. In no case shall the grants exceed two calendar years.

(d) Cal Grant C awards shall be for institutional fees, charges, and other costs including tuition, plus training-related costs, such as special clothing, local transportation, required tools, equipment, supplies, and books. In determining the amount of grants and training-related costs, the commission shall take into account other state and federal programs available to the applicant.

(e) Cal Grant C awards shall be awarded in areas of occupational or technical training as determined by the commission after consultation with appropriate state and federal agencies.

SEC. 19. Section 69540 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 19.3. Section 69541 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 20. Section 69542 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 21. Section 69543 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 22. Section 69546.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69546.5. The Student Aid Commission shall allocate federal and state student incentive grant funds among the Cal Grant A, B, and C programs.

SEC. 23. Section 69613 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69613. (a) Any person enrolled in an institution of postsecondary education participating in the loan assumption program set forth in this article, or any person who agrees to participate in a teacher trainee or teacher internship program, may be eligible to receive a conditional warrant for loan assumption, to be redeemed pursuant to Section 69613.2 upon becoming employed as a teacher. In order to be eligible to receive a loan assumption warrant, an applicant shall satisfy all of the conditions specified in either subdivision (b) or (c):

(b) (1) The applicant has completed at least 60 semester units, or the equivalent, and is enrolled in an academic program leading to a baccalaureate degree at a participating institution, or has been admitted to a program of professional preparation that has been approved by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

(2) The applicant is currently enrolled in, or has been admitted to a program in which he or she will be enrolled in, at least 10 semester units, or the equivalent. The applicant shall agree to maintain not less than 10 semester units per semester, or the equivalent, and to maintain satisfactory academic progress.

(3) The applicant has been judged by his or her postsecondary institution to have outstanding ability on the basis of criteria that may include, but need not be limited to, any of the following:

(A) Grade point average.

(B) Test scores.

(C) Faculty evaluations.

(D) Interviews.

(E) Other recommendations.

(4) In order to meet the costs associated with obtaining a baccalaureate degree, or a California teaching credential, the applicant has received, or is approved to receive, a loan under one or more of the following designated loan programs.

(A) The federal Stafford Student Loan Program.

(B) The Perkins Loan Program.

(C) Supplemental Loans for Students.

(D) The Loan Consolidation Program

(E) Any loan program approved by the Student Aid Commission.

(5) The applicant has agreed to teach in a public school in this state for at least three consecutive academic years after obtaining a teaching credential.

(c) (1) The applicant holds a baccalaureate degree and agrees to participate in a teacher trainee program or teacher internship program, or is a person who will continue to be employed full time in a field other than teaching while completing the necessary coursework for a teaching credential, or is a noncredentialed teaching paraprofessional, as described in Section 44323, who will continue to serve as a teaching paraprofessional while completing the necessary coursework for a California teaching credential.

(2) The applicant is enrolled in, or has been admitted to, a participating institution and agrees to maintain satisfactory academic progress in an academic program leading to a baccalaureate degree or in a program of professional preparation that has been approved by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, and the applicant satisfies the conditions specified in paragraphs (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (b).

No applicant who has completed fewer than 60 units, or the equivalent, shall be eligible under this subdivision to participate in the loan assumption program set forth in this article.

(d) Sixty percent of the warrants distributed each year pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c) at each participating institution shall be awarded by that institution to applicants who agree to obtain a teaching credential in subject areas that are designated as current or projected shortage areas by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The warrant shall remain valid even if the subject area ceases to be a designated shortage field by the time the applicant becomes a teacher

(e) The remaining 40 percent of the warrants distributed each year pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c) at each participating institution shall be awarded to applicants who agree to obtain teaching credentials in any subject area and to provide classroom instruction in schools that serve large populations of students from low-income families, as designated by the superintendent for purposes of the Perkins Loan Program or otherwise. The warrant shall remain valid even if the school ceases to be so designated during the applicant's second or third year of teaching.

(f) A person participating in the program pursuant to this section shall not receive more than one warrant.

(g) The Student Aid Commission shall adopt rules and regulations regarding the reallocation of warrants where a participating institution is unable to utilize its allocated warrants or is unable to distribute them proportionately to subdivisions (d) and (e) within a reasonable period of time.

SEC. 24. Section 69613.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69613.1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall furnish the Student Aid Commission with all of the following:

(a) Commencing January 1, 1990, and every January 1 thereafter, a list of teaching fields that have the most critical shortage of teachers. The superintendent shall review this list annually and revise the list as he or she deems necessary.

(b) A list of schools that serve a large population of students from low-income families, as designated for purposes of the Perkins Loan Program, or according to other standards the superintendent deems appropriate.

SEC. 25. Section 69615.2 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69615.2. The Student Aid Commission shall work in conjunction with lenders participating in the California Loan Programs to develop a streamlined application process for participation in the program set forth in this article.

SEC. 25.1. Section 69673 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69673. The program for granting fellowships for graduate study shall be conducted under the general supervision of the commission, with the aid and advice of a committee of nine members appointed by the commission and composed of college and university teachers and graduate deans from the colleges and universities in California which are accredited or are candidates for accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The commission shall prescribe the forms for all applications and certificates required in connection with the fellowship program. The commission shall, from time to time, adopt rules and regulations that it may determine not in conflict with this article as may be necessary, or appropriate, for effecting the provisions of this article.

SEC. 25.3. Section 69677 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69677. Candidates for the awards shall apply for the awards to the commission and comply with all of the rules and regulations adopted by the commission for the award, regulation, and administration of the state graduate fellowship program pursuant to this article.

SEC. 26. Section 69680 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 26.1. Section 69721 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69721. For purposes of this article, the term "community service" includes, but is not limited to, work performed for a community service agency in such fields as environmental quality, health care, education, local, state, and federally funded public assistance programs, public safety, crime prevention and control, transportation, recreation, housing and neighborhood improvement, rural development, conservation, child care, outdoor beautification, and other fields of human betterment and community improvement.

SEC. 26.3. Section 69726 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69726. Fellowships awarded pursuant to this article shall be funded from moneys appropriated for that purpose by the Legislature.

SEC. 26.5. Section 69740 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69740. Whenever by the provisions of any act of Congress a program of scholarships for undergraduate students is established which permits administration of the program within a state by a state agency, the commission, as established by Section 69510 shall administer the act within the state if the Governor and the commission, by a majority vote of its entire membership, determine that the participation by the state in the Federal Scholarship Program under the act would not interfere with or jeopardize the continuation of the grant program established under Article 3 (commencing with Section 69530).

SEC. 27. Section 69760 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69760. There is hereby established the California Loan Programs for eligible postsecondary students and their parents, which shall include, but not be limited to, the Stafford Student Loans (formerly known as the Guaranteed Student Loan Program), Supplemental Loans for Students (formerly known as the California Loans to Assist Students), Parent Loans (PLUS), and the Loan Consolidation Program. The programs shall be consistent with Title IV of the act of Congress entitled the "Higher Education Act of 1965" (P.L. 89-329) and extensions thereof, the Education Amendments of 1976 (P.L. 94-482), or any similar act of Congress, and the rules and regulations adopted under those acts.

SEC. 28. Section 69761 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69761. The purpose of the California Loan Programs shall be as follows:

(a) To provide a source of loans to eligible students to assist them in meeting educational costs at eligible schools of their choice.

(b) To accept, receive and administer the funds provided under Title IV of the "Higher Education Act of 1965," and extensions thereof, or any similar act of Congress.

SEC. 29. Section 69761.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69761.5. The commission shall serve as a state student loan guarantee agency, pursuant to P.L. 94-482, and subsequent federal regulations, including, but not limited to, the following provisions:

(a) The commission shall be the designated state agency for receiving any federal advances for administrative costs and payments of insurance obligations.

(b) Educational loans to undergraduate and graduate students, or to their parent or parents, or to undergraduate and graduate students and to their parent or parents, shall not exceed the limits provided in federal law.

(c) Participating educational institutions shall notify lenders and the commission of participating students enrollment status changes and current address.

(d) No educational institution shall lend to more than 50 percent of its undergraduate students; this provision may be waived by the United States Secretary of Education if such a limitation creates a hardship for present or prospective students.

(e) A student may receive a loan only if he or she is maintaining satisfactory progress in a course of study pursuant to practices of the institution in which the student is enrolled, and provided the student has not previously defaulted on any student loan. If a student has made satisfactory arrangements to repay a default on a previous student loan, the student may be eligible to receive a loan.

(f) An insurance premium may be charged student borrowers not to exceed the maximum rate allowable, pursuant to federal statutes and regulations.

SEC. 30. Section 69762 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69762. Loans made pursuant to this chapter shall be made without regard to race, religion, creed or sex.

SEC. 31. Section 69763 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69763. (a) The commission shall administer the California Loan Programs established pursuant to this chapter. The commission is hereby vested with authority to enter into any contract with the United States Secretary of Education or any other federal officer or agency under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, any extension thereof, or any similar act of Congress, and is hereby vested with all other necessary power and authority to cooperate with the government of the United States, or any agency or agencies thereof, in administration of the act of Congress and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder. The commission shall adopt any rules and regulations it deems necessary for the proper administration of this chapter.

(b) The rules and regulations adopted by the commission pursuant to this section shall include a provision authorizing the commission to impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) per violation against any financial or educational institution that violates any applicable law, rule, regulation, limitation, consent agreement, or school or lender agreement, relative to a state financial aid program. The rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this section shall provide all of the following:

(1) No civil penalty shall be imposed against an institution without first affording that institution an opportunity to request a hearing and if a request for a hearing is made, a hearing shall be held before a representative of the commission.

(2) No civil penalty shall be imposed against an institution unless an action against that institution has been initiated pursuant to Section 30302 or 30304 of Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations.

(c) Any moneys derived from the assessment of penalties pursuant to this section shall be deposited into the State Guaranteed Loan Reserve Fund.

SEC. 32. Section 69763.3 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 33. Section 69763.5 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 33.1. Section 69764 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69764. In the event that the amount of loans applied for under this article exceeds the amount of the loans that may be guaranteed pursuant to this article, the commission may establish a system of priorities for the approval of loans.

SEC. 33.3. Section 69765 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69765. (a) The commission shall guarantee any student loan made pursuant to this article at 100 percent of the amount of the loan.

(b) The commission shall establish the ratio of reserve funds to loans outstanding.

SEC. 33.5. Section 69766 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69766. There is hereby created in the State Treasury the State Guaranteed Loan Reserve Fund. All money received from federal, state or local governments, or from other private or public sources, for the purposes of this article shall be deposited in the fund. The money deposited in the fund is hereby appropriated, without regard to fiscal years, for purposes of this article.

The total amount of all outstanding debts, obligations, and liabilities that may be incurred or created under this article, including any obligation to repay to the United States any funds provided under Title IV of the "Higher Education Act of 1965," and extensions thereof, or any similar act of Congress, is limited to the amount contained in the State Guaranteed Loan Reserve Fund, and the state shall not be liable beyond the amount contained in such fund for such debts, obligations, and liabilities.

SEC. 33.7. Section 69768 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69768. The funds in the State Guaranteed Loan Reserve Fund shall be paid out by the State Treasurer on warrants drawn by the Controller and requisitioned by the commission in carrying out the purposes of this article and the federal act.

SEC. 34. Section 69769 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69769. The commission shall establish a Loan Study Council. The Loan Study Council shall be comprised of 17 members, appointed by the commission, comprised of representatives of students, postsecondary educational institutions, eligible lenders, and participating secondary markets.

SEC. 35. Section 69769.3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69769.3. (a) The Loan Study Council established pursuant to Section 69769 shall be composed of members appointed from the following groups:

(1) Five representatives of the lending community participating in the California Loan Programs.

(2) One representative each from the University of California, the California State University, the California Community Colleges, a private nonprofit postsecondary education institution, and a private for-profit postsecondary education institution.

(3) One representative from the California Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators.

(4) Five student representatives from the same postsecondary segments listed in paragraph (2). In no event shall a student representative be appointed to serve simultaneously as the representative of more than one of these five postsecondary groups.

(5) One representative from a secondary market participating in the California Loan Programs.

(b) The representatives appointed by the commission pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be selected by the commission from lists provided to its chair by each group described in that subdivision.

SEC 36. Section 69769.5 of the Education Code is amended to read·

69769.5. The Loan Study Council shall review the activities and policies of the California Loan Programs and shall regularly advise the commission of its findings and recommendations. The Loan Study Council may request information and data that it deems appropriate from the Student Aid Commission with respect to the California Loan Programs or any other loan program administered by the commission.

SEC. 37. Section 69769.9 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69769.9. The Student Aid Commission shall report annually to the appropriate policy committees of the Legislature on the activities of the Loan Study Council.

SEC. 38. Section 69770 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 38.3. Section 69771 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69771. This article shall be applicable to the extent that its provisions do not conflict with Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, or any extensions thereof, or any similar act of Congress, and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder.

SEC. 39. Section 69772 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69772. The commission shall annually report on the numbers of students participating in the program, total loan volume, the postsecondary educational institutions in which participating students are enrolled, and numbers and types of students not served by the program.

SEC. 40. Section 69774 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69774. A common student application form may be utilized for student loans in compliance with the program eligibility and financial forms specified in Section 69534.1.

SEC. 40.3. Section 69812 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69812. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit any public or private university, college, or other institution of higher education from suspending or refusing to grant scholarships, loans, fellowships, grants-in-aid, or any other financial aid given or guaranteed by the state for academic assistance to any individual because of any other misconduct that in its judgment bears adversely on his or her fitness for the assistance.

SEC. 40.5 Section 69813 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69813. For the purposes of this article, "state financial aid" means any assistance given or guaranteed by the state that is predicated on attendance at an institution of higher education.

SEC. 40 7 Section 69956 of the Education Code is amended to read:

69956. Any student satisfying all of the following criteria shall be eligible to participate in the California State Work-Study Program:

(a) Enrollment, or acceptance for enrollment, on at least a half-time basis at a participating postsecondary educational institution.

(b) Resident classification pursuant to Part 41 (commencing with Section 68000).

(c) Demonstrated maintenance of satisfactory academic progress in a program leading to a degree or a certificate, as determined by the postsecondary educational institution in which the student is enrolled, applying standards of eligibility for federal financial aid.

(d) Demonstrated financial need, as determined by the financial aid office of the institution in which the student is enrolled pursuant to the methodologies approved by the United States Department of Education for use in awarding funds provided under Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended. If individual circumstances affect the ability of the student or the student's family to contribute to the student's total financial resources, the financial aid administrator may make reasonable individualized adjustments to the computed total applicant resources.

SEC. 41. Section 94343.6 of the Education Code is amended to read:

94343 6. (a) The governing board or other governing authority of any California postsecondary educational institution as defined in subdivision (l) of Section 94302 shall adopt regulations providing for the withholding of institutional services from students or former students who have been notified in writing at the student's or former student's last known address that he or she is in default on a loan or loans under either of the following loan programs:

(1) Stafford Student Loan Program.

(2) Supplemental Loans for Students program.

"Default," for purposes of this section, means the failure of a borrower to make an installment payment when due, or to meet other terms of the promissory note under circumstances where the guarantee agency finds it reasonable to conclude that the borrower no longer intends to honor the obligation to repay, provided that this failure persists for 180 days for a loan repayable in monthly installments, or 240 days for a loan repayable in less frequent installments.

(b) The regulations adopted pursuant to subdivision (a) shall provide that the services withheld may be provided during a period when the facts are in dispute and when the student or former student demonstrates to either the governing board or other appropriate governing authority of the California postsecondary educational institution as defined in subdivision (l) of Section 94302, or the Student Aid Commission, or both the Student Aid Commission and the appropriate entity or its designee, that reasonable progress has been made to repay the loan or that there exists a reasonable justification for the delay as determined by the institution. The regulations shall specify the services to be withheld from the student and may include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) The provision of grades.

(2) The provision of transcripts.

(3) The provision of diplomas.

The adopted regulations shall not include the withholding of registration privileges

(c) When it has been determined that an individual is in default on a loan or loans under either of the loan programs specified in subdivision (a), the Student Aid Commission shall give notice of the default to all institutions through which that individual acquired the loan or loans.

(d) Guarantors, or those who act as their agents or act under their control, who provide information to postsecondary educational institutions pursuant to this section, shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless the governing board or other governing authority of the institutions from action resulting from compliance with this section when the action arises as a result of incorrect, misleading, or untimely information provided to the postsecondary educational institution by the guarantors, their agents, or those acting under the control of the guarantors.

SEC. 42. Section 6 of this act shall not become operative if Senate Bill 190 is chaptered and takes effect on or before January 1, 1990, and amends Section 69509.5 of the Education Code.

CHAPTER 1114

An act to amend, repeal, and add Sections 651, 655, 655.1, 655.5, and 668 of, and to add Section 655.05 to, the Harbors and Navigation Code, and to amend, repeal, and add Sections 1803, 1804, 13353, 23152, 23153, 23155, and 23156 of, and to add and repeal Sections 34501.15 and 34501.16 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to driving offenses.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read.

651. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Boating and Waterways.

(b) "Director" means the Director of Boating and Waterways.

(c) "Vessel" includes every description of watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water, except the following:

(1) A seaplane on the water.

(2) A watercraft specifically designed to operate on a permanently fixed course, the movement of which is restricted to or guided on such permanently fixed course by means of a mechanical device on a fixed track or arm to which the watercraft is attached or by which the watercraft is controlled, or by means of a mechanical device attached to the watercraft itself.

(d) "Boat" means any vessel which is any of the following:

(1) Manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use.

(2) Leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use.

(3) Engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers, including those for-hire vessels carrying more than three passengers while using inland waters of the state that are not declared navigable by the United States Coast Guard.

(4) Commercial vessels required to be numbered pursuant to Section 9850 of the Vehicle Code.

(e) "Motorboat" means any vessel propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion, but shall not include a vessel which has a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(f) "Owner" is a person having all the incidents of ownership, including the legal title, of a vessel whether or not that person lends, rents, or pledges the vessel; the person entitled to the possession of a vessel as the purchaser under a conditional sale contract; or the mortgagor of a vessel. "Owner" does not include a person holding legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(g) "Legal owner" is a person holding the legal title to a vessel under a conditional sale contract, the mortgagee of a vessel, or the renter or lessor of a vessel to the state, or to any county, city, district, or political subdivision of the state, under a lease, lease-sale, or rental-purchase agreement which grants possession of the vessel to the lessee for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

(h) "Registered owner" is the person registered by the Department of Motor Vehicles as the owner of the vessel.

(i) "Waters of this state" means any waters within the territorial limits of this state.

(j) "Person" means an individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, or other entity, but does not include the United States, the state, or a municipality or subdivision thereof.

(k) "Operator" means the person on board who is steering the vessel while underway.

(l) "Undocumented vessel" means any vessel which is not required to have and does not have a valid marine document issued by the United States Coast Guard or any federal agency successor thereto.

(m) "Use" means operate, navigate, or employ.

(n) "State" means a state of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the District of Columbia.

(o) "State of principal use" means the state on which waters a vessel is used or intended to be used most during a calendar year.

(p) "Passenger" means every person carried on board a vessel other than any of the following:

(1) The owner or his or her representative.

(2) The operator.

(3) Bona fide members of the crew engaged in the business of the vessel who have contributed no consideration for their carriage and who are paid for their services.

(4) Any guest on board a vessel which is being used exclusively for pleasure purposes who has not contributed any consideration, directly or indirectly, for his or her carriage.

(q) "Associated equipment" means any of the following, excluding radio equipment:

(1) Any system, part, or component of a boat as originally manufactured or any similar part or component manufactured or sold for replacement, repair, or improvement of the system, part, or component.

(2) Any accessory or equipment for, or appurtenance to, a boat.

(3) Any marine safety article, accessory, or equipment intended for use by a person on board a boat.

(r) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in any of the following:

(1) The manufacture, construction, or assembly of boats or associated equipment.

(2) The manufacture or construction of components for boats and associated equipment to be sold for subsequent assembly.

(3) The importation into this state for sale of boats, associated equipment, or components thereof.

(s) "Drug" means any substance or combination of substances other than alcohol which could so affect the nervous system, brain, or muscles of a person as to impair to an appreciable degree his or her ability to operate a vessel in the manner that an ordinarily prudent person, in full possession of his or her faculties, using reasonable care, would operate a similar vessel under like conditions.

(t) "Water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device" includes all forms of water skiing, barefoot skiing, skiing on skim boards, knee boards, or other contrivances, parasailing, ski kiting, or any activity where a person is towed behind or alongside a boat.

(u) "Special-use area" means all or a portion of a waterway that is set aside for specified uses or activities to the exclusion of other incompatible uses or activities.

This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 651 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

651. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(a) "Alcohol" means any form or derivative of ethyl alcohol (ethanol).

(b) "Alcohol concentration" means either grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

(c) "Chemical test" means a test which analyzes an individual's breath, blood, or urine, for evidence of drug or alcohol use.

(t) "State" means a state of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the District of Columbia.

(u) "State of principal use" means the state on which waters a vessel is used or intended to be used most during a calendar year.

(v) "Passenger" means every person carried on board a vessel other than any of the following:

(1) The owner or his or her representative.

(2) The operator.

(3) Bona fide members of the crew engaged in the business of the vessel who have contributed no consideration for their carriage and who are paid for their services.

(4) Any guest on board a vessel which is being used exclusively for pleasure purposes who has not contributed any consideration, directly or indirectly, for his or her carriage.

(w) "Associated equipment" means any of the following, excluding radio equipment:

(1) Any system, part, or component of a boat as originally manufactured or any similar part or component manufactured or sold for replacement, repair, or improvement of the system, part, or component.

(2) Any accessory or equipment for, or appurtenance to, a boat.

(3) Any marine safety article, accessory, or equipment intended for use by a person on board a boat.

(x) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in any of the following:

(1) The manufacturer, construction, or assembly of boats or associated equipment.

(2) The manufacture or construction of components for boats and associated equipment to be sold for subsequent assembly.

(3) The importation into this state for sale of boats, associated equipment, or components thereof.

(y) "Drug" means any substance or combination of substances other than alcohol which could so affect the nervous system, brain, or muscles of a person as to impair to an appreciable degree his or her ability to operate a vessel in the manner that an ordinarily prudent person, in full possession of his or her faculties, using reasonable care, would operate a similar vessel under like conditions.

(z) "Water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device" includes all forms of water skiing, barefoot skiing, skiing on skim boards, knee boards, or other contrivances, parasailing, ski kiting, or any activity where a person is towed behind or alongside a boat.

(aa) "Special-use area" means all or a portion of a waterway that is set aside for specified uses or activities to the exclusion of other incompatible uses or activities.

(bb) "Recreational vessel" means a vessel which is being used only for pleasure.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 4. Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

655. (a) No person shall use any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device in a reckless or negligent manner so as to endanger the life, limb, or property of any person. The department shall adopt regulations for the use of vessels, water skis, aquaplanes, or similar devices in a manner which will minimize the danger to life, limb, or property consistent with reasonable use of the equipment for the purpose for which it was designed.

(b) No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, or the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug.

(c) No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device who has 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood.

(d) No person shall operate any vessel, or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device who is addicted to the use of any drug. This subdivision does not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(e) No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, any drug, or under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug, and while so operating, do any act forbidden by law, or neglect any duty imposed by law in the use of the vessel, water skis, aquaplane, or similar device, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than himself or herself.

(f) For purposes of this section, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under subdivision (c), it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of operation of a vessel if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the operation.

(g) Upon the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while operating a vessel or manipulating water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (b) or (e), the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test, as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine, shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more, but less than 0.10 percent, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0 10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(h) This section does not limit the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(i) This section applies to foreign vessels using waters subject to state jurisdiction.

(j) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 655 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

655. (a) No person shall use any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device in a reckless or negligent manner so as to endanger the life, limb, or property of any person. The department shall adopt regulations for the use of vessels, water skis, aquaplanes, or similar devices in a manner which will minimize the danger to life, limb, or property consistent with reasonable use of the equipment for the purpose for which it was designed.

(b) No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, any drug, or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug.

(c) No person shall operate any recreational vessel or manipulate any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device if the person has an alcohol concentration of 0.10 percent or more in his or her blood.

(d) No person shall operate any vessel other than a recreational vessel if the person has an alcohol concentration of 0.04 percent or more in his or her blood

(e) No person shall operate any vessel, or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device who is addicted to the use of any drug. This subdivision does not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(f) No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, and while so operating, do any act forbidden by law, or neglect any duty imposed by law in the use of the vessel, water skis, aquaplane, or similar device, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than himself or herself.

(g) In any prosecution under subdivision (c), it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of operation of a recreational vessel if the person had an alcohol concentration of 0.10 percent or more in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the operation.

(h) In any prosecution under subdivision (d), it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of operation of a vessel other than a recreational vessel if the person had an alcohol concentration of 0.04 percent or more in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the operation.

(i) Upon the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person who was operating a vessel or manipulating water skis, an aquaplane, or a similar device while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (b) or (f), the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test, as shown by a chemical test of that person's blood, breath, or urine, shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more, but less than 0.10 percent, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(j) This section does not limit the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(k) This section applies to foreign vessels using waters subject to state jurisdiction.

(l) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 6. Section 655.05 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

655.05. (a) No person shall operate a vessel other than a recreational vessel for 24 hours if the person is found by a peace officer to have an alcohol concentration of 0.01 percent or more in his or her blood. The peace officer shall order the person out of service for 24 hours.

(b) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 7. Section 655.1 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

655.1. (a) As used in this section, "mechanically propelled vessel" means any vessel actively propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion.

(b) A peace officer, having reasonable cause to believe that any person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, who lawfully arrests the person for any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655, may request that person to submit to chemical testing of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood. The arrested person shall be informed that a refusal to submit to, or failure to complete, the required chemical testing may be used against the person in a court of law and that the court may impose increased penalties for that refusal or failure, upon conviction.

(c) (1) If the person is lawfully arrested for operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and submits to the chemical testing, the person has the choice of whether the test shall be of his or her blood, breath, or urine, and the person shall be advised by the arresting officer that he or she has that choice. If the person arrested either is incapable, or states that he or she is incapable, of completing any chosen test, the person shall then have the choice of submitting to and completing any of the remaining test or tests, and the officer shall advise the person that he or she has that choice.

(2) If the person is lawfully arrested for operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of any drug or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug and submits to the chemical testing, the person has the choice of whether the test shall be of his or her blood, breath, or urine, and the officer shall advise the person that he or she has that choice.

(d) The arresting officer shall advise a person submitting to chemical testing under this section that he or she does not have the right to have an attorney present before stating whether he or she will submit to the chemical testing, before deciding which test or tests to take, or during the administration of the test or tests chosen.

(e) A person who chooses to submit to a breath test may also be requested to submit to a blood or urine test if the arresting officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of any drug, or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, and if the arresting officer has a clear indication that a blood or urine test will reveal evidence of the person being under the influence. The arresting officer shall state in his or her report the facts upon which that belief and that clear indication are based. The person shall have the choice of submitting to and completing a blood or urine test, and shall be advised by the arresting officer that he or she is requested to submit to an additional test, and that he or she may choose a test of either blood or urine. If the person arrested is either incapable, or states that he or she is incapable, of completing either chosen test, the person shall submit to and complete the other remaining test.

(f) (1) A person who chooses to submit to a breath test shall be advised before or after the test that the breath-testing equipment does not retain any sample of the breath, and that no breath sample will be available after the test which could be analyzed later by the person or any other person.

(2) The person shall also be advised that, because no breath sample is retained, the person will be given an opportunity to provide a blood or urine sample that will be retained at no cost to the person so that there will be something retained that may be subsequently analyzed for the alcoholic content of the persons's blood. If the person completes a breath test and wishes to provide a blood or urine sample to be retained, the sample shall be collected and retained in the same manner as if the person had chosen a blood or urine test initially.

(3) The person shall also be advised that the blood or urine sample may be tested by either party in any criminal prosecution. The failure of either party to perform this test shall place no duty upon the opposing party to perform the test nor affect the admissibility of any other evidence of the drug or alcoholic content of the blood of the person arrested.

(g) If the person is lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed in violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655, and because of the need for medical treatment, the person is first transported to a medical facility where it is not feasible to administer a particular test of, or to obtain a particular sample of, the person's blood, breath, or urine, the person has the choice of submitting to those tests which are available at the facility to which that person has been transported. In this event, the arresting officer shall advise the person of those tests which are available at the medical facility, and that the person's choice is limited to those tests which are available.

(h) Any person who is unconscious or otherwise in a condition rendering him or her incapable of refusal may be subjected to chemical testing of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood, whether or not the person is informed that a refusal to submit to, or failure to complete, the required chemical testing may be used against the person in a court of law, and that the court may impose increased penalties upon conviction.

(i) Any person who is afflicted with hemophilia is exempt from the blood test provided for in this section.

(j) Any person who is afflicted with a heart condition and is using an anticoagulant under the direction of a licensed physician and surgeon is exempt from the blood test provided for in this section.

(k) A person lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device in violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 may request the arresting officer to have a chemical test made of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood and, if so requested, the arresting officer shall have the test performed.

(l) Any chemical test of blood, breath, or urine to determine the percentage, by weight, of alcohol in the blood shall be performed in accordance with Section 23158 of the Vehicle Code.

(m) Nothing in this section limits the authority of a peace officer to gather evidence from a person lawfully arrested for a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655.

(n) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 655.1 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

655.1. (a) As used in this section, "mechanically propelled vessel" means any vessel actively propelled by machinery, whether or not the machinery is the principal source of propulsion.

(b) A peace officer, having reasonable cause to believe that any person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, who lawfully arrests the person for any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655, may request that person to submit to chemical testing of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood. The arrested person shall be informed that a refusal to submit to, or failure to complete, the required chemical testing may be used against the person in a court of law and that the court may impose increased penalties for that refusal or failure, upon conviction.

(c) (1) If the person is lawfully arrested for operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and submits to the chemical testing, the person has the choice of whether the chemical test shall be of his or her blood, breath, or urine, and the person shall be advised by the arresting officer that he or she has that choice. If the person arrested either is incapable, or states that he or she is incapable, of completing any chosen chemical test, the person shall then have the choice of submitting to and completing any of the remaining chemical test or tests, and the officer shall advise the person that he or she has that choice.

(2) If the person is lawfully arrested for operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of any drug or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug and submits to the chemical testing, the person has the choice of whether the chemical test shall be of his or her blood, breath, or urine, and the officer shall advise the person that he or she has that choice.

(d) The arresting officer shall advise a person submitting to chemical testing under this section that he or she does not have the right to have an attorney present before stating whether he or she will submit to the chemical testing, before deciding which chemical test or tests to take, or during the administration of the chemical test or tests chosen.

(e) A person who chooses to submit to a breath test may also be requested to submit to a blood or urine test if the arresting officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device under the influence of any drug, or the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, and if the arresting officer has a clear indication that a blood or urine test will reveal evidence of the person being under the influence. The arresting officer shall state in his or her report the facts upon which that belief and that clear indication are based. The person shall have the choice of submitting to and completing a blood or urine test, and shall be advised by the arresting officer that he or she is requested to submit to an additional test, and that he or she may choose a test of either blood or urine. If the person arrested is either incapable, or states that he or she is incapable, of completing either chosen chemical test, the person shall submit to and complete the other remaining chemical test.

(f) (1) A person who chooses to submit to a breath test shall be advised before or after the breath test that the breath-testing equipment does not retain any sample of the breath, and that no breath sample will be available after the breath test which could be analyzed later by the person or any other person.

(2) The person shall also be advised that, because no breath sample is retained, the person will be given an opportunity to provide a blood or urine sample that will be retained at no cost to the person so that there will be something retained that may be subsequently analyzed for the alcoholic content of the persons's blood. If the person completes a breath test and wishes to provide a blood or urine sample to be retained, the sample shall be collected and retained in the same manner as if the person had chosen a blood or urine test initially.

(3) The person shall also be advised that the blood or urine sample may be tested by either party in any criminal prosecution. The failure of either party to perform this chemical test shall place no duty upon the opposing party to perform the chemical test nor affect the admissibility of any other evidence of the drug or alcoholic content of the blood of the person arrested.

(g) If the person is lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed in violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655, and because of the need for medical treatment, the person is first transported to a medical facility where it is not feasible to administer a particular chemical test of, or to obtain a particular sample of, the person's blood, breath, or urine, the person has the choice of submitting to those chemical tests which are available at the facility to which that person has been transported. In this event, the arresting officer shall advise the person of those chemical tests which are available at the medical facility, and that the person's choice is limited to those chemical tests which are available.

(h) Any person who is unconscious or otherwise in a condition rendering him or her incapable of refusal may be subjected to chemical testing of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood, whether or not the person is informed that a refusal to submit to, or failure to complete, the required chemical testing may be used against the person in a court of law, and that the court may impose increased penalties upon conviction.

(i) Any person who is afflicted with hemophilia is exempt from the blood test provided for in this section.

(j) Any person who is afflicted with a heart condition and is using an anticoagulant under the direction of a licensed physician and surgeon is exempt from the blood test provided for in this section.

(k) A person lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the person was operating a mechanically propelled vessel or manipulating any water skis, aquaplane, or similar device in violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 may request the arresting officer to have a chemical test made of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the drug or alcoholic content of the blood and, if so requested, the arresting officer shall have the chemical test performed.

(l) Any chemical test of blood, breath, or urine to determine the percentage, by weight, of alcohol in the blood shall be performed in accordance with Section 23158 of the Vehicle Code.

(m) Nothing in this section limits the authority of a peace officer to gather evidence from a person lawfully arrested for a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655.

(n) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 9. Section 655.5 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

655.5. (a) Whenever a person convicted of any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 is found by the court to have willfully refused the request of a peace officer to submit to chemical testing of the blood, breath, or urine pursuant to Section 655.1, the court may impose enhanced penalties either by fine or imprisonment, or both, not to exceed the maximum of the penalties prescribed in Section 668.

(b) A willful refusal to submit to chemical testing pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be pled and proven.

(c) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 10. Section 655.5 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

655.5. (a) Whenever a person convicted of any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 is found by the court to have willfully refused the request of a peace officer to submit to chemical testing of the blood, breath, or urine pursuant to Section 655.1, the court may impose enhanced penalties either by fine or imprisonment, or both, not to exceed the maximum of the penalties prescribed in Section 668.

(b) A willful refusal to submit to chemical testing pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be pled and proven.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 11. Section 668 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is amended to read:

668. (a) Any person who violates Section 652, 654, 654.05, 654.06, 655.2, 655.3, 659, or 663.6, or any regulations adopted by the department pursuant thereto, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed five days, or both, for each violation.

(b) Any person who violates subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 658 is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200) for each violation.

(c) Any person who violates Section 652.5, subdivision (a) of Section 655, Section 656 or 656.1, subdivision (d) or (e) of Section 658, or any rules and regulations adopted by the department pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 660, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both, for each violation.

(d) Any person convicted of a first violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655, or of a violation of Section 655.4, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

(e) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655 within seven years of the first conviction, or any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655 within seven years of a prior conviction of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(f) Any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(g) If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within seven years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 655 and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than five days or more than one year and pay a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within seven years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 or of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and pay fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars

($5,000).

(h) The court shall not absolve a person who is convicted of a violation of subdivision (e) of Section 655 within seven years of a prior conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 or of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, from the minimum time in confinement provided in this section and a fine of at least two hundred fifty dollars ($250), except as provided in subdivision (i).

(i) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice demand an exception, the court shall not strike a prior conviction of an offense under subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 or of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, for purposes of sentencing in order to avoid imposing, as part of the sentence or as a term of probation, the minimum time in confinement and the minimum fine, as provided in this section. When a prior conviction is stricken by the court for purposes of sentencing, the court shall specify the reason or reasons for the striking order. On appeal by the people from an order striking a prior conviction, it shall be conclusively presumed that the order was made only for the reasons specified in the order, and the order shall be reversed if there is no substantial basis in the record for any of those reasons.

(j) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 656.2 or 656.3 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisonment in the state prison or in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(k) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 658.5 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 12. Section 668 is added to the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

668. (a) Any person who violates Section 652, 654, 654.05, 654.06, 655.2, 655.3, 659, or 663.6, or any regulations adopted by the department pursuant thereto, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed five days, or both, for each violation.

(b) Any person who violates subdivision (a) or (b) of Section 658 is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200) for each violation.

(c) Any person who violates Section 652.5, subdivision (a) of Section 655, Sections 655.05, 656, or 656.1, subdivision (d) or (e) of Section 658, or any rules and regulations adopted by the department pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 660, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both, for each violation.

(d) Any person convicted of a first violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655, or of a violation of Section 655.4, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months, or both.

(e) Any person convicted of a second or subsequent violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 within seven years of the first conviction of any of those subdivisions or subdivision (f) of Section 655, or any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 within seven years of a separate conviction of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, or a separate conviction of Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code or of Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a motor vehicle, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(f) Any person convicted of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655 shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(g) If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655 within seven years of a separate conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than five days or more than one year and pay a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). If any person is convicted of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655 within seven years of a separate conviction of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655, of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, or Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a motor vehicle, and is granted probation, the court shall impose as a condition of probation that the person be confined in the county jail for not less than 90 days or more than one year, and pay a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(h) The court shall not absolve a person who is convicted of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655 within seven years of a separate conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655, of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, or Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a motor vehicle, from the minimum time in confinement provided in this section and a fine of at least two hundred fifty dollars ($250), except as provided in subdivision (i).

(i) Except in unusual cases where the interests of justice demand an exception, the court shall not strike a separate conviction of an offense under subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 or of Section 191.5 or subdivision (c) of Section 192.5 of the Penal Code, when the prior conviction resulted from the operation of a vessel, or Section 23152 or 23153 of the Vehicle Code or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, when the separate conviction resulted from the operation of a motor vehicle, for purposes of sentencing in order to avoid imposing, as part of the sentence or as a term of probation, the minimum time in confinement and the minimum fine, as provided in this section. When a separate conviction is stricken by the court for purposes of sentencing, the court shall specify the reason or reasons for the striking order. On appeal by the people from an order striking a separate conviction, it shall be conclusively presumed that the order was made only for the reasons specified in the order, and the order shall be reversed if there is no substantial basis in the record for any of those reasons.

(j) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 656.2 or 656.3 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisonment in the state prison or in the county jail for not to exceed one year, or both.

(k) Any person convicted of a violation of Section 658.5 shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100).

(l) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 13. Section 1803 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1803. (a) Every clerk of a court, or judge if there is no clerk, in which a person was convicted of any violation of this code, of any offense involving use or possession of controlled substances under Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, and of any felony offense when a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, was involved in or incidental to the commission of the offense, and of any violation of any other statute relating to the safe operation of vehicles, shall prepare within 10 days after conviction and immediately forward to the department at its office at Sacramento an abstract of the record of the court covering the case in which the person was so convicted. If sentencing is not pronounced in conjunction with the conviction, the abstract shall be forwarded to the department within 10 days after sentencing and the abstract shall be certified by the person so required to prepare it to be true and correct.

For the purposes of this section, a forfeiture of bail shall be equivalent to a conviction.

(b) The following violations are not required to be reported under subdivision (a) of this section:

(1) Division 3.5 (commencing with Section 9840).

(2) Section 21113, with respect to parking violations.

(3) Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11.

(4) Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), except Sections 24002, 24004, 24250, 24409, 24604, 24800, 25103, 26707, 27151, 27315, 27360, 27800, and 27801 and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 26301).

(5) Division 15 (commencing with Section 35000), except Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 35550).

(6) Violations for which a person was cited as a pedestrian or while operating a bicycle.

(7) Division 16.5 (commencing with Section 38000).

(8) Sections 23221, 23223, 23225, and 23226.

(c) If the court impounds a license or orders a person to limit his or her driving pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 23161, subdivision (b) of Section 23166, subdivision (b) of Section 23186, or subdivision (c) of Section 40508, the court shall notify the department concerning the impoundment or limitation on an abstract prepared pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section or on a separate abstract, which shall be prepared within 10 days after the impoundment or limitation was ordered and immediately forwarded to the department at its office in Sacramento.

(d) If the court determines that a prior judgment of conviction of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 is valid or is invalid on constitutional grounds pursuant to Section 41403, the clerk of the court, or judge if there is no clerk, in which the determination is made shall prepare an abstract of that determination and forward it to the department in the same manner as an abstract of record pursuant to subdivision (a).

(e) Within 10 days of an order terminating or revoking probation under Section 23167, 23187, or 23207, the clerk of the court, or the judge if there is no clerk, in which the order terminating or revoking probation was entered, shall prepare and immediately forward to the department at its office in Sacramento an abstract of the record of the court order terminating or revoking probation and any other order of the court to the department required by law.

(f) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 1803 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

1803. (a) Every clerk of a court, or judge if there is no clerk, in which a person was convicted of any violation of this code, of any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, of any offense involving use or possession of controlled substances under Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, and of any felony offense when a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, was involved in or incidental to the commission of the offense, and of any violation of any other statute relating to the safe operation of vehicles, shall prepare within 10 days after conviction and immediately forward to the department at its office at Sacramento an abstract of the record of the court covering the case in which the person was so convicted. If sentencing is not pronounced in conjunction with the conviction, the abstract shall be forwarded to the department within 10 days after sentencing and the abstract shall be certified by the person so required to prepare it to be true and correct.

For the purposes of this section, a forfeiture of bail shall be equivalent to a conviction.

(b) The following violations are not required to be reported under subdivision (a) of this section:

(1) Division 3.5 (commencing with Section 9840).

(2) Section 21113, with respect to parking violations.

(3) Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11.

(4) Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), except Sections 24002, 24004, 24250, 24409, 24604, 24800, 25103, 26707, 27151, 27315, 27360, 27800, and 27801 and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 26301).

(5) Division 15 (commencing with Section 35000), except Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 35550).

(6) Violations for which a person was cited as a pedestrian or while operating a bicycle.

(7) Division 16.5 (commencing with Section 38000).

(8) Sections 23221, 23223, 23225, and 23226.

(c) If the court impounds a license or orders a person to limit his or her driving pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 23161, subdivision (b) of Section 23166, subdivision (b) of Section 23186, or subdivision (c) of Section 40508, the court shall notify the department concerning the impoundment or limitation on an abstract prepared pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section or on a separate abstract, which shall be prepared within 10 days after the impoundment or limitation was ordered and immediately forwarded to the department at its office in Sacramento.

(d) If the court determines that a prior judgment of conviction of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 is valid or is invalid on constitutional grounds pursuant to Section 41403, the clerk of the court, or judge if there is no clerk, in which the determination is made shall prepare an abstract of that determination and forward it to the department in the same manner as an abstract of record pursuant to subdivision (a).

(e) Within 10 days of an order terminating or revoking probation under Section 23167, 23187, or 23207, the clerk of the court, or the judge if there is no clerk, in which the order terminating or revoking probation was entered, shall prepare and immediately forward to the department at its office in Sacramento an abstract of the record of the court order terminating or revoking probation and any other order of the court to the department required by law

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 15. Section 1803 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

1803. (a) Every clerk of a court in which a person was convicted of any violation of this code, of any violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, of any offense involving use or possession of controlled substances under Division 10 (commencing with Section 11000) of the Health and Safety Code, and of any felony offense when a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210, was involved in or incidental to, the commission of the offense, and of any violation of any other statute relating to the safe operation of vehicles, shall prepare within 10 days after conviction and immediately forward to the department at its office at Sacramento, an abstract of the record of the court covering the case in which the person was so convicted. If sentencing is not pronounced in conjunction with the conviction, the abstract shall be forwarded to the department within 10 days after sentencing and the abstract shall be certified by the person so required to prepare it to be true and correct.

For the purposes of this section, a forfeiture of bail shall be equivalent to a conviction.

(b) The following violations are not required to be reported under subdivision (a) of this section:

(1) Division 3.5 (commencing with Section 9840).

(2) Section 21113, with respect to parking violations.

(3) Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11.

(4) Division 12 (commencing with Section 24000), except Sections 24002, 24004, 24250, 24409, 24604, 24800, 25103, 26707, 27151, 27315, 27360, 27800, and 27801, and Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 26301).

(5) Division 15 (commencing with Section 35000), except Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 35550).

(6) Violations for which a person was cited as a pedestrian or while operating a bicycle.

(7) Division 16.5 (commencing with Section 38000).

(8) Sections 23221, 23223, 23225, and 23226.

(c) If the court impounds a license or orders a person to limit his or her driving pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 23161, subdivision (b) of Section 23166, subdivision (b) of Section 23186, or subdivision (c) of Section 40508, the court shall notify the department concerning the impoundment or limitation on an abstract prepared pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section, or on a separate abstract, which shall be prepared within 10 days after the impoundment or limitation was ordered and immediately forwarded to the department at the office in Sacramento.

(d) If the court determines that a prior judgment of conviction of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153 is valid or is invalid on constitutional grounds pursuant to Section 41403, the clerk of the court in which the determination is made shall prepare an abstract of that determination and forward it to the department in the same manner as an abstract of record pursuant to subdivision (a).

(e) Within 10 days of an order terminating or revoking probation under Section 23167, 23187, or 23207, the clerk of the court, or the judge, if there is no clerk, in which the order terminating or revoking probation was entered, shall prepare and immediately forward to the department at its office in Sacramento, an abstract of the record of the court order terminating or revoking probation and any other order of the court to the department required by law.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 16. Section 1804 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1804. (a) The abstract shall be made upon a form furnished or approved by the department and shall contain all necessary information to identify the defendant, the date and nature of the offense, the license plate number of the vehicle involved in the offense, whether the vehicle was transporting a load required to be transported by a driver certified pursuant to Section 12804.1, whether the operator of the vehicle is required to be certified pursuant to Section 12804.3, the date of hearing, and the judgment. The abstract shall also indicate whether the vehicle involved in the offense is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210.

(b) As to any abstract for which the original arrest and final conviction was for a violation of Section 23101 or 23102, as those sections read before January 1, 1982, or Section 23152 or 23153, the abstract shall contain a statement indicating the percentage of alcohol, by weight, in the person's blood whenever that percentage was determined by a chemical test. The information regarding the chemical test shall be compiled if it is available to the clerk of the court. All information required to be compiled pursuant to this subdivision shall be kept confidential in the records of the department pursuant to Section 1808.5. The department may use the information for research and statistical purposes and for determining the eligibility of any person to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this state. The information shall not be released to any other public or private agency, except for research and statistical summary purposes and, for those purposes, the name and address of the person and any other identifying information shall not be disclosed.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that blood-alcohol percentages have valuable research potential in providing statistical summary information on impaired drivers but that a specific blood-alcohol percentage is only an item of evidence for purposes of criminal and licensing sanctions imposed by law. The Legislature recognizes that the accuracy of the determination of a specific blood-alcohol percentage is not the critical determination in a conviction for driving under the influence of an alcoholic beverage if the blood-alcohol percentage exceeds the statutory amount.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 17. Section 1804 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

1804. (a) The abstract shall be made upon a form furnished or approved by the department and shall contain all necessary information to identify the defendant, including, but not limited to, the person's driver's license number, name, and date of birth, the date and nature of the offense, the vessel number, if any, of the vessel involved in the offense, the license plate number of the vehicle involved in the offense, whether the vehicle was transporting a load required to be transported by a driver certified pursuant to Section 12804.1, whether the operator of the vehicle is required to be certified pursuant to Section 12804.3, the date of hearing, and the judgment. The abstract shall also indicate whether the vehicle involved in the offense is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 15210 or whether the vessel involved in the offense was a recreational vessel, as defined in subdivision (y) of Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code.

(b) As to any abstract for which the original arrest and final conviction was for a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code or Section 23152 or 23153 of this code, the abstract shall contain a statement indicating the percentage of alcohol, by weight, in the person's blood whenever that percentage was determined by a chemical test. The information regarding the chemical test shall be compiled if it is available to the clerk of the court. All information required to be compiled pursuant to this subdivision shall be kept confidential in the records of the department pursuant to Section 1808.5. The department may use the information for research and statistical purposes and for determining the eligibility of any person to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this state. The information shall not be released to any other public or private agency, except for research and statistical summary purposes and, for those purposes, the name and address of the person and any other identifying information shall not be disclosed.

(c) The Legislature finds and declares that blood-alcohol percentages have valuable research potential in providing statistical summary information on impaired drivers but that a specific blood-alcohol percentage is only an item of evidence for purposes of criminal and licensing sanctions imposed by law. The Legislature recognizes that the accuracy of the determination of a specific blood-alcohol percentage is not the critical determination in a conviction for driving under the influence of an alcoholic beverage if the blood-alcohol percentage exceeds the statutory amount.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 18. Section 13353 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

13353. (a) If any person refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, the department shall (1) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of six months, (2) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of two years if the refusal occurred within seven years of a separate violation of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153 which resulted in a conviction, or (3) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of three years if the refusal occurred within seven years of two or more separate violations of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153, or any combination thereof, which resulted in convictions. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished or approved by the department. The suspension or revocation shall not become effective until 10 days after the giving of written notice thereof, or until the end of any stay of the suspension or revocation, as provided for in subdivision (c) or (d).

(b) The department shall immediately notify the person in writing of the action taken and, upon the person's request in writing and within 15 days from the date of receipt of that request, shall grant the person an opportunity for a hearing in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 14100) of Chapter 3, except as otherwise provided in this section. For purposes of this section, the scope of the hearing shall cover the issues of whether the peace officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153, whether the person was placed under arrest, whether the person refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by a peace officer, and whether, except for the persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 23157 who are incapable of refusing, the person had been told that his or her driving privilege would be suspended or revoked if he or she refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests.

(c) An application for a hearing made by the affected person within 10 days of receiving notice of the department's action shall stay the suspension or revocation by the department for a period of 15 days. The department shall, within the period of 15 days, hold a hearing in the county in which the violation occurred. If the department does not grant a hearing within 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall not take place until the person is granted a hearing and is notified of the department's action as provided in subdivision (d). If the county in which the violation occurred is also the county of the person's residence, and the person requests that the hearing be continued to a date beyond the period of 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall become effective immediately upon receipt of the department's notice that the request for continuance has been granted. If the hearing is to be held in a county other than the county of the person's residence, the department shall, upon request, grant the person a continuance of up to 15 days, and shall not suspend or revoke the license until after that time.

(d) If the department determines, upon a hearing of the matter, to suspend or revoke the affected person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle, the suspension or revocation shall not become effective until five days after receipt by the person of the department's notification of that suspension or revocation.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 19. Section 13353 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13353. (a) If any person refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, except as provided in subdivision (e), the department shall (1) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of six months, (2) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of two years if the refusal occurred within seven years of a separate violation of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153 which resulted in a conviction, or (3) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of three years if the refusal occurred within seven years of two or more separate violations of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153, or any combination thereof, which resulted in convictions. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished or approved by the department. The suspension or revocation shall not become effective until 10 days after the giving of written notice thereof, or until the end of any stay of the suspension or revocation, as provided for in subdivision (c) or (d).

(b) The department shall immediately notify the person in writing of the action taken and, upon the person's request in writing and within 15 days from the date of receipt of that request, shall grant the person an opportunity for a hearing in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 14100) of Chapter 3, except as otherwise provided in this section. For purposes of this section, the scope of the hearing shall cover the issues of whether the peace officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153, whether the person was placed under arrest, whether the person refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by a peace officer, and whether, except for the persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 23157 who are incapable of refusing, the person had been told that his or her driving privilege would be suspended or revoked if he or she refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests.

(c) An application for a hearing made by the affected person within 10 days of receiving notice of the department's action shall stay the suspension or revocation by the department for a period of 15 days. The department shall, within the period of 15 days, hold a hearing in the county in which the violation occurred. If the department does not grant a hearing within 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall not take place until the person is granted a hearing and is notified of the department's action as provided in subdivision (d). If the county in which the violation occurred is also the county of the person's residence, and the person requests that the hearing be continued to a date beyond the period of 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall become effective immediately upon receipt of the department's notice that the request for continuance has been granted. If the hearing is to be held in a county other than the county of the person's residence, the department shall, upon request, grant the person a continuance of up to 15 days, and shall not suspend or revoke the license until after that time.

(d) If the department determines, upon a hearing of the matter, to suspend or revoke the affected person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle, the suspension or revocation shall not become effective until five days after receipt by the person of the department's notification of that suspension or revocation.

(e) If any person who was driving a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, the department shall suspend or revoke the person's privilege to operate a commercial motor vehicle for the period specified in Section 13352 for conviction of a violation of Section 23152, including any applicable enhancement for convictions of other separate offenses, as specified in that section. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished or approved by the department. Subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) apply to actions taken under this subdivision.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to suspend a person's commercial driver's license if that person refuses to submit to testing of his or her blood for the concentration of alcohol therein.

(g) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (f) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 20. Section 13353 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13353. (a) If any person refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, the department shall (1) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of six months, (2) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of one year if the refusal occurred within seven years of a separate violation of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, Section 23152, or Section 23153 of this code, or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, which resulted in a conviction, or (3) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of two years if the refusal occurred within seven years of two or more separate violations of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, Section 23152, or Section 23153 of this code, or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, or any combination thereof, which resulted in convictions. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished by the department pursuant to Section 23158.3. The suspension shall not become effective until 45 days after the giving of written notice thereof, or until the end of any stay of the suspension, as provided for in Section 13558.

(b) The notice of the order of suspension under this section may be served on the person by a peace officer pursuant to Section 23157. If the notice of the order of suspension has not been served by the peace officer pursuant to Section 23157, the department shall immediately notify the person in writing of the action taken. A notice which is mailed to the person is deemed received three days after mailing.

(c) Upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement, the department shall review the record. For purposes of this section, the scope of the administrative review shall cover the issues of whether the peace officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153, whether the person was placed under arrest, whether the person refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by a peace officer, and whether, except for the persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 23157 who are incapable of refusing, the person had been told that his or her driving privilege would be suspended if he or she refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests.

(d) The person may request an administrative hearing pursuant to Section 13558. Except as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 13558, the request for an administrative hearing does not stay the order of suspension.

(e) If any person who was driving a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, the department shall suspend or revoke the person's privilege to operate a commercial motor vehicle for the period specified in Section 13352 for conviction of a violation of Section 23152, including any applicable enhancement for convictions of other separate offenses, as specified in that section. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished by the department. Subdivisions (b), (c), and (d) apply to actions taken under this subdivision.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to suspend a person's commercial driver's license if that person refuses to submit to testing of his or her blood for the concentration of alcohol therein.

(g) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (f) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 21. Section 13353 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

13353. (a) If any person refuses the officer's request to submit to, or fails to complete, a chemical test or tests pursuant to Section 23157, upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement that the officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153 and that the person had refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by the officer, the department shall (1) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of six months, (2) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of two years if the refusal occurred within seven years of a separate violation of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153 which resulted in a conviction, or (3) revoke the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of three years if the refusal occurred within seven years of two or more separate violations of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, 23152, or 23153, or any combination thereof, which resulted in convictions. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished or approved by the department. The suspension or revocation shall not become effective until 10 days after the giving of written notice thereof, or until the end of any stay of the suspension or revocation, as provided for in subdivision (c) or (d).

(b) The department shall immediately notify the person in writing of the action taken and, upon the person's request in writing and within 15 days from the date of receipt of that request, shall grant the person an opportunity for a hearing in the same manner and under the same conditions as provided in Article 3 (commencing with Section 14100) of Chapter 3, except as otherwise provided in this section. For purposes of this section, the scope of the hearing shall cover the issues of whether the peace officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153, whether the person was placed under arrest, whether the person refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by a peace officer, and whether, except for the persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 23157 who are incapable of refusing, the person had been told that his or her driving privilege would be suspended or revoked if he or she refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests.

(c) An application for a hearing made by the affected person within 10 days of receiving notice of the department's action shall stay the suspension or revocation by the department for a period of 15 days. The department shall, within the period of 15 days, hold a hearing in the county in which the violation occurred. If the department does not grant a hearing within 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall not take place until the person is granted a hearing and is notified of the department's action as provided in subdivision (d). If the county in which the violation occurred is also the county of the person's residence, and the person requests that the hearing be continued to a date beyond the period of 15 days, the suspension or revocation shall become effective immediately upon receipt of the department's notice that the request for continuance has been granted. If the hearing is to be held in a county other than the county of the person's residence, the department shall, upon request, grant the person a continuance of up to 15 days, and shall not suspend or revoke the license until after that time.

(d) If the department determines, upon a hearing of the matter, to suspend or revoke the affected person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle, the suspension or revocation shall not become effective until five days after receipt by the person of the department's notification of that suspension or revocation.

(e) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (g) of Section 13353, as added by Section 19 of Senate Bill No. 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 22. Section 13353 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23103.5, Section 23152, or Section 23153 of this code, or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, which resulted in a conviction, or (3) suspend the person's privilege to operate a motor vehicle for a period of two years if the refusal occurred within seven years of two or more separate violations of Section 23103 as specified in Section 23103.5, Section 23152, or Section 23153 of this code, or Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code, or any combination thereof, which resulted in convictions. The officer's sworn statement shall be submitted on a form furnished by the department pursuant to Section 23158.3. The suspension shall not become effective until 45 days after the giving of written notice thereof, or until the end of any stay of the suspension, as provided for in Section 13558.

(b) The notice of the order of suspension under this section may be served on the person by a peace officer pursuant to Section 23157. If the notice of the order of suspension has not been served by the peace officer pursuant to Section 23157, the department shall immediately notify the person in writing of the action taken. A notice which is mailed to the person is deemed received three days after mailing.

(c) Upon receipt of the officer's sworn statement, the department shall review the record. For purposes of this section, the scope of the administrative review shall cover the issues of whether the peace officer had reasonable cause to believe the person had been driving a motor vehicle in violation of Section 23152 or 23153, whether the person was placed under arrest, whether the person refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests after being requested by a peace officer, and whether, except for the persons described in subdivision (a) of Section 23157 who are incapable of refusing, the person had been told that his or her driving privilege would be suspended if he or she refused to submit to, or did not complete, the test or tests.

(d) The person may request an administrative hearing pursuant to Section 13558. Except as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 13558, the request for an administrative hearing does not stay the order of suspension.

(e) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (g) of Section 13353, as added by Section 20 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 23. Section 23152 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

23152. (a) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle.

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who is addicted to the use of any drug to drive a vehicle. This subdivision shall not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 24. Section 23152 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23152. (a) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle.

For purposes of this subdivision, subdivision (d), and Section 34501.1, percent, by weight, of alcohol in a person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who is addicted to the use of any drug to drive a vehicle. This subdivision shall not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle

Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(f) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (e) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 25. Section 23152 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23152. (a) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle.

For purposes of this subdivision, subdivision (d), and Section 34501.1, percent, by weight, of alcohol in a person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who is addicted to the use of any drug to drive a vehicle. This subdivision shall not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(f) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (e) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 26. Section 23152 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23152. (a) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle.

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who is addicted to the use of any drug to drive a vehicle. This subdivision shall not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (f) of Section 23152, as added by Section 24 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 27. Section 23152 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23152. (a) It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle.

(b) It is unlawful for any person who has 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle.

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) It is unlawful for any person who is addicted to the use of any drug to drive a vehicle. This subdivision shall not apply to a person who is participating in a methadone maintenance treatment program approved pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 4350) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (f) of Section 23152, as added by Section 25 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 28. Section 23153 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

23153. (a) It is unlawful for any person, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) In proving the person neglected any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, it is not necessary to prove that any specific section of this code was violated.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 29. Section 23153 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23153. (a) It is unlawful for any person, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

For purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (d), percent, by weight, of alcohol in a person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) In proving the person neglected any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, it is not necessary to prove that any specific section of this code was violated.

(d) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(f) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (e) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 30. Section 23153 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23153. (a) It is unlawful for any person, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

For purposes of this subdivision and subdivision (d), percent, by weight, of alcohol in a person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) In proving the person neglected any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, it is not necessary to prove that any specific section of this code was violated.

(d) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.04 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(f) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (e) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 31. Section 23153 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23153. (a) It is unlawful for any person, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.10 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) In proving the person neglected any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, it is not necessary to prove that any specific section of this code was violated.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (f) of Section 23153, as added by Section 29 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 32. Section 23153 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23153. (a) It is unlawful for any person, while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage or any drug, or under the combined influence of an alcoholic beverage and any drug, to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while having 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood to drive a vehicle and, when so driving, do any act forbidden by law or neglect any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, which act or neglect proximately causes bodily injury to any person other than the driver.

For purposes of this subdivision, percent, by weight, of alcohol shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

In any prosecution under this subdivision, it is a rebuttable presumption that the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of driving the vehicle if the person had 0.08 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood at the time of the performance of a chemical test within three hours after the driving.

(c) In proving the person neglected any duty imposed by law in the driving of the vehicle, it is not necessary to prove that any specific section of this code was violated.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (f) of Section 23153, as added by Section 30 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 33. Section 23155 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

23155. (a) Upon the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23152 or subdivision (a) of Section 23153, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more but less than 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(b) Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

(c) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 34. Section 23155 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23155. (a) Upon the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23152 or subdivision (a) of Section 23153, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more but less than 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(b) Percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

(c) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(e) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (d) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 35. Section 23155 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23155. (a) Upon the the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23152 or subdivision (a) of Section 23153, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more but less than 0.08 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.08 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(b) Percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath.

(c) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in Section 383.51 or 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to prohibit operation of commercial vehicles when the operator has a concentration of alcohol in his or her blood of 0.04 percent by weight or more.

(e) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (d) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 36. Section 23155 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23155. (a) Upon the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23152 or subdivision (a) of Section 23153, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more but less than 0.10 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(b) Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

(c) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (e) of Section 23155, as added by Section 34 of Senate Bill No. 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 37. Section 23155 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23155. (a) Upon the the trial of any criminal action, or preliminary proceeding in a criminal action, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage in violation of subdivision (a) of Section 23152 or subdivision (a) of Section 23153, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the test as shown by chemical analysis of that person's blood, breath, or urine shall give rise to the following presumptions affecting the burden of proof:

(1) If there was at that time less than 0.05 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(2) If there was at that time 0.05 percent or more but less than 0.08 percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, that fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the person was or was not under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, but the fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(3) If there was at that time 0.08 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, it shall be presumed that the person was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(b) Percent by weight of alcohol in the person's blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood.

(c) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person ingested any alcoholic beverage or was under the influence of an alcoholic beverage at the time of the alleged offense.

(d) This section shall become operative only upon the receipt by the Secretary of State of the notice specified in subdivision (e) of Section 23155, as added by Section 35 of Senate Bill 1119 of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 38. Section 23156 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

23156. (a) For the purposes of this article, a separate offense which resulted in a conviction of a violation of Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code is a separate offense of a violation of Section 23153.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1992, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 39. Section 23156 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

23156. (a) For the purposes of this article, a separate offense which resulted in a conviction of a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code or of Section 191.5 or paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 192 of the Penal Code is a separate offense of a violation of Section 23153.

(b) For the purposes of this article and Section 13352, a separate offense which resulted in a conviction of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 655 of the Harbors and Navigation Code is a separate violation of Section 23152.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992.

SEC. 40. Section 34501.15 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

34501.15. (a) The regulations adopted pursuant to Section 34501 shall require that any driver of a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in Section 15210, be ordered out of service for 24 hours if the driver is found to have 0.01 percent or more, by weight, of alcohol in his or her blood.

(b) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1992, and shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) contained in that act and Section 391.15 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations do not require the state to order the operator of a commercial vehicle out of service for 24 hours when the operator has a measurable concentration of alcohol in his or her blood.

(c) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (b) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice.

SEC. 41. Section 34501.16 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

34501.16. (a) Every employer of a commercial driver shall provide information to that employee at the time of hiring and to all employed commercial drivers annually, concerning all of the following:

(1) The prohibition against driving a commercial motor vehicle with over 0.04 percent or more, by weight, alcohol in his or her blood on and after January 1, 1992.

(2) The requirement to be placed out of service for 24 hours if the person's blood-alcohol concentration is tested to be 0.01 percent or more, by weight, on and after January 1, 1992.

(b) The Department of Motor Vehicles shall include the information prescribed in subdivision (a), together with information concerning the alcohol concentration in a person's blood resulting from consumption of alcoholic beverages, in each publication of the commercial driver's handbook published after January 1, 1990.

(c) This section shall remain operative until the director determines that federal regulations adopted pursuant to the Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 (49 U.S.C. Sec. 2701 et seq.) do not require the state to implement the prohibitions and requirements in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a).

(d) The director shall submit a notice of the determination under subdivision (c) to the Secretary of State, and this section shall be repealed upon the receipt of that notice.

SEC. 42. The Legislature finds and declares that the minimum reportable concentration of alcohol in a person's blood is 0.01 percent under the regulations of the State Department of Health Services (17 Cal. Code Regs. 1220.4). The Legislature further finds that very low concentrations of alcohol occur in people from normal metabolism of food, and that those very low concentrations are detectable with modern analytical techniques. Therefore, the Legislature finds that the requirement for ordering a commercial motor vehicle driver out of service, if the alcohol in that person's blood is 0.01 percent or more, complies with the federal regulations for driving motor vehicles transporting persons or property for a motor carrier, which prohibit a driver from having any measured alcohol concentration or any detected presence of alcohol, while on duty, or operating, or in physical control of a motor vehicle as stated in paragraph (2) of subsection (a) of Section 392.5 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

SEC. 43. Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code proposed by this bill and AB 1973. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends or amends, repeals, and adds Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1973, in which case Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code, as amended by AB 1973, shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 3 of this bill, at which time Section 3 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 1 and 2 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 44. Section 15 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 1803 of the Vehicle Code proposed by this bill and SB 710. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends or amends, repeals, and adds Section 1803 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 710, in which case Section 1803 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by SB 710, shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 15 of this bill, at which time Section 15 of this bill shall become operative, and Sections 13 and 14 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 45. Sections 20 and 22 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 13353 of the Vehicle Code proposed by this bill and SB 1623. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends or amends, repeals, and adds Section 13353 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1623, in which case Section 13353 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by SB 1623 shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 20 of this bill, at which time Sections 20 and 22 of this bill shall become operative as provided in those sections, and Sections 18, 19, and 21 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 46. Sections 25 and 27 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 23152 of the Vehicle Code proposed by this bill and SB 408. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 23152 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 408, in which case Section 23152 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by SB 408, shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 25 of this bill, at which time Sections 25 and 27 of this bill shall become operative as provided in those sections, and Sections 23, 24, and 26 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 47. Sections 30 and 32 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 23153 of the Vehicle Code proposed by this bill and SB 408. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 23153 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 408, in which case Section 23153 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by SB 408, shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 30 of this bill, at which time Sections 30 and 32 of this bill shall become operative as provided in those sections, and Sections 28, 29, and 31 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 48. Sections 35 and 37 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 23155 of the Vehicle Code proposed by this bill and SB 408. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 23155 of the Vehicle Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 408, in which case Section 23155 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by SB 408, shall remain operative only until the operative date of Section 35 of this bill, at which time Sections 35 and 37 of this bill shall become operative as provided in those sections, and Sections 33, 34, and 36 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 49.–No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1115

An act to amend Sections 1569.2, 1569.15, 1569.16, 1569.19, 1569.36, 1569.40, 1569.43, 1569.44, 1569.47, 1569.48, 1569.485, and 1569.49 of, to amend, repeal, and add Section 1569.23 of, to amend, renumber, and add Section 1569.61 of, to add Sections 1569.191, 1569.193, 1569.205, 1569.46, 1569.525, 1569.615, and 1569.618, to, and to repeal and add Sections 1569.20 and 1569.54 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to residential care facilities for the elderly.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as "the Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly Reform Act of 1989."

SEC. 2. Section 1569.2 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.2. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Administrator" means the individual designated by the licensee to act in behalf of the licensee in the overall management of the facility. The licensee, if an individual, and the administrator may be one and the same person.

(b) "Care and supervision" means the facility assumes responsibility for, or provides or promises to provide in the future, ongoing assistance with activities of daily living without which resident physical health, mental health, safety or welfare would be endangered. Assistance includes assistance with taking medications, money management, or personal care.

(c) "Department" means the State Department of Social Services.

(d) "Director" means the Director of Social Services.

(e) "Health-related services" mean services which shall be directly provided by an appropriate skilled professional, including a registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse, physical therapist, or occupational therapist.

(f) "Instrumental activities of daily living" means any of the following: housework, meals, laundry, taking of medication, money management, appropriate transportation, correspondence, telephoning, and related tasks.

(g) "License" means a basic permit to operate a residential care facility for the elderly.

(h) "Personal activities of daily living" means any of the following: dressing, feeding, toileting, bathing, grooming, and mobility and associated tasks.

(i) "Personal care" means assistance with personal activities of daily living, to help provide for and maintain physical and psychosocial comfort.

(j) "Protective supervision" means observing and assisting confused residents, including persons with dementia, to safeguard them against injury.

(k) "Residential care facility for the elderly" means a housing arrangement chosen voluntarily by persons 60 years of age or over, or their authorized representative, where varying levels and intensities of care and supervision, protective supervision, or personal care are provided, based upon their varying needs, as determined in order to be admitted and to remain in the facility. Persons under 60 years of age with compatible needs, as determined by the department in regulations, may be allowed to be admitted or retained in a residential care facility for the elderly.

This subdivision shall be operative only until the enactment of legislation implementing the three levels of care in residential care facilities for the elderly pursuant to Section 1569.70.

(l) "Residential care facility for the elderly" means a housing arrangement chosen voluntarily by persons 60 years of age or over, or their authorized representative, where varying levels and intensities of care and supervision, protective supervision, personal care, or health-related services are provided, based upon their varying needs, as determined in order to be admitted and to remain in the facility. Persons under 60 years of age with compatible needs, as determined by the department, may be allowed to be admitted or retained in a residential care facility for the elderly.

This subdivision shall become operative upon the enactment of legislation implementing the three levels of care in residential care facilities for the elderly pursuant to Section 1569.70.

(m) "Supportive services" means resources available to the resident in the community which help to maintain their functional ability and meet their needs as identified in the individual resident assessment. Supportive services may include any of the following: medical, dental, and other health care services; transportation; recreational and leisure activities; social services; and counseling services.

SEC. 3. Section 1569.15 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.15. Any person desiring issuance or renewal of a license for a residential care facility for the elderly under this chapter shall file with the department, pursuant to regulations, an application on forms furnished by the department, which shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Evidence satisfactory to the department of the ability of the applicant to comply with this chapter and of rules and regulations adopted under this chapter by the department. Where there is an application for renewal of a license, evidence satisfactory to the department that the licensee has substantially complied for the term of the previous license with this chapter, and with the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Evidence satisfactory to the department that the applicant is of reputable and responsible character. The evidence shall include, but not be limited to, a criminal record clearance pursuant to Section 1569.17, employment history, and character references. If the applicant is a firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, or company, like evidence shall be submitted as to the members or shareholders thereof, and the person in charge of the residential care facility for the elderly which application for issuance or renewal of license or special permit is made.

(c) Evidence satisfactory to the department that the applicant has sufficient financial resources to maintain the standards of service required by regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(d) Disclosure of the applicant's prior or present service as an administrator, general partner, corporate officer or director of, or as a person who has held or holds a beneficial ownership of 10 percent or more in, any residential care facility for the elderly or in any facility licensed pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1200), Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1250), or Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 1500).

(e) Disclosure of any revocation or other disciplinary action taken, or in the process of being taken, against a license held or previously held by the entities specified in subdivision (c).

(f) Any other information as may be required by the department for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter.

(g) Failure of the applicant to cooperate with the licensing agency in the completion of the application shall result in the denial of the application. Failure to cooperate means that the information described in this section and in regulations of the department has not been provided, or not provided in the form requested by the licensing agency, or both.

(h) Following the implementation of Article 7 (commencing with Section 1569.70) evidence satisfactory to the department of the applicant's ability to meet regulatory requirements for the level of care the facility intends to provide.

(i) Evidence satisfactory to the department of adequate knowledge of supportive services and other community supports which may be necessary to meet the needs of elderly residents.

(j) A signed statement that the person desiring issuance or renewal of a license has read and understood the residential care facility for the elderly statute and regulations.

(k) Designation by the applicant of the individual who shall be the administrator of the facility, including, if the applicant is an individual, whether or not the licensee shall also be the administrator.

(l) Evidence of successfully completing a certified prelicensure education program pursuant to Section 1569.23.

SEC. 4. Section 1569.16 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.16. (a) If an application for a license indicates, or the department determines during the application review process, that the applicant previously was issued a license under this chapter or under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1200), 2 (commencing with Section 1250), 3 (commencing with Section 1500), 3.4 (commencing with Section 1596.70), 3.5 (commencing with Section 1596.90), or 3.6 (commencing with Section 1597.30) and the prior license was revoked within the preceding two years, the department shall cease any further review of the application until two years shall have elapsed from the date of the revocation. The cessation of review shall not constitute a denial of the application for purposes of Section 1569.22 or any other provision of law. All residential care facilities for the elderly are exempt from the health planning requirements contained in Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 437) of Division 1.

(b) If an application for a license or special permit indicates, or the department determines during the application review process, that the applicant had previously applied for a license under any of the chapters listed in subdivision (a) and the application was denied within the last year, the department shall, except as provided in Section 1569.22, cease further review of the application until one year has elapsed from the date of the denial letter. In those circumstances where denials are appealed and upheld at an administrative hearing, review of the application shall cease for one year from the date of the decision and order being rendered by the department. The cessation of review shall not constitute a denial of the application.

SEC. 5. Section 1569.19 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.19. Each new license or special permit issued pursuant to this chapter shall expire 12 months from the date of its issuance.

A renewal license or special permit may be issued for a period not to exceed two years, provided the licensee has been found not to be in violation of any statutory requirements or rules or regulations, during the preceding license period.

Application for renewal of a license or special permit shall be filed with the state department pursuant to departmental rules and regulations.

A license shall be forfeited by operation of law prior to its expiration date when one of the following occurs:

(a) The licensee sells or otherwise transfers the facility or facility property, except when change of ownership applies to transferring of stock when the facility is owned by a corporation and when the transfer of stock does not constitute a majority change in ownership. The sale of a facility shall be subject to the requirements of this chapter.

(b) The licensee surrenders the license to the department.

(c) The licensee moves a facility from one location to another. The department shall develop regulations to ensure that the facilities are not charged a full licensing fee and do not have to complete the entire application process when applying for a license for the new location.

(d) The licensee is convicted of an offense specified in Section 220, 243.4, or 264 1, or paragraph (1) of Section 273a, Section 273d, 288, or 289 of the Penal Code, or is convicted of another crime specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 of the Penal Code.

(e) The licensee dies. When a licensee dies, the continued operation shall be subject to the requirements of Section 1569.193.

(f) The licensee abandons the facility.

SEC. 6. Section 1569.191 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.191. (a) Notwithstanding Section 1569.19, in the event of a sale of a licensed facility where the sale will result in a new license being issued, the sale and transfer of property and business shall be subject to both of the following:

(1) The licensee shall provide written notice to the department and to each resident or his or her legal representative of the licensee's intent to sell the facility at least 60 days prior to the transfer of property or business, or at the time that a bona fide offer is made, whichever period is longer.

(2) The licensee shall, prior to entering into an admission agreement, inform all residents, or their legal representatives, admitted to the facility after notification to the department, of the licensee's intent to sell the property or business.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (e), the property and business shall not be transferred until the buyer qualifies for a license or provisional license within the appropriate provisions of this chapter.

(1) For purposes of this section, it shall be the seller's responsibility to inform a prospective buyer of the necessity to obtain a license, as required by this chapter, if the buyer's intent is to continue operating the facility as a residential care facility for the elderly.

(2) For purposes of this section, it shall be the buyer's responsibility to apply for a license, as specified in Section 1569.15, within five days of the acceptance of the offer by the seller.

(c) No sale of the facility shall be permitted until 60 days have elapsed from the date upon which notice has been provided pursuant to paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a).

(d) The department shall give priority to applications for licensure which are submitted pursuant to this section in order to ensure timely transfer of the property and business. The department shall make a decision within 60 days after the application is submitted on whether to issue a license pursuant to Section 1569.15.

(e) If the parties involved in the transfer of the property and business fully comply with this section then the transfer may be completed and the buyer shall not be considered to be operating an unlicensed facility while the department makes final determination on the application for licensure.

SEC. 7. Section 1569.193 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.193. (a) When a licensee dies, an adult relative who has control of the property may continue operation of the facility if the following conditions are met:

(1) The department receives notification of the death during the next normal workday and is informed of the relative's intent to continue operating the facility as a residential care facility for the elderly.

(2) The relative files application within five days of the date of death, shows evidence satisfactory to the department that he or she has the ability to operate the facility, submits his or her fingerprint card, and provides evidence of the licensee's death.

(b) The department shall make a decision within 60 days after the application is submitted on whether to issue a provisional license pursuant to Section 1569.21. A provisional license shall be granted only if the department is satisfied that the conditions specified in subdivision (a) have been met and that the health and safety of the residents of the facility will not be jeopardized.

(c) If the relative complies with this section, he or she shall not be considered to be operating an unlicensed facility while the department decides whether to grant the provisional license.

SEC. 8. Section 1569.20 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 1569.20 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.20. Upon the filing of the application for issuance of an initial license, the department shall, within five working days of the filing, make a determination regarding the completeness of the application. If the application is complete, the department shall immediately request a fire clearance and notify the applicant to arrange a time for the department to conduct a prelicensure survey. If the application is incomplete, the department shall notify the applicant and request the necessary information. Within 60 days of making a determination that the file is complete, the department shall make a determination whether the application is in compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations of the department and shall either immediately issue the license or notify the applicant of the deficiencies. The notice shall specify whether the deficiencies constitute denial of the application or whether further corrections for compliance will likely result in approval of the application.

SEC. 10. Section 1569.205 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.205. Upon the filing of the licensee for renewal of a license and substantial compliance with this chapter and the rules and regulations of the department, the department shall issue the license renewal. If it is found that the licensee is not in compliance, the department shall deny the license renewal.

SEC. 11. Section 1569.23 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.23. As a requirement for licensure, the applicant shall attend an orientation given by the department which outlines the applicable rules and regulations, and the scope and responsibility for operation of a residential care facility for the elderly. The orientation shall include information on relevant community services, and may include participation by local area agencies on aging, the Long-Term Care Ombudsman, and provider organizations.

This section shall remain in effect until January 1, 1991, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is chaptered before January 1, 1991, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 12. Section 1569.23 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.23. (a) As a requirement for licensure of applications filed on or after January 1, 1991, the applicant shall demonstrate that he or she has successfully completed an approved certification program.

(b) The certification program shall be for a minimum of 40 hours of classroom instruction and include a uniform core of knowledge which shall include all of the following:

(1) Law, regulations, policies, and procedural standards that impact the operations of residential care facilities for the elderly.

(2) Business operations.

(3) Management and supervision of staff.

(4) Psychosocial need of the elderly residents.

(5) Physical needs for elderly residents.

(6) Community and support services.

(7) Use, misuse, and interaction of drugs commonly used by the elderly.

(8) Resident admission, retention, and assessment procedures.

(c) Successful completion of the certification program shall be demonstrated by passing a written test.

(d) The department shall establish by regulation the program content, the testing instrument, process for approving certification programs, and criteria to be used for authorizing individuals or organizations to conduct certification programs. These regulations shall be developed in conjunction with the Department of Consumer Affairs and with the participation of provider organizations.

(e) This section shall apply to all applications for licensure unless the applicant provides evidence that he or she has a current license for another residential care facility for the elderly which was initially licensed prior to July 1, 1989, or has successfully completed an approved certification program within the prior five years.

(f) If the applicant is a firm, partnership, association, or corporation, the chief executive officer, or other person serving in a like capacity, or the designated administrator of the facility shall provide evidence of successfully completing an approved certification program.

SEC. 13. Section 1569.36 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.36. (a) Not less than 30 days prior to the expiration date of any residential care facility for the elderly license, the department shall transmit a copy to the state ombudsman in the Department of Aging as well as the local ombudsman, if one exists, of all notices sent to the facility by the department during the term of the current license as a result of a substantiated complaint regarding a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter relating to resident abuse and neglect, food, sanitation, incidental medical care, and residential supervision. During that one-year period the copy of the notices transmitted and the proof of the transmittal shall be open for public inspection

(b) The department shall provide the names and addresses of the state ombudsman in the Department of Aging and, where applicable, the local ombudsman, to each residential care facility for the elderly.

SEC. 14. Section 1569.40 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.40. (a) Any person who violates this chapter, or who willfully or repeatedly violates any rule or regulation adopted under this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed one year, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(b) Operation of a residential care facility for the elderly without a license shall be subject to a summons to appear in court. Unlicensed operation, establishment, management, conducting, or maintaining of a facility as prohibited by Section 1569.10 is a separate and distinct offense of this section and is punishable as a misdemeanor.

(c) A misdemeanor may be prosecuted regardless of any concurrent enforcement of civil penalties or administrative remedies available to the department.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation who owns, operates, establishes, manages, conducts, or maintains a residential care facility for the elderly, as defined in subdivisions (k) and (l) of Section 1569.2 which is an unlicensed residential care facility for the elderly as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1569.44 is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed one year, or by both the fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 15. Section 1569.43 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.43. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, the district attorney of every county, and city attorneys in those cities which have city attorneys which prosecute misdemeanors pursuant to Sections 71099 and 72193 of the Government Code, shall, upon their own initiative or upon application by the state department or its authorized representative, institute and conduct the prosecution of any action for violation of this chapter within his or her jurisdiction.

SEC. 16. Section 1569.44 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.44 (a) A facility shall be deemed to be an "unlicensed residential care facility for the elderly" and "maintained and operated to provide residential care" if it is unlicensed and not exempt from licensure, and any one of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) The facility is providing care and supervision, as defined by this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(2) The facility is held out as, or represented as, providing care and supervision, as defined by this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(3) The facility accepts or retains residents who demonstrate the need for care and supervision, as defined by this chapter or the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(4) The facility represents itself as a licensed residential facility for the elderly.

(b) No unlicensed residential facility for the elderly, as defined in subdivision (a), shall operate in this state.

(c) Upon discovery of an unlicensed residential care facility for the elderly, the department shall refer residents to the appropriate placement or adult protective services agency or the appropriate local or state long-term care ombudsman, if either of the following conditions exist:

(1) There is an immediate threat to the clients' health and safety.

(2) The facility will not cooperate with the licensing agency to apply for a license, meet licensing standards, and obtain a valid license.

SEC. 17. Section 1569.46 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.46. Operation of an unlicensed facility shall be an act of unfair competition and an unfair business practice within the meaning of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 17200) of the Business and Professions Code.

SEC. 18. Section 1569.47 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.47. (a) "Placement agency" means any county welfare department, county social service department, county mental health department, county public guardian, general acute care hospital discharge planner or coordinator, state-funded program or private agency providing placement or referral services, and regional center for persons with developmental disabilities which is engaged in finding homes or other places for the placement of elderly persons for temporary or permanent care.

(b) A placement agency shall place individuals only in licensed residential care facilities for the elderly or facilities which are exempt from licensing under Section 1569.145.

(c) No employee of a placement agency shall place, refer, or recommend placement of a person in a facility operating without a license, unless the facility is exempt from licensing under Section 1569.145. Violation of this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

(d) Any employee of a placement agency who knows, or reasonably suspects, that a facility which is not exempt from licensing is operating without a license shall report the name and address of the facility to the department. Failure to report as required by this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

(e) The department shall investigate any report filed under subdivision (d). If the department has probable cause to believe that the facility which is the subject of the report is operating without a license, the department shall investigate the facility within 10 days after receipt of the report.

(f) A placement agency shall notify the appropriate licensing agency of any known or suspected incidents which would jeopardize the health or safety of residents in a residential care facility for the elderly. Reportable incidents include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Incidents of physical abuse.

(2) Any violation of personal rights.

(3) Any situation in which a facility is unclean, unsafe, unsanitary, or in poor condition.

(4) Any situation in which a facility has insufficient personnel or incompetent personnel on duty.

(5) Any situation in which residents experience mental or verbal abuse.

SEC. 19. Section 1569.48 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.48. A fund may be established to which 50 percent of each penalty assessed pursuant to Section 1569.49 is transmitted to the department for use by the Community Care Licensing Division of the department to establish an emergency resident relocation fund to be utilized for the relocation and care of residents when a facility's license is revoked or temporarily suspended, when appropriated by the Legislature. The money in the fund shall cover costs, including, but not limited to, transportation expenses, expenses incurred in notifying family members, and any other costs directly associated with providing continuous care to the residents. The department shall seek the advice of providers in developing a state plan for emergency resident relocation.

SEC. 20. Section 1569.485 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.485. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any person who violates Section 1569.10 or 1569.44, or both, shall be assessed by the department an immediate civil penalty in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) per resident for each day of the violation.

(b) The civil penalty authorized in subdivision (a) shall be doubled if an unlicensed facility is operated and the operator refuses to seek licensure or the operator seeks licensure and the licensure application is denied and the operator continues to operate the unlicensed facility.

(c) An operator may appeal the assessment to the director. The department shall adopt regulations setting forth the appeal procedure.

SEC. 21. Section 1569.49 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1569.49. (a) In addition to suspension or revocation of a license issued under this chapter, the department may levy a civil penalty in addition to the penalties of suspension or revocation. The department shall adopt regulations setting forth the appeal procedures for deficiencies.

(b) The amount of the civil penalty shall not be less than twenty-five dollars ($25) or more than fifty dollars ($50) per day for each violation of this chapter except where the nature or seriousness of the violation or the frequency of the violation warrants a higher penalty or an immediate civil penalty assessment, or both, as determined by the department. In no event, shall a civil penalty assessment exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per day.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 1569.33, any residential care facility for the elderly that is cited for repeating the same violation of this chapter within 12 months of the first violation is subject to an immediate civil penalty of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and fifty dollars ($50) for each day the violation continues until the deficiency is corrected.

(d) Any residential care facility for the elderly that is assessed a civil penalty pursuant to subdivision (c) which repeats the same violation of this chapter within 12 months of the violation subject to subdivision (c) shall be assessed an immediate civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) and one hundred dollars ($100) for each day the violation continues until the deficiency is corrected.

The department shall adopt regulations implementing this section.

SEC. 22. Section 1569.525 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.525. If the director determines that it is necessary to temporarily suspend any license of a residential care facility for the elderly in order to protect the residents or clients of the facility from physical or mental abuse, abandonment, or any other substantial threat to health or safety pursuant to Section 1569.50, the department shall make every effort to minimize trauma for the residents

The department shall contact any local agency that may have placement or advocacy responsibility for the residents of a residential care facility for the elderly after a decision is made to temporarily suspend the license of the facility and prior to its implementation. The department shall work with these agencies to locate alternative placement sites and to contact relatives responsible for the care of these residents.

The department shall use physicians and surgeons and other medical personnel deemed appropriate by the department to provide onsite evaluation of the residents and assist in the transfer.

The department may require the licensee to prepare and submit to the licensing agency a written plan for relocation and compliance with the terms and conditions of the approved plans, and to provide other information as necessary for the enforcement of this section.

SEC. 23. Section 1569.54 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 24. Section 1569.54 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.54. (a) (1) When the department does not suspend the license of a residential care facility for the elderly pursuant to this article, the department may still order the licensee to remove a resident who has a health condition which cannot be cared for within the limits of the license or requires inpatient care in a health facility as determined by the department.

(2) Where the department determines that the resident's mental or physical condition requires immediate transfer from the facility in order to protect the health and safety of the resident, the department may order the licensee to remove the resident after the department consults with a physician or other medical professional about the transfer and ways in which transfer trauma can be minimized.

(b) (1) Where the department alleges that a resident has a health condition which cannot be cared for within the limits of the license or requires inpatient care in a health facility, the department shall give notice to the resident, his or her legal representative when appropriate, and the licensee. The notice shall specify a deadline for submitting a written plan for relocation and inform the resident of his or her right for a review and determination by an interdisciplinary team as provided for in Section 1569.34. The resident, or his or her legal representative, shall have three working days to inform the licensee of the request for review. Upon receiving a request from a resident, or his or her legal representative, for a review and determination, the licensee shall forward the request to the department within two working days of receipt. Failure or refusal by the licensee to submit the request for review and determination to the department may be subject to the civil penalties specified in Section 1569.49.

(2) The review and determination shall be completed within 30 days from the date that the resident was initially informed of the need to relocate. If the determination is made that the resident must relocate, the notice shall include a plan for transfer, including attempts to minimize transfer trauma for the resident.

The department may require the licensee to prepare and submit to the licensing agency a written plan for relocation, to comply with the terms and conditions of the approved plans and to provide other information as necessary for the enforcement of this section.

(c) The provisions allowing for a resident's right to a review prior to transfer as provided for in subdivision (b) neither negates the department's authority and responsibility to require an immediate transfer according to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) when the department finds and provides evidence that the resident must be relocated in order to protect the health and safety of the resident, nor implies any right to a fair hearing pursuant to Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 10950) of Part 2 of Division 9 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

The department shall specify in regulations the process provided for pursuant to this section for making relocation decisions and for appealing and reviewing these decisions.

SEC. 25. Section 1569.61 of the Health and Safety Code is amended and renumbered to read:

1569.601. The director may grant a partial or total variance from the bonding requirements of Section 1569.60 for any residential care facility for the elderly if he or she finds that compliance with them is so onerous that a residential care facility for the elderly will cease to operate, and if he or she also finds that money of the persons received or cared for in the facility has been, or will be, deposited in a bank in this state, in a trust company authorized to transact a trust business in this state, or in a savings and loan association in this state, upon condition that the money may not be withdrawn except on authorization of the guardian or conservator of the person.

SEC. 26. Section 1569.61 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.61. (a) The department, in conjunction with the Department of Consumer Affairs and with the participation of provider organizations, shall submit to the Legislature by December 1, 1990, an implementation plan to establish a certification program for administrators of residential care facilities for the elderly.

(b) The implementation plan shall, at least, include minimum hours of instruction, experience and other qualifications, a uniform core of knowledge, means for testing knowledge, and process for approving programs.

It is the intent of the Legislature that, subsequent to the receipt of the implementation plan by the Legislature, legislation be enacted for the establishment of administrator certification requirements.

SEC. 27 Section 1569.615 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.615. (a) Notwithstanding Section 1569.62, and until legislation is enacted establishing an administrator certification program, an administrator of a residential care facility, if other than the licensee, shall be required to successfully complete the certification program provided for pursuant to Section 1569.23. In those cases where the individual is both the licensee and the designated administrator of a facility, and the individual is exempt from the requirements of Section 1569.23 as a licensee, the individual shall comply with the requirements of this subdivision as the designated administrator unless he or she qualifies for the exemption provided for in subdivision (b).

(b) An individual designated as the administrator of a residential care facility for the elderly who holds a valid license as a nursing home administrator issued in accordance with Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 3901) of the Business and Professions Code shall be exempt from the provisions of this section.

(c) Individuals designated as the administrator of a residential care facility for the elderly on or after January 1, 1991, shall comply with this section by July 1, 1991. Failure to comply with this section shall constitute cause for revocation of the license.

(d) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1991.

SEC. 28. Section 1569.618 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1569.618. (a) The administrator designated by the licensee pursuant to subdivision (k) of Section 1569.15 shall be present at the facility during normal working hours. A facility manager designated by the licensee with notice to the department, shall be responsible for the operation of the facility when the administrator is temporarily absent from the facility.

(b) "Facility manager" means a person on the premises with the authority and responsibility necessary to manage and control the day-to-day operation of a residential care facility for the elderly and supervise the clients. The facility manager, licensee, and administrator, or any combination thereof, may be the same person provided he or she meets all applicable requirements. If the administrator is also the facility manager for the same facility, he or she shall be limited to the administration and management of only one facility.

SEC. 29. Section 26 of this act shall not become operative if Assembly Bill 2323 is enacted during the 1989 portion of the 1989–90 Regular Session.

SEC. 30. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1116

An act to amend Section 10133.1 of, and to add Section 10008.5 to, the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Sections 181, 903, and 1203 of, and to add Sections 183.5 and 1201.5 to, the Corporations Code, relating to business regulations, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10008.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

10008.5. Solely with regard to any transaction involving the sale, lease, or exchange of a business opportunity occurring before, on, or after the effective date of this section, this division shall not apply to any person licensed at the time of the transaction as a securities broker or securities dealer under any law of this state or of the United States, or by any employee, officer, or agent of that person while acting under the direction of, and within the scope of, his or her employment with that person in connection with the transaction.

As used in this section, "any transaction involving the sale, lease, or exchange of a business opportunity" does not include any of the acts described in Section 10131 or Section 10131.2 if the substance of the transaction is to transfer, sell, lease, or exchange an interest in real property for the purpose of evading this part.

SEC. 2. Section 10133.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

10133.1. (a) Subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 10131, Section

10131.1, Article 5 (commencing with Section 10230), Article 6 (commencing with Section 10237), and Article 7 (commencing with Section 10240) and Section 1695.13 of the Civil Code do not apply to any of the following:

(1) Any person or employee thereof doing business under any law of this state, any other state, or of the United States relating to banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, industrial loan companies, pension trusts, credit unions, or insurance companies.

(2) Any nonprofit cooperative association organized under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 54001) of Division 20 of the Food and Agricultural Code, in loaning or advancing money in connection with any activity mentioned therein.

(3) Any corporation, association, syndicate, joint stock company, or partnership engaged exclusively in the business of marketing agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, dairy, livestock, poultry, or bee products on a cooperative nonprofit basis, in loaning or advancing money to the members thereof or in connection with any such business.

(4) Any corporation securing money or credit from any federal intermediate credit bank organized and existing pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress entitled the "Agricultural Credits Act of 1923," in loaning or advancing money or credit so secured.

(5) Any person licensed to practice law in this state, not actively and principally engaged in the business of negotiating loans secured by real property, when that person renders services in the course of his or her practice as an attorney at law, and the disbursements of that person, whether paid by the borrower or other person, are not charges or costs and expenses regulated by or subject to the limitations of Article 7 (commencing with Section 10240), provided, the fees and disbursements shall not be shared, directly or indirectly, with the person negotiating the loan or the lender.

(6) Any person licensed as a personal property broker, a consumer finance lender, or a commercial finance lender when acting under the authority of that license.

(7) Any cemetery authority as defined by Section 7018 of the Health and Safety Code which is authorized to do business in this state or its authorized agent.

(8) Any person authorized in writing by a savings institution to act as an agent of that institution, as authorized by Section 6520 of the Financial Code or comparable authority of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by its regulations, when acting under the authority of such written authorization.

(9) Any person who is licensed as a securities broker or securities dealer under any law of this state, or of the United States, or any employee, officer, or agent of that person, if that person, employee, officer, or agent is acting within the scope of authority granted by that license in connection with a transaction involving the offer, sale, purchase, or exchange of a security representing an ownership interest in a pool of promissory notes secured directly or indirectly by liens on real property, which transaction is subject to any law of this state or the United States regulating the offer or sale of securities.

(b) Persons described in either paragraph (1) or (2) are exempt from the provisions of subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 10131 with respect to the collection of payments for lenders or on notes of owners in connection with loans secured directly or collaterally by liens on real property.

(1) The person makes collections on 10 or less of those loans, or in amounts of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) or less in any calendar year.

(2) The person is a corporation licensed as an escrow agent under Division 6 (commencing with Section 17000) of the Financial Code and the payments are deposited and maintained in the escrow agent's trust account.

SEC. 2.5. Section 10133.1 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

10133.1. (a) Subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 10131, Section 10131.1, Article 5 (commencing with Section 10230), Article 6 (commencing with Section 10237), and Article 7 (commencing with Section 10240) and Section 1695.13 of the Civil Code do not apply to any of the following.

(1) Any person or employee thereof doing business under any law of this state, any other state, or of the United States relating to banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, industrial loan companies, pension trusts, credit unions, or insurance companies.

(2) Any nonprofit cooperative association organized under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 54001) of Division 20 of the Food and Agricultural Code, in loaning or advancing money in connection with any activity mentioned therein.

(3) Any corporation, association, syndicate, joint stock company, or partnership engaged exclusively in the business of marketing agricultural, horticultural, viticultural, dairy, livestock, poultry, or bee products on a cooperative nonprofit basis, in loaning or advancing money to the members thereof or in connection with any such business

(4) Any corporation securing money or credit from any federal intermediate credit bank organized and existing pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress entitled the "Agricultural Credits Act of 1923," in loaning or advancing money or credit so secured.

(5) Any person licensed to practice law in this state, not actively and principally engaged in the business of negotiating loans secured by real property, when that person renders services in the course of his or her practice as an attorney at law, and the disbursements of that person, whether paid by the borrower or other person, are not charges or costs and expenses regulated by or subject to the limitations of Article 7 (commencing with Section 10240), provided, the fees and disbursements shall not be shared, directly or indirectly, with the person negotiating the loan or the lender.

(6) Any person licensed as a personal property broker, a consumer finance lender, or a commercial finance lender when acting under the authority of that license.

(7) Any cemetery authority as defined by Section 7018 of the Health and Safety Code which is authorized to do business in this state or its authorized agent.

(8) Any person authorized in writing by a savings institution to act as an agent of that institution, as authorized by Section 6520 of the Financial Code or comparable authority of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by its regulations, when acting under the authority of such written authorization.

(9) Any person who is licensed as a securities broker or securities dealer under any law of this state, or of the United States, or any employee, officer, or agent of that person, if that person, employee, officer, or agent is acting within the scope of authority granted by that license in connection with a transaction involving the offer, sale, purchase, or exchange of a security representing an ownership interest in a pool of promissory notes secured directly or indirectly by liens on real property, which transaction is subject to any law of this state or the United States regulating the offer or sale of securities.

(b) Persons described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) are exempt from the provisions of subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 10131 or Section 10131.1 with respect to the collection of payments or performance of services for lenders or on notes of owners in connection with loans secured directly or collaterally by liens on real property:

(1) The person makes collections on 10 or less of those loans, or in amounts of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) or less in any calendar year.

(2) The person is a corporation licensed as an escrow agent under Division 6 (commencing with Section 17000) of the Financial Code and the payments are deposited and maintained in the escrow agent's trust account.

(3) An employee of a real estate broker who is acting as the agent of a person described in paragraph (4) of subdivision (b) of Section 10232.4.

For the purposes of this subdivision, performance of services does not include soliciting borrowers, lenders, or purchasers for, or negotiating, loans secured directly or collaterally by a lien on real property.

SEC. 3. Section 181 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

181 "Reorganization" means either:

(a) A merger pursuant to Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 1100) other than a short-form merger (a "merger reorganization").

(b) The acquisition by one corporation in exchange in whole or in part for its equity securities (or the equity securities of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation) of shares of another corporation if, immediately after the acquisition, the acquiring corporation has control of the other corporation (an "exchange reorganization").

(c) The acquisition by one corporation in exchange in whole or in part for its equity securities (or the equity securities of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation) or for its debt securities (or debt securities of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation) which are not adequately secured and which have a maturity date in excess of five years after the consummation of the reorganization, or both, of all or substantially all of the assets of another corporation (a "sale-of-assets reorganization").

SEC. 4. Section 183.5 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

183.5. "Share exchange tender offer" means any acquisition by one corporation in exchange in whole or in part for its equity securities (or the equity securities of a corporation which is in control of the acquiring corporation) of shares of another corporation, other than an exchange reorganization (subdivision (b) of Section 181).

SEC. 5. Section 903 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

903. (a) A proposed amendment must be approved by the outstanding shares (Section 152) of a class, whether or not such class is entitled to vote thereon by the provisions of the articles, if the amendment would:

(1) Increase or decrease the aggregate number of authorized shares of such class, other than an increase as provided in either subdivision (b) of Section 405 or subdivision (c) of Section 902.

(2) Effect an exchange, reclassification or cancellation of all or part of the shares of such class, other than a stock split.

(3) Effect an exchange, or create a right of exchange, of all or part of the shares of another class into the shares of such class.

(4) Change the rights, preferences, privileges or restrictions of the shares of such class.

(5) Create a new class of shares having rights, preferences or privileges prior to the shares of such class, or increase the rights, preferences or privileges or the number of authorized shares of any class having rights, preferences or privileges prior to the shares of such class.

(6) In the case of preferred shares, divide the shares of any class into series having different rights, preferences, privileges or restrictions or authorize the board to do so.

(7) Cancel or otherwise affect dividends on the shares of such class which have accrued but have not been paid.

(b) Different series of the same class shall not constitute different classes for the purpose of voting by classes except when a series is adversely affected by an amendment in a different manner than other shares of the same class.

(c) In addition to approval by a class as provided in subdivision (a), a proposed amendment must also be approved by the outstanding voting shares (Section 152).

SEC. 6. Section 1201.5 is added to the Corporations Code, to read:

1201.5. (a) The principal terms of a share-exchange tender offer (Section 183.5) shall be approved by the outstanding shares (Section

152) of each class of the corporation making the tender offer or whose shares are to be used in the tender offer, except as provided in subdivision (b) and except that (unless otherwise provided in the articles) no approval of any class of outstanding preferred shares of either corporation shall be required, if the rights, preferences, privileges, and restrictions granted to or imposed upon that class of shares remain unchanged. For the purpose of this subdivision, two classes of common shares differing only as to voting rights shall be considered as a single class of shares.

(b) No approval of the outstanding shares (Section 152) is required by subdivision (a) in the case of any corporation if the corporation, or its shareholders immediately before the tender offer, or both, shall own (immediately after the completion of the share exchange proposed in the tender offer) equity securities, (other than any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase the equity securities), of the corporation making the tender offer or of the corporation whose shares were used in the tender offer, possessing more than five-sixths of the voting power of either corporation. In making the determination of ownership by the shareholders of a corporation, immediately after the tender offer, of equity securities pursuant to the preceding sentence, equity securities which they owned immediately before the tender offer as shareholders of another party to the transaction shall be disregarded. For the purpose of this section only, the voting power of a corporation shall be calculated by assuming the conversion of all equity securities convertible (immediately or at some future time) into shares entitled to vote but not assuming the exercise of any warrant or right to subscribe to, or purchase, shares.

SEC. 7 Section 1203 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

1203. (a) If a tender offer, including a share exchange tender offer (Section 183.5), or a written proposal for approval of a reorganization subject to Section 1200 or for a sale of assets subject to subdivision (a) of Section 1001 is made to some or all of a corporation's shareholders by an interested party (herein referred to as an "Interested Party Proposal"), an affirmative opinion in writing as to the fairness of the consideration to the shareholders of that corporation shall be delivered as follows:

(1) If no shareholder approval or acceptance is required for the consummation of the transaction, the opinion shall be delivered to the corporation's board of directors not later than the time that consummation of the transaction is authorized and approved by the board of directors.

(2) If a tender offer is made to the corporation's shareholders, the opinion shall be delivered to the shareholders at the time that the tender offer is first made in writing to the shareholders However, if the tender offer is commenced by publication and tender offer materials are subsequently mailed or otherwise distributed to the shareholders, the opinion may be omitted in that publication if the opinion is included in the materials distributed to the shareholders.

(3) If a shareholders' meeting is to be held to vote on approval of the transaction, the opinion shall be delivered to the shareholders with the notice of the meeting (Section 601).

(4) If consents of all shareholders entitled to vote are solicited in writing (Section 603), the opinion shall be delivered at the same time as that solicitation.

(5) If the consents of all shareholders are not solicited in writing, the opinion shall be delivered to each shareholder whose consent is solicited prior to that shareholder's consent being given, and to all other shareholders at the time they are given the notice required by subdivision (b) of Section 603.

For purposes of this section, the term "interested party" means a person who is a party to the transaction and (A) directly or indirectly controls the corporation that is the subject of the tender offer or proposal, (B) is, or is directly or indirectly controlled by, an officer or director of the subject corporation, or (C) is an entity in which a material financial interest (subdivision (a) of Section 310) is held by any director or executive officer of the subject corporation. For purposes of the clause (C), "any executive officer" means the president, any vice president in charge of a principal business unit, division, or function such as sales, administration, research or development, or finance, and any other officer or other person who performs a policymaking function or has the same duties as those of a president or vice president. The opinion required by this subdivision shall be provided by a person who is not affiliated with the offeror and who, for compensation, engages in the business of advising others as to the value of properties, businesses, or securities. The fact that the opining person previously has provided services to the offeror or a related entity or is simultaneously engaged in providing advice or assistance with respect to the proposed transaction in a manner which makes its compensation contingent on the success of the proposed transaction shall not, for those reasons, be deemed to affiliate the opining person with the offeror. Nothing in this subdivision shall limit the applicability of the standards of review of the transaction in the event of a challenge thereto under Section 310 or subdivision (c) of Section 1312.

This subdivision shall not apply to an Interested Party Proposal if the corporation that is the subject thereof does not have shares held or record by 100 or more persons (determined as provided in Section 605), or if the transaction has been qualified under Section 25113 or 25121 and no order under Section 25140 or subdivision (a) of Section 25143 is in effect with respect to that qualification.

(b) If a tender of shares or a vote or written consent is being sought pursuant to an Interested Party Proposal and a later tender offer or written proposal for a reorganization subject to Section 1200 or sale of assets subject to subdivision (a) of Section 1001 that would require a vote or written consent of shareholders is made to the corporation or its shareholders (herein referred to as a "Later Proposal") by any other person at least 10 days prior to the date for acceptance of the tendered shares or the vote or notice of shareholder approval on the Interested Party Proposal, then each of the following shall apply:

(1) The shareholders shall be informed of the Later Proposal and any written material provided for this purpose by the later offeror shall be forwarded to the shareholders at that offeror's expense.

(2) The shareholders shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to withdraw any vote, consent, or proxy previously given before the vote or written consent on the Interested Party Proposal becomes effective, or a reasonable time to withdraw any tendered shares before the purchase of the shares pursuant to the Interested Party Proposal. For purposes of this subdivision, a delay of 10 days from the notice or publication of the Later Proposal shall be deemed to provide a reasonable opportunity or time to effect that withdrawal.

SEC. 8 It is the intent of the Legislature that the provisions contained in Sections 1, 2, and 2.5 of this act shall restore and clarify the basis for the practice by which both licensed real estate brokers and licensed securities broker-dealers may participate in transactions involving business opportunities without unnecessary duplicate licensing requirements.

The Legislature recognizes that licensed securities broker-dealers have customarily engaged in merger- and acquisition-related activities involving complex transactions of substantial value, typically in excess of seven million five hundred thousand dollars ($7,500,000). The Legislature intends to ensure that licensed securities broker-dealers not also be required to obtain a real estate broker's license when they engage in these activities traditionally and customarily engaged in prior to 1989. The Legislature does not intend to either increase or decrease the range of activities available to licensees.

The provisions contained in Sections 1, 2, and 2.5 of this act are intended to clarify existing law regarding licensing requirements, but shall not affect the rights and obligations of the parties determined in All Points Traders, Inc. v. Barrington Associates, 211 Cal. App. 3d 723.

SEC. 9. Section 2.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 10133.1 of the Business and Professions Code proposed by both this bill and SB 1204. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 1990, but this bill becomes operative first, (2) each bill amends Section 10133.1 of the Business and Professions Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after SB 1204, in which case Section 10133.1 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Section 2 of this bill, shall remain operative only until the operative date of SB 1204, at which time Section 2.5 of this bill shall become operative.

SEC. 10. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to clarify as soon as possible what law is applicable to securities dealers and securities brokers performing transactions involving business opportunities, and to clarify provisions of corporate law relating to exchange organizations and the amendment of articles of incorporation, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1117

An act to amend Sections 48267, 48902, and 49076 of the Education Code, and to amend Sections 601.4, 653.5, 725, and 777 of, to amend and repeal Section 654 of, and to add Sections 625.1, 625.2, 654.2, 654.3, 654.4, 729.2, 729.3, and 729.10 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(1) The problem of juvenile delinquency should be addressed at its inception rather than after it has progressed to serious criminality.

(2) The precursors of serious criminality by juveniles include incorrigibility, truancy, curfew, illiteracy, and alcohol and drug abuse. These precursors have been given little attention because the attention has been focused on those juveniles who are the most difficult to reform, the serious and habitual offenders.

(3) The young offender who exhibits the symptoms of future delinquency presents the most significant potential for rehabilitation, yet this young offender has been largely ignored. This approach is a disservice to the community, the parents, and most importantly, to our youth.

(b) In this regard, it is the intent of the Legislature to implement a program based on a different perspective and strategy toward juvenile delinquency which program is designed to reach our children before they become habitual criminals, and requires the intervention by the juvenile justice system at the earliest signs of drug abuse, gang affiliation, and other antisocial behavior. The program mandates parental involvement, drug and alcohol counseling, structured probation programs monitored for compliance, and early judicial intervention with delinquent youths. It seeks to promote the positive development of juveniles by emphasizing the enforcement of school attendance laws and the establishment of special education and socialization programs designed for the individual needs of the minor.

SEC. 2. Section 48267 of the Education Code is amended to read:

48267. Any pupil who has once been adjudged an habitual truant or habitually insubordinate or disorderly during attendance at school by the juvenile court of the county, or has been found to be a person described in Section 602 and as a condition of probation is required to attend a school program approved by a probation officer, who is reported as a truant from school one or more days or tardy on one or more days without valid excuse, in the same school year or in a succeeding year, or habitually insubordinate, or disorderly during attendance at school, shall be brought to the attention of the juvenile court and the pupil's probation or parole officer within 10 days of the reported violation.

Notwithstanding Section 827 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, written notice that a minor enrolled in a public school in grades 7 to 12, inclusive, has been found by a court to be a person described in Section 602 and as a condition of probation is required to attend a school program approved by a probation officer shall be provided by the juvenile court, within seven days of the entry of the dispositional order, to the superintendent of the school district of attendance, which information shall be expeditiously transmitted to the principal or to one person designated by the principal of the school that the minor is attending. The principal or the principal's designee shall not disclose this information to any other person except as otherwise required by law.

SEC. 3. Section 48902 of the Education Code is amended to read:

48902. (a) The principal of a school or the principal's designee shall, prior to the suspension or expulsion of any pupil, notify the appropriate law enforcement authorities of the county or city in which the school is situated, of any acts of the student which may violate Section 245 of the Penal Code.

(b) The principal of a school or the principal's designee may, prior to suspension or expulsion of any pupil, notify the appropriate law enforcement authority of the county or the school district in which the school is situated of any acts of the students which may violate subdivision (c) or (d) of Section 48900 of the Education Code.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), the principal of a school or the principal's designee shall notify the appropriate law enforcement authorities of the county or city in which the school is located of any acts of a student that may involve the possession or sale of narcotics or of a controlled substance or a violation of Section 626.9 or 626.10 of the Penal Code.

(d) A principal, the principal's designee, or any other person reporting a known or suspected act described in subdivision (a) or (b) is not civilly or criminally liable as a result of any report authorized by this article unless it can be proven that a false report was made and that the person knew the report was false or the report was made with reckless disregard for the truth or falsity of the report.

SEC. 4. Section 49076 of the Education Code is amended to read:

49076. A school district is not authorized to permit access to pupil records to any person without written parental consent or under judicial order except that:

(a) Access to those particular records relevant to the legitimate educational interests of the requester shall be permitted to the following:

(1) School officials and employees of the district, members of a school attendance review board appointed pursuant to Section 48321, and any volunteer aide, 18 years of age or older, who has been investigated, selected, and trained by a school attendance review board for the purpose of providing followup services to students referred to the school attendance review board, provided that that person has a legitimate educational interest to inspect a record.

(2) Officials and employees of other public schools or school systems, including local, county, or state correctional facilities where educational programs leading to high school graduation are provided, where the pupil intends to or is directed to enroll, subject to the rights of parents as provided in Section 49068.

(3) Authorized representatives of the Comptroller General of the United States, the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and administrative head of an education agency, state education officials, or their respective designees, or the United States Office of Civil Rights, where the information is necessary to audit or evaluate a state or federally supported education program or pursuant to a federal or state law, provided that except when collection of personally identifiable information is specifically authorized by federal law, any data collected by those officials shall be protected in a manner which will not permit the personal identification of students or their parents by other than those officials, and any personally identifiable data shall be destroyed when no longer needed for the audit, evaluation, and enforcement of federal legal requirements.

(4) Other state and local officials to the extent that information is specifically required to be reported pursuant to state law adopted prior to November 19, 1974.

(5) Parents of a pupil 18 years of age or older who is a dependent as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(6) A pupil 16 years of age or older or having completed the 10th grade who requests access.

(7) Any district attorney who is participating in or conducting a truancy mediation program pursuant to Section 48263.5 or Section 601.3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or participating in the presentation of evidence in a truancy petition pursuant to Section 681 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(8) A prosecuting agency for consideration against a parent or guardian for failure to comply with the Compulsory Education Law (Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 48200) of Part 27 of Division 4 of Title 2) or with Compulsory Continuation Education (Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 48400) of Part 27 of Division 4 of Title 2).

(9) Any probation officer or district attorney for the purposes of conducting a criminal investigation or an investigation in regards to declaring a person a ward of the court or involving a violation of a condition of probation.

(b) School districts may release information from pupil records to the following:

(1) Appropriate persons in connection with an emergency if the knowledge of the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of a student or other persons.

(2) Agencies or organizations in connection with a student's application for, or receipt of, financial aid. However, information permitting the personal identification of students or their parents may be disclosed only as may be necessary for purposes as to determine the eligibility of the pupil for financial aid to determine the amount of the financial aid, to determine the conditions which will be imposed regarding the financial aid, or to enforce the terms or conditions of the financial aid.

(3) Accrediting associations in order to carry out their accrediting functions.

(4) Organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, educational agencies or institutions for the purpose of developing, validating, or administering predictive tests, administering student aid programs, and improving instruction, if the studies are conducted in such a manner as will not permit the personal identification of students or their parents by persons other than representatives of the organizations and the information will be destroyed when no longer needed for the purpose for which it is conducted.

(5) Officials and employees of private schools or school systems where the pupil is enrolled or intends to enroll, subject to the rights of parents as provided in Section 49068. This information shall be in addition to the pupil's permanent record transferred pursuant to Section 49068.

No person, persons, agency, or organization permitted access to pupil records pursuant to this section shall permit access to any information obtained from those records by any other person, persons, agency, or organization without the written consent of the pupil's parent. However, this paragraph shall not be construed as to require prior parental consent when information obtained pursuant to this section is shared with other persons within the educational institution, agency, or organization obtaining access, so long as those persons have a legitimate interest in the information.

SEC. 5. Section 601.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

601.4. (a) The juvenile court judge may be assigned to sit as a municipal court judge to hear any complaint alleging that a parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of a minor has violated Section 48293 of the Education Code. The jurisdiction of the juvenile court granted by this section shall not be exclusive and the charge may be prosecuted instead in a municipal or justice court. However, upon motion, that action shall be transferred to the juvenile court.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 737 of the Penal Code, a violation of Section 48293 of the Education Code may be prosecuted pursuant to subdivision (a), by written complaint filed in the same manner as an infraction may be prosecuted in a municipal or justice court. The juvenile court judge, sitting as a municipal court judge, may coordinate the action involving the minor with any action involving the parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of the minor. Both matters may be heard and decided at the same time unless the parent, guardian, other person having control or charge of the minor, or any member of the press or public objects to closed hearing of the proceedings charging violation of Section 48293 of the Education Code.

SEC. 6. Section 625.1 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

625.1. Any minor who is taken into temporary custody pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 625, when the peace officer has reasonable cause for believing the minor is a person described in Section 602, or pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 625, may be requested to submit to voluntary chemical testing of his or her urine for the purpose of determining the presence of alcohol or illegal drugs. The peace officer shall inform the minor that the chemical test is voluntary. The results of this test may be considered by the court in determining the disposition of the minor pursuant to Section 706 or 777. Unless otherwise provided by law, the results of such a test shall not be the basis of a petition filed by the prosecuting attorney to declare the minor a person described in Section 602, nor shall it be the basis for such a finding by a court pursuant to Section 702.

SEC. 7. Section 625.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

625.2. (a) Before administering the chemical test pursuant to Section 625.1, the peace officer shall give the following admonition: "I am asking you to take a voluntary urine test to test for the presence of drugs or alcohol in your body. You have the right to refuse to take this test. If you do take the test, it cannot be used as the basis for filing any additional charges against you. It can be used by a court for the purpose of sentencing. You have the right to telephone your parent or guardian before you decide whether or not to take this test."

(b) The admonition in subdivision (a) shall not be given when a chemical test is administered pursuant to Section 23157 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 8. Section 653.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

653.5. (a) Whenever any person applies to the probation officer to commence proceedings in the juvenile court, the application shall be in the form of an affidavit alleging that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a minor within the provisions of Section 602, or that a minor committed an offense described in Section 602 within the county, and setting forth facts in support thereof. The probation officer shall immediately make any investigation he or she deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court shall be commenced.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if the probation officer determines that proceedings pursuant to Section 650 should be commenced to declare a person to be a ward of the juvenile court on the basis that he or she is a person described in Section 602, the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken to the prosecuting attorney.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken within 48 hours to the prosecuting attorney in all of the following cases:

(1) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for any violation of an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707.

(2) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor is under 16 years of age at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a second felony referral to the probation officer.

(3) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor was 16 years of age or older at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a felony referral to the probation officer.

(4) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for the sale or possession for sale of a controlled substance as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(5) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 11350 or 11377 of the Health and Safety Code where the violation takes place at a public or private elementary, vocational, junior high school, or high school, or a violation of Section 245.5, 626.9, or 626.10 of the Penal Code.

(6) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 186.22 of the Penal Code.

(7) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has previously been placed in a program of informal probation pursuant to Section 654.

(8) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has committed an offense in which the restitution owed to the victim exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000). For purposes of this paragraph, the definition of "victim" in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 729.6 and "restitution" in subdivision (d) of Section 729.6 shall apply.

Except for the offenses listed in paragraph (5), the provisions of subdivision (c) shall not apply to a narcotics and drug offense set forth in Section 1000 of the Penal Code.

The prosecuting attorney shall within his or her discretionary power institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 and Section 26500 of the Government Code. However, if it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred, that the offense for which the minor was referred should be charged as a misdemeanor, or that the minor may benefit from a program of informal supervision, he or she shall refer the matter to the probation officer for whatever action the probation officer may deem appropriate.

(d) In all matters where the minor is not in custody and is already a ward of the court or a probationer under Section 602, the prosecuting attorney, within five judicial days of receipt of the affidavit from the probation officer, shall institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 of this code and Section 26500 of the Government Code, unless it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred or that the offense for which the minor was referred requires additional substantiating information, in which case he or she shall immediately notify the probation officer of what further action he or she is taking.

SEC. 8.1. Section 653.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

653.5. (a) Whenever any person applies to the probation officer to commence proceedings in the juvenile court, the application shall be in the form of an affidavit alleging that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a minor within the provisions of Section 602, or that a minor committed an offense described in Section 602 within the county, and setting forth facts in support thereof. The probation officer shall immediately make any investigation he or she deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court shall be commenced.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if the probation officer determines that proceedings pursuant to Section 650 should be commenced to declare a person to be a ward of the juvenile court on the basis that he or she is a person described in Section 602, the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken to the prosecuting attorney.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken within 48 hours to the prosecuting attorney in all of the following cases:

(1) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for any violation of an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707.

(2) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor is under 16 years of age at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a second felony referral to the probation officer.

(3) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor was 16 years of age or older at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a felony referral to the probation officer.

(4) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for the sale or possession for sale of a controlled substance as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(5) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 11350 or 11377 of the Health and Safety Code where the violation takes place at a public or private elementary, vocational, junior high school, or high school, or a violation of Section 245.5, 626.9, or 626.10 of the Penal Code.

(6) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 186.22 of the Penal Code.

(7) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has previously been placed in a program of informal probation pursuant to Section 654.

(8) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has committed an offense in which the restitution owed to the victim exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000). For purposes of this paragraph, the definition of "victim" in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 729.6 and "restitution" in subdivision (d) of Section 729.6 shall apply.

(9) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor was 14 years of age or older at the date of the offense and the offense for which the referral was made constitutes a violation of Section 487h of the Penal Code or Section 10851 of the Vehicle Code.

Except for the offenses listed in paragraph (5), the provisions of subdivision (c) shall not apply to a narcotics and drug offense set forth in Section 1000 of the Penal Code.

The prosecuting attorney shall within his or her discretionary power institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 and Section 26500 of the Government Code. However, if it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred, that the offense for which the minor was referred should be charged as a misdemeanor, or that the minor may benefit from a program of informal supervision, he or she shall refer the matter to the probation officer for whatever action the probation officer may deem appropriate.

(d) In all matters where the minor is not in custody and is already a ward of the court or a probationer under Section 602, the prosecuting attorney, within five judicial days of receipt of the affidavit from the probation officer, shall institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 of this code and Section 26500 of the Government Code, unless it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred or that the offense for which the minor was referred requires additional substantiating information, in which case he or she shall immediately notify the probation officer of what further action he or she is taking.

(e) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1993, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 8.3. Section 653.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

653.5. (a) Whenever any person applies to the probation officer to commence proceedings in the juvenile court, the application shall be in the form of an affidavit alleging that there was or is within the county, or residing therein, a minor within the provisions of Section 602, or that a minor committed an offense described in Section 602 within the county, and setting forth facts in support thereof. The probation officer shall immediately make any investigation he or she deems necessary to determine whether proceedings in the juvenile court shall be commenced.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), if the probation officer determines that proceedings pursuant to Section 650 should be commenced to declare a person to be a ward of the juvenile court on the basis that he or she is a person described in Section 602, the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken to the prosecuting attorney.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b), the probation officer shall cause the affidavit to be taken within 48 hours to the prosecuting attorney in all of the following cases:

(1) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for any violation of an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707.

(2) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor is under 16 years of age at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a second felony referral to the probation officer

(3) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor was 16 years of age or older at the date of the offense and that the offense constitutes a felony referral to the probation officer.

(4) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for the sale or possession for sale of a controlled substance as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(5) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 11350 or 11377 of the Health and Safety Code where the violation takes place at a public or private elementary, vocational, junior high school, or high school, or a violation of Section 245.5, 626.9, or 626.10 of the Penal Code.

(6) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has been referred to the probation officer for a violation of Section 186.22 of the Penal Code.

(7) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has previously been placed in a program of informal probation pursuant to Section 654.

(8) If it appears to the probation officer that the minor has committed an offense in which the restitution owed to the victim exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000). For purposes of this paragraph, the definition of "victim" in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 729.6 and "restitution" in subdivision (d) of Section 729.6 shall apply.

Except for offenses listed in paragraph (5), the provisions of subdivision (c) shall not apply to a narcotics and drug offense set forth in Section 1000 of the Penal Code.

The prosecuting attorney shall within his or her discretionary power institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 and Section 26500 of the Government Code. However, if it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred, that the offense for which the minor was referred should be charged as a misdemeanor, or that the minor may benefit from a program of informal supervision, he or she shall refer the matter to the probation officer for whatever action the probation officer may deem appropriate.

(d) In all matters where the minor is not in custody and is already a ward of the court or a probationer under Section 602, the prosecuting attorney, within five judicial days of receipt of the affidavit from the probation officer, shall institute proceedings in accordance with his or her role as public prosecutor pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 650 of this code and Section 26500 of the Government Code, unless it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the affidavit was not properly referred or that the offense for which the minor was referred requires additional substantiating information, in which case he or she shall immediately notify the probation officer of what further action he or she is taking.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1993, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1993, changes that date.

SEC. 9. Section 654 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Chapter 1412 of the Statutes of 1984, is repealed

SEC. 10. Section 654 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, as amended by Chapter 1635 of the Statutes of 1984, is amended to read:

654. In any case in which a probation officer, after investigation of an application for a petition or any other investigation he or she is authorized to make concludes that a minor is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court or will probably soon be within that jurisdiction, the probation officer may, in lieu of filing a petition to declare a minor a dependent child of the court or a minor or a ward of the court under Section 601 or requesting that a petition be filed by the prosecuting attorney to declare a minor a ward of the court under Section 602 and with consent of the minor and the minor's parent or guardian, delineate specific programs of supervision for the minor, for not to exceed six months, and attempt thereby to adjust the situation which brings the minor within the jurisdiction of the court or creates the probability that the minor will soon be within that jurisdiction. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the probation officer from filing a petition or requesting the prosecuting attorney to file a petition at any time within the six-month period or a 90-day period thereafter. If the probation officer determines that the minor has not involved himself or herself in the specific programs within 60 days, the probation officer shall immediately file a petition or request that a petition be filed by the prosecuting attorney. However, when in the judgment of the probation officer the interest of the minor and the community can be protected, the probation officer shall make a diligent effort to proceed under this section.

The program of supervision of the minor undertaken pursuant to this section may call for the minor to obtain care and treatment for the misuse of or addiction to controlled substances from a county mental health service or other appropriate community agency.

The program of supervision shall require the parents or guardians of the minor to participate with the minor in counseling or education programs, including, but not limited to, parent education and parenting programs operated by community colleges, school districts, or other appropriate agencies designated by the court if the program of supervision is pursuant to the procedure prescribed in Section 654.2.

Further, this section shall authorize the probation officer with consent of the minor and the minor's parent or guardian to provide the following services in lieu of filing a petition:

(a) Maintain and operate sheltered-care facilities, or contract with private or public agencies to provide these services. The placement shall be limited to a maximum of 90 days. Counseling services shall be extended to the sheltered minor and his or her family during this period of diversion services. The minor and his or her parents may be required to make full or partial reimbursement for the services rendered the minor and his or her family during the diversion process. Referrals for sheltered-care diversion may be made by the minor, his or her family, schools, any law enforcement agency, or any other private or public social service agency.

(b) Maintain and operate crisis resolution homes, or contract with private or public agencies offering these services. Residence at these facilities shall be limited to 20 days during which period individual and family counseling shall be extended the minor and his or her family. Failure to resolve the crisis within the 20-day period may result in the minor's referral to a sheltered-care facility for a period not to exceed 90 days. Referrals shall be accepted from the minor, his or her family, schools, law enforcement or any other private or public social service agency. The minor, his or her parents, or both, may be required to reimburse the county for the cost of services rendered at a rate to be determined by the county board of supervisors.

(c) Maintain and operate counseling and educational centers, or contract with private and public agencies, societies, or corporations whose purpose is to provide vocational training or skills. The centers may be operated separately or in conjunction with crisis resolution homes to be operated by the probation officer. The probation officer shall be authorized to make referrals to the appropriate existing private or public agencies offering similar services when available.

At the conclusion of the program of supervision undertaken pursuant to this section, the probation officer shall prepare and maintain a followup report of the actual program measures taken.

SEC. 11. Section 654.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

654.2. (a) If a petition has been filed by the prosecuting attorney to declare a minor a ward of the court under Section 602, the court may, without adjudging the minor a ward of the court and with the consent of the minor and the minor's parents or guardian, continue any hearing on a petition for six months and order the minor to participate in a program of supervision as set forth in Section 654. Fifteen days prior to the conclusion of the program of supervision undertaken pursuant to this section, the probation officer shall submit to the court a followup report of the minor's participation in the program. The minor and the minor's parents or guardian shall be ordered to appear at the conclusion of the six-month period. If the minor successfully completes the program of supervision, the court shall order the petition be dismissed. If the minor has not successfully completed the program of supervision, proceedings on the petition shall proceed.

(b) If the minor is eligible for Section 654 supervision, and the probation officer believes the minor would benefit from a program of supervision pursuant to this section, the probation officer may, in referring the affidavit described in Section 653.5 to the prosecuting attorney, recommend informal supervision as provided in this section.

SEC. 12. Section 654.3 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

654.3. No minor shall be eligible for the program of supervision set forth in Section 654 or 654.2 in the following cases, except in an unusual case where the interests of justice would best be served and the court specifies on the record the reasons for its decision:

(a) A petition alleges that the minor has violated an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707.

(b) A petition alleges that the minor has sold or possessed for sale a controlled substance as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code.

(c) A petition alleges that the minor has violated Section 11350 or 11377 of the Health and Safety Code where the violation takes place at a public or private elementary, vocational, junior high school, or high school, or a violation of Section 245.5, 626.9, or 626.10 of the Penal Code.

(d) A petition alleges that the minor has violated Section 186.22 of the Penal Code.

(e) The minor has previously participated in a program of supervision pursuant to Section 654.

(f) The minor has previously been adjudged a ward of the court pursuant to Section 602.

(g) A petition alleges that the minor has violated an offense in which the restitution owed to the victim exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000). For purposes of this paragraph, the definition of "victim" in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 729.6 and "restitution" in subdivision (d) of Section 729.6 shall apply.

SEC. 13. Section 654.4 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

654.4. Any minor who is placed in a program of supervision set forth in Section 654 or 654.2 for a violation of an offense involving the unlawful possession, use, sale, or other furnishing of a controlled substance, as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, or for violating subdivision (f) of Section 647 of the Penal Code or Section 23140 or 23152 of the Vehicle Code, shall be required to participate in and successfully complete an alcohol or drug education program from a county mental health agency or other appropriate community program.

SEC. 14. Section 725 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

725. After receiving and considering the evidence on the proper disposition of the case, the court may enter judgment as follows:

(a) If the court has found that the minor is a person described by Section 601 or 602, by reason of the commission of an offense other than any of the offenses set forth in Section 654.3, it may, without adjudging the minor a ward of the court, place the minor on probation, under the supervision of the probation officer, for a period not to exceed six months. The minor's probation shall include the conditions required in Section 729.2 except in any case in which the court makes a finding and states on the record its reasons that any of those conditions would be inappropriate. If the offense involved the unlawful possession, use, or furnishing of a controlled substance, as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, a violation of subdivision (f) of Section 647 of the Penal Code, or a violation of Section 25662 of the Business and Professions Code, the minor's probation shall include the conditions required by Section 729.10 If the minor fails to comply with the conditions of probation imposed, the court may order and adjudge the minor to be a ward of the court.

(b) If the court has found that the minor is a person described by Section 601 or 602, it may order and adjudge the minor to be a ward of the court.

SEC. 15. Section 729.2 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

729.2. If a minor is found to be a person described in Section 601 or 602 and the court does not remove the minor from the physical custody of the parent or guardian, the court as a condition of probation, except in any case in which the court makes a finding and states on the record its reasons that that condition would be inappropriate, shall:

(a) Require the minor to attend a school program approved by the probation officer without absence.

(b) Require the parents or guardian of the minor to participate with the minor in a counseling or education program, including, but not limited to, parent education and parenting programs operated by community colleges, school districts, or other appropriate agencies designated by the court or the probation department, unless the minor has been declared a dependent child of the court pursuant to Section 300 or a petition to declare the minor a dependent child of the court pursuant to Section 300 is pending.

(c) Require the minor to be at his or her legal residence between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. unless the minor is accompanied by his or her parent or parents, legal guardian or other adult person having the legal care or custody of the minor.

SEC. 16. Section 729.3 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

729.3. If a minor is found to be a person described in Section 601 or 602 and the court does not remove the minor from the physical custody of his or her parent or guardian, the court, as a condition of probation, may require the minor to submit to urine testing upon the request of a peace officer or probation officer for the purpose of determining the presence of alcohol or drugs.

SEC. 17. Section 729.10 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read.

729.10. (a) Whenever, in any county specified in subdivision (b), a judge of a juvenile court or referee of a juvenile court finds a minor to be a person described in Section 602 by reason of the commission of an offense involving the unlawful possession, use, sale, or other furnishing of a controlled substance, as defined in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 11053) of Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, or for violating subdivision (f) of Section 647 of the Penal Code, or Section 25662 of the Business and Professions Code, the minor shall be required to participate in, and successfully complete, an alcohol or drug education program, or both of those programs, as designated by the court. The expense of the person's attendance in the program shall be paid by the person's parents or guardian so long as the person is under the age of 18 years, and shall be paid by the person thereafter. The court shall consider the financial capacity of the person, or the person's parents or guardian, to pay the expense of the person's attendance in the program, and is authorized to waive all or part of the payment of the fee upon a finding of insufficient financial capacity to incur the cost of the fee. However, in approving the program, each county shall require the program to provide for the payment of the fee for the program in installments by any person who cannot afford to pay the full fee at the commencement of the program because of the person's income, earning capacity, or financial resources, and shall require the program to provide for the waiver of the fee for any person who is indigent, as determined by criteria for indigency established by the board of supervisors. Whenever it can be done without substantial additional cost, each county shall require that the program be provided for juveniles at a separate location from, or at a different time of day than, alcohol and drug education programs for adults.

(b) This section applies only in those counties that have one or more alcohol or drug education programs certified by the county alcohol program administrator and approved by the board of supervisors.

SEC. 18. Section 777 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

777. An order changing or modifying a previous order by removing a minor from the physical custody of a parent, guardian, relative, or friend and directing placement in a foster home, or commitment to a private institution or commitment to a county institution, or an order changing or modifying a previous order by directing commitment to the Youth Authority shall be made only after noticed hearing upon a supplemental petition.

(a) The supplemental petition shall be filed as follows:

(1) By the probation officer where a minor has been declared a ward of the court or a probationer under Section 601 in the original matter and shall contain a concise statement of facts sufficient to support the conclusion that the previous disposition has not been effective in the rehabilitation or protection of the minor.

(2) By the probation officer or the prosecuting attorney, after consulting with the probation officer, if the minor is a court ward or probationer under Section 602 in the original matter and the supplemental petition alleges a violation of a condition of probation not amounting to a crime. The petition shall contain a concise statement of facts sufficient to support the conclusion that the previous disposition has not been effective in the rehabilitation or protection of the minor. The petition shall be filed by the prosecuting attorney, after consulting with the probation officer, if a minor has been declared a ward or probationer under Section 602 in the original matter and the petition alleges a violation of a condition of probation amounting to a crime. The petition shall contain a concise statement of facts sufficient to support the conclusion that the previous disposition has not been effective in the rehabilitation or protection of the minor.

(3) Where the probation officer is the petitioner pursuant to paragraph (2), if prior to the attachment of jeopardy at the time of the jurisdictional hearing it appears to the prosecuting attorney that the minor is not a person described by subdivision (a) or that the supplemental petition was not properly charged, the prosecuting attorney may make a motion to dismiss the supplemental petition and may request that the matter be referred to the probation officer for whatever action the prosecuting attorney or probation officer may deem appropriate.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (a), if the petition alleges a violation of a condition of probation and is for the commitment of a minor to a county juvenile institution for a period of 30 days or less, or for a less restrictive disposition, it is not necessary to allege and prove that the previous disposition has not been effective in the rehabilitation or protection of the minor. However, before any period of commitment in excess of 15 days is ordered, the court shall determine and consider the effect that an extended commitment period would have on the minor's schooling, including possible loss of credits, and on any current employment of the minor. In order to make such a commitment the court must, however, find that the commitment is in the best interest of the minor. The provisions of this subdivision may not be utilized more than twice during the time the minor is a ward of the court.

(c) Upon the filing of a supplemental petition, the clerk of the juvenile court shall immediately set the same for hearing within 30 days, and the probation officer shall cause notice of it to be served upon the persons and in the manner prescribed by Sections 658 and 660.

(d) An order for the detention of the minor pending adjudication of the petition may be made only after a hearing is conducted pursuant to Article 15 (commencing with Section 625) of this chapter.

(e) The filing of a supplemental petition and the hearing thereon shall not be required for the commitment of a minor to a county institution for a period of 30 days or less pursuant to an original or a previous order imposing a specified time in custody and staying the enforcement of the order subject to subsequent violation of a condition or conditions of probation, provided that in order to make the commitment, the court finds at a hearing that the minor has violated a condition of probation.

SEC. 19. Sections 8.1 and 8.3 of this bill incorporate amendments to Section 653.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code proposed by both this bill and AB 332. They shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) this bill amends Section 653.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, (3) AB 332 amends, repeals, and adds Section 653.5 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, and (4) this bill is enacted after AB 332, in which case Section 8 of this bill shall not become operative.

SEC. 20. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1118

An act to add Sections 219 and 462.1 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to sudden infant death syndrome.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) is the leading cause of death in children under the age of one, striking one out of every 500 infants, with a death toll in California now approaching 800 annually. The Legislature further finds and declares that the current level of state SIDS support and training services is insufficient to adequately train local health department staff, coroners, coroner's investigators, child care providers, peace officers and other emergency responders, and hospital emergency room staff to assure SIDS awareness and sensitivity by those who must interact with parents and caregivers following a SIDS death.

SEC. 2. Section 219 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

219. (a) As used in this section, "SIDS" means sudden infant death syndrome.

(b) The state department shall contract with a person to provide regular and ongoing SIDS education and training programs for those who interact with parents and caregivers following a death from SIDS, including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) County public health nurses.

(2) Coroners and coroners' investigators.

(3) Forensic pathologists.

(4) Emergency room physicians and surgeons, nurses, and other staff.

(5) Licensed day care providers.

(6) SIDS parent groups.

(7) Medical examiners.

(c) The state department shall contract with a person to produce, update, and distribute literature on SIDS for specific target populations of persons who interact with parents and caregivers following a death from SIDS, including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) Clergy.
(2) Fire and police departments.
(3) Emergency medical service staff.
(4) Morticians.
(5) Funeral directors.
(6) SIDS parent groups.

(d) The requirements of this section shall be subject to the annual Budget Act and shall be operative only to the extent funds are appropriated for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 3. Section 462.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

462.1. The state department shall monitor, or contract with a person to monitor, whether the county health officer or his or her designated agent is performing the duties required by Section 462 and whether they are being performed within the time frames specified in Section 462.

CHAPTER 1119

An act to add Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 1871) to Part 2 of Division 1 of, to repeal Sections 556 and 556.1 of, and to repeal Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 1878) of Part 2 of Division 1 of, and Article 5 (commencing with Section 12990) and Article 6 (commencing with Section 13000) of Chapter 2 of Division 3 of, the Insurance Code, and to repeal Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 10900) of Division 4 of the Vehicle Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 556 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 556.1 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 1871) is added to Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, to read:

CHAPTER 12. THE INSURANCE FRAUDS PREVENTION ACT

Article 1. False and Fraudulent Claims

1871. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) That the business of insurance involves many transactions which have potential for abuse and illegal activities. There are numerous law enforcement agencies on the state and local levels charged with the responsibility for investigating and prosecuting fraudulent activity. This chapter is intended to permit the full utilization of the expertise of the commissioner and the department so that they may more effectively investigate and discover insurance frauds, halt fraudulent activities, and assist and receive assistance from federal and state, local, and administrative law enforcement agencies in prosecution of persons who are parties in insurance frauds.

(b) That insurance fraud is a particular problem for automobile policyholders; fraudulent activities account for 15 to 20 percent of all auto insurance payments. Automobile insurance fraud is the biggest and fastest growing segment of insurance fraud and contributes substantially to the high cost of automobile insurance with particular significance in urban areas.

(c) That prevention of automobile insurance fraud will significantly reduce the incidence of severity and automobile insurance claim payments and will therefore produce a commensurate reduction in automobile insurance premiums.

1871.1. (a) It is unlawful to do any of the following:

(1) Knowingly present or cause to be presented any false or fraudulent claim for the payment of a loss, including payment of a loss under a contract of insurance.

(2) Knowingly present multiple claims for the same loss or injury, including presentation of multiple claims to more than one insurer, with an intent to defraud

(3) Knowingly cause or participate in a vehicular collision, or any other vehicular accident, for the purpose of presenting any false or fraudulent claim.

(4) Knowingly present a false or fraudulent claim for the payments of a loss for theft, destruction, damage, or conversion of a motor vehicle, a motor vehicle part, or contents of a motor vehicle.

(5) Knowingly prepare, make, or subscribe any writing, with intent to present or use the same, or to allow it to be presented in support of any false or fraudulent claim.

(6) Knowingly assist, abet, solicit, or conspire with (A) any person who knowingly presents any false or fraudulent claim for the payment of a loss, including payment of a loss under a contract of insurance; (B) any person who knowingly presents multiple claims for the same loss or injury, including presentation of multiple claims to more than one insurer, with an intent to defraud; (C) any person who knowingly causes or participates in a vehicular collision, or any other vehicular accident, for the purpose of presenting any false or fraudulent claim; and (D) any person who knowingly prepares, makes, or subscribes any writing, with the intent to present or use the same, or to allow it to be presented in support on any such claim.

(b) Every person who violates any provision of this section is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison, for two, three, or five years, or by a fine not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), or by both, unless the value of the fraud exceeds fifty thousand dollars

($50,000), in which event the fine may not exceed the value of the fraud.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of a sentence be suspended for, any adult person convicted of violations of this section who has been previously convicted of violations of this section as an adult under charges separately brought and tried two or more times. The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under this subdivision shall be alleged in the information or indictment, and either admitted by the defendant in an open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

Except where the existence of such fact was not admitted or found to be true or the court finds that a prior conviction was invalid, the court shall not strike or dismiss any prior convictions alleged in the information or indictment.

This subdivision does not prohibit the adjournment of criminal proceedings pursuant to Division 3 (commencing with Section 3000) or Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(d) Any person who violates subdivision (a) and who has a prior conviction of the offense set forth in that subdivision or in Section 548 of the Penal Code, shall receive a two-year enhancement for each prior conviction in addition to the sentence provided in subdivision (b). The existence of any fact which would subject a person to a penalty enhancement shall be alleged in the information or indictment and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

1871.2. Any insurer who, in connection with any insurance contract or provision of contract described in Section 108, prints, reproduces, or furnishes a form to any person upon which that person gives notice to the insurer or makes claim against it by reason of accident, injury, death, or other noticed or claimed loss, or on a rider attached thereto, shall cause to be printed or displayed in comparative prominence with other content the statement: "Any person who knowingly presents false or fraudulent claim for the payment of a loss is guilty of a crime and may be subject to fines and confinement in state prison." This statement shall be preceded by the words: "For your protection California law requires the following to appear on this form" or other explanatory words of similar meaning.

Article 2. Bureau of Fraudulent Claims

1872. There is created within the department a Bureau of Fraudulent Claims to enforce the provisions of Section 1871.1 and to administer the provisions of Article 3 (commencing with Section 1873).

1872.1. (a) There is created within the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims an advisory committee on automobile insurance fraud prevention. The committee shall be composed of a representative from the Department of Justice, the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Division of Investigation of the Department of Consumer Affairs, the Department of the California Highway Patrol, the Bureau of Automotive Repair, the Board of Medical Quality Assurance, the California State Bar, and two representatives from local law enforcement agencies, one of whom shall be a prosecutor.

(b) The commissioner shall select representatives from local law enforcement agencies from names submitted from local law enforcement agencies and they shall serve at the pleasure of the commissioner. Representatives from other agencies shall be selected by the agencies represented.

(c) The Chief of the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall serve as a member of the advisory committee and shall serve as its chair. The chair shall conduct quarterly meetings of the committee and at such other times as he or she deems appropriate.

(d) The purpose and goals of the advisory committee are the following:

(1) Recommend to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims and other appropriate public agencies and private sector entities ways to coordinate the prosecution of fraudulent automobile claim activities and ways to prevent automobile insurance fraud.

(2) Provide assistance to the bureau towards implementing the goal of reducing the frequency and severity of fraudulent automobile insurance claims (adjusted for population growth and inflation) of 20 percent in urban areas and 10 percent in rural areas of the state within a 24-month period from the effective date of this chapter by utilizing resources set forth in Section 1872.8.

(3) Make recommendations for inclusion in the bureau's annual report required by Section 1872.9.

1872.2. For purposes of this article, "insurer" means any person who undertakes to indemnify another against loss, damage, or liability arising from a contingent or unknown event, including reciprocals and interinsurance exchanges.

1872.3. (a) If by its own inquiries or as a result of complaints, the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims has reason to believe that a person has engaged in, or is engaging in, an act or practice that violates Section 1871.1, the commissioner in his or her discretion (1) may make those public or private investigations within or outside of this state that he or she deems necessary to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate any provision of Section 1871.1, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter, and (2) may publish information concerning any violation of this chapter.

(b) For purposes of any investigation under this section, the commissioner or any officer designated by the commissioner may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records that the commissioner deems relevant or material to the inquiry, as provided by Section 12924

(c) If any matter that the commissioner seeks to obtain by request is located outside the state, the person so requested may make it available to the commissioner or his or her representative to be examined at the place where it is located. The commissioner may designate representatives, including officials of the state in which the matter is located, to inspect the matter on his or her behalf, and he or she may respond to similar requests from officials of other states

(d) Except as provided in subdivision (e), the department's papers, documents, reports, or evidence relative to the subject of an investigation under this section shall not be subject to public inspection for so long a period as the commissioner deems reasonably necessary to complete the investigation, to protect the person investigated from unwarranted injury, or to serve the public interest. Furthermore, those papers, documents, reports, or evidence shall not be subject to subpoena or subpoena duces tecum until opened for public inspection by the commissioner, unless the commissioner otherwise consents or, after notice to the commissioner and a hearing, the superior court determines that the public interest and any ongoing investigation by the commissioner would not be unnecessarily jeopardized by compliance with the subpoena duces tecum.

(e) The Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall furnish all papers, documents, reports, complaints, or other facts or evidence to any police, sheriff, or other law enforcement agency, when so requested, and shall assist and cooperate with those law enforcement agencies.

1872.4. (a) Any company licensed to write insurance in this state that believes that a fraudulent claim is being made shall, within 60 days after determination by the insurer that the claim appears to be a fraudulent claim, send to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims, on a form prescribed by the department, the information requested by the form and any additional information relative to the factual circumstances of the claim and the parties claiming loss or damages that the commissioner may require. The Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall review each report and undertake further investigation it deems necessary and proper to determine the validity of the allegations. Whenever the commissioner is satisfied that fraud, deceit, or intentional misrepresentation of any kind has been committed in the submission of the claim, he or she shall report the violations of law to the insurer, to the appropriate licensing agency, and to the district attorney of the county in which the offenses were committed, as provided by Sections 12928 and 12930. If the commissioner is satisfied that fraud, deceit, or intentional misrepresentation has not been committed, he or she shall report that determination to the insurer. If prosecution by the district attorney concerned is not begun within 60 days of the receipt of the commissioner's report, the district attorney shall inform the commissioner and the insurer as to the reasons for the lack of prosecution regarding the reported violations.

(b) This section shall not require an insurer to submit to the bureau the information specified in subdivision (a) in either of the following instances:

(1) The insurer's initial investigation indicated a potentially fraudulent claim but further investigation revealed that it was not fraudulent.

(2) The insurer and the claimant have reached agreement as to the amount of the claim and the insurer does not have reasonable grounds to believe that claim to be fraudulent.

(c) Nothing contained in this article shall relieve an insurer of its existing obligations to also report suspected violations of law to appropriate local law enforcement agencies.

(d) Any police, sheriff, disciplinary body governed by the provisions of the Business and Professions Code, or other law enforcement agency shall furnish all papers, documents, reports, complaints, or other facts or evidence to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims, when so requested, and shall otherwise assist and cooperate with the bureau.

1872.5. No insurer, or the employees or agents of any insurer, shall be subject to civil liability for libel, slander, or any other relevant tort cause of action by virtue of providing any of the following without malice:

(a) Any information or reports relating to suspected fraudulent insurance transaction furnished to law enforcement officials, or licensing officials governed by the Business and Professions Code.

(b) Any reports or information relating to suspected fraudulent insurance transaction furnished to other persons subject to this chapter.

(c) Any information or reports required by this article or required by the commissioner under the authority granted in this chapter.

1872.6. Nothing contained in this article shall:

(a) Preempt the authority of other law enforcement or licensing agencies to investigate and prosecute suspected violations of law.

(b) Prevent or prohibit a person from voluntarily disclosing any information concerning violations of this chapter to any law enforcement or licensing agency governed by the Business and Professions Code.

(c) Limit any of the powers granted to the department or the commissioner to investigate possible violations of the chapter and take appropriate action against wrongdoers.

1872.7. The costs of administration and operation of the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall be borne by all of the insurers admitted to transact insurance in this state. The commissioner shall divide those costs among all of those insurers, assessing each such company an identical amount adequate to provide the funds for each fiscal year of operation of the bureau. However, the assessment for each company shall not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) in each fiscal year. All moneys received by the commissioner from insurers pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the Treasurer to be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Insurance Fund. All moneys which are deposited in the fund after receipt by the commissioner from insurers pursuant to this section are hereby appropriated to the department and are to be exclusively used for the support of the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims. To the extent the assessments against insurers made pursuant to this section are not sufficient to fund the entire operations of the bureau, other moneys appropriated to the department, if available, may be used, at the commissioner's discretion, to fund those operations not covered by the assessments. The total budget of the bureau shall be as determined annually in the Budget Act.

1872.8. Each insurance company doing business in this state shall pay an annual fee to be determined by the commissioner, but not to exceed fifty cents ($0.50) annually for each vehicle insured under an insurance policy it issues in this state, in order to fund increased investigation and prosecution of fraudulent automobile insurance claims. After incidental expenses, 40 percent of those funds received from thirty cents ($0.30) of the assessment fee per policy shall be distributed to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims of the Department of Insurance for enhanced investigative efforts, and 60 percent of the funds shall be distributed to local district attorneys, according to population, for investigation and prosecution of automobile insurance fraud cases. The remaining twenty cents ($0.20) shall be spent pursuant to Article 6. The funds received under this section shall be deposited in the Insurance Fund and be expended and distributed when appropriated by the Legislature.

In the course of its investigations, the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall aggressively pursue all reported incidents of probable fraud and, in addition, shall forward to the appropriate disciplinary body the names of any individuals licensed under the Business and Professions Code who are suspected of actively engaging in fraudulent activity along with all relevant supporting evidence.

1872.9. The Bureau of Fraudulent Claims shall annually compile and report, as a part of the commissioner's annual report as required by Section 12922, the following information:

(a) The number of cases reported to the bureau pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The number of cases rejected for which an investigation was not initiated by the bureau due to insufficient evidence to proceed and the number of cases rejected for which an investigation was not initiated by the bureau due to any other reason.

(c) The number of cases that were prosecuted in cooperation with licensing agencies governed by the Businesss and Professions Code.

(d) The number and kind of cases prosecuted as a result of moneys received under Section 1872.7.

(e) An estimate of the economic value of insurance fraud by type of insurance fraud.

(f) Recommendations on ways insurance fraud may be reduced.

(g) A summary of the bureau's activities with respect to pursuing a reduction of fraud with all of the following:

(1) Insurance companies.

(2) The Department of Motor Vehicles.

(3) The Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(4) Licensing agencies governed by the Business and Professions Code.

(5) The Department of Insurance.

(6) Local and state law enforcement agencies.

(h) Basic claims information including trends of payments by type of claim and other claim information that is generally provided in a closed claim study.

Article 3. Insurance Fraud Reporting

1873. (a) Upon written request to an insurer by officers designated in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 830.1 and subdivision (a) of Section 830.2, and subdivisions (b), (d), and (k) of Section 830.3 of the Penal Code, an insurer, or agent authorized by that insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, shall release to the requesting authorized governmental agency any or all relevant information deemed important to the authorized governmental agency that the insurer may possess relating to any specific insurance fraud. Relevant information may include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Insurance policy information relevant to the insurance fraud under investigation, including, but not limited to, any application for a policy.

(2) Policy premium payment records which are available.

(3) History of previous claims made by the insured.

(4) Information relating to the investigation of the insurance fraud, including statements of any person, proof of loss, and notice of loss.

(5) Complete copies of both sides of payment drafts.

(b) The provisions of subdivision (a) shall not operate to authorize disclosure of medical information not otherwise authorized for disclosure pursuant to law.

1873.1. Any information acquired pursuant to this article shall not be a part of any public record. Except as otherwise provided by law, any authorized governmental agency, an insurer, or an agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf, which receives any information furnished pursuant to this article, shall not release that information to public inspection until the time that its release is required in connection with a criminal or civil proceeding.

1873.2. In the absence of fraud or malice, no insurer, or any employee or agent authorized by an insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, and no authorized governmental agency or its respective employees, shall be subject to any civil liability for libel, slander, or any other relevant cause of action by virtue of releasing or receiving any information pursuant to Section 1873 or 1873.1. Nothing in this article is intended to, nor does in any way or manner, abrogate or lessen the existing common law or statutory privileges and immunities of an insurer, or any employee or agent authorized by the insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, or of any authorized governmental agency or its respective employees.

1873.3. (a) For purposes of this article, "insurance fraud" does not include motor vehicle theft and motor vehicle insurance fraud reporting subject to the provisions of Article 4 (commencing with Section 1874).

(b) As used in this article, "authorized governmental agency" means the Department of the California Highway Patrol, the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Department of Insurance, the Department of Justice, the police department of a city, or a city and county, the sheriff's office or department of a county, the district attorney of any county, or city and county, those agencies employing officers designated in subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 830.1, subdivision (a) of Section 830.2, and subdivisions (b), (d), and (k) of Section 830.3 of the Penal Code, any other law enforcement agency of this state or any city or county, or city and county, and any licensing agency governed by the Business and Professions Code.

1873.4. Any or all information released or received by an authorized governmental entity pursuant to Section 1873 or 1873.1 shall be provided by that agency to the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims within 10 days of the agency's receipt of the information.

Article 4. Motor Vehicle Theft and Motor Vehicle Insurance Fraud Reporting

1874. This article shall be known and may be cited as the Motor Vehicle Theft and Motor Vehicle Insurance Fraud Reporting Act.

1874.1. The following definitions govern the construction of this article, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Authorized governmental agency" means the Department of the California Highway Patrol, the Department of Insurance, the Department of Justice, the Department of Motor Vehicles, the police department of a city, or a city and county, the sheriff's office or department of a county, a law enforcement agency of the federal government, the district attorney of any county, or city and county, and any licensing agency governed by the Business and Professions Code.

(b) "Relevant" means having a tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the investigation or determination of an issue more probable or less probable than it would be without the information.

(c) Information shall be deemed important if, within the sole discretion of the authorized governmental agency, that information is requested by that authorized governmental agency.

(d) "Insurer" means the automobile assigned risk plan established pursuant to Section 11620 of the Insurance Code, as well as any insurer writing insurance for motor vehicles or otherwise liable for any loss due to motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance fraud.

(e) "Motor vehicle" means motor vehicle as defined in Section 415 of the Vehicle Code.

1874.2. (a) Upon written request to an insurer by an authorized governmental agency, an insurer, or agent authorized by that insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, shall release to the requesting authorized governmental agency any or all relevant information deemed important to the authorized governmental agency which the insurer may possess relating to any specific motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance fraud. Relevant information may include, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(1) Insurance policy information relevant to the motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance fraud under investigation, including, but not limited to, any application for a policy.

(2) Policy premium payment records which are available.

(3) History of previous claims made by the insured.

(4) Information relating to the investigation of the motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance fraud, including statements of any person, proof of loss, and notice of loss.

(b) (1) When an insurer knows or reasonably believes it knows the identity of a person whom it has reason to believe committed a criminal or fraudulent act relating to a motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance claim or has knowledge of such a criminal or fraudulent act which is reasonably believed not to have been reported to an authorized governmental agency, then, for the purpose of notification and investigation, the insurer, or an agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf, shall notify the local police department, sheriff's office, the Department of the California Highway Patrol, or district attorney's office, and may notify any other authorized governmental agency of that knowledge or reasonable belief and provide any additional information in accordance with subdivision (a).

(2) When an insurer provides the local police department, sheriff's office, the Department of the California Highway Patrol, or district attorney's office with notice pursuant to this section, it shall be deemed sufficient notice to all authorized governmental agencies for the purpose of this chapter. Nothing in this section shall relieve an insurer of its obligations under Section 12992 of the Insurance Code.

(3) Nothing in this subdivision shall abrogate or impair the rights or powers created under subdivision (a).

(c) The authorized governmental agency provided with information pursuant to subdivision (a) or (b) may release or provide that information to any other authorized governmental agency.

(d) An authorized governmental agency shall notify the affected insurer in writing when it has reason to believe that a fraudulent act relating to a motor vehicle theft or motor vehicle insurance claim has been committed. The agency shall provide this notice within a reasonable time, not to exceed 30 days. The agency may also release more specific information pursuant to this section when it determines that an ongoing investigation would not be jeopardized. The agency may require a fee from the insurer equal to the cost of providing the notice or the information specified in this section.

(e) An insurer providing information to an authorized agency pursuant to this section shall provide the information within a reasonable time, but not to exceed 30 days from the day on which the duty arose.

1874.3. (a) Any information acquired pursuant to this article shall not be a part of any public record. Except as otherwise provided by law, any authorized governmental agency, an insurer, or an agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf, which receives any information furnished pursuant to this article shall not release that information to public inspection.

(b) The evidence or information described in this section shall be privileged and shall not be subject to subpoena or subpoena duces tecum in a civil or criminal proceeding unless, after reasonable notice to any insurer, agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf, and an authorized governmental agency which has an interest in the information, and a hearing, the court determines that the public interest and any ongoing investigation by the authorized governmental agency, insurer, or an agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf will not be jeopardized by its disclosure, or by the issuance of and compliance with a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum.

1874.4. In the absence of fraud or malice, no insurer, or agent authorized by an insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, and no authorized governmental agency or its employees, shall be subject to any civil liability in a cause of action of any kind for releasing or receiving any information pursuant to Section 1874.1 or 1874.2. Nothing in this chapter is intended to, nor does in any way or manner, abrogate or lessen the existing common law or statutory privileges and immunities of an insurer, agent authorized by that insurer to act on behalf of the insurer, or of any authorized governmental agency or its employees.

Article 5. Arson Investigations

1875. As used in this chapter:

(a) "Authorized agency" means any of the following officers or agencies, or their duly authorized representatives, when investigating or prosecuting arson in connection with a specific fire: the State Fire Marshal, the Director of the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, the chief of any city or county fire department, the chief of any fire protection district, the Attorney General, any district attorney, or any peace officer, and any federal agency.

(b) "Insurer" means any insurer admitted to write, or otherwise issuing, fire insurance covering property in this state and includes its agents, servants, investigators, and adjusters. "Insurer" includes the California FAIR Plan.

1875.1. An authorized agency may, when there is evidence or suspicion that the crime of arson has been committed, request any insurer to release all information in its possession that the authorized agency determines to be relevant to the crime. The insurer shall release the following:

(a) Any insurance policy or any application for such a policy.

(b) Policy premium payment records.

(c) History of previous claims made by the insured for fire loss.

(d) Material relating to the investigation of the loss, including the statement of any person, proof of loss, and any other relevant evidence.

1875.2. If any insurer has reason to suspect that a fire loss was caused by incendiary means, the insurer shall furnish an authorized agency with all relevant information acquired during its investigation of the fire loss and cooperate in an investigation by an authorized agency.

The authorized agency provided with the information pursuant to this article may release that information to any of the other authorized agencies.

1875.3. An authorized agency shall notify the insurer, if known, and at the expense of the insurer, whenever it has reason to believe that a fire loss was not accidentally caused. The agency may also release specific information regarding the fire loss whenever it determines that an ongoing investigation would not be jeopardized.

1875.4. In the absence of fraud or malice, no insurer or person acting in its behalf who (a) furnishes information whether oral or written, pursuant to this article, or (b) assists in any investigation conducted by an authorized agency, shall be liable for damages in a civil action, nor shall any authorized agency which releases information pursuant to this chapter be liable for damages in a civil action.

The act of furnishing information required pursuant to this article shall not constitute an act of fraud or malice.

1875.5. In any case in which an insurer willfully fails to comply with this article, the authorized agency may petition the superior court in an appropriate county for an order requiring compliance.

1875.6. Any authorized agency that receives any information furnished as required by this article shall not make the information public until the time that its release is required in connection with a criminal or civil proceeding.

Article 6. Automobile Insurance Claims Depository

1876. (a) There is hereby created the Automobile Insurance Claims Depository to permit insurers and law enforcement agencies to deposit automobile claims data in a common data base within the Bureau of Fraudulent Claims.

(b) The purpose of the depository is to identify utilization patterns by individual claimants and individuals or businesses who provide a service under which an automobile insurance claim is made in order to prevent automobile fraudulent claims activities.

(c) The use of information deposited pursuant to this article shall be made available to law enforcement agencies and insurers for the purpose of investigating and prosecuting automobile insurance fraud or evaluating the validity and payment of automobile insurance claims. The commissioner shall establish rules governing the access to, and use of, information, and the circumstances under which information may be inspected and corrected.

1876.1. The revenue derived from Section 1872.8 shall be used to implement the provisions of this article.

1876.2. Every insurer who knows or reasonably believes it knows that a claim made under a policy of insurance defined in Section 660 or Section 11622 is or may be fraudulent, whether or not paid, shall deposit that claim information to the Automobile Insurance Claims Depository within 20 days of the payment of that claim. The bureau shall establish the claim information to be deposited in its prescribed format.

1876.3. Any information acquired pursuant to this article shall not be part of any public record except as follows: Except as otherwise provided by law, any authorized governmental agency, and insurer, or an agent authorized by an insurer to act on its behalf, which receives any information furnished pursuant to this article shall not release that information to public inspection until such time as its release is required in connection with a criminal or civil proceeding; to analyze and present information for release in the bureau's annual report pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 1872.9

1876.4. No insurer, or the employees or agents of any insurer, shall be subject to civil liability for libel, slander, or any other tort cause of action arising from the deposit or furnishing of any information or data pursuant to this article.

1876.5. As used in this article, "authorized governmental agency" and "insurer" have the same meaning as is given by Section 1874.1.

SEC. 4. Chapter 11 (commencing with Section 1878) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Article 5 (commencing with Section 12990) of Chapter 2 of Division 3 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Article 6 (commencing with Section 13000) of Chapter 2 of Division 3 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 10900) of Division 4 of the Vehicle Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1120

An act to repeal Section 14529.1 of the Government Code, to amend Section 103357 of, and to add Sections 103360.1, 103360.2, and 103363 to, the Public Utilities Code, and to repeal Section 30895.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to transportation.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14529.1 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 103357 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

103357. (a) The district may issue bonds payable from the proceeds of the retail transactions and use tax.

(b) The maximum bonded indebtedness which may be outstanding at any one time shall be an amount equal to the sum of the principal of, and interest on, the bonds, but not to exceed the estimated proceeds of the transactions and use tax , as determined by the district. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time does not include the amount of any bonds or refunding bonds for which moneys or securities necessary to provide for the payment thereof have been set aside for that purpose in a trust or escrow account.

SEC. 3. Section 103360.1 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

103360.1. (a) The district may issue refunding bonds to redeem or retire any bonds issued by the district upon the terms, at the times, and in the manner which it determines.

(b) Refunding bonds may be issued in a principal amount sufficient to pay all, or any part of, the principal of the outstanding bonds, the premiums, if any, due upon call and redemption thereof prior to maturity, all expenses of the refunding, and either of the following:

(1) The interest upon the refunding bonds from the date of sale thereof to the date of payment of the bonds to be refunded out of the proceeds of the sale of the refunding bonds or to the date upon which the bonds to be refunded will be paid pursuant to call or agreement with the holders of the bonds.

(2) The interest upon the bonds to be refunded from the date of sale of the refunding bonds to the date of payment of the bonds to be refunded or to the date upon which the bonds to be refunded will be paid pursuant to call or agreement with the holders of the bonds.

(c) The provisions of this article for the issuance and sale of bonds apply to the issuance and sale of refunding bonds.

SEC. 4. Section 103360 2 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

103360.2. (a) The district may borrow money in anticipation of the sale of bonds which have been authorized pursuant to this article but which have not been sold or delivered, and may issue negotiable bond anticipation notes therefor and may renew the bond anticipation notes from time to time. However, the maximum maturity of any bond anticipation notes, including the renewals thereof, shall not exceed five years from the date of delivery of the original bond anticipation notes.

(b) The bond anticipation notes, and the interest thereon, may be paid from any money of the district available therefor, including the revenues from the retail transactions and use tax. If not previously otherwise paid, the bond anticipation notes, or any portion thererof, or the interest thereon, shall be paid from the proceeds of the next sale of the bonds of the district in anticipation of which the notes were issued.

(c) The bond anticipation notes shall not be issued in any amount in excess of the aggregate amount of the bonds which the district has been authorized to issue, less the amount of any bonds of the authorized issue previously sold, and also less the amount of other bond anticipation notes therefor issued and then outstanding. The bond anticipation notes shall be issued and sold in the same manner as the bonds.

(d) The bond anticipation notes and the resolutions authorizing them may contain any provisions, conditions, or limitations which a resolution of the district may contain.

SEC. 5. Section 103363 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

103363. (a) Any action or proceedings wherein the validity of the levy or collection of the retail transactions and use tax, or any proceedings in relation thereto, is contested, questioned, or denied shall be commenced not later than July 1, 1990; otherwise the retail transactions and use tax and all proceedings in relation thereto shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal, enforceable, and incontestable.

(b) Any action or proceedings wherein the validity of the issuance of any bonds, or any proceedings in relation thereto is contested, questioned, or denied shall be commenced not later than July 1, 1990, or, in the case of bonds authorized to be issued after that date, within six months from the date the bonds are authorized to be issued by the district; otherwise, in each case, the bonds and all proceedings in relation thereto shall be held to be valid and in every respect legal, enforceable, and incontestable.

(c) Nothing in this section precludes the validity of the retail transactions and use tax or of any bonds or any related proceedings from being established by an action brought under Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure or pursuant to any other procedure established by law, before the end of any period of time specified in subdivision (a) or (b).

SEC. 6. Section 30895.5 of the Streets and Highways Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 1121

An act to add Section 17705.6 to the Education Code, and to add Section 53313.4 to the Government Code, relating to school facilities, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17705.6 is added to the Education Code, to read:

17705.6. In addition to the amounts determined pursuant to subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 17705.5, the local matching share requirement shall also be reduced by an amount equal to the portion of the local matching share requirement that is based on new residential, commercial, and industrial construction in any territory in the applicant district that is within a community facilities district, where all of the following conditions are met:

(a) One or more special taxes or other charges have been levied for purposes of the community facilities district.

(b) The community facilities district was established to provide funding for the acquisition or improvement of school facilities for the applicant district in an amount that equals or exceeds both of the following:

(1) Fifty percent of the cost of the school facilities acquisition or improvement that will be required to meet the needs of the anticipated pupil population of the school district who reside in the community facilities district. No later than a date six months after the effective date of this paragraph, or upon theformation of the communities facilities district, whichever occurs later, the governing board of the applicant district shall submit a report to the board identifying those costs, and the existing or anticipated pupil population figures upon which those costs are based.

(2) The amount of the matching fund reduction authorized under this paragraph.

(c) The reduction authorized under this paragraph shall apply to any community facilities district only until a date 10 years following the most recent issuance of bonds by the community facilities district

(d) If the applicant school district applies for state funding to provide school facilities to meet the needs of the existing or anticipated student population of the school district residing in the community facilities district in excess of the cost or pupil population estimates contained in the report submitted pursuant to item (i) of subparagraph (B), the reduction authorized in this paragraph shall not apply after the date the application is received by the board.

SEC. 2. Section 53313.4 is added to the Government Code, to read:

53313.4. Any territory within a community facilities district established for the acquisition or improvement of school facilities for a school district shall be exempt from any fee or other requirement levied subsequent to the date on which the resolution of formation creating the community facilities district is adopted under Section 53080, or under Chapter 4.7 (commencing with Section 65970) of Division 1 of Title 7, to benefit any other school district, except as otherwise negotiated between the school districts. That exemption shall apply until a date 10 years following the most recent issuance of bonds by the community facilities district or, if no bonds have ever been issued by the community facilities district, a date 10 years following the formation of the community facilities district or until the school district applies for state funding as provided in subdivision (d) of Section 17705.6.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to resolve certain ambiguities in the existing statutes governing school facilities financing, so as to permit school districts to fund urgently needed school facilities projects, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1122

An act to add Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 25216) to Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to batteries.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 10.6 (commencing with Section 25216) is added to Chapter 6.5 of Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 10.6. Management of Small Household Batteries

25216. For the purposes of this article, "batteries" means primary or secondary batteries, including nickel-cadmium, alkaline, carbon-zinc, and other batteries generated as non-RCRA waste similar in size to those typically generated as household waste. "Batteries" does not include lead-acid batteries.

25216.1. Any collection location or intermediate collection location that receives, or any person that transports, spent batteries, as defined in this article, is exempt from the requirements of this chapter concerning the receipt, storage, and transportation of hazardous waste if the batteries are sent to a facility authorized to receive these batteries and all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The collection location does not store more than 200 pounds of batteries at any one time and no batteries are stored for longer than 180 days.

(b) The batteries are stored and transferred in a manner which minimizes the possibility of fire, explosion, or any release of hazardous waste or hazardous waste constituents.

(c) The collection location, transporter, and receiving facility retains a copy of the hazardous waste manifest or bill or lading used during transportation for a period of three years. If a bill of lading is used, the bill of lading shall have, at a minimum, all of the following information:

(1) The name, address, and telephone number of the collection location, transporter, and receiving facility.

(2) A general description and quantity of batteries.

(3) The date of the transfer.

(4) The signatures of the transporter and the collection location representative.

(d) The batteries are not treated or reclaimed at any location exempted from the requirements of this chapter by this article.

25216.2. (a) This article does not apply to batteries that are disposed of on or into the land, water, or air.

(b) The department shall implement this article consistent with all applicable state and federal laws.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1123

An act to amend Sections 8654, 8682.9, 8685, 8685.2, 8685.7, and 8686 of the Government Code, and to amend Section 13600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to disaster relief, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8654 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8654. (a) Whenever the Governor has proclaimed a state of emergency and the President has declared an emergency or a major disaster to exist in this state, the Governor may do any of the following:

(1) Enter into purchases, leases, or other arrangements with any agency of the United States for temporary housing units to be occupied by disaster victims and to make those units available to any political subdivision for that purpose.

(2) Assist any political subdivision within which temporary housing for disaster victims is proposed to be located to acquire sites necessary for that temporary housing and to do all things required to prepare those sites to receive and utilize temporary housing units by advancing or lending any funds available to the Governor from any appropriation made by the Legislature or from any other source, by transmitting any funds made available by any public or private agency, or by acting in cooperation with the political subdivision for the execution and performance of any project for temporary housing for disaster victims, and for those purposes to pledge the credit of the state on terms as the Governor declares necessary under the circumstances, having due regard for current financial obligations of the state.

(3) Under regulations as the Governor shall make, temporarily suspend or modify for not to exceed 60 days any public health, safety, zoning, or intrastate transportation law, ordinance, or regulation when by proclamation he or she declares such suspension or modification essential to provide temporary housing for disaster victims.

(b) Whenever, the President, at the request of the Governor, has declared a major disaster to exist in this state, the Governor may do any of the following:

(1) Upon his or her determination that financial assistance is essential to meet disaster-related necessary expenses or serious needs of individuals or families adversely affected by a major disaster that cannot be otherwise adequately met from other means of assistance, accept any grant by the federal government to fund that financial assistance, subject to those terms and conditions as may be imposed upon the grant.

(2) Enter into an agreement with the federal government, or any officer or agency thereof, pledging the state to participate in the funding of any grant accepted pursuant to paragraph (1), in an amount not to exceed 25 percent thereof, and, if state funds are not otherwise available to the Governor, accept an advance of the state share from the federal government to be repaid when the state is able to do so.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, make financial grants to meet disaster-related necessary expenses or serious needs of individuals or families adversely affected by a major disaster which cannot otherwise adequately be met from other means of assistance, which shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in the aggregate to an individual or family in any single major disaster declared by the President. This ten thousand dollar ($10,000) limit shall be adjusted annually to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers published by the Department of Labor in the same manner as the Federal Emergency Management Administration makes similar adjustments for purposes of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act.

(4) Upon his or her determination that a local government will suffer a substantial loss of tax and other revenues from a major disaster and has demonstrated a need for financial assistance to perform its governmental functions, apply to the federal government, on behalf of the local government, for a loan, and receive and disburse the proceeds of that loan to the local government.

(5) Determine the amount needed by a local government to restore or resume its governmental functions, and certify that amount to the federal government. However, that amount shall not exceed 25 percent of the annual operating budget of the local government for the fiscal year in which the major disaster has occurred.

(6) Recommend to the federal government, after reviewing the matter, the cancellation of all or any part of a loan made pursuant to paragraph (5) when during the period of three full fiscal years immediately following the major disaster, the revenues of the local government are insufficient to meet its operating expenses, including disaster-related expenses incurred by the local government.

(c) The Governor shall make those regulations as are necessary in carrying out the purposes of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subdivision (b), including, but not limited to: standards of eligibility for persons applying for benefits; procedures for application and administration; methods of investigation, processing, and approving applications; formation of local or statewide review boards to pass upon applications; and procedures for appeals.

(d) Any political subdivision is expressly authorized to acquire, temporarily or permanently, by purchase, lease, or otherwise, sites required for installation of temporary housing units for disaster victims, and to enter into whatever arrangements (including purchase of temporary housing units and payment of transportation charges) which are necessary to prepare or equip the sites to utilize the housing units.

(e) Any person who fraudulently makes any misstatement of fact in connection with an application for financial assistance under this section shall, upon conviction of each offense, be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(f) The terms "major disaster," "emergency," and "temporary housing," as used in this section, shall have the same meaning as those terms are defined or used in the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (P.L. 93-288, as amended by P.L. 100-707). It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section that it shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes of that federal act.

SEC. 2. Section 8682.9 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8682.9. The director shall adopt regulations to govern the administration of the disaster assistance program authorized by this chapter in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3). These regulations shall include specific project eligibility requirements, a procedure for local governments to request the implementation of programs under this chapter, and a method for evaluating these requests by the Office of Emergency Services. Interim regulations required by this section shall be adopted by July 1, 1989, and final regulations shall be adopted by July 1, 1990, provided that neither the interim nor final regulations shall be subject to review or approval of the Office of Administrative Law.

SEC. 3 Section 8685 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8685. From any money appropriated for that purpose, and subject to the conditions specified in this article, the Director of Emergency Services shall allocate funds to meet the cost of any one or more projects as defined in Section 8680.4. Claims by school districts shall be submitted to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for review and approval, in accordance with instructions or regulations developed by the Office of Emergency Services, prior to the allocation of funds by the Director of Emergency Services.

Moneys appropriated for the purposes of this chapter may be used to provide financial assistance for the following local agency and state costs:

(a) Local agency personnel regular hourly wage and overtime costs and cost of supplies and materials used during disaster response activities, incurred as a result of a state of emergency proclaimed by the Governor, excluding the normal hourly wage costs of regularly assigned emergency services and public safety personnel.

(b) To repair, restore, reconstruct, or replace public facilities belonging to local agencies damaged as a result of natural disasters as defined in Section 8680.3.

(c) Matching fund assistance for cost sharing required under federal public assistance programs offered under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (P.L. 93-288, as amended by P.L. 100-707).

(d) State administrative and engineering support required for the implementation and administration of the state disaster assistance program authorized under this chapter.

(e) Indirect costs defined as eligible by the Office of Emergency Services and in accordance with the federal Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-87, or its successors, and any other assistance deemed necessary to carry out the requirements of this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 8685.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8685.2. An allocation may be made to a local agency for a project when within 10 days after the actual occurrence of a natural disaster the local agency has declared a local emergency and that declaration is acceptable to the director or upon the order of the Governor when a state of emergency proclamation has been issued, and, if the Legislature has appropriated money for allocation for purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 8685.7 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8685.7. Any work performed by a state agency at the request of a local agency shall be agreed upon in writing and be subject to the State Contract Act. Work performed by a local agency shall be subject to the law governing the performance of that work by the local agency and applicable state and federal laws or regulations. Neither the state nor any officer or employee thereof shall have any responsibility in connection with any work performed by a local agency.

SEC. 6. Section 8686 of the Government Code is amended to read:

8686. For any eligible project, the state share shall amount to no more than 75 percent of total state eligible costs. The state shall make no allocation for any project application resulting in a state share of less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500).

SEC. 7. Section 13600 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

13600. (a) The State Department of Social Services may provide state supplemental individual and family grants to meet disaster-related necessary expenses or serious needs of individuals or families adversely affected by any major disaster declared by the President of the United States in those cases where individuals or families are unable to meet those expenses or needs through assistance under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (P.L. 93-288, as amended by P.L. 100-707), or other means.

(b) Grants shall only be made to individuals and families determined to be eligible for the federal individual and family grant program who have suffered losses reimbursable under that program in excess of the maximum federal grant amount.

(c) The State Department of Social Services may make a grant to those individuals and families equal to the difference between the federal grant awarded and the federally eligible appraised loss, not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per individual or family.

(d) For purposes of this section, "federally eligible" means only those losses that are eligible under the federal individual and family grant program, without regard to the federal maximum grant.

(e) Application procedures established for the administration of this chapter shall conform to the procedures required in the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (P.L. 93-288, as amended by P.L. 100-707). The State Department of Social Services shall ensure that applicants for relief under this chapter have followed those procedures and that applicants have exhausted all other available means of seeking relief for disaster damage prior to receiving any grants pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 8. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Disasters are inherently unpredictable and could occur in the near future. In order that the changes in the law affecting disaster assistance which are made by this act can be implemented prior to any future disaster, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1124

An act to amend Section 11580.10 of the Insurance Code, and to amend Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code, relating to financial responsibility, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11580.10 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11580.10. Any liability insurer issuing or renewing an automobile liability policy or a motor vehicle liability policy within the meaning of subdivision (a) of Section 16054 of the Vehicle Code shall provide written notice to the named insured of the policy identification number that may be used for verifying financial responsibility for purposes of Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code. This notice may be provided in a written binder, if any, or in the policy documents provided upon issuance or renewal of the policy. The insurer shall provide at least two copies of the notice to the insured and shall, upon request and payment of the reasonable cost thereof, provide additional copies.

SEC. 2. Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

16028. (a) (1) Every person who drives a motor vehicle required to be registered in this state upon a highway, or who drives a moped upon the highway, shall, when requested by a peace officer pursuant to subdivision (c) or (d), provide evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle.

(2) Every person who drives a motor vehicle upon private property, shall, when requested by a peace officer pursuant to subdivision (c) or (d), provide evidence of financial responsibility for the vehicle.

Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision and subdivisions (e) and (f), any person who violates this subdivision is guilty of an infraction and shall be punished for each offense by a fine of seventy-five dollars ($75) and an additional penalty assessment of twenty-five dollars ($25). If (A) the citation is issued pursuant to subdivision (c) on a notice to appear for violation of Section 23152, and (B) the driver is convicted of violating Section 23152, then the penalty upon conviction for violation of subdivision (a) is a fine of one hundred eighty dollars ($180) and an additional penalty assessment of sixty dollars ($60). Each defendant shall be fined and assessed a penalty assessment in the amount specified in this section, upon conviction, unless the court determines that in the interests of justice the fine and the penalty assessment should be reduced. Any reduction of the fine and penalty assessment shall be in the same proportion and the court shall state the reasons for reducing the fine and assessment on the record.

In lieu of the fine and penalty assessment otherwise assessable under this subdivision, the court may permit the defendant to perform community service designated by the court.

(b) (1) For purposes of this section, "evidence of financial responsibility" shall be in writing and means any of the following:

(A) The name of the insurance or surety company which issued the automobile liability policy, motor vehicle liability policy, or bond meeting the requirements of Section 16056, in effect for the vehicle, and the number of the insurance policy or surety bond.

(B) If the owner is a self-insurer as provided in Section 16052 or a depositor as provided in Section 16054.2, the certificate or deposit number issued by the department.

(C) An insurance covering note, as specified in Section 382 of the Insurance Code.

(D) A showing that the vehicle is owned or leased by, or under the direction of, the United States or any public entity, as defined in Section 811.2 of the Government Code.

(2) For purposes of this section, "evidence of financial responsibility" also includes the identifying symbol issued to a highway carrier by the Public Utilities Commission pursuant to Section 3543 of the Public Utilities Code and displayed on the motor vehicle.

(3) For purposes of this section, "evidence of financial responsibility in writing" may be satisfied by writing the name of the insurance company or surety company and the policy number or surety bond number on the motor vehicle registration card issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

(c) Whenever a notice to appear is issued for any alleged violation of this code, except a violation specified in Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11 or any local ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, the cited driver shall furnish written evidence of financial responsibility, as defined by subdivision (b), upon request of the peace officer issuing the citation. The peace officer shall request and write the driver's evidence of financial responsibility on the notice to appear, except where the peace officer is unable to write the driver's evidence of financial responsibility on the notice to appear due to an emergency that requires his or her presence elsewhere. If the cited driver fails to provide evidence of financial responsibility at the time the notice to appear is issued, the peace officer may issue the driver a notice to appear for violation of subdivision (a). The notice to appear for violation of subdivision (a) shall be written on the same citation form as the original violation.

(d) Whenever a peace officer is summoned to the scene of an accident, the driver of any motor vehicle which is in any manner involved in the accident, shall furnish written evidence of financial responsibility as defined by subdivision (b), upon the request of the peace officer making the report. If the driver fails to provide evidence of financial responsibility when requested, the peace officer may issue the driver a notice to appear for violation of subdivision (a).

However, this subdivision shall not apply to accidents involving only a single vehicle and occurring on private property which result only in injury, or damage to property, of the driver.

(e) A person cited in a notice to appear for violation of subdivision (a) may personally appear before the clerk of the court, as designated in the notice to appear, and provide written evidence of financial responsibility in a form consistent with Section 16028.4 showing that the driver was in compliance with Section 16020 at the time the notice to appear for violating subdivision (a) was issued. In lieu of a personal appearance, the person may submit written evidence of financial responsibility by mail to the court. Upon receipt by the clerk of written evidence of financial responsibility in a form consistent with Section 16028.4, further proceedings on the notice to appear for the violation of subdivision (a) of Section 16028 shall be dismissed, subject to Section 16031.

(f) If a driver cited for a violation of subdivision (a) is, at the time of issuance of the notice to appear, driving a motor vehicle owned, operated, or leased by the employer of the driver and driven with the permission of the employer, this section and Sections 16031 and 16032 apply to the employer rather than the driver. In that case, the notice to appear shall be issued to the employer, rather than the driver, and the driver may sign the notice to appear on behalf of the employer and shall notify the employer of the citation within five days after the issuance thereof.

(g) Penalty assessments collected pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be deposited in the county's Courthouse Temporary Construction Fund established pursuant to Section 76001, 76002, 76003, 76004, 76005, or 76006 of the Government Code.

(h) Any penalty assessment imposed pursuant to any other provision of law shall not be imposed on the additional penalty assessment provided in subdivision (a).

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if SB 1160 is enacted and becomes effective on or before January 1, 1990, and amends Section 16028 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to reduce the number of uninsured motorists without delay, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1125

An act to amend Section 15438 of, and to add Section 15453.9 to, the Government Code, relating to health facilities, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15438 of the Government Code is amended to read:

15438. Subject to the conditions, restrictions, and limitations of Section 15438.1, the authority may do any of the following:

(a) Adopt bylaws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business.

(b) Adopt an official seal.

(c) Sue and be sued in its own name.

(d) Receive and accept from any agency of the United States or any agency of the State of California or any municipality, county or other political subdivision thereof, or from any individual, association, or corporation gifts, grants, or donations of moneys for achieving any of the purposes of this chapter.

(e) Engage the services of private consultants to render professional and technical assistance and advice in carrying out the purposes of this part.

(f) Determine the location and character of any project to be financed under this part, and to acquire, construct, enlarge, remodel, renovate, alter, improve, furnish, equip, fund, finance, own, maintain, manage, repair, operate, lease as lessee or lessor and regulate the same, to enter into contracts for any or all of those purposes, to enter into contracts for the management and operation of a project or other health facilities owned by the authority, and to designate a participating health institution as its agent to determine the location and character of a project undertaken by that participating health institution under this chapter and as the agent of the authority, to acquire, construct, enlarge, remodel, renovate, alter, improve, furnish, equip, own, maintain, manage, repair, operate, lease as lessee or lessor and regulate the same, and as the agent of the authority, to enter into contracts for any or all of those purposes, including contracts for the management and operation of that project or other health facilities owned by the authority.

(g) Acquire, directly or by and through a participating health institution as its agent, by purchase solely from funds provided under the authority of this part, or by gift or devise, and to sell, by installment sale or otherwise, any lands, structures, real or personal property, rights, rights-of-way, franchises, easements, and other interests in lands, including lands lying under water and riparian rights, which are located within the state the authority determines necessary or convenient for the acquisition, construction, or financing of a health facility or the acquisition, construction, financing, or operation of a project, upon the terms and at the prices considered by the authority to be reasonable and which can be agreed upon between the authority and the owner thereof, and to take title thereto in the name of the authority or in the name of a participating health institution as its agent.

(h) Receive and accept from any source loans, contributions, or grants for, or in aid of, the construction, financing, or refinancing of a project or any portion of a project in money, property, labor, or other things of value.

(i) Make secured or unsecured loans to, or purchase secured or unsecured loans of, any participating health institution in connection with the financing of a project or working capital in accordance with an agreement between the authority and the participating health institution. However, no loan to finance a project shall exceed the total cost of the project, as determined by the participating health institution and approved by the authority.

(j) Make secured or unsecured loans to, or purchase secured or unsecured loans of, any participating health institution in accordance with an agreement between the authority and the participating health institution to refinance indebtedness incurred by that participating health institution in connection with projects undertaken or for health facilities acquired or for working capital financed prior to or after January 1, 1980.

(k) Mortgage all or any portion of interest of the authority in a project or other health facilities and the property on which that project or other health facilities are located whether owned or thereafter acquired including the granting of a security interest in any property, tangible or intangible, and to assign or pledge all or any portion of the interests of the authority in mortgages, deeds of trust, indentures of mortgage or trust or similar instruments, notes, and security interests in property, tangible or intangible, of participating health institutions to which the authority has made loans, and the revenues therefrom, including payments or income from any thereof owned or held by the authority, for the benefit of the holders of bonds issued to finance the project or health facilities or issued to refund or refinance outstanding indebtedness of participating health institutions as permitted by this part

(l) Lease to a participating health institution the project being financed or other health facilities conveyed to the authority in connection with that financing, upon the terms and conditions the authority determines proper, and to charge and collect rents therefor and to terminate the lease upon the failure of the lessee to comply with any of the obligations of the lease; and to include in that lease, if desired, provisions granting the lessee options to renew the term of the lease for the period or periods and at the rent, as determined by the authority, to purchase any or all of the health facilities or that upon payment of all of the indebtedness incurred by the authority for the financing of that project or health facilities or for refunding outstanding indebtedness of a participating health institution, then the authority may convey any or all of the project or the other health facilities to the lessee or lessees thereof with or without consideration.

(m) Charge and equitably apportion among participating health institutions, the administrative costs and expenses incurred by the authority in the exercise of the powers and duties conferred by this part.

(n) Obtain, or aid in obtaining, from any department or agency of the United States or of the State of California or any private company, any insurance or guarantee as to, or of, or for the payment or repayment of, interest or principal, or both, or any part thereof, on any loan, lease, or obligation, or any instrument evidencing or securing the loan, lease, or obligation, made or entered into pursuant to this part; and notwithstanding any other provisions of this part, to enter into any agreement, contract, or any other instrument whatsoever with respect to that insurance or guarantee, to accept payment in the manner and form as provided therein in the event of default by a participating health institution, and to assign that insurance or guarantee as security for the authority's bonds.

(o) Enter into any and all agreements or contracts, including agreements for liquidity and credit enhancement, interest rate swaps or hedges, execute any and all instruments, and do and perform any and all acts or things necessary, convenient, or desirable for the purposes of the authority or to carry out any power expressly granted by this part.

(p) Invest any moneys held in reserve or sinking funds, or any moneys not required for immediate use or disbursement, at the discretion of the authority, in any obligations authorized by the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds secured thereof or authorized by law for the investment of trust funds in the custody of the Treasurer.

(q) Establish and maintain a reciprocal insurance company or an insurance program that shall be treated and licensed as a reciprocal insurance company for regulatory purposes under the Insurance Code on behalf of one or more participating health institutions, to provide for payment of judgments, settlement of claims, expense, loss and damage that arises, or is claimed to have arisen, from any act or omission of, or attributable to, the participating health institution or any nonprofit organization controlled by, or controlling or under common control with, the participating health institution, their employees, agents or others for whom they may be held responsible, in connection with any liability insurance (including medical malpractice); set premiums, ascertain loss experience and expenses and determine credits, refunds, and assessments; and establish limits and terms of coverage; and engage any expert or consultant it deems necessary or appropriate to manage or otherwise assist with the insurance company or program; and pay any expenses in connection therewith; and contract with the participating health institution or institutions for insurance coverage from the insurance company or program and for the payment of any expenses in connection therewith including any bonds issued to fund or finance the insurance company or program.

(r) Provide funding for self-insurance for participating health institutions. However, there shall be no pooling of liability risk among participating health institutions except as provided in subdivision (f) of Section 15438.5.

(s) (1) Make grants in aid to any participating small or rural hospital, as defined in Section 1188.855 of the Health and Safety Code, in connection with the financing of a project or for working capital in accordance with an agreement between the authority and the hospital. However, no grant to finance a project shall exceed the total cost of the project, as determined by the hospital and approved by the authority.

(2) Make grants in aid to any small or rural hospital, as defined in Section 1188.855 of the Health and Safety Code, in accordance with an agreement between the authority and the hospital to discharge indebtedness incurred by the hospital in connection with projects undertaken, for health facilities acquired, or for working capital financed prior to the effective date of this subdivision.

(3) Grants shall be made pursuant to this subdivision only from HELP Program funds, not to exceed eight hundred seventy thousand dollars ($870,000). In consultation with representatives of the hospital industry and other affected parties, the authority shall develop a process and criteria for making grants under this subdivision, including obtaining legal opinions on appropriateness of grants to private facilities for capital outlay purposes.

SEC. 2. Section 15453.9 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15453.9. Notwithstanding Sections 15453, 15453.5, 15453.6, 15453.7, and 15453.8, the total amount of bonds which may be outstanding at any one time is hereby increased by an amount not exceeding eight hundred seventy-five million dollars ($875,000,000). Bonds that are refunded pursuant to Section 15446 or for which moneys or securities in amounts necessary to pay or redeem the principal, interest, and any redemption premium thereon that have been deposited in trust shall not be deemed outstanding for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure that the health care needs of California are met as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1126

An act to amend Section 965 of the Government Code, making an appropriation for the payment of judgments and settlement claims against the State of California, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 965 of the Government Code is amended to read:

965. (a) Upon the allowance by the State Board of Control of all or part of a claim for which the Director of Finance certifies that a sufficient appropriation for the payment of the claim exists, and the execution and presentation of documents the board may require which discharge the state of all liability under the claim, the board shall designate the fund from which the claim is to be paid and the state agency concerned shall pay the claim from that fund Where no sufficient appropriation for the payment is available, the board shall report to the Legislature in accordance with Section 912.8. Claims arising out of the activities of the State Department of Transportation may be paid if either the Director of Transportation or the Director of Finance certifies that a sufficient appropriation for the payment of the claim exists.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), where no sufficient appropriation exists for the payment of claims, settlements, or judgments against the state arising from an action in which the state is represented by the Attorney General, the Attorney General shall report the claims, settlements, and judgments to the chairperson of either the Senate Committee on Appropriations or the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means, who shall cause to be introduced legislation appropriating funds for the payment of the claims, settlements, or judgments.

SEC. 2. The sum of two million nine hundred fifty-four thousand five hundred sixty-eight dollars and forty-eight cents ($2,954,568.48) is hereby appropriated to the Secretary of the State Board of Control for the payment of judgments and settlement claims accepted by the State Board of Control, according to the following schedule:

(a) One million four hundred ninety-nine thousand two hundred fifty-four dollars and ninety-seven cents ($1,499,254.97) from the General Fund.

(b) One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) from the Motor Vehicle Account in the Transportation Fund.

(c) One million three hundred fifty-five thousand three hundred thirteen dollars and fifty-one cents ($1,355,313.51) from funds appropriated in Section 2.00 of the Budget Act of 1989, as follows:

(1) Three hundred thirteen dollars and fifty-one cents ($313.51) from category (a) of Item 5240-001-001.

(2) One hundred five thousand dollars ($105,000) from Item 6610-001-001.

(3) One million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000) from category (a) of Item 6110-101-001.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to pay judgments and settlement claims against the state and end hardship to claimants as quickly as possible, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1127

An act to amend Section 14838 of the Government Code, relating to small business.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. Section 14838 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14838. In order to facilitate the participation of small business in state procurement, in construction contracts, and in service contracts, under the office of the State Architect or other state agencies which contract for the construction (including alteration, demolition, repair, or improvement) of state facilities, or the delivery of services, the directors of General Services and of such other agencies, each within their respective areas of responsibility, shall do all of the following:

(a) Establish goals, consistent with those established by the Office of Small and Minority Business, for the extent of participation of small businesses in state procurement, in construction contracts, and in service contracts

(b) Provide for small business preference in construction, the procurement of goods, or the delivery of services where responsibility and quality are equal. The preference to small business shall be 5 percent of the lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications. However, the small business preference shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for any bid, and the combined cost of preferences granted pursuant to this chapter and any other provision of law shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). In bids in which the state has reserved the right to make multiple awards, this fifty thousand dollar ($50,000) maximum preference cost shall be applied, to the extent possible, so as to maximize the dollar participation of small businesses in the contract award.

(c) Give special consideration to small businesses by both:

(1) Reducing the experience required.

(2) Reducing the level of inventory normally required.

(d) Give special assistance to small businesses in their preparation and submission of the information requested in Section 14310.

(e) Under the authorization granted in Section 14311, make awards, whenever feasible, to small business bidders for each project bid upon within their prequalification rating. This may be accomplished by dividing major projects into subprojects so as to allow a small business contractor to qualify to bid on these subprojects.

(f) Except as provided in Sections 10392 and 10398 of the Public Contract Code, small business bidders qualified in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall have precedence over nonsmall business bidders in that the application of any bidder preference for which nonsmall business bidders may be eligible under any other provision of law shall not result in the denial of the award to a small business bidder. This provision shall apply to those cases where the small business bidder is the lowest responsible bidder, as well as to those cases where the small business bidder is eligible for award as the result of application of the 5-percent small business bidder preference granted by subdivision (b).

SEC. 2. Section 14838 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14838. In order to facilitate the participation of small business in state procurement, in construction contracts, and in service contracts, under the office of the State Architect or other state agencies which contract for the construction (including alteration, demolition, repair, or improvement) of state facilities, or the delivery of services, the directors of General Services and of such other agencies, each within their respective areas of responsibility, shall do all of the following:

(a) Establish goals, consistent with those established by the Office of Small and Minority Business, for the extent of participation of small businesses in state procurement, in construction contracts, and in service contracts.

(b) Provide for small business preference in construction, the procurement of goods, or the delivery of services where responsibility and quality are equal. The preference to small business shall be 5 percent of the lowest responsible bidder meeting specifications. However, the small business preference shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for any bid, and the combined cost of preferences granted pursuant to this chapter and any other provision of law shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). In bids in which the state has reserved the right to make multiple awards, this fifty thousand dollar ($50,000) maximum preference cost shall be applied, to the extent possible, so as to maximize the dollar participation of small businesses in the contract award.

(c) Give special consideration to small businesses by both:

(1) Reducing the experience required.

(2) Reducing the level of inventory normally required.

(d) Give special assistance to small businesses in their preparation and submission of the information requested in Section 14310.

(e) Under the authorization granted in Section 14311, make awards, whenever feasible, to small business bidders for each project bid upon within their prequalification rating. This may be accomplished by dividing major projects into subprojects so as to allow a small business contractor to qualify to bid on these subprojects.

(f) Except as provided in Sections 10392 and 10398 of the Public Contract Code, small business bidders qualified in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall have precedence over nonsmall business bidders in that the application of any bidder preference for which nonsmall business bidders may be eligible under any other provision of law shall not result in the denial of the award to a small business bidder. In the event of a precise tie between the low responsible bid of a bidder meeting specifications of a small business, and the low responsible bid of a bidder meeting the specifications of a disabled veteran-owned small business, the contract shall be awarded to the disabled veteran-owned small business. This provision shall apply to those cases where the small business bidder is the lowest responsible bidder, as well as to those cases where the small business bidder is eligible for award as the result of application of the 5-percent small business bidder preference granted by subdivision (b).

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 14838 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and AB 1829. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990, (2) each bill amends Section 14838 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 1829, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 1128

An act to amend Section 11628 of the Insurance Code, relating to insurance, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11628 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11628. (a) No admitted insurer, licensed to issue and issuing motor vehicle liability policies as defined in Section 16450 of the Vehicle Code, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, or issue or cancel that insurance under conditions less favorable to the insured than in other comparable cases, except for reasons applicable alike to persons of every race, language, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or the same geographic area; nor shall race, language, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or location within a geographic area of itself constitute a condition or risk for which a higher rate, premium, or charge may be required of the insured for that insurance.

As used in this section "geographic area" means a portion of this state of not less than 20 square miles defined by description in the rating manual of an insurer or in the rating manual of a rating bureau of which the insurer is a member or subscriber. In order that geographic areas used for rating purposes may reflect homogeneity of loss experience, a record of loss experience for the geographic area shall include the breakdown of actual loss experience statistics by zip code area (as designated by the United States Postal Service) within each geographic area for family owned private passenger motor vehicles and lightweight commercial motor vehicles, under 1½-ton load capacity, used for local service or retail delivery, normally within a 50-mile radius of garaging, and which are not part of a fleet of five or more motor vehicles under one ownership. A record of loss experience for the geographic area, including that statistical data by zip code area, shall be submitted annually to the commissioner for examination by each insurer licensed to issue and issuing motor vehicle liability policies, motor vehicle physical damage policies, or both. Loss experience shall include separate loss data for each type of coverage, including liability or physical damage coverage, underwritten An insurer may satisfy its obligation to report statistical data under this subdivision by providing its loss experience data to a rating or advisory organization for submission to the commissioner. This data shall be made available to the public by the commissioner annually after examination. However, the data shall be released in aggregate form by zip code in order that no individual insurer's loss experience for any specific geographic area be revealed. Differentiation in rates between geographical areas shall not constitute unfair discrimination.

All information reported to the department pursuant to this subdivision shall be confidential.

As used in this section, "language" means the inability to speak, read, write, or comprehend the English language.

(b) No admitted insurer, licensed to issue and issuing motor vehicle liability insurance policies as defined in Section 16450 of the Vehicle Code, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, refuse to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, or cancel that insurance solely for the reason that the applicant for that insurance or any insured is employed in a specific occupation.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit an insurer from:

(1) Considering the occupation of the applicant or insured as a condition or risk for which a higher rate or discounted rate may be required or offered for coverage in the course and scope of his or her occupation.

(2) Charging a deviated rate to any classification of risks involving a specific occupation, or grouping thereof, if the rate meets the requirements of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 1850) of Part 2 of Division 1 and is based upon actuarial data which demonstrates a significant actual historical differential between past losses or expenses attributable to the specific occupation, or grouping thereof, and the past losses or expenses attributable to other classification of risks. For purposes of compiling that actuarial data for a specific occupation or grouping thereof, a person shall be deemed employed in the occupation in which that data is compiled if: (A) the majority of his or her employment during the previous year was in the occupation, or (B) the majority of his or her aggregate earnings for the immediate preceding three-year period were derived from the occupation, or (C) the person is a member in good standing of a union which is an authorized collective bargaining agent for persons engaged in the occupation.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to include in the definition of "occupation" active duty service in the Armed Forces of the United States, any status or activity which does not result in remuneration for work done or services performed, or self-employment in a business operated out of an applicant's or insured's place of residence or persons engaged in the renting, leasing, selling, repossessing, rebuilding, wrecking, or salvaging of motor vehicles.

(c) Nothing in this section shall limit or restrict the ability of an insurer to refuse to accept an application for or refuse to issue or cancel such insurance for the reason that it is a commercial vehicle or based upon the consideration of a vehicle's size, weight, design, or intended use.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that actuarial data by occupation may be examined for credibility by the commissioner on the same basis as any other automobile insurance data which he or she is empowered to examine.

(e) Except as provided in Article 4 (commencing with Section 11620), nothing in this section or in Article 10 (commencing with Section 1861.01) of Chapter 9 of Part 2 of Division 1 precludes an insurer from limiting the issuance of its insurance to persons who engage in, or have formerly engaged in, governmental or military service and their spouses, dependents, and former dependents.

(f) This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Rosenthal-Robbins Auto Insurance Nondiscrimination Law."

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Due to uncertainties in insurance regulation pertaining to the provision of the Insurance Code amended by this act, and in order to permit insurers to comply with this act without delay, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1129

An act to amend Section 1211 of, to add Sections 1191.5, 1192.7, 1192.8, and 1192.9 to, and to repeal Section 1100.2 of, the Insurance Code, relating to insurance.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1100.2 of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 1191.5 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

1191.5. (a) Excess fund investments may be made by a domestic life insurer having admitted assets aggregating in value not less than one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) in the purchase and sale of call options on interest-bearing obligations pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c). These investments may be made only in options on interest-bearing obligations issued by the United States of America, or any of its agencies or instrumentalities specified in Section 1180.

(b) An insurer may purchase call options pursuant to this section for the sole purpose of executing a closing purchase transaction for the interest-bearing obligation subject to the option. An insurer shall not purchase any other options pursuant to this section.

(c) An insurer may sell call options pursuant to this section only on interest-bearing obligations that it owns. An insurer shall not sell an interest-bearing obligation subject to an unexpired written call option sold by it except pursuant to a closing purchase transaction under the call option.

SEC. 2.5. Section 1192.7 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

1192.7. (a) A domestic life insurer having admitted assets aggregating in value not less than one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) may make excess funds investments in participation certificates (1) which represent an undivided interest in an interest-bearing obligation issued by a corporation and (2) for which a resale market exists at the time the investment is made.

(b) No investment in a participation certificate may be made pursuant to this section unless the entire obligation is a form of investment which the insurer would be authorized to acquire pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1192.

(c) An investment may not be made under the authority of this section if at the time of making the investment it would result in the insurer then owning participation certificates described in this section in an amount exceeding 4 percent of the insurer's admitted assets as determined by the insurer's last preceding annual statement filed with the commissioner.

SEC. 3. Section 1192.8 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

1192.8. (a) A domestic life insurer having admitted assets aggregating in value not less than one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) may make excess fund investments pursuant to this section in interest-bearing notes, bonds, or obligations issued by (1) any operating business trust or limited partnership organized under the laws of any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Dominion of Canada, any province of the Dominion of Canada or (2) an authority established pursuant to the California Industrial Development Financing Act, Title 10 (commencing with Section 91500) of the Government Code. The issuer of the notes, bonds, or obligations through itself or its paying agent shall be obligated thereunder to make payments, with respect to the notes, bonds, or other obligations, directly to the insurer or the insurer's nominee.

(b) Except upon the prior written approval of the commissioner, an investment may not be made under the authority of this section unless the note, bond, or obligation is exchange traded. "Exchange-traded," as used in this subdivision, means listed and traded on a securities exchange subject to regulation, supervision, or control under a statute of the United States and acceptable to the commissioner.

(c) Without the prior written consent of the commissioner investment made pursuant to this section shall not exceed in the aggregate 10 percent of the life insurer's policyholder surplus.

(d) A request to the commissioner for (1) approval pursuant to subdivision (b) to invest in notes, bonds, or obligations that are not exchange-traded or (2) for consent to exceed the 10 percent limitation set forth in subdivision (c), shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by any supporting data and documentation that the commissioner may require. The commissioner shall require the payment of a five thousand dollar ($5,000) fee in advance for the determination of whether to approve or disapprove each request. Each request shall be in writing and shall be deemed approved unless the commissioner disapproves it within 60 days with respect to requests under subdivision (c) or 20 days with respect to requests under subdivision (b), after the request has been filed in the commissioner's office.

(e) This section shall not be construed to increase or reduce the authority to invest in any operating business trust or limited partnership specifically permitted in other sections of this code.

SEC. 4. Section 1192.9 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

1192.9. Notwithstanding Section 1100, an insurer may make excess funds investments in shares of an open-end diversified management investment company, as defined in the Federal Investment Company Act of 1940, that meets all of the following standards:

(a) It is registered with and reporting to the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

(b) It is domiciled in the United States with all assets held in the United States by a bank, trust company, or other authorized custodian chartered by the United States, its territories, possessions, or states.

(c) It has assets in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000).

(d) Its annual management investment fee shall not exceed six-tenths of 1 percent of the average daily asset value, and no other fees or commissions shall be charged to the insurer by any person.

(e) All of its assets are composed of (1) debt obligations issued by or on behalf of the United States, its territories and possessions, the District of Columbia, and states or their political subdivisions, agencies, and instrumentalities, including industrial development obligations; (2) corporate debt obligations other than debt obligations of the insurer or any company affiliated with the insurer; or, (3) accounts, deposits, or obligations of banks or savings and loan associations. The assets shall be required to meet the requirements of and be authorized for investment by the insurer under Articles 3 (commencing with Section 1170) and 4 (commencing with Section 1190) of Chapter 2.

(f) Share certificates of the management investment company shall be issued to the insurer or be retained by a bank, trust company, or other entity other than the management investment company which is authorized by the United States to act as a transfer and dividend paying agent for the management investment company.

(g) All shares of the management investment company shall be of the same class with equal rights and privileges. Each share shall be entitled to one vote and to participate equally in dividends and distributions declared by the management investment company and in the net distributable assets of the management investment comany on liquidation. When issued, the share shall be fully paid and nonassessable and shall have no preemptive, conversion, or exchange rights.

(h) Shareholders shall be entitled to require the management investment company to redeem all shares.

SEC. 5. Section 1211 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

1211. Any domestic incorporated insurer, after investing an amount equal to its required minimum paid-in capital in securities specified in Article 3 (commencing with Section 1170), may invest in bona fide hedging transactions and positions in interest rate futures contracts or options on interest rate futures contracts within the meaning of the Commodity Exchange Act (Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1) of Title 7, United States Code) and traded on an exchange or board of trade regulated under that act.

(a) For purposes of this section "interest rate futures contracts" means contracts for future delivery, in accordance with the rules of the exchange or board of trade on which the contracts are traded, of obligations issued or guaranteed by the government of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or certificates of deposit of banks or savings and loan associations the accounts of which are insured by an agency or instrumentality of the federal government. "Options on interest rate futures contracts," for purposes of this section, means put or call options, in accordance with the rules of the exchange or board of trade on which the options are traded, in interest rate futures contracts on obligations issued or guaranteed by the government of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or certificates of deposit of banks or savings and loan associations the accounts of which are insured by an agency or instrumentality of the federal government.

(b) Interest rate futures contracts may be purchased when upon execution, (1) the futures contract is specifically identified with a liability or a group of liabilities or the insurer reasonably expects to acquire in the ordinary course of its business an asset or group of assets which, in each case, is identified in its records as being associated with such futures contract and (2) the futures contract has a positive correlation (prices tend to move in the same direction with reasonably similar magnitude) with the identified asset, liability, or group of assets or liabilities.

Interest rate futures contracts may be sold when upon execution, (1) the futures contract is specifically identified with an asset or a group of assets or the insurer reasonably expects to incur in the ordinary course of its business a liability or group of liabilities which, in each case, is identified in its records as being associated with such futures contract and (2) the futures contract has a positive correlation (prices tend to move in the same direction with a reasonably similar magnitude) with the identified asset, liability, or group of assets or liabilities.

(c) Put or call options on interest rate futures contracts may be purchased when upon execution, (1) the option and its related interest rate futures contract is specifically identified with an asset, liability, or group of assets or liabilities or the insurer reasonably expects to acquire in the ordinary course of business an asset, liability, or group of assets or liabilities which, in each case is identified in its records as being associated with the option and (2) the option and its related interest rate futures contract has a positive correlation (prices tend to move in the same direction with a reasonably similar magnitude) with the identified asset, liability, or a group of assets or liabilities. An insurer may sell an exchange traded put or call option on an interest rate futures contract only through an exchange and only for the purpose of a closing transaction. No other sales of options on interest rate futures contracts are authorized under this section.

(d) If an identified asset or liability or all of an identified group of assets or liabilities is sold or an expected identified asset or liability position is no longer expected to occur, the interest rate futures contract or option, or both, shall be closed out.

(e) Except with the prior approval of the commissioner, an investment shall not be made under the authority of subdivisions (b) and (c) if at the time of its making, the investment would result in an insurer hedging assets, liabilities, or anticipated assets or liabilities in an amount exceeding 5 percent of admitted assets plus 100 percent of the amount of the investments in notes or bonds secured by a first mortgage or lien upon real property as determined by the last preceding annual statement filed with the commissioner. The term "notes or bonds secured by a first mortgage or lien upon real property" for purposes of this section means notes or bonds secured by a first mortgage or lien upon a real property containing a residence of one to four units or upon which a residence of one to four units is to be constructed and all bonds, debentures, certificates, and notes set forth in Sections 1192.6 and 1180.

A request to exceed the limitations contained herein shall be in writing and shall be deemed approved unless the commissioner disapproves it within 60 days after the request has been filed in the commissioner's office. The commissioner shall require the payment of a one thousand dollar ($1,000) fee for the determination of whether to approve or disapprove the request to exceed the limitations.

(f) An insurer shall not engage in hedging transactions and positions in interest rate futures contracts or options on interest rate futures contracts except pursuant to this section.

(g) The commissioner may establish criteria for, and prescribe procedures to be followed by insurers effecting transactions and positions pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 1130

An act to add Section 4496.17 to the Penal Code, and to amend Sections 2011, 2013, and 2020 of, and to add Sections 2019, 2023, and 2024 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to youths, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section 4496.17 is added to the Penal Code, to read:

4496.17. The Department of the Youth Authority shall administer funds appropriated for juvenile facilities as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 4496.12.

SEC. 2. Section 2011 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2011. (a) The department shall, upon appropriation pursuant to Section 2010, make awards to public or private nonprofit agencies or joint ventures, or both, for the purpose of acquiring, renovating, constructing, and purchasing equipment for youth centers or youth shelters. This chapter shall not apply to institutions of a type under the jurisdiction of the department prior to the operative date of this act adding this section.

(b) If a public or private nonprofit agency or joint venture, or both, is granted an award pursuant to subdivision (a) for a youth shelter which will provide services for both runaway youths and abused and neglected children, the department shall credit the allocation of bond proceeds awarded to reflect the proportion of funds to be used by the recipient for services for runaway youths and the proportion of funds to be used for services for abused or neglected children.

SEC. 2.5. Section 2013 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2013. (a) The State of California shall be entitled to recapture a portion of state funds from the recipient of a contract if, within 10 years after acquisition, 20 years after completion of construction, or 3 to 10 years after renovation, as provided in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 2012, either of the following occurs:

(1) The recipient of a contract ceases to be a public or nonprofit agency.

(2) The facility is no longer used for youth center or youth shelter activities.

(b) The amount recovered shall be that proportion of the current value of the facility equal to the proportion of state funds contributed to the original cost. The current value of the facility shall be determined by an agreement between the owner of the facility and the State of California, or by an action in the court in the jurisdiction in which the facility is located.

SEC. 3. Section 2019 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

2019. The funds shall be given to applicants for youth shelters for abused and neglected children without regard to the priorities set forth in subdivision (a) of Section 2018.

SEC 3.3. Section 2020 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

2020. (a) For purposes of administering this chapter and the allocation of bond proceeds, the department shall treat funding for the youth centers and youth shelters as separate programs and shall fund each separately.

(b) (1) Funding for youth shelters shall be awarded as follows:

(A) At least 70 percent to shelters for runaway youths.

(B) A maximum of 30 percent to shelters for abused and neglected children Funds allocated for shelters for abused and neglected children shall be prioritized among no more than three counties of the 1st to 10th class, inclusive, as defined by Section 28020 of the Government Code. The criteria for selection of these counties shall be given to applicants in the following order of priority:

(i) Counties with existing youth shelters, as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 4496.04 of the Penal Code, with demonstrated overcrowding problems.

(ii) Counties which have a demonstrated need for additional youth shelter beds and which have initiated planning and the permit process for construction of a new shelter.

(2) Any remaining money that has not been awarded to shelters for abused or neglected children after the initial awards are made pursuant to Section 2011 shall be awarded to shelters for runaway youths.

(c) In addition to its advisory committee, the department shall seek the cooperation and advice of the Office of Criminal Justice Planning and other appropriate agencies in the administration of the youth shelter program.

SEC. 3.5. Section 2023 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

2023. The department shall develop a statewide needs assessment which shall be completed and sent to the Legislature by May 3, 1991, with preliminary information provided to the Legislature by April 15, 1990, regarding the need for multipurpose youth centers and youth shelters for runaway youths. The needs assessment shall identify all of the following:

(a) The capability of existing centers and shelters presently to address the needs of California youths.

(b) The nature and extent of youth needs that are presently unmet or unaddressed by existing facilities

(c) The nature and extent of future need for multipurpose youth centers and youth shelters.

(d) Cost estimates for addressing needs identified in subdivisions (b) and (c).

(e) Other information, issues, and trends relevant to understanding and serving the youths under study.

SEC. 4. Section 2024 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

2024. The department shall administer funds appropriated for youth centers and youth shelters as specified in subdivision (b) of Section 4496.12 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 5. The sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) is hereby appropriated from the 1988 County Correctional Facility Capital Expenditure and Youth Facility Bond Fund to the Department of the Youth Authority for expenditure without regard to fiscal year for performing a statewide needs assessment required under Section 2023 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 5.5. It is the intent of the Legislature that any amount appropriated for administrative costs arising under Chapter 1535 of the Statutes of 1988 shall be pursuant to the annual Budget Act. The amount appropriated for those administrative costs shall not exceed 1.5 percent of the total amount of bonds authorized to be sold under the County Correctional Facility Capital Expenditure and Youth Facility Bond Act of 1988 for purposes specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) and in subdivision (b) of Section 4496.12 of the Penal Code.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order that this act shall have maximum implementation and that the Youth Authority will have the funds necessary to properly administer the bond program as specified in Section 4 of this act, it is necessary for this act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 1131

An act to amend Sections 69503.5 and 71008 of, and to repeal and add Sections 69503 and 69503.4 of, the Government Code, relating to records.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 69503 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 69503 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69503. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law relating to the destruction of court papers and records, after a case has been closed any papers filed or lodged in a superior court action or proceeding that have not otherwise been designated for the special sample provided in subdivision (e), may be destroyed as authorized in subdivision (c). The destruction of all papers shall be in accordance with the procedure set forth in Section 69503.4.

(b) As used in this section, the following terms apply:

(1) "Closed" means a dismissal or final judgment has been entered, and the case file contains no indication that any further hearing is to be scheduled in the matter and the case is not on appeal or subject to review in any court.

(2) "Papers" mean documents, pleadings, motions, instruments, books, depositions, transcripts, minute orders, case folders, and other similar written material filed or lodged with the clerk of the superior court in connection with action and proceedings. "Papers" does not include evidentary exhibits, court management records such as indexes, or microformed records.

(3) "Microform" means the process of permanently preserving and certifying in accordance with Section 1531 of the Evidence Code an exactly reproducible image of a document, whether by microfilm, microfische, electronic, laser disc, or other generally accepted method whereby the public may conveniently access a record and obtain exact copies of the original as provided by law.

(4) "Regular civil case" means any civil action or proceeding for damages or specific relief except the following: probate, water rights, land title, domestic relations, adoption, mental health, and juvenile matters.

(5) "Domestic relations case" means any action or proceeding for dissolution, separation, paternity, harrassment, child or spousal support, or a uniform reciprocal enforcement of support action.

(6) "Historical records" means civil case records filed in any California court in any civil action or proceeding initiated prior to January 1, 1911.

(c) Destruction of papers filed, deposited, or lodged with the clerk of the superior court is authorized when the retention periods set forth in the following paragraphs have expired, and the designated documents have been microformed:

(1) All papers in a regular civil case may be destroyed one year after the case is closed provided that, if any of the following documents are contained in the court file, all of these documents shall be microformed:

(A) Judgment and stipulation for judgment.

(B) Dismissal order.

(C) Satisfaction of judgment.

(D) Confessions of judgment.

(E) Request for default.

(2) All papers in a domestic relations case may be destroyed five years after the case is closed provided that all of the following documents have been microformed:

(A) Petition

(B) Interlocutory judgments of dissolution.
(C) Final judgment.
(D) An order or modification signed by a judge which amends the interlocutory or final judgment.
(E) Financial declaration.
(F) Confession of judgment.
(G) Reciprocal support document.
(H) Minute order.

(3) A deposition or transcript of a preliminary hearing or coroner's inquest may be destroyed three years after the date of filing, provided that the entire document is microformed.

(4) In any other action or proceeding, all papers and any will connected with the case may be destroyed five years after the case is closed provided that all documents have been microformed.

(5) Any will delivered pursuant to Section 320 of the Probate Code may be destroyed if no case connected with the will has been filed and a period of eight years has elapsed since delivery of the will, provided that the entire document has been microformed.

(6) Any party may make an application to the court for the preservation of a record which would otherwise be destroyed. The presiding judge shall, unless for good cause shown the application is denied, order the papers microformed prior to destruction and the costs for this service shall be borne by the requesting party. The papers shall be given to the party making the application and the microformed copy retained by the court. There shall be no fee charged for making an application.

(d) The clerk of the superior court shall promptly seal and store at least one original of each microformed copy of papers in a manner and place that reasonably assures its preservation indefinitely against loss, theft, defacement, or destruction.

(e) In order to preserve judicial records of historical or other research interest, in each county, a scientifically valid sample of cases shall be retained by the clerk of the superior court. In each county, cases will be selected under the sampling plan at an average annual rate of not less than 10 percent or 100 cases, whichever is larger.

(1) The Judicial Council, in consultation with the clerks of the superior courts and with the advice of representatives of the historical and research communities, shall develop a plan for implementing the sampling procedure statewide.

(2) The Judicial Council shall ensure that the implementation plan adopted is consistent with sound scientific principles, provides for a representative sample of case records, and minimizes the administrative burden on the courts, while meeting the specified sample size requirements.

(3) The Judicial Council shall consider whether a statistically valid sample of case records from the class of smaller counties can be constructed without requiring the participation of every county in that class and, if so, shall identify a sample of these counties to carry out the special sampling plan. This procedure is the only one under which a county may be eliminated from the sampling plan.

SEC. 3. Section 69503.4 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 69503.4 is added to the Government Code, to read:

69503.4. (a) Prior to the destruction of any court papers and records which are open to public inspection, the clerk of the superior court shall give notice of the proposed destruction to all of the following:

(1) The Secretary of State.

(2) Any city or county museum in the county.

(3) Any law school in the state accredited by the State Bar Association of California.

(4) Any university or college located in the State of California.

(b) Entities named in subdivision (a) who respond in writing that they do not wish to take possession of court records now or in the future shall no longer be noticed by the clerk of the superior court.

(c) If any or all of the entities named in subdivision (a) requests the court papers and records within 60 days after the date of mailing of the notice by the clerk of the superior court, the records and papers shall be permanently transferred to that entity upon written order of the presiding judge unless for good cause shown the request is denied. The cost of transferring the records and papers shall be borne by the requesting party.

(d) If no request for transfer has been received within six months, or in the case of historical records as provided in Section 69503, two years, after the date of mailing of the notice, the clerk of the superior court may destroy the papers and records not designated for the special sample as provided in subdivision (e) of Section 69503, pursuant to a written order of the presiding judge of the court. The clerk of the superior court shall enter destruction information on the index pursuant to Section 69842 or on a separate destruction index.

SEC. 5. Section 69503.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

69503.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a county clerk, on order of the presiding judge of the appellate department of the superior court, shall destroy a statement or transcript on appeal from the municipal or justice court on file in the appellate department of the superior court without retaining a micrographic film print or copy, five years after the decision becomes final.

SEC. 6. Section 71008 of the Government Code is amended to read:

71008. (a) All papers and records filed and kept in all proceedings in municipal and justice courts, may, upon the order of the presiding judge of any such court, be destroyed after the expiration of the minimum retention period set forth in subdivision (b) or (c), as applicable. The retention period shall be measured from the determination of the proceeding or of the forfeiture of bail in cases in which no other proceedings are had during a like period following such forfeiture.

(b) The minimum retention periods for all papers and records other than those set forth in subdivision (c) are, as follows:

(1) Two years for cases involving alleged violations of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 22500) of Division 11 of the Vehicle Code or of any local ordinance adopted pursuant thereto, for cases relating to stopping, standing, or parking, and for cases involving alleged violations of Division 14 (commencing with Section 30501) of the Food and Agricultural Code or of any local ordinance adopted pursuant thereto relating to the regulation or licensing of dogs. Records for cases involving alleged violations of subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 11357 or subdivision (c) of Section 11360 of the Health and Safety Code may be destroyed after two years in accordance with Section 11361.5 of the Health and Safety Code.

(2) Three years for those records specified in Section 1269 of the Penal Code and for all other records not specified in this section.

(3) Three years for all infraction cases not specified in paragraph (1), and for any misdemeanor case involving an alleged violation of the Vehicle Code other than Sections 14601, 14601.1, 20002, 23103, 23104, 23105, 23106, 23152, and 23153.

(4) Except as specified in paragraph (5), five years for all other misdemeanor cases, including cases involving alleged violations of Section 14601, 14601.1, 20002, 23104, 23105, or 23106 of the Vehicle Code, and all felony cases.

(5) Seven years for any misdemeanor case involving an alleged violation of Section 23103, 23152, or 23153 of the Vehicle Code.

(6) Ten years in any civil action or special proceeding, including small claims actions, from the date on which judgment became final.

(7) Five years in any civil action or special proceeding, including small claims actions, from the date of commencement of the action or proceeding if the case is not prosecuted to judgment.

(8) Sixty days in any civil action or special proceeding including small claims actions from the date of clerk's entry of dismissal of the case in its entirety as requested by the plaintiff.

(9) Sixty days in any civil action or special proceeding, including small claims actions, from the date of the court's order to dismiss pursuant to Sections 583.210, 583.310, or 583.410 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(c) The minimum retention period for the docket, register of actions, and indexes in any municipal or justice court action governed by paragraphs (4), (5), and (6) of subdivision (b) shall be 10 years, except that upon the written request of any party to an action involving the records governed by paragraphs (4), (5), and (6) of subdivision (b) the docket or register of actions shall be retained for an additional 10 years. In all other cases, the docket and minutes may be destroyed concurrently with other papers and records affecting the case.

(d) The dismissal of any civil or small claims action by the court pursuant to Sections 583.210, 583.310, or 583.410 of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall not be ordered unless the parties are notified that the action is to be dismissed. Where a party files a written notice of opposition within 30 days of the mailing of the notice of intention to dismiss, the docket, register of actions, and index, shall be retained for an additional minimum period of time of one year.

SEC. 7. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same day that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1132

An act to amend Sections 7011.7, 7085, 7085.3, 7085.4, and 7085.5 of the Business and Professions Code, and to amend Section 10 of Chapter 1311 of the Statutes of 1987, relating to contractors, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989. Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7011.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7011.7. The registrar shall review and investigate complaints filed in a manner consistent with this chapter and the Budget Act. It is the intent of the Legislature that complaints be reviewed and investigated as promptly as resources allow.

SEC. 2. Section 7085 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7085. (a) After investigating any verified complaint alleging a violation of Section 7107, 7109, 7110, 7113, 7119, or 7120, and any complaint arising from a contract involving works of improvements as defined in Section 7151 and finding a possible violation, the registrar may, with the concurrence of both the licensee and the complainant, refer the alleged violation, and any dispute between the licensee and the complainant arising thereunder, to arbitration pursuant to this article, provided the registrar finds that:

(1) There is evidence that the complainant has suffered or is likely to suffer material damages as a result of a violation of Section 7107, 7109, 7110, 7113, 7119, or 7120, and any complaint arising from a contract involving works of improvement as defined in Section 7151.

(2) There are reasonable grounds for the registrar to believe that the public interest would be better served by arbitration than by disciplinary action.

(3) The licensee does not have a history of repeated or similar violations.

(4) The licensee is in good standing.

(5) The licensee does not have any outstanding disciplinary actions filed against him or her.

(6) The parties have not previously agreed to private arbitration of the dispute pursuant to contract or otherwise.

For the purposes of paragraph (1), "material damages" means damages greater than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) and less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000).

(b) (1) In all cases in which a possible violation of the sections set forth in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) exists and the damage is equal to or less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), the complaint shall be referred to arbitration, utilizing the criteria set forth in paragraphs (2) to (6), inclusive, of subivision (a).

(2) (A) A pilot project regarding the mandatory arbitration of verified complaints in which the damage is two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or less is hereby established.

(B) The goal of the pilot project is to determine if mandatory arbitration is an appropriate method of resolving construction disputes between complainants and contractors in which the damage is two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or less.

SEC. 3. Section 7085.3 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7085.3. Once the registrar determines that arbitration pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 7085 would be a suitable means of resolving the dispute, the registrar shall notify the complainant and the licensee of this decision. The registrar shall also notify the complainant of the consequences of selecting administrative arbitration over judicial remedies and advise the parties of their rights to retain counsel at their own expense. The registrar shall forward an "agreement to arbitrate" to the complainant and the licensee. This agreement shall be returned to the registrar within 30 calendar days of the date that the agreement is mailed by the registrar. The return of this agreement by the parties shall authorize the registrar to proceed with administrative arbitration.

SEC. 4. Section 7085.4 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7085.4. (a) For cases that the registrar determines to refer to arbitration under subdivision (a) of Section 7085, once the complainant and the licensee authorize the registrar to proceed with administrative arbitration, the registrar shall refer the agreement to arbitrate to an arbitrator or an arbitration association approved by the board.

(b) Once the registrar determines that a complaint must be referred to arbitration pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 7085, the registrar shall notify the complainant and the licensee of that decision. The registrar shall inform the parties of the consequences of administrative arbitration over judicial remedies and shall advise the parties of their right to retain counsel at their own expense if they so choose. The registrar shall forward a notice to arbitrate to the complainant and the licensee. This notice shall be returned to the registrar within 30 calendar days of the date that the notice is mailed by the registrar. The complainant's failure to return an executed copy of the notice shall result in the closure of the complaint.

Notwithstanding Section 7085.5, a licensee's failure to return an executed copy of the notice shall not prohibit the registrar from referring the dispute to arbitration or bar the registrar from issuing an order enforcing any award resulting therefrom, pursuant to Section 7085.6, whether the award resulted from a contested hearing or a noncontested hearing.

SEC. 5. Section 7085.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

7085.5. Arbitrations of disputes arising out of cases filed with or by the board shall be conducted in accordance with the following rules:

(a) All "agreements to arbitrate" shall include the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the parties to the dispute, the issue in dispute, and the amount in dollars or any other remedy sought. The appropriate fee shall be paid by the board from the Contractors' License Fund.

(b) (1) The board or appointed arbitration association shall appoint an arbitrator in the following manner: immediately after the filing of the agreement to arbitrate, the board or appointed arbitration association shall submit simultaneously to each party to the dispute, an identical list of names of persons chosen from the panel. Each party to the dispute shall have seven days from the mailing date in which to cross off any names to which it objects, number the remaining names to indicate the order of preference, and return the list to the board or appointed arbitration association. If a party does not return the list within the time specified, all persons named in the list are acceptable. From among the persons who have been approved on both lists, and in accordance with the designated order of mutual preference, the board or appointed arbitration association shall appoint an arbitrator to serve. If the parties fail to agree on any of the parties named, if acceptable arbitrators are unable to act, or if, for any other reason, the appointment cannot be made from the submitted lists, the board or appointed arbitration association shall have the power to make the appointment from among other members of the panel without the submission of any additional lists. Each dispute shall be heard and determined by one arbitrator unless the board or appointed arbitration association, in its discretion, directs that a greater number of arbitrators be appointed.

(2) In all cases in which a complaint has been referred to arbitration pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 7085, the board or the appointed arbitration association shall have the power to appoint an arbitrator to hear the matter.

(c) No person shall serve as an arbitrator in any arbitration in which that person has any financial or personal interest in the result of the arbitration. Prior to accepting an appointment, the prospective arbitrator shall disclose any circumstances likely to prevent a prompt hearing or to create a presumption of bias. Upon receipt of that information, the board or appointed arbitration association shall immediately replace the arbitrator or communicate the information to the parties for their comments. Thereafter, the board or appointed arbitration association shall determine whether the arbitrator should be disqualified and shall inform the parties of its decision, which shall be conclusive.

(d) The board or appointed arbitration association may appoint another arbitrator if a vacancy occurs, or if an appointed arbitrator is unable to serve in a timely manner.

(e) (1) The board or appointed arbitration association shall provide the parties with a list of the times and dates, and locations of the hearing to be held. The parties shall notify the arbitrator, within seven calendar days of the mailing of the list, of the times and dates convenient to each party. If the parties fail to respond to the arbitrator within the seven-day period, the arbitrator shall fix the time, place, and location of the hearing. An arbitrator may, at the arbitrator's sole discretion, make an inspection of the construction site which is the subject of the arbitration. The arbitrator shall notify the parties of the time and date set for the inspection. Any party who so desires may be present at the inspection.

(2) The board or appointed arbitration association shall fix the time, place, and location of the hearing for all cases referred to arbitration pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 7085. An arbitrator may, at the arbitrator's sole discretion, make an inspection of the construction site which is the subject of the arbitration. The arbitrator shall notify the parties of the time and date set for the inspection. Any party who desires may be present at the inspection.

(f) Any person having a direct interest in the arbitration is entitled to attend the hearing. The arbitrator shall otherwise have the power to require the exclusion of any witness, other than a party or other essential person, during the testimony of any other witness. It shall be discretionary with the arbitrator to determine the propriety of the attendance of any other person.

(g) Hearings shall be adjourned by the arbitrator only for good cause.

(h) A record is not required to be taken of the proceedings. However, any party to the proceeding may have a record made at its own expense. The parties may make appropriate notes of the proceedings.

(i) The hearing shall be conducted by the arbitrator in any manner which will permit full and expeditious presentation of the case by both parties. Consistent with the expedited nature of arbitration, the arbitrator shall establish the extent of, and schedule for, the protection of relevant documents and other information, the identification of any witnesses to be called, and a schedule for any hearings to elicit facts solely within the knowledge of one party. The complaining party shall present its claims, proofs, and witnesses, who shall submit to questions or other examination. The defending party shall then present its defenses, proofs, and witnesses, who shall submit to questions or other examination. The arbitrator has discretion to vary this procedure but shall afford full and equal opportunity to the parties for the presentation of any material or relevant proofs.

(j) The arbitration may proceed in the absence of any party who, after due notice, fails to be present. The arbitrator shall require the attending party to submit supporting evidence in order to make an award. An award for the attending party shall not be based solely on the fact that the other party has failed to appear at the arbitration hearing.

(k) The arbitrator shall be the sole judge of the relevancy and materiality of the evidence offered and conformity to legal rules of evidence shall not be required.

(l) The arbitrator may receive and consider documentary evidence. Documents to be considered by the arbitrator may be submitted prior to the hearing. However, a copy shall be simultaneously transmitted to all other parties and to the board or appointed arbitration association for transmittal to the arbitrator or board appointed arbitrator.

(m) The arbitrator shall specifically inquire of the parties whether they have any further proofs to offer or witnesses to be heard. Upon receiving negative replies, the arbitrator shall declare the hearing closed and minutes thereof shall be recorded. If briefs are to be filed, the hearing shall be declared closed as of the final date set by the arbitrator for the receipt of briefs. If documents are to be filed as requested by the arbitrator and the date set for their receipt is later than that set for the receipt of briefs, the later date shall be the date of closing the hearings. The time limit within which the arbitrator is required to make the award shall commence to run, in the absence of other agreements by the parties, upon the closing of the hearings.

(n) The hearing may be reopened on the arbitrator's own motion. The arbitrator shall have 30 calendar days from the closing of the reopened hearing within which to make an award.

(o) Any party who proceeds with the arbitration after knowledge that any provision or requirement of these rules has not been complied with, and who fails to state his or her objections to the arbitrator in writing, within 10 calendar days of close of hearing, shall be deemed to have waived his or her right to object

(p) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), any papers or process necessary or proper for the initiation or continuation of an arbitration under these rules and for any court action in connection therewith, or for the entry of judgment on an award made thereunder, may be served upon any party (A) by regular mail addressed to that party or his or her attorney at the parties' last known addresses, or (B) by personal service.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), in all cases referred to arbitration pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 7085 in which the contractor fails or refuses to return an executed copy of the notice to arbitrate within the time specified, any papers or process specified in paragraph (1) to be sent to the contractor, including the notice of hearing, shall be mailed by certified mail to the contractor's address of record.

(q) The award shall be made promptly by the arbitrator, and unless otherwise agreed by the parties, no later than 30 calendar days from the date of closing the hearing, or if oral hearing has been waived, from the date of transmitting the final statements and proofs to the arbitrator.

The arbitrator may for good cause extend any period of time established by these rules, except the time for making the award. The arbitrator shall notify the parties of any extension and the reason therefor.

(r) The arbitrator may grant any remedy or relief which the arbitrator deems just and equitable and within the scope of the board's referral and the requirements of the board including, but not limited to, specific performance of a contract. The arbitrator, in his or her sole discretion, may award costs or expenses.

(s) The award shall become final 30 calendar days from the date the arbitration award is issued. The arbitrator, upon written application of a party to the arbitration, may correct the award upon the following grounds:

(1) There was an evident miscalculation of figures or an evident mistake in the description of any person, things, or property referred to in the award.

(2) There is any other clerical error in the award, not affecting the merits of the controversy.

An application for correction of the award shall be made within 10 calendar days of the date of service of the award by serving a copy of the application on the arbitrator, and all other parties to the arbitration. Any party to the arbitration may make a written objection to the application for correction by serving a copy of the written objection on the arbitrator, the board, and all other parties to the arbitration, within 10 calendar days of the date of service of the application for correction.

The arbitrator shall either deny the application or correct the award within 30 calendar days of the date of service of the original award by mailing a copy of the denial or correction to all parties to the arbitration. Any appeal from the denial or correction shall be filed with a court of competent jurisdiction and a true copy thereof shall be filed with the arbitrator or appointed arbitration association within 30 calendar days of the issuance of the award, before the award becomes final. The award shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the arbitrator or a majority of them. If no appeal is filed within the 30-calendar day period, it shall become a final order of the registrar.

(t) Service of the award by certified mail shall be effective if a certified letter containing the award, or a true copy thereof, is mailed by the arbitrator or arbitration association to each party or to a party's attorney of record at their last known address, address of record, or by personally serving any party. Service may be proved in the manner authorized in civil actions.

(u) The expenses of one expert witness appointed by the board, when the services of an expert witness are requested by either party involved in arbitration pursuant to this article, shall be paid by the board. Parties who choose to present the findings of another expert witness as evidence shall pay for those services. Payment for expert witnesses appointed by the board shall be limited to the expert witness costs for inspection of the problem at the construction site, preparation of the expert witness' report, and expert witness fees for appearing or testifying at a hearing. All requests for payment to an expert witness shall be submitted on a form which has been approved by the registrar. All requests for payment to an expert witness shall be reviewed and approved by the board prior to payment. The registrar shall advise the parties that names of industry experts may be obtained by requesting this information from the registrar.

(v) The arbitrator shall interpret and apply these rules insofar as they relate to his or her powers and duties.

(w) The following shall apply as to court procedure and exclusion of liability:

(1) The board, the appointed arbitration association, or any arbitrator in a proceeding under these rules is not a necessary party in judicial proceedings relating to the arbitration.

(2) Parties to these rules shall be deemed to have consented that judgment upon the arbitration award may be entered in any federal or state court having jurisdiction thereof.

(3) The board, the appointed arbitration association, or any arbitrator is not liable to any party for any act or omission in connection with any arbitration conducted under these rules.

SEC. 6. Section 10 of Chapter 1311 of the Statutes of 1987 is amended to read:

Sec. 10. For the purposes of implementing the arbitration program authorized by this act, the Contractors' State License Board, in concurrence with the Department of Consumer Affairs, shall:

(a) Develop and administer a training program for those employees of the board who will have the responsibility to define the scope of the dispute and negotiate the agreement to arbitrate between the parties.

(b) Develop a brochure regarding the arbitration program and the rules of process to be given to the parties prior to entering into an agreement to arbitrate, and develop other forms as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the program.

(c) Contract with a consultant to evaluate and assist with the program and report to the Legislature, on or before September 1, 1991, as to (1) the effectiveness of the pilot project established under subdivision (b) of Section 7085 for the resolution of construction disputes, and (2) the feasibility and costs of implementing mandatory arbitration statewide. This evaluation shall include a survey of program participants in the voluntary and the mandatory arbitration programs.

(d) Establish and maintain a list of board appointed arbitrators and board appointed arbitration associations for referrals of agreements to arbitrate.

SEC. 7. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to better protect the public health, safety, and welfare against significant abuses by licensed contractors and unlicensed individuals who operate in the field of construction, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1133

An act to amend Sections 11100, 11100.1, and 11106 of, to add Sections 11107 and 11107.1 to, and to repeal Section 11648 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to controlled substances.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11100 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11100. (a) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes any of the following substances to any person in this state shall submit a report to the Department of Justice of all of those transactions:

(1) Phenyl-2-propanone.
(2) Methylamine.
(3) Ethylamine.
(4) D-lysergic acid
(5) Ergotamine tartrate.
(6) Diethyl malonate.
(7) Malonic acid.
(8) Ethyl malonate.

(9) Barbituric acid.
(10) Piperidine.
(11) N-acetylanthranilic acid.
(12) Pyrrolidine.
(13) Phenylacetic acid.
(14) Anthranilic acid.
(15) Morpholine.
(16) Ephedrine.
(17) Pseudoephedrine.
(18) Norpseudoephedrine.
(19) Phenylpropanolamine.
(20) Propionic anhydride.
(21) Isosafrole.
(22) Safrole.
(23) Piperonal.
(24) Thionylchloride.
(25) Benzyl cyanide.
(26) Ergonovine maleate.
(27) N-methylephedrine.
(28) N-ethylephedrine.
(29) N-methypseudoephedrine.
(30) N-ethylpseudoephedrine.
(31) Chloroephedrine.
(32) Chloropseudoephedrine.
(33) Any of the substances listed by the Department of Justice in regulations promulgated pursuant to subdivision (b).

(b) The Department of Justice may adopt rules and regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code that add substances to subdivision (a) if the substance is a precursor to a controlled substance and delete substances from subdivision (a). However, no regulation adding or deleting a substance shall have any effect beyond March 1 of the year following the calendar year during which the regulation was adopted.

(c) (1) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person shall, prior to selling, transferring, or otherwise furnishing any substance specified in subdivision (a) to a person in this state, require proper identification from the purchaser.

(2) For the purposes of this subdivision, "proper identification" means a valid motor vehicle operator's license or other official and valid state-issued identification of the purchaser which contains a photograph of the purchaser, and includes the residential or mailing address of the purchaser, other than a post office box number, the motor vehicle license number of any motor vehicle owned or operated by the purchaser, a letter of authorization from the business for which any substance specified in subdivision (a) is being furnished, which includes the business license number and address of the business, a full description of how the substance is to be used, and the signature of the purchaser. The person selling, transferring, or otherwise furnishing any substance specified in subdivision (a) shall affix his or her signature as a witness to the signature and identification of the purchaser.

(3) A violation of this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

(d) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes a substance specified in subdivision (a) to a person in this state shall, not less than 21 days prior to delivery of the substance, submit a report of the transaction, which includes the identification information specified in subdivision (c), to the Department of Justice. However, the Department of Justice may authorize the submission of the reports on a monthly basis with respect to repeated, regular transactions between the furnisher and the recipient involving the same substance if the Department of Justice determines that either of the following exist·

(1) A pattern of regular supply of the substance exists between the manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes such substance and the recipient of the substance.

(2) The recipient has established a record of utilization of the substance for lawful purposes

(e) This section shall not apply to any of the following.

(1) Any pharmacist or other authorized person who sells or furnishes a substance upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian.

(2) Any physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian who administers or furnishes a substance to his or her patients.

(3) Any manufacturer or wholesaler licensed by the California State Board of Pharmacy who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes a substance to a licensed pharmacy, physician, dentist, podiatrist, or veterinarian

(4) Any sale, transfer, furnishing, or receipt of any drug which contains ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine and which is lawfully sold, transferred, or furnished over the counter without a prescription pursuant to the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. Sec 301 et seq.) or regulations adopted thereunder.

(f) (1) Any person specified in subdivision (d) who does not submit a report as required by that subdivision or who knowingly submits a report with false or fictitious information shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both the fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person specified in subdivision (d) who has previously been convicted of a violation of paragraph (1) shall, upon a subsequent conviction thereof, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, by a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), or by both the fine and imprisonment

(g) (1) It is unlawful for any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person to sell, transfer, or otherwise furnish a substance specified in subdivision (a) to a person under 18 years of age.

(2) It is unlawful for any person under 18 years of age to possess a substance specified in subdivision (a).

(3) A violation of this subdivision is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. Section 11100.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11100.1. (a) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who receives from a source outside of this state any substance specified in subdivision (a) of Section 11100 shall submit a report of that transaction to the Department of Justice 21 days in advance of receipt of the substance. However, the Department of Justice may authorize the submission of reports within 72 hours after the actual physical receipt of a specified substance with respect to repeated transactions between a furnisher and a recipient involving the same substance, if the Department of Justice determines that the recipient has established a record of utilization of the substance for lawful purposes. This section does not apply to any person whose prescribing or dispensing activities are subject to the reporting requirements set forth in Section 11164.

(b) (1) Any person specified in subdivision (a) who does not submit a report as required by that subdivision shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(2) Any person specified in subdivision (a) who has been previously convicted of a violation of subdivision (a) who subsequently does not submit a report as required by subdivision (a) shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, by a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 3. Section 11106 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

11106. (a) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes any substance specified in subdivision (a) of Section 11100 to a person in this state or who receives from a source outside of the state any substance specified in subdivision (a) of Section 11100 shall obtain a permit for the conduct of that business from the Department of Justice. However, no permit shall be required of any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person for the sale, transfer, furnishing, or receipt of any drug which contains ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, norpseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine and which is lawfully sold, transferred, or furnished over the counter without a prescription or by a prescription pursuant to the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. Sec. 301 et seq.) or regulations adopted thereunder.

(b) Applications for permits shall be filed in writing and signed by the applicant, and shall set forth the name of the applicant, the business in which the applicant is engaged, the business address of the applicant, and a full description of any substance sold, transferred, or otherwise furnished, or received.

(c) The department may grant permits on forms prescribed by it, which shall be effective for not more than one year from the date of issuance. Applications and permits shall be uniform throughout the state, on forms prescribed by the department.

(d) Each applicant shall pay at the time of filing an application for a permit a fee determined by the department which shall not exceed the application processing costs of the department.

(e) A permit granted pursuant to this article may be renewed one year from the date of issuance, and annually thereafter, upon the filing of a renewal application and the payment of a permit renewal fee not to exceed the application processing costs of the department.

(f) Selling, transferring, or otherwise furnishing, or receiving any substance specified in subdivision (a) of Section 11100 without a permit, is a misdemeanor or a felony.

(g) (1) No person under 18 years of age shall be eligible for a permit under this section.

(2) No business for which a permit has been issued shall employ a person under 18 years of age in the capacity of a manager, agent, or representative.

(h) (1) An applicant for an initial permit shall submit with the application two sets of 10-print fingerprint cards for each individual acting in the capacity of an owner, manager, agent, or representative for the applicant.

(2) In the event of subsequent changes in ownership, management, or employment, the applicant shall submit two sets of 10-print fingerprint cards for each individual not previously fingerprinted under this section.

SEC. 4. Section 11107 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11107. (a) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells to any person in this state any laboratory glassware or apparatus, any chemical reagent or solvent, or any combination thereof, where the value of the goods sold in the transaction exceeds one hundred dollars ($100) and the payment for the goods is made in cash or by cashiers check shall do the following:

(1) Require proper purchaser identification as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 11100. The person selling, transferring, or otherwise furnishing the goods specified in this section shall enter the proper purchaser identification information onto the bill of sale or a legible copy of the bill of sale and shall also affix his or her signature as witness to the identification of the purchaser.

(2) Retain the bill of sale or the legible copy of the bill of sale containing the purchaser identification information for three years in a readily presentable manner, and present the bill of sale or the legible copy of the bill of sale containing the purchaser identification information upon demand by any law enforcement officer or authorized representative of the Attorney General.

(b) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

(c) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Laboratory glassware" includes, but is not limited to, condensers, flasks, separatory funnels, and beakers.

(2) "Apparatus" includes, but is not limited to, heating mantles, ring stands, and rheostats.

(3) "Chemical reagent" means a chemical that reacts chemically with one or more precursors, but does not become part of the finished product.

(4) "Chemical solvent" means a chemical that does not react chemically with a precursor or reagent and does not become part of the finished product. A "chemical solvent" helps other chemicals mix, cools chemical reactions, and cleans the finished product.

SEC. 5. Section 11107.1 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

11107.1. (a) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, or other person who sells to any person in this state any quantity of sodium cyanide, potassium cyanide, cyclohexanone, bromobenzene, magnesium turnings, mercuric choloride, sodium metal, lead acetate, paladium black, red phosphorous, Freon 11, Freon 12, sodium acetate, or acetic anhydride shall do the following:

(1) Require proper purchaser identification as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 11100. The person selling, transferring, or otherwise furnishing the substances specified in this section shall enter the proper purchaser identification information onto the bill of sale or a legible copy of the bill of sale and shall also affix his or her signature as witness to the identification of the purchaser.

(2) Retain the bill of sale or the legible copy of the bill of sale containing the purchaser identification information for three years in a readily presentable manner, and present the bill of sale or the legible copy of the bill of sale containing the purchaser identification information upon demand by any law enforcement officer or authorized representative of the Attorney General.

(b) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

SEC. 6. Section 11648 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for these costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1134

An act to amend Sections 1797.3, 1797.7, 1797.172, 1797.175, 1797.185, 1797.210, and 1797.214 of, and to add Sections 1797.63, 1797.112, and 1797.192 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to emergency services, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act, to clarify the meaning of the standards for testing and certification as required for statewide recognition of certification as referred to in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 1797.185 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 2. Section 1797.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.3. The provisions of this division do not preclude the adoption of additional training standards for EMT-II and EMT-P personnel by local EMS agencies, consistent with standards adopted pursuant to Sections 1797.171, 1797.172, and 1797.214.

SEC. 3. Section 1797.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.7. (a) The Legislature finds and declares that the ability of some prehospital emergency medical care personnel to move from the jurisdiction of one local EMS agency which issued certification and authorization to the jurisdiction of another local EMS agency which utilizes the same level of emergency medical care personnel will be unreasonably hindered if those personnel are required to be retested and recertified by each local EMS agency.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this section and Section 1797.185 to ensure that EMT-P personnel who have met state competency standards for their basic scope of practice, as defined in Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 100135) of Division 9 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations, and are currently certified are recognized statewide without having to repeat testing or certification for that same basic scope of practice.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that local EMS agencies may require prehospital emergency medical care personnel who were certified in another jurisdiction to be oriented to the local EMS system and receive training and demonstrate competency in any optional skills for which they have not received accreditation. It is also the intent of the Legislature that no individual who possesses a valid California EMT-P certificate shall be prevented from beginning working within the standard statewide scope of practice of an EMT-P if he or she is accompanied by an EMT-P who is currently certified in California and is accredited by the local EMS agency. It is further the intent of the Legislature that the local EMS agency provide, or arrange for the provision of, training and accreditation testing in local EMS operational policies and procedures and any optional skills utilized in the local EMS system within 30 days of application for accreditation as an EMT-P by the local EMS agency.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature that subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) not be construed to hinder the ability of local EMS agencies to maintain medical control within their EMS system in accordance with the requirements of this division.

SEC. 4. Section 1797.63 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1797.63. "Certifying examination" or "examination for certification" means an examination designated by the authority for a specific level of prehospital emergency medical care personnel that must be satisfactorily passed prior to certification or recertification at the specific level and may include any examination or examinations designated by the authority, including, but not limited to, any of the following options determined appropriate by the authority:

(a) An examination developed either by the authority or under the auspices of the authority or approved by the authority and administered by the authority or any entity designated by the authority to administer the examination.

(b) An examination developed and administered by the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians.

(c) An examination developed, administered, or approved by a certifying agency pursuant to standards adopted by the authority for the certification examination.

SEC. 5. Section 1797.112 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1797.112. The Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund is hereby created in the State Treasury and is continuously appropriated to the authority to maintain the authority's testing and personnel registry program and to make reimbursements to entities for the performance of functions for which fees are collected pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1797.185. The authority may transfer unused portions of the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund to the Surplus Money Investment Fund.

SEC. 6. Section 1797.172 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.172. (a) The authority shall develop, and after the approval of the commission pursuant to Section 1799.50, shall adopt, minimum standards for the training and scope of practice for EMT-P.

(b) The director shall, in consultation with a committee of local EMS medical directors named by the Emergency Medical Directors Association of California, approve any addition to a local optional scope of practice for EMT-P's proposed by the medical director of a local EMS agency prior to implementation of the addition in the local system.

SEC. 7. Section 1797.175 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.175. The authority shall establish the standards for continuing education and shall designate the examinations for certification and recertification of all prehospital personnel.

The authority shall consider including training regarding the characteristics and method of assessment and treatment of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS).

SEC. 8. Section 1797.185 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.185. (a) The authority shall establish criteria for the statewide recognition of the certification of EMT-P personnel in the basic scope of practice of those personnel. The criteria shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(1) Standards for training, testing, certification, and revocation of certification as required for statewide recognition of certification. The standards may include designation by the authority of the specific examinations required for certification, including, at the option of the authority, an examination provided by the authority. At the option of the authority, the standards may include a requirement for registration of EMT-P personnel with the authority or other entity designated by the authority.

(2) Conditions for local accreditation of EMT-P personnel as are reasonable in order to maintain medical control and the integrity of the local EMS system, as determined by the authority and approved by the commission.

(3) Provisions for local accreditation in approved optional scope of practice, if any, as allowed by applicable state regulations and statutes.

(4) Provisions for the establishment and collection of fees by the appropriate agency, which may be the authority or an entity designated by the authority to collect fees for the authority, for testing, certification, accreditation, and registration in the standard scope of practice. All fees collected for the authority in a calendar month by any entity designated by the authority pursuant to this section to collect fees for the authority shall be transmitted to the authority for deposit into the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund within 30 calendar days following the last day of the calendar month in which the fees were received by the designated entity.

(b) After January 1, 1991, all regulations for EMT-P personnel adopted by the authority shall, where relevant, include provisions for statewide recognition of certification for the scope of practice of those personnel.

(c) On or before July 1, 1991, the authority shall amend all relevant regulations for EMT-P personnel to include criteria developed pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 1797.7 and subdivision (b) of Section 1797.172 to ensure statewide recognition of certification for the scope of practice of those personnel.

(d) All future regulations for EMT-P personnel adopted by the authority shall, where relevant, include provisions for statewide recognition of certification for the standard scope of practice of those personnel.

SEC. 9. Section 1797.192 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1797.192. On or before July 1, 1991, the authority shall adopt standards for a standard statewide scope of practice which shall be utilized for the training and certification testing of EMT-P personnel for certification as EMT-P's. Local EMS systems shall not be required to utilize the entire standard scope of practice. Testing of EMT-P personnel for local accreditation to practice shall only include local operational policies and procedures and drugs, devices, or treatment procedures being utilized within that local EMS system pursuant to Sections 1797.172 and 1797.221.

SEC. 10. Section 1797.210 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.210. (a) The medical director of the local EMS agency shall issue a certificate to an individual upon proof of satisfactory completion of an approved training program, passage of the certifying examination designated by the authority, completion of any other requirements for certification established by the authority, and a determination that the individual is not precluded from certification for any of the reasons listed in Section 1798.200. The certificate shall be proof of the individual's initial competence to perform at the designated level.

(b) The medical director of the local EMS agency shall, at the interval specified by the authority, recertify an EMT-I, EMT-II, or EMT-P upon proof of the individual's satisfactory passage of the examination for recertification designated by the authority, completion of any continuing education or other requirements for recertification established by the authority, and a determination that the individual is not precluded from recertification because of any of the reasons listed in Section 1798.200.

SEC. 11. Section 1797.214 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.214. A local EMS agency may require additional training or qualifications, for the use of drugs, devices, or skills in either the standard scope of practice or a local EMS agency optional scope of practice, which are greater than those provided in this chapter as a condition precedent for practice within such EMS area in an advanced life support or limited advanced life support prehospital care system consistent with standards adopted pursuant to this division.

SEC. 12. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Furthermore, no reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for other costs mandated by this act, because the local agency has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 13. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to permit the Emergency Medical Services Authority to implement a statewide central paramedic registry by the fall of 1989, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 1135

An act to amend Sections 422 and 1203.07 of the Penal Code, relating to crimes.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 422 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

422. Any person who willfully threatens to commit a crime which will result in death or great bodily injury to another person, with the specific intent that the statement is to be taken as a threat, even if there is no intent of actually carrying it out, which, on its face and under the circumstances in which it is made, is so unequivocal, unconditional, immediate, and specific as to convey to the person threatened, a gravity of purpose and an immediate prospect of execution of the threat, and thereby causes that person reasonably to be in sustained fear for his or her own safety or for his or her immediate family's safety, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one year, or by imprisonment in the state prison.

For the purposes of this section, "immediate family" means any spouse, whether by marriage or not, parent, child, any person related by consanguinity or affinity within the second degree, or any other person who regularly resides in the household, or who, within the prior six months, regularly resided in the household.

SEC. 2. Section 1203.07 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.07. (a) Notwithstanding Section 1203, probation shall not be granted to, nor shall the execution or imposition of sentence be suspended for, any of the following persons:

(1) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11351 of the Health and Safety Code by possessing for sale 14.25 grams or more of a substance containing heroin.

(2) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11352 of the Health and Safety Code by selling or offering to sell 14.25 grams or more of a substance containing heroin

(3) Any person convicted of violating Section 11351 of the Health and Safety Code by possessing heroin for sale or convicted of violating Section 11352 of the Health and Safety Code by selling or offering to sell heroin, and who has one or more prior convictions for violating Section 11351 or Section 11352 of the Health and Safety Code.

(4) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11378.5 of the Health and Safety Code by possessing for sale 14.25 grams or more of any salt or solution of phencyclidine or any of its analogs as specified in paragraph (21), (22), or (23) of subdivision (d) of Section 11054 or in paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, or any of the precursors of phencyclidine as specified in paragraph (2) of subdivision (f) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code.

(5) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code by transporting for sale, importing for sale, or administering, or offering to transport for sale, import for sale, or administer, or by attempting to import for sale or transport for sale, phencyclidine or any of its analogs or precursors.

(6) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code by selling or offering to sell phencyclidine or any of its analogs or precursors.

(7) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11379.6 of the Health and Safety Code by manufacturing or offering to perform an act involving the manufacture of phencyclidine or any of its analogs or precursors.

As used in this section "manufacture" refers to the act of any person who manufactures, compounds, converts, produces, derives, processes, or prepares, either directly or indirectly by chemical extraction or independently by means of chemical synthesis.

(8) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11380 of the Health and Safety Code by using, soliciting, inducing, encouraging, or intimidating a minor to act as an agent to manufacture, compound, or sell any controlled substance specified in subdivision (d) of Section 11054 of the Health and Safety Code, except paragraphs (13), (14), (15), (20), (21), (22), and (23) of subdivision (d), or specified in subdivision (d), (e), or (f) of Section 11055 of the Health and Safety Code, except paragraph (3) of subdivision (e) and subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (f).

(9) Any person who is convicted of violating Section 11380.5 of the Health and Safety Code by the use of a minor as an agent or who solicits, induces, encourages, or intimidates a minor with the intent that the minor shall violate the provisions of Section 11378.5, 11379.5, or 11379.6 of the Health and Safety Code insofar as the violation relates to phencyclidine or any of its analogs or precursors.

(10) Any person who is convicted of violating subdivision (b) of Section 11383 of the Health and Safety Code by possessing piperidine, pyrrolidine, or morpholine, and cyclohexanone, with intent to manufacture phencyclidine or any of its analogs.

(11) Any person convicted of violating Section 11351, 11351.5, or 11378 of the Health and Safety Code by possessing for sale cocaine base, cocaine, or methamphetamine, or convicted of violating Section 11352 or 11379 of the Health and Safety Code, by selling or offering to sell cocaine base, cocaine, or methamphetamine and who has one or more convictions for violating Section 11351, 11351.5, 11352, 11378, 11378.5, 11379, or 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code. For purposes of prior convictions under Sections 11352, 11379, and 11379.5 of the Health and Safety Code, this subdivision shall not apply to the transportation, offering to transport, or attempting to transport a controlled substance.

(b) The existence of any fact which would make a person ineligible for probation under subdivision (a) shall be alleged in the information or indictment, and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 1136

An act to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 40080) to Chapter 6 of Part 23 of the Education Code, and to amend Sections 1808.1 and 12523.5 of, and to add Sections 642 and 12804.6 to, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 (commencing with Section 40080) is added to Chapter 6 of Part 23 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 4. Specialized Vehicle Driver Training Courses

40080. (a) This article governs the minimum training required for drivers to obtain or renew an endorsement or certificate described in Section 12517, 12519, or 12804.6 of the Vehicle Code.

(b) As used in this article, "department" means the State Department of Education.

40081 (a) The department shall develop or approve courses for training school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, and farm labor vehicle drivers that will provide them with the skills and knowledge necessary to prepare them for certification or endorsement pursuant to Sections 12517, 12519, and 12804.6 of the Vehicle Code. The department shall seek the advice and assistance of the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol in developing or approving those courses.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (d), the department shall train or approve the necessary instructional personnel to conduct the driver training courses. For all schoolbus and school pupil activity bus (SPAB) driver instructor training, the department shall provide for and approve the course outline and lesson plans used in the course. For transit bus and farm labor vehicle driver training, the department shall approve the course outline and lesson plans used in the course.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), all courses of study and training activities required by this article shall be approved by the department and given by, or in the presence of, an instructor in possession of a valid school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor certificate of the appropriate class.

(d) As an alternative, instructors who have received a certificate from the Transportation Safety Institute of the United States Department of Transportation indicating that they have completed the Mass Transit Instructor Orientation and Training (Train-the-Trainer) course may train transit busdrivers in order to meet the requirements for endorsement pursuant to Section 12804.6 of the Vehicle Code.

40082. (a) An original applicant for a certificate to drive a schoolbus, as defined by Section 545 of the Vehicle Code, shall have successfully completed a minimum 40-hour course of instruction. The course shall include at least 20 hours of classroom instruction in, but not limited to, all units of the Instructor's Manual for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. All classroom instruction shall be given by, or in the presence of, a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class. The course shall also include at least 20 hours of applicant behind-the-wheel training in all sections of the Instructor's Behind-the-Wheel Guide for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. Applicant behind-the-wheel training shall include driving vehicles comparable to those vehicles that will be driven by the applicant to transport pupils. All behind-the-wheel training shall be given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class or the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer as designated pursuant to Section 40084.5.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (c), a driver who is holding a driver certificate or endorsement described in Section 40083, and is seeking a schoolbus certificate of the appropriate class, shall have successfully completed a minimum of five hours of classroom instruction, including, but not limited to, schoolbus laws and regulations, defensive driving, student loading and unloading, and the exceptional child. All classroom instruction shall be given by, or in the presence of, a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class. The driver shall also complete at least three hours of behind-the-wheel training in defensive driving practices, lane control, railroad grade crossing procedures, and student loading and unloading.

(c) A driver who has received training by an instructor who has received a certificate as described in subdivision (d) of Section 40081 may not be certified to drive a schoolbus in the manner described in subdivision (b).

40083. An original applicant for an endorsement or certificate to drive any bus defined by Section 546 or 642 of the Vehicle Code shall have successfully completed a minimum 35-hour course of instruction. The course shall include at least 15 hours of classroom instruction, including, but not limited to, all units of the Instructor's Manual for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. All classroom instruction shall be given by, or in the presence of, a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class, except that an instructor who has received a certificate as described in subdivision (d) of Section 40081 may provide the training for an original applicant for an endorsement to drive a bus defined by Section 642 of the Vehicle Code. The course shall also include at least 20 hours of applicant behind-the-wheel training in all sections of the Instructor's Behind-the-Wheel Guide for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. Applicant behind-the-wheel training shall include driving vehicles comparable to those vehicles that will be used to transport passengers. All behind-the-wheel training for a certificate to drive a bus defined by Section 546 of the Vehicle Code shall be given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class or the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer as designated pursuant to Section 40084.5. All behind-the-wheel training for an endorsement to drive a bus defined by Section 642 of the Vehicle Code shall be given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class or the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer as designated pursuant to Section 40084.5, or the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer as designated by the instructor certified pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40081.

40084. An original applicant for a certificate to drive a farm labor vehicle shall have successfully completed a minimum 20-hour course of instruction. The course shall include at least 10 hours of classroom instruction, including, but not limited to, all units of the Instructor's Manual for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. All classroom instruction shall be given by, or in the presence of, a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class. The course shall also include at least 10 hours of applicant behind-the-wheel training in all sections of the Instructor's Behind-the-Wheel Guide for California's Bus Driver's Training Course. Applicant behind-the-wheel training shall include driving vehicles comparable to those that will be driven by the applicant to transport farm passengers. All behind-the-wheel training shall be given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class or the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer as designated pursuant to Section 40084.5.

40084.5. (a) All behind-the-wheel training required to obtain certificates pursuant to Sections 12517 and 12519 of the Vehicle Code shall be performed by an instructor certified by the department or by a delegated behind-the-wheel trainer, as designated by a state-certified instructor.

(b) A delegated behind-the-wheel trainer is someone who is selected and trained to assist in the behind-the-wheel training of drivers. The minimum standards for selection are as follows:

(1) One year experience as a driver of the appropriate type and size vehicle immediately preceding the date of selection as a delegated behind-the-wheel trainer.

(2) Possession of the appropriate license, certificates, and endorsements needed to drive and train in a particular type and size vehicle.

(3) A high school diploma or general education development equivalent.

(4) A driving record with no chargeable accidents within the past three years immediately preceding the date of selection.

(5) Successful completion of all training in the latest edition of the Instructor's Behind-the-Wheel Training Guide for California's Bus Driver's Training Course.

(6) Possession of the same basic knowledge and skills as a state-certified instructor.

(7) Successful completion of a written assessment test on current laws, regulations, and policies given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class.

(8) Successful completion of a driving performance test on all phases of behind-the-wheel and vehicle inspection training. The test shall be given by a state-certified instructor of the appropriate class.

(c) The state-certified instructor shall train and verify the competence of each delegated behind-the-wheel trainer to be utilized in training. This verification shall be documented and placed in the delegated behind-the-wheel trainer's file and a copy sent to the department.

40085. Applicants seeking to renew a certificate to drive a schoolbus as defined in Section 545 of the Vehicle Code or a school pupil activity bus as defined in Section 546 of the Vehicle Code shall have successfully completed at least 10 hours of original or renewal classroom instruction, or behind-the-wheel or in-service training during each 12 months of certificate validity. In-service training credit may be given by a state-certified driver instructor of the appropriate class to an applicant for attending or participating in appropriate driver training workshops, driver safety meetings, driver safety conferences, and other activities directly related to passenger safety and driver training. During the last 12 months of the special driver certificate validity, the 10 hours required shall consist of classroom instruction covering, but not limited to, current laws and regulations, defensive driving, accident prevention, emergency procedures, and passenger loading and unloading. Failure to successfully complete the required training during any 12-month period of certificate validity is cause for the Department of Motor Vehicles to cancel the busdriver certificate. All training required by Section 40089 may be accepted in lieu of the requirements of this section.

40085.5. Applicants seeking to renew an endorsement to drive a transit bus as defined in Section 642 of the Vehicle Code shall have successfully completed at least eight hours of original or renewal classroom instruction, or behind-the-wheel or in-service training during each 12 months of certificate validity. In-service training credit may be given by a state-certified driver instructor of the appropriate class, or an instructor certified pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40081, to an applicant for attending or participating in appropriate driver training workshops, driver safety meetings, driver safety conferences, and other activities directly related to passenger safety and driver training. During the last 12 months of the endorsement validity, the eight hours required shall consist of classroom instruction covering, but not limited to, current laws and regulations, defensive driving, accident prevention, emergency procedures, and passenger loading and unloading. Failure to successfully complete the required training during any 12-month period of certificate validity is cause for the Department of Motor Vehicles to cancel the busdriver endorsement. All training required by Section 40089 may be accepted in lieu of the requirements of this section.

40086. Applicants seeking to renew a certificate to drive a farm labor vehicle shall have successfully completed two hours of classroom instruction for each 12 months of certificate validity covering, but not limited to, current laws and regulations, accident prevention, and defensive driving. Failure to successfully complete the required training during any 12-month period of certificate validity is cause for the Department of Motor Vehicles to cancel the farm labor vehicle driver license or certificate. All training required in Section 40089 may be accepted in lieu of the requirements of this section.

40087. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), driver training required by this article shall be properly documented on the State Department of Education Training Certificate T-01, and signed by a state-certified school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor of the appropriate class, and by the driver or applicant. The signatures certify that the instruction was given to, and received by, the applicant or driver, and that the applicant or driver displayed a level of competency necessary to drive the vehicle in a safe and competent manner. The applicant or driver shall present the completed State Department of Education Training Certificate T-01, to the examining state agency when applying for an endorsement or certificate; or, for renewal of an endorsement or certificate.

(b) Driver training provided by an instructor certified pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40081 shall be documented on a form developed by the Department of Motor Vehicles, with the consultation of the department. The form shall be signed by the instructor and by the applicant or driver. The signatures certify that the instruction was given to, and received by, the applicant or driver, and that the applicant or driver displayed a level of competency necessary to drive the vehicle in a safe and competent manner. The applicant or driver shall present the completed form to the Department of Motor Vehicles when applying for an endorsement or for renewal of an endorsement.

40088. (a) An applicant for a school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor certificate shall successfully complete the appropriate instructor course given or approved by the department.

(b) An applicant for the course shall possess:

(1) A valid driver's license and endorsement valid for driving the vehicles for which the driver instructor rating is sought.

(2) A certificate or endorsement valid for driving the vehicles for which the driver instructor rating is sought.

(3) Five years of experience as a driver in the appropriate vehicle category, or two years experience of that driving experience and three years equivalent experience driving vehicles that require a class A or B driver's license.

(4) A high school diploma or General Education Development (GED) equivalent.

(5) A driving record with no chargeable accidents within the past three years preceding the date of application for the instructor certificate.

The department may waive any or all of the requirements of this subdivision as it determines is necessary to ensure that there are an adequate number of state-certified instructors in the state.

(c) (1) A state-certified schoolbus driver instructor of the appropriate class may instruct all applicants for a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, or farm labor vehicle driver's endorsement or certificate.

(2) A state-certified school pupil activity bus (SPAB) driver instructor of the appropriate class may instruct all applicants for a school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, or farm labor vehicle driver's endorsement or certificate, but not a schoolbus.

(3) A state-certified transit bus instructor of the appropriate class may instruct all applicants for a transit bus or farm labor driver's endorsement or certificate, but not a school pupil activity bus (SPAB) or a schoolbus.

(4) A state-certified farm labor vehicle driver instructor may instruct applicants only for a certificate to drive a farm labor vehicle.

(d) A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor certificate shall be valid until suspended, revoked, or canceled if it is accompanied by a valid driver's license and a special driver's certificate or valid driver's license and endorsement of the appropriate class or is limited to classroom or in-service training only.

(e) The department may suspend or revoke a school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus or farm labor driver instructor certificate for any of the following causes:

(1) The certificate holder falsified a State Department of Education Training Certificate.

(2) The certificate holder's driving privilege has been suspended or revoked.

(3) The certificate holder has committed an act listed in Section 1208 of Title 13 of the California Code of Regulations.

(f) The department may cancel the driver instructor certificate for any of the following causes:

(1) The certificate holder has voluntarily requested cancellation.

(2) The certificate holder has his or her driving privilege suspended or revoked.

(3) The certificate holder has failed to meet the provisions required for retention of the driver instructor certificate. This includes failure to meet the instructor training requirements prescribed by Section 40089.

(4) The certificate holder does not possess a valid driver's license, endorsement, or special driver's certificate of the appropriate class

(g) The department of Motor Vehicles may disallow the driver training documentation provided pursuant to Section 40087 signed by any driver instructor certified pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 40081 if the department finds that the instructor's certificate would have been suspended, revoked, or canceled for any of the reasons designated in subdivisions (e) and (f).

40089. (a) A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor with no instructional limitations shall conduct at least 20 hours of instruction each 12 months that includes at least 10 hours of behind-the-wheel and 10 hours of classroom training, which need not be given in a single session. A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor limited to either classroom or behind-the-wheel training only shall conduct at least 10 hours of instruction each 12 months that includes at least 10 hours of behind-the-wheel or classroom training depending on the limitation. The training need not be given in a single session. A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor limited to in-service training only shall conduct at least 10 hours of in-service training each 12 months. All school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, and farm labor vehicle driver instructor training conducted by department staff may be accepted in lieu of the requirements of this subdivision.

(b) A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor may be limited to classroom instruction, behind-the-wheel training or in-service training only, as determined by the department.

(c) A school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor shall be limited to behind-the-wheel instruction in vehicles that the instructor is qualified to drive.

(d) All school pupil activity bus (SPAB), transit bus, schoolbus, or farm labor vehicle driver instructor training required by subdivision (a) shall be properly documented on a State Department of Education Training Certificate T-01, and signed by the state-certified instructor at the end of each 12-month training period. The signature certifies that the required instruction was conducted during the 12-month training period. Upon renewal of the instructor driver's license, endorsement, or certificate, the completed instructor training record, recorded on the State Department of Education Training Certificate, shall be submitted to the department in Sacramento.

40090. The department may assess fees to any instructor applicant who will be training drivers of any vehicle as defined in Section 642 of the Vehicle Code. The fee shall not be more than necessary to offset the department's reasonable costs.

40090.5. Employers shall take all action necessary to make available to every transit busdriver required to be trained pursuant to Section 40083 or 40085.5 the opportunity to be trained without the loss of wages or benefits.

SEC. 2. Section 642 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

642. A "transit bus" is any bus owned or operated by a publicly owned or operated transit system, or operated under contract with a publicly owned or operated transit system, and used to provide to the general public, regularly scheduled transportation for which a fare is charged. A general public paratransit vehicle is not a transit bus.

SEC. 3. Section 1808.1 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

1808.1. (a) The prospective employer of a driver who drives a vehicle requiring a class 1 or class 2 driver's license, or a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12519.5, 12521, 12523, 12524, 12804.1, or 12804.3, shall obtain a report showing the driver's current public record as recorded by the department.

(b) (1) The employer of a driver who drives a vehicle requiring a class 1 or class 2 driver's license, or a certificate issued pursuant to Section 2512, 12517, 12519, 12519.5, 12521, 12523, 12524, 12804.1, or 12804.3, shall make a request to the department to participate in a pull notice system, which is a process for the purpose of providing the employer with a report showing the driver's current public record as recorded by the department, and any subsequent convictions, failures to appear, accidents, driver's license suspensions, driver's license revocations, or any other actions taken against the driving privilege or certificate, added to the driver's record while the employer's notification request remains valid and uncanceled.

(2) Each transit operator, as defined in Section 99210 of the Public Utilities Code, which employs any person as a driver of a bus, shall make a request to the department to participate in a pull notice system, which is a process for the purpose of providing the employer with a report showing the driver's current public record as recorded by the department, and any subsequent convictions, failures to appear, accidents, driver's license suspensions, driver's license revocations, or any other actions taken against the driving privilege or certificate, added to the driver's record while the employer's notification request remains valid and uncanceled.

(c) The employer of a driver of a vehicle requiring a class 1 or class 2 driver's license or of a tour bus requiring a certificate issued pursuant to Section 12519.5, and each transit operator employing bus drivers shall, additionally, obtain a periodic report from the department at least every six months, except that an employer who employs more than 500 drivers shall obtain a report no less than annually. The employer shall verify that each employee's driver's license has not been suspended or revoked, the employee's traffic violation point count, and whether the employee has been convicted of a violation of Section 23152 or 23153. The report shall be signed and dated by the employer and maintained at the employer's principal place of business. The reports shall be presented upon demand to any authorized representative of the Department of the California Highway Patrol during regular business hours.

(d) Upon the termination of a driver's employment, the employer shall notify the department to cancel any reports required by this section.

(e) An employer who, after receiving any driving record pursuant to this section, employs or continues to employ as a driver any person against whom a disqualifying action has been taken regarding his or her driving privilege or required driver's certificate, is guilty of a public offense, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(f) As part of its inspection of bus maintenance facilities and terminals required at least once every 13 months pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 34501, the Department of the California Highway Patrol shall determine whether each transit operator is then in compliance with this section and Section 12804.6, and shall certify each operator found to be in compliance. No funds shall be allocated under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 99200) of Part 11 of Division 10 of the Public Utilities Code to a transit operator which the Department of the California Highway Patrol has not certified under this section.

(g) A request to participate in the pull notice system established by this section shall be accompanied by a fee determined by the department to be sufficient to defray the entire actual cost to the department for the notification service. For the receipt of subsequent reports, the employer shall also be charged a fee established by the department pursuant to Section 1811. Any employer who qualifies under Section 1812 shall be exempt from any fee required under this section

SEC. 4. Section 12804.6 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

12804.6. (a) No person shall operate a transit bus transporting passengers unless that person has received from the department a certificate to operate a transit bus or is certified to drive a schoolbus or school pupil activity bus pursuant to Section 12517.

(b) All transit busdrivers shall comply with standards established in Section 40083 of the Education Code by July 1, 1994. The Department of Motor Vehicles shall establish an implementation program for transit busdrivers to meet these requirements.

(c) Implementation procedures for the issuance of transit busdrivers' certificates may be established by the Department of Motor Vehicles as necessary to implement an orderly transit busdriver training program.

(d) The department shall issue a transit busdriver certificate to any person who provides either of the following:

(1) Proof that the person is employed as a driver by a transit district and proof that he or she has complied with Section 40085.5 of the Education Code.

(2) Proof that the person has complied with Section 40083 of the Education Code.

(e) The department may charge a fee of ten dollars ($10) to an applicant for a certificate under this section.

(f) The department shall issue to the employer a copy of the certificate of each person issued pursuant to this section. This certificate shall be kept with, and shall become part of, the person's employee records for the purpose of inspection pursuant to Sections 1808.1 and 34501. It shall be unlawful for the employer to permit a person to drive a transit bus who does not have a valid certificate in his or her employee records.

SEC. 5. Section 12523.5 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

12523.5. (a) On or after July 1, 1989, no person shall operate a general public paratransit vehicle unless he or she has in his or her possession a valid driver's license of the appropriate class and either (1) a certificate issued by the department to permit the operation of a general public paratransit vehicle, or (2) a certificate issued by the department to drive a schoolbus or school pupil activity bus pursuant to Section 12517.

(b) Applicants for a certificate to drive a general public paratransit vehicle shall pay a fee of twelve dollars ($12) to the Department of the California Highway Patrol and shall present evidence that they have successfully completed a driver training course consisting of a minimum of 40 hours of instruction within the previous two years. The instruction shall have covered applicable laws and regulations and defensive driving practices, a minimum of eight hours of certified defensive driving, and a minimum of 20 hours of behind-the-wheel training in a vehicle to be used as a general public paratransit vehicle. Applicants seeking to renew a certificate valid for driving a general public paratransit vehicle shall present evidence that they have received two hours of refresher training during each 12 months of driver certificate validity.

(c) The driver certificate shall be issued only to applicants qualified by examinations prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The examinations shall be conducted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol. The Department of Motor Vehicles may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate valid for driving a general public paratransit vehicle for the causes specified in regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol for schoolbus drivers.

(d) An operator of a general public paratransit vehicle shall do all of the following:

(1) Use seatbelts.

(2) Refrain from smoking.

(3) Report any accident reportable under Section 16000 to the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

SEC. 6. This act shall not alter the relationships between drivers and transit operators in relation to the costs of busdriver training, including, but not limited to, a driver's receipt of pay for time spent during driver training.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Moreover, no reimbursement is required by this act for other costs pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 8. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Controller shall deduct, from any state funds allocated to any transit district for transportation purposes, the amount the district was reimbursed by the state for costs resulting from state mandates resulting from the act enacting this section. The deducted state funds shall revert to the unappropriated balance of the fund from which they were appropriated.

SEC. 9. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

CHAPTER 1137

An act to amend Section 2025 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to civil procedure.

[Approved by Governor September 29, 1989 Filed with Secretary of State September 30, 1989]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2025 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2025. (a) Any party may obtain discovery within the scope delimited by Section 2017, and subject to the restrictions set forth in Section 2019, by taking in California the oral deposition of any person, including any party to the action. The person deposed may be a natural person, an organization such as a public or private corporation, a partnership, an association, or a governmental agency.

(b) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (f) and (t), an oral deposition may be taken as follows:

(1) The defendant may serve a deposition notice without leave of court at any time after that defendant has been served or has appeared in the action, whichever occurs first.

(2) The plaintiff may serve a deposition notice without leave of court on any date that is 20 days after the service of the summons on, or appearance by, any defendant. However, on motion with or without notice, the court, for good cause shown, may grant to a plaintiff leave to serve a deposition notice on an earlier date.

(c) A party desiring to take the oral deposition of any person shall give notice in writing in the manner set forth in subdivision (d). However, where under subdivision (d) of Section 2020 only the production by a nonparty of business records for copying is desired, a copy of the deposition subpoena shall serve as the notice of deposition. The notice of deposition shall be given to every other party who has appeared in the action. The deposition notice, or the accompanying proof of service, shall list all the parties or attorneys for parties on whom it is served.

Where, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1985.3, the party giving notice of the deposition is a subpoenaing party, and the deponent is a witness commanded by a deposition subpoena to produce personal records of a consumer, the subpoenaing party shall serve on that consumer (1) a notice of the deposition, (2) the notice of privacy rights specified in subdivision (e) of Section 1985.3, and (3) a copy of the deposition subpoena.

(d) The deposition notice shall state all of the following:

(1) The address where the deposition will be taken.

(2) The date of the deposition, selected under subdivision (f), and the time it will commence.

(3) The name of each deponent, and the address and telephone number, if known, of any deponent who is not a party to the action. If the name of the deponent is not known, the deposition notice shall set forth instead a general description sufficient to identify the person or particular class to which the person belongs.

(4) The specification with reasonable particularity of any materials or category of materials to be produced by the deponent.

(5) Any intention to record the testimony by audio tape or video tape, in addition to recording the testimony by the stenographic method as required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (l).

(6) Any intention to reserve the right to use at trial a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u). In this event, the operator of the video tape camera shall be a person who is authorized to administer an oath, and shall not be financially interested in the action or be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties.

If the deponent named is not a natural person, the deposition notice shall describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested. In that event, the deponent shall designate and produce at the deposition those of its officers, directors, managing agents, employees, or agents who are most qualified to testify on its behalf as to those matters to the extent of any information known or reasonably available to the deponent. A deposition subpoena shall advise a nonparty deponent of its duty to make this designation, and shall describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested.

If the attendance of the deponent is to be compelled by service of a deposition subpoena under Section 2020, an identical copy of that subpoena shall be served with the deposition notice.

(e) (1) The deposition of a natural person, whether or not a party to the action, shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within 75 miles of the deponent's residence, or within the county where the action is pending and within 150 miles of the deponent's residence, unless the court orders otherwise under paragraph (3).

(2) The deposition of an organization that is a party to the action shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within 75 miles of the organization's principal executive or business office in California, or within the county where the action is pending and within 150 miles of that office. The deposition of any other organization shall be taken within 75 miles of the organization's principal executive or business office in California, unless the organization consents to a more distant place. If the organization has not designated a principal executive or business office, the deposition shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within the county where the action is pending, or within 75 miles of any executive or business office of the organization in California.

(3) A party desiring to take the deposition of a natural person who is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party may make a motion for an order that the deponent attend for deposition at a place that is more distant than that permitted under paragraph (1). This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of any issue presented by the motion.

In exercising its discretion to grant or deny this motion, the court shall take into consideration any factor tending to show whether the interests of justice will be served by requiring the deponent's attendance at that more distant place, including, but not limited to, the following:

(A) Whether the moving party selected the forum.

(B) Whether the deponent will be present to testify at the trial of the action.

(C) The convenience of the deponent.

(D) The feasibility of conducting the deposition by written questions under Section 2028, or of using a discovery method other than a deposition.

(E) The number of depositions sought to be taken at a place more distant than that permitted under paragraph (1).

(F) The expense to the parties of requiring the deposition to be taken within the distance permitted under paragraph (1).

(G) The whereabouts of the deponent at the time for which the deposition is scheduled.

The order may be conditioned on the advancement by the moving party of the reasonable expenses and costs to the deponent for travel to the place of deposition.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsucessfully makes or opposes a motion to increase travel limits for party-deponent, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(f) An oral deposition shall be scheduled for a date at least 10 days after service of the deposition notice or, in unlawful detainer actions, not later than five days before trial, whichever is sooner. If, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1985.3, the party giving notice of the deposition is a subpoenaing party, and the deponent is a witness commanded by a deposition subpoena to produce personal records of a consumer, the deposition shall be scheduled for a date at least 20 days after issuance of that subpoena.

On motion of any party or deponent, for good cause shown, the court may shorten or extend the time for scheduling a deposition, or may stay its taking until the determination of a motion for a protective order under subdivision (i).

(g) Any party served with a deposition notice that does not comply with subdivisions (b) to (f), inclusive, waives any error or irregularity unless that party promptly serves a written objection specifying that error or irregularity at least three calendar days prior to the date for which the deposition is scheduled, on the party seeking to take the deposition and any other attorney or party on whom the deposition notice was served. If an objection is made three calendar days before the deposition date, the objecting party shall make personal service of that objection pursuant to Section 1011 on the party who gave notice of the deposition. Any deposition taken after the service of a written objection shall not be used against the objecting party under subdivision (u) if the party did not attend the deposition and if the court determines that the objection was a valid one.

In addition to serving this written objection, a party may also move for an order staying the taking of the deposition and quashing the deposition notice. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of any issue presented by the motion. The taking of the deposition is stayed pending the determination of this motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to quash a deposition notice, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(h) (1) The service of a deposition notice under subdivision (c) is effective to require any deponent who is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party to attend and to testify, as well as to produce any document or tangible thing for inspection and copying.

(2) The attendance and testimony of any other deponent, as well as the production by the deponent of any document or tangible thing for inspection and copying, requires the service on the deponent of a deposition subpoena under Section 2020.

(i) Before, during, or after a deposition, any party, any deponent, or any other affected natural person or organization may promptly move for a protective order. The motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion.

The court, for good cause shown, may make any order that justice requires to protect any party, deponent, or other natural person or organization from unwarranted annoyance, embarrassment, or oppression, or undue burden and expense. This protective order may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following directions:

(1) That the deposition not be taken at all.

(2) That the deposition be taken at a different time.

(3) That a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness, intended for possible use at trial under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u), be postponed until the moving party has had an adequate opportunity to prepare, by discovery deposition of the deponent, or other means, for cross-examination.

(4) That the deposition be taken at a place other than that specified in the deposition notice, if it is within a distance permitted by subdivision (e).

(5) That the deposition be taken only on certain specified terms and conditions.

(6) That the deponent's testimony be taken by written, instead of oral, examination.

(7) That the method of discovery be interrogatories to a party instead of an oral deposition.

(8) That the testimony be recorded in a manner different from that specified in the deposition notice.

(9) That certain matters not be inquired into.

(10) That the scope of the examination be limited to certain matters.

(11) That all or certain of the writings or tangible things designated in the deposition notice not be produced, inspected, or copied.

(12) That designated persons, other than the parties to the action and their officers and counsel, be excluded from attending the deposition.

(13) That a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only to specified persons or only in a specified way.

(14) That the parties simultaneously file specified documents enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the court.

(15) That the deposition be sealed and thereafter opened only on order of the court.

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may order that the deponent provide or permit the discovery against which protection was sought on those terms and conditions that are just.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for a protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(j) (1) If the party giving notice of a deposition fails to attend or proceed with it, the court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party, or the attorney for that party, or both, and in favor of any party attending in person or by attorney, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(2) If a deponent does not appear for a deposition because the party giving notice of the deposition failed to serve a required deposition subpoena, the court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party, or the attorney for that party, or both, in favor of any other party who, in person or by attorney, attended at the time and place specified in the deposition notice in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken, unless the court finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If a deponent on whom a deposition subpoena has been served fails to attend a deposition or refuses to be sworn as a witness, the court may impose on the deponent the sanctions described in subdivision (h) of Section 2020.

(3) If, after service of a deposition notice, a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party, or a person designated by an organization that is a party under subdivision (d), without having served a valid objection under subdivision (g), fails to appear for examination, or to proceed with it, or to produce for inspection any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice, the party giving the notice may move for an order compelling the deponent's attendance and testimony, and the production for inspection of any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice. This motion (A) shall set forth specific facts showing good cause justifying the production for inspection of any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice, and (B) shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by it. If this motion is granted, the court shall also impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against the deponent or the party with whom the deponent is affiliated, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust. On motion of any other party who, in person or by attorney, attended at the time and place specified in the deposition notice in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken, the court shall also impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If that party or party-affiliated deponent then fails to obey an order compelling attendance, testimony, and production, the court may make those orders that are just, including the imposition of an issue sanction, an evidence sanction, or a terminating sanction under Section 2023 against that party deponent or against the party with whom the deponent is affiliated. In lieu of or in addition to this sanction, the court may impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that deponent or against the party with whom that party deponent is affiliated, and in favor of any party who, in person or by attorney, attended in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken pursuant to that order

(k) Except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (d) of Section 2020, the deposition shall be conducted under the supervision of an officer who is authorized to administer an oath. This officer shall not be financially interested in the action and shall not be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties. Any objection to the qualifications of the deposition officer is waived unless made before the deposition begins or as soon thereafter as the ground for that objection becomes known or could be discovered by reasonable diligence.

(l) (1) The deposition officer shall put the deponent under oath. Unless the parties agree or the court orders otherwise, the testimony, as well as any stated objections, shall be taken stenographically. The party noticing the deposition may also record the testimony by audio tape or video tape if the notice of deposition stated an intention also to record the testimony by either of those methods, or if all the parties agree that the testimony may also be recorded by either of those methods. Any other party, at that party's expense, may make a simultaneous audio tape or video tape record of the deposition, provided that other party promptly, and in no event less than three calendar days before the date for which the deposition is scheduled, serves a written notice of this intention to audio tape or video tape the deposition testimony on the party or attorney who noticed the deposition, on all other parties or attorneys on whom the deposition notice was served under subdivision (c), and on any deponent whose attendance is being compelled by a deposition subpoena under Section 2020. If this notice is given three calendar days before the deposition date, it shall be made by personal service under Section 1011. Examination and cross-examination of the deponent shall proceed as permitted at trial under the provisions of the Evidence Code.

(2) If the deposition is being recorded by means of audio tape or video tape, the following procedure shall be observed:

(A) The area used for recording the deponent's oral testimony shall be suitably large, adequately lighted, and reasonably quiet.

(B) The operator of the recording equipment shall be competent to set up, operate, and monitor the equipment in the manner prescribed in this subdivision. The operator may be an employee of the attorney taking the deposition unless the operator is also the deposition officer. However, if a video tape of deposition testimony is to be used under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u), the operator of the recording equipment shall be a person who is authorized to administer an oath, and shall not be financially interested in the action or be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties, unless all parties attending the deposition agree on the record to waive these qualifications and restrictions.

(C) The operator shall not distort the appearance or the demeanor of participants in the deposition by the use of camera or sound recording techniques.

(D) The deposition shall begin with an oral or written statement on camera or on the audio tape that includes the operator's name and business address, the name and business address of the operator's employer, the date, time, and place of the deposition, the caption of the case, the name of the deponent, a specification of the party on whose behalf the deposition is being taken, and any stipulations by the parties.

(E) Counsel for the parties shall identify themselves on camera or on the audio tape.

(F) The oath shall be administered to the deponent on camera or on the audio tape.

(G) If the length of a deposition requires the use of more than one unit of tape, the end of each unit and the beginning of each succeeding unit shall be announced on camera or on the audio tape.

(H) At the conclusion of a deposition, a statement shall be made on camera or on the audio tape that the deposition is ended and shall set forth any stipulations made by counsel concerning the custody of the audio tape or video tape recording and the exhibits, or concerning other pertinent matters.

(I) A party intending to offer an audio taped or video taped recording of a deposition in evidence under subdivision (u) shall notify the court and all parties in writing of that intent and of the parts of the deposition to be offered within sufficient time for objections to be made and ruled on by the judge to whom the case is assigned for trial or hearing , and for any editing of the tape. Objections to all or part of the deposition shall be made in writing. The court may permit further designations of testimony and objections as justice may require. With respect to those portions of an audio taped or video taped deposition that are not designated by any party or that are ruled to be objectionable, the court may order that the party offering the recording of the deposition at the trial or hearing suppress those portions, or that an edited version of the deposition tape be prepared for use at the trial or hearing. The original audio tape or video tape of the deposition shall be preserved unaltered. If no stenographic record of the deposition testimony has previously been made, the party offering a video tape or an audio tape recording of that testimony under subdivision (u) shall accompany that offer with a stenographic transcript prepared from that recording.

(3) In lieu of participating in the oral examination, parties may transmit written questions in a sealed envelope to the party taking the deposition for delivery to the deposition officer, who shall unseal the envelope and propound them to the deponent after the oral examination has been completed.

(m) (1) The protection of information from discovery on the ground that it is privileged or that it is protected work product under Section 2018 is waived unless a specific objection to its disclosure is timely made during the deposition.

(2) Errors and irregularities of any kind occurring at the oral examination that might be cured if promptly presented are waived unless a specific objection to them is timely made during the deposition. These errors and irregularities include, but are not limited to, those relating to the manner of taking the deposition, to the oath or affirmation administered, to the conduct of a party, attorney, deponent, or deposition officer, or to the form of any question or answer. Unless the objecting party demands that the taking of the deposition be suspended to permit a motion for a protective order under subdivision (n), the deposition shall proceed subject to the objection.

(3) Objections to the competency of the deponent, or to the relevancy, materiality, or admissibility at trial of the testimony or of the materials produced are unnecessary and are not waived by failure to make them before or during the deposition.

(4) If a deponent fails to answer any question or to produce any document or tangible thing under the deponent's control that is specified in the deposition notice or a deposition subpoena, the party seeking that answer or production may adjourn the deposition or complete the examination on other matters without waiving the right at a later time to move for an order compelling that answer or production under subdivision (o).

(n) On demand of any party or the deponent, the deposition officer shall suspend the taking of testimony to enable that party or deponent to move for a protective order on the ground that the examination is being conducted in bad faith or in a manner that unreasonably annoys, embarrasses, or oppresses that deponent or party. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. The court, for good cause shown, may terminate the examination or may limit the scope and manner of taking the deposition as provided in subdivision (i). If the order terminates the examination, the deposition shall not thereafter be resumed, except on order of the court.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for this protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(o) If a deponent fails to answer any question or to produce any document or tangible thing under the deponent's control that is specified in the deposition notice or a deposition subpoena, the party seeking discovery may move the court for an order compelling that answer or production. This motion shall be made no later than 60 days after the completion of the record of the deposition, and shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall be given to all parties, and to the deponent either orally at the examination, or by subsequent service in writing. If the notice of the motion is given orally, the deposition officer shall direct the deponent to attend a session of the court at the time specified in the notice. Not less than five days prior to the hearing on this motion, the moving party shall lodge with the court a certified copy of any parts of the stenographic transcript of the deposition that are relevant to the motion. If a deposition is recorded by audio tape or video tape, the moving party is required to lodge a certified copy of a transcript of any parts of the deposition that are relevant to the motion. If the court determines that the answer or production sought is subject to discovery, it shall order that the answer be given or the production be made on the resumption of the deposition

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to compel answer or production, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If a deponent fails to obey an order entered under this subdivision, the failure may be considered a contempt of court. In addition, if the disobedient deponent is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party, the court may make those orders that are just against the disobedient party, or against the party with whom the disobedient deponent is affiliated, including the imposition of an issue sanction, an evidence sanction, or a terminating sanction under Section 2023. In lieu of or in addition to this sanction, the court may impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party deponent or against any party with whom the deponent is affiliated.

(p) Unless the parties agree otherwise, the testimony at any deposition recorded by stenographic means shall be transcribed. The party noticing the deposition shall bear the cost of that transcription, unless the court, on motion and for good cause shown, orders that the cost be borne or shared by another party. Any other party, at that party's expense, may obtain a copy of the transcript. At the request of any other party to the action, including a party who did not attend the taking of the deposition testimony, any party who records or causes the recording of that testimony by means of audio tape or video tape shall promptly (1) permit that other party to hear the audio tape or to view the video tape, and (2) furnish a copy of the audio tape or video tape to that other party on receipt of payment of the reasonable cost of making that copy of the tape.

If the testimony at the deposition is recorded both stenographically, and by audio tape or video tape, the stenographic transcript is the official record of that testimony for the purpose of the trial and any subsequent hearing or appeal.

(q) (1) If the deposition testimony is stenographically recorded, the deposition officer shall send written notice to the deponent and to all parties attending the deposition that the original transcript of the testimony is available for reading and signing, unless the deponent and all these parties agree on the record to waive the reading and signing of the transcript of the testimony. For 30 days following this notice the deponent, either in person or by a signed letter to the deposition officer, may change the form or the substance of the answer to any question, and may either approve the transcript of the deposition by signing it, or refuse to approve the transcript by not signing it. For good cause shown the court may shorten this time.

The deposition officer shall indicate on the original any action taken by the deponent, or the failure of the deponent to contact the officer within the allotted period. When a deponent fails to contact the officer within the allotted period, or expressly disapproves the accuracy of the transcript by refusing to sign it, the deposition shall be given the same effect as though signed. However, on a seasonable motion to suppress the deposition, accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion, the court may determine that the reasons given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to suppress a deposition, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(2) If there is no stenographic transcription of the deposition, the deposition officer shall send written notice to the deponent and to all parties attending the deposition that the recording is available for review, unless the deponent and all these parties agree on the record to waive the hearing or viewing of an audio tape or video tape recording of the testimony. For 30 days following this notice the deponent, either in person or by signed letter to the deposition officer, may change the substance of the answer to any question.

The deposition officer shall set forth in a writing to accompany the recording any changes made by the deponent, as well as either the deponent's signature identifying the deposition as his or her own, or a statement of the deponent's failure to supply such signature, or to contact the officer within the allotted period. When a deponent fails to contact the officer within the allotted period, or expressly refuses by a signature to identify the deposition as his or her own, the deposition shall be given the same effect as though signed. However, on a seasonable motion to suppress the deposition, accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion, the court may determine that the reasons given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to suppress a deposition, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(r) The deposition officer shall certify on the transcript of the deposition, or in the writing accompanying an audio taped or video taped deposition as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (q), that the deponent was duly sworn and that the transcript or recording is a true record of the testimony given and of any changes made by the deponent.

(s) (1) The certified transcript of a deposition shall not be filed with the court. Instead, the deposition officer shall securely seal that transcript in an envelope or package endorsed with the title of the action and marked: "Deposition of (here insert name of deponent)", and shall promptly transmit it to the attorney for the party who noticed the deposition. This attorney shall store it under conditions that will protect it against loss, destruction, or tampering.

The attorney to whom the transcript of a deposition is transmitted shall retain custody of it until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, the transcript may be destroyed, unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the transcript be preserved for a longer period.

(2) An audio tape or video tape record of deposition testimony, including a certified tape made by an operator qualified under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (l), shall not be filed with the court. Instead, the operator shall retain custody of that record and shall store it under conditions that will protect it against loss, destruction, or tampering, and preserve as far as practicable the quality of the tape and the integrity of the testimony and images it contains.

At the request of any party to the action, including a party who did not attend the taking of the deposition testimony, or at the request of the deponent, that operator shall promptly (A) permit the one making the request to hear or to view the tape on receipt of payment of a reasonable charge for providing the facilities for hearing or viewing the tape, and (B) furnish a copy of the audio tape or the video tape recording to the one making the request on receipt of payment of the reasonable cost of making that copy of the tape.

The attorney or operator who has custody of an audio tape or video tape record of deposition testimony shall retain custody of it until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, the audio tape or video tape may be destroyed or erased, unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the tape be preserved for a longer period.

(t) Once any party has taken the deposition of any natural person, including that of a party to the action, neither the party who gave, nor any other party who received, notice of the deposition may take a subsequent deposition of that deponent. However, for good cause shown, the court may grant leave to take a subsequent deposition, and the parties, with the consent of any deponent who is not a party, may stipulate that a subsequent deposition be taken. This subdivision does not preclude taking one subsequent deposition of a natural person who has previously been examined as a result of that person's designation to testify on behalf of an organization under subdivision (d).

(u) At the trial or any other hearing in the action, any part or all of a deposition may be used against any party who was present or represented at the taking of the deposition, or who had due notice of the deposition and did not serve a valid objection under subdivision (g), so far as admissible under the rules of evidence applied as though the deponent were then present and testifying as a witness, in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Any party may use a deposition for the purpose of contradicting or impeaching the testimony of the deponent as a witness, or for any other purpose permitted by the Evidence Code.

(2) An adverse party may use for any purpose, a deposition of a party to the action, or of anyone who at the time of taking the deposition was an officer, director, managing agent, employee, agent, or designee under subdivision (d) of a party. It is not ground for objection to the use of a deposition of a party under this paragraph by an adverse party that the deponent is available to testify, has testified, or will testify at the trial or other hearing.

(3) Any party may use for any purpose the deposition of any person or organization, including that of any party to the action, if the court finds any of the following:

(A) The deponent resides more than 150 miles from the place of the trial or other hearing.

(B) The deponent, without the procurement or wrongdoing of the proponent of the deposition for the purpose of preventing testimony in open court, is (i) exempted or precluded on the ground of privilege from testifying concerning the matter to which the deponent's testimony is relevant, (ii) disqualified from testifying, (iii) dead or unable to attend or testify because of existing physical or mental illness or infirmity, (iv) absent from the trial or other hearing and the court is unable to compel the deponent's attendance by its process, or (v) absent from the trial or other hearing and the proponent of the deposition has exercised reasonable diligence but has been unable to procure the deponent's attendance by the court's process.

(C) Exceptional circumstances exist that make it desirable to allow the use of any deposition in the interests of justice and with due regard to the importance of presenting the testimony of witnesses orally in open court.

(4) Any party may use a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness even though the deponent is available to testify if the deposition notice under subdivision (d) reserved the right to use the deposition at trial, and if that party has complied with subparagraph (I) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (l).

(5) Subject to the requirements of this section, a party may offer in evidence all or any part of a deposition, and if the party introduces only part of the deposition, any other party may introduce any other parts that are relevant to the parts introduced.

(6) Substitution of parties does not affect the right to use depositions previously taken.

(7) When an action has been brought in any court of the United States or of any state, and another action involving the same subject matter is subsequently brought between the same parties or their representatives or successors in interest, all depositions lawfully taken and duly filed in the initial action may be used in the subsequent action as if originally taken in that subsequent action. A deposition previously taken may also be used as permitted by the Evidence Code.

SEC. 2. Section 2025 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

2025. (a) Any party may obtain discovery within the scope delimited by Section 2017, and subject to the restrictions set forth in Section 2019, by taking in California the oral deposition of any person, including any party to the action. The person deposed may be a natural person, an organization such as a public or private corporation, a partnership, an association, or a governmental agency.

(b) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (f) and (t), an oral deposition may be taken as follows:

(1) The defendant may serve a deposition notice without leave of court at any time after that defendant has been served or has appeared in the action, whichever occurs first.

(2) The plaintiff may serve a deposition notice without leave of court on any date that is 20 days after the service of the summons on, or appearance by, any defendant. However, on motion with or without notice, the court, for good cause shown, may grant to a plaintiff leave to serve a deposition notice on an earlier date.

(c) A party desiring to take the oral deposition of any person shall give notice in writing in the manner set forth in subdivision (d). However, where under subdivision (d) of Section 2020 only the production by a nonparty of business records for copying is desired, a copy of the deposition subpoena shall serve as the notice of deposition. The notice of deposition shall be given to every other party who has appeared in the action. The deposition notice, or the accompanying proof of service, shall list all the parties or attorneys for parties on whom it is served.

Where, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1985.3, the party giving notice of the deposition is a subpoenaing party, and the deponent is a witness commanded by a deposition subpoena to produce personal records of a consumer, the subpoenaing party shall serve on that consumer (1) a notice of the deposition, (2) the notice of privacy rights specified in subdivision (e) of Section 1985.3, and (3) a copy of the deposition subpoena.

(d) The deposition notice shall state all of the following:

(1) The address where the deposition will be taken.

(2) The date of the deposition, selected under subdivision (f), and the time it will commence.

(3) The name of each deponent, and the address and telephone number, if known, of any deponent who is not a party to the action. If the name of the deponent is not known, the deposition notice shall set forth instead a general description sufficient to identify the person or particular class to which the person belongs.

(4) The specification with reasonable particularity of any materials or category of materials to be produced by the deponent.

(5) Any intention to record the testimony by audio tape or video tape, in addition to recording the testimony by the stenographic method as required by paragraph (1) of subdivision (l).

(6) Any intention to reserve the right to use at trial a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u). In this event, the operator of the video tape camera shall be a person who is authorized to administer an oath, and shall not be financially interested in the action or be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties.

If the deponent named is not a natural person, the deposition notice shall describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested. In that event, the deponent shall designate and produce at the deposition those of its officers, directors, managing agents, employees, or agents who are most qualified to testify on its behalf as to those matters to the extent of any information known or reasonably available to the deponent. A deposition subpoena shall advise a nonparty deponent of its duty to make this designation, and shall describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested.

If the attendance of the deponent is to be compelled by service of a deposition subpoena under Section 2020, an identical copy of that subpoena shall be served with the deposition notice.

(e) (1) The deposition of a natural person, whether or not a party to the action, shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within 75 miles of the deponent's residence, or within the county where the action is pending and within 150 miles of the deponent's residence, unless the court orders otherwise under paragraph (3).

(2) The deposition of an organization that is a party to the action shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within 75 miles of the organization's principal executive or business office in California, or within the county where the action is pending and within 150 miles of that office. The deposition of any other organization shall be taken within 75 miles of the organization's principal executive or business office in California, unless the organization consents to a more distant place. If the organization has not designated a principal executive or business office, the deposition shall be taken at a place that is, at the option of the party giving notice of the deposition, either within the county where the action is pending, or within 75 miles of any executive or business office of the organization in California.

(3) A party desiring to take the deposition of a natural person who is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party may make a motion for an order that the deponent attend for deposition at a place that is more distant than that permitted under paragraph (1). This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of any issue presented by the motion.

In exercising its discretion to grant or deny this motion, the court shall take into consideration any factor tending to show whether the interests of justice will be served by requiring the deponent's attendance at that more distant place, including, but not limited to, the following:

(A) Whether the moving party selected the forum.

(B) Whether the deponent will be present to testify at the trial of the action.

(C) The convenience of the deponent.

(D) The feasibility of conducting the deposition by written questions under Section 2028, or of using a discovery method other than a deposition.

(E) The number of depositions sought to be taken at a place more distant than that permitted under paragraph (1).

(F) The expense to the parties of requiring the deposition to be taken within the distance permitted under paragraph (1).

(G) The whereabouts of the deponent at the time for which the deposition is scheduled.

The order may be conditioned on the advancement by the moving party of the reasonable expenses and costs to the deponent for travel to the place of deposition.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to increase travel limits for party-deponent, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(f) An oral deposition shall be scheduled for a date at least 10 days after service of the deposition notice or, in unlawful detainer actions, not later than five days before trial, whichever is sooner. If, as defined in subdivision (a) of Section 1985.3, the party giving notice of the deposition is a subpoenaing party, and the deponent is a witness commanded by a deposition subpoena to produce personal records of a consumer, the deposition shall be scheduled for a date at least 20 days after issuance of that subpoena.

On motion or ex parte application of any party or deponent, for good cause shown, the court may shorten or extend the time for scheduling a deposition, or may stay its taking until the determination of a motion for a protective order under subdivision (i).

(g) Any party served with a deposition notice that does not comply with subdivisions (b) to (f), inclusive, waives any error or irregularity unless that party promptly serves a written objection specifying that error or irregularity at least three calendar days prior to the date for which the deposition is scheduled, on the party seeking to take the deposition and any other attorney or party on whom the deposition notice was served. If an objection is made three calendar days before the deposition date, the objecting party shall make personal service of that objection pursuant to Section 1011 on the party who gave notice of the deposition. Any deposition taken after the service of a written objection shall not be used against the objecting party under subdivision (u) if the party did not attend the deposition and if the court determines that the objection was a valid one.

In addition to serving this written objection, a party may also move for an order staying the taking of the deposition and quashing the deposition notice. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of any issue presented by the motion. The taking of the deposition is stayed pending the determination of this motion.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to quash a deposition notice, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(h) (1) The service of a deposition notice under subdivision (c) is effective to require any deponent who is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party to attend and to testify, as well as to produce any document or tangible thing for inspection and copying.

(2) The attendance and testimony of any other deponent, as well as the production by the deponent of any document or tangible thing for inspection and copying, requires the service on the deponent of a deposition subpoena under Section 2020.

(i) Before, during, or after a deposition, any party, any deponent, or any other affected natural person or organization may promptly move for a protective order. The motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion

The court, for good cause shown, may make any order that justice requires to protect any party, deponent, or other natural person or organization from unwarranted annoyance, embarrassment, or oppression, or undue burden and expense. This protective order may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following directions:

(1) That the deposition not be taken at all.

(2) That the deposition be taken at a different time.

(3) That a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness, intended for possible use at trial under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u), be postponed until the moving party has had an adequate opportunity to prepare, by discovery deposition of the deponent, or other means, for cross-examination.

(4) That the deposition be taken at a place other than that specified in the deposition notice, if it is within a distance permitted by subdivision (e).

(5) That the deposition be taken only on certain specified terms and conditions.

(6) That the deponent's testimony be taken by written, instead of oral, examination.

(7) That the method of discovery be interrogatories to a party instead of an oral deposition.

(8) That the testimony be recorded in a manner different from that specified in the deposition notice.

(9) That certain matters not be inquired into.

(10) That the scope of the examination be limited to certain matters.

(11) That all or certain of the writings or tangible things designated in the deposition notice not be produced, inspected, or copied.

(12) That designated persons, other than the parties to the action and their officers and counsel, be excluded from attending the deposition.

(13) That a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only to specified persons or only in a specified way.

(14) That the parties simultaneously file specified documents enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the court.

(15) That the deposition be sealed and thereafter opened only on order of the court.

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may order that the deponent provide or permit the discovery against which protection was sought on those terms and conditions that are just.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for a protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(j) (1) If the party giving notice of a deposition fails to attend or proceed with it, the court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party, or the attorney for that party, or both, and in favor of any party attending in person or by attorney, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(2) If a deponent does not appear for a deposition because the party giving notice of the deposition failed to serve a required deposition subpoena, the court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party, or the attorney for that party, or both, in favor of any other party who, in person or by attorney, attended at the time and place specified in the deposition notice in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken, unless the court finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If a deponent on whom a deposition subpoena has been served fails to attend a deposition or refuses to be sworn as a witness, the court may impose on the deponent the sanctions described in subdivision (h) of Section 2020.

(3) If, after service of a deposition notice, a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party, or a person designated by an organization that is a party under subdivision (d), without having served a valid objection under subdivision (g), fails to appear for examination, or to proceed with it, or to produce for inspection any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice, the party giving the notice may move for an order compelling the deponent's attendance and testimony, and the production for inspection of any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice. This motion (A) shall set forth specific facts showing good cause justifying the production for inspection of any document or tangible thing described in the deposition notice, and (B) shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by it. If this motion is granted, the court shall also impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against the deponent or the party with whom the deponent is affiliated, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust. On motion of any other party who, in person or by attorney, attended at the time and place specified in the deposition notice in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken, the court shall also impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If that party or party-affiliated deponent then fails to obey an order compelling attendance, testimony, and production, the court may make those orders that are just, including the imposition of an issue sanction, an evidence sanction, or a terminating sanction under Section 2023 against that party deponent or against the party with whom the deponent is affiliated. In lieu of or in addition to this sanction, the court may impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that deponent or against the party with whom that party deponent is affiliated, and in favor of any party who, in person or by attorney, attended in the expectation that the deponent's testimony would be taken pursuant to that order.

(k) Except as provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (d) of Section 2020, the deposition shall be conducted under the supervision of an officer who is authorized to administer an oath. This officer shall not be financially interested in the action and shall not be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties. Any objection to the qualifications of the deposition officer is waived unless made before the deposition begins or as soon thereafter as the ground for that objection becomes known or could be discovered by reasonable diligence.

(l) (1) The deposition officer shall put the deponent under oath. Unless the parties agree or the court orders otherwise, the testimony, as well as any stated objections, shall be taken stenographically. The party noticing the deposition may also record the testimony by audio tape or video tape if the notice of deposition stated an intention also to record the testimony by either of those methods, or if all the parties agree that the testimony may also be recorded by either of those methods. Any other party, at that party's expense, may make a simultaneous audio tape or video tape record of the deposition, provided that other party promptly, and in no event less than three calendar days before the date for which the deposition is scheduled, serves a written notice of this intention to audio tape or video tape the deposition testimony on the party or attorney who noticed the deposition, on all other parties or attorneys on whom the deposition notice was served under subdivision (c), and on any deponent whose attendance is being compelled by a deposition subpoena under Section 2020. If this notice is given three calendar days before the deposition date, it shall be made by personal service under Section 1011. Examination and cross-examination of the deponent shall proceed as permitted at trial under the provisions of the Evidence Code.

(2) If the deposition is being recorded by means of audio tape or video tape, the following procedure shall be observed:

(A) The area used for recording the deponent's oral testimony shall be suitably large, adequately lighted, and reasonably quiet.

(B) The operator of the recording equipment shall be competent to set up, operate, and monitor the equipment in the manner prescribed in this subdivision. The operator may be an employee of the attorney taking the deposition unless the operator is also the deposition officer. However, if a video tape of deposition testimony is to be used under paragraph (4) of subdivision (u), the operator of the recording equipment shall be a person who is authorized to administer an oath, and shall not be financially interested in the action or be a relative or employee of any attorney of any of the parties, unless all parties attending the deposition agree on the record to waive these qualifications and restrictions.

(C) The operator shall not distort the appearance or the demeanor of participants in the deposition by the use of camera or sound recording techniques.

(D) The deposition shall begin with an oral or written statement on camera or on the audio tape that includes the operator's name and business address, the name and business address of the operator's employer, the date, time, and place of the deposition, the caption of the case, the name of the deponent, a specification of the party on whose behalf the deposition is being taken, and any stipulations by the parties.

(E) Counsel for the parties shall identify themselves on camera or on the audio tape.

(F) The oath shall be administered to the deponent on camera or on the audio tape.

(G) If the length of a deposition requires the use of more than one unit of tape, the end of each unit and the beginning of each succeeding unit shall be announced on camera or on the audio tape.

(H) At the conclusion of a deposition, a statement shall be made on camera or on the audio tape that the deposition is ended and shall set forth any stipulations made by counsel concerning the custody of the audio tape or video tape recording and the exhibits, or concerning other pertinent matters.

(I) A party intending to offer an audio taped or video taped recording of a deposition in evidence under subdivision (u) shall notify the court and all parties in writing of that intent and of the parts of the deposition to be offered within sufficient time for objections to be made and ruled on by the judge to whom the case is assigned for trial or hearing, and for any editing of the tape. Objections to all or part of the deposition shall be made in writing. The court may permit further designations of testimony and objections as justice may require. With respect to those portions of an audio taped or video taped deposition that are not designated by any party or that are ruled to be objectionable, the court may order that the party offering the recording of the deposition at the trial or hearing suppress those portions, or that an edited version of the deposition tape be prepared for use at the trial or hearing. The original audio tape or video tape of the deposition shall be preserved unaltered. If no stenographic record of the deposition testimony has previously been made, the party offering a video tape or an audio tape recording of that testimony under subdivision (u) shall accompany that offer with a stenographic transcript prepared from that recording.

(3) In lieu of participating in the oral examination, parties may transmit written questions in a sealed envelope to the party taking the deposition for delivery to the deposition officer, who shall unseal the envelope and propound them to the deponent after the oral examination has been completed.

(m) (1) The protection of information from discovery on the ground that it is privileged or that it is protected work product under Section 2018 is waived unless a specific objection to its disclosure is timely made during the deposition.

(2) Errors and irregularities of any kind occurring at the oral examination that might be cured if promptly presented are waived unless a specific objection to them is timely made during the deposition. These errors and irregularities include, but are not limited to, those relating to the manner of taking the deposition, to the oath or affirmation administered, to the conduct of a party, attorney, deponent, or deposition officer, or to the form of any question or answer. Unless the objecting party demands that the taking of the deposition be suspended to permit a motion for a protective order under subdivision (n), the deposition shall proceed subject to the objection.

(3) Objections to the competency of the deponent, or to the relevancy, materiality, or admissibility at trial of the testimony or of the materials produced are unnecessary and are not waived by failure to make them before or during the deposition.

(4) If a deponent fails to answer any question or to produce any document or tangible thing under the deponent's control that is specified in the deposition notice or a deposition subpoena, the party seeking that answer or production may adjourn the deposition or complete the examination on other matters without waiving the right at a later time to move for an order compelling that answer or production under subdivision (o)

(n) On demand of any party or the deponent, the deposition officer shall suspend the taking of testimony to enable that party or deponent to move for a protective order on the ground that the examination is being conducted in bad faith or in a manner that unreasonably annoys, embarrasses, or oppresses that deponent or party. This motion shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. The court, for good cause shown, may terminate the examination or may limit the scope and manner of taking the deposition as provided in subdivision (i). If the order terminates the examination, the deposition shall not thereafter be resumed, except on order of the court.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion for this protective order, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(o) If a deponent fails to answer any question or to produce any document or tangible thing under the deponent's control that is specified in the deposition notice or a deposition subpoena, the party seeking discovery may move the court for an order compelling that answer or production. This motion shall be made no later than 60 days after the completion of the record of the deposition, and shall be accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion. Notice of this motion shall be given to all parties, and to the deponent either orally at the examination, or by subsequent service in writing. If the notice of the motion is given orally, the deposition officer shall direct the deponent to attend a session of the court at the time specified in the notice. Not less than five days prior to the hearing on this motion, the moving party shall lodge with the court a certified copy of any parts of the stenographic transcript of the deposition that are relevant to the motion. If a deposition is recorded by audio tape or video tape, the moving party is required to lodge a certified copy of a transcript of any parts of the deposition that are relevant to the motion. If the court determines that the answer or production sought is subject to discovery, it shall order that the answer be given or the production be made on the resumption of the deposition.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to compel answer or production, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

If a deponent fails to obey an order entered under this subdivision, the failure may be considered a contempt of court. In addition, if the disobedient deponent is a party to the action or an officer, director, managing agent, or employee of a party, the court may make those orders that are just against the disobedient party, or against the party with whom the disobedient deponent is affiliated, including the imposition of an issue sanction, an evidence sanction, or a terminating sanction under Section 2023. In lieu of or in addition to this sanction, the court may impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against that party deponent or against any party with whom the deponent is affiliated.

(p) Unless the parties agree otherwise, the testimony at any deposition recorded by stenographic means shall be transcribed. The party noticing the deposition shall bear the cost of that transcription, unless the court, on motion and for good cause shown, orders that the cost be borne or shared by another party. Any other party, at that party's expense, may obtain a copy of the transcript. At the request of any other party to the action, including a party who did not attend the taking of the deposition testimony, any party who records or causes the recording of that testimony by means of audio tape or video tape shall promptly (1) permit that other party to hear the audio tape or to view the video tape, and (2) furnish a copy of the audio tape or video tape to that other party on receipt of payment of the reasonable cost of making that copy of the tape.

If the testimony at the deposition is recorded both stenographically, and by audio tape or video tape, the stenographic transcript is the official record of that testimony for the purpose of the trial and any subsequent hearing or appeal.

(q) (1) If the deposition testimony is stenographically recorded, the deposition officer shall send written notice to the deponent and to all parties attending the deposition when the original transcript of the testimony is available for reading, correcting, and signing, unless the deponent and the attending parties agree on the record to waive the reading, correcting, and signing of the transcript of the testimony. For 30 days following this notice, the deponent may change the form or the substance of the answer to any question, and may either approve the transcript of the deposition by signing it, or refuse to approve the transcript by not signing it.

Alternatively, within this same 30-day period, the deponent may change the form or the substance of the answer to any question and may approve or refuse to approve the transcript by means of a letter to the deposition officer signed by the deponent which is mailed by certified or registered mail with return receipt requested. A copy of that letter shall be sent by first-class mail to all parties attending the deposition. For good cause shown, the court may shorten the 30-day period for making changes, approving, or refusing to approve the transcript.

The deposition officer shall indicate on the original of the transcript , if the deponent has not already done so at the office of the deposition officer, any action taken by the deponent and indicate on the original of the transcript, the deponent's approval of, or failure or refusal to approve, the transcript. The deposition officer shall also notify in writing the parties attending the deposition of any changes which the deponent timely made in person. If the deponent fails or refuses to approve the transcript within the allotted period, the deposition shall be given the same effect as though it had been approved, subject to any changes timely made by the deponent. However, on a seasonable motion to suppress the deposition, accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion, the court may determine that the reasons given for the failure or refusal to approve the transcript require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to suppress a deposition, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust.

(2) If there is no stenographic transcription of the deposition, the deposition officer shall send written notice to the deponent and to all parties attending the deposition that the recording is available for review, unless the deponent and all these parties agree on the record to waive the hearing or viewing of an audio tape or video tape recording of the testimony. For 30 days following this notice the deponent, either in person or by signed letter to the deposition officer, may change the substance of the answer to any question.

The deposition officer shall set forth in a writing to accompany the recording any changes made by the deponent, as well as either the deponent's signature identifying the deposition as his or her own, or a statement of the deponent's failure to supply such signature, or to contact the officer within the allotted period. When a deponent fails to contact the officer within the allotted period, or expressly refuses by a signature to identify the deposition as his or her own, the deposition shall be given the same effect as though signed. However, on a seasonable motion to suppress the deposition, accompanied by a declaration stating facts showing a reasonable and good faith attempt at an informal resolution of each issue presented by the motion, the court may determine that the reasons given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

The court shall impose a monetary sanction under Section 2023 against any party, person, or attorney who unsuccessfully makes or opposes a motion to suppress a deposition, unless it finds that the one subject to the sanction acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of the sanction unjust

(r) The deposition officer shall certify on the transcript of the deposition, or in the writing accompanying an audio taped or video taped deposition as described in paragraph (2) of subdivision (q), that the deponent was duly sworn and that the transcript or recording is a true record of the testimony given and of any changes made by the deponent.

(s) (1) The certified transcript of a deposition shall not be filed with the court. Instead, the deposition officer shall securely seal that transcript in an envelope or package endorsed with the title of the action and marked: "Deposition of (here insert name of deponent)" and shall promptly transmit it to the attorney for the party who noticed the deposition. This attorney shall store it under conditions that will protect it against loss, destruction, or tampering.

The attorney to whom the transcript of a deposition is transmitted shall retain custody of it until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, the transcript may be destroyed, unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the transcript be preserved for a longer period.

(2) An audio tape or video tape record of deposition testimony, including a certified tape made by an operator qualified under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (l), shall not be filed with the court. Instead, the operator shall retain custody of that record and shall store it under conditions that will protect it against loss, destruction, or tampering, and preserve as far as practicable the quality of the tape and the integrity of the testimony and images it contains.

At the request of any party to the action, including a party who did not attend the taking of the deposition testimony, or at the request of the deponent, that operator shall promptly (A) permit the one making the request to hear or to view the tape on receipt of payment of a reasonable charge for providing the facilities for hearing or viewing the tape, and (B) furnish a copy of the audio tape or the video tape recording to the one making the request on receipt of payment of the reasonable cost of making that copy of the tape.

The attorney or operator who has custody of an audio tape or video tape record of deposition testimony shall retain custody of it until six months after final disposition of the action. At that time, the audio tape or video tape may be destroyed or erased, unless the court, on motion of any party and for good cause shown, orders that the tape be preserved for a longer period.

(t) Once any party has taken the deposition of any natural person, including that of a party to the action, neither the party who gave, nor any other party who received, notice of the deposition may take a subsequent deposition of that deponent. However, for good cause shown, the court may grant leave to take a subsequent deposition, and the parties, with the consent of any deponent who is not a party, may stipulate that a subsequent deposition be taken. This subdivision does not preclude taking one subsequent deposition of a natural person who has previously been examined as a result of that person's designation to testify on behalf of an organization under subdivision (d).

(u) At the trial or any other hearing in the action, any part or all of a deposition may be used against any party who was present or represented at the taking of the deposition, or who had due notice of the deposition and did not serve a valid objection under subdivision (g), so far as admissible under the rules of evidence applied as though the deponent were then present and testifying as a witness, in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Any party may use a deposition for the purpose of contradicting or impeaching the testimony of the deponent as a witness, or for any other purpose permitted by the Evidence Code

(2) An adverse party may use for any purpose, a deposition of a party to the action, or of anyone who at the time of taking the deposition was an officer, director, managing agent, employee, agent, or designee under subdivision (d) of a party. It is not ground for objection to the use of a deposition of a party under this paragraph by an adverse party that the deponent is available to testify, has testified, or will testify at the trial or other hearing.

(3) Any party may use for any purpose the deposition of any person or organization, including that of any party to the action, if the court finds any of the following:

(A) The deponent resides more than 150 miles from the place of the trial or other hearing.

(B) The deponent, without the procurement or wrongdoing of the proponent of the deposition for the purpose of preventing testimony in open court, is (i) exempted or precluded on the ground of privilege from testifying concerning the matter to which the deponent's testimony is relevant, (ii) disqualified from testifying, (iii) dead or unable to attend or testify because of existing physical or mental illness or infirmity, (iv) absent from the trial or other hearing and the court is unable to compel the deponent's attendance by its process, or (v) absent from the trial or other hearing and the proponent of the deposition has exercised reasonable diligence but has been unable to procure the deponent's attendance by the court's process.

(C) Exceptional circumstances exist that make it desirable to allow the use of any deposition in the interests of justice and with due regard to the importance of presenting the testimony of witnesses orally in open court

(4) Any party may use a video tape deposition of a treating or consulting physician or of any expert witness even though the deponent is available to testify if the deposition notice under subdivision (d) reserved the right to use the deposition at trial, and if that party has complied with subparagraph (I) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (l).

(5) Subject to the requirements of this section, a party may offer in evidence all or any part of a deposition, and if the party introduces only part of the deposition, any other party may introduce any other parts that are relevant to the parts introduced.

(6) Substitution of parties does not affect the right to use depositions previously taken.

(7) When an action has been brought in any court of the United States or of any state, and another action involving the same subject matter is subsequently brought between the same parties or their representatives or successors in interest, all depositions lawfully taken and duly filed in the initial action may be used in the subsequent action as if originally taken in that subsequent action. A deposition previously taken may also be used as permitted by the Evidence Code

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 2025 of the Code of Civil Procedure proposed by both this bill and AB 157. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1990; (2) each bill amends Section 2025 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 157, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.
